High School Couple Is Married

The marriage of Miss Jolietah Glen and Haskell Beard, which occurred on April 1 in Levelland, was announced last evening by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Beard, 112 15th street. The young people had kept their nuptials secret. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Beard, 2802 2nd street.

The bride is completing her junior year in high school. She is a member of the Junior Music club and has played on numerous occasions. Mr. Beard, who is a member of the graduating class, is business manager of the Hub Hi-Lights school publication, a member of the Sagesraters, Hi-Y and others organizations. Both young people are popular members of the younger set society.

Secret Marriage Is Announced

A marriage which has been kept secret since April 21, was announced this morning by Mrs. John A. Cannon, 1402 Avenue M, the bride's mother. Principals in the wedding were J. E. Cannon, son of Mrs. A. C. Cannon, and a technological college freshman and window dresser, and Miss Marie Kelley, of Winters. The couple is at home at 1402 Avenue M for the present. Miss Kelley has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Latham, for some time. She is a graduate of the Winters high school.

It's Accessories That Count

Accessories add the smart and individual touch that transforms any house into a home with personality.

By NEA Service

In the spring a woman's fancy seriously turns to thoughts of clothes. Likewise if she is a home woman, she gives several of those precious thoughts to the house.

New pillows here a new rug there other household accessories changed about a lot or augmented and the place looks like new.

But many women who have charming interiors to their homes entirely forget those outside accessories to a house that make or mar the appearance.

That Well-Groomed Look

Screens, door-knobs, putty, scrapers, window boxes, gutters, downspouts, hoes for the door mat and the lantern that lights the porchway. These are the little gadgets that shiny and cared for, give a home a self-respecting and well-groomed look. Neglected, they are precisely like the run-down heels and tarnished back-hat of a poorly dressed woman.

Screens should have been brushed and gone over in the fall when they were put away. If dirty looking, they most certainly deserve a new coat of color to match the sash and other house trim.

Screens that cover windows are almost as important as the windows themselves. They prevent outsiders from looking in, but allow insiders to look out.

Possibly the little duck you see as foot scraper at your front door step looks as if he is moulted. If you are a realist, you can tell him according to the special branch of the family that he belongs to or if he should be brass he deserves the shiniest kind of a shine.

Bright Window Boxes

Dinky window boxes sadden the gayest flowers that may spend their fragrance there. Those fortunate enough to have grill-worked ones should certainly keep them from getting rusty. The most conventional thing is to have them the color of blinds, window frames and so on, but there is no reason why they should not be in any harmonizing color.

The doornail should be renewed in the spring. For one that has withstood the rigors of a winter finds itself in no mood for sprucing up with warm weather. The expense of replacing a few such small items as this will be found small compared to the net well-groomed appearance they give a front door.

For just as in the realm of fashions, it's the accessories that count when it comes to the home.

SMITH LOSES IN SOUTH CAROLINA STATE MEETING

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 17.—Governor Smith may have opposition in the Houston convention from South Carolina Democrats, but not the kind his arch-enemies in this state had mapped out for him.

After a hectic day meeting in which he was panned and a brawl indulged in by former Governor John Gray Evans of Spartanburg, leader of the bone-dry bloc, and Edgar A. Brown of Barnwell, a former speaker of the South Carolina house, the state Democratic convention last night elected 18 delegates to the national convention and a national committeeman and committeewoman.

Delegation Uninstructed

The delegates will go uninstructed as to the presidential candidate but with directions to work for a dry nominee and dry platform.

Anti-Smithites lost in their attempt to instruct the delegates against Smith by other candidates of similar views, their resolution.

Dick Willis, Bertie McGee, Mary Calville, Myrtle Powell and Shirley Miller.

Being Voted Down At The Day Session By A Vote Of 190 To 147.

Another resolution, rejected 190 to 147, and over which the first tie occurred, would have advocated the state party rule binding those voting in the South Carolina primary to support the national and state nominees in November.

Proposals favoring retention of the state party rule and the two-thirds majority nominating rule were approved.

Culvers Successor Facing Demo Meet

FORT WORTH, May 17.—Probably the first order of business facing the state democratic executive committee at its meeting Tuesday morning will be that of electing a committeeman to succeed Judge Frank P. Culver, Jr., the seventeenth district court judge.

