THE ROTAN ADVANCE

Volume 59

Rotan, Fisher County, Texas Thursday, April 15, 1965

No. 11

Good Rain Covers Most of Territory

Considerable excitement occurred in Rotan about 2:30 p. m. Wednesday when high wind, hail and rain struck from the northwest. The cloud built up quickly and moving rapidly struck much sooner than expected. A bad traffic situation occurred at street in front of Primary School as the storm struck at time of dismissal for the day. Street was filled with parents waiting for children. About this time the siren was sounded as tornado alert which caused still more confusion. No accidents were reported from the jam.

The Sheriff's department had a car south and another east of Rotan, after the weather bureau reported radar showing tornadoes in the air. Sheriff's department reported one touching the ground between Rotan and Roby, but no damage. The radar showed the condition to exist for about 45 minutes.

Considerable hail fell and most of the area reported about an inch of rain.

Witherspoon Attends State Teachers Meeting

Dallas, Texas -- The eyes of Texas Teachers were focused on Dallas this past week end when more than 1,000 classroom Teachers from every part of Texas met for their Ninth Annual Convention. Most important subject discussed by those attending the meeting was, of course, the subject of Professional Improvement.

Mr. Robert Witherspoon of the Rotan Classroom Teacher Association was one of several local teachers participating in the meeting. Witherspoon teaches commercial subjects at the Rotan High School where Mr. Neil Wright is the principal.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Witherspoon has been teaching for 15 years and is active in many community affairs in addition to being active in professional organizations such as the Classroom Teacher Association work. Teachers like Mr. Witherspoon form the backbone of the Classroom Teacher Organization -- All for improved professional standards and better education for Texas Children. These teachers are part of the "Texas Teach" Corps.

Certainly, the eyes of Texas are focused on these teachers of the Texas Teach Corps.

Landes Cited For Salvation Army Work

Loys Landes was presented a plaque from the Salvation Army at the Lion's Club last week in recognition of his service in heading the annual Salvation Army Campaign last November.

The Campaign was the most successful in several years with a total of $792.87 raised. Robert N. Eastus, Jr., Field Representative, made the presentation.

The funds are administered by a volunteer committee headed by R. L. Springer. Other members are Mrs. N. O. Johnson, Mac Weathersbee, J. M. Jackson, Roy Kingsfield, Truman Gilliland, H. L. Davis, and Bartlett Stryhorn.

Immediate assistance is given people in need of food, clothing and shelter. Last year a total of 124 local and transient people were aided by the Unit. The Unit also co-operates with the state-wide welfare program of the Salvation Army.

Mac Weathersbee has been again named camp chairman. He will select 2 or 3 boys for the Salvation Army Camp near Midlothian and assist them in preparation for the camping period of a week beginning on June 27th.

Mr. Landes expressed his appreciation for the many people who helped with the November campaign and to those who gave of their means to make the program possible.

Postmaster Gives Information On Obscene Mail Delivered

Postmaster Robert Phillips issued the following statement Wednesday in regard to obscene mail:

"Recently there appeared in a nationally syndicated column a question concerning objectionable material which had been received through the mails.

Anyone receiving such items should bring it to the attention of his postmaster. This is especially true of obscene and pornographic materials, as without the materials and envelope or wrapper as proof of having been in the mails, the postal service is unable to take effective action.

Much mail of this kind is received, and destroyed by people who would like to complain but are reluctant to do so because of embarrassment. The postal service knows that these ads for obscene matter are unsolicited. Mailing lists are obtained commercially or from city and telephone directories, club rosters, and school yearbooks. The latter source make students of high school age the principal target for such obscene mail.

First class mail is protected by law against being opened by anyone except the addressee, his agent, or guardian. Since all of this mail is sent first class it is impossible for the postmaster to act until the patron is willing to make a complaint and turn in such evidence to him.

The matter of obscene and pornographic materials in the mails is a matter of great concern to the Post Office Department, and vigorous laws and regulations have been passed to suppress it, but your co-operation is needed."

