Last-Chance Bid to Reopen Oil Talk Given

LONDON, Aug. 23. (AP) — A foreign office spokesman said today Britain has decided to give Iran another opportunity to reopen the critical discussions on the future of the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

The British made clear they will stay put for the time being in Abadan, center of the giant oil industry that produces around 500,000 barrels a day — a vital source of western Europe's defense needs.

The spokesman said the new bid to reopen the talks will be based on the previous recommendations drawn up by W. Averell Harriman, the American trouble-shooter in Iran. These formed the basis for the talks just concluded.

HARRIMAN STAYS ON

Harriman stayed on in Tehran. He appeared more optimistic than other officials in Tehran, saying discussions were merely suspended and not broken off. Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh said, however, that "it is finished."

Officials here are counting on Harriman to try once again to talk Iran into a better attitude.

Predictions here were that if Harriman fails, President Truman may intervene once more.

Richard Stokes, head of the British negotiating team in Tehran, is expected here Thursday morning with a first hand account.

Officials said "the ball will be in Iran after today."

Informed sources stressed there will be no "dramatic" actions such as the landing of British military forces in Abadan unless circumstances demand it.

ORDERED TO ABADAN

The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company said it has ordered about 300 of its British, Indian and Pakistani employes to leave their posts in the oil fields and concentrate in Abadan.

The breakdown after 19 days of talks came over management of day-to-day operations at the Abadan refinery, taken over by nationalization.

Stokes insisted the 3,000 British technicians there would remain on the job only under experienced British management with British-backed guarantees of wage payments and working conditions.

Mossadegh, who rose to power on a wave of anti-British feeling, demanded that the British technicians work under individual contracts with the Iranian government.

The real obstacle to agreement appeared to be Iran's fear that British management would be a revival of the Anglo-Iranian Company in another guise.

Stepout From Reinecke Field Extender Set

Two locations east of the recently completed one and three-quarters mile southwest extension to the Reinecke - Canyon field of Southeast Borden County, Levers Oil & Gas Co. of Midland has spotted location for its No. 1-B T. L. Griffin.

Drillsite is 330 feet from south and 2,281 feet from east lines of section 246-25-H&TC and five miles north of Vincent.

Rotary tools will be used in drilling to a possible total depth of 8,000 feet. It will be a one and three - quarter mile extender to Lario Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 Griffin, completed for a daily flowing potential of 220 barrels of oil from open hole at 7,103-7,110 feet.

EXTENSION

American Republics Corp. has completed its No. 1 Barber and others as a west offset to Skelly Oil Co. No. 9 Frances Gunn, heretofore the most southwesterly producer in the East Vealmoor field of Northeast Howard County.

The well flowed 24 hours through a 20-64th-inch choke to make an initial production of 270 barrels of oil.

The oil is from open hole between 7,480-feet, where five and one-half inch casing is cemented, and total depth of 7,530 feet.

Gas - oil ratio was 1,168-1. Open hole was treated with 500 gallons of acid.

The well is 467 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of the west half of section 21-27-H&TC and six and one-half miles northeast of Luther.

KENT FAILURE

Kewanee Oil & Gas Co. No. 1-F Wm. Connell, north outpost to the East Polar - Pennsylvanian field in Southwest Kent County, is to be plugged and abandoned below 7,147 feet in barren lime.

The prospector was located 15 miles southwest of Clairemont in section 4-4-H&GN. It recovered 420 feet of slightly gas cut mud and 6,427 feet of salt water on the last reported drillstem test at 7,073-7,095 feet.

DRILLING REPORTS

Sun Oil Co. No. 1-D Bilby Wallace, attempted south extender to the Clairemont - lower Pennsylvanian field, is drilling below 4,115 feet in shale.

Sun Oil No. 2 D. G. Samspon, one mile south of Clairemont is at total depth of 6,741 feet and preparing to run five and one-half inch casing. On a drillstem test at 6,729-741 feet, recovery was 2,225 feet of clean oil with no water. Test tool was open one hour.

Suspect Released In Houston Abduction

HOUSTON, Aug. 23. (AP) — Officers sought another suspect today in the abduction Sunday of a paralytic, Margaret Louise Allison, 13.

One suspect — a 45-year-old butcher — was held until Wednesday when he was released because the girl indicated she did not recognize him.

The second suspect has not yet been located, Sheriff C. V. Kern said.

The girl, unable to speak or walk, was found in a ditch 12 hours after she was taken from her parent's car at a roadside cafe.

Truman Asks Congress For More Controls

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP) — President Truman asked Congress again today for stronger price controls, and denounced as "an economic boobytrap" one provision of the law passed by the legislators only three weeks ago.

This sharp phrase was directed at the Capehart Amendment, a provision which Senator Capehart(R-Ind) got into the law. It requires that price ceilings must take into account all increases in costs since the Korean War began.

Besides elimination of the Capehart Amendment, Mr. Truman also asked for repeal of the Herlong and the Butler-Hope amendments.

ASKS SLAUGHTER QUOTAS

The first, sponsored by Rep. Herlong (D-Fla), requires that distributors be allowed pre-Korean markups on goods.

The second, by Senator Butler (R-Neb) and Rep. Hope (R-Kan), prohibits slaughter quotas.

By fixing quotas under the old law, the Office of Price Stabilization could tell each slaughterer how many meat animals he could kill.

OPS contended this was necessary to assure proper distribution of meat and guard against black markets.

If the three amendments stand, Mr. Truman said "they will do the greatest damage to our price controls and create the most hardship for our people."

URGES ACTION NOW

"Action should be taken now to change the new law to prevent needless price increases. I urge the Congress not to wait until irreparable damage has been done to our economy. It should act promptly to take out of the act the new amendments that unnecessarily raise price ceilings."

The President said he had signed the new economics control bill July 31 because "the dangers in the international situation made it unsafe to permit any interruption in our mobilization program."

He noted Congress had passed the measure only the day before and had left him only one day in which to act.

If he had not signed it, he said, all production controls as well as price, wage, rent and credit controls would have expired.

And to have permitted that, the President said, would have been gambling with the nation's security.

School Registration Goes Over 2,000 Mark

A total of about 2,075 students have now completed preliminary registration to enter Snyder public schools, M. E. Stanfield, school superintendent, said yesterday afternoon.

All students who plan to attend school here this fall have been asked to complete preliminary registration before school opens in order that plans may be made for moving classes when the new buildings now under construction are opened. Students may register at either of the elementary school offices or at the superintendent's office in the high school building.

Commissioners Canvass County Bond Elections

Official canvassing of the votes cast in Saturday's dual bond election has been completed by the county court.

The park bond was defeated by a vote of 794 to 656, while the courthouse annex bond issue was voted down by 813 to 646.

The park bond approval would have authorized the county to issue up to $950,000 for the creation of two county parks. The courthouse annex bonds would have permitted the construction of a three-story annex to the present courthouse with the annex to contain a new jail and additional office space.

HOSTESS KAYOED

FORT WORTH, Aug. 23. (AP)—Miss Cherry Blair, 20, airline hostess, took quite a bump as her plane prepared to land Wednesday.

Rough air during a thunderstorm tossed the hostess against the top of the plane and knocked her unconscious. She was not seriously hurt.

The plane had taken off from Amarillo, hometown of both Miss Blair and Blair Cherry, former University of Texas coach. Cherry was coach of Amarillo High School when she was born. Her parents named her for the coach.

Little Hope In CanadianRiver Conduit Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—A Texas delegation checking the status of the Canadian Dam and water conduit project saw little prospect today of getting a congressional appropriation in the immediate future.

The group conferred Wednesday with Texas Senators. House members and representatives of the Bureau of Reclamation.

Clarence Whiteside, mayor of Lubbock, told a reporter he and Rex Baxter, secretary of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, came to Washington merely to find out "where we go from here" and had made no request for immediate appropriations.

Senators Connally and Johnson agreed when the project was authorized by Congress last year not to request the appropriation for its construction until the defense emergency ended, he said.

"We have not and will not ask the Senators to abrogate their commitments to Congress," Whiteside declared.

He said he and Baxter wanted to find out to what extent work should proceed at the local level in organizing 11 water districts, to what extent the Reclamation Bureau can make plans and whether the defense picture had changed to the point where an earlier appropriation might be expected.

The Texans inquired whether the project might be important to the defense effort, but Whiteside said no report has been made on that subject.

Nothing definite was decided at the conference, he said.

In addition to the Texas Senators attending Wednesday's conference and Whiteside and Baxter, those were Reps. Rogers and Mahon; Harry Burleigh, Austin, state planning engineer for the Reclamation Bureau, and Harold Robbins, Amarillo, the bureau's regional director.

Baxter and Whiteside plan to leave for Texas today.

The project, estimated to cost $85 million would supply water to 11 cities in the area, Whiteside said.

Work on Roads Scheduled To Start Sept. 4

Work on the first part of the 157-mile county road program is slated to get under way on Sept. 4.

First to be paved will be a 26½-mile project in precinct No. 1, awarded to W. O. Pelphrey, of Fort Worth, contractor. This announcement was made at a meeting of the county commissioners yesterday afternoon by Coleman L. Hasie, of the engineering firm of Hasie & Green, Lubbock.

The Pelphrey contract for $414,995 was awarded by the commissioners recently.

A. T. Thompson from Hobbs, N. M., has been employed by the county as road inspector for this first phase of the road program, at a salary of $685 per month, with his salary to start next Tuesday. The appointment of Thompson was made upon the recommendation of Hasie, whose firm has the engineering contract with the county. The salary includes transportation operations by Thompson.

No action was taken on the several bids for air-conditioning the courthouse, which have been received by the court. There will be two separate work projects, one calls for equipment and the other for wiring. Estimates on the wiring are also in the hands of the commissioners. A decision in this matter will be made shortly, the commissioners intimated.

