Yanks Reported Slashing Across Rhine

Approval Of U.S. Plan By Parley Seen

By FLORA LEWIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—United States stipulations which would permit U. S. adherence to hemisphere-wide guarantees against aggression without congressional ratification have been accepted by key South American nations, it was learned on highest authority tonight.

Brazil, Uruguay and Colombia, sponsors of the Declaration of Chapultepec which would pledge military force to assure existing frontiers against aggressors, have acquiesced to U. S. modifications.

Connally Approves Plan

The United States delegation has secured the approval of Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex), it was learned today, for a modified declaration of Chapultepec which would pledge force immediately against continental peace-breakers during the war.

The new declaration states that the American republics consider any aggression in this hemisphere as an attack on the United Nations war effort and will impose military sanctions, if necessary, under their executives' wartime powers. It also recommends negotiation of a treaty, which would then be submitted for ratification in the U. S. to make the guarantee lasting.

Approval of plans today to set up a new Pan-American union governing board on May 1 opened the way for Argentina to attend union meetings again whether or not the other American nations recognize that government.

Argentine Instructions

A member of the union, Argentina instructed her delegate not to go to any more meetings after her request for an inter-American conference to consider her case was turned down. Buenos Aires may now change mind and send a delegate along with the other countries, since the representative would be accredited only to the union and not to Washington under the new system.

Adoption of the Declaration of Chapultepec and related projects to enforce peace in the hemisphere, as well as measures to balk any Nazi infiltration attempts, will in effect be a message to Argentina on the system she will have to accept to get back into inter-American good graces, delegates said privately.

Yanks Seize Lubang Island, Complete Channel Clearance

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Saturday, March 3.—Men of MacArthur, making their 18th island invasion in the Philippines—the fifth in a little over a week—have landed on Lubang island, 35 miles southwest of Manila bay's entrance and thus completed clearance of the shortest sea route through the Philippines from the United States.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today announced seizure of the 18-by-eight mile island at the west end of Verde passage just one day after he disclosed his forces further southwest had invaded Palawan island where a third airfield now is in American hands.

Elements of Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving's 24th division, who played a major role on Leyte island and also helped recapture Corregidor fortress landed on Lubang "against neglible resistance."

Today's communique said Maj. Gen. Jens A. Doe's veteran 41st division Yanks on Palawan, westernmost of the Philippines, have completed occupation of Puerto Princesa harbor, midway along the island's 275-mile-long east coast, and seized the Iwahig penal colony airfield. Two other airfields were won the day of the landing, Wednesday.

18th Island Invaded

MacArthur said the seizure of Lubang, the 18th island invaded by the Americans, "completes the capture of all key positions through San Bernardino straits and the Verde island passage designed to secure the main navigational channel through the islands for shipping from the United States."

In recent invasions the Yanks have invaded Verde island, just east of Lubang, and Capul and Biri islands at the eastern end of the main navigation route through the central Philippines.

East of Manila, in the important Marikina watershed area, First Cavalry and Sixth division troops maintained their pressure against a strong Japanese defense force, while heavy bombers supported the ground drive with a 120-ton bombing of enemy positions.

Hold Most Of Sea Coast

The Stars and Stripes flew from northern Luzon to Palawan along almost the entire South China sea length of the Philippines today with Gen. MacArthur, in a symbolic return to Corregidor, declaring: "Let no enemy ever pull them down."

MacArthur returned to the historic "Rock" fortress at the entrance to Manila bay almost three years to the day after his torpedo boat escape from the invading Japanese.

The flag was placed on Palawan, most westerly of the Philippines, by veterans of the U. S. 41st Infantry division Wednesday in the latest island invasion in the archipelago.

On Corregidor, MacArthur gave the flag raising order at the dramatic ceremony yesterday to Col. George Jones of Memphis, Tenn., whose American paratroopers helped recover the fortress.

Hoisted To Same Staff

The national emblem was hoisted to the same topside parade ground staff from which the Japanese tore it and trampled it in the dust in 1942.

A strong force of Liberators dropped 200 tons of bombs on airdromes on Mindanao island, in the southern Philippines, cratering runways and starting numerous fires in the Davao and Zamboanga areas.

Heavy bombers swept the China sea as far north as Okinawa, north of Formosa, sinking five small freighters and leaving another five afire. Three other small freighters were sunk in the Hong Kong area of the South China sea.

Northern Borneo airdromes were hit with 95 tons of bombs.

Rollie C. Burns, Pioneer West Texas Builder, Dies

A MAN who figured largely in the settlement and development of the South Plains, Rollie C. Burns, 87, one of the founders of the city of Lubbock, and probably the first grower of cotton in the Lubbock area, died Friday night in West Texas hospital after an extended period of failing health.

ROLLIE C. BURNS

Few men could be found whose life spanned as many phases of West Texas history.

Coming to this section in 1881, Burns witnessed the demise of the free and easy life of the Indians before they were forced onto reservations: he saw the great buffalo herds a year before the first commercial hide hunters entered the Panhandle; he saw the development of the cattle industry on the South Plains through the free range phase and then the inclosed ranching period; he saw the big ranch give way to the onslaught of the nesters; he helped found a city and stood by while agriculture become supreme on the plains.

Funeral arrangements had not been made late last night but a member of the family said that services probably would not be held until Monday or Tuesday.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. R. H. McCrummen, 3204 Ave. T, a son, Garza Burns, of the same

Nazis Report Red Trap In North Closed

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Saturday, March 3.—Germans announced last night that Red Army spearheads had rolled within four miles of the Baltic Pomeranian coast, slashing the Berlin-Stettin-Danzig military superhighway near Koeslin and trapping scores of thousands of Nazi troops in a 5,800-square-mile section of northeastern Pomerania, the Polish "corridor," and Danzig.

The Soviet high command did not immediately confirm this sensational development, telling only of the capture of 30 villages on the western side of the Baltic salient. Moscow apparently was waiting until the narrow tank-tipped wedge had been strengthened before announcing that Pomerania had been chopped in two and another great trap sprung on the reeling foe.

Reach Highway At Zanow

Striking 22 miles north of captured Bublitz, Marshal K. K. Rokossovsky's Second White Russian Army veterans reached the Koeslin-Schlawe section of the big highway at Zanow after three days' hard fighting and the employment of 60,000 men, an enemy broadcast said.

The Berlin-Danzig trunk railway—last artery connecting central Germany with the imperiled northeastern forces—lies only a mile north of Zanow, within easy range of Russian guns, and one German Transocean agency report from the front said that Soviet troops also had reached it.

Backed by six divisions, three armored and three motorized infantry, Russian vanguards yesterday were "feeling their way forward to the eastern outskirts of Koeslin," bottleneck junction town four miles southwest of Zanow and four miles from the coast, the Germans said.

Russian Version

The nearest the Russians were placed to Koeslin officially by Moscow was at captured Dubbertech, five miles northwest of Bublitz and 18 miles southeast of Koeslin. With the seizure of this village one Soviet column was only 10 miles northeast of Gross-Tychow, site of a large American prisoner of war camp.

Although it is likely the Germans already have begun moving these prisoners westward a dispatch to the Russian newsppaer Izvestia said that great numbers of Allied war prisoners were being freed in the sweep through Pomerania.

Attacking on a 22-mile front northwest and west of Neustettin, taken Wednesday, the Russians gained up to nine miles from their previous positions as they expanded the western side of the Baltic salient.

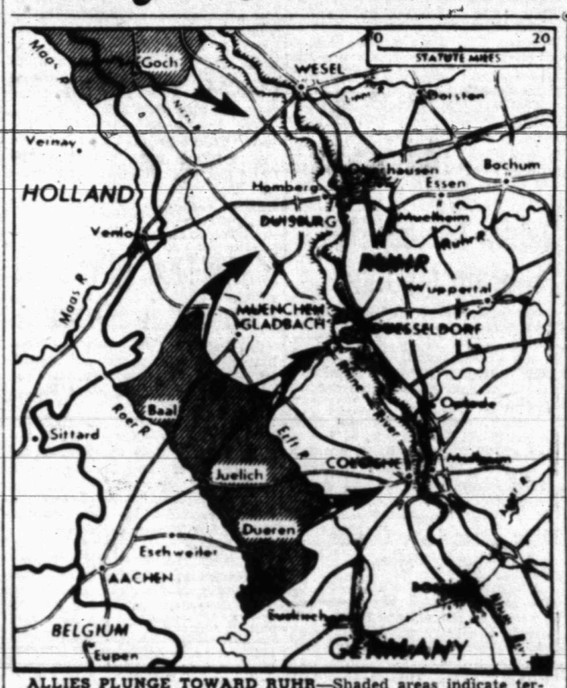

East Prussia Pocket

Tightening their knot on the enemy troops pocketed in East Prussia the Russians gained up to one mile on a 16-mile front southwest of Koenigsberg, capturing six localities, including Rosen, two and a half miles southwest of Zinten and 12 miles southeast of Heiligenbeil, and Mertensdorf, five miles southeast of Braunsberg.

The Germans in this area are compressed into a 325-square-mile pocket with their backs to the

Breaching Of River May Touch Off Reds

ALLIES PLUNGE TOWARD RUHR—Shaded areas indicate territory won during the current smashing American offensive across the Roer river, which by Friday night had been expended onto the Rhine, and in the north by the Canadians. Open arrows show direction of movement of these armies as they surge for the Ruhr before a disorganized enemy.

Superbly-Equipped British 2nd Army Also Said Moving

LONDON, Saturday, March 3—The first American troops have crossed the Rhine river at Neuss, London reports indicated early today as the German radio said "Americans are making efforts to cross the Rhine."

Front line dispatches to London newspapers said the first patrols already were across but no details were given.

One dispatch from Ninth Army headquarters said, "It looks as if the Germans fell for our bluff that we were going for Cologne. I can tell you now it never was our objective."

Other reports indicated the British Second Army, which has been largely in reserve, now is on the move. The German radio declared this powerful, fresh and superbly-equipped force "is preparing for a crossing of the lower Rhine at Emmerich."

It was unofficially believed here that a breaching of the Rhine will be the signal for resumption of the gigantic Russian offensive in a coordinated east-west drive to the heart of the Reich.

Ninth Engulfs All Ruhr Arsenal Area

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, March 3 — The U. S. Ninth Army smashed to the Rhine at two points today, engulfed all the arsenal cities in the Ruhr basin west of that formidable river, routed the German 15th Army, and began shelling Duesseldorf in the greatest offensive in American history.

It split the German defenses and sent the mauled enemy in frantic retreat across the Rhine as the U. S. First Army fought to within four and a half miles of Cologne and the U. S. Third Army captured the ancient fortress of Trier, guarding the Moselle river route to Coblenz.

The Canadian First Army on the north knocked out two other strongpoints in a five-mile surge through the buckling lines, and was 10 miles from a junction with

Iwo Advance May Trap Nip Fanatics

By ELMONT WAITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Guam, Saturday, March 3.—Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine's Third Marine division lunged into the rugged north end of Iwo Friday to within 600 yards of cutting the Japanese garrison in two and sealing the point of greatest enemy resistance.

Driving a 700-yard wedge and seizing a 362-foot hill, the Leathernecks in the center of the Marine line approached the cliff edge on the island's northeast coast.

May Trap Japanese

The wedge threatened to trap Nipponese who have held Maj. Gen. Clifton B. Cates' Fourth Marines, moving up the east side, to slow gains for the past five days.

The incomplete count of enemy dead rose more than 2,300 in four days to 7,127 by noon Friday.

Within a day or two, combat planes based on Iwo may be joining carrier-based aircraft for the first time in assaulting Nipponese holding out on the north tip, called "Hell's Suburbs" because of its treacherous terrain.

Engineers have the captured southern airfield, within fighter plane range of Tokyo, almost ready for use by fighters, bombers and transport planes.

Maj. Gen. Keller E. Rockey's Fifth Marine division on the west coast, which previously had captured another Hill 362—the hills on the island are named for their height in feet—beat off Japanese counterattacks.

Japs Fight Fiercely

The Japanese garrison, originally estimated at 20,000, fought back fiercely from the less than one-third northern part still in their hands.

Today's communique, announcing the latest successes, said the enemy employed "intense small arm, automatic weapons and mortar fire."

The advances of the Third beyond Motoyama town carried those Devildogs within 1,400 yards of the island's northernmost tip. The captured hill left the Nipponese only a small knob of the same height near the steep eastern cliffs which rise from the beach.

Front dispatches said the Third has scored a breakthrough which is bringing the campaign, 13 days old today, into its closing stages.

The big bomber air base captured Feb. 20 on the second day of the invasion on the south part of the island is being restored swift-

Sky Battles Cost Nazis 109 Planes

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 2.—American airmen fought one of the biggest sky battles in weeks today, destroying at least 109 enemy planes, as more than 6,000 Allied aircraft hammered German targets in a series of attacks which included two by RAF heavy bombers against besieged Cologne.

The U. S. Eighth Air force hurled 1,250 four-engined bombers and nearly 800 escorting fighters deep into the Reich during the day and incited the luftwaffe into sending aloft its carefully hoarded interceptors. American fighters shot down 67 and wrecked an additional 36 on the ground. Gunners aboard the big bombers shot down six.

U. S. Losses Incomplete

A communique from the Eighth Air force said a tally of its own losses still was incomplete tonight.

The spectacular aerial battle involving the Americans was but one phase of the gigantic Allied air assault which carried through its 18th consecutive day. The operation marked the 12th straight day of attacks by the Eighth Air force and the 11th during that period when the force has numbered more than 1,000 bombers.

Battered Cologne, next to Berlin the most bombed city in the world, was struck by 3,600 tons of bombs from nearly 1,000 British heavies even while artillery of the U. S. Ninth Army continued its ceaseless shelling from little more than four miles away.

Cathedral Avoided

The bombers and artillerymen avoided the famous cathedral in the Rhine's first city, but found plenty of targets in the glaring sunlight which was softened only by pillars of smoke rising 8,000 feet into the air.

More than 750 RAF Lancasters and Halifaxes bombed Cologne during the morning and more than

Williams Won't Quit REA Fight

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Senate leaders were reported tonight to have proposed to Aubrey Williams that he ask President Roosevelt to withdraw his nomination as Rural Electrification administrator.

They told him, the report went, that there appeared to be no chance for confirmation, but Williams replied that he would prefer to go down fighting.

Heavy Opposition

The suggestion that Williams withdraw was made after canvasses showed a heavy Democratic defection from support of him. Opponents were claiming 44 to 48 assured votes — depending on whose poll was used — against confirmation, with many senators still uncommitted. The Senate membership is 96.

But Senator Ellender (D-Ala), Williams supporter, told reporters: "We've got a fighting chance. If the Senate will read the printed record of the hearings, I do not see how it can turn down Aubrey Williams. I have never seen such bias and prejudice as has confused consideration of this issue."

