Viet Cong Ambush Traps U.S. Soldiers

Demonstrators Invade Chicago Induction Post

By United Press International

Anti-war demonstrators tried to invade an induction center in Chicago today. They were repelled by police, who arrested 20 of them. Then other demonstrators began a march on the Chicago police headquarters.

A group of from 50 to 75 "peace" marchers had been parading in front of the induction center, just west of downtown Chicago. Shortly after 8 a.m., some of them broke ranks and headed for the doors.

Police who had been guarding the entrance quickly repulsed the demonstrators and pushed them back to the street.

When some of the demonstrators resisted, police loaded them into vans. A total of about 20 were arrested.

As soon as the vans left the induction center with their load of arrested demonstrators others who had been in the protest parade quickly formed in the street and headed toward police headquarters, about two miles from the induction center.

A group of young men being inducted were in the building when the demostrators swarmed toward the entrance.

The Chicago demonstrations were part of a series staged by groups throughout the nation. In Washington, target of a scheduled mass protest set for Saturday, U.S. marshals gathered to plan for the arrival of an expected several thousand protestors.

POLICE GOT ROUGH and clubbed and tear-gassed about two dozen persons in an anti-draft group outside the Northern California Induction Center in Oakland.

Mariner 5 Streaks Near Venus Planet

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—America's Mariner 5 spacecraft drew near Venus today on its fly-by mission to add to man's knowledge of the planet, which was probed 24 hours earlier by a Russian instrument package.

Mariner 5 was scheduled to make its closest approach—within 2,500 miles—to Venus at approximately 10:34 a.m. PDT and transmit to earth radio signals which would presumably expand knowledge on the Venusian atmosphere.

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory tracking Mariner 5 congratulated the Russians on their feat in landing an instrument package on Venus Wednesday. They pointed out the American mission was different in nature.

Principal experiment for Mariner 5 was an occulation maneuver, under which the spacecraft would veer around the planet and send radio signals to earth through the Venusian atmosphere.

The amount of bending in the radio signals caused by the Venusian atmosphere will be measured and scientists hope thereby to learn more about the density of the planet's atmosphere.

The Soviet Venus 4 instrument package showed that temperatures on Venus ranged from 114 to 536 degrees fahrenheit, which came as no surprise.

Dr. William Pickering, director of JPL which is operated by the California Institute of Technology, said, "The data so far released by the Russians is quite consistent with our concept of the planet. This is confirming data as to the nature of Venus."

He pointed out that measurements made by America's Mariner 2 in a 1962 fly-by of Venus showed the cloud-shrouded planet.

Russian Scientists Study Venus 4 Data

MOSCOW. (UPI)—The chief designer of the first spacecraft to make a soft-landing on another planet said today cosmonauts will follow Russia's Venus 4 to expore earth's sister planet by 1980.

The prediction came as elated Russians celebrated the historic landing on Venus Wednesday and scientists pored over the wealth of precious information sent back by the probe in more than 12 hours of coded messages.

The designer, unidentified in keeping with the usual Soviet practice of cloaking the names of top space scientists in secrecy, told the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda: "I think man will fly to Venus by 1980." Lower ranking personnel in the project were less optimistic, however, and made predictions man would reach Venus, earth's closest planetary neighbor, between 1985 and 2007.

The probe sent back information indicating that primitive forms of life could exist on the planet. Although too hot and devoid of oxygen to support human life, the basic conditions for perhaps single-celled organisms to survive appeared to exist, some scientists said.

Western experts in Moscow theorized that the extreme temperature ranges reported by Venus 4 indicated powerful gas currents sweeping around the planet from the side facing the sun to the side in darkness.

These currents would create a continual tempest, the experts said, and primitive forms of life might be able to survive by floating in the higher, cooler layers of such a storm.

Russian newspapers and radios pulled out all stops in reporting the landing. The reports also contained:

—A revelation that Soviet authorities had blacked out many radio stations Wednesday to avoid a repetition of the mid-winter 1966 loss of all communications with spaceships Venus 2 and 3 at the critical moment in their approach to the cloud-shrouded planet.

—A description of the spacecraft's radios as being small enough to fit in a pocket. The receiving and transmitting units each were said to be no bigger than a small book.

Speaker Says New Industry Hard To Get

"The odds of a community attracting an industry are about 30,000 to one."

That's what Ed Myatt told members of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in Coronado Inn. The speaker, one of the directors of the Pampa Industrial Foundation, Inc., also said that while most communities seek industry, not many can meet specific needs.

While tracing the history of the local industrial foundation, Myatt pointed out that proper community climate was all-important in keeping and attracting new indusry.

Along this line, he introduced Cal Fraser, president of Marie Foundations, who complimented Pampa's civic spirit and leadership. The ladies undergarment factory located on east Kingsmill, now employs some 545 people, Fraser said.

Also introduced was Bill Test of the Sears Roebuck Co., Chicago, for whose firm Marie Foundations manufactures its products.

Star Dust Melody

A Pampa man is apparently serenading his neighbors with the wrong tune. The dogs love it but the neighbors are not too pleased.

Pampa police received a call from a woman who complained that a man had been playing a tape recorder of dogs barking around midnight for the past two nights.

She said he was playing the recorder about midnight from his kitchen door so all the neighbors could hear.

Police said the man had been having trouble with neighbors over dogs barking in the neighborhood.

Hubert Expands Argument For Vietnam Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, expanding on the Johnson administration's new theme that the security of America is at stake in Vietnam, says the "destiny of the United States may very well be decided in Asia."

Humphrey said Wednesday night the United States must "contain the militant instincts and patterns of Communist China" just as it blocked the expansion of Soviet communism in post-World War II Europe.

"What kind of a world would this be if we had let Berlin go down the drain?" Humphrey asked. "What kind of a world would this be if we had let Greece and Turkey go down the drain?

"I think Asians are every bit as important as Europeans and I think the destiny of America may very well be decided in Asia," he said. Humphrey answered questions posed by "typical American citizens" during a one-hour National Educations Television (NET) appearance.

Humphrey's remarks concerning China were seen as an extension of a speech he made Sunday in Doylestown, Pa., when he warned, "The threat to world peace is militant, aggressive Asian communism with its headquarters in Peking, China."

Economy Bill Is Headed for Burial

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A $10 billion House-passed economy bill was prepared for burial today in the Senate, whose members lately have shown more interest in spending than saving.

Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee pronounced last rites over the bill, passed Wednesday night over his objections, even before senators had a chance to register shock.

Mahon said he would recommend that the bill simply be dropped, despite the fact that it was attached as a rider to an emergency measure needed to keep a number of government agencies from running out of money next Monday.

The measure, as approved by the House on a 238-164 roll call vote, would require President Johnson to cut back government spending this year to last year's levels. Exemptions would be

10 Marines Killed, 19 Hurt in Battle

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist troops trapped U.S. soldiers in the second major ambush in two days, military spokesmen said today. American bombers hit North Vietnam in a 100-mission assault in which one U.S. and one Communist plane were shot down.

U.S. reports also said the number of Americans killed in the Vietnam war neared 14,000.

Following up Tuesday's battle near Saigon in which 103 Communists and 58 Americans were killed in a Red ambush attempt, North Vietnamese troops 20 miles deep in South Vietnam trapped a Leatherneck platoon Wednesday, spokesmen said. The Communists used pellet-spraying mines to block Marine rescuers and killed 10 of the Leathernecks and wounded 19. No Communist losses were reported.

In the air, U.S. pilots battled through packs of MIG interceptors and heavy flack Wednesday and bombed the key North Vietnamese port of Haiphong and other targets near Hanoi and the Red Chinese border, spokesmen said.

Near Hanoi, Maj. Donald M. Russell, 33, of Westbrook, Maine, spotted a MIG17 on a fellow Air Force pilot's tail. Russell swung in and fired his 20mm cannon.

"It was beautiful . . . he caught fire and spiraled to the ground," the major said.

It was the 85th MIG destroyed in the war by U.S. pilots.

U.S. spokesmen said a Navy A4 Skyhawk fell to ground fire while striking North Vietnam, the 706th American plane lost over the Communist country. Eight helicopters have been shot down over North Vietnam.

U.S. Air Force B52 Stratofortresses today pulverized at positions of some 30,000 North Vietnamese troops poised on the South Vietnamese border in front of embattled U.S. Marine forts.

The spokesmen said U.S. battle deaths last week amounted to 171, bringing the slain toll through Saturday to 13,907. Fighting since Sunday has pushed the figure to about 14,000.

The spokesmen also reported 977 Americans were wounded last week and two were listed as missing. This boosted war totals to 88,502 wounded and 784 missing.

U.S. officials said only about half the men wounded needed hospital treatment. They said 80 per cent returned to duty.

According to spokesmen, South Vietnamese troops suffered 163 men killed and 465 wounded last week. Other allied forces lost seven men killed and 20 wounded.

Nobel Committee Presents Prize For Literature

BULLETIN

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — The Royal Swedish Academy of Letters today awarded the 1967 Nobel Prize for literature to Guatemalan poet-diplomat Miguel Angel Asturias today—his 68th birthday.

The academy announced the "birthday present" award went to Asturias "for his highly colored writings rooted in a national individuality and Indian tradition."

Asturias, currently serving as his nation's envoy to France, is one of Latin America's best known poets, novelists and playwrights.

The award was the first to go to a Latin American writer since 1945 when Chilean poetess Gabriela Mistral was so honored.

Asturias, a lawyer-diplomat as well as a powerful writer, won Soviet Russia's Lenin Peace Prize in 1966 for his books dealing with social problems of mulatto and Indian peasants in his country.

He began publishing poems in several literary magazines in 1918 and won literary renown in Latin America in 1930 with "Leyendas de Guatemala (Legends of Guatemala)" in which he presented myths and legends.

Not until 1946, when he was 47, was his first novel published. The book, "El Senor President (Mr. President)," was hailed as a masterpiece. It was translated into 16 languages and marked the rise of its author as an internationally recognized novelist.

Asturias was tipped off in advance from Stockholm that he had won the prize and he posed for television cameramen and photographers in Paris two hours before the Stockholm committee was to have announced the prize.

Clerks to Don Old-Fashioned Attire During Celebration

Old fashioned clerks will be serving customers in Pampa stores during the 65th anniversary of the founding of Gray County Oct. 26, 27 and 28.

To mark the occasion the sales people in most stores will be attired in derbies, bonnets, frocktail coats, long dresses, and mustaches in the style of 65 years ago.

Prizes of $25, $15, and $10 in cash will be awarded for the best costumed store employes.

In connection with the anniversary, The Pampa Daily News will publish a 65th anniversary edition on Wednesday, Oct. 25 spotlighting 65 years of progress.

The Retail Trade Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring Old Fashioned Bargain Days on Oct. 26, 27 and 28 to coincide with the 65th anniversary issue of The Daily News.

Special anniversary advertisements will run in the Oct. 25 issue.

A parade at 10 a.m. Thursday Oct. 26, will feature old fashioned vehicles, with a cash prize of $50 going to the most outstanding vehicle and costumed occupants.

Old Fashioned bargains will be offered by merchants and some stores will feature antiques in their merchandise and special window displays.

W. C. Bass and Norman Fribler, co-chairmen of the Retail Trade Committee, said the 65th anniversary three-day event is expected to attract visitors from over Pampa's entire trade area.

