It was a disappointment to Dearse.

ROBIDOUX TO GO ON TRIAL FOR SLAYING

MUSKRAT RAISER HAS QUEER STORY OF TWO DEATHS

(By Associated Press)

VICTORIA, Dec. 2 — P. F. Robidoux, 57, muskrat raiser, will go on trial here tomorrow for the slaying of Willett and James Moore, killed in what Robidoux described as a battle for his life in his cabin home on a lonely island in the Guadalupe river last December 11.

His defense has already been outlined, in two statements made at his examining trial and to the district attorney. Robidoux claimed the Moore brothers, one 34 and one 36, each weighing more than 150 pounds, were killed in a hand-to-hand fight.

Tells His Story

The slight, elderly man told how the men came to his island on a fishing trip, with their father, accepted his invitation to visit his cabin; how the youngest attacked him; and finally, how he killed them both and dragged their bodies to the river through the jungle-like growths of the island, which has never been thoroughly explored. His story was so remarkable authorities suspected he had gotten it from a book of detective fiction and searched his house for any such volume.

Kenyon Island, where the slaying occurred, is a desolate 500-acre tract where the river forks before entering San Antonio bay. It is covered with a semi-tropical growth.

Manning Mitchell," admitted his identity and left at once for New York, saying he intended to straighten out his affairs there.

Brophy disappeared from New York last August leaving a note to his wife which said he was coming to Coney Island "and walk into the waves until they cover me, and then I will be no more." New York police after an investigation said they doubted Brophy had killed himself. Nothing was heard of him until the news editor of the Bee-News made the discovery yesterday that Brophy and "Mitchell" were the same man.

"I only wanted to rest," Brophy explained. "My nerves were shattered."

Must Be Filled

"Our community chest must be filled," said General Wright, "and the workers are the hunters to hunt the wherewithal to fill it. All must be present to receive the necessary ammunition before starting out to hunt in the assigned territory."

Mr. Wright general chairman, will preside at the breakfast and there will be inspiration to prepare the army for the onslaught. Colonels G. P. Kuykendall, Mrs. W. B. Price, and W. O. Daniels will "charge" their respective divisions to action.

SIXTY-NINE CHILDREN ARE RESCUED FROM BEDS AS X-RAY BLAST FUMES SPREAD THROUGH HOSPITAL BUILDING

(By Associated Press)

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 2.—Sixty-nine children, ranging in age from 4 months to 15 years, all bed ridden patients in the hospital and home for crippled children here, were safely removed today when fire was discovered in the x-ray film storage room.

Although deadly fumes from the burning films filled the corridors of the building, none of the children, attendants or firemen was affected, no patients in a new annex was aware of what took place.

Traced To X-Ray Room

The fire was discovered by Dr. George Osgood, interne. He traced the fumes to the first floor where three rooms are devoted to x-ray work. After cutting electric wires and using a fire extinguisher, he summoned the fire department and aroused the staff.

By the time firemen had arrived, fumes had filled the lower corridors and could be detected half a block away. A second alarm was turned in, and a call was made for gas masks.

Move Patients

In the meanwhile, hospital attendants had started moving the patients. They were assisted by firemen who did not attack the blaze until the children were evacuated.

The firemen, their heads enclosed in gas masks, then extinguished the smoldering films which were giving off billows of smoke and fumes. Fire Chief Towey attributed the blaze to spontaneous combustion.

CONGRESS IS BACK TO WORK AGAIN TODAY

NEW SESSION OPENS AT NOON; TARIFF, TAX CUT BIG PROBLEMS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—A new session of congress began at noon today facing the task of passing on President Hoover's first full legislative program, which will be placed before it tomorrow in a 12,000 word message dealing with almost every national and international activity of the federal government.

It was not a new congress, for its members had been engaged in work of the special session through the hot months of summer. In going to the capitol today the members had to travel over sleet covered pavements.

To Cut Taxes

Although the work today consisted largely of formalities and preparation, Chairman Hawley of the House ways and means committee found opportunity to place in the basket on the desk of Speaker Longworth a resolution to carry out the treasury plan for a one percent reduction in the tax rate on individual and corporation incomes—estimated toeffect a total tax cut of $160,0000,000.

Another of the big issues to be faced, the tariff, was already before the new session, a legacy from the special session.

Both houses convened at noon, Vice President Curtis pounding for order in the Senate and Speaker Longworth wielding the gavel in the House. Despite the weather the usual opening day crowd was in the galleries.

Before and after the meeting the members, none too rested from the months of tariff debate, conversed in groups on the floor. Senator Watson of Indiana, republican leader, returned to the chamber after an absence of three weeks in quest of rest.

Demurrer Is Filed In Suit on Tunney

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 2. (AP)—Frank L. Wilder of this city today set at rest rumors of withdrawal of a $500,000 breach of promise suit brought by Katherine King Fogarty of New York City and Fort Worth, Texas, against James J. (Gene) Tunney, retired heavyweight boxing champion, when he filed a demurrer in superior court in behalf of his client.

Wilder demurred to a cross-complaint of malicious prosecution entered in behalf of counsel for Tunney. The cross complaint is based upon allegations that she at one time signed releases for any claims she might have against Tunney and that in bringing the present action she violated the terms of those releases.

HEAVY BONDS LIKELY FOR BORGER MEN

BETWEEN $60,000 AND $120,000 BONDS IN CASE EXPECTED

(By Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Dec. 2.—Apparently unworried over their arrest, former Mayor Glen A. Pace of Borger and ten companions were in jail here today awaiting a hearing on charges of violating federal prohibition laws.

Only one of the eleven prisoners seemed disgruntled. Sam Jones, former deputy constable, had just completed his $9,000 bond on two charges—the slaying of District Attorney John A. Holmes, and a state liquor charge—when he was rearrested and sent back to jail Saturday. Jones faced the prospect of having to raise another large bond, as officers in charge of the men unofficially predicted the total bonds for the eleven would be between $60,000, and $120,000.

Others In Jail

Others in jail with Pace and Jones were: Jim Crane and Cal Baird, former deputies sheriff; C A. Mitchell, former constable; Jack Payne, one time deputy constable, Johnny Jones, probation officer; Lewis Crim, H. O. Taylor, Louis Weitzman, E. L. Lanthron.

ATTORNEYS TO TRY FOR MORE TIME IN CASE

ABSENCE OF WITNESSES IS REASON TO BE GIVEN IN PLEA

Clay Lester will seek another postponement of his scheduled trial, in which he is charged with the slaying of his wife, Mrs. Virgie Lester.

Application for continuance in the case is being prepared this afternoon, after the defense counsel of Schenck & Triplett had announced that only 30 of the 66 witnesses summoned are present for opening of the trial in 99th district court.

The motion will be presented probably Tuesday morning.

District Attorney Durwood Bradley announced that the State is ready for trial, after calling the role of 53 witnesses and after Judge Clark M. Mullican had called the list of 200 special veniremen.

Defendant Is Calm

Lester, chewing an unlit cigar, looked calmer and much healthier this morning than when he was last in the courtroom, November 7, when the first motion for continuance was granted. Apparently, he has gained several pounds of weight, and his face does not reflect any ill effects from confinement.