Meeting of Democrats Here to Fill Vacancies

AUSTIN, Aug. 23. (AP)—The State Democratic Executive Committee gets three new members next month.

An election to fill the vacancies is scheduled for Snyder Sept. 27.

Gov. Shivers, who said he plans to attend the committee meeting, said vacancies exist in District 22 by the death of Mrs. Eva Ruth Sewell of Decatur, in 3 by Mrs. Guy Blount's inability to accept committee membership, and in 31 by the resignation of Charles C. Gibson of Amarillo, elected state commander of the American Legion last week.

Ridgway Believes Break In Talks Won't Be Permanent

MUNSAN, Korea, Friday, August 24. (AP) — The Communists called off the Korean armistice talks "from now on" Thursday on a bombing charge which the United Nations command said was a complete frameup.

The Reds accused an Allied plane of bombing Kaesong, site of the deadlocked negotiations.

In a sharp statement issued in Tokyo at midnight (8 a. m. Thursday, CST) Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said the Allies made no such bombing, and that the timing showed the Communists had decided to break off the talks even before they made their trumped-up complaint.

The U. N. commander's statement called it "a frame-up staged from first to last."

NO EVIDENCE

Allied statements said no U. N. Air Force or Naval plane was in the area, no allied artillery fired into the area, and the Reds presented no evidence that there even was a bombing.

An investigating American officer said the evidence he was shown in the early morning blackness was "ridiculous."

A Red liaison officer, pulling prepared notes from his pocket, promptly announced truce talks were "off from this time."

The Reds made this announcement at 1:45 a.m. Thursday, over two hours after the alleged bombing incident, Ridgway said.

Since this obviously was a high-level command decision, the U. N. commander noted, it was evident the break-off was planned in advance.

Red communications are such that they normally take many hours or days to arrive at such decisions.

NOT PERMANENT

Despite the appearance of finality, high-ranking Allied officers Thursday night had expressed belief the breakdown was "by no means permanent."

Red broadcasts displayed some confusion.

Communist China's official Peiping radio said that only Thursday's sub-committee meeting was cancelled. Later it quoted a Kaesong dispatch as saying "further meetings at Kaesong have been suspended."

This dispatch predicted "a further formal protest," presumably from a higher level, would be lodged with the U. N. command.

The Red Korean radio added further uncertainty by saying the Communists would consider the U. N. did not want to continue talks unless the Reds received a satisfactory answer to their long series of complaints.

All these complaints now have been answered. The U. N. command said all the alleged incidents did not happen or were the Reds' own fault.

FOURTH BREAK

It was the fourth break in talks; the second by the Communists.

Reds broke off the talks shortly after midnight on the grounds a U. N. plane had bombed, fire-bombed and strafed Kaesong shortly before midnight.

Investigating American officers said "the evidence was ridiculous."

The complaining Red colonel said he didn't know how many bombs were dropped. Peiping radio said there were four.

The Red officer refused to continue the investigation into daylight. He also refused to leave the evidence — a few pieces of metal, a patch of scorched earth and a small depression — undisturbed for examination in daylight.

He had summoned the American investigators at midnight for an immediate investigation. And he once pursued them a quarter of the way to Munsan to take them back to Kaesong to see more evidence in the blacked out town.

The Americans saw the "evidence" only in the darkness and rain. Communist reporters were on hand when they arrived.

New York dispatches reported United Nations officials were depressed, but hopeful talks would be resumed. Secretary General Trygve Lie was pictured as viewing the breakdown with "gravest concern."

Washington reported the feeling there was that the action was possibly dictated from Moscow.

Hong Kong dispatches commented a resumption of fighting in Korea would relieve Red Chinese pressure on Southeast Asia.

If full war is resumed, U.N. commanders have expressed confidence their forces can meet any Red onslaught. "We'll slaughter them," field officers said.

Allied troops are dug in on the best positions they have ever held in Korea.

They are in positions where the U.N. command wanted them to remain during a truce. The Reds wanted them to retreat to below the 38th Parallel. Armistice negotiations had been snagged on this point for a month. A subcommittee was trying to solve it.

First intimation of the new incident came in an urgent midnight telephone call from the Reds at Kaesong to the U.N. truce camp at Munsan.

Two U.N. liasion officers immediately investigated. Their findings, Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy reported, suggest:

"The whole incident is a frame-up, staged from first to last."

An information bulletin from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo called it "an ill-produced and amateurishly-staged presentation."

The statement said the incident was planned in advance as an excuse for breaking off truce talks because "the Communists were losing out on their demands, and were losing face in Asia."

The same view is shared by American officials in Washington, dispatches indicated. While there was no immediate official comment from top administration sources, the Washington view was that the Red action was deliberate, presumably dictated from Moscow.

Power Commission Claims No Jurisdiction Over Gas Firm

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—The Federal Power Commission has formally given its reasons for disclaiming authority to regulate natural gas rates of one of the nation's largest independent producers, Phillips Petroleum Co.

The commission had held on July 18 the Bartlesville, Okla., company is not a natural gas company within the meaning of the Natural Gas Act.

The formal ruling Wednesday was of major importance because it indicated the commission will not seek to assert jurisdiction over companies which are primarily producers and gathers of natural gas, even though their sales are made in interstate commerce.

Commissioner Thomas C. Buchanan, who dissented, called it "regrettable" and "shocking" that the commission had reported "a serious "gap" in regulation which Congress closed in 1938 and which the courts have since declared no longer exists."

BUCHANAN SPEAKS

"The evidence shows beyond a doubt that the majority opinion would permit the very exploitation which the Natural Gas Act (of 1938) was designed to prevent," Buchanan said.

"The majority suggests that the consumers of natural gas, if they are to have protection from excessive interstate gas rates must now go to the Congress to seek an amendment of the act.

"This is to be contrasted with the view of the commission only last year when we were of the opinion that producers such as Phillips who sell natural gas in interstate commerce would have to obtain an amendment of the act to accomplish that which the majority attempts to give them here."

When he gave the commission's decision last month, Commission Chairman Mon C. Wallgren said the issue ultimately would be decided by the Supreme Court.

Ten states and several large cities, concerned that exemption for such companies as Phillips might mean higher rates for consumers, intervened to urge the commission to assert jurisdiction.

OPINION ESSENCE

The essence of the majority opinion — which expressed the views of Wallgren and Commissioners Nelson Lee Smith and Harrington Wimberly — was that Phillips is exempt from regulation because its sales of gas, its movement of gas across state lines and its processing operations are all part of its gas-gathering business.

The Natural Gas Act prohibits the commission from regulating rates incident "to the production or gathering of natural gas."

"The Supreme Court, in construing the production and gathering exemption, has left no doubt that we are precluded from regulating 'incidents connected with' and 'activity related to production and gathering,'" the majority said.

"Therefore, where the facts concerning interstate sales and transportation constitute them such incidents or activities, we shall hold them to be a part of the process or business of production and gathering, exempted by Section 1 (B) (of the act.)"

The opinion added that "otherwise we would encroach upon the area of control which Congress reserved to the states by that section."

Commissioner Claude L. Draper concurred in the majority finding, but said he did not believe the "Production and gathering" exemption of the act justified the companies which are primarily producers and gatherers of natural gas, even though their sales are made in interstate commerce.

Commissioner Thomas C. Buchanan, who dissented, called it "regrettable" and "shocking" that the commission had reopened "a serious 'gap' in regulation which Congress closed in 1938 and which the courts have since declared no longer exists."

BUCHANON SPEAKS

"The evidence shows beyond a doubt that the majority opinion would permit the very exploitation which the Natural Gas Act (of 1938) was designed to prevent," Buchanan said.

Implicate Girl In Spy Hearing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—An American girl, identified only as Miss Reh Bennett, was named in documents given the House Un-American Activities Committee today as a member of Russia's pre-war spy ring in the Far East.

She was described as about 25 and "beautiful despite a large nose" in a document that quoted the alleged radio operator for the ring.

The documents were introduced in evidence during testimony from Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby who collected them while Army intelligence chief in Tokyo under Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Willoughby himself named another American as "possibly" connected with the Soviet spy apparatus.

He said "spotty evidence" in Japan and "possibly supporting" information from the Chinese police indicated that Leon Minister of Bridgeport, Conn., may have been a member of the ring's communications network.

Willoughby said a Mrs. Bessie Minister—he didn't know what relation, if any she was to Leon Minister—was a sister of V. M. Molotov, Russia's World War II foreign minister.

3-Day Total Of Rain 1.42

Cloudy skies brought Snyder another .18 of an inch of rain yesterday and kept the temperature down to a mild 82 degrees.

Yesterday afternoon's showers brought to 1.42 inches the total amount of rain received in Snyder during the past three days. Total moisture for the year, as recorded officially by Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, now stands at 7.33 inches, less than half the normal amount.

Heavier rain was reported unofficially west of Snyder. C. S. Harris, Borden County judge, said his gauge measured one-half inch in Gail.

Despite the welcome relief from heat and some benefit to range and crop lands, the amount of rain has generally not been enough to break the drouth, O. M. Fowler, county agent said. The moisture received will, in most instances, be enough to bring winter wheat or other winter crops up, he said, but additional moisture will be required to keep the crops growing.

The rains have not broken the drouth, but in some areas enough precipitation has fallen to aid farmers in preparing the soil for fall planting, according to Fowler.

"Farmers will have a chance to cultivate their lands in some places, clear the weeds and put the land in shape for the anticipated wheat crop this fall," he said. He pointed out that wheat is not planted until late October or November. No wheat was harvested in Scurry County this year.

Pastures have been aided generally over the county, but the rains came too late to be of any great benefit to cotton, except to hasten the opening of the bolls. Also with the rains, he said, pest infestation is sure to follow, particularly the boll worm, and spraying will be in order.

Car Washing Ban Is Lifted

The ban on car washing was lifted temporarily today by Mayor Pro-tem R. B. Sears.

Sears said that lifting of the ban was made possible by the rain which also increased the need for car washing.

