March Of Dimes Activities Here Net $462.72

Miss Mary Lee Schuette, Slaton March of Dimes campaign chairman, reported yesterday that $462.72 has been raised here in three MOD activities.

The Mothers' March, held Tuesday night, netted $324.72 for the campaign as members of local clubs and other volunteers visited homes soliciting contributions to the March of Dimes.

Last Saturday, Girl Scout Troop 107 sold Blue Crutches on the streets of downtown Slaton, getting $117.68 for the campaign.

FFA boys at Slaton High School sold Blue Crutches also, bringing in a total of $20.32.

No other official activities are planned in connection with the campaign, other than individual contributions placed in cannisters located throughout the city.

Top Speaker; Officer Installation; Director Election; Awardee Naming

An eventful evening is in store for backers of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce next Monday.

The chamber's 33rd annual banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall on that date.

Scheduled for the evening are the naming of Slaton's "Outstanding Citizen" and "Woman of the Year," an address by former Slatonite Louie Welch, now councilman-at-large for Houston and president of the Texas Municipal League, election of five new directors, installation of officers for 1959 and other events.

Welch, who graduated from Slaton High School in 1936, has gone up rapidly in the world of politics. Among other titles he holds are president of the Harris County Mayors' and Councilmen's Association, president of the Texas Mayors' and Councilmen's Association, on board of directors of the Texas Construction Council, member of the Abilene Christian College Board of Trustees and Director of Houston Christian Schools.

Welch was born in Lockney on Dec. 9, 1918. He is married to the former Iola Faye Cure of Hale Center and they are the parents of four sons and one daughter.

The Chamber of Commerce names the "Outstanding Citizen" of the year whereas local women's clubs name the "Woman of the Year." Included among the local clubs who take part in the "Woman of the Year" project are the Daughters of Pioneers, Jr. Civic and Culture, Civic and Culture, Centurettes and Athenian Club.

To be installed as new officers of the organization are Robert Hall Davis as president, Rush Wheeler as first vice-president and Joe Teague III as treasurer.

They will succeed Don Crow, outgoing president; and Bill Ball, outgoing first vice-president. Ted Swanner was treasurer for 1958.

An election will be held to name five new directors for the chamber. Sixteen names will be on the ballot, from which the five will be chosen. The five receiving the highest number of votes will be elected the new directors.

DON CROW
. . . retiring CoC president

Directors whose terms expire are Crow, Ball, Dr. Truitt Babb, Sherrill Boyd and Clark Self Jr. Crow and Self are nominated again and Ball was chosen last week to serve for the unexpired term of Dr. Don Hatchett, who has resigned.

Others on the ballot will be Jesse P. Brown, Bob Clodfelter, Claude Craven, Woody Rosser, Frederic deVries, Joel R. Combs, Kenneth Jones, A. E. Kerchival, "Hack" Lasater, Cecil Self, Bill Smith, R. H. Todd Jr., Bland Tomlinson and Alex Webb.

Music for the affair will be provided by Hugo Mosser's Radio and TV. Tickets are being sold by directors of the chamber and may may also be purchased at the chamber office in City Hall.

Ball will be Master of Ceremonies for the event.

W. T. Brown, Longtime Resident, Dies Tuesday; Rites Set For Today

W. T. Brown, 81, a Slaton resident for 38 years, died in Mercy Hospital at 4 a.m. Tuesday after a three-week illness.

Mr. Brown, a Presbyterian since childhood, came here from Lavon. He served on the board of the Westminster Foundation at Texas Tech from the time the organization came into being until just recently.

He also was on the board of the local Presbyterian Church. He had been a Mason for 50 years and was secretary of local Masonic bodies for the past 37 years.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church with the Presbyterian pastor, Rev. Clarence Wylie, officiating, assisted by Rev. Elmer Crabtree of Plainview, Rev. J. B. Sharp, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and Rev. Ben Diaz, Pastor of the local Mexican Presbyterian Mission.

