MAN'S DEATH OFFERS CLUE IN SLAYING OF YOUNG GIRL

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23—Detectives sought today to learn whether there was a connection between the death of Louise Teuber, whose unclothed body was found suspended from a tree near San Diego Sunday, and the apparent suicide of John Porcellano, 40.

Porcellano's body was found hanging from a tree in a cemetery ten miles south of San Francisco Tuesday night. No special significance was attached to his death until Mrs. Luella D. Pepper, San Mateo county coroner, discovered scratches on his hands and face and noted that the rope had been tied in a manner similar to that which had suspended the body of the 17-year-old girl.

Recalling that bits of flesh had been found under the girl's finger nails, indicating a struggle had preceded her death, Mrs. Pepper communicated with southern California authorities and learned Porcellano had lived in San Diego.

Officers Without Clue In Kidnaping

ST. LOUIS, April 23. (AP)—Investigators today appeared to be without a single clew as to the whereabouts of Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, jr., wealthy and socially prominent St. Louis physician, who was kidnaped Monday night after being lured from his home by a telephone call summoning him to a fictitious sick bed.

Police continued their round up of suspicious characters but held only slight hope any of the six men now under arrest would give any information of value.

WILL CONSIDER TEXAS TRUCK CONTROL

CIGARET LEVY MADE LAW BY SIGNATURE OF STERLING

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 23.—The perplexing truck control problem was still before the senate today while the house hoped to dispose of several more senate bills.

With one tax bill, the cigaret levy, enacted into law yesterday through the governor's signature, the senate state affairs committee last night took action which seemed to threaten the life of the tax on natural gas distributors.

Revises System

It set the bill for hearing May 6, which is only six days before the legislature is scheduled to adjourn, leaving little time for the senate to act on the bill and for the house to concur in any amendments. The house passed the bill Monday. It would revise the occupation taxes and place a tax of two cents a thousand cubic feet on gas distributing companies.

The senate state affairs committee reported favorably the house bill by Petsch of Fredericksburg to curb the reckless issuance of county warrants. Except in cases of calamity, warrants could be issued only through vote of the people.

Some legislators expressed the view that passage of other revenue-raising bills was unnecessary as a result of the governor approving the cigaret tax of three cents a package. The bill also contained a tax of two per cent on the gross production of natural gas.

Proponents estimated the combined cigaret-natural gas tax would raise about $5,500,000 annually. The tax will become effective 90 days after the legislature adjourns or about August 10.

The legislature yesterday put the question of repealing the anti-

Publisher Held In 'Shake Down'

CALIFORNIA MAN CHARGED WITH SENDING OF OBSCENE CLARA BOW STORIES IN MAILS

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 23—Arrested on federal indictment charging him with sending obscene articles about Clara Bow through the mails, Fred H. Girnau, weekly newspaper publisher, was held in the county jail today in default of $10,000 bail.

Rex Bell, the actress' "boy friend," told officers two men known to him only as Jordan and Rockwell prior to publication of the articles had presented a plan to him whereby the stories could have been suppressed. Bell said Jordan and Rockwell had suggested that Girnau's paper, the Coast Reporter, could be bought for $15,000 and that if given $25,000 they would buy it and keep the remaining $10,000 for themselves.

The articles about Miss Bow ran in four issues and were preceded by publication of a purported affidavit bearing the signature of Daisy De Boe, saying she had agreed to give Girnau a "true and honest story."

Miss De Boe, who was convicted of stealing an $825 coat from the actress, denied through her attorney she had made an affidavit in writing to Girnau, although she said she had given him legal authority to publish a story of her life with Clara Bow.

Miss De Boe was given 18 months probationary jail sentence and is now at liberty under bond pending action on her appeal.

Hawks Sets Fast Record From Paris To England; Leaves Fliers In Daze

(By The Associated Press)

HESTON, Eng., April 23—Captain Frank Hawks, with two new speed records to his credit, climbed out of his red monoplane here this afternoon just 59 minutes after he left Le Burget airport, outside Paris.

He had covered the distance 37 minutes faster than any other man had ever flown it. Commander Glenn Kidston's record of 96 minutes from Le Bourget to Croydon was just another mark the Texan had knocked over.

Sets Two Records

In two days he has halved two important flying records, cutting the time to Rome to 5 hours and 20 minutes, and leaving European aviators in a daze over his mark for the channel crossing.

"Boy," he said with a wide grin after he had shaken hands all around, "those Alps make our Rocky mountains look like little bumps. We pulled through all right, but I still don't know how."

He was talking about yesterday's flight to Rome during which he had to climb to 23,000 feet without an oxygen tank.

"I pulled up to 21,000," he said, "and I knew I had to go higher. With every foot I got dizzier and I couldn't move in the cockpit for fear of passing out.

Just Thin Air

"Down below all I could see through the fog was snow on the top of mountains and crags, over my head was nothing but thin air—mighty thin.

"I don't know how I made it but I got over and headed for Rome in a driving rain. To dodge the storm

Theft case of Jack Pierce of El Paso, charged with John Miller of Austin in connection with shoplifting of a box of chocolates and four shirts, was to be tried in county court before Judge E. L. Iltis at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Miller pleaded guilty of theft in county court Wednesday and was sentenced to 60 days in jail and to pay costs.

Freddie Burch was sentenced to serve 10 days in jail and pay costs for theft of $16 and a watch from a Lubbock county farm house. Burch said he had lived in Lubbock the last month.

A sentence of 10 days and costs was imposed on Leo Greenwood, 19, when he pleaded guilty of theft of gasoline in the 600 block of Broadway and of some automobile casings. A brother 16-year-old Elvis Greenwood, also entered a guilty plea, and his case was transferred to juvenile court.

Lee Simmons To Be Here For Conclave

Lee Simmons, manager of the Texas prison system, of Huntsville, has accepted an invitation to speak at the industrial development conference of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention here May 14, 15 and 16.

Mr. Simmons formerly was secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce at Sherman and is regarded as an authority in industrial development, according to Maury Hopkins, convention manager.

"While secretary-manager of the Sherman Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Simmons put over one of the outstanding development programs in America, making Sherman industrially the fifth city in Texas," Mr. Hopkins said.

Two Men Charged With Assault Here

Charges of assault with intent to murder and simple assault were filed against Fred Norton and R. Norton, brothers, respectively, in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court this morning.

While R. Norton and an older man named Brown were engaged in an altercation near Avenue C and Fourteeth street last Saturday, Fred Norton came from the Norton residence and struck Brown on the head with a baseball bat, knocking him down, and then struck him while he was down, investigation allegedly indicated.

The Norton brothers were arrested by police soon after the altercation occurred. Brown was said to have suffered two fractured ribs and other injuries.

G. O. P. CHIEFS PLAN NEXT CAMPAIGN

REPUBLICANS ACCEPT ECONOMIC, TARIFF, FARM ISSUES

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Prohibition is being sidetracked in Republican leaders' plans for the 1932 campaign.

They seem to have agreed to accept the proposed Demeocratic issue of economics and apparently are willing to center the next presidential race on tariff and agriculture instead of more controversial liquor laws.

Defend Farm Board

After a meeting yesterday at which they determined to carry out in the farm belt a vigorous defense of the tariff and the farm board, Representative Cable, Republican Ohio, today issued a statement suggesting that "President Hoover put through a strong, restrictive immigration policy whereas congress fell down on the proposition."

"A year and a half ago," Cable said, "the leaders realized further restriction of immigration was imperative. The restrictionists in congress, however, could not agree on a bill so it was the president who indicated to the state department that further restriction for the protection of the workers of this nation was possible by enforcing the 'likely to become a public charge' provision of the law in the light of existing economic conditions."

Cable added that no other president has "suggested so many worthy modifications of our immigration and deportation laws."

Among those who attended the conference were Walter Newton, presidential secretary; Secretary Hyde; Sam R. McKelvie, farm board wheat member; Robert Lucas, executive director of the Republican national committee; Earl Ve Able, secretary of the Republican congressional committee, and Senator Dickinson of Iowa.

As that meeting ended, Chair-

County Hospital Fund Seen Here

CITY, COUNTY AND HOSPITAL CHIEFS IN CONTROVERSY

Action toward the creation of a county hospitalization fund or some other definite arrangement regarding the disposition of charity hospital and indigent sick cases was in sight today as the result of a conference between city, county and hospital officials.

Agitation for the movement, brought on directly by an emergency case at the present time, has been brewing for several years as the result of hospitals of Lubbock bearing the bulk of the expenses for charity cases of both the city and county.

No Funds Available

The case is that of Merced Ortega, 25-year-old Mexican day laborer, who is suffering from an attack of appendicitis and must undergo an operation, physicians attending the man have decreed. Appeals by the hospitals to both city and county officials for approval of the expenses have brought forth statements that no funds are available for the work.

Hospital officials declare they have been handling such cases at their own expense for the past several years and in declining to provide hospitalization for the patient, state that there should be some fund provided for the work by the city and county.

Lives In Shanty

The Mexican, a resident of Lubbock for the past 11 years, is ill in his little one-room shanty in "Little Juarez" where he and his wife and children live, eat and sleep. Operation and treatment there is almost impossible, physicians say, as the ceiling of the house is so low that an ordinary man is forced to stoop.

County Judge E. L. Pitts, after declaring last night that as far as the county was concerned, there was nothing that could be done about the case until the next commissioner's court meeting which is Monday, stated this morning that he was in sympathy for a hospitalization act for charity cases and that there was a possibility that some action along that line would be taken by the court. The court has the power by statute, through authorization by petition or election by the people, either to create a hospitalization fund from the tax money or by erecting by bonds a county hospital unit.

Mayor J. J. Clements declared

The body was nude except for stockings and pumps.

TWITTY TO DIE IN CHAIR

ELECTROCUTION TO BE AFTER MIDNIGHT AT HUNTSVILLE

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, April 23—Moncus Twitty, 30, went through the routine of the condemned today. He is to be put to death in the state prison electric chair shortly after midnight for attacking a 3-year-old girl in Gray county.

He claimed he had not entirely given up hope for executive clemency. Governor Sterling, however, long since had declined to intervene and the prison authorities went about the customary precautions.

The law's other agencies, in addition to the governor, likewise had refused to believe Twitty was mentally unbalanced, the state pardon board considering him morally responsible for his act. The issue of insanity was settled adversely to Twitty in the trial.

The five were: Dudley Herd, charged with assault with intent to rob; Raymond and Finis Temple, charged with theft and burglary; John Harrell, charged with burglary and theft of chickens, and E. J. Ward, charged with theft of chickens and turkeys.

W. D. Booth and H. A. Carlock, charged with theft of chickens and turkeys and Jim Pullen, charged with affray, did not leave Cleburne and were taken into custody.

Guardsmen Protect Jail Against Mobs

WILLISTON, N. D., April 23 (AP)—North Dakota national guardsmen today surrounded the Williams county jail here where James J. Bannon, 55, was committed late yesterday to await preliminary hearing on charges of being implicated in the sextuple murder of the A. E. Haven family near Schafer in February, 1930.

Bannon is the father of Charles Bannon, 22, who was lynched January 27. The youth confessed the murders and declared his father was innocent.

SEEK IDENTITY OF MAN SHOT TO DEATH

ONE OF FIVE ROBBERS SLAIN BY CITIZENS AT GREENVILLE

(By The Associated Press)

GREENVILLE, April 23. — Hunt county authorities today sought to identify a man about 40 years old who was shot and killed when members of a "vigilance committee" at Caddo Mills, seven miles southwest of Greenville, surprised five men robbing a store early today.

The man killed had a pair of woman's shoes in his pockets identified by A. Fagg as having been taken from the store. A gun was clinched in his hand. The man was about six feet tall, wore overalls, a sheep-skin lined coat and inside his hat were the words "San Ann, Texas."

