BYRON RESIGNS AS BANDMASTER

WILL GO TO EUNICE FOR THE POST OF BAND LEADER AND SCOUTMASTER; WILL LEAVE IN TWO WEEKS

W. I. Byron, who has been bandmaster in the Perryton schools for the past four years, has resigned in favor of the Eunice, New Mexico, school system. He has accepted the position there as bandmaster and scout leader. Mr. and Mrs. Byron expect to leave in about two weeks. Although Perryton is sorry to lose a man like Byron from their school system it is an advancement for him, with a double in salary. Eunice is in Lea county in the heart of a rich oil center and is considered to have the richest high school in New Mexico.

Mr. Byron has done excellent work here, having built the band membership of the Perryton school up from a total of 17 members in 1933, to 52 in the senior band and 90 in the junior band in 1937. His position in Perryton was his first upon graduating from Hardin-Simmons.

Superintendent Roger A. Burgess stated that his place would be difficult to fill at this time of the year, but another man will be secured, however, in the near future.

Freight rates on feed stuff shipped to the drouth stricken counties in the Panhandle were temporarily suspended by District Judge Roy C. Archer, September 30. Thirty railroads who complained of the rates instructed to hold in trust all reduced rates pending the outcome of collections made in excess to reduced rates already made.

The various organizations of cattlemen are putting up a fight for the reduced rates which has been continued several times during the past months and were restrained by an order secured by the railroads pending the hearing before the Railroad Commission at Austin, October 9.

The counties previously named for the reduction were Ochiltree, Roberts, Wheeler, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Valverde, Kinney, Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Sherman, Potter, Hansford, Moore, Hutchinson, Gray, Carson, Atascosa, McMullen, Webb.

International Sunday School Lesson

Counsel for Christians of Today

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 10. Text: Jude 1-4, 17-23.

THE early path along which Christianity made its way led through a world of evil, a world in which many difficulties and temptations faced the pure souls who heard Jesus' voice and turned to his way of life, and also the early converts who followed.

To be a Christian meant to be in constant danger of persecution because the world at all times has been very critical and hostile toward those who have not conformed to its ways.

The menace that besets the Christian, however, does not all come from without. In every such situation there are those who take some compromising and expedient way. They do not bluntly and frankly yield to temptation, but they find some means of justifying their conduct to themselves and others.

It is this situation that is described in this lesson from the one-chapter book of Jude. Jude is described as the brother of James, and it is supposed that they were brothers, or half-brothers, of our Lord.

Apparently the brothers of Jesus were slow at first to believe in His divine mission, but James and Jude became zealous disciples. Our lesson reveals Jude as a man of pure and beautiful character, zealous to save the early Christians from corruption and from the debasing influences of their environment.

His message to the early Christians is one of mercy and peace and love. He is constrained to exhort these Christians, but it is not with any superior sense of righteousness, but out of his quiet zeal for the faith.

Jude speaks of those who have crept into the church who have not understood the purity and beauty of this faith, ungodly men who have been corrupt and lascivious and who have denied their Master. He calls upon these Christians to remember the words of the apostles, that there would arise mockers and hypocrites, who would be deceived themselves and would seek to lure others from the life of the Holy Spirit.

What are Christians to do in the presence of such a situation? They are to keep themselves in the love of God. They are to seek the mercy of Christ unto eternal life, and they are to be merciful toward others, particularly toward those who are in doubt.

Some they are to save, snatching them out of the fire, but in other cases, mercy is to be associated with fear. How finely this is put: "On some have mercy with fear, hating even the garment spotted by the flesh."

Where could there be better counsel for Christians of today? For the Christian of today, like these early disciples, is in the midst not only of temptations and dangers, but he is apt to be beset with attitudes and philosophies that would destroy or pervert the simple sincerity and beauty of a faith established in mercy, peace, and love.

Editorial

We daresay that most of us know there wouldn't be any newspapers if it weren't for the people who write up columns and columns of reading material. Much labor, both physical and mental, is used in writing these items, which more often than not, are ignored or else read lightly and then forgotten.

The gist of what we are trying to get across from us to you, is that we have organized a news staff which is to collect news and to put it in a "publishable" form.

The members of this newsstaff are new and inexperienced to this sort of job; but with the oft proffered suggestions of our fellow students who are, (pardon us for this) as green as we are about it, and the aid of our experienced sponsor, we hope to make a success of our venture into a journalistic career. And we hope that our public will bear with us until we learn the technique of journalism. (If there is a technique to learn.)

So far we have acquired an editor-in-chief, an assistant editor, and reporters and more reporters. The motto we are adopting will probably be those oft heard lines: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

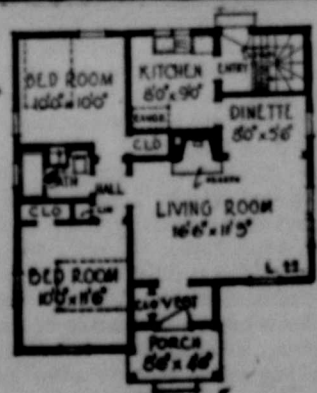

Schick Test

Dr. Blue, Miss Harrington and other health officials came to Bethany, Thursday and Friday, September 29th and 30th, to administer Schick tests and vaccinate those who were not already immune from diphtheria. Fifty eight were tested and out of that number thirteen were vaccinated. This number is an indication that the people of this community are interested in the health program and the old ideal of "let the children get the disease both glee clubs have appeared in early and be through with it" is a chapel. The boys sang "I Saw the thing of the past. We look forward Moon Rise Clear," and the girls

Greenbelt Project, First of Its Kind, Expected to Aid Low Income Families

TWO years ago, Greenbelt, Md., was a desolate, almost worthless stretch of land. Today it is a clean, modern, thriving community of more than 800 families, comprising the first federally-built, non-profit-making community in the country. Springing from an idea by Rexford Tugwell, one of President Roosevelt's first brain-trusters, Greenbelt, a $14,227,000 project, is an experiment in model housing and town planning.

