Suicide Theory in Death of Dallas Youth Discarded by Officers

GRAND JURORS THINK MURDER NOW POSSIBLE

Woman and Men Are Reported Seen Near Victim

ROOMMATE WILL BE QUESTIONED

Body May Have Been Thrown From Auto

DALLAS, May 23. (AP)—Believing that William B. McLean, 23, may have been murdered instead of having committed suicide, the Dallas county grand jury today began an inquiry into the death of the youth whose body was found on a bridge here Tuesday.

Among witnesses awaiting in an ante-chamber to testify before the grand jury were Lewis Holder, roommate of McLean; Miss Wernie Keil, who was with Holder and McLean the night of the killing; Allie M. Harris and Dan Keeney, roomers at Mrs. Harris'.

Mrs. Harris and Keeney told officers they saw two men and a woman in an automobile in front of their residence after a shot had been fired. The automobile in the direction of the bridge where McLean's body had been found, they declared.

A coroner's verdict of suicide was returned after being led to believe it was a cleverly planned case of self destruction.

Trans-Atlantic Planes May Take Off Tomorrow Dawn

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Main, May 23—(AP)—A simultaneous take-off of two planes on trans-Atlantic flights, one bound for Rome and the other Paris, appears in prospect today with the announcement that the French plane Benard-191 would be brought here from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., for its flight to the French capital.

Amano Lotti, Jr., backer of the French flight, after an inspection of the hard sand beach said his plane would be flown here as soon as weather permits. The plane, in which Lotti, Jean Assolant and Rene Lefevre will be occupants, has been at Roosevelt field for several day awaiting favorable weather conditions for its flight to Paris.

Meanwhile, departure of the monoplane Green Flash for Rome has been put over at least until tomorrow by stormy conditions over the Atlantic.

Roger Q. Williams, pilot of the Rome bound plane, and his navigator, Lewis A. Yancey, said they would not permit the coming of the Frenchmen to stampede them into a hasty takeoff.

NEW GAS HORIZON IN OKLAHOMA CITY POOL

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 23, (AP)—After gauging forty million feet of gas with rock pressure of two thousand pounds late yesterday, the Itio-Foster and Cromwell-Franklin number 1 Trosper park in CSE NW 13-11-3 W, south of Oklahoma City, was to be gauged again today. The gas was dry and from a depth of 5,401 feet, proving another pay horizon for the field. After the second gauge the well will be mudded off and drilled deeper to the 6,400 foot pay, which was discovered in the field's first well.

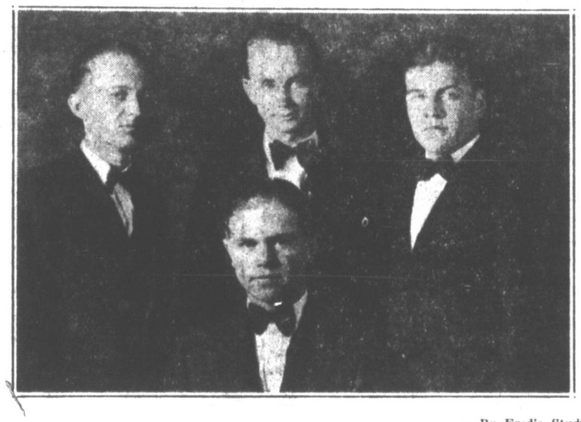

CARRIER BOYS NOT RESPONSIBLE WHEN NEWSPAPER IS LATE

Yesterday's late paper, it should be understood by readers, was not the fault of the carrier boys.

Delayed shipment of a carload of paper from Oregon made it necessary to borrow a roll from a neighboring city, and this roll gave trouble when used on the big press.

The boys delivered the papers as soon as they could.

LA FOLLETTE CLAIMS RIGHT TO TELL CONSTITUENCY OF VOTING IN SENATE EXECUTIVE SESSIONS

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—The senate was challenged today by Senator La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, to prevent him from telling to his constituency how he votes in executive sessions.

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—The Associated Press protested to Vice-President Curtis today against his ruling barring all press association representatives from the senate floor.

Yesterday, when the rules committee decided to withdraw access to the floor from the United Press, because the latter published a secret senate roll call described as inaccurate, the vice-president announced he would so enforce the rules as to bar all newspapermen from the floor. This action does not, however, affect admission to the press gallery.

Heavy "Losses" in Army War Reported From Ohio Lines

WRIGHT FIELD, Dayton, Ohio., May 23—(AP)—The blue army, superior in numbers and equipment, advanced on a 200-mile front in spite of stubborn opposition from the Red forces defending Columbus, Ohio, capital of their state, as the big offensive in the U. S. Army mimic farfare got under way today.

The "big push" started under the cover of darkness and the imaginary bursting of shells lighted up the countryside. Although no estimate of the loss was available, heavy causalties were reported on both sides.

The Blue army went over the top to route the Reds from defensive positions on the Big Darby Creek. The Blue first army made its attack on the southern river front, approximately 100 miles north of the Ohio river. The second army was on its left flank and the third army attacked on a northern front of approximately 50 miles.

Jury Discharged After Being Out Twenty Hours

A hung jury in 31st district court resulted in the case of Art Mathis of McLean, charged with the possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale. The jury was given the case at noon yesterday and this morning at 9 o'clock after deliberating twenty hours, had not agreed.

