FAILURE OF BONUS BILL DEEMED SURE

Leaders of Both Factions Agree Bill Will Be Recommitted in Vote Today as President Asks.

Legion Head Announces Continued Fight for Adjusted Compensation, Notwithstanding Result.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—An agreement for a vote Friday at 3 o'clock on the motion to recommit the soldier's bonus bill, was reached by the senate late today by unanimous consent.

The result of the vote, leaders of both factions agreed, was not in doubt, recommittal, as requested by President Harding in his address yesterday to the senate, being deemed certain.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, republican leader, secured the agreement at the close of another day's assault by democratic senators. Mr. Lodge said the re-committal motion was in the way of other important measures such as the anti-beer and maternity bills.

In agreeing to a vote, however, democrats gave notice that they would not only oppose the republican motion but also would seek to instruct the finance committee to report the bill back at an early date.

Senators Watson of Georgia and Heflin of Alabama led the democratic attack today on the motion to recommit. Senator Myers, democrat, Montana, advocated re-committal and much of the day was given to a clash between him and Senator Watson.

The voting agreement involves holding the bonus measure and the recommittal motion before the senate continuously until the roll call Friday.

It was reached after republican senators, who continued to refrain from replying to democratic assaults, gave up hope of securing a vote either today or tomorrow.

That President Harding had exceeded his constitutional limitations in asking the senate to postpone consideration of the bill was asserted by Senator Watson.

The republican move, he said, was to send the bill "to a chloroform committee presided over by a chloroform senator." That the republicans proposed "putting the bill to sleep forever," was asserted also by Senator Heflin.

Senator Heflin charged that big money interests had contributed to election of a republican president and congress and now were saying "deliver the goods." The same interests he said, were threatening to cause a panic if the bill should be passed. He contended that the treasury was amply able to bear the burden of the bill.

While debate was in progress, Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, who caused the bill to be placed before the senate on behalf of the finance committee, had a conference with President Harding at the White House, at which it was understood the bonus bill situation was discussed.

LEGION HEAD TAKES ISSUE WITH MELLON

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 13.—The American Legion will fight on for adjusted compensation without change in the provisions in its present program following the message of President Harding to the senate urging delayed action, John G. Emery legion national commander said in a statement issued from national headquarters here late today.

"The sudden alarm which apparently has swept over government officials, lest through adjusted compensation, the United States treasury be so delected as to mean national calamity, will cause no recession of our activity to bring about measures of civil re-establishment and material readjustment as we believe to be for the best interest of the country itself," Mr. Emery declared.

"Our claims for adjusted compensation were not made until by a careful study the contentions of our ex-service men were ascertained, which beyond any doubt justify every provision set forth in the adjusted compensation bill," he said.

"I believe that Secretary Mellon vastly overestimates the cost of such provisions. Precedent disproves his prediction of financial collapse if the adjusted compensation bill passes. England and her overseas dominions, Italy, France and Belgium enacted national relief legislation and found money thus expended a potent factor in stabilizing economic conditions, generally through rehabilitation of individuals.

DALLAS JURY TO SET PRICE OF MELON FOR SLOW FOOTED YOUTH

Special to the Record News.

DALLAS, July 13.—What is a water melon worth?

This is the question soon to be decided by a jury in Judge Works' court in the trial of R. W. Campbell, charged with theft under $50.

Campbell admitted taking the melon, but declares that when he was overtaken by the proprietor he offered to pay what the melon was worth.

The price, it is said, was set at $5, which Campbell refused to pay.

World Co-Operation Toward Disarmament Now Seems Assured

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Additional pledges of co-operation reached Washington from several quarters today in responses to President Harding's proposal for an international conference on limitation of armaments, and other world problems.

Definite acceptances of the president's invitation to participate were received at the state department during the day from Great Britain and Italy, while informal advices came to official circles here that a favorable reply from China might be expected in the near future.

At the same time it became known that much sympathetic interest had been manifested informally by several governments who do not expect to have seats in the conference.

France, having previously expressed her willingness to take part, the only invited power from which no sort of an expression had been received tonight, was Japan.

Administration officials were confident of an acceptance from the Tokio government, however, and in Japanese quarters here it was indicated that the delay undoubtedly was due to formalities of consultation among various branches of the Japanese government, which are necessary in the decision of an important public question.

So far as reports here indicate, sentiment abroad is content with the president's decision to have the membership of the conference held in London big five powers and China.

Press dispatches indicating that some British statesmen desired to have the preliminaries of the conference held in London were not taken seriously either in British quarters here or by officials of the administration. It was pointed out that the British government had accepted definitely the president's proposal for holding the meeting here, and that a later qualification from London was scarcely to be expected after the discussion had reached such a positive stage.

Among high American officials there was manifest a strong sentiment that the whole conference should be held here, both on account of the facility of business such a plan would make possible, and because of a feeling that America was entitled to be the host, since she had initiated the movement.

ARCHER POOL TEST BLOWS ITSELF IN

Texhoma No. 1 Coffman Starts Flow Wednesday When Bailing Starts.

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company's No. 1 Coffman brought itself in yesterday, when bailing started, but due to the lack of storage it was permitted to flow only until the control head was put in place, and no estimate is made of the production.

It gave indications, according to reports from the field of being a good producer, and like the No. 4 Gose of the company, to be entirely free from water, which is still giving some trouble in other producers in the field. The new well, which is the company's first well on the Coffman tract, and the north offset to the Staley No. 1, will probably be tested out Friday, when tanks will be up and connections male.

Nelson Test on Sand.

The Nelson Drilling company's No. 1 Gose, (second hole) has drilled into what it reported a very good looking sand at 1636 feet, and has set and cemented casing. This test is in the southeast part of the Gose block, in which the discovery well was drilled, and is several hundred feet to the south of the Texhoma No. 5 and the Staley No. 2, the present southmost producers. The Texhoma well has had the casing set and cemented for several days but is yet to be drilled in.

Perkins Starts Drilling.

The newest semi-outside test to be started in this pool is the J. J. Perkins No. 1 Coffman, just west of the Texhoma's No. 6 Gose, and the Lee Bass No. 1 Henderson.

This test is rigging up now to drill. The Texhoma's No. 6 Gose has casing set and cemented.

The No. 7 Gose is offsetting the Texhoma's No. 1 Coffman, and is drilling around 800 feet.

Drilling has just started on the No. 8 Gose, 400 feet south of the No. 1 on the Canadian Petroleum-Gose lease, the second producer in the pool.

Two additional wells of the Texhoma have casing set and cemented, the No. 2 on the Canadian Petroleum-Gose lease, and the No. 2 Taylor. The No. 3 Taylor is reported drilling around 300 feet.

TEXHOMA SETS CASING IN TWO NEW TESTS

Casing has been set on the No. 26 Cropper and the No. Rexford of the Texhoma company in the new north Texhoma pool, South Burkburnett, according to Wednesday reports from the field. The sand is around 1270 feet in both.

SHOT BRINGS BIG FLOW IN KELLAR WELL

Former Light Producer Now Flowing Between 700 and 800 Barrels.

Given a shot of nitro glycerine in the 1900 foot sand, which had formerly been productive of only small wells, the M. R. Hemphill No. 1 Keller, is now flowing at the rate of 600 to 700 barrels daily, according to latest reports from the South Bend pool, where this is the week's most important completion.

The Hemphill well is on the east half of the Gulf Production company's 100-acre Keller lease, being subleased by the big company.

The Gulf's No. 1, drilled close to the river, and completed several months ago, was a 30-barrel pumper at the 1900 foot sand.

FORECASTS PROSPERITY IN 90 DAYS

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 13.—"America is going toward a new era of prosperity full tilt, regardless of what the calamity howlers say," O. W. Timm, of Plymouth, Wis., president of the Illinois and Wisconsin Coal Dealers' association, told a convention of members today.

"By the first of August we will see a turn for the better," Mr. Timm said. "Ninety days later we will be enjoying a good business. This is but the lull before the storm."

Charles S. Dodge, treasurer of the association, told the members that the "necessity for meeting a revived and aggressive competition for control of the European coal markets is certain to precipitate one of the worst strikes in history of the coal industry when the contracts with the miners [illegible]

IRISH PEACE DEPENDS ON TODAY'S MEET

Fate of Troublous Island Largely to Be Determined by Three-Cornered Conference.

Believed Sinn Fein Leader Will Not Press Republic but Will "Play Cards" for Terms.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 13.—A conversation which it is hoped may mark the last act of one phase of Ireland's troublous history and serve as a prelude to the long sought peace in the island is to take place in the dingy old cabinet room in Downing street tomorrow, when the British prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George, and the Irish republican leader, Eamonn De Valera, meet in an effort to clear the stage for holding a "three party" peace conference, in which Great Britain, the Sinn Fein and Ulster will endeavor to compose their differences. One of the most convincing indications of the fervency of the hope that the meeting will presage an era of peace is the reluctance of both government and Irish circles to discuss probable details of the initial session, both parties insisting that the situation is so delicate that a single unfortunate word might seriously prejudice the proceedings or jeopardise whatever chance of ultimate success exists.

Both sides have "propaganda mills," fully organized and ready for business, but both are silent. This reticence is heightened by the fact

HOLD THREE FOR MURDER OF BOHLMAN

Brakeman charged with Murder of G. H. & S. A. Ry. Engineman Near Alpine Friday Night

By Associated Press.

EL PASO, Texas, July 13.—W. Earl Stinman, head brakeman on the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railway train on which Engineer W. H. Bohlman was mysteriously killed July 8, was held on a charge of murder after preliminary hearing at Alpine, Texas, this afternoon, according to dispatches received at the local offices of the road. Stirman gave bond and was released, according to reports.

HOLD TWO IN EL CENTRO.

By Associated Press.

EL CENTRO, Cal., July 13.—J. F. Murphy and J. H. Williams, arrested yesterday and placed in the Imperial county jail at the request of El Paso authorities investigating the killing of William Bohlman, freight engineer, denied knowledge of the tragedy, it was said at the jail today. Further questioning of the men probably will be delayed until the arrival of El Paso officers, said to be on their way here.

The men were arrested at Niland, in the northern end of Imperial county, when they arrived on a Southern Pacific railway train and were held on charges of vagrancy, each being given a 15-day sentence. The Imperial county sheriff's office had been asked to look out for two men whose description, deputies said, tallied with that of Murphy and Williams.

According to information reaching here Bohlman was attacked in the cab of his engine near Alpine, Texas, on July 8 and thrown to the wayside, where he was found dead. Charles F. Bobinson, fireman, was struck down and the train was wrecked after running wild for about four miles. The Texas authorities sought two men said to have been seen riding on the train.

Court officials expressed opinion that the case will occupy the greater part of next week. Five witnesses testified today, for the most part concerning the riots.

Official of Producing Corporation Denies Increased Rate Contemplated for Gas Supply

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, July 13.—Representatives of twenty-one north Texas cities, including Wichita Falls, Denison, Denton, Sherman, Corsicana and Hillsboro, conferred here today regarding possible participation by the municipalities in the controversy between the North Texas Gas company and the Lone Star Gas company. The controversy involves contracts between the two companies to supply natural gas to the cities affected. Early indications were that the Texas railroad commission might be called upon to settle the matter which is now held in abeyance by District court injunction restraining the Lone Star company from cancelling its contracts with the North Texas company. The former is a producing concern and the latter a distributing company.

Mr. Denning denied that his company desired to increase gas rates and declared if the distributing companies in the cities involved would put their systems on the same basis as the Dallas and Fort Worth companies, the effort to cancel contracts with the North Texas organization would cease. He said he was merely trying to eliminate wastage from leakage.

"At Wichita Falls last year we lost 685,000,000 feet of gas through leakage," Mr. Denning said.

Mr. Harty agreed that if there is leakage it should be stopped, but declared the position of the distributing company is that "there is something wrong with the meters of the wholesale company."

"This effort to cancel contracts is simply an effort to obtain new rates," Harty added.

INDIVIDUAL CONSUMERS BRING COURT ACTION

DALLAS, July 13.—Individual consumers in the 21 North Texas cities served by the North Texas Gas Company producers, and the Lone Star Gas Company, distributors, will seek a court injunction to prevent the companies from shutting off their supply of gas.

