PASSAGE OF OIL CONSERVATION LAW EXPECTED

Federal Farm Board Rejects German Proposal To Buy Stabilization Cotton

CONDITIONS OF OFFER FAIL TO MEET APPROVAL

Way Left Open for Further Negotiations on Big Credit Deal

PROTESTS HALTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (US)—German proposals to buy 600,000 bales of cotton from the federal farm board were rejected today by the board which, however, left negotiations open and invited another proposition.

In a formal statement issued late today, the board said:

"Many conditions of the German offer are beyond the ability of the board to comply with. It is therefore unable to accept the offer under the present proposed terms."

Although the board did not say what terms the Germans had offered, it was estimated by other government officials that the board would have taken a $50,000,000 loss had it sold the cotton at present market prices.

1,300,000 Bales Held

The board has on hand 1,300,000 bales of cotton which it bought at higher prices to stabilize the market. It has announced time and again that it will not sell any of this at present quotations.

In leaving the way open for further negotiations the board suggested that Germans use the American money they will probably get soon through the awards of certain German claims and purchase cotton directly from producers and the trade in the normal way.

The Germans, according to Berlin dispatches, offered to buy 600,000 bales, taken an option on 200,000 more bales, at average exchange prices, and take three years in which to pay at low interest rates.

Protests Alleged

The board's action is expected to at least temporarily halt the flood of protests against the sale of its cotton. Ever since the German proposals were hinted in press dispatches protests from congressmen and cotton traders have poured in on the board.

Senator Byrnes, Democrat, of South Carolina, insisted that if the board decides to sell Germany cotton on a long-term easy credit, the same credits should be given to American textile manufacturers so they can meet the competition from Germany's textiles made with this low-cost cotton.

Texans Oppose Plan

Protests against the sale of Germany were received by Senator Tom Connally, Democrat, of Texas, from the Houston, Texas, board of trade and R. L. Dixon brothers of Dallas cotton traders, who opposed the government selling from its stock while the cotton farmers were trying to market their crop.

Critics of the farm board said that the 600,000 bales sought by Germany practically equals that country's year's supply and if the board stayed out of the picture Germany

President's Physician Gets Naval Promotion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (AP)—President Hoover today approved promotion of his personal physician Dr. Joel T. Boone, from a naval lieutenant commander to commander.

Boone, who holds the temporary rank of captain while serving as White House physician, was one of seven medical officers approved for promotion by the president upon recommendation of a naval selection board after a previous list had been rejected.

Boy's Arm Crushed In Washing Machine

William Eugene Nullimax, 2, received a severely crushed arm late Friday when the member became caught in the wringer of a washing machine at his home.

He was attended at the Wichita General hospital, where the arm was placed in a cast. The child is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Nullimax, 2504 Avenue L.

Cotton Exchange Votes Labor Day Holiday

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (UP)—The New York cotton exchange will be closed on Saturday, Sept. 5, preceding Labor day, according to a vote by the board of managers today, and similar action was taken by the wool associates of the cotton exchange with regard to the wool top futures market.

Drouth Dries Up Hoover's Boyhood Swimming Hole

WEST BRANCH, Iowa, Aug. 7. (INS)—President Hoover's old swimming hole has disappeared.

The drouth has dried up the little inlet of the Cedar river where the president as a boy enjoyed occasional dips.

George Bernard Shaw in Russia

Emotion Halts Murray's Last Words Over Father's Flower Decked Bier

'God, How I Wish I Had Him Back,' Says Governor in Final Tribute at Bethany Ceremonies

BETHANY, Okla., Aug. 7. (UP)—Gov. William H. Murray, standing amid banks of flowers covering a coffin, today spoke the last words over the body of his father, the Rev. Uriah Dow Thomas Murray.

Three thousand people had crowded into the Bethany Nazarene tabernacle to witness the last rites for the 91-year-old pioneer.

They had heard administration of the services by the Rev. E. G. Theus and other ministers. Then they saw the gaunt figure of the governor, who as a boy had run away from the parental home to start a career unparalelled in Oklahoma politics, rise and stand by the altar.

Precepts Lauded

"I left my father on the evening of Sept. 18, 1851," the governor said. "I left my father but in those 12 years he drilled into my soul the precepts of righteous living.

"At 12 I doubted his sanity.

"From 30 to 35 I realized he was really a wise man. From 40 to 50 I sought his advice.

"At 50, God, how I wish I had him back with me."

The governor's voice broke. The dynamic orator, the spell-binder of many political campaigns, whose voice had never faltered, failed. For a moment he choked up, and stared down at the coffin, covered with flowers. He soon overcame the grief and continued:

Western Pioneer

"My father pioneered every field but the political one. He drove back the savage Indian. He fought in the war of 1861-65, and he fought the religious fight to the end of his 91 years.

"He's sleeping now beneath a forest of flowers, a token of love and respect.

"In some services, the pastor must extend himself in a sermon of one whose life was not quite perfect, but there's no need to apologize for this patriarch here.

"His last question to me was, 'Will you meet me there?'"

WICHITA FIRE LOSSES RAPPED

State Cites $286,000 in Excess Premiums

Urgent recommendation that the citizenship of Wichita Falls launch at once a campaign to obtain a better fire record credit with the state fire insurance department is contained in a letter received Friday by V. R. Smitham, city manager, from J. W. DeWeese, fire insurance commissioner at Austin.

In Mr. DeWeese's letter, his recommendations of more effective fire prevention is supported by a statement of Wichita Falls' losses during the past seven years as a

Hoover Asks Facts On Job Problem

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (AP)—President Hoover said today he was calling upon all available agencies to provide him with facts on unemployment.

The president said that "while improvement in the situation in many directions seems promising, the problem, whatever it may be, will be met."

With the organized cooperation of local, state and federal authorities, and the numbers of relief and charitable organizations, he said, the problem "was successfully handled last winter."

Comptroller's Son Hurt As Car Dives 100 Feet

RENO, Nev., Aug. 7. (UP)—John Henry Pole, Washington, believed to be the son of the United States comptroller of currency, J. W. Pole, was critically injured and a companion, Patricia De Witt, 27, Los Angeles, was killed today when their automobile plunged through a guard rail on a highway near here and careened down a 100-foot bank.

Colorful Figure of Old West Stricken at Last Roundup

Special to The Record News.

SPUR, Texas, Aug. 7.—Swedish Joe Ericson has worked his last roundup. The veteran cowboy, oldest employe on the great Swenson and Sons ranch properties, was stricken this morning while rounding up cattle at Clairmont Mill in Kent county, 15 miles southeast of Spur. Within a few minutes he was dead. A heart attack was the cause. He was 73 years old.

Thus another early day figure, a hard-riding plainsman, passed from the changing picture. Ericson had been employed by the Swenson interests for 60 years. He was a native of Sweden and came to Texas soon after arriving in the United States. When the Swenson ranch was established he came to Stamford with the first load of fence posts, accompanying S. M. Swenson Jr. and A. J. Swenson.

Ericson came to Spur in 1912 as foreman of the Swenson ranch in Dickens county. It is said that one of the last orders of the late S. M. Swenson Sr. was that Joe Ericson was to work for the Swenson interests as long as they had a cow.

Ericson is survived by one son, Lester Ericson of Spur. Funeral services are to be held at the Spur cemetery at 4 o'clock Saturday with Rev. W. B. Vaughn of Spur officiating.

ALFALFA BILL INVITED TO SPEAK HERE

Wichitans Believe Oklahoma Executive May Accept in September

TEXAS 'BOOM' SEEN

Official Invitation Sent To Murray by Oil and Gas Association

Wichita Falls will make a determined effort to bring Gov. W. H. Murray here for an address during September, probably in connection with a Labor day celebration, it was learned Friday.

Plans for the September rally, which persons from all West Texas and Southern Oklahoma will be invited to attend, were started Friday after Governor Murray had announced that he would be unable to accept an invitation to visit Wichita Falls during the trip he plans to Texas Aug. 14.

Urged to Visit Wichita Falls

The invitation to visit Wichita Falls either during his present Texas trip or at a later date was dispatched from Austin Thursday by T. F. Hunter, president of the North Texas Oil and Gas association. The invitation included a welcome from the chamber of commerce, and was followed by several telegrams from individuals here, including messages from Dr. H. D. Fillmore, city physician and long time friend of Governor Murray; Ed Howard, president of the Times Publishing company, and others.

An official answer from the Oklahoma executive had not been received Friday, but he told a United Press representative that he "would be unable to visit Wichita Falls this month." This led to the belief here that he may accept an invitation for an address in September.

Governor Murray has received national recognition during the last few weeks for forcing open the free bridges across Red river and for his shutdown of flush oil wells in Oklahoma in his fight for a higher price for crude. His bridge controversy with Gov. Ross Sterling brought hundreds of messages of endorsement from Texans along Red river, and his shutdown of Oklahoma oil fields has been acclaimed by every oil producing section of the nation.

Texas "Boom" Rumored

The Oklahoma executive will attend the Old Settlers reunion at Weatherford Aug 14, and en route to Oklahoma on his return trip will speak in Dallas Aug. 15. The invitation to speak at Dallas was issued by former State Senator E. G. Senter, Senter would not comment on rumors that Governor Murray's visit to Dallas was to boom the growing sentiment in Texas of "Murray for president."

Admirers of the fiery Oklahoma executive pointed out that an address here would attract hundreds of persons from the two closely related sections of Texas and Southern Oklahoma. The Memorial auditorium, in the event of bad weather, would seat 3,000 persons and probably more than 4,000 by the use of temporary seats. An outdoor address would be made available to several thousand more persons by the use of loud speaking equipment.

Wichita Falls Grain Prices

Wheat 27 cents; oats 14 cents.
Barley 20 to 25 cents.

Wheat prices jumped two cents here Friday, returning to the level reached a week ago when a two-cent increase resulted from the posting of new reduced freight rates. The 27-cent price held until Wednesday when a one-cent drop occurred, followed Thursday with a second one-cent drop to bring the price to 25 cents.

Although the two-cent increase Friday resulted in a large measure from the strengthening of Chicago markets, it is believed to be partially due to the assurance that the crop in this section is practically harvested. Receipts at grain markets here have dropped to a very small amount daily.

San Angelo Family Hurt In Colorado Car Crash

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 7. (AP)—Five Texans were painfully injured today fhen their car and another driven by Jesus Cabral, Mexican, collided on the Denver highway near here.

The injured are W. J. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Martin, Rose and Laura Martin, all of San Angelo, Texas.

DO-X Spans 750 Miles On New York Flight

ABOARD DO-X, MARANHOA, Brazil, Aug. 7. (US)—The DO-X logged 750 miles more today en route from Rio de Janeiro to New York, although it did not reach Para, the objective. The schedule was rearranged for a stop-over here instead of continuing to Para.

Thugs Who Shot Child Identified

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—The Harlem baby killers were identified to police today as henchmen of Vincent Coll, gangster rival of Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Fleigenheimer, intent on hunting renegade members of the Coll mob.

A man arrested last night on another charge told detectives that he was a witness to the recent shooting of five children, one of whom died, on the crowded streets of "Little Italy." The informer's name was withheld.

He gave the license number of the car in which the gangsters rode through East 107th street to spray half a hundred bullets among children playing before the tenements. He said the four occupants of the car were four members of the Coll mob gunning for Joie Rao, who had left the Coll ranks with "One-Eye" Rock and others to form a new gang and so split the underworld faction arranged against Dutch Schultz.

RANGERS JOIN DEATH PROBE

Girl's Murder Mystery Inquiry Extended

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Aug. 7. (AP)—Captain Mace and Bob Smith, of the Texas rangers, were called to Aransas Pass today to investigate the death of Miss Dorothy Doris Symons, 18, whose body was found Aug. 1 near the breakwater.

They were to collaborate with Sheriff Hunt and other authorities in clearing up the mystery of the pretty choir singer's death.

The San Patricio county grand jury was called into special session this afternoon by Judge T. M. Cox. Newton Yarberry, who has been charged with murder in connection with the girl's death, was the first witness to be summoned.

Other witnesses were Mrs. Sidney Fowler, at whose home Miss Symons stopped on the evening of July 30; Mrs. Eva Kelly, Mrs. Alex Yarberry, Mrs. F. J. Symons and F. J. Symons.

Hearing of a habeas corpus petition, filed by Tom Conner, who has also been charged with murder in connection with Miss Symons' death, was dismissed today at the motion of state attorneys. Conner was to be given an examining trial immediately.

'Big Pasture' Club To Support Murray Formed at Meeting

Special to The Record News.

