Speaker Gets Big Laugh At Chamber Fete

Judge O. F. Dent brought the house down with his antics at the first annual chamber of commerce barbecue last night in a short discussion on atomic energy.

Dent, former head of the state county judges and commissioners association, carried on for about 10 minutes with his comedy, then emerged into a brief common-sense talk in straight tongue.

About 210 persons heard Dent after being served barbecue in the stock barn at Towle Memorial Park.

In his talk, Dent said the world is living in a "zipper age," at about 80 miles per hour. "We don't have long to live and want to hurry up and live it," he said.

The country should go back to the principles on which it was founded, Dent said, adding that much would be solved if persons would only slow down and think. He used as an example the disappearance of the front porch, where persons several years ago sat to think, from the modern homes.

Dent congratulated residents here on their participation in the Colorado River Municipal Water District, explaining that projects like the district's dam indicated that some persons are still attempting to solve their own problems. The district has had no federal aid in building its dam or in operation.

Don Jones of Abilene sang four songs for the audience, accompanied by Mrs. Bob Crowell.

Dent was introduced by Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools. Ralph Geisenhoner, vice president of the Snyder National Bank, was master of ceremonies.

J. T. Hughes was general chairman for the supper, aided by Stanley Noah and Turner Beard. On the food committee were Noah, Don Hire, and Bob Crowell. The serving committee, headed by Olan Griffin, Jim Mixon, Carl Whitfield, Miller, Clyde Goodwin, Leighton Griffin, Jim Mixon, Carl Whitfield, Jack Emel, and U. D. Walker.

Stepout To Claytonville Field Is Set

Rowan & Hope of San Antonio, and associates, No. 1 C. M. Hodges is to be a stepout to production on the northeast side of the Claytonville - Pennsylvanian field of Southwest Fisher County.

The drillsite is 1,370 feet from east and 600 feet from south lines of section 183-3-H&TC. It is two and one-half miles northeast of the Claytonville field. Drilling to 5,800 feet or a test of the Pennsylvanian lime at a lesser depth is to start immediately.

FISHER PLUG

S. C. Herring Drilling Co. No. 1 Tom Parker, Southwest Fisher wildcat, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 6,600 feet.

The project was drilled 660 feet from south and 2,640 feet from east lines of section 200-3-H&TC.

DRILLING REPORTS

. Seaboard Oil No. 1 Herman Pettaway, Southeast Dawson wildcat, is preparing to drillstem test again after coring 50 feet below the zone covered on the last test.

Cloudy Skies Bring Temperatures Down

Cloudy skies and rain kept Snyder's high temperature down to a cool 78 degrees yesterday. Rain which fell through the morning had stopped before noon, although some showers fell in spots over the county during the afternoon.

A low of 67 degrees was recorded over night, with a reading of 68 degrees at 7:30 this morning, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, said.

Laughlin Testifies Of Book Sale; Third Day As Witness

AUSTIN (AP)—Judge Woodrow Laughlin of Alice testified today he did not rescind his sale of law books to Jim Wells County prior to court action on indictments in the transfer. He said he feared it might be considered an admission of guilt.

"I didn't think I was guilty of anything," Laughlin asserted.

The 79th District judge took the stand for the third day in ouster proceedings against him.

District Judge E. D. Salinas of Laredo had been called to sit for Laughlin to act on the indictments resulting from the book sale.

Laughlin said Salinas appeared Jan. 10.

"Did he pass on the motions to quash the indictments at that time?" asked Sen. William Shireman of Corpus Christi, counsel for attorneys seeking Laughlin's removal.

Laughlin testified the cases had been re-set for 2 p.m. the following Monday. Monday morning, he said, he rescinded the law book transaction and returned the money to the county.

"Did you put the money back to get the indictments dismissed?" Shireman asked.

"No, sir."

Shireman asked if Laughlin could have rescinded the transaction at either the previous December or November meeting of the county commissioners court.

"I don't know whether I could have or not."

"You could have asked them," Shireman insisted.

"Sure."

"But you didn't."

"No sir."

Two days of testimony covered only three of eight charges challenging his fitness to serve as 79th District judge.

He was asked yesterday to explain why he permitted attorneys friendly to select a judge to rule on indictments against him. He was also asked to explain his release of impounded Duval County ballot boxes.

Laughlin denied he selected the judge in indictment matters against himself, as he is charged. He asserted the selection was by his attorney and the district attorney.

"My attorney told me I had a constitutional right to agree on my own judge with the district attorney," he testified.

"You knew your attorney was not going to pick an unfriendly judge, didn't you," inquired Sen. William Shireman of Corpus Christi, counsel for 11 attorneys seeking to oust the judge.

"I assumed he wouldn't," Laughlin replied.

"And you figured the district attorney was a good friend of yours and would agree to any judge agreeable to you?"

Laughlin replied he thought the district attorney would select a fair judge.

"Did it ever occur to you, as judge of that district, that if you left the decision up to the administrative judge or the governor, there could later be no criticism about it?" Shireman asked.

"No, sir."

The indictment against Laughlin concerned his sale of his law library to Jim Wells County. The bill later was quashed by Judge E. D. Salinas of Laredo, the judge Laughlin asserted was designated by the two attorneys.

Laughlin testified he was not acquainted with the mechanics of Duval County's one-sided support of candidates. He denied he knew it was necessary for political boss George Parr to know how people voted.

The judge said he released Duval County's impounded ballot boxes to Duval County's sheriff, Parr's nephew, on Jan. 5 at home after the district attorney brought him a prepared order for their release.

Shireman reminded Laughlin that Rangers had been present to oversee the burning of ballots in the previous primary election. He asked the judge why he had not followed the same procedure.

"I didn't think that was the law," Laughlin replied.

"Didn't the district attorney tell you if you didn't get an order signed releasing the ballots that Judge (Arthur A.) Klein, 10th District judge, would have an order out to burn those ballots?"

"No, sir."

"You had heard it rumored."

"No, sir."

Ike Gets Action Committee To Guard Federal Contracts

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower has called for "an Action Committee" to deal with the problem of discrimination in employment on government contracts, Vice President Nixon said today.

Seven members of the government contract committee took the oath before Eisenhower in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel today.

The President interrupted his Western vacation to fly here for a busy day of government activity, including the dedication of a 32 million dollar federal housing project.

Nixon, chairman of the government contract committee, said the President met with the committee members and "gave us his concept of what the committee should do and what he expected."

The President, wearing a light tan summer suit, looked on as Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan swore in members of the government contracts committee in the presidential suite.

Committee members present were Nixon, the chairman; Mrs. Helen Rogers Reid, chairman of the New York Herald Tribune; John Roosevelt, son of the late President; John Wiscom, New Orleans attorney; John McCaffrey, of Chicago, president of the International Harvester Co.; Ernest Wilkins, Chicago attorney, and Fred Lazarus Jr., of Cincinnati, president of the American Retail Federation.

Nixon said the President expects concrete action on discrimination. He said the committee not only will study the problem generally but will receive and attempt to deal with specific complaints.

"Between 39 and 40 billion dollars are spent in government contracts in a year," Nixon said. "That represents about a quarter of all the money spent on production in the country.

"We feel that since we control the purse strings we can deal with 25 per cent of the problem right there. Where taxpayers' dollars are involved, we feel that all segments of the population should have an equal opportunity to participate in the benefits of employment."

All air traffic in and out of the huge airport was suspended for 10 minutes before the President's plane arrived.

Mossadegh Flees, Mobs Ask Shah To Return

Shah Wants To Return If Reports True

ROME (AP)—The Shah of Iran said today he would return to his country immediately if reports of the overthrow of the Mossadegh government prove true.

The Shah, 33, was eating in his hotel dining room when Tehran Radio reports were brought to him. He jumped up excitedly, lit a cigaret nervously, and said:

"Please let us know more. I want confirmation. I want to fly back immediately."

Shown the report from the Tehran Radio, the Shah said it appeared that the Iranian military had engineered the overthrow.

"Col. Pahlovan must be a member of my family," he said. "My country doesn't want the Communists and therefore has been faithful to me."

The Rome telephone exchanges said communications lines to Tehran stopped abruptly. The exchange said it had not been informed of the reason for the break.

Earlier, the Shah had explained that he left Iran because "I wanted to avoid bloodshed. I did not want the people to suffer for me.

"I know that 99 per cent of the Iranian population is behind me and for the liberty of the nation. Anyone not a Communist is faithful to me and the monarchy," declared the 33-year-old ruler, Mohamed Reza Pahlevi, who fled his Middle Eastern kingdom Sunday after an attempt to unseat Premier Mohammed Mossadegh failed.

The Shah and his green-eyed queen, 20-year-old Soraya, flew in his private plane to Baghdad, capital of neighboring Iraq. They arrived here yesterday by a British airliner, and the Shah said he "probably" would go back to Iran, "but not in the immediate future."

The handsome monarch—he has not abdicated — was interviewed this morning before leaving his hotel on a shopping tour to replenish his wardrobe. He escaped with little clothing.

In a statement to newspapermen, the Shah declared:

"I represent the freedom of Iran. I left because I wanted to avoid bloodshed. I always based my policy on anything good for my people. I don't want them to suffer for me."

The Shah said he planned to remain in Rome "for some time."

Bookbinder's Wife Following Suit, Balks Before Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Edward Rothschild refused today to say whether she has ever spied for the Communists or helped her husband do so.

The husband, a bookbinder in Government Printing Office (GPO), was suspended yesterday after he declined to tell Senate investigators whether he was a Communist or had stolen secret documents sent to the GPO for printing.

As did her husband, the slender, dark-haired Mrs. Rothschild told the investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that to answer questions might incriminate her.

McCarthy said he plans to open public hearings on another matter, the alleged leaking of secret military information to a Washington newspaper correspondent.

The Wisconsin senator said he has had "a complete lack of cooperation" from the Pentagon in this case which, he said, involves leakage of information which "would be and, I have no doubt, was" of great value to the Russians.

McCarthy didn't name the correspondent.

McCarthy, chairman of the Senate's investigations subcommittee, summoned GPO Personnel Director S. Preston Hipsley to a public hearing in the case of bookbinder Edward Rothschild.

The printing office suspended Rothschild without pay yesterday minutes after he refused to tell McCarthy, sitting as a one-man subcommittee, whether he is a Communist party member or whether he engaged in espionage as recently as 10 days ago.

Rothschild's wife Esther also was scheduled to testify today. So was E. C. Mellor, secretary of a loyalty board which, McCarthy said, recommended only last month against further dismissal proceedings against Rothschild.

"It is rather difficult at this time to say how many other GPO employes may be called," McCarthy said. "We are checking at least half a dozen more to see if the facts justify calling them."

McCarthy said previous testimony demonstrates a Communist cell was formed in the huge government printing plant as early as 1938. There also is evidence, he said, that secret documents have been stolen from the plant.

