

ENROUTE TO PRE-TRIAL HEARING — Patricia Hearst, accompanied by U. S. Marshal is escorted from the San Mateo County Jail at Redwood City to waiting car which was to take her 30 miles to court appearance in San Francisco today. Miss Hearst, was transferred from Redwood City to San Francisco before dawn.

Patty Hearst Faces Pre-Trial Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst's attorneys, preparing for her upcoming trial on federal bank robbery charges, will seek evidence from the government for a "brainwashing" defense.

Miss Hearst, jailed for nearly three months, is scheduled to appear in court for the pretrial hearing today while her lawyers maneuver for advantages. Government prosecutors, meanwhile, will argue their motion for a publicity "gag" order barring lawyers from making public comments about the case.

The 21-year-old heiress last appeared in court Nov. 10 when she stood silent, refusing to enter a plea. Her attorneys said she was not mentally competent to plead, and the judge entered an innocent plea for her.

Since then, the defense team, headed by Boston lawyer F. Lee Bailey and his partner Albert Johnson, has revealed in pretrial documents a legal strategy based on Miss Hearst's mental state.

They contend she was brainwashed by the Symbionese Liberation Army, which kidnapped her on Feb. 4, 1974. They contend her mind was controlled by others when she helped rob a San Francisco bank in April 1974.

In pretrial motions, the defense has, in effect, asked the government to help them prove this point by providing evidence from files on kidnapping cases in which captives helped their kidnappers.

The government opposes this effort, saying it is not its duty to "search the world for defense witnesses." U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. also contends such evidence would not help clear Miss Hearst.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nomination of Judge John Paul Stevens to the Supreme Court encountered a possible delay today when a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee said consideration might be extended for seven more days.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., said he might invoke a committee rule enforcing a week's delay in voting on the nomination. Such a delay would permit the committee to receive any more information that might be available in opposition to the nomination.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's largest air carrier, United Airlines, is cancelling all scheduled flights through Christmas Eve because of a break-off in talks with its striking machinists.

Federally mediated talks between the airline and representatives of the International Association of Machinists, which has some 18,000 members employed by United, broke off Wednesday.

The United shutdown raises the possibility that many holiday travelers will find airline seating difficult to obtain during the peak holiday season. United transports an average of 90,000 passengers a day.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A district court jury today set punishment for convicted thief Marvin Foster at nine years in prison.

Foster, 47, a San Diego, Tex., lawyer, was found guilty Wednesday of accepting a $3,500 check from the Benavides school district for work he did not do. The jury's assessment of punishment, which came after deliberations of an hour, was two years more than Asst. Dist. Atty. Joe Henley had sought.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Moslem militiamen besieged Christian fighters in Beirut skyscrapers today following the collapse of the Lebanese army's first major intervention in the eight-month-old civil war. Heavy explosions jolted the city throughout the night and into the morning, setting new fires in hotels that have been turned into high-rise fortresses for the warring forces. The radio said the fighting was the worst since hostilities erupted last April.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Proposals for the United Nations General Assembly to condemn foreign intervention in Angola collapsed Wednesday night after a round of acrimonious debate and a split among the African nations. Left-wing African governments proposed that the assembly's annual resolution condemning South Africa's racial policies be amended to condemn alleged South African military support of forces in Angola. Zaire proposed that this be enlarged to include "certain foreign powers," but both amendments were withdrawn when the sponsors decided they could not muster enough votes.

Teamster Won't Talk, Charged With Contempt

DETROIT (AP) — New Jersey Teamster Stephen Andretta was found in contempt of court today after he refused to answer questions posed by a federal grand jury as to where he was the day former Teamsters President James R. Hoffa dropped from sight.

Andretta, testifying under a grant of immunity from federal court Judge Ralph M. Freeman, was before the jury less than 10 minutes and declined all answers, said Robert C. Ozer, head of the U.S. Organized Crime Task Force in Detroit.

Andretta repeatedly read from a statement saying, "I want to talk to my attorney William E. Bufalino," Ozer said.

Robert read to Freeman a transcript of the grand jury appearance in which Andretta refused to testify.

At a hearing after his grand jury appearance, Andretta was asked by Freeman whether he wanted to change his mind and testify. But Andretta simply reread his statement in open court.

The judge said he then had no recourse but to find Andretta in contempt but again offered Andretta another chance to talk.

"I would like to make a telephone call," Andretta responded.

Freeman said Andretta could make the call and he was later placed in a holding cell in the federal building.

Earlier, sources told The Associated Press Andretta would be quizzed on the whereabouts of his brother and two union associates on the day Hoffa disappeared.

The two sources said Stephen Andretta will be asked about the activities of three Teamsters associates — his brother, Thomas; Salvatore Briguglio; and Briguglio's brother, Gabriel.

All three were named by a government informant as the abductors and killers of the former Teamsters president.

The two sources close to the Hoffa investigation said Stephen Andretta would also be questioned about threats made against Hoffa by other persons, including Anthony "Tony Pro" Provenzano.

Provenzano, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 560 in Union City, N.J., is one of three men Hoffa told associates he was on his way to meet when he vanished from a restaurant parking lot in suburban Detroit.

Provenzano has denied such a meeting was set up.

Hoffa reportedly opposed Provenzano's making a comeback in the union local after Provenzano was sent to prison on an extortion conviction. Hoffa also threatened to expose corruption in the handling of Teamsters pension funds.

Provenzano was free on $25,000 bond today after being indicted by a federal grand jury in a kickback conspiracy. He was accused of arranging a kickback on a $2.3-million loan from a Teamsters pension fund. Officials said the indictment was unrelated to the Hoffa case.

The Andretta brothers and the Briguglio brothers all are connected to Teamsters Local 560 in Union City.

In other Hoffa case developments Wednesday, U.S. Atty. Ralph Guy said in Detroit that the FBI had turned up some "significant new leads." But Guy said that there are "no — repeat, no — indictments anticipated in the near future."

In Newark, N.J., officials said they are questioning another man who may have information about Hoffa's disappearance. Richard Gregorie, an attorney for the U.S. Organized Crime Strike Force, refused to identify the witness or to comment on the nature of his information.

In another episode involving a tipster offering information on Hoffa, the FBI arrested Clarence Medlin in New Orleans on federal escape charges for leaving a halfway house in Raleigh, N.C. Medlin, who was serving a sentence for car theft when Hoffa was in prison at Lewisburg, Pa., for mail fraud, disappeared after collecting about $10,000 from CBS News after promising information on the location of Hoffa's body.

Supreme Court May Face Gag Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court may be ready for a head-on confrontation with the sometimes conflicting demands for a free press and for fair trials.

The question is before the court in a request for an emergency hearing on a Nebraska state court order that restricts news coverage of a mass murder case.

The justices have given no indication of when they will act on the request. News organizations have asked for a prompt decision, contending that if the case is allowed to wind through the courts in the usual manner, the news will be history before it can be reported.

The defendant in the murder case, Erwin C. Simants, is scheduled to go on trial Jan. 5 in North Platte, Neb. He is accused of killing six members of a Sutherland, Neb., family on Oct. 18.

Nine days after the crime, District Judge Hugh Stuart of North Platte barred reporters from reporting on confessions, details of Simants' arrest or other information that might indicate his complicity. News organizations appealed quickly to the Nebraska Supreme Court. Failing to get prompt action, they turned to Supreme Court Justice Harry A. Blackmun, who is authorized to temporarily set aside court orders in the federal judicial circuit which includes Nebraska.

Blackmun first held back action to give the state supreme court a chance to act.

U.S. Sells New F-15s To Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel will get its first advanced supersonic F15 fighters from the United States in about 18 months, Pentagon officials indicate.

Formal notification of the proposed sale of 25 of the F15s went to Congress on Wednesday as the Air Force prepared to step up the rate of production gradually from the present five a month to nine a month by next May.

The Air Force is in no position to provide F15s to Israel from its existing supply because it has only 28 of the fighters in operation so far. Eventually the Air Force plans to buy 729 of the planes.

Former Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger has said the F15 "should be superior to any fighter the Soviet Union is likely to deploy in the next 10 to 15 years."

The sale of F15s to Israel will be the first to a foreign nation.

Russia already has supplied some of its most advanced fighters to Arab countries. Syria and Egypt, the "confrontation states" bordering Israel, have at least 63 MIG23 "Floggers" between them. Iraq has received 40 of the MIG23s and Libya at least 13.

The best plane the Israelis now have in their force of more than 400 combat aircraft is the F4 Phantom Jet. Though improved, the F4 is based essentially on technology about 20 years old. It will be less and less effective as the Arab nations acquire more modern planes.

Moluccans Release Two Hostages

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP) — South Moluccan gunmen released two of their remaining 31 hostages aboard a train in northern Holland today after their first meeting with mediators in four days, Dutch officials said.

The six gunmen met for about three hours with Johan Alvares Manusama, president of the self-proclaimed "South Moluccan Republic," and three other members of the South Moluccan exile community in the Netherlands.

The hostages released were an elderly man and woman.

The six gunmen who seized the train nine days ago and another seven South Moluccan rebels holding about 25 hostages in the Indonesian consulate in Amsterdam seek an independent state in the South Molucca islands of Indonesia, a former Dutch colony. The Dutch government has no power to do anything about the independence demands.

Judge Excludes Highland Park From School Suit

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge William Taylor said today he will not include the suburb of Highland Park as a defendant in an integration suit against the Dallas Independent School District.

Taylor said the wealthy, island city surrounded by Dallas, does not contribute significantly to desegregation in Dallas schools.

Taylor last week offered to remove himself from hearing the case because of his residency in Highland Park but lawyers for both sides declined the proposition.

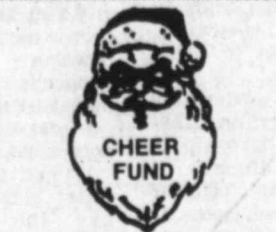

"The fact that Highland Park enrolled only six resident black pupils in the past and has none presently enrolled does not make it an unconstitutional school system," Taylor said.

Taylor's decision to exclude Highland Park from the suit was announced before a packed courtroom. He said he was convinced that black pupils who lived in Highland Park and attended Dallas schools from 1954 through 1960 had no appreciable effect on the racial composition of Dallas schools.

No appeal of the ruling was made at once.

U.S. Army Is 'The Goat' In Truck Purchase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army apparently is the goat in a $200-million purchase of "Goat" amphibious trucks that are supposed to provide soldiers with transportation through water and over rough roads and generally primitive terrain, says Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

The problem is, Proxmire said Wednesday, the trucks cannot adjust to steep inclines, rough roads or high wind and if you try to maneuver them through the water they have a tendency to sink.

Proxmire said the General Accounting Office has recommended more testing of the Gamma Goat 1 1/4-ton truck before the Army is supplied with an additional $5.6 million it says it needs to make adjustments in the vehicle. The Army already has 14,000 of the trucks, bought at a cost of $14,285 each.

The Pentagon had no immediate comment on Proxmire's remarks to the Senate.

"The vehicle must first be stopped before entering the water to see if it is watertight," Proxmire said. "For example, if it has a damaged tailgate it will sink ... The Goat can only enter and leave the water where there is a gentle bank angle. There must also be the right soil conditions ..."

"The water entry cannot be made at more than two miles per hour. And of course, the Goat cannot enter a stream that flows at more than four miles per hour. Or when the wind blows stronger than 20 miles per hour."

"Aside from those minor limiting conditions, the Goat is very swimmable. Except under certain load conditions. The Army has agreed that the freeboard of the vehicle is inadequate and that without the balance of a payload it would sink."

But if the soldiers assigned to drive the Goats are afraid, they will not be able to tell each other their fears, he said, because the Goat is so noisy they will not be able to hear each other. In fact, Proxmire said, the 95 decibels of sound generated by the trucks is so disturbing that drivers have been issued earplugs.

The Goat was designed and developed by LTV Corp., a Proxmire aide said.

Justice For Beetle-Brow

It is in the nature of good causes that they may lie dormant almost indefinitely, waiting for a champion to arrive upon the scene. One such issue literally has been ignored for eons, but its time has come at last: The hour of Neanderthal man's vindication is at hand.

You remember Neanderthal man though not, admittedly, from first hand experience: How many times have we seen his brutish likeness shuffling through museum dioramas or those "full color recreations" that used to grace the pages of Life magazine? His receding forehead, sunken eyes and characteristic slouch inspire in us a thrill of revulsion even as they remind us of our links with the lower primates.

Now it begins to seem he has been suffering a bum rap all these years: We may in fact, have to rethink all our well-worn assumptions about him. A Columbia University anthropologist, Dr. Ralph S. Solecki, and a French expert on fossil pollens, Dr. Arlette Leroy-Gourhan, have emerged from their studies in Iraq to suggest that Neanderthal man, far from being a dim bulb, may have been sufficiently advanced to have a rudimentary knowledge of pharmacology. They base this ad-mitedly speculative premise on a Neanderthal grave site where they encountered the fossilized remains of several different plants known for their medicinal properties.

This find, coupled with others — the discovery of even earlier forms of primitive man, plus the fact that some Neanderthals previously thought to be typical were found to have been deformed by disease — prompt us to reflection. Justice demands we re-write the script in which our distant cousin has for so long played the brutish, ape-like heavy. It is, in short, time for a new deal for Neanderthal man.

Girls Aren't Listening

According to the U.S. Labor Department, the women's liberation movement hasn't caught fire with the younger set. The department offers evidence suggesting that young girls are still thinking more in terms of lives as homemakers than of careers.

The department notes that two-thirds of all students in secondary vocational education programs are female. On the surface, that might seem to show girls are preparing for jobs outside the traditional female pursuits in this country. But the opposite is true: 49.2 per cent of all young women enrolled in federally authorized vocational education are in home economics, and only 2.4 per cent of these are in training for outside-the-home employment. The rest are preparing for homemaking period.

All of which indicates the women's equality movement has a long way to go. Obviously, quite a few young women of school age still feel their only future is in the home.

Jump The City

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

It's the season to be jolly. But everybody isn't. I notice that we've been playing "Pity, pity, jump on the city" again.

The city had a thief in their finance department. But they caught the thief in somewhat record time, and got the money back. Which is more than is sometimes done in public theftings.

TOM FERGUSON and Maxine Schaefer, who have the two keys to the check machine, now keep them separated. They were possibly lax in letting both keys stay in the machine during the day while it was in use. But it's really quite a hassle to lock it after each check, I'm sure.