Burial will be in Englewood Cemetery with Masonic rites at the graveside. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of Williams Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, "Carrie"; a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Lokey of Slaton; and a grandson, C. W. "Bill" Lokey of 4116 Daley Ave., Fort Worth; two great-grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. C. J. Stinebaugh, Mrs. G. L. Sherrill and Miss Lois Brown of Royce City; and an uncle, Major Brown of Rockwell.

Two 'Shootings' Are Reported By Slaton Police

Two separate shooting were reported here over the week end.

In one, reported at 9:30 p.m. Sunday, Jack Riddley, a resident of the "flats" area of town, was shot three times, once in the face, arm and leg with a .22 calibre pistol. He is hospitalized with his injuries.

The shooting was allegedly the result of an argument over a debt.

James Brown, also a resident of the "flats," was arrested and is in the custody of the Sheriff's Office in Lubbock.

In the other incident, a juvenile was turned over to juvenile authorities in Lubbock after a shooting in which "Blackie" Biera was injured in the leg. This incident also took place in the "flats" area of town, according to Slaton Police Headquarters.

City Appoints Acting Chief; Buys New Car

The Slaton City Commission, meeting Monday night, appointed Dalton Berry acting chief of police, accepted Chief Daniel's resignation "with regrets," and made decisions concerning a public telephone installation and extension of water and sewer service to block 70.

Berry was named acting chief of police, brought about by the resignation of Bill Daniel, who will take the post of chief of security, Texas Tech campus. Berry is among six candidates for the chief's vacated post. A decision is expected soon on naming the regular chief.

The commission authorized the installation of a public telephone booth in the City Hall lawn. The authorization came after Southwestern Bell Telephone Company had requested the booth. No action has yet been taken on Southwestern Bell's request for a rate raise here.

Forrest Lumber Company requested water and sanitary sewer service for lots 1 and 2, Block 70, South Slaton Addition. The group voted to extend the services to lot 2, block 70. The commission also assigned George Willis, city water superintendent, to check on the possibility of extending such service to the north of town to serve Union Compress and Ray C. Ayers and Son.

A decision on a similar matter saw the commission deciding it would spend the same amount of money extending water and sewer service to a proposed new addition west of town as was spent on the Shelby addition.

Other action included the accepting of a bid from Slaton Motor Company for a new police car to replace one damaged in a collision last Saturday. Slaton Motor was low bidder with a bid of $1,504 net difference between the new car and damaged one. Crow Chevrolet, the other bidder, was only $11 off, bidding $1,515.

Slaton Ministerial Alliance To Meet

The Slaton Ministerial Alliance will met Monday at 2:30 p.m.

The organization will be the guest of Rev. F. A. Wittig, pastor of the Lutheran Church at Posey, for the meeting.

The Ministerial Alliance is composed of pastors of the various churches serving Slaton and surrounding area.

Band Banquet To Be Held Thursday

The annual banquet of the Slaton High School Band will be held at the Lubbock Country Club, January 29. One hundred persons are expected to attend the banquet.

D. O. "Prof" Wiley, director of the Texas Tech Band will give the after-dinner speech. "Prof" is quite a familiar figure around Tech as he has been director there a number of years. He has one of the finest playing bands in the state of Texas.

Invited guest of the band at the banquet will be Mr. Truett Babb, Mr. and Mrs. James Perkins, and Dr. and Mrs. Lee Vardy. Bill Clark, president of the band, will be the Master of Ceremonies.

—Tiger's Cage

Henzler is a self made man. He's raised himself with his own boot straps. And I'd risk a bet that Hack Lasater is Slaton's happiest man, he enjoys everything including himself.

How about that, I'm out of space and can't vote again until next week.