C. C. Bethea and Conrad Bethea, brothers and members of the protective band organized recently at Caddo Mills after numerous robberies, fired shots that killed the unidentified robber.

The night telephone operator at Caddo Mills observed the men when they came into town and after she saw them enter the Fagg store, quietly aroused members of the vigilance committee.

First to arrive were the Bethea brothers. After they saw the robber band included five men, two of whom were standing guard across the street from the store, they started to go for help but at that moment other members of the committee arrived at the other end of the street, one of whom started shouting, causing the robbers to run.

When the men ran past the Bethea brothers, they were ordered to halt but disregarded the command and the brothers opened fire. It was believed other members of the gang were wounded.

SCHOOL CHILD FOUND DEAD IN RAVINE

FARMERS COMB AREA TODAY; ARREST IS EXPECTED SOON

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, April 23.—While farmers at Atascosa county combed the blackjack country for the slayer of Merle Springer, 11 year old school girl, the search swung to San Antonio, this morning with the announcement an immediate arrest was expected here.

The child's body, stabbed 23 times near the heart, was found in a ravine about 300 yards from her home last night. She had been slain going home from school.

Suspect Sought

Sheriff John Lott of Atascosa county, conferring with police here, said he had evidence pointing to a 20-year-old San Antonioan as the slayer. A search was started immediately.

The girl, step-daughter of Elmo Dickey of Leming community, 20 miles south of San Antonio, was last seen alive as she was walking home from school yesterday afternoon.

Alarmed when she did not arrive from school, her family began a search. An hour later her body was found. The region of the heart had been punctured 23 times as though with a dull knife blade.

Sheriff Lott was called and his investigation revealed that a young San Antonio man had been working in a field in the vicinity. When the suspect could not be located, Lott searched the man's camp and found a pair of overalls with blood in one pocket and blood on the knees, Lott said. The overalls were rolled up and had been placed in a camp bunk.

STERILIZATION IS ORDERED

THIRD TERM CONVICTS IN OKLAHOMA FACE NEW SYSTEM

(By Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 23.—Sterilization confronted third term criminals in Oklahoma prisons and certain inmates of insane asylums today.

Governor W. H. Murray yesterday signed a measure passed by the legislature providing for such action under the administration of the state board of affairs which controls all state hospitals and prisons.

"More attention ought to be paid to the criminals than to persons of unsound mind," Governor Murray said.

"Criminality and weakness of the brain both unmistakably are due to inheritance.

"Sterilization is not a punishment, but a protection. It carries no stigma or humiliation. It is a humane measure for the best interests of all."

The method of sterilization, Dr. Gray said, provided by the measure, interferes with no blood or nerve supply and produces no physical change.

The meal for a party of eight, prepared in honor of President and Mrs. Hoover, cost $1.89, or 23.6 cents for the presidential plate.

PASTOR DENIES STEALING OF KISS FROM CHOIR SINGER AND TEACHER

KANSAS CITY, Kas., April 23 (AP)—The Rev. James Cornish, 52, Great Bend, Kas., pastor, phrased a denial today to a charge he had stolen a kiss from Mrs. Pearl Thomas, 37, who asks $5,000 damages for assault and battery.

Mrs. Thomas criticized his technique in court yesterday. She testified Mr. Cornish stole the kiss two years ago when she went to confer with him in the library of the First Christian church here, of which he then was pastor. She was a choir singer and teacher.

Mrs. Ray Mundis said the health of the complainant had suffered and "she was as pale as a ghost afterward."

Attorneys for Mr. Cornish asserted the charges were fabricated for the purpose of blackmail and that the kissing incident was fictitious. The case was expected to be turned over to the defense today.

MAN'S CHANCE TO LIVE TWO HUNDRED YEARS DISCUSSED AT MEETING TODAY

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

PHILADELPHIA, April 23 (AP)—Man's chance to live 200 years was discussed today at the opening of a three-day session of the American Philosophical society here.

He may expect soon, it was asserted, to add 10 more years so that the majority of us live to 70. Present medical science may later carry the average to 90, but beyond that lies a barrier—ignorance.

The beginnings of a knowledge that may lift even this barrier were described by Lee K. Frankel, second vice president of the Metropolitan Insurance company.

"I am making a conservative statement," he said, "when I say that there is no evidence at this moment that human life may be prolonged beyond its presumed biologic limits. All the evidence indicates that man, like other animals, lives an allotted time. All that has been done thus far has been to save the wastage of life at the

TRAINING WILL BE OFFERED

COURSE IN BOY SCOUT LEADERSHIP TO BE GIVEN AT TECH

An elective course in Boy Scout leadership training probably will be offered at Texas Technological college during the summer term for college-credit, according to D. T. Jennings, South Plains Area council executive, of Lubbock.

Gunnar H. Berg, director of volunteer training of the National Boy Scout council, who came to Lubbock yesterday to address the executive board of the council at its regular quarterly meeting, appeared before the college summer-school committee with Mr. Jennings in behalf of the installation of the leaders' course at the Technological college.

To Furnish Facilities

The committee agreed to furnish the teaching facilities and director of the department, provided the regional council would aid by furnishing instructors and other training necessities, according to Mr. Jennings.

When the matter was put to a vote yesterday, the board agreed to meet the college's terms.

Members of the summer school committee who met with the two scout officials were Dr. A. W. Evans, Dr. John C. Granbery and Professor J. O. Ellsworth.

Will Be Experiment

The course probably will be instituted in the summer school as an experiment, according to Mr. Jennings. If the plan proves successful it is expected to be continued during the regular terms as an elective course, he said. Both Dr. P. W. Horn, president of the college, and Dean J. M. Gordon, who were out of the city yesterday, are in sympathy with the move, it was said.

The executive board meeting, held in the ball room of Hotel Lubbock, was attended by more than 30 persons active in Boy Scout work of South Plains area. Board members attending were T. A. White, president, R. D. Moxley, K. N. Clapp, W. G McMillan, A H. Leidigh, Garnet Reeves, O. H. Cline, J. T. Trigg, of Lubbock; F. J. McClure, Ralls; J. T Herd, Post, and J. W. Partin, Wilson.

Berg Makes Address

Following the reports of the different departmental chairmen, Mr. Berg addressed the meeting devoting a major part of his talk to problems of the South Plains area.

His address was closed with an appeal to the scout workers to give their greatest efforts to the scout movement at this time.

"In this period of depression it is imperative that we do our utmost for the protection of our boys," he said. "Economic conditions of the homes in such periods often cause the boys to go astray. The Boy Scout influence has a decided effect upon the boys and makes them want to do the right thing, regardless of the extent of the privations.

Results Valuable

"If scouting saves one boy, the results are well worth the expenditure of several regional budgets. If it makes one better citizen out of the entire area, the financial cost will not have been spent in vain," the scout official said.

Mr. Berg, who addressed a group of Lubbock scouts and scout leaders last night at a meeting of the board of review, is to leave this morning for Amarillo.

Separate Camps

The executive board adopted the suggestion offered by the activities committee, of holding of summer camps by districts, rather than as council as a whole, As a result of the decision, each district in the South Plains area will have its own summer camp this year.

The activities committee report, read by W. G. McMillan, told of scout activities in the district since January 1.

Garnet Reeves, chairman of the department of publicity, in his report stated that scouting had received almost 100 columns of newspaper space during the three-month period.

In a report signed by Durwood Bradley, of the department of awards, the board was informed of the advancements made by scouts in the council. During the period since January 1, exactly 97 new scouts were enrolled in scouting; 37 advanced to second class; 24 to first class; 21 merit badge scouts received the rank of Star; 12 received the rank of Life; nine attained the highest rank in scouting, that of Eagle scout, and eight Eagle scouts received palms for additional merit badges, the report said. A total of 400 merit badges were awarded.

Reports also were made by J. M. Gordon, of the department of education, and A. H. Leidigh, chairman of the department of organization.

Following the reading of the financial report, the board voted to urge chairmen of the different districts to build up financial organizations in their territories for the purpose of staging financial campaigns and the collection of pledges.

LETTERS OF STEPHEN DOUGLAS ARE FOUND; SAY CIVIL WAR AVOIDABLE

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 23 (AP)—Discovery in a barn of more than 20,000 letters to and from Stephen A. Douglas was announced by George Fort Milton today on the 116th anniversary of Douglas' birth.

Mr. Milton, editor of the Chattanooga News, who is engaged in writing a biography of Douglas, said the correspondence indicated that had the Illinois statesman been elected president in 1860 instead of Abraham Lincoln "the Civil war would have been postponed, and possibly altogether averted."

Discovery Important

Finding of the correspondence in an old box at the home of one of Douglas' grandsons, Robert Dick Douglas in Greensboro, N. C., was described by Mr. Milton as "certainly one of the two or three most important discoveries of source material for the history of America in the nineteenth century which has been made in recent years."

"In the past," said Mr. Milton, "much of our history of the twilight years immediately preceding the Civil war has been written from ultra-points of view. Either it has been a product of the New England school of historians, with a consequent over-emphasis upon the abolitionist attitude; or it has come from the counter-balancing extreme southern school, devoting its energies with equal zeal and probably with equal truth to painting a picture of an united south, rushing to arms to champion certain gossomar theories of state sovereignty.

Sentiment Revealed

"The Douglas letters reveal the existence of a strong union sentiment throughout the south, as late as April 15, 1861, and important figures from throughout the states of the new confederacy kept writing Douglas in piteous appeal that he work out a plan of compromise which would maintain both the union and peace.

"A reading of Douglas' correspondence leads to the almost inescapable conclusion that the Civil war was an avoidable war, had only there been enough statesmanship north and south to do so."

Calcutta, India, plans to spend over $2,350,000 for municipal drainage and storm water protection.

RADIO HELD AS COMPETITOR

NEWSPAPER COMMITTEE MAKES A REPORT AT ANNUAL SESSION

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—The radio committee of the American Newspaper Publishers association yesterday reported to the annual convention that radio should be recognized by newspapers as a "formidable competitor in news entertainment, editorials, features and advertising."

The committee also favored the subjection of radio to the same lottery laws and other federal restrictions as newspapers, and believed it should be subject to the restriction of plainly labelling advertising as such and should bear its own burden of news-gathering expense.

Ratio Increased

It was pointed out that the ratio of radio advertising to newspaper advertising increased from nothing in 1926 to 59.2 per cent in the first quarter of 1931, and that 107 leading radio advertisers cut their newspaper appropriations 12 1-2 per cent in 1930 while increasing their radio appropriations 63 per cent and their magazine appropriations 6.3 per cent.

"The conclusion is inescapable that a large part of the linage loss of newspapers is the price paid by them for the privilege of over- exploiting radio," said the report.

Warning Given

The committee warned that if the radio of the future continues "to develop unregulated, unrestrained, nurtured by the press, assisted with free publicity, receiving free news for which we pay vast sums of money and otherwise aided in its growth in every conceivable manner by newspapers, it will probably compete with newspapers about the way busses and trucks are now competing with the railroads."

Colonel Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, who presented the report of the committee on the freedom of the press, said "the general principles of individual rights are under attack all over the world."

Other reports were submitted on newsprint, labor, advertising, federal legislation and the various problems of the newspaper business.

Star And Mother She Adopted

Adopted sons and daughters are fairly common, but leave it to Ray Samuels, popular vaudeville artist, to spring a new one. Miss Samuels has adopted a mother, Miss Molly Slattery, 68-year-old spinster of Syracuse, N. Y., who is shown in above photo being embraced by her new daughter at Miss Samuels' home in New York.

HOPE FOR VACCINE TO PREVENT THE COMMON COLD HAS BEEN DISCOVERED

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Hope for a vaccine to prevent the common cold has been found at the Presbyterian hospital of Columbia university medical center.

