Hospital Board Is Taking Donations

Donations for furnishing rooms in the Hall County Hospital are now being accepted by members of the Hospital Board, Chairman Ben Parks stated this week. Many citizens and organizations have indicated in the past their intentions to donate money for room furnishings.

Chairman Parks explained that the Hospital Board was given a figure of from $500 to $750 to furnish a room in the hospital. He explained that the names of organizations or individuals who contribute money to furnish a room or rooms will be placed on bronze plaques, which will go over doors of rooms stating: "This Room Was Furnished by _____." These plaques will be in place by the time the hospital opens its doors, he stated.

"The Hospital Board feels that it will be operating on a tight equipment budget," the chairman said. "and the members would appreciate any donations citizens or organizations feel they would like to give."

Donations may be given to any member of the Hall County Hospital Board, including Chairman Parks, Secretary-Treasurer R. C. Clements, L. J. Halford, Carl Hill, O. M. Cosby, Jr., and W. B. Mullin. Or, donations may be given to any one of the four Hall County Commissioners, Ed Hutcherson, O. R. Lambert, H. W. Spear, or W. F. Brittain, or to Hall County Judge E. (Gip) McMurry. Receipts will be issued by Mrs. Lucile Wright, county treasurer.

The Hall County Hospital Board will meet next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the directors room of the First National Bank for their regular monthly meeting.

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Held Sunday Afternoon

Rodney Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Jones, and Miss Marcene Stephens, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Stephens, did the honors of breaking the ground for the $100,000 "Cousins Home" at the corner of Brumley and 18th Streets at 2:30 p. m. Sunday before an interested crowd of spectators and dignitaries.

The ground breaking was the climax of the program.

Construction began Monday on the 34-bed completely modern nursing home. A contract was signed last week between L. F. (Chuck) Jones and Mrs. Mildred Stephens and The Aged Homes, Inc., of Fort Worth to build the nursing home here. They estimate that the building will be finished some time in June.

Mrs. Stephens and Jones announced this week that "we have already received applications from 15 persons who want to enter the new Cousins Home when it is ready for occupancy." Patients will be accepted as they make applications, it was announced.

The cousins also stated that among those who were invited to the ground breaking ceremony last Sunday were the following doctors: O. R. Goodall, H. R. Stevenson, J. A. Odom and Robert Clark, although their names were not turned in for publication last week.

"We would like to publicly thank Byron Baldwin for acting as master of ceremonies, and express our appreciation to all who attended," Mrs. Stephens and Mr. Jones said.

Making short talks at the ceremony were: District Judge Luther Gribble, Mayor H. J. Howell, J. Claude Wells, C. of C. Manager Clifford Farmer, Mrs. Mildred Stephens, President Edward Bissa of Aged Homes, Inc., County School Supt. Tops Gilreath and Ottie Jones.

The opening prayer was given Rev. Richard Avery, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and the closing prayer was given by Rev. Fern Miller, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The building will contain 7,000 square feet and will be of brick veneer. The home will be completely air conditioned and central heated.

Mrs. Stephens and Mr. Jones said that the home will employ approximately 12 persons, including licensed vocational nurses, nurses' aids and cooks.

Fair Treatment!

THE CONSTITUTION of the United States guarantees to each of its citizens a trial by jury. It has long been an established tenement of law that an accused is entitled to be faced by his accuser — openly and not covertly.

AND YET WE have, always in our midst, men and women who are not always accorded even a remote semblance of such fair treatment.

PREACHERS AND TEACHERS fall in the category of those who are most often victims of such unthinking treatment. Quite often their only mistake is in the choice of their profession of dedicated service to teaching our children.

A NEWSPAPERMAN HAS means with which to defend himself. A farmer or rancher is independent to the extent that he can fight back, defend himself in court or otherwise and suffer no serious loss. Most of us are fortunate in this respect.

THOSE DEDICATED to our youth can be and occasionally are accused, tried and suffer loss of position and serious economic loss without ever having been heard or faced by their accuser. And these dedicated people are far above the average in intelligence, patience, personal integrity and dedication. They deserve better treatment.

WE REALIZE THAT we, as parents, are sensitive regarding that which our children are learning — or not learning — in school and church. Are we, as sensitive about what they are learning —or not learning — in our homes?

