Mountain Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

Surely everyone has by now decoded last week's issue of the NEWS. So far no one has seemed very offended by the disaster, only amused.

Vivian Chaffin got so interested in the edition that she marked errors with a red pencil—a time consuming chore, no doubt!

For those wondering WHAT was wrong with the paper—a breakdown at the Bangs office made it necessary to use the photo-copy machines at the Brownwood Bulletin. Unfortunately the Bulletin machines do not "digest" our tape correctly, hence the lack of paragraphs, punctuation and no chance to make corrections.

bk

Work is progressing well on the new post office building. The south wall is completed, and the rest of the building is "going up" rapidly. The new facility will be a great addition to our community.

The district Interscholastic League One-Act Play contest will be held at Santa Anna next Thursday, April 1. Five area schools will have entries in the contest to be held in the school auditorium.

The contest is open to the public, and is one of the more interesting events to attend. The time will be announced next week.

FISHING TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. John Gregg and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Cole of Coleman, spent several days last week at Corpus Christi fishing. They enjoyed the outing at the beach but were hampered by high winds in the area.

Coleman County Ranked Third In 1975 Oat Crop

With a total crop of 793,000 bushels, Coleman County placed third in 1975 Texas oat production.

According to agriculture Commissioner John C. White, county farmers harvested some 38,000 acres with an averageyield of 20.9 bushels per acre.

Most areas of the state had moderate to heavy rains in late August and September that provided excellent surface and subsurface moisture for planting. Seeding was completed by the end of October. Early growth was good, with many fields enjoying adequate to surplus moisture, and many farmers were not able to graze the crop since fields were too wet or muddy.

Grazing increased as fields began to dry, but growth rates exceeded grazingin some localities and rank, unpalatable forage developed. Harvest for grain started on schedule in late April, but because of rains, ran behind schedule in May reaching completion in early July.

Texas ranked eleventh in production last year with a crop of 19.5 million bushels.

Cooke County ranked first in the state with over 816 thousand bushels.

Dear friends,

Most families decide in advance upon a doctor in whom they have confidence to call in an emergency. In like manner, it is wise to decide upon a funeral director in whom you can place your confidence in time of need. Select this man in advance, when good judgment is not upset by the stress of your grief.

Work Completed, Water in Pipes For Brookesmith Water Corp.

People in south Brown County and southeast Coleman County will have a new water supply within a week if all goes as expected with the Brookesmith Water Corporation. Water was in the pipes this week and representatives from the State Health Department were testing the water Tuesday in preparation for turning it on for use by the customers.

The new water system has been in the planning stages about five years and was financed through a federal grant and a FHA loan. Total cost for the project is about three million dollars.

The system, orginating at Lake Brownwood, will receive water through the Brownwood filtration plant. Pipelines totaling 300 miles will serve 916 customers at Grosvenor, Winchell, Brookesmith, Trickham and areas in between.

Some areas of the county have been without water at times of drought, and the new system is expected to relieve the problem for those on the water lines. As a result of the water system, about 30 new homes have been built and two community centers remodeled for use.

The water system is especially welcome with the current dry weather and low rural water supply.

Dear Editor:

On World Food Day, April 1, much attention will be focused on the shortage of food abroad and the high prices of food in this country.

I'm wondering if people are aware of the wasted land in America that could be used growing healthful crops? I'm talking about the millions of acres that are planted in tobacco and hops for cigarettes and beer.

Leading agronomists report that for the same amount of protein, it takes 10 times as much land to graze a cow than it does to raise the equivalent protein value in soybeans.

Many people decry the use of taxpayer's money to support farmers who don't plant a certain crop so as to keep its market value high. The practice does seem a waste; but what a greater waste when land is used to produce a product of no nutrional value (as in the case of alcohol and tobacco, products of a negative value.)

Let us think about more than getting more for our money at the supermarket. Let's zero in on the basic issues of food itself and what we should be doing about the.

Sincerely,
(Signed) C. P. Wenzel

GREAT AMERICANS

THOMAS JEFFERSON

The chief author of the Declaration of Independence and our third president, Thomas Jefferson was devoted throughout his life to the principles of freed from tyranny for all men.

When John Adams attempted to take what Jefferson considered too much power into the federal government, Jefferson and John Madison authored the famous Virginia and Kentucky resolution which put forward the doctrine of states' rights.