The vaccine making stage has been approached through use of an artificial cold produced in the laboratories—a real cold purified so as to be stripped of many uncertainties that ordinarily hinder the making of discoveries.

Work Described

This work and the seven years research leading up to it are described in a paper by Doctors A. R. Dochez, K. C. Mills, G. S. Shibley and Yale Kneeland, jr., in the Courier, official publication of the International Catholic Federation of Nurses. The research is financed by the Chemical Foundation, Inc.

At first real colds were given to chimpanzees until Dr. Dochez and his associates felt quite sure that no known ordinary bacteria cause colds, but that they only become aggravated, active and often dangerous as a result of a virus which is the real cause.

"The experiences lead us to certain definite conclusions," says the paper. "The contagious cold in human beings is due to an invisible agent which passed readily through filters which hold back all ordinary bacteria, and in all likelihood belongs to the groups of so-called submicroscopic viruses.

"In apes one of the significant effects of infection with the filterable virus of the common cold is the stimulation to greatly increased activity of any dangerous organism that may happen to be present in the upper respiratory tract.

Of Great Importance

"This we regard as of great importance since it seems to explain the marked secondary activity in the respiratory tracts of such organisms as pneumococcus, streptococcus hemolyticus and the influenza bacillus which lead to the severe complications which sometimes follow the common cold and influenza.

"The next step in the investigation is to try to grow the virus of the common cold in the test tube outside the human body. Should this be successful, and there is already reason to think that it may be, the way will be opened for the preparation of a vaccine which may prove useful in prevention of common colds."

Announcing for 1931

Here is a close-up of the distinguishing mark of the new standard Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tire — the reinforcing rubber prisms which decorate the sidewall. So expressive of the new note in tire design is this Goodyear development, that Goodyear leadership in this respect is sure to be widely copied, as reflecting the outstanding characteristic of the 1931 tire mode

"the smartest thing in rubber"

HERE, moderns, is the latest and by far the most efficient expression of the tire-building art to date.

It packs within its sleek and stout black circle the grandest combination of style and value your good money ever bought.

It is the new standard Goodyear All-Weather balloon, the improved 1931 edition of the most popular tire in the world.

Goodyear has too much at stake to offer it to you as something special unless it could make good generously on every advantage claimed.

Come look at this great tire; let your own eyes tell you how ruggedly handsome, how modern and clean-lined and smart it really is.

On the test cars, over sand, gravel, concrete and brick roads, it averaged 24% longer tread-wear than even the famous Goodyear it succeeds

Literally, it is the finest-looking, greatest-performing money's worth of tire that ever went upon the highways under the Goodyear name.

The best news is left until last: it costs you not a cent extra to buy!

SIX IMPORTANT FEATURES

among the many that distinguish the new and improved standard Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tire:

1 Its center non-skid pattern is 10% deeper

2 Its shoulder non-skid pattern is 50% deeper

3 Riding ribs and outer non-skid blocks have outside bracing as on truck tires

4 Outer non-skid blocks are handsomely prismed into sidewalls

5 Cross sections are equal to Heavy Duty measurements

6 Styled to 1931 motor car design

"PROFANITY OF SAINTS"

There is one word which is very naughty. Sometimes it is morally worse than any other symbol of profanity. Many characters have been ruined by it. By it homes have been wrecked, hearts have been broken, children schooled in crime. On its account good has been hated, loved ones have been despised, and children of best parents made the worst. Because of it children have been turned against their parents and fathers and mothers have died of broken hearts.

The more conscientious parents are, the more prone they are to use this word. It is the choice profanity of saints, and some of us who are not so good employ it.

Ought is the word. It is employed in many modes, with should as the most common synonym. In the negative form it occurs as ought not, or should not, and in their many variations.

The Founder of Christianity warned us that we shall give an account of every idle word. This word is not almost always idle; it is an encumbrance, frequently a curse.

We use the word when we feel most self-righteous, when we rty to make our children feel least so. Rarely do we utter it for any purpose than to make ourselves feel better. When we are reasonable we know very well that it does not move the child to do as the word suggests. Almost always when we say ought or should to the child he is least ready to comply. Generally it renders the hearer less co-operative, or makes him like us less, makes him lose self-respect, and feel irritable or depressed. When you and I use it in speaking to our children we almost never expect it to bring results which its utterance indicates. We just say it to make ourselves feel better. Our pleasures then become our children's pains.

To illustrate, I observed myself using the word recently on the way to Sunday school. I said to my boy of eight. "You should not read the comic strip while the automobile is running. It is hard on your eyes." Naturally, he kept on reading. I felt a little disgusted with him that he did. Yet I knew very well that he would before I had made the remark, and he doubtless was much irritated by his father's words. He also knew that he would keep on reading, since I had not uttered a command nor afforded him sufficient urge to discontinue reading. The rest of the family group were also annoyed. But he had been allowed to read the comics before in the car dh the way to Sunday school. Why did I say what I did? We had a guest with us—a child expert, who asked the lad how he read while the car was going. That remark, particularly by that person, pricked my conscience. Here I was, a child expert, and Mrs. Myers a similar specialist, too, with my child exercising very bad eye hygiene. I came to our defense, saying what I did. It was the most natural thing to do, yet about the most stupid.

Have you ever done such things? Of course you have. You know as well as I know that ought is a naughty word and we also know that it will slip out when we are not watching. But I am sure I have cursed with it less often since I recognized and labeled it profanity. Twenty-five years from now I hope to have almost abolished ought and should from my vocabulary. Of course, I may be optimistic.

Love May Be All Right For Ones Who Can Afford It, But It Is Expensive Luxury, According To Young Writer

FREEMAN LINCOLN

EDITOR'S NOTE: Maybe marriage-for-love isn't the surest route to matrimonial happiness, after all. Freeman Lincoln, young author of the much-talked-about novel "Sam," votes for marriage-for-money as the best recipe for a successful marital life. Here he gives his views in an article written exclusively for the Daily Journal and NEA Service. He is the writing son of a writing father—Joseph C. Lincoln.

BY FREEMAN LINCOLN
Written for NEA Service

Love may be all right for those who can afford it, but it's an expensive luxury.

Marriages made in Heaven are romantic, ecstatic, but the ones made on earth with a careful eye to the earthly demands are in the long run happier. Eight times out of ten the girl who deliberately picks out a man with a good income whom she likes and respects, is happier than the girl who is so madly in love that she runs off with a penniless vagabond with whom she is madly in love. In short, marriage for money, so long the subject of scorn by our romancers, doesn't deserve half the abuse which has been heaped upon it.

The world has the wrong attitude toward such a union. It would be difficult to find a person more susceptible to pity and contempt than the girl who marries for money. Eyebrows are lifted and voices lowered. "Succeed? Why, my dear, she hasn't a chance. She doesn't love him! She married him for his money—solely for his money!" The poor girl is dismissed with a word. In the opinion of the majority her future is obvious; as obvious it is justified. She deserves no less than she is sure to get.

In the full flush of idealistic youth I undoubtedly would have joined the general chorus with enthusiasm. Today I'm not so sure Today I am wondering if it is not possible for a penniless young lady to find happiness in marriage with a rich young man ever though she does not feel for him what is commonly described as "love." Might she marry solely for money and succeed? I am inclined to believe that she might.

It will be granted that love, the love that ordinarily results in marriage, is largely a biological urge. It is apt to be, moreover, a rather scurvy trick on the part of nature.

Love often stupifies the senses temporarily, and makes seem real what is not real. It then glorifies its object beyond all reason. It causes basic weaknesses of character to appear non-existent, and minor virtues to assume heroic proportions. It takes no account of the fact that married love and married happiness have their being not in passion but in mutual affection and respect. It has caused many a young bride to emerge from the initial stupor of the honeymoon with the realization that she is legally tied, not to a young god, but to an individual who figuratively eats with his knife and takes pleasure in removing divots from innocent babes with his mashie niblick.

Love may serve its purpose of perpetuating the race, but it may also serve to perpetuate the divorce courts and all of the other miseries that attend unhappy matrimonial alliances. I am definitely wary of the more sensational and pulse-stirring elements of love. They are pleasurable but dangerous.

With that in mind, let me return to my penniless and calculating lady who decides to marry for money. What are her chances for happiness? It is my belief that, granted intelligence, her chances are excellent. Taking the bull by the horns I might even say that her chances are as good, if not slightly better, than those of one who allows herself to drift without struggle in the tumultuous current of nature.

My intelligent lady, remember, will not marry any rich man who comes along. She will marry a rich man for whom she has a genuine liking and respect. She will like the way he wears his hat and the way he treats his Uncle Ned. She will like his friends, his family, his habits, and himself. She will recognize his good qualities and have a very genuine knowledge of and tolerance for his faults.

She will be marrying a friend rather than a pillar of flame. She may miss some of the ecstacies of life, but she may also miss some of its sharper miseries. In any event, she will not awake in the clear cold light of the morning after with the shocking realization that she has acquired for herself a headache of lifelong duration.

Scorn her if you like. Call her cold and calculating. Perhaps her lower temperature and the self control necessary in the carrying out of any logically planned line of action may have saved her from a journey to the rarified atmosphere of Reno. Perhaps in her artfully acquired husband she has found a friend and a companion. If so, she wins.

There are many matrimonial projects more predisposed to failure than a marriage for money.

But understand, please, that I'm not defending the purely gold-digger marriage—the girl who is out for material gain, and who doesn't give a hang about anything else. The woman who marries purely and simply for the luxuries which the man can provide, without regard for character for congenial companionship, for any one of the things that are the real foundations of a successful marriage—this sort of woman usually ends up in the divorce court, and the poor man finds himself saddled for life with heavy alimony payments.

SEEK TO MEET SITUATION

RAILROAD MEN SEEK SOLUTION WITHOUT CUT IN WAGES

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—The overalled and uniformed army of the nation's railroad men is striving to met its unemployment situation but has not been asked to accept a cut in wages, David B. Robertson, chairman of the national railway labor executives association, said Wednesday.

Mr. Robertson told The Associated Press the brotherhoods have received no overtures from the management of the railroads toward a reduction in their hourly wages as fixed by agreements.

Denied Conferences

He denied railway labor representatives had participated in secret conferences with executives to discuss wage cuts as Wall Street yesterday had heard.

The chairman presided at a three-day conference of the chiefs of 21 railroad brotherhoods, representing approximately 95 per cent of the country's 1,750,000 rail employes.

"It was one of the usual conferences of the railway labor executives association, called to handle a number of matters of mutual concern," Mr. Robertson explained. "But wages were not discussed."

Mr. Robertson estimated approximately a quarter of a million railroad employes now are out of work, the largest number at any time in recent years. A slight pickup has developed in the southwest, he said, but there has been no noticeable general improvement in the rail labor situation.

INSTALL ROYAL HOUSEHOLD OF SIAM IN LARGE ESTATE AT PURCHASE, N. Y.

BY VICTOR T. HACKLER

PURCHASE, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—The royal household of Siam was installed at the large Ophir Hall estate of Mrs. Whitehall Reid today as King Prajadhipok, Queen Rambaibarni and advisers of the oriental monarch completed their 12,900-mile journey from Bankkok.

The young ruler, who has traveled half way around the world to obtain medical treatment in America arrived at the little suburban station of Scarborough this noon and was driven almost immediately across Westchester county to the spacious estate he will call home while in this country.

Appreciates Reception

"The evidences of kindly regard that have been shown us during our eastward trip are deeply appreciated," he said in a statement. "The prospect of renewing my acquaintance with this and other American cities is a most attractive one."

As soon as the party had finished lunch and the three truck loads of their baggage had caught up with the royal couple, the work of installing the governing household of Siam in Ophir Hall was begun.