Republicans and southern Democrats fighting the nomination won the first round today with a 12-8 Senate Agriculture committee vote against confirmation.

Early Vote Unlikely

A Senate vote is improbable before the last of next week at the earliest. The disposition of the leadership is to dispose first of manpower legislation.

Williams is a former social worker who was deputy administrator of the WPA under Harry Hopkins and later head of the National Youth administration. Now 54, he has been organization director for the National Farmers union since NYA was abolished in 1943.

His nomination is for a 10-year term. The post pays $12,000 a year.

More Workers Are Made Idle

DETROIT, March 2. (AP)—More than 33,000 war workers, either on strike or laid off for lack of parts, were idle tonight in twelve Chrysler corporation and Briggs Manufacturing Co. plants in the Detroit area.

Production in these factories of parts for tanks, for B-29 Superfortresses, for anti-aircraft guns, and heavy and light trucks and ambulances was at a virtual standstill.

The National War Labor board late today summoned management representatives and union leaders of the Chrysler strikers to a hearing tomorrow in Washington in an attempt to end the walkout.

Ignore Work Appeal

The strikers, members of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), had ignored an appeal from Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson to resume production of war material he said was "urgently needed" on the fighting fronts.

Defying warnings of disciplinary action by international officials of their union, the workers spread their work stoppage today to five Briggs factories and to the Chrysler De Soto Warren Avenue plant.

An afternoon survey by company officials showed a total of 27,050 on strike and another 6,500 forced into idleness for lack of parts.

Immediate cause of the strikes in the Dodge main plant and the Briggs Mack Avenue units was discharge of several employes.

General Harmon Is Reported Missing

(By The Associated Press)

Lt. General Millard F. Harmon, commander of Army Air force in the Pacific Ocean area, was reported Friday night to be missing.

Reports current in Washington said a plane in which the general was a passenger was overdue. These accounts could not be confirmed immediately at the War department.

The Blue network, in a broadcast from Washington, had said that Gen. Harmon had been lost in a plane crash in the Pacific.

It was presumed that an intensive search was underway for the missing plane, apparently more than 24 hours overdue by Friday night.

Full Effects On Nazis Indefinite

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Total collapse of German defenses west of the Rhine is in full swing in what looms as the most significant Nazi disaster of the war.

The break-up was so complete that cities and villages by the score up and down the heavily industrialized left bank of the river fell to Allied forces virtually without a shot being fired.

SIMPSON

From the Bonn area upstream on the right flank of the American First Army to the Wesel bridges the story was the same. The whole west Rhineland Siegfried line system of defenses in depth was being turned from the rear. The Canadians and the fast-moving left flank of the American Ninth Army in the center, with elements already on the banks of the Rhine, were within a day's march or less of each other. Crack German shock divisions were in desperate danger of being cut off from escape.

It is doubtful that any of the

Jap Government To Take Over Plants

(By The Associated Press)

The Japanese government announced yesterday it would take over the management of certain aircraft factories. This apparently is an attempt to increase warplane production.

The inadequacy of Nipponese plane output has been increasingly evident as American forces advance deeper into the Japanese sphere. On top of that, some of the larger plants have been pounded hard by B-29s and carrier plane raids.

A Domei news agency broadcast recorded by the FCC said specially designed plane factories would be put under the supervision of the government controlled munitions industry, and that "for the time being the workers will be contributed by the companies."

The change is to be effective by April 1 "at the latest."

Scorched Earth Policy Ordered

LONDON, March 2. (AP)—Nazi rulers ordered a scorched earth defense of western Germany today as enemy broadcasts declared the British Second Army had launched a new offensive on the Maas river, which they said set 160 miles of the Western front aflame.

There was no Allied confirmation of the enemy broadcast, which said that Lt. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey had sent his British troops smashing across the Maas between the onrushing U. S. Ninth Army and the Canadian First Army at the north end of the front.

The Ninth Army last was reported 10 miles from the Canadians, and the Germans said Dempsey struck straight eastward and was a piston head between the two to smash the German Army against the Rhine.

Calls For "Holy Rage"

In this darkening situation, Propaganda Minister Goebbels' spokesman, Wilfrid von Oven, called for "a holy rage which will not shrink from total destruction of our ancient towns in the west."

"If the enemy succeeds in continuing his advance in the west," he declared, "nothing will prevent us from defending town after, house by house and ruin by ruin."

Dispatches from the Ninth Army front said that such orders were being ignored, and civilians were not lifting a finger against the Americans.

So Solly, General, Rat Holes Cleared

(By The Associated Press)

Lt. Gen. Tadamichi Kuribayashi, Japanese commander on Iwo Jima, was pictured by Tokyo radio today as a chieftain whose "partly protruding belly is packed full of strong fighting spirit."

He knows the island so well that "even should he be asked where a certain hole made by rats is to be found, he would answer quickly without hesitation," said the broadcast, heard by the FCC.

The burden on Kuribayashi's memory for Iwo rat holes is rapidly being lightened by United States Marines, who have compressed the stubborn Japanese garrison into the northern end of the island.

Gene Howe And Texas Severely Derided As Arizona Solons Take Up Film Scrap

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 2. (AP)—Gene Howe, Amarillo publisher who recently editorially derided Arizona and a Hollywood producer planning to film a story of the Texas Panhandle in this state, became "the target for today" in the Arizona legislature.

Rep. A. Berky, of Tucson, introduced a resoluation "relating to the protection of Arizona's integrity for envious and scurrilous slander" of "One Gene Howe" who has written "unbrageous strictures on the character and climate of our fair state out of pin-headed pique over the fact that motion pictures having to do with Texas are produced in Arizona."

The film in dispute, Berky's resolution adds, "is based on the life of an Arizona pioneer, a lady stagecoach robber," but the scenario locale was changed to Texas because the producers "were convinced that Texas is a more appropriate millieu for the anti-social depredations" to which the character portrayed "was addicted."

"Texas should be grateful for being cut in on the film even that much," Berky's proposal said.

Texas State Senator Grady Hazlewood who threatens to introduce a law prohibiting the showing of the picture in Texas, also received prominent mention in the Arizona resolution.

"No Texan can be a competent judge of anything, being of necessity myopic inasmuch as dust precludes his viewing any object at a distance greater than a quarter of a city block, even on a clear day," Berky's missile stated. "Due to the overcast, films shot at high noon in Texas, transposed to the screen, look like midnight anyway."

Two former Texans rose in defense of the Lone Star state when Reps. Robert Barber, of Tucson, and Secil Bell, Phoenix, opposed a motion by Berky to have the resolution printed in the House Journal.

"Howe's article was merely an example of the freedom of the press in this country," said Barber. Bell argued that the printing would result only in unnecessary exaggeration of the incident.

Berky then withdrew the motion and the resolution was referred to committee.

March 2, 1945

DEAR:—

March blew in with enough breeze yesterday that we are hoping it will leave like a lamb; particularly since the next day April 1 is Easter. Winter's icy fingers have had a firm grip on the South Plains this week. Snow, sleet and rain have peppered the streets within the past few days.

March, which means the time for income tax payments, is the month for the Red Cross war fund drive. Early indications are that Lubbock will go over the top without any pressure.

Farmers of the South Plains will be driving on hardsurfaced roads in bringing their products to market, should the state highway commissioners accede to wishes of county commissioners courts of the area. Delegations from seven South Plains counties appeared in hearings in Austin this week before the commission for designation, maintenance and construction of farm-to-market roads.

Lubbock was host this week to three well known war writers and news commentators. Lubbock Junior Welfare league sponsored John B. Hughes in a lecture on the liberation of the Philippines and Lubbock AAUW branch sponsored John Goette and James Young, two INS foremost correspondents, in a debate on our Far Eastern policy.

Hugh Rowland was elected editor of the Toreador, campus newspaper at Tech college, and Merrilyn Snider, senior journalism major, also of Lubbock, was elected editor of La Ventana, yearbook for next year in an election held Wednesday.

Lubbock's handful of night "entertainment" spots have fallen in line with Washington's midnight closing edict. As a matter of fact, most of the places had been closing around midnight anyway.

R. W. Matthews, superintendent of Lubbock schools, suffered a painful injury and his wife received bruises when their car overturned on the highway near Taos, N. M., shortly after 10 o'clock Thursday morning. They are in a Taos hospital. The accident occurred when their car overturned and rolled over two or three times. Mr. Matthews, who owns a cabin near Tres Ritas, N. M., had been called to the New Mexico area on business.

Much of our news of service men this week is bad. The casualties come in greater numbers every day.

Lt. William C. Jones, 24-year-old Lubbock graduate of U. S. military academy, will lose a leg as a result of front line injuries received Feb. 10 in Germany. He served with the paratroops.

Lt. Jones telephoned his mother, Mrs. Clyde C. Jones, from a point in Maine that he is to be sent to a Utah hospital where the amputation will be performed.

Capt. Clarence Symes, seriously injured in action with the 90th division, is now in Bushnell General hospital, Brigham City, Utah, where he underwent an amputation. He has reported satisfactory progress and said he has hopes of a transfer to a Texas hospital soon. Both Bill and Clarence are former employes of the Avalanche-Journal.

Capt. James H. Milam, former Lubbock attorney, is in an English hospital recovering from superficial wounds in the right leg and left arm and shoulder. He has written his wife, the former Kathrine Malone of Lubbock, that he expects to be in the hospital for at least 60 days.

Cmdr. and Mrs. Martin H. Benson (he was known as Dr. "Hank" Benson in civilian life) are visiting here after a stay of two years on the West Coast. Cmdr. Benson is being transferred to Bethesda, Md.

Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer of South Plains Army Air field before it was inactivated, has gone to San Antoni where he will be re-assigned.

A Civil Aeronautics board examiner has recommended that an Essair airline be granted CAB authority to operate between Houston and Amarillo. When William Long, president of Essair, was in Lubbock the middle of February, he said the company had hopes of starting service by March 15. This would give Lubbck its first scheduled airline service.

Hop Halsey has been promoted to staff sergeant in the U. S. Marines and is stationed somewhere in the Southwest Pacific. He recently wrote his parents of a reunion attended by a dozen men in various branches of service from the Lubbock area. Sgt. Halsey is stationed on one of the Marianas islands and is a communications officer in the Marine Air Transport command.

Perhaps you have already read that Ed McKeever has signed as coach of Cornell university and will report at Ithaca, N. Y., April 1 and expects to start spring training 15 days later.

That's all until next week.

Goodbye and good luck.

After the American Revolution, Washington — reputed to be one of the richest men in the country — had to borrow 600 pounds for his journey to New York to assume the office of President.

A bridge party was given by Mrs. Bob Gee, 2411 Thirty-second, in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jarrell E. Brown of Albany, Ga., Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Brown and her husband, Lt. Brown, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gee and Lt. Brown's mother, Mrs. Pearl Sampson, 1404 Ave. O.

Spring flowers were decorations.

Mrs. Frank Gumm scored high in the games and second high was made by Mrs. C. D. Hall. The honoree received a guest gift.

Others present were Mesdames G. P. Cunningham, Don Jordan, Guy Wheatley, Durward Mahon, H. T. Wiley, Fred Youree, Ray Livesay, W. K. Cooper and Noel Stalnaker.

Mrs. Jerry Brooks was a tea guest.

Party Courtesy To Homemaking Class

Emma Gene Tonn, student teacher of the first year clothing class at Senior High school, gave a party for the class at her home, 2206 Broadway, Thursday night. Games were played.

Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table centered with an arrangement of yellow jonquils in a crystal bowl and green candles.

Attending were Anne Segulia and Margaret Hiatt, future student teachers, and Camilla Conley, Pat Keith, Geneva McClain, Jane Williams, Georgia Calvert, Gloria Griggs, Roberta Niblack, Janice Lindsey and Ruby Brewer.

Initiation Is Held By Rebekah Lodge

Rebekah lodge initiated six candidates at a service in IOOF hall Thursday night. They were Doris Mae Burdett and Mesdames Ruby Hope, Jo Evelyn Anderson, Ida Williams, Jodie James and Hazel James.

Mrs. E. P. Norwood, noble grand, presided.

Mrs. Walter Cross, a resident whose membership is in the Hobbs, N. M., lodge and Mrs. Lula Leach of Brownwood were visitors.

Refreshments were served to 45 persons.

Jack Meltons Have Social For IBEW

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Melton, 2409 Eighth, were hosts to Woman's auxiliary to IBEW Local 850 and husbands for a social hour Thursday night.

Refreshments were served to Messrs. and Mesdames J. F. Howard, A. B. Bryant, Jack Veazy, W. S. Pool, H. D. Reid, Paul Williams, Earl Bloodworth, and Mrs. Allen Loter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bloodworth, 2624 Walnut will be hosts to the auxiliary at 8 p. m. March 15.

Legion Support For Free Press Urged

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP) — American Legion posts throughout the country are being urged to endorse the principle of a free flow of world news as an essential to establishment of permanent peace.

Members of the Vincent B. Costello post of Washington are seeking nationwide support of their pledged "efforts toward the incorporation of a charter of freedom of news and communications in the forthcoming peace settlements."

Officials of the post, largest in the District of Columbia, today mailed to 5,000 Legion organizations copies of a resolution expressing "enthusiastic approval of the free press principles advocated by Mr. Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press.

The resolution, approved at the post's February meeting and made public today, notes that the free news principle has been endorsed by both major political parties and by Congress in a concurrent resolution.

Many Texas Projects Included In Measure

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—Fifteen Texas projects are included in the postwar rivers and harbors bill which President Roosevelt signed today.

The largest Texas projects are the $28,000,000 Neches and Angelina rivers and the $15,000,000 Trinity river improvement programs.

Other allocations for Texas are: Improvement of the Brownsville ship channel, $635,000;

Louisiana and Texas intracostal waterway to Barroom, $6,300; Louisiana and Texas intracoastal waterway to Harlingen, $600,000; Sabine-Neches waterway, $10,000; Lavon reservoir on the east fork of the Trion river, $3,733,000; Houston ship channel, $3,695,630; Clear Creek and Clear Lake, $30,000; Chocolate and Bastrop Bayous, $108,000; channel from Pass Cavallo to Port Lavaca and Lavaca-Navidad rivers, $120,000; Guadalupe river, $8,500,000; Aransas Pass-Corpus Christi channel, $830,000 and the Brazos Island harbor project, Port Isabel turning basin, $127,500.

Ice Heavily Damages Trees At Sherman

SHERMAN, March 2. (AP)—Many old fruit orchards and pecan trees were devastated by Monday night's ice storm which struck the Sherman area, but younger trees apparently came through with slight damage.

Pecan trees suffered heavily. One farmer reported $1,000 damage to trees recently budded.

To save trees in Sherman yards and parks the assistance of foresters from Texas A. and M. college has been secured for advice and demonstrations on pruning and topping. Mayor T. P. Aston has appointed a committee to work out a conservation program after the demonstrations.

