NEW MEXICO TRAIN AND PLANE WRECKS KILL 11, INJURE 40

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY By O.E.H.

TWINKLES

As a matter of definition, this will be a really rainy country when it precipitates at night and rains in the daytime.

Mrs. W. S. Shouse has left with us a wee child's white kid shoe and stocking, which evidently fell from a car. The owner may have the shoe by calling at The NEWS.

You'll hear a great deal about "emergency legality" in coming months. The courts appear to be liberal; the democratic party is liberal. There will be "another side" to the argument before long—the conservative argument. You see, the conservatives are not hungry.

A permanent policy of destruction of products of the soil won't fit our theory of governmental policy. As a permanent theory, we cannot say that a good farmer politically is a poor farmer agriculturally. Society has a lot of unfinished business in adjusting its government and its economics.

There are signs of returning "normalcy." First, a spirit of whopee is due along with the first football game. Pampa is always just a bit better in every way when the Harvesters are going strong.

There's nothing sacred about an economic "principle". For instance, a guy named Malthus made famous the theory that population would increase more rapidly than production of food stuffs and many people would have to starve.

TRENDS IN CRIME

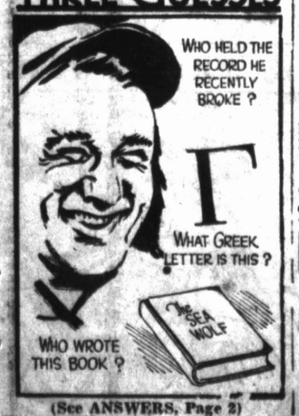

A famous criminologist asked and answered this question the other day: Is the bootlegger turning to crimes of violence? The answer was that "he already has." The crime authority added that "in the upper crust of the underworld today, bootleggers are as scarce as Hottentots in the United States senate. Bootlegging no longer pays. People are wise to prices. Competition is too broad. Attempted enforcement has waned, thus increasing the ease of distribution of liquor. The enforcement of law has been made doubtful in the mind of the professional criminal. That goes for all law, not just prohibition. . . . The commercial racket is easy of operation. So the passing bootlegger operates it." Business men pay the huge toll.

DIFFERENT HERE

That is the problem of the more populous cities. The big city business man receives "personal calls" instead of sales talks. He hears whining bullets, or perchance a bomb, instead of getting form letters. . . . In the smaller communities and in most of Texas, the bootlegger is not passing. High licenses on beer will encourage bootlegging of the beverage just as it does bootlegging of gasoline. Moreover, whisky is not legalized and a careful analysis of the psychology of the vote Saturday indicates to us that Old Man Texas will do a lot of thinking before he permits anything savoring of the oldtime saloon. . . . Our point is that Texas still has liquor laws to enforce and that their enforcement is necessary to preserve respect for all law. Legalization of 3.2 beer is a matter on which

PLANE CAUGHT IN TERRIFIC RAIN SQUALL

THREE PASSENGERS, 2 PILOTS DIE IN SMASH

AMARILLO, Aug. 29. (AP)—The crushed bodies of five persons, including a 3-year-old child, were found in the wreckage of the Transcontinental & Western Air's night mail and passenger tri-motor transport at Quay postoffice, 20 miles south of Tucumcari, N. M., at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gore of Albuquerque, N. M., and their granddaughter, Evelyn Gore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gore of Amarillo; Pilot Howard Morgan and Co-Pilot G. W. Barcus, both of Kansas City.

The ill-fated ship apparently was caught in the same terrific storm which washed out a span of the railroad bridge, five miles west of Tucumcari resulting in at least six deaths and 40 injured early today, when the Golden State limited was wrecked.

The T. W. A. plane left here at 11:35 p. m. last night with mail and the three passengers. Mr. and Mrs. Gore, 43 and 40 years old respectively, had been visiting their son here. The ship was made up here to continue the regular night mail and passenger flight westbound when the regular ship was storm-bound in Kansas City.

County Cancels $120,000 Worth Of Road Bonds

Gray county has much smaller potential obligations as a result of cancellation of bonds not needed in the completion of her paving program, in which the state has come in for valuable assistance.

The commissioners court ordered cancellation at Dallas of $120,000 of long term maturities, and this was done in a week-end trip by Judge C. E. Cary, Treasurer D. R. Henry, and Clerk Charlie Thut. Their presence was made necessary by statute, and it was cheaper, Judge Cary pointed out, to make the trip than to express the bonds here under heavy insurance costs. The saving by making the trip was approximately 50 per cent.

These bonds will not longer be shown as a charge against the county in financial statements, and the county will be saved $120 annually paid for their safe-keeping. Received from the state comptroller also this week were $18,000 in bonds canceled by the state when the state took over a share of the bonded indebtedness of the county.

The commissioners will meet next Monday to open bids on paving of the Pampa-McLean road. The figures will be used in considering applications for federal funds to build the road, with the county's bonds to be exchanged or used as collateral. The county still has unissued about half a million dollars worth of paving bonds.

DOUBLE SLAYING

CLEBURNE, Aug. 29 (AP)—Officers sought to determine a motive today for the deaths of W. H. Barker, 56, and his wife, Lena, 52, whose bodies were found at their farm home two miles southeast of Cleburne. Barker had been shot in the mouth and Mrs. Barker in the heart. A pistol was found on a bed beside the man's body, two shots having been fired.

Gene Fatheree is reported resting well at Pampa hospital after an operation for appendicitis yesterday.

Contracts Are Made Ready for Wheat Farmers

Nearly All Growers Are To Qualify For Benefits of Allotment Plan.

SIGNING of contracts under the federal allotment plan for wheat will be started in Gray county tomorrow under the direction of County Agent Ralph Thomas and an advisory committee assembled by him yesterday.

His farmer-advisers are E. B. Farley of Schaffer community, Guy Andis and Jack Stephens of Grandview, James Jackson of Bell, Irvin Cole of Pampa, Clyde Carruth of Farrington, Clarence Bowers of Laketon, and Ernest Vanderburg of Hopkins. With Agent Thomas, these men studied the government forms, made out sample contracts, and made plans to help their fellow farmers.

Starting tomorrow, blanks will be available at Mr. Thomas' office and at the B. C. D., where there will be stenographers on duty to help farmers fill out the contracts. Three wheat meetings will be held tomorrow by the county agent—Laketon at 9 a. m., Grandview at 2 p. m., and Pampa at 8 p. m.

With more than 90 per cent of the Gray county wheat farmers ready to sign, and with a list of all wheat farmers at hand, it is believed that the whole program will be completed within a week. A permanent committee to administer the domestic allotment plan for wheat will be elected by the farmers next week.

To obtain his allotment of the federal money, a farmer strikes an average of his production for 1930, 1931, and 1932, takes 54 per cent of it, and multiplies the result by 20 cents per bushel. This will be the initial payment. Next spring he will receive, in addition, not over 10 cents a bushel nor less than 8 cents a bushel additional, less his proportionate share of the county expense of administration.

Farmers must be able to tell the ownership of their property, name and addresses of landlords, terms of leases and rentals, seeded acreage and production for 1930-32, and in some cases the production in 1928-29. The latter figures have a bearing on those cases in which there were more recent crop failures. As soon as applications are accepted, they are sent to the department of agriculture for issuance of checks.

Court Upholds U. S. Farm Act

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue of the District of Columbia supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the agriculture adjustment act.

Dismissing a suit for a temporary injunction which would restrain Secretary Wallace from enforcing the Chicago milkshed agreement, he declared the emergency justified the law.

Attorneys Neil Burkinshaw and Nugent Dodds for the plaintiffs announced they would appeal the decision.

The suits were entered against Wallace by Milton R. Beck of Stickney, Ills., and the Economy Milk company of Norman Park, Ills. Both are wayside station milk operators in the Chicago suburbs.

They contended that the Chicago milkshed agreement which places the price at 10 cents a quart would ruin their over-the-counter cash business. They now sell milk for 6 1-4 cents a quart.

LATE NEWS

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt today lifted the gold embargo to permit sales of new mined gold abroad and at the same time tightened the restrictions against hoarding. The two executive orders were issued suddenly today by the president just as he departed for an automobile tour of the upstate.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 29 (AP)—The convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was thrown into confusion today when United States Senator Huey Long of Louisiana vigorously assailed Milwaukee newspaper publishers and supervised the expulsion of photographers. For 10 minutes the large gathering was in turmoil while Long waved his fists and shouted.

Father Charged With Kidnaping His 2 Children

LUBBOCK, Aug. 29 (AP)—Accused of taking his two children from the custody of his divorced wife without her consent, Clyde Bingham of Stonewall county has been charged with kidnaping here.

The criminal complaint was an aftermath of a civil suit filed Friday in 99th district court by Mrs. Mable Z. Bingham, a Lovington, N. M., teacher. District Judge Clark Mullican granted a temporary injunction to Mrs. Pingham, commanding Bingham, his father, Sheriff Bailey Bingham of Stonewall county, and Houston Bingham, to give her custody of the children.

Sheriff Bingham, here yesterday, said his son left Stonewall county Saturday with his children, saying he was going to Lubbock to give up the children, Gary, 8, and Patsy, 7. Clyde Bingham had not reported here this morning.

Late yesterday Judge Mullican issued a warrant for arrest of the children and gave it their grandfather to serve.

Mrs. Bingham alleged Bingham, from whom she was divorced in November, 1932, came to her residence here and took the children from a maid August 5.

Washburn's Wife Strikes Visitor With a Telephone

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29 (AP)—Loud noises caused neighbors to call police to the home of Bryant Washburn, former motion picture star, in the early hours this morning, and officers said they were met by Mrs. Washburn screaming "I've just killed a man!"

