Lubbock High Clinches 3-AA Grid Honors

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

MEMORIAL STADIUM, Midland, Nov. 18—Plagued by injuries and stiffly opposed at every turn by their underdog opponents, the Lubbock Westerners defeated Midland's Bulldogs, 28 to 7, here tonight before 3,500 excited fans to clinch the District 3-AA football crown.

Without the services of their ace quarterback, Bobby Brown, and regulars Joe Brock, tackle, Freddy Gray, guard, and Malcolm Young, fullback, the Westerners were forced to fight hard to defeat Midland, turning "breaks" into touchdowns to rack up their ninth consecutive victory of the 1949 season without defeat and advance to the bi-district playoff round against the winner of the District 4-AA race, which will be decided Thanksgiving day.

Brown was lost for the game to the Westerners when he fell ill with stomach cramps shortly before the contest.

Bronwfield Next On Schedule

Only one game—with Brownfield at Lubbock next Thursday—remains on the Westerners' regular slate.

The crowd of Midland rooters who turned out for the game was well rewarded for its efforts as the Bulldogs turned in one of their most brilliant defensive performance of the year. Sometimes using a nine-man line, they limited the Westerners to short gains except on two occasions when Halfback Mack Taylor broke loose for 46 yards and a touchdown, and Wayne Stroud, playing at fullback, returned a kick 30 yards.

Lubbock could never put on a sustained drive for a score, losing the pigskin three times on fumbles, twice inside the Midland 20-yard line. But five pass interceptions aided the Westerners, one by Charlie Williams going 15 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter and another by Tackle Curtis Roberts setting up a six-pointer on the Midland 16 in the first stanza.

Bulldog Passes Work

The Bulldogs bettered Lubbock's yardage through the air, getting 65 yards on five completions in 19 attempts. The Westerners completed six of 17 for 57 yards.

On the ground, Lubbock netted 166 yards to 123 for its opponent.

Dallas Youth Is Judged Insane

DALLAS, Nov. 18 — A jury today found Keith Petersen, 21, sane at the time he killed Carolyn Schofield and insane now. This means Petersen will be sent to an asylum. If he is ever pronounced sane he can be tried on a murder charge.

When the sentence was pronounced Petersen swung a blow at a bailiff. Six officers carried Keith from the courtroom.

The bailiff, Otis Britt, caught Petersen's arm as he swung. Then officers seized the defendant.

Carried To Cell

They carried him struggling upstairs to a cell. Officers said he later quieted down.

District Attorney Will Wilson said Petersen would be held in jail awaiting a lunacy court order committing him to a state hospital.

The jury returned its verdict at 3:20 p.m. (CST).

The case went to the jury at 12:17 p.m.

Petersen shot Miss Schofield in a downtown office building Sept. 2. He said he killed her after she decided to marry another man.

The jury announced at 2:55 that it had reached a verdict and was ready to report.

Petersen then was brought down

CIRCUS PERFORMER HURT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 18. (INS)—An aerialist with the Shrine Circus known as "The Great Stanelly" was critically injured tonight during a performance at Kansas City which had been introduced as "a desperate attempt to commit suicide." An awe-stricken capacity audience of 9,000 watched the aerialist — standing on a support 96 feet above the arena floor — leap into space. Stanelly momentarily caught a dangling rope but it apparently broke and he plunged to the floor.

Reasons For Series Of Crashes Sought

Air Force Grounds All Old-Style B-29s

By RICHARD M. PALMER
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The U. S. Air Force today grounded all old-style B-29 Superfort bombers in fear that mechanical and equipment failure were responsible for the current string of accidents involving the wartime planes.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, ordered that all B-29's whose engines have not undergone "modernization" and those which have been subject to "maximum operating stresses" remain on the ground.

Four B-29s In Crashes

Vandenberg's order was dispatched to all commands following the loss of four of the huge four-engine bombers in three days and immobilized a portion of America's long-range striking force.

Air Force spokesmen said they did not definitely know the cause of the recent crashes but admitted they suspected mechanical difficulties. They said:

"We don't know but we want to get the planes on the ground to have a look at them before anything else happens."

The Air Force refused on "security grounds" to disclose how many of the big bombers will be out of action temporarily or reveal what modernization of the planes' Wright R-3350 engines involves.

Vandenberg's order was sent to all Strategic Air Command stations. Disposition of the planes is secret but the grounding order applies to B-29's in the Far East, based on Guam, as well as those

Five Airmen Killed In Plunge Of B-29 On Rescue Mission

(By The Associated Press)

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 18—A B-29 off to hunt for another B-29 missing in the Atlantic crashed into the mud of Tampa bay today and killed five of the nine-man crew.

It was the sixth B-29 involved in five disasters in 15 days—crashes which have taken 35 lives and left 20 missing.

Within a few hours the Air Force grounded all B-29's which have not undergone engine "modernization" and all that have been under heavy strain.

The one which crashed today was just taking off from MacDill field to hunt the missing 20 who were aboard a plane which crashlanded Wednesday off Bermuda.

Motor Develops Trouble

The big plane was five minutes off the ground and barely 1,000 feet up when one of the motors developed trouble. Smoke poured out, then flames.

The pilot turned back toward the long runway but he failed by only 500 feet.

The ship was in its turn when it fell. It plunged into the mud of the bay 200 feet from shore, hitting on its nose and flipping over on one side.

Four of the crew were thrown clear of the Fortress and suffered only minor hurts. Four were killed outright. The fifth died on the way to a hospital.

Flames flared up from what

Thousands Homeless In Leyte Hurricane

MANILA, Nov. 19. —(Saturday)—(INS).— Thousands of persons were reported left homeless today by a hurricane which swept over Leyte island in the central Philippines and flattened buildings and homes.

The Manila Red Cross said that an urgent request for aid was received from Mayor Fidencio Mercado of the city of Puntukan on Leyte.

Leyte was missed by two recent storms which caused widespread damage in the southern Philippines.

SIMPLE CEREMONY IS READ

Crowd Cheers As Barkley, Bride Leave For 'Shangri-La' Honeymoon

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 18.—Vice president Alben W. Barkley and Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley were married today in a simple ceremony that made history in the annals of American high office.

It was the first time a vice president had taken a bride while in office.

The ceremony was simple, but just outside the door of the Methodist chapel where it took place, some 5,000 persons added complexities. The couple had a hard time getting away, the crowd was so eager to get a closer look at them.

It was 34 years ago that President Woodrow Wilson, a widower, married a beautiful Washington widow and touched off such headlines as "cupid's happy captives hold world stage."

Not since then has a romance in high government circles captured the attention of the country as did the case of the Veep and the winsome widow in St. Louis.

Jane Hadley Barkley, 38, smiled through tears of happiness when she was led from the altar by the 71-year-old vice-president.

She nodded to her mother, Mrs.

Losses Heavy In Gin Fires

(Special To The Avalanche)

FLOYDADA, Nov. 18.—Fires caused heavy damage at gins near Floydada and at Weinert today, leaving a combined estimated loss of more than $155,000 and almost trapping a worker in one blaze.

The two blazes were disastrous sequels to a $50,000 gin fire Thursday at Munday, and a $100,000 gin fire near Wellington last Tuesday, the Associated Press said.

Gins in the South Plains cotton belt and surrounding areas are running full blast round the clock as the harvest hits its peak and the blazes are expected to slow up ginning in this area somewhat.

Gin Is Destroyed

An early morning fire Friday completely destroyed the plant of the McCoy Gin company nine miles southwest of Floydada, causing damage estimated at between $50,000 and $80,000.

The plant was covered by insurance, officials of the gin company said today. However, the insurance value was considerably less than the real value of the plant. Repairs amounting to $20,000 had been completed only recently. Owners of the gin company are George Edwards and Raymond Aiken, both of Plainview, and Tom Edwards of Crosbyton.

The blaze started in the cleaning room about 4:15 a.m. The blackening smoke and fire trapped P. L. Buske, a gin employe, until co-workers came to his rescue. They broke a window from the outside of the building and "talked" him to a safe exit, according to L. Z. Miller, gin manager.

Plant Burns Quickly

The Weinert fire, three counties southeast of Floydada, occurred tonight. There the Terry & Herren gin and cotton house burned to the ground in less than an hour. Loss was estimated at $75,000. Fire fighters from Munday, Stamford and Haskell saved 100 bales of cotton from the yards, but 150 bales were lost. Firemen planned an all night watch over

Return Of U. S. Envoy Is Sought

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 — The State department today officially described the imprisonment of U. S. Consul General Angus Ward by Chinese Communists at Mukden as an "extremely serious situation."

The term was used in declining with appreciation and thanks the offer of Rep. Fulton (R-Pa.), to serve as a hostage for Ward.

Lucius Battle, special assistant to the secretary of state, explained in a telephone conversation with Fulton that even though the course the congressman suggested were feasible "it would merely constitute an exchange of individuals in an unchanged, extremely serious situation."

Red Acceptance Uncertain

Fulton offered himself as a hostage "as a means of clarifying the issues" but Battle pointed out that there was no reason to believe the Communists would accept such an offer, and that Ward is only one of three Americans imprisoned at Mukden.

Battle assured Fulton that the U. S. is "doing everything possible to secure the release of Ward" and to arrange repatria-

Arrest Of Hobbs Mayor Sought On Ballot Box Conspiracy Count

HOBBS, Nov. 18. (INS).— Assistant Dirstrict Attorney Mack Easley today filed a complaint accusing Hobbs Mayor J. Paul Heard and City Clark A. W. Rash of "feloniously conspiring to open ballot boxes and inspect and remove contents."

Warrants for the arrest of Heard and Rash were issued today by Justice of the Peace Tom Finn.

Easley said the complaint was filed because Mayor Heard and the city clerk had opened ballot boxes to conduct a canvas of votes cast in a Nov. 8 election which estamblished a commission-city manager government for Hobbs.

Easley added that the proper method of canvassing votes is inspection of poll books only.

HIGH RANKING DIPLOMAT ACCUSED OF SPYING

Reds Oust Slav Official

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Saturday, Nov. 19— Yugoslavia's highest ranking diplomat in Moscow has been expelled from Russia for spying, Tass said early today. At the same time the Soviet news agency disclosed that three Russian representatives have been ousted from Yugoslavia.

A Moscow dispatch by Tass, distributed here by the Soviet monitor, said Yugoslav Charge D'affaires Lazo Latinovic was accused of spying and subversive activities in a Russian note handed to the Yugoslav embassy in Moscow Wednesday. He was told he must leave the country.

The dispatch added that a Russian consul, military attache and information bureau representative "recently" were ordered out of Yugoslavia for "anti-Yugoslav activities."

Reds Demand Recall

Latinovic has been his country's ranking diplomat in Moscow since Yugoslav Ambassador Karl Mrazovic left Moscow in August. Last month the Soviet government demanded the official recall of Mrazovic on charges of "spying and subversive activities" against Russia.

By that time Mrazovic was serving as president of the Yugoslav republic of Croatia and a member of the Yugoslav Communist party's central committee.

Yugoslavia rejected the Russian demand for a formal recall of her ambassador.

She branded the Russian note as a new "stimulus" in a Soviet campaign to shut off relations and to minimize Yugoslavia's position in a "progressive world."

The new diplomatic expulsions are the latest developments in the rift between Russia and Yugoslavia that started when the Cominform kicked out Yugoslavia Premier Marshal Tito in June, 1948, for alleged "nationalistic deviation." Russia broke her treaty of friendship and mutual aid with Yugoslavia Sept. 29.

Two Soviet diplomats who Tass said were "recently" accused of "enlarging in anti-Yugoslav activities" were identified as Vladimirov, Russian consul in Zagreb, Yugoslavia, and Zemkovich, Soviet second military attache in Belgrade.

Their departure demanded in a note delivered to the Russian embassy in the Yugoslav capital.

Tass also said a man named Kirsanov, a representative of the Soviet Information bureau in Belgrade, had been called to the Yugoslav information headquarters, charged with "hostil' activity" and told to get out. The dispatch did not say when this happened.

"The U.S.S.R. ministry for foreign affairs has instructed Vladimir, Zenkovich and Kirsanov to leave for the U.S.S.R.," Tass said.

The dispatch said the Russian embassy in Belgrade had replied that the Yugoslav charges against Vladimirov were "completely unfounded."

The Soviet note added that "responsibility for this new anti-Soviet act will be borne by the Yugoslav government."

Soviet Charge D'Affaires Shnyukov, in Belgrade, protested to the Yugoslav foreign ministry against the "slanderous attacks on Kirsanov," the dispatch said.

Coal Operators Tell Lewis It's His Move

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (INS)— Mine owners put it up to John L. Lewis today to make the first move toward ending the coal contract deadlock before the Dec. 1 strike deadline.

An industry spokesman said "We left the door open; it's up to him."

United Mine Workers sources declared, however, that the union leader has no comment to make.

Government officials hope President Truman's decision to ignore the coal dispute and perhaps allow the miners to leave the pits again next month will force the parties into action.

They still believe this is likely although neither side may make a move for a few days.

Frank Amos, Pittsburgh Consolidation vice president and chairman of the operators negotiating committee, said that the operators were ready to bargain with Lewis "when he is ready to talk reasonable contract terms."

California Quake Damages Oil Wells To Tune Of $2 Million

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 18. (INS).— An earthquake that shook the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor area for 12 seconds today did an estimated $2 million damage to oil wells on Terminal Island.

Robert R. Shoemaker, Port of Long Beach engineer, said that between 35 and 50 producing wells were put out of commission, their casing crushed and their rods sheared off. The loss of production was placed at 6,000 barrels a day.

The island has been sinking for the last 10 years, presumably because of the oil being pumped out of the ground. The settling of the earth has caused extensive damage to a draw bridge and is threatening costly Navy installations on the island.

Today's quake caused damage in no other place.

Third Note Found In Home Of Woman At Southland

BY TOM DAVIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

SOUTHLAND, Nov. 18. — Garza County Sheriff E. M. Bass of Post today announced the finding of a third note presumably written by Mrs. Marvin Truelock, 41, who was found dead here Wednesday with a gag in her mouth, a burning stove over her face and her hands held behind her back with a rope.

The announcement came only a few hours before funeral services were held at 3 p.m. today in the Southland Baptist church for the mother of two children.

More than 200 persons crowded into the small church to pay their last respects to the woman who was found dead two days ago in her bedroom, victim of a horrible and mysterious death.

Note Found In Kitchen

Sheriff Bass said the unsigned note, penned in the form of poetry, was found late Thursday on a day bed in the kitchen of the Truelock apartment here.

The note was found by the dead woman's mother, Mrs. W. H. Fletcher of Plainview, after it apparently had been overlooked by the dozen peace officers and investigators on Wednesday.

Although the sheriff did not disclose the contents of the poem, he indicated the thought expressed was similar to that of two other notes found under a comic book in the bedroom of death.

Crowd Attend Services

Almost every person in the community, still shocked by the violent manner in which Mrs. Truelock died, turned out for the services which began at p. m.

As a piano sounded the familiar bars of "Shall We Gather At The River," a procession of immediate and distant relatives — more than 60 in number — filed into the church.

Leading the group were the husband, Marvin Truelock, who said yesterday that he suspected foul play in the death of his wife, and Calvin Grantham, 13, son of Mrs. Truelock by a previous marriage, who found her body.

Rev. J. C. Arnold, pastor of the Southland Methodist church, gave the opening prayer.

DURANT, Okla., Nov. 18 — Add to life's frustrating moments:

Orb Whaley of Southeastern Oklahoma was off on a 108-yard touchdown run today when Doc Garner, East Central College guard, jumped off the bench and tackled him on the 50-yard line.

"It was the only clear tackle I had all afternoon," said Garner.

Whaley, who had picked up the ball eight yards deep in the end zone and broken into the clear, made no reported comment.

Southeastern won the game, 26-2.

Youth Confesses Girl's Slaying

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Nov. 18 (AP) — Sheriff Saul H. Clark announced tonight that Neil Butterfield, 16, has confessed orally the slaying of a seven-year-old Burley girl.

Clark, in a statement issued tonight in the presence of six state and county and city police said the youth admitted the killing of Glenda Joyce Brisbois.

Clark said the confession was taken while the youth was held at a Jerome, Idaho, jail. He was later taken to Twin Falls where Clark issued his announcement.

Body In Canal

The badly beaten body of the seven year old girl, who had been sexually assaulted, was found yesterday in a canal near her Burley, Idaho home.

Clark, in a statement issued tonight, said Butterfield "hit the little girl on the head with a bumper jack three times.

"She toppled over into the water. He then took the jack and pushed her into the water farther and got into his car and left."

Clark said he would take Butterfield to the Cassia county line

Army Chief Pledges Quick Reply By Bombers If Nation Attacked

By ROBERT H. DENLEY
INS Staff Correspondent

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 18. —Army Secretary Gordon Gray promised today that long-range bombers will retaliate quickly if the U. S. is attacked, but admitted dependence on strategic bombing would be "foolhardy".

Gray told the Chattanooga convention of Young Democratic clubs of America that long-range bombers would blast enemy targets "within hours after the first blow fell upon us."

However, he said the joint chiefs of staff "are in unanimous agreement that it would be foolhardy to depend upon" strategic bombing completely. He added:

"No responsible officer indulges the hope that these long-range blows would be decisive or conclusive in themselves."

Gray declared that the strategic bombing phase would continue while other forces are mobilized for an all-out offensive to follow.

He asserted, however, that long-range bombers "must come first in our budget."

Earlier, Assistant Labor Secretary Ralph Wright predicted that Officer Asks Court Martial

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—Capt. John G. Crommelin today accused the Army General staff of plotting to seize control of the Defense department and his demand for a court martial to expose it received prompt support from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Crommelin declared that a court martial would enable him to expose the general staff's "persistent and insatiable lust for power." McCarthy asserted that defense chiefs are "going the German high command one better in attempting to take over complete control of the nation's economy."

McCarthy entered the reopened unification battle from his sick bed in Bethesda Naval hospital after Crommelin issued an ultimatum to Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, new chief of Naval operations.

Sherman Given Choice

The captain demanded that Sherman either withdraw the scorching reprimand with which Crommelin was punished for his part in the defense row or order an immediate public court martial.

Crommelin's new blast came as Sherman ordered a 25 per cent cut in naval aviation while Defense Secretary Johnson told of plans to save $2 billion in security costs without sacrificing ability "to face any military crisis."

McCarthy offered to serve as chief counsel for Crommelin in a court martial or give "any other help" to the veteran naval airman whose charges touched off the unification fight and ultimately cost Admiral Louis E. Denfeld his job as CNO. The senator said:

"Capt. Crommelin had no alternative to his request for a court martial in which he can present the entire picture to the American people.

"He feels and I agree that our chiefs of staff are going the German high command one better in attempting to take over complete control of the nation's economy. This is dangerous not only in peacetime but could be disastrous

Nine Persons Hurt In Car Wreck Near Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 18. (AP) —Nine persons were admitted to the Wichita Falls General hospital tonight after an auto mishap at Cook's corner.

Hospital attendants said two of the injured were in a critical condition and at least three in a serious condition. Cook's corner is three miles off the Wichita Falls-Seymour highway on the road to Kamay.

The names of only three persons were available at a late hour tonight. They were given as an elderly Mrs. Bridges, her son, Olin Bridges, and his wife, Wanda Bridges.

Hospital attendants said they were "swamped" with the wreck's victims. Other details were lacking.

Trio Wanted In Attack Surrender

ODESSA, Nov. 18 (Special)—A 15-day search for three men wanted in connection with the attempted slaying of James Bennett, 34, of Lubbock, ended today when the trio walked into the sheriff's office here and surrendered.

