Age Is No Problem In This Marriage

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Wherever Pablo Casals is, a beautiful young woman is always nearby. Even at rehearsals, there she sits, a rapturous little smile on her face, ready with a gesture of approval if he should turn toward her.

"I like to be there, to help if I can; if not, to listen and enjoy it. We're separated only when I go to market," says Marta Montane de Casals.

She is the grave-eyed Puerto Rican girl Casals took as his fourth wife five years ago amid some worldwide headshaking over May-December marriages.

The famous cellist and conductor is a vigorous 85. Martita — everyone uses the dimunitive form of her name—will be 26 in November.

"I never think of the difference in our ages," she says. "Our life is so full, so happy, so wonderful. Once people see us, they understand—I hope they do. I wish many others were as happy as we are."

Small, graceful, classic-featured Martita has a serenity and dignity that make her seem more mature than her 2½ decades. She dresses simply—"My husband and I like everything conservative"—and attracts as little attention as possible to herself.

Her conversation, which centers around her husband as often as she is able to swerve it that way, indicates their closeness.

Martita met short, stocky, balding Casals in 1954, when she won a $1,000 prize to study cello under his direction at Prades, France, where he conducts an annual music festival. For four years before that she had studied cello in New York City, and learned excellent English. She also speaks Spanish, French and Catalan.

She seldom plays the cello now. "I have more important things to do. I have no personal aspirations, in the sense of doing anything myself. I am content to be just his wife. More than content.

"Being with him is the most wonderful education, in every respect—a privilege. I consider myself very lucky, but lucky is not the word. It's not deep enough."

When Casals is not giving concerts or conducting classes at music festivals somewhere around the world, the couple live in a house by the sea in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Every morning they go for a walk along the beach.

"He always finds such inspiration from nature," she says. "The way he speaks of it raises you up with him. It makes the day. Like all great people he has greater sensitivity to things of nature."

After the walk he plays Bach preludes for awhile — "He says they're like a benediction to the house in the morning"—then they breakfast and begin work. He composes and plays; she takes care of correspondence.

"Correspondence is very big and complicated," she sighs. "It is wonderful how the whole world wants to consult him. He would like to answer every letter."

After lunch he rests for an hour and Martita takes care of the eight-room house and garden, with the help of one servant. She does most of the cooking too, "but I can't say I'm an extraordinary cook. He's not a large eater anyway, so that doesn't make much matter. But he does like to have a very organized household. He likes order in everything."

She worries about him, sometimes, because "he conducts with all his heart and emotion. He doesn't save himself."

"With him all the emotions are exalted," she says. "I think in every respect he feels more than others. If he's sad, he's sadder than anybody else, and if he's happy, he's happier."

She shakes her head in admiration at the thought of the unusual man she married.

"I think I have a complete life, and will have it as long as I have my husband."

The Gardeners Corner

WHEN THE LADY said she was planning a neighborhood crabgrass-killing lawn party she was serious. Crabgrass has no respect for property lines; it needs only a breeze to help it cross boundaries. Unless the entire neighborhood takes steps to eradicate the annual pesky weed, you'll get it despite solo efforts to fight it.

Ingredients for such a lawn party are enough crabgrass killer to cover all lawn areas, willing hands, a pool of available equipment and workers who will move from house to house. You could wind up with a cookout celebration for the weed vigilantes. You might even become reacquainted with your neighbors after the winter hibernation.

Crabgrass sprouts each year from seeds produced the previous season. It grows quickly, choking out desirable grasses.

The most successful method of eradicating crabgrass is with a pre-emergence crabgrass killer that destroys the weed seeds as they germinate and before they cause serious problems.

Calcium arsenate, one effective chemical, will retain some strength for several years. Application in powder form should be at the rate of 12 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

Many chemical companies produce crabgrass killers. Some tested chemicals are dacthal and zytron.

The Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station reported that dacthal will not harm your hard-working earthworm allies. Nor will zytron when applied at the rate recommended by the manufacturer. At double the rate, the earthworm population was reduced by 52 per cent.

Pax, an arsenical product, is effective against some soil insects including beetle grubs, but it is harmful to earthworms.

Tricalcium arsenate controls beetle grubs but is lethal to earthworms. Chlordane, another crabgrass control, reduced the number of earthworms by 89 per cent when applied at rates recommended for crabgrass control in a station test.

Diphenatrile had no apparent effect on beetle grubs or earthworms.

Dr. John F. Ahrens of the Connecticut station said that no cultural practice was more important in controlling crabgrass on an established lawn than proper height of mowing.

A test with 11 different turf grasses showed that raising the mowing height from one inch to two inches reduced stands of crabgrass from 33 to 12 plants to the square foot.

Dr. Ahrens also reported that some pre-emergence crabgrass killers, particularly zytron and calcium propyl arsonate, also were effective in the early seedling stages.

Herbicides that control only emerged crabgrass must be applied several times during the season.

The manufacturer of dacthal (Diamond Chemicals) reports that it is safe for pets and people. The recommended dosage is 10-12 pounds per acre. It is also advertised as effective against witchgrass, goosegrass, green and yellow foxtail and such broadleaf weeds as carpetweed, common chickweed, lambsquarter and purslane.

The turnip is the source of a new insecticide harmless to man. Two University of Wisconsin researchers reported they discovered the insecticidal value of the compund two - phenylisothiocyanate when they observed that vinegar flies placed in jars of mashed raw turnips died.

The insecticide reportedly is effective against houseflies, aphids, Mexican bean beetles, German cockroaches and mites.

Odd Telling Of Wedding

DEARLY BELOVED. By Anne Morrow Lindbergh.

The effects of a wedding on the "supporting cast" — practically everyone except the bride and groom—form the basis of this novel.

It is written from the viewpoint of each character, one to a chapter. There is a brief account of the preliminary hours and a final description of the wedding supper. But most of the story consists of the thoughts that run through the minds of the various individuals during the marriage service itself.

There are, particularly, the mother of the bride, whose marriage has been reasonably normal, and the mother of the groom, who has had some problems in her life. In addition there are such figures as the best man, a spinster aunt, an uncle and a bridesmaid.

Somewhere in this supposedly psychological study there is a lost personality—the father of the bride. And as a corollary, the males in this book are rather a strange lot. There is a grandfather who has a few fuzzy recollections of the olden days, but he seems rather ineffectual.

The reader may have the feeling that with the bride and groom barely mentioned, this has been a pretty strange account of a wedding ceremony.

Perhaps women readers will get a stirring of emotions out of this novel. Male readers are likely to be filled with bafflement.

"....And take up each of you a stone upon his shoulder, according to the number of the tribes of people of Israel, that this may be a sign among you, when your children ask in time to come, 'what do those stones mean to you?'" Then you shall tell them that the waters of the Jordan were cut off before the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord."

Joshua 4: 5-7 (read verses 1-14)

Memorials are always essential to men. They soon forget their heritage without memorials. Annual birthday parties within the family circle are memorials. Children who try to forget how old they are getting quit having birthdays. Fourth of July celebrations are memorials for American people, as they remember their heritage and the founding principles of the American way of life. When children ask, "What is the Fourth?" parents have a wonderful opportunity to indoctrinate their children in the American way. Learning about America early in life, insures that a child will grow up with a strong sense of American heritage.

And the church? It too has its memorials. The Cross is one that we see everywhere. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper is also a memorial. When they are revered in the home and proclaimed to the children, they insure that the children will mature in the Christian faith.

'Creeping Capitalism' May Be A Big Factor By 1976

By INEZ ROBB

Many men, women and children now alive will be around on July 4, 1976, to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence — to celebrate the grand and glorious conclusion of the second century of independence of the world's oldest going democracy or republic.

And let's not have any fights in the alley over which it is—democracy or republic. It's a splendid mixture of both, and most of us are content and proud to cheer the nation for what it is: a land of freedom and opportunity in which, for two centuries, her citizens have had the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

It is one woman's optimistic opinion that on July 4, 1976, freedom, liberty and democracy will not only be more secure than ever for the United States of America, but for many other sections of the world, too.

Far from being buried by Nikita or living under the hammer and sickle in 1976, we shall probably be watching the substantial inroads made in the Communist empire by "creeping capitalism" it's been creeping along at a steady pace for some years now). Let him worry about his own flag.

By 1976 the wave of the future will be that launched so valiantly by our forefathers on July 4, 1776. They not only spread before Americans but before the world, on that day, one of the most magnificient, stirring and poetic documents ever devised by man, but a mighty handbook on revolution that has inspired and continues to inspire peoples the world around.