We had a newspaper employee, who delivers papers, who had a similar experience just two weeks ago. He left the key in his pickup and the motor running while he jumped out to take some papers into a store.

When he came out, the pickup was gone and by the time he recovered it, it had been damaged. Let's face it. The world is full of thieves and we have to lock up everything around.

Certainly the poor employers are not helped with federal regulations that require them to hire a certain percentage of ducks and geese, roosters and hens. They become so involved in the percentages that they don't really get to choose their own employees. Add to that the privacy of records regulations which now even make it impossible to find out if somebody has a criminal record. It all gets to be a pain in the ethnic.

I personally am a little bit tired of a small group jumping on the city every time they get up in the morning. City commissioners work without a salary, and yet they recently almost got accused of lining their pockets with garbage, simply because they were hunting an economical route to avoid raising rates or taxes.

When they heard the people that appeared, they changed and gave them what they requested. But they still got cussed for the effort.

IT'S ALL getting a little bit silly. If we're going to blame them for everything, we might blame them for inflation, the high cost of Christmas and the sandstorm during the Thanksgiving holidays. Maybe we could manage to blame them for their policeman that caught the thief last week at Big Spring Hardware. I'm sure Ed Kissingner should have prevented that entire crime with his crime prevention division.

I was going to spend the entire column on this subject, but you will be happy to learn that I now have another bone to pick. And it is only a rumor.

I hope the rumor is false that they might shut down volleyball at Howard College. The team there just went to the National Finals. That would be some kind of reward.

Big Spring is a volleyball town with good teams at the high school and a lot of local volleyball players stay here and play at Howard College.

Here we are building a coliseum at the college and going to do away with one of two indoor sports? Surely the rumor is false.

One other thing. In answer to the big roaring crowd of three persons who called and asked how the final picks during the football season came out, I'm glad you asked because I won. Troy Bryant was in second place, one game behind me. Danny Valdes was third, Walt Finley fourth, Clark Leshier fifth and John Edwards, last.

I thought this was singularly appropriate this season since my Alma Mater is also a winner up to this point. Good old Texas A&I, who nobody ever heard of and who the proofreader marked one time in my column with the question, "Is there an A&I?" is still undefeated.

Yes proofreader, there is an A&I and they are likely to pick up their seventh small college national football championship next week.

What a terrible thing to ask. It's like asking "Is there a Santa Claus?" When it's the season to be jolly.

Fired, Not Silent

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The Oval Office pipe dream that a sacked James R. Schlesinger would disappear into the mists has been exploded by this fact: Schlesinger is prepared to inform and advise Ronald Reagan on defense matters.

THIS DOES not mean the former Defense Secretary summarily fired by President Ford is joining Reagan's presidential campaign. Schlesinger is willing and eager to talk over defense matters with any presidential candidate ("right on down to George McGovern"). But Sen. McGovern has not asked his advice, Reagan has.

Schlesinger's willingness to advise Reagan shows how badly he has been misjudged by the White House. After the national notoriety achieved by his ouster in the Halloween Massacre, Mr. Ford's advisers figured Schlesinger would soon retreat from the headlines to a cushy corporate job providing financial security for his large family and muzzling him permanently.

THE MATTERS he feels deeply about are defense and detente, and he could indeed be giving the President hell if the administration persists in further defense budget cuts and further compromises in a SALT II agreement. With Schlesinger planning maximum use of the media, Mr. Ford may well find him more troublesome out of office than he ever was at the Pentagon.

His relationship to Reagan is only a small (but the most intriguing) part of this trouble for the White House. Although Schlesinger has become a hero to the Republican right, he is well to the left of Reaganite conservatism on both economic and social issues. With a Ph. D. in economics, Schlesinger dissents from both the Ford and Reagan budget policies and feels more public spending is desirable today.

BUT THE threat to this nation's survival posed by rising Soviet military prowess eclipses all other issues for Schlesinger and provided the basis for mutual esteem between him and Reagan while he was still Secretary of Defense. Schlesinger was one of three members of the Ford Cabinet Reagan admired (the others being Treasury Secretary William Simon and Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz).

HIS EXPERTISE became critical when Reagan opened his presidential campaign Nov. 20 with dangerously meager preparation on defense issues. Interviewed by Lou Cannon of the Washington Post, Reagan conceded he gave a "bad answer" to a defense question at his opening press conference and added he would welcome any assistance from Schlesinger.

This is a most unpleasant surprise for the White House, which did not expect Schlesinger's performance on NBC's "Meet the Press" Nov. 23, painting a bleak picture of the U.S.-Soviet military balance. Since Mr. Ford's political aides thought Schlesinger would make no political waves, his refusal to endorse the Ford candidacy was unnerving.

THANKS TO the bumbled firing of Dr. Schlesinger, he has been transformed from a shadowy don to a vital public figure whose word carries heavy weight.

Oh, stop flinching, Henry! I'm convinced that you're all right.

New Challenges

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — "In the past century we built America into history's richest society," said the speaker. "In the next century, we will build in America history's quality society."

The speaker was not the first to articulate what many people now believe and hope will be the underlying theme of the country's third century, the translation of material riches into a better life for people.

Irving S. Shapiro, nevertheless, is perhaps the corporate executive who has most clearly presented the theme in terms of the challenge to business. He is chairman of E.I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.

In an address to the N.Y. Board of Trade a few days ago, Shapiro spoke remarkably clearly about topics on which businessmen often are accused of substituting rhetoric for sincerity, and trying to cover their failures with criticism.

"A lot of good, a lot of sound progress," he said, is going to emerge from our present confrontation with economic realities, the realization that some of our institutions are failing, that energy costs are rising, that inflation is likely to be persistent, that population growth is slowing.

Forced to recognize that the past cannot be the sole model for the future, Americans will use their talents, their dedication, their spirit, their creativity to meet the new challenges.

And what are they? He listed these, among others:

"We must complete the substantial progress made in our effort toward complete racial and sexual equality of opportunity, so that all individuals can be judged and advanced on the merits of capabilities alone.

"Industry and communities and individuals must effectively control pollution, where so much tangible progress has already been made.

"With a more selective investment program, geared to new market demands as well as to capital restraints, we should strive to bring more stability to the economic cycle, moderating the violent gyrations that bring personal hardship to many innocent victims."

"We must recognize the continuing revolution in consumer expectations, and respond with products of durability, utility and value, fully tested for safety and performance by manufacturers of integrity."

"Business must get its ethical house in order... Shoddy ethical and moral performances by a small number of businessmen have tarred all business people."

Maybe It's Complication

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I recently had an illness, and now I have colitis. The doctor said it often follows some other illness. How is this so? And what is colitis? What causes it, and what is the diet for it? — W.E.S.

Colitis is defined as an inflammation of the large intestine. But it does not always mean the presence of an infection. It can be and often is a complication of an earlier illness, either a migration of an infecting organism from the site of another inflammation or some functional bowel problem caused by such things as a change in eating habits necessitated by an illness. Antibiotics can on occasion cause colitis.

In general, the term colitis is not helpful unless the precise form of it is included. And you don't tell me what your previous illness was, which would be important to know.

Since your doctor has not discussed your diet with you, I have to assume that your colitis represents some rather mild bowel function disturbance which he feels will correct itself as your system adjusts to normal eating habits following your recent illness.

In cases of stubborn colitis a low residue diet is helpful because it reduces the amount of bowel activity required in digestion. Such a diet could not harm you and it might help you make your adjustment. I discuss this in my booklet, "Colitis and Kindred Complaints," which you might find helpful in understanding the problem. If you'd like a copy, send 25 cents to me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Just how serious is the migraine condition known as "scotoma"? Doctors don't seem to know much about it, but when you have been disabled by migraine, as I have for many years, you wonder if there cannot be some bad effects from this.

I am 74. They do not seem to diminish with age. — G.N.L.

It is a symptom, usually a forewarning of an impending migraine attack. It is featured by a disturbance in sight in a localized portion of the eye while there is normal sight around it.

The term "serious" could not be applied to scotoma, except that it does herald the headache. We don't know much about the condition, not much more than we know about migraine itself, which is little enough.

Headache can be a symptom of underlying problems ranging from allergies to vascular disorders to emotions.

My Answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I became a Christian not long ago. I had been married and divorced twice, and then I remarried my first husband. Now that I am a Christian, I am worried about this. Some passages of Scripture, like Deuteronomy 24:1-4, have made me believe that my remarriage is a sin that God won't forgive. Is this so? I really want to live for Christ, and so does my husband. — S. McN.

DEAR MRS. McN.: It is true the Bible underlines the seriousness of marriage in many ways; one of these is the way it stresses that marriage is a lifelong commitment that is not to be broken except in extreme circumstances. Passages such as you mention were written specifically to teach believers the importance of marriage in God's eyes.

One of the greatest truths of the Gospel is the statement of the Psalmist: "As far as the east is from the west, so far does He remove our transgressions from us." Psalm 103:12. When you came to Christ, all the sins and mistakes of the past were taken away and cannot condemn you any longer. Jesus Christ died in your place, and He took your sins — all of them — upon Himself. Now that you are a believer, leave the past behind and devote yourself to building a marriage in which Christ is Lord. Trust His Word that He has forgiven you and seek to live for Him every day. God bless you.

What Others Say

Margarine, as we recall, was introduced as an imitation butter. A butter substitute. A man-made substance resembling a substance from a cow.

Well, hang in there, neighbors. Now there is going to be an imitation margarine. One company already has had success in testing sales on the West Coast.

An imitation of an imitation, with less fat and fewer calories. Only in America — Charlotte (N.C.) Observer.

SISTERS FACE LIFE WITHOUT SUNSHINE — Terri Addington, 12, (left), and her sister, Lisa, 10, face life without sunshine because of a rare genetic disease. It means they have to avoid all contact with the sun's rays. They are shown with their mother, Mrs. Billie Ritchie.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Two young sisters are condemned to a life without sunshine because the sun's rays mean certain death for them.

Terri Addington, 12, and her 10-year-old sister, Lisa, cannot let the sunlight touch them because their bodies are unable to cope with the sun's ultraviolet rays.

"Ultraviolet is harmful to all of us," said Dr. Pete Dosser, a dermatologist and one of several doctors following the girls' case. "But the normal body quickly and easily repairs the damage. The girls' repair mechanisms are faulty."

This results in severe freckling which the girls have suffered since their first year. The freckles later turn into rough, scaly spots which in turn may develop into one of several forms of skin cancer.

Dosser said skin cancer is 100 per cent curable. But victims of the disease called xeroderma pigmentosa get so many tumors so young that just one over-looked lesion can become fatal quickly if it spreads to the blood stream or brain, he said.

There is no known cure for the disease and life expectancy based on the 50 or so previously recorded cases runs from 8 to 15 years.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The black director of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission says he will file charges of race and sex discrimination if he is fired. Joseph Tate said Wednesday the seven-member commission wants to replace him with a woman.

SEATTLE (AP) — A Seattle physician turned down an opportunity to appear at a White House Public Forum, labeling it "a huge public relations charade."

In a letter to Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, Dr. Abraham B. Bergman declined a White House invitation to speak at the forum, which opened Tuesday in Los Angeles.

Bergman, a pediatrician and director of outpatient services at Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Seattle, told Rockefeller he felt the forum was organized to benefit President Ford's reelection campaign.

"To participate in the parade of 'blue ribbon' witnesses giving five-minute spiels would imply that I take the exercise seriously," Bergman said.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Roland Davis family, which last month advertised for "adopted grandparents," has "adopted" Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Alexander of Charlotte.

"I think it's wonderful," said Mrs. Alexander. "I love those little kids to death."

The Davises advertised in a local newspaper three weeks ago for an older couple interested in acting as grandparents for their three children, aged 5, 9 and 12.

The children's only living grandparent, Mrs. Davis' mother, lives in San Antonio, Tex.

"The response was amazing," Mrs. Davis said. "We got calls day and night for five days and dozens of letters from all over the country."

Alexander, 64, is a retired construction worker. Mrs. Alexander, 65, is a retired bookkeeper.

"I always did feel cheated because we didn't have any grandparents so I know just how those kids feel," Mrs. Alexander said. "So now we're going to spend Christmas Eve here and Christmas Day at their house."

Parr's Lawyer Guilty Of Theft, Faces Prison

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Marvin Foster, the man who served as the legal right-hand man for former Duval County Judge Archer Parr in Parr's fight to retain his judgeship, faced a prison term today following his felony theft conviction.

Foster, 47, a San Diego lawyer, was convicted in district court here Wednesday on a charge that he accepted a $3,500 check from the Benavides school district to which he was not entitled.

The jury of 10 men and two women deliberated almost three hours before returning the verdict at 5 p.m. District Court Judge Darrell Hester sent the jury home and set the punishment phase of the trial today.

Foster faces a possible 10-year prison term and no less than two years since he failed to file an application for probation before the trial, according to Dist. Atty. Arnulfo Guerra of Roma.

The trial, which lasted less than two full days, was moved here from Duval County on a change of venue motion.

Foster, who showed no emotion as the verdict was being read, left the courtroom with defense lawyers

John Miller Jr. and William Burnett of Sinto without commenting on the verdict.

Foster had similarly displayed no emotion when Asst. Cameron County Dist. Atty. Joe Henley called him a "thief" and a "rat" during the closing arguments.

The most damaging testimony against Foster came from three former Benavides school board members who said Foster was never hired by the board to collect delinquent taxes. The check, written Jan. 30, 1973, specified that it was written to pay for collection of delinquent taxes.

Troubles? Sure, But We're Still The Best Country

OMAR BURLESON, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Of course not all is right or good here in our own Country but look at some others:

It's not the snow in Russia which makes it miserable at this time of year. The miserable part for the Russian citizen is his fear of saying, "It snows too much." He may be reported by a government machine and hauled to the madhouse.

Since India dissolved its Democratic form of government it may not be safe to say "India should get a new government that will do something about this heat."

Ireland is not exactly safe in some places. There's the risk of being blown to pieces (for the "cause," of course) on the way back from picking up some corned beef and cabbage.

In Beirut, Lebanon, either Moslem or Christian may take a pot-shot at anyone moving about. It's not the best place to visit for awhile yet.

Under the Cultural revolution of China, austerity is virtue. To speak with wit or asperity can get you shipped to a remote area where commissars re-educate the offender.

