Manila election tally now underway

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — The National Assembly began the official tally of votes from last Friday's presidential election today, and President Ferdinand E. Marcos led Corazon Aquino with about 54.3 percent of the more than 3.9 million votes tabulated.

Meanwhile Mrs. Aquino joined 3,000 mourners at a combined political rally and Mass for a slain campaign official, and her aides said another campaign worker, the 19th this week, had been slain.

Aquino spokesman Rene Saguisag said Arsenio Cainglet, 43, a campaign coordinator in Mrs. Aquino's home province of Tarlac, was killed early today by four hooded men after he stepped out of his house.

He said Cainglet's son was missing. A statement from Mrs. Aquino's press office quoted "informants" as saying a body found later with the face mutilated by gunfire could be that of the son. Officers of the Philippine Constabulary in Manila and Tarlac said they knew nothing about the incident.

After a first round lasting 1½ hours in which all but one of the 14 tally sheets was found to be defective the National Assembly's vote count stood 2,151,078, or about 54.3 percent for Marcos and 1,809,490, or about 45.7 percent for Mrs. Aquino.

Marcos' vice presidential running mate, assemblyman Arturo Tolentino, led his rival, Salvador Laurel by 2,109,981 to 1,710,868.

The votes, when fully tallied, will come from 74 provinces, the capital of Manila and 60 other cities. The Aquino camp says Marcos probably will win National Assembly's official vote tally because of Marcos' two-thirds majority in the 190-member body.

Mrs. Aquino and other mourners jammed a church in suburban Manila for the Mass for Evelio Javier, who was chased and shot to death Tuesday by six masked gunmen in remote Antique province, where he had been Mrs. Aquino's campaign director. He also was a former government of the province.

The mourners applauded when Father Jose Blanco addressed Mrs. Aquino as "our new president of the Philippines."

Escapee returned to lockup

Lubbock County sheriff's officers and Texas Rangers — acting on information developed by local sheriff's investigators — eaptured escaped Scurry County prisoner Domingo Zapata Martinez Wednesday.

Martinez had been at large some 14 days after breaking out of the Scurry County Jail the night of Jan. 29.

The 31-year-old suspect was arrested at a southeast Lubbock residence shortly after 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Local officers traveled to Lubbock Wednesday night and returned Martinez to jail here around 9 p.m.

At the time of his escape, Martinez was being held pending transfer to the Texas Department of Corrections to serve a 35-year sentence on a conviction for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

He was convicted and sentenced by a local jury in 132nd District Court last Jan. 22.

On the evening of Jan. 29, local officers say he produced a knife and threatened a jail staffer, forcing him to unlock the doors leading to the office area of the jail building.

Martinez then escaped from the building by breaking through a window on the west end. The time of his escape has been placed at around 9:45 p.m.

Local law enforcement officers tracked a trail of blood leading from the jail before losing it near the intersection of 25th St. and Ave. E around 3 a.m.

Chief Deputy Andy Anderson said Thursday morning injuries were noted to Martinez' right hand and arm, chest and head.

Although no Scurry County officers were present for the arrest Wednesday, Anderson reported that Martinez offered no resistance.

The sheriff's office presented evidence regarding the escape to a Scurry County grand jury Feb. 3 and additional indictments for felony escape and aggravated robbery were returned against Martinez.

As of Thursday morning, local officers were planning to hold him here until he could be

Mothers march to fight birth defects

A "Mother's March" to benefit the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation is planned here during the weekend.

Co-chairmen for the event are Shann Pierce and Joyce McCoy.

Pierce said some 120 Snyder residents will be canvassing their individual neighborhoods Saturday and Sunday to solicit funds for the drive.

In addition, a business drive has been conducted this week in which letters were sent to Snyder businesses asking for their support.

For the weekend canvass, section leaders have been organized to recruit volunteer workers. These include Debra Hester, Pearl Wheeler, Shelia Smith, Sally Ramirez, Kathy Murdoch, Lisa Williams, Prissy Reed, Beverly Cobb and Brenda Botts.

In addition, class members of the Snyder Future Homemakers of American will be assisting as will the Phi Theta Kappa members at Western Texas College.

All monies will go toward birth defect research. Drive workers have also distributed literature at the high school outlining ways birth defects can be avoided.

Pierce noted that more than 250,000 babies are born in the U.S. each year with some type of birth defect.

She said they hope to raise $4,000 this year during the local drive.

Balloon release slated to dedicate bandstand

As part of Sesquicentennial events planned here during 1986, Scurry County Library personnel are now offering personalized balloons imprinted with "Celebrate Snyder, Texas."

Plans are to release these balloons along with self-addressed, stamped cards identifying their "owner" at dedication ceremonies planned March 2 for the newly built courthouse bandstand.

The bandstand has been a project of the Scurry County Sesquicentennial Committee.

Janice Mitchell, county librarian, notes there are 1,000 balloons. These may be reserved for 25 cents per balloon, a cost to defray expenses only.

On March 2, Texas Independence Day, the balloons will be distributed and filled with helium. They will then be released during the dedication ceremony on the courthouse square.

"The cards will ask anyone finding the balloons to mail them back to us noting how far they traveled," Mitchell said.

She encouraged anyone interested in reserving a balloon to do so now by contacting her at the library. The number is 573-5572.

Hermleigh break-in prompts trio's arrest

The weekend burglary of Richard's Grocery and Chevron at Hermleigh has prompted the arrest of three out-of-state men taken into custody in far northeast Texas.

Scurry County Sheriff's Deputies returned to Snyder Wednesday from Daingerfield in Morris County, where the three suspects were arrested.

Steven Michael Moore, Tracy Dean Frar, and William Curtis Elarton — all of the Billings, Montana area — are charged with entering the store sometime between 2 a.m. and 8 a.m. last Saturday morning.

The trio — 22, 18 and 17 years of age respectively — were arrested by police in Daingerfield around 8 p.m. Sunday evening.

According to investigators, the three were pulled over on a routine traffic stop when Daingerfield police noted a number of items in their car matching descriptions of stolen property broadcast by local investigators.

Items taken in the burglary and recovered included a large quantity of miscellaneous merchandise ranging from watches to shaving cream.

Crime group gathers here

Some 20 area law enforcement officers were in Snyder Thursday morning for a meeting of the West Central Texas Crime Prevention Association.

Host for the day-long event was the Scurry County Crime Prevention Office, sponsored through the sheriff's department.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "If you're not the lead dog, the scenery never changes."

While all the parents in the northeast are up in arms about the Garbage Pail Kids bubble gum cards, they ought to get upset about some other things.

We did a slow burn last week when we read about a single father whose solution to the problem was "sue somebody."

It seems to be the American way. If you haven't filed suit lately then you're certainly not in vogue. Meanwhile, liability insurance costs, when available, is going to dry up small businesses. And when business dries up, so do the jobs.

The suit we mentioned about the single father has been filed against J.C. Penney. The store had a policy that prohibited fathers from girls' dressing rooms.

The father was prohibited from helping his five-year-old daughter try on clothes. He charged sex descrimination, claiming that mothers are allowed in the boys' dressing rooms.

Despite the fact that J. C. Penney offered an alternate room to try on the clothes, the father has filed suit for a half million. Oh brother!

Sometimes parents can be a lot more foolish than the kids. There is a movement underway among some child-rearing experts to regulate which starring figures from TV shows can be purchased in stores, Critics say such toys exploit the siblings. One do-gooder calls it "unconscionable."