All the city's water storage tanks are full, and some of the wells are being given a rest during the wet, cooler weather.

No changes were made in the regulation on flower, tree, shrub, and lawn watering. Watering of those plants is still to continue under the ordinance regulations until more relief comes, he said.

"I believe that the city can supply enough water for service station operators and individuals to wash cars for a few days, at least," he said.

"We lifted that ban because car washing is the way many service station operators here make their living," he added.

Installation of Dial Equipment to Begin Around September 1

Western Electric Co. crews are expected to begin installation of dial telephone equipment in the new Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. building here about Sept. 1, Stanley Hill, telephone company wire chief, said today.

The building, complete on the exterior, is now being checked by a building inspector and all installation work must wait until the building receives final approval.

Hill said he had not yet been informed of the exact number of workmen who would begin equipment installation. However, a crew of as many as 50 men may be used as the project progresses, he said. Some of the crew members will remain in Snyder for several months after the dial system is put into effect, probably in February, to complete checks and other minor work.

OPS to Hike Beef Prices 1 to 2 Cents

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP) — Beef price ceilings may go up a cent or two a pound on many cuts instead of being reduced a dime as the government had planned.

Meat industry officials got word of the contemplated price boosts from aides of Price Controls Boss Michael V. DiSalle and expected to get further details today at a meeting with DiSalle himself.

Housewives probably will have to pay the penny or two extra a pound for beef round cuts. But ceilings on hamburger are likely to remain unchanged and some few price cuts on loin and rig cuts are expected.

But office of Price Stabilization (OPS) officials made it clear to industry leaders at a meeting Wednesday that there will be a general boost in beef prices. They said the higher prices are required under the new Defense Production Act to compensate the industry for lagging cattle by-product yields.

The new law, under which mobilization officials have said living costs may go up five to eight per cent, requires ceilings to be fixed so that normal profit margins are preserved.

Officials said prices for cattle hides now are about 25 per cent below ceilings and tallow prices about 33 per cent under ceilings, so greater profits from beef are needed to preserve the industry's profit position. Tallow and hide ceilings are to be adjusted downward when the beef price boosts go into effect — probably in a month or two.

Superior Cotton Is Grown in Valley, On Texas Gulf Coast

McALLEN, Aug. 23. (AP)—The Rio Grande Valley, now harvesting its largest crop of cotton, is producing a superior product, according to the Cotton Research Committee of Texas.

"The soils and climate of the Lower Rio Grande Valley and the Coastal Bend," the committee says in a report, "are conducive to the production of cotton with above average fiber properties.

"The cottons of the Valley and Coastal Bend (the Corpus Christi area) are superior in some respects to those of the Mid-South and Southeast. It would appear mills can effect a saving in the cost of raw material by buying cotton from the Valley and Coastal Bend because of the excellent fiber properties of the cotton."

While the report does not make much distinction between the two areas in its conclusions, it presents statistics to show that the Valley has a slight edge on the coastal bend in producing a slightly better grade of cotton.

LITTLE COMPARISON

This year, in particular, there is not much comparison, because the severe drouth has decimated the Coastal Bend output. The report says that as of July 28 the Coastal Bend will probably harvest 50,000 bales out of an earlier estimated yield of 200,000 bales. The Valley, on the other hand, may top 700,000 bales.

The steady growth of the Valley and the Coastal Bend as cotton producing regions is noted. In the 20's, the two areas grew one bale out of every 25 produced in Texas, the Union's greatest cotton-producing state. Now production has gone to one out of every eight.

"Valley and Coastal Bend cotton, when properly selected, will because of greater strength make stronger yarn than can be had from cotton of the same length produced in the Mid - South and Southeast," the committee says.

MATERIAL SAVING

After pointing out that most cotton from the two areas is one inch to 1-1-32 inches, the report emphasizes:

"Valley and Coastal Bend cotton that is 1-1-32 inch in length will usually make yarn as strong as 1-1-16 inch cotton from the mid-south and southeast. By substituting the 1-1-32 inch Valley cotton for 1-1-16 inch from the Mid-South and Southeast, mills may effect a saving in raw material costs of some $5 a bale."

The report says, however, that "during the last few years some 90 per cent of the cotton from the Valley has been one inch to 1-3-32 inches in length."

It adds that "under normal conditions some 70 per cent of the cotton from the Valley and Coastal Bend is middling white or better in grade" — a fact to enhance its value to mills.

The date reported and the conclusions reached, the report said, were the result of tests in laboratories at the University of Texas and Texas Technological College under sponsorship of the Cotton Research Committee. Date also was included from tests by the United States Department of Agriculture on cotton from Texas, the Mid-South and the Southeast.

THREE COUNTIES

Three counties of the Valley, Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy, are included in the report, although much of the date in all likelihood is applicable to much of Starr County, which produces its crop under conditions similar to the others. The Coastal Bend area discussed includes Kleberg, Nueces, San Patricio and Refugio Counties in their entirety and a tiny eastern part of Live Oak county.

For the tests in 1950, samples of fiber were secured at Edinburg, Weslaco and Brownsville for the Valley, and at Corpus Christi and Robstown for the Coastal Bend.

In 1951, the tests were apparently expanded greatly, for Valley samples were secured from the following: Mercedes, Donna, San Juan, Pharr, Misson, Citrus City, Linn, Red Gate and Edinburg in Hidalgo county; Lyford and Sebastian in Willacy and Harlingen, San Benito and Brownsville in Cameron. For the Coastal Bend, samples were taken at Sinton, Taft, Gregory, Violet and Robstown.

The Valley growers, the report shows, lean almost wholly on Mississippi Valley varieties of Deltapine, Stoneville, Empire, Delfos and Coker, while Mississippi varieties make up only 50 per cent of the Coastal Bend seed stock, the remainder being mostly varieties developed in Texas. Lankart is the big leader, followed by Rowden and Northern Star.

SIMILAR PROPERTIES

While both Texas areas produce a longer staple cotton than the Mid-South and the Southeast, the report says that "with the exception of Rowden (whose staple is not listed as long as the others), the varieties grown have fiber properties so similar that the differences are of but slight importance from a commercial standpoint."

"Until new citrus trees come into bearing several years hence," the report says in alluding to the serious freeze of last January, "the valley will be the source of a large volume of inch to 1-3-32 cotton. The cotton of the valley will augment the supply of such cotton to be hard in the Mid-South and Southeast.

"Because of its excellent fiber propeties, mills unacquainted with valley cotton would do well to follow future crop trends as reflected in acres planted, varieties grown and growing conditions to avoid missing new developments in the area.

"The Coastal Bent will continue to be a producer of quality cotton despite the set-back suffered this season, 1951. Mills should keep this in mind with the coming of the 1951 crop."

Soviets Reject Plan To Take Dispute To Internatioanl Court

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 23. (AP) — Russia has rejected proposals that her disputed claim of control over 2 miles of territorial waters in the Baltic instead of the normal three be taken to the International Court of Justice.

Denmark and Sweden have protested the Russian extension of territorial waters along the long stretches of the Soviet-controlled Baltic states and East Germany.

Reinecke Field Test

Chapman & McFarlin No. 1 A. O. Murphy is to be a new exploration to the reef lime pay in the Reinecke area of Southeast Borden County.

It is located 878 feet from north and 467 feet from west lines of the southwest quarter of section 67-25-H&TC.

Drilling to a possible bottom of 7,500 feet is to start at once. The project is 14 miles southeast of Gail.

Delegates from the Snyder chapter of the DeMolays left at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Houston to attend the state conclave of the organization tomorrow through Monday, according to Hilton Lambert.

Through the courtesy of the Snyder school system, transportation by school bus was provided for the trip. While away the DeMolays will visit Galveston, the San Jacinto battlefield, see the battleship Texas, and visit interesting points in San Antonio, including the Alamo.

Miss Shirley Teague, sweetheart of the Snyder chapter, will attend and be presented at the state convention. She will be accompanied by Miss Lucy Barton, Miss Sandra Blackard and her sister, Miss Nancy Teague.

Among the DeMolays who will attend are James Littlepage, Alfred Weathers, Billy Smith, Wendell Autry, James Beavers, Jackie Pylant, James Westbrook, Cecil Agee, Johnnie Randolph, Eddie Don Floyd, Billy D. Harris, Roland Barton, and Leonard Bayouth.

Two Women Assessed Fines After Fight

Two women who were involved in a fight at the Star night club Tuesday night, entered pleas of guilty to fighting and paid fines yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Fay Eubanks, 29, of 2910 Avenue C, charged with assault upon Miss Jessie Peal Watson, 21, of Big Spring, was fined $25 and $23.50 costs in county court by Judge Edgar Taylor. The charges had been reduced to simple assault.

Miss Watson was fined $5 and $13 costs in the court of W. C. Davidson, justice of the peace.

Both defendants paids the fines and costs.

Ellenburger Discovery Indicated In Callahan At No. 1-A Odom

An Ellenburger discovery has been indicated in Callahan County at Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp. No. 1-A B. Odom, wildcat 12 miles southeast of Baird.

Strike Halts City Services In Galveston

GALVESTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—Garbage and trash piled up today as the aftermath of a strike of 400 Galveston city employes.

The employes walked out Wednesday. The city commission threatened to revoke a previously voted pay increase if they didn't return.

Strikers were in the engineering, garbage collection and waterworks departments. There also were some clerks. They want more pay.

The city didn't have street lights Wednesday night but police kept traffic lights operating. The Galveston Labor Council told some workers to stay on the job to keep the water supply normal.

The commission has doubled garbage fees and boosted water rates by half to provide a $20 per month increase for all city employes, Mayor Herbert Y. Cartwright said, but will cancel all if the strike continues.

The workers, members of city employes' union, have demanded a $40 increase.

A state law bans strikes that jeopardize the security of a community, thus the fire and police departments are not affected.