We must be willing to take proud responsibility for the fact that the Declaration, our own blueprint for freedom, has been and still is continuing to prod and serve as a guide for other peoples seeking freedom.

If much of the world seems in turmoil now, striving for independence and freedom, we can trace it to that wonderfully stirring document, the Declaration of Independence. It is not at all inconceivable that the 200th anniversary of the Declaration will be a cause for a world-wide celebration.

Even now, in the midst of a sea of troubles, it is becoming apparent that the world is reaching another of its great turning points. The growing economic union of Western Europe, certainly to be followed eventually by some kind of loose political federation, is a historical moment as far-reaching in its consequences for modern man as the Renaissance was for his forebears.

The potentialities of such a union, when yoked with the power of this nation, are so solid and stunning that already Khrushchev, who has grasped all the implications, is angrily denouncing and threatening it. He sees the union for what it is: the greatest challenge to communism yet mounted by free men.

By 1976 the union will be a powerful political fact, with probably 240 million West Europeans and at least 200 million Americans presenting a formidable front to any challenger and a friendly one to those who need help or guidance in the manner of the Declaration.

It is not too early for this nation to begin to plan a celebration for 1976 that will lift the roof off the world and rock the stars. It is not too soon to begin the appointment of national and local committees to consider what form the commemoration should take.

The 200th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, an incomparable document and rock on which our national life is founded, should be an occasion as grand and glorious as the document itself.

A Junior Editors Quiz About SHIPS

QUESTION: Why does an ocean liner have a smokestack in the middle and a Great Lakes steamship one at the back?

• • •

ANSWER: The position of the smokestack in a steamer will generally show where the heavy engines and boilers are located. In an ocean liner such as we show at the top, the main weight of the machinery is generally in the middle, because this tends to make the ship more stable as she plunges up and down in heavy waves. The reason that ore-carrying and grain-carrying ships such as those which sail the Great Lakes carry their smoke stack far astern is shown in our middle picture. The whole body of such a ship is free for loading by the chutes shown here leading down into the ship's hold. Such a vessel can be loaded in a very short time. Oil tankers are built along similar lines. These tankers and ore ships have proven to be so practical and efficient that a trend toward moving the smoke stack back to the rear has even taken place in many ocean-going ships (lower picture.) With such a design, the shaft leading from engine to propeller is shorter and cargo can be better handled.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Float a bit of plank and put a stone in the center. Create some artificial waves with a stick or your foot and notice how stable it is as compared with one on which the stone is placed near one end.

Star System Defended By Rock Hudson

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm incensed!" exclaimed Rock Hudson.

Rock, one of the world's film box office favorites, was angry at recent critics — most of them anonymous studio spokesmen—who have predicted the Hollywood star system is through.

Their reasons are it is too expensive and places too much power in the hands of capricious actors and actresses.

Hudson, one of the first stars to fight back publicly, spoke his mind ad lib at a recent luncheon at a theatrical haunt here. He expressed particular annoyance at criticism blaming stars for running up costs on two of history's most expensive movies — 'Mutiny on the Bounty," and "Cleopatra."

"It's nothing but sensationalism the way Marlon Brando and Elizabeth Taylor have been abused as persons," he fumed.

"The salary of a star isn't the prohibitive factor. It's studio errors that usually run up the bills. Then someone wants to put the blame on the star.

"Well, there are a lot of people who are against the star system —but most of them are not stars. I don't see anything against the star system.

"In any case, it is the public that makes the system. The people pick their own favorites."

With that blast out of his system, the big, good-natured ex-letter carrier from Winnetka, Ill., relaxed and pitched into his steak.

Rock, who now lets other postmen deliver his money to the bank, reminisced about some of the other jobs he had held before he soared to success as a movie actor. He was a short order cook, soda jerk, piano mover, railway expressmen, butcher and grocery clerk.

"I think I had most fun being a short order cook," he said. "I still enjoy cooking at home—when I can show off.

"Every job has its pros and cons. The main pro about film acting for me is that, if I have to work, it's the only work I love to do.

"But I'd rather lie on a beach. I could spend all my life on a beach.

"The main con trouble with acting? There isn't enough anonymity.

"Therefore you have to restrict yourself about where you go and what you do. Sometimes, in some places, you can't even get out and go for a walk.

"And being in the public eye forces you to be too conscious about yourself. You have to worry about a lot of small concerns thata shouldn't really matter—such as whether your tie is straight."

Rock says his goal is "never to stop enjoying life. I like to get interested in new projects, exhaust them, then go on to new projects. I've tried sailing, skin diving, water skiing and golf."

I Fall To Pieces . . .

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The darndest thing happened while Rocky Ridge firemen were moving their fire station.

It fell to pieces.

Volunteer firemen in suburban Rocky Ridge raised the station from its foundation and got it onto a flat bed trailer.

Fire station and truck had just started moving when the building collapsed.

The firemen are now moving their station piece by piece to the new site where it will be rebuilt.

Local Sports Aplenty Lined Up For 'Fourth'

A "sporty" Fourth of July is in prospect here Wednesday, when a wide variety of activities will be cramming the local calendar.

In the realm of baseball, the Pony League's Snyder National Bank Rebels and Canyon Reef Sports Center Sports are to bump heads on the Pony League diamond beginning at 2 p.m., and that game will be followed by a battle matching the Abilene Colt Leaguers and the Snyder Colt All-Stars on the same site.

A softball doubleheader has been lined up, also, and will involve the Abilene Merchants and Snyder Merchants. The first game is set to get underway at 7:30 p.m. on the league field located south of the high school campus.

Swimming holds the spotlight from 5-7 p.m. at the Towle Park Pool, when a meet will be run off for boys and girls aged 17 and under. Diving competition will also help to fill the meet's bill, as will the crowning of Miss Towle Pool at the conclusion of the festivities.

Finals in the Scurry County Tennis Tournament are also scheduled to be played throughout the day and evening—at times decided upon by the competing parties.

COMPETING FOR HONOR — From left are Suzanne Shearburn, Candy Bass and Susan Lamb—three of the girls who will be trying for the title of Miss Towle Pool Wednesday as a highlight of the swimming meet being held here that day.

Oilers Wax Greenhill; Smith Wins

Harlin's Oilers sidetracked Greenhill Baptist here Monday night, scoring a 9-2 City Softball League win to give them a firmer grip on second place behind the leading nine, Denson Gulf.

Tommy Hester chunked the victory, and helped himself home with a two-run homer in the seventh and a single. Myers was charged with the loss.

The Oilers blasted out 17 base knocks altogether. Mert Creswell doubled and singled for a perfect night, as did Gene Williams, while Wendell Autry added three singles to the cause in four trips and Joe Feagan singled twice in three appearances.

Greenhill tallied its two runs in the seventh when Hataway doubled and Kokomo Lloyd drove in a pair with a timely single.

Hester was touched for four singles during his route-going tenure.

R. E. Smith blanked Sunray 10-0 in the other contest of the night.

Potsy Neeper was the victor in that one and Dub Holt the loser.

For Smith, Kenneth Drake and Robbie Robinson doubled in the first, Willie Davis and Wayne Glass added two more doubles in the third, and Neeper followed up with another of same in the fourth.

Sunray had three players landing hits—all singles—including Clint Gregory, Shotgun Richey and Burney.

SPORTS

Buffs Stall Cats; Braves Win, 6-4

The Snyder Savings and Loan Buffs pushed over three runs in the sixth Monday to mark up a 3-1 victory over the Rotan Cats in a battle of the Pony League front runners. The win increased the Buff's advantage over the second-place Cats to a game and a half.

David Holt chunked the one-hit triumph. Charles McCall singled in the first for the sole Cat bingle of the evening. Meanwhile, Holt struck out 11 and walked six during his tour of duty.

Starter Clyde McKimmey was the loser after being jerked in the big sixth in favor of Gary Trim.

Bill Blum led off that inning by walking, then Roy Kizer followed him with a single. Billy West singled them both home and soon scored himself when Bill Taylor drew a pass with the bases loaded.

Buff first sacker Ray Kizer was the only player in the game garnering more than one hit. He laced out singles in the fifth and seventh frames.

In other Pony action of the evening, the Optimist Club Braves nudged the Canyon Reef Sports Center Sports 6-4 behind the pitching and hitting of Tony McCray.

McCray went the route for the victory, relinquishing five singles—two each by Augie Garcia and Fred Wiman. He whiffed nine, walked eight and sparked his mates at the plate with a fourth-inning double and sixth-frame triple.

Jeff Graham and David Cadena took turns on the hill for the Sports. Between them, they allowed five safeties.