Wedding Vows Read In Bickley Home

Mrs. Annie Teague of Lubbock and Albert F. Logan of O'Brien in Haskell county were married at 6 p. m. Thursday in the home of the officiating minister, Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor of Asbury Methodist church.

They will be at home in O'Brien. Mrs. Logan has been proprietor of a grocery store here.

Guests were Miss Clemmie Teague, Mrs. Minnie Sanders and Mrs. C. A. Ross.

Miss Helen Edwards Speaks For 4-H Club

Roosevelt Junior 4-H club met Thursday afternoon at the grade school with Minta Ann Gammill in charge. Coin purses and a matching scarf were displayed. Miss Helen Edwards spoke on the best varieties of vegetables to be planted in spring gardens.

The club elected Dorene Denbres bedroom demonstrator.

Thirty-six members and Mrs. Ida M. Farris, sponsor, attended.

Wallace Sets Up Ambitious Plan

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—Henry A. Wallace marked out for himself today a big place in America's economic future, even though Congress has deprived him of financial power.

The former vice-president was sworn into the cabinet in a gay ceremony. Then he promtly laid down these goals for his work in what Congress meant to be a close-cropped secretaryship of commerce:

"The department of commerce will continue to aid the war effort and it will likewise do its part to facilitate maximum cooperation between the nation's employes, investors, business, agriculture and government to the end that all America, our assets and our people may be busily and profitably employed."

Extent Still In Doubt

How great a part the department can play remained in doubt, now that the $40,000,000,000 realm of finance which ousted Jesse H. Jones ruled as secretary has been taken away.

But Wallace showed no hesitancy about entering the broad fields. His statement continued:

"It will do what it can to help develop the fullest use of all manpower, womanpower, money, credit, ingenuity and science to produce even more for the peace than we have learned to produce for war so that the peacetime standard of living may be continually rising."

Wallace took his oath of office from Justice Hugo L. Black of the Supreme court. Black's smiling remark, "You're in," brought general laughter.

Calls In "Little Fellows"

But it had been a long hard pull for Wallace to get that "you're in."

Wallace's first act as secretary followed the pattern in behalf of "the little fellow" which his backers say always has been his guide.

He appointed a committee of business men and bankers to report as soon as possible on "suggestions for enabling small business to do its full share" in furnishing postwar employment.

Romania Is Faced By New Political Crisis

LONDON, March 2. (AP) — Romania smoldered in a new political crisis today as young King Mihai appointed Prinhe Barbu Stirbey to form a new government replacing that of Gen. Nilolae Radescu, who resigned after street clashes in Bucharest and other cities.

The leftist National Democratic front suggested a board program to clean out all Fascist elements, ensure Rolania's independence and security, and bring war criminals to trial.

Prince Stirbey, a leader of the National Peasant party, served as premier in 1927, shortly after the death of King Ferdinand. He broke the ice for negotiations resulting in Romanias armistice with the Allies last year when he slipped out of the country and engaged in secret talks in Cairo.

Many States Join In Water Right Protest

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—The government's claim to ownership of unappropriated waters of the North Platte river was protested today by Arizona, California, Idaho, Kansas, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah and Vermont.

They joined in filing a brief with the Supreme court in a suit between Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska and the United States government over allocation of North Platte waters. Arguments in the case will be heard by the court Monday.

Services Pending For Matty Bell's Father

DALLAS, March 2. (U.P.)—Funeral arrangements were pending today for Rube E. Bell, 75, a maintenance engineer and father of Commdr. Madison Bell, coach and athletic director at Southern Methodist university now in the Navy.

Bell died at his home last night after suffering a heart attack while in Lampasas on a business trip last week.

Commander Bell was expected home today from the Athens, Ga., naval preflight school where he is athletic director.

Most GIs Accept Tamer Paris Life On Leaves There

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
(Substituting for Kenneth L. Dixon)

PARIS—While the gayer, more frivolous aspects of the big city still have their appeal, most of the GIs on leave in Paris want to see the museums, monuments and spots of historic interest, too.

These include, of course, the Arc de Triomphe, the Eiffel Hower, Napoleon's tomb and the storied Latin quarter, where they find life is stringent and not at all Bohemian. Drawn faces reflect tightened stomachs as the shivering residents hurry to barren, unheated rooms. Even the amusements there are simple and inexpensive.

Listen To Records

In the left bank student center young people throng "audition shops" to listen to favorite records at one or two francs a throw.

The shop has an "elite" section where for two francs you can sit down to listen to your choice of several hundred records. Students frequently spend hours listening to entire symphonies.

Next to Sgt. Charles Stone, 29, of Albion, Ill., in on a two-day pass from an Eighth Air force base in England, was a young girl, obviously a music student, who hunched forward attentively before a panel resembling a radio.

Three dials had numbers and a fourth bore letters. By various combinations she indicated her choices and when the red light flashed, she grabbed the earphones, straining to hear every note. Stone peeked over her shoulder and saw by the directory she was playing a series of instrumental solos.

Different To London

"Paris sure is different from London," he commented.

T/4 John R. Dehner, 22, of Cleveland, and Vincent Hart, 22, of Cleveland, had worked side by side in a factory in peacetime, but hadn't seen each other since their induction. In Paris on leave they met in the Allied Forces club.

"This is a taste of home—paved streets, motor cars, shops," said Dehner as they marveled at the expanse of the vista up the Champs Elysees toward the Arc de Triomphe. They said Paris was one place they would like to see in peacetime.

Curfew Involves Restaurants Too

AUSTIN, March 2. (AP) — There will be no exceptions for Texas restaurants to the original curfew order of War Mobilizer James Byrnes, C. E. Belk, state director for the War Manpower commission, announced today.

The WMC enforces the Byrnes directive.

Belk said only those restaurants which have customarily remained open all night would not be affected.

Past Custom To Rule

Restaurants customarily remaining open after midnight but not until 8 a. m. must now close at 12 midnight. He stated further that restaurants operated by business concerns for their own employees after 12 o'clock but not all night would also be required to close.

Company and club sponsored entertainment projects, dances, bridge parties and other forms of organized entertainment, whether conducted on the firm's own premises or not, will also be required to cease activities at midnight, Belk said.

Some restaurant owners and operators in the state interpreted the regulation to mean that if entertainment features such as juke boxes and orchestras, were shut off at 12:00 they would be permitted to remain open for the purpose of serving food after that hour.

Belk said this was not the case, and that the only exceptions provided are for restaurants customarily staying open all night, and for entertainment supplied for military personnel especially in ports of embarkation which is sponsored by responsible agencies, conducted on a non-profit basis, after approval of military authorities, and in camps and stations.

Louisiana Output Of Crude Ahead Of '43

BATON ROUGE, March 2 (AP) — Conservation Commissioner Joseph L. McHugh today reported Louisiana 1944 production of crude oil and condensate as eight per cent higher than in 1943, and predicted, on the basis of conferences with his staff and with federal officials, that 1945 production will equal or pass last year's total of 136,618,152 barrels.

McHugh reported production last year in south Louisiana as 109,991,782 barrels compared with 96,011,100 barrels in 1943, and that in north Louisiana at 26,626,370 barrels in 1944 compared with 30,489,851 barrels the year before.

Production of plant condensate dropped from 2,900,000 barrels to 2,934,930 in 1944, but natural gasoline rose from 2,375,744 barrels to 2,498,811 barrels. Butane production dropped from 849,394 barrels to 615,735, but propane increased from 78,211 barrels to 111,711.

Figures were not completed yet for state production of natural gas, but total liquid production for 1944 was reported at 114,325,077 barrels.

Restrictions Lifted On Ice Cream Makers

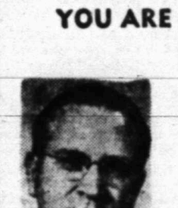

DALLAS, March 2.(AP)—Restrictions on the use of milk-solids-non-fat in manufacture of ice cream and other frozen dairy foods were eliminated today, C. M. Evans, War Food administration's southwest dairy and poultry representative, said.

Restrictions on use of butterfat continue and frozen food manufacturers may use each month no more than 65 per cent of the amount used for corresponding months of the base period, December 1941 to November 1942, he declared.

Reclamation Engineers Point Up Vast Possibilities On Brazos

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

SPUR, March 2.—Construction of dams, large or small, in the upper basin of the Brazos river will be of great benefit to the area in the way of irrigation, municipal water supplies, flood control, soil erosion control and recreation activities, two engineers of the U. S. Reclamation Service were told in a meeting at Spur Inn this afternoon.

The engineers, J. S. Reger and C. C. Maxey of Austin, heard testimony from representatives of eighteen towns and communities as to the needs of water utilization projects in the area. Approximately 50 persons attended the session, held in the spacious dining room of the famous old West Texas landmark.

Brannen Official Host

Dr. M. H. Brannen of Spur, member of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation district board, was official host. Other directors of the board attending were: C. M. Caldwell, pioneer West Texan of Abilene; and Bruce Campbell, Knox City. R. D. Collins of Mineral Wells, treasurer-manager, was also present.

The meeting developed in information that preliminary investigation is being made of all projects in the watershed, both large and small, to determine the problems, needs and desires of the various areas. An over-all plan of development will then be formulated from the basin-wide investigation and the plan submitted to Congress for approval to be followed by detailed studies of the various projects.

Each project is to be considered on a multiple-purpose basis, that is, how it will serve irrigation, flood control, water supply and recreation.

Real Water Program

"We are embarking on a real program of water conservation in Texas and we want to learn the problems and needs of the entire 46,000-mile watershed extending across Texas from the New Mexico line to the Gulf," Reger, who presided at the informal session, declared at the outset.

He said similar meetings would be conducted at Mineral Wells and Waco and a basin-wide report prepared by April 1 as the first formulative step in the program.

Testimony in the hearing developed the need for irrigation projects from Knox county to Breckenridge and municipal water supplies for a dozen or so small communities in the upper basin which are now having to depend upon hauling of water from various points for their drinking supply.

Struggle Recalled

C. M. Caldwell of Abilene recalled the struggle for water by West Texans in the early days of the section and declared "I want to live to see the day when not a drop of water passes the 98th meridian . . . We're ruining that country down there and wasting our water here besides . . .

"We should contour, terrace and dam every little stream in this area and save every drop of water we can," he continued . . . "If we take care of Texas, Texas can take care of 100,000,000 people . . . What men want is a place to live and a place where they can enjoy life."

Caldwell paid tribute to Ray E. Dickson, veteran superintendent of the Spur Experiment station, declared that "He's the best educator in Dickens county" and citing his efforts for water and soil conservation during the past two decades.

Reger also revealed that honorable mention will be made of the Spur station's program of water conservation in the basin-wide report.

Unlimited Possibilities

Dickson then spoke briefly, declaring that "there are unlimited possibilities to use unlimited amounts of water in this area and we haven't visualized yet what we can do."

Dickson cited an experiment at his station where calves gained an average of three and one-half pounds a day on green wheat compared to a half-pound a day to calves on range grass and cake.

"This old thing of using native grass 12 months in the year is a thing of the past," he declared.

Testimony in favor of the Bob Baskin dam, projected near the junction of the Salt Fork and the Brazos in Stonewall county, the Cottonwood project and the Duck creek dam were given by delegates from the various communities.

Other Speakers

Speakers heard included: Bruce Campbell and O. L. Jamison, Knox City; Clay F. Grove, Munday; Tom Craddock, Seymour; John A. Couch, Haskell; Guy Patterson and C. E. Leon, Rotan; Fuller Brown, Rochester; Glenn Huls, Jayton; R. L. Springer, Aspermont; E. H. Boedeker, Dickens; Truman Green, O. B. Ratliff, Spur; Arch King, city engineer, Lubbock; Hugh Nation, Crosbyton; Edd McLaughlin, Ralls; Alton B. Chapman and Homer Steen, Floydada.

Chapman and Steen cited the need for a dam on the Blanco canyon south of Floydada, declaring that it would raise the water level, provide a source of supply for municipal water and allow irrigation for farm lands below the area.

Nation also made a similar plea for a project near Crosbyton as offering possibilities for municipal water supplies and recreation facilities.

Lubbock Plans Revealed

King got into the testimony the fact that Lubbock is searching for additional municipal water supplies and that a survey along that line is now being conducted.

Besides those giving testimony, others attending the hearing included: P. D. Allen, Jayton; C. V. O'Keefe, Girard; C. M. Randal, Geo. Plants and W. A. Melear, Seymour; Courtney Hurst, Haskell; D. B. Brown, Rochester; John G. Harvey, Percy Lamar, Crosbyton; Roy Riddel, Lubbock; H. G. Hull, Buford Hailey, John F. Moore, Peyton Legg, O. W. Young, Jack Christian, Foster Cook, T. E. Milan, W. F. Turner, Carl Proctor, A. C. Hull, Robert Kuykendall, Geo. S. Link, O. C. Arthur, Walter O'Neal, C. E. Fisher and Ray T. Karr, all of Spur.

Technician At Tech Writes On Readex

Technician uses of the Readex, an instrument ordinarily used to magnify minute facsimilies of printing matter to easy reading size, were explained in an article entitled "Some Laboratory Uses for the Reader," by Miss Lucille Finley, research technician for the Texas Tech textile engineering department, published in the February issue of "Cotton" magazine.

This instrument has been adopted by the Tech cotton research laboratory for use in the examination and evaluation of yarns and fabrics, Miss Finley explained it is also possible to make negative prints from the image focused upon the screen and these prints can be kept on permanent record.

Prof. L. E. Parsons, head of the textile engineering department, and Dr. H. M. Hefley, instructor in the biology department, made the conversion of this instrument.

Pointing to another record breaking year, postal receipts for the first two months of 1945 at the Lubbock post office have soared more than $16,000 ahead of the total for the same period in 1944, according to February postal receipt figures released Friday by Amos H. Howard, postmaster.

The February, 1945 total of $35,334.66, which was 15.5 per cent larger than the $29,835.50 total for the same month last year, pushed this year's total up to $79,817.71 as compared with $63,032.46 for the first two months of 1944.

Flag Replaced On Corregidor During Colorful Ceremony

WITH GENERAL MacARTHUR ON CORREGIDOR, March 2. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur returned to Corregidor today and ordered the Stars and Stripes raised to the peak of the flagstaff from which the Japanese tore it down three years ago.

Also present were 11 members of his staff who left the island with him aboard a PT boat three years ago, almost to the day.

His officers surrounded him as he presided at a brief, impressive flag raising ceremony as a color guard of the 503rd parachute Infantry regiment stood at attention.

Turning to Col. George Jones of Memphis, Tenn., commanding officer of the paratroopers, MacArthur said:

"Have your troops hoist the colors to its peak and let no enemy ever haul them down."

It was the same flagpole on the topside parade grounds where the Japanese tore down Old Glory, and trod and ripped the colors to shreds.

Cotton Experiment Results Announced

Eighteen bales of cotton were harvested before frost from approximately 40 acres of Rogers Improved Acala cotton No. 111 planted on the Texas Tech farm according to Cecil Ayers, assistant professor of agronomy.

