Two Men Hurt In Auto Crash

Dr. J. S. Musgrove And J. T. Sykes Seriously Injured As Car Strikes Train At Grade Crossing Near City

J. T. Sykes, 66, who lives six miles east of Lubbock, and Dr. J. S. Musgrove of Idalou, were injured at 9 o'clock Thursday night in a grade crossing accident at the Idalou crossing on the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, 10 miles east of Lubbock.

The automobile in which Sykes and Dr. Musgrove were riding allegedly ran into the side of an eastbound freight. Sykes, the most severely injured, suffered cuts and bruises and possibly a fractured skull, attendants at the West Texas hospital, where the men were brought for treatment, said. Dr. Musgrove suffered cuts and bruises about his head. The machine was badly damaged.

En Route To Home

Dr. Musgrove told hospital attendants he and Mr. Sykes were enroute to the Sykes home, where the doctor was attending a patient, when the accident occurred. Dr. Musgrove, who was driving, said he failed to see the freight train until he was only a short distance

Business Outlook Appears Brighter

Eager Buying Of Securities Reported In Wall Street; Cotton And Wheat Go Up

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. Swift progress in the national program to mobilize credit for a revitalization of business was accompanied by eager buying of securities in Wall street today.

The uprush in stocks was almost as swift as that of Tuesday, prominent issues closing with average advances of $5, or more. Bonds also attracted enthusiastic buying, particularly railroad issues.

The chief quickly spread to the commodity markets, and wheat and corn futures were quoted 2 cents higher in the Chicago pit. Despite a large increase in the government's monthly crop estimate, cotton finished the day with net gains of 40 to 50 cents a bale.

Among the day's constructive developments were:

1. Indications the $500,000,000 bank credit corporation would be completed late tomorrow.

2. An increase in the New York federal reserve bank's rediscount rate from 1 1-2 to 2 1-2 per cent, in an effort to make bank lending more profitable, and give banks a new stimulus to aid trade.

3. A drop of $171,000,000 in brokers loan for the stock trad-

Coronation Of Queen To Open Tech Aggie Rodeo In City As Two-Day Event Starts Today

Trail Driving Days Of Long Ago Re-Enacted

Virginia Wester Is To Reign At Annual Affair; Contests Open At 3 P. M. And Are To Continue Saturday

DAYS of the old cattle trails are being re-enacted in West Texas with the moving of 1,000 head of Hereford cattle, owned by Fred Snyder of Lubbock, from the AV ranch in Upton county to southern Cochran county.

The first herd, of 2,000 Herefords to be moved to better grass, left the AV ranch last Friday. It was about 30 miles north of Midland Thursday night, Mr. Snyder said. About another week's time will be required to get the herd to the new range, he said.

Mr. Snyder said the herd was divided to facilitate driving. The second group will be moved later. Since pauses of from four to five hours are made each day to allow the cattle to water, only about 10 to 15 miles are made each day. Eight cowboys, accompanied by a chuck wagon, are making the 150-mile drive.

The cattle movement is one of the most extensive to be made overland in several years. The herd is following a route which traverses grazing land most of the way, missing farming and fenced areas.

The cattle are being driven overland, rather than being sent by rail, as a means of economy and because of the indirect rail routes to Cochran county from Upton, Mr. Snyder said.

CORONATION of "La Reina del Rodeo," accompanied by fitting ceremony, will open the second annual Aggie rodeo Friday at 3 o'clock at the Texas Tech farm.

Miss Virginia Wester, horsewoman and one of the two freshman girls in the school of agriculture, was elected queen by 63 per cent of the votes cast in the election held Monday and Tuesday, and as a result will reign over the two-day program of events.

Parade Scheduled

Following the coronation there will be a mounted parade of contestants; next will be a steer riding contest, then the musical chair event, the calf roping, ladies' riding contest, and finally the bronc riding. Saturday's program begins at 1 o'clock with a parade through the downtown streets, and at 2:30 the rodeo will begin at the farm with a parade of college livestock. The next two events are mounted parade of contestants and steer roping, followed by mounted wrestling and calf roping. Bronc riding comes next, and the women's riding contest completes the program. Awarding of prizes will be immediately after the final event.

The women's riding contest is a new event for the rodeo; contestants are limited to the members of the college riding class recently begun. First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded Friday and Saturday afternoon a loving cup, given by Dr. J. G. Harbaugh and W. L. Stangel, will be awarded as a championship prize. Two other prizes will also be given then.

Rules Are Given

Judges of this contest will call for different gaits and styles of riding; the rider who carries out the orders most satisfactorily will be the winner. The following points

Gas Rate Cut To Be Sought By Ordinance

Resolution Passed By Lubbock City Commission Calling For Proposed Ordinance Cutting Rate To 55 Cents

Schedule Hearing

Gas And Pipe Line Officials Invited To Hearing Carded October 22; Protests To Be Heard At That Time

PASSING a resolution calling for a proposed ordinance prohibiting a charge of more than fifty-five cents per thousand cubic feet for natural gas, the City commission Thursday inaugurated a move for lower gas rates in Lubbock.

The resolution called for a hearing between the commission and officials of the West Texas Gas company, the South Plains Pipe Line company, the Prairie Oil and Gas company and all subsidiary concerns to be held at the City hall on Thursday, October 22, at two o'clock p. m.

Protest Expected

Gas officials are requested to be present at the hearing and protest the ordinance if they desire to do so.

The resolution and proposed ordinance is the result of the attendance of City Attorney E. L. Klett at a meeting of city officials in Fort Worth at which a concerted campaign for lower gas rates in Texas cities was started. Mr. Klett represented Lubbock in the meeting.

New Rate In Effect

The present rate charged for gas in Lubbock is sixty-seven and one-half cents for the first six thousand cubic feet and fifty-seven and one-half cents from 6,000 to 50,000 feet. This is a new rate which goes into effect after the readings of this month, a reduction having been made by the company on August 19. The old rate called for a charge of 67 1-2 cents per thousand feet for the first 50,000 feet.

The proposed ordinance is as follows:

Fear Of Young Yarberry Told

Damaging Evidence Presented Thursday In Slaying Trial As Actions Of Defendant In Case Are Revealed

(By The Associated Press)

SINTON, Oct. 8.—The state today offered a material part of its circumstantial evidence against Newton Yarberry, on trial as the accused slayer of Dorothy Dorcas Symons, whose body was found in a rude grave of seaweed and mud near the Aransas Pass breakwater Aug. 1.

Two witnesses, Deputy Sheriff Jess Barber and former City Marshall, Joe White of Aransas Pass, told of footprints in the sand along Aransas beach leading to, and around, the spot where the 18-year-old choir Singer's body was found after she had been missing two days.

Friends On Stand

Barker testified there were thorns in Yarberry's feet and they were shell cut.

Late in the day the state called two young friends of Yarberry, J. E. Jeffries and Paul Huff, both of Aransas Pass.

Jeffries testified he saw Yarberry the day Miss Symons' body was recovered and the defenadnt looked unusual.

"I asked him 'what's the matter, Newton?" He said 'you'd be sur-

Lubbock Loyalty Council Formed By Citizens Here

Pep Squad And Band Will Lead The Way As Slaton Moves Upon Lubbock

(Special To Morning Avalanche)

SLATON, Oct. 8.—Slaton is moving to Lubbock Friday night, almost lock, stock and barrel!

A broad statement, but true. Tonight hundreds of Slaton high school Tiger fans swarmed about the city square in an enthusiastic pep rally which was led by the local high school band and pep squad. And when the starting whistle blows at Tech field Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, sending the Tigers tearing at the highly flaunted Lubbock Westerners, the stands will ring with the battle cry and wave with the purple and white of those Tigers.

Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock the local pep squad and band will parade through the streets of Lubbock; more than 75 rooters, gaily dressed in school colors, and a band playing wildly to inform the Westerners and their cohorts that Slaton "is here until the final whistle."

Business Men Pledge Efforts To Uphold All Institutions

"BE LOYAL to Lubbock and its institutions! United effort, courage and far-sightedness have built this city—let united effort, courage and far-sightedness maintain and sustain it."

With that as their slogan and with the good of the community at heart, a committee of 12 of the city's leading business and professional men, appointed by the chamber of commerce and board of city development, is engaged in forming what is to be known as the Lubbock Loyalty Council—an organization to carry on and protect Lubbock traditions through the stressing times incidental to the world-wide economic depression.

Has Good Membership

Headed by J. O. Jones, pioneer citizen, as chairman, the committee was appointed on Tuesday and immediately set to work to form the organization which was augmented by 17 other citizens in a larger meeting at Hotel Hilton late Thursday. The loyalty council started with the 12 committeemen, has 29 members now and will be added to by the enlistment of other citizens within the next several days.

"Back in the days when business was booming and Lubbock, together with the rest of West Texas was forging ahead in sensational manner, local citizens worked together to push our growth and development," Chairman Jones said last night in announcing the organization. "Now that world-wide unrest has caused destructive forces to set to work in this community—as it has in every community in the country—we are relying on that same co-operation to uphold the institutions this citizenship has builded."

Get Together To Serve

"By the term 'destructive forces' the council largely means doubt, fear and lack of confidence in the future caused mainly by idle gossip and false rumor, and by organizing the citizenship we hope to aid in the march back to normalcy. Conditions are no worse in Lubbock than they are anywhere else—in fact, we have only to observe conditions in other places to real-

Traders Buying With Bad News

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8. (AP)—Cotton traders appeared to have paraphrased an old stock market adage today when they "bought on the bad news," and pushed values up in the face of a bearish government crop estimate. The set-back was only temporary, however, and uncovered large scale investment buying, and covering by shorts which pushed prices more than $2 a bale from the lows. December contracts, which had dropped to 5.45 climbed to 5.88.

Second Largest Crop In History

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—The south, already bewildered by five cent cotton and unmarketable surpluses, is harvesting the second largest crop in history.

Excellent growing conditions last month increased the government's monthly forecast today to 16,284,000 bales—only 1,693,000 below the 1926 record production. As a result the probable surplus a year hence may reach 12,000,000 bales.

Life Of Great Inventor Fast Slipping Away

Only Rugged, Resistant Heart Keeps Edison Alive; Doctor Declares Unusual Condition Holds Life's Thread

(By The Associated Press)

WEST ORANGE N. J., Oct. 8.—Only a rugged, resistant heart kept Thomas Alva Edison alive today.

Dr. Hubert S. Howe, his physician, said the 84-year-old inventor slowly was sinking into a coma. However, he was not beyond a stage which the physician has characterized as an almost continuous light sleep.

Unusual Individual

"In ordinary individuals," Dr. Howe said, "it would be possible for me to predict how much time would elapse before the comatose condition asserted itself. But we are dealing with an unusual individual—a man with a super-heart. Outwardly it seems his condition is no weaker than it has been, but we know, of course, that actually he is weaker."

Rallied about Edison are the immediate members of his family, who clung to hope he might recover. They are his wife, his daughters and sons, Charles, Theodore and Thomas A. Jr.

Odds Against Him

Weakened by an attack of pneumonia two years ago and complications which arose from uremic poisoning last August, Mr. Edison has the odds against him, Dr. Howe said.