GRANDFIELD, Okla., Aug. 7.—The Big Pasture Murray club was organized here tonight in a great meeting of supporters of the governor at Reed park. Two thousand persons from Tillman and Cotton counties attended the meeting. The purpose of the club is to lend support to Governor Murray in his administration of state affairs, especially matters pertaining to taxation. S. G. Patterson of Grandfield was elected president; Ed Cason of Hollister, vice president, and Porter McCullum of Devol, secretary. Five hundred members were enrolled.

The principal speaker of the evening was Melvin Cornish, chairman of the Oklahoma tax commission. State Senator Cecil Chamberlain of Frederick was another speaker. The Barton Jennings band of Wichita Falls furnished music for the program.

Utah Man Appointed To U. S. Farm Board

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (AP)—President Hoover today appointed Frank Evans of Salt Lake City to the farm board.

Evans will succeed Commissioner Teague, who resigned. For many years he has been an official in various farm cooperative organizations in the West and will be the representative of that section on the board.

He will have charge of the board's activities in marketing fruits and vegetables.

Another vacancy on the board is yet to be filled.

Hoover Makes Plans For 57th Birthday

HOOVER CAMP, Rapidan, Va., Aug. 7. (US)—President Hoover and a few personal friends arrived here late today to be his guests and help him celebrate his 57th birthday here next Monday.

In the quiet and seclusion of this mountain retreat the president will attempt to lay aside affairs of state and enjoy himself with friends who have known him for years.

Mrs. Hoover has already arranged the party for him and has personally supervised the baking of the birthday cake. The mountain folk who are permitted to visit the camp at will and the children from the little school which he established for them, will visit him on his birthday and many of them have made gifts for him.

OCEAN FLIER FORCED DOWN OFF SCOTLAND

U. S. Airmail Trail Blazer Safe After Engine Trouble

JAPAN DELAYS HOP

U. S. Airmen Get Into Jam By Taking Forbidden Photographs

CAITHNESS, Scotland, Aug. 8. (Saturday) (US)—The Wick naval wireless station near here this morning reported that it had picked up a radio message from Thornshavn, Faroe islands, stating that Parker D. Cramer, American airman, had arrived safely in the Faroe islands.

Cramer had been forced down at sea off the Faroe islands while en route from Reykjavij, Iceland, in the third leg of a flight blazing an air mail route across the North Atlantic from the United States to Denmark.

A message picked up from his plane stated that engine trouble had necessitated a landing on the ocean but that Cramer hoped to repair the trouble and continue on his flight.

Asks Help

Word of Cramer's safe arrival in the Faroes at 11:20 p. m., Greenwich mean time, Friday (7:20 p. m. eastern daylight time) was received at the Wick station at 1:30 a. m., Greenwich mean time (9:30 p. m. Friday, eastern daylight time).

Early last night the Wick station picked up a message, evidently from Cramer's plane, stating:

"Forced to go down owing to engine trouble and should like to obtain exact bearing. Can you assist please?"

Twenty minutes later another message was received saying:

"Aircraft, name unknown, bound from Reykjavak to Thornshavn unable to rise from water."

The source of this second message remains unknown. It gave rise to early fears that Cramer would not be able to lift his plane from the ocean. These were dispelled at word of his safe arrival in the Faroes.

HERNDON-PANGBORN DELAYED IN JAPAN

TOKYO, Aug. 7. (US)—Hugh Herndon Jr. and Clyde Pangborn, once round-world flight regord aspirants and now impatient to be off on their projected non-stop crossing of the Pacific, today encountered a delay other than bad flying weather—one that may resolve into an international complication.

Their landing here from Khabarovsk, Siberia, yesterday without a permit and their admission that

Germany Lifts Ban On U. S. Imports

BERLIN, Aug. 7. (US)—With a singular tendency to issue dictatorial emergency decrees first and consider their effects afterward, the German government today virtually lifted an embargo, only three days old, on a large list of imports especially affecting the United States.

Germany suddenly appeared to be following Soviet Russia's example by enacting what, in effect, approached a government monopoly of foreign trade, by refusing to grant importing brokers foreign exchange to pay for certain categories of imports.

Among the commodities listed for strict embargo were automobiles motorcycles, machinery, office equipment, wool and woolen fabrics, cosmetics, lumber and foodstuffs. American trade, it is estimated, would have suffered to the extent of $150,000,000 in a year.

Texan Wounded by Shot From Speeding Car

LYFORD, Texas, Aug. 7. (AP)—A rifle bullet fired from a speeding automobile wounded J. L. Charry, 24, at his home here last night. The bullet lodged in his hip. He was unable to name any one who had cause to shoot him.

Bridge Guards Disband

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 7. (AP)—The Red river crossing south of Durant, Armageddon of the Oklahoma-Texas bridge dispute lost its uniformed guardians today.

Adj. Gen. Charles F. Barrett directed Lieut. Col. John A. McDonold to disband 15 national guardsmen under his command who have been posted at the free bridge, opened by executive order of Governor Murray of Oklahoma, closed under the supervision of Texas rangers to comply with terms of a Texas federal injunction and finally reopened when the injunction was suspended.

Now the court order has been dissolved and another, obtained in Oklahoma to temporarily restrain interference with traffic across a parallel toll span, has expired.

Orders, establishing marital law for both spans, still stand, General Barrett said. "It simply means if they resume hostilities we will reoccupy the military zones," he added.

OIL SHUTDOWN REMOVES JOBS

Companies to Reduce Forces Beginning Monday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 7. (AP)—Watch-dogs of Oklahoma's oil fields, becalmed under Governor Murray's martial shut-down edict, were thinned out today with an apparent impasse in the bloodless battle between governor and oil purchasers.

Unemployment beckoned, also to workmen with nothing to do since flush wells were closed as Murray's reply to the absence of $1 a barrel prices for crude oil.

Word came from larger oil companies that elimination of personnel would begin Monday unless the military rule is lifted and at the same time independent refiners predicted suspension of operations by mid-August unless they can replenish dwindling supplies.

With virtually all flush producers except those pumping water inactive, and no opposition to enforcement of the shutdown, 70 of the 243 national guardsmen on duty in state oil districts were ordered withdrawn by Adj. Gen. Charles F. Barrett, with the probability of more leaving duty to attend the annual national guard camp at Fort Sill Aug. 15.

The 70 were withdrawn from the Greater Seminole area where many "water wells" are claimed exempt from the ruling, leaving 50 men stationed in Konowa and Seminole and 123 in the Oklahoma City field. It was regarded likely no troops would be needed in the small West Chandler and Tatums field, shut down during the day.

Oil men have estimated the shutdown may throw 7,500 oil workers in the state out of employment.

Juarez Lottery Sale Brings Investigation

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 7. (AP)—Mayor Baltazar Adame of Juarez today ordered an investigation of the Saratoga Sweepstakes association after complaints had been received from purchasers of tickets.

The association was organized three months ago by Jose Quevado under a Chihuahua concession. Tickets were sould in Juares and over the United States on the Saratoga handicap run yesterday. The drawing was to have been on Aug. 4, but was not held.

Texan Seeks Release Of Confiscated Cattle

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 7. (AP)—Former Congressman Claude Hudspeth of El Paso left for Mexico City today in an effort to obtain release of 126 head of cattle held by the Mexican government. The cattle strayed from the ranch of C. G. Durrill across the Rio Grande and were confiscated by Mexican soldiers. American lawyers and the American consulate in Juares failed to effect their release.

STERLING PLAN FOR ENFORCING RULES BEATEN

Senate Votes Today on Bill To Strengthen Proration Statutes of State

REDISTRICTING ASKED

Governor Introduces Three Subjects for Solons To Consider

AUSTIN, Aug. 7. (AP)—The legislature today killed Governor Sterling's plan to create an appointive conservation commission. The new commission would have taken over the oil and gas duties now incumbent on the elective railroad commission.

The opposite fate was predicted for the administration bill to rewrite the conservation laws and make them more effective. That bill was passed by the house by the two-thirds majority necessary to put it into immediate effect and was scheduled to be taken up in the senate tomorrow.

Substantial Majorities

The majority against creation of a new commission was substantial in each house. In the senate the vote was 17 to 11 with one pair and the house count was 77 to 52. The action was taken notwithstanding charges that one of the reasons for the lack of control over East Texas oil production was that the railroad commission had not enforced existing statutes.

The governor accepted the defeat of half his oil conservation program philosophically. "I can only recommend," the governor said. "It is up to the legislature to legislate."

The house recommended a bill by Representative Milton West of Brownsville to levy a graduated production tax on oil. The action was taken by the entire body, sitting as a committee of the whole. However, it was not final and a hard fight was expected on the floor.

Graduated Oil Tax

The tax in the bill reported ranged from 2 cents a barrel on wells producing 300 barrels or less to 25 cents a barrel on wells producing 16,000 barrels or more. An amendment will be offered to reduce the levy to one-half of one cent a barrel on wells producing 50 barrels or less to five cents a barrel on wells making 50,000 barrels or more.

Some doubt had been expressed to constitutionality of a graduated tax but West said the attorney general's department had held it constitutional.

With the session containing only four more working days, Governor Sterling late today submitted congressional redistricting and several minor subjects.

One of the minor bills introduced as a result of the message would allow employment of county rural school supervisors wherever deemed advisable by the county board of trustees. Another would amend the warrant bill passed during the regular session to correct confusion regarding the right of cities to issue warrants payable from current funds. A third would validate San Antonio's $1,100,000 funding bond issue.

Several amendments were expected to be fired at the house oil conservation bill when it is taken up in the senate tomorrow. Indications

Il Duce Joins German Chancellor In Plans for World Betterment

ROME, Aug. 7. (AP)—Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Bruening laid the groundwork today for a new friendship between Italy and Germany and started talking brass tacks on practical measures for the common good of the world.

The Italian premier and chief of Fascists and the German chancellor, whose political life is threatened by Hitlerite Fascists at home, dealt frankly with European sore spots.

Tonight they toasted each other at a dinner given by Mussolini using words that, for all their generality of tone, promised sincere efforts to push or pull Europe out of the slough of despond.

In his dinner speech the duce paid tribute to German culture and expressed deep sympathy with the reich in its present plight. He paid tribute to the Hoover war debt plan as an aid in healing the moral and material wound left by the war.

Herr Bruening also touched on the Hoover war debt action declaring it to be "of trail-blazing importance."

The accord between Mussolini and Bruening was indicated when the duce met this chancellor at the railroad station this morning and for five minutes they talked like old friends on the station platform. And on the three occasions when they were seen together during the day they had smiles for one another.

VOTE DEFEATS STERLING PLAN

Special Oil Commission Bill Voted Down

were the argument would last all day and perhaps longer. The bill was designed to strengthen enforcement of conservation.

Since the session contains only four more working days it was regarded as extremely doubtful that a redistricting bill could be passed.

Shortly after the subject was submitted, several house members introduced virtually the same bill which was approved by the house but rejected by the vote in the senate during the closing days of the regular session. The only change was that Bastrop county was left in the Austin district, as it is at present.

Three Seats Exist

Under the reapportionment, Texas is entitled next year to elect three more congressmen, bringing the total to 21. Unless the state is redistricted there will be three congressmen-at-large.

The congressional redistricting fight was one of the longest during the 131-day regular session. The house passed a bill and the senate substituted it. A free conference committee labored many days and reported back. Senators from East Texas claimed the bill was unfair to their section and succeeded in having it rejected by one vote.

Representative Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, one of the authors of the house proposal and chairman of the house committee on congressional redistricting, said a hearing on the bill would be held tonight. Even authors of the bill expressed doubt that it could be passed in the closing days of the session.

Bills Introduced

Late today, three redistricting bills were introduced in the senate. One by Senator Charles Gainer of Bryan, followed closely the bill approved by free conference committees in the last legislature, which provided new congressional districts for the Panhandle, for West Texas and for South Texas, but lost the support of East Texas legislators.

A second, by Senator W. R. Poage of Waco, would provide new district for East Texas, in the Marshall-Nacogdoches section; for South Texas in the Brownsville-Corpus Christi section; for West Texas, in the Lubbock and far-flung surrounding section.

The bill would not divide any county and would make one of the three largest counties—Harris, Bexar and Dallas—districts within themselves.

In the new South Texas district, Congressman John Garner, ranking Democrat, would lose Cameron, Hidalgo, Willacy, Brooks, Kenedy and Kleberg counties and gain Valverde, Sutton, Edwards, Menard, Kimble, Mason, Gillespie, Real, Kerr, Banera, Kendall and Comal counties.

The third bill, by Senator Geo. Puri of Dallas, would provide that in event there was no redistricting, those running for the offices of congressman at large would be required to elect their places—as place number one, two or three—and enter run-offs, if they failed to clear majorities, like all other congressional candidates. Without such a law, the three high candidates automatically would receive the nomination.

