

Commission Rejects Gas Rate Increase Proposal

by TOM PORTER
Staff Writer

An application by Pioneer Natural Gas Co. for an 11.5 per cent increase to gas customers was unanimously rejected by Hereford City Commissioners Monday night.

The action, which came after the proposal had been tabled twice by commissioners, brought a vigorous response from Mayor Ray Cowser, who said he had wanted it to pass.

Before calling for a vote on the proposal, Mayor Cowser asked K. B. Watson, vice president of PNG, if he had any information which had not been presented in the two previous meetings.

Watson reviewed latest action in the other 54 cities where Pioneer is asking for the same increase, and specifically talked about the situation in Lubbock. In that city, commissioners have brought in a gas rate analyst — Martin Bennett from Washington, D. C. — to review Pioneer.

Watson stressed to Hereford commissioners that Bennett's proposals have never been accepted by the Texas Railroad Commission, which governs the utility company.

He also stressed that the rate would not go into effect in the cities voting approval until it has been passed in the entire system.

Mayor Cowser asked what would happen if a city contested the rate increase. Went to the Railroad Commission and won. Watson said all cities would benefit, but added that those cities which pass the rate now could get a higher rate if Pioneer has a higher one approved by the Railroad Commission.

Cowser then called for a motion, and Lloyd Sharp said, "After discussion we've had, I feel we should reject this request." Albert Maxwell seconded the motion. The two other commissioners, Dick Barnard and D. C. Kinsey, also voted to reject the proposal.

Mayor Cowser asked City Manager Dudley Bayne to show in the minutes that although he could cast no official vote, he wanted the record to show that he was dissenting.

The mayor began his statement by praising the commissioners for "voting the way you felt was right. That's what you were elected for and I certainly respect you for it."

"I feel that while it was untimely for Pioneer to file for a rate increase, that they probably will get it. I also feel that if the ordinance had passed, the city would have benefited by it."

Cowser said the city now may be denied the one per cent increase in franchise taxes which had been proposed by Pioneer. By law, public utility companies such as Pioneer have to pay cities two per cent tax on the gross receipts, but the ad valorem tax can be raised by mutual agreement between the city and company involved.

"I'll be frank," continued the mayor, "I wanted to use this as a lever to boost the other city utilities to paying the extra one per cent."

"Now, the question is going to take place from this day forward," stated Cowser, "whether the city will seriously contest the action in a Railroad Commission hearing."

Following his statement, Cowser asked Watson if he had anything to say. Watson said if circumstances change, he may be back before the commission again, but he felt "like it will in a period of time go before the Railroad Commission."

Maxwell told Watson that he personally felt that the one per cent franchise tax being offered by Pioneer was a "bribe." If you wanted to take that one per cent and give this to the gas users, I would have voted different."

Watson said he had explained that point in a previous meeting which Maxwell had missed, but said cities to the south had "demanded equal treatment in rates, so that's what we're trying to do."

Charles Frye and John Claypool of Hereford Aero, Inc., which is in charge of the Municipal Airport, appeared before the commission to discuss building a new hangar.

The two men told commissioners they could construct a hangar large enough for six planes at a cost of about $9,000. They said they would like to work out "some sort of lease agreement with the city so that in time the company could retain ownership."

Commissioners gave tentative approval to the project but told Frye and Claypool to complete all their plans before final action would be taken.

Bids on city-owned property on New York Street, where the old City Barn had been, will be taken, commissioners decided. The bids will be opened at 7:30 p. m. Sept. 18.

The plat on a five-acre tract of land between Centre and Douglas streets was submitted by John Warren and Walt Warren and accepted by commissioners. The land is in the city limits but had not been platted previously.

GRAIN SORGHUM

Big Money Crop Looks Good

In between "seasons," area farmers, at least some of them, are taking a breather before grain sorghum harvest and sugar beets start coming in during the latter part of September.

Potatoes have been finished throughout the area for about a week now; ending market prices were real losers, but farmers averaged a crop that they could "make money on," with a market of about $3 per hundred weight.

the crop should need until harvest begins in the middle of September.

Although it is yet too early to make certain analyses on quality, all indications point to a better than average crop this fall.

Corn, as much as 10,000 acres, planted in the latter part of April is now being harvested for ensilage. The crop is used as a roughage and a supplement to milo fed to the area's numerous cattle in feeding lots.

Part of the crop is being harvested earlier than a year ago, with harvesters in a hurry to get the crop just when its moisture content is where they want it for the best cooking of the ensilage.

Sugar beets are another promising fall crop, with most fields standing up well under leaf spot conditions since better spraying routines have been utilized. Some of the plants also had to make a comeback from hail during the early part of the summer, which ruined many stalks.

Holly Sugar Corp. has predicted per-acre income to be increased this year, due to better crop conditions and better market conditions, also.

Carrots, starting out at a tremendous price of $70 a ton, have dropped down to $37.50 per ton on mediums and large. The price is still good, however, according to one shed spokesman.

All the crop has been in the ground since about Aug. 10, and processing should be finished in the sheds by sometime in January. The crop is in short supply, and will be until November in the sheds.

Bar-B-Q
Planned

Residents of the Milo Center Community were making plans this week for their annual Labor Day barbecue held on the grounds of Pitman Grain Co., Milo Center location.

The barbecue, sponsored by Pitman Grain and Pioneer Fertilizer, is put on annually by members of the Milo Center Community and is free to the public, according to Bobby Owen of Pioneer Fertilizer, and will begin at 8 p. m. Monday, Sept. 4, Labor Day.

Walter Lendon, Jr. is head of the barbecue committee this year, and the barbecuing is being done by residents of the area.

According to Owen, 500 lbs. of prime beef has been purchased and will be barbecued in the special pit constructed for that purpose. Soft drinks will be served also.

This is the 4th year for the barbecue, which started after community residents decided to designate the area as Milo Center, a name that came about due to the large amount of milo grown in the immediate vicinity.

Harvest Dinner
Scheduled
Friday Noon

The Annual Harvest Dinner will be held Friday from 11 a. m. to 1:30 p. m., according to an announcement made by Mrs. Grant Hanna, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

The dinner, the first to be held in the new American Legion Post Home, just recently dedicated, will be served buffet style, and will feature area grown vegetables, fruits, beef, and homemade bread. Tickets will be on sale at the door and will be $1.50 per person.

Proceeds of the event will go to the American Legion Auxiliary Fund. Members of the committee are Mrs. Grant Hanna, coordinator, Mrs. Hazel Sparks, Mrs. Clyde Gilliland, Mrs. S. T. Wiseman, Mrs. Jim Young, and Mrs. Charles Hood. Members of the Junior Legion Auxiliary will assist with the serving.

Mrs. Hanna expresses an invitation to everyone to come out and enjoy a delicious dinner of homegrown products.

Dedication Of Marker Set
For Friday

A marker dedication Friday afternoon will draw persons to tiny Gregg Park, located in a triangle between Fourth Street, 25-Mile Avenue and Bennett Street. The official state historical marker reminds citizenry and visitors alike of Hereford's nickname, "The Town Without A Toothache."