MISTAKES ARE GOOD for us if we learn from them. Sunray has an excellent educational system and excellent facilities; however, does it have a well thought out and thoroughly understood plan for handling personnel problems? Many schools have adopted such orderly plans whereby personnel problems can be handled with fairness and dignity.

USUALLY THESE PLANS encompass three or four procedurial steps. First, the administrative head of the system has a conference with the member of the staff concerned and deficiences and corrective measures are pointed out to the staff member. If the first step fails, then the second step may be an informal conference with the administrative head or heads concerned and the staff member concerned. In this conference the board may issue a warning, after hearing both sides of the controversy, and require certain corrections.

IF THE SECOND STEP fails then step three is put into effect. In step three written charges are filed with the school board by the administrative head. A copy is furnished the staff member concerned. Ample time is allowed the staff member and administrative heads to present their side of the problem. The school board acts as a jury and accords a full hearing of both sides in the controversy. Such matters should never be rushed for the result will be an emotional decision and not a fair and just one.

SINCE THE COMPOSITION of the school board membership is constantly undergoing change and since there are changes in administrative posts any such plan should be reviewed at regular intervals by the board and administrative heads in order that proper procedures are followed.

The Fatal Nine-Tenths

For some years, research people, especially at Cornell University and the University of California, have been studying automobile crashes. It may give you immediate cause to meditate over your own driving skills and habits once you know in detail what happens during those deadly tenths of a second when an automobile at 55 miles an hour is crashing into a solid tree. It does not take you long to die in those circumstances.

In the first tenth of that fatal second, your front bumper and grill collapse, with slivers of steel penetrating the tree to depths of one and a half inches or more.

In the second tenth of a second, your hood crumples as it rises, smashing into the windshield, and spinning rear wheels leave the ground. Fenders begin wrapping themselves around the tree, forcing the rear parts to splay out over the front doors, The car frame is being braked powerfully, but your body is still moving at 55 miles an hour. This means a force of 20 times gravity, your body now weighs 3200 pounds.

Instinctively, you stiffen your legs for the jolt, but they snap at the knee joints.

During the third tenth-second, your torso upright leaves the seat and broken knees ram into the dashboard. The steering wheel begins to collapse under your death grip, the steering column drives toward your chest.

In the deadly second's fourth tenth, the car's front two feet are totally demolished, but the rear end is still coming on at 35 miles and hour. YOU are still doing 55. Half a ton of motor plunges into the tree. The car's rear, like a bucking horse, rises high enough to scrape bark off low branches.

In the fifth tenth, you are impaled on the steering column. Jagged steel punctures lung and intercoastal arteries. Blood spurts into your lungs.

In the sixth tenth, the force of impact has built up so great that your feet are ripped out of tightly laced shoes. The brake pedal shears off at the floorboard. The car frame buckles in the middle. Your head banks into the windshield. The rear wheels, still spinning, fall back digging into the earth.

And in the seventh tenth of the second, the whole car is distorted. Hinges rip. Doors open. In one last convulsion the seat rams forward, pinning you against the cruel steel of the steering shaft. Blood spurts from your mouth. But it doesn't matter . . . You are already dead.

No need to go into the final three tenths of this horrible second, you won't be around to know them. And, of course, neither are your passengers. They have succumbed to their own troubles.

Let Freedom Ring

An idea has been originated which is hoped will sweep the country, stir a new wave of patriotic feeling and turn this Fourth of July into the most inspiring celebration in our nation's history. In view of the fact that the Fourth of July usually passes almost unnoticed in Silverton, with only a handful of business people even displaying the Stars and Stripes, we think the idea should be considered.

The idea is for church bells, bells in all government buildings, and all carillon bells in colleges and universities over the whole country to ring for four minutes on July 4, 1963, and each year thereafter. Every radio station will be asked to broadcast the sound of the bells for two minutes, following by a reading from the Declaration of Independence.

At Independence Hall in Philadelphia, bells would peal at 2:00 p.m. EDT; in the Midwest at 1:00 p.m. CDT; in the Rocky Mountains at 12:00 noon MDT; and on the Pacific coast freedom would ring at 11:00 a.m. PDT.

