Hobby Becomes Museum

By BERNARD GAVZER
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK, AP. — On his ranch — the world honeymoon in 1930 Nelson A. Rockefeller indulged in a new hobby — buying primitive art.

In time the collection grew until it ranged from the monumental sculpture of the Aztecs to miniature metal work from Quimbaya in Colombia, North, Middle and South America.

There is an excellent 7½ foot wooden standing figure obtained in New Guinea by a 1909 expedition. It could easily be accepted as a work of modern sculpture.

Another piece is a 20 inch figure made of hard wood, human hair, bear tusk, mother-of-pearl ornaments, cypraea shell, pearl shell and other materials.

Rockefeller solved the problem by buying a house for his primitive art — right next door to the mid-Manhattan mansion where the Rockefeller romped as boys. It's known as the Museum of Primitive Art, the only one of its kind in the world where the work is considered purely in terms of art.

"Primitive art is now recognized as the esthetic equal of the arts of the highly developed civilizations of the Orient and the West," Rockefeller said at the museum's opening in February, 1957.

"Two of the most valuable and highly prized objects on permanent view are a wooden statue of a mother nursing a child and an ivory, iron and copper mask. The statue, obtained by Rockefeller, was the work of an unknown Yoruba tribesman in Nigeria. It is believed to be 19th Century.

The mask came into the hands of white men in 1897 when a British expedition sacked Benin in Nigeria in reprisal for the slaughter of a group of white men. The expedition left Africa with many objects which subsequently ended up in museums and private collections.

The mask is one of two believed to have been made by a single artist. The other is in the British Museum. The one on view here was purchased in 1928 for $56,000 from a British collector.

Besides its permanent exhibit — now numbering 1,500 masks, figures, ritual vessels and ornaments — the museum at 15 W. 54th St. also exhibits private collections, such as the Raymond Wielgus collection currently being shown.

"Wielgus, a Chicago man, began collecting primitive art in 1954. He says his first purchase was a Mexican urn, for which he paid $100. It turned out to be a fake.

But there are no fakes among the 110 items he has lent for this exhibit. They represent the work of artists of Africa, Malanesia, Mi-

The proper word would be indigenous and the museum originally was to be known as the Museum of Indigenous Art. But it was found that people didn't know what the word meant. Briefly it is the art of the primitive, or prehistoric, people, uninfluenced by the white man.

Despite its unusual nature, thousands of people pass the museum's door each year and enter the Museum of Modern Art across the street. The Museum of Primitive Art gets about 15,000 visitors each year. Across the way they can count on about 600,000.

Recent Bride Is Honored

Mrs. Darrell Sturdivant, the former Carolyn Koenig, was honored with a shower recently in the home of Mrs. Lynn Fenton.

A color scheme of green and white was used in decorations, and the table was covered with green overlaid with a lace cloth.

The centerpiece was an angel and hearts.

In the houseparty were Mrs. Leonard Loening, mother of the honoree, Mrs. Oran Sturdivant, mother of the bridegroom, and the honoree.

Hostesses were Mrs. Lynn Fenton, Mrs. Kenneth A. Smith, Mrs. S. Cross, Mrs. Marion Dabbe, Mrs. Jay Massengill, Mrs. Buddy Trevey, Mrs. G. K. Fambro, Mrs. Ab Floyd, Mrs. J. N. Eicke, and Mrs. Mozell Roggenstein.

If your hair is thinning out, heed this helpful advice from Dr. D. E. Vochem, medical director of the Nationwide Life Insurance Company. "Proper and regular washing, drying, and grooming will help keep your scalp and hair clean and healthy — and to slow any baldness process."

The doctor also recommends ten minutes of gentle massage daily to stimulate natural scalp oils.

Salt and pepper

Wash mushrooms, trim stems, slice caps thin, chop stems. In a kettle about 3 quarts quickly wilt mushrooms in water, margarine, salt and pepper, drain, and as it comes from envelope and gradually the boiling water, mix well. Simmer 10 minutes. Add skin milk and salt and pepper to taste; refrigerate overnight to blend flavors; reheat. Makes about 2 quarts—4 servings.

Washing Socks

This said that former President Truman washed his socks nightly in the White House—a practice his mother taught him as a boy. His mother had the right idea. Both boys and girls should learn these cleanliness habits so vital to good grooming in adult years.

Two or three shampoos a week are not too many if you are inclined to use or shampoo your hair and scalp. Otherwise, your skin can become irritated by contact with unclean hair, or from dandruff which sifts down onto skin areas.

Panel To Hear Military Side

Editor's Note: Why the silence at the Pentagon in the wake of the Cuban invasion? When will the joint chiefs of staff be given an opportunity to tell their side of the story? This is the question which the panel will hear.