Friends here have been advised that Mrs. W. B. Dobbins of Hamlin is recovering from a recent stroke. She is the former Mrs. Home Coppedge of Rotan.

Joe Kelley, center in the picture is being congratulated by his pastor, Rev. Billy Hudnall on his signing letter of intent to attend Hardin-Simmons University on basketball scholarship. His father, Steve Kelley on the right is Fisher County Veteran Service Officer.

Interest Growing In 'Woman of the Year'

Who will be Rotan's "Woman of the Year?" Many possibilities are apparent in the hopes of Beta Sigma Phi, which sponsors the selection, although its own members are not eligible and the choice will be made by a committee of leading men and women of the community.

Women everywhere are giving their efforts and talents to community development. It is for this reason the organization believes recognition is due the Women of the Year in every community.

The banquet is only a week away. At the Beta Sigma Phi banquet April 23, the "Woman of the Year, 1965" will be named.

Who will she be? More details will be in next week's paper.

City-Wide Clean-Up Approved By Council

Plans for a city wide "Clean Up Week" to be held May 3, through May 7, has been approved by the City Council. During this week, the city crews and trucks will canvass the City and remove all trash the residents wish to dispose of.

With the insect and weed season approaching, all residents and property owners are asked to cooperate in this "clean Up" by removing the litter, trash and junk from yards, alleys and lots. There will not be a charge for this service however the city does stress that the trash be gathered and piled as close to the alley as possible in order that it can be loaded conveniently by the workers.

During this campaign the city will have the necessary equipment available to load large items and urge the citizens to get rid of the old stoves, iceboxes, car frames, etc., that are such a nuisance in yards and alleys.

A detailed schedule of the daily runs will appear in next week's Advance. Please check the paper and have your "Clean Up" ready on the day the trucks will be at your location. By having a schedule and canvassing the entire town, it will not be necessary to call or notify the city office, in order to have your trash picked up.

Due to the fact that this is an important and necessary task for the health and also the beauty of the town, please help to make this one of the most successful "Clean Ups" ever held.

Health and Safety Tips

Illness caused by drugs is sometimes reported in news stories. When such reports appear, many individuals become concerned about the safety of their medicines.

It is true that an occasional person does have an adverse reaction to some drug, says a pamphlet of the American Medical Association. It also is true that some drugs tend to produce more adverse reactions than others. Penicillin, the lifesaving wonder drug that quickly knocks out pneumonia and many other serious illnesses and infections, produces adverse reactions in possibly one person of every twenty. But penicillin still saves thousands of lives every year.

The American Medical Association, the U. S. Food and Drug Administration, the companies manufacturing the drugs, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association and many other groups are constantly studying drugs, determining their safe and effective doses, learning of their side effects, and advising physicians and pharmacists about their safe use, as well as their potential dangers.

Patients should feel free to take the drugs prescribed by their physicians but they should let their doctors know about any adverse reactions to drugs which they may have experienced.

If a patient believes he is having a reaction that is not normal, he should report it to his physician immediately and stop taking the drug until his physician can advise him. Only in this way can one be protected from individual differences in drug action.

Modern drugs are a far cry from the herbs and incantations of the tribal medicine man, but they must be used with the same respect and a great deal more care.

Used properly under a physician's direction, they can truly perform modern miracles.

The effect of our thinking on our health will be examined in this Sunday's Bible Lesson to be read at all Christian Science churches. The subject is "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

The Responsive Reading for the day begins with a verse from Isaiah: "Behold I relate new heaven and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind."

Related passages will be presented from the Christian Science textbook, including these lines: "Instead of God sending sickness and death, He destroys them, and brings

Red Cross Safety Program Planned

With more and more American families enjoying water recreation each year, the Red Cross Water Safety program - now in its 51st year - anticipates an ever-increasing need for trained instructors in swimming and boating.

To help meet this need, instructor and leadership training in water safety, first aid, and small craft will again be offered this summer in American National Red Cross Aquatic and Small Craft Schools in 24 locations throughout the nation, including seven midwestern states.