Greenbelt's citizenry has been drawn, for the most part, from Washington, D. C., and are in the lower income bracket of $1000 to $2000 a year.

Although actually an experiment, the town's architectural and physical development has not been a radical departure from the normal set-up. Three hundred of the 885 dwelling units now available are apartments, simple, small but very modern and comfortable. The remaining housing facilities take the form of small, semi-detached homes. Average rent is $5.90 a month.

Shown in the excellent aerial view, top above, is Greenbelt, Md., built by the federal government as the first non-profit community in the United States. Below is one of the pleasant, modern, semi-detached homes which is part of the housing development.

GREENBELT is meant to provide an inexpensive and more healthy existence for small income families; but that doesn't mean its populace will be deprived of modern conveniences, entertainment, and recreation.

Excellent sewage and electrical systems have been laid out. A grade school and first-class high school furnish adequate educational opportunities. A lake for swimming, fishing or sailing is also part of the development, along with gardens, lawns, and an athletic center. Good roads and a telephone system give it an urban touch.

The plan is for the government to own and operate the housing facilities, act as rental agent, choose the tenants, and service the buildings.

The town's citizens will organize their own government under a city manager charter. The business of the community, established as a co-operative by the late Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant, will embrace a movie theater, garage, restaurant, bar, and other enterprises. All will be run on a non-profit basis. Stock will be sold to those townpeople who desire it, and the books will be strictly totaled at regular intervals.

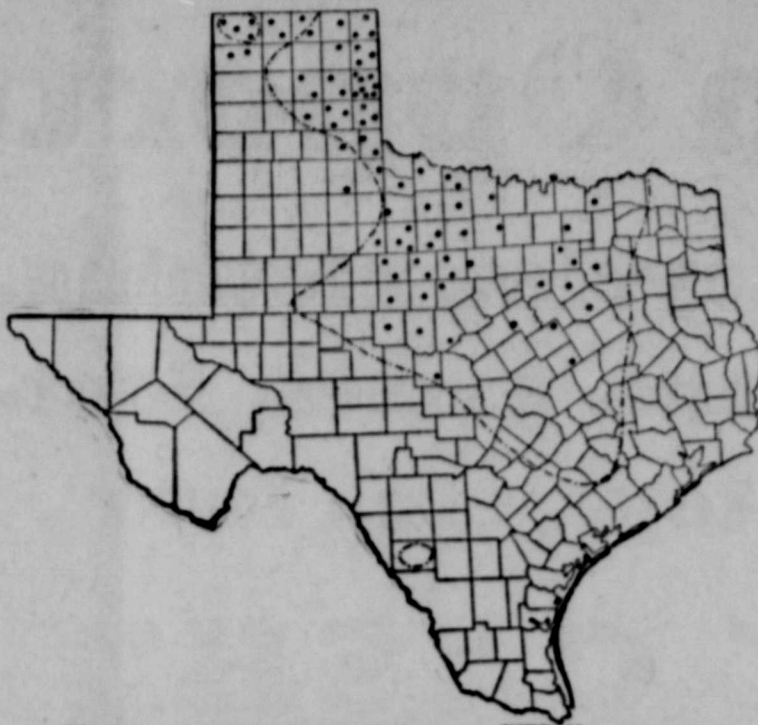

GREENBELT will pay no state, county or town tax levy.

'HOPPER CONTROL CAMPAIGN SAVES TEXANS FIVE MILLIONS

College Station—Approximately $5,000,000 was saved Texas farmers by the grasshopper control program waged during the spring and summer in Northwest and Central Texas counties which were threatened with a severe grasshopper infestation equal to or worse than the destructive one of 1924, according to a conservative estimate by R. R. Reppert, Extension entomologist and state leader of the committee on

Control campaigns were carried on by county committees working with the county agricultural agent under the supervision of a state committee. The Bureau on Entomology and Plant Quarantine which has been designated by Congress to Definite data on the saving have been supplied by Hemphill and Wheeler counties. Hemphill county suffered a crop loss of $84,000 and estimated that the loss would have amounted to $212,000 except for control measures—a saving of $128,000. In Wheeler county, the actual loss was $40,000 and the estimated savings effected by the control campaign were $900,000.

Egg counts made in the spring revealed the area in greatest danger of a severe infestation. "Egg counts are of definite value in determining the severity and exact location of an infestation," says Reppert. "Grasshopper eggs are laid in pods, each pod containing approximately 100 eggs. DOES PERRYTON NEED A JUNIOR C. OF C. NOW?

