AWAIT PERMIT BLANKS HERE

TUMLINSON RECEIVES DATA ON REDUCTION PROGRAM TODAY

Information on how to proceed in the cotton acreage reduction program has been received by O. G. Tumlinson, county agent, but up to noon today, no permit blanks had been received.

Farmers Monday continued to see about getting permits to plow under their cotton acreage.

In a letter of instruction, C. A. Cobb, cotton administrator, pointed out that "because of the fact that a large number of offer blanks were not filled out properly and also because there was, and still is, delay in sending to Washington many of the offers, and for other reasons, the administration is not able to issue a blanket acceptance of all offers and an authorization for every producer who has made an offer to begin destroying the crop on the land offered.

The department is sending to county agents to be mailed producers, notices that the secretary is accepting or modifying and accepting, offers for the cotton land. Where the offer blank is filled out incorrectly, "the administration is anxious that the producer be made aware of the errors in his offers before he starts destroying any of his crop," Mr. Cobb said, "so that he will have a clear understanding of the basis on which he is to proceed."

Recognizing that an "emergency exists," which makes it necessary for producers to plant feed or cover crops without waiting until formal notices are received, the agricultural adjustment administration is

EMPLOYERS TO START GETTING BLANKS ON NEXT THURSDAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 24—The industrial recovery administration started today on the biggest week of its career, preparing hurriedly for Thursday's zero hour in the mass re-employment campaign.

On Thursday, the country's employers will begin to get from their mail carriers the blanks which they may sign promising individually to raise pay and shorten working hours.

Roosevelt To Speak

Tonight, President Roosevelt himself, in a talk beginning at 9:30 (Eastern Standard time), will discuss the plan and the progress of his general recovery efforts. That will be the first big move in the attempt to get public support behind the "blanket" agreements.

Many employers already have promised informally to sign these compacts with President Roosevelt. But these, of course, are individual agreements. They are to be followed by general pledges by whole industries, to prevent unfair competition.

Two of these general agreements—called codes of fair competition—underwent public scrutiny today. They were presented by the oil and wool industries. Hugh S. Johnson, recovery chief, gave personal attention to the oil code, loaded with trouble.

He has acted already to dispel an apparently growing belief among some industrialists that a 40-hour week would be short enough.

A 40-hour week was in the cotton textile code, first submitted, first approved. Industries took that as a guide. Shipbuilders, for example, presented an elaborate case for 40 hours.

Johnson said 32 should be the shipbuilder's limit. He made clear that his only yardstick is: How much hour-reduction must each industry adopt to re-employ all the idle men it can economically absorb?

County Appraisers Will Be Announced

DALLAS, July 24. (AP)—James Shaw, Texas manager of the Home Owners' Loan corporation, said today that he hoped to be able to announce by Wednesday or Thursday the names of county appraisers and attorneys to handle the work in Texas.

He said the selections for all counties would be made simultaneously. They have been delayed because Texas congressmen have not yet chosen the men for the positions.

Tieup Threatened In Movie Industry

HOLLYWOOD, July 24 (AP)—Determined to avoid a threatened tieup of the entire movie industry, "if humanly possible," 11 studios advertised today for men to replace 665 sound technicians who went on strike Saturday midnight.

Because sound has come to be practically the essence of movie production, the strike would affect a large portion of the 27,000 workers in the industry. The sound men are seeking a contract embodying uniform wages and hours.

OKLAHOMA OIL MAN IS HELD CAPTIVE; HIS FRIEND IS FREED

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 24.—Ready to pay any ransom "within reason," the family of Charles F. Urschel, kidnaped oil millionaire, today waited word from his captors.

Meanwhile, W. R. Jarrett, oil man abducted with Urschel but later released, was reported to have identified a rogue's gallery picture as that of one of the machine gunners who snatched the men from a bridge game with their wives in the palatial Urschel home Saturday night.

Three Men Sought

Jarrett, who also was said to have gone on an unexplained mission Sunday, declined to comment and federal investigators, who took charge of the case, refused to make public the name of the man identified. It was learned at least three men, including the one identified, were sought.

Jarrett said the kidnapers treated their victims "like gentlemen," made no mention of ransom, and apparently tried to give the impression that the one later identified was Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, Oklahoma desperado.

"When we had gone a mile or so," Jarrett related, "the driver, the dark complexioned one who was giving orders, turned to the other and said, 'Floyd, give me a cigaret.' He bore down hard on the 'Floyd' but the fellow no more resembled Floyd than I do.

"When I got out of the car, I said 'Urschel, I know you're hard up but try to deal with them so you won't get hurt.' I said it just loud enough for them to hear.'"

In Excellent Health

Urschel was in excellent health and Mrs. Urschel expressed confidence. "Charles will work out all right."

Urschel, whose first wife, a sister of Tom Slick, late "king of wildcatters," died in 1931, married the

GUESTS AT GOLF CLUB ARE ROBBED

CHICAGO, Juy 24 (AP)—Suburban and city police pooled their resources today in an effort to capture five masked gunmen who terrorized eighty-two guests of the Olympic Golf and Country club and escaped. One report was that the robbers fled with $30,000 in cash and $14,000 in jewelry, but another was that the loss amounted to about $2,300.

The raid was carried out shortly before the conclusion of a dance, early Sunday.

Herding the guests and eleven employes of the club into the center of the dance floor, the gunmen forced their victims to lie down and toss their cash, pocketbooks, and jewelry into a pile. Those who hesitated to obey were kicked and otherwise abused.

RAINS DRENCH EAST TEXAS

TRAFFIC IS STOPPED AS CREEKS, RIVERS GO ON RAMPAGE

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, July 24—Torrential rains, aftermath of the tropical storm that swept inland around Freeport early Sunday, stopped rail and highway traffic over a wide section of East Texas today and sent creeks and rivers on a rampage.

The hardest hit section appeared to be between Nacogdoches and Shreveport, where downpours of 10 to 12 inches fell and marooned hundreds of motorists and stopped railway traffic.

Rain Continues

Houston received 4.29 inches of rain between late Friday and 8 a. m., today, according to C. E. Norquest, Houston weather man, and the heavy fall was continuing.

Several small sections of track on the Southern Pacific line between Houston and Shreveport were washed out and the Houston bound train at Nacogodoches was stopped there for a while.

A washout at Martin's creek between Carthage and Longview halted traffic on the Santa Fe between Longview and Beaumont.

EXHAUSTION HELD TO BLAME FOR MISHAP IN CONNECTICUT

(By The Associated Press)

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 24 — Britain's famous flying couple—Captain Jim and Amy Johnson Mollison—awakened at the Bridgeport hospital this morning, refreshed and smiling again at life.

After nine hours' sleep, they regarded more cheerfully the crackup in the salt marsh last night which ended their flight over the North Atlantic.

Plane Is Wrecked

Their plane "Seafarer," in which they flew from Pendine, Wales, planning to start over the ocean again to Bagdad, and thence back to England, lay in swampy grass at the rim of the Bridgeport airport, virtually a wreck.

Captain Mollison announced at noon that he and his wife will fly to New York tonight leaving Stratford in a borrowed Sikorsky amphibian plane at 6 p. m., for Floyd Bennett field.

Physical exhaustion caused the accident after the Mollisons had flown 39 hours from Pendine Sands, Wales, to within 60 miles of New York. Their gasoline nearly gone, they tried to bring the plane down on a runway at Bridgeport airport, only to have it shoot into marshlands and turn over.

"I was so tired I didn't know where I was headed," Mollison whispered as mechanics carried him and his wife away on stretchers made from fabric torn from the Seafarer.

"He couldn't see! He couldn't

GRAIN MARKET RESTRICTED

MINIMUM PRICES SET FOR RESUMPTION OF TRADING TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 24.—Minimum prices were fixed and drastic restrictions imposed for the resumption of trading in grain futures today.

The price minimums were fixed at the average levels of the closing figures of last Thursday and were announced by President Peter B. Carey of the Chicago Board of Trade, who described the action as a measure to benefit grain farmers now preparing to harvest their crops. It was also designed to prevent too great a decline as a result of liquidation of top-heavy speculative holdings.

Speculation Curbed

At the same time price fluctuation limits for any one day of 8 cents on wheat, 5 for corn, 4 for oats, and 8 for rye, with the closing price of the preceding day as the basis, were fixed to prevent speculation from effecting the market too much.

Trading hours were cut to give overworked brokers' clerks a chance to catch up with their work.