Proponents of the idea are two Connecticut Yankees with a lifelong interest in the American heritage — Eric Hatch, a distinguished writer, and Eric Sloane, a meteorologist, artist and writer who is an expert on early American barns, covered bridges and tools.

Since it is fitting that the nation's birthday be celebrated where it began, Hatch and Sloane suggest that a special ceremony be televised from Philadelphia, in front of the Liberty Bell in Independence Hall, and across the nation the bells ring out at this same moment.

As the great chorus of bells swells across the land, it will be heard by families at home, on the lakeshore, in the mountains, wherever Americans gather on the Fourth. The sound will come as a thrilling reminder of what the Fourth of July stands for, challenging each of us to remember the heroic resolve formed by the men who pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor 187 years ago.

July of 1776 saw the Declaration of Independence, democracy's greatest manifesto, approved by the Continental Congress. Delegate John Adams went to his Philadelphia boarding house and penned a letter to his wife, Abigail, in Massachusetts:

"I am apt to believe," he wrote of the great event in which he had taken part, "that it will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival. It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires and illuminations from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward forevermore."

Perhaps a little of the noble grandeur that John Adams felt has been dulled in our hearts by the passage of time. The Fourth of July has evolved into more of a summer holiday than patriotic festival and "games" and "sports" have taken over perhaps a little too much of the stage. The "illuminations" — or fireworks, were a dominant Fourth of July sound for decades, but have largely disappeared. The bells, which John Adams also mentioned, Sloane and Hatch now propose to revive as a uniting feature of the whole day —much like the observance of two minutes of silence at 11:00 a.m. on Veterans Day.

Adams wrote of an Independence celebration "from one end of this continent to the other," at a time when the newborn Republic scarcely penetrated beyond the Appalachian Mountains, when the whole West was a wilderness whose title was in the hands of Britain and Spain. Alaska belonged to Russia, and Hawaii had not even been discovered. Today, the grandeur of the Independence Day he envisioned should certainly be remembered.

What can you do to help bring about a truly reverent and patriotic Fourth?

Writers Sloane and Hatch appointed themselves a committee. Here's how you can help get the project started in our community:

Write to or call on the city officials. Ask them to sponsor the observance. A committee of volunteers from the historical society, VFW, civic, church and educational groups should be formed to go out after community support. Your local newspaper pledges its support to such an observance.

Make a survey of the bells in town — the church bells, school bells, fire siren — how many more are there? Find out who rings them and sign them up for 1:00 p.m. on July 4.

Write letters — and get your friends to write — to your local newspaper, to radio stations in neighboring towns, and to the area daily newspapers.

In the pealing of the bells across the land, we will have, every year, on our nation's birthday, a fitting reminder of the exalted words and heroic decisions that founded America.

Insect Control Shortcourse Set For April 1-4 At Memphis Vo-Ag. Building

An insect control shortcourse for adult farmers will be held April 1, 2, 3, and 4 under the sponsorship of the Memphis High School vocational agriculture department, according to W. C. Bryant, Superintendent, and Neal Hindman, teacher of vocational agriculture.

Phillip J. Hamman, entomology specialist with the vocational agriculture division of the Texas Education Agency and the department of entomology at Texas A. & M. College, will be the instructor for the course. He is headquartered at Texas A&M College.

Mr. Hamman holds a master's degree in entomology. He worked four years with the department of entomology at Texas A&M College as a graduate research assistant in the cotton program. He also worked one year with the Vero Beach Laboratories, Vero Beach, Florida in Insecticide Evaluation and Insect Culturing.

"Many insect shortcourses in various parts of the state have been taught by Mr. Hamman and all have proven to be very helpful in helping to solve farm insect problems," according to Neal

Farmers interested in attending the shortcourse should write or call the superintendent of schools, or the teacher of vocational agriculture. An entry fee of $2 will be charged. Insect control shortcourse certificates are to be presented to each farmer who attends all the training sessions.

Mr. Hamman states that these sessions will be adjusted to the problems that the farmers are faced with in their community. He will discuss these problems and the insect or insects that might be causing the damage and the insecticides needed to do the job. He will also discuss the timing and method of applying insecticides to get the best results. The course will be as practicable and simple as possible. Time will be allowed each meeting for any questions that may arise.

YOUR FAIR SHARE . . . .