Rothschild, told by McCarthy yesterday there is testimony he stole a code book and other secret data, refused to admit or deny it on the ground that his replies might tend to incriminate him.

Previously, in secret testimony made public by the subcommittee, the bookbinder machine operator said he had access to secret documents but never took any.

McCarthy said Hipsley, the GPO personnel director, was acting chairman of a loyalty board which held hearings on Rothschild in 1949. Rothschild ultimately was cleared —although, McCarthy said, the FBI had 40 persons who could have testified the bookbinder engaged in Communist activities.

Fatemi 'Torn To Pieces' During Fight

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—A Royalist uprising in Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's army and police flared in Tehran today with pitched battles in the center of the city.

The first determined efforts of police and troops loyal to Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi to capture the central police headquarters was beaten off by a hail of shots.

Tehran Radio broadcasts received in London said the Shah's supporters had overthrown Mossadegh and sent him fleeing for his life and that mobs had "torn to pieces" his foreign minister, Houssein Fatemi. The broadcast called upon the Shah, who is in Rome, to return.

(The Tehran broadcast was at 6:28 Texas time. This dispatch from Tehran was filed at 4:10 a. m. Texas time.)

Hundreds of shots were fired over the heads of demonstrating mobs in Sepah Square.

Pro-Shah mobs burned at least eight buildings in the center of the city before the demonstrations crystallized into armed attacks by loyalist police and troops on key positions, such as the Foreign Ministry.

Dispatches filed earlier from Tehran this morning told of mob violence and police gunfire in the capital.

These accounts said the disorders were caused by police efforts to halt nationalist supporters of Mossadegh and Communists from continuing frenzied demonstrations against the Shah.

Iran's handsome Ruler, Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, 33, fled the country with his beautiful queen, Soraya, Sunday when Mossadegh's forces crushed an attempt to oust the old premier and install the Shah's choice, a pro-Western general, Fazollah Zahedi. The Shah and Queen reached Rome yesterday.

The report from Tehran today said Zahedi had been installed as the premier.

Hawk-nosed, weepy old Mossadegh rode to power in April 1951 on his powerful Nationalist demands for government seizure of the vast 30 million ton a year oil industry from the British, who had coptrolled the country's life blood for half a century. His refusal to compromise in his program nationalizing the 1½ billion dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. shut off the flow of oil to the West and caused a bitter break in diplomatic relations between Iran and Britain.

The man who read the invitation to the Shah over the Tehran Radio said:

"At this time the people have been able to capture the capital. We are eagerly waiting for your return."

Before this, the first announcement of the Royalist overthrow of Mossadegh followed much confused shouting in the radio station, according to monitors in London.

Blunt Denial Of Red Charges Made By UN

PANMUNJOM (AP) —The U. N. bluntly denied today Communist charges that prisoners have been brutally treated. It told the Reds the physical condition of repatriated POWs proved the accusation was a "distortion of the truth."

The denial was made at a meeting of the POW Repatriation Commission and answered Communist charges of Friday.

Another 75 Americans were liberated Wednesday while two ships prepared to sail for home with men freed earlier by the Reds.

U. N. members of the commission were said to have planned to hand the Reds a strong note again demanding return of all Allied prisoners, but Col. L. C. Friedersdorff, chief Allied delegate, made no mention of it after the session.

Friedersdorff said the Red accusations of brutality were "intended to discredit the U.N." The Reds had charged the Allies with a multitude of inhumane acts—from using toxic gas to food poisoning.

Friedersdorff criticized Communist Red Cross workers, who were reported to have been acting as propaganda agents for the Reds.

"It is obvious from their actions that some of them are attempting to engage in activities exceeding the purely humanitarian mission with which they are charged," he declared. "We have no intention of permitting them to engage in such activities . . ."

In Seoul, ROK President Syngman Rhee urged South Korean repatriates to "join us all when we drive north in later days."

"I ask you," Rhee declared, "to be determined to rescue your fellow men daily suffering in North Korea by advancing with faith and loyalty."

The largest group of Allied soldiers yet turned back in one day —456—rode into Panmunjom today in open trucks.

And 130 Americans liberated earlier anxiously awaited the journey home aboard the hospital ship Haven, scheduled to leave Inchon harbor for Japan Thursday. Only sick and wounded are aboard.

Another 400 able-bodied American repatriates start the voyage home Saturday. They will make the two-week trip from Inchon to San Francisco on the troopship Marine Adder.

The Communists said 450 Allied prisoners would be repatriated from North Korea Thursday.

The group will include 60 Americans, 90 British and 300 South Koreans.

In addition to the 75 Americans freed Wednesday, the Communists returned 75 British and 306 South Koreans, raising the total in 15 days to 6,083 of the 12,763 Allied soldiers the Reds said they held.

Moving back to life under Communist rule were 602 shouting flag-waving North Koreans, the smallest group of Reds yet delivered by the U.N. Command.

Transfer of Reds from prison camps off South Korea to the mainland has been hampered by typhoon weather and the U.N. Command said it would be unable to return more prisoners until Saturday, when it will hand over the usual 2,400.

While the flow of prisoners continued without incident, neutral inspection teams started operations at ports of entry in South Korea.

After a week of ironing out administrative problems, the 11-man teams from four neutral nations began inspecting U.N. military personnel and supplies pouring in and out of five South Korean ports.

Ferry East Of Snyder Man's Locale Ready

DENISON (AP)—Ferry service across Lake Texoma linking the rich Sandusky oil region with Denison was ready today.

W. H. Moser of Paris is putting the ferry into service. He brought overland from Clarksville, where he operates a ferry service across Red River, a tug boat and a barge large enough to hold six autos and two large loaded trucks.

The ferry will make the 1¼-mile crossing from Flowing Wells resort to a spot just south of Big Joe's resort. It will connect Farm Road 120 out of Denison with State 10 out of Whitesboro.

The service will shorten the overland distance from the Sandusky oil field to Denison by more than 60 miles.

"It will open up that rich oil area to Denison for the first time since Texoma was created," said Malcolm Thomas, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's trade extension committee. "It should be a great stimulant to local business."

The ferry will make the crossing on the half hour at the outset. Moser figures it will take from five to seven minutes to complete the one-way trip.

Claude McCormick, Snyder oilman, said today the Moser ferry service was in a different area of the lake than that for which he has applied with the federal government for permission to offer ferry service.

The Moser service crosses Lake Texoma east of Gordonville and docks on privately owned property on one side and county property on the other, thus requiring no federal permission.

The service contemplated by McCormick would dock on federal property on both sides of the lake and would require a permit that the government could not issue without first allowing open bidding by applicants.

McCormick's proposed location is north of Gordonville. McCormick first considered the prospective establishment of a ferry there two years ago.

WEATHER

NORTH CENTRAL and WEST TEXAS: Cloudy with scattered showers and thundershowers through Thursday. No important temperature changes. Gentle to moderate variable winds on the coast.

Drouth Feed Records To Be Released

The County Production & Marketing Administration committee announced this morning that records as to who are receiving low-priced drouth emergency feeds in this county will be made available to the public.

Irelan Finley, PMA office manager here, said he received a call this morning from Dale Carter, district field man for this area, that a ruling of the Department of Agriculture that records not be made public has been waived.

The ruling was listed in the PMA manuel, stating that records would be made available only by approval of the secretary of agriculture, with a few exceptions listed pertaining to officials of the department and some other government agencies.

The committee had discussed the records with officials of the Daily News this week, and the two groups had decided that the newspaper should request permission of the secretary of agriculture. Finley learned this morning that the ruling had been waived previous to that time but that local offices had not yet been informed of the change.

Daily News employes began preparing a list from PMA records of those receiving the feeds today.

Snyder Phone Workers To Walk Out Within 36 Hours

A strike of union employes of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. is scheduled to start here within the next 36 hours, W. S. Dow, steward of the plant department, said.

Dow said that union members here have received official notice of the strike and when it is to start, but that the exact time has been kept secret.

A news story in the San Angelo Standard Times this morning said the time of the walkout is to be 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

"We will go on strike at the appointed hour unless we receive contrary orders from the union headquarters before then," Dow said.

The steward said that 100 per cent of the plant employes at the local telephone are union members, and he said approximately the same per cent of traffic (telephone operators) employes are members of the union.

The local union members are part of the Communications Workers of America Union (CIO).

Dow said there are about 18 members of the union in the plant department including eight outside workers, and about 35 traffic employes.

Truman Black, manager of the company here, was out of town today and not available for comment.

However, he said earlier that a strike would not seriously affect local telephone service unless there were unexpected breakdowns of equipment.

"Long distance calls may be slower because non-union employes of the company will have to man the switchboards," he said.

The time of the expected walkout was announced in St. Louis by Frank P. Lonergan, vice-president of the CIO Communications Workers Union for District 6.

Lonergan said operators and other workers would strike Thursday at 6 a.m. if no contract accord is reached.

There are 24,000 non - management workers of the telephone company in 259 Texas cities. The company said 122 of the cities have dial systems, and 137 have manually operated exchanges.

Almost 1,000 Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. workers were idle in 10 Beaumont area cities in a dispute which resulted when a new girl got a job in the firm's Port Arthur business office. The union contends the post should have gone to someone already employed.

The Associated Press said today that the anticipated strike of 53,000 workers in Texas and five other states threatens to snarl communications in the states.

In Dallas, T. E. Webb, Texas director of CWA-CIO, earlier had said, "A compromise is always possible."

Pickets went up around Bell's main office in Kansas City shortly after midnight Wednesday morning, 30 hours ahead of schedule.

Union and company officials met with federal conciliators in St. Louis in a last-ditch effort to avert the walkout.

Lonergan said early Wednesday the Kansas City pickets indicated a "premature walkout."

Talks between Bell and the union have been on since June 3.

Workers authorized a strike in a referendum and said the union negotiating committee could call a walkout whenever necessary.

Bell employes 24,000 non-management workers in Texas with dial systems in 122 towns and manually-operated exchanges in 137.

A long strike might possibly impair dial system exchanges if maintenance employes of Western Electric went out with the operators and office workers.

Ray Acker, division manager of Southwestern Bell in Dallas, said "I have heard absolutely nothing about a strike date being set."

In 10 cities of the Beaumont area, some 1,000 Southwestern Bell telephone workers went out Friday when the firm hired a new girl as service assistant in Port Arthur.

The union said the job should have been given to a girl already employed. The company replied the union candidate was not qualified "at this time."

The strike started in Port Arthur and spread quickly to Beaumont, Orange, Liberty, Silsbee, Jasper, Woodville, Sour Lake, Port Neches and Nederland.

Service has been maintained by 130 supervisory workers from Houston and Dallas.

In another dispute, CWA-CIO and General Telephone Co. of the Southwest resumed negotiations Wednesday in Dallas. General Telephone employes walked out temporarily last week in 15 towns.