Detective Lieut. E. J. Romero said he ran into the house and found Washburn administering first aid to a friend, J. Demiteis, who dened he had been killed and added "she just hit me with the French telephone."

Romero reported Washburn explained he had brought Demiteis home and his display of hospitality had angered Mrs. Washburn.

WOMEN LOOK FOR EAGLE IN THEIR ROUNDS

THOROUGH CANVASS IN HOME WILL BE MADE

THE NRA consumers campaign in Pampa is under way.

Buyers, particularly the women, are watching carefully for the blue eagle in their shopping.

It was reported to General Chairman C. H. Walker and his council yesterday afternoon that buyers are making up their purchasing lists from advertisements bearing the sign of the NRA.

A house-to-house canvass to enlist all women in pledges to patronize NRA members will begin at once by the committees in the department of Mrs. F. E. Leech, co-general of the council. There is an ample supply of consumer pledge cards and stickers at the postoffice, where any consumer may obtain them.

Mrs. Leech's group and W. J. Smith's educational committee will meet at the city hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock for a short instructional session.

Traveling salesmen stopping here have reported that their companies are buying goods only from NRA factories. The NRA movement is in reality just getting under way, because business men were given until September 1 to complete their changes to the new codes.

W. H. Curry and his "NRA salesmen" were to meet this afternoon and plan a drive to get all local business firms under the blue eagle by September 1. Other members of his committee will check on compliance to the various codes. In this way, all the business men in town will be interviewed. Few are not flying the blue eagle.

By the end of the week, the NRA campaign will have reached all business men and consumers alike and its full effect will henceforth be noted.

City License To Sell Beer To Be Half of State

Pampa city commissioners last night instructed the city attorney to prepare an ordinance placing the maximum licenses on sale of 3.2 beer, effective September 15.

The city licenses will be half of the state licenses. It is considered probable that the county license will be the same as the city.

Much confusion exists in the scramble for dealerships in the legalized beverage. Because Gray county is almost surrounded by dry counties, persons considering wholesale distribution are doing much figuring to determine what profits, if any, they could make.

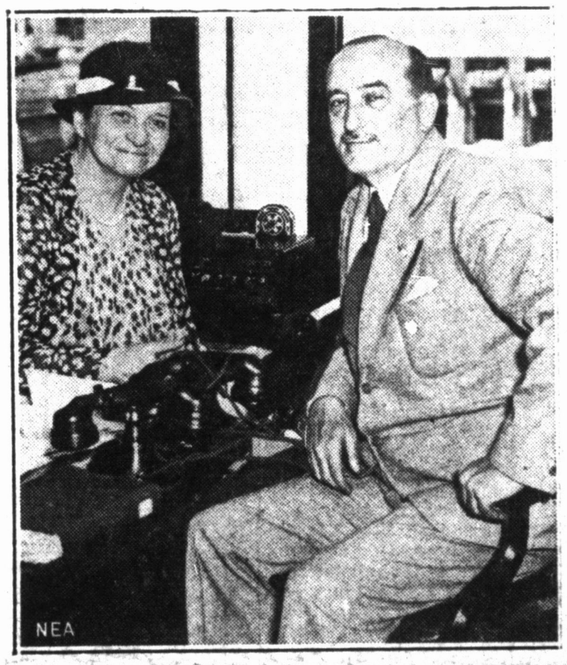

The commissioners also decided to ask bids on a 1½ ton truck for the water department.

J. T. Andrews, tool dresser with the Pampa Petroleum company, received emergency treatment at Pampa hospital last night for scalp lacerations. His injuries were not serious.

TWO U. S. ARMY PLANES CRASH IN MID-AIR AT SAN ANTONIO; THREE FLIERS FALL TO THEIR DEATHS

Four Attempt 'Chute Jump; All But One Are Killed

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Three Randolph Field fliers, one flying instructor and two cadets, fell to their deaths and a fourth "bailed out" and floated to safety when two pursuit training planes crashed in mid-air at the field this morning.

Those killed in the first major accident at the "West Point of the Air" were Lieut. Harry R. Grater, instructor, of Lebanon, Ind.; Cadet William Pasche, Chicago; Cadet H. R. Sandberg, Denver.

Lieut. Louis K. Vaupre, instructor, leaped from his plane at an altitude of about 500 feet and floated to safety. His ankle was broken.

Lieut. Vaupre, able to talk of the accident, told army officials that his altimeter showed 500 feet immediately before the crash. He said the ship containing Lieut. Grater and Cadet Sandberg zoomed up and crashed into the side of his plane as he attempted to straighten out in a traffic lane.

All but Cadet Sandberg attempted a parachute jump. Lieut. Grater and Cadet Pasche fell within a few feet of the earth before their chutes opened. Cadet Sandberg went down with the plane. Lieut. Vaupre's chute opened and he landed safely.

The ship containing Lieut. Vaupre and Cadet Pasche burst into flames and crumbled as it fell to the ground. The other plane, containing Cadet Sandberg, was demolished as it struck the ground.

Lieut. Vaupre, dragging his lame limb, attempted to pull Cadet Sandberg from the wreckage. Several persons rushed to the plane and succeeded in freeing Sandberg's body from the twisted plane.

SINGERS WILL MEET

Small Advocates Building Roads In West Texas

FORT WORTH, Aug. 29. (AP)—Offering their cooperation in the launching and carrying out of the highway improvement program of the public works administration in Texas, members of a committee representing the West Texas section of the Texas good roads association today conferred with C. E. Swain, district engineer of the bureau of public roads, and Robert A. Thompson, public works engineer for Texas.

The committee, headed by Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo, was appointed Friday at a meeting of the West Texas division of the good roads assocaition at Sweetwater. The committee plans to go to Austin this week for a conference with officials of the Texas highway department.

CARS PLUNGE INTO CANYON AT TUCUMCARI

FORTY INJURED; ENGINE AND SIX CARS FALL INTO FLOOD

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Aug. 29 (AP)—Six persons were killed, 40 injured and several others possibly washed away and drowned at dawn today when the crack transcontinental Golden State Limited went through a broken bridge over what normally is a dry creek bed five miles west of here.

The engine and six coaches plunged into a raging torrent sent hurtling down the arroyo by heavy rains climaxed by a four-inch fall last night. Five sleeping cars remained upright on the bridge.

The engineer, C. J. Crost, of Tucumcari, was feeling his way carefully at 20 miles an hour through the flooded danger zone, according to railroad officials, when the forepart of the fine train fell into the death trap. Crost died instantly. His was the only body identified at noon today.

Five Pullman coaches remained on the bridge. The train was traveling about 20 miles an hour, railroad officials said, as it was feared the fill might have been weakened by the heavy rain.

A wrecker was sent to the scene from El Paso, and ambulances were called from as far away as Amarillo, 125 miles distant.

The Golden State Limited is operated by the Rock Island over Southern Pacific lines west of Tucumcari, and over Rock Island lines east of Chicago.

The coaches are in the ditch alongside the fill on both the north and south sides but are only partially in water. The three day coaches carried 43 passengers. Bodies of six pasengers brought to Tucumcari have not yet been identified. It is not known how many of the 43 are dead or missing but at least 25 were rescued and brought to hospitals here.

Train Running Slow.

The railroad officials here said the train was running only 20 miles an hour. It had stopped a mile west of the fill to investigate the track for possible damage. The east span of the bridge had been washed out, but the damage could not be seen from the other side.

The engine is under water in the deepest part of the ravine. The mail car is on top of the engine and the baggage car is at a 45-degree angle to the track beside the mail car. The next car, a coach, is crossways of the creek bed partially on top of the baggage car and a Pullman tourist sleeper is crossways of the creek. All these are on the south side of the fill.

TRIBUTE TO THE PRESIDENT

Pledge for today: "As an American citizen I promise TO SUPPORT THE CODE AND CUT THE ARGUMENTS".

We are the servants of a new philosophy—the philosophy of Franklin Roosevelt, a cheerful, kindly, itensely human man, who has descended into the shadows and fought with beasts at Ephesus, and come forth smiling, with soul unscathed—an inspiration to ecery man who has wondered why—blameless—that the modest fruit of all his efforts should be swept away; and he, wholly helpless to prevent it, must sit and suffer hopelessly.

Once it was Thomas Jefferson. Once it was Andrew Jackson. Once it was Abraham Lincoln, who, regardless of party label, was a democrat. Once it was Grover Cleveland. Once it was Woodrow Wilson—and now it is Franklin Roosevelt.

It is not for me to try to trace the silver thread that ties these great men together. Times change and necessities differ. What was good for the agrarian America of those elder days is probably entirely inappropriate to this mad age of whirring machinery, but this single thing I know: That we are effecting the deliberate plan and judgment of one of the greatest champions of the mass of men that ever walked this earth, and where he leads, I, for one, am proud to follow; and in this great crisis in the world's affairs, to follow blindly, for thus—and not otherwise—are human ends attained.—Excerpts from General Johnson's address at St. Louis, August 13.

Ickes Named Oil Dictator

Bureau of Mines Will Prepare Figures on Demand And Production.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Secretary Ickes, in his new role as oil administrator, today told newspapermen he would call together immediately upon appointment by President Roosevelt, the petroleum committee of 15 to discuss price and production control.

The membership of the committee is to be announced sometime today or early tomorrow by Mr. Roosevelt at Hyde Park. Pending the announcement, Ickes declined to intimate who might be designated. It was said authoritatively, however, that one of the three government members would be James A. Moffett, former vice president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

The allocation of production to the oil states, to hold the flow of oil market demand, Ickes said also would be discussed with the committee, although the code provides that the federal agent designated by the president may make this allocation.