Today, Jefferson's principles of states' rights, many say, are being upheld by those legislators opposed to proposed federal legislation that would impose national zoning in each state based solely on air quality considerations. That would place most, if not all, federal lands—and large zones around them—into zones where little or no development would be allowed. At first only those areas where ground level air quality is better than national standards would be affected. But remaining areas of the country would come under zoning when they achieved national quality standards, according to the Electric Utilities Clean Air Plan.

What would Jefferson have said?

Heavy Smoke At Grass Fire Covers Town

Heavy smoke covered the west part of town Monday afternoon as a two-alarm fire burned vacant lots at the west overpass. The fire was started by train on the railroad and threatened a mobil home and storage building located west of the self-service station.

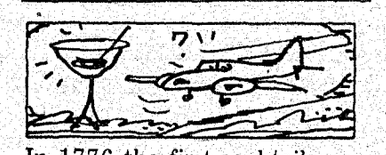

A high wind caused the dry greass and weeds to burn rapidly and also endanger to the area across the highway. However, firemen quickly answered the call and kept the fire under control.

While some firemen were at the local scene, another group went to the Liberty area to fight several small fires along the railroad right-of-way apparently caused from the same passing train.

Another call Monday was to a fire at the Wallace place in the Cleveland Community where grass along the roadside was afire. The blaze was quickly extinguished with no damage to the adjoining pasture or fence.

City officials and volunteer firemen are expressing concern about the number of spectators on hand at local fires. At the Monday fire, local sight-seers hindered the fire fighters and almost caused accidents along the busy highway in the heavy smoke.

From the VFD log, it was noted that the local fire department has fought fires at the same location at the overpass on 17 other occasions through the years.

In 1776 the first cocktail was supposedly made—by Betsy Flanagan, an Elmsford, N.Y. barmaid.

CONSERVATION CONVERSATION

A number of plants that are poisonous to livestock are found here in Central Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District according to Joe Bob Watson, Range Conservationaist with the Soil Conservation Service in Coleman. Poisonous plants are normally found on disturbed areas such as around corrals, livestock bedding or feeding areas where desirable forage has been depleted by overuse and-or hoof trampling.

Watson continues, "Livestock poisoning more commonly results from management or mismanagement, range conditions or kinds of animals rather than the presence of the poisonous plants themselves. However, some poisonous plants may have become established on rangers quite some time ago, but still persist even alongside desirable forage. And a poisonous plant is much more likely to be grazed by hungry animals when desirable forage is in short supply. Overuse weakens the vigor of desirable grasses and encourages invastion of weeds—many of which are poisonous."

"On many pastures, the forage supply is virtaully depleted now and some poisonous plants are alredy thriving on these throughout the district. If the present dry conditions persist, the spring "greenup" on grass will not last long. And livestock can easily become more vulnerable to poisoning during stress periods—regardless of whether the stress is on the livestock or the poisonous plants or both."

"The poisonous plants here vary considerably in their degree of toxicity at various stages of growth, animals affected and corresponding symptoms. For instance, the young stems and leaves are frequently the most toxic parts of many poisonous plants, while the seeds and seedlings or sometimes the entire plant is toxic in others."

"The SCS office in Coleman is available to assist in identification of poisonous plants and recommend ways to control these unwanted plants. Also, a well-illustrated booklet on identification of poisonous plants found in this area and animals poisoned is available from the Biology Department of Angelo State University. And another booklet illustrating and describing poisonous plants in Texas, their distribution, poisonous principle, animals poisoned, clinical signs, and recommendations on management and treatment is available through the local Extension Service office."

MY HOME TOWN

By MRS. JOHN HUNTER

One of the most interesting older homes in Santa Anna is on the 1300 block of Wallis Ave. now owned by Thomas M. Hays Jr., great-grandson of Dr. A. Standlee, (May 2, 1903) who built the home.

Dr. A. Standleee came from Arkansas and bought the land several years before moving here. A group of friends came on the train to Waco and by covered wagon to Coleman County, and Dr. Standlee bought 640 acres, later deeding a 100-foot right-of-way to the Santa Fe Railroad as the rails came to Santa Anna pushing as far west as Coleman City. It is thought the land cost about $4 or $5 per acre.