By Fred S. Hoffman
WASHINGTON (AP)—With blame for the Cuban invasion debacle starting to point more directly at them, the military chiefs have been barred by top-side orders from entering any kind of public defense or explanation.

This, on top of other recent actions muzzling the admirals and generals, has created resentment among some officers at the Pentagon who view the enforced silence on Cuba as setting up the military as a possible scapegoat.

However, an appearance before a Senate Latin-American Affairs subcommittee later this week or early next week will give Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, an opportunity to present a case for the JCS.

Although military leaders are limited in what they can say publicly, these restrictions do not apply to appearances before congressional groups. If a congressman asks a question, he expects a military man to reply with reasonable frankness.

In the wake of the Cuban fiasco, the Central Intelligence Agency, the State Department, the White House staff and the joint chiefs have been criticized in varying degrees.

Probe Prices Of Tomatoes

MALLEN (AP)—Farmers told a congressional committee investigator Monday they are getting 2 cents a pound for tomatoes that are selling in stores across the country for as much as 39 cents.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley farmers told Brooks Robertson of the House Small Business Committee that they "could make a living" at 4 cents a pound for their crops.

"And that would be only 2 cents a pound more than we are now getting," Ernie Wilson, Mission grower, said.

The growers said that as near as San Antonio—where the Valley tomatoes arrive the same day—they sold for as much as 29 cents a pound.

"We are fighting to keep the small tomato growers in business," George Anderson, another Mission grower, said.

Robertson came to the Valley at the request of Sen. William Blakely and Rep. Joe Kilgore following numerous complaints about price violation.

Praise For Volunteers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Volunteer organizations can do more in the long run to curb juvenile delinquency than big government, says former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon addressed more than 400 persons Monday night at the annual banquet of the Big Brothers of Greater Los Angeles, a youth service organization.

"Juvenile delinquency is not a unique problem in the United States," he said, "it's on the increase in all countries, including the Soviet Union."

"But the United States is unique in that we turn not to government as the first resort but as the last resort in dealing with this problem."

Nixon, who received the first annual Big Brothers award as "The American who has been the greatest inspiration to our youth," said volunteer organizations provide the essential personal touch.

13 Markets Eye Probe By Federals

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON, AP — The nation's 13 organized stock markets have a big stake in the forthcoming federal investigation of the American Stock Exchange, the second largest.

In announcing plans for the inquiry, the Securities and Exchange Commission said Monday it wants to find out whether new laws or regulations are needed to protect investors against market rigging and other shenanigans.

If the rules are changed, officials said, the revision probably will apply equally to all stock exchanges.

The American Exchange is the only direct target of the new inquiry. It was singled out as a result of an SEC investigation of two of its members, Jerry and Gerard Re. The SEC on May 4 ordered the Re's expelled from the exchange on charges of widespread price-rigging and illegal stock sales between 1954 and 1960.

Edward T. McCormick, president of the exchange, issued a statement saying, "We welcome a thorough check of our operations at this time because of the unanticipated interferences which have been made by some as a result of the recent action taken by the commission against Messrs. Re and Re."

The exchange has said it has adopted reforms to provide safeguards against wrongdoings of the sort attributed to the Re's.

The SEC investigation will be conducted behind closed doors although some witnesses will testify under oath. Whether any of the findings will be made public later will be determined by the commission.

Normally the agency does not announce private proceedings of this type. Officials said they did so in this case because it would "leak out" anyway. Also, it was understood, they wanted to assure investors that the SEC was not going to overlook questions raised as a result of the Re case.

The Re's father and son, were specialists who conducted daily auctions in about 20 stocks.

Officials said this will be the most extensive investigation of its type since 1938, when an SEC inquiry led to reorganization of the New York Stock Exchange following the falling of exchange president Richard Whitney for embezzlement.

Ralph Saul, assistant director of the SEC's division of trading and exchanges, will direct the investigation.

Climber Is Back Safely

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — A college mountain climber, feared lost on a rescue expedition, is back home safe.

Albert Spencer, 32, returned late Monday while searchers from the Larimer County sheriff's mounted patrol were out hunting for him.

He said he spent Sunday night in an unoccupied cabin near Penstock Pass, west of here, and did not suffer because he had food and blankets with him.

Spencer originally started out to hunt for David Pettus, 25, assistant zoology professor at Colorado State University. Pettus' son Tom, 5, and Patrick, 11, were with him.

They were caught in the mountains by the weekendizzard while hunting for frogs. All were rescued Sunday night.