Grading showed eight bales low middling, seven strict low middling spot, and one was middling spot. The staple length, varying from one and one thirty-second inches to one and five thirty-second inches, was very much above the average staple length grown in this locality.

"As a whole, grades were lower than average shorter staple cottons grown, harvested, and ginned under same conditions," Ayers said. Due to the fact that longer staple cottons produce a poorer grade of cotton the department is penalized because the market in this locality tends to lean more toward the grade than staple.

Results of a survey show the average producer profits more by raising cotton with a staple length of seven-eights to thirty one-thirty seconds of an inch because higher prices are paid for better grades.

Texas Tech is cooperating with the Statewide Cotton committee of Texas, the National Cotton Research council, and other agencies in an effort to improve the staple length of West Texas cotton.

Plans For Drive Are Staggering

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON.—Now that the Allied Western offensive is on full blast I can disclose what for security reasons could not be told at the time of my visits to the three armies at the end of January and early in February.

The vastness of our preparations, the precision planning of every unit's objective, the disposition of men as well as materials, the enormous quantities of our supplies—all of this left an indelible impression.

Nazis Not Comparable

I had been with Hitler's armies during their blitzes into Poland, Scandanavia, the Lowlands, France, the Balkans, Russia, and had, I believe, seen much. It couldn't compare with what I now beheld.

Hitler's absence from the 25th anniversary celebration of the Nazi party's founding shows the seriousness of the German situation. But more significant even is the inaneness of what was read as a product of the fuehrer's super mind. There was nothing constructive or hopeful about it—just a rehash of the platitudes uttered for a quarter of a century.

Berlin radio calls the battle in the west decisive.

That is probably no exaggeration, even though Berlin loves to deal in superlatives. The Rhine is almost sacred to the Germans. If German arms cannot prevent a crossing of the Rhine, this is likely to mean more than a smashing of the Siegfried defenses.

These, after all, are manmade, but there is a sort of mystical belief in Germany that God intended the Rhine to be an ageless barrier against Germany's enemies.

This doesn't mean that victory is just around the corner. A long bloody struggle lies ahead, and nothing would be more wrong than to assume Germany is ready to throw in the sponge.

Telephone Service Waiting List Heavy

DALLAS, March 2. (U.P.)—An annual report on operations of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company in Dallas disclosed today that 16,000 persons were on the waiting list for telephone service in the city at the start of 1945.

The report said it will be a long time before the Dallas telephone system can be expanded and all those on the list can be taken care of. Equipment companies, it said, are sending everything to war.

The report said 124,376 telephones are in service in Dallas.

Texas 36th Sends Birthday Greetings

AUSTIN, March 2. (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson received today the following telegram from Major General John E. Dahlquist, commanding general of the Thirty-Sixth division, American Expeditionary forces, European theatre:

"My officers and men join me in extending heartiest congratulations to you and to all Lone Star staters on the anniversary of Texas independence day."

Stevenson wired General Dahlquist in reply as follows:

"The glorious and heroic tradition of Texas' immortal soldiers of the past is finding a counterpart in the present generation of Texans in the armed forces. They are worthy of the courage and deeds of the signers of the Declaration of Independence at Washington-On-The-Brazos. All Texans are humbly proud of the great sacrifices of the Texas division."

The governor also paid special tribute to replacements from other states for the division who have filled the ranks of Texas dead or wounded.

Rescued Nurses And Filipinos In Texas

FORT WORTH, March 2. (AP)—Two American Army nurses, rescued from the Japanese with the fall of Santo Tomas prison camp at Manila Feb. 3, arrived here today accompanied by 13 Filipino pilots also released by U. S. troops and bound for refresher training at Randolph Field.

One of the nurses, Lt. Clara Mae Bickford of Tivoli, Texas, will be met by her mother, Mrs. C. R. Bickford, at San Antonio. The other, Lt. Inez McDonald of Tupelo, Miss., will be met by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McDonald, and her sister, Miss Katherine McDonald, at Memphis, Tenn.

The nurses, among 68 captured by the Japs with the fall of Corregidor May 6, 1942, reached San Francisco Feb. 24 after a Pacific flight.

Four Correspondents Claim Rhine Honor

WITH U. S. NINTH ARMY, March 2. (AP)—Four American war correspondents reached the banks of the Rhine together today and jointly shared the honor of being there first.

The newspapermen who stayed up all night near the front line while the American 83rd division edged up to the river were Wes Gallagher of the Associated Press, Sydney Gruson of the New York Times, Gordon Gammach of the Des Moines Register and Tribune and Victor Jones of the Boston Globe.

Hennaed Hair Gets Trio Of Plainview Boys Into Trouble

If the boys had not hennaed their hair. . . .

John W. Wilson, city-county juvenile counsellor, told the story.

Three youngsters, 14, 15 and 16, all of Plainview, "highwayed" it to Lubbock, stopping at Swift & Company to grab up two watches, a cigaret lighter, two packages of cigarets, a knife, and a purse containing $16 and valuable papers.

Wanda Tate and Georgia Douthit, girls employed by Swift, noted what other employes didn't—that the boys had dyed their hair with henna.

So when the boys left the place the girls were suspicious and began looking to see if everything still was in place.

They discovered there was missing property.

Police were informed. The boys had disappeared. The girls, getting off from work, came to town and started into a five and ten store. The three Plainview youths at that moment came out, and the girls grabbed them.

Two Youths Fled

Two of the youths—the oldest and the youngest, brothers—broke loose and fled, but the girls held the 15-year-old until Aubrey Fawver, captain of detectives, arrived.

Wilson placed the youth in the juvenile ward of county jail. He said he hadn't done anything illegal. Later, he asked for Wilson to visit him. He admitted all. He told where the purse had been thrown away. Officials found it.

About the same time, the other two youths knocked on the Swift office door and asked for the manager.

They admitted their guilt and returned all property except the cigarets, which they had smoked.

Wilson said the cases had been transferred to the juvenile court of County Judge Ernest Tibbets of Plainview, who has ordered a hearing for 9 o'clock the morning of March 9.

Canadian Cagers In Region Finals

PLAINVIEW, March 2 (Special)—The high scoring Canadian High school basketball five moved into the finals for the Region One, Class A championship here tonight by rolling over the Lockney Longhorns and Levelland Lobos to reach the final game.

The Canadian five boosted the season's scoring total to 1,333 points as they breezed over the Lockney Longhorns, 53-31, and the Levelland five, 46-38.

Lockney and Levelland will meet Saturday afternoon to see who will get the "second chance" at the Canadian five in the finals.

The Canadian five started the fireworks early this afternoon with the win over Lockney, and Hopkins set the pace for the winners with 20 points in this battle. J. Carroll was high for Lockney with 12 points.

Levelland was hard pressed in the first game, but managed to eke out a 34-33 win over the Friona five in perhaps the best battle of the day. Jess Clairdy paced the winners with 11 points, closely pressed by Joe Garrison, with ten, but the scoring honors of the game went to Friona's W. C. Reid, who flipped in 14 points.

In the battle of the first round losers, the Lockney five hit the winning stride that carried it to the 3-A championship, and eliminated the fast Friona five, 42-35. J. Carroll again paced the Longhorns, pouring in 17 points. Lacewell was high for Friona with nine.

The feature battle of the day, the clash of afternoon winners, brought the show to a fast finish as the Canadian five finished strong to nose out the Levelland Lobos.

Scoring honors for the game, however, went to Jess Clairdy of the Lobos, who flipped in 17 points. Esquivel was high man for the Canadian five with 14 points.

Idalou Cagers Nose Out Tech All-Stars

The Idalou Independents nosed out the Texas Tech All-Stars Friday night at the Tech gym, winning 48-46 in a third, sudden death, overtime period when Gordon slipped in the winning goal in the basketball exhibition.

The Tech lads held a 25-15 lead at the half, but the two teams reached the end of the regulation game with the score knotted 42-42. Both sides scored a field goal, in the next two overtime sessions, to start the third session, still tied at 46-46.

Scoring honors for the game went to W. Sage of Idalou, who poured 24 points through the hoops, to account for half of the scores made by the visitors. He was followed on his own team by H. Sage, who flipped in 10 points.

Norris led the Tech attack, and took runnerup honors, with 15 points, closely followed by Lewis with 12 and Dillon with 11.

Longhorns Get Fine Gridiron Prospects

AUSTIN, March 2. (AP) — Six highly rated freshmen have registered for spring football workouts beginning at the University of Texas.

The newcomers include George Graham, pile driving fullback on San Angelo's schoolboy champion team of last year; Leslie Ming, Oklahoma City passer and runner; Red Simmons, bulwark in last year's Temple High school line; Maurice Essary, wingback on the 1944 Amarillo High school team; Guard Robert Terry of Cameron and back Jack Gwyn of Lamar.

Hensley Shines At Track Show

G. W. Hensley turned on the steam in the last day of the two day track and field show at Chapman field between picked squads of the Lubbock Westerners, and paced the Golds to an 87 to 58 win over the Blacks. The Golds went into this event with a one point advantage through the first day's show.

Five events were run off Friday, and Hensley copped first places in three of them. This was added to his first place victory in the broad jump on Thursday afternoon.

Hensley skipped over the high hurdles in 17.2 seconds for first place, skimmed the lower timbers for a first place in 25.6 seconds, then jumped five feet, four inches for a first place in the high jump.

The Blacks won the mile relay, with Stroud, Johnson, Craig and Davis stepping the distance in 3 minutes, 55 seconds. The remaining event, the pole vault, went to Bill Nelson with a leap of 9 feet, 6 inches.

Jack McClellan turned in an exhibition quarter mile, doing the distance in 54.4 seconds for some good time for this early date in the season.

Following the close of the meet, Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst issued a challenge "to the world" for a practice track meet next Friday at Chapman field. Any schools in this area interested in getting a good workout for their track team under fire, are urged to contact either Hayhurst or E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director.

Wilson Opens Junior Basketball Tourney

WILSON, Mar. 2. (Special).—Four games launched the Wilson High school Junior basketball tournament here tonight, with teams from O'Donnell, Ropes, Dickens and Wilson surviving the first round of play.

O'Donnell opened the tournament with a fast 23-20 win over Slaton in a game that found the two teams scoring freely and the outcome in doubt until the final whistle. Brownlow of O'Donnell turned in one of the best scoring marks of the day with 12 points.

The second game went to the other extreme, and was a defensive duel, with Ropes nosing by New Deal, 8 to 7.

The third game was another thriller, with Dickens winning a 19-16 victory over a strong Post club. Thompson of Dickens scored ten of the points, for the third best individual scoring feat of the day.

The final game found the Wilson club setting the scoring records of the opening round, winning over Southland, 26-13, as Kahlich scored 19 of the Wilson points.

In an exhibition match tonight, the Wilson girls won a 20-15 victory over Dickens, with Shambeck flipping in 15 points for the winners. Meadows paced the losers with seven points.

Two games will be played Saturday morning, with the rest of the second round and consolation during the afternoon, and finals at night.

Gamblers Watched At College Cage Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 2. (AP)—Both the Louisville Police department and the Athletic department of the University of Kentucky had detectives in the crowds at the Southeastern Conference basketball tournament today looking for gamblers.

City Safety Director Joseph Donaldson said that at least four professional gamblers were known to be operating at the tournament but that so far no one has been seen placing or accepting wagers.

Donaldson asserted that "a large Tennessee operator" was reported to have offered to bet $25,000 at 4 to 1 odds that Tennessee will win the SEC championship in the final game tomorrow night.

State Champions Are Eliminated

DALLAS, March 2. (AP) — Paschal of Fort Worth dethroned defending state champion Sunset of Dallas in the final game of a series to determine the bi-district titlists for districts seven and eight, 42-30, tonight.

EL PASO WINS TITLE

EL PASO, Tex., March 2 (AP)—El Paso High school was the winner tonight in the region eight playoffs by virtue of its basketball victory over Abilene High school 33 to 31 in a thrilling double overtime game. Score at the half was 16 to 16.

The Fort Worth five outplayed the Bisons, who last year won the Class AA title, all the way. Paschal had been undefeated over the regular season, lost the first game of the playoff, then barely won the second game.

Petersburg Noses By Shamrock Fighters

PETERSBURG, Mar. 2. (Special)—Fighting before the season's greatest turnout, the hard punching Petersburg High school ring gladiators turned back the strong bid by the Shamrock Irish here tonight, and won seven out of eleven bouts on the regular card.

The Petersburg battlers will entertain the Memphis schoolboys here next Friday night in another big fight card.

There was plenty of action on the card, but only two knockouts in the eleven fights. The honors in the kayos were divided between the two schools. Both were quick victories.

Coyt Johnson of Shamrock "turned out the lights" on Bob Briggs of Petersburg in the 106-pound class, and in the finale of the night, Fluff Meyers of Petersburg landed a kayo on Dewey Johnson of Shamrock. Both knockouts came in the first round.

Other Shamrock victories for the night were turned in by Red Pepper, the fast little 106-pound star of the team, who won over Claude Kelley of Petersburg. Jerry Hidgon of Shamrock won over B. Clubb in the same weight division. In the 118-pound division, Roy Fly of Shamrock won a close judge's decision over Frank Mannon of Petersburg in a battle that was very close all the way.

In the opening fight, in the 95-pound class, Randall Stanton started off the Petersburg wins, beating Jack Clark. Shamrock then won wour straight fights to pile up an impressive lead over the local punchers.

Coyt Thompson broke the string by beating Ed Landrum, and Petersburg went on to sweep the rest of the fights. Johnny Phillips beat Bill Broyer; Hollis Black beat Red Henry; Billy Pittman beat Bunny Martin; Ralph White, Golden Glove finalist at Lubbock, beat Harvey McMurtry, then Meyers closed the card with his quick knockout.

Finance Cagers Win First Half Playoff

The Finance cagers roared into the playoff for the Lubbock Army Air field squadron basketball league championship by winning the first half championship tonight at the post gym, beating Section C Hanger, 30-24.

Section C Line has won the last half, and will play Finance for the crown at a later date.

McNelly, the league leading scorer, paced the Finance club with 11 points, while Smith was high man for the Hanger, with six points.

In an exhibition game, the Flying Officers won a 50-36 decision over the Combat Returnees. McCarty paced the winners with 24 points, while Tomkins was high for the Returnees with 14 points.

Sidney Lanier Back To State Meet Again

LOCKHART, Tex., March 2. (AP)—Sidney Lanier High school of San Antonio won the Regional 7 Class A basketball championship here tonight defeating Belton High 52 to 31. It was the fourth consecutive year Lanier had won the championship.

Earlier in the evening Lanier beat Brenham 35 to 28 and Belton beat Lockhart, 30 to 27.