The three, Lettus Giles, Pete Pruitt and Edward Jones, all of Amarillo, had been sought since Nov. 3 when Bennett was shot and stabbed outside an Odessa cafe. They were released after posting bonds of $1,500 each on charges of assault with intent to murder.

Injured Man Released

Officials were unavailable for comment, and it was not immediately known whether the trio had issued a statement in connection with their surrender.

Bennett was released from Headlee hospital here this week after treatment for a punctured lung from a knife wound and a shattered arm from a bullet wound.

Bennett, who was sitting in the cafe prior to the assault, told officers three men had asked him to accompany them to the street in front of the cafe. There, he said, he was knifed and shot. His attackers fled in a late-model car, witnesses said.

Christmas Dinner To Be In Honor Of Foreign Students

Foreign students of Texas Technological college will be guests at the Christmas dinner to be given by Lubbock Altrusa club Thursday, Dec. 15, at 7,p. m., at Hilton hotel, according to plans made at the club's November dinner Thursday night at the Hilton.

The 20th annual District 7 convention of Altrusa International held in Shreveport last weekend was reported by Mrs. Reuby S. Rhodes, Mrs. Lottie Hilton and Miss Murl Ratliff, delegates from Lubbock. One hundred ninety-four Altrusans from 36 of the 39 clubs of the district attended.

Mrs. Rhodes quoted Miss Mamie Larsh, former president of Altrusa International, as saying that the grants-in-aid program is the greatest project to be undertaken by Altrusans. The program provides scholarships of $250 to $750 for Latin American women to study in the United States. Miss Larsh is an attorney in Indianapolis.

Mrs. Wilma Robbins was a dinner guest. Others attending were Mesdames Jack Hagelstein, Helen Massie, Zack Kimbro, C. A. Burrus, Fay Westmoreland, Mary Moore, R. S. Wilkinson, and Misses Esther Sorensen, Effie Puryear, Ella May Butler, Clara Pratt, Dr. Pauline Miller and Dr. Esther Snell.

Selection Of State Census Supervisors Near Half-Way Mark

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (Special)—The job of selecting supervisors for the 22 Texas census districts is just about half finished, Robert Phillips, special asistant to the census bureau director, said here today.

These supervisors will have the job next February and March of selecting thousands of Texas census takers who will commence work in April. Applications for this work will not be accepted until January.

There is one census supervisor for each congressional district with the exception of that vast empire which is the 16th district. Size of the district made it advisable to divide it into two with headquarters at El Paso and Odessa. Thus Rep Ken Regan, Midland, got to name two supervisors.

Holdout Districts Named

Two holdout districts are the 10th and 11th and this was because of a census bureau policy of letting senators name the supervisors of their home districts.

Sen. Tom Connally and Rep. W. R. Poage will get together after Nov. 20 in Marlin to select the one for the 11th district. Sen. Lyndon Johnson sent his nominees to census for approval this week.

Most of the other Texas congressmen have sent in their recommendations but then census has to approve them and if they are not acceptable, more names have to be sent in. The whole process takes time. Census bureau had been working toward an early self-imposed deadline of Dec. 1, although Jan. 1 is the official deadline.

Each supervisor will appoint one taker per 1,000 population. There will be some 350 to 450 employes named in each census district of Texas, on an average.

Professor Uses Ancient Letter To Devise Sinus Treatment

GALVESTON, Nov. 18, (AP) — Tips from an ancient letter and from a child playing with a balloon have been used by a doctor to find relief for thousands suffering from allergic sinus and asthma.

Dr. J. Mathews Robison, professor of otolaryngology in the University of Texas medical school, devised the treatment.

One day he read a letter to Pope Pius VI from Bartholomaei Eustachius, who described the eustachus tube in the ear.

The letter, dated 1707, read, ". . . should admire the art and knowledge of the great creator, who does nothing uselessly."

Applying this reasoning to the problem of the sinus sufferer, Dr. Robison studied the polyp (a tiny oyster-looking substance) that formed in the nose. The polyp blocked breathing and had in many cases to be cut out by surgery, only to grow again.

What was nature's reason for the polyp? "That purpose seemed to me to be to increase the tissue pressure of the sinus mucous membrane, thus displacing the fluid in the sinus so that without fluid, there would be no pain—no sinus condition," Dr. Robinson reasoned.

That's where the child's balloon came to mind. An artificial polyp placed in the sinus might serve the purpose nature intended to avoid overdevelopment of the natural polyp.

A specially designed balloon about the size of a little fingernail and filled with iodized oil was placed experimentally in the sinus of a sufferer. The pain was relieved.

A letter, a balloon and research resulted in a therapy that is becoming internationally recognized as a way to stop painful sinus.

Lilienthal Has No Comment On Reports He Will Quit Post

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18, (U.P.)—Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the U. S. Atomic Energy commission had "no comment" today on published reports that he plans to resign early next year.

A high administration official said that if Lilienthal has such plans as reported in some quarters no inkling of them has reached the White House.

Dealer Accused Of Equipping Cattle With False Dentures

DROXFORD, England, Nov. 18 (AP)—The food ministry accused Douglas Clay today of selling it nine cows with false teeth.

The ministry said Clay peddled the beasts for heifers—young cows which bring higher prices.

You can tell a cow's age by its teeth. The ministry claimed the front teeth of all nine had been pulled and replaced with heifer teeth.

Clay, a cattle dealer, denied the dentistry was his work.

ABC Members Hear Musical Selections

Lubbock High school has in its student body some very talented entertainers.

For proof, ask members of the American Business club who were treated to a musical program by five Westerner students at a luncheon meeting in the Hilton hotel Friday.

In fact, the members gave a standing ovation to Travis Hammer, a slender 16-year-old junior with a deep baritone voice.

His first song was the currently popular "Some Enchanted Evening." For an encore he sang the all-time favorite "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes."

Gerre Hancock and Ned Hardin provided a piano duet rendition of "Chopsticks" and Hancock came back to close the program with "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and the "Saber Dance."

A comedy pantomime skit of "Baby, It's Cold Outside" by J. C. Chambers, Don Hancock and Rossi Stiles also won the club's approval.

H. J. McCabe, dean of boys, was in charge of the program.

Club President George Dale announced at the meeting that completion of the Boys club building program will probably come next week, when date for the formal opening will be set.

Guests were Oscar L. Slaton, Bill Holmes, John Caldwell, K. N. Clapp, Jeff Lewis, A. J. Burg and A. O. Walker.

MEN WHO RUN WORLD NAMED

Twenty-Five Of World's Leaders Named By Overseas Press Group

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 — Who runs the world? Twenty-five men, the members of the Oveaseas Press club of America have decided, and they make an excellent case in the club's book, "Men Who Make Your World," (E. P. Dutton, $3.50)

What do you think of their choices? Here they are:

The Americans are President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson, Douglas MacArthur, Atomic Scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer; ECA Boss Paul Hoffman and the "Crown Prince of Labor"—Walter Reuther.

The Russians are Stalin, Molotov and Minister of Fear, Lavrenti Beria. Attlee and Churchill represent the British; De Gaulle, Thorez and Duclos the French. Tito, Pius XII, Belgium's Paul Henry Spaak, Franco; Portugal's Salazar, Argentina's Peron, Israel's Weizmann, the Arab world's Abdullah, Nehru, Mao Tse-Tung and Old Man Smuts.

One King On List

It's an interesting list at that, and if the Overseas Press club panel which chose it is wrong, it isn't very wrong. It is perhaps a sign of the day that only one king made the list . . . And four or five dictators. Maybe more. And no writer appears on the writer-chosen list.

In his foreword, John Barkham, who headed the committee which produced this arresting search into the mysteries and mechanics of rule, writes:

"Had this book been written a year ago, China's Chiang Kai-Shek would without doubt have appeared in it, beside India's Nehru.

Nehru Takes Spot

"Today the march of events has enhanced Nehru's stature but has replaced Chiang with Communist Mao Tse-Tung. In South America the turnover in political leaders continues so high that only Argentina's Peron, by dint of policy and personality, earned admission to these pages.

"It is not necessary to explain how subjects like the Pope and Field Marshal Smuts came to be selected; their names were among those which came closest to winning unanimous nomination."

The 25 club members assigned to each of the leaders were chosen with an eye to their knowledge of their man. President Truman, for instance, gave Frank K. Kelly, Washington correspondent, an almost unique special interview. The chapter on the Pope was written by Thomas B. Morgan, Vatican correspondent for leading U. S. news services for 27 years, and, like most of the other chapters, contains material never printed before now.

"Men Who Make Your World" is dedicated to two of its authors, Nat Barrows and George Moorad. They were killed, along with 11 fellow correspondents, in the plane crash at Bombay a few mo. ths ago, just after turning in these last (and memorable) by-lines.

Wrote Of Red Leader

Barrows, of The Chicago Daily News, wrote of the "Liberator In Limbo"—Charles De Gaulle. Moorad, of KGW-Portland Oregonian, wrote of China's Red Napoleon, Mao, whom he knew intimately.

If you're interested in the shop foremen of the earth's two billion humans, you won't want to miss "Men Who Make Your World."

Plan Opposes Reds

Speaking of China, here's a pertinent summation sent to me by Norman P. ige, former war correspondent in the Pacific, and young China hand:

"The Marshall Plan was devised and promulgated to combat Communism," he writes. "Britain is the greatest beneficiary of the plan.

"But today she is using the products and finances of the plan for direct trade with the Soviet and with Communist China, which in turn is operating en toto under Moscow dictum. Britain has not only declared her intention of recognizing the Mao regime but is turning all her potent and thus far successful influences on our State department for immediate American recognition, prior to the congresional re-convention in January.

The rickety little Navy of the Chinese Nationalists is doing a very thorough and effective job of blockading the China coast. While this makes the unsupplied Chinese people disgusted early with the Reds, it is making dear old Britain even more aggravated in delivering (rather, not delivering) the Marshall Plan goods to Mao.

"While we won't help the Nationalists fight, we are presently conducive toward Britain's suggestion that we step in to stop the blockade. Stopping it, of course, would give the Commies clear field for further fermentation."

Mayor O'Dwyer Threatens To Leave Hotel To Avoid Newsmen

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Nov. 18 (U.P.)—Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York, irritated by reporters, said today he did not intend to be married this weekend and he wants to be left alone.

The 59-year-old mayor, who came to this famed spa yesterday with beautiful 33-year-old Sloan Simpson for "restful weekend," threatened to return to New York unless he is given privacy.

O'Dwyer's outburst occurred in the lobby of the Gideon Putman hotel, where he and his former fashion model companion are staying.

Complaining that the army of newsmen which came here in anticipation of his wedding was spoiling his visit, the mayor said:

"Either the press is going to go home or we are. I have no intention of getting married this weekend."

Church Cornerstone Laying Slated Sunday

Laying of the cornerstone of the Broadway Church of Christ building under construction in 1900-block Broadway will take place at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, following a covered dish luncheon, said Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister.

The covered dish luncheon will open about 12:30 o'clock, following the 11 o'clock church service in the present building of the church in 1500-block Broadway.

B. Sherrod, chairman of the building committee, will speak on plans for completion. Hershel Dyer, minister of Pioneer Park Church of Christ, and Dr. Young will speak. Liff Sanders, pioneer minister, will be asked to offer a prayer. Others, including all members of the building committee, will take part in laying of the stone.

The building is approximately half completed. It is expected to be ready for use by July of next year.

Ideal Weather Encourages Heavy Cottonseed Crushing

DALLAS, Nov. 18 (U.P.)—A great volume of cottonseed has moved to crushing mills because of ideal harvesting weather this week, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

The USDA's production and marketing administration noted, however, that cottonseed prices in Texas for wagon lot seed had declined to an average of $43.50 per ton, or 30 cents below last week's prices.

The office of foreign agricultural relations said world production for the 1949-50 season would reach about 14 million tons.

Littlefield Crushes Slaton, 47-0, For 4-A Championship

4,500 See Tigers Bow To Bruising Wildcat Eleven

BY CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

Littlefield's burly Wildcats literally bulled their way to the District 4-A football championship at Jones stadium Friday afternoon as they crushed a game but outclassed Slaton Tiger team, 47-0.

rugged Wildcats, champions of the district's north zone, completely overpower Slaton, south half titlist, with an awesome display of brute force.

A sun-drenched crowd of 4,500 fans saw Coach J. S. Fikes'

Almost Unstoppable

The Littlefield juggernaut started slowly, but once in motion it was practically unstoppable. Only Fikes' mercy toward the fighting Slaton crew kept the score from climbing considerably higher. The Wildcat mentor used every available substitute on his roster, and purposely passed up several choice scoring opportunities late in the game by having his team punt on first down while deep in Tiger territory.

The massive Lamb county squad, holding a weight edge of approximately 25 pounds per man over the Slaton team, rolled to a net gain of 528 yards on the ground, amassed 25 first downs and intercepted four Tiger passes.

Tigers Toss 42 Passes

Coach Clarence Tillery's Slaton gridders battled all the way, filling the sky with a 42-pass barrage that netted 12 completions and a gain of 198 yards. But they simply were no match for the maroon-clad Littlefield powerhouse, which now goes against the District 3-A champion in the bi-district round of the State Class A playoff.

Littlefield, displaying one of the hardest-running backfield quartets to be found in Class A circles, racked up four straight first downs after taking the opening kickoff. But the initial drive ended when Slaton's Leon Moore pounced on a Wildcat fumble on the Tiger 33.

Slaton then failed on a fourth-down try for a first, however, and Littlefield roared back to score in just seven plays. Frank Gage, Tom Bailes and Donald Crossley battered their way to the Tiger four, and from there Charles Askew raced around left end untouched for the tally. Gene Renfro failed in his try to run across the extra point.

The Tigers buckled down and held the Wildcats fairly well in check until midway through the second period, when Gage and Renfro sparked a 59-yard march that ended with Gage scoring from two yards out. Bailes ran the conversion, making it 13-0.

After Slaton failed to move on the ensuing series of downs and kicked out feebly on the Tiger 39, Gage took a handoff from Crossley and burst through the middle to go all the way for Littlefield's third touchdown. Bailes plunge for the extra point boosted the count to 20-0, where it remained at halftime.

After the intermission, during which the Wildcat and Tiger bands put on a colorful show, Littlefield took up right where it had left off. On the third play from scrimmage, a pass thrown by Slaton's Cecil Bybee was batted into the air by Renfro and caught by End Floyd Golf, who sprinted 25 yards to score. Askew ran the extra point.

The next Wildcat marker came on an 88-yard drive, after the Cats had stymied Slaton's deepest penetration of the game. Bailes picked up 26, Askew added 37, Bailes made seven, Askew got 17, and then Bailes went the final yard. Crossley made the extra point on a quarterback sneak, boosting the count to 34-0.

After a pass interception by Stephen Brock, Bailes romped 40 yards on the following play for another third-period counter. Crossley again ran the conversion.

Renfro Stars

Renfro scored the closing touchdown on a 39-yard sprint through the line late in the fourth quarter. Cowan's running try for the extra point was stopped.

Slaton's most serious bid came early in the third stanza when Bybee hit Carl Lewis with two passes which carried 31 yards to the Wildcat nine-yard line. But there the Littlefield defense tightened handing the Tigers a loss of three yards in the next four downs.

Late in the game, Slaton again drove into Wildcat territory, moving 67 yards on Bybee's passing before the march bogged down at Littlefield's 13-yard stripe.

This wasn't a day of individual stardom. Littlefield's convincing triumph was largely the result of top-grade downfield blocking coupled with the "never-say-down" running of the husky Wildcat backs. Too, the victor's line was impresive, limiting the lighter Slaton team to a net gain of only 12 yards on the ground.

Slaton Fights Doggedly

Despite the unbalanced score, not to mention the handicapping lameness of several sorely-needed backs, Slaton's spirit never folded. Bybee's passing and Lewis' receiving kept the Wildcats on the alert all the way, while up front Tackles Carl Williams and Leon Moore turned in outstanding performances.

In the final analysis, it was simply a case of "too much Littlefield." Not even their own merciful attitude in the latter part of the game, plus 110 yards in penalties against them, could keep the Wildcats from waltzing to their eighth victory in 10 games this season. Only a 14-0 defeat by Dalhart and a 7-7 tie with Sudan mar the Cats' 1949 record.

The defeat left Slaton with a season mark of six triumphs and four setbacks.

Winners Claim District 3-A Title; 2,500 Watch Tussle

By CLIFF BLACKBURN
Avalanche Sports Writer

FLOYDADA, Nov. 18. (Special) — Spur's Bulldogs claimed the District 3-A title here tonight when they battered and mauled a badly out-classed Floydada team, 45-13, in a fumble-happy conference contest before 2,500 fans.

The slightly heavier Bulldogs began their touchdown orgy in the first minute of play. Spur kicked off to the Whirlwinds and Floydada Back Hagood juggled the ball around on his own three-yard-line finally losing it to fast moving Spur Guard Varnell McAlpine.

Two plays later, Bulldog Back Clyde Blair whipped around end for the first tally. The try for the extra point was blocked by Hagood.

Again Floydada received the kick from the Bulldogs. They tried a pass on their own 30 and it was intercepted by Quarterback Melvin Lindsey. Lindsey faded back the next play and tried a pass of his own. The toss to Blair was good and he went all the way to score standing up. Lindsey kicked the extra point.

Later in the quarter, Spur fumbled a Whirlwind punt and lost the ball on their own 27. The Whirlwinds piled up two first downs and a pass from Back Bob Finley to Right End Jo Perry put them on the Bulldog one-yard line.

Finley crashed through center the next play for a Floydada TD. Center Aubrey Guthrie's kick for the extra point was blocked.

In the second quarter, Spur gained possession of the ball on the Floydada 47. A long pass from Lindsey to End Charles Lee brought the Bulldogs down to the Whirlwind 12. Lindsey climaxed the touchdown drive moments later with a successful toss to Lee, who raced across the goal. The try for the point failed.

During the third quarter, the dazed Whirlwinds saw the Bulldogs score almost at will. Spur received the kick and drove to their own 48. Lindsey twisted downfield to the Floydada 31. The next play he dropped back and rifled a pass to End Joe King who battled his way to another touchdown. The try for the point was unsuccessful.

Floydada received the kickoff on their own 23 and the old familiar pattern of fumbles was resumed. When the flurry ended, Spur had the ball on the 33-yard line.

Then Lindsey shot another pass to King who traveled the distance to the Floydada goal for paydirt. The attempted conversion failed.

A little later in the quarter, Blair again scored for Spur, this time taking the ball on a hike across goal from the Floydada 41-yard-line. Lindsey kicked the extra point.

Floydada received the kick, and as usual, fumbled the ball. Spur recovered on the Whirlwind 26 and Lindsey promptly passed to King for another touchdown trip. Lindsey kicked the extra point.

The final frame saw a badly winded and bored Bulldog eleven trot up and down the field. But the Whirlwinds caught fire in a belated attempt to balance the lopsided score.

Floydada drove from her own 38 to the Spur 38. Then Haygood threw a pass that was taken by Jr. Perry who went about 11 yards to score. Guthrie kicked the extra point.

Red Raiders Meet Lobos Today

12,000 Expected At Albuquerque

BY JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 18. — Texas Tech's heavily favored Red Raiders take on the grimly determined Lobos of New Mexico university at Zimmerman Field here tomorrow afternoon at 2 (MST) in a Border Conference game that will be played before a Homecoming crowd expected to number 12,000 fans.