King Prajadhipok is the absolute monarch of 11,500,000 persons and during the several months he plans to spend in this country, the business of Siam will be conducted from the fortress-like house in the hills of Purchase. Additional telephones were installed and rapid cable communication with the home country was placed at the disposal of the king.

Contracts Malaria

During the ocean voyage he had contracted a slight case of malaria and bronchitis and as he moved across Canada and the United States by special train he was kept in his private car under doctors' orders.

There was no trace of the illness, however, when the young ruler stepped today onto a flag-draped platform and received the greetings of state and town officials. He smiled readily for photographers, shook hand all around and appeared to be in high spirits.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills Reid, son and daughter-in-law of the owner of Ophir Hall, showed the royal couple over the estate, including its nine-hole golf course and then turned it over to them to be used for the duration of their stay.

"BEAT THAT, ARKANSAS!" IS RENO'S CHALLENGE AS DIVORCES MADE PAINLESS AND GAMBLING LEGALIZED

Nevada's 'Wide Open' City Expected To Draw Throngs

BY PHILIP J. SINNOTT
NEA Service Writer

RENO, Nev., April 23. — "Beat that, Arkansas!"

With almost all forms of gambling legalized and divorce requirements softened to painlessness and secrecy guaranteed Nevada—and particularly Reno, with its $5,000,000-a-year divorce industry—now hurls this challenge to the state that sought to capture its profitable business of rendering solace for material or marital woes.

At almost the same time it passed a law cutting divorce residence requirements from 90 days to six weeks—and thereby eclipsing Arkansas, which had dared to enact a 90-day law—the Nevada Legislature passed a measure legalizing gambling. Governor Fred B. Balzar signed it, and it became effective at once.

Legal—But Not New

Now the clink of croupier-raked coins, the metallic jingle of the slot machine, the balyhoo of the chuck-a-luck gamekeeper, the soft click of poker chips and the blatant "Hit me!" challenge of the blackjack dealer are legal sounds in Nevada But they aren't new to Nevadans, even though legal.

In 1910 Nevada outlawed gambling. But for a number of years there has been gambling all over the state. Reno prohibited roulette—but collected $35,000 a year in card table licenses.

"Gambling is illegal, but our people have gambled, are gambling and will gamble," reasoned members of the Legislature. "Why not bring it into the open, and let gambling contribute something to the communities?"

So now, tables and slot machines are licensed. The community gets half the license money; the county and state divide the rest.

Here one should speak colorfully of the sudden rush to the new pastime; of a maddened melange of grizzled prospectors, poker-faced dealers, burly miners and cowpunchers mixed with business men and society women. But the picture isn't new in Nevada. These colorful elements long have played here. Right now, there are no more, and no less playing in Reno.

Old Resorts Unchanged

The Bank Palace Club, Reno's largest establishment, is operating three faro games, two "twenty-one" games, two crap tables, and English hazard layout, keno and racing pools. Its proprietors—Jim McKay, Bill Graham and Ray Kendall—have a crew of men rushing construction of a new quarters on street level instead of the present basement. But with the exception of roulette, now allowed in Reno, they plan no immediate additions to what they had before gambling was legalized.

The same holds true of other resorts.

Out at the Willows Club, where those who desire quiet swank with their gaming, roulette long has been a feature. The owners plan no immediate additions to the present variety of games for their expensively garbed clientele.

Calneva, the famous resort near Lake Tahoe, and on the California-Nevada line, will make extensive enlargements this summer for San Francisco and northern California trade. This resort — last in the headlines through Clara Bow's experience—always has been a great favorite with vacationists.

New Resorts Contemplated

There is talk of many big new resorts all over the state; of expensive casinos around Las Vegas to draw Los Angeles sportsters; of a possible big casino at Reno. Everybody who has a few decks of cards, a few tables and a few thousands is reported on the way, or considering the move here. Jack Dempsey is one persistently reported to be considering a Nevada location—but this is yet to be confirmed by Jack.

How many of these new resorts will materialize is problematical. Operation is hazardous to a limited bankroll. So many figure that after some frenzy, the law of averages will start clicking, and the field will simmer down to three or four big clubs in Reno, one or two in other communities, and smaller games scattered through cigar stores and poolrooms.

And now that gambling is legalized?

"They'll run these games on the square or we'll know why," avers Mayor E. E. Roberts of Reno. "People now can legally do what they've done under cover. Many find in gambling a freedom from strait-laced laws. Nevada is still a free state, and with gambling running anyhow, decided it couldn't regulate people's morals by law, and legalized what was being done anyhow. We try to make Reno a place where you can do as you please—providing you respect the rights of others."

Divorce Laws Liberalized

For several years, Nevada has offered divorce to mismated couples with a wide number of recognized grounds for suit, and a residence requirement of only three months. Arkansas sought to move into this same field with similar residence requirements. And Reno struck back.

A six weeks' residence is sufficient to file divorce suit in Nevada after May 1. And you needn't spend all of that time in one county either—drive out and see the "ghost" mining towns, play on the dude ranches, look at the Hoover Dam site, see the other attractions during your six weeks' stay here.

The law also was amended so that upon request of either party's counsel, the trial must be held behind closed doors. It also provides that one need allege a cause of action, and not specifically state the grounds in the complaint. And provision is made also for sealing all papers connected with the suit, once it is ended. So in addition to eliminating residence, the new law can eliminate publicity.

"Beat that, Arkansas!" says Nevada.

Nevada, jealous of her divorce industry, claims the new measure is as bullet-proof as her 1930 model. But Arkansas is only 30 hours from New York; easier to reach; a less expensive trip; close to the home folks. So Nevada met the Arkansas challenge with a quicker-and-easier bill.

But Business Men Worry

Reno business men are somewhat worried over the new bill. Apartment owners fear the short residence will cause divorcees to live in hotels; home owners fear divorcees will live in apartments rather than rent furnished homes. Shopkeepers wonder if the feminine visitors won't bring a complete wardrobe, rather than buying in Reno. But time alone will tell. It is but a few weeks until May 1, when the new measure becomes effective. And already, unhappy husbands and wives are flocking here to get "the cure" after residing six weeks.

Quicker, easier divorce, and legal, wide open gambling—they now bloom in Nevada where only quick, easy divorce and illegal, but wide open gambling, bloomed before.

Folks look for a great summer out in this informal commonwealth.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Biggers are going to Amarillo Saturday to be gone several days.

E. Shinwell, Secretary for Mines, will head an English delegation that will visit Sweden, Norway and Denmark to study the British coal export market.

SPYING ON SPORTS

...ho suggested the Brooklyn Dodgers as National League pennanteers? They may be hunting a pennant but they're slow about getting started. Maybe they're being detained in getting a license. At this writing they have won exactly 1 game in seven starts. Perhaps they're just feeling out their opponents, knowing that a game lost now is not so bad as half a game lost toward the end of the season.

We have no trouble remembering that we doped the Dodgers to hold a winning hand when the National League checked in next October. Well, they're as much your Robins as ours. We may live to regret it, but so far our hopes on the Washington Senators have thrived. Mister McCarthy and his Yanks, however, are right in at the top with the Washingtonians. We picked, as did a host of other chumps, the Robins to win in the National because of potential hitting ability and the Senators to win in the American because of a great array of pitchers. We neglected to consider, however, the most important phase of the game—the number of runs each team might make.

We kinda strung along with Houston in the Texas League, dividing our faith with the Fort Worth Cats. Perhaps all the faith should have gone to the latter, though we still expect the Buffs to break out with a winning rash ere the season is half gone. It would hardly do for the Buffs to win the first half of the season because they might lose in the play-off; otherwise a precedent would be set.

It is hard to get all worked up over the big and bigger leagues when you have to sit back and read about them. West Texas may be the coming Eden of the Southwest but it is a miserable failure so far as the national pastime is concerned. There's a line running from Wichita Falls to San Antonio that divides baseball civilization, an empire about a third as large as the state, from the uncivilized portion. But what can we do about it? Apparently about as much as a hen can about the color of Easter eggs.

Tomorrow will find the city and the Tech campus overrun with high school track, field and tennis athletes from all points of the South Plains. They congregate here for the annual District 2 interscholastic league meet. Del Morgan, Tech coach and director of district meets, predicts an entry of something like a thousand athletes, including boys and girls who play tennis and boys who perform on the oval and the turf.

This department had its hand called shortly after the Texas Tech high school relay carnival when it stated that several interscholastic league records had been approached by entries in the carhival here. Frexy Anderson of Abilene and Blondy Cross saw the mistake and did not hesitate to set their readers aright. We compared the times made htr with those in the Texas Interscholastic League record book and checked with Spalding's guide, but it seems that both records were out of date. To make sure we wired Roy B. Henderson for a complete and accurate record and it has since arrived. We do not intend to be caught short any more.

There are a number of first class track and field men in this vicinity. Sadly, none of them are at present enrolled in Lubbock High, but in Slaton are quite a few. Slaton's teams won the Lubbock county meet here three weeks ago and will be conspicuous on the grounds tomorrow and Saturday.

Three state interscholastic league records were set last year at the state meet. Babe Russell of Hereford stepped the century in 9.8 for a new record. The old one of 9.9 has been standing since 1925. Russell last year tied for the 220-yard dash, navigating the sprint in 21.5 seconds to tie Davis of Freeport, who set the record in 1927. It was thought that the low hurdle record was approached in the Tech relay carnival, McClinton of Snyder leaped the impediments in 24.5 seconds. The state record is 24 flat, owned by Abelwich of Greenville High school and set last year.

CARDS, BRAVES SET PACE IN NATIONAL

SKEPTICS WONDERING ABOUT HURLING OF YANKS AMAZED

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.,
Associated Press Sports Writer

There still is nothing that quite takes the place of old-fashioned, airtight pitching when it comes to winning ball games. And it takes no more than a cursory examination of the records up to now to discover why the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves are setting the National league back on its heels, nor why the New York Yankees are doing likewise to the junior circuit.

They have been getting some swell pitching. In seven games the Cards' great mound staff has allowed only nine runs and the Braves' surprisingly stout staff has given up only 28 scores in nine tilts. Yankee moundsmen have held opponents to 29 runs in eight games and five of their starting pitchers have been in at the finish. This would seem to be as good an answer as any to the skeptics who wondered what the Yanks would do for pitching this season.

Allows Four Hits

Old Tom Zachary became the third Braves hurler to start and finish in as many days when he set the hapless Brooklyn Robins down with four scattered hits yesterday and blanked them, 4 to 0.

Two Card pitchers, Sylvester Johnson and Jim Lindsey, gave a similar masterpiece in beating the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 2. They allowed only four hits and not a Red was left on base.

Although the Yankees increased their advantage over Washington and Cleveland by trimming the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 5, there was little satisfaction in the victory. Babe Ruth was injured going after a fly in the sixth inning and there was a possibility he would be out several weeks. Up to the time he was hurt the Bambino had driven in three runs and scored twice.

Giants Down Phillies

A three-run splurge in the seventh, touched off by Hughie Critz's home run, enabled the Giants to nose out the Phillies, 5 to 4, in their debut at the polo grounds.

The Athletics gave Lefty Grove a four run lead in the first inning and that was sufficient. He beat Washington, 5 to 1. Joe Cronin's homerun in the second depriving him of a shutout.

Pat Caraway has invincible after the second inning and the Chicago White Sox opened before the home folks with a 10 to 2 win over Cleveland.

Rain kept the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates apart, and wet grounds prevented the scheduled Tiger-Brown skirmish at Detroit.

FIVE GAMES ARE CARDED AT TECH

Today's intramural basketball schedule at the Texas Tech gymnasium begins at 4 o'clock and will continue through 8 o'clock with five games being played. This is done in order to hasten the approach of championship round games.