Army Officer Out Command

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—The Army has relieved the commanding officer of an ordnance depot at Toledo, Ohio, where House investigators last week reported they had found evidence of "highly irregular conduct."

It announced late Wednesday that Col. S. W. McIlwain has been relieved of command of the Rossford Ordnance Depot, but gave no reasons. Chairman Hardy (D-Va) of a House expenditures subcommittee said last week the board had found evidence of "improper dealings" with contract-holding firms by procurement officials he did not name.

The Army also said that overseas orders of Brig Gen. David J. Crawford, recently suspended as commanding officer of the Detroit Automotive Ordnance Center, have been held up.

Crawford had been assigned to go to Heidelberg, Germany, early in September, but the Army said he would remain on temporary duty in Detroit instead. It said an investigation ordered recently by Secretary of the Army Pace is continuing.

Pace ordered the inquiry after a congressional committee accused Crawford of accepting hotel hospitality from holders of government contracts and of using a government truck to move trees to his home in Maryland.

Country Club Host Today To Pro-Amateur Open Tourney

More than 35 persons had registered at the Country Club golf course before noon today and many others were expected for the Pro-Amateur Open Tournament which opened here today, Red Gaines, club pro, said.

Entrants in the contest represent almost every town in West Texas, with Snyder being strongly represented in both phases of play.

REGISTERING

Assisting Gaines in registration of entrants were Mrs. George E. Frazier, Sam Wood, and Mrs. James Rosser.

Mickey Hubbard of Monahans, Mac McCullah of Big Spring, and Shirley Robbins and Miss Mary Robbins, father and daughter team from Big Spring, were the first foursome to tee off at 10:30 this morning.

Their drives were straight and long down the first fairway, but they got very little roll after the balls hit the wet ground.

With the course hard and dry until this week, the roll on the ball after it made its first bounce had been a big help to golfers. Over most of the course, today's players will not have that advantage.

Gaines said that factor would probably increase the number of strokes, but the disadvantage would handicap all players equally.

Among those entered were: Max Milam, Pat Seaton, Sam Wood, all of Snyder; Mickey Hubbard, Hoss Hardin, and Allen Booth all of Grady Kidd, Monahans; Shirley Monahans; Herb Schroeder, Levelland, W. O. Maxwell, Big Spring-Robbins and his daughter Mary Robbins, Big Spring; Johnny Autrey, Snyder; Avery Falkner, Brownfield; Kelley Lawrence, Big Spring; Joe Burkett, Carl Horton, Johnny Boren, R. S. Yorgesen, and Clyde Hall, all of Snyder; J. E. Brown, Tahoka; Gano Tubb, E. H. Wilkins, Levelland, and Mac McCullah, Big Spring.

Other entrants include: Fritz Smith and Ray Perkins, Snyder; Curtis Sterling, Brownfield; Wayne R. Hensley, Carl Fish Bill Atwood, Marvin Wise, P. W. Cloud all of Snyder; and Jerry Scott, of Big Spring.

Dr. D. K. Ratliff; Mrs. R. S. Yorgesen, James Rosser, Charles Cooper, and Mrs. Joe Burkett are other local players in the tournament.

Prizes have not been announced for winners, but Gaines said that money awards would go to the winning professional player, and merchandise award would go to the low amateur scorer.

To Be Lady Bullfighter Is Ambition of El Paso Girl

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 23. (AP)—A pretty Texas girl, 21-year-old Patricia McCormick, wants to be a lady bullfighter, and she is doing something about it.

On a recent Sunday, Miss McCormick made her debut in the Plaza de Toros at Juarez, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande from here.

"Ole, huera!" cried the Mexican bullfight fans. That's roughly equivalent to "nice going, Blondie."

Her appearance was the climax of many hours of working with cape and sword in the hot summer sun. But, in Pat's words, "It's the beginning of a career I've been dreaming of for many years...to be a matadora, a lady bullfighter."

MEXICANS LOVE HER

And it looks like a successful career is in store for the shapely young lady. Mexican fans, as hard to please as they come, loved her. Pat was not required to kill a bull Sunday. Her work consisted of passing the bull with a cape. She was knocked off her feet twice by a bull which hooked at her legs instead of following the cape. This served only to make her mad instead of frightened. Her trainer, Alejandro del Hierro, made her quit after the second spill because he feared her anger would make her too reckless.

"Afraid? No," Pat said, "but it sure made me mad getting dumped twice my first fight."

At present, Pat is an art major at Texas Western College at El Paso. The location of the school, directly across the Rio Grande from Juarez, makes it handy for her to indulge in her passion for the fiesta of the brave bulls.

Following graduation from Texas Western next year, Pat plans to study the art of bullfighting at a ranch in the interior of Mexico. She hopes to gain enough experience there to enable her to become a full-fledged killer of brave bulls.

Commenting on the oddity of an American girl becoming a matadora, Pat said, "I've had the ambition ever since I saw my first bullfight in Mexico City at the age of seven."

"And," she added, "I'm in dead earnest."

Mama Back in Overalls At Work In Defense Industry

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—Rosie the Riveter is more likely today to be a Mrs. than a Miss.

Why are American mothers swarming back into defense factories again in numbers reminiscent of second world war days?

In the last war many women felt it was a patriotic duty to go to work in defense industries. Now many feel that way again. Others want to earn money to get more luxuries for themselves or a better deal out of life for their children.

"I guess with most of us it is a mixture of patriotism and a desire to help out our families," said Mrs. Margaret L. Packer.

Mrs. Packer, a pleasant-featured, hazel-eyed woman of 42, has five children. She looks and talks like any average housewife, and she is typical of millions of mothers who now are working again in America's expanding defense plants.

"Two-thirds of the women in the plant I work in are married," she said, "and of those, two-thirds have children under 14."

She has two married daughters and a son, Donald, who is in the Navy. Still at home with her are two younger daughters, Verna, 14, and Donna, 4.

Mrs. Packer is employed by the Pratt & Whitney aircraft plant at Hartford, Conn. She worked there from 1942 to 1945 as a lathe operator. She was pleasantly surprised, when they called her last May, to find they wanted her for a better post. Women were being hired on exactly the same basis, and at the same rate of pay, as men.

In the plant that employs her one out of every three machine operators is a woman, the same ratio as in the last war. Mama is back in overalls again — for the duration.

Snyder Man Is Wed In Monahans

Miss Doris Lee Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Jones of Monahans, became the bride of E. A. Bradfield of Snyder in a double ring ceremony read at 8 o'clock Monday night in the First Baptist Church in Monahans.

Mr. Bradfield is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bradfield of Walla Walla, Wash. He has been employed by the Snyder Daily News for the past 10 months.

The Rev. Cecil Pearson, pastor of the Monahans church, read the rites before background of palms interspersed with floor baskets of pastel flowers. Cathedral tapers in wrought iron candelabra lighted the auditorium. Jimmy Hulsey of Snyder lighted the candles and served as one of four ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bridal gown of pale blue lace over ice blue satin. The molded bodice, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, featured a single row of tiny covered buttons to the waistline. The long, fitted sleeves were fastened with buttons at the wrist and came to points over the hands.

Her veil of blue net fell from a half-hat of satin - covered lace identical to that of the dress. She carried a bouquet of shell pink lilies of the Nile bound with matching satin ribbon and net. Pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, and a single strand of pearls completed the costume.

Miss Aline Whitby of Snyder was the bride's only attendant. She wore a formal gown of petal pink organdy over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She carried a bouquet of purple lilies of the Nile styled similar to that of the bride and wore a spray of the same flowers in her hair.

J. O. Sheid, Jr., of Snyder served Mr. Bradfield as best man.

A reception honoring the couple was held immediately following the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride wore a navy suit with pink and navy accessories. Following their trip, the couple will be at home at 1904 Coleman Street, Snyder.

Mrs. Bradfield, a graduate of Monahans high school, was formerly employed in Snyder.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception included Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hunter, Miss Nancy Jordan, Mrs. J. O. Sheid, Jr., and daughter, Jolene, all of Snyder.

A discount of approximately 20 per cent from the station-to-station day rate will continue to apply on all station-to-station calls costing over 50 cents completed during night hours and all day Sunday.

Person-to-Person Day Rates

Rates for person-to-person calls, which cost more to handle, are based upon the station-to-station rates. The differential will be 50 per cent instead of the present 40 per cent. The minimum differential of 15c will be continued.

Person-to-Person Night and Sunday Rates

The night and Sunday discount on person-to-person calls generally will continue to equal in amount of money the discount on station-to-station calls between the same points.

The principal changes to be made are described above. More detailed information may be obtained at any company business office.

Foreign Ministers of Allied Nations To Align Policies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson is making tentative plans to meet here with the British and French foreign ministers Sept. 10 to review German problems and other key cold war issues.

Acheson has suggested, it was learned today, that the American-British-French high commissioners in Western Germany also join the three-power talks.

Informed officials said the secretary will discuss problems ranging through Europe, the Middle East and Far East during a three to four-day conference with British Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

Officials said the number one item on the agenda probably will be a three-power agreement on Western Germany's manpower contribution to the proposed Atlantic Pact Army led by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A firm agenda has not yet been agreed upon for the three-power talks. But informed diplomats said that during their "tour of the world," the foreign ministers would likely deal with these other problems:

1. Plans for giving the Western German government more freedom in political and foreign policy matters.

2. The Iranian oil crisis.

3. Egypt's demand that Britain evacuate its troops from the Suez Canal area and Allied policy toward the continuing Arab-Israeli differences.

4. Italy's demand for American-British-French support in revising the military restriction clauses in the Italian peace treaty.

5. France's reported need for further military aid to French and Indochinese forces battling the Communists in Indochina, and plans for economic aid to Southeast Asian nations threatened by Communism.

They undoubtedly will discuss latest developments in Korea.

Aged Man, 83, Plans To Parachute Out Over Niagra Falls

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—Bernard MacFadden's plan to parachute over Niagara Falls is "definite," an aide of the 83-year-old physican culturist said Wednesday.