Judge Culver was a member of the committee from this senatorial district until he was sworn in as judge of the seventeenth district court Monday. His appointment to that office by Governor Meador automatically removed him as a member of the party's executive committee. Judge Culver announced.

An Ogden, Utah, man owned a three-fourths ounce egg, eight inches in circumference, the "biggest egg" ever found.

When Patrolman Horgan arrested a couple of Linn, Mass., were returned to a wedding they entertained guests with duets. They are singing team of local note.

ITALIA MAKES FINE PROGRESS IN POLAR TRIP

OBJECTIVE IS BELIEVED REACHED BY NOBLE AT LENIN LAND

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, May 17.—The dirigible Italia, had progressed so steadily in its flight over the ice covered Arctic, that members of the base crew of General Umberto Nobile's expedition today believed that he had reached his objective—Lenin Land, about 1,600 miles from Kings Bay.

They eagerly awaited his return to this base to learn what the explorers had discovered on their trip over uncharted wastes and at Lenin Land, which is situated north of the Taimyr Peninsula, and has never been explored. General Nobile had planned to lower a party to the ice on Lenin Land. While they conducted their explorations the dirigible was to remain moored to the ice, since General Nobile intended to take no chance of the party being marooned.

May Return Friday
General Nobile is expected to return tomorrow and then start almost immediately on another flight of exploration to the so-called Crocker Land, which Peary and other explorers expected to see. The last message received from the airship at 7 p. m. (Greenwich time) last night said that the ex-

Which of These Men
Do YOU Feel Like?
—After Eating

ARE you one of those fortunate people who can partake of a hearty or even moderate meal without some after-feeding of distress or do you have to avoid certain foods because they disagree with you?

Do you have that hard, uncomfortable feeling in your stomach, or that miserable tired or sleepy feeling after eating?

Gordon's (named for its discoverer) stops fermentation (souring of food matter) in the stomach and bowels. It exercises an antiseptic effect, dissolves the excess acid, absorbs the gas that is present, and prevents more forming. It drives the poisons out. It soothes and heals the irritated or inflamed condition of the stomach—the delicate membrane lining—made raw by acid.

A spoonful of Gordon's after meals will bring quick relief in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, bloating, heartburn, excess acid, bad breath, sick headache, bowel troubles (constipation and diarrhea), and nervousness, when caused by faulty digestion.

Go to or phone your druggist for a bottle of Gordon's. Take a dose after each meal and before retiring. See how much better you will sleep and how refreshed and vigorous you are in the morning.

Gordon's is made in liquid form, put up in one size only. A large eight-ounce bottle, price $1.50 per bottle—less than 3 cents per dose.

and a lunch was to have been served on "the wild and lone prairie" somewhere between here and Amarillo.

Information regarding the completion of the lines into Lubbock placed regular service in all departments due by August. Regular schedules will be in operation by that time, at least, officials said, with other service probably offered before that time.

Station Construction
Construction on the company's station here will be started within a short time. R. C. Goudy, chief engineer of the lines, said. Bids will be called for during the next few days on the construction, he said. The station is to be a one story affair and will house both freight and passenger offices, giving separate and distinct departments to both, however, so that the building will resemble two structures. It will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000, Mr. Goudy said.

Mr. Goudy said that the company would place a few small shops here for the purpose of housing a switch engine or two and making minor repairs. No roundhouse or regular shops will be built here, he said.

The line from here to Estelene is in excellent condition, the officials said and only a short time will be needed to put it in shade for regular service. Work on all departments of the line will be rushed to completion, they said.

PROBE ORDERED INTO CAMPAIGN FOR NEW JERSEY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 17.—Expenditures in the Republican senatorial primary in New Jersey will come under the gaze of the Reed campaign funds committee.

Before the final returns were in from the Tuesday balloting, the senate late yesterday ordered the inquiry, adopting without a record vote a resolution offered by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas. The senator based his proposal on New Jersey newspaper accounts carrying requests that the primary candidates list their campaign expenses and charges that one candidate had offered $200,000 for a certain individual's influence.