This course was decided on at a meeting of representatives of the cities here today to consider possible action in the controversy between the producing and distributing companies in which the former has given notice of its cancellation of contracts to supply the distributors.

A committee composed of Hamy P. Abney of Sherman, J. W. Chancellor of Bowie and E. M. Mann of Wichita Falls was appointed to prepare the papers for the legal action.

These men were chosen by a committee composed of W. D. Cline, mayor of Wichita Falls; Mayor Carroll Todd of Waxahachie and Mayor R. E. Mitchell of Cleburne, which was charged with the duty of working out details.

Individuals in the cities affected will be named as parties in the action, it was said.

COMPANY OFFICIAL'S VISIT TO PRESIDENT MENTIONED IN CONNECTION WITH TARIFF

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS.
Record News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Behind the scenes, indignation of the independent oil producers seethed today, and ugly charges flew toward the White House which, if uttered on the floor of the house, will create a sensation, the like of which has rarely been seen.

The charge that the Standard Oil company is making the administration foreign policy is the loudest made.

The charge is also made that the President wrote the letter on the very day that Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company, was at the White House dining with President Harding.

Republican congressmen who insist that without the tariff the Standard will gobble up every independent in the country, threatened to tell some things on the house floor which will create a scandal.

The whole history of how the progressives were outmanuvered at Chicago and President Harding nominated by the old guard wing at the 2:11 conference was reviewed today, together with charges of promises that were made by his sponsors.

None of the supporters of the old tariff took the floor today, but the matter came in for brief discussion when Representative James T. Byrnes, Democrat, of South Carolina, asked Fordney to make public the letter which President Harding wrote opposing the tariff.

Fordney declined, saying that he would do so only when the schedule was reached, whereupon Congressman Joseph W. Byrnes, Democrat, of Tennessee, who in some manner had procured a copy of the letter, arose and read it into the records.

It is understood that no mention of such a letter was made by President Harding to William N. Davis, president of the Mid-Continent Association, who called at the white house the other day, although the letter had been written several days before.

Independents took especial exception of that part of President Harding's letter which said: "I think it vastly more important that we develop an abundance of resources rather than temporary profit to a few producers who feel the pinch of Mexican competition."

Independents say that instead of a few there are thousands of independents facing ruin.

They answered President Harding's statement with the question: "Which is the better thing to do, shut in the Mexican wells temporarily to the inconvenience of a half dozen big companies, or to wreck several thousand small American producers?"

The much discussed letter of President Harding to Chairman Fordney was as follows:

"I cannot refrain from expressing the hope that your committee is familiar with the policy under which the government is doing every consistent thing to encourage the participation of Americans in the development of oil resources in many foreign lands. This course has been inspired by the growing concern of our country of the supply of crude oil to which we may turn for our future needs, not alone for our domestic commerce, but in meeting the needs of our navy and our merchant marine.

"To levy a protective tariff on crude petroleum now would be at variance with all that has been done to safeguard our future interest.

"I can readily recognize the claim of some of the oil producers for a protective tariff on their product, but such a course of temporary relief

SAYS K. K. K. ORDERED HIM OUT OF BURK

D. E. Connelley Shortly After Charged With Offense Against Daughters and Is Jailed.

Declaring to local officers that he had been threatened by the K. K. K. and ordered to leave Burkburnett a few hours before police officers of that city arrested him on a serious statutory complaint D. E. Donnelley was remanded to the county jail here Wednesday after an investigation conducted by the sheriff's department and district attorney's office.

Donnelley, who is owner of a grocery at Burkburnett, was brought to this city Wednesday morning after City Marshall Griffin of Burkburnett had twice called the sheriff's department asking that officers be sent out at once and take the accused man from the city jail at Burkburnett where he had been confined since his arrest late Tuesday. According to the Burkburnett officer, mob violence was threatened.

At his last call to the sheriff's department Griffin was told to deputize as many men as needed to guard the jail pending the arrival of Deputy Sheriff Clynch who brought Donnelley back to this city.

When brought here Donnelley told Chief Deputy Sheriff Dakan that he was glad to get away from Burkburnett and that he feared violence. He told the officer that Tuesday before his arrest by the Burkburnett police officers he had been ordered to leave the city by the K. K. K.

According to Burkburnett officers who brought the two daughters of Donnelley to this city Wednesday afternoon, they have heard occasional threats made against the accused man recently although they knew of no organized effort to run him out of the city. The complaint against Donnelley is based upon statements of the two daughters in regard to his alleged improper relations with them.

The accused denied the accusations at the investigation conducted at the district attorney's office Wednesday. The daughters, who are 14 and 16 years of age, are being held by juvenile authorities.

The statement of Donnelley is the first indication that officers of the county have received that there is any K. K. K. organization. Letters have been received by weekly and daily papers stating that such an organization has been perfected.

ZALUDEK ASKS SEPARATE AND EARLY TRIAL

Declares Indictment in Connection With East Wichita Procured by Malicious Testimony.

Motion for a severance and for immediate trial was filed Wednesday by Joe Zaludek, through his attorneys, Bonner, Bonner and Sanford, in connection with his indictment and arrest on charges of swindling in connection with the East Wichita Oil Company's alleged manipulations.

Zaludek, with W. P. Honaker, C. A. Williams, and three other parties not named, was indicted by the grand jury adjourning Tuesday, and was arrested Tuesday night.

The petition alleges that the defendant's indictment "was procured by false, fraudulent and malicious testimony, and that the defendant, being a business man in Wichita county, where he has resided and enjoyed a good reputation for more than thirty-two years, the fictitious charges against him will likely hinder and impede this defendant and cause him loss and embarrassment in his business, financial and social affairs, because of the stigma which ordinarily attaches in the public mind to one who is under indictment for a felony, regardless of whether said indictment is justified, and therefore this defendant requests that a fair, public and speedy trial be accorded him, so that he may be vindicated and absolved from all such charges."

A number of fact and character witnesses, including many prominent and long time residents of Wichita Falls have been summoned.

Zaludek, W. P. Honaker, president of the company, and C. A. Williams, driller of the test at the time the alleged irregular operations and manipulation of stock and leases of company took place, are jointly indicted for swindling.

In the first count the men are charged with having secured unlawful acquisition of money by false pretenses. The second count charges them with having conspired to secure and securing $100 from Mrs. Emma Stinchcamp.

BANKER'S WIFE WINS POINT IN SCANDAL CASE

By Associated Press.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 13.—After a half dozen witnesses had testified today to intimate relations between James A. Stillman, wealthy New York banker and divorce plaintiff, and Florence H. Leeds, former Broadway show girl, the banker's counsel declared they would not dispute or contradict the evidence and asked Referee Gleason to rule that no further evidence be required as to these relations. The referee denied the request after it had evoked protests from the lawyers representing Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, the defendant.

Colonel William Rand, of Mr. Stillman's counsel, was quoted as saying that "no occasion exists for adducing further proof except to satisfy a purient public."

Following the testimony against the banker, Colonel Rand was said to have stated:

"It now appears by the evidence that Mr. Stillman occupied an apartment at 64 East Eighty-Sixth street, New York, with one Florence H. Leeds, and that he was known there as Franklyn Harold Leeds; * * * that he accompanied her to various places, was seen carrying her baby, Jay, in his arms, that in December, 1918, he opened up a bank account in her name, Miss Florence H. Leeds, and informed the bank that if the account became short to notify him."

MRS. KABER FAINTS IN COURT ROOM

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, July 13.—Whether the trial of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber on a charge of murdering her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, will be resumed tomorrow morning, following its interruption today on account of Mrs. Kaber breaking under the strain, will depend upon the report of two physicians who made an examination of the accused woman tonight.

Prosecuting Attorney Stanton decided to have Mrs. Kaber's physical condition inquired into after the court advised him that it would not proceed with the trial until satisfied that Mrs. Kaber was conscious of things transpiring in the court.

Because of the interruptions only one defense witness was examined today. He was Charles Brickel, brother of Mrs. Kaber.

While he was being subjected to a grueling cross examination by Assistant County Prosecutor James J. Cassidy, Mrs. Kaber was attacked by fainting spells accompanied by hysterical screaming which threw the women spectators into a state of near-panic. Mrs. Kaber was carried from the court room and was not revived for about half an hour. This was during the morning session.

Judge Brenton ordered a recess until afternoon, when Mrs. Kaber again suffered additional fainting attacks. Court then was adjourned until tomorrow.

STUDEMEYER SURRENDERS TO SHERIFF

Slim Studemeyer, indicted jointly with Shannon Layne, constable; and L. S. Brannon, deputy constable at Burkburnett, on charges of conspiracy to accept bribes and accepting bribes, surrendered himself at the sheriff's office Wednesday noon. Studemeyer was released on $1,500 the same as that set for Layne and Brannon early Wednesday morning, following their arrest late Tuesday night at Newtown by Texas rangers.

The three men are charged with having conspired with Viola Taylor, living in the oil fields, whereby the latter was to be allowed to carry on the illicit sale of liquor. The men are further charged with having accepted a $200 bribe from the woman for that protection.

Studemeyer is also a well known figure in the oil fields surrounding Burkburnett, although not an officer. He is said to have occasionally accompanied the officers while they were patroling the oil fields in connection with their official duties.

CONTINUE TRIAL OF HUN OFFICERS

By Associated Press.

LEIPSIC, Germany, July 13.—At the continuation today of the trial in the supreme court here of the two German lieutenants, Ludwig Dittman and Johann Boldt, charged with murder in the first degree for firing on lifeboats after the Canadian hospital ship Llandovery Castle had been torpedoed in the summer of 1918, Petty Officer Popitz of the submarine which sank the ship said the Germans always suspected hospital ships which they considered a danger to submarines.

Popitz declared he and Lieutenant Dittman tried to persuade Commander Patzig of the submarine not to attack the hospital ship, but the submarine dived, fired two torpedoes and then came to the surface. The witness testified he saw three or four lifeboats out and several men swimming; then the crew of the submarine were ordered below deck. The general feeling prevailed that something unfortunate had occurred, Popitz declared. Later he heard firing and assumed the lifeboats were being fired upon.

GREEK DRIVE UNDER WAY ON BRUSSA FRONT

By Associated Press.

ATHENS, July 13.—The Greek offensive against the Turkish nationalists, which started Monday on the Brussa front in Asia Minor and along the line to the south, began under excellent conditions.

News of the successful initiation of the movement was received with jubilation by the crowds surrounding the bulletin boards in Athens, which were particularly gleeful over the announcement from the Greek ministry at noon that the important railway terminal of Chivril, (about 145 miles east of Smyrna and 45 miles south of Afinu-Karahissar) has been occupied by the Greek troops.

Announcement also was made of the bombing by Greek airplanes of Eski-Sher and Kutais. Two Turkish ammunition depots at Eski-Sher were exploded.

The Greek press, without distinction of parties, echoes the solidly patriotic spirit of the people.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

AN UNWELCOME VISITOR.

In her work at the store Cherry soon began to discover that she was making some real friends in Wellsburg. Women who had been only casual acquaintances before, who had called punctiliously at the family mansion and chatted affably to Mrs. Randall and her, now commenced to warm up to the energetic, clever little designer of hats, who had in so short a time established an attractive millinery department in their midst, and who was always so cheerful and willing to help with suggestions, all who dropped into her corner.

"I declare, I'll have to begin to serve afternoon tea here if things keep on," she confided to Arthur Hamlen, Jr., one afternoon after handling a particularly large and eager throng of lady citizens. "They just sit in here like they were hypnotized. It's an idea to make the hats right under their noses, as I do. Makes it all the more intimate, you see."

Well, judging by the books, Mrs. Randall, we could easily afford to serve tea here, thanks to your sales. There's never been anything like it in the history of Hamlen & Son's, honestly. Dad's pleased to death. Takes all the credit to himself, too. He little dreams that that 'ad' went in through my talk with you the afternoon we had tea together. No, indeed."

"Well, let's keep that our own little secret, Mr. Hamlen. It does not matter now, anyhow. I've got what I wanted—so has Hamlen & Son's."