The new regulations, partly voluntary and partly due to directions from agricultural executives in Washington, are to be adopted by grain exchanges in other cities, including Kansas City, Minneapolis, Duluth, Portland and Seattle, it as indicated.

VICTIMS SHOT IN BACK OF THE HEAD

PAIR DISCOVERED ON ROADSIDE AT FORT WORTH TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, July 24.—The bodies of A. S. (Pete) Michael, 33, and a girl identified by finger prints as Geneva Cantrell, 19, were found on the roadside here today. Both had been shot in the back of the head.

The girl apparently had been attacked and her body dragged 40 paces to a clump of bushes beside the road.

The body of Michael had been thrown into a ditch two and a half yards from the car.

Blood Spots Found

A dented left fender indicated that the car had been forced to stop, probably struck by another machine. The hub cap on the left front wheel had been knocked off and thrown inside the automobile, a light coach. There were spots of blood on the hub cap and both the front and rear seats of the car were bloody.

The girl's shoes were found on the floor of the car under the steering wheel. In one of these was a box of snuff and a handkerchief. Her underclothing was on the fender of the car. Her hose, rolled into a bloody ball, were a few feet from her body.

The body of Michael was on its side, one arm under the head. There was a bullet wound in the back of his head. His forehead was bruised.

The girl's body as found behind a tree. She had been shot behind the right ear, the bullet coming out below the left ear. The body was clothed in a dress.

In the front seat of the car was a bill fold that appeared to have been torn apart. It contained only a few pennies and no mark of identification. The bill fold is believed to have belong to the girl.

Detectives said the couple apparently had been slain about

WEATHER DELAYS ARMADA TAKEOFF

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—Because of unfavorable weather General Italo Balbo today postponed until tomorrow the takeoff of his 24 plane armada on its return journey to Italy.

The general left the field to return to his hotel in New York City after waiting some four hours in the hope that fog conditions along the east coast would improve.

The motors of the 24 Italian planes were covered and naval boats were sent out to bring in the crews of the airships.

It is expected the air fleet will take off tomorrow if a report of favorable weather is received at that time.

WILEY POST EXPECTS SOME ONE TO BREAK WORLD FLIGHT RECORD IN NEAR FUTURE; ROBOT PILOT IS GIVEN PRAISE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 24—Wiley Post has no illusions about the longevity of that record of 7 days, 18 hours and 49 minutes he set in his dash around the globe. He thinks some one will break it in the not too distant future.

Sitting in comfort in an easy chair for the first time in more than a week, Post told yesterday of his adventures fighting the winds and fog of many lands. Asked what the fastest possible time around the world would be, he chuckled and said:

"Oh, about 30 seconds, I guess. No one really knows, but they're going to go faster and faster."

The robot pilot that helped him around the globe made a big hit with Post, he disclosed, despite some mechanical difficulty. He said he'd rather have it than a human co-pilot because it is more accurate.

"Being a lazy man," he said, "I let the robot do the work as much as possible. I trusted the ship to the robot from Edmonton till I was over Newark airport. It flew it every step from the first takeoff, too, until 30 minutes before I landed in Germany."

Post is sure he could have made the trip in five days if he had "the breaks" in weather.

"I thought it was going to be a pleasure trip," he said, "but the weather made it turn out otherwise. But the robot worked pretty well, except for the time the oil feed was broke.

"I was more than satisfied with the performance of the Winnie Mae, but just the same the journey had its tough spots. The toughest, I guess, was just before I came down out of the clouds and landed at Flat, in Alaska. I was so tired then that I just couldn't use my head. I should have stopped at Nome, but I was too anxious to get on, I guess."

Post, who ended his record shattering flight at 10:59, Eastern Standard time, Saturday night, had time yesterday only to have a few of the more obvious wrinkles pressed from

Try This Sauce To Enjoy The Fruits Of A Good Dinner

A dessert that is "different" affords a dramatic climax to a dinner. Right in your own home, and using fruit from your own trees or berries from your garden, you can serve a dessert famous the world over, the Italian dessert of cooked fruit served with Zabaglione. Zabaglione, by itself, is one of the most popular Italian desserts. As a sauce for fruit, it is unsurpassed fr a dessert.

• • •

Zabaglione Pear, Moneta

Bartlett pears are the best for this dessert, nice, large, but not too ripe, ones. Allow one pear for a serving, though it will not hurt to add a few extras because some guests may cry for another!

Peel the pears carefully with a sharp knife so they will be smooth. But leave the stems on. Cook slowly in enough water to cover them, to which you have added one pound of granulated sugar for every 12 pears, and a few slices of lemon peel. While cooking, keep the pan covered with a wet cloth. Also keep the pears covered with a wet cloth after they are cooked to prevent them from turning dark.

The Zabaglione sauce is poured over the pears as they are served—never before. You can serve them iced or hot, as the sauce can be served either way. If you want to do this dessert up in the grand Italian manner, which has brought fame to its cooks, serve without garnishing of any kind. The dish stands on its own merits!

• • •

Zabaglione Sauce, Moneta

Allow the yolk of one egg for each person to be served, plus one extra yolk for the dish. (You use only the egg yolks.)

Beat the yolks for about five minutes. Then for every yolk used, add one-half tablespoon of granulated sugar and continue to beat until the grains are well dissolved. Then add sherry wine (or cooking sherry), allowing one-half cup for each four yolks used, beating the mixture all the time, adding the sherry gradually.

• • •

When all the sherry has been added, set this mixture in the upper half of a double boiler, with boiling water in the lower half—and keep stirring. After a few minutes the eggs will begin to thicken and by constant stirring will keep their smooth and frothy consistency. It may be served by itself hot or cold, in parfait glasses. But if you have never had it served as sauce de luxe for pears, then a gastronomic treat awaits you.

Delight The Youngsters With A Party

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, July 24—Lucky the family that has a summer birthday child!

Vacations are such a long stretch to children that the right kind of a birthday party during the summer can be the most dramatic, memorable occasion of their young lives.

"Eats" are what make a party to children. And the way they are dressed up makes one party more of a high spot than another. Therefore, the Mother with imagination will plan her child's party so that every child's eyes will widen with pleasure when refreshment time rolls around.

A Jack-in-the-Box centerpiece is a sure-fire hit with children. You can buy one or make it yourself. Any store selling crepe paper will show you how. He should have some kind of a little favor for each child hidden in the bottom of this box, a toy whistle, a fancy ten-cent ring for the girls, a rubber ball with elastic attached so you can bounce it and still hold it, or any little trifle that will amuse a child.

Strings to the Gifts

Each gift should have a little paper string attached to it and run out to a place at the table. Then each place should have a snapper cap, to amuse the youngsters and keep them quiet while serving takes place. Also, it is a good idea to put fruit drops or little white mints, instead of nuts, in the nut dishes, because they are less likely to upset the children's digestion.

Of course you'll want ice cream for your party! If it is a late afternoon party, serve simple sandwiches and milk or cocoa and then ice cream and the birthday cake and the children will really get their supper meal and not be the worse for wear the next day!

Have your table all done up in decorative crepe paper, in pretty pinks, blues, greens or yellow and white, a touch of gilt in the shape of stars. You can make such cute doilies by fringing circles of pink crepe paper.

Plan Plenty of Games

And you can have your whole table fringed, too, by using rolls of pink or green crepe paper, cut in half-inch fringe to within four inches of one side. That plain strip will slip under your top covering and can be fastened to any table, thus dressing it up for the party.

Games for a party have to be arranged in advance. Giving every guest child one of the new funny masks of comic strip characters is a good beginning.

Then have competitive games, with little 10 cent prizes. Potato races, three-legged races (two children with the left leg of one fastened to the right leg of the other), ping pong, tables with fish pond, crokinole, tiddle-de-winks and other set games will take care of their amusement.

Don't have all active games—the children will get too tired out. Let them race around a half hour, then sit down to table games. And be sure to have prizes for every thing! Children just love prizes.

Here's a table that's sure to bring shouts of glee from youngsters at your birthday party. With a Jack-in-the-Box as centerpiece and surprise favors at each plate there's lots of fun in store for the little guests!

ANCIENT STRUCTURE LIKE OLD MAYAN TEMPLE DISCLOSED BY EXCAVATIONS

BY C. P. NUTTER

MEXICO, D. F., July 24 (AP)—Excavations in the heart of Mexico have disclosed an ancient structure like a Mayan temple, and have fired imaginations of students of that mysterious race.