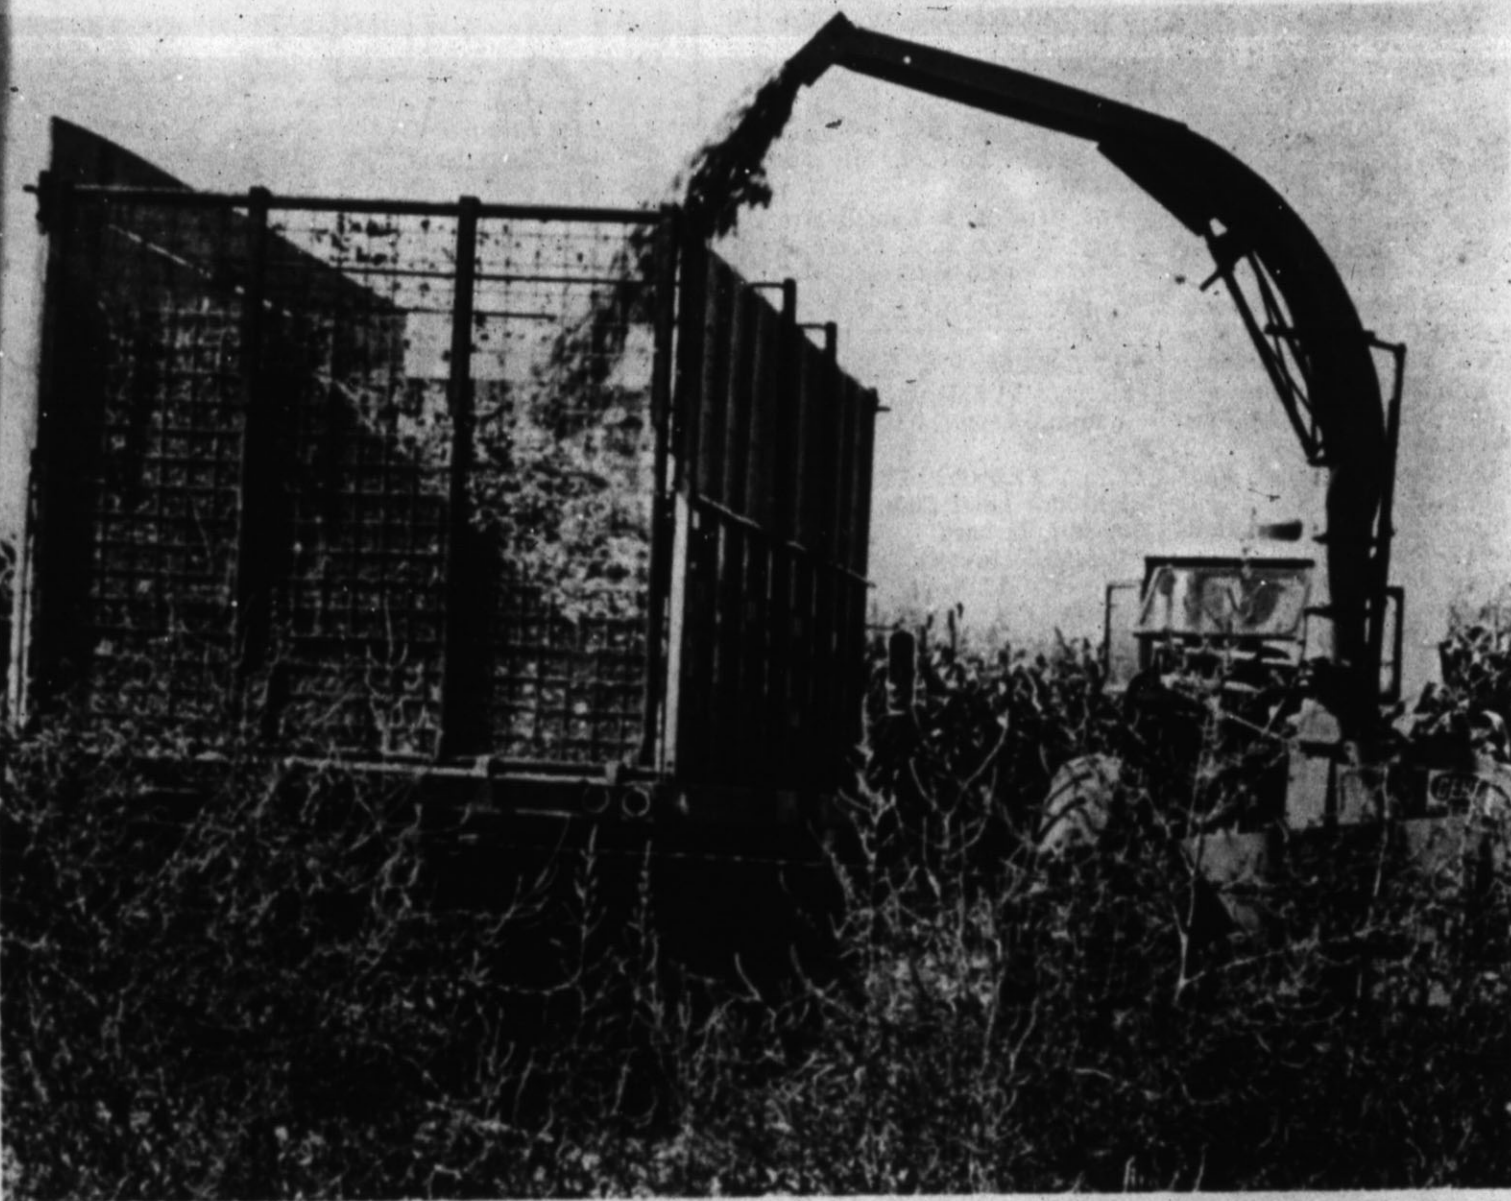

Mrs. Justice McBride, active in museum work here and responsible for the Heard display in the museum, will make the dedicatory address in the program to be emceed by Melvin Young.

Dr. G. W. Heard, although he himself did not come up with the slogan (that credit apparently goes to Collier's magazine), did research, along with some state health officials, to establish the fact that people eating foods grown in the soil around Hereford had fewer dental cavities — regardless of what toothpaste they used and regardless of whether they even brushed their teeth!

The dedication will be at 5:30 p. m., with officials of the county and the historical survey committee participating.

FROM OTHER SIDE OF DESK

A New View of Sheriff's Job

Ed Roberson has been Deaf Smith County Sheriff for the better part of a year, but it only took him a short while to realize that "everything looks different from this side of the desk."

Roberson was elected in November, 1966, for two years, filling out a four-year term of Lowell Sharp, who resigned. Since that time, things have kept going at a steady pace.

"All of the problems seemed simpler when I was sitting across the hall," explained Roberson, "but the fine cooperation from other law enforcement officers and people in the courts have made it a lot easier."

A native of Hereford, Roberson was born Sept. 28, 1927, and raised on a farm north of Joel Switch, which is north and east of the Hereford Municipal Airport. "I grew up barefooted and riding a horse," laughed Roberson.

When he was about 10, the farm was sold and the family moved to town. "They sold my horse and it nearly ruined my life in general," he recalls.

Roberson's father, Jeff, had a battery and electrical shop until his health got bad and then he sold out. He later operated three different service stations in Hereford and was raising horses and cattle at the time of his death last year.

Roberson attended Hereford schools until he was a junior. At that time, some of his older cousins joined the Navy and "I thought I had to also. There just couldn't be anything else."

Enlisting in December, 1944, Roberson spent all of his time in Tennessee, Florida, Oklahoma and Texas. He was discharged in June, 1946, at Beville, and soon enrolled for a one-year course in watchmaking at Amarillo.

Roberson plied the trade of repairing watches in Clovis, N. M., and Hereford for about two years but "bunkering over a bench for long period of time began to cause health problems. I kept getting colds and never got out in the sun and fresh air."

Therefore, the watchmaking tools were tucked away and Roberson began working in a service station. He then drove a truck for Lyle Blanton for three years and worked for Jimmie Allred for two years.

Roberson then became partners in a service station with his father and worked about two years before joining the Hereford Police Department. He joined the sheriff's office in 1961.

"The sheriff explained that he 'never did go through the formalities of getting his diploma,' but has taken a course at West Texas State University in social problems. He and his wife Diane, took the course last year."

"Most of my studying has been in law enforcement and I feel like this course actually was connected with that too," he said.

Often a speaker at Hereford organizations, Roberson says that "law enforcement is no better than the people in the community want it to be. We cannot continue to prosecute a person when the jury does not go any further with the case."

Roberson also speaks out against the Supreme Court, which he says, "has become obsessed with protecting the rights of the criminal and is forgetting the victim."

Series

St. Anthony's baseball team, trying for a spot in the regional playoffs, were scheduled to begin a series Wednesday night with Nazareth for the Irrigation League crown.

Second game of the double-elimination playoff will be held on the diamond near St. Anthony's church Sunday.

St. Anthony's won their way into the Irrigation League finals Sunday when they beat Amarillo Graham Plow 8-5 in 11 innings at Amarillo. It was the third and deciding game between the two teams.

In Sunday's game, Amarillo scored in the first, third and fifth innings to lead. Hereford got one run in the fourth when Jim Collier scored, and then tied it up in the seventh inning when Dewey Albracht and Roger Albracht scored.

St. Anthony's took the lead in the top of the eighth when Wesley Poarch scored, but Amarillo had a two-run homer in the same inning to lead 5-4. Butch Walterscheid tied the score in the ninth by scoring and the game went into extra innings.

Walterscheid, Poarch and Lee Roy Berend tallied in the 11th to decide the contest. Collier relieved Ed Mims in the eighth inning and picked up the victory.

To Teach At Walcott

L.B. "Scat" Russell, former Hereford High School Principal and now a member of the Board of Trustees has accepted a position as head teacher for the Walcott School District. Russell was expected to submit his resignation to the Hereford Independent School Board sometime this week since he cannot legally serve in this position and teach also.

A replacement for Russell will probably be named at the next regular session of the board of trustees, scheduled for Tuesday, September 12, according to Johnny Clark Jr., Superintendent of Hereford schools. The remaining members of the board appoint a replacement to serve only until the next scheduled school board election.

Clark, when contacted Tuesday, told the Brand that he had not discussed the situation with the board, but would do so before the next meeting.

Russell's term of office would expire in April, and the man, or woman, named to replace him would serve only until the regular election is held.

Russell told the Brand Tuesday that he would continue to live in Hereford and would drive back and forth daily to fulfill his school duties. The Walcott school term will begin Monday, August 28 and about 120 students are expected to enroll in the eight grades. Russell replaces Granvil Hobson who resigned his position at the school earlier.

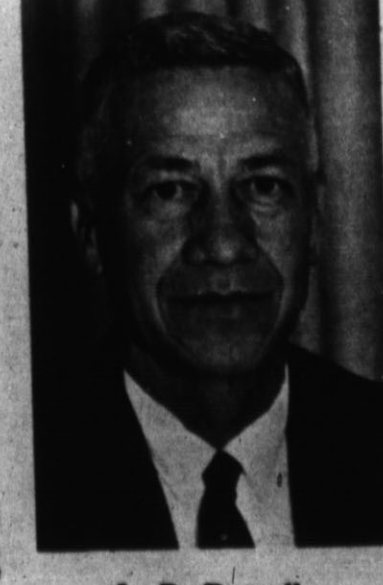

Walcott has four teachers other than Russell.

Russell started his school career in 1941 shortly after graduation from Hardin-Simmons University, teaching in Abilene. World War II cut short his career however, and Russell reported for duty with the armed forces. He served 4½ years in the service before returning to Abilene to resume his teaching duties. From Abilene he went to Baird, Texas, then to Cisco Junior College, and in 1952 returned to Hereford where he taught and coached football. He remained with the Hereford school system until early in 1964 at which time he resigned to enter private business. Russell was high school principal for 3½ years.

In 1965, Russell was elected to the Hereford Independent School District Board for a three-year term. His term of office would have expired next April.

"I'm glad to get back into the teaching business," Russell said Tuesday.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Special Cake Recipe

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Most of her life was spent in Oklahoma before Mrs. Dean Stallings moved to Deaf Smith County two years ago.

THE STALLINGS family moved from Jet, Okla., and live at Milo Center on the Vega Highway ten miles north of Hereford. Stallings is manager of the grain elevators there and the home is next door.

Mrs. Stallings was born at Cordell and attended school there and in Dill City, completing her high school education after she was married. Homemaking is her major interest.

Now the mother of two daughters, Kelli 5, and Kristin, 3 years old, she is slender and blonde, with eyes of an unusual grey-brown color.

COOKING IS HER favorite of the household tasks, although her liking for home decoration is reflected in the attractive rooms of her home, arranged with family comfort in mind.

She was a home economics student and a member of Future Homemakers of America in high school. When she moved to this county, Jeri Stallings joined Progressive Home Demonstration Club which has members from a wide area in her part of the county.

This year she is serving as club vice president and foods demonstrator. In the latter post it is her responsibility to report to the club on new foods and new methods of preparing and storing food.

FOR FAMILY RECREATION the Stallings enjoy swimming ("Oh boy, go swimming!" exclaims Kristin when the subject is mentioned). Since doctors recommended it as therapy for Stallings who was injured in an automobile accident several months ago, frequent swims have been a pleasant part of this summer.