In making a report to Judge W. R. Ewing this morning the jury declared that it could not agree on a verdict. It was stated that the creditability of some of the witnesses was questioned. The ballot stood seven for conviction and five for acquital, members of the jury said.

After hearing the report, the Judge dismissed the jury and called the case of E. H. Brady, chargd with sale of intoxicating liquor. Brady was found not guilty on possession charges, May 7. He has secured the services of G. W. Boyd to defend him.

Judge Ewing stated this morning that the Brady case would probably be the last jury case trieu this term of court. Non-jury cases may be heard tomorrow.

Court has been in session here for the last jury case tried this term of term of 31st district court under a recent ruling whereby Gray county gets two ten-week terms of court in 1929 and two twelve week terms in 1930. Judge W. R. Ewing of Miami is district judge and Clifford Braly of Pampa is district attorney.

MERE BOY IS FACING TRIAL FOR SLAYING

Kentucky Lad, but 6½ Years Old, Shot Playmate

OLDER CHILD SEIZED "FIND"

Quarrel Over Scrap of Metal Ends in Tragedy

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., May 23. (AP)—A jury here today found Carl Newton Mahan, 6 1-2-year-old son of John Mahan, railroad fireman, guilty on a charge of manslaughter for the killing of his eight-year-old playmate, Cecil Van Hoose following an altercation over a piece of scrap iron.

The boy was sentenced by Judge John W. Butcher to serve until he is 21 in the reform school at Greendale, Ky.

John Wheeler, defense attorney, announced he would file motion for a new trial.

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., May 23. (AP)—With several of his playmates around his chair, Carl Newton Mahan, 6 1-2 years old, went on trial today for the murder of his 8-year-old playmate, Cecil Van Hoose. Laughing with his little friends, he apparently did not realize he was being tried on a serious charge.

According to Carl's story of the shooting, it was a case of the big boy who took something away from the little boy. The two were seeking scrap iron to sell, and Carl had found the prize piece of the hunt. Cecil, Carl said, tried to take it away from him, and succeeded, being stronger.

The younger boy then is said to have gone into the house, got his father's shotgun and killed his playmate. How the boy, who is the size of an average 6-year-old boy, ever held the heavy gun is unknown. The charge struck Cecil in the head.

Carl is the son of John Mahan, taxicab driver. The slain boy's father is a railroad fireman.

The slain boy's father has employed counsel to aid the state and Mahan also has employed counsel to defend his son.

HUMBLE SETS NEW PRICES ON EAST CARSON

Humble Oil and Refining company today announced a revision of its new crude oil schedule to apply Wheeler county prices to production in the Noel-McConnell and Nunn-Stubblefield areas in Carson county.

The oil from these area, it was pointed out, is of about 40 gravity and is better than Carson's average but not as good as Gray's. Wheeler county most nearly approximates the grade, hence that scale will apply where the tests show oil to be of the Noel-McConnell quality.

The Wheeler schedule is 90 cents for oil of under 29 gravity, with 5-cent increase per grade up to $1.65 for crude of 44 gravity or above. This arrangement will give the eastern Carson pools an advantage of from 5 to 10 cents a barrel over other production in that county. The price arrangement is of 7 a. m., May 20.

Oil Conservation Board Convenes

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—The federal oil conservation board and officials of the American Petroleum Institute held an informal meeting today to discuss the possibility of solving the problem of waste and over production n the oil industry by means of an interstate compact limiting drilling, but it was announced later no conclusions had been drawn.

Secretary Wilbur said the meeting had been called to discuss phases of the proposed interstate compact which he hopes will grow out of a meeting of the governors of western oil producing states to be held at Colorado Springs on June 10.

THREE GUSHERS ADD MUCH TO TOTALS

Flow 19,000 Barrels in Last 24 Hours by Gauge

More than 19,000 barrels of oil has been added to Gray county's daily production in the last 24 hours, or since three gushers in three pools hit big pay yesterday. The largest producer is in the Bowers-McGee pool, the next largest is in the new Finley-Brown pool, and the other is in the LeFors area.

The biggest Gray county well ever brought in is the Magnolia Petrolium company's No. 4 J. B. Bowers in the northwest corner of section 63, block, B-2, H. & G. N. survey. The pay was encountered about 10 o'clock yesterday morning at 2,970 feet in granite wash formation.

In the first hour the gusher made 550 barrels and in the second hour it flowed 660 barrels. A gauge for the first 24-hour gave the sensation a total of 10,480 berrels.

Texas' Well Second Biggest

In the new pool the Texas company's No. 2 Cook-Faulkner in the southwest corner of section 29, block B-2 came in early yesterday morning, making 300 barrels an hour. The first 24 hours the gusher flowed 7,800 barrels to be the second greatest producer in the county. Pay was encountered at 2,865 feet.

The LeFors area produced the McMann Oil company's No. 1 Saunders in the J. G. Eustice survey, which made 1,300 barrels the first 24 hours. Pay is coming from 2,592 feet.

Yesterday's production in the new pool opened by the Marland Production company's No. 1 Finley-Brown March 20:

Texas company's No. 2 Cook-Faulkner 7,800 barrels.

Operators' Oil company's No. 1 Cook-Faulkner 4,345 barrels.

Phillips Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 Palmer 1,435. barrels.

Marland Production corporation's No. 2 Finley-Brown 985 barrels.