Hypnotist Schedules Two-Night Stand Here; JCs Selling Tickets

What do you think you would do in a hypnotic trance? Merlin the Hypnotist, who is appearing at the High School Auditorium for two nights, Feb. 4 and 5, will call a number of willing volunteers from the audience. While under hypnosis, they will shiver with cold, see a motion picture and other uncanny demonstrations which Merlin achieves through the power of suggestion.

The two-night stand will be sponsored by the Slaton Jaycees, who are currently selling tickets at 50 cents for children and $1 for adults.

A feature of the show is to make a volunteer stiff as a board, then stretch him between two chairs—his head on the edge of one chair and his heels on the edge of the other. Then Merlin stands on the person's stomach. After it's over, the volunteer remembers the demonstration as though it had taken place in a dream. To demonstrate the power of post hypnotic suggestion, Merlin tells the volunteers that their right foot will be fastened to the floor when they try to leave the stage. They find it impossible to leave the stage until Merlin breaks the spell.

Another feature is Erna the Princess of Magic, who has mastered the Hindu Basket trick.

Merlin is one of the few magicians who have mastered the escape from a straight jacket which is generally considered to be the most difficult of all the magicians' accomplishments.

Instead of escaping from a thoroughly examined and padlocked box, as the Great Houdini used to, Merlin locks a young lady in the box, and then in a matter of seconds, the lady is out and Merlin is in. The box is unlocked, the lid removed, and out jumps Merlin.

Resident Of Southland Hurt In Auto Mishap

Karen Gail Pennell of Southland is in Mercy Hospital for treatment of lacerations following a two-car accident here last Saturday morning.

The accident, between a local police car and the car in which the injured party was riding, took place at the intersection of 9th and Lynn Streets at about 9:30 a.m. last Saturday.

Both cars are total losses, local police report.

The police car was on an emergency run to answer another accident call. The other accident had occurred near Englewood Cemetery. No injuries were reported there, police said.

NEAT TRICK (If you can do it!)

Merlin, the Hypnotist, will perform the above trick, among others in a two-night stand here on Feb. 4 and 5. The master of hypnosis is appearing under the auspices of the Slaton Jaycees. Tickets to the first night's performance may be purchased from any Jaycee at 50 cents for children and $1 for adults.

Special Services Are Scheduled By Local Church

Rev. J. C. Andrew and his daughter LaVina will be the preacher and singer for a series of special services planned for this week end by the local Church of The Nazarene.

Special youth activities for the week end include a Pot Luck Supper Friday at 6 p.m., recreation Saturday at 3:30 p.m. and a Billy Graham film, "Mr. Texas," Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Rhodes, has announced that everyone is welcome and invited to attend any of the services.

Heart Surgery To Be Performed For Slaton Girl

Robin Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Henry of Slaton, will undergo "open heart" surgery today in Texas Children's Hospital in Houston.

And They Meant It, Too . . .

Two weeks ago, some events took place which underlined, we believe, a principal which is the foundation for one of this paper's policies.

It has been and shall continue to be a straightforward policy of The Slatonite to promote and support "Trade at Home" efforts vigorously. We do this in the sincere belief that buyers save money, and at the same time get more for their money, when they buy from Slaton merchants.

Those specific events we mentioned were "January Clearance" sales held by local dry goods merchants.

These local businessmen, Wheeler's, Anothony's, Webb's and O. Z. Ball and Co., presented sales with real savings for Slaton-area shoppers. When they advertised, "January Clearance," they meant it. They cut prices to a minimum, took steps to see that everyone got an equal chance to buy their merchandise. The sales were all-around satisfactory events. The consumers got what they wanted, at a bargain price, and the merchants cleared their shelves.

Compare our Slaton merchants' sales to those in the "Big Town," and you'll find the vast difference is in HONESTY on presenting a sale.

One of the most widely-used gimmicks in the retail sales field is to advertise and promote a "sale" when in reality many of the items offered as "bargains" have not been reduced one iota in price and in some cases have actually been increased.

Such was not the case with our local merchants and we give them a hearty "well done" for their sincerity.