It appears to the Herald that a Junior Chamber of Commerce would be a mighty fine thing for Perryton. The writer has talked to a number of young Perryton business men, some of them operating their own business, others employees, and it seems to be their opinion that there is need for such an organization.

Perryton has a large number of young business men and few of them are active in the Chamber of Commerce, but if they had their own organization, we feel that they would take more interest in civic affairs. It is true that most of the eligible members of a Junior Chamber of Commerce are now members of the Senior Chamber of Commerce, but they are not active in the senior body.

A check-up on surrounding towns shows that Guymon, Liberal, Pampa, Borger, and Amarillo have Junior organizations that are a valuable asset and that many of the principal activities in these communities are sponsored by the Junior group. In Guymon, the Junior C. of C. started the "Pioneer Days" fete; in Liberal, the big July Fourth celebration is a Junior C. of C. project; in Pampa, the Juniors started the Centennial celebrations; and so it goes on down the list.

Perryton needs a Junior Chamber of Commerce and the younger business men need the leadership training that such an organization affords. Junior and Senior Chambers of Commerce work hand in hand but friendly rivalry will tend to make more active organizations of each. Young business men, what do you think about it? Let's go!

WASHINGTON LETTER

Packers and Stockyards Act Expected to Save Money for Poultry Industry

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON—The poultry farmer won't get any benefit payments in the new "farm economy" but he will get a break elsewhere. Under the packers and stockyards act, the Department of Agriculture is authorized to license dealers, check weights and scales, and control unloading costs, at the point where poultry is received for purchase by the big slaughter houses.

New York City is the largest poultry market in the United States, probably in the world. It has a very large demand for kosher-killed chickens. An average of 375,000,000 pounds of live and dressed poultry comes to the New York market every year from some 42 states. This represents a $42,000,000 business. So the Agriculture Department's initial investigation was of the New York market.

It developed that the New York Live Poultry Company had a monopoly on local trucking of poultry from the terminal to the slaughter house at the rate of 30 cents per coop carried. Under the same ownership a separate but affiliated company rented coops in which the chickens were transported for 85 cents per coop. The trucking company collected for each coop unloaded at the terminal whether or not it was hauled by company trucks. It operated on the principle of making a service charge, just as a public utility does, for making available at all times a fleet of trucks with capacity to haul the entire day's shipment if necessary.

ACTUALLY that was a situation they didn't have to meet. The need for a trucking service exists in the "wind-up" market, or for chickens received at the terminal and unsold at the end of the day.

The farmer pays for all these services. The trucking company and the company which rents coops, bill the receiver who in turn deducts these charges from his remittance to the shipper. So if a poultry farmer sent a carload, or 80 coops of chickens to the New York market, 20 of which were "wind-ups" he was required to pay $6 for trucking and $18 for the rent of coops, whether or not he used these services.

By the Secretary of Agriculture's order, the charge for the rental of coops has been reduced to 65 cents and the charge for trucking to 25 cents with further reductions in sight, and the dictum that these charges are to be made only when chickens are farmed sends to market are actually hauled by the companies involved.

The order also makes it unlawful for the trucking company to make more than a $5 maximum charge for carrying a carload, or 80 coops, which at the former rate would have cost the shipper $24 if he were unfortunate enough to have that many chickens overlooked by the buyers who met the train.

The trucking and coop renting companies have agreed to obey the order, which represents a saving of $200,000 a year to the poultry farmer who ships to the New York market.

ANOTHER order designed to save the farmers who sell in New York some $100,000 a year in unloading charges, has been disobeyed.

Chickens come to market in "patent" railroad cars with permanent coops. Each car is unloaded by five members of the butchers' union. Union wages for this job are $9 per man per car. It costs $52 to unload a car, and the contractor gets $7 of this. The charge reverts, as in the other case, to the shipper. An order was issued to reduce unloading costs $11 a car, which would allow $7 per man per car for labor and leave $6 for the contractor.

When the order was issued the unloaders went on strike. They make the point that transportation by truck has so reduced the freight traffic that the average wage for each man on the job already was only $12 a week. They have gone back to work at union wages in defiance of the secretary's order, and the case will go to the Department of Justice.

JUSTICE BLACK TAKES SEAT

Washington, D. C.—Former Senator Hugo Lafayette Black of Alabama took his seat as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, as appointee of President Roosevelt to the vacancy created by the retirement of Justice Van Devanter, without reference to his early affiliation with the Ku Klux Klan. Two motions were submitted by lawyers attacking his appointment on the score that no vacancy existed, since Justice Van Devanter is merely "retired", and that as a Senator he had voted an increase in the pay of Justices of which he himself will now be the beneficiary. Both motions were received without comment, and after less than half an hour routine the Court recessed for one week.

In England the British Labor party demanded action by Parliament on the question of Japanese aggression voting in the meantime a national boycott of Japanese products. Reports from Tokyo reveal official unrest at the worldwide condemnation of Japan's indiscriminate slaughter of non-combatants.

BRITAIN MOBS PACIFISTS

London, England—Sir Oswald Moseley's attempt to lead a parade of 2,000 Facists through South London resulted in more than a hundred arrests and thirty hospital cases after a mob battled police guard for hours amid hastily erected barricades in the streets. BAPTIST MEET IN AMARILLO

SEVERAL FROM PERRYTON GO TO LAYMANS MEETING AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH MONDAY, OCT. 4

A Baptist Laymans meeting with representatives of District 10 from 22 Panhandle counties was held in Amarillo at the First Baptist church last Monday, October 4. The meeting opened in the afternoon and closed in the evening. An estimated crowd of 350 business men attended the afternoon sessions and many more in the evening.