Five Candidates in Field Five candidates were in the Republican senatorial race and almost complete returns today showed Hamilton P. Keen, former Republican national committeeman for New Jersey, to have been nominated. His nearest rival was Edward C. Stokes, former governor, who, the newspaper related, had urged that all candidates bare their expenditures.

Caraway also read editorial from a Republican newspaper suggesting an investigation and charges printed in other publications that all expenditures had not been revealed.

U. S. FLAGSHIP IS DISPATCHED TO CHINA PORT

BATTLE IMMINENT FOR PEKING AND LINES TIGHTLY DRAWN

(By Associated Press)
TOKYO, May 17.—The flagship Pittsburgh of the United States fleet in Asiatic waters sailed for Tientsin today after an eight-day visit to Japan. Admiral Mark L. Bristol will board the destroyer Pillsbury at Shimoneski for Tientsin tonight.

Peking Tense With Troops Preparing PEKING, May 17.—Threatened by advancing nationalist troops, Peking was tense today. Larger patrols than usual moved through the streets of the native city and about the foreign concessions.

Preparations for the defense of the legation quarter had been made by the guards whose senior officer is Lieutenant-Colonel Thomas Holcomb, United States marine corps.

Japs Strengthen Defense
Japanese soldiers worked actively providing quarters for several hundred of their troops near the former Austrian legation and strengthening their defenses.

British nationals were warned by their legation to be prepared to move into the legation quarter at short notice. Valuables were being sent for safekeeping by both Chinese and foreigners to the various legations.

A few heavy walls of masonry rose along the western boundary of the legation quarter, which is already protected by the great Tartar wall on the south. Heavy gates enclosed in iron sheeting barred the entrances to the Chinese city on the north. Along many points in the enclosing wall new loopholes were cut to permit freer use of machine guns.

Americans Defend South
American troops were assigned to defend the southern boundary, marked by the Tartar wall and they shared the western front with the British. The French took the east boundary and the Japanese, Italians and British the north.

In the case of an emergency, Lieutenant-Colonel Holcomb as He said the other candidates had not seen fit to answer Stokes. Although the resolution seeks an investigation of both party races, it most likely will be confined to the Republican as Senator Edwards, Democrat, was unopposed for renomination.

Americans in Tientsin
In Tientsin, also threatened, 3,000 American soldiers formed a portion of the defending force. The troops there included the third marine brigade under Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler, a strong marine aviation detachment and 850 officers and men of the fifteenth infantry under Brigadier General Joseph C. Cassin. Other forces at Tientsin include 2,300 French colonials, 1,600 British infantry, 400 Japanese and 375 Italians. Lieutenant General Aral of the Japanese army is senior officer.

New Jap Division Sent To Tientsin

TOKYO, May 17.—In view of the increasing uneasiness in Peking and Tientsin because of the nationalist advance, instructions were issued to the Nagoya division today to divert a regiment of infantry and a battery of artillery from Tsingtao to Tientsin.

A squadron of airplane was ordered to go from Japan to Tientsin to protect Japanese residents. At the same time because of fear of disturbances spreading to Manchuria a brigade of infantry, which was sent to Shantung from Dairen on May 4, was ordered to return. This reduced the force of Japanese available in Shantung by 5,500 men.

DANCER SLAIN WHEN ROMANCE TORN ASUNDER

SHOT BY STUDENT WHO TURNS GUN ON SELF IN GOTHAM STUDIO

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 17.—An Argentine medical student whose romance with Maria Montero, Spanish dancer, was broken off when she found he had a wife and four children in Paris, died in city hospital today, a bullet in his brain, after he had shot and killed the dancer and attempted to take his own life.

Ten months ago, Horacio Columbras, 37-year old son of a wealthy Argentine planter, met Miss Montero, who was 27, and fell in love with her. Last Saturday she learned he had a wife and four children in Paris and ordered him to leave her dancing studio and never come back.

Forces Way To Apartment
Yesterday afternoon he returned and forced his way into her private apartment at the West 57th street studio. An assistant heard a heated conversation in Spanish and then several shots. The assistant ran into the street and summoned police. They found Miss Montero lying dead on the floor, wrapped in a Spanish shawl which Columbras said, King Alfonso of Spain had presented to her, one hand clutched over religious medals in a pocket of her dress and her pet Spitz whining at her side.