Meadow, Claude, Stratford Spring Lake In Semi-Finals

CANYON, Mar. 2. (Special)—A torrid seven-game session of basketball here today pared the field in the Region One, Class B, tournament to the semi-finals, and will pair Stratford and Spring Lake in the first semi-final game, and Meadow with Claude in the second.

The semi-finals will be played Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and 11 o'clock, with the finals booked for 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Meadow Wins Two

Meadow reached the semi-finals the hard way, having to win two games to roll into the semi-final play, while Claude, Stratford and Spring Lake went the same distance with only one win each.

The Meadow boys did a pretty good job of clearing the field of the teams from the south half of the region, and bowled over Lorenzo in its first game of the day, 47-36, and came back in the nightcap tonight to win over Cooper, 32-22.

In the first Meadow battle, Berry was the pace setter for the winners, getting 11 points, but was matched by Lorenzo's Smith, who flipped in 11 points to lead the losers.

In the nightcap, the scoring honors of the game went to Henderson of Cooper, who poured on 14 points, but he was closely pressed by Barnes of Meadow, who flipped in 12 points.

Abernathy Is Upset

Claude pulled the day, knocking out the highly favored Abernathy Antelopes in the first game tonight, 45-38, Abreryt poured in 19 points for Claude to lead the attack for the winners. Lutrick was high for Abernathy with ten.

Earlier in the day, Abernathy had bumped Silverton from the running with a 50-46 thriller win, with Lambert pouring in 21 points for the scoring honors, and pacing the winners. Dickens flipped in 15 points to keep Silverton in the ball game.

Stratford Looks Good

In the opening game of the card, Miami knocked Whiteface from the running with a 40-32 win, but came back in the last afternoon game, and were unable to cope with the powerful Stratford five. Stratford won the afternoon game 37-11 to reach the finals with a fine display of power. Malone paced Stratford with nine points. Kinhelen was high for Miami with five.

The most colorful display of offensive fireworks came from the Spring Lake five during the afternoon session, and provided the day's highest score, both for a team and an individual.

Spring Lake knocked Loop from the running with an impressive 70-21 victory, as Barton set the day's high by swishing 33 points through the meshes. Smith was high for Loop with 14 points.

The winner of the tournament will go to Austin March 8, 9 and 10 to play in the state tournament.

Hunt Blanks Carter; Dupre, Bean Divide

The Hunt Pioneers, both boys and girls, again turned in a clean sweep in the Lubbock grade school volleyball circles Friday afternoon, taking both ends of a twin bill with the K. Carter Coyotes. The Hunt boys won 53-12 and the girls won 64-12.

The wins were the second in a row for both teams.

In other games for the day, the Dupre Dogies and Bean Bronchos split even, with the Dupre boys winning 38-17, and the Bean girls coming out on top of a 53-14 score.

Longhorns Open Up Baseball Workouts

AUSTIN, March 2. (AP)—With the kiss of winter still in the air, but with the opening practice session scarcely three weeks in the offing, Coach Blair Cherry's University of Texas baseball diamond hopefuls coasted through their first workout yesterday.

As he took stock of his prospects today Cherry was optimistic over practically every department with the possible exception of his hurling staff which at present is of undetermined quality.

Gone from the 1944 championship lineup will be Bobby Layne, ace Longhorn twirler, and Bob Dalzell, who won the title clinching game with A. and M. In their place however will be Dave Philley, a fire baller relief hurler last season until he came up with a sore arm and Lefty Culp, a discharged veteran who has had considerably semi-pro experience.

Lanky Zeke Wilemon of Maypearl has been elected captain of this year's team and around him will be other lettermen including catcher Jack Avinger, first baseman Billy Cox, second baseman Al Hunt and Billy Andrews, another fast and hard hitting outfielder.

In Jack Lindsey of Dallas the Longhorns have one of the most promising shortstops in several years. Big league scouts have been making eyes at this youngster for some time.

Leroy Anderson and Tom Milik, football backs will try their hand at baseball. Anderson will try for catcher and Milik will make a stab for third base.

Don Wooten, top cage scorer, is a candidate for the outfield. A host of other promising youngsters were on hand for the first workout.

This year's flag chase will be a five team affair with both Southern Methodist and Texas Christian returning to the fold to join with Texas, A. and M. and Rice.

The Longhorns will play the Southwestern Pirates in the opening practice session with a return game four days later, before opening the conference with A. and M. at Austin, April 6.

Gunder Haegg Takes First U. S. Workout

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—Gunder Haegg, Swedish mile swiftie, worked out on a board track for the first time today and found it much softer than the steel deck of a boat.

Haegg, who completed a month's voyage from Sweden only yesterday and runs against America's unbeaten 1945 mile champ tomorrow, jogged approximately a mile on the outdoor pine oval of New York university, testing various kinds of spiked shoes.

Both Haegg and Hurdler Haakon Lidman, another Swede, will compete in special events at the IC-4A indoor championships on Madison Square Garden's 11-lap track Saturday night.

Haegg will oppose Jim Rafferty, winner of five straight races this winter; Forest Efaw, National three-mile champ; Rudy Simms of New York, and Don Burnham, National 1,000 yard king.

Hamilton Holds To Tourney Lead

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Bob Hamilton of Chicago, who swore off golf three months ago because of his poor putting, held his lead through the second round of the $5,000—Jacksonville Open today—chiefly by his brilliant performance on the greens.

The big bronzed pro, National PGA champion, carded a five under par 67 for a 132 total to keep two strokes ahead of Byron Nelson, Sam Snead, and Harold (Jug) McSpadden, tied at 134 for second place.

Hard on the leader's heels throughout the second round was Slammin' Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., who fired a 65 today to equal the Brentwood course record set yesterday by Hamilton. Snead bore down hard and pulled some sensational shots in a bid for his sixth victory of the winter circuit.

Nelson, of Toledo, O., shot a 66 today, and McSpadden of Sanford, Me., had a 67.

Texas Mines Plans Return To Football

EL PASO, Tex., March 2 (AP)—If Head Coach Jack Curtice is released in time by the Navy, Texas College of Mines plans to resume intercollegiate football next fall after a two-year wartime lapse, it was announced today.

Curtice, a lieutenant commander stationed at the Norfolk, Va., Naval Air Station, has requested his release, the school's athletic council said in announcing the 1945 gridiron plans.

The council also authorized Coach Charles (Chuck) Finley to arrange an extensive basketball schedule for next season. Mines has just closed its first basketball season since 1942 registering seven wins and 13 defeats.

Semi-Finalists For Cage Tourney Named

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 2. (AP)—Kentucky's Wildcats completed the semi-final bracket of the annual Southeastern Conference basketball tournament here tonight by thumping Louisiana State Tigers, 68-37.

The Wildcats, defending champions and top seeded team in the meet, followed Tennessee, Georgia Tech, and Alabama into the semi-finals. The four teams were seeded in that order.

The Vols, back in the tournament after one year's absence, smashed Auburn, 56-24, and Alabama topped Tulane, 51-31. Tech, highest scoring entry to date, advanced in a 60-43 decision over Mississippi State.

Bo McMillin, Indiana's football coach says "I didn't see a back last season anywhere to compare with Les Horvath." Horvath is one of Ohio State's two 1944 All-America footballers. The other is Guard Bill Hacket.

Texan Saves Life Of Bomber Crew Buddy

A U. S. EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England, March 2 (AP)—Five miles above Germany Lt. Emmett Turner, jr., of Stratford, Texas, pumped life by artificial respiration today into Sgt. Donald Houk of Appleton City, Mo.

Houk had tripped and fallen partly into the ball turret. His oxygen mask was ripped off and he was pinned down helplessly. He had been unconscious an hour and a half when Turner, 22-year-old co-pilot, went to work on him.

Turner's desire for a college education proved indirectly the means of saving Houk's life. Before entering the Army he worked as an orderly at the Veterans hospital at Amarillo, Tex., to make money to continue his schooling.

Potts Cagers Eke By Armstrong, 21 To 20

The Potts cage five nosed out a thrilling 21-20 win over the Armstrong five Friday evening at the Lubbock Boys club gym in a junior league game. The scoring honors of the game were divided with Billy Armstrong and Frank Clark, of the Potts club, each getting 14 points.

In the midget league, Dickie Lowrey scored all four of his team's points, but was beaten by the Owens five, 6 to 4.

JOYCE UPSETS WILLIAMS

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—Stabbing his rapier-like left into Ike Williams' face all the way and all but knocking out his oppenent in the last round, underdog Willie Joyce scored an upset unanimous 12-round decision over the Trenton, N. J., lightweight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

It's Good Medicine!

Home Front Needs "Crackdowns"

AS THE world in general, and the U. S. in particular, swung into 1945, The Morning Avalanche forecast that this would be the "toughest of the war years" on both fighting fronts and the home front. From a standpoint of the home front, we said it should be our "toughest year;" that we hoped tightening of war-born regulations would make it so.

We said then, and we still believe, that the home front will never be able to get under the full weight of the war unless the force of the conflict brought home to us by way of inconveniences and, if necessary, by stark sacrifice. To too many of us here on our own soil, the war has seemed too far removed; in many cases, with its stepped-up wages and employes market, it has taken on the aspect of a "joy-ride." It has been no joy-ride to those who are fighting it. It should be no joy-ride to anybody else.

Recent indications are that official Washington now is thinking along the same line we traced here at the first of the year. The crackdown on horse racing and amusements, the full-blown campaign to save fuel at the expense of the comfort of a few, have been placed into being not alone for reasons readily apparent, but also for underlying, or "psychological" reasons. Ray Tucker's Whirligig column, appearing on this page today, brings that out.

It has been bruited about, and understandably so, that the men in the withering fire at Manila, on Iwo Jima and in the vicinity of Cologne — to name only three of the recent "hot spots" of this global war — haven't been made entirely happy by rumors that millions of their fellow countrymen are having fun while they fight, bleed and die. They want to know — as it is their right to know —if perhaps we home fronters couldn't do a better job of backing them up if we stood up to our responsibilities and paid less attention to enjoying ourselves, or "business as usual."

Some say it isn't necessary for the government to build up a "crisis psychology" here at home to jar us into carrying more of the burdens of war.

We say it shouln't be necessary — but we believe it is necessary.

We're glad to see the "crackdowns" made to date, would like to see others.

Let the government ration travel, spank those elements of both business and labor which selfishly seek to contribute to the threat of inflation by demanding more of a "cut" in blood money, and in every conceivable way, shape and form force us all to hew to the line whenever and however such hewing will contribute, even infinitessimally, to Victory.

The medicine may not taste so good going down, but we've a hunch we'll all feel better eventually for having swallowed it.

Pop And Postwar Elegance

AMONG the diversions of the hour having to do with additions to household affairs after the war is over are details of an improved bathroom made public by Egmont Arens, its designer, who is an industrial engineer.

The room will be larger than those found in recently-built-homes — 12 by 14 feet. In conformance to the wishes of women who like to make a bathroom also a dressing room, full length three-way mirrors will be placed in three closet doors, with a counter-to-ceiling mirror over the wash basin, with flourescent, no-shadow face illumination.

There will be a closet for storing a hair dryer and built-in-ash trays similar to those in automobiles. Also will appear a towel-drying closet with pull-out racks and a pull-out towel cupboard that may be reached from either side, conveniently placed at the foot of the tub, and shelves over the tub on which to park towels, powders and other bath accessories that at present seem to be always out of reach.

Size of the new bathroom will make possible installation of two wash basins and two showers to take care of the rush hour in the modern household during which members are forever clashing — some using the bath before retiring at the same time others want to use it in preparation for going somewhere.

All this is very intriguing, of course. But it will pleasantly interest Mom and the kids much more than it will the Old Man.

Since he is fully aware that he would forever be shunted away from a bathroom even the size of a haybarn, he isn't thinking of such rooms in size as much as he is in numbers. When he builds his dream home he'll be perfectly willing for the house to be as well sprinkled with large, ornate bathrooms to the extent of his ability to pay — if only he can have one of his very own.

He'll settle, too, for a small one without the modern gadgets — just so long as it will be his to use when and how he wants to use it!

"Books are very poor ornaments for a home," says Mayor LaGuardia. "They get dusty." Then why not return them, Fiorello?

FOUR YOUNG MEN IN THE GOLD RUSH

V

On June 7 they reached Fort Laramie and stayed there resting for two days. The plain around the fort was white with tents and wagons. The epidemic of cholera that had begun along the Mississippi during the spring of that year had reached this point in Wyoming. About a dozen cases were reported at Laramie when the Cullen train arrived. John Cullen set up his camp for the 15 wagons about half a mile from the main body of emigrants. Then he visited each wagon and gave positive orders that no water was to be drunk until it had been boiled, and all food of every description was to be wrapped in cloth until people were ready to eat it.

No one in the train was sick, but Andy Gordon records the relief they all felt when they got away from Laramie. They had remained there two days to have some repairs made to three of the wagons.

June 12. As the trail gets rougher we encounter piles of things that people have thrown away to lighten their loads. This was a day of scenes of abandoned property; stoves, blacksmith tools, mattresses, cooking utensils, and provisions of every kind strung along the road. There was also an abandoned wagon with broken axles. We have been seeing dead animals from the first day, but today we saw three dead mules and an ox lying by the side of the road.

Out of a spirit of malice those who had to abandon provisions often rendered them useless. Sugar had turpentine poured over it; flour was scattered over the ground, and clothes were torn to pieces. Here and there, as an exception, foodstuffs were left in good order with a message fastened on the pile telling the finder to help himself.

News for the public was sometimes attached to boards and set up in a prominent place. One such message read: "The water here is poison, and we have lost six cattle. Do not let your cattle drink from this creek."

At Pocatello in Idaho — on July 6—the trail turned to the southwest and 10 days later the caravan entered Nevada. Besides the Cullen procession of 15 wagons there were four other trains altogether, or 47 wagons in all. In Gordon's dairy we read of the death of a little girl, one of the three Jackson children who were going across with their parents. Gordon wrote, "A grave was dug by the side of the trail and Tommy Plunkett painted her name and the date of her death on a board which was set up at her grave. She was buried with no more ceremony than a prayer by Mr. Cullen. I shall never forget her mother's face as she looked back from the next rise and saw the lonely little grave on the prairie."

Occasionally they encountered bands of Indians who seemed friendly. Sometimes they exchanged small articles for Indian trinkets. Every night they took precautions, however, against an Indian attack by forming a square of all the wagons, more than 40 of them, with the people in the center. In this enclosure there was not enough room for the cattle, and they were tied outside the square in a corral formed of ropes. Six men were detailed each night to guard the wagons and the cattle. The cattle were in some danger from wolves, but when they appeared the guards always drove them off by firing a few shots.

The outfit, by following the Wyoming-Idaho route, avoided most of the desert lands, but there was no way to get around the Humboldt Desert of Nevada, which runs from Winnemucca southwest nearly to Carson City. They reached the northern edge of it on August 12.