Even England is flawed, if you can find London in the fog they fill you with tea and in some not-so-subtle way, remind you of your educational and cultural inferiority.

Taxes in France are outrageously high. If complaints are made they simply say why don't you refuse to pay them as we French do.

The people of South and Central America are generally cordial and sympathetic in difficult situations. Of course, to be comfortable you have to ignore the possibility of being kidnapped by guerrillas and held for ransom.

Switzerland is real clean — maybe too much so. The Swiss launder a lot of people's money. Their unidentifiable bank accounts for other people around the world make them popular. The Swiss have little or no unemployment. Their labor is imported from neighboring countries; when layoffs occur they simply send the unemployed back home.

The Mafia in Italy is also most efficient at kidnapping, ransom demands and assassinations. From all reports they are not at all nice to those who get in their way.

Germans cry in their beer for the "old days" when rich America brought more money in than we do now.

The Japanese have trouble in finding a place to stand in Tokyo, and prices are high. Unless Argentina gets inflation under better control it will soon take a wheelbarrow full to buy a loaf of bread.

No need to mention places like Portugal, Spain, Angola, Bangladesh or Uganda — comparisons don't fit. Take the best of them all, roll into one — the U.S. of A. is still No. 1.

With all our problems, short-comings and deficiencies, the United States remains the greatest and brightest of any spot on this globe.

UTPB Gets Full SACS Accreditation

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — The University of Texas of the Permian Basin has been granted full accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Members of the association voted unanimously Wednesday at its annual meeting in Atlanta, Ga., to admit UTPB. That makes the West Texas school eligible for federal grants and contracts.

University President V.R. Cordozier said in Atlanta, "We are very pleased with the action, particularly in view of the fact that we are being accredited as soon as we became eligible for consideration."

Accreditation is required for acceptance of individual degree programs by professional and scientific societies, admission of graduates to many professional and social organizations, and establishment of many social and scholastic fraternities and sororities.

Alcoholism Counselors Plan Gains Green Light

BY MARJ CARPENTER

Big Spring State Hospital's request for $30,657 from the Texas Commission on Alcoholism for an educational training program was given favorable comment by the board of directors of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission at the meeting Wednesday afternoon at Terminal.

The state hospital will supply $14,391 of its own to fund the program for alcoholism counselors. It is a continuing education program which is made available to Outreach Mental Health and Mental Retardation, Halfway Houses, detoxification, and vocational rehabilitation personnel.

The board also approved the headstart funding in Saragosa in Reeves County for $21,183 from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Community Council of Reeves County in Pecos for community services with $36,084 from the Community Services Administration.

City of Midland saw requested funds for Airpark improvements approved including a request for $294,382 from the Federal Aviation Administration and $49,064 from the Texas Aeronautics Commission. The local share will be $49,064 for a project total of $392,510.

Work included in this application offers reconstruction of pavement, marking and lighting of runways, construction of security fencing, marking of taxiways and related items.

A project which drew partial opposition from the board was a request from West Texas Opportunities, Inc. for emergency energy conservation programs in Dawson, Opan and Martin Counties.

The request is for $50,000 from the Community Services Administration for winterization of homes, adequate fuel for each home, and adequate heating, clothing and bedding for low income persons in the three counties. There is no local matching requirement for this grant since it is similar to the Emergency Food and Medical Program.

SANDERSON PARK

A request was granted for Terrell County to apply for funds from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for $42,000 to build the first park in Sanderson and update an old privately owned swimming pool there.

The $21,000 which must be raised locally will include $15,000 in revenue sharing funds and $6,000 raised by the citizens of Sanderson who are wanting the park and swimming pool badly.

City of Fort Stockton was granted a request to apply for $5,000 to expand facilities at Firestone Park.

The board ratified the actions of the Emergency Medical Service Advisory committee on awarding bids for 10 ambulances to Southern Ambulance Co. of La Grange, Ga.

Judge Bill Tune of Howard County told the board Howard County desired a van type ambulance since Alert Ambulance preferred this type vehicle. Councilman Harold Hall told them the City of Big Spring preferred a modular type because it would be more economical in the long-run.

The majority of the governmental entities applying for the ambulances expressed a preference in the modular vehicles.

The board also authorized Ernie Crawford, executive director, to submit an application to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare that the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission be designated a Health Systems Agency.

The director and Harley Reeves, staff member, were commended for obtaining this designation since the FBRPC is the only planning council in Texas so designated.

A committee was announced that will administer the health system. The group was announced earlier and includes from this area of the council, Ron Cohorn, Tony Ortiz, Lanny Hamby and Norman Knox, from Big Spring as well as Julian Patterson as an ex-officio member. From Martin County is Tom Miller of Stanton and from Borden and Glasscock is W. A. Telchik of O'Donnell, and from Dawson County, Joe Coffee of Lamesa.

It was announced that the semi-annual general membership meeting will be held Jan. 21 in Pecos. New officers will be elected at that time.

NATIONAL OFFICERS
Reports were heard from the board representatives who took part on committees at the National Organization of Regional Councils in Washington. Judge Barbara Culver of Midland, is national vice president. Judge Marcus Crow of Seminole is state vice president next year.

Two years from now, the national and state president of the organization will probably be from the Permian Basin, and the national convention that year will be in San Antonio.

Serving on national committees are Harold Hall of Big Spring, Judge Darrell Glover of Pecos and Judge Peggy Garner of McCamey. Reports were heard on their respective committees. Hall serves on the national ecology committee.

Scurry Pot Convictions Upheld By Appeals Court

AUSTIN — The Scurry County convictions of Dan Edd Thompson and Lawrence Gilmore Bilberry for felony possession of marijuana have been upheld by Texas Criminal Court of Appeals.

Thompson and Bilberry were tried jointly and waived their right to a jury. They were sentenced to four years each.

Bilberry and Thompson were arrested when officers, with a search warrant and a warrant for the arrest of Bilberry and other unknowns, went to the house described in the warrant. When no one answered the knocks, they entered the house and searched it. No one was in the house, and no contraband was found.

Officers then went 15 or 20 feet under a carport and approached a tool shed. They said the upper half of the shed had been destroyed and it was possible to look inside without opening the door while standing in the carport.

Through the opening, officers saw Thompson and Bilberry seated at a table with a "quantity of green plant-like substance" on the table, which turned out to be five pounds of marijuana. An additional 7.65 pounds of marijuana was found in a suitcase in the shed.

The appellants contended the search of the tool shed was beyond the scope of the warrant, but the appeals court said the officers properly pursued their search for Bilberry in the tool shed when they did not find him in the house.

The presence of the marijuana in full view gave the officers probable cause for the arrest of Thompson, the court ruled.

Pearson, McNeil Laud United Way Committee

The 1975 Howard County United Way committee, which recently pushed the drive over the top, was praised by UW president W. S. (Dub) Pearson and campaign general chairman Ron McNeil during a Dutch-treat luncheon held Wednesday at the La Posada Restaurant.

A total of $133,475.69 was raised during the campaign, far and away the most ever realized in this type of undertaking. That represents a little more than 101 per cent of the goal.

By divisions, this is how the money was raised:

Out of Town, $5,881; Advance Gifts, $33,247.13; Special Gifts, $7,660; Employee, $31,240.94; Combined Federal Campaign, $28,776; City Employee, $6,551.22; Metropolitan, $2,115; County and City Employees, $2,178.30; Rural Area, $869.10; Women, $4,967; Professional, $7,350.

United Way directors will meet sometime early in 1976 to organize plans and name a new general chairman. McNeil, of course, advances from that position to the presidency.

Last year, a total of $126,013.76 was raised in the drive, according to a final audit.

McNeil said the UW office would remain open to those who have not yet made their pledges and would like to be a part of the campaign.

REFLECTING ON SUCCESSFUL DRIVE — Members of the 1975 Howard County United Way committee gathered at the La Posada Restaurant at noon Wednesday to do inventory results of the highly successful drive for operating funds and to lay groundwork for future campaigns. Seated, from the left, are John Currie, Dearl Pittman, R. H. Weaver, Mrs. Virginia Black, Myra Robinson and Ron McNeil, general chairman of the 1975 drive. Standing are Ralph Brooks, George Zachariah, Jerry Foresyth, W. S. (Dub) Pearson, United Way president; and Maj. Don Box.

Peanut Butter For Iran Workers

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — What could surprise the folks in Iran, where Bell Helicopter has built a plant, is the effort on the part of Bell employees in America to supply their fellow employees overseas with peanut butter.

It seems that the gooey stuff that kids and grownups alike apparently thrive on is in short supply in the Middle East.

The drive began Friday and by Wednesday, company employees here had procured the requisitioned rations.

"The thing they miss most over there is peanut butter," a Bell spokesman said.

The basic American staple costs about $5 per jar in Iran—if it can be found—and the employees here understand their colleagues plight.

The 2,000 jars had been donated by employees at the nine Bell plants in the area Wednesday and the peanut butter will arrive in Iran by Christmas.

A 10 per cent bonus to all employees was also approved by the board of directors.

DEATHS

Edgar Patton

Edgar Roy Patton, 61, a Harris County deputy sheriff and a former resident of Big Spring, died suddenly in Houston Wednesday following a heart attack.

Mr. Patton had moved from Big Spring to Houston about 3½ years ago. While in Big Spring, Mr. Patton was employed in the oil fields.

Services will be conducted at 10 a.m., Friday in the Waltrip Funeral Home on Campbell Road in Houston. Graveside rites will be said at 10 a.m., Saturday in Rotan.

Among survivors are a son, E. Duane Patton of Teheran, Iran; a daughter, Mrs. Bill (Joyce) Moore, Big Spring; a foster daughter, Mona Patton, Hobbs, N.M.; and four grandchildren, including Tianna Moore and Tylan Moore, Big Spring.

Mrs. Perkins

LAMESA — Services for Mrs. Carrie E. Perkins, 83, of Houston and formerly of Lamesa, are slated for 2 p.m. Friday in the First United Methodist Church here with the Rev. Alvis Cooley, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Park with Branon Funeral Home of Lamesa handling the arrangements.

Mrs. Perkins died at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday in Rosewood Hospital in Houston after a brief illness.

Born in Gastonia, N.C., Mrs. Perkins was an early-day resident of Dawson County, moving to the county in 1907. Her husband, Walter D. Perkins, was a druggist in Dawson County. He died in September of 1965. Mrs. Perkins moved to Houston five months ago.

Survivors include a son, Walter C. Perkins of Houston; a brother, Marshall Shrum of Gilmer; and two grandchildren.

BOTTOM FELL OUT — A newly paved street at 8th and Owens had a big section fall out during the night Tuesday. It is in a location that was once a gravel pit and later filled in before sewer line and street construction. City officials said today that they will dig down to find the cause of the collapse of apparently both the street and sewer line at that location. Bill, 11, left, and Tom, 10, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Glen H. Barber, stop en route home from the YMCA and try to determine the depth of the hole.

Voters To Decide Martin County Office Split Plan

STANTON — A special election has been called for Jan. 24 to vote on splitting up the tax assessor-collector and sheriff's offices.

The Martin County Commissioners voted Monday to call the election, giving as the reason a too large workload and the need for better law enforcement.

Martin County Sheriff Dan Saunders is one of only a handful of sheriffs across the state who are still serving in both capacities.

If county voters cast their ballots to split up the office, those seeking the newly-created post could then file for election in 1976.

Saunders was present at the meeting and told the court he was definitely in favor of the action.

He told the court that tax valuation from the time he took office until now had jumped from $5 million to $27 million. This means collection duties are five times as large as previously.

He also discussed a need for fulltime radio dispatchers in the sheriff's office to increase the efficiency of law enforcement in Martin County.

Hitting State Trooper Nets Probation For Two

Two men charged with the Thanksgiving Day aggravated assault of State Trooper Bobby Duvall, Stanton, pleaded guilty to the charges Wednesday in 118th District Court.

James Molinar, Midland, and Thomas R. De Los Santos, Seminole, each received a six year probated sentence.

The incident occurred when Trooper Duvall noticed two men throwing beer cans from a vehicle traveling on IS 20. When Duvall stopped the car, the two men walked toward him. Duvall reported that the two men struck him and attempted to grab his gun.

One of the men was subdued by Duvall and the other fled on foot with a third occupant of the car.

The other two men were later apprehended with the help of two Big Spring State Troopers and two Big Spring Policemen. All three were taken to the city jail. The third occupant of the car was later released after paying a $52.50 fine for public intoxication.

TAKE TIME TO LAUGH — Edward T. Laine, consultant from the academic affairs division of the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education, left, and John Massey, director of law enforcement education at Howard College, discuss criminal capers.

Law Enforcement Techniques At Howard College Reviewed

Edward T. Laine, consultant from the academic affairs department of the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education, reviewed the department of Law Enforcement Techniques at Howard College Wednesday.

He also asked for suggestions from the Howard County Sheriff's Department and the Big Spring Police Department that might improve the college's program.

"Howard College has a fine program which is well supported by area law enforcement agencies. I hope the program grows," he concluded.

The Commission, funded by the Criminal Justice Division of the governor's office, is made up of three divisions, training, certification, and field services.

The training division, with which Laine is connected, conducts training programs for potential peace officers, and serves as a consulting agency for college law enforcement departments.

The certification division attempts to provide regulatory standards for the certification of peace officers. This division has a file listing history, rank and educational level of every peace officer in the state. The field services division offers programs of continuing education for officers in the field who have left school.

"The aim of the commission is to upgrade the standards of law enforcement statewide," said Laine. "The Big Spring Police Department has suggested that we help Howard College in bringing over level programs to Big Spring in cooperation with four year colleges. This is being seriously considered," Laine added.

Laine, himself, has a long list of credentials in law enforcement. He has a B.A. and M.A. in political science, specializing in constitutional law. He formulated the baccalaureate program on criminal justice at Midwestern State University, and was also a policeman in Wichita Falls.

BSSH Yule Party Tuesday

The local chapter of the American Business Club will stage its annual Big Spring State Hospital party in Unit 6 at the hospital next Tuesday evening.

All club members are being urged to pitch in and help with the party and to wear their traditional red shirts for the function.

Guest speaker at Friday's regular Ambux luncheon at the Settles Hotel will be Harold Wilder, basketball coach at Howard College.

