Military Air Tragedy Toll Up To Nineteen

Death At Le Bourget

Smoke rises from the crashed U.S. B58 Hustler supersonic bomber which crashed today at Le Bourget airport, north of Paris, France. The plane had just completed a demonstration run over the field following flight from a U.S. Air Force base in Spain. It was to take part in the International Air Show over the French capital. The Air Forse said one of three crew members was killed. (AP WIREPHOTO)

AF Colonel Perishes In B58 Crash

PARIS (AP) — A U.S. Air Force B58 jet bomber crashed on landing at Le Bourget Airport today before thousands at an international air show.

One of its three crew members was killed. The Air Force had issued a statement saying all three crew members were dead. Later a French hospital reported it had two survivors of the crash. A hospital attache identified one as Maj. Harold Covington of Jacksonville, Ark.

COLONEL KILLED

The Air Force identified the officer killed as Lt. Col. Charles Hubbs, the pilot. The other injured man was Maj. Vincent Carabas. All were reported to be from near Little Rock, Ark.

Air Force authorities at Le Bourget said it had arrived from the U.S. Air Force Base at Terrejon, Spain. First reports said the B58, America's fastest medium - range bomber, had come from the United States.

COMPLETES RUN

The plane had just completed a demonstration run over the field. Control - tower employes said it appeared one of its engines fell off during the landing approach.

The plane crashed with a thunderous roar which shattered wings and fuselage and burst into flames. One engine, some distance from the aircraft, belched flames.

In another armed services air disaster today, a helicopter collision at Ft. Benning, Ga., killed at least 18.

U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen was in the crowd that saw the crash.

1,300 M.P.H.

The B58 is a strategic medium-range bomber with a speed in excess of 1,300 miles per hour.

It was the second B58 Hustler to crash during an international air show in Paris. In 1961 another B58 crashed shortly after it made a fly-past before thousands of spectators. All the crewmen were killed.

Carswell AFB in Fort Worth said Hubbs was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huffman of Rt. 3, Cisco, Tex.

Covington's mother was identified as Mrs. Una Hinson, 621 N. Jefferson, San Angelo, Tex. Carswell said Covington was in critical condition with burns over 40 per cent of his body.

Billion Dollar Military Pay Bill Advances

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee approved today a $1-billion military pay bill — more than double what President Johnson had proposed.

The vote was 33-1 with only Rep. Samual S. Stratton, D-N.Y., voting against it.

In effect, the committee approved the 10.7 per cent average annual pay hike contained in a bill introduced by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., and 33 others of the 37 members of his committee.

OTHER PROVISIONS

But they also included provisions from the administration bill whose proposed pay raises had been denounced by Rivers as "disgracefully inadequate."

What the committee took from the administration bill was a variable re-enlistment bonus and a plan for yearly reviews of military pay.

Both these administration proposals had been highly touted by Pentagon officials as a big help in solving the services' retention problem.

The variable bonus would allow the armed services to pay as much as $8,000 to a man in some critical skill — such as radar technician — who re-enlists.

ANNUAL BOOST

The pay bill proposed by Johnson and strongly backed by Defense Secretary Robert McNamara would have given an average yearly increase of 4.8 per cent in total compensation, to become effective Jan. 1 next year. The Rivers' bill would become effective the first day of the first month after it was enacted.

The committee's approval of its own bill was the administrations second legislative setback in less than a week at the hands of the committee. The group won House passage Thursday of a bill giving Congress a veto over closing of military installations.

Along the same line, the committee dismissed today the idea in the administration bill of giving Congress only a veto power over future military pay legislation. It called instead for an annual review of military pay to be submitted to Congress, and a review of the military pay structure once every four years, the first due in January 1967.

PLAN CRITICIZED

The Rivers' bill, aimed at making military pay comparable to Civil Service, was criticized by McNamara for giving so much attention to the lower grades of enlisted men and officers.

McNamara said the raises should be focused "at decision points"—the place where military men decide to stay in uniform. By not doing this, McNamara said, Rivers' bill was not meeting the main issue — the need to keep more experienced men in service.

Former Dean Bundy Hissed And Applauded

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — McGeorge Bundy, once a dean at Harvard University, was hissed and applauded there Monday as he defended administration policy in his role as special presidential assistant.

"That interesting noise," said Bundy of the hissing, "is not an argument."

Long and loud applause then replaced the hissing.

The hissing erupted three times, most strongly when he said terror was the primary weapon of the Viet Cong.

Bundy was greeted by pickets carrying signs attacking U.S. policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

Navy Planes Hit Bridges

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Navy planes struck bridges 50 and 55 miles from Hanoi today and also hit other military targets in North Viet Nam.

Officials also reported that over a 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m., 230 attacks were made on Viet Cong targets in South Viet Nam.

In North Viet Nam, 19 U.S. Navy planes struck at a highway bridge 50 miles south of the Red capital, but there was no report whether the structure was damaged.

Ten other Navy planes bombed the Ninh Binh bridge 55 miles below Hanoi. The pilots claimed destruction of one of the three spans.

Other U.S. airmen claimed they knocked out a bridge and bombed out Highway 7 at a point 70 miles northwest of Vinh. They also reported damaging strikes against approaches to two bridges and three buildings at Dong Hoi airfield 225 miles southwest of Hanoi.

The pilots encountered only moderate groundfire and all returned safely, U.S. spokesmen said.

Eight Navy planes from the U.S. carrier Midway ranged before dawn over a 110-mile stretch farther south of Hanoi, hitting a barracks area, a truck convoy and a barge.

Compromise On Foreign Aid Waited

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign aid authorization bill moves into a new area of ideological conflict between the House and Senate this week.

Passed by the Senate 68 to 20 Monday night, the $3.24-billion-a-year bill contains these major provisions not in the previously passed House version:

—A two - year authorization, rather than one year as in the past. House foreign aid leaders might not be too reluctant to go along with this, but it is coupled with:

— A two-year deadline, under which the foreign aid program will terminate in its present form. A 16-member special commission would be set up to map the future of the program and make recommendations.

OAS ROLE

— A far-reaching amendment giving the Organization of American States an important new role in channeling $25 million of U.S. military assistance out of the $55 million provided in the bill for Latin-American countries.

A conference between the two houses to iron out a compromise is expected to start its work Thursday.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, heads the team of Senate conferees. Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., his House counterpart, undoubtedly will head the House team. Other members of the House group have not been announced.

Morgan clashed earlier this year with Fulbright's idea of changing the form of foreign aid by channeling more of it through international lending organizations like the World Bank, and also splitting the economic and military assistance in two.

CLASHED EARLIER

Morgan said he was unalterably opposed to splitting the bill, and he prevailed in the House. The House report that accompanied the $3.37-billion House measure declared against any need to change the form of foreign aid.

Fulbright was unable to split the bill in the Senate, but he backed the plan for the two-year cutoff and revamping process. This is likely to be the major point of ideological contention between the two houses.

FULLBRIGHT IDEA

The OAS amendment, which grew out of criticism of U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic, was another Fulbright idea. It may win some friends in the House. It requires that future military aid to Latin America, even for internal security purposes, must be furnished "to the maximum extent feasible" according to plans approved by the OAS. It is designed to give a multilateral flavor to arms aid in the area to counteract the unilateral action of the United States in the Dominican Republic.

Use Of American Combat Units In Viet Now Likely

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The battle of Dong Xoai has brough' the Vietnamese war to a threshold that many Vietnamese commanders are not anxious to cross — the first use of American combat units in battle.

I' seems inevitable that U.S. units will soon be out on their own in full-fledged warfare with the guerrilla enemy. They were on the verge of that at Dong Xoai, and part of the U.S. Army's 173rd Airborne Brigade moved to within 20 miles of the fight.

They did not go in because Vietnamese generals did not want them. The brake was applied by Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien, commander of the Vietnamese army's 3rd Corps, who was responsible for the operation.

"I think the Viet Cong is deliberately trying to draw American units into this fight," Vien said.

AMERICANS AGREE

A number of top American officials agreed. It looked as if a primary objective of the Communists at Dong Xoai was to force commitment of the U.S. paratroopers to battle and perhaps to inflict enough casualties to make the Americans look bad.

The American commanders seemed ready to take the risk. They were armed with prior approval from Washington. The Vietnamese felt the gamble was not worth making, that it was better to commit their own reserves. Two battalions of Vietnamese troops were virtually wiped out at Dong Xoai.

At the root of Vietnamese reluctance to see the Americans move into the war more actively is an old bugbear of Vietnamese-American relations — national sovereignty.

AMERICAN WAR

Once the Americans commit units to open combat, it will be an American war. For all practical purposes, the Vietnamese command will have to cede at least some of its control to the foreign ally.

American officers argue that increased American control will improve efficiency and inject a new fighting spirit into the exhausted forces now facing the Viet Cong.

Many Vietnamese argue that an American army in Viet Nam will look too much like a French army and will turn increasing numbers of Vietnamese away from the government and toward the Viet Cong.

They also feel the Vietnamese army will tend to shrug its shoulders and say, "Why get killed now? The outcome depends on what the Americans do, not on us?"

Regarding future joint Vietamese-American military operations, American officials say, "Details are still being worked out."

LBJ And Congressmen Believe Economy Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Democratic congressional leaders agreed today that the nation's economy is in good shape.

The leaders reported this after a breakfast meeting with Johnson at the White House.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said Johnson called attention to the latest figures on employment, at a record high in May, and average factory pay, also at a record high.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana was asked his opinion of the cause of the decline in stock market prices recently. He replied that nobody knows what causes Wall Street to react, adding:

"The country is sound and that's what counts."

McCormack discounted criticism of administration policy in Viet Nam, saying "The American people are overwhelmingly behind the President."

Plane Debris Yields Bodies

ST. GEORGE, Utah (AP) — Bodies of three men have been found in the burned wreckage of a Civil Air Patrol plane that crashed Sunday night while hunting for a missing New Mexico plane.

The dead were pilot Dr. Elmyrrh Cox, Jim Middleton and Jim Miles.

The wrecked plane was searching for a plane that disappeared Friday on a flight from Salt Lake City to Farmington, N. M. The search continued today.

Aboard the New Mexico plane was J. F. Jeansonne of Hobbs, N.M., his wife and daughter, 16.

Texas Areas Get Showers

By The Associated Press

Showers played across northern areas of Texas early today and all sections simmered in gradually increasing heat.

A few showers fell before dawn in the west edge of the Panhandle.

Part of the time there was an almost solid line of showers and light rain about five miles wide in the section embracing Gainesville, Sherman, Bonham, Sulphur Springs, Mount Pleasant and Marshall.

Forecasts called for the shower activity to die down except in scattered parts of Northwest Texas.

Monday's top temperatures ranged up to 110 at Presidio. Laredo recorded 105, San Angelo 103 and Wink 102.

Red Party Leader Said Hospitalized

WARSAW (AP) — Polish informants report Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka is in a Warsaw hospital with a blood-pressure ailment.

However, there was no confirmation and no official information on the health or whereabouts of the 60-year-old party leader. He was last seen in public May 30.

Copter Crash Kills Eighteen

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Eighteen soldiers were killed today in the collision and crash of two troop-laden Army helicopters on a training flight over a swampy area of Ft. Benning.

Possibly more infantrymen were killed in the flaming crashes at 9:45 a.m. EST shortly after the aircraft took off from an airstrip on the sprawling reservation of the U.S. Army Infantry Training Center.

A search continued in the remote, swampy crash scene.

Cotton Program Measure Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — After several weeks of hearings, the House Agriculture Committee now must try to draft a bill to set up a new cotton program.

In view of the many and diverse views held by producers, ginners, cotton handlers and textile millers, and because of the enormous complexities of the matter, the drafting procedure may prove to be a considerable undertaking.

Chairman Harold Cooley, D-N.C., said he nevertheless is optimistic the committee will come up with an acceptable measure.

RETAIN PROGRAM

Specifically the committee has for consideration a bill introduced by Cooley to retain the present one-price program for cotton. It also would permit direct subsidy-type payments to growers and reduce the minimum national cotton acreage allotment from 16 million acres to 14 million acres.

Without some new law, the existing program will expire next year and the industry would return to the old two-price program under which domestic textile mills were forced to purchase cotton at the high government-supported domestic price rather than at the world price.

At present, under the law enacted last year setting up what is regarded as a textile mill subsidy, the mills now buy U.S. cotton at world price levels.

Whether the program actually is a textile mill subsidy is open to dispute. Rep. W. J. Bryan Dorn, D-S.C., told the committee Monday: "This is not a subsidy for the mills—this is only justice."

DIVERSIFIED PLANS

The committee has received numerous proposed programs from diverse groups.

Cooley favors continuation of the one-price program but is aware of complaints that the program is too costly—about $900 million this year. He therefore seeks approval of his bill to reduce the acreage in order to reduce costs.

One problem the committee must wrestle with is an existing provision that permits release and reapportionment of unused acreage allotments.

Under this, a grower not wishing to plant cotton may release his acreage for reallocation within the county or the state. This preserves the cotton planting history on which future county and state allotments are based.

Bills to repeal the provision have been introduced by 30 House members. They contend it tends to prevent the natural flow of cotton acreage from the areas where cotton production is uneconomic to the areas where it is more ecnoomic.

This means that the cotton acreage tends to stay in the old Southern cotton states and doesn't gravitate to California and other Western areas, plus some parts of Texas and Missouri.

Blamed In Fatal Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pilot fatigue contributed to the crash of a Beechcraft C18 plane in which six persons were killed near Sonora, Tex., last March 28, the Civil Aeronautics Board said today.

"The most probable reason for the accident was disorientation of the pilot during night flight over an area of dark sparsely lighted terrain, resulting in a loss of control," the CAB said.

FOR VICTORIA

The party left Portland, Ore., for Victoria, Tex., the day before and spent that night at Salt Lake City. The CAB said the group, on reaching El Paso, Tex., apparently planned another overnight stay but changed that intention and departed for Victoria at 6:50 p.m.

Pilot J. F. Shelley, 62, of Portland looked tired and remarked that he had flown about 11 hours skirting weather. After a 20-minute rest in the pilots' lounge, however, he appeared refreshed. Flight conditions at the crash scene were clear but very dark, the CAB said.

OTHERS KILLED

Killed with Shelley were his wife Gladys, a student pilot; Mr. and Mrs. Oren Nicholls of Eugene, Ore., and Walter Fuller and E. S. Niemela of Portland.

Excise Tax Cut Action At Hand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators prepared today for quick action on a $4.7-billion excise tax cut bill which would remove nearly all of the excise levies left over from wartime and the depression years.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the tax measure, told a reporter he was hopeful the Senate could pass it by nightfall.

KUCHEL HOPEFUL

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., the assistant Republican leader, said he was confident Republicans would cooperate.

Long noted that the Senate Finance Committee had inserted into the bill a powerful incentive for speed. Under this amendment, the first-stage excise repealers would take effect on the day after President Johnson signs the bill; the House voted for a July 1 effective date.

The Louisiana senator said so far as he knew the administration was not going to renew in the floor debate its request that the Senate restore half of the auto tax, that is, retain a 5 per cent excise.

It made this plea to the Finance Committee but won only seven of the nine needed votes.

SLOW REPEAL

The House voted for repeal of the entire 10 per cent tax in a series of steps ending in 1969.

The Senate committee decided to condition the final four percentage points of repeal, in 1968 and 1969, on agreement by the manufacturers to install a list of 17 safety devices on their cars.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., author of this amendment, said he believed the Senate would retain it in the bill although he said the auto companies apparently were against it.

The Finance Committee also decided, at the request of Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., to retain a 1 per cent auto tax and earmark the $190-million yield for disposal of auto junkyards.

Judy Garland Said Satisfactory

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Judy Garland remains in satisfactory condition at the University of California's Los Angeles medical center.

The 43-year-old singer was taken to the center Friday night from her Brentwood home after suffering what the hospital called an emotional upset.

A doctor said Monday her fever is gone and she is resting comfortably.

Shipping Strike Deadline Nears As Pact Reached

NEW YORK (AP) — Marine engineers reached a contract agreement with a second shipowners association today as a midnight deadline approached for a possible maritime strike.

A federal mediator said the AFL-CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association signed the agreement with the Tankers Service Committee, representing 16 tanker companies operating 65 vessels. Previously, an organization representing 70 operators of 300 ships had signed.

Several shipping industry labor contracts expire tonight.

STRIKE DANGER

Monday night, Ralph E. Casey, president of the American Merchant Marine Institute, said the industry faces what he termed "another devastating strike."

Casey's institute represents 12 major companies that operate 187 ships on regular trade routes.

Casey's statement Monday night came a short time after another shipowner association and a strike-threatening maritime union reached a settlement on wage demands.

The other owner group is the American Maritime Association, representing about 70 owners who operate 300 ships, mostly in the tramp trade.