General Telephone and Southwestern Bell talks have been blocked by salary demands. Bell was said to have offered wage boosts ranging from $1 to $2.50 weekly. General Telephone is reported to have offered up to 5½ cents per hour boosts.

Wages of Bell employes range from a $35 weekly starting salary for operators in smaller towns to a top of $95 a week for skilled plant craftsmen. The starting operator salary in larger cities is $40 a week.

CHEST X-RAYS START

S. H. Ator, 3725 Sunset Drive, was one of the first persons to receive a free chest X-ray by the state health department's mobile unit here today. Mrs. Carl [illegible], one of the attendants with the mobile unit, is shown placing Ator before the unit. Thirty persons were X-rayed in the first 30 minutes of operation this morning. Less Rain In Utah Than Texas, But With Aid Of Mormon Church Life Is Prosperous

By HOUSTON HARTE

SALT LAKE CITY — This city of 280,000, like Denver, is a capital of an inland empire of the arid West. Its annual rainfall is 16 inches. This gives it two inches more than the 14-inch average of Denver.

Salt Lake City has conserved the flood waters of its area by holding back the water which once rolled down from snow capped mountains into the great saline sea, Salt Lake, which gave the city its name. Irrigation is essential to the economic as well as the municipal life of both these mountain empire cities.

This area is at least 50 per cent more arid than West Texas. It has an advantage, however, in the fact that the little moisture which falls is conserved in snow banks on the high peaks and finds its way into irrigation canals and the municipal reservoirs in a more or less consistent flow. If there is any variation in the rate of runoff, it fits into nature's pattern and provides its maximum water during the hot growing season.

HUNT FOR WATER

In the inland mountain area you find city after city growing to its water supply. Big cities like Denver and Salt Lake have gone further and further back into the mountains for municipal water.

The cost of providing water has gone up. Where our cost in West Texas goes into dams, here the big item is the aqueduct that carries the water for miles.

Once Great Salt Lake was 125 miles long. Today it is down to 75 miles. The lake has dropped 10 feet in the last century. This year, however, the lake is about six inches higher than a year ago, due to the heavy spring rains which fell below the snow line and went directly into the lake.

The first half of 1953 is the first six-month period in years in which the constant decline in the water level at the lake has been broken. The famous Salt Air Pavilion, a 1900 version of Venetian grandeur, is no longer "out over the water." It is back on the shore and those who go there now for a swim must walk out on a long pier to get to the water.

LAKE TO RECEDE

As the need for water develops in the Salt Lake Valley it is inevitable that the lake will continue to recede. The time is to come when every drop of mountain water will be required for this growing manufacturing area which finds shelter here in this atomic age.

Salt Lake is an ancient city as the mountain region goes. Two years before gold was discovered in California (July 1847) Brigham Young brought his followers through "Emigration Canyon" and settled them in this fertile valley beside the saline sea.

A hundred years have proved the wisdom of his judgment in the location of his new colony and new faith. The history of Utah is so wrapped in the history of the Mormon faith that one cannot be discussed without the other.

Utah has a population of about 750,000 persons. Two thirds, or 500,000, adhere to the Mormon faith. Of necessity they are a clannish people. They dominate the economic, political, and religious life of the state.

The church is rich and it uses its wealth in many ways. One of the basic tenets of the fath is that the basic tenets of the faith is that cent of the total production of its members goes to the church. Today this is a sizable sum.

The needs of a pioneer society have left their mark upon the policies of the church.

BIG BUSINESS

In the old days the members brought into the Tithe House the actual one-tenth of the fruits of the field or the flock or the herd. In order to sell or distribute this tithe it became necessary for the church to have warehouses and later a store.

As a result the church owns the largest general merchandise or department store in the state. It has warehouses of enormous capacity. It is in business on a big scale. It competes with its own members or others engaged in the same pursuits. It owns banks and insurance companies and even publishes a newspaper.

The Union Pacific Railroad has its headquarters in Salt Lake and was chartered under the laws of Utah. The head of the church is one of its directors and has been since the days of its establishment.

No Mormon goes to the federal government for relief or aid. The church takes care of his needs. These people are not interested in social security and contribute to it with some misgiving. They feel they are amply taken care of by their church—and from all appearances they are.

One cannot forget this in thinking about Ezra Taft Benson, our new Secretary of Agriculture. He was one of the ruling elders of this church.

REAL ESTATE

By far the largest property owner in Salt Lake City is the Mormon Church. It owns the Utah Hotel across from the Temple. It owns the Union Pacific Building. It owns blocks of ground in the neighborhood of the Temple. Visitors are told the church did not acquire this ground because it wanted to get into the real estate business, but because it believed it must protect its property.

The Mormons, who believe in both the Old and the New Testament, oppose not only the use of intoxicating liquor but do not permit their members to drink coffee, tea, Coca-Cola, or to smoke tobacco.

In the early days Salt Lake was a mining town. It was rough and tough and full of West vim, vigor, and vitality. The church was unwilling to permit saloons near the Temple and set out to buy the real estate around it to get control of the use to which the land could be put. Like other investments in growing western cities this decision turned out handsomely for the church.

The Mormon Temple is not used for religious services. This spectacular building is more a monument to its power than a place of worship. Here marriages are solemnized and other sacraments are administered. But the church's large meetings are held in the Tabernacle next door and the routine church services are held in the meeting houses scattered about the city.

There are 124 meeting houses in Salt Lake. The Church is set up on a tight organization which coincides with the methods we use to cover a community for Red Cross or One Fund.

WELL ORGANIZED

The territory of each meeting house is organized on a block basis and some person is designated as block chairman. Every need of the members involved is known to the block chairman who reports it to the bishop and if the church can be of help in solving any need, that help is provided.

The territory of each meeting house is definitely defined. There is no overlapping. A bishop is in charge of each church and he is assisted by a committee of two men of his own appointment. All are laymen in the sense that they are not paid ministers. They devote an amazing amount of time to the work of the meeting house. It is because the direction of the affairs require so much time that the jobs must be rotated.

The meeting house building has been standardized in design. You can recognize them anywhere. They are attractive and utilitarian. Not more than one-third of the space in the building is used for religious services. The rest is a community house. Here every type of neighborhood and community activity is centered. The child that is deprived of the activities of the meeting house is in the strange position of being entirely out of the neighborhood "swim."

Regulations For Lake Are Made Public

Fishing and hunting regulations for Lake J. B. Thomas have been completed, Colorado River Municipal Water District officials have announced.

Regulations at the lake will parallel state statutes with few exceptions. The district is empowered to retain officers to enforce the regulations, with violators subject to be tried in courts of Borden or Scurry Counties. Fines up to $200 may be levied upon conviction.

Fishing at the lake, closed until May 1, 1954, is restricted to the use of pole and line, rod and reel, fly rod, throw lines and trot lines. No throw line may have more than two hooks. Trot lines may have not more than 30 hooks, with one line per person and no more than two lines per party of two or more persons. No trot lines may be joined or placed within 200 feet of a boat dock or swimming area.

Fresh water rough fish may be used as bait only if they are cut apart. The taking, catching or possession of bullfrogs during March, April or May is prohibited. Bottles or floats may be employed in fishing only if they are made fast or held by the fisherman.

The use of seins, nets, snag lines or traps is prohibited by lake regulations. The possession of prohibited fishing gear or tackle will be considered prima facie evidence if taken within 200 feet of the lake, and may be confiscated if seized in the prescribed area.

The firing of pistols or rifles near or over the lake is banned except by peace officers in line of duty. Shotguns may be used if the shot is no larger than No. 4.

More Texas Counties Get Drouth Relief

By The Associated Press

The federal government widened drouth relief in Texas Wednesday as farmers and ranchers cheered a 5-day forecast that promised lower temperatures and moisture.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson said in Washington 12 more Texas counties had been designated drouth disaster areas. This brought to 164 the counties under drouth disaster status.

The new counties are Tarrant, Denton, Bosque, Bee, Aransas, Cooke, Comal, Coryell, Johnson, Karnes, San Patricio and Wilson. This extended the original area to the east and southeast.

Rains ranged Wednesday from Fort Worth to Del Rio, Palacios, Abilene, Austin and Denton reported early morning precipitation, the weather bureau said. Amarillo had heavy fog.

Rainfall up to midnight Tuesday night included 1.93 inches at Texarkana, Waco got .43, Abilene .35, Brownsville .24, Presidio .15. A crop duster pilot told the weather bureau that rains in the Ennis area ranged from 4 to 5 inches.

In the Trinity watershed, Valley View had .50 of an inch before Tuesday midnight, Denton had 1.00 inch, Decatur 1.00, and Pilot Point .90.

The 5-day forecast called for temperatures 2 to 3 degrees below normal and generally heavy rain across the state.

Three Texans prepared to take part Thursday in a drouth conference [illegible] in Denver by President Eisenhower on drouth conditions in the Southwest.

They are Claude McCan, Victoria, state Production - Marketing Administration director and chairman of the State Drouth Disaster Committee; L. J. Cappleman, Dallas, state director of the Farmers Home Administration; and Herman Allen of Menard, rancher and stockman.

Carpenters Ready To Sign Contract

BEAUMONT (AP) — Contracts between carpenters in the Sabine area and major contractors are expected to be signed today, ending a 36 day strike of 2,100 carpenters.

An agreement was reached yesterday and the union began removing picket lines from jobs in the Beaumont and Port Arthur areas. About 8,000 other construction workers have been idled by the strike.

Representatives of the carpenters, meeting with both the Sabine Area Construction Committee and the Associated General Contractors, agreed yesterday on a wage increase of 12½ cents an hour and a 5 cents more Jan. 1. The pre-strike wage was $2.35 an hour.

Board Talks Probe Of Negro School

HOUSTON (AP) — Recommendations from a special committee investigating conditions at Texas Southern University for Negroes are due to be placed before the university's full board tomorrow morning.

Rape Intent Charge

CORSICANA (AP)—Arthur Parrish, 26, was charged with assault with intent to rape late yesterday. He is being held in jail in lieu of $10,000 bond. He was arrested shortly after an elderly woman awoke to find a man in bed with her. Her screams attracted neighbors who called police.

AMARILLO (AP)—The Texas Company said yesterday construction will start at once on the 20 million dollar expansion program at the local refinery.

Opinion Split On Future Of HouseBuilding

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven fat years for home builders have seen about eight million housing units go up. Some in the real estate building are now openly talking of slower days to come.

Others refuse to believe that the boom started in 1947 will be followed by seven lean—as in the Biblical tale of Joseph in Egypt.

They say 700,000 new homes will be needed each year to care for new family formations. That perhaps another 300,000 will be needed to replace old houses beyond renovation. If the mortgage market holds up, the next few years shouldn't be too lean.