Love Guilty

Glenn Love, 500 Douglas, pleaded guilty in 118th District Court to two counts of burglary. He received a five year probated sentence.

Robert Nieman of Glen Head, N.Y., rented room 2 at the Sands Motel Wednesday afternoon.

Husband Tries To Clear Woman Of War Crimes

DUESSELDORF, West Germany (AP) — Russell Ryan of New York City is waging a costly legal battle to try to save the Nazi concentration camp guard he married from a German prison.

"This is my whole life. I work only to pay the costs of traveling back and forth. This is my seventh trip since December 1973 and it's a terrible expense," said the 31-year-old electrical technician during a recess Wednesday in the trial of Hermine Braunsteiner Ryan.

She and 14 other former guards at the Majdanek concentration camp near Lublin, Poland, are on trial here.

A native of Austria, the silver-haired housewife surrendered the U.S. citizenship she obtained by marrying Ryan and was extradited from New York in 1973. She and the other five women and nine men went on trial Nov. 26, charged with the murders of at least 250,000 Jews at Majdanek between 1941 and 1944.

"My wife's involvement in this trial is an outrage," Ryan asserted. "She is not German and should not be tried in a West German court. It's a barbaric action brought about by tremendous pressures exerted by American Jewry. It's 30 years since the war and still they refuse to forgive and forget."

"She was a civilian employee of the Waffen SS. She served Germany during World War II as best she knew. It shames the whole nation that she's now on trial."

The woman was also a guard at three other concentration camps and was sentenced in 1949 to three years in an Austrian prison for mistreating female inmates at the Ravensbruck camp. She met Ryan in 1957 and they married in 1958. They lived a quiet life in the New York borough of Queens, until Nazi hunter Simon Wiesenthal tracked her down in 1964 and the U.S. government began trying to deport her.

"I've written appeals against her arrest to Chancellors Willy Brandt and Helmut Schmidt, but the only answer I got was a form letter saying the matter would be looked into," Ryan said.

Paint Torii In Brooklyn

BROOKLYN AP — Visitors to the Brooklyn Botanic Garden and its famous Japanese Garden will be surprised to find something new. The Torii has been painted — bright vermilion.

The Torii, the largest structure standing in the lake of the Japanese Garden, is an archway or "gateway to heaven" and indicates the presence of a shrine nearby.

For many years it had been unpainted, following the philosophy that Japanese gardens should be monochromatic, with a minimum of color or flowers. The purpose of a Japanese garden is to impart a feeling of tranquility.

Historically, Torii were unpainted before the influence of the Chinese culture upon the Japanese during the 7th and 8th centuries. The change took place because Buddhist shrines were always painted. Today, 85 per cent of the Torii in Japan are painted this color — the color of sunrise.

To bolster their challenge of the West German court's jurisdiction, Ryan petitioned the Austrian government to restore his wife's Austrian citizenship but has had no decision.

Although the West German government is paying the expenses of Mrs. Ryan's trial defense, her husband says he is still struggling with the legal fees for her unsuccessful five-year fight against extradition.

"I also have to pay for her medical care and clothing, and every trip over here costs me at least $1,000," he said. "We've advertised for contributions to her legal defense fund, but there's been no response."

"After two years in jail waiting for the trial, my wife's health is suffering considerably. She's developed a heart condition and suffers stomach pains. Because of the strain she's aged 20 years."

Ryan visited with his 56-year-old wife this week in the Duesseldorf courtroom during three sessions of the trial, which is expected to last at least two years. During recesses, he sat beside her and they talked and held hands. He is returning to New York this weekend.

A slender man with rimless spectacles who served eight years with the U.S. Air Force, Ryan said he did not dispute the existence of the Nazi concentration camps, but "bringing people together in a camp did not automatically mean they were exterminated."

He added, "Estimates of 6 million Jewish dead are greatly exaggerated. I believe Auschwitz was an experimental farm, and there never were any extermination ovens there."

"My wife tells me the same thing about Majdanek. I asked her in detail about reports of exterminations and her answers were always in the negative."

BICENTENNIAL BOY — Five-year-old Bradford Lenke, decked out for the Bicentennial in tricorn hat, knee breeches, ruffled shirt and buckled shoes, looks like he's a little tired of waiting for the celebration to begin. Mother Jean Lenke made the costume from an authentic pattern for a church pageant. Lenkes live in the Pittsburgh suburb.

Record Wheat Crop Worth $7.4 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The record U.S. wheat crop this year is bringing farmers $7.4 billion, despite sagging market prices, according to the Agriculture Department.

Estimates released Wednesday by USDA's Crop Reporting Board put 1975 wheat production at more than 2.1 billion bushels, up 19 per cent from the previous record harvest in 1974. The new estimate was about the same as indicated earlier, although it did decline about four million bushels from what had been forecast on Oct. 10.

The report also showed that the farm value of this year's crop was slightly above 1974 when a much smaller harvest was worth more than $7.3 billion. A big difference is the price farmers are getting for this year's wheat.

According to USDA analysts, the 1975 wheat crop is worth an average of $3.49 per bushel to farmers, compared with a record of $4.09 last year and $3.95 in 1973.

The report cautioned that the 1975 wheat price figures are preliminary estimates and will be subject to revision. Officials also explained that the gross value was based on wheat sales through November with allowances made for grain to be sold through this marketing season.

No new production figures or values were included for corn, soybeans and other fall harvested grain crops. Those will be issued by the Agriculture Department next month.

Wednesday's report also said the 1976 winter wheat crop planted this fall for harvest next summer is in general "fair to excellent" condition, except in some areas, particularly in the Southern Plains, where earlier dry weather stalled development.

The department will announce its first estimate of 1976 winter wheat production on Dec. 22. That will give some indication of next year's prospects since

Businessmen, Self-Respect Survey Made

NEW YORK AP — A recent American Management Assn. survey showed that three out of four presidents and managers chose the aspect of "feeling that my work is worth doing" as contributing most to their self-respect.

As the second most important factor in determining self-respect, managers chose "earning an equitable salary," and presidents selected "knowing that my corporation has a good image."

"A major objective of 'The Manager and Self-Respect' survey was to determine if managers were being asked to do things that caused them to lose self-respect," according to James L. Hayes, AMA president. "Over 90 per cent of the 2,000-plus respondents said their jobs are worth doing, they enjoy their work and they are proud of their company."

The one-third return rate on over 7,000 questionnaires sent out to company presidents and managers was the third highest response in the history of AMA surveys.

"This is an indication that self-respect is an important topic to management," concludes Hayes.

Solar Energy Popular Choice

NEW YORK AP — Solar energy continues to be a popular design choice of architects, engineers and building owners designing energy-conserving buildings.

The fourth annual Owens-Corning Fiberglas Energy Awards competition held in November produced two winning designs, both of which will use solar collectors to satisfy the majority of their heating and cooling requirements.

The Wilton Wastewater Treatment Plant, Wilton, Maine, the industrial category winner, will save $3,594 in heating oil and $875 in electricity costs annually through use of solar collectors and heat pumps.

1. Any disease or accident that would leave me permanently unable to take care of my own bodily functions or deprive me of independent mobility.
2. Progressive deterioration of mind as evinced by total loss of memory, only partial consciousness, chronically irrational behavior, delirium, or any other evidence of advanced senility.
3. Any condition requiring the use beyond one month of mechanical equipment for breathing, heart action, feeding, dialysis, or brain function without a prognosis of full recovery of my vital organs.
4. Any progressive deterioration of muscle, bone, or tissue requiring an increasing dependence on intravenous substances, and without realistic hope for recovery consistent with my definition of such.

Parsegian Musing Over Comeback

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Notre Dame Coach Ara Parsegian says he hopes to decide within a week whether to seek a coaching job in the National Football League.

Replying to reports that the New York Jets are ready to offer him the job, Parsegian said Wednesday night that "three or four professional teams, as well as a number of universities," have contacted him. But he emphasized that he has discouraged any serious discussions because he has not decided whether he wants to return to football.

Parsegian, who has been out of football since he resigned from Notre Dame following the 1974 campaign after 11 outstanding seasons, said he would "review the whole thing over the weekend with my wife. I hope to make my mind up within a week, certainly by next Monday or Tuesday."

"If I decide I want to return to football, I'll let it be known or contact people I think might be looking for a coach."

Parsegian said he has been contacted by several pro teams and colleges. He declined to name them — he did confirm the Jets were one — but again ruled out a return to college football.

"I've missed the staff association, working with the players, strategy and game-planning... those facets were always exciting and challenging," he said. "But recruiting, fund-raising, speaking, academic control... that type of thing I haven't missed too much."

When he announced his resignation last November, Parsegian said he would remain out of football for a year before making any decision about his future.

"I haven't changed my position," he said. "I haven't talked contract or coaching or general management with anybody. I've discouraged anyone who called until I decide whether I want to return to the game."

He said he is weighing a return to football against "a number of options, one in particular." He declined to elaborate.

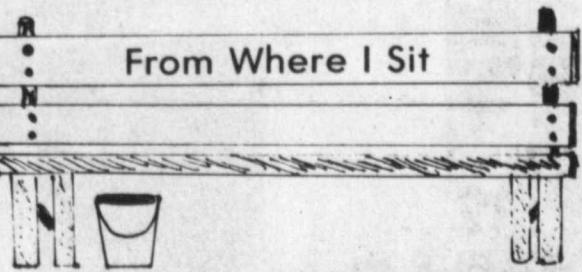

Since his resignation, Parsegian has kept busy with his insurance and public relations agency in South Bend, fundraising for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and making appearances for the Ford Motor Co.

The Jets fired Coach Charley Winner several weeks ago and named assistant coach Ken Shipp as an interim replacement.

It's finally here. The shoot-out at the Big D Corral. Last September, we all knew this game would be the big one. And now it's here and it is! It should be for the division championship, but St. Louis refused to fold and now they are in the driver's seat. The Cardinals might yet lose another, but, if so, only Washington could finish first in the event of a tie.

But that really doesn't matter. This is THE GAME for the pro-football fans.

Veeck Back In Baseball

NL Still Up In The Air Over Giants

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) —

Bill Veeck is back in major league baseball, but not exactly the way he planned.

A Veeck group of some 40 people was approved Wednesday as the new owner of the American League's Chicago White Sox. But the 61-year-old Veeck wound up with little or no capital interest in the team.

Veeck disclosed that he had to sell much of the interest he would have received for putting the purchase package together, in order to raise the additional $1.2 million required for league approval.

The colorful Veeck actually winds up as president of the White Sox at a reported $65,000 a year salary. The majority stock (80 per cent) purchased from John Allyn for $9.75 million is owned by investors, including former home run king Hank Greenberg and Bill DeWitt, one-time owner of the old St. Louis Browns and the Cincinnati Reds. Allyn retains a 20 per cent interest.

The league approval of the Veeck group at the four-day-old winter baseball meetings didn't come easy. It took two ballots by the owners before the necessary three quarters vote was obtained. The final tally was 10-2. Nine votes are needed to effect an American League club sale.

On the first ballot, the count reportedly was 8-3, with one abstention. A debate ensued as some owners insisted on a second ballot. This move was challenged, but prevailed on the plea that every club should vote yes or no. Lee MacPhail, president of the American League, refused to confirm the vote counts.

MacPhail, however, did confirm that the holdup arose because Veeck didn't conform to the league's stipulations after the owners turned down the group Dec. 3, demanding the extra $1.2 million in working capital.

One owner, who would not be identified, said, "He (Veeck) would have won immediate approval if he had complied with our instructions. The whole thing would have been over in 15 minutes."

It was explained that Veeck was supposed to come back with $6 million deposited in the bank. Instead he had $3,456,730 on deposit in Continental Bank of Chicago, and submitted $2,630,000 in signed subscription pledges.

There were varying legal interpretations to these subscriptions.

"They don't mean a thing," said one owner. "A guy who signed one of those things can change his mind and back out."

Veeck's lawyers explained that there was no question that the Veeck group had met league conditions.

Attorney David Cohen said, "The league requested that we raise $6 million and that we did."

Veeck owned the White Sox from 1959 through 1961, when health forced him to get out of baseball.

While the American League solved one of its headaches, the National League met down the hall deliberating what to do with the failing San Francisco Giants.

National League President Charles Feeney said his owners hope to have something definite on the Giants' situation today.

Feeney refused to elaborate, but Los Angeles Dodgers' owner Walter O'Malley, a power in NL circles, indicated that the Giants would not be moved out of the Bay Area.

"I doubt that very much," said O'Malley. "Somebody would have to face the liability."

O'Malley referred to planned legal action by the City of San Francisco, which has the Giants under lease for 19 more years at Candlestick Park.

O'Malley was asked about the prospects of the Giants being sold to a group headed by Ron Lurie, or American Funding Co., Inc., a Beverly Hills, Calif., mortgage banking company.

"I don't think so," O'Malley replied. "I don't think there will be an overnight sale."

Toronto interests also were on hand to support their $12.5 million for the Canadian city.

The approval of the Veeck group left hanging a multi-million dollar antitrust action scheduled for next month by the State of Washington against the American League for pulling a franchise out of Seattle after one season (1969) and moving it to Milwaukee.

It always has been scheduled for Jan. 12, and still is scheduled for Jan. 12, and the case will go to trial unless there is baseball in Seattle," said Slade Gorton, attorney general for the state who was attending the meeting.

"We have talked to them (American League) at length about both (the suit and getting a team)," Gorton said. "We are hoping that the major leagues between them can find a solution."

MacPhail said the league intended to continue talks with the Seattle people. It also was rumored that the Minnesota Twins might be interested in a switch to the city in the Pacific Northwest.

The franchise discussions didn't stop the ballclubs from continuing their trade action — which reached seven deals involving 22 players.

The Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia Phillies made the most significant deal of the meetings. The Sox sent 20-game winner Jim Kaat, an American League All-Star, to the Phils for three young players, pitchers Dick Ruthven and Tom Seaver, and infielder-outfielder Alan Bannister, all No. 1 draft choices.

Earlier, the Texas Rangers acquired pitcher Bill Singer from the California Angels for first baseman Jim Spencer and a reported $100,000. There were a number of other trades on the back burner as the sessions neared conclusion and the Friday midnight interleague trading deadline approached.

Hot-Stove League Getting Hotter

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) —

Manager Danny Ozark of the Philadelphia Phillies feels his club has just traded for the National League pennant with the acquisition of veteran left-hander Jim Kaat, a 20-game winner for the past two seasons with the Chicago White Sox.