The contracts of two AFL-CIO unions, representing deck and engineroom officers, expire at midnight. Each union represents about 10,000 men.

AF Commanders Told To Improve Treatment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has embarked on a golden rule program aimed at improving the treatment of junior officers and enlisted men.

The keynote was sounded by Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, who told his commanders: "Our Air Force is a family. Each member should be treated that way."

In a policy letter, McConnell counseled "a good hard look at ourselves and at every aspect of our handling" of these 830,000 officers and men wearing Air Force blue.

"GOLDEN RLUE"

"It should be self-understood that we must treat our subordinates in the same way we expect our superiors to treat us," said the top Air Force general enunciating a kind of military golden rule.

"I am convinced that vigorous action to improve the treatment of our personnel will pay tremendous dividends by increasing the attractiveness of service life and will lead to the high-quality force of dedicated professionals which we all recognize we must have," McConnell said.

The four-star Air Force general seemed to be specially concerned about the junior officers entering the Air Force.

"TREATED POORLY"

"Too many of these young officers are poorly received, poorly treated, inadequately counseled, and somewhat ignored to such a degree as to frustrate their ambitions and void their good intentions," McConnell wrote.

Thus, he directed, commanders at every echelon "will make absolutely certain that they know all of their officers; that each officer has a full-time job commensurate with his abilities; that no young officer stand short on counseling, advice, recognition and personal interest; and that each officer is kept fully informed on career opportunities."

As for men below officer rank, the Air Force said that by and large, re-enlistment "is the result of successful leadership and proper handling of airmen during their first enlistment."

Leo, Unkingly Lion, Dead

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP) — Leo the lion, who looked more like a jester than the king of beasts, died Monday night, cutting short his master's legal attempts to keep him as a household pet.

Leo, a scrawny animal, with no teeth, no claws, no mane, and whose legs were bowed from rickets, died at a veterinarian's hospital where he was taken for an intestinal obstruction. His master, Howard Sautter, was at his side.

"I wish I could cry," said Sautter, 52, a garage operator. "I just get a lump in my throat."

For several months Sautter had been waging a legal battle with the Abington Township Commission to keep Leo as a pet. Leo's home was in Sautter's garage in this Philadelphia suburb.

The battle started when neighbors complained that Leo's roaring kept them awake and they were afraid he would get loose and endanger the neighborhood.

Vote Registration Law Change Due

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The special legislature buckled down today to rework voter registration laws in a strategic retreat from massive resistance to Negro voting.

The highway patrol and city police maintained a security guard against civil rights demonstrations at the Capitol. Police arrested 472 in breaking up a protest march Monday.

Negro civil rights leaders scheduled strategy meetings and vowed that new demonstrations would be staged.

In his report, Gov. Paul Johnson told legislators the new federal voter rights bill in Congress had created an "urgent atmosphere" in which the state must act.

"We should put ourselves in the most advantageous position possible" for future operations under the federal act, the governor said.

Legislative reaction was generally favorable but there was some grumbling. Sen. E. K. Collins, Laurel, said he opposed any rewriting of voter laws before Congress acts.

Paper Reports Try At Stock Manipulation

NEW YORK (AP) — An apparent remote-control attempt to stage a multimillion-dollar manipulation in three Canadian stocks here was reported today by the New York Times.

The FBI and the New York Stock Exchange are looking into the matter, the Times said.

The story also said in part:

At least 40 New York Stock Exchange member firms almost became unwitting accessories in the market play.

FAKE CHECKS

A flood of checks — ranging as high as $200,000 and totaling about $4 million — were found to be fakes.

Forty supposedly certified checks, purportedly drawn on the Royal Bank of Canada's branch in Nassau, the Bahamas, arrived in the brokerage firms' Monday morning mail.

The drafts were accompanied by orders to buy relatively small amounts of several blue chip American stocks and much larger amounts of three Canadian stocks. The American stock orders apparently were intended to give a look of authenticity.

STOCKS LISTED

The Canadian stocks are Raycan Photocopy Corp. Ldt.; Commodore Business Machines and Jockey Club Ltd.

One Wall Street source said some of the brokerage firms immediately "smelled a rat," looked into the authenticity of the checks and found them to be fakes. Some firms, however, apparently took the letters — postmarked in Nassau — and checks at face value and executed the orders.

Drivers In Flood Sector Cautioned

AUSTIN (AP)—The Highway Department said today US 90 is now passable east and west of Sanderson. A flash flood Friday washed out bridges and sections of the busy route.

The department cautioned motorists that "due to the condition of the highway and repair to work now underway, it is recommended for only necessary travel."

US 285, Texas 349 and Farm 2400 are now open to normal travel in the same area.

Newspaper Meet Near

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—A joint convention of the Texas Press Association and the National Editorial Association, opening Wednesday in Dallas, promises to be one of the largest gatherings of newspaper people ever held in Texas, TPA President Aubrey McAlister said today.

Registration is expected to top 800 as members of the national association make their first trip to Texas in many years.

AMONG HEADLINERS

Among the headliners for the four-day program will be Ralph Callahan of Anniston, Ala., president of the Alabama Press Association, and astronaut Gene Cernan from Houston.

Callahan's talk Friday morning is expected to deal with Alabama newspaper handling of civil rights turmoil the last several months.

Cernan, a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy, is one of the third group of astronauts named in this country. He will speak Friday afternoon.

DALLAS EDITOR

Other speakers will include Felix McKnight, Dallas Times Herald, speaking Thursday afternoon on "Where Press and Bar Collide," and Tom Meredith, classified advertising manager, Waco News-Tribune, Friday at 2 p.m. on developing classified lineage.

Presentation of awards in the 1965 Texas newspaper contest is scheduled at a breakfast Friday.

NEA will close their convention at an awards dinner Saturday night.

Koreans Set Up Political Party

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — President Chung Hee Park's political opponents formed a new party today called the Minjung (Masses) party and vowed to fight Park's plan to normalize diplomatic relations with Japan soon.

The inaugural convention merging the two main opposition groups was attended by 970 delegates.

Car Bomb Blast Kills Horsewoman

CHICAGO (AP) — Cherie Rude, 22, a professional horsewoman, was killed Monday when a bomb exploded in a car she was attempting to start at a riding stable in suburban Palatine.

Miss Rude had been asked by George Jayne, 42, the owner of the stables, to drive his 1965 car from a parking lot to the stable office. The bomb exploded when she touched the starter.

The blast demolished the front of the car and blew the hood 50 feet away. Several windows of a building which houses Jayne's apartment, an indoor arena and stables were shattered. Two parked cars were damaged.

Police said the explosive charge probably was three sticks of dynamite wired to the steering column under the hood of the car.

Miss Rude's mother, Martha, 57, said Jayne had called her and said, "Why did it have to happen to her. It was meant for me." Jayne said Miss Rude had been a professional rider for his stables about three years.

Nixon Speaks Before Group

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon described the effects that mental strain had had on political and diplomatic leaders. He spoke to a luncheon of the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry Monday.

Nixon recalled moments in the careers of Abraham Lincoln and Sir Winston Churchill that placed them under severe mental strain.

"Of course," he said, "we can't all be Winston Churchills. We all can't be president. I found that out."

Boost In Crude Purchases Due

AUSTIN (AP)—Oil companies plan to buy 2,477,644 barrels of Texas crude daily in July, the Railroad Commission said today.

This is an increase of 7,263 from June.

The Bureau of Mines forecast of demand for Texas crude oil in July is 2,685,000 barrels a day, an increase of 50,000 over June.

Both figures are used in determining the July oil production allowable Thursday.

Eyeing U.S. Aid, Schools Integrate

By PEGGY SIMPSON

AUSTIN (AP)—Potential loss of federal aid has proved a very persuasive factor in bringing integration to Texas public schools.

The Texas Education Agency reported Monday that nearly all school districts have filed either a plan for desegregation or a statement pledging compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

FEDERAL AID

The alternative: Doing without federal money come September, when massive federal aid to education begins.

Texas' share in the new program is $80 million.

School districts in "impacted areas," near military bases, would be ineligible to be compensated by the U.S. government for educating military dependents if they refused to comply with the civil rights law.

There has been little outward protest against the sweep toward integration. Announcements of across-the-board integration in medium and smaller cities rate only perfunctory newspaper space. It seems to be an accepted fact that schools will comply.

APPROVES PLAN

The government isn't requiring total integration until September of 1967 as a basis for getting federal money. But the U.S. Office of Education must approve a district's desegregation plan or its statement of compliance before September.

Leon Graham of the Texas Education Agency noted that only 600 of the 1,150 school districts filing assurances of compliance with the civil rights act have received federal approval.

Most districts not hearing from the federal office operate dual systems for Negroes and whites. Graham said the confusion existed because the districts thought a mere statement of their intentions would suffice.

After some nervous weeks, 350 of the districts sent in specific plans for desegregation, often allowing Negroes and whites free choice of schools to attend.

Graham said 25 of the 125 districts filing desegregation plans in March have been notified of approval. An additional 13 districts won okays on the basis of integration regulated by court order.

Graham expects other districts to file definite plans by July 1.

Trees Planted In Cemetery

The first tree-planting project as part of the City Cemetery improvement has been completed and grass has been seeded over a portion of the cemetery, Parks Superintendent Johnny Johansen reported.

"We've put out about 40 trees along the new entrance drive," Johansen said. Mulberry trees were in the first planting. Plans for the landscaping include oak, mimosa and honey locust trees in other sections of the cemetery.

The trees first planted are about eight feet high and about 1¾ inch in diameter.

The new main entrance has been placed between the IOOF and Masonic Lodge sections, with the drive westward into the new area of the cemetery. The trees have been planted along the drive.

Work on the installation of water lines was temporarily halted, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said, due to needs for city crews on other projects. About one-half of the water system has now been installed, with work remaining on 2-inch and 1½-inch plastic water lines. Some 6, 4 and 3-inch lines, in addition to the smaller types, have been installed.

"We are planting grass in the areas where we can take care of it," Johansen said. He said the sprinkler areas already installed are being used to water the grass now seeded.

Resident's Kin Dies Today

Funeral will be held Tuesday in Porum, Okla., for Mrs. Della Shell, 82, who died at 1:13 a.m. Tuesday in a Muskogee, Okla., hospital. The Mallory Funeral Home, Stigler, Okla., is handling arrangements. Interment will be in the Coleman Cemetery at Porum.

Local survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Irene Kincaid; a grandchild, Mrs. Jack Hopper; and a great-grandchild, Denny Hopper. There are five other children and nine other grandchildren.

Enrollment Up

Enrollment for the first six weeks of the summer session at Howard County Junior College is slightly ahead of the same period a year ago. Final figures, according to Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, show 228 registered, up six from the first period of last summer.

Largest Transport Plane Unveiled By Soviet Union

PARIS (AP) — The Soviet Union unveiled today a mammoth transport plane which it said could carry 720 passengers or a payload of 80 tons.

The huge plane, more than five stories tall, landed at Le Bourget Airport for the International Air Show after a nonstop five-hour flight from Moscow.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the plane had a maximum speed of 465 miles an hour and could fly 6,600 miles nonstop with a load of 45 tons.

Tass said it had been named the Antaeus, after a giant in Greek mythology.

The Antaeus is powered by four 15,000-horsepower double-propeller turboprop engines mounted on a wing welded into the top of the craft's cabin.

Although the Antaeus is, according to aircraft manufacturing representatives at the air show, the largest plane now in the air, the U.S. Air Force is planning a jet transport which may be even larger.

Douglas, Lockheed and Boeing Aircraft corporations are competing for the contract to build a triple-deck jet transport for the Air Force to be flown for the first time in 1968. Preliminary plans call for a seating capacity of 500-700.

Drouth Hits In Northeast

By The Associated Press

A severe drouth is plaguing most of the northeast United States, causing water shortages and threatening crops, an Associated Press survey shows.

"If we don't have about three weeks of rain, we'll have the worst drouth in 70 years," says Herbert W. Peabody, of the eastern division of the Federal Extension Service in Newport, R.I.

One Rhode Island city, East Providence, has taken steps to curtail the use of water for watering lawns.

New York is one of the hardest-hit states. Crops are affected. Experts predict a situation similar to last year when 35 of 62 counties were declared drouth-disaster areas.

In Onondaga County in central New York, the situation is the worst since 1907. Reservoir supplies are down 37 inches from last year.

Syracuse is building a 30-mile, $45-million pipeline to tap Lake Ontario.

Albany, the New York capital, must cut consumption by five million gallons a day — to about 20 million.

Throughout upstate New York, local governments have banned lawn-watering and car-washing among other water conservation measures.

In New York City all ornamental fountains have been ordered shut off. Restaurants are not permitted to serve patrons a glass of water unless specifically asked.

The U.S. Geological Survey district engineer says Maine has a "serious but not yet critical" drouth condition. The engineer says that if the June rainfall is much below normal, some curtailment of the public water supply must be expected.

In Vermont, the outlook is bad for the hay crop, which would cause higher hay prices for dairy farmers, according to Agriculture Commissioner Raymond G. Rowley. Lake Champlain is near an all-time low level.

Recent rains have helped alleviate a drouth situation in Connecticut, but rain generally is still about 5½ inches below normal since Jan. 1. Some water restrictions are in effect.

A Devotional For The Day

Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed. (II Timothy 2:15)

PRAYER: We thank Thee, Lord, that a life dedicated to Thy service will receive Thy blessing. Grant that whatever work we do for the Master may stand the test of time. In His name we pray. Amen.

Long, Hot Summer

The long, hot summer may make itself felt in a connotation somewhat different than attached to it in the early spring when racial demonstrations were popping out. To be sure, there may be no great moratorium on this front, but there are other fronts which seem more perplexing at the moment.

These happen to be on the foreign front where progress is slow, if at all. While the Santo Domingo crisis has been eased, it seems only to be smouldering and still far from settlement. It is, however, in good shape in comparison with the Viet Nam situation.

Undoubtedly our air blows are producing some damage, but if intelligence is ample on this score, it is not getting through to the American public. Similarly, if Viet Nam drives against the Cong are bearing fruit, the word seems to be well kept. On the other hand, the news brings frequent accounts of frustrations, fiascos and sometimes disasters.

Carpings are increasing at home. Barry Goldwater, unsuccessful presidential candidate, needled the President by saying that the chief executive should let the generals run the war. Of course, as commander in chief, the President cannot abdicate his responsibility. This does, however, point up the fact that the Johnson whirlwind faces to an inexorable fact of life — that they cannot sustain the same tempo or force. Cross currents are beginning to eddy into the picture, and they will become stronger and stronger, certainly if the trend continues. A sharp shift in fortunes could change that, but for the moment it looks like a long hot summer.

Good Job

A pat on the back is in order for those responsible for making the Howard County Courthouse lawn so attractive.

Certainly one point of beginning is the Commissioners Court, which sees to it that adequate provision is made for this work each year. The general landscaping is in good taste, and over the years, remarkable growth has been effected by the trees.

The lawn is exceptionally well kept. This, like the beds, the shrubs and the trees, reflects that those who take care of them and those who advise on the upkeep of the grounds are putting a lot more than mere work in on it. Clearly, this is a labor of love and pride — and it's something that affords all of us pride, too.

Remember The Alamo

A few miles north of Brackettville is the site where John Wayne made his motion picture spectacle based on the seige of the Alamo.

WAYNE, A stanuch advocate of realism, was not content to put up false fronts to depict the battered old mission which served as fort for the handfull of embattled "Texians" trapped in it by Santa Anna. A full scale model of the mission and its grounds was built.

Adobe brick, made by laborers imported from Mexico, added realism to the scene. The records were searched, and old drawings and sketches of the Alamo as it was in 1836 were used to deisgn the set.

HALF A MILE away the village which was the predecessor San Antonio today, was also built — again following sketches and written descriptions.

When Wayne had his mission the way it looked as the seige opened he set about, in the course of filming the attack, to destroy it just as the Mexican bombardment did in 1836. Again old sketches were used and the ruins, if that is the word, when the picture was finished were much as the original building appeared when Santa Anna's troops had ended their efforts.

EXPERTS WERE brought in to make the structure look as though it had stood for a hundred years. The wood seems ancient, and the erosion and worn holes seem to have been there for decades. The walls look as old as time, and it is difficult to believe that, less than seven years ago, the entire edifice was built and destroyed in the span of a few months.

The place is called Alamo Village and its owner charges a fee to visit it. On the afternoon I was there a few days ago, a dozen or more tourists were wandering about the battered "old" fort.

DOWN AT THE village probably three other spectators were on hand. Some sort of hourly enactment of scenes supposed to recall the old days was under way.

I found the Alamo ruin most interesting. I was puzzled at how the set decorators had managed to make the effect of age so convincing.

However, there were two teenage boys strolling near by who were not as impressed as I was.

