Posse Seeks Lone Bandit After Texas Bank Held Up

Robber's Car Abandoned In Running Fight

Man Escapes With Loot Of $1,500 At Chico; All-Night Search Made In Rough And Wooded Morris Ranch

Believed Wounded

Officers Continue Manhunt With Aid Of Lanterns In Brush Country; Automobile Riddled By Bullets

(By The Associated Press)

CHICO, Jan. 29.—While a posse directed by Sheriff Will Workman of Wise county was continuing an all-night search in the rough wooded 8,000 acre Morris ranch for the robber who held up the First State bank of Chico early today and escaped with $1,500, authorities tonight identified the bandit's automobile as one stolen Tuesday from a Bridgeport dam worker named Ross.

The vehicle was abandoned by its driver west of Cundiff after a running battle between the robber and a posse. While the bandit car was speeding west of state Highway No. 39, it was riddled with bullets fired by pursuers and was left by the robber when the motor became overheated.

Believed Wounded.

The bandit quit his car, limping visibly. He was seen carrying a satchel believed to contain the bank loot.

Possemen tracked him to the Morris ranch, a short distance north of Wizard Wells, where the trail ended. The ranch, hilly and densely covered with underbrush provided such a hiding place for the robber that officers believed would make it difficult for apprehending him.

Plans for bringing bloodhounds here from the state penitentiary at Huntsville to track the fugitive were abandoned late today when officers were unable to obtain a plane to bring the dogs here.

At nightfall a number of citizens who formed the posse left for their homes but officers continued with the aid of lanterns to comb the brush country.

Elbert Hart, Alias Pat O'Day, Shot To Death At Estelline When He Resists Arrest; Is Shot By Oklahoma Deputy

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 29.—Elbert Hart, alias Pat O'Day, accused of slaying Detective Buddy Moorehead at Ardmore, Okla., was shot to death at Estelline tonight when he resisted arrest, according to a dispatch to the Wichita Record-News from its Estelline correspondent.

Hart was shot three times by Deputy Sheriff Bill Guess of Ardmore.

Hart died instantly. He had been traced to Estelline after the arrest of Roy Wilson, Hart's companion at Ardmore. When the posse approached the joint filling station and grocery store on the outskirts of Estelline, Hart ran from the front of the building and Guess fired.

Guess, with Bennett Wallace Ardmore deputy sheriff; Sheriff Alexander of Hall county; Chief of Police W. C. Huddleston; Constable J. W. Snow, and Constable Williams, of Estelline, organized the manhunt.

The body of the slain man was left in the care of an Estelline undertaker. Hart is said to have a wife and children at Sonora, Texas. He had lived for several years at Kerrville.

The Ardmore officers said Hart was wanted at Texarkana, Clarksville and Hope, Ark., on hijacking charges.

Mrs. Uhr Not First Texas Woman Sentenced To Death

SINTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Mrs. Clara Uhr, convicted in San Antonio of the murder of her husband, Daniel Uhr, was not the first woman to be given the death penalty in Texas, as previous reported.

Chipita Rodriguez was sentenced to death in the district court of San Patricio county in the October term of 1863 for the murder of a horse trader whose name has been forgotten and she was hanged in this county Friday, November 13, 1863.

Apology Made To Benito Mussolini In Butler Row

Marine Head Ordered Court-Martialed For Remarks About Premier Of Italy

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Out of Smedley D. Butler's speech in peaceful Philadelphia the other other night came an apology today to Benito Mussolini by the American government and an order that the fighting marine be court martialed.

In the brief address before the Contemporary club, January 19, Major General Butler said he had heard Mussolini ran over a child and paid no attention to the accident.

A reverberation of this was Secretary Stimson's note of apology to Nobile Giacomo De Martino, Italian ambassador.

"I have the honor," Secretary Stimson said, "to express the deep regret this government feels at the reflections against the prime minister of Italy in the unauthorized speech of Major General Smedley D. Butler."

Just a little while before, Secretary Adams had ordered the court martial for one of the country's best known officers. General Butler is under technical arrest in his quarters at Quantico, and the machinery has been set in motion for a climax, or anti-climax, to a career filled with drama and melodrama.

Paradoxically enough, in a book published through the navy today General Butler was lauded for his work toward peace while on duty in China in 1927 and 1928. The title was "The United States Navy in Peace Time."

General Butler's speeches have caused him more trouble than all the bandits he has fought in Haiti, Nicaragua and China. His remarks are extemporaneous. Philadelphia is his home town. He talked of the possibility of future wars on January 19.

The marine officer was quoted as naming a friend as authority for

Youth Lynched For Murder Of Family Of Six

Mob From Old Cow Country In North Dakota Reverts To Day Before Law And Order Came To West To Kill Slayer

(By The Associated Press)

SCHAFER, N. D., Jan. 29. (AP)—Reverting to the days before law and order came to the west, a mob, from the old cow country where Theodore Roosevelt punched cattle in his youth, battered its way into the county jail here early today and lynched a 22-year-old farmer who had confessed slaying a family of six.

Secretely but swiftly the mob gathered at the jail about 7 a. m. and crashed its way into the slayer's cell. When the crowd dispersed, as swiftly and as silently as it had formed Charles Bannon, youthful slayer of the A. E. Haven family was left hanging from a bridge over Cheery creek, about a quarter of a mile from town, his neck was broken.

Apparently the mob came from nearby farms that once were a part of a great cattle country about 60 miles north of Medora, where Roosevelt rode the range in his early days, and pioneers frequently took the law into their own hands. None of the mob was recognized.

It was the twelfth lynching in the history of the state, seven white, men, three Indians and a negro having fallen victims to mobs previously.

Young Bannon died pleading that his father, James F. Bannon, also held for the killings, be not harmed. The youth, in his confession had declared he alone was responsible for the Haven family massacre, which he said, occurred after a quarrel last February. The mob made no effort to molest the elder Bannon, but he was removed to Williston as a matter of precaution.

Garrett Says Sterling In Favor Of Reduction Plan

AUSTIN, Jan. 29. (AP)—J. E. Garrett of Corpus Christi, originator of the Garrett cotton acreage reduction plan, said today Governor Ross S. Sterling had endorsed the plan.

Governor Sterling's statement on the cotton acreage reduction plan was given by Garrett as follows:

"To my mind the Garrett plan seems to be a most practical solution and I feel that it should be given a fair trial."

Eight Miners Known Dead In English Blast

Fear 20 to 35 Others Share Same Fate In Violent Explosion; 200 In Shaft At Time Of Disaster

(By The Associated Press)

WHITEHAVEN, Cumberland Eng., Jan. 29.—Eight miners were known to have been killed by a violent explosion in the Haig coal pit tonight and it was feared that from 20 to 35 others shared the same fate.

The bodies of the eight dead were brought up shortly after relief workers got busy, and 30 men suffering from gas were removed from an adjacent mine.

About 200 men were down in the Haig pit—which is a deep mine with workings running some miles beneath the sea near here—when a mighty blast occurred in the part known as "Number 3 north district."

As soon as the explosion was heard rescue parties were organized to go down in the mine and physicians and nurses were assembled at the pit-head. Rescue parties went down well-equipped with special apparatus, but were handicapped fighting afterdamp. They pushed ahead as fast as possible and quickly sent up those who had escaped injury altogether or were slightly gassed.

Use Of Two-Cent Fare Is Popular

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Use of the old two cent fare of pre-war decades to wheel the traveling public back from bus competition is spreading in the middle west. Local passenger business has fallen off to almost nothing in certain areas.

The Frisco line started it, promulgating a two cent coach rate on all its routes beginning February 1. Others followed, along competing stretches. Now the Chicago and Northwestern railway and the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific are conducting little private tests of their own. To decide whether "purse pressure" is really the travelers' ailment.

Einstein Gives Astronomers Problem To Work On After Peeking At The Sun

(By The Associated Press)

MOUNT WILSON OBSERVATORY, Cal., Jan. 25. — Albert Einstein peeked at the gigantic cyclones in the sun's atmosphere today and gave astronomers a fascinating problem to work upon.

He suggested the sun might be relatively like the earth and its north and south poles perhaps are considerably cooler regions in relation to its equator.

In this brief thought he ventured a theory that gives promise, astronomers say, of solving some of the mysteries about sun spots.

The visit of the great physicist to the world's greatest astronomical laboratory was the most momentous event of the Einstein visit in California. Accompanying Dr. Einstein was his scientific collaborator and companion, Dr. Walther Mayr, Berlin.

Today's observations were at the 65-foot solar tower in which Einstein was enabled to seek the effect of the magnetic fields of sun spots. These spots are known to be cyclones in the solar atmosphere. Einstein was intensely interested. In fact he had been studying these effects for weeks, since Dr. Charles E. St. John of the Mount Wilson staff discussed them with him at the Pasadena laboratory.

Finish Fight On Red Cross Measure Seen

House Vote In Prospect Today On $25,000,000 Provision; Senate Writes New Relief Measure Into Supply Bill

Would Give Wheat

Senator Robinson Calls For Leaders To Meet Today To Determine Program; Extra Session Is Involved

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 — With a house vote in prospect tomorrow on its $25,000,000 Red Cross provision, the senate wrote a new relief measure into a supply bill tonight and squared away for a finish fight over the Red Cross gift.

An agreement was made in the house late today for a vote on the proposal which its apropriations committee had rejected earlier in the day 18 to 11.

Would Give Wheat

At about the same time the senate was attaching a provision to the army supply bill to give 20,000,000 bushels of farm board wheat to any agency which the president might designate to distribute it to the needy.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader who is sponsoring the disputed $25,000,000 appropriation, tonight called a conference of leaders for tomorrow to determine on a program of action. An extra session of the new congress is involved in the controversy.

The Democratic leader again took the floor late today to assail those in charge of relief work as he pleaded for the proposal of Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, for appropriating the 20,000,000 bushels of Government wheat. Capper's measure was put in the war department bill by 46-16 and this puts a new issue up to the house.

Delay Charged

"The present disposition of those in charge of this situation," said Robison, "is to do as little as possible and to delay doing anything as long as possible."

Robinson cast about today for another agency to take the place of

Thompson Named As Man Seen Kicking And Beating Victim

VERNON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Emmett Thompson on trial for the murder of Homer Crabtree near Le Fors, Gray county, last November, this afternoon was named as one of two men seen kicking and beating Crabtree, in the testimony of Major Evans. Evans identified Thompson and Carl Hefner as the pair he saw beating Crabtree.

Evans, who previously had said he did not know either Thompson or Hefner at the time, said he saw Thompson the night after Crabtree was slain and identified him as one of Crabtree's assailants.

Film Star Denies Love Theft Count

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29. (AP)—The spell of the African jungle and the tropical moon was written off at naught in a deposition by Edwina Booth, blonde film actress on file today with a $50,000 alienation of affections suit filed against her by Mrs. Suzette, Renaldo.

EDWINA BOOTH

The actress made the deposition yesterday, angrily denying Mrs. Renaldo's charges that she had stolen the love of Duncan Renaldo, actor, while they were filming "Trader Horn" in Africa last year.

Asked if she spent her leisure with Renaldo in Africa, Miss Booth replied vehemently, "No, I did not. I wandered about alone at night."

She also denied she visited Renaldo's cabin while on shipboard, and almost screamed denials to allegations that the actor lived at her home upon their return.

Miss Booth's marriage to Anthony G. Schuck was annulled and the Renaldos were divorced after the film party returned to Hollywood.