Stompede Is Too Woolly

BANDERA, Tex. (AP) — The Bandera Stompede was too "wild and woolly" for Sheriff R. B. Miller.

"There will be no more Stompedes as long as I am sheriff," he says.

The Chamber of Commerce sponsor of the annual Western-flavored festival started in 1948, is split over the outcome of this year's celebration, says Mrs. D. H. Crowell, executive secretary.

Miller said the Stompede May 4-7 resulted in 20 persons arrested for drunkenness, 87 juveniles fined for possession of beer, 6 persons fined for driving while intoxicated, and one person arrested for possession of un-taxed liquor.

67 Students Stack Selves Into Bed

WEATHERFORD, Okla. (AP) — Sixty-seven students at Southwestern Oklahoma State College stacked themselves on a standard dormitory single bed Monday night.

The students, who were in a dormitory and were being punished for a party, said Larry Spears, 18, a pharmacy major who with Allen Corbett, 20, a business administration major, promoted the stunt.

No one was injured, reported Norman Moore, director of Self-Help, the dormitory, although bed of bed stacking.

Reaction To TV Classes Is Varied

Youngsters who are excited and interested in the television classes are criticized and the teachers for the most part, reserved judgment.

This was the varied reaction Monday when a DCS "living classroom" jammed with electronic equipment circled over north central Indiana and beamed classroom instruction to a six-state Midwest area via television.

It was the first demonstration lessons beamed by the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction. The signal was sent to 52 demonstration schools which will evaluate the program and several participating schools which tuned in to get a glimpse of what to expect and to test their equipment.

Officials at MPATI's headquarters at the Purdue University campus in West Lafayette, reported reception good in most areas of Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan and Ohio. But Milwaukee missed the premier because of technical problems.

In most areas, reaction and reception were mixed.

The younger pupils and their teachers seemed to like what they saw. The high school set was more critical.

"It was fun," chorused wide-eyed fourth graders at the Stephen Foster School in Indianapolis, who asked how they liked the science lesson.

Teachers said the children concentrated as though they were watching a Western at home. "A junior class at Manual High School in Indianapolis wasn't so impressed by a U.S. history lesson."

"He quoted too much of what other people say, instead of giving us the facts," said Mike Kimman.

"The teacher seemed to lack preparation and spoke in a monotonous voice," said Sheri.

Manual teacher, John Krueger, wanted the pupils not to make up their minds until they've seen several screenings.

In Chicago, Clara H. Torgerson, principal of Luella Elementary School, said, "teachers and pupils are very enthusiastic this first day."

Monday's sample lessons included science, biology, Spanish, music, French, arithmetic, algebra, history and geography. The taped lessons were sent on ten ultra-high frequency channels from transmitters aboard the plane.

MPATI officials hope at least 500,000 pupils will participate in the program next fall.

Dr. M. B. Bowersell, Detroit school superintendent and chairman of the Midwest Council on Airborne Television Instruction, said the successful tests indicate that lessons will be available and that we can count on high quality performance. As the program gets under way it will offer opportunities for true education planning and programming.

Homecomings Frequent At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three-year-old Caroline Kennedy, in a red and white striped swimsuit, was playing in her backyard sandbox. Infant John Jr. was in his carriage under a tree.

The little girl looked up from her play as a mess helicopter settled down late Monday, bringing President and Mrs. Kennedy back to the White House after a jet flight home from their weekend in Florida.

Suddenly, Caroline caught the windy backwash from the rotors which kicked up a storm of sea-breeze grass-shipping it through the air. She ducked in her sand box.

When the door of the Army helicopter opened and the President stepped out, he spotted his daughter as her nurse, Miss Spaw, went to take her to greet her parents.

Mrs. Kennedy, her hair covered with a white scarf, spotted Caroline. She ran across the lawn to greet her daughter and knelt on the grass to take Caroline in her arms.

The President followed, hat in hand.

The three then went to take a look at 5-month-old John Jr., who was lifted from his carriage.

Mrs. Kennedy took her infant son in her arms and sat on a wicker bench, holding him as Caroline stood by.

In a few moments the President strode toward and sitting table his office for a late afternoon appointment.

Mrs. Kennedy remained with the children on the lawn, and in a shaded area where she seemed to be waiting for the President to return to the White House.

Trick — More good news, it is Kennedy's task off the island, leading the effort of the White House.

President Kennedy's homecoming was a happy event.

