Scurry County Should Raise More Than 20,000 Bales of Cotton This Year Experts Say

ROADS GROUP PLANS TO BACK CAVERN ROUTE

Plans looking toward the hard surfacing of a two and one-half mile strip of road between highways No. 18 and 83 were laid by a group of local good roads enthusiasts and two visitors in Snyder Thursday of last week.

Richard Diese of Albany, Shackelford County's outstanding good roads backer, and William Wilson of Lamesa, secretary of the Dal-Paso Caverns Highway Association, were the guests. O. P. Thrane, president of the Dal-Paso Caverns highway body, presided.

The short strip of road in question, which lies two miles on the west line of Shackelford County immediately east of the Jones County paving on highway No. 83 and intersecting highway No. 18, has caused traveiers no end of trouble. It is just off the north loop of state highway No. 1A, which is on an equal footing with highway No. 1, or the south loop of the Bankhead.

The north loop, however, does not have federal highway markers, although it is the shortest route and has a better grade of hard surfacing over much of the distance than the south loop.

Besides considering these two propositions—of having federal markers for the north loop of the Bankhead and seeing that paving is placed on the two and one-half mile stretch of road—the body agreed that highway No. 83, which passes through Scurry County east to west, and has become known as the Dal-Paso Caverns route, should be given federal designation to the state line west and from the south line of New Mexico to El Paso.

It was pointed out at the meeting, as it has been many times in the past, that highway No. 83 leads directly west on an air line to the New Mexico line, and thence to the world-famous Carlsbad Cavern, and that a distance of 100 miles from points east to El Paso, Old Mexico, and Pacific points, is saved by this direct route.

In the opinion of President Thrane of the Dal-Paso Caverns Highway Association, Secretary Watt Scott of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, County Judge Horace Holley, President Joe Stinson of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, President C. Wedgeworth of the Lions Club, and other leaders in the good roads movement, either of these three propositions is worthy of much time and effort on the part of citizens in this county. Improvement of any of the roads discussed or their designation as national highways will mean much to Scurry County, for a large portion of the east to west traffic will automatically be thrown in this direction and pass through the heart of the county.

Definite plans for making realities of these tentative plans will probably be announced within a few days.

TIMBER READY FOR TEST WELL

Final pieces of material for a new oil test well about nine miles northwest of Snyder was placed on the ground Thursday, according to word comjng to The News just before going to press. The location was made by the Lee and Magnolia companies on the southeast one-quarter section No. 379, block 97, H. & T. C., out of the J. Wright Mooar survey. The site is seven miles southeast of the Cottingham & Briscoe well at Fluvanna.

Contract for the new well calls for a depth of 4,000 feet unless paying production is found at a lesser depth. Mr. Harris of Fort Worth is the drilling contractor. It is understood that actual drilling will be started within a few days, as soon as the derrick can be erected and machinery placed.

Oklahoma and Fort Worth interests are planning to make a location for a test within two and one-half miles of Fluvanna during the next 10 days.

The big lime formation has been encountered by the Cottingham & Briscoe crew. Drilling was resumed Wednesday after a fishing job of several days. The drill is pounding at the 2220-foot level. Ten-inch casing was set several days ago at 2175 feet.

Louisiana Oil & Refining Company's well has found favorable signs in its well six and one-half miles southwest of Fluvanna on the Miller ranch. This Truss No. 1 is drilling at about 2600 feet.

W. R. Bratton Dies In Lubbock Friday

W. R. Bratton, 58 years old, prominent farmer of the Union Chapel community, died Friday, October 11, at the Lubbock sanitarium. The body was brought to Snyder and funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon at the Snyder cemetery, Rev. T. L. Nipp of Dunn officiating.

The deceased is survived by his wife, three daughters and one son.

CLUB VOTES TO SPONSOR BOYS

By a unanimous vote at its weekly meeting Wednesday noon, the Business Men's Luncheon Club expressed its willingness to sponsor a troop of Boy Scouts for Snyder. This action was taken following the visit last Wednesday of the chairman of Buffalo Trails council, with headquarters at Sweetwater, who expressed the desire to establish a division headquarters in this city if a troop of Scouts were organized.

Pat Bullock, local leader in the Scout work, headed a delegation of Snyder business men which attended a council meeting at Colorado last night, at which time plans for the area were to have been discussed.

Chairman C. Wedgeworth of the luncheon club appointed a committee to investigate the possible location for a permanent dining hall and meeting place for the organization. It was brought out that many members of the club preferred to meet at 12 noon instead of 1 o'clock as at present, and new quarters will be necessary.

Flowers and cheering words were ordered sent to J. W. Patterson, member of the club, who underwent an operation in the local hospital first of the week.

Teams for sections of the city were named to work in the interest of the band and its leader, J. W. Crowley. The work of this musical organization is being sponsored by the luncheon club, this organization having underwritten the leader's salary and a club committee having secured the services of Mr. Crowley.

Several members who attended a recent meeting of the Ralls Lions Club gave glowing accounts of the pep and enthusiasm displayed by that group of business men. Pat Bullock and Abe Rogers were among those who attended the Ralls meeting mentioned in particular.

Mr. Conley of Sweetwater was a guest of the club Wednesday.

RITZ THEATRE PLANS OPENER

Opening of Snyder's new Ritz Theatre has been announced for Saturday by Manager P. W. Cloud. As an introductory film "The California Mail," starring Ken Maynard and his famous horse, Tarzan, will be shown. This popular western star has ever been a favorite with Scurry County theatre-goers, and Manager Cloud is expecting an overflowing house for his afternoon and night showings.

With complete inside and outside remodeling, the Ritz, which was formerly known as the Cozy, offers Snyder her second up-to-date picture house. The Ritz will feature high-class western films principally.

An entire new ticket window, with brass trimmings gleaming an invitation, greets show patrons. The front has been finished in a modernistic stucco effect, while the upper section of the building is finished in red brick. An electric sign has been installed.

A new floor, new wall finishes, improved seats, and new projection and screen equipment will complete the improvements.

Leaguers of District Will Meet in Roscoe

Sweetwater district Edworth League meeting will be held with the Roscoe Methodist church Saturday and Sunday, October 26 and 27. The local leagues plan to have a large delegation, according to Clarence Walton, chairman of the local organization.

Details of the plans for the meeting and a complete program will appear in next week's issue of The News.

Slaton Woman Hurt In Wreck Near Here

Mrs. R. M. Allen of Slaton received a fractured hip in a car wreck which occurred Wednesday afternoon, October, several miles east of Snyder on highway No. 7.

The Slaton woman received first aid at the Snyder emergency hospital and was later taken to the Lubbock sanitarium in an Odom Funeral Home ambulance.

Blind Violinist Gets Listeners on Square

As craning necks and listening ears harkened toward the band stand on the square, music of a fashion was coming from the center of the charmed sidewalk circle.

There was the sound of shoe-leather against concrete, too. And the "Black Bottom!" "Swing Yo' Partners," and "All right, folks" of a deep bass voice.

It was just a blind negro man playing a violin and calling the shuffling steps of a pickaninny with a yo-yo, while the mother strummed a guitar with gusto and a funny pick.

It wasn't classical stuff, but it drew a crowd—and several dimes.

Ginnings Slowed by General Scurry Rain

A general rain in Scurry County Saturday and Sunday held up cotton picking for the past week, but the totals nevertheless mounted to 8,527 for the season.

The slow rain did practically no damage to cotton, and placed a season in the ground that prophesies a good year in 1930. Many acres of feedstuffs in the county were materially benefitted also.

The complete ginning report, including Tuesday of this week, follows:

Snyder	4160
Hermleigh	1067
Inadale	756
China Grove	720
Dunn	694
Ira	600
Camp Springs	268
Fluvanna	262
Total	8,527

CLUB GIRLS GO TO STATE FAIR

Four of Scurry County's girls' club members will leave Sunday for the Dallas Fair, where they will attend the Four-H encampment all of next week. These girls were winners of free trips to the state fair as the result of their records for the past year.