It's hard to get upset about GI Joe when we remember Mouseketeer hats, Alice in Wonderland tea sets, Howdy Doody puppets, Mr. Wizard science sets, Coonskin caps and Mickey Mouse watches.

Surely we can find some more weighty issues over which to work up a lather.

There's been debate on the acceptable spelling of Moammar Kaddafi. Some other suggestions are:

Ask Us

Q. — What is the status of the action by TSTA to stop the teacher competency test?

A. — A hearing has been scheduled Feb. 21 in the 250th Judicial District Court in Travis County, Judge Harley Clark presiding. The motion, filed by TSTA and the National Education Association, asks for an injunction against the testing of all currently employed Texas teachers and administrators. The legal argument is that teaching certificates issued such teachers were represented as "valid for life, unless canceled by lawful authority."

In Brief

Oil prices fall

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil companies are rushing to cut the amount they'll pay for crude oil as petroleum prices slide on the world market, and the decline even caused Atlantic Richfield Co. to cut back its 1986 capital spending.

Following the lead of competitors, Union Oil Co. of California, Conoco Inc., Shell Oil Co. and Standard Oil Co. of Ohio announced Wednesday they had lowered their postings, the contract prices paid to suppliers of crude oil.

Unocal cut postings by $1-$1.50 a barrel effective Tuesday for various grades of U.S. crude; Conoco lowered postings $1-$1.50 effective Monday; Shell lowered postings $1.25-$1.50 effective Wednesday; and Sohio lowered postings $1.50-$2.50 effective last Saturday.

The posting prices of most U.S. blends are now in the range of $19 to $23 a barrel, compared with $27-$29 at the beginning of this year. Retail gasoline prices have dropped by more than 3 cents a gallon this year.

Bombs found

GARLAND, Texas (AP) — A four-lane divided thoroughfare was closed off about three hours after a Garland officer found at least three pipe bombs inside a car that had been stopped for speeding, authorities said.

At 7:41 p.m. Wednesday night, a Garland patrolman stopped a 16-year-old motorist for speeding and noticed burns on the driver's face and hands, said J.D Bettes, Garland police spokesman.

Report cites nuke plant with flaws

HOUSTON (AP) — Flaws discovered during a federal inspection at the South Texas Nuclear Project could put the $5.5 billion plant near Bay City behind schedule, a Nuclear Regulatory Commission official said.

But Graham Painter, spokesman for Houston Lighting & Power Co., the managing partner in the project, said correcting the problems won't delay the projected loading of nuclear fuel in June 1987 or the start of commercial power generation in December 1987.

James M. Taylor, director of NRC's office of inspection and enforcement, wrote to HL&P saying the agency is concerned with the timeliness of some of HL&P's planned corrective actions.

The NRC noted HL&P already had acted to correct some of the problems found among hardware and design control.

The problems stemmed mainly from weaknesses in the plant's construction program, according to an NRC inspection report released Tuesday by HL&P, the managing partner in the project.

Painter said the company hasn't been told whether any punitive action, which could range from an order to fix the problems to a fine, will be taken.

Among the problems cited in the inspection report was one involving the design control of motor-operated valves. Another concerned poorly designed circuit breakers that could have faulted or inadvertently interrupted power circuits.

Other problems included hardware defects in 10 of 12 kinds of mechanical equipment, numerous flaws in installation of instruments and too-tight installation of more than 60 percent of 68 high-strength bolts used for structural steel sliding connections.

NRC inspectors, however, said elecrtrical work, reinforced concrete construction, welding and structural steel installation at the project were generally adequate.

Admits shooting at karate school

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A man testified that after a 2-day survivalist stay at a wilderness park he drove into Fort Worth and sprayed out the front windows of a karate studio, but didn't intend to hurt anyone.

It was four days later, Barry Wayne Shaw testified Wednesday, after his arrest for shooting up a school building, that he learned anyone had been hit at the karate studio.

Shaw, 22, is on trial for murder in the Sept. 24, 1984 shooting death of Jimmy Glen Wilson, 30, of Dallas at a karate studio owned by Rudy Smedley. Shaw also is accused of wounding Smedley, 30, a karate instructor.

"... what I meant to do, was shoot the front glass at the studio," Shaw testified under cross-examination by prosecutor Bob Gill.

Shaw said he saw no one inside the studio and no cars outside in the parking lot at the time of the karate studio shooting.

"I can hit what I aim at," he said.

Smedley, however, told the court that a person standing in front of the studio, which was lit the night of the shooting, could have seen Wilson standing in the studio equipment room doorway.

Shaw said he was "disappointed" in Smedley, who had told police Shaw was trying to sell what might be stolen fishing equipment.

"I looked in and said, 'Fine, I can shoot all the windows up, and they're going to know it's me, but they're going to know to back off,'" Shaw said.

The former high school ROTC cadet and U.S. Army soldier described himself as a survivalist.

Taxes report issued

AUSTIN (AP) — Low taxes tend to spark economic growth in states, while high taxes generally slow it down, a new study concludes.

"High-growth states have had dramatically lower income and property taxes than low-growth states," said Melvin Greenhut, a Texas A&M University economics professor and author of the study.

Greenhut said income taxes destroy incentives for people to work harder and save money, thus reducing investment and a state's productive capacity.

The results of his study were released Wednesday by the privately funded Center for Education and Research in Free Enterprise.

The study comes at a time when some Texas politicians have said the state may need to enact a corporate or individual income tax to offset losses in tax revenue from oil and gas. Texas never has had an income tax.

Greenhut said his study shows that when state governments find it necessary to raise revenue, the best results generally come from taxes on consumption.

Such taxes "do not carry incentive-destroying effects on production," he said.

Besides raising more money for the state, sales and luxury taxes also encourage savings as a way of avoiding additional taxes, Greenhut said.

"Savings, in turn, permit more investment to occur," he said. "Simply put, sales taxes do not appear to have the same debilitating effect on growth that income and property taxes have."

In the long term, higher income taxes produce lower tax receipts for government than could otherwise be obtained, Greenhut said.

Your Birthday

Feb. 14, 1986

Your possibilities for major achievements in the year ahead are better than they have been for the past several years. It's up to you to make hay while the sun shines.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your possibilities for success are strong today, but self-doubts could dull the edge of what you have going for you. Think positive. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Make your needs known to others today in a gentle, roundabout manner. You won't receive their help if you demand they do this or that for you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Commercial transactions must be analyzed carefully if you hope to come out on the plus side of the ledger. Your deal may only be good up to a point.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Most of your personal relationships should prove pleasant for you today. But you might have to contend with someone extremely difficult.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You'll be conscientious today about attending to your responsibilities and duties, yet you may still sweep something distasteful under the rug.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Someone who does not get along well with your other friends shouldn't be included in your social arrangements today. His presence could spoil a fun event.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Keep your real objective in focus today, and don't let any emotional side issues get you off track. A big achievement is possible if you're not derailed.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) As long as everything goes your way today, you'll be delightful person to be around. Try not to become Mr. Hyde if it doesn't.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Joint ventures will work out well today, provided neither you nor the other party involved behave selfishly. Each must show a willingness to give.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov.22) You have a faculty today for taking the mediocre ideas of others and transforming them into something far better. But give credit to the originator.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) People in the position to do so will be as helpful as possible to you today, but they still might not be able to lift one of your major burdens.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today if friends start bad-mouthing another pal who isn't present, don't put in your 2-cents worth. When word gets back, it'll be your remarks that are remembered.