House Lacks Quorum

No action was taken by the house bill to regulate pipe lines due to lack of a quorum. Authors of the house bill said they would recommend the house concur in the amendments since only a few minor changes were made.

The bill would provide for ratable takings of both gas and oil; authorize the commission to require reasonable extensions and connections; would prohibit pipe lines from taking oil produced in violation of the commission's orders; would require ratable purchase of gas and oil and extend the provisions of the common purchaser act to include companies not affiliated with pipe lines. It also would give the commission authority to set the rates charged by pipe lines.

The house spent several hours debating a bill to permit operation of an oil pool on a unit basis. Opponents and proponents tied up on an amendment to provide that nothing in the bill be construed as a permit to limit or violate the anti-trust laws. The bill would permit operators in a pool to enter into agreements to restrict production.

Proponents admitted the bill would place a limitation on operation of the anti-trust laws and that its purpose was to exclude unitization agreements. The bill was pending on adjournment.

Texans Narrowly Escape Drowning In Storm on New Mexico Desert

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 7. (AP)—A story of narrow escape from drowning in a New Mexico desert was told today by J. C. Shows of El Paso.

Three automobiles in which Shows and nine other persons were en route to the Sacramento mountains became mired Sunday in a road 15 miles southeast of Oro Grande.

After spending the night at Oro-myande, members of the party returned to their cars to find them half submerged in a lake formed by rain. While the men were trying to extricate the automobiles a black cloud suddenly appeared.

"We were up to our waists in water then," Shows said. "But the bottom fell out of that cloud, and it rained so hard we couldn't see each other. Water rose a foot in 15 minutes.

"Wind drove waves over the car, and knocked me down when I tried to wade to shore, several hundred yards away. If it hadn't been for my son I'd have drowned. He pulled me to safety. It was like shipwreck at sea."

Shows said the lake was about a mile and a half wide and two miles long. W. L. Jones, 75 Hattiesburg, Miss., had to walk half a mile through waist-deep water to leave his car.

Twenty New Mexico highway department employes assisted in extricating the automobiles, which required two days.

In the party, in addition to Shows and Jones, were Mrs. Shows, Charles Shows, the son, a daughter, Doris, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry O. Driscoll and Jerry Jr., of Galveston, and Mrs. Cooper Polk and her son, Jimmie, who have a ranch in the Sacramento mountains.

Will J. Tucker To Visit Hatchery Here

Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the state game, fish and oyster commission, will inspect the Wichita Falls state fish hatchery at Diversion lake Saturday, according to a special dispatch to The Record News. Mr. Tucker will stop here on his way to the Goodnight ranch to make an inspection of the buffalo herd being taken over by the game department under a bill recently enacted by the legislature.

The index of the general level of farm prices May 15 was 86 per cent of the pre-war level, 38 points below a year ago, and the lowest since 1910.

Board Rejects German Offer

would obtain her needs through the usual channels of private trade and take the staple off the hands of the farmers. The attitude taken by senatorial critics and cotton growers is that the government should hold its cotton indefinitely or until the price rises.

REJECTION FAILS TO SURPRISE GERMANY

BERLIN, Aug. 7. (AP)—Rejection by the United State farm board of the German offer to purchase cotton failed to result in any great surprise in financial circles.

In the first place, what the Germans several days ago had been given to understand might be an acceptable offer was not even approximated in the proposal actually sent to Washington.

The German offer specified a three-year credit instead of an 18-month credit and stipulated the market price instead of a price slightly above the market which it was understood the farm board hoped to get in view of the credit accommodation involved.

In the second place, publicity given the preliminary negotiations aroused violent objections in the cotton trade here as it did in the United States.

The news was interpreted as lessening the chances for a wheat deal between Germany and the United States. Early today it had seemed negotiations were far enough along to justify expectations a German offer would be forwarded to Washington during the afternoon. No proposal was dispatched, however.

FRENCH INTERESTS LODGE PROTEST

HAVRE, France, Aug. 7.—French cotton interests today lodged a protest with Washington against the proposed sale of a part of the federal farm board's cotton stocks to Germany at low prices on a three-year credit basis.

In a cablegram sent to Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, the cotton transaction between American and Germany was characterized as creating "artificial and unfair competition," and is, in the opinion of the French cotton trade, "contrary to legitimate trade interests."

OCEAN FLIER FORCED DOWN

U. S. Airmail Envoy Safe In Scotland

they took aerial photographs en route over Japan was today the subject of discussion by five governmental departments.

The photographs made by the fliers took on particularly great importance in view of the Japanese government's reported recent protest to Washington against similar action by American naval airmen over the Kwangtung fortifications.

Films Developed

The roll of films shot by Herndon and Pangborn is being developed by the government to ascertain whether any fortifications came under the lens of their camera.

Meanwhile, the airmen, confident that the matter will be straightened out and their innocence proved are making plans for their daring 4,600-mile cross-water hop to Seattle, Wash., although they may not be able to get away before the arrival of Col and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh at the end of their vacation flight.

"I'M THROUGH," SAYS REGINALD ROBBINS

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 7. (US)—"I'm through with long distance flying."

Col. Reg Robbins made this declaration when he landed at the Edmonton airport today. Defeated by weather for the third time in an attempted long non-stop flight. He continued:

"I am going back to Fort Worth and I intend to stick to passenger carrying. I can do that.

"We'll stay in Edmonton tonight and take off Saturday morning for Fort Worth. We should be able to make that flight non-stop.

"You know," he remarked, "if all the hops we made in these attempts were stretched out, we would be in Tokyo, or maybe beyond."

LINDBERGHS WAIT CLEARING WEATHER

AHLAVIK, N. W. T., Aug. 7. (AP)—Reports of clearing weather ahead cheered the flying Lindberghs today, grounded here two days and two nights in the longest stop since they started from Washington July 28, on a 7,000-mile aerial vacation jaunt to the orient.

Fog at Point Barrow was the only unfavorable condition in weather reports from the route along the arctic rim of Alaska and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his diminutive co-pilot wife prepared to take off.

The projected flight to Point Barrow should take about five hours.

Radio Audition Draws Entries in Hall County

Special to The Record News

MEMPHIS, Texas, Aug. 7.—Mrs. M. McNeely, local chairman of the Fifth National Radio audition by the Atwater Kent foundation of Philadelphia, is optimistic with prospects of having a large amount of interest in the contest locally. She is inaugurating a campaign in Hall county to find some local singer who may qualify to participate in the division of $25,000 in cash and 10 musical scholarships that will go to the national finalists.

According to Mrs. McNeely, several local singers have already entered the contest and others have signified their intentions of doing so. Mrs. McNeely stated further that any one desiring to enter the audition could do so by getting in touch with her. All county music teachers may submit the names of local singers between the ages of 18 and 25. A committee to assist Mrs. McNeely in preparation of the audition to be held locally around the first of September, will be appointed by next week.

Collingsworth Boys Win Judging Awards

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Aug. 7.—Collingsworth county 4-H club boys' judging teams won more first places and more medals than any other county in Texas at the farmers' short course held last week at A. & M. college, it has been announced by County Agent C. C. Stinson who accompanied the local teams to College Station.

Collingsworth teams won first place in beef judging, first place in hog judging, fifth place in dairy judging, and fifth in grain judging. Local boys who won medals for high scoring as individuals were John H. Williams, bronze medal for third highest in beef judging, and a gold medal for highest scorer in the hog judging; Curtis Clement won a bronze medal as third high in hog judging; Earl Breeding won a bronze medal as third award to individuals in dairy judging.

The Collingsworth teams were composed of the following: Beef judging, John H. Williams, Earl Breeding and Kenneth Stinson; hog judging, John H. Williams, Curtis Clement and Earl Breeding; dairy judging, Vernon Barton, Earl Breeding and Curtis Clement; grain judging, Edward Mitchell and John H. Williams.

Benefit Game Nets $250 for Children

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Aug. 7.—Approximately $250 was raised through the sale of tickets to the Rotary-Lions benefit baseball game Tuesday, according to announcements made by the finance committee Thursday at the Lions club luncheon. The proceeds will go toward furnishing milk to undernourished school children, a project which is being sponsored by the Lions and the Rotarians.

Jim Lile of Wichita Falls was introduced as a visitor at the luncheon which was presided over by Dr. R. R. Ramey, president. E. V. Haltom, who was in charge of the entertainment features, presented Miss Thelma Moss, in several song selections accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Y. B. Akins. S. H. Hill was appointed to be in charge of the entertainment features for the meeting next Thursday.

ONE SHOT IN BORDER FIGHT

Mexican Believed Fatally Wounded by Agents

McALLEN, Texas, Aug. 7. (INS)—A Mexican, believed to be Santiago Sanches, was perhaps fatally injured today during a pitched gun battle between federal agents and rum runners on the Rio Grande river five miles from here.

The agents sank a small boat in which the rum runners were bringing a cargo of liquor across the river and said they believed one of the seven men they engaged in a battle had been fatally shot. The wounded man was dragged from the river by his comrades.

The agents—Senior Customs Inspector H. H. Schildt and George Palmer—had been tipped off that liquor was being run across the river in a small boat five miles upstream from here.

They lay in wait for the boat and when it attempted a landing they opened fire on its four occupants. Three other men on the Mexico side answered the agents' fire, aiding their comrades in the boat.

Slugs from the rifles of the federal men sank the small boat and the rum runners swam back across the river, dragging their injured comrade.

Schildt said he was not near enough to the rum boat to positively identify the injured man, but believed him to be Santiago Sanches, twice deported alient wanted for the shooting of Border Patrolman Orval Knight two months ago.

Plans Made for Hall County Fair Exhibits

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Aug. 7.—At a called meeting of the Hall county district fair directors, setting of the date for the fair was postponed.

The directors stressed the fact that the fair this year would be devoted more to the exhibition of agricultural products and educational works than it has been heretofore. Much interest is expected to be shown in the exhibition of 4-H club and home demonstration products as well as exhibitions from the schools.

It was further decided to make plans for building a new grandstand and to fence the race track on a paying basis as well as making it a center for amusement.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas has a city which leads all cities of the South in volume of wholesale business done, according to U. S. census figures. Dallas had a volume of $677,415,266. Baltimore ($597,517,536) ranked second and New Orleans ($590,611,561) third.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

One of the biggest irrigation projects ever undertaken in Texas is under construction in Willacy county. When completed it will have cost $7,500,000 and it will bring 130,000 acres under irrigation. Bonds were voted two years ago and preliminary work begun. Final plans were approved this year and a considerable part of the plan has been completed. One new feature for Texas irrigation projects is the 13,000-acre storage reservoir in the heart of the district (Willacy county No. 1), intended to maintain the water supply when the stage of the Rio Grande gets unusually low. A 27-mile intake canal from the river feeds the reservoir and brings the water to a system of 560 miles of canals and 175 miles of concrete pipe lines in the completed distribution system, which will reach every 40-acre tract in the district . . . Further steps toward beginning work on the big irrigation project in Coke county were made when the survey of the Colorado basin in that area was recently completed. The project includes a dam across the Colorado to cover 65,000 acres and to impound 500,000 acre feet of water.

8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

Many jobless men in California have gone in for gold digging. But until they strike they'll still be on the rocks.

A moratorium for pugilism is needed, says a sports writer. With the stipulation, of course, that contestants lay down their arms.

Capitalizing Leisure Hours

IT MAY be illogical to draw an example of "cause and effect" from the emergence of tennis as a major recreational sport in Wichita Falls in 1931, but there are many who regard the "arrival" of the game here as a by-product of retarded business activity prevalent the world over.

Granting that tennis has received its new impetus from the fact that the public generally is seeking satisfactory interests formerly found in lively business ventures, the depression must be credited with having produced a desired result. For it is obviously a good thing for hundreds of men and women and boys and girls to be engaged regularly in a sport so healthful and generally commendable as tennis.

For many years a few faithful devotees of the game have struggled to give it a larger place in this city. Through their efforts, and the cooperation of the city park department, the stage was set for the phenomenal development the sport has experienced here this summer.

Participation has by no means been limited to scholastics, among whom the game has been more or less established in former years. The city's public courts have been used intensively by several hundred players ranging in age from 6 to 60, and of both sexes. Young and middle-aged business men have found new and pleasant associations while reducing the waistline to respectable dimension and renewing vigorous flexibility of body. Plans to improve and extend the present facilities for tennis on public courts will receive city-wide support as a result of the excellent season now being enjoyed.

Better times are in the making, and are forecasting their shadows. But the habits of healthful physical recreation established during the lull will be retained by most of those who are using their spare time so profitably.

A Little Bit Late

NEW YORK CITY has been thrown into a frenzy of indignation over the recent gang outrage in which one child was killed and four others wounded when an attempt to put a racketeer "on the spot" went awry. Mayor Walker has announced "when they start shooting down babies it is time to call a halt," and the police are scurrying about in a fine welter of righteous anger.