Message Appears To Doom Chances For Viet Support

Aboard SS Independence (UPI)—A confidential White House radiogram that strayed into Republican hands threw the National Governors Conference into an uproar today and appeared to doom President Johnson's hopes of getting a Vietnam vote of confidence from the state executives.

Republicans used the wayward message to doom Johnson's hopes of getting a Vietnam vote of confidence from the state executives.

Republicans used the wayward message to charge the White House with "intervention" in the conference's affairs.

The radiogram, a private memo to the White House liaison man, Price Daniel, was mistakenly delivered to GOP Gov. Ronald Reagan. It was the prime topic of conversation as this 23,000-ton luxury liner prepared to dock at St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

The message was sent to Daniel by presidential aide W. Marvin Watson in an effort to help shipboard Democrats drum up Republican support for a resolution placing the National Governors Conference on record in support of the administration's war policy.

Reagan said the radiogram was delivered "evidently by mistake" to his stateroom. He said he gave the message to his staff, but then realized it was not for him.

Charge Executive Intervention

At a GOP caucus later in the day, Reagan mentioned seeing the cable. Gov. George Romney then suggested it be made public as evidence of White House intervention.

During the next few hours, the letter got a little circulation.

Daniel angrily told newsmen that if he had received "a message for Gov. Reagan or Gov. Romney, I certainly would have delivered it to them and not have made it public.

"I would not have stooped to this," Daniel said, adding that the memo was merely a

Tickets Avaliable For C of C Banquet

About 50 tickets are still available for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet scheduled for Oct. 24, according to E. O. Wedgeworth, manager.

The speaker at that banquet will be Dr. Charles Allen, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Houston. Dr. Allen is recognized as one of the nation's top after-dinner speakers.

VIETNAM PROTESTORS

Washington Prepares for Demonstrators

By United Press International

U.S. marshals began converging on Washington today to offer protection while the nation's capital geared for violence that Wednesday involved the same protest groups planning a Pentagon rally Saturday.

Anti-Vietnam and antidraft demonstrators clashed with club-wielding police Wednesday on the University of Wisconsin campus.

Before the melee was over, nearly 100 persons were injured, including 61 students and "dozens of policemen." Ten policemen were hospitalized and one student and a policeman were kept overnight for observation.

Police Lt. Donald Mickelson called the incident, "about as bad an uprising as you would want to see from a supposedly civilized bunch of people." He said police were hit with rocks, sticks and crude, homemade weapons.

About 3,000 protesters met on the campus later and planned more demonstrations today.

The demonstrators gathered on the campus at Madison, Wis., Wednesday to protest the appearance of interviewers from the Dow Chemical Co., which makes napalm bombs to be dropped in Vietnam.

The University of Wisconsin outbreak was the most violent of several demonstrations staged around the nation Wednesday in the third day of a week of planned demonstrations culminating in a gathering in Washington on Saturday.

Some Washington observers fear a clash Saturday when the 70,000 protestors expected by the National Mobilization Committee to end the War in Vietnam begin their march from the Lincoln Memorial to the Pentagon.

Pentagon officials offered to allow the demonstrators to camp on Pentagon grounds until Monday morning, but told them they would have to clear the area before the influx of the 27,000 employes.

Demonstration leaders have refused the offer and apparently still plan to form a buman barricade across the Pentagon entrance roads.

While Madison police were grappling with the 3,000 students demonstrating on the University of Wisconsin campus Oakland, Calif., police formed flying wedges to wade into 2,500 persons gathered at the induction center chanting antidraft and other slogans.

No arrests were made at Madison in lieu of school disciplinary action, but 88 were arrested in the Oakland disturbance. The Wednesday arrests in Oakland brought the three-day arrest total there to 235.

Some 300 persons gathered at the old capitol building in Iowa City, Iowa, Wednesday night and met a group of 50 counterdemonstrators. No incidents were reported.

Demonstrators picketed at three places in Chicago and fifty demonstrators marched in orderly fashion around the post office in Buffalo, N.Y. Ten burned draft cards.

United Fund Reaches 57% Of $82,000 Goal for 1967

The Pampa United Fund moved closer to its goal of $82,000 this week, with collections running $46,626.40 — 57 per cent of the goal.

Drive chairman David Tucker announced this morning at a report meeting in the Coronado Inn that the campaign would end the first week of November. Tucker said the campaign dates had been extended because some of the corporations would not be ready to turn in their contributions until that time.

Closing report meeting of the group has been set for Thursday, Nov. 2.

In the report meeting this morning the following committees reported the following percentages of their goals: Special Gifts, 53 per cent; General Solicitation, 73 per cent; Commercial and Industrial, 51 per cent; Public Employes, 74 per cent; Professional, 77 per cent; and National Firms, 34 per cent.

National Firms contributions are expected to increase substantially when the firms turn in their money the first week of November.

John McCausland's group six was the high percentage winner in J. C. Roberts' General Solicitation division for the second consecutive week. McCausland's group has collected 79 per cent of its goal. The group has three all-female teams captained by Mrs. Jack Miller, Mrs. Peggy Bonner, and Mrs. Fred Dunn, and two all-male teams captained by Kay Fancher and John McCausland.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"CBS Playhouse" presented a television triumph Tuesday, "Do not go Gentle into That Good Night," a drama of a man who is placed in a home for the elderly by his children but refuses to stay put and die.

As the star of Loring Mandel's original, uncompromising and beautiful 90-minute teleplay, Melvyn Douglas was not merely excellent, but wholly inspiring as he showed the evolution of a proud man from emotional defeat to dignified anger and a decision in favor of life.

He finally walks out of the series of old folks' homes he has been shunted off to, returns to his son's house and begins to set up shop as best he can in his lifelong profession of cabinet-making. If the family is unhappy——tough. It will have to learn to get used to him anew. If he leaves this world, he's going out like a man——a whole man, in the real world. When his 45 year-old son asks when he can finally take control of the household, the old man answers: "When you can wrestle it away from me."

No Interruptions

The play had a sustained building power, and both the writer and the audience benefitted greatly from the enlightened advertising approach of the sponsor, General Telephone and Electronics Corp., which allowed the production to go straight through without a single commercial break. There were ads at the beginning and end.

A word or two should also be said for CBS-TV, which had the gumption to go against television's youth craze, and to present a serious play about a serious problem, a drama that began in a manner that might have depressed some viewers into tuning out.

We had, to start, the painful recognition of how a family often acts when it is sending a parent out to pasture. The old man hadn't been the same since his wife died. Hard to get along with. Gets in the way. Trouble with the kids. Etc., etc., etc. everything but the cure of simple, plain, unadulterated love and respect.

View Death House

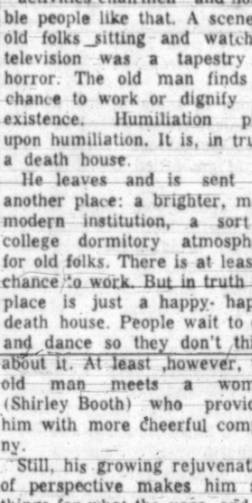

The old man's terrible odyssey starts at his first "home" away from home: A place of bright-eyed, coldly informal "activities chairmen" and horrible people like that. A scene of old folks sitting and watching television was a tapestry of horror. The old man finds no chance to work or dignify his existence. Humiliation piles upon humiliation. It is, in truth, a death house.

He leaves and is sent to another place: a brighter, more modern institution, a sort of college dormitory atmosphere for old folks. There is at least a chance to work. But in truth the place is just a happy-happy death house. People wait to die and dance so they don't think about it. At least, however, the old man meets a woman (Shirley Booth) who provides him with more cheerful company.

Still, his growing rejuvenation of perspective makes him see things for what the yare, and he rebels at the basic impersonal atmosphere that deprives human beings of human ties—real ones. It is this that prompts his return home—his renewal of life. And his showdown scene with his family was a tonic for the soul. It was directed splendidly, as was the whole show, by George Schaefer, a hard man to beat.

Pampa Student Inducted Into Ross Volunteers

COLLEGE STATION — Stephen B. Maddox of Pampa has been inducted into the Ross Volunteers, 80-year-old honor military unit at Texas A&M University.

The elite organization was first formed as an honor guard for one of A&M's early presidents, former Texas Gov. Lawrence S. Ross.

The Ross Volunteers form honor guards for dignitaries visiting A&M, for the inauguration of Texas' governor and represents the university at numerous events off campus. Last year, the junior and senior cadet company marched at the Mardi Gras in New Orleans and the Cotton Bowl Parade in Dallas.

Membership is contingent upon a "B" or higher grade average and candidacy for an Army or Air Force commission upon graduation. RV Commander Francis J. Bourgeois of New Braunfels, President Earl Rudder and Dean of Students James P. Hannigan participated in initiation ceremonies of 76 juniors into the RVs.

Pep Rally Held At White Deer

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — A downtown pep rally was held at 3 p.m. Friday around the deer at the main intersection in White Deer. The pep rally, a yearly tradition of the White Deer High School, is held in order to promote school and community spirit for the first conference game of the season, which was held Friday with Sunray.

Led by the five cheer leaders, senior head leader, Carolyn Chaney; senior Becky McBrayer; junior, Donna Huckins; sophomore, Kathy Kelp and freshman, Jan Wheeley, the Buck band, faculty and student body marched the five blocks from the high school to the site of the pep rally. All down town merchants took an active part also, as each one stood in front of their store to cheer with others.

An added attraction was two yells led by senior football players, Mike O'Keefe, Wayne Burgin, Mike Hawpe, Jerry Grange, Jimmy Ryals, and Jese Martinez. A skit, "Bad Luck," was presented by the cheerleaders in which they all displayed examples of Friday 13th bad luck.

The group then assembled and sang the school song before marching back to the school.

WRECK KILLS DRIVER

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UPI) — An auto veered off Texas Highway 347 south of Beaumont early today and hit an overpass support, killing the driver, Charles Edgar Waggoner, 57, of Beaumont. He was alone in the auto.

'Sanity' Hearing Continues Today

LIPSCOMB — The bank robbery trial of Ernest (Rusty) Huff did not resume until 10:30 a.m. today with defense attorney John Warner trying to convince the jury Huff is not of sound mind.

In testimony Wednesday Warner continued along the same lines as Tuesday when he presented testimony as to the sanity of Huff.

Warner introduced witnesses and medical reports which portrayed Huff as suffering from mental instability which may have caused him to drink, fight, attempt suicide, have hallucinary talks with a toothless old woman, hate his parents, take dope, have fits of violence and depression and finally seek treatment.

Evidence showed Huff was admitted to the state hospital in Wichita Falls in December of 1960 and was dismissed a month later as "Unimproved."

The defendant's wife, Wanda, testified her husband threatened to kill her if she surrendered to officers who had them surrounded on the Earl Lesley Ranch, 12 miles north of Miami shortly after the robbery of the First State Bank there.

Economy

provided for Vietnam warcosts and some other exigencies.

The effect would be to force a spending cut that could not be calculated precisely but that was estimated at around $10 billion. The aim was to help reduce a prospective deficit of $29 billion.

Rebellious House members rejected a milder economy plan offered by Mahon's Appropriations Committee. They tacked the tight spending limit on a so-called "continuing resolution," providing temporary financing for agencies whose regular budgets have not yet been approved by Congress.

