Bond is set for murder suspect

Bond was set at $250,000 for Jimmy Davis Beaver, 19, of Abilene, who was arrested this past week on a warrant charging him with the first degree murder of Jimmy Dean Parham, whose body was discovered at a Colorado City motel last Saturday morning.

"We have gotten a statement from the suspect," said Colorado City Police Chief David Montgomery, "and we are working towards presenting everything to the Grand Jury this next Thursday, Jan. 23."

"From the evidence and information which has been gathered to date," said Chief Montgomery, "I feel very confident in getting an indictment from the Grand Jury."

Chief Montgomery, has been leading the homicide investigation since the incident which occurred at the Western Motel was reported to the department at 12:49 a.m., on Saturday, Jan. 11.

The investigation by the Colorado City Police Department is continuing, gathering information connected to the homicide.

The Police Department investigation has revealed that five people, including Beaver, have been identified as being together in a car on the night of the homicide.

The department noted that the four individuals who have been identified as being in the car with Beaver on the night of the homicide include two males who reside in Abilene and two females who are residants of Sweetwater.

The four individuals have been contacted and made statements to the Police Department.

The department still awaits the completed results of the autopsy conducted on the body of Parham and on ballistics report on a weapon which was taken as evidence from the scene of the homicide.

Results from the preliminary autopsy have indicated that the 28-year-old Parham died as a result of two gunshot wounds.

A .25 caliber automatic pistol was recovered from the motel room, but Chief Montgomery has noted that ballistics reports on the weapon have not been received to indicate if the weapon was involved in the homicide.

Lieutenant Pat Taylor and Sergeant Tim Atkins of the department have been working on the investigation and gathering information from witnesses since Saturday.

Kenneth Crowe, an investigator from District Attorney Frank Conard's office and Detective Roger Berry of the Abilene Police Department are also involved in the on-going investigation.

Sixty-seven submit prison proposals

The Mitchell County proposal has been submitted to the Institutional Division of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ) and was one of the 63 communities which submitted 67 sites for consideration in the latest site solicitation process, before the deadline which came at noon on Wednesday.

Woody Anderson, Carl Guelker and Nancy Sullivan went to Huntsville, and submitted the proposal at the TDCJ offices at approximately 2 p.m., Tuesday afternoon.

"We submitted the proposal directly to Allen Sapp, Jr. and Bill Barry, members of the TDCJ site selection committee who were at last months luncheon presentation at the Civic Center in Colorado City," said Anderson. "The Mitchell County proposal was the 27th submitted."

This round of prison construction was made possible by the state's approval of constitutional amendment number 4 on last November's ballot, which approved $1.1 billion in bonds for the construction of 25,300 new prison beds.

Mitchell County led that statewide election in approving Proposition 4 by 89.2 percent of the vote.

The bidding process for the TDCJ sites has increased to the current 63 communities is an increase, more than participated in the last two selection rounds. In 1987, 35 proposals were submitted and in 1989, 46 applications were presented to the TDCJ.

"We submitted a respectable package," said Anderson.

The development committee has not revealed the incentives which have been offered to the TDCJ, citing the competitive nature of the bidding process.

"We have turned the proposal over to the TDCJ," said Anderson, "and the packages will remain confidential until the site selections are made public."

"The TDCJ has solicited proposals for sites for the location of various TDCJ facilities including 6750 maximum security beds, 6000 minimum/medium security beds and 12,000 substance abuse felony punishment beds," said Charles Brown, TDCJ official.

Thirty-one of the 63 communities which submitted proposals to the TDCJ for this round of selections have applied for prison site consideration in the past, he said.

"The TDCJ staff will conduct a thorough review and evaluation of each proposed site and prepare a 'short list' of qualified sites to the Texas Board of Criminal Justice, who make the final decisions as to site locations," said Brown.

"The review and evaluation process, including site visits by the TDCJ staff is anticipated to take several months," he said.

"Among the factors considered in the selection process are operational costs and considerations, logistical concerns, regionalization needs, staff recruitment and retention, site suitability, inmate catchment areas, community resources and public support," said Brown. "No single factor alone determines selection decisions. Each site is weighed and evaluated on its own merits."

The economic benefits associated with the facilities include approximately 800 employees with an annual payroll of over $16 million for a 2250-bed maximum security prison and an estimated 317 employees representing an annual payroll in excess of $6 million for a 1000-bed facility, he said.

Construction costs are estimated at near $80 million for a 2250-bed unit and $28 million for a 1000-bed unit, said Brown. Construction times range from about 18 months for the smaller facility to about two years for the larger unit.

The TDCJ is expected to announce the order that the TDCJ site selection staff will visit the proposed site locations, in approximately two weeks.

