SIX TONS OF DYNAMITE TO BE EXPLODED

Women Win Contests Needing Pluck

Spirit of Community Reflected in Education and Enlightenment of People, Which Must Be Kept Keen and Progressive.

The warm summer days, the call of the open road, and the many delightful early morning breakfasts and picnics being arranged are enough to make one want a Ford coupe to ride out in. Rain or shine, it is a car of service and comfort, and the proud winner who will ride in one next month, when the Ranger Daily Times circulation contest is over, will get a double amount of pleasure from the privilege. She will be conscious of the fact that she has earned the car by her devotion to business and business principles, and to the interests of the city in which she lives.

Women Are Winners.

Of course it will be a woman who is going to earn the grand prize, for only women have had the enterprise and determination to enter the race. But that is easy to understand for they have been pioneers in lots of good things since the world began, and have not been slow to appreciate the advantages that might be obtained from labor-saving devices among which may be numbered the convenient Ford coupe which will take the passenger there and back in a jiffy.

Friends of the candidates are on the alert to help them out and get them the largest number of votes possible. As for the diamond ring, offered in the contest as second prize, it's no second anywhere except on the list in this race, and many a longing look has been cast at it since the race began. Only just two weeks remain in which it can be looked at where it now is, in the window of the W. E. Davis Jewelry & Music store, for in just two more weeks it will be given as a prize to the candidate getting next to highest honors in this Ranger Daily Times circulation contest.

Of course it can be seen on the finger of the winner, and no doubt she will be proud to show it, but not so easily as now where it is on display on the main street of the city.

Campaign Nearing Close.

Candidates working in this campaign will all feel good when the campaign is done. They will all receive a 10 per cent commission on their subscriptions if they have equalled or exceeded $30, and probably they have for there has been some splendid and energetic work done in this last few weeks which has resounded to the good of the Ranger Daily Times and the people of the city.

The Times is a first-class medium of education. It gives its readers the best first-hand news, and keeps them from getting out-of-date and behind the times. If you want to know the best in happenings or in business, read the Ranger Daily Times.

REPORT OF NEW OIL POOL NEAR CISCO IS DENIED

Reports that the Tom Dees well on the Gray lease, six miles southeast of Cisco, came in for an estimated production of from 500 to 1,000 barrels are untrue, a Ranger oil man said yesterday on his return from Cisco. The Cisco story said that a new oil producing pool would be opened as the result of the Dees well coming in.

The Ranger man said no oil was flowing, but there was a showing of gas. He said the drillers were busy with a fishing job when he was there.

TWO KILLED, EIGHT HURT WHEN OIL TANK COLLAPSES

WICHITA FALLS, June 16.—Two men were reported to have been killed and eight injured when a 55,000-barrel oil tank at the Manhattan refinery, a mile north of Burk Burnett collapsed late this afternoon. The tank was being torn down, and the crew of workmen, busy inside, were caught as the walls caved in.

Building Road to Top

City Engineer Wishes to Improve Maryland Avenue Leading to Ranger Heights, but Finds He Must Proceed Slowly.

It will take several hundred dollars to remove the heavy rocks and improve Maryland avenue on Ranger heights, according to Street Commissioner Teal. The city is anxious to improve this avenue on the heights but the street department has decided to defer complete improvements on the avenue until more money is available.

The avenue is being filled in with stone from the lot of the destroyed

Nash hotel at Pine and Austin streets at present. This thoroughfare is one of the rockiest in the city and as it is a continual ascent from the point where it starts off of the West Main thoroughfare until the heights is attained it puts the motor of an automobile under a severe strain.

City Engineer Seward and his men are working on the east side of the city, where several impassable streets are reported.

RANGER'S FREE TOURIST CAMP NOW IS READY

Lighted Building With Gas Ranges and Other Conveniences for Travelers.

With the free tourist camp completed, tourists who stop off in Ranger for the night will find all the conveniences that are provided in any tourist camp on the Bankhead highway.

The stone building which stands to the immediate right of the camp entrance, houses the gas cooking ranges and several tables. It is electrically lighted. There is a sand floor.

There is spring water in a well at the dance pavilion, which is located on property adjacent to the tourist camp to the west. This is free to the tourist. Toilet facilities are available at the rear of the grounds.

It was found that it would be too expensive with the funds available to pipe city water to the stone building, and this convenience will be passed up for the present. C. D. Woods, chairman of the Lions club tourist committee, which has been instrumental in equipping the camp grounds, said.

"We will leave the grounds like they are for the present," Mr. Woods said. "Possibly later on, we will make additions."

The grounds are large enough to take care of all the tourists, who may wish to stop here, Mr. Woods said. He estimates that 35 or 40 cars can park on the grounds each night without undue crowding.

Tourists are using the grounds daily. Four parties were camped at the park Friday night as early at 7:30 o'clock.

It has been suggested that a register book be placed in the stone building, where tourists who will, may put their signature, address and date of visit to Ranger. These books are found in numerous tourist camps.

Here's A Lot of Advice to About-to-Weds

By CARL D. GROAT, United Press Staff Correspondent. BERLIN, June 16.—Marriages in Germany must be eugenic, else one runs the risk of legal punishment and is open to a suit for damages.

This warning, in the form of a printed pamphlet containing much sound advice on love, marriage, duty to family, posterity and "Vaterland," is handed at the marriage license bureau to every marriage candidate and to his or her next of kin.

A few choice lines gleaned from this latest "Advice to the Lovelorn" follows:

"Health of man and wife forms the cornerstone for happiness of married life. In healthy people dwell sound sense, strength and creative joy. * * * Illness of one works detrimentally upon the other; depresses the joy of living, brings care and sorrow into the home.

"Especially are children sometimes seriously affected. Particularly unhappy for parents and children are diseases like tuberculosis, sex and mental troubles; not less dire are drunkenness and the misuses of cocaine and morphium.

"Hence it is the solemn duty of those desiring to wed—the solemn duty toward the future partner and the desired children, as well as to the Vaterland, which urgently needs increase of population—that in advance the assurance exists that the state of health permits of marriage."