"Kaat gives us the foothold," said Ozark, who immediately put himself on the spot at a news conference Wednesday night to announce the five-player trade.

"We're only a notch away. This puts the pressure on me. We should be picked to win (the National League) pennant. We have the players to do it."

The Phillies, who have won only one pennant in their history (1950), finished second in the NL East in 1975, 6½ games behind Pittsburgh. The Phils also obtained minor league shortstop Mike Buskey from the White Sox and gave up three young players, right-handed pitchers Dick Ruthven and Roy Thomas and infielder-outfielder Alan Bannister.

In the only other deal Wednesday, in what continues to be a dull trading session at baseball's annual winter meetings, the California Angels obtained first baseman Jim Spencer and an estimated $100,000 from the Texas Rangers for veteran right-handed pitcher Bill Singer.

Wednesday's transactions brought to 22 the number of players involved in seven deals.

In Kaat, the Phils obtained the winningest active pitcher in the major leagues. The 37-year-old Kaat is a fast worker whose quick pitches baffled National Leagueers during the 1975 All-Star Game at Milwaukee. He registered a 20-14 record and a 3.11 earned run average last season to raise his career total victories to 235.

Ruthven, 25, was promoted to the Phils from their Toledo International League farm club on July 4 and had a 2-2 record and a 4.17 ERA. He also pitched for the Phils in 1973 and 1974 and has a combined 15-22 big league mark.

Bannister, also 24, former Arizona State University star, was the Phils' starting center fielder last season but was injured, then sent to the minors after Philadelphia obtained Garry Maddox from San Francisco on May 4. Bannister, who also can play shortstop, batted .262 in 1975 at Philadelphia.

Thomas, 22, was 4-9 at Toledo and 6-3 with Reading of the Eastern League last season.

YMCA Senior Lifesaving

A certification course in senior lifesaving for individuals 15 years of age and up will begin Tuesday, Dec. 16, 7:00 p.m., at the Big Spring YMCA. U.S. Scientists Believe In Nessie, British Skeptical

LONDON (AP) — The Americans who claim they photographed the Loch Ness monster are angered because scientists from London's Natural History Museum say the pictures prove nothing.

"The only skepticism we have met comes from the museum," said Robert Rines, a patent attorney who is president of the Boston Academy of Applied Science. He made the remark after a showing of the photographs at a news conference Wednesday night.

"They've been hoaxed in the past, and they have to be careful. But their hostile and emotional attack is unwarranted."

Rines claims a research team he headed took photos 45 feet down in the murky waters of Loch Ness of the legendary creature known as Nessie. One of the pictures which was seen by reporters in the United States a week ago shows a rust-colored object that appeared to have two frontal appendages, a long neck and a head.

Another photo showed what appeared to be a snarling face. "This fantastic wonder deserves serious scientific study," said Rines. "There was no trickery involved."

But experts from the Natural History Museum said in a statement that the photos "do not constitute acceptable evidence of the existence of a large living animal."

Zoologist Gordon Sheals told Rines: "These photos prove nothing. There is no evidence to support the view that the supposed animal seen in the pictures exists or is alive."

Rines mustered other experts to dispute the Natural History Museum authorities.

ROTC Rolls Skyrocketing

ROCHESTER, N. Y. AP — The popularity of Reserve Officers Training Corps programs is up significantly at colleges and universities throughout the country, according to Cmdr. J. L. Billeter, USN, of the University of Rochester's

Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Scholarship Program. Cmdr. Billeter estimates that economic pressures on students, plus a softening of Vietnam-era anti-ROTC sentiment, may be responsible.

For example, the University of Rochester has this year reported its largest ROTC scholarship class on record, and similar situations are developing at other colleges across the United States, Cmdr. Billeter says.

Vesco Plane Now Used To Catch Crooks

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Customs says it will use a $1 million executive jet airplane linked to fugitive financier Robert L. Vesco in a crackdown on airborne narcotics smuggling along the United States-Mexico border.

The aircraft is being equipped with sophisticated radar and other special modifications. It should be ready by Jan. 1, a Customs spokesman said.

Agents seized the plane Aug. 21, 1974, at San Antonio International Airport during an investigation on the plane's part in an alleged gun running scheme.

Treasury agents contended in federal court later that the aircraft, owned by Los Angeles stockbroker Thomas P. Richardson, was used to smuggle arms and ammunition to Puerto Rico where Vesco is said to be hiding.

Richardson lost the court fight and the plane was awarded to the United States government. Customs said the 500 mile per hour craft would reduce the agency's response time along the 2,000-mile United States-Mexico border.

Said a Customs spokesman: "People who are smuggling narcotics by air have gone from slower light aircraft to heavier World War II-type cargo planes and more sophisticated fast aircraft."

Ten Cops To Be Arraigned

HOUSTON (AP) — Ten present and former Houston police officers, indicted on charges of illegal wiretapping, will be arraigned Dec. 18.

U.S. Magistrate Ronald J. Blask set the date Wednesday for the 10 to enter their pleas before U.S. District Court Judge John V. Singleton Jr.

Attorneys representing the defendants said their clients will enter pleas of innocent. The 10 presently are free on $10,000 personal recognizance bonds.

They were named in indictments returned by a federal grand jury last week. The indictments alleged they illegally wiretapped resident telephones from 1972-73.

The 10 include M. L. "Joe" Singleton, former chief of the police criminal intelligence division. He has been relieved of duties of his present position as head of the city municipal courts system.

The others are police officers James D. Belcher, John W. Allen, George W. Barringer, Robert G. Blaylock, Lloyd O. Dollar, Thomas A. Hoffpauir, Leonard C. Kittmann Jr., J. J. Rose and Homer A. Stevens.

Blask, on the recommendation of government prosecutor Fred Bennett, reminded attorneys of local rules restricting pre-trial publicity, telling them to use "an abundance of caution."

"This is obviously a sensitive case," Blask said, "and from now to arraignment or trial, if this becomes any kind of a problem, Judge Singleton needs to be made aware of it."

Lone Star Gas Won't Tell

AUSTIN (AP) — Officials for Lone Star Gas Co. told protesting cities Wednesday that they could not say how much the company paid for gas in October, a critical issue in the firm's "passthrough" rate increase.

"It is a simple question the public is entitled to know," said Dallas City Atty. Alex Bickley.

A hearing examiner for the Texas Railroad Commission gave Lone Star until Friday to come up with the figure Bickley sought.

The hearing was scheduled by the commission to determine if Lone Star passed on the correct amount of extra charges to its customers in October. The cost adjustment for October was 21.22 cents.

Effective July 1, the commission authorized Lone Star to pass on automatically 85 per cent of any monthly increase in the cost of wholesale gas over 72.29 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Lone Star lawyer Dale Gillette said Dallas, Irving and Garland had protested the extra charge for October, and Fort Worth and Richardson had intervened on their side.

In addition, city attorneys for Sulphur Springs, Killeen and Arlington were at the hearing.

The examiner noted that any ruling would apply to all of the 470 cities and towns that are customers of Lone Star.

Jacobsen Bargain To Be Tested

DALLAS (AP) — Special federal prosecutors say they will hand the Supreme Court a test case on plea bargaining when they appeal a circuit court ruling that Justice Department had the right to drop fraud charges against former milk lobbyist Jake Jacobsen.

Special Prosecutor Wayne Woodruff said Wednesday he would file a motion asking the Supreme Court to review the decision by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. He called it a "landmark case."

The appeals court ruled Monday that U.S. District Court Judge Robert M. Hill exceeded his discretion by naming Woodruff and two other prosecutors to try Jacobsen when the Justice Department dropped the charge.

Jacobsen testified for the government in the bribery trial of former Treasury Secretary John Connally, claiming he gave Connally $10,000 for help in getting milk price supports. Connally was acquitted.

The appeals court agreed that a judge could counter the prosecution's decision to drop criminal charges, but said Hill "exceeded his discretion."

The state has indicted Jacobsen on similar charges of misapplying $825,000 in funds from the First Savings & Loan of San Angelo when he was director. The firm is now under new management.

Jacobsen is scheduled to go on trial in San Angelo Jan. 12 on that charge.

Lawyers Challenge Busing Allegations

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Lawyers for the El Paso Independent School District have challenged allegations that Mexican-American pupils are deliberately bused to maintain segregated schools, but they do not dispute statistics that a large percentage attend schools where their ethnic group is predominant.

School district counsel clashed in court Wednesday with a witness for the plaintiffs in a school desegregation suit, a former civil rights specialist of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. School district lawyer Harold Sims argued that Carlos Vela, now a Harlingen lawyer, was wrong when he claimed that Mexican-American pupils were bused to predominantly Mexican-American schools instead of being sent to predominantly Anglo schools that were closer. But Sims did not challenge Vela's statistics on the number of children who attend schools where one ethnic group predominates.

Vela, who conducted a study of El Paso schools for HEW in 1970, had said Tuesday that 86.1 per cent of all Anglo high school students attended predominantly Anglo schools in 1970 and 81.8 per cent of Mexican-American pupils attended predominantly Mexican-American high schools.

School officials have argued that the district has made great strides in recent years in giving Mexican-American pupils equal educational opportunities. Plaintiffs are expected to counter that the school system's actions have been taken only in response to their suit.

To win the 5-year-old suit, the plaintiffs need not prove that school officials deliberately segregated Mexican-Americans, but only that officials have maintained segregation.

National Zoo 'Cuts Off' Vultures

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 74 years and with some regret, the National Zoo is cutting off free food to the migratory bare-headed buzzards that winter there. "Soaring food costs have forced the zoo to stop the visiting vultures from filching meat and fish from the bird yards and bear runs," said the Smithsonian Institution, which oversees the zoo.

The cranes and pheasants have been shifted to new enclosures and feeding times for the bears have been changed to thwart the sharp-eyed scavengers. The zoo director, Dr. Theodore Reed, said he hopes the curtailment of free food will not keep the vultures away.

"I am actually very fond of the beautiful and graceful birds, and hope they are willing to stay with us and enjoy our presence," he said. Vultures were brought to the zoo by its founder, Samuel P. Langley, the third secretary of the Smithsonian Institution. He used them in pioneering studies of aerodynamics.

Langley bought 12 vultures from the New York Zoological Park for $3 each and later built two 46-foot towers from which to observe them as they swooped down for meat he set out.

His research on buzzards played a crucial role in his early efforts at the turn of the century to build a flying machine. Even Wilbur Wright sought his advice. Langley's first machine — dubbed the "Buzzer" by reporters — plunged into the Potomac River just nine days before the Wright Brothers' historic flight on Dec. 17, 1903, at Kitty Hawk, N.C.

In releasing the vultures at the zoo, Langley directed that they be studied to determine the principles of flight and how well they adapted to the Washington climate. They did quite well as adaptation goes, thriving for years on refuse heaps. As city housekeeping improved, they turned to whatever they could pirate from the bird cages and bear dens.

Museum Toured By Troop 5

Members of Boy Scout Troop 5, which has Otis Bradford as its scoutmaster, toured the Heritage Museum recently and were shown slides of early-day Big Spring.

Gerri Atwell, museum curator, says the museum's membership drive is producing excellent results. Both new and renewal memberships are being accepted.

The museum's 1976 calendars are on sale at the Sixth and Scurry Street facility at a cost of $2.10 each.

LOOK ALIKE — Rick Bryson, an insurance agent, an almost an exact look-a-like for the fair-haired sex symbol film star Robert Redford, looks at photograph of star at his office in Long Beach, Wednesday. Even though Bryson keeps denying he is Redford, and even though he signs all his autographs with his true name, the fans continue to believe he is the famous star.

Insurance Man Looks Like Sex-Symbol Redford

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — They loved Rick Bryson in Dekalb, Ill. Thousands cheered him in Des Moines, Iowa. It all began when someone said, "Pssst, that's Robert Redford."

Bryson was in Dekalb as a booster for the Long Beach State football team when someone mistook him for the movie star.

"I just decided to carry it off," the 30-year-old insurance agent said in an interview Wednesday. "Word spread through the stadium that I was Robert Redford, and at halftime they introduced me."

Bryson had been mistaken for Redford many times before, but he had always denied it. "But what could I do? There were 20,000 fans watching and screaming. I couldn't deny it."

On a recent trip with the football team to Des Moines, Bryson and his friends decided to give the Redford ruse another try. Wearing a cowboy hat and dark glasses, Bryson checked into a hotel. One of his "promoters" whispered to a bystander, "You know, that's Robert Redford." Phone calls to the hotel asked for Redford. It worked. Bryson wound up signing hundreds of autographs. He was given special transportation to the hotel, football stadium and airport. The Drake University band paid him a musical salute.

Highway patrol officers protected him from the crowds that gathered wherever he went. Reporters sought his pictures and interviews.

"What amazed me most was how fast the word spread, how the whole stadium got caught up in the masquerade," he said. "Girls actually started crying, trying to get a chance to talk to Redford."

Bryson, married and the father of a son, said he gave autograph hounds his own name, "but my signature is so bad anyway, nobody could tell."

Pistol Packin' Mamas Gather

The Pistol Packin' Mamas, an organization composed of wives of state and federal law enforcement officers, met in the home of Mrs. George Frazier

Tuesday to formulate plans for the Dec. 19 Christmas party, which will start at 7 p.m., in the Reddy Room of the Texas Electric Service Company building.

Families of club members will be special guests. The club is also collecting toys and clothes for foster children, which will be given as a Dec. 20 party for the kids.

MEN IN SERVICE

U.S. FORCES, GERMANY — Army Sergeant George C. Cole III, 22, son of Mrs. Maudine Cole, 1109 Penn. St., Big Spring, recently participated in Exercise REFORGER in Germany.

Sgt. Cole is regularly assigned as a tactical communications chief with company M of the 2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment's 3rd Squadron in Hohenfels, Germany.

The purpose of the annual exercise was to sharpen techniques for receiving, equipping, assembling, and deploying dual-based units. This year the exercise was incorporated in a broader, coordinated series of NATO and national exercises known as the "Autumn Forge 75 Exercise Series."

The broad objective of the series was to improve the capability of NATO forces. The U.S. Air Force Military Airlift Command flew approximately 10,000 U.S. based soldiers and their equipment to Germany to participate in the exercise.

