

WTCC To Fight Any Boost In Freight Rates

Full Investigation As To Need Should Be Had, Agency Says

ABILENE, April 27 (AP)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce and its Freight Rate Equality Federation, long campaigners for national parity in freight rates, announced today they will go before the interstate commerce commission to oppose a 25 per cent rate increase asked by the railroads.

The position of the WTCC and the FREF was set forth by their presidents, H. Y. Overstreet of Farwell, Tex., and J. M. Willson of Floydada, Tex., and D. A. Bandeen, general manager of both organizations.

The officials said that no freight rate increases should be granted the railroads without a full investigation and until their need for greater revenue is proved "beyond the shadow of a doubt."

The WTCC-FREF announcement said they have never opposed rate schedules high enough to provide the railroads with sufficient revenue to pay reasonable operating costs and dividends.

"We are unalterably opposed to the form of increase proposed," the officials said, "namely, a 25 per cent increase, which on basis of our present 160 per cent level of rates in Texas and the southwest against the 100 per cent level in the official zone, means a 40 per cent increase for us against a 25 per cent increase in the north and east."

The WTCC contends that the proposed increase could have disastrous economic consequences in West Texas, in stagnating housing and other building needs. The chamber says the increase would reduce receipts of oil producers by around $55,000,000 annually, cost farmers and stockmen an additional $25,000,000, and take a yearly toll of $75,000,000 from consumers.

Culberson Wants Probe

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—Chairman Olin Culberson of the Texas railroad commission said today if the application of railroads for an increase of 25 per cent in rates is entertained by the interstate commerce commission, he will ask for a "full exploration."

Culberson said it was his understanding that the application called for "only one day's hearing."

If this is correct, he added, it "is indicative that the old 'public be damned' policy is still permeating the top management of the roads."

Part of this area got beneficial showers last week, although most of the immediate section around Big Spring got only sprinkles. We might as well be philosophical about it, realizing we are now one week nearer a general rain than we were last week!

The feed situation is gradually tightening—just as was predicted nearly six months ago. Our protein (cottonseed meal) was way down due to a general cotton crop failure in the section and the vast bulk of our grain crop was shipped out. Seemingly, only rain can help the situation just now. Someday, perhaps, we will awaken to the need of an industry to process our feedstuffs at home and hold a sufficient supply here to mitigate these emergencies.

There is still time to be of service to schools by reporting unenumerated scholars (those six or under Sept. 1, 1946 or under 18 as of the same date). These may be placed on the supplement, at $11 which will be closed out after Tuesday. Each one added will mean at least $30 to schools—four would almost pay one teacher's salary for a month.

First steps toward a civic building were taken last week. It may be some time before the matter takes definite shape, and when it does it will be a big—but not impossible—undertaking.

Death of two local people in traffic mishaps elsewhere last week should serve as a stern reminder of the boundless dangers on highways everywhere. This is a thought that most of us could well carry with us—starting at home.

Another field where constant care will pay dividends is in fire prevention. During March losses were held to $680—but one bad month could undo much of the good done in many others. One

APPRAISERS TOLD TO IGNORE CEILINGS ON GI HOME LOANS

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The price ceilings for new houses generally are ten percent or more above the "reasonable value" on which GI loans are based, the Veterans Administration said today, and veterans therefore are having difficulty getting the loans.

Francis X. Pavesick, head of the VA loan guarantee section, told reporters he had instructed the agency's appraisers to ignore "ceilings as they exist today" in determining "reasonable value" for GI loan purposes.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, veterans administrator, has called the situation to the attention of Housing Administrator Wilson Wyatt and expressed hope for early action closing the spread between ceilings and what VA regards as "reasonable value."

The price ceilings are set by the Federal Housing Administration as agent for the Civilian Production Board as a basis for the OPA to issue priorities.

Pavesick said VA is willing to acknowledge that construction costs have gone up sharply and to follow "proper, sensible practices" in making appraisals for GI loans, but would not guarantee loans on houses selling for more than "reasonable value."

Reports from virtually all sections of the country, he said, indicate that ceilings are "too high."

Leading Figure In Council Work Has To Withdraw

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Australia's peppery delegate, Lt. Col. William R. Hodgson, announced late today he was withdrawing from the United Nations Security Council because of the illness in Paris of his wife and that his successor at the council table would carry on his policies without any change.

Hodgson, the prime mover for a unanimous solution of the Spanish deadlock in the council and long a proponent of full documentation on every case before the council, said he would leave by plane for Paris Monday morning.

Hodgson will be succeeded by Paul Hasluck, counselor in charge of Australia's permanent mission at the United Nations headquarters.

The departure of Col. Hodgson was not expected to change the picture at Hunter College when the council convenes Monday at 3 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time, to take up the Spanish case which has deadlocked the delegates.

While Col. Hodgson has frequently called in council debate for the full story of every case, he was carrying out the instructions of his government and he made it clear this afternoon that Hasluck would do the same.

The Australian's announcement was made as Mexico took the lead in seeking a solution of the Spanish crisis in the council—but every move ran against the stern Russian opposition to any investigation of Franco Spain.

The council has shelved the Iranian case at least until May 6, with Russia on record as boycotting any further discussion of that matter. In the Spanish case, Hodgson has proposed that a subcommittee of five members of the council study the evidence submitted, make such inquiries as it desires and report back to the council.

Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko, insisting that there is enough evidence already before the council to bolster Poland's charges that Franco Spain is a menace to world peace and is harboring Nazis and war criminals, was reported unchanged in his stand for immediate action by the UN. He was informed the council in plain terms that investigations do not produce results and that Russia wants results now.

The delay in the naming of a three-member economic council to administer the recently-enacted employment bill has brought expressions of concern in some quarters. Members of Congress who pushed the measure to passage have made numerous recommendations for the $15,000-a-year posts.

The President also has to select a new nominee for Undersecretary of the Navy since Edwin W. Paulsen's bitterly-fought nomination was withdrawn and make a number of other appointments.

Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson and William O. Douglas have been most frequently mentioned in speculation over likely successors to Stone as chief justice. War Secretary Robert P. Patterson has been among those mentioned for Stone's membership on the court.

Pilot Is Killed In El Paso Plane Crash

EL PASO, April 27 (AP)—Oliver Wade Russell, Jr., reportedly of Fort Stockton, was killed instantly late Saturday afternoon when the BT-19 plane he was flying crashed into the backyard of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Phillips, about five miles east of El Paso.

Mrs. Phillips, who was coming out of the back door of her home as the plane crashed, was seriously injured by the careening plane which grazed the corner of her home as it crashed.

Heavy Snowfall Over State Of New York

ALBANY, N. Y., April 27 (AP)—A mid-spring snowfall descended on most of New York state today with drifts piling as high as 18 inches near Syracuse.

The fall was general throughout the state except for the New York City area which experienced rain.

The mercury registered at or near the freezing point in most of the state.

SCHOOL AT PAMPA

COLLEGE STATION, April 27 (AP)—Pampa has been selected as the site of a short course for water and sewage works operators in that area, beginning May 20, the Texas A. & M. college extension service announced today.

Foresees Flow Of Wheat For World's Needy

Anderson Confident Of Big Supply When Planting Is Over

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson expressed confidence today that there will be a "springtime flood" of wheat from farms to elevators for shipment to the hungry abroad once spring planting chores are over.

Reporting on his trip to the wheat belt with UNRRA Director General Florentino H. LaGuardia, Anderson told a National Farm and Home Hour radio audience that he believed the government's offer of a bonus of 30 cents a bushel for wheat delivered before May 25 will result in 100,000,000 bushels being made available for export during the critical period from now until July 1.

This is approximately the goal for that period.

But Anderson said "we are behind our goal" now. It will take the cooperation of grain elevators, farmers' agriculture department employees, the army, and "the great host of well intentioned farmers," he added, to attain the 100,000,000 bushel figure.

"All of us must tighten our belts," he said, "and grimly resolve to eat less wheat, less bread, cake, pastry, and other wheat products."

Meanwhile the American Red Cross in a statement said that the European food shortage has reached its most critical stage, with starvation evident in Vienna and industrialized Austria.

Anderson, in what his associates described as an indirect reference to a statement yesterday by Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson, said the government has no intention of requisitioning wheat from farmers.

He made no direct reference to the possibility of requisitioning wheat now held by mills and elevators, which it is within the power of the department to do.

Iceland Refuses Bases For U. S.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, April 27 (AP)—Olafur Thors, prime minister of Iceland, in a broadcast to the nation, said tonight his country could not grant a United States request for military bases in Iceland.

"Icelanders will never forget that Americans were first of all nations to recognize our undisputed rights to reestablish our republic x x x the United States were therefore entitled to only the best from us," he declared, adding: "But when the United States requested from Iceland what they cannot grant to anyone, it was impossible to say yes."

"Icelandic interests alone dominate in such matters. Therefore the government could not do what the United States requested."

Wac Lost Overboard From Troop Ship

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—T. J. Erdith Farley, 24, of Texas City, Tex., was identified by the army today as the WAC lost overboard from the New York bound troopship Sedalia Victory last Wednesday.

She was reported overboard 36 miles southeast of Montauk Point, at the tip of Long Island. A search by two boats from the ship, a navy blimp and two coast guard planes was unavailing.

The army said Sgt. Farley was returning from Europe for discharge.

Teen-Age Cowboys Are On The Loose

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—State police today were on the lookout for two teen-age cowboys, heading west from Weatherford and wanted for horse theft.

One was described as 13 years old, riding a small brown horse. The other was 16 riding a tall buckskin with a dark mane. Both boys were wearing white hats.

O'Daniel's Speech This Week May Clarify Governor Contest

By Associated Press

Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, a power in Texas politics since his amazing gubernatorial campaign of 1938, has emerged as a possible key figure in the 1946 governor's race.

He will come home to Galveston this week for a speech which may clarify the muddled outlook, although he has not said he would even mention politics in his Saturday appearance.

The announcement that O'Daniel would speak was followed by a statement from Gov. Coke Stevenson that he was waiting for the declaration soon of a "leading political figure" before stating his own intentions.

How do Texans feel about W. Lee O'Daniel as a candidate for governor?

The first issue of the weekly Texas Post, reorganized after a wartime interruption, gives the answer. It may be found on Page 8 of Section 2 of today's Herald.

Barbecue Ends Scout Event; 825 Attend

Closing the 20th annual Round-Up, more than 825 Boy Scouts of the Buffalo Trail Council and their leaders were served a barbecue at noon Saturday on the Round-Up grounds southeast of City Park.

Representing 50 troops, the boys were served in a space of 10 minutes, a new record time for the crews of Big Spring men who presided at the serving tables under direction of Nat Shick.

The feast was prepared by A. Knappe and Lou Sullivan, with Elton Taylor in general charge of food arrangements and Jack Roden in charge of drinks.

The barbecue closed a full program of activities for the scouts, who opened camp on the Round-Up grounds Thursday afternoon. Contests, such as obstacle courses, tent pitching, fire lighting, etc., composed the program of inter-troop competition.

Blue ribbon winners were troops one, two, four and five, Big Spring; troop 51, Midland; and troops 55-81-84, Odessa. The senior division blue ribbon went to explorer troop three, Big Spring.

Red ribbon winners included troop three, Big Spring; troop eight, Coahoma; troop nine, Big Spring; troop 12, Longworth; troop 18, Courtney; troop 20 and 22, Colorado City; troops 40-44-45, Sweetwater; troop 50, Goldsmith; troops 52-54-55-88-153, Midland; troop 56, Andrews; and troop 166, Kermit. Air scout squadron one, Odessa, won the senior red ribbon.

Winning white ribbons were troop 11, Forsan; troop 19, Big Spring; troop 28, Pylon; troop 30, McCauley; troops 35 and 38, Snyder; troop 53, Midland; troop 57, Andrews; troop 64, Odessa; troop 66, Kermit and troop 70, Sylvester. Sea scout ship two, Odessa, won the senior award.

Participation ribbons went to troop 10, Lenora; troop 23, Westbrook; troop 36, Snyder; troops 46-47-48, Sweetwater; troop 58, Odessa.

Charlie Watson served as judge for the contests, with George McCall in charge of records.

C. S. Blumshield, general Round-Up chairman, expressed appreciation to all who assisted in arranging and conducting the event.

3-Year-Old Sleeps Through Car Theft

SAN ANGELO, April 27 (AP)—The three-year-old son of Sgt. and Mrs. Blaine Taylor of Goodfellow Field here slept through a ride across town with a man who stole his parents' car this afternoon.

The Taylor car, with the baby asleep in the back seat, was stolen from in front of a grocery store here. Police found the vehicle abandoned shortly later on the other side of town with the child safe and still asleep.

Maritime Union Has Called Strike Vote

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—The National Maritime Union (NMO) said today its 100,000 members would begin voting May 4 on whether to strike in support of their demands for a 30 per cent wage increase and other benefits from shipowners.

The balloting will end at midnight June 3, the union said.

Child Is Drowned

PARIS, April 27 (AP)—Funeral services for James Glenn Scott, 20-month-old, who was drowned yesterday when he fell into a water-filled post hole at his home here, will be held here Sunday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max H. Scott. A sister and four grandparents also survive.

Reds Withdraw Demand For A Lion's Share

No Agreement Yet Reached On Changes In Frontiers

PARIS, April 27 (AP)—The foreign ministers conference agreed tonight to leave Italy a basic naval fleet and to divide the remainder among the four major powers after satisfying claims of Yugoslavia and Greece for warships, authoritative reports said.

The ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia reached an accord on broad general proportions of the division in a three-hour meeting in which Russia retreated from a previous demand for a third of the fleet, these reports said.

Precise details were not settled at the meeting.

Part of the session was given over to a discussion of the French-Italian frontier modifications, but no agreement was reached on any of the proposals. The troublesome Trieste and Italian colonial questions had been sidestepped.

Coupled with the announcement in Rome that Russia had not only acceded to the United States proposals for relaxing Italian armistice terms, but had proposed even further modifications, the Soviet action augured well for future dealings on the Italian problem.

There was no clear picture here of the present strength of the Italian navy, and a four man committee of experts was appointed to determine its composition and allocation.

(The greater part of the Italian fleet came under Allied control after the Italian surrender in September, 1943, while the battle for Italy itself continued. The Italian fleet which made its way to Allied ports included six battleships, eight cruisers, one seaplane carrier, between 40 and 45 destroyers and torpedo boats, between 30 and 40 submarines, and approximately 80 auxiliary vessels. Other ships under German control in northern Italian waters were recovered subsequently.)

The Russians were said to be willing to permit Italy to have a navy with possibly four cruisers of the heaviest category. The reduction in their demands apparently was in return for a tacit agreement to forget about ships that the United States and Britain gave Russia in anticipation of dividing up the fleet.

It was agreed that all but a few Italian submarines would be sunk, with the remainder to be kept for experimental purposes.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was said to have insisted upon having the submarines sunk.

Two Slain In Midnight Duel

HOUSTON, April 27 (AP)—The present and past husbands of an attractive brunette were shot to death here today in what police said was a midnight pistol duel.

The tragedy was described by Mrs. Eula Orelia Winkelman as the climax to a long series of "interferences with my married life" by her former husband, identified as an ex-convict by Edward J. Moellering, Houston police superintendent of identification.

Dead are Arnold G. Winkelman, 32, who had served three years in prison for the navy and Frank Cutler, 30, the former husband.

This is the story as told by Mrs. Winkelman in a signed statement to Homicide Detectives J. L. Watts and W. P. Brown, who investigated.

The Winkelmans had visited Mrs. Winkelman's mother, and had returned home late, about 12:30 a. m.

They entered the front door and went into their bedroom. Mrs. Winkelman heard a noise in the living room.

"I immediately knew it was Frank," she said. "We had had so much trouble with him I just knew it was him."

She ran to the bedroom door and closed it. Her husband got a pistol and went into the living room. Mrs. Winkelman ran into the bathroom.

"No words were spoken between Arnold and Frank. I think they began shooting on sight."

RESERVISTS MEET

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—Gen. Walter Krueger and Gen. Fred L. Walker will be the principal speakers when the Department of Texas, Reserve Officers Association, holds its annual convention this week.

Diseases Decline

A slight drop in number of communicable diseases in Howard county was recorded during the past week, according to a report by the city-county health unit.

Chicken pox cases decreased from seven to five during the week. Other diseases listed currently included one case of scarlet fever, two cases of infectious diarrhea, two mumps and two measles.

HOUSTON, April 27 (AP)—T. U. Purcell, who has been in charge of the Houston district office of the department of commerce for the last 11 years, has been transferred to El Paso where he will become district manager of the commerce department office here.

Army Reveals "Flying Wing" Far Larger Than The B-29

LOS ANGELES, April 27 (AP)—The Army Air Forces removed official secrecy today from its flying wing bomber, the XB-35, a radical design which dwarfs the B-29 and has an announced range about one-fourth greater than the world's distance record.

The bomber was designed and built by Northrop Aircraft, Inc., at Hawthorne, Calif. It is expected to fly in a short time.

The XB-35 is shaped like a colossal boomerang, with no fuselage or exposed engine nacelles. Crew, engines, fuel and armament are housed inside the wing. Crew quarters are pressurized. The plans spans 172 feet and has a center width of 37 feet 6 inches.

Although its normal gross load is 162,000 pounds, it is designed to fly with an overload up to 209,000 pounds.

(By comparison, the B-29 Superfortress has a wingspan of 141 feet and is 99 feet long. Its normal gross weight is around 135,000 pounds and its overload weight 140,000 pounds.)

The only performance data on the XB-35 which the AAF released was its range of more than 10,000 miles. This compares with the world distance record of 8,198 miles set with a B-29 last November.

John K. Northrop, president of the aircraft company, described the XB-35 in a statement as one of a "new family" of airplanes adaptable to civilian as well as military uses.

He said that the wing design offers a tremendous advantage in "lift" or useful action of the air when compared with conventional types.

The result, he said, is that the flying wing can carry one-fourth more useful load, can travel one-fourth farther with an identical fuel load, and can fly at least one-fifth faster than a conventional plane of similar weight and horsepower.

Temperance Sheet Comes To Life

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The weekly "clipsheet" of the Methodist Board of Temperance, which promoted the cause of prohibition for years but was abandoned in 1933, reappeared today with a declaration that repeal "settled no problem."

"The time has come," wrote Deets Picket, 60-year-old editor, "for the problem and the present policies of dealing with that problem to be reviewed. No harm can be done and much good may result from the discovery and publication of the facts."

Asserting the "fame" of the board advocates at this time is "knowledge and understanding," Picket continued.

"The people have a right to know why there is so much drunkenness, so much drunken driving, so much crime, so much juvenile delinquency—why alcohol has become our fourth greatest health problem."

Increase Activity In Govt. Affairs, Stassen Tells JC

SAN ANGELO, April 27 (AP)—Ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota urged more than 1,000 members of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce and their guests here tonight to increase participation in economic, political and educational activities in both state and nation.

"Do not underestimate what you can accomplish in making the America of tomorrow a dynamic and progressive nation," he said.

"The vigorous development of your state organization and its record of constructive activities is typical of this big, vital state," Stassen declared.

John E. Mangrum of Dallas was installed as state president. Other officers, including 12 regional vice presidents and two national directors were installed. Fort Worth was selected as the 1947 meeting place, winning over Waco.

To Take Orders For Grass Exterminator

A representative of the Howard county chapter of the Texas Farm Bureau will be at the county agent's office for the next fortnight to receive orders for a Johnson grass exterminator.

To date orders have been placed for 26,400 pounds of the material—calcium chlorate—and a minimum of $40,000 is necessary before carload lot prices will prevail for the chemical. That quotation is eight cents per pound.

One pound of the product mixes with one gallon of water to be sprayed over a 10 square foot area for effective results.

Best time to apply is when the Johnson grass is in the boot. Howard county has on hand about a ton of the material and may order more for experimenting with Johnson grass in lateral road right-of-ways.

Building Figures Show An Increase

By the Associated Press

Building permits were up sharply in the majority of Texas cities during the current week as construction of homes paced the state's mad building boom.

Leaders were unchanged—Houston first, Dallas second, San Antonio and Fort Worth a close third and fourth.

Dallas was one of the few cities with a decline in permits, dropping sharply from last week's 1,070,321 to $452,605. El Paso, Galveston, Port Arthur, and Lubbock also were down.

But showing sharp increases over last week were San Antonio, Fort Worth, Austin, Corpus Christi, Waco, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Midland, McAllen, Big Spring, Odessa, Corsicana and several others.

Carpenters' Union Leader Accused By Suspended Local

BALTIMORE, April 27 (AP)—William Hutcheson, general president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (AFL), stood accused today by the brotherhood's suspended Baltimore local of "coercing and intimidating and bribing" certain witnesses to withhold testimony concerning an alleged $244,048.30 embezzlement of the local's funds.

At Lakeland, Fla., Hutcheson, a vice president of the American Federation of Labor and a member of the federation's executive council, declined to comment immediately on the charge, saying "I would have to know more about it before I would make any comment, because this is the first I had heard of it."

The Baltimore local was suspended at the brotherhood's convention at Lakeland last Tuesday.

The charges were contained in one of two separate injunction petitions filed yesterday in the union controversy before Judge Michael J. Manley in circuit court. The brotherhood and the locals both asked injunctions for different purposes.

CONVICTED IN SLAYING

DALLAS, April 27 (AP)—Lonnie Harvey Cline, 26, was convicted here today of the Dec. 23 knife slaying of Clyde Mears, 34, three-battle star war veteran, by a jury verdict of death.

Whole Community Under Curfew After Soldiers Killed

Jerusalem, April 27 (AP)—A top-ranking British military authority said tonight he was holding the entire community of Tel Aviv responsible for the "willful and brutal murder" of seven British soldiers in a raid on a British military installation there Thursday.

Maj. Gen. A. J. H. Cassels, commanding officer of the British Sixth Airborne Division, summoned the acting mayor of the Jewish city, Elieser Persson, to his headquarters and said he had decided to "restrict the whole community in order to maintain public security."

"I hold the whole community to blame," Cassels said.

The general ordered an immediate curfew closing Tel Aviv's cafes, restaurants and entertainment places from 8 p. m. to 5 a. m. "until further notice."

He banned motor traffic in two principal districts of Tel Aviv during the curfew hours.

University Looks To Record Summer Term

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—The University of Texas board of regents today prepared for the institution's biggest summer school enrollment in its history.

To meet demands of both veterans and non-veterans who want to remain in school the regents boosted the summer term budget from $267,500 to $396,448.

Acting President T. S. Painter said a survey of more than half of the present enrollment indicated that 85 per cent of the veterans and 53 per cent of the non-veterans now on the campus expect to attend the coming summer session.

Power Supply Hurt By Coal Shortage

PITTSBURGH, April 27 (AP)—Creeping paralysis spreading through allied industries from the 27-day-old bituminous coal strike today threatened to wither part of the nation's power supply.

Chicago, the nation's second largest city, faced a return to wartime "edim-outs" and a possible complete stoppage of electric power by May 21 unless the dispute between John L. Lewis' 400,000 AFL-United Mine Workers and the bituminous operators is settled.

TRY THIS AMAZING HOME RECIPE TO TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Right in Your Own Home, You Can Lose Pounds of Excess Weight Without Starvation Diet or Strenuous Exercise

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe your own. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bulk disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Perhaps you are overweight due to over indulgence in food or the wrong kind of food. With the Barconate home recipe method, you do not have to starve yourself or go hungry. Just follow the simple instructions given on the label and you should get satisfactory results quickly. The very first pint you make up should show results. Why not slim down your figure without a lot of fuss and bother? Try the Barconate way. Wear your streamlined frocks and slacks gracefully. Remember, if the very first bottle of Barconate doesn't show you the sensible way to lose weight, your money will be refunded.

Local Bread Output Due To Be Reduced By 25 Pct. This Week

Tokans figure that half a loaf is better than none at all and there is little complaining among the customers about smaller loaves.

But bakers, a survey shows, are not so optimistic.

One Big Spring baker announced a 25 per cent cut in production effective this week and pointed to the possibility of a complete shutdown by the end of May unless the government policy on paying a 30-cent premium on wheat over the market is altered.

This, combined with the fact that bakers and millers alike are restricted to a 21-day supply of flour, contributes to a gloomy outlook. Mills cannot compete for wheat at government bids because of price ceilings and the inability to produce profitably even if they could meet the bids.

The city's major baker announced a complete one-day shutdown starting this week, a policy which will be continued pending a clarification of the picture.

Bread sales have been booming here during the past three weeks.

Fort Worth bakers have eliminated the pound and a half loaf, which previously constituted 80 to 90 percent of their production. They now make only the one pound loaf, effecting a 33 1-3 percent savings in flour and bread consumption.

Retailers are being restricted to the same number of units as before the size of the loaves were cut, thus providing less bread for the same number of customers. But bakers say that more than the government 25 percent reduction is necessary, because sales are 15 percent greater than they were in 1945.

In Dallas, production has been reduced 20 percent but will have to be cut to 40 percent to meet federal requirements in flour conservation. Bread consumption there is up 16 1-2 percent over last year, and the flour quota now in effect allows bakers only 75 percent of the flour they used last year.

In the lower Rio Grande valley, no shortage is noticed yet, and one McAllen bakery still has a supply of white flour. The majority, however, have been using the darker flour for weeks. There has been no move on the border to substitute tortillas for bread.

Odessa bakers report no appreciable effect on bread output from the flour cutback, and Corsicans said there was no serious bread shortage there. The supply has been cut as much as 30 percent at some groceries, however.

Various methods are being used to make the bread supply go around. In Fort Worth, many restaurants are holding back bread or cracker service until the evening is served. They serve one slice of bread, until customers ask for more. There have been no complaints from customers.

Odessa cafes also are limiting customers to two rolls, and are eliminating toast unless asked for. Unused bread is being ground into cracker meal.

Mansfield-Goodspeed Roping Match May 12 Due To Attract Big Crowd

With interest mounting in the event, the crowd of 3,500 of last year is expected to be surpassed here May 12 when Toots Mansfield of Big Spring and Rankin meets Jess Goodspeed, Waurika, Okla., in a matched roping contest at 3 p. m. at the rodeo grounds.

A herd of salty Brahmas calves brought here a week ago appear in good condition and should be hard to handle by show time. Big Spring Rodeo Association officials, sponsors of the event, have signed Sheriff Buck Jackson, Pecos, to repeat as announcer for the event. New and more powerful sound equipment will be furnished by the Dunagan Sales company.