THEY STOOD IN front of the cannon scarred mission. They saw nothing exciting in the realistic breaks in the adobe walls where Santa Anna's troops had broken through.

As they walked past me on their way to the gate one turned to the other.

"Why waste our time here?" he asked. "Let's go over to San Antonio and see the real McCoy."

Policy Of Resistance To Reds

WASHINGTON — In the frantic hours after President Johnson ordered the Marines into the Dominican Republic the search was not only for a solution to the chaos in that tortured island but for a legal and a moral justification for this radical step.

The decision was taken late in the afternoon of April 28. On the following Sunday, May 2, with criticism both at home and abroad rising to a crescendo, the President decided on a televised address. The aim was to show that the Dominican action was not new and in no way initiated a "Johnson doctrine."

HIS HARD-WORKING staff began an intensive review of the files for documentation and inevitably they combed the recorded words of John F. Kennedy. One staff member produced in a hurriedly drafted memorandum a quotation the President did not use but one which would have served his purposes. Addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors shortly after the ill-starred Bay of Pigs adventure in 1961 Kennedy said it had been made repeatedly clear that American armed forces would not intervene since "unilateral American intervention, in the absence of an external attack upon ourselves or an ally, would have been contrary to our traditions and to our international obligations." Then he added:

"BUT LET the record show that our restraint is not inexhaustible. Should it ever appear that the inter-American doctrine of non-interference merely conceals or excuses a policy of nonaction — if the nations of this hemisphere should fail to meet their commitments against outside Communist penetration — then I want it clearly understood that this government will not hesitate in meeting its primary obligations which are to the security of our nation."

This, as Johnson's closest advisers see it, is the circumstance with which he was confronted. He was faced, as Kennedy had not been, with the imminent peril of a Communist take-over and he acted.

THE DISPUTE will go on for a long time over whether the facts justified action before a serious attempt had been made to get the approval of the Organization of American States. The question essentially is whether the Dominican intervention and now the rapid escalation of the American role in Viet Nam differ in kind or merely in degree from similar steps taken in the past 20 years.

It is a question deserving thorough exploration, since it goes to the heart of American foreign policy. That policy, in the view of an increasing number of critics, is stuck on a formula so rigid — the containment of communism everywhere — that it precludes new initiatives or any bold and imaginative approach to the perilous puzzle of a divided world.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is following the same course as Presidents Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy. He is resisting Communist intervention in "wars of national liberation" as defined by Nikita Khrushchev in his famous speech of January, 1961, as a "sacred" duty. This is the official view reflected by the President and everyone in his administration.

While the Khrushchev speech gave the policy a new ideological justification it does not differ from American resistance to Communist threats in Iran, Greece and Korea. Secretary of State Dean Rusk sees all these efforts as part of a single pattern and he lists the casualties in Korea and now in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic — a total over 160,000 — as part of the cost of this policy.

THE AMERICAN nations cannot, must not and will not permit the establishment of another Communist government in the Western Hemisphere, the President declared in his May 2 speech. But circumstances will determine the form the resistance will take.

GOP Splits Cemented, But Cracks Showing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans still don't sound unanimous or even happy although, split wide open in the 1964 presidential race, they suffered one of their worst defeats in history.

Since then they have been backing President Johnson's foreign policy, much to his satisfaction, while remaining rather peaceful themselves and among themselves.

It was never a peace that could last long, in a party divided into as many sharp factions as the Republicans, but even the peace such as it was is beginning to show cracks.

FOUR PARAGRAPHS from four different stories in the news Monday, tell the story:

1. Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, one of the top Republicans in the House, warned Johnson "we may be dangerously close to ending any Republican support of our present Viet Nam policy."

Laird is chairman of the GOP Conference Committee.

2. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said his group will continue to "uphold the hands of the President" in Viet Nam, adding: "What else could you do in a situation of this kind?"

3. Former Sen. Barry Goldwater, whom Johnson defeated in the presidential race, in a radio-television interview said he feels Johnson should stop trying to be a general and let the military run the show in Viet Nam.

4. Republican organization leaders took a dim view of the projected formation of a new conservative organization to be headed by Goldwater as honorary chairman.

While Johnson has been heckled for his foreign policy, particularly in the academic and artistic world, he has been able to operate with reasonable confidence because of the backing he got in Congress.

True, he has had some individual critics there, but on the whole Republicans lined up with the bulk of Democrats in supporting him.

BUT IF Johnson and his policies begin to come under attack by just House Republicans, for whom Laird seemed to be speaking, his road will take a sour turn, reminiscent of what happened to President Harry S. Truman in the Korean war.

Doing Something About Weather

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Weather is one of the most important words in war.

Every American over here talks about the weather — usually in uncomplimentary terms — but Capt. Norman F. Jacobs is one of the few who does anything about it.

He forecasts it.

He also can explain the vagaries of the two monsoon seasons over here, which have most people baffled.

AS COMMANDER of Detachment 9 of the 30th Weather Squadron, Jacobs has a vital role.

In war, both ground and air operations are to a great degree dependent on the weather, and it is his onerous task to predict it accurately as far in advance as possible.

In the operations office of the big Da Nang air base, the captain, 32, who comes from Los Angeles, directs 22 American and Vietnamese Air Force helpers. He also works closely with 20 employes of the nearby Vietnamese civilian weather station.

Every morning and evening at 8 o'clock they send up a large transmitter-carrying balloon which rises to a height of 80,000 feet as it sends down data on wind and temperature.

"At those same hours other balloons are sent up at hundreds of weather stations around the globe," said Jacobs.

"THUS WE get an instantaneous picture of the atmosphere throughout the world.

"The balloons stay aloft 1½ to 2 hours, then expand and burst. Sometimes one of them will fall into our ammunition area — and then there's a little excitement."

About 150 feet off the runway Jacobs has an air-conditioned, glass-walled observation shack which he describes as one of the most modern installations in Southeast Asia.

"It operates as the weather does — 24 hours a day," he said. "We send out hourly reports regularly, but sometimes as often as every 10 minutes.

"We even have a snow gauge. So far as I know it has never snowed here — but if it does, we'll be able to measure it."

Now, about those mysterious monsoons.

MOST PEOPLE think South Viet Nam has two seasons: The dry season, when the country is like an arid desert, and the monsoon season when the skies open and flood down rain in torrents for six months.

The Viet Cong are supposed to welcome the monsoon season, because the bad weahter keeps our fighter planes down and they can attack us with less risk of punishing air strikes.

Well, it isn't quite that simple.

"In a tropical climate such as this we can expect an afternoon rain in any part of the country at any time of the year, including the so-called dry season," explained the meteorologist.

How A Governor Can Help Industry

ANDERSON, Calif. — Clothes make the man. The robes of office have transformed California Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown in a few years from a flabby figure of political fun into a shrewd public administrator. His appearance in this north of San Francisco cow-and-timber town went a long way toward showing how and why.

THE OCCASION was not one that would ordinarily attract the presence and nearly all-day attention of a governor whose state is first in national population, first in defense-oriented industries, first in agriculture and soon to be first in personal income. The Kimberly - Clark Corporation, which operates in 15 other states, was opening a paper mill with 300 new jobs. It is not an impressive figure when set beside the employment of the huge aerospace complexes of the Golden State. But these defense and space projects come and go. They are subject to sudden cancellation and phase-out. The Navajo program in 1955 and the Skybolt program in 1962 dumped many highly-skilled workers into the unemployment pool. Shortly after the Skybolt incident, Brown turned his attention to down-to-earth industries which have both staying power and growing power.

THE GOVERNOR'S speech and press conference here told us that this plant opening was a bigger thing for California and the nation than it seemed. It represented innovation — a new process for chipping up the waste wood of lumbering activities and turning what used to be refuse into the raw material of high-grade paper for the printing of books, magazines and catalogues. The process developed by Kimberly-Clark increases the use of the ordinary log by 60 per cent. It also accommodates the explosion in publishing, which is part of the galloping increase in national programs of education, research and development.

GOV. BROWN, trailed by an entourage of reporters, walked through the new paper mill, which gave him a chance to sound off on other aspects of non-defense industrial growth. The company has sunk seven deep wells that run 11 million gallons of water through the plant and return it to the Sacramento River. All over the country there is the hue cry against private, profit-seeking industry, which is charged with polluting the streams. But here in the California uplands, where salmon fishing is virtually a seasonal rite, the water has been successfully purified before its return to the river. Early tests show that the salmon went about their spawning as if nothing had happened.

WITH MORE than a third of California's manufacturing industry concentrated in federal-derived contracts for ordnance, aircraft and electronic devices, with his state holding 50 per cent of all the space-trained scientists and engineers, Brown could have taken what looked to be a free ride.

BUT HE PUT Space Age talent to work on crucial non-defense matters, such as: Surface transportation, pollution of air and water, collection of information about the future needs of the state and the control of crime. He has had committees and specialists from the aerospace industries working with him, and has managed to create a climate which enterprises far removed from the artificial stimulation of federal investment have found congenial.

A recent survey by Business Week magazine showed that California was the leader in a poll when 812 company executives named their first hoice as a state into which they wished to expand their firms.

Billy Graham

I feel that I have come to the end. Life has lost its zest, and I have nothing to live for. The things I used to enjoy have all gone sour on me. What happens to a man who dies before they bury him? W.H.

It could well be that you have not come to the end of life — but to the beginning. No doubt your previous way of living was built upon the wrong foundation. You have built on the sand, and the sand is slipping out from under you. This happens to many people, particulary to men in their middle fifties. They live dangerously for a few years, and spend their natural powers foolishly. Then, suddenly, like the prodigal son, they come to themselves. He looked into the faces of the hogs he was feeding, and saw himself; with all his greed, low passion and selfishness. It was then that he experienced an awakening and said: "I will arise and go to my father."

What's happened to you? You have caught a glimpse of yourself as you really are, and you are disgusted with with you see. This is not bad — but good. What you need is to yield to Jesus Christ. Life always breaks down without God, with or without money, with or without success. Now you can build on a sure foundation, upon faith in God, and you will find that purpose for living has just begun.

Mineral Oil Can Absorb Vitamin A

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does taking mineral oil destroy Vitamin A?

If so, could you recommend some other oil which might not have that result? Or something else that is not habit-forming? I am 50 and have a duodenal ulcer that is under control most of the time. But I miss the roughage and raw vegetables that I used to eat and this leaves me with a problem of bowel irregularity or constipation at times, especially on long auto trips.—E. B.

I wouldn't say that mineral oil destroys Vitamin A. Rather, it absorbs it, Vitamin A being one of the oil-soluble vitamins. Since mineral oil is not absorbed by the body, it thus carries away some of the Vitamin A which otherwise you would be getting.

However you (and people with a problem like yours) have quite a variety of other methods which give good results, will not irritate your ulcer or any other part of your digestive tract, and are not habit-forming.

Various bulk-producing and moistening agents (medications containing dioctyl sodium sulfosuccinate, or such things as psyllium seed preparations or agar) are excellent and safe.

Milk of magnesia, with its mild laxative effect, is preferred by some people. Prune juice is another useful one: It is well tolerated by ulcers and is a good laxative.

Finally, the use of glycerin suppositories (perhaps in addition to one of the above) may prove helpful on such trips when you don't get your accustomed amount of exercise and to aid elimination.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: What is an angiogram? Just what is done and how does it differ from an ordinary X-ray? MRS. E. G.

Ordinary X-rays will show bones and cavities in the body very clearly, such as in chest X-rays, for example. However X-rays do not show blood vessels very well, unless these are hard and contain calcium in the walls. Hence the blood vessels appear to the X-rays to have approximately the same density as surrounding tissues. In other words, they don't show up very well.

However a small amount of a special dye can be injected into the bloodstream and this casts a heavy shadow in the X-ray pictures.

Then a series of X-ray plates are taken rapidly as the dye flows along, and you get a very useful picture of the blood vessels—any narrowed places, etc. These are angiograms.

Angiograms are quite widely used in examining arteries of the neck and brain, as well as in the kidneys, or in the lower extremities.

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Molner's helpful booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Department Of Denials

WASHINGTON—One of the most important jobs in the government today is to deny a story that has been printed in the press or announced on the radio.

The Special Assistant for Denials in the Johnson administration is a wispy little man named John J. Categorically, who has an office deep in the bowels of the White House, where he may put out as many as 20 denials in one day.

WHEN I FOUND Mr. Categorically he was just finishing up a denial on a new American military policy. Dictating into a machine, he said, "The United States denies that there has been any shift in its policy on the use of American troops in South Viet Nam. American commanders have always had the right to use American troops in combat providing the South Vietnamese forces request them. This is a recorded announcement."

He put down the microphone and said to me, "What can I do for you?"

"Sir, the American people are used to every sort of a denial under the Johnson administration, but nobody knows how your department works. Could you explain it?"

"WELL, every morning all the staff members have a meeting and we decided what we're going to announce that day. Then while somebody is working on the announcement I am working on the denial."

"Simultaneously?" I asked.

"Of course. It would be a very dangerous to issue a statement without a denial backing it up. The press would never believe us. Let me give you an example.

"LAST WEEK Gen. Maxwell Taylor, our Ambassador to South Viet Nam, came back to the United States for a meeting with the President. The White House made the announcement, and then I drafted a denial that he had returned for any special reason. As soon as the denial was put out, the newspapers realized something important was up, and the story got a much better play."

"The denial was the key," I said in amazement.

"Exactly."

"Do you always wait for an announcement before you deny something?"

"Not necessarily. Sometimes we feel it's better to deny an action just before we do it, more or less to prepare the people for it. For example, if we're going to send a division of Marines into Viet Nam, I will first prepare a denial that such plans are in the works."

"BUT WHAT happens when you do send in a Marine division?"

"Then we deny that we ever denied we said we weren't going to send them. Sometimes the Pentagon will deny a White House story and sometimes the State Department will deny a Pentagon story. In this way we're always covered."

"It sounds like a tough business," I said.

"I don't mind it," he said.

Just then a red phone rang and Categorically picked it up.

HE TOOK a pencil and started writing. "Yes, sir, you want to issue a denial that you're annoyed with critics of your foreign policy. I got it. You welcome differences of opinion. Even from college professors. No, sir, it's no problem. I'll have it ready for you in a half hour."

Has Birthday

PRINCETON, N. J. —The McCarter Theater is celebrating its 35th anniversary with record attendance.

Altogether, 150,000 spectators attended 260 performances which included plays, dance, opera, film and folk-song entertainment.

The theater is owned by Princeton University, which advances funds each season for the resident drama company, and is reimbursed from box office receipts.

Prefer Latin

BRUFU, Italy — Roman Catholic parishioners in this tiny village in the Perugra Province of Italy have gone "on strike" against use of the vernacular (Italian) in the Mass. The congregation told its parish priest that members preferred the traditional Latin mass.

Big Start

NEW YORK —The State Theater at Lincoln Center registered 882,000 total attendance during its first year of operation.

The $20 million, 2,729-seat house played 390 performances of dance companies and revivals of Broadway hit musicals.

MR. AND MRS. CARLTON J. CHAPMAN

Slate Installed By OES Unit

The Masonic Temple was the scene Friday evening for the installation of officers for the Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Carlton J. Chapman was installed as worthy matron, and Carlton J. Chapman is the new worthy patron.

Mrs. Chapman's theme for the year will be "Life's Journey," and her emblems are the Lighted Pathway, the Golden Windows and Lamb's Book of Life. Her scripture is Proverbs 3:5-6 and the watch words are courage, faith and hope. Mrs. Chapman chose the colors of peacock blue, gold and silver, and her flowers are chrysanthemums and carnations.

CEREMONY

The installation was conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Pettit of Crane, deputy grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of Eastern Star. Others participating in the ceremony were Mrs. W. D. Peters, marshal; Mrs. Pyrie Bradshaw, chaplain; Mrs. Porter Hanks, organist; and Mrs. Dalton Mitchell, secretary protem. The presiding officers were Miss Dorothy Driver, serving for Mrs. C. O. Graham, and Steve Baker. Mrs. J. C. Pickle was mistress of ceremonies, and candle lighters were the Chapmans' children, Carla, Steve and Myrna.

Others taking part were mothers of the couple, Mrs. Ruby Pettit Gilbert and Mrs. Nell Chapman Hoover, and Mrs. Ina Richardson of Andrews and Mrs. J. T. Allen. The prayer of dedication and benediction was offered by the Rev. James A. Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple.

Installed with the Chapmans were Mrs. Steve Baker, associate matron; C. R. McClenny, associate patron; Mrs. W. U. O'Neal, secretary; Mrs. R. E. Dobbins, treasurer; Mrs. Carl McGlothlin, conductress; Mrs. Charles McCarley, associate conductress; Mrs. Drew Dyer, chaplain; Mrs. Obin Daily, marshal; Mrs. Forrest Gambill, organist; Mrs. L. D. Keith, Adah; Mrs. C. C. Lawrence, Ruth; Mrs. Richard Shaughnessy, Esther; Mrs. H. D. Stewart, Martha; Mrs. Leon Kinney, Electa; Mrs. C. I. Wright, warder; and Richard Shaughnessy, sentinel.