Most Texans, we believe, are fair-minded folks. They believe in fair play, square dealing, and mutual respect for personal and property rights. Those who want to take advantage of their neighbors are the exception.

Sometimes it may be hard to define "a fair share." This can occur in dividing oil or gas production, when two or more landowners are involved.

As we all know, oil and gas don't pay any attention to fence lines.

Here in Texas many wells have been allowed to produce more oil or gas than they should have because they were drilled on very small tracts. That extra oil or gas came from under the neighbor's land.

Some oilmen made a regular practice of this type of operation. Obviously, one owner got more than his fair share—others, less.

People in 26 out of 29 oil-producing states have found a way to divide their oil and gas so that each owner gets what is rightfully his. They simply put their small acreage together and share the costs and income. This system is known as POOLING.

Such a system is needed in Texas. It is proposed in a bill now before the Legislature, HOUSE BILL 510. When the neighbors cannot agree, the Railroad Commission would set up a drilling block and see to it that the rights of all owners are protected . . . all costs and proceeds equitably divided.

Oilmen who have made fortunes at the expense of others could not be expected to support House Bill 510. They are bitterly opposing it. But the responsible oilmen of Texas are overwhelmingly for it. So are the informed citizens who want to see justice done.

Ask your Senator and Representative at Austin to support House Bill 510—so Texas, too, will have a reasonable and legal way to assure to each landowner his FAIR SHARE.

Memphis Netters Play Matches

The Memphis High School tennis team won a match with Pampa last Wednesday at Pampa, and will have a return match with them here on Tuesday, April 2, Coach Bob Martin announced this week.

Monday, the local netters lost to the Lakeview tennis team on the Memphis courts.

Jessie Murdock Submits Winning Pioneer Sketch

A gratifying number of Memphis students entered drawings in the County Design Competition, sponsored by the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, and set in motion in Hall County recently by the 1913 Study Club.

The Old Shoe Bar headquarters house was suggested as a likely model of historical significance in the county. Three seventh graders, four high school students, and one young man, age 12, handed in black and white 18-inch square drawings which were judged by Mrs. Harold Bugbee of Clarendon.

The sketches to be reproduced in stone as a county memorial at the out-of-doors theatre in Palo Duro Canyon were all very well done, with Jessie Wayne Murdock, a freshman and son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Murdock, placing first. Charles Kent (seventh grade) placed second and Linda Stone (a junior) placed third in this competitive venture. Linda sketched the Shoe Bar chuck wagon.

Others who entered the contest were Walter Linville, slightly under age but interested enough to make a good drawing of the Memphis Depot; Bobby Shirley and Jerry Don Hall, both of whom made creditable line sketches of the Shoe Bar's house, and Lowell and Kenneth McKown, brothers, who each turned in good sketches of the Shoe Bar chuck wagon scene. Lowell is a sophomore and Kenneth is a member of the eighth grade.

The first place winner's drawing will be framed and returned to his school for hanging, after the reproduction is carved in stone.

The 1913 Study Club, with Virginia Browder serving as chairman, greatly appreciated the efforts these students and Miss Clara Pyeatt and Mrs. W. C. Davis, who assisted them.

Delphians Hear Program Tuesday On Legislation

The Delphian Club met in the home of Mrs. Mildred Stephens March 19 at 4 o'clock with Mrs. A. Anisman as hostess.

The meeting opened with silent prayer followed by the Salute to the Flag led by the president, Mrs. Clyde Smith.

After a short business session, Mrs. Henry Hays, program chairman, introduced the program. The subject was Legislation. She read the quotation from George Jean Nathan "Bad officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote."

"What is the Common Market?" was discussed by Mrs. W. C. Dickey. In the opening discussion Mrs. Dickey said, "In the European Revolution called the Common Market the logic of the American Revolution is completing a circle nearly two centuries old." The irrestible forces that were released by the Philadelphia convention of 1787 crossed the Atlantic Ocean and shook mankind. Now they are returning to shake the United States and permanently alter the future," she said.

Present members of the European Common market are France, West Germany, Italy, Luxenbourg, Belgium and the Netherlands. Other European countries have applied for membership.

