Venezuela Rocked By Revolt, 50 Die

President, Five Cabinet Members Unseated As Army Group Takes Over

(By The Associated Press)

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 19.—More than 50 persons were reported killed and 100 wounded today in a revolt by young army officers that unseated President Isaias Medina Angarita and apparently left the revolutionaries in control of Venezuela.

Beginning shortly after 2 p. m. yesterday, when the officers seized the Miraflores palace and the military academy, the uprising approached a climax 24 hours later with President Medina's surrender.

(A radio broadcast from Caracas, heard in Washington, said a seven-man junta had been formed to control the nation until a president can be elected to succeed Medina.)

Five Of Cabinet Quit

A few members of the Medina cabinet gave up with him, but Minister of Education Rafael Vega took refuge in the Mexican embassy.

(A rebel-controlled Caracas radio station heard in Bogota, Colombia, at 4:45 p. m. today announced that "a few pockets of suicide resistance remain" but said all military garrisons were under the control of the revolutionary junta.

(However, listeners to the San Cristobal radio in Medina's home state of Tachira were told in a 6 p. m. broadcast that the revolt centered in Caracas and the Medina government was in control in the rest of the country. The radio said loyal forces were concentrating in the states of Tachira, Trijillo, Merida and Lara for a march on the capital.)

Thousand Start Looting

As word of Medina's surrender spread in Caracas, thousands of armed civilians began looting homes, including those of high government officials.

Troops were reported enroute from Maracay to the capital to restore order. Maracay, strongest military center in Venezuela, was taken by the insurgents after heavy fighting.

Most of those killed were policemen and the wounded were soldiers on both sides.

A state of siege existed in Caracas, with newspapers censored, radio stations closed and transport paralyzed. Electric current was shut off in sections of the city and communication with the rest of the country halted.

Leaders Held As Hostages

The revolt began when the officers, apparently dissatisfied with the coming presidential election, lured several high officers and cabinet officials to the palace, then held them as hostages.

Shortly before noon today, seven Army planes from the Maracay airbase dropped bombs on San Carlos barracks and flew menacingly over resisting police headquarters. Police soon sur-

House Votes Sharp Cut In U. S. Spending

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—Legislation chopping government spending by $52,653,867,278 this fiscal year was approved by the House tonight.

The approval was shouted without a dissenting voice after a seven-hour floor fight in which President Truman sustained a setback.

Before sending the appropriations cut to the Senate, the House flatly rejected an administration proposal that the United States Employment service remain under federal control until next June 30. As the measure now is written, these offices go back to state control after the legislation becomes law.

Sharpest Ever Approved

The bill passed tonight cancels appropriations and spending authorizations which are no longer needed because the war is over. It is the sharpest reduction in spending ever approved by a congressional branch.

The decision—by a vote of 162 to 101—to restore job-hunting services to the states is a direct rebuff to the President. Mr. Truman recommended that the employment service continue as a federal task during the anticipated huge turnover occasioned by reconversion.

The House was in no mood, either, to tack on to the bill a rider offered by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) to speed demobilization of the armed forces.

Ruled Out Of Order

Rep. Lanham (D-Tex), presiding at the time, ruled the Rankin amendment out of order and Rankin appealed directly to the House. The members shouted a thunderous support of the ruling.

Most of the big cuts in the bill are in funds for the Army and Navy.

To assure that there would be no interference with operation of veterans' employment service, Rankin obtained adoption of an amendment declaring that there shall be no cut in the $7,796,134 fund of the veterans' service placement board operated under the Selective Service system.

Senate Group Votes Big Slash In Individual, Business Taxes

Total Of $5,629,000,000 Is Well Beyond Reductions Voted By House

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The Senate Finance committee voted unexpectedly tonight to cut individual income tax levies by an additional $563,000,000 and approved a bill slashing total business and individual taxes for 1946 by $5,629,000,000.

After earlier approving a decrease of $2,085,000,000 in individual taxes, the committee increased the cut to $2,648,000,000. This was $21,000,000 more than the $2,627,000,000 approved by the House.

Small Business Benefits

The committee approved additional benefits for small business today, bringing total corporate reductions, as compared with this year's levies, to $2,841,000,000.

Expected repeal of the use tax on automobiles and boats, with a saving of $140,000,000 to owners in the last half of 1946, would bring the total reductions to $5,629,000,000. Repeal has been voted by the House and approved by the Senate Finance committee.

The total reduction was $279,000,000 more than the $5,350,000,000 cut approved by the House.

The committee also voted special treatment for veterans.

Excise Taxes Stand

The committee, however, decided to let special excise taxes on such things as furs, jewelry and toilet articles stand at their present rates. The House voted to reduce them to their pre-war levels next July 1.

The last minute additional relief for individuals came as a surprise. Chairman George (D-Ga) said the proposal carried on a show of hands—about 9 to 4 as he recalled.

It calls for figuring individual income taxes on the basis of the formula previously approved by the committee, then deducting 5 per cent of the tax before paying the collector.

The original formula applied surtax exemptions to the three per cent normal tax, and cut three percentage points off each of the graduated surtax rates. Currently, the normal tax carries an exemption of only $500 per taxpayer, regardless of the number of his dependents. The surtax exemption is $500 apiece for the taxpayer and each dependent.

Track House Plan

Treasury experts present at the closed committee session said that for 32,000,000 of the estimated 36,000,000 persons who will be subject to income taxes next year, the Senate bill will grant reductions identical with those voted by the House. The 32,000,000 are those whose surtax net incomes, above exemptions, do not exceed $2,000.

(The House had voted to make surtax exemptions apply to the normal tax, and had cut 4 percentage points off each surtax rate. In addition, it had stipulated that each tax payer was to get a minimum reduction in his tax of 10 per cent—a provision which would have helped high-bracket taxpayers).

The experts added that from $2,000 of surtax net income, to an undetermined point—possibly $20,000, $30,000 or $40,000—the Senate bill would give more relief than the House bill. Above that level, the House bill would reduce the tax more.

Meet Again Tuesday

The committee will meet again Tuesday to make a final inspection of the bill. George said it could not be turned over to Senate for action before Wednesday.

George said that three or four members protested against ordering bigger total reductions than either the House or the $5,000,-

PLUTARCO ELIAS CALLES

Iron Man Calles Dies In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 19. (AP)—Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, former president and "iron man of Mexico," died today in the British-American hospital. He was 68 years old.

He had suffered from gall bladder and stomach affections.

Calles was president from Dec. 1, 1924, until Nov. 30, 1928. After his presidency he was an exile for a short time and his enemies talked of trying him for his public acts. But when he returned to Mexico in 1929 he again dominated by the force of his personality and until 1935 he generally was reckoned as the biggest power in the country.

Began As School Teacher

He began life as a country school teacher, got into the revolutionary movement at the start of the century and ruled firmly whether in office or out. When he retired from all public affairs some years ago he said, "the day of the strong man in Mexico is over."

Calles is survived by four sons and five daughters.

Labor Policy In Forefront

By HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—President Truman, after a two-hour cabinet session, put off today his anticipated declaration of a wage-price policy to allay strikes while Capitol Hill heard demands for labor law changes.

The cabinet meeting, in which nearly all of the President's department heads participated, was devoted principally to the wage-price question.

Probable Meaning

This was taken to mean either that such a policy was not yet clearly-enough drawn to be announced, or if it had crystalized it had to be put in writing for formal announcement. This might take several days.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, key figure in the discussions, declined to tell reports what took place at the meeting. He has favored using the War Labor board to establish a pattern by test cases. But the board proceeded with its plan to liquidate by mid-December or January 1.

While the cabinet was hunting for a wage-price policy which would serve as a brake on strikes, Schwellenbach's assistant secretary, Daniel W. Tracy, put the Labor department on record before Congress as desiring immediate repeal of the strike notice sectoin of the Smith-Connally war labor disputes act.

Differ On Repeal

Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va) wants to repeal the entire measure which he co-sponsored with Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex) and others in June 1943. Connally wants to wipe out only the strike vote section. Both thought the measure would reduce wartime strikes, but Tracy said the strike-notice section "serves to increase friction between management and labor."

The balance of the Smith-Connally act, Tracy said, could possibly be changed after the November labor - management conference, if it should recommend legislation to deal with the problem.

There were other demands on the hill for changes in the labor laws.

Strike Ties Up Gulf Shipping

HOUSTON, Oct. 19. (AP) — Shipping at the port of Houston was tied up tonight—1,000 warehousemen walked off their jobs at 6 p. m. and 2500 longshoremen stayed off the job in a sympathy strike.

A. L. Nurse, president of International Longshoremen's association, Local 1330, said no agreement about wage increases had been reached between the union and company managements.

Three Cities Involved

The wage dispute involved warehousemen in Houston, Galveston and Lake Charles, La.

The union men originally asked for $1.12½ hourly scale, but said in later conferences with steamship managements, they would accept $1.05 an hour plus 5 and 10 cent differentials in handling heavy and difficult cargoes.

Companies have offered 85 cents and hour with differentials in place of the current scale of 80 cents plus differentials.

Tired Of Talking

"We have been talking with company managements for 10 days and have gotten nowhere," Nurse said. "We're tired of talking and mean action this time.

"Several weeks ago the warehousement went on a five hour strike for higher wages.

At that time the longshoremen refused to cross the picket lines, and Nurse said tonight the longshoremen would not cross the picket lines during this walkout.

Hitler's Pursekeeper Sobs As He Reads Allied Charge

By GEORGE TUCKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 19—Chubby Walther Funk, Hitler's pursekeeper, broke down in tears today when he and his Nazi cohorts received their copies of the indictment for the war crimes trials in Nuernberg Nov. 20.

The sobbing Funk, who as minister of economics channeled every cent in the Reich to support his fuehrer's war, declared:

"I would like to see some officer appointed by the court in order to discuss my defense. I can request counsel at once, can't I?"

"I am trying to preserve my health! I have the greatest interest in the conclusion of this trial!" Funk shouted. Funk, 55, was known in his cabinet days for his love of good food and drink.

Others Are Calmer

The other 22 defendants—Hitler's deputy Martin Bormann still is missing—received the indictments much more calmly, although some showed agitation about having legal counsel. They were assured they would have attorneys.

The international war crimes tribunal announced the trials would open in the palace of justice here Nov. 20.

The indictments, charging these men of the Nazi hierarchy with crimes against humanity and slaughter of 10,000,000 Europeans, were handed up to the tribunal in Berlin yesterday and served on the defendants in Nuernberg jail today.

Jew baiter Julius Streicher, demanding "when can I see my counsel?" was handed a list of approved attorneys, several of whom had Jewish names.

Wouldn't Want A Jew

"Is this for somebody who is anti-semitic?" he asked. "I could not ask a Jew to defend me. I do not know these gentlemen."

Thin-lipped, balding Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl, who signed the surrender last May at Reims, inquired coolly: "From what category does the counsel come? Do I choose a criminal lawyer or international lawyer?"

He was told that any lawyer would be acceptable.

Robert Ley, 55-year-old Nazi labor front leader who tried to commit suicide after his capture by the Americans last May, wanted to know when he should request counsel, and whether it was necessary for him to reply to the indictment.

Wants To Study It

Silver-haired Joachim von Ribbentrop, one of the best-educated of the defendants who as foreign minister engineered Hitler's foreign policy, said in English: "I would like to think this over before saying anything."

Also speaking in English, Hjalmar Horace Greeley Schacht, former Nazi economics minister and Reichsbank president, declared "my son-in-law is a jurist, but not a lawyer. I would like to talk to him."

Two Nazi foreign ministers, Franz von Papen and Constantin von Neurath, both said they had "no comment" to make on the indictments.

Karl Doenitz, grand admiral and commander in chief of the German Navy, who succeeded Hitler in the last days of Nazi rule, apparently was prepared for receiving the indictment.

Dressed in a double-breasted blue suit of naval design but without any insignia, Doenitz turned over to tribunal officials a slip of paper with the names of two lawyers he wanted to defend him.

Tahoka Is Believed Near End Of Strife

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, Oct. 19.—Efforts to settle Tahoka's week-long muddled school situation appeared to be making progress here tonight as members of the Tahoka Independent District School board were reported to be considering petitions signed by approximately 600 Tahoka citizens asking members of the board to withdraw their oral resignations and help in restoring normalcy to the school system.

Petitions signed by the 600 citizens of Tahoka pledging support of the Tahoka Independent School board, five members of which have turned in oral resignations, were presented to board members. The petitions pledged support for any policies the board may wish to put into effect. At a mass meeting this afternoon in the courthouse, citizens promised further support to the board.

Hope For Solution

Tonight the board members were reported to be attempting to reach a decision to end a deadlock which has resulted in the oral resignations of Supt. E. S. Hancock, Principal Vernon Brewer, Coach H. W. Stewart, five mmebers of the board, at least 12 members of the high school faculty and suspension of high school classes for the past three days. In addition, 19 members of the football team have turned in their books and quit school.

The Morning Avalanche learned from several sources in Tahoka that the situation appeared to be reaching normalcy again and everyone concerned was hoping for a quick settlement of the difficulty over the week-end.

It was understood that if the Tahoka Independent District School board members do not reach some decision to withdraw their oral resignations by 1 p. m. Saturday, the Lynn County school board likely will meet to consider the situation and perhaps name a temporary board to assume control.