Mrs. Chapman's matrons were Mrs. George Bair and Mrs. Graham, and the registrars were Mrs. Harry Lees, Mrs. Nannie Garrett and Mrs. C. A. Murdock. On the refreshment committee were Mrs. J. A. Magee, Mrs. Isla Davis, Mrs. A. A. McKinney, Mrs. D. C. Pyle, Mrs. Elva Biffar, Mrs. Eugene Gross, Mrs. R. D. Ulrey and Miss Katherine Homan. In charge of lights and ushering were A. A. McKinney, Drew D. Dyer, J. C. Pickle and C. O. Graham, and decorations were by Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Jim Layman and Mrs. Dyer. Photographers were Mrs. Bradshaw and Mrs. Willard Sullivan.

A musical prelude was presented by Mrs. Hanks with vocal selections by Sheryl and Clinton Gambill. The welcome was extended by Mrs. Richardson.

CANDLELIGHT

For the candlelight ceremony, a backdrop of golden windows was in the east. Also, in the east was a glittered star, in the west a sun, and in the north and south, a crescent moon. On the secretary's desk was the Book of Life and an arrangement of chrysanthemums and carnations.

During the social hour, following the installation, refreshments were served from a table covered with a gold floor-length cloth, and centered with a silver candelabrum holding peacock blue tapers and tied with net bows. The register table was covered with ecru lace over gold and featured two candlesticks with blue tapers.

This was the 78th installation of officers for the chapter which was organized Feb. 8, 1888.

Different Way For Potatoes

This way to combining rutabaga and potato is one your family may enjoy!

RUTABAGA POTATOES

- 1½ cups each diced pared rutabaga and potatoes (1-inch cubes)
- Boiling water
- Salt
- 2 to 3 tbsps. butter or margarine
- Pepper and nutmeg

Cook the rutabaga and potatoes in a medium saucepan, covered, with boiling water almost to cover and ½ teaspoon salt until tender — 20 minutes or longer.

Drain, return to saucepan to dry over low heat, and mash; to make extremely smooth and blended put through a food mill or strainer.

Add butter, salt and pepper to taste, plus a pinch of nutmeg; reheat. Makes 4 servings.

Beets Add Color To Festivities

Set a festive table and add this colorful and delicious meat accompaniment.

BEET RELISH FRANCES

- 1 can (1 lb.) shoestring beets
- 1 container (8 ounces) cultured sour cream
- 1 tbsp. bottled horseradish
- ¼ tsp. salt
- Minced fresh dill

Drain beets thoroughly. Mix together the sour cream, horseradish and salt; fold in drained beets; cover and chill. Just before serving sprinkle with dill. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Quick Cake Icing

Easy way to top a cake-mix cake, is to allow the cake to bake about 15 minutes and then sprinkle the top with a combination of cinnamon and sugar plus finely chopped walnuts or pecans. Keep the cinnamon-sugar mixture on hand for such cake use, for topping French toast and for making cinnamon toast.

Bride-Elect Honored With Lamesa Coffee

The Lamesa home of Mrs. Ed Tinsley was the setting Friday morning for a prenuptial coffee honoring Miss Alice Long of Big Spring, bride - elect of Charles Allen. Cohostesses were Mrs. Suttles Purcell and Mrs. G. T. Webb, and calling hours were from 9:30 until 11 o'clock.

Miss Long was attired in a yellow embroidered cotton A-line sheath with which she wore a corsage of yellow daisies. White daisy corsages were presented to her mother, Mrs. M. A. Long, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. Bowers Purcell.

Yellow daisies, in an antique brass pedestal bowl, graced the refreshment table where the cloth was of ecru linen. A silver coffee and tea service were used with crystal appointments.

Approximately 40 guests were registered by the bride-elect's sister, Miss Fran Long, and Mrs. Jerry Gilmore attended from Lubbock. The hostess' gift to Miss Long was an ornamental brass pitcher.

The couple plans to be married July 23 in the Eleventh Place and Birdwell Lane Church of Christ.

Mrs. Billy Ellison Honored At Party

Mrs. Billy Ellison was honored with a Saturday morning kitchen gadget shower in the home of Mrs. N. R. Holcombe, 1708 Purdue. Cohostesses were Mrs. Jarrell Jones, Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. J. W. Parmley and Mrs. Mary Kay Glenn.

Mrs. Ellison is the former Irene Butrimaitis. Other honored guests were her mother, Mrs. Hedwig Butrimaitis of Philadelphia, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. H. M. Ellison.

The room decorations featured a refreshment table covered with white lace and silver appointments. The centerpiece was made from an arrangement of kitchen gadgets. Debbie Ellison, sister-in-law of the honoree, was in charge of the register.

Gay Hill 4-H Sees Demonstrations

Demonstrations and talks on wild life were the program topics of the Gay Hill 4-H Club Monday evening meeting. The group met at the annex of the Bethel Baptist Church.

Royis Tucker, state game warden, led the program with a discussion on wild life. Linda Crawford gave a demonstration of proper nutrition, and Martha Couch presented a talk on good money management.

For the recreation session, Annette Couch, Darla Buchanan, Debra Buchanan, and Grenda Jackson presented a skit.

Guests were Mrs. Delaine Crawford, home demonstration agent, and Herb Helbig, county agent.

Refreshments were served to the 24 members and guest. It was announced that all summer meetings will be held at the church annex. The next scheduled meeting will be July 12.

J. M. Morgan Tells Birthday

Mr. J. W. Morgan, long time local resident, celebrated his 93rd birthday Tuesday afternoon. Morgan came to Howard County in 1917 and farmed on land located six and a half miles out on the Lamesa highway. In 1943 he moved to his present address of 1209 Sycamore.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

The HAROLD LYTLES are not likely to forget this past visit to New Mexico and Texas . . . especially when folk start to tell tales about rain. The San Bernardino, Calif., couple who were en route to Texas to visit relatives stopped at the Arch, N. M., farm home of Mr. Lytle's sister. It was only a mile off the pavement and though there was water everywhere when they started to leave, the brother-in-law came with a tractor to guide them across the newly formed lake. They thought their troubles were over until they got in the middle. The water came through their car like it was mesh. They finally made it to the highway and after driving a few miles saw some cars with Texas licenses, one of which stopped. They asked how the weather was on down the road and were told it was wet but passable .. .The fellow was somewhat interested in them as he asked, "Where have you been to get that driftwood on top of your car?"

The Lytles are former residents of Big Spring and visited the ULNER POWELL family here.

MR. and MRS. ERVIN DANIELS and Judy returned here late Saturday from a vacation trip that took them to Washington, D. C., and Springfield, Mo., where they visited relatives and saw the sights. The three drove to Lubbock where they joined his brother-in-law and sister, MR. and MRS. MATT THOMAS for the trip.

In Washington they were the guests of the CALVIN THOMASES. They toured all the points of interest including the capitol and Congressman George Mahon's office and were escorted on a tour of the congressmar's office by KAY LOVELAND, daughter of the ROY ROSENES who live here. In Springfield, Mo., they visited the JIMMY THOMASES and were delighted with a visit to Shepherd of the Hills which is a very prominent tourist attraction.

MRS. H. J. JOHNSON and Valerie of Shreveport, La., accompanied her mother, Mrs. Ross Boykin, home when she returned from Dallas Saturday.

FORREST GAMBILL'S mother, MRS. F. C. GAMBILL of Stamford is here to be with him while Mrs. Gambill and Sheryl visit her parents, the P. D. O'Briens, in Houston. CLINTON GAMBILL left Monday morning for a vacation trip to Los Angeles, Calif.

Guests in the home of MR. and MRS. LARSON LLOYD include her father, C. R. McADAMS of Dallas who arrived Sunday, and Mr. Lloyd's sister and her husband, MRS. REX WYLIE and MR. WYLIE of Phoenix, Ariz. Their daughter, Linda, will fly in from Phoenix on Wednesday. The Wylies will spend much of their time here with her mother, MRS. DAISY LLOYD, who is a patient at Bennett House.

The CHARLES SWEENEY family is back from a two week vacation trip to Florida where they were guests of her brother, MAJ. PERRY PEARCE, and his family at Patrick AFB. They were present for the Gemini shot, though only Mr. Sweeney got a front row seat. The others could see it, though, and were excited to be among the many who viewed the historic event. Maj. Pearce and Col. John Beck worked on the Gemini project together.

Golf buff Sweeney joined Col. Beck for a game and they chatted about Big Spring (the colonel was stationed at Webb from '51 through '54). He asked about various people he remembered here.

Coming home the family toured the Bellangrath Gardens near Mobile, Ala. The season for hydrangeas and cape jasmine had arrived and the plants were gorgeous according to Mrs. Sweeney. The gardens are planted for year 'round blooming and are visited by scores of tourists each year.

Why Am I Always Tired?

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

You're as peppy as your nerves will permit! if you are slowing up, you'll find that your life energy transmission lines are faulty. Instead of investigating, we generally blame constant fatigue on the weather, overwork, too many social and civic obligations, etc. Result—we often put off a physical checkup until we hear of a friend, perhaps in his prime, dropping dead of a heart attack, or some other physical impairment that moves us to "wonder."

The human body has the ability to compensate for its own loss or injury—and it has its own warning signals such as headaches, fevers, skin erruptions, dizziness, changes of weight, indigestion, nausea, difficult breathing, etc. Fatigue is one of the most common symptoms of physical impairment. When the body loses its ability to adapt, alter or compensate for itself, it is sick! We find ill health is usually the result of faulty body mechanics resulting from defective nerves— and usually the sick patient can't sleep because their nerve system is too heavily taxed — too burdened with spinal pressures and other interferences.

When there is an interference in this spinal nerve section of your central nervous system, almost any organ or gland will become weakened or irritated.

Sickness and health come from inside your body. Health is the outward expression of normal function of your organs, glands and muscles located inside.

If you are sure your transmission lines are clear, you can be sure your health will be normal.

To be sure, you might do as this case taken from our clinic files:

Several years ago an insurance executive brought his sick thirty-five year old wife to the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic after all other methods had failed. Suffering all the usual symptoms of physical exhaustion, she had been previously diagnosed as "Neuro-Asthenia" (lack of nerve energy). It all began with severe intermittent pains in her lower back and female trouble. In spite of her past treatment, she became progressively worse as symptoms of insomnia, extreme nervousness, irritalibity, despondency, overweight, emotional disturbances, chest pains, difficult breathing, etc, gradually developed.

Our spinal examination located several hot, defective nerve trunks. When X-rays disclosed the nature of these nerve disturbances, our corrective spinal adjustments replaced the offending vertebrae back where they belonged. Nature quickly righted all. Symptoms of illness were gone within three months. She comes in periodically for spinal check-ups. When last seen, she had not only regained her normal health, she had also regained her normal weight, losing some forty pounds and "never felt better." No. 497.

You are as healthy as your nervous system! If you can't rest properly — if you get up tired and exhausted in the mornings—if every little effort wears you out— investigate! What can you lose except your tired, weak feeling?

County Receives Permit For Radio

Howard County Sheriff's Office now has its own radio station call letters, along with permission to construct its transmitter system.

All that is needed is to find the money, make the contracts and start work.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that the Federal Communications Commission has approved the county's application for a radio station. The station has been assigned the call KFN 625 and granted permission to operate on 37.18 and 37.10 megacycles.

Standard said he would go before the Howard County Commissioners Court Thursday to report the new development.

Some months ago, Standard suggested to the court that the sheriff's department have its own radio transmitter.

The commissioners authorized Standard to make application for a license and construction permit.

The sheriff's office for the past 15 years has made use of the city police radio transmitter. The county pays the city $100 a month for the service.

Standard has suggested that the county can have its own transmitter and pay for it in a matter of a year or two years in the savings it will have in not having to pay the rental to the city.

The county has two routes open. It can go on its own and contract for a transmitter—footing the entire cost.

It can work with the Civil Defense, and by that course, the latter agency will pay half of the cost.

The transmitter would be located on the Howard County warehouse grounds on North San Antonio street. A line would run to the sheriff's office where console control would be used.

Standard said he would merely lay the facts before the commissioners and the board could decide which way it wants to go.

Mrs. Bennett Dies Monday

LAMESA (SC) — Mrs. Rebecca Bennett, 72, died Monday in the Medical Arts Hospital in Lamesa, after an illness of several months. Mrs. Bennett was born Dec. 24, 1892 in Brady, and moved with her parents to Borden County in 1893. They moved to Lamesa in 1906.

Her father, the late G. W. Simpson, assisted in organizing the First State Bank (now Lamesa National Bank), and her late husband, A. M. (Buck) Bennett, served as sheriff of Dawson County from 1939-1949.

Services were held at 10 a.m. today at the Branon - Philips Chapel. The Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in Lamesa Memorial Park.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Karl Cayton, Lamesa; four sisters, Mrs. Dixie Kilgore, Mrs. Walter Barfoot, Mrs. C. A. Hollingworth, all of Lamesa, and Mrs. O. L. Douglas, Midland; two brothers, R. P. (Babe) Simpson, Seagraves, Travis Simpson, Odessa; five grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Pallbearers were Ralph Kerley, Irvin Wright, E. O. Kutch, Morris Zimmerman, Richard Crawley, Weldon Lindsey.

Shots Fired, Car Escapes

A Big Spring police patrolman was fired upon by occupants of a car which he had found parked behind the Cactus Parts Company, 4300 US 80 west, during a high-speed chase west of Big Spring about 3 a.m. today.

Officer Bennie Lockhart pursued the car west on US 80 and then south of Cauble Road toward Elbow, reporting that several shots were fired at his car during the chase. Capt. A. L. Hiltbrunner sent several units into the area and roadblocks were set up, but the car was not located.

Patrolmen reported apparently no entry had been made to the building.

However, officers did locate a bear which had escaped a local pet store and was crossing the highway. The owner of the store was located and the bear returned to its cage.

Pleads Guilty To Check Count

Bobby Stewart, 19, wanted in at least six other places than Big Spring for writing worthless checks, was brought to Big Spring from Gail over the weekend. He pleaded guilty to a charge on file against him in Howard County Court and was fined $25, costs and sentenced to serve 20 days in the county jail.

E. C. Hartman, also charged with writing a worthless check, was returned to Big Spring from Midland where he had been arrested. He pleaded not guilty and posted $500 bond for the charge here and a bond in the same amount for a similar complaint pending against him in Dawson County.

Mrs. Powell's Funeral Set

LAMESA (SC) — Mrs. Jewell Dora Powell, 61, died Monday at the Baptist Geriatric Hospital in San Angelo after an illness of about three years. She was born Aug. 16, 1903, in McGregor. She lived in Lamesa 17 years.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the First Methodist Church with the pastor, the Rev. E. D. Landreth, officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. Taylor Henley of San Angelo, and the Rev. Howell Watkins, pastor of the North Ridge Methodist Church. Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of Branon-Phillips Funeral Home.

Survivors are the husband, Bert Powell, a son, Marion Powell, and a daughter, Mrs. Tommie B. Merrick, all of Lamesa; a sister, Mrs. Rex Stonestreet, Las Cruces, N. M.; a brother, Maynard Mann, Waco; and two grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Herb Nance, Doyle Shillingburg, J. D. Coff, Bill Hague, Bob Goolsby, Jess Merrick.

City Working To Clear Streets

City crews have not yet completed cleaning city streets following recent rains, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said today.

Crews have graded and "made passable" most northside streets which were hard-hit by the heavy rains, Lillard said.

During the past several weeks, since the first heavy rains, crews have removed 450 loads or about 3,600 cubic yards of dirt and debris from city streets.

Some debris and materials still remain on some streets, however.

Hams Plan To Write To FCC

Recommendations from local amateur radio operators concerning proposals from the Federal Communications Commission to charge licensing procedures will be sent to the FCC later this month. At a meeting Monday night 22 operators discussed the proposed changes.

Local operators were primarily in agreement that the incentive licensing proposed by the FCC was good, but not in the form in which the FCC has set up the changes, Kenneth Keeler, president of the local club, said.

Some frequencies would be changed and some operators would have to earn back privileges of certain licenses, under the system. Allocation of frequencies as proposed would not be in proportion to the number of people who would qualify for them, club members agreed. The FCC proposal also includes issuing of all new call signs and the changing of signs each time an operator qualifies for a higher license.

The local group's views will be written and then considered again next Monday night before being sent to the FCC.