Business courses which were part of her high school studies prepared Mrs. Stallings for part-time work which is a diversion in her homemaking career. She is an office employee at the grain elevator during busy weeks of the harvest season.

One of the special desserts she likes to cook and her family likes to eat, is a white chocolate cake rich with pecans and coconut. Here is her recipe for cake and frosting:

WHITE CHOCOLATE CAKE

1/4 lb. white chocolate
1/2 C. hot water
1 C. butter
1 C. sugar
4 eggs
1 t. vanilla
2 1/2 C. cake flour
1 t. soda
1 C. buttermilk
1 C. pecans
1 C. coconut

Melt chocolate in hot water; let cool. Cream butter and sugar; beat until fluffy. Add one egg yolk at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift cake flour and soda. Add to mixture alternately with buttermilk. Add melted chocolate and vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into mixture. Gently stir in pecans and coconut. Bake in 3 layers at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

COCONUT-PECAN FROSTING
1 C. evaporated milk
1 C. sugar
3 egg yolks
1/4 lb. margarine
one-third C. coconut
1 C. pecans
1 t. vanilla

Combine in sauce pan: milk, sugar, egg yolks, margarine and vanilla. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture thickens - about 12 minutes. Add coconut and chopped pecans. Beat until frosting is cool and thick enough to spread.

CHURCH BEFORE TAVERN
NEW YORK — Religion came before drinking in the city's construction industry, according to New York City's latest official Little Green Book.

The 1967 edition of the green-covered Official Directory said the first wooden church was built in 1642.

The "waal," which gave famed Wall Street its name, was erected in 1653 — the year in which New Amsterdam, with about 800 population, was incorporated as a city.

Firemen Busy; Damage Light

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department answered five calls Monday afternoon, with two of the blazes having been extinguished before they arrived.

All units were sent to a fire at 110 Ave. B at 12:06 p.m., but the first arrivals there carried a damaged television set from the residence and the other units were returned to the station.

Firemen got a five-hour respite and then were called to a car fire at 809 E. 2nd. They found however, that the blaze had burned a water hose and extinguished itself.

At 5:34 p.m., another car fire at Union and Avenue C brought out the fire fighters. Again, the fire was out when they arrived.

A tractor received extensive damage at 6:14 p.m. when it burned 6 miles west of the city on the Holly Sugar road. Firemen sent two units to the scene.

The last fire of the day came at 7:36 p.m. when a playhouse burned between two trailer houses on North Street. There was no other damage.

SHERIFF'S PROJECTS — When he has any spare time, Sheriff Ed Roberson works on one of several projects at his home. In front of the home is a cactus garden which is rapidly developing and in the rear is a man-made stream which shows promise of being a work of art. An ever expanding rock collection adorns both.

New Laws Go Into Effect On Monday

Hereford teenagers, along with others over the state, have kept the Department of Public Safety drivers license division busy this week in an effort to beat the deadline on new legislation.

On Monday, numerous laws passed by the last session of the state legislature will go into effect.

Most important, from the teenagers point of view, is the new Texas law which raises from 14 to 16 the minimum licensing age of youths who have passed an approved course of driver education. It also raises the age of licensing youths who have not had a driver's education course from 16 to 18.

The law provides that a 16-year-old can be licensed before June 1 without having taken driver's education if he presents a certificate from the local school superintendent stating that the course is not offered at his school.

When approved by the Department of Public Safety, or where a driver's education course has been completed and an adult licensed driver always will be present — licenses can be obtained at age 15 in hardship cases.

Under no circumstances will a youngster under 15 be issued a license. Also under the new legislation, licenses issued for drivers under 21 will be provisional and of a different color after Jan. 1. All new licenses will bear a thumb print and a color photograph of the driver after that date.

On first renewal after Jan. 1, operators whose license numbers end in odd numbers will be given a two-year license and persons whose license numbers end in an even number or a zero will receive a four-year license. Commercial drivers and chauffeurs will get one and two-year licenses.

All licenses will expire on the birth date of the driver. Fees will remain the same for renewals, with those getting two-year licenses paying $3 and those getting four-year licenses paying $6.

Numerous other laws affecting traffic safety, driver licensing, safety inspections, and motorcycles go into effect Monday.

tion. The family had looked for a new home so long, explained Roberson, that "we had just about given up."

Plans for this home were just what the Robersons had been wanting, except that one alteration was made to include a visiting room for the sheriff. "You would be surprised how many people have to talk to me during a week," and they come at no certain times.

In a small bed near the front door of the home are several different varieties of cactus, which the family collects when they make a trip to cactus growing areas.

Behind the home, Roberson has constructed a stream of water which recirculates among the numerous rocks which also have been collected by the family. "Sometimes when we get a few days off, we take off for a picnic and rock hunting expedition."

Roberson's office also is well adorned with eye-catching items including a number of old west antiques and pictures, a large bulletin board filled with an assortment of unusual weapons removed from prisoners arrested by the Department, and a long row of photographs of elected Deaf Smith County sheriffs.

Roberson and his wife, who have been married 19 years, have two children. Jean will be a freshman at Texas Christian University this fall and Edward R. Jr. (Buddy) will be a Hereford High School sophomore.

Elevators were hazardous at the turn of the century. In a single large city, as many as 30 people a year might be killed in elevator accidents.

students will begin classes Monday.

Peak enrollment of course, will not come until after the Labor Day holiday, but school officials do not expect a large increase in enrollment this year. There should be ample school rooms to handle any increase that comes.

The new vocational building is not quite ready for use, but work is continuing rapidly and it shouldn't be long before this addition to the high school building will be finished.

We're anxious to see the new vocational department in full swing. We believe there is a definite need for vocational training to prepare our young men and women to make their way in the world, although we hope that it does not detract from the arts. The longer we live, the more we realize that the ability of an individual to adequately express an idea, is about as important as the idea itself.

Many of the students of course have their minds set on a profession and will pursue that course, continuing their education in the universities after high school graduation, but others will probably culminate their formal education with the high school diploma. It is this group that will especially need the help of vocational training.

In years past, apprentice programs were carried on in business and industry to help train our young people in the trades, but government labor regulations pertaining to the hiring of those under 18 years of age, make it extremely difficult for the employer to carry out an apprentice program today. It just isn't worth the risk involved.

The alternative of course, is to place the training programs in the schools.

By the way, we shouldn't consider the vocational training department closed to the student who plans to go on to college. The young man who plans to study mechanical engineering for instance, can gain much experience and knowledge from work in the vocational classes. And perhaps some of our future architects, contractors, electrical engineers and others will find a background of high school vocational training useful in the years ahead.

Vocational training should be an asset to our area.

We're in the dog house again. A recent item in the paper concerning the attendance at the style show at Gaston's Sugarland indicated that some 25 interested persons arrived to view the latest styles. An obvious typographical error of course — the figure should have read 250. And that may have been somewhat short of the actual attendance. The place was jam-packed.

We must admit that we make a few typographical errors — however, we should like to remind Irving Alexander of Gaston's that if 4000 families scanned the shelves in his establishment twice weekly as closely as they do the columns of the Brand, we'll bet they would find a few mistakes there too.

Oh well, you can't win them all.

Our friend Jeff Carille over at the Hereford State Bank has accused us of putting a hex on the TV banking window. Every time we pass by, the thing breaks. But he hasn't seen anything yet. Just wait until he starts putting commercials on that

A travel agent, trying to convince a nervous woman that air travel is safe, said, "Madam, if it weren't safe, would we be using the fly-now-pay-later plan?"

SPEAKER AND VISITOR — Bob Hill, nutritionist with Swift and Company, of the Hereford Rotary Club Monday. A guest for the meeting was Carl Gill of Madera, Calif. Gill exchanged flags with the local club.

Rotarians Hear Nutritionist

The "progressiveness" of Hereford was listed as a big reason for the locating of Swift & Co. here, Rotary Club members were told Monday.

Bill Hill, nutritionist for the feed milling plant, was speaker during the regular noon meeting of the club.

He listed as other reasons for the move to Hereford "the need to be near the cattle industry and the raw ingredients" necessary for the plant operation; the city's good railroads and good highway system.

Hill said his company has

BOUGHT ELECTRIC CAR TRACED THE OWNER

MANSFIELD, Ill. — Jim Britton, who operates a garage known as Alley Automotive in which he restores cars, now owns a 1923 Detroit electric car. After purchasing the car in Kankakee, Britton traced it to its original owner with items he found under the seat.

The owner was a retired school teacher who lived in an Oak Park, Ill., nursing home," he said. "She is 92 and still very alert. She was interested to find out what had happened to the car. She was so fond of it."

Britton then went to Detroit's public library to research the mechanics of the car so he could restore it.

been in the feeding business about 15 years, having developed a protein feed in the early 1950s. It is being called a feed speciality plant because they are specializing only in cattle.

Hill described how a protein block is made and said several varieties are made, depending on how they are to be used.

He described the blocks as labor saving because the rancher can put out 25 or 30 of them per 100 head of cattle and forget them for several days. Each animal consumes 1½ pounds per day.

Another advantage is that each animal gets a fair share of the feed because an animal seldom over eats on them.

Hill said the local plant will be shipping the feed blocks to Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Arizona and Texas, plus making feed mixes for area feed lots.

The new Swift and Co. plant is located on Progressive Road just south of U. S.

A LOOK BACK AT A YEAR

NEW YORK — Time magazine, for the year 1923 when it began publishing, has condensed itself into a book so that history of the year can be read as it was written at the time.

The book, a large paperback, is called "Time Capsule 1923." Time Capsules 1929, 1941 and 1950 are being published at the same time, in August.

with Mrs. Charles Laing, president, leading. Regular meetings will be on second and fourth Mondays of the month. A rummage sale was scheduled for next Saturday.

Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth was named yearbook chairman, Mrs. Harold Beauchamp program chairman, Mrs. R. J. Cramer social chairman and Mrs. Wade ways and means chairman.

Youngest Church Group Is Host At Parents' Tea

Youngest members of the Missionary Union in Temple Baptist Church, the 4-to-8-year-old Sunbeams, were hosts to their parents at a tea in the fellowship hall Sunday afternoon, the climax of Sunbeam Focus Week.