He is wearing the same dark serge suit in which he was dressed one month ago. A multi-figured gray cravat and freshly laundered white shirt add to his neat appearance.

Crowd At Hearing

The courtroom attendance was increased several hundred this after-

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—The third John D. of the Rockefeller dynasty will begin today, to learn the management of America's most famous fortune.

Fresh from a trip around the world, John D. Rockefeller III will take possession of a desk in his father's office, on the twentieth floor of the Standard Oil building at 26 Broadway, to apprentice himself to the business of being a multimillionaire.

That the boy would some day come into the administration of the Rockefeller fortune has been taken for granted since the night he was born, March 21, 1906, in the big brick town house of the Rockefellers just off Fifth avenue on Fifty-second street.

But when he was born the name of Rockefeller still was synonymous with gasoline, and had not yet attained its present significance in the field of worldwide philanthropy.

The guessers in the next morning's newspaper conjectured that if the Rockefeller fortune continued to grow at its past rate, this first male grandchild of John D., sr., would be worth 90 trillion dollars when he was 60.

John D. III may succeed his father as a powerful figure in the world of oil, but an equally important part of his business training will be in the wise expenditure of the millions of dollars given each year by his family to cultural, religious and welfare enterprises.

For careers both in business and philanthrophy, John D. III has been carefully schooled. At Princeton, from which he was graduated last spring with honors, he majored in economics, solicited advertising for the college daily, taught English to foreign employes of the university and served as vice president of the campus religious society.

For several summers he has gone to Europe, generally traveling third class. A year ago he worked for three months in the information section of the League of Nations at Geneva. This summer he has been around the globe, as secretary to James G. MacDonald, chairman of the Foreign Policy association.

The crown prince of the Rockefellers is 23, a modest, slender, smiling lad six feet tall, with wavy hair. He plays tennis well, but tends to more serious pursuits. He neither smokes nor drinks, but is not intolerant of those who do.

His schoolmates at Princeton voted him the member of his class most likely to succeed, and one of the three "most pious" seniors, but they stood in little enough awe of him to call him "Rocky"—a nickname he greatly preferred to that of his prep school days—"Gasoline Gus."

His tastes are simple and he has been reared to live frugally. The best known anecdote about him is one pertaining to his boyhood. He was fooling with an old rowboat on the Rockefeller place at Seal Harbor, Me., and a neighbor lad who came along remarked:

"I should think you'd have a motorboat."

"Who do you think we are?" asked John D. III. "The Vanderbilts."

Unlike his father, John D. III is not likely ever to have to himself the entire burden of managing the Rockefeller millions. In addition to an elder sister, Abby, who is Mrs. David Milton, John has three younger brothers—Nelson, Lawrence and Winthrop—all in school now and all likely to take their places some day in the direction of Rockefeller enterprises.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

There are few positions so trying as that of stepmother. An own mother can get away with murder, but a stepmother is continually criticised by all the friends and relatives, who are quite likely to prejudice the children, even when they are amiably disposed to the poor woman who is trying to fill mother's shoes.

Only absolute fair mindedness on both sides can bring happiness out of the situation.

Of course the cruel stepmother of the fairy tale is not altogether a myth. And when little children are in the care of a selfish, unsympathetic woman their plight is indeed pitiable.

Something is wrong with the picture, which the writer of the following letter gives:

"My Dear Virginia Lee: I read your column every day and I think you give wonderful advice. But my problem is somewhat different from the others, and I would like you to help me all you can.

"I am 18 years old. My mother has been dead four years and I have a stepmother. Now, Virginia she is just as sweet and goodhearted as anyone when she wants to be, but sometimes she has 'spells' and everything I do is wrong. She never has them when daddy is home.

"Until last June I had a good position as a telephone operator, but I had to give it up because I lost my voice. I haven't recovered it yet, so it is hard for me to find a job, but I am working in an office now and am trying to catch up with my doctor's bills. I only make $10 a week, and that doesn't go very far when you have to pay bills and clothe yourself, too, does it?

"My stepmother thinks I ought to give her money each week and should not spend a cent for good times. I like to go to the show once in awhile and have a good time, but if I spend money for that it always ends in a big fuss. If I stay at the office and order a lunch to keep from getting wet, she fusses. Anyone knows that getting wet might make my voice worse. Don't you think so?

"My stepmother even told me that this was her house and for me to take my clothes and get out. She has told me this many times. My daddy doesn't know about this, but I never get a chance to tell him anything because she is always around home.

"If I had a good job and could talk I would leave home, but as conditions are now you know that I couldn't make my way. Now, Virginia, please tell me what to do.

"LONESOME NUISANCE."

Your stepmother does not say these unkind things continually I understand from your letter. She is temperamental. It may be a case of nerves. Even own mothers are occasionally unkind, even the best of them. It is inexcusable of her to ask you to leave your home, which was yours before it was hers, but people do say unpardonable things without meaning them. Try to be absolutely fair and impartial in your judgment, dear.

Next time she says anything like that tell her quietly that you would go if you were earning money enough to live on, but that you know your father would not want you to leave, and that it is HIS home as well as hers. Say that you will talk the matter over with your father. Then talk to him about it openly before her and see what he says. She probably will not let it go so far, however.

Try to be a loving daughter and make all the allowances you can, and don't think of leaving home unless things get unbearable. After all, it can't last forever. Your voice will get better, you will get a better job and marry the "sweetest boy in the world," and if you can still be good friends with your stepmother you will always be glad. Good luck to you, dear.

"Dear Virginia Lee: I have been corresponding with a young man for three years. He was my teacher during my last year in high school. I have always addressed him as 'Mr.' He has always called me by my Christian name. I feel that I should like to have the same privilege as he, but don't know how to go about it. PEGGY."

Lead up to it gradually, Peggy. Address him in your letter first as Friend So and So, and finally drop the Friend part. He'll love it, I know.

Indicating the plans for insanity plea, the list of defense witnesses included several physicians from different cities of the state, where Lester has received medical aid at various periods within the last 10 or 15 years.

Vernon had been committed to penitentiaries in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and California, Higgins said, five times.

"I had a hunch," said Higgins, who with Sheriff Allen Jones of Pawnee and Sheriff G. H. Ronas of Cheyenne, arrested Vernon in a hotel here last night, "that Vernon had wrecked the Southern Pacific train. I knew he had been freed from the Folsom penitentiary August 8. I submitted his pictures to passengers of the train who immediately recognized him."

Vernon offered no resistance. He declared only:

"There is some mistake."

WEST TEXAS BUFFALOES STAMPEDE MATADOR ARENA FRIDAY

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Three days of hard training and a final limbering-up session will wind up for the grid stalwarts of Texas Tech a football grind that started early in September. For Friday afternoon the Matadors will engage their old rivals of the north Plains in a post-season attraction Dope favors the Bisons in the scrap Friday, but it would not be at all surprising to see a Crimson eleven snap out of its state of lethargy and win a ball game.