Mahon expressed dismay at the House action, which he termed an abdication of Congress' power over the government purse. "We are just passing the buck to the President," he told reporters.

Under the plan approved by the House, new Great Society programs like school aid, rent supplements, the teacher corps, and model cities would be especially hard hit, since their budgets had been due for a big boost this year. Also specifically targeted for cuts by the House were foreign aid and the antipoverty war.

Students to Name Miss Flame of PHS

Miss Flame of Pampa High School will be introduced during the traditional Sammie Sandie bonfire and pep rally at 7 p.m. today at PHS Harvester practice field.

Candidates Cindy Bennett, Vickie Martin, Pam Martin, Angela Cunningham, Ann Johnson and Martha Myatt were voted on by the PHS student body.

$1,000 Bond Set

Bond of $1,000 was set by Justice of Peace Ed Anderson Wednesday for Marvin Dearl Sorrels, 20, of 619 N. Cuyler.

Sorrels was charged by Mrs. Henry L. Johnson, 902 S. Clark, with destruction of property.

Knife and Fork Meets Tonight

The Daily News erroneously carried a story yesterday that the Top O' Texas Knife and Fork Club would have its first fall meeting at 7:30 last night in the Starlight Room on the Coronado Inn.

That meeting is scheduled for tonight. The News apologizes for the error.

Dr. W. C. Newberry, a teacher from Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos, will be the guest speaker.

Billed as an educator with a sense of values and a sense of humor, Dr. Newberry will speak on "The Hilarious Education of an American," an address which stresses both the practical and humorous events in bringing "Johnny and Mary" from kindergarten through high school and times beyond.

Dr. Newberry, 34 years old and with 13 years of teaching experience, received his Ph.D. in Educational Administration from the University of Texas.

He will be introduced by District Attorney Bill Waters. The invocation will be given by Travis Lively, and dinner music will be provided by Sue Higdon.

4-H Automotive Course to Start

A 4-H Automotive Course will start at the Agricultural Office Building at 7:30 p.m. today. The course will last about an hour and will be held weekly for eight to 10 weeks.

A. H. Roberts, credit manager for Firestone, is instructor.

The course is designed to help young people who will soon be part of the motoring public learn more about car maintenance and safety.

Topics to be covered range from car costs and keeping records to the simple principles of the internal combustion engine. Also featured will be a film on "How A Tire Is Constructed", and a narration and film on "Highway Safety" presented by a highway patrolman.

Both members and their parents are invited to attend.

Governors

chronology sent at his request in response to requests from some Democratic governors pressing for a resolution of support for the war.

The message, which was released after GOP leaders voted to block consideration of the Vietnam resolution, gave a lengthy chronology of governors "support for United States commitment in Vietnam."

Notes Rhodes Support

It pointed out that Ohio's Republican Govt. James A. Rhodes offered a Vietnam resolution in March 1966, and "supported governors resolution of July 4, 1966, and reaffirmed this position at the White House on March 18, 1967."

The message added that Rhodes "did all of this on his own, without prompting from anyone" and should be asked "whether he is now running out on his former position."

Rhodes, a longtime hawk on the Vietnam issue, led Republicans favoring another endorsement on Vietnam. But exposure of Watson's radiogram left him with little support in Wednesday's GOP caucus.

Rhodes, when asked about Watson's message, said "I'm consistent." He said with 525,000 U.S. troops in Vietnam, "I have to stand in back of them" and promised to vote for the Democratic resolution.

GOP sources said in light of Watson's message, there was little likelihood that the Democrats would get the 11 needed votes from the Republicans to pass the resolution.

Asian Flu Expected To Reach Epidemic Stage

By CAROLYN LINDEN

ATLANTA (UPI)—Asian flu will reach epidemic proportions in areas along the East Coast this year, but the U.S. Communicable Disease Center says it is not expected to be a country-wide threat.

"Even though we're expecting an increase of substantial proportions this season, it won't be a major influenza year," said Dr. Bruce Dull, assistant director of the center.

Dull predicted the disease, which claimed over 70,000 lives in 1963, would strike hardest in the Northeast, "particularly the large metropolitan areas such as New York and Philadelphia," with a peak level in early February.

The center says this year's outbreak, which is expected to be the biggest since 1963, will affect "substantial numbers" in the East because of an increase in the general level of susceptibility in the area.

The center reports each year on the incidence and probability of the flu, which takes its largest toll among the elderly and those with chronic illnesses.

This month, persons in high-risk categories who have not been vaccinated since 1963 were urged to take shots to guard against the disease. Officials stressed the vaccine is "not currently indicated for all individuals, but should be given to persons in groups known to experience high mortality from epidemic influenza."

Groups advised to receive immunization are:

—Chronically ill persons with ailments including cardiovascular diseases such as rheumatic heart disease and hypertension; pulmonary maladies including asthma, bronchitis, and tuberculosis; renal disease such as chronic kidney infections; metabolic illnesses such as diabetes, and Addison's Disease.

Persons over 45 years of age "and more notably over 65."

—Persons in institutions such as nursing homes, chronic disease hospitals and comparable environments "should be considered particular risks."

KILLED IN ACCIDENT

EVADALE, Tex. (UPI)—Glen Patrick, 25, of Buna, Tex. was killed Tuesday when a three-foot wide steel railroad tank car cover, blown loose by an explosion in the car, struck him in the head.

Foreign News Commentary

By ARIO KONOSHIMA

LONDON (UPI) — British trade sources here feel that the strength of Hong Kong during the current troubles with the Communists still lies in its economic importance to China.

Red activities in Hong Kong are clearly related to the internal struggle on the Chinese mainland, but no one can say with any certainty to what extent they may be directed from Peking, the sources said.

The feeling expressed by the Hong Kong Association (of British firms trading with the colony) in an information bulletin is that "a considered formulation of foreign policy is not at present practicable in Peking who are trying to keep reacting to events rather than initiating them."

No Notable Support

As for the colony's importance to the China mainland, the sources said China's outstanding commitments for the purchase of wheat and fertilizers alone must be at least $420 million.

These commitments could not be honored without the revenue derived from trade with Hong Kong. The sources found it hard to believe that officials in Peking who are tryingt o keep the Chinese economy on even keel would not make every effort to minimize the disruption in the colony.

The sources said Hong Kong leftists are no longer confident of receiving effective support from the China mainland because they have been unable to muster any notable support from the people of the colony.

Problems not Severe

Industrial production, reflected by the growth of the colony's exports, have not been disrupted, the information bulletin added.

Shipping problems exist because some owners are reluctant to send Chinese crews to mainland ports. The Communist Chinese stated recently that the colony can not be used as a transshipment port for cargoes to and from the mainland.

This has resulted in som eloss to the Hong Kong shipping industry, but the colony's port otherwise is functioning normally.

During the early weeks of the disturbances, there were heavy withdrawals from Hong Kong banks and a large increase in the issue of notes, but the actual flight of capital seem sto have been very small.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Thomson & McKinnon says uncertainty over the proposed income tax surcharge dominates the stock market, with speculative interest high in many special situations. It says "fair support" should exist around the 900 level of the Dow Jones industrial index, with no serious penetration of the area likely at the present time.

Eache & Co. says the market probably will seek a "bottoming out area" where it can hold, pending Washington developments. The analyst says it would confine any buying program to quality issues with reasonable price-earnings multiples.

The Wiesenberger investment report sayst hat barring some development to change investor psychology, wide swinging markets probably will continue for the time being. In view of this condition, the company advises investors to follow a cautious policy.

RETIRED JUDGE DIES

LUBBOCK (UPI) — Retired Dist. Judge E. A. Bills, 82, of Littlefield, Tex., died Tuesday in a Lubbock Hospital.

Bills, who had lived in Littlefield the past 43 years, was judge of the 157th District Court for 13 years until he retired in January, 1963.

TEACHER FOUND SHOT

LAKE JACKSON, Tex. (UPI) —A teacher was found shot to death at her home Tuesday night and Judge R. C. Thomas ruled the death a suicide. The victim was Karen Kay Mofield, 23, who taught at a junior high school and who friends said had been depressed.

COOK'S TOUR

By JEANNE JESEM
UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A cook with a large budget and an aversion to pot washing can prepare complete meals these days using only canned fancy foods — many of which can be heated in their containers.

A substantial number of canned main dishes and desserts designed for oven cooking were shown at the 13th annual National Fancy Food and Confection show. The trade show gave an estimated 5,630 buyers from department and food stores a chance to see and taste new products from the U.S. and abroad as well as foreign products being introduced in the United States.

New main courses in bake-and-serve cans included Irish stew and mushroom pie in puff pastry; Spanish paella, a rice and seafood casserole; Spanish tuna casserole with potatoes, olive oil, pepper, garlic and tomatoes; meat pies in short pastry with fillings of beefsteak and onion, curried beefsteak and kidneys.

Desserts on display included ready-to-serve puddings that unmold like gelatine. Some are packed with their own sauce or fruit topping.

New canned brown-and-serve pies in short pastry came in four flavors — apple, cherry, blackcurrant and apple-blackberry. Canned ready-to-eat cakes, some baked, some steamed, included macadamia nut-pineapple, walnut plum, Texas pecan with cherries, southern pecan with dates, and sour cream pound cake with chocolate chips. All those tasted had a dense, moist texture somewhat like steamed pudding.

Imported main dishes featuring game included Spanish stewed partridge and quail in vinegar; French guinea fowl in truffle sauce and pigeon en gelee. New Zealand venison casserole and abalone in soy sauce.

Unusual new canned soups included German-made oxtail soup made with tropical marine animals much esteemed as food in the Orient, especially in China and the Philippines. New also was sea scallop bisque flavored with mushrooms and sauternes wine and, from the same manufacturer, a sweet and sour meat sauce with 25 ingredients.

More and more sauces are flavored with alcoholic beverages — including ham sauce with Pimento Dram liqueur and rum, plum conserve with creme de menthe, apricot conserve with orange-flavored liqueur, tomato conserve with burgundy, candied brandy-mint walnuts and crystallized ginger in three different sauces —chartreuse, orange and rum and lemon and brandy.

Snack goods get spicier and spicier. New ones included filberts, or hazelnuts, with various seasonings—smoked, mint-toasted, cinnamon-toasted, barbecued and French toasted; sweet banana chips made like potato chips but sugared instead of salted; curried peanuts; cheddar-flavored cashews; bread sticks in garlic and pizza flavors; cheese snacks in barbecue, chive, curry and celery flavors; and fish-flavored spreads — anchovy-olive, beef-anchovy, sardineanchovy and kippered.

Try Low-Calorie Topping

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Every little calorie counts, remember. So wherever possible, use a lower-calorie form of your favorite dessert topping. Do this often enough and you'll be pleased with what the bathroom scales report.

As to dessert, here's a really pleasant fruit dessert with October colors. The topping used has just 7 calories in each level tablespoon.

CRANBERRY PEAR TAPIOCA

¼ cup quick-cooking tapioca
3 to 4 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
Dash of cloves
1 bottle (1 pt.) cranberry-juice cocktail
1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) pear halves, drained and sliced
Prepared low calorie whipped topping

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, cloves and cranberry juice cocktail in saucepan; mix well. Let stand 5 minutes. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat. Cool, stirring in sliced pears after 20 minutes. Chill. Serve with whipped topping. Makes 3 2-3 cups or 6 or 7 servings.