He may take the leap Saturday, said Edward Bodin.

MacFadden picked out the spot for the jump last Sunday while on an airplane flight over the Niagara gorge just below the falls, Bodin added.

MacFadden has been conferring with A. P. Newcomb, Detroit tool maker and parachute expert, and Newcomb will determine when conditions are best for the jump Bodin said.

AIR MIXTURES

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 23. (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce of Marquette, where it's almost always cool, gave a sample today to heat-ridden Texas.

If jest was evident, it was well meant.

Marquette's C of C sent to Fort Worth's Chamber of Commerce by air express a cylinder containing "clean, pure, cool, washed Lake Superior air."

"Please use it freely," said an accompanying message, "for relief of your hellish temperatures."

In return, Fort Worth was invited to sent some of its hot Texas air here for blending purposes."

The apparent thought was that it could be used against Marquette's severe winters.

Invitation To Mac Left To Delegates

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson has checked to the delegates themselves the decision as to whether Gen. Douglas MacArthur should be invited to address the Japanese peace conference at San Francisco.

That is the way the ousted commander in the Far East himself wanted it, Acheson said in a statement Wednesday. He added that this country is not in position to act for the conference which starts Sept. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Jr., 1800 Twenty - ninth Street, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Thompson, Jr, route No. 1, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J Bryant, Jr., 3750 Highland Drive, returned Sunday from an eight-day vacation in Colorado Springs, Colo, and Denver.

Mac Advises Jap Premier

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur, in a letter to Japanese Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, has called for "adequate security forces" to protect Japan against the threat of outside attack.

The letter, dated Aug. 20 and made public today, also predicts that the Japanese nation, under the terms of the peace treaty, will join the free world in combatting Communism.

". . . . The devious advances of international Communism must be firmly repelled as a threat to internal peace and the national security," the former supreme commander in Japan said. He added: "To such end, so long as existing international tensions exist in Asia, adequate security forces should be maintained to safeguard Japan's internal peace against an threatened external attack."

Mac Arthur's letter was in response to a July 13 note from the prime minister which expressed gratitude for the General's efforts in behalf of an early peace treaty for Japan.

The General advocated as basic to "healthy national progress" the amintennce of security forces in Japan.

The General did not say whether the forces should consist of American or Japanese troops.

Meanwhile it appreared unlikely MacArthur would attend the San Francisco treaty conference, beginning Sept. 4.

Washington reports Wednesday said MacArthur had turned down an informal invitation from Washington to address the conference.

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, a MacArthur aide, denied however that MacArthur had been invited.

Grapes and Tomatoes Listed As Plentiful, Thrifty Buys

(By The Associated Press)

Noteworthy changes in retail food prices were hard to find this week.

Large Grade "A" eggs advanced one or two cents a dozen in many places.

Some cuts of pork advanced a few cents more in places. These new boosts were not widespread.

Agriculture Department market analysts said demand for pork dropped sharply in many cities. The total increases amounted to as much as 13 cents a pound on such items as pork chops and roasts in many markets.

Quite a list of fresh fruits and vegetables moved higher at wholesale, but the advances were mostly too small to make much difference at the retail counters. Blackberries, blueberries and cantaloupes are more expensive as receipts declined seasonally. Also higher: lima beans, carrots, cauliflower, onions, peppers, oranges, western grapes, nectarines and best quality peaches.

New crop sweet potatoes reached market in greater volume and prices declined. Tomatoes lemons, grapefruit and pears were a shade lower, but lettuce stayed relatively high-priced for this time of year.

The Production and Marketing Administration spotlighted grapes and tomatoes on this week's list of most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying. The late summer tomato crop is expected to approach 9.9 million bushels — larger than both last year and the 1940-49 average.

Turkey farmers are raising a record 52,774,000 gobblers this year, or about 16 per cent more than last year, the Agriculture Department estimated this week. Much of the increase is in beltsville whites — the small year-'round type of turkey. Cranberry production was forecast at 915,000 barrels, off about 7 per cent from last year's record.

Stocks Generally Lower But Steel Up One Point

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP) — The stock market moved lower today at the opening. Prices held to a limit of a little more than $1 a share.

Bethlehem Steel, an exception, jumped up a full point. It eased off from that peak.

Freeport, Sulphur, which Wednesday announced a huge new sulphur development at the mouth of the Mississippi River, soared 4¾ at 106, but it was not particularly active. Texas Co., which will share in the profits, was up ⅝.

Basis in American Statement For Reds' Insistence on 38th

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON — The key fact that explains the strange doings at Kaesong is not in the headlines. What is going on in Korea is the first real, face to face showdown—the first face to face test of intentions and will—that has occurred in the cold war. As these words are written, no one can possibly foresee the outcome. But it is at least possible to examine the issues, and to explain why this is a showdown, whereas the Berlin crisis and the original Korean crisis last year were not showdowns.

The issue which has turned the Kaesong meetings into a showdown between the free world and the Soviet empire is the issue of the cease-fire line. Its importance cannot be understood, except against the background of its history.

• • •

In brief, late in April or early in May, the National Security Council reviewed the situation in Korea and formally decided that this country would accept an armistice if the enemy had been driven from South Korea. This Security Council decision led, in turn, to Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson's testimony at the MacArthur hearings, that the "military objective of the United Nations" would be attained if "we stopped them at the 38th Parallel . . . and restored peace and security in South Korea." On the basis of Acheson's remarks, the Kremlin then instructed Yacov Malik to propose a cease - fire on the basis of "mutual withdrawal from the 38th Parallel;" and so the armistice negotiations began.

The important point to note in the foregoing is that the Kremlin was given good reason to believe, and almost certainly did actually believe, that we would be satisfied with a straight return to the Korean status - quo - ante. Between Acheson's testimony to the Senators and the opening of negotiations at Kaesong, however, the position in Korea had altered radically. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had captured the Iron Triangle, placing U. N. forces at some points as much as thirty miles north of the 38th Parallel. The question therefore arose at once, whether to be guided in the Kaesong negotiations by the letter of Acheson's Senate testimony, or by the realities of the military picture.

• • •

The question was put to Washington by Gen. Ridgway, initiating prolonged, anxious and exhaustive discussions, both between the State and Defense departments, and between the American and British governments. The arguments for sticking to the letter of Acheson's testimony were obvious enough. The arguments for the other course were, broadly, two in number. First, a cease-fire in theory ought to occur without changes of troop positions, with ultimate territorial settlements being left to subsequent political negotiation. Second, letting the Kremlin launch a bloody, costly war, and then agreeing to restoration of the status - quo - ante at the Kremlin's pleasure, is an obvious invitation to another Kremlin aggression on the same pattern.

In the State - Defense and Anglo-American talks, these two arguments were found to be convincing. Hence Gen. Ridgway was instructed, with concurrence from London, to insist on a cease-fire on the basis of the existing fighting line. The instruction represents a hard decision, which will not be receded from in any important way.

It has led to a real show-down for three reasons. First, the Kremlin knows as well as the State and Defense departments that the cease-fire and armistice, if they are ever agreed upon, will be all the peace the wretched Koreans can hope for. Second, since the cease-fire line will thus be the permanent line of demarcation in Korea, the Kremlin is not getting the kind of deal it hoped for when Malik broke his radio talk. And third, and most important, acceptance of the existing fighting line as the cease-fire line will involve an actual loss of territory by the Soviet empire — an acknowledgement of defeat, an open admission of failure, which it will be very hard for the Kremlin to make.

• • •

None of the leaders of the American or British governments believe that the Korean war can be prevented from spreading and becoming a general war, if the fighting in Korea begins again in bloody earnest. Thus, in effect, something is happening at Kaesong that has never happened before. We, on our side, have said to the Soviets, "If you don't give way on this point, you must accept the risk of general war, which we have already considered." The Soviets, on their side, must either prepare to fight us, or make a kind of sacrifice which, small though it may seem in this instance, they have never yet made.

In the circumstances, with the two great world groupings thus nakedly if somewhat confusingly confronted and mutually measuring their strength, it is odd that the crises at Kaesong are taken as such a matter of course.

Tribe Hurlers Set For 3-Game Series Slated With Yanks

By RALPH RODEN
AP Sports Writer

Cleveland's electrifying stretch drive for the American League pennat enters another critical stage today as the Indians clash head on with the runner-up, New York Yankees.

The Indians, out in front by two games, have three of their aces ready for the invading Yankees, who limped in from Detroit.

Manager Al Lopez will shoot Bob Lemon (14-9) Early Wynn (14-11) and Mike Garcia (17-8) against the defending champions. Bob Feller (20-5), of course, is in reserve.

The Yankee pitching plans are not as formidable. Vic Raschi (17-7) will face Lemon today. Jack Kramer (1-3) is scheduled for Friday night's game and Ed Lopat (15-7) is slated to work in the series finale Saturday.

TIGERS WHIP YANKS

Allie Reynolds (12-7) originally was scheduled to go Friday night, but the fast - balling righthander worked four innings Wednesday as the Yanks dropped a 7-6, 12-inning, decision to the Tigers. Kramer started the game and lasted less than two innings.

The Indians rested their big four Wednesday and gambled with rookie Bob Chakales against Washington. Chakales didn't last but the Indians pulled out a 6-5 inning victory to increase their lead to two games.

In other American League games the Philadelphia Athletics swept a twi-night doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 5-2 and 8-1, and the Boston Red Sox beat the St. Louis Browns, 3-1, in 13 innings.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers captured a dif night doubleheader from the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3 and 8-7. The runnerup New York Giants ran their winning streak to 11 games by defeating the Cincinnati Reds, 4-3. The Philadelphia Phils downed the Chicago Cubs, 4-0, and the Boston Braves edged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3, in 10 innings.