All day from 9 a. m. until 3:30 Cherry sat busily on her hats. In less than two weeks' time she had transformed her department into a place of beauty. Bright tapestried chairs and hanging delighted the visitor's eye on entering and as for the hats, well, their fame had already spread into the next county.

In spite of all protests, Cherry had made a ravishly lavender turban for her mother-in-law, a soft, feminine affair, with a knot of violets, bewitchingly to the beholder.

That lady, herself, had melted at sight of her appearance in Cherry's creation. And the children had been loud in their praise. Every girl in Hamlen's department store also boasted a Cherry Randall chapeaux.

Arline Bates was one of the last to come in to visit Cherry well in her new work. She came in one afternoon just as Cherry was about to leave.

"I've only got a few minutes, Mrs. Randall, she announced as she entered and looked about her. "Mr. Randall and I have to go over to Waynesville, to the factory there, and see about some business. But I do want to have a good looking hat to wear and right away. Waynesville is a busy little town and I may have to have supper there if we are delayed."

Cherry swallowed hard at these words, though she smiled her brightest as she helped Arline select a most becoming hat of burnt orange and fawn for her auburn hair.

"That's just the thing for you, Miss Bates. Looks lovely. Be sure and tell Ned I picked it out for you when you meet him."

Arline Bates, all smiles, assured Cherry that she would do so, then with many words of praise for Cherry and her shop she departed.

"Queer girl, that," reflected Cherry, after she had left. "Wonder how much she still thinks of my Ned?" Enough to want to have a new hat to go driving with him, after all!"

Many beautiful presents including kitchen ware, cut glass, and other home furnishings were among the gifts.

At a late hour delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and punch were served by the refreshment committee of the class to Misses Zula Stokes, Ruth, Margaret and Grace Haynie, Vivian Harris, Myrtle Bowman, Bonnie Rhodes, Helen Thompson, Stella Baum, Elizabeth Peyton, Jennie Bergin, Ida Baggett, Minnie May Peyton, Bertie Allday, Ruth Tweedy, Ruby Edwards, Florence McCullough and Leota Clark; Messrs. WHAT PARIS IS WEARING.

In the summer time nothing would be more comfortable nor more feminine than the new sleeveless costume of khaki cloth worn with an underblouse of silk pongee.

The round neck one, "a Peafant," not in the least bit decollete, is the one just now most favored by the creators of fashion. The top of the bodice reaches as high as the throat line. As a rule this is not very becoming, yet the smart Parisienne has readily adopted it. What will not a woman sacrifice to be "chic?"

The latest imported hats seem proud of their unusually high, round or square crowns, and in order to offer us something really new, dressmaker their trimmings just above, but under the brim.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Cheese Fondu—One cup chopped cheese, one cup bread crumbs, one-half teaspoon salt, one and one-half cups milk, two eggs. Scald the milk and add the bread crumbs. Beat the egg yolks, add these and cheese and salt. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake twenty minutes in moderate oven. Serve at once.

Chocolate Pudding—One and one-half cups milk, one-half cup sugar. Let boil, thicken with one egg and one tablespoon cornstarch. Pour into molds and chill. Before serving unless been allowed to stand two hours in sugar.

Cucumber Salad—Cut one cucumber in quarters lengthwise, arrange on bed of shredded lettuce on salad plates. Cut through the seed part about every quarter of an inch, have ready red radishes sliced very thin, and in each place put a slice of radish. Top with mayonnaise. Very appetising.

Pittsburgh Potatoes—Slice potatoes thick as for scalloped potatoes, add one or two sweet peppers, cover with white sauce and bake till tender. Good when there is no roast to have gravy from.

CANNING RECIPES

Delicious Canned Cherries—These cherries have the flavor of the fresh fruit unimpaired. Either light or dark cherries can be used. Stone the cherries and let them stand all night. In the morning drain off the juice and add to it the juice of two lemons. Use a little less than a pound of sugar for each pint of juice. Put a pint of water in the preserving kettle. When it boils add the juice and the sugar and cook to a fine syrup, skimming constantly. Rinse the cans with hot water and keep them standing in a pan of hot water over the fire. Fill each can three-quarters full of the stoned cherries and when the syrup is clear fill each to the brim. Seal the cans and set them in the washboiler. Pour boiling water over and about them and let them stand all night. When cooled screw the caps tighter and set them in a dark, cool closet. The heat of the syrup and of the hot water will preserve the uncooked fruit perfectly, and neither color nor flavor will be lost.

Apple Ginger Marmalade—Five pounds apples, three and three-quarters pounds sugar, one pint of water, one ounce green ginger root, grated rind of two lemons and one orange.

Wash and peel tart apples. Cut them into small sections and boil with the other ingredients until the mixture is thick and jelly-like. Pour into sterilized jars or glasses and seal them. Use no sugar when this is served.

TRY THESE

For Darning—Unravel what remains of the children's old stockings, wind on a spool and use for darning other stockings.

When Washing a white woolen sweater be sure that it is thoroughly rinsed in several waters to remove all soap, otherwise it will become yellow.

PICTURE ACTORS IN THE SOCIAL WHIRL

Not only has Natchez, Miss., through its officials and civic organizations given Director Wesley Ruggles and the members of the Oliver Morosco productions company every assistance in the filming of "Slippy McGee," but the first families of the southern city have joined in by turning over their homes for the various scenes. The result is some remarkable interiors, which rarely could be duplicated in a studio creation.

The filming of a garden scene in Ravenna, the beautiful old southern home of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Fleming, also was the occasion for a big social event in which Natchez' best appeared before the camera.

When the garden party was at its height one of those typical Southern thunderstorms broke, and there was quick scrambling to the interior of the mansion, where an impromptu dance was held, and Queenie, the marvelous dog of the films, performed.

Because of another engagement beginning July 1, the scenes in which Edwin Stevens appears were "shot" first, and now he is on his way back to Los Angeles.—Los Angeles Times.

WOMEN LOATH TO OBEY

Paris—"A husband owes his wife protection. A woman owes obedience to her husband." These two sentences figure in the marriage code of French laws and around them a fierce battle now rages in society circles in France.

The trouble came when Senator Martin, a supporter of women's suffrage, introduced an amendment in the senate to have the second sentence suppressed or modified. M. Martin considers the sentence as too humiliating to women and thinks that such terms are unnecessary in the marrige laws. He believes that the affection a woman has for her husband should suffice to call for obedience without the law treating married women as though they were school children.

Opinions of well-known French women have been sought on the subject and here are some of their answers:

Madame Miropolsky, a French woman by birth and a lawyer, says: "Article 213 (the one containing the above two clauses) is quite harmless. It carries no penalties. There are happy married couples who believe in it and on the other hand there are happy married couples who are quite of a contrary disposition. Law is powerless to fix the rules of martial intimacy."

"Law Can't Settle It."

In the opinion of Mlle. Fanny Heldy of the Paris Opera: "If the husband is really superior to his wife then the latter obeys him out of pleasure and not because the law says so. If the contrary is the case—and it is not rare to find it so—then no law on earth will make a woman the blindfolded slave of her husband. As for husband's protection, we are quite capable of protecting ourselves and I think we have proved that. Article 213 should certainly be banished."

The celebrated doctress Mlle. Pelletier is much of the same opinion. "Although I have never had a husband," she said, "I also find article 213 very humiliating for women. Our country is very much behind the times. In Russia the general emancipation of women is far advanced. There marriage has been socialized—not women. All domestic work is done by professionals and the education of children is given by the state. A woman can thereby live intelligently and independently."

Secretary of a section of the Union for Women's Suffrage, Mme. Pach-Cremieux, finds the incriminated article "absolutely iniquitous." "To think," she says, "that a married woman is considered incapable of properly conducting herself! Marriage is an association; there is no chief. In practice, happily, the law does not exist. But on principle I think it should be abolished."

Mlle. Madelein Roch, the famous French tragedienne, would merely change article 213.

Would Make Husband Obey

"There is no need to suppress the article," she said. "Simply change it around and make it read that a husband owes obedience to his wife."

Mme. Colette, a well-known writer, who has been married twice when asked for her opinion replied: "I had forgotten all about it, although it must have been read to me twice. As such a text never existed in my married life I fell absolutely indifferent whether it is suppressed or not."

Even sporting circles were not spared in the search for opinions on a subject which is interesting France so greatly, and Mlle. Helene Dutrieu, France's foremost woman aviator, thinks: "Woman is made to obey man. I don't think the law so badly constructed and, after all, it is so simple not to get married if you do not want to accept the inconveniences as well as the advantages of married life."—Kansas City Times.

NERVOUS, IRRITABLE, AILING WOMEN

Mrs. Britten Tells How She Was Restored To Health After Suffering for More Than A Year.

Another Triumph for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dimondale, Mich.—"I had inflammation and a displacement and weakness, and it had been neglected so long that it caused great pain, and this affected my mind and nerves so that I was very irritable. I had severe pains every month, so that I was often obliged to lie in bed for two days at a time. I suffered for more than a year before my friends said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I purchased one bottle after another until I had taken ten bottles, then Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I received so much benefit from this treatment that I am now able to do my own work."—Mrs. W. D. BRITTEN, R. No. 2, Dimondale, Mich.

Another Michigan Woman says:

"I was bothered for a long time with female troubles and was so nervous I felt almost afraid at times. I also had a pain in my right side and was certainly in a bad way. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has relieved me of these nervous feelings and pains and I am much better in every way. I don't know just how many bottles I have taken, but I took it for nearly a year and it has done me a world of good."—Mrs. JESSIE GRANGER, R. No. 8, Box 51, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Good health is a woman's greatest asset. With it she may be the inspiration of her husband, a happy mother, and the life of the home. Without it she suffers agonies herself, household duties are a burden, and her family is made miserable by her condition.

Is it any wonder that these women were nervous and irritable after suffering so long from such deranged conditions? Such ailments act directly upon the nerves, and it has been said that a large percentage of nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.

If women who are in this condition would only profit by the experience of others and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, much suffering and unhappiness would be averted, as everyone knows a nervous, irritable, ailing mother makes the home unhappy and her condition irritates both husband and children.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

LONGVIEW MAN SUFFERED FOR TWENTY YEARS

William Breed Was So Run Down He Couldn't Do A Day's Work

Characteristic of the statements which have made Tanlac a household word throughout the length and breadth of the land is that of William Breed, Longview, Texas, who said:

"When I began taking Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and thirty pounds. In ten days I gained eleven pounds and am gaining at the rate of five pounds a week and weigh one hundred and fifty-five pounds at the present time. Tanlac beats any medicine I have ever taken to build up a run-down system. I wouldn't take one hundred dollars in cold cash for the good it has done me. It is the best medicine I have ever taken for catarrh of the head and I have tried several different kinds of catarrh medicine. My catarrh is nearly gone, also my stomach trouble from which I had been suffering for more than twenty years and I give the praise to this great grand medicine. When I commenced taking Tanlac I couldn't do a day's work and now I don't believe there is a man anywhere that can work any harder and keep at it longer than I can. If a man needs building up Tanlac is certainly the medicine for him."

UNCLE JIMMY AND THE RABBIT WEAKEN WOEFULLY AND DALLAS EVENS THE SERIES; WINNING 7-2

By C. F. CARTER.

When you can't stop 'em, you can't beat 'em. And when your pitchers give exhibitions of batting practice twirling, you'd better prepare early in the game for another drop in the percentage column. When the curves that your various and sundry hurlers serve break slowly and painfully over the dead center of the plate, and the opposing batters get a toe-hold with their spikes, set themselves and slam the darn curves to each and every angle of the ball park—well, you've either got to pray for rain before the fifth inning or resign yourself to a licking.

The Dallas Marines battered the Spudders in the mush for a 7 to 2 trouncing yesterday afternoon, and it was the same pitiful story. The Spudder twirlers couldn't twirl. Jim Sewell started, but it wasn't the same Jim Sewell we saw working a week ago in Shreveport; face looked about the same, but he was wearing a different arm. Rabbit Darrough picked up the load where Jim deposited it in the third frame, but it was too heavy. He also got initiated into the Ancient Order of the Beckoning Thumb, and retired from the conflict after hitting one Marine in the ribs, walking one and allowing a single and a four-base clout. Bob McAbee, local high school southpaw, carried the burden the last two innings, and showed a little more than the two veterans who preceded him—he showed promise at least.