The baby is the home builder's best friend. The National Association of Home Builders notes today that the population of the United States has just hit 160 million. Next month it expects the eight millionth new house to be started.

That will give the nation some 50 million housing units, or about one for each three persons. In 1940 the nation's 131 million persons were housed in 35 million units, or almost 4 to a unit.

And then more than half were renters. Now more than half are owners—if you wink at the mortgages on some 10 million homes.

The mortgage market may hold the key to which wins the race in the next year or so, the home builders or the stork.

"Banks have become very tight when it comes to credits for builders," complains David Picket, president of the Gotham Construction Corp. of New York. He fears a building recession the last quarter of this year and into next, if the money market doesn't ease.

The market is tight because mortgages must compete with a big supply of government and private securities in getting money from investors. Total savings are catching up, however. Last year savings were officially placed at 2½ billion dollars. This year the mutual savings banks, savings and loan associations, commercial banks, and life insurance companies all report gains.

Handwritten Will Into Probate Court

HOUSTON (AP)—The handwritten will of the late Walter E. Montieth, with a value exceeding $25,000 was filed for probate here yesterday. Montieth, a chief justice of the 1st Court of Civil Appeals at Galveston and former Houston mayor, left his entire estate to his widow, Mrs. Vera Morey Monteith of Houston.

Sign Language Court

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—"This defendant is deaf and dumb, your honor," the arresting officer told Traffic Judge Jim Demopolos.

Judge Demopolos, who speaks a smattering of several languages, promptly asked the man, in labored sign language:

"Guilty or not guilty?"

Grinning at the judge's efforts, the defendant fingered back, "What does the officer say I did?"

Apprised of the charge of running a red light and the $10 fine, he pleaded guilty, paid the fine and flashed Demopolos a parting "Thank you" as he walked out of the courtroom.

17 Vote In Terrell

TERRELL (AP)—By a 16-to-1 majority, Terrell voters approved yesterday a $950,000 bond issue for water and sewer improvements.

New Perimeter Central Heating Installs quickly, economically, neatly in 2 and 3 bedroom cottages already built

No Major Wall and Ceiling Alterations
Furnace fits in space 2 ft. wide and 3 ft. deep

Usually central heating ducts and diffusers are installed in ceiling and walls. As the layout sketch above shows, New Perimeter Central Heating ducts and diffusers are different.

Warm air ducts run under the house. Small, attractive warm air diffusers fit in floor beneath windows in each room. Installation takes only two or three days . . . leaving your home neat as a pin.

Best of all — New Perimeter Central Heating ducts and diffusers cost less to buy and install. New Perimeter Central Heating costs no more than properly equip your home with floor or wall furnaces!

A modern heating installation is your only completely effective weapon against wall sweating, stuffy air and unhealthful drafts. Modernize with New Perimeter Central Heating. Call Lone Star Gas Company's expert heating representative. Ask him for a free Home Heating Survey.

Mrs. Bill Butler, left, and Mrs. C. W. Youngblood take a morning break from their duties as city hostesses. The women give the newcomers gift certificates from local merchants when they make their calls.

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Hostesses Help Snyder Newcomers Get Settled

By DOLORES KETCHERSID

It is a responsibility being a city hostess. You may find yourself in the position of advising what doctors to consult, which baby sitters are reputable or telling where old friends may be located.

At least those are the questions most often asked the present hostesses, Mrs. BILL BUTLER and Mrs. C. W. YOUNGBLOOD. The two women each welcome about 30 families to the city each month. They direct the newcomers not only to the merchants the women represent, but also tell them about the locations of different churches in the town. On some occasions they have even gotten old friends together.

The women said in the estimated 384 families they have greeted they have found only one person who was genuinely displeased with the town. It is a matter of making your home in a new town instead of persistently clinging to the old one, they said. The phrase they hear most often from the newcomers is that Snyder is "so friendly."

The hostesses have always been well received at the homes in which they have called. Most of the time the new women offer them coffee and chat freely about their interests and new home. However, husbands really overshadow their wives. Regardless of the popularly believed myth that it is the woman who talks, the head of the house carries on most of the conversation, the hostesses said.

The two women turn detectives to find out the names of the new families. Most of the information comes to them by word of mouth, but some takes steady digging. They check with the local movers, electric company, water department and chamber of commerce. Next they spend hours trying to locate the addresses in spite of lack of street signs, they said.

The hostesses haven't been in Snyder long themselves. Mrs. Youngblood, her husband and 17-year-old daughter, MARSHA, moved here from Seminole in 1950.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler and their four-year-old daughter, VANNA, started driving in the area around Lubbock and selected Snyder as the town in which they would most like to live. That was three years ago, and Mrs. Butler says they are still happy with their choice.

Camel Freight Across U.S. Desert Is New Movie Tale

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What do you know about camels?

Did you know that the United States government once sponsored a camel freight service across the Great American Desert? That was in 1857, and Hollywood has gotten around to making a movie about it. Think of it—a Western with camels!

I hope the picture does better than the camel line. It was a flop. Some 75 camels were imported from Syria and a route was established but soon abandoned. The war department, which sponsored the project, dropped it because of more pressing problems in connection with the Civil War.

Some of the camels ended up in Texas and were seized by Confederate forces during the war. A few, from both Texas and California, ultimately were turned loose on the Arizona desert. Inhabitants reported seeing them as late as 1910. No effort was made to revive the project after the Civil War because the rapid development of transcontinental railroads made it unnecessary. However, a few of the camels were taken to Nevada, where for a time they carried salt into the Comstock Lode country.

I learned about camels from Billy Richards, one of the owners of the World Jungle Compound, which supplied eight of the animals for the picture. The spry little circus veteran said the American camel caravan might have been workable.

"Camels would have made much more efficient carriers than mules," he remarked. "They could carry a thousand-pound pack, their feet hold up in even the hottest sand and they're faster than horses. They can go without food or water as long as 10 days in the desert. Furthermore, there is no feed problem. Camels will forage for themselves, if need be.

"I imagine the plan failed because of the lack of handlers. Camels require a special kind of handler. An ordinary mule driver can't do the job.

"Camels are smart in their own way. They're the only animal that will sit down when they're starting a long truck ride, such as when we drove them to Kanab, Utah, for the picture. Horses and elephants would stand up all the way.

"Camels are smart fighters, but dirty. They use the strength of their weight. They weight from 1,700 to 2,000 pounds and can break a horse's neck by placing their own neck on it. They'l beat down an opponent with their neck, then start kicking and biting. They can even lick water buffalos.

"The trouble with camels is they're stubborn. You can't teach 'em tricks the way you can with horses. They're inclined to be short-tempered and headstrong and will give in grudgingly. They show their resentment by spitting a foul-smelling saliva.

"A mean one will grab a man by the arm and toss him. There's more than one one-armed man in this country because of a camel."

Auxiliary Sets Dates At Monday Meeting For Club Activities

In a meeting Monday night the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary made plans for a white elephant sale Saturday night at the clubhouse.

The money will go for the club's September civic activities. Mrs. S. L. Surratt reported on her attendance of the national convention and gave a lace tablecloth to the auxiliary. Her husband showed films of Eaton Rapids Orphans Home.

The club also made plans for a variety show Sept. 2 and a style show for the public Sept. 22. Twelve women were present.

I have a sofa that is part wool and part nylon plisse. Everything I have used on it to clean it makes the nylon look dull like wool. What would you suggest? M.K.

A thick suds of a detergent shouldn't harm either fabric. Carbon tetrachloride should also be an effective cleaner.

My bread dough sometimes gets softer than it should. Do you know what the cause could be? J.H.

Try scalding the fresh milk to be used in yeast breads. Cool it to lukewarm before combining with yeast mixture. Scalding stops the enzyme action which sometimes causes some softening of the dough. Scalding the milk also improves bread texture and flavor.

• • •

Have you a recipe for apple souffle? C.S.

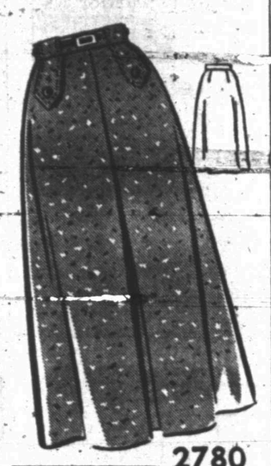

The one we have for the light and fluffy dessert instructs to separate 10 eggs and place whites in mixing bowl, and beat until stiff. Add 8 tablespoons granulated sugar, beat for five minutes, and then stir in gently 4 teaspoons applesauce.

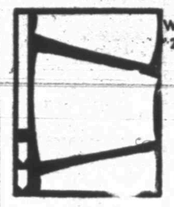

Grease souffle dish or deep baking tin with butter and dust with granulated sugar. Place 3 tablespoons applesauce in bottom of dish and pour mixture on top of it.

Place dish in larger pan filled with hot water and bake in 400-degree oven for 15 minutes. Remove from oven and serve immediately with whipped cream. Serves four.

Right Bait Will Bring In Your Man

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Staff

Girls Having trouble getting your man? Do the fellas flee when you approach? Does a married future look unlikely?

The trouble may very well be that you are not using the right "color bait." This I read in one of my favorite newspapers, and the theory was credited to Sara Winsborough, identified as a color consultant.

Miss Winsborough's idea is that girls fishing for beaux should learn their lessons from those who fish for fish. The thesis is that an angler wouldn't dream of setting out on a fish-catching expedition without a box of colorful lures—bits of colored feathers artfully fastened together—each designed to cause a species of fish to swallow a hook.

Miss Winsborough cautions that a girl, like fisherman, must know what kind of bait to use, pointing out quite sensibly that what attracts a marlin won't get so much as a tumble from a striped bass.

I've been thinking over Miss Winsborough's fascination - theory quite carefully, and am now prepared to give some specific information on its practical application.

Now then, the reason that a poor fish leaps onto the end of a baited hook is because he sees something that he stupidly suspects is something he's fond of eating.

Everyone knows that the most direct route to a man's heart is through his stomach, so Miss Winsborough is on solid ground when she suggests that the most effective man-bait is something suggestive of food.

Therefore, the best and wisest plan of attack is to pick arbitrarily some poor fish. Try to find one without obvious scars indicating he's already been hooked and broken away. Without indicating in any way you are contemplating an angling expedition, try to get a line on his favorite foods.

After that, organize your wardrobe and make-up so that every time he looks at you, his thoughts immediately turn to the joys of the groaning board.

Here are a few concrete examples on how to proceed:

Let's say you trail the elusive quarry repeatedly to an Italian restaurant. That means you'd better plan your dresses around a color scheme of the dead white of the pasta and the deep rich and stimulating reds of tomato sauces. The intricate design, suggesting a steaming plate of spaghetti, is important.

But let's say he turns out to be a stew, ragout or goulash man. Then deep, gravy beef [illegible] ened by the pale yellow of an overcooked carrot and the delicate white tracery of a well-boiled onion. A subtle Paisley design, carefully chosen, may be just the bait for this fellow.