Aggies Slice It Thick

Three men, who have a big hand in planning the annual Texas A&M Scholarship Barbecue Thursday evening at the City Park amphitheatre, slice some good thick pieces of meat for the barbecue. Left to right are Don Newsom, Paschal Odom, and Alton Marwitz. While they were slicing, other Aggies were out selling tickets for the event which finances a $1,000 four-year scholarship for some deserving young man in this vicinity.

Tourist School Paying Off

Do lessons learned in the tourist development school pay dividends?

O. T. Brewster, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce tourist committee, thinks so. Monday he had a case in point to report to chamber directors.

One of the guests at Holiday Inn, which Brewster manages, called the desk, and wanted to know: "Can my son and I see an honest - to - goodness cattle ranch?"

The clerk, who had attended the two-day school, replied: "Certainly." A call was put through to Carroll Davidson, chamber manager, who next morning took the father and his son to the Horace Garrett ranch. Mama didn't go—she went to the beauty parlor and shopping instead. P.S.: The family spent an extra day in Big Spring.

O. M. Miller Dies Monday

Odus Mitchell Miller, 61, Pecos, died Monday at 10:30 p.m. at Pecos. Born May 27, 1904 in Big Spring, he lived here until 1930 when he moved to Pecos.

A retired truck driver, he was a member of the Methodist church.

Services will be Wednesday at 3 p.m. in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, Dr. R. Gage Lloyd of the First Presbyterian Church presiding. Burial will be in City Cemetery.

Survivors include two brothers, Rufus H. Miller, Big Spring and Charley Miller, Pecos; and a sister, Mrs. Watson Hammond, Big Spring.

Pallbearers will be Lee Porter, Joe Hayden, Jess Slaughter, Jones Lamar, Pete Hull, L. B. Conway, H. W. Nall and Zollie Boykin.

Guns Stolen

Two shotguns, two rifles and a typewriter were taken in a burglary of the M. M. Stewart residence, 1606 Stadium, police reported.

Wives Help Aggies Sell Feast Tickets

The Aggies have enlisted the womenfolk in their ranks — at least for the ticket - selling campaign for the annual "Aggie scholarship barbecue" Thursday at 7 p.m.

Two Aggie wives will be in each of two Big Spring banks, the State National and the First National, selling the $1.50 tickets. Children under 12 eat free.

Sales of the tickets have been going "pretty well," Alton Marwitz, A&M Club secretary-treasurer, said Tuesday morning, "and we're having a blitz campaign today in most of the downtown stores. We'll have about a dozen Aggies beating the pavement and in the buildings pushing tickets."

Revenues from the barbecue each year go to deserving youngsters who wish to attend A&M College.

Don Newsom, head of the food preparation committee, said Tuesday that barbecued beef, beans, onions, potato salad, and tea will be served to the crowd at City Park Amphitheatre. The crowd is generally large at the Aggie eat-outs, as the invitation is to "eat all you can."

The Thursday event will be the 11th for the Big Spring club, which is unique in the state with its scholarship fund-raising barbecue. In the past 10 years 14 youngsters have been aided by the Aggies.

Snyder Given Humble Site

SNYDER — J. S. Bottler Jr., area production manager for Humble Oil & Refining Co., announced at a luncheon in Snyder Friday that the company is deeding its Snyder district office site and building to the City of Snyder.

The facilities will be made available to the Snyder schools for use as classrooms for exceptional children, according to Mayor Broman.

Bottler, in presenting the deed, said, "We are pleased to be able to make this property available for its intended use. We will open a new field production office at 4102 Avenue S under the supervision of A. J. Shaw, district operations superintendent. Marketing facilities will continue in their present location.

"Snyder has been a popular town with our employes. They feel fortunate to raise their families here. Humble and its employes are aware of the value of education and we feel that it is particularly appropriate that this property will become an educational facility. We hope the citizens of Snyder will view this action as evidence of our interest in the community."

Joe Birdwell Rites Held

Burial was Sunday at Resthaven Memorial Park in Midland for Joe Birdwell, Sr., 65, former resident of Big Spring and a long time employe of the Texas & Pacific Railway Co.

Mr. Birdwell and his wife had lived in Big Spring in the late 1930's and later moved to Midland. He was employed as an auditor for the T&P for 48 years, until his retirement June 1.

Services Sunday were at the Newine W. Ellis Funeral Chapel in Midland, with the Rev. Timothy Guthrie, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Midland, officiating. Mr. Birdwell died Friday of an apparent heart seizure.

Survivors include the widow; a son, Joe Birdwell Jr., Hobbs, N. M.; a brother, Tallous Birdwell, Austin; and one grandchild.

Jaycees See Viet Nam Film

Jaycees got a glimpse of Viet Nam and the Junior Chamber of Commerce headquarters in Saigon at their weekly meeting Monday noon. Capt. Glen Young projected color slides he had taken while on duty in Viet Nam. While it is a beautiful place, it is not presently recommended as a vacation spot, he quipped.

Dub Moore received the Jaycee of the month award for May in recognition for his planning of the bosses night banquet. Bob Grimes and John Suter Jr. were introduced as new members, and Bob Von Rosenberg was a guest of Dr. Sam Peiper. Louis McKnight presided over the meeting.

Two Saws Are Reported Stolen

An electric saw and an electric jig saw were stolen sometime last night from the Lumber Bin, 211 N. Gregg.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that his office was advised of the burglary early Tuesday. Entrance had been gained through a rear door. Apparently the only things stolen were the two saws.

Standard said that he had assigned deputies to investigate the burglary.

Weather Forecast

Showers and thundershowers will be widely scattered from the Carolinas to Florida and in the central Gulf states on Tuesday night. Showers and isolated thundershowers are forecast from the northern Plains into Texas. Rain is expected in the northern Rockies, with showers in the central Rockies and the north Pacific states. Absentee Total Still Climbs

Sixty-two absentee votes have been cast in the special election of June 26 for state representative, Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said today.

The special election is to name a successor to the late Ed J. Carpenter, who died last month. He was serving his second term in the state legislature as representative from the 78th Legislative District.

Deadline for absentee voters is 5 p.m. June 22.

Three candidates are after Carpenter's seat. They are Roger D. Brown, Frank Hardesty and Harold Hall.

The election will be held June 26 in all of the counties comprising the district.

Gifts Down To A Trickle

Only two gifts were reported by the Howard County Rehabilitation Center Tuesday morning. The center's drive to equip its building at Third and Lancaster is still far short of its intended goal of $20,000 worth of therapeutic equipment.

Donors reported Tuesday were J. B. Pickle, $15, and an anonymous $20 gift.

Center officials have requested individuals, firms and organizations to consider giving actual rehabilitative devices, which are described in a brochure available at the center's offices; but gifts in any amount are welcomed.

Those interested in aiding the center may call AM 3-2880.

Some previous donors: Killdee Horton, $5, Mrs. L. A. Marchbanks, $50, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Stewart, 10, Albert and Frances Andree, $10, Mr. and Mrs. James Norman, $5, the Joe Blassingames, $5, Brenda Sue Salazar, $5, Cecil E. Kelley, $5, Mrs. C. S. Anderson, a relaxation chair worth $155, Jack and Mary Lou Wilson, $50, A. J. and Kay Allen, $100, Laura Birdwell, $15, Ken Olsen, $25, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Pavey, $100, Ann Posey, $25, Elder and Mrs. Perkins, $5, Mrs. V. L. Bennett, $10, Mrs. J. L. Davis, $5, Mrs. J. B. McKinney, $1, Buddy and Robby Flynn, $10, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Ballard, $5, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gill, $10, Jana Ovalle, $2, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Reed, $5, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hill, $5, Homer Ward, $10, Mrs. Mary Locke, $5, A. D. Blount, $20, Mrs. Fred Winn, $5, Vicki, Debbie and Jerry Cox, $5 and Kathy, Cindy and David Fowler, toys worth $3.

Dawson Rodeo Set To Open

LAMESA (SC) — The annual Dawson County rodeo will open Thursday at 4 p.m. with a parade in the downtown area. The first events will be held at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Lamesa Rodeo Association.

The Dawson County Sheriff's Posse will sponsor a barbecue immediately after the parade. Guests will be members of visiting posses and riding clubs.

The events for the three-night rodeo will be bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, and girl's barrel races. More than 150 entries have signed.

Sheriff's posses expected include those from Martin County, Snyder, Terry, Morton, Pecos, and Denver City.

Junior Clubs will be the Stanton Rangers, Petersburg Junior Riding Club; O'Donnell Junior Gauchos; Aufill's Rough Riders, Lubbock; Terry Rangers, Brownfield; Lubbock Rangers; Denver City 4-H Club riders.

Charged In Store Break-In

Robert Orasco, 19, wanted here for investigation in the recent burglary of the Pinkie Liquor Store on US 87 north, has been charged with burglary and released on $1,000 bond.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that the liquor store plate glass show window was broken to permit the prowler to gain entrance to the building.

Only liquor was stolen, the sheriff said. The burglary occurred June 1. A search for Orasco had been under way since.

Ranger Tells Of Seeking Victims

How many persons perished in the disastrous flood of last week which swept the town of Sanderson will probably never be known, according to Sgt. John Wood of the Texas Rangers.

Wood, who with other Rangers and peace officers, headed up searching groups in the flood zone, was in town today. He said that the search for the 10 or 12 persons still unaccounted for had been dropped.

"We probably will never find all of the missing persons," he said. "We know of two or three automobiles with people aboard which vanished and we have heard nothing about them."

Wood said that the bodies of the victims were carried long distances by the wall of water which engulfed the small border town.

"The valley used to have fairly heavy timber," he said. "It is washed clean of all trees and shrubs now."

The search for the victims over the wide area was made on horseback and on foot, the ranger said.

"I was riding across a boulder strewn area miles from Sanderson," he said, "when my horse shied to one side. I knew he had been alarmed by something. I looked all around. Higher than I was on a ledge I saw a hand thrust above a rock. It seemed almost as if it was being waved at me. Back of the rock we found the body of a flood victim."

Early Scheduling In Youth Programs

Bus schedules will be started earlier Wednesday by the City-wide Recreation Program in an effort to handle the unusually large enrollment.

Meanwhile, appeals went out for parents who can to bring their children to the YMCA, where the Fun Clubs meet.

"We would like to be able to pick up children and get them immediately to the Y," said Curt Mullins, general secretary of the YMCA, the administrative agency for the program. "But there are so many of them we can't avoid long waits in some instances. If some parents can form car pools for their children and their neighbors, then it will keep these youngsters from having to wait. Maybe the remainder can be hauled in the buses."

Wednesday the bus will be at College Heights school at 8 a.m. (instead of 8:35 as originally scheduled), at Marcy at 8:35 a.m., at Park Hill at 9:10 a.m., and at Airport at 9:20 a.m.

Nearly 400 youngsters have enrolled in the Fun Clubs.

One problem was eased Tuesday when Jimmy Taylor volunteered use of a pickup to transport the trampoline and equipment from the various playgrounds during the morning.

Valuations To Remain Steady

Oil and gas properties in Howard County will be on the tax rolls for the new year at about the same figure they are this year, tax engineers with Pritchard and Abbott, said Monday afternoon.

Equalization sessions were completed in midafternoon. Approximately a score of oil and gas company representatives were on hand to discuss tax values with the Pritchard and Abbott staffmen.

Spokesman for the crew said that it would be early fall before any firm figures on the actual valuation of oil and gas properties could be announced. However, he added, there were not any great differences in values this time over those of the last setting.

Oil and gas totals for the current year are $23,077,805. For 1963, the total was $23,146,060. The sharpest drop occurred that year—the figure for 1962 was a half million higher than for 1963.

Howard County Commissioners will meet June 29 and 30 as an equalization board on real and personal property problems.

Henry C. Barron Funeral Today

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Services for Henry C. Barron, 53, who died in an automobile accident Sunday night near Silver, were held at 3 p.m. today at the First Baptist Church of Coahoma. The Rev. Caddo Matthews, a Plainview Baptist minister, officiated. He was assisted by the Rev. H. B. Graves, pastor of the Coahoma Baptist Church. Burial was in Coahoma Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Mr. Barron was born Jan. 11, 1912, at Gorman and was married to Helen Martin in San Angelo in 1951. The couple moved to Colorado City from Sterling City four months ago.

Survivors include the widow; four daughters, Mrs. Arlene Bunch, Carrolton, Mrs. LuNelle Barrington, Fort Worth, Carolyn 12, and Letha Jean 2, both of Colorado City; two brothers and three sisters.

New Auditor Goes To Work

Howard County's new county auditor, Edgar A. Phillips, officially took over his duties today.

Wade Choate, whom Phillips succeeds, moved his activities to the manager's office of the Webb AFB Credit Union.

Choate resigned as auditor to accept the credit union position.

Phillips has been at the auditor's office for two weeks working with Choate and familiarizing himself with his new duties.

He was appointed to succeed Choate by Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court.

Kennel Club Meets Thursday

The Big Spring Kennel Club will hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. building, and all interested dog owners are invited. C. B. Harwood, president of the San Angelo Kennel Club, will speak to the group on "grooming."

DEAR ABBY

Do It For Him

DEAR ABBY: I know the Bible says we should honor our father and mother — but how can you honor a father who is so chintzy that he refuses to buy his wife a set of wedding rings, even a cheap set, when he knows that is what she's wanted more than anything else since they were married? They have been married 38 years and have seven children. I am the oldest and I can remember when Mom had to pump the water for the endless washings. She'd iron for two days, hoe the garden, can the vegetables and cook three meals a day. The house was always spic and span and so were the children. Mom took us all to church while Dad slept. Oh, he had a job, but when his eight hours were through, so was he. Raising the children was Mom's job, and she did it alone.

When I suggested to Dad that he buy Mom a nice set of rings for last Mother's Day, he laughed and said it was a waste of money. Then he went out and bought himself a boat for $400. Dad has five brothers and all their wives have beautiful rings, as do his four sisters. Yet he brags that he married Mom with a borrowed ring. I was so upset over this I spoke to our minister about it and he said a man gives his wife rings because he wants to, not because he feels obligated to. What can we do? THE OLDEST

DEAR OLDEST: If you could succeed in pressuring your father into buying your mother a set of rings, and she knew about it, they wouldn't mean much. Under the circumstances, I see nothing wrong in you children getting together and buying your mother a lovely set of rings. If your father objects, tell him that's what she wanted most.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A new neighbor called my 16-year-old daughter and asked if she would baby sit that evening. Marjorie accepted and went to their home. Shortly after midnight she came home very annoyed. She said when she got there she found the seven-year-old in bed with a temperature. The lady told Marjorie he had a little "headache"—but to keep the other kids away from him as he may have "something catching." She instructed Marjorie to put the other children to bed first, then to read to the sick one and keep him entertained until he fell asleep. The parents went bowling. Marjorie said the child was violently ill all evening. To top it off, Marjorie is now down with the flu. What do you think of a mother who would expose a sitter to the flu and go bowling?

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: The mother was either very inconsiderate or very stupid—or possibly both. But when your daughter was told that the child might have "something catching," she should have caught the implication, declined the sitting job and gone home.

Job Rights Said Violated

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A charge that civilian employes at Kelly Air Force Base are being deprived of their constitutional rights as well as their jobs has been made by the San Antonio Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union.

A report adopted by the chapter's board of directors charges use of psychiatric testing to remove employes who are in conflict with their supervisors.

MONTH PROBE

Investigations here began about a month ago, ACLU spokesmen said.

Copies of the report have been sent to Sen. Sam J. Ervin, (D-N.C.) and Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, (D-N.J.), who heads Senate and House committees inquiring into the practice of administering psychological tests to federal employes.

The ACLU charges the process begins when an employe is advised by his supervisor to take a medical examination immediately.

"After psychological tests have been taken, the employe is sent back to his job. Usually on the same day he is advised by his supervisor that he had been placed on indefinite sick leave and to leave the base."

WITHOUT PAY

The ACLU report contends such employes remain on sick leave and annual leave until these are depleted and then "may be put on leave without pay" for periods extending to a year or more.

"During this period the employe is re-examined by the psychiatrist in another interview. He is then strongly advised to sign papers requesting medical disability retirement."

Archery Lighting On Parks Agenda

Lighting facilities for the new archery range at Gregg and Twelfth Streets will be considered by the parks and recreation board in a monthly meeting Wednesday. The meeting is scheduled for 4 p.m. at the city commission room of city hall.

Three targets were recently placed at the archery site, located in the detention dam on Gregg Street.

In other action, the board is to hear a report on the Prairie Park, considered projects for a master plan of parks development, and hear reports on the overnight camp site and the new softball field.

Space Twins Return To Alma Mater

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The University of Michigan welcomes back today two "old grads" known the world over.

They are astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II, returning in pomp and ceremony to the campus they left in 1959. They will help their alma mater dedicate a new $1.7-million Space Research Building.