Henry Ford is expected to visit his old friend tomorrow.

Harvey Firestone, the third member of the Edison-Ford-Firestone triumvirate of a long friendship, already has paid a visit, perhaps his last, to the inventor.

The bombs, he said, were directed chiefly at the university building, in which the Manchurian government temporarily is housed.

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 8. (AP)—The Bracken murder trial tonight had moved nearer the point where Frank Bracken will be called to the stand to answer to a charge of slaying William E. Johns, Gainesville motorcycle officer.

Murray Issues His Decisions Late Thursday

Rich Pools In Oklahoma City And Greater Seminole Areas Again Are To Flow After A Lengthy Shutdown

Conference Held

Price Of $1 Per Barrel Not A Factor In Opening Declares Chief Executive; Proration Will Be Demanded

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 8.—Governor William H. Murray announced tonight he would open Oklahoma's flush oil fields Saturday morning at 7 o'clock.

The announcement was made after a conference with operators representing the Oklahoma City and greater Seminole areas, curbed under military orders since August 5.

Continue Under Rule

A formal order will be issued tomorrow morning, the governor said. The fields will continue under military rule and wells will be prorated to meet market demand. Price was not a factor in lifting the shutdown, the governor said. Murray was held out for $1 a barrel as the price for reopening the oil fields.

Lieutenant Colonel Cicero I. Murray, the governor's cousin, in charge of the shutdown, said that allowables and nominations by pipelines would have to be worked out in detail and that Saturday would the earliest possible reopening date.

Production Lowered

Production in all Oklahoma oil fields before the military shutdown was approximately 550,000 barrels daily. During the shutdown the daily production has been approximately 265,000 barrels for the state, with the Oklahoma City field virtually closed down and the Seminole field producing about half the amount of oil as before.

Under the allowables fixed recently for the period October 1-15, the production, with lifting of the ban, was to be about 200,000 barrels daily for the Oklahoma City field. It was estimated that the production of the Seminole field would be about 130,000 barrels daily.

Total Is 446,000

Under the oil states' compact, which Oklahoma producers recently agreed to abide by, the total production for Oklahoma is not to exceed 446,000 barrels daily.

When Governor Murray issued his shutdown edict August 5, he announced he would not allow the fields to reopen production until the price of crude oil reached $1 a barrell. The price then hovering around 30 cents, subsequently rose to its present height of nearly 70 cents.

As it gave no sign of rising higher, oil men began to importune the Property owners in the city of Lubbock will pay 1931 taxes on a valuation of $24,873,944, according to the rolls approved by the City commission in regular session Thursday. The figure represents approximately $500,000 increase over the 1930 tax valuations.

Of the total, real estate is valued at $20,501,988 while personal property is assessed at $4,371,946.

City taxes for 1931 will amount to $236,302.87 under the above valuation, R. A. Holland, city tax assessor and collector, reported to the commission.

Other than passing the gas ordinance resolution, approving the requirement of a police permit for street speaking and gatherings, the commission voted the paving of Avenue S from Thirteenth to Fourteenth streets and approved warrants and bills.

"Ah! Ours Is A Perfect Marriage," Evangelist Sighs When Reporters Question Her; "I Knew I Had Someone To Love"

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton swept lovingly out of the Grand Central station today letting the world know she is happy in thrice perfect marriage.

Behind her beamed David L. Hutton, the groom. They were on their way to the Newark airport to catch an airplane for Boston, which they did, notwithstanding 60 newspaper reporters, 25 cameramen and the morning commuter crush.

The bride said it was song that won her. She heard Hutton sing the first time four months ago.

"He was singing 'Nay, I will Not Let You Go!' " she said, "and as I listened I felt myself blush to the roots of my hair. He was singing directly to me. I knew then that I had someone to love."

Bright "Cracks" Of Dummy Win Police Chief's Favor; As A Result, Oscar And His Buddies Are Free Once More

SOMEWHERE — outside of Lubbock—there is a ventriloquist's dummy this morning who believed he talked his boss and his boss' buddy out of the city jail.

Two men, who entertained the crowds at the Panhandle-South Plains fair last week with several acts, including ventriloquism, were arrested Wednesday by Chief of Police John Lemond's "troops" for allegedly selling "five-and-ten" rings on the streets without a permit. The men were locked up and booked for investigation. Oscar, the dummy, was along but he was left outside. Wednesday afternoon, Oscar entertained visitors to the chief's office by impersonating the commander of the local police. He was speechless, however, because his boss was behind the bars.

Yesterday, Oscar's boss was brought out for quizzing. The red-headed dummy joined in the

Dallas Man Is Hurt In Jail

Reputedly Wealthy Prisoner Runs At Barred Door Head First; Now Being Closely Guarded In Hospital

DALLAS, Oct. 8. (AP) — William Davis, 59, reputedly wealthy Dallas property owner, held in the county jail here on charges of assault to murder for the wounding of two Dallas business men Monday, was seriously injured in his cell today when he repeatedly butted his head against the barred door, according to Jack Gorman.

The jailer was forced to bind Davis after the prisoner had deeply cut his scalp by lunging against the bars. He was closely guarded in the hospital ward to prevent further injury.

Prisoners in the cell said Davis paced the floor during the morning, muttering to himself. They paid little attention to his actions until he suddenly ran at the cell door, head forward. He made three lunges before being subdued.

Davis was charged with shooting Arthur Wolfe, 38, and Charles Stephan, 40, at their office. Stephan's condition was critical. Wolfe was shot in the neck.

The shooting assertedly was precipitated by a tentative real estate transaction involving property owned by Davis and from which he expected to realize about $100,000. After the shooting he told officers he was being defrauded, but failed to disclose the details of the allegedly unsatisfactory deal.

Wichita County Welder Is Being Held In Bank Theft

ARCHER CITY, Oct. 8. (AP)—Tex McClellan, welder, was under arrest here today on a charge of being an accessory in connection with robbery of the First State bank at Dundee.

District Attorney O. M. Wylie alleged McClellan aided in opening the safe with an acetylene torch after it had been taken from the bank vault and moved some 20 miles from Dundee in a truck.

Three other suspects have been arrested on charges of participating in the robbery. McClellan, a resident of Wichita county, said he would waive examining trial.

A Man Can't Even Commit Suicide Now Without Demands For Alimony

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—There's no telling what might have happened to Anton Kollman, 23, if it hadn't been for alimony.

"I love my wife and can't stand living any longer without her," he wrote in a note he left at the home of his cousin, Harry Hesotian. "I'm going to end it all tonight at the church where we were married."

Shortly after nightfall he walked up the steps of the church. At the door two men seized him. One extracted a bottle of poison from Kollman's coat. They identified themselves as deputy sheriffs.

"Who sent you here?" demanded Anton.

"Your wife," he was told. "She wants to see you."

Gladly Kollman accompanied the officers to a police station cell.

"Say, when do I get to see my wife?" he asked.

"In the morning," one of the officers replied. "She and Judge Thomas Lynch want to know why you're behind in your temporary alimony payments.

Constant Vigilance Each Day In The Year Urged In Prevention Of Fires

If fire waste is prevented, constant vigilance is necessary through the other 51 weeks of each year in addition to National Fire Week observance under way here now, Guy L. McAfee, chairman of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce fire prevention committee, said.

Speakers this week have addressed public school pupils, service club members, and other assemblies to emphasize the importance of caution against fire. Mayor J. J. Clements spoke before the Kiwanis club at luncheon Thursday.

Seasonal fire hazards, such as burning of leaves in the fall, use of candles on Christmas trees, and other practices were mentioned.

Chairman McAfee laid stress on the necessity of citizens cooperating with Fire Chief W. E. Twitty, Fire Marshal Wiley Metcalfe, and fire prevention committeemen.

The city's recently enacted building code, which includes additional measures against fire hazards, either is not understood or is ignored by some Lubbock citizens, authorities indicated.

Commenting on work in connection with the building code, Fire Chief Twitty said some property owners "don't want to be protected," judging from their actions when cooperation is sought.

Motor car tops, trees and houses were somewhat damaged by hail at Purcell. Other localities in the south central part of the state had good rains.

Night rains were reported from northeastern Oklahoma and the northwestern section had high north winds and cloudy skies. The sun was shining at Lawton, in the southwest.

The rainfall at Oklahoma City broke a record drouth. In the five months ending September 30, slightly more than 5 inches of rain was recorded, the lowest in 41 years.

Relief Measures May Be Demanded

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 8. (AP)—Exhorted by speakers to take up the "big stick" and "compel" congress to relieve unemployment under threat of political reprisal, the American Federation of Labor convention went to work today on controversial issues.

Salient in the grist of resolutions up for discussion was one introduced by Miss Florence Curtiss Hanson of the teachers federation.

This resolution would put the federation on record with a demand for government employment assurance; work insurance financed by state and federal aid; creation of a large reserve fund to support the unemployed in crises; shorter working hours; state control of industry, and a "long range" plan of public works.

Several speakers yesterday referred to "social revolution" and "social unrest" as a possible result of failure to solve the unemployment problem.

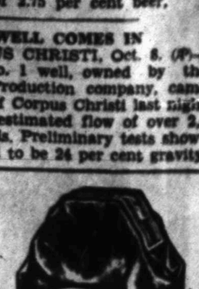

Ralph Horr, Washington representative in congress, commended the federation for its "brave stand" on prohibition, saying the 18th amendment was ruining the judicial system.

Federation leaders have advocated legislation to permit the manufacture of 2.75 per cent beer.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 8. (AP)—Roark No. 1 well, owned by the Kepley Production company, came in west of Corpus Christi last night with an estimated flow of over 2,000 barrels. Preliminary tests showed the oil to be 24 per cent gravity.

SOUR stomach

If fear of what will follow overshadows the enjoyment of your meals, your system may be too acid.

Those pangs of indigestion right after eating and that lump you feel in your stomach for hours after, the flatulence and sourness, are the symptoms of over-acidity. Take an anti-acid and neutralize the excess acid. You won't be comfortable until you do.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia will always check that condition of over-acidity. It acts pleasantly, but promptly and most effectively. It supplies needed alkali to neutralize excess acids of the stomach and bowels. Headaches, flatulence, and nausea are promptly relieved. Your digestion will speedily improve. Your appetite will be sharpened. Constipation quickly yields to the gentle laxative effect of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Many make a practice of taking a spoonful or two before meals one or two days weekly. It is a delightful way to keep the system always sweet; and to keep the bowels from growing sluggish; also to guard against auto-intoxication.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia will check a cold in a hurry. Just take a spoonful at three-hour intervals until that weak, archy, feverish condition is gone and your head is all clear.

Get a bottle today; read the directions and learn Phillips' Milk of Magnesia's many important uses. For you and the whole family, 25c and 50c, bottles can be obtained at drug stores everywhere.

POISON in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for over forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstores sell.

Military Instruction Asked For Farmers Through Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8. (AP) — Agrarians of four Mexican states have requested the senate to enact a law permitting military instruction of the small farmers with a view to eventually consolidating Agrarian groups into a federal organization.

The suggestion for creation of a federal reserve organization came from Agrarians in the states of San Luis, Vera Cruz, Morelos and Mexico who claim to number over 100,000.