If he goes in for Oriental dishes, and is fond of rice [illegible], perhaps the best lure would be to adopt a definitely yellow make-up, one that would approximate the complexion of one suffering acutely from jaundice. This cannot fail to remind him of his favorite dish.

Sometimes, of course, it is impossible to [illegible] the favorite foods of a likely victim. In that case, the fisherwoman is wise to stick to a color scheme involving the Chinese reds of rare steak—with just a touch of charcoal hues to mark the silhouette—livened by the delicate golden brown of French fried potatoes.

A precautionary word or two: never go in for such colors as lettuce green, parsnip yellow, or whipped cream white. For dressy wear, the best combination is apple-pie yellow with vanilla ice-cream white accessories.

Good fishing, but for goodness sake watch those calories.

SPARE THAT HAIR . . . Baby oil treatment applied to sectioned off hair parts will keep blonde hair in good condition.

Blonde Hair Needs Special Fall Attention

Blondes get blonder in the summer. And in the summer it looks good. But come chilly Autumn and the same blonde tresses having been exposed to the sun's rays, are likely to become streaky, brittle and unmanageable.

A girl who wouldn't think of visiting a beach in mid-day without suntan lotion to protect her skin, thinks nothing of exposing her luscious locks to the sun's rays.

Blondes who are proud of their light tresses usually can't be sold on a head covering, no matter how lovely. So oil treatments are the only solution. These are simple to do and are well worth the effort. Here's how:

Before your regular shampoo brush your hair thoroughly. Part the hair. Take a small cotton ball and dip it in baby oil or another favorite oil. Section the hair in inch strips all over the head, applying baby oil as you go along. Use a fresh cotton ball as one becomes soiled.

When the entire scalp has been oiled, spread thumbs and fingers of both hands and place them firmly against the scalp. Use fingertips to rotate the scalp slowly until it loses its tight feeling. Move the hands to a different portion of the head and continue this massage until the scalp tingles and grows warm.

If this treatment is done in the cool of the evening, you may want to wring a towel out of hot water and wrap it around the oiled hair for a few minutes. If the evening is hot, you'll probably want to wash the oil right out along with your regular soaping.

Two to three soapings and three clear water rinses will leave your hair good and clean. The juice of a freshly squeezed lemon may be added to the rinse water.

Brushing is another important summer hair-care step. It is particularly stimulating when done with two brushes, one in either hand, with head hanging down, we are told. This really stimulates the scalp, imparting a healthy glow to your tresses, according to the hair experts.

If frequent swimming pool dips or salt water swims are part of your summer playtime schedule, make a beeline for the summer shower. Clear water should rinse away the chlorine used in pools and remove ocean salt.

Pin-curls put up with cologne after your shower - shampoo will help dry the hair in a jiffy and leave it fragrant. A cooling astringent whisked around the browline to remove powder traces is the final fillip in a summer makeup.

Patterson Family Holds Reunion

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Patterson had a reunion in Snyder over the week end. Included was a Saturday luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Covey, Sr., and a picnic that night at the home of Mrs. Joe Caton. A Sunday luncheon was served at the John R. Covey, Jr., home.

J. N. Patterson of Fort Worth showed slides he made when he was stationed with the Army in Korea. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Patterson, Sr., Seminole; Mrs. Harvey Carrell and daughters, Cathey and Ann Wink; Mrs. Dick Cantrell and sons, Richard and Tommy Pat, Gail.

And Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Patterson, Sr., and Mrs. J. N. Patterson, Jr., all of Fort Worth; Miss Berney Patterson and the Rev. E. R. Patterson, Waco, and Miss Claire Patterson, Los Angeles, Cal.

I was ahead in every way after this demonstration!

I figured on paying about $200 more for a new car . . . until I discovered all that Chevrolet offered me.

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel
Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the rich-looking upholstery and appointments and roomy, comfortable seats. Just turn the ignition key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You get more power on less gas
Here's all the power and performance you could ever ask for. And along with it comes the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history! That's because of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines.

You can see all around
You look out and down at the road through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

It's heavier for better roadability
You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady ride. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than other low-priced cars.

You get greater get-up with the new Powerglide*
Finer performance on less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

Power Steering, if you want it
You ought to try Power Steering to see how easy driving can be. You can spin the wheel with one finger! It's optional, of course, at extra cost, and available on all models.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops
An easy nudge on the brake pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet brakes are the largest in the low-price field—extra large for extra stopping power.

And it's the lowest-priced line
A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers more in the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

Yanks Blow Seven-Run Lead To Washington In 9th Inning

By BEN PHLEGAR

If winning a game already given up for lost was the spark that ignited the New York Yankees' pennant drive, will losing a game that looked like a sure victory be enough to put out the fire?

It's tough to pick one game as the start of the surge toward the flag. But you can make a pretty good case for the Yankees' July 25 encounter in Detroit.

That was the day the Yanks fought back from a 10-1 deficit to win 15-11 with four runs in the 12th inning.

They went on to capture 17 of their next 23 games, doubling their first-place margin over Chicago from 4½ to 9 lengths.

Then came last night. The White Sox took a couple of squeakers from the St. Louis Browns 3-2 and 2-1. The Yankees, using rookie Bill Miller, toyed with Washington and led 8-1 after six innings.

Clyde Vollmer and Mickey Vernon homered in the eighth and when Ed Fitz Gerald opened the Washington ninth with a single, cagey Casey Stengel figured it was time to bring on Allie Reynolds. Then he settled back to watch the Big Chief polish off the Senators.

Before Case could get back to the top step of the dugout Reynolds had given up four tallies and the tieing run was on third base. Gorman, who gave up a walk and a single to Vollmer that tied the score.

Then Stengel switched to Johnny Sain. Jim Busby greeted him with a triple good for two more runs. Sain eventually retired the side but the damage totaled seven runs. The final score was 10-8 Washington.

It was the biggest ninth inning of the year against the world champions and the first time they've blown a game in which they led by seven runs.

The night's activity brought the White Sox within 7½ games of the lead. Chicago has 36 games to play, five of them against New York. The Yankees have 37.

It was a night of close games with six of the nine major league contests decided by a single run. In other American League action, Boston defeated Philadelphia 2-1 and Detroit edged Cleveland 3-2. In the National, Brooklyn outlasted New York 4-3 in 13 innings, Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 1-0, St. Louis thumped Chicago 5-1 and Milwaukee ran up the biggest margin of the evening in whipping Cincinnati 8-2.

The Dodger triumph extended their winning streak to 11 games, longest of the year in the National League. It featured brilliant relief pitching by both clubs with Jim Hughes and Clem Labine holding the Giants hitless over the last eight innings. Larry Jansen struck out 11 men in eight innings of relief for the Giants. The loser was Jim Hearn, who took over in the 12th when Jansen developed a blister. A double, a bunt and an intentional walk loaded the bases in the 13th. Roy Campanella struck out but Gil Hodges poled a fly ball deep enough into right field to allow the winning run to score after the catch.

Robin Roberts, the majors' only 20 game winner, came on in relief to save Steve Ridzik's shutout over Pittsburgh after Ridzik twisted his ankle in the seventh inning.

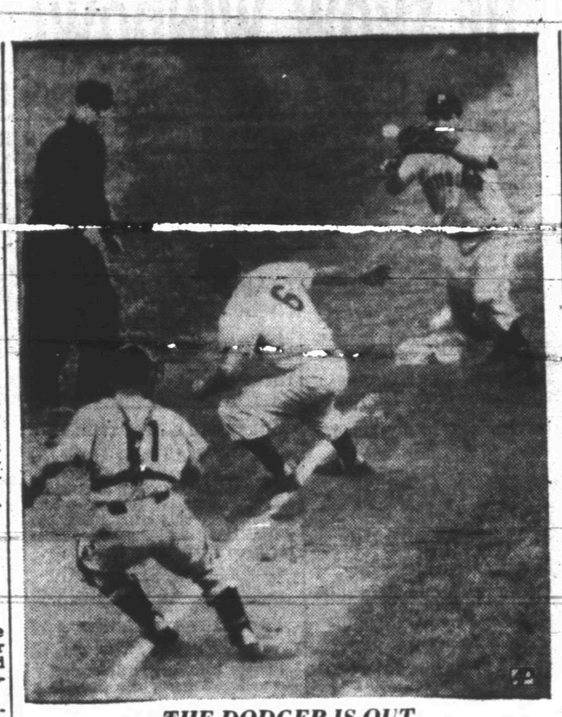

Eddie Mathews hit his 38th home run in Milwaukee's triumph that left the Braves 8½ games behind the Dodgers.

Gerry Staley gave up a home run to Chicago's Eddie Miksis and five other harmless hits in joining Warren Hacker as a 15-game winner for the Cardinals.

In the White Sox' first victory over the Browns Virgil Trucks struck out 12 men, high for the season in the American League for a nine-inning game. Bob Boyd hit a two-run homer. Sandy Consuegra and Harry Dorish edged Satch Paige and young Bob Turley in the nightcap.

Steve Gromek, a pitcher Cleveland couldn't use, beat the Indians for Detroit on six hits and he drove in the winning run.

At Boston Maury McDermott posted his 13th victory at the expense of Harry Byrd and the Athletics.

THE DODGER IS OUT

Carl Furillo (6), Brooklyn Dodger right fielder, is trapped in a rundown play between third and home after hurler Carl Erskine failed to bunt on a squeeze play. The action took place in the fourth inning of a twin bill nightcap at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn. Bucs' third sacker Danny O'Connell made the tag after taking a throw from catcher Toby Atwell (11). The umpire is Len Roberts. The Dodgers swept the double header, 3-1 and 9-5

Specialists Fading In Southwest Loop

DALLAS (AP)—There will be fewer specialists—one play wizards—in Southwest Conference football this season. The conference football roster and record booklet, out yesterday, shows a 5 per cent manpower decrease.

Abandonment of the 2-platoon system is responsible for the trimming of the squads and means the player who was essentially a specialist is disappearing.

The booklet shows 22 fewer players on the seven squads this year. Only schools with more men are Texas and Arkansas. Texas will have 14 more, Arkansas 2 more. Biggest drop was at Southern Methodist. The Mustangs are down to 66, a cut of 10 men.

Batting Marks In Pony Loop

Robbie Robinson, member of the Lions Club Phillies, who tied for second in the Pony League, led batters of the loop in season batting averages with .532.

Robinson's average was far above that of the next-ranking batters. Next in line was Lawson Dennis of the Scurry Butane Dodgers with .389.

The entire Pony League, which was made up of four teams, had a rough average of .220. The Courthouse Tigers, who were champions of the league as it finished its first year, held the top team average with .234. Following were the Dodgers with .230, Phillies with .211, and Von Roeder Red Sox with .204.