Archaeologists were unwilling to pronounce it definitely of Mayan origin, but nevertheless said it might be such and intimated that their present theories might be upset regarding the tribe which inhabited the Yucatan peninsula and Central America and disappeared mysteriously about the 14th century.

On Site of Pyramid

The discovery was made in diggings near the Mexican national cathedral, on the site of the great Aztec central pyramid, which was destroyed by the Spanish conquistadores to provide material for the first church in the new world.

Origin of the Mayans and the reasons for their disappearance are as baffling as the temples they left for the jungles to reclaim in southeastern Mexico, but it has been doubted whether they ever inhabited Central Mexico.

Some months ago the Mexican government began removing old buildings on the central plaza, around which most of the recorded history of Mexico is written, in an attempt to settle the 400-year-old question of what was below the Aztec pyramid.

Human Bones Found

Excavators have found hundreds of human bones already, and it is possible they are those of Spaniards killed on the "tragic night" in 1520, when Hernan Cortes and his followers fled the fury of Aztec hordes after their Emperor Montezuma had been killed.

A score of Mexican archaeologists have been studying the findings—monuments, idols, pottery, and evidences of a great underground structure of some kind.

The foundation is like that of a temple discovered in Yucatan. It had been covered with cement and stone, indicating that a subsequent civilization wished to destroy monuments of an earlier race, but wanted to utilize the work in them.

Building bigger structures atop the old ones was a common practice in Mexican civilizations.

AGITATION FOR PROHIBITION STARTED SOON AFTER TEXAS WON INDEPENDENCE

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third and last of a series of stories on prohibition in Texas.)

• • •

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, July 24 (AP)—With the attention of the Texas electorate centered on the always argumentative question of prohibition on account of the approaching vote on both state and federal liquor questions, a glance into the record of previous prohibition elections proves interesting.

Texans will be called upon to decide August 26 whether to amend the state constitution to permit the sale of 3.2 per cent alcoholic beverages and to pass on ratification of repeal of the Eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution.

Long A State Issue

The record reveals that agitation for prohibition started shortly after Texas won its independence from Mexico. The movement made little headway but popped up again spasmodically in the widely scattered sections of the state until the time of the war between the states. During the war and post-war periods it died down again.

A vote on the question, however, was forced in 1887 after a strenuous campaign had been waged to get the legislature to submit it. The prohibitionists were defeated, 129,270 votes being recorded in favor of prohibition and 220,627 against it.

There came another lull in the movement and the next vote was forced in 1911 when the prohibitionists lost again, but by a much smaller margin and 237,393 against.

Ratified In 1918

Ratification of the Eighteenth amendment was effected in the legislature in the session held in February and March of 1918. The senate ratified the amendment first by a vote of 15 to seven. The house followed several days later 72 to 30.

The question of amending the state constitution to banish liquor from the commonwealth was submitted at the regular session in 1919. The vote was taken at a special election called for May 24 of that year. Oddly enough, there were fewere votes cast in that election than in the 1911 election. The records in the office of the secretary of state disclose that 159,723 voted for statewide prohibition and 140,099 against it, giving the prohibitionists their first state victory by a margin of little more than 19,000.

Statewide prohibition replaced local option prohibition that had been placed in the constitution when it was redrafted during the constitutional convention held in 1875.

NAZI CONTROL IS INCREASED

HITLER PARTY SCORES VICTORY IN CHURCH ELECTION SUNDAY

BERLIN, July 24 (AP)—Chancellor Hitler's Nazi government had control of German protestantism today as a result of general church elections and started its reorganization from the ground up.

Simultaneously the non-Nazi election board received complaints that voters had been intimidated and in consequence declared the balloting invalid.

About 400,000 elders and members of governing boards were chosen. They will name provincial synod delegates, who will select delegates to a national synod for nominating a reichs bishop, a post that has been in dispute for weeks.

Incomplete returns indicated electors, who apparently realized the futility of resistance, had heeded Chancellor Hitler's admonition that "the church expects protection from the state, which in turn is entitled to expect allegiance from the church" and had resigned themselves largely to fusion lists, making balloting superfluous.

FREIGHT RATE CUT IS SEEN

$100,000,000 REDUCTION BY SEPTEMBER 30 APPEARS SURE

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—Railroad freight rates, a large item in the cost of living, appeared certain today to be reduced on September 30 around $100,000,000 a year for the country as a whole.

The interstate commerce commission has dismissed appeals of carriers serving North and South Dakota from refusals of state commissions to approve increases in intrastate rates. At the same time it became known that seven railroads serving Oklahoma have withdrawn a plea for federal interference in that stage.

The federal rail tribunal has been considering whether to order a general decrease in basic freight rates throughout the country. Several weeks ago the commission took under consideration an appeal of farm organizations and producers of basic commodities for a general rate cut in line with current economic conditions.

None of the commission officials would discuss the situation today, but from other quarters it became known that members of the commission hope to have the decision ready for release by August 1.

Maintenance of education and public health costs an average of $8 per person in England annually.

LAWYERS QUIT FURR CASE

TWO MEMBERS OF THE DEFENSE COUNSEL NOT TO SERVE

WICHITA FALLS, July 24. (AP)—Two attorneys for Luther Milton Furr, charged with murder for the slaying of a policeman here last month, announced they had withdrawn from the defense.

They gave as their reason the transfer of the case on a change of venue to Young county. Judge Allen D. Montgomery transferred the case when it appeared unlikely that a jury could be obtained in Wichita county to try it.

Third To Continue

The court, which had appointed Barnard Martin and Ned McDaniel to defend the 20-year-old Wichita Falls man, relieved them of the case upon their application. A third attorney named with Martin and McDaniel to defend Furr indicated he would continue the defense.

Furr claimed he acted in self defense when Policeman C. S. Carlisle was wounded fatally and another officer, E. M. McCord, was wounded seriously. The officers were shot in trying to question him, according to McCord.

Jail Break Frustrated

Furr, Clyde Harrington and James F. Williams ere involved in a plot to break jail here Thursday. Jailers found improvised weapons, a 20-foot rope, made from bed sheets and other articles in their bunks.

Harrington's parole from a 20-year sentence imposed in Dallas county for robbery with firearms was revoked by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson as a result of the attempted jail break.

MOLLISONS

ase!" cried Mrs. Mollison, who is equally as famous with her husband in British flying annals.

Mollison and his wife, taking 400 gallons of gasoline and a lipstick as baggage, hopped from Wales at 6 a. m., Eastern Standard time, Saturday. They fought contrary winds across the Atlantic then encountered fog patches and head winds from Newfoundland down the coast.

Nosed Into Ditch

It was 9 p. m. last night when the black plane soared over Bridgeport airport. Fred Moller, airport manager, went aloft and tried to guide the Mollisons to the runway. The trans-Atlantic plane circled the field five times, with Mollison signaling frantically. Suddenly it shot down and nosed into a drainage ditch.

The Mollisons, who had previously cut the ignition switch to prevent fire, were thrown 15 feet clear of the ship. Attendants with pocket lamps, sought them in the darkness.

"For God's sake, come over here," Mollison cried. They found him lying in the marsh, and not far away they came on Mrs. Mollison. Attendants slashed fabric from the plane for stretchers and hastened the pair to a hospital.

"We found it a much more difficult journey than we ever anticipated," Mollison told doctors as they bandaged abrasions on his legs and treated cuts on his face. "We had many head winds on the way over."

Bandages were applied to Mrs. Mollison's right hand, lacerated in the crash, and abrasions on her legs were treated.

A score of small bridges on highways 7, 43, 8, 35 and 53 were reported washed out in Shelby and Panola counties.

Thousands of acres of corn and cotton are under water and live stock damage is expected to be heavy.

Hotels in towns in that section were crowded with waterbound motorists.

The rain at Center continued for 26 hours and was the heaviest recorded there in 17 years. Highways are not expected to be open until Tuesday.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—Cotton opened steady, 18-25 higher on steadier cables and trade buying. July 10.25A; Oct. 10.54; Dec. 10.73; Jan. 10.84; March 10.98; May 11.05. A—asked.

Trading was quite active. There was further liquidation but it was readily abseorbed by trade or commission house sources and prices held very steady during the early trading. October sold up to 10.56 on the initial demand and after reacting to 10.50 was ruling around 10.57 at the end of the first half hour with December at 10.78, making net advances of about 25 to 30 points on active positions.