Armed Agrarian bands have existed throughout the country for some time but until now no effort at consolidation had been made.

Baltimore Society Figure Found Dead In Apartment

BALTIMORE, Oct. 8. (AP)—Herbert R. Stubbs, clubman, society figure and wholesale lumber dealer, was found by his valet today, shot to death in the bedroom of his apartment.

The apartment in which he was found was the same one from which Miss Virginia Troy, chief nurse of the Phipps clinic of the Johns Hopkins hospital, walked and committed suicide a year ago. She had been employed by Stubbs to care for his young son, now 9 years old.

Police were told that Stubb's valet was attracked by the sound of a shot, went into his master's bedroom, and found him lying on the floor, a bullet wound in the temple.

Police said a letter found in the room led to the belief Stubbs had taken his own life.

Terry County Gins Running Long Hours; Crops Come In

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 8. (Special) Cotton is coming in rapidly and all gins in the county are running from early morning hours until late at night, but pickers are short and there is an active demand for not less than 1,000. Unless weather conditions interfere the production will exceed any former year with a staple that will compare favorably with any section on account of the fact that many farmers discarded the short staple varieties which resulted in an improved product. Much dissatisfaction is in evidence concerning the present low price and many growers are going to hold off the market for the present.

Body Of Man Shot Through Head Found Near Carnspur

EL RENO, Okla., Oct. 8. (AP) — The body of a man, shot through the head, was found in a dry lake bed near Carnspur yesterday. In his pocket was a letter addressed to John Hester, Oklahoma City, postmarked Skellyville, Tex., and apparently from his wife, Viola, and his mother.

The letter, however, referred to the recipient as "Clarence." No weapon was found.

Never Dangerous To Cure Eczema

That's What Doctors Say—

Some people have an idea that it is dangerous to try to cure eczema—that the "poison" will go through your system.

That's all wrong, doctors say. Nobody knows exactly what causes eczema, but plenty of folks know how to stop it—how to get relief that's nothing short of magic.

Eczema—tetter—salt rheum—no matter what you call it, no matter how long you've had it, nor how many things you have tried—

When it itches so it almost drives you crazy—when you think you just can't stand it another second—put some Moone's Emerald Oil on it.

If that doesn't give you—instantly—greater relief than anything you've ever tried, money back.

Don't be afraid of its hurting you or your clothes—use lots of it. And remember that Bowen's Drug and Bowen's Hilton Pharmacy and every first class druggist guarantees it. —Adv.

With This Idea All You Have To Do Is Sit Back Under Cool Shade Tree

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Oct. 8. (AP)—It may not be long now before farmers throughout the country will be doing their ploughing by radio.

J. J. Lynch of Miles City, Mont., demonstrated this possibility yesterday by plowing around a thirty acre field with a tractor operated by radio. Two hundred expert electricians, radio operators and business men from most of the central states witnessed the demonstration. They said it was the first time in history that a tractor, so operated, had actually plowed ground.

The machine carried three fourteen inch plows with a keyboard operated in an automobile thirty feet behind the tractor. Lynch started the tractor with one key, adjusted the clutch with another, guided it with a third one and regulated the speed of the engine with still another.

Pampa Man Gets Judgment Of $1,000 In Amarillo Court

AMARILLO, Oct. 8. (AP)—A federal court just today awarded E. F. Lambright of Pampa a judgment of $1,000 against G. H. Parrish, former constable at Pampa, for an alleged beating Lambright said he received at the hands of Parrish and Herman Wachtendorf, who searched his room for stolen merchandise.

Wachtendorf and E. S. Graves, former Gray county sheriff, were dismissed from the suit when defense attorneys showed that Wachtendorf was not acting as a deputy for Graves at the time of the alleged beating.

FLIGHT PLANNED

GUELPH, Ont., Oct. 8. (AP) — A mysterious ocean flight within a month, from Roosevelt field, Long Island, is being planned by Mrs. Debbie Stanford, formerly of this town, and Mrs. Ruth Stewart, American aviatrix. Mrs. Stanford, in announcing the flight, said she could not reveal the desetination.

The United States is at present the largest source of petroleum imports into Finland.

"SICK HEADACHE?"

IT is not necessary to give-in to headaches. It is just a bit old-fashioned! The modern woman who feels a headache coming on at any time, takes some tablets of Bayer Aspirin and heads it off.

Keep Bayer Aspirin handy, and keep your engagements. Headaches, systemic pains, come at inconvenient times. So do colds. You can end them before they're fairly started if you'll only remember this handy, harmless form of relief. Carry it in your purse and insure your comfort while shopping; your evening's pleasure at the theatre. Those little nagging aches that bring a case of "nerves" by day are ended in a jiffy. Pains that once kept people home are forgotten half an hour after taking Bayer Aspirin! You'll find these tablets always help. If you get real aspirin, you'll get real relief. In every package of genuine Bayer tablets are proven directions which cover headaches, colds, sore throat, toothache, neuralgia, neuritis, sciatica, rheumatism, etc.

The tablets stamped Bayer won't fail you, and can't harm you. They don't depress the heart. They don't upset the stomach. So take them whenever you need them, and take enough to end the pain.

First Days Of Fall Bring Renewed Interest In Social Affairs Here

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE S. SEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

THERE are days when one of these columns must be written and there seems to be nothing to say on to the public. This is one of the days. A veteran West Texas teacher who drops by tells me it must be the same sensation that a minister has when a sermon must be preached and he has nothing to preach about, although the congregation is already assembled.

THAT RULE SIX

LIFE probably would be a lot simpler if a lot of us adhered strictly to that "rule six" that Dwight W. Morrow observed: "Don't take yourself so darn seriously."

It would be comfortable to go about without a care in the world. We were talking about such a person today, Dess Key and I. She and Dess and I were contemporaries on newspaper staffs a few years ago. Recently, she came through here. Now she is in Kansas City and she may go to China. If she starts, she will get there, while some of the rest of us would be counting pennies and wondering how we would keep from starving after we arrived.

Not so long ago, this woman fell heir to a small legacy from her grandmother. It wasn't much, but it looked like a lot to a girl who had been working on the kind of salary that newspapers pay. She quit her job and started out to see the world and have a good time. A dwindling bank account doesn't worry her in the least. While her friends sit around with long faces and predict that in six more months, she will be penniless and without a job, she has never a care for the future and enjoys every minute that she is living now. And one of these days when she wakes up without any money, she will get out her philosophy and go whistling for a job. Some how, she knows she isn't going to starve to death and in the meantime she isn't worrying over the rainy day.

While I envy these vagabonds who seem to take life so lightly and who have never a care, I know the world needs more sober-minded people. Yet, perhaps things would rock along a little easier if all of us could be less serious about this serious business of living. After all, we have one this way but once.

And there is something else. To plenty of people we aren't important at all. They don't know that we exist. Sometimes a lot of us get to feeling important and think that no one else can do our work. It is funny enough to discover how many other people can do it just as well. Once while I was in college and talking about getting out in the world to show business a few things, one of the professors admonished me to remember that I would never be so important that other people couldn't take my place.

"Once I was feeling important," he related. "I was doing some work that I thought no one else could do as well. I demanded a raise and the boss said he couldn't pay it. That looked like a good opening to me, so I said I would quit and he could see how important I was. He let me quit and was glad to get rid of me. And I was actually surprised to see the paper coming out the press every day just the same!"

We are not all going to have experiences like that. But we are going to learn some day how unimportant we are, and a little philosophy will help things along. Perhaps you saw Will Rogers in "Young As You Feel." That was another bit of this philosophy that Mr. Morrow had.

THANKS MRS. HENRICKS

ONE of the judges in the art department of the Panhandle-South Plains fair has written a letter to Miss Delia Wilkerson, superintendent of that division, that probably will interest a lot of people here. This judge is Mrs. H. G. Hendricks of Amarillo, president of the Amarillo Art Association and one of the first vice-presidents of the Texas Fine Arts association.

She writes, in part, that she wants to "express my appreciation and amazement at so large an exhibit of original work in the fine arts department. Whether artists are generally getting away from copy work or Lubbock folk have the proper understanding of the value of original subjects, I am unable to say. But it was a real pleasure to be one of your jury of judges of such meritorious work."

She praised Mrs. Bess Hubbard and others who are training children to use original subjects in their work, rather than attempting copy.

The art department at the fair received a number of such compliments. The quantity of exhibits has been greater than it was this year, but the quality was better than usual, according to the judges and others.

Hallowe'en Is Party Feature

Mrs. Edgar Lewis Has Party In Her Home Honoring Two Students Of Tech; Fete Is Announced

The first days of fall have brought a renewed interest in social activity among clubs, many of which were disbanded during the summer. College groups are beginning annual receptions and informal parties and during remainder of this week several Lubbock women are entertaining at bridge. Today's events lists a number of club meetings.

The Hallowe'en motif was featured in appointments at a party given by Mrs. Edgar Lewis, 2405 21st street, Thursday afternoon. Miss Ima Baker and Miss Camille Stobaugh, Tech students, were named as honorees and were presented with favors. Miss Baker is Mrs. Lewis' sister.

Quitting Business Sale

By mutual agreement of the stockholders of this firm, it was decided to discontinue business in Lubbock. Prices in many instances have been cut far below the original wholesale cost. Our doors were closed Wednesday and Thursday in order that we might arrange stocks, mark merchandise down and make preparations for one of the biggest money-saving events in Lubbock's history. McMurray's Men Look Stronger In Scheduled Game With Marlin Hayhurst's Cubs; Teams Battle Hard

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 7. (Special).—The Lubbock Highschool Cowhands, coached by Swede McMurray, fought Coach Marlin Hayhurst's Brownfield Cubs to a 0 to 0 tie here this afternoon in a hard fought battle.

While there was no scoring, the Cowhands appeared to be the stronger club, gaining more than twice as many first downs than the Cubs and making more serious threats to score.

NEWS BRIEFS

The program was a part of Lubbock's observance of National Fire Prevention week. L. E. Davis was chairman of the program.

K. N. Clapp, chairman of the underprivileged child work committee, announced 15 members of the club were to meet at the Sanders school next Sunday to take charge of a boy in connection with the committee's program of work.

G. W. Murichinson and G. W. Fowler, pilot, took off from the municipal airport Wednesday night for Dallas after attending to business here Wednesday afternoon. They were from Dallas. L. R. Stringer of Wichita Falls, pilot, and a man named McElrath, also of Wichita Falls, took off from the Lubbock field Wednesday for Fort Worth, Dallas, Wichita Falls and possibly other towns. They are expected to return here this week.

Miss Rutilia Eubank, Lubbock county librarian. Thursday urged parents to see that their children developed the library habit. "Development of the library habit on the part of the children is the parents' responsibility, although the teacher exerts a profound influence in developing the habit in students", she said. „Use of the library in the schools usually is compulsory and as the student advances through the grades he usually is compelled to use the public libraries, she said.

Charge Against Amarillo Woman Dismissed Thursday

AMARILLO, Oct. 8. (AP)—A charge of aggravated assault filed recently against Mrs. Hazel Sullivan because she allegedly slapped the small son of County Attorney Rhea C. Myers was dismissed today on motion of the county attorney who filed the complaint.