A 1970 graduate of Lamesa High School, Lt. Powell received a B.S. degree in 1974 from Texas A and M.

TUCSON, Ariz. — The U.S. Air Force has promoted Felix A. Blair, son of Mrs. M.N. Wagner of 1010 N. 18th, Lamesa, Tex., to the rank of sergeant.

Sergeant Blair is serving at Davis-Monthan AFB, Ariz., as an avionics systems specialist. The sergeant is a 1972 graduate of Lamesa High School. His father, Felix J. Blair, lives in Lovington, N.M.

ABILENE — Now serving at Dyess AFB, with a Strategic Air Command unit is Air Force Staff Sergeant Milton B. Harp, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Clark of 833 E. 14th, Colorado City.

Sergeant Harp, a metalworking specialist, was previously assigned at Davis-Monthan AFB, Ariz. The sergeant attended Colorado High School. His wife, Sharon, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Henderson of 925 E. 16th, Colorado City.

Court Frowns, But Jailhouse Lawyers Grow

By RICHARD BENKE
Associated Press Writer

The odds are against them, the courts discourage them, and prosecutors and public defenders disapprove of their legal dabbling. Still, jailhouse lawyers are growing in large numbers.

They have something they want to say. They are broke and can't afford a lawyer. They don't like their court-appointed public counsel. They want to learn about the law. They have lots of time.

Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme, convicted of attempting to assassinate President Ford, chose to represent herself "in propria persona," as lawbooks call being one's own attorney. The court heard her views on ecology and a variety of other subjects before the privilege was revoked.

Other notables handling their own cases have included Symbionese Liberation Army members

Russell Little and Joseph Remiro, convicted of murdering Oakland Schools Supt. Marcus Foster; and former University of California philosophy professor Angela Davis, who was acquitted of murder charges stemming from allegations she supplied the gun used in a San Rafael, Calif., courtroom shootout.

Judges prefer to keep such cases to a minimum, fearing too many will clog the court calendar with lengthy semicompetent legal wrangling.

"The court discourages it (self-representation)," said Joan McIntosh of the public defender's office in Fresno, Calif. "It puts the courts in the position of teaching defendants the law." In the past, jailhouse lawyers had to convince a judge they were competent to handle their own defense, but as a result of a ruling handed down by the U.S. Supreme Court last June, a defendant need only be warned of the possible consequences if he proceeds on his own without a lawyer.

"Now you can have it for wanting it," said Stuart R. Rappaport, chief of the trial division of the Los Angeles public defender's office. But he warned: "Almost anybody who represents himself is going to be convicted."

Since the Supreme Court ruled on June 30 that Anthony Pasquall Faretta of Los Angeles had the right to be his own attorney the number of jailhouse lawyers has tripled in Los Angeles County.

In other urban areas, the recent trend also has been toward more prisoner self-representation, according to a spot survey by The Associated Press. Cumulative nationwide figures were not available. "It's very fair to say that more residents of state prisons are seeking (their own) court relief following their conviction than in past years," said a prison official in Massachusetts, where a prisoners rights suit three years ago resulted in the creation of law libraries in jails and prisons throughout the state.

Jailhouse lawyers interviewed complain that public defenders are overloaded with cases and go along too readily with judges and prosecutors in bargaining for a guilty plea by the client.

"A defendant is going to demand every right in court," said Los Angeles County prisoner Dennis Rutherford. "I fired my lawyer, got a new hearing on my own and I won the issue that he lost."

"The public defender assumed I was guilty," said Joseph B. Garcia, 27, of Santa Monica, Calif., who got part of the robbery case against him dropped after firing his court-appointed lawyer.

"I made a deal and went to prison twice at the suggestion of the public defender. Never again," said Roy Newsome, 31, of Los Angeles, now on trial for escaping from a courthouse.

Rappaport denies he helps "railroad" defendants but agrees court-encouraged plea bargaining can undermine a defendant's confidence in his lawyer. "It compromises our position," he said. But he maintains jailhouse lawyers bring most of their troubles on themselves out of ignorance.

Some increase in prisoners' filing petitions, especially habeas corpus legal briefs asking release from custody, has been noted in New York, West Virginia, Missouri, Ohio and Nevada, although apparently no formal statistics on such cases are being kept.

The incidence of jailhouse lawyers in Illinois "mostly comes in political trials where someone wants to get his message across," said Henry Shefler, an official with the Cook County public defender's office.

"I would guess political activist types charged with crimes will try to represent themselves because they want to interject whatever political ideology they have into the case — a forum for their own political beliefs," said Kenneth Wells, head of the public defender's office in Sacramento, Calif.

Most prisoners interviewed said they act as their own attorney for lack of money to hire private counsel.

"It's money," said Barry Mintzes, spokesman for the Michigan Department of Corrections.

Santa's in the Kitchen Cooking

Tired of giving the shirt or blouse that turns out to be too small or the tie that hangs in the closet? Now's the time to join the growing numbers who "cook up" good gifts for holiday giving. It has been said that homemade goodies are really the best gifts of all so this holiday season "wrap up" your shopping in the kitchen.

While collecting recipes and ideas for gifts, keep an eye out for a new approach to presenting them. For the bread lover on your list, bake a round of Country Oatmeal Bread and tie it in place on a personalized breadboard with a crisp checked ribbon. If you can't find a local source for such personalized woodwork, purchase a stencil in a craft shop and paint on your friend's name encircled with a flowered pattern.

For the friend or neighbor who has an affinity for marzipan, stuff dates with the confection and press a nut or pattern on each marzipan filled date. Present the dates nestled at the base of a handsome candlestick topped off with a festive candle.

With a gift of Glacé Walnuts, include some unshelled nuts, a nutcracker and the recipe for the candied nuts. Choose a container that can later be used to store the nuts.

For the children on the list, "plant" some red and green lollipops in a decorative flower pot. For the lollipop sticks, cut dowels into just the right lengths or use craft sticks available in variety and hobby shops. To make the patchwork pot, glue calico patches onto a flower pot and brush on a coating or two of shellac.

If someone on your list collects unique tins and containers, fill an old-fashioned tin with Scotch Shortbread. Charming ones can be found in antique stores, but shiny new ones are available at this time of the year in department stores and specialty shops.

Since holidays mean parties and visiting, dress up a decanter or glass bottle with a festive ribbon and fill it with your own homemade Coffee Liqueur. Give it in the holiday spirit to a favorite host or hostess.

Country Oatmeal Bread

- | | |
|-----------------------------|---|
| 1 1/2 cups boiling water | 1/2 cup warm 105 to 115 Degrees F water |
| 1 cup quick oats | 2 eggs, slightly beaten |
| 1/2 cup dark corn syrup | 2 cups raisins |
| 1-3rd cup margarine | 2 tablespoons grated orange rind |
| 1 tablespoon salt | 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice |
| 2 packages active dry yeast | 6 to 6 1/4 cups (about) sifted flour |

Grease 2 (1/2 to 2-quart) round oven-proof casseroles. In 3-quart bowl, mix together boiling water, oats, corn syrup, margarine and salt. Stir until margarine is melted, then cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast into warm water and stir until dissolved. Add yeast mixture, eggs, raisins, grated orange rind and allspice to oat mixture. Vigorously stir in flour, 1 cup at a time, until a smooth, moist dough forms. Cover. Chill 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Place chilled dough on lightly floured surface. Shape (do not knead) into round loaves with greased hands and place in prepared casseroles. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, just until doubled in bulk, 50 to 60 minutes. (Dough will be about even with top of casserole.) Bake in 350 Degrees oven 50 to 60 minutes or until bread is browned. Cool in casserole for 10 minutes. Remove from casseroles and cool completely on wire rack. Makes 2 loaves.

Lollipops

- | | |
|------------------------|----------------------------|
| 2 cups sugar | 1 1/2 teaspoons peppermint |
| 1 cup light corn syrup | or spearmint extract |
| 1/2 cup water | Food coloring |

In heavy 2-quart saucepan stir together sugar, corn syrup and water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Continue cooking, without stirring, until temperature reaches 300 Degrees F on candy thermometer or until small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads which are hard and brittle. Cool slightly. Stir in coloring and flavoring just enough to mix. Place 42 lollipop sticks, 4 inches apart on greased baking sheets or foil. Drop candy mixture from tip of teaspoon over one end of each stick to form 2-inch disc. (If mixture hardens before all lollipops are made stir over low heat just until mixture is melted.) Makes 42.

Glacé Walnuts

- | | |
|--------------------------|----------------------|
| 1/4 cup margarine | 1/2 teaspoon vanilla |
| 1/2 cup sugar | 3 cups walnuts |
| 1/4 cup light corn syrup | |

In 2-quart saucepan melt margarine. Stir in sugar and corn syrup. Bring to boil over medium heat stirring constantly. Boil without stirring 5 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in vanilla. Place nuts in 13 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Pour syrup over nuts stirring constantly to coat evenly. Bake in 250 Degrees F oven 1 hour, stirring several times. Remove from pan immediately. Cool. Store in tightly covered container. Makes 3 cups.

Marzipan Stuffed Dates

- | | |
|--------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 3 tablespoons light corn syrup | 1 tablespoon milk |
| 1/4 teaspoon vanilla | 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners sugar |
| 1/4 teaspoon almond extract | 1 cup almond paste |
| Dash salt | 1 pound pitted dates (about) |

In a mixing bowl stir together corn syrup, vanilla, almond extract and salt. Stir in milk. Add confectioners sugar; mix well. Mix thoroughly with almond paste. Form dough into round ball. With a paring knife, make a lengthwise slit in pitted date. Stuff date with about 1 teaspoon marzipan. Press a nut in center of marzipan stuffed dates or, using a sharp knife, press blade of knife on marzipan to form criss-cross pattern. Makes 55 to 60 stuffed dates.

Scotch Shortbread

|---------------------|
| 2 cups sifted flour |
| 1 cup corn starch |
| Pinch salt |
| 1 cup margarine |
| 1/2 cup sugar |

Sift together flour, corn starch and salt. Stir margarine to soften and gradually add sugar, stirring until blended. Gradually stir in dry ingredients until dough is stiff enough to work with hands. Knead in remaining dry ingredients on lightly floured cloth or board until well blended and smooth. Divide dough into 3 parts. Place each portion of dough on a cookie sheet, shaping each half into a round cake about 7 inches in diameter. With a sharp knife, divide each circle into 8 pie-shaped pieces. Prick each piece with a fork. Outer edges may be fluted or pressed with tines of fork. Bake in 325 F oven 15 minutes; reduce heat to 275 F and continue baking 20 minutes longer, or until lightly browned. Remove from oven and separate pieces with a knife. Cool on cookie sheet 5 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet and cool completely on wire rack. When cooled completely, wrap in wax paper and store in airtight container. Makes 24 shortbread pieces.

Coffee Liqueur

|-------------------------------|
| 1 1/2 cups sugar |
| 3 cups light corn syrup |
| 1/2 cup instant coffee powder |
| 1/2 cup boiling water |
| 3 1/2 cups vodka |
| 1 tablespoon vanilla |

In 3-quart saucepan mix together sugar and corn syrup. Bring to boil, stirring occasionally, remove from heat. Dissolve coffee in boiling water. When syrup and coffee reach room temperature, mix together. (Syrup will be thick.) Add vodka and vanilla. Pour into hot, sterilized bottles and cover tightly with caps or corks. Makes 3 1/2 pints. Note: For best flavor, use within 3 months.

MR. AND MRS. NILE LOVELACE BAILEY

Couple To Be Honored At Party

Mr. and Mrs. Nile Lovelace Bailey will be honored at a reception hosted by their children and families in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The reception will be in the fellowship hall of the Wesley United Methodist Church from 2-5 p.m. Saturday. All friends are invited to the celebration.

Children who will attend the party are Euell "Sonny" Bailey and Mrs. Nila Allen, both of Big Spring; Keith Bailey and Mrs. Mary Shanks of Odessa; and Roy Bailey, Snyder. Mrs. Stanley Bogard of Big Spring will help with the arrangements.

The couple was married Dec. 12, 1925 in the First United Methodist Church of Big Spring by the late Rev. H. C. Hinds.

Mrs. Bailey is the former Lena Bell Hamby, daughter of the late Mrs. and Mrs. J. T. Hamby. She moved to the Luther community with her family from Runnels County in 1921. Her parents were farmers.

Bailey is the son of the late Una Bailey, who had been a justice of the peace and judge. His home was a ranch near Garden City. Bailey's mother was Mrs. Effie Rogers.

Bailey has farmed and run a dairy during his life, but has spent most of his time working for the Big Spring Independent School District. Since Bailey's retirement in 1972, the couple has lived in a home off the Snyder Hwy.

AS THEY WERE IN 1927 — Mr. and Mrs. Nile Bailey pose with his great-grandmother Everett who was 92 years old at that time. Mrs. Everett holds her great-grandson, Euell.

Rebekah Lodge Meets Tuesday

Missionary Speaks About Field Work

Members of the World War I Barracks 1474 and its Ladies Auxiliary met Saturday at the Kentwood Older Adult Center.

After separate business meetings, a covered dish luncheon was served to 61 people.

Special guests attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Galen Bradford of Blantyre Malawi, East Africa. They are missionaries with the Southern Baptist Convention. Mrs. Bradford is the daughter of Mrs. Viola Younger and the sister of Miss Virginia Younger, president of the auxiliary.

Bradford gave a brief history of their missionary work in Malawi, relating some of the customs of the African people.

A Christmas party will be held at 5 p.m., Dec. 20 at Kentwood Center. Gifts will be exchanged. All members are urged to attend the party.

Final plans were made to hold a meeting of the veterans and auxiliary in the Reddy Room at Stanton on Feb. 7 at 11 a.m.

Tell Friend To Seek Help For Abusive Father

DEAR ABBY: I need advice badly and have no one to talk to.

My girl friend told me that from the age of 10 until she was 15, her father continuously molested her every chance he got when no one was home.

She never told anyone about this because he threatened to kill her if she did.

The problem is that there are still seven younger girls at home, and she is afraid he will do the same to them.

What can be done to make her father seek help without others finding out? Also they don't have much money in case he needs psychiatric treatment.

She doesn't want revenge, and she doesn't want the police to lock him up because her mother needs his paycheck badly.

I told her to threaten to call the police if he molests any of the other girls. Do you think that would work? He is a strict father, and all his children fear him.