Bond Of $7,500 For Mrs. Hugh Walker Is Set

Examining Trial For Lubbock Woman Charged With Assault In Connection With Brownfield Shooting Held

Examining trial of Mrs. J. Hugh Walker, of Lubbock, on a charge of assault with intent to murder was held late Thursday afternoon at Brownfield before Justice of the Peace Shelton, who fixed appearance bond at $7,500.

Mrs. Walker was returned to the Terry county jail at Brownwood and Thursday night had failed to post bond, which was returned at 9 o'clock Monday morning when she and her husband are expected to appear before the 106th district court grand jury there.

The condition of Miss Beatrice Carr, 19, of Lubbock, whom Mrs. Walker wounded critically with one shot from a Leuger pistol, was unchanged generally although she was resting well, attendants at Lubbock sanitarium said Thursday night.

Miss Carr was shot through the right lung by Mrs. Walker early Monday night at Brownfield while the younger woman sat in an automobile. Walker and his wife were arrested and the former released on his own recognizance to appear at the grand jury hearing.

District Attorney T. L. Price, of Post, who previously had said he would oppose efforts to set bond for Mrs. Walker, Thursday night said that the examining trial was a necessary first step in legal procedure. Should the victim die, necessitating change of the charge to murder, Mrs. Walker would be re-arrested immediately if free in bail, the district prosecutor explained.

Trial Of Former Judge Is Continued Until Next June

ANDERSON, Jan. 29. (AP)—On the state's motion, the trial of former County Judge A. W. Morris of Conroe was continued until the June court term when it was called here today. The motion was offered because of the absence of a number of witnesses.

Morris is under indictment for embezzlement, returned after examination of the books of the First State bank of Conroe, later merged with the Farmers and Merchants State bank of Conroe, revealed alleged discrepancies.

Charm School Lecture Is For Women Only Today

Reducing, Gaining Diets Discussed By Nancy Earle

REDUCING and gaining diets and exercises for maintaining physical fitness were high-lights in Thursday's Charm School at the Uptown Dance Palace. Miss Nancy Earle lectured and demonstrated the exercises.

Today's talk, which concludes the second annual Charm school that has been conducted under the sponsorship of the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company, is to be for women only. It will open at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Physical perfection depends to some extent upon one's mental attitude, Miss Earle told her hearers Thursday, and "substantial ambition and genuine effort" are necessary in carrying out any program for reducing or building up the body. Although she gave a formula for rapid reducing at the school, she warned that it should not be followed except after consulting a reputable physician and advocated slow reducing programs.

For a gaining program she advocated at least a quart of milk daily, plenty of starchy foods, liver extract if necessary and milk before retiring at night.

Preceding any campaign for losing flesh, one should consult a doctor to learn the cause of overweight, she explained, and then suggested that a non-fattening diet should consist of plenty of green vegetables, one pint of milk daily, lean meat, frozen salads and desserts. She advocated rapidly reducing diet of fruit juices, bread and milk but warned her hearers against using it for a period longer than three days.

"Self-management is an important thing in maintaining a correct weight, and it takes an intelligent effort to accomplish anything," Miss Earle said yesterday in discussing the elimination of "Excess Baggage." "Reducing is a serious thing and should not be tampered with," she warned, "but one can reduce safely without fear of injury."

The first part of Thursday's lecture concerned mental "excess baggage". "What you think affects your body," Miss Earle stated in her talk concerning sincerity. "The most difficult art in the world is that of being natural. If you ever start

Only Half Of Cars Licensed

Motor Vehicle Owners Urged To Buy License Plates On Today Or Tomorrow; Penalty Added February 1

Although only two days remain to buy automobile licenses without being subject to a 20 per cent penalty, only half of the automobiles and trucks in the county have been registered thus far, records at the county tax collector's office indicate.

Urging that motor vehicle owners buy license plates at the tax collector's office today and Saturday, W. H. Carpenter, deputy tax collector, said that the office would be opened each of the two days at 6 a. m., and would remain open virtually as long as applications for licenses were received. The office will not remain open longer than midnight Saturday, he said.

About Half Licensed.

A total of 53,000 automobiles and approximately 400 trucks had been registered late Thursday, representing about half of the automobiles, and slightly less than 50 per cent of the trucks in the county.

The bill passed by the state legislature and signed by Gov. Ross Sterling which defers tax delinquency to October 15, does not apply to motor vehicles registration fess, Mr. Carpenter said.

Persons operating a motor vehicle on or after February 1, without a 1931 licenses tag, are guilty of a misdemeanor. As February 1 this year is Sunday, arrests probably will not be made for the offense until Monday, according to Mr. Carpenter. Highway patrolmen have been ordered to arrest those driving machines without licenses. Trailers and semi-trailers, as well as motorcycles, also must have separate licenses.

Will Rogers Wisecracks Sabine Area Out Of $10,000 In Name Of Red Cross

(By The Associated Press)

BEAUMONT, Jan. 29. — In the name of Red Cross drouth relief, Will Rogers in less than five hours today wisecracked the Sabine district out of nearly $10,000. Port Arthur paid an estimated $2,500 for a noon appearance and the Beaumont matinee netted $7,035.50.

Rogers and Capt. Frank Hawks took off for Houston shortly before 5 o'clock in a navy plane. They flew to Port Arthur from Dalas this morning in one hour and 45 minutes.

Dallas took a verbal trimming from Rogers from its showing in receipts, last night, which he said amounted to $3,800; San Antonio, by his figures leads at $9,000, and he expects Fort Worth to contribute $15,000.

"Dallas laughed at my jokes," he said, "but like to laugh for nothing."

Rogers said he might forget his 'razzberries" at the Trinity river canal project if "Cowtown" pays like he believes it will. He described Hawk's flying him over the river that is to be made a navigable stream and said they had to get down to 50 feet before he could see it.

Bill Enacted Law Of Texas By Signature

State Taxes Will Not Become Delinquent Until October 15; Ten Per Cent Interest Charge Made But No Penalty

Little Opposition

Action Is First Major Legislation Of Present Session; Early Payment Of Taxes Urged By Interest Clause

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 29.—The first major legislation of the present session was effected today when Gov. Ross Sterling signed the bill preventing taxes this year from becoming delinquent until October 15.

The governor's signature enacted into law the bill which the legislature had passed with almost minimum of dissenting votes. This was the first bill the governor had signed since taking office.

Would Protect Property.

The purpose of the law is to keep persons unable to pay their taxes by Saturday night from losing their property through the tax sale route. Under the old law taxes became delinquent if unpaid by February 1.

Governor Sterling requested that the matter be submitted as an emergency. Proponents of the bill said on account of present economic conditions and poor crops last year many citizens were unable to meet their tax obligations at this time.

The law was based on a bill by Representative Weinert of Seguin. A provision that taxes may be paid in two installments, offered by Senator Oneal of Wichita Falls, was included.

To Charge Interest.

In order to encourage tax payment as soon as possible, the law included a clause that taxes would start drawing 10 per cent interest February 15. The delinquent penalty will be five per cent after October 15 and the interest will be reduced to six per cent.

The law embraces all state, county, school district and all other ad valorem taxes except those of cities and towns and those being paid under a special law.

An effort to work out a permanent revision in the plan of tax payments will be made later.

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

MISS NANCY EARLE said something in our Charm school the other afternoon that had been verified to some extent in a conversation I had had earlier in the same day. She was talking about falling into "monotony as an easy sin" and she admonished her hearers to seek some outside interest as a panacea for becoming drab in their lives and in their personalities.

There is a wife and mother in Lubbock—a woman whose son is not yet old enough to be in high school whose home duties demand that she shall stay there. She attended college to receive a diploma admitting her to enter a professional life. That life is her first interest excepting her home. She told me so this week and she has told me that repeatedly before.

I quoted her in this column once before and she asked me not to do it again on views—so I'll withhold that part of this now. But what she said one morning this week was parallel to Miss Earle's advice.

"I am very busy this winter," she was saying, "as I am taking a course in botany out at Texas Technological college and that consumes considerable of my time. I'm making a study of international relations and of course, I have my home and family that must be cared for.

She is interesting and charming too. I may not always practice a lot of these things, but I know they are true and I don't believe I shall ever lose my interest in people and things, even if I do have a home some day that shall make great demands on my time. The modern woman has outside interests because she knows that she becomes a better wife and mother for these things.

I'm quoting Miss Earle again. "The wise woman invests in self-improvement!"

DRYING CURTAINS

IF YOU hang your glass curtains up onto the rods when they are wet, they will dry quickly and evenly and you can press the hems out easily.

AGAIN, I'm to the Charm school—that is where I'm spending considerable of my time this week. This afternoon, when the discussion centered around the face and removing and avoiding wrinkles and double chins and we were learning how to pat away three or four of the latter and several dozen of the former, I looked around.

There wasn't a stout woman in sight. No double chins. Then I wondered if thin women have all the face troubles and if stout ones have all of the figure troubles and if we are to have the latter class tomorrow.

Being a little stout has always appealed to me. Half-hose came in style when I was a little girl and they did look so much better on some of the other girls. That was when I started wishing for some avoirdupois.

SAFETY! Security! A feeling of real protection—you simply must have those qualities in a sanitary pad. And to get them it is wise to specify Kotex.

Kotex, you know, is the sanitary pad that is shaped to fit. It absorbs laterally, which means that you get a larger area of protection than ordinary pads give you.

And you can wear Kotex on either side in perfect safety. It gives you the same degree of efficiency. Kotex stays soft, and it deodorizes, too. It is so easy to dispose of. Assures you of that daintiness particular women demand at all times.

Hospitals use quantities of Kotex for their women patients. They find nothing else so satisfactory.

Flu Here Not Alarming But Precautions Advised

Colds Especially Dangerous Now With Outbreak Of Flu In This Section of the State

TREAT COLDS PROMPTLY BUT AVOID "DOSING"

As yet the outbreak of flu reported in Lubbock has not reached ala rming proportions, health authorities advise everyone to take these commonsense precautions: Eat wisely; get plenty of sleep and fresh air; avoid undue exposure; and above all treat every cold promptly. Unless checked quickly, colds tend to pull down the body resistance and may pave the way for an attack of the with all its serious complications.

Attack Colds at the Start

At the first sign of sniffling, sneezing or other signs that you are "catching cold," start treatment at once with Vicks VapoRub. Place some Vicks up each nostril and snuff well back. Do this several times a day. It will often keep a little cold from becoming a big one.

If the head is clogged with mucus or phlegm, or there is much coughing, melt a teaspoonful of Vicks in a bowl or kettle of hot water and inhale the steaming vapors for five minutes at a time. This auxiliary vapor-steam treatment with Vicks has a remarkable effect in clearing the air-passages, easing the breathing, and helps keep the cold from spreading.

Double Action Effective

At bedtime, in order to get the benefit of its long-continued stimulation and inhalation effect, rub Vicks vigorously over the throat and chest and cover with warm flannel. For Vicks attacks a cold in two direct ways: (1) through the skin like a poultice or plaster, drawing out the tightness and soreness; and (2) at the same time, its medicated vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are inhaled direct to the irritated air-passages.

Protect Children, Especially

Children should be put to bed at the first sign of a cold, and Vicks rubbed on throat and chest. Its use brings prompt relief, and avoids constant "dosing" which often upsets the digestion. When used at bedtime, Vicks often prevents sleep-disturbing coughs, thus permitting needed rest for both mother and child. Don't take chances with colds NOW! Adv.