Among the speakers on the program in the afternoon were Judge A. J. Foley, Court of Appeals, Amarillo; Joe Taylor, President of Howard-Payne college of Brownville; and Jim Peyton of Canadian.

The musical portion of the program was given by John Josey, celebrated organist and a choir of 25 voices. A quartet from the choir gave several beautiful selections.

All the delegates present were guests of the church at a banquet given at 6:30 p. m.

Those attending from Perryton were Stanley D. Key, J. N. Conley, A. K. Wooten, Virgil Castle, J. O. Wooten, Ray Wright, W. L. Seago, G. I. Horne, Robert Lawrence, J. R. Thomas, Rev. S. R. McClung, Irvin Buchanan, Ben Schnieder, Mrs. Robert Lawrence and Betty and Mrs. Hugh Shotwell.

This was the first meeting of this kind to be held in the Panhandle and was a definite success.

Mrs. Luther Brillhart and son, Marion, returned last week from a trip to Dallas and Fort Worth.

Mrs. J. R. McLarty returned home Saturday from a two weeks visit with relatives at Pollett.

OIL TRIALS STARTED

Madison, Wis.—Forty-six individuals, 23 oil companies and three trade publications are on trial in the Federal Court charged with conspiracy under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act for conspiracy to fix and maintain through artificial means high gasoline prices throughout the Midwestern States. The Government has called more than a hundred witnesses to support its claims.

WINDSORS PLAN U. S. VISIT

Paris, France—True to his promise to inform the newspapers of his plans, provided he was accorded a certain degree of privacy on his honeymoon, the Duke of Windsor announced formally that he and his Duchess, former Wallis Warfield of Baltimore, would visit the United States, probably before the end of the year. His expressed purpose is to study American housing conditions, following a preliminary visit to Germany for the same purpose.

RAIL UNIONS WIN RAISE

Chicago, Ill.—Averring a threatened strike by 2,000 members of the five operating Brotherhoods in the railroad industry, representatives of the railroads and the labor unions agreed upon a wage increase of 44 cents a day retroactive to October 1st. The increase will cost the carriers of the country $35,000,000 annually. August reports from 137 Class 1 railroads indicate a net operating revenue of $50,307,881, or a loss of 22 per cent from the same month last year. The Association of American Railroads ascribes the decrease to "rising costs of operation, including price of materials and higher wages." The figures, of course, do not reflect the effect of the new wage-scale.

RUSH OF FOREIGN GOLD

Washington, D. C.—Between January, 1935, and June, 1937, foreign capital to the value of $3,551,147,000 has flowed into this country, either for investment in American securities or as a movement for safety on the part of European holders.

The U. S. Treasury estimates the influx of "hot money" from abroad reached nearly half a billion dollars in the first half of this year, or double the amount received in the same period last year.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Reflecting lower foreign demand, copper dropped to 13 cents per pound, the first change in price since last April and a loss of 4 cents from the peak of March 30th. Twice in the last three months the U. S. Treasury received almost identical bids from fourteen leading rubber manufacturers on its tire requirements. Two results: (1) All bids were rejected and the $1,000,000 contract awarded to Sears, Roebuck & Co. "at substantially lower prices"; (2) the Department of Justice is studying the previous bids as basis for possible suits for "collusive action and combination in restraint of trade." Recording the "partial dissolution of an outstanding government agency," Harold Ickes, PWA administrator, announces an economy move the reorganization of its field activities from a State to a regional basis, with 6,822 employees against about 11,000 at the April 1936 peak. In the 23 months of its existence the National Labor Relations Board has handled 7,601 cases, of which 4,566 were closed by mutual agreement as of September 1st. Of 921 strikes handled, 685 were settled, restoring 132,508 workers and 392 strikes were averted, involving 95,534 workers.

Repair Water System

Replace Bowl at Bottom of West Well by City Brings System Up To Date

The west water well furnishing the city with its water supply was shut down the first of the week for repairs. No inconveniences were experienced due to this, however, because the east well kept up with the demand.

The west well, which is the larger of the two, was pulled and a new bowl put in at the bottom. The pump was also repaired. It cost $425 for the repairs with the labor being done by city employees.

J. C. Beever, city clerk, states that both the wells are in tiptop shape and will remain so for about one year. They have the capacity for drawing 500 gallons per minute but only draw about 300 per minute with the small pumps now in use.

Perryton's water system is one of the best equipped in the Panhandle.

Beer Sale Penalized

Extra License Must Be Secured For Sale of Malted Liquors After Hours in Texas

In accordance with a recent act of the 45th legislature by the Texas Liquor Control Board of September 1, the legal sale of beer was prohibited in the hours of midnight and 7 a. m. on week days and all day Sunday. The act was placed into effect October 1.

It is now necessary for the dealers to show proof that they sell a greater volume of articles for human consumption than that of beer in order to handle it during the stipulated hours. A supplementary license must be secured after the requirements are met. Beer gardens dealing in beer only are the ones most affected by this act.