Giants Win, 3-0; Tribe Trips Yanks

Steve Moffett spun a neat 3-0 one-hitter at the Little League Braves Monday night to clinch the National League pennant for his Giants, whose record now reads 13-2.

Dwayne Boydstun spoiled Moffett's no-hit bid in the fifth with a leadoff double, but was to be left stranded on third.

The Giants had their big inning in the sixth, when a base on balls, error and single off the bat of Mike Keller produced two runs.

David Casey went the route in absorbing the four-hit loss — one of which was a fourth-inning double delivered by Bill Greif. Casey whiffed four and walked one during his stint, while Moffett set five down on strikes and issued free tickets to eight.

Switching to the American League, the Yankees watched a five-run lead wither away in going down before the Indians, 13-6.

The Yanks tallied three runs in the first—primarily on the strength of Ted Winter's two-run roundtripper, then punched over two more in the second before the Tribe came back for six in the fourth to swing the pendulum their way.

Wesley Bishop started on the mound for the Indians, but was relieved by Gary Smith and Alton Patterson. Patterson was credited with the win. Doug Streety, Dan Thompson and Ray Nokes each hurled for the Yanks, with Thompson being judged the loser.

Tony Suttle doubled and singled to lead the way at the plate for the Indians. Thomas Chorn also doubled for the Tribesmen, while Mike Stephens laced out a pair of singles.

Yank shortstop Ted Winter carried the most thunderous bat into the game, however. To his first-inning homer, he added a pair of doubles for a perfect night at the plate. Raymond Rodriquez singled on two occasions for the Yanks, also.

Colts Sign Raider Star

LUBBOCK (AP)—The Houston Colts haven't verified it yet, but Charley Harrison, Texas Tech infielder, has signed a contract with the National League club.

The Lubbock Avalanche Journal said the contract was signed with scout Grady Hatton late Monday and that Harrison got a bonus. He will go to Scottsdale of the Arizona rookie league in December and be assigned to a minor league club next spring.

Indians Scalp Yanks, 23-11; Braves Win

First baseman Doug Morris slammed out two doubles and three singles in five appearances Monday to spark his Farm League Indians to a 23-11 triumph over the Yankees and hike their league lead in the process.

Winning pitcher Randy Rushing added three singles to the cause, also, while right fielder John Handy collected a double and single; third baseman Brent Beal, shortstop James McDonald and second baseman Steve Burney two singles each; and center fielder Terry Voss and catcher John Brinner a double apiece.

Leading the onslaught for the Yankees were catcher Rick Mirick, with a triple, double and single, and left fielder Tommy Jenkins, who doubled and singled.

Jerry Dean Tate was the losing moundsman. He was one of four Yank pitchers which included Smith, Jenkins, and Larry Hooper.

In the National League, the Braves inched a little closer to the loop-leading Cardinals with a narrow 8-7 victory over the Giants. They now are within a half-game of the Redbirds.

It was an uphill battle, however, as the Braves were forced to come from behind a 0-7 deficit with which they found themselves faced going into the home half of the third. They pushed over three that inning and then bunched their final five in the fourth, however, to card the win.

First baseman Wayne Anderson was the guiding light in the Brave hitting department with three singles in a like number of trips to the plate. Pitcher Joe Bass, who was relieved in the third by Lee McNair, contributed two singles to his effort, also.

Charlie Johnson started for the Giants, but was forced to give way to Bruce Bell during the Braves' fourth inning surge.

El Paso Riding High Atop TL Standings

By The Associated Press

El Paso pushed back two games in front of the Texas League Monday night as the Sun Kings edged Austin 3-2 while second place Tulsa was faltering again before San Antonio.

Carl Boles' sacrifice fly drove in the winning run in the seventh while Luis Penalver pitched three scoreless innings in relief to give El Paso its victory.

Semi-Final Play Upcoming In Scurry Net Tournament

First-round firing in the Scurry County Tennis Tournament was accomplished Monday on the Towle Park Courts, with a number of matches being on tap for today and the finals scheduled for Wednesday.

Three duels unfolded in men's singles play. Bob Womack stroked his way past Mackie Greene 6-1, 6-3; Jim Erwin smothered Lacy Boles 6-0, 6-1; and David Midkiff downed Bill Midkiff 6-4, 6-2.

In men's doubles the team of Erwin-Womack was extended before winning out over the Greene-Doug Chitsey duo 8-6, 6-3, while the other match of the evening saw Kenneth Brotherton and Ken Holt ousting Boles-Jerry Jackson by 6-2, 6-4.

The only three-set match of the day came about in the mixed doubles, when Janet and Jim Wesson outlasted Carol Bailey and D. V. Marcum 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

George Glenney and Eldon Tipping twice rebounded from 1-4 deficits in their junior boys' doubles battle against John Flynn and Jim Marcum to emerge with a harrowing 10-8, 7-5 victory.

And in the junior girls' singles it was Carolyn Glenney over Ruth Alexander by 6-4, 6-2 and Diane Hargrove over Rosemary Lutkins 6-2, 6-0.

Following is a list of today's pairings, which may be played any time during the day or night. All players scheduled for matches are asked to contact their opponents in order to arrive at a time for their meetings.

Heavyweights Sign Pacts

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson took pen in hand and quickly wrote his name to the contract. Sonny Liston, the challenger, laboriously wrote his name and concluded formailities Monday for one of the big championship fights in years.

Both fighters were well dressed and both gave an impression of confidence. They meet in Comiskey Park Sept. 25 for the title.

"The fight won't last long," said Liston, meaning he will defeat Patterson in the early rounds. "I hope he's right," said Patterson. "Only I want it in may favor."

Patterson, weighing 193 pounds, "one or two ogre what I expect for the fight" chose his words well. "I'll step up training when I return to my training quarters at Highland Mills, N.Y. I've been boxing two or three times a week and two or three rounds each time. I'm not worried about my weight. I'll really work about five weeks before the fight."

"I watched Liston fight twice. Both times he won by a knockout. That's all I want to see. I want to see him at his best."

Liston had to swear before the Illinois Athletic Commission that he had no managers. The Philadelphia battler said George Katz was his manager technically but that Katz had relinquished all his rights for $10 per cent of Liston's earnings.

Jack Milon, a Philadelphia concessionaire, was declared Liston's advisor. Answering a flurry of questions concerning his managers, Liston said:

"I'm sure me and Pat will fight in the ring, not our managers."

Patterson was without managers or advisors and signed his own contract since his manager Cus D'Amato was not present.

Patterson will receive 5 per cent of the live gate and 55 per cent of ancillary rights. Liston gets 12½ per cent of the live gate or a $200,000 guarantee.

Promoters of the fight predicted a gross revenue of more than $5 million, with theater television providing more than $4 million.

Prospects Remain Bright For AFL

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The American Football League starts training for its third season next week with predictions of soaring attendance.

Every city is up in pre-season sales except Dallas, where the competition is rough. The Texans have to vie with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League for the entertainment dollar and a winning club apparently will be necessary to gain it.

Training camps of the league open July 13 for six of the clubs with Dallas and Houston working at home, New York at East Stroudsburg, Pa.; Oakland at Santa Cruz, Calif.; Buffalo at East Aurroa, N. Y., and Denver at Fort Collins, Colo.

San Diego will open its camp at home July 16. Boston swings into the grind at Andover, Mass., July 18.

There will be 60 players at all of these camps except San Diego, which reports it will have 59.

The league is starting with the same roster that made the first campaign in 1960. Three cities — Atlanta, New Orleans and Kansas City—wanted in but it was decided to forego expansion at this time and concentrated on helping the needy clubs—Denver and Oakland which were last in the circuit last fall.

Aug. 14 each club will freeze 35 players on its roster and make the remaining men available to Denver and Oakland, which will take three apiece in a modified draft. These two clubs will get the first three choices, then all the clubs will have the privilege of picking men in three more rounds.

The players will cost $4,000 in the first round, $3,000 in the second, $2,000 in the third, $1,000 in the fourth and nothing in the fifth and sixth rounds.

The league decided to keep its player limit at 33 instead of raising it to 36. This was an economy measure.

Commissioner Joe Foss said defending champion Houston, which has strengthened even more with a good draft, already had sold 10,000 season tickets. San Diego also has reached this figure. The others range down to 3,100 for Dallas.

Mantelpiece Added To White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has accepted a white marble mantelpiece, inscibed with a prayer written by President John Adams, for the state dining room. He called it "the most notable improvement in the White House."

Mrs. Kennedy, who has restored many of the historic rooms in the executive mansion, was among the onlookers Monday as Kennedy accepted the mantel, a duplicate of one installed in the state dining room 60 years ago.