Ickes said the bureau of mines would be charged with the major

DISTORTION OF THE CODE

In Dallas certain filling stations displaying the Blue Eagle of the NRA are being picketed by men carrying large signs asserting "unfair competition" on the part of the establishment among filling station owners to maintain a certain price to the public. The picketed stations are selling gasoline 1 cent a gallon below the price at which other stations have agreed to sell it. The Dallas NEWS comments that the spectacle is a "strange reaction to a nationwide effort to get more business, more wages, more profits, and more good will," and warns that "either there is no occasion whatever for repealing the antitrust laws of Texas or else somebody in Dallas is heading for trouble."

One of the almost universal misunderstandings of the NRA blanket code seems to be that it puts into somebody's hands the power to force a raise in prices of goods and services. There will be trouble over this, as The NEWS warns, when the inevitable checking up occurs. A great many well intentioned folk will discover that they have been violating both the state and the federal anti-trust laws. They will discover, also, what is plainly written into both the NRA and the blanket code—that price-raising, while countenanced when absolutely necessary, is not to be forced upon individual merchants or establishments in the name of abolishing unfair competition.

The case of the Dallas filling stations which have complied with the blanket code and yet find, according to their claim, that they can sell gasoline a cent under the agreed "fair" price and still make a good profit, is plainly one in which the influence of the NRA will be exerted against those who are seeking to force these stations to increase their charge to the public. We are not yet ready to throw overboard the theory that the man who is able to make or sell goods cheaper than another is entitled to the advantage which his ability gives him in competing for the public's patronage.

However sincere may be the attitude of those who seem to regard price-fixing at higher levels as the key to code operation under the NRA, they are making a serious misinterpretation of the intent of the National Recovery Act. The codes are designed to assure that all establishments pay fair wages to their employes and observe lower work hours. When these requirements are met, the rest is up to the individual employer.—STAR-TELEGRAM.

Markets

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Stocks stumbled today as grain prices dipped sharply and the dollar gyrated erratically in foreign exchange dealings. Mining issues and the rails, however, led a last-minute rally which pared or eliminated early losses of 1 to around 5 points. The close was irregular. The trading volume expanded to approximately 3,200,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Liquidation developed in grains late today and pushed wheat prices down five cents a bushel, the maximum permitted in a day, with all other cereals off sharply.

Announcement that Secretary of Agriculture Wallace had tentatively ordered the 1934 wheat acreage reduced 15 per cent resulted in a small upturn at the start, but the gain was erased quickly. Nothing in the routine news accounted for the decline and it was generally attributed to a desire by brokers to unload September wheat contracts before Friday when deliveries may be made for the first time. Offers found few takers. Corn was weak from the start because of smiliar liquidation. Other grains followed wheat.

Wheat rallied somewhat near the close as support developed from cash interests and resting orders to buy on all recessions.

At the close, wheat was weak and 3⅜ to 3⅝ cents below yesterday's finish.

Corn was also weak and 2¼ and 2⅝ off, oats 1 to 1⅝ down, rye 3-3⅝ lower and provisions at declines of 2 to 35 cents.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29. (AP)—Cotton had a quiet opening today, but as cables were better than due and sterling was higher, first trades here showed gains of 6 to 7 points right after the start.

Trading was moderate in cotton all morning and prices gradually eased, due partly to lower stocks and wheat and also to more or less hedge-selling. October finally dropped to 9.39 and December to 9.62, down 21 to 23 points from the early highs and 14 to 17 points below yesterday's close.

Around mid-session the market was slightly steadier, recovering one to three points from the lows.

"Dog Days"

Stewart Edward White has given us this year a delightful book in "Dog Days." He writes of dogs he has owned, opening the story with tales of hunting expeditions with his boyhood pal in Michigan. Old Joe, the pointer who accompanied them is credited with wisdom, wit, understanding, patience, and loyalty as, indeed, are all the dog friends he tells about. We are given a vivid picture of quail and partridge hunting in the late eighties and early nineties. Mr. White is a master of technique when it is a matter of explaining hunter's ways and why dogs do what they do.

The book covers a period of forty years with its various changes in settlement, highways, modes of travel, as well as hunting and fishing. Scenes and scenery are graphically described. There are the hunting trips on foot with his boy chum and the dog, "Joe." Later the horseback era and finally the "motor age."

Deuce, acquired when a puppy, was a Llewellyn setter of the famous Count Gladstone strain. His was a handsome white coat with a few black markings, two prominent one determining his name. His manners were as beautiful as his coat and made for him a welcome in the homes where his master called. He and Duke made a perfect pair when hunting and seemingly had no equals. This was the same Deuce who, a few years later, on an arduous mountain climb and cross desert trip succumbed to heat and fatigue, uncomplaining, a gentleman and a thoroughbred to the last.

We read, with sympathy for the bride of a month, of the horseback trip in the Sierras which her lover planned for their honeymoon, nevar once thinking of the hardship and lack of personal comfort for her. We learned with pleasure that Billy, though reared in luxury and never before having camped out, proved herself a good sport by adapting herself to circumstances and that, before the summer was over, she had come to love the beautiful scenery and the sharp tang of the mountain air so much that they returned for long periods on successive summers.

Tuxana, the borrowed dog, made the honeymoon trip with them. A cross between a brindle pit bulldog and a bull terrier, she lacked symmetry of form but possessed a personality that enabled her to make a place for herself in their esteem so that, on their return, they purchased her.

the people have spoken. But it would be tragic of this step should be assumed to be a slackening of enforcement of the laws that remain. There should be no reckless jumping to conclusions.

WITHOUT REPRESENTATION

Americans familiar with their country's history know the meaning of taxation without representation, of self-government, of political liberty. It is to be assumed that such people would be the first to oppose a breach of such privileges if they were in the position of extending them or denying them. . . . When, therefore, Dr. Rafael Arjonia Siaca, noted jurist of Puerto Rico, writes to us that Uncle Sam is woefully inconsistent we literally sit up and take notice. Dr. Siaca rightly says that "People may be called free according only to the real weight of its public opinion in the decision of local matters; or may be considered destitute of the blessings of liberty according to how negligible or powerless that opinion may be in the adoption of such decisions."

AS TO PUERTO RICO

The territorial legislature of Puerto Rico is powerless in the face of opposition by the principal officers of that dependency, owing to the power and supervision of Uncle Sam's state department at Washington. Dr. Siaca claims that his people have no true self-government, and that the million and one-half American citizens there resent any continuance of political subjugation. IN SHORT, PUERTO RICO WISHES TO BECOME A STATE. . . . After noting the political antics and blunders of the several states, one is apt to wonder whether Puerto Ricans are not able to govern themselves just as well in statehood. We, of course, here on the continent of America know little of the ability of Puerto Ricans to govern themselves as Texans or Oklahomans do, but we can doubt that so large a body of intelligent Americans will much longer in contentment see their wishes nullified by the "no" of a single man appointed by Washington. The pledge of the democratic party would seem to be friendly to the aspirations of the Puerto Ricans.

Some reports said the anti-price fixers will have two members. C. E. Arnott of Socony-Vacuum corporation and C. B. Ames of the Texas company are discussed in this connection.

The name of J. R. Parten of Shreveport, La., has been mentioned as the indepedent representative.

PROHIBITIONISTS PROMISE 'SURPRISE' IN WASHINGTON ELECTION

Hearing On Drop In Textile Sales Set For Sept. 7

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Textile manufacturers who blame the cotton processing tax for the decline in cotton goods consumption are to have a chance to present their evidence to Administrator George N. Peek on September 7.

Dr. Fred C. Howe, consumers' counsel of the agricultural adjustment administration said today that a hearing has been called because of statements of manufacturers.

"This hearing has been called by the administrator," said Howe, "to give these manufacturers ample opportunity to produce their evidence. They have tried to lay the blame for this decline on the processing tax placed on cotton August 1, which they say has forced them to raise prices too high.

"This tax, which amounts to 4.2 cents per pound of the net weight of cotton, is to cover the cost of the adjustment program which aims to give farmers a better price for cotton.

"Cotton mill consumption was speeded up to an unprecedented rate in June and July. Such a rate was beyond any that could be maintained even at the peak of prosperity. Administrator Peek's inquiry will seek to determine what effect the overloading of the shelves of wholesalers and retailers has had on the reported falling off of sales.

"Consumers as well as cotton farmers are vitally concerned with the facts on cotton costs, prices and sales.

Officials of the Mississippi State college for women have announced that under new rates the cost of a full term is $203 per student.

ODD PLAN OF COUNTING MAY BE DRY HELP

VOTING THIS TIME TO BE BY LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS

SEATTLE, Aug. 29 (AP)—Prohibitionists talked of "a surprise" in the outcome and repealists forecast an overwhelming victory as Washington expressed its will today on the eighteenth amendment.

Washington is the twenty-fourth state to vote on the question, the preceding 23 having gone solidly for repeal.

Drys professed to be hopeful, but the wets had statistics on their side. George E. Starr, democratic state chairman, said:

"If there is a representative vote, every district in the state should go for repeal with the possible exception of the tenth—Asotin, Columbia, and Garfield counties."

Said Emery Asbury, campaign head for the emergency committee against repeal:

"This state will surprise the people who are predicting big wet majorities. We are not predicting anything, but we think the vote will be to reject repeal."

The line-up was the familiar wet-city, dry-country one, with a heavy vote expected, and leaders of both sides wondering how much Washington's peculiar election plan would affect the balloting.

The state repealed its bone dry law by a majority of 133,000 at the last general election, but is voting this time by legislative districts, and the state-wide count will make no difference.

With more than 750,000 voters qualified, newspapers predicted the total vote would be 300,000 to 400,000.

