FLOOD WATERS
SLOWLY COVER
LARGER AREARESIDENTS HELPLESS AS FLOOD MOVES ON;
MANY DEAD

(By The Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—With approximately 8,000 square miles inundated and the waters from breaks in the Atchafalaya river and Bayou Des Glaises levees constantly covering more territory, residents of south central Louisiana today helplessly watched the greatest flood in the history of the state as it moved toward the Gulf of Mexico.

Many Thought Dead

An undetermined number of lives have been lost and prospects are that many more will perish before the waters finally fall. At Melville, 130 miles northwest of New Orleans, on the Atchafalaya river, where the most serious break occurred yesterday, 10 negroes were unofficially reported to have been drowned. At Rosa plantation near Melville, the fate of forty persons was not known here. They were thought to have been trapped in the lowland where a 15 to 20 mile an hour current was flowing.

Negroes Asked To Leave Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 18 (AP).—The Arkansas Gazette said today that letters warning them to leave Little Rock had been received by several negro business men. The communications threatened that "the white people" would "kill you" if the negroes failed to depart. "All negroes are undesirable here and the town will be unhealthy for them after today," the warnings asserted.

The letters were mimeographed on ordinary tablet paper. They were addressed with type writers.

Little Rock has a negro population running into the thousands.

The killing of several white children here recently, attributed to negroes has caused authorities to take precautions to prevent serious race riots.

Gowns For Girl Graduates

Modesty and Simplicity Are Their Motifs

By HERR BENDEL
For NEA Service

NEW YORK, May 18.—This is the time of year when fashion turns her spotlight on the "sweet girl graduate."

No one welcomes this season

FOR commencement, a "different" model, dignified and chic, of beige lace, given a touch of color by a turquoise set belt buckle (left) and a much be-tucked frock of white georgette.

more than the couturier. For growing the fresh, young beauty of the girl still in her teens is more a pleasure than a task.

I am adamant about certain rules for the graduation dress. It must capitalize the shy, sweet qualities that are inherent in the girl not yet out in the world.

No Sophistication
The graduation gown may have innocent grace that enhances a young girl's beauty. But the least sophisticated touch spoils it.

Modesty is the first rule. Long sleeves, an informal neckline, skirt over the knee cap and with enough fullness to permit sitting at ease.

Simplicity comes as the second rule. Casualty of white or some soft cream or beige shade, the graduation frock should have a total effect that appeals smartness by simplicity. Georgette, crepe, flannel, lace and soft satins are best materials. No ribbons, bows, flowers, embroidery or gew-gaws of any kind should it have.

Out Of Place
Our frock I will not make for graduation by the "party frock." Dresses without sleeves and with décolleté neckline are absolutely out of place on the school platform at graduation time.

For a third rule, always design a graduation frock so it may be used as a little dinner dress, or frock for the country club veranda after graduation. Future use is ever a consideration.

Wide type of simple dress which I have found a favorite is fashioned of white crepe, Roma, taking draped oval, inserts or tucks in neckband effect as the universal, timeless. Its neckline is truly the same line a neckband makes. The skirt has front, back and side fan-shaped inserts of any knife pleating and the tight

fluffs ending the graceful sleeves and in a tucked insert.

This frock is especially suited to the girl who is inclined to be plump. For it is slightly bloused and then caught tight at the hipline with a tucked belt that ends in a girlish bow.

Touch of Color
Of utterly different design is the exquisite beige thread run lace frock pictured today. Eight little ruffles of the lace form the graceful skirt. Its smart scarf collar gives it unique chic and a neckline extremely becoming to youth. For youth can stand a certain dignity and profit by it.

Its sleeves are slender and long, falling softly over the wrist onto the hand. The slightly bloused waist is held in place by a lace belt which sports a buckle of white gold set with turquoise, a little touch of color for "good luck."

The Eyegard model in white georgette demonstrates this season's insistence upon tucks and more tucks for style. This two-piece model

rel I have designed for an exclusive girls' school for an exclusive girls' school.

The pleats are pyramid up the front and back of the blouse in the design so popular this spring. Three half-inch belts caught with tiny pearl buckles give the becoming light-ship effect. Probably most interesting is the neck treatment—a bias fold forming the monk's collar which, instead of running around the neck, has its ends long to form a tie that gives youth to the model.