Suggestions Of Spring Are Prevailing Theme; Seeds, Bulbs And Garden Tools Feature Motif

Suggestions of spring prevailed in appointments. Table covers were of apple green and score pads and tallies were in the form of flower catalogues. Packets of flower seeds were favors and small flower sprinklers were further decorations.

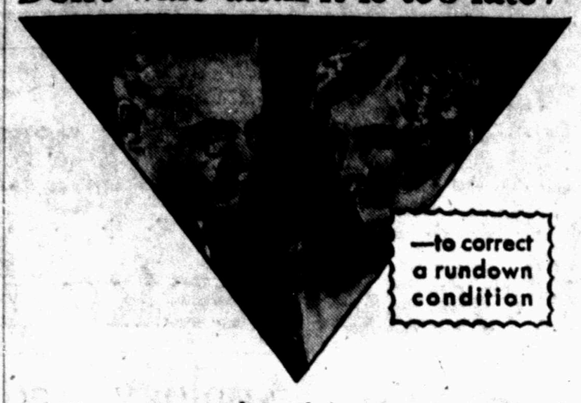

Dr. Elizabeth Stafford scored high and she was presented a basket of jonquils and tulips, a basket of garden tools, soil and bulbs, went to Miss Zella Riegel and the honor guest received a basket of lily bulbs.

Grand slam favors were large packages of flower seed. These went to Miss Riegel, Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson and Mrs. D. Jarrett.

Twelve tables of bridge were in play during the afternoon.

A fact you should not overlook

More red-cells in the blood! Good health and resistance to infection and disease, depend on that! Loss of appetite, underweight, sluggishness, a weakened condition, nervousness, pimples and boils are symptoms, often seen, of a deficiency of red-cells in the blood. If a lowered red-cell count is allowed to continue, ANEMIA often results. S.S.S. should be your safeguard. A hundred years of experience has proved its usefulness in building red-cells in the blood. Take it before meals. Millions of people have found it the easiest and surest way to restore their red-blood-cells. The appetite picks up, the whole body is invigorated. Restriction Of Oil Is Sought

American Independent Producers Say Existence Staked On Proposals To Restrict Importations Of Oil

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP) — American independent oil producers told the senate commerce committee today their existence was staked on legislative proposals to restrict foreign importations of oil.

Importations of cheaper oil from South America by the organized oil companies were blamed for a big share of an estimated 100,000 unemployed in the Mid-Continent field by Orville Bullington, of Wichita Falls, Texas.

Bullington added that Russia now loomed as "the most serious threat" to the entire American oil industry, saying 2,000,000 barrels were sent into this country recently by the soviets at a price far below that which could be met by American producers.

Tariff Proposed

Chairman Johnson, of the commerce committee called the hearings on the measure of Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, proposing to restrict crude oil importations to 16,000,000 barrels annually; and on the resolution of Senator Shortridge, Republican, California, proposing a tariff on oil. He said opponents would be heard next week and he declared in favor of an immediate decision of the question by the committee.

In response to Senator Johnson's inquiries, Bullington named as the chief importers of oil into this country the Standard Oil company of Indiana, the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, the Gulf Refining company, and the Royal Dutch Shell company.

Bullington said these companies owned wells in Venezuela and Columbia as well as in this country. He said the Dutch Shell was British owned.

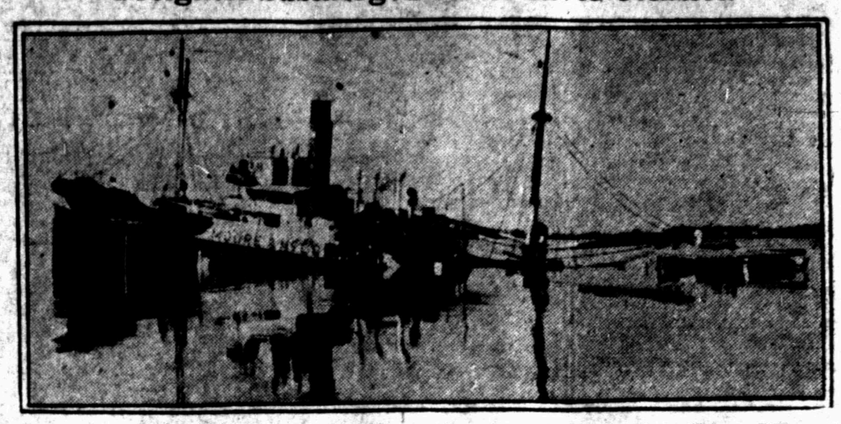

No Increase Seen

Senator Hawes, Democrat, Missouri, inquired if the curb on foreign importations would not mean an increase in prices to consumers. Bullington said he did not think so but he warned that if the independents were ruined the way was opened for a monoply.

Ralph Arnold, of Los Angeles, a veteran in government geological and mining work, told the committee he had revised his estimates of the amount of oil available in this country at least five times in recent years. He also told the committee that the "producer is the fellow who needs help."

Senator Johnson said a request for a hearing had been made to him by parties who wished to oppose the oil legislation. He did not know who would appear in opposition but granted them a hearing on Monday. The hearings will be continued by the committee this week.

Three Women Take Engineering Here

Three women students are registered in the school of engineering at Texas Technological college and one of them, Miss Margaret Carroll Robertson of Lubbock, last term made an A-average.

Miss Neal Wilkins and Miss Mary Green, both of Lubbock, also are enrolled in the engineering school. Fact that there were three women students in the engineering school was brought to the attention of the Avalanche-Journal as a result of a recent story on the Technological college honor roll for the fall term.

The story said that no women students were in either the engineering or the agricultural school. Miss Juanita Pool of Lubbock is enrolled in the school of agriculture.

Although outnumbered to a marked extent in the student body, women placed 165 names on the honor roll as compared to the men's 126, records at the college showed.

Bethlehem To Pay Regular Dividend

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP) — Although the Bethlehem Steel corporation today reported fourth quarter net earnings of only 17 cents a common share, directors felt the prospect of improvement during the current year was sufficiently bright to justify payment of the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share, mostly from surplus.

"I feel that we are going to have gradually improving conditions throughout the year," said Eugene G. Grace, president. "We are not going to have as good a first half as last year; we can't expect to come up that fast."

Mr. Grace said it was reasonable to expect that earnings for the current quarter would be appreciably better than those of the preceding quarter. The recently achieved stability of prices for steel products had been helpful, he said, and some impetus had been provided by seasonal pickup in business. The company's plants, he explained, are currently working at 46 per cent of capacity, against a minimum of 30 per cent reached in December.

PARIS, Jan. 29. (AP)—Without too much coaxing, Epiphani Islas, so-called Black Firpo of the Argentine, admitted on his arrival here from Buenos Aires that he could lick Primo Carnera.

Islas, who is six feet six inches tal and weighs 235 pounds, was matched as the first step in his European campaign with Maurice Grisselle, a heavyweight of sorts.

Islas insisted to Jeff Dickson, American king of promoters here, that Grisselle had best make his will. His was what the French call a "tornado of words."

During the fight, however, Islas somehow lost his enthusiasm. He stalled through the first five rounds. Between the sixth and seventh, Dickinson climbed into the ring.

"Take a good look at him, boys," Dickson cried. "This is the first and last time you will see him here. He couldn't pay to fight again!"

WOMEN DO NOT TALK MUCH about feminine hygiene
.. but they know these facts

Even when they say little, most women know that feminine hygiene is a healthful and necessary part of the toilette. Modern standards of dainty living demand a real, surgical cleanliness.

This much the woman of today does know. But usually she is not so clear about the choice of an antiseptic for the purpose. This question has now been solved by the new preparation called Zonite. This antiseptic is fast replacing caustic poisons such as bichloride of mercury and compounds of carbolic acid. No woman need fear to use Zonite herself or to recommend it to her friends, for it is absolutely non-poisonous. Zonite is as safe as pure water and far more powerful than any dilution of carbolic acid that may be allowed on the body.

All druggists sell Zonite. Get a bottle and read the directions.

NANCY EARLE... famous lecturer on Charm and Health .. recommends Zonite for:

Hair and scalp
Teeth and gums
Mouthwash
Finger nails
Breath odors
Cuts and scratches
Bleaching skin
Blisters
Boils and pimples

The Juvenile Gang Problem

IN yesterday's edition, The Morning Avalanche featured in a light, and admittedly interesting fashion, a story of the uncovering of a juvenile gang in Lubbock. The fact that such a group of plundering youngsters has been active here has long been known but the methods of operation, the size of the organization and the distinct morale displayed provide most of us with a decided shock.

There is a touch of humor to the fact that three little girls, scarcely more than babies, brought to The Morning Avalanche glowing accounts of the "loyalty" of the "mob"; the way the kiddies worded the account of their depredations so that everyone might be informed of their potency, was enough to bring a grin to the most self-contained person in town. But the fact that the youngsters themselves sought the limelight of publicity—the fact that they thought they had accomplished something by running afoul of the law—engenders a thought which the citizens of Lubbock cannot overlook.

There is something radically wrong with a social system which permits the aggrandizing of crime and criminals. There is something wrong with a government which, in failing to cope with master gangsters, issues a mute "go thou and do likewise" to children who should be playing dolls and marbles. What happened in Lubbock is happening everywhere and The Morning Avalanche doesn't see much hope for a change until methods of dealing with criminals everywhere are strengthened.

We are not alarmists. The case of the juveniles sentenced to the reform school here is not unusual in a city of more than 20,000 persons. Because several youngsters have been found to be grazing in too green pastures, we do not take the stand that the percentage of law-violating juveniles here is larger than in other places. Yet if there is any juvenile delinquency here at all—and of course there is—its very presence is a challenge to the citizenship at large.

After all, the basis of this democratic government of ours is respect for, compliance with and fealty to the law. Without law there can be nothing but chaos. The time to make law-abiding citizens is not tomorrow, but today—regardless of the age of the individual involved.

There's a big lesson to be derived from the rather humorous story which appeared in yesterday's paper. It can't be overlooked.

MAKE-BELIEVE

Where is the "land of make-believe?" On the stage, in the movies, childhood, good reading? Yes, in all of these, but not in them alone. This is the "make-believe" age. Everything is mimicry, imitation, camouflage; all is artificial. Nothing is genuine but that it is copied.

Ancient Spanish architecture is being copied in new American homes even to the imitation of the cracked masonry and stone exposed by fallen stucco. And along fine boulevards one can see the new and modern homes of the rich with roofs of humble thatch and sagging eaves, not less picturesque though much sturdier and more permanent than their prototypes. Carpenters and masons with the guidance of architects are building the atmosphere of age in the modern home that this generation may enjoy all that is good in both antiquity and modernity.

Then there is the imitation in dress. Grandmothers are successfully adapteing to themselves the wardrobes of their granddaughters and their grandfathers are affecting the modes of their brothers.

Factories here and abroad are producing "antiques" as fast as thousands of shops can sell them to curio-seekers and collectors. One now orders, instead of searches, for examples of early American furniture.

And who will gainsay that a good imitation and the right amount of imagination are equal to a genuine original?

Practical Health Problems

LEAD POISONING OFTEN CAUSES SERIOUS HARM

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Lead is one of the most dangerous metals to human health and life of which we know. It is dangerous not only because of the wide variety of uses to which it is put, but also because of the seriousness of the conditions that it causes when taken into the body.

After four years of supervision of men employed in making storage batteries, Dr. C. A. Wells finds that such symptoms as a metallic taste in the mouth, a blue line on the gums, a dull color of the skin, and changes in the blood will occur frequently among such workers. In their case they inhale lead dust at various stages of the process of manufacture.