All of this is very well; but there isn't, really, much sense in getting so hot about it. A press dispatch on the day after the shooting remarked that "the gun play was an outgrowth of beer peddling rivalry"; and that tells you about all you need to know about it.

New York, like every other big city in the United States, has tolerated beer gangs for years. Leading gangsters have had tremendous political influence. Murder after murder has gone unpunished. There is no reason to be surprised when an unusually atrocious and stupid crime takes place.

As Mayor Walker says, it is time to call a halt; but it may prove a little bit too late. The gangs are well entrenched.

Helping an Agitator

THE chief result of the action of that Ohio sheriff who raided and closed a Communistic camp for children seems to have been to provide a lot of free advertising for the 20-year-old girl agitator, Irene Dixon, who conducted the camp.

Out on bond awaiting trial on charges of criminal syndicalism, Miss Dixon reveals that she has speaking engagements "all over the state" which will keep her very busy for some time—so busy, in fact, that she does not believe she will try to re-open the camp at all.

That is about the way raids of that kind usually turn out. The camp itself did an infinitesimal amount of harm. As long as Miss Dixon stayed there her audience was small. Now she has the whole state of Ohio for an audience, and is presenting her doctrines to 20 times as many people as heard them before. Just what has been gained, anyway?

A Tough Row to Hoe

PROHIBITION DIRECTOR WOODCOCK'S promise that the government will demand a vigorous prosecution of the Indiana bootlegger who shot and killed two federal dry agents will meet with sympathetic agreement in all parts of the country.

The complaints that have been made in times past about promiscuous shooting on the part of irresponsible dry agents have made many of us forget the fact that the dry agent also runs into irresponsible gun users occasionally.

The honest dry agent does not have a very easy time of it. He has to deal with the most dangerous group of criminals in the country. When he makes a mistake it is trumpeted across the land from ocean to ocean. When he runs into a crook who happens to be quick on the trigger his own life is a forfeit.

Mirror Reflection

So keen his eyes, and still so dull of sight!
And blind to simple things like warm sunlight
Upon a threshold where the door's flung wide
To let the winds of heaven blow inside.

He would not see the door, or, seeing, find
The place an entrance for his facile mind
To probe and thrust as keenly as a knife
Between the sheltering walls that harbor life.

His lips, so wisely shut, will never form
The little words that keep a friendship warm,
But mope with sudden eagerness to frame
The noisy syllables of passion's name.

He'd win more often at his hide-and-seek
If he'd adopt a merrier technique.

"Smart Money"

A chatt with Nick, the Greek, the renowned sportsman, revealed that his record for losing money is $1,620,000, which he asserts was dropped in 12 days.

He lost, he says, $240,000 playing his first game of bridge. When Meusel dropped the fly that cost his team the series, he lost $175,000. He lost $132,000 on Dempsey when he fought Tunney in Philly and the rest on poker and dice.

His bridge game loss has a better punch-line. It was his first try at it. He played auction bridge for 5 cents a point—and that soon was tilted to $12 a point. The lad who won it from him was Abe Lyman's brother Mike, who hasn't gambled since, but retired for life on that money!

Hic, Hic Hooray!

And then there's the alibi of the drunk who got a little ill. He argued that it wasn't the drinks that bothered him, at all.

"Ish th' drinksh between drinksh!" he hiccoughed.

Gag

Take it from Mr. Elinson, who met a man the other day wearing a large Red Cross button in his lapel. "How come?" asked Mr. Elinson, "I didn't know that the Red Cross drive was on!"

"I always wear this," said the man, "I'm a broker. I want something around to remind me of a piss sign."

Anything for a laugh, huh?

"Dear W. W.," writes Norman Sullivan, "glad you liked my simile 'As dizzy as a Scot after dropping a dime in a revolving door' which I sold to Judge and you duly credited. But, don't you remember? I sent that to you first! It was a month ago, and you slapped it right back at me in the next mail. Oh, well, we all make mistakes—that's why some people marry them!"

By Way of Report

The bigger they are, it appears, the harder their hearts—or their heads. Take the plight of Charles Davies, the inventor of a machine that relieves the hay-fever afflicted.

When the King of Siam was here he suffered from every variety of hay fever. His physicians prescribed a certain air-filter machine which operated in the king's bedroom window, and kept his royal surroundings pollen-free, giving him great relief.

When the inventor tried to get an admission from the doctors that they were using his machine, they denied it, even after Davies had been called to Ophir hall and escorted into the royal boudoir to adjust a gadjet that had gone a trifle screwy!

Nifty

Via Red Kann and Regina Carewe and numerous others comes the amusing repartee in which Jeannette MacDonald had the retort swelegant.

It appears that the moom pitcher impressarios have been discussing basing salary scales on types. Thus, a butler in reel life would receive the pay of a butler in real life—and etcetra.

"That's okay with me," Jeannette is supposed to have snapped, "you see my specialty is queens!"

How to Gray Young

According to Time, the mag, there was a frontier's day celebration in Cheyenne last week which was opened "with the old Yippee! of the cowpunching West."

"Yippee"? For years they've been yelling at this corner that the old cowpuncher's cry was "Whoopee!"

A Form of Criticism

It was at the 50th birthday dinner to James J. Walker recently. Justice Mitchell May was among the speakers. The justice spoke and spoke and spoke and spoke and spoke.

"MARY FAITH"
by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

Mary Faith and Kimberly Farrell, have been engaged for some time. Mary Faith, beautiful, young orphan, gives up her position as secretary to Mark Nesbit when Kim sets their wedding date. His attitude changes brusquely when his mother objects. The latter treats Mary Faith coldly. Heartbroken, Mary Faith returns to her office and breaks the news to her co-workers. Mark, taken ill, has Mary Faith driven to his country home, daily, for two weeks. He tells her of his love for her. She baits him saying she will never love anyone as she did Kim. While in a jewelry store with Mark, selecting a Christmas ring for his sister, Mary Faith meets Kim with a girl, Nest morning, Kim calls at Mary Faith's boarding house. He assures her of his love and proposes immediate marriage. Mary Faith melts in his arms.

Mary Faith tells Mark she is leaving to marry Kim.

After a hasty marriage, Mary Faith and Kim drive to his aunt's house in a neighboring town.

For two weeks, they live their honeymoon in ecstasy. They return to town and find Kim's aunt is present.

Mary Faith is called a "Puritan" by Kim's friends, Clair and Jack Maldon, at a Sunday night party when she refuses to play cards or dance. Kim dances with Clair.

Mary Faith renovates the Farrell apartment during Mrs. Farrell's absence. After a party in their home, Kim tells Mary Faith his friends had a dull time.

CHAPTER XVII

On Sunday night Claire Maldon called Kim up.

Mary Faith heard him answer the telephone when it rang. She heard him say, "wait a minute, Claire, I'll ask her."

And then he came into the sitting room, where she sat reading the woman's section of the Sunday paper.

"Claire wants us to go over there and play some poker," she said. "She says they have a crowd of people in for supper . . . Let's go, Mary Faith. Everybody plays cards on Sunday; and we've done nothing but sit around this flat, dying of dry-rot, for a month or more."

Mary Faith looked up at him with troubled eyes.

"Kim, you and I never have played cards on Sunday," she answered. "Why should we start to do it now?—Besides, the Maldons play for money, and I wouldn't gamble even on a weekday. I don't want to go, Kim."

He stood staring into space for a minute or two. Then he shrugged his shoulders.

"Suit yourself," he said. "But I hope you won't mind if I go. I'd like to get out of this place for a couple of hours. After all, Sunday is the only day in the week I have to myself . . . and I like to see people once in a while. You never ask anybody here.

"You won't let me ask Jean Bartlett here," Mary Faith reminded him. "And you know we used to have lots of fun with Jean and the men she used to pal around with . . . Kim, I don't like you to get into the habit of drinking and gambling with those Maldons. You never used to do things like that."

Kim started back to the telephone.

"Well, I'm doing them now," he said as he walked away from her. "I suppose I still have some personal liberty even if I am a married man."

She heard him tell Claire that he'd be right over. Then she heard him go on down the hall to his bedroom.

She got up presently and followed him.

He was standing at his dresser, plastering his blond hair close to his head with two wet brushes.

"Kim, I don't know what to do about the Maldons," Mary Faith said, her eyes meeting his in the cloudy mirror above the dresser. "They're nice people, but I think they're too swift for us . . . At the same time I think that a wife ought to be a good sport. I'll always make up my mind to like your friends and to go wherever you want—"

"Well, why don't you go then instead of talking about it so much?" Kim cut her short. "Playing cards on Sunday isn't one of the seven deadly sins whether you know it or not—"

"Oh, I wasn't going to play cards even if I went!" Mary Faith interrupted him this time. "I thought I'd go and read while the rest of you played. I'd have just as good a time as the rest of you, and I wouldn't bother any one."

Kim thought that over for a moment.

"No, that wouldn't do," he decided. "You'd be just a wet blanket, sitting there by yourself, refusing to take a drink or enter in the spirit of things . . . If you're not going to go and behave yourself like a human being you'd better stay here."

He took out his bill-fold and took a $10 bill from it. Then, with a grin, he handed her the bill-fold.

"That's all I'm going to take with me. "When I've lost that I'll leave . . . ten dollars are all those sharks are going to get from me this night, my girl."

It was long after midnight when he came home. Mary Faith was in bed and he did not turn on the light in the room when he came in. She heard him stumble against a chair. Then he sat down heavily on the side of the bed.

"You can turn on the light, Kim. I'm awake," she said.

He turned it on and stood, blinking at her, in the sudden white radiance. His hat was on the back of his head and his overcoat was thrown wide open. He took it off and Mary Faith saw that he had only a vest under it.

"Where's your coat?" she asked him sharply, and he looked down at himself and began to smile sheepishly.

"I took it off while we were playing poker," he explained, "and I must have left it at the Maldons'. Don't worry about it, Mary Faith. Jack'll bring it down to the office in the morning."

He was shaking all over. "Cold, isn't it?" he asked. "Cold as Greenland!"

Mary Faith got out of bed and put on her kimono and slippers.

"You're cold," she said. "You hop into bed and I'll get you something hot to drink."

In the kitchen she heated some milk and filled a hot water bottle. When she came back into the bedroom he was sound asleep, and his mother was tucking an extra blanket around him. She looked at Mary Faith, and spoke to her in a whisper.

"He's been drinking," she said. "He's just like his father before him—too fond of a good time. How many times his father came home to me just like this! I got tired of it after a while and so I left him."

She started out of the room. "You'll get tired of it, too," She threw the words over her shoulder as she went.

Kim slept until 11 o'clock the next morning, although Mary Faith went into his room three times and did her best to wake him up. When he finally did get up he showed no ill effects of the night before. His eyes were clear and his skin was fresh and ruddy.

He sang "I've Been Working on the Railroad" as he took his shower, and he ate his usual large breakfast, taking his own good time about it.

"It's almost noon, Kim," Mary Faith said to him when he had finished and was opening the morning paper. "Don't you think I ought to call up the office and tell them that you're on your way down? They'll be wondering where you are, won't they?"

Kim glanced at her over the top of the paper, his eyes narrowed. "What are you trying to do? Nag me out of the house?" he asked.

"No, you don't have to call up the office and tell them anything. I'm still capable of running my own business even if I am married!"

Mary Faith did not answer him. She left him and went back into the bedroom and began to put it into order . . . Kim was just like a spoiled child sometimes, she reflected later, when he was gone and she was washing his breakfast dishes.

For instance he was always sulky if any one looked at the morning paper before he did. He didn't like to see it when it had been opened and "rumpled up," so he said.

Then there was the matter of the bathroom. He let it be clearly understood that he wanted to have the use of it at any time between 7:30 and 8:30. And when he walked out of it, the walls and floor would be running with water because he always forgot to draw the shower curtain, and his pajamas would be lying in a corner along with the wad of wet bath towels that he had used.

But that sort of thing did not worry Mary Faith in the least. To pick up after Kim was part of her job as a good wife and she did it cheerfully.

Every Monday morning she and Mrs. Farrell did the washing, and every Tuesday Mary Faith did the ironing alone.

"I like to iron," she told her mother-in-law. "I like the nice warm smell of the iron and the way it leaves a nice smooth trail behind it as it goes—and besides, think of the money we're saving!"

Mrs. Farrell had been sending the washing out to a laundry that had charged anywhere from $3 to $5 a week for doing it.

"If you wanted to be a real help to Kimberley," she said now, "You'd get a job and go to work in an office again. That's what you'd do."

"Not unless Kim asked me to," Mary Faith came back at her. "If I went to work Kim would feel that I was discontented and didn't want to live on what he makes. It would hurt him—it would hurt his pride. Naturally he wants to support his own wife."