New Men Report.

Skipper Salm had two new humans on the field yesterday, Hollaway, a southpaw first sacker from Duncan, Okla., and Stenstel, a portside hurler from the same town. Also he has wired Arve Odom, another left hand moundsman, to quit the pleasant town of Orange, Tex., and come hither as fast as he can hither come. Odom has been doing a little twirling for the Jacksonville, Tex., team, and pitched a one-hit game against Mount Pleasant Tuesday, only 29 batters facing him.

Hollaway worked a couple of innings yesterday at the initial sack. He didn't impress us off-hand as a particularly graceful fielder, although about all he had to do was dive into the dirt after a few wild heaves from Buddy Tanner. Maybe Buddy was just trying him out, darned if we know. Hollaway swings a bat from the hip, however, and seems to possess a wallop. He smashed a hard one to Snipe Conley on his first attempt, and drew a pass on his second, while in batting practise he lifted a mighty smash over the left field fence.

The Marines got to Jim Sewell early, collecting a couple of bingles in the opening round but no runs. In the second, however, they crossed the rubber once, when Segrist drove the ball out of the park via the left field fence route. And in the third the entire Marine outfit descended upon Uncle Jim a-plenty.

Drive Jim To Showers.

Munson led off with a wicked smash too hot for Sewell to handle, and went to second when Skinner singled to center. Jim Galloway singled up Buddy Tanner's sleeve, filling the bases. That's the truth—the ball, hard hit, shot up Buddy's shirt sleeve, and Buddy turned his back to look for it, not even knowing where it had disappeared. A second later, it tickled him or some'p'n, and he dug it out! Conley forced Galloway at second, Clark to Tanner, Munson scoring and Skinner going to third. Palmer hit a high bounder to Sewell, and Skinner scored, Jim throwing Palmer out at first. Mattick singled to center, scoring Conley—and then Uncle Jim wended his way to the bench, and Rabbit Darrough came forth, and forced Segrist to fly to Bob Bescher for the third out.

And after that everything was lovely for three innings, except that Mister Harper, the Marines' spitball artist, declined to permit any Spudder scoring whatsoever.

In the seventh the Marine collected three more on a hit batsman, a single and home run wallop by Sniper Conley over the right field barrier.

Harper loosened up a bit in the eighth, and was socked for four clean hits and two runs—but 't'wa'n' enough. Bob McAbee tried his high school southpaw flipper against the Marines the last two rounds, and held 'em to one single. Bob didn't look bad at all, and may develop into a useful Spudder citizen—for the love o' Mike let's hope so!

Today's game will start at 11:00 a. m. Don't know who in thunder'll pitch—perhaps Holly again, perhaps this new guy Stenstel, perhaps McAbee, perhaps Works. The Skipper is kinder in a quandary about that twirling staff. Just when it's getting right, it suddenly goes wrong—and there you are.

PAT MORAN BELIEVES BRAVES HAVE CHANCE TO COP THE PENNANT

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, July 13.—The Boston Braves, gaining on New York and Pittsburgh in the pennant race in the National League, have better than an outside chance to repeat their success of 1914, in the opinion of Manager Pat Moran of the Cincinnati club.

The Braves have the best pitching staff in the National League, he says, adding that with the batting strength of the team, they have the elements to go far in this year's race.

"This is no short spurt of the Boston team," Moran said after his Cincinnati team, which Monday finished a series here, had dropped three straight to Mitchell's tribe.

"Mitchell has the best twirling staff in the league; five pitchers, all in trim, and each able to take his turn in the box. The hitting of the regulars is liable to break up a game at any time. He also has reinforcements for about every position. Any manager so well protected is mighty lucky."

The prediction that Horace Ford, the Braves' second sacker, would be one of the outstanding stars of the game, was made by Moran, who credited him with making smooth the Brave infield.

DREADFUL RISKS OF ARCTIC ARE NO MORE

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Heroic glamour and dreadful risks of the frozen Arctic have gone the way of the pictured dangers and romantic adventures of the old storied Wild West, according to Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Canadian Arctic explorer, who passed through here recently.

Eskimo of the white country live off the land, so why shouldn't the white stranger? he asks.

"There is no reason," Stefansson said, "why two or three men should not go to the North Pole, or even to the pole of inaccessibility, which is in the center of the icy area four hundred miles farther from navigable water than the North Pole and live there for one or several years, depending for food, fuel and shelter solely on the meat, fat and skins of animals found there."

The explorer has under consideration plans for a new expedition to the north, he said here.

It Will Take More Than Pills.

The weakness of the homeopaths' agitation against the whisky restrictions is in the fact that they work on congress in homepathic doses.

The first circuit drive came in the first inning with one man on base, the second in the third, also with one man on and the third round trip was made in the seventh with no one on base.

ACTION PICTURES AT THE BALL PARK

The Record News staff photographer, Joe Mears, crawled through a knothole at Athletic Park Tuesday and yesterday and snapped the remarkable action pictures above. Using his 1921 model Graflex Joe opened the automatic shutter and trained it on Rube Marshall in the second game of Tuesday's doubleheader. As a result we are able to present our readers this morning with the remarkable photograph, at the left, showing Marshall in the act of pouring it on a helpless Marine batter.

The startling photograph on the right presents Mister Skinner on his way to first base, after Rabbit Dorough had parked the ball in his ribs in the seventh inning yesterday. Kindly note that Mister Skinner does not seem to care for a free base. He appears irritated.

Joe has promised to crawl through the same knothole again soon and expects to obtain a splendid picture during the approaching Fort Worth series of Bill Kraft hitting Jake Miller or someone else with a baseball when Jake or the someone else has his back turned.

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

A man just don't know what to say after he sees one pitcher after another knocked from the rubber; pitchers who on other occasions have twirled splendidly. We'll be eternally dingfoozled if it hasn't got our angora. One day they look like American money in Germany, and the next they resemble a Canadian two-bit piece in the hills of Chihuahua. And, ding-bust the luck, that's enough comment on yesterday's game.

That Washington cop who wants a match with Jack Dempsey better reconsider before some promoter takes him up. Holding off a Capitol Heights mob singlehanded, and facing Dempsey in an 18-foot ring are not very closely related—personally, we are quite sure we would choose the mob.

"Stand back! Stand back!" the copper roared,
And the roaring mob retreated;
But Dempsey draped one on his jaw—
And the same cop was defeated.

Either the Westmoreland Coutry club course is one of the "cinch" links of this country, or the powers that be picked the wrong team of amateurs to send to Great Britain. In the Western amateur event, players with hardly more than sectional reputations at the best are monotonously shooting that Illinois course in the low 70's.

Eddie Kane, manager of Tommy Gibbons, has "indicated" that Tommy will expect $60,000 as his share of the receipts from a match with Carpentier for the light heavyweight championship. Will Tommy get that much? It is to laugh! Tex Rickard lost heavily on the Willard-Dempsey mill, and he cleaned up royally on the Dempsey-Carpentier tangle—do you think the wily Tex is going to risk anything like a guarantee of $60,000 on a light heavyweight bout? If Gibbons gets $20,000 and a chance at the Frenchman's title, he should be grateful.

Irish Kiss ran second to Best Pal in the Frontier handicap at Windsor, Ont., Tuesday—but usually one's best pal and an Irish kiss run sorter neck and neck, as it were.

Bob Martin kocked out Frank Moran in the seventh Tuesday night. The A. E. F. champion goes steadily on his way, knocking out opponents with monotonous regularity—but still no one figures Bob as a possible contender for the Dempsey crown? Why?

"It is easy enough," says Bill Ruggles, "to declare that the split season is not sportsmanlike. It is equally easy to declare what one would do if one owned a ball club—when one doesn't."

Wherein the eminent William has socked the ten-penny nail on the flat of the bean. The season HAD to be split as a protective measure, and that's all there is to it.

Walter Morris is sitting pat, it seems, and refuses to hear the requests of club owners for his resignation as president of the West Texas league. The club owners, however, have the edge on Walter—for if matters continue to ball up in the West Texas loop as they have been lately, pretty soon there won't be a league, and, ipso facto, as Frank Kitchens the demon law student would remark, there will then be no president.

CITY LEAGUE

The Telephone company nine in the City League took a well-played battle from the Fort Worth and Denver club yesterday, 5 to 3. Although outhit almost two to one, the phone company boys made all their hits count, and missed no opportunities to dent the rubber with the needed runs. Score:

CHARGED WITH FORGERY OF ROOSEVELT NAME

HILLSDALE, Ind., July 13.—Mrs. Emma Burkett of Hillsdale was arrested here early this afternoon on a charge of forgery preferred against her in New York by George E. Roosevelt, executor of the estate of the late Theodore Roosevelt. Mrs. Burket had presented a claim to the estate of the former president for $69,000 on a note which she declared he had endorsed. She was removed to Newport, Ind.

FANS WRITE IN PROTEST AGAINST ARREST OF KIDS FOR ATTEMPTING TO SEE GAME THROUGH KNOT HOLES

The sporting editor of The Record News has received a copy of a letter to the Wichita Falls Baseball Association, signed by a number of fans, with the request that it be printed. Bearing in mind Abraham Lincoln's little message about "malice toward none," we are printing the letter below without comment of any kind. We do not know all the facts in the case, nor have we time to investigate them at this writing—the letter, therefore, must stand or fall on its own little tootsies. We are glad to print it because it is news, and because this page in a measure at least is the fans' forum—and we will be equally glad for the same reasons to publish an answer.

The letter follows:

"Wichita Falls Baseball Association, Wichita Falls, Texas.

"Gentlemen:

"We understand that the city police department this afternoon took a large number of small boys at Athletic Park, who were trying to watch the ball game by peeping through knotholes, climbing on the fence, etc., and brought them to the city hall in the police patrol, and they were piled in it like herding cattle in a box car. We presume this was done at your request and as men, who were once upon a time boys, we take this means of entering our protest against such a petty action on your part.

"Knowing Walter Salm, Will Gray R. O. Harvey and Lloyd Weaver as we do, we wonder how many ball games they ever watched through a knothole in the fence and wonder how they would have felt had such action been taken against them. Where is the real American boy that is over 6 years old that doesn't want to see a ball game? Any boy who has not watched a ball game through a knothole in the fence, slipped into a show or stolen a watermelon has just missed part of the fun of being a boy and if he were to cut his finger we don't believe his blood would be red and we know he hasn't very much ambition and would therefore not be of much benefit to society.

"We understand it has been a practice of the Houston Baseball Association for some years past to set aside some one day each week on which they open the gates to all boys under 15 years of age and admit them absolutely free of charge. No doubt some of these boys have lived in Houston and forgot where they were in the great desire to see a ball game and thought this was 'Kids' Day.' With the support that the fans of this city have given you, we would not think that the condition of your treasury should be so depleted as to make action of this kind necessary.

"The undersigned are all loyal Spudder fans and pay you our money every time we have the opportunity and feel that we are within our rights in entering this protest and we hope that every boy in Wichita Falls will be given the opportunity to live a boy's life so long as he does not do anything worse than these boys have done in this instance.

"Let's give the boys a chance.

"Yours truly."

And then the signatures follow of G. C. Pyle, M. P. Albritton, W. Merion, T. S. Masterson, L. S. Marlow, J. Hardy, Ray E. Carter, P. C. Bennetsen, J. C. Whitenberg, W. S. Campbell, L. L. Miers, J. J. Gallagher, M. H. McClure, J. R. Irion, E. Ward, and three other names we were unable to decipher.

GEDEON AND BURNS HELD IN BALL SCANDAL

CHICAGO, July 13.—With only four jurors selected and the first venire of 300, exhausted Judge Hugo Friend adopted new tactics in speeding up the trial of the baseball players and others charged with conspiracy to throw the world's series of 1919 to Cincinnati.

Instead of allowing attorneys to examine each prospective juror separately, he ordered all the jurors called into a room and sent an attorney from each side to explain the theories of each side. As a result, four more jurymen were quickly selected.