It is necessary in the treatment of people who have taken a considerable amount of lead into the body to get the lead out in some manner. The investigator finds that a diet with a considerable amount of calcium will get the lead deposited as a form of phosphate and relieve an acute condition. Later a low calcium diet with various other salts will result in deleading the patient.

One of the most serious forms of lead poisoning is that resulting from anti-knock gases, such as ethyl gas which contains tetra-ethyl lead as the most toxic substance. In the United States, pumps, tanks, or other vessels containing ethyl gasoline must be clearly labeled to indicate that the contents are to be used only for fuel and not for cleaning or other purposes. Used as a fuel under strict precautions, ethyl gas is safe, but for any other purposes its risks are considerable.

The manufacture of tetra-ethyl lead when properly controlled is not harmful to the workers. When the manufacture was first attempted, several workers were poisoned because of slips in the process.

There is little lead hazard today in the painting industry, particularly since investigations made several years ago have resulted in the establishment of proper safeguards.

Another hazard from lead arises from enameling with lead or metal. Enameling powders contain about 66 per cent of the red oxide of lead and men who plunge the metals to be enameled into the powder or who sprinkle the powder over the hot metal are likely to get a considerable amount of the lead dust into their lungs.

Many of the men working in such industries suffer from lead colic, and changes in the red blood cells resulting from lead were found in 90 per cent of those at work.

Fortunately, industrial physicians are quite aware of the dangers which may arise in all occupations involving contact with lead and they are constantly at work to control such hazards as fully as possible.

Extra Session Probable

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Except by adopting unusual means of rushing proceedings it is practically impossible now for congress to complete its absolutely necessary work by the date on which the present body of lawmakers must adjourn—March 4, at noon, according to the calendar, which is to say, at the end of the legislative day referred to as March 3, as congressionally reckoned.

If any of this work remains undone then, President Hoover will have to call an extra session, to begin about the middle of May at the latest. Once called, it may last all summer and fall.

Perhaps, however, the legislators will do something abnormal, to finish their task, after a fashion, just short of the deadline.

Steered by the president, Uncle Sam's government could run almost indefinitely under its own momentum, with no congressional help whatever, but for one thing—

Only congress can vote the money to pay its bills.

This is the essential work which it remains for the solons on Capitol Hill to attend to before quitting.

THE ARMY, the navy, the departments, the federal court, all the remainder of the government machinery—are provided for up to and including June 30. On July 1 a new fiscal year starts. From then on, not a cent will be available unless congress has appropriated it in the meantime.

There is a hullabaloo concerning these financial allowances biennially, at just about this stage of the game.

It doesn't occur every year, because it is only on alternate years that congress is bound to adjourn on a fixed date, but whenever its adjournment schedule is arbitrarily settled for it in advance, a jam is virtually inevitable.

AS A MATTER of actual fact, President Hoover was talked by Senator Borah into calling the Seventy-first congress into extra session in the spring of 1929, to tinker with farm relief and the tariff, but otherwise it would not have met until its regular constitutional first Monday in December, that year.

It did meet in December, anyway (having previously disposed of its extra session), and, of course, up came the usual financial supply bills, in anticipation of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1930.

O. K., that was one of the occasions when there was plenty of time to discuss and pass them—nearly seven solid months.

They seldom cause any trouble during those alternate sessions.

But this winter is different—as was the winter of 1928-'29 and the winter of 1926-'27—and many preceding winters, and as future winters undoubtedly will be until the constitution is changed.

A skimpy three months is not long enough for a session of congress. It especially is not long enough when there is a bitter fight on, as there is this winter, between President Hoover and the senate.

FIGHTS cause delay, and President Hoover's and the senate's has caused so much of it that there is scarcely a chance of the supply bills' passage, in the ordinary manner, by noon March 4. Let the Seventy-first congress leave them unattended to, and the Seventy-second will be imperatively needed to pass them before the fiscal year's end.

Now, President Hoover assuredly does not want an extra session, because, although the senate's hostility has caused him a deal of annoyance during the last two years, the Seventy-second congress is certain to be much worse, and he cannot but feel that its unescapable regular activities will be a super-sufficiency, to say nothing of any extras.

He can get all necessary legislation through the present house of representatives, for the present representatives are very submissive to him, but the senate is thoroughly unmanageable.

Nevertheless, some of the most obstreperous of the senators do look askance upon the extra session idea. They would like to have one, to plague the president, but they are afraid it would have an unfavorable reaction, from their own standpoint, upon the voters.

Consequently, when the moment comes for a final show-down, there is quite a possibility of considerable senatorial unwillingness to leave the unpassed supply bills on the White House doorstep.

IT WILL be too late to pass them; is almost too late already.

However, a resolution can be introduced simply continuing the last fiscal year's allowances on through the next year.

It would not be a satisfactory arrangement for Mr. Hoover; it would disregard various changes he is eager to have made in his budget. Nevertheless, it is a safe bet that it would suit him better than an extra session.

And whatever suits him will suit the present house of representatives.

That the plan will be tried is generally expected, at all events.

SUCH OF THE senators as do continue to stand pat for an extra session will fight it, to be sure.

Therein lies the scheme's uncertainty.

The recalcitrant senators will have to be gagged or they will talk it to death—simply keep on talking in relays up to noon March 4.

By a two-thirds vote the senate can limit debate on any given subject to one hour per senator, or say four or five days of it, for only the balky senators would be likely to take part in the filibuster.

But is a two-thirds majority available for gag-rule? Maybe, but it's questionable. Upon that thread hangs the issue of an extra session of congress or a pleasant summer for President Hoover.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

The effects of the crop failure of last summer in many parts of the United States is painfully apparent. It is extremely interesting to notice what happens when a similar crop failure hits a land that has no relief organizations, no modern transportation systems and no methods whatever of providing help for the sufferers.

Thus a government commission in China has recently reported that more than 2,000,000 people have died of famine, caused by drought, in Shensi province during the last two years. In addition, 400,000 have been sold into slavery.

The American famine is a major problem, but it is not even remotely like that horror. The demonstration of the value of modern forms of transportation, communication and organization is obvious.

A gold-digger is a girl who never rolls her eyes until she eyes a roll.

Murder At Bridge

Nita banked $10,000 since her arrival in Hamilton, which the police think was her pay for double-crossing Savelli, and which Dundee thinks is blackmail. The possible case, against FLORA MILES, is strong. He reasons it this way: After paying blackmail to Nita, Flora sees a note to Nita on Tracey's stationery, and thinks Nita has told her, steret., In, desperation,. she shoots her, hides the gun on the secret shelf in the guests' closet, and returns. to destroy the note. Finding it is from Sprague, she faints in horror just before the body is discovered. Miles, who returns later to the Selim house to take LYDIA, Nita's maid and heir home home with him, has opportunity to remove the gun, if Flora has confessed her crime. He himself could have killed Sprague from outside just after his guests leave if Sprague is threatening to expose Flora.

Dundee learns that Miles was rushed into the engagement by Flora, an intensely passionate girl, who scared off her prospective suitors. PENNY CRAIN assures Dundee he is on the wrong track. Arriving in New York, Dundee asks at the store where Nita brought the dress that yas her shroud, for of the sale.

NOW GO ON WITH TH ESTORY

CHAPTER XLI

The white-haired, smartly-dressed buyer accepted the sheaf of photographs Bonnie Dundee was offering. "I'll do my best, of course", she began briskly, then paled and uttered a sharp exclamation as her eyes took in the topmost picture. "This is Juanita Leigh, isn't it? . . But—" she shuddered, "how odd she looks—as if—"

"Yes," Dundee agreed gravely. "She was dead when that picture was taken. Did you know Mrs. Selim?"

"No," the woman breathed, her eyes still bulging with horror. But "I've seen so many pictures of her in the papers. . . . To think that it was one of our dresses she chose for her shroud! But you want to know when the dress was sold to her, don't you?" she asked, brisk again. "I can find out. We keep a record of all our French originals and of the number of copies made of each. . . . Let me think! I've been going to Paris myself for the firm for the last 15 years, but I can't remember buying this Pierre model. . . . Oh, of course, I didn't go over during 1917 and 1918, on account of the war, you know, but the big Paris designers managed to send us a limited number of very good models, and this must have been one of them. Otherwise, I'd remember buying. . . . If you'll excuse me a moment—".

When she returned about 10 minutes later, Miss Thomas brought him a penciled memorandum. This Pierre model was imported in the summer of 1917, several months in advance of the winter season, of course. Only five copies were made—in different colors and materials, naturally, since we make a point of exclusiveness. The royal blue velvet copy was sold to Juanita Leigh in January, 1918. I am sorry I cannot give you the exact day of the month, but our records show the month only. I took the liberty of showing a picture of the dress to the only saleswoman in the department who has been with us that long, but she cannot remember the sale. Twelve years is a long time, you know."

"Indeed it is," Dundee agreed regretfully. "You have been immensely helpful, however, Miss Thomas, and I thank you with all my heart."

"If you could just tell me—confidentially, of course," Miss Thomas whispered, "what sort of clue this dress is—"

"I don't know myself!" the detective admitted. "But," he added to himself, after he had escaped the buyer's natural curiosity, "I intend to find out!"

Before he could take any further steps along that particular path, however, Dundee had an appointment to keep. After arriving at his hotel that morning he had made two telephone calls. He smiled now as he recalled the surprise and glee of one of his former Yale classmates, now a discouraged young bond salesman, with whom he had kept in touch.

"You want to borrow my name and kid sister?" Jimmy Randolph had chortled. "Hop to it, old sport! But you might tell me what you want with such intimate belongings of mine."

"You may not know it," Dundee had retorted, "but young Mr. James Wadley Randolph, Jr., scion of the famous old Boston family, is going to visit that equally famous school, Forsyte - on - the - Hudson, to see whether it is the ideal finishing school for his beloved young sister, Barbara. . . . She's about 15 now, isn't she, Jimmy?"

"Going on 16, and one o' Satan's prize hellions," Jimmy Randolph had answered. "And the family would be eternally grateful if you could get Forsyte to take her, but make them promise not to have any more chorus girls who plan to get murdered, as directors of their amateur theatricals. Bab would be . . . I suppose that's the job youu're on, you flat-footed dick, you!"

The second telephone call had secured an appointment at the Forsyte school for "Mr. James Wadley

City's Fire Rate To Be Determined

Whether Lubbock will be credited with a good fire record for 1930 or will be penalized by a levy by the state fire insurance commission will be determined within the next several days, it was said at city hall Thursday.

All insurance agents of the city are being asked today to report to the city manager's office the amount of premiums colected and losses paid for the year. When all have been received, officials will be able to determine by comparison with the records of the last two years what Lubbock's position will be during 1931.

Forty Agents Here

Forty agents have ben listed by the city as doing business here in 1930. Some of these have been combined while others have been purchased during the year. Of the forty names, three were listed as out of town agents.

During 1930 Lubbock has enjoyed a credit of 15 per cent but officials are of the opinion that this record will be broken and state that a penalty probably will be levied by the state commission.

Add Equipment To Fight Fire

Recently Completed Unit Is Added To Lubbock's Fire Department; To Be In Use In Next 90 Days

Addition to the Lubbock fire department of a recently perfected fire fighting unit at an estimated cost of $600, was announced Thursday at city hall. The new machine probably will be in use within the next 90 days.

Known as a booster pump unit, the new machine will carry about 300 feet of one-inch hose and 150 gallons of water. It will be equipped with a pump capable of delivering the water at 100 pounds pressure.