Whitey Lockman doubled home Al Dark in the eighth inning to break a 3-3 tie and give the Giants the nod over the Reds.

Both Dodger victories were tenninning affairs. Gil Hodges singled home the winning run in the first game and Jackie Robinson drove in the payoff counter in the night contest with his fifth hit.

Maxim Holds Tight To Title

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—Joey Maxim settled the world's light-heavyweight crown tightly on his swarthy brows today by his surprising 15-round decision over free-swinging Irish Bob Murphy.

Three tough challengers await Maxim. Most probably the champion will fight Bob Satterfield in Chicago Dec. 7. There is talk of a fight in London with the British champion, stocky Don Cockell. Out on the Pacific Coast there is Harry "Kid" Matthews, who, his supporters claim, is the best of the lot.

The action-packed fight in Madison Square Garden Wednesday night came as a shock to the experts, who made Murphy the 12-5 betting favorite. This was Maxim's first defense of the title since he won it 19 months ago.

From the fifth round on, Murphy fought with his right eye almost closed. Referee Ruby Goldstein scored it 10 rounds for Maxim, the judges, Harold Barnes and Charley Shortell, made it 10-5; the Associated Press scored it 11-4.

Joe Medwick At 40 Still In Hopes Of Return To Majors

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 21. (AP)—At 40, fiery Joe Medwick hopes to return to the majors as an active player.

Medwick, former star with the St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants, now manages the Raleigh Capitals of the class B Carolina League.

Medwick, one of the original members of the Cards' famed Gashouse Gang, says he feels he could do some major league team "a lot of good, if only in a utility capacity."

Medwick was out of baseball last year after his first fling as a manager. In 1949 he piloted the Miami Beach, Fla., Flamingos in the Class B Florida International league. His team finished third.

Twice this season Carolina League umps have chased Medwick from the park because he protested too strongly on decisions. On one occasion he bumped an umpire with his chest and drew a 15-day suspension and a $100 fine. The suspension and fine were later reduced by league president Ted Mann.

Medwick looks to be in the pink of condition. He says he feels good, but lacks the coordination of former years. He has played in less than half of his team's games. He would prefer, he explains, to spend his duties as third base coach.

His explanation: "It's more important to coach third base than to trust the job to some rookie. Third base is where your runs come from and split second judgment there often can be the winning margin in a close game. In late July his Raleigh club was battling Durham for first place in the Carolina league.

Through July 23, Medwick had compiled a batting average of .305.

Medwick doesn't believe in riding his players when they're losing. He explains philosophically, "If a player has a good day that's the time to criticize him. He's in a better frame of mind to accept the criticism."

Medwick broke into professional baseball in 1929 with Wheeling in the Mid-Atlantic league. His best season in the majors was 1937 with St. Louis. That year he batted a sluty .374 and banged out 31 home runs. His last year in the majors was in 1948 with the Cardinals.

He is married and has two children, a son, 13, and a daughter, 11.

Wage Board Ponders Musial's 'Obsolescence, Productivity'

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—Sports fans, you'll find today's net set of baseball terms right on the financial page.

From now on the baseball player had better learn all about obsolescence, amortization, man-hour productivity, escalator clauses, merit raises, man-power shortages, and controls. Only it won't be the control the player's familiar with — it's federal wage control.

A three-man panel, named by the Salary Stabilization Board to study the question of the hour, has held hearings here for the last two days, and hopes to settle the question by Labor Day.

That question is whether a baseball player is more like a lawyer than a bookkeeper, in the eyes of the National Production Act. A bookkeeper's pay is controlled by the federal government. A lawyer's isn't.

If you think you have trouble getting a merit raise out of your boss under the new law, or even under no law, you ought to hear Stan Musial's sad story. The boss signed up to give Stan a raise this year and was thrown out at third by the wage controls. Five other ball players in the two major leagues are also caught between bases — salary, that is.

The Salary Stabilization Board rules that no club can pay a ballplayer more this year than the top-paid man on that club got last year. Musial got $50,000 last year and was top man on the wage totem pole for the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards agreed to raise him to $85,000 this year, but under the federal rules that extra $35,000 is just nice to hear about. It mustn't be take-home pay.

Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams get $100,000 or more. But whatever the Cards may think of the relative merit of their league-leading batter Stan's just half as valuable in the eyes of Washington as are Joe and Ted.

That's where obsolescence, amortization and the other problem of industry and finance come in. The baseball players and club owners tell the three-man panel that these big business words apply to them, too.

Louisanian Plays In Mid-Atlantic Tourney

BALTIMORE, Aug. 23. (AP)—Ham Richardson, the Baton Rouge youngster who set tennis circles stirring with his sensational Wimbledon showing, takes on Earl Cochell of San Francisco today in the Middle Atlantic Grass Courts Tennis Tournament quarterfinals.

In the other matches, top-seeded Gardnar Mulloy, Tony Trabert and Budge Patty are expected to reach the semifinals without too much difficulty.

SWEET TALKERS TAKE PICNIC

RICHMOND, Ind., Aug. 23. (AP)—The anti-cussing club of Connie Marker's East Side Cafe and Bar will throw a picnic Sunday. Members will spend a $200 kitty collected on 10 cent fines for 2,000 "damns" and stronger words.

Marker, who says swearing annoys him, thought up the fine and club idea last March. Anybody fined automatically becomes a club member.

"The fines actually have cut down cussing," Marker said. "Most of men don't enjoy it — it's just a habit."

"About a dime a night is as much as we usually get from a member," he added. "Although, sometimes, a fellow will have a couple of beers and rip off a dollar's worth."

Fort Worth Wins Over San Antonio 2-1 In Rain Interupted Game

(By The Associated Press)

The Fort Worth Cats waited an hour last night for the rain to stop and then gained a half game on idle Dallas in a Texas League playoff spot.

The Cats shaded San Antonio, 2-1. Dallas now has a two and a half game lead in fourth place.

Beaumont broke a tie for third. They beat Tulsa, 6-1. Oklahoma City blanked Shreveport, 6-0.

The Roughnecks now lead Dallas by a half game and Fort Worth by three games.

Sooners Plan To Use Spread Formation Some This Season

NORMAN, Okla., Aug. 23. (AP)—National Champion Oklahoma will shelve its famed split-T offense at times this fall for a spread formation that scatters players half way across the football field.

This comes from Head Coach Bud Wilkinson, whose Sooners rode the split-T through 31 straight victories before they lost the 1951 Sugar Bowl game.

"We don't intent to discard the split-T," said Wilkinson, "but we won't be able to take the ball and ram it down the throats of the opposition as we have done in the past.

"A lot of our players will be fast for a spread formation. And we will do a lot more passing than ever before."

As Wilkinson expalins, it will resemble the double wing, with the ball carrier standing alone about nine yards straight behind the center. The balanced line will be spread wide, measuring some 27 yards from end to end.

The ball will be snapped without a shift. The defense won't know whether the play is going right or left, whether it will be a run or a pass. Even the man with the ball won't make up his mind whether to run or pass until after the play starts.

Wilkinson's decision perhaps was influenced by back Billy Vessels. They're expected great things of Billy. A slashing ball carrier, who also can pass on a dead run in either direction, Vessels is looked upon as a contender for All-America halfback honors.

With experience lacking at ends, center and the defensive secondary, Wilkinson will rebuilt his line around All-America Tackle Jim Weatherall.

Wilkinson picks Texas A&M as the toughest team on the schedule. He concedes that his own team is likely to be "pretty good."

Pro Exhibition Game Friday

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23. (AP)—It's only an exhibition game, but Friday night's football battle between the Chicago Bears and the Los Angeles Rams may show where the real strength is in the western division of the National Pro League.

George Halas is supposed to have one of his championship teams in the making. It has more speed than in 1950 and Quarterback Johnny Lujack's arm, sore much of last season, is back in condition.

The Rams have won the division title for two years running, and Coach Jumbo Joe Stydahar makes no secret of his belief that this is a better team than won last year, only to be nosed out by the Cleveland Browns in the playoff.

Sinton Oilers Into Third Round of Tourney

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 23. (AP)—The Sinton, Texas, Oilers advanced into the third round of the National Semipro Baseball Tournament undefeated Wednesday night by beating the highly regarded Lafayette, Ind., Red Sox, 9-8.

It took a three-run eighth inning rally for Sinton to win. The Indiana team scored five runs in the seventh inning to take the lead.

Earl York homered twice for Sinton.

Tennis Court Attire Back In Pre-Gussy Days

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—No more Folies Bergere on the tennis courts. Patrons attending the national championships Saturday at Forest Hills will have to take their tennis straight.

That was the edict handed down today by the sedate fathers of the ancient sport who are horrified by the growing trend toward lace panties, low necklines and other fashions that accent feminine charms.

"A few innocent kids have been falling for daring tennis costumes designed purely for commercial reason," said Russell B. Kingman, president of the U. S. Lawn Tennis association.

The girls, Kingman said in effect, must impress the customers with drop-shots and half-volleys instead of dropped necklines and half-shirts. No more emphasis on the well-turned feminine calf.

The "lacy panty" era was ushered in by Gertrude (Gorgeous Gussy) Moran, who showed up at Wimbledon three years ago with a lacy fringe peeking out from under a ballerina skirt.

The curvacious lass then proceeded to parlay a good forehand and a scanty, shimmering wardrobe into some $30,000 on the professional circuit.

This year Beverly Baker, 21 and attractive, brought gasps from the Wimbledon crowds with equally daring attire.

CONTEST DECISION

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 23. (AP)—A lamb named Nancy Angel won the pet contest at the Heart of Illinois Fair Wednesday.

A bulldog named Rex, who also ran, apparently didn't like the decision. He broke away from his owner and chased the lamb all over the field where the contest was held. The lamb was rescued.

Cold Weather At Great Lakes

(By The Associated Press)

Cool weather, with temperatures down to around freezing in some cases, overspread the Great Lakes region and Northeastern States today.