Dear Abby

Mom Worries Gun Won't Defend Kids Against Fear

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: We live in a nice middle-class area of Los Angeles. Our neighborhood would not be considered dangerous by anyone's definition.

Whenever our doorbell rings after nightfall, my husband gets his gun before going to answer it. The front door has a peephole so we can see who's at the door. We also have a dead-bolt securely locking the door so it can't be forced open.

I contend that with the peephole and dead-bolt, there is no reason for taking a gun to the door. If my husband feels uncomfortable opening the door to strangers, which is understandable, he should simply not open it.

What are your thoughts concerning this, Abby? I am especially concerned about the message this sends to our children who are 8, 6 and 3. I want them to be cautious, but not to feel that this world is such a dangerous, threatening place.

OMIT NAME, PLEASE

DEAR OMIT: I agree with you. But I am less concerned about the "message" this sends to your children than I am about their physical safety with a gun in the house. All guns should be locked in a cupboard or drawer where children cannot get to them. As an added safety measure, a gun in the house should never be loaded. And the bullets should be kept in a separate place.

If I were to tell you how many children had found a gun in the house, "played" with it, then accidentally killed themselves or a playmate, it would spoil your day.

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in rebuttal to "Former Churchgoer." She complained because her minister ignored the "No Visitors" sign on her hospital door, walked in and stayed until she was in so much pain she asked him to please leave.

You said it was inexcusable to ignore a "No Visitors" sign on a closed door of a hospital room.

I feel that the minister had the right to ignore the sign and go in. He was doing his priestly duty by visiting his sick parishioner and administering Holy Eucharist, hearing confession and administering Extreme Unction if the patient desired it.

A clergyman, be he priest, rabbi or minister, is duty-bound to visit, comfort and counsel the sick in his flock.

MASSACHUSETTS READER

DEAR READER: I agree, it is the duty of a spiritual leader to visit the sick, but only if the patient wants to be visited. The one right that supersedes all others is the right to be left alone.

DEAR READERS: Tomorrow is St. Valentine's Day, so be a sweetheart and call someone you love and say, "I love you." (Make two or three calls. Who says you can't love more than one person—in different ways, of course?)

Go through your closets and give all those clothes you've been saving until you lose 10 pounds to your favorite charity. Call someone who's lonely and say, "I'm thinking of you." Or better yet, say, "I'll be over tomorrow to take you to lunch ... or run some errands ... or give you a ride."

Visit a sick friend. Say a prayer. Donate some blood. Adopt a pet. Will your eyes, your kidneys and all your usable organs to someone who can use them after you're gone. Forgive an enemy. Hug your teen-ager. Write a fan letter. Listen to a bore. Pay your doctor. Tell your parents you think they're wonderful. Spay your dog. Neuter your cat. Quit smoking. Drive carefully. If you're walking, watch where you're going.

And don't wait until next year to be a sweetheart again. Love, ABBY

TECAT booklets handed out locally

A booklet entitled "Passing Standards" has been distributed to all Snyder Public School educators preparing to take the Texas Examination of Current Administrators and Teachers (TECAT) on March 10.

This booklet was prepared by the Texas Education Agency after the State Board of Education set performance standards for the TECAT in January, 1986. The booklet provides prospective TECAT examinees with a clarification of how their performances on that examination will be judged.

In addition to describing the nature of the examination, special attention is given to discussing the performance standards for the reading and writing sections. Because one part of the two-part writing section calls for examinees to produce an actual composition, particular attention will be given in this document to the standards that will be applied to each examinee's composition. Several writing samples are modeled and scored giving the examinee opportunity to understand the testing content, method of scoring and passing standards.

Individuals not employed by the Snyder Schools, who have secured a registration packet for participating in the open administrations after March 10, may secure their copy at the Administration Building.

Canada formally passed from French control into the British Empire on Feb. 10, 1763. The occasion was the signing of the Treaty of Paris. The treaty marked the end of the Seven Years' War, which had ended four years earlier with the capture of Quebec in 1759. The treaty stripped France of all of her possessions north of what later became the United States, except for the islands of St. Pierre-Miquelon, still under French control.

Job-creating coal

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The State of Illinois has developed a program of offering low interest loans to industrial users who build or adapt plants to burn Illinois coal, reports Energy User News.

Boosting local use of Illinois coal could generate an additional $2 billion in commerce within the state and create about 100,000 additional jobs, according to state officials.

Currently, more than 80 percent of the state's industrial users burn gas and oil produced elsewhere. Only about 15 percent of industrial boilers within the state burn Illinois coal now, and the state would like to raise this to 25 percent.

In mid-1985, the state Legislature committed $55 million in loans for the program over the next five years.

In 1884, Thomas Stevens climbed onto his high-wheeled bicycle in San Francisco and pedaled eastward on a 32-month journey of more than 13,500 miles, circumnavigating the planet.

Rubber bridge is like a sea journey. As you navigate your bridge ship through shoals and narrows, avoiding sand bars and reefs, you should keep in the back of your mind to stay away from icebergs. You certainly don't want to go down like the Titanic.

Today's South found himself in four hearts doubled. He ruffed the opening spade lead, and happy in the knowledge that four hearts doubled was going to make on all 3-1 heart divisions, smugly led a trump. East demonstrated the appropriateness of my father's old saying ("When both sides lead the same suit, one's crazy") as he picked up the remaining trumps. Since West had held on to all his spades, the resulting carnage was down seven, 2000 points, with the additional indignity of East's 100 honors heaped on poor South's head.

Declarer was indeed unlucky, but he should have sharply limited his losses. It was in fact quite conceivable that East would hold all four trumps. And so, after the opening ruff, South should play a diamond to dummy's ace, ruff another spade, play a club to dummy, and then ruff a third spade. Now trumps can be led in the hope that they are not 4-0. East wins the first trump but since he has no more spades to play, all the defenders will take are four heart tricks for down one.

While salt is an effective snow and ice removal aid, it should not be over-used. Salt is especially harmful to lawns and plantings, says True Temper, a maker of lawn and garden products.

4 men held after weapons seizure

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Four men were being held today in the Nueces County jail on firearms possession charges after their airplane, bound for Guatemala, was seized in South Texas, authorities said.

One of the men claimed to be an Eastern Airlines pilot.

Federal agents said they found two unregistered machine guns aboard the $1 million 1981 Cessna Conquest when they made the arrests at Brooks County Airport in Falfurrias early Wednesday.

A handwritten flight plan to Guatemala was also found on the plane, but the plan had not been filed with the Federal Aviation Administration, said A. D'Wayne Jernigan, head of the U.S. Customs Service office in McAllen.

Jernigan said the plane landed at the Brooks County Airport at about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday for refueling. The U.S. Border Patrol received a report of a suspicious plane and dispatched two agents to investigate, the Corpus Christi Caller-Times reported.

When agents checked the registration number with U.S. Customs officials, they found it was a bogus number.

The four men were arrested at 3 a.m. Wednesday after returning to the airport from a Falfurrias motel.

Those arrested were identified as Gerald J. Merchan, 45, of Miami; Douglas R. Carro, 31, of Palm Springs, Calif.; Juan Jose Morales-Andrade, 29, of Guatemala City; and Jorge Aristizabal-Archila, 28, of Bogota, Colombia.

Merchan and Carro were charged with possession of an automatic firearm and Morales and Aristizabal were charged with possession of machine guns.

All four were held without bond pending a detention hearing scheduled for this afternoon, said U.S. Magistrate Eduardo de Ases.