HELPING A FRIEND
DEAR HELPING: Tell your friend that she should confide her fears to a clergyman, doctor, teacher, relative or some other responsible adult. Assure her that her father is a very sick man and if he doesn't get help immediately, the consequences could be tragic.

And please write again and let me know what has happened. I care.

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged, unattached gentleman who enjoys being well-dressed and well-groomed. I am well-educated and have good manners. I am fully employed in a position that pays a modest salary.

Past Matrons Gavel Club Celebrates Yule Season

A Christmas party was held Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mitchell for members of the Past Matrons Gavel Club of the Laura B. Hart chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Special guests at the party were the members' husbands and past matrons and their wives.

Mrs. Charles Boland served refreshments from a table enhanced with an arrangement of Christmas candles and poinsettias. A "Santa and His Elves" display also decorated the table which was bordered with round peppermint candies and candy canes.

Mrs. Bill Griesse provided piano accompaniment while guests sang Christmas carols.

Members exchanged gifts during the party.

The next meeting will be on Jan. 8.

Hint To Prevent Scorching Cake

Fruit cake batters usually contain a high percentage of sugar and may scorch easily. To prevent scorching, line baking pans with parchment paper or plain brown wrapping paper. Two layers of white typing paper will also do. Fit paper closely to the pan shape and grease or oil lightly before adding batter.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS Brought to you by Ted Hatfield

PATTERN is in, in the current era of home decor. Old rules about not using more than one print or pattern in a room have gone out the window, and many uninhibited homeowners enjoy a multiplicity of prints and patterns in lively, colorful rooms. Pattern is very much "in" in carpeting, too, a trend enhanced by the new techniques that have brought a livelier range of patterns in broadloom as well as area rugs and "printed" carpets.

One thing that a patterned carpet can do is pull a room together even where there are many other prints or patterns in the furnishings. An overall geometric pattern or squares or "tiles" is especially effective as a unifier.

You'll find patterned carpets in just about any texture and length you like — even shags! And you can find patterned weaves in 100 per cent wool, looped acrylic piles, tufted nylon. Some are available foam-backed to eliminate the need for separate padding. So if you feel like taking a leap into adventurous use of pattern, let a patterned carpet pull it all together!

And for the selection that will enable you to find just the perfect pattern, come in and look over our displays, where good design, quality and sensible prices go together. Visit our carpet center now — this week for sure.

Come in for a free gift, compliments of our carpet department.

Supreme Court Nixes Alien Student Attempt

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court today overruled an attempt by 12 illegal alien children from Houston to force trial of their suit to invalidate a law requiring them to pay tuition to attend public schools.

In a separate decision, the court also turned down an effort by Alamo Heights and Edgewood school districts of San Antonio to compel equalization of their taxable property values with those of other districts.

The court declined in both cases even to hold a hearing and refused to take the petitions for writs of mandamus after reading initial papers filed by the plaintiffs.

Salon Refuses Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman who refused the pay raise lawmakers voted for themselves this year is trying to make it impossible for any future Congress to increase its own salaries.

Rep. Alphonzo Bell, R-Calif., said Tuesday he will introduce a bill today to take away the right of Congress to increase its pay.

"Last summer this Congress ignored public opinion and voted itself a hefty pay raise," Bell said in a statement.

"I tried to simply refuse to accept this increase, which I did not look for, but after much bureaucratic haggling, I found that my only recourse was to send back a personal check each month to the treasury for the extra salary, which I have been doing."

Every month, Bell has been donating $95.86 to be applied against the national debt, an aide said. This represents the "increase" in his take home pay as a result of this year's pay raise.

Members of Congress, who had been receiving $42,500 annually, voted to include themselves in a 5 per cent cost-of-living raise slated for many government employees.

Commie Arab New Mayor Of Nazareth

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Arab Communist has been elected mayor of Nazareth, the hillside town where Jesus spent his boyhood.

Israeli government ministers warned that financial aid to Nazareth might be cut if the Communists took over the town council. But 67 per cent of the Arab town's 13,500 voters cast their ballots Tuesday for the Democratic Front headed by Tewfik Zayad, a member of the Israeli parliament from the Rakah Communist party.

The Democratic Front won 11 of the 17 seats on the town council, defeating progovernment candidates.

The campaign issues were housing, sewers and schools for the Galilee town of 38,000. But Israeli leaders fear Zayad may turn Nazareth into a center of Arab nationalism and support for the guerrillas of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

The new mayor, a 46-year-old politician, said Nazareth would remain a loyal part of Israel. He said his campaign platform was based on things like new soccer fields, not Israeli-Arab politics.

Zayad said he supports some of the PLO's program, but his aim as mayor is to "turn Nazareth into a modern town to run the municipal services more efficiently."

Despite $2 million a year in government aid, Nazareth is an under-developed town, and some of its streets are muddy donkey tracks unchanged since the time of Christ.

"Jesus lived here for 30 years and Nazareth is world-famous, but we are neglected," said one resident.

Alcoholism Seminar Set

The eighth in a series of seminar on alcoholism, sponsored jointly by three agencies, will be held Friday at Big Spring State Hospital. This one will deal with "Utilization of therapeutic modes." Representatives from a wide area of West Texas are expected to attend. Sponsoring the series are Howard College, the hospital, and the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Both suits arose from HB1126, the public school finance bill passed by the 1975 legislature.

In the Houston case, the school board applied a provision making free public education available only to United States citizens and legally admitted aliens. Before the bill became law, the school board had agreed to let illegal alien children attend school tuition-free.

District Court Judge Tom Stovall ruled that the matter was not properly before the courts until it had been appealed to the state education commissioner and the State Board of Education.

Lawyers for the school district also said a mandamus proceeding was not appropriate since none of the 12 children were plaintiffs in the suit originally brought before Stovall.

The children's lawyers contended there was no point in going before the state board because the case "is one arising under the constitutions of the state of Texas and the United States, challenging the validity of a state statute."

The families of the children cannot afford the tuition, yet are required by state law to send their children to school, they added.

Alamo Heights and Edgewood brought their suit under a provision of the law setting up a special panel to review estimates of taxable property values in every school district.

They contended the panel was barred by guidelines issued by Education Commissioner Marlin Brockette from evaluating evidence that there were "gross discrepancies" between actual values and the estimates furnished the panel.

Such discrepancies, if allowed to stand, would thwart the legislature's policy that Texas school children be provided "substantially equal education," they said.

Atty. Gen. John Hill's response on behalf of Brockette said a mandamus proceeding could not be directed legally against the education commissioner. He also said HB1126 imposed no duty on the panel to equalize the property tax data it received.

SWAN DIVE — A police officer walks to give first aid to a swan which collided with overhead wires of street cars in downtown Munich, West Germany and fell to the street. The big bird was carried to a nearby animal clinic.

Shell Names New Officers

HOUSTON (AP) — Shell Oil Co. announced today John F. Bookout, executive vice president for exploration and production, has been selected to succeed Harry Bridges as president next May.

Bridges is to retire May 1. Charles L. Blackburn, vice president for transportation and supplies, will succeed Bookout as executive vice president. Klaus L. Mai, now completing an assignment in London, will succeed Blackburn.

The nominations of Bookout as president and Blackburn as a director will be submitted at the annual shareholders meeting in April.

A graduate of the University of Texas, Bookout joined Shell in 1950 as a geologist at Tulsa, Okla. He served as vice president for Shell's Denver, Colo., and New Orleans areas before becoming president of Shell Canada Ltd. in 1970. He received his current assignment at Shell's Houston headquarters last year.

12 Per Cent Pay Increase

CARLSBAD, N.M. — City employees have been granted a 12 per cent pay increase over the next three years, despite warnings that the raises would total $500,000 more than anticipated.

Connally Wants Ban On Deficit Spending

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Former Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally is calling for a constitutional amendment to ban deficit spending by the federal government, except during wartime or national emergencies.

Connally told an Associated General Contractors meeting Tuesday that he was making the suggestion although he has seen little public support for such a measure. He said he believes a constitutional spending limit should be discussed.

"We find ourselves increasingly shackled by the misguided excesses of our own government," the Democrat-turned-Republican said.

He also called for a constitutional requirement that members of Congress who seek the presidency resign their posts by Jan. 1 of the year immediately preceding the national nominating conventions.

Dallas, Fort Worth Voters Okay Massive Bond Issues

By the Associated Press

The city of Dallas, with its promise of no tax increase, was the big winner in municipal bond elections while the cities of Fort Worth and Austin were only partly successful.

Dallas voters approved a $149.8 million bond program by an almost 2-1 margin Tuesday.

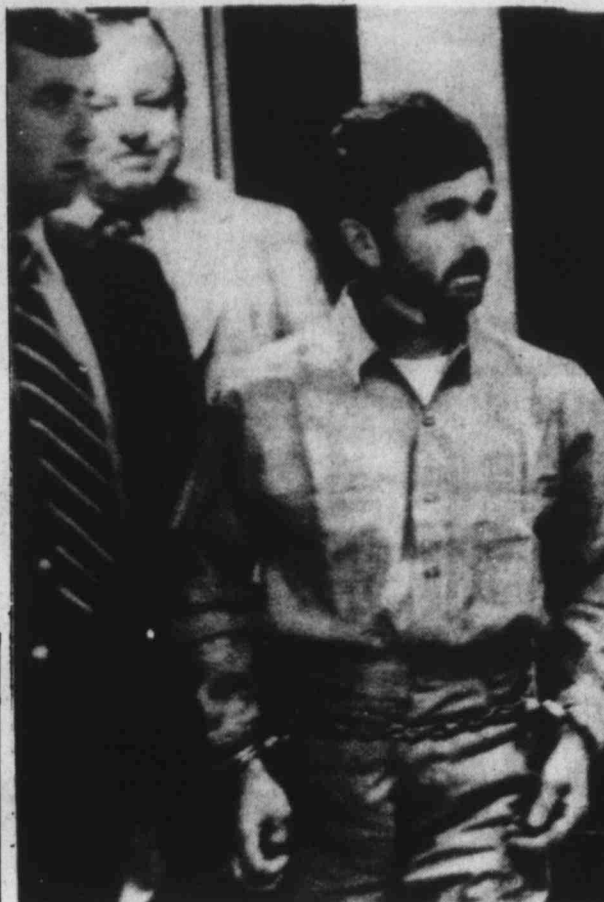

The money will finance a multitude of programs, including solid waste facilities, street and transportation improvements, flood protection and drainage, fire protection, library services, water system and sewer system improvements and parks and recreation.

Austin voters defeated $162 million worth of water and sewer bonds and $3.5 million to build a new coliseum. They approved $39 million in bonds, ranging from $750,000 for police and public buildings and $12.5 million for parks.

The Austin City Council had said there would be no tax increase, contrary to arguments by opponents.

In Fort Worth, residents approved four of 12 projects with those passing totaling $70 million. The successful programs were improvements of streets, sanitary sewers, water facilities and public safety. Voters rejected a $1 million ice skating rink and improvements for parks, recreation, public transportation and libraries.

Fort Worth voters were told the bond would raise their taxes about 3 1/2 cents per $100 valuation if all 12 proposals passed.

CHARGED—Officers follow Donald Henry Gaskins, right, from a courtroom in Florence, S. C. Wednesday after the reading of three-count murder charges against him and two other persons. The trio is charged in the slayings of three of seven persons whose bodies were found in a corn field in rural Florence County.

Six Million Dollar Man Tops With Six To 11 Year-Olds

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—What do kids watch on TV at night? Well, an educators' magazine wondered the same thing early this season. So it asked the A.C. Nielsen ratings company to make a special study of the question.

Nielsen divided the young audience into two categories — "teens," or those between ages 12 and 17, and "children," aged six to 11. Then it analyzed audience data for the period Sept. 8 to Oct. 26.

It put its findings into two separate lists of 15 shows it found the most-watched by teens and children.

Situation comedies dominated each list, with nine sitcoms making the teens' Top 15 chart and eight favored by the younger viewers.

According to the Nielsen findings, the favorite show of teenagers was ABC's "Welcome Back, Kotter," which is about a young Brooklyn high school teacher who is hip to the ways of teen-agers.

But "Kotter" had somewhat less impact on the six-to-11 set. They ranked him seventh in popularity, picking ABC's "Six Million Dollar Man" as their favorite show.

Only one variety show made the teens' Top 15 list. Surprisingly, it wasn't the young, mod kind of show like "Cher" or "Tony Orlando and Dawn." No, the kids dug the venerable "Carol Burnett Show."

It was 15th in preference for teens in the Nielsen study, which also showed an apparent lack of teen-aged enthusiasm for such nice-family series as "The Waltons." Not one nice-family show made the teen list.

But the statistics for the 6-11 set showed that crowd liked not only "The Waltons," but also "Little House on the Prairie," "Swiss Family Robinson" and NBC's family-oriented Walt Disney series.

According to the Nielsen findings, teen-aged viewers don't like their cops stock. Establishment types like "Kojak" may be in with adults, but the Nielsen study shows that high schoolers prefer the offbeat kind of cop series, specifically "Baretta" and "Starsky and Hutch."

Their one concession to anything resembling a stock police show is "The Rookies."

No dramatic series about cops are on the children's Top 15 list, no doubt because these programs come on later at night when the kids theoretically are in bed.

Analysts Told 'Excellent' Year For Pioneer

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Philadelphia security analysts were told Tuesday that 1975 was an "excellent" year for the Amarillo, Texas-based Pioneer Corporation.

K. B. (Tex) Watson, president of the company, said, "With the expected improvement in the fourth quarter, it is apparent that yearly earnings will be well in excess of $3 and will probably approach $3.50, compared with $2.59 per share earned in 1974."

The company president said that the contribution to consolidated net income from gas transmission and distribution operations "has declined from 74 percent in 1971 to approximately one-third this year. He said that net production income is expected to improve in 1975."

E. S. Morris, president of Amarillo Oil Company and Pioneer Production Corporation (wholly-owned Pioneer Corporation subsidiaries), told the analysts that the companies' drilling program has been highly successful during the past couple of years.

"During the first three quarters of 1975, the companies participated in a total of 86 completed drilling ventures," Morris added, "which resulted in 59 producing wells and only 27 dry holes."

ODESSA — Richard Seaman, former managing editor of the Austin American-Statesman, has been appointed Director of News and Information at the University of Texas at the Permian Basin.