Marland Production corporation's No. 1 Finley-Brown 585. barrels.

Texas company's No. 1 Cook-Faulkner 350. barrels.

Total 15,500 barrels.

During the last month the Bowers-McGee pool has added its stimulus with the following production:

Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 4 Bowers 10,480. barrels.

Operators Oil company's No. 3 Jackson 4,200 barrels.

Total 14,680 barrels.

The LeFors pool added:

McMann Oil and Gas company 's No. 1 Saunders 1,300 barrels.

Grand total 31,480 barrels.

New Tests Near Pay

At least two tests in each of the Bowers-McGee and the new pool are nearing the pay and should be drilled nearing the pay and should be drilled in late this week or early next week.

In the new pool, the Champlin Refining company's No. 1 Coble in the northeast corner of section 33, block B-2, is drilling at 2,741 feet. The Danciger Oil and Refining company's No. 1 Beck is drilling at 2,784 feet.

The Champlin test is a south offset to Marland's No. 2 Finley-Brown. The Danciber test is a south offset to Texas company's No. 2 Cook-Faulkner.

In the Bowers-McGee pool the Operators Oil company's No. 7 Jackson in the northeast corner of section 88, block B-2, is drilling ahead at 2,960 feet. The Gulf company's No. 1 Bowers in section 62, block B-2, is drilling at 2,830 feet.

The Operators' test is a west offset and the Gulf test is a north offset to the Magnolia's new gusher.

"FORT WORTH" STILL FLYING WELL TODAY

Civilian Aviators to Pass 100-Hour Mark Soon

MUST FINISH ON SATURDAY

Similar Attempt Now Under Way In New York

FORT WORTH, May 23. (AP)—The endurance monoplane Fort Worth completed its ninety-second hour in the air at 7.33 a. m.

FORT WORTH, May 23. (AP)—Two civilian fliers who had kept their rebuilt Ryan monoplane in the air more than half a week gave no indication of a breakdown in nerve or mechanism of their single motored ship as they soared dauntlessly toward their goal today.

The goal, if attained, will find them still flying at nightfall Saturday evening with a new record written on the cockpit of the Fort Worth, the craft in which they took off at 11:33 a. m., last Sunday in an attempt to surpass the sustained flight time made by the army monoplane Question Mark.

Record Possible Saturday

If the Fort Worth is still aloft at 6:13:15 p. m., Saturday the Question Mark's record of 150 hours, 40 minutes and 15 seconds will have been equalled. An additional hour would set a new record.

The Fort Worth piloted by R. L. Robbins with James Kelly as assistant, made its eighth refueling contact at dusk last evening at which time parachutes were lowered to the fliers from the auxiliary ship manned by K. K. Hoffman and H. S. Jones. Another contact was made at 7 a. m., today.

The plane had consumed close to one thousand gallons of gasoline today. Ground observers estimated the speed of the ship at between 60 and 70 miles an hour.

The Fort Worth Association of Commerce is raising $15,000 to be presented the fliers if they break the record. Tentative plans are to give Robbins and Kelly $5,500 each and $2,500 each to Hoffman and Jones.

New Yorkers Trying

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 23. (AP)—The monoplane Three Musketeers circled over Long Island today in an attempt to set a refueling endurance record of "200 hours or bust."

The plane, piloted by Lieut. H. B. Clarke, on leave from active duty, took off at 7:48:50 o'clock last night. Accompanying him was Martin Jensen, holder of the unofficial solo endurance flight record, and William Ulbrich.

The takeoff was the second attempt by the fliers to break the record of 150 hours, 40 minutes 15 seconds, established by the army plane Question Mark.

The fliers plan to refuel from a catapult device, picking up fuel from the ground.

Frank Ford, Stuart Mitchell, and Irving Webb of Amarillo were visitors in the city last evening.

"It's Like This—"

Henry Ford's New Idea

If originality consists in saying the unexpected, Henry Ford is unquestionably one of our most original thinkers. Even his announcement that history is bunk and his peace ship to get the doughboys out of the trenches by Christmas were hardly more original than his latest published views on indigestion as the source of all crime as well as of all disease. He is so convinced of this after ten years of experiemntation with foods that in the current issue of the Red Book magazine he urges the clergy to use "part of their time in the pulpit to teach people how to eat right as part of living right." A considerable number of clergymen have already been doing their best to crowd the politicians to the wall and show Mr. Ford would have them appropriate the business of the physicians as well. We find Mr. Ford's article, or interview, thus quoted:

"The desire to drink is a false appetite, and that appetite is created . . . . by wrong combinations of food. This is a part of religion. Religion has always had a lot to say about eating—you have only to look into the Bible to see that."

A lot about drinking also, and much of it favorable—that is, in the original Book itself, but the clergymen likely to be induced by Mr. Ford to take over the business of the physicians can readily sidestep that difficulty by using only "The Shorter Bible," from which all mention of wine has been boldly or shall be say religiously?—Omitted — Altus Times-Democrat.

THE SEASON OF OPTIMISM is here. Spring frolics apace, and the moist earth is sending up flowers, grass, wheat, and everything else that grows. Other activities, too, obey the urge to grow. Why should not Pampa be proud, and optimistic?