The children formed a receiving line to greet parents and leaders, then gave a program of songs. Since Sunbeams study mission work in other countries, they had learned one song in Spanish. Mrs. Don Dawes was their leader and Mrs. Albert Ricketts accompanist.

Gifts they had made earlier in the week, paperweights for their fathers and wastebaskets for their mothers, were presented. Mrs. W. A. Lamm, WMU president, and the Rev. John Devin, pastor, also received gifts.

Punch was served by Kristi and Kathi McDowell and cookies by Tami Smith from a face-laid table centered with a cake bearing the Sunshine emblem, made by Mrs. Albert Edwards. Yellow and orange flowers were arranged in S-shape by Mrs. James Spearman.

HORSE TRADING

Ben K. Green left home at the age of thirteen and lived by buying and trading cattle, horses and mules. The last two named were his favorites. He followed this through his teens and early twenties and now writes of his experiences in a number of episodes which make up his book, "HORSE TRADING".

Many times he was the loser or made poor trades, some times he broke even but as he grew older and more experienced he became a good trader and could beat the game and make money on the deal. No one was ever angry when they lost as that was part of the game, and judging from his book there is no game which a trader can lose more often until he learned the tricks of the trade. Perhaps this is why "horse trading" is used in a broader sense of the term for those who have the ability and desire to become good swappers in any line. It is game that some love to play and play well.

One of the most amazing things of the book is that the author grew to manhood and attended a veterinary school at Cornell University and then took a graduate course at Royal College of Veterinary Medicine in England. Then he did research on toxic plants to find more than 30 such plants deadly to domestic livestock.

He now lives at his former home in Cumby, Texas, raises good horses and cattle on the land which he once left. And this fine book of Texana is a result of his experiences.

Most of the episodes took place in Texas within an area of Ft. Worth, Weatherford, Cleburne and Abilene. But one trip was into Kansas where he went to help with moving steers and brought back horses to sell and trade. Another was into the deep south where he took mules to sell, and one into New Mexico where he got involved in a horse race and horse trading with the Apache Indian.

Flower Judges Win In Show

Two Hereford women who are National Flower Show Judges were winners of first, second and third places in a special flower show staged at National Judges Group of District I, Texas Garden Clubs.

Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr. and Mrs. A.L. Manjeet were the entrants from Hereford. Both are members of Hereford Garden Club.

Newer ideas in flower arranging with emphasis on abstracts, collages, mobiles and assemblages, were featured in the show, held in the new home of the Dusty McGuires. An unusual entry in the horticulture division was of cacti and succulent plantings in pieces of driftwood, a new idea for winter house plants.

TO HOLD REUNION

Relatives of the late J. H. and J. R. Daniel will hold a reunion with lunch being served in the Odd Fellow Temple, 205 East Sixth, Sunday, August 27.

All relatives are asked to come and bring a covered dish. Open house will be held for friends of the family in the afternoon.

Building Dedication Held

Jack Flynt, Immediate Past Department Commander of the American Legion urged Legionnaires Sunday to "let this building serve as a reminder to us, as members, of our responsibility to our organization, our community, our state, and our nation."

Flynt spoke before about 100 Legion members and their guest upon the occasion of the dedication of the new post home, Post 192, Hereford American Legion.

Flynt also urged the members to remember the four basic programs of The American Legion: Rehabilitation, Child Welfare, National Security and Americanism — programs that are still needing the services of every member.

Flynt, who has just completed his first year as Department Commander, Texas Department of the American Legion, hails from Dimmitt, Texas. He was accompanied to Hereford by his wife, Mary, who has also just completed a year as head of the Texas American Legion Auxiliary group.

The new building, a $25,000, all-steel structure was completed last week and will be used for the annual Harvest Dinner, Thursday, August 24. The building has a complete and modern kitchen, and a recreation room with pool tables as well as the large meeting hall. It will be available for community use on a rental basis in the near future.

Open house was held at the building from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday, with the dedication being held at 3:30. Rev. Russell Wingert, Minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Hereford gave the invocation and the Honorable Ray Cowser, Mayor of Hereford, gave a short address.

Dr. Milton C. Adams, Post Commander was Master of Ceremonies. A number of guests from other posts were present and were recognized during the program. Others recognized for their outstanding contribution to the American Legion work here were all past post commanders present, all past charter members that were present, the building committee and the finance committee as well as distinguished guests.

Mrs. Grant Hanna, Past Commander of the 18th District, American Legion Auxiliary, recognized distinguished Auxiliary members and guests present.

A presentation of a bible was made by John Moody, representing Trinity Baptist Church. The bible was presented to the Auxiliary.

The dedication of the building Sunday was the realization of a dream of many years for local Legionnaires. The first American Legion post in Hereford was organized and chartered on April 12, 1920, and was known as the Terra Blanca Post No. 192. The charter was canceled Oct. 7, 1928. Again on November 1, 1929, a temporary charter was issued creating the Hereford Post, retaining the same Post number. This charter listed the names of Sank Ramey, C. O. Wilkins, Lloyd Carlton, E. W. Bennett, Miles Robertson, Dutch K. Robinson, J. M. Murchion, A. C. Hales, Frank Gyles, Cliff Estes, Dick Dixon, Ray E. Smith, C. L. Roberts, C. C. Acker and Phil Radovich. Wilkins, Hales, and Gyles were present for the dedication Sunday.

Other early members present were Ira Ott and W. J. (Bill) Smith.

American Legion meetings were being held in the City Hall prior to the end of World War II, when returning veterans swelled the ranks of the organization and they began looking about for better facilities.

In 1947, the Veterans organizations in Hereford purchased what is now known as Veterans' Memorial Park from the county, including the rock club house which had been part of, and built by the old C. C. C. camp group. Plans were made then to develop the area into a park and to build a home for the organizations.

In the late 40s, an old Army barracks was purchased and converted into a temporary home for the American Legion. It has been used continuously until this week when the group moved into their new quarters, a move that has been contemplated and worked towards for more than 20 years.

To add the topping to the desert, the beautiful new post home is free of debt. The American Legion Auxiliary paid for the stainless steel sign that adorns the front of the building.

Legionnaires have worked and saved their money for many years, and Sunday's post dedication was truly the realization of a dream.

Serving on the building committee were: S. T. Wiseman, Chairman; Jim Young, W. B. Wilson, Bob Betzen, Grant Hanna, as well as Mrs. Alice Gillette, representing the Auxiliary.

A. G. May Construction Company of Hereford was contractor for the building.

Although all the furnishings for the building had not been delivered in time for the Sunday dedication, the structure is ready to be used for meeting, etc. Recreational room furnishings are expected to be arriving this week, said Commander Adams.

The dedication program and open house was concluded at 5 p. m.

New Safety Standards For Texas Autos

Texas motorists will find higher standards will be required in automotive safety inspections starting August 28.

Captain Alan Johnson in charge of the Texas Department of Public Safety's Motor Vehicle Inspection Service in the northwest Texas area, said the vehicle inspection period starting late this month will continue through the usual deadline, April 15.

Quickest to catch the eye of the Texas motorist will be the new seat belt regulations. Another new provision is the inspection fee itself, raised to a $1.75 from the previous rate of $1.00.

The state legislature has ruled that front seat belts must be installed in all vehicles in which seat belt anchorages were a part of the manufacturer's original equipment.

Captain Johnson points out that seat belt anchorages are threaded holes in the vehicle structure suitable for receiving seat belt attachment fittings. "And seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment on all American-made passenger cars beginning with 1962 models," the captain explained. Seat belts also will be required on foreign made cars in which seat belt anchorages were original equipment. In addition, the new regulation requires that seat belts must be in serviceable condition, that attachment fittings are not damaged or loose, and that seat belt buckles are operative.

The new safety regulations also take in two more new areas — calling for mechanics to inspect steering, wheels and rims. Safety inspection stickers will not be issued to vehicles with loose steering, in which the steering wheel can be moved more than two inches (measured on the outside rim) without movement of the front wheels. Also rejected will be those vehicles in which the steering wheel cannot be turned from full right to full left without jamming, and those in which the power steering fluid is below the recommended level.

In inspecting wheels and rims, mechanics are forbidden to issue safety stickers to vehicles with defective or bent rim flanges; or loose or missing bolts, nuts or lugs; or rims with defects and cracks that may impair the safe mounting and proper retention of tires.

Captain Johnson urged that residents of Deaf Smith County obtain 1968 safety inspections as soon as possible, since more than 11,700 vehicles must be checked at official inspection stations by the April 15 deadline.

CAN BACK TRACK

DELAVER, Wis. — Counter your fast-running auto clock by adjusting it counter-clockwise.

Most car owners do the opposite. They move hands only forward, or clockwise, because that's what they've been told to do with their wristwatches. According to Borg Instrument Division of Amphenol Corporation, this can affect accuracy.

Auto clocks get information from the direction in which hands are adjusted and then put a compensating correction into the works automatically. This feature is subverted when hands are moved only in one direction and can eventually cause a breakdown.

If it runs slow, move hands forward.

Bill Narrell is beginning his second season as a Whiteface coach, coming here in 1966 after a year at Dimmitt.

Narrell, who is 30, was born at Lorraine, which is 60 miles west of Abilene. He went all the way through school there, basketball and running track in the small high school.

Following graduation in 1956, Narrell attended Cameron Junior College at Lawton Okla., two years and then transferred to McMurry in 1961 and took a coaching job at Los Fresnos, Tex.

Narrell coached at Los Fresnos one year and then spent two years in the U. S. Army. He returned to McMurry for one year to earn a Master's degree and then spent one year as assistant coach in Dimmitt.

Narrell came to Hereford in 1966 and has coached in football, basketball and track. This season he will be working with the offensive and defensive interior linemen. He teaches American History and World History at Hereford High School.

Narrell and his wife, Evelyn, have a seven-month-old son, Britt. They live at 400 Ave. nue H. Mrs. Narrell will teach at Stanton Junior High this year.

Washington Report

From Congressman

BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1223 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 225-2704

The Social Security bill passed by the House last week with only three dissenting votes was a greatly improved version of the original Administration proposal.