Mrs. Sullivan charged that the complaint was made because she "punched Myers in the nose" when they quarreled over their children throwing rocks at each other.

Special Train Leaves Monday For Dallas Go

Matadors Continue Work Toward Finding Defense For Use In Tilt With Haskell Indians

Tickets to the Texas Tech-Haskell football game, to be played Tuesday at Dallas, go on sale this morning at 9 o'clock at the administration building on the Tech campus, according to official announcement yesterday. Railroad tickets on the Port Worth and Denver special train will also be on sale at the campus. The local railroad agency will handle game and railroad tickets at the passenger office. Tickets purchased in Dallas will be higher, admisison being charged at the fair grounds gate.

The ducats sold here, priced at $1.50 each, provides for entrance to the state fair grounds, to the Fair Park Bowl and for a reserved seat in the Lubbock section. Round trip railway tickets are priced exceedingly low. The special train will leave Lubbock at 9 o'clock Monday evening, arriving in Dallas about 7:30 Tuesday morning. The return trip will be made Tuesday night, the train leaving Dallas at 9 o'clock.

Indications are that a large number of Lubbock fans, as well as Tech students, will take advantage of the attractive rates to follow the Matadors to Dallas. The game is a feature of Dallas and Lubbock Day at the state fair and exposition.

The Matadors, principals in the day's program so far as Lubbock and Tech, perhaps all of Texas, are concerned, will depart Sunday afternoon by special chartered bus, spending Sunday night midway between Lubbock and Dallas and continuing the journey in time for a workout Monday afternoon.

Concentrate on Defense

Yesterday afternoon was spent by the Matadors in concentrated effort toward perfecting a defense for the strong running attack of the Haskell Indians, and particularly against the line thrusts and powerplunges of big Walter Johnson, fullback, and Little Louis (Little Rabbit) Weller, perennial captain of the Haskell team. The Tribe zoomed into football limelight last week when Fullback Johnson led the Indians in a 6 to 0 victory over Kansas university, champions of the Six Conference.

Coach Pete Cawthon had his charges in dummy scrimmage against the Lubbock High school Westerners for most of yesterday afternoon. Coach Weldon Chapman of the Westerners employs the same system of defense, the Warner double wing-back and C-formation, used by the Haskell Indians. Alternating his reserves and regulars, Cawthon had two groups of men in special practice, real scrimmage against freshman lineups, and particular drill in blocking and tackling.

Coach Stagg Realizes Dream As New Field House Completed

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—Coach A. A. Stagg tonight will see the beginning of the realization of an old dream at the cornerstone ceremony for the University of Chicago's $600,000 field house.

Stagg has been working for years to get a modern sports building to replace old Bartlett gymnasium. An old fashioned pep meeting and team which meets Michigan Saturday will be held in connection.

St. Paul Saints Prolong Little World Series With 9-5 Win Over Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 8. (AP)—The St. Paul Saints strung out the little World Series for at least one more day when they defeated the Rochester Red Wings 9 to 5 here today in the seventh game of the series.

The visiting clubs, champions of the American Association, advanced to within one game of their International League rivals by the win. Rochester still leads, four to three.

Iowa Hawkeyes To Arrive In Dallas Today; Meet Farmers

DALLAS, Oct. 8. (AP)—University of Iowa's Hawkeyes, 35 strong, will arrive in Dallas tomorrow for their first intersectional football game south of the Mason and Dixon line.

Likewise their opponents, the Texas A. & M., Farmers, 28 of them, will roll into Dallas from an opposite direction to meet the Hawkeyes Saturday in one of the feature attractions on the state fair's grid program.

The Hawkeyes plan a light secret practice session tomorrow afternoon. The Farmers will not arrive in Dallas in time for an afternoon workout. Neither will they stop en route at Corsicana, as in other years.

Today it appeared a certainty Nolan, Farmer pivot man, who received a wrenched knee in the Tulane game, would not be in the contest. Hewitt, quarterback, who broke a bone in his left hand in scrimmage this week, is another who will be out of lineup.

Doubt was expressed about Domingue, scintillating sophomore backfield man. A severe cut over an eye received at New Orleans, hampered Domingue all week.

Joe Kazalauska, tackle, Harry Lichtor, center, and Halfback Lachap, have been lost by the Mercer university eleven. All were sophomores.

Paul Derringer May Start On Mound For Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8. (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics — the same white elephants upon whom Pepper Martin has been riding herd — returned to St. Louis late today, tempers aroused and prepared to make a last-ditch stand in defense of their title as world champions.

Crowds jeered them good-naturedly in the railroad yards and at the station, demanding to know what the A's are going to do about Martin, if anything.

Upon the powerful right arm of George Earnshaw, the A's pin their hopes for capturing the sixth game of the World series tomorrow. Big George is ready. After looking the pitcher over at breakfast, one of the negro waiters, satisfied he had discovered an omen, confided:

"Boss, did you notice blood in dat Big George's eye? Dat sho' means trouble fo' dem Cardinals tomorrow."

If Earnshaw wins and thereby squares the series, forcing the issue to a seventh and final game Saturday, there is the outside chance Manager Mack may send the big right hander right back at Martin and the rest of the National Leaguers. The likelihood, however, is that if there is a seventh battle, Lefty Grove will be the starter.

With Earnshaw in the box, the Athletics are favorites tomorrow, even among the St. Louis wagering men.

The Athletics appeared better satisfied to hear that they would oppose Paul Derringer, instead of Burleigh Grimes, in the next contest.

CISCO WINS, 32-0

CISCO, Oct. 8. (AP)—Cisco high school's Big Dam Loboes passed and plunged their way to a 32 to 0 victory here tonight over the Brownwood Lions, playing heads-up football all the way and holding a decided edge over the invaders.

Jess Shaw, former Southern California guard, will play with the Chicago Cardinals this year.

Texas Longhorns Ready To Go Against Owls Tomorrow; Rice Hopes To Repeat 1930 Affair

Littlefield To "Shoot Works" In Owl Game As Southwest Conference Season Is On; Meagher Believes In Owls

AUSTIN, Oct. 8. (AP)—Prepared to "shoot the works" in the game Saturday with Rice, the University of Texas football squad ended its weekly training grind today and tomorrow will be put through a light signal and play formation drill.

Texas will enter the game predominant favorite. Predictions as to the margin of victory for Texas ranged up to three or four touchdowns although there was in the minds of nearly all Texas fans a suspicion that Rice might pull another fast one this year and turn the highly touted Longhorns back as they did last season in the memorable battle of Buffalo Bayou.

Realization that the Owls will be hard to beat has been drummed into the minds of Texas players since the start of the training season and Texas will enter the game minus the over-confidence that marked last year's engagement.

It was not known definitely if Maurice Baumgarten, sturdy guard and captain of the steers, would be out of the game with aninjured knee. Cylde Littlefield today said Baumgarten might be in shape to play. Coach Littlefield said he did not want to play either Baumgarten, Sparks, and end, or Andy Brown, fullback, unless necessary.

All were injured in the game with the University of Missouri.

Owls Drill Long And Hard For Longhorns

HOUSTON, Oct. 7. (AP) — Coach Jack Meagher this afternoon drilled his Rice Owls long and hard on fundamentals in preparation for Saturday's game at Austin against the University of Texas.

Rice's vicious tackling last fall largely was responsible for the Owls six to nothing victory over the Longhorns.

Although disappointed at the ragged play of his men last Saturday against Oklahoma, Meagher has not lost faith in his young players. "We have a good football team," Meagher said.

Meagher announced today the entire squad of sixty players would make the trip to Austin.

Rice's chances for victory were bettered when Bert Mueller, stellar halfback, declared he was in good shape. He did not make the Oklahoma trip because of an injured leg.

Pepper Martin Learned To Run While Chasing Rabbits In Texas League, Says Roy

DALLAS, Oct. 8. (AP) — The Texas League has its own legends about the amazing speed of "Pepper" Martin, hero of the World Series, and one of the best is told by Roy Moore, teammate of "Pepper" on the 1929 Houston club.

"Old Pepper goes out on the prairie and scares up a bunch of rabbits," Moore explained in recounting Martin's prowess as a hunter.

He runs along with these rabbits. He reaches down and feels the sides of these rabbits.

"If the rabbit is a bit thin, he lets him go and takes out after another one, but if the rabbit is nice and fat, Old Pepper picks him up and puts him in his bag."

St. Edwards Expect Battle Against Simmons Tomorrow

AUSTIN, Oct. 8.-(AP)—Anticipating an extremely tough game, the St. Edwards' University football squad entrained here today for Abilene where the Saints will meet the Simmons University Cowboys tomorrow in their opening Texas Conference game. The team last year played to a scoreless tie but the showing made by the Cowboys in early season games against Southwest Conference opponents made the Abilene outfit the favorite.

St. Edward's was weakened by injuries and coaches had not definitely picked the starting lineups. It was likely McLaughlin and Michel would start at ends; Munoz and Stanford at tackles; Quebedeaux and Rivas at guards; Kezerle at center; Donohue at quarterback; Ransom and Kivlin at halfbacks and Bomba at fullback.

Lynn Farmers Preparing For Cold Weather

Cellars And Storehouses Are Filled With Canned Goods And Barns Overflowing With Feed; Ready For Winter

By Staff Correspondent

TAHOKA, Oct. 8. — With cellars and storehouses being rapidly filled with canned goods and with barns and sheds overflowing with feed, farmers of Lynn county are "digging in" for the winter, prepared to live comfortably and to be able to sell enough produce throughout the season to carry them through.

Quietly Lynn count farmers have diversified their crops the past several years. The result has been noticed this summer to a greater degree than ever before.

Good Crops Reported

Good crops in the western half of the county are reported, while in the eastern part the late feed has been hurt some by dry weather. However farmers have enough feed to more than carry them through the winter.

Start of the cotton season has stimulated business. The county is anticipating 10,000 or more bales in excess of the 28,000 bale crop of last year. All of the 26 gins will operate and there will be enough cotton to make a satisfactory run for the entire group.

Tahoka is growing in population after a summer slump. Every week since early August has shown more meter connections for the Texas Utilities company than disconnections. The gain has been steady and each week shows a better record than the previous one.

Both banks are in good condition. While deposits are off from those of a year ago there likewise has been a reduction in loans. Farmers, not having borrowed as much, will not have as much to pay back, leaving more money for spending among business houses, it is pointed out.

Little Unemployment

There is very little unemployment here. Very few men are seen on the streets, loafing. What unemployment there is, is not of a serious nature and the slack should be taken up when cotton picking begins in earnest. A good deal has been eliminated by farmers using men for heading maize.

Summer trade has been good. The produce market has held steady, with farmers bringing in milk, butterfat, eggs, poultry for sale. Produce stations have enjoyed a good business. Stores selling tin cans for preserving vegetables and fruits are finding a little trouble in meeting their needs.

A federal highway through Tahoka from the east to Brownfield was designed recently. This already is showing an effect in the number of tourists passing from east to west. The highway follows state 84 from Post of Brownfield, Tatum and Roswell.

Dairying is assuming a good place in the agricultural picture as the milk products plant at Lamesa gets a good share of its milk from Lynn county dairymen.