FRUIT GRACES tapioca dessert.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Weekend food shoppers can replenish their stores from ample displays of meat and poultry and fruits and vegetables.

At fresh produce counters in most areas cabbage, lettuce, onions, and potatoes should be abundantly available. In some areas, cauliflower, squash, and sweet potatoes should also be in that category.

Apples are also in excellent supply and so are grapes.

Broiler-fryer chickens continue to be good sources of economical protein while ample supplies of beef roasts and steaks, and bacon and ham should make food shopping relatively easy.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20

GENERAL TENDENCIES — If you make sure you are not deceived about some financial matter that cost you a considerable amount, you are under excellent aspects for whatever has to do with going steadily forward to the security of a practical nature that is so vital to the feeling you are getting ahead. Be a stickler for detail.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Ideal day to take care of monetary affairs personally, so don't rely on others so much and all is fine. Operate on a more practical basis. You can have real security in the future by careful thinking.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Be very friendly with those in financial circles and you get right results. You don't ask a partner or this could ruin your day. Show appreciation for higher-ups by appreciative of the fine pay or profits you make.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Anything of a confidential nature can be taken care of by you with excellent results following. Don't permit that counterpart to force you into doing things the way he or she wants. Do not overwork and get sick.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22) —A close tie gives you fine advice that you should follow. But do not go off on any tangents later. Avoid taking chances that could be very costly. Stick to whatever is proven and gives real pleasure in it.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23) — Get away from home early where there is bound to be friction and get into the world of activity where you have much to do, accomplish. Show you are a good citizen. Get the approval and backing of a higher-up.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 23) — Listen to the voice of your intuition and envision far greater success for yourself in chosen field. Get the ideas to achieve it. Follow that fine, intellectual plan. This is ideal for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — You need to confer with others for the good suggestions that help you with your monetary and intimate matters. Your own intuitive faculties are not working as accurately as theirs right now. Nor are you thinking as clearly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 23) — Lean on your associates for the ideas and backing you require to make your affairs work more beautifully together. Many situations break into the open that you do not like at first. But these are stepping-stones to something fine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Get busy at the work ahead of you. Don't feel that others are imposing on you and you can have one of the most productive days in a long time. Take more pains with your health. Be energetic. Take exercise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) —Avoid that one person who makes your life difficult for you and be with closest tie at some form of recreation you both like. Carry through with any creative ideas you have. Try not to be off-color, especially if you are an artist.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) —Taking time to show devotion to kin pays off nicely and be sure you don't go off into some outlet about which they have qualms but be sure to complete fundamental affairs. Then you are successful in the world of activity.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Your best bet is in handling routine work now. Forget about going on some distant tan-

Make Tasty Pudding With Seasonal Pears

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutritian Editor

You can still find good pears in the market. Enjoy them while they last.

BAKED PEARS, COUNTRY CLUB STYLE

3 large fresh pears
3 tablespoons light brown sugar
¾ teaspoon grated fresh lemon peel
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
3 tablespoons chopped walnuts
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ cup water
½ fresh lemon, sliced

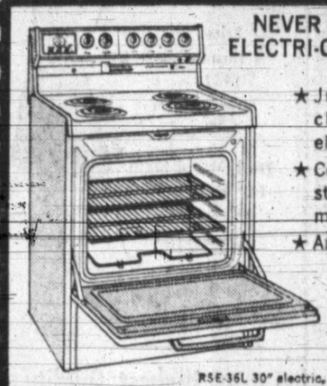

Wash, halve, peel and core pears. Arrange pear halves in shallow baking dish, cut side up. Fill centers with brown sugar combined with lemon peel, ginger and nuts. Dot each with butter, using ½-teaspoon for each half. Pour water into bottom of pan. Add lemon slices. Cover and bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 to 35 minutes or until tender. Serve with pan juices spooned over pears. Six servings.

FRESH PEAR PUDDING

6 fresh pears
2-3 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground mace
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 eggs
2 cups milk

Pare and core pears. Place in 1-quart casserole. Fill centers with sugar, saving ¼ cup for custard. Combine the ¼ cup sugar, salt, mace and cornstarch. Beat in eggs. Mix in ¼ cup cold milk. Heat remaining milk, add and pour over pears. Bake 1½ hours or until knife inserted in custard comes out clean and pears are tender, in preheated slow oven (325 degrees.) Six servings.

B&PW Club Honors Mrs. D. B. Hutchens

Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club has selected Mrs. D. B. Hutchens as the honoree for today. The club is honoring several Pampa women during national Business Women's Week, which ends Friday.

Activities for this week include a party for Senior Citizens in Lovett Memorial Library today, and a coffee Friday at 7 p.m. in Faye Eaton's home.

Other events were radio program appearances, a luncheon, a covered dish dinner, a breakfast and a Sunday church service as a group.

Mrs. Hutchens is a native Texan She was born near Fluwanna on the family farm, where her parents still live. She says her education was interrupted while still in high school when she met Don Hutchens. They eloped and were married when she was only 16 years old.

They have two children, Mrs. Eugene Turner, Pampa, and John T. (Tollie) Hutchens, New Orleans, La. and five grandchildren. The Hutchens moved to Pampa in 1936.

Mrs. Hutchens went to work for Bentley's Ladies Shop in 1945, and has been store manager since 1950.

She says she has little time for hobbys but reads and sews for her grandchildren.

Mrs. Hutchens is a member of Mary Ellen Church of Christ and a former member of the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club. She served as treasurer for the B&PW Club and attended the national B&PW Convention in Miami Beach, Fla. She is also a Dale Carnegie graduate.

Wanda Mae Huff, Women's Editor

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old, and a freshman at college. When I was packing to come here I came across a newspaper clipping from several years back, which I had cut out of your column one day to remind me of what my parents really meant to me. I have read and reread this article and I hope you will reprint it so other young people will stop and THINK. Thank you.

GRATEFUL

"DEAR ABBY: I am the most heartbroken person in the world. I always found time to go everywhere else but to see my old gray-haired parents. They sat at home loving me just the same.

It is too late now to give them those few hours of happiness I was too selfish and busy to give, and now, when I go to visit their graves and look at the green grass above them, I wonder if God will ever forgive me for the heartaches I must have caused them.

I pray that you will print this, Abby, to tell those who still have their parents to visit them, and show their love and respect while there is still time. For it is later than you think.

TOO LATE

DEAR ABBY: I am the father of a 10-month-old son whom I frequently take for walks in his stroller. He shows an interest in many things, but he shows particular interest in women. In fact, he only smiles for the ladies. Do you think this could have a special meaning? What's the explanation?

WORRIED FATHER

DEAR FATHER: The boy could be attracted to the more colorful clothing worn by women. Or he could be a chip off the old block!

DEAR ABBY: I am furious over an incident and would like to know what you think of it.

My husband and I went out for dinner last week, and quite by accident we met some friends who asked us to join them. (When I say "friends," I use the term loosely.) I'll call the man "John."

When the check came, my husband asked for separate checks, but John insisted that we could settle up later. Then John's wife made a quick remark that we should let John pick up the check so he could put it on his expense account.

Now, my husband received a call from John asking for our share in CASH! My husband says it's no skin off our noses, that we had intended to pay our own share, anyway, so what's the difference who gets the money?

I say, why should John turn in our bill as a company expense, be reimbursed for it, and put our cash in his pocket? What do you say, Abby!

FURIOUS

DEAR FURIOUS: I say that if your husband knowingly helps "John" to skin his company, it's plenty of skin off your noses. Write these people off as "friends" to dine with, if indeed, to have as friends at all.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

LVN's to Attend State Convention

Three Pampa Licensed Vocational nurses will attend the 15th annual state LVN association convention in Houston today through Sunday.

Delegates are Mrs. Blanche Lyons, Mrs. Elmo Hudgins, and Mrs. R. F. Utzman.

The meeting will include representatives in the fields of nursing, education and business.

Conference theme, "Expanding role of the LVN, Challenging, Progressing and Improving," will be the topic of Levi V. Perry, M.D. of Houston, the keynote speaker.

Other speakers will lecture on subjects related to education and the future of the LVN. More than 500 participants are expected for the four-day conference.

LVN Association members include licensed vocational nurses and provisional members who are students in Texas LVN Schools.

Pampans Attend District Workshop Of P-TA Members

About 30 Pampans are attending the district 19 workshop of Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers in Gruver today to study a program on "P-TA and Changing Communities."

Keynote speaker, Mrs. W. S. Edwards, is assistant professor Department of Home and Family Life, School of Economics, Texas Technological College, and has been named in "Who's Who In American Women."

Clede Moore of Borger, workshop chairman, introduced the workshop evaluation student panel, which includes Terry Johnson, Gruver; Gary Patton, Panhandle; Allen Lamb, Wheeler; Billy Bob Walker, Childress and Teresa Brock, Borger.

Judge Guy Hazlett, Judge of the Hutchinson County Domestic Relations Court, will speak on "Parents and Youth in the Community."

Mrs. Buran Pruitt, Borger is president of district 19, and will preside in the all-day workshop, which includes flag ceremonies, a music program, two films, one on the 1967 state seminar, and one from Texas State Teachers Association.

Illuminated gowns are making headlines and fashion designers like Tiger Morse and Diana Dew continue to experiment with electro-luminescent materials, neon lighting and black light for the new lit-up effect. Working closely with designers such as these, battery engineers are "turning on" the fashion field with special power-packs which can be worn comfortably with the light-up dresses, furs, bathing suits, jewels, shoes.

IN NORTH ZONE

Hollar Tops Sandie Squad

By RON CROSS

Passing and kicking appear to be the Pampa strong points and the Harvesters lead the North zone in both departments after one league game.

However, Amarillo players, whom the Harvesters meet in a North zone clash Friday night in Harvester Field, lead in just about everything else.

Steve Summers, who has played maybe three full quarters all season, and a good nine minutes last week, leads the zone in passing completions and passing yardage while Pampa kickers Larry Elledge leads the zone in punting.

LARRY ELLEDGE

STEVE SUMMERS

Summers connected on seven of 13 attempts last week for a total of 92 yards. He had two of the aerials intercepted. His closest competition comes from Amarillo quarterback Dick Graham who hit five of 12 against Borger for 83 yards and three touchdowns.

Punting-wise Elledge kicked six times for 270 yards, an average of 45 yards per kick. His nearest competition comes from Mike Dalrymple of the Sandies who has kicked five times for 196 yards, an average of 39 yards per boot.

The Sandies lead in total offense with 323 yards rusing last week and 83 passing for a total of 406. Next is Monterey who ran up 217 yards on the ground and 96 passing on Pampa for a total of 313.

Pampa, believe it or not, is not last. The Harvesters have 169 total yards while Amarillo limited Borger to 111 on the ground and 15 through the air for a total of 126.

Defensively the Sandies are the toughest also. Amarillo's limiting of Borger to 126 yards, places them above Monterey's 169 limitation of Pampa. The Harvesters are third with 313, and Borger last with 406.

Scatback Harmon Hollar carried 13 times for 124 yards against Borger last week and lost six yards for a net of 118 to take the rushing lead over Greg Cassel of Monterey, who carried twice for 75 yards.

Pampa's Dwight Rogers is third with 74 yards on seven carries while Doug Robbins of Amarillo is next with 72 yards on 12 carries.