In the league, there were 12 boys who held averages of .300 or more, while another 13 had more than .200. The 12 in the highest bracket were evenly divided, three from each team, while the Dodgers had one more than each of the rest of those between .200 and .300.

Top batters in the league, in ranking order, are:

Robbie Robinson, Phillies, .532; Lawson Dennis, Dodgers, .389; Milton Ham, Dodgers, .354; Jimmy Allen, Tigers, .347; Don McNew, Phillies, .339; Richard Snyder, Phillies, .316; Roe Reaves, Tigers, .310; Roger Hensley, Tigers, .309; Darrell Parrish, Red Sox, .306; J. T. Meyers, Red Sox, .300.

Oil Bowl Practice Continues In Mud

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Football drills for the Oil Bowl game Friday night continued yesterday in the mud.

Opposing coaches Max Baumgardner and Floyd Wagstaff of the Texas high school gridders and Elvan George and Cleo Beavers of the Oklahoma squad sent their all-star aggregations through a second workout yesterday afternoon.

New Del Mar Coach

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Del Mar Junior College added former Rice football star Henry Armstrong to its coaching staff yesterday. Armstrong will take over assistant football coaching duties, joining Head Coach Nick Lanza, a college teammate at Rice.

Eight Records Are Broken In YMCA Meet

HOUSTON (AP)—Eight records were broken last night as Southwest Houston YMCA won the 4th [illegible] track and field championships.

The individual star was Don Maynard, a three-event winner from Colorado City. He won both the hurdle events in the 16-17 class last night, and won the running high jump Monday night.

Maynard ran the 180-yard lows in 20.1 and the 120-yard highs in 15 seconds. His high jump mark Monday night was 4 feet 11 inches.

Brazosport was second in team totals with 76½ points, followed by Lawton, Okla., 76, Galena Park, 71, and Woodward, Okla., 44.

These are the new records:

440-yard relay, Reagan of Houston, 46.4 seconds.

Charles Williams of Abilene got 8 feet in the boys' 10-11 standing broad jump.

Victoria's Walter Hayes tossed the 8-pound shot put 59 feet 10 inches in the 14-15 division.

R. A. Burt, 13-year-old Lawton, Okla., boy hurled the softball 255 feet 2 inches.

Dee Givens, Lawton, Okla., ran the 50-yard low hurdles in 6.4 in the boys' 14-15 bracket.

Marian Brown, Deer Park, beat her own national baseball throw Monday night and highlighted the girls' event last night with a 199-foot 6-inch baseball toss.

Jo Ann Baker, Woodward, Okla., ran the 75-yard dash in the 12-13 class in 9.3.

Pasadena's Gladys Moore leaped 7 feet 6 inches in the 10-11 class standing broad jump.

Michigan St. Can't Decide How To Play

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—All college football teams should have the problems of Michigan State, the defending national champion.

The Spartans are undecided whether they'll continue to play the platoon system—using crack offensive and defensive units as such—or go in for the shock troop strategy of playing balanced teams.

"We haven't decided yet what we'll do," said line coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, formerly of Syracuse.

"We may find it's better to go ahead and use the best possible offensive team and take a chance when we lose the ball and go on defense. Or we may try to pick out our best 11 players who can go both ways and use them and then pick out our second best 11 for relief and so forth.

"Any way you figure it you're going to have to make some sacrifice. If your offensive unit is going good you can figure on controlling the ball. But if you lose it, boom, the ball may be back up in your end of the field before you know it."

Daugherty was acting as Michigan State spokesman in an informal round-the-table discussion at the Spartan fieldhouse. The Michigan State situation is so critical the head coach, Biggie Munn, left town for a week's fishing.

Rocky Gunning Hard To Make Good Fight

By GAYLE TALBOT

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—Driven by a determination to become recognized as a great heavyweight champion before he is through, Rocky Marciano is driving perhaps even harder for his coming defense against Roland LaStarza than he did when he was a challenger.

The axiom that a fighter will let down to some extent once he has the golden bauble in his grasp is positively not for him, says the Brockton Belter.

"What I want to do now is not just beat LaStarza," he says seriously. "I want to beat the next eight men and establish myself as the best so everybody will know it. The last knockout over Joe Walcott wasn't very satisfactory as far as I was concerned. I suppose you could say I have pride in my fighting ability. There's no danger that I'll suffer a letdown in this one."

Rocky has a great deal of respect for La Starza and he expects the boy from the Bronx to give him a very hard fight on the night of Sept. 24 but he is deeply confident that he still will be the champion when it ends, either by a knockout or a decision.

"I remember from our other fight that he's hard to hit," he conceded readily. "I can't remember that I ever caught him real solidly, even though I had him down. He doesn't have too much footwork, but he moves around a lot from the waist up. However, I think I've learned a lot about how to hit a man in the 3½ years since we fought.

"I see that Roland thought he had me hurt toward the end of our other fight. Maybe he did think so, but I honestly can't recall that I felt any of his punches very much. In fact, that's been my main recollection. It was close, sure, but after all they gave me the verdict.

"I had no preference at all whether I should fight him or Ezzard Charles. Al (Manager Al Weill) never asked me what I thought. Whoever figured to draw the most money suited me, and that was in Al's department. I'll be happy to give Charles the next chance if that's the way it works out."

Strafaci Top In Western

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Frank Strafaci, who only tried to play it safe and wound up as medalist, shared the favorite role today with Harvie Ward Jr. as match play began in the Western Amateur Golf Championship.

Using a putter given him by Babe Didrickson Zaharias, Strafaci carded seven birdies and an eagle-3 for a 6-under-par 66, and a two-round total of 140.

Ward was forced to share the pre-tournament favorite role with Strafaci after he took a 3-over-par 75 following an opening 69.

Strafaci said two of his birdie putts dropped into the cup when all he was trying to do was get close.

His margin was one stroke over Dale Morey, 72-69—141, and the opening day leader, Hillman Robbins Jr., who slipped to 73 after a 68.

Ward, fourth with his 144, outshown his two Walker Cup mates, James Jackson, who carded a 149, and the Texas and New York City crooner, Don Cherry, who was way back with 152.

Strafaci meets Thomas Stephenson of Kansas City in his first round match.

Ward takes on John Morrell of Elgin, Ill.

O'Neill Will Be Back At Post

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The mediocre showing of the faltering Philadelphia Phillies this year apparently won't cost Manager Steve O'Neill his job.

President Robert M. Carpenter Jr. of the National League club indicated today O'Neill will be offered a new contract within a few days.

While expressing dissatisfaction with the individual efforts of his players, Carpenter said O'Neill "can't be blamed for their showing."

"I haven't had an opportunity to talk with him (O'Neill) but I'm satisfied with his work," Carpenter said.

"Steve O'Neill can't hit for the men and he can't be blamed for their showing because of lack of batting. We will probably settle things in a few days," the National League team owner said, referring to O'Neill's contract.

Steve is finishing his first full season with the Phillies, now in fourth place. He succeeded Eddie Saywer in the middle of the 1952 season, after the 1950 championship team slumped miserably and Saywer was let out as manager and given another job in the Phillies' organization. O'Neill came to Philadelphia from the Boston Red Sox organization.

Carpenter made it clear he was not satisfied with the showing of many of his players.

U. S. Can Veto Major Plans Of Kai-shek

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is supplying substantial modern military equipment to Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa but has reserved for itself a powerful voice over any possible major operations by them against Red China.

Officials who reported this said the American government is especially concerned about the possibility of attacks on the Communist mainland which could be expected to provoke Red retaliation and thereby involve the U. S. 7th Fleet.

Information available here indicated that an agreement with the government of Chiang Kai-shek to assure the United States a voice in major strategic decisions did not affect the kind of harassing operations which Chiang's forces have long been carrying on against Communists units on islands near the mainland.

Under some conditions, it was clear that the U. S. right to share in decisions on operations could give this country a virtual veto. Such a veto presumably would be exercised on projected Nationalist military operations which would involve American forces in a manner or to a degree inconsistent with American interests.

Officials declined, however, to say that it was in fact a right of veto which was provided in the agreement.

The arrangement apparently grows out of President Eisenhower's action last February in revoking an order to the 7th Fleet to prevent Chinese Nationalist attacks on the mainland.

Subsequently, officials said last night, the United States stepped up its program of military aid to the Nationalists on Formosa.

From the point of view of putting the Communists on the defensive and possibly causing them to tie up forces in the area opposite Formosa, this fitted in with American plans.

However, the President had left the 7th Fleet with the responsibility of protecting Formosa against assault by the Communists. This meant that as the Nationalist forces became stronger, they might undertake a big operation which would involve the U. S. fleet in military action with Chinese Communist forces. That, in turn, could have an incalculable effect on the whole international situation.

As a result of such considerations, informants said, the United States got an agreement with the Nationalist government that it would be informed and consulted well in advance of any such operation and that it would have a voice in the decision.

Blind Veteran Leads Class At Graduation

BOSTON (AP)—Top man in his class at Boston University's summer commencement is 33-year-old William Carney, totally blind from an eye disease contracted in service during World War II.

Carney, assistant editor of the Disabled American Veterans' national magazine, completed his four-year public relations course in three years with the help of three friends who read to him.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 8, Title 128, of the Laws of the State of Texas, the Board of Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District passed an Ordinance on June 23, 1953, regulating hunting and fishing on Lake J. B. Thomas, situated in Borden and Scurry Counties, Texas; prohibiting fishing on said Lake by any means prior to May 1, 1954; prohibiting the catching or taking of fish by any method other than pole, rod, throw line with no more than two hooks, trot line with no more than thirty hooks, with no more than two trot lines per party; prohibiting seining or trapping of fish; making possession of illegal tackle within 200 yards of said Lake evidence of violation; prohibiting sale or purchase of fish from said Lake; prohibiting use of gold fish or game fish as bait, except as cut bait; prohibiting shooting of firearms on said Lake, save and except with shotgun during water fowl season; prohibiting taking of frogs during months of March, April and May; prohibiting use of bottles or jloats of any kind for fishing purposes unless held or tied; providing for destruction of nets, traps or other illegal devices, declaring same to be a nuisance; providing that violations shall constitute a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by fine of not more than $200.00 and cost of Court, save and except that fine and cost together shall not exceed $200.00; providing that fines shall be payable to said District; providing that penalties shall be in addition to other penalties provided by the Laws of the State of Texas; and placing jurisdiction for enforcement of said Ordinance in Scurry County, Texas; providing for employment of peace officers for said District, who shall be authorized to enforce regulations of the District, as provided in Section No. 22, Chapter 4, Title 128, Laws of Texas.

The full text of said Ordinance and regulations is on file in the principal office of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, Petroleum Building, Big Spring, Texas, where same may be read by any interested party.