It became known today that William Burns, former baseball player, and Joe Gedeon, former second baseman of the St. Louis Browns, are in the custody of the state's attorney's office. Attorneys for the defense made a motion asking that they be produced.

Judge Friend announced he would rule on the motion later.

They Were Wise at That.

New York turned out only 15,000 paraders in its protest against prohibition. The rest probably were at home guarding their cellars from the enforcement squad. — Philadelphia Bulletin.

TAX VALUES PROTESTED BY OIL MEN

Featured by complaints from owners of oil properties the county board of equalization Wednesday held opening day for protests for those who objected to the renditions as tentatively approved by the board. Numerous oil operators contended that the valuations established by the board were too high in view of the market price for crude oil.

Real estate owners also registered many complaints. It is not expected that the board will complete its work before the end of the week.

FAST ROUNDS FEATURE PLAY FOR WESTERN

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 13.—After two fast match rounds of 18 holes, in which few plays went more than two or three strokes above par—73—and one broke par by three strokes, five Chicagoans, including Champion "Chick" Evans, one Iowan, one Minnesotan and one Michigan man remained tonight in the contest for the western amateur golf championship over the links of the Westmoreland Country club.

All southwestern contenders were eliminated in the first round, and the three southern challengers lost in the second.

As a result of today's play, R. E. Knepper, Sioux City, Iowa, will meet Douglas Tweedie, Chicago; G. H. Hartman, Chicago, will play Burton Mudge, another Chicagoan, H. R. Johnston, St. Paul, will be paired with C. H. Rogers, Grand Rapids, Mich., and Champion Evans will meet Ira Couch, a fifteen-year-old Chicago boy.

All four St. Louis players were eleminated in the first round, as were two Kansas City stars and the Texas and Oklahoma contenders. In the first round, eight matches were won by a margin of one up and one went 19 holes.

In the play-off of the tie for the Olympic club, the trans-Mississippi team won from St. Louis by 310 to 318.

that a breakdown of the negotiations, which are now finally underway, would in all likelihood result in bitter recriminations, accusations and possibly the resumption of armed conflict—an aftermath, which for Ireland would be a worse state of affairs than if the pourparliers had never been instituted.

But while there was little word for the public regarding the proceedings, the eve of the conference saw intense activity in both camps. The premier reviewed the situation with a large staff of advisors in the solitude of his country home, while Mr. De Valera spent the day and the evening in counsel with Arthur Griffith and other aides, together with many London partisans. The bishops of Southwark and Portsmouth were among the callers at the Irish delegation headquarters.

The government unofficially sought to encourage the idea today that Mr. De Valera's party had already been in close touch with the premier, even suggesting that members of the party had been at Chequers court during the afternoon, but Mr. De Valera's secretary stoutly denied that there had been any such conference. The only exchange of any sort between the two parties, it is asserted, was the premier's letter suggesting the hour of meeting and the Irish leader's reply, agreeing.

To a question as to whether Mr. DeValera would enter the conference with a definite policy to which he was pledged to adhere, one of his associates said:

"Two weeks ago any of us could have answered that query briefly and certainly, but the position is altered now."

Those who have followed recent events closely interpret this as an indication that the Irish leader would not press the claim for an independent republic, but "play cards" in an effort to learn the utmost Great Britain was prepared to give, which would be submitted to the Dail Eireann for consideration or acceptance.

Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, is crossing from Belfast tonight and will be at hand if the obstacles offered by the preliminary discussions are cleared. There is some uncertainty whether the premier or Mr. De Valera will have colleagues at the first meeting.

The original intention was to have an introductory meeting between the two men, but because of the recognized dangers of a misunderstanding arising in such unaided discussions it was considered probable tonight that each of the principals would be accompanied by at least one man. In that event Arthur Griffith is most likely to act with his chief.

To what extent the public will be permitted to know what transpires within the conference chamber will be one of the questions to be determined tomorrow. Both camps manifest belief that the purposes of the conferences would be served best by withholding the details until a conclusive result is attained.

NEW SCHOOL JAPS NOT ADHERING TO FAITH OF FATHERS

By Associated Press.

TOKIO, July 13.—The indifference of Japanese students above the middle school to ancestor worship is causing the government considerable concern, according to K. Yamada, chief of the Shinto affairs bureau in the home department, who addressed the general conference of the Shinto priests of Japan. Ancestor worship is the fundamental religious custom in this country and is closely related to national veneration for the imperial family and the imperial ancestors.

"It is regrettable that the higher the education students receive in this country, the more indifferent is their faith in ancestral spirits," said Mr. Yamada.

"Judging from the number of visitors to the shrines and the amount of contributions such pilgrims make, there is every reason to conclude that despite the growing predominance of foreign objectionable ideas in this country since the late war, the spirit of worshipping ancestral shrines still remains intact.

"A serious fact, however, is that whereas the elementary school children are always sincere and earnest in their faith, students studying in schools higher than middle schools show indifference towards such a matter."

The worshipping of ancestral shrines is so closely associated with the national character of the empire that the above tendency cannot in the least be ignored as anything but serious. It is the authorities' decision that some proper steps be taken for the correction of the above undesirable state of affairs, assisted by the Shinto scientst"

Peekaboo Waist Leads Fair One To Paying Fine

By Associated Press.

ZION, Ill., July 13.—Mrs. Sarah Johnson was fined $5.00 and costs yesterday for violation of the town's dress ordinance.

She was charged with exposing the neck lower than the juncture of the pit of the neck with the collar bone, and the shoulders more than a third part from the neck to the shoulder tip, with exposing the arms above the middle of the forearm with wearing a "peekaboo" or mosquito net blouse.

Mrs. Johnson on the witness stand contended it was a pink corset cover that officers saw through her waist and offered to go home and get it.

City Attorney Theodore Forby complained that peekaboo waists have a tendency to make men curious and are conducive to low public morals.

"Women ride through this town in automobiles with not enough clothes on to fill a quill toothpick," he asserted.

STATE EMPLOYES OF ITALY GO ON "WHITE STRIKE"

By Associated Press.

ROME, July 13.—The recent "white strike" of the state employes of Italy produced another series of innovations in labor disputes. The workers kept their positions and nominally did not cease to work but all "soldiered on the job" to such an extent that in many cases total abstention from work would not have wrought greater damage.

The strike besides involving the ordinary employes in the state administration included the postoffice forces, which in Italy comprises both the telephone and telegraph. The employes would present themselves for work in the morning and "soldier" along with their work, getting practically nothing done until 11 o'clock, when all would leave the various ministries and offices for a labor meeting.

The whole of the state's administration would then be at a standstill for several hours, while in some cases it extended for the whole day. Besides the mass meetings, there would be local meetings held in the various departments, all at the expense of the time of the government.

The greatest public inconvenience was caused by the attitude of the postal employes, including the telegraph and telephone staffs. Dismissal was threatened those who attended the daily labor meeting but that threat only partially succeeded in restoring discipline. Telephone service was practically at a standstill. Persons would attempt to get the centrals for hours and would finally give it up in despair. Occasionally, a central operator would answer but there was never a guarantee that the connection wanted would be given.

The leter carriers also participated in the "white strike." The street letter boxes became filled too full for another letter. They were only emptied when it satisfied the whims of the man assigned for the work. The service was completely disorganized.

Premier Giolitti gave orders that all adhering to the "white strike" must be punished. Accordingly over 100 were discharged in Rome, 400 in Milan, 140 in Naples and large numbers elsewhere.

"KNOT HOLES" NOT CAUSE OF BOYS' ARREST

Numerous complaints that small boys have been responsible for the disappearance of articles from automobiles at the ball park was reported by police to have occasioned the taking into charge of about 18 boys Wednesday afternoon.

The boys were bundled into the police patrol and haled before Juvenile Officer Morgan and were soon released.

According to Police Captain Ehlers, it was not believed that all of the boys taken in charge were in any manner connected with the reported disappearance of the articles. The action was reported to have been for the purpose of impressing on the youngsters that they must not play around automobiles, while the owners are absent.

Police declared that the report that the boys were arrested for "peeping" on the ball to be absolutely unfounded.

UNPAID SOLDIERY OF CHINA TURN BANDITS

By Associated Press.

SUCHIEN, Kiangsu Province, July 13.—Vast districts of China outside of the larger centers are at the mercy of the bands of brigands, recruited in large part from the ranks of unpaid soldiery. Kidnaping probably is the commonest activity of the robbers.

In other days to be kidnaped often gave one an air of distinction for the demands of the robbers then were more or less moderate, but times have changed. Victims commonly today are forced to surrender all they possess to regain their freedom. The brigands seem to have their own commercial agencies through which they learn how much may be expected from a captive.

FOUR YEAR OLD GIRL EXPERT IN WATER

By Associated Press.

KANKAKEE, Ill., July 13.—Gretchen Shafer, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shafer, has added new laurels to her crown.

This time she is displaying her prowess as a human fish. It is doubtful if any other girl her age can do her stunts in diving, swimming and all-around aquatic gymnastics.

Up to a short time ago her father had her equipped with a set of "water wings," with which she floated about. She begged to discard them and her father reluctantly consented. To his amazement the child could swim.

Some claim that she swims a distance of 50 feet, but her father modestly puts it at 25 feet. She jumps off a low diving platform.

At two years Gretchen took a ride in an airplane. She was said at the time to be the youngest person in the country to fly.

The Australian commonwealth ministry has decided to make investigation which will lead to the establishment of a standard gauge railroad system throughout all the provinces.

PRODUCTION DECREASE IS SHOWN HERE

Production in the Wichita Falls district, as indicated by pipe line runs, was about 1,500 barrels short of last week of the daily average for the week previous, the total being 77,600 barrels daily for the district.

The decrease is distributed over all the pools, with the exception of the new Archer county-Texhoma and the South Bend. South Bend is up about 400 barrels on the daily average, and the Archer pool is practically stationary, the runs amounting to the capacity of the pipe line, according to reports.

Figures by pools follow:

Burkburnett, all pools	51,250
Electra	12,000
Kemp, Munger, Allen and Iowa Park shallow	3,200
Archer-Texhoma and Holliday	1,525
Petrolia	350
South Bend	9,400

Lines now under construction will make it possible for all of the oil to be run from the new Archer county area and from South Bend, good progress being reported on the Texhoma to the former, and the Sinclair to the latter, as previously outlined. The Sinclair line has been completed to the South Bend pool, but the pump station has not yet been completed. The Prairie is putting into operation another four-inch line from this pool, these additions insuring an outlet for much production above the present output.

Um Um! Molasses For Rum

By Associated Press.

SAN JUAN, P. R., July 13.—As long as there is an unlimited supply of molasses in Porto Rico and as long as so many people know what to do with it to make alcohol, there will be a rum problem in Porto Rico, according to the Rev. D. Y. Donaldson, retiring prohibition director who is returning to the states via Panama ot take up his new work as state secretary of the Oklahoma Christian Missionary Society.

"You cannot have a vote for prohibition one day and expect to have everything bone dry the next," said Mr. Donaldson.

"One of the factors in enforcing the prohibition laws in Porto Rico is the island's long coast line and the outlying wet islands. This, together with with the vast quantities of molasses in the island, make rum-making easy.

"There will continue to be violations of the law until the penalties for violations approach the maximum. Small fines are looked upon as a cheap form of license.

"There are men who are going to continue drinking until their hides are completely pickled. All of the police of New York city added to those of Porto Rico could not stop this."

In addition to a great deal of illicit distilling, Mr. Donaldson said that he was convinced there was considerable importation of contraband liquor and that this smuggling was to an extent an organized business. His office, he said, was familiar with some of the details of this organized traffic and in his opinion, it was only a question of time when this traffic would be made more difficult. He estimated that possibly 200 cases of brandy or other similar liquor were brought into the island each month.

CHINESE SCHOOLS CLOSED BY STRIKE OF ALL TEACHERS

By Associated Press.

PEKING, July 13.—Higher education in Peking, halted by a strike of teachers and administrative officials in all eight government institutions last March, appears now to have come to a complete standstill through resignation enbloc of the strikers.