Cattle in the western half of the county have done well this summer. Ranchers will ship about their usual quota of calves this fall. Range conditions are fair. With plenty of feed, cattle should winter well, ranchers state.

Nearly every farmer in the county has had a garden this summer and has prepared for the winter. Business men anticipate very few demands on the Red Cross and other charity organizations for help.

Twenty-Six Young Men Will Work Way Through On Farm

CANYON, Oct. 8. (Spec.)—Twenty-six young men will work their way through college, by running the college farm at the West Texas State Teachers college, according to T. M. Moore, member of the agriculture faculty and manager of the farm. It was planned to use 24 boys on the farm but two more have been added within the last week. The list is complete and no more will be employed at present. The last four selected are Herrod Vaughn, Tulia, Guy H. Hibler, McLean, Tom M. Langston, Texico, and Harry Hartzog, Clarendon.

Part of the force has already begun work and the remainder will be on hand with the opening of college tomorrow.

Philadelphia Turns Housewife

Volunteer Workers In Quaker City Store Summer's Plenty For Winter Relief; All Of Surplus Will Be Saved

Philadelphia's food conservation movement, as an aid to charity, had its origin in the Girls' Trade School. Here are Jane Moore and Dorothy Griffin, members of a Girl Scout troup, making apple-butter which is part of the food to be distributed to the hungry next winter.

PHILADELPHIA.—The city of Philadelphia, looking forward to a lean winter when thousands of unemployed will be in need of food, has turned housewife and like any thrifty woman is preserving the abundance of summer for the months to come.

The Food Conservation movement has taken a practical turn. Vegetables and fruits are pouring into the Girl's Trade School in great volume. Public-spirited volunteers, including many Girl Scouts, are canning and packing and otherwise preserving food.

Plan To Extend Work

And this is only a beginning. Other receiving stations and canning kitchens are to be opened soon and it is believed nearly all of the surplus which might otherwise have been wasted will be saved for the city's poor.

Already corridors in the trade school building are piled high with baskets of peaches, apples, tomatoes, garden vegetables and other foods. Unemployed men are busy sorting the contents and discarding decayed and defective vegetables and fruits.

Individuals, wholesale and retail houses and even producers are generously contributing preservable foods. Those who haven't anything to contribute have given money which will be used to buy at current low prices.

Tahoka Lawyer Is Chairman Of Red Cross; Others Named

TAHOKA, Oct. 8.—Judge B. P. Maddox, prominent Tahoka lawyer, has been elected Lynn county chairman of the Red Cross for the next twelve months. Raymond Weathers is the new vice-president; Mrs. K. R. Durham, secretary-treasurer, and W. S. Anglin, roll call chairman and also head of the disaster relief committee. Judge Maddox succeeds Mrs. W. D. Nevels, who recently resigned before the expiration of her term. Several thousand dollars worth of groceries and clothing was distributed to the needy of the county during the past winter by Mrs. Nevels through the Red Cross.

As the result of the Mexican presidential decree extending the city's boundaries, Mexico city has a population of more than 1,000,000

Eighty-five per cent of the world's nickel supply comes from the Georgian Bay region in Ontario.

It Looks Like A Good Thing

THOUGHTFUL men from Maine to California are pricking up their ears. Latest assault against the business depression, led by Mr. Hoover and his aides, bears the stamp of authenticity. Judging from first blush it may do what earlier efforts have failed to do in forcing conditions back to normal.

Prior to this time, The Morning Avalanche has never quite believed that official Washington was doing much except talking in the campaign to improve business conditions. Somehow or another, the stilted phrases which emanated from the White House and other quarters smacked a little too much of the old time "chamber of commerce hooey." But this time it sounds like business and the way the stock markets have been responding is a further indication of the real lay of the land.

Of course, Mr. Hoover is charged with playing politics and with endeavoring to improve his position and nomination time nears again and perhaps he does hope to strengthen himself politically as a result of his latest efforts. But be that as it may, he is entitled to as much added prestige as he can get if he engineers the task to a satisfactory completion.

There are those high in the councils of business who take the stand that no artificial influence can do away with the depression bug-a-boo, that it will have to wear itself out, so to speak, before times return to normal. In that theory, The Morning Avalanche does not agree, believing that sensible planning and efforts will help in this case as in all other man-made and man-maintained problems.

At any rate we can hope that the five billion dollar credit pool will awake business from the lethargy into which it has fallen.

If it doesn't, those in command will have the satisfaction of knowing that they tried to improve conditions and it goes without saying that no effort, no matter what it is, can make things any worse than they have been in many lines of business throughout the world.

BARGAIN TIME IN AMERICA

The bankers see it, the merchants see it, and the public is beginning to see it—the fact that now is the time to realize on the extraordinary buyers' market, to get in on the ground floor before returning prosperity sends prices up again.

Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, adds to the testimony. The price curve, he declares, is balanced, and has been maintaining the balance for several weeks. "It indicates a stimulation of buyer interest—not the ordinary buyer who goes in to get a collar or a tie, but the big buying agent, who now apparently is beginning to prick up his ears. Seeing the price curve along in a steady line, he says to himself that he had better get in and buy before it turns upward.

The stores are full of bargains, as every wise housewife can testify. Not in years have prices been so low for goods of such quality. It is time to loosen the purse-strings, to turn the savings account into purchases while prices are down. For as soon as volume buying begins, the orders will swamp the factories; everyone will want quick deliveries; stocks of merchandise will disappear, the merchants will pay well for swift renewals. That will mean a jump of prices, and the bargain era can come to an end. So the wise buy now.

Rumors can be heard on every hand about new products soon to appear on the market. If half of them are true, business is preparing for the upturn. Chances like this come only once in a generation, and when they go by, they leave regret and envy in the hearts of those who failed to take advantage of them. The wise buyers are shopping and skimming the cream from the most advantageous buying market this country has had since before the World war.

Aristocrats are much like other people, except for the length of their fingers and cigarette holders.

What Other People Think

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

THE eastern border of the United States has been undergoing one of the most severe attacks of infantile paralysis that it has suffered for many years. With the coming of cold weather, the condition will clear up. That has been the history of epidemics of infantile paralysis almost since the beginning of our knowledge of this disease. In the first week in September there were still more than 400 cases in Connecticut as contrasted with normal conditions of around 10, and there were still more than 600 cases in New York as contrasted with normal conditions of around 20.

Infantile paralysis usually begins to appear in June, increases during July and August, diminishes in October and disappears by November. About a year ago California and the middle west suffered severely, but the attack in the eastern states is more severe than it was in the portions mentioned.

In New York City during the present epidemic, more than 70 per cent of the cases have occurred in children under 5 years of age. Few cases have occurred in children over 15 years of age, which is an indication of the way in which the general public has been immunized against this disease from some sort of exposure. When the blood of most human beings is examined, it is found that they have in the blood some substance which is opposed to infantile paralysis. Thus the idea has arisen among scientific observers that the substance which causes this disease spreads to many people causing little or no disturbance, but that in a small percentage it gets into the spinal cord and attacks the tissues of the spinal cord, affecting the special nerves that control muscular action. For this reason the disease is called anterior, which means the front; poliomyelitis, which refers to the nerve tissue that is attacked.

It had been quite well established that the infection is spread from one person to another by the excretions and secretions of the human body. The living material which causes this disease may survive outside the body for a considerable amount of time. All that we can do to prevent the spread of this disease is to keep children fairly well isolated during the period when it is prevalent. It has been shown that children in institutions who are carefully prevented from coming into contact with outside children or people during an epidemic are not likely to develop the disease.

During the summer months if children are kept at summer camps constantly and no visitors allowed, they are not likely to be attacked by infantile paralysis. The coming of visitors from various places to visit the children in the camp may bring the disease among them.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Behold, the Lord thy God hath set the land before thee: go up and possess it, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath said unto thee; fear not, neither be discouraged.—Deuteronomy, i, 21.

Texan Not At All Upset

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

State, War and Navy Building

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Martin Dies, Jr., is being somewhat criticised in administrative circles, as being "too previous" in calling on President Hoover for an extra session of congress to relieve the economic crisis, considering that he is not yet a member of congress himself, but only a member-elect.

Fletcher B. Swank of Oklahoma, who joined Dies in demanding a special session, likewise is only a representative-elect, but Swank at least has had congressional experience before, having served from 1921 to 1929, when he missed a term, not being elected again until last November.

Dies, however, is entirely new to Washington. He defeated the veteran Representative John C. Box for renomination in 1930 in the Fifth Texas district, won at the polls, of course, being a Democrat, but naturally has had no chance to be sworn in. Thus, with his public career wholly ahead of him, and a young-looking chap besides, expressed opinion at the White House executive offices is to the effect that it is pretty fresh in him to be offering advice already.

REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT DIES seems not at all upset by this comment.

He and Representative-elect Swank consider almost immediate depression relief perfectly possible and oppose permitting its delay by an unnecessary moment, even if official sensibilities are ruffled by hints that they are impatient.

The program they submit is not essentially different from proposals which have been made heretofore, but Dies supports it by arguments of an original sort in several particulars.

"'Crisis' rather than 'depression'," says the Texan, "is the right term for the present situation, caused by industry's failure to adjust itself to conditions created by a wartime discovery—mass production.

"The discovery having been made, capital fell into the error of trying to take exclusive advantage of it.

"Capital undertook to do so through enormous stock issues representing no investments whatever, and scooping in the increased profits from accelerated production in the guise of dividends on these stocks.

"It worked very well for awhile, but presently labor, not having had its share of benefits from the discovery, began to manifest it in the form of a rapidly diminishing buying power, which naturally translated itself into a slump in sales of the industries' products."

"ALL THIS," said the representative-elect, "became apparent when the stock market crashed.

"It is as apparent now to captains of industry as to the rest of us, but what are they to do about it? They cannot return to old methods of production because today maximum production is cheaper than minimum production. They doubtless wish that they had divided fairly with their workers when mass production was discovered, but it is too late for them to do so now, because they have their inflated stocks on which to pay dividends.

"The industries cannot get back upon their feet until the public resumes buying and the public cannot resume buying until the industries sufficiently recover themselves to increase employment."

GOVERNMENT aid to break this deadlock is the nub of the Swank-Dies plan.

It includes:

1. Funds to launch public works on a vast scale throughout the country. Emphasis is especially laid upon waterways development, "which," as Representative-elect Dies remarks, "is urgently needed, independently of its desirability as a relief measure."
2. A one-year moratorium on homestead mortgage foreclosures.
3. Prohibition of stock exchange gambling.
4. Restraint, through bank regulation, of individual greed by the bankers themselves, by railroads and by large industrial corporations.
5. Immigration prohibition for a five-year period.

INITIATION of a public building program and a suspension of mortgage foreclosures are mentioned by the representative-elect as necessities of the most immediate nature, calling for congressional action as soon as the law makers can be assembled.

Of the other measures which he recommends he speaks as imperative, to prevent a recurrence of such conditions as the last two years'—"ever, in the future."

Periodic depressions are not, then, unavoidable?