The total offense leader comes from Monterey in the form of Bobby Lewis who rushed for 69 yards and passed for 70 more against Pampa for a total of 139.

He leads Amarillo's Graham and Hollard. Graham has 120 total yards, 37 rushing and 83 passing while Hollard has 118 rushing and none passing. Rogers is fourth with his 74 running and four more passing for a net of 78 yards.

Homer May of Monterey leads pass receivers with one catch for 61 yards and a touchdown, while Pampa's Wayne Williams is second and the Harvesters Jay Johnson is third. Williams has two catches for 49 yards and Johnson three catches for 36 yards.

Scoring-wise, something Pampa hasn't done in two games, Chris Barnard of Monterey and Hollar and Robbins of Amarillo are tied for first with two touchdowns each.

In the District as a whole, Amarillo's 406 total yards leads the way with Coronado second with 374 yards while Palo Duro leads the defensive chart, despite a 7-6 loss. The Dons gave up just 66 total offensive yards with Amarillo second with 126.

Summers seven of 13 on passing leads the entire district with Elledge second in punting trailing Plainview's Tommy McBee who kicked twice for 97 yards last week, an average of 48.5 yardage while the Pampa kickers is averaging 45 yards per boot.

Canadian, Bucks Game Tops List For ToT Area

Top O' Texas area football teams start the second week of conference football games Friday with only Lefors and Groom battling non-league foes.

The No. 1 game on the Friday night card pitts Canadian against White Deer on the Bucks home turf in what should be District 1-A's thriller of the year.

Canadian (4-2) was the preseason choice to snap White Deer's (5-1) hold on the 1-A throne.

The 'Cats have shown they are capable of doing so having blanked four of six opponents. Only Booker of Class B and Clarendon of District 2-A have stopped Canadian. Last week Clarendon broke the 'Cats four game winning streak but Canadian might have been looking ahead to this week.

White Deer is as tough as ever with the only loss an upset 10-8 to Claude in which the Bucks leading scorer and ground gainer John Paul Guinn was injured.

But White Deer has come back strong to bowl over two straight foes with Guinn's replacement, Lonnie Lane and quarterback Stan Bush spearheading the attack.

Bush is the area's leading scorer with 42 points having passed Canadian's Johnny Curtis who has 36.

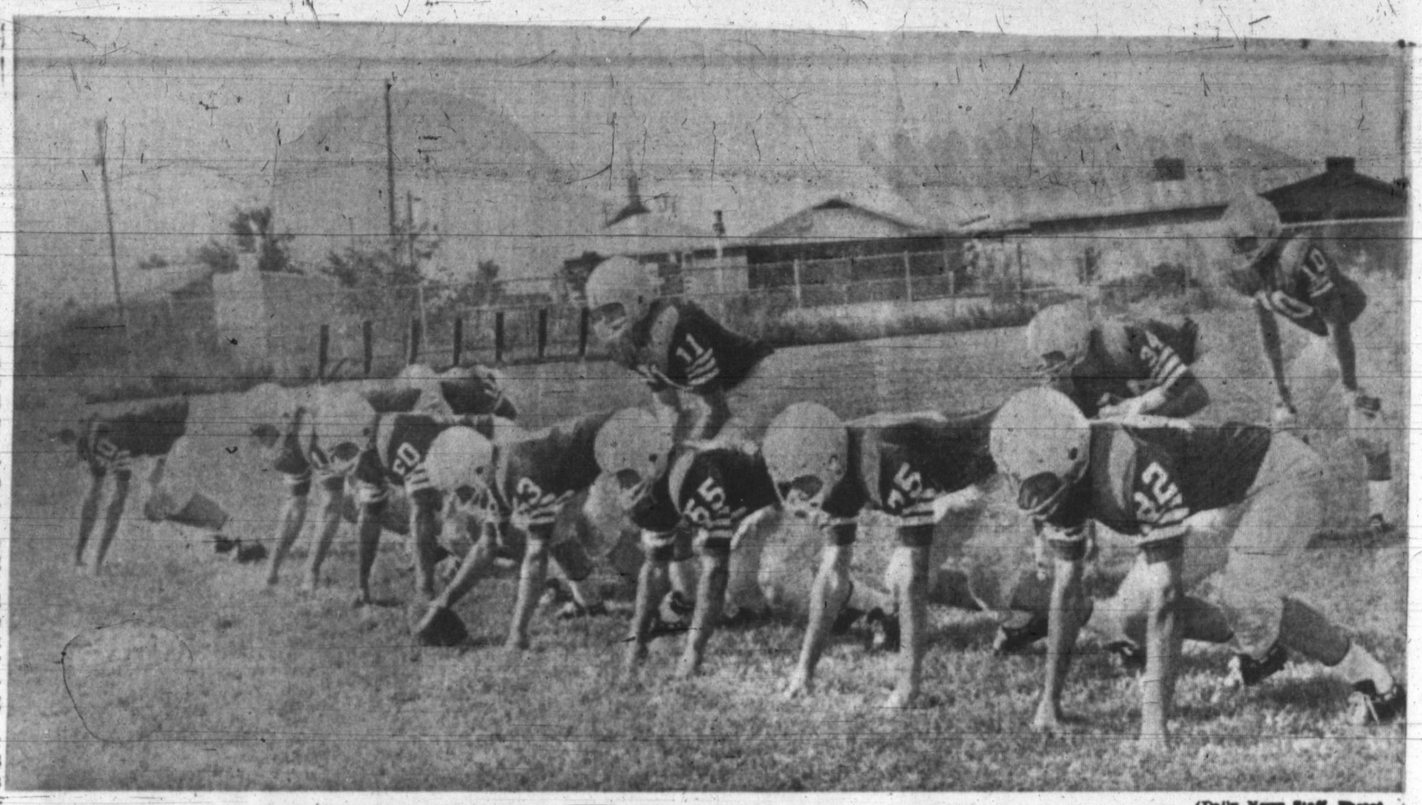

In District 2-A McLean (3-3) will try to stay atop the district standings and repeat their 8-0 upset of Claude last week when they host Clarendon, picked by many as the heir apparent to the 2-A crown.

Wheeler (4-2) will also try to stay in a tie with the Tigers when the Mustangs go to Claude in what might be a do or die game for both teams.

Miami (0-5) and idle last week goes back to the eight-man wars by hosting Guthrie in a Class 5-B district battle.

Lefors (1-5) who broke a five-game losing streak last week will try to keep on the win side when Class A Vega comes to town for a Friday night encounter.

Groom (0-6) continues to play Class A clubs and picks on a tough one this week, going to Silverton (4-2) for a non-league contest.

HOW THEY'LL LINE UP for the Friday night White Deer-Canadian game at White Deer shows the White Deer offense at top and the Canadian offense and defense at bottom. The two grid teams meet in an important District 1-A game with the winner expected to represent the district in regional competition.

Ryder Cup Play Opens

HOUSTON (UPI)—David Thomas, a key veteran member of the British Ryder Cup team, can't sit for long without a chronic back ailment flaring up and bothering his golf game.

It appeared today on the eve of the 17th renewal of the U.S.-British links feud that the 16-hour plane voyage Thomas and his teammates took Sunday to reach Houston may prove a costly experience. Sixteen hours is a long time to sit.

Dai Rees, the non-playing captain of the British team, disclosed Wednesday night that he was seriously concerned with Thomas' physical condition and his chances of playing the three-day competition starting Friday over the 7,166-yard, par 36-35—71 Champions Golf Club course.

"Davie is going to try and play a practice round again (Thursday) morning and I am going to eave it up to him to tell me whether or not he is fit," Rees said.

"If he can't play, it is going to put the onus on the other nine members of the team. It would mean that we would have only one man for relief duty and that several lads will have to play all six matches."

League Owners Say Okay To Finley Move to Coast

CHICAGO (UPI)—Charles O. Finley's dream of shifting the Kansas City Athletics to Oakland, Calif., was a reality today together with an American League decision to install new teams in both Seattle, Wash., and Kansas City no later than 1971 for a 12-team circuit.

The surprise decision, predicted by United Press International Sept. 27, came in a nearly 12-hour session in which representatives of Oakland, Dallas-Fort Worth, Kansas City and Seattle appeared to seek major league recognition.

Approval of Finley's plan to get out of Kansas City had been anticipated. The meeting was called as a result of his petition, supported by both Minnesota and Chicago.

Second Appeal

It was the second time Finley has sought permission to move the Athletics, which he bought from the Arnold Johnson estate in 1960. He was turned down in his earlier application to move to Louisville, Ky., with only his own vote in favor of the proposal.

Oakland, represented by Robert Nahas of the coliseum commission made a presentation of more than an hour on the city's stadium facilities, population projections and economic facts. Kansas City took nearly as long to point out its interest in baseball and its desire to continue as a major league member.

LOSS HARD TO TAKE

Leinert Mulls Over Tech Woes

LUBBOC K(UPI) —Mike Leinert sat on his dormitory bed Tuesday, and the haunting memory of last Saturday night was still there.

"Losing the way we did, it hurt. It really did," the Texas Tech halfback said of the Red Raiders' last-second 28-24 Southwest Conference football loss to Texas A&M.

"I still think we will go to the Cotton Bowl. It's just a question now of whether we can bounce back and pull our guts together."

It was the senior from Houston Milby who was demoralized probably as much as anybody by the defeat. He had burst through the Aggie line 4 times for 117 yards, and his two third-quarter touchdowns had recharged a groggy Tech offense and apparently ignited them to victory.

Consequently, while thoughts of the defeat lingered on, coach J.T. King found solace in Leinert's performance.

"Possibly Leinert was at his all-time best Saturday night," King reflected Tuesday, "even though he did not get the sensational long run."

The long breakaway run has eluded Leinert the past two years. In 1965, his sophomore year, Leinert frequently was mistaken by stadium fans and public address announcers for teammate Donny Anderson because of his reckless running style.

He leaped and he darted, and he made the crucial cut freeing him for an occasional breakaway run. But he also fumbled every now and then—too often to suit King—and Leinert was asked to lean over the ball more and keep both hands on the ball in heavy traffic.

"When I did that, I lost some of my agility, and I still don't feel like I'm running worth a dern," Leinert said. "I don't know what it is exactly, but I think I'm too conscious of holding onto the ball. I don't know, if I just go back to my old style, it might make the difference."

He credited his big rushing total Saturday to superior blocking by the Tech offensive line, and not especially to any improved running on his part.

"When you get holes like that, you can't help but make yardage," he said. "Those linemen are our bread and butter. If they do good, we do good, except they don't get as much recognition for it."

BIG PAYOFF

SAN MATEO, Calif. (UPI)—Antonio's Pet ($44.60) and Happy Joy ($73.40) combined for a $1,530.80 daily double at Bay Meadows Tuesday, the largest double payoff of the fall meet.

Thirty five winning tickets were sold on the winning combination.

Wilt, Robertson Not in Good Shape But Good Enough

By United Press International

Don't tell the Los Angeles Lakers and the San Francisco Warriors that superstars Wilt Chamberlain and Oscar Robertson are out of shape because they held out for higher salary during the exhibition season.

Chamberlain, who played only 36 minutes of the Philadelphia 76ers last pre-season game last week, hasn't regained his scoring touch but pulled down 30 rebounds in helping the defending National Basketball Association champions open with a 103-87 victory over the Lakers.