The circular requests candidates to be examined by their doctors and to follow their counsels, even to the extent of postponing marriage, if necessary. In closing it warns that one party to a marriage can be fined if a disease is contracted as a result of failure to heed eugenic warning. Also a suit for damages can be entered in such a case. The document suggests in conclusion that the state wants no inferior, useless children.

Although Germany is not a member of the court, she has been given the same right as all members, namely to have a judge of her own sit in on the court's panel during the hearing of the cases. Professor Walter Schucking has been designated by the German government for this purpose.

President Cooper of School Board Now Holds Books

All of the books and papers of the Ranger independent school district, which were removed from the cabinet safe of the city secretary's office by Sheriff Barton and his deputies acting under a warrant of seizure late Saturday morning, are now in the hands of V. V. Cooper, president of the board.

Justice J. N. McFatter, who prepared the warrant at the instigation of the board president and E. H. Mills, board member, checked the books over to Cooper immediately after they were taken to his office.

A hemp sack and a waste basket, the property of the city, were used by the sheriff's party in removing the records from the Marston building to the office of the justice Saturday.

Mills was asked by a Times representative Saturday night if the school collector's office would continue to be in the Marston building.

"We will have a meeting of the board shortly to decide that," he replied.

TRAINED NURSE GIVES FIRST AID TO INJURED DOG

DALLAS, June 16.—Boy, page Florence Nightingale!

Answering a call to put a dog out of his misery after it had been run over by an automobile, Sam Heyman, ambulance driver upon arriving at the scene of the accident, found a woman kneeling by the side of a luxurious limousine, carressing a ragged, whining puppy.

"Have you any chloroform?" the woman asked.

"Yes, but you had better let me shoot him and end his misery," answered Heyman.

"No, I want some chloroform and a needle," she replied. "I am going to sew up this gash in his back. I am a trained nurse and served seven months in one of the largest canine and feline hospitals in New York."

The woman was supplied with a needle and a small vial of chloroform. She saturated a handkerchief with the anesthetic, held it to the dog's nose and pulling a silken thread from the hem of her skirt, threaded the needle.

She then took six stitches in the gash, climbed into the automobile and drove away.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., June 16.—United States Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee tonight in an interview with the United Press shattered any hope that Governor Al Smith of New York may have of obtaining the Democratic support in the presidential race.

Admitting his personal friendship and admiration for Governor Smith, McKellar said in relation to the "dry repealer's" chances: "I believe he has eliminated himself as a possible candidate for president on the Democratic ticket. Governor Smith is very popular in Tennessee and also in the Southern states, but I do not think any but a dry man can win."

Mystery Towers Hide Material For a Divorce

LONDON, June 16.—A "Mystery Tower," erected just off the Shoreham coast by the British admiralty during the war, has been looted of its mystery.

H. A. Cliff, when he was admiralty official in charge of the tower, formed a habit of receiving an unknown young woman there, according to Cliff's wife. Sometimes the mysterious pair swam out to their mysterious retreat and sometimes a village boatman rowed them.

When the couple swam the short distance, it was alleged they used one small, undivided bathing hut in which to undress.

"Mixed bathing is very extensive now," observed the judge, when this was mentioned.

"But they used the same hut, my lord," argued counsel.

"I must look at the thing in the light of modern habits," the judge continued, but he finally decided that Cliff had gone further than he should in his mixed bathing and granted a decree nisi.

The "mystery towers" are immense concrete and steel structures, built at great cost during the war for an unknown purpose. It is generally believed, however, that the government intended constructing several more of them, to be towed and sunk at intervals across the English Channel, to act as lighthouses and forts and submarine checks.

EDDIE COLLINS IS GOING AFTER BIG BATTING HONORS

Writers Say He Will Have One of the Best Years of His Long Career.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Swiping bases in this and former seasons has brought recognition and leadership to Eddie Collins, star second baseman of the White Sox, but averages released today for games including last Wednesday indicate that Eddie, whom various observers have touched with approaching infirmity, is in the go for a top notch peg in American league batting honors. The figures show Collins annexed nine hits in his last four games, which booster him to second place among the batters who have participated in 35 or more games. His average is .388, compared with .370 a week ago.

Collins' forging to the front leads writers to predict that he will have one of the best years of his long career. Already he has stolen 20 bases, as many as he stole during the entire season last year.

Heilmann Tops List.
Harry Heilmann, the Detroit slugger, is topping the list with an average of .429, again of three points over the previous week. George Burns, Boston's star first baseman, is batting in third place with an average of .378.

Babe Ruth, of the Yankees, gradually is closing the gap between himself and "Cy" Williams of the Phillies, for home run honors in the majors. Babe obtained his thirteenth homer during the week, while the National league clouter's total remained at 20. Babe is leading in runs scored with 47 and in total bases with 121, which besides his homers include 13 doubles and five triples.

Other leading batters: Ruel, Washington, .370; Jamieson, Cleveland, .361; Miller, Philadelphia, .355; Ruth, New York, .353; S. Rice, Washington, .348; Haney, Detroit, .338; Cobb, Detroit, .337; Tobin, St. Louis, .329; Severid, St. Louis, .329; Kamm, Chicago, .327.

Rogers Hornsby of St. Louis, leading batter of the National league last season, has returned to the game after being out since May 24 because of an injured knee and is challenging his rivals for the batting honors. He signaled his return to the game last Wednesday by smashing out three hits, which sent his average up to .381, a mark obtained in 23 games. The figures released today, however, are of players who have participated in 35 or more games, and these give the veteran Zack Wheat of Brooklyn the honors of topping the list with an average of .409. Charley Grimm of Pittsburgh, is next with .384, and Jimmy Bottomley, of the Cardinals who has played in 50 games is next with .378.

Leading Base Stealer.
Sammy Bohne, Cincinnati's speedy little infielder, added another stolen base to his record, and is showing the way to the base stealers with 13 thefts.

"Cy" Williams, of the Phillies, who was out of the game because of a lame back, after he had registered his twentieth circuit drive, has returned to the line-up but to date has not measured the distance of the fences in the western end of the circuit.

Dave Bancroft and Frank Frisch, both members of the Giants, are having a merry race for run getting honors. The former has crossed the plate 48 times, his rival 36.