School's progress report released at public meeting

The Colorado Independent School District (ISD) held a public hearing to present the annual report on the 1990-91 Academic Excellence Indicator System.

Reily speaks to retired teachers

Charlene Reily was the featured speaker at Tuesday's monthly luncheon meeting of the Mitchell County Retired Teachers Association, held at the Wallace Center.

Mrs. D. M. Smith introduced Mrs. Reily to the group.

The part of Russia which Reily visited was from Leningrad (now St. Petersburg) to Moscow, and then by boat to the Black Sea and Kiev.

The people appeared to be angry toward their government, Reily told those in attendance at the meeting. It was a system which had not produced what had been promised -- food and housing.

Many of the people, she reported, continued to favor Communism.

Mrs. Reily related amusing events of a dinner party which was given by the owner of the boat on which they were traveling.

The effects of Chernobyl are apparent, said Reily. Food for human consumption is grown on contaminated soil.

In nearby cities, buildings are washed daily to remove the contaminated dust.

How to bridge the distance between the United States and Russia is a problem of which we are aware, she said in concluding.

Mrs. Godwin gave a health tip to those in attendance, based on the need for calcium for the growing and aging body.

Members in attendance included Betsy Aycock, Eddie Barclay, Florence Bodine, Fern Coon, Frances Cooper, Mary Ellis, Fanny Fae Feaster, Frances Godwin, Nadine Gordon, Mabel Merritt, Minnie Lee Moore, Mamie Lou New, Lonie Pruitt, Peggy Ratliff, Wilma Reynolds, Gene Rowe, Earline Sellier, Dawn Shaw, Alma Smith, Lucy Thomas and Clorine Wiman.

The purpose of the program is to better inform West Texas Sheep producers about wool production and marketing strategies. The program will feature two panel discussions; one will be made up of wool buyers, the other of warehousemen. There will also be an update given on the Wool Act.

The second meeting is the Texas Wool School, which will start at 9:00 a.m. January 27. Dr. George Ahlschwede, Extension Sheep and Goat Specialist and school coordinator said the season to plan and implement a good wool preparation program is approaching.

The school is designed to help producers concentrate on proper wool preparation which should translate into added income at shearing. The day-long program will combine classroom instruction and actual fleece and sheep work.

This program will feature speakers from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service as well as representatives from the American Sheep Industry from Colorado and Montana.

The Texas A&M Center is located north of San Angelo on U.S. Highway 87. For more information call the Mitchell County Extension office at 728-3111.

CHOOSING THE FAMILY CAR OF THE YEAR
Why so important?

Chevrolet Lumina Sedan: Family Circle's "Domestic Family Car of the Year." The title alone is honorable...especially for two straight years. But the value of this award goes beyond that and carries as much — if not more — meaning as Motor Trend's "Car of the Year." Why? Because Family Circle's "Family Car of the Year" is the ONLY award chosen solely by the consumers that drive them. And here's what drives the consumers...

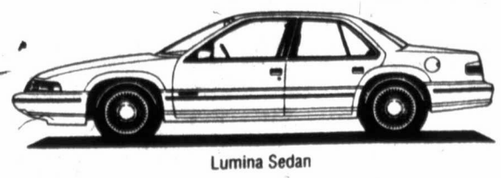

Questionnaire criteria

Respondents were asked to rate their own vehicles according to a satisfaction index of Completely Satisfied, Acceptable, Fair, or Not Satisfied in the following categories:

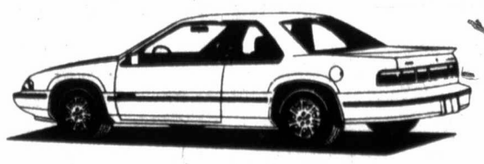

- Performance and Handling
- Safety
- Dependability/Reliability
- Appearance and Styling
- Value for the Money
- Space and Comfort
- Satisfaction with Dealer
- Suitability for Intended Use

And the winner is...

For the second consecutive year, the Chevrolet Lumina Sedan topped the charts. Respondents again cited Performance and Handling, Space and Comfort, Safety, Appearance and Styling, and Satisfaction with Dealer as their favorite Lumina features. And it's easy to see why.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

On Thursday, January 23, 1992, report cards for the first semester will be sent home. For those students in grades 3, 5, 7, 9, and 11, TAAS results will accompany the report card.

Because TAAS results are sometimes difficult to understand, the Colorado ISD will be having an informal meeting to help parents understand the TAAS format, and we encourage any parent to attend.

The meeting will be held on January 23, 1992, in the CHS auditorium from 7:00-7:30 p.m. All TAAS scores will remain confidential; we will only discuss how you can interpret your child's results. Hope to see you there.

Sincerely,
Kitten Arthur