Oscar Flowers, county attorney of Ochiltree, stated that after October 15, when a decision is expected to be handed down by the Texas supreme court on the legal controversy in regard to the sale of beer in the county, beer would not be sold in Perryton under any circumstances. This will be the last decision on the question.

In the event that the court rules beer legal another election will have to be held in order to prohibit its sale in the county.

"The bedroom is to present a restful atmosphere," stated Miss Wertha Tarter, home demonstration agent, at the 4 in 1 club meeting, September 30, in the home of Mrs. James Hardy.

The color scheme of a bedroom should be chosen according to the side of the house on which it is located. A cool color is appropriate for a room on the south or east and a warm color on the north and west. The color in the curtains and linens should be one the person could not wear. A bouquet of flowers helps the appearance of the room. Pictures should be hung on a level with the eyes.

The club program to be given at Perryton will be presented on Tuesday, October 12, at 1:30 p. m.

Those present were Mesdames R. A. Flowers, S. F. Walde, B. L. Barnes, H. B. Urban, J. L. Flowers, Willis Hardy and Miss Leucille Hardy. Visitors were Mesdames Calep Howard, Forest Forgy, Jerome Davis, Samuel McLain and Miss Elda Hardy.

BUSY BEE CLUB

Lillian Williams, Reporter
"Salads contain vitamins, minerals and bulk that help to regulate the body," stated Miss Wertha Tarter, October 2, in the home of Misses Josephine and Marie Carlson. Raw carrot and deviled egg salad were the two made at this meeting. Suggested menus for other salads were given to the members by Miss Tarter. It was found that when eggs were discolored it was due to the type of metal knife used. Eggs should not be boiled in rapidly boiling water. The water should be brought to a boil and allowed to simmer for 15 or 20 minutes. It was also found at the meeting that when making a salad which contains apples it is better not to peel the apples as they contain food value. Always scrape a thin skinned vegetable instead of peeling it.

The following things were decided on during the business session: history of the year's work is due between the first and the fifteenth of November; it was brought out by the exhibit chairman that Beryl and Waldeen Dodson has around $16.00 coming to them from their exhibits at the fair. Lillian and Vivian Williams have $2.40 coming. In the Ball Jar contest each girl was asked to help their mother by sending a jar of vegetables and one of fruit to the contest.

The club was glad to accept Winona Allen as a new member. The members who were present at the meeting were Josephine and Marie Carlson, Lillian and Edith Williams, Beryl and Waldeen Dodson and Winona Allen.

Twenty Question on Social Security

Question No. 9

QUESTION: Why are employers not included under the old-age benefits program of the Social Security Act?

Answer: The Social Security Act was designed to afford protection against Social hazards where it is most urgently needed. While employers receive no direct benefits in the form of monthly payments, they will, nevertheless, receive indirect benefits as a result of the more constant flow of consumer purchasing power resulting from the periodic payments to recipients of benefits under the Social Security Act.

Employers will no more be able to escape some of the troubles of the depression. The man who reaches 65 and is no longer employed will still be a customer. Thus, benefits to the employers are real even though they are indirect.

Rangers Beat Yannigans Here 24-6

RANGERS TANGLE WITH STRONG SHATTUCK SQUAD FRIDAY NIGHT

Shattuck here we come! And don't be misled, because you will find in the Ranger squad a surprise package with a wallop in every step. Coach Burk has been busy this week putting his team through scrimmage aimed at nipping the bulk of Shattuck plays in the bud. He's really been in after the local lads and while they may not be inspired by the evening workouts they have been going through this week, they are certain that their coach expects them to tear their opponents limb from limb and throw the loose pieces in their faces.

It has been rumored around Perryton that Burk will start his second string Friday night. There's Schroeder for 11 yards. Then, W. Flowers took the ball from McWilliams and went around his right end for another touchdown. This time Lilly tried for the extra point but the Yannigan linemen smeared it nicely.

In the fourth quarter, after having failed to complete a pass in the end zone, the Rangers lost the ball to the Yannigans who started the play on their own 20-yard line. "Toots" Garrison recovered a Yannigan fumble on the next play on the 20-yard line. On the next two plays W. Flowers again crossed the goal line for the last counter, but nothing to that report, says Burk, for he realizes he has stiffer competition this year than last.

The probable starting lineup will include Clyde Flowers and Irvin Lilly at ends, Garrison and Johnson at tackles, Horne and Morris at guards, Gyger at center, and McWilliams, William Flowers, Clarence Lewis and Ed Schroeder in the backfield.

While this will be the first time that some of the Rangers have played under the lights, it isn't thought that the difference will be noticed.

Several carloads of fans expect to accompany the team to Shattuck. The game is called for 8:00 o'clock.

again Lilly failed to convert.

The Yannigans snatched up a Ranger fumble late in the fourth quarter on the Ranger 20-yard stripe, and Franks passing to Rutledge, marked up the only score for the visitors, as Lewis tore through to break up their attempt for extra point.

Substitutions were frequent in the Yannigan lineup. Coach McLaughlin using every man he brought with him.

The starting lineup follows:

Perryton	LE	Yannigans

Gyger	C	Bigelow

NERVES LINKED TO DIET

LAWSON LITTLE, famous golfer, only man ever to win both American and British Championships twice in succession, believes diet exerts a major control over the smooth nerves necessary to perfect timing.