The Gemini 4 crewmen, who circled the earth four days, were to be hailed in Michigan's 101,001-seat stadium and to receive newly created honorary degrees of doctor of astronautical science.

Gemini pilot McDivitt was graduated No. 1 in a class of 606 when he won a bachelor's degree in aeronautical engineering here six years ago, and spacewalker White was seventh among graduate students receiving a master's in the same science at the same time.

WITH FAMILIES

The two flew here from a tumultuous, ticker-tape welcome back to earth in Chicago Monday. They were accompanied by families and parents.

At Chicago, the cheering crowds which lined highways and crammed into stores and offices lining the route of the astronauts were described by officials as the largest public welcoming in the city's history.

Vice President and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey also joined the celebration.

Civil rights leaders who had staged school protest marches last week in Chicago decided at the last moment to postpone a scheduled march. Earlier demonstrations had resulted in nearly 450 arrests in three days.

WEEK AGO

It was a week ago Monday that McDivitt, 36, and White, 34, splashed down in the Atlantic, America's newest heroes.

Most of their time since, except to receive from President Johnson Air Force promotions from major to lieutenant colonel, had been spent in dredging from memory the minute events of their flight for experts of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Wednesday, McDivitt goes to nearby Jackson, Mich., to receive the plaudits of hometown folk, and White goes to his native San Antonio, Tex., for a similar reception, complete with parade.

BIG WELCOME

Michigan pulled out all the stops for today's ceremonies.

Gov. George Romney, on both airport and stadium welcoming committees, authorized a half-day off with pay for state employes in 11 surrounding counties.

The University of Michigan told both faculty and students morning class cuts were excusable.

Ceremonies were shifted to the gigantic stadium when a howl greeted plans to stage them in an auditorium on an invitation-only basis.

With the site change, officially credited to "tremendous public interest," plans for a parade were canceled. The astronauts, however, will go by motorcade to the university's north campus for dedication of the NASA-financed Space Research Building.

CREDITS ALL

McDivitt said their Chicago parade past cheering thousands reinforced his deep feeling of "how insignificant one man, or two men are," and he credited Gemini 4's success to a "wonderful bit of cooperation by everyone in the United States."

"I feel," said White, "I'm a small part of a very big organization that made the flight possible, and that includes the plain man in the street. He's the man who supports our program, and without his 'go', we don't go."

Highlights of the astronauts' big day at Chicago were a motorcade down the Kennedy Expressway from O'Hare International Airport and a ticker tape reception in downtown Chicago. The weather was perfect as hundreds of thousands, many of them children waving flags, watched the motorcade.

White and McDivitt, who were made honorary citizens of Chicago, traded questions and answers with some of 3,500 school children at McCormick Place, the city's lakefront exposition hall, after they lunched.

The astronauts and their families enjoyed a private dinner before attending a fireworks display along Lake Michigan.

East contrived a fancy piece of footwork to produce a stunning upset of South's four spade contract.

Altho North had 16 high card points and a fit for South's spade suit, the lack of a single ace deterred him from making a slam try. When South made the minimum rebid of two spades, North pulled in his horns and settled for game.

Prospects for defeating the four spade contract appeared very dim to West since he could not take a single trick on his own. Desperation measures seemed to be in order and, in the hope of obtaining a ruff or two, West opened the singleton five of diamonds—altho North had bid that suit.

East won the trick with the ace of diamonds. However, he resisted the temptation to return the suit, despite the fact that West's lead of the five was an obvious singleton. East was aware that his partner could put him in again with the ace of clubs, but he wondered how the defense could manage to take another trick, to set the contract.

Leading a third round of diamonds offered little hope, for South would be out of the suit by that time, and surely he would be able to ruff high enough to shut out West. The only chance was to find West with an honor in clubs. If he had the king, then circumstances would take care of themselves. If his honor were the queen, however, an attempt must be made to score a club trick immediately.

Since East had no objection to letting his opponent make a couple of extra tricks, he was willing to go all out in an attempt to score an upset. He, therefore, returned the deuce of clubs at trick two. Declarer was confronted with a guess and he made the natural play of the jack, hoping that East had led away from the queen.

West won the trick with the queen of clubs and returned the suit to his partner's ace. East now gave his partner the diamond ruff for the setting trick. Observe that, if East leads back a diamond when he is in the first time, the defense will be limited to three tricks—one club, one diamond and a diamond ruff.

Higher Education Growth Bolsters Phone Companies

NEW YORK (AP) — Your youngster's love for the telephone increasingly is carrying right through to the college years. And the rapid increase in the number seeking higher education is affording new growth for the nation's telephone industry.

As the colleges and universities expand so do the communities in which they and their branches are located. This, too, means more business for the phone company, whether it be the Bell System or the 2,500 independent companies. Many of the latter serve the smaller communities where small colleges are booming with the teenage population explosion.

CAMPUS LINKS

In rapidly growing education institutions private automatic branch exchanges are being installed to serve dorms and faculty offices. Data transmission networks now link the several campuses of many college or universities.

Lectures by phone from a distant city are a commonplace of the new education. So is closed-circuit television instruction over phone lines serving students in many classrooms.

Today's more affluent college students — now estimated to spend around $4 billion a year for necessities and conveniences beyond tuition and dorm fees—are demanding more phones and using them more, both locally and long distance.

Phone companies are offering both this general service and some highly specialized ones.

Example: In central Texas five universities are linked with a circuit that provides access to their collective store of two million books through interuniversity library cards issued to faculty, staff and graduate students.

LOCATE BOOKS

A wanted book can be located almost instantly in one of the five schools. The universities are: North Texas State and Texas Woman's, both at Denton; Southern Methodist and University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, both at Dallas; and Texas Christian at Fort Worth.

How business is growing as colleges expand is shown in Illinois. The General Telephone Co. of Illinois has burgeoned along with Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and Edwardsville. New conduit systems this year serve 800 new dorm room phones. A leased circuit provides voice transmission betweeen the two campuses by day. By night it is used for data transmitters and for computers.

GOP Eyeing Recoup Try

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans plan to focus on the Midwest and West next year in a campaign they believe will recoup their 1964 losses in the House and give them three or more additional Senate seats.

President Johnson's failure thus far to come up with a satisfactory farm program has given the GOP hope that it not only can hang on to the seats it now holds in Midwestern and Western states but can make significant gains there.

TWO SECTIONS

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, head of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in an interview that while he is not discounting party chances in any part of the country he believes they are brightest in the Midwest and West.

"As matters stand, I think we are going to get back most of the House seats we lost last year," he said. "In local elections in such states as Iowa, for example, our candidates have been getting their traditional majorities even in areas we lost in 1964."

"I think the administration's failure to come up with any workable farm program is going to help us in states where that is a factor."

This was in line with an assertion of Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., who expects to be a candidate for re-election, that the farmer, is the forgotten man of the Johnson administration. He said Sunday on Metromedia's televised "Opinion in the Capital" that Johnson is directing all of his programs toward the metropolitan areas.

"CITIES FAVORED"

"Perhaps that is because, with the Electoral College, if you get the city votes you don't need any of the rest of them," he said. "Perhaps, it is because of purely humanitarian reasons — I don't know what the reason, but it means all the goodies are being handed out to the people in the metropolitan areas and Mr. farmer continues to pay through the nose."

Outnumbered 68 to 32 by the Democrats in the Senate, Republicans have little hope of changing that figure materially. Twenty Democratic and 14 Republican seats are at stake next year.

Even if the GOP retrieved the total of 41 House places it lost last year, the party would still be outnumbered substantially, since the Democrats now have 294 members to the Republicans' 140, with one vacancy.

Court Rejects Network Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — The Supreme Court has rejected a request that its proceedings be televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

In an exchange of letters, Chief Justice Earl Warren told Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS president:

"The court has had an inflexible rule to the effect that it will not permit photographs or broadcasting from the courtroom when it is in session."

The justice added he was sure the court "has no intention of changing that rule."

Stanton had asked permission to have cameras and microphones report oral arguments on the constitutionality of the public accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act.

His letter and Justice Warren's reply were written last fall, but there contents have just been disclosed.

The disclosure followed the court's ruling last week reversing a Billie Sol Estes conviction in a Texas Court because the Texas financier's trial was televised over his objections.

Lynda, Other Palefaces Dig For Artifacts

GRASSHOPPER, Ariz. (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson is learning that archaeology is part study but a whole lot more work.

The President's daughter joined 20 other students of the University of Arizona's summer field school Monday in a full day's digging at Grasshopper on the Fort Apache Indian reservation.

It was fun swinging the picks and using the shovels, they agreed, but the bright sun was plenty warm — even though the altitude here is 6,000 feet.

PROBE MOUND

Directed by Dr. Raymond Thompson, professor of archaeology, the students wielded the hand tools vigorously as they probed the dirt mound that covers an Indian culture dating back to 1350 A.D.

Each shovelful is carefully sifted so that no artifacts or other remains go undetected.

Each artifact, whether pottery, jewelry or skeletons, will be studied and catalogued to piece together a picture of the ancient inhabitants and their way of life.

While the students toiled, the modern White Mountain Apaches prepared for Thursday's ceremonial in which the Great White Chief's 21-year-old daughter will be inducted as an honorary member of the Apache tribe.

DRAW 2,000

The ceremonial, expected to draw some 2,000 members, will be staged on a grassy clearing at Cibecue, 11 miles east of Grasshopper.

Invitations have been sent to such select palefaces as U.S. Indian Commissioner Philleo Nash, Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, Arizona Gov. Sam Goddard and 30 more Washington officials.

Two steers have been killed and more than 800 pounds of tribal beef will be fed into the pit barbecue for the occasion.

Two Horses Place High

Two Big Spring men's cutting horses placed highly at the American Quarter Horse Show Saturday at the Abilene Fairgrounds.

Chiquita Dot, ridden by Haskell Coker, owned by James Hollis, was Grand Champion Junior Registered Cutting Horse, winning a trophy and ribbon.

An unnamed 1965 stud colt shown by Haskill Coker and owned by Capt. Donald Anderson, was second in Halter Class.

Air Hero Joins Protests Of Beatle Award

LONDON (AP)—A Royal Air Force hero mailed his royal decoration—member of the Order of the British Empire — back to Queen Elizabeth II today because he objects to the Beatles getting the same honor.

Former squadron leader Paul Pearson said he meant no insult to the queen.

"I hope she will realize she has been tricked into making a political award by her ministers," he said.

Pearson, wartime leader of an air-sea rescue squad in the Straits of Dover, accused Prime Minister Harold Wilson of recommending the Beatles for the award as a vote-getting gimmick.

"The award has been cheapened and debased," he said. "Hundreds of thousands of people who served in the war must feel as I do."

Pearson is the second holder of the M.B.E. to send his insignia — a heavy silver cross — back to the queen in protest at the award to the Beatles.

The Beatles, one of Britian's big dollar earners, were given the award in the queen's birthday honors list last week. Although made in the name of the queen, the royal honors are awarded on the recommendation of the prime minister.

The Beatles were saying nothing about the controversy.

Mother, Girl Die In Crash

PAULS VALLEY, Okla. (AP) —Two Texas cars collided on a US 77 curve north of here in South Central Oklahoma Monday, killing a woman and her daughter.

They were Mrs. Jean Phillips, 33, of Gainesville and her daughter Janet, 12. Seven others were injured.

Mrs. Phillips and her daughter were in a car driven by Melvin Phillips, 35, husband of the dead woman. Their auto collided with one driven by Ruby Castle, 40, of Midland, Tex.

Phillips was not believed to be seriously hurt but his son Ricky, 10, was injured seriously.

Mrs. Castle and her son Lynn, 13, also were hurt seriously.

Old Marx Dogma On U.S. Totters?

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet historian has created a sensation by saying it is wrong to picture American society in traditional terms of oppressed workers and upper classes ruled by monopolists. She also rejected time-honored Marxist dogma about "Wall Street monopolists."

Evgenia I. Popova, 47, submitted her study "The U.S.A. and the Washington System," as a doctoral dissertation at a meeting Monday in the Moscow University Pedagogical Institute.

In years past, Miss Popova would have been fired for such views. But one professor hailed her analysis as an innovation in Soviet history.

HAIL STUDY

Other professors and members of the Soviet Academy of Sciences called her study the most interesting in the field in several years.

"Unfortunately, up until recently, Soviet history has tended to lump imperialists into one group and treat them with differentiation and unobjectively," she said.

"The concept of the constant sharpening of contradictions within the imperialist camp has not taken into account evidence that the imperialists have successfully resolved disputes at various stages in the past in such cases as the West European Common Market.

"The view that the American government is the servant of Wall Street monopolists in many respects hampers an understanding of the important role of public opinion in the United States.

"It would be understood that the Washington government must also take into account the views of its allies, the changing conditions in international affairs and the demands of public opinion."

Her study deals with events leading to the Washington conference of 1921 where the United States sought an agreement of Western powers on arms limitation.

Deadline Near For Absentees

With only three days remaining in which to cast absentee votes in the forthcoming Howard County $600,000 road bond election, Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said her office has handled 42 such votes so far.

Deadline for absentee voting in the election is 5 p.m. Friday. The election, to be conducted in all of the county's voting boxes, is to be June 22.

The election is called to empower the county commissioners court to issue $600,000 in bonds to finance purchase of needed right of way for expansion of major highways in the city and county.

C-City Council Buys Some New Rolling Stock

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The City Council of Colorado City bought two new police cars, a truck and front end loader for the street department, and a back-hoe and tractor, and a new building for the water department, at its Monday night meeting. The equipment was purchased from the low bidder in each category.

The two police cars were purchased from Craddock - Witten Motor Co. at a trade-in difference of $2,140. The low bidder on the truck was Frank Motor Co. at $2,626 for a Dodge; the Patton Equipment Co. of Abilene was low, at $9,995, on the front-end loader, and the back-hoe and tractor were purchased from Costin Implement Co. for $5,332. The building for the water department will be erected by H. E. Abbott & Son of Odessa for $3,493.

In other business, the council accepted the annual audit of the city's finances, presented by Forest Smith of Abilene, accountant for Darrel Knight, and voted to accept a new contract for the audit at $850 per year, an increase over this year's $675; voted to allow moving of a sewer line and to share in the cost in order for a residential lot owned by Curtis Lattimer to become available for use, with George Fugate, prospective purchaser, Lattimer and the city sharing the cost; set a hearing on a proposed zone change, from residential to business, on the west side of Hickory Street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth Streets, for July 2.

Grand Jury To Be Called For Valles' Case

Martin County grand jurors, who completed a session just a week ago, will be recalled Monday at 10 a.m. The jury will consider the murder charge against Augustine Valles, 21, according to Ralph Caton, judge of 118th District Court.

Judge Caton and Wayne Burns, district attorney, decided to call the grand jurors back in order to expedite the possible disposition of the Valles' case.

Meantime, Valles, who is charged with fatally knifing Santos Romero, 22, Saturday night, is being held in the Martin County jail. He was denied bond when brought before Justice of the Peace Martin Gibson.

If the grand jurors had not been recalled, Valles' case would not have been up for consideration before next October.

Burns said that the grand jurors would have no other business to review except the Valles' case.

Funeral services for Romero are set for 10 a.m. Wednesday in St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Arrington - Gilbreath Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. No additional information was available Tuesday morning.

CAP Gets Lots Of Help

General response by Big Spring residents almost inundated Civil Air Patrol members with goods for relief of the Hale Center hail and tornado disaster victims.

When the CAP put out an appeal for household goods, clothing, bedding, cooking utensils, etc., the response was immediate. Members hastily gathered goods in, so that June 6 a bobtail truck load of goods was taken to Hale Center.

But this was just the starter. The storage room at Birdwell Food Stand was filled, and so was the garage at the home of CAP Commander (Lt.) E. L. Mulkey. Materials began to collect at other points, too. Sunday the final load, a semi-trailer full of everything imaginable, including stoves and refrigerators, pulled out for Hale Center.

"You can't imagine how generous people were," said Mrs. Mulkey. Among citations for exceptional service were Mr. and Mrs. Huey Birdwell, Mrs. John Morris Pipes, the BPOE Does, Earl Reid (who furnished gasoline), and Byron's Transfer and Storage and several of its employes for transportation.

Epidemic Deaths At 780 In India

GAUHATI, India (AP) — At least 780 persons are reported to have died in a two-month epidemic of gastroenteritis in the east India state of Assam. Officials say the disease is still spreading.

C-C Directors Are Urged To Back Road Bond Issue

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce were urged Monday to give personal support to the roadway bond issue for June 22. Previously the chamber gave the $600,000 proposal its blessing, but at the meeting Monday, Ike Robb, president, urged them to become personal missionaries to get out the vote.