PASSENGERS LEAVE BURNING BUS—An Alabama Highway Patrolman holds up a pistol to quiet a crowd of white persons that surrounded a bus carrying "freedom riders" as it burns on a highway near Anniston. The bus, carrying a group to test bus segregation in the south, was stalled by a flat tire and set afire when someone tossed a fire bomb through a window. All passengers escaped without serious injury. (AP Wirephoto)

Cooper Off Stage Shattered Image

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
(second of three articles on Gary Cooper)
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There was a disparity between the image of Gary Cooper as viewed by the world and how he seemed up close.
The public's conception of Cooper became a cliché. He was seen as the shy, inarticulate cowboy who was an actor by bumping instinct.
This image was fostered by comedians and hurried reporters and was even encouraged by Cooper himself. It amused him. He willingly lent himself to com-

Applications Are Due For DPS School

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced today applications for the next school for student patrolmen will be accepted through June 9.
Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., said many openings will be available among the department's uniformed services, which include the Highway Patrol, License and Weight Service, Driver License Service and Motor Vehicle Inspection Service.
Prospective patrolmen must be between the ages of 21 and 35, have a high school education or the equivalent, be in good physical condition and of good moral character. They must be not less than five feet, eight inches nor more than six feet, four inches tall, and weigh not less than two pounds nor more than three pounds per inch of height.
Men who met the basic qualifications on their applications will be permitted to take a written examination which will be held in several cities over the state June 13, 14 and 15, Garrison explained.
Accepted applications will be trained with pay at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin for 16 weeks and, upon graduation, will become commissioned patrolmen.
"Here is an opportunity for young Texans to seek career jobs with an organization widely known for dedicated service to the people of Texas," Garrison said. "It offers prestige and security as well as many personal benefits not found in ordinary jobs."
Men interested in applying can obtain full information by contacting DPS patrolmen in the field, inquiring at any DPS office, or by writing direct to the Texas Department of Public Safety headquarters in Austin.

Dutch Deny They Fired On Ship

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—The Dutch defense ministry Monday denied that a Dutch military plane fired on a Soviet whaling ship but said one plane during exercises fired rockets at "a great distance" from a busy North Sea shipping lane and "in a safe direction."
The Soviet Union in a note handed the Dutch Embassy in Moscow Sunday protested the "hostile and provocative action" of a Dutch warplane that "opened cannon fire on a Soviet whaling ship Friday and narrowly missed her with three shells."

Hacksaw Blades Taken To Court

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—Albert Kostal concealed hacksaw blades in one of his shoes as he went to trial for murder Monday.
Four 6-inch blades were found during a routine check of his wearing apparel. Sheriff Art Wernick said.
Kostal is on trial in district court for the slaying of Raymond Isley, a merchant policeman who interrupted a market robbery Dec. 8, 1958, at nearby Wheat Ridge.

Stamford Man Heads TIPRO

MIDLAND (AP)—Jim West of Stamford was elected president of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association Monday to succeed John Hurd of Laredo.
Hurd becomes vice chairman of the executive committee.
Stewart Boyle of Houston was elected to succeed West as secretary.
Delected were Vance Foster, Dallas, treasurer; W. E. Turner, Austin, executive vice president, and John Davenport, Austin, general counsel.
New district vice presidents include W. R. Dean, Victoria; Wilbur Giffner, Houston; Bryan D. Beck Jr., Beaumont; E. Wilson Germany, Dallas; Edwin B. Hopkins Jr., Abilene; John C. Hosteler, Midland, and George W. Graham, Wichita Falls.
Holds over vice presidents include Peyton McKnight, Tyler; Frank M. Lutz, San Angelo, and C. J. Fowlston, Amarillo.

Here's Essence Of Tax Measure

AUSTIN (AP)—Here is the essence of the tax measure recommended for passage Monday by the Senate State Affairs Committee.
Exemptions include items under a sales tax such as cigarettes, gasoline, beer, liquor and wine.
Also exempt would be food, unless consumed on the premises; livestock feed; fertilizer; farm machinery; seeds, plants, and animal life used to produce food for human consumption; newspapers and magazines; radio and television receipts.
Also prescription medicines, items bought in Texas but delivered outside the state, receipts from the sale and use of aircraft, receipts from the sale or use of vessels of more than 50 tons; real estate sales and transfers, component parts used in the manufacture of processing of property intended for retail sale in or out of the state, and wrapping and packing supplies.
Items taxed include clothing, jewelry, furs, ice, factory machinery, oil well drilling equipment, lubricating oil, machinery that is rented or leased, and burial supplies but not the services.
Varying taxes now levied on radio and television parts, cosmetics, and other items would be replaced by a straight 2 per cent sales tax. Current license fees for coin-operating vending machines of $5, $10, and $50 would be stabilized at $10 each for all vending machines.
Food served in cafeterias and lunch counters of elementary and high schools exempt from sales tax, but not eating places in colleges and universities. Beer consumed with a meal would be subject to the 2 per cent sales tax but otherwise no additional tax is levied on beer or liquor. The sales tax would not apply to cigarette, oil, production or sulphur.
Included in the sales tax total is a 2 per cent consumer tax on the use of natural gas and electricity, both domestic and commercial, except that natural gas used for manufacturing purposes would be exempt.