THREE NEW SEASON RECORDS SET IN HECTIC MAJOR LEAGUE DAY

CUBS DEFEAT BOSTON IN 22 INNINGS PLAY

NEW MARKS ALSO SET IN HOME RUNS HIT AND VICTORIES PITCHED

New records for the longest and closest game, greatest number of runs hit and most victories pitched were on the big league record books today.

Boston and Chicago of the National league played 22 innings before the Cubs won, 4 to 2, at Boston. Babe Ruth slammed out his ninth homer in a game against Detroit. Herb Pennock pitched his fifth victory in the same contest, which the Yankees won 3 to 2.

Required 4 Hours 13 Minutes
It took four hours and 13 minutes to play that overgrown ball game at Boston. The same two teams battled 18 innings Saturday and did not play Sunday or Monday, making a total of forty innings in two consecutive games. The record for long games is held by the same Boston outfit, jointly with Brooklyn, the two played 26 innings by Boston seven years ago.

Bob Osborn was the hero of the 22 inning struggle. He took the box for Chicago in the ninth and held the Braves to six hits. For 14 innings—from the seventh to the 22nd—the rivals battled without a score. Grimm's single with a man on base finally ended it. The Cubs made only one error and the Warriors two. Not a hit went for more than two bases.

Ruth Hits Ninth Homer
Babe Ruth brought his season's total of circular clouts to nine by sending a new ball over the score board at the Tigers' park. Heinte Harnish, Detroit center fielder, batted safely four times out of five, but Pennock had the edge on Rip Collins and thereby brought his total of wins for the year to five. His nearest rivals are the same Collins and Meadows of the Pirates, each with four.

In the downfall of the Cardinals, 4 to 3, at the hands of the Phillies, the defeat of the Pirates, 2 to 1, by the Robins, and the Nationals had a couple of upsets. The Cubs knocked the Bascoppers from third place to fifth, as the Phillies went to third behind the Cards and the Cubs slide into fourth. The Braves cling to the lead by handing the Reds their sixth straight defeat, 2 to 0.

After a massacre of the Indians by the Senators, 12 to 0, the Clevelanders sank from fifth to seventh. The St. Louis Browns went up, along with the Senators, by handling the Athletics an unexpected lacing, 11 to 6, beating the White Sox with bunched hits, 6 to 3. The Red Sox renewed their effort to get off the dead of the league.

STROKE SAVERS

There is no space between the fingers. They are close together, but they are not to be cramped.

The hands are the most sensitive organs in golf. The whole stroke begins and ends here. Some golfers have a finer touch than others. It is something that must be developed from the time a clumsy duffer picks up a club like a broom to the delicately balanced touch of the finished player.

Star Jumper Sets New Jump Record

MISS ELLA CARTWRIGHT

Miss Ella Cartwright, student at Humboldt Teachers' college in Eureka, Calif., recently established a new national record for women in the broad jump in a track meet there. BUSINESS MEN OFFER TRADES DAY SATURDAY

SATURDAY PROGRAM IS CHANGED FROM ELLIS BUILDING FOR ROOM

With business men of Lubbock co-operating heartily in plans for the American Legion convention here Saturday and Sunday by declaring a special trades day and decorating their windows and premises in keeping with the occasion, a call has now gone out from Legion officials for aid from the citizenship at large in supplying a large number of cars that will be needed to transport visitors from place to place for the various portions of the program.

100 Cars Needed
At least 100 cars will be needed Saturday night. It was announced today following change in location of the Saturday night program from the Temple Ellis building down town to the assembly hall on the college campus, and an equal number of cars will be needed Sunday at noon when the visitors will be taken for a ride over the city immediately following the program at the First Presbyterian church. The Sunday banquet also will be held in one of the college buildings, and the procession will lead to this point from the ride over the city. "Visitors Welcome" stickers also are available for use on automobile windshields, and may be secured either from the chamber of commerce office, Brown's Drug store and the Hotel Drug store in the Lubbock hotel building. Citizens are urged to secure one of these and aid as far as possible in the two-day program. A royal welcome for all visitors is being planned.

Many Visitors Expected
In addition to the several hundred ex-service men who are expected to be here, other hundreds, not ex-service men or women in the sense of eligible Legion membership, will be in Lubbock to take advantage of the special bargain prices to be offered by Lubbock merchants during the day.