Mansfield, who two weeks ago again won the Rodeo Association of America calf roping title, took the first matched roping contest home last year when he defeated Ray Shaw, Roswell, N. M., by 32.6 seconds on 12 calves while averaging 12.5 seconds per calf. In another contest, Sonny Edwards, Big Spring defeated Walton Poage, Rankin, with a total elapsed time of 199.3 against 220.2 for Poage on 10 calves. Poage, however, took the jackpot contest with a 13.5 catch and tie. Mansfield's 13.2 on his last calf, however, was the fastest time of the day.

This year there likely will be a second matched contest in addition to jackpot roping.

Farm And Ranch News

By WACIL McNAIR

Unless conditions grow worse, Texas farmers in 1946 should produce the third largest wheat crop in the state's history. Based upon April 1 conditions, the crop reporting board of the USDA forecast a yield of 59,940,000 bushels, according to a statement released by the bureau of agricultural economics at Austin. If this yield is realized it will come from the largest acreage ever seeded in Texas.

The BEA points out, however, that final wheat harvest is dependent largely upon the state of the weather during April and May. In the important northwest wheat area, timely rains and snow provided sufficient surface moisture to bring the crop through the winter and early spring months with light losses of acreage. Notwithstanding, total rainfall for the season is below normal and sub-soil moisture is deficient. Meanwhile, good general rains are needed to prevent further loss in acreage and yield.

In other wheat areas, however, rainfall generally had been adequate and the crop to April 1 had made good progress. Infestation of greenbugs have been reported in many areas, but the damage from this insect had not been excessive. Assuming that current growing conditions continue, or improve, the yield would be exceeded only by the record crop of 1944 and that of 1931.

Dawson county, which received considerable more rain last week than Howard, now has prospects of getting crops off to a good start. According to reports most of Dawson received from a half to an inch and a half, with the 90 inch registered at Lamesa about average. However, some localized areas didn't fare so well, with only light showers. Some Dawson farmers have already planted their cotton, and many others have started since the rain.

A Mitchell county Dairy Cattle Improvement Association was organized at the annual Dairy Day in Lorraine. The officers are Charles Lawrence, chairman; Jim Bodine, secretary-treasurer; and Blaine Morgan, Harry Cranfill, Homer Webb and Wesley Lockett, directors.

A home study course in citizenship now is being offered to non-citizen residents of the rural areas of Texas by the extension teaching bureau of the University of Texas, according to an announcement by Director Ide P. Trotter of the A&M College extension service. Under the chairmanship of the county superintendents of schools, county committees will be formed of county extension service agents and any vocational teachers selected by the superintendents. The purpose of these committees will be to take charge of the alien address cards in each county and contact the aliens named thereon to tell them about the course.

Capt. Whitney Made Public Works Head In Seoul, Korea

Capt. Herbert W. Whitney, Big Spring, recently was made chief of the public works department of the city of Seoul, Korea.

Currently, he has charge of all the public works, including waterworks, streets, parks and maintenance of all city-owned buildings, including schools. Seoul, the capital of Korea, is rated as perhaps the most modern city of the Orient.

Capt. Whitney is stationed with the 40th military government company headquarters. Before his entry into the service in 1942, he was city secretary and assistant city manager. Mrs. Whitney and their three children make their home here.

Justice of Peace Walter Grice is going to Lubbock this morning to officiate at the marriage of a nephew.

Monroe Johnson Candidate For Commissioner

Monroe Johnson has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as county commissioner from precinct No. 4.

Born and reared in Big Spring and Howard county, Johnson is the son of the late Pete Johnson, who served the county from two precincts during his lifetime.

After he was graduated from high school here, Johnson was associated with several business concerns, and for seven years was in business for himself, selling to enter the US Navy two years ago. He saw duty with the hospital corps.

He and Mrs. Johnson and their daughter reside on a farm eight miles northeast of town, where they moved following his return from service.

The name Johnson is no new one in county politics, for his father served as commissioner from precinct No. 1 from 1906-10 and then from No. 2 from 1928-34.

In offering his candidacy, Johnson said he felt his knowledge of the city and county, plus experience in business helped to qualify him to serve his precinct. He asked consideration and support of voters in his behalf.

Film On Education To Be Shown By YMCA Monday

"Assignment for Tomorrow," a sound film built around the problems of teachers and those of education in general, will be shown at the YMCA's initial film forum Monday at 8 p. m. at Y headquarters, 212 Main.

Importance of quality education is stressed in the picture, along with carrying of the battle toward this objective by teachers. Also mentioned are the struggle for academic freedom, possibility of federal aid, professional pay, etc., all abstractly on a national basis.

Out of the showing, it is hoped that free discussion will be provoked after the projection of the film, which was produced by the National Educational Association.

All interested persons have been invited to attend, and teachers, school officials, P-TA members, etc., are being urged to take part.

Week's Business—

April Lightest Month Of Year For Building

April virtually established itself as the lightest month of 1946 to date for building, as the total reached $65,686 Saturday with but two more days remaining for permits to be issued. The April figure is almost certain to fall far short of January's $104,910, which was low for the first quarter. Conspicuously missing from permits of the current month are commercial projects, which built up the high average for February and March.

The past week's score continued near the average for the month, with 21 permits issued to account for $16,940 in construction, which brought the total for the month up to $65,686. The total for the year now stands at $519,966.

Warranty deeds filed were the heaviest of the month during the past week, with a total value of $89,507 recorded. Aggregate for the month is $301,579, and for the year to date, $1,431,580.

Road Project Ahead For Dawson County

LAMESA, April 27.—Possibility of work starting on the Patricia farm-to-market road in southern Dawson county by May 21 is seen in a verbal message by District Highway Engineer S. C. McCarty, Lubbock, to County Judge Kilmer Corbin. The surfaced lateral project involves use of some federal funds and thus must have clearance before work can begin.

Chandler Blanks Washington, 9-0

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Spud Chandler spun a three-hitter today in pitching the New York Yankees to a 9-0 victory over the Washington Senators before 18,335 paying customers.

The victory, Chandler's third of the season, and his second via the shutout route, enabled the Yankees to break their first place tie with the Boston Red Sox and left the Bronx Bombers perched all by themselves on the top rung.

The Bombers banged out an even dozen hits, including a home run by Joe Gordon and triples by Tommy Henrich and Charley Keller. Keller had a perfect day, with three hits and two walks. Gordon, who also got three hits, batted in three runs.

Walter Masterson, first of three Washington pitchers, was charged with the loss.

Plans Set For Cinco De Mayo Celebration

Dances, baseball games and a Sunday evening speech by a Mexican dignitary will highlight the Cinco De Mayo celebration in the Latin-American colony here Sunday, May 5.

The occasion, observed universally as Mexican Independence day, is expected to attract hundreds to Big Spring.

An unidentified member of the Mexican consulate in El Paso will deliver the climactic speech at 8 o'clock Sunday evening on a specially built platform directly opposite the Kate Morrison school.

The gay program will actually get underway with a dance Saturday night on the platform. Supplying the music will be Frank Martin and his orchestra.

Elias Gamboa will field his Tiger baseball team against a suitable opponent in a Sunday afternoon game.

President of the planning committee is Pedro Cortes Suarez, who has acted in that capacity for the past four years. He will be assisted by D. M. Carmona, secretary.

DIST. MANAGER — Champ Rainwater (above) has been promoted to manager of the Big Spring district of the Empire Southern Gas company. Rainwater has been with the company since 1929, and came here in February, 1944. He succeeds J. P. Kenney, who has been advanced to assistant general manager and vice president in charge of operations of the company.

Wildcat Location Tops County's Oil Activity

Location of a wildcat test 14 miles northwest of Big Spring topped oil developments here last week.

On acreage blocked by R. L. Cook, Big Spring, and J. W. Doss, San Angelo, Cherry & Kidd staked location for their No. 1 Hamlin, 660 feet out of the southeast corner of section 15-33-2N, T&P. The exploration is approximately seven miles northeast of the Bruce Clardy No. 1 O'Brien, which plugged after giving promise of commercial production. Cook and Doss retained 560 acres in the vicinity of the test.

Possibility of a new area of light production was indicated in the unofficial showing of the Hickok & Reynolds No. 1 E. A. Langley, western Mitchell test. Located in section 25, T&P, the well pumped 65 barrels on a 40-hour run and gave promise of a 30 to 35 barrel well from the San Andres section, 2,400 to 2,500 feet. It had sought the Westbrook pay below 3,000 and found it barren. No. 1 Langley is two miles west of Westbrook.

Prospects are that the Stanlind No. 1 B. T. Dunn, deep exploration in northwestern Mitchell county, 64-20, LaVaca, will be abandoned. Saturday it drilled at 5,430 feet, just above the contract depth of 5,500 feet. No pay has been reported.

Continental completed its No. 134-A 16-S test in section 134-29, W&NW, for 25 barrels at 1,310 feet. In the same section the company's 134-A 17-S test 8 5-8 inch string at 208 feet with hole bottomed at 1,200 feet preparatory to drilling into shallow pay.

Ruth To Take Look At Mexican League

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—Babe Ruth, the former home run king, said tonight he expected to fly to Mexico City May 8 to spend a couple of weeks at the invitation of Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican baseball league, but that all plans awaited a meeting with Pasquel's representative here.

Commenting on reports that he would confer with Pasquel regarding an executive position in the Mexican league, Ruth said, "I know nothing about that."

May Shift Supply To Correct That Taste In Water

A harmless but bothersome taste problem in Big Spring water likely will be relieved in a few days.

Mayor George W. Dabney said Saturday that commissioners were contacting the city manager with the view of shifting, temporarily at least, entirely to the well system to eliminate the branch taste.

It had been hoped, said Mayor Dabney, that the Powell Creek supply could be used continuously in order to replenish reserves in the section 33 field southeast of the city. Change in carbon proportions and other methods of treatment have failed to take the taste, created by algae, minute aquatic vegetation, from the lake water.

The lake supply has been pumped in preference to wells to utilize the maximum of the reserve by reducing evaporation loss, and at the same time allow pipeline reserves in some well areas to store greater reserves.

Four From Here To JayCee Conclave

Big Spring's new Junior Chamber of Commerce sent four delegates to the state Jaycee convention at San Angelo Saturday.

Included were Lee Harris, Bill Horne, Boone Horne, and Herbert Feather.

They were to hear Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, speak Saturday evening. Friday Henry Keary, Pasadena, Calif., national Jaycee president, told the convention that the world was looking to young men to make democracy work.

To Rotary Convention

Representing the Big Spring Rotary club at the district convention, H. D. Norris, secretary of the local organization will leave today for Amarillo, where convention activities are scheduled to get underway when all delegates attend church in a body.

Several breakfasts for various club officers have been slated for Monday morning, and during the afternoon delegates will visit the Boys Ranch on a special train excursion.

Appeal To Save Food Will Be Broadened

Howard county's USDA council voted to make an appeal to all service clubs and ministers in the county to aid in emphasizing food conservation, in a meeting held Friday afternoon.

Pointing out that dry weather has cut the Texas wheat crop prospects by one third during the past two weeks, the council reminded the next few weeks the national estimate may drop.

All consumers were urged to conserve all foods containing wheat products and fats as much as possible.

C-C Meeting Monday

Committee chairmen and directors will hear a discussion on the departmental clinic soon to be launched at the regular chamber of commerce directors meeting Monday at noon in the Settles hotel.

Longhorn Tracksters Leave For State Meet Wednesday

Coach Herschel Stockton has had little time to spend with his Big Spring high school track and field squad the past week, having been busy most every afternoon renewing his briefing sessions on the vital roles the lineups play in the game of football.

However, the sextet who will carry our town's colors to Austin and the state interscholastic league finals next Wednesday haven't eased up in their training grinds and will go to the meet in their best possible shape.

Composing the local representation will be Donald Webb, miler; Tim Gentry, half miler; Gerald Harris, 220-yard and relay man; and Bobo Hardy, Ernie Ache and Bobby Miller, other members of the relay squad.

Webb was told the other day one Dan Sparks, Fort Worth Tech mler, negotiated that distance in 4:29.2 minutes in a dual meet. That is two seconds under the state record and about 21 seconds faster than Webb has ever been able to cover the four laps.

However, the Longhorn ace has never been pushed. No one in this section has ever been able to finish within 75 yards of him. If he's paced, he's liable to make it rough for someone.

Stockton collects his charges Wednesday and shoves off for Austin. They'll spend that night in an Austin hotel and should be in fine fettle by the time the show gets underway the next morning.

Preliminaries of the big event which will attract about 450 athletes from throughout the state, will be run off Thursday, the finals Friday.

By the Associated Press

Woodrow Wilson, Dallas has pushed forward as top favorite for the Texas schoolboy track and field championship at Austin next Friday.

The well-balanced Wildcat team has enough strength in the hurdles, dashes and distance races and the discus throw to take the championship, particularly with the new scoring rule which allows points down to sixth place.

Results of an inter-city meet between Dallas and Fort Worth schools Friday night indicated Woodrow Wilson has at least two potential first-placers in Edwin Parks, quarter-miler, and Bibb Hall, hurdler. And not only that, Woodrow Wilson also may run one-two in the 440 because Tom Cox is about as good as Parks, but in fact has beaten him once.

Parks paced the quarter in 5:6 seconds at Fort Worth with Cox just a pace behind. Hall ran the low hurdles in 22.6, the best time of the year in Texas.