* * *

The ground is spouting forth liquid gold in every-increasing quantities. New derricks, bright with their unsoiled timbers, may be seen throughout the center of Gray county. Oil factories, which are the gasoline plants and carbon black plants, are increasing their capacities. Gas is roaring out of subterranean channels and beckoning to industries that can use it.

* * *

Just as Gray county's oil pools release their greatest floods of wealth comes news of general increases in oil prices. The "sweet" crude oil of this county particularly benefits from the new schedule. A brisker market means greater activity over a period of years.

* * *

The C. & O. W. railroad is opening up new territory, in which towns are beginning to take form. Traffic is increasing and will continue to grow. Pampa is nearer, in terms of transportation, to the cities of neighboring Oklahoma.

* * *

The Fort Worth and Denver railroad will ask for a permit to build a 110-mile line from Childress to Pampa, by way of Wellington and Shamrock. All details of organization, finance, and construction have been worked out, and it is very improbable that the permit will be denied. With three railroads and an abundance of cheap fuel, Pampa will be in a fine position to become an even larger city—the upper plains metropolis of the future.

* * *

Wheat prospects are good, and hundreds of thousands of dollars will be derived from this principal crop. If the market breaks still further this year, it will merely mean that farmers will tend more toward diversification in the future.

* * *

He is a short-sighted Pampa resident, indeed, who is anything but optimistic. Faith shown in the past has resulted in gaining assets which attract people and railroads and business for the future. But faith must be kept alive—faith that means hard work. To stop now and assume that the city will build itself would be dangerous.

* * *

Pampa is at the cross roads of the great air lanes of the future. Why not vote a small bond issue for a real, well equipped airport? Delay will be costly, not only in purchase of land but in good will and ample contacts with the air travelers.

* * *

Fliers tell us that Pampa is an ideal stop-between Wichita Kans., and Clovis, and between Fort Worth and Denver. But Pampa has no accommodations for fliers, and no airport markers and lights. It is time to look far into this problem and arrive at a definite program.

In prosperous times wise men work for greater achievements.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Some of the eight congresswomen appear to be skittish about telling their ages and some do not.

Five of them have included the dates of their births in the new Congressional Directory and the other three omitted this vital statistic. The three are Mrs. Florence P. Kahn of California, Mrs. Pearl Peden Oldfield of Arkansas and Mrs. Ruth Pratt of New York.

A number of congressmen have also failed to include any clue to their ages, however, in submitting biographical material for the Directory.

Your correspondent has no especial business revealing any lady's age beyond suggesting consultation of the Directory, but the average age of congresswomen, taken from the five figures given, is about 48. The oldest of the five is 54 and the youngest 44. The age average might be boosted by inclusion of the ages of the other ladies—and it might not.

Congresswomen's Children

Three congresswomen mention their children. Mrs. Pratt mentions six, of whom five are living, three daughters and two sons. Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida has two girls and two boys, and Mrs. Katherine Langley of Kentucky two girls and a boy. Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick of Illinois leaves her children unmentioned.

The two youngest of the congresswomen giving their ages are Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Langley.

Before getting into deep water by some such suggestion as who looks the youngest of the lot, your correspondent will pass on to tell something of some of the congressmen. Frequent inquiries among visitors are enough to convince any Washingtonian that a majority of Americans don't know who represents their district in Congress. One correspondent in the House press gallery boasted the other day that he knew a third of the members by sight, but he probably would have a hard time proving it. Nevertheless, since Speaker Nicholas Longworth is determined to make the House more important than the Senate, it may in time be necessary to get better acquainted with the congressmen.

Edward M. Beers of Pennsylvania is reputed to be dry. He used to be a judge.

Richard B. Wigglesworth of Milton, Mass., a new congressman, was a World War captain who later served as secretary to the Foreign Debt Commission, as assistant to the agent general for reparations payments and as general counsel for organizations created under the Dawes plan.

Wall Doxey of Holly Springs, Miss., was a district attorney until his campaign for Congress last year. Jeff Busby of Houston, Miss., was prosecuting attorney of Chickasaw county and was elected to the 68th Congress.

Augustus McCloskey of San Antonio is president of the Texas Highway Club and was a county judge until his election to Congress last November. He defeated Harry M. Wurzbach, who used to be the only Republican congressman from Texas, by about 300 votes.

Tom Yon of Tallahassee, Fla., managed to get into Congress without first becoming a lawyer. He was a traveling salesman from 1906 to 1927, when he resigned to come here. That was the first time he ever ran for any office.

David A. Hogg of Fort Wayne, Ind., is another lawyer, who was first elected to the 69th Congress. Andrew J. Hickey of La Port, Ind., also practiced law. This is his sixth term.

Methodist W. M. S. Will Meet Semi-Monthly in Summer

Members of the Methodist Women's Missionary society, who met yesterday at the church in a monthly general session, voted to hold two meetings each month during the summer, instead of four. Under the new plan, the circles will meet once a month for missionary programs. The Bible study, formerly held at unit meetings, will be had in the general session at the church The entertainment program, which was a part of the monthly business and social gatherings of the society, will be omitted during the summer months.

Further business of the afternoon included the election of Mrs. J. E. Ward as superintendent of the Gibson auxiliary of the W. M. S. The auxiliary is an extension branch of the missionary society, and it will be Mrs. Ward's duty to distribute literature to members who are unable to attend the meetings.