The official name of the Common Market is the European Economic Community (EEC). It's headquarters is in Brussels, Belgium. The association was formed in 1958. It's purpose was to increase trade and production of goods by gradually eliminating tariffs (taxes on goods) between the member countries. Eventually there will be free trade in the common market area just as there is in the United States. In just a few short years, the reduction of tariffs has given European business a tremendous boost..

The six common market nations now have about 170 million people. If Britain joins the total will rise to 224 million more people than either the United States or the Soviet Union. Eventually, the common market may bring about political as well as economic cooperation. This might lead to a powerful United States of Europe.

"The Pens That Sign" was presented by Mrs. J. W. Stokes. Before his term ends President Kennedy may prove to be the greatest distributor of keepsake pens in White House history. At one ceremonial bill-signing the President used twenty-two pens—writing just a few letters with each. Each of the 22 pens then was given to a Congressman who had been instrumental in getting the measure passed, or to some one with a vital interest in it.

During the business session, Mrs. C. C. Hodges was elected as the delegate to the District Convention of Women's Clubs at Vernon.

The hostess served dainty refreshments to the following club members: Mmes. J. W. Stokes, Sim Reeves, Henry Hays, C. D. Keith, O. R. Goodall, J. B. Thompson, Clyde Smith, C. D. Morris, A. Anisman, Mildred Stphens, W. C. Dickey and Miss Maud Milam.

The quotation by Miss Esta McElrath, "March blew down from the hills today, Wafting a hint of flowers to come, Flinging a symphony of wild birds' song, and echoing strangely of muted bees' hum." set the mood for a delightful program "From the Musical Heart of Texas," honoring Texas composers.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th

The Proposed Wheat Program

Wheat growers in the Panhandle, and all across the nation, are studying provisions of the wheat program proposed for 1964, evaluating it so that they will be able to cast ballots in the coming wheat referendum. Agriculture Secretary Freeman is expected to set the election date soon. A May election is likely, giving farmers more time than in past years to make plans for the coming year. The decision is squarely up to the farmers.

Each wheat grower must ask himself: "What would be the consequences for the United States and for me if the wheat referendum were approved or defeated?"

A favorable vote by two-thirds or more of the growers participating in the referendum would put this program in effect for the 1964 crops: A national marketing quota would be set at about 1.2 billion bushels, based on the national need for wheat. The national acreage allotment expected to be announced in several weeks will be approximately 49.5 million acres, and each wheat grower would have an allotment under the program. Producers with 15 acres or less would share in special "small farm allotments." Approximately 80 percent of normal production from allotted acres would receive farm marketing allocation—and for these allocations, whether marketed or placed under price support, growers would receive about $2 per bushel. Wheat in excess of the marketing allocation would return to farmers about $1.30 per bushel, either through the market or price support. According to the Agriculture Department, this price is close to the world price and to the feeding value of the wheat.

One phase of the proposed 1964 program is aimed at holding production to desirable levels by diverting wheat land to other uses. Diverted acreage would be in two categories: (1) mandatory diversion of about 10 percent of the 1963 allotment with payments at 30 percent of the support rate, and (2) voluntary diversion in addition up to 20 percent of the 1964 acreage allotment, with payments at 50 percent of the support rate. The diverted land could be put to conservation crops such as grass or legumes; it might be fallowed; or it could be planted to crops designated by the Secretary of Agriculture as not being in surplus supply. A land use penalty would apply, however, if diverted acres were planted to crops not permitted by law.