Jessie Dowden and Lucile Hardin of Hud, Eloise Lewis of Ira, and Mildred Davis of Ennis Creek are the four who will make the prized trips.

According to records turned in to Miss Jessie Lee Davis, county home demonstration agent, there has been some outstanding work accomplished by the club girls during the year. The 25 complete exhibits made by club girls in the Scurry County Fair represented 125 complete demonstrations.

In clothing these girls made 529 garments valued at $815.50; in food preservation they canned 3,005 containers of fruits and vegetables, valued at $1,178.45. The 14 poultry projects made a net profit of $644.90. One dairy project netted $92.65. Ten garden demonstrations were valued above cost of production at $460.75.

The individual projects worked out by the four girls who won trips to the Dallas Fair will be found in detail on page three of this issue.

T. H. Warren Dies At Knapp Monday

T. H. Warren, 62 years of age, who resided in the Dunn community, died Monday at the home of J. L. Weathers at Knapp.

Funeral services were held at the Ira tabernacle Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Riley, Methodist pastor, officiating.

Mr. Warren is survived by his wife, five sons, three sisters and five brothers.

NEGRO DECLARES ... Wrecks Car on Bridge ... LORD IS WITH HIM

"Man, de Lawd sho' had his hand on me!"

And everyone who saw the demolished old car from beneath which the negro man who made that remark crawled Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, agreed with one accord.

In fact, the Lord must have had both arms around the thankful colored gentleman when he tried to topple a post and a railing from the bridge across Deep Creek, just west of the city tabernacle.

When Jim Bridgeman, who was the first onlooker to arrive on the scene of disaster, found the four bottom wheels of the wrecked car looking toward the heavens; the negro, looking for a place of safety; and the several people who hurried to the scene, looking to see how many were dead and dying.

As Gardner Martin, the second arrival, ran to the bridge, Mr. Bridgeman was helping the son of Africa from between the twisted bits of steel and wood.

The victim wondered, first of all, how much it would cost to fix his face, which was bleeding. It seems that he had only $7, and thought his face wouldn't be worth patching if that wouldn't pay the bill. 'Tis said that he decided to have a few stitches taken in his features, and that he is little the worse for his experience now; except, as he forlornly told some of his sympathizers, as he pines over the fact that "I just paid out $13 on that car, and she ain't worth that now."

It is said that the car and its driver were going west across the bridge at some 30 miles an hour and failed to find exactly where a well-ordered car should travel on such a contraption. The center piece was too close and the steel guides were too narrow, so he careened toward the other side and finaly landed full in the post where the street comes in from the south. A piece of the railing stuck through the right side of the windshield, the motor hoisted itself toward the tail light, the entire machine elevated itself several feet, and then lit in the middle of the bridge.

That's all, except that the curious ones obligingly shoved the wreck off the bridge, and a wrecker picked it up the next day.

Yearbook for Club Is Delivered Monday

Material for the Business and Professional Women's Club yearbook was submitted to The News by the executive committee Thursday evening of last week, just as the supper bell was ringing.

On Monday morning 85 completed yearbooks were delivered to the club president. In the books are given the officers' names, the time of meeting, club colors, motto and standing committees. The various programs and hostesses for the club season are given also, with the constitution, by-laws and club roster.

WHAT'S WRONG AND WHERE?

How good are you at finding mistakes? The artist has intentionally made several obvious ones in drawing the above picture. Some of them are easily discovered; others may be hard.

To the first person bringing to this office a list of corrections for the eight mistakes in the above picture, The News will give TWO FREE TICKETS to either the Ritz or the Palace Theatre. To each of the next three persons bringing in correct lists, ONE FREE TICKET will be given, making a total of five tickets. These tickets will be good for "The California Mail," opening picture at the new Ritz Theatre Saturday, in which Ken Maynard and his wonder horse, Tarzan, are starred; or for "Where East Is East," Lon Chaney's sensational jungle picture, which comes to the Palace Saturday.

These "What's Wrong and Where" pictures will be weekly features in The Snyder News.

Highway Widening At Inadale Planned

When County Judge Horace Holley went to Inadale last week to arrange for moving back several business places in that town to make room for the new highway, he found a spirit of co-operation that makes it almost certain that no hitch of any kind will need to be untangled.

The new survey, recently made by the State Highway Department, leaves the present road, going south at the Catholic church at Hermleigh, and follows the R. S. & P. tracks virtually all the distance of almost nine miles, where it again joins the present survey, after passing through the strip of one-half mile in Mitchell County.

State work on grading and bridging the new survey is expected to start, as previously announced, early in the fall.

WAR VETS WILL BE ORGANIZED

All ex-service men of Scurry County are invited to be present in the Chamber of Commerce office Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of re-organizing the Will Layne post of the American Legion.

This announcement, made as the result of an informal meeting of several World War veterans last Sunday, follows several months of agitation for regular meetings of the ex-service men, who have recently had no organization of any kind in the county.

Those responsible for issuing the invitation insist that every former World War man be present. They believe that 75 or 100 veterans should answer the call and that a post representative of Scurry County will be formed.

It is pointed out that the American Legion is responsible for most of the benefits that have come to the veterans since the ending of the Great War. Not only is this true, but the American Legion furnishes an opportunity for fellowship and social activities that may not be had in any other way.

FOLLIES OF 29 TO PLAY HERE

On Thursday evening, October 24, at 8 o'clock, "The Follies of '29" will be presented in the high school auditorium by Homer F. Springfield. The cast will include members of the Choral and Little Theatre Clubs of Snyder high school.

Against a brilliant background of unique costumes and scenery, beautiful girls, and bewitching music, a series of one-act plays, choruses and vaudeville acts will be presented for lovers of unusual entertainment. In one Follies scene 40 girls will appear on the stage at one time.

Those who saw "The Follies of '28," also directed by Mr. Springfield, remember the success of last year's performance. An even more attractive program plus the experience gained last year and many hours of work on the part of director and cast prophesy a second triumph for Snyder's home- talent production.

Holley and Day Go To Meet at Lubbock

County Judge Horace Holley and Commissioner Lum Day were Scurry County representatives at the organization meeting of the West Texas County Commissioners Association, held at Lubbock Wednesday. Robert H. Bean, county judge of Lubbock County, was chosen as president of the new group. Officials of 16 counties were present.

Other officers elected were Dixie Kilgore, Dawson County judge, vice president; and William McGehee, Floyd County judge, secretary and treasurer. Plainview was selected for an adjourned meeting December 18.

Resolutions favoring election of a highway body of five members instead of appointment of members; opposing enactment of laws placing a further burden on county general funds; and favoring employment of a contact man to represent West Texas before the state highway department were adopted.

Counties represented at the session were: Lubbock, Armstrong, Scurry, Shackelford, Terry, Dawson, Parmer, Hale, Randall, Floyd, Gaines, Lynn, Swisher, Lamb, Castro and Crosby.

Snyder Seconds Get Decision by 18 to 9

Saturday, after the first-string Tiger squad had been drubbed by the Ralls team on the previous day, the Tigerlets took on the Hamlin second team and administered an 18 to 9 beating.

The game was featured by big gains by both squads, with Howell, local speed merchant, in the limelight. This youngster made two touchdowns for which he covered more than the length of the field in total yardage.

SEVERAL HURT IN ACCIDENTS

Last Sunday was anything but a day of rest and peace for several Scurry County folks.

A county official, who has pains-takingly thumbed the records of the day, declares that no less than five car accidents of various sorts transpired on the Sabbath last.

In the first place, there was the case of the thankful negro, described elsewhere on this page, who lost a good car, several dollars and some blood when he failed to find the center of a bridge across Deep Creek.

Then there is the side-swiping case of the playful Mexicanos, who knocked four white boys from a bridge rail near Clarkson, west of town. The chili eaters probably meant to do no more than scare the bridge-sitters, but as the tail-end of their truck swung around, the quartet was knocked backward, and two of them received injuries.