In the discus throw Woodrow Wilson has two boys who should place, Johnny Slack should rank high because he can beat 140 feet. Ray Marek has hit 138.

Norman Alsbrook should finish high in the mile run and Hall is a good sprinter, while the Woodrow Wilson mile relay team is fast enough to grab a spot among the first four or five teams.

Austin high and Lamar (Houston) appear the strongest contenders for the championship.

Bisons Defeat Exes, 32-13

FORAN, April 27.—Sparked by Charles Long, the 1946 edition of the Foran high school six-man football team overran a group of former high school players in an exhibition game played here Friday night, 32-13.

Long scored the initial Buff tally on a long run in the initial period, giving Joe Holladay's boys a lead they never lost.

Dan Fairchild, Ray Prater, B. C. Bedell and Bobby Wash later came through with big pointers. Wayne Mononey tallied both of the losers' touches, running for one and taking a pass from Clarence McCluskey for the other.

The Bisons were in front, 12-6, at the termination of the initial quarter, led, 18-12, at intermission time, and had moved into a 25-12 lead by the time the third round elapsed.

Among players who saw action for Holladay's gang were Joe Green, Eldon Prater, Vernon Cannon and Max Anderson.

Gene Huestis, Delmar Klahr, Hubert Butler, Bill Griffith and Willie Hoard played for the Exes.

The game climaxed four weeks of spring training for the Foranites.

STEERS FINISH HALF OF WORK

With half their spring work accomplished, the Big Spring high school football squad reports to Coach John Dibrell Monday to begin their final two weeks of practice.

The drills continue through Tuesday, May 14, and will be climaxed on that afternoon with an intra-squad bout.

Scrimmages are due on Wednesday and Friday of the coming week with some rough work in store for the Bovines on Tuesday as well.

Eddie Houser and Jim Bill Little, who may fit into Dibrell's plans as his ends next fall, continue to look well in practice as does big Eth Cyfert.

Lamesa Beaten, 9-8, In Debut By Indians

LAMESA, April 27.—Though they outthrew the invaders by a 15-10 margin, the Lamesa Lobos lost their home opener to the Albuquerque Indians, 9-8, in a ten inning, WT-NM baseball league thriller here Friday afternoon.

George Sturdivant's boys, over-anxious in their attempt to make an impression with the partisan crowd of 2,000, came within a whisper of winning in Round Nine when Bob Hillin powered the nugget into right field with runners on first and second, Wally Reardon, the foe's right gardener, made a running catch of the blow, however, and sent the bout into extra innings.

Albuquerque, which played the more alert ball all the way, went on to win in the first extra frame when Will Dixon punched a single into left center field to bring home Dub Scott with the needed tally.

Bobby Martin, Big Spring's gift to the Lobos, helped keep the Lamesans in the game by scoring in the third and eighth stanzas. He climbed aboard on five of six trips, had three hits and played a bang-up game afield.

The Lobos are host to the Clovis Pioneers today and Monday afternoon.

Exporters Lose To Buffs Again

HOUSTON, April 27 (AP)—Bill Sanchez, lanky right-hander, tossed a five-hit game at the Shreveport Sports this afternoon as the Houston Buffs checked in with the second straight win over Salty Parker's nine, 7 to 1.

Sanchez' mates collected 11 bingles off the efforts of Bill Sullivan and Bill Eckhardt with Louis Ortiz, new infielder, continuing his heavy hitting with three blows in four trips.

The Sports counted in the seventh after two were away. Murphy singled and Berry followed with a double, the only extra hit of the afternoon, to send Murphy to third. Sanchez then walked Martkowski and Demma to force over a run.

Sanchez drove in the first run of the game in the second. Ortiz singled, stole second and when the hurler looped a Texas leaguer to right Ortiz raced over the plate. Shreveport, 000 000 100-1 5 2 Houston .. 013 030 00x-7 11 1

DETROIT, April 27 (AP)—Hal Newhouse, Detroit Tiger pitcher selected by the Baseball Writers' Association of America as the American league's most valuable player in 1944 and 1945, will be awarded the Kenesaw Mountain Landis memorial plaque at Sunday's Cleveland-Detroit game here.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

This reporter, along with about 50 other local baseball fans, sat in on Lamesa's opener WT-NM baseball league game with Albuquerque's Indians Friday, which was won by the Redmen in ten innings, 9-8. . . . We came away convinced that the circuit, if its class and strength can be judged by the play of the two teams, is not the league it was in 1940 and '41, but that it will be in six weeks' or two months' time. . . . It's a pleasure to report that Big Spring's Bobby "Pepper" Martin, who gets more like his old man, the late Floyd "Pepper" every day, will be able to hold his own in league circles. . . . The former Big Spring high school quarterback gridded came up with three hits in six trips. . . . He scored twice, got on base five of the six times he faced enemy pitching. . . . Too, Bobby has picked up many a trick in playing the outfield since last we saw him. . . . He seemed to know how to play the hitters and displayed an accurate, even deadly arm when the occasion demanded. . . . It was Pep who started the only double play of the game when in the tenth he took a fly off Albuquerque's Goldsberry in short center field and nipped Delago, scampering in from third, at the dish. . . .

The Lamesans' skipper, George Sturdivant, is going to have to have strength and lots of it, if he expects to have a contender. . . . The opposition played the much smarter, more heads-up baseball and apparently have the players to do it. . . . George, who may have slipped a trifle as a player himself during the past half dozen years, needs a catcher, a second sacker, at least one experienced outfielder who can hit and most probably pitching. . . . Perhaps the parent club, the St. Louis Browns, will be able to help him later on. . . . Jimmy Zinn, the Indian pilot, may turn out to be among the best master-minds in the family. . . . He specializes in "inside" baseball, had his boys stealing when base thefts meant runs. Once De La Garza pilfered home under the very nose of Ashton, Lamesa backstop, who never knew what was happening until it was too late. . . . The Lamesans are home today and Monday, entertaining Clovis and Great Pampa for a two-game series starting Tuesday. . . . Among Big Springers who sat in on the proceedings were Sam Winham and the Misses, Birt Tate, Bob Currie, Jim Tidwell and wife, Hal Steck, John Coffee, Gilbert Gibbs, Troy Gifford, Bob Cogg, Bob Middleton, Ira Thurman, Duke Tolberg, Virgil Smith, Dewey Colburn, Dick O'Brien and Logan Baker. . . .

Foran's new athletic plant is undoubtedly one of the classiest of its kind in these parts. . . . The lighting system seems to be much better than our own Muni Park setup, and with reason. . . . Blacky Hines and his cohorts spent lots of time and money in putting up ten 48-foot poles, stringing up an even two dozen 1500-watt bulbs on them. . . . Two more light-poles will be added when the Foran high school starts its football season next fall. . . . Softball enthusiasts are meeting at the Foran high school Monday, night to start organization of a community league, which will probably consist of about four teams. . . . Mal Stevens, the former WT-NM leaguer and brother to Eddie Stevens, the one-time Big Spring first baseman, is back with Mobile of the Southern Association and hitting cleanup. . . . John Mize, a reserve catcher on Albuquerque's ball club, is a cousin to the New York Giants' famed first sacker. . . . Jim Thorpe, the great Indian griddier, was once president of the American Professional league, the daddy of the present National league. . . . For his lifetime All-America team, Thorpe picks Albert Exendine, Carlisle, and Brick Muller, California, ends; Fats Henry, Washington and Jefferson, and Hector Cowen, Princeton, tackles; Pudgie Heffelfinger, Yale, and Cupid Black, Yale, guards; Germany Schultz, Michigan, center; and Walter Eckersall, Chicago; Eddie Mahan, Harvard; Red Grange, Illinois; and Ted Coy, Yale, backs. . . .

Legion Softball Team Books Two Tilts For May

With two games already definitely arranged and challenges going out to other teams in the area, Jack Cecil is rapidly rounding up his American Legion sponsored girl's softball aggregation into shape.

The Big Spring lasses have carded games with Stanton for May 4 and May 11, and immediate challenges are being issued to teams in Midland and Odessa, Cecil said.

At the same time a stiff practice schedule was announced. Workouts will be held henceforth at the Muni Park diamond each day from 5 p. m. to 7:30 p. m., with exception of Tuesdays, when the drills will close at 7 o'clock.

The organization also has booked the Muni field for games every Saturday night.

Cecil expressed satisfaction at the progress made to date in workouts held at the Salvation Army recreation ground. Four more names have been added to the roster, making a total of more than 40. Newcomers on the list include Emma Slaughter, Ruby Spruill, Dorothy Magnus and Barbara Allison. . . .

Cecil says no position has been clinched by those who have been reporting. He has issued an open invitation to all enthusiasts to attend the workouts.

Lanier Baffles Chicago Cubs

ST. LOUIS, April 27 (AP)—Hubert Max Lanier, the guitar-strumming troubador from North Carolina, shut out the Chicago Cubs 4-0 today with a mixture of fast balls and explosive curves.

Two double plays lifted Lanier out of early jams. With the valuable assistance of Cardinal base running and seven hits at the expense of two Chicago hurlers, the chunky southpaw recorded his second shutout of the season.

Capt. Terry Moore, welcomed back to his centerfield spot by 10,641 fans, pounded a double and single to drive in two runs. Young Dick Sisler's double in the Cardinal fifth provided Lanier with his first break over southpaw Bob Chipman. Sisler scored with the first Redbird run when Len Merullo missed Del Rice's relay.

While Lanier held the Cubs to four hits, the Cardinals sped past third base in a highly annoying manner. Enos Slaughter walked with two out in the fifth and as Moore sent a clothes-line drive down the left field line, raced around third and scored. Moore slid safely into the third on the throw to the plate.

Texans Take Play In Drake Relays; Gus Erfurth Wins

Muratore Sets Batting Pace

DALLAS, April 27, (P) — The Dallas Rebels set a hefty hitting pace in the first week of the Texas league campaign, pounding the horseshoe for an average of .278 while Eldon Muratore of the Beaumont Exporters hung up the top individual batting mark of .419.

Averages covering all games through April 24 announced today by the league statistical bureau show Houston second in hitting with .270 and Tulsa third with .263.

Kunde, Oklahoma City first baseman, had the highest individual batting average with his .500 in 16 trips to the plate, but Muratore led those going to bat more than 25 times. He got 13 hits in 31 trips.

Wood, Dallas third baseman, and Nieldsen, Houston catcher, had marks of .474 and .429 respectively. Wood in 19 times at bat, and Nieldsen in 21.

Five pitchers won two games and lost none—Mack Stewart of Tulsa; Wilson, Oans and Hogue of Dallas, and Jakucki of San Antonio.

Duncan, Shreveport left fielder, drove in 11 runs to lead in that department. Donaldson, Tulsa's third sacker, led in runs with 11.

Muratore got his start in professional baseball in Big Spring in 1940. A big catcher, Eldon hails from San Francisco.

Bill Martinson Edges LaBeach In Century

DES MOINES, April 27 (AP)—Fleet-footed stars from five Texas schools and a gloomy rain from the heavens took the play today at the 37th annual Drake Relays.

Texans triumphed in three relay races—the university quarter and half-mile events and the college mile—and two individual events—the 100-yard dash and high hurdles. In addition, they captured second places in the mile and quarter-mile relays, third and fifth places in the century, and fourth in the college mile relay.

A total of 620 athletes from 54 universities and colleges from 16 states were in the first post-war competition.

Billy Martinson, Baylor university, Waco, Tex., won the century in a close finish with Lloyd LaBeach, the Jamaican sprinter from the University of Wisconsin, and Allen Lawler, University of Texas, who finished in that order. LaBeach got a poor start which probably prevented his becoming a double winner. He captured the broad jump yesterday with a leap of 23 feet, 10 7/8 inches.

Martinson's time was .09.9, a tenth of a second slower than LaBeach's time in yesterday's trials.

August Erfurth, following the tradition of Rice Institute, Houston, Tex., in producing sensational hurdlers, skinned to a one-yard triumph in the 120-yard hurdles. Erfurth broke first and maintained his lead to the finish, with Tommy Mitchell of Indiana close behind.

Other stars from the Lone Star state to hang up victories were the Texas university half-mile relay quartet, the Baylor quarter-mile foursome, and the North Texas Teachers college mile team.

Abilene Christian college was the fifth Texas school to get into the scoring column with a fourth in the college mile relay.

Illinois retained its mile relay championship of 1945 by winning in 3:23.3—the same time as last year. While the Illini speedsters were competing here, another Illini quartet won the same event at the Penn relays in 3:18.4.

Billy Bangert, opera-singing weight man from Purdue, de-throned as defending champion in the discus throw yesterday, came back to triumph in the shot put, in which he also was defending titlist. He tossed the iron ball 50 feet, 3 1/2 inches.

William Moore, Northwestern, National AAU indoor pole vault champion, captured this event in the rain. He cleared 13 feet 3 inches, 8 inches below his performance here a year ago.

Andrews Voted Top Ten Athlete

AUSTIN, April 27 (P)—Half-pint Billy Andrews, drop-kicker and waterboy de luxe for the University of Texas Longhorns, has been elected outstanding senior athlete at the university in the student elections.

The four foot eleven inch Andrews, who doesn't mind being kidded about his size, wasn't kidding when he drop-kicked numerous points after touchdown for the Longhorns or when he won his letter as an outfielder in baseball.