Inability to secure payment of overdue salaries was the cause of the strike. Failure of the government to meet subsequent demands, embracing establishment of a reliable fund sufficient to ensure financial stability of the schools and colleges, was the reason for the resignations.

Eight hundred teachers and 6,000 students are directly affected by closing of the schools. The students made common cause with the instructors and declared that they would not resume attendance until the teachers' demands were met.

Recently, after the minister of education had tendered his resignation because of inability to remedy the plight of the schools, the ministry of finance let it be understood that the sum of $250,000 monthly would be available for educational purposes. Thereunpon the minister withdrew his resignation and the teachers were inclined to resume their vocations. They held off for satisfactory guarantees however, and misunderstandings arose when it developed that the sum proposed by the ministry of finance was intended to cover expenses of the ministry of education, in addition to expenses of the schools, whereas the teachers and students demanded $200.000 monthly for the higher schools alone.

The minister of education renewed his demand to be relieved and his resignation was accepted. The teachers continued petitioning the premier and the ministry of finance, but without result. At a meeting of the "joint teachers' council" an organization growing out of the strike, when it was resolved to resign in a body, the instructors determined, if possible, to finance the schools independently of the government.

"If this cannot be done in Pekin," the resolution recited, "there are other places that would welcome us with open arms. If necessary we shall go forth as private citizens and undertake to see that education throughout the land continues."

A manifesto to the public issued by the teachers, says in part:

"In the past few years the political situation has become more confused and turbulent than ever. The militarists are fighting for individual power and the unity of the country is a thing of the past. During this critical period the only thing that has kept the nation from falling to pieces has been the school, and by the school we mean education and development of education. The government, if it had any real sincerity would appreciate this and would do its best to protect those educators who have been fighting to maintain the spirit of the nation. We do not propose to sit idly by and see the nation fall to pieces because of party strife."

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE OF U. S. SHIPS LAID TO COMMUNISTS

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The disappearance at sea of several American ships within the past few months is being investigated by five departments of the federal government. A new link in the chain of evidence was recently made by the New York police, who report that plans were revealed to them in a series of raids on radical headquarters a year and a half ago for the seizure of these vessels at sea and their diversion to Russian soviet ports.

The police reported that a radical organization, now broken up, had urged its members who were out of employment, especially those with a knowledge of the sea, to seek employment on American ships, overpowering the other members of the crew and direct the ships to Russia. The department of justice officials state that no such schemes were revealed in the documents turned over to them after the seizures.

The fact remains, however, that one vessel, a sailing schooner, is stranded on the Diamond shoals, off Cape Hatteras, North Carolina, without sign of officers or crew, under circumstances indicating modern piracy, an indication strengthened by the subsequent floating ashore of a bottle containing a message from the mate.

The investigation, which has just come to light, has been going on for a couple of months, but the striking developments have occurred in recent weeks.

The schooner, part of the Deering fleet of Portland, Maine, sailed from Portland last November, bound for Rio de Janeiro. She evidently reached her port and was returning northward when disaster overtook her.

On a night late in January she passed the Diamond lightship stationed off Cape Hatteras to warn against the quicksand shoals which are known as the graveyard of the Atlantic. She was hailed and replied.

Entire Crew Missing.

The next morning, all sails set, the schooner was seen floundering onto the shoals. A coastguard cutter overhauled her, and the guard boarded her. There was not a sign of officers or crew. Food was on the tables in the galley and in the officers' mess. Clothing of the crew was in the lockers.

There was not a sign of a struggle, nor of any sort of mishap. The schooner carried a crew of eleven officers and men. None have been heard from to this day.

Investigation was begun. The coast guard was ordered to make a wide search for bodies, but none has been found. Before a tug could be obtained to take the schooner out of the dangerous spot where she stranded, a wind came up which pounded her to pieces. But the inquiry as to the fate of the men was continued.

No clew was found until in April, when a fisherman forty miles north of where the schooner stranded hauled out of the water a corked bottle. Inside was a piece of letter paper with the name of the mate of the Carol A. Deering. The message read:

Mate's Message Found.

"A large tanker or submarine has boarded us and placed our crew in irons. Get word to headquarters at once. I am hiding."

This message was dispatched to the headquarters of the Deering fleet. The handwriting on the scrap of paper was compared by experts retained for the purpose with handwriting of the missing mate on official documents he had signed, and was pronounced identical.

The coastguard confesses itself completely puzzled. The Diamond shoals off Cape Hatteras have a hard name up and down the Atlantic seaboard. There have been many instances of loss of ships with their crews. But the stranding of an uninjured ship with a missing crew add a new sort of mystery to the tales of the eastern coast.

Picturesque Landmark of Kansas City Passes With Death of Henry Kieffer, Proprietor of Real Antique Shop

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 11.—A picturesque old landmark went out of existence here recently when Henri Kieffer died and a padlock was placed on the door of his old curiosity shop.

To people interested in ancient things—furniture, jewelry, clocks, firearms, what you will—the dusty old shop, a few doors from Kansas City's public library, had been a mecca. It was stacked high with old mahogany furniture, old walnut, four poster beds from old Missouri homes, sheaves of rusty swords, and many things beside.

But the main interest of the shop was its proprietor. He was a big, broad chested old Frenchman, with a thatch of gray hair around a head mostly bald, with eyes that lighted quickly at a joke and were quickly compassionate at any tale of suffering.

He had lived in Paris once—was in the government service in the days of the third Napoleon, and had his own coach and four. He knew Metternich—visited him once at a hunting lodge in Austria—and Clemenceau—"Yes, I knew him when he was a young doctor, newly elected to the chamber of deputies." Now and then he harked back to those old days, as he sat with a friend at the back of his shop, drinking black coffee and lamenting the general unreliability of cabinet makers, who were either hopeless as craftsmen, he held, or uncertain because of their devotion to the bottle.

He was a man of warm friendships, and quick to remember his friends.

"Yes, you have been away two years. In the army, helping my France, is it not? Ah, monsieur, old Henri knows and keeps track of those who are his friends."

Sometimes his Gallic generosity was actually embarrassing to those friends.

"See, that little chair—is it not beautiful? I give it to you—no, no, no, there is no talk of paying. I will not sell it to you then. It is a gift, because you are my friend, and because you know what is beautiful."

"But, monsieur," the visitor would protest, "what sort of a way is this to run a business? You will starve to death."

"Never fear," the old man would chuckle, "there are many who come here who are not my friends—who swagger and talk loudly, and want old things because they are fashionable, not because they know or care if they are beautiful. The Lord sends such people to Henri and, believe me, they pay well."

All sorts of art students, writing folk and the like found Henri Kieffer a friend, and his shop a treasure house of unending delights and unfailing assistance. To take money from these friends was not to be thought of—this was a matter of courtesy, from one artist to another.

The principal reason that the shop is closed is that there can never be anybody to take Henri's place. It grew with him, was a part and parcel of his life, and with him it has drawn the curtain.

MISSOURI HUNTS RARE SONS FOR HER CENTENNIAL

SEDALIA, Mo., July 13.—Who are Missouri's oldest men twins?

The Chamber of Commerce Centennial committee is in receipt of a message from George and David Upton, seventy-two years old, who are bachelor twins. They were born in Missouri, but have been residents of Hood River, Oregon, for the past fifty years.

The elderly gentlemen express much interest in the plans which are being made to celebrate the one-hundredth birthday of the state of Missouri, which will be held in Sedalia from August 8 to 20.

Some of the Uptons' relatives, who live in Missouri, sent in the name of George Upton. An invitation was sent to him; also a centennial button. George immediately wrote to the centennial committee requesting a button for his twin brother and added that he would like to hear whether or not Missouri can boast of any more men twins older than he and his brother.

ARMY AND NAVY AIRMEN STAGE SHAM BATTLE

By Associated Press.

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. DELAWARE, OFF THE VIRGINIA CAPES, July 13.—Army airmen accounted today for the former German destroyer G-102 in what was regarded by army and navy officers as one of the greatest spectacle in the history of the American air service.

Thirty-five army planes and three blimps came eighty miles to sea from Langley Field, demonstrating, army men said, the ability of this arm of the national defense forces to go out and meet an enemy fleet approaching the coast. All except two of the aircraft returned to their bases and the crews of these were rescued by naval vessels after the planes had been forced down.

This, the third phase of the joint army and navy bombing tests, was strictly an army "show." Twenty-four of the aircraft that put out from shore took direct part in the attack, launching 84 bombs, twenty of which found the target.

Seventeen hits were made with 25 pound bombs dropped by ten pursuit planes, but apparently did little damage. The other three hits were scored with three hundred pounders and they sent the destroyer down to join the former German submarine U-117, sunk by naval aviators three weeks ago.

SAYS STANDARD FIXES POLICY

would be so thoroughly out of harmony with the larger policy which I have in mind that I should be more than disappointed if congress decides to levy a tariff on import oil.

"The oil industry is so important to our country and our future is so utterly dependent upon an abundance of petroleum that I think it is vastly more important that we develop an abundance of resources rather than temporary profit to a few producers who feel the pinch of Mexican competition."

HOUSE SEETHES OVER TARIFF BILL DISSENSION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The house ran under high pressure today and at a session tonight in its consideration of the Fordney tariff bill in anticipation of the consideration of general debate of the measure tomorrow.

Outstanding in the day's discussion was a defense of the bill by Representative Green of Iowa, ranking Republican on the ways and means committee, who contended that it would not result in a reduction of American trade, and a criticism of several of its provisions by Representative Carew of New York, a Democratic member of the committee.

Representative Hawley of Oregon, another Republican member of the committee, discussed the benefits which, he said, would accrue to the farmers through the agricultural schedule. He read statistics to show that 80,000 farmers had left the land in the last decade and inquired whether it was not time to let them know that the government was interested in their problems.

The possible effect the rates would have on the war built merchant marine was touched on by several Democrats, Representative Kincheloe, of Kentucky, especially inquiring whether the Republican party was going to "kill the fleet again."

No ships could continue in operation if they were able to handle cargoes only outbound, he contended, adding that the "prohibitive rates" drawn by the Republicans would have that result.

The Republicans were also taken to task by Representative Huddleston, of Alabama, for what he described as a willingness on their part to "open the treasury to the railroads again." The party leaders, he declared, appeared not to be content with "the raids allowed by the transportation act," and would not refuse the "unlimited demands which the railroads are now making."

"We have the spectacle," he continued, "of the president practically directing the senate not to pass the soldier bonus bill. We will also have the spectacle, if the party follows the white house direction, of giving not one cent to the soldiers, but millions to the railroads."

EXPECT NEW WING TO REVOLUTIONIZE FLYING INDUSTRY

By Associated Press.

DAYTON, O., July 13.—Years of effort to cut down the compartively high cost of commercial aviation will be realized, officials of the Dayton-Wright Airplane Company believe, with the patenting of a new wing, invented by an employe of the company. Patents now are pending in Washington.

The wing will be controlled by the pilot, and in coming to earth can be so manipulated that it will arch, much as a bird's wing, enabling a practically undeviating glide to earth, instead of flying at various levels before alighting, it is stated. Pending its patents the company is disclosing nothing further regarding the nature of the invention.

The new wing, according to Colonel V. E. Clark, chief engineer of the company, will make possible a reduction in cost, by increasing the carrying capacity of any plane upon which it is installed by more than 300 per cent. The same wing area and the same low speed in landing are retained, he said.

This will be accomplished, Colonel Clark said, by increasing the lift coefficient 80 per cent.

It is singular that the invention was practically completed by a coworker of the Wright brothers—J. M. Jacobs—an employe of the Dayton-Wright Company for 12 years. He spent seven months working on plans for the wing. The invention was concluded under the direction of Colonel Clark.

Officials of the Dayton-Wright Company expect it to revolutionize commercial flying. In addition to increasing the carrying capacity of a plane, the wing, Colonel Clark said, will make it possible to decrease the landing speed by 30 per cent, if the same load is carried as with ordinary wings, and increase the flying speed by 25 per cent, carrying the same load.

Most of the danger of landing will be eliminated he said, and a flyer will be enabled to land safely in a small field, now one of the most difficult things to accomplish in cross-country flying.