* * *

Nothing grows more monotonous than the daily grind of a football training camp and the Tech gridders do not exactly relish the idea of running their season past Thanksgiving. For this reason, if for no other, fans of this section should turn out to witness the Matador-Buff skirmish. As we have heretofore pointed out, the Tech athletic department is facing a financial crisis, following one of the most disasterous seasons in the history of the institution. The department at present shows a deficit that one game could not possibly cover, but a sizable gate would go quite a ways toward cutting down this debt. Awards are to be purchased for the football letter men and the school is in dire need of equipment.

* * *

The greatest scoring machine in the history of Texas Christian University has won for the Purple institution its first Southwest Conference championship, thanks to the stellar performance of Cyrus Leland, Howard Grubbs and Mike Brumbelaw. A tie decision in the final game of the season Saturday with the S. M. U. Mustangs cheated the Horned Frogs of their chance for a place alongside the undefeated teams of the nation, but the conference title was sweet enough and the Christians were deliriously happy. The Toads have hung up their football togs with the announcement that there will be no post-season engagement for the team that swept through to its first championship. Instead, Coach Schmidt has started today preliminary basketball training in the hope that he can bring two consecutive conference titles to the Christians. While at Arkansas, Schmidt proved himself one of the nation's most peerless cage mentor. At T. C. U. he will have ample material for the championship basketball team and the member schools are likely to start pointing to the Frogs.

* * *

Prospects for Tech's basketball quintet does not look so rosy at the present time but Coach Victor Payne may have a formidable squad if the new material on hand comes through in form. A handful of letter men will be back as a nucleus for the Matador five. Leon Fisher, rangy center, Clarence Hodges, fast-stepping forward, Dennis Vinzant, guard, and Jimmy Kerr another stellar guard are likely to be the mainstays. There seems to be some question as to whether or not Kerr will be available, but if he is, the Matadors will have a strong defensive cog. Tadlock, Reeves and Coppage, letter men from last year's squad, are also counted among the strong contenders for the team.

* * *

Lubbock High school's enrollment has exceeded the point where the Westerners will be forced to compete in the county cage tournament. Of course, if Coach Del Morgan chooses to run, his club may stay in the country tournament for the practice but this is not likely. Reports from Ralls and Slaton indicate the Jackrabbits and Tigers will have strong teams this coming season. Coach Paul Wright has four of his first five back and a host of veterans. Ralls fans have already announced that the Rabbits will be the district champions. Coach Lovvorn came within a hair's breath of the District Two, Class B football title, and is certain to make a strong bid for the cage crown. The Rabbits are blessed with wonderful basketball facilities and a rare spirit from the town fans. This factor in itself will go a long ways in helping the club go places in the coming cage struggle.

HINKLE LEADING IN POINT SCORING

(By Associated Press)

The national football individual scoring crown seems destined to rest on the head of Clark Hinkle, fullback of the Bucknell Bisons.

Hinkle broke loose for 50 points against Dickinson on Thanksgiving Day to boost his season's total to 128, superseding Al Marsters, injured Dartmouth star, as the national, as well as eastern, leader.

The only player in the country with even an outside chance of overhauling Hinkle is Gene McEver of Tennessee. Hinkle has completed his season's work, but McEver and Tennessee have yet to meet South Carolina. McEver has 97 points to his credit thus far.

Labor Is Scarce In Big Spring Section

BIG SPRING, Dec. 2 (Special)—While business conditions in the Big Spring section is good and some major building projects are underway, the city has not ben able to furnish labor for those in search of employment. The local chamber of commerce are receiving from eight to twenty calls a day for work by the unemployed. Many people are out of employment on account of the short cotton crop in this section.

GRID FRENZY OF 1929 IS OVER

REEDS BRINGS STRONG TEAM FOR CONTEST

VISITORS HAVE EDGE ON LOCAL COLLEGE TEAM IN DOPE

A stampeding horde of Buffaloes from the West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon will invade the Texas Tech Matadors' football arena here Friday afternoon in a post-season clash between the old rivals of Plains football.

Stung by repeated defeats at the hands of enemy teams, the Matador eleven will make its final bow to home fans in the hope of gaining back at least a part of the prestige lost in previous engagements. The Canyon team is coming with a determination to avenge the 18-6 defeat suffered at the hands of the 1928 Matadors when Ransom Walker ran wild on the Buffalo gridiron.

Special To Run Here

A special train will follow the Bisons here for the contest and approximately 500 Buff fans are expected to witness the scrap. Tech authoritics plan to welcome the invading grid fans with a monster demonstration when the special arrives in Lubbock.

Coach Claude Reeds has given the Teachers college one of the strongest clubs in the history of the school having made a strong bid for honors in the T. I. A. A. Recently at Amarillo, the Buffs held the Simmons Cowboys of the Texas conference to a 14-12 decision. Their showing against Simmons and victory over the Hill Billies of Daniel Baker college gives the Buffaloes a decided edge over the Matadors from the standpoint of comparative scores

The game with the Canyon eleven has been matched primarily to relieve the financial strain on the Tech athletic department. Receipts of the Matador-Buffalo contest will be used to buy awards for the football letter men, it has been announced by Marvin T. Warlick, manager of athletics.

PROS OFF IN CHAMP PLAY

LEO DIEGEL DEFENDING CHAMP IN SHOOTING AT LOS ANGELES

By PAUL B. ZIMMERMAN,
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2. (AP)—Sixty-seven wanderers of the nation's fairways today will cast their hopes into the whirlpool of 36-hole medal play, troubled by the knowledge that only thirty-two will come out of the test with the privilege of entering match competition tomorrow for the National Professional Golf championship.

Leo Diegel, defending champion, with the self-confidence of many victories instilled in him, stands out in the group of those classed as favorites.

Hagen Back Again

Walter Hagen, from whom the Agua Caliente pro wrested the championship last season, is only slightly less popular as the choice to regain the title which he has held on five previous occasions.

Both the great Haig from Detroit, and "Larruping Leo" from Baja, California, have been turning in fancy cards from the troublesome course which will be the scene of the tourney. Diegel especially has found it much to his liking. He holds the record at 65 strokes.

No small amount of trouble is expected by the chief contenders from Horton Smith, professional from the Missouri Ozarks region, who, in the three open championships he has competed in this winter, has finished first twice and in a tie for second on the other occasion.

Eighteen holes will be played on the morning card, with the first players stepping up to the tee at 8:30 a. m. The final eighteen of the qualifying round come up at noon. Thirty-six holes a day of match play will occupy the remaining five days of the tournament.

Chicagoan Approves Hiring of Athletes

PORT WORTH, Dec. 2. (AP)—"I think it would be a good idea for universities to hire football teams just as they hire dramatic artists to give concerts," said Dr. Herbert L. Willett of the University of Chicago, when he spoke at Texas Christian university here.

"I do not think athletics in general are detrimental to a school," he continued, "but there is too much emphasis being placed on football. Track, tennis and baseball do not have the same devastating effect."

Jackie Fields Meets Billy Light Tonight

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Jackie Fields' ten round bout with Billy Light of St. Paul at Chicago tonight is the high spot in this week's national boxing schedule. The welterweight title which Fields holds will not be at stake, as the bout is at 149 pounds.