The Lynn County board met Thursday afternoon to consider the situation but deferred action in the matter until Saturday afternoon after a committee representing a Tahoka civic group appeared before the board and asked time to work the matter out.

Trouble in the community, which is 30 miles south of Lubbock, started over minor disagreements concerning the handling of the football team. The record of the team this fall, five losses, was not

Showdown With Soviet Delayed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—The United States averted today an immediate showdown with Russia over the issue of a control commission for Japan.

This gives President Truman and other top leaders of the Big Three powers a few more days in which to try to iron out critical differences over postwar settlements, disclosed at the recent foreign ministers' meeting in London.

The State department announced that the initial meeting of a Far Eastern Advisory commission first set for October 23 had been postponed to October 30. The official reason given was that several of the participating governments requested the postponement because of travel difficulties.

The effect, however, was to delay the necessity for a Moscow decision on whether Russia would participate in the meeting.

When Secretary of State Byrnes first proposed creation of the advisory commission Russia agreed. Subsequently Foreign Commissar Molotov took the position that a control commission should be created first. Such a commission would either replace or supplant General Douglas MacArthur as the supreme Allied representative in Japan.

Byrnes told a news conference he believed that the advisory commission should be set up first and that it should work out recommendations for whatever kind of machinery might be deemed best for the long-range management of Japanese affairs.

Brutal Slaying, Rape Recounted

DENVER, Oct. 19 (AP)—Captured while calmly smoking a cigaret beside his wife's body, a young, discharged soldier was held today in the slaying which police were told was preceded and followed by his raping of a chance acquaintance.

Joseph Desrosiers, 26-year-old former soldier from San Antonio, was taken without resistance as he sat still armed in the mired automobile which was the reported scene of raping and killing.

When he submitted to handcuffs while ringed by a large posse in a brightly moonlit field near suburban Aurora, Detective Sgt. Leslie Sawyer said the young prisoner cried bitterly:

Would Have Killed Self

"I would have been dead, too, if my gun hadn't refused to work again."

Sawyer said the black-haired Army sergeant apparently attempted to shoot himself while the possemen closed in under the direction of the young woman who said he raped her twice, but his .32 caliber automatic missed fire.

Partially disrobed and crying hysterically, Marie Woidill, 26, taxied to Denver police headquarters late last night where, Sawyer said, she reported Desrosiers killed his bride while she watched and later raped her on the front seat while the body lay on the rear floorboards.

Met In Denver Tavern

She told officers she had become acquainted with the former Army hospital laboratory technician in a Denver tavern only a few hours earlier and he had raped her at gunpoint before the two of them picked up Mrs. Desrosiers.

The dead woman was Catherine Stone Desrosiers, 23, a Denver Army nurse who met Desrosiers while both were stationed at Edmonton, Alberta. They were transferred together to White Horse, Yukon Territory, and were married last January in San Antonio.

Chinese Land On Formosa

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19 — As 100 American fighter planes roared overhead, Chinese troops landed on Formosa yesterday to reassert Chinese authority after 50 years.

Some 12,000 Chinese soldiers, equipped with umbrellas and small packs of firewood, walked down the ramps of American 7th fleet landing craft on to soil which no Chinese soldier has trod since 1895 when Japan wrested this rich island from the decaying Manchu throne in Peking.

Island Is Big Prize

Formosa is a big prize. The Japanese habitually took twice as much out of it as they ever put in. Before the war it made a world monopoly of natural camphor and produced a million tons of sugar every year. It can supplement the economy of South China in much the same way that Manchuria can augment that of the North.

For half a century it has been an exclusive Japanese preserve and no one is very sure just what has gone on there recently. The Japanese got large quantities of alcohol, rice, lumber and such minerals as coal, gold and copper out of it.

The island is shaped like a fat banana lying 100 miles off the Fukien coast. It was about 6,000,000 people, most of whom are descended from Fukienese immigrants. Before the war there were about 350,000 Japanese (not counting troops) and 160,000 Aborigines.

Practice Headhunting

These aboriginal tribes live in the forested mountains along the east coast, where some of them practice headhunting with such enthusiasm that not even the Japanese ever got them completely under control. In one case they just built an electrically charged fence around one mountain tribe and quit worrying.

The climate is hot and humid, and most Formosans are farmers who till the plains along the west coast, some doing considerable fishing on the side.

Bill Davis Dies In Hospital At Roswell

W. W. (Bill) Davis, former Southwestern Bell Telephone company employe here, who recently bought and assumed management of the telephone exchange at O'Donnell, died about midnight last night in a hospital at Roswell, N. M., friends here were advised early this morning.

Details were not known here, but Davis, who had suffered what was diagnosed as a heart attack several months ago, was in a Roswell hospital, presumably for treatment. His wife was with him.

The body is to be brought here today by Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home.

Humble Oil Workers Accept Wage Raise

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19. (AP)—H. S. Bright Friday night announced the acceptance by the employes federation of the Humble Oil and Refining company, production department, of a 15 per cent increase in base rate of pay for all production department employes. The increase is retroactive to October 16.

Approximately 7,000 workers, including office staff in the Houston headquarters and elsewhere are affected. The increase will cover the states of Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Mississippi and Florida.

Bright is president of the Southwest Texas division of the federation and also president of the central council.

HST Shifts Surplus Disposition To RFC

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—President Truman today ordered the job of disposing of surplus consumer goods—ranging from trucks to bandages and tableware—transferred from the Commerce department to the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

RFC already was handling such spare items as factories and lands and factory machinery.

The shift, the White House announced, was made on recommendation of Commerce Secretary Wallace. He called the split operation "administratively unworkable."

W. Stuart Symington, surplus property administrator, at the same time gave to the War Assets corporation, an RFC subsidiary formerly known as the Petroleum Reserves corporation, the duty of disposing of all surplus property for which RFC is responsible.

The War Assets corporation will have a board of directors of seven members, five from RFC and two from the Surplus Property administration. Sam H. Husbands, an RFC director, will be chairman.

Parents Honor Guests At Tech Today In Annual Observance

TODAY is annual Parent's day on the Texas Tech campus.

Registration will begin at 10 a. m. and continue through 2:30 p. m. in women's residence hall No. 2, designated as headquarters.

Two main events of the day will be an informal reception from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. in women's residence hall No. 2 and the Tech-Baylor football game at 8:15 p. m. at Tech stadium.

All parents will be conducted on an afternoon tour of the campus when they will visit buildings, laboratories, offices and other places of interest. Staff members will act as host to parents.

A "First-come-first-served" dinner will be served parents and students at 6:15 p. m. today at the college social center.

Parents of Red Raider players will be honored at the football game and reserved seats will be provided them. Awards, to be presented during the half of the game, will be given parents with the greatest number of students in Tech at present and to those who traveled the longest distance to attend the celebrations.

Troy Caldwell, president of the student body, will present awards and officially greet parents. A musical program honoring parents will be played by the Matador band.

Jap Communists Ask Aid Of Socialist Foe

TOKYO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Japan's liberated Communist minority—long imprisoned for its radical views—sought the help of its former foe, the Socialists, today for the bitter fight it proposes against Premier Kijuro Shidehara's new government.

The new National Federation of Toilers meanwhile drew a capacity crowd to a mass meeting which heard open denunciation of Communist aims, and reaffirmed staunch support of the throne, which Communists propose to abolish.

Domei news agency reported that the cabinet met today to discuss a part of the democratic program and had decided to call a special meeting of the ministers whose departments were involved.

Waco Woman Killed In Freak Accident

WACO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Lydia Manuel, 37, was killed today in a freak accident that occurred when her automobile was in a collision with another car.

Mrs. Manuel was thrown out of the car and into a ditch by the impact. Her automobile hit a pole and bounced back on her. Then the second car hit the same pole and bounced atop Mrs. Manuel's automobile. Both automobiles had to be removed to reach Mrs. Manuel. She died four hours later in a Waco hospital.

Dalhart Man Charged In Nisei's Slaying

VALE, Ore., Oct. 19. (AP) — A first degree murder charge today was filed against Floyd Pousson, 18, Dalhart, Texas, charging him with killing an elderly Japanese-American, N. Kurisu.

Pousson, arrested in Dalhart on an auto theft charge, was carrying the Nisei's watch and other personal effects, District Attorney E. Otis Smith said here.

The body of the 61-year-old Japanese, missing since Oct. 5, was found Wednesday in a gravel pit near Ontario, Ore. Nisei friends tentatively identified the man today. Dr. Joseph Beeman of the state crime laboratory said Kurisu had died of gunshot wounds.

Sheriff Charles W. Glenn said he had not yet made out extradition papers for Pousson.

Three-Year-Old Boy Killed By Pet Dog

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Oct. 19 (AP) — Three-year-old Charles Ehrhardt, Jr., was attacked and chewed to death by the family's pet dog, Dr. J. A. Kelley, Chippewa county coroner said today. The family had the animal destroyed.

The parents told Dr. Kelly they heard a scuffle outside their door last night and found their son bitten severely about the head and upper portion of the body.

Previously, the 2-year-old dog, a Doberman Pinscher, had been gentle with the child and his brother, William, 2, the parents said.

TOMATO PICKLES

THIS RECIPE for green tomato pickles is a tasty and pretty dish, according to Mrs. Frances Lee Tolbert. Take the middle slices of green tomatoes (about one quart), let set in salt solution for one hour, drain. Take the middle slices of onion, 1 sliced cucumber, rings of hot red pepper, one-half jar of prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon tumeric and pour over one quart of sweetened, spiced vinegar. Let get smoking hot and then take from stove and put in sterilized jars and seal. The rings of red, green, white and yellow make an unusually attractive jar, Mrs. Tolbert says.

The remainder of the tomatoes and onions will make chow chow, she added.

BIRD'S CONCERT

SINCE OUR writing has been concerned with birds this week, we thought you'd like to hear this yarn told by Mrs. H. G. Knight and which she swears is true and was an experience shared by her neighbors.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Knight's attention was attracted to the sound of bird's singing. The mocking bird was giving out with the gusto and enthusiasm of a Melchoir and the sustaining notes of a Sinatra. Amused, Mrs. Knight went to the door and looked out. Here's what she saw: Far up and down the alley there were birds, perched on wires and posts and in her yard was the songster. He was giving a concert and they were listening in perfect silence.

Mrs. Knight was so impressed she called a few neighbors who witnessed the miracle.

Michael Fedrick, 6, Honored On Birthday

In observance of his sixth birthday anniversary, a party was given for Michael Fedrick Thursday afternoon by his mother, Mrs. Tom Fedrick, 2516 Twenty-fifth. A series of games were played and novelty hats were favors.

Mrs. Robert H. Tiernan, aunt of the honor guest, assisted in entertaining.

The birthday cake was served with ice cream to Linda and Janice Karen Timians, Sammie Ainsworth, Odie A. and Nancy Kay Hood, Jerry Ann and Sally Jane Sandlin, Bill Scott Dickenson, Suzann Hinson, Ralph Robertson, Robert Boverie, Kenny Cummings, Shannon Denison, Patsy Curry, Kilmer Key and Charles Sanders.

Mothers present were Mesdames O. H Hood, Gerald Sandlin, W. S. Dickenson, E. H Timians and Sam Ainsworth.

Mrs. Albert McCarty, 2520 Twenty-fifth, is leaving this morning for Norman, Okla., where she will meet her husband, Chief Pharmacist mate McCarty, who returned to the states from the Pacific Oct. 7. He will be released from the Navy at Norman and the couple will return to Lubbock Mrs. McCarty will be accompanied as far as Madill, Okla., by her mother, Mrs. J. M. Everheart, who will visit her brother, W. J. Bell.

Recent Graduates Form Organization

Several women who are graduates of colleges and universities affiliated with the American Association of University Women met Thursday night in the home of Mrs. James G. Houston Police Have Trouble With Service

HOUSTON, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—Capt. Tom Sawyer—who advertised the police would be glad to take home any tipsy person afraid to drive a car—had a new worry today after his first customer.

A bleary-eyed man, fumbling with keys to his car, hailed a patrolman last night and begged 's'take me home." The officer dutifully locked the man's car, loaded him and a flea-bitten hound dog into the police sedan and drove to the reveler's address.

The man's wife, armed with a broom, met them at the door. She used the broom in a way it wasn't intended to be used. The dog stayed outside, the man went inside.

The patrolman reported the episode to Capt. Sawyer who commented, "my plan hadn't covered this phase of free taxi service. We'll have to work out something."

Latin-Americans Get Scholarships To TCU

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—To promote inter - American understanding and good will, Texas Christian university today announced granting of a few tuition scholarships to Texas boys of Latin-American extraction who have good scholastic records in high schools.

"We will accept applications from boys who desire to enroll for the winter trimester beginning Nov. 1 or the spring trimester, beginning March 4," Dean Jerome Moore said.

Because the girls' dormitories are already filled with the 1945-46 school year, applications from Latin-American girls cannot be accepted for enrollment until Sept. 16, 1946, he said.

Mules Leading Dog's Life In Grand Canyon

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., Oct. 19. (AP)—The mules at Grand Canyon are leading a dog's life these days.