The setting is sharply reminiscent of 1947, when the Raiders, again heavily favored, rolled to a 26-0 lead at the half. The Lobos came back in a second half surge that brought them to within four inches of a first down on Tech's 10-yard line, New Mexico finally losing 26-20.

Coach Dell Morgan's 40-man squad, minus only Halfback Walter Maloney, arrived here this afternoon and went directly to Zimmerman Field for a light workout in cool weather. They afterwards returned to the Hitlon hotel and a chalk talk concluded the day's activities.

Tech After Sixth Win

Tomorrow finds the Raiders shooting for their sixth victory of the year and their fourth in Border loop competition. They have a clear shot at the title, without any ties, providing they can slip past New Mexico and Hardin-Simmons.

But Coach Earl Huffman, former assistant Tech mentor, has a way of making the Raiders pay dearly for this trip. The history of the series shows that Tech has won 11, lost one and one game ended in a tie. At the same time, the Lobos have risen to the occasion the past two years to play Tech to a virtual standstill.

The series to date shows these results: 1939, Tech 19, Lobos 7; 1940, Lobos 19, Tech 14; 1941, Tech 36, Lobos 0; 1942, Tech 20, Lobos 0; 1943, no game; 1944, Tech 13, Lobos 6; 1945, Tech 6, Lobos 6; 1946, Tech 21, Lobos 0; 1947, Tech 26, Lobos 20; and 1948, Tech 14, Lobos 7.

Lobos Are Heavier

New Mexico will enter the game carrying a huge weight edge on the Raiders. The Lobos will field an offensive line averaging 199 pounds, with replacements weighing well up in the 200s. The backfield tips the scales at an average of 189 pounds and the team average is 196 pounds.

Tech weighs in at a team average of 193, with the forward wall hitting about 195 and the backfield around 184.

New Mexico is expected to un-

Abilene Takes 72-7 District 5-AA Game From Big Spring

ABILENE, Nov. 18. (AP).—Abilene High school Eagles staged a touchdown parade at the expense of Big Spring here tonight. Three thousand fans saw the Eagles triumph 72-7 as they won their third victory against 5-AA competition and their first district title since 1938.

Scoring in every period, Coach Pete Shotwell's crew raced over 35 points in the initial quarter, 14 in the second, 10 in the third and 13 in the fourth.

Shotwell cleared the bench. Abilene racked up 469 yards to 79 for Big Spring.

Robert Cobb scored for Big Spring in the second quarter and Bobby Gross converted.

Scoring honors for the Eagles were well distributed. Bill Galusha had had one touchdown, a field goal, and four extra points, Hub Ingraham scored one and tossed a touchdown pass to Don Strange.

Joe Youngblood hit paydirt twice, and Charles Dennis and Gene Boyd had two, while Dan Winters and Prentice Martin had one each.

Jack Lester kicked five extra points.

Hale Center Owls Roll Over Anton Bulldog Squad, 41-7

ANTON, Nov. 18. (Spl.).— Hale Center's Owls rolled over the Anton Bulldogs with an impressive 41-7 score here tonight before several hundred fans attending the annual Anton Homecoming game.

The game wound up District 3-B conference activities for both schools.

Hale Center's Jerry Johnson proved himself once more a master quarterback and passer in tonight's tilt. Anton's star defensive player was Donald Stone, center, while Kenneth Sudduth was the Bulldogs' best potential ground gainer in tonight's game.

Hale Center intercepted two passes and recovered two costly fumbles. The Owls scored twice in the first quarter, twice in the third and twice in the fourth. Anton's scoring came in the second quarter.

OUTWEIGHED CUBS FIGHT HARD

Odessa Bronchos Rack Up 58-0 3-AA Victory Over Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 18 (Special)—The Odessa Bronchos, determined not to take two defeats in a row, mauled the Brownfield Cubs to the tune of 58-0 in a District 3-AA conference game here tonight before a small crowd of approximately 1,200 fans.

The Cubs, outweighed considerably by the Bronchos from down among the oil derricks, put up a stiff fight all the way. Definitely the Broncho victory wasn't the pushover the score might indicate.

Odessa Scores Early

Odessa scored fairly early in the first quarter after intercepting a pass by Dale Cary, Brownfield back. The Bronchos drove from the 44 on down to the seven-yard-line, where Broncho fullback Joe Childress went around right end for a touchdown. Hughes kicked the extra point.

Brownfield recovered an Odessa fumble soon afterward and drove down to the Odessa nine-yard line. The Cubs fumbled there and Odessa recovered, driving back up the field with Broncho halfback Bobby Jackson going 40 yards for a touchdown. Hughes again kicked the extra point.

In the second, Odessa back Joe Howell went through the line for 10 yards for a touchdown. The try for the extra point failed.

A few plays later Howell laterelled to Jim Gerron for a touchdown, and again the try for the extra point was no good. A short time later the Broncs scored again when Howell broke through for an 86-yard run for a touchdown. The kick was no good, however.

Harvey Goes Over

Odessa opened the third-quarter scoring when T. W. Harvey, halfback, plunged six yards for a touchdown early in the canto. The kick for the extra point failed.

On another play Charles Clover, Bronc quarterback, went three yards for a touchdown on a quarterback sneak through center. Again the kick for the extra point was no good.

In the final quarter Odessa made its eighth touchdown when Billy Nichols, reserve back, passed over the line to Paul Erwin for a score. Herb Miller kicked the extra point. A short time later, Nichols passed 20 yards to Erwin to bring the Broncho score up to 58. Miller kicked the goal.

Outstanding players on Coach Tracy Keller's Brownfield eleven were Dale Cary and John Thompson, backs; and Howard Swan, Cub co-captain who played tackle.

At the half, Miss Freda Anthony was crowned Brownfield Football Queen by Co-Captain John Franks.

Whiteface Defeats Ropesville, 26 to 6

ROPESVILLE, Nov. 18. (Spl.).—Coach L. S. Salser's Whiteface Antelopes romped over the Ropesville Eagles, 26-6, here tonight before 600 fans, to take second place in the District 4-B Conference.

Oscar Power, Antelope back, scored on a line plunge in the second quarter, but Ropesville tied it up just before the half when Halfback Kenneth Means galloped 62 yards for a touchdown.

His run was easily the most spectacular play of the game, for he twisted, turned, and reversed his field almost all the way to elude Whiteface defenders.

Whiteface back Daniel Gilbert powered over from the two in the third quarter, and then they took to the air for two fourth quarter scores on passes from Dickerson to Power and Johnny Plunkett respectively. Wendell Walker scored two conversions on passes from Dickerson.

Picadors Battle WTSC Fish Today

Texas Tech's freshman football squad goes to Canyon today for an important game against the West Texas State college first year men. Kickoff is slated for 2:30 p. m.

The Picadors don't have every thing to gain by winning, but they have everything to lose. They defeated the Calves 59-7 in their first meeting, one which many thought was a fluke. Since then the play of the freshmen has indicated that possibly it was a fluke. So today the freshmen are faced with proving that that first victory was on the level.

In view of their dismal showing in their last two games, the odds appear against the Picadors rolling up any kind of a score. The Tech freshmen beat Odessa Junior college 13-0 in their second outing, but then the bottom fell out.

Odessa Junior college's squad beat the Picadors in Odessa by the same score to which they had succumbed. And the next week the Raider yearlings dropped a 21-13 loss to the Hardin-Simmons freshmen, who two weeks ago beat the WTSC Calves only 41-7.

This will be the final game of the lear for the Picadors and this year for the Picadors and they return to the form they showed in the first game of the year. His squad isn't quite at full strength, but the majority of his players are in good physical shape. Whether they are ready, mentally, for the game is another question.

The attack again will rest on such backs as W. H. Barker, top Picador performer so far, Denton Lambert, Chuck Reynolds, Sandy Welton, Waldo Young and a pair of passing quarterbacks, Don Seale and Carl Madison.

Also taking part in the offensive fireworks that the Picadors hope to spring will be Ends James Clark, Alton Linnie and James Thames. All have shown ability as pass receivers.

The defensive unit, used as a separate platoon by Coach White, is expected to stop the Calf attack that so far has been impotent. The Picadors will outweigh the Canyon club, with the massive tackles expected to take a strong part in stopping Calf power.

Westerners Win District Championship

Taylor, Williams Score Counters

times by both teams, accounting for the number of incompletions, but the absence of Brown, who fell ill with stomach cramps shortly before the game, definitely slowed the winners' aerial game and hampered Lubbock's running style. In relief, Turner did a creditable job, but his passes were slower and higher than Brown's would have been, allowing the defense to break up the plays.

The first quarter opened slowly, with Lubbock taking the kickoff and making one first down before kicking out on Midland's 28.

Interceptions Are Costly

A penalty moved the ball back to the 23, and then Halfback Ralph Brooks opened up his passing attack. The first pass was complete to Fullback L. C. Thomas for a yard loss, but a long pass was intercepted by Turner on the Midland 45-yard line and returned to the 17. Two plays netted four yards, and a pass to Stroud was incomplete in the end zone, followed by one intended for Reeves, who was tackled as the ball reached him for another incompletion. Midland took over at this point.

A first down pass from Brooks was intercepted by Roberts, who played a fine defensive game all evening in his relief role, on the 16, where he was downed.

Stroud carried through the middle to the 13, and on the next play Taylor hit left tackle for the score, his first of three touchdowns of the game. Billy Pressley sent his 27th conversion directly through the uprights to give Lubbock a 7-0 lead with six minutes left in the first quarter.

Neither team was able to score until midway through the second quarter. Lubbock reached the Midland 16 following Stroud's 30-yard punt return and a 15-yard penalty and nine-yard loss on an attempted pass gave Midland the ball on its own 41.

Taking the ball on his own 33, Williams hit left guard to the 37, with Midland employing a close, tight defense which had all but one man on the line of scrimmage or immediately behind.

Wright Picks Up Yardage

A quickie pass from Turner to End Billy Wright was caught on the next play, and Wright stumbled and fell 19 yards to the Midland 46, from which point Taylor carried over right tackle on a nice run, stiff-arming the Midland safety, Reed Gilmore, and outrunning Linebacker Lorin Roberts, to put the Westerners two touchdowns in front. Presley again converted.

On the kickoff Midland fumbled and Lubbock recovered, but the play was nullified. Lubbock's Douglas Ross kicked off again to Brooks, who returned to the 38 and fumbled when he was hit, Lubbock's Douglas Wienke recovering at the spot. A penalty put the Bulldogs back to their 33, and in four plays the Westerners advanced to the 10, with Stroud and Williams carrying alternately. A handoff to Taylor was fumbled, with Midland Center Jimmie Oneal recovering on the 11. But on the first play from scrimmage, Brooks' pass was intercepted in the right flat by Williams and run back for a score. Williams had to sidestep only one player.

Presley converted and Lubbock led, 21-0.

Midland carried 54 yards following the next kickoff, but the drive was halted on the Westerner 14 by the halftime whistle.

Lubbock had the ball only briefly in the third quarter, as Midland took the kickoff and marched 72 yards to pay dirt on 15 plays which consumed almost eight minutes of the 12-minute quarter.

Brooks and Halfback Jack Burris carried most of the way for the Bulldogs on the drive, with Burris executing a nice bit of deceptive running to score from the 20. The speedy back circled left end, cut back behind the line of scrimmage and raced toward the flag in the right corner to score standing up.

The Bronc Busters marched 50 yards in the fourth quarter before fumbling on the Midland 19.

Score In Fading Seconds

On the next series of plays after Midland had been penalized back to its six, the Bulldogs put themselves in a hole when Gilmore kicked out of bounds on his own 21. But four plays saw Lubbock lose eight yards, and Midland took over.

On second down, Turner intercepted a Brooks pass and returned it 35 yards to the five-yard line, from where the Westerners scored in three plays, with Taylor going over from the one with only 30 seconds of playing time left.

Presley sent his 30th conversion in 35 attempts through the uprights to end the scoring and give the Westerners their hard-earned 28-7 win.

It was difficult to find a particular standout in the Lubbock lineup. The line was outrushed at times, but showed up well against the fired-up Bulldogs.

The most encouraging performances were those of Williams and Taylor. Taylor was the scoring hero with 18 points, and Williams' hard running and heads-up defensive work set the pace for the Lubbockites.

Brooks was Midland's outstanding player, passing and running approximately 50 per cent of the time. Burrus showed the most power and deception in the Midland backfield.

Bronchos, Olton In Bi-District

Meadow Romps Over New Deal, 23 To 7

By JIMMIE HENLEY
Avalanche Sports Writer

MEADOW, Nov. 18—Meadow's Bronchos remained undefeated here tonight as they slapped down the hard fighting New Deal Lions 23-7 to capture the 4-B title before 1,000 spectators.

Coach Lloyd Hunt's Bronchos remained the only undefeated and untied team on the plains by their win which sends them into the playoff next week in a clash with Olton, winner of district 3-B.

After a smooth sailing first half,

BI-DISTRICT TILT SET

Meadow's Bronchos, who Friday day night won the District 4-B grid title, will meet the Olton Mustangs of 3-B at 2 p. m. Thursday in Olton in the bi-district round of the regional playoff.

Officials of the two championship schools agreed upon the time immediately after tonight's Meadow-New Deal encounter, then Olton won the toss which decided the site of the bi-district tilt.

Admission prices will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Coach Lloyd Hunt, Meadow, and T. M. Cox, Olton, agreed to use this quartet of officials: Cotton Neely, referee; George Philbrick, umpire; Doyle Caraway, head linesman; and Sandy Waldrep, field judge.

the New Dealers dealt the Meadow squad much trouble, as they came from behind in every department to lead in all but the scoring by the end of the game.

The Lions led in yards rushing by 181 to 161 and in first downs 12 to 9, but couldn't add the scoring punch against the stronger Meadow forward wall.

Meadow's Robert White set up for the first tally as he punted from the New Deal 30 to the two yard line. From there the Meadow team swamped Robert Gentry as he attempted a pass from behind the goal.

Then on the first play from scrimmage following the kickoff, James Upton went across left tackle, swept back to his right sideline and sped 44 yards to paydirt. White rushed around right end for conversion.

The second period was uneventful as the two teams fought it out in midfield.

But not so the final periods. The Lions came back determined to change the 9-0 halftime lead of Meadow. New Dealers Gentry and Marlin Bumpass drove 33 yards to the Meadow 38 before the attack was finally held for downs. As Bumpass's punt went low into the line, Bronc end Norman Lockett rushed in to grab the ball and speed 55 yards for the second Meadow T. D. Upton plunged the line for conversion and Meadow led 16-0.

The Meadow eleven came back again immediately as center James Williams intercepted quarterback Bumpass's pass on the Lion 20, from where White, Upton and Lawrence Joplin took turns at carrying the ball to the five. There White drove through the line for the final Meadow tally. Upton again converted.

Late in the third quarter the visitors unleashed a passing attack that finally clicked. It was Gentry who led the play most of the time, alternating between pitching and running.

Gentry passed to Wayne Worley for five yards to the two, setting up for the only New Deal touchdown. From there Bumpass carried over and Gentry converted early in the fourth period.

In the late fourth period back Elvis Duncan stifled two attacks of the Lions as he intercepted passes by Gentry.

The district champions were behind in most departments, following the Lions in first downs, net yards rushing, yards gained passing and punting. The Lions led passing by 60 to 23 yards, completing 7 of 15 to 2 of 6 attempted by the Broncos. The Lions averaged 28 yards per punt to the Bronc's 21 while receiving one five yard penalty to five for 25 for the Meadow eleven.

Baylor Bears Tackle Methodists Today

DALLAS, Nov. 18. (AP)—Baylor's Bears meet the second of "the Terrible trio" in their drive toward Southwest conference football glory tomorrow and their backers hope for better results this time.

Southern Methodist stands in the way of glimmering Baylor hopes—that and an underdog Texas Christian team.

The Bears not only must beat SMU tomorrow but Texas Christian must upset Rice at Fort Worth in order for Baylor to have an even chance at the title.

The Bruins were undefeated and untied a couple of weeks ago when they played the first of the "mighty triumvirate" — Texas. They staggered back home sorely wounded—Texas beat them 20-0.

It's victory or nothing for the Baylors tomorrow. Even a tie with Southern Methodist could wipe away all chances—that is unless Rice loses to TCU. But a win over SMU, regardless of what Rice does will put the title on the line when Baylor plays Rice next week.

A crowd of 55,000 is due to file into the Cotton Bowl.

New Zealand hopes to complete its great new Cobb River power project by 1952.

Andrews Downs Seminole, 26-21

2,500 See Close 5-A Grid Tussle

BY EMMETT SHOCKLEY
Avalanche Sports Writer

SEMINOLE, Nov. 18. — The Andrews Mustangs wrested a 26-21 decision from a tough Seminole Indian eleven here today before 2,500 screaming fans.

The victory clinched second place in this year's District 5-A conference race for the husky Mustangs.

The score at halftime was only 7-7, but things began to perk up in the third period, when Andrews took a 20-7 lead. The fourth quarter was a dilly. Seminole fought back to take a 21-20 lead, only to have the Mustangs score once more for the game-winning points.

Andrews Scores Early

Things started off quickly enough as Andrews took the opening kickoff and marched 70 yards to the goal. Jack Smith did the honors with a left end sweep from the Indian 18.

Shortly before the end of the period, Richard Lindley climaxed a Seminole drive from their own 49, with a touchdown play through the center of the line. Only other scoring threat in the first half was halted when Seminole recovered a Mustang fumble inches from the Seminole double stripe midway in the second period. The drive, sparked by a 23-yard pass to Mustang end Melvin Cotton, had started at midfield.

Third Period Lively

Coach F. H. Tubb's Mustangs took a 13-7 lead shortly after the second half got under way, when Back Don Floyd went over from the eight. Only a few plays later, an intercepted pass on the Indian 22 gave the Mustangs a break they capitalized upon. Five plays later Wayne Graham went over to give them a 20-7 lead.

The Seminole squad, coached by Gordon Wood and Morris Southhall, struck back lightning-fast in the fourth period. A pass from Guinn Hood to End Ike Trimble was good for 51 yards and a touchdown. Trimble raced down the sidelines for 20 yards to score after taking the pass.

Fumbleitis Epidemic Begins

The jitters took over then, with the score 20-14, as the Indians fumbled on the Mustang 15 shortly after recovering an Andrews fumble on the 41. But then an Andrews fumble was recovered by the Indians on the 20. Lindley took it over from the nine a few plays later. Bert Affleck kicked the point that gave Seminole the lead. It was his 16th successful coversion in 17 tries this season.

The Seminole enthusiasm was short-lived, however. A 27-yard pass set the ball down on the Seminole 43, and Jack Smith moved it down to the 19 on the next play. Floyd went around left end for the score.

Passes Abundant

Although both teams displayed power on the ground, especially on end around plays, passing was more predominant than usual. The Mustangs had six penetrations and 16 first downs, while Seminole earned a total of four penetrations and 13 first downs.

Outstanding offensively were Back Richard Lindley for Seminole and Backs C. I. Madison, Jack Smith and Don Floyd for Andrews.

Score by quarters:

ANDREWS	7	0	13	6	—26
SEMINOLE	0	7	0	14	—21

Scoring by Andrews: Touchdowns—Smith in 1q (end run); Floyd in 3q (end run); Graham in 3q (end run); Floyd in 4q (end run). Conversions—Madison in 1q (placement); Smith in 3q (placement).

Scoring by Seminole: Touchdowns—Lindley in 1q (line plunge); Trimble in 4q (pass from Hood); Lindley in 4q (end run). Conversions—Affleck (3 by placement).