Robertson, who missed the entire exhibition campaign, poured in 41 points in leading the Cincinnati Royals to a 122-118 triumph over the Warriors. Jack Marin's 24 points and rookie Earl Monroe's 22 paced the Baltimore Bullets to a 121-98 rout of the New York Knickerbockers in the only other NBA game Wednesday night.

In the American Basketball Association's lone game, Fred Lewis, who jumped from Cincinnati of the NBA, scored 23 points in giving the Indiana Pacers their second straight victory, 106-103 over the Anaheim Amigos.

Billy Cunningham tallied 20 points, Wally Jones 15 and Chamberlain 11 as the 76ers opened at the new Spectrum in Phiadelphia by running up a 46-35 halftime lead. The fast-breaking 76ers put the game away midway through the final period.

Elgin Baylor scored 24 points for Los Angeles, now 1-1.

Cincinnati had to hold off a late fourth quarter rally before San Francisco went down to its third straight defeat. Jim King hit a career high of 35 points for the Warriors. Fred Heizel scored 26 points and Nate Thurmond 25 for the losers.

U.S. Trailing In Track, Field

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The track and field competition in the Pre-Olympic games ends today with the United States trailing badly and needing at least a couple of gold medal victories to stay in the running for the unofficial games team title.

Thus far, the Yanks have scored only four track and field victories—by Randy Matson of Pampa, Tex., in the shot put, Charlotte Cooke of Washington, D.C., in the women's 400-meters, John Carols of New York and East Texas State University in the 200-meters, and Ron Whitney of Boulder, Colo., in the men's 400-meter hurdles.

Competition ended Wednesday with Russia leading the second-place U.S. in the medals race 18-11. Russia had nine gold, four silver and five bronze medals—to four gold, three silver and four bronze for the United States.

Today, American athletes have a shot at four gold medals in track and field, and another in modern pentathlon.

The Yank hopes rest on Rick Sloan of Anaheim, Calif., in the decathlon, Ralph Boston, the world record holder from Los Angeles, in the men's long jump.

Good Passing Attack Keeps Defense Honest

A good footbal offense is a blend of running and passing, and usually it is fatal to rely too heavily on either. This is particularly true of passing. A team can pass itself into the records — and out of the running—at the same time.

Notre Dame's early season sufferings are examples. Against Purdue, the Irish set five school records in throwing 63 times for 366 yards. But they rushed for only 119 yards and lost the game.

Last Saturday, against Southern California, Notre Dame put the ball in the air 40 times. Only 15 were completed for 169 yards. Seven were intercepted. The Irish rushed for 93 yards and again were defeated. From these statistics it seems safe to draw a couple of conclusions.

It is obvious Notre Dame feels it must pass to move the ball. Another way to say it is that the Irish apparently don't feel they can move consistently on the ground. It also is obvious that Southern Cal felt the same way — that is, that Notre Dame could not beat them running. The Trojans were ready for the passes, and stopped them.

It also is perfectly obvious the Irish had little choice in turning to the increased use of the pass. They lost through graduation of Larry Conjar and Nick Eddy, their outstanding running backs of last season. And, against Southern Cal, they were without two regulars, fullback Ron Dushney and halfback Dan Harshman, who were out with injuries.

While the Irish had more than ample reason to turn more and more to the pass, they serve as an example of what happens when the balance is missing. If the defense knows you have to depend on the pass, you're in trouble.

Not every team that passes excessively does it out of necessity. Some teams fall into the passing habit through sheer neglect of the running game. Without realizing it, they develop an attitude that dictates the pass because it's easier and gets you there quicker.

A successful pass is, in one sense, merely a matter of most of the team protecting the passer and of two men — the passer and receiver—performing well. For most of the team, it is an easier play than a running play.

Pass-protection blocking is a matter of the individual player protecting his area against the enemy. This is not as difficult as blocking for a running play. Digging out defensive linemen, and clearing a path for the runner, is one of the toughest assignments in football.

Thus, as the passing game of the team improves, its rushing game may deteriorate. This is a psychological thing, and it can infect the whole team. Secure in the knowledge they can pass when they need to, the players often lose the keen compitive edge and determination it takes to block crisply enough to make the running plays go.

Slowly but surely, the running game gets worse and, eventually, presents little in the way of a threat. The defense, now unworried about running, waits in ambush for the passes. Suddenly, the passing game isn't nearly as successful as it once was. The team is in trouble and must go back to building the balance that is the key to every successful offense.

Every great football team blends rushing and passing, and keeps the defense fully aware it can do both. Consequently, the defense can't set up solely to stop either. This makes both go better.

Green Bay and coach Vince Lombardi brought rushing to the pros, and today any team that would be pro champion must run effectively, as well as pass. This always has been true of college football.

Trade Okay For Boston

By United Press International

Does one detect a similarity in the Boston Bruins' chances and the never-to-be-forgotten Boston Red Sox pennant triumph?

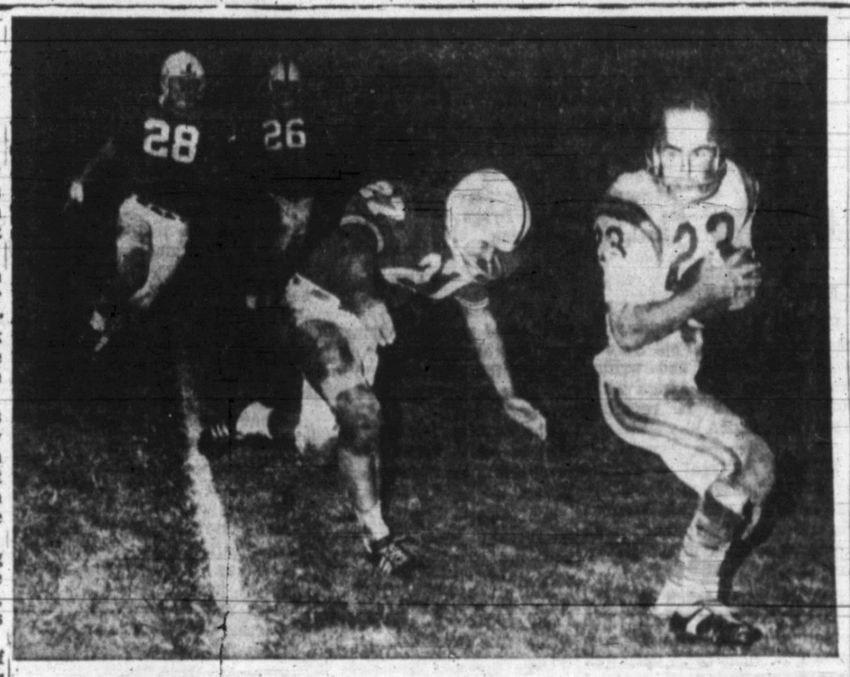

The usually hapless Bruins, in fact, have done so well in their trade with the National Hockey League champion Chicago Black Hawks that it wouldn't surprise too many if their positions were reversed this season.

Two former Black Hawks returned to Chicago Wednesday night and aided the unbeaten Bruins in a 7-1 victory that put them in a first place tie with Montreal and Detroit in the Eastern Division.

Fred Stanfield was the ring leader of the Boston massarce as he scored twice. Ken Hodge, another former Hawk scored his first goal of the season.

Phil Goyette's second goal of the game with 2:35 remaining enabled the Rangers to tie the Canadiens. Goyette's first tally in the opening period was his 400th NHL point.

Norm Ullman scored the deciding goal for Detroit at 1:38 of the second period against Toronto. Ted Hampson and Doug Roberts each tallied their first goals of the season for Detroit in the first stanza. George Armstrong connected for the Maple Leafs near the close of the period.

TACKLE COMING UP -- Jerry Garrison (27) barrels in on Larry Braley (23) of Southeastern State College after the latter had caught a pass in a game against Northwestern State College. Garrison is safety for the Northwestern Rangers. A fellow Pampa player, Roy Harper (28) swings in to assist. Also coming up is Bob Phillips (26) of Woodward, Okla. Harper is monster man on the Ranger defensive team. Southeastern won this one, 20-14.

Former Harvesters Still Leading Ranger Charge

ALVA, Okla. —Football honors went to two Pampa players at Northwestern State College, in the form of Ranger of the Week awards given by the Alva Quarterback Club in its weekly meeting Friday, Oct. 13.

Jerry Garrison, safety on the defensive starting unit, was cited for his work against Southeastern State College. Larry Stephens, quarterback, drew recognition for his offensive work generally to this point in the season.

Garrison, a junior on the Ranger roster, has been one of the key secondary men in what heretofore has been a stout defensive squad. Last week against Southeastern he also got into the offensive action briefly for the first time this year.

Running from halfback, Garrison gained 23 yards in 8 carries. Offensive coaches would like to use him more on that unit, but Head Coach Bill Schnebel plans to keep him primarily on defense to maintain the strength of that squad.

Stephens as a ball carrier ran eight times from the QB slot against Southeastern, gaining 19 yards. His pass completion total started to rise in that game as he hit 8 of 19 passes for 67 yards and one touchdown. Two of his aerials were intercepted.

Stephens is starting at quarterback now and, barring injury, will undoubtedly keep the job the remainder of the season.

Rick Tops on Defense

NORMAN — Football players get grades just like history students. And the tests are a lot harder.

Examinations come on Saturday afternoon and are given in full view of cheering and jeering mobs, not in the sanctity of the classroom.

The questions aren't easy. They come in the form of attacking opposing players and there isn't much time to think over an answer.

Sooner linebacker Rick Goodwin made the highest grade of his college career Saturday in such an exam in the Cotton Bowl classroom in Dallas.

"Rick graded 85 per cent," said Coach Bill Michael, who tutors and grades Sooner linebackers and defensive ends. "You've got to have 70 per cent to be a winner. It was Rick's best game by far.

"Not that he didn't make any mistakes," Michael added quickly. "He still has a lot of room for improvement. But if he can make a little improvement this week over last week we should be in pretty good shape for Kansas State."

Goodwin's grades came on ten sole tackles, an-1 nine assists and drew rave comments from headmaster Chuck Fairbanks, who termed the performance Goodwin's "best game in two years."

A half-dozen times the Pampa senior stopped Longhorn tailback Chris Gilbert for less than a yard gain. At game's end, Gilbert had rushed for 86 yards —the first time he's dropped below the century mark in eleven games. Gilbert's 3.7 yards per carry was the lowest average of all Texas backs.

Goodwin and the Sooners take their next exam Saturday when they open the Big Eight schedule against the Kansas State Wildcats in Manhattan.

Pampa Seventh Ties Perryton 6-6

Pampa Junior High seventh continued to show promise in the way of things to come in Pampa football Wednesday.

The seventh graders of coach Don Huffstedler tied Perryton, 6-6, to become the first team to come close to the Junior Rangers.

Given another 30 or 40 seconds and Pampa might have had a victory, the clock ran out with the home team on the visitors four yard line.

Perryton scored the first time they had the ball but Pampa tied it in the second quarter when quarterback Allen Keeton ran over from the three-yard stripe. Keeton had set the touchdown up with a 60 yard run.

Pampa seventh is now the winningest team in town with a 3-1-1 record and last year was the winningest with a perfect 7-0 record.