At this time of the year normally the mules that carry visitors down the steep and narrow trails into the canyon get their annual rest.

But this year with the tremendous post-war influx to the canyon the mules are working every day and there are long waiting lists of tourists who want to make the mile-deep trip down to the Colorado river.

This situation has become so acute that John Bradley, trail foreman on the south rim, has left for Wichita, Kan., to purchase two carloads of mules.

Navy Discharge Plan Claimed On Schedule

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—Members of Congress sighted relief today from the flood of complaints about the Navy's demobilization program.

They had it straight from Vice Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of Navy personnel, that:

(1) Navy discharges now number more than 11,000 a day, a rate which will bring release of all of the 3,000,000 reserve and drafted personnel by next September 1.

(2) By that date the Navy will have all the 500,000 men it needs in the form of 323,000 regulars and 177,000 volunteers, because volunteers are coming in at the rate of 16,000 a month.

Real Meaning Of A-Bomb Not Yet Fully Realized By General Public

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

What the atomic bomb really means to civilization is only now beginning to be realized by the general public, two and one-half months after the United States first used it against Japan.

It took that long for the truth about the terrible weapon to sink in. The thing is too vast for the human mind to grasp all at once. Even now, a true perspective has not been attained. Some are inclined to let their imaginations run wild, picturing the entire planet being destroyed in one puff. Others take the opposite extreme and say "there ain't no such animal"

First Used August 6

It was on Aug. 6 last at 11:07 a. m. that the United Press wires carried the following incredible bulletin:

"Washington, Aug. 6 (U.P.)—President Truman today announced that an 'atomic bomb' had been used against Japan for the first time with power equal to 20,000 tons of TNT."

The unemotional printer telegraph machines spelled out this news in editorial offices throughout the land, and it was hard to believe at first that the simple paragraph marked the passing of the world into an entirely new era.

The excited discussion which followed was not too well informed, but gradually some of the basic facts were pinned down and speculation discarded. The humanitarian advantages of atomic power were recognized almost at once, but a great many people tried to escape reality and refused to accept the possibility that it might get out of control in evil hands. The good intentions of the United States and of the United Nations organization would prevent that, they thought.

Not So Sure Now

Now these people are not so sure. The last few days have seen some startling testimony by scientists, generals and admirals before Congress; a thought-provoking statement by a group of prominent Americans who met at Dublin, N. H.; and stern warnings from such individuals as Sir William Beveridge, British economist.

Some of the views expressed were revolutionary. Prominent among them was the idea of a world super-government to control atomic energy and prevent disaster. Here are just a few samples:

The New Hampshire meeting, in which such men as former Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts of the Supreme court took part, recognized the danger of an atomic war which would "destroy civilization and possibly mankind itself." A report was presented which urged scrapping the United Nations idea and forming a federal government of the world, with attendant sacrifice by all nations of a part of their sovereignty.

Scientists Urge Unity

Two distinguished scientists who worked on the atomic bomb in New Mexico and Tennessee also urged a world organization superior to national sovereignty. They were Drs. J. R. Oppenheimer and H. J. Curtis. The latter told a congressional committee that "one false move in international diplomacy might mean the virtual destruction of this country."

Sir William Beveridge said in London that the United Nations charter needs at least revision to meet the new situation. "There is room and need for only one atomic bomb factory in the world, and that must serve only international purposes," he said.

Representing the military viewpoint, Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, testified to congressmen his belief that a large standing Army would be necessary to offset an atomic bomb attack. Vice Admiral Marc A. Mischer declared that the atomic bomb and other new weapons may eliminate naval surface craft in warfare after ten years.

These expressions cannot be dismissed as scare stuff or "nerve warfare." Thinking men are really alarmed. It also has been borne in on many Americans that it was the United States which first used the atomic bomb in warfare. It is not controlled, the United States scarcely can make a moral case against its use by someone else. Nor does anyone trust a mere "international agreement" against its use, as was attempted in the matter of poison gas. Everyone knows that all the big powers had poison gas ready in the last war, and that it was not used because no one saw any real benefit to be gained. The atomic bomb is different—too horrible a temptation.

25,000 Pacific War Vets Arrive Home

(By The Associated Press)

Nearly 25,000 veterans of the war in the Pacific were scheduled to disembark Friday at two West coast ports where more than 14 troop-carrying ships are due.

Arrivals at east coast ports totaled only about 8,100 troops carried by four ships.

Ships and units arriving today include:

At Boston—(Milford Victory, from Marseilles) originally due yesterday, 1,963 troops including 21st tank battalion of 10th armored division; 718th air materiel squadron; headquarters and headquarters detachment, 172nd medical detachment.

At Newport News—(Admiral Capps) 5,165 troops including personnel of the 132nd armored ordnance medium battalion, 109th anti-aircraft gun battalion, 534th anti-aircraft gun warning battalion, 48th and 165th engineer construction battalions, 613th and 621st medical clearing companies, 511th fighter squadron.

At San Francisco—(Grundy, from Yokosuka) 1,494 troops including members of the 43rd division.

Wartime Powers To Be Continued In Britain

LONDON, Oct. 19. (AP)—The House of Commons gave Britain's Labor government full authority today to continue sweeping wartime economic controls for five years.

The predominantly labor membership gave the go ahead signal to Prime Minister Attlee's cabinet by a vote of 199 to 108 in favor of the government bill. Previously it had voted down two amendments to limit government authority under the bill.

The bill gives the government the right to retain control over prices, regulate the flow of labor, allocate housing and continue other wartime practices introduced by the previous Churchill coalition government. The conservatives bitterly attacked the measure yesterday and declared it made parliament "nothing more than a Reichstag."

WAGE MINIMUM ASKED

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 19. (AP)—A campaign for a nationwide minimum salary of 3 pesos (60 cents, U. S.) daily has been started by the Mexican Labor Federation (CTM). In regions where the present minimum exceeds 3 pesos, a new one of 6 pesos is asked. Minimum wages vary in different regions. In many areas they are 2.50 pesos (50 cents) daily.

Mystery Veils Story Of Burning Of Part Of Hirohito's Palace

BY RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Oct. 20. — The full story of a fire than raged within the imperial palace compound after a heavy American incendiary raid on Tokyo, May 25, is hidden behind mysterious, brooding walls and sacrosanct tradition.

Correspondents were the first foreigners to confirm that at least one palace building — either a part time imperial residence or a reception hall — was destroyed by fire in the attack. Quoting Japanese sources, they reported the destruction nearly a month ago. At the time of the fire, the Tokyo raid reported a building in the outer compound was burned but the palace was saved.

However, Brig. Gen. Elliot R. Thorpe, chief of the counter-intelligence for Allied headquarters, said yesterday after the first military inspection of the inner enclosure that he thought it was the palace that burned.

Full Story Limited

The full story is limited to the testimony of court attaches who, overawed by imperial affairs, are reluctant to talk. Foreign unfamiliarity with the labrynth of buildings, temples, reception halls and residences within the 531-acre compound makes it difficult to pin-point the exact extent of damage.

Available evidence indicates that sparks from burning buildings outside the compound fired a spacious wooden building inside. It apparently had been utilized as a reception hall.

I visited the scarred earth and broken foundations marking the site of the building on Sept. 24. Imperial household attaches said I was the first correspondent to see the ruins. They apparently were anxious for a full and possibly sympathy-creating report to the United States.

Area Covered With Ruins

The area was probably 100 feet square, covered with white ashes, burned timbers, a few twisted pipes, and cracked concrete foundations. The site was atop an abrupt hill, approximately 300 yards from the Sakashita gate, chief entrance to the household ministry and other government buildings within the inner enclosure. The ministry about 200 yards from the ruins, was untouched by fire.

Attaches said the burned building was Hirohito's residence, but that he was absent the night of the bombing. He may have utilized the building occasionally but its proximity to the gate and government buildings made it doubtful that it was a permanent residence.

When I requested permission to continue along the road leading over the hill, attaches threw up their hands in horror and said "that is impossible!"

I got the same answer when I asked to go toward a forest of beautiful trees a half-mile distant, in which I could glimpse numerous buildings. My Japanese escorts insisted that no other buildings about had been fire-damaged.

Capt. Henri Smith-Hutton, a former naval attache now with the naval liaison office here, agreed from my description of the burned site that the building that once stood there probably was one of the lesser reception halls.

Smith-Hutton, who probably is the only American now in Tokyo familiar with the inner enclosure from pre-war days, said he did not believe the emperor lived in any of them.

Thorpe's Inspection Limited

General Thorpe was one of the relatively few foreigners to visit the inner enclosure, but even as the representative of the conquering General MacArthur, he did not penetrate into the highly mysterious area containing the emperor's residences and imperial shrines.

Business continues normally within the three-story household ministry, and no attempt is being made to rebuild the burned structure.

Outside, American soldiers stand watch at all gates, augmenting the Japanese police and denying admittance to all Americans except those with proper passes, which are difficult to obtain.

No Japanese yet have reproached the Americans for the damage within the compound, although stories of the destruction have been printed in Japanese newspapers.

Chinese Attack Jap Civilians

BY SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

PEIPING, Oct. 17 (Delayed) — A crowd of Chinese attacked Japanese civilians in the Little Tokyo district of Peiping last night in the first outbreak of violence here since the surrender of Nipponese forces.

Three deaths were reported. Other Japanese were beaten and stoned.

The outbreak followed similar disturbances at Tientsin, where homes were entered and several hundred Japanese were beaten four days ago.

Order Is Established

Local police re-established order quickly in Peiping and there were no recurrences. The Japanese were warned to stay in their quarters and streets normally crowded with both civilians and soldiers of Nippon were nearly deserted.

An angry little mob of jeering, screaming Chinese school children, buzzing like bees, chased three Japanese girls into the Pekin hotel grounds prior to last night's clash while astonished American Marines and soldiers in the hotel looked on. The mob broke up as quickly as it formed when Marine military police reached the scene.

Exuberance Is Blamed

There was no immediate explanation for the outburst here. Some observers attributed it to exuberance the townspeople have shown at the arrival of Chinese national troops from Hankow and a belief that their oppressors of the last eighty years soon would be disarmed and eventually shipped home.

The assassination yesterday of the president of Korea's chamber of commerce at Tientsin was reported today. There were no details.

The assassination marked a new outbreak of violence in the former treaty port, where martial law was declared after Chinese crowds assaulted several hundred Japanese civilians. The outburst was quelled by municipal police and U. S. Marines advised the Japanese to remain in their quarters.

The feeling against the Koreans was marked and it was feared the assassination might provoke others.

Funeral Set Today For Mrs. Henderson

Fate Of 170 Men In 131st Is Not Known

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Fateful records returned from their hiding place in the Thailand jungle showed today that 170 members of the "Lost Battalion" are still lost.

That many soldiers in the famed Texas artillery unit were captured by the Japanese early in the Pacific war have vanished from the face of the earth.

Wichita Falls citizens, preparing for the homecoming program for the Battalion scheduled here Oct. 28 and 29, are checking the records which Col. Blucher S. Tharp, the Battalion commander, concealed from the Japanese by burying them in the jungle. The records show 170 men from the five batteries in the units to be missing, as near as the checkers can tell.

All known survivors of the Battalion's 1,200 days of "living hell" in Java prison stockades are being invited to the program. Besides honoring the survivors, it will be a memorial for the dead.

Of the 547 men in the five batteries, 70 are known dead from starvation or combat, it was said here, and 19 others died when prison ships they were held on were sunk by Allied bombs.

WTCC Advances Date Of Session To Nov. 5

ABILENE, Oct. 19. (AP) — The West Texas Chamber of Commerce announced today it was advancing by two days—from Wednesday, Nov. 7 to Monday the 5th—its 1945 directors and referendum assembly, to be held at the Abilene headquarters.

The change, explained WTCC President E. W. Hardin in letters to affiliates, was made necessary by discovery of a conflict in dates with the Northwest Texas Methodist conference.

Dairy School To Be Held Here Nov. 13

A dairy management school will be held in Lubbock November 13 at a site yet to be announced, Jason O. Gordon, Lubbock county agent, has said.

A tentative program includes talks by G. G. Gibson on feeding the dairy herd, Dr. E. A. Grist on mastitus, Dr. I. W. Rupel on her management, and D. T. Simons on herd improvement through breeding. Grist is head of the dairy herd at Texas A. & M. and Rupel is the Texas Extension service veternarian.

Gordon said more talks would be included on the program at a later date, and announcement made following completion of arrangements.

Capt. Witt Arrives At San Francisco

Capt. George C. Witt, whose wife Mrs. Frances G. Witt, and 5-year-old son, Jon, live at 2315 Twenty-seventh, arrived in San Francisco this week-end after 37 months service in the Pacific. He served with the field artillery attached to the 43rd infantry division which is being inactivated. Capt. Witt expects to be sent to Fort Bliss for his discharge and he and his family will return to Atlanta, Ga., where he is on leave from the revenue agent's office.

Mrs. Witt learned from the War department this week that her husband has been awarded the Bronze star for heroic achievement in action on the Philippine islands at Luzon.

Belfast is the most important industrial center in Ireland.