Dr. Standlee came to Coleman County from Clark County, Arkansas in the early 1880's and built the house in '84 or '85. He had married Martha Hill at Social Gap, Ga. They raised five sons, all of whom made doctors.

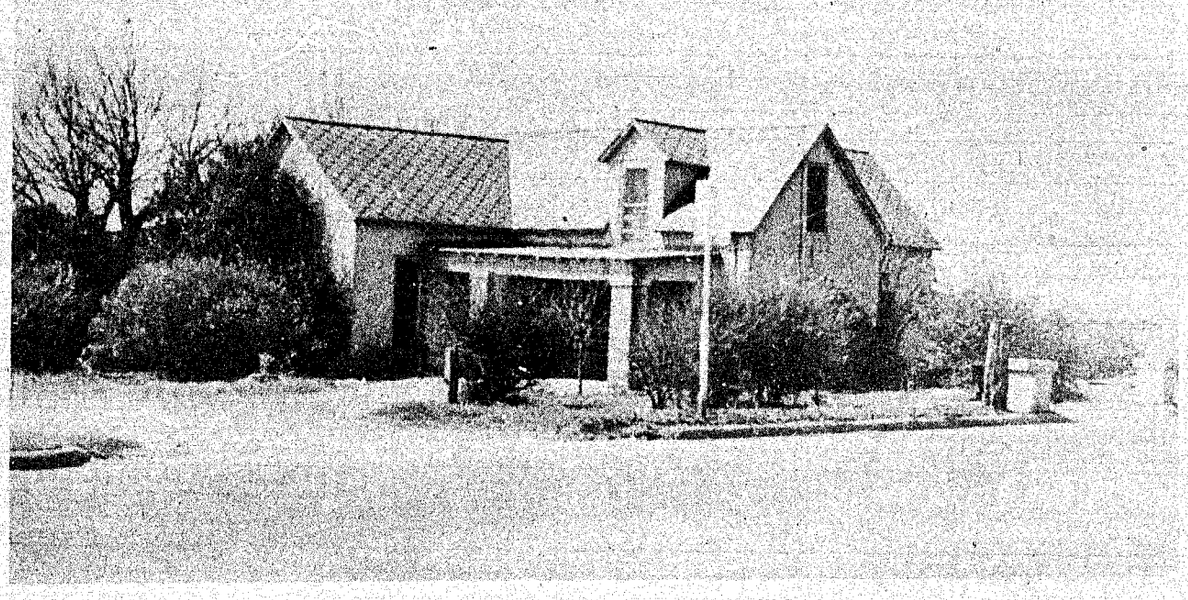

He brought his family out about the time the railroad came in 1886 moving into the spacious new home of four large rooms with 12 or 15 foot high ceilings of beaded ceiling.

Dr. Tom Hays followed to Texas in 1890 from Clark County, Arkansas, he had married Miss Maidie Standlee, daughter of Dr. A. Standlee. When Dr. Hays received a call when he first came as a young doctor, the man asked, "Air you a doctor? Well, you don't look like one."

Dr. Hays bought the Standlee home after the death of Dr. Standlee in 1903. He added more rooms as the family grew, also stuccoed the house, which now has ten rooms, two baths, a basement and upper story. The original hitching post is in front of the house.

When Dr. Standlee came here to practice medicine, according to the prescription blanks, his orders were to be filled by G. W. Lappington, Druggist and Apothecary (Roy Stockard's mother was a Miss Lappington).

Dr. and Mrs. Hays raised seven children, and it is because of the history of the civic minded families as these, we say "We Wouldn't Trade Our Home Town."

EVERETT E. McKINNEY

McKinney Has Statement for County Voters

Everett E. McKinney, candidate for County Treasurer, has authorized this newspaper to publish his statement to the voters as follows:

TO THE VOTERS OF COLEMAN COUNTY

I am a native of Coleman County, educated in Santa Anna and Coleman Schools; married Nancy Jim Golson of Coleman and after serving in the Air Force in World War II, returned to Coleman to enter business as a wholesale gasoline agent. This has been my principle occupation with the exception of a period of time when I operated an outdoor advertising company.