Farm Bureau On Power

Time was when farm groups generally favored public electric power development. But in this, as in everything else, times change.

The American Farm Bureau is the country's principal agricultural organization. It has taken a positive stand on the power issue. Roger Fleming, the Bureau's secretary-treasurer, gives that stand in these words: 'Farm Bureau favors development of electric power facilities, including the commercial production of electric power from atomic materials, by private enterprise wherever it is willing and able to do so.. The federal government should stay out of this commercial business unless a situation arises in which private development is not feasible."

This statement combines the virtues of brevity, clarity and logic. The production and sale of power is purely a commercial enterprise. If government is to do the job, then government with equal justification could provide us with food, automobiles, homes, entertainment, newspapers, or anything else that comes out of the commercial world. Then, of course, we'd have the next step beyond socialism—a total communist state.

The Sounding Board

(Editor's Note: Other papers are nearly as good as we are, sometimes. Evidence the following.)

Joe Ed Boatwright in his column, "Local Business," in The Colorado City Record:

"Eat big . . . spend small." campaign recently started by a national association of food stores to help homemakers with food budgets.

The program is keyed to the idea that the homemaker can reduce food costs considerably if she plans her shopping around newspaper advertising.

"The homemaker who plans her menus around the newspaper ads may be able to save $3 to $5 a week on food costs," the association estimates.

The cost of food is not as high as it often seems, the asociation claims. The prices of different foods vary from week to week or from season to season. "Specials" advertised in the newspapers serve to guide the homemaker in making economical selections.

Although the association's current program is concerned with helping the homemaker build menus around specials, newspaper advertising helps to keep down the cost of foods in other ways.

Advertising works in selling the same way that an automobile machine does in production. It does the work of many clerks when it provides shopping information to thousands of customers.

And when advertising sells groceries on a volume basis, it reduces storage costs. The increased volume makes it possible for the retailer to operate on a lower margin of profit. The retailer passes on the savings to the consumer.

Regular newspaper advertisers sell at lower prices because of savings created by advertising.

—SOUNDING BOARD—

Ernest Joiner in the Ralls Banner:

Crosby County shoudn't be hard on the Russian people. The average citizen hereabouts thinks it terrible Russians don't get to vote for their leaders, for whatever taxes they labor under, or even for whether they want a street paved or not. Our people can't understand why they stand for it. The Russian would be the first to point out that in Crosby County people don't vote for their leaders, taxes, and all those other wonderful things, either. And the Russian would be correct. Only 900 persons have qualified as voters in this county for 1959—out of a 10,000 population. This is about the same ratio by which the Communist Party controls the people of Russia. The Russian isn't permitted to vote. Here the people refuse even to qualify to vote, because they just plain don't gave a damn. Who is the more to be pitied, the Russian who can't — or the Crosby Countain who won't?

I'm right proud the Treasury Department is mad and embarrased because an East Texas filling station operator's story about finding over $2 million in gold bars turned out to be just another good Texas story. Now the Treasury Department wants to file charges against the Texan for doing what the whole world expects a Texan to do, cook up a new and bigger lie. It may charge the man with "giving false information to the government." That carries a $10,000 fine on conviction (or 10,000 days in jail, we presume). But the clincher is that nobody gave any false information to the government. The T-boys read about the story in the papers and drew their greedy assumptions. Now they roar they 've been hoaxed, and nothing will alleviate their sufferings but that somebody's head roll in the gutter. These birds are dedicated to making taxpayers mad and embarrassed. It's satisfying to see they can't take it themselves.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas lawmakers face the old "chicken or egg" problem as they move into the session's main issue—money.

Is it best to decide first how much the state must spend to keep its various programs going and then scrape up tax money to cover them? Or should the tax take be set first and the pie sliced up accordingly?

Thus far, both problems are being juggled at the same time. Already the mathematical acrobatics are spreading jitters among spectators—both appropriation seekers and tax worriers.