The travelers went on their way, but they were later found by a neighbor who picked the boys up. Randolph Champion received a badly hurt leg, Berman Anderson escaped with arms bruises, while J. B. Anderson and Harry Clarkson were uninjured. Five of the hombres were landed in the county jail, brought into court Monday, and permitted to pay $190 damages and $46.50 in fines for their side-swiping.

Mrs. Cecil Doak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brownfield of Snyder, was an occupant of a bus which turned over on the Lubbock road Sunday. It was just a jolting spill, for no one was injured.

A new light-weight car whose driver did not want to soil the paint with mud is said to have invited a bumper blow from a passerby. No one was injured, but the driver of the second car is said to have surveyed a lost wheel and other costivity results when the smoke had cleared away.

The slick roads and a heavy load of oil casing caused a truck to slide into a ditch on the Colorado road, near the Scott ranch on the same Sabbath. The driver escaped injury.

CAMP TO RUN FOR MARSHAL

The first definite ripple on the Snyder political waters this season came with the announcement of Walter Camp that he will be a candidate for the city marshal post in the spring election.

From the courthouse come reports that the majority of county officers will be candidates for re-election, but none of these have made public announcements. Nor have any of the city officials announced through the press that they will be candidates for re-election.

Mr. Camp, who makes the first public announcement of his candidacy this week, has been night watchman in Snyder for more than three years. He asks the support of voters on the basis of his record in this office, and his general conduct on duty and off duty, before and after he accepted the watchman's position.

That Walter has been an efficient, courteous and dependable officer since his appointment is the conviction of the friends who urged him to put his hat into the ring for the spring election. These friends believe voters will make no mistake when they leave his name on the ballot.

"You may tell News readers that I will do my best to make them a good city marshal if elected to the office; to preserve the law, and to serve Snyder in every way possible," says Mr. Camp.

PIONEER TO BE BURIED FRIDAY

Zack Taylor, 72, pioneer resident of Scurry County, died at his home in West Snyder early Thursday morning after a six-months' illness. He moved to this county almost 30 years ago.

No time for funeral services has been set.

Surviving the well-known pioneer are his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Frank Jenes, of Redlands, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Sallie McComb of Frederick, Okla., Mrs. Miles Gay of Dallas, and Mrs. J. J. Campbell of Dallas; three sons, Wellington, William and Hugh, of Snyder; and five brothers, Newt of Portales, N. M., Joe of Denton, H. W. and R. M. of Scurry County, and G. V. of Denton.

Fluvanna Pictures Taken This Week

A number of pictures were made of Fluvanna school scenes by the Miles Studio of Snyder a few days ago. E. O. Wedgeworth, superintendent of the Fluvanna schools, had "shots" made of his corps of nine teachers, of the four school busses with their drivers, and of the building itself.

Bids for the new school building planned for the consolidated district will be accepted late this month.

COUNTY BANDS DO GOOD WORK SAYS CROWLEY

Director J. W. Crowley of bands in Scurry County reports splendid progress resulting from his efforts in a musical way during his short stay here. He submits the following report on the accomplishments of the organizations he is leading:

The High School Band is having regular rehearsals now three times per week in the high school auditorium. It meets on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday mornings before school at 7:30 for one hour. The High School Band has only had one month of rehearsals but plays three tunes fairly well and is learning fast. We have fairly good instrumentation now and the goal for this year is to develop a 40-piece band by the end of the year.

There are 16 members at present in the High School Band proper, comprising the following members and their instruments: Melvin Wylie and Horace Holley Jr., trumpets; Leighton Griffin and Bob Hamilton, cornets; Fred Wolcott, alto; Sudie Smith, baritone; E. J. Bradbury, Hugh Taylor and Kenneth Pitner, trombones; Grady Wallace, bass; Emmett Askins, sousaphone; Banie Smith, snare drum; T. J. Teter, clarinet; Morris Sturdivant, Willard Lewis and W. H. Shuler, alto saxophones. At present only the above 16 named are members but within the next two weeks the band will take in the following new members: Corwin Patterson, Dawson Bridgeman, Borden Gray, Murray Gray, Lewis Sample and Travis LaRue. Then we will have some beginners: Mable Turner, Elton Grant, Francis Lee York, who will likely become members before another month is ended.

Of the above named members only two have had any band experience whatever and that is very little. We can not expect great things of this young band in short time, but with the hard work that is being manifested now we can expect to hear a good public concert from the High School Band before Christmas.

There will be prizes given away at the end of this year to: First, the most valuable musician in the band; second, the best cornet player; third, the best reed instrument player; and fourth, the member of the band who shows the best percentage of attendance this year. The gold pins and guards for these prizes have been received and will be placed in the office of the high school superintendent, to be given away at the end of this year to those elected or chosen.

The Snyder Muncipal Band is having regular rehearsals each Friday night at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium and has about 35 members. There are some plans being laid to take the band to El Paso to the Chamber of Commerce convention.

TIGERS TASTE RALLS DEFEAT

In a hard-hitting game featured by two airtight defenses, and in which only five first downs were made, the Ralls Jack Rabbits nosed out the local Tigers by a 7 to 0 count on the Ralls field Friday. This was a non-conference encounter and thus does not effect the Snyder team's 1,000 per cent standing.

Captain Bryant of Ralls raced almost the length of the field for the lone counter of the day. Ralls made three of the five first downs registered during the tangle.

Ralls, rated as one of the strongest squads in its section, would have been looking back on a scoreless tie had it not been for the grab Bryant made at a fumbled ball in the early part of the fray, as neither backfield could damage the line or break through the pass defense.

While the locals are pointing toward the Roscoe game, which will be played Friday of next week on the Nolan County gridiron, they are preparing primarily for a tussle with Big Spring, which will be played in the Howard County capital tomorrow (Saturday). The Steers were elevated to class A competition this year, and were thus taken out of Snyder's conference schedule. They have found the class A going rough, but they staged a comeback last week-end for a tie game. The Tigers won from Big Spring last year by a score of 12 to 0. Several local cars are expected to make the trip to Howard County Saturday afternoon. The band and pep squad will also be on hand.

The game with Roscoe next week will probably be the deciding tussle in the conference. Each team has two wins and no defeats to its credit. Snyder, by virtue of taking the Loraine team into camp for a 37 to 0 win, are favorites, in view of Roscoe's 24 to 6 trouncing of the same squad. But Roscoe has improved rapidly during the past three weeks. She took the Colorado Wolves, who were favored to win, for a 15 to 0 drubbing last week. Snyder has not yet played Colorado, that game being scheduled for Armistice Day.

Miss Woncele Paxton Bride Of R. V. Dublin Last Week

Miss Mary Woncele Paxton of Abilene, formerly of Snyder, and Robert V. Dublin of Jacksonville made impressive bridal vows at a lovely ceremony performed in Abilene Wednesday evening of last week at the St. Paul Methodist church.

The Rev. J. Richard Spann, pastor of the church, officated with the ring ceremony, which followed a program of lovely prenuptial and nuptial music by Thomas Hood Simpson, with whom the bride has studied music for a number of years, and Mrs. Jo D. Turk and Mrs. Henry K. Bass.

Formal beauty in detail characterized the church setting, which gave emphasis to pastel tones of pink, blue and lavender, the bridal colors, also favored for frocks and flowers of the bride's attendants.

The bride was a picture in her bridal robes of creamy white. In extremely modish style, lace of a deep flounce of the satin gown, tipped the floor in the back and was short in the front to reveal satin ties and lace hose. Rhinestones and crystals glistened on designs of exquisite lace of the flounced skirt and a deep pointed yoke, and outlined these in points on cream duchess satin, shirred into a closely fitting bodice and full Shirring also held the bridal sleeves.

Over this fell the misty, sweeping veil of snow drop lace, cape effect, outlined with a deep border of rose point lace. Caught in her dark hair with a filigree cap of orange blossoms, it fell in graceful folds to form a train. Completing the wedding ensemble was a bridal bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair ferns, heavily showered with valley lilies, and tied with lace tulle.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Dan Moody, wife of Texas' governor, and cousin of the bride, was among those in the receiving line.