Reports on social service work were made by the circle chairmen, and it was learned that during the month 110 visits had been made to the sick and shut-ins; 31 trays of food were sent to the sick; 35 visits were made to new residents of the city; and eleven bouquets were sent to the sick.

Mrs. W. Purviance, president, conducted the Bible lesson outlined in the fourth chapter of "Jesus Our Ideal." She reviewed the first three chapters, after which Mrs. R. C. Campbell and Mrs. Colbert Wilkerson presented special topics.

Members of Circle No. 4 were hostesses for the social hour, during which a dainty ice course was served. Thirty-six members attended the meeting, and a new member was enrolled. One visitor was at the meeting.

Women of Bible Are Studied in Auxiliary Program

Important characters among the women of the Old Testament were studied by members of the Woman's auxiliary of the Episcopal church yesterday at a meeting in the home of Mrs. M. K. Brown. Mrs. F. M. Perry conducted the lesson. Mrs. N. G. Delaney talked on "Sarah, the Princess and Hagar the Slave." Mrs. Brown sketched the life of Rebekah. The appealing story of Ruth and Naomi was told by Mrs. Wm. M. Craven. Mrs. John L. Peake described Esther. Mrs. Perry had two topics—"The Widow of Zarephath" and "The Little Captive Maid."

The devotional for the day was led by Mrs. Brown, president. During a short business session, letters were read from Bishop E. Cecil Seaman, Amarillo, announcing that he would open a week of mission services here on Sunday, June 9.

Six members of the auxiliary who attended the meeting were Mrs. Brown's guests for a social hour, during which she served delicious refreshments.

New Mail Route Will Be Mapped Into Oil Field

Tentative plans for a new mail route out of Pampa have been worked out and approved by M. B. Johnson of Amarillo, postal indspector of this district. A petition will be circulated in a few days and a route of the proposed route drawn.

At the request of Mr. Johnson, the designation of the exact route will not be determined until F. P. Reid returns from a business trip to San Antonio. Mr. Reid has had much experience in mapping out routes and drawing plans which have always met the approval of the postmaster general.

It has been decided that the route should leave Pampa by way of the Clarendon road and turn east to the Bowers-McGee pool, where it would serve the Wilcox, Phillips, Gulf Magnolia, Shell, and other oil communities, the Empire booster plant, Farrington and other communities in that loop.

The local postoffice department is being assisted by the Board of City Development and the Chamber of Commerce.

ROBBERS ELUDE OFFICERS

TEXARKANA, Ark., May 23. (AP)—Four men who robbed the Miller County Bank and Trust company of $8,000 in cash and $21,700 in non-negotiable securities yesterday still were at large today.

Despite reports that the robbers had fled toward Fouke, Ark., posses failed to find any trace of them. They and their green automobile apparently had vanished.

In the bank only 5 minutes, three robbers herded three customers and five bank officials into the vault, filled a sack with money and securities and fled in a waiting car, where a fourth man had been stationed.

Giants Break Even, Thanks to Moore's Mistake

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fans at Ebbets field yesterday saw the Giants narrowly avoid going into seventh place. Master Edward Moore, miniature second baseman, came all the way from Toledo to drop-kick a double play ball about the lot in the tenth inning of the nightcap with one out and the bases full of Giants.

The performance of Master Moore enabled Fred Fitzsimmons to take a 7 to 4 decision over Lou Koupal and Doug McWeeny after Clise Dudley had pitched the Flatbush forces to a 3 to 2 triumph in the opener. The even break served the purposes of the Giants in their efforts to avoid the cellar.

The rest of the fighting in the National league was mainly for exercise. The Phillies ceased to be the Phillies at Boston, but the Braves once more became the Braves. The result was a twin triumph for the Baker boys, 6 to 3, and 13 to 4.

The Cubs and the Cardinals took an afternoon off, but the Pirates cornered the hapless Reds at Forbes field and administered an 11 to 2 humiliation before General Hendricks could withdraw his troops.

The American league situation is daily becoming more and more alarming for Miller Huggins, but it is not yet of record that any of the little Miller's seven fellow managers has lost so much as a minute's sleep over the situation.

Rip Collins pitched the St. Louis forces to a 7 to 3 triumph over Red Faber and the White Sox while the Senators were snapping their losing streak in two places at the Yankee stadium. The Senators won by 19 to 2 and 3 to 2 in a bargain on the banks of the Harlem, and to complicate the case further, the Athletics polished off the Red Sox in Philadelphia with little or no effort, 16 to 2.

The day's campaigning left the Athletics with a lead of two and one-half games over the Browns, who in turn led the champions of the world by one full contest.

Walter Miller again pitched smart ball in defeating the Tigers by 7 to 4 at Navil field in the remaining American league fixture.

Town of Twenty Persons Is Goal of Marathon Men

PECOS, May 23—(AP)—Kent, with an acknowledged population of 20 persons, was the objective of C. C. Pyle's transcontinental foot racers today. Kent is 58 miles from Pecos. The lap is the longest in 10 days.

Pete Gavuzzi, England, hoped to regain the lead wrested from him last week by John Salo, Passaic, N. J., and saw in the long run today a chance to wipe out the 21 minutes and 39 seconds lead Salo held. They had tied each other the past four days.

Sam Richman, fourth in total elapsed time, continued his drive for third place, although Giusto Umek held that position by more than 13 hours.