"Under the 'laissez faire' policy of our pioneer epoch perhaps so," answers the Texan, "and probably that policy was our best one then. The pioneer's first requirement was capital, for development. He had to accept it on its own conditions. To admit that privation is unescapable in the present generation's land of plenty is to acknowledge the inability of popular government to promote and insure the welfare and happiness of its people."

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE OLDEST HOUSE IN THE UNITED STATES:

Almost 400 years ago the great Spanish conquistador Coronado, who was the first white man to explore any of the Southwestern region of the United States, established his headquarters on the land that is now within the boundaries of Santa Fe, New Mexico. The oldest house, built of stone and mud, was originally the home of the Indian Chief of Tiguex. Subsequent to 1540 Coronado and many other governors occupied this unique house, until the Old Palace was built about 1620.

This aged edifice still stands in Santa Fe and is one of the historic attractions of that city.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Pretty Norma Kent, 20-year-old secretary in a law office, marries MARK TRAVERS, son of F. M. TRAVERS, millionaire real estate dealer, after the father has sworn to cut Mark off without a penny if the marriage takes place. Norma has known Mark only a few weeks, did not know during the courtship that he was a millionaire's son.

The story opens in Marlboro, middle western metropolis. CHRISTINE SAUNDERS, with whom Norma shares an apartment, and BRADLEY HART, Chris' employer, are witnesses at the wedding. Before this Norma has refused to marry BOB FARRELL, young lawyer of whom she is fond as a friend.

Mark sells his expensive roadster to get money for the honeymoon. Se and Norma go to fashionable Blue Springs. There Norma meets HOLLIS STONE, and it is evident from the gilr's discomposure that she has known Stone before.

One night Mark loses heavily in a card game. The young couple are almost penniless. Mark borrows $500 from Stone. He and Norma return to Marlboro. They stop at an expensive hotel and Mark sets out on a round of pleasure-seeking with his wealthy friends instead of hunting a job. One evening he introduces Norma to NATALIE PRICE, a debutante who has long hoped to marry Mark. As their funds dwindle the young couple move to a furnished apartment. Mark begins to hunt work seriously. He is unsuccessful until Chris Saunders helps him get a job as salesman in Bradley Hart's advertising company.

Saturday afternoon Norma waits for Mark to appear with his pay check. At last she hears footsteps on the stairs.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIII

MARK TRAVERS halted on the fourth step below the landing. The staircase and hall were poorly lighted and his face was in shadow. "Hello!" he said evenly to the girl above.

Norma was radiant. "Oh, I'm glad you've come, dear! Did you work this afternoon? I thought you'd be through long ago!"

"Had a talk with Brad," Mark said indifferently. He had climbed the last four steps and stood beside her. "Well— you're all dressed up, aren't you?"

The blue eyes twinkled. "Do you like it?" she asked. "Really?" Norma looked down at the simple crepe frock she was wearing. The cloth's sapphire shade exactly matched her eyes. She whirled about in a pirouette and assumed the pose of a fashion mannequin. "Guess," she demanded dramatically, "what it cost!"

"Gosh, how should I know? Where'd you buy it?"

"I didn't buy it, Mark. I made it! Mrs. Tracey on the floor below let me use her sewing machine. I got a pattern and it wasn't a bit hard. And the best part is—it cost exactly $4.26!"

"Do you mean it?" Incredulity in the young man's eyes. "Do you honestly mean you can get a dress like that for four bucks?"

"Not in a store—of course not. But I've always liked to sew and it was fun to see if I could make a whole dress. Tell me—do you really think it looks all right? I was sort of worried about these tucks—"

"Looks like a million dollars to me." There was something a little strange about Mark's voice. Something unusual in the way he avoided her eyes, too. Norma, excited over her triumph as a seamstress, took no notice.

"I'll get my coat and we can do the marketing," she announced happily. "I waited on purpose so we could go together today. You—you got your check, of course?"

"Yes, I've got it."

The girl was bustling about the apartment. Norma took pride in her housekeeping and the quarters were so crowded that if a single chair were misplaced, a drawer left open or the slightest detail out of order, the scene became topsy-turvy.

She brought her coat and Mark held it for her. The small hat was jammed down over her curls. All the way downstairs and as they walked the two blocks to the grocery and meat market, Norma talked eagerly. After the hours of waiting it was comforting to have Mark beside her. His silence escaped her attention.

They bought generously—potatoes, canned goods, butter, a loaf of bread, eggs, fresh vegetables and fruit. There was a small roast for dinner next day, cream and macaroons from which Norma would concoct a delicious dessert. The huge paper sacks were piled high when the two were ready to start for home. Their purchases would make up the bulk of their living for the next week. Norma explained advantages of quantity buying as they retraced their steps. She believed emphatically that foods should be selected personally and not ordered by telephone.

Not until they were back in the apartment did it occur to her as

New Decrees Are Made In Germany

BERLIN, Oct. 8. (AP) — Thirty typewritten pages of new emergency decrees signed by President Von Hindenburg and published today will compel every German to again tighten his belt and reduce his life to the simplest economic terms.

They also will force anti-government factions to watch their conduct closely lest they come in conflict with sweeping new powers which some observers say can be stretched to abrogate such fundamental rights as inviolability of the person, the home and the mail.

The decrees cover such subjects as salaries in private industry, unemployment, debts of communes and states, agricultural relief, regulations for savings banks, extraordinary courts for tax shirkers and special powers for the police to quell subversive movements.

The preamble explains that while the measures are diversified they are calculated to "enable the government and the people to adjust and re-adjust themselves to the hard necessities of the actual situation."

strange that Mark was talking so little. She looked at him closely, asked if he were feeling well.

"Sure. I'm all right," Mark answered carelessly.

He wasn't, however. He wasn't at all the usual Mark and though he strove against it and tried to keep it back at last the story came out. They had finished the evening meal. Norma was removing dishes from the table and Mark was barricaded behind a newspaper. Suddenly he threw down the scattered sheets.

"Let's get out of here—go somewhere!" he exclaimed.

"All right. As soon as I have these dishes done. Where do you want to go?"

"Anywhere! Want to get out of this place, that's all. Here—I'll wipe those for you."

She provided him with a fresh tea towel and the dishwashing began. A small task. Their entire supply of dishes would not fill a shelf in the built-in cupboard over the sink. Before Mark had dried the last plate his mood changed again.

Something was wrong! Something that was serious had happened.

Norma put a hand on his shoulders. "Please, Mark!" she begged, "you're worried about something! I know you are. Won't you tell me what's the matter? Won't you tell me what it's about?"

He tried to evade, failed. The ugly secret was branded in the burning brown eyes. Mark started to deny, shifted his gaze and blurted out, "I'm not going back to Hart's. I'm fired!"

"Mark—?"

"Oh, Brad didn't put it that way, of course. He didn't use the word, 'fired.' That's what he meant, though. Asked me to go to lunch with him and edged around to the fact I haven't made a single sale all this week. Hinted some other line of work might be more 'congenial.' He made it plain enough, all right! I didn't want to take the lousy check for last week but he insisted. Even said I could stay on longer if I wanted to. He knew I wouldn't do that! He knew I'd never set foot again in the damned place—"

There was more of the same—much more—for the next hour. At the end of that time they decided it was too late to go elsewhere. For another hour they discussed ways and means and their financial situation. After that they went to bed.

Sunday each of them tried scrupulously to give the impression of being utterly unworried. Preparation and serving of the dinner, the bulky Sunday newspaper to be sorted over and read, helped this deception. Mark dropped to the davenport in the afternoon and took a nap. Toward evening they put on wraps and went out into the cool air for a walk.

Monday morning brought the inevitable problem. Where was Mark to find work? He breakfasted as usual, put on hat and coat and departed. Shortly before six he returned. Norma, aware of his pride, asked no questions.

Three days passed, then four. Each 42 hours became a dreary repitition of the one before. Norma, so anxious to be helpful, so eager to hear bad news as well as the good, was wise enough to wait for Mark to speak. She knew pocketing his pride was for Mark the hardest struggle.

A week went by in this fashion. Presently Norma noticed that each night Mark was scanning the newspaper "help wanted" columns. She noticed he set the alarm clock for half an hour earlier. What struck her painfully in the transformation taking place was the disappearance of the gay alertness from his eyes, loss of the old brisk confidence. He talked less, fell into moody silences that lasted a long while.

Displays of irritability were less frequent. Mark's lips were hardening into a firm line. Sometimes Norma almost felt the man across the table was a stranger.

A dozen times she regretted the money spent for her pretty crepe frock. In spite of its cheapness the dress was a luxury. She could have done as well without it.

Norma wasted not a penny these days. She walked blocks to save a few cents on fruit or vegetables. She hoarded the household money. Such things were not hardships. Economizing was something the girl had done all her life. What terrified her, turned days and nights into nerve-shattering ordeals, was the fear of what should come when the last of their money was gone. Only a little remained. What would they do when that had vanished?

There was less than $5 in Norma's purse as she stood at the meat counter of her favorite store one Thursday afternoon. Rent would be due in another week. It had been paid in advance for the first month. Payment of the coming rent bill had been on the girl's mind all day.

Bother! She couldn't possibly get $15—one week's installment—out of that $5 in her purse. If they were to be put out of the apartment they would be put out. That was all there was to it! With unaccustomed recklessness Norma selected a choice cut of steak. She told herself she and Mark were so near the brink now that nothing mattered.

Regret overwhelmed her as soon as she had paid the bill and started home. As she opened the door of the apartment 10 minutes later something made her glance about quickly.

"Mark!" she cried, "how you startled me! I didn't think you'd come so soon!"

The young man was standing across the room. "Sorry," he said. Didn't expect to be here myself but I had a piece of luck."

"You mean—is it a job?"

Mark nodded. He was somber, unsmiling. "Wait until you hear the rest of it," he said, "before you begin cheering. It's a job all right. Floor walker at Blossomdale's! 'Yes, Madam—infants' wear on the third floor! Indigestible chocolate drops, two aisles to the right. Garden hose? Yes, ma'am, you'll find it in the hosiery department. Step right this way!' "

Norma tried to laugh. She knew Mark didn't think it funny in the least. She knew he was bitterly resentful and the burlesque was venomous. It was her duty to win him from this mood.

So she said with forced gaiety, "You won't sell ME garden hose or indigestible chocolate drops! Well, darling, no one can deny there's a lot of 'standing' that goes with the job of floor walker. Hail the new merchant prince!"

Mark said grimly, "There's one thing about it— Blossomdale's may be the 'biggest store in the state' but nobody I've ever known shops there! Anyhow, I'm to check in at 8:45 tomorrow morning. And for my services I receive the princely salary of 35 bucks a week!"

"There'll be raises! Isn't it funny, Mark? Something must have told me you'd had a good day. Look—I bought beefsteak!"

They celebrated that evening—not at the motion picture theater but with a dinner party just for two. Norma sent Mark to the store for mushrooms and whipping cream. She made his favorite salad and topped off the meal with coffee that was ambrosial. The scent of that coffee did as much as anything to put young Travers in a cheerful frame of mind. He even joked about their poverty as Norma poured the second cup.

The girl was radiant. "It's the turning point," she told herself. "Everything's going to be all right now." She was singing as she cleared the dishes from the table. Mark wiped them. The two were as happy as they had been on any of their extravagant evenings at Blue Springs. Thirty-five dollars a week seemed as big as $500 had before.