Abilene Rolls Over Westerners, 12 To 6, As Late Lubbock Rally Fails To Pay Off

Abilene Scores Twice In Second; Brewer Races 90 Yards To Count

By MACK TURNER
Avalanche Sports Editor

The Lubbock Westerner defense cracked for a brief moment in the second quarter, and the offense clicked on but one play in the third, and these facts wrote the story as the Abilene Eagles clawed the Lubbock Westerners for a 12 to 6 win last night at Tech stadium before a crowd of about 4,800 fans.

The "crippled" Abilene backfield showed plenty of speed and the line, led by Bob Reily and David Bowers, and the vaunted running game of the Westerners was stacked at the line of scrimmage time after time by the battling Eagle forwards who played a bang up game.

King Is Star

The Eagles showed some fast breaking plays that turned loose the speed demons for sharp gains that broke the backs of the Westerners' defense.

Offensively, the Eagles wrote the story with a little boy, Lloyde King, who was the outstanding back in the field for the night. He had some help from Murphey, but Murphey did not show the speed and class of King. The two accounted for better than 110 of Abilene's 123 yards gained rushing.

Westerner Line Shines

The Lubbock line showed sparks of playing good ball, but the lad who stood out was little L. D. Pierce, 130 pounder that got his first chance with the starting lineup, and made good with a bang. He played most of the ball game in the Abilene backfield, and did some classy blocking on the offense.

Charles Presley, steady and dependable, also stood out in the line, with O. C. Foster and Stoney Wall also playing some bang up ball.

Figures Tell Story

The story of the great defensive play of the Eagles is shown in the figures of the game, when Lubbock showed a minus five yards on passing, lost 50 yards rushing and showed only a net of 40 yards.

The Eagles struck early in the second quarter, and scored again the next time they had the ball, and that wrote the story of the offensive for the visitors.

Abilene took over on its own 49 yard line on a punt, and on the last play of the first quarter, King knifed through to the Lubbock 46. On the first play of the second period, King made it a first down on the 41. Murphy then rifled a pass to Hendley, who roamed to the 22 before he was roped in. Hardin smashed to the 18, and from there King took over, breaking through into the secondary before Lubbock knew who had the ball, and squirmed over the double stripe to pay dirt for first score. Hendley's kick was wide.

Lubbock Counts In Third

Lubbock took the kick, and marched to the Abilene 46, where Booker fumbled, the ball rolling back to the Lubbock 45, where Abilene recovered.

On the first play, King again broke loose, and stormed to the Westerner 20. When he found his trail blocked, he latteraled the ball off to Murphy, who cut back and stormed to the Westerner 8. Two quick stabs moved to the two, and from there, Murphy jumped into the air, and passed to Hendley in the end zone for the touchdown. Foster broke through to deflect the kick for extra point.

The Westerners scored on the first play of the third quarter, as Abilene kicked off. Brewer fumbled the ball momentarily, picked it up, and cut to the east sideline. Taking advantage of some handy blocking, Brewer broke into the clear and outran all Eagles for 90 yards to pay dirt. The kick was wide, and that was the ball game.

The Westerners offered one more threat, driving to the Abilene 24 late in the ball game, where three straight plays were stacked up, a yard shy of a first down.

Levelland Lobos Roll Over Muleshoe, 38-0

LEVELLAND, Oct. 19. (Special)—With Billy Pearcy setting the pace, the Levelland Lobos rolled relentlessly on the ground to smother the Muleshoe Yellowjackets, 38 to 0, here tonight in a District 5-A conference tilt.

Pearcy galloped 40 yards to score in the first quarter, then passed to Burl Pierce for the extra point and a 7-0 lead.

The Lobos started rolling in the second period, and iced away the game, with Pearcy climaxing a 75 yard march with a 7-yard dash for pay dirt, and Charles Norman ran over the extra point. A little later, Pearcy took a short kick and ran back 15 yards for another touchdown, but the extra point failed. Stanley Williams scored just before the half ended on a 15-yard pay dirt jaunt, and the half ended with the score 26-0.

The third quarter was scoreless, but the Lobos began to roam again in the final period, scoring twice more. Williams circled left end for three yards and the first score, with Fullback Hawkins plunging over for five yards and the second fourth period score. Both extra point tries failed.

Spur Bulldogs Power Over Ralls, 24 To 0

SPUR, Oct. 19 (Special)—A dogged Ralls eleven that battled a superior Spur team on even terms for two periods gave way to a slashing running attack in the first and third periods and lost, 24 to 0.

David McAteer led the Spur team in its victory, heading a drive in the opening stanza that ended with his five-yard plunge across the goal line.

Grayden Bass whipped through the Ralls line in the closing minutes of the initial stanza for 15 yards and the second Spur tally. A game and battling Ralls team held the Spur "second-stringers" scoreless during the second period and the half ended 12-0 favoring Spur.

Once again the Spur "starters" proved too much for the losing eleven and whipped over two fast scores in the third period. Watson, speedy Spur back, whipped around the Ralls defense on a reverse to open the second half scoring for the winners. Later in the same period McAteer stepped into a Rall's pass and raced 35 yards for the final tally. No conversions were good.

Grid Menu Set For Big Games

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—What happened to our season's percentage last week shouldn't happen to a ten-dollar suit, but here we go again with fingers crossed and a football fore casting average of .784 on 91 corrections and 25 misses:

Purdue vs. Ohio State — The leadership of the Big Ten conference rides on the outcome of this important struggle between two of the nations top ten teams, both unbeaten and untied. Ohio State.

Navy Over Georgia Tech

Georgia Tech vs. Navy—It was 17-15 for Georgia Tech last year and if revenge is as sweet as they say it is, the Middies can end the sugar shortage in 60 minutes of playing time. Navy.

Louisiana State vs. Georgia—Is your Trippi really necessary? That's what the boys from the Bayou country will be asking the Bulldogs when they send Charlie tripping along the chalklines in his first game after his Army discharge. Georgia.

Melville Torpedo Boat Base vs. Army—The last game of the year for Melville, which skipped through four others unbeaten. Too bad the schedule didn't end sooner. Army.

Texas Over Porkers

Tennesse vs. Alabama — Both undefeated and untied. The Crimson Tide has been more impressive in its three straight wins, Alabama.

Northwestern vs. Minnesota—After three wins over non-conference opponents, the Gophers jump into Big Ten competition against a Wildcat eleven that lost to Michigan and tied Indiana. Minnesota.

Arkansas vs. Texas — The Razorbacks will be on the rebound after that 23-13 setback by Baylor, but the Longhorns have won four straight and look strong enough to remain undefeated. Texas.

Oklahoma To Top Kansas

Notre Dame vs. Pittsburgh—Clark Shaughnessy has the Panthers all hepped up for this one, but it will take more than a pep talk.

Kansas vs. Oklahoma — The Jayhawks are improving fast, but the Sooners are still the Big Six champions. Oklahoma.

Washington vs. Oregon State—Washington.

Colgate vs. Columbia — Looks like victory No. 4 for the unbeaten Lions. Columbia.

Illinois vs. Wisconsin—Illini had a nice rest last week. Illinois.

Aggies To Best T. C. U.

Texas A. and M. vs. Texas Christian—A tough one in that wide-open Southwest conference where anything can happen. Texas A. and M.

Kansas State vs. Missouri—Missouri.

Auburn vs. Tulane—Out of the hat . . . Auburn.

Oklahoma A. and M. vs. Utah—Nothing but victories in sight for Oklahoma A. and M.

Indiana vs. Iowa. Indiana.

Bucknell vs. Penn State—Penn State.

SMU To Defeat Rice

Rice vs. Southern Methodist—Rice is on the upgrade. SMU is going down. This should reverse the trends. Southern Methodist.

Washington State vs. Oregon—Washington State.

Wake Forest vs. North Caroline State—The Deacons have lost their three stars to date, but to Army, Tennesse and Duke. Time to win one. Wake Forest.

Baylor Favored Over Tech

Nebraska vs. Iowa State—Iowa State.

Skipping over the remainder of the day's major games—Tulsa over Nevada, Marquette over Great Lakes, Michigan State over Wayne, Vanderbilt over Kentucky, Maryland over Virginia Tech, Williams and Mary over Virginia Military, North Carolina over Cherry Point, Richmond over Guilford, Mississippi State over Eastern Flying Training Command, Southern California over College of the Pacific, Colorado over Colorado College, Idaho over Montana, Holy Cross over Brown, Boston College over Coast Guard, Harvard over New London, NYU over CCNY, Muhlenberg over Lehigh, Rutgers over Rhode Island, Tufts over Boston University, Connecticut over Maine, BAYLOR OVER TEXAS TECH, Southwestern over Louisiana Tech and, on Sunday, Villanova over Detroit.

Seminole Romps To Win Over O'Donnell

O'DONNELL, Oct. 19. (Special)—Seminole's Indians left here last night with the Eagles' feathers in their warbonnets when they clipped O'Donnell 45-6, in a district 6-A football game.

Clark made the lone score for O'Donnell, and Walker, with three, Blair, two, Chaffin, one, and Lunsford, one, rolled up the invaders' score. Blair kicked three extra points. Harris and Pearson were standouts in the Eagle lineup.

Late Rally Pays Off For Denver City

Denver City Defeats Andrews Team, 20-0

(Special To The Avalanche)

ANDREWS, Oct. 19.—Denver City's Mustangs came roaring back in the last half here tonight to chalk up three touchdowns and defeat a battling Andrews High team, 20 to 0, in a crucial District 6-A game.

Denver City, defending District 6-A champions, thus chalked up its fourth conference decision and took a good hold on another district championship as Andrews had been figured the toughest opposition.

The largest crowd ever to watch a game in Andrews, 3,000 persons, were in the stands for the contest.

Andrews Threatens Early

The battling Andrews club tossed a scare into the Denver City visitors almost as soon as the game got under way, taking the opening kickoff and driving to the Denver City 12 before losing the ball on downs as the visitors' defense finally found itself.

The two clubs see-sawed back and forth throughout both the first and second stanzas and the half ended a 0 to 0 deadlock.

Denver City Rallies

But with the start of the third period, the Denver City club came rolling back and Right Half Miller took a lateral from Quarterback Grayson Tate and raced 25 yards for the opening Denver City tally. Tate calmly kicked the extra point and the defending champions were on their way.

Late in the second period, Tate set up another touchdown when he tossed the oval to Left Half Dennis Harrison for a 35-yard heave to move business up to the Andrews 15. Tate then took over and went around end the remaining distance to pay dirt for the second Denver City tally. The same Tate then dropped back and kicked the extra point for a 14 to 0 advantage as the fourth frame got under way.

With two minutes to go in the final quarter, Denver City pushed 50 yards to score with Tate rambling around end for the final 20. Tate failed to kick the extra point and the game ended moments later 20 to 0.

Plainview Cops 21-0 Win Over Sweetwater

SWEETWATER, Oct. 19 (Special) Plainview's rampaging Bulldogs saddled and rode the Sweetwater Mustangs here tonight, 21 to 0, and with the win became the only Class AA team in the state with an undefeated, untied, and unscored on record.

The versatile visitors mixed runs with passes to keep control of the ball game. After a scoreless first quarter, Fullback Jack Weldon, running from the T formation, scatted 15 yards to cross the double stripe in the second.

Late in the third frame, Jack Williams, the Bulldog's passing ace, heaved the ball 38 yards to Haile, right half, who gathered the ball in on the five-yard line and went to the one before he was downed. Weldon ran to pay dirt from there on the first try.

An intercepted Sweetwater pass by Williams set the stage for the third score when he ran it back to the Mustangs' 10-yard marker. He then passed to Graham, who had been substituted at right half, over the goal line. The extra points were all kicked by Williams.

Plainview led in first downs with a comfortable 17-7, Charlie Fagan, left half, was a standout in the Mustangs' gallant but futile defense.

Slaton Edges Out 2-0 Decision Over Post

POST, Oct. 19. (Special)—Slaton High's grid team chalked up a close 2 to 0 decision over a fighting Post team here tonight as the two rivals met before a record throng of 3,000 persons.

Slaton's win over the Post squad continued a jinx which the visitors have held over the Garza county boys for the past 18 years, Post not having defeated a Slaton team in that time.

A long kick in the last part of the second stanza set the Post Antelopes back in the shadow of their own goal and when the Post team attempted to kick out, Billy Green, guard, broke through and goal line. A swarm of Post players smothered the ball however, giving up the two points.

The Antelopes outplayed the visitors almost throughout the game, threatening several times inside the Slaton 10-yard marker but never being able to go over into paydirt. Halfback George Hester and Back Dan Bostick paced the Post offensive while End Roy Williams held the spotlight on defense. Back Wendell Byler and Tackle Billy Reed were the stars for Slaton.

Anton Defeats Idalou On Penetrations, 4-1

ANTON, Oct. 19 (Special)—Anton edged past Idalou in a Conference 4-B game here this afternoon, winning, 4 to 1, on penetrations after the game had ended in a 6 to 6 deadlock.

Late in the first quarter Idalou scored with a short plunge to climax a 40-yard downfield drive but missed the extra point.

The game rocked along in this fashion with Anton outgaining the visitors until early in the fourth when Fullback Bill Wood finally went over from the 15 to climax a 60-yard drive for the Anton team. Wood tried to plunge for the extra point but was stopped. Anton chalked up 15 first downs and four penetrations to Idalou's five first downs and one penetration.