Sheriff's Department, Court Activities For First 6 Months

The [illegible] has just completed a survey of criminal court activity here for the first half of this year, reporting 260 convictions in 271 cases, exclusive of misdemeanor swindling and exclusive of several district court convictions where defendants were convicted on more than one charge at the same time.

Besides complaints alleging swindling by worthless check, only nine of this year's cases are yet pending, and only four of these for lack of apprehension. These four are felony cases. The other felony cases not yet tried are either on appearance bonds or in jail.

COMMUNIST SUSPECT

Edward M. Rothschild looks over papers as he sits beside his wife in the Senate Investigations Subcommittee hearing room in Washington. In formal testimony, the Government Printing Office employe refused to tell whether he is a member of the Communist party or whether he ever stole secret documents from the printing plant. Both Rothschild and his wife were named as Communists by witnesses before the group.

Swindling cases are not included in the report because of the difficulty in identification of the defendants. This is due to a relatively large number of such cases and to the fact that in many cases officers have no clues or leads to apprehension except a name signed to a check, and the check may be several weeks or months old before a charge is filed.

The 16 felons convicted from Jan. 1 to July 1 received a total of 46 years and two months in sentences, counting only the total time to be served by those receiving concurrent sentences in more than one conviction at the same time.

Of 84 county court misdemeanor cases, there were 81 convictions, and one dismissal. Two cases are pending, one a charge of driving while intoxicated, which was recently transferred from district court, and the other a recent charge of liquor possession.

In all there were 32 cases of driving intoxicated. One was dismissed when the defendant, on bond at the time, was killed in a traffic accident. The pending case is against a man recently indicted by the grand jury as a repeated offender, but the case was refiled in county court when it was learned he did not personally appear in court at the time of his first conviction more than a year ago.

Theft of valuables under the worth of $50 resulted in convictions in all four cases.

There were 28 convictions from the 29 bootlegging cases, and one is pending.

The only charge of driving while license was suspended resulted in conviction, as did also the only charge of threatening to take a life.

All 13 cases of aggravated assault brought convictions, as did the three cases of carrying weapons.

One case of wilfully destroying property resulted in conviction.

In justice of peace court, all 162 cases resulted in conviction. Of these there were 30 charges of intoxication in automobiles, 73 drunkenness, four affray, 15 vagrancy, 25 disturbance, eight gambling, and seven drunkenness and disturbance, combined.

District court cases of persons apprehended were: murder, two convictions with three-year suspended sentences; burglary, one conviction with a two-year sentence; forgery, three three-year sentences, one five-year sentence, and one two-year sentence; removal of mortgaged property, two defendants on bond; assault with intent to murder, one two-year sentence; theft from person's body, one three-year sentence and one two-year suspended sentence; other theft, one two-year sentence; robbery by assault, one-year sentence; repeated drunken driving, 60-day county jail sentence; incest, one 10-year sentence, and one defendant in jail pending sentence

More Trouble Predicted In Southern Asia

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—Several straws in the wind indicate a spread of Communist trouble in Southeast Asia in the wake of the Korean War.

You can't be sure yet of the form or forms it may take.

But one worrisone hint is contained in Peiping radio's announcement last month that an autonomous government for the Thai minority peoples in Yunnan, a China province which abutts Burma and Indochina, has been set up.

The Chinese Reds have granted semi-autonomy to several minority ethnic groups in China. Mostly these appear to be suggary sops to keep peace among these people, who have never been absorbed and who are cantankerous by nature and hard to get at by geography.

But the Thai semi-autonomous district in Yunnan probably has quite a different purpose. The Thais live in the mountainous regions of Yunnan, the Shan states and other border zones of Burma and northwestern Indochina. They're related to much of Thailand's population.

Last year Communists in Indochina conducted a campaign in the Thai country of Indochina in behalf of Red chieftain Ho Chi Minh. The still - unexplained Communist invasion of Laos last spring could have been an additional effort to influence the Thais.

Now comes Peiping with another of its "nations within a nation" for the Thais of Yunnan. Peiping has a way of revamping maps. Borders are usually bulged out in China's favor. It would be easy to spread this Thai "nation" from Yunnan into Indochina, Thailand and Burma—not as geographical conquest—but as a "nationalist movement" by the Thais themselves. Peiping, of course, would call the signals but the Thais, who have the usual sets of grievances against the French, the Siamese and the other peoples of Burma, to say nothing of the English and Americans, could probably think they were doing it themselves.

Housing Money Is Still Tight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The higher interest allowed since last May on GI loans hasn't helped veterans buy more homes, figures released today by the Veterans Administration show.

At the time, the raise from 4 to 4½ per cent interest was hailed by many money lenders and government officials as one which would give veterans a better chance to get the government-insured loans. They said lenders weren't anxious to put up money for veterans' home loans because the return was so small.

Since then, the number of GI home loan applications approved by the VA hasn't ingreased. These loan application approvals are used by the VA as one barometer indicating the availability of money for GI loans.

Figures for July show that the number of applications approved actually dropped slightly from April, the month immediately before the interest increase.

In April, 26,000 applications were approved; in July, only 25,453. May saw about 24,000 approved and June about 26,000.

T. B. King, director of the VA's Loan Guaranty Service, said the primary cause has been the demand for money for other types of investments which bring in higher interest rates. He added in an interview:

"I expect to see the supply of money for GI loans pick up within the next 60 to 90 days. The great majority of our offices around the country think there will be an increase. So far, the judgment of these offices has been good."

Stubborn Woman Makes Thief Pay For Pop

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A stubborn clerk late yesterday turned a would-be holdup man into a cash customer.

Frances Edwards, 22, said an aged man approached her park refreshment stand, displayed a gun and threatened to kill her if she didn't hand over the money in the cash drawer. She refused.

The elderly bandit ran around the stand shouting, "Let me in. Give me the money." Finally, he put up his gun, ordered three bottles of pop, paid for them, hopped in his car and drove off.

Bread Scorned By Dieters As Sales Go Down

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Bread bakers have a troubled look today. A new wave of dieting threatens their slipping sales. A persistent minority say today's packaged bread isn't as tasty as grandmother baked.

The flour and baking industries are anxious for you to believe:

1. Bread doesn't deserve banishment from the fare of the overplump but is really necessary in a balanced diet.

2. Today's enriched bread is much better for you than the old fashioned home baked loaf, having iron and three essential vitamins added and having lost no real nutriment in the bleaching process.

Many can still remember how bread made at home in grandmother's day outstripped modern packaged bread in two ways: You could smell it baking and you could eat it hot.

Bleaching flour to make bread whiter is the result of housewives' preferences, says George Morrison, president of General Baking, which turns out eight million loaves of white bread a week. He says the miller uses a process similar to that in purifying drinking water and that this removes none of the important food elements.

To combat any complaints about the tastiness of the ordinary loaf, there is a growing movement in the baking industry to bring out premium breads, higher priced, but aimed at every variety of taste or diet. These now account for about five per cent of the daily sales of some 40 million loaves of bread a day.

Ward and General, among others, bring out low-calory breads.

Pepperidge Farm is one example of premium bread, with specially rich ingredients.

Dieting is the most worrisome threat to the bakers. The American Medical Assn. holds that 30 million Americans are overweight and life insurance companies claim that the mortality rate among the overweight is 150 per cent that of the rate among the normal weight.

Health Unit Director Talks

Dr. Hugh Stennis, director of the Nolan-Scurry Health Unit, outlined briefly the services offered by the health unit in a talk to the Lions Club yesterday.

Dr. Stennis was introduced by R. B. Fulcher, administrator of Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

"Gamma Globulin is available through the health unit for innoculation of persons exposed to polio," he said.

He also urged everyone to be X-rayed by the mobile X-ray unit to be here, and said that 99 per cent of all tuberculosis cases could be cured if discovered in early stages, and without great expense.

He outlined the other activities of the health unit and pointed out that the services of the unit are not charity, "because the expenses of the health unit are paid by the county from tax money paid by citizens of the county."

Ice and water can each exist at 32 degrees Fahrenehit, and if a mixture of the two is heated uniformly, the temperature will not rise until the ice is all melted.

Young Fellow Born At Gates Of Hospital

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Charles McGuire Foreman entered the world in the family car at the gates of a hospital here yesterday —the wrong hospital.

The father, James B. Foreman, 29, was driving his wife to Retreat for the Sick Hospital but made it only to the gates of McGuire Veterans Administration Hospital.

Thus young Charles' middle name.

McGuire officials rushed Mrs. Martha Foreman, 24, and her newborn son—their fourth— to an operating room. They were reported doing fine.

Leg Lost To Shovel

DAVISVILLE, R. I. (AP)—Unaware that Edward Simeone, 61, was digging in an eight-foot trench, a power shovel operator dropped his clam shovel into the trench yesterday, closed it and severed Simeone's left leg below the knee.

Surgeons at Kent County Memorial Hospital later amputated the leg above the knee.

Cats Like Little Bite

WARSAW, N. Y. (AP)—Was it rabbits or groundhogs, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Redding wanted to know when they found their garden cucumbers gnawed.

They stayed up one night to watch—and found two neighborhood cats contentedly munching cucumbers.

An ancient church custom, the "Blessing of the Animals," is still observed in several countries, including the United States.

South Korean Army Is Organized Along New Streamlined Program

SEOUL (AP)—A new streamlined training command for the South Korean Army was announced today by U. S. 8th Army headquarters.

The Army labeled the battle-tested United States 10th Corps as a "group" and gave it the responsibility for training and operational control of all three Republic of Korea army corps.

The new command is under Lt. Gen. Reuben E. Jenkins, commander of the U. S. 9th Corps in Korea for a year.

"Army groups" were organized in past wars to exercise control over various Allied armies but this is the first such "corps group."

Republic of Korea Army headquarters remains unchanged by the new order, but South Korean troops on the line and in training will be under the actual command of Jenkins' 10th Corps.

Want to be nimble, smooth and quick?

TT Dynaflow* does the trick!

WE have just the place for you. If such is your desire.

It's at the wheel of a 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow.

And we suggest you hold on to your hat and your heart when the action starts—for here's what happens:

You press the pedal and, from a standing start, you're up to a legal 30 mph before you have time to breathe but twice.

Or, you're in the thick of traffic—moving smoothly, easily, quietly. Then, when it's safe to do so, you move instantly into the clear with the greatest of ease—in one progressive build-up of velvet acceleration—without a single gear shifted or a clutch pedal pushed.

That, sir, is the big thrill command you get in any 1953 Buick SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER with new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow.

For this fully automatic drive now has two turbines where one did the trick before. Two turbines for instant getaway response—with whisper quiet—and with infinite smoothness through all ranges.

Of course, a lot of able power goes with this smooth, quick getaway—the highest horsepowers and compression ratios, Series for Series, in all Buick history.

And so does big room. And the supreme comfort of the Buick Million Dollar Ride. And the superb handling ease of finely balanced weight. Even Power Steering* is at hand to make parking and turning still easier.