She had plenty to do at home, besides. She spent the short days of the winter making new curtains of natural pongee silk for the whole house. She bought tan and green silk and made covers for the cushions of the old couch in the parlor. She bought two wicker boxes of daffodils for the front windows of the flat.

The winter went by and spring came all at once, in a burst of sunlight, the last week in March. All that week Mary Faith cleaned house—washing woodwork, brushing cobwebs from the smoky ceiling, polishing the water faucets until they shone like silver. She sent the dusty carpets to the dry cleaners and bought a dark blue rug for the bedroom that she and Kim shared.

"Where did you get the money for all this stuff?" Kim asked her on Sunday as they sat over their morning coffee.

Mary Faith laughed. "You don't think I worked for four years without putting away a dollar every now and then, do you, Kim?"

He shifted in his chair, studying her face with his gray eyes.

"Look here, Mary Faith," he said at last. "I hate to ask you this, but can you let me take $50?"

She answered him without a second's hesitation. "Why, of course I can, and I'll be glad to. I'll get it out of the bank first thing in the morning."

What he did with his own money she didn't know. He gave his mother $15 every week for food and ice and newspapers, and the rest he kept himself. Mary Faith knew almost nothing about the household finances.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington is the world's greatest storehouse of all kinds of knowledge. You can draw on it free of charge through our bureau there. Any question of fact you may ask will be answered promptly in a personal letter to you. Be careful to write clearly, give your full name and address, and enclose two-cent stamp for reply postage. Send your inquiry to the Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—How many different bridge hands can be dealt to four players?—R. G. B.

A.—E. V. Shepherd says that the 635,013,559,600 different hands that may be dealt in bridge may be distributed among the four players in 53,644,737,765,488,792,839,237,440,000 different ways.

Q.—What is a photon?—E. P.

A.—The term is used in connection with the Compton effect, that is, the change in quality of a beam of X-rays when it is scattered. The experiments associated with Compton effect have seemed to establish the existence of a particle of radiation known as the photon. It may be classed with the electron and the proton as one of the three fundamental units of matter.

Q.—Did the person described in Theodore Dreiser's "My Brother Paul" really exist?—M. B.

A.—Paul Dresser was the brother of Theodore Dreiser, despite the variation in spelling of the surname. Paul Dresser is perhaps remembered best as the author of "On the Banks of the Wabash" and "Just Tell Them That You Saw Me."

Q.—Can sounds such as a clap of thundrer or the purr of a cat be measured?—C. E. G.

A.—The bureau of standards says the frequency of vibration of any sound having a definite pitch can be accurately measured by means of a microphone and an oscillograph. Many sounds, such as a clap of thunder or the purring of a cat will be complex sounds consisting of mixtures of sounds of different pitches. Such sounds can be recorded on the oscillograph and analyzed into their simple components whose frequencies can be determined.

Q.—Is there any way that danger of ivy poisoning can be lessened, after one has come in contact with the weed?—E. T.

A.—Thorough washing soon after exposure to poison ivy reduces the danger of injury. Even after inflammation has developed, thorough washing should be tried in order to remove from exposed surfaces of the skin all traces of the poison that can still be reached.

Q.—What is the average time spent in work in the summer by women on farms?—H. M. B.

A.—The average for the summer is 13.1 hours daily, and for the winter, 11.8 hours.

Q.—Is there a statue of President Monroe anywhere in the United States?—W. T.

A.—At present there is not. One is being erected before Ashlawn, Monroe's home near Charlottesville, Va.

Q.—How do florists arrange when they telegraph flowers for their patrons?—C. E. T.

A.—Members of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery association each have membership lists and also reports on the current prices and seasonal flowers in the different sections of the country. When a customer orders flowers to be wired, the order is telegraphed to the fellow member in the city named. He allows the florist first consulted 20 per cent commission on the order. There is in Detroit a clearing house where all accounts are settled. If the monthly balance is in favor of the florist, he receives a check and if there is a balance against him, he receives a statement.

Q.—Can baking-powder biscuits be made up and kept in a refrigerator, then baked a week or 10 days later?—E. G.

A.—The bureau of chemistry says that baking-powder biscuit dough cannot be mixed and placed in an ice box for a week or 10 days as the gas, liberated when the baking powder comes in contact with the moisture, would escape. It would be possible to keep such a mixture overnight but it is not advisable to attempt to keep it longer.

Q.—Is the new San Francisco bridge to be a suspension bridge?—E. H.

A.—It is, and it will be the largest suspension bridge in the world. It will be 9,200 feet long, the main span being 4,200 feet in length.

Q.—When will the king of Siam leave this country?—T. M. H.

A.—His stay will be brought to a close on July 28. The operation on his eye, which was the reason for his coming, is reported to have been successful.

Q.—How many geese are necessary to furnish one pound of goose feathers for pillows?—O. B. T.

A.—The best goose feathers are procured from the live bird in the spring, about six birds of average size furnishing one pound of feathers.

Hall School Heads Hear State Speaker

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Aug. 7.—Approximately 100 trustees and teachers representing the rural schools in Hall county heard John T. Conn, secretary of the rural school division of the state department of education, speak at the First Methodist church this week. Every rural school in the county except three sent representatives.

Mr. Conn, in his address, devoted much of his time to the rural schools and their problems. M. E. McNally, secretary of the Memphis school board, delivered an address on "The Relations of Independent Schools to Common School Districts."

Other speakers who appeared on the program included B. F. Dearmore, superintendent of the Lakeview schools, and E. E. Durrett, of Lakeview. Durrett, a trustee, discussed at length his version of the problems confronting the rural school districts.

Following the discussions, Miss Margaret Milam, accompanied at the piano by Miss Idone Webster, sang a popular song. Miss Vernadine Jones gave two interesting readings.

The entire afternoon of the meeting was given over to a round table discussion of rural school problems and solutions.

Breck Starts Drive To Operate Gin

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Aug. 7.—With crop prospects pointing to a much greater cotton yield in Stephens county this year than last summer, the local chamber of commerce became active Thursday in an attempt to have the cotton gin here in operation before the first bale of cotton reaches town.

A committee was named Thursday by Claude Thompson, C.-C. president, to study the gin situation and work out some plan for opening the gin here, which, according to owners of the plant in Wichita Falls, will not be operated this summer because of losses incurred in its operation last year. The committee appointed by Mr. Thompson includes County Judge Jesse R. Smith, C. H. Brown, Jimmie Brewster, A. M. Smith and J. D. Sandefer Jr.

The Wichita Falls owners of the gin claim they cannot make the gin pay, at least on a basis of the number of bales ginned last year—approximately 250 bales. However, it is believed that over 1,000 bales of cotton will be ginned in this county this year.

GARY, Ind., Aug. 7. (INS)—Police today shot and killed Garfield Earl, 26-year-old negro ex-convict, when he attempted to shoot his way out of a hideout in which he and seven comrades were concealed. The seven men, all said to be members of a holdup gang, were arrested. Earl died of shotgun wounds in the stomach.

Bumper Cotton Crop Seen Near Newport

Special to The Record News.

NEWPORT, Texas, Aug. 7.—Since the recent rains the cotton crop has made great progress and now promises to be the best crop in many years. Not since the advent of the boll weevils has there been such a good prospect for a bumper crop. The stalk is large and well fruited and is blooming freely with very little shedding to date. Many stalks can be seen with as many as four or five large bolls on one limb. Should the weather remain favorable throughout this month there will be little insect damage as the weevils seem to be less numerous than they were last season.

Syrup cane is fine and there are fields that are said will make a yield of 100 gallons to the acre. The acreage planted to this crop this year is greater than it has ever been before and many new mills are being installed now preparatory to making up the cane which will be ready in about 10 days.

Cautions for Thin Folks

A thin person is usually as anxious to gain weight as a stout person is to reduce. The fat person usually thinks he is beset with difficulties when he tries to reduce, but his problem is very small compared with the difficulty that a chronically thin person has in gaining weight. All that the fat person has to do in order to bring his weight to normal is to avoid the fat-forming foods and exercise more. The thin person on the other hand cannot usually gain weight by eating fat-forming foods and exercising less.

You may have noticed that all very thin people are very much of the same type that is, they have long, narrow waists, and often protruding lower abdomens. They also have a tendency to waste a great deal of nervous energy through worry and fretting. In examining a thin person under the X-ray, the reason for the thinness is usually apparent. It will be found that the stomach is prolapsed very far down in the abdomen and the outlet of the stomach is considerably higher than the main part. The transverse colon will also be found from four to five inches below its normal position. The effect of this malposition of the digestive organs is to greatly retard the digestion and assimilation of food. Before the thin person can gain weight he really must change his type to some extent. He must cultivate a wider chest and stronger abdominal muscle through using deep breathing and corrective exercises for overcoming the prolapsed condition.

If any organic disease is present, this would, of course, complicate matters still more. A thin person can often seriously endanger his health by trying to gain through stuffing on rich food without first overcoming any diseases which may be contributing to his lack of weight and without correcting the position of the abdominal organs.

A thin person may by diligent training develop a beautiful, graceful body, but he should never expect to become large and bulky. I am frequently asked the question, "What shall I do to gain weight?" I usually reply, "I would advise you to try to regain your health rather than strive to gain weight." I know that you can become healthy and a normal weight for your type if you are willing to live a healthful life with healthful habits, but I will not give advice designed primarily to make a spectacular weight gain because I know that to gain weight without a good foundation will only result in a serious break-down sooner or later. You should be satisfied with an appearance of strength, health and vitality without the desire for mere bulk and fat. The scales are not a reliable measure of health and do not be alarmed if your weight does not tally with your height according to average measurement charts.

The thin person should train his mind to be poised, avoiding all thoughts of fear, hatred, worry, criticism, and intolerance as these destructive emotions will do more than anything else to prevent one from gaining. Eat only wholesome food which will be converted into tissue and do not attempt to increase your weight by any stuffing process which might only result in such symptoms as biliousness, liver and gall bladder trouble, autointoxication, and numerous diseases of the digestive organs.

The thin person should make a business of sleeping just as a baby does. He should obtain at least eight and possibly nine hours of restful sleep.

For those who want more detailed instructions regarding weight gaining I have prepared a special article on "Gaining Weight," which I will be pleased to send to any of my readers who write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large self-addressed, stamped envelope.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Epiphysis

Question—R. J. asks: "Will you please explain the difference between epiphysis and epiphyseolysis?

Answer—An epiphysis is a process of bone which it attached to another by cartilage. Epiphyseolysis refers to the separation of an epiphysis. The condition is similar to an anpylosis, which means the union of bones forming a joint, resulting in a stiff joint.

Canned Fruits

Question—Mrs. C. P. asks: "While taking a fruit fast, is it all right to used the canned fruits if one can not get the fresh?"

Answer—Iit is entirely permissible to use canned fruits or their juices if no sugar has been used in the canning.

Ptosis of Eyelids

Question—Mrs. K. writes: "Please tell me the cause of stiff eyelids which at times drop so low as to obstruct my sight? I have believed my trouble may be caused from my glasses, as my eyes are not inflamed."

Answer—You are probably suffering from a ptosis or dropping of the eyelids which is caused by paralysis or neuritis of the nerves supplying the muscles of the eyelids. Sometimes a fasting and dieting regimen is very helpful, using tomato or orange juice during the fast, and repeating the fast at intervals of about a month apart, Osteopathic or chiropractic treatments are also sometimes beneficial, especially if you can find a doctor who uses the sinusoidal or Morse wave current, as this current is helpful in stimulating the nerves.

'White Band Inc.' Starts Crusade

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 7. (UP)—Carrying the banner, "Counteract alien conquest or incur its consuming course," a crusade to establish Texas chapters of the White Band, Inc., was under way in this state today.

With an avowed purpose to keep America "American," R. D. Davies, insurance man and supervising ambassador for Texas, started a movement to secure 300,000 members for the White Band within three years.

The White Band was formed by William Joseph Simmons, founder of the Ku Klux Klan and generalissimo of the new organization with headquarters in Atlanta.

"Shall America be and remain white and American, or shall it mongrelize, communize, degerate and die?" asks pamphlets distributed.

Another heading declared, "America's mischief making Siamese quadruplets—black radicalism, red communism, yellow instrigue and white assinine folly."

FERRELL LOSES LEAGUE START, 8-6 BUT SHOWS PROMISE

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Let's give a great welcome "home" to Howard Fitzgerald and Fred Bennett.

It will be hard, seeing former Spudder stars in alien togs. And Fort Worth togs, of all things!

But Spudder fans will forget that they now belong to the enemy. It has been a long time since Wichita Falls watched Howard Fitzgerald in action, and longer still since Bennett patrolled the Spudder gardens.