"Since I've turned pro and have been playing exhibition matches," he says, "I remind myself of an author I once knew. He said a story to The Saturday Evening Post. That night he went out to

"I remind myself of an author... celebrate the fact that he had 'arrived.' It was the last time he ever celebrated a big sale, because, as he put it, from that time on, he worked just twice as hard keeping up with his own reputation as he had worked before trying to catch up with the reputations of other authors."

"Well—that's professional golf. Every stroke has to be perfectly timed—in the kind of rhythm that sends the ball just where you want it down the fairway or on to the green."

"Personally, I think the best way to acquire the kind of steady nerves that let you send a ball where you want it to go is through proper diet. But a golfer does not need a training table. All he needs is three balanced meals a day, beginning with a hearty breakfast. Morning is the important end of a golfer's day. It sets the pace for his performance on the green. It sets a limit on his cusswords, too. So that's my advice to amateur golfers—build a body that makes for technique."

Little was born in Newport, R. I., son of a medical officer in the U. S. Army. He played his first golf following his father around the course at Peiping, China. His rise to fame came in 1929 when he beat Johnny Goodman after Goodman's spectacular defeat of Bobby Jones.

Young Jimmy Adamick Looms as Definite Threat to Joe Louis' Heavyweight Title

BY IRVING DIN

OF the boys are saying, for a hasty but good look at that Mr. Joseph Louis of Detroit can and will onto his world heavyweight crown for quite some and furthermore, they add, accomplish that little trick with any great difficulty.

Barrow, disregarding the that he failed to impress with his successful defense of the title against Tommy, hasn't had time to fear from current crop of heavyweight contenders—with two excep-

Clean-cut, well-developed, Jimmy Adamick, above, is considered the finest young prospect to enter the heavyweight ranks since Champion Joe Louis, himself, left the amateur circle for the pro game, in his climb up the fistic ladder.

Rosenbloom, former king of the light-heavyweights, in Detroit a short while ago, and lost the decision only because of his inexperience.

A year from now Adamick probably will be able to beat two men like Maxie in the same ring.

JIMMY is rugged, has plenty of speed for a big boy, and should get stronger as he takes on a couple of years and 10 or 12 pounds.

Savage and relentless inside the ropes, Adamick, still a comparative unknown to many fight sidestepped opposition to score standing up. Heiskell missed the try for extra point.

About midway of the second quarter, Williams, substitute halfback, got loose for a 70-yard run ending in the play zone. Heiskell's try for extra point was successful.

The Harvesters piled up 17 first downs to the visitor's five, and gained a total of 319 yards while Panhandle made 91.

Yards gained passing netted Pampa 46 to 25.

Sparks stood out for Panhandle on defense. Four goal-line stands by Panhandle stopped Pampa drives.

Canadian Wildcats Beat Higgins 13-0

Higgins—in their third game, Coach Russ Peters' gallant Higgins Coyotes, playing without their key man, Junior Mugg, found a strong defensive not enough to stop the clicking offensive of the Canadian Wildcats. The score was 13 to 0.

Two other regulars were missing from the Higgins team when they went to battle Friday night on the Canadian field.

Higgins got a bad break early in the first quarter when Canadian took advantage of a fumbled return punt to score. A steady drive in the second quarter brought the Coyotes within scoring distance when they again fumbled and lost the ball.

Canadian's pet play netted them several nice runs around end until Higgins found a way to stop it. Bud Forbau, regular end, turned in a fine game at quarterback in place of Mugg. His punting added to the already competent defensive of the Coyotes.

FRIDAY WITH FINAL
SCORE 6 TO 24

Friday afternoon on the Ranger Field, our team showed what weeks of hard practice will do for a team, when they defeated the Amarillo Yannigans 24-6.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

By CLEO PAYNE

Students of Perryton High, we've heard lots about school spirit in the past, and it would be a good idea if we heard more about it in the future.

What is "School Spirit"? Somewhere it is the pep squad standing up on the bleachers and yelling their heads off for the glory of that grand football team—the Rangers. Some say it is the band sitting out there on the side lines blowing their heads off for the same reason. Well, they're partly right. I say partly, for that is not all by far. If the band and pep squad furnished all the school spirit for the entire student body, who would come to the plays and other entertainments, and who would take part in them? I suppose the pep squad could come to the band concerts and the band could come to the pep rallies, but a lot of "youse kids" would be missing out in a lot of fun.

Why not make school spirit a thing that everybody can join in—something that everybody just naturally has like rhythm for instance. You know the way you will start patting your foot on the floor when you hear a lively piece of music. Well, it should be the same way when you hear your school mentioned. It should give you the feeling that good "Ol Perryton High" belongs to you and you're behind it one hundred per cent in everything—not only the football games, but everything connected with the school.

Tone Wins Joan At Last!

Franchot Tone wins Joan Crawford at last in the absorbing film, "The Bride Wore Red," showing at the Ellis Theatre, Sunday and Monday, October 10-11. Joan, never so gorgeous, as the girl who wins her chance for romance and finds it stamped: "Good for two weeks only!"