GOVERNOR'S PRESCRIPTION —Gov. Price Daniel is prescribing a two-pronged, $210,000,000 plan to cure state fiscal ailments.

First prong is to raise $65,000,000 to pay off the debt expected in the general revenue fund by the end of this fiscal year. Second prong is to raise $72,800,000 a year ($145,600,000 for the next biennium) to cover spending from the general revenue fund.

Sources for this money would include: (1) a natural gas severance tax, (2) an increase in levies on motor vehicle sales, tobacco and corporation franchises and (3) unclaimed bank deposits, insurance policies and property, which the state would take over.

Governor Daniel increased his previously recommended budget by nearly $20,000,000 to include appropriations for retiring state bonds, providing medical care for people on welfare rolls, a driver education program and advertising for tourists and industry.

Total two-year spending from general revenue would be $330,000,000.

SMALLER PIE—Compared to the governor's proposal, the Legislative Budget Board's recommendation for general revenue fund spending looks modest—only $285,000,000.

Though the Board's spending would be nearly $54,000,000 less than the governor's, it would still be some $4,600,000 higher than the 1958-59 appropriation.

Budget Board suggests slight increases for the judicial system, executive and administrative departments, hospitals and special schools, public schools and highways. Small cuts were recommended for junior colleges and higher education.

Spending from all funds for state government would total $2,357,347,479.

SEELIGSON PLAN — Rep. Frates S. Seeligson of San Antonio has prepared an extensive plan to overhaul and beef up the state's tax collecting.

Topping the list would be a 1.5 per cent sales tax with food, feed and fertilizer exempted. It would bring an estimated $67,000,000 annually.

Another Seeligson bill would recodify present tax laws. It would do away with some regarded as obsolete (such as on clock peddlers, street cars) and others called inequitable (on chain stores, stock transfers, radio, TV cosmetics, etc.) Same bill would eliminate certain exemptions and revise other taxes, mostly upward, on motor vehicle, tobacco and liquor sales. Net gain from the revisions would be a $11,500,000 a year gain in revenue.

Like Daniel, Seeligson recommends that the state take over unclaimed money and property.

Seelingson was vice chairman of the State Tax Study Commission that spent the between-sessions months working on tax problems.

FAIR WARNING — Governor Daniel and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey both declared at their inaugural that they have sympathetic hearts for Texas taxpayers.

Governor Daniel proposed greater efficiency and economy by combining some of the 175 separate agencies and 213 special accounts operated by the state.

Ramsey promised there would be "no stringing up of the unfortunate taxpayer by the heels to shake out enough money to give everyone everything he wants."

Added Ramsey, "I refuse to admit that the success of a legislative session, or an administration, depends solely on the amount of money it can spend."

NO PAY, NO WORK—House and Senate agreed easily on an automatic shut-off of the regular session at 6 p.m. May 12, but had more difficulty deciding where to get their salary money.

House members shied from a Senate plan to take from a surplus in the fund to aid the permanently and totally disabled. (Future campaign fodder, for sure, reasoned representatives.)

Instead, they proposed borrowing from the Insurance Department Building fund. Both houses agreed to tap the drivers license fund.

A definite adjournment resolution this early in the session is unprecedented in recent legislative history. So is a session of only 120 days, the period for which legislators can be paid. Both are regarded as reflecting disgruntlement over the defeat of the legislative pay raise amendment last fall.

Already three new pay raise proposals have been introduced: (1) to pay $50 a day for 150 days, (2) $40 a day for 120 days, $20 a day thereafter and (3) $4,200 a year.

Present scale is $25 a day for 120 days only.

FLOOD BEGINS — Dozens of new bills—and old bills dusted off—are flowing into legislative hoppers. Already introduced or ready for introduction are measures that would:

TAX GROSS RECEIPTS of manufacturers products, by Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla, estimated by author to raise $400,000,000 a year.