Answer All Calls

Fire Chief Twitty explains that the new unit will probably answer all first calls, due to its speed and facility in handling. It will be able to get at the root of fires immediately and will do away with the old chemical process. City officials stated that the booster pump equipment only came into practice during the last two years but that it has proven to be very practical wherever tried.

All equipment will be built on a Packard chassis and installation and building will be done by members of the local department. Officials pointed out that to buy the equipment complete would cost approximately $2,500 and that a saving is being affected of almost $2,000.

the Broadcasting rehearsal was thrown into Confusion

HURRIED whisperings, staccato exclamations, buzzed through the New York studios of the National Broadcasting Corporation during a final rehearsal one evening recently. Thirteen minutes more, and "The Empire Builders," a program sponsored by the Great Northern Railway, would "go on the air."

Suddenly a protest: "That whistle's wrong! Who ever heard a train whistle like that?"

Startled questions. Quick replies. Confusion.

The whistle had been described by the railroad, and the description faithfully followed by the Sound Effects man. But the element of doubt, tossed before the already tense performers, threatened demoralization of the entire program. One man kept his head. Calmly, even casually, Raymond Knight*, production manager, reached for the telephone.

"Long distance? Give me the Great Northern Railway at St. Paul, Minnesota. This is an emergency call."

"Hold the line, please"—and in less than a minute and a quarter, Knight was talking to the Great Northern official in charge of the broadcasting program.

"That train whistle, just as it goes into the tunnel—is it right?" Knight asked. "It seems funny and shrill to us here. Listen, and I'll blow it for you."

"The whistle is all right," pronounced St. Paul and explained: "It's not a regular steam whistle. It's an air whistle, on an electric train backing into a tunnel. When an electric train backs into a tunnel that's the way the whistle sounds."

"O. K.," smiled Knight. And, confidence restored, the program proceeded without a hitch.

What Is Gum-Dipping?

Gum-Dipping is the Firestone trade name for that patented, basic process which makes Firestone Tires fundamentally different from all other tires. It is one of the reasons why Firestone, through many years, has easily been able to make good the statement: "Most miles per dollar." It is not something done to a tire after it is made. It is something very vital done before the tire is made.

To grasp the full significance of Gum-Dipping, it is necessary to know something about how a tire is made and what goes on within a tire on the road. The body of the tire bears the principal strains in service. To it is attached the tread which provides traction and takes the wear of the road.

The usual tire body is built up of layers or plies of cotton cords between which rubber has been forced. Rubber is incompressible. Hence the tire body practically does not expand or contract to meet road shocks. It flexes—that is, it changes form.

The strain of the flexing tends to pull the plies apart and also to pull the cords themselves apart. A tire flexes about seven hundred times in a mile—which gives some idea of the strains and the friction which a tire must endure.

The great enemy to tire life is internal friction. Years ago the fabric was square-woven—and the cotton cords sawed, one across another.

If cotton rubs against cotton, the tire soon heats up and collapses. That is why the square-woven fabric tires were so short-lived. Then came the tires with parallel cords that could not saw each other. The best square-woven fabric tire would go scarcely four thousand miles.

The Mark of Quality

A poor cord tire will give at least twice that mileage. Making the cords parallel was a great advance—but it was only part of the battle against internal friction.

It was realized that if the fibers of cotton in a cord could be insulated one from another, then a step-up in tire life could be had comparable to that made by shifting from square-woven fabric to parallel cords. That is what all tire makers have been striving for. That is what Firestone has achieved.

Every cord used in Firestone Tires has been treated with a rubber solution which penetrates every cord and coats every fiber; and thus not only the cords, but also the very fibers within them are insulated.

Eight pounds of fine, pure rubber are, by the patented Gum-Dipping process, integrated into every one hundred pounds of cotton cords. This means three extra pounds of pure rubber added to an average set of tires—and added where it means most to the strength and the life of the tire. This extra rubber all goes into the cords of the tire—where you never see it.

Why does Firestone put in this extra value? And what does it mean to you? It means just this. The performance—the extra value—has been shown for years on the road and in the laboratory. It has been proved that Gum-Dipping:

—increases the flexing life of a cotton cord by 58%.

—increases tire life by from 25% to more than 40%, according to the severity of the service—the more severe the service, the higher the percentage.

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires are not just tires. They are thirty years of organized experience. They are sold only through Firestone Service Dealers and Service Stores and only as Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires—bearing the Firestone name and bearing the Firestone emblem that appears on this page.

Wherever you live—city or country—a fresh and complete stock of Firestone products is near-by.

Matadors Defeat A.C.C., 34 to 26, In Series Opener

Tech Leads In All Phases To Beat Wildcats

Captain Hodges Leads Scoring With 13 Points With Fisher Running Second; Teams Meet Again Tonight

Clarence Hodges and Leon Fisher, forward and center respectively for the Texas Tech Matador cage team, hit their stride last night and under heavy fire scored a total of 23 points between themselves to lead the Crimson to a 34 to 26 victory over the Abilene Christian College Wildcats.

As a further credit to the above mentioned pair be it known that neither was charged with a single foul, personal or technical. They did not play the full game, coming out with but three minutes to play to give another pair of forwards a chance to make a final splurge. The reserves were not capable of the job, however. They scored only one point thereafter, a result of a Christian foul and a well-placed shot by Basil Hill. In the meantime the Wildcats were creeping up and during the last three minutes scored half a dozen points.

Russell Smith, Tech athletic department business manager, announced last night that for every ticket sold for the game tonight one would be given away. Adults buying one general admission ticket, which is good for a reserved seat, may bring one companion free of charge. Students holding activity tickets may bring a visitor or another student for no extra charge. The game tonight starts at 8 o'clock.

Referee Turns 'Em Yoose.

The game last night, the first of a series of two, was one of the most interesting of the season. A goodly crowd was there and it dispersed not complaining nor sorry that it had gathered, for Referee Washam "turned 'em loose" on the court and called only the most brazen of fouls. On the open court the players indulged in an old-time basketball game, and the toot of the whistle was not the most evident thing on the court for once. Only 18 personal fouls were called, only one man disqualified, which is some kind of record.

Pippen, starting at guard for the visitors, was the main thorn in the Matador side last night. He is one of the best and most accomplished cagers to appear on the local court this season, and has a dead eye for the basket. His long shots were well night sensational. In the end he was disqualified for roughing and it was Tech's gain when he left the court amid an outburst of complimentary cheering. He tossed four baskets from scrimmage and missed about as many.

Other Christian Stars.

Reynolds, starting forward, was a star for A. C. C., though he did not warm to the scoring until late in the contest. His passing and floor-work was neat and well timed. Lawrence, one of the leading scorers in the T. I. A. A., and Reese, a guard, played consistent games.

For Tech, Crews was a power on offense and defense. He went in as a substitute for Darr who was unable to get going and shortly had made seven points. He shows improvement with every game and before the season ends may be a regular starter at a forward position. Captain Hodges ran away with scoring honors with five field goals and three free ones.

The Matadors led nearly all the way. Once the score was tied, 7-7, early in the contest, but at the half the local collegiates were leading 20 to 13. Fisher led off with a quick field goal when the game was extremely young. Hodges followed with a neat shot and a charity toss. Fisher added a pair of points and the locals had a 7-point lead before the Wildcats started. But they retaliated in a quick way, scoring seven points in a row. Pippen, Reese and Watkins doing the firing.

The scoring was about even in the second half. The Matadors scored 14 points and the visitors rang up 13. Had Golightly left in his regulars the tally probably would have been greater for the reserves had little time to get warmed to the occasion.

The teams meet in the second game of the series tonight at 8.

Rip Miller To Coach Middies

Former All-American Guard Of Notre Dame Elected To Succeed Navy Bill Ingram At Naval Academy

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 29.—Edgar E. (Rip) Miller, all-American guard at Notre Dame in 1924 and line coach at the Naval Academy the past five years, will succeed Navy Bill Ingram as head football coach, it was learned at the academy today.

Miller has been a member of the coaching staff at the academy since 1926, when Ingram first took over the grid reins and turned out an undefeated team. He came to the academy from the Notre Dame outfit which made history in football world, being one of the line "mules" who made possible the record of the four horsemen of that year.

Naval academy athletic officials would neither confirm nor deny that Miller had been selected for the vacancy created when Ingram signed a contract to become head coach at the university of California, but did say he would return to the academy as a coach.

A high athletic official said, however, that Miller had been agreed on, but that the formal announcement of the appointment would not be made for several days.

Investigation Shows Colleges To Be Abandoning Spring Football Practice

BY FOSTER HAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The seed of moderation, sown in footbal fields by coaches and graduate managers at their annual pow-wow in New York City during the Christmas holidays, already is bearing fruit in elimination or reduction of spring practice at many of the leading eastern colleges and universities.

Thirty-three colleges today were asked by the Associatd Press as to their plans for spring practice. Thirteen are to continue the practice, although on a curtailed scale. Eleven plan no spring practice. Nine, including the big three—Harvard, Yale and Princeton — have come to no definite decision. Indications are, however, the big three and probably several others on the "undecided" list will not call out a football squad this spring.

The list of those that will continue spring practice includes the Naval Academy, Rutgers, Dartmouth, Cornell, Syracuse, Colgate, Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson, Duquesne, Penn State, Bucknell and Temple. Temple, however, will have only one week of drill and the program will be short at several other places.

Army Not to Practice

The military Academy, university of Delaware, Rider College, at Trenton, N. J., Haverford, Swarthmore, the University of Maryland, Pennsylvania Military, Alleghany, Carnegie Tech, Geneva, and Lafayette will issue no football equipment until next September. It's going to be a strictly "fall sport" at those institutions.

The old big three, as well as Columbia, New York University, Fordham, Brown, West Virginia and the University of Pennsylvania have no decision.

Football Weather Vane

The very fact no spring practice has been announced at those institutions gives an indication as to which way the wind is blowing.

Harvard is to make a definite decision on the matter Monday, with expectation spring drill will be called off. Yale will act at the board of control meeting Feb. 9, and Columbia and New York University early next month.

Shute Favored To Hold Title Won Last Year

First Play In Texas Open To Start Today; Dry Weather Promised For Remainder Of Tournament Play

BY GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Denny Shute, young Columbus, O., professional, and Lorraine Young 20-year-old San Antonio amateur combined today to score a 65, six under par for the Brackenridge Park course, and place first in the amateur-pro event, preliminary to the $6,500 Texas open.

Shute and his youthful partner were even-up for the muddy 18 holes, each scoring a 71, even par, but they displayed some fine team work to lead the field by two strokes. Shute did his fancy work on the first nine where he had a 33, and Young came in with a 32, helping his professional partner on five holes. Between them, they registered seven three's on the last nine holes.

Four Teams Tied.

Four teams tied for second place with 67's. They were Sam Schneider, San Antonio professional and Lieut. Gus Shea, San Antonio amateur; John Golden, Stamford Conn., and Byron Nelson, Fort Worth, Texas; Al Espinosa, Chicago and Lieut. H. M. Turner, San Antonio, and Abe Espinosa, Chicago and Jack Wood, San Marcos, Texas.

Victory in today's event was worth $100 to Shute and a gold medal to his amateur partner Young, the professionals in the four combinations tying at 67 divided $125, representing second and third prizes.

The card posted by Shute and Young:

Out ..... 525 443 435—35
In ..... 333 533 433—30—65

Four Teams With 69's.