Practically every business firm in the city, through the Retail Merchants Association has declared Saturday a special trades day, and will post prices in keeping with the slogan.
To the end that visitors may be royally entertained, the entire Saturday afternoon program of the convention will be public, and will be given on the west side of the square, where Texas Avenue between Main and Broadway will be roped off from traffic through co-operation of police officers and City Commission. The program will be interesting and unique in every way, with a variety of offerings designed to please everyone. Four bands, and possibly five, will be in continuous concert throughout the afternoon.

Marine Forces Outnumbered As Two Are Killed

(By The Associated Press)
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, May 18.—When Captain Richard Bell Buchanan and Private Martin Jackson of the United States marines were killed in a clash with liberals their platoon was outnumbered 10 to 1. Fourteen liberals were killed. Details of Monday's clash were received today.

The marine camp in the vicinity of La Paz Centro, near Leon, was aroused about one o'clock Monday morning by shots. Immediately the call to arms was sounded and a platoon in command of Captain Buchanan and Lieutenant C. J. Chappel, left camp to investigate. Bullets began to fly thick and fast. When the marines entered La Paz Centro they encountered 200 liberals, who were breaking into houses and stores. The small government garrison had fled.

In the battle which ensued Captain Buchanan, while trying to cross a street, was fired on by three men in a doorway, receiving two wounds, one in the chest and one in the arm.

The engagement continued until about 2:30 a. m. when the liberals retreated in the direction of Tamirindo.

Shot Through Brain
Private Jackson was shot through the brain. Corporal Anthony J. Rauch was wounded in the chest, and Private William F. Simon in one hand.

Brigadier General Logan Pland, commanding the engagement, said: "I am glad to state this marine detachment under most difficult circumstances and although outnumbered 10 to 1, has upheld the reputation of the marine corps. Captain Buchanan and his detachment showed bravery of the highest order."

Better Treatment in Highway Allotments Asked in Resolutions

(By Associated Press)
WICHITA FALLS, May 18.—The ninth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce adjourned here at 10 o'clock last night after selecting Fort Worth for next year's meeting city and electing Attorney R. W. Haynie of Abilene president.
Resolutions adopted asked for better treatment in highway allotments for West Texas, urged taxation of the 5,000,000 acres of university lands in West Texas, and recommended creation of an oil and gas division in the chamber to protect the oil industry of the section. No action was taken on the question of Mexican immigration, which the South Texas Chamber of Commerce had urged in a proposal that no restriction should be placed on the class of immigration.
Among resolutions adopted was one concerning the common point rate decision of the interstate commerce commission. The resolution instructed the traffic department of the chamber to continue its analysis of the decision and when the full effect is ascertained the resolution urged that every effort be made to maintain the present rate schedule.

TROUBLE OVER FLIGHT AIRED

Change in Personnel for Columbia Likely Before Flight Is Started

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 18.—Squalls in the trans-Atlantic flight circles, heretofore confined to the weather, today reached a point that indicated a change in the crew of the Bellanca plane Columbia.
Charles A. Levine, chairman of the board of the Columbia Aircraft corporation, who owns the plane, endeavors to obtain a navigator to supplant Lloyd Bertaud, air mail pilot, with whom he has been in dispute for several days.
Will Continue Flight
Bertaud, however, announced his

of the most modern district schools in the state. The normal attendance of the school which has pupils ranging from the kindergarten through the tenth grade, is 500. The pupils are picked up by buses and taken to the school each day.

North End of Building Wrecked
The entire north end of the structure was leveled by the blast. The boiler for the heating system was located in that part of the building. All available physicians, nurses and ambulances were sent from here to the scene.

Among the identified dead were Glen Smith, postmaster at Bath, and Nelson McFarren, both were passing the school house at the time of the explosion. McFarren was killed instantly and Smith died in a Lansing hospital. Both his legs were severed by the explosion.

Novelist Is Held After Death Of Friend On Farm

Willimantic, Conn., May 18 (AP)—State police have been ordered under no circumstances let Leonard Cline, playwright and novelist, determination to make the flight if at all possible. In a telegram to Levine, who was staying at the same hotel in Garden City, Bertaud offered to waive all financial regard and donate his share of the prize money to the families of Ned Davis and Stanton Wooster, killed in a crash of their plane American Legion.