REVISE JUVENILE LAWS to allow prosecution of youths, 16 and over, for felonies, by Reps. Joe Ed Winfree, Houston, and Benn D. Sudderth, Gustine.

GIVE REA COOPS the right for 10 years to build and operate lines in an area annexed by a city, to be sponsored by Rep. Alonzo W. Jamison of Denton.

REQUIRE A TWO-THIRDS VOTE of both houses to pass a tax measure, a contitutional amendment proposed by Rep. Bill Jones, Dallas.

This Week in AUSTIN

by

Senator Preston Smith

Looking deeper into the state's most hotly-contested race for Speaker of the House, observers agree that there are some results, both good and bad, that are not readily apparent.

As public reports of the contest indicate, Waggoner Carr's election to the post for a second consecutive term makes him the third man in Texas history to achieve such an honor. And Carr's post will prove to be a tremendous advantage to all West Texans. On those points all agree.

But, a deeper look shows other elements in the issue.

One serious possibility, which Carr quickly tried to avoid by promptly urging unity in the House, may be embittered feelings over the close and heated race.

And anyone watching Jim Burkett's face when the final vote was announced could help but regret once again that for every elated winner, there also the agony of one or more losers.

Burkett went slack, his head sagged, and his eight-year-old son James cried openly over the disappointment at the announcement which to them meant defeat.

On the brighter side, Wagoner and his son David, 9, were jubilant at the 79-71 vote.

Also encouraging was the keen interest exhibited by the hundreds of spectators that overflowed the House galleries to witness the nominations and voting.

One woman, with sleeping child, kept notes on the vote. An elderly couple talked excitedly as each election development unfolded. Everywhere the galleries young people, old people . . . people from many walks of life . . . were caught up in the election excitement.

And as I looked over the capacity crowd, I was convinced happily once again that the people of Texas DO care about their state government, and that they DO take active interest whenever they have the information and the opportunity.

The Man who Appreciates the Finest . . .

BUYS HIS WIFE GAS APPLIANCES!

Skill alone won't bag a Bighorn or cook a crepe suzette. It takes fine equipment, too! That's why the man who buys the best hunting rifle for himself, appreciates his wife's choice of a fully automatic, built-in GAS Range. More impressed with performance than fads, he agrees there's no point in paying more when you can buy the finest, for less. Only a Gas Range offers the advantages of closed-door, smokeless broiling . . . no warm-up wait . . . instant shut-off with no heat hang-over. What's more, Gas cooks with less heat fluctuation than any other fuel! Yes, in every way, (economy included) GAS gives you more. And where the finest is truly appreciated . . . Gas belongs.

'MUSIC WITH MARY MARTIN'

Mary Martin, a dynamic musical comedy star who hails from Weatherford, will be seen at the Lubbock Auditorium on Feb. 2 for one night only. The star will bring her "Music With Mary Martin" show to West Texas for this one appearance.

A Texas Gal!

Mary Martin's Only West Texas Appearance In Lubbock Feb. 2

Bringing pleasure to audiences is no new trick for the versatile Musical Comedy Queen, Mary Martin, but presenting this talent in person to West Texas is new for her. The Dynamic performer will bring her reknowned show, "Music With Mary Martin," to the stage of the Lubbock Auditorium at 8 p.m. on Monday Feb. 2. This will be her only West Texas appearance, and the Lubbock showing will be for the one night only.

The Weatherford, Texas, girl who rose to overnight stardom on the musical stage, in the movies, on radio, on records and on television is regarded by many as the greatest star that America has ever produced. One of her closest rivals, Ethel Merman, once said, "Oh she's all right if you like nothing but talent."

And talent is the secret of the sensational Miss Martin. What other star could have introduced, and sung into theatre history, such songs as "Speak Low," "I'm In Love With a Wonderful Guy," "My Heart Belong To Daddy," "I'm Going To Wash That Man Right Out Of My Hair and "Never, Never Land." And many of these songs will be included on her program in Lubbock. The last thirty-minutes of the "Music With Mary Martin" will feature "Moments From Her Musical Success" in the original costumes that she wore when introducing these songs.