Salo and Umek have been strong on the longer laps, but because of the bitter battle for the first four places, Gavuzzi and Richman were not expected to let much distance get between them and their rivals.

Helen Wills and Partner Defeated

PARIS, May 23. (AP)—Helen Willis received the first setback of her 1929 tennis campaign today when she and her fellow-Californian Edith Cross, were beaten in the women's doubles quarter finals of the French championships by Lili D'Alvarez of Spain and Kea Bouman of Holland. The scores were 8-6, 6-4.

Fist Fight Fatal to Fort Worth Man

FORT WORTH, May 23—(AP)—A fist fight between two men who had been friends for the last two years has resulted in the death of J. B. Whitman, 44.

The fight is alleged to have taken place in a dry cleaning establishment yesterday. Whitman died of a fractured skull in a hospital six hours later.

Whitman and his opponent had worked side by side at the pressing board for two years. A quarrel was said to have been followed by an "invitation to the alley." Whitman was hit as he stood by his pressing board and knocked down, his head striking the concrete floor.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS - - - - - - - - - - - - By Laufer

Revenge is sweet and no one knows this better than Louis "Kid" Kaplan, the Meridian huzzsaw, who by whipping Billy Wallace recently established himself as a serious contender for the lightweight championship.

It was an unexpected knockout over the Kid that catapulted Billy to national prominence and put Kaplan back so far it has taken him all this while to climb back.

When Kaplan grew too big for the featherweights more than two years ago, he gave up the crown in that division to try for the lightweight title.

For his first fight as a lightie, the Kid journeyed to Cleveland to meet a hitherto unknown, Billy Wallace.

Billy Gibson, the Kid's manager, figured it just a workout and a chance to get Louie used to the boys of the slightly heavier poundage. After four rounds of pummeling Wallace all over the ring, the Kid ran into Billy's dynamite right hand and down he went for the count. Kaplan cried like a baby after the fight and vowed Wallace couldn't do it again in a thousand years.

But the K. O. made Billy a big shot attraction and Kaplan just another lightweight. Wallace soared on and punched his way to right near the top of the heap. The Kid, meanwhile, fought often, winning most of his fights, but another knockout by Jimmy McLarnin kept him out of the serious reckoning. Finally, Billy was induced to fight him again and came Louie's big chance.

The fight was close but Kaplan punched out a clear win and put himself up with the contenders. He even had the pleasure of putting Willie on his back for a nine count in the first round.

Kaplan may never win the title, but his victory over Wallace proves he'll show any lightweight in the world, including Champion Sammy Mandell, enough gloves to make it very lively for him.

Cubs Develop Punch to Beat Dallas Steers, 3-?

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Manager Derrill Pratt of the scrapping Waco Cubs was prieileged to report to his employers today that the enemy had been encountered and knocked kicking.

Reeling from a succession of thumpings received on their first northern invasion, the league leaders dug their cleats into the turf of Katy Park yesterday and repulsed the bold, bad Dallas Steers, 3 to 2, in the first game of their so-called crucial series.

Somehow or other, the Cublets seem to do their best work under pressure. They have played plenty of indifferent ball since the season opened, sufficient to cause the wolves to announce their official collapse several times, but they invariably have developed a punch when it was needed. In race track parlance, they have "bottom."

Lefty Stein, a juvenile moundsman, and Boss Pratt, himself, combined their forces to five the ambitious Mavericks a setback yesterday, their second in their last 10 starts. Stein held the Steer marksmen to five raps and his foreman inserted himself as a pinch batter in the ninth to single across the winning run. Between them, they enabled the Cubs to retain their two-game margin over the skyrocketing Shreveport Sports, who trimmed he San Antonio Indians, 9 to 2, in the opener at Shreveport.

The Houston Buffs extended their losing streak to eight straight when Rufus Meadows set them down with three hits and beat them, 6 to 1, in the inaugural at Fort Worth. The Dixie champions apparently are sunk unless succor is forthcoming shortly from the Cardinals.

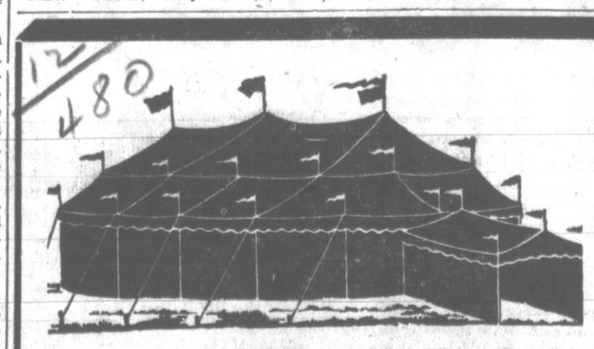

Manager Robertson's Exporters finally found a club they could whip and broke their losing streak at the expense of four Wichita Falls flingers, 11 to 8. After Smith had been batted all over the lot in the early innings, Grimm, cut loose by Dallas two days ago, went in and held the Oilers while the Shippers clubbed their way to victory in the late afternoon.

La Barba Is Barely Beaten by Greatest Rival

NEW YORK, May 23—(AP)—Kid Chocolate, Cuba's ebony boxing ace, has not yet reached the top of the bantamweight class, but his finger tips are groping at the peak. The Kid lost a posible chance for recognition as champion when he came in overweight for last night's victorious battle with Fidel LaBarba, his outstanding rival for the vacant throne.