The plane was carrying two UZI 9mm submachine guns valued at $1,000 each; one Berreta 9mm pistol valued at $350; one Heckler & Koch 9mm pistol valued at $500; 588 rounds of 9mm ammunition valued at $128; seven clips valued at $40; and $14,481 in U.S. currency.

Jernigan said the firearms were found inside suitcases.

During a hearing before de Ases Wednesday, Merchan said he is employed as a commandant with Eastern Airlines and later said he is a pilot with the carrier.

Merchan also said he owns a South Lake Tahoe, Calif. hotel, two condominiums and three photo finish and video stores in Florida.

Carro said he owns a flight school in Thermal, Calif., while Morales said he is an unemployed pilot.

Aristizabal said he is unemployed. Morales and Aristizabal both said they were in the United States on tourist passports.

Electricity was the fastest growing sector of the Latin American economies in 1984, according to the Inter-American Development Bank. Electric power generation grew 8.3 percent for the year, compared to 4.8 percent for manufacturing, 4 percent for transportion, and 3.3 percent for agriculture.

Reasons for shoulder pain

DEAR DR. GOTT — What causes pain in my shoulder joint when I raise my arm to comb my hair? What sorts of treatment are effective?

DEAR READER — Shoulder pain from arm elevation can be caused by injury or inflammation of any of the tissues around or in the shoulder joint. These include muscles, tendons, ligaments, bone, cartilage, the joint envelope (bursa) or the joint itself (arthritis). Treatment depends on the specific cause.

For the average adult, the type of pain you mention would commonly be due to bursitis, tendinitis or arthritis. The inflammation is usually caused by repeated movement and can be helped by heat, ultrasonic treatment, pills by mouth or medicine by injection.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Our daughter was told she had epilepsy. The family doctor has her taking Tranxene, Tegretal tabs and Dilantin. She got a letter from a girlfriend saying that epilepsy could kill her or give her a heart attack. Our doctor said some kids outgrow it. Who is right? I need help in explaining it to her.

DEAR READER — Your doctor is right. I am constantly amazed by the callousness and inconsideration of some children. I cannot imagine why your daughter's friend would write such a cruel letter, especially since the opinions expressed were inaccurate.

Epilepsy is a relatively common disorder that is due to abnormal electrical activity in the brain. People with epilepsy are normal in all other ways. The condition is treatable. Often, young people will outgrow it.

I am sure your daughter's doctor would welcome a meeting so that your concerns and questions could be aired. For more information, contact the Epilepsy Foundation of America, 4351 Garden City Dr., Landover, MD 20785.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have been diagnosed as having fibroid tumors. Recently I became a mother for the first time, at the age of 39. The doctor has suggested a total hysterectomy, but I would like to have at least one more child. My job requires that I walk and be on my feet. Will this worsen the condition?

DEAR READER — Fibroids are benign common growths that form inside the uterus. They do not have to be removed unless they cause excessively heavy menstrual bleeding or other symptoms, such as discomfort. Exercise, physical activity, standing or walking will not make fibroids worse.

If you wish to have another child, go ahead. But let your obstetrician keep close watch on you during your pregnancy to make sure that no complications develop.

Texas prison board balking at early release of prisoners

AUSTIN (AP) — State prison board members have decided they are not ready to try a program that would allow 50 inmates to serve part of their sentences at home.

The Board of Corrections voted unanimously Wednesday to back away from the pre-parole release program that has drawn "personal concerns" from Gov. Mark White.

Board Chairman Alfred Hughes of Austin said the program could be "fraught with legal problems," including whether the Texas Department of Corrections could be held liable for the released inmates.

"If we send him home and he goes next door and commits a crime, what's our liability?" Hughes asked.

Lawmakers approved the pre-parole transfer program in 1983 as part of a package aimed at reducing prison crowding. The Board of Pardons and Paroles last year began sending some low-risk inmates to halfway houses as early as six months before their parole date.

The plan voted down Wednesday would allow as many as 50 inmates at a time to be released to their homes as early as six months before their parole date. The plan had received tentative approval in January.

Hughes said many inmates could benefit from a closely monitored transition to the free world.

"They could be learning a trade, interacting with the community while serving their debt to society," he said.

The board vote came after a brief discussion. Board member Tom McDade of Houston said the plan should be withdrawn, at least temporarily, because of "complications and legal problems."

Hughes said he had not discussed the program with the governor.

But Steve Stubbs, an analyst in the public protection unit of White's budget and planning division, said White "has some personal concerns about the program and he has communicated those to the Board of Corrections."

Teenager certified as adult in Christmas Eve slaying

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — A 16-year-old has been certified to stand trial as an adult in a Christmas Eve killing in which the victim was allegedly frightened from his home and stabbed in an alley.

Police claim Gilbert Grimaldo said he scared Andrew Davis, 34, out of his garage apartment by throwing bricks through several windows and then held him down while another man stabbed him to death.

"If there was a reason, they haven't told us," Assistant District Attorney Melissa Annis said Wednesday. "It was a senseless, pointless murder."

After reading a statement allegedy signed by Grimaldo and hearing two police officers testify, District Judge Bill Thomas ordered Grimaldo bound over for grand jury consideration of the murder charges.

The slight defendant was returned to Taylor County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond after the 45-minute hearing.

Also charged with murder in the case is Richardo Vinnie "Ricky" Hernandez, 22. He remained in county jail in lieu of $25,000 bond Wednesday.

Tar Heels recover to crush Clemson

by The Associated Press

If North Carolina Coach Dean Smith could have pointed the finger at one thing, it would have been defense and the reawakening of Brad Daugherty and Kenny Smith.

But he couldn't point the finger at anything. It was in a splint.

Smith, who injured his finger on an errant pass in the first half, saw his top-ranked Tar Heels come alive in the second half Wednesday night for a 79-64 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over Clemson. The Tar Heels led by only three at halftime after trailing by as many as seven points.

Smith said he wasn't sure whether the finger was broken. "I looked down at it and it was pointed a different way," he said.

In the only other game involving a ranked team, No. 12 Syracuse defeated Villanova 77-72.

Daugherty scored 13 of his 23 points in the first 10 minutes of the second half as the Tar Heels built a 59-45 lead with 10:21 left in boosting their record to 25-1 and 9-1 in the ACC. Smith scored all 16 of his points in the second half.

Clemson, which shot only 37 percent from the floor, fell to 14-10 and 2-8.

"Defense is the only thing that kept us in the game in the first half," Smith said.

Syracuse 77, Villanova 72

Point guard Dwayne Washington scored a career-high 33 points and had seven assists to pace Syracuse past Villanova in the Big East Conference. Wendell Alexis added 19 points as the Orangemen improved to 19-3 and 10-1 in the conference.

In the only other ACC game, Olden Polynice and Andrew Kennedy had 16 points each, and Virginia took the lead for good four minutes into the second half en route to a 69-53 victory over struggling Wake Forest.

In another Big East game, Bill Donovan scored a season-high 29 points, including an 18-foot jumper with five seconds left, as Providence edged Seton Hall 67-66.

In the Southeastern Conference, Joe Ward had 17 points as eight players scored in double figures in Georgia's 101-70 victory over Vanderbilt. Guards Andrew Moten and Vernon Maxwell scored 30 of Florida's 38 points in the second half as the Gators defeated Mississippi 66-57. Chuck Person hit four free throws in the waning minutes and scored 23 points to lead Auburn over Mississippi State 69-64. John Williams and Derrick Taylor paced Louisiana State over Tennessee 75-50 with 21 points each.