After showing net advances of about 25 to 33 points on early demand, business in cotton tapered off and prices sagged slightly, with selling becoming a little more active after the reopening of the grain futures market. December sold off to 10.60, or about 23 points from the best and within 10 points of Saturday's close, but this dip brought increased buying. The market at midday was steady at 10.74 for December with active months generally showing net gains of 20 to 25 points.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 24 (AP) — Cotton had a very steady opening today. Prices eased slightly after the start, October dropping to 10.36 and December to 10.57, down 4 to 8 points from the opening, but the market soon rallied on over-the-week-end buying orders, October advancing to 10.49 and December to 10.69, or 27 to 29 points above Saturday's close.

Late in the first hour the market was quiet but steady.

The cotton market ruled comparatively quiet all morning. As stocks opened firmer and liquidation in cotton appeared to have run its course, prices gradually rallied until October traded at 10.56 and December at 10.77, or 34 to 37 points above Saturday's close. Later, as wheat turned irregular after a higher opening and rather heavy rains were reported in Texas, cotton eased on selling by ring traders, October dropping to 10.40 and December to 10.66, or 11 to 16 points under the highs. At these levels, October showed a net gain of 18 points while December was 26 points net higher.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—Financial markets started in today to get back some of the heavy losses suffered last week.

With the delayed opening at noon, a large volume of buying orders had piled up since Saturday on the theory that an interim rally, at least, was almost a certainty. While many traders were quick to seize profits on early advances of 1 to 6 or more points, realizing apparently was fairly well absorbed. While grain trading was restricted in Chicago, prices were steady to firm. Wheat was about 1 1-2 cents above the average price of hursday. Cotton got up around $1 a bale and other commodities were firm. The dollar sagged in foreign exchange markets. Bonds improved.

While shares were inclined to lose some of their early buoyancy after the first hour, gains of around 5 or more points were shown by National Distillers, Homestake Mining, Celanese, Auburn and U. S. Smelting. Gainers of 1 to 2 or more included U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Telephone, American Commercial Alcohol, Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio and Western Union. Case was a contradictory mover, dropping some 7 points under liquidation reported to be from Chicago. Deere was also off around 3.

Traders generally exhibited considerable more cheerfulness, although most of them were far from jubilant after their "house-cleaning."

World Parley May Extend Many Years

LONDON, July 24. (AP)—Far from dead, the world economic conference may live many years as a result of today's decision by the steering committee to remain in permanent session here although the conference will recess Thursday.

Mr. Hull looks upon the conference not as having failed but as a series of conferences of which the London parley is only the first.

Near Barrow and his wife, the officers found two machine guns, 34.45 caliber automatic pistols, and five revolvers.

Three Abandon Car

The three who escaped abandoned their car at Polk City, held up an oil station attendant, and proceeded toward Des Moines in the attendant's car. Somewhere en route they are believed to have left the woman said to be "Mrs. Barrow." Doubling back toward Guthrie Center, they turned off the main highway.

The five had been hidden in the woods for five days. Suspicion was aroused when Ed Penn, farmer, found blood-stained bandages in the woods while he was hunting blackberries.

Workers in a restaurant became suspicious after one of the men for several days had purchased five dinners to take with him.

Officers were notified and the search which led to the shooting was started.

One Wounded Earlier

Marvin Barrow gave his address as route 6, Dallas, Tex., where he said his mother, Mrs. C. B. Barrow, lives. He had been wounded in the head several days ago at a Fort Dodge tourist camp, Barrow said. In the battle today, he was shot through the hips and sustained a severe shoulder wound.

Officers were certain that Clyde Barrow and the woman also were wounded seriously. They believed the name, Jack Sherman, given for the third man, by Marvin Barrow, was an alias.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 24. (AP)—Secretary of War George H. Dern today, told the annual conference of governors "if the national industrial recovery act fails, something more radical will have to be tried, because our national existence will be at stake."

"For effective economic planning, such as we are embarking upon for the first time," Secretary Dern said, "state borders must to an extent be disregarded and the United States must be taken as one economic area.

More SAFETY—by 10 to 77%

Everyone knows that brakes may stop your wheels—but it takes tires that grip to stop your car.

And by actual, impartial test on flooded concrete, cars equipped with Goodyear Tires stop quicker than any other tire can stop them. The next best tire skidded 10% farther—and others skidded up to 77% farther than Goodyears!

Just look at a Goodyear and you'll see why that's so. Goodyears give you traction where you need it—in the CENTER of the tread where it contacts the road.

SAFETY from blowouts in every ply

When any ply in a tire breaks down, it increases the hazard of blowouts. But Goodyear builds every ply of every Goodyear Tire, a safety ply with Supertwist cord—a full ply from bead to bead. This patented ply material protects you from blowouts because it can stretch and come back under the heat and strain of driving. Any Goodyear dealer can show you how it keeps its life and stretch long after ordinary cords break down.

97% more mileage by actual records

Because Supertwist cord also increases mileage—because Goodyear treads are built tougher every year—the accurate records of the nation's largest bus fleets show that Goodyear average mileage has increased 97% in the past five years. And you get the same features—the same improvements in Goodyear Tires for your car.

The best time to buy is NOW

The price of everything's headed UP. Cotton's up 100%—rubber's up 100%—the price of tires is bound to follow. So check up your tires now and replace risky, worn-out, slippery tires with the best buy in safety—the biggest buy in mileage—Goodyear Tires—preferred by more people than the THREE next largest selling makes combined.

Thought For Today

Give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good because His mercy endureth forever.—Psalms 18:1.

God's mercy is a holy mercy which knows how to pardon sin, not to protect it.—Bishop Reynolds.

Farms To Aid

One of the most interesting of all the experiments the Roosevelt administration is going to make will be its venture in "subsistence farming" for industrial workers on the fringes of big cities.

A $25,000,000 fund is available for this work, and the first colonies will be established soon. What the stunt will amount to is simply this:

Land will be obtained on the edge of a city and will be subdivided into small farms of one, two or three acres. A small home, perhaps to cost $3000, will be established on each plot. In the middle of the colony will be a store, a playground and social hall, and the like.

Occupants of these homes will be industrial workers from the city. Each family will have enough land to raise vegetables, chickens and a little fruit—and, possibly, to keep a cow. And the idea is that these workers will not only get the benefits of fresh air, open country life, and so on; they will be far more independent of the uncertainties of industrial life than any workers can possibly be under ordinary conditions.

* * *

If the factory that employs one of these men shuts down, for instance, the man doesn't starve. He stays at home, raises his own food, keeps his expenses down to a very low minimum—and has, on the whole, a pretty fair sort of time.

Furthermore, while he is working he has his own source of supply just the same. The arrival of the shorter work week gives him ample time to cultivate his garden and look after his place. He does not need to spend as much on his day-to-day expenses as he did formerly. His money goes farther. He is more secure in every way.

That, at any rate, is the theory; and it looks as if the $25,000,000 that will go into the experiment will be money very well spent.

* * *

To be sure, it may not work out as expected.

It is quite possible, for example, that it will painfully narrow the market for the regular farmer. It may lead the worker into debt and give him more worries than he already has. There are half a dozen ways in which it may prove impractical.

LUBBOCK—at least the southwest part of it—is 'lousy' with red ants. They abound by the millions. Hundreds of ant beds are scattered about.

The Plainsman has a couple adjacent to his place and recently got some dope to kill 'em off.

Did it kill 'em off?

Nix. They got fat on it.

* * *

There are also many more flying bugs of various forms and descriptions this year than this writer has ever perceived in ten years on the South Plains.

If you want to test this out, go to bed early, light a bed lamp and try to read.

You'll find out this is no fairy story.

* * *

THERE are also more birds flying about this year, in The Plainsman's opinion. Big flocks of them are frequently seen, especially at that time of evening which would be twilight anywhere else.

What is the reason for all these things?

Is it due to the dry spell?

Somebody who knows will confer a favor upon The Plainsman and many another citizen if he'll write or call in on the matter.

JUST as a matter of routine, some newspaper syndicate, radio chain or magazine is overlooking a wonderful opportunity.

No one has yet secured the services of 'Sistie' Dall, 6, to express her opinions on the World Economic conference or problems of disarmament.

* * *

ANOTHER summer is nearly over and from all indications Lubbock has again been saved from the ministrations of a sensational evangelist.

It's been several years now since the old home town has been subjected to an attack by a member of the strong-voiced gentry who bravely and dauntlessly battle for the right—at so much a battle—in a so-called 'city-wide, co-operative revival'.

Maybe it's the depression and maybe it isn't, but anyway, we should be thankful for being spared.