Why not drop in on us soon and sample one of these great new 1953 Buicks with TT Dynaflow? It's an experience — and a value story — too good to miss.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Plans Are To Continue With U. S. Backed Free Food Plan

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—This country's free food for the East Germans—flour, lard, beans and dried milk—continues to sting the Russians like a mustard plaster.

The 15 million dollars which President Eisenhower ordered spent for it no doubt pays for itself in goodwill for this country among both the free West Germans and the East Germans living under Communist control.

As an American act of friendship, it may be effective in persuading the West Germans to reelect this fall Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who has been working on the side of the United States.

And the fact that the East Germans have streamed into West Berlin for the food, at risk to themselves, is notice to everyone that there is a hunger problem in Soviet territory and that the Russians can't lick it.

After the East German workers' riots in June, Eisenhower put the Russians on the spot by asking them to let 15 million dollars' worth of American food go through the curtain to the East Germans.

If Moscow accepted, it would be public acknowledgement of the hunger problem. Refusal would make Communist treatment of the East Germans, which brought on the riots, look even worse. Moscow refused.

Eisenhower decided to send the food into West Germany where Adenauer's government could handle distribution of it for the East Germans, or those who dared to come for it. Many dared.

Over 2,600,000 seven-pound packages have been handed out and the program is far from finished. Distribution began in late July.

It's been estimated the 15 millions will buy 50,000 tons of food. Eisenhower ordered Harold Stassen's Mutual Security Agency, since renamed the Foreign Operations Administration (FOA), to get the food.

The money comes out of a special FOA fund. FOA told the agriculture Department to act as its agent in buying the food. Then FOA set up a schedule to ship about 5,000 tons a week.

The first shipment of 4,500 tons began leaving this country in American freighters July 17. It consisted of 2,000 tons of flour, 1,000 tons of lard, 500 tons of dried milk, and 1,000 tons of beans.

Further shipments will contain the same items, with the possible addition of canned meat. The flour, lard and dried milk are being bought from commercial firms. The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) supplies the beans.

As part of its price-support program, the government will step in and buy a farmer's beans if open market prices fall below a certain figure.

The CCC does this buying. As a result, it has warehouses in Michigan loaded with beans. The government draws on these warehouses for the beans shipped to Germany.

Once the food gets to West Germany, Adenauer's government hauls it to West Berlin. As an example of what the food means: 2,000 tons of lard is two million one-pound containers.

The food packages are distributed from relief stations set up in public schools in West Berlin. There's been a recent lag in the program because the school season starts soon.

New centers will be set up. The program is expected to get going at full speed again by Aug. 27. An official of the State Department describes the rest of the story:

East Berliners can get into West Berlin by bus, elevated trains, subways or by walking—if the East German police don't stop them. The police have been doing a lot of checking and turning food seekers back.

Still, plenty get through, on one excuse or another, or in one way or another. When they get the food, how do they get it back home? The official said the East Germans have shown amazing cleverness.

He mentioned briefcases in particlar. The Germans, he said, are great briefcase carriers. Some food can be concealed that way, some in the clothing, some wrapped in East German newspapers.

Some of those caught returning with the American food have had a rough time.

Perfume Still Is Discovered

MIDDLETOWN, R. I. (AP)—A still for making fake perfume for use in bottles with the counterfeit labels of several of the leading perfumeries of the world was uncovered yesterday by federal agents.

The raid was carried out by Special Investigator Joseph E. Lannon of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau and Inspector John J. Hanagan of the Food and Drug Control Administration.

Lannon said that in addition to a 15-gallon still they also seized a large quantity of perfume bottles, some filled and some empty but all carrying the counterfeit labels of expensive perfumes.

Lannon said also the counterfeit perfumes had been sold in New York, Washington, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Havana, Cuba, "for as much as $110 an ounce."

A federal warrant was sworn out after the raid against Robert Goldman, 52, last reported in Detroit. The warrant charged Goldman with operation of an unregistered still.

Texan Ready To Go Back Fighting Reds

By The Associated Press

Sgt. Wesley Little of Borger emerged angry from a Red prison of war camp Wednesday declaring he would fight the Communists again, if need be.

Little was one of five Texans freed during the day by the Communists in prisoner exchanges in Korea. The latest releases brought to 83 the number of Texans returning to freedom from beyond the blood-drenched Bamboo Curtain.

Little said his Red captors urged him to quit the Army when he returned home. But Little, expressing extreme hatred for his former captors, said, "I'm going to take my furlough, then I'm going to re-enlist and if they want to come back here I'll fight again."

Little was with a service company of the 2nd Engineer Combat Battalion of the 2nd Division. He is the nephew of Mrs. D. E. Langston, 810 Monroe St., Borger.

The other four Texans released along with Little included: Pfc. Sim T. Bynum, Overton; Cpl. Elias Preece, son of Mrs. Ethel Preece, Del Rio; Pfc. John W. Day, Arlington and Cpl. Gilberton Galvan, Raymondville.

In Borger, Mrs. Langston said she "always felt that he was alive when he was reported missing in action," when she was told of Little's release.

Little attended school in Oklahoma and Borger and first enlisted in the Army in 1946. He later reenlisted and was captured in 1950. After his mother died in 1942, he had made his home with the Langstons in Borger.

"He was just like my own son," the overjoyed Mrs. Langston said.

Explorers Hauled Out World's Deepest Cave

PIERRE ST. MARTIN, France (AP)—Rescuers today hauled to safety the remaining two of three cave explorers who went deeper into the earth than man ever has before—2,395 feet.

The speleologists (cave explorers) hauled out today were Robert Levi and Norbert Casteret. Their colleague, Dr. Andre Mairey, was pulled up last night from the St. Martin Cave here in the Pyrenees Mountains of southwestern France.

The cave reputedly is the earth's greatest land fissure. One man was killed in a similar exploit last year when the cable snapped as he was being brought to the surface.

The three were members of an expedition seeking to determine possibility of an underground hydroelectric plant.

Zoo Changes Over To Whale Meat On Menu

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The horsemeat eaters at the Philadelphia Zoo have had a switch of diet—they're eating whale meat now—and only two of the beats, a couple of finicky leopards, seem to know the difference.

The leopards—Kitzen and Prince Igor—refuse to touch the substitute.

But for the other carnivorous citizens at the zoo—lions, foxes, wolves and dingo dogs — whale meat seems to be as good a dish as any.

The change-over is just another result of the mechanical age, says Fred Ulmer, curator of mammals. Farmers have given up horses for machines and this has cut the horses available for slaughter from 15 million to little more than two million.

The zoo needs 275 pounds of good red meat every day and when its supplier couldn't get hold of that much day in and day out, Sales Manager Ed Solomon said he had some whale meat obtained from Norway and Japan.

Nutritionally, Solomon said, the whale meat showed a higher protein content than horse meat.

Thus it was that the zoo started buying whale meat at 15 cents a pound, the same price that horse meat brings.

Why the two leopards haven't fancied the new delicacy isn't known, but Ulmer says it may be because both were born in captivity and are finicky.

Even the birds, the meat-eating vultures and eagles, have adopted the diet without a squawk.

Solomon says whale meat resembles beef in appearance and is not to be confused with blubber, which is the fatty tissue around the meat.

Francois Fischer, a 3-year-old nudist, ended up in the hands of the law in Pasadena, Calif. Francois went to the bank without his pocketbook. In fact, he didn't even have a pocket or any clothes to put one in. Embarassed bank employes fashioned him sketchy trunks from a money bag, then the law took a hand in things.

Aid Program Is Not Hurting Feed Business

Independent feed dealers here say that the government's drouth emergency feed program has not hurt them, and they believe it will help their business in the long run.

Alvis Minton, of Clark Feed & Seed, 1607 Twenty-fifth Street, said that "although we sell cattle feeds, our business has not been hurt by the government's program."

"We offer for sale corn and oats, but they were not selling at the high prices we had to ask for them because ranchers couldn't afford to buy them," Minton said.

Stockman who have bought corn and oats under the government program would have purchased them at the higher prices anyway, he said.

"In the long run the government program will help us because it will keep the cattle in the country, and our feed business will be normal after the government emergency program ends," he said, adding, "we will not have to go through a period of waiting for the ranchers to rebuild their herds from scratch."

Minton said that there may have been a slight decrease in their sale of mixed feeds and range cubes, but that it is not seriously affecting their business.

Price of such feeds has not decreased because of the emergency program, he said.

Judgement Against John Wayne's Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge has given the estranged wife of actor John Wayne just 10 days to pay up a $2,082 grocery and liquor bill.

Mrs. Esperanza Wayne had testified during a two-day trial that she was unable to meet her household expenses from the $1,100 monthly that Wayne is paying her.

Municipal Judge Charles B. McCoy yesterday awarded Sales Markets, Inc., of Encino, judgement for the $2,082 plus interest from last June 17 and costs of her suit.

Mrs. Wayne's Cadillac automobile was attached over the bill recently and she came to court in her gardner's pickup truck.

Striking Union Hits Governor After Rioting

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Officials of the CIO Communications Workers, facing suits in federal and county courts, accused Gov. George N. Craig of helping Indiana Bell Telephone Co. in a "union-busting and strike-busting" campaign.

Mrs. Mae Mann, Indiana CWA director, said in a statement that the governor was fostering a "police state." She said he should have "given more consideration" to a solution achieved at South Bend in which the union agreed to limit pickets and the company agreed to get rid of out-of-town workers.

The union repeatedly has accused Indiana Bell of bringing in "strike breakers."

Indiana Bell filed suit in federal court in Indianapolis yesterday accusing 24 CWA locals and 58 individual union officers of violating the National Labor Relations Act.

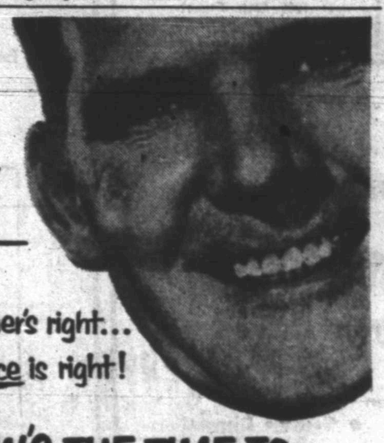

The suit accused the union of "threats, intimidation and coercion . . . against nonstriking employes and against the company through destruction of cable, windows and other telephone property."

It referred specifically to reported outbreaks of violence at South Bend, Fort Wayne, Kokomo, Martinsville and Clinton.

Gov. Craig sent state troopers to Clinton Monday after weekend disorders had caused a suspension of telephone service. He said yesterday he had ordered state police to stand by in five more cities where violence was feared. The governor declined to name the cities.

If ice is put into water and the two cooled, the temperature of both will remain 32 degrees Fahrenheit until all the water is frozen.