Three Killed In Truck Accident

FORNEY, Aug. 29 (AP)—A highway accident in which a freight line truck side-swiped a truck carrying a picnic party caused the death of three persons and the injury of another.

Mrs. W. C. Day, 31, Clovis, N. M., her daughter, Rachel Ann Day, 4; and Robert Wilson, 28, Keene, Tex., were killed outright. Injuries were suffered by J. K. McTavock of Keene.

The victims were members of a party of 12 returning to Keene from a picnic. The accident occurred late yesterday on the highway six miles north of Mesquite. The driver of the freight truck escaped injury.

Bodies of Mrs. Day, her daughter, and Wilson were brought to a Forney undertaker's. McTavock was treated at a Forney hospital, where attendants said his condition was not serious.

The HIDDEN DOOR

BY FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: Colin Hewitt, mystery writer, is scouring New York disguised as Clarkie Lunn, a crook, for a trace of the Mask. The Mask is czar of the underworld, and besides has threatened Colin's life. Butch Connal has tipped Colin off to the fact that Captain Dollaire, rum runner who raided the Mask's counterfeiting plant on the St. Lawrence river, is in New York, at Spinelli's night club. A supposedly drunk man at Spinelli's bar has described Dollaire and Heimie Schwarm, to whom Dollaire hopes to sell a cargo of rum. The "drunk" is one of Butch's mob.

Chapter 31
ENTER HEIMIE

The barkeep was back. He grinned at Colin as the "drunk" lurched away.

"What's his name?" asked Colin.

"Peter K. MacBride." The barkeep's grin broadened. "Didn't he wish a card on you?"

Colin shook his head.

"No. Have I been neglected?"

"We sweep 'em up off the floor in the morning," confided the barkeep with a laugh. "He carries a pocketful around with him. But he's all right when he's sober. Got a bit of money, so they say—retired—or something."

"Well, I think I'll blow," smiled Colin. "When he comes back tell him I had a telephone call."

He swung away from the bar, left the room, and began to make his way downstairs. ePter K. MacBride, whatever his real name might be, was obviously one of Butch's "inside" men—a "feeder" for the gang. And MacBride's warning was ringing in his ears.

How much, or how little, MacBride already knew, or whether the man had only "sensed" something in the air, mattered little. That, in MacBride's word, hell would bust loose here before the night was over, was exactly what he, Colin, was expecting—and he was quite sure in his own mind that he could have told MacBride why!

His own plans? He had none—except to watch Dollaire and be guided by circumstances. Dollaire was the bait. His, Colin's, job was to see who snatched at it!

Colin reached the entrance to the da... ment in the doorway amongst what seemed the ever-present mob of people who stood there peering in. A "turn" was on. He had seen it before. A girl was covering the floor with prodigious leaps and bounds—but very little covered the girl. Spinelli called it his psychic dance.

Colin's eyes roamed around the room—and came to rest almost immediately on Heimie Schwarm, whom he identified without hesitation from MacBride's description. At the table beside the booze baron was a stocky, powerfully built, black - haired man — Dollaire, of course.

They were sitting, as MacBride had said, in one of the "stalls" near the door, a bottle of champagne between them. Colin smiled cryptically. Spinelli never overlooked a bet that meant a little extra profit.

The "stalls" were nothing more than railed-off spaces on a slightly raised platform that was built around three sides of the room, but they possessed comfortable lounge chairs and the view was better, so why should not a small fee be charged for their use? Spinelli charged it. But they were popular. Most of them were occupied tonight.

Colin moved forward into the room. He contented himself with a table on the floor level not far from the booze baron's stall—he could watch Dollaire, not only unobtrusively, but much better from here than from a stall.

Again his eyes roamed around the room. The tables, three deep, that separated the space reserved for dancing from the stalls were fairly well occupied too. Spinelli would be able to to declare a dividend tonight!

He ordered a bottle of wine, and sipped it leisurely. Applause greeted several suggestive numbers on Spinelli's programme. Colin saw little of them. The minutes and the quarter-hours slipped by. Heimie Schwarm and Dollaire had become a little uproarious, though not offensively so.

Had the deal been perfected? Had Heimie Schwarm become the owner of a choice cargo from St. Pierre and Miquelon? It mattered little. They were attacking another bottle of Champagne. Heimie Schwarm had paid for it from a huge wad of bills that he had wrenched, because of its bulk, with no little difficulty from his pocket.

The Dutchman's combination of straw hair, brilliant red tie, and inch-square checked suit of light fawn as a color scheme struck a distinctly bilious note. Dollaire, swarthy, beetle - browed, narrow-eyed, with thin, hard lips and protruding jaw, was the reverse of being prepossessing.

And then, as he watched the two, a fine point of ethics arose in Colin's mind to trouble him. Believing that Dollaire was in immediate danger, had he any right to sit here and not warn the man? Mentally he began to debate the pros and cons.

What could he say to Dollaire? Nothing definite—but enough, say, to cause Dollaire to take alarm and leave the place. Well, what then? If the Mask had Dollaire under surveillance here, Dollaire would be no better off outside than in.

Dollaire had gratuitously thrown his hat into the ring. He had destroyed one of the Mask's pet schemes, and had murdered at least two—for Lazarre might still be alive—of the Mask's men. If Colin knew the Mask at all, Dollaire, whether he were put on the spot here or elsewhere, was a doomed man from the night he had raided the club on the Cascade River.

Dollaire was a callous, cold-blooded murderer — boasting his prowess. One's finer instincts revolted even at the thought of his existence. Warn Dollaire? If the Mask or any of his men were here to see, then Clarkie Lunn might as well never have been created. He had not come here to warn Dollaire; he had come here to watch the Mask play his hand.

There were Germaine, himself, their future, his own life at stake. Ethics! His lips tightened. Was it ethics to fling all that aside on the chance of being able to accomplish what, at the utmost, could be no more than a postponement of the inevitable showdown between the Mask and Dollaire?

Suppose he were writing it? Angrily he sought to fling the sudden intrusion aside—but it persisted. One always had to justify the hero's actions. Would the hero be justified in the readers' eyes if he stood pat under these circumstances?

"By God," Colin stated fiercely to himself, "I'd write it that way, anyhow!"

A waiter stood at his elbow.

"Pardon me, sir. There's a couple of gentlemen over there that would like you to join them."

GREAT STAGE STARS WILL BE SEEN AT LA NORA WEDNESDAY IN JOHNNIE DUNN'S COMPANY

The stage at La Nora theater today is being arranged for the coming tomorrow of Johnnie Dunn, radio and screen star, and his Hollywood revue.

This great stage company, which usually plays only in the bigger cities, will be seen and heard at 3:30, 7:30, and 10 p. m. at the La Nora. On the screen will be Victor Jory and Loretta Young in "The Devil's in Love."

Sketches of members of the Hollywood Revue follows:

Johnnie Dunn—Star of screen, radio, and musical comedy, star comedian of "No, No Nannette." He masters the ukulele and is rated with the best Hawaiian players. He plays song hits from "No, No, Nanette" on the uke and does dances with them. This comedian is master of ceremonies of the "Hollywood Revue."

Fred La France and Jane Garnett—Featured with the Hollywood revue, they are from Earl Carroll's Vanities of 1931 and are the premier delineators of comedy in black face. For several years this team was the toast of big time vaudeville audiences, each a star, combined a riot of comedy, a smash hit. Their harmony singing finish always stops the show.

Betty Gordon— Is Hollywood's musical venus. Assuming all the poise and beauty that can be assimilated in the California sun in her years. Miss Gordon is a musical genius, playing all instruments in a "Grande Parade," She sings and can she dance! This little miss is truly versatile.

Dave and Ruth Carlton—Are billed as England's society steppers, genuine in their performance, both being students of the Tiller dancing school of London. They show their training with that great master, who has sent us so many graceful dancers. Miss Carlton's stop-time rhythm dance is a special feature. This is a solo dance against the time of music. The original Masque Rhumba dance by the team is par excellence and gives that foreign touch of their graceful performance.

Ruth Paine—Is billed as the "Original Dumb Dora." She tries to explain to Johnnie Dunn just why she is out on the stage, then during this time she gives imitations of green elephants, all kinds of birds that swim and fish that fly. Miss Paine is a demure young thing who will remove all doubt from your mind that she is the dumbest of all "Dumb Dora's."

Speck and Don—Billed as sensational dancers, they are really at the head of the class when it comes to tap dancing. They are perhaps the fastest dancing pair to grace a stage anywhere. Both boys do solo numbers which will make you applaud for more and more. Try to watch their feet. They always stop the show.

The Hollywood Revue has its own orchestra. Herb Hamilton and his Hollywood Ambassadors. Each member of this orchestra is a solo artist. You have heard their recording and on the radio over the National Broadcast. They play popular as well as classical music.

Johnnie Dunn and his Hollywood Revue have a surprise at the finish. After they entertain for a good solid hour, they have an afterpiece which is full of laughs for at least 15 minutes more, when everybody on the stage does something different from the regular act.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO FLY THE MAIL AT NIGHT!

● ABOVE—A. M. WILKINS, air-mail pilot for Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., has flown the night air mail over 150,000 miles. It takes healthy nerves to hang up a record like that!

● RIGHT—AT THE END of his night run A. M. Wilkins joins a fellow pilot, W. Niedernhofer, at Newark Airport, the Eastern Terminal of TWA, for a chat and a smoke. "Camels never ruffle or jangle my nerves," Wilkins says.

● EVER NOTICE HOW airplane passengers smoke at each refueling stop? Camels never get on your nerves, no matter how much you smoke, and there's more real enjoyment in their costlier tobaccos.

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. They are milder, richer in flavor. They never tire your taste or get on your nerves.