These schools, open to camp counselors, lifeguards, swimming instructors, and other skilled swimmers over 18, are held in outdoor resort settings during June and August. In 10 days of intensified instruction, each school provides an opportunity to learn the newest methods and techniques of teaching first aid, swimming, and lifesaving, and offers leadership training in organizing and conducting community, camp, and pool water safety programs.

There will be a special section in the aquatic schools only for training Red Cross first aid instructors. There are no swimming requirement in these courses. Two of the aquatic schools will offer an elective course in handicapped swimming, with others offering electives in competitive swimming and canoeing for instructor training.

Outstanding volunteer aquatic and safety experts make up the faculty, resulting in no charge for instruction. Students pay only for room, meals, and individual supplies.

Complete enrollment information on the aquatic and small craft schools can be secured through local Red Cross chapters or from American Red Cross, Midwestern Area, 4050 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis, Missouri 63108.

Home Experience Program Studied by Homemaking Classes

Units dealing with clothing for the family have been the subjects of study for all homemaking classes.

Freshmen, who have been studying appropriate clothing, clothing construction of simple garments, and personal grooming and posture, have completed their first project—a "torn apron." The purpose of this project was to teach the students the meaning of grain perfection, stay stitching, clean finishing, and understitching. The second project this class completed was a simple over blouse. From this project, they learned to read pattern directions, to follow guide-sheet lay outs, and to construct a whole garment. When completed, these blouses were modeled with appropriate accessories for class criticism. An additional project is planned for this class that will teach the students pattern alteration and fitting, and laundering and storage of personal and family clothing.

Homemaking II and Home and Family Life classes made cotton dresses for their clothing construction projects. The girls in these classes will also complete additional garments of clothing for themselves and for members of their families. These garments, when completed, are modeled for constructive criticism. Mrs. Kennedy, homemaking teacher, says, "Much to the surprise of many students they learn that criticism is both good and bad. Learning to give and take criticism for one's best efforts strengthens character, points up accomplishments, and improves self-confidence and judgement."

In the units, these homemaking classes have been studying, they have learned about personal wardrobe planning, how to be a good shopper, how to get the most from your dollar, how to buy all types of clothing and accessories, what not to buy, and services offered by various types of stores.

Drum Major and Majorette Tryouts Set

Drum major and majorette tryouts are to be held April 21 and 22. The deadline for entries is April 21.

"Out-of-town" judges will judge the contest. Their decisions will be based on requirements announced by the band director, Mrs. Bart Strayhorn.

Contestants must pass all subjects the six weeks before tryouts. To retain the position of majorette or drum major, one must continue to make passing grades. General requirements include: (1) must be a band member at the time of tryouts and must remain in band; (2) must stay in good standing with the band; and (3) must have no truency on record. A military salute, forward, and reverse figure eights, pass around back, hand spin, the "Little Joe Flip", finger twirls, and aerial work make up the twirling requirements.

Each contestant is expected to present an original routine.

In addition to all other requirements, the drum major must be able to give marching signals and direct the band as it plays.

Once a year in Rotan High School every boy who has ever had a date has his life long dream come true. For one week the girl will ask the boy for the date. The girl takes over all the responsibilities. During the date, the boy decides where he wants to go and the girl takes him. At the end of this glorious week, a kangaroo court is held. This is for the girls and boys who break the rules of Twirp Week.

DKG Enjoys Program By Mrs. Ewell Jenkins

India, from the teeming masses of its humanity to the beauty of the Taj Mahal, was vividly pictured for members of Delta Kappa Gamma Monday night, April 12, at the Community Room of the First National Bank, when Mrs. Ewell Jenkins brought an illustrated program describing her visit there two years ago.

Mrs. Jenkins, who was introduced by Mrs. Whit Clark, program chairman, traced the history of India from the time of the Pyramids to the present day. Since gaining her independence from Great Britain in 1947, India has made great strides economically, educationally and socially. There are still many problems caused by a huge, poverty stricken population, the caste system and language barriers which prevent ready communication between areas. The Indian people were described as intelligent, gentle, honest and pleasant, with handsome features. They work hard and willingly if there is work which they can do, but many of them live in abject poverty. Their comfort is found in their religious faith which is either Hindu or Moslem.