Other leading batters: Mogan, Philadelphia, .378; Frisch, New York, .365; Roush, Cincinnati, .364; Young, New York, .356; Williams, Philadelphia, .351; Southworth, Boston, .340; Neis, Brooklyn, .336; O'Farrell, Chicago, .336; McInnis, Boston, .332; Johnston, Brooklyn, .330.

Bunny Brief Slumps.
Bunny Brief of Kansas City, underwent a slight slump in his batting during the past week, but the Blue slugger managed to get another circuit drive and as a result ran his string of homers to 13. Despite his falling out of the .400 class in batting, he still retains a slight edge on J. Smith of Toledo, among the players who has participated in 35 or more games. Brief is topping the list with an average of .384, while Smith is trailing only one point behind. G. Wright of Kansas City, is third with .337.

Brief continued to lead as a run getter with 52 runs, and is out in front in total bases with 121, which besides his four baggers include 13 doubles and four triples.

Eddie Murphy of Columbus, failed to stretch his string of stolen bases beyond 13, but is out in front of Berghammer of St. Paul who has stolen 12 bases.

Other leading batters: East, Minneapolis, .375; Lamar, Toledo, .358; E. Murphy, Columbus, .350; Combs, Christenbury, Indianapolis, .332; Louisville, .347; Schreiber, Columbus, .342; Shinault, Milwaukee, .336; Dressen, St. Paul, .331; Brown, Indianapolis, .323.

GIANT ZEPPELINS SOON MAY BE CARRYING PASSENGERS AND TONS OF FREIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC

LONDON, June 16.—Details of the first Atlantic airship service between Spain and Argentina have just been made public by the London Daily Chronicle, which says that it may soon be possible to bridge the 5,000 miles between the two continents in three and a half days. The service will operate between Seville and Buenos Aires, and Zeppelin aircraft will be used.

There will be terminal airdomes, mooring masts, repair sheds, and hydrogen factories at Seville, and at Buenos Aires. In addition, emergency landing grounds will be laid out at the Canary Islands and at Cordoba, in the Argentine.

On the American side of the Atlantic the hangars will be made on a revolving principle, because of the variation of the wind. Four airplanes are being built to inaugurate the scheme, and it is anticipated that service will begin next summer. It also is probable that arrangements will be made to link up Seville direct with London by airplane service.

The airships, fitted with nine engines, each developing 400 horsepower, will carry 40 passengers and 11 tons of mails and merchandise. There will be two simultaneous flights a week in each direction, and the time taken to cross the Atlantic will be three days and 16 hours. Passengers will have all the comforts of an Atlantic liner without the disadvantage of sea sickness.

The ships will have a speed of 82 miles an hour. Zeppelin pilots who have not less than 1,000 successful flights to their credit will be engaged to operate the craft. Each airship will carry six pilots and a commander.

Powerful wireless sets will be fitted into each ship, thus it will be possible to keep in touch with 45 weather stations on the coasts of Spain, Africa, America and the Canary Islands, Cape Verde and Fernando Noronha, as well as with ships at sea.

CLEBURNE, June 16.—The first of a series of sectional meetings in the interest of the proposed highway amendment to the constitution will be held at San Antonio on Monday, June 18, according to announcement made by H. A. Oliver, president of the Texas Commercial Executives association, who called the meetings and will make a tour of the state to attend them.

The meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce at 2 p. m. The highway amendment will be discussed and ways and means of presenting it to the people of the various counties in that section outlined.

President Oliver has called meetings, in co-operation with the local commercial secretaries, for other sections of the state. The commercial secretaries and county judges and commissioners of 20 counties in South and East Texas will meet at Lufkin on June 20, Wilhem C. Meeting in Abilene.
On June 27 a similar meeting will be held at Abilene for the counties in that section, and on June 28 the commercial secretaries and county judges and commissioners of all North and Northeast Texas will meet at Denton.

A meeting is being arranged for the Panhandle counties at Amarillo for the first part of July, but the date has not been definitely fixed.

"I am hoping that all of these meetings will be fully attended," said President Oliver, "for I consider the highway amendment to be the most important matter related to the development of the state which is before us at present."

A state-wide rally in the interest of the amendment is to be held at San Antonio on July 9 and 10 under the auspices of the Texas Highway

INSTRUMENT INVENTED THAT WILL AID IN CATCHING SMUGGLERS

VIENNA, June 16.—Austrian inventors have perfected an instrument which automatically and accurately records the passage of any vessel over a given body of water, night or day, to observers who may be located on shore. As an aid in catching smugglers, and a help to coast defense in war time, the invention is regarded as distinctly valuable.

The device consists of a small search light sending a ray no bigger than a pencil across space to be controlled and a receiving apparatus at the other end containing a light-sensitive selenium cell. Whenever a passing vessel interrupts the rays of the search light, the selenium cell closes a relay which starts a bell alarm, or operates a recording device.

The instrument in question was tested recently between two points three and one-half miles apart, in the outskirts of Vienna, and the passage of every object, as well as every person, was duly recorded. These tests were made in broad daylight, with 50 candle power incandescent lamp as the source of light.

CONTRAST IN PRICES
In 1539 a printed copy of the Bible was sold for a sum, the twentieth century equivalents of which would be $45 and $37 respectively, for bound or unbound copies. According to an old record in 1541, the price had fallen to $23.

These old manuscripts, of which there are perhaps not more than 100 extant, are now worth their weight in gold and more. Recently a valuation was noted at $5,000. Old manuscripts of pre-printing days, and the early printed copies are ranked among the most precious literary treasures of the world.

From the book making standpoint the Big Print Red Letter Bible is the finest of them all. In times to come it may prove to be a museum piece, as these others come to be, but just now it is within the reach of all and should have its niche in every home. Look in another column for the offer this paper is making. Because of the limited number at the disposal of this paper, only three coupons are required to be clipped.

TWO ARRESTED FOR AND ONE PLEADS GUILTY TO FIGHTING

H. W. Gilbreath and Gib Weir were held by the police Saturday afternoon for fighting. The former pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $15.70, while the latter will be investigated, according to the police. The trouble started over a bill, according to Officer Tom Weeks.

REAL DEMOCRACY DEVELOPING THROUGH SPIRIT OF YOUNG JAPAN IN ISLAND EMPIRE

By CLARENCE DUBOSE (United Press Staff Correspondent) TOKYO, June 15.—Japanese militarists got an awful jolt the other day.