Should this be not satisfactory, he said, he would be willing to give the prize money to Levine rather than forego making the flight. Levine refused to comment on the telegram, but said no matter what occurred Clarence Chamberlin, pilot of the plane, would remain a member of its crew.

Offered To Bailen
Lieutenant Bert Bailen, a Norwegian aviator, accompanied Commander Richard E. Byrd on his flight to the North Pole, was offered Bertaud's place but declined to force Bertaud out of the flight.

Meanwhile Captain Charles Lindbergh is eagerly awaiting favorable weather for a hop-off in his Ryan monoplane and Commander Richard Byrd and his two flying companions, Lieutenant George Noville and Bert Acosta, continue to bring their giant Fokker plane, American, to a point of perfection.

Slight improvement in flying conditions over the Atlantic was reported by the weather bureau, but conditions were said to be still favorable for a trans-oceanic flight.

whose friend, Wilfred Irwin of New York City, died last night from a wound received at Cline's Mansfield farm yesterday, out of their sight. This order followed the discovery of a noose in Cline's home which the Tolland county investigator believes may have been prepared by Cline with suicidal intent.

Cline today was recovering from a blood transfusion, performed in an attempt to save Irwin's life, for which he gave a pint of blood. No formal charge has been placed against him pending a coroner's hearing.

An autopsy showed that the wound that resulted in Irwin's death had been caused by a shot gun, between sixty and eighty slugs lodging in the right side. The shooting, Cline said, was accidental. Police have been unable to locate Irwin's wife, who was a week-end visitor at the Cline home. Cline's wife has not been at Mansfield for some time.

TH and Bob looked at each other with blank eyes, sick with disappointment, when they saw that passenger who alighted from the car they were pursuing was a crippled, twisted old wreck, a man, but a heavily stooping, middle-aged business man. He had his fare and passed through the storm doors of the building's entrance.

"Suppose I'm a fool, but I want to follow that man, find out where he goes, and if a cop can't find him, I'll find him myself," said the man who had just alighted from the car. "I'll follow him, and if he goes to a police business, God knows I'll find him!" And Bob swung out of the car and ran into the building, uniformed elevator starter had given the signal for a car to go to its door and ascend when Bob had the row of elevators.

"Can you tell me who that gentleman is?" he asked the starter. "The last one who entered the car was a man in the gray overcoat and felt hat, middle-aged, tall and thin, that's Mr. Hutchinson, president of The Modern Terpsichore Club, on the seventh floor," the starter told him.

"The Modern Terpsichore Club?" Bob asked. "That's a new name, isn't it? What does it do?" "Dancing," he hardly looks the part, haven't you seen his ads in the papers and magazines?" the starter said with a grin. "How to learn dancing, in ten easy lessons." Mail order graft, you know. Been in the business about six or eight months, pretty good little business, understood, though Mr. Hutchinson leaves most of the work to his secretary. She tells me she's working herself to death."

"Did you find out where the beggar got out of the taxi?" Faith asked when he took his place at the wheel again.

"He drove down for a few minutes, then asked abruptly: 'You not look into that cab when the beggar got out, did you, dear?'"

"No, I didn't," Faith answered.

"That smartly dressed business man, darling," Bob grinned at her, "his eyes were serious with light, 'was not so smartly dressed a year or so ago. In fact he was wearing a nifty suit of horizontal stripes."

"What in the world do you mean, Bob?" Faith gasped. "What is he?"

"None other than Brady W. Hutchinson, who was convicted of embezzlement in this town about ten years ago. I didn't recognize him at first—he looks much older—why he's really only about thirty-eight years old, but he looks fifty."

"Did Mr. Cluny defend him?" Faith demanded, her eyes widening with incredulous hope.

"He did—and lost the case. Don't you remember? But I guess you were too young. Hutchinson was caught dead to rights, though the bank he swindled never recovered the money. There were ugly rumors that he turned it over to Uncle Ralph to defend him, and to salt the rest of it away for him until he got out of trouble and could skip the country."

"Brady W. Hutchinson!" Faith cried, awe-struck at the size of the name.

How Much Learned?

The Republic of France, say press
dispatches, is preparing to construct a mighty ring of forts all along its borders.

The 1928 budget contains allowances for building a remarkable
string of fortresses. The fortresses,
it is stated, are to be linked up
with earthworks, railways, air-
dromes, battery emplacements and so on; billions of francs will be expended to give France complete
military security.