Andrews starting lineup: Bob Summerville and Melvin Cotton, ends; Robert Forbes and Billy Ray Phillips, tackles; Allen Humphrey and Jack Bruton, guards; Wade Mitchell, center; C. I. Madison, Jack Smith, Enoch Reid, and Wayne Graham, backs.

Seminole starting lineup: L. C. Allen and Ike Trimble, ends; Jerry Ancell and Dale McNew, tackles; Darrell Jordan and John Parker, guards; Earl Houston, center; Richard Lindley, George Pharis, Cecil Jeter, and Guinn Hood, backs.

Andrews substitutions: Humphrey, Walker and Floyd.

Seminole substitutions: Wright, Wharton, C. Smith, Hicks, Affleck, Sims.

SANTA CLARA FACES SOONERS

Michigan, Ohio State Tangle In Top Eastern College Tilt Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP).—College football arenas from Hert to Hawaii will be loaded with bowl game agents tomorrow as the '49 season ends for many schools in a flurry of "big games in which sectional honors and post-season cashes will be at stake.

Perhaps the spotlight will beat most fiercely on Michigan's huge stadium at Ann Arbor, where more than 97,000 will watch the Wolverines tie into Ohio State in a struggle which may decide the mid-west representative in the Rose Bowl.

Out on the West Coast, at Palo Alto, another 90,000, will turn out to see California's power-laden Golden Bears try to crush Stanford for their 10th straight victory and qualify as the host team in the daddy of the bowl contests at Pasadena.

Notre Dame, the old monarch of the college tribes, faces an apparent breather against Iowa at South Bend, while the muscular Oklahoma Sooners, No. 2 in the Associated Press national poll, are favored to rack up their 19th straight win over Santa Clara at Norman. Unbeaten Army rests up in preparation for its annual classic with Navy next week at Philadelphia.

Ohio State's fleet backs can clinch the Rose Bowl assignment by piercing Michigan's famed defense for sufficient points. But Michigan is the favorite, and that complicates things. If the Wolverines win, and Minnesota clubs Wisconsin in their game at Minneapolis, then Minnesota and Ohio State will finish in a tie, each with four Conference victories and two losses.

In that event, it is assumed that Big Ten would vote to send Minnesota to the Rose Bowl, inasmuch as the Gophers trounced Ohio State 27-0 early in the campaign. Michigan is not eligible to play in the Rose Bowl this time.

Stanford is given a robust chance of upsetting California and throwing things into a turmoil out there, too. If Pappy Waldorf's boys get licked, and U.C.L.A. also upset Southern California in their crosstown tussle at Los Angeles, the final conference standing will read 6-1 both for California and U.C.L.A., and the coast selectors will be measured for straight jackets tomorrow evening.

The Rice Owls, winners of four straight in the tough Southwest Conference, are favored to make it five at the expense of Texas Christian university at Fort Worth and to clinch a least a tie for the Conference crown.

Baylor, the only other contender with a 3-1 Conference record, faces extinction if it loses to Southern Methodist at Dallas, as the experts think it likely will. The Southwest champion automatically plays in the Cotton Bowl, maybe against Oklahoma.

From all accounts, scouts from other bowls, including the Sugar and Orange, will help boost attendance at the clash between unbeaten Virginia and once-beaten Tulane at Charlottesville. Tulane is the favorite, but it should produce a colorful duel between those two fine runners, Tulane's Eddie Price and Virginia's Johnny Rapit.

Kentucky, boasting an 8-1 record and beaten only by S.M.U., can become a red-hot bowl candidate by bashing Tennessee at Lexington, and the same goes for Villanova if the Wildcats score impressively over North Carolina state at Philadelphia. Villanova, 7-1, was defeated only by Tulsa and holds victories over Penn State and Texas A.&M., among others.

With Army idle, the biggest thing in the east is Dartmouth's invasion of Princeton. The Indians from Hanover, who stopped Cornell last week, still have an outside chance at the Ivy League title.

Other top games around the country include:

GULF COAST MEETING

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 18. (AP)—The newly-formed Class C Gulf Coast League expects to complete organization and elect a president at a meeting here Sunday at 1 p. m. Six cities expected to announce as being ready to go include Galveston, Port Arthur, Lufkin, Jacksonville, Lake Charles, La., and Crowley, La. These already have paid protection fees for a berth in the league. No more additions are anticipated at this time.

Power-Laden Rice To Meet TCU Team Today

FORT WORTH, Nov. 18, (AP)—Powerful Rice tomorrow tries to clinch at least a tie for the Southwest Conference championship with a victory over giant-killer Texas Christian university.

The big, blue-clad Owls could claim full title and the host role in the Cotton Bowl if Southern Methodist university whips Baylor and they take TCU.

Jess Neely's eleven, unbeaten in conference play, is a solid favorite to lick the Horned Frogs, who specialize in fancy formations and fancy passing.

TCU has been cooking up something special for Rice in practice this week. Last week, the Frogs came up with a nine-man line that enabled them to stop Texas and take an upset, 14-13 victory.

The spread, single and double wing formations of TCU may give Rice trouble, but the betting boys can't see the "frills" stopping Rice's methodical power aground.

The tilt is expected to be played before a crowd of 25,000 persons.

Lindy Berry, backbone of TCU's offense and defense, will play with a special mask. He cracked his jaw in the Texas game.

William And Mary Will Face Powerful Arkansas Team Today

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 18. (AP)—William and Mary's Indians and the Arkansas Razorbacks will meet here tomorrow in the rubber game of an intersectional football series which began in a bowl.

Arkansas is a slight favorite, as it was when it grabbed a 21-19 victory in the Dixie Bowl at Birmingham Jan. 1, 1948, and when it was upended, 9-0, in a regular season game last ytar.

Each team has won four games and lost four this fall, so the game will have no bearing on national rankings or bowl selections. But the expected 20,000 spectators are promised rough and tumble football for which both teams are noted and possibly a high-scoring duel.

CORSICANA WINS TITLE

CORSICANA, Nov. 18 (AP)—Corsicana whipped Temple, 28-7, tonight to win the District 13-AA high school football championship.

Tech Battles Lobos Today

cork a passing attack against the Raiders, the aerial game clicking on one third of its efforts for good yardage against Colorado last week. Tech has shown little pass defense this year and Huffman is expected to capitalize on it.

Star of the Lobo attack is Captain Joe Stell at fullback, where the big 190-pounder, injured most of the year, has done a lot of damage. But Stell isn't the entire attack. Coach Huffman mixes Stell's line-pounding with the work of Halfbacks, Jerry McKown, Gene Brock, Church Hill; Jack Weldon and Manny Morales.

At quarterback Huffman has two fine passers, Bob Bogle of Plainview and Milton Price of Borger, two of the many Texas players on the Lobo eleven.

These Lobo backs will vie with Tech's stars, Cal Steveson, Tim Hatch, Ike Stuver, J. W. Thompson, Earl Jackson and Bud Conley. Stuver has averaged better than six yards a carry this season, while the other five backs each have averaged better than four yards.

For passing, Tech will rely on Quarterbacks Ernest Hawkins, Bill Lyman, and possibly Milton Rathbone, still on the doubtful list.

The season's records indicate a substantial Raider victory, although the upset victory over Colorado last week showed that the Lobos might have found the spark they needed.

The Lobos opened with a 41-14 loss to Wyoming, nosed out New Mexico Aggies 14-13; then lost consecutive games to Rice, 55-0; Hardin-Simmons, 34-7; Texas Western, 7-0; Tempe, 28-19; and Arizona, 46-14. They beat Colorado last week 17-15.

CLARKSVILLE, Nov. 18. (AP)—White tail deer shot in Red River county have averaged 125 pounds. The county's five-day season which opened Wednesday is the first in the memory of its oldest citizens.

Green's Long Runs Spark Dragons

Paducah Defeats Matador, 24 To 20

MATADOR, Nov. 18. (Special)—Paducah's favored Dragons squeezed out a 24-20 triumph over Matador' Matadors here tonight in the season grid finale for both District 3-A teams.

Coach Rafe Nabor's Matador team, trailing by 18-7 at halftime, staged a spirited second-half comeback which fell short. The defeat dropped the losers into a last-place tie with Abernathy in the final conference standings.

The triumph left Coach R. E. Isbell's Paducah eleven with a 4-4 record in district play.

Quarterback Joe Clark passed 21 yards to End H. A. Lee for Paducah's first touchdown in the opening quarter. Later in the initial stanza, Dragon Fullback Pat Green broke over tackle and sped 51 yards for another tally.

Paducah scored in the second period on Green's 45-yard run around end, and added its final marker in the third quarter on another Clark-to-Lee pass, good this time for 22 yards.

Quarterback Rockne Giesecke went 22 yards on an off-tackle slant in the second quarter for Matador's initial touchdown, then passed to Fullback Garland Rattan for the extra point.

Giesecke's 17-yard toss to End Grady Phillips produced another Matador score in the third period, and in the fourth End Watson Townsend took a short pass from Norman Neighbors and sprinted 63 yards to pay dirt. Rattan ran the extra point after Townsend's touchdown.

Paducah led in first downs, 13-11.

A crowd of 900 fans, largest home-throng of the season for the Matadors, turned out for the game.

Crosbyton Bests Ralls, 14 To 6

CROSBYTON, Nov. 18 Special) — Coach Fred Cunningham's Crosbyton Chiefs closed out their 1949 football campaign here today by coming from behind for a 14-6 triumph over their traditional District 3-A rivals, the Ralls Jackrabbits.

The triumph left Crosbyton tied with Lockney for second place in the conference standings. It was the Chief's sixth success against two setbacks in 3-A play.

Coach D. W. Brantley's Ralls team drew first scoring blood when C. H. Verrett, jr., smashed over tackle for four yards and a touchdown in the first period, climaxing a 40-yard drive.

Crosbyton came back to take the lead in the second stanza when Russell Halder scored on a line plunge and Lawrence Hargis converted from placement.

The Chiefs tallied again in the third on Arnold Ratheal's plunge, with Hargis once more adding the extra point from placement.

Crosbyton led in first downs, 19-10, and in total net yardage gained, 196 to 161. However, Ralls uncorked a nifty passing game which netted eight completions in 11 tries.

The loss left the Jackrabbits with a season record of three wins and five setbacks in conference competition.

WINK CAPTURES TITLE

CRANE, Nov. 18 (Special) — Wink's Wildcats tonight sewed up the District 5-A football championship by turning back a stubborn band of Crane Cranes, 26-16. It was the Wildcats' eighth win against one reverse in district play this year, and moved the Wildcats into the bi-district round against the 6-A champion.

Plains Squad Downs Frenship, 51 To 0

PLAINS, Nov. 18: (Special)—The Plains Cowboys wound up their 1949 season here tonight by dusting the Frenship Tigers a walloping 51-0.

Tonight's victory was Plains' first this season. The Cowboys tied Cooper 7-7 last weekend.

The game was a district 4-B conference tilt.

Newlon Rowland, back, was easily the outstanding player of the game, scoring five touchdowns for the Cowboys and making one extra point.

Other outstanding players on Coach Bill Adams' Plains eleven were Duane Grayson, who scored one touchdown and one extra point; Dwain Anderson, who made one touchdown; and Dean Light, who made one extra point for the Cowboys.

Outstanding defense players on the Frenship eleven were Gene Patterson and Red Gladden, backs.

At the half in tonight's game, Miss Latrelle Smith of Plains high school was crowned 1949 Football Queen by Co-Captain Newlon Rowland.

Robinson Gets Player Award

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (INS)—Jack Roosevelt Robinson, the first member of his race to crack organized baseball, today became the first negro to win a major league most valuable player award.

Robinson was voted the National league's most valuable performer by a selection committee of the Baseball Writer's association. With the honor goes the Kenesaw Mountain Landis Memorial plaque.

The Brooklyn Dodger second baseman, who placed first on half of the 24 ballots, defeated Stan Musial of St. Louis, the 1948 most valuable player, by 38 points. The writers' scoring system gives 14 points for a first place ballot, nine for second, eight for third and so forth.

Robinson received 264 points to Musial's 226. The Cardinal outfielder finished 45 points ahead of the third man, Enos Slaughter, also of the Cards.

Others in the first ten and their point totals were: Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh (133); Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn (118); Carl Furillo, Brooklyn (68); Warren Spahn, Boston (60); Don Newcombe, Brooklyn (55); Ken Heintzelman, Philadelphia (48); and Red Schoendienst, St. Louis (30).

Robinson was a logical choice on his playing record. In his third year in the majors, Jackie led the National league in batting with a .342 mark and in stolen bases with 36. He played in each of the 156 Dodger games, getting 203 hits, 16 homers, 12 triples and 28 doubles.

Aside from his diamond performance, the tribute was fitting for Jackie traveled a difficult road in pioneering the way for negro athletes. There were long-ingrained prejudices to overcome among his teammates and among opposing players, and Jackie overcame them with quiet tact and self-assurance.

1,000 Aggie-Texas Thanksgiving Day Ducats Go On Sale Today

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. (AP)—Release for sale to the public of 1,000 tickets to the A. and M.-Texas football game at College Station Thanksgiving Day was announced by the University of Texas business office today.

Business Manager Ed Olle said the tickets are the ones remaining unsold from the student allotment. They will be placed on sale at 1 p. m. at the business office tomorrow.

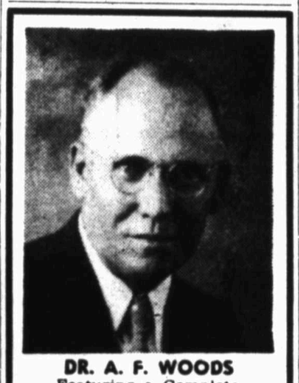

Olle said student demand fell far short of expectations.

Army Accused Of Seeking Power

if another war should come."

McCarthy, a World War II Marine corps officer, said he is gravely concerned over "the ridiculous airtight secrecy rules imposed to prevent exposure of the bungling and fumbling of those in high position."

The senator said he fully agrees with Crommelin's contention that the general staff is plotting to impose upon America a defense plan copied from that drawn up by Hitler's last chief of staff, Gen. Heinz Guderian. He added:

"Guderian told our interrogators in Europe after the war that the Nazis lost the conflict because they permitted civilian control to continue."

Sutton Offers Aid

Crommelin said that Rep. Sutton (D-Tenn.), also has offered to act as his counsel in a court martial.

Sherman indicated that Crommelin's demand for a court-martial will be rejected.

Crommelin asserted that the Army general staff is operating under a plan identical with that drawn up by Gen. Heinz Guderian, Hitler's last chief of staff.

He declared that defense chiefs fear "a public discussion before a duly constituted court of law which might involve further exposing the dangers of the expanding Prussian general staff concept."

Charge Made In Letter

Crommelin charged in a letter to Sherman:

"By clever maneuvering, these general staff zealots in the Army, with their powerful propaganda machine, have played up the controversy between the Navy and the Air Force in an effort to keep the spotlight of public opinion from being focused upon them while they relentlessly carry out their carefully prepared plan to take control of the civilian functions of the Department of defense."

The captain declared that the Defense departmnt is "under the complete and full control of a small group of men who come by their tremendous power under the general staff concept."

Sherman's cutback order issued a few hours before Crommelin's latest blast, calls for:

Elimination of 35 naval and Marine squadrons; approximately 500 planes "mothballed;" four attack carrier groups decommissioned; one naval air base closed and five reduced to a bare maintenance basis.

Navy spokesmen said the reduction order, effective at once and due for completion by Feb. 28, 1950, means an overall 25 per cent slash in naval aviation. One high-ranker observed bitterly:

"Noting that this cutback program is to be completed by Feb. 28, it would seem that this is just the first 'nibble' in a lot of bites that will pretty well chew up naval aviation."

Johnson said in a Boston speech that he is shooting for a $2 billion cut in defense costs even though they must remain high because of the danger of attack by a dictator acting in "self-centered frenzy." The cabinet member declared:

"We have set our sights for a budget of $13 billion next year as against the $15 billion given us by Congress this year."

Economy Drive Boosted

The aviation cutback ordered by Sherman in line with Johnson's economy program continues the save-money campaign the defense secretary launched when he took office.

It follows cancellation of construction of a super-aircraft carrier, the decommissioning of 77 ships including five carriers, and a Navy and Marine corps manpower reduction of 56,000 to be accomplished by next June 30.

The new slash will cut naval and Marine operating aircraft strength from 2,258 to approximately 1,758. The Air Force has 9,300 planes in operation.

Sherman's order calls for four of the Navy's 14 attack carrier groups to be decommissioned by Dec. 1. Two of these are located at Jacksonville, Fla., one at Charlestown, R. I., and one at Alameda, Calif. The Charleston naval air facility is to be inactivated by Feb. 28.

Naval air stations at Bermuda, Roosevelt Roads and San Juan, Puerto Rico; Trinidad, B. W. I., and Coco Solo, C. Z., are to be placed on a maintenance basis.

State To Seek Death Of Admitted Slayer

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18. (AP)—The state moved swiftly today to send Fred Stroble—confessed sex slayer who says "I don't deserve to live"—to California's gas chamber.

"We will ask for the death penalty," said Deputy District Attorney Adolph Alexander as Stroble was arraigned on a charge of murdering six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucoft.

The 66-year-old grandfather of Linda's favorite playmate was handcuffed as he pushed through an orderly corridor crowd into municipal court. Sleeplessness gave him dark bags under the eyes. Frequently his tongue licked his thick lips. He looked at the floor.

He was silent, even when Judge Leroy Dawson asked if he intended to obtain a lawyer. He simply stared. A deputy public defender talked to him briefly, then told the court he did not plan to employ private counsel, at least not immediately.

The public defender suggested a delay in the preliminary hearing, but Judge Dawson set it for Monday. Presumably Stroble then will be bound over for trial in superior court. Alexander said the trial can begin early in December.

A showing of premeditation is necessary for conviction of first degree murder, carrying the death penalty, but Alexander said: "Stroble's admission that he previously molested this little girl is sufficient evidence."

Christmas Seals Are Mailed Over County

Letters to 13,000 Lubbock county residents were placed in the postoffice Friday after a noon meeting of the Lubbock tuberculosis association, Miss Virginia Greenwalt, executive secretary of the association, said last night.

The letters carrying Christmas seals will go out for delivery Monday as a part of the association's drive to raise this year's quota of $15,000.

Persons receiving the letters are asked to mail back their contributions in exchange for the seals.

Attending the noon luncheon held in the Hilton hotel were 18 board members and the association staff.

Dr. William Gordon, association president, was in charge of the meeting. Roy Boyd is serving as chairman of the seal sale.

Youth Confesses

where the youth will be arraigned on a charge of first degree murder.

Youth Is Quoted

Sheriff Clark's statement quoted Butterfield as saying he picked her up on the streets of Burley, took her one and one-half miles south of Burley and three-quarters of a mile east, on the bank of the First Lift canal."

Burley Chief of Police W. W. Williams explained that Butterfield was not asked to make a signed statement. Williams said the youth made his oral confession "in the presence of six police officers."

Butterfield was questioned in the Jerome county sheriff's office from 3:45 p.m. to 6 p.m., when he was brought to Twin Falls. He was questioned in Twin Falls further until 8:10 p.m., when the sheriff issued his statement. He reportedly made the confession while at Jerome.

Boy's Parents Leave

Butterfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butterfield, were in the Twin Falls sheriff's office. They left prior to release of the statement. They reside in the Emerson district north of Burley (Heyburn).

Immediately after the sheriff released his statement, Butterfield was whisked out of the city. Officers planned to take him across the Cassia county line and hold his arraignment near the highway.