Columbras was lying nearby, a pistol in his hand and a wound in his temple. A policeman bent over him to take the pistol and asked, "did you do this?"

"I shot her because I loved her and she wouldn't have any more to do with me," he said and lapsed into unconsciousness.

Four letters were found in his pocket, one to the police, two to friends and one to the Argentine consul giving directions for the disposal of his body.

Thieves Get Bold, Steal Chief's Tire

Thieves in Lubbock haven't the least bit of discretion thinks Chief of Police John Lemond today as he continues the search for a spare tire stolen from his car as it stood parked in front of his home at 2312 16th street, sometime late Tuesday night or early yesterday morning. The thief, if caught, is likely to get a double dose of fine and sentence, the Chief intimated.

A Question For Every Tire Buyer

(By Harold Weatherby)

When sweeping claims conflict and generalities abound—

When the same arguments have been repeated by a dozen tire manufacturers to win your business—

When every sales scheme has been tried to make you think that you alone are the one who gets the big bargain—

When you have discovered by experience that the only test of a tire is its performance on the road—

—ask yourself this question:

Why Do More People Buy Good-year Tires Than Any Other Kind?

For Goodyear makes thousands more tires every year than any other manufacturer.

Goodyear supremacy has continued through ten years of unbroken leadership.

It is not boasting to say that more people buy Goodyear Tires because on the average they outperform any other tire upon the road. It is the truth.

True, because Goodyear does not cut quality to meet cut prices. Goodyear asks a fair price for a tire in which is concentrated all the skill of the world's greatest manufacturer of rubber.

True, because Goodyear service is friendly, expert and in your interest. Everywhere, it insures you full mileage from every Goodyear Tire.

Why has the largest group of car owners in the world bought more than one hundred million Goodyear Tires?

If you don't know the answer, come in and see the NEW Goodyears.

Thought For Today

Set thine house in order.—Isaiah 38:1.

Good order is the foundation of all things.—Burke.

Armies—And Time

The Department of the Interior has just revealed that there are mainly fewer than 80,000 Civil War soldier pensioners. The veterans of Lincoln's armies are dying at the rate of 1200 a month, within 25 years the last centurians among them will be gone.

The men who still survive have seen great changes. They have seen their sons and grandsons march away to new wars, fighting shoulder to shoulder with the sons and grandsons of the Confederate veterans. They have seen the wounds of the Civil War healed, the union more firmly cemented than ever before. They have seen their country reach new power and new prosperity.

What will the country be like when the veterans of the World War have reached the stage the Civil War veterans now hold? Will they, too, have seen new wars?
Will they, too, have witnessed a great growth in internal harmony and wellbeing? It is a fascinating speculation.

Brake Tests

Municipal authorities and auto clubs in all parts of the country are adopting, in increasing numbers, the plan of giving free brake tests to all motorists who want them.

It is a good idea. A man's brakes may be good enough for ordinary driving and so tell him into the belief that they need no attention when as a matter of fact they are not adjusted properly to bring his car to a quick stop in an emergency.
And the emergency, be it noted, is just the time when the car must stop quickly to avert a tragedy.

The man who drives with faulty brakes is endangering his own life and the lives of his fellow citizens.
Yet many do it implicitly, not knowing that their brakes need adjustment. These free tests are excellent things. They should be extended.

The First Flight

A dispatch from Washington, announcing that Colonel Lindbergh would greet the members of the crew of the Bremen said that "the hand of the first man to fly a plane across the Atlantic from west to east" would "clasp" the hands of the first man to cross it from east to west.

Lindbergh is a magnificent man and a famous flyer, but let's not in our national pride, give him credit for things he never did. We just make ourselves offensive to other people.

He was not the man to fly across the Atlantic from west to east.
Captain John Alcock and Lieutenant Arthur Brown flew across in 1919. Their flight is no sense in claiming for Lindbergh a record that isn't his. He himself would be the first to give Alcock and Brown the credit.

Good News

News from Chicago of late has been highly encouraging.

For a time it did seem as if the second city in the nation was utterly indifferent to the alliance of vice and politics that gave it an evil reputation throughout the country.
But it seems that wanton decency was after all in the majority, better yet, decency was willing to shake off its spallity and go to the polls thereby whipping one of the most powerful political machines in America.