The amendments to the Social Security Act are the result of long weeks of hearings by the House Ways and Means Committee and more weeks of debate by the members of that Committee which includes Texas' George Bush.

Under the "closed rule" under which the bill was sent to the House for debate and consideration, no amendments could be offered by other members but most agreed that the Committee bill was a sound bill and probably the best that could be hoped for under the circumstances.

Essentially, the amendments provide for an across-the-board increase of 12½ percent in retirement benefits, increases the amount an individual may earn, and still get full benefits, and revises the program of aid to families with dependent children by requiring individuals receiving aid to participate in community work and training programs.

During the last session of Congress and again in January of this year, the Republican Leadership called for an immediate increase in Social Security benefits so badly needed by the many millions whose income had been whittled away by inflation. Last year alone, living costs rose 3.3 percent and are still increasing at that rate and cash benefits had fallen 7 percent behind the consumer price index.

I and a number of other freshman Republican Congressmen recently introduced legislation to not only increase benefits but to also make the increase retroactive.

The present earnings ceiling is certainly inadequate and I was glad to see in this bill some reflection of financial realities of the present inflationary period. This bill raises the earnings ceiling from $1,505 to $1,680 and the amount to which the $1 for $2 reduction would apply, would range from $1,680 to $2,880 a year. Also, the amount a person may earn in one month would be increased from $125 to $140.

Experience proved also that major changes in the health insurance program were needed and this bill made some meaningful improvements. The number of days of hospitalization was increased from 90 to 120 days and a patient will be permitted to submit his itemized bill directly to the insurance carrier for payment. A physician's certificate will no longer be required for hospital admittance nor for out-patient services.

Changes were also made in the controversial Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program. In the last ten years, this program has grown from 646,000 families that included 2.4 million recipients to 1.2 million families and almost 5 million recipients costing $1.46 billion a year which would increase to $1.84 billion over the next 5 years.

The bill will require states which make the grants to establish programs to train each adult or older child not attending school for work and place them in a job or cut them from the welfare rolls. There is also an earnings exemption to offer incentives for work to welfare recipients.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, Chairman of the Committee answered criticism about the work requirement for welfare recipients in plain language:

"Is it in the public interest for welfare to become a way of life?" asked Mills. "We found we are taking care of the third consecutive generation on welfare."

"What is wrong in requiring these people receiving public funds to learn a job? Isn't that what we should do?" "Are you satisfied with the fact that illegitimacy in this country is rising and rising? I am not."

About three-fifths of the cost of the recommended cash benefit changes will be met by the present favorable balance of that part of the program. The remainder of the cost of the changes will be met through an increase in the contribution rates as well as the maximum amount of annual earnings subject to the tax which will be raised from $6,600 to $7,600 on January 1, 1968.

Employee-employer rate schedules for old-age, survivors and disability insurance would remain the same for 1968, be reduced by 0.2 percent for 1969-70, then increased by 0.2 percent for 1971-72. After 1972 the rate would be 5 percent instead of 4.85 as presently scheduled.

The self-employed rate schedule for 1969-70 would be decreased by 0.3 percent to 6.3 increased for 1971-72 to 6.9 percent, then go to 7 percent as presently scheduled after 1972.

While I consider these increases necessary for those dependent on the program, I believe a better solution to

—Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Nearly everybody who travels in the northeast remarks, "people just aren't as friendly in the cities there as they are out here," and New York City is often singled out as the most unfriendly of the lot.

NOT BY LARRY Kuper, however. He did some rubbernecking in the big city when he was on a recent visit east, and says he never saw folks so friendly.

"When you went in to store and bought something, the clerk would want to keep talking to you," he says.

Could be they were fascinated by Larry's Texas accent and just wanted to hear him talk like a Westerner some more. Anyhow, he liked them.

DOWNTOWN SCENE Monday morning: A small boy hopping about on the east steps of the City Hall, calling to a yellow-striped kitten in the street which was leisurely moving from in front of a truck. The kitty made it safely to the steps with cooperation of the truck driver.

A TELEPHONE CALL to Mrs. B. A. Reddell Monday got a hoarse response and the explanation that she was suffering from laryngitis. No sore throat, she said, just the hitch in talking. That's bad enough that I never hesitate to say someone is "suffering" with laryngitis.

NEIGHBORS OF MRS. Glenn Burrus out in the Walcott end of the county told me last week that it was moving day for her from the ranch home where she lived many years. Now I learn that her new address is 1106 Grand.

MY RECURRING complaints about brides who can't spell are focused this summer on the title of the song most popular at weddings, Whither Thou Goest. Sounds simple enough, but you should see how they spell it!

The last word is usually all right, but sometimes it has been spelled Goist or Goeist. The pronoun doesn't give too much trouble either, except for brides who mix up Thou and Thy.

But there is infinite variety in spellings of Whither — such as Wither, Whether, Weather or Wheather. The prize, however, goes to the gal who spelled it Witherest.

It all makes me wonder what they think that song means, or do they just think it's the "in" wedding song, not supposed to mean anything?

BIRTH OF A DAUGHTER, Karen June, to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Latham at Cannon Air Force Base Hospital at Clovis is an event of importance to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Callaway, the Hereford grandparents.

LOANED CHURCH
TATSFIELD, England — Roman Catholic Mass is offered in the local Church of England parish church here on Sundays because the village has no Catholic church.

The 11th Century Church of St. Mary's, Tatsfield, lies just off the old pilgrim's way to Canterbury. The Rev. Kenneth Lewis, vicar, offered the Catholic priest regular use of his church so that Mass need no longer be celebrated in private homes.

Glad's Garden

LATE SUMMER CHORES IN THE GARDEN

Many questions are running through the minds of the gardeners. Some of these pertain to the lawn.

Shall I feed the lawn in the fall?

Should I kill the weeds or let Jack Frost get them?

How do I cope with the crabgrass... get rid of it now or wait until spring?

The thin spots what do I do with them?

The grass is yellow tinged... what does it need?

Just let it go, and do a complete renovation job in the spring?

Answers: YES, the lawn should be fed in the fall. A complete fertilizer should be used. By complete I mean it should contain the three basic elements: nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium. These will be listed on the bag in the order given with the numbers indicating the percentage of each material included in the fertilizer. A recommended application for fall lawn care, is 10 pounds of 10-6-4 per 1000 sq. ft. The real need for the fall lawn is a good turf builder, this will have the above listed properties, and will not stimulate as quick a growth, but will strengthen the roots for the winter. After application of the feeding, then water thoroughly, so that the plant food will go down to the root area. If you wish to do two things in the same process then combine a weed and grass killer with the fertilizer or turf builder, and apply at the same time. Indeed the weeds should be killed before they seed, then too they take from the grass much of the soil nutrients, and in some instances crowd out the lawn grass. So kill the weeds. Don't wait on Jack Frost.

To kill crab-grass it may require two or more applications. Care should be exercised in use of the arenicals, which is required to kill. If not properly handled this can be dangerous. Can be either applied with a spray or in granular form. After application keep people and animals off the lawn, until all visible signs of the chemicals are gone. When the crab-grass is killed rake out, and burn.

If there are bare spots, then rake the dry dead grass away, treat with a chemical dig it into the soil, let stand a few days. This will aid in sterilizing the soil before new seed are sown. Prepare soil and sow the seed, then water and keep moist until the grass gets well set. If you are going to sow seed as suggested, then it should be done before application of fertilizer is made. Fall time with its cool weather is an excellent time to reseed the thin spots (or even start a new lawn) there will be enough time for it to become established.

If lawns are becoming yellow, then a dressing of plant food containing iron and sulphur should be used, after which all should be well watered. This has been an unusual year for yellowing, not only in the lawn grasses, but in plants, trees and shrubs. All should receive some extra care. I have petted a pin-oak and some of our climbing roses all summer. They are responding, and I hope during cool weather will pay off with some lovely roses, and green foliage.

Keep in mind that what is invested on lawn care will pay off for years. And as for the extra attention given at this time which calls for extra labor, well soon the mower can be put away, and you and the lawn can have a good rest.

HAVE YOU? planted your turnip or mustard patch for the fall greens? If not do not delay longer. Prepare soil, spade deep clean out all weeds and grasses. Rake thoroughly until the soil is smooth and friable. Plant seed in rows or broadcast. Cover lightly, water deeply, and keep soil moist so seed will germinate quickly and grow off soon. There is nothing quite so appetizing in the fall, as a good mess of greens, with some hot corn-bread, butter, and fresh tomatoes along with a glass of cool milk. (Onion goes good with this too).

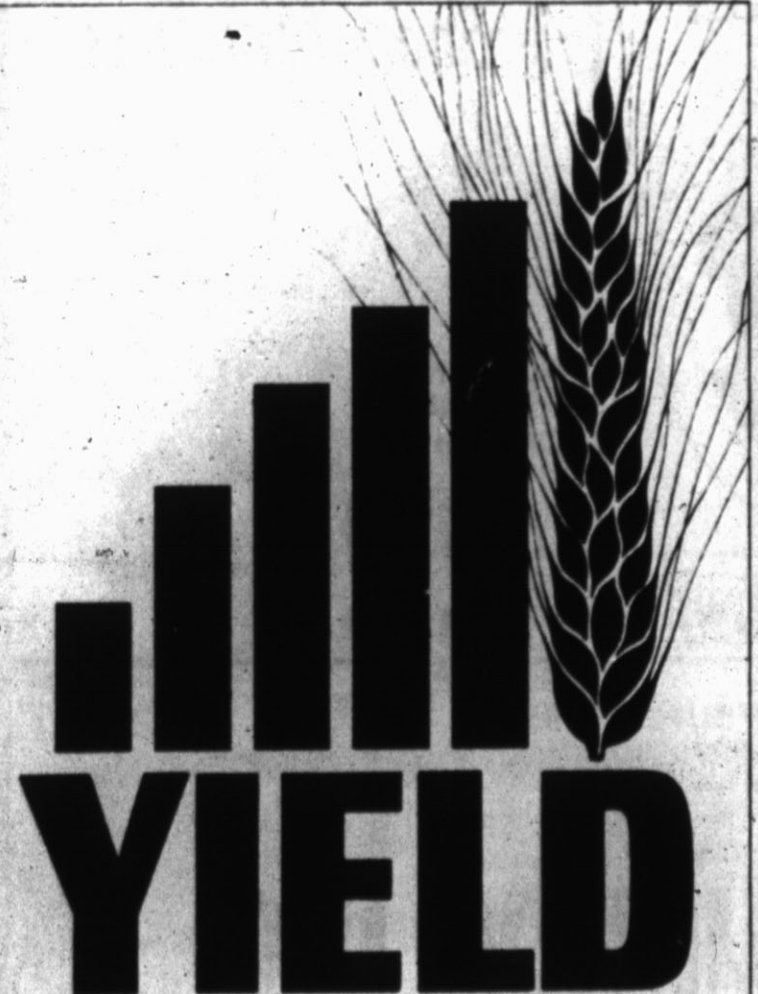

Are the petunias about spent? If the bush is still green and the plant root system strong, give your petunia plants a good boyish bob, (trim carefully) add a bit of plant food, water carefully, and you will have new blooms as pretty or prettier than the early ones. Mine have had a deeper color, both the foliage and blossom.