They explained the law requires that arraignment be in the county in which the crime is committed. They said they did not want to go farther into Cassia county than necessary because of strong feeling among the citizenry.

Following arraignment they planned to take him to another jail.

Three Escape, Four Die In Blazing Home

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 18. (AP).—A 24-year-old mother rescued two of her children from their blazing home today, but her husband and their three other children died.

The mother, Mrs. Consepcion Saldana, is in a hospital suffering from hysteria, shock, cuts on both arms and burns about the face.

Bennie Saldana, sr., 25, and his two daughters, Dora, 7, and Gloria, 3, died in the flames of their home. A son, Valentino, 18 months, died nine hours after being rushed to a hospital with third degree burns.

Mrs. Saldana saved her 27-day-old son Andres and four-year-old Bennie, jr. Police said she was cut when she broke a window to get to the children.

The back door of the three-room house in which the Saldana's lived was blocked by flames. The front door was barred by a chest of drawers which Mrs. Saldana said had been shoved against it to keep it from blowing open during the night.

Mrs. Saldana told police she and her husband were awakened shortly after 1:30 a.m. by smoke and crackling flames. Her husband, sleeping in another part of the house, came to her room, she said, then went to the back part of the house where 3-year-old Gloria was asleep. He disappeared and never returned.

Firemen found Saldana's body, face down on the floor near the couch where Gloria's body was discovered.

Young Demos Defer Civil Rights Tussle

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 18 (AP)—A showdown over endorsement of the civil rights program by the Young Democratic clubs was deferred tonight until tomorrow's final sessions of the national convention.

A heated debate over the matter was waged tonight at an open session of the convention's resolution committee. Delegates from Illinois and Michigan called for a resolution endorsing the full rights program of President Truman.

An Alabama delegate said that if the resolution is adopted an "inflammatory battle" will take place on the convention floor. Delegates from South Carolina and Tennessee also spoke against the measure.

The civil rights supporters said if the resolution is not adopted they may open the dispute by offering an amendment to whatever resolution is approved by the committee.

The resolutions committee, meeting Wednesday, previously had pigeon-holed the specific civil rights resolution. Instead it adopted one which praised President Truman's "foreign and domestic" policies.

Janelle Jones Wins Morton High Queen Title Second Time

By KENNETH MAY
Avalanche Staff Writer

MORTON, Nov. 18.—Miss Janelle Jones, candidate of the Morton football squad, was crowned queen of Morton High school here tonight for the second year in succession.

The pretty, petite queen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jones, was chosen from a slate of 11 girls and was crowned by a Lubbock reporter.

Glenna Kennedy and Nelda Joye Childs were attendants to the queen as runners-up in the beauty contest.

Auditorium Packed

Escorted by Clifton Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wall, the queen was crowned before a packed auditorium in the Morton High school building. The coronation was the culmination of the second annual Beauty Queen contest at the school, with Miss Jones winning both times. Last year she was sponsored by the agriculture club and chosen by Floyd D. Golden, president of Eastern New Mexico University.

Crowning of the queen followed two one-act plays presented by literature classes at the school and a short audience-participation quiz program. The plays, entitled "Dinner for Six" and "I'll Eat My Hat" were directed by Mrs. Fred Danforth and Mrs. Bob Rhyne.

Queen Is A Junior

The brunete queen is a junior student this year. The attendants, Misses Kennedy and Childs, were escorted by Royce Smith and Bunky Hargrove, respectively. Pictures of all three beauties were printed in the school paper, "The War Whoop, which was distributed immediately after the coronation.

A large picture of the queen will be featured in the 1950 yearbook of the school and the scene of the coronation will appear in the Sunday Avalanche-Journal.

Candidates Listed

Other queen candidates, with their sponsors and escorts, were: Jean Alford, pep squad, escorted by Johnny Green; Barbara Barton, band, Corky Evans; Nancy Blackley, freshman class, Lamar Burns; Betty Lou Hoffman, grade school, B. J. Peters; Janice Grimsley, junior class, Noel Crow; Muryl Ruthardt, chorus Bob Polvado; Jimmy Taylor, Future Homemakers, Lewis Hodge; and Beth Winder, senior class, Leslie White.

Miss Kennedy was candidate from the sophomore class and Miss Childs was sponsored by the Future Farmers of America.

Women's Clubs Name New State President

AUSTIN, Nov. 18 (AP) — Mrs. Howard Hodge of Midland was elected president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs today.

Other officers named after day-long balloting at the federation's annual convention were, Mrs. T. M. West of San Antonio, first vice-president; Mrs. John O. Douglas, of Houston, second vice president; Mrs. U. L. Wilie of Matador, treasurer; and Mrs. W. S. Cantrell of Lometa, secretary.

All of the officers had been the nominees of the organization's nominating committee and were unopposed.

The new president immediately named the two appointed members of the board of directors. They are Mrs. Howard Gibson of Waxahachie and Mrs. E. N. Smith of Marshall.

Installation ceremonies were held this evening at the final session of the federation's three-day meeting which drew the largest attendance of any of its conventions since 1940. There were 639 delegates registered.

Mrs. Hodge announced that the theme of her administration for the next two years will be "education for world leadership."

She said that emphasis will be placed on Pan-American relations, the general federation's project of "building better communities," education, junior clubs and the study of the United Nations General Assembly, the Security council and Unesco.

Mrs. Hodge succeeds Mrs. John J. Perry of Sweetwater who has served as president the past two years.

Possible Witness Of KKK Floggings Held In Wharton

WHARTON, Nov. 18 (U.P) — A 28-year-old man who may have seen some of the alleged Ku Klux Klan floggings in Alabama last spring was still held by federal authorities today in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Irving Leon Key was arrested by FBI agents in a Houston bar Wednesday night, and was charged with fleeing from Birmingham to avoid testifying Dec. 5 in the scheduled trial of three "night-riders."

U. S. Commissioner W. F. Carothers set $1,000 bond for the nattily-dressed man and ordered Key to appear at the trial in Birmingham Dec. 5. Later, when he failed to make bond, he was remanded to the federal repository here.

The FBI declined to speculate as to whether or not bond would be made for Key by Dec. 5, but noted that he would not be released without the necessary bond.

When arrested, Key nervously told FBI agents he had been "in hiding" in Houston the last two months. He refused to answer direct questions from reporters, but FBI agents quoted him as saying he was "afraid for his life."

Chinese Purge From UN Urged

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP) — Red China demanded today that the United Nations unseat the Chinese Nationalist delegation but made no immediate claim to UN membership.

The Communists told the UN the Nationalists are in exile and their remnant forces in China soon will be eliminated.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie ruled against circulating the Communist demand to the 59 member nations. He put it into the file of messages from non-member governments and told reporters:

Back Door Closed

"They (the Communists) cannot get recognition by the secretariat or the secretary-general through the back door."

Lie explained this followed a UN practice started in 1946. He said if any delegation wanted to ask for this document and circulate it as its own communication it has that right. He said the delegation also would have to take responsibility for such action.

The UN did not publish the text of the message received in English from Peiping but it was reported that in the main paragraph Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai said:

Reds Demand Action

"On behalf of the central peoples government of the peoples republic of China, I formally demand that the United Nations organization immediately deprive the 'delegation of the Chinese Nationalist government,' in accordance with the principles and spirit of the UN charter, of all rights to further represent the Chinese people in the UN, so as to conform to the wishes of the Chinese people."

A Chinese Red request for seating in the UN is expected to come later when the issue of recognition becomes clearer. This will depend some informed sources said, largely on what the big powers such as the United States, Britain, France and other countries decide. The Soviet Union already has recognized the Peiping regime and withdrawn its envoy from the Nationalist government.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky or one of the Slav delegates is expected to sponsor the Red communication and circulate it.

Dallas Youth

from the jail.

All during the week, the tall, handsome defendant, a self-styled "intellectual" had sat alone in the courtroom.

But now he was seated between his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Petersen.

Mrs. Petersen put her hand on her boy's hand. He brushed it off quickly.

Just before the jury was brought in Judge King ordered a dozen officers stationed around the courtroom.

Petersen remained seated as the judge read the jury's verdict.

As the verdict was given, Petersen laughed softly.

The elder Petersen patted his son, as though to encourage him.

The boy knocked his father's hand away.

Swung At Officer

Then, very suddenly, Keith leaped up and swung at Britt who was standing nearby.

When Britt and other officers seized him, Petersen struggled vigorously. But he made no outcry.

They lifted him entirely off the floor and carried him out.

He continued struggling all the way as a crowded courtroom watched. A loud murmur ran through the courtroom.

The officers carried Petersen first into another, empty, courtroom. Then they carried him upstairs to jail and placed him in a solitary cell. He was still fighting hard to free himself when he arrived at the cell.

Twenty-four witnesses were presented, either by the state or defense, during the sanity hearing.

The jury was asked to decide two questions:

Is Petersen now sane or insane.

Was he sane or insane when he killed Carolyn Schofield.

Attorney Makes Plea

In an emotional closing argument to the jury, Defense Attorney Maury Hughes today said: "For God's sake—don't kill this boy—I feel this boy's life is my responsibility and is your responsibility, too."

And District Attorney Will Wilson told the jury calmly: "This boy knew right from wrong and should be treated like others and tried like others."

After the jury had retired, Keith Petersen spoke to his father, a utilities executive, for the first time in the courtroom since the hearing began.

They talked briefly and Keith smiled at his father.

Earlier in the day, while lawyers discussed the state of his mind in their arguments, young Petersen yawned and appeared bored.

The courtroom was jammed today. More than 100 persons were standing. The defendant wore a blue suit, a polka dot tie and a breastpocket handkerchief to match the tie.

When officers carried him from the courtroom, Keith struggled so mightily that his coat almost was pulled off.

Two psychiatrists testified for the defense that young Petersen was insane.

But Dr. J. M. Picard, Dallas county health officer said he believed the former Southern Methodist university student knew it was wrong to kill Miss Schofield.

Miss Schofield was secretary for a geologist. It was in the geologist's office that Petersen shot her to death with a newly-bought pistol.

Afterwards, he said in an interview: "I'm not sorry I did it—I'd do it again."

Five Airmen Killed

little wreckage was left but the ebbed tide had left a sea of mud and firemen could not string hose to the scene.

Jeeps finally took rescuers to the spot.

The plane was one of nearly 100 searching for the one down off Bermuda and was based at Walker Air Force base, Roswell, N. M.

The Walker base identified all but one of the dead. That name was withheld pending notice to relatives.

The other dead were named as Lt. Victor G. Thiel, Los Angeles, as pilot; Lt. Kenneth W. Fallek, San Francisco; Lt. John W. Gillespie, Cadiz, Ohio, and Lt. Raymond H. Weise, Granite City, Ill.

Texas Man Injured

Injured were Capt. Samuel L. Pearson, Elizabeht, Pa.; Sgt. G. T. Elliss, Savannah, Ga.; Sgt. J. O. Hendricks, Box 107, Olden, Texas; and Sgt. F. E. Fintland, International Falls, Minn.

In the Bermuda area, the weather grew more difficult but searchers were spurred by faint radio signals and the sighting of two red flares last night in the 100 by 345-mile search area northeast of the island.

Officials said four planes were combing the pin-pointed spot where the signals originated. It was hoped to keep 70-odd planes on the search today but the weather threatened to cut the number materially.

At midnight this past Thursday, two B-29s on a training flight collided five miles over Stockton, Calif., killing 18. Three of those aboard parachuted to safety.

The Atlantic claimed a B-29 on Nov. 3, when engine trouble plunged it into Bermuda waters. This crash took 10 lives. Three were saved.

On Armistice Day, a B-29 went out of control just west of Indianapolis, crashing on a farm. Its 12 crewmen parachuted but two were killed.

The loss in planes during the period was $6 million since each B-29 costs about $1 million.

WRECKAGE OF CRASHED B-29 BELIEVED SPOTTED

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 18 (AP) — A U. S. Air Force pilot today spotted what he said might be the wreckage of a B-29 supposed to have crash-landed Wednesday with 20 men aboard. No sign of life was seen.

First Lt. Richard Mullin, of the 32nd Bombardment squadron of the 301st Bombardment group, said on his return tonight from a search mission he had sighted what might be debris 290 miles northeast of Bermuda this morning.

Mullin, participating in an extensive search by air and sea for the missing plane, said he had picked up on his radio a group of call letters for the 22nd Bombardment group, to which the B-29 belonged. About two hours later, Mullin added, he saw floating debris and heard an S O S. Later, at intervals, he saw a red object, several yellow boxes, and what he believed was a piece of aluminum.

The area where Mullin spotted the objects was about 40 miles southwest of the place where flares were reported last night.

Late today another search plane pilot reported, he had spotted what he believed to be a yellow life raft in the area where the B-29 is supposed to have crash landed.

For his text, he chose the opening verses of chapter three of the First Epistle of John, accenting the portion which reads: "It doth not yet appear what we shall be."

Rev. Fullingim pointed out that the woman had been a "sufferer in the body," referring to the fact she suffered from diabetes.

"But she made a contribution that will outlast the sun—outlast the stars. She left a spiritual heritage in her children, Glenda and Calvin."

Work Is Praised

He said the woman had led her children into the church and he praised the work of the children, particularly Glenda, in the church.

Only one slight reference was made to the tragic circumstances surrounding the death—a death among the most unusual and bizarre in South Plains history.

"She will have . . . when He comes . . . a body that will never burn . . . a body that will never know diabetes . . . it does not yet appear what we shall be," Rev. Fullingim said.

The complete passage from which he drew his text reads: "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when He shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see Him as He is."

An attendant from the Mason Funeral home in Post handed floral sprays to eight young girls, church and school friends of Glenda Grantham, sister of Calvin. The sealed casket was wheeled to the door.

More than 50 cars made up the funeral procession to the Southland cemetery south of town. Rev. Fullingim spoke briefly at the grave site, and the services were ended.

Sam Arnett III, of 2211 Fourteenth street, bagged a four-point buck deer Friday afternoon at his grandfather's ranch near Tucumcari, N. M., he reported by telephone to his mother, Mrs. Sam Arnett, jr. He got the deer shortly after arriving at the ranch, he said.

Robert Eddins, 47, of 3010 Thirty-first, was fined $400 and costs of county court Friday after a jury had found him guilty of a charge of driving while intoxicated. The charge stemmed from his arrest Aug. 23 at Broadway and Ave. L by Police Patrolman W. H. Verner after he had reportedly left the scene of an accident. The defendant earlier paid a fine of $25 in Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn's court on a charge arising from the accident.

Fire equipment was called to extinguish a grass blaze at 120 Ave. Q at 2:10 p. m. Friday, records of that department showed.

Troy Wilson, 28, of 115 Ave. U, was treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital about 9 p. m. Friday for numerous lacerations about the face, suffered, he told police during an altercation with another man. He declined to press charges.

Richard Bailey, 21 - year - old Cameron negro, received a minor cut on the left forearm during an argument with a negro woman at Wolfforth about 11:30 p. m. Friday, police said. He was released after treatment at Lubbock Memorial hospital where he was taken by two companions.

B-29s Are Grounded

in the U. S.

Provisions of the order were waived temporarily for B-29 planes currently searching for a Superfort lost near Bermuda Wednesday night with 20 aboard. The plane was on a flight to England when navigation instruments failed and the ship then ran out of fuel.

Following loss of the plane near Bermuda, two B-29's collided in midair Thursday near Stockton, Calif., and another big bomber crashed at Tampa, Fla., today after taking off in the Bermuda search.

Forty-three persons were killed or are missing in the four B-29 mishaps.

Vandenberg issued his order after a lengthy telephone conversation with Lt. Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, strategic air commander, at his headquarters in Omaha. Lemay is considered the Air Force's top-ranking authority on strategic air warfare and the B-29 in particular.

The Air Force currently is operating ten 30-plane groups of the four-engine planes which levelled Japan, but which have become "medium bombers" in the light of postwar development of the mammoth six-engine B-36.

Spare B-29's immediately available total between 400 and 500, bringing to a top figure of 800 the number of the aircraft on which would fall the burden of smashing back at any enemy which might unleash a sudden attack against the United States.

The B-29, the B-50, and the B-36 are the only American bombers known to be capable of carrying the atomic bomb, although the Navy has indicated that its P2V could be modified for the purpose.

The United States has an undetermined number of B-29's in "mothballs."

The B-29 was not finished in time for the European phase of World War II but was pressed into service against Japan and finally was used for dropping the war ending atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

smouldering cotton.

Earlier in the week the Farmers Co-operative Gin No. 1 at Munday and the Chickasha Cotton Oil company at Rolla, near Wellington, were razed by fire.

Also destroyed by the fire at McCoy were five to seven bales of cotton and 50 to 60 tons of seed.

Six employes were operating the gin when fire broke out in the wooden cleaners. An alarm was given to the Floydada fire department, but they didn't respond, Miller reported.

"That might have been rather useless," the manager said, "since the water supply was low, and flames spread so quickly."

The gin was practically leveled in one hour, Miller said. Cotton seeds were still burning shortly after noon, however.

Included in the loss were the main gin building 90 by 24 feet, an engine room 30 by 30, the seed house 24 by 60, and a big shed on the south side 30 by 40 feet and covering three driveways. All were frame structures covered with tin. An office building was saved only because the wind shifted from the north to the east, according to Miller. About 150 bales of cotton on the yard were moved and saved from destruction.

Two bales of cotton were rolled out of the gin to the south, Miller said, but five more were dumped west of the gin since the wind at that time was blowing from the north. The two caught fire, and when the wind shifted to the east, the other five were destroyed.

Rites To Be Held Today For Lubbock Infant In Floydada

Annelle Robinson, six-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Robinson of Lubbock, died about 11:15 p.m. Friday in Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Services are to be conducted at 3 p.m. today in Floydada cemetery by Rev. East, pastor of the First Baptist church of Floydada. Rix Funeral home will direct burial.

The father is employed at Reese Air Force base, Rix Funeral home said last night.

Mann Denies Slaying Of Amarillo Brother

AMARILLO, Nov. 18. (INS)—A 22-year-old Amarillo youth today denied having murdered his older brother in "Cain and Abel" fashion last night.

The youth, Billy Max Mann, described as a police character, was charged last night with the killing of his 32-year-old brother, Donald Lee Mann, in the living room of their parents home at Amarillo.

Denial of the murder came on the heels of the suspect's examining trial today in which he had entered a formal plea of "not guilty."

Young Mann was arrested near the Greyhound bus station at Amarillo only three hours after the slaying.

Arliss McKinney, the dead man's former wife and only witness to the shooting, said Donald Mann was slain while attempting to make a phone call. She said the shooting climaxed a heated argument between the two brothers.

District Attorney Lloyd King said the motive for the shooting was still a mystery, although police spent several hours talking to the woman witness.

The suspect's young wife, 21-year-old Gloria, supported her spouse's denial.

The grief-stricken parents of the brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Mann, told of how their son had calmly joined them in a chicken dinner at a restaurant only minutes after he allegedly pumped two .22-caliber slugs into the body of his older brother.

Rev. W. D. Wheeler Dies Near Abernathy

ABERNATHY, Nov. 18. (Special)—The Rev. Warren D. Wheeler, 90, died at 6:30 p.m. today at the home of his daughter near here.

Wheeler was a retired Methodist minister, and had lived in this vicinity for approximately 20 years. Prior to his retirement, he was pastor of the First Methodist church in De Leon.

Services will be at 3 p.m. Saturday in Lakeview Methodist church with the Rev. O. W. Graydon officiating. Burial will be in Strip cemetery under the direction of Rix Funeral home in Lubbock.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. T. W. Driver of Abernathy; a son, Warren C., of Hawthorne, Calif.; six grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren.