STEADY SMOKERS TURN TO CAMELS

A. M. WILKINS, air-mail ace, says: "It's a steady grind, all right, being a night hawk on the air mail. A man has to have healthy nerves to live up to our tradition that the mail must go through! That's why I smoke Camels. And I smoke plenty! Camels never ruffle or jangle my nerves, and I like their mild, rich flavor."

WOMEN'S NRA COMMITTEE TO MEET TONIGHT, PLAN CANVASS

SESSION WILL BEGIN AT CITY HALL AT 7:30

HOUSE TO HOUSE CANVASS OF CITY TO BE MADE

WOMEN volunteers in the NRA campaign will map out their drive to carry consumer pledges to every housewife, when the women's committee of the local NRA council meets at the city hall this evening at 7:30.

The session will be a brief one, Mrs. F. E. Leech, co-general in charge of women's activiites, announces. With the women's committee will meet the educational committe headed by W. J. Smith.

Canvass to Start

A house to house canvass designed to reach every woman in the city is scheduled to start this week, as soon as can be arranged by the committee. Pledges for NRA support by household buyers will be solicited.

With practically all the business firms of Pampa under the blue eagle, consumer support is the next step in the NRA campaign. Success of the entire nation-wide drive depends upon patronage for cooperating firms, Pampa women were told by NRA officials here last week when a meeting was held at the city hall.

District chairmen for the city NRA canvass are meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. E. Leech. They are Mesdames Harry Marbaugh, J. M. McDonald, Claude Lard, Frank Foster, W. A. Bratton, E. Bass Clay, Katie Vincent, Roy Holt, J. P. Wehrung, Faye Wooley, T. W. Jamison, Charlie Thut.

Each will name workers to serve under her, and all will attend the meeting this evening in the city hall auditorium. Additional district leaders will be named if they are needed, Mrs. Leech said.

Forced Off Course

The plane was one of the regular tri-motored transports equipped with both receiving and sending radio. The last heard from Pilot Morgan was when he reported his position over the emergency field, six miles east of Tucumcari. Radio men here reported they thought they heard him trying to talk one time later. Morgan gave no intimation of a storm or trouble in his last report.

He apparently turned sharply to the left off his course immediately after passing the Tucumcari field, or else was forced to turn back somewhere west of there and went to the south off his course to avoid a storm.

The report was confirmed from the Quay postmaster through Western Union. Airport officials here and along the Mid-Transcontinental route had been checking since midnight to try to find the missing ship. It was not known whether it burned after it struck but it was assumed it was completely demolished. It was not known if the mail was recovered.

Lived At Amarillo

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gore lived in Amarillo 10 years before going to Albuquerque in January, 1931. Mrs. Gore flew to Amarillo last Friday and Mr. Gore came here last Saturday on TWA planes. The Paul Gores live at 3804 Tyler street. An infant is the only other child in the Paul Gore family.

Miss New York a Milking Champ!

WHAT? MISS NEW YORK winning a milkmaid contest! Well, it surprised western competitors, too, when Miss Viola Henry of Norwick, N. Y., a Cornell University co-ed, captured top honors at the milking contest at A Century of Progress in Chicago. Here she's shown with the champion's cup after she had filled her pail with 16 pounds and six ounces of milk at the end of three minutes allowed in the contest.

Fruit Is 'Sugar Bowl' to Supply Needed Sweets

Menus and Recipes Prepared by Department of Home Economics, Texas State College for Women.

The less sugar the better for the child. Sweets pervert the appetite and are likely to disturb digestion. The child is getting plenty of sugar in the fruit and milk of his daily diet. Fruit has been called "nature's bowl." Candy furnishes energy and lacks protein, minerals and vitains. Feeding animals and birds is not allowed in the zoo, but children are fed anything by anybody.

Menus.

Breakfast: Apple sauce, cereal and milk, buttered toast, milk.

Dinner: Baked fish in milk, baked potatoes, creamed asparagus, toast, baked pear, milk.

Supper: Boiled rice with raisins and milk, buttered toast, milk.

Breakfast: Stewed prunes, rolled oats, bacon, buttered toast, milk.

Dinner: Baked sweet potato, buttered string beans, cottage cheese on lettuce, celery sandwich, seedless grapes, milk.

Supper: Creamed egg on toast, slice of pineapple, milk.

Recipes.

Baked Fish in Milk: Fish suitable for baking: Whitefish, redsnapper, lake trout, sea bass, salmon. One fish (3 lbs. or more), ½ lb. bacon (sliced), 1-8 lb. butter, 2 lemons, ½ c flour, parsley. Remove the scales carefully, clean, wipe, and dry the fish. Leave the head and tail on. Rub the fish well with salt. Stuff with dressing or not as one desires. Put the fish on a fish shoot or on strips of cotton or bacon in the pan. This aids in removing the fish when done. Make three gashes on each side of the fish, alternately, and set in 2-inch strips of bacon. This is done to add fat to fish that are lacking it. Skewer the fish into the form of a letter S. Sprinkle with salt and dredge with flour. Place ½ to 1 c mik in bottom of pan. Bake in the oven 30 to 45 minutes, tasting every 10 minutes from 1 c milk to which has been added 1-4 c butter. When well browned, remove from pan carefully to hot platter; take out the skewer and strings. Garnish with parsley and lemon, and serve hot.

Baked Pears: 1 can pears, 1 T butter, 3 T sugar, lemon juice (if desired). Put the pear halves in a pan with the cut surfaces up. Put dots of butter over the pears and sprinkle them with sugar. Add some of the juice and bake in a moderate oven until the sugar has browned slightly.

Cottage Cheese: Any small amount of skim milk may be used for this, with a T or more of good sour milk. To 1 gallon, or less, of sweet skim milk, add 3-4 c of clean sour milk and stir as it is put in. Raise the temperature in hot water to 75 degrees F. (barely lukewarm). Remove from heat and place where it is to remain until set. Add 1-4 of a junket tablet thoroughly dissolved in 1 T cold water; stir while adding. Cover with a cloth and leave from 12 to 16 hours in even temperature about 75 degrees F. (kitchen warmth). There should be a slight whey on top, and when poured out the curd should cleave sharply. Drain through cotton cloth firmer than cheesecloth. When whey has been drained out, work 1 or 2 T salt into the cheese, according to taste. 1½ to 2 lbs. of cheese should be obtained from a gallon of milk.

Approximately 200 people enjoyed this event. Games were played on the church lawn before the program opened. After several peppy songs were sung by the congregation, and a prayer offered by E. W. All A Mistake

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY,
NEA Service Writer.

Frozen desserts of all varieties are greeted with delight and they are so easy to make that it seems desirable to use them often in warm weather.

Plain ice cream and ices can be given to small children without any fear of ill effect, provided the frozen mixture is eaten slowly. Small bites on the tip of the spoon and not too close together prevent small tummies from being chilled by the dessert.

A plain vanilla cream is preferred by many mothers for children. If the vanilla cream is served with a sauce for the grown-up members of the family the dessert is suitable for young and old alike.

Many Ways of Serving.

A pleasant way to vary an ice cream and cake dessert is to serve it sandwich fashion, putting ice cream between and on top of two thin slices of sponge cake. Cup cakes can be hollowed out and filled with ice cream and a sauce poured over the whole. Cream puff or eclair shells can be filled with ice cream and covered with a sauce. Sauce is also poured over the ice cream sandwich. Meringue shells and waffles make good substitutes for the usual cake which is served with ice cream.

When it comes to the frozen dessert itself the varieties are numerous. Ices, sherbets, frozen custards, mousses, parfaits, and ice creams of different degrees of richness offer a wide choice of frozen desserts.

Slow, steady freezing rather than much and vigorous stirring gives ice cream its smooth txeture to a large extent. Of course the amount of cream used in the recipe also has much to do with the texture of the frozen mixture, but it is often hurried freezing instead of stirring or not stirring that is responsible for a coarse, granular ice cream.

Slow Freezing Smoothest.

The smaller the amount of salt used in freezing a mixture the more velvety the texture, too. This of course lengthens the time required for freezing.

There are several types of freezers on the market and they all have their good points. Crank freezers, vacuum freezers, electric freezers, and automatic refrigerators make it possible to produce excellent frozen desserts to suit every taste.

The crank freezer, whether it is turned by hand or electricity, makes ice creams, mousses, parfaits, ices and sherbets with perfect results. Mixtures which are frozen without stirring are made perfectly in vacuum freezers and automatic refrigerators.

Tomorrow's Menu.

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit juice, cereal cooked with dates, cream, crisp oven toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Vegetable plate of broccoli, buttered leeks on toast, baked Jerusalem artichokes, green beans and carrots in cream, ice cream sandwiches with raspberry sauce, milk, coffee.

FIFTH AVENUE FASHIONS

By ELLEN WORTH

You'll Need at Least One Checked Alpaca

There's a new word going the rounds of smart fashion circles—bretelles. It's French, of course, and it describes the new shoulder wings that sweep up from the waistline suggesting glorified suspenders. In this smart frock they end in perky points over the shoulders and suggest a fullness through the bust that gives us a hint of what to expect in fall fashions.

And while we are looking towards fall please note the high round neckline and the slim skirt with its panel treatment. Just about the smartest fabric you could find for this frock is new-fashioned, old-fashioned alpaca. It has a smooth, firm surface that is no end smart in this season of crisp details.

Size 16 requires 2¼ yards 54-inch material. Width about 1⅝ yard. Our large Fall Fashion Magazine contains many other interesting styles for home, sports, afternoons and evenings. Also models for the children and, in addition, illustrated dressmaking articles.

Pattern No. 5291 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 bust.