In the Big Eight, Brian Carr and Harvey Marshall scored 16 points each and Nebraska went on a 13-4 run to start the second half as the Cornhuskers defeated Oklahoma State 68-52.

David Robinson scored 19 points and set a Navy record with 25 rebounds to lead the Midshipmen to a 78-53 victory over Fairfield.

Western Texas tests NMJC in conference action tonight

HOBBS, N.M. -- After a week's layoff, Western Texas College gets back into conference basketball action tonight, taking on the Thunderbirds of New Mexico Junior College in a double header here.

The women are scheduled for a 6 o'clock start (MST) while the men play at 8.

Western's Dusters are 6-2 in conference play and 20-7 for the 1985-86 season. NMJC ladies are 15-10 overall, but struggling in conference play with a 1-5 record. The Dusters defeated the Thunderbirds 88-70 earlier this season.

The 'Birds are led offensively by Suzanne McKeen, who averages 13.9 points a game. Tammy Spangler averages 13.3 and Kelly Foster 12.7.

Western is paced by Brenda Welch, who averages 21.6 points and 8.9 rebounds, and Pam Cox, who averages 17.7 points, 5.3 assists and 4 rebounds.

In the men's game, Coach Phil Spradling's Westerners are looking to solidify their third place position in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference standings.

Western is 7-4 in WJCAC play while New Mexico is 5-4. Odessa College, which entertains NMMI this evening, is 6-4.

NMJC defeated the Westerners 83-81 in Snyder earlier this season. The Westerners are undefeated however, in conference play on the road this season.

New Mexico is led by Derrick Hill's 18.1 points and 9.1 rebounds. The 'Birds get 12.1 points from Eric Adams, 11.5 from Clark White and 9.5 from Shelby Reeves. Reeves averages 6.4 assists a game.

Sophomore James Dawn averages 18.9 points, 8.4 rebounds and 5.4 assists a game for Western Texas. Alvin Lee, a 6-1 freshman, averages 18.6 points and 4.3 assists, while 6-9 sophomore Cliff Langford is averaging 12.5 points and 8.6 rebounds.

Western's men are 16-8 overall while NMJC is 17-7.

The WTC-NMJC game is the only women's game scheduled tonight. New Mexico is scheduled to play Frank Phillips in Borger in a makeup game Friday, however.

In men's action, Howard (2-9) is at Midland (11-0) and NMMI (3-8) is at Odessa. NMJC men also play at Borger in a makeup game Friday.

SWC roundup...

Froggies repay A&M, 73-50

by The Associated Press

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs' basketball fans in Daniel Meyer Coliseum kept chanting "Onside Kick, Onside Kick."

They hadn't forgotten a 53-6 rout of their football team by the Texas Aggies last fall in which the winners tried an onside kick late in the game.

TCU's 73-50 mashing of the Aggies Wednesday night not only kept the Horned Frogs in a tie for the Southwest Conference basketball leadership, it gave both their football and basketball programs a measure of revenge.

A&M had beaten TCU 64-60 in College Station earlier in the year.

In other games Wednesday night, Texas beat Baylor 55-50, Arkansas upset Texas Tech 79-72 in overtime, and Houston nudged Rice 71-69.

TCU Coach Jim Killingsworth said it was the Frogs' biggest victory of the year.

"It has to be," he said. "It was our first sellout, and they had beaten us earlier. I thought we did a great defensive job."

Killingsworth said the strain of the season was starting to tell on him.

"I told my assistant coaches I'm too old to coach and too broke to quit," he said.

"We're still not in the driver's seat. SMU is just laying over there waiting for us. SMU Coach Dave Bliss has been poor mouthing himself all season, and they're just laying there in the woods waiting to crack us over the head."

SMU, 8-3 in the SWC, hosts TCU Saturday while the Aggies are at Texas.

Aggie Coach Shelby Metcalf said "We just didn't play well at all. We shot very poorly. TCU just packed in their zone and we couldn't hit."

Don Marbury, who had a game high 23 points for the Aggies, said A&M got the raw side of the officiating.

"The refs cheated us real bad," said Marbury. "It was a joke."

Metcalf said "We've got a rough road now with Teas in Austin."

Rice lost to Houston despite having the ball and a 68-67 lead with only three seconds to play.

Houston's Greg Anderson was whistled for a flagrant technical foul and ejected for throwing a punch at Rice's Richard Holmes. However, Holmes swung back, and officials called an identical penalty against him. The result was a pair of free throws for each team. Houston's Alvin Franklin made both of his, while Rice's Ivan Petitt made only one.

That tied the contest, 69-69, but more importantly gave Houston the ball out of bounds on the alternating possession rule. The Cougars' Ricky Jackson hit a long jumper at the buzzer to give Houston an improbable two-point victory.

Tigers wind up season in Pecos this weekend

Snyder's Tigers wind up the 1985-86 basketball season in Pecos Friday, hoping to finish the season on a solid note after Tuesday's disappointing loss.

Snyder fell to Andrews 51-50 in a highly controversial ending Tuesday.

The Tigers go into Friday's game with an 18-7 season record and are 9-4 in District 2-4A play. The Cats are in third place in the standings and will end the campaign there, despite the outcome of this weekend's contest in Pecos.

Pecos is 12-12 for 1985-86 and 6-7 in district play.

In other games, Fort Stockton (10-19, 3-10) is at league champion Lamesa (25-4, 13-0) while Sweetwater (6-7, 6-7) goes to runnerup Andrews (28-2, 11-2) and Lake View (10-18, 1-12) hosts Monahans (13-15, 3-10).

Men's cagers set for league finals

Haney's ripped Brooks 121-65 in the only men's league basketball game played Wednesday night.

The other two games were forfeits, with Hines taking a win over Sisson and the Brothers winning over Tri State.

Greg Gafford scored 32 points, Russell Gafford 28, Roy Grant 25 and Danny Brumley 24 for Haney's. Brooks got 27 from Tommy Trammel and 20 from John Murphy.

The league will hold its Top 4 Tournament this Saturday at Scurry County Coliseum. The public is invited.

Top-seeded Hines, 9-1, takes on 2-8 Brooks at 6 while second-seeded Patterson, 7-3, meets Haney's, also 7-3, at 7.

The losers will vie at 8 and the championship game will be held at 9.

Porter at 3rd

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Veteran catcher Darrell Porter, who recently signed a one-year contract with the Texas Rangers, will get a chance to play third base this spring, Rangers manager Bobby Valentine said.

Valentine said the Rangers have failed to find a left-handed hitting third baseman to back up Steve Buechele or to platoon with him.

SWC football signings...

Aggies grab state's top talent

by The Associated Press

Houston Yates bluechip linebacker Melvin Foster was still the top unclaimed prize today in the high school football recruitings wars in which the Cotton Bowl champion Texas Aggies sacked the most talent.

Foster, the most sought after player in Texas, was expected to decide on Friday whether to go to Oklahoma State or Oklahoma or stay at home and go to Baylor or perhaps longshot Texas.

The Aggies collected three bluechippers Wednesday, including a quarterback Coach Jackie Sherrill says reminds him of Joe Namath.

Baylor, Texas Christian and Arkansas weren't far behind A&M in the mad scramble for schoolboy stars.

The Aggies weren't perfect, losing bluechip running back Harvey Williams of Hempstead to Louisiana State.

Williams, who surpassed All-Pro Eric Dickerson in Class 3A career rushing, turned the Aggies down at the last minute.