Five games were on tap today and one Friday. Pampa's Shockers (1-4) host Borger B; Pampa ninth (0-5) played at Borger Houston; Lee ninth (0-5) was at Dumas; Lee eighth (1-4) hosted Dumas and Pampa eighth (0-3) played at Borger Houston. Friday Lee seventh (2-1-1) plays at Borger Houston.

Some Boy Will Have All This

Yes, Junior, your teacher is telling you true.

Any American boy CAN become president of the United States.

He must, of course, attend school regularly, study hard, get along with people, keep his nose clean, say the right things at the right time to the right folks, come into considerable money or have rich friends and admirers—and be loaded with luck.

If he can swing all this, it is possible that one of these days he may enter the White House as president.

Then, Junior, he has it made. Good wages, nice home (convenient to office), fancy automobile, free travel, a chance to meet interesting people (VERY interesting people), and hardly ever a dull moment.

Consider a day in the life of our President:

—The war in Vietnam (this alone will keep him from being bored).

—Conventions and gatherings of kooks of all types and breeds with only one thing in common—get THAT GUY out of the White House!

—Steel price rises, auto price rises, various cost-of-living rises and all sorts of price rises—practically all of them in open defiance of presidential pleas.

—Auto strikes, rail strikes, airline strikes, teacher strikes, police and fire strikes, girl-dancer strikes—all launched despite the President's wistful wishes.

—Demonstrations, protests, riots and disturbances across the country — all blamed by their instigators on the man in the White House.

—Second-guessing of presidential action by leaders of both political parties and other groups — no two guessers guessing alike.

Big, fat rifts between the secretary of defense and his military chiefs on whether to bomb more, less or medium.

A credibility gap between the government and the people that threatens to become wider than the Grand Canyon.

The United Nations featuring faction instead of action.

—De Gaulle. (That's all!)

—A hard time in Congress on foreign aid, home aid, the tax hike, you name it.

—Critics in the opposition party — and his own — taking pot shots at most everything he does.

— Bad news in the public opinion polls. The natives are restless!

Exciting and stimulating, eh, Junior? Think of the challenge to a man who craves action!

So study hard, keep your nose clean and . . . .

Junior! Where are you going? Out to Play? What abuot your homework? You'll never get to be. . . .

Nuts to WHAT?

Junior, is that any way to talk? Don't you realize. . . . .

Credit: Servant or Master?

Speaking of revolutions, here is another that has taken place in the past 50 years — the debt revolution.

Between 1917 and 1967, a period in which the U. S. population doubled, the following has occurred:

—The national debt has multiplied 100 times.

—Short-term installment debt has increased nearly 50 times.

—Mortgage debt is 30 times the 1917 figure.

—Personal bankruptcies are 20 times larger.

Consumer installment financing was in its infancy 50 years ago, says the Family Economic Bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Company, reporting on a study of our changed attitude toward debt.

If you paid cash, you were considered a stable, thrifty person. If you couldn't pay cash, you didn't buy, unless you wanted to fall into the clutches of a loan shark.

To buy a home in 1917, a wage or salary worker could borrow up to a maximum of 40 or 50 per cent of value on a first mortgage, which was due in three to five years. After that, he could renew the mortgage by paying another substantial financing fee.

Short-term consumer debt was about $2 billion in mid-1917; it totaled $95 billion at mid1967 and will nudge $100 billion bp the end of the year. Today almost anyone can borrow hundreds of dollars on his unsecured signature from a bank or loan company, and a home buyer can borrow up to 80 or even 100 per cent of the appraised value of a home and take half a lifetime to pay it off.

Stores now offer a variety of credit plans. Under the "revolving charge" plan it is possible to stay perpetually in debt by making modest payments that merely prevent the balance from exceeding a certain level.

Millions of Americans trade in for new automobiles every year or two before the old one is paid for, and the monthly payment has become as permanent a part of their lives as the grocery bill.

Business bankruptcies are no more numerous than they were 50 years ago (about 17,000 a more more more year), but 11 of every 12 bankruptcies now are personal ones —about 175,000 in 1967.

Old Man Debt's public image has indeed changed, says the bureau. Now, like Santa Claus, it is the source of good things. Debt is viewed as a status symbol instead of a secret shame.

But though 50 years have brought spectacular gains, there are also serious mounting problems.

By far the most frequent reason people apply for personal loans is for consolidation of debts. Many loan customers habitually live only two to four weekly paychecks ahead of insolvency. Credit counselors complain of a childish "gimme now" psychology and that many debtors seem to lack a feeling of moral obligation to pay.

How can we promote more realistic attitudes toward debt and sounder use of credit?

Federal, state and local governments should put their own houses in order, says the bureau. A basic course in personal and family spending should be required in high school. Evening classes in family budget control should be availabe everywhere for adults. Consumers should be taught that impulse buying should be curbed, and that budgets should reserve at least 10 per cent of regular income for a safety margin.

Finally, we should all keep in mind the old saying: "Credit is a good servant, but debt is a hard master."

With American troop strength in South Vietnam scheduled to top 500,000 early next year, this will mean that approximately every 32nd person in that country of 16 million is an American.

If a proportionate number of Vietnamese were aiding us in a guerrilla war over here, an army of some 6.5 million Vietnamese would be on our soil.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — James Ervin Freeman, 31, was stabbed to death Tuesday in Fort Worth. Police said they will file murder charges against a female in the knifing.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

Zbigniew Brzezinski, member of "our" State Department's Policy Planning Council, has announced that "communism is dead." But one billion people on one-sixth of the earth's surface haven't found out about it. Poor communications, no doubt. Brzezinski, if he speaks English, would still have some difficulty communicating that to the 13,000 American mothers whose sons have been killed in Vietnam where Communism has never been so alive. And their sons are dead because of that, and because some of our leaders either refuse to face facts, or are on the other side.

Brzezinski and his sidekick Rostow, one of President Johnson's top left-hand men, are working toward our merger with "the mellowing Soviets" in a one-world government, run by guess-who?

Many people are asking why we have never mined or bombed the Haiphong harbor. It's not merely that we would sink too many ships belonging to our "Allies," loaded with Russian ships delivering supplies to the Viet Cong. We'd also sink our own ships! Ships we lent our "friend" Russia. Our ships flying Russian flags. Our ships carrying American wheat and American supplies to help kill our men. Our pilots are forbidden by "our" President to bomb these ships. Our ground troops fight with inferior equipment and ammunition. They are forbidden to fire on the enemy until he has fired first.

Our government is now helping Russia build a great highway from Afghanistan to Indochina so Russia can ship by land and by sea to our enemies in Southeast Asia.

President Johnson recently "scaled down" Polish indebtedness to the United States by thirty million dollars in spite of the fact, that Poland a few days before agreed to supply the Viet Cong thirty million dollars in money and materials.

Leftist Harry Ashmore, former Executive Editor for the leftist "Arkansas Gazette" and now Executive Vice President of the (Left of) Center for the study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara, California, claims he wuz double-crossed by our State Department. Ashmore says he relayed a peace bid to Ho Chi Minh on behalf of the State Department last February, but that President Johnson then "effectively and brutally" cancelled the secret initiative by sending an uncompromising letter to the North Vietnamese leader. Harry the Lefty did not say which side he was on, but since he is a Pulitzer prize-winner in Journalism, no doubt he is neutral. Having known Harry Ashmore at the "Gazette," I lack the capacity to be neutral about him.

Russia is one of the most backward nations in the world, outside of Africa. Most of Russia's scientific and technological developments and know-how — including the Bomb — were stolen from other nations and given to the Russians by our own traitors.

With 235.5 million people spread across 1-6 of the world's land surface, Russia is indeed a colossus. But she ranks only 23rd among nations in gross national product per capita— the amount each person produces. And that's the same position Russia was in at the time of the Czars!

Russia's total industria production is only half ours and her farms produce less than one-fourth ours, in spite of the fact that our farmers are paid not to produce.

Who knows? Without Communism these past 50 years, the Russian standard of living might even be as good as Spain's.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Remember when insurance companies inserted a clause in each new policy issued to the effect that the company would not be liable if the insured met death in an airplane crash? These days the new prohibition clause disclaiming liability has to do with drugs and alcohol. In other words, if you conk out from smoking hashish, on an LSD trip, or as a result of too much booze, your beneficiary will have a heck of a time collecting.

Today's smile: A college boy, whose favorite expression was "that's the way the cookie crumbles," changed it somewhat when he wrapped his expensive sports car around a telephone pole. He looked at the wreck and said: "That's the way the Mercedes Benz!"

Eight actresses have played the role of Bloody Mary in the original Broadway production and the various revivals and companies of Rodgers & Hammerstein's "South Pacific" since it first opened 18 years ago. Juanita Hall was the first to play the role and was acclaimed. Irene Eyatt, the current Bloody Mary in New York's Lincoln Center production, invited all of the others to be her guest at a performance. All showed and joined Miss Byatt in asking the audience to contribute to a collection for the aid of Juanita Hall, who is seriously ill. That proves there is a Bloody Mary Alumni Association that's on the ball.

Thoughts while shaving: You'd never expect to find a good-sized Maine seaport village nine floors above New York's busy Madison Avenue, but there is one at Abercrombie & Fitch, the swank sporting goods store. The authentic little shops, set on a tree-lined street, contain all kinds of fishing and boating equipment. Just visiting the place made us long for the waterfront at Deer Isle, Blue Hill, Cold Harbor and the other delightful places that make Maine a truly unique spot in this world . . . The first U.S. President to cash in heavily on his memoirs after leaving office was Ulysses S. Grant. He received $500,000 for "his own story." It wasn't a literary masterpiece, but even the critics had to admit it was a great military biography . . . . And speaking of the Presidency reminds us that Teddy Roosevelt decided "The White House" was the appropriate name for that place. It had been known since John Adams' time as the Executive Mansion. The redoubtable Teddy thought that title too pompous and officially changed the name by changing the stationery to read "The White House." That's what it has been called since . . . We know a housewife who resents the pitch of much of today's advertising on household appliances, etc. She says she enjoys her housework and does not find it drudgery. She adds she gets fun out of baking a good cake, running her vacuum cleaner, and other equipment. She wishes the boys would get a new pitch . . . The Indianapolis (Ind.) NEWS headlined a story: "Do History Books Myth The Point?" They thertainly do!

Country Editor speaking: "Whenever we see a fellow who is punctual we always figure he is a guy who has very little to do."

ROBERT ALLEN — PAUL SCOTT

EDITOR'S NOTE: During the next three weeks, Paul Scott will be traveling and writing from Europe and Africa while Robert S. Allen is reporting from Washington.)

LISBON, Portugal — Efforts by the Organization of American States to persuade Western Europe to quit trading with Communist Cuba aren't getting very far.

Despite action taken by the OAS at its recent Washington conference, Cuba's trading with these U.S. allies could very well keep on increasing.

Altogether nearly one-fourth of Cuba's trade in 1966 was with non-communist European countries, and so far this year the total continues to inch upward.

Portuguese government officials say it may reach one-third because of the increased activity of Castro's trade missions in Spain, Portugal, Italy and Great Britain.

The reasons behind this trade expansion are simple: Western European countries find Cuban trade profitable and there is no real pressure from the U. S. to reduce exports to Castro.