BUFF STARS WHO PLAY HERE FRIDAY

The two young men below are considered mainstays in the lineup of the Buffalo eleven of West Texas State Teachers college of Canyon which will appear here Friday in a post-season game with the Matadors of Texas Tech. Sloan "Whiskey" Miller, top, holds down a tackle position in an able manner. Considering the fact that he weighs around 200 pounds and has seen service in collegiate football for the past seven or eight years. He is a former Clarendon college player, playing in games dating as far back as 1921. Clark, bottom, is a halfback on the West Texas squad who has shown fine form in games this season. Both men are due to start against the Tech crew Friday.

WESTERNERS TURN EYES TOWARD TILT WITH CLEBURNE YELLOW JACKETS HERE

Lubbock's Westerners turn their eyes in the general direction of a powerful Yellow Jacket football eleven today as Coaches Henry Frnka and Del Morgan begin a series of blackboard lectures on the style of play employed by the Cleburne High school aggregation that comes here Dec. 13 for a post-season encounter with the runners-up in District One.

Fully cognizant of the power of the District Four team they are facing, the Westerner mentors have given their charges a well-earned period of rest, following the close of the regular season on Thanksgiving Day against Plainview. Actual training for the battle with the East Texas team will begin Wednesday.

IOWA'S STATUS IS WORRY OF BIG TEN

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—With the football season over and the basketball season only in the preliminary practice stage, "what will become of Iowa" is the big topic of discussion in the Big Ten.

Iowa's petition for reinstatement to compete in the Western conference will be presented to the faculty committee on athletics in Chicago Friday and Saturday.

Out of the discussion of whether Iowa will be reinstated have grown numerous rumors. One says Iowa will not be forgiven and taken back into the group as an athletic opponent, because athletic directors of of three universities, A. A. Stagg of Chicago, Fielding H. Yost of Michigan and George Huff of Illinois, are opposed to readmitting Iowa.

Another report, also lacking substantiation, says Iowa will be returned to good standing because several other schools are equally guilty and the whole matter will be hushed up.

Dr. Ettlinger May Talk In California

AUSTIN, Dec. 2. (AP)—Dr. J. H. Ettlinger, director of athletics at the University of Texas here, has tentative accepted an invitation to address former students of the university now living in California at a reunion at Los Angeles March 2.

While there Dr. Ettlinger said he probably would approach athletic officials of the University of Southern California concerning a home-and-home football agreement. Ex-students have advised him that a game might be arranged. Sept. 27 and Oct. 11 are open dates on the Longhorn schedule next year.

Motion pictures made in America and shown in Europe in the first nine months of 1929 were valued at more than $2,200,000.

The Kansas state board of health estimates that more than 75 per cent of all Kansas children between five and 14 have physical defects of some nature.

FIVE TEAMS UNBEATEN IN CLOSE PLAY

NOTRE DAME'S FINISH OVER ARMY IS BIG SENSATION

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—The football frenzy is over for 1929 except for a few flourishes in the south and far west, but the picture of a campaign of sparkling individual achievements is vivid, and the argument over championship claims is far from settled.

The season that was brought to an arctic climax Saturday by Notre Dame's ninth straight triumph, at the expense of the gallant Army team, was in many respects the most remarkable in the history of the great American college sport.

Season Interesting

The tumult from early October to the last day of November was punctuated by the famous Carnegie report on commercialism, by astounding individual performances and long-run thrills despite the new fumble rule, by record-smashing crowds, by an unprecedented epidemic of so-called "breaks" in the big games and by the development of an unusual number of high class teams.

For sheer drama, Yale and Notre Dame topped the list under circumstances of the most extraordinary variety. Trampled by Georgia early in October, the Elis came back to whip Brown, Army and Dartmouth in successive Saturdays with Albie Booth cutting capers across the historic turf of the Yale Bowl such as no one at New Haven had seen in a blue moon. On successive Saturdays Booth outplayed two of the game's greatest stars, Cagle of the Army and Marsters of Dartmouth, to become the most talked about ball carrier since Red Grange even though the "mighty Atom" went into something of an eclipse against Princeton and Harvard.

Knute Rockne, on a sickbed most of the season as the result of an infected leg furnished the inspiration for one of Notre Dame's greatest teams, the first unbeaten Irish array since the famous Four Horsemen dismounted in 1924.

Rockne, stricken just before the Navy game, was able to be on the side-lines for only two of the remaining six games but his boys went out and played with even greater spirit for the ailing "Rock" than they might have for a perfectly healthy coach, directing them from the bench. In next to their last game, the star center, Tim Moynihan, broke his leg, but the team kept on winning, even though it took a "break" and a one hundred yard dash by the fastest man on the team, Jack Elder, to beat the Army. Notre Dame was among the five major teams that finished their seasons unbeaten and united.

Purdue's mighty Boilermakers made it two votes for the state of Indiana, Pittsburgh in the east, Tulane in the South and Utah in the Rocky Mountain Zone completed the big five of this group. Based upon the calibre of opposition and performance over the whole campaign, Notre Dame, Pittsburgh and Purdue established the strongest claims to national championship honors. No one of this trio could possibly be picked out for the main award, however, without the loudest kind of a roar from the others.

Three others in the major flight—Tennessee, Texas Christian and St. Mary's of California—showed only a single tie to mar otherwise perfect records. Until their latest games, Tennessee and Texas Christian were up in the very top flight, but the Volunteers were tied by Kentucky on Thanksgiving Day and the Christians held to a 7-7 deadlock by Southern Methodist Saturday. St. Mary's was tied early in the season by California, but came along afterward to hang up the most consistent record of any team on the Pacific Coast, while the "Big Three" Stanford, Southern California and California, cut each other down.

Here's Situation

Here's how the situation may be summed up in the major areas:

East—Pittsburgh, only major team unbeaten or tied, but with Colgate also showing a clean slate against eastern opposition. Fordham, tied twice, and Davis-Elkins of West Virginia, tied once, ranked high, along with western Maryland, unchecked in 10 games and facing Maryland this week in the last test.

Missouri Valley—Nebraska champion of the Big Six for the second straight year and Drake repeating in the Valley conference.

South—Tulane with best record in Southern conference a shade better than Tennessee, with Chattanooga repeating in the Southern I. A. A.

Southwest—Texas Christian University champion of the conference after a season marked by sensational play and unusually high-class team production in this sector.

Rocky Mountain—Utah, champion of the conference for the third time in four years, acclaimed the finest team the district has yet turned out.

Pacific Coast—St. Mary's showing the best record, although outside the big conference group, tying California and trouncing Oregon, two teams which figured with Southern California and Stanford in quadruple tie for conference leadership.

HORNED FROGS, HOLDERS OF FIRST TITLE, AWAIT POST-SEASON TILT OFFER

TIE PUTS ELEVEN OUT OF NATIONAL GRID CHAMPIONSHIP

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 2 (AP)—Deprived of a claim to the national football title, but deliriously happy in possession of their first Southwest conference crown, the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs were content today to rest upon their laurels.