Cadillac, Mich., reported an early morning temperature of 32. Grand Marais in Upper Michigan had 34.

Scattered thundershowers were forecast for Texas today, helping to break the heat. The Rio Grande River section of South Texas is getting steadier rainfall — the effect of the Gulf of Mexico hurricane which is blowing itself out in the mountains of Mexico.

Widely scattered showers were reported in the Plains States and Rocky Mountains. Scattered thundershowers also occurred in the Carolinas and Northern Georgia.

Firefighters continued to battle blazes in the forests of the Pacific Northwest, where some areas haven't had appreciable rainfall for more than 100 days.

Civil Defense Program Far Behind Schedule As Funds Cut

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—Early last January, when this country was in a dark and worried mood, Congress passed the Civil Defense Act.

The act made possible a broad program of cooperation between the federal government and the states and cities in many fields, such as building air raid shelters, training people, setting up warning signals, and so on.

But that was the time when we were taking a pasting from the Communists in Korea, the country was jittery, not knowing what to expect next. The mood seems to have changed.

President Truman and Millard Caldwell, boss of civil defense, asked Congress for $535 million to carry on the program this next year. The House acted this week.

It cut the amount requested $469,745,000 by voting only $65 million for the government's civil defense program.

CALLED UNREALISTIC

The main reason given in the House: Caldwell's program is "unrealistic" and "we cannot provide all that is necessary for civil defense without too much strain on our resources."

This cut isn't final, of course, unless the Senate also approves. It hasn't started to consider the money for civil defense yet. But it will next week, when it listens to Caldwell and his aides.

No one expects the Senate to give Caldwell all he asked. We won't know the final figure until House and Senate finally get together and agree on some one amount.

Of the $65,255,000 voted by the House, about $50 million must be used for supplies in case of an air raid. Most of it will be medical supplies. Under the head of supplies Caldwell asked for $200 million.

ATOM DEFENSE POOR

Caldwell, the day before the House voted, said not one city in the United States "has even approached the point where it could withstand an atomic attack now."

Two members of the House — Melvin Price of Illinois and Henry M. Jackson of Washington, both Democrats — are members of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee whose members get secret information on Russia's atomic progress.

Both spoke against the big cut in civil defense:

Russia is in the atomic business in a big way; they couldn't reveal the exact number of bombs Russia is believed to have but they are "bigger and more potent than previously believed"; and an atomic attack on this country is possible.

Phils' Sawyer To Stay

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23. (AP)—Robert R. M. Carpenter, Jr., president of the Philadelphia Phillies, says he hasn't talked over a 1952 contract with Manager Eddie Sawyer but he intends that Sawyer manage the club next year.

Translating Bracero Pact Was Gigantic Time-Consuming Task

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—With the Mexican farm labor agreement in operation and thousands of "braceros' crossing the border to help harvest crops it's interesting to note many sidelights in negotiating the pact.

Some farmers who desperately needed cotton pickers may have seen no excuse for the long-drawn conferences on the matter, both prior to passage of the Mexican labor bill July 12 and actual signing of a formal agreement with Mexico on Aug. 10.

Rep. Lloyd Bentsen of McAllen, one of those most active in the entire picture, says the translation problem itself probably accounted for days of delay. When you get to phrasing contracts in two languages, with hundreds of thousands of persons and millions of dollars involved, you have to be careful to make sure that each version conveys the same meaning.

POAGE IS AUTHOR

Author of the bill which led to signing of the pact was Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco, high ranking member of the House agriculture committee.

One of the angles that he had to keep in mind in drafting the bill was the understandable opposition of Mexico and most American farmers to inclusion of the "braceros" under the U. S. social security laws.

Under the then existing law, which the Poage Mexican labor bill repealed, the "braceros" who worked steadily for three months in this country suddenly found social security tax deductions made in their pay. They then would have to work steadily another two months in order to become eligible for unemployment and other social security benefits.

By the nature of their employment in this country — seasonable farm workers admitted on a temporary basis — only a negligible number ever would be able to get anything back for the taxes they had paid into the U. S. Treasury.

BRACERO PROBLEM

It was only on Jan. 1 of this year that farm workers became covered by the social security laws. No one in any of the federal agencies here concerned with the matter seems to know how much was collected from the "braceros" between Jan. 1 and July 12.

A spokesman at the labor department's U. S. employment service says that not many Mexican workers were affected and that probably in most of their cases the total deductions from each individual did not exceed $4 or $5.

He added that it would be virtually impossible, and certainly impractical from an administrative standpoint, to try to track down the individual Mexicans involved and refund them the taxes they may have paid into the U. S. treasury.

A bureau of internal revenue official, asked to comment on the situation, said that the collections were all made according to the then existing law.

The new farm labor import measure said nothing about making refunds of social security taxes already collected, so there would be no legal grounds for making such a move, he added.

On the subject of Mexican relations, commissioner Lawrence M. Lawson, head of the American section of the U. S.-Mexican international boundary commission, has been here helping the budget bureau prepare its cost estimates on Falcon Dam.

Noting that the gigantic dam across the Rio Grande near Aapata is about 20 percent completed, he told of some interesting prehistoric fossil discoveries made in excavations at the dam site.

It was on the south bank of the river that Mexican engineers uncovered the remains of a 10-foot high mastadon.

It was found about 45 feet below the surface and in a standing position, apparently having been mired in quicksand. Above it the formations were sand and gravel. The skeleton virtually disintegrated when exposed to the air, except for the teeth, which weigh 10 to 18 pounds each in their petrified state. They were taken to Mexico City. The animal had tusks 8 feet long.

Rain Makers In 1891 Claimed Success By Using Gun Powder

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 23. (AP)—There's nothing new about attempts to make rain fall on dry farmland.

Had you been passing through Duval County on a quiet April day 60 years ago, you might have been knocked off your feet by an explosion.

Jonas Weil of Corpus Christi was there, a youngster just out of school. He was secretary for the group, mostly army personnel, who tried to make rain fall. Weil says rain fell.

Duval county in 1891 was in the throes of the severest drouth in its history. Cattle were dying by the thousands. Their carcasses lined the banks of the Nueces river, where they gathered in hopes of water.

Ranchers had heard of experiments carried on by the army at El Paso and Midland in which explosives were fired into the atmosphere in the hope they would cause rainfall. The theory resulted from records showing above average rainfall where battles had been fought.

RANCHERS PAID

Duval county ranchers had to pay all the expenses of the experiment there. The army, with all its paraphernalia, weather experts, and newspapermen, arrived in Duval county and pitched camp a few miles out of San Diego on the Collins ranch.

For weeks the weather experts watched the skies, waiting for the right clouds. In April the clouds came. Small cloth bags were then filled with powder and soaked in nitroglycerine. A cumbersome cannon that guarded the King ranch headquarters was hauled to the site. A huge cypress cistern, filled with water, was loaded with iron shavings picked up from blacksmith shops. A meteorologist made frequent trips aloft in a captive balloon to look things over.

Finally the big day arrived. The powder-filled bags were made ready, the old cannon was put in place; and a large quantity of sulphuric acid was poured into the cistern water and iron shavings to create a gas with which to fill huge baloons that were to be sent aloft and exploded.

PANDEMONIUM BREAKS

At a signal, pandemonium broke loose. The bags of powder were exploded; the high-flying baloons began to burst. Weil had been put in charge of the cannon, and he fired away like a defender of the Bastile.

One of the balloons floated off horizontally instead of rising. When it exploded, every tent in the camp was knocked over.

Shortly the bombardment was over and the weary, powder-smoked rainmakers waited results. Onimous clouds gathered. And, says Weil, it began to rain.

How much it rained, Weil didn't say. But he remembers that water rushing down a ravine forced soldiers and other members of the group to move their tents to higher ground.

This year another group of rainmakers is in Texas, seeding clouds with silver iodide. Ranchers in Jim Hogg and Brooks counties have formed an organiation. Weil's nephew, Alex Weil, who operates a large ranch in Jim Hogg county, is secretary. Weil also has a grandson, Edwin Kessler III — majoring in meteorology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston.

Rescuers Overlook Child In Car Crash

WINAMAC, Ind., Aug. 23. (AP)—Rescuers overlooked three-year-old Kathryn Dilts when they pulled her father, James Dilts, Jr., from his overturned automobile.

The father murmered "Katy" several times to doctors working on him in a hospital Wednesday.

The rescue group returned to the wreck and found the child's body under the car, her face pressed into a mud bank.

Doctors said she apparently had suffocated.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Smith, 809 Twenty-fifth Street, are the parents of a daughter born Saturday morning in the Snyder hsopital. The baby weighed six pounds, five ounces. Her name is Deborah Ann.

Anti-Reds In EducationPlan

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 23. (AP)—The non-Communist World Assembly of Youth will go into Africa and Southeast Asia to set up educational programs designed to win young people away from the influence of Moscow.

A experimental center for mass education is planned to reduce illiteracy in Africa. A leadership training institute will be established in Southeast Asia.

Sites for the projects will be chosen after consultation with youth groups and governments in the two areas.

The executive committee of the assembly announced the two-point program Wednesday. It carries out plans drafted by the governing council, which ended a six-day meeting Tuesday.

Three Girls Captured For Second Time After Escaping Mental School

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 23. (AP)—Three teen-aged girls today were back in the Fort Wayne State School for feeble minded, their second escape having given them considerabley briefer liberty than their first.

They were returned to the school Monday after being arrested in a Peru, Ind., with another young girl and four men. They had been there three weeks when Sheriff J. M. Behle investigated complaints of loud parties.

The girls got away again Tuesday night by overpowering an attendant. Police found them Wednesday in Kokomo, 79 miles away.

Dam Builder Predicts Drouth In Texas Through Next Year

AUSTIN, Aug. 22. (AP) — You won't need that raincoat much next year either. Keep it handy for 1953.