Today will be your last chance to see either this season, for today's double-header with the Cats winds up the season's warfare between the clubs on the home ground.

Three Great Pitchers

Dizzy Dean won his 22nd game of the season when he turned in another brilliant shutout at Fort Worth Thursday night, allowing the Cats only four hits.

What a man, indeed!

But in our admiration of Dean let us not forget that last Wednesday night, when Tex Carleton whipped the Cats 7 to 1, it was his tenth straight victory, and his 17th of the season.

And let us not forget that when George Washington Payne let the Spudders down here recently with five hits, it marked old George's 18th victory of the season.

Dean, Carleton and Payne together had won 57 games this season, up to Friday night.

More About Evers

This entertaining story about Johnny Evers was crowded out yesterday morning.

When the great Cub second baseman disagreed with the umpires in the old days, he meant business, and consequently it got to where it simply wasn't a ball game unless Johnny Evers was thrown out of the park five or 10 minutes after the game had started each day. Johnny was hell on the umps, and they, in turn, were hell on Evers.

Evers' fame had spread abroad, and the president of the Chicago Board of Trade, a Mr. Griffin, one day before game time sent word to the Cub manager that he would like to meet Mr. Evers, and would he please come over to Mr. Griffin's box?

Evers came over and met the gentleman, who exclaimed joyously: "Well, well, I am certainly glad to meet you, Mr. Evers. You know, I've been coming to the games 15 or 20 minutes late for the past few months, and I have never reached the park in time to see you play!"

When Johnny told that story to a bunch of us at the park the other day, he hastened to add that whatever his troubles with the umpires during his playing days, he takes up for them now.

And they banish such guys as Napoleon!

Incidentally

While on the subject of umpires, it was Amon G. (Morning, Evening and Sunday) Carter, Fort Worth newspaper publisher, whom Ziggy Sears told to go places last Sunday, and for which Ziggy was fined and suspended for five days.

Now, until his suspension is up, Ziggy is playing golf, presumably Morning, Evening and Sunday.

Did You Know That

Catcher Wise, of the Beaumont Exporters, in the winter months is instructor in chemistry at Purdue university.

Found at last, the ideal professor!

Now and then he forgets himself, however, and utters some stiff collar word and has to endure a little razzing.

The other day, before game time, the question came up as to where Purdue was, anyhow.

"It's in Lafayette, Ind.," answered Walt Euller, who turned to Wise with "Ain't that right?"

"No," corrected Wise, "it's in West Lafayette."

"Oh yeah," Euller answered. "Guess there wouldn't be much of a town at West Lafayette if it wasn't for Purdue; or Purdue wouldn't be much if it wasn't for West Lafayette. Which is right?"

"That's hardly a reciprocal case," uttered the profound Wise. That was about all Euller could stand, and he shot back:

"Say, you'll have to go up to the double A's before you can use such lingo as that!"

Of Course You Also Knew

Americans Cinch Wightman Cup

FOREST HILLS, L. I., Aug. 7. (US)—It is time to dust off the shelf or the cabinet or whatever it is that holds the Wightman cup when that tall silver trophy lies in possession of the United States.

Three stirring singles victories today by Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, Miss Helen Jacobs and Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper, a trio of great tennis players from out near the Golden Gate, virtually restored the Wightman cup to the United States, after a year of tenancy in England. Four matches are to be played tomorrow and America must win only one of them to regain the trophy it lost in England a year ago.

First, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, crushed Miss Phyllis Mudford, second ranking English player, 6-1, 6-4, in a triumphal return to Forest Hills, where she last appeared in 1929.

Next Miss Helen Jacobs came gamely from behind to defeat Miss Betty Nuthall, the English girl who holds America's national tennis championship, by 8-6, 6-4, in a contest that lasted an hour and 15 minutes.

Finally Mrs. Harper pulled out a victory in three sets over Miss Dorothy Round, third in rank of the English delegation, by 6-3, 4-6, 9-7, through a grim battle lasting an hour and three-quarters, into the cool of late afternoon.

STEENGRAFE DEAL CLOSED

Young Hurler Has Fine Curve Ball

By FRED THOMPSON

Youth filled the gap left by the departure of a veteran from Spudder park yesterday.

As young Marvin Ferrell took the mound to pitch the last game of the series with Beaumont, announcement was made that the Memphis and Wichita Falls clubs had closed a deal for the sale of Milton Steengrafe, veteran right-hander.

And as Marvin Ferrell sailed his curve ball over the plate, and struggled against wildness, Steengrafe, who in the past was master of the league's finest curve ball, prepared to take a night train for his new job.

Meanwhile, Ferrell, making his Texas league debut, lost his game, 8 to 6. The young right hander had a fine curve ball, but got off to a wild start, walking the first two men, and when he did finally get one across, Joyner White socked it out of the park to give Beaumont three runs, and a nice margin of victory.

The victory gave Beaumont the series, two games to one, and undisputed title to fourth place in the league standings.

Ferrell went out in the seventh with two men on, one of them the result of his wild throw to second, and the two later scored after Vincent had gone in. Ferrell was charged with seven runs and seven hits in his stay of six and one-third innings.

But the youngster showed fine control of himself, even if he didn't control the ball at times, and he left the impression that all he needs is a chance at plenty of work to smooth out the rough spots.

The Spudders outhit the Shippers, pounding Marrow, Mallicky and Hollerson for 14 blows, while the Shippers got 13 off Ferrell and Vincent.

Today the club meets the Fort Worth club in a double-header.

One Hit, Three Runs

Taylor and Schuble walked at the start and Joyner White socked a home run over the center field fence to give the Shippers a three-run lead. Hughes struck out, Easterling walked but was thrown out stealing, catcher to short. Fritz flied to right. In the home half, Gerken doubled to right center. Allday singled to center, scoring Gerken. Stanton popped to short. Badgro flied to left. Bradbury grounded out, third to first.

In the second, Holley grounded out, third to first. Wise popped to second. Gerken made a great running catch of Marrow's fly to short right center, retiring the side. In the home half, Fuss lined a double to left center. Scharein walked. Euller hit into a double play, short to first, Fuss taking third. Ferrell grounded out, third to first.

Spuds Score Two

In the third, Taylor fanned. Schuble flied to left. White beat out a slow roller towards first. Hughes popped to short. In the last half, Gerken singled through the box. Allday doubled to left center, scoring Gerken. Stanton walked. Badgro fouled out to third. Bradbury singled through short, scoring Allday, Stanton holding up at second. Mallcky replaced Marrow on the mound. Fuss flied to center. Scharein forced Bradbury at second, short unassisted.

In the fourth, Easterling beat out an infield hit to third. Fritz fanned. Holley flied to deep center, Gerken making a fine catch. Wise grounded out, second to first. In the home half, Euller grounded out, third to first. Ferrell singled to left. Gerken singled to center, Ferrell taking second. Allday singled to center, loading the bases. Stanton flied to center, Ferrell and Gerken scoring when Wise, the catcher, after receiving the throw-in, made a play at second for Allday. Holley, Shipper second baseman, missed Wise's throw, and Allday continued to third on the error. Badgro beat out an infield hit to second, Allday scoring. Bradbury popped to short.

Two Doubles

Mallcky grounded out, third to first, to start the fifth. Taylor grounded out, short to first. Schuble walked. White doubled to left, scoring Schuble. Hughes doubled to left center, scoring White. Easterling fanned. In the home half, Fuss grounded out, short to first. Scharein grounded out to first, unassisted. Euller doubled to left. Euller stole third. Ferrell grounded out, third to first.

In the sixth, Fritz singled to center. Holley hit into a double play, short to second to first, Wise filed to right. In the home half, Gerken fanned, Allday grounded out, pitcher to first. Stanton fouled out to left.

Mallcky started the seventh with a single to right. Taylor bunted to the box and Ferrell, trying for a double play at second, threw high to Allday, both runners being safe. Both advanced on Schuble's sacrifice. With the count one and one on White, Vincent relieved Ferrell on the mound. White singled through short, scoring Mallcky and Taylor. Hughes beat out an infield hit to first, but White was thrown out at third, Stanton to Euller. Easterling grounded out, pitcher to first.

Badgro Doubles

In the home half, Badgro doubled down the right field foul line. Hollerson replaced Mallcky on the mound. Bradbury grounded out, short to first. Fuss filed to center. Scharein forced Badgro at third, Schuble unassisted.

In the eighth, Fritz fanned. Holley filed to right. Wise singled to center. Hollerson filed to left. In the home half, Euller doubled to right, and took third on Vincent's sacrifice, Gerken fanned, Allday grounded out, third to first.

In the last half, Stanton beat out an infield hit to second. Badgro forced Stanton at second, pitcher to short. Bradbury lined out to third, and Badgro was doubled off first, third to first.

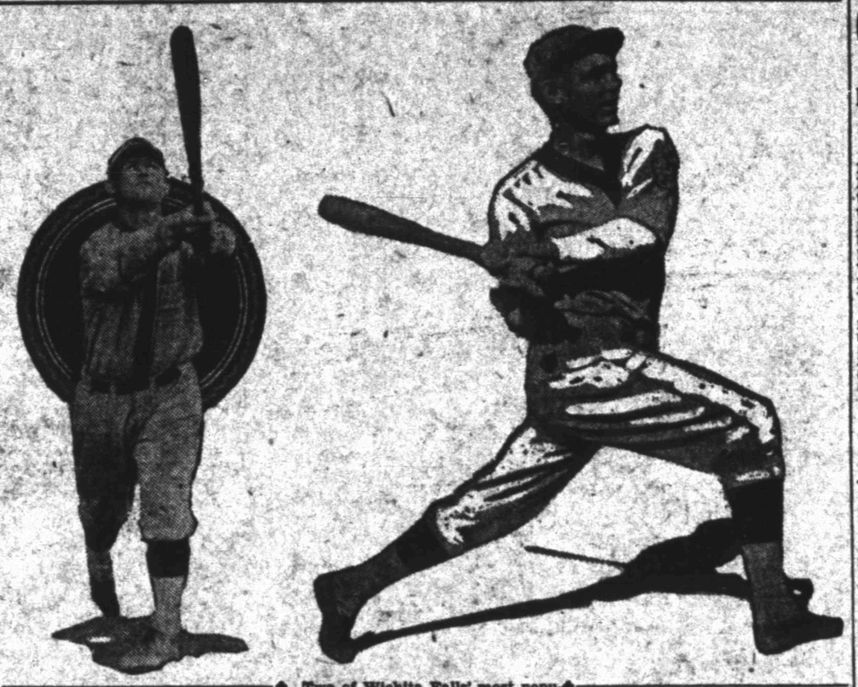
Back to Spudderland—But With the Cats



Two of Wichita Falls' most popular players in other years, Fred Bennett, left, and Howard Fitzgerald, right, are coming back to Wichita Falls today, to say hello and goodbye. As testimony that these two great outfielders still retain their popularity here, despite the fact that they now wear the Fort Worth uniform, a rousing reception of the two is planned this afternoon, when the Spudders and the Cats meet in a double-header for the last games between these two teams at Wichita Falls this season.

French Fear Cochet Will Join Pro Ranks

PARIS, Aug. 7. (AP)—French tennis officials were deeply perturbed tonight because of the announcement by Jack Curley, New York promoter, that he was determined to win Henry Cochet, the country's court idol, over to his professional tennis troupe and pit him against Bill Tilden in a "battle of the century."

Fear was expressed that Cochet's loss from the amateur ranks not only would cost France possession of the Davis cup, but would constitute a telling blow to amateur tennis in this country. Cochet, almost single handed, beat back the English team in the Davis cup challenge round last month and is more popular than ever before.

The publication Auto today said it had information Curley would offer the French idol a three-year contract at 500,000 francs yearly (about $20,000).

CHISOX BLANK BROWNS, 2-0

Red Faber Turns in Five-Hit Game

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—The 43-year-old right arm of Urban (Red) Faber, dean of American league pitchers, limited the St. Louis Browns to five widely separated singles today and the White Sox scored a 2 to 0 shutout.

The veteran spitballer, who became a starting hurler several weeks ago when the Sox staff was almost wrecked by injuries, did not walk a man, struck out two and never was in danger. Only in the seventh did the Browns get a man as far as second base. Score:

Biedenharn and Hanks Win Junior Doubles Title in Thrilling Match

By BILL JENKINS

Albert Biedenharn and H. R. Hanks won the championship of the junior doubles by defeating Steve Powers and Bruce Benton in five sensational matches, 13-11, 14-12, 11-13, 7-5, 15-13, on the Weeks park courts Friday afternoon. This was by far the most exciting and sensational match of the tournament so far.