Dickerson's alma mater, Southern Methodist, wasn't allowed to give away scholarships this year because of NCAA probation.

"We would have liked to have him but I'm not going to jump off a bridge are anything," said Sherrill. "We got some good players, one of the best recruiting classes I've ever had."

Sherrill landed the best pitch-and-catch combination in the state in quarterback Lance Pavlas of Tomball and wide receiver Percy Waddle of Columbus.

Both were members of the Dallas Times Herald's blue chip list of the top 15 players in the state.

Sherrill played on the same team with the All-Pro Namath at Alabama and said Pavlas has "quick hands and quick feet and reminds me of Namath."

The Aggies also got someone to snap the ball to Pavlas, center Mike Arthur, another bluechipper from Houston Spring Woods.

Pavlas was a Parade All-American and passed for 1,636 yards his senior year.

Waddle set a high school career record with 3,224 receiving yards. He caught 56 touchdown passes.

Sherrill said Waddle has yet to make 700 on the SAT exam but was confident he will so he can be eligible for next year.

"He has the tools, he's an intelligent kid," said Sherrill. "He's going to be a tremendous player."

Sherrill said the Aggies had to overcome negative recruiting by other schools, who were saying A&M will be investigated by the NCAA.

"Everybody tried to use it," Sherrill said. "We did have to explain what our position was."

Sherrill said "A&M is not being investigated. The NCAA has not been on this campus."

He said the school has asked the SWC and the NCAA to check into quarterback Kevin Murray's leasing of an automobile.

Sherrill said the Aggies' status as Cotton Bowl champs helped.

"It's a different thing when you can tell a recruit you were in Dallas for the Cotton Bowl, you were the best in the league," said Sherrill.

Texas Christian did well, landing bluechip lineman Mike Sullivan of New Braunfels among a large group of big linemen.

Baylor signed one of the top defensive backs in the state, bluechipper Mike Welch of Sweetwater, who intercepted three passes in his school's state title game.

The Bears also landed three excellent quarterbacks including Brad Goebel of Cuero, Lance Sardelich of Bay City, and Jay Mapps of Greenville. Goebel was the career passing record holder for Class 3A.

Baylor also signed Edmond wide receiver David Frost, a member of the AP Oklahoma Super Team.

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff said "We're pleased with the overall class. We are happy with the strength of our defensive signees and thrilled with our three outstanding quarterback prospects."

Houston signed Williams' teammate at Houston, quarterback Michael McDade and Coach Bill Yeoman said "He's the best quarterback prospect in the state."

The Texas Longhorns corralled Austin Westlake linebacker Duane Duncum, a member of the bluechip list and highly rated defensive back Gregory Eaglin of Houston Yates.

Arkansas sacked every top player in its state and raided Oklahoma for quarterback Quinn Grovey of Duncan, a member of the AP Super Team.

Texas Tech got a Texas "Super Team" running back in Charles Lott of Electra.

Oklahoma State landed highly sought running back Terance Miller of Lewisville and 14 other Texans; UCLA landed bluechippers tight end Charles Arbuckle of Willowridge and linebacker Brian Jones of Lubbock Dunbar.

Sherrill's staff given 'A' for recruiting job

An AP Sports Analysis
By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

Rating the Southwest Conference football talent recruiting war Wednesday was easy when you're looking for first and last places.

The Texas Aggies won the top spot easily although they lost super running back Harvey Williams of Hempstead to Louisiana State. The Aggies can pay Harvey back next year when they open with the Tigers in Baton Rouge.

Southern Methodist gets dead last by default. The NCAA said the Mustangs couldn't give away any scholarships this year because of numerous recruiting violations in the past. SMU gets 15 next year if it's good.

Here are my ratings on the 1986 schoolboy signing day in Texas:

TEXAS A&M - Coach Jackie Sherrill gets an A. Only Williams' escape east marred the day. Although the Aggies were the defending Cotton Bowl champions Sherrill still had to battle NCAA probation rumors. He did an admirable job of defending the Aggie cause. He said he was in 21 different cities in two and one-half days over one stretch. His hard work showed in getting the best passer, the best receiver and the best center in the state.

BAYLOR - Baylor Coach Grant Teaff gets an A-minus. He calls it "the best defensive class" he's recruited. He also got three of the best quarterbacks in the state and without a doubt one of the most exciting receivers in Greg Anderson of Odessa Permian.

TCU - Coach Jim Wacker gets a B plus. The Horned Frogs beefed up on both lines of scrimmage. Another amazing performance by Wacker considering the chaos the Horned Frogs went through last year and the impending action by the NCAA because of the TCU slush fund established before Wacker came aboard.

ARKANSAS - Coach Ken Hatfield gets a solid B. The Razorbacks sacked every important player in the state and raided Oklahoma for the top quarterback. Hatfield has the Arkansas players going to Arkansas again.

TEXAS TECH - Coach David McWilliams gets a C plus in his first try as a Red Raider recruiter. Tech did a good job in West Texas and signed their first Lubbock Estacado player in 13 years.

TEXAS - Coach Fred Akers gets a C minus. Bluechip linebacker Duane Duncum was the shining star of a so-so crop for the Longhorns, who are trying to overcome the upheaval of five fired assistant coaches.

HOUSTON - Coach Bill Yeoman gets a D. The Cougars got several good players but overall their crop is a big mystery. Quarterback Michael McDade of Hempstead has potential some three years from now which is about the best you can say for this group.

RICE - Coach Jerry Berndt gets a D minus. Now you know Jerry how tough it is to recruit on Old Main.

SMU - Coach Bobby Collins doesn't get a report card. But he does have an impressive looking walk-on crop.

Sports in summary

GENERAL

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) - The Olympics could welcome participation by professional hockey, soccer and tennis players and other pros under a prospective rule change, International Olympic Committee President Juan Antonio Samaranch said.

The charter change will be submitted for approval to the 91-nation IOC General Assembly's next meeting in October. If approved then, it would be in force for the 1988 Winter Olympic Games in Calgary, Alberta.

TENNIS

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) - Third-seeded Jimmy Connors knocked off Steve Denton 6-2, 6-4 in the first round of the $1.8 million Lipton International Players Championships tennis tournament.

Second-seed Mats Wilander, playing a first-round match, blasted Ramesh Krishnan of India 6-1, 6-3 in less than an hour.

Wimbledon Champion Boris Becker, the men's No. 4 seed in this two-week, Grand Slam-sized tournament, dispatched Pavel Slozil of Czechoslovakia 6-4, 6-4 in a second-round match.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) - Jaime Fillol, Cliff Richey, Eddie Dibbs, and Dick Stockton posted singles victories in the opening round of the Sarasota $40,000 Prudential-Bache Securities Grand Champions tennis tournament.

Fillol defeated Colin Dibley 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, Dibbs defeated Bob Lutz 1-6, 7-6, (7-5) 6-1, Richey defeated Roscoe Tanner 6-4 6-1, and Stockton beat Fred McMillan 6-1, 7-5.

GOLF

SUNSET BEACH, N.C. (AP) - Bill Buttner of Innsbruck, Fla., shot a second-round 70 at Marsh Harbor Golf Links to take a two-stroke lead in the Tournament Players Association Green Pines Open.

Buttner, at 1-under-par 139 going into the final round of the $120,000 tournament, leads Fred Wadsworth of Columbus, Ga., and Victor Regalado of Bonita, Calif., at 1-over and Jeb Stuart of Paris, Texas, and George MacDonald of Virginia Beach, Va., at 2-over.