Advantage of the improvements, Col. Clark pointed out, may be taken as conditions arise and as the pilot sees fit.

Another saving that should be reflected in the freight cost, he added, is that landing fields will not have to be as large, for in keeping the same load as with ordinary wings, a flyer may get into a field one-tenth as large. Small municipalities, he pointed out, could better afford to establish such fields.

Increasing the carrying capacity of a plane will be accomplished, Colonel Clark said, by adding to the total weight of the plane, hence giving more poundage room for fuel and load.

A plane that ordinarily has a capacity of 1,000 pounds for fuel and load, with the new wings may take on 4,200 pounds.

They are designed to give a slow speed and a high lift in landing, and a purely high speed in flight.

The gliding angle may be changed without changing speed. It is necessary with old type wings to jockey with the throttle to keep at the lowest speed, Colonel Clark continued.

In landing in a restricted space, the wings may be set so as to offer increased resistance, enabling a landing at the closest possible point to a barrier.

WOULD MAKE PRESERVES FROM NEIGHBOR'S FRUIT

Special to the Record News.

DALLAS, July 13.—Somebody in Dallas is going to lose a part of their peach crop.

A woman appeared at the district attorney's office here today and asked if it was within the law for her to pick peaches from the tree of a neighbor, which hangs over her yard. She declared that she intended to make some preserves.

The district attorney told her to go ahead.

Mary, Queen of Scots, had a large collection of wigs and it is said that she wore one at her execution.

JUDGE LYNCH AND HIS RECORD.

America is the home of Judge Lynch. America has been his home for several centuries. He is not to the manner born. He first appeared in the city of Galway and Galway is an ancient seaport town in the Emerald Isle. Judge Lynch is as merciless as he is mysterious in method of dealing out his decrees or dispensing higher law justice. He should not have a place in a civilized world but he has. Like the poor, he has been with us a long time and like the poor he may remain a long time to come. In the first six months of 1921 there were thirty-six lynchings in the United States. This is twenty-four more than the number twelve for the first six months of 1920 and seven more than the number twenty-nine for the first six months of 1919. Of those lynched two were whites and thirty-four were negroes. Two of the latter were women. Eleven of those put to death were charged with crimes against woman. States in which lynchings occurred follow: Alabama 1; Arkansas 4; Florida 4; Georgia 9; Kentucky 1; Louisiana 2; Mississippi 10; Missouri 1; North Carolina 1; Tennessee 1. Law should ever be uppermost and mob law is to be deplored, where courts of justice are in existence and public opinion never tolerates the mockery of justice or the technicalities which permits criminals to evade or escape punishment. Mob law is the law of the jungle. It isn't "a higher law." It is the law of vengeance. Men who commit crimes against women are beasts in human form, but they should be put to the gallows or electric chair by jurors through the established courts of justice. Mob law is a reflection on southern civilization; it is a reflection on northern civilization; but racial prejudices are as old as time and when a negro attacks a white woman he simply invites his own annihilation and that too in short order. Texans are law abiding people. They are liberty loving people. They protect the thonor of their women but it is a matter for congratulation that Texas has not been listed as one of the states where Judge Lynch held court during the first six months of the year.

AN EDITOR WHO NEEDS GLASSES

One of the biggest deals that has transpired in Texas Newspaperdom in some time was consummated last week in Fort Worth, when W. H. Bagley transferred the controlling interest in The Fort Worth Record, The Wichita Falls Record News and the Ranger Daily Times to James H. Allison.—Terry County Herald. It would be well for the editor of the Terry County Herald to invest in a pair of reading glasses. The sale referred to was very important but Mr. Bagley did not transfer or sell the controlling interest in the Record News to Mr. Allison. He sold it to Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, Charles G. Manuel, Norris Ewing and Paul Backus, who have interested business men of Wichita Falls with them and who will publish a paper home owned, home edited and always a champion of the best moral and material advancement of the city of its publication and contiguous territory. No doubt it was an oversight on the part of the editor of the Terry County Herald and as it will be the mission of the Record News to keep the records straight, connection [illegible] by fun all [illegible] Record paper.

STANDARD OIL CHIEFTAIN HAS A VIEWPOINT.

Walter C. Teagel is the president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. He is one of the Titans of the petroleum industry and ranks with the foremost executives of the great industrial organizations of the world. President Teagel has taken the public into his confidence. He selected the Wall Street Journal as his medium. He predicts an appreciable decline in domestic oil production by September. He predicts reduced drilling operations everywhere in the United States. He refused to say when the demand for petroleum products would revive. He dismissed it by saying that the demand would revive when general business revived. Refineries of the New Jersey company are now operating about 75 per cent of capacity. Producing subsidiaries are drilling only such wells as are necessary to protect leases. Gasoline is the only product for which there is a normal demand, sales for the country averaging about 10 per cent above sales a year ago. Lubricants have suffered more than other refined oils. Every idle freight car means just so much less lubricating oil is being consumed daily. Reduced operations at industrial plants curtailed the use of lubricants. Every factory shut down curtails the consumption of fuel oil. There has been no improvement in the export demand for oil since the beginning of the year. President Teague is never spectacular. His interviews are never decorated with frills. He said to the Wall Street Journal representative that the new export taxes decreed by President Obregon will automatically bring the product of the Mexican fields above the cost of oil in other fields, and he failed to see how Obregon could collect any increase of taxes under present conditions. But the war goes merrily on. Mexican soldiers are guarding the Tampico fields or rather the properties of foreigners. Thousands of Mexican workmen are idle. When the Mexican is idle he is hungry. Joseph P. Guffey, who is said to have been shorn of his fleece by the Standard is said by Wall street propagandists and publicity agents to be adviser of the president of the Mexican republic. This should be taken with a grain of salt. President Obregon is as wise to conditions in the United States as he is to conditions in Mexico. Washington has been deluged by representatives of the independent producers. These gentlemen are fearful that oil will be placed on the free list by a direct vote of the house. Those who favor Mexican crude on the free list, those who believe that Mexican fuel oil should be placed on the free list and kept on the free list, have their well organized and well trained lobbies directing the free raw material side of the fight. Republicans control the executive and the legislative branches of the government. They are pledged to protect all American industries and yet the most determined opponents of a tariff on oil importations are life long republicans, men who are high in the councils of the party and who have been liberal givers to the campaign chests of the party. It is more than a merry row. Oklahoma oil men landed that state in the republican column. Kansas oil men increased the republican majority in the sunflower state in 1920. Thousands of oil men in Texas are republicans and voted for Harding and Coolidge. They are asking for bread. Those who are of the inner circle are fearful that they will be given the hot end of the tariff poker. It depends on whose ox is being gored. Powerful manufacturers and factory kings of America demand and expect and are given protection on their finished products. They have been using Mexican fuel oil, admitted duty free and they are not going to return to coal burning if it is possible for them to keep fuel oil on the free list. Business is business. Touch a man's pocket and you touch his politics. Touch his pocket and sometimes you warp his religion and most of the time change his personal viewpoint.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

CONVENTION SLAVES.

The rags I wear are always duller than is the autumn meadow's hue, yet I would run to gorgeous color if I had courage so to do. I'd wear silk shirts with stripes of crimson, and gaudy garments brave and smart; I'd be a sight to ease your glims on, if I had not a rabbit's heart. But I am doomed to sombre raiment, like all the other old boys here; for dreary duds we make our payment, and like morticians we appear. If I should drape my ancient body in brighter tints, the folks would say, "That pelican is much too gaudy for one whose head is bald and gray; instead of wearing silks and ermines, he should in humble garments stand, and spend his evenings reading sermons, preparing for another land." I'm old in years but young in spirit, and I would dress like sweet sixteen; but men's rebuke! alas, I fear it, and cut out pink and red and green. My maiden aunt in years is stricken, but she has raiment on the mind, and you would take her for a chicken if you should see her from behind. But if I wear a dash of yellow, she lifts her hands in wild dismay and cries, "You foolish, silly fellow! Such colors when your head is gray!" Thus men are doomed to colors dismal, though dames may wear what hues they please, and age becomes a grief abysmal, a sordid thing of soup and cheese.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

Who's Who

GEN. JAN CHRISTIAN SMUTS

GEN. SMUTS

Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, premier of the Union of South Africa and often referred to as "the British empire's greatest living statesman," is the outstanding figure in the present peace negotiations between England and Ireland. Smuts' role is that of a mediator. On returning to London from Ireland, a few days ago he stated that he considered the prospects bright for lasting peace in Ireland.

General Smuts was not born in Briton; but became one when his native Transvaal was annexed by England after the Boer war. In the war Smuts served with the Boer army with great distinction.

General Smuts was born in 1870, and was educated at Christ's college Cambridge. Following his admission to the bar he hung out his shingle at Johannesburgh, Transvaal, in 1896. Defeat of the Boers did not embitter him toward England, and the outbreak of the World War found him on the side of the allies. In 1916 he was given command of the British forces operating in German East Africa and annihilated German power there. In 1917-1918 he was South Africa's representative in the imperial war cabinet. He was chosen the first premier of the Union of South Africa, a position he has since held.

VISITS CITY FIRST TIME SINCE 1886

"The old town doesn't look the same, but I was able to find the police station without asking the way," was the declaration Wednesday of J. M. McKinney of Sherman who paid a visit to "old timer friends" for the first time since 1886.

Mr. McKinney bought the first Wichita Falls city lot sold at public auction shortly after the railroad was run through here and without ever seeing its exact location sold it for a clean profit of $400.

Mr. McKinney said that he believed the lot was a short distance east of the railroad tracks and near Seventh street. The depot was at that time located on Seventh street, he said, a block from its present location. He said that he paid $400 for the lot and received his cash profit without ever paying out a cent for the property.

Mr. McKinney, who is at present engaged as a carpenter contracting at Sherman, resided here for several years before the coming of the railroad and left about four years after its advent.

WHITECAPPERS PLACED UNDER BONDS OF $1,000

By Associated Press.

WACO, Texas, July 13.—O. D. Reed, W. L. Edmond and Bowden Hays, Jr., were held for the grand jury in $1,000 bond each today by Judge J. R. Jenkins after hearing testimony introduced by the state in the case in which they were charged with whitecapping.

George Jackson, the fourth man arrested, was discharged. The officers making the arrests testified that they followed the car in which K. Cummings was taken to the cedar brakes north of the city last Friday and soon after entering the cedars they met a car containing the three first named defendants and Cummings was crouching between the seats. He had been coated with creosote and feathers down to his waist. Hanging in front of him was a card with the words "This is a sample—evildoers and pro-Germans beware—100 per cent Americans. Ku Klux Klan."

The defense had waived examination and the state only introduced testimony. There was no evidence connecting George Jackson with the offense, he having been arrested in another car and at another place nearby.

The fifty-fourth district courtroom was filled with citizens during the trial and when Jackson was discharged there was a demonstration in his favor.

GERMANS DENY CHARGES MADE BY GOMPERS

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 13.—German organized labor has replied to the address delivered before the American Federation of Labor by President Samuel Gompers which charged that German labor was responsible for the war.

"The German workman," says the reply, "has as little cause to hide his face in shame as the American workman. The contention of Mr. Gompers that the German workmen could have prevented the war by the sacrifice of a few thousand lives betrays a surprising lack of understanding of European conditions. By such a course the German workmen would have opened the way for the Russian army to march on Berlin. A peace worse than that of Versailles and a fearful enslavement of all Europe would have been the consequence.

"The German workmen participated in the war only to prevent the complete overthrow of Germany and the victory of the entente capitalistic imperialism. * * * During the war we strove—we admit, with unsufficient success—to prevent the worst horrors.

"Recently we caused Germany to accept the terrific burden of the ultimatum in order to open the way through colossal sacrifice for the reestablishment of real peace. We are combatting the nationalistic policy of revenge and we are working for democracy and true peace.

"We would be happy if the American workmen would renounce unjustifiable reproaches, let by-gones be by-gones and extend us the hand of comradeship in our common endeavors."

ADD THREE ENGINES TO EQUIPMENT

Three freight engines have been added to the equipment of the Wichita Falls & Southern railroad, since the opening of the line to South Bend and preparations have been made to care for the freight traffic which will, the officials believe, come with the completion of the extension to Jimkurn. This addition, officials state, puts this road in first class condition to handle the heavy wheat movement this year.