* * *

The Plainsman has all the respect and admiration in the world for the sincere pastor or evangelist who lives as best a human being can as an example of his Saviour. Such a preacher of the Gospel, tending his flock and his numerous duties, making the rounds of the sick and the poor—an evangel of the Word—is among the first assets of any community.

But the big, blustering bird who comes into a city from heaven knows where, who stomps across the rostrum breaking chairs and otherwise disporting himself, gets no lilies from this quarter.

The evangelist or pastor who relies upon sensationalism, and cheap, raucus, showmanship to pack his house so collections will be large reminds The Plainsman too much of the old time 'doctor' who sold patent medicine at so much a bottle.

That's not religion. That's a racket.

* * *

HOW smart is a man who through intelligent operation of his own business piles up a tidy fortune and then tries to beat the stock market at the stock market's own game?

Of course, it's nobody's business but the fellow's who tries it but it's a fair question, anyway.

* * *

Today's best giggle:

Ever since Missouri plunged into 3.2 beer hordes of thirsty Kansans have been rushing into the neighboring state to slake their throats. To Kansas City, more than any other place, Kansans have come, leaving behind them a trail of dollars, spent not only for beer but for food and other things, too.

Now in Kansas City many a motorist is doing his bit in an effort to assure continuance of this added business.

On car windshields gleam stickers with the plea:

"Keep Kansas Dry!"

A PALM to Amarillo newspapermen who know how to get a good word in for the progress of their city—and who rarely fail to do so.

A couple of years ago Potter county, which hasn't anything in it but Amarillo, built a new courthouse—a pippin—eight stories in height.

Ever since the building was erected, news stories dealing with persons being jailed nearly always, when for outside consumption, carry the information that So-And-So is housed in a cell on the eighth floor of the Potter county courthouse".

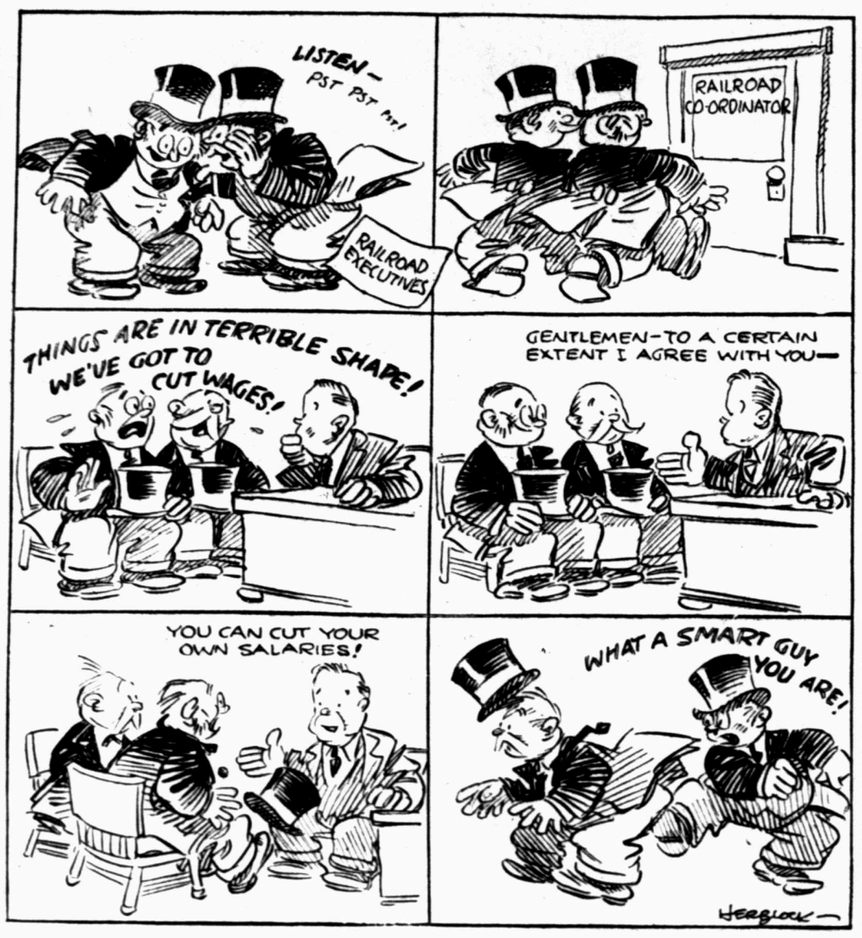

Much advertising has thus resulted for Amarillo.

The Terrible Plight of the Railroad Executives

Victorious Acreage Reduction Campaign Only The Start Of Cotton Relief Program; Careful Check Must Be Made

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Evening Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 24—"Cully Cobb is as happy as a boy wearing his first long pants," remarked Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace.

So was Wallace and everyone else in the agricultural adjustment administration. The campaign to sign up farmers to take 3,000,000 bales of cotton out of production had succeeded after days of doubt and nights of worry.

"Keystone of the whole recovery program!" exclaimed tired Cully Cobb, the Georgia farm journal editor who is chief of the A. A. A. cotton production section. Failure would have been a disheartening blow to the administration, which has difficulties enough.

For days and nights Cobb sat at his desk—like a presidential candidate receiving election returns. Telegrams streamed in from state capitals of the cotton belt, announcing latest totals.

Though victorious in his campaign for acreage reduction pledges, Uncle Sam's troubles with cotton have only started. Careful check must be made to see that these promised reductions are actually carried out, and moreover the farmers who make acreage cuts are to be compensated by the government for the sacrifices of a portion of their crop. There's still a lot to be done before the cotton relief job is finished.

Twenty-five thousand field workers were reaching 2,000,000 farmers, inspecting land and estimating crop possibilities, sometimes checking gin records and frequently filling contracts. Nearly 1000 tabulators, computers, editors, examiners, attorneys and review experts plugged away on three daily eight-hour shifts with comptometers, checking, adding and assorting hundreds of thousands of contracts.

Dutcher

The campaign closed at midnight, but it wasn't certain that it had gone over until late next day. Then Cully Cobb went home to get some sleep.

One reason the drys make such a poor showing in the repeal referenda is that their once mighty war chest is now a mere cigar box. They were able to raise only $500 one hears for their attempt to save Iowa.

New Statistics Chief

Dr. Isador Lubin, the economist carefully hand-picked by Secretary Perkins to become her commissioner of labor statistics has worked with Democrats, Republicans and Progressives in the shaping of legislation.

He was counsel for the Senate Manufactures Committee during the LaFollette inquiry into national planning and for Chairman Couzens and the Education and Labor Committee. Then he worked with Wagner of New York on the national recovery bill and other labor and relief measures.

Lubin now has a tremendous job before him—furnishing up-to-date and heretofore uncollected data to guide the recovery, public works and other emergency administrations.

He was one of Thorstein Veblen's students, but never became a technocrat.

* * *

Co-administrator Charles J. Brand of the A. A. A. presumably knows his farmers.

"Because of the proneness of farmers to misunderstand," he says, he hopes they will all be informed that they shouldn't plow under any cotton until the government has accepted their acreage reduction contracts.

The Postmaster's New Deal

Roosevelt's desire to place all postmasters under civil service—which would add the most important 15,000 to the classified lists—is entitled to full praise but it doesn't mean that Republicans everywhere won't be dumped out in favor of Democrats.

After examinations, Postmaster General Farley can pick his man from the highest ranking three. Democrats will predominate in those trios because many Republicans will feel it's not worth while to take the exams.

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, July 24 (AP)—Among the sixty-two persons named by the prohibitionists and the anti-prohibitionists as candidates to the Eighteenth amendment repeal convention there is only one woman.

Should the state vote dry, the convention would be made up wholly of men, provided none of the delegates elected sent an alternate. Should Texas vote wet, the repeal convention would have in attendance one woman, Mrs. J. M. Loving of Austin, provided she did not delegate the privilege to her alternate, and provided also E. A. Simpson of Amarillo did not let his alternate, Mrs. Jose Fay Peck, also of Amarillo, cast his vote.

Five Women Alternates

The prohibition convention did not pick a single woman candidate for delegate but it named four women alternates, while the anti-prohibitionists selected only the one woman delegate and the one woman alternate.

Women chosen by the prohibitionists for alternates are Mrs. J. W. Fincher of Houston, Mrs. L. B. Wiseman of Floresville, Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum of Austin and Mrs. W. C. Jones of Brady.

The women on either side were not given as much recognition as had been anticipated. Many women are active for repeal, and many others are working for retention of prohibition. Some think it would have been good strategy for the anti-prohibitionists to have placed more than two women on its roster of 62 delegates and alternates.