Starting at 4 o'clock, the following games are matched for this afternoon: Fish vs. Seniors, Liberal Arts League; Fish vs. Seniors, Aggie League; Sophs vs. Juniors, Aggie League; Fish vs. Seniors, Engineer League, and Sophs vs. Juniors, Engineer League.

In yesterday's game, the Army of the Independent League defeated the Bookstore team, 24 to 18. Sollis and Moffett for the winners and Grizzell and Koger for the Bookstore doing the heavy scoring. In one of the fastest scoring games of the season, the Sophomores defeated the Juniors of the Liberal Arts league, 35 to 28. Robinson and Wiese led the scoring for the winners with Rhodes and Crites leading in offense for the Juniors.

The Soph Aggies defeated the Senior Aggies, 22 to 16, yesterday with Bean and Easley scoring most of the winners' points. In the other Independent League game, the Y. M. C. A. defeated the Band, 29 to 16. C. Cummings and Slaughter were effective scorers for the Y. team.

Schwietzka Leads Billiards Tourney

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., April 23. (AP)—Walter A. Schwietzka of Champaign, a former Illinois state champion, today was the only undefeated player in the national amateur championship three-cushion billiard tournament.

The veteran Champaign star has won three straight while four other players are tied for second with two victories and one defeat. Those players were Frank I. Fleming of Champaign, former national titleholder; Robert B. Harper of Denver, defending champion; Joseph Hall of San Francisco, the 1930 tournament winner and present Pacific coast champion, and Lewis M. Vogler of Indianapolis.

Hall kept in the championship race by defeating Anthony N. Ciesl of Beaumont, Texas, yesterday afternoon by 50 to 45 in 117 innings, the longest national amateur play

RARE SIGHTS, INCLUDING BAREFOOTED FIGHTER, SEEN AS NATIONAL BOXING ENTRIES ARRIVE FOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Father Knickerbocker, about to get his first peep at the national amateur boxing championships in 26 years, is blinking already at some of the sights the winning youngsters are bringing to town.

The advance guard of the 162 amateurs who start four straight nights of leather slinging in Madison Square Garden next Monday night already are taking in the sights. They are coming from twenty states, from the army headquarters at Baltimore and the naval base at New London, Conn., with a six man team from the Hawaiian islands already wandering about the city, squinting at tall buildings and the first major league baseball they have ever seen.

Barefooted Boxer

One of the Hawaiians, a native lightweight named Benny Akahuela, believed to be the best fighter on the team, startled amateur athletic union officials and set them to pondering the rules as soon as the squad reached a gym and climbed into togs to pose for "pitchers." Benny was ready for the cameras soonest of all but there were no shoes or socks on his bare brown feet.

When the lack was pointed out to him he shook his head.

"No shoes," he said, "no shoes."

In the excitement that followed it was discovered that Benny fights in his bare feet. Back in Hawaii he even plays football that way. A. A. U. officials scanned the books and discovered, furthermore, that there is no rule to prevent his continuing the custom in the national championships.

Says Shoes Drawback

Shoes, Benny explained, would hamper him as much at this late date as bare feet would embarass the boys brought up in more orthodox ring circles. The prospect of someone stamping on his toes didn't seem to bother him any.

One of the comparatively local entries is creating more than ordinary interest. He is Winthrop Rutherford, jr., of Allamuchy, N. J., and New York City, a youth whose inheritance has been estimated roughly at $20,000,000. He won his place on the New Jersey team by whipping Bobby Mess, New Jersey light heavyweight champion, in Newark last week.

Rutherford was a varsity crew man at Princeton, the heavyweight champion there and played some football.

FILES APPLICATION

CINCINNATI, April 23. (AP)—Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, widow of Speaker Nicholas Longworth, has filed application in probate court to be named executrix of the congressman's will. Mrs. Logworth estimated real estate was worth $200,000, and personal property $20,000.

Pitcher Osborn Is Sold To Pittsburgh

CHICAGO, April 23 (AP)—The sale of Pitcher Bob Osborn by the Cubs to Pittsburgh may mean that the Bruins are still trying to add strength through purchase.

When Osborn was removed from the club roster yesterday the Cubs came down to the player limit of 25 players, Pitcher Dick Montague is due to go, leaving room for one more accomplished hand.

BEAUMONT AND FORT WORTH CATS TIED FOR SECOND

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The first crucial series of the 1931 Texas league pennant race has past, and still on top are the Dallas Steers. Still second are the Fort Worth Cats, but this time in a tie with Beaumont. After losing the first of their important series to the Cats at Fort Worth 10 to 6, the Steers Wednesday cooled the cats, 5 to 3. Big George Murray was in great pitching form after the second inning. When he beat the Cats Wednesday, it made his second straight win since the league race started.

Walks First Four

Henry Hardaway started for the Cats, but he started without control and did not last long. Hardaway walked the first four batters to face him, forcing in the first Dallas run. Leon Chagnon relieved Hardaway and was greeted by a double from Langford's bat which sent three runs across the plate. Harrell followed Langford with a drive into rightfield to score Langford and rount out the five run rally.

Wednesday brought another defeat to the Shreveport Sports. Wichita Falls got good hurling from Howard Taylor, right hander, to beat the Sports for the third straight time. A wild eighth inning in which the Spudders counted four runs gave them a 7 to 3 decision.

Stage Real Show

At Beaumont, the Exporters and Galveston Buccaneers put on a real show with the Exporters taking the last curtain call, 8 to 7. Galveston was coasting in with a 7 to 3 lead until the eighth inning when the Exporters uncorked a batting spree that netted them four runs to tie the score. Doubles by White and Mallett aided in the four run stampede, the Exporters broke the 7-all deadlock and won the game in the last of the tenth inning on a trio of scratch hits plus Molesworth's low throw to home plate trying to cut off the winning run.

Going back to their flood lights, Houston scored a 4 to 0 verdict over San Antonio at Houston. Carelton was in superb pitching form, stopping the Indians with four hits. Although he allowed nine hits, Smith pitched a splendid game for San Antonio but received erratic support.

SLATON TO BE FAVORITE IN CONTESTS

THOUSAND ATHLETES ARE EXPECTED TO COMPETE HERE

Opening with the tennis preliminaries in both boys' and girls' singles and doubles at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and continuing with the track preliminaries at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the annual District 2 track and field meet of the Texas Interscholastic league here this week promises to be one of the biggest ever held here in standpoint of entries. Coach Del Morgan, director of the meet, predicts an entry list approaching the one thousand mark, provided weather conditions are favorable.

Attendance on the part of athletes and fans grows at each successful meet and since all first and second place winners in county meets, regardless of which school they attend, are eligible to compete in the district meet, the entry list swells annually.

Slaton Favorite

Slaton High school's athletes ran away with a majority of the honors in the Lubbock county meet here in March and they will return here tomorrow and Saturday to compete against winners in all South Plains counties. By their previous showing, the Tigers loom as favorites in the district meet.

Heading Friday's program is the rural pentathlon, a five-event contest for individuals that promises to hold plenty of interest for fans and participants. Preliminaries in 120-yard high hurdles, 100-yard dash, 220-yard low hurdles, 440-yard dash and 220-yard dash will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Saturday will see the finals in all events, including tennis. The mile relay and mile run and 880-yard run will be added to the track events. Field events include pole vault, shot put, high jump, discus throw, javeline and broad jump.

Mrs. Harper Will Compete In Match

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP)—Mrs. Anna McCune Harper of Oakland, Calif., first national ranking woman tennis player, will compete in the Wimbledon, England, championships this year for the first time. She will sail from New York, May 15.

The left handed star is looking forward to another meeting with Miss Betty Nuhall, the young English girl who defeated her in the finals of the 1930 American championship.

The Oakland matron will travel with three other American players, John Van Ryn and the latter's wife, the former Marjorie Gladman, and George Lott of Chicago.

ELECTED CAPTAIN

WACO, April 23. (AP)—Raymond Strickland, veteran Baylor university basketball and track and field star, today was elected captain of the 1932 basketball team at a meeting of lettermen. Strickland's basketball eligibility will end next season. He is now captain of the track team.

BABE RUTH LOST TO BASEBALL FOR TWO WEEKS AT LEAST; LEG INJURED

BOSTON, April 23 (AP)—Babe Ruth is lost to baseball for two weeks at least, possibly a month.

Dr. Francis T. Newton of the Peter Bent Brigham hospital, where the Babe was taken yesterday after his left leg gave way while chasing a long fly, discovered a severe charleyhorse in Ruth's left thigh. Dr. Newton believed Ruth would be able to leave the hospital today but said he would not be able to play ball for "two weeks or a month."

Ruth's leg began bothering him during the first of the sixth inning of yesterday's Yankee-Red Sox game. The Yankees were at bat. The Babe doubled and slid into second. Lou Gehrig singled and Ruth pulled up lame as he swung across third. His left ankle appeared to be bothering him and play was suspended while he rubbed his leg.

As play continued, Tony Lazzeri flied to Webb. Charley Berry, Red Sox catcher, tried to block Ruth at the plate and the Babe tripped over Berry's legs in the tangle. Ruth grinned gained his feet, and walked briskly to the Yankee bench.

Appeared All Right

The Yankee fielder's leg appeared all right as he walked to his position when the Sox came to bat.

Then, Tom Oliver, Red Sox heavy hitter, belted one out into Ruth's territory. While the Babe was chasing the ball his left leg buckled and he fell to the ground. A squad of Yankees carried him from the field and he was taken to the hospital after a hasty examination at the dressing room.

NEW CAMPAIGN IS PLANNED

WOULD EXTERMINATE LAND OWNERS IN SOVIET UNION

MOSCOW, April 23 (AP)—A new campaign of extermination against the kulaks, or land owning peasants, is being planned by the Soviet union.

Under its provisions, the hated kulak will be branded openly as an enemy of the communistic government, compelled to register with and report his movements to police wherever he may go, and relegated to unimportant work to earn his bread.

Details of the new scheme published in Izvestia, official organ of the central executive committee of the Soviet union, reveal its wide scope, which, banning the class from government jobs, 'will force them to resort to manual labor or cease to exist.

The kulak's crime is that he once owned land, and sometimes a horse or cow, with which he maintained himself and his family. He resented the collectives, which took these holdings away from him, and put him on an equal footing with those who owned nothing at all.

It is estimated there are still 3,000,000 kulaks in Russia, not including the number who have been banished to the arctic regions where they live in lumber camps on a "no work, no food" basis. Many of them have been shot on conviction of counter-revolutionary activities.

Though they were married five years ago and haven't been divorced, they're going through another ceremony because Brewster fears for the status of their first, performed at Ensenada, Mexico, in 1926. Here they are in the kitchenet of their Hollywood bungalow.

Immigration From Mexico Decreases

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Immigration from Mexico during the current fiscal year has been only about six per cent of the average figure for the six previous years.

The state department said today this resulted from drastic reduction in the number of visas granted by American consuls in Mexico to reduce immigration to a minimum during the depression.

Only 113 immigration visas were issued to Mexicans last month. The number for March, 1928, before restriction was applied, was 6,081.

BERG FAVORED IN CANZONERI BOUT

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—If the sentiment of the Chicago wagering gentry is correct, the lightweight championship of the world will be transferred from Tony Canzoneri to Jack (Kid) Berg of England tomorrow night in the Chicago stadium.

Berg, already owner of the trick junior welterweight title, today had become an 8 to 5 favorite to take away the crown the New York Italian won from Al Singer several months ago. Canzoneri, however, was not without backers who figured him to knock out the Whitechapel windmill early in the scheduled 10-round battle.

Both titles will be at stake, Berg having weighed in at the lightweight limit, 135 pounds yesterday after his final serious workout. Canzoneri probably will come in at 133.