Unless an attractive offer is received within the next few days and is met with the unanimous approval of the Purple athletic council, the mighty team that swept through ten games this year without a defeat has been seen in action for the last time. As it is, the Frogs have perhaps a stronger claim to national recognition than any team the conference has produced.

Schmidt Is Through

As far as Coach Francis Schmidt is concerned, the football season is over. He wants to get acquainted with his basketball squad as quickly as possible, which is today. It is his ambition to give the Christians two major sport titles in his first year. Basketball, not football, is his specialty.

By virtue of their 7-7 deadlock with Southern Methodist in Saturday's bitter battle at Fort Worth, the Christians finished their schedule with nine victories and a tie. Their puissant scoring machine, featuring Cy Leland and Howard Grubbs, chalked up 249 points. Their stout line, built about the battering Mike Brumbelow, held the opposition to 33 points.

Win After 7 Years

Most of the 25,000 faithful who shivered and shook through the climactic tilt at Fort Worth were convinced the Frogs deserved the championship, won after seven years of persistent battling. They saw the grey eleven play cautious football for almost three quarters, apparently content to accept a scoreless tie as long as it carried the championship with it. Then, when the wiry Mustangs had struck suddenly to score by the aerial route, they saw the Fighting Frogs come back like a whirlwind to battle their opponents off their feet and push across the tying touchdown late in the final period. They had the power when disaster stared them in the face.

That final desperate rally of the Frogs was a fighting climax to their story-book career this season. Three months ago the Christians were regarded as third or fourth place possibilities by a majority of critics. It was known the school had a nice bunch of players coming up, but few believed that Francis Schmidt would be able to whip them into title contenders.

Had the Punch

Throughout the season the Christians had the punch at the critical moment. They apparently were predestined to win. Cy Leland came through with a pair of glorious gallops to defeat Texas University and the Texas Aggies. When he was checked, Grubbs always was ready to step into the starring role, as in the final bout Saturday. Harlos Green, sophomore who had been only a medicore placement kicker until this year, blossomed into the conference's deadliest in that department. His ability to add the extra point turned the tide in several bouts, and he did not fail when he was called upon to plant one through the bars to tie the Mustangs.

Leland's failure to get loose in the big tussle cost him conference scoring honors. While he was being hog-tied by the Methodists, more or less, Jake Wilson, Baylor quarterback, was scoring two touchdowns to lead his team to a closing victory over Rice, 19 to 0, at Houston.

Leland Is Second

Wilson finished with 14 touchdowns and one extra point for a total of 85 points. Leland had 13 touchdowns for 78 points. Miller of Arkansas took third place with 12 touchdowns, 72 points. Seventy-two players got their names in the scoring record. There was not a single field goal all season.

Final conference standing:

	W	L	T	Pct.	Pts	Op
T. C. U.	4	0	1	.900	93	33
S. M. U.	3	0	2	.800	78	20
Arkansas	3	2	1	.600	98	77
Texas	2	2	2	.500	78	28
Baylor	2	2	1	.500	63	79
Aggies	2	3	0	.400	66	45
Rice	0	5	0	.000	6	142

Tie in conference counts half game won and half game lost.

Thought For Today

Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire, and brimstone, and an horrible tempest: this shall be the portion of their cup.—Psalms 11:6.

* * *

A just chastisement may benefit a man, though it seldom does; but an unjust one charges all his blood to gall.—Ouida.

Leisure

"Women," remarks a writer in a current magazine, "have suddenly exchanged leisure for equality—obviously the most stupid move ever made in history by a privileged class."

We're quoting that statement because it is so typical of the flabby thinking indulged in by many modern commentators on the "new woman" question.

The number of women who actually had anything approaching leisure before the present era of equality was certainly not above two per cent of all the women in thte country. The farmer's wife certainly never had leisure—not enough to keep her from being an old woman at 40. The workingman's wife, with four or five children to bring up and a house to look after, never had leisure. Only the rich man's wife had it.

Just about half of all the high-flown discussions of "woman's place" in the modern world are utterly worthless, because—like the one quoted above—they make the idiotic assumption that the stay-at-home woman of the old days was a member of the leisure class.

A Good Name

"A good name is better than riches," so the saying goes, and C. S. Mott, multi-millionaire vice-president of General Motors and chairman of the board of the Union Industrial Bank of Flint, Mich., seems to have taken this to heart.

At any rate, Mr. Mott has dug down into his pocket and withdrawn $3,500,000 cash with which to cover the shortages of defaulting employes of his bank who gambled in the stock market and lost. He may recover some of this money—and he may not—but the fact remains that the men and women who deposited their savings in his bank are protected.

Apparently, Mr. Mott figured that he was better able to stand the loss than his depositors; apparently, he took the broad view that he, as head of the institution to which they had entrusted their savings in good faith, was obligated to protect them. Yet, it seems he was in no wise legally responsible and could have resisted any lawsuit successfully.

We need more men with this broader conception of duty, more men who place a greater value on their reputations and their obligations to society than they place on their money.

A Boon To Aviation

The "automatic pilot" which recently proved its worth in a test flight from Dayton, O., to Washington may develop into one of aviation's most important inventions.

This device holds a plane on its course and keeps it at the proper elevation without any attention from the pilot. Its possibilities for usefulness can easily be imagined. They can hardly be exaggerated.

If a pilot can go aloft and make it mechanically certain that his plane will fly along the exact course that he wishes, and stay at the exact height above the earth that he wishes, half of his worries are over. Elmer Sperry, inventor of the device, has done a great service.

Electric welding was used entirely in putting up the steel frame of an addition to the Massachusetts General hospital, Boston, in order to reduce construction noise.

A Springfield, Mass., high school principal at the age of 70 has won the republican nomination for mayor.

Missouri has 227 licensed airplane pilots.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says the most disagreeable thing about obeying traffic laws in Lubbock is that it makes one so conspicuous.

* * *

Real news items come and go but the "free publicity hounds" we have with us always. Passing upon news today involves not only the news but, in addition, a raft of press agent stuff which seems to be growing in volume despite its worthlessness.

* * *

Here's the morning mail—let's see what's here for the editorial department. There are 26 letters. Of that total there are eleven which bring real news. They represent mailings from nine South Plains towns and two mail parcels of "time copy" from Associated Press at Dallas. There are two packages of feature material from NEA service at Cleveland and New York, and another from Central Press, at Cleveland. That accounts for 14 of the 26 pieces. How about the rest? They'll all go in "File A," which in every well-regulated newspaper office is a large and commodious wastebasket.

* * *

Looking through the balance of the mail—WITHOUT opening the envelopes—we find some movie publicity from our old friend William Fox. Since William is poor we really should give him a lot of free space but then, the readers wouldn't read it so we may as well save the composition expense. Here's a letter from the "Evaporated Milk Association," with illustrations included. Mighty fine of them to send us the 'news' but the "Evaporated Milk Association" happens to be an organization of manufacturers of canned milk and what they want The Journal to do (without charge, of course) is to carry a lot of baloney about what a great thing canned milk is.