It doesn't matter in the least that Senator Deneen and his cohorts may not be a group of spotless crusaders. The big thing is that the Small-Crowe outfit was decidedly and thoroughly beaten.
Chicago has proved that the rest of the country can no longer fasten the "corrupt and contented" label on her.

Those blacklisted by the D. A.
R. are to assemble in New York May 20. New York just has one grand triumphal parade after another.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

That Girl on Broadway says there are two models from which to choose a husband and it's always well to remember that while the truck model doesn't look as well as the sport job it's often a darn sight more practical.

As the Brooklyn Eagle puts it:
"And the pistol's red glare, Bombs bursting in air, Gave proof through the night That Chicago's still there!"

The Plainsman notices by a recent edition of the Journal that dry agents are already arriving in Houston to see that the flow of consulting bugs is stopped by the time the Democrat arrive. Isn't that rather inconsistent?

The Democratic delegates are going to Houston and regardless of whether they nominate Governor Smith or not, you may expect to find a dry plank in the platform. If the party is dry why the extra precautions against the rain? It looks like there's somebody dead in Denmark.

That Man on Avenue Q says his wife's perfume is so exclusive that she's the only one in the family who can pronounce it.

For peace and comfort of married life.

"I yearn," the bachelor said,
"and so do I," his wedded pal sighed.

While wistfully shaking his head.

Tomorrow—or sometime soon, rampagers for the Camp Fire girls of the South Plains area are going to give the citizens an opportunity to help put over the organization's annual financial campaign. The Plainsman hopes the drive is a success for the Camp Fire organization for girls is just as worthy as the Scout movement is for boys.

This column has had a lot to say about the boys of Lubbock and how we should care for them, but for some reason or other The Plainsman has never thought to write much about the girls and the way we should help them. In this matter he has been too much like the majority of the people in this section, who pay fairly good attention to the boys but seem to forget all about the girls.

It is impossible to give too much time and thought to moulding the characters, minds and bodies of the future mothers of the South Plains or any other section. While most of the training can be done in the homes and by the parents a great deal of it can be done in the Camp Fire organization and Lubbock and the South Plains should take advantage of the opportunity.

We hear a lot of talk about the younger generation and its deterioration and The Plainsman, for one, travels it as a lot of humbug. But if some of the people who are grating the loudest about the "kids" and the girls of today would "kick in" instead of "at" no doubt, organizations such as the Camp Fire girls could improve conditions.

It has been the observation of this writer that young girls are just as human as young boys. They like to have their organizations—they like to learn how to do things—they like to go to camp and swim and study nature and folk lore and since they like to do these things they have just as much right to do them as the boys have.

It will do Lubbock and the South Plains a whole of a lot of good to give some attention, time and money to the Camp Fire movement in this section.

Six towns in the near vicinity of Colby, Kansas, are going to pay Colby's municipal taxes and perhaps will retire that town's $200-000 bonded indebtedness. The obliging neighbors of Colby aren't in the business of philanthropy—but they have to try to exercise light and power and Colby has just that to sell.

So far sighted people of Colby are going to have a lot of fun when the first of the year rolls around and they can thumb their noses at the tax collector. Somebody up there in Colby knows something about operating a light plant and the citizens, individually and collectively, are profiting thereby.

The Plainsman doesn't know whether it is generally known or not, but Lubbock has a municipally owned and operated light plant. Just how much the plant is making The Plainsman —like most of the rest of the citizens—doesn't know but at any rate we're still paying taxes around here so we are probably in a good position to take a tip from Colby. As this writer sees it it might be a good idea if Lubbock should find out how Colby makes it record and emulate the example, at least from a local standpoint.

The Story Of Albert B. Fall Is Told By Rodney Dutcher As Part Of The Tale Of Public Land Grants And Results

IN NEW YORK
SEE-SAWING
AND
BROADWAY

NEW YORK, May 17.—In restaurants where the flapping is plentiful, waiters just now pay for the privilege of getting a job.

In several eating places the "waiting privilege" is sold as a concession, just like the hat check room or the cigar stand. The concession holder collects a weekly amount from each waiter. And strange as it may seem, I am told that waiters bid to get these posts.