In January of this year the Commissioner's Court appointed me to serve as Treasurer of Coleman County after the resignation of the incumbent. I appreciate very much the honor of being given the opportunity to serve in this position and would like to ask for your vote and support for this office in the Primary election.

Your County Treasurer occupies an important role in the fiscal operation of the county and is personally committed to the task of keeping the public fully informed on governmental affairs and in assuring public confidence in the integrity of county fiscal process. It is my intention to use all information available to up-grade the office and there-by be sure that its performance matches its constitutional dignity. The duties of this office are necessary and important to efficient operation of county business and I can assure you that it will be a full-time job for me because I have no outside business or other interests that would distract me from this job. My years of experience in business would be utilized in the prudent management of your county funds--a large and important part of Coleman County's economy.

Thank you for all the consideration and help you have given me in the past. I hope that my performance of the duties of this office will merit your trust and support of my candidacy in the Democratic Primary on May 1.

JESSE WILLIAMS

Williams Has Statement for Precinct Voters

Jesse Williams, candidate for County Commissioner of Precinct Three, has authorized this newspaper to publish his statement to the voters as follows:

TO ALL THE PEOPLE IN PRECINCT THREE:

I am a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct 3. I have had a long standing desire to serve you as commissioner, and most certainly have no ill feeling for the present commissioner, nor anyone in the race.

I was a candidate in Precinct 2 several years ago, and although I did not win, I am very grateful for the strong support I received at that time. Since then, precinct lines have been changed and our farm and a large part of Precinct 2 are now in Precinct 3. A large part of Coleman, from Walnut St. south is also in Precinct 3. We have our home now at 725 West Walnut St. where we have lived for 15 months. We pay taxes on our farm in the Mozelle School district, Precinct 3, and city and Coleman School tax on our home in town.

We have resided in the Shields, Mozelle and Gouldbusk areas most of my life. Having been a resident so long has given me an insight to the problems and struggles we have in maintaining our schools and county government.

I am 57 years of age, a high school graduate, married and we have five sons, all married, and we have eight grandchildren. I was a mechanic and oilfield worker for several years, and have stock farmed and done custom work for the last 20 years. My wife, Mabel, is an LVN and is employed in Dr. Henry's office here in Coleman.

My grandfather was county treasurer at one time and my father was county commissioner several years. So it is with a continuous desire to serve in county government that I offer my candidacy for this office. I served on the school board six years, two of them as president.

We have many friends in Precinct 3. They have given me very much encouragement in this race. I know it will take the strong support of all to win this office, and if elected I would most certainly give my best to serve each and everyone of you in a sincere, honest, efficient, hard working manner.

Knowing full well the responsibility that goes with this office, and the great burden of taxes that is on all of us today, I would work very hard to run this office in as economical way as possible. I have no higher political ambition and would serve the people for the salary alone and use no tax money nor official position for personal gain.

It has been many years since a person from this part of Precinct Three has served the people in county governmental affairs. So if you should feel that you want a change in this office, I would certainly appreciate the chance to serve each and every one of you in all parts of the precinct in a way deserving of your respect and approval, with honesty and fairness to all. With this long standing desire to serve, I ask for your vote and influence. It will be sincerely appreciated.

Thank you,
Jesse Williams
Candidate for Commissioner
Precinct 3

Local Student Enjoys Trip

Cline Smith, a senior student at Abilene Christian University, made an interesting trip during the spring break from classes, visiting at Du Quoin, Illinois with a friend, David Krazer and family.

Du Quoin is a German settlement town, settled by German immigrants in the early 1800's. Located there is the nation's oldest coal strip mine that has a capacity of 200 million tons a year of Saleable coal.

The third largest coal shovel in the world is at the mine, standing 11 stories high and capable of moving 74 yards of soil and coal at one scoop. The electricity bill at the mine is $65,000 per month.

While touring the mine, Cline saw the entire operation, from digging to reclaiming the land.

During the trip, Cline visited St. Louis and Memphis, Tennessee, returning by way of Missouri and Arkansas.

While on the trip Cline was asked the typical questions of Texans. He also noted with interest the high prices in the northern area where gasoline was 65 cents per gallon and other items as high in comparison.

Cline is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith.

I wish there were just something left these days that could honestly be called unmentionable.

CJC Homecoming Slated April 24

Cisco Junior College will this year hold its annual HOMECOMING on Saturday, April 24, according to an announcement by the CJC Ex-Students Association.