* * *

Here is one of the biggest jokes of them all. It's a package of mats of "captains of industry," sent out by Underwood and Underwood, of New York, who "chump off" a lot of otherwise smart business men into having pictures made, buying mats and having stories about their wonderful successes written. Then this material is mailed to the newspapers where it finds its way into many different kinds of wastebaskets. The 'captains of industry' pay the bill and go confidently on but the 'publicity' part of it is missing. Oh, it's a merry racket.

* * *

Here are two letters from some lawyer in Dallas. His last name is Senter and he's running for something or other. The Plainsman can tell what it is by the envelope but he's not interested enough to open it up to ascertain the fellow's initials. He is one of our most faithful correspondents, sending out his opinions in great gobs for reproduction in the papers. Wonder if any papers run 'em? He sends two letters, one to The Avalanche and one to The Journal so we'll be sure and get at least one of them in. Mighty nice.

* * *

Another well known envelope meets our eye. It's from Bishop Cannon and his Board of Temperance and Morals, of the Methodist church. The Plainsman has yet to use any of the material the stock-playing Bishop sends out and he has never seen any in other papers. Doubtless the Board has a constructive program but this column can't see where there is any return coming from the thousands of dollars in donations used to send this matter to newspaper wastebaskets.

* * *

The other six pieces are not important enough to give much space to in this column. One is from a commercial airline, another from a military school in Kansas. One comes from a radio station and still another from the manufacturers of an "unbreakable glass." Of the remaining two, one is from an automobile manufacturer who hasn't an agent on the whole South Plains and the last comes from a wholesale grocery concern. A fine crop for "File A".

* * *

Now "Believe It Or Not" this mornings crop is unusually small for the free publicity hounds, but there will be more this afternoon. Usually there are more "gimme" letters than there were today and the percentage of news to "smooseh" is really better than generally. Imagine, then, if you can, how you'd like to subscribe to a newspaper which filled its columns up with that kind of stuff and threw the news away. You might subscribe once but once would be too much.

* * *

The Plainsman doesn't waste much time with the "free ride" brigade. He has developed a sort of a sixth sense and nine times out of ten can spot the publicity letters and put them in 'File A' without going through the formality of opening the envelopes. It's tough on the poor saps who foot the bill but it makes little difference to the designing firms that get the profit on the proposition.

* * *

George Allan Carney, who, without a blush, describes himself as the Dean of South Plains sports writers, last year dubbed Coach Henry Frnka, of the Lubbock High Westerners as "Hurry-Up" Frnka. The Plainsman has been told confidentially that Henry's real designation is "Scotchman" and he wants his boys to hurry so they'll conserve time. Anyone wishing additional information along this line may apply to Del Morgan, Henry's first lieutenant in the Westerner camp.

Washington's Foreign Diplomats Suffered Like Others In Recent Collapse Of Stock Market, Dutcher Reports

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Diplomatic entertainment is likely to be somewhat less lavish this season as a result of what happened to the stock market.

Quite a few of Washington's large colony of ambassadors, ministers, counsellors, charges d'affaires, first secretaries, second secretaries, third secretaries and other attaches were badly bitten. Most of them didn't know the difference between a bull and a bear, but large numbers of them shared the belief of millions of Americans that the market offered a beautiful opportunity for bright people to get rich quick.

Some of them played the companies with which Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his family were connected. Others saw the boom in civil aeronautics and bought up aircraft company stocks. One diplomat played a particular stock because he knew that an official of the company was friendly with President Hoover.

Most of the more important diplomats go to New York from time to time. There their countries have large industrial or financial contracts and it was not difficult for them to pick up what they considered good market tips.

But whereas formerly much of the social gossip here centered on stocks and their prices, the most common topic of conversation among the diplomatic colony today is the question of who was stung and how badly.

* * *

For about a year, President Irigoyen of the Argentine Republic has refrained from sending an ambassador to Washington. No one be sure just what Irigoyen's idea is. He is known in South America as the "mystery man." But there have been more evidences of concentrated dislike for the United States in Argentina than in any other South American republic and it has been generally believed here that the failure to send another ambassador was an indication of displeasure at the crimp which our new tariff legislation was likely to put in Argentine exports.

The last ambassador, Dr. Malbran, was here only for a few fleeting weeks. One story in explanation of his recall has been that he cheered too quickly and too loudly at the announcement of Mr. Hoover's good-will trip to Latin America. Malbran uttered fulsome and public praise of the idea before consulting Buenos Aires.

* * *

The main reason for Argentina's lack of friendly feeling has been the fact that we sell her $75,000,000 or $80,000,000 more goods in a year than we buy from her. This fact has a constant tendency to depress Argentine foreign exchange. Some $70,000,000 in Argentine gold has been shipped to this country during 1929.

It so happens that the Argentines raise and export the very things on which our own farmers are demanding increased duties, including flaxseed, beef, hides, corn, canned meat, casein and many less important agricultural products.

Every time we sock the Argentines with a tariff boost or a sanitary embargo or anything else that tends to diminish Argentine exports to us even slightly, it is bound to accentuate the unpleasant situation.

* * *

It is interesting to observe that the large South American countries which profess to love us the most are those which, in contrast with Argentina, have large, favorable balances of trade with us. Brazil and Peru are particularly fervent in their manifestations of friendship.

The following table shows total values of our exports and imports to and from these countries in the first nine months in 1929:

	Exports	Imports
Argentina—	$163,956,647	$ 85,188,440
Brazil—	88,115,299	159,831,704
Chile—	41,308,230	80,691,377
Peru—	20,060,701	22,467,823

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—One of the best chorine yarns to drift our way in quite a spell comes from Gene Buck, who produces musical shows now and then.

When the girl first appeared for rehearsal, she was the typical out-of-town pretty maid, cheaply dressed and going to sandwich counters for lunch. Within a short time after the opening of the show, it became apparent that she had struck the fancy of some rich gent, since she appeared in expensive raiment and baubles began to drip from her wrists.

"Where are you getting all the trick scenery?" the chorine was asked.

"Oh, I've got some money," she said evasively.

"Yeah—where from?"

"Oh, a friend gave me a check for several thousand dollars."

"Yeah-h—who was he?"

There was a moment of what appeared to be quick thinking and then the chorine came back with—'Really, I don't know. The check was signed Anonymous."

To be the strangest character upon the Bowery is a questionable distinction.

Yet the young man who wears it is no ordinary person. It takes an original and unique personality to become a potentate among beggars, just as it does to be a person of consequence in any other strata of life.

It so happens that this particular Bowery figure, who goes about with three or four ragged coats superimposed one upon the other and wearing a girdle of old pots and pans, is a Heidelberg student. When he approaches to bum a dime, he is likely as not to begin spouting Nietzsche or Schopenhauer. Fed upon bitter philosophies, he feigns an arrogant superiority for the world and its people.

A brilliant fellow, intent upon living off the world, he walks about in his fantastic raiment—his head in the clouds and his feet in the mud. His ragged inarticulate cronies tap their heads and think him queer because he speaks a language not their own. As for himself, the defense of the penny-moocher is that a philosopher would starve as quickly in the world outside, so he might as well accept a world of mendicants and bums.