Biedenharn and Hanks grabbed the first two matches by close margins and it seemed that they would capture the match, but the opposing team rallied and won the next two sets to force the match to five sets. Better tennis was exhibited in this match thany any other division of the tournament with the exception of the closing rounds of the class A singles.

Mrs. Lou Rankin and Miss Louise Van Emden won the championship in the women's doubles by winning a close match from Mrs. H. B. Van Emden and Mrs. H. S. Gray, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5, on the Weeks park courts Friday. Mrs. Rankin and Miss Van Emden started slow but they picked up in time to capture the last two sets.

After the first two sets of the class B singles finals between Dave Denton and John Graham were played, the match was called on account of darkness. Denton won the first two sets 7-5, 9-7.

Only one match is scheduled for Saturday, R. P. Brouthertin and R. W. Elliott will play Dave Denton and Jimmie Ford in the semifinals of the class B doubles on the Weeks park courts at 5 p. m.

WICHITANS LEAD IN WEST TEXAS TOURNEY

BIG SPRING, Aug. 7. (AP)—Upsets featured the first day of play in the West Texas annual tennis tournament here today.

Raymond McPhail of Wichita Falls eliminated M. M. Ballard of Abilene to furnish the prize upset of the day. His 6-3, 4-6, 6-4 win over Ballard caused him to be acclaimed as an outstanding contender for the regional crown.

Fred Barnes of Denton turned in another surprise victory when he vanquished Joe Davis of Big Spring, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

McCarthy and McPhail were the only seeded players remaining in the tournament.

All singles matches reached the third round today. Henry of Denton assured himself a place in the semifinals.

McCarty and Bebb, Wichita Falls doubles team, startled the gallery when they humbled Murph and Witholder of El Paso, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2. The El Paso team was seeded number one.

Cook and McPhail of Wichita Falls defeated Davis and Barnes of Big Spring 6-1, 6-1.

The Wichita Falls doubles combination seemed sure to advance to the finals.

Results of doubles matches:

McCarty and Bebb of Wichita Falls beat Murphy and Witholder of El Paso, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2; Ballard and Lowe of Abilene won from Hawkins and Higgins of Panhandle, 6-0, 6-0; Clark and Whitten of Sweetwater beat Bryant and Fanning of Abilene, 6-3, 6-4; Cook and McPhail of Wichita Falls won from Dunnagan and Dabney of Big Spring, 6-2, 6-1; Cook and McPhail of Wichita Falls beat Davis and Barnes of Big Spring, 6-1, 6-1; Bishop and W. McCarty of Big Spring won from Foster and Butcher of Abilene 6-4, 6-1; Bishop and W. McCarty triumphed over Etter and Burgess of Lubbock, 6-1, 6-4.

Tournament play will continue through tomorrow and Sunday.

Moreland Plays Nelson Saturday

FORT WORTH, Aug. 7. (AP)—Athletic rivalry between Dallas and Fort Worth will see a renewal in a new field here Saturday when Byron Nelson, pride of Glen garden and the defending champion, hooks up with Gus Moreland, idol of Cedar Crest in Dallas and the state champion this year in a 36-hole match for the title of the second annual Glen garden tournament.

The battle brings together two of the Southwest's entries in the national amateur and promises to be one of the greatest matches ever seen in North Texas. The first round will start at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and the second round will open at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Nelson went into the finals by handing Ed Stewart, also of Glen garden and the medalist this year, another one-sided defeat, 5-4. He was six under par for his round with Stewart.

Moreland barely eased into the last match by defeating B. A. Schriever of San Antonio, one up in 20 holes.

In the quarter finals this morning, Stewart defeated Jack Jackson, lanky Dallas star by a 5-3 count. Nelson turned in another one-sided victory over C. Aydelott of River Crest, winning 6-5. Schriever won a semifinal barty by defeating M. L. "Hay" Masingill, Fort Worth's city champion and also of River Crest, 3-2 and Moreland had a fairly easy time with Louis Nowlin, Dallas junior champion, 4-3.

More than 1,000 farmers in 80 Indiana counties are entered in a five-acre corn growing contest sponsored by the state corn growers association and Purdue university.

Gabby Street To Pilot Cardinals Again Next Year

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7. (AP)—President San Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals announced tonight that Charles E. (Gabby) Street would manage the team again next year.

Breadon, in announcing reappointment of Street, said his decision was not due to the long lead the Cardinals have in the National league pennant race, "but because Street's judgment, ability and courage have been proved day after day and week after week since he relieved Bill McKechnie for a time during the fag end of the 1929 pennant race."

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—A further decline in cotton which carried prices off to 8.12 for December, or into new low ground for the movement, was followed by recoveries during the last hour today.

December closed at 8.24 with the general market closing very steady, net 1 point lower to 3 points higher.

There was nothing in the day's news, apparently, to cause any change of opinion as to the probable showing of Saturday's government crop report. No additional condition or crop figures were in evidence. Those recently issued pointed to a condition of between 70 and 71.8 per cent, averaging about 71.5, while private crop indication figures published here have ranged from 13,325,000 up to 14,327,000 bales and averaged 13,943,000.

Complaints of shedding in Central Texas came in for some attention during the early trading, but business was attributed largely to the evening up of commitments in preparation for tomorrow's official condition and crop figures.

Liverpool cables reported hedging with local and continental liquidation in that market. Port receipts today 3,580 bales. U. S. port stocks 2,763,080.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 7. (AP)—The cotton market was a quiet, pre-Bureau affair today, trading being limited to final evening up in advance of the report due tomorrow. The close was at or near the top showing net unchanged to 1 point up.

The market tomorrow will close at 9:50 a. m. (central standard time) to receive the government report and will not reopen until Monday. New York will follow the same procedure but Chicago will remain open three-quarters of an hour after the report is issued.

Liverpool cables came in 1 to 4 penny points worse than due and private cables stated that the continent bought on the decline. Manchester cabled that cloth and yarn sales were poor. December made a new high at 8.27, 13 points above the lows. The close was at or near the top and was unchanged for the day on all active months but March, which sowed a net gain of 1 point.

Port receipts 2,258; for week 12,486; for season 12,486; last year 32,113. Exports 4,367; for week 28,742; for season 28,742; last season 28,318. Port stock 2,754,009; last year 1,573,403. CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—After establishing new low record prices for the season by a 10-point decline, cotton rallied and closed steady from 5 points net higher to four points net lower. Opening prices were two to six points down while cables were about as due. Prices eased about 10 points in morning trading but recovered most of the loss in the afternoon.

Market Enjoys Modest Gains In Response to Grain Advance

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (US)—The stock market took its cue today from the grain markets and when the latter enjoyed a recovery stocks followed with modest gains.

Railroad shares, however, continued in supply and failed to join in the remainder of the market's improvement. Wheat and corn options generally were higher, the advance originating in the Canadian market. The stock market had been listlessly fluctuating in narrow range prior to receiving its impetus from the recovery in grains.

The subsequent advances in stocks were hardly enough to excite any one, however, and total volume of 700,000 shares evidenced the character of trading.

Action of stocks nevertheless appeared to sustain the contention that short-covering is taking place in various parts of the list, and also that the market seems willing to follow constructive news even if only to the extent of a moderate rally.

A factor of cheer during the day was the semi-official assurances that the American Telephone and Telegraph dividend will be maintained at the next directors meeting. As a matter of fact, there has been no question about the immediate quarterly payment on the telephone stock. Fears over maintenance of the $9 rate have been based on directors' action early in 1932. There is little doubt that the A. T. & T. dividend will be maintained the remainder of 1931 unless business and earnings suffer a further severe decline. Nevertheless, there is little investment buying of telephone at present prices. The increasing tendency of traders to sell this stock short, however, might create a technical position sufficient to bring about a rally.

Betterment in grain prices naturally found reflection in Case Threshing, although short covering probably contributed most to the buying of this issue. As previously reported here, there has been persistent covering by important bears in Case, although their longer-term attitude toward the stock remains unchanged. It has also been reported of late that another squeeze of the shorts might be attempted in Case if the general market permits.

Weakness in the rails was the most disconcerting feature of the market, especially since this group is now very close to their former low for 1931. Highest and lowest grade rail shares are suffering alike in the present decline, emphasizing that their problem is fundamental and general among all the systems. The buying probably would be much larger if the market were convinced that the requested rate increase will be granted.

American Can and other industrial leaders were generally higher, favored by some short covering and a slight increase in speculative buying seeking to catch the next upward turn in the market. Steel common closed at 36, a net gain of 1¼ points.

Impending German election discouraged aggressive constructive action and there was also evident a disposition to await the steel tonnage figures due Monday.

However, there was an element of encouragement, as emphasizing the importance of management, in the report of Sears-Roebuck for the first half of 1931. Its profit for the period Jan. 1-July 16 amounted to $6,008,000 before federal taxes, compared with $5,617,000. This improvement in earnings was accomplished despite $13,555,000, or 6.8 per cent, decrease in sales during the period. The company also retired $9,000,000 of its notes payable. Sears' profit record was established while wages and salaries were being maintained, and despite constantly declining retail prices.

Fox film was unable to join the industrial list in its modest improvement and General Theater Equipment stock lost a fraction of a point while its bonds slumped to record low prices, one of the issues selling at 18.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—The liveliest purchasing and the sharpest advance of grain values in a long time followed a sudden change of front today by leading bear traders. Their complete reversal of market position was professedly based on the extreme low level of prevailing quotations and on likelihood of big reductions of wheat acreage, domestic and foreign. Probable improvement of general business was also asserted as a reason.

Wheat closed firm at the day's top level, 2¼@2⅝c higher than yesterday's finish, corn 1⅛@1⅜c up, oats ⅛@⅝c advanced, and provisions varying from 5c setback to a rise of 2c.

Corn and oats rose with wheat, although temporarily December corn touched a new low price record for the season. September corn acted tight at times, affected by a statement from Thomas M. Howell that he now held 8,000,000 bushels of corn which he took on July deliveries, and that he has been constantly on the buying side of the corn market up to the present time. His statement added that he would not sell at present prices, and that he expected to get more for his corn.

Provisions responded to grain strength, but eased later as a result of a break in hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Sept., 49@49¼, 51½; Dec., 53, 55⅝@⅞; May 57⅞, 60½. Corn, Sept., 51½, 53½; Dec., 40⅝@⅞, 42⅝; May 45¼@47.

H. L. Doherty Buys Interest In Newspaper to Wage Fight on Foe

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 7. (AP)—The Kansas City Journal-Post, afternoon newspaper, announced today the purchase of a half interest in its assets by Henry L. Doherty, head of the billion dollar Cities Service company, who has been a target of the Kansas City Star in a gas rate war.

At the same time it made public a letter addressed by Doherty to trustees of the William Rockhill Nelson estate from which the present owners of the Kansas City Star purchased the Star property. The letter called upon the trustees to expel the present management of the paper and asserted the sale was "illegal" and the present conduct of the management "lawless and reckless."

Previously on July 10, Doherty had filed suit against the Star for $12,000,000 damages for libel, charging the newspaper had been unfair concerning him and the Cities Service company. In his suit he alleged he was libeled by an article stating he profited personally from an engineering and management fee paid by subsidiary companies. He also charged the Star was interested in the formation of a competing gas company. This the Star has denied.

Responding to the Doherty counter attack today, George B. Longan, president and general manager of the Star, said:

"The Star is still interested in the one thing Mr. Doherty doesn't discuss. That is the price of gas and the proper regulation of an unregulated monopoly. Furthermore, I think the public will have a complete understanding of Mr. Doherty's motive."

State Criticises Fire Loss Here

result of having earned less than the maximum credit for good fire record.

According to the figures given, $286,035 has been expended by citizens of this city in the form of excess insurance premiums from 1925 to 1931, inclusive. The record for that period was given as follows:

Year	Credit, %	X	Y	Z
1925	0%	.....	.....	$ 90,772
1926	5%	$1,967	103,320	41,220
1927	15%	62,143	103,679	39,690
1928	15%	103,371	.....	.....
1929	15%	79,435	96,543	19,709
1930	0%	35,096	83,741	49,645
1931	5%	14,036	80,182	64,146
Total				$286,085

xRevised on premiums.
yComputed saving for full 15 per cent credit.
zLoss through excess premium payments.

Total premium payments from this city for fire insurance were given as follows for the seven years: 1925, $805,152.12; 1926, $626,811.75; 1927, $602,286.30; 1928, $585,773.43; 1929, 58,125.70; 1930, $518,513.

Declaring that his analysis is based upon the fire marshal's reports from Wichita Falls for the past six months, the state fire insurance commissioner states that carelessness, over-insurance, and incendiarism appear to be the principal causes of the heavy annual fire loss.

An extensive fire prevention campaign here was urged by Mr. DeWeese in his letter in order that greater effort might be expended to the elimination of fire hazards. Pointing to a total of 35 fires due to "unknown causes," as given in the fire marshal's report, the commissioner also urges that the cause of each fire be sought with greater diligence.