Anton threatened in the second when Right Half Walter Hobgood caught a pass on the 10 but after hitting the five the Idalou defense held and the ball went over on downs. And in the fourth, Wood plunged to the 15 on a series of short drives but again Idalou held.

Petersburg Defeats Matador, 26 To 0

PETERSBURG, Oct. 19 (Special) Petersburg chalked up a 26 to 0 football win over Matador here tonight in a Conference 4-A victory.

Opening up their heavy guns in the first quarter, Petersburg scored once in the first, twice in the second and once in the fourth for the win. Right End Hollis Black caught a pass from Quarterback Ralph White and stepped over two yards to count in the first stanza to climax a 70-yard drive for the first Petersburg tally. The try for point was wide.

In the second period, White again passed to Black for three yards and a counter to climax a 60-yard downfield march. Again the kick for point went awry. A few minutes before the end of the second quarter, White raced off tackle for 30 yards and the third tally, Left Half Coyt Thompson plunging for the point. The half then ended 19 to 0.

The third period was scoreless but early in the fourth frame, Petersburg opened up again, this time with Fullback Leroy Kelly passing 45 yards to Right Half Carl Phelps to carry the ball to the 15. Kelly then went off tackle, reversed his field and went over for the fourth tally. White plunged for the point. In addition to those handling the scoring, Left Guard Bill Pittman was outstanding in the line for the winners. Matador threatened only once. Petersburg added up 14 first downs to one for Matador and amassed 217 yards to 12.

Abernathy Takes 28-0 Game Over New Deal

Abernathy's Antelopes romped to a 28 to 0 triumph over New Deal here this afternoon in a conference game.

Left Half Billy John Matheral plunged four yards for the first Abernathy tally in the first three minutes of play, Lester Brown kicking the extra point. A few minutes later Fullback Harold D. Rhodes passed to End Harvey Lutrick who galloped 30 yards for the second tally. Brown again kicked the extra point.

In the third stanza, Lutrick added another counter when he fought his way through the New Deal team for 25 yards and paydirt, Brown again kicking. And in the fourth, Brown intercepted a pass and raced back 20 yards to count, then dropped back and kicked the extra point for his fourth of the afternoon.

Baylor's Powerful Bears Heavy Favorites Over Injury-Plagued Tech Team Tonight

Schlinkman Probably Out; Bears In Top Shape; Game To Start At 8:15

Battered, bruised and crippled, but still ready for a fight, the Texas Tech Red Raiders eased off the week's drills Friday for tonight's clash with the high flying Baylor Bears at Tech stadium at 8:15 o'clock. A sellout crowd of at least 9,000 fans is expected to jam the stands.

The close of practice for the week left little more hope for Coach Dell Morgan to field a team anywhere near full strength. The loss of Walt Schlinkman for tonight's battle will be the hardest blow to take.

Other Regulars Injured

The Dumas Atomizer has scored 14 of Tech's 20 points this season, been the bulk of the running attack, the kicking threat, and a bulwark on the defense. The loss of Schlinkman alone would be enough to claim the team was crippled.

But Schlinkman is not the only veteran starter to be missing from the starting lineup.

J. E. Branton is still out with injuries suffered in the Texas game two weeks ago. Billy Joe Snodgrass is no longer with the club. Clyde Black will not be a starter. Gene Hardey is nursing an injured knee from last week's Tulsa game. Art Shahan is back in uniform, but still sidelined with a knee injury. Otis Turner, co-captain with Schlinkman and regular center, has been ill this week, and may not be able to start. And Schlinkman——.

Baylor Plenty Strong

If that is not excuse enough for gloom to be thick enough to cut with a knife, the opposition is a Frank Kimbrough coached Baylor eleven, one of the top teams in the Southwest conference, and a team that is "many deep" at every position.

Even at full strength, the Red Raiders have been worn down by the steady flow of reserves hurled against them by the Texas Aggies, Texas and Tulsa, but have never given an inch with their willingness to fight to the last whistle.

On that never say die spirit of the Red Raiders will be based the lone chance for victory against the highly favored Bruins, plus the hope that recoveries by game time will allow use of some of the stars now doomed for the bench.

One end, two tackles and one back appears to be starting for the first time for Texas Tech, and it is Coach Morgan's hope that he will find some capable reserves from this game, and maybe a new start.

Baylor In Top Shape

Billy Kelley, the Idalou flash, will be starting for the first time at end. Both tackle posts will be manned by new faces with Doug McSwane of San Angelo taking over at right tackle and Bernie Winkler, who played fullback at Tech two years ago, tackle for North Carolina Preflight last year, and started the season as an end here, playing the other tackle.

Starting in place of Schlinkman will be Ed Robinet, former Texas Aggie, who has been undergstudy for Schlinkman during the season.

Baylor is reported in top shape, and ready to go.

The probable lineups:

BAYLOR	Pos.	TECH
Joiner	LE	Moyers
McGaw	LT	Winkler
Attas	LG	Lawhorn
Johnson	CO	Turner
Devereaux	RG	Birdwell
Parker	RT	McSwain

Bobcats Defeat Lamesa, 28-7

(Special To The Journal)

LAMESA, Oct. 19—San Angelo's Bobcats, led by Quarterback Dwain Dodson and Fullback Boy Hays, launched their 3-AA campaign here tonight with a 28-7 triumph over the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes.

Lamesa scored first and the score at end of the first half was 7 to 7, but the visitors opened up in the second and won going away. About 2,500 fans watched the clubs wage a kicking duel in the first period, featured by poor punts on both sides.

Lamesa Takes Early Lead

The Tornadoes took a short-lived lead in the second when Bryant Clark, end, blocked a Bobcat kick and recovered it on San Angelo's 17. Orville Nieman, Lamesa halfback, made it first down on the 4, then made the scoring play from the 2, and booted the extra point.

San Angelo came back to tie the score in two plays after Lamesa kicked out to the 30. Dodson passed to Renner, and then Hay went all the way and converted.

Long Runs In Game

Dodson went over from the one to climax an 80-yard drive in the third. Hay converted. Soon after, Roberts, Bobcat half, raced 59 yards for a touchdown. Hay converted. Dodson galloped 87 yards for the final score in the last quarter, and Hay converted for a perfect evening. Donald Taff, substitute Bobcat back, went 55 yards late in the fourth, to threaten the Tornado goal line once more.

Clark, Eudy and Hoover were Lamesa stalwarts, while Dodson, Hay, Willis at center, and Renner led the Bobcats.

San Angelo amassed 364 yards rushing to Lamesa's 42. Lamesa completed five passes of 18 attempts for 49 yards, San Angelo completing five of 10 attempts for 63. On punts, Lamesa had seven for 212 and San Angelo had three for 58. Lamesa had 20 yards in penalties, San Angelo 40.

Cowhands Gold Stop Hale Center Streak

Lubbock's Cowhands Gold stopped Hale Center's winning streak at five games Friday afternoon when they took the long end of a 13-0 score on the Hale Center field Friday afternoon.

The Golds scored in the first quarter, taking the kickoff and marching 75 yards. Following a five-yard penalty on Hale Center's four yard line, Moore pitched to Pirtle over the goal line.

Again, in the fourth on the identical play, Moore passed 16 yards to Pirtle for the other score. Hale Center made one serious threat, but was held for downs inside the Golds 10-yard line.

CROSBYTON WINS

CROSBYTON, Oct. 19. (Special)—Coach Dub Behrens used every man on the bench here tonight as Crosbyton rolled over a hapless Paducah eleven, 38-0, to remain undefeated and untied in district 4-A.

Jack Jones and Lawrence Simmons, scored two touchdown each for Crosbyton, while Virgil Lawson and Howard Bishop came through with one each. The locals piled up 24 first down to the visitors three.

Ropesville Wins 20-6 Tussle Over Plains

ROPESVILLE, Oct. 19. (Special) — Ropesville High school scored two touchdowns in the first period and one in the second, converted twice, and held Plains High school scoreless until the third period, to win its first 9-B conference game this afternoon, 20 to 6.

James Means, Billy Wilson and Neil Bond hit the line for Ropesville's touchdowns, and Means and Bond plunged the two extra points.

Plains completed a pass on the 20-yard line and then scored on an 80-yard run.

Ropesville moved the ball on a fourth period drive to the Plains one-yard line, but was set back by a penalty and never struck seriously afterward.

Plains has not won a conference game.

BAYLOR IN TOP SHAPE

SWEETWATER, Oct. 19 (AP)—Coach Frank Kimbrough's 47-man traveling squad from Baylor university went through a brisk work-out here this afternoon on the way to Lubbock where tomorrow night they meet Texas Tech. This is the largest squad ever taken on a football trip by Baylor.

Except for End Bob Koctar, who is out with a bruised hip, and Ollie Jack, tackle who hurt his arm in the Arkansas game, the squad is in tip-top shape.

Sundown Wins, 12-6, Over Cowhands Black

SUNDOWN, Oct. 19. (Special)—Sundown's Roughnecks roared 80 yards on two sensational pass plays in the last 60 seconds of play here this afternoon to edge out Coach Curtis Barrett's Lubbock Cowhands Black grid squad, 12 to 6.

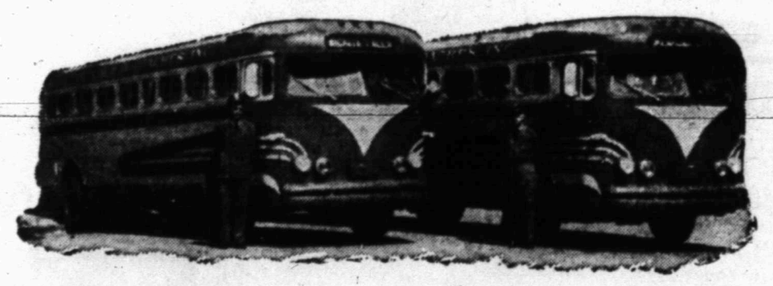

The two teams entered the fourth frame deadlocked, and see-sawed back and forth up the field until the fading seconds when Sundown took over on its own 20-yard line.

Fullback Dale Peden then uncorked a beautiful 40 yard heave to Left Half John Etheridge that carried to the Cowhand 40 and on the next play found Etheridge on the Lubbock 10 with another long heave, the Sundown back galloping on over for the winning tally.

It was the same Peden who had started the scoring for the local lads in the second quarter when he romped around end for a 35-yard gallop and the game's first tally to give Sundown a 6 to 0 lead at halftime. Late in the third quarter the Cowhands came back to even the score when Fullback Gene Ussery plunged over from the five to climax a 45-yard Cowhand drive. An attempted plunge for the extra point was stopped. Sundown attempted kicking for the extra point but the ball went awry both times. Coach Barrett's Cowhands threatened in the fourth but an interception on the Sundown 20, stopped the threat.

Outstanding for the Cowhands was Ussery in the backfield and Center Don Baird and Guard Bobby Griffin in the line, while Tackle Clarence Ledbetter in the line and Peden in the ball toting department were stars for the winners.

From GI To Joe College

The Campus Has Problems, Too

AS we reconvert to peacetime living, colleges and universities assume one of the greatest burdens of all. Enrollments are due to rise to record figures as discharged war veterans take advantage of the educational provisions of the "GI Bill of Rights."

The majority of them will be preparing themselves for a career which the war delayed. But there will be countless others with no career in mind.

Some will be in school because they are not yet ready to go to work. Some will go for the reason that they cannot find a suitable job. Others will go for the fun that college life offers.

Many of the men who have served in the sore spots of the world will be looking for a good time, and you cannot blame them for that. A large per cent of the single men who served overseas have banked tidy sums, hence should not lack for spending money.

The sincere veteran working for a future should make an excellent student. Service has taught him responsibility, altertness and the quality to finish a job once started. Versed in discipline, he will not be a problem student.

But colleges and universities, nevertheless, should recognize that a larger than ever segment of their enrollment in the years to come will constitute "deadwood" which will not be for the good of the institutions as a whole.

Where The Danger Lies

HIDDEN in the slumbering conflict between the United Mine Workers' foremen and supervisors affiliate the soft coal operators is a possibility that probably brings chills to the spine of operators.

The group wants recognition from the operators as a bargaining agency. It is comprised of clerical, technical, foremen and other supervisory employes. Known as "District 50," the organization is theoretically outside the UMW yet, actually, is part and parcel of it.

The possibility is this: The operators, by recognizing the "District 50," might turn it over to control of the union of regular employes, since both are UMW bossed. Therefore, the operators stand a chance of losing their right to put into effect their own management policies. A situation could develop whereby the employes would be running the mines with the operators serving only as figureheads and check-signers.

While the unionization of key workers with the power of direction is a comparatively young movement, it bids fair to spread a threat of union usurpation to other fields of management.

Needed: A Demonstration

THE Americans, of all people, do not comprehend fully the meaning of air power. Theirs is only a theoretical understanding. They do not realize the immensity and the intricacy of the thing they have created.

The people of Europe, Asia and Africa do. They have seen and heard great armadas roar against the sky on missions of destruction. They have heard the screams of death-dealing missiles plummeting down on them, the rumble and crunch of formidable buildings turning into debris. They have seen their loved ones blown into bloody pieces of flesh and bone.