During a court action for the collection of wages, it was revealed the other day that in one coffee shop in Grand Central station the waitresses pay $10 a week in order to hold their jobs.

"But," pleaded the manager,
"they make up to $15 a day in tips."

To learn what the visitor is most likely to be interested in, I recently engaged the attention of members of a seeing-New-York party from Stroudsburg, Pa. I learned that they were making the Manhattan visit for $10 a person.

With one day to spend in the city, what did they do with it?
Well, they started from their mid-town hotel, toured the length of Fifth Avenue and Riverside Drive riding atop the sight-seeing buses, then rode the length of Broadway attended a Broadway matinee, ate at an Automat and went through the two Broadway cathedrals of the movies.

That's really quite a day, and perhaps a typical day out of a visitor's life. There certainly is no bigger dime's worth in the town than the Fifth Avenue bus and—round of Broadway one gets a pretty good notion of the Wall Street belt and the skyscraper zone. And, true it is, that most tourists demand to see at least one Broadway production and to look into the wonders of the widely advertised movie palaces.

But somehow, if I had my way about things, I'd manage to cut out the movie visit, or the matinee after all you can get movies at home. And you can't see the Manhattan skyline from Brooklyn Bridge without going to Brooklyn Bridge.

Nor can the flavor of New York be completely caught until you have seen the struggle of the immigrant and the milling barter-ers of the pushcart belt. Nor should one miss a dinner hour rush in the Times Square shuttle. And, personally, I like the Battery, like Second Avenue just after the dinner hour when the faces of the world are on parade; and I like Gramercy Park and Washington Square at sundown.

And, oh well, probably no living human could do it all in a day.

A friend tells me I'm all wet, way. Says he, if he had a day to spend he'd go to the Stock Exchange and watch it in action; he'd lunch at Fraunce's Tavern and visit the Poe Cottage, the Roosevelt home and the Cooper Union and a lot of other historic spots. But then he has a penchant for antiquities and for history.

And I know loads of people who URE TO PRESIDENT," says a headline. Well, well! Calvin must be going fishing.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a series of six articles reviewing the story of America's public lands.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, May 17.—When Albert Bacon Fall was made secretary of the interior, the conservatism nearly went into conspicuous fits.

Fall was given jurisdiction over millions of acres of oil lands, coal lands, phosphate and potash lands, grazing lands, forest lands and all the great resources of the public domain in Alaska.

In the preceding nine years, as senator, he had consistently opposed conservation measures and favored nearly all measures designed to grant public resources for unprotected private exploitation.

FALL promptly astonished nearly everyone by an attempt to take the national forests from the juisdiction of the Department of Agriculture, where they had been since 1905. It was alleged that he was working for paper manufacturers who wanted dense pulpwood forests in Alaska. A bitter row between Fall and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace broke out.

FALL resigned March 4, 1923. He had been constantly under fire.
Later he was credited with persuading President Harding to visit Alaska in furtherance of his schemes to open up that territory's resources to the hungry hordes. But Harding, proceeding to Alaska, became converted by the reserves of oil and in his last speech before his death, at Seattle, endorsed the principles of conservation and blasted the hopes of Fall and his friends.

The last conservationist outburst followed the dismissal of Director A. P. Davis of the Reclamation Service in June, 1923.
Fall is understood to have plotted Davis' dismissal, but the man's reputation as an outstanding scientist of great ability and integrity always saved him. Then Secretary of the interior, Work, reservedly of the conservation work, Congress was out of session and he and Harding were en route to Alaska, got rid of Davis. It was charged that Work promised Davis a new position if he would make his resignation appear voluntary.

WORK contended that the job needed a business man instead of an engineer. He gave the job to ex-Governor D. W. Davis, a former banker and grocer, who had no civil service status. Work obtained an executive order exempting D. W. Davis from civil service requirements, despite protest of the Civil Service Commission.
Engineers and conservationists branded the deal as "political spoilsmanship." The Federated Engineering Societies of America, with 50,000 members, demanded an investigation and protested on behalf of loyal, underpaid government scientists whose jobs appeared jeopardized.

Ex-Governor Davis didn't last long. In the following year he was succeeded by Edward M. Mead, an engineer, satisfactory to the con-servatismists.