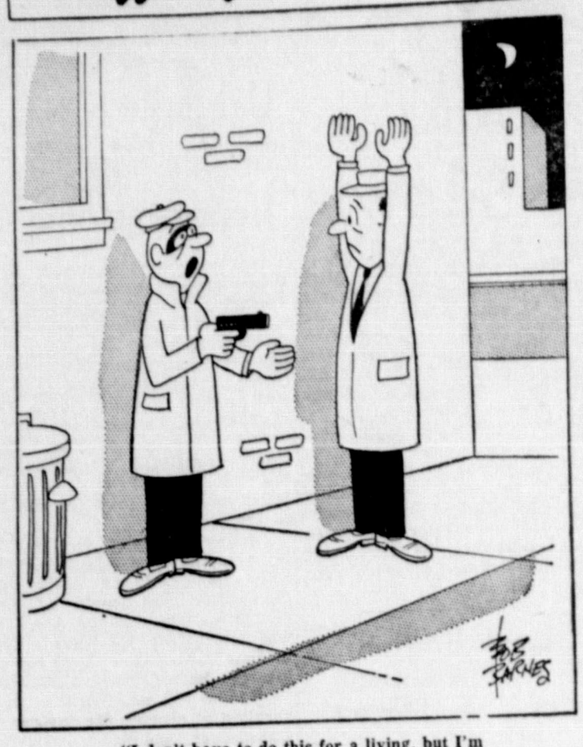

Obviously, the adoption of this program means a continuation of rigid government control over American wheat production. Each wheat grower must decide for himself whether or not he believes his government should exercise these proposed controls.

If more than one-third of wheat growers vote "no" in the referendum, these results may be expected: Wheat price supports would drop to 50 percent of parity, or about $1.20 per bushel for growers who plant within their acreage allotment. The national acreage allotment would not be changed. Wheat growers who planted more than their allotments would not be elegible for price support loans, but there would be no penalities.

Agricultural economists from land grant colleges and universities who've studied the 1964 program say that the effect of a "no" vote in the referendum would be these: Growers could be expected to plant up to 70 million acres or more of wheat compared with 49 million acres planted in 1962; harvested acreage would be about 65 million acres compared with 43 million acres in 1962; and wheat production would total about 1.5 million bushels; about 300 million bushels more than could be used at home or exported. Wheat prices would drop to a level based on wheat's value as livestock feed, probably about $1.10 with a feed grains program in effect and about 90 cents with no feed grains program. At these price levels, feeding of wheat to livestock might increase to about 100 million bushels a year, causing additional sorghum grain, corn and barley to be placed under government price support. The economists estimate that at these prices and quantities, total farm income from wheat would drop from $2.3 billion in 1961-62 to about $1.6 billion. On the international market, a "no" vote might force United States prices lower than minimum prices under the international wheat agreement, probably making necessary an expanded government role in controlling wheat exports.

Government programs involving wheat have three purposes: (1)To support wheat prices and farmers' income. (2) To export more wheat (despite the fact that every bushel of wheat exported involves a subsidy or some other payment by the government). (3)To hold down wheat production (an objective only partially achieved in past years). Each wheat grower participating in the referendum should form an opinion concerning these objectives and the part the proposed 1964 program would play in meeting them. If you'll drop me a card, I'll be happy to send you a copy of a four-page Agriculture Department publication explaining the program in more detail.

April 15 Is Deadline For Car Inspection

The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety today reminded the 1,300,000 motor vehicle owners who haven't secured their 1963 inspection stickers that they have less than three weeks to do so.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr. said that as the April 15 deadline for inspections approaches, waiting lines will begin forming at the 5,000 official inspection stations.

"Under the law there can be no extension of the deadline, and motorists who fail to display the new sticker on and after April 16 are subject to arrest," he said.

Authority for the enforcement of the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Act is vested in law enforcement officers of the Texas Department of Public Safety, any sheriff or deputy sheriff and any city policeman.

$400,000 a year to keep the power flowing

In addition to the tremendous investment in equipment and regular customer service, West Texas Utilities spends another $400,000 a year maintaining the vast complex of machinery to keep the power flowing. Here you see the hood being pulled from giant turbine.

Workmen replace blading veins which become eroded due to high-pressure steam flow. Highly skilled technicians are on call night and day. The moment trouble starts, their work begins. Much of the equipment is repaired on a regular maintenance schedule, before trouble appears.

The repaired unit is lowered back into its bearings by huge cranes, and the alignment minutely inspected before the bolts are secured — just one of the countless jobs performed regularly by West Texas Utilities' maintenance crew to assure you an uninterrupted flow of electrical power.

Ready to go! In the generating room at Oak Creek plant, the gigantic turbine does its job to generate power for West Texas Utilities customers in the vast West Texas area. Because the flow of electrical power is so dependable, you can enjoy living better electrically.

F. E. Monzingo To Close Out Tractor Business

F. E. Monzingo will close out his tractor business here Friday with an auction sale, which will feature over 150 tractors going to highest bidders.

According to an announcement last week, three auctioneers will start the bidding promptly at 10 a.m. Also to be included in the sale will be thousands of other items.