Zinnias are real interesting and good for late summer. Treat now for mildew, that is one of their chief weaknesses. A very interesting and lovely garden is one planted with zinnias. The trailing, Tom-thumb, Polynesia, cactus, ball, and large, these all can be grown and arranged in a most pleasing effect. Art has grown the Tom-Thumb, this year, and I have grown the Polynesia, they are real pretty, and have rich colors, and are excellent keepers when used for cut flowers. Remember the life of the zinnias and for a continuous bloom, keep blossoms cut and faded ones picked.

Do you ever drive and sight-see in the alley ways? Some of the town alleys are very inviting. One of my aunts told me today, that if I wanted to see some interesting trees, shrubs, plants, fruit trees (loaded with fruit) just to take a trip through some of the alleys. So bye for now, am off for the Alley Ways,

Gearn Machine Works Here Since 1950; Still Growing

STARTED ON A SHOESTRING — Kenny Gearn, partner in the Kenny Gearn Machine Works, can say that he started here on a shoestring, according to his partner-father, W. A. Gearn. The business started here in 1950, and today it has a payroll for some 25 employees.

Kenny Gearn Machine Works has been servicing the irrigation business to a 30-mile radius of its owners have found that it is paying them to confine their business to a 30-mile radius of Hereford. The father-son partnership of W. A. and Kenny Gearn has considered opening branch offices — but investments and headaches that come with spreading out are not worth it, they conclude.

Yet business has grown for this Hereford industry; the Gearn's are working from 20 to 25 persons, depending on the season. From January to June, it's daylight to dark for the irrigation people as they keep well motors and pumps going for area farmers.

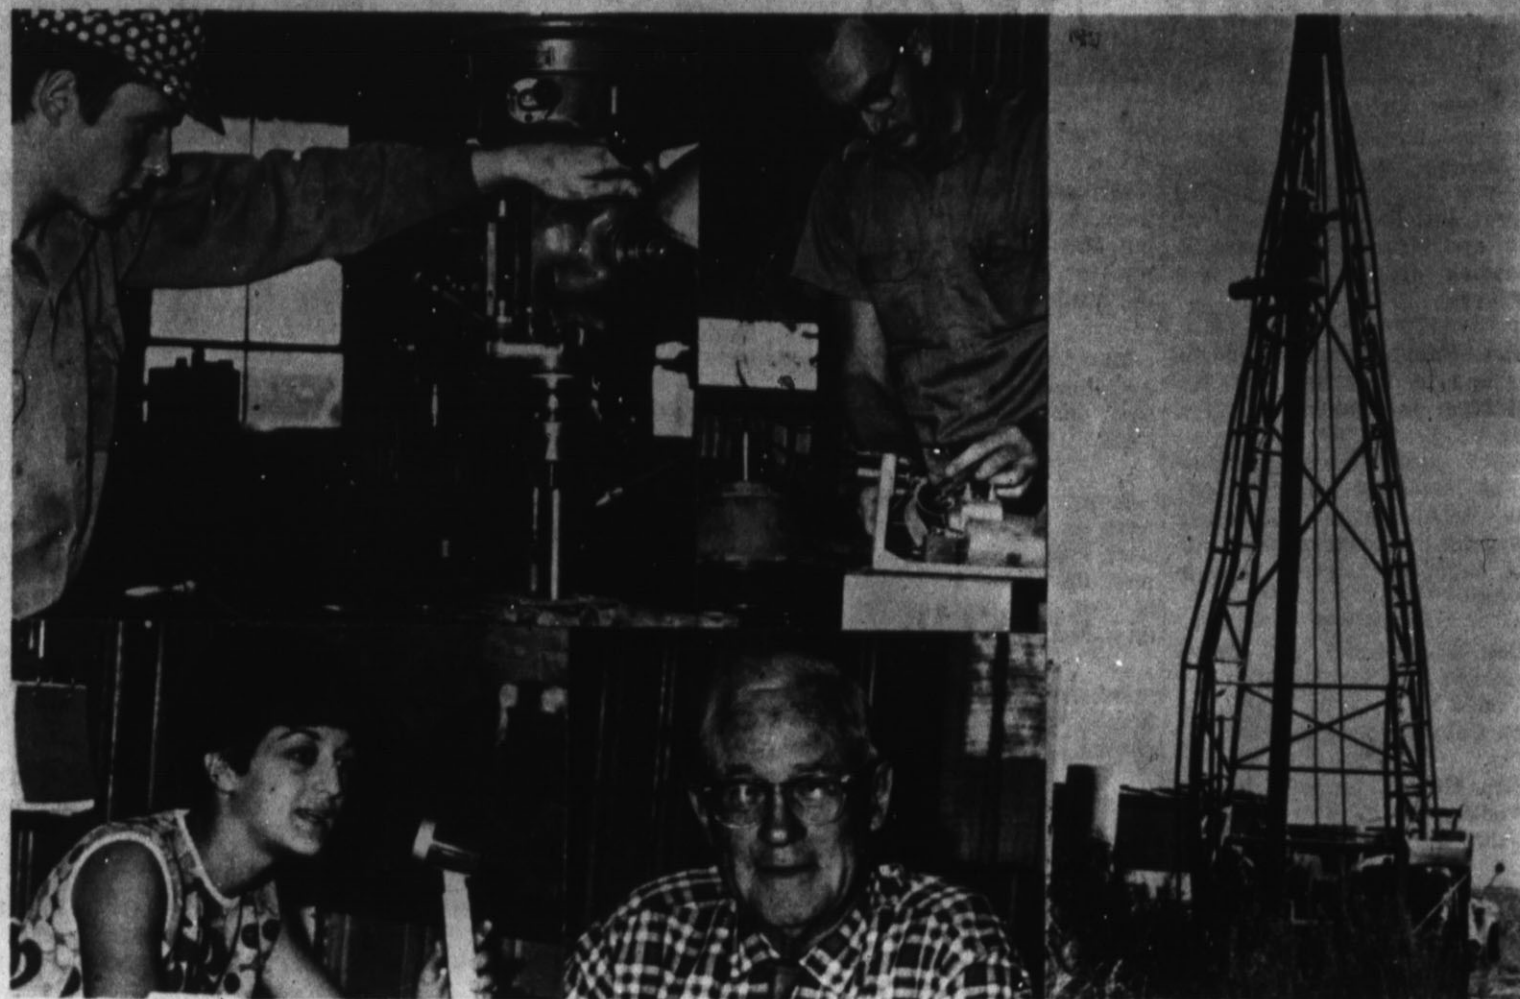

Gearn manufactures Plains Pumps, and also has a patent for Plains Heat Exchangers — a new innovation that Gearn came up with about four years ago. The device has been found quite effective in using cool water from the ground in cooling water for engine use.

Kenny Gearn Machine works was opened here in 1950, when Kenny Gearn came from Dimmitt. In 1953, his father, W. A. Gearn, joined with Kenny in a partnership. The two also operate a drilling company, Wolf Drilling.

Gearn started out solely in machine work, but it was not long before irrigation pump work had taken over the majority of the business. The company has three well servicing rigs, Wolf Drilling has its own rig, and a full fleet of trucks to keep men on the job. G. T. Cornelius is foreman of outside activities, and Bill Cargo is foreman in the shop located on east U. S. 60.

The investment in such a service operation is tremendous, as any casual observer could see; lathes and other machinery, now taking every inch of space in the noisy shop, have demanded extensive capital outlay. Gearn is planning some expansion to relieve the crowded shop, with plans for a new office building now in the mill. The Hereford office is the only one for Kenny Gearn Machine Works, which anticipates no branch offices in neighboring areas.

Like similar industries, Gearn has felt the problems arising out of the shortage of skilled labor; W. A. Gearn says that he has found the only way to get machinists and lathe operators is to "manufacture your own." Apprenticeships are discouraging to the businessman, he points out, because of minimum wage requirements which apply not only to trained workers but to untrained ones as well; with no guarantee of permanency, $1.40 a hour is a risky

ing. investment in a person's training.

Opportunities are good in the skilled machinists occupations, however, Gearn points out; after one or two years' experience a good machinist can make from $100 to $125 weekly.

Three service rigs with two to three men on each one are necessary for the pump pulling jobs each job requiring, on the average, half a day. Pulling the pump requires that the shaft itself be disassembled as it is pulled out of the ground; the deeper the well, the longer it takes the crew to do the job. With irrigation as extensive as it is in this area of the country, Kenny Gearn Machine Works has its hands full, just as several other companies do, in keeping pace during the rushed months when irrigation wells will be running a good many hours a day.

The heat exchangers, better known as cooling coils to the Gearn's, are manufactured in Hereford and shipped to various states in the Western part of the country where engine heat is even more of a problem than it is here. The coils (several hundred of them sold every year) have been sold in Nevada, Arizona, Kansas, New Mexico and of course Texas.

Kenny Gearn has the job of running the shop, while his father handles the bookkeeping and accounting end of the business. Delores Carthel is their secretary.