Traditional Kiss Given

When the newlyweds reached the chapel vestibule, the vice-president did something he failed to do immediately after the wedding ceremony. He kissed the bride.

"Wasn't he gorgeous?" Mrs. Barkley exclaimed later.

With the bride at the wheel, the newlyweds left in an automobile at 2:30 p.m., (CST) for an unannounced honeymoon destination. They had a motorcycle police escort.

The courtly bridegroom told newsmen he didn't know where they were going, then added:

"Of course we are going to Shangri-La, and that's a difficult drive over the Himalaya mountains."

State Of Weather Considered

A reporter asked wouldn't it be cold in Shangri-La this time of year.

"Well, we'll warm it up after we get there," the veep replied.

"We are leaving by automobile. She's going to drive at the start, because she knows how to get out of St. Louis."

Solemn during the ceremony, the vice-president grinned proudly and showed his good humor to a cheering, rice-throwing crowd outside the church.

While posing for photographers and television cameras, he doffed his gray hat several times and then gave the "V for victory" sign made famous by Winston Churchill.

Gesture Denotes Success

The gesture apparently was intended to denote his success in a courtship which has held the nation's interest for four months.

Mrs. Barkley, joined in the antics. She chatted with the vice-president, waved to well-wishers and good humoredly ducked showers of rice several times.

The wedding ceremony, in St. John's Methodist church, was simple but impressive. It lasted only nine minutes. Newsmen outnumbered the 33 guests in the small Gothic chapel which seats 150 persons.

The Rev. Dr. Albea Godbold, pastor of the church, conducted the preliminary service and Bishop Ivan Lee Holt performed the single-ring ceremony.

Bishop Manning, Of New York Episcopal Church, Claimed

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP)—The Rt. Rev. William T. Manning, retired Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York, died at 5:10 p.m. (EST) today.

Death occurred at St. Luke's hospital where the 83-year-old minister had been since Nov. 4. He became critically ill last Sunday.

The nature of his illness had not been made public.

With him at the time of his death were his daughter, Miss Frances Manning and Mrs. Griffith B. Coale; Mrs. Coale's husband, and the Rev. Otis R. Rice, chaplain of St. Luke's hospital.

Bishop Manning had retired some three years ago, preaching his farewell sermon at the huge Cathedral of St. John the Divine on Manhattan's Morningside Heights. Most of the cathedral had been completed during his 25-year tenure as bishop.

The last rites were administered to Bishop Manning by Chaplain Rice.

the Taft-Hartley labor law will be repealed. He said the action will follow administration success in raising the minimum wage to 75 cents and in remodeling the labor department along lines recommended by the Hoover commission.

"Dangerous Precedent"

Wright characterized the Taft-Hartley law as setting a "dangerous precedent." He explained:

"The government peers over the shoulders of labor and management and sits at the bargaining table interfering with the rights of both parties. . .

"The government's job must be to provide the broad rules, the services, the information necessary for the maintenance of peaceful industrial relations. Management and labor can do the rest."

Meanwhile, the civil rights issue continued to retain its heat at the convention. Chairman Clyde Miller of Utah called for an open meeting of the resolutions committee tonight to receive resolutions from the floor.

Delegates said the move was made because of reports the committee has been rigged to prevent action on the civil rights issue.

Meanwhile, a department spokesman said that a request for intervention by the Soviet Union is among the measures being considered to ease the situation which President Truman has denounced as an outrage.

Two Americans Released

The government official pointed out that steps taken by Russia resulted in release of two Americans held by Communists in North Korea even though the Kremlin insisted that jurisdiction in the matter rested entirely with the Korean Communist regime.

The department announced it had received a message dated Nov. 16, from William N. Stokes, vice-consul at Mukden, reporting that Ward had asked for food, clothing, and magazines and had been permitted to send out laundry.

Stokes reported that he had sent the desired supplies to the jail where the consul general is being held but that Ward and the other Americans still are being kept incommunicado.

In another Far Eastern development, the department was informed that the American freighter Flying Cloud, damaged by Chinese Nationalist shelling off blockaded Shanghai, has reached Fusun, Korea, for repairs.

The United States has protested the Flying Cloud shelling to the Nationalist foreign office.

U. S. Wants Peace For All, Rayburn Tells Demo Rally

HOUSTON, Nov. 18 (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn tonight said the United States wants nothing more than to be left alone so it can stay home and tend to its own business.

"We want no war with anybody," the veteran Texas congressman told a Democratic party rally.

"We want to stay at home and tend to our own business and we want other people to let us do that."

He warned, however, that as long as there are dictators in the world "I am for keeping a lot of powder in the United States."

The rally, sponsored by the Texas Association of County chairmen, was attended by about 3,500 people. Rally officials had predicted a crowd of 15,000.

Coplon To Stand Conspiracy Trial, Federal Judge Rules

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan threw out all defense motions today and told Judith Coplon she must stand trial on charges of conspiring to spy for Russia.

The judge postponed until next Tuesday the opening of the trial of the former government girl and her accused co-conspirator, Soviet engineer Valentin Gubitchey.

Ryan said he wanted to give Miss Coplon's lawyer, Archibald Palmer, a "reasonable opportunity" to appear before the U.S. circuit court of appeals in a new effort to have the arrest of the 28-year-old brunette declared illegal.

Gubitchev, a United Nations employe now suspended, suddenly changed his mind and decided to hire a lawyer.

Mounting Yearly Deficit Boosts National Debt To All-Time High

BY RADAR WINGET
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. — There's one big difference between your personal debts and government spending — the government doesn't have to worry as much about running in the red.

The government has been going deeper into debt almost every year for the last score of years. The gross public debt stands at $256,905,969,621.11, as of Nov. 15.

Back in 1939 the public debt was only about $40,440,000,000 and way back in 1840 the public debt was a mere $4 million.

Spending Greatest Debt

The increases have resulted from spending at a greater rate each year than taxes are collected. For the fiscal year ending next June 30, there will be an estimated deficit in the year's spending of $5 billion.

Any individual running into debt at that pace soon would be declared bankrupt. As a matter of fact, you probably couldn't spend more than you made so consistently. Your credit would be so poor that within a short time nobody would lend you any money. That would affect you alone.

With the government it's different. For many years the federal government sought to balance the budget every year and have its current slate of debts wiped clean before the old fiscal year died.

But times have changed in this country in the last hundred years or so.

Even before the last war, the American public debt was largely an internal affair, managed so that it had a minimum of influence on private business.

That philosophy of debt management has changed. Today the size of the debt and how it is managed is a controlling factor in the world's economic destiny.

Back in the depression 30s, President Roosevelt put into practice the first part of an economic theory that the government should go into debt and spend enough money in times of depression to get business going again.

The second part of that theory is that the government should cut down the debt by less spending during times of prosperity. In the end of a given cycle government books would be in balance on an over all basis.

In a way, it's like buying a house, these advocates contend. When you buy a $10,000 home you may put up $4,000 of your savings and get a $6,000 mortgage payable in 20 years with interest. You don't count that in your household budget as money spent all within that one year. You spread it over 20 years.

Legislative Budget Board To Hold Initial Meeting Nov. 29

AUSTIN, Nov. 18 (U.P.)—The 10-member legislative budget board will hold an organizational meeting Nov. 29, acting Lt. Gov. G. C. Morris announced today.

The budget board, created by the 51st Legislature, was set up to aid lawmakers in preparing a budget and in planning the state's finances.

Dean Andrews, 17, has been returned here from Canyon, where he was convicted of theft and sentenced to two years, so that a 99th district court probation term of five years can be set aside and the youth sentenced to serve that time in the penitentiary for theft by bailee, the sheriff's office said.

W. C. Cummings was fined $150 and county court costs on a Thursday afternoon plea of guilty of liquor law violation, county officials said. His plea was entered for him by an attorney.

Theft of a radio valued at $22.50 from an office of the First Methodist church, at 1411 Broadway, was reported to the police Friday morning by J. T. Carter, church executive assistant.

Fifteen-year-old Eddie Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hogan of 2112 Eighth, returned home Friday from Lubbock Memorial hospital where he received treatment for an eye injury sustained Saturday when an airgun accidentally discharged a pellet into it. His mother said physicians had not definitely determined whether the eye would be saved.

The regular weekly Gideon breakfast and devotional hour will be held from 7:30 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. Sunday in Hilton hotel.

Newspapermen Resort To Strange Hobbies As Means Of Relieving Internal Pressure

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

FAIRFAX, Va., Nov. 18—Most newspapermen have their own private way of blowing their steam.

I once knew a city editor in Des Moines who owned a hog farm. He slopped pigs day and night, before and after city-editing, and claimed it gave him a tremendous lift. Another friend collects pictures of dinosaur tracks. Still another puffs his roof by pitching bean bags in the back yard with his small ones.

Claude Mahoney, news announcer for CBS who was a newspaperman for many years here and out in Indiana, has his own formula. He saws wood and he raises bees.

Dreams Come True

Chubby Claude is the kind of a guy who has dreams and makes them come true. For many years he and his attractive brunette wife, Frances, lived in an apartment. They always said that if they ever bought or built a house they'd be sure they weren't cooped in.

One day during the war, Frances, who now bosses the bees and buzzsaws (and Claude) at Fairfax Hollow, announced she felt "cooped."

The master started beating the bushes and before too many suns had set he presented his little missus with the title of 10 acres, just a mile from here.

Hands Put To Work

That was almost five years ago. The place was nothing but a forest at the time, but Claude is a handy one with an axe and a saw. Materials were hard to come by but the newscaster did most of the groundwork with his own little two, fat hands. He cleared up a temporary cabin, which now is known as "the guest house." He bought a few boards and made some double-deck bunks, which still remain in the G. H., fitted with clean linen and fancy bedspreads.

The steam-blowing for busy Claude took something like three years between broadcasts, but he finally cleared the underbrush and trees from the front of the place. All by himself, and raised bees and a garden and orchard, too. Now he has a hand-made fence lining his drive, gravel on the path and a welcome mat before the front door.

The announcer, modest fellow, gives Frances most of the credit.

Corners Are Cut

"When we started all of this," he said, "I didn't know a blue from a print. We had a smart architect who knew more about our finances than we did. He cut our corners for us."

When Claude was first getting to roll on his steam-blowing he realized that 10 acres of forest was something that was beyond one man many years removed from the countryside and city rooms of Indiana.

So he organized a "Claude Mahoney day" on his 10 acres. Once a year he invites the 87 people who work at radio station WTOP to pick up an axe and come out to visit him—on a wood—cutting spree.

Plan Has Drawbacks

You can lay low a lot of trees that way, the announcer said. But it also has its drawbacks.

"They love to do the he-man stuff like axing and sawing and yelling 'timber.' But once a tree falls, there she lays. I've got to do all of the sawing later. Fran and I love it, though. We always have a lot of fun."

The Mahoneys have built a lovely ranch-type house, "which doesn't ramble enough to be a 'rambler.' It is anti-everything. Well, almost everything. No leaks, weather proof—rat proof."

The Mahoney's have mice.

Claude is blowing off steam, for sure, about that.

Arthur H. Smith Is Named New Principal

Arthur H. Smith, sixth grade teacher and recreation supervisor at George R. Bean school for the past year, was named principal of Bean school Friday afternoon by Superintendent R. W. Matthews at a meeting of all principals in the Lubbock school system.

One minute of silence was observed at the opening of the principal's meeting in memory to W. Kary Mahtis, principal of Bean school since it opened in 1939 and a teacher in the Lubbock system for twelve years, Mathis had been present at the monthly meeting in October, Matthews said.

Smith received his bachelor of science degree from East Texas State Teacher's college in 1934 and his master of science degree from the same college in 1941. He was principal of South Ward in Breckenridge before coming to Lubbock.

Radar Used For Recording Swift Topographic Surveys

DALLAS, Nov. 18. (AP)—Canada has used radar extensively and successfully in making speedy topographic surveys over rough country.

B. I. McCaffrey of Toronto explained how the method was used by his country to more than 700 geophysicists and geologists meeting here. His report was one of nine heard yesterday at the meeting sponsored by geophysical societies here, in Fort Worth, Tulsa and Shreveport. Ten more papers were to be given today.

McCaffrey said "the technique employs an aircraft flying at constant pressure height above sea level. While a radar altimiter measures the terrain clearance below, the radar signals between the plane and ground are recorded, and a permanent scale drawing of the ground elevation profile is obtained."

Chambers Testimony Opens Hiss Trial

"Starts the Day on the South Plains"
LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE
Lubbock, Texas, Saturday, November 19, 1949

OFF FOR HOLLYWOOD — Brownfield's 1949 Harvest Queen, Miss Ann Snedeker, left, and two companions, Mrs. J. E. (Buddy) Gillham, center, and Mrs. Hiram Parks, top right, left Lubbock via Continental Airlines Friday for Hollywood, Calif. The trip is an award of the Brownfield Rotary club, which sponsors the annual Harvest Festival. An eventful week is in store for the pretty Brownfield High school senior on her visit to filmland. Today, she will witness the UCLA-USC grid game in the Los Angeles Coliseum. She will be entertained by both Paramount and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios and will make appearances on three radio programs next week, "Queen for a Day" on Wednesday; "Bride and Groom" on Thursday and "Breakfast in Hollywood" on Friday. On the Queen and bride and groom broadcasts, she will present the queen and bride with sheets and pillow cases, made from "Brownfield" cotton. Miss Snedeker's candidacy was sponsored by the Brownfield Lions club and Mrs. Gillham was her manager. Mrs. Parks, wife of a Lubbock and Brownfield theater owner, aided in arranging for the Hollywood appearances. Miss Snedeker had a choice of four trips—Hollywood, New York City, Honolulu and Cuba. The trio will return here by plane next Sunday. (Staff Photo.)

Witness Claims Early Meeting

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Whittaker Chambers said today he met former State department official Alger Hiss in 1934 when he—Chambers—was a Communist spy ring courier and "a better Communist than Stalin."

Chambers was called to the stand as the star witness against Hiss in the opening day of the one-time top government official's second trial for perjury growing out of charges by Chambers that Hiss gave the espionage ring secret government papers.

Real 'Leak' Hinted

Chief Defense Attorney Claude B. Cross strongly hinted in his opening address to the jury that the defense may contend that the real State department "leak" was Henry Julian Wadleigh who has admitted turning over such documents.

Chambers said that he was introduced to Hiss by two leading Communists in Washington, D.C., in either June or July of 1934. He identified the top Communists as Harold Ware and J. Peters, then head of the Communist underground.

The former magazine editor quoted Peters as saying that "Hiss was to be disconnected from the Ware apparatus and that he was to become a member of the parallel organization which I was then organizing."

Chambers said Ware was the organizer of the Communist underground in the nation's capital.

Chambers was forced to repeat much of the testimony of Hiss's first trial which ended in a hung jury last July, eight-to-four for conviction. Hiss is charged with having lied twice to a New York grand jury on his connections with Chambers.

In their earlier statements to the eight-woman, four-man jury, both Cross and Prosecutor Thomas F. Murphy emphasized that the crucial issue in the trial is who can be believed—Hiss or Chambers?

Murphy told the jury that the only point on which they have to decide in the current trial is:

"Did (Hiss) lie?"

MAN IS ACQUITTED

EDINBURG, Nov. 18 (AP) — Loren E. Rosson, 22, of Weslaco, was acquitted tonight of charges of murder in the fatal shooting of his father-in-law, Cecil Rutherford, 45. The case went to the jury late today after five days of trial. The jury was out an hour and 18 minutes.

Drop Reported In Area Jobless

A drop from 700 to 600 this month in the number of unemployed persons in the Lubbock locality Friday was construed as an "encouraging indication that the economic situation is balanced and sound," a report by B. T. O'Connell, manager of the Lubbock district office of the Texas Employment commission, said.

The decline in unemployment this month is a by-product of the harvest season and is seasonal in nature, O'Connell explained.

Slight Boost Seen

"It is very likely that a slight increase in unemployment will be seen by Dec. 1, because by that time workers will be returning from the cotton harvest and will again be seeking employment in non-agricultural industries. Unless non-agricultural establishments step up their hiring for the Christmas season, unemployment may increase rapidly during December to reach a possible 950 or 1,000 by the first of the year," O'Connell said.

At mid-November the total non-agricultural employment in the Lubbock labor market area was estimated at 25,400, a net decrease of 350 or 1.4 per cent. The decrease was caused chiefly by withdrawal of a large number of workers from non-agricultural employment to work in the cotton market.

Although isolated cases of hardship caused by the lack of unskilled workers have been reported, this action has had no crippling effect on local industry, TEC officials say.

Employment in non-agricultural establishments has held its own so far during the harvest season with some slight increase; however, fewer extra employes have been hired for the fall trade than in the past few years. The only possible explanation appears to be that the buyer is more conservative about spending his money than in previous seasons.

Reports from employers to TEC research workers reflect less than the usual optimism on the volume of fall trade despite the bumper crop, it was reported.

Although Lubbock is considered normally a balanced area as far as demand and supply are concerned, the demand and supply come nearer meeting at mid-November than at any other time during the year,

Tests Are Underway On Dawson Well

Wildcat Is Slated In Cochran County

R. E. Williams and S. L. Parham of Midland No. 1 C. R. Starnes is to be a 5,200-foot wildcat in Central Cochran county, nine and one-half miles south of Lehman.

The venture will be slightly more than one and one-half miles south of Lion Oil Company No. 1 Masten, recently completed three-quarter mile southwest extension to production from the San Andres in the Levelland field.

No. 1 Starnes will be 660 feet from north and east lines of section 23, Harrison and Brown survey.

DRILLSTEM TEST TAKEN ON DAWSON WILDCAT

Reagan J. Caraway of Dallas No. 1 Loe, Northwest Dawson county wildcat, seven miles northwest of Lamesa, took a drillstem test in the Spraberry sandy lime at 7,395-7,411 feet.

There was a blow of air throughout the test. The tool was originally open for one hour. Apparently it closed at the end of that time. An effort was made to re-open it and it appeared to have stayed open for 20 minutes, after the re-setting.

Recovery was 220 feet of gas cut drilling mud.

The venture was deepened to The venture was deepened to 7,482 feet in sandy lime. The section at 7,400-18 feet showed flouresence It is understood that another drillstem test is to be run.

The exploration is 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 12, league 3, Taylor County School Land survey. It was originally started to dig to 10,500 feet to explore into the Pennsylvanian.

NEW VENTURE IS SLATED IN NORTH CENTRAL SCURRY

The Texas Company has staked its No. 1 P. L. Fuller as a three-quarter mile northeast outpost to the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county.

Contracted to drill to around 7,000 feet to test the Canyon reef lime, No. 1 Fuller will be 467 from south and west lines of section 497, block 97, H&TC survey. The venture is located on the southwest edge of Texaco's Fuller Ranch block.

Operations are to begin in the near future.

On the southwest side of the North Snyder field, Magnolia Petroleum has made location for two ventures, both of which are to drill to 7,000 feet.

The company's No. 3 P. J. Collins will be 467 feet from south and west lines of tract 16, section 19, block 1, J. P. Smith survey. It is three miles north of Snyder.

The other project is to be Magnolia's No. 4 P. J. Collins. The drill site for that exploration is 467 feet from south and east lines of tract 16, section 19, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Claud B. Hamill of Houston No. 3 Lois Sears Sentell has been staked is a 7,000-foot operation on the southeast side of the North Snyder field.

The development will be 467 feet from north and 1,686.9 feet from west lines of the lease in section 26, block 1, J. P. Smith survey. It is six miles north of Snyder.