From Alfred Kreymborg's "Our Singing Strength," which happens to be the first history of American poets, I learn that William Cullen Bryant made $14.92 out of "Thanatopsis" in five years. And certain gents now get from 10 cents to 50 cents a word for grinding out cheap sex and second rate biography. Oh well!

Robert Frost, an excellent contemporary poet, averaged $10 a year from his work. And Edward Arlington Robinson, one of the few best selling poets, was starving pleasantly when the late Theodore Roosevelt, who had read his early verses, became so enthusiastic that he gave Arlington a job in the custom's service. And Whittier was so shocked at the first reading of Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" that he tossed it into the fire.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

SOME FOODS CAUSE HIVES DOCTOR SAYS

Mr. B.—Dermographia, sometimes called dermographism, is a symptom and not a disease. Therefore, no one could say that a person had the disease dermographia. As you can see from the derivation of the word—derma: skin; graphia: to write—it means writing on the skin. The condition is manifested in no other disease than hives, so far as I know, although in some obscure nervous diseases possibly caused by endocrine disturbances, a red mark may follow a slight scratch on the skin which ordinarily wouldn't leave a mark.

The word dermographia is not used frequently because it is not a common condition. I did write about this in the column some time ago.

Hives, or urticaria, is a disease which is not thoroughly understood, although it is very common. It is usually caused by certain foods. It is believed that the protein molecule of the foods is not digested correctly, and, absorbed in this unprepared state, irritates the blood vessels so that the serum escapes too rapidly, causing the weals and marks, when scratching is indulged in. This, in turn, also causes the irritation to the terminal nerves, causing the itching. Those who suffer in this manner are said to have an idiosyncrasy to the food also called an allergy). This idiosyncrasy may sometimes be caused by old ulcer scars in the stomach or intestine and gall bladder, or appendix disturbances.

The protein skin tests that I have spoken of are given to see if the offending protein can be found. It is true, as you have experienced, that sometimes these tests do not disclose the offending protein, perhaps because an insufficient number had been given; or it may be that they might not disclose it because it was an excess of a protein taken rather than the protein per se, that caused the trouble.

Aren't you a little harsh, Mr. M., in saying that I am intimidating a woman because I tell her that from her symptims I judge she may have hives which may be due to a food sensitization? Naturally, I cannot make a diagnosis; I simply judge from the letter, and I write on these in the column if they happen to be subjects of general interest—always, of course, advising the writers that they must see their physician for diagnosis and treatment. I assure you that my sole object is to be helpful, and all of my time is devoted to this work. I am not doing any private practice, although I am a licensed physician and could practice—and could have an enormous practice, by the way—because I do give all my time to study and to keeping up with my profession for this one work of public health education.

We have an article on Hives which you may have by following column rules.

"Dear Doctor: I have a terrible itching in the back of my throat. Some days my nose itches also. I sneeze now and then, but mostly when I get up in the morning. No discharge of any kind from my nose or throat. I have had this annoying itching for the last six months. I also have terrible headaches. R."

Consult a nose and throat specialist, R. There may be some little local inflammation or scar tissue that is causing your nerves to be irritated. You should also have a complete physical examination, including that of your eyes, to discover the cause of the headaches. A headache is a symptom of something wrong somewhere, not necessarily in the head.

We have an article on the subject which you may have.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. If she considers your question of general interest, they will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each; for the pamphlets on "Reducing and Gaining," "The Kidney and Its Excretions," and the "Hygiene of Women," 10 cents in coin (for each) and fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. (These charges are to cover the cost of printing and handling.) Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper. Write legibly, and not over 200 words.

TAKING OF FEDERAL CENSUS DESCRIBED AS VAST UNDERTAKING
By WILLIAM M. STEWART
Director of the Census

(William Mott Stewart was born at Corpus Christi, Tex., Oct. 2, 1861. He is a graduate of Columbian (now George Washington) university. Admitted to the bar in 1884, he practiced law in the District of Columbia, Maryland and Detroit. In 1880 he became connected with the census of manufactures, becoming chief of the division in 1890, then chief statistician of manufactures, bureau of census, from 1902 to 1917. Assistant director of the census in 1919, he has been director since 1921. He is a Republican.)

WM. M. STEUART

Statistics covering population, agriculture, manufactures, unemployment and distribution, will be included in the coming decennial census, which will be a vast undertaking.

It will be necessary to enumerate and to collect data for a population of more than 120,000,000, recording 25 or 30 items as occupation, etc., of each individual; for more than 6,000,000 farms, gathering details as to acreage, value of farms, livestock, etc.; for about 200,000 manufacturing establishments, with information as to the number of employes, value and quantity of products, horsepower, material used, etc. for about 20,000 mining enterprises, for approximately 2,500,000 establishments engaged in trade collecting data as to the number of employes and sales of various commodities; for an unknown number of persons unemployed at the time of the census, and for an indefinite number of drainage or irrigation projects or enterprises.

The preparatory work in connection with these extensive undertakings involves planning the organization and selection of the field force to be employed in taking the census dividing the entire territory of the United States into districts of suitable size for census purposes, defining or mapping the boundaries of these districts, selecting and formulating the inquiries or questions to be carried on the schedules, and numerous other tasks.

The next census will include close to 20,000 questions or items of information regarding individuals, farms and manufacturing, commercial and other enterprises. At the beginning of April next it will be necessary to have available 40,000,00 printed copies of various schedules of inquiries.

In addition to censuses of population, farms and manufacturing output, the bureau of census carries on periodical inquiries involving compilation and tabulation of data in regard to births, deaths, marriages divorces, prisoners, financial transactions of states and cities, cotton ginning and current production of numerous commodities.

Approximately 99,000,000 cards were tabulated durig the fiscal year 1929; the great bulk of which consisted of tabulations of births and deaths.

"Brace and Bit" Men Active In Santone

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 2. (AP)—"Brace and bit" burglars are worrying San Antonio police. In the past post two months about 30 robberies have been reported to police after entrance to buildings had been obtained by use of a brace and bit. A car containing an augur was seized by police, but identification has failed.

STOCKS MOVE IRREGULARLY

ONLY FEW GAINS MADE ON OPENING; LEAD SHARES LOSE

NEW YORK, Dec. (AP)—Irregular price movements characterized the opening of today's stock market after the four day stock exchange holiday. General Electric and American Sugar Refining each advanced 2 points and Du Pont 1 while Westinghouse Electric and Bethlehem Steel recorded initial declines of more than a point each. Fractional gains in such issues as Union Carbide, American Telephone and Consolidated Gas were offset by similar losses in United States Steel, Studebaker and Northern Pacific.

Although irregularity continued in early trading, the general tendency appeared to be upward. Delaware & Hudson quickly ran up 3 1-2 points, Chesapeake & Ohio 2 and New York Central 1 3-4. Pennsylvania, which announced a new stock offering last week, eased a point.

Selling Breaks Out

Further selling broke out in the amusement group, presumably as a result of the anti-trust suits brought against two of the large producers. Fox Film broke 6 1-2 points before the end of the first half hour. Loews dropped 5 and Warner Bros. 1 1-2.