Accompaning Miss Martin will be her orchestra under the direction of John Kesko, guitarist Louis Bonfa and dancer Dirk Sanders. The show will last about two-and-ahalf-hours.

Tickets are on sale daily in the lobby of the Auditorium from 9 until 5. Prices range from $4.80 (Sold Out)—$4.40 and $3.90 on the Lower Floor to $4.80 (Sold Out)— $3.90, $3.30 and $2.60 in the Balcony.

The Auditorium is expecting a "Sell-Out" crowd for this event because the advance sale is the biggest in history.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown and daughter, Diane, of Idalou were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sanner last Sunday evening.

Mrs. Thomas L. Hodges, Sherie and Susan of Altus, Okla., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dowell this week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bollinger visited Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Steffens Sunday. The Steffens were celebrating their seventeenth wedding anniversary.

First Pastor Of Baptist Church Dies Jan. 13

Rev. J. R. Balch, the first pastor of the First Baptist Church in Slaton, died in Seymour on Jan. 13 and was buried there the following day.

He came to Slaton in the fall of 1911 after the organization of the church in July of that year. The district missionary and a few interested Baptists were instrumental in having a revival in July of that year and a church was organized with six members following the revival. Rev. Balch was called at that time and by the end of the year the membership had grown to 40.

He had been in Seymour a number of years. His wife died several years ago.

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

I read recently of a little old dilipidated farmhouse, with spacious but unkept grounds and a tumble-down picket fence that had never seen a drop of paint.

A stranger came walking along the dusty road, opened the gate, walked up the path to the low door, and knocked. The farmer's wife answered the door. She expected a neighborhood friend, but it was a stranger. He asked, "Does God live here?"

The woman was so perplexed and dumbfounded she did not answer. Again the stranger asked, "Does God live here?" Now the woman was so confused she could not answer. Instead, she slammed the front door and ran out the back door. The man shook his head, turned and walked away.

At the barn, where the husband was working, the wife told him excitedly of the strange visitor. The husband blustered and floundered for words. He finally asked, "Well, didn't you tell him we belonged to the church?"

"No," answered his wife conscientiously; "that wasn't what he asked."

"Well, didn't you tell him I'm a deacon and that you're a hard-working member of the Women's Missionary Society?"

She answered, "That wasn't what he asked."

Together they pondered over the strange visitor and the meaning of his mysterious question. They came to the conclusion that they had been only playing with their pretensions and that their home was not a place where God could live.

Reader, is your home a place where God can live? Look round about it. What about the atmosphere? Is there love and understanding? What about the words spoken- Would they be words pleasing to God?

Invite God to your home and life. The fellowship with God will give you the needed strength to face whatever life may offer this week.

'58-'59 High Plains Cotton Crop Was One Of The Best, Quality-Wise

LUBBOCK—Quality wise, the 1958-59 Texas High Plains cotton crop was one of the best on record, George W. Pfeiffenberger, executive vice president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., reported this week as he released the seventh and final quality report on cotton statistics for this area.

Out of the two million bales harvested on the High Plains—an all-time production record—statistics show that white cotton accounted for 71.3 percent of the crop with 59.2 percent strict low middling white and above.

"Light spotted cotton totaled only 2% percent and 16.5 percent of that was middling light spot and better. Full spotted cotton was only 2½ percent," Pfeiffenberger said.

The average staple length on the Plains 1958 crop was 31/32 inch with 25 percent measuring one inch and longer. Only 8½ percent fell below 15/16 inch.

The micronaire average 4.0 with 8½ percent above the tenderable micronaire limit of 3.5 and the majority of the crop, or 51 percent fell between 4.0 and 5.0.

The Pressley fiber strength averaged 74,600 pounds per square inch with 44 percent testing bewteen 75,000 and 90,000 pounds.