Frosh Handcuffs Pale Hose, 3-0

CHICAGO, April 27 (AP)—Sam Zoldak made his first major league start for the St. Louis Browns an auspicious one today by shutting out the Chicago White Sox, with three hits, 2-0 before 4,538 fans. Vern Stephens, who then back to the Browns, hit his first home run of the season in the fourth inning and drove in the second run with a single in the sixth.

Illini All But Set New Mark In Penn Races

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—The University of Illinois athletes were "the hottest thing on chills, windswept Franklin Field today. They took the most covered-of events at the Penn Relays, the mile relay in 3:18.4; barely missed a sweep of the four relay events in which they were "entered, and won one individual event.

But for a bad pass of the baton in the trials for the 880 yard relay this morning, Illinois might have become the third team in the 52 year history of the meet to win four events. The Illini had taken the 440 and the sprint medley yesterday and made the best time in the half mile trials.

Herb McKenley ran a great 45.9 quarter as anchor man on the mile relay team to turn what had been a close race into a rout. By virtue of that leg, Illinois won its third title by some 15 yards over Navy, with Michigan third.

Just before the mile relay thrilled a crowd of about 35,000 persons, Dwight Eddleman won the high jump for the second straight year with a leap of six feet four inches to score the only individual triumph for Illinois.

Golfers Qualify Through Today

Qualifying for the high school boys' golf tournament, which is being conducted under the supervision of Conn Isaacs and Pro Roy Fanning, ends tonight.

Of the six youngsters who have posted records thus far, Marvin Wright boasts the best score with an 87. Others who entered last week were Clarence and Paul Shaffer and Sam Thurman.

Pairings will be drawn up by Fanning Monday morning. All matches will be played at the Mundy course.

The Mundy course's ringer tournament enters its third week today with one new entry—W. R. Yates—in the field.

The tourney continues through May 13.

Five prizes are in the offing to the winners. The lucky ones will be given certificates, giving them title to the merchandise prizes in the golf shop they choose.

High school golfers can henceforth use the facilities of the Mundy course free of charge at any time during the week except Sunday. Pro Roy Fanning has announced.

Fanning will begin a golf clinic for school students next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. It will be continued until the summer vacation.

Twins Spring Upset In Cleaners' Win

Twins Cafe upset Hartley's Cleaners, 2-1, in Women's bowling league play here last week but the reversal meant very little to the Spot Removers, who had already clinched the title.

The triumph, however, enabled the Twins aggregation to wind up in second place.

Other results saw Seven-Up take Cosden into camp, 2-1, with Jessie Pearl Watson leading the way.

Ringer Tournney Underway Today

Members of the country club are eligible to begin play in the men's ringer tournament this morning, while the women entries will wait until Friday to tee off. Both meetings continue for a month.

Three prizes will be offered in each division of play. Players scoring low gross, low net and those showing the most improvement during the course of activity will be rewarded with suitable merchandise premiums.

ARCARO'S CHOICE—Lord Boswell, working out recently with an exercise boy in the saddle, has been chosen as a Kentucky Derby mount by Eddie Arcaro, veteran jockey, who will be trying for his fourth Derby victory May 4. Maine Chance Farm's trainer James Smith said. Lord Boswell, one of Maine Chance Farm's Derby eligibles, was chosen over the favorite Knockdown. Smith said. (AP Photo).

Lord Boswell, Knockdown Popular Choices In Sprint For The Roses

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 27 (AP)—About 100,000 persons and between a dozen and a dozen and a half horses, are going to get together at Churchill Downs next Saturday, along with assorted hot dogs, gulps and mutual tickets, to put the Kentucky Derby on a peace-time basis.

The horses are aiming at a neck-lace of roses and a paycheck close to $100,000.

A few of the fancier out-burners are missing. However, there are still some 18 horses checked in here, or headed this way. A dozen of these are down as definite starters; four others as probables and one or two more, are thinking it over.

The people's "cherce" at the moment is Lord Boswell, a sleek, stumpy stretch-running swiftie, who was bought as an infant with his mother for $12,000 three years ago by Mrs. Elizabeth Graham.

Along with Lord Boswell as an entry will be his stable sidekick, Knockdown, rangy Maryland-born winner of last winter's Santa Anita Derby.

The hardboots tell you that if these two don't make it, the best investment will be either in Earnest, Spy Song or Hampden.

Spy Song is another speedster which runs from the head end, and with Hampden and Robert Bruce Lively's Marine Victory and William Helis' New Orleans dandy, Rippey on hand to help him cut the early foot, it would appear a come-from-behind rout-geer has the best edge, since the speed boys figure to run each other's legs off.

In that case, the race would go to some stretch sizzler like Lord Boswell or Assault, son of the 1936 Derby winner Bold Venture, and trained by the same man, Maxie Hirsch. If Assault should turn the trick, he'd be the first Texas galloper to hit the jackpot, since he was born on one of the roughly 850,000 acres that make up Robert J. Kleberg's Jr.'s fabulous "King ranch.

The business session is slated to get underway at 2:30 o'clock Sunday, after which the attending members will hear a talk on outstanding breeders and exhibitors given by Charles Abele.

The June meeting of the club which will take place the first Sunday of the month, will be held in Monahan's.

Canine Lovers To Meet May 5

Dog fanciers who are counting on attending the next meeting of the West Texas Kennel club, to be held at the home of Mrs. W. P. Cecil, Big Spring, on Sunday, May 5, should notify William S. Talbott, not later than Friday morning.

The business session is slated to get underway at 2:30 o'clock Sunday, after which the attending members will hear a talk on outstanding breeders and exhibitors given by Charles Abele.

Stan Musial Sees Wide - Open Bottle For Batting Crown

PITTSBURGH, April 27. (P)—Slugging Stan Musial, resuming cordial relations with his National league pitching "cousins," after a short Navy hitch, sees a wide open batting title this season—and likes his own changes "as well as the next guy's."

The classy St. Louis Cardinal outfielder won the batting title with a .357 average in 1943 and gave Brooklyn's Dixie Walker a tremendous fight the following year, finishing with .347, ten points behind the "people's choice."

Dixie is one of the National's hitters San figures will be among the 1946 leaders. "If he gets to play enough ball," Others whose chances Musial likes, now that the big stickers are back from the war, are:

Phil Cavarretta, Chicago Cubs, last year's champ.

Pistol Pete Reiser, Brooklyn.

Enos Slaughter, his teammate.

Tommy Holmes, Boston Braves.

Cats Play Slaton 9

Elías Bamboa's Big Spring Tigers seek their second victory in a row over the Slaton Bengals in a baseball exhibition to be played here at 3:30 this afternoon.

The locals rang up a 9-3 victory over the Slaton gang two weeks ago, then lost a 10-3 decision to Pecos in Pecos last week.

Monty Montague is expected to toe the rubber for the Big Springers in this afternoon's encounter. His receiver will be the capable Popeye Cruz.

The invaders have three pitchers to depend upon. Nick Surdo is due to open on the hill. If he needs help, both Rafael Aldao and Jesus Garcia will be ready to go moundward.

Redcaps To Stanton

Stanton readies the welcome mat this afternoon for the Doc Wilkinson softball team of Big Spring, which breaks the barrier with a Stanton independent also in an exhibition called for 3:30 p. m.

Divorces Granted

Three divorces were granted by District Judge Cecil Collings in court proceedings here Friday. They involved Hollis Foster vs. Venita Foster, Doris Faguin vs.

Guy, Fernand Faguin, and Doris Wiswell vs. Dan Wiswell. In the Faguin ruling the maiden name of Satterwhite was restored to the plaintiff. Coffee originally came from Arabia.

Breakfast Delayed

Breakfast session of the chamber of commerce membership committee has been postponed from April 30 to May 2, it was announced Saturday. The postponement was ruled when Chairman V. A. Merrick was called out of town.

Town Forum Organized, Hears Discussion Of School Issues

A small but enthusiastic group met Friday night in the VFW hall and formally organized an open forum, which will meet periodically for public discussion of matters pertaining to community interest.

Ted Phillips was named chairman and Jack Johnson secretary.

A survey committee of the Big Spring independent school district board of trustees, composed of R. L. Tollett, Justin Holmes and Dewey Martin, were present at the inaugural meeting to join in a discussion of the city school system's problems.

Calling attention to meetings of the school board, city and county commissioners, etc., which are open to the public, Tollett urged that as many citizens as possible attend the sessions. "I don't think there is a need in Texas for the old town meeting as referred to in the paper," (The Herald) he said. "The trustees, city and county commissioners meet many times each year, without anyone appearing before them."

Tollett said the school board is anxious to determine the nature and cause of all criticism, and then try to correct causes of that which is justified and to dispel that for which there is no apparent cause.

He cited the growth of the city school system during recent years, quoting statistics which showed that the teaching staff has increased from 40 in 1927-28 to 107 today, and that the average daily attendance has more than doubled during the same period. Valuation of taxable property in the district has almost doubled since 1935-36, he said, with the total now at $13,423,000. However, he pointed out that financial difficulties still are the chief problems confronting the school system, and the board has almost completed a survey which indicates that an increase in valuation is in order. He called attention to a $12,000 bond issue which was voted in 1940 for improvement of the Lakeview and Kate Morrison schools after estimates had been obtained from contractors. However, by the time the bonds were approved and printed the contractors wanted $20,000 for the work. Therefore, the money still is being held in bonds, he said.

Other statistics were presented, showing that the current teacher payroll amounts to $165,000 per year, an average of $174 per month for each teacher on a nine months basis, with an average of $191.29 for high school teachers. Lowest salary for any teacher beginning in the system is $1,236 per year, he said, and the board hopes to increase the minimum to $1,500 per year.

Holmes and Martin joined in requesting that all present aid in the survey being made by the board, by submitting their criticisms on blank sheets which were provided.

Other discussion from the audience centered on reports, which several said had been circulated, which indicated that graduates of Big Spring high school sometimes encountered difficulties in carrying on collegiate work.

Before adjourning, the group voted unanimously to hold a similar meeting on the night of May 6, with the place and definite time to be arranged as soon as possible. After tabulating the vote, Phillips urged all present to publicize the next meeting in order that a greater number of citizens might attend. He also emphasized that the meeting is open to everyone, men and women, and is not being conducted by any specific group.

Lamesa Looking For Muny Airfield

LAMESA, April 27. — Action is being taken by the city council here toward establishment of a municipal field service at the glider base, nine miles north of town on a temporary basis while investigating possibilities of a permanent field in proximity to Lamesa.

Hudson Landers, contractor for operation of the former glider base and care of surplus equipment from the War Assets Administration, said he did not know what possibilities of municipal use of the field were, but that he would cooperate. Chamber of commerce representatives told council members they believed a field closer to town would be of much more value commercially and to private fliers.

Big Spring Girl Scout Association To Present May Fete At City Park Amphitheatre Tuesday At 6:30

All Troops To Pay
May Queen Court
At Spring Festival

On the eve of May Day all troops of the Big Spring Girl Scout association will present a May fete in the amphitheatre in the city park.

The affair will begin Tuesday evening at 6:30 p. m. and the program will last about an hour. The numbers will include traditional May songs and folk dances and the affair will be highlighted with the customary winding of the May pole.

Each troop in town will be responsible for a part of the program, and more than 40 scouts will participate in the winding of twin May poles.

Music will be furnished by the high school band under the direction of Frank E. Wentz.

A May Queen will be crowned and enthroned for the proceedings, accompanied by her ladies-in-waiting. The queen will be chosen from Mrs. H. H. Rutherford's Troop Three, a Senior Scout troop, but her name has not yet been divulged.

The program will be opened with the procession, followed by the crowning of the queen, after which "Ten Pretty Maidens" will be done by troop one. "Come Lasses and Lads," a folk dance, will be used to introduce the court, and will be performed by intermediates of troop four.

"Lavender's Blue," an old English folk song, will be sung by members of troop eight, followed by the May pole dance to be given by troops 9, 16 and 20.

Troop 10 will give the folk dance, "Skip To My Lou," and Brownie troop 17 will give "Swinging in the Swing." "My Name is Queen Mary," will be given by troop 18, and troop 19 will sing, "Ring O' Roses."

Troop 21, the Latin American troop, will give a number, directed by Wanda Warren. Troop 22 will give "Little Red Handkerchief," and the program will be concluded with the dancing of "Jennie Crack Corn," by troop six.

The festival was set for 6:30 p. m. in order that there might be ample time following the program to attend the senior class play on the same night. Mrs. Larson Lloyd, association president, said. The public is invited.

A final rehearsal of all acts will be held Monday evening at 6:30 p. m. in the amphitheatre, and all participants were urged to be present.

Homemakers Class Has Work Session

The Homemakers class of the First Baptist church met for a work session Friday afternoon in the church. The ladies placed a quilt.

Attending were Mrs. V. W. Fugle, Mrs. M. C. Stulting, Mrs. M. E. Harlan, Mrs. J. L. Haines, Mrs. C. E. Richardson, Miss Minnie Moore and Mrs. Roy Green.

MAKE HOME HERE—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCullough are making their home here, since he was discharged from the navy recently. The couple was married on Dec. 8, 1944, in Sherman. Mrs. McCullough is the former Ramona Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barker.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Ends Spring Rushing Season With Ritual Of Jewels

Putting an end to the spring rushing season, Beta Sigma Phi social sorority, will have formal initiation ceremonies Monday evening, followed by a banquet and dance at the Settles hotel.