The President called it a beautiful and appropriate reminder of President Theodore Roosevelt, who had the original mantel installed in 1902.

The original now is in the Truman Library at Independence, Mo. It was removed when the White House was repaired during the administration of former President Harry S Truman. The years had yellowed and tarnished the marble, and the mantel was deemed unsuitable for its prominent place in the state dining room.

This prayer is inscribed on a center tablet of the Vermont marble mantelpiece:

"I pray heaven to bestow the best of blessings on this house and on all those that shall hereafter inhabit it. May none but honest and wise men ever rule under this roof."

The prayer was in the first letter Adams sent his wife from the White House.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt had Adams' words inscribed on the mantel.

Kennedy was not completely satisfied with the appearance of the inscription on the duplicate mantelpiece. He had the lettering darkened a little with graphite, so the words would stand out against the white background.

The duplicate mantel was a gift from the marble industry of New York and the New York architectural firm of Steinmann, Cain & White.

NEA Discourages Teacher Strikes

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Public school teachers were advised today "you can't go out on an illegal strike one day and expect to go back to your classroom and teach good citizenship the next."

Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association said, "The strike as a weapon for teachers is inappropriate, unprofessional, illegal, outmoded and ineffective."

Corey's remarks at the 100th annual convention of the National Education Association continued an NEA barrage against teacher unions.

In an interview elaborating on a speech to be given later today, Corey said teachers cannot be expected to remain forever silent in the face of intolerable working conditions.

If professional negotiations with the school boards fail, he said, teachers should work through their professional organizations to apply sanctions against the school district involved.

When sanctions are applied, Corey said, "We advise the public through newspapers, radio and television that, in the opinion of the California Teachers Association, conditions in the district are not conducive to professional work by teachers.

"We refuse the district the use of our teacher placement service, and we notify every teacher placement office in the United States of our stand.

"This brings the full force of public opinion to bear on the district. Public opinion carries a lot of weight where the schools are concerned."

Sanctions are never applied until all other means have failed, Corey said.

"But let me emphasize—this is not a strike," Corey said. "The teachers do not walk out on the youngsters. We leave open every avenue for correcting the bad conditions."

Corey acknowledged that sanctions involve pressure tactics, and in some quarters "they will be no more popular than the strike. But teachers must have some method of bringing their case before the public, and this is the best, the professional way."

"Teachers cannot hope to gain professional ends by using children as their pawns in the struggle," he said.

William G. Carr, executive secretary of the NEA, told a general convention session Monday night that for the first time in its history, "forces of significant scope and power are considering measures which could destroy the association."

Carr said organized labor is spending heavily to unionize public school teachers.

TOP TV TONIGHT

By BUD EVANS

9:00 CBS "Talent Scouts" replaces the vacationing Garry Moore with Jim Backus serving as host. Tonight's show spotlights guest celebrities heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson, comedienne Carol Burnett, actor Van Johnson, Broadway stars Robert Goulet and Sherry North. Backus will present a young comic as his guest.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

6:30 NBC "International Championship Debates" is a special one-hour program in which students from Oxford University in England will meet NBC-TV's "Championship Debate" winners, Anne Hodges and John R. Swaney. The questions to be debated will be "Is the Decline and Fall of Western Civilization at Hand?"

7:00 CBS "Password". Panelist Arlene Francis and television personality Merv Griffin are the guest celebrities who test their word skills along with contestants from the studio audience.

7:30 NBC "Alfred Hitchcock". Death seems imminent for a group of unsuspecting people when a six-year-old boy enters a supermarket and brandishes a real gun which everyone believes is a toy. Billy Mumy, Biff Elliott and Lucy Prentiss are featured in "Bang, You're Dead".

7:30 CBS "Dobie Gillis" learns that his college class is asked to contribute items representative of their society to be placed in a time capsule but insists that it's a waste of time "because civilization is doomed".

8:00 NBC "Dick Powell" presents the drama of a priest who tries to free the inhabitants of a Spanish village from a terrorist and his band of murders. Gilbert Roland and Nehemiah Persoff are starred in "Death in a Village".

8:00 CBS "Comedy Spot" deals with a beautiful blonde who has her own any method of determining which loans her father's finance company should make. Marie Wilson and Charlie Ruggles are starred in "The Soft Touch". This eleven-week series replaces "Red Skelton" for the summer and will spotlight the late Ernie Kovacs, Shirley Jones, Margaret O'Brien, Agnes Moorhead, Edward Andrews, Phyllis Avery, Craig Stevens, James Komack, Jeanne Crain and many others in individual situation comedies.

9:00 NBC "Cain's Hundred" repeats the story in which a rural crime boss threatens to kill Cain for trying to close down a syndicate-controlled, vice-ridden community. Edward Andrews is seen in "King of the Mountain".

Twist Champion Mere Sightseer

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP) — The Crenshaw County twist champion, 450-pound Willie Graham of Luverne, Ala.—was an apparently well heeled sightseer today in the land of the Kennedys.

Graham, 34, arrived on Cape Cod Monday, a new type of Negro Reverse Freedom Rider in this resort community.

What made Willie different—aside from his 450 pounds—was his affluence. Previous Negro arrivals came with one-way bus tickets and usually were pretty thin on money.

Willie, as a temporary visitor, came with a round-trip bus ticket and with pockets evidently well lined. He said both the ticket and the money—amount undisclosed—were provided by Luverne segregationists.

Unlike previous arrivals, Graham picked up a reservation in a Hyannis motel.

In a telegram from the mayor of Luverne, F. A. Sikes, asked that Graham—called "Big Nick"—be well received. The message said Graham is a well-liked shoeshiner in his home town and, more than that, the county twist champion.

Graham said he would spend a few days looking over Hyannis, then visit New York on his way back to Alabama.

Another Negro arrived Monday with only 25 cents. He is J. C. Jones, 36, of Little Rock, Ark., whose one-way bus ticket and $5 were provided by a Citizens Council. The town Welfare Department found a room for him.

Jones made the 72nd Negro sent to Cape Cod by Southern segregationists. Of that number, 41 are still on the cape, and 33 of these—four mothers and 33 children—are quartered at Camp Edwards, an inactive National Guard post. The others have found jobs or left the Cape.

Put Another Nickel In

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mayor Robert King High was right, Miami's parking meters are crooked—at least some of them.

High followed up a complaint from a taxpayer that a meter had not given him full time and was shorted. High demanded the meters be checked.

The parking department said Monday 8 of 122 meters checked so far were defective.

Reds Begin Work On New German Wall

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Working behind a screen of smoke and tear gas, the Communists began building a wall along West Berlin's border with East Germany Monday night. There was some suspicion they planned to surround West Berlin with concrete and steel barriers.

The Communists have virtually completed the barricade they began last August along the 26-mile border between East and West Berlin. Until Monday night, the 69-mile rough arc marking West Berlin's boundary with East Germany had been fenced off only with barbed wire.

West Berlin police said the extension work began at Falkenseer Chaussee, a broad street leading from the East German village of Falkensee into the northwest corner of the divided city. Trucks unloaded concrete slabs there and at Seegefelder Weg, a parallel street about 1,000 yards to the south.

East German police threw tear gas and smoke bombs at the West to screen the activity, but West Berlin police could see the workmen laboring under floodlights in a cold rain to replace the barbed wire with masonry.

The extent of the Communist plans to extend the wall could not be determined immediately. The work began only a day after East German Interior Minister Karl Maron called on his police to make the 'protective wall even more impenetrable."

Sugar Bill Is Passed By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a sugar extension bill and sent it to President Kennedy for signing. But the administration hurriedly sought to modify it to soothe several outraged Latin-American nations who feel they were being short-changed.

The Senate completed congressional action on the compromise measure Monday night, voting 54-12 approval after lengthy debate.

Immediately Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana moved to alter the protested provisions by offering an amendment to a minor bill already passed by the House.

The amendment would provide an additional allotment of premium-price sugar for Western Hemisphere nations.

Several of them—notably Argentina and the Dominican Republic—have complained they were badly treated under the extension legislation. They feared the bill would sharply reduce the amount of sugar they could export to the United States at premium prices.

Mansfield was not able to get an immediate vote on his proposal, however, because some senators wanted to make other changes. He finally decided to put the vote over to Thursday since many members were to be absent today.

The extension bill increases the domestic growers' share of the U.S. sugar market and gives the President some flexibility in disposing of 1.64 million tons reserved for Cuba if that country installs a democratic government. These purchases could be at the world price.

Over administration objections, 1.2 million tons were awarded as permanent quotas to 23 designated countries.