Some of the highest officers of the army were hissed, "hoed" and jeered off the stage by students of one of the great universities, when the army men tried to lecture to them on the virtues of military training.

Militarism has been getting a good many black eyes in Japan during the last few years. But even so, the militarists still run things (although their days seem doomed); and, despite all the protests that have been made against militarism, the militarists never thought they would be literally hoed out of a great university by the very pick and flower of Japanese youth—from whom the army of the next generation must come—or there will be no army to speak of.

The event is most significant of the temper of "younger Japan," and of its determination not to be bossed blindly by militarists. Carried to its logical conclusion, this student-spirit of Japan today may mean sweeping and fundamental changes in government and policies in this country—changes that will not be made today or next week or next year, but changes that seem inevitable.

Democracy for Japan. Some students are bold enough to say what many more think, but dare not speak—for Japanese police are ever alert to jail those who think "dangerous thoughts"—that another generation will see democracy in Japan. But they mean by that, a democracy in spirit within an empire in fact—however incongruous that may sound. The wildest student in Tokyo would not for a moment even breathe a suggestion of overthrow of the Emperor. The Emperor is more than a ruler; he partakes of divinity. Every Japanese child is taught that from his cradle, and he believes it devoutly. But "young Japan," while reverently loyal to the Imperial tradition, is paving the way for an overthrow—which may be some years in coming—of the "invisible government" of the militarists and the aristocratic clique. "Young Japan" is getting ready to have a vote that means something and a parliament that has power and is not merely a mock debating society impotent of real legislative attributes.

It was at Waseda University in Tokyo that high army officers, as well as University officials who supported the officers, were hoed from the stage and driven from the hall by the Japanese students. The army men wanted to establish a system of military instruction at the university. The students greeted them with cries of, "Murderers!" "Butchers!"

Vice-minister of War Gen. Shirakawa attempted to read an address from the war minister.

Hoed Them Down. "Blood drips from the decorations on his breast," shouted a student. "Thousands die to raise one hero to fame!" called another. The jeers then became tumultuous. The vice-minister of war had to retreat. Several full general, commanders of imperial guards, and full admirals of the naval general staff were also hoed down. The Waseda liberals made a day of it.

This, for Japan, was completely revolutionary. It upset all traditions of unquestioning respect and obedience to military authority. Here were the highest army officers meeting not only refusal to obey, but with gross and studied insults and open defiance. The nation gasped—and the police got to work.

The cops are combing the colleges now, looking for "thinkers of dangerous thoughts." Both students and faculty members who "think dangerously" are to be fired, the police have announced. If that were all there is to it this wouldn't be much of a story. For police have always been all-powerful in Japan, and always they have been obeyed respectfully.

But today the Japanese students who hoed the militarists are laughing at the cops—laughin' at 'em!—when the cops ask whether they're "thinking dangerous thoughts."

That's how far "Young Japan" has gone.

Asks Free Schools For Music Pupils

The one solution to the problem of the production of great musical artists from America and in America lies in the establishment of public schools of music, in the opinion of Leopold Auer, well known music teacher. In an interview he said: "There must be as many geniuses here as abroad, but they are not developed nor encouraged because the government takes no interest in the musical education of its people and because private instruction is too high.

"It is practically impossible for a poor boy or girl here to receive a musical education. He or she must be backed by some one. It is from the poor that the greatest artists have always come. The various governments of Europe finance these public schools for musical education, and why cannot America afford to do the same thing? Until America establishes free schools of musical instruction, so that the mass of children can be educated, she cannot hope to give to the world as many and as great artists as Europe.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
MEN LOVE DARKNESS—This is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.—John 3:19.

NINETY AND NINE
 There are ninety and nine that safely lay
 In the shelter of the fold,
 But one was out on the hills away,
 Far off from the gates of gold,
 Away on the mountains wild and bare,
 Away from the tender Shepherd's care.

So reads the first verse of "The Ninety and Nine," one of the finest hymns ever written, which became famous throughout the English speaking world during the latter part of the nineteenth century. In Fergus, Ont., it touches the hearts of all residents, for, in one of the churchyards lies the body of the one who had gone away from the fold and about whom the poem was written. The golden-haired youth who had wandered afar was the brother of Miss Elizabeth C. Clephane, who wrote the poem which was later set to music by Ira D. Sankey.

In the old St. Andrew Presbyterian churchyard in Fergus, George Clephane was buried in the month of May 1851. His grave, marked only by a slab, is sadly neglected. Of him his sister wrote the beautiful and pathetic lines that form the hymn.

The story is one of the tragedies of early Canada. George Clephane came to Canada in 1842 on the ship Souter Johnnie. He came from an old fine Scottish family. His one failing was drink, and it is thought that he came to a new country to make a fresh start.

There has been an impression in Fergus that Clephane was a rather wild young man, doing nothing to make a living. However, he was a real gentleman, and tried farming.

Having been brought up as a man of leisure, he was not cut out for a farmer, and was not a success at that and during spells of despondency gave way to drink, dying during one of those spells in the home of his friend, Dr. Mutch, on May 2, 1851, being then only 32 years of age.

Clephane's funeral was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Mair, who was pastor of St. Andrew's church from 1847 to 1854, and near the center of the churchyard in the rear of the church was placed the body of the lost sheep who had gone astray. The sister who had written the tender lines of that wonderful hymn was not there to weep over his grave, but in far away Scotland mourned her only brother and repeated the words:

But none of the ransomed ever knew,
 How deep were the waters crossed,
 Nor how dark was the night that the Lord passed through,
 Ere He found His sheep that was lost;

Out in the desert He heard its cry,
 Sick and helpless and ready to die.
 And then the grand closing of the hymn. What comfort to the sister:

"Rejoice! I have found My sheep,"
 And the angels echoed around the throne;
 "Rejoice, for the Lord brings back His own."

The churchyard of St. Andrew, where Clephane is buried, dates back to the earliest days of Fergus, the oldest monument being that of Robert Melvin, Dec. 6, 1835. There are a few unmarked graves before that date. Every year tourists make their way to this churchyard to see the grave of George Clephane. The churchyard has for a number of years been falling to ruin, but a movement is now on foot by the Bible Class of St. Andrew's church, of which the Rev. Walter L. Nichol is now pastor, to restore it.