'GOLD IN THE HILLS' CAST IS BEING CHOSEN

SECOND TRY-OUT IS SCHEDULED FOR THURSDAY

SOME roles in the Little Theater play, "Gol din the Hills," were filled when the first try-outs were held yesterday evening, and this evening was set to continue try-outs for major roles.

Casting activity last night followed an open meeting attended by the largest crowd ever present at a similar occasion here. Old members and prospective members had been invited, to plan for the season that opens formally September 11.

Membership is open to anyone interested in drama, I. A. Freeman, new president, emphasized in his talk. All are invited to join the organization and try for a place in the plays. Membership lists are to be closed in little more than a month, he said.

Interest at present is centered in "Gold in the Hills," first public play of the year. It is to be presented October 20. A melodrama in the 1890 style, it requires a cast of 35 persons.

Try-outs will continue until all aspirants are given hearings.

On the north side is a club car in the bed of the creek along with a standard coach which is on its side. The head end of another standard coach is the only other car off the rails, the remaining Pullman coaches remaining on the bridge.

It is not known whether any bodies have been swept down in the torrent, or whether they are lodged in the wreckage.

Dangerous Underpass.

It was reported that the front part of the train, which included the day coaches, plunged into deep water, but the Pullman coaches apparently were in shallower water.

A four-inch rain was reported to have fallen at Tucumcari last night, following heavy rains last week. The section where the train fell into the water is comparatively shallow grazing and desert country.

Three years ago there was a dangerous underpass at this point on U. S. highway 66, and three tourists were swept off the paving under the railroad bridge to death when a sudden torrent of water peculiar to New Mexico trapped them. Since then a high fill for both the railroad and highway, with bridges has been built there.

The railroad embankment at the point where it crossed the ordinarily dry wash is about 30 or 40 feet high, but the bridge is short.

The Golden State Limited had ben halted a mile west of the point of disaster because of the fear of a washout ahead and the train was proceeding cautiously when it plunged into the gap of the washed out span.

A wrecker was sent to the scene from El Paso and ambulances were called from as far away as Amarillo, 125 miles.

The Golden State Limited is a crack California-Chicago train which operates over the Southern Pacific lines west of Tucumcari and over Rock Island lines east to Chicago. It was due at Tucumcari at 7:10 a. m.

PHILLIPS NINE WINS BORGER TOURNAMENT, BEATING ROADRUNNERS 7 TO 5

ERRORS LOSE LAST BATTLE FOR DANCIGER

WARD HITS HOME RUN, SCORING TWO MEN AHEAD OF HIM

Costly errors by the Pampa Danciger Road Runners lost them a ball game to the Phillips '66 outfit last night and gave the latter the Borger tournament championship. The score was 7 to 5.

Score by innings: R H E
Pampa ..... 040 001 000—5 9 5
Borger ..... 230 022 00x—7 9 2

Blair, Johnson and Leggitt; Ellis and Dye.

The locals had men die on bases in the first, second, third, sixth, and ninth innings, while the Borgerites put men on every inning. Many of the Phillips players got on thru Road Runner errors. This was especially true in the fifth, when Johnson replaced Blair on the Pampa mound with two out and the bases loaded. Johnson struck out the third man. He had seven strike-outs in 3 1-3 innings, using his fast ball.

Ward for Pampa hit a homer in the second inning, scoring two men ahead of him—Wilson and Baccus. Wilson had previously scored Cox, who got on due to a Borger error, by hitting a triple. Baccus walked, then Ward cracked the homer far into left field. Both Ward and Wilson got three hits out of five times up.

For Phillips 66, Terrell, second-sacker, got three out of five. Beck, center fielder, rapped out two triples but died on third each time. Hart, Borger's huge (230 lb) first baseman, struck out four times.

The Road Runners are trying to bring the Borger champs here for Sunday and Labor day games.

Mary Ellen Seibold will leave Pampa hospital today after a tonsillectomy yesterday.

CARDS DEFEAT GIANTS WHILE BRAVES LOSE

O'FARRELL HITS TWO HOMERS TO BEAT LEADERS

BY EDWARD J. NEIL,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

There must be something in the makeup of a ball player that sets him afire with vengeance when he stalks back into the home grounds of a former employer.

John J. McGraw had one embarrassing experience of the kind. Now it's the turn of McGraw's successor at the helm of the Giants, Bill Terry.

With McGraw it was the case of George Washington Harper, now a salesmen in Texas, but then a journeyman outfielder, who was sent to the Cardinals in 1928 and bounced back to hit three home runs in one crucial game at the Polo Grounds and knock the Giants out of that pennant fight.

With Terry it's ancient Bob O'Farrell, also of the Cardinals, who was sent away last fall with a bundle of pitchers in exchange for a young catcher, Gus Mancuso. Yesterday at the Polo Grounds the old fellow hit two home runs, the last one in the ninth inning touching off a 7-run barrage that snowed the Giants under 12 to 8, brought their third straight defeat with one tie in the past four games, and upset Terry's pitching staff with a terrific double-header schedule looming ahead.

The Giants remained six games in front of the Boston Braves who ran into Red Lucas on one of his best days and were shut out, 2 to 0. Lucas allowed but two hits in a duel with Lefty Brandt.

Despite their victory, the Cards dropped into a fourth place tie with the Pittsburgh Pirates who took two games from Philidelphia, 9 to 5 and 9 to 1, behind the steady pitching of Bill Swift, Leon Chagnon, and Lefty French.

So close packed are the contenders that the third place Cubs, rained out yesterday at Brooklyn, are but a game ahead of St. Louis and Pittsburgh, with the Braves only one game in front of the Cubs.

Only two games were played in the American league. The Athletics rallied in the last three frames with eight runs to beat Chicago 9 to 5 while Vic Sorrell tossed four-hit ball to beat the Yankees 6 to 1.

Briton Is First To Swim Channel In This Season

DOVER, Eng., Aug. 29 (AP)—The English channel was conquered for the first time this year today when Miss Sunny Lowry, 22-year-old Manchester, England, girl, arrived at South Foreland after swimming from Cape Gris Nez, France, at 10:15 a. m. (4:15 a. m. EST). She started at 6:36 p. m. Monday (12:36 EST).

Three other swimmers, one of them the American Charles Zimmy, a legless aspirant to channel honors, started a race across the channel for the Dover town gold challenge cup.

The others are Mercedes Gleitz, and Englishwoman who first swam the channel in 1927 after eight failures, and E. H. Temme, another Briton, who in 1927 did the distance in 14 hours, 29 minutes.

The Dover cup will be awarded the man or woman who swims from Dover to France in the shortest time this year.

Mrs. Evie Arend returned Sunday from a visit of two weeks with her mother at Mineral Wells. Her sons, Barnie and Harlon Sanders of Parker, Ariz., joined her in a visit there. She also visited other relatives and friends.

Surprise Bride

DESPITE the reported opposition tion of his mother, Anthony J. Drexel 3d, of the wealthy Philadelphia family, eloped with and married Miss Helen A. Howard, above, of Atlanta, at Walhalla, S. C. Drexel's mother is reported to have declared his marriage to be "very disappointing."

WHATISIT IDENTIFIED

SEATTLE—Tourists in wet British Columbia, just over the border, have reported annually the peregrinations of ogopogo, a "sea-serpent with a head like a sheep," who, according to legend, takes a vacation in Washington lakes occasionally. Now he is reported to have bobbed up in Lake Washington here and has been identified as a sea-otter, a species almost extinct in the Pacific northwest, but undoubtedly resembling a sea-serpent when swimming.

DALLAS BEATS GALVESTON 2-1 IN 9TH INNING

SAN ANTONIO MISSIONS ALL BUT CLINCH 4TH PLACE

By The Associated Press.

The Houston Buffaloes, San Antonio Missions and Dallas Steers, three of the four first division clubs, won Monday night. Galveston, in second place, lost to the Steers while 6,589 fans cheered. It was Fred Brainard night, and the Steers got a 2 to 1 decision when Hank Thormahlen tossed the ball to centerfield in the last of the ninth trying to catch Bonura off second. Bonura raced home on the wild throw to break a 1 to 1 deadlock and a mound duel between Stiely and Thormahlen.

Al Fisher turned back the Fort Worth Cats with five hits to hand Houston a 4 to 3 decision. He was opposed by the veteran, Dick Whitworth, who allowed only seven hits. The Buffaloes played without the service of Manager Carey Selph, who was at Arkadelphia, Ark., because of the illness of a relative. Ernie Parker played second and Pitcher Mike Cvengros went to centerfield.

The San Antonio Missions all but clinched fourth place with a 2 to 0 victory over the Beaumont Exporters, who apparently have made a stout, but losing, fight for a first division place. Fabian Kowalik stopped the Exporters with six hits to win his twenty-first game this season. Three double plays at critical moments nipped pending rallies.

Tulsa and Oklahoma City, both out of the race, split a doubleheader. Tulsa won the first, 5 to 0, behind the four-hit pitching of Barnes and Bivin. Oklahoma City grabbed the second, 2 to 1, when King and Nitcholas stopped the Oilers with four hits.

Mrs. Floyd Erard and daughter, Elizabeth, left Monday for High Point, N. C. They were accompanied by their cousin, Charles Farrington of High Point, who spent the summer on the Erard ranch in Ochiltree county. Before leaving they spent several days with Mrs. Ethel Olsen and Miss Alice Rudy.

BONURA HAPPY HE WAS SOLD TO CHISOX--DESPITE SALARY

Steer Bats Ahead of Simmons; To Play At First; Chicago Pays $10,000

BY BILL PARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

When a minor leaguer is purchased by the Chicago White Sox he generally objects on the ground the Sox salaries are reputed to be the lowest in the American league.