Nine rushers will become pledges when they take the pledge ritual and receive their pins. The group includes Wanda Rose Bobb, Carolyn Cantrell, Ann Douglas, Jean Elliott, Edna Ellis, Kathleen Freeman, Betty Jo Pruitt, Lorraine Talbot and Emma Rose Weir.

At the Monday meeting 10 pledges will have completed their six months period of probation, and are candidates for the Ritual of Jewels, after which they will be privileged to wear the jeweled pin signifying full membership in Beta Sigma Phi. Those who will include Marjorie Cargile, Dorothy Hall, Sara Maude Johnson, Barbara Laswell, Marjorie Laswell, Juanita Pool, Mattie Belle Tomp-

UNITED COUNCIL OF CHURCH WOMEN will have a regular fifth Monday meeting at the Wesley Methodist church at 3 p. m. All women's church organizations will meet there.

FIRST BAPTIST WMS will have a seated tea for the missionary society and new members of the church from 3 until 4 p. m. in the First Baptist church.

VFW AUXILIARY will have installation of officers at 7:30 p. m. in the VFW hall.

Woman's Forum Observes "I Am American" Day

"I Am An American" day was observed at the meeting of the Modern Women's forum Friday afternoon and Judge Walter Morrison was principal speaker.

Judge Morrison traced the history of the United States and told why it was settled in pointing out the reasons and basis for the American spirit now prevalent. He described the American feeling of freedom and told of the greatness of the people.

A refreshment plate was served. The dining table was decorated with a low bowl of pansies, and roses were used in decorating the rooms.

Attending were Mrs. Albert Fisher, Mrs. Cecil Collings, Mrs. W. F. Cook, Mrs. Thomas Coffee, Mrs. R. L. Warren, Mrs. L. E. Eddy, Mrs. Charles Koberg, Mrs. J. P. Dodge, Mrs. Driver, and Mrs. W. G. Wilson Jr., a guest.

Group Gives Dance In Settles Friday

Approximately 125 couples attended a formal dance given Friday night in the Settles ballroom by Mr. and Mrs. Ted Groebel, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Woodall, Mr. and Mrs. Ben LeFever and Dr. and Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper.

Music was furnished by Jack Free's orchestra, and the rooms were decorated with baskets of spring flowers. The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of red roses.

Jeanne Dickerson 'Miss Big Spring' At Abilene Rodeo

Jeanne Dickerson, sophomore in Hardin-Simmons University, will be "Miss Big Spring" in the Abilene rodeo sponsors' events May 1-5.

Announcement of her appointment was made Saturday at the chamber of commerce. Miss Dickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dickerson, also will ride in the quadrille events for the rodeo, which is sponsored by the Abilene Sheriff's posse.

Riding in rodeo events is no new assignment for the blonde representative of Big Spring. Two years ago she rode in the quadrille here and was sponsor for the Wasson Ranch in the women's contests. A plucky performer, Miss Dickerson continued to ride after being thrown by a fractious horse in one of the rodeo events here and after being critically injured when she was thrown from a horse at Abilene last year when turning sharply to avoid riding over a companion who had fallen from her mount.

Scout Leaders Have Day Camp In Park

Scout leaders met at the park Saturday morning for training in day camp activities by operating a model day camp, similar to that which will be held for all Girl Scouts May 3.

Participating were Mrs. Dan Conley, Arath Phillips, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. M. F. Ray, Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Hogan and Mary Miller.

BOSTONIANS VISIT

Mrs. E. E. H. Souther and daughter, Helen, of Boston, Mass., are visiting here with her brother, Mr. W. F. Cushing, and other relatives including Mrs. Hubert Stupp, Mrs. Frank Holmes, Mrs. Connie Reque, and William Cushing, Jr. This is her first visit here since 1916 and the first for her daughter.

Mrs. W. E. Wright Feted At Morning Coffee Friday

Honoring Mrs. W. E. Wright, who is leaving to make her home in Houston, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. Otis Grafe and Mrs. J. E. Mull entertained Friday morning with a coffee in the Settles hotel.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Grafe and those in the receiving line included Mrs. Mull, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Smith.

The coffee table was laid with a lace cloth, and the centerpiece was of multicolored spring flowers. Other baskets repeating the table arrangement were placed as a background to the table. All table appointments were silver.

Included at the coffee service included Mrs. Cliff Wiley, Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Mrs. A. V. Karcher and Mrs. R. T. Piner.

Those in the house party were Mrs. E. B. McCormick, Mrs. Joe Blum, Mrs. George Tillinghast, Mrs. E. Q. Greene, Mrs. Coy Nalley and Mrs. Marvin Miller.

More Than 400 See Lunchroom Facilities At Open House

More than 400 persons viewed the accomplishments of the P-TA council Friday night when they attended the tri-school lunchroom open house.

The guests were shown through the entire plant by the hostess group from the council, and saw how the meals are prepared and served.

Pie, cake, coffee and punch were served and a cake walk was held. Nearly $90 was realized from the sales, about $50 of which was from the cake walk. Mrs. J. E. Brigham announced that possibly $95 or $100 will be cleared when all sweets were sold Saturday.

LOCAL GIRL WEDS—Mrs. Robert James Broadwell was Myra Nell King before her marriage the first week in April in Long Beach, Calif. For the double ring ceremony the bride wore a gray suit with black and rose accessories, and was given in marriage by her father, W. R. King of Big Spring. The bridegroom is now attached to the U. S. Coast Guard, and following his release from the service he will continue his studies at Columbia University.

First Baptist WMS To Have Seated Tea In Church Monday

New members in the church and the missionary society will be honored at a seated tea Monday afternoon from 3 until 4 o'clock in the church parlor.

The program will include musical numbers and an illustrated talk by Mrs. Ernest Hock. Mrs. P. D. O'Brien, president of the WMS, will give a short informational address in which she will tell the new members about what the WMS in the Baptist church means and does.

About 30 women are expected.

First Baptist BTU Training Course Concluded Friday

The BTU training course, which was concluded Friday evening at the First Baptist church, reached an enrollment of 193 it was announced Saturday.

Average attendance in the four classes totaled 117 for each session. The course was directed by Miss Nella Casement, an approved Baptist worker, and an instructor at the sessions was Rev. J. W. Arnett, district eight missionary.

Miss Casement taught the adult group in the book, "Our Doctrine," and Rev. Arnett taught the intermediate book, "Alcohol, the Destroyer." Mrs. Carmen Mendosa instructed the junior class, and Mrs. Inez Lewis and Mrs. W. J. Alexander gave the lessons to the primary and beginner groups.

The last session Friday night drew about 150 and the training was closed with a social hour and refreshments. The final program was a demonstration of the work of BTU officers and committees.

Before each session Miss Casement reviewed a portion of the book, "Papa Was a Preacher," concluding it Friday.

'Ziegfeld Follies' A Medley Of Song, Color, Dances, Girls, Fun

TWO OF MANY—Top dancers of the screen, Gene Kelly and Fred Astaire, are only two of a galaxy of stars who contribute to the mixture of comedy, song, dance, beauty and romance that makes up the technicolor extravaganza, "Ziegfeld Follies," which is at the Ritz theatre today and Monday.

A screen production surrounded with the dazzle and splendor associated with its New York stage forerunner is the new "Ziegfeld Follies Of 1946" which is at the Ritz theatre today and Monday. It is in the tradition of the great showman, with fun, beauty, song and lovely girls—and is presented in Technicolor.

M-G-M has gathered an outstanding cast, to sing and dance and entertain audiences. Their names are a roster of Hollywood's best talents: Fred Astaire, Lucille Ball, Lucille Bremer, Fanny Brice, Judy Garland, Kathryn Grayson, Lena Horne, Gene Kelly, James Melton, Victor Moore, Red Skelton, Esther Williams, William Powell, Edward Arnold, Marion Bell, Bunin's Puppets, Cyd Charisse, Hume Cronyn, William Frawley, The Robert Lewis, Virginia O'Brien and Keenan Wynn.

Powell, in his showman's heaven, harks back to the good old days on Broadway. He sees his great stars, his great productions, the audience, see them too, in the form of Bunin's Puppets, a clever and fascinating moment in the production. Then, as Powell speculates, regularly heard Soundstage at 7:30 p. m., will now be broadcast at 6 p. m. Washington Inside Out, a regular feature at 7 o'clock Sunday evenings, will be heard at 6:30 p. m. throughout the daylight saving time period. Paul Whiteman, featured in the Sunday-Hall of Fame series, will be heard this evening at 5 o'clock, rather than the 5 o'clock period.

Daily features, such as the Breakfast Club, Breakfast in Hollywood, My True Story, Cedric Belfrage, Fulton Lewis Jr., Raymond Gram Swing, Bride and Groom, and Morton Downey will be heard at the same times as in the past. Station officials urged listeners to consult the revised KBST program logs in the Herald for possible new times of broadcast for their favorite programs.

KBST Notes—

Daylight Saving Time To Affect Radio Programs

Many of the favorite radio programs heard in this area on KBST will be broadcast at new times effective today. Inauguration of daylight saving time in the East will result in the transmission of many network program one hour earlier than usual, reflecting in many program changes at the local ABC-Mutual outlet, KBST.

The daytime broadcast schedule will remain the same as in the past, station officials announced, through a special arrangement with the major networks. However, the majority of the programs after 6 p. m. will be heard one hour earlier. Drew Pearson will be heard at 5 o'clock this afternoon, rather than the usual 6 o'clock period. Quinton Reynolds, Don Gardner, Gabriel Heatter, Walter Winchell, Luella Parsons, LeGuards, Jimmy Fidler, and the Theatre Guild of the Air will all be heard one hour earlier.

These network changes will result in new schedules for programs originated from KBST's studios. The Veterans Roundtable, regularly heard Soundstage at 7:30 p. m., will now be broadcast at 6 p. m. Washington Inside Out, a regular feature at 7 o'clock Sunday evenings, will be heard at 6:30 p. m. throughout the daylight saving time period. Paul Whiteman, featured in the Sunday-Hall of Fame series, will be heard this evening at 5 o'clock, rather than the 5 o'clock period.

Daily features, such as the Breakfast Club, Breakfast in Hollywood, My True Story, Cedric Belfrage, Fulton Lewis Jr., Raymond Gram Swing, Bride and Groom, and Morton Downey will be heard at the same times as in the past. Station officials urged listeners to consult the revised KBST program logs in the Herald for possible new times of broadcast for their favorite programs.

Deanna Durbin Stars At State Theatre In 'Lady On A Train'

"Lady On A Train," a comedy-mystery starring Deanna Durbin, is the featured attraction for today and Monday at the State theatre. The picture is declared to be a complete departure for Deanna Durbin and another step in Producer Felix Jackson's plan to give the star a varied program. Although Deanna's role in the picture is essentially an acting one, she sings three songs — "Silent Night," "Night And Day" and "Give Me A Little Kiss." In the new film, Deanna portrays an amateur sleuth. An avid reader of mystery stories she sees a murder committed as she is arriving in New York on a train. She sees the victim, but does not see

Famed Action Drama Offered At The Lyric

The mightiest outdoor adventure ever filmed, Jack London's "Call of the Wild," with Clark Gable in the role that he made famous, plays today and Monday at the Lyric theatre. The exciting epic of the Klondike also stars Loretta Young and Jack Oakie. Packed from start to finish with action, "Call of the Wild" returns to thrill audiences anew with its tale of two fisted men who beat a path through the frozen North in search of fame and fortune in the spectacular Klondike rush, and of women who winked at danger. "Call of the Wild" presents Clark Gable as the romantic hero. It is in this film that Gable sets the pattern of an exciting new kind of screen personality that made him one of the top stars of our day.

Coahoma Seniors Honored At Reception By Homemaking Class In High School

COAHOMA, April 26. (Sp.) — Honoring the graduating seniors, the Homemaking class of the Coahoma high school was hostess at a reception Thursday night in the high school gymnasium.

The guests were met at the door by Eula Belle Self and Rosemary Acuff. The gym was decorated in the style of a hotel lobby where guests were seated until they were invited by Gloria Jean Harris and Donna McCann to the refreshment table in the homemaking dining room.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth with a centerpiece of red roses in a crystal bowl with red candles on each side placed in crystal candelabra. Refreshments were served by Delma Faye Minchew and Wanda Crandfill, assisted by Pauline Torres and Virginia Cathcart.

During the program Betty Graves and Rosemary Acuff played piano solos, and Marie Kelsay and Gypsy McCollum gave a saxophone duet. "Let the Rest of the World Go By" was sung by Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Cockrell after which Helen Joyce Engle sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "Oh, What It Seemed To Be."

A cornet quartet made up of Marie Kelsay, Wayne DeVaney, Patricia Turner and Louis Lovelless gave a number. Following a reading by Patricia Turner, Marie Kelsay played trumpet solos accompanied on the piano by Miss McCollum.

Members of the graduating class include Essie Arnold, Ray Echols, Ruby Helen Lindley, Loma Jean Buchanan, Harry Echols, Frances Sheedy, Melba Brannon, Tommy Clark, Bill Wood, Jammylu Brewer, Louise Lumpkins, Marion Roberts, Marion Hays, Connie Raye Reid and the sponsor, Miss Frances Kelsay.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. M. R. Turner, homemaking teacher.

Approximately 80 guests called during the evening.