The total fire losses shown for the city during the first six months of 1931 are $123,000.

Free Swimming School Opens at Lake Beach

Opening of free swimming lessons at the Lake Beach swimming pool Friday morning was marked by the attendance and participation of 22 persons, eight of them adults, it was announced by those in charge.

Work in the new swimming class is in charge of Mrs. Dorothy Parnell for the women, LeRoy McBride for beginners, and Morris Lee for advanced swimmers. All these instructors are members of the Red Cross Life Saving service. Lessons are to be given every Tuesday and Friday morning.

Children will receive credit buttons upon completion of the course outlined, it was said.

Abandoned Car of Missing Financier Discovered

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7. (INS)—The abandoned sport roadster of Harry P. Mammen, local financier, was found on the Manchester road three miles east of Gray Summit, Mo., it was learned today.

Walter Taylor, owner of a garage at Gray Summit, found the car and notified Sheriff Louis Gehlert. The car was parked off the highway near a dense ravine and a stretch of woods.

When the garage man traced the license of the car and phoned relatives of Mammen he was told that Mammen had been missing for more than a day and that they were worried about him.

Temperance Board Raps Grape Concentrate Sale

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (AP)—The Methodist board of temperance today opened an attack upon the government and Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general, for their part in widespread sales of grape concentrates convertible into wine.

An article in The Voice, a publication of the board, which was reprinted from The Adult Bible Class Monthly, said the Methodist organization has "watched with great apprehension the development of a flank attack upon the very citadel of prohibition."

NOCONA DEATH SUSPECT FREED

Robinson Acquitted of Slaying Lyles

Special to The Record News.

MONTAGUE, Texas, Aug. 7.—A jury in district court here Friday acquitted O. G. Robinson, Nocona nightwatchman, of the murder of V. A. Lyles, Montague farmer, on the streets of Nocona June 20. Arguments in the trial were completed Friday night.

Robinson entered a plea of self defense, claiming that Lyles had been drinking and that he feared he was about to be attacked. State witnesses said Lyles was unarmed and had made no move of offense at the time the shooting started.

Around the RADIO Clock
BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD

(Time Is Central Standard Throughout)

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—Both President and Mrs. Hoover will be on the air Saturday, but in separate broadcasts.

Mrs. Hoover will preside at the christening of the U. S. navy dirigible Akron at Akron, Ohio, which is to be carried by both WEAF-NBC and WABC-CBS at 1:30 p. m. The principal speaker will be Rear Admiral William M. Moffett.

The president, speaking from his camp at Rapidan, Va., will address the Y. M. C. A. world conference at Cleveland at 7 p. m. It is to be a two network broadcast also, going out on WJZ-NBC and WABC-CBS. Richard B. Bennett, premier of Canada, speaking from Ottawa, also is to be heard.

Two additional broadcasts are planned in connection with both of these events. In the afternoon WEAF-NBC is to transmit a symposium on "The Youth of the World Today" by seven leading educators of various countries held in connection with the "Y" conference at Cleveland. The time is 2:30.

Speeches at a dinner at Akron in honor of the dirigible christening are to comprise a WJZ-NBC broadcast at 8 p. m. During the dinner a description of the big ship is to be made from the hangar.

Otherwise your dials may be set for:

9 a. m.—First of four fairy stories, "Beauty and the Beast" in the children's program on WABC-CBS.

11:30 a. m.—Sketch in observance of the 100th anniversary of the invention of the reaper by Cyrus McCormick in the farm and home hour, WJZ-NBC.

8:45—Piano recital by Alma Schirmer and Elvin Schmitt of the concert stage, WJZ-NBC.

10:30—Program by Smith Ballew's orchestra, from Saratoga Springs, N. Y., WEAF-NBC.

Stimson and MacDonald Discuss World Affairs

ROGART, Scotland, Aug. 7. (AP)—Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson and Prime Minister Ramsay McDonald continued their informal discussion today of the world's financial situation and took time off to go to Dornoch, where they saw the Highland games.

For the first time today it was admitted the two statesmen were discussing other subjects than the history of the Scottish country in which they are taking a rest.

"We are friends," said Mr. MacDonald, "and naturally when we meet we talk.

"This time we certainly talked about the financial situation, but our conversations were entirely unofficial and can have no political significance. They were just friendly talks."

Negro Wounded In Quarrel at Movie

One negro had a bullet in his shoulder and a second was being sought by police Friday night following a shooting during a park department picture show at the Booker Washington school.

The shooting was said to have occurred after a difference had arisen between the two over a 16-year-old negro girl. The negro doing the shooting made his escape in the crowd attending the show. The injured negro was attended by a physician, who said he was not seriously hurt.

Boy Evangelist Also Noted as Swimmer

Large attendance has greeted the opening appearances of Paul Fountain, 16-year-old evangelist, as speaker in the revival meetings now being held near Holliday and Keeler streets by churches of the Southside.

Aside from having been an active Christian preacher for 10 years, young Fountain is credited with considerable skill in athletics. Among his favored sports is that of swimming, for which he has won many medals, it was said.

Music for the revival meetings is being directed by Miss Anna B. Chapman, with a chorus of 60 persons. The young evangelist is to speak Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Southside Baptist church.

C-C JOBBERS PLAN PROGRAM

Opportunity to Extend Trade Area Seen

Preliminary steps toward an active program of work during the fall months were taken here Friday when members of the chamber of commerce manufacturers and jobbers division met. J. W. Chatham, chairman, presided at the meeting.

About 25 firms were represented at the meeting. Many suggestions for creating a closer cooperation between manufacturing and jobbing concerns were enthusiastically discussed, although definite action was deferred to allow further deliberation of the body on the proposals.

A second meeting of the membership will be held next Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Wichita club to complete the program of work for the remainder of 1931, it was said.

The course the meeting Friday pursued indicated that chief among objectives will be the creation and development of new friendships for Wichita Falls in the trade territory of this section.

Those present at the meeting, Mr. Chatham said, were enthusiastic in the discussions, displaying the feeling that the present time is opportune for concerted action to the benefit of the manufacturers and jobbers division and to Wichita Falls as a community.

IVY RITES TODAY

Funeral services for Amos J. Ivy, 35, Wichita Falls rig builder who was fatally injured in a fall from an oil derrick near Tyler Tuesday, will be held at 4 o'clock Saturday from the First Methodist church.

Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial will be in Rosemont under the direction of the Dalton-Powell Funeral home. Pallbearers will be S. E. King, E. R. Rumbaugh, W. F. Rumbaugh, Jess Mooney, Joe Steele and Claud Hampton.

At the Theaters

MAJESTIC: Marie Dressler and Polly Moran in "Politics." Short subjects and talking news.

STATE: Jeanette MacDonald and Victor McLaglen in "Annabelle's Affairs"; short subjects and talking news.

GEM: Hoot Gibson in "Clearing the Range," with Sally Eilers. Chapter three of "Heroes of the Flames," and Mickey Mouse comedy.

Between gales of merriment as a full house laughed at the cleanest merriment we've seen in many a day in "Annabelle's Affairs," playing at the State, the lights went off Thursday night and a creepy, frightful siren rang out. One after the other shots of cemeteries and mausolems and sneaking murderers and frightened men and women were thrown on the screen.

If you want something to cool you off, there it is, "Murder by the Clock." It will be shown at 11:30 Saturday night in a midnight show and opens for a regular run Sunday to Thursday at the same theater.

Do you remember that God-fearing husband who played the part of Ruth Chatterton's husband in "The Right to Love?" That was Irving Pichel who has the part of the strong bodied but weak brained son of the woman whose murder starts things going in this mystery thriller, "Murder by the Clock." Lilyan Tashman, best dressed lady of the stage, plays one of the leads and William Boys is no longer a villain but a sympathetic character.

There's high voltage excitement all through the play. It has the grip of "Dracula," the spine-chilling element of horrible mystery; death in the night; murders ticked off by the clock.

One woman's beauty brings death to three persons and one man is murdered twice. A woman returns from the grave for vengeance. Greed is the motif in the trail of horror the secret of which is not shown until the last moment.

With the weird siren alarm, the audience knows that a woman is buried alive. In every other way they are kept guessing. You may not sleep peacefully directly after, but it's the sort of play youth particularly is looking for.

Even the squeak of a mouse will make you jump as you watch the picture. Something happens every minute. Love and hate, tenderness and ruthlessness dwell side by side in the house by the side of the graveyard where William Boyd, Lilyan Tashman, Regis Toomey, Irving Pichel and Sally O'Neil hold the fancy gripped.

See the midnight matinee, 11:30 Saturday night. The show is for just such an hour.

ACCEPTED BY NAVY

Acceptance of Kenton Fallis Wharton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wharton of 1206 North Sixth street, as a recruit for the United States navy was announced Friday by R. F. Gilmore, local recruiting officer.

Mr. Wharton has been ordered to the training base at San Diego, Calif., Mr. Gilmore said. The recruit is a graduate of Wichita Falls High school and formerly worked for the Texas Electric Service company. He will ask for admittance to the electrical school in the navy.

Wichitans Among Texas University Degree Candidates

Five Wichita Falls students are among the candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences and the graduate school at the University of Texas in August, according to a list announced in Austin by Dr. H. T. Parlin, dean.

They are Miss Mary Louise Staley, seeking the degree of bachelor of journalism; Russell Walters Cumley, Kingsley Davis, William Clements Warren, and Agnes Lucile Zihlman, candidates for the master of arts degree.

Other candidates from Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma include Hassel Macon Boddy, Henrietta; Henry James Gore, Memphis; Clara Josephine O'Neal, Silverton; George Dewey Railsback, Aspermont; Katherine Alice Swanson, Breckenridge; Ann Alizabeth Barett, Breckenridge; Julia Grace Bitner, Vernon; Anna Delle Cochran, Altus, Okla., and William Dewey Young of Wellington.

Wichitan Jailed for Contempt of Court

Three days in jail and a fine of $50 were imposed by Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law Friday afternoon upon a local man who was found guilty on a charge of contempt of court in that he failed to provide $5 on July 10 and July 30 for the maintenance of his wife and child.

The defendant was ordered by the court at an earlier date to make the stipulated payments for the benefit of his dependents. He was committed to the Wichita county jail Friday. The fine of $50, or its equivalent in jail time, will be lifted only in the event that maintenance payments required by the court be made by the defendant, according to County Attorney Louis V. Abernathy.

The penalty imposed by Judge Vogel was the heaviest ever assessed by the county court, Mr. Abernathy said.

W. J. D. EDGAR OF ELECTRA DIES

Pioneer Texan Succumbs at Age of 81

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Aug. 7.—W. J. Darden Edgar, 81, pioneer Texan, died at his home in Electra early today, following ill health for two years. The illness that preceded his death, however, was brief.

Funeral services will be held from the family home, 302 West Wharton avenue, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The Rev. W. W. Rivers of the Baptist church will officiate. A brief service will be held before burial in Rosemont burial park at Wichita Falls at 5 o'clock. Totten Brothers, Electra undertakers, will be in charge.

A native of Tennessee, Mr. Edgar moved with his parents when a small child to Texas in 1853, settling in DeWitt county. He resided there until his retirement from active business, moving in June, 1925, to Electra, where he had since made his home.

He was an early rancher and farmer of DeWitt county, and was well known in that part of the state.

Surviving are his widow; three daughters, Mrs. H. A. Rathke of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Reba Dressler of Electra and Mrs. Joseph P. Boothe of Dryer, Texas; one son, J. N Edgar of Cuero, Texas; 13 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The value of farm crops produced in Ohio in 1930 was 29 per cent less than in 1929.

Hargett to Speak At Kiwanis Luncheon

J. S. Hargett, general manager of the Wichita Mill and Elev. company, will be the principal speaker at the Kiwanis club luncheon Monday noon, it was announced Friday by Dudley B. Foy, program chairman.

The subject of Mr. Hargett's address will be "Business Standards and Ethics."

Entertainment numbers include a violin solo by Miss Viola Grace Doern, accompanied by Mrs. G. Wayne Barker.

Airship "AKRON"
To Be Christened Today!

The Christening today of the U. S. S. "Akron," at the huge airship factory and dock at Akron, again calls attention to Goodyear vision and leadership.

The pioneering spirit which is responsible for Goodyear's leadership in other fields of transportation—notably in the development and building of automobile and truck tires—has led Goodyear to increasing activity in lighter-than-air craft since 1911.

We are proud to have for the motorists and truck owners of Wichita Falls THE leading tire—GOODYEAR—better today than ever before—available in a variety of types and at low prices—and made by the same company that built the great airship for the U. S. navy which is to be christened at Akron today.