It wasn't any gloom message to Henry "Zeke" Bonura, 210-pound Dallas first sacker, when he was notified of his sale to Comiskey's team. He let out a happy war-cry that almost rocked Steer stadium. That night in a doubleheader against Beaumont he couldn't be stopped. He hit his twenty-third home run of the season, stole several bases, fielded like a demon and tossed all the color he has into both games. He gave the crowd of 7,000 fans many thrills and laughs for it was a Bonura with a light, happy heart who was celebrating his sale to a major league club.

Bonura was glad the Sox had bought. He figures he will have a chance to be a regular because the Sox have had trouble at first base the last four years. Zeke knows he is a better ball player under the rays of Old Sol than under the flood lights. He doesn't expect to dazzle American league fans but he does believe he will be a real major league first sacker in fielding and hitting.

Pitch To Him.

Zeke pointed out that if he bats ahead of Al Simmons, opposing pitchers will have to pitch to him and accordingly will have a chance to hit better balls and not get as many walks as he is getting this year in the Texas league.

Bonura has been in Comiskey park and believes it is a good one to hit in and one in which he will feel at home.

"Boy, I've got just what I wanted. I'm not worried over what the Sox will pay me but about the months of waiting until next spring when I can report and station myself on first base. I've played my 'head off' this season in an effort to attract the attention of some major league scout. If one can't get to the majors in this game he is wasting time. I have heard Babe Ruth may pilot the Sox next season. Imagine that Zeke Bonura, old hard-working Zeke, playing under baseball's outstanding hero. Boy, that would be swell," ejaculated Bonura as he pounded a Dallas sports scribe on the back.

Ten Thousand.

Bob Tarleton, vice president of the Steers and officials of the Chicago White Sox refuse to divulge the exact amount paid for Bonura. It was first rumored the price was $25,000 and three players. The rumored consideration since has dropped to $10,000 and three players. Outfielder Norman, with Louisville of the American Association, and Ed Walsh Jr., with Oakland of the Pacific Coast league, are two of the players. Walsh won 19 games last season.

Two Killed In Hollywood Cafe

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29 (AP)—A double assassination by three men in a fashionable Italian restaurant revived a four-year-old murder mystery.

Police asserted the slaying last night of Harry Mackley and Frank Keller, both of St. Louis, was a gangster reprisal. Police said Mackley, alias Harry Frank and Abe Frank, who had also lived in New York City where he was believed to have operated a hat store, had been arrested here in 1929 as a suspect in the mysterious slaying of David Antink, secretary of the Sun Realty company.

The slayers of Antink have never been apprehended. Antink was to have been the state's star witness against Morris Moll, Kansas City gangster, who had allegedly sought to rob Antink.

The three men who did the killing walked quickly into the restaurant and surprised the table where Mackley and Keller were seated. They started firing pistols without warning. In less than two minutes they ran outside and fled in an automobile in which a fourth man and a woman waited.

FULLER SAYS IT'S A CINCH FOR TONY TO CONQUER ROSS

Barney Hasn't Got Enough And Canzoneri Will Be Ready, Says Pal.

BY HERBERT W. BARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP) — The next time Marty Fuller tries to push his way into Barney Ross' training camp he'll be equipped with false whiskers and a beard.

Having nothing else to do, Marty suddenly felt the urge yesterday to take a peek at Ross while the Chicagoan was getting himself in shape at Lake Swannanoa, N. J., for his forthcoming lightweight title defense against chesty little Tony Canzoneri.

But the fact that Fuller happens to be as close as that to Canzoneri —one of the former champion's bosom pals in fact— led Ross' oversuspicious handlers to believe his visit was not without ulterior motive.

At any rate, as Marty sought to strut into the outdoor boxing pavilion where the champion was getting ready to go to work, he was given the "thumbs down" sign by Sammy Pian, one of Ross' managers.

"I saw you out in Chicago with Canzoneri," Sammy said, "and I don't think you belong here."

"What's the difference?" Marty retorted. "I saw everything Ross had in Chicago. He hasn't got a thing I don't know about and while I'm here I might as well tell you it won't be enough to bother Tony on September 12. He'll be ready this time."

The last word, however, remained with Pian.

"There'll be no boxing here," he told Fuller, "until you clear out so you might as well go."

Marty did, muttering dire threats as to what Tony would do to Ross in the Polo Grounds two weeks hence and doubtless wondering at the same time, just where he could put his hands on those false whiskers.

Pian seemed quite upset by it all. "We'll work in private just like we did in Chicago," he said, "if we are bothered any more."

McKINNEY'S SHEEP RANCH IS BLAMED FOR HIS ODD STANCE

Pointed Toes to Keep Sheep From Running Through Legs, Golfer Says.

Bud McKinney, the unorthodox young golfer and sheep ranchman of Del Rio, can relate many golf anecdotes while playing 18 holes. Golf to McKinney is the world's best fun. If he shoots a birdie, that's luck. If he requires twenty strokes on a hole that's hard luck. All of it is part of golf and he loves it.

"One time on our goat pasture course at Del Rio," McKinney avers, "I started to putt when a huge rattlesnake crawled out of a trap and stretched himself directly in my line of putt. I waited several minutes for it to move on, but a rattlesnake stymie never fazed me. I played a niblic, pitched over him and dropped in the cup. We waited until he crawled off the green and killed him. Couldn't kill him while on the green for fear of destroying parts of the green.

"Our course has many huge holes in the fairways. We shoot floaters. When a drive rolls into a deep hole we pour buckets of water into the hole until we have filled it and the ball floats to the stop. We got the idea from drowning gophers out of holes.

"One time I was putting. A sheepherder walked up and watched me miss my putt. He started laughing. I asked him where the fun was. He said he had traveled over land, sea and sky but never had seen the eighth wonder of the world until he saw my crazy putting stance. When he saw me take my stance to drive, he simply could not withstand the pain he thought I was suffering.

"Once a sports editor devoted his entire column to panning my putting stance, claiming I would never be a worthwhile golfer. I saw him playing about a year later and he had copied my putting stance to the n'th degree and was getting results.

"Often I am asked why I point my toes inward when I take my stance to drive. It is a habit I contracted on the ranch to prevent sheep from running between my legs.

"On my course a player never has a good round unless he kills at least four snakes. However, we get the real article. At your big country clubs you fellows just kill imaginary ones trying to get out of traps.

"All of us Del Rio golfers carry flies in our golf bags. When we get through playing a round we have to file dents and burrs of our clubs put there by playing shots off rocks. We usually file away a set of clubs within three months."

That's Bud McKinney of Del Rio who two years ago led the entire United States in the sectional qualifying round for the national amateur tournament.

UNION LABOR AND COAL INDUSTRY DRAFT A COMPROMISE CODE

AGREEMENT IS APPROVED BY NRA OFFICIALS

MOUNTING PRICES SEEN AS DANGER SIGNAL TO RECOVERY

BY JAMES COPE,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The NRA worked swiftly today to clinch with a permanent code the basic agreement finally obtained for the coal industry, a victory regarded by Administrator Hugh S. Johnson as one of the most significant advances in the sky-rocket career of the industrial control enterprise.

After skirting the edge of failure for a week, union labor and representatives of the biggest bituminous coal fields of the country, the strictly non-union Appalachian area, last night were brought into a compromise which the administration was ready to approve. Enthusiastic at this outcome, President Roosevelt expressed to Johnson his congratulation in a personal telephone conversation. Today and tomorrow at least were required, in Johnson's estimate, to convert the agreement into a binding code.

This windup on coal left one really big agreement to be concluded—a code to embrace the country's entire retail trade, with its employment of millions of persons. Strenuous effort continued today to bring the separate codes of the dry goods retailing group and of the druggists into a line that would permit covering every store of the country under one blanket retail agreement. Deputy Administrator Arthur D. Whiteside in charge of this endeavor, was highly hopeful that he would conclude the task by Labor day, September 4, which is designated as the climax date for the blue eagle campaign.

The latter, its impetus well launched, was swinging along on the efforts of the country-wide organization of more than a million volunteer workers engaged in a door-to-door canvass so that the characteristic insignia pronouncing that its displayer was doing his part in the higher wage, shorter work hours and more jobs movement, might be shown by every business establishment in the country and in the windows of millions of homes.

Success on coal and retail trade codes will leave the NRA with a miscellany of industries, mostly of minor importance to bring within the fold but with the air cleared of the biggest emergency matters, so that Johnson and his aides may concentrate on the problems developing in administration of the codes. These are multiplying rapidly, with trouble over unionization of industries, and danger signals in mounting prices, leading the way.

The first news of the wreck was brought to the town shortly before 5 o'clock by Chaucey Depew, conductor of the train, who lives here.

Depew had made the trip into the city over a concrete highway which extends west of Tucumcari. He walked and ran, sometimes wading through water waist-high in the low places of the road.

He was almost exhausted when he reached town, but managed to report the disaster at the railroad's headquarters, aided in arousing doctors, nurses and others, who then returned to the scene to aid in rescue work.

Paul Dodge, editor of the Tucumcari News, estimated there were 125 persons on the train.

AMARILLO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Among passengers on the ill-fated Golden State limited which was wrecked near Tucumcari, N. They were on a pullman and were uninjured, according to telephone advices here.

HUEY P LONG SAYS A GANG ATTACKED HIM

BUT CLUB STORY SAYS 'INSULTED' MAN SMACKED HIM

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—The embattled citizen who disfigured Senator Huey P. Long in the washroom of a fashionable bath club remained a man of mystery today despite the active curiosity of Long Island society, the police and the "Kingfish" himself.

"The story going the rounds at Port Washington, L. I., was that the senator had wandered into the washroom, where he brushed against another man. Something passed between them which enraged the other guest, who swung around and smacked the senator."