Colored slides were shown as Mrs. Jenkins described the country with its many contrasts. She closed with a quotation by William O. Douglas, "India is a beautiful child, born of of squalor and poverty, uneducated as to grace and manner, but with a warm soul."

In keeping with the program theme, Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. James B. Day brought and displayed many articles which had been brought from India.

The president, Mrs. Joe Benson of Sweetwater, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Olaf South of Sweetwater gave the invocation and Mrs. Herman Phillips reported briefly on the recent Delta Kappa Gamma luncheon at Colorado City. Miss DeHla Baird thanked the Chapter for its cooperation in securing magazines for the Philippine library project. Miss Faye Rhea gave a treasurers' report.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with lace over blue, with a centerpiece arrangement of Spring flowers in blue shades.

Hostesses were: Mmes. Weldon Callan, C. E. Leon, K. C. McCasland, Marshall Hill and Wendell Morrow. Special guests from Rotan were Mrs. R. T. Williams and Mrs. Charles Atwell. Members from Rotan were: Mmes. Clark, Day, Robert Witherspoon, C. J. Dalton, J. R. Strayhorn, Bart Strayhorn, Robert Phillips, Ralph South, Charles McCall.

NEWS

County Agricultural Agent
Texas A. & M. College Extension Service

All county livestock producers should be interested in this news. Fisher County has gone over its quota of $1613.00 by $299.00, in the Scedworm Eradication Program Fund Raising Drive.

All individuals who have worked and made a contribution during the fund raising drive will be glad to know that Fisher County is among the first in Texas to exceed its quota.

Weed control in crops, pastures, on ranges, timberlands, and even ponds and lakes is becoming increasingly important in cutting the costs of production and increasing yields.

Chemicals are playing an increasingly important role in control methods and their use is widespread. In order to give those interested in the use of chemicals for controlling weeds and woody plants of Texas, more information a recent joint publication, B-1029, "Suggestions for Weed control with Chemicals" has been released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment Station.

The suggestions in the bulletin are based on the most valid information available. Consideration was given by the authors not only to the effectiveness of the chemicals but also to their safe use under existing laws and regulations. The authors point out, and emphasize that the ultimate responsibility for safe use and agronomic results obtained from the use of chemicals rests with the user.

Because of the wide range of suggestions offered and chemicals listed, the publication has been prepared in abbreviated form. Other publications are available which give more detailed information and are cited in most sections of B-1029.

Fertilization of shade trees on home grounds provides proper nutrients for better resistance to disease and insect attacks, and is in better shape to withstand drought.

Trees on home grounds cannot benefit from nutrients supplied by falling leaves and branches as do trees in the wild, because these materials are usually raked up. Lawn grasses also use up valuable nutrients available for trees.

Therefore, it is important to fertilize occasionally to maintain healthy tree specimens. Proper time for fertilizing is in the spring or late fall.

A complete analysis fertilizer such as 10-10-10 or a similar analysis with near equal amounts of nitrogen, phosphorous and potash will be satisfactory.

Newly transplanted trees or those less than two inches in diameter four and one-half feet above the ground should not be fertilized. Others may be fertilized at a rate of one pound per inch of tree trunk diameter measured at the same height. Less fertilizer should be used if a portion of the tree roots are covered by pavement or sidewalk.

Apply the fertilizer in one-inch holes started at least two feet away from the tree trunk out to about two feet beyond the limb spread. Holes should be spaced about two feet apart and 12 to 18 inches deep.

Place an amount of fertilizer equal to the volume of a small concentrated fruit juice can in each hole and fill it with water. One or two good waterings about 10 days apart after fertilizing will help.

Whether or not you fertilize, occasional watering will be helpful, especially during prolonged dry periods.

A cotton production meeting, sponsored by the Fisher County Extension Service, will be held Tuesday night, April 20, in the American Legion Building in Rotan, according to James S. Norman, County Agricultural Agent.

The meeting, beginning at 7:30 P. M. is open to the public, especially those interested in the production of cotton.