Dean Nominated

W. L. Dean of Huntsville, author of the Dean law, Texas' stringent prohibition enforcement statute who died since the convention, was one of the prohibition nominees for delegate.

F. L. Denison of Temple, who lost his effort to be chairman of the Texas highway commission when the senate refused confirmation of his appointment by Governor Miram A. Ferguson, is one of the anti-prohibition nominees for delegate.

Lubbock, Abernathy Win Opening Tournament Games

We wouldn't try to fool you, folks, and we don't ask you to accept our word for it—just come out and see for yourself if this baseball tournament isn't the warm substance when it comes to doing justice to the honorable and national pastime.

* * *

Those were a couple of great ball ames yesterday, ask anybody who s there. And the same clubs will with us all week. Four more even- balanced clubs, with four better unkers, indeed would be hard to d over the South Plains, or any her Plains. Take games in which e scores to 7 to 4 and 3 to 2, and e hits are 6 and 6 and 7 and 3 d you have some real contests. ey'll be with us again Tuesday d Wednesday afternoons and you n't be sorry you go.

* * *

After yesterday's games, we can understand better the half-joking statements made by some of the tournament participants in regard to the apparent lack of interest by clubs who stayed out. Maybe some of 'em were a little backward about stepping into such hot competition, and we can't blame them very much.

* * *

And that brings up the letter delivered, in person by the writer, this morning. We're printing it as his own suggestion and his own risk, and declare ourselves absolved of any disquieting circumstances which might therefrom result:

* * *

Mr. Collier Parris,
Avalanche-Journal,
Dear Collier:

I have been scanning the news items anxiously the past few days for information concerning your annual baseball tournament. I noticed that Dr. Fred Rich has not entered his Wolfforth Circus Clowns. Nothing that no very strong reason was given for his absence. I might enlighten the loyal fans about this line. It has been definitely established that Rich was unable to transport his ball club to Lubbock in uniform because the negro baseball club which purchased these uniforms on the installment plan demanded "cash or clothes!" They got the clothes. While this may be a legitimate reason for his club's absence, we believe nevertheless that by the sacrifice of a "depression farm or two" the boys could have saved the un'forms. We hasten to suggest that lack of intestinal fortitude might have kept the Wolfforth manager a few miles distant from Lubbock. Had we known that the mumbling-stumbling-fumbling Wolfforth impressario was going to experience such a change of temperature, we would have fed him a little raw beef and gun powder, and personally transported his nonox ball club to the scene of the tournament.

Respectfully,
(Signed) Jack Dav's.
A Hubber fan.

P. S. I live at 1107 College Avenue, and am not using an alias. We believe any team in the city junior league can beat Rich's thumbs-up ball club, contrary to his boasts that he can beat anything on the Plains.
(Signed) J. D.

TROUNCE POST AND LORENZO ON SUNDAY

NEXT SKIRMISHES TO BE PLAYED TUESDAY; TEAMS MAY ENTER

Baseball that had 'em guessing—smart baseball, fast baseball—ushered in the second annual Avalanche-Journal invitation tournament yesterday, and when the smoke of battle had drifted with the parting day, Abernathy and Lubbock had won their opening skirmishes over a pair of double-tough opponents.

A crowd of over 215 paid customers and probably that many free agents first saw Abernathy's hustling and steady ball club break an airtight deadlock in the eighth inning to defeat a slightly crestfallen Lorenzo team, 7 to 4, in a mild upset. The same crowd stayed and cheered the Lubbock Hubbers through a 3 to 2 victory over a Post aggregation. The latter club was made up of the best players of Post and the Lubbock Ramblers, but they got only three hits off Lefty Wright.

No Game Set Today

There is no game this afternoon, the unexpected shortage of ball clubs making it necessary to postpone second games until Tuesday and Wednesday. In the game Tuesday, Abernathy meets the Lubbock Hubbers. On Wednesday, Lorenzo plays Post, and one team will be eliminated from the tournament. Winners play winners and losers play losers until but one remains. Games Tuesday and Wednesday are to start at 3:30 o'clock.

The gate still is down for any additional clubs desiring to enter the tournament, but entries must be received before Tuesday's game. No entry fee is charged.

Yesterday's fans saw a couple of brilliant pitching duels, with all four moundsmen going the route for their respective clubs. Backed by support that was better than the average bush league fan sees, these chunkers put their hearts into the work and provided an afternoon of entertainment not frequently seen on South Plains diamonds.

Weaver Vs. Hanks

Carl Weaver, young, blue-eyed righthander, tangled with "Bud" Hanks, equally young and equally righthanded, in the opener. Lorenzo took a total of seven hits off Hanks, and Abernathy found Weaver for 11, four of them coming in the eighth when the Lorenzo cause was lost in a three-run scoring spree that broke a four-all deadlock.

Manager Johnnie Rodgers' team took a lead in the first, after Weaver had whiffed the first two batsmen. Barrett singled, Holloway singled and Scott Prather singled, the last blow scoring two runs, Holloway having swiped second. Benton was at first.

Hershel Galey, who was a member of the strong Hubber club a couple of seasons ago, played a fine game behind the bat for Lorenzo yesterday. His zipping triple in the second resulted in a run when Wampler bounded to short. A smart double play, anchored at the plate, saved two or three runs for Lorenzo in the third when Galey stepped back on the plate for a forced out and completed the double by shooting the pill to Keesee at first on Scott Prather's infield roll. It came after Lorenzo had taken a one-run lead in the third inning, Boney Surratt and Huckabee scoring when the Abernathy defense momentarily snapped. Abernathy scored twice in the fourth for the lead, after which there ensued a battle between the moundsmen that lasted until the eighth. Lorenzo tied the count at 4-all when Galey, who had singled, scored on Wampler's single. Weaver cracked then to let Holloway and Ansley get singles. He had whiffed Barrett, and then fanned Benton. Hanks hit one to centerfield that should have been a single, but R. V. Galey let it roll on for a home run, the pitcher winning his own ball game. In despair, Weaver left the hill, but went back in to fan R. D. Prather for the third out.

Hubbers Score First

Lefty Doss Wright and Rabbit Middleton were the pitching duel-

. . . Fred Lenhart was born in Bohemia. . . . Bep Van Klaveren comes from Rotterdam, which sounds natural enough . . . Kid Francis is a native Neapolitan. . . . Newboy Brown is a Jewish boy from Russia, but Al Brown is a Panama product. . . .

Walter Hagen's 15-year-old son, Walter, Jr., is going to be a wow one of these days. . . . he attended the Ryder Cup team to England. . . . Those Red Sox. . . . but let that go. . . . come out and see Abernathy and Lubbock play a real ball game Tuesday afternoon. . . . and it isn't the Abernathy of the South Plains league, but a team reinforced by out of town players that lined up with Abernathy before anybody else could get 'em. . . .

Americans Lose Davis Cup Play

BRITISH ADVANCE TO FINALS WHEN VINES, ALLISON BEATEN

AUTEUIL, France, July 24 (AP)—For the second time in three years, England's twin tennis aces, Fred Perry and H. W. (Bunny) Austin, have halted America's bid to regain the Davis cup in the interzone finals.

Just as they did in 1931, but under circumstances even more dramatic, Austin and Perry smashed through to victories in both of the final singles matches before a record crowd in Roland Garros stadium yesterday, gaining one by default through the collapse of the American champion, Ellsworth Vines, won the series four matches to one, and gained the right to battle France in the challenge round Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Austin Clinches Series

To Austin went the honor of clinching the series and ending for another year America's hopes of recapturing the trophy France has held ever since the "four musketeers," Rene Lacoste, Henri Cochet, Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, won it at Germantown in 1927.

Meeting Wilmer Allison in the first match of the day, with Great Britain holding a 2-1 lead, Austin polished off the Texan in four sets, 6-1, 7-9, 6-3, 6-4, but all the drama, oddly enough, was concentrated in the second duel between Perry and Vines.

Fighting to regain the prestige he lost through the terrific beating he took from Austin in the opening singles match Friday, Vines fought Perry point for point until he suddenly fainted from nervous exhaustion and the pain of an injured ankle with Perry at set point in the 14th game of the fifth set.

Falls On Face

The lanky American fell flat on his face, his long arms stretched full length in the red dust. Officials hurried applied wet towels to his face, then carried him to the clubhouse where he was revived.

Perry was awarded the victory, 1-6, 6-0, 4-6, 7-5, 7-6 default.