Robert W. Whipkey, member of the highway and roads committee, presented maps showing some of the projected work which would be opened if the county secures right of way. The immediate impact, he said, would be some $2,000,000 in construction. This, however, would be a small part of the ultimate development it would touch off, plus the establishment of key traffic arteries to meet the ever-increasing number of vehicles. Cost will be no more than seven cents per $100 assessed valuations, perhaps less. On a home with a real value of $20,000, this would approximate the cost of a carton of cigarettes per year.

Paul Meek, chairman of the industrial committee, reported on a new survey that his committee is making, also on contacts made with a major manufacturer. A page ad from the Wall Street Journal in which an Ohio town cited 100 per cent state financing, plus local inducements, of industries was cited as an example of how competitive industrialization is getting.

To commemorate the start of the T-41A training program at Howard County Airport for Webb cadets, the aviation committee is planning a barbecue Aug. 6 for the first class, reported Dr. Fred Lurting. This will be in the hangar to be used by Central American Airways, the school contractor, and the Ambassadors Club will join in being hosts. Jake Wolfe, who is to head up the program for Central American Airways, expressed appreciation for cooperation of the community in making it possible to operate the school.

Carlton Chapman, chairman of the agriculture committee, reported on his trip to Washington, D. C., to protest proposals to alter skip row planting patterns. He said he believed that as the result of these and other protests, the planting pattern will not be changed. The effect could have been to reduce the county about 30 per cent of its acres in cotton.

The directors, upon O. T. Brewster's recommendation from the tourist committee, voted to underwrite two signs—one east of Weatherford and one west of El Paso—urging travelers to go US 80. If the recently proposed US 80 Highway Association gets going, this project may be turned to it.

Thanks were received from the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo for the help given in the recent rodeo. Next meeting of the board will be July 19, a week later than usual.

Court Visits Burned Hangar

Lee Porter, county judge, said that the county commissioners court Monday personally inspected the damage caused to the hangar at the Howard County airport by a recent fire.

Porter said that estimates on repairing the hangar were being submitted by contractors. It appears the cost will run in excess of $2,500.

No contract will be awarded for the job, Porter said, until the insurance company adjustors have made an investigation and submitted a report.

Porter said that while the damage was extensive, that it was regarded as fortunate the loss had not been even more extensive.

Thinking about central air conditioning for your home?

Here are 3 good reasons for installing ELECTRIC central air conditioning now!

LOW INITIAL INSTALLED COST. Installed cost of electric central air conditioning systems today is about one-third lower than it was 10 years ago. One reason for this is that widespread demand for electric central systems has made possible money-saving volume production by manufacturers.

LOW OPERATING COST. Our new low rate for residential electric service has substantially reduced the operating cost of electric central air conditioning.

PROVED DEPENDABILITY. Electric central air conditioning operates on the same simple, ruggedly dependable principle as your electric refrigerator — which means long life and low maintenance cost. Thousands of installations throughout this area are proof of the efficiency, economy and dependability of electric air conditioning.

* * *

Our air conditioning advisors will be glad to show you how you will save money when you choose electric central air conditioning. Call our office about it soon.

Sure you do. Because, like most people, you're careful about what happens to your hard-earned money.

So you look at products that appear in newspapers, magazines and brochures. Where the facts are captured for you, often in full color. Where you can study them for as long as you want. And even come back for more.

If you have something to sell, shouldn't you consider giving it the power of print?

Don't you read before you buy?

When people see your print advertisement, you can be pretty sure they're not painting a room at the same time, or running in the kitchen for a snack, or carrying on a conversation.

What you get when your printed message meets the eye is the kind of attention that makes cash registers ring.

Print makes sense, because print makes sales.

Home Run In 11th Ruins Redleg Bid

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Maloney should stick to one-hitters. At least he wins them.

The Cincinnati ace finally pitched a no-hitter Monday night — and lost.

Maloney, who has won three one-hitters, blazed through 10 innings of no-hit pitching before losing a two-hitter to the New York Mets, 1-0 on Johnny Lewis' leadoff home run in the 11th inning.

The 25-year-old right-hander thus joined eight other pitchers who went through nine innings of hitless hurling only to give up at least one hit in overtime and lose.

Maloney, who also tied a National League record by striking out 18, allowed only two baserunners before Lewis lofted a 2-1 pitch against the extension on the center-field wall. Roy McMillan later belted a meaningless single.

"The ball Lewis hit was a fast ball," Maloney said dejectedly in the Reds' clubhouse. "I tried to jam him but failed. He hit the same kind of pitch for a homer off me the last time the Mets were here."

Lewis, who struck out his first three times at bat, said he wasn't even sure it was a homer until he saw the umpires signaling.

Last pitcher to take a no-hitter into extra innings only to lose was Harvey Haddix, who hurled 12 innings of perfect ball for Pittsburgh against Milwaukee in 1959. Last year, Ken Johnson became the only pitcher ever to lose a no-hitter in nine innings when the Reds nipped Houston 1-0 on an error.

In other NL games Monday night, St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 5-2 and Chicago stopped Houston 2-0. In the American League, Cleveland edged New York 5-4 while rain washed out Baltimore at Boston.

Maloney, now 5-3, tied Warren Spahn's 1952 record of most strikeouts in an extra-inning NL game. The fastballer walked Ed Kranepool in the second inning and allowed Charlie Smith to reach first in the fourth on a wild pitch third strike.

The Reds had a chance to score a run in the fourth inning, but Vada Pinson was cut down at the plate, catcher Chris Cannizzaro to pitcher Frank Lary, trying to score from second on a passed-ball third strike.

The Cardinals continued their two-season mastery over the Pirates, beating them for the 17th straight time. St. Louis snapped a 2-2 deadlock with two runs on Carl Warwick's grounder in the fifth. Julian Javier came home when the ball got through shortstop Gene Alley, and Bill White raced across as left fielder Bob Bailey bobbled the ball.

Larry Jackson ended a personal five-game losing streak while the Astros lost their seventh in a row. An infield out brought in a Chicago run in the first, and Ernie Banks drove in the other with a fifth-inning sacrifice fly.

A two-base throwing error by relief pitcher Pete Mikkelsen paved the way for two unearned runs in the eighth inning that boosted Cleveland past the Yankees.

Forlorn Maloney

Jim Maloney sits dejectedly in the Cincinnati clubhouse Monday night after his no-hit game through ten innings ended in a 1-0 defeat in the 11th when John Lewis of the New York Mets hit a home run. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Maloney's Best Effort Fails

CINCINNATI (AP) — "That's baseball I guess," Jim Maloney said softly. "I can't compare this game to any other. It's by far the best I've ever pitched."

Maloney was slumped in his chair. He couldn't recall exactly how it felt to lose after pitching 10 inninge of no-hit baseball Monday night against the New York Mets.

The no-hitter came to a sudden halt in the top of the 11th when giant-killer Johnny Lewis, a .250 hitter, slugged a towering home run that gave New York a 1-0 victory over Maloney and the Cincinnati Reds.

Maloney's astonishing performance goes into the record books as 10-inning no-hitter. The 25 - year - old fireballing right-hander wound up with a two-hitter as the Mets' Roy McMillan cracked a single moments after the home run.

HIT FAST BALL

"Lewis hit a fast ball," Maloney said quietly, the sweat pouring off his overworked body. "I was just trying to keep the ball in on him and it got out just a little bit.

"He hit the same kind of pitch for a homer off me the last time the Mets were here."

What was going through Maloney's mind as the game wore on?

"I knew I had a no-hitter going and I wanted to pitch a no-hitter," he explained.

"That's what I try to do every time I start."

Maloney then lifted himself painfully from the chair, headed to the showers, but said over his shoulder:

"I'd just as soon win ball games as pitch a no-hitter."

Maloney has flirted with no-hit fame before, pitching three one-hitters. In his first start this year, April 19 against Milwaukee, he gave up just one hit, a single in the eighth to Denis Menke.

Last year, the Fresno, Calif., native pitched a one - hitter against the Mets, and in 1963 he hurled a one-hitter against the Chicago Cubs.

IN ELITE GROUP

Maloney joins nine other pitchers who have hurled at least nine innings of no-hit ball, but then lost in extra innings.

Maloney did tie a National League strikeout record for an extra-inning game. He fanned 18 to equal the number Warren Spahn, then with the Braves, struck out in 15 innings against Chicago in 1952. Spahn is now with the Mets.

Three of Maloney's strikeouts came at the expense of Lewis, the Mets' right fielder. But in the 11th, Lewis eyed a 2-1 pitch, and slammed it against a center-field extension, just a few feet above the home-run line.

Half of Lewis' round-trippers have been against Cincinnati pitchers, and two of them also helped the Mets beat the Reds in two other games.

"I can't help but feel good," Lewis said. "But it was a heartbreaker for Maloney to lose. He threw good, real good. In fact, I never saw a pitcher throw as hard to me as Maloney did."

The homer didn't appear to shake up Maloney on the mound. He continued throwing hard and struck out Ron Swoboda.

Sevey Nails Up 10-5 Win

John Sevey came to the mound in the fifth inning to fan six Rockets in a row and preserve a 10-5 victory for the Starfighters in an International League baseball game Monday.

The Rockets had come alive in the fourth inning, coming from a 0-8 deficit to 5-8, chasing starter Daryl Brunson.

Starfighter batters collected two more runs in the bottom of the fourth and then turned the game over to Sevey for the final two innings. He also smacked two doubles.

Brunson was the winner, and Bill Mims the loser.

Yanks Subdue Pace Setters In National

The Yankees surged for four runs in the first extra inning and then held on to subdue the pace-setting Devils, 7-4, in a National Little League thriller here Monday night.

The defeat knocked the Devils back into a tie for first place with the Braves. The Yankees are now 6-8.

Big hits for the Yankees in the seventh were delivered by Gary Stallings and Jimmy Choate, who drove out doubles. Stallings wound up with three of his team's nine hits.

Steve Tidwell and David Wright each had two blows for the winners and one of Tidwell's safeties went for three bases. Tommy Fletcher clubbed his second home run of the season for the Yankees, a solo blast in the fourth.

Fletcher worked six innings on the mound for the Yanks, all the rules allow. Steve Bunn mopped up in the seventh and got credit for the victory.

Aubrey Huff and Mark Powell divided time on the mound for the Devils. Andrew Merrick, George Anderson and B. Merrick each smashed two hits for the losers.

Drillers Win By 3-2 Tab

The Duncan Drillers squeaked by the Big Spring Hardware team, 3-2, when Sammy Mims stole second and was singled in by Lonnie Clanton in the sixth inning in a Hi-Junior League baseball game Monday.

Hardware's scores both came in the sixth on bases on balls and singles. The Drillers other scores were in the first and fifth innings.

Clanton gave up three hits as winner, while Johnnie Ramirez was tagged for but two.

Snyder Given Shot At Title

AUSTIN (AP)—To bet against the South San Antonio Bobcats winning the Class AAA schoolboy baseball championship is risky at best.

The only team given much chance to stop them is Snyder's young West Texas team. Snyder gained the finals in 1960 but lost.

South San Antonio is 37-2 for the season. It won the state title last year and in 1963, and has taken home five championships in the past seven years.

Waxahachie and Alvin, also in Class AAA, enough to challenge the San Antonio club, which has an all-tournament battery when Johnny Guzman's on the mound.

Guzman, a 5-foot-7 righthander batting .310 was a 1964 all-tournament choice and has a 19-0 mound record this season. Catcher Meddie Lomas, also an all-star choice last year, is hitting .424.

Lefthander Eddie Tello is 31-1, backing up Guzman's pitching.

South San Antonio's only losses were to San Antonio Harlandale and McAllen.

Snyder, with only five seniors on the team, has four batters hitting over .300. Besides being runnerup to Seguin five years ago, the Tigers finished third in 1957 and fourth in 1958.

Tournament openers today sent Snyder against newcomer Alvin at 1 p.m., followed by South San Antonio against Waxahachie at 3 p.m.

Night games in the two-day tournament match Class AAAA teams—Brownsville vs. Galena Park at 7 p.m. and Dallas Samuell vs. Austin El Paso at 9 p.m.

Losers in both divisions will vie for third place Wednesday afternoon and the titles will be decided that night.

Class AAAA appears to be a toss-up, with all four teams strong in pitching.

Brownsville has a potent duo in lefthanders Tony Barbosa and professional draft choice Charles Vaughn, who stands 12-3 and has averaged two strikeouts an inning. Brownsville third baseman Arnie Alvarez also boasts the top hitting mark in AAAA, .408.

Singles To End

DALLAS (AP) — Junior boys singles were to end today and doubles begin in the 51st annual Texas Open Tennis Championships.

One-Day Meet Set At Muny

Members of the Country Club and the Webb Golf club have been extended special invitations to take part in a Big Spring Golf association one-day invitational tournament at the Muny course Sunday.

Winners will be determined in individual medal - type play, making use of handicaps. Handicap cards must be up to date. Entry fee will be $2 plus the green fee.

Those with handicaps of nine strokes and under will be entered in the "A" flight, those with handicaps of ten and over will go into "B" flight.

Golf balls in quantity will go to winners in each flight. First place will be rewarded with 15 golf balls, runnersup with 12, third place winners with nine and fourth with six.

Persons can enter anytime prior to 2:30 p.m. and can pay entry fees at the clubhouse. Play must be in threesomes or foursomes and in company with other tournament entries.

NFL's Rozelle Eyes Battle For Atlanta

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Pete Rozelle is marshaling his National Football League forces for the mighty battle of Atlanta against the American Football League.

Chances are the NFL's adroit commissioner will muster the support he needs from the league's top echelon. And chances are his masterly finessing for the prized Dixie territory will pay off in victory.

Rozelle, who stepped in at the 11th hour to foil a possible uncontested grab of Atlanta by the AFL, has about two weeks to get the necessary backing from his 14 team owners to award a franchise to the Southern stronghold. Twelve yes votes will swing it, and the trend definitely is yes.

An Associated Press survey showed today that seven NFL clubs are on record as favoring the move into Atlanta in 1966.

They are the Baltimore Colts, Cleveland Browns, Dallas Cowboys, Detroit Lions, Minnesota Vikings, Philadelphia Eagles and Pittsburgh Steelers.

Owners of four other clubs — the New York Giants, St. Louis Cardinals, Los Angeles Rams and Washington Senators — were not ready to commit themselves. And bosses of the Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears and San Francisco 49ers were not available for comment.

There were no hints of a dissenting voice in the poll.

Should Rozelle be given the go-ahead, the next step would be to award the franchise — most likely to a syndicate headed by Lindsey Hopkins, an affluent Atlantan, and including Texas oilman John Mecom Jr. and Tony Hulman, who runs the Indianapolis Speedway.

Then would come the vital development — choosing a pro football tenant for Atlanta's imposing new $18-million stadium.

The AFL gave a franchise to the Cox Broadcasting Corp. of Atlanta last week, apparently under the impression the stadium was set. But after a pitch by Rozelle, the stadium authority announced it would not name a pro football tenant before July 1.

That gave Rozelle the time he needs to make a crash survey of the prospects, report to his owners, and take a vote.

Insiders feel the vote will be for expansion into Atlanta — and that, given the choice, Atlanta will go for the NFL.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
JIM MURRAY, Los Angeles columnist:

"The nicest thing about a hole-in-one is that any idiot with a golf club can make one . . . You don't have to keep your head down, your left arm straight, hit from the inside-out, follow through, or any of the assorted impossible things a great shot calls for. You can make it with any club in the bag with the possible exception of the putter. It's one of the great missed shots in golf. The odds against your making a hole-in-one are 1,200 a year. The odds against a pro making a hole-in-one are only 400-1 a year. It's such an odd-ball shot the late Gene Fowler, who recognized golf as one of the most idiotic of man's pastimes, always wanted to write a book, titled "How to Make a Hole-in-One." . . . The worst thing about a hole-in-one is that you have to buy a drink for everyone in the clubhouse. . . . Personally, I always make birdies when nobody is looking and 11's when a get a gallery. Part of the reason, of course, is that when nobody's looking I cheat."

RAY ROBINSON

• • • •

Golfer TOMMY BOLT:

"Arnold Palmer makes a great shot and the way they cheer you'd think he was going to split the money with them. Now, I lay one up there near the pin. Man, you can't hit a golf ball any better than that. And everybody stands around as if it was bad news from home."

• • • •

HENRY ARMSTRONG, former boxing great:

"One time I went to Mexico City to fight Baby Arizmendi. We had a $1,500 guarantee against 10 per cent if the gate was more than 20-some thousand, and they did around $35,000. They said Arizmendi won and told us while we were in the ring a Mexican bandit held up the box office and I haven't seen any of that money yet."