"This is a quitting business sale," Monzingo said. "We intend to offer everything we have—and the buyers will be here."

Among items advertised are: cultivators, breaking plows, tractor tires, one-ways, tandam discs, go-devils, loaders, shredders, butane systems, and literally hundreds of miscellaneous items.

Monzingo went into the tractor business here in 1936, and served as Allis-Chalmers dealer until 1950, when he sold out. After being out of the business for approximately one year, he began buying and selling tractors and equipment, trading in all makes and models.

It is this latter business which he is closing out. He has bought and sold in markets all over the United States. According to Don Monzingo, an associate and nephew of Frank, the firm sold more than 700 tractors in 1962. Also associated with the firm is Gayle Mongingo, son of Frank. The three, as well as employees of the firm, have been getting ready for the sale for the past 10 days.

"We'll sell these tractors rain or shine," Monzingo added.

McMurry College Chanters To Be Here Monday

The widely-known McMurry College Chanters, making their annual Spring tour, will perform in Memphis First Methodist Church, Monday, April 1, at 7:30 p.m., according to the Rev. J. B. Thompson.

Under the direction of Dr. Richard C. von Ende, chairman of McMurry's Fine Arts Division, the 55-voice choir from Abilene will sing sacred music for worship services and secular songs for high schools along the route of their 900-mile-tour.

The sacred music programs presented by the Chanters in the church visits are in five groups.

In the first group they will sing "Venite," "Let My Prayer Come Up Into Thy Presence," "Let All the Nations Praise the Lord," "Benedictus" and "Sing to the Lord a New Song." Jerry Spurlin from El Paso will be cantor for "Venite."

Three songs in the second group include "Jesus, Now to Thee I Turn Me," "How Shall I Fitly Meet Thee" and "Washington."

"Glory Be to God," "Nicene Creed," and "Our Father" are the third group. Jerry Spurlin will be cantor for the "Nicene Creed."

In the fourth group are "Wonderful Counselor" with solo by Reginald Brown and "Rock-a-My Soul."

Men of the choir will sing "In Heavenly Love Abiding" to open the fifth group. Steve Riley will be soloist for "This is My Commandment" by von Ende and soloists for "Kingdom of God" will be Jane Griffin and John Edwards. The program ends with "Nunc Dimittis."

The McMurry College Chanters were originated in 1923, the year in which the college was established. The choir has traveled thousands of miles, giving concerts to audiences in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, Rev. Thompson said.

While on tour the Chanters will sing in Wichita Falls, Quanah, Wellington, Shamrock, Borger, Gruver, Spearman, Stratford, Friona, Plainview, and Post, other than Memphis.

A cordial invitation is extended the public to hear the McMurry College Chanters.

How to strengthen the bridge of love at your house

For some couples, of course, the honeymoon is never over.

But most husbands and wives aren't so lucky. The problems and pains of day-by-day living, the awesome conflicts of our swiftly changing world itself, all come smash together sometimes . . . in what seems a concerted effort to shake the very foundations of marriage. Love just seems to go right out the window. And as the divorce courts can testify, sometimes it goes forever.

What can you do to strengthen the bridge of love in your family? Many a troubled couple has found rewarding and unexpected answers in their church.

Discover in yourself forgotten resources of successful, purposeful living. Worship together this week and find a deeper contentment in the life you lead.

MHS Teams To Compete In Amarillo Competition

The next two weeks will be full of contests for participants of spring sports at Memphis High.

This weekend, the Memphis track, tennis and golf teams will compete in the Amarillo Relays at Amarillo.

Coach Don Lambert stated Wednesday that the Memphis track team may show up stronger at Amarillo than they have the last two meets.

"We have had several of our key runners out due to illness," the coach said. "Richard Ellis is still on the injured list, and he has been replaced on the 440-yard spring relay team by Mike Crow."

Following the Amarillo Relays, the track team will have until Tuesday, April 9, to prepare for the District 2-A meet at Lefors.

The Memphis tennis team will go to Amarillo this weekend for the Relays, and then next Tuesday they will host Pampa. The District tennis tournament will be held next Wednesday at Wellington for the High School Division, and at Lefors on Thursday for the Junior High Division.