Two of Kenny Gearn's sons,

Tim and Geary, are in the ranks of "skilled mechanics," claims W. A. Gearn, who says that the summer rush in getting irrigation well pumps and gearheads back into operation fast gets some relief when the two come on the job after school ends in May. Both will be returning to school this fall. Kenny Jr., who will be a sophomore in Hereford High School this fall, also helps his dad and granddad in the business during the summer.

In the absence or illness of said Commissioner, the Chief Clerk of the General Land Office shall be the Acting Chairman of said Board with the same duties and powers that said Commissioner would have if present.

"The Veterans' Land Board may provide for, issue and sell not to exceed Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund, Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) of which have heretofore been issued and sold. Such bonds or obligations shall be sold for not less than interest on the bonds heretofore and hereafter issued by said Board shall be paid out of the monies of said Fund in conformity with the Constitutional provisions authorizing such bonds; but the monies of said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds, the purchase of lands as herein provided, or the payment of expenses as herein provided may be invested in bonds or obligations of the United States until such funds are needed for such purposes.

"All monies comprising a part of said Fund and not expended for the purposes herein provided shall be a part of said Fund until there are sufficient monies therein to retire fully all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, at which time all such monies remain in said Fund, except such portion thereof as may be necessary to retire all such bonds which portion shall be set aside and retained in said Fund for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law.

"When a Division of said Fund (each Division consisting of the monies attributable to the bonds issued and sold pursuant to a single Constitutional authorization and the lands purchased therewith) contains sufficient monies to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, the monies thereof, except such portion as may be needed to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division which portion shall be set aside and remain a part of such Division for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, may be used for the purpose of paying the principal and the interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board. Such use shall be a matter for the discretion and direction of said Board; but there may be no such use of any such monies contrary to the rights of any holder of any of the bonds issued and sold by said Board or violative of any contract to which said Board is a party.

"The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by said Board for the purpose of purchasing lands situated in the State of Texas owned by the United States or any governmental agency thereof, owned by the Texas Prison System or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas, or owned by any person, firm, or corporation. All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of said Fund. Such lands heretofore or hereafter purchased and comprising a part of said Fund are hereby declared to be held for a governmental purpose, although the individual purchasers thereof shall be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as are purchasers of lands dedicated to the Permanent Free Public School Fund.

"The lands of the Veterans' Land Fund shall be sold by said Board in such quantities, on such terms, at such prices, at such rates of interest and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law to veterans who served not less than ninety (90) continuous days, unless sooner discharged by reason of a service-connected disability, on active duty in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard or Marine Corps of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, and who, upon the date of filing his or her application to purchase any such land is a citizen of the United States, is a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, and has not been dishonorably discharged from any branch of the Armed Forces above-named and who at the time of his or her enlistment, induction, commissioning, or drafting was a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, or who has resided in Texas at least five (5) years prior to the date of filing his or her application. The foregoing notwithstanding, any lands in the Veterans' Land Fund which have been first offered for sale to veterans and which have not been sold may be sold or resold to such purchasers, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law.

"Said Veterans' Land Fund, to the extent of the monies attributable to any bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law, for the purpose of paying the expenses of surveying, monumenting, road construction, legal fees, recordation fees, advertising and other like costs necessary or incidental to the purchase and sale, or resale, of any lands purchased with any of the monies attributable to such additional bonds, such expenses to be added to the price of such lands when sold, or resold, by said Board; for the purpose of paying the expenses of issuing, selling, and delivering any such additional bonds; and for the purpose of meeting the interest or principal due or to become due on any such additional bonds.

"All of the monies attributable to any series of bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board (a series of bonds being all of the bonds issued and sold in a single transaction as a single installment of bonds) may be used for the purchase of lands as herein provided, to be sold as herein provided, for a period ending eight (8) years after the date of sale of such series of bonds; provided, however, that so much of such monies as may be necessary to pay interest on bonds heretofore issued and sold shall be set aside for that purpose in accordance with the resolution adopted by said Board authorizing the issuance and sale of such series of bonds. After such eight (8) year period, all of such monies shall be set aside for the retirement of any bonds heretofore issued and sold to pay interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law.

"Should the Legislature enact any enabling laws in anticipation of this Amendment, no such law shall be void by reason of its anticipatory nature."

"This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the amendment to extend the Veterans' Land Program by authorizing the sale of bonds to increase the Veterans' Land Fund for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the Armed Services of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, which amendment would amend Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, and provide for an additional $200,000,000 in bonds, such funds to be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law."

"AGAINST the amendment to extend the Veterans' Land Program by authorizing the sale of bonds to increase the Veterans' Land Fund for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the Armed Services of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, which amendment would amend Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, and provide for an additional $200,000,000 in bonds, such funds to be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49-e, as follows:

"Section 49-e. The Parks and Wildlife Department, or its successor vested with the powers, duties, and authority which deals with the operation, maintenance, and improvement of State Parks, shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000). The bonds authorized herein shall be called "Texas Park Development Bonds," shall be executed in such form, denominations, and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, provided, however, that the bonds shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by the Parks and Wildlife Department or its successor, but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds, shall not exceed four and one-half percent (4½%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purpose set forth herein.

"All monies received from the sale of said bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created with the State Treasurer to be known as the Texas Park Development Fund to be administered (without further appropriation) by the said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, in such manner as prescribed by law.

"Such fund shall be used by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by general law, for the purposes of acquiring lands from the United States, or any governmental agency thereof, from any governmental agency of the State of Texas, or from any person, firm, or corporation, for State Park Sites and for developing said sites as State Parks.

"While any of the bonds authorized by this provision, or any interest on any such bonds, is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount which is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, which includes any receipts derived during the prior fiscal year by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from admission charges to State Parks, as the Legislature may prescribe by general law.

"The Legislature may provide for the investment of monies available in the Texas Park Development Fund and the interest and sinking fund established for the payment of bonds issued by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from the sale of the bonds deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this section sufficient monies to pay the interest to become due during the State fiscal year in which the bonds were issued. Kelly Herd In AAA Program

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kelly Jr., former residents of Hereford now living at Panhandle, have enrolled their herd of registered Angus cattle in the American Angus Association's beef improvement program. The herd is scheduled to be classified in September by an official representative of the American Angus Association.

The program, called Angus Herd Improvement Records (AHIR), is designed to help cattlemen do a more professional job of breeding by measuring and recording the type, production and carcass producing qualities of their herd. All their records are kept by the American Angus Association on a computer. These records are sent regularly on special forms to each Angus breeder enrolled in the AHIR program.

The official classifier will compare every animal in the herd against the ideal type Angus. Each integral part will be analyzed and a total score ranging down from an ideal of 100 points will be assigned to each heifer, cow and bull over one year of age.

When the classification is complete the American Angus Association's breed improvement department will compile a graph showing how the herd averaged on each part, such as feet and legs, head and neck, rump, loin, etc. A graph of each bull will also be made up on a transparent sheet of acetate by placing the bull graph on top of the herd graph a breeder can quickly determine if their herd bulls can be expected to sire calves that are better on all points than the average of the herd.

Friend From Abroad

Danish Student Pays Visit Here

Circling the United States with stops in Michigan, California and Texas as well as on the east coast Miss Birthe Arp-Hansen of Esbjerg, Denmark is getting a comprehensive view of the country while she visits friends.

A member of a family with whom Jon David Miller of Dawn made his home while he was a summer student in Denmark two years ago, Miss Arp-Hansen was the weekend guest of his family the H.H. Millers.

Other American students who lived with the Arp-Hansen family on the same basis as Miller were hosts to the pretty Danish traveler in Michigan and California homes.

On the final leg of her tour, Miss Arp-Hansen left Amarillo by plane for her home. She is due to enroll Sept. 1 for another term in the Technical University of Copenhagen.

Her home is in a small town near Elsinore which is famous as the locale of Shakespeare's play, Hamlet. It is about 25 miles from Copenhagen, and Miss Arp-Hansen drives to classes at the University in her Renault.

"Train and bus connections to Copenhagen from the north are not good," she explains "so I have bought the little car to drive." She is studying chemical engineering and with four years completed will spend two and a half more years to earn a master's degree.

Travel in the United States has been by plane because her time was limited but she has had intensive looks at the areas she visited and is amazed at the wide diversity of this country.

"Each place has been so different!" she exclaimed, adding that she has found one likeness in people all over America. "They are very kind and helpful everywhere."

She arrived in New York July 5, spent some time sight-seeing there and in Washington, D. C., which she sees as a sort of composite of the entire nation, with residents from all over the U.S. as well as the seat of government.

As the most beautiful place she visited she picks Crater Lake in Oregon. On the plains she was impressed with vast distances, but she had become somewhat accustomed to Americans' speaking lightly of distance.

"You say 'This place is very near, only a hundred miles'; but a hundred miles from my home is in another country," she said. She liked the friendliness of Americans she met throughout the country and their eager-

Easter News

A sky-diving contest and airplane rides are planned for Sunday afternoon September 10, by the Easter Lions. The event will take place at Easter International Airport on the Charles Frye farm. In case of bad weather it will be postponed to ness to entertain her in their homes.

"In most of Europe," she said, "the traveler is received courteously but never invited into homes".

Her family is apparently more hospitable since they have had several foreign students living in their home. Miller was an American Field Service student and others were in the Youth for Understanding program.

While Miss Arp-Hansen was visiting the Millers, their daughter, Audni, came down for a five-day vacation from Columbus Ohio, her headquarters in the interests of a Lutheran Church college. Jon David will leave soon to attend Arizona State University.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

The Texas Community Property Laws can make a big difference in the amount of tax that you owe the Federal government. In Texas the husband and wife must split the income if they file separate returns. However, the extra dividend exclusion, the extra retirement income credit and the casualty loss deduction allowed under community property law can be even more important. Document 5192, describing the community property benefits, is available at all Internal Revenue Service offices, or you can write to Internal Revenue Service, P. O. Box 1738, Dallas, Texas 75221.

Otis Lee for Mrs. Frank Craig of Zanesville, Ohio, was held last Thursday August 17. Mrs. Craig is a former resident of Hereford. Assisting Mrs. Lee was Mrs. Inez Witherspoon.