The tentative date for the entrance of the railroad into Ellisville is still set at July 20 to 25, according to the local office. Advices from Chief Engineer McFarland state that the construction work is progressing according to schedule and that early entrance is expected.

Better service is expected to result with the completion of the present extension to Jimkurn, and connection with Breckenridge and the Ranger road, as it is expected to inaugurate two trains a day service on the date of the completion of the link to Breckenridge.

BEQUEATHS PRIZE TO AMERICAN CREW SINKING JAP SHIP

By Associated Press.

PATERSON, N. J., July 13.—The first American crew to capture or sink a Japanese warship in event of war between the United States and Japan would receive a prize of 5000 German marks by the will of Charles O. H. Fritzsche, former Paterson engineer, made public today. It was received here from Dresden, Germany, where Mr. Fritzsche died January 1. The will, made in April 19, 1910, creates a five thousand mark trust fund, the income of which is to go to buy firewood for the poor of Paterson, unless this country gets into war with Japan. Then the principal is to go for the prize.

Edward R. Weiss, legal adviser of Mr. Fritzsche, said that the engineer had been an American citizen for many years and that during the war his property had been seized by the alien property custodian.

ASK FEDERAL PROHIBITION OF NEWSPAPERS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—A delegation, headed by Noah W. Cooper, Nashville, Tenn., chairman of the Methodist Central Sabbath crusade committee, asked today for a hearing before the house committee on the crusade committee's proposal to bar Sunday newspapers from the mails and prohibit government employes from working on Sunday except in emergency.

In connection with the committee's appeal, Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform bureau, issued a statement that officials of the bureau and the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals "unite in announcing that they have had no part in and are in no way responsible for" the proposed legislation advocated by Mr. Cooper's delegation.

OKLAHOMA MAN GETS "T AND F"

By Associated Press.

ENID, Okla., July 13.—Walter Billings, wealthy real estate dealer and theater owner, was taken from his automobile in a street here last night, conveyed to a secluded spot several miles from town, and whipped, tarred and feathered by a party of masked men. He was then returned to town and set free clad only in his trousers. Police said alleged domestic difficulties in Billings' family probably inspired the attack.

BANDITS LOCK CASHIER IN VAULT AND ESCAPE

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 13.—Four bandits entered the Drake Park Bank shortly before noon today, locked the cashier and three girl clerks in the vault and escaped with between $7,000 and $8,000 in money and bonds. A student from Drake University passing the bank was shot by the bandits as they escaped in an automobile. An automobile loaded with police closely followed the bandits.

GARBAGE HAULING LAW EFFECTIVE ON FIRST OF AUGUST

The city ordinance prohibiting hauling of garbage except by properly appointed contractors who have furnished the required bond, will go into effect August 1, it was announced Wednesday by Dr. A. H. Douglass, city sanitary officer.

Official blanks to be filled out by persons desiring to meet the necessary requirement for hauling garbage, will be on hand at the sanitary office by July 20. After August 1, Dr. Douglass declared, any one found hauling garbage without having properly complied with the regulation will be arrested.

The ordinance requiring garbage cans at every residency in the city already is in effect.

All but $2,000 of the $16,000 needed in addition to the regular front foot assessment for pavement on North Ohio street has been obtained and turned over to the city, it was announced Wednesday.

The additional assessment is being raised by property owners to defray expenses of paving the east side of the street, which runs along railroad right of way, according to City Engineer Montgomery.

The remainder of the money is expected to be subscribed within a few days, according to the announcement of city officials.

DIFFICULTY DID NOT OCCUR ON NORTH SIDE

A report of a difficulty between women residents of an addition to the city which was carried in police court news of Tuesday as being staged in North Wichita, was incorrect, an investigation is said to have revealed.

The difficulty took place in another section of the city, north of the Wichita river from the main town, and not in the first mentioned addition, known as North Wichita.

Times Have Changed.

KERNEL COOTIE—AND THEN GUS FOUND OUT

MOVIE SHOWS HOW AUTOS ARE MADE

A motion picture trip through the Studebaker factories at South Bend, Ind., entertained a full house at the Palace theater Wednesdy night, when F. D. Keim, local Studebaker dealer, acted as host to the hundreds who took advantage of his invitation to see how motor cars are built.

Seven reels of technical information simplified for motorists held the large audience from beginning to end. The first reel gave the pictures of the South Bend factories and others in Detroit and Canada.

The growth of the Studebaker concern from 1892 when the sales were $175 to 1920 when they were $125,000,000, was explained after which the picture led the audience from raw material to the completed car on the road.

Although the majority of persons who attended Mr. Keim's party were men there was a liberal sprinkling of women who evinced as much interest in the building of an engine, the making of transmission gears, crank shafts and the like, as they did in luxurious body finishes.

The construction of these parts, their manner of working, and their relation to other parts was shown, after which the assembling of parts and the final completion of the car was pictured.

Mr. Keim expressed his pleasure at the large attendance and said that he considered it an indication that the people at large were much more interested in the mechanical workings of a car than they formerly were.

ROAD BONDS TO REACH CURETON ON SATURDAY

The transcript of the $1,500,000 road bond issue voted last month will not receive the attention of the attorney general's department before Saturday, according to a wire received Wednesday afternoon by County Judge J. P. Jones from E. L. Fulton, county attorney.

Mr. Fulton went to Austin Tuesday with the transcript to secure the approval of the bond issue. It had been hoped that the issue would be approved before the end of the week so that funds would be available at once for the continuance of the county road program.

In the middle of the eighteenth century the women of Vienna were prohibited by law from painting their faces.

WICHITA FALLS TO IOWA PARK ROAD OPENED

The entire length of the concrete road between this city and Iowa Park was opened Wednesday morning by J. M. Isbell, county engineer, when the barricades around a section of the road midway between this city and Iowa Park were removed.

Travel by concrete road from the Archer county line at Lake Wichita to Iowa Park through this city a distance of approximately 14 miles is now possible. The road extends to the city limits of Iowa Park on the east.

The celebration of the opening of the road will be featured by a big barbecue to be held at Iowa Park on Friday. Scores of Wichitans are expected to attend.

Work also started Wednesday on the laying of the concrete road between Iowa Park and Electra. One mixer started Wednesday midway between the two towns about a mile west of the Tom Burnett ranch house. The other mixer will start Monday at the Iowa Park end of the road, according to information from the office of Potts and Prentice, contractors.

EAST SIDE MISSION SERVICES REPORT GOOD ATTENDANCE

Dooley, are receiving increased evidence of interest each day, it was announced Wednesday night by the Rev. Dooley. The meeting was commenced last Sunday.

The mission is located in the Patterson addition in the building used last year by the school board and designated as the Bowie school.

BLACKRUST GIVES BOOST TO WHEAT

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 13.—Rapid development of blackrust gave fresh impetus today to the upward swing of the price of wheat. After showing gains of 5⅛c the market closed nervous 3⅞ to 4⅛c inet hgher, with September 1.28¾ to 1.28⅞ and December 1.30½ to 1.31. Corn finished ⅜ to ⅝c up and oats up ⅜ to 1c. Provisions closed unchanged to 15c higher.

Wheat traders displayed special interest in North Dakota dispatches saying that fields which a fortnight ago seemed free of blackrust were today badly infected, that crop conditions there were worse than the trade had generally believed, and that hot winds had cost millions of bushels. It was near the end of the session before profit-taking on the part of holders led to any material setbacks.

On the upturn December delivery touched the highest price yet for that month this season.

Corn and oats showed independent strength as a result of smallness of rural offerings. About 175,000 bushels in store here was posted as out of condition. Provisions averaged higher with grain.

ADVANCE IS MAINTAINED BY COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 13.—The cotton market maintained an advance tendency today with its strongest period toward the close when trading months were 26 to 32 points higher than final prices of yesterday.

Further improvement in the spot situation and rumors that large shorts were covering sent the market to its highest prices. The close was irregular at net gains of 20 to 30 points. October traded up to 12.66 and closed at 12.64. Early trading developed a fairly good demand, Liverpool being much better than due, but after advances of 20 to 22 points, the upswing was checked and later the weekly crop reports from the government came in and were generally accepted as being much more favorable than looked for.

Selling became heavy enough to send the market down to levels two points higher to two points lower than the last quotations of yesterday, October falling as low as 12.36.

For a considerable period the market drifted along making small recoveries but no decided fluctuations. Toward the close a burst of buying caused an excited and firm market and the largest transactions of the day.

While much of this buying was laid to a sudden desire on telegrams from Galveston saying there was a strong demand there for spots for exports.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Yesterday's reactions were followed by renewed firmness in the cotton market today with prices settling back to nearly the high points of Monday⅝. After advancing to 13.09 early, October eased off to 12.89 but touched 13.17 in the late trading and closed at 13.13 compared with 12.85 at the close yesterday. The general market closed steady at a net advance of 23 to 30 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 13 to 18 points owing to renewed strength in Liverpool futures and the continued active spot demand reported in the English market. Reports of a better tone in the domestic goods trade also were a factor and the market sold some 20 to 24 points net higher during the middle of the morning. A somewhat broadening commission house demand was reported on the advance but above the 13 cents level for October, there was renewed realizing and probably some southern selling. This was promoted by rather a more favorable weekly weather bureau report than anticipated and prices eased back to within a few points of last night's closing quotations with July selling at 12.25 and December at 13.20. Houses with Japanese connections were good buyers of October on this decline and the market firmed up again during the afternoon owing to the continued absence of southern hedge selling in any important volume and continued reports of good spot demand. Prices reached the highest levels of the day in the late trading with December up to 13.56. Closing prices were within a few points of the best.

STOCKS GO THROUGH DAY OF DULLNESS

NEW YORK, July 13.—Midsummer dullness prevailed in today's stock market until the final hour when shorts were driven to cover on a sharp upward movement in foreign oil.

Mexican petroleum, which had dominated the early and intermediate periods of the session, was lifted nearly eight points to 107 1-4; and affiliated issues, notably Pan-American Petroleum and General Asphalt, strengthened. The remainder of the list rallied variably, but gains and losses were irregularly mixed at the close.

Changes among rails in which dealings were unusually light, were nominal for the most part, although Canadian Pacific, Atlantic Coast Lines, Louisville and Nashville and several coalers eased on small offerings.

Notwithstanding increased demands for money and tomorrow's withdrawal of $80,000,000 by federal reserve banks, call loans did not rise above six per cent and all time loans were not at that figure. Business in foreign exchange was perfunctory.

In the bond list the trend was mainly higher, liberty issues and speculative rails hardening. Cuba cases severe improved on prospects of a Cuban loan and foreign war flotations strengthened.

BANKERS' POOL TO OPERATE ON MONDAY, JULY 18

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 13.—The $50,000,000 livestock pool, subscribed by bankers at recent conferences here and in New York will be in operation by next Monday, July 18, according to Everett C. Brown, president of the National Livestock Exchange. M. L. McClure, a livestock commission man and banker, will direct the pool with offices in Chicago.

No direct loans will be made by the pool corporation, Mr. Brown announced, because the corporation has no machinery for investigating proposed loans. The loans will be made through local banks and cattle loan companies.

Loans will be made on stockers and feeders as well as breeding stock, Mr. Brown said.

WHEAT ADVANCES 5 CENTS A BUSHEL

Wheat took another upward spurt in the local market Wednesday, $1.05 for number one grade being offered. This makes No. 2 sell for $1.02 and No. 3 for 99 cents a bushel. This raise is brought about by the unusual rise in the market in Chicago and other points due to strengthening of the demand.

Local receipts of wagon wheat continue good and are holding up well, according to local grain men. Railroads continue to do a good business in wheat although no great shortage of cars has been reported.

NEW YORK COFFEE.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Coffee futures remained very quiet and showed irregular fluctuations. Answer:— You can fish for good-health if you use pure drugs for bait!

You're quite apt to land a bunch of good health if you fish for it with pure drugs. We all at times find it necessary to take medicines. They should be preparations compounded with intelligent skill and of the purest remedy-elements obtainable.