Vines put up a great battle against the No. 1 ranking British star until his ankle, injured on Friday, gave way in the sixth game of the fourth set when the American was leading 3-2.

Allison likewise gave Austin a hard fight, but the slender Briton again played a waiting game, letting the Texan beat himself on errors. Bunny won the match point in the fourth set when Allison netted.

America's only victory of the series came in the doubles where George Lott and John Van Ryn whipped Perry and George Patrick Hughes in straight sets on Saturday. In the opening singles matches Friday, Austin had beaten Vines and Perry had conquered Allison in straight sets.

England's chances of lifting the trophy this year look bright in view of Henri Cochet's disappointing play, but experts are wary of outright predictions of a French defeat.

FRENCH CRITICIZE AMERICAN METHODS

PARIS, July 24. (AP)—Sharp criticism of American methods, which it was asserted sent Ellsworth Vines and Wilmer Allison into the Davis cup matches with England "overtrained," developed today in the sporting columns of the Paris newspapers.

"The principal American adversary was their own captain, Bernon Prentice," charged Jean Augustin in the Paris Midi. "How can any country confide its sporting interests in a man who presented two players of great value, Vines and Allison, resembling cadavers instead of athletes?"

Vines was praised by several writers for his gameness, as were the British for a performance which in the opinion of most observers was the result of high-grade coaching and training.

"There seems no question the Americans under-estimated the British," remarked one writer.

The American team sails Wednesday on the Olympic for home.

SEABRIGHT TENNIS TOURNEY STARTED

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 24 (AP)—Ranking stars of the tennis world, headed by Frankie Parker, sensational New Orleans youngster, gathered today for the opening of the Seabright invitation tournament, first of the season's major grass court fixtures.

Despite his victory in the national clay court championships and his recent straight set conquest of Frank Shields in the Spring Lake invitation, Parker was seeded No. 2 behind blond Sidney Wood of New York. Shields, who flashed his best form in two years in beating Gregory S. Mangin, of Newark, national indoor titleholder, in the Crescent-Hamilton club invitation finals yesterday, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4, was seeded third and Mangin fourth.

Behind these were rated Bryant Grant of Atlanta, Manuel Alonso, New York, Samuel Gilpin 2nd., Philadelphia, and Karl Kamrath, Texas.

LUBBOCK POLO TEAM BEATEN

FAST RIDING LAMESA PLAYERS WIN THREE OF FIVE GAMES

Lamesa's fast riders and faster ponies took the "rubber" game of the five-tilt series yesterday to go one up on Captain Harold Griffith's Lubbock polo team.

The score was 5 to 4, and the game one of the closest and hardest fought in the history of the South Plains. Against Lamesa's best team, the Lubbock riders showed marked improvement over previous contests. Aided by Parkinson, a former Lamesa rider, the Lubbock team made it warm enough for the more experienced Lamesa outfit.

Lamesa Scores First

Lamesa was off to a one-goal lead in the first chukker and added two in the third. Lubbock registered its first tally in the third. Both teams scored in the fifth and Lamesa tallied the winning goal in the sixth, a Lubbock rally netting two scores but falling one goal short.

Bob Hester playing the No. 4 and No. 3 positions; Shorty Williamson, Gaylord Hankins and Parkinson did the Lubbock scoring. Captain Griffith played in No. 1 position, and Hankins in No. 2.

Fulkerson played No. 1 for Lamesa, and Sheriff Gus White scored two goals playing No. 2 position. E. Barron played No. 3 and S. Barron, high scorer with three goals, No. 4.

A fair-sized crowd attended the game, which was Lubbock's second home contest of the season.

TWO NEW YORK TEAMS LEAD IN LEAGUES

YANKEES WIN DOUBLE HEADER AS SENS LOSE TO TIGERS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The two New York clubs, again bracketed together as leaders of the major leagues, were the centers of baseball interest today as the Yankees forged ahead in their duel with Washington for first place in the American league and the Giants found their lead in the national dwindling before the onslaughts of the Chicago Cubs in spite of a remarkable effort to hold their own.

The Yanks picked just the right time yesterday to hand a pair of 8 to 1 lacings to the Cleveland Indians. Washington's Senators cracked up at the same time and dropped a 12 to 8 decision to the Detroit Tigers. And as a result the Yanks took the lead by a half game.

Giants Rally To Win

The Giants put on a sensational ninth inning rally, scoring seven runs off three pitchers in the final frame to beat their neighbors, the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 5. But the second place Cubs came through with a double victory over the Phillies, winning the opener 9 to 5 when Harvey Hendrick smashed a pinch home run with the bases full in the tenth, and the second game 3 to 1 on Pat Malone's five-hit pitching. Thus New York's lead was cut to two games.

The Tigers' triumph brought further changes in the standing of the junior circuit. Detroit moved from sixth place to fourth while Chicago's White Sox dropped a pair to Boston and went to fifth and Cleveland continued downward to sixth. The Red Sox beat the Pale Hose 6 to 2 and 7 to 1, collecting 11 blows in each game behind the steady hurling of Henry Johnson and George Pipgras and swept their five-game series.

The Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns had an off day.

The Cincinnati Reds checked Pittsburgh's threat to the National league leaders and moved up a notch to sixth place by defeating the Pirates twice, 6 to 1 and 6 to 4 when the veteran flingers, Red Lucas and Eppa Rixey displayed some expert elbowing and Chick Hafey led a 23-hit attack with five doubles.

The Boston Braves and St. Louis Cardinals exchanged places twice in the course of splitting a double-header and finished with Boston holding fourth place, which it captured Saturday. In the opener Ben Cantwell failed to match Tex Carleton in what started out ot be a battle between two of the league's leading pitchers. Carleton pitched seven-hit ball and the Cards slammed out a 12-0 victory. Rain halted the second game after six innings when the Braves held a 2-1 margin due to singles by Hal Lee and Shanty Hogan and Rabbit Maranville's fly in the fourth.

WOMEN TO VIE IN TOURNEY

QUALIFYING WILL END TOMORROW; MATCHES SET WEDNESDAY

The largest single field in Lubbock women's golf history is expected to begin match play in the annual Women's City open tournament Wednesday at the Lubbock Country club.

One more day of qualifying remains. Entries are given today and tomorrow in which to turn in 18-hole qualifying scores which shall determine medalist and the flight into which each player falls for match competition. All qualifying rounds must be played at the Meadowbrook.

Prizes Offered

Sixteen prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of the tournament, providing trophies for the worst dubber of the tournament as well as best medal player and best match player. Lubbock business firms and the golf clubs have subscribed generously to the prize fund. Winners and runners up in each flight, the medalist, winner of consolations in each flight and high scorer will be awarded prizes.

Mrs. Rhea Vernon, Meadowbrook ace, will be defending her championship in the tournament this week. She will be challenged by a strong field of golfers from her own course and from the Lubbock Country club.

After qualifying rounds at Meadowbrook, first round of match play will be played Wednesday at the Country club. Second rounds are slated for Meadowbrook and finals at the Country club.

For the first 38 days of the meeting at Riverside racing track, "mud larks" didn't get a chance. There was no rain.

BUCS GAIN ONE FULL GAME

DOWN OKLAHOMA CITY TWICE; BUFFALOES AND TULSA SPLIT

(By The Associated Press)

The hard-driving Galveston buccaneers stood a full game higher in the Texas league pennant struggle Monday by virtue of a double victory over the Oklahoma City Indians.

Storming Oklahoma City Sunday night on their profitable northern road trip, the Buccaneers swept a double-header, 3 to 1 and 2 to 0.

Hurling Wins Games

Fine pitching was largely responsible for Galveston's success. Thormahlen held the Indians to four hits in the short second game after his teammate, Tubbs, had held them in check with five hits in the first game.

By taking the pair of games, Galveston climbed to five games of the Houston Buffs, league leaders.

The Buffs pounded Posedel and Johns for 19 hits in the first game of their double-header with Tulsa to win easily, 12 to 4, but in the second game the Oilers evened things up by scoring a 9 to 2 victory.

Steers Lose Again

At Dallas the Steers' surprisingly disastrous home stand was accentuated by another defeat, this time at the hands of the San Antonio Missions, 3 to 1.

The Steers returned a few days ago from a profitable swing around the loop in which they won considerably more games than they lost. They had expected to move up in the league on their own grounds but so far have been unable to get going.

The Missins pounced on John Whitehead for their three runs in the sixth inning. In this inning Whitehead was hit for a double and two singles, which the Missions combined with a pair of walks, one intentional, to bring in their scores.