August 20. I hardly know whether I am alive or dead. All day in a blazing heat, with the air so hot that in moving my hand through it I feel as if I were thrusting it into the hot air over a bed of coals. The oxen stagger along with their tongues hanging out. I mean our six oxen do, but the beasts of some of the other wagons have simply laid down to die. In such cases we cannot wait; we cut them from their traces and leave them lying there.

Our barrel of water helps. The river water can be drunk when it is flowing—in small quantities—but it is dangerous (I may say deadly) after it stands awhile. Why, I can't say. We have vinegar to pour down the throats of the cattle, when they show signs of being alkalied; it does help.

It is difficult to make much progress in the deep, soft sand. It is like fine dust. The cattle are in it up to their knees and we are constantly called on to put our shoulders to the wheel and help push the wagons out. But not for our own shebang, for our cattle are pulling only a light load now.

The Cullen train of 15 wagons got through the desert all right, with the loss of only one man, six oxen and a mule.

The train ran through Carson and south of Lake Tahoe. After two days' rest at Ragtown on the Carson River they began the mountainous ascent leading to the pass across the Sierra Nevada. There was a feeling of gaiety in the expedition, with a great deal of shouting and laughter. They were nearing the end of their long trail, though the road up to the pass was incredibly bad.

Eventually they reached the top, more than 9000 feet above the level of the sea. They could see for many miles and the whole green world of California lay before them. The members of the expedition gathered and stood awhile in silence, staring across the land. Then a spontaneous cheer arose; it rang and echoed among the mountains. "California, here we come!"

Points Rise Sharply On Canned Fruits

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—Canned mixed fruits, peaches, pineapple, pears and tomatoes will cost more blue points beginning Sunday.

The increase for the fruit is from 60 to 80 points for the popular No. 2½ can. A No. 2 can of tomatoes will take 30 points, an increase of 10.

However, a No. 2 can of applesauce will require only 10 points, a decrease of 20.

The only other change reduces the blue point cost of a No. 10 can of apples from 120 to 80 points.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

A 14-YEAR-OLD Jersey City boy shot and killed himself because he had been found in a neighbor's cellar and was facing a police hearing.

According to the chief of police, the youngster hadn't done anything that would have brought him more than a lecture. He was interested in an archery set of the neighbor's son and went to the cellar to play with it.

BRANDEIS

There is hardly a week that we don't hear about some kid committing suicide, and usually it is only about something that, to us grown-ups, seems very trivial, such as an examination flunked, a scolding or some simple, little misdeed.

Whenever I read about those case my heart goes out to those kids, and at the same time I always wonder how much the parents are to blame.

Sometimes I think that youth is terribly lonesome and, with all its happiness and opportunity, somewhat tragic.

How many children really confide in their parents? How many feel that they can go to them with their worries and troubles, which adults call little but which to them are so big?

Most youngsters know that all they will get from their parents is either ridicule or censure, and neither is constructive.

If people would only realize that youth is extremely sensitive and easily hurt.

Youth is in its formative state, it is like sculptor's clay that takes the form which he gives to it.

Youth is not yet hardened to experience. Before it is a great unknown and terrifying world.

There are many dark passages that offer so much adventure to childish curiosity. Blessed is the child who is guided through these passages by a wise and understanding parent.

It is a most peculiar phenomenon that nothing is so quickly forgotten as our childhood.

The very things we did ourselves we now condemn or belittle in our children.

We are so busy with the things we call important but which mean nothing to a child.

I REMEMBER a few years ago when my newspaper wanted to run some kind of a contest for children. Magnanimously — and with an eye on business — they wanted to give away prizes up to $50.

But a wise old circulation manager, who had had much experience with contests of that kind, warned the management.

"If you make the prizes too big" he said, "you'll never interest the kids.

"'Five hundred dollars means nothing to a child. He knows that his parents will take it away from him and either save it or buy something that is 'good' for him.

"But 50 cents or a dollar or maybe two or five, that means a lot. That means candy or a doll or some toy to play with or a pair of skates.

"Never forget that little things are big to children."

They followed his advice and the contest was a big success.

What a wonderful world this would be if we could all be children all our lives—children with the innate goodness and decency of the child, with the zest and vigor of the child and with his character unspoiled by experience.

As you go through life with all its disappointments and all its pettiness, you wonder sometimes whether many of the people you meet were ever children at all.

Our Tightening Bans

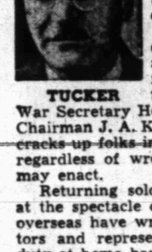

U. S. Seeks "Crisis Psychology"

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE underlying reason for James F. Byrnes' curfew law and horse-racing ban, as well as for more restrictions on nonessential activities, is the belief that the curbs are needed for their effect on the psychology of the civilian and military population. Neither moral nor direct economic factors entered into his decision.

Carbaret owners' contentions that the congenial and nonabstemious War mobilizer was influenced by the dry lobby are dismissed as so much nonsense. Although the prohibitinoists have raised a huge fund for Volsteadian purposes, they are so weak on Capitol Hill that they cannot even obtain a committee hearing on a bill to dry up the nation for the duration.

It is also admitted in war-planning circles that the twelve o'clock closing will contribute little to the over-all military effort. Experts do not anticipate that many fighters or industrial workers will be drawn from the kitchen, serving or performing personnel of night clubs, saloons and other places of entertainment. With warm weather approaching, there will be hardly any saving of fuel.

TUCKER

The need for maintaining a crisis psychology has become acute because of Allied successes in Europe and American gains in the Pacific. Men like Byrnes, War Secretary Henry Stimson and War Production Chairman J. A. Krug are afraid that when Germany cracks up folks in the factories will head for home, regardless of wrok-or-fight statutes that Congress may enact.

Returning soldiers have also expressed disgust at the spectacle of America on a binge. Comrades overseas have written similar views to their senators and representatives. Many vets assigned to duty at home have asked to be shipped back oversears in resentment against the seeming indifference to their hardships and sacrifices at the front.

Moreover, if this "shot in the arm" does not have the desired effect, and if a letdown follows a Nazi surrender, new curtailments—such as nationwide prohibition of travel, professional baseball and even further shortening of hours for amusement centers—may be imposed.

ARMS: War Production Chairman Krug was responsible for the anonymous announcement that American forces transferred from Europe to the Japanese sector would be equipped with new weapons manufactured here, and that billions of dollars' worth of planes, artillery, tanks etc. would be warehoused on the continent. He will be asked to justify this program when the House Appropriations committee starts hearings on the War department's budget.

Henry Stimson rushed a major general to the office of Rep. Albert J. Engel of Michigan, who had written a letter asking the Secretary of War for an explanation and details. After pish-pishing the newspaper article, which was originally distributed by a highly reputable press association, the emissary admitted that an extremely secret memorandum contained the recommendation which Stimson had repudiated.

Principal sponsors of the "junking" project are Krug and Robert P. Patterson, Under Secretary of War, who handles production matters for his superior. It is understood on Capitol Hill that they cooked up the scheme without consulting the Secretary of War. White House aides are supposed to be in favor of it because it will stave off an industrial slump and maintain employment.

Congressional people in close touch with the WPB and War department regard the tentative decision as evidence that Russia will fight Japan after the liquidation of Moscow's continental enemy. American arms in Europe could be shipped or flown more quickly and expeditiously to the Manchurian or Chinese theater than to our units in the Far East, now that Turkey has become a fighting member of the United Nations and has opened the Dardanelles to military traffic.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

PERHAPS your man of the house is one of those hearty eaters who throws down his newspaper and exclaims, "I read here that the government says there will be plenty of food in 1945. Then why can't you serve something better than that?"—and he points scornfully at a nice dish of stewed tripe.

As an aid to domestic harmony the following explanation of the current dinner table crisis is presented by spokesmen of the big national food organizations in New York:

LEMAN

The country as a whole will get as much protein and as many calories as in peacetimes. Statisticians base their estimates on what the average consumer will receive. Unfortunately that rare bird is almost never found except in reports and estimates. Most people will continue to find shortages in meats and canned goods for many months.

The former low income classes are buying more beef and a greater variety of groceries than ever before. Distribution from producer to corner store is snarled by snow, floods, dearth of freight cars, loss of manpower and other handicaps.

And when everything seems to be going smoothly the Army quartermasters walk into the market and announce, "We've got some hungry doughboys on our hands," and they strip the warehouses.

CANNED: The American Institute of Food Distribution reports that for the last seven weeks purchases of canned goods have so reduced wholesalers' stocks that jobbers and retailers are limiting sales in many places.

Chain stores have not as much on hand as have the independents. But as most of the latter are giving customers everything they ask for, trade oracles predict that local grocers will run out of supplies in a couple of months. Then there will be a real famine until the new packs arrive this Summer.

The long-range future for canned vegetables appears good; this year's ample amount of moisture in the soil should help make a bounteous harvest.

Grapefruit and orange juice inventories already are low; they will be even more so. The worst shortage will be in canned fish. The government is requisitioning 75 per cent of the pack, which means that consumers will be cut at least 30 per cent.

The tightest market will be in sardines and mackerel; sardines are standard diet for liberated Filipinos. Late deliveries of the 1944 salmon and tuna fish packs have eased the situation in those two items for the moment.

BEEF: There will be slightly less meat than last year but more than in prewar years. Such an authoritative statement may seem ridiculous to urban dwellers who haven't polished their teeth on a T-bone in months, but it's a fact.

Many butchers have heard that the armed services have demanded an enormous "set-aside" and have about given up hope of ever wielding a cleaver again.

But Uncle Sam rarely ever takes all that he has earmarked and what is left over from military requirements is released immediately into civilian channels.

More high quality beef will be available in many localities. City people will continue to be the worst off. This is because the government obtains its meat from the large federal-inspected packers, which are also the chief source of urban supplies.

Rural butchers buy from local slaughterhouses. As these outlets are not tapped by Army-Navy purchasing agents, the folks in the wide open spaces have more steaks and roasts than do those in the penthouses and tenements.

Farmers are earning so much money that they can afford to eat their own cattle rather than sell them all.

A man who rolls enough cigarettes each evening to last him next day says his vacuum cleaner has developed a tobacco cough.

Side Glances --- By Galbraith

"You're both wrong! The last big snow didn't fall the year before the saloon burned or the year Doc Brown got sick — all three happened the same winter!"

Why U. S. Manpower Is Lagging

New Bedford Incident Outlined By Stokes

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. — The experience of government agencies in trying to corral about 300 skilled textile workers to increase tire cord production here dramatizes the difficulties of voluntary methods at this stage of the war with manpower demands so heavy.

This is true particularly where there are local tensions and frictions to intensify the native American antipathy to being told where to work — in short, "being shoved around."

STOKES

There are plenty of tensions here. They may be more exaggerated than in most American communities. But, conceding that, New Bedford's problem is not a great deal different than others. It is a typical mill town.

The conflicts here exist in some degree, in other communities plagued with manpower shortages —rivalry between the CIO and the AFL; aloofness—if not hostility—toward what they call "off-islanders" here (people and corporations with roots and headquarters elsewhere); weariness with regimentation of living required by total war; antagonism toward federal bureaus in Washington.

Old Antagonisms Remain

In other mill town, too, there is feeling about "the company" which stems from the days when hours were long and wages low and strikes frequent and often bloody. (The hours are long again, of course.) There are now, too, much higher wages in war plants in this vicinity than in the textile plants. The war plants lured many workers away long ago, including textile workers.

Always, too, incessantly there is the clack-clack-clack of the machines and the mist of lint in the air.

THE story is pieced together by talking with "Tony" England, local CIO Textile union director who started life as a lawyer, and with bluff, rotund, outspoken Seraphim P. Jason, local AFL boss; with plant managers, with townfolk and with Mayor Harriman, a former AFL leader who tells you he has run for office 30 times and got beaten 27.

Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt is trying to force some 250 skilled workers from nine fine goods mills here to transfer to the two tire cord plants, one operated by Firestone, the other a Fisk plant of U. S. rubber—"off-island" corporations, though they have been here for some years. The transferees would work a night shift—11 p. m. to 7 a. m.

Fear Loss Of Benefits

Union leaders and workers cite a number of reasons against transfer. They claim the work is heavier at the tire cord plants, that there is a "stretch-out," though the average rate of pay is about five cents an hour higher. Also they would lose insurance against disability, sickness, etc., which the fine goods plants provide workers at company expense, but which the other two plants have refused to install. Also, they say, vacation and seniority rights might be jeopardized. They circulate a report that the Firestone plant is going to move out after the war.

THE CIO Textile Workers union has issues against both plants. Nineteen months ago it compiled a list of grievances at the Fisk plant which has had a union contract since 1937—even before the fine goods plants. The list included the insurance feature. These have been tossed back and forth by the War Labor board at Washington, with decisions on some points, but not the insurance. "Tony" England is exasperated at WLB and asks, with some justification, why the delay? Last December, CIO won over the AFL in an election at the Firestone plant, but negotiations for a contract have been delayed.

Both labor and management accuse one another of trying to capitalize on the war to advance its own interests.

Social Problem Involved

Also complicating the situation here is the fact that half or more of the textile workers are women, some with children, some old women, so that a social problem is involved. Wage rates average from 50 to 70 cents an hour, and living costs are high.

Most of the workers have sons, brothers, relatives in the service. It would seem that some solution could have been reached. But many weeks of voluntary effort have failed to produce it. There's a strange sort of psychology at work, typically American and with much to recommend it in normal times, which seems to impede a solution in the spirit of voluntary co-operation under the stress of war.

Shift Of Home Dem Agents Announced

COLLEGE STATION, March 2. (AP)—Miss Leta Bennett, McClennan county home demonstration agent, will become district agent of District 10, the San Antonio area, for Texas A. and M. college extension service March 16.

Her appointment to fill a vacancy left when Miss Zetha McInnis resigned to become associate home demonstrator for Lake Charles, La., was announced yesterday.

Mae Belle Smith has been assigned to District 9 covering the Beaumont-Nacogdoches area, to replace Miss McInnis.

Austra Whites On Tuesdays
In this cross I use my strain of English Leghorn hens and Star Mating Black Australop males, fastest growing broilers and heaviest production breed known.

English Leghorns on Fridays
My English Leghorns on Fridays. Every egg set is produced on our two breeding farms. 280 to 311 egg ancestry Cockerels head our mating pens, for 11 years we have used the highest producing hens to build up our flock.

Every hen and cockerel bloodtested for B. W. D.

PROFIT CASHING TAKES TOLL

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP) — Spots of strength remained in today's stock market but the list, as a whole, succumbed to profit cashing on the recent climb to highest levels since 1937.

Reports the stock exchange would soon announce that margin accounts for securities selling under $10 would be prohibited—this rule now applies to the $5 and under class—helped depress speculative sentiment to some extent.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .3 of a point at 62. Of 976 issues recorded, 378 were down against 398 up or unchanged. Transfers totaled 1,770,000 shares compared with 2,090,000 yesterday.