Paths in Muir Woods, near San Francisco, had to be paved because the pressure of feet was wearing away tree roots.

GOP HOPEFUL—Desmond Barry, Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, left, is shown with G. P. Proctor, candidate for justice of the peace, precinct 1, and Stewart Gent, master of ceremonies at the luncheon yesterday honoring Barry. Barry, Houston trucker, called for a return of "individual responsibility" in his talk to the group.

Barry Calls For Responsibility

Desmond Barry, Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, yesterday called for individual responsibility on the part of every citizen.

Barry spoke at a luncheon in Snyder. About 50 local Republicans attend the gathering.

Barry said that he and a large proportion of the rest of the citizens had neglected their personal responsibilities for the past 30 years, and have permitted government bureaus to take over our lives.

In strong terms Barry called for a return of government to "we the people." "No longer, can we permit Washington to do our thinking for us," he said.

Barry gained national attention when he resisted the efforts of Jimmy Hoffa's teamsters union to organize the employes of his trucking firm in Houston. The method they used was trying to force the employer to demand that the workers join. Barry said "I'll fight for a man's right to join a union, and I'll fight for my right not to force him in against his will."

Unable to get recourse in the courts, Barry took his fight to the Interstate Commerce Commission. After two and one-half years deliberation the ICC ruled in favor of Barry and outlawed secondary boycotts, a weapon which had been used against Barry during his battle.

Barry is also accused by the unions of being one of the reasons for passage of the Landrum-Griffin law. For these, last Jan. 29 in Houston Hoffa said of Barry, "He must not be elected."

Barry was introduced at the luncheon yesterday by G. P. Proctor who called for a two-party system in Texas. He said such a system was necessary for the health of the state, and also that it was necessary on the local level just as in the higher offices.

Guard Shuffle Could Be Blow To Texas

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The proposed reorganization of the National Guard will hit Texas hard, Gov. Price Daniel said at the governors' Conference here Monday night.

"I shall continue to oppose the proposed reorganization as it affects the state of Texas," Daniel said.

Daniel said 10 towns will lose the guard entirely, 10 armories would be vacated, 1,469 individuals would be discharged and jobs would be erased for 51 technicians.

He did not identify the 10 towns in Texas which would lose their guard units.

Work is underway at Avenue S and Twenty-fourth Street on the remodeling of a two-floor brick building owned by N. R. Clements.

The ground floor, formerly occupied by the State Cafe is being split up into several offices. The Standard of Texas Oil Co., which now occupies the top floor, will use the entire building, Clements said.

Loss was estimated at more than $5,000 from a fire which destroyed a laundry building and its contents here yesterday afternoon.

D. A. Porter, fire chief, said that the laundry, located at 2407 Avenue G, was burning all over when the first fire trucks arrived at the scene.

All-American Band Member Following A Busy Schedule

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cushenbery recently received their first correspondence from their son, Dale Cushenbery, who is touring Europe as a member of the United States of America High School Band.

He is one of the 100 members picked from outstanding bands all over the United States. Only four students from Texas are members of the group.

Cushenbery is sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club which raised the money over the past year to sponsor his trip. The band is attired in red, white and blue uniforms and is touring eight European countries.

Young Cushenbery made the trip from Snyder to New York by plane. In New York, he joined the remainder of the band for the trip to Europe. Following a stop in Shannon, Ireland, the band continued to Nice, France, where it was in rehearsal for three days. There the young Americans served as the official band of the Lions Internation convention.

In addition to performing in numerous parades, the band has been performing three concerts daily. Cushenbery wrote that the reception by the French people had been wonderful and that many had to be turned away from the concerts.

The band has performed on radio and television and the stage band, of which Cushenbery is a member, has performed for the USO. At the Lions convention he was also visited with Cecil Boren, a delegate to the convention from the Snyder Downtown Lions Club.

In addition to its busy schedule of concerts, the band has been taking guided tours of all the famous sights in France and Itlay. The band is currently in Rome, and from there it will perform in Paris, Switzerland, Austria and England on their tour. Cushenbery expects to return to Snyder around July 12.

A&M Praised By Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., praised Texas A&M Monday during a Senate speech commemorating the 100th anniversary of the land grant college system.

He said the 68 land grant colleges in the nation enrolled 20 per cent of the students although they represent less than 4 per cent of the number of colleges and universities.

"One of them, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, became the first tax-supported institution of higher education in Texas. It is one of the finest educational institutions of higher learning in America," Yarborough said.

"Twice this year, I have visited Texas AM college for public appearances, and each time I am more impressed with the high quality of work performed by this magnificent institution," and the degree of its service to the state and nation."

Last Convict Is Down From Tower

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The last of 13 convicts climbed down from a water tower early today at the Western State Penitentiary, ending a week-long demonstration against alleged prison brutality.

Prison officials said Charles Miller, 32, serving a life term for murder, climbed down from the tower unassisted at 5:55 a.m.

He was taken to the prison hospital. His condition was not immediately learned.

Building Figures Are Down Slightly

Building permits for the month of June totaled $16,500 in Snyder. All of the permits were issued for residential building.

The six-months total through June 30 is $325,890. Of this total $268,550 was for new residences. The balance was for additions to residences and business building.

Permits for the first six months last year totaled $338,701. June permits in 1961 were $80,250.

Civil Rights Showdown Is Set By GOP

By JACK BELL

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Caucusing Republicans agreed today to try to force a showdown vote at the Governors' Conference on a strong civil rights resolution.

With the Resolutions Committee still trying to produce a compromise proposal in this and the field of health care for the elderly, Republican governors decided to carry their fight to the floor if that is necessary to get a "meaningful" civil rights declaration.

But the Republicans were split over the issue of financing health care through Social Security taxes. Democrats, who outnumber them 34-16, seemed likely to produce a majority for endorsement of this program.

The conference, which closes with a visit Wednesday to Philadelphia where President Kennedy will speak, got a series of invitations for forthcoming sessions.

Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida put in a bid for Miami in 1963, promising the governors they would get a look at a Cape Canaveral space shot. His invitation seemed likely to be accepted later in the year by the Executive Committee.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey asked the governors to meet in Atlantic City in 1964, promising they could also visit the New York World's Fair on the same trip.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he thinks the meeting ought to be held in New York but added he will cooperate with New Jersey.

Gov. Edmund B. Tait Brown said he wants the governors to come to San Diego, Calif., in 1963. He promised them a visit to Mexico. "And by the way," he said, "I will be there to greet you."

Brown faces reelection opposition in November from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Not to be outdone, Rockefeller, also seeking reelection, said that if the governors come to New York in 1964 "I'll be there to greet you."

In a later session, Gov. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington was expected to be elected the new chairman, to succeed Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire.

The future of the National Gdard was the major item on the Monday agenda which wound up with the governors taking a "no compromise" position against the Kennedy administration plan to pare down and streamline the Guard and Reserve system. This was outlined in the key speech by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The governors listened politely and stingily applauded McNamara's scientifically oriented explanation of why they should give up 295 National Guard units. They were unimpressed with an hour's closed meeting with the secretary. As Gov. S. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia put it afterwards, the governors were willing to sit down next season with McNamara about the matter, but, by the Continental Congress, they were not going to have the federal government cut any local units in their states.

July 4th Celebration To Begin At 10 A.M.

Warm, breezy weather, just like today and yesterday, and the day before, is in prospect for Snyder's giant Fourth of July celebration.

At 10 a.m. the activities will officially get under way with the raising of the American flag. The flag, which has flown over the United States Capitol, will be presented by Dean Johnson, Rep. Omar Burleson's representative. It will be raised by an honor guard composed of members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

James Rosser will then read the Declaration of Independence.

The next activity will be the parade. Decorated bicycles, pretty girls, floats, horses, displays and a band will parade the roads of Towle Park. The parade, once scheduled for 1 p.m., has been rescheduled for the morning hour.

Following the parade the many concession stands will be open for business. Boat rides on the lake will be furnished by the Shrine Club. The art exhibit in the barn will open. And all manner of "goodies" like snow cones, cotton candy, hamburgers and pancakes will go on sale.

Jet planes from Webb Air Force Base will streak over the park about 1 p.m.

A Pony League game between the Rebels and Sports will begin on the Towle Park diamond at 2 p.m. That game will be followed by a Colt League game between Abilene and the Snyder Colt All-Stars.

At 3:30 the Towle Park swimming pool will close in order that it may be made ready for the swimming and diving meet which is set for 5 p.m.

Immediately following that meet the poolside beauty contest will be held. Almost a dozen Snyder beauties have signed up for the competition.