• • • •

JIMMY CANNON, New York scribe:

"There always seemed to be a parade coming up the street behind Ray Robinson. The sidewalk turned to the glazed wood of a dance floor beneath his light tread. Anywhere he moved became a ball room. He even walked the way a champion should and he approached you as if you were going to hand him a prize. Inside those jazzy clothes the long body moved as if the bones were silk. The suits were part of him and they appeared to be another skin. . . . He knew what he was and he worked hard at it and, standing at a hotdog stand on Broadway, he had the grace of a statue commemorating himself. It was natural and never obvious. The conceit wasn't offensive. He wore the champion's personality as if it were one of his fancy sports jackets with the cloth glossy and shimmering when the light touched it. The fight racket should honor what Robinson used to be now that he is a cancer without legs. . . . His skills are gone. The years absconded with them. Time is the embezzler but he holds onto the pug's dignity which the thief can't locate. It is all he has left and it is becoming extinct in this generation of fighters. . . . When guys such as Stan Harrington and Memo Ayom go into the books as fighters who have beaten him, it is a form of vandalism. They are not opponents, but assassins. They murder a memory, not a champion. Even in the misery of his humiliation, Robinson is better than the likes of Sonny Liston. . . . He is more a fighter, this permanent champion victimized by his age. . . . The nimble hoofer's feet still respond to the beat of the heart. That is the only music Robinson dances to now. Liston never heard it play."

• • • •

MURRAY WARMATH, Minnesota football coach:

"I concede all the Catholic super-stars to Notre Dame. When you're up against mother, the padre, and Ara, the boy is going to Notre Dame. . . . I'd like to see the Irish play Texas. Then someone would find out whether they're as good as they think they are."

Stars Hand Colts 2nd Defeat Of '65 Season

The Stars broke up a tied game with six runs in the fourth and fifth innings, turning it into a 7-1 rout of the top-ranked Colts in a Monday American Little League game.

Colt pitcher Wayne York was tagged for nine hits after holding the Stars to one run for three innings. Jeff Murdock struck out eight Ponies, allowing but one run on five hits. His record is now 3-2.

In winning the game the Stars brought their season record to 7-7. The Colts' loss was only their second in 15 games.

Yanks Rally To Triumph

The Yanks came from behind to edge the Lions, 5-4, in a closely - contested Sophomore League baseball game Monday.

Scoring first on a single, double and first base error, the Lions were dominant through the first four innings, but with the score, 3-1, the Yanks scored three runs in the fifth inning on bases on balls, an error by the Lion first baseman, and a single by winning pitcher Farris, putting them ahead.

The Lions caught up in the seventh when a run scored on a single and double, but the Yanks settled the contest in the eighth on a Cook double and a Rodriguez single.

Davis took the loss.

Taylor Goes To Astros

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ron Taylor left the St. Louis Cardinals laughing, the Pittsburgh Pirates moaning and the Houston Astros waiting anxiously for his arrival.

The right - handed reliever pitched the Cardinals to a 5-2 victory over the Pirates Monday night with 4 2-3 innings of shutout pitching. Moments after the game, word went out that he had been traded to the Astros for left-handed reliever Hal Woodeshick.

"I feel better about leaving this way — helping the team," Taylor said after his finest stint of the season. "Red (Manager Red Schoendienst) called me into his office and told me after the game."

Before Monday night's victory, Taylor had a 1-1 record. He had pitched 39 innings in 24 games and given up 22 earned runs for a 5.08 earned run average.

HAL WOODESHICK

Taylor, 28, was 8-4 last season and played a big role in the Cardinals' pennant drive.

Woodeshick, 32, had his big year in 1963 when he was 11-9, with a 1.97 ERA and saved numerous games for the Astros. His record sank to 2-9 last season, but he had an ERA of 2.77 and still was Houston's ace in the bullpen. In 27 games this season, he is 3-4 with a 3.09 ERA.

The Cardinals also acquired right-hander Chuck Taylor, 22, from Houston's Amarillo farm club in return for left-hander Mike Cuellar, 28, of St. Louis' Jacksonville team. The two pitchers will switch teams.

Pepsi, Skateland Win Loop Tests

Skateland out-scored Seaboard, 12-11 in a spirited slugfest that saw Seaboard vainly trying to play catch-up but never making it in the first game of an American Softball league double-header. In the second game Pepsi ran over Forsan 9-3.

Tito Arencibia and Ken Harmon whacked homers for Seaboard, and the team actually out-hit the winners, but Skateland's margin of victory came in the first two innings when they scored nine runs on singles and walks.

Winning pitcher was Charlie Williams, loser Bob Riceman.

Joe Blasingame gave up home runs to Max Robinson and Tommy Albertson, but the Forsan bunch couldn't score consistently. The Pepsi team took advantage of three Forsan fielding errors in the fourth inning to rack up five runs, and went on to a lopsided victory, incidentally touching Robinson for 10 hits in the process.

Reagan, Boadle First In Meet

Horace Reagan and Charles Boadle emerged as the winners in Mesquite Gun Club competition Sunday afternoon.

Reagan led in light varmint competition, shooting from a distance of 200 yards, hitting 100 targets, including nine bulls-eye.

Boadle won in iron-sight competition, also firing at 200 yards. He got a score of 100, including five bulls-eye.

Boadle and W. A. Davidson finished behind Reagan in the light varmint class, each with a score of 100, iniluding eight bulls-eye.

Denver Petit was second in the iron sight class, with a score of 99 and four bulls-eye while Nolan Stanley of Coahoma was third with 99-4.

The next meeting will take place June 27 starting at 2 p.m., at which time competition will be held in the heavy varmint class.

Lou Klein New Coach Of Cubs

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Lou Klein said it came as a "pleasant surprise" to be named head coach of the Chicago Cubs Monday, replacing Bob Kennedy.

"But it made me feel a little bad," Klein continued, explaining that Kennedy was a friend of his.

Cub Vice President John Holland made the announcement Monday at a news conference before a night game between Chicago and Houston in the Astrodome. Klein's debut was successful as Chicago won 2-0.

"I knew about it two days ago," Kennedy told The Houston Post. He said he would return to Chicago today to take up a front office job as an aide to Holland, who is also Cub general manager.

In Elks Club Ladies Pool competition, which ended last weekend, Myrt Ward emerged as the champion while Bonnie Coker settled for runnerup honors.

The tournament extended over two weeks.

Nicklaus Leads In Cash Cache

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus has nearly a $7,000 edge over Tony Lema in professional golf tournament winnings so far this season.

Nicklaus, top money winner of the Professional Golfers Association last year, was credited by the PGA this week with collecting $52,000 in PGA-sponsored tourneys and $10,788 in unofficial events.

Lema has official earnings of $50,164 and $5,650 in unofficial events.

Open Course Rugged: Sam

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "Ooooh wheee," said Sam Snead, "but there shore are a lot of trouble holes here."

The West Virginia slammer, now 52 but long as ever off the tee, had just finished a practice round over the vast Bellerive Country Club course, site of the U.S. Open Golf Tournament that begins Thursday.

"It's tough, plenty tough," he said Monday. "It's going to be tougher than any other Open course I've played."

And that takes in a lot of ground. Snead is making his 25th appearance in the Open. It's a phenomenon of golf that he has yet to win.

He's won almost everything else, more than 100 major tournaments, in a career that's becoming legendary. But the Open always has eluded him.

"You're going to be surprised at some of the scores played here," Snead drawled after his practice round over the 7,191-yard, par 70 course, longest ever for a U.S. Open.

Shrine Plot Trio Guilty

NEW YORK (AP) — Defense attorneys say they will seek a new trial for three members of the Black Liberation Front who face up to 10 years in prison on convictions of conspiracy to blow up U.S. national shrines.

U.S. Dist Judge William B. Herlands turned down moves to set aside the guilty verdict, reported by a jury of 11 men and one woman Monday night.

DEMOLITION PLOT

The three men, all New York City Negroes, were convicted of conspiring to blow up the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument and the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia — all government property.

They also were convicted of smuggling dynamite from Canada for the planned demolition.

The three men could be sentenced to a maximum of five years in prison and a fine of $10,000 on each of the two counts in the indictment. They were jailed to await sentencing Thursday.

The three — who allegedly cooked up the plot as a protest against racial discrimination — are: Robert S. Collier, 28, the alleged ringleader and a former employe of the New York City Public Library; Walter A. Bowe, 32, who was a judo instructor at an East Side Manhattan settlement and a supporter of the pro-Castro Fair Play for Cuba Committee; and Khaleel A. Sayyed, 22, on leave from electrical engineering studies at Howard University, Washington, D.C.

Also to be sentenced Thursday is Michelle Duclos, 26, a Canadian white woman who has been active in a Quebec Province separatist movement.

PLEADS GUILTY

Miss Duclos pleaded guilty to smuggling dynamite from Canada in connection with the destruction plot and testified for the government at the 18-day trial. The other charge in the indictment — conspiracy to destroy government property — was left in abeyance when the blonde Miss Duclos, former Montreal television personality, entered her plea.

The three men and Miss Duclos were arrested here last Feb. 16 by FBI agents and New York City police.

The plot was uncovered by Raymond A. Wood, 31, Negro undercover man on the New York City police force.

Texas Flood Toll At 26

SANDERSON, Tex. (AP)—A search for 10 persons missing after Friday's flood ended Monday night. The missing were presumed dead, making the toll 26.

"There's no place left to search," said Terrell County Sheriff Bill Cooksey.

"More bodies are going to be found by chance from time to time, and others won't ever be found," he said.

Sixteen bodies have been recovered since a 15-foot wall of water swept down Sanderson Canyon early Friday.

Seven men on foot followed the canyon through rough country 20 miles south as far as the Rio Grande. An Army helicopter flew the same course and continued 30 miles down the Rio Grande.

Searchers found about a dozen cars, some as far as three miles downstream from the town.

Decomposed Body

MERCEDES, Tex. (AP)—The decomposed body of a man was pulled from the Rio Grande Sunday. Authorities said identification may be impossible.

Red Threat Said Still Overhanging Dominican

WASHINGTON (AP) — Latin-American expert Jack Hood Vaughn says a substantial Communist threat still hangs over the Dominican Republic and could erupt in a new uprising in many areas of the nation at a future date.

Vaughn, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, said arms have been hidden in the countryside and Red leaders have gone into hiding there.

And he estimated the potential Communist strength as near 5,000.

Vaughn expressed his views on the ABC radio and television program "Issues and Answers" and made these other points:

—The United States has poured $20 million in food and relief funds into the Dominican Republic to prevent social chaos and "I see no end to this. It could go on for many months."

—Formation of a caretaker, coalition government is no nearer now than it was six weeks ago. Elections for a new democratic government are probably a year to a year and a half away.

—The Communist threat fits precisely into a pattern laid down in a meeting in Havana last November in which other nations including Venezuela, Guatemala, Colombia, were named as prime targets.

Houston Bids For Atom Lab

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston has presented the secretary of the Atomic Energy Commission its bid for an atomic and high-energy research laboratory.

About 50 cities and states are expected to make proposals seeking the research facility, for which an initial investment of $280 million and an annual budget of $75 million is in prospect.

Houston's presentation was drafted by the chamber of commerce and flown to Washington Monday. No details were disclosed.

Letters from the University of Houston, Rice University, the University of Texas and Texas A&M University reportedly backed the Houston bid.

Commentator Dead At 86

NEW YORK (AP)—H. V. Kaltenborn, dean of radio commentators, died Monday at the age of 86.

Kaltenborn suffered a heart attack while visiting a son here.

On his qualifications for broadcasting, Hans Von Kaltenborn once noted that the wife of the mayor of Fairbanks, Alaska, told him as they danced: "Boy, you're some spieler."

"I wish I could be as sure of a few things as that guy is about everything," a colleague once said after hearing Kaltenborn detail in his clipped, dignified accent the domestic and foreign policies that President Franklin D. Roosevelt would pursue in 1933.

Known for his ability to read a bulletin and quickly launch into an analysis of the story, he once said: "I would say whatever came into my head. However, I had my head trained so that I didn't get into too much trouble."

NO SCRIPT

Kaltenborn never worked from a script. He said during an 86th birthday interview last July 9: "I always have to laugh at the boys now because they always have to get something written down before they go on the air."

Kaltenborn pioneered on-the-air news analysis in 1922.

In January 1949, a few months after his surprise election victory over Thomas E. Dewey, former President Harry S. Truman told a public dinner in Washington of a Kaltenborn broadcast he had heard on election night.

Mimicking Kaltenborn, Truman quoted the news commentator: "The President is one million popular votes ahead, but when the country vote comes in Mr. Truman will be defeated by an overwhelming vote."

SWAP QUIPS

In an interview last year, Kaltenborn, said, "Truman has always been friendly to me ever since he and I exchanged quips about his imitation of me."

Kaltenborn, who quit school at 14 to become a lumberjack, ranked his coverage of Munich crisis in 1938 as his greatest professional achievement. It won him the personal compliments of former President Herbert Hoover.

A year and a half later, he was hired away from the Columbia Broadcasting System by the National Broadcasting Co.

Another president, Lyndon B. Johnson, telephoned to thank him for expressing great confidence in the chief executive after the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

MERCHANT'S SON

Kaltenborn, the son of Rudolph Von Kaltenborn, a Wisconsin merchant, entered broadcasting in 1922 while a member of the staff of the Brooklyn Eagle. He graduated cum laude from Harvard College.

Texas Livestock In Good Condition

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas livestock is entering the summer in good condition because of ample grazing, boosted by widespread showers the past six weeks, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said Monday.

"All classes of livestock are generally in good condition," the department reported, adding that stock water supplies are good.

Heavy rains, wind and hail, however, damaged some High Plains wheat and tore up cotton in Bailey, Dawson, Lynn, Terry and Hall counties.

FARMERS SPRAY

From the Low Plains southeastward to the Gulf of Mexico, generally open weather promoted cotton growth and enabled farmers to cultivate and spray for insects.

The department said combining of wheat and other small grains was active from the Caprock eastward to the blacklands. Planting of sorghum and cotton was pushed in the Low Plains with cotton cultivation and haying active in the eastern half of the state.

Wheat combining is 33 per cent complete, 18 per cent behind last year's pace. Oats combining and barley harvest also lags.

COTTON PLANTED

Ninety-one per cent of the state's cotton has been planted, and sorghum planting is 87 per cent complete.

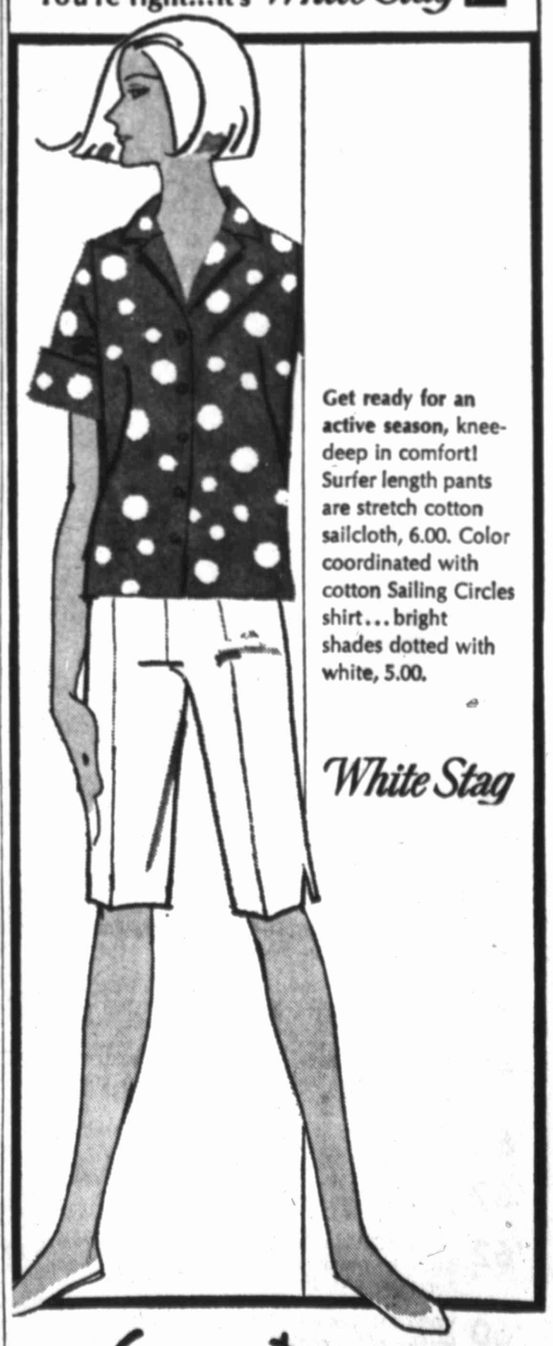

Corn prospects look very good, the department said, and peanut planting is well advanced.

Most High Plains vegetable areas had good rains, but hail damaged some Hereford potatoes.

In the trans - Pecos area, rains slowed onion harvest at Fort Stockton. Cantaloups made good progress in South Texas.