And, as one Portuguese government trade expert reported, "The Cubans pay their bills. Why shouldn't we deal with Castro in non-strategic goods? The U. S. sells ten times as much to Russia as we export to Cuba."

The North American Treaty Organization (NATO), to which both Portugal and the U.S. belong, has taken no position on Cuban trade.

And the U.S., most powerful member of both NATO and the OAS, has declined to take the lead in getting the Western European nations to halt or even cut back their growing trade with Castro.

Instead, U. S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr. has instructions from Secretary of State Rusk not to put any pressure on Premier Salazar's government on this touchy issue. Similar instructions have been received by U.S. ambassadors in other Western European countries.

Meanwhile, the OAS has transmitted to all NATO members copies of its recent resolution urging Western nations to halt their trade wit hCuba.

So far, the NATO Secretariat hasn't even seen fit to put it on the agenda of the coming foreign ministers meeting which will be held in mid-November to discuss that organization's political and military future.

CHECKING THE DRAIN — Portugal is tightening its control over emigration of skilled workers — especially to the U.S.

Because of a steep rise in the number of persons leaving Portugal to take higher paying jobs both on the continent and in the U.S., the government has invoken new curbs.

The country lost 120,000 citizens to other nations in 1966, compared with 89,000 the year before.

Significantly, Portuguese relatives of American citizens have led all other Europeans in taking advantage of the new U.S. immigration law, which Congress passed in 1966, designed to unite families.

Since the new law went into effect, 13,316 brothers and sisters were admitted to the U.S. from Portugal, compared with 13,000 from Greece, and 8,338 from Italy.

Many of those from Portugal were skilled workers.

A NEW NATO BASE — Behind a thick veil of secrecy, West Germany is building its largest airbase on foreign soil at Beja, a city in southeastern Portugal.

Officially, the $40 million base has been called "Portuguese Airbase No. 11" and will be staffed and commanded by Portuguese officers when completed later this year on the flatlands of the Alentejo Province, the country's bread-bowl.

In fact, the base is West German except in name. Government sources here report the Germans are supplying most of the capital, including money to build a housing project for 6,000 persons near the base.

The runways, hangers and air control facilities compare favorably to Strategic Air Command bases in the U.S. In case of an emergency, the largest U. S. bombers could operate from the field.

Military sources say Portugal has granted the facilities for German use in the training of her fliers until the NATO treaty expires. Portuguese airmen also will train there.

In exchange for use of the base, West Germany will supply Portugal with an estimated $100 million in arms between now and 1970.

In recent weeks, U. S. military authorities have been here looking over the base as a possible future replacement for U. S. air facilities in Libya. During the recent Middle East fighting, the Libyan Premier asked the U. S. to vacate the giant Wheelus airfield near Tripoli.

The Wheelus complex is the largest American military investment in Africa. Its cost has been estimated at near $800 million. About 100 fighter crews are at Wheelus.

BEATLES MOURN

LONDON (UPI)—The Beatles attended a memorial service at the New London Synagogue Tuesday night for the late Brian Epstein, who discovered the singing group and managed them in their rise to stardom.

Epstein died Aug. 27 from a drug overdose.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT:

Injury to Median Nerves May Be Numbness Cause

Q — What would cause my hands to get numb? I am taking vitamin B-12. Will that help?

A — A common cause is pernicious anemia. If this is the cause, vitamin B-12 is the best treatment for both the anemia and the resulting numbness.

Q — What would cause my thumb and first two fingers of both hands to stay numb? My doctor is giving me nicotinic acid but I don't seem to get any better.

A — An injury or disease involving your radial nerves would cause numbness of the back of your thumb, index, middle and half of your ring finger. This would be associated with some loss of muscle power. An injury to your median nerves would cause numbness of the palmar surface of these same fingers and a corresponding weakness. The only other cause would be a disease that affects the blood vessels in the area involved. If your present treatment does not help you, you should consult a neurologist.

Q — A friend has a polyp in her nose and has to breathe through her mouth. Would an operation help her? Would having a lot of plants in the house aggravate the polyp?

A — House plants would not affect the polyp in any way. The removal of nasal polyps is a relatively simple procedure but in some persons they keep recurring. In such cases it is necessary to remove the entire mucous lining of the nasal sinus that is involved.

Q — I have had several polyps removed from my lower bowel. Now they have found one in my colon. Do they ever disappear spontaneously? Is it necessary to have them removed?

A — Rectal polyps will not disappear by themselves. Most polyps of the colon and rectum are benign and, as such, need not be removed unless they are a source of bleeding. If, however, there is any indication that they are malignant they should be removed without delay.

Q — Our doctor wants to remove a Baker's cyst from the back of both of my knees. I have pain in the knees when walking up stairs or getting up from a chair. Could this be caused by the cysts? Will the operation cure this condition?

A — This is a form of bursitis of the knee. It may cause redness, swelling and pain in this region. In a few victims the condition subsides spontaneously. In others an injection of thiotepa with hydrocortisone into the bursals ac effects a cure. This works better than hydrocortisone alone. If it doesn't work, the cyst must be removed surgically.

LET'S WAGE WAR ON VIOLENCE, TOO

(Southern States Industrial Bulletin)

"Snipers fire from ambush along darkened turnpike over passes."

"They drop rocks through windshields. Others slash tires and cut air hoses."

"Traffic was snarled for hours as gangs blocked trucks. . ."

"A sniper fired at a chemical truck . . . , wounding . . . in the leg. . ."

"Our next move is to go out after everything that moves on the highways."

Are the foregoing communiques from Vietnam? Ah, no, merely excerpts from a routine news dispatch describing incidents connected with an eight-state steel haulers strike in our own country!

We don't know just what the issues are between the haulers —represented by the Teamsters Union — and the producing mills; but we do know that no dispute can justify guerrilla warfare on our highways or anywhere else in this country.

While violence in labor-management disputes has shamefully become an accepted part of the American scene, we can't refrain from again making a few odious comparisons in the attitude and actions of the Federal Government when such things occur.

Federal troops are promptly called out to get one Negro in one Southern school — all in the name of civil rights. What about the civil rights of the ambushed truck driver?

Interstate commerce is the subterfuge resorted to by Washington whenever it wishes to intrude into state affairs, such as intergrating Mrs. Murphy's boarding house. Well, aren't trucks using interstate highways also in interstate commerce? We'd hate to think that civil rights and law enforcement are governed by political considerations. Frankly, we'd be a bit obtuse if we thought otherwise.

Let's take a look at the situation on our highways — paid for by you and me, when strike leaders say they are going to stop everything on those great arteries of commerce "except wheelbarrows and bicycles."

Stonings, shootings and beatings have already attended the strike. The promise of greater violence was made by those seeking to stop the shipment of steel from mills — principally those in Pennsylvania.

Now this government of ours recently expressed great concern over the failure of the automobile industry to build safer cars. Can you imagine any greater threat to a motorist on a turnpike than to have a tractor-trailer rig go out of contol because of sabotaged airbrakes, or a mortally wounded driver?

Fundamentally, we are opposed to intervention by the Federal boys into any situation which the states should handle. But it was Washington that created the climate fostering the growth of gargantuan labor unions. It was Washington that let the citizenry know that violence in the name of civil rights or organized labor activities is different from other crimes, therefore not subject to the same crackdown. Having thus raised Gargantua, perhaps the Federal boys are the only ones strong enough to get him back in his cage.

More seriously, we think this country's had a stomach full of violence and anarchy. We insist that law enforcement should be prompt and vigorous when crimes are committed. Shooting at a man who has a perfect right to drive a truck is, we believe, a crime. It is just as much a crime as a barber's refusal to cut the hair of an unwanted customer.

WILL NEGOTIATE

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — Nigerian federal strongman Gen. Yakabu Gowon has indicated a willingness for negotiations with the besieged rebels in the country's eastern region.

In a statement Tuesday he said the talks must be a genuine move for peace and not aimed at providing the rebels with breathing time to "prepare for more mischief."

H. L. Hunt Writes

RIGHTS OF NON-CRIMINALS

Supreme Court decisions of recent years have borne down heavily on the rights of persons accused of crime. There is no question that the basic law should apply to all citizens, including criminals. But some current interpretations of the rights of lawbreakers seriously imperil the rights of law-abiding citizens.

The increased pampering of lawbreakers inevitably results in a growth in the rate of criminal acts. The right of Americans to live is being cancelled by the "right" of a criminal to get away with murder. The right of merchants to be safe in their property is being eliminated by the "right" of rioters to burn and loot business establishments. The right of honest citizens to labor safely is abridged by the "right" of criminals to rob them. The right of the people generally to enjoy public parks, streets and neighborhoods is negated by the "right" of vicious lawbreakers to assault, attack and kill.

The principle that an accused person is innocent until proven guilty must not be abridged. Neither should legal machinery be used to free the known and even admittedly guilty.

Public opinion polls have shown convincingly that crime on the streets of our cities is one of the overriding issues of the day. Yet the minute a crime is committed and a suspect is either detained for questioning or arrested, all kinds of organizations and individuals move in to make certain that this person's "rights" are fully protected. Signs multiply that Americans are tired of this one-sided show.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) To understand how devastating the competition of televised movies has been to regular programming, one might consult the latest national video ratings, issued Wednesday.

In the earlier ratings, the explanation for the movies' success hinged largely on the fact that the networks led off with major films—and it was suggested the situaion would become more normal as more ordinary motion pictures were shown.

In a way, this did not seem to be a particularly perceptive or persuasive bit of reasoning. It might have been some years ago when televised movies were a relative novelty on the networks, and regular series were still the main attention-getters; that is, when audience interest in them was greater.

"Mini-movies" Successful

However, the enormous success last season of NBC-tv's original two-hour motion pictures for video—which have been described as "Mini-movies"—should have been the tipoff that almost any kind of cinema-billed attraction would do well. For it is no secret that most of these original movies were of the B-picture sort, smoothly done but hardly major motion picture efforts.

The apparent fact that almost any star-attraction movie, even a mediocre one, will do either fairly well or spectacularly in the ratings is borne out by the latest statistican survey. Of the six movies shown during the week of Oct. 2-8, five finished among the top 15 programs, and four were in the top 10. And not one of the motion pictures could be considered especially outstanding.

The No. 1 program of the week was the movie "The Second Time Around," on NBC-TV. Lucille Ball's series was next. Third was another movie, "Man's Favorite Sport," also on NBC-TV. This was followed by Andy Griffith, "Gomer Pyle" and Dean Martin, who was tied by yet another movie, ABC-TV's "Under the Yum Yum Tree." "Bonanza" was eighth, and rounding out the top 10 was a tie between Ed Sullivan and the CBS-TV movie "Viva Las Vegas."

Second Ten

The next 10 shows were "Green Acres," "Gentle Ben," Jackie Gleason's hour, "My Three Sons," the CBS-TV movie "The Yellow Rolls-Royce," "Family Affair," "The Virginian," "Bewitched," "The FBI" and Red Skelton's program.

Not a single new series made the top 10 shows, quite possibly, in part, because of the blanketing effect of the movies. "Gentle Ben" was the only new show to land in the top 20.

The desire for special-type programming was indicated also by the reasonably decent rating gathered by Tuesday night's serious, sometimes tragic, 90-minute original play on CBS-TV, "Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night," which starred Melvin Douglas as an old man sent to a home for the elderly by his children.