CRAWFORD IS STARRED HERE

FRANCHOT TONE AND ROBERT YOUNG SUPPORT HER IN A DRAMATIC ADVENTURE AT ELLIS

Joan Crawford again demonstrates her superb artistry in "The Bride Wore Red," which shows at the Ellis, Sunday and Monday, October 10-11, presenting the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer adaptation of Fernand Melnar's stage hit, "The Girl from Trieste."

With the lovely star are her distinguished actor-husband, Franchot Tone and Robert Young in romantic competition. Others in the cast whose performances are noteworthy are Reginald Owen and Billie Burke. Lyne Carver, George Zucco and Dickie Moore.

The story describes the dramatic adventures of a charming girl who rose from poverty to wealth and then gained spiritual riches in love. It is, of course, Cinderella up-to-date, but this one is dated every night in the modern manner. Miss Crawford handles the part with finesse.

The director was Dorothy Arzner, Hollywood's only woman megaphonist, and as her first achievement for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer it becomes at once a proof of her feminine ability and an assurance of her future success.

Settings for "The Bride Wore Red" offer unusual scenic effects. The gay night life of Trieste's cosmopolitan waterfront brings a new and invigorating locale to the screen. In contrast, much of the action was filmed in the High Sierras.

10,000 feet up among snow-capped peaks and the June Lake district where the company was on location several weeks. World travelers compare the Sierras favorably with the Austrian Tyrol for majestic mountain scenery. Gowns by Adrian have a European flair. Many are startlingly different, featuring the influence of a colorful peasant costumes.

Reporter Team Solves A Murder Mystery in "Back in Circulation" at Ellis

Nobody plays a fast-talking wise-cracking newspaper man like Pat O'Brien, it has been conceded ever since he did Hildy Johnson in the classic "Front Page."

But he has a female rival for those honors in "Back in Circulation," the Warner Bros. comedy-drama which shows at the Ellis Theatre, Thursday and Friday, October 7-8. And the rival is none other than Joan Blondell, who is co-starred with him.

"Back in Circulation," which was written by the eminent author, Adela Rogers St. Johns and directed by Rex Enright, sees Pat as managing editor of a sensation newspaper which will halt at nothing to increase its circulation, and Joan as his star reporter.

The story has to do with the mysterious death of a millionaire, which Pat and Joan solve—as well as rescue from death or life imprisonment the man's widow, who has refused to save herself from conviction for murder. Miss Blondell is said to give one of her most realistic performances as a sob sister who stops at nothing to get her story.

Dangerous Disease

Parents are Warned Against The Dangers of Whooping Cough: Isolate All Cases

"To the very young there is no other disease as dangerous as whooping cough," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"In addition, there is no other disease causing an equal amount of suffering of which parents show so much inexcusable disregard, not only for the safety of their own children, but also for that of their neighbor's children.

"There does not exist a natural immunity against whooping cough during the first six months of life as there does for measles. It is at this age that whooping cough strikes its hardest blow, and over fifty per cent of the deaths occur in children under one year of age.

"Whooping cough is usually transmitted by direct contact with the secretions of the mouth or nose, and only a very short exposure is required to contract the infection. Handkerchiefs, drinking cups and toys may also transmit the infection.

The infection is communicable from the appearance of the first symptoms and is most contagious at this early period when the nature of the affection can only be suspected. The incubation period is commonly seven days. A slight fever, running of the nose, and a cough make their appearance so gradually and insidiously that a diagnosis is practically impossible unless a history of exposure is obtained.

LETTERS from OUR READERS

The Herald will print communications that are acceptable to it. They must be free of libel and personal abuse. Short ones will be given preference. Author's names must be signed to manuscript and their addresses must be given. Only original communications addressed to The Herald will be printed; open letters or letters otherwise addressed to various persons in public life are not acceptable.

(Editors' Note—From Monterrey, N. L. Mexico, comes another interesting letter from A. P. Spicer, who gives intimate glimpses of life and customs in old Mexico. For the past year, Mr. and Mrs. Spicer have been living in Monterrey, where Mr. Spicer has been doing special work for a lithographing firm.)

Dear Van:

You haven't heard from me for quite a time but it isn't because of getting gobbled up in one of the minor revolutions that spring up occasionally south of Mexico City. A couple of "Generals" were killed recently, one the famous "Eagle". I learned that a general is determined, not by any official appointment, but by the number of followers plus many notches on his gun.

My delinquency is due more to the weather. For many months we've been looking for that "rainy season" (just as old Tack keeps promising it for the Panhandle) and instead we've had nothing but typical Mexican hot weather. We've been gasping until the past week and so any account you get tonight will have to come in short gasps.

It seems that I'll have to retract one statement made in a past letter. I said the bull was always doomed once he got into the ring. A few weeks ago one of them was permitted to escape with his fast-waning life. I was told he put up such a magnificent battle against his tormentors that the crowd shouted that his life be spared in order that his sons could be bravely led into the bull rings in the future. And they demanded a "curtain call" for its breeder. Strange to relate, he was permitted also to escape.

While we're on the subject, it might interest some to know that Mexico also has fighting in which the toreadors are youngsters of about 14 and 16 years of age. Have been told that an American woman is here also fighting bulls! (A female Sidney Franklin.)

At any rate, Monday is a bad day on which to purchase meat here because of the fights that occur on Sunday. There is one cut of meat called the "Dios Mio" (My God) and perhaps this has something to do with the regular Sunday entertainment.