The history of "The Ninety and Nine" begins with an evangelistic meeting held in Edinburgh in 1874 by the famous evangelists, Sankey and Moody. Mr. Sankey had picked up the poem written by Miss Clephane. The words haunted his memory and as Moody was pleading with the sinners, Sankey sat down and hummed the hymn to a tune he made up as he went along.

After Moody finished his sermon, Sankey sang the hymn to the air he had improvised. It stirred the great crowd as nothing had done and ever afterwards became one of the favorite hymns of Moody.

A sister of Elizabeth Clephane sat in the meeting that night, and for the first time heard her sister's poem sung to music. The author of the poem was born in 1830 and died in 1869. Just when she wrote the poem is not known, but it did not appear in print until after her death.

Clephane was the "lost sheep," mastered by drink, but he was not, as some have pictured, a worthless young man. He dearly loved horses and his friends were many. He was likable, more than six feet tall, good looking and well educated.

The Land of Manana

Country of Vast Undeveloped Resources, of Potential Wealth and Splendid Opportunities for the Man of Business, Man of Affairs, for the Developer and the Producer.

BY LYSTON S. BLACK

This is the fifth and last chapter of the very interesting and instructive travel stories about the republic of Mexico which have been appearing each Sunday in the Ranger Times beginning with May 20.

After discussing conditions in the country in general, with especial reference to oil and the causes that have so far prevented recognition of the sister republic by the United of America, Mr. Black gives a comprehensive summary of the potential wealth in Mexico and the possibilities awaiting business men there.

CHAPTER V.

The unsettled condition of the oil industry in Mexico is well known. The oil wells there are astonishingly large—but opinions vary as to how long they hold up before going to salt water. Under the present conditions, one thing is certain, and that is that the small operator, and even the big interests, have a "hard row to hoe" and might better develop American resources.

Recognition.

Just how soon recognition will come, no one can hazard a guess—unless it be Oregon and his advisors—or possibly the American conference board appointed by President Harding. But the delay will not be much longer. For some time El Presidente has been putting on a bold front catering, apparently, to a group of men who seem to be in power in that country. Our government has requested the signing of a "treaty of commerce and amity" as a condition precedent to recognition. And not long ago, in his opening message to the chamber of deputies, Obregon said that such a treaty is "neither possible, convenient or necessary and is contrary to Mexican constitutional precepts, as it would create special privileges for Americans." Still the Mexican supreme court, almost concurrently, ruled that the twenty-seventh article cannot be interpreted as being retroactive. On the battle field, Obregon is known to be a master of strategy. Possibly this is a shrewd political maneuver, savoring of this old time strategy. Recognition of Mexico, under the proper conditions, would mean much to our country—but infinitely more to Mexico and Obregon.

Treasure House of Empires.

A cattle man who has shipped several train loads of cattle to Mexico stated that there has been a better cattle market in Mexico than in the States. The revolution played havoc with the cattle industry—depleting the ranches. Still cattle men are warned against flooding that country with livestock for until conditions materially change only a limited number can be absorbed. For various reasons the ranches are being re-stocked very slowly and methods of slaughtering and refrigeration are crude.

Some mining men are returning to Mexico but most of this fraternity have not forgotten their hasty exit during the revolution—and their consequent losses. Mining properties can now be purchased for a few thousands of dollars that would bring a million here.

Minerals Await Mining.

Most of the mines are shut down. Many have been robbed of the machinery and the shafts have caved in or have been destroyed. The richest streaks of the veins of some of them are being "high-graded" and gophered out. There is a gold mine on the Martinez hacienda. Rebels robbed it of its machinery and fearing further depredations, Martinez filled the shaft. As so many of the mines are closed down, most of the smelters and ore mills have ceased to operate.

Probably the good old times will never be repeated, the days of "Bill" Greene of Greeno-Cananea fame. Many times has the story been told of how old "Bill" borrowed money and set out from Cananea to New York—seven patches on his dilapidated trousers. Possibly he became silver-tongued as he told the Wall street money kings of the wondrous copper and gold treasures in Sonora. At any rate within one year he was reputed to be worth $40,000,000. Most of the really great properties are now controlled by big interests, still opportunities beyond the imagination will eventually be available.

In Mexico City timber experts waxed enthusiastic about the potential wealth that is bound to accrue from the enormous forests of practically every known timber. There are many kinds of rare hard woods down there, both beautiful and serviceable, for which there is no market. And there will be no demand until their value has become known and proven to the trade. If the figures of these experts are correct the railroad ties alone, provided there is a market for them, would yield far more than enough to pay for the land. There is little use right now in Mexico for hardwood timber but it is pointed out that, using as a basis the most conservative American quotations, the possible income would be several hundred dollars an acre. Still the land itself would be left and most of the cleared timber land is good for agricultural purposes. Granting that "fiars do figure" the figures in this case are overwhelmingly convincing.

Rich in Agriculture.

Agriculturally, Mexico might easily become a leading nation. Practically any product of a tropical, semi-tropical or temperate climate thrives. Sugar cane and rubber and coffee plants grow luxuriantly; bananas, coconuts, mangoes and avocados raised there possess a distinctly appetizing flavor; and the peons practically live on corn and beans. Probably no part of the North American continent is richer agriculturally than the Pacific coast states of Mexico. At the same time their population is comparatively sparse and capital and pioneering will be required for development. This is why they present such an opportunity for empire building. Especially in the state of Sinaloa do winter vegetables thrive—thrive at the time of the year when not even do they grow in the Imperial Valley, California. Carload after carload of tomatoes are annually shipped to the United States.

Many future commercial possibilities were unearthed by members of the party. Even now business is rapidly increasing. The president of a large creamery company admitted that his company for several months had been shipping butter into the interior of Mexico. Many other food-stuffs flow daily across the border. Mexico is fast becoming an extensive market for all classes of manufactured goods. Machinery of all kinds, from sewing machines and bicycles to giant harvesters and fine automobiles, is gradually finding its way into the country. And with a heavily populated country just recovering from a decade of destruction, the market is almost unlimited.