Safeway Stores jumped 5¼ to 63, a new top, when the concern proposed a 3-for-1 stock splitup. Standard Gas $6 and $7 preferreds fell 5 and 5⅝, respectively, while the $4 preferred rose ⅝, in the wake of a court decision disapproving the company's reorganization plan.

On the offside were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, U. S. Rubber, Texas Co., Western Union "A," Kennecott, U. S. Gypsum and Douglas Aircraft.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Cotton futures prices dropped 15 to 30 cents a bale today in light liquidation and hedge selling.

Traders studied for guidance government figures showing farmers placed 19,509 bales of cotton in loan and sold 74,206 bales under government price support plan in the week ended Feb. 24.

Mill buying of spot cotton was spotty during the week, trade reports said.

Great Sky Battles

150 RAF bombers returned during the afternoon to repeat the blow. Airmen said Cologne's famous cathedral was standing, but that most of the rest of the city "looked like a heap of rubble." The city now has been bombed 167 times with 50,000 tons of explosives since the war began.

The non-stop Allied aerial blitz rolled on after dark. RAF Mosquito bombers bombed Berlin for the 11th night in a row and also hit Kassel, 100 miles east of Cologne.

Luftwaffe Comes Up

The big air battle came when 1,250 U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators with an escort of 800 fighters flew from their bases in Britain and attacked six oil, rail and armament centers extending from central Germany to the Czech border.

The luftwaffe rose up in its greatest strength since the Nazis sacrificed 186 planes trying to guard the Magdeburg oil area on Jan. 14.

The stiff challenge suggested the enemy was throwing in his carefully hoarded reserves after enduring Allied bomber attacks for 17 consecutive days with little comeback.

Of the Nazi planes destroyed by Mustangs and Thunderbolts escorting the Eighth Air force bombers, 67 were shot down in dogfights and 33 bagged by ground strafing.

Along Battlefront

Tactical air forces based on the continent sent fighter, medium and light bombers in relays at German communications all along the flaming battlefront. Reconnaissance disclosed the Germans were making especially strenuous efforts to supply troops east of the Rhine on the Ninth Army front. The continual air attacks, however, stranded many German trains on torn-up stretches of track.

Italy-based Fortresses and Liberators of the U. S. 15th Air force blasted targets in the Linz area of Austria for the fourth time. Their escorting Mustangs and Lightnings carried out strafing missions in the same region. Targets in northern Italy also were hit.

Russian Front

sea, and the Pomeranian breakthrough made their sector a trap within a trap.

Moscow radio broadcasts credited the Russian Pomeranian forces with "important operational successes," and Berlin said "the all-out Soviet offensive has reached its climax."

Cossacks Plan Trap

Siberian and Cossack horsemen under Lt. Gen. N. S. Oslikovsky were operating ahead of Rokossovsky's armored units, and following in the wake of the tanks were mobile artillery groups under Col. Gen. A. K. Sokolsky, striving to effect a third great encirclement of Nazi forces.

The Third White Russian Army around Koenigsberg now has launched a major assault on the narrow enemy pocket along the Frisches Haff, Baltic lagoon, southwest of the East Prussian capital, Berlin said. Once it has erased that sector it can turn its powerful units against Danzig.

The right wing of Rokossovsky's Army last was reported within 33 miles of Danzig on the south, pushing up through the Polish "corridor" along the west bank of the Vistula river. The by-passed enemy stronghold of Grudziadz, 57 miles south of Danzig, appeared about to fall. The Germans had been squeezed into a narrow sector of the city in fierce house-to-house fighting, and Adolf Hitler paid a special tribute to the garrison—the usual farewell procedure.

Dig-In For Siege

Danzig's garrison was digging in for a protracted siege in an effort to hold that valuable port and its nearby naval base of Gdynia. Danzig is 78 miles east of the threatened middle Pomeranian stronghold of Schlawe.

At the western end of Pomerania the right wing of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's Berlin-pointed First White Russian Army had crossed the Ihna river six miles north of fallen Arnswalde, and was attacking on the immediate approaches to Stargard, outer defense bastion of Stettin, the Nazi high command said.

In this area the Russians were 57 miles from the Baltic and about 39 miles southeast of Stettin, at the mouth of the Oder river.

Yanks Reported Crossing Rhine

the Ninth Army, threatening entrapment of thousands of Germans.

German broadcasts said that between the closing jaws of this nutcracker the British Second Army went over on the offensive, and broke across the Maas river in a drive designed to pin down and destroy the German Army west of the Rhine.

Astonishing Speed

Duesseldorf's cross-Rhine suburb of Neuss and the steel city of Krefeld near the Rhine, 10 miles to the northwest, fell with astonishing speed as the Ninth Army roared 15 miles through broken lines.

German rearguards fought fiercely between the Neuss and the Rhine to keep the Americans from breaking across the river into Duesseldorf on two bridges still intact.

In the northern outskirts of Krefeld, a city of 170,000, enemy tanks battled to hold open the main Rhine bridge on the superhighway at nearby Uerdingen.

This was the principal way out of the closing trap for parts of 10 crack divisions, which abruptly broke off the battle with the Canadian First Army and fled. The Canadians then occupied the strongpoints of Weeze and Kervenheim and neared the anchor city of Xanten on the Rhine.

Many Already Sealed Off

Already large numbers of Germans had been sealed off along the Maas by a lightning Ninth Army blow that overran the strongholds of Venlo and Roermond, at whose muddy approaches many a British Second Army soldier died last fall and winter.

The Germans were left with nothing west of the Rhine capable of halting Gen. Eisenhower's avalanche, and 6,000 warplanes pounded on the bleeding wehrmacht, hammering it from dawn to dusk in a gigantic display of combined land and air power.

Front dispatches were filled with reports of the complete rout of the Germans before the Ninth Army onslaught.

One reports said the Germans frequently stopped fighting in the midst of battle and broke into headlong retreat, and another said the Americans ran wild through city after city.

Cologne Is Battered

One way out was Cologne itself, and 900 RAF heavy bombers in two raids plastered it with high explosives aimed at German troop concentrations reported there. They also sought to block the main streets with craters and debris.

The U. S. First Army once more was lashing out from its Erft river bridgehead — now 11 miles wide — toward Cologne, which was under heavy bomber attack with four of its five bridges destroyed.

Another column of the First Army speared southeastward to within 15 miles of the Rhine's transit center of Bonn, 11 miles southeast of Cologne.

Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson was disclosed to have hurled seven infantry and three armored divisions, 150,000 men, into the offensive which in a week has destroyed five German infantry divisions of the 15th Army and heavily mauled three Panzer divisions.

Battered Remnants Flee

The battered remnants were fleeing across the Rhine, some under American artillery fire and under an aerial scourging. Elements of 10 divisions facing the Canadians likewise were in flight.

Since striking out a week ago, the Ninth Army had reeled off 33 miles, and tonight it was clear that the battle of the Rhine, one of the swiftest of Allied triumphs, was near an end, a dispatch from Field Marshal Montgomery's headquarters said.

As the flight became as chaotic in some places as that in Normandy last summer, Gen. Eisenhower toured the front with Simpson to see how well the Ninth had carried out his orders to destroy every German soldier west of the Rhine.

The smoke of American shellbursts mingled with the smoke from the factories of Duesseldorf, administrative center of the Ruhr basin with a population of 539,-000.

102nd Takes Krefeld

To the northwest, the 102nd division in 10-mile advance captured Krefeld, a steel and railway city of 170,000 population.

To the west the 35th infantry and the Eighth Armored divisions sealed off an undetermined number of Germans left along the once-formidable Maas river line south of Venlo, and, striking seven miles northwest of that fallen citadel, captured Straelen.

Farther south, patrols entered Roermond and found it deserted; but between Venlo and Roermond patrols crossing the Maas got a sharp reaction, indicating possibly sizeable forces had been trapped.

The greatest peril to the Germans still west of the Rhine was rising from the Kerfeld push, for here Simpson's tanks and infantry were closing fast on the best roads of retreat to the Rhine.

In some of the cities smoke still rose from chimneys of factories making materials for Hitler's armies as the Americans charged through.

Civilians Are Sullen

Sullen German civilians watched from windows, but made no attempt to scorch the earth and snipe as ordered by Hitler.

A Ninth Army staff officer declared that the German defenses for the most part had degenerated into a rout.

With this peril rising behind them, elements of 10 divisions opposing Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's Canadian First Army abruptly broke off the battle and headed for the Rhine.

Bitterly - contested Weeze fell to British troops who then sped on two and a half miles south to within a mile of Kevelaer, 10 miles from the Americans at Straelen.

News Briefs

A singing program will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the High school auditorium at Crosbyton, it was reported. Singers from Lubbock, Floyd, Dickens and Kent counties are expected, and an extensive program has been planned.

James Edward Todd, 11, of Lubbock, suffered a compound fracture of the left arm Friday night, it was reported. His condition was said to be satisfactory by attendants at Lubbock General hospital.

Red Cross Campaign Workers Organize

Two meetings were held Friday in connection with the Red Cross War Fund campaign which will begin generally in Lubbock Tuesday morning.

Teams of seven men each were selected by captains of a committee headed by B. Sherrod, general chairman, at a meeting yesterday afternoon at City hall. George P. Kuykendall and J. D. Hassell, co-chairmen of the Lubbock county campaign spoke on the methods for conducting the campaign, with Sherrod in charge of the meeting.

Representatives of the employee's division of the campaign met last night at Lubbock hotel to receive materials and instructions regarding their duties as solicitors for the firms of 10 or more employees they represented. C. A. Bestwick, chairmen of the employee's division was in charge of the meeting at which W. C. O'Mara, county chapter chairman, was speaker. J. D. Hassell gave instructions and issued membership cards, window stickers and other materials.

American Parley

the future, and thus avoid the Argentine tangle another time, were shelved. Recognition is a matter for each state to decide itself, conference members declared.

The conference also swept towards final agreement on the three other prime subjects under discussion:

1. Reorganization of the Pan-American union giving it political and economic powers as reported favorably by the commission on the Inter-American system. General approval by the conference is expected without further ado. As it will now be constituted, the union will be able to act as a hemisphere security council, in conjunction with a permanent board of staff officers, similar to the Dumbarton Oaks council and assembly combined.

Some Are Unhappy

Several countries objected to the plan to bar ambassadors to Washington as delegates to the Pan-American union, but they were voted down. They can be expected to bring the matter up later, because many are incensed over what they say means "having two ambassadors in Washington."

2. Economic subcommittees agreed on three resolutions combining U. S. and Latin American plans to ease the inevitable break from war to peace-time business and help Latin America industrialize. In return for U. S. aid, the Latins agree to bear down against trade barriers and discrimination.

3 The commission on the war effort approved three resolutions providing for punishment of Axis war criminals who might sneak into the hemisphere, from Nazi big-wigs down to their menial agents.

At the same time, action was taken towards frustrating permanently any Axis attempt to get a foothold on the American continent by hiding money or property here and then using it to finance propaganda, sabotage, protect war criminals, or any other subversive act.

Advances On Iwo

ly for use by bombers and fighters, within 750 miles of Tokyo, today's communique noted. The field already is being used by light spotter planes serving Marine artillery for observtion purposes.

Fifth fleet warships, carrier-based planes and Marine artillery supplied the fire curtain for the Marines in Friday's gains.

"Destruction of enemy caves and strongpoints on Iwo is continuing," Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said.

Thursday both carrier-based planes made neutralization attacks on the Bonin islands north of Iwo, the bases in the best position to aid the Nipponese garrison on Iwo.

Navy search planes bombed Wake island the same day.

Main Break Thursday

General Erskine's Third division scored its original breakthrough of main Japanese defenses Thursday.

After days of vicious fighting, the Leathernecks were in position for the final kill, said a dispatch from Morrie Landsberg, AP war correspondent aboard the expeditionary flagship.

An equally optimistic report on the situation on the western flank came from AP war correspondent Hamilton Faron, with the Fifth Marine division. He said the Devildogs on that end of the line had broken through what was believed to be the last major line of enemy resistance.

eleven rail and road bridges across the Rhine available for an orderly German retreat to the east bank when General Eisenhower launched his troops over the Roer a week ago is still completely open. Most of them are in the immediate Cologne, Duesseldorf and Duisburg areas. Either Canadian or American forces are converging upon them or upon the highways and rail routes leading to them from the west at a pace that threatens virtual extinction of the Nazi Army still west of the river.

The full scope of the Allied victory is not yet apparent nor the effect it may have immediately on Nazi ability to hold even behind the Rhine for any length of time. Presumably the Nazi command, in desperate straits for sufficient reserves to meet the Allied breakthrough over the Roer has been forced to virtually abandon whole divisions snared on the left bank. He dared not risk his available reserves east of the Rhine in an effort to salvage them. To do so would have exposed the Rhine itself to immediate Allied crossing attempts.

Nor is it certain as this is written that the Rhine long can be held without heavy reinforcement drafts on Nazi forces now deployed in the East in defense of Berlin and Dresden where full-scale resumption of the Russian offensive at any moment appears certain.

Pilfering Mexican Child Taken Again; Police Kept Busy

A six-year-old Mexican boy with a bent for prowling in parked automobiles was picked up again Friday afternoon by police.

Mrs. Nancy Green, juvenile officer, said it was the third time in a brief period that the child's pilfering had come to the attention of officers.

The youngster once more was accompanied to his home by minions of the law, and again he and his parents were admonished.

Drunk Picked Up

Patrolmen Marlin Brothers and L. N. Bartley took charge of a drunk who made himself comfortable early list night at the residence of Mrs. John Lowrimore, 1708 Eighteenth. Mrs. Lowrimore, returning to her dwelling, observed a man enter the house. She called police who found a drunk sitting in an easy chair and lending an ear to a radio program.

Two generators from irrigation well engines were stolen from Earl Elliott of seven miles northwest of Lubbock on the Shallowater road, the sheriff's department was informed.

Stolen Property Held

Officers sought to learn who lost a hydraulic jack, two grease guns, a lug wrench and two crescent wrenches. They hold the property—and two negro juveniles, 14 and 16, who were found in possession of the tools. They admitted taking the loot from a car parked "near the mule barn."

Police believe juveniles participated in breakins Thursday night of Junior High school and Hunt school. Four or five dollars was taken from Junior High, a cigaret lighter and two sacks of tobacco from Hunt school, where there was evidence that someone indulged in a match striking orgy.

Rollie Burns Dies

address, and another son, George Burns, of Los Angeles. Nine grandchildren also survive.

The pioneer had been living in recent years with Mrs. McCrummen. His wife died in 1934.

His health had been deteriorating for three or four years. He was admitted to the hospital Thursday morning. Death came at 9:58 o'clock last night.

Among the pioneers who helped organize Lubbock county, Burns served in the early days as a county commissioner for eight years and as tax assessor-collector for 14 years.

Born In Missouri

Burns was born in Missouri. He came to Texas with his parents at the age of 4. The Burns' settled at Denison, which was the home of the woman, Miss Emma Boles, later to become his wife.