That's the advice of Abraham Streiff, hydraulic engineer who has studied weather cycles for 30 years for dams he has built over the world.

Streiff has just completed work on the Lower Colorado River Authority's two new dams above Austin, the Granite Shoals and Marble Falls Dams.

"In 1953 you'll see those big floods come back to the Colorado," he said, "but don't look for them before then."

Where does he get that idea?

STATISTICS SHOW IT

From Texas' weather statistics that for years have roughly followed the same general seven-year cycle, ranging from bad drouth years to peak rainfall years and then back to drouth again.

"There's a certain rhythmic recurrance, a certain systematic sequence that makes it possible for us to foretell with reasonable assurance just what to expect in the way of rainfall and runoff for years ahead," he said.

"Of course, conditions may not conform locally to the pattern. You may get rains during a dry year at one place and a dry spell during wet years in another place but if you study the area as a whole you'll find the cycles."

Texas is just pulling out of the trough of one of those dry periods.

SUN HAS EFFECT

"There's some sort of complicated relationship with sun activity," Streiff explained. "Weather cycles, runoff cycles, the thickness of annual tree rings — all bear a direct relationship to "explosions" on the sun's surface. Where weather data is missing, we can often reconstruct weather graphs from sun activity data and tree ring data."

Cycles vary geographically and other factors often come into play, too, he noted.

Streiff's studies of weather cycles have been published in weather observers' official publications.

He became interested after he built a dam in Wisconsin in 1917 and then was jumped by financing bankers when three drouth years followed.

He has built 13 dams in Texas, including all LCRA structures, Possum Kingdom and Guadalupe Dams. He also has dams in Maine, New York, Michigan, Arkansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Brazil, Spain, and Africa.

Broken Home Leading Factor In Contributing to Delinquency

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP) — The broken home, where it involves children or young adults, has become a national disaster.

It is the largest single factor today in the background of youthful crime, dope addiction, sex aberrations and all the thousand-and-one different instances of exotic behavior by young people that crowd police files.

Twenty or 25 years ago criminologists and juvenile court officers listed "bad companions" as the major cause in cases of youthful crime or delinquency. It is still one of the leading factors.

But today, the notation "broken home" has far surpassed all other elements. It appears over and over again opposite the names of young offenders.

NO COST ESTIMATE

In the New York area in 1949, for example, 58.6 per cent of these offenders came from homes split by divorce or the death of a parent. The figure was 53.8 for the previous year. Israel Gerver, statistician and professor of criminology at Brooklyn College said it has risen about 10 per cent since 1933.

No accurate estimate of the cost to the nation in health andproperty loss, or for the maintenance of law enforcement officers to cope with the problem, was available.

However, these facts may give some approximation:

FBI statistics show that, on a national scale, 21 is the dangerous age. The five largest categories of persons arrested for felonies are 20 to 24. These figures have remained static over a long period.

In the New York area, the 17-year-old leads the list. The five largest age-brackets are from 16 to 21.

Persons under 25 constitute more than half of the total arrested in New York City and its environs. Elsewhere in the nation the figure ranges from 35 to 45 per cent for the same group.

YOUNG ADULTS WORST

Apart from statistics on crime, it appears also to be a fact that young adults compose the largest single group of people receiving mental and psychiatric assistance in America today.

At the Austin Riggs Foundation in Massachusetts, a private institution, an official said "the majority" there are between 20 and 29 years of age.

In New York's Morisania Hospital, the same 20-to-29 bracket is the biggest today and has been for several years.

A fairly high percentage of teenagers' are in the hands of psychiatrists in both institutions.

What does it all mean? The probation officers of America — who perform a tremendously valuable service — are among the most acute and best-informed observers.

When a youngster breaks the law they put a microscope on his past life. They search out every detail, examining his parents, his home life, companions and an enormous number of minute but important facts. They try to answer the eternal "why" of a crime.

BROKEN HOME TRAGEDY

They call the broken home a tragedy, and find it the chief element in the background of youthful law-breaking.

Parents themselves frequently bring their children to the probation officer because they "can't handle them." Frequently, the officers say, they discover the base of the trouble in the parents.

Irving W. Halpern, a New York officer, listed a series of causes for the troubles of young people, among them bad housing, lurid news reporting, lurid movies, comic books, etc. He also made this point:

"The neighbors can be an important deterrent to crime. If a youngster cares what his neighbors think he is less likely to get into trouble. But a parent himself must first have the respect of the people who know him and live near him."

In Lancaster County, Pa., Edgar R. Barnes, a veteran of 21 years in probation work, said:

"Most of these youngsters are basically all right. They will take discipline if they get it.

"There is still an awful lot of child psychology in the end of a razor strap held by a strong father or mother."

TEXAS BRANDS

By JOHN M. HENDRIX

MW was used first in the early '70s in Goliad County by Willie Shanklin and was adopted in 1876 by W. M. Bradford. It is still being used by Wheat Bradford in Edwards County.

During 1879, a time when Texans sought their markets at the railheads in Kansas, a trail herd of 2,000 head wearing the MW brand were sent "up the trail".

Ice Cream Dreams Of St. Louis Youth True

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23. (AP)—If seven-year-old Charles Gibson keeps up his fast start, he should eat 15 gallons of ice cream in a month.

Charles and his family get all the ice cream they can eat — free — for a month.

"I'd say I've eaten about a gallon or more since Monday," Charles said Wednesday.

It started when the boy found a sack with $250 in it. An employe of an ice cream firm had lost it.

FAMILY GATHERING FOR ROYAL BIRTHDAY

THE STARS

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23. (AP)—What has happened to Larry Parks?

Little or nothing has been heard about Parks since he testified before the House Un-American Committee last March that he had joined the Communist Party in 1944 or 1945 and dropped out in 1946.

I record his replies:

Q: Have you done any work since you testified?

A: No.

Q: Why not?

A: Because there have been no offers for my services. You know how Hollywood is.

Q: Why have Sterling Hayden and Edward Dmytryk, who also testified they were Communists, been able to get work in movies and you have not?

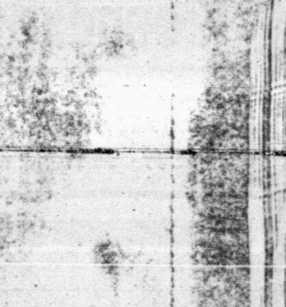

A: Perhaps it is because I was the first to testify. The first one always reaps the biggest headlines.

Q: What kind of mail did you get about your testimony?

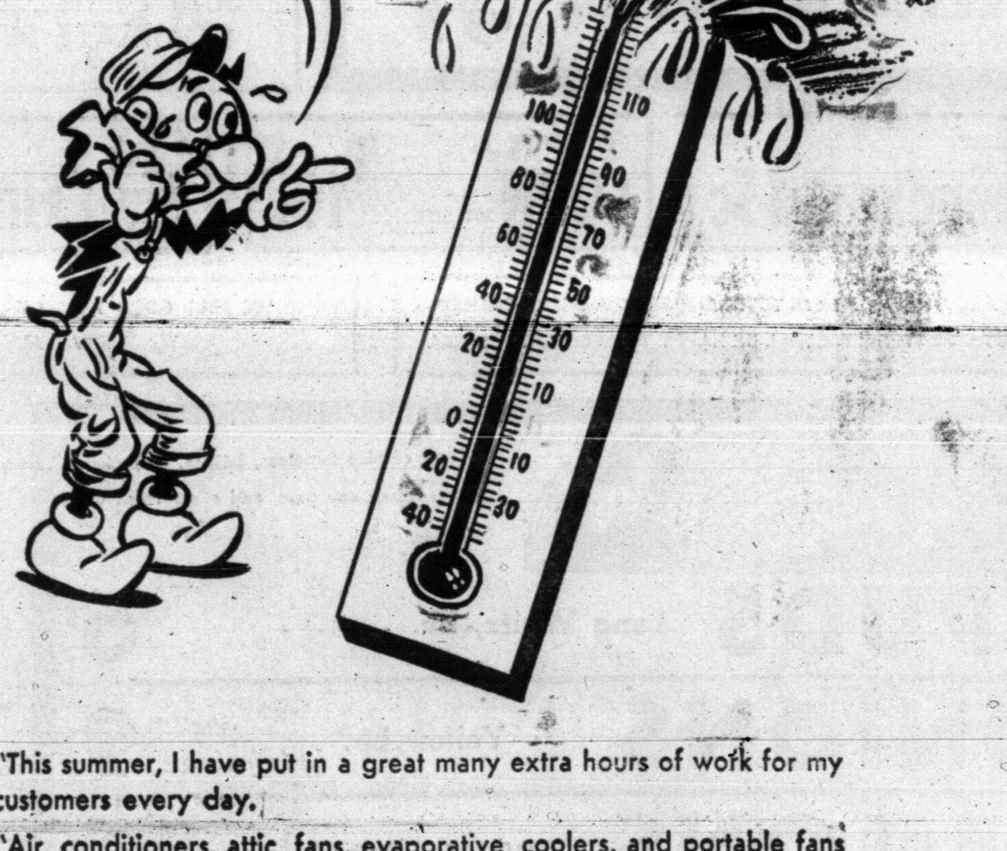

A: I received about 575 letters and only 14 were derogatory.

IT'S SURE BEEN HOT!

"This summer, I have put in a great many extra hours of work for my customers every day.

"Air conditioners, attic fans, evaporative coolers, and portable fans have been going full blast around the clock – 24 hours a day practically every day. High temperatures, lack of rainfall and many nights without our usual cooling breeze have combined to make it an exceptionally hot summer. Electric refrigerators have had to call on their reserve power to keep food fresh and wholesome at constant temperatures under 40 degrees and to maintain ready supplies of ice cubes and cooling beverages.

"Some electric bills may be higher during such extreme hot weather because of this extra work but now – when you're able to stay cool and comfortable in spite of the heat – is when your electric service really proves to be the biggest bargain in your home."