Beauty In Business

A few years hence, according to a writer in the current issue of The American Architect, every business man will be an artist.

This, it seems, will not be because of any sudden flowering of a latent creative impulse. Rather it will be because business is learning that beauty has a high sales value. Beautiful things sell better than ugly things. Everybody is going to have to fall in line.

"This all means," says the magazine writer, "that soon a new generation will be in our midst, a generation with a fine conception of art and beauty, a conception so fine that it will pervade all business. And so, the business man brought up in this atmosphere must of necessity be himself an artist if he is to survive the stern competition of a business world actuated by beauty."

It is at least encouraging to realize that beauty, in America, does have a high sales value nowadays. In the past—even the recent past—this has not always been quite true. Certain real estate developments on the edgees of great cities, for example, have contained houses as supremely ugly as anything man ever made anywhere. There have been times when Americans went in for furniture that was frahkly hideous. Some of the proudest buildings and monuments in some of our leading cities have been of a kind to give an artistic person the shudders.

So, if a new order is coming into existence, we can only be thankful. It is, of course, overdoing it a little, to say that every business man will be an artist. Probably it would be nearer the mark to say that every big business man will take pains to hire artists.

All of this is just another indication that the frontier period in American life is passing. Until very recently, the entire nation was under the dominance of a frontier atmosphere, even though the actual physical frontier had long since passed out of existence.

'A' frontier society values deeds above all else. It puts the doer on a pedestal, and either refuses altogether to put up with the artist and the thinker or, at best, barely tolerates them. It is bound to display that attitude. It has too much work to do to display any other.

Today America is just emerging from that frame of mind. The actual hostility to beautiful things which critics of American life observed in the past is disappearing. The artist, along with other creative workers, is getting a better break.

Forgiveness

More wonderful than the beginning of a beautiful friendship is the mending of a broken one. To forget and to forgive is still the noblest concession man can make; it inspires in him, in our opinion, his most heroic quality.

Quite casually the other day it was reported, and with not too much emphasis, that David Belasco, famed producer and Mrs. Leslie Carter, his renowned first "star," had become friends again after a feud which separated them for more than 25 years.

It was a bitter feud, as every drama lover of the time will recall. Mrs. Carter, at the height of her dramatic fame after successes in "The Heart of Maryland," "Zaza" and "Dubarry," violated a Belasco precept by her secret marriage. The producer vowed never to speak to her again.

Now, a quarter of a century later, Mrs. Carter confides from her Hollywood home that she is preparing once again to appear under Belasco's management. "We are good friends now," she declares.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a woman can love her husband and still be secretly amused at the way the public honors him.

* * *

All compliments received are the property of people giving them and should be returned.

* * *

QUITE a good many years ago there was a little ditty going the rounds of boarding houses that was very popular. It ran something like this:

"Oh, you have to be a lover
Of the landlady's daughter
If you want to get a second piece of pie!"

The jingle has been all but forgotten, but something very near akin to it has bobbed up at Austin, where efforts to secure necessary financial support for Texas Tech are meeting with political shenanigans.

* * *

A couple of years ago—or something like that—when "giving a young man a chance" was Texas' noble experiment, Tech presented pleas for a new library building.

The Board of Control inspected the college plant and agreed that a library was a crying need.

The House and Senate heard the arguments for and against the project and both slapped an official 'o. k.' on it. The bill, including other appropriations, then went to Governor Moody, the well known 'boy governor'.

There in the governor's office the library died a horrible death. It was choked into Kingdom Come with a blue pencil.

(Yep, "Dan's The Man"—the man whose political aspirations received almost solid support in Northwest Texas!)

But, be that as it may, a lot of water has run over quite a few dams since then and Tech, like an alderman's waistline, has grown. In spite of the fact that the Board of Control, the House and the Senate of two years ago realized that Tech needed a library, appropriations for the building, included in this year's requests, have been whacked off by the 'economic' House committee, as well as by the Board of Control. In other words, Tech, with more students today than it had two years ago, doesn't need a library as badly as it did when everybody but Governor Moody saw the need.

That, friends, is logic as it is displayed in dear, old Austin.

AND here's something else that would be funny if it weren't so doggone serious.

Texas Tech today has a student body 90 per cent as large as that of A&M college.

Yet in the House Appropriation bill, as it stands now, A&M is scheduled to receive $925,000 per year for operating expenses during the next biennium, and Texas Tech is to receive $495,000 per year.

And please understand that the $925,000 scheduled for the College Station school does not include the A&M Extension service or the experiment station work under that institution's direction!

Perhaps the legislature does not consider West Texans as legitimate citizens of this state. Perhaps the fact that A&M has a larger and more influential alumni (with more voting power) has swung the appropriations balance and has caused the discrimination.

But whatever it is, something has made the House Appropriations committee throw away its arithmetics and figure that Tech's student body, 90 per cent as large as A&M's, should get along on slightly more than 50 per cent of the Aggie operating expense—in spite of the fact that Tech's growth is more rapid than that of the State Agricultural and Mechanical college!

Now get this straight. The Plainsman, like other West Texans, doesn't care how much A&M, and the University—and the other state schools—get as long as Tech is taken care of in the same ratio. But from the looks of things the boys down at Austin are getting ready to hand Tech the muddy end of the stick in the matter of appropriations and from this point of vantage it looks like a lousy shame.

* * *

IF you read the paper you know that at this time the legislature has pending several bills of the revenue-bearing variety. Included in those bills is a tax on production of natural gas, expected to bring something like $9,000,000 into the state treasury during the next biennium. About four-fifths of the natural gas produced in Texas is produced in West Texas, which means that our part of the state is going to 'take it on the chin' for the lion's share of that tax.

How much of that money will come back into West Texas?

Will a just part of it come back to Tech, and to the other state institutions and projects located in West Texas?

It's time for West Texans to ask these questions and to demand logical answers to them.

If the matter of state financial support is going to degenerate into a cat and dog fight we'd just as well get into the squabble.

The Plainsman is the worst politician in Lubbock. He doesn't have any idea of how to go about getting what we want at Austin.

But the situation is threatening and there should be someone or some group in this neck of the woods with the power to get what we need—and the time to put the pressure on is right now.

This column, for one, would like to see the scrap started—not only for Tech but for West Texas as a whole.

Real Fight On Between Women Drys And Women Wets With Both Groups Marshalling Forces For Big Drive In 1932

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 23—The women of the country appear to be stirred up more about prohibition than they have been about anything else during times of peace.

The Woman's Committee for Law Enforcement had no sooner concluded a convention here with about 800 women gathered than the new Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform was in session with more than a thousand women registered. All the ladies were grimly determined and full of pep and for a day or two brickbats were being tossed from one headquarters into the other.

It becomes obvious enough that a real fight is on between dry women and wet women, but the absorbing question is whether the wet women, when they get themselves good and organized, will be as influential or more so than the dry women. To be influential they must get women to go to the polls and elect wet candidates.

Dry Group Is Nine Years Old

The organization of dry women is nine years old and the organization of wet women is less than two years old. The dry women have really been organized for decades, through the W.C.T.U., the church organizations and other groups, but the prohibition reform outfit is the only organization — of importance, at least—that the wet women have ever had.

The fact that the wet women had more people at their convention than the dry women probably isn't indicative as regards relative strength.

But, for that matter, you can't go on the fact that the dry women's organization claimed to represent 12,000,000 women and that the wet women's organization claimed only 300,000 members. Most of the organizations which make up the dry women's committee are church or prohibition groups, but there is also the General Federation of Women's Clubs with 3,000,000 members and an obvious wet minority.

Nobody professes that the alleged 12,000,000 women can be persuaded to go out and vote for any dry presidential candidate. Some of the big wet majorities in the last elections and referenda made it apparent that plenty of women must be voting wet; that they weren't all drys, at least. And the average member among the 300,000 of the wet women's organization may be more active and effective than the average woman among the millions represented by the dry women's organization.

Drys Better Organized

Nevertheless, it must be said that the dry women are really much more thoroughly organized than the wet women and it remains to be seen whether the wet women can get organized to the point where they will be an important factor in national politics.

Without making any guesses about that, one leaves off listening to the dry ladies and the wet ladies pretty well sold on the idea advanced by both that prohibition is going to be the big issue of 1932. No other issue could have brought so many earnest, voluble women swarming into the capital. No other issue could have made so many of them promise, publicly and privately, to bolt their party if it nominated for president a man with views opposite to theirs on prohibition.

The National League of Women Voters, which concerns itself with various other national problems, met at about the same time with nowhere near as much attendance or publicity.

The Woman's National Democratic Law Enforcement League, affiliated with the larger dry women's organization, was expected to preach the doctrine of bolting if the Democrats nominated a wet candidate. And it did. But there were many wet Republican women at the wet women's convention who were promising to bolt the G. O. P. if it nominated a dry.

Urges Bolt If Necessary

And that seemed to come under the head of news. Especially when Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, leader of the wet ladies and a former Republican national committeewoman from New York, promised to urge all women to bolt their party if that was necessary in order to vote for a wet candidate.

It may be that those meetings of nearly 2000 dry women and wet women haven't changed the course of history, but they certainly have intensified everybody's interest in the prohibition fight and in the 1932 campaign.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1413 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining." "Feminine Hygiene." "Indigestion and Constipation." "The Care of the Hair and Skin." "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet." "List of Books for Mothers." "Bed Wetting." "Diet of the Expectant Mother." "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

BREAST FED INFANT

One of the most remarkable changes in practical medicine has come in the attitude of pediatricians towards special artificially prepared infant food. It used to be thought that the only proper food for infants, when breast milk could not be obtained, was modified cow's milk. The modification of cow's milk in those days was an elaborate and intricate process. I remember the first cold winds of doubt which blew across my mind about the infallibility of my teachers when I found that some of the babies which I had been vainly trying to set right on modified milk mixtures began to thrive when the parents put them on advertised commercial foods against my advice.

Dr. Clendening

The change of mind that the children's specialists have undergone is partly due to the increase in scientific efficiency applied to the manufacture of infants foods. Of course everyone still agrees that mother's milk is the best food of all for the baby. If that fails breast milk from a healthy wet nurse is best. But the profession of wet nursing is not as thriving as it once was, and wet nurses are usually hard to find. Fresh cow's milk in the old milk, sugar, water mixture is next best if the baby thrives on it.

The main difficulty with cow's milk is that the protein is in a different form from that in mother's milk. In cow's milk the protein is in the form of casein, which tends to form larger curds than the lactoalbumin of mother's milk. These curds present mechanical difficulties to smooth digestion and often pass through the intestines unchanged. The large casein curds are entirely different from the small flacculent curds formed from mother's milk in the baby's stomach.

The process of evaporating milk, now extensively practised in commercial form, changes the protein and the fat of cow's milk so as to make it more digestible. The milk is heated in a partial vacuum until reduced to about half its original volume. The fat is emulsified into smaller globules so that it does not rise to the surface as cream. The protein is changed in some way so that the curds formed in the process of digestion are smaller than in the natural state of cow's milk.

No sugar is added to evaporated milk in the manufacturing process. After evaporation it is sealed in cans and sterilized at a temperature of 240 degrees.

To prepare it for feeding equal parts of water are added to the required amount of the evaporated milk. Sugar, or dextrin-maltose, or milk sugar are added as in the preparation of the regular fresh milk, sugar and water mixture. Thus eight ounces of sterile water, plus one ounce of sugar and enough water to bring the total to 30 ounces, makes a mixture suitable for six bottles of five ounces each, suitable for a month-old baby. Vitamin C has to be added to the diet in the form of orange juice and vitamin D in the form of cod liver oil.

"All things considered," says an authority, "evaporated milk is the most suitable form of milk available at present for the feeding of most infants. Unsweetened evaporated milk should not be confused with condensed milk."