Four teams finished with 69's, just out of the money. They were Frank Walsh, Chicago pro and Bud McKinney, Del Rio, Tex., amateur; Tom Lally, San Antonio, pro and Edgar O'Quinn, San Antonio; Edwin Jouelg, Houston, Tex., professional, and John Dawson, Chicago amateur, and Phil George, Liberty, Tex., pro and James Gallett, New York.

A drizzling rain that had fallen for three days and kept many of the contestants indoors lapsed partially today. Prospects were for fair weather tomorrow, when the money-shooters will get away on the 72-hole grind for the capital prizes. Eighteen holes are scheduled tomorrow, the same number Saturday and the final 36 on Sunday. First prize will be $1,500.

Shute Becomes Favorite.

As a result of his fine showing today, Shute became an outstanding favorite to retain his Texas open title. Last year the middle west star compiled a total of 277, seven strokes better than par, to lead the field. He displayed the same mastery of Brackenridge Park today.

Jack Berg Meets Perlick Tonight

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—Jackie Kid Berg, crack British lightweight, tackles Herman Perlick, Kalamazoo, Mich., for the third time tomorrow night in the feature attraction at Madison Square Garden. Twice before, Berg has thrown the better half of a pair of fighting twins for a loss.

The match involves the trick junior welterweight championship which Berg won in England from Mushy Callahan, Chicago, a couple of semesters ago. The title is not recognized in this state, but the boys are scehuled to weigh 140 pounds, the class limit. Berg, with one match under his belt after a long vacation in England, is a prohibitive favorite.

Charges Made In Army Grid Cases

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Charges that football authorities at West Point were permitting prose[illegible] of football players have been laid before the war department by Representative Hamilton Fish, Republican, New York.

A thorough investigation into the activities of W. T. Wrightson, a member of the army athletic association and Paul Carroll, a cadet, in connection with alleged efforts to have Kenneth Goff, star Rhode Island State football player, enter the academy, has been demanded by Fish.

Fish asked in a letter to General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, that Wrightson's name be stricken from the rolls of the army athletic association.

Walter Hagen And Joe Kirkwood To Appear Here In Exhibition

Walter Hagen, America's grand old man of professional golf, is coming to Lubbock next week. He will be accompanied by Joe Kirkwood, golf trick artist and nationally famous links man. The pair are scheduled to appear here next Thursday, February 5, at the Lubbock Country Club.

Walter Hagen

A telegram was received by J. Wesley Read, president of the country club, yesterday from Kirkwood, who is at present in Hollywood, Calif., with Hagen, suggesting that the pair come to Lubbock as one of the main points on a tour of the state of Texas, and setting the probable date as February 5. Read filed an immediate reply agreeing to the financial conditions mentioned in the telegram and while no confirmation had come from Hagen and Kirkwood last night it was thought that the matter was definitely closed.

The pair will stage an 18-hole exhibition flight over the country club links, after which Kirkwood will exhibit some of his trick shots for which he is famous. Hagen will deliver a lecture, dealing with golf as a profession and the game as one of the leading sports.

Kirkwood appeared here in an individual exhibition four years ago and pleased a large gallery with his plain and fancy shooting.

BASKETBALL PLAYS and PLAYERS

Advantages of keeping the ball in motion are many. Regardless of the kind of defense your team meets, keeping the ball in motion is effective.

Offenses designed to meet zone defenses should place special emphasis upon this phase of attack. Passing the ball back and forth in front of the zone, also in and out to players who have penetrated the defense, tends to draw the defensive men out of position, thus leaving open some player for a good shot. The accompanying diagram represents the formation.

Keeping the ball moving is also effective against the man-to-man and other defenses because of danger of defensive men getting off balance in covering their assigned man. The guard may rush to intercept a pass or prevent a deliberate shot and thus find himself in a bad defensive position. This happened because the ball had been kept in motion until one defensive man had been pulled out of position.

The ball moving rapidly in front of a defense tends to keep the offensive men mentally alert. This should lessen the number of interceptions because the players will meet the ball fast. Fast breaking and cutting to the basket is greatly encouraged. Flat-footedness is at a minimum in the game which encourages real team work and makes a unit of your five men.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH REGISTRATION

Rhode Island Public Health Commission

THOMAS J. McLAUGHLIN, M. D.

WOONSOCKET, May 21st, 1930.

The American Cigar Company,
#111 Fifth Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:-

Permit me to commend you for your crusade against the old-fashioned method of cigar making which involved the use of "spit" or "Saliva." There are many unsanitary processes still employed in industry which are very difficult to eliminate without the aid of industry itself.

Not only the public officer charged with the responsibility of improving conditions of health generally but every one immediately recognizes that the use of "spit" in the manufacture of cigars is not only unsanitary but has latent dangers to health of great magnitude. I feel it incumbent upon myself, therefore, as a public officer charged with protecting the public health to use this means of telling you that in campaigning against such a method of manufacture you are rendering a public service.

I sincerely hope that your example and your campaign will compel the abandonment of such methods of manufacture of cigars by the industry generally and the adoption by all of the manufacturers of sanitary methods in the manufacture of cigars.

You are at liberty to use this expression of my commendation in the furtherance of your laudable campaign for better sanitation.

Yours very truly,
Thos. J. McLaughlin, M.D.
Chairman State Board of Health
State of Rhode Island.

...one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. McLaughlin's letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. McLaughlin writes: "Permit me to commend you for your crusade against the old-fashioned method of cigar making which involved the use of 'spit'."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it...Smoke Certified Cremo — a really wonderful smoke — mild — mellow — nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In this period of cold weather and cracked lips, above all insist on a cigar—free of the spit germ.

andolph, Jr., of Boston," and Dun-e, rather relishing his first need r such professional tactics, relaxed enjoy the 10-mile drive along the udson.

It was a quarter to 12 when his xi swept up the drive toward the g, gray-stone, turreted building, diately lonely in the midst of its luable acres.

"Miss Earle says to come to the ffice," a maid told him when he d given his name, and led him m the vast hall to a fairly large om, whose long windows looked on a tennis court, and whose alls were almost covered with roup pictures of graduating sses, photographs of amateur atrical performances, and por-t studies of alumnae.

very thin, sharp-faced woman about 40, with red-rimmed eyes ch peered nearsightedly, rose n an old-fashioned roll-top desk came forward to greet him.

"I am Miss Earle, Miss Pendle-n's private secretary," she told m, as he shook her thin, clammy d. "I should have told you n you telephoned this morning t both Miss Pendleton and Miss con sailed for Europe yesterday. e always have our commencement quettish smile. But I don't suppose . . . But if there is anything I can for you—"

"I should like to know something first hand of the history of the hool, its—well, prestige, special vantages, curriculum, and so on." ndee began deprecatingly.

"I should certainly be able to swer any question you may wish ask, Mr. Randolph, since I have en with the school for 15 years." ss Earle interrupted tartly.

"Then Forsyte must take younger pils than I had been led to be-ve, Miss Earle", Dundee said, th his most winning smile.

"I was never a pupil here," the cretary corrected him, but she awed visibly. "Of course, I was a re child when I finished busi-ss school, but I have been here years—15 years of watching rich iety girls dawdle away four or e years, just because they've got be somewhere before they make eir debut. . . . But I mustn't talk e that, or I'll give you a wrong pression, Mr. Randolph. Of its nd, it is really a very fine school very exclusive; riding masters, ncing masters, a gilf 'pro' and our n golf course, native teachers for nch, Italian, German and Span-h. . . . Oh, the school is all right, d will probably not suffer any s of prestige on account of that adful murder out in the Middle st—"

Murder?" Dundee echoed, as if had no idea what she was talk-about.

Haven't you been reading the pa-?" Miss Earle rallied him, with ettish smile. But I don't suppose ton bothers with such sordid gs", she added, her thin-lipped th tightening. "Miss Pendleton ll cut up about it, because Mrs. , or Juanita Leigh, as she was on Broadway, had directed r Master play the last two years, d the reporters simply hounded the first two days after she was dered out in Hamilton, where a mber of our richest girls have come from—"

"By Jove!" Dundee exclaimed. Was the Selim woman connected with this school, really? . . . I only ad the headlines—never pay much ttention to murders in the pa-ers—"

I wish," Miss Earle interrupted artly, fresh tears reddening her yes, "that people wouldn't persist n referring to her as 'that Selim oman.' . . . When I think how weet and friendly she was, how—ow kind!" and to Dundee's sur-rise she choked on tears before he could go on: "Of course I know 's dreadful for the school, and I ught not to talk about it, when ou've just come to see about put-ing your sister into the school, but lita was my friend, and I simply akes me wild—"

"You admired and liked her very uch?" Dundee asked, forgetting is role for the moment.

"Yes, I did! And Miss Pendleton iked her, too. And you can imag-ne how clever and popular she was, hen a wonderful woman like Mrs. eter Dunlap, who was Lois Mor-ow when she was in school here, ved her so much she took her Hamilton with her to direct for a Little Theater. . . . . Why, I never met anyone I was so ongenial with!" the secretary went passionately. "The girls here b me and make silly jokes about behind my back and call me names, but Nita was just as to me as she was to anyone—Miss Pendleton herself!"

re you, you with her much?" e dared ask.

h her much? . . . I should was!" she asserted proudly. a room here, live here the ound, and both years Nita my room, so she would not make the long trip back to rk every night during the t of, rehearsals. We used until two or three o'clock in gs—Say!" she broke off, suddn terror. "You aren't a re-orter, are you?"

"A reporter? Good Lord, no!" undee denied, in all sincerity. hen he made up his mind swiftly. his woman hated the school and ll connected with it, had grown ore and more sour and envy-ous every year of the 15 she had ught there—and she liked Nita Selim better than anyone she ver met. The opportunity for questioning was too miracu-s to be ignored. So he changed one suddenly and said very earnestly: "No, I am not a report-er, Miss Earle. But I am not James Wadley Randolph, Jr. I am James F. Dundee, special investigator at-tached to the office of the district attorney of Hamilton, and I want you to help me solve the mystery of Mrs. Selim's murder."

It took nearly 10 precious minutes for Dundee to nurse the terri-fied but obviously thrilled woman over the schock, and to get her into the mood to answer his questions freely.

"But I shan't and can't tell you anything bad about Nita!" she pro-tested vehemently, wiping her red-rimmed eyes. "The papers are all saying now that she got $10,000 for double-crossing some awful racke-teer named 'Swallow-tail Sammy,' but I know she didn't get the money that way! She was to good—"

"From Nita's confidences to you, do you have any idea how she did get the money?" Dundee asked.

Miss Earle shook her head. "I don't know, but she got it honor-ably. I know that! . . . Maybe she found her husband and made him pay alimony—"

Dundee controlled his excitement with difficulty. "Did she tell you all about her marriage and di-vorce?"

Again Miss Earle shook her head. "The only time she ever spoke of it was last year—the first year she directed our play, you know. I asked her why she didn't get married again, and she said she couldn't—she didn't know where her hus-band was, and it was too expen-sive to go to Reno. . . . Of course she may have found him or some-thing—and got a divorce sometime this last year, and this money she got was a settlement—"

"She must have got a divorce, since she was planning to be mar-ried again to a young man in Ham-ilton," Dundee assured her sooth-ingly.

"The way everybody puts the very worst interpretation on every-thing, when a person gets murder-ed!" Miss Earle stormed, "If poor Nita had belonged to a rich family, like the girls here, they would have spent a million to hush up any scan-dal on her! . . . I've seen it done!" she added, darkly and venomously.

LEGAL NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 477

An ordinance licensing and regulating the sale at public auction of jewelry, diamonds and other precious or semi-precious stones, watches, clocks, pictures paintings, bric-a-brac or such like articles and prescribing a penalty and providing for an emergency.