It seems to us that public maneuvers and exhibits of air power might not be amiss. We who stayed at home should be given opportunity to comprehend what destructive force can be unleashed in war.

Wilson's Wisdom Recalled

THERE are evidences that Great Britain is toying with the old "balance of power" system. Several spokesmen of that country recently advocated making Germany into a strong nation again.

This conflicts with the United States policy to drain Germany of her industrial assets and limiting her manufactures to necessities.

What these spokesmen had in mind was that Great Britain is an exporting nation. The more strong markets, all the better for her.

Advocates of this system heed the statement of Woodrow Wilson:

"The balance of power system has been tried and found wanting, for the best of all reasons that it does not stay balanced inside itself, and a weight which does not hold together cannot constitute a makeweight in the affairs of men."

With penicillin, the sulpha drugs and forty-'leven kind of vitamins available to everyone, it you will exercise due care to avoid accidents, there is little excuse in your dying.

One-Minute Sermon

He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off faces; and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it. Isaiah 25:8.

I JOIN THE DIAGHILEV TROUPE

X

Diaghilev had said: "Ballet is a fusion of three perfect things, Decor, Music and Dance — and none of the three can triumph without the others."

I was not old enough to be able to formulate definite plans for what I wanted to do, except for the one thought—to study music, color, and decor as a base for creative work. I began to think that such ballets as "Walpurgis Night," which were given with dancers strapped in harnesses and flown from arm booms over the stage, could be done in a marvelous way with aerialists trained as dancers, with the requisite ballet movements, and working in harmony with dancers on the ground in a spectacular ballet. So I started studying decorative art and the usual piano classes again, but now with a more definite purpose.

In the early spring of 1919, mother had a lot of trouble over a lawsuit involving records made in America some time before. It seems that mother had sung the same music (which had been specially arranged for her to make the recordings) for more than one company. She had never meant to do anything wrong but must have needed the money and I suppose she didn't realize the seriousness of what she was doing. Now she was fretting herself to death over it, and her throat was not in any too good a condition. So when a telegram came from Pavlova in London, saying that she was arriving for a short tournee to be held during the months of March and April in Belgium, I rejoined her company.

After a gala performance in Brussels for the Russian refugees in the Theatre de la Monnaie before the King and Queen of Belgium, the short tour was over and she mentioned her opening in Drury Lane, London. Rehearsals were starting almost immediately, and she naturally expected me to go on with the company, although grandmama had previously explained to her that I would not be able to accept the world tour which was planned to follow the Drury Lane engagement.

I returned from Belgium to find mother still in a whirl with legal complications. She had got nothing settled (I could never get her to explain exactly what she was up against), but I knew that she was obliged to work despite the delicate condition of her throat. I presumed poor father had not been able to send money to get her out of the lawsuit mess, and it was up to me to help and get working as soon as possible.

There was a series of long and heated discussions with grandmama, who wanted me to go with Diaghilev, opening in the Alhambraat the end of April. He had promised her in Madrid that I was to work in "Thicornio," and his word was the same as a contract. Besides, he wanted her to give him Spanish details for the dances. They got on famously and were always in a huddle with cards and incantations. Diaghilev was extremely superstitious and loved all the things grandmama did and said to bring good luck.

Pavlova expected me to work for her in London in June, since we had accepted her terms verbally, but mother would not sign any contract with her, and the situation became very involved. In the end, grandmama got her way about my joining Diaghilev, and we went to the Alhambra at the last minute.

It was not a nice thing to have done to Pavlova, for she had been very correct with us. I have always hoped that she understood I was not to blame.

• • •

The ballet season of that year was marvelous. The triumphs of the "Boutique Fantasque" and "El Tricornio" are too well known for me to give a dissertation on them, but undoubtedly they were two of the most brilliant representations Diaghilev ever produced. I had special lessons with Maestro Diaghilev's ballet master and technical aide, Cecchetti, who was perhaps the world's greatest teacher of dancing and worked his pupils relentlessly. As soon as he got hold of me, he started after my left arm, which was stiff and often difficult to work with.

Up to the time I started with Cecchetti's intensive training, I had been able to hide any deficiencies very successfully: even Paylova had seldom criticized them. Cecchetti had no patience with people who had anything wrong with them, and when I began to have pain in my leg, I was terrified he would find out about that, too. As I have said before, I am able to hide the shortness in my left leg so well that it is impossible for anybody to detect the difference in length while I dance or do aerial work—but in my fear of Cecchetti's noticing there was something wrong with the leg, I strained my muscles and made the pain worse in an effort to hide the limp.

Cecchetti never said anything about it, and I never told anybody that I was suffering, but the pain in my arm was another story, for it ached continually and kept me from sleeping at night, till I began to lose weight. Finally I went by myself to see Dr. Aberchombie, who had taken care of me after Olympia. He told me I needed an operation to have the shoulder opened so the bone could be scraped, and that if I didn't have it, the arm would give me serious trouble in later years. Of course I said I would think it over, but I never went back to him or told my grandmother or mother about it. Fortunately, after a while it got less painful.

Looking At Life ----- By Erich Brandeis

IN the criticism of a new motion picture there appeared a sentence which not only the movie magnates of Hollywood but all of us might well remember.

"—It makes one wonder," said the critic, "whether Hollywood has any conception at all of how the other half, or rather three-quarters live."

I think that, there in that one sentence, lies much of the trouble of this world. We simply don't know how the others—whatever their percentage—live.

For instance, take yourself. You get up in the morning. You eat breakfast. You go to work — at home or in the office or shop. Lunch. Some more routine. Dinner (or maybe you call it supper). Your evening paper, maybe a game of bridge or gin rummy, maybe a movie. And so to bed.

BRANDEIS

The same thing day after day, with but slight variations.

You move in your own little circle, you gossip about the same people, you know all about your own little community (which sometimes consists of only a couple of blocks)—and that is your entire orbit.

You express high-sounding but often highly erroneous opinions about economics and finance and war and peace and capital and labor—but what do you really know of the things you talk about?

How much of your prides and prejudices is based on hearsay and rumor and how much on experience and actual contact?

• • •

Only yesterday my wife and I took an automobile ride and both of us got hungry. Both of us are accustomed to a pretty nice way of living, but there wasn't a decent restaurant or inn within miles.

So we stopped at a diner which was situated opposite a State hospital for the Insane. It was visitors' day and the place was crowded with relatives of the poor inmates, many of whom were condemned to a life of darkness.

• • •

THERE was an atmosphere of gloom and poverty and misery over the whole place. We had roast beef sandwiches which were excellent and coffee as good as any the Waldorf-Astoria serves.

I could hardly finish my sandwich. I had gone into the place in high spirits and full of zest. I came out with a bad case of the blues.

"That was terrible," my wife said to me as we got back into the car, "and yet it was a good lesson.

"We have it pretty easy. Life has been good to us. But those poor people in there haven't much pleasure and happiness.

"I think it would be a good thing if all of us could go out more often and see how the other half lives."

And when we came home, I looked, as I quite often do, in the Good Book, and in the thirteenth chapter of Hebrews I found:

"Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body."

On Controlling Strikes

Eric Johnston Offers New Plan

WASHINGTON
By Albert Leman
(Ray Tucker Is On Vacation)

JUST before Eric A. Johnston left Washington for Hollywood, where he succeeded Will Hays as "movie czar," he proposed to President Truman a new plan for curbing strikes.

He urged that:

1. Wage disputes be referred back to "grass root" collective bargaining setups instead of being thrown at Washington.

2. The administration announce at once that all controls on prices, except rents, will be lifted on a definite date — say, next May.

These steps would make possible a moratorium on walkouts and give business time in which to estimate post-reconversion costs.

If industrial strife continues to spread there is a strong possibility that President Truman will present his case to the people in a radio speech outlining conditions and suggesting remedies.

LEMAN

Most businessmen as well as the administration think that wages should be raised wherever possible without boosting prices and setting loose an inflation that would harm white collar people, farmers and, eventually, union members.

There is a tendency among government and private economists to rely on high productivity to assure mass purchasing power and high wages. But high productivity is not possible until business knows where it will stand after reconversion and what the whole competitive picture will be.

By a revival of collective bargaining at the lowest level, Mr. Johnston believes that labor can feel assured that its case will have immediate attention and it can lay aside its strike weapon. By promising removal of federal controls on a specific date, management can know that it will not be prevented from raising prices later to cover any contemplated wage adjustment.

• • •

REGIMENTATION: The President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is convinced that the time has come for the nation to stop looking to Dr. Government first for an immediate cure for every economic headache.

This habit developed during the war. Then there were many sound reasons for it But it piled executive desks with unfinished business and all parties to a complaint were exasperated by the delay in decisions. The arrangement gave birth to coercive measures and regimentation which on one wants perpetuated.

We are now going back to the free enterprise system. Segments of our economic system should now try to work out difficulties before dropping them into the lap of Washington.

• • •

PANACEA: During the war, local machinery for collective bargaining and conciliation went to rust. Mr. Johnston contends that it should be utilized at once and that practically all industrial disputes be presented to it.

Some big business executives and certain federal policy makers lately have toyed with the idea of a blanket pay raise — say, 15 per cent — and an increase in prices to offset it — say, five or 10 per cent. An objection to this seemingly simple solution is that industry as a whole is extremely diversified and all of its branches cannot readily be treated in the same way.

An even stronger argument against the panacea is that it would take Reconversion Director Snyder's already overloaded office several months before it could complete studies and devise proper price ceilings. In the meantime, employers and unions would be hung up by uncertainties in a period of mounting emotional strain.

• • •

STATISTICS: By opening the channels for conciliation in communities and in specific industries, as Mr. Johnston recommends, local conditions which might affect agreements could be fully explored.

The question of whether a corporation is in a financial position to warrant pay boosts without lifting prices could be answered in part by an examination of the books. Labor accountants read the official statistics of the vast profits made by many firms during the war; they maintain that on the basis of these figures, business economists are wrong in inisisting that their companies cannot afford to increase wages.

But, in "grass root" collective bargaining management would have the opportunity to show costs of reconversion and future production in relation to give the company a chance to catch its breath.

• • •

PROGRESS: Temporary wage increases might be granted which would stave off strikes. The door could be left open to both parties for further negotiation after industry gets into the stride of full production.

Of course, there is always the possibility that labor in its present highly emotional state would not be satisfied with any raise, regardless of its size. Its leaders might still be unable to check wildcat strikes.

But, in Mr. Johnston's opinion, a sincere endeavor by all who have the public welfare at heart to revive the neglected machinery of collective bargaining at the low level — and not pass the buck to Washington — might bring about more progress toward reconversion and prosperity than a capital-and-labor fight to exhaustion.

By Jack Stinnett

WHEN IT comes to turning the blistering heat on government disorganization, waste and what-haven't-we, few critics can compare with some of the men in government itself.

It is unfortunate that such critics don't have their public say-so more often.

I don't mean, of course, the political brickbat hurlers who try to keep their own pastures green by tossing rocks at the administrative green houses. These are numerous and constantly vocal.

I mean men like Maury Maverick, smaller war plants administrator, whose drive on gobbledygook language in government communications has been so effective, and more recently Comptroller Generall Lindsay C. Warren.

Testifying before a congressional committee, the comptroller general threw in this biting description of our administrative organization: "A hodgepodge and crazy-quilt of duplications, overlappings, inefficiencies and inconsistencies, with all their attendant extravagances.

• • •

"IT IS probably an ideal system for the tax-eaters and those who wish to keep themselves perpetually attached to the public teat, but it is bad for those who have to pay the bill," he continued.

"With nearly 300 billion debt, I hope I am not considered too old-fashioned if I say it is time to draw in our belts; to see that government at least gets value for its huge expenditures.

"One of the necessary and essential parts of the reconversion program is that the government put its own house in order."

Warren wasn't just orating either. He had with him such memoranda as: 15 agencies finance public housing; 75 bureaus, etc., have a hand in transportation; eight agencies have this or that to do with labor relations. (This last situation is in the progress of being improved.) The list goes on and on but perhaps that is enough to demonstrate from what facts Warren draws his conclusions.

• • •

THE comptroller general is head of the General Accounting Office. GAO isn't very will known outside government circles but you can bet it is inside. It audits the expenditures and collections of all federal departments, bureaus, agencies ,etc. Thus it's the watchdog of federal funds. Its boss is Congress, not the President.

Warren's four years as head of the GAO isn't the sum total of his experience with government organization. For 15 years before that he was member of Congress from North Carolina and built up a big reputation in the fields of federal accounting organization.

Better Jobs With Higher Wages Sought

Nation's Workers Still Choosey

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 16—A survey here yields a good picture of reconversion at this stage in centers of highly diversified industry. Most Connecticut and New England industry generally is well diversified.

As for the over-all, some 20,000 persons lost their jobs here suddenly when the war with Japan ended. Of this total, about 15,000 were in aircraft. A good many of the others were in ordnance manufacture at all sorts of converted peacetime plants. Hartford is headquarters for United Aircraft which contributed so heavily in engines, propellers, Vought Corsair fighters and Sikorsky helicopters. It used its own plants, and licensed plants of other corporations.

STOKES

Unemployment compensation rolls here jumped from 1,700 on Aug. 11 to 13,400 on Sept. 15. A drop in new claims the week of Sept. 22 indicated that the situation was levelling off, which seems to be the case in other centers in this state.