Since Fall, the conservationists say, there appear to have been no serious attempts to raid the public lands in derogation of the public interest.

A New York man said he became a burglar because the trade looked so easy in newspaper stories. The manufacture of Ford automobiles also looks easy in newspaper stories.

Arriving in New York, can't be driven away from the art center belt around 57th Street, and a lot more who begin to haunt the center halls the minute they arrive; others try to take in six shows in three days and never so much as glance the city itself.

To me the most interesting thing in New York always will be New York itself—its crowds and its noise; its ironies and its comedies, the dramas that run into you at every turn, its beauties and its ugliness, its sheer humanity and its utter lack of humanity.

GREAT HARVEST OF SOUTH TEXAS ONIONS

Bermuda onions brought still more prosperity to South Texas through the harvest just completed.
Winter Garden Chamber of Commerce directors, lately meeting in Big Wells, announced that 434
Big Wells announced that 434
Big Wells announced that 434

As the market has been generally satisfactory, the returns to the growers must have exceeded the $3,402,000 realized from last year's crop—the highest figure recorded.

During the harvest little was heard of competition from Egypt and other Old World countries, which was a disturbing factor for two or three previous seasons. Last year the superior quality of the Texas crop commanded ready sale despite the lower prices at which the imported onions could be bought.

Nevertheless, there is urgent need of a protective tariff sufficient to cover the difference in production costs here and abroad. Granted that safeguard the South Texas healthy exporters. Completion of pending irrigation projects will render available a large additional area which, assured a market, may be devoted to this crop.

More than a year already has elapsed since the tariff Commission undertook to investigate this situation. Leisurely as that body's procedure always has been, surely its report to the President will be ready before another harvest.

Of course, that prospect alone would not be sufficient basis for increasing the 1928-29 acreage. As heretofore, planting operations must be guided by the market outlook. Effective machinery for gathering information on this point—such as a permanent producers' association, might provide—obviously would be valuable.—San Antonio Express.

There seems to be in sight one of the great harvest times in the history of the State of Texas. True it is early in the season and in the South Plains section that crop is not even out of the ground and much of it must yet be planted, but knowing this country as many of us do who have watched it for a number of years, the promise believe that there will be an abundant yield. We are sure since the season has come a month earlier than it did last year that we will have at least that much start on the early freeze that might come and this is so greatly in our favor that we are confident that with even an average frost line this fall that the yield will go far beyond any previous year, and with the chances of doubling the yield of any former year.

FALL had obtained jurisdiction over those reserves, which his predecessors in the government had carefully set aside and preserved from raids of the predatory. Naval officers charged that his disposition of the reserves "ruined the national existence of the United States."

Corruption was alleged in the leases of Elk Hills and Teapot Dome, but the instance in which Fall overruled subordinates who tried to save Buena Vista has not had as much publicity. It is said that for years previous, Fall had supported a campaign of the oil interests to deliver the three reserves, but it was never successful until he took office.

The supreme court has branded the Sinclair and Doheny leases as fraudulent or corrupt and ordered return of the reserves of the navy. Charges that men prominent in government made "clean-ups" in Sinclair stock after the Teapot lease never have been proved.

had been constantly under fire.

Harmony Agreement Is Claimed Failure

FORT WORTH, May 17 (AP)—Dement:

Two More Sponsors Named For Meeting

FARM AID BILL AND MERCHANT MEASURE OKEH

TWO GO TO PRESIDENT WHERE SIGNATURE IS GREATLY DOUBTED

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 17.—The McNary-Haugen farm relief and Jones-White merchant marine bills, two big pieces of legislation that have been knocking at the doors of congress for months, passed through those portals yesterday and today were awaiting entry into the White House.

Congressional action on the two controversial measures was completed when the senate adopted conference reports in which differences between the senate and house were adjusted.

Speculation As to Veto.
With this over, speculation was revived as to what kind of a reception they will be accorded by President Coolidge, who will get the bills as soon as Vice President Dawes and Speaker Longworth attach their signatures.