Whereas, on account of the general complaint which has grown out of the practice of unregulated auctions and auctioneers of the hereinafter described kind and character of goods and the great amount of imposition made upon the public by misrepresentation and practices of deceit and fraud growing out of unregulated and irresponsible auctioneers and auctions it is deemed advisable by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas, to pass suitable regulations governing the same to secure honesty and fair dealing and avoid such evil practices that have grown up on account of the want of proper regulations, now, therefore:

Be it ordained by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas:

Section 1. That it shall hereafter be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, dispose of or offer for sale in the City of Lubbock, at a public auction, or cause or permit to be sold, disposed of or offered for sale at a public auction within the City of Lubbock, jewelry, diamonds or other precious or semi-precious stone, watches, clocks, platinum, gold or silverware or plated ware, stationery, glassware, porcelain, bric-a-brac or such like articles, whether the same shall be their own property or whether the sale of the same shall be by and through agents or employees or others, without first complying with the provisions of this ordinance and obtaining a license from the Assessor and Collector of Taxes of the City of Lubbock, and making an application therefor as herein provided, provided, however, that this section shall not apply to judicial sales or sales made by executors or administrators, nor to sales made by or in behalf of licensed pawnbrokers of unredeemed pledges, which are made in the manner provided by law.

Section 2. That any person desiring to hold an auction sale for the sale of the goods hereinabove described shall make written application to the Assessor and Collector of Taxes of the City of Lubbock, as herein provided, for thirty days before the auction sale begins, and shall state in the said application the period of days any such person desires to hold the said auction sale and the said Assessor and Collector of Taxes shall issue to any such person a license upon complying with the terms of this ordinance for the period of time so designated, provided, that no license shall be issued for a longer period than thirty days.

Section3. Said application for a license shall be in writing and sworn to, stating the name of the applicant, his residence, the street and number of the proposed place of sale, the length of time for which the license is desired, and if the applicant has been previously engaged in a like or similar business, to designate the places where the sale was conducted and shall furnish the Assessor and Collector of Taxes with such further evidence as he shall be necessary and reasonable to establish the truth of the statements made in said application and the right of the applicant to a license.

Section 4 Said application for a license shall have attached to it a sworn inventory of such stock or merchandise setting out the quality, quantity, kind or grade of each item and invoice cost thereof. To such inventory there shall be attached an affidavit that such inventory is in all respects true and correct. In the case of an individual, such affidavit shall be made by him as such; in case of a firm, it shall be made by one of the partners; and in case of a corporation, it shall be made by the president, general manager, secretary or treasurer. Such inventory and affidavit when so made shall be kept on file in the office of the Assessor and Collector of Taxes as a part of the public records pertaining to the sale. No merchandise shall be sold at such auction sale except that referred to and included in the inventory made part of the application. That whenever any extension of the license so granted hereunder is granted to any person holding an auction, an application shall be made therefor as provided herein, which shall be granted by the Assessor and Collector of Taxes, provided that should it appear to the said Assessor and Collector of Taxes, from the application so made, that new or additional articles, commonly known as "fill ins," are added to the list of articles made by any such person, then it shall be the duty of the said person to furnish an additional bond in the amount as herein described for the sale of the additional articles, or as is required for the sale of the original articles.

Section5. That all persons desiring a license shall, upon complying with the application herein provided for, and before a license shall be issued to any such person shall tender a bond to the City of Lubbock duly executed by the said applicant, as principal, in the sum of One Thousand Dollars, which bond shall be made payable to the City of Lubbock, a municipal corporation, Lubbock County, Texas, and when in compliance with the terms of this ordinance shall be approved by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas, and shall be conditioned that the said principal thereon shall pay all losses and damages which may lawfully be claimed against him on account of any material misrepresentations of fact and belief or any material supression of facts concerning the merchandise to be auctioned at such sale, or which may grow out of a violation of any of the terms of this ordinance. Such bond shall be made amendable to any person who may sustain any loss or damage on account of any such misrepresentation and shall cover all auction sales of merchandise described in the inventory made and required to be filed with the Assessor and Collector of Taxes, and any such person sustaining any damage or loss may bring suit in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover the same and the provisions of the said bond shall be construed liberally in favor of any such person on account of any loss or damage sustained by any such person either directly or indirectly. All remedies upon or under such bond shall be in addition to any cumulative of all other remedies the parties may have at law or in equity for recoupment of any such loss or damages. The bond shall be signed by a surety company doing business in the State of Texas. Cumulative recoveries may be had on said bond to the full amount thereof.

Section 6 That the Assessor and Collector of Taxes may inspect and investigate any part or all of such stock or merchandise coming within the purview of this ordinance before issuing the license in order to determine the truth of the statements made in the application and the inventory.

Section 7. That before any license shall be issued the applicant shall pay to the City of Lubbock a license fee in advance in the sum equal to $5.00 per day for each day during which the auction is entitled to be held according to the license.

Section 8. It shall be unlawful for any person acting as auctioneer to make any statements which are false in any particular, which shall have a tendency to mislead any person present, or to make any misrepresentation whatsoever or at all as to the quality or quantity, character or present condition, or value, or cost, or general selling price, or whether new or second hand, or partly so, of any property offered for disposal by auction sale.

Section 9. That it shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale any article hereinbefore described as "fill in" unless in each and every advertisement of whatever kind with reference to said auction, there be contained a clear and unequivocal statement of the fact that goods and merchandise herein described as "fill in" have been added to the "stock on hand."

LEGAL NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 477

An ordinance licensing and regulating the sale at public auction of jewelry, diamonds and other precious or semi-precious stones, watches, clocks, pictures paintings, bric-a-brac or such like articles and prescribing a penalty and providing for an emergency.

Whereas, on account of the general complaint which has grown out of the practice of unregulated auctions and auctioneers of the hereinafter described kind and character of goods and the great amount of imposition made upon the public by misrepresentation and practices of deceit and fraud growing out of unregulated and irresponsible auctioneers and auctions it is deemed advisable by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas, to pass suitable regulations governing the same to secure honesty and fair dealing and avoid such evil practices that have grown up on account of the want of proper regulations, now, therefore:

Be it ordained by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas:

Section 1. That it shall hereafter be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, dispose of or offer for sale in the City of Lubbock, at a public auction, or cause or permit to be sold, disposed of or offered for sale at a public auction within the City of Lubbock, jewelry, diamonds or other precious or semi-precious stone, watches, clocks, platinum, gold or silverware or plated ware, stationery, glassware, porcelain, bric-a-brac or such like articles, whether the same shall be their own property or whether the sale of the same shall be by and through agents or employees or others, without first complying with the provisions of this ordinance and obtaining a license from the Assessor and Collector of Taxes of the City of Lubbock, and making an application therefor as herein provided, provided, however, that this section shall not apply to judicial sales or sales made by executors or administrators, nor to sales made by or in behalf of licensed pawnbrokers of unredeemed pledges, which are made in the manner provided by law.

Section 2. That any person desiring to hold an auction sale for the sale of the goods hereinabove described shall make written application to the Assessor and Collector of Taxes of the City of Lubbock, as herein provided, for thirty days before the auction sale begins, and shall state in the said application the period of days any such person desires to hold the said auction sale and the said Assessor and Collector of Taxes shall issue to any such person a license upon complying with the terms of this ordinance for the period of time so designated, provided, that no license shall be issued for a longer period than thirty days.

Section3. Said application for a license shall be in writing and sworn to, stating the name of the applicant, his residence, the street and number of the proposed place of sale, the length of time for which the license is desired, and if the applicant has been previously engaged in a like or similar business, to designate the places where the sale was conducted and shall furnish the Assessor and Collector of Taxes with such further evidence as he shall be necessary and reasonable to establish the truth of the statements made in said application and the right of the applicant to a license.

Section 4 Said application for a license shall have attached to it a sworn inventory of such stock or merchandise setting out the quality, quantity, kind or grade of each item and invoice cost thereof. To such inventory there shall be attached an affidavit that such inventory is in all respects true and correct. In the case of an individual, such affidavit shall be made by him as such; in case of a firm, it shall be made by one of the partners; and in case of a corporation, it shall be made by the president, general manager, secretary or treasurer. Such inventory and affidavit when so made shall be kept

Cotton Trading In Cotton Trifle More Active Livestock Moderate Interest Shown By Packers Grain Fair Demand For Light Offerings

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29. (AP)—Trading in the cotton market here today was a trifle more active than earlier in the week and prices, though declining 4 to 9 points at the start, soon turned firmer and gradually improved. The opened decline, dispite better cables than due, said to have resulted from some selling on reports of beneficial rains in South Texas. The later improvement was due to firmer stocks, favorable advices from the cotton goods trade and private reports of intentions to greatly reduce acreage.

By early afternoon prices had advanced 8 to 9 points from the low levels 4 to 5 points above the previous close. There was more activity in the late trading on ring shorts covering and active months made new highs for the day, 10 to 11 points above the lows, but lost slightly at the end on realizing, closing steady with the general market showing net gains for the day of 2 to 5 points.

Liverpool came in 2 to 3 penny points better than due and private cables reported that the continent bought and the trade called.

Manchester cabled that there was a fair home demand for cloths but export trade was quieter. Despite the favorable cables the market here opened 1 to 3 points down and continued to ease off in early trading and selling by ring traders until March dropped to 10.25, May to 10.50 and October to 10.97 down 4 to 5 points from the previous close.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—Trading in cotton was comparatively quiet today and prices fluctuated within a range of 9-10 points.

An early decline under some southern selling and liquidation was followed by rallies which carried May up from 10.51 @10.60 or about 7 points net higher on trade buying and covering. The bulge seemed to meet somewhat increased offerings, however, and was not fully maintained with May closing at 10.56. The general market closed barely steady, net unchanged to 4 points higher.

March closed at 10.29 or net unchanged with July at 10.80 was 2 points net higher. Later deliveries were relatively steady and there was further transferring from March to the new crop months.

One or two reports of increased activity in some of the southern mills were published here during the morning, which with the firmer ruling of rain and the afternoon firmness in stocks may have led to some buying in cotton. The demand failed to broaden on the bulges, however, while liquidation of the near months continued and the failure of the market to develop increased activity probably caused some reselling by earlier buyers at the close.

Liverpool cables reported continental buying with covering and trading calling in that market. Exports today 9,631 making 4,459,826 so far this season. Port receipts 14,932. U. S. port stocks 4,004,249.

the Red Cross which has said it would not accept the $25,000,000. He is considering the Salvation Army, the Public Health Service and the American Legion.

Chairman John Barton Payne of the Red Cross issued a statement in which he denied the agency had been "playing politics" in its refusal to accept the fund. He argued it would have to set up ogranizations in cities to duplicate existing ones.

Robinson replied he was willing for the Red Cross to administer the fund through other agencies.

Agreement Reached

The agreement for a house vote tomorrow was reached between Representative Cramton, Republican, Michigan, in charge of the interior department supply bill, and Representative Byrns, Tennessee, ranking minority member of the appropriations committee, with unanimous consent of the house.

It was agreed that the house disagree to all of the other 145 amendments to the interior department annual supply bill.

Debate on the proposal was limited to two hours.

Still another possible point of relief controversy was attached to the army supply bill by the senate. It was an amendment by Robinson authorizing the secretary of agriculture to loan $5,000,000 of the $45,000,000 drouth seed loan fund to individuals or corporations to form agricultural credit corporations for the expedition of loans to drouth sufferers.