Bathing Beauty Revue Planned For May 19th

A bathing beauty revue, the first here in many seasons, has been set tentatively for May 19 at the city swimming pool.

Winner of the event, sponsored by the High Heel Slipper club, will be designated as "Miss Big Spring" and will represent the city in district and state contests.

Entries may be listed by organizations or businesses as sponsors. Entry fee will be $10, the sponsoring club announced. "Miss Big Spring" will be presented with a loving cup and flowers.

Securing entries will be Mildred Balch, High Heel Slipper treasurer, Mary Gerald Robbins, Jean Murphy and Joyce Worrell. Single girls 16 or over will be eligible to compete. Prospects are that a film talent scout will be on hand for the occasion.

Fifth Monday Meet Of Church Council Set For Wesley Church

For its regular fifth Monday meeting the United Council of Church Women will have a session Monday at the Wesley Methodist church.

All members of the local women's church organizations will be there for a program concerning the life of the family. Mrs. J. P. Kenney will be in charge of a musical program.

On May 3 there will be a stranger's tea sponsored by the council in the parlor of the First Methodist church, to which all new comers to town will be invited.

Dixon Promoted

Mrs. B. Y. Dixon learned Saturday that her son, Floyd Dixon, had been promoted from seaman first class to aerographer's mate third class. He is now stationed at the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J., where he is in training. He was joined Friday by his wife, the former Betty Kinman. He will be there for about six months.

Forsan Items—Mrs. O. S. Butler Honored At Surprise Gift Party; Baptist Training Concluded

FORSAN, April 27. — A surprise gift party in her home honored Mrs. O. S. Butler, who is leaving Forsan soon. Guests calling presented a personal gift to Mrs. Butler, and were served punch and cookies by Mrs. Bob Kneer, Mrs. Lewis Hueval and Mrs. Jack Keith.

The Training Union study course at the First Baptist church in Forsan — a five-day course, — was concluded Friday night. Presentation of awards will be made in the near future. Teachers of the course were Helen Nixon, adults; Rev. Bert Clark, intermediates; Mrs. Jimmie Calcutt, juniors.

Mrs. Jeff English has returned home from a week's visit with her parents in Stamford.

Vernon Gandy left the first of the week for San Diego and naval reassignment after spending several days here with his mother, Mrs. Mamie Gandy, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Prescott visited friends and relatives in Kermit, Monahans and Hobbs.

Mrs. Dan McRae returned home this week, after undergoing treatment in a Big Spring hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Johnson of Austin and Bebe Johnson of Dallas, are on a trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Duncan have sold their home to Mr. Frenz and have bought another from Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wilson. Mr. Frenz has moved his house to the Lees community.

Aftermath of a successful fishing trip by Woodrow Scudday, Coots Scudday, Carlton King and Blackie Hines was a fish fry held on the Cosden lease. The men caught 35 pounds.

English Girl Honored

English-born Mrs. Grant Billings was honored last week with a miscellaneous bridal shower in the home of Mrs. W. L. Clayton.

After guests had arrived the honoree was presented with a corsage of white carnations. She was then seated in a chair decorated with white taffeta in a large bow.

Guests were registered in a white moire taffeta guest book. Bingo was played and prizes were won by Mrs. Billings and Mrs. Grover Blissard.

The honoree found her gifts by following a ribbon which led to the arrangements of presents. Following opening of gifts, refreshments were served.

Table decorations featured a crystal center bowl of pink and white roses with white candles in crystal candelabra on either side. The table was laid with a lace cloth. Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Lawson assisted in the serving while Mrs. Clayton presided at the crystal punch service.

Mrs. Billings was formerly of Braintree, Essex, England, and arrived in Big Spring several weeks ago, crossing on the Queen Mary. She met and married her husband when he was stationed in England. They were wed in formal rites at the church St. Mary's, Deansry, Braintree, Essex, England.

Billings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Lawson of Big Spring. The guest list included: Mrs. Stranghan, Myrtle Richardson, Mrs. G. R. Smith, Mrs. Chappo Smith, Mrs. A. T. Patterson, Mrs. Britton Hull, Mrs. Clinton Hull, Mrs. Grover Blissard, Mrs. L. G. Bedwell, Mrs. T. C. Future Homemakers Of District Meet At Forsan School

FORSAN, April 27. — Ten schools were represented at the first district rally for District 3, Future Homemakers of America, held in Forsan Saturday.

After guests were welcomed by Joe Holliday, Odessa and Colorado guests presented parts on the program. Miss Florence McAllister, area coordinator, gave a brief summary of an area meeting she had attended in El Paso.

At an afternoon business session it was voted to hold the next district meeting in Big Spring. It was further voted to have a district meeting each year, and to set up four district offices, two of these to be filled from the host chapter.

Organization of a camp also was approved, and a committee was named to report on plans for this undertaking at the next meeting.

Schools represented at the meeting were Eldorado, Big Spring, Lorraine, Odessa, Sterling City, Big Lake, Colorado City, Buffalo Gap and Forsan.

Market For Good Ideas

Within another week a "thought survey" is being undertaken by the chamber of commerce.

It is important that this process not be accepted as an exclusive matter; quite the contrary, its maximum success is dependent upon the idea that it is a community undertaking. Thus, it is important for the public in general as well as members of the organization to consider the various committee sessions for obtaining ideas as open affairs.

Naturally, the organization's membership furnishes a sound nucleus for assuring a progressive development of ideas for community building. These may be contacted readily and urged to attend meetings. Their membership is prima facie evidence of interest. More responsibility is upon others who may not be contacted directly. It is to be hoped that they will recognize that building a community is everybody's business.

Too, there is no monopoly on good ideas among any group, however interested. The person who never works his way into the public eye may be the very person who has the very suggestion that may be executed successfully and with general benefit.

Of course, there is a temptation to reason that many of the ideas suggested will be duplications and this is true. Instead of being a waste of time, it is important, for the fact that one idea may be repeated over and over is proof that many people have seen a common need. Such suggestions must, of necessity, be given priority in consideration of a program.

As trivial as ideas may seem to some, they are valuable for the reason that leaders frequently find themselves confronted with a welter of administrative and detail problems, so much so that they cannot always look with the broadest possible vision in all directions.

It makes no difference what the station in life of the person, if he or she has a specific proposal for meeting community needs, that proposal stands on its own feet. In the spirit of working together, we hope that there will be a big response in these "thought survey" meetings.

The Poll And Pappy

The first report of the Texas Poll, a statewide survey of public opinion, should make interesting reading. This report, carried in today's Herald, has to do with sentiment over Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel's possibilities in the Texas gubernatorial campaign, on which he has looked with some degree of speculation.

The poll shows 55 per cent preferring to see him stay as senator, 25 per cent to run for governor and the remaining 20 per cent undecided or classed in this category for various reasons.

Joe Belden, who heads up the poll, correctly points out that this does not properly reflect sentiment toward Sen. O'Daniel were he an actual candidate. Doubtless there would be a change in the figures for Mr. O'Daniel has been somewhat of an enigma in Texas politics.

Because there are so many factors entering into the first question, more significance perhaps is attached to a second, namely, whether Texans approve or disapprove of the two US senators from the state. In the approval column, Sen. O'Daniel got 37 per cent, Sen. Tom Connally, who is asking for re-election, 73 per cent. In the basis of the poll, that's a pretty wide difference for men representing the same constituency.

American Self-Interest

By FRANK GRIMES

Herald Special Writer

The pending loan to Britain gained an eloquent and potent advocate the other day when Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan announced that he had come to the "reluctant but firm conviction" that it was necessary to the continued well-being of the American people.

Insofar as international trade figures in World War II, it began with passage of the republican Fordney-McCumber tariff act of the early 1920s. This act was reinforced and made even tougher by adoption of the republican Smoot-Hawley act ten years later.

These were the short-sighted and far-reaching acts which set the stage for an era of dog-eat-dog, retaliatory tariff tinkering which spread all over the world, and played a big part in creating the great depression and paving the way for World War II. In self-defense, other nations were forced to erect tariff walls of their own—particularly our best all-time customer, Great Britain. Britain set up the sterling bloc, composed mostly of British Commonwealth nations, but including several others as well. This meant that nations of the sterling bloc could not trade and traffic with nations outside the bloc, particularly the U. S. where the gold standard prevailed. They had to buy from members of the sterling bloc.

The pending loan to Britain makes it a condition precedent that Britain set about taking its sterling bloc to pieces and getting back on a basis of free and untrammelled trade with everybody, particularly with the U. S.

American elements who oppose the loan on grounds other than pure prejudice are only half as vehement against it as those elements in Britain—the British version of the American high-tariff, isolationist crowd—who stand to profit from a continuance of the blocked sterling system. Selfish interests in Britain decry the loan because they fear it will undermine their highly profitable business, carried on behind an effective tariff barrier.

Senator Vandenberg asserted, quite correctly, that the loan, from the American viewpoint, can be defended only on a basis of "intelligent self-interest," and that its defeat would "harm the welfare of our own country and our own citizens."

"It is a gigantic speculation to pass this loan," he declared, "but not to pass it is even a greater speculation."

This former isolationist, lately given an award for his magnificent part in effectuating the UN organization, admitted that the issues involved in the loan perplexed him more than in his 73 years of senate service.

But the question revolved around "which is the better choice for American welfare in a peaceful, stabilized world." The loan's defeat would threaten the welfare of this country "which suffered not a single bomb while 4,000,000 British homes were destroyed."

The U. S. spent forty billion dollars on lend-lease, without the expectation of any return except in the preservation of American lives. An investment of less than one-tenth as much may mean the difference between a stable world and a world of chaos.

As a producer of raw materials, Texas has a vital stake in keeping the U. S.'s best customer on her feet. In a world where powerful and faithful friends are few and far between, it behooves this country to string along with the people who twice in a generation have fought by our side. To turn our backs on Britain economically now would be to abandon Europe to the aggressive encroachment of communism, and find ourselves without a single friend when the big showdown comes, if it does come.

Never mind sentiment, one way or the other. Self-interest, as Senator Vandenberg points out, is the heart of the issue.

BUSINESS GROUP FIGHTS FOR OPA

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The NAM—because of its war on OPA—is being opposed by a young business organization called the New Council of American Business, Inc.

The New Council of American Business (NCAB) has a total staff of nine people and occupies small quarters in a Washington building. How many members does it have? Officials say they are "not at liberty now" to tell.

Pitching into NAM for its fight on price controls, NCAB has written every senator, saying "Independent businessmen are fearful of the constant misrepresentation of their views by such bodies as the NAM."

NCAB wants OPA continued intact. Chester Bowles, stabilization director, has told NCAB that "the country needs your crusading point of view."

And Secretary of Commerce Wallace told NCAB that it "deserves the gratitude of everyone because of its militant support of the president's progressive legislation program."

Who are the NCAB members and what do they want? NCAB's own pamphlet says: "In the public mind, and in Congress, business is always thought to be against liberal measures. But there are thousands of thoughtful businessmen in America who disagree completely with the reactionary view."

What is NCAB? Who's running it? Why? The executive director is H. L. McCarthy, tall, well-dressed, gray-haired. He quit his 10-year job as Chicago regional director of the social security board to become NCAB's executive secretary last November.

McCarthy, who had been dean of De Paul University in Chicago before going with the social security board, explains the origin of his organization this way: "A group of businessmen set up NCAB last August as a permanent organization. This same group, calling themselves businessmen for Roosevelt, campaigned for the re-election of President Roosevelt. In the spring of 1945 this same group, calling themselves businessmen for Wallace, backed Henry Wallace's nomination as secretary of commerce."

NCAB has chapters in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh and hopes to open more in St. Louis, Minneapolis, Boston, San Francisco and Seattle.

High Tribute Paid Justice Stone

WASHINGTON. — If I were to choose a leading American of 1946 as an inspiration to my son, I think I would pick the man who died in harness this week as chief justice of the United States. I would choose him not only because of his great attainments, not only because he rose so high from such humble beginnings; but because he never lost his youth. Even up until that last day and that last faltering opinion, Harlan Stone kept his zest for living.

Despite sedate years on the nation's highest court, there was a lovable, boyish quality about Chief Justice Stone. In his home, for instance, was the fulfillment of every small boy's dream—a secret button which caused a bookcase to swing aside, revealing a hidden door. This hidden door led to a secret passageway from the chief justice's study to his dining room.

All too soon, most of us lose our boyhood. But Harlan Stone made his boyhood dreams of hidden doors and secret passageways come true.

Some parents, of course, might not agree that the pick in Stone's heart set a proper example for their sons. They might even be shocked to learn that, while at Amherst, the chief justice led a raid on a Boston express office and stole the statue of Sabrina, goddess of Amherst alumni, and hid it in a Chesterfield, N. H., barn. Some years later, Stone married the daughter of the man who owned that barn.

"Harlequin" Stone In fact there were a lot of things about young Harlan Stone that meticulous parents might not approve. Some of his neighbors even thought his name should have been Harlequin, for he led so many youthful night-shirt and ducking parties that eventually he was expelled from an agricultural college.

I would pick Harlan Stone as a model for my boy, despite all this, because shortly thereafter he managed to harness his exuberance and worked his way through Amherst by peddling typewriters, selling insurance and tutoring other students. He paid his college expenses every cent of the way.

And he proved—as Douglas MacArthur also demonstrated by standing first in his class at West Point—that a boy's start in college sets the pace for what comes after. Stone served for three years as president of his class, attained Phi Beta Kappa in his junior year, managed the Amherst Student, played a star game of football, and was voted by his classmates "the member who would become most famous."