Mr. and Mrs. Dublin left from the reception for a honeymoon trip of a few weeks, keeping their destination a secret. They will return to Laredo to make their home.

Mrs. Dublin is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Paxton of Abilene, former Snyder residents, who have many friends here.

The wedding is one of wide interest in both East and West Texas where families of both the bride and groom are well known. Miss Paxton is a descendant of two noted West Texas families, on the paternal side being the granddaughter of G. B. Paxton of Abilene, and on the maternal side she is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Scarborough of Snyder, all pioneers of this section of the state.

An article on "The Enfranchisement of Woman an Opportunity," written by Mrs. Katherine Thrane, was read by Mrs. Richard Webb. Mrs. Mabel German, club parliamentarian, gave an interesting talk on "Parliamentary Politeness."

Those present were: Mmes. Mrs. Howell Relates How Club Develops Its Members

"In order to achieve the greatest growth and development as a club and club members, we must keep abreast of the progress of state and national affairs," stated Mrs. R. L. Howell at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs Tuesday evening.

"This is a fast movin: age and it is a far cry from the ox-cart and candle of our grandfathers to the airships and electric lights of our own day. We must ever have a goal, a vision, very definite aims and purposes, or else we have no reason for existence.

"In our local organization our development, as you are aware, has not been phenomenal. We are happy that it is so. We are experiencing a slow, steady growth, both as individuals and as a unit, and one has to climb the ladder round by round. To know, understand and appreciate each other is a great stride in our progress. The diffusion of knowledge of things and conditions pertaining to our privileges and opportunities as club members is of the most important consideration in intelligent procedure. This we feel that we have accomplished to a great extent.

"Club work develops the club member by inspiring self possession and confidence in the minds of those we wish to help or influence and in our fellow workers. We are united in a common work for the common good, and the work and contact with other club members inspire us to cultivate a broad, generous nature. All personal feelings and prejudices are eliminated and a spirit of friendship, fellowship and harmony prevails.

"We are inspired by precept and example in our club activities to be dignified, orderly and efficient. We acquire poise, grace and ease of manner, independence in thought and action, qualities and characteristics which carry over into other relations and associations in life. We are made infinitely richer in that we have a more sympathetic understanding of and are more charitable toward our fellows, and with the author quoted in our year books:

"'Club life teaches us that there are many kinds of beauty in the world—the beauty of ideas, of knowledge, of sympathy, of readiness to be put in any place and used in any way for the general good.' What could be more desired or coveted?"

Mmes. Whitemore and Towle Honorees.

Mmes. J. T. Whitmore, president, and Mrs. H. G. Towle, secretary, of the Seventh District of Federated Women's Clubs, were honored at a tea given by the Snyder federated clubs Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. H. J. Brice.

In the receiving line were the presidents of the Snyder federated clubs. A very enjoyable program was given by the Musical Coterie.

One hundred and twenty guests were served a dainty salad plate in the dining room, which was decorated with a profusion of pink roses.

Club Girls Make Records in Work

Poultry Raising, Gardening, Home Work Features of Quartet of Winning Projects.

The four Scurry County Four-H club girls who will attend the Dallas Fair as the result of their prize-winning work for the past year, have done work of an unusually high quality, according to Miss Jessie Lee Davis, county home demonstration agent.

Following are details of the four girls' work for the year:

Jessie Dowden.

Jessie Dowden, 17 years old, a fourth year club girl of the Hud club, selected poultry for her project. She raised a flock of White Leghorns, which cleared her $106.13 after deducting $26.50 expense. In her clothing work she made 48 garments and articles of household linens, valued at $108. The demonstration, clothing and food preservation work Jessie did this year amounted to $256.48.

Besides Jessie's actual club work, she has been of great value as a leader in her community. She was president of her club for two years and has played a large part in making it score the best club in Scurry County upon work accomplished. The club winning the 1929 loving cup for the best all-round work was Hud.

She won one of the three state Short Course trips offered by her club this year.

Eloise Lewis.

Eloise Lewis, second year club girl, of the Ira club, who is 13 years of age, states that she chose gardening for her productive project so that she and her parents might be able to have the leafy and succulent vegetables at least three times per week, and that they have been able to follow the protective diet each day.

Her garden project has cleared her $97.97. Besides this, Eloise has canned and preserved from the home orchard and garden $75.40 worth of food products. With all this her clothing work has not been neglected, for its value is $71. Her total for the year's club work amounts to $244.37.

She won the state Short Course trip from the Ira club for this year.

Eloise has also been president of her club and has tried hard to encourage all the other girls to work. Her interest in club work is so great now that she wishes she might be able to do first year work over in order to have a record like this year. (She finished first year work last year, but did it because her mother would not allow her to stop). Now she has the "real" spirit of club work.

Mildred Davis.

Mildred Davis, third year Ennis Creek club girl, also chose gardening. In her record she states: "I have learned the kinds of seed, their cultivation, fertilization, as well as how to prepare them for the table." Her project, though slightly less in dollars and cents than some of the others, amounting to only $74.15, has been of inestimable value, as it has supplied fresh vegetables for table use as well as canning all year.

The total value of her work for the year was $164.25.

Lucile Hardin.

Lucile Hardin, 15 years of age, fourth year club girl of the Hud club, cleared from her poultry project—turkeys and chickens—$61.87. In food preservation she put up 78 containers of fruits and vegetables valued at $51.75. The above mentioned work, together with clothing, made her total $160.77.

She won the county trip to the state Short Course in this year's dress contest.

Lucile has also acted as secretary of the Hud club for the past year.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

The state of Texas. To the sheriff or any constable of Scurry County, greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Homer Hopper by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the district court of Scurry County, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Snyder, Texas, on the second Monday in November, A. D. 1929, the same being the 11th day of November, A. D. 1929, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 4th day of September, A. D. 1929, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court as No. 2564, wherein Myrtle Hopper is plaintiff, and Homer Hopper is defendant, and said petition alleging that the plaintiff has been an actual bonafide inhabitant in the state of Texas, for a period of 12 months and has resided in the County of Scurry, where this suit is filed, for a period of six months, next preceding the filing thereof.

That plaintiff has at all times conducted herself with propriety, doing her duty as a wife and treating defendant with kindness and forbearance. That defendant, soon after the marriage, which was June 19, 1922, began a course of harsh, cruel and tyrannical treatment towards plaintiff which continued until their final separation. That defendant failed and refused to provide for plaintiff with even the necessities of life. That defendant often struck and physically abused plaintiff. That the treatment and outrages toward plaintiff were of such a nature as to render their living together insupportable.

Plaintiff prays for judgment dissolving the bonds of matrimony and divorcing her from defendant.

Herein fail not, and have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Scurry County, Texas, this the 9th day of October, A. D. 1929.

Louise Darby, District Clerk,
District Court, Scurry County.

Chaney Has Role as Trainer of Animals

Grappling with wild tigers and gorillas, and the still more dangerous human emotions, Lon Chaney gives the screen one of his most bizarre, thrilling, and powerful dratmatic portrayals in "Where East Is East," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's grim drama of an Oriental jungle, playing Saturday at the Palace Theatre, as a sound synchronized film.

Chaney, in the role of "Tiger" Haynes, jungle animal trapper, rides at the head of herds of elephants, battles with a ferocious tiger and actually traps one of the great beasts. His death struggle with a gorilla is a sensational highlight. Underlying the thrills is a gorgeous love romance.

Tod Browning, responsible for many Chaney hits, directed. Lupe Velez, as "Tiger's" half native daughter, is a fiery little creature in a vivid role. The great river scene, and the jungle episodes, including the trapping of the tiger, are spectacular backgrounds for the swift-moving action.

What Will Get Him?

A prominent Snyder doctor made the following remark not long ago: "Having spent a lifetime and fortune in study, travel and research work, there is one thing in part that we have observed. It matters not how much a man may succeed in a line of endeavor, or what kind of arm-safe-guard that he may throw around his wall, the skirts and undertaker will get him after all."

Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, is one of the largest military posts maintained by the United States. It has 12,000 officers and men in its area and, at the average annual cost of $1,100 for each soldier's upkeep, the total receipts from that source are more than $13,000,000 a year, exclusive of civilian employes and additional capital investments. The federal military plant at San Antonio, including flying fields and target ranges, is of an estimated value of $26,931,326.

"The Blood-Washed Robe" is one of a series of sermons being given from the book of Revelation. These have been running for several weeks, and are becoming increasingly interesting and instructive. They are by nature prophetic, revealing many things in the life of the modern church and church movements. These studies are an exemplification of the proposition of the "Bible its own interpreter."

With Hallowe'en just around the corner, who's going to keep the spooks away? Old Man Pessimism has left Scurry County, you know.

The Chicago Cubs stepped right out of the frying pan into the fire; out of the Phillies' maw into the gangster's claw, in other words.

"He who steals my purse steals trash," Shakespeare once said through one of his characters. Some of us would like to be trash collectors, believe thou me.

Albert Fall is having a hard time convincing some of the senators that he was really sick the other day. In fact, Mr. Fall seems to be the seasonal topic of conversation.

One rabid baseball fan said: "I've broken lots of fillies in my day, but doggone me if them Phillies wouldn't have broke me if they hadn't made those 10 runs in the seventh Sunday."

Some ignorant friend wants to know the difference between a bridge party and a sewing party. Why, sir, at a bridge party the dear ladies darn and play; at a sewing party they just darn.

Somebody has wisely said that Scurry County's Three Musketeers should be the cow, the sow and the hen. If properly equipped, these three could probably win most any battle against hard times.

John Wannamaker was something besides America's greatest merchant. He was a philosopher: "Advertising doesn't jerk. It pulls, but if stuck to, it will exert an irresistable force. Advertising is no game for the quitter."

Pessimism Pete has this to say this week: "There ought to be a law making single women wear signs of some kind. Most of the single ones and married ones alike don't even give strangers the high sign these days."

The old negro violinist who played on the corner of the square this week had no trouble in getting a crowd. He claimed that the white folks had plenty of ears and time, but that their dimes seemed to be few and far between.

The headline in a trades paper reads, "Ozark Press to Organize." From the reports coming out of the Arkansas hills for a number of years, the presses and the stills have both been well organized—and in operation—for some time.

It was Abraham Lincoln who said: "In this and like communities, public sentiment is everything. With public sentiment, no thing can fail; without it, nothing can succeed. Consequently, he who molds public sentiment goes deeper than he who enacts statutes, or pronounces decisions."

Parking.

Now that cotton is coming to town by the hundreds of bales each week, those of us who work in Snyder ought to make it easy for the farmer to do his shopping, trading and marketing. The least we can do is to park in the center of the streets or against the curb adjoining the courthouse lawn.

The council passed the parking limitation law for the farmer's benefit. He is welcome to use parking spaces around the square, in front of the stores, as long as he wishes. Snyder people seek in more ways than one that friendly feeling between farmers and townspeople.

The Weather Cools and Gets Wet.

If you don't believe the cool weather, coupled with a liberal rain, has changed the expressions on hundreds of Scurry County faces, just have a walk around the square any afternoon.

The farmer who has just sold his cotton, instead of being down-in-the-mouth, as some of the howlers would lead us to believe he should be, looks forward to the new year's crop with a grin. This great season which is being put in the ground, which is a rarity for fall and winter, is enough to make him forget some of the very drouthy features of the weather for several months.

The traveling salesman sees Snyder as a much more attractive place than he did for some weeks. He is telling the world that Scurry County is looking up more than almost any other county in this section.

The merchant has a new pep that reaches out to every one of his customers. Some Snyder merchants, it must be admitted, have been looking on the bleary side of things since the water-lacking months started.

After all, it takes a good many big knocks to make folks really appreciate what they have at their front doors. In exceedingly prosperous years we get the big-head and spend much of our money for things that do neither us nor our neighbors nor our communities any good.

How about giving nine rahs for Scurry County, and letting the knocker meander where fields, from a distance, look greener?

Neff in ~~Austin~~ Again.

It is good news to many Texas political followers that Pat M. Neff is again to help govern the destinies of his state. The biggest objection to Mr. Neff, in all positions which he has held, was apparently his honesty and sincerity. He has been a thorn in the side of those who sought to get their noses to the feed trough.

Mr. Neff's appointment will probably preclude a bitter political campaign between the Waco man and Earle B. Mayfield at election time next year. After Mayfield caused Neff to be turned down as a Mediation Board appointee, it was virtually certain that the former governor would enter the ring for the senatorial toga next year. No matter which man would have been elected—if, indeed, either were successful—there would have been many bitternesses left from which it would take long to recover.

Like The Dallas News says, Clarence Gilmore's place can not be filled, even if his successor is competent. But that Mr. Neff has his finger on the Texas highway situation as nearly as any man is certain. He will undoubtedly prove a boon to his state as he did when he was in the governor's chair.

It's hard tounderstand why mothers complain about the difficulty of keeping modern daughters in clothes. The daughters need so little these days.

The new $200 automobile will seat only two. That should make it a good eight-passenger car for college boys and girls.

A judge ruled that the man is the head of the house. His decision shows he is a bachelor—or he would know better.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME : By NEA Service

Washington Letter

By Helm News Service, Inc.

Washington.—Without the slightest intention of indulging in either disrespect or levity, it may be said that there undoubtedly is a rather striking analogy between the late Phineas T. Barnum's claim of presenting the "greatest show on earth" and the amazing variety of entertainment being staged in Washington this week. Certainly it would appear that the Washington show has eclipsed any simultaneous performance within the limited cosmographic area of this earth.

All within a period of less than one week, President Hoover has been rebuked in the Senate, a body controlled by his own party; the investigation by a Senate committee into the activities of W. B. Shearer at the Geneva conference and elsewhere was productive of one sensation after another; the matter of the social status of Mrs. Gann, sister and official hostess of Vice President Curtis, has been revived; the Senate has ordered a sweeping inquiry into all lobby activities, including those of the "social lobby;" the prime minister of Great Britain is with us for notable and possibly epoch-making conversations with the president; the official announcement that Secretary Mellon would "carry on;" and the entire population of the capital absorbed in a thrilling tragic mystery which already has caused demotions in the personnel of the local police department and threatens to result in a shake-up of the District of Columbia government.

Probably the reason why the Washington show is monopolizing such a large share of public attention just now is because it has more interesting features to engross the public mind than the general run of productions in this national theatre of ours. Not a comparatively small bunch of spectators huddled under a tent, and not the people of these United States alone, but the whole world is observing the Washington spectacle. Even the tiresome tariff has again become a headliner by the developments of the week.

Furthermore, the setting and the dialogue of many of this week's episodes are colorful and comprehensive, more or less dominated by human appeal, wherefore the whole drama has attracted unprecedented attention. This week we have looked upon comedy and tragedy, laughter and tears, triumph and defeat. The spotlight has been thrown upon big men and little men, and the human side of life has predominated in what has been happening.

* * *

At this writing, Premier MacDonald has been in the United States five days, but his visit has already accomplished something which formal long distance communications failed to accomplish in five years. Mr. MacDonald has dramatically demonstrated that there exists in both his country and ours a powerful trend toward naval reduction and continued peaceful relations. Not a single word of hostile criticism has been heard against the basic purpose of the informal conversations between President Hoover and the British prime minister. Public sentiment seems to be back of decent agreement and strongly against blustering jingoism.

The most competent observer must be convinced of that much, at least. Obstacles may and undoubtedly will arise later on, but Mr. MacDonald's visit has demonstrated the importance of the sentiment for peace and the solidity of the faith with which the United States and Great Britain look forward to tangible results. The disagreement as to cruisers is regarded as having been settled, but even if it should be reopened it is hard to believe that an amicable final adjustment will not be reached. The "freedom of the seas" problem is still unsolved, but the determination in both countries that war shall be abolished between them ought to make it inconceivable that hostilities could ever result from such a temporary failure to agree.