Pfeiffneberger explained that the quality statistics on this past season's crop were compiled in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Texas Agriculture Experiment Station and Texas Tech College. Results were based on 65,696 samples for grade, staple and micronaire and 5,906 samples for Pressley tests.

He concluded that uniformity in grade, staple, micronaire and Pressley makes this crop much better than even the quality crop of 1956 and one of the best ever produced on the Plains.

Karen Henry

Well, Kids, tonight's the night! The night of the long awaited band banquet is here. Maybe most of you girls will be reading this under the dryer getting dolled up for the big event. We know this banquet is going to be a real gala affair. Among those going are Tommie McCall escorted by Russell Cummings, Melinda Clifton escorted by Roger Cummings, Nita Ward escorted by Pat Adamek, and Rosemarie Phillipp by Don Edwards. Have fun, all.

Harriet Perkins received a lot of comment on the new hair-do she wore last week. The enormous bun (?) on top of her head was quite unusual, but quite cute, we'll have to admit.

Don Edwards shouldn't be so pokey if he expects to ride the cafeteria bus back to school as noon. He almost didn't make it Wednesday. We tried to tell the bus driver you werent's aboard, Don, but he didn't believe us!

Have you ever seen anyone so surprised as Dixie Clark was when Mrs. Haile announced that she had won the Betty Crocker Homemaking Award? That loud "O-o-o-h!" was enough to convince everyone that Dixie was completely surprised.

Not everyone hums to himself in American history class, but Danny Winn does. We always did like to see a boy happy in his work.

Betty Heaton is receiving dagger stares from the shorthand class. A few days ago she typed up an order for Mr. Jackson. When she finished typing it, Betty read over it and found that it was an order for some type of shorthand workbooks. Really, Betty, the least you could have done would have been to tear it up and throw it away or something.

Be on the lookout for the following police characters: Charlie "Ricer" White, Steve Smith, Jerry "Slick" Harlan, Mack Metts, and Billy Dickson. They are wanted for the attempted lynching of Kenneth Armstrong, alias, "Rat." This attempted lynching occurred in front of the speech room just before fourth period, and in broad daylight, too.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Houchin visited their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Troy J. Brown of Hale Center Sunday.

'How To Write For Magazines' To Be Presented At Lubbock YWCA

Two classes on "How to Write For Magazines" will be conducted at the YWCA, 910 Texas, in Lubbock.

Leonard Snyder, novelist and magazine writer of New York, N. Y., will be the instructor. Snyder, one-time Navy public relations man and former student of W. S. Campbell and Foster-Harris at the University of Oklahoma, is widely known as a writer's coach and has lectured in cities throughout the country.

He is the author of dozens of verses, articles and short stories and his students have sold hundred of pieces to national magazines of all kinds. Former students have also hit the book and movie fields.

"How to Write For Magazines" is practical in approach and consists of five lecture-workshop sessions covering all the main techniques of fiction writing, the YWCA points out. One lecture will be devoted to writing the magazine article. Characterization, plotting, transitions, dramatic scene and narration, openings, etc., will be covered. Stories will be plotted in the class sessions. Where and how to get ideas, agents, marketing, getting production and other writer's problems will be taken up with plenty of time for questions.

"Many would-be beginning writers blame a lack of talent when their work gets only rejection slips," Snyder says. "Usually it is their technique that is at fault. More writers are made than born."

With each enrollment Snyder will do a written, detailed criticism of one short story article which may be given to him during the series or sent up to thirty days after the course is complete.

There will be two separate classes: a day class from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., and an evening class, 8 p.m. to 10 p.m., to be held Monday through Friday the week of Feb. 16. Classes will be limited. Fee for the five lectures and criticism is $25. An advance deposit of $5 must be made at the YWCA by Feb. 13. This is refundable in case of cancellation. For further information contact the YWCA, 910 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, phone PO 3-4200.