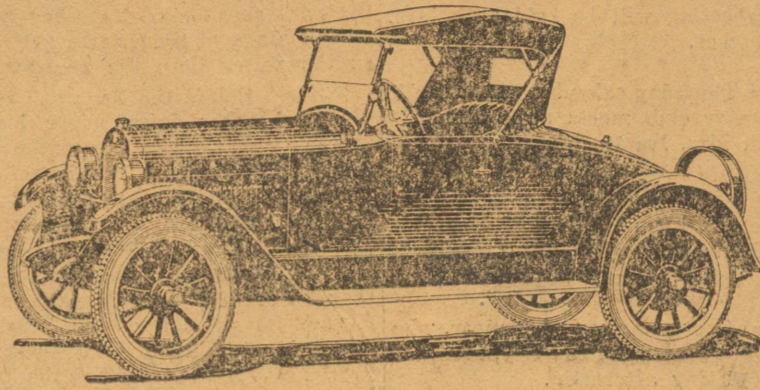

Trade Possibilities.

There are no logical reasons why this country should not control the bulk of the trade with Mexico. Despite an apparent belief people from that country do not hate Americans—it is remarkably easy to create a feeling of friendship. The manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers simply must study the situation from every angle. They must study the people—learn their customs and their language. By efficiency they must cut down operating costs and lower their profits, thereby reducing selling prices. A more liberal line of credit is imperative. One automobile dealer in Mexico City lamented the fact that he is forced to pay cash for his cars at the border. And that the amount of money tied up in several carloads of expensive cars greatly curtails his trade possibilities. Why can't credit be arranged? Failures are almost negligible—the business mortality rate is far lower than in the United States. While the French, German and English often quote better prices and are fast becoming formidable competitors Americans certainly have every advantage and should successfully meet this competition.

This is not the time for the investor, but the business man. The conservative small investor cannot with absolute safety invest in Mexico. The big man, the man who could lose a few thousands without it hurting him could by careful discrimination "pick up" rare speculative bargains. But the element of risk is there—and will be until after the tangled skein of the country's political and economic yarn has been further unraveled. Despite the assurances of the neighboring president, the time is not yet ripe for conservative investment capital. But certainly now is the time for the business man to prepare assiduously for the dawn, not far off, of a better day.

CAPSULE PLAN CREATES CONSIDERABLE CURIOSITY.
The Capsule plan, just inaugurated in the Alathcan class of the Central Baptist church, is proving so interesting that it is a matter of discussion, even among the members of this church. It is a dark secret and if you are interested enough to become a member of this wide awake class, you may be informed concerning it. All married women under 35 years, not attending other churches are urged to visit this class, taught by Mrs. A. L. Leake.

ICE CREAM SUPPER ON CHURCH LAWN.
The Purple thistle and sweet peas were basketed and vased on all tables and potted plants placed attractively over the lawn, between the annex and main building of the Central Baptist church Thursday when the W. M. U. served ice cream, home made cakes and candy, also soda pop to the large crowd which attended. The hours were merrily willed away and friends were loathe to leave each other and so a late hour found many still enjoying conversation and music. Attractive booths were presided over by the young ladies' class and young matron's class. A handsome um was netted and a large crowd present in spite of counter attractions, including the carnival. The proceeds are to go to Buckner's Orphans' home at Dallas, where together with other churches of the county, the little children of the home are to be fed one day. It takes some four hundred dollars to feed them one day. This church, though in need of all funds now for their own building and equipment, do not forget their call to world wide missions.

The beautiful home of Mrs. L. C. Morris was decorated with cut flowers for the meeting of the Amor club on Thursday. After several games of 500 the hostess served a dainty plate of sandwiches, olives, potato chips, wafers and lemonade to Meses. John Hobgood, H. T. Carpenter, I. W. Upton, J. E. Brown, E. J. Greer, Lawrence Gunn, and Ira Rucker. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Ira Rucker.

AS A WOMAN THINKETH
By Marion McLean.

There is a woman who is one of my best friends, and people wonder why I like her so much.

She isn't particularly attractive, she doesn't talk well at all, she is too busy with her children to have entertaining parties, if she knew how. In fact, she is not at all a remarkable person.

Except in one respect: She is a real friend.

She is as pleased when my husband gets a good fee as when her own does, and they are in the same profession.

She apparently thinks the things my children say are as funny and clever as those her own children pull.

I can't have a better time with her going to the market where the cabbages are cheapest than at the opera with lots of other people.

She is a good housekeeper, but she wishes she could do things the way I do!

She will offer me anything she owns, if she finds out I need it, from a five-dollar bill to some clean sheets.

If I do not see her for months, she is just exactly the same when I call her on the telephone and it takes us just about five minutes to catch up.

I know she would stand up for me to Clemenceau, Lloyd George and Henry Cabot Lodge if necessary though meeting new people puts her in a panic.

There isn't a sign of jealousy or selfishness in her whole being, and I would go to Jericho and back for her if it would do her any good.—From the July Delineator.

The One-Piece Bathing Suit Passing, Modest Attire is Now All the Rage

By HEDDA HOYT
Fashion Editor of the United Press
(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, June 16.—No one can say "Oh Horrors!" when they look at the bathing beauties at the resorts this season. For behold! their costumes no longer consist of the slick-fitting one-piece suit. They are garbed in the most modest bathing attire that we have seen since the long-sleeved, long-stocking era. Perhaps we are witnessing a revulsion from the "skin-tights" of previous seasons, when every woman, regardless of her physical charms, displayed herself before the public in a form-fitting bathing suit. Not one girl in one hundred really had good reason for wearing them and yet, regardless of the beach censors, they wore them, claiming that they were the only sensible costume for swimming. Many of them never got nearer the water than the board-walks.

Colors the Rage
The beaches have never looked prettier than they do this season with groups of women garbed in colorful batiks, printed India linens and ruffled taffetas. Color rages rampant. The idea this year seems to be to look as alluring as possible, rather than to dress as scantily as possible. One imagines that the beach is covered with little girls in party frocks that are cut short at the knees until one discovers that they are merely short-skirted women in the smartest of bathing attire. Many of these suits are made of changeable taffetas, with long slender bodices and ruffled or tiered skirts. Others are made of bandana squares with bloomers of solid color matching the border of the bandana. India prints are used in the same manner. With the printed bathing costumes, bright colored shoes and caps are used carrying out the main color in the print. Capes of eretonne and rubberized materials also add a degree of modesty to the beach costume. Only at the resorts which are frequented by the tenement dwellers does one see a display of figure this year.