The Kingfish, it was understood, attended the party as one of a party organized by Jack Curley, promoter. Curley said he didn't know much about the incident.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 29 (AP)—Senator Huey Long, of Louisiana, was wearing a scar over his left eye today, the only remaining evidence, he said, of an attack upon him by three or four men while he was attending a charity benefit at a place near Great Neck, L. I.

In a written statement which he gave out last night following publication in New York of a reoprt that he had been punched while a guest at a fashionable Long Island spot, last Saturday night, the senator said he had been repeatedly threatened and warned that he might be attacked at any time.

He said he did not know his assailants but that he had been trying for two days "to find out the persons who did the ganging."

Insull Hearing Gets Under Way

ATHENS, Aug. 29. (AP)—The appeal court approved today the application for formal sanction of the detention of Samuel Insull, former Chicago utilities operator, in connection with American extradition proceedings.

Insull arrived shortly before the beginning of the hearing at 10:15 a. m., escorted by two plainclothes policemen.

After his identity had been established, several questions were put to him regarding himself, his wife, and son.

When asked about his nationality, Insull replied that he was British and was born in London, but acquired American citizenship in 1896.

The former Chicagoan on Saturday was taken to a private hospital on doctors' orders after a second attempt began to extradite him to the United States on a new indictment charging violation of the bankrupcy act.

—WHEAT

Farmers who sign the agreements must contract to plant 15 per cent less acreage this fall. This is in line with the federal agreement in the international wheat control project. The nation's acreage reduction is estimated at 9,600,000 acres under this plan, with an estimated reduction in bushels of 124,000,000. The acreage reduction agreement is for one year.

Adjustments and allotments must be made for individual farmers, and numerous technicalities are expected just as in the cotton plan, which is being completed this week. But the domestic allotment plan is expected to give farmers more for this year's short crop of 500,000,000 bushels than they received last year for 726,000,000 bushels. The cash benefits soon to be paid to those who agree to reduce fall acreage will total $120,000,000, it is estimated. The federal government will pay the benefits from a processing tax of 30 cents a bushel, which is intended to give a "parity" price for wheat as compared to prewar averages. This year's crop and benefits may total as much as $450,000,000.

Federal statistics place the three-year wheat average in Gray county at 11.7 bushels. The expected payments under the domestic plan will reach $140,000 or more.

George Briggs of the B. C. D. will assist Mr. Thomas in the field work.

DOLLARS ARE GOING OUT TO BUY RECOVERY

MONEY POURING FROM MANY CHANNELS OF 'WAR FUND'

BY DON KIRKLEY,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Dollar by dollar, the billions assembled as fuel for the massive Roosevelt recovery today were moving to their task of pumping energy into American trade and agriculture.

Topping the spending list is the $3,300,000,000 public works program, while the least expensive is the broad bulwark of the plan, the NRA, to which went but $225,000 of the $200,000,000 paid out of the treasury since July 1, in emergency outlays.

To meet the extraordinary demands for cash, the treasury has on hand daily upward of $1,000,000,000 in ready money—the latest balance showing $1,119,000,000 ready for distribution about the country in recovery efforts as well as meeting the government's ordinary operating costs.

Battleship Costs.

To date, the public works administration has allocated $1,212,000,000 for construction, including $238,000,000 for battleships, with at least 2,000,000 persons expected to be put back in jobs before its bulging treasure chest is exhausted.

No one knows just how much of the amount allotted actually has been spent, but these figures now are being collected. Estimtes range from $100,000,000 to a half-billion.

Initial work of organizing the public works administration and the other segments of the recovery program has delayed so far any vast outpouring of cash, but this task now is virtually completed and the money will roll forth in increasing volume.

Hundreds of millions will flow into agriculture from funds collected through the processing taxes and other sources, with the first checks going to cotton growers who plowed under their stalks and buried opening, bolls.

Farmers Get Share.

Cotton growers in the next few weeks will get $100,000,000. Wheat farmers who cut down their production, this fall will receive up to $136,000,000 in maximum estimates, but at least from $70,000,000 to $80,000,000 if only seven or eight out of every ten growers come along.

Since July 1, the agricultural adjustment administration has drawn on the treasury for $6,95,789, largely for administrative salaries and expenses of organizing the cotton and wheat reduction campaigns.

As an aid to the hog raiser, about $52,000,000 will go out for pigs, with $9,000,000 of the total to be paid by the emergency relief administration, which will use the ham and bacon in its relief activities. To date relief has cost $141,634,549 in grants to the state and territories.

Since July 1, the civilian conservation corps has called on the treasury for $40,865,283.

In Tennesse Va'ley.

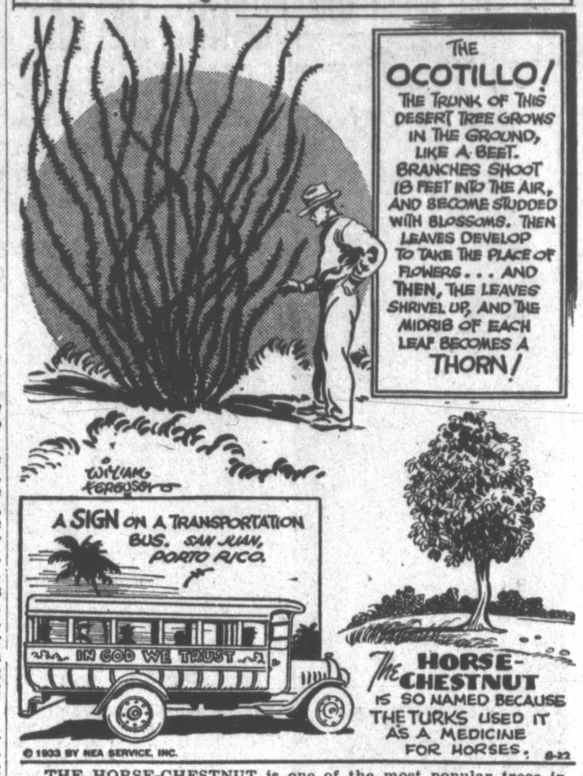

The Tennessee Valley authority, $50,000,000 in its pocketbook for the Muscle Shoals-Tennessee basin and industrial development program, will scatter its spending over the next few years. So far, it has cost $275,000, largely for the administrative salary bill.

Of the $200,000,000 which the home loan bank board and corporation have to ease the mortgage pressure, little has been spent thus far.

Up to July 29, the reconstruction corporation—set up by President Hoover to combat emergency stress and carried on by President Roosevelt with its relief and building activities transferred to other agencies—had made cash advances aggregating $2,819,136,788 during its entire career.

Banks borrowed $1,221,878,164 in cash actually disbursed, as compared with loans of $1,496,073,488 authorized. To date, they have repaid $545,072,969. Nearly as much went to railroads.

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

BY KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON — An editorial from a Texas paper on the Bystander's desk presents a very eye-catching head. "Where is John Garner?" it inquires.

Then it answers its own question with the statement that the vice-president was "bass catching and sunshine basking," and suggests he might well interrupt his vacation and stump the state "in the fight to get rid of an amendment (the eighteenth) which he said we should kill with our votes."

What Mr. Garner proposes to do about that repeal campaign in Texas no one seems to know. Aside from his declaration for repeal on the eve of the Chicago convention last year which nominated him for the vice-presidency, Jack Garner has not talked much about that subject.

Yet it was his powerful drive as speaker that forced a house vote on outright repeal on the first day of the session in December, 1932. That vote, which failed by a narrow margin to go for repeal, set the stage for the swift-moving chain of events that make it possible for repeal advocates now to predict the eighteenth amendment will have disappeared from the constitution before 1933 ends.

Not So Far Away.

Perhaps Garner is not so far away from all that has been going on in Washington since the special session of the new congress ended as might be believed.

When the list of federal projects to be dealt with under the huge public works authorizations of the emergency recovery program came out, there was a forcible reminder of Garner included.

A million or two was included in the list so that the Mexican-American international boudary commission might go ahead with the project for straightening out the Rio rGande and stabilizing the international line thereby. As a minority member of the house Garner had been in favor of that item for years. It's an important matter in Texas.

Watching Developments.

And he must be following with interest development of the gigantic public works recovery and re-employment scheme which is, after all, the heroic-size kin of Garner's own 1932 public works bill which was so gleefully branded by his republican opponents as the biggest "pork barrel" proposal in congressional annals.

5 CONVICTS FREED

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Five state convicts were ordered freed by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today. Allen Madison, convicted in Washington county in September, 1918, for murder and sentenced to life imprisonment, was given a full pardon. The clemency was recommended by the state board of pardons and paroles.

Physician Held In Shooting Of Doctor-Husband

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 29 (AP)—Two weeks after her wealthy husband, Dr. James I. Gaines, sportsman and drugless physician, was mysteriously shot to death, Mrs. Lily Banka Gaines was held in jail today "for questioning."

No charge was filed against her, Prosecutor C. W. Greenough said.

The decision to hold Mrs. Gaines was made after a four-hour examination last night by the prosecutor, Captain of Detectives James McCrary and other officials.

Mrs. Gaines said she found her husband dying in the driveway of their home early on the morning of August 15 after she had been awakened by three shots. Dr. Gaines had just returned from a boating trip and a late visit to the apartment of Mrs. Harriette Andrew, a friend.

Mrs. Andrew is one of a dozen or more women who have been brought into the investigation. She told police Gaines rented an apartment for her soon after she applied to him for work.

A week after she moved into the apartment, Mrs. Andrew filed suit for divorce from her husband, from whom she had been separated a year. She said Gaines told her he was contemplating divorcing his wife.

Mrs. Gaines told police there had been no domestic trouble, and that she was unaware her husband planned to divorce her.