AUTO RACING

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Harry Gant and newcomer Hurley Haywood will share the front row Friday in the opener of the 10th International Race of Champions series.

Gant drew the pole position Wednesday for the 100-mile race at Daytona International Speedway, while Haywood, who never has driven a high-banked oval track, pulled the outside spot on the front row.

Gant, a NASCAR stock car star and a veteran of Daytona's high banks, won the 1985 IROC series, while Haywood, a sports car endurance racing star, is making his IROC debut.

BASEBALL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Willie Mays' separation from baseball ended when he rejoined his former team, the San Francisco Giants, in a job which will start with spring training coaching.

The man who hit 660 home runs and batted .302 over a 22-year career was out of baseball altogether more than six years. In 1979, then-baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn ordered Mays to disassociate himself from the game because of the public relations work he agreed to do for an Atlantic City hotel-casino.

Peter Ueberroth, who succeeded Kuhn as baseball commissioner, declared last March that Mays and Mickey Mantle, both banished by Kuhn because of work in the gambling industry, could again work in baseball.

Jury sympathizes with teacher...

Kemp awarded $2.5 million

ATLANTA (AP) - Attorney General Michael Bowers says he will meet with the two University of Georgia defendants before deciding whether to appeal a federal court jury's $2.5 million award to former university English instructor Jan Kemp.

Bowers declined to comment on Wednesday's verdict in Kemp's suit against the university's Developmental Studies Director Leroy Ervin and Vice President for Academic Affairs Virginia Trotter.

A five-woman, one-man U.S. District Court jury ruled that Kemp's free speech rights were violated when she was demoted and dismissed after protesting preferential treatment for revenue-producing student athletes at Georgia.

The state has 30 days in which to file an appeal. Bowers said he planned to meet with Ervin and Trotter to discuss the five-week trial before making a decision.

Meanwhile, university President Fred C. Davison has asked Bowers' office to prepare a briefing on the issues arising in the trial and all the facts in the case.

In a statement, Davison said any personnel or program decisions stemming from the case will not be made until after he receives the attorney general's report.

Kemp charged in her suit that her demotion as English coordinator in Georgia's remedial program and her later dismissal as an instructor were in retaliation for her outspoken opposition to preferential treatment for athletes.

The jury returned its verdict shortly past noon, after 10½ hours of deliberation over three days.

The award included $79,680 in back pay, $200,000 in compensation for mental anguish, $1 for damage to Kemp's reputation, $1.5 million in punitive damages against Trotter and $800,000 in punitive damages against Ervin.

Kemp's suit also sought reinstatement to her job. U.S. District Judge Horace Ward gave attorneys 15 days to file a motion for reinstatement, as well as for legal fees.

Surprise at the size of the award was expressed by both sides. But while Kemp and her lawyers were jubilant, Trotter and Ervin appeared dejected.

"Personally, I think it's overwhelming," Kemp said. She said the award exceeded her "wildest dreams."

Trotter said she was "certainly surprised" by the verdict and award. Ervin added, "I was just disappointed."

According to testimony, the university's admission standards were lowered for revenue-producing athletes, some athletes were promoted from the remedial program even if they were not meeting grade requirements, some were offered individual instruction and some were given more than the usual four quarters to get through the remedial program.

Showdown this weekend...

'Sergy' eyeing 20-foot valut

NEW YORK (AP) - Predicting he will soon break the 20-foot barrier in the pole vault, world record-holder Serguei Bubka of the Soviet Union has promised to continue the seesaw battle with American Billy Olson for the indoor mark.

Bubka, Olson and another American, Joe Dial, all were entered in the event in Friday night's 79th Wanamaker Millrose Games at Madison Square Garden. Dial holds the third-best indoor jump.

Since Dec. 28, the indoor best has been topped seven times, and Bubka, Olson and Dial each have held the mark in just the past two weeks. Dial vaulted 19-3¾ on Feb. 1 at Columbia, Mo. Last Saturday, Bubka jumped 19-4¾ in Moscow, only to see that mark fall later in the day when Olson went 19-5½ in the Vitalis Olympic Invitational at East Rutherford, N.J.

The 22-year-old Bubka, who burst onto the scene as a 19-year-old by winning the World Championships at Helsinki, Finland, was introduced along with the other four members of the Soviet team at a news conference after arriving in the United States on Wednesday. Bubka holds the world record of 19-8¼ and also has the second-best vault of 19-6¼.

"It's very difficult to say how high (the record will go)," Bubka said through an interpreter. "But I think 6 meters, 30 centimeters (20 feet, 8 inches)."

Bubka joined the Soviet team's five-meet tour only after a change of his travel plans. He had originally been scheduled to compete in the Millrose, but last month the Light Athletic Federation said he would instead remain in the Soviet Union to prepare for the 27th Communist Party Congress Sports Festival on Feb. 25. It wasn't again announced that Bubka would make the trip until after Olson broke the indoor mark.

"The two facts are not connected," Eduard Gustchin, head of the Soviet delegation, said through an interpreter. "There are some other reasons which I wouldn't like to reveal to the press."

Gustchin, however, said there had been some thought of sending Bubka to the European Championships Feb. 22-23 in Madrid. None of the Soviets on the U.S. tour will attend the European Championships.

The other members of the Soviet team include Bubka's brother, Vasily, a pole vaulter with a best of 19-2½; Tamara Bykova, holder of the women's indoor high jump best at 6-8; Galina Chistyakova, who has the second-best women's indoor long jump of 23-9½, and former world high jump record-holder Rudolph Povarnitsin, who has a best of 7-10½. World high jump record-holder Igor Paklin of the Soviet Union will go to Madrid, passing up the U.S. tour. Paklin has jumped 7-10¾.

After the Millrose Games, the Soviet team will travel to meets in Chicago on Sunday, Los Angeles on Feb. 21, San Diego on Feb. 23 and the USA-Mobil Championships Feb. 28 in New York. All meets are part of the USA-Mobil Indoor Grand Prix.

Statue of Liberty...

Iacocca fired from commission post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee Iacocca, one of America's best-known businessmen, has been fired for only the second time in his life, and the man who did it says it was because Iacocca had a conflict-of-interest problem while heading a commission to restore the Statue of Liberty.

Iacocca is still chairman of Chrysler Corp., the company he rescued after being bounced as president of Ford Motor Co. in 1978. It's his unpaid job as chairman of the government's chief advisory committee on the Statue of Liberty restoration that he lost.

Secretary of Interior Donald P. Hodel said Wednesday he fired Iacocca because the budding author and television celebrity would not resign from the commission to concentrate on his more important, better-known and conflicting job as chief of the restoration project's fund-raising foundation.

"The secretary's statement was off the wall and in clear contradiction of the facts," Iacocca said in a statement issued in Detroit.

"I resent any inference on his part of conflict of interest. The truth is that the secretary is in conflict with his own charter. This is a grab for four years worth of contributions by the American people," Iacocca said.

Informed of the "grab" accusation, Hodel said: "It is truly incredible and suggests that perhaps Mr. Iacocca does not understand that it is the foundation of which he is chairman and chief executive officer that controls the money. ... It is obviously an agitated remark, or a remark intended to mislead others."

As head of the private Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation, Iacocca has raised $231 million for the restoration of the statue and immigrant landing grounds in New York harbor.

His dismissal from the advisory commission has no effect on Iacocca's position as head of the foundation, and Hodel told reporters at a news conference he hoped Iacocca would stay there.