Monterrey has a population of 165,000 and there's not a public library in town. Policemen, in uniform, on duty, smoke cigarettes. Mexico has but one kind of gasoline (terrible) and that sells for nineteen and one-half cents a gallon. As far as traffic goes, it's a case of "the survival of the fittest." Buses don't respect the rights of autos—autos have no respect for bicycles—and bikes do not respect pedestrians.

Bicycles are licensed, have tags, and are supposed to obey traffic rules just as cars do. Automobile tags are about twice the size of those in Texas, and nearly cover the rear end of the car.

Clothes are furnished free for the workers in the American Smelting and Refining Co. (gold and silver refiners), and they are replaced each month; the old ones being burnt to recover the dust of the precious metals.

The Mexican play pretty good baseball, but if enough spectators shout loud enough, the umpire will reverse his decision.

The Cuernavaca Brewery fills nearly 2,000,000 bottles with beer each week. The populace empties these same bottles each week. Boot-blacks carry little stools that they may sit down on the job. The customer stands up.

One economic stunt local house builders use here is the construction of cloth ceilings. (N. B. Don't copy. I don't believe they'd be so good in the outskirts of the dustbowl.) Houses in the city are supposed, by law, to be painted each year. This might not be necessary if they'd use a water-proof paint.

Street dirt is swept into little piles but seldom collected. That's why tenants wash the sidewalks every morning. That's also why a fine dust rises soon after a rain storm—the water "unpacks" it and the traffic kicks it up.

Church bells ring incessantly and sound like a steam locomotive in switching operation; and have the same tempo.

Mexico is full of folklore that has it all over Anderson's Fairy Tales. This is perhaps why it's such a fertile place for the reception of patent medicine and superstition. Some farmers still use wooden plows because it is pre-ordained that a steel plowshare ruins the crop. Many believe that animals have no souls which probably accounts for cruelty. Burros are terribly abused as are asses, and the principals in cock and bull fights. An S. P. C. A. would find plenty of work to do here.

Meat markets do not have refrigeration. Therefore, if you get the meat before the flies carry it off, you're lucky. Have even seen butchers spraying beef. Don't know whether they use Flit or Paris Green. Anyway it sure toughens up the steak.

The Government is fast cutting up the huge ranches and distributing the land to the Peons. The above-mentioned say it works fine; but any hacienda people I've met say it doesn't. Naturally you'd expect this pro and con.

Their "Fourth of July" was just celebrated on September 16th. It is claimed their constitution is modeled after the United States. But most of their ideas now seem to be borrowed from Russia, and some of Italy's and Germany's are thrown in for seasoning—so I give up.

There's enough food for thought in this note, and perhaps some food you'd rather not think about. Anyway, I'll leave it to you.

Adios
Del Spicer

Roosevelts Meet in Yellowstone Park

Yellowstone National Park was the reunion spot for President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their daughter, Mrs. Anna Dahl Boettiger (rear left), and her children "Buzzie" and "Sistie," while the President and First Lady were on a tour of the United States. Mrs. Boettiger, wife of a newspaper publisher, motored from Seattle to meet them.

FRED HOOD'S LEAVING IS BIG LOSS TO PERRYTON

When Fred W. Hood left Perryton a few days ago to run the Hereford yard of the Panhandle Lumber Co., Perryton lost one of its very first and most valuable citizens. And the loss is not only Perryton's, for Fred Hood, for many years, had been one of the main cogs in every movement for the advancement and betterment of this great Panhandle country.

Fred W. Hood, a pioneer of the Oklahoma "Strip," was in the lumber business at Guymon, Oklahoma and Liberal, Kans. many years before a town of Perryton was ever thought of; then when Perryton was started in 1919, he founded the Summers-Hood yard, operating same until it was purchased by the Panhandle organization. Since that time he has been with the Panhandle Lumber Co., the greater part of the time as manager of the local yard.

Fred has been a leader in civic and community work. He has served on the city council; the school board; as Chamber of Commerce president and director; was general manager of two most successful fairs in the early days of the town; and active in so many movements that it is impossible to enumerate all.

The Perryton community has lost a real leader and booster but our loss is Hereford's gain for Fred Hood is that type of true Western pioneer that never quits fighting but is ever striving to make his home town just a little bit better. The Herald joins with the many friends of the Hood family in wishing them unbounded happiness and prosperity in their new home and recommends them to their new neighbors in Hereford as being just about the finest folks you'll ever find anywhere.

HORSE DISEASE IS LIGHT HERE

NO DEATHS HAVE BEEN REPORTED FROM SLEEPING SICKNESS OF HORSES IN THIS COUNTY

County Agent E. W. Thomas reports that Ochiltree county has to a large extent escaped the epidemic of sleeping sickness among horses. Only a few cases, not more than 12 at the most have been reported, and so far no deaths have been reported from this cause.

Farmers and stockmen have become alarmed or considerably concerned. The disease is carried by blood sucking insects, mainly mosquitoes and flies, and it is thought that it will probably cease at the first cold weather.

Dr. A. J. Lewis, veterinarian of the Live Stock Sanitary Board, Lubbock, was in this territory recently and gave as his opinion that little could be done as protective serum is not available on account of the wide-spread outbreak in the middle west.

Symptoms of the disease are ex-