The spring date is the first time in anyone's recollection that the Cisco college has held Homecoming anytime other than during football season, a college spokesman said.

The special day for ex-students will be held in conjunction with a community-wide celebration that will be in progress in Cisco—the Cisco Frontier Jubilee combined with the college's traditional Ranch Week activities.

April 24 will culminate an entire week of frontier-type activity in the Eastland County town, and the college's homecoming will play a major role in the Saturday activities.

Among the scheduled events for Homecoming are: a 10:00 a.m. parade; afternoon receptions, open house, class reunions, and a business meeting; and a barbecue, musical revue, and Exes Ball during the evening hours.

During the musical revue, the Ex-Students Association will pay special tribute to Dr. Bevington Reed, who has been selected as the CJC Outstanding Alumnus of the Year. Dr. Reed is the immediate past Commissioner of Higher Education for the State of Texas, and an ex-student of Randolph College in Cisco, which became Cisco Junior College following World War II.

Mrs. Betty Hogan, Executive Secretary of the CJC ex-Students Association, has invited the college's alumni from "anywhere and everywhere" to attend the homecoming on April 24. More details may be obtained by writing to her at CJC; Cisco, Texas 76437

$2 Bills Return To Circulation Next Month

After a 10-year absence, $2 bills are returning as official currency. On April 13, in commemoration of Thomas Jefferson's birthday and in conjunction with the bicentennial year, the Federal Reserve System will make available at commercial banks a new series 1976 $2 Federal Reserve note.

Like all $2 bills since 1918 the note features Mr. Jefferson on the face of the plate. The reverse plate, however, is completely new. It shows a vignette based on John Trumbull's famous post-Revoluntionary War painting, "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence," capturing a bicentennial theme and tying in with Jefferson, author of the document.

Although issued in conjunction with the Bicentennial, the new $2 bill is seen as a permanent addition to currency in circulation. In announcing the reissue last November, Treasury Secretary William Simon said public acceptance would ensure the issue's success.

The Treasury withdrew $2 bills from circulation in 1966 largely because their relative scarcity dampened public acceptance. About 6 million $2 bills—only a third of 1 percent of the Nation's outstanding currency—were circulating in 1966.

By contrast about 225 million notes will be available on April 13. And about 400 million notes—the projected average annual production—will be circulating by July 4.

The new $2 note is expected to reduce the huge volume of $1 notes in circulation, producing savings of about $30 million to the Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve System over the next five years.

Joining the family celebration were Mr. and Ms. Grady Banister of Burnet. The Banisters spent Wednesday night with a niece and her husband, Sue and Dan Bird of Quanah, and returned to Santa Anna for an overnight visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bruce enroute home.

TRAVEL TIPS AND TRICKS

If you are hungry when you board your flight, sit near the galley. It is forward in first class and aft in economy. Generally, passengers seated closest to the galley are served first.

If you are sensitive to noise, choose a seat next to or in front of the wings. Jet noise travels back from the engines and is louder in the aft section.

You needn't have reservations about the cost or difficulties of making hotel reservations. You can call a nearby Holiday Inn for reservations at any other Inn, relying on their Holidex computerized reservations system to make sure a room is waiting for you when and where you want it.

* * *

If you are traveling with small children, tell the airline in advance. They will arrange such special services as priority seating, early boarding and bassinets.

Safety And Economy Hints

Some dealers provide "installation and set-up" for color sets without extra charge. This means attaching the set to an existing antenna, making any necessary minor adjustments and introducing you to the operation of the set. This is an added convenience and well worthwhile if it's included in the price of the set, but it's not strictly necessary with modern color sets.

The best television set will show a poor picture if it doesn't receive a good, strong signal, say experts at the Electronic Industries Association. The signal is fed to the set from the antenna. A rabbit ear or single pole built-in antenna will be satisfactory in some cases, specifically where the television stations are not too distant and there are few obstructions such as tall buildings or mountains to cause "ghosts" or double images.

Never expose a TV set to rain or water. If it becomes damp or wet, pull the plug and have it inspected by a service technician. Rain or excessive moisture—even as a result of extended exposure on a back porch—may cause electrical shortage which can result in fire or shock hazards.