We have seen enough and heard enough since Mr. MacDonald came into our midst to justify the prediction that whatever happens to our major hopes, either now or later in London, the reasoned and deliberate opinion of the English speaking nations in favor of reduction of armaments is so strong that a naval race for supremacy is unthinkable. Such a background makes far from an inspiring setting for the militarist, the jingo and the propagandist of the Shearer school.

The invitations sent by Great Britain to the four other naval powers indicate the magnificent results which that nation and the United States hope will be accomplished by the January conference. These include a gradual elimination of battleships by a process of non-replacement; the reduction of cruisers by the three weaker naval powers on a scale proportionate to that now being fixed by the United States and Great Britain for their own future level; and the reduction if not the abolition of submarines. It is evident that the invitations were carefully prepared to suit the susceptibilities of France and Italy. For their benefit especially it is set forth that only general agreements will be contemplated, and that the results will by no means be inconsistent with the larger program of the League's disarmament commission.

Behind these invitations there lies a great hope. It is the hope that the willingness already evidenced in Washington and London to surrender old jealousies and fears will be matched by similar willingness in Paris, Rome and Tokio.

The Democratic insurgent coalition in the Senate has again exhibited its power. By mustering 44 votes it forced the adoption of the King amendment having to do with the method of assessing the value of imported goods. The total was made up of 33 Democrats and 11 insurgent Republicans. The "regulars" were able to show a strength of but 37 votes. This is said to give the measure of the present Senate line-up. there would seem to be no reason that it will change substantially while the tariff is under consideration.

The Senate coalition between the Democrats and the irregular or progressive Republicans, by which control has been—for the time, at least—wrested from the regular Republicans, presents some interesting features. One is that the 13 so-called Progressive Republicans, definitely classed as anti-administration, come exclusively from the west and northwest—not one from the east. Most of them represent states large in area but comparatively small in population. Except that in them the farmer vote is proportionately larger and the banking and corporate influence less, no convincing reason has ever been advanced as to why Republican insurgency should be so singularly confined to one section. Yet that has been the case ever since 1910 when the name "Progressives" was first adopted.

In every Republican convention and in every Republican congress since then the opposition to the organization and the administration has come from west of the Mississippi—where less than one-fourth of the people live and where wealth is largely agricultural and mineral. Wisconsin is the one exception, the one consistently Progressive state this side of the big river. It is a curious condition. Certainly there is no evidence of any quality about climate, soil atmosphere or aspect of nature in these states that breeds a sturdier and more independent spirit among the voters.

* * *

More than once has your correspondent referred in this column to the growing probability that the end of the special session would come without the enactment of any tariff bill whatsoever. Senator James E. Watson, Republican leader, has now joined the ranks of the prognosticators of no tariff revision before December. The senator is pessimistic over the outlook for action during the extra session because, as he seems to have convinced himself, of the lengthy speeches by opposition senators, especially the Democrats. He sees in these speeches a move by some Democrats to filibuster against the measure and prevent it from passing at all. Whether this or something else is the cause of Mr. Watson's gloomy and despairing view of the ultimate outcome, he would seem to have glimpsed and interpreted for himself certain hieroglyphics on the wall.

Preventing Colds.

Squeeze the juice of a lemon in a half glass of water, add half a teaspoon of bicarbonate of soda and drink it immediately. Repeat at least three times during the day, and if you wish a final glass of old-fashioned hot lemonade may be taken before retiring. Such a goodly quantity of alkaline-producing beverage should prove sufficient to ward off the cold that you anticipate. Furthermore, even though a cold is not threatening, you have placed your body in such shape that one will find it difficult to take root for some time.

Remembering the Prince's many difficulties with water hazards, let's hope he doesn't try any oceanic flights.

"THE RIGHT PRICE IS THE THING"

SNYDER, TEXAS

YOUNG FARMER CLUB STARTED BY V. A. BOYS

The Future Farmers Club was organized in the vocational agriculture class room of Snyder high school Thursday afternoon of last week, under the sponsorship of J. P. Jamison, instructor. S. D. Hays, who was made reporter for the group, is responsible for the following account of this meeting:

The boys who had vocational agriculture last year were made charter members of the club and they, in connection with Mr. Jamison, worked out the program last Thursday night. From all indications they worked out a good one. If anyone doubts the planning of a successful program, ask some of the boys who went through with the program.

The following equipment was used in the program: one storage battery and a Ford coil; two sheets of tin; one switch and a little water sprinkled on the tin; oath and obligation administered by the highness of the order; a ride in the Ford monoplane; a branding iron made in the form of the letter F; a block of ice from the coldest regions of Snyder. After all this material was used on the candidate, he was refreshed at the fountain, which was the "mug of knowledge." At this time he was escorted to a chair and kept his seat and watched other candidates get applications in systematic order from the highness of the order.

At the conclusion of the initiation we enjoyed an abundance of delicious punch, which was prepared by Billie Mitchell, who is past master of the art of making punch.

Every boy acted the sport and went through with the initiation and all are now full members in the F. F. T. Club of Snyder high school. You can bet your life you are going to hear from us many times this year, for we are behind the school and the work in all its fullness.

The club will meet next month and we are planning a bigger and better program. Let every member be on hand and do his part in all the work we undertake.

MARTIN PICKS AN ALL-ROOKIE TEAM AND CHOOSES SEVEN AMERICAN LEAGUE YOUNGSTERS FOR POSITIONS

BY PHILIP MARTIN

IN picking an all-rookie team for the 1929 baseball campaign there are two facts which crop out immediately:

First, there aren't so many bona-fide first year men about who have played regularly this year.

Second, those about are mostly in the American League.

To these conclusions may be added a third to the effect that about six young men stand out at their positions to such an extent that no argument seems possible concerning their selection.

Believe it and like it—or don't—but this writer's all-rookie team follows:

Dickey, Yankees, catcher; Ferrell, Indians, pitcher; Alexander, Tigers, first base; Kerr, White Sox, second base; Cronin, Senators, shortstop; Stripp, Reds, third base; Johnson, Tigers, Averill, Indians, and Frederick, Dodgers, outfield.

* * *

TO your correspondent's way of thinking, Dickey, Ferrell, Alexander, Averill, Frederick and Johnson are standouts. Cronin is about the only young shortstop that has been introduced as a regular this year, and Kerr is in about the same status at second. As to Stripp, he's explained by the fact that one must have a third baseman on a baseball team.

* * *

THE best young ball player of the year seems to be Wes Ferrell. Billed to stick around early in the season merely to gain the experience of seeing big league players in action, and perhaps now and then chunk a few innings in a lost game, he is acclaimed today as the most valuable pitcher on the Cleveland roster.

Winning 20 games a season is no easy task for any pitcher these days, yet Ferrell, in his first year in the majors, is so near that mark that he is practically certain to reach it before the year ends.

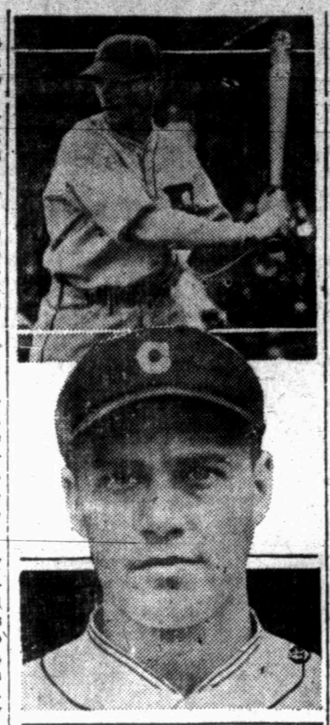

The Indians' prized rookie has size and speed and strength. He has hung up impressive victories several times against the Yankees and the Athletics, the two hardest hitting clubs in his league.

FREDERICK seems by far to be the best youngster in the National League this season. He has played a swell game of ball for Uncle Robby, and has come along to the extent that many experts predict he will be the sensation of the league in another year or so. Perhaps so. You never can tell how these rookies will pan out in later years.