The Beaumont Exporters' game at Fort Worth was postponed on account of rain.

Catcher Gus Mancuso of the New York Giants caught a full double-header with a dislocated finger after having taken both ether and gas to have the ailing digit set the night before and getting only two hours of sleep.

LOAN PLAN IS EXPLAINED

SHAW REVEALS TERMS UNDER WHICH OWNERS MAY RECEIVE AID

DALLAS, July 14 (AP) — James Shaw, Texas manager of the Home Owners' Loan corporation, revealed today the terms under which has passed the government's plan established primarily to refinance mortgages on small homes.

"Loans to be eligible must be upon homes of valuation not exceeding $20,000 and the maximum that can be loaned is $14,000."

Notice-

Prospective Home Buyers

Read these two extracts from an interview with James Shaw Texas manager of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

Previous owners are rushing in to obtain loans to repossess their lost homes, those under danger of foreclosure are arranging to refinance their loans.

The day of "Low Priced Foreclosures" is about over. You will pay more for a home shortly.

I have for sale forty such foreclosure bargains today in Lubbock AT THE OLD PRICE for a short time only. Five room brick veneers as low as $949.00 and up to $1980 for the very best six room bricks.

"The law provides," said Shaw's statement, "also that in cases where citizens have lost their homes by foreclosure that the corporation may advance funds to redeem such homes . . .

If you are a SPOT CASH BUYER you will pay for putting off buying a home. Residents of Slaton, Plainview, Floydada, Levelland, Lamesa, O'Donnell: I have like bargains in your towns also. Write me for prices.

AMHERST SCORES WIN OVER ENOCHS

LITTLEFIELD, July 24 (Special)—Manager John Bradley's Amherst club showed signs of upsetting the league dope yesterday when it won a 5 to 3 victory over Enochs here in a South Plains League battle.

The game was called in the eighth inning on account of a sandstorm.

Walling, Weaver and Douglas Howell hit home runs for Enochs' three tallies, otherwise Pitcher Dixon held the Enochs club hitless and scoreless, the three hits being the only ones gathered from his fine exhibition. Amherst played errorless ball in the field.

Score:		R.	H.	E.
AMHERST	001 110 2—5	10	0
ENOCHS	020 001 0—3	3	1

TAHOKA BULLDOGS LOSE TO LAMESA

TAHOKA, July 24—(Special)—Manager Skip Taylor's Tahoka Bulldogs of the South Plains Baseball league lost a 4 to 3 decision to the bustling Lamesa club here yesterday before a large crowd.

The batting and fielding of Murray McWhorter and Banta featured the Lamesa play, with tight pitching on either side making for an extremely close ball game.

Tahoka originally was scheduled to play Lubbock at Lubbock in a league game, but the contest was postponed until after the Lubbock tournament, in which both Tahoka and Lamesa decided not to compete.

TENNIS CLASSES ANNOUNCED HERE

A series of tennis classes, open to the public, is scheduled to begin at the Texas Tech courts Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

Phillip D'Horton, former tennis instructor at the University of Washington and at the Olympic club of Seattle, will have charge of the sessions and will instruct students and townspeople in a 20-hour course.

Two lessons will be given each week. Tuesday classes will begin at 5:30 o'clock and Thursday sessions are to start at 3 o'clock.

Outsiders are encouraged to enroll in the short "school," the payment of $1 fee required of all except Texas Tech students.

Patrons are to report at the Tech courts if they desire to attend the sessions.

MOVES TO LOVINGTON

SEAGRAVES, (Special) — Dean Click, well known mechanic here, has moved to Lovington, N. M., where he will be in charge of the mechanical department of a garage. While here he was connected with the electric light plant. Before coming here Mr. Click was in the garage business.

LENORE KIGHT WINS HONORS

SUCCEEDS THE GREAT HELENE MADISON AS AQUATIC QUEEN

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Out of a series of record-smashing performances in the Women's National A. A. U. swimming championships, Lenore Kight stood today the unchallenged queen of America's girl aquatic stars, worthy successor to the great Helene Madison.

The 20-year-old Homestead, Pa., flash scored a clean sweep in the four free-style events of the four-day championship program which closed yesterday, broke one world's record, and swam the anchor leg on the Carnegie Library team which smashed another world's standard in the half mile relay.

Wins Others Easily

Only in the 440-yard event did Miss Kight eclipse a world's record but she won both the 880 and mile swims in such easy fashion that a record-pace was not needed. She was closely pressed only in the 100 meters.

Second honors for the meet went to Katherine Rawls, 15-year-old Fort Lauderdale youngster who retained her spring board diving and 300 meter medley championships, smashing the world's record in the latter event, but was dethroned by Margaret Hoffman of Scranton, Pa., in the 220 yard breast stroke.

RETURN TO RALLS

RALLS, (Special)—Earl Elms and his family have moved back from Dalhart where they have been for several years.

RISKO TO BATTLE TOMMY LOUGHRAN

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—Tommy Loughran and Johnny Risko crowd the youngsters out of the fight picture this week with a 10-round match in Mills stadium, Chicago, Wednesday night.

This duel of veteran heavyweights headlines an otherwise featureless national boxing card for the week. Both Risko and his Philadelphia rival have been freuently consigned to the fistic scrap heap in the last couple of years but both bob up now and then with victories over younger and more active, but decidedly less experienced, foes.

ROTARIANS PICK PIANIST

AIM OF HUNTERS BAD

SNYDER, (Special)—Ranchers in Scurry and Borden counties have warned against hunters shooting at jackrabbits from roads and highways. In numerous recent reports, hunters not only failed to hit rabbits but struck cattle instead. Unless hunters desist, ranchers say they will enforce the state law. Several cattle have been killed.

Furniture, rugs and crockery showed the poorest selling record in department stores in 1932, says a report from the University of Michigan.

ALL POINTS OF BOY SCOUT COMPASS OF ACTIVITY TOUCHED IN HIKE EVENT

All points of the Boy Scout compass of activity are touched in a scout-and-dad overnight hike and campfire court of honor. Lubbock boys and their fathers will have their third such event this week, from Friday afternoon to Saturday morning, at the S. A. Henry farm near the citys' northern limits.

"This is an all-round efficiency test," said D. T. Jennings, South Plains Area council executive, of Lubbock, "because it covers camping, cooking, advancement, organization, training, and the interest of parents in what their boys are doing in scouting."

The scouts' training, industry, and cooperative spirit are tested in how they set up and carry through their camp, how they ajust to its conditions in assignment and performance of individual duties, how well they cook, how their study is reflected in court of honor recognition. The parents' interest in the education of their sons is reflected in how they attend the court, the executive added.

Troops will be judged on 10 points.

Executive Jennings has issued a bulletin describing the way to reach the camp site. The encampment will begin to assume shape at 1 p. m. Friday, supper will be prepared and eaten, dishes washed, and other arrangements made for the night between 6 and 8 p. m., when the court of honor, scheduled to sit 90 minutes, will convene. After breakfast, final inspection of camp sites will be at 8 a. m. Saturday.

Other approaching events on the scout calendar are:

Review of first and second class and merit badge study Wednesday, beginning at 7:30 p. m., in scout headquarters in City hall.

Council-wide swimming meet Monday, August 7, beginning at 7:30 p. m., at City pool here.

AMAZING NEW TIRE

3 times safer—no extra cost

WHEN your car travels 40, 50 and 60—mile after mile—terrific heat is generated inside the tire. Rubber and fabric separate. A blister forms—and grows—until BANG! A blow-out! And the drag pulls your car off the road.

The Life-Saver Golden Ply, an amazing new feature of Goodrich Safety Silvertowns, resists intense heat. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus blisters don't form. Blow-outs are prevented by overcoming their cause.

At gruelling speeds on the world's fastest track, the new Goodrich Silvertown, with the Life-Saver Golden Ply, lasted three times as long as first quality tires that did not have this feature. These SILVERTOWNS never blew . . . for the Life-Saver Golden Ply refused to give. Proved themselves 3 times safer from blow-outs at high speeds.

And that isn't all. Tests with leading makes of tires prove that Goodrich Safety Silvertowns have the most skid-resisting tread on the road.

Let us show you this safest tire ever built—now three times safer from blow-outs. The new Goodrich Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires . . . so this blow-out protection is FREE!

I've got to keep my eyes on the field and a steady hand on the telegraph key every second. No wonder I am a steady smoker! But I do not worry about my nerves. I have smoked Camels for years. They are mild, and never disturb my nerves. I like them better."