"He'll get along!" Norma assured herself. "Mark's going to make good!"

He was off next morning at eight o'clock; tired but in good spirits when he returned at six. A number of interesting events had happened during the day. A huge department store, Mark was to discover, was an absorbing institution. The first day had proved an eye-opener. Successive days were each to hold new experiences.

It was hard work but for the first time Mark Travers was seeing a side of life he had never known. Some of the anecdotes he related were amusing. Some were pathetic and others showed how jealousy, egotism and a dozen other weaknesses of the human family are bared in their daily barter.

Each day brought Saturday nearer when Mark was to receive the coveted $35. Fifteen of those dollars would go for a week's rent. The major worry on Norma's horizon had been removed when she learned the rent money was secure. Nothing seemed so important as maintaining the roof over their heads.

The eventful evening finally came. Norma wore one of her prettiest house frocks. She ran to the door and threw it open as she heard Mark's footsteps in the hall. He stood before her, grinning.

"Surprise!" Travers exclaimed. "Shut your eyes, Norma, and count ten!"

Iowa Bovine Test Law Hits Another Snag; Troops Watch

TIPTON, Ia., Oct. 8. (AP) — This state's difficulties over the enforcement of its bovine tuberculin test law has spread to a new front.

National guardsmen protected veternarians in Muscatine county just as they did in Cedar.

The forces were ordered there by Brig. Gen. Park A. Findley who said more than a score of objectors gathered at the Rudolph Reiser farm yesterday and resisted the tests. While a detachment of 50 guardsmen watched, 2,800 head of cattle were tested.

R. R. Broders, a farmer, who struck Dr. W. A. Moeller, one of the testers, was held at Muscatine, Ia., while charges were prepared for filing against him.

Experiments in making a car from wood for automobiles are being made in Finland.

Four General Paroles Given

Hale And Crosby County Men Are Given Leniency After Announcement Of Order By Governor Sterling

AUSTIN, Oct. 8. (AP) — Governor R. S. Sterling issued four general paroles and five furloughs to inmates of the Texas penitentiary today. At the same time he revokes one general parole and a furlough.

General paroles were given Roy Hendrix of Harrison county, one year for liquor law violation; Ronald Ralls, Hale county, two years for forgery; Ralph Jones, Crosby county, two years for burglary, and Porter Honeycutt, Denton county, three years for burglary and theft.

Aubrey Charles of Hale county, two years, for forgery, was granted a 90 day furlough. Sixty day furloughs were issued Clarence Story, Hopkins county, chicken theft; Jake Ragusa, Harris county, violating liquor law; Earl Richards, Parmer county, forgery; Wayne Roper, Roberts county, statutory offense.

The general parole of J. L. Harmon, convicted in Harris and Cherokee counties for robbery and robbery with firearms, was revoked because the governor was informed he had been convicted in Kansas for attempted burglary.

The 90 day furlough of Lonnie Hinton, Harris county, serving five to ten years for robbery by assault, was revoked because the governor said he had been arrested with a pistol.

Tom E. Davis, Newton county, serving a life sentence for murder, was granted a furlough of three days to attend his father's funeral.

proceedings when the chief promised the brass ring peddler he might be freed if the mannequin was a good performer. That was Oscar's que.

Seated on his boss' knee, little Oscar jabbered incessantly, making jibes at the audience of policemen, discussing farm relief and commenting on Mr. Hoover's plan of releasing frozen assets. All agreed it was a good show.

"All right, you three beat it," the chief said.

After the two men and the dummy had listened to advice about tracks out of town — about being in some other locality when the sun went down, the trio marched from the room. Little Oscar felt so good he tried to indulge in that alleged moronic practice of whistling.

Two Youths Are Returned To Floydada To Face Charges

In the custody of Sheriff J. M. Wright of Floyd county, three Idalou youths, arrested in Lubbock county Wednesday night, were returned to Floydada Thursday to face cattle theft charges.

The youths admitted stealing four head of cattle from the ranch of J. F. Baird, near Petersburg, Monday and Tuesday night, police said. The animals were sold to a local packing company.

Cotton — Livestock — Grain

Prices Rally At Cotton Closing — Livestock Up To Steady On Market — Broader Demand Seen For Grains

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8. (AP)—Today being bureau day, there were the usual surprises and activity in the cotton market, not the least of which was the show of strength which carried values up after the bearish government figures estimating a crop of 16,284,000 bales and giving the ginnings to October 1 as 8,408,203 bales.

Both figures were larger than expected but heavy buying by traders and investors who expressed belief the big crop will never all be picked, short covering, and firm stocks gave support. Prices rallied $2 a bale from the lowest of the day to show net gains of about 30 cents a bale at the close.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—An early decline which culminated shortly after the publication of a larger government crop indication than expected, was followed by rallies in cotton today.

December contracts, which sold off to 8.47 after the government report, or 25 points net lower, rallied to 8.89, but lost part of the advance in the late trading under increased hedging and closed at 8.79. The general market closed barely steady at net advances of 8 to 10 points.

Buying Reported

Some of these developments, notably the rediscount raise, loan drop and the plan of liberalizing New York legal bond requirements, were not announced until after the close of the security markets, but confident buying was reported by commission houses from many sections of the country, as well as abroad.

The turnover in stocks was only 2,860,000 shares, as against 4,300,000 Tuesday, but as measured by price indices, gains averaged about three-quarters of the Tuesday advance which set a record for recent stock exchange history.

Strong Financial Markets Reflect Nationwide Approval Of Big Pool

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—Strong financial markets today reflected nationwide approval of measures now under way for the restoration of confidence.

Stocks, bonds and commodities rallied impressively as bankers sped the $500,000,000 credit corporation toward completion. Trading in most directions was quiet until late in the business day; then it picked up substantially and all markets closed strong.

The Standard Statistics-Associated Press stock average rose 6.6 points to 94.3, contrasting with Monday's low of 70. There was no carry-over of Wednesday's relapse; buyers appeared to be waiting for stocks at even slightly lower levels and whenever the advance paused during the earlier hours new support was forthcoming. Transactions totaled 2,667,630 shares.

The rise in shares was well distributed. Auburn celebrated with a 22 point sprint. American Telephone jumped 7 3-4, U. S. Steel 5 1-8, American Can 5 3-4, General Electric 3 1-8, Westinghouse 4 1-8, General Motors 2 3-4 and Standard Oil of New Jersey 2 5-8.

prised how much sleep I've lost."

Asked About Liquor

"He said 'well I am about to get in trouble,' " the witness continued.

Jeffries went on to say Yarberry was asked whether he had been "mixed up" with some bootleggers and the defendant allegedly replied, "just wait a few days and you'll see it in the headlines."

The witness said some one asked whether Yarberry referred to the fact "his girl" was "gone" and that Yarberry replied in the affirmative.

"He said she was with Tom Conner last and he thought Tom had been arrested," Jeffries said.

Conversation Cited

Huff likewise saw Yarberry on the same day while the defendant was conversing with Sheriff Frank Hunt.

"I started joking with him (Yarberry,)" Huff said, "I told him if they didn't find her all right they might blame him. I think I told him jokingly they might string him up."

"He said he didn't have to worry about that, that he could prove easy enough he was at home that night."

The prosecution asked Huff, a youth of slight build, if he had ever been "on any drinking parties" with Yarberry.

"Oh yes we've been around together."

Huff added he did not consider Yarberry a heavy drinker, and grinned with embarrassment when state's attorneys asked him about his drinking habits. He said he drank beer, wine and whiskey at times.

Huff insisted, when the prosecution expressed incredulity, he could drink "eight or ten" bottles of beer without "getting lit up."

will be considered: seat; ability to handle horse, take feet out of stirrup and replace without looking at feet; walk, trot and slow gallop (both right and left lead will be required); ride through chairs at trot and gallop; and mount and dismount.

A sweater contributed by Carter-Houston is to be the prize for steer riding. Steers will be ridden with loose rope, with one or both hands, and must be contested until the judge's whistle sounds. Tight-legging is a disqualification. In the calf roping event the prize is a lariat rope given by Sherrod Brothers. Rules for this say that the calf is to be given a 30 foot start of the roper, and when he crosses the dead-line he is the roper's calf regardless of what happens. Roper must dismount and throw calf by hand, tying him so as to hold him until decision is announced by the judge.

Prizes Are Offered

Winner of the bronc riding will be awarded a hat by Hemphill-Wells. The wild horse will be ridden with a surcingle or loose rope, put on under supervision of the arena director. If it comes off, rider will be given a re-ride; he may use one or both hands. Disqualifications are cheating horse to keep him from doing his best, being bucked off, or failing to ride when called.

The Musical Chair is a competitive event, in which there is one less chair than number of riders. Contestants will ride at a gallop around a large circle of chairs while the band plays. When the music stops each man will get to a chair as best he can, but he must take his horse with him. Each time one man fails to find a seat and is eliminated. The last man to get to a chair will be awarded a pair of gloves from Ross-Edwards.

Mounted Wrestling

Mounted wrestling is another competitive event on horseback, the rider's only equipment being a bridle. Contestants will be divided into two teams, whose object is to pull their opponents from their horses. The last man to remain mounted will win a prize of $4 credit at the Model Laundry.

Speed and thought on the part of contestants is required in the quick change relay. Two sets of bridles, blankets, and saddles will be provided the contestant, who will leave starting point A, ride to B, dismount and leave his saddle. He rides back to A, leaves his blanket; goes back to B and removes his bridle. This process is repeated to replace the equipment, with the final line being at point B, and the first rider to cross will win a pair of gloves given by the Caprock Embroidery company.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 8. (AP) — Cash demand good for wheat and grain sorghums.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or group three points:

Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 80@81c; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 81@82c; 14 per cent 85@86c; 15 per cent 89@90c; 16 per cent 93@94c.

Corn, No. 2 mixed 34@35c; No. 2 white 35@37c; No. 2 yellow 43@45c.

Barley, No. 2, 36@38c.

Sorghums, No 2 milo, per 100 pounds 69@71c; No. 2 kaffir 70@72c.

Basis delivered group three:

Oats, No. 2 red 23@24c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP) — Broader demand, largely inspired by decrease of Russian wheat exports and by curtailment of estimates of Germany's wheat yield, jerked all grains upward today. Reported efforts to cancel vessel charters for grain shipments from Russia led to deductions that North American wheat would hereafter be bought more freely for overseas. Besides, primary receipts of domestic wheat today were the smallest in a long while.

Wheat closed strong, 2 1-4 to 2 5-8 cents higher, corn 2 to 2 3-8 advanced, oats 3-4 to 1 1-8 up, and provisions at a shade to 10 cents gain.

World Series

of all times. But they could not wait to express their delight at the feats of the youthful hitting and base running dynamo, a demoralizing .667 hitter in his first world series.

The moment the special train of the Cardinals drew into the station at 12:45 p. m. (CST) after a swift run from Philadelphia, the faithful burst through the guarding lines and swarmed over the platform.

Meek and mild for the first time since the series opened, "Pepper" stepped down into the throng that yelled his name, patted his shoulders until his big gray sombrero kept slipping down over his eyes, and made an effort to get him up on their shoulders for a parade of triumph.