More baseball is on tap at 7:30 p.m. when the Snyder Merchants engage the Abilene Merchants in a soft ball game on the diamond just south of the high school.

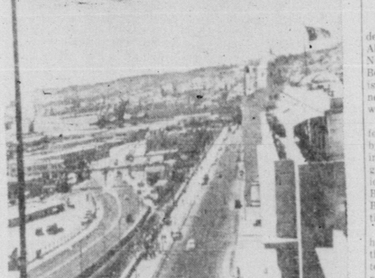

The AAUW baby contest which will have been in progress since the booth opened in the morning will close at 8 p.m. and the winner will be announced shortly thereafter. The AAUW booth will offer milk, sandwiches, and a chance to vote for the most beautiful baby.

The climax to the day's activities will come at about 8:30 when it gets dark with the fireworks display. The fireworks will be under the supervision of the Snyder fire department, and will be fired from an area in the west end of the park.

Israeli Boy Is Reunited With Mother

NEW YORK (AP)—Crying for joy, a small, dark-haired Israeli mother has been reunited with the 10-year-old son she hadn't seen since he was abducted three years ago in a religious dispute.

Ida Schuhmacher planned to take the child back to his homeland as soon as possible after U.S. immigration officials turned him over to her today. She said she wasn't interested in prosecuting the religious zealots who spirited him away.

"I am only interested in getting my child," she said.

Mrs. Schuhmacher, 37, arrived from Israel by plane Monday night and was taken immediately to an immigration office to see her son, Yosef, whom she calls "Yossele."

They recognized each other immediately, an official said. Mrs. Schuhmacher rushed to embrace the youth, crying over and over "My boy! My boy!"

Peter Esperdy, district director of the Immigration Service, said the boy had been found Saturday at the home of Rabbi Samril Gertner, a member of the ultra-Orthodox Hasidic sect, in Brooklyn. The youth had been living there under the name of Jacob "Yankele" Gertner.

Esperdy said the Gertners, neither disputed the identification of the boy as the missing Yosef Schuhmacher nor claimed the right to keep him.

Mrs. Schuhmacher put the boy in the care of her grandparents, Rabbi and Mrs. Nahman Starkes, in Jerusalem in 1957 because the Schuhmacher's recent immigrants to Israel from the Soviet Union, did not have a proper apartment at the time.

Civil War Is Threatened

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle proclaimed Algerian independence today and Nationalist Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda arrived with his ministers to assert their rule over a new nation threatened with civil war.

The triumphant return of the former rebel fighter was darkened by the threat of a military uprising by 4,500 mutinous Moslem guerrillas who want to put radical Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella in power. Ben Bella opposes Ben Khedda's policy of cooperation with France.

Ben Khedda flew in from Tunis, his headquarters while he directed the exile regime in its campaign to throw off 132 years of French rule. He was the first to leave the plane.

Algeria's independence became effective at 10:30 a.m.—4:30 a.m. EST—under the result of a statement issued by De Gaulle following a special meeting of the French Cabinet.

By the self-determination Vote of July 1, 1962," the statement said, "the Algerian people called for independence of Algeria, cooperating with France."

"In consequence, the relations between France and Algeria being henceforth founded on the conditions defined by the governmental declarations of March 19, 1962 (the Evian peace agreement), the president of the French republic declares that France solemnly recognizes the independence of Algeria."

France's last colonial administrator of Algeria, High Commissioner Christian Fouchet, conveyed De Gaulle's declaration to President Abderrahmane Farès of the Algerian Provisional Executive and transferred to the provisional government the sovereignty France had held for more than a century over Algeria.

The Evian agreements call for the provisional executive to rule Algeria until a Constituent Assembly is elected later this month and a parliamentary government takes over. It was believed Ben Khedda's Cabinet from Tunis would be merged with the provisional executive, and Ben Khedda would become president of the new combined executive.

Late Monday night, as crowds of roaring, cheering Moslems roamed the streets of Algiers celebrating the overwhelming vote Sunday for independence, guerrillas loyal to Ben Khedda's government took control of public buildings in the capital to deny them to Ben Bella's dissidents.

Some 3,000 guerrillas in central Algeria were in a state of open mutiny, led by Maj. Si Mokhtar. They were joined by an estimated 1,500 soldiers of the French-led Moslem local security force. About 30 French officers and noncommissioned officers were with them, presumably against their will.

The insurgent troops backed the cause of Ben Bella, the radical vice premier who fled from Tunis to Tripoli after a violent clash with Ben Khedda and other moderate members of the nationalist regime.

Ben Bella opposes Ben Khedda's policy of cooperation with France. He wants a sweeping socialist revolution for Algeria, oriented toward the United Arab Republic's and dependence on the Communist bloc rather than the West for economic and military aid.

Another 40,000 nationalist guerrillas were scattered over Algeria. So far there was no indication that they were joining the revolt against Ben Khedda.

Algeria's future appeared to rest with some 45,000 regular nationalist troops in Tunisia and Morocco. Their present sympathies weren't known. Two months ago they acclaimed Ben Bella when he returned after five years of French captivity. Today their chief, Col. Houari Boumedienne, was in flight after being ousted by Ben Khedda for plotting with Ben Bella.

The nationalist regulars were still barred from Algeria by electrified, mined barriers manned by French troops.

Murray Says Prober Out To Dig Up Dirt

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas News quoted Chairman William Murray Jr. of the Railroad Commission today as saying a private investigator had been hired to "dig up dirt" on him and others to thwart the East Texas slant-hole probe.

The newspaper quoted Murray as saying he learned some time ago the investigator was seeking "dirt" on the commission and the Department of Public Safety to discredit the agencies pursuing the direction of drilling probe.

Murray said he knew rumors were being circulated about him. He categorically denied all that had come to his attention.

He listed some of the rumors as: He had an interest in an East Texas deal; he had been offered an interest in an East Texas lease; he had received a proposal in the way of a bribe to call off the inclination and directional surveys; and he had received money from an operator.

Murray said he had denied all these rumors in statements and a telegram sent administered by State police May 16 attested to his truth.

Murray told of the threat charge Monday to reporters of the Dallas News, the Houston Post and the Dallas Times Herald. When other newsmen tried to reach Murray today, his Austin office said Murray was out of town and could not be reached.

The News account said:

Murray said that last March or April — prior at least to April 10 — a private investigator had been hired "by some suspected operators" to dig up dirt.

He said he had anticipated that accusations would be made that the commission of its probe was digging up evidence for the major companies, and that he was duly influenced by the majors, that he had close friends who were operators of crooked holes or were attorneys for them and he could treat them preferentially.

While now some claim to have known about the crooked hole operations in past years, he said none came forward with a specific tip as it hit a peak in 1961. He said he then began cooperating with a major company but had not given it any evidence for its civil damage suits.

"I plead guilty this year to listening to rumors from any source — to talking to major companies," said Murray. "I am willing to take information from honest people, and even to listening to what some dishonest ones have to say."

He added that he now feels "hurt a bit, bitter, toward operators who now say they knew about it all the time" but never had supplied information to the commission.

Murray said that some of the operators who have been enjoined to prevent changes in their wells pending directional surveys have been friends of his for years but he said none had ever asked him for preferential treatment or to get the probe stopped.

The commission chairman said he did not deny that the commission had been lax in getting the probe under way after disclosure that in 1957 a well of Shell Oil Co. had been penetrated by a wayward driller.

"I ought to have been smarter," he lamented. "Why didn't I suspect it earlier? I had too much faith in my fellow man. I criticize myself for not suspecting it earlier."

He noted that the commission has an extreme shortage of field men to check on thousands of wells.

"How do we know we don't have crooked wells in other districts?" he asked, citing as an example that the Panhandle district office has only three men to check 26,000 wells.

Murray said the employment of a private investigator to dig up dirt made him feel like "it would be blackmail: unless we pulled off the probe."

Reds, U. S. Clash In Laotian Parley

By DORIAN FALK

GENEVA (AP) — The 14-nation Laotian conference decided to thresh out its few remaining differences in private after the United States and Red China clashed over U.S. troops in Thailand at Monday's opening session.

Delegates agreed unanimously to leave the remaining issues to the conference co-chairmen, Britain's Malcolm MacDonald and the Soviet Union's Georgi Pushkin, to avert any more open squabbles that could jar the precarious Laos peace accords.

The Western powers are hopeful that if things go smoothly the delegates can complete a treaty in two or three weeks to guarantee the neutrality and independence of the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Red China and North Viet Nam touched off Monday's exchange during a three-hour session of speeches welcoming the formation of a coalition Laotian government.