SHOW IS INDICATED ON NEW SCURRY WILDCAT

Standard-Fryer Drilling Company No. 1 York, central Scurry county wildcat, in the northwest side of the Snyder townsite, and about two miles east of the closest completed oil wells in the Kelley field, topped the Canyan reef lime at 6,730 feet, on an elevation of 2,346 feet.

That gives it a datum of minus 4,384 feet. The project is bottomed at 6,759 feet in the lime and was fishing for tools. It is understood that as soon as the junk is removed from the hole that a drillstem test will probably be run.

The samples from the section of the reef so far drilled show good indications of production.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 180, block 3, H&GN survey.

WELL NEAR SNYDER TO BE TESTED AND COMPLETED

Skelly Oil Company No. 1 Harrall, on the northeast side of the original Kelly field, three and one-half miles northwest of Snyder and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 250, block 97, H&TC survey, was bottomed at 6,772 feet in the Canyon reef lime and is preparing to cement casing at

Kidnap Attempt Is Thwarted

Several attempts by unknown persons to molest women and children were reported to officials here Friday.

One of the reports, which involved the attempted kidnapping of a 14-year-old gypsy girl, reached the sheriff's department here shortly after midnight Friday morning after the girl's father had chased the suspects from Brownfield to Lubbock in a car.

The man, Auther Joe Mitchell, related that four men in a large dark car drove up to a trailer which he, an employe of the American Midway show, occupies with his family at Brownfield.

An attempt was made to pull the girl, Helen, into the car. She screamed, and Mitchell ran to her assistance.

The largest man of the four struck Mitchell down with a pistol. The men raced away in their car toward Lubbock.

Mitchell said he regained consciousness momentarily lost and that he took his wife Katherine, his son Dewey, and his daughter into his automobile and chased the other car all the way into Lubbock.

He said he lost trace of it at Nineteenth and College Ave.

Identity Of Suspects Unknown

Brownfield authorities, who heard Mitchell's story after his return to that city early Friday, said they had uncovered no leads to the identity of the suspects.

The other offenses occurred here.

A woman living in 250-block Ruby went to her home Thursday night, opened the front door and started to step inside.

Someone reached out of the darkness inside the house and attempted to draw her in.

She broke loose and ran. The woman ran to the place where her husband is employed, and he called officials to investigate. Whoever had been in the house was gone when they arrived.

A blond curly-haired man driving a black sedan attempted to molest young girls in 600-block Thirteenth Thursday afternoon, calls to investigators said.

The district attorney's office said that Troy Knight, under indictment here on a charge that he swindled E. W. Millsap Aug. 20 by $500 check for an automobile, had posted bond in Amarillo.

Lubbock Farmers To Elect Officers Today

Annual election of officers of the Lubbock County Farm bureau will be conducted in a meeting this afternoon starting at 1 o'clock in the district courtroom on the third floor of the courthouse.

The bureau has a membership of more than 400 farmers, Glenn Hackney, who has served as president the past two years, said Friday. A. B. Allen, Woodrow, is vice-president; and M. H. Kinard, Roosevelt, is secretary.

In addition to new officers, three delegates to attend the state convention at Dallas, Nov. 21-23, will also be selected in today's meeting, Hackney said.

Walter Wells, secretary of the Production and Marketing administration for Lubbock county, will give advance information on the cotton allotment program for 1950 as one of the features of the program.

Passage of resolutions will also be made during the meeting, Hackney said.

Dr. Travis White, pastor of First Christian church, is president of the ministerial association. Members of the program committee are Dr. J. Ralph Grant, First Baptist church; the Rev. H. H. Bratcher, St. John's Methodist, and Mrs. Sieberg.

Crosby Road Project Given Lubbock Firm

CROSBYTON, Nov. 18. (Special) — Meeting in special session today, the Crosby county commissioners court gave the green light to a 17-mile farm-to-market road improvement project by awarding the engineering contract to Hasie and Green Engineering company of Lubbock.

The road project will be financed by part of a $300,000 bond issue recently carried by Crosby county voters.

County Judge Emzy Pierratt and County Commissioners Cecil Berry of Crosbyton, Joe M. Jackson of Cone, Leilan Caddell of Ralls and R. N. Keith of Ralls were present for the called meeting, as was County Clerk Lewis H. Benton.

DOCTOR SMITH:

Credit To Mankind

THE community can consider itself blessed which has a "family doctor" of the type personified by Dr. George V. Smith, of Floydada, to whom his fellow townsmen and friends joined in tribute the other day.

Fortunately, most towns and cities still have his prototypes, although not in anything like the numbers of relatively a few years ago. The "family doctor" has not disappeared, but his ranks are thinning, as medical practicioners lean more and more to specialization—and this does not imply criticism of the specialist. They unquestionably have contributed much toward the prolongation of lives and the alleviation of suffering by reason of their specialized knowledge of particular ailments.

Even so, the specialists—or the ultra-modern internicists—are rare who can achieve a place in the affections of a community which compares with that of the family doctor who, to most of his patients, symbolizes not only the sum total of medical science, but a great deal more. He ushers them in the world, tends their ailments along life's way, often is their confidential adviser in the most intimate of personal matters and, at the end, eases and comforts their passing to the best of his ability.

Men like Doctor Smith undoubtedly could acquire more of the world's goods with infinitely less work, in fields other than those implied by the term, "family doctor." But we doubt whether Dr. George V. Smith could have found more in terms of love, confidence, respect, and satisfaction anywhere upon earth than in Floyd county where he has practiced since 1908.

For whatever Doctor Smith may have sacrificed, he has gained infinitely more—gains beyond the possibility of evaluation in dollars. They are treasures imbedded in the heart which are beyond price—which the highest-priced specialists in the finest hospitals in the biggest cities have reasons to envy.

Men like Doctor Smith are more than a credit to a single profession. They are a credit to mankind.

Reds And Schools

THE preferred practice of Communists is to establish themselves in power in a nation by swift, and usually violent, methods. But they can strive patiently toward their goal when necessity compels.

Several incidents recently indicate they have adopted the patient approach in their maneuvering for power in the U. S. Specifically, the evidence indicates they are attempting to strike at our nation through the children in our schools.

They are attempting to sneak propaganda into the libraries of public schools—an attempt which was unsuccessful insofar as the Lubbock High school is concerned. In other areas they have lodged violent protests from many radical sources against the states and communities which have acted to bar Communists from their teaching faculties. The violence of the protests suggests the Reds are being checkmated in a systematic effort to get their disciples into the schools where they could teach the doctrines of Communism to impressionable youth.

The recent incidents are strongly indicative that the Communists are looking far down the line in the United States in the hope of achieving with our children the enthronement in power which is beyond their hope of realization now.

They are experiences which sound warning that, to protect the nation—and perhaps the world—from Communism in the future, we must protect our schools from Red infiltrations now.

It's a battle between left and right wings. It seems that it is not fashionable any more to go down the middle of the road.

Many a rubber check artist is given a stretch.

Too Young To Read The Signs

The Cameo

By VIRGINIA TEALE
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: A valuable cameo in the possession of Nell O'Neill has for an undisclosed reason been turned over to Martin Falter, rather unscrupulous artist, and now Nell must get it back. She has a chance to sell it to Andrey Yakov, a Russian collector. Calling at Falter's place, they find him out, but later they see him in company with Tom O'Neill, Nell's husband. Nell and Yakov, meanwhile, go to the Three Wishes Gift Shop to see the cameo collection of Hagar Blair.)

VI

ANDREY YAKOV was Tom O'Neill's latest trophy for his creative people collection. He had met Yakov at the local art gallery and had borne him home to exhibit to Nell and the pseudo-Bohemians and artists who usually had shown as his had been slavishly received by Tom and his satellites.

Yakov turned his head slightly and smiled at Nell.

"I have heard from many people about this wonderful warm coast where one could work congenially among fellow artists." His narrow mustache curved genially, "Like you and your husband. You were of the ballet, were you not?"

"Not exactly. I did a kind of interpretive dancing, American, you know."

"But your mother? She was a Russian ballerina?"

"How did you know that?"

"Did you not tell me? Or our good Tom, perhaps?"

"Oh, I guess it was Tom."

Her mother's talents were the one thing she'd been able to throw back at him when he jeered at Nell's dancing years. He'd said, of course, that he didn't believe her story, but evidently that hadn't prevented him from raving to Yakov about it. Perversely, now, Nell felt cheated. She had looked forward to making a quite a fabulous tale out of it.

Andrey interrupted her thoughts:

"That is the place just ahead, is it not?" The Three Wishes Shop of Hagar Blair?"

Nell leaned forward, "Yes."

As Yakov negotiated the turn into the driveway, Nell glanced through the big windows of the store.

"There's Hagar Blair," she said, "and Miss Smith, the girl who works for her. And there's Arnold Pfieffer—that little worm Tom tried to speak to when we started out."

Yakov consulted his watch: "We are just in time. It is not quite 30 minutes past 5 o'clock."

NELL O'NEILL preceded Andrey Yakov into the shop of Hagar Blair. The trio clustering around the cameo collection cabinet looked up with varying attitudes, none of them cordial.

"Hello Hagar." Nell nodded to the other two: "Miss Smith, Arnold." Reaching back, she tugged Yakov forward by his sleeve, "This is Andrey Yakov, the distinguished Russian artist. He asked to meet you, Hagar, he's heard about your cameo collection and he wants to see it. He's a collector himself."

Arnold Pfieffer hastily transferred a glittering object from the glass top of the case to the dark velvet interior of a silver box.

Yakov was at his side instantly. "Ah! Another cameo!"

With a frantic gesture, Arnold snatched up the box. He fumbled and it fell to the floor, the cameo dropped out and slithered into a pool of light against the iron leg of an Italian torchiere.

There was a moment's awed silence, then a general surge forward. Arnold reached the spot first, he dropped to his knees, gingerly picked up the pin and inspected it worriedly.

Nell, Hagar, Yakov and Stephenie peered intently over his shoulder.

From his croushing position, Arnold glanced up at their faces: "Nothing's broken," he announced.

Hagar moved backward, stooped and retrieved the box.

"May I look now, if you please?" Yakov extended his hand.

Arnold looked confused. With an almost mechanical gesture, Arnold placed the pin in Andrey Yakov's palm.

Stephanie stepped forward with a gesture of protest. Yakov's eyes challenged her, she paused, and he deliberately turned his back on her and bent over the jewel he held.

Nell grasped his elbow and whispered urgently: "That's it! That's my cameo!"

Arnold scrambled to his feet. "I heard you, Nell O'Neill. You're lying—that cameo belongs to Martin Falter."

She whirled on him with a venomous glance: "It belongs to me!"

"But I am going to buy it," Hagar interrupted. "So, it's as good as mine."

WHEN Yakov gave Nell an encouraging nod, she drew herself to her full height and said:

"It's my cameo. I may sell it, or I may not. And, if I sell it, there are several interested buyers."

Arnold Pfieffer, with catlike swiftness, snatched the cameo out of Yakov's open hand. His eyes flashed defiance above his trembling chin and he darted over to stand behind Hagar.

She reached around and gave him the box.

Yakov's first movement was an involuntary one of pursuit, but he seemed to change his mind and now stood quietly.

"We must decide who is the owner before we decide who will be the buyer. I am speaking frankly, Miss Blair, when I say that I intend to be the buyer!"

"No!" The word came explosively from Stephanie.

Yakov turned to her with an attitude of polite interest: "The young lady says 'no'?"

Hagar gave him a triumphant smirk. "The young lady says 'no.' And the old lady says 'no.' The cameo has been offered to me at a price. I have an option on it, you might say."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

EXPRESSING the suspicion that I wrote it with "tongue firmly planted in one cheek," the managing editor of one of the newspapers that publish my column takes issue with my statements about women as politicians.

The editor's identity shall remain anonymous.

BRANDEIS

He is a friend of mine and I don't want to see him ostracized by the ladies of his community.

I shall not even give the name of the city in which his paper is published. I don't want a lot of angry women from other places to invade his sanctum and tear him to pieces.

Idon't want his wife to divorce him, his daughters to speak to him no longer.

I don't want his wife to divorce letter.

"I have the highest regard for the female of the species," he writes, "but I question seriously . . . and the record seems to bear me out . . . that women have the cleansing influence on politics which you ascribe to them. The women, God bless them, have had the ballot for many years and have done little or nothing to purge politics of its innate trickery and corruption.

AFTER RECENT DISPUTE

Labor Solution Seen

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The lack of unity among the unions and corporations which contributed to settlement of the steel strike will strengthen Senator Robert A. Taft's demand for a Taft-Hartley amendment barring resort to collective bargaining on a mass industry basis. It may be the solution of the threatening problem presented by struggles involving big business and big labor.

TUCKER

The feud between John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers and CIO President Philip Murray blocked the coal and steel workers from organizing a united front during their simultaneous strikes.

Had Mr. Murray pooled his interests with John L. at the latter's request, depriving the mills of both raw materials and furnace fuel for an indefinite period, they might have won the dispute on their own terms. But when labor leaders fell out, it was easier to reach a settlement.

RAISES: William Green's standoffish attitude also helped. While his rivals were battling over pensions, he quietly obtained wage raises for his craft organizations through direct dealing with individual plants.

He expects Congress to increase Social Security payments so that his men will eventually obtain the same or comparable benefits with those which Messrs. Murray and Lewis have won through direct action methods.

SPLIT: Corporate jealousies and struggles for profits prevented the steel magnates and coal operators from staging what had been heralded as a last-ditch showdown with organized labor on every front. Ironically, their split-up demolished the Murray argument that the House of Morgan, financier for many of the companies involved, was the hidden villain of the drama.

Eugene Grace and Arthur Homer of Bethlehem have been only waiting the opportune moment to get back at Benjamin Fairless of U. S. Steel and George M. Humphrey of Pittsburg Consolidated Coal for their surrender to Mr. Lewis in 1947, which involved the captive coal mines.

In that year Fairless and Humphrey granted the miners' boss a 31-cents-an-hour wage-pension increase. Since they had just settled with Mr. Murry on a basis of fifteen cents an hour, the discrepancy forced the CIO to demand welfare benefits this year in order to keep pace with John L.

SATISFACTION: The fact is that the great corporations do not work together any more than the mass labor unions do. In May of 1948, for instance, General Motors gave a two-year cost-of-living contract and an eleven-cents-an-hour raise to Walter Reuther's auto workers in the midst of the Chrysler strike. The latter company, of course, then had to capitulate.

So, when the moment for retaliation came, Bethlehem took the lead by coming to terms with Mr. Murray in the recent strike, followed by Republic, Jones & Laughlin and smaller firms. As a result, U. S. Steel had to fall in line.

Thus the tentative Taft proposal may suit everybody concerned. Bargaining with individual corporations enabled the unions to gain most of their demands in steel. It permitted the mills to resume operations in a period of heavy orders. It gave President Truman the satisfaction of not having to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act to bring industrial peace.

LOGIC: Another factor lends support to the demand for individual rather than mass bargaining in key industries.

Several steel companies, including Bethlehem and Inland, already had a pension plan similar to that which President Truman's fact-finding committee recommended. It had been obtained by Mr. Murray through separate agreements with them. Therefore, they saw no reason why they should take the rap in an effort to help U. S. Steel escape a similar financial burden.

Thus, if the public gets its coal and steel when union leaders and corporation moguls fall out, it strikes many members of Congress as legislative logic to solidify the separation by law.

BUFFETED: Although John L. is too shrewd and too resourceful an operator to write him off as a forceful influence in the American labor movement, his fortunes were never so low as at this moment. Within a single week, he has been so buffeted that there are few to do him the homage he once enjoyed as a labor statesman and power.

His hated rival, Mr. Murray, had won where he had failed. The Supreme Court upheld the $1,420,000 fine against himself and the UMW. Senator Styles Bridges resigned as a director of the Lewis welfare fund with charges that it had been dissipated through bad management. His miners and their wives complained bitterly against lack of money for food, rent, clothes and Christmas presents for their children, due to his insistence on a strike.

Even nature soured on him. High temperatures reduced coal consumption through October and early November. Dwindling traffic permitted railroads to cancel schedules. Increased industrial use of oil, natural gas and water power enabled many factories to keep open. As a result, even after two months of closed mines, there was a thirty days' supply on hand, though distributed spottily, on November 1.

It looks as if the "lone wolf" may regret his loneliness and his wolfishness.

Famous last words: "There is no use to lose time by stopping at railroad crossings."

There is nothing that helps jangled nerves like being able to jingle money in your pocket.

Samson had great strength. But he never tested it on a zipper fastener that wouldn't work.

There is always activity. One has to be on the move in order to keep u with the Joneses.

Defense Spending To Continue

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The American people might as well learn the cold truth so they may face it calmly.

This is that heavy military expenditures are going to continue for some time. That means continued high taxes.

As a preface, it is pointed out that our position has been improved considerably in Europe by Marshall Plan aid which has bolstered the economies of Western European nations, our allies, and, to the same degree, has weakened Communism and Russia's position. This is supplemented now by the billion dollars of military aid voted by Congress at its last session for these same Western European nations to implement the Atlantic pact.

STOKES

Dispute Still Rages

But the "cold war" with Russia still has not abated and requires continued large military appropriations, in the opinion of the administration, both for ourselves and to a much smaller degree for Western Europe, as well as continued large sums for Marshall Plan assistance.

This is the consideration with which civilian officials charged with foreign policy and the top military command are confronted as they proceed now to work out details of next year's budget to be submitted to Congress early in January. The aim is to achieve a balance that will not be too burdensome, yet cannot but be heavy.

IN GENERAL councils on policy, the military has been compelled to take a moderated approach. Army, Navy and Air Force would each like more money than they will be allotted, which is traditionally the case. They wanted considerably more this year than they got.

They must be content with enough to provide what, in current terminology, is called "relative security" rather than the "absolute security" which is always the military ideal. Factors in both the domestic economy and foreign policy are persuasive here and it can be said that the top military command has come to appreciate their importance.

Paramount is the very simple axiom that no nation is stronger than its economy. It is realized that unduly excessive military expenditures, requiring continued deficit financing over a protracted period, could imperil the domestic economy. A collapse in this country is just what the Russians hope for. It would weaken our position all over the world as well as cause distress among our own people. Russia would exploit it to the limit.

Top military officials also see the wisdom of continuing Marshall Plain aid to restore Western Europe and strengthen those nations so they are better able to defend themselves—and they are our first line of defense—and to cut down proportionately on direct military expenditures for ourselves. On top of that is military aid to Western Europe. It is estimated that Western European nations will spend five or six dollars for their own defense for every dollar expended by us for them.

Must Continue Policy

Yet the objective of "relative security," of itself, will continue to be expensive, and it is contended that to "preserve the peace" deficit financing may be necessary for a time, as it became necessary this year.

A domestic political issue is involved in "spending" which affects President Truman.

Henceforth it is expected that he will emphasize the relative portion of our budget that goes for the "cold war" and past wars—for defense, for foreign aid, both economic and military, and for such standing charges as veterans' care and interest on the war debt. In our current budget this eats up 76 percent of the total.

THIS emphasis will be for two reasons. One is that the people must be convinced of how much is necessary for their security, so that it will not be endangered in confused general charges of "spending." The second is that the administration wants to protect the relatively minor amount that is allotted to social welfare services, as well as for regular costs of government, so they will not be reduced beyond what is considered essential by singling them out as a major factor in "spending," which they are not at all, of course, but as they are often falsely represented for political campaign purposes. There is an important political campaign next year.

For such services to the people are necessary, themselves, to preserve a balanced national economy and one free from frictions and strains that cause discontent.