Seaman, 46, will draw $16,500 a year in his position. He assumes a position left vacant by the resignation of Sarah Crowe early in November.

Seaman formerly worked for the Wichita Falls News-Record and the Abilene Reporter-News. He moved to Austin in 1968.

In 1976, he quit the American-Statesman to become a public relations man for the Lakeway Company, real estate developers near Austin. He later headed the Rominger Agency, a Dallas-based advertising corporation.

$16,500 Info Post Filled

LAKE CITY, S.C. (AP) — Acting on a tip, authorities have uncovered a seventh body about a mile from where six bodies were found last week.

Authorities were expected to resume digging today, weather permitting, in the search for additional bodies and clues to the victims' identities.

Florence County Sheriff William Barnes said the seventh body was discovered about a mile east of where the six bodies were found buried in a cornfield last Thursday and Friday.

"We have found a body," he said, adding officers had not tried to determine whether there were more bodies, because of rain.

The tip that led to Tuesday's discovery was supplied by "somebody who lives in the area," Barnes said, but he refused to elaborate.

No motive has been determined for the slayings, for which three men have been charged.

Officers spent four days digging and probing last week near the community of Prospect. Three of the six bodies found then have been identified as Dennis Bellamy, 28, John Henry Knight, 15, and Johnny Sellers, 38, all of North Charleston.

James K. Judy, 23, was charged in the slaying of Sellers. Donald Henry Gaskins, 38, and Walter Leory Neely, 30, were charged with three counts of murder each.

Voting Rights Act Causes Many Problems

By DOUG WILLIS
Associated Press Writer

In Utah, election officials printed cartoons on the ballot to comply with the Voting Rights Act of 1975.

In San Francisco, city fathers spent $140,000 to print election notices and ballots in Spanish, Chinese and Tagalog. And they were still sued by civil rights attorneys for not complying with the new election law.

In at least nine states, local officials are grappling with the problem of providing ballots in the language of American Indian tribes that have no written languages.

Up to 11 more states may face that same problem next year. The cartoons were the solution found by officials in one Utah county to the problem of providing ballots in languages without a written form.

The Voting Rights Act of 1975 ordered state and local election officials "to guarantee language minority persons... access to the electoral process in their own language as well as English."

The law, passed by Congress this year in the rush before a late summer recess, is a major extension of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

That measure was aimed primarily at Southern states to combat the use of literacy tests and other devices which had kept blacks off voting rolls. But the 1975 extension is expected to affect all or part of at least 26 states.

It comes into effect in any region in which 5 per cent or more of the local voting population uses some language other than English as its primary language.

Any region where 50 per cent or more of the voting age population did not go to the polls in the 1972 presidential election might also be affected, depending on Justice Department and court findings.

So far, the new act, which took effect in stages Aug. 6 and Oct. 3, has not had much of a national impact because of the relatively few elections in the past four months.

But where it has been put in force so far, results have been variously negligible, costly-but-ineffective or comic.

In Utah's San Juan County, officials produced a three-part ballot for a $7 million municipal bond election Nov. 4. One section was in English, one in the Navajo language and a third, for those who read neither language, used Indian pictographs.

The "yes" ballot line showed a man holding money with a cartoon cloud over his head showing a new school building. The "no" line showed both the money and the school building crossed out of the cartoon.

The bond measure passed by a comfortable margin, and officials report no confusion or problems.

Very few areas have calculated costs so far. But those that have made estimates put high dollar figures on the act.

In California, where 39 of 58 counties are covered, Deputy Secretary of State Michael Gagin says it will cost the state $3 million over the next seven months and a total of $8.4 million for the next 18 months.

Gagin says the cost to California cities and counties will be even greater, for an over-all total in California for the first two years of about $20 million.

In New Mexico, state costs are estimated at $100,000 a year.

Results in some areas so far have been less than spectacular.

The City of Ventura, a coastal community 60 miles north of Los Angeles, held an election last month for three city council seats. The city fell under provisions of the new law because census data indicated that in excess of 5 per cent of its population was Spanish speaking.

Some 3,850 Spanish-language ballots were printed, and candidate qualification statements were translated into Spanish and mailed out along with other election materials in English.

A total of $3,600 was spent to comply with the law. When the 9,604 ballots were counted, officials found only three Spanish-language ballots had been used.

Similar accounts of high costs and low response were reported in other regions. And local officials are reporting frustration in meeting requirements even with the extra expense.

Oklahoma Election Board Secretary Lee Slater said in the one election held so far under the new law, officials met the problem of languages without written forms by providing interpreters.

"We had to hire four interpreters who could speak Cherokee, and they sat around all day doing nothing," Slater said.

Oklahoma has 40 other tribes, and the act could affect 23 of its 77 counties.

Said Slater: "If we have to provide interpreters all over the state, we will have a real problem, both in financing it and in finding the interpreters."

In Idaho, Deputy Secretary of State Jerry Hill said he is obligated to provide alternative ballots in two counties for Shoshone Bannock Indians, even though nearly all of the Indians also read and write English.

Hill said an Idaho State University faculty member has developed a phonetic translation of the Shoshone Bannock language, but that none of the Indians read it.

On the Duck Valley Reservation in northeastern Nevada, Robert Robey, chief tribal judge, said there have been attempts made to produce a phonetic written version of the Shoshone-Paiute language.

"Nobody could understand even that. Almost everybody here reads and writes English," Robey said.

Butz Says Food Costs Will Rise

CHICAGO (AP) — Food prices will increase 4 to 5 per cent in the coming year, Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz predicts.

Butz told a news conference Tuesday that the reason for continuing complaints about food prices is that "food is the only thing left that you pay cash for."

Butz also repeated early criticism of George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO. He said Meany and some other top labor leaders are "more powerful than the president of the United States."

Butz noted that when longshoremen last summer refused to load grain destined for the Soviet Union, Meany met with federal officials to obtain a suspension of grain sales to Russia.

"Foreign policy is too important to be left to Mr. Meany," Butz said. "It's just as wrong for him to take foreign policy into his hands as ... the PTA or anyone else."

Butz said that because of last summer's moratorium on grain sales U.S. farmers were denied incentive to investments, expansion and success.

In addressing 1,000 persons at the Economic Club of Chicago, he said the earth's food production must be doubled to face the "world's No. 1 problem" in the next 25 years — feeding 7 billion persons.

He said increased production must come at a time when highway construction, urban sprawl and recreation are eating up arable land in most nations.

"The United States alone cannot feed the world — no matter how productive we are," said Butz. "It's possible to expand our farm production by a goodly degree, but not enough to serve the explosive food needs of all the world."

proved difficult. Since there was no entry to dummy to take the trump finesse, declarer was in danger of losing a trump, two diamonds and a club. However, he was able to use dummy's trumps in a way that would guarantee the contract if East held at least one of the two missing diamond honors.

Declarer won the ace of hearts and led a low trump to the eight. East won the king (it would not help to duck) and returned a heart, which declarer ruffed. A trump to the ten provided an entry to dummy, and the eight of diamonds was led and run to West's king. West shifted to a club, and dummy's queen was covered by the king and ace. A trump to the queen drew East's last trump and put declarer in dummy to repeat the diamond finesse.

Whether or not East covered the jack of diamonds, declarer would lose only one diamond trick and make his contract.

There are two points in the play which should be noted. Declarer would fail if he tried to drop a singleton king of trumps by leading the ace when he first tackled the suit. East would win the second trump and return a trump, and declarer would be an entry short for developing the diamond suit. Also, had declarer led the jack of diamonds off dummy for his first finesse, instead of the eight, he could not have prevented East from scoring the queen for the setting trick.

when you put Rice Krispies in your Marshmallow Treats.

'Tis the season to enjoy an extra savings on Kellogg's Rice Krispies and extra-good Holiday eating with Marshmallow Treats. This delicious, crunchy confection takes only minutes to make. Requires no baking. Uses just three tasty ingredients: Rice Krispies, marshmallows and margarine. So, clip the coupon and easy recipe. Put a dime in your pocket and tasty Marshmallow Treats on your Holiday table.

MARSHMALLOW TREATS

- 1 cup regular margarine or butter
- 1 pkg. (6 to 10 oz.) regular marshmallows, about 40, OR 4 cups miniature marshmallows
- 5 cups KELLOGG'S RICE KRISPIES cereal

1. Melt margarine in large saucepan over low heat. Add marshmallows and cook, stirring constantly, until marshmallows are melted and mixture is very syrupy. Remove from heat.

2. Add Rice Krispies cereal. Stir until well coated.

3. Using buttered spatula or waxed paper, press mixture evenly and firmly in buttered 13 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Cut into squares when cool.

Yield: 24 squares, 2 x 2 inches

NOTE: For thicker squares, press warm mixture into buttered 9 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Best results are obtained when using fresh marshmallows. About 2 cups marshmallow cream may be substituted for marshmallows. Add to melted margarine and cook over low heat about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Proceed as directed in step 2 above.

MAPLEWOOD, N. J. AP — Benjamin Franklin served brilliantly as American ambassador to France.

Thomas Jefferson, who followed Franklin in the post, was received by the Comte de Vergennes.

"You replace Dr. Franklin?" inquired the French count, as reported by Sid Frank in his "Presidents: Tidbits and Trivia."

"No one can replace Franklin," replied Jefferson. "I merely succeed him."

This lighthearted book about the 38 presidents was published by Hammond.

Usually a trump suit serves to prevent the opposition from running their strong suit. On this hand, South found an alternative use for dummy's trumps to negotiate a vulnerable game.

South showed his power by opening in his long suit and then jump shifting at his second turn. Despite North's initial discouraging response and mere preference to three spades, South felt his hand merited one move toward slam. He signalled his ambitions by cue-bidding the ace of clubs, but North wanted only to get out of the auction and signed off at four spades.

After the lead of the ten of hearts, even this contract

Briscoe Says Oil States Should Stick Together

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe told other oil producing states today they must stick together in their fight with Washington for a national energy policy.

"Energy is not a Republican issue; it is not a Democratic issue; it is an American issue which affects the lives of all of us," Briscoe said in a speech to the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

"Another embargo would cripple this nation. An embargo in time of national emergency would devastate both our ability to protect this nation against aggression and our ability to sustain our domestic economy. The facts are that simple and that urgent."

"We are all joined together in a common peril and the time has come to join together in common purpose," Briscoe said.

He said it has been two years since the Arab oil embargo ended but "we are farther away from achieving energy independence now than we were in October of 1973.... Foreign imports of oil now account for 40 per cent of U.S. consumption."

"Our crude reserves of oil and gas will last only 10 years at present rates of production and consumption," Briscoe said.

The IOCC elected Briscoe as its new chairman to succeed Gov. Edwin Edwards of Louisiana.

Briscoe said the first element in a national energy policy must be removal of price controls on oil and gas at the wellhead, accompanied by removal of import tariffs. He said the federal government should continue to provide financial support for research and developments projects for other energy sources with "particular emphasis placed on nondepleting and environmentally acceptable sources such as nuclear fusion and solar generation of electricity."

The IOCC was to vote today on a policy statement that brands pending energy legislation as contrary to the principles of conservation and a disaster to the consumer.

Diabetes Becomes Third Leading Killer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new National Commission on Diabetes said today the disease may have become the nation's third-ranking killer.

"Last year 38,000 persons died directly from diabetes, and there is strong evidence that perhaps as many as 300,000 deaths could be attributed to diabetes and its complications," the commission said. "This would make diabetes the third-ranking cause of death, after heart disease and cancer."

In its first report to Congress, the 17-member commission urged that federal funds for diabetes research be tripled by fiscal 1979.

"Diabetes is a major health problem directly affecting 10 million Americans," the commission said. "The prevalence of the disease is increasing rapidly."

The economic toll of the disease is estimated at $5.3 billion a year, while federal spending for research into treatment and prevention amounted to only $43 million last year, the report said.

The introduction of insulin therapy for diabetes helps control but does not cure the disease, which can cause blindness and kidney and heart complications, the report said.

Emphasizing the rising incidence of diabetes, the commission said that one out of five Americans born today and living to the age of 70 can expect to become a victim.

Diabetics, the report said, are 25 times more prone to blindness than nondiabetics, 17 times more prone to kidney disease, twice as prone to heart disease and five times more prone to gangrene, which often leads to amputation.

"These and other complications result in about 15 per cent of all diabetics being bedridden for 1 1/2 months per year," the commission said.

Man Bilked CBS Out Of $10,000

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Times-Picayune said a man who offered to sell the paper information about the disappearance of former Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was the same man who allegedly bilked CBS News out of $10,000 for similar information.

However, the newspaper said when it refused to pay a man who identified himself as Clarence Medlin for his story, he left the building.

When CBS Evening News carried the story Tuesday saying the network paid the man $10,000 but found nothing, Times-Picayune reporters recognized their visitor and contacted the FBI.

The FBI here would only say that it was investigating.

The Times-Picayune gave this account of the incident: The man came to the newspaper office Tuesday, claiming that as Hoffa's former bodyguard he knew the true story of what happened to the ex-Teamsters chief. Hoffa vanished July 30 from a Detroit restaurant parking lot.

The man refused to give details, but at one point pulled from his pocket a roll of bills, saying that indicated he was "no crank off the street."

The top layers were $1,000 bills, and he said the roll contained $20,000.

When told the paper wouldn't pay him for information, he left the building, saying he was "leaving the country."

Meanwhile, CBS on Tuesday called off divers who had been searching the waters of the Florida Keys for Hoffa's body for several days. They found nothing.

"It was a dry hole," CBS President Richard S. Salant said. "We knew we were taking a long shot, but that's what we're in business for. If every story we tried panned out, everything would be easy and economical."

The money was paid to Patrick O'Keefe, a freelance journalist in Greensboro, N.C., who was in contact with a man who identified himself as Medlin. A CBS spokesman said the man

Big Burger Featured

NEW YORK AP — An Italian bakery here created a record-size bun for the gigantic hamburger featured at the Salute to The Booth Theater and the New York Shakespeare Festival Season.

The bun measured 4 by 8 feet, weighed 250 pounds and it took five men to lift it. The "innards," supplied by a theatrical restaurant, weighed 300 pounds and there was enough hamburger to feed 3,000 hamburger lovers.

The hamburger was 320 pounds heavier than the previous record holder, listed in the Guinness Book of Records at 230 pounds.