The stocking question seems to be about equally divided this year, some women wearing half socks or no stockings whatever and others wearing long sheer stockings of tan, taupe or black.

Bathing Caps
Caps this year are absolutely captivating! There are those adorned with rubber trimmings, such as plumes, flowers and ribbons, which are so becoming. Then there are the tie-around turbans which are merely long strips of colored rubber which drape about the head and clasp over the brow with an Egyptian buckle or ornament.

Rubber scarfs in various color effects are among the popular accessories.

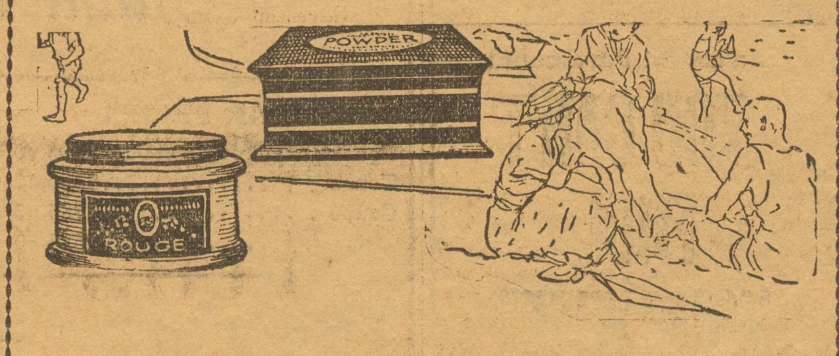

Gingham bathing suits made like children's rompers are worn by the younger girls to some extent. Often there is an accompanying sunbonnet of gingham to ward off the sun's rays.

QUICK ACTION BRAKES
EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

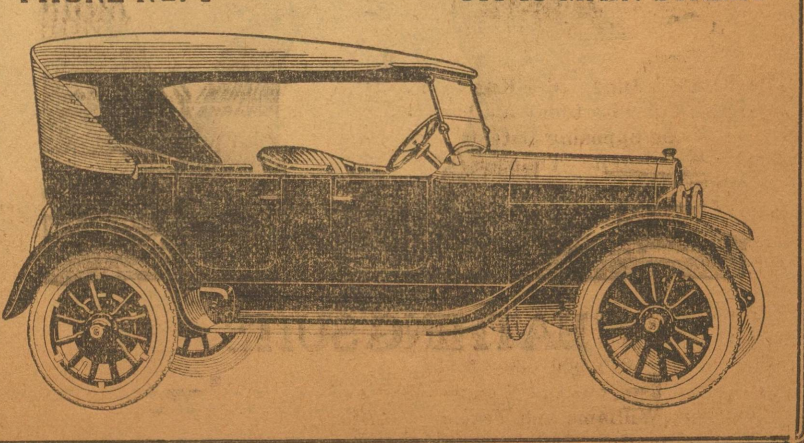

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2 1-4 inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

BRECKENRIDGE TO PLAY RANGER SNAPPERS TODAY

Nugent Will Pitch in Game at Municipal Park; Has Good Support.

G. M. ("Strike 'em Out") Nugent, whose strikeout record this season with the Ranger Snappers is spreading his fame through the oil belt country, will face the Breckenridge team today at municipal ball park. The "Brecks" will be represented by the Snowden & McSweeney company team, which, according to advance reports, has a well balanced club. The Snappers are determined to find this out today.

Nugent will be given plenty of opportunities to pitch this summer, Carl Snapp, club manager, has said. Ranger fans delight in seeing him get the call.

The club management is trying to bring two former members of the old Ranger (West Texas league) team back here to play with the Snappers. One is a pitcher and the other is an infielder. Because both men are still active members of a league team, the officials are withholding their names for the present. Both men have a large personal following here and their coming would signalize a greater interest in the fortunes of the Snappers.
The home club will line up the same as on last Sunday, Snapp said.

COUNTRY CLUB GOLF LINKS BEING IMPROVED STEADILY DAY BY DAY

Under the care of A. A. Munsey, the Ranger Country club golf links are at a more highly developed stage than at any time in the past. Munsey assumed his duties at the club on June 1.

He is living at the grounds and is giving his undivided attention to the course. He now has a motor-driven mower to work the course over and it is kept going daily to keep the grass down, due particularly to the recent, intermittent rains.
Munsey is being congratulated by the club members for the changes he has worked on the courses during his short time at the course, and the club members in turn are congratulating themselves in securing a man, who has shown a keen interest in his work.

The tees are being improved, and the fairways trimmed up. Club officials say they are not overlooking the fact that they have a natural course with many of the picturesque features identified with well known golf links, and will develop the course as the funds are available.

SPECTACULAR OIL BLAZE IS FINALLY EXTINGUISHED

By United Press
PITTSBURGH, June 16.—Firemen and hundreds of volunteers tonight succeeded in extinguishing a spectacular oil blaze in Lawrenceville after a 50-hour fight. The damage was more than $1,000,000, officials of the Atlantic Refining company estimated. More than 75 persons were injured in fighting the flames, nine of whom were hurt seriously.

Hundreds of persons residing at Butler, who fled to the hills with their household effects, have returned to put their homes in order.
The fire consumed the oil and gas supply. Firemen made no effort to put out the blaze after four explosions this afternoon. Only 10 tanks were destroyed and the remainder of the plant was not destroyed.

Sooner or later the customer wants a larger car—most every owner of a smaller car decides some day to own a larger one. The Studebaker buyer doesn't have to go somewhere else to get acquainted all over again. Se selects a Special Six, or a Big Six, and deals with the same good friends.

With a complete line of sixes, the Studebaker dealer is able to make these customers permanent Studebaker customers—these customers bring other customers who become permanent and so on—sort of an endless chain.

When it comes to building a profitable business, there's nothing to compare with a good line of merchandise in a variety of the right styles, sizes and prices, and a volume of owners who are enthusiastic over the product and continue to buy it time and time again.