This fee which would be levied against growers of certain commodities to assist in stabilizing market conditions when surpluses exist, has been held unconstitutional by Attorney General Clegg, and while it would not be resorted to in the present bill until other provisions had failed to meet requirements, it still is believed to be unacceptable at the White House. Leading backers of the measure, however, have hoped that because of the alternative provided before application of the fee, the president would sign it as the best obtainable legislation at this time.

Shipping Bill in Doubt.
The fate of the shipping bill also was in doubt today, although most of the leaders believed the president would approve it. This measure authorizes a big replace-

LAST MEETING OF WOMAN'S STUDY CLUB

The Woman's Study Club closed a very successful year's work Friday afternoon when the last meeting of the current club year was held in the home of Mrs. J. T. Howell with Mesdames Howell, R. Jones Goode and T. G. Hendrick joint hostesses. The study course has been a series of lectures by Dr. J. C. The essay, "Qualities of Good Citizenship," by Curtis Bracken, 11th grade student, which won the club Loving Cup this year, was read by the secretary. Three new members were elected to membership for another year, Mesdames Fred Wiese, J. E. Catching and E. S. Smith. The hostesses served stuffed tomato salad, ripe olives, wafers, individual strawberry shortcake and ice tea to the following members: Mesdames J. P. Crawford, R. L. Bowman, W. P. Pullingim, J. L. Gentry, R. Jones Goode, T. G. Hendrick, J. T. Howell, R. C. Kirksey, R. G. O'Neal, H. F. Pearson, I. R. Robertson, Ewell Smith, J. L. Suits, Dewey Sullivan, F. L. Terrell, C. R. Westerman, L. W. Capitalist Dies In Kansas City Home

KANSAS CITY, May 17 (AP).—Luke F. Wilson, 65 year old capitalist with large ranch and oil holdings in the southwest, died at his home here shortly before 4 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Wilson had been confined to his bed for some time and physicians said that due to his advanced age, they held little hope he would regain his health.

Born in Palestine, Ill., in September, 1842, he remained in that state until 1878, when he took capital obtained in the mercantile and banking business and invested it in a saving association here. At one time he owned nearly 60,000 acres of grazing land in Texas. His holdings now include a large ranch in Archer county, Texas.

Mrs. Wilson died here about a year ago. There were no children.

Los Angeles has a new nine-million-dollar court house. The Hollywood business certainly pays.

THERE is nothing that has ever taken the place of Bayer Aspirin as an antidote for pain. Safe, or physicians wouldn't use it, and endorse its use by others. Sure, or several million users would have turned to something else. But get real Bayer Aspirin (at any drugstore) with Bayer on the box, and the word genuine printed in red.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacturing of Monroeville, Pa. U.S.A.

Avalanche-Journal Want Ads Pa

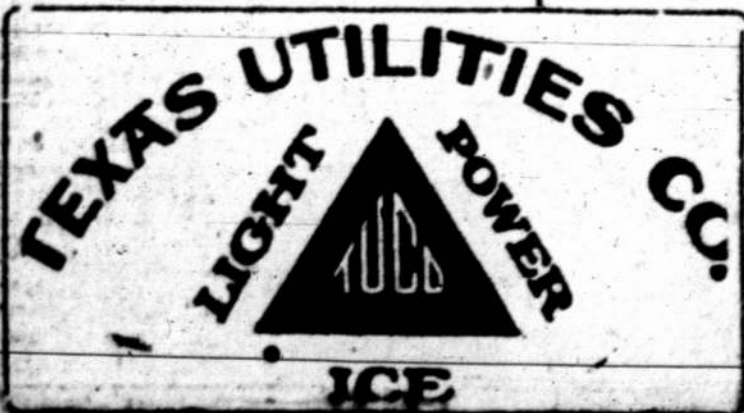

The delightfully delicious fruits and vegetables that come with spring and summer and taste better when they are given the advantage of being kept on ice until ready for use.

Not only that but, a few cents here, and there thrown away in spoiled food is more expensive than buying ice, and the saving will in many instances pay your ice bill.

And when you want a nice cool drink of water, iced tea or a chilled drink, the satisfaction that comes from having good pure ice at your disposal cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

The coupon way insures regular delivery and the opportunity to buy your ice at a decided saving.

Here it is! A picture more beautiful and spectacular than the tuneful Operetta which it was based on. You must see it.