ESCAPE INJURY

PITTSBURGH, April 23. (AP)—Phil Ball of St. Louis, baseball club owner, and two men riding with him escaped injury when a cabin monoplane was damaged in making a forced landing in Washington county, Frank T. Dunn, St. Louis, was the pilot. Lloyd McCoy, St Louis iron manufacturer, was the other passenger. The ship was caught in a snowstorm and when it was brought to the ground one wing, the landing gear and propeller were smashed.

"You're point is well taken", as one fencer wisecracked to the other.

In New York With Gilbert Swan

SWAN

NEW YORK, April 23—The army of gold-braided and uniformed doormen of New York would comprise a most picturesque parade were they all to march down Fifth Avenue in mass formation.

There would be Russians with huge Cossack hat, young fellows groomed in the garb of court pages, fellows who seem to have just arrived from Eton, king's guards, gents who might have stepped from the leading roles of operettas, men with scarlet capes and men with blue capes, men with leather-tipped caps and men with braided caps.

Underneath these uniforms would be ex-officers in the czar's army; former noblemen of nations turned over by revolution; students and musicians and just job holders. You'll recall that a former doorman of the old Waldorf became a minister of the gospel and was using his job as a means of studying mankind; and there was the fellow in front of a theater who married a banker's daughter and was an artist all the time; there was the chap who later got a job with the Metropolitan and who wanted to make money enough to study without working too hard at it.

The fellows, young and old, who open taxi doors in front of New York's smarter places have an excellent opportunity for watching the passing show.

There is, for instance, the courteous, blue-coated gent who stands in front of Elizabeth Arden's beauty parlor. Each day he observes hundreds of women bent on preserving their beauty beyond the days of their youth, and youth hanging on to such beauty as it possesses.

He is acquainted with at least half the members of the social register, and like the famous old ticket-taker at the Met opera door can—and does—welcome hundreds of celebrities by name. He has been on Fifth Avenue for such a long time that he can tell who happens to be passing or arriving by merely glancing at the automobile. He is said to be acquainted with any number of cars and when someone asks: "Did Mrs. Van Rennselberg come in today?" he can answer, without hesitation. "Yes, she just drove off in her Rolls a half-hour ago."

Knowing the cars, he also can spot where they are parked, when a customer is ready to be driven off. He has been known to hunt down machines parked many blocks away.

The doorman who guards the portals of Bergdorf-Goodman's has a bow that has become almost legendary on Fifth Avenue. Yet for 18 years he was a butcher. He studied before a mirror to get his stance, approach, or whatever it is. His technique is said by experts to have few equals. There's another one at another entrance of the same place who drove the first electric cab in New York. He will display his pioneer license on the slightest provocation.

An old duck, this gent, to be opening cab doors, since he also was captain on a Hudson river boat. By the way, he achieved the unique salute that has a certain sort of local fame while serving in the army. A third was once a pitcher for the Athletics; still another was, for many years, private bodyguard to Coblenz, the banker; one more is an Englishman who painted streamlines on cars.

Hans is the young Scandinavian at the Fifth Avenue hotel and preens himself like a matinee idol. He is quite the "matinee idol" of the swankier doormen and actually gets mash notes from passing cuties.

Gandhi says he'll wear trousers but no shirt when he goes to England. That's one thing off his chest.

A fighter who has the edge over his opponent, says the office sage, doesn't always put up a slashing bout.

"You first, Alphonse," as the Republicans in Spain said pointing to the exit door.

When the wife insists that you turn in on Rudy Vallee, you might as well face the music.

The depression has hit Hawaii where it is said the Hula dancers are due for a shake-down.

Flapper Fanny

Meditation is often cause for hesitation.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

Said Scouty, "We are in a school and now's no time for us to fool. Let's sit right down like good boys. Maybe we can learn a lot." "Oh, no," replied the Travel Man. "I'm positive you never can. The lessons that we hear will be in Chinese, like as not."

And he was right. The girls and boys soon started making lots of noise. "They're reading off their lesson," said the Travel Man. "Be still. You see, they chant it, all as one. To you it seems a lot of fun, but if you did that for a spell, it wouldn't be a thrill."

Then came a simple exercise and Coppy said, "Gee, they are wise to get that physical training. It will make them nice and strong. Let's join them. We can all do that unless we slip and fall down flat. And that won't happen if we do things right instead of wrong."

And so they formed right into line and, my, they got along just fine until poor Clowny stubbed toe. Down on the floor he flop Two Chinese youngsters grab him quick and one said, "I h you're not sick." "Oh, no, I'm m ly clumsy," Clowny said. "Th why I dropped."

When everyone had exercised Tinies suddenly realized that sc was out and Scouty said, "Come we'd better go." Then two tots j ed them and one cried, "We're ing to sit down, side by side an some work. Why don't you wat It may be quite a show."

"Of course we will," wee C said. "So, with your work you ahead." The little fellows sta in and didn't make a slip. painted on some paper, white everything they did looked ri The Travel Man explained that were doing brushmanship.

Apple Blossom Queen

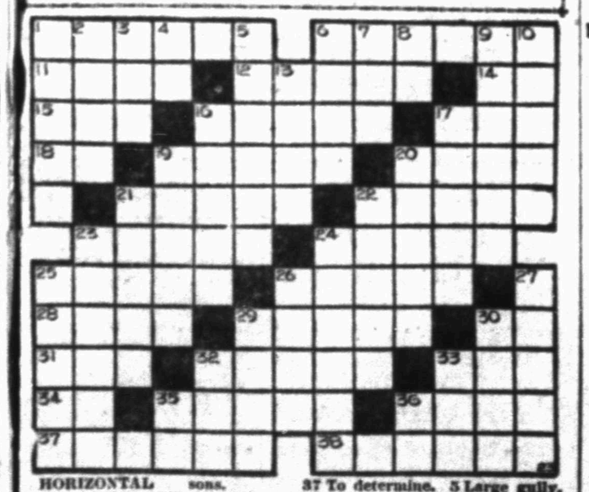

She's an imported beauty who will reign as "Queen Shenandoah VIII" at the annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Va., May 1. Smiling Patricia D. Merton, above, has been acclaimed the most beautiful girl in her home city of Winchester, England. She is a daughter of Mrs. E. St. Anne Stroud and the late H. George Morton.

She Got That "Way"

And now her name is Mrs. Way. It used to be Dorothy Sills before she was married the other day to Robert Swayze Way, East Orange, N. J., society man, in New York's famous Little Church Around the Corner. She is a daughter of the late Milton Sills, film star, and his first wife. And her wedding was attended by representatives of society, stage and screen. Now she is a "Way" on a Bermuda honeymoon.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—The stock market developed resistance to the decline in the early trading today.

Trading was active during the first half hour, sales aggregating 500,000 shares and price trends were mixed with most leading shares moving in a narrow range. After moving irregularly lower in the first few minutes, however, the trend changed and the majority of issues pointed upward. Commission house comment continuec to stress the theory that a technical rebound was long overdue, although it was acknowledged such an upturn might not indicate a change in the major trend, which has been downward fore more than a month.

Auburn pushed up more than eight points in the early trading and issues working a point or so higher included U. S. Steel, American Tabocco B., American Can, New Haven, Texas Gulf, Worthington, Case and Illinois central. General Electric, North American, International Telephone, and Consolidated Gas rose fractionally.

Issues losing a point or two in the first few minutes, although these loses were later modified, were Baltimore & Ohio, American Power & Light, National Lead, General Theaters, and Westinghouse Electric.

Sterling Cables opened a shade higher at $4.86 3-16.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Grain prices here went downward early today influenced by Liverpool quotations lower than expected and by rumors of a bank failure at Amster. Falling off in the volume of wheat shipments from the Black Sea and from Argentina failed to act as an offset. Opening at 1-4-3-4 cents down wheat afterward held near to the initial limits. Corn started 1-8, 1 off and established a new low price record for the season.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 1 point higher and fluctuated within a narrow range during the early trading.

Early cables from Liverpool were a shade lower than due on the New York close of yesterday, but prices there steadied up somewhat just before the local opening and the initial advance here was attributed to covering. While temperature remained rather low, weather reports were considered rather more favorable than yesterday and May have led to a little fore selling, but it was readily absorbed and orders were evidently well divided. At the end of the first half hour May was selling around 10.07 and October 10.70, or about 1 to 2 points net higher.

Liverpool cable advices said covering nad continantal buying in that market had been absorbed by liquidation and Alexandria selling and reported a poor demand for cotton cloths from India and China. Egyptian futures in the Alexandria market were unchanged to 22 points higher but the Indian spot quotation in Liverpool was 6 points lower. A private report was published pointing to a decrease of 11.9 percent in acreage.

After the early offerings had been absorbed, the market turned steadier on covering by recent sellers combined with some further trade buying and perhaps some local or Wall Street buying on reports of a steadier tone in the stock market. July contracts which had sold at 10.31 early, rallied to 10.40, or 8 points net higher but a little more cotton was encountered on this bulge and the midday market was 4 or 5 points off from the best, with trading quiet.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 23 (AP) — Cotton today opened steady although Liverpool was hardly as good as due and first trades here showed gains of three points. As New York opened somewhat easier, the market here eased off in sympathy right after the start, losing the initial gain, with July at 10.33 and October at 10.69, three points under the opening but unchanged from yesterday's close.

At the end of the first hour, the market showed a disposition to rally owing to the very cold weather in the belt and map indications of another spell of unsettled weather coming on the western section.

The market ruled fairly steady most of the morning with somewhat more active trading. Prices were supported by prospects for more bad weather in the belt and some trade buying. July advanced to 10.41 and October to 10.87, or 8 points above yesterday's close.

In the last part of the morning, prices turned easier owing to weakness in the stock market, and July traded down to 10.29 and October to 10.65, or 12 points below the highs.

Around noon the market was somewhat steadier and had recovered five to six points of the decline.

Alcohol Smuggling Gang Is Broken Up

MEXICO CITY, April 23 (AP). — Belief that a well organized alcohol smuggling gang was broken up in arrests recently near Ciudad Mier, state of Tamalipas, was expressed in reports reaching here today.

Customs agents from Ciudad Mier went to the ranch called "El Tanque," fifty kilometers away and near the international border, and seized seventy-two tin containers of alcohol. A landing field was found on the ranch, and it is believed a ring was engaged in flying the alcohol across the border into the United States.

HOSPITAL FUND

this morning that as far as the city of Lubbock was concerned there was nothing it could do in the case at the present time. He stated that the city commission was willing at all times to do whatever it could for such cases but that they were regulated by statutes on the disposition of the city's funds.

"County Proposition"

"The matter of hospitalization of charity cases appears to be strictly a county proposition," Mayor Clements said. "Why should the city of Lubbock, which pays at least 90 per cent of the present taxes of the county, be called on to pay out more money from its tax moneys to care for charity cases. This would be forcing double support on citizens of Lubbock in the matter of indigent sick cases."

Dr. W. L. Baugh, county health officer and a member of the staff of the West Texas hospital, declared that the time has come when some definite arrangement must be made between the county, city and hospitals regarding charity cases. Dr. Baugh pointed out the huge loss taken by the hospitals in charity cases in the past. A loss of approximately $30,000 was suffered by the institutions last year through charity cases, it was said.

Regarding the erection of a city-county or a county hospital, Dr. Baugh declared the plan would be entirely too expensive for either to attempt. He cited several cities of Texas which are taking a loss on their hospitals due to the overhead expenses.

"A hospitalization fund either by the city or county, is the only solution to the problem," Dr. Baugh said.