Red Chinese delegate Chang Han Fu accused the United States of heightening tensions in Southeast Asia by sending troops to Thailand and by "armed intervention" in South Viet Nam and the Formosa Strait.

North Vietnamese delegate Hoang Nguyen charged that the success of the conference was "seriously threatened by the presence of U.S. troops in Thailand."

W. Averell Harriman, U.S. Assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, protested that the Communists had broken conference rules by bringing up issues not involving Laos.

The question of U.S. troops in Thailand was out of order, he said, "just as it would be for me to raise the question of foreign military personnel who are well known to be present in North Viet Nam as well as certain other neighboring countries."

Red Chinese units have been announced later.

reported in North Viet Nam.

The United States rushed a task force to Thailand to mid-May after the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels broke the ceasefire in neighboring Laos and swept up close to the Thai border. The United States said its troops had been requested by the Thai government.

The United States began pulling out 1,000 Marines this week after the feuding factions in Laos patched up their differences and formed a coalition government. It sent 1,200 Marines and 5,000 Army troops in Thailand.

The Chinese delegate said the U.S. motive for sending the troops to Thailand was "an utterly groundless pretext." Thai Ambassador Direk Chainam retorted that the presence of U.S. and Southeast Asia Treaty Organization troops in his land was purely defensive.

Pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong, acting premier of Laos, told foreign newsmen in Vientiane he would like to see all American troops get out of Thailand because Laos is not threatening anybody."

Rainy Spell May Be Gone

By The Associated Press

June rains which overlapped into July apparently have come to an end as the Weather Bureau has forecast clear and warm weather over the state.

The only precipitation expected was in the form of scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers over only the south and west portions of Texas.

Early Tuesday skies were clear to partly cloudy over the state except for some localized overcast in the San Antonio area. Visibility at Laredo was restricted to ground fog.

Morning temperatures ranged from 64 at Dalhart to 89 at Palacios and Galveston.

Probe Is Slated On Plan To Halt Trains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission ordered today an investigation of the Rock Island Railroad's proposal to discontinue two daily passenger trains between Wichita, Kan., and Fort Worth.

The railroad notified the ICC June 11 it plans to discontinue trains 27 and 28 July 15.

The ICC order requires the railroad to continue the service for up to four months pending the investigation and public hearing, for which a date will be announced later.

City Plans For 1962-63 Budget

Monday, June 30, was set by the city council as the date to review the proposed 1962-63 budget when the council met for its regular monthly meeting last night.

Council members instructed George Patterson, city manager, to set the salary of the city manager in the proposed budget at $750 per month with a car allowance of $75.

Patterson's present salary is $725 plus the same car allowance of $75. No other suggestions were made concerning the drawing up of the proposed budget.

At the time of the budget review, a date will be set for the public hearing. That hearing will be within 60 days following the review.

The tax equalization hearing will be held before the budget is submitted. That hearing is scheduled for July 25.

The city council allowed 10¢, as the discount for the city taxes.

Bassridge West addition to the City of Snyder. This was done by approving the second and final reading of the annexation ordinance.

The council also passed on the first reading an ordinance which will prohibit the placing of obstructions on sidewalks. Bill Chambless, a property owner in the 1300 block of Twenty-fourth Street, had requested that something be done to relieve the situation in that block.

The council set the penalty at $50 for violation of this ordinance, with each day as a separate offense when the properly owners refused to conform.

In other business the council authorized the mayor to authorize the West Texas State Bank to release securities pledged against city funds. This was done since the bank is not presently acting as the depository for the city funds.

Oilman Is Ordered To Testify

TYLER (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Sheehy ordered Monday E. R. Evans, a Kilgore oilman, to testify before a federal Petroleum Board hearing.

Evans had been subpoenaed by the board, which is investigating contraband oil production in East Texas.

Lawyers for another man who had refused to testify, J. H. Watson of Kilgore said that he would agree to testify next Monday pending the return of one of the lawyers.

U. S. Marines Are Leaving Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Transport planes and helicopters fetch U.S. Marines from Thailand today to land bases and sea units in the Pacific in a move cutting 1,000 men from the U.S. task force in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Informants said some of the leathernecks were being flown directly to land bases in the Philippines Okinawa and Guam. Others were being shuttled by helicopter to units of the U.S. 7th Fleet standing off Thailand.

The Marines, part of a 2,500-man force sent here six weeks ago to counter a Communist threat in neighboring Laos, began pulling out Monday because of "general lessening of tension" along the Laotian frontier.

Another 1,200 Marines and 3,000 Army troops are remaining in Thailand, but the U.S. Defense Department said more Marines might be pulled out soon, depending on the situation.

None of the departing Marines was destined for the United States.

All returned to their regular stations on western Pacific bases or aboard ships of the 7th Fleet. The U.S. Embassy emphasized they will be in a position to move back quickly if necessary."

The Marines were rushed to Thailand after the pro-Communist rebels in Laos broke a cease-fire in mid-May and swept up to the border of Thailand. The Laotians did not cross the Mekong River border into Thailand, and the three political factions in Laos reached agreement 12 days ago on a coalition government under neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

Byrd Lashes USCC's Call For Tax Cut

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, today denounced the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's call for a substantial income tax cut [illegible] would be inflationary and would mean a $15-billion federal deficit.

Byrd thus joined the committee's senior Republican, Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., in assailing the chamber's proposal.

Williams told the Senate Monday that "while it may be politically popular at the time, the long-range inflationary results for Americans would be disastrous."

He declared that "I refuse to have any part of such irresponsible action as to endorse a tax cut in the face of our present deficit."

President Kennedy has said he will ask enactment next year of a tax revision bill including some tax cuts to be effective next Jan. 1. As to whether action should be taken earlier than that, he told his news conference last week that the administration is keeping watch on both good and bad signs in the economy.

Democratic congressional leaders said there was no discussion of a tax cut at their weekly breakfast conference with Kennedy today.

Byrd told a reporter he would have a detailed statement on the chamber's recommendation later.

But he said that congressional tax experts already had advised him that the proposal would chop tax revenues by $9.5 billion a year instead of the maximum $7.5 billion estimated by chamber officials.

Byrd said he was convinced that even without a tax reduction there would be a federal deficit of $6 billion for the fiscal year which [illegible]

Thus, Byrd said, the chamber's tax proposal would lead to a deficit of more than $15 billion.

Williams aimed a broadside at Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, a Republican, and Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, and Edmund G. Brown of California, Democrats. He said he had noted they had joined "in the parade calling for an immediate tax reduction."

"Significantly, last week at the governors' conference we find that the governors were calling for more and more federal aid from Washington," Williams said.

"These governors, as well as the President and the United States Chamber of Commerce, know full well that a tax cut in the face of a continuous rise in government spending would lead to a staggering deficit. A deliberately planned deficit of such proportions at this time would be the most inflationary action this administration could take."

The Americans for Democratic Action today joined the tax cut cry, demanding "a sharp reduction in income tax rates, concentrated in the lower brackets."

The ADA said a cut "has become a matter of immediate urgency to invigorate the national economy."

A U.S. Chamber spokesman opposed proposals for taxing U.S. firms' earnings on foreign investments, part of the administration's tax revision bill.

The chamber spokesman, Washington lawyer Walter Slowinski, complained today before the Senate Finance Committee that the foreign earnings tax proposals "are so drafted as to prevent U.S.-controlled foreign corporations from competing on equal terms with foreign-owned corporations on foreign soil."

"In his prepared testimony, Slowinski said the provisions "are hastily drafted, stop-gap measures which leave many serious technical issues unresolved."

These tax proposals were also criticized by witnesses for the U.S. Council of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Ellsworth C. Alvord, chairman of the council's committee on taxation, said in prepared testimony that "so-called tax haven corporations are being used by American business abroad. They are being used legally and properly. To the extent that there has been improper use, it can be corrected. But let us not smash the whole basis of our foreign enterprises in an attempt to make this correction."

Another U.S. Council spokesman, Fred W. Peel, told the committee that American companies which operate subsidiaries abroad would be faced with "economic isolation" if the tax proposals are written into law.

End Embargoed Matter

The Finance Committee's session today was the last scheduled public hearing on Kennedy's tax revision bill.

The hearings, which began April 2, originally were to end in May but have dragged on for weeks, largely because of substantial opposition in the committee to key provisions of the bill.

Negroes Are Urged To Get Into Politics

ATLANTA (AP) — Negroes were urged today to channel some of their sit-in energy into a wade-in into politics and "swim to freedom with the ballot."