A beige lace table cloth set off the silver service and centerpiece, which was of miniature pink gladiolas. The afternoon was spent visiting and exchanging memories.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lamm were Mrs. Tommy Phelps and son Mark, Mrs. Clifford Persall, and Mrs. Ura Golladay. All are from Amarillo.

WE'LL STAY HOME AND WATCH T V

TUCSON —By the year 2000, predicts land developer Joseph Timan, only the wealthy will be able to afford tickets to top cultural events and hit plays. Even in the top balconies, he says, there'll be mink and diamonds, and tickets up there will be $12.50. He says orchestra seats that sell for $12.50 today will be bringing $50 or more. Timon, who is president of Horizon Land Corp., which develops communities in the Southwest, hasn't a grain of optimism for the common man. "The pity of it is that there is nothing we can do but face the inevitability of it."

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

The Basic Side

It's that time again...the time that challenges anew an army of vigorous American youth to the task of preparation in basic education that will equip them with know-how for their tomorrows. Here young minds fresh from their bowl of wheats, assemble for classroom and playground training. Dear Teacher, responsibility lies heavy on your shoulders. Don't forget that along with reading and writing and arithmetic—lessons in how to live God's way are needed. Teachers and students alike have God to honor and your country to save right there in your classrooms. Always remember, "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver." Proverbs 25:11. Blending of the academic with the spiritual lessons of Jesus, the greatest teacher, offers a moral and spiritual constitution possessing all the qualities basic in life.

IN VIETNAM

Morale High, Marine Says

Although the United States has the best leadership possible for the Vietnam War, the battle is being pushed to the utmost, a Hereford man believes.

Michael Wayne Hagar, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hagar of 128 Avenue B, returned last week after 13 months in Vietnam, where he received a slight neck wound.

"My opinion is that they could get it over with faster," said Hagar. "I don't know what's behind everything but I think it could be fought a little better." The U. S. isn't lacking in leadership, he adds, as they have the best available.

A 1964 graduate of Hereford High School, Hagar joined the Marine Corps Sept. 23, 1965. He received eight weeks of boot training at San Diego, Calif., and six weeks of special training at Camp Pendleton, near Oceanside, Calif.

In July, 1966, Hagar was shipped overseas with the First Battalion, 26th Marines. The company was set up on a hill 12 miles from Da Nang as an SLF (Special Landing Force), with orders to float around searching for the enemy until someone made contact. Then they were called in to help if needed.

Specific duties of the company were to patrol and keep a certain section of land cleared. About two-thirds of Hagar's 13 months in Vietnam were spent in combat.

The Hereford Marine saw his first action near the DMZ (demilitarized zone) soon after arriving, but it was close to Da Nang that he was hit in the neck by a ricocheting piece of shrapnel.

The wound, explained Hagar, was so slight that "if I'd been much farther back it probably wouldn't have gotten in." The wound came during heavy fighting.

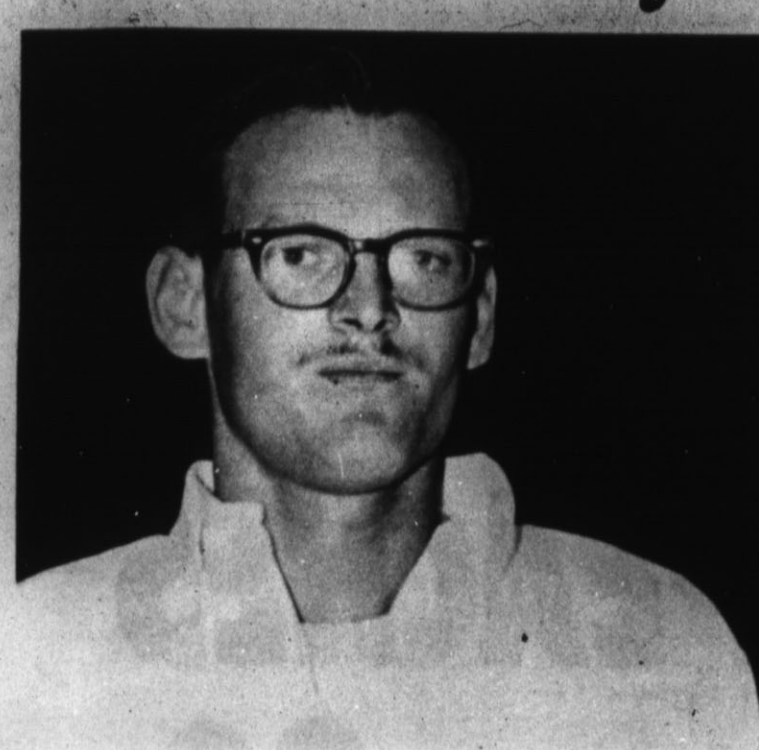

Hagar described the Viet Cong as "small, and pretty raggedly dressed." He adds that "they've all got fairly good weapons." Most of the weapons he saw were very old French weapons, Chinese Communists firearms, and a few Russian. "Of course, they've captured a lot of our equipment."

The Viet Cong, he continues, attack when they think they can overrun a position. There usually is a large company unless it's sniper fire. A Viet Cong company numbers about 150 men, while a Marine Corps company numbers 212.

"Most of the time they make contact and then back off if they're not winning," he explains. A favorite form of fighting is to wait in the tree lines for the GI's to cross an open field and snipe at them as they get in the open. "They're also real good at setting up ambushes in the jungle."

The most popular ambush used by the Viet Cong is the mantrap, which is a hole dug about three feet by four feet wide and four feet deep. In the bottom of the hole, which is heavily camouflaged, are stakes. Hagar said it was very seldom that a GI got hurt by one of the mantraps, though, because they were easily recognized by a stake sticking up in each corner and one in the middle.

Speaking of the difficulty in distinguishing the Viet Cong from the regular Vietnamese people, Hagar said "you can't do it unless you catch them with a rifle. It's hard to be suspicious of everyone, but it's best that you are. Just don't trust anyone."

The U. S., he explained, has civic action going with the Vietnamese people in an effort to win them over to our way of thinking. The GI's make every attempt to befriend the people too.

Hagar described Da Nang as a pretty city which still has a lot of the old French houses around it and modern business near the center. There are a number of bamboo and straw houses around the edges and a great part of the city is base area built up by the services.

China Beach, located at Da Nang, serves as an R and R (rest and recuperation) station, but Hagar spent his six days away from battle in Japan. Hagar feels like "We're doing well" in the war. I'd say we are winning. I wouldn't have any idea how long it'll take but I imagine it'll be a little while."

It also is his opinion that the American soldier is satisfied that the war is right. "Of course I only had contact with the one battalion most of the time, but the morale was real high."

"Nobody cares for them over there," he declared in talking of the demonstrations in this country against the war. But most of the soldiers are of the opinion that "those people wouldn't do any good over there and they don't want them."

Hagar has a little over a year left to serve in the Marine Corps. He will go back to Camp Pendleton following a leave here.

There is an outside chance he could return to Vietnam but six months must be spent in the states. He wouldn't hesitate about going back, however, but the Marines would have trouble taking him this week. He's gone fishing.

THEATER BOUGHT FOR TEARING DOWN?

NEW YORK — The ownership of two Broadway theaters has been switched in an intricate real estate swap.

Rockefeller-Time Inc. purchased both the Playhouse and the Alvin from separate titleholders, and then turned ownership of the Alvin over to the corporation which formerly possessed the Playhouse. Details of the multimillion dollar transactions were not disclosed, but the theatrical trade believes the switch was arranged as part of Rockefeller-Time negotiations to erect a sky-scraper complex on Property including the Playhouse site.

Pay Raise Helps Family Budget, Also Increases SS Protection

A substantial pay raise can bring a lot of pleasant thoughts to mind.

A family vacation at that really nice place you couldn't afford before.

A new car this year instead of next.

Extra money for some new fishing gear, new clothes and a new rug for the living room.

Later, other thoughts, setting aside more money for the children's college maybe even increasing the amount of a life insurance policy.

"What may not come to mind," Bruce Grady, Social Security field representative reminds Hereford residents is the fact that the pay increase will automatically bring additional protection for the worker and his family—social security life insurance protection, disability insurance protection, and retirement protection.

Like most things that are automatic, we give social security very little thought until circumstances change and we need it. "Besides," you say, "social security is a retirement program and I have 25 years to go before I retire. In the meantime there are two children to raise and probably put through college."

Your social security coverage gives you a sizeable amount of life insurance protection as well as retirement insurance, and the value of that protection usually goes up when your wages go up. The exact dollar amount depends on the level of your earnings, your age, your wife's age, and the age of your children.

If something should happen to you, your wife and children would receive monthly benefits until your youngest child reached age 18. Financial help would be available for you children if they decided to go on to college. Benefits are payable to children still in school until age 22.

The amount of the monthly benefit your family would receive is based on your average earnings over the years. Average monthly earnings of $400 a month benefits of $306 a month for a widow and two children.

Because benefits are based on earnings, a raise for you will mean an increase in the amount of life insurance protection you have for your family. Very simply, up to $6,600 a year, the present wage base under social security, any pay raise you receive will of over a period of time raise your average monthly earnings and increase your benefits.

When you and your family are young and really need insurance is at its highest. As the children get older the value of the life insurance protection decreases since benefits are payable for a shorter period of time.

A widow still under 60 years of age cannot collect benefits once her children reach 18 (unless she has in her care a child who became disabled before 18). Her survivors protection will begin again when she is older. Widow's benefits are payable at a reduced rate.

A pay raise may never bring to mind thoughts of increased life insurance protection under social security before thoughts of a new car. Thinking about a new car or a special vacation is more fun. But that's the nice thing about social security; you don't have to think about it—the survivor protection will be there if your family ever needs it.

SELECTION TOO BIG
BENTON Ky. —After a friend returned from his first trip to New York, John Lovett asked him what he thought about the Big Town.

The friend bubbled with enthusiasm over the shows, movies, museums and other attractions then added:

"I was so confused by all the things to do that I just went out and had my shoes half-soled."

SEATTLE — The Contemporary Theater, a local acting company, is taking Harold Pinter's "The Caretaker" to the Alaska Centennial Celebration at Fairbanks in September.

Three Alaskan groups are sponsoring the engagement as the sole professional drama exhibit of the festival.