Three specialists from the Texas Extension Service will present the program, according to Norman.

They are Fred Elliott, College Station, cotton specialist who will discuss: varieties, cultural practices, and the newest developments in the use of herbicides in controlling weeds in cotton; B. G. Reeves, College Station, agricultural engineer, who will discuss the latest information on mechanization in reducing cotton production costs; and Don Rummel, Lubbock, Area entomologist, who will discuss cotton insect control, with emphasis on boll weevil.

A member of the Fisher County Committee of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., will give a brief discussion and report on the boll weevil diapause control program.

FHA Making Loans On Economic Opportunities Act

Mr. L. J. Cappleman, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, announced that 247 loans to individual families have been made in Texas under the provisions of the Economic Opportunities Act of 1964, which is one of the powerful weapons of the United States Department of Agriculture being used in President Johnson's all-out War on Poverty Program.

These loans were made to individual farmers and rural residents in most sections of Texas. A farm family who is operating a farm they own or lease, and is producing at least a portion of their subsistence from crops or livestock. A rural resident is classified as one living in a town of not more than 2,500 population.

Economic Opportunity Loans to farmers may be made to improve their farming operations; to buy more land, livestock, machinery and equipment; to construct needed farm buildings; and to pay annual operating expenses for feed, seed and fertilizer. These loans may be obtained by farm and rural families to finance rural-based, but non agricultural enterprises. Funds may be used to purchase land, construct buildings, buy and install equipment and pay normal operating expenses of a variety of non-agricultural enterprises, such as a farm machinery repair shop; TV and radio repair shop; ladders, spraying equipment and tools to be used by painters and carpenters; blacksmith shop; septic tank and sewage disposal system servicing; custom grass setting and land preparation; saw and lawn mower sharpening shop; post and wood cutting equipment; portable sheep and goat shearing equipment; etc.

Economic Opportunity Loans are for the purpose of helping low-income rural families raise their income level. Rural families who need a small amount of capital to improve their incomes may borrow up to $2,500 for 15 years at 4 1-8 percent interest. These loans are secured by a promissory note by the borrower and a loan agreement scheduled in accordance with his ability to repay.

Families and single individuals with incomes which are too low to cover basic needs, and who, with the assistance of the Farmers Home Administration county supervisor, are successful in developing a plan of operation which will provide a reasonable prospect of increasing their earnings through a small amount of credit from a farming operation or other non-agricultural enterprise, and are unable to obtain adequate credit on reasonable terms elsewhere, are eligible to receive the loans.

Mr. Cappleman also advises that Economic Opportunity Loans may be made to finance processing, marketing, purchasing and service type cooperatives which directly benefit low-income families living in rural areas. These loans may be scheduled for repayment over periods up to 30 years at an interest rate of 4 1-8 percent. The cooperative must pledge as security for the loan a property lien and pledge of revenue.

Some examples of cooperatives which might receive a loan are those packing, selling and shipping products grown on members' farms; marketing items constructed in home workshops of members, such as handicraft items; processing farm products; providing custom farm work for members; and wholesale buying of essential farm operating items such as machinery, seeds, and fertilizer. These loans may be made to established or newly formed cooperative associations made up of a membership 2-3 of whom are low-income rural families, and serving predominately families in this group.

Mr. Cappleman stated that additional information concerning this program may be obtained from county Farmers Home Administration personnel, County and Home Demonstration Agents, Vocational Agricultural teachers, Soil Conservation Service and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service representatives, and other Uni-

There are 133 County Offices servicing every county in Texas. Applications are usually filed in the county in which the farm family or rural resident resides.

He is not here. The Cross and the Tomb have both been snatched from their association with death. They have been transformed by love and self-giving. DARK FRIDAY becomes GOOD FRIDAY with the revealing of Heavenly love. Christmas is sanctified in Easter. He lives and we, too, shall live, in the measure in which we learn to kiss the Cross, our cross as well as His. His journey to Golgotha transfigured the cross forever, TURNING A SYMBOL OF SUFFERING INTO A SYMBOL OF TRIUMPHANT LIFE. It is Easter.