Britain Appeals To Russians For Sincere Attempt At UN Agreement

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Britain, after warning Russia the time for agreement between East and West is running out, is making another effort to see if something can be done about it.

She is undoubtedly acting in full concert with American policy, and in accord with desires of the smaller members of the UN who are showing increasing irritation over power plays of the great nations.

Hector McNeill made a fervent and possibly final appeal to Vishinsky Wednesday in a speech at Lake Success. Why doesn't Vishinsky convince the Kremlin the west has no evil designs on Russia, McNeill asked.

Minister States Plea

The British minister of state probably came as close as anyone to expressing the almost despairing plea of western peoples, "Why can't Russia see that we'd just like to go about our business? Why can't she see the profits to be gained from world cooperation? Why can't she see that her actions are merely hardening the heart of the world against her? Why can't she see?"

Then on Thursday McNeill took a page from the book of the committee of the American Friends society which has recommended that small issues with Russia be explored to see if agreements on them might be made and, through their observance, lead to mutual trust in the search for larger settlements.

Austria Treaty Urged

He is believed to have suggested to Vishinsky that an Austrian peace treaty, faithfully observed in both spirit and letter, might be such a bridge.

There is no indication of how far he got. The barriers are wide and high. Many times the Soviets have agreed to agree, but the final upshot has been demands which were wholly unacceptable to the West, no matter how small the issue.

There are many indications that Russia has no intention to make war. But there can be no doubt that she is deliberately continuing the cold war.

Russia has been careful not to go too far. But she has shown not the slightest intention of fundamental change. Fundamental change would involve the heart of Bolshevism itself. The day for that seems far off.

Young Escape Artist Jailed In Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Nov. 18 (U.P.)—Billy Wayne Jones, a 14-year-old Houdini, was in jail today but he vowed "they won't keep me here another 24 hours."

Texarkana police who collared Jones as he hid in a closet in an apartment next to his home last night said that he would "stay put" in his cell until Nashville, Ark. authorities pick him up on charges of taking $580 from a safe and stealing two cars there.

The young escape artist made good a similar boast Nov. 9 after he was encircled by officers on flat prairie land near the little Harris county town of Addicks.

At that time he was warned to "come out with your hands up." He retorted that he was "long gone from here." Jones broke away from the posse and ran four miles before he was captured, outdistancing an officer on a horse during the chase.

Youth Predicts Escape

It was then that he told Harris county Probation Officer J. W. Hill that he would "get away in less than 24 hours."

Although Hill handcuffed him, Jones later slipped through a car door, turned a somersault and escaped in the darkness.

Texarkana officers were tipped off yesterday that young Jones had been seen in a bowling alley. When police reached the alley, they learned he had gone to his home in a taxicab.

Jones' mother was not at home and when the youth found the doors locked, he went into the adjacent apartment, where police found him in the closet.

"He gave up peacefully because he knew we had him," an arresting officer said. "Our men held on to him until we put him behind bars. We didn't take any chances on his making another break."

Looking At Life

do not marry or who lose their husbands, a career is, of course, desirable . . . BUT NOT IN POLITICS! Women are not constitutionally suited for political life. Comparatively few women are successful executives, and of these few only the most unusual can win the confidence of other women . ."

There is more and then a "P. S. "My secretary, who took dictation on this outburst, does not agree with me . . . of course."

I showed the letter to my wife. "What do you think of it?" I asked. Here is her reply:

"Tell your editor friend that if men had to cook, keep house, darn their wives' socks and look after the children, maybe they wouldn't do any better than the women have done in politics."

First Woman Head Of Tech Exes Elected In Hereford

HEREFORD, Nov. 18. (Spl.)—The first woman ever to be elected president of a Texas Tech Ex-Student's association chapter has been chosen in an organizational meeting here attended by 20 persons.

Mrs. Homer Brumley, a Hereford housewife, was elected president by the group. She was a member of the 1935 class at Tech and was Miss Alice Elizabeth Montfort before her marriage.

The newly-organized group made plans for their second meeting to be held in January 1950, after electing J. A. McWhorter, local farmer, vice-president; Mrs. Faust Collier, Hereford teacher, treasurer; and Phyllis Redovich, secretary.

Ten-Mile Wire Fence To Be Built Along Mexican Border

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—A 10-mile wire fence will be built along the Mexican border to guard against influx of infected cattle from Mexico and general loss of straying cattle.

This notification was received today by the county board of supervisors from International Boundary Commissioner L. M. Lawson of El Paso.

The fence would extend from the Pacific ocean to the mountains east of Otay mesa in San Diego county. Excluded until more funds become available would be an 11,500 section across the Tijuana river valley, Lawson informed the supervisors.

Officer Explains Air Force Organization To Group Here

Air reserve members of the 9172nd VART group were brought up to date on the organization of the Air Force and were given a report on efforts to whip supply problems in case of war at a meeting Thursday night in the Tech military science building.

Lt. James H. Clem, of Tech ROTC training unit, outlined the assignment of Air Force commands to various parts of the U. S. and their functions, including those of smaller units. He also explained the new chain of command at top levels.

Lt. Col. James W. Postlewaite reviewed the latest achievements in handling Air Force material. He recently returned from a two-weeks tour of duty at Brookley Air Force base, Alabama, where government, business and military experts on supply problems were guests lecturers.

Attendance of approximately 50 men was almost double that of the first meeting on October 6. Lt. Col. Harlan A. Hodges, group commander, presided. Capt. James H. Ackley, 12th AF liaison officer, El Paso, was also present.

Petitions Urge New Lamb Courthouse

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 18 (Special)—Petitions are being circulated in some sections of Lamb county asking that the county commissioners call a bond election to finance construction of a new courthouse and jail.

Earth, Sudan and other towns in the county were reported to be circulating petitions.

Proponents of the plan to build a new courthouse point out that jurors now have to sleep on the floor, that the jail is totally inadequate and all county officials' offices are crowded. In addition, facilities for safekeeping records in the county clerk's office are said limited.

Proponents believe the bonds could be voted and sold without further increases in taxes or tax valuations, and want to vote the issue now while low interest rates are available.

The annual payroll of the American oil industry is estimated at $5,600,000,000.

Final Services Conducted For Mrs. Beulah H. Moore, Lamesa

LAMESA, Nov. 18 (Special)—Funeral rites for Mrs. Beulah H. Moore, 81, were held at 3 p. m. today in the Lamesa Church of Christ. Paul McClung, minister of the church, officiated.

Mrs. Moore, a resident of Lamesa for the past 22 years, died here suddenly Tuesday.

Plastic surgery was practiced by the ancient Egyptians.

in the near future, selling building products in Lubbock territory. This is strictly a commission job, but a good one. Pays to $4000 to $6000 per year. Write immediately to BOX 25, AVALANCHE

CAN YOU STAND PROSPERITY?
We would have no opening in our organization were it not that a number of representatives who came to us from other fields are not used to cash earnings of $600 to $1200 monthly. They have to take time off to spend the surplus. We would like to interview a few sober, industrious salesmen with family income. To those selected, we can offer unlimited immediate earnings and an opportunity for executive responsibilities.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP) — A small-scale buying movement was enough to record gains ranging to around a cent in major grains on the board of trade today. All cereals participated in the upturn with the market featured by a lack of selling pressure.

Export business in corn, and the possibility of some developing in wheat, served as the spark to set off the buying. There also was an unconfirmed rumor that the federal crop insurance corporation might buy red wheat, which has acted as a drag on prices here.

Wheat closed ⅞-1⅝ higher, December $2.11¼-½, corn was 1 to 1⅞ higher, December $1.22⅝-¾, oats were ⅜-¾ higher, December 74⅜, rye was 2¾ to 3 cents higher, December $1.33½-⅝, soybeans were 2 to 2¾ higher, November $9.75.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 18 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard, 2.31¼-37½.

MARKET ACTIVITY PUSHED

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP)—A fresh surge of buying power drove the stock market forward today in one of the fastest sessions of the year.

Automobile issues were again heavy favorites. Demand spilled over into other groups, including rails, steels, utilities, chemicals, and a wide variety of industrial stocks.

Leading shares advanced fractions to more than a point and the general price level stopped just short of the 1949 high established on Nov. 2.

Sales piled up to 1,690,000 shares from 1,410,000 Thursday. This compared with the high of the year of 1,850,000 shares established on March 30.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .7 of one point to 68.5 in the snappiest rise since late September. The industrial group showed the largest gain, followed by the rails and utilities in that order. The industrial and utility sections were within shaving distance of their 1949 highs while rails had a little further to go.

The market hit a high for the year thus far, and a high since Nov. 1 last year, on Nov. 2. Since then the price level gently sagged up to mid-week and Wall Street quarters freely predicted the market was heading into prolonged selling squalls.

In the past three days the quoted value of all stocks listed on the exchange has been boosted around $1,500,000,000.

Automobile stocks have dominted the current rally with Chrysler outstanding in the group. Chrysler today jumped 1¼ points to 60. Strength in Chrysler has been linked with rumors the company's board might vote a year-end dividend at a meeting scheduled for Dec. 1.

General Motors advanced ¾ to 66½ and Studebaker tacked on a ⅛-point gain at 27. Packard moved independently for a loss of ⅛ at 3¾.

An extra 50-cent dividend helped lift General Electric 1⅛ to 40⅛. Du Pont moved up 1½ to 63¼.

American Power and Light, most active issue, moved up ¼ to 13¾. The company's $6 preferred bounded 2⅛ to 118 and the $5 issue 1⅜ to 99⅛.

Radio and television stocks, which have been in the trading doghouse recently, came back into favor. Radio Corp. advanced ½ to 12⅞ and Zenith 1⅝ to 29¾. Up fractionally were Admiral and Emerson.

Rails wobbled a bit for a while but late strengthened. Fractionally ahead were Santa Fe, Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, and Southern Pacific.

Others higher included Greyhound, General Public Utilities, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Lockheed, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, Standard Oil (NJ) and Gulf Oil.

Backing down for fractional losses were Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, and U. S. Gypsum.

Higher in the curb were Humble Oil, Colt's Mfg., Argus Inc., American Republics, Technicolor, Raytheon Mfg., and McCord Corp.

Lower were Cities Service, Creole Petroleum, Ogden Corp., and Mead Johnson. Sales of 480,000 shares compared with 470,000 Thursday.

Corporate bonds improved over a broad front. U. S. government slipped a trifle after tending higher in over-the-counter dealings.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP) — Cotton futures were steady in early dealings on aggressive mill buying and short covering. Hedge selling and liquidation in nearby December later developed in greater volume, with the market losing most of its gain.

Renewed active buying in textiles and growing tightness in the supply of good quality cotton in the free market influenced some buying.

Futures closed 15 cent as bale lower to 10 cents higher than the previous close.

Top of the Canyon reef was picked at 6,638 feet, to give it a datum of minus 4,213 feet. The pay section was cored. That zone showed that it will be completed as a producer.

TWO NEW PRODUCERS COMPLETED IN SCURRY

Two new producers have been completed in Scurry county from the Canyon lime reef, one in the North Snyder field and one in the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field.

Lipscomb & DeLange No. 4 A. L. Wren, in the North Snyder field, flowed through a one-quarter inch tubing choke natural for an initial daily production of 386.40 barrels of 43.5-gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio is 900-1. No formation water was encountered.

The flow was from open hole between the 5 1/2 inch oil string cemented at 6,760 feet and the total depth at 6,860 feet.

The new well is 467 feet from south and west lines of section 20, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

The new producer for the Sharon Ridge field is at Superior Oil Company No. 5 McLaughlin, located 3,300 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 163, block 97, H&TC survey.

It made a 24-hour flowing production of 366 barrels of oil, from perforations in the casing between 6,680 and 6,690 feet. Total depth is 6,698 feet.

The interval at 6,680-90 feet was washed with 1,000 gallons of acid. There was a trace of water.

Gravity of that petroleum was 45.4-degrees and the gas-oil ratio was 950-1.

GOOD PRODUCER FINISHED IN NORTH SNYDER FIELD

Castleman & O'Neill, J. R. Hunter and Walter Duncan have completed their No. 3 Huckabee, on the southeast side of the North Snyder field in north-central Scurry county, for a 24-hour potential of 1,559.04 barrels of 43-plus gravity oil.

The production is natural and the completion test was through a three-quarter inch tubing choke. No water was shown.

Top of the Canyon reef lime was at 6,677 feet to give the well a datum of minus 4,266 feet on that marker. The project bottomed at 6,850 feet. The 7-inch casing is cemented at 6,685 feet.

Lomax Brothers, the rotary contractor on this well set another record in drilling in. From the time the rig was skidded to the location, until it was skidded off after completion was only 26 days.

That is understood to be about three days less than the next shortest time so far required to drill and complete a North Snyder field producer.

Location is 467 feet from west and 900 feet from south lines of the northeast quarter of section 160, block 3, H&GN survey, and four miles north of the town of Snyder.

Area Unemployment

O'Connell explained.

It is at that time most of the surplus labor is drained into farm work and few job seekers are left for non-agricultural employers to choose from.

TEC figures reflect that condition at present. Office traffic and new applications for work are at a low ebb and have been for several weeks. However, since only a small demand is being shown by employers for the next month, and since workers will be returning from the cotton harvest soon, the supply will begin out-numbering demands by the first part of December.

The immediate Lubbock area has about 30,000 migratory cotton pullers at present, the TEC estimates. The harvest is approximately 30 per cent complete with enough pullers and machines on hand to finish the harvest by Dec. 15 if good weather continues. Outmigration of harvest workers has already started and will continue as the weather becomes colder.

Congress To Review Nation's Tax Structure, Rayburn Says

HOUSTON, Nov. 18 (AP) — Congress next year will increase some tax rates, lower others, Speaker Sam Rayburn D-Tex) said today.

"The Treasury department is operating in the red and we are engaged in deficit spending," the veteran Texas congressman told a news conference.

His remarks were preliminary to a "straight from the shoulder" speech he would make tonight at a big Democratic rally sponsored by the Texas Association of County chairmen.

Large Crowd Expected

More than 15,000 people were expected to jam into Houston's downtown Sam Houston coliseum to hear Rayburn "say just what I think about things and conditions."

He was to speak at 9 p.m. (CST).

His comments on Taxes highlighted a wide variety of subjects he discussed at the news conference.

Congress, he said, will review the nation's entire tax structure.

The government's fiscal situation is not good, he added, and something will have to be done to increase income.

Other Rayburn predictions were:

Diplomatic negotiations will settle the Angus Ward affair, in which an American consular official has been jailed by Chinese Communists.

Legislation to limit imports of foreign crude oil will not be presented to the next session of Congress. He indicated he favors saving the nation's oil reserves for use during an emergency. "You must import from other countries if you expect to do business with them," he said, adding that the imports problem should be settled outside Congress.

Another attempt will be made to repeal the Taft-Hartley labor act. Rayburn said the act is a "punitive measure written in heat," adding that he personally favors revision of some of its provisions. He declined to expand his views.

Conditions in Europe next spring probably will determine the amount to be appropriated for Marshall plan spending.

Congressmen again will make things "pretty hard" on President Truman's civil rights program.

General elections next year will increase the Democratic majorities in both the House of Representatives and the Senate.

Secretary To Congressman Addresses Pilot Club Here

Miss Dorothy Rylander, secretary to Congressman George Mahon, addressed Lubbock Pilot club at a dinner Thursday night in Hilton hotel, telling of the manner in which a bill is introduced and procedure it goes through before becoming law.

More than 6,500 bills were introduced in the 81st Congress, but only about 800 became law, she said.

Miss Hadena Hester, treasurer, reported that the club received $105 from a rummage sale held Saturday.

Members present were Misses Lois Alexander, president, Sannie Callan, Evelyn Clewell, Lois Graves, Peggy Hess, Hester, Peggy Martin, Avey Leeth Smith, and Mesdames Irene Ausburn, Josephine Ballenger, Ila Beal, Ida Harkleroad, Jewel Huie, Mallie Sanders, Letha Simpson and Pearl Smith, and three guests, Miss Jo Flack and Mrs. Bonnie Crain and Mrs. Martha Gordon of Denver, Colo.

Annual Dairy Short Course Considered

Possibility that a dairy manufactures short course completed on the Texas Tech campus Friday may be made an annual affair was being discussed Friday afternoon by members of the DM faculty at the college.

"Nearly all of those attending the short course expressed a desire to return for a similar program next year," Dr. J. J. Willingham, acting head of the department, said.

The three-day short course this year saw many phases of the dairy manufacturing industry discussed, including the latest laboratory methods of preparing various foods, plant cleanliness, and getting the most from flavors.

Final registration at the school was 106, Dr. Willingham said, including persons from New York, Chicago and from throughout the mid-southwest portions of the country. Representatives from nearly all the nationally-known dairy products companies were on hand.

Dr. Willingham said he could not report as yet whether the short course will be continued next year, but that "efforts will be made in that direction."

Union Delays New Strike In Shipping

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (INS).— Union deck officers agreed today to postpone until 12:01 a.m. Dec. 16 an Atlantic and Gulf Coast shipping strike that would tie up 500 vessels and 25,000 men.

The decision, an alternative to launching the critical walkout next Tuesday, was reached after a bitter all-day parley of the AFL Masters Mates and Pilots' union negotiating committee.

The union strategists announced that the "next move" is up to the ship owners, whom they accused of raising "a completely phoney issue" in the dispute.

Coffee At Less Than Five Cents Per Pound Available In Mexico

DALLAS, Nov. 18 (AP) — In Mexico City you can go down to the corner grocery and buy a pound of the best coffee for forty centavos (less than five cents.)

So said Colonel Miguel Lanz Duret. Lanz Duret, publisher of two of Mexico's newspapers, is in Dallas for the convention of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity.

"And Mexican coffee is the best in the world," said the colonel. He added: "If you like it."

(In Dallas, retail coffee prices range from about 55 cents a pound in a paper bag to about 73 cents in vacuum packed cans.)

Besides being publisher of dailies with 110,000 circulation, Lanz Duret is also commanding officer of the fifteenth Mexican army division and a leading Mexico City lawyer.

He said a Mexican newspaper publisher now has three fearsome problems: 1. The changing rate of exchange; 2. Newsprint is terribly expensive, and 3. Labor is making constant demands.

"Labor is very strong in Mexico. My linotypists now work the 6-hour day, with double time for overtime. Next perhaps, Mexican labor will want the 4-day week."

He said part of Mexican publishers' newsprint problem has been solved by an East Texas pulp mill. A Lufkin plant furnishes 9,000 tons of newsprint annually to Mexico City.

Snyder City Limits Crowded By Oil Well

SNYDER, Nov. 18. (Spl.).— The Snyder city limits got into the oil limelight today when the Standard Fryer Drilling Co. and Bob Barbey No. 1 Joe York topped the canyon reef pay at 6,728 feet.

The No. 1 Joe York strike is located just beyond the northwest city limits of Snyder, in the northwest one-fourth of section 180, block 3, H&GN railroad survey.

Operators drill stem tested the venture from 6,728 feet to 6,764 feet total depth. There was gas to the surface in six minutes and oil to the surface in one hour and 20 minutes.

Recovery was 4,500 feet of green, high-gravity oil. Fill-up rate was, according to operators, at the rate of 40 barrels hourly.

Hiawatha Oil Co. Friday afternoon staked on the east offset of the No. 1 York.

Operators of the York well will skid rotary rig north to the James A. Clark lease in the southwest one-fourth of section 179, block three, H&G railroad company survey.

U. S. oil and gas well now produce about two billion barrels of crude oil and six trillion cubic feet of gas yearly.