Then, next Thursday, beginning at 1 p. m., at the Memphis Country Club, the district golf tournament will be held. Only a few schools in District 2-A have golf teams, Coach Don Lambert said. Memphis is expected to walk away with the district honors in golf. The coach said Saturday he is expecting to take two golf teams to Amarillo.

Coaches Optimistic

Both coaches predicted victories for their teams in the up-coming district meets. Coach Lambert said that the Memphis track team has competed against most of the teams in the district, and, baring unforeseen sickness or injuries, has the best chance of winning the District Track Meet.

Tennis Coach Bob Martin was also very confident about Memphis' chances to win the District meet at Wellington.

"Our kids are playing the best tennis I have seen them play," the coach said, "and I feel they will do real well at the District Meet."

Easter Lilies To Be Sold On Streets April 13

Volunteers from the Easter Lilies Society for Crippled Children will sell Easter lilies on the streets April 13, Tops Gilreath, vice chairman, said this week.

Along with Easter lilies, the national Society sells Easter seals, which are sent through the mails to hundreds of homes. No certain contribution is asked, but the person may donate any amount desired, N. W. Durham, chairman of the local chapter, stated.

Through contributions to the Easter Seal fund, thousands of children are rehabilitated to a better life. But thousands more still need help—and so the volunteer comes, asking your help in order that a crippled child in your community will have a chance to grow up straight and strong, according to the announcement.

"As Easter is the season of new life, the Easter Seal has become the symbol of new life for the crippled. You share in a miracle, when you give to the Easter Seal parade," the chairman said.

Plans are also being made to hold a Benefit Show for Crippled Children in the Memphis High School auditorium April 23, Miss Gilreath added.

Mrs. Ace Gailey will serve as sponsor and she will be assisted by Mrs. Clifford Farmer as co-chairman.

Other than Chairman Durham and Miss Gilreath, members of the Hall County Easter Seal committee include Marvin Duren, treasurer, W. B. Wilson, Sr., Gip McMurry, Mrs. Joe Williams, J. H. Barbee, Jr., Homer Tucker, Virginia Browder, W. B. Hooser, Ben Parks, Mrs. Billy Thompson, J. C. Wells, Bill Boren, Ted Myers, R. C. Clements of Lakeview, Mrs. L. A. Tucker of Estelline, Mrs. Buster Crump of Turkey and E. C. Barnett of Lakeview.

lasses hole!" From then until now, I have been a staunch believer that the biscuit and syrup idea and the name have a mouth-watering meaning all their own. jcw).

Glynn Thompson: "If you can remember the open churns, and the churning done by the paddling of bullfrogs until the butter came (like our folks did) you are too old for the draft."

Mrs. D. D. Adkisson, Canyon: No, not leaving off Democrat—just forgot to send the money on time. Enjoy getting and reading it all. Glad to note the constant growth of Memphis. Would like to visit there some time, but may not be able to make the trip. Best wishes for all of you.

El Paso: Enclosed is a page of the Herald-Post of El Paso, and which I have circled an article that appeared 50 years ago, and reprinted today in the column "It Happened in Old El Paso." Thought it might be interesting to some of the old timers there. The item: "J. M. Gist of Memphis, Texas, will ship a carload of Hereford bulls to El Paso for exhibition during the cattlemen's convention." The sender of the item is Howard C. Gilchrest, El Paso, division manager of Mutual of Omaha. He closed with, "Sure good to see some industry in the old home town. The folks keep me pretty well informed on happenings there, and we manage to get back there three or four times a year."

Since the location of the new Cousins Home is on 18th Street, and that street is to be one of the main streets leading to the County Hospital other than Highway 287, it has been suggested by several people lately, that 18th Street should be extended about two blocks south to the East-West Highway, giving a direct route through the city to both the Home and the Hospital. It might be that both the city and county will take the matter under advisement, and do something about it.

The Memphis Garden Club is sponsoring the landscaping and beautifying the public area of the Hall County Hospital. The Club believes this is a worth-while project, and extends a cordial invitation to all clubs and individuals of the county to help make your hospital grounds beautiful. When the hospital is completed, it is the intention of the club to furnish the shrubbery, and other items of beautification. By the way, the Garden Club has been active for several months, and all participants have gotten many ideas for their flower gardens. From now on through the growing season, it is worth one's while to be a member and attend the meetings.