His first association with the ranching business came in 1881, when he became a hand for the "22" ranch near Crosbyton. In June of 1883 he left the "22" to work for the Currycomb, owned by the Llano Cattle company, which lay south of the "22." He was employed on this ranch for about a year, most of the time as manager.

Managed Square And Compass

In 1884, he became manager of the Square and Compass ranch, which spread south of the Currycomb property. The headquarters was located between the Caprock and Double Mountain river. The land is now a part of the Jay Slaughter estate. After four years at this job, he became manager of the OIA ranch, which covered what is now the south half of Lubbock county. He managed the OIA until 1896. He then obtained a ranch of his own in the present eastern part of Lubbock county. He called it "Idlewild." He sold the ranch in 1907 and moved to Lubbock.

His next venture was a bus and mail line from Lubbock to Plainview. This he operated with "chain-driven" Buicks until 1909.

Helped Start Townsite

Burns was associated with Frank Wheelock, John T. Lofton, James Harrison and W. E. Rayner in starting the townsite of Lubbock in 1890.

Always interested in the development of his county, Burns in the budding days of this area gave a section of land adjoining the original town of Lubbock to W. M. Lay, who then resided in Crosby county, to entice him to move to Lubbock and run for sheriff. The land now comprises the Overton addition in Lubbock.

Cotton Experiment

No one ever disputed Burns' claim that he was the first man to experiment with cotton on the South Plains, now one of the nation's most productive cotton areas. In 1912, he planted three or four acres southeast of the city to "see if it would grow." It did grow—to the extent of a half bale to the acre. There was no convenient means for processing the cotton and he let his cows eat it.

The crop was grown on the rim of a canyon near the current headquarters of the V 8 ranch, five or six miles southeast of Lubbock.

One of the city's parks, in the vicinity of Twenty-third and Ave. K was named for the pioneer several years ago.

The Oder River is more than 550 miles long.

FDR Sidesteps Definite Queries At News Conference About Yalta

By HOWARD FLIEGER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 2.—President Roosevelt was in a chuckling, chatty mood today as Washington reporters filed into his study for his first news conference since January 19.

The conference opened 45 minutes late. The President volunteered no important information but a drumfire of newsmen's questions uncorked some presidential news about Jesse Jones (he's through as loan administrator as well as commerce secretary), about reparations, treaties—and little else.

Some Senate Treaties

Somebody wanted to know whether there will be many Senate treaties as a result of the Big Three's Yalta conference.

Treaties and legislation will be going to Congress like clockwork, said the President. He didn't grow specific but he said there'll be a need for things like money—an obvious reference to the Bretton Woods agreement—and for a host of things he wrapped up as small details.

There might be a treaty with Germany some day but talk about it now is pretty iffy: He's no crystal gazer, said the President. First he wants to win the war. But it might not be a bad idea, he observed, to send some ex-German soldiers into the Crimea to clean up the war mess he saw there.

With uninformative answers—or chuckles—Mr. Roosevelt deflated questions about rumors that Commerce Secretary Henry A. Wallace will take over the Foreign Economic administration, about former Democratic National Chairman Edward J. Flynn's mission to Russia, about the reason for calling a United Nations conference in San Francisco. It seemed like a pretty good place to the President.

Status Of Jesse Jones

Then a newsman asked about "the present status of Jesse Jones," fired as secretary of commerce when Mr. Roosevelt picked Wallace for the job.

The President smiled and said he's been assuming right along that Jones is ex-secretary of commerce.

"Does he still hold his loan job (RFC head)?" the reporter pressed.

He had that as secretary of commerce, Mr. Roosevelt replied — then added an emphatic no when asked wether the Texan would stay with the lending agencies until his successor is named.

Crime In Texas Rises Over January Of '44

AUSTIN, March 2. (AP)—Crime in Texas increased 12 per cent in January over the same month a year ago, Director Homer Garrison of the Department of Public Safety said today.

On the basis of reports from police and sheriff departments covering 48 per cent of the state's population, there were 9,327 offenses of murder, homicide, rape, robbery, burglary, theft and auto theft in January, 1945. The total for January, 1944, was 7,983.

Funeral Set Sunday For Tommie White

Funeral services for Tommie Gene White, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. White of 525 Ave. Q, will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist church with the pastor, Dr. C. E. Hereford, officiating.

Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery, Sanders Funeral home announced.

The boy died Thursday night in Lubbock General hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Other survivors are two brothers, Jerry Lee and Charles Roy White of Lubbock; five half-brothers, Alto White of Clairette, Kenneth White, stationed in New Guinea, Roy White, stationed in Southwest Pacific theater, Harry White, stationed in England, James White of Lubbock; three half-sisters, Virginia Pilley, Cathrine White and Allene Simpkins, all of Lubbock.

Pastor Gets Three Messages Of Death

Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, received three death messages this week.

Monday morning he received a message that a friend, J. D. Brown of Vernon, had been killed in action in Belgium Dec. 22. Monday afternoon another message stated that his nephew, Homer Smith of Yuma, Ariz., had been killed in France, Jan. 24.

Friday morning he was informed of the death of his brother-in-law, George Smith, of San Diego, Calif., who died there Thursday.

Services for Smith will be held at Yuma and burial will be near Weatherford Monday.

NAZIS BITE BACK

(By The Associated Press)

The German news agency DNB today termed President Roosevelt's report to Congress on the Yalta conference "empty verbiage" and declared the German people would "radically eliminate Yalta and and all the enemy's intoxication of hatred."

RFC Plans To Take Bank Pool Credit

WASHINGTON, March 2. (U.P.)—The Reconstruction Finance Corp., today offered to take up 75 per cent of all loans to be made by bank credit pools now being formed to aid reconversion.

Emphasis will be placed on small business loans. The plan was recommended as a move to continue the close ties between the RFC and banking industry.

The credit pool plan was set up by the banks through the American Bankers association. It was designed to provide efficient private lending of funds to worthy organizations and individuals.

Under its program RFC will charge four per cent interest on its portion of the loans. It will allow the pools to charge up to six per cent for their part.

The RFC said it has authorized more than 22,000 industrial loans totaling $2,650,000,000 (b), more than half of them for less than $10,000. The corporation said it will continue to make such loans.

Soldier Held For Hammer Slaying Of Young Divorcee

OCEAN SPRINGS, Miss., March 2. (U.P.)—Edward S. Borsage, 22, Biloxi, Miss., merchant seaman who police said hammered a young divorcee to death because she wouldn't let him take a bath before her, was held for murder today.

Police quoted Borsage as saying he met dark-haired Mrs. Lillian Pierce, 22, in New Orleans Tuesday. He said she was a former waitress who told him she had come to New Orleans from Denver, Colo., to marry an Army sergeant.

Instead, Borsage said in a statement to police, she travelled to Ocean Springs with him, and they registered in a hotel as Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of New Orleans.

Borsage said he had a drink, and while he was having a few more Mrs. Pierce said she was going to bathe. Borsage said he told her that he wanted to bathe first. They argued, Borsage said, until he picked up a hammer a bellboy had left in the room.

"She slapped at me," Borsage said, "and I struck her on the head. She staggered from the bathroom to the bed. I think I hit her again.

"When I came to my senses," Borsage's statement continued, "I got a towel and wiped her head. I tried to revive her and discovered her dead. I got my whiskey, took a drink, and left."

Borsage was arrested at the home of his grandmother in Bayou La Batre, Ala. Mrs. Pierce's body was found in the hotel room Wednesday afternoon, the bloody hammer beside her.

Gas Line From Texas To Ohio Is Requested

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—The Federal Power commission was asked today to authorize immediate construction of a $23,500,000 pipeline from East Texas to Ohio to relieve a wartime shortage of natural gas in Ohio and nearby states.

The application was filed by Metropolitan Eastern corporation, a new concern with home offices in Wilmington, Dela., and New York.

The giant project would involve construction of an 18-inch line from the big eastern Texas gas fields to an undesignated point in Ohio where the fuel would be resold to distributors.

Additional fuel is needed urgently by war industries and homes in the area, the corporation said.

The corporation asked a prompt hearing with a view to beginning construction early in April. The line, 825 miles long, would be completed in October, in time to meet next winter's requirements for additional fuel.

The line would have a daily capacity of 140,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Smith's Proposal On Funds Lauded Here

The efforts of Rep. Preston E. Smith of Lubbock in seeking an amendment to the Texas constitution providing that all state supported colleges share in interest that would accrue from establishment of a "permanent university fund" was praised by Head Coach Dell Morgan of Texas Tech at the luncheon of American Business club Friday in Hilton hotel.

He said the college here is making up a list of Tech ex-students who are not in the armed forces which will be sent to Smith who will urge their support of the measure.

Land sales, bonuses and royalties would not be affected under the proposal, just a share of the interest accruing from those sources. Under the proposal, which Smith seeks to be referred to the people of the state in November of 1946, Texas Tech would receive $163,500 for the 1946-47 school year.

Bond Issue Proposed

A $20,000,000 bond issue to provide state college buildings since has been proposed as an alternative to sharing the university permanent fund now going only to the University of Texas and to Texas A. & M. college, and it has been reported under legislative study.

G. H. Nelson, who has just returned from Austin, told members and guests that something must be done "now" by the people of Lubbock and the South Plains, if Smith is to succeed in his efforts.

He suggested that a mass meeting of the citizens of Lubbock be called as soon as possible so that an organization can be established to send representatives to Austin to aid Smith.

President Jimmie Wilson appointed Nelson as a committee of one to work out details and to take the proposition to other civic clubs.

Guests included Roy Adams and Rollin McCord, both of Tahoka; E. R. McCamey of Amarillo, Pat Day of Perryton, and Pfc. Ray Thompson of the U. S. Marines. E. C. Pool was introduced as a new member. John Minton was program chairman.

High Water Expected To Hit Jefferson

MARSHALL, March 2. (AP)—The U. S. weather bureau at Shreveport advised river gauger R. C. Conner at Jefferson the Cypress river is expected to crest at 28 or 30 feet at Jefferson within the next two days.

Connor said, however, the river had dropped from 20.55 feet Tuesday to 18.93 feet today.

Funds and supplies are being sent to Jefferson in anticipation of any flood emergency that may arise, officials announced.

NAVY RANKS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, March 2. (AP)—Commissions are available again in the United States Naval reserve for men qualified for Seabee officers and for men well-qualified in several other specialized fields, said an announcement received from Commander John L. Clarkson, USNR, of New Orleans, director of naval officer procurement for the Eighth Naval district.

Yanks March Past Goebbels' Sign To Capture Home Town

By ANN STRINGER
United Press War Writer

RHEYDT, Germany, March 1. (Delayed) — The big Nazi sign stretched along the wall said: "What have you done for Germany?"

It was typical of Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels' work. Particularly so because this was his birthplace.

But the Yanks had an answer for it. They just marched in and captured the town, probably much to the dismay of the wiry little Nazi mouthpiece.

Spirit Not Marred

Doughboys of the 29th division pushed through a stinging rain and deep mud to take this rambling suburb of little businesses, butchershops and brick houses, just south of Muenchen-Gladbach.

But that rain and mud didn't mar the spirit of victory drawn across their faces. The grim tenseness of battle was gone. And their spirits were high even through the rain and under the sounds of shelling.

Some of the doughboys were getting a few minutes respite from the war and weather in one German house, where the command post was set up.

Girl And Kin Remain

In one corner, tending a great coalstove, was a flaxen-haired German girl who lived in the house. She had been permitted to stay along with two of her relatives who were doing everything they could to help the Yanks.

In the adjoining bedroom, Sgt. Oscar Wilkerson, Lake Charles, La., lay on the floor in the front of a stove, with his hands under his head.

"This is the way to fight a war," he said. "Just take it easy. I like all this comfort and luxury. Maybe it's not so bad after all."

Bad Not Mentioned

He didn't mention, though, the long trudging fight to Rheydt or the heartbreaking siege during the Ardennes breakthrough. It was not so comfortable then. And he didn't mention that he'll be up there in the front lies again in a few hours.

Sitting alongside him holding a cup of coffee was Pfc. George Overlie, Austin, Minn.

"You bet, this is the way to do it," he smiled.

But for George, too, this was just a quick stop for about a half hour and then off to the front lines again.

Leaning against one of the massive twin beds, Pfc. William H. Manns, McKeesport, Pa., pulled out a picture of a pretty brunette.

"She's Miss Dorothy Penrod," he said. "She's my girl. I think she's mighty pretty."

Message For Mother

As we started toward the door, T/Sgt. Charles Maupin, Columbus, Ga., who was standing with a gun over his shoulder, stopped us and asked:

"If you'll put my name in the paper, maybe my mother will see it and know I am okay. You see we didn't have much time to write in the last few days and she may be worried, but I sure hope not."

He also asked us to take the name of his buddy—T/3 William A. Ryan, Akron, O.

RANDOLPH CONTRACT LET

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—Texas congressmen were informed today a $2,029,221 contract for additional facilities at the Army Air training center at Randolph Field, San Antonio, was let to M. B. Killian and company and E. B. Darby and Co., San Antonio. No details were available.

Contractor Group Underwrites Survey

DALLAS, March 2. (AP)—The southwest section of the Associated Municipal Contractors voted last night to underwrite the cost of a survey of water supply and sewage disposal facilities of all Texas municipalities, J. G. Bartholomew, president of the organization, said today.

The survey will be made by the postwar planning committee of the Texas section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, headed by Uel Stephens, superintendent of the Fort Worth water department, he explained.

"The survey is to be used as a basis for the creation of postwar employment," Bartholomew said, "and it is intended to develop plans and specifications as rapidly as possible, so that contracts can be let immediately as soon as men and materials are made available by the government."

Stiff Sentence Meted Out For Low Flying

HOBBS, N. M., March 2. (U.P.)—First Lt. John P. Gallien, 26, of Shreveport, La., today faced three months restriction to his post at Hobbs Army Air field, a reprimand and a $1,500 fine after being found guilty of violating AAF flying regulations.

An eight-man general court martial at the Hobbs field last night found Gallien guilty of flying approximately 150 feet high over Shreveport on Feb. 1.

The fine is payable in ten monthly installments, and the sentence is subject to review and approval by higher military authority.

Gallen served as a combat pilot in the Eighth Air force and is a flying instructor at Hobbs field.

A Vital Message To Men Who Feel Old

Why not regain the vim and vitality you once enjoyed?

If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a simple method that may change your whole outlook on life. Just ask your druggist for CASELLA stimulating tablets. Take as directed on label. Don't feel old and worn out at 40, 50 or more. Take these tablets regularly until you feel that you have regained the pleasure of living you once enjoyed. Why be discouraged? Why not try CASELLA tablets and regain the verve and zest of a much younger man? There is nothing harmful in these tablets. They contain Celery seed, Thiamin Chloride, Passion Flower, Iron. Ask your doctor or druggist about this formula.