Perhaps Calvin Coolidge, who was one class behind Stone, remembered that record when Coolidge—suddenly catapulted from the vice-presidency into the White House—looked around for a new attorney general and finally selected his old college mate who had worked so hard and done so well at Amherst.

Later, Stone worked his way through Columbia law school, and finally was graduated despite forced interruptions when he recouped his expenses by teaching school in Vermont. And during all the time that followed, Stone never forgot those beginnings, never was too busy to help youngsters who, like himself, struggled to finish college.

Stone the Teacher One of these was William O. Douglas, a penniless law student at Columbia when Stone was dean of the law school. Most busy college executives would have given Douglas a five or 10-minute pep talk; but Dean Stone devoted two hours to telling Douglas of his own problems in getting through college and in advising him what to do.

This week, that same William O. Douglas, now a Supreme Court Justice, was beside his old teacher when he was stricken on the bench. Every year the chief justice brought a Columbia law graduate to Washington to be his secretary. This, of course, was a definite inconvenience, since it meant breaking in a new man every year. But the chief justice wanted to help launch young men into the world of law.

And every week his home was a mecca for young people in and out of government who crowded around the chief justice at Mrs. Stone's Monday "at home." He was a source of inspiration to young artists, young writers, young musicians. Once, after listening to Yehudi Menuhin, Stone dropped by to see his old friend the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes and told him how this youth had kept a great audience spellbound.

"Ah," said Holmes with a sigh, "what a triumph! I sometimes think I would give ten years of my life to be able to play like that."

"But some of us," countered Stone, "would give ten years of our lives to be able to write opinions like yours."

To which Holmes, with a twinkle in his eye, replied: "My boy!—Stone was then over 60—'God sees through all this modesty.'"

Stone the Pupil Justice Holmes, of course, was to Stone what Stone was to Justice Douglas and scores of other young men—a great inspiration and teacher. At one time, Stone asked Holmes what guiding principle he had worked out during his 90-odd years.

"Young man," said Holmes to his 51-year-old friend, "about 75 years ago I learned that I was not God. And so, when the people of the various states want to do something I can't find anything in the Constitution expressly forbidding them to do, I say, whether I like it or not, 'goddamit, let 'em do it!'"

Undoubtedly those words were in Stone's mind when, in his famous dissent in the Triple-A case, he said:

"The courts are concerned only with the power to enact statutes, not with their wisdom. . . . For the removal of unwise laws from the statute books, appeal lies not to the courts but to the ballot."

And this week, Harlan Stone was still true to that dictum when, in the last of his mortal opinions, he decreed:

"It is not the function of this court to disregard the will of Congress in the exercise of its constitutional power."

His words faltered, but his spirit was as unflinching as ever.

Chips from a Granite Life Most people have forgotten, but it was Harlan Stone to whom the nation owes a debt for picking J. Edgar Hoover as head of the FBI. Under Harry Daugherty, William J. Burns had run wild with the FBI, and, when Stone became attorney general, he swept out Burns and selected a young career man, Hoover, to take his place. No one had ever heard of Hoover before. . . . Stone was kicked upstairs from the Justice Department to the Supreme Court by Coolidge when Stone dared move against Andrew Mellon's aluminum trust. Mellon was then a fellow member of the Coolidge cabinet. . . . Almost two decades passed before the Justice Department, under hard-hitting Thurman Arnold, finally brought the aluminum trust before the Supreme Court. Stone, at that time, had to disqualify himself because of earlier connections with the Justice Department. So many other justices had to also that the Supreme Court couldn't sit on aluminum at all. . . . The chief justice always had a silver medicine ball on his desk, memento of his membership in the Herbert Hoover medicine-ball cabinet. . . . Despite this, Hoover, without mentioning names, launched a bitter attack at Stone's dissent in the AAA case. The chief justice never resented the attack and never let it influence his friendship with Hoover. (Copyright, 1946, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Grover Blissard A Candidate For Pct. 3 Position

Grover Blissard of Big Spring, long time resident of Big Spring and former officer in the Air Corps, Saturday issued his announcement as a candidate for county commissioner, precinct 3, subject to action of the July Democratic primaries.

Blissard's statement follows: "In announcing myself as a candidate for commissioner of Precinct No. 3, I do so with the full knowledge of the importance of the duties connected with the office."

"I am 36 years of age, married and have a child. I have lived in Howard county since 1927 and I am a graduate of the Big Spring high school. During the last war I entered the Army Air Force and received my commission as a pilot of a bomber and then served as such in the Tunisian, Sicilian and Air Offensive in Europe. I continued in this combat duty until I was forced to be hospitalized because of the loss of a leg while over Italy. After recovering I spent the rest of time as instructor to new crews going into combat."

"I am now back and expect to make Big Spring my home as usual. If elected to this office I expect to devote my efforts toward an administration of the affairs of Howard county that will do the most good for the most people. I favor a full development of the highway possibilities of this county and also a more rapid development of the county road system, especially do I favor the building of county roads on a more permanent basis. Not only do I favor the development of a permanent road system but I also favor development of the cultural life of our community and would expect to lend my efforts toward adequate development of our county library."

"I will make every effort to contact every voter in Precinct No. 3 but should I fail to see you please accept this announcement as my solicitation for your vote and influence."

Mahon Visitor In Big Spring

George Mahon, representative from this, the 19th Texas congressional district, paused here briefly Saturday morning before resuming a return flight to Washington.

A member of the appropriations sub-committee on military appropriations, Rep. Mahon has been designated by that committee to do most of its inspection work. It is in this capacity that he came to the region to make a check on the Los Alamos atomic bomb project.

Because of his high seniority on the sub-committee and his ability to stand the rigors of long trips, Rep. Mahon has been sent to many places around the world to make first hand reports to the committee. His calendar of activities is even more exacting now that he is chairman of a special House committee to check on the expenditures of all government financial bureaus and corporations.

Daylight Saving Goes Into Effect In Eastern Area

By the Associated Press

Daylight saving time went into effect at 2 a. m. today in six Eastern states and portions of 19 others.

Twenty three states and the District of Columbia, however, are not observing the time change.

States which pushed timepieces ahead one hour on a state-wide basis are New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont and Connecticut. Those states where communities will make their own decisions on the subject are New York, West Virginia, Illinois, Minnesota, Florida, Michigan, South Carolina, Kentucky, Missouri, New Mexico, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Ohio, Louisiana, Delaware, Oregon, Maine and Maryland.

Most of Maine will observe daylight saving time but most of Oregon won't.

Plumbing Material Shortages May Lead To Changes In Code

An unfavorable outlook still prevails in the plumbing supply field, city officials were told when they met with a group of local plumbing contractors to discuss possibilities for increasing sewer connections in areas not currently utilizing the city system.

The city is considering a change in the plumbing code to permit use of a wider variety of materials. One contemplated change is lowering of the soil pipe requirements from four inches to three inches. However, the scarcity of three-inch pipe also is critical, the plumbers pointed out. Several new sewer connections in the city are being held up due to lack of supplies.

Two Churches Open Revivals

Two Big Spring churches, the First Christian and the Airport Baptist, begin a series of revival meetings in services today. Both will continue through May 5.

At the First Christian church, the Rev. R. R. Yelderman, Odessa, is the evangelist. During the past week he has been on the field here with the Rev. J. E. McCoy, minister, for a campaign of visitation. A graduate of Johnson Bible College of Kimberlin Heights, Tenn., and Phillips University at Enid, Okla., the Rev. Yelderman has achieved an outstanding record as minister of the First Christian church. Services have been set for 8 p. m. daily.

No stranger here is the Rev. R. Elmer Dunham, Ft. Worth, who will lead in the Airport Baptist Revival. The evangelist came here originally as district missionary and then became pastor of the East Fourth Baptist church. He then entered the Army as a chaplain and now is missionary for the Fort Worth Baptist Association. Assisting him in the meeting is the Rev. Edwin Spears, pastor of the Airport church.

Park Facilities Made Ready For Picnic Groups

Facilities of the Big Spring State Park have been readied to welcome a record number of sight-seers and picnickers during the summer season.

Under the supervision of J. C. Webb, park manager, four tables and five barbecue pits have been built. A water outlet has been located in the center of the picnic area.

Webb has advised persons who make use of the facilities to respect a few rules for safety reasons. They are:

- (1) Fires should be built only in the picnic area. Persons should bring their own fire-wood instead of trying to fulfill their needs within the park grounds.
 - (2) Respect road signs and speed regulations.
 - (3) Motorists should not park their cars on the narrow ledges of the scenic drive.
 - (4) No guns, dogs or hunting are allowed within the park's confines.
 - (5) Guard against damage to buildings and equipment.
- Reservations for the use of the pavilion can be made by calling the concessions building, phone 416-J.

Texas Poll Results -

Most Texans Want W. Lee To Remain In Washington

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below is the first report of The Texas Poll, the scientific survey just re-established to measure state public opinion. Results will appear each Sunday in The Herald.

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll
Copyright, 1946

AUSTIN, April 27. — Senator W. Lee O'Daniel should remain in Washington and not offer himself as a candidate for governor of Texas this summer. That is the opinion of a majority of Texans, revealed in a statewide survey completed this week by The Texas Poll.

The junior senator has hinted he may run for the governorship again in the July primaries, and he remains, therefore, one of the question marks in the forthcoming contest. The Texas Poll has sent its staff of interviewers into all sections of the state to ask this question of a representative cross-section of voters:

"What would you rather see W. Lee O'Daniel do, stay in Washington as senator from Texas, or return to Texas and be a candidate for governor?"

Stay as senator, said... 55%
Run for governor, said... 25%
Undecided... 20%

This survey shows what the people want the senator to do, not how they would vote for him should he actually run for governor. Many of his most ardent supporters are among those who want him to remain in the US Senate.

And among the 25 per cent who want him to be a candidate are those whose views were expressed by the Matador woman who declared, "Let him come back and run so he will get beat."

Another poll to be published soon will measure present strength of various men—including O'Daniel—as candidates for governor.

In the present survey many respondents told the interviewers they wanted O'Daniel to hold neither office. But since he will either remain in Congress or become governor if elected, such a response was not considered satisfactory.

All such people were asked again to choose between the two alternatives, and those who still refused were tabulated as undecided.

Inspection of the comments made in the course of this survey leaves the impression that O'Daniel has definitely been losing support in Texas. Typical is the statement, "I used to be for him, but I was through when he turned against the Democratic Party."

That O'Daniel's standing in Texas is comparatively low at this time is shown by questions that measure the "popularity" of the two senators from this state:

"Generally, do you approve or disapprove of W. Lee O'Daniel as senator from Texas?" (The identical question was asked about Senator Tom Connally.)

O'Daniel Connally
Approve... 37% 73%
Disapprove... 55 14
Undecided... 8 13

By any poll standards, the nearly three-fourths vote of confidence given Connally is a whopping majority. He recently announced for another term, and no opposition has yet emerged to threaten his long career in the nation's capital.

Building Wage Parley Called For Tuesday

In an increased effort to inspect the trend towards wage violations in the building and construction industry contractors, builders, sub-division developers and union officials from Lubbock, Abilene, San Angelo, Midland, Odessa and Big Spring are requested to meet with John Thad Scott, Jr., regional attorney, Wage Stabilization Board, Dallas, for a conference scheduled for 2 p. m. Tuesday, at the Settles hotel.

The request was made Saturday by A. Langley Coffey, chairman of the eighth regional WSB, Dallas. Coffey said that "while the reported wage violations in the construction industry throughout West Texas are not as numerous as heretofore, there is an apparent need to reinspect the situation."

For this reason, I am asking that all builders, contractors, sub-division developers and craft union officials meet with Scott, Tuesday.

The chairman explained that there is need to reemphasize the board's enforcement policies and to renew its efforts to enforce the regulations applicable to wage payments in the construction industry.

"Legions of veterans are returning home," said Coffey. "So are war workers. They need homes and have only limited resources, usually, with which to build or buy. They need our protection. This means you, as well as it does our board members."

At least three other officials are due to be here Tuesday for conferences with any person with wage increase difficulties or with those who anticipate asking for increases in the face of possible requests for price increases.

They include Thomas H. McKee, executive assistant to the chairman of the National Wage Labor Stabilization Board; William T. Kelley, assistant to the stabilization director; Frank Holder, regional director of wages and hours, US Department of Labor.

Here 'n There

Dr. C. E. Richardson, injured in a fall from a horse, while visiting near Bryan, was returned home Friday. He sustained a hip injury in the fall and has been in the hospital since.

Back at his studies at the University of Kansas is Tabor Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Rowe. Tabor is taking an aeronautical engineering course and has been kept busy, what with a couple of years lay-off from his books while in service.

Howard Bell, former director of the USO here, visited friends Friday and Saturday. He found his way to the YMCA, where furnishings formerly used in the USO club are being utilized in the Y program, and admitted the sight made him homesick. Bell is now located at Brownwood.

Mrs. Sidney Moore, who died in Washington Tuesday, is the wife of the man for whom Moore community, northwest of Big Spring, and the Moore addition, in northern Big Spring, are named. They operated the Moore ranch before it was divided in 1906 and made available to settlers. The Moore community is one of the oldest rural settlements in Howard county. Mr. Moore died in 1927.