* * *

BILL DICKEY, backstopper with the Yankees, also stands out as one of the finds of the year. There are very few veteran catchers in the league who are valued more highly than Dickey today. Cochrane, in his own league, is far better, but Dickey bids fair to attain Cochrane's value next season. He is a tremendous hitter, and an able workman back of the plate.

Johnny Frederick, above, with Brooklyn, and Wesley Ferrell, with Cleveland, are stand-out rookies of the year.

STATIC OFF CAPITOL DOME

BY ELIZABETH HEISER
Special Writer, Helm News Service.

Senate is making "whoopee" with the Shearer investigation and the Farm Board inquiry alongside the big tariff show in the main ring.

* * *

Senators at a wet party! Brookhart startled the Senate by announcing that Senators had attended a moist celebration at the Willard Hotel shortly after the election. He said Smoot was there, and when the dry Senator from Utah denied seeing any liquor at the party Brookhart told him that all each guest had to do was to "reach under the table and get his flask."

It appeared to the galleries as though some of the Senators slyly peered under their desks at this unexpected announcement.

* * *

After several days of grilling by the Senate Naval Committee, Mr. Shearer is still confident that he did three things; first, he broke up the Geneva conference; next, he saved the shipbuilders; and, finally—and this is why we know all about him—he earned $250,000.

* * *

The Senate was amazed that Charles L. Eyanson of the Manufacturers' Association had sat in on the secret tariff hearings. Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, had temporarily hired Eyanson as his secretary and that did the trick.

Talk of "treason" was heard as Senator Harrison shouted that the action of Bingham was "a brazen affront at the fundamentals of American government." Bingham replied that if employment of this man were treason, "then make the most of it."

* * *

Senator McMaster, of South Dakota, evidently knows his onions about the tariff. Nearly two years ago he pushed a resolution through the Senate demanding what the Progressive-Democratic coalition is demanding now—an equalization of tariff rates as between agriculture and industry.

Unlike Bingham, McMaster did not hire a lobbyist as his secretary temporarily, to give him the "low-down" on the tariff. As industrial rates are twice as high as farm rates, he figured that excessive industrial rates should come down and very low farm duties boosted.

In other words, the westerners and the Democrats are demanding the "high-down" and the "low-up" in the matter of tariff rates.

* * *

Brookhart sat in on the Senate investigation of the Farm Board. Not long ago, it will be recalled, Chairman Legge ordered the Iowa Senator out of a farm board meeting at Chicago. This time Brookhart probably thought: "Here's one place where Chairman Legge can't put me out."

Certainly a Senator at an investigating committee hearing cannot be "Legged" out.

Most Costly Horse Features Ritz Film

A $10,000 policy with the North American Insurance Company was taken out during the filming of "The California Mail" by Ken Maynard, popular western star, for his pal and equine partner Tarzan.

According to the officials of the insurance company, this is the only policy of its kind in existence, for it covers not only the death of the horse but any injuries that might occur to him at any time or place. It is also the only policy covering an animal that this company has ever written.

Tarzan is now recognized as the most valuable animal appearing in motion pictures, and the premium on the above policy costs over $2,500 a year.

"The California Mail" is Ken Maynard's latest western romance which will be the opening picture at the new Ritz Theatre Saturday.

Football

Four clippings, three from the Abilene Morning News and one from the Interscholastic Leaguer, should be of interest to everyone who loves football and especially to those who want to see the Tigers win the sectional and district crowns in class B.

The article with a Roscoe date line, in which the Plowboys' publicity man seems to be incensed over Snyder's alleged claim to the district 9 class B championship before two conference games have been played, evidently has its root in some dubious publicity coming out of Snyder which fell short of the local spirit of sportsmanship.

We reprint the dope about the eastern part of section 9 because Snyder will play the winner of that division in case she cops the western division pennant.

The third reprint, from Prexy Anderson's own column, is self-explanatory to those who have kept tab on Post teams during the past few years.

This One From Roscoe.

Snyder's open boast of having a cinch on the district 9, class B football championship was somewhat dimmed last week when the Roscoe Plowboys decisively defeated the strong Colorado eleven. Heretofore Roscoe was not given credit for even being in the district as far as making a showing in the race was concerned, although last season the Plowboys were one of the two teams to remain in the field after disqualifications were over.

Colorado was the second conference opponent for the Plowboys, Loraine having been defeated early in the season by a score of 25 to 6. Roscoe also won over Winters by a score of 18 to 12, to give them a total of three games won and one lost.

Roscoe plays Clyde at Roscoe on October 18 and Snyder at Roscoe, October 25. Coach Alton McCollum is in need of games for November 11 and Thanksgiving day and will play at Roscoe or away.

Merkel Takes the Lead.

Settlement of an ineligibility dispute in the eastern section of district 9 has practically eliminated Roby and Haskell, formerly the leaders, and has resulted in Merkel's taking the lead in the race.

At a meeting of the district executive committee last week, five Roby players, two from Haskell and one from Hamlin were found ineligible. All were disqualified on the same charge, for not having attended school the previous semester. All, however, had attended school the first term of the 1928-29 session and had made their work.

Hamlin was not hurt by the ruling, having played no conference games prior to the session. Roby's 12-6 victory over Merkel, won at the West Texas Fair here in September, was forfeited to Merkel, and the Roby-Haskell scoreless tie week before last was ruled as a loss for each team.

Merkel leads in the eastern section with two games won and none lost, following a 6 to 9 win from Stamford last week and the ruling of the committee. Roby is second with one game won and two lost.

In the western section of the district, the race has been practically narrowed to Snyder and Roscoe. The Plowboys Friday defeated Colorado, 15 to 0, the first victory for Roscoe over the Wolves in four years.

A Customer, He Says.

Snyder's athletic agent has made it known through the columns of this paper that the high school team of that place is anxious to arrange football games on several dates. Well, Snyder, we have a customer for you this morning.

It is Post, and Harry Taylor, the Post coach, wires in to say that he will be pleased to engage Snyder on either of their suggested dates, October 18 or November 1. He does not say so, but the tone of his telegram implies that he believes Snyder might be a trifle skittish of tackling such a team as the Post Antelopes. We believe that Snyder now has a previous engagement for October 18, but if the match could be arranged on the first week-end in November, it should be second to none as an attraction between class B teams of West Texas.

From what we can hear, Post is nearly out of its class as a B team and could defeat many of the class A teams. Snyder also has a good eleven, although it has lost a couple of close decisions. It is developing, and would be as severe a test for the Antelopes as any eleven in the section.

Rules Is Rules

Only two changes will be found in the football plan this year. One is in regard to the tie game, and the other is a new rule concerning spring football games.

The tie-game rule has been changed in an attempt to clarify it. This rule applies only in inter-district elimination contests (unless the district executive committee makes it effective in the district) and the referee of the game is charged with the responsibility of interpreting and enforcing it on the spot.

If a game ends in a tie the team which has penetrated its opponent's 20-yard line the greater number of times is declared the winner. If the teams remain tied after counting 20-yard line penetrations the team with more first downs is given credit for the victory. If the teams are still tied after considering these two factors, the one that has gained the most yardage shall be allowed to proceed in the race.

Rule 26 on Page 85 of the Constitution and Rules was made in accordance with a resolution passed at the last state meeting. This rule is designed not to stop spring football practice but to stop football games between schools in the spring. Those in attendance at the state meeting were convinced that spring football games are entirely out of place and decrease rather than increase interest in the sport.

Effective September 1, 1930, all coaches (this includes assistants) will be required to be full-time employees of the school board.

The 10 semester rule is now in effect. A pupil who has been in high school 10 semesters is not eligible. He is eligible during his tenth semester but not after. An enrollment for a period as long as three weeks counts one semester against the student. A student is a high school student in the meaning of this rule when he enrolls for three courses in the eighth grade or higher.

The college contestants rule has been changed making ineligible any person who has ever attended a college as a regular college student. This means that in cities where a junior college is conducted in connection with the high school a boy who has enrolled for as much as one course in the college is not eligible in the high school, even if he is taking three courses in the high school.