Meantime, the Red Cross announced its drive for $10,000,000 had reached $4,207,941.

Lifeless Stock Market Ambles Out Of Stupor To Show Strength Late In Day

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—A lifeless stock market, which had watched further liquidation of the United States government securities during the earlier trading hours today, ambled out of its stupor in the late trading and on the strength of late short covering closed higher. The average net gain was small.

Apprehensions over a possible bonus bond issue seemed to gain force over night and most of the liberties and treasuries broke a point or nearly a point. There was, however, a better tone in the group before the close, but the prevailing weakness of these highest grade obligations was reflected in rather sharp declines elsewhere in the bond list.

Short selling stocks in the morning found the market so inert that operations for the decline could make little headway and the creeping advance came after decline of about a point had been recorded in the leader. The last hour was the day's most active period, but sales again approximated only 1,000,000 shares.

Fairly well defined group movements were apparent. Merchandising shares were stimulated by the Montgomery-Ward earnings statement which showed that in the final quarter of 1930 the mail order house had been able to cancel losses of previous months and show a small net income. Farm implement shares rallied under the leadership of Case, Caterpillar Tractor and International Harvester. Utilities were stimulated by 2 point rallies in American Telephone and Consolidated Gas. Rails were dull.

Mine Disasters

the 29 victims of yesterday's explosion at the Little Betty mine was begun today by an emergency relief committee. Gov. Harry G. Leslie, who came from Indianapolis to counsel with relief workers pledged $1,000 from his state emergency fund.

Rescue crews brought the last bodies from the mine shortly before the governor's arrival. He visited the mine and talked with its officers and with Albert C. Daily, state mine inspector, who had started an inquiry in an attempt to learn the cause of the explosion.

It difinitely was determined that 38 miners were in the entry in which the explosion occurred about 3 p. m., yesterday. Two of them, slightly injured, were taken from the shaft soon after the explosion. Rescue teams sent into the shaft reported all the other trapped men certainly were victims of the dreaded afterdamp that follows an explosion.

A search for bodies was started and had been underway 15 hours when the rescuers came upon seven men who had taken refuge in an entry and built a brattice or barricade against the poisonous fumes. The seven were brought to the surface where they were joyously welcomed by the throng that lingered about the mine tipple.

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 29. (AP)—Although eastern dressed beef markets reported a very slow demand with prices weak to lower, packers displayed moderate interest in the light to moderate supplies of killing cattle. Matured steers at Chicago and Kansas City cleared at 11.00. Short fed steers sold around 7.25@9.75. Bulk of stocker and feeder steers are selling from 6.50@8.50 with choice light yearling stockers upward to 9.25. Receipts were estimated at 19,000.

Hogs found a slow outlet at most markets at prices unevenly steady to 35c lower. Packers at some points on the close enforced a 15 to 25c decline on medium weight and heavy butchers. The top of 8.10 was paid at Chicago and St. Louis. Offerings were around 117,000.

The sheep supply approximated 50,700. Killing classes were steady to 15c higher. Choice lambs in Chicago realized 9.50 @9.60; while at Omaha the top to shippers was 9.10.

the statement that the duce's machine struck a child but did not stop. Mussolini heard of it and the cables sizzled as he messaged his embassy here.

The premier was described as warmly indignant and deeply offended. He denied flatly his machine had ever hit a child.

Secretary Adams asked Butler to explain. His letter in reply was before the secretary and other high navy and marine officers today. They talked of it behind closed doors. It was not made public. The navy secretary commented, however, that it was fair to assume that Butler said he had not been misquoted.

The marine general returned to Quantico last night from Philadelphia. Callers were told that "General Butler is not receiving visitors today." Officers and men at the post gathered in groups and talked about the incident.

The speech was only a few hours old before it had involved two governments and famous men of two countries. Its ramifications extended westward to Phoenix, Ariz.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, jr., is there. Members of a Reno, Nev., Rotary club yesterday recalled that he made a speech and mentioned Mussolini. This incident he related was almost identical with that attributed by Butler.

Speculation arose immediately whether young Vanderbilt was Butler's 'friend." Questioned Vanderbilt replied: "I have nothing whatever to say about any of it."

The time for the court martial has not been fixed, nor have definite charges that the general will face been decided upon. They probably will be embraced in "conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman." Officials say there are no specific rules preventing an officer from criticising a foreign government, or a foreign official.

General Butler will be given time to prepare his defense. Whatever the evidence, or result, the trial will not be without color.

The note of apology was delivered today to Ambassador De Martino. He said he would send it to Mussolini.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Jan. 29. (AP)—Fair demand continued for the light offerings on the cash grain market today with dealers disposing of all commodities easily. Prices showed little change from Wednesday's closing, although fluctuations in contract markets were sharp. No. 1 hard wheat of any protein was probably worth 77 1-2@80c delivered Texas common points. Estimated receipts: Wheat, 6 cars; corn, 2; oats, 4, and sorghums, 2.

Quotations on coarse grains ranged about as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn, No. 2 mixed 72 1-2@73c; No. 2 white 75@75 1-2c; No. 2 yellow 75@751-2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Wheat advanced more than 2 1-2 cents a bushel today to the highest level in two weeks and held most of the gain. Multiplication of drouth complaints from domestic winter and spring wheat belts, including Canada, was largely responsible, together with big export purchases from Canada. The advance was in the face of transient breaks by corn and rye to new low price records.

Wheat closed irregular, varying from a shade lower to 2 cents up, corn at 5-8 to 1 3-8 gain, oats 1-2 to 3-4 advanced and provisions 5-35 cents down.

Latest estimates put export purchases of North American wheat at 2,750,000 bushels in the last 48 hours, mostly Canadian spring and durum. Sharp attention was given to reports of increasing dearth of moisture, much of the United States winter wheat belt having been practically without adequate rain for three months. Winnipeg advices said scuther Saskatchewan and southern Alberta have had no snow all winter, and that dust blowing in many places covered the railway fences.

All deliveries of corn momentarily outside yesterday's record low prices, unequalled since 1922, but today's declines were only fractional, and increased buying led afterward to advances. Corn arrivals here were reported going into immediate use instead of into store. Oats duplicated the action of wheat and corn.

Car Crash Here Is Echoed In Aggravated Assault Case

Trial of Grover Coleman, who faces a charge of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle as a result of an automobile collision here November 21, began Thursday in county court before Judge E. L. Pitts and will continue this morning.

Clarence J. Rollo, of 1628 Sixteenth street, was injured seriously in the accident, which occurred at Thirteenth street and Avenue Q. A sedan in which Rollo was alone was knocked on its side by the impact and pinned the driver beneath it.

Coleman and three companions another young man and two girls, escaped with less serious injuries. Both machines were damaged considerably.

An acquittal was won by Earnest Lindsey, tried on a charge of carrying a pistol, in county court Thursday.

Baldwin Confirmation Is Postponed By Committee

AUSTIN, Jan. 29. (AP)—The senate today postponed action on confirmation of the appointment of Frank Baldwin, Waco, newspaper editor, as a member of the state board of education pending a report of its committee on governor's nominations.

The committee had been expected to report to the senate in executive session today, but senators said it did not. Baldwin had been opposed for the appointment by a group of his former colleagues in the house of representatives and by Charles E. Coombes, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Baldwin was former Governor Dan Moody's last appointee.

Missing Eastland Rancher Is Found

RANGER, Jan. 29. (AP)—Wes Marshbanks, 50, prominently known rancher of Eastland county, was back at his home today, apparently in good health, but in a nervous state following a four-day disappearance which had aroused a county-wide search.

An old acquaintance, C. S. Flourney, encountered Marshbanks in Putnam this morning, and brought his home. The rancher, greatly worn, said he did not recall leaving his ranch last Sunday morning, adding, "it seems to me I left home only yesterday morning."

He was sleeping restfully, it was reported when newspapermen called at his home this afternoon.

Farm Bureau Federation In Favor Of Federal Farm Board

DALLAS, Jan. 29. (AP)—A resolution pledging support to the Federal Farm board and its policies was adopted at the annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation here today.

Activities of persons and organizations opposed to the operations of the Farm Board were condemned, and congressional representatives and "business men everywhere" were notified they would be judged by the "sides they take in this fight."

"There are no neutrals in this struggle," the resolution said. "Those who are not for us must be considered against us."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 29. (AP)—A "Murray Man", Sam Hawks, formally was elected today to replace Lew Wentz, millionaire Republican, as chairman of the state highway commission while Wentz questioned the authority of Governor W. H. Murray to dictate the change.

Race Repeated During Probe

Josephine K, Canadian Rum-Runner and Coast Guard Cutter Determine If Gunplay Necessary In Capture

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP) — The Josephine K, Canadian rum-runner, and the coast guard cutter 145 this afternoon peacefully repeated the race they had Saturday night off Ambrose Light and again the guard ship won.

The race was held to determine whether the cutter might have captured the liquor ship in Saturday's encounter without resorting to shelling. That speed contest ended with two direct hits on the Josephine K by shells from the 145 and the killing of her commander, Captain William P. Cluett.

Question Raised

Gerald Campbell, British consul general in New York, who has been attending the investigation, at the request of the Canadian government, of the incident by a coast guard board of inquiry, raised the question whether the gunplay was necessary.

Boatswain Karl Schmidt, who fired the shells that ripped into the rum-runner, was in command of the 145 at today's test. The Josephine K was handled by her own men with one exception—Boatswain W. T. Murphy took the place of Captain Cluett.

The cutter walked away with the race, making a speed of 11.15 knots. The Josephine K did only 9.55.

The race was held over a three-mile course from West bank light to old Orchard shoal. For checking the purposes, the ships took it both ways. They fought heavy weather and strong winds.

In order to approximate the conditions of Saturday's contest, the Josephine K was provided with a cargo of pig iron of the approximate weight of the liquor that was taken from her and stored in the barge office here.

Members of the board of inquiry started writing their report as soon as the race was run. It was to be sent by messenger to Rear Admiral Frederick C. Billard, commandant of the corps, in Washington.

How Good Doctors Treat Bad Colds

Medical writers agree that the important point in the treatment of a cold, or cough due to a cold, is to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thereby preventing serious complications which may follow a neglected cold. To stop this congestion calomel was the accepted and standard remedy until Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablet was introduced.

Now that science has robbed calomel of its nausea and danger, making it pleasant to take and perfectly safe for general use, over forty million Calotabs are consumed in the U. S. yearly with only the most pleasant and satisfactory results. In millions of homes Calotabs have proven their superiority in the prompt relief of colds and coughs due to colds.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a glass of sweet milk or water. No salts necessary. No nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning the congestion has subsided, your cold or coughs is relieved, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish,—no danger.

Get a family package of Calotabs, containing full directions, only thirty-five cents. Trial size, ten cents. At any drug store. (adv.)

AC COLLEGE COLUMN

By MARSHALL FORMBY, TECH CORRESPONDENT

BOXERS WORKOUT

The punchbags in the Tech gym are taking their part of punishment this term as 22 young Tech men aspire to be the champion prize fighter of West Texas. For the first time in several years, the college is to have a champion fighter, in fact seven of them, or one for each of the seven divisions. The seven divisions range in weight from 125 to 175 pounds.

Under the direction of Coach Del Morgan, the boxers have been working out each night and are fast rounding into fighting condition. Coach Morgan states that he is greatly handicapped by the lack of gym facilities, and that some of the championships will be decided between the halves of some of the basketball games. Those who are working out under Coach Morgan are receiving credit in physical training, a regular non-credit course in Tech which is required for a degree.