"Either of the hospitals in Lubbock can care for the charity patients cheaper and save the overhead expense of operating a hospital." He cited the plan used by Abilene, that of paying a flat rate to a hospital for a charity ward as one of the most successful in the state. Dr. Baugh estimated that $20,000 to $25,000 would provide for hospitalization of all charity cases in the county each year.

Dr. A. T. Stewart, president of the Lubbock County Medical society and also a member of the staff of the West Texas hospital, declared when questioned this morning that the doctors didn't want to appear too critical in their demands but that the practice of taking charity patients had apparently been carried on "too long by Lubbock hospitals" as they were now operating at a loss, due in a large measure to these charity cases.

Suggests Plan

"There ought to be some definite arrangement mapped out to provide for this work," Dr. Stewart said. "The best way as I see it is for the city and county to have the hospitals submit a bid on hospitalization charges of charity cases and let them select the best bid.

"Some people might say," Dr. Stewart went on, "that the doctors ought to go ahead and do this work as they own the hospitals anyway, but that isn't true. A number of doctors do own stock in the two hospitals here but there are other stockholders who demand that dividends be paid on their investments." He stated that some might say the doctors were opposed to a city-county or county hospital and that "we are in a way, for we know that it is a useless expenditure of money that could be saved through a hospitalization plan."

Losses Cited

Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, one of the owners of the Lubbock sanitarium and chairman of the committee appointed by the medical society to investigate the plans operated by other cities, showed figures this morning that which revealed huge losses being taken in county-operated hospitals in Wichita Falls, Tulia, Hereford, Dallas, Fort Worth, Amarillo, and other points. The cost of daily care of the patients runs from $4.99 to $7 a day in these institutions while the rate proposed for charit yeases in Lubbock institutions is only $4, "below actual cost."

C. E. Hunt, until recently president of the Northwest Texas Hospital Managers association, declared in an interview that the cost of operating a county or city hospital is "ten times as great as that of establishing a hospitalization fund".

Ortega In Pain

While the officials continue their controversy regarding disposition of Ortega's case, the man continues to groan in pain from the appendix trouble which, physicians say, must be relieved in the next forty-eight hours. The stricken man hasn't slept any for the past four nights, a Catechist of the Catholic church who is attending him, said today.

There is a possibility, it was learned, that the man might be taken to the Mercy Hospital at Slaton as a last resort. Decision along that line rests in action from local officials.

Two Permits Given Here This Morning

Two building permits were issued this morning at the city building inspector's office, boosting total valuations of the month to $15,330 and the year to $220,005.

D. G. Ridge received a permit to add a room and stucco a frame residence at 2701 Twenty-third street for $100.

W. C. Huffins, contractor, was authorized to construct a one-story 18x36-foot automobile repair shop for Magnolia Petroleum company at 1320 Avenue H at a cost of $350.

The permits were the first two of the week, and increased number of authorizations this month to 19 and this year to 89.

appearance.

The service followed approved White House etiquette. Louis Erk, tall girl scout, daughter of Representative Erk of Pennsylvania, had been instructed to serve the president first with Shirley Schafer, small girl scout daughter of Representative Schafer of Wisconsin, waiting to place the food before Mrs. Hoover just a second later.

The primary purpose of the low cost meal was the launching of better homes week. But there entered also the thought of a menu appropriate for an average American home whose income may, perhaps, have been slightly impaired in the general depression.

The bureau of home economics worked out the menu and girl scouts cooked it.

The president's place was at the head of the table in the biggest chair in the Girl Scout little house.

DISTRICT MEET

semi-finals and finals in events not otherwise provided for will be held.

A rural pentathelon will be included in the athletic events.

The only admission fee will be for the track and field events at Technological college athletic field Saturday afternoon, according to Doctor Evans.

Counties in the second district are:

Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dickens, Dawson, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum.

Winners ih the district meet will be eligible to compete in state interscholastic contests at Austin in May.

INTER-SCHOOL MEET WILL BE HELD HERE

Contests in skill in all phases of class work will be entered into by teams from the various ward schools of Lubbock Friday and Saturday, according to an announcement that has been made by M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools.

Classes will be dismissed Friday afternoon in order that this interschool meet may be inaugurated at the Central Ward school building. The contests will continue through Saturday.

Each school and room has selected teams to compete in this semi-annual event and the tests will include athletics as well as classroom projects, he pointed out. Winners will enjoy the honor that goes with making the highest grades in the public schools here. The contests will not extend further. Another such meet was conducted early in December, the purpose of these being to create interest and rivalry among the schools within the city system, Mr. Duncan said.

Among the subjects in which the contests will be held are reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling, drawing, music, story telling, language and athletics.

CLEANUP DRIVE CONTINUES HERE

Cleaning and painting of interiors and exteriors of homes, of porches, fences, porch furniture, and screens, and cleaning of windows and replacement of awnings by business houses was on today's program for the second annual cleanup and paintup campaign.

Although members of the cleanup corps reported no unusual developments, they evidently were satisfied with what had been accomplished thus far in the campaign which began Monday to continue through next Thursday.

Tomorrow is back yard day and Saturday is vacant lot day.

A pageant having cleaning and painting as its motif was to be presented at a luncheon of the Kiwanis club today noon at the Lubbock hotel and there tomorrow noon before the American Business club by the Akipsia group of the Campfire Girls. The playlet was given Tuesday at a Lions club luncheon.

LONG LIFE

younger ages.

"Yet we must remember that man differs from other animals in that he is a reasoning being. Certain insects live a day. The elephant lives 200 years. These animals adapt themselves to their environment. Man has not only adapted himself to his environment, but in many instances has conquered it. How far this may go no one can tell.

"Certain significant researches in the recent past should be mentioned. They are at least suggestive."

Mr. Frankel summarized them as child's evidence that aging is most rapid in youth but slows down thereafter, Carrell's belief that a man's years bear "no definite relation to his real age," Crile's artificial and partly living cell, chicken hearts kept alive 20 years in glass dishes, this spring's announcement at Johns Hopkins that rats fed on diet free from mineral maganese lose affection for their young.

Nobody, he said, wants to live to be 200 if old age means merely senility. Whether it necessarily means that he predicted science will find out perhaps in the next 50 years by cutting the illness rate in two. Then perhaps man will face "a century of unimpaired usefulness," with a quick, happy ending.

BUILDING SUIT IS TRIED HERE

Two or three days will be required to complete trial of the case of H. C. Ragland and L. R. Ragland vs. M. C. Overton for removal of building restrictions from two lots at Broadway and College avenue, which began Wednesday in ninety-ninth district court before Judge Clark M. Mullican, according to attorneys in the case.

The plaintiffs allege that the lots are no longer suited to residential purposes, as restricted under deeds granted by Dr. Overton in 1908. The building of Texas Technological college at the end of Broadway and the development of highways by the property has made the lots essentially business locations, the petitioners say. The petition alleges that there are now other business establishments and semi-business plants on both Broadway and College avenue, territory restricted as residential territory when the Overton addition was laid out in 1908.

Sunday movie law up to Governor Sterling. The house passed the repeal bill 86 to 42 and the senate had approved it. The bill asked that cities desiring Sunday shows be permitted to have them.

The congressional redistricting free conference committee planned to hold its first meeting tonight. Among the provisions in the bills which have been protested is that placing Congressman J. J. Mansfield of Columbus, ranking Democrat on the rivers and harbors committee and Representative Clay Stone Briggs of Galveston in the same district. Galveston residents were here to object to that rearrangement.

Scouts To Observe Loyalty Day Here

Observance of boys' loyalty day will be a part of the program of the monthly Lubbock Boy Scout court of honor which will convene at 7:30 o'clock Friday night in the district criminal courtroom, instead of scheduled observance Saturday, the day so designated on the national Boys' week program.

Pennants won by Lubbock troops in the nail-pick held last Saturday as a forerunner of the second annual cleanup and paintup campaign will be awarded at the court.

Several troops will participate in a knot-tying contest. Date of the Lubbock Boy Scout field meet will be fixed, according to D. F. Jennings, South Plains Area council executive.

SNOW FALLS IN LARGE AREA

SECTION OF WEST IS BLANKETED TODAY; DROUTH BROKEN

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, April 23—Snow blanketed a large area of the west today. Spring flitted restlessly over the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast states, favoring some sections with drouth-breaking moisture and fanning forest fires in others.

Snow covered parts of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Nevada and the Sierra mountains. A severe drouth in western Nevada was broken by the heaviest fall of the year, which continued early today.

Autos Stalled

Scores of motor cars were stalled on the highways of the state, Tuesday the mercury touched 82 at Reno, a new high mark for the year. Two feet of snow was reported at Red Lodge, Mont.

A light rain broke a 67-day spell in Los Angeles yesterday and showers were forecast for today. There was a heavy rainfall at Modesto, Cal. A forest fire in Gentry Canyon, Arizona, was drenched by rain.

High winds swept Oregon, Idaho, Utah and northern California. Foresters worked vainly to check timber fires in Oregon and Idaho.

Rain, hail and dust storms visited Arizona and air mail planes on the southern route were grounded.

The plains states to the east, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Iowa and Missouri, were down for unsettled weather with probable showers today and tonight.

REPUBLICANS

man Fess of the Republican national committee attacked as "confidential smearing" and "a brazen falsehood" statements attributed to Chairman Shouse of the Democratic national executive committee in a recent Los Angeles speech.

Shouse, Fess charged, said the Republican national committee bought for distribution 10,000,000 copies of a magazine article which discussed the "religious affiliations" of Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national committee.

That statement, Fess asserted, was an "adroit falsehood."

SHOUSE ANSWERS FESS' CHARGES

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Chairman Shouse of the Democratic national executive committee today denied the charge by Chairman Fess of the Republican national committee that he had said in a California speech the Republican organization purchased for distribution 10,000,000 copies of a magazine article attacking John J. Raskob on religious grounds.

Shouse said Fess' allegations were based upon "an alleged publication in a San Francisco newspaper" which quoted Shouse as saying the Republican committee purchased 10,000,000 copies of a magazine containing an anti-Raskob article by Robert Cruise McManus, a newspaperman.

He said he had never heard of McManus and added he referred in his San Francisco speech to an article published in Scribner's magazine last September.

"I stated," he said, "that the Republican national committee reproduced in pamphlet form excerpts from this article under the heading 'Smear Hoover—Raskob order to his subsidized propagandists,' a copy of which I have now before me.

"I charged and I repeat, that this pamphlet constituted a large part of the Republican publicity in the congressional campaigns of last fall.

"I charged that because of John Raskob's prominence as a member of the Catholic church his name in this instance, and in numerous other instances, has been brought forward by the high command of the Republican national committee with the definite purpose of attempting to relight the fires of religious bigotry which played so deplorable a part in the campaign of 1928."

I hit for the Italian coast."

That small crowd which stood around listening to him bubbled with laughter when he began to tell about the return trip.

"I got off all right at Rome," he said, "and along about Pisa something went haywire in the fuel line. I came down to fix it.

"I don't speak Italian and at the Pisa field there was nobody who could speak English. I tried to make them understand that I was all right, but they wanted 54 lire for a landing fee. I didn't have any lire and they didn't have any change for your English pound sterling. We had a lot of fun."

Forced Down

When the captain started out yesterday his idea was to have lunch in Rome and come back here for dinner last night with the Aero club, but his fuel ran out and he landed at Pouilly-Les-Glen, about 85 miles south of Paris.

He stayed there over night and this morning hopped into Paris in 24 minutes. The French fliers at Le Bourget had just received word of his takeoff when he dropped down on the field.

He didn't make his one day round trip, but he's going to try again before he goes home.

The airline distance from Le Bourget to Heston is 229 miles. Hawks' 59-minute flight covered the distance at a speed of close to 233 miles an hour.

Twenty-four cotton spinning companies in Japan suffered losses totaling nearly $4,000,000 in the first half of this year.