Neither Chocolate nor the California Italian who once held the flyweight championship, gained a decision claim to recognition through last night's battle, although the Cuban kept his record of 147 fights without a defeat untarnished. Both proved to the 18,000 excited fans they were outstanding amoung the contenders.

Aclose vote of the two judges and the referee gave the decision to Chocolate after ten furious rounds.

Tonight the rejuvenated Gulf Gunners will clash with the Shell boys. The Gunners won a tight 2 to 1 battle from the Magnolia boys Tuesday night. All teams in the Industrial league are playing mid-season baseball and fans are getting their money's worth.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST REVIVAL

The Rice-Taylor revival at the Church of Christ is moving on nicely with fine crowds and the best of attention.

The day meetings are well attended. There was better than a 100 per cent increase in crowds yesterday over the day before.

Mr. Rice is bringing us some very splendid lessons, plain and to the point, yet they are in a spirit of love and meeknes.

His subject for this evening will deal with Psalm 1-1 "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the council of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful." He will show who the ungodly are, and what it means to walk in their council.

He will also show that is is impossible for one to receive the blessings of God, and stand in the way of sinners.

The hyprocrite isn't the only person standing in the way of the sinner. The good moral character who may tell you his or her life is above reproach and equal or better to some church member may be standing in the way of the sinner also.

He will also point out the fact that all blessings are in Christ-Jesus to those who abide in Him.—Jno. 15:10; 1st Jno. 3:24; Rev. 14:13.

Senators Differ on Barring Reporters From the Floor

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—The senate today stood divided not only on the long standing issue over consideration of presidential nominations in executive session but on the question of newspaper correspondents' privileges in the reporting of its proceedings.

The question was raised late yesterday during argument over the unanimous decision of the rules committee to bar United Press correspondents from access to the senate floor. That action was taken by the committee because of the publication Tuesday by the United Press of what purported to be a senate roll call on the nomination of former Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin to the court of customs and patent appeals, which was taken in executive session and has been described by senators as inaccurate.

Press associations have been allowed for more than 20 years to have one representative each on the floor during open sessions of the senate. This practice originated as a matter of courtesy.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MILDRED LAWRENCE falls in love with STEPHEN ARMITAGE, who is lured away from her by PAMELA JUDSON when she tells him that Mildred is trying to marry her brother, HAROLD, for his money. Harold fears HUCK CONNOR because he holds a check which he forged. Huck is infatuated with Pamela, who plays him to make Stephen jealous. When Pamela maneuvers Stephen into an engagement, Huck frames him for the theft of an auto and causes his arrest. Pamela breaks their engagement, but Mildred goes to see him in jail and promises help.

Harold had once confessed his fear of Huck to Mildred and said that Huck threatened to "get Armitage" to keep him from marrying Pamela. She determines to force Harold to help her, and is shocked to hear of his death—apparently accidental. She tells Stephen of her suspicions but there is no proof.

In desperation, Mildred goes to Pamela and tells her story. Pamela sends her to MR. JUDSON, who takes her to headquarters to repeat her suspicions about Huck. He bails out Stephen and Pamela goes to him for forgiveness. The taxi in which Stephen is riding with a lawyer and detective to the hotel is being followed and the detective warns them to be ready for an attack.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIX

THE taxicab in which Stephen rode with the men who were charged with seeing him safely to the Judson Hotel made slow progress toward First avenue.

Oerndorf regretted that he had chosen the route in order to avoid the delay on Fifth avenue. He knew that First avenue presented a better opportunity to anyone desiring to speed away from the scene of an accident or a shooting.

But it was too late to turn back. Should they try it their purpose would be easily guessed. It was better to give no indication that they knew they were being followed.

They had the advantage there. Their defense would be a surprise. This thought held him from suggesting a change of route.

As for Stephen, he welcomed a chance to come to grips with Huck or his men. But he'd have given anything for a gun. He knew the men behind him weren't equipped with popguns.

Frean was only doing his duty. It was all in the day's work to him.

Still, when they reached First avenue and turned north on that amazing street of push carts and limousines, all three were tense and alert.

A quick glance sufficed to reveal that their followers were hanging on.

• • •

THE driver held to the center of the street until they came to the turn in the "L." Nothing was likely to happen in the shadow of that structure, he reasoned, with the streets crowded at the curb by the push carts and the pillars of the elevated offering further obstruction.

But when he came to the open he edged gradually over to the right, though not suspiciously slowing up behind the trucks. He dodged round them when necessary.

The green light was with him when he drove out from under the elevated. He was not compelled to stop in the center of the street with room for the other car to draw up beside him on the right.

He knew why Frean did not want that. The detective, himself seated on the right, would have a far better opportunity to use his gun on anyone at the left.

Three blocks farther on the lights changed. Again fortune favored those in the leading taxicab. A huge truck stood between it and the sidewalk.

This did not suit the men in the second cab. They'd discovered Frean's presence in Oerndorf's taxi before Stephen entered it. But they had no means of knowing that Frean was there for any unusual reason.

To them it was natural enough that Stephen, knowing he had been framed, should desire protection. But that he could guess at the orders Huck had given in regard to him seemed improbable.

They gave no thought to the adage, "cherchez la femme." There are people who will say "seek the woman," whenever there is trouble, and others who will say it before. These men would have done well to remember that a woman was interested in Stephen. For one of them, at least, there was no excuse in failing to do so inasmuch as it was he who had warned Mildred against trying to make Harold talk. Likewise it was he who had reported to Huck that she was visiting Stephen in his cell.