Studebaker now largest manufacturers of "Sixes" in the world.

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION SAYS SANER OF DALLAS, RESENTS ATTACKS ON CONSTITUTION

By Associated Press
NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 16.—Now, at the very apogee of the achievements of the constitution of the United States, when its blessings are apparent to the most casual observer, it is being most bitterly attacked from many quarters, condemned and even execrated as an instrument of oppression and injustice, R. E. L. Saner, of Dallas, Texas, chairman of the citizenship committee of the American Bar association meeting here.

"The constitution that is being attacked is the one under which this government has endured for 133 years, has grown in wealth, power, extent of territory and intelligence of its people beyond the wildest dreams of its founders," Mr. Saner said. "No other people since the dawn of time has been as happy. Under this constitution we have survived the greatest civil war in history, we have fought four great foreign wars and carried them to triumph and a just and victorious peace, we have become the admiration and envy of the whole civilized world.

"They would infuse into the mind of America the same ideals of government that prevail in Russia. They are filling our schools with text-books that contain this propaganda. It is so elusive, so skillful, that it is hard to reach.

"But above all, the chief danger lies in men highly placed, men in the senate and house, lawyers who should know their constitution and its fruits. These demand that the safeguards of the constitution, the interpretation by the supreme court, should be withdrawn; that the legislative branch should be sole judge of the constitutionality of its acts and their conformity to the constitution. The moment this is done the judiciary and the executive would be prostrate at the foot of the majority in congress. But they even go farther than that. They demand that the decisions of the court shall be submitted to a vote of the people upon constitutional questions.

Danger in Congress.

"These two proposals, urged by a minority bloc in congress would as effectively destroy this constitution as anything that the anarchists or secret socialists could do; and still if these two proposals were submitted to the people today they would find thousands of advocates.

"The truth is we have so long enjoyed the blessings of freedom, that we have grown indifferent to them. The founders carefully protected the rights of the minority by this written constitution. It was the first time in the history of the world that certain fundamental rights of the individual and minority were guaranteed there by a written instrument superior to the legislative power or the will of the majority. It is an astonishing thing that intelligent people should deliberately attempt to tear down these safeguards and turn the coun-

But from many quarters it is being assailed. The criticisms come from various classes. From below, the anarchists, who would tear down all government, assail it with open violence. This is the least of our danger, however. We can cope with the anarchists.

Parlor Socialists.

There is another element, the parlor socialists, who combine with half-baked educators in a more insidious propaganda. Many of them are people of wealth and position, some of them with humanitarian ideals, some with simply lunatic notions, but they have the power to invade our schools and in our schools, all the way from the first grade up to the highest collegiate institutions, we find here and there a half-baked professor who insidiously instills into

SAYS CONGRESS WILL PASS COMPENSATION BILL

Senator Holm C. Bursum, Republican, who succeeded Senator Albert Fall as one of the New Mexico's representatives in the senate, has predicted the enactment by the next congress of the billion-dollar adjusted compensation bill. He has announced that the bonus fight in behalf of America's 4,000,000 World war veterans will be waged from a new angle—that of legality. Bursum, chairman of the senate pension committee, declared that America contracted a "legal obligation" by forcing its soldiers to pay their own insurance and in requiring forced allotments during the war, and cited state compensation acts in support of his contention. President Harding will sign, he is certain.

over to mob rule.

"The American Bar association has started a work of education, realizing these dangers. A committee is working through every organization that will assist, through the great fraternal and beneficial organizations, through women's clubs and the League of Women Voters, through patriotic societies and above all, through the American Legion.

ARKANSAS RIVER ON ANOTHER RISE, AGAIN FLOODING THE HOMES

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., June 16.—A three-foot rise in the Arkansas river in this city since midnight has caused the low sections to be again inundated. The recent floods washing out banks makes it easy for rains to break through.

It was believed at noon today that the crest of the rain had been reached. A rain of two-and one-half inches is reported far north of Wichita.

MISS HUGHES RETURNS FROM WASHINGTON; WAS FILMED WITH PRESIDENT

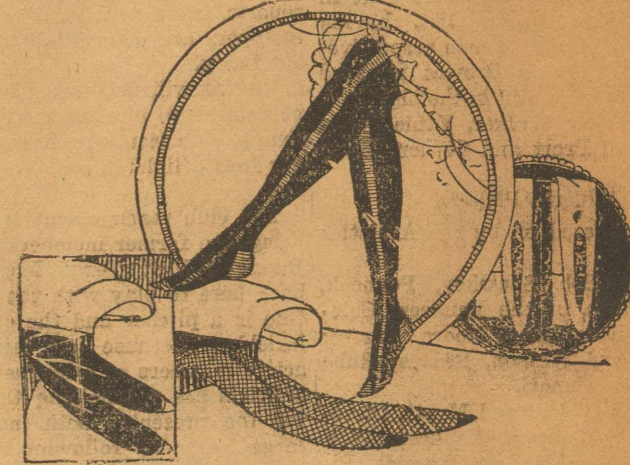

Florence Hughes, professional rodeo performer, who calls Ranger her home, came in from Washington, D. C., last night on the Sunshine Special. She will go to Moran this afternoon, leaving here at 1:12 o'clock to visit a few days with her mother-in-law, Mrs. F. J. Womack. She is stopping at the Gholson hotel.

Miss Hughes did her famous bronc riding and daredevil stunts on the plaza opposite the union station and the Columbus monument in Washington for 10 days during the Shrine conclave. She said she had an enjoyable time in the national capital. When President Harding visited the rodeo show, she and other performers were photographed with the President.

She will leave Ranger June 23 for Fort Worth, there to join several rodeo artists, and then will go to Los Angeles to open a 10-day engagement on July 2 in that city. Miss Hughes will then go to San Francisco for a 10-day engagement, immediately following the close of the Los Angeles show. On Aug. 15, she will open a 10-day engagement at the new Yankee baseball stadium in New York city. She will later return to New York for an engagement at Madison Square Garden, beginning Nov. 3.

"Teddy," her favorite riding horse, a strawberry roan, will be used in her coast and New York city engagements. Miss Hughes has a stable of horses on the Henry Woods farm on the Thurber road.