• • •

Poll Is Taken

A realistic analysis of the employment situation here, as to the psychology and reactions of workers, comes from John G. Confrey, a veteran of 18 years' experience in this field who has worked with the State Unemployment service here since it was established in 1938.

He knows people and is inclined to be philosophical.

There were reports that people who were laid off just wouldn't take jobs. He had his staff make a careful check, a sort of Gallup poll with generous samplings.

This revealed two things. One was that people were holding off, hoping to get better jobs with higher wages than those offered—wages somewhat more closely approximating wartime pay. The other was that many jobs were offered in other cities and that raised a transportation problem.

• • •

"THEY are looking around. They are pretty choosey. And look at the weather."

He grinned. It was a mild October day.

"There is neither a concentration on getting jobs, nor a concentration on not getting them," he said.

Incidentally, Mr. Confrey said that returning veterans do not fall into a class, with a particular approach and problem, but react just like everybody else. Some take jobs. Some are holding off.

People who do not want particular jobs offered have their own ways of rejecting them, he has discovered through experience. He explained:

"They'll go to the jobs—yes. But they put on a long face and make themselves generally unpleasant. Or they get to work late. They have their ways of getting themselves found unsuitable."

Many women war workers are in this category. Most of them probably will go out of the labor market and back into their homes, though it is not possible yet to accept that as a rule. Meanwhile they are drawing unemployment compensation and under the law offering themselves for jobs.

• • •

Plenty Jobs Available

There are many jobs in this community, though at lower wages, and more are being created as reconversion progresses. The Royal Typewriter Co. is getting ready to supply a huge market. The Fuller Brush Co. with headquarters here, is preparing to send out salesmen to make their spiels to housewives. Insurance companies can absorb many white-collar workers. Several recently have announced wage increases. Newspapers are full of advertisements for work.

Reconversion has gone ahead swiftly in other centers in this state, with many longmissing articles getting back on the market. It has been a most commendable job on the part of industry.

• • •

War workers here and in other New England war production centers were almost entirely homegrown, drawn from New England. Most of them came from Vermont to Maine. They have gone back home to the farms and small towns, taking their savings with them. They were thrifty, hard-working folks.

Vermonters were at a premium. The story is told how spotters for war plants would go down the line, ask where applicants came from. When the reply was Vermont they would be told to step over and form a new line. Consequently everybody reported from Vermont for a time.

"Vermont ought to be wellfixed for years," is a saying around here.

U. S. Casualties Show Drop During Week

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—U. S. combat casualties stood at 1,069,632 for all armed services today.

The total was 521 under last week's because of corrections and shifts from one casualty category to another, but the number of killed rose 1,396 to 264,599.

This presumably meant that many men heretofore listed in the missing column have now been added to the dead.

The overall total included 922,682 Army casualties and 146,950 Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard losses.

Or Army wounded 364,128 were returned to duty. Of Army prisoners 105,354 were liberated.

There are about 120,000,000 sheep in Australia.

STOCKS SLOWED UP

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Late selling today took the bullish starch out of the stock market and, while scattere dnew highs persisted at the close, losses of fractions to more than three points predominated in all departments.

Accounts were trimmed or shelved in the majority of cases because of the growing belief the list had gone too far and too fast even with the news generally on the side of investment contingents.

Transfers totaled 1,730,000 shares compared with 1,670,000 Thursday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .7 of a point at 72.2, sharpest recession since Sept. 15. It was another of the year's broad markets, 1,007 issues registering.

Prominent casualties included Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak, Philip Morris, Boeing, J. I. Case, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Electric Power and Light, Standard Oil (NJ), Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Pullman, Northern Pacific and Schenley. International Telephone dropped 1¼ following word the company's negotiations for a large refunding loan had been suspended.

Oils were not particularl yunsettled by the revolution in Venezuela where valuable petroleum properties are located.

Bonds were mixed.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Cotton futures moved through a quiet session today as traders awaited further developments in the export picture and action on the pace measure to include farm costs in parity.

Mill buying and local covering rallied prices into new high grounds for the day shortly before the close, with final levels 5 to 45 cents a bale higher.

The appearance of only limited hedge selling aided the advance. Private advices reported mill buying of spot cotton improved somewhat during the past week with prices firm.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was 35 cents a bale higher at 23.20 cents a pound, new season high; average for the past 30 market days 22.71; middling ⅞ths-inch average 21.75.

Clayton Rites To Be Held Here Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. Walter G. Clayton, 43, of 2101 Twenty-eighth, will be held in St. Paul's on the Plains church at 5 p. m. Sunday with Rev. John A. Winslow officiating. Following the services, the body will be sent to El Paso, Mrs. Clayton's former home, for services and burial there, Rix Funeral home reported.

Mrs. Clayton died at 5 a. m. Friday in West Texas hospital where she had been since Oct. 11 when she suffered a cerebral hemorrhage.

The Claytons moved to Lubbock from Amarillo about a year ago. Clayton is in the insurance business here.

Survivors are her husband; two sons, Walter and Allan, of Lubbock; five sisters, Mrs. William Clayton of Mexico City, Miss Dorothy Ormsbee, Mrs. Charlotte Rhett and Mrs. Emilie Rheinheimer, all of El Paso, Mrs. Elinar Hudson of Los Angeles; one brother, R. H. Ormsbee of Yerington, Nev., and a niece, Phyllis Bateman of Mexico City and is attending high school in Lubbock.

Hunter Funeral To Be Held This Afternoon

Funeral rites for Mrs. S. M. Hunter, 57, 2218 Twenty-first, will be held in Asbury Methodist church at 3 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Dr. C. A. Bickley, assisted by Rev. Alsie H. Carleton, pastor of St. John's Methodist church, and Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, Methodist district superintendent.

Mrs. Hunter died Wednesday of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Pallbearers will be Don Reeder, Glenn Woody, Harry Frank Woody, Tom Harland, Truett Patterson of Merkel, and E. B. Merrill. Honorary pallbearers will be members of Mr. Hunter's Sunday school class at Asbury Methodist church.

Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery, under direction of Sanders funeral home.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP) — Profit-taking and long liquidation continued in grain futures today and prices were down more than a cent a bushel at times.

Selling of wheat was inspired by a slackening in government purchases and a lower cash market. Flour purchasing was almost at a standstill.

Wheat closed ¼ to ⅞ lower than the previous finish, December $1.74⅞-$1.75, corn was down ¼ to ⅜, December $1.17⅜, oats were ⅞ to 1¼ cent lower, December 62½-⅝, rye was off ¼ to 1⅜ cent, December $1.58⅛-¼, and barley was unchanged to ⅜ lower, December $1.14⅝.

Venezuela Revolt

rendered, depriving Medina of his last support.

Medina was regarded abroad as having brought his country far along the road to democracy. His party's directors had criticized Lopez Contreras as reactionary.

Democratic Elections

(Another rebel radio announcement heard in Bogota said the revolutionary military command was studying measures to convoke "truly democratic" elections.

(The reference to elections underlined one of Venezuela's major political controversies. There has been a growing demand for direct election of a president, who under the present constitution is elected by members of Congress. Whether the revolutionary group was among the elements desiring a provisional president pending constitutional revision was not clear.)

The American origin of the word lynch is traced to Charles Lynch, a Virginia planter who took the law into his own hands in punishing colonist-neighbors who sympathized with George III. The origin of the word is also ascribed to England and Ireland.

SA Home League Has Rally Here

The first of a series of four rallies to be held in Texas by the Home League, women's service organiaztion of the Salvation Army, was concluded in Lubbock last night at a dinner meeting in the Hilton hotel, with Mrs. Ray Gearing of Dallas, a colonel, speaking on "Down Home League Trails," presented with slides.

Mrs. H. G. Gantz welcomed nearly 100 delegates from Pampa, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Plainview, Littlefield, Big Spring, San Angelo, Abilene and Lubbock.

Layette Prize Contest

In connection with the league's project for the year—bundles for babies—first prize in a layette contest was awarded the entry from San Angelo, second to the entry from Pampa. Each city represented entered a layette in the contest, and these will be sent to the Salvation Army home for unmarried mothers at San Antonio.

Mrs. Edmund C. Hoffman of Atlanta, Ga., a colonel, also was in charge of the rally, assisted by Mrs. Harold E. Stout, a major, and Capt. Ellen Lynn, both of Dallas.

Judges In Contest

Judges in the layette contest were Miss Mabel Erwin, head of the department of clothing and textiles at Texas Tech, Mrs. Lucy Bibb, assistant professor in the clothing department, and Mrs. Margaret Sandell, needlework instructor for a sewing machine company.

The league will hold similar rallies at Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston. Arrangements for the Lubbock rally were made by Mrs. Vincel Larsen and members of the local league.

British Labor Voted Five-Year Controls

LONDON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Commons voted today to give Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government authority to continue sweeping war-time economic controls for five years, despite conservative objections that the powers would make Parliament "nothing more than a Reichstag."

The Labor party scored a victory of 199 to 108.

The bill will go to the House of Lords, where amendments may be referred back to Commons, but today's passage was tantamount to adoption.

Under the bill's provisions, the Labor government will be able to send men into the mines and force any persons seeking work to register with the labor exchange and take any job offered.

It will be able to control prices of food, clothing, building materials and cafe meals, to requisition houses and to direct factories to do certain kinds of work.

Arnold Says V-2 Now Travels 3,000 Miles

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Gen. H. H. Arnold told senators today that V-2 bombs have now been perfected so they can travel 3,000 miles with their death-dealing loads.

The Army Air Forces chief said the only possible defense against them is an alert and powerful airforce that could quickly destroy the source of such attacks.

The five-star general led a group of Air Force officers before the Senate military committee in a plea for a single armed forces department with land, sea and air branches.

Carriers And Cruisers Join Transport Work

PARIS, Oct. 19 (AP)—A dozen U. S. carriers and cruisers will start taking American troops home from Europe about Nov. 14, the Army Transportation corps announced tonight.

Outfits alerted for shipment home are the 36th, 75th, 79th, 89th Infantry and 12th Armored divisions and the 16th corps.

The Eighth Armored division is at Camp Oklahoma City and will move to the staging area Oct. 21. The 163rd regiment of the 66th division will sail from Marseille Oct. 22 and the rest of the division will clear port within a week.

War Not Officially Ended, Is Ruling

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—World War II has not yet terminated and will not terminate, in a legal sense, until Congress or the President by authority from Congress formally proclaims it terminated, the attorney general's department said in an opinion today.

The opinion was given to Comptroller George H. Sheppard in response to a request for interpretation of a law releasing penalties and interest on delinquent taxes for veterans until six months after the cessation of hostilities.

Philadelphia Pigeons Continue To Be Fed

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19. (AP)—Philadelphia's resourceful pigeon feeders baffled the cops today, which is to say the pigeons ate despite a new ordnance providing for $5 fine or 10 days in jail for feeding the virus-infected birds.

An old lady dropped a paper sack of corn, mumured, "Oh, I'm sorry, it was an accident," and left a City hall policeman scratching his head.

Two boys throwing corn in the courtyard, practically right under the mayor's nose, shouted:

"We're not feeding pigeons—we're having a corn fight."

There's no ordinance against corn fighting.

RODEO RIDER HURT

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Curley Hatchell, Alpine, Tex., was cut and bruised in a bull-riding contest of the Madison Square Garden rodeo here last night. He required hospital treatment.

Col. Jonathan Williams, first superintendent of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, was a grand-nephew of Benjamin Franklin.

Senate Tax Plan

000,000 maximum recommended by Treasury Secretary Fred M. Vinson.

The committee previously had voted to repeal the excess profits tax on corporations effective next Jan. 1, for a $2,555,000,000 cut. Late today, it approved $58,000,000 additional relief for small corporations, and voted to repeal the declared value excess profits tax and the capital stock tax for another $228,000,000 reduction. The House also had voted to do away with the latter two levies.

Relief For Veterans

The committee voted these three special relief provisions for veterans. They were:

Enlisted personnel would be forgiven all income taxes on their service pay during the war years. They would not be required to make out returns, and if they had paid the tax they would receive refunds.

Officers would be allowed a three year extension of time in which to pay taxes on their service pay, without interest charges, provided they paid off in twelve quarterly installments. At present, they have a six-month period after their return to this country in which to arrange with the collector for extension of payments, which bear 6 percent interest.

Extension On Balance

Persons who entered the service before the pay-as-you-go tax law went into effect would be granted a three-year extension for paying any unpaid balance of taxes on their earned income (defined as not to exceed $14,000) in civilian life, for years prior to 1942.

The concessions previously voted by the committee to individuals and business had mounted to an estimated $4,780,000,000—not far short of the $5,000,000,000 lid recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson. The House had approved cuts aggregating $5,350,000,000.

In addition, the senators approved House action in freezing the Social Security payroll tax for another year at the present rate of 1 per cent each on employers and employes.

Business Concessions

The Senate group voted two special concessions to business today.

Corporations were given an extra year's time, past next Dec. 31, in which they might retire their own bonds at less than face value without recognition of grain. Railroads emerging from reorganization proceedings would be given a similar extension of time in which they could cancel out their indebteness.