Had it not been for Mildred's love for him Stephen would at that moment have been completely at the mercy of Huck's villains.

"We've gotta go through with it," they'd decided upon seeing Frean. "We got the break."

"And I'd like a chance to pay off that fattie for running me in," one observed viciously.

"Better keep your mind on your business," his companion warned him. "You ain't here to even up any old scores. If we fall down on this job it ain't gonna be healthy for us in Connor's neighborhood."

• • •

AS the signal light changed to green and their car started forward, both Stephen and Frean felt that something was due to happen soon.

At the next change of signal the first taxicab ran through, the driver thinking the other car might stop and be left a block behind. But the second car came tearing along close upon him, though only narrowly avoiding a collision with a truck that had nosed out for a quick start across the avenue.

The first car was compelled to come to a stop at the next intersection of streets. Crosstown traffic had got too well under way there to allow the driver to go on. Besides, had he tried to get through it would have been proof to the men following that he was trying to shake them off, thus letting them know they could not hope to pull off a surprise attack.

The second car came along more slowly. Frean gripped his gun with a firmer hold. He sat like a graven image, but keyed and waiting to act.

This was the moment. Whatever was to take place surely must take place now.

Frean felt he had the advantage. The other car was forced to approach on the left. There was, of course, the danger that the gunman picked to do the shooting—Frean believed that would be the plan—might alight in the rear and come up on the right. But such a course of action would place him too far from his taxi, Frean reasoned.

The shots would be fired from the car. He was sure of that.

Oerndorf was wishing he had heeded Stephen's suggestion and hailed an officer. No doubt, as he had said, such a move would have precipitated the trouble, but at least it would have been over by now. It was damned uncomfortable waiting to be shot at.

"Keep over," Frean said tensely, to him and Stephen. "Don't get in my way."

• • •

OERNDORF shrank farther into the corner. Stephen pulled himself up and looked into the special mirror that provided anyone in the tonneau seat a rear view of the road.

He saw the second car quite close, coming up alongside of them. Frean, watching, hawk-eyed, saw it too. He leaned forward and lifted his gun until it was pointing through the window of the cab.

The other car rolled into position but did not come to a full stop. Just as it was a few feet in advance of Oerndorf's cab a man's head and shoulders appeared suddenly at the open window on the right.

He raised an arm, and thrust a gun directly at the occupants of the Oerndorf cab.

Two shots were fired simultaneously. One, aimed at Frean, passed through the back of the seat between him and Oerndorf. The gunman had meant to get the detective first and let Stephen have his second shot.

An instant too late he had seen the gun in Frean's hand. The one shot Frean fired caught the gunman in the wrist, shattering the small bones and wringing a cry of anguish from his lips while his pistol went clattering to the pavement.

His driver did not even look around. The car was in second gear and he lost not an instant in taking advantage of the flying start that allowed him.

With the throttle wide open he went roaring away and out of sight around the corner before anyone could make a move to stop him.

Frean leaned from the window to take a parting shot but the danger of hitting some other motorist in the crosstown traffic was too great to risk.

He ordered his driver to pursue the fleeing car but precious seconds were lost in getting away from a full stop. And in these few scant seconds the street intersection had become a scene of confusion.

People were running, some for shelter, in fear of a gang war shooting, and some to see what was happening. A policeman appeared, but not in time to get anything but a garbled account of what had occurred.

For a block or two the pursuing taxicab managed to keep within sight of the other, but then the gunmen got away in downtown traffic on Second avenue.

When Frean realized that he could not overtake them he stopped his own cab and got out to telephone police headquarters and turn in the license number of the other car.

It was no surprise to him to be told that 10 minutes before the same number had been turned in as being that of a stolen car.

He went back to Stephen and Oerndorf to tell them the grim significance of this bit of news.

AUSTIN, May 23. (AP)—Attorney General Claude Pollard today held in an opinion addressed to R. B. Walthall, chairman of the board of control, that a resolution of the board awarding to the Texas company a contract for gasoline and oil for the state highway department, may 6, was not binding.

Choice Rough Stuff Expected Here Tonight as Dotson Meets Strong Man

Hair-pulling, head twisting and almost everything that goes in a wrestling match will be indulged in tonight at the Pla-Mor auditorium when Oscar Dotson, Pampa blacksmith wrestler, and Arthur Saxon, strong man and wrestler, meet in a finish match, two falls out of three. The big match will follow a 30-minute time-limit match between Strangler Sam Stringer, Pampa boy, and Swede Sandson, Chicago welter.

Dotson has not been seen in action here for many months. Last year he was a favorite wth Pampa wrestling fans. He has met some of the best boys in the game including Dutch Betke, Red McKee, Glover, Edwards and a few more boys who are nationally known on wrestling circles.

Although new to this part of the country, Arthur Saxon has been wrestling and doing strong-man work in the United States since 1900, when he came from Belgium with his two brothers. He trained under Lewis and Stecher and besides being strong has science to combat the local man.

The preliminary boys are newcomers but have good records. Stringer has been meeting such boys as Waters, Betke, Sampson, and others. Sandson is an unknown quantity but has his clippings where he beat Sandow, Pasha, Klusky and others.