J. I. Case jumped 5 points and Houston Oil Allied Chemical and North American Co. extended their gains to 2 points or more.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with sterling unchanged at $4.87 29-32.

Pulque Shops Being Closed In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 2 (AP)—A scene familiar in the United States but rare here was witnessed when agents of the Public Health department emptied 18,750 quarts of liquor into the sewer.

The liquor, which was pulque, the native alcoholic drink, was found unsanitary.

The department announced that over 100 pulquerias or pulque shops would be closed for selling the unsanitary liquor.

Hassler, indictments charge, embezzled about $5,000 by accepting deposits and then destroying the deposit slips. One specific count is that on Feb. 1 he accepted $1,500.04 for deposit from Mrs. A. Porter but destroyed the deposit slip without crediting Mrs. Porter's account.

SAVED HIM A LOT OF MONEY

"Since Taking Orgatone All my Ten Years Suffering Are Gone", Says Plainview Farmer

"I feel so fine and well now I can hardly realize how miserable I was before taking Orgatone," said Earl Stambaugh, of Route No. 3, Plainview, Texas. Mr. Stambaugh has been a farmer for the past twenty years around this section of Texas, and is very well known.

"Yes sir, I firmly believe that Orgatone saved me a lot of money, that I would have spent in doctor bills," he continued. "For the last twenty years I've been bothered with stomach trouble. My kidneys were so badly disordered that I had sharp pains running through my sides and back all the time, I had little or no appetite and my digestion was so poor I had to be very careful about what I ate, and I had a heavy distressed feeling after nearly every meal, and often had dizzy spells and headaches, too. I always felt so dull and tired and exhausted it was an effort for me to do my work at all. Gas formed on my stomach after every meal, and my food soured and the pains that bothered me were just like knives cutting me. I was getting in such a condition I couldn't hardly do a thing. I was very weak and run down and never got a good nights sleep.

"While talking with the Orgatone representative about my trouble one day, he advised me to try a bottle of Orgatone. I have taken only one bottle and honestly, I feel better than I have in the past fifteen or twenty years. My kidneys don't bother me and those terrible pains are gone, and I'm not bothered any more with gas, sour feed and that heavy distressing feeling. I feel fine all the time. Orgatone has surely restored my health and I'm more than glad to recommend it."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store. Adv.

TWO THOUSAND ATTEND EVENT

NEW AUDITORIUM FOR BAPTIST CHURCH IS OPENED SUNDAY

Two thousand persons yesterday attended both the morning and evening service of the First Baptist church which marked the opening of the new auditorium located one door east of the old building.

Rev. B. F. Dickson, of Lubbock, preached at the morning service in the absence of Dr. W. R. White, who had expected to be present at the first service, but was unable to reach Lubbock due to the fact that fire damaged the Texas and Pacific railroad bridge over Mountain Creek between Grand Prairie and Dallas, and made his train late. Attempts to locate an airplane to reach Lubbock in time for the service failed and the usual Sunday moring sermon of the minister was delivered on the train.

Glee Club Sings

Mrs. W. R. White sang a solo at the morning service and special music was given in the evening by the girls Glee club of Texas Technological college under the direction of Mrs. Carl Scoggin.

"The Figure Behind the Facts", was the subject of the sermon delivered by the pastor last night in an appraisement for the old as well as acceptance of the new.

Formal dedication of the new building will be made on Sunday morning, November 15, with Dr. White delivering the principal address.

CITY IS PRAISED FOR HOSPITALITY

Following the first annual convention in this city last Monday of the Carlsbad Cavern highway association, letters and telegrams have been received the past week by the local chamber of commerce from men in cities who were represented at the meeting here, all of them expressing appreciation for the hospitality received while here.

Practically every letter and telegram received expressed confidence that the Carlsbad Cavern highway was destined to become one of the best known and heaviest traveled in the entire country.

"I greatly enjoyed the meeting and especially the hospitality shown while in your city," writes G. K. Richardson, president of the Carlsbad National bank. "Your entertainment of delegates goes far to carry out your reputation for community work."

Harrington Wimberly, publisher of the Altus, Oklahoma, Times-Democrat, wrote: "Everyone from here had a great time and I believe that with two or three more meetings such as the first one, the entire route could be paved in a short time."

A telegram from S. C. Boswell, member of the Oklahoma state highway commission read: "I am very interested in the route and hope to see the Carlsbad Cavern highway receive United States designation all the way."

Better Than Whiskey For Bad Colds

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold remedy they have ever tried.

To get rid of that cold, step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk 60c for a bottle of Aspironal, the liquid cold remedy, and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite and expect you to try it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspironal is by far the safest, most effective, easiest to take and the most agreeable cold remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night. All druggists carry and guarantee Aspironal, the largest selling liquid cold remedy in the world. (adv.)

Well Is Producing Oil After 4 Years

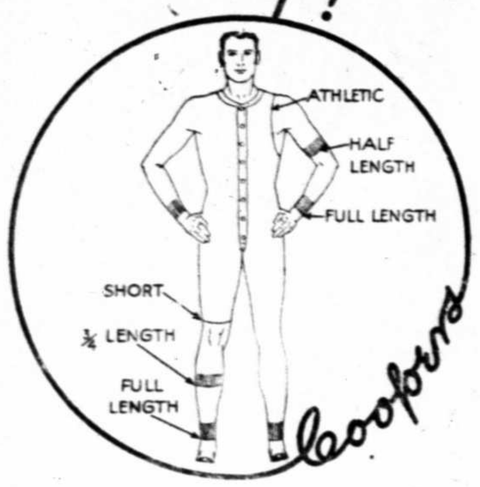

MABANE, Dec. 2. (AP)—A well which more than four years ago flowed salt water today is producing about 120 gallons of oil daily, in hourly heads.

On April 8, 1925, more than 5,000 persons gathered to see the old Pen-Atlantic well brought in on the Gardner farm. Drilled to 3,208 feet, it flowed salt water.

Plugged and covered with cement, the well remained that way until hunters noticed an oil seepage recently. About a month ago someone set off a charge of dynamite on the plug and the seepage stopped. Later it was found to be making a five gallon head each hour.

WORKERS MAY GET TAXATION

U. S. PLANS $10 TAX ON ALIENS DOING WORK IN NATION

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 — —In an effort to prevent aliens from making their homes in Canada or Mexico while employed in the United States, the labor department has under consideration a plan to tax each alien $18 for every trip into this country to work.

The proposed tax, the department believes, would compel aliens either to establish homes in the United States or give up their employment. It would consist of a $10 visa fee and an $8 head tax.

Return to Canada

The labor department said today that 6,736 aliens employed in this country in the Detroit area have returned to Canada to make their homes because of lower taxes and cheaper living conditions.

A similar situation was also to exist at Niagara Falls, Buffalo, along the Vermont and Maine border, and at El Paso, on the Mexican border. The same thing was true to a lesser extent at many other places, it was said.

The action contemplated by the department is similar to that taken recently by the Mexican government to compel Americans working in Mexico to live in that country. At that time the labor department announced the Mexican government was within its rights in adopting the regulation.

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