Actress' Mother Files Objection

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ann Sothern's mother filed objections in Superior Court Monday to appointment of the actress as her guardian.
Annette Vde Lake, 78, declared Miss Sothern has a conflict of interest because she is defendant in a suit for support brought by her mother. She also objected to appointment of another daughter, Marion Telley, because she is employed by Miss Sothern, the petition said, and also would have a conflict of interest.
Mrs. Lake urged appointment of a third daughter, Bonnie L. Dickman, with whom she now resides. Mrs. Lake declared, the 61-year-old Mrs. Dickman had more interest in her welfare than the other two daughters.

OUTING ENDS IN TRAGEDY—Calvin Putman of Mesquite, Tex., is helped from the scene of a lake in northwest Dallas after a diver located the body of his son, William Putman, 14, who drowned along with two brothers, Albert, 12, and Robert, 11, while wading in the lake. The brothers drowned while the family was on a Mother's Day outing. Men aiding Putman are not identified. (AP Wirephoto)

Daily Crude Flow Drops

TULSA (AP)—Daily average domestic oil production fell 107,475 to 7,029,925 barrels during the week ended May 13, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.
Texas, with a $2.350 drop to 2,440,350 barrels, accounted for nearly half the net decline. Oklahoma, down 47,300 barrels to 512,400, Louisiana was up 4,300 to 1,181,550.
The Journal estimated 1961 production at 965,311,000 barrels compared to 955,048,700 a year ago. New Mexico was up 1,700 barrels to 317,300; Colorado, 400 to 132,400; and Arkansas 50 to 82,800.

Say Soviet Launching Pads Spotted

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Army publication says U.S. military leaders think they have pinpointed 37 Soviet missile-launching pads and 14 Russian missile and rocket factories.
One of the launching pads is at Anadyr in Siberia, less than 500 miles across the Bering Sea from Alaska.
The May issue of Military Review, a magazine published by the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., says its data was compiled from unclassified sources.
It adds: "Because of a tight Soviet control over military information, this data is derived from sources which are not necessarily accurate or complete."
The magazine says the sources figure the Russians have 35 to 50 long-range war rockets ready to shoot. At least 10 of the launching pads have been identified as launch sites for Russia's 8,000-mile TS missile.
At latest count, the United States had an estimated 99 ready-to-shoot missiles, including 32 submarine-launched Polaris rockets. The military review figures the Russians are capable of producing up to 200 more strategic missiles by next winter.
In the past 25 years, according to a recent American Cancer Society report, the uterine cancer death rate among all women in the United States has declined more than 40 per cent.

FLAMELESS ELECTRIC COOKING IS COOL COOKING

WOMEN WHO COOK ELECTRICALLY KNOW!

Flameless electric cooking is cool cooking because an electric range keeps heat waste to a minimum. Electric range surface units transfer heat to utensil bottoms by direct metal-to-metal contact. The heat goes into the utensils and the food, not into the kitchen air. And because the electric oven requires no oxygen to operate, it is insulated on all four sides, top and bottom, keeping heat locked inside where it belongs. See your electric range dealer soon. # Solons Differ On Publishing Data

By JACK BELL. WASHINGTON AP—Senate Democrats today told the Senate they could give no details at all on the bill's items.

Dickson spoke out after Sen. Richard R. Russell, D-Ga., told the Senate Monday that it was "not inconceivable that we could destroy ourselves by disclosing too many details of defense operations."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said in a separate interview he thinks that sometimes the disclosure of defense information has become public. He said government officials and newsmen would have to share the blame in such cases.

Russell said last week it was "absolutely ridiculous to contend that the public has a right to know the most highly secret of our defense plans."

James S. Pope, executive editor of the Louisville Ky. Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, promptly accused Russell in a telegram of "attempting to smear newspapers simply because military men have been careless with defense data."

W. M. Swanson, Jr., managing editor of the Tampa Fla. Tribune, followed this up with a letter charging Russell with "extremely unfair and misleading statements."

Also, I have encountered not a single instance where a newspaper knowingly printed a defense secret that gave comfort to the enemy.

The Georgia senator asked and got Senate passage by a voice vote Monday of a $12.5 billion defense authorization bill with the announcement that he was "not going to divulge the numbers of missiles and aircraft to be purchased under its terms."