Iacocca was replaced as commission chairman by Armen Avedisian, a 59-year-old retired construction executive from Hinsdale, Ill. Avedisian and former Interior Undersecretary Jake Simmons were the only two other people with dual membership and both have resigned from the foundation board.

Earlier, Hodel praised Iacocca several times, saying at one point: "I know it's going to get lost on the cutting-room floor, but the fact is Mr. Iacocca has done an extraordinary job bringing to fruition one of the largest, if not the largest, public volunteer efforts in the history of this country."

"I really hoped that Mr. Iacocca would see the concerns that I had ... and would gracefully say, 'I may not like what you're doing, but I understand and we'll go forward.'"

Japan to hold line on automobile exports

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's top trade official announced today that his country would extend for a sixth year quotas on auto shipments to the United States to prevent "torrential exports" that would increase demands for protectionist laws in the United States.

Japanese automakers opposed the decision but acknowledged that it probably was inevitable. U.S. automakers and the United Auto Workers applauded the decision.

Michio Watanabe, the international trade and industry minister, told a news conference that the ceiling on exports to the United States in the fiscal year beginning April 1 would be 2.3 million cars, the same as in the current fiscal year.

Watanabe said the recovery of the U.S. auto industry and the recent increase in the value of the Japanese yen against the dollar were factors against continuing the restraints. The appreciation of the yen makes Japanese exports more expensive in the United States.

"On the other hand, there is the question of Japan's huge trade surplus with the United States, which reached nearly $50 billion last year, and the wave of protectionism centering in the U.S. Congress," he said.

"We studied the effects of what would happen if we lifted the restraints and came to the conclusion that torrential exports would not be to our benefit," he said.

Commission shifts Challenger probe to Cape Canaveral

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla (AP) — A presidential commission arrived at the scene of the Challenger disaster today, shifting its investigation away from Washington for a first-hand look at shuttle rocket boosters and ground facilities used in launching the reusable spaceplanes.

The special plane carrying members of the panel, headed by former Secretary of State William P. Rogers, touched down on the 3-mile-long runway used by shuttles returning from their space missions.

Commission members have focused their investigation so far on the performance of safety seals on the shuttle's booster rockets.

At Kennedy Space Center, the group scheduled two days of closed-door meetings and inspections, including a visit to the building where Challenger wreckage is being pieced together in a search for clues to the Jan. 28 explosion which destroyed the spacecraft and killed its astronauts.

The first stop was space center headquarters, where commissioners were to meet with launch control officials, NASA spokesman Hugh Harris said.

Obituaries

Kenneth Smith

Services for Kenneth Smith, 61, of Snyder will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Bell-Cypert-Seale Chapel with Richard Williams of the Chilicothe Church of Christ officiating. Burial will follow in Snyder Cemetery under direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home.

He was born Jan. 27, 1925 in Scurry County. He was a stock farmer and married Hazel Allen Jan. 1, 1945 in Snyder. She died Dec. 11, 1969.

He is survived by a daughter, Teresa Lynn Smith of Snyder; one son, Sidney Lewis Smith of Lawton, Okla.; one granddaughter, Sherilynne Rochelle; one sister, Catherine Allen of Snyder.

Clairette Gray

STAMFORD–Services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Kinney Funeral Home for Clairette Loggins Gray, 85, who died Tuesday in Snyder.

Burial will be in the Highland Memorial Cemetery with the Rev. Bruce Lampert officiating.

A native of East Texas, she was the widow of Fred Farley Gray. The couple operated a grocery store in Stamford until his death in 1969. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include a grandson, Terry Gray of Snyder; and two great-grandchildren.

Advisory council report is released

Plans for a community garden for senior citizens were heard at a meeting of the Senior Center Advisory Council Wednesday.

The garden would be on a plot of land adjacent to Golden Terrace Village, the senior citizens housing project. The plot would be tilled and divided into parcels, with those participating to provide the seed and take care of that area.

The fifth annual Texas Joint Conference on Aging will be held in Odessa in April, Gloria Shaw, senior center director, reminded council members. Representatives from the center are making plans to attend on April 28 and 29.

The Senior Center will be sponsoring an Alaskan cruise in June, Mrs. Shaw said, and some spaces are still available for senior citizens who would like to join the group.

Mrs. Shaw read a letter from the Snyer Daily News expressing appreciation for the center's part in hosting a luncheon for Scurry County couples married 62 years or longer. The luncheon was held in the center Wednesday and was sponsored by the newspaper.

brought to trial for at least one of the additional indictments returned this month.

The robbery indictment was handed down in connection with the theft of a sheriff's department walkie-talkie allegedly taken by Martinez in his escape.

That radio has not been recovered. The sheriff's office is offering an unspecified reward for its return.

The missing radio is described as a General Electric four channel walkie-talkie measuring 2 ½ inches wide and 10 inches tall with an 8-inch rubber antenna.

Breathing club schedules meet

If you have a breathing problem you are invited to attend the Better Living, Better Breathing Club sponsored by the American Lung Association of Texas and Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The club will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 20, in the hospital conference room.

Carl Burleson, R.R.T., will be the speaker for the program and demonstrate proper breathing and coughing techniques.

For more information about the club contact Burleson at 573-6475 or the American Lung Association of Texas, 3520 Executive Center Drive, Suite G-100, Austin, Tex. 78731-1606 or call toll-free 1-800-252-LUNG.

Barrett arrives for Army duty

Army Pvt. Jeffrey B. Barrett, son of Nancy S. Bowlin and stepson of Gene E. Bowlin of Snyder, has arrived for duty with the 3rd Infantry Division, West Germany.

Barrett, a missile crew member, is a 1985 graduate of Snyder High School.

Space available for gym classes

Registration is continuing for gymnastics classes for beginners and intermediates being offered through the Continuing Education Department of Western Texas College.

Classes for beginners and intermediates meet on Saturdays in the WTC gymnastics room in the H-PE Building. Beginners meet from 9-10:30 a.m. and intermediates from 10:30-noon. Johnny Hickman is the instructor for both groups. Classes will meet through May 10 with the exception of the Easter weekend.

Fees are $40 per person. The classes are open to boys and girls over six years of age.

Parents wishing to enroll their children are to call 573-8511, ext. 240.

2 arrests noted

Snyder police logged two misdemeanor arrests Wednesday.

One man was jailed on warrants issued for failure to pay fines for disorderly conduct and public intoxication while the second was taken into custody for being intoxicated on a premises licensed to sell alcohol.

GOT A COMIC OPINION?

The Snyder Daily News is hoping to change its comics page to better reflect what its readers want.

To do this, we must first rate the comics we now offer. This we ask you to do by completing this comic survey.

We'd also like your opinion regarding the other features purchased by the SDN to entertain and inform its subscribers.

Finally, we'd like your suggestions regarding comics we currently don't offer. The syndicates we subscribe to have other comics available and one of these might be the one you'd like to see.

Readers completing this survey should return it to the Snyder Daily News; P.O. Box 949; Snyder, Tx., 79549. They can also be dropped off at the mail slot at the SDN office, 3600 College Ave.

We include a box for your name and address. You don't have to complete it for your ballot to count, but if you have comments and don't mind being identified, we'd like to quote you in a news story we'll write regarding the results.

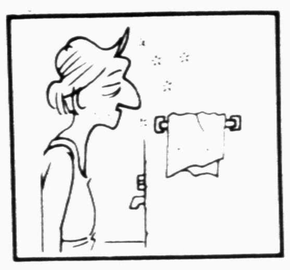

Please complete the following questions, and remember, only one response per comic.