Clarence Mitchell, a director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told a convention session of the agency:

"When you do this, we can have a different kind of sit-in. It will be sitting in seats as members of the city councils, the state legislatures and the Congress."

Mitchell, who heads the NAACP's Washington bureau, told the delegates neither the Republicans nor the Democrats alone can pass civil rights legislation in the present congressional alignment.

For this reason, he said, Negroes cannot afford to be either an arm of the Republican party or a mouthpiece for the Democratic party.

"If you are a Democrat and have a chance to vote for a civil rights Republican, remember only you and God will know how you mark your ballot. If you are a Republican and have a chance to vote for a civil rights Democrat, make a present to Abraham Lincoln by supporting a friend of freedom."

CHECK PRESENTED—Herb Barnett, Boy's Club director, took time out from kite flying activities yesterday to accept a $300 check from the Snyder Jaycees. Doug McGlaun, left, state director of the local club, hands Barnett the check as Gene Williams, first vice president watches. The money is to be used "as far as it will go" toward a water system for the Boy's Club camp being constructed at Lake Thomas.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY—The barbers union and I are still at it after nearly twenty four years. Down here, that is. And the problem seems to be that the Barber and I speak the same language in a different way.

I go into a restaurant and order a thick sirloin, medium-rare. It comes out exactly right. In bars, I give the chief pharmacist general instructions on a rare chemical mixture and he never misses.

But the barbershops must have a bad echo for my voice. When I order a hair cut, there is no telling what will happen. Possibly my Spanish comes out like Greek and the gentleman with the scissors decides to experiment.

"A little off the top" has a reverse result. Clippers are run up the sides, like a lawn mower and the hair dresser dusts the dandruff off the top with a perfumed brush.

And I emerge looking like a coconut palm.

All around me, gentlemen get neat cuts and walk happily into the sunlight after a satisfied glance at the mirror.

Also, there is a certain tonsorial artist who makes remarks about a thin spot on my scalp, merely the way the light shines through, and tries to sell me a sure shot hair restorer. It is a secret formula passed along to him by his uncle who was a herb engineer. Absolutely 23-carat and carries a guarantee.

And this barber is equipped with about the same amount of scalp pasture as a light bulb.

Why is it the skin heads always have the only stuff that will grow hair on a cannon ball? And never use it themselves.

It is like the Cadillac salesman who rides a horse.

All of which prompted me to test the world's most unique hair emporiums, the sidewalk clip shops which operate here on weekends.

You find these mostly around the town. The weekend trimmers generally are bus drivers, waiters or carpenters with a complex like electric train addicts. Comes Sunday morning and they set up a cane chair on a soap box in front of the family pad.

For a matter of 8 U.S. cents you get a haircut of sorts facing the wall. For 12 cents, you face the street.

Now the reason for this price difference is that viewing the street you can watch the passing scenery. And drop gallant remarks to ladies who happen along.

But the 8 cent job is strictly business. The sidewalk barber considers that a man willing to face the wall is probably a square who deserves nothing better than a view of a beer ad. And he is quickly dispatched for clients with better taste.

The only occasion on which your adventurous correspondent checked the weekend choppers ended in near disaster. In the midst of the operation, a collection of large canines came galloping along the sidewalk in pursuit of a fleeing lady pooch. Everybody's mind on romance. For they spilled the barber and rolled me, the chair and the soap box half a block.

Consequently, I developed the two-barber system. This being the only manner in which I can synchronize with the local union.

"A very light trim of top please, and under no conditions touch the sides," I tell number one.

He immediately takes the shears to the sides and leaves the top intact. Following this, I go down the street to another parlor.

"As you may notice," I tell number two, "a gentleman with a meat cleaver has been working on my toupee. Please smooth off the sides, and leave the top as is."

Whereupon he slices the top down to the correct size and ignores the sides.

An expensive but very satisfactory way of making myself understood. It is not as pleasant as the project with the view of the street. But at least I am not carried away by a herd of romantic hounds.

Mongolians milk sheep, goats, cows, camels, yaks and mares and convert the yield into yogurt, cakes, cheese and alcoholic drink. They use fermented mare's milk in the treatment of disease.

Goldwater Boycott Draws Fire From GOP Governors

By JACK BELL

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's boycott of the All-Republican conference drew sharp criticism today from four GOP governors.

Govs. John H. Reed of Maine, Norman A. Erbe of Iowa, Robert E. Smylie of Idaho and George D. Clyde of Utah voiced strong support for the new Republican organization formed last Saturday at former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

In Gettysburg, a spokesman for Eisenhower said the general had not read Goldwater's statement and therefore could not comment.

Smylie said he thinks Goldwater is "entirely wrong about his approach to this matter."

"This conference will give all of the elements of the Republican party an opportunity to come forward with their views," Smylie said. "I think this is a very healthy thing for the party."

Each of the four governors said in his own way in separate interviews he believes Goldwater, a spokesman for conservatives, is making a mistake in turning his back on a conference sponsored to give governors, state party officials and non-office holders a voice in party affairs.

The Arizona senator, who heads the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, wrote National Chairman William E. Miller Monday that leaders of the new conference group are "people who caused most of our party troubles."

"It is unthinkable," he said, that they should be given another opportunity to lead us down the path of destruction. Let's be done with these splinter groups."

Reached at his summer home near Buffalo, N.Y., Miller said he had not received Goldwater's letter. "And I don't wish to make any comment on it until I read it thoroughly," he said.

When the Democrats were out of power they set up a Democratic Advisory Council. Its aim was to give the party a national voice during the Republican Eisenhower administration.

The council ran into trouble from the start.

Weighted heavily with northern liberals the council was established by the Democratic National Committee in February 1957 over the protests of many Southern delegates.

The group was not received with open arms by the party's congressional leaders, many of whom refused to join it.

They said party policy in Congress could not be bound by actions of an outside group.

Although Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois indicated he thinks the party is becoming "over-organized," the four governors said they had no such fears.

Reed expressed surprise at the reaction of Goldwater, who did not attend the Saturday organization meeting at which former Eisenhower Cabinet members and others cheered Eisenhower's assertion that he was proud to have the Republicans bear the label of "the party of business."

"I think the formation of the conference, which I attended, was an excellent move to give some voice to all facets of the party and to promote unity," Reed said. "I think it will be an excellent thing for the party."

Erbe said he disagrees with Goldwater 100 percent.

"The objective of the conference is to get the party together and to avoid just the sort of splinter groups Senator Goldwater is talking about," he said.

Suspects In Burglaries Are Nabbed

The burglary suspects for which local police officers joined other West Texas officers in a search were arrested yesterday afternoon near Slaton.

Scurry County officers, including the sheriff's department, city police and highway patrol had been advised yesterday morning to be on the lookout for a 1961 blue compact-type auto with Florida licenses.

The description of the car had been furnished by two women in Clairemont. The youths were surprised during the burglary of the residence of Rufino Alvarado there. Also about an hour earlier they had been seen burglarizing a vacant house on the Kent-Stonewall County line, and a similar description given.

Arrested in a canyon near Slaton were Michael Johnson, 18, Tom DeMaia, 18, Alfred McGrath, 17, and a 14-year-old girl. All gave their place of residence as Miami, Fla.

The arrest was made by Slaton constable Allen Meurer. The car, reportedly stolen from Johnson's sister, had been abandoned south of Posey.

Stonewall Sheriff Charles Gibson and Meurer said the quartet admitted burglaries in Vernon, Crowell, Paducah, Roaring Springs, Stonewall County and Clairemont.

Federal officers talked to the group yesterday afternoon. They were to be returned to Aspermont to talk to officers from Crowell and Vernon.

Fluvanna Area Pets To Be Vaccinated

FLUVANNA—A meeting has been set for 9 a. m. Friday at the agriculture building at Fluvanna School for vaccination of dogs and cats, L. M. Davison, school superintendent said.

Dr. R. J. Kidd, Snyder veterinarian, will be on hand at the request of local residents of vaccinate the pets. The session was set after some apprehension developed in the community when a calf was a suspected rabies victim.

Daily Crude Flow Drops

TULSA (AP) — U. S. oil production dropped last week, but for the first half of the year was up 1.2 per cent, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Domestic output for six months averaged 7,347,100 barrels per day, up 88,300 daily over last year, the Journal said.

For the last week of June, production averaged 7,218,315 barrels daily, down 38,235 per day from the previous week, with most of the decrease in Oklahoma. Oklahoma output last week was down 32,400 barrels a day to 517,500.

Most states showed little or no change. Arkansas averaged 80,000 barrels, Colorado 115,400, Louisiana 1,279,400, New Mexico 300,000 and Texas 2,548,025.