THIS COMMUNITY EXHIBIT WINS AT FAIR

Jewish Holiday Is Observed by Store

Yom Kippur, the most sacred of Jewish holidays, was observed by the Economy Dry Goods Company of Snyder last Monday, when the store was closed.

Yom Kippur, Day of Atonement, is regarded by orthodox Jews as the Sabbath of Sabbaths, and brings to an end 10 days of penitence, which began with Rosh Hashonah, or New Year's Day, October 5. The Economy store was also closed on the Jewish New Year. The holidays begin and end at 6 p. m.

The history of the Day of Atonement reveals that in the days when the temple stood in Jerusalem and Israel dwelt in Palestine, the offering of special sacrifices comprised the chief ceremonial of the day. The purpose of all the sacrificial pomp detailed in Leviticus was to bring man to atone for his sins. The high priest recited a confession of the sins and transgressions of the whole nation which impressed the worshippers present with awe and reverence. The most solemn moment of the day came when the high priest entered the Holy of Holies all alone and uttered there a short prayer.

With the destruction of the temple and the exile of the Jewish people, the procedure of the observance of this day changed quite radically, but the siginficance of the Day of Atonement has grown in meaning and value to Jewish life. The altar fell, the high priest was no more, but the idea of the day has survived throughout the last 2,000 years as most solemn and sacred. Prayers and meditations replaced the sacrifices.

SNYDER BACKS TERRACE PLAN

Members of the vocational agriculture classes in Snyder high school obtained liberal donations this week from local merchants to help them in a soil conservation campaign for Scurry County. The funds will be used to buy placards and posters, and to care for other phases of a soil conservation program.

Two members of the Future Farmers Club, as the organization of V. A. students is known, will be Dallas tour visitors, as club representatives.

Here is the list of donors among Snyder business men: Howard Dry Goods Co., $1; Hugh Taylor & Co., $1; John Keller, $1; Candy Kitchen, 50 cents; Snyder Insurance Agency, 50 cents; Nelson Dunn, 50 cents; Rogers & Co., 50 cents; Elza & Weninger, $1; Snyder News, $1; Moffett & Noble, 50 cents; Farmers Exchange, $1; F. T. Walker, 50 cents; Star Grocery and Market, 50 cents; Arthur Townsend, 50 cents; H. L. Davis, 75 cents; Piggly Wiggly, 50 cents; Montgomery Cafe, 50 cents; Caton-Bodson, $2; Stinson Drug Company, $2.50; Warren Brothers, $1.50; First State Bank & Trust Company, $2.50.

J. P. Jamison, teacher of vocational agriculture at Snyder High School, furnished The News with the following article on soil conservation:

The continued prosperity of your business and our business depends in no small degree on the perpetuation of the farm on a comfortable and paying basis. For we know that when agriculture fails, business suffers.

With this thought in mind, the vocational boys in the high school, under the supervision of the vocational teacher, are planning and have started a program of soil conservation in Scurry County. It is truly constructive work and merits the active co-operation of everyone in the entire county.

Last Tuesday within a few hours representatives from the V. A. classes solicited from the business men of Snyder $24.70 to buy posters and stickers to bring to the minds of every man, woman and child in the county the idea of soil conservation. These posters and stickers will be put in business houses and on cars all over the county when they arrive from the publishers, which will be a short time. The posters and stickers will be sent to the surrounding towns and communities in all the county.

Anyone who travels over the county can readily see that the great need in the county is to conserve the soil and the moisture, which can be done if it is brought before the people properly. We can only do as we know to do, and are taught to do. No county or state or nation rises above its thinking, so let's get to thinking in terms of saving our soil and stop the washes, gullies and hold what moisture we get, and in a short time we will see the effects of the efforts we put forth.

Mr. Jamison, following the liberal response from the business men in the soliciting of funds, stated: "We as a class and club wish to express to these men our thanks in this enterprise and feel that a great good will be accomplished by this soil conservation campaign which we wish to push without hesitation on our part. We are for the town and for Scurry County citizenship in general."

Leading Educators Will Be at Institute

Dr. J. W. Hunt president of McMurry College, Abilene, and Dean R. P. Jarrett of the West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon, will be principal speakers at the annual institute of Scurry County teachers, November 1 and 2, according to A. A. Bullock, county superintendent.

Other speakers, including those inside and outside this county, will also be on the program. An interesting and instructive two-day meet is in prospect, the superintendent states.

Dr. Hunt will speak Friday morning, while Dean Jarrett will be on the Saturday morning program.

FEED STORE IN SNYDER OPENS

With C. W. "Bill" Tatum as manager, the Star Feed Store and Hatchery opened just west of the square, in the former Snyder Hardware Company location, last Saturday. The new local store is a branch of the Economy Mills of Lubbock.

The feed store specializes in West Texas feeds for West Texas needs. Mr. Tatum states that Economy feeds are the only ones on the market which are made especially for West Texas feeding conditions, and that stockmen and poultrymen throughout this section of the state are finding that the name "Economy" is well given.

The Economy feeds are made for poultry, hogs, dairy cows and other stock. They range from starter feeds to mixed feeds for regular use.

Mr. Tatum invites poultry raisers to visit him at any time when they need help in solving their problems. He is ready to assist in culling, in which he has had considerable experience, and to help in doctoring diseased poultry.

Two 16,000-egg Petersime incubators and a complete brooder system will be installed in connection with the feed store at the beginning of the new year, according to Mr. Tatum.

The Economy Mills, in placing the new store here, say that they believe in the future of Scurry County as a poultry raising center, and it is thought by local authorities that such a far-sighted step as the Lubbock concern has taken will give a new push to chicken and turkey raising in this section.

FOUR BOYS WIN TRIPS TO FAIR

According to County Agent W. O. Logan, there has been some outstanding club boys' work finished this year. There are records turned in at his office which show some boys are making things go in Four-H Club work.

This week Ambrose Trussell of the Fluvanna club, Terrell Bowlin of the Hermleigh club, Otho Gilmore of the Bethel club and Ed Jones, champion ton litter raiser, are enjoying the State Fair as a result of their record. The Scurry County Fair Association is sending two of the boys and the county commissioners' court is sending the other two. The State Fair Association furnishes all amusements, dormitory and beds and real board for the boys while at Dallas, free of charge. There are about 400 boys from 88 counties attending the fair this year, and they represent the boys who have outstanding accomplishments over the state.

Penney Manager Is Back From Course

H. H. Thomas, manager of the J. C. Penney store, returned early in the week from Dallas, where he attended a week-long salesmanship course for Penney store managers from all sections of the state.

"They crammed two weeks' work into one," declared the local man, upon his return, "and I feel like I had gone through a hard week in the store. A lot of the managers from towns much larger than Snyder wondered where I got so much business in a city of 5,000 people, for the local sales records are higher than those in places of several more thousand population."

Leading salesmen for the national Penney chain of stores were instructors during the course.

Snyder Laundry Is Explained to Women

In order to show the women of Scurry and adjoining counties that an up-to-date laundry handles their daintiest garments with even greater care than the owners could do, Mr. and Mrs. Sam LaRue of the Snyder laundry started a "let us show you" idea recently which has met with a hearty response.

The laundry owners invite women's organization's to come to the laundry in a body, and to be shown every detail of laundry work from the time the garments are taken from the delivery wagon until they are placed, spotless and white, at the patron's doorstep. Each organization member who goes through the laundry on these special occasions is given 25 cents.

Texas has more land in cultivation than any other state and also has more good raw land available for future cultivation than any other state.

W. W. Hull, leader, and B. O. Stavely are on the committee to work out plans for this motorcade if it is thought best to send the band.

Plans are being made now for the band to play a public concert at Fluvanna within the next 30 days. There will be about 10 more members added to this band within the next few weeks.

Director Crowley states that Scurry County is now a member of the South Plains Music Festival area and is eligible to compete in the West Texas solo and ensemble contests to be held in Lubbock in the spring. Several from the local band expect to mix their talent with the members of other West Texas bands next spring for solo and duet honors.