Grabs Wife's Arm

Then it was that "Pepper" quailed, perhaps for the first time in his life, and he grabbed the arm if Mrs. "Pepper" Martin and hung on. The leaders seemed to debate for a moment the possibility of hoisting them both in the air, but discretion prevailed, and the greatest baseball hero since Babe Ruth was in his prime was allowed to escort his wife through cheering lines to a taxicab.

Gabby Street, the old sergeant of the Cards, sat in a taxicab at the station exit and grinned while he puffed his briar pipe and watched the rest of his stars march through the lane that kept crying:

"Where's Martin? Lemme see Martin. Which one's Martin? He's the guy we want to see."

Is Not Worried

Gabby watched in utter contentment and he seemed not at all worried by the slapping and mauling that came Martin's way.

"No need to watch out for him," he chuckled. "He can take care of himself. If you don't think so, ask the Athletics."

Manager Street took his ball club out to Sportsman's park at 3 p. m., to practice hitting and fielding in the home environment. He has chosen big Paul Derringer, the giant rookie who lost the opening game of the series to Lefty Grove, as his starting pitcher tomorrow.

"I still have absolute confidence in Paul," he said. "I thought he'd win two games for me in this series and I still think he'll get one on them. If Earnshaw should happen to have another great no-hit game in his right arm, then I'll have Burleigh Grimes ready to pitch the seventh game."

Excitement Seen

Not since the Cardinals won their first pennant in 1926 and Charles Lindbergh brought the original "Spirit of St. Louis" back here a year later has the Missouri metropolis been in such a state of excitement. The Cardinals are 10 to 7 favorites as they go into the climax struggle.

The world champion Athletics, their crown slipping after a reign of two straight years, arrived three hours after the Cardinals, too late to practice.

There was no discouragement in the champions' fold. With Earnshaw in condition to duplicate Hallahan's feat of winning two games, the A's feel tomorrow's game already is won. Then they look for final victory in the seventh game Saturday, with Lefty Grove, the big disappointment of the series, striving to redeem himself.

Lubbock Loyalty Council To Stand Back Of All Institutions Of City

ize that they are better here than they are in many communities. But rather than wait until it is too late to combat those destructive forces we have decided to organize against them now, so that Lubbock may continue to pass through these times practically unscathed by the economic slump," the chairman declared.

At the conclusion of yesterday afternoon's meeting the names of 29 well known local men were placed on the membership list of the loyalty council and plans were laid for further enlistments in other meetings which will be held during the next week or ten days.

To Add To Membership

"We expect to increase our membership, in time, to every citizen interested in helping to hold intact this city which its citizens have builded," Mr. Jones said. "We believe it is better to add to the list a score or so at a time, so that our principles may be more easily and thoroughly explained to new joiners. We expect to go right ahead enlisting more individuals as rapidly as we can."

Included in the men who enrolled in the Lubbock Loyalty Council yesterday were many who, in the past, have gone onto the civic firing line to gain needed businesses and institutions secured by Lubbock while the city was leaping from a few more than 4,000 persons in 1920, to more than 20,000 in 1930. As they joined in the loyalty movement they displayed the same spirit of co-operation in springing to the defense of the South Plains capital that they manifested in carrying on offensives which, among other improvements, included the securing of Texas Tech, Hotels Lubbock and Hilton; the Ft. Worth and Denver railroad and other institutions.

Committeemen Named

Members of the original committee of 12, named by the chamber of commerce to carry on organization work are:

J. O. Jones, cattleman and president of the Lubbock Building and Loan association, chairman; W. R. Blake, farmer and capitalist, vice-chairman; Charles A. Guy, publisher of the Avalanche-Journal papers, secretary; Sam C. Arnett, president of the Citizens National bank; O. L. Slaton, president of the First National bank; C. E. Maedgen, president of the Lubbock National bank; Warren A. Bacon, capitalist; George P. Kuykendall, president, Kuykendall Chevrolet company; Spencer A. Wells, general manager of Hemphill-Wells Department store; B. Sherrod, of Sherrod Brothers Hardware company; Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president of the Lubbock sanitarium; George A. Simmons, general manager of the Lubbock Cotton Oil company.

Principles Explained

Members signed a card setting forth the principles of the Loyalty league and carrying with it a pledge. The cards read as follows:

"Believing it is time for constructive forces to take a stand for the maintenance and support of Lubbock and its institutions, to combat destructive forces of fear, doubt and lack of confidence abroad in the land; and that this can only be accomplished by uniting the efforts of the manpower of Lubbock banded together for this common purpose, we hereby outline and subscribe to the following principles in forming the Lubbock Loyalty Council:

"1. To loyally support, maintain and sustain the educational, financial and commercial institutions of Lubbock.

"2. To foster an aggressive community interest in the welfare and enterprise of Lubbock citizens, individually and collectively.

"To further these ends and believing that the above principles will maintain Lubbock against destructive forces, I hereby pledge my every effort to bring honor, rather than dishonor, upon my city; to uphold, and not tear down, its ideals, objects, traditions and institutions; and to try, by every word and deed, to quicken the public sense of civic duty, so that I may help to leave to posterity a better city than I found upon entering."

Members Are Listed

Those already signing the pledge of the loyalty council include:

W. A. Bacon, W. J. Garrett, J. A. Hodges, H. W. Stanton, John Dalrymple, Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, H. L. Allen, Dr. J. M. Lewis, J. Milton Jones, W. R. Blake, E. L. Robertson.

Neil H. Wright, R. C. Smith, B. Sherrod, Spencer A. Wells, George P. Kuykendall, W. B. Atkins, Sam C. Arnett, W. H. Meador, Charles A. Guy, Dr. Charles J. Wagner, George A. Simmons, O. L. Slaton, E. L. Pitts, N. L. Peters, A. B. Davis, C. E. Maedgen, E. L. Klett, J. O. Jones and E. J. Parsons.

Others included in the group called to meet yesterday but who were out of the city or who had previous engagements included:

Wesley Read, J. B. Maxey, J. H. Bryan, Roscoe Wilson, Jed A. Rix, W. E. Humphries and Bert Pinson.

Sacrifice Fails

Youth Dies Despite Blood Transfusion

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 8. (AP)—Parental sacrifice had failed today to save the life of Gilbert Farr, 16-year-old school boy, who was accidentally shot by his chum, Charles McGehee, yesterday while the boys were preparing to go on an outing.

The wounded boy's father, a bus driver, was stopped on his route by a telephone call and raced 80 miles back to the city. He submitted to a blood transfusion, and the boy's mother was preparing to submit to a transfusion when death came.

Fair Finances Reported Good

President Of Association In Statement Thursday States 1931 Exposition In Lubbock Was A Success

Homer D. Grant, president of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair association, Thursday reported the eighteenth annual exposition of the association, held here last week, was a financial success. The announcement was made following a board of directors meeting.

Everything Paid

"The fair association is able to pay all bills and premiums", President Grant announced. "We won't owe a thing on this year's operations".

All premiums will be paid just as soon as the clerical work can be finished, officials of the association said. Checks will be mailed out to all successful exhibitors as soon as possible. Exhibitors in the livestock and county departments were paid fifty per cent of their premiums last week and checks for the other half are being mailed out today.

The board expressed appreciation for the support given the fair by the citizens of Lubbock and the South Plains and lauded the work of President Grant, Manager A. B. Davis and other officials in the 1931 exposition.

Attendance Smaller

A total of 79,343 people visited the fair grounds during the six days of the exposition. This was 18,683 smaller than last year. In spite of this and the fact that the premium list was larger, the officials were able to "make both ends meet and give the people of the South Plains a creditable fair display", Grant's announcement said.

Board members talked over plans for 1932 exposition Thursday morning and preliminary plans for a "bigger and better" show will be announced soon, it was learned.

Don't Bite the Hand That Feeds You

That's such a healthy sized bear that we feel called upon to dig up an old expression of warning and solicitude for the fearless young man who is offering food to Mr. Bruin. However, the procedure, while novel, seems to be safe enough and in the best mode as the bear is almost making a net curtsy as he advances for the proffered meal. "Bud" Cook, noted hockey player, who has been drafted by Providence, R. I., from the Boston "Bruins" to play in the National Hockey League this Winter, is the adventurous soul hobnobbing with the bear. The picture was made in Jasper Park, Alberta.

Morrow Remains Rest Near Home

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 8. (AP)—Hidden by tall cedars and the earth, all that was mortal of Dwight Whitney Morrow rested in Brookside cemetery today within sight of the beautiful home from which he had stepped forward to gain riches, fame and position. The late United States senator's funeral was as solemn, dignified and unostentatious as his life and character. A former president of the United States, Calvin Coolidge, a vice president, Charles Curtis, scores of United States senators and representatives, as well as diplomatic leaders, attended the last rites.

The church services, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Carl Ellmore, were in the First Presbyterian church. Classmates of Mr. Morrow from Amherst college, representatives of the Mexican government, where he was American ambassador, and members of the firm of J. P. Morgan & company, where once he was a partner, also attended.

Electrical Farms
Wilbarger Farmers Are All Modern

VERNON, Oct. 8.—Two hundred Wilbarger county farms have their own individual electric plants, 25 are connected with transmission lines of the West Texas Utilities company, and 35 others will have the service within a few months because of construction of the West Texas Utilities' high tension power line from Vernon to Lockett, Thalia and Rayland, according to information compiled by the Vernon Chamber of Commerce. Availability of electric power is expected to increase the number of the county's farm irrigation projects.

Farmers To Leave Cotton Unginned For High Price

SHALLOWATER, Oct. 8. — Because of the demand of pickers here for higher prices, the low price of cotton, and the relatively high cost of ginning, a great many farmers here will sled their cotton or use patent pickers to gather it. The farmers have declared their intention of leaving their cotton piled unginned until conditions improve.

According to one experienced farmer interviewed by this correspondent, the cotton will not deteriorate in quality by remaining for a reasonable length of time unginned in a pile. He says the oil in the seed will tend to improve the sample.

Daughter Plans To Open Battle

LONDON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Miss Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the Prime Minister, will leave London tomorrow to open her father's campaign in Seaham Harbor for a seat in the house of commons.

Mr. MacDonald, who will be sixty-five years old Monday, will have a birthday breakfast with his three daughters and others before Miss Ishbel's departure.

The labor party, which has 480 candidates in the general election campaign and is expected to increase the number to 500, intends to make a strong campaign in virtually every constituency with the possible exception of Malcolm MacDonald's.

The prime minister's son has escaped much of the bitterness heaped upon other labor members of parliament who followed his father into the national government.

Peas placed in boiling water for eight minutes and then frozen in water will keep indefinitely without losing their flavor when cooked.

You've heard of UNCLE WILLIAM'S Famous BEANS

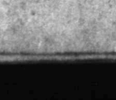

They made him rich, in his little mining camp eating house. No one had ever before tasted beans so different, so delicious.

Now they come in cans—beans like no others in the land, Brown Beauty Beans—grown in mountain uplands. Plump, brown, meaty beauties. Cooked to mellow deliciousness and crowned by Uncle William's own inimitable, secret, savory sauce. Order them from your grocer—and ask for the recipe folder.