Another concession, to small business, would trim some of the graduated surtax rates on corporations with less than $60,000 net income. The combined normal and surtax rate on the first $5,000 of net income would become 25 per cent; from $5,000 to $20,000 it would be 27 per cent, frmo $20,000 to $25,000 it would be 29 per cent. The present "notch" or change-point at which the regular combined rate of 40 per cent becomes effective would be raised from $50,000 to $60,000.

Here is a table showing the contrast between the present rate and the finance committee plan:

Net Corporate Income	Present Burden	Burden Under Plan	Reduction
$ 5,000	$ 1,250	$ 1,000	$ 250
10,000	2,600	2,000	600
15,000	3,950	3,350	600
20,000	5,300	4,700	600
25,000	6,750	6,150	600
30,000	9,400	8,700	700
40,000	14,700	13,800	900
50,000	20,000	18,900	1100
60,000	24,000	24,000	0

Tahoka Schools

a factor, it was said.

Last week-end, the trouble rame to a crisis when Coach Stewart resigned following the team's fifth loss. Saturday night, someone plastered Hancock's home with rotten eggs. Monday morning, members of the football team went to the school to turn in their books and entered into a discussion with Hancock. An argument was started and finally scuffling, Hancock receiving a gash on his head which required hospital attention.

Resignations All Oral

Then Supt. Hancock and Principal Brewer turned in oral resignations to the school board and the school board then announced its intentions of resigning. Twelve members of the high school faculty also walked out until the muddle was settled.

Regardless of the result of tonight's talks, school will be resumed Monday "even if some of our former teachers who are housewives have to step in and teach for awhile," citizens said.

However, it appeared that the trouble was nearing a peaceful and satisfactory settlement for all concerned.

RALLS, PETERSBURG PLEDGE SUPPORT OF SUPT. HANCOCK

In the wake of the publicity concerning the Tahoka school situation, at least two communities have pledged their faith in the school heads at Tahoka who formerly held positions in those towns.

Citizens of Ralls and Petersburg, where Supt. E. E. Hancock formerly held similar positions as that he holds in Tahoka, have gone on record as expressing their confidence and faith in the long time west Texas school man.

Residents of Ralls Friday afternoon signed a petition expressing their confidence in Hancock and testifying to his outstanding record at Petersburg and other schools of the community. A similar expression of support came from Petersburg.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

News Briefs

Pvt. George P. Lawley, son of Mrs. Rachel A. Lawley of 2622 Twenty-fourth, has been liberated from a Japanese prison camp, according to an official War department announcement.

Condition of Harley Elliott, 47, of 2006 Thirty-first, was fair last night at St. Mary's hospital, but attendants said he was not being allowed visitors. He suffered severe bruises and head injuries, but no broken bones or fractures in a motorcycle mishap Thursday at intersection of Twenty-second and Ave. S.

Ella Carroll, 48-year-old negro woman, made bond of $800 Friday, set by County Judge Walter Davies, on a charge of aggravated assault. She was also fined $100 and court costs by Judge Davies on a liquor law violation charge. Don Hall, 20, who pleaded innocent of carrying metal knucks, made bond of $600 set by Judge Davies. Also in county court Friday Mrs. Oney Juanita Johnson, 26, was fined $200 and court costs on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Theft of a woman's coat out of car in the driveway, was reported to police Friday by Mrs. Valton Gruber, 1603 Twenty-first, who set its value at $50.

Lubbock police helped W. T. Parkenton of Petersburg find his lost car late Friday. It had disappeared from 1100-block Ave. G and was found in 700-block Broadway.

End Not In Sight For Red Point Rationing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Red point rationing will continue through November.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson disclosed this meats-fats-oils prospect today and indicated, without saying so finally, that rationing probably will last throughout the year.

Nevertheless, Anderson told reporters, some downward revisions in red point values are probable beginning October 28. He declined to discuss them on the ground that the fixing of point values is the function of the Office of Price administration.

A primary factor in the decision to continue rationing at least through November is this country's commitments to foreign governments.

Another consideration is the necessity of building up supplies for the second quarter of 1946, when production of meat normally is relatively low.

London Dock Strikers Demanding Solution

LONDON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Thousands of London dock strikers, angered over stalemated wage negotiations, marched through traffic-snarled streets to the tower of London today in a mass demonstration as the nation's food stocks ebbed.

Despite the strikers' cries of "stick it out," the British press association's labor correspondent reported that work might be resumed this week-end.

Indictments Printed In All Berlin Papers

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—All Berlin newspapers printed the full text of Allied indictments against 24 leading Nazis today with approving editorials expressing hope that punishment would be a long step toward German atonement.

Extra paper rations were furnished to attain maximum circulation and reprints were posted on bulletin boards.

Gen. Chennault To Retire October 31

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP) — Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, former commander of the "Flying Tigers" and the 14th Air Force in China, will be retired on Oct. 31, the War department announced today.

General Chennault, who is 55, has been in a convalescent hospital in Miami, Fla. He starts a 12-day leave today prior to going on an inactive status.

Long Occupation In Germany Is Hinted

MAIDENHEAD, England, Oct. 19 (AP)—Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared today he would keep the British army in Germany "as long as possible."

"Personally I would say Germany is a very good place to keep the British army," he continued. "I shall keep it in Germany as long as possible and at the expense of Germany."

The medicine men of many American Indian tribes put on masks to perform the magic of curing, inducing rain, or chasing away evil spirits.

Public Thinks Boosts In Wages Will Mean Increase In Prices

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J. — The general public takes a skeptical attitude toward the theory that wages can be increased substantially without increasing prices.

Among voters who have an opinion on the subject, nearly two out of every three think that if the automobile workers succeed in winning their demands for a 30 per cent pay increase it will be necessary to increase the price of cars.

GALLUP

Members of the United Automobile Workers union employed by General Motors are scheduled to hold a strike vote on Oct. 24 to decide whether to back up their demands with a walk-out. Officials of General Motors, and of other companies faced with similar wage demands declare that it will not be possible to keep the price of autos unchanged and still grant a 30 per cent rise in hourly wage rates. But certain labor union leaders have advanced the idea that higher pay with no price increase is possible.

To see how the general public lines up in this economic controversy, which is an important phase of the Detroit labor crisis, the Institute put the issue to a cross-section of voters from coast to coast as follows:

"The automobile workers' union says that workers' pay can be increased by 30 per cent without making it necessary to increase the price of automobiles. Do you agree or disagree with this?"

The vote:

Agree	26%
Disagree	42
No Opinion	32

Labor union leaders have, however, been able to win a good deal of support from all manual workers and from union members in particular throughout the country for their contention that wage rises do not necessarily have to mean price increases.

The vote of union members in all types of unions polled throughout the country is shown below. Note how sharply it contrasts with the attitude of other groups, such as business and professional men and farmers.

	Agree	Disagree	No Op.
Farmers	16%	54%	30%
Bus. and Prof.	19	56	25
White Collar	25	41	34
All Manual Workers	34	32	34
Union Members Only	40	30	30

The public is more skeptical about what would actually happen than what it thinks could be done about raising wages and keeping prices down. Whereas as many as one-fourth of all voters think that it would be possible to increase wage rates by 30 per cent without increasing prices, only a very few believe that if wages are increased the automobile companies would not raise auto prices.

"Do you think that if wages to auto workers are increased by 30 per cent, the price of new automobiles WILL be increased?"

Yes	78%
No	M
No Opinino	11

Conceivably the public's views on the whole matter of price raising might be somewhat different if the amount of the wage increase in the automobile plants were only 15 per cent instead of 30 per cent. Some observers believe that the union might in the end settle for less than the 30 per cent demand. A new poll is now underway to see how the public would feel about price increases if wages went up by only 15 per cent.

Probe Being Pushed In Mexican Murders

LAREDO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Detectives from the Office of the Mexican federal prosecutor and police from Mexico City, arrived in Nuevo Laredo, Mex., today to make further investigations into the slaying of 37 men and one woman, whose bullet-riddled bodies were recently found on the banks of the Rio Grande.

The Mexican officers hope to apprehend additional suspects to the 11 already held for the mass murder of the field workers. They plan to investigate towns and ranches on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande.

Meanwhile Federal Judge Manuel Lomeli said he has not decided on the date he will announce his decision on the 11 men now being held for the slayings.

Dr. Gustavo Leal Morales of Monterrey, suspected as the ringleader of the men held for the murders, has been the only one of the accused to deny slaying charges. "I've been framed," the doctor protested to newsmen recently.

Federal Prosecutor Emilio Villalobos has questioned 29 suspects during the past two weeks.

Man Whipped For Beating His Wife

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Oct. 19. (U.P.)—Lloyd O. Busching, 175-pound gas company employe, silently received 10 lashes on his bare flesh today for beating his 98-pound wife.

Sheriff R. Earle Sheriff, a 200-pounder, laid on the whip under a 64-year-old Maryland law before only a few witnesses. He said Busching, stripped naked and handcuffed, flinched with each lash but "never muttered a sound."

The lashing—administered with a four-foot, four-strand rawhide whip borrowed from a horse trader—raised welts on Busching's rump, the sheriff said, but drew no blood.

Prince George's County Circuit Judge Charles Marbury, who imposed the sentence, said he was convinced that it was a just one. He was not among the 20 witnesses.

"It was either let the law collapse completely in this case," Marbury said, "or send the man to prison and thereby hurt the very person justice was attempting to help. I think the lashing was the best course."

George W. Whistler, father of the famous artist, was a West Point man.

LOOKS DECEIVE—The innocent-looking Jap officer above is Captain Hisikichi, and he isn't as harmless as he appears As head doctor of the filthy, ramshackle Shinagawa prison hospital, he refused to let doctors among Allied prisoners give medical care to suffering comrades, although the Jap medical staff was wholly inadequate.

Latin Nations To Get Military Equipment

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—The United States is mapping plans to resume the flow of military equipment to Latin America to strengthen the permanent defenses of this hemisphere.

The plan, it was understood today, is being worked out by the War, Navy and State departments through the inter-American defense board. The board is composed of representatives of the American republics.

During the war the United States used the Lend Lease act to provide military equipment to almost all the Latin American countries. Lend-lease aid is now terminated, however.

Under the plan now being studied, the American republics would pay reduced prices for surplus U. S. war materiel. New equipment would be paid for at prevailing market prices.

MacArthur In Perfect Health, Officials Say

TOKYO, Oct. 19. (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur is in "perfect physical condition," a spokesman at Supreme Allied headquarters said today in commenting on an American columnist's report that the occupation commander-in-chief might retire because of heart trouble.

General MacArthur has "never been more fit than at present in the entire four years' campaign" in the Pacific, added the spokesman. "There is not the slightest word of truth in gossip about MacArthur's health."

(In a column published Oct. 15, Walter Winchell said correspondents back from Japan had reported MacArthur might retire soon because of "serious heart disturbances.")

Col. Roger O. Egeberg, MacArthur's personal physician, is enroute by air to his home in Cleveland for discharge. He expected to visit at his home before proceeding to a separation center.

U. S. POLICY EMPHASIZED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP) — The United States never will support a final decision affecting the "basic situation" in Palestine without first consulting both Jews and Arabs, Secretary of State Byrnes said today.

The Iroquois Indians have a different mask for every occasion—clan masks, medicine masks, masks for controlling the winds and scalp masks, among others.

New Religious Rules Won't Affect Worship Of Emperor, Is Claim

TOKYO, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Compulsory worship of the Emperor has never existed in Japan and the new religious freedom laws will have no effect on the "divine" status of Hirohito, according to Seeichi Omura, vice-minister of education.

Omura told the United Press in an interview that the new decrees guarantee complete freedom for all religious bodies, including Christians, Buddhists and sectarian Shintoists.

But he emphasized that the laws have nothing to do with state Shintoism which, he said, is not regarded by the Japanese as a religion but rather as a tradition of ancestor worship.

Omura said practically all Japanese worship at government Shinto shrines is out of respect to their ancestors and that the Emperor actually receives a similar form of adulation as the "father" of Japan.

"There is nothing in Japan's laws compelling Emperor worship," he said. "What is believed to be Emperor worship abroad is a Japanese tradition of respect for the Emperor as the 'fountainhead' of the country."

Battleship New York Arrives At Home Port

NEW YORK, Oct. 19. (AP)—The battleship New York, 31-year-old veteran of two wars, came home today.

Ferries, tugboats and other ships whistled a riotous welcome as the 34,000-ton fighting craft steamed slowly up the bay with 1,500 white-capped crew members and 1,000 naval passengers waving and cheering from her decks.

Novel On Toilet Paper Is Lost In Austin

AUSTIN, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—Lt. Kenneth Simmons, Dallas, recently of the Eighth Air Force, wrote a novel on toilet paper while a prisoner of war in Germany. He concealed it from prison officers and brought it back to the United States, only to lose the transcribed manuscript here last night.

Lt. Simmons was discharged yesterday at Fort Sam Houston. With the manuscrip in a blue overnight bag in his car he drove here to enroll at the University of Texas.

When he stopped at Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity house for the night he discovered that the bag with the manuscript was gone.

The story represents thought and dreams of war prisoners, Lt. Simmons said. He offered $25 reward for the 225-page handwritten manuscript.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.