Now, to be sure, France is in a situation very different from the past, and it is hardly to the point to compare our own preparations with hers. Yet this announcement does cause one to wonder just how much
the European leaders learned from the World War.

It was a costly lesson—so costly
that it almost reached the point
where one might say, "No lesson
can be worth so great a cost." And,
indeed, if it did not teach European politicians that the old system of international relationships was
worse than useless, we might say
that now.

No one can tell what the result
of another war like the last one would be. It would wreck European civilization. It is too great a risk to take.

Military preparedness is all very well. It will be many, many years before it becomes altogether unnecessary. But, for European nations, there is one thing even more important—one lesson that the last war taught to all who were not too
blind to see: another large-scale
war in Europe MUST be avoided—
at all costs.

It looks as if those in control in France had not even caught a glimmering of this fact. Their minds apparently still run in the old groove. They prepare to spend billions of francs on fortifications
and elaborate defense systems, crying meanwhile that the present
"unsettled state of foreign affairs"
does not permit their relaxing their
vigilance for the national safety.

This is not our problem. Our condition is different. We are more isolated, richer, more removed from the cross-currents of European hatreds. We do not have a long line of "traditional enemies" such as each European nation has. Nor
—let us say it, gratefully—do we have rulers who still conduct international affairs as if foreign
politics were some absorbing game,
in which armies and navies were inanimate counters.

France may build her mighty
ring of fortresses if she wishes.
But the fact remains that these
will not keep her out of war if her rulers and the rulers of her neighbors do not buckle down promptly
to a real effort to make war impossible; nor will they save her
from bankruptcy and ruin if another full-sized war does come.

No Features

By and large, we Americans have endured a lot of "big time" murder trials. But not in the memory of man has there been a trial quite
on the level of this Snyder-Gray
case in New York.

Not a redeeming feature anywhere. Each party to the crime trying frantically to throw all the blame on the other. Each one seeking to escape at the expense of the one who, a short time ago, was a lover. The thing is about as repel-ling as a murder trial can get.

We could by stretching a point
stomach another Leopold-Leah case,
or even another Hall-Mills trial, but between the Snyder-Gray case and
this trial, there is a vast difference.

Spectacular Stunt

Whether or not Clarence D.
Chubbuckin succeeds in flying
across the Atlantic, he has done
something of which he may be very proud.

By his coolness and skill in making a landing with a badly damaged landing gear while two little girls rode with him, as terrified
passengers, he prevented a tragedy.
And we'll never that even success
in the New York-Paris flight
would make him feel any better than that exploit did.

THE PLAINSMAN

The announcement has been made
that L. J. Von Tungen, director of athletics at Lubbock high school
during the last year, will not return to his work. That the Plain-
man believes, is highly regrettable.
With assistant coach, Henry Frnka,
Von Tungen gave Lubbock high school its first taste of up-to-date
athletic direction, at least its first taste in recent years. His teams
have been more successful and certainly better coached than any seen in action here in some time. The Plainman believes that had Von Tungen been kept at his post for one high school generation, that Lubbock high school would have taken its place in athletic circles of the state that it should be occupying and that, prior to this year,
it never even came close to commanding. As the Plainman sees it
there is just one bright spot in the coaching situation for Lubbock high school and that is that Henry Frnka will be given the helm. Frnka's work as assistant director here this year, has been outstanding. To say that to him
goes a big share of the credit of Lubbock's success is not only true
but is cheering for the future. It leaves the only optimistic touch to the exit of Von Tungen. It is to be hoped that his assistant will be of
such a calibre that the good work
can be carried on.

The Plainman is glad to see
that the directors of the Panhandle
and South Plains fair are planning
more amusement features this year
than ever before. Amusement features make a fair's attendance and
a fair's attendance makes the fair.
People go to a fair to be educated
yet they also go to be amused and there are, perhaps said to say, many people who prefer to be amused
rather than educated. Since such is the case offer the amusement and
the education will automatically go along with it even if some of those attending do not care for the education.

The grass is always shorter on

A Hard Task-Master

WASHINGTON LETTER

A HERO TO HIS VALET?
WELL, MR. COOLIDGE HAS
ADMIRATION OF PORTER

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of three articles telling
just what happened when the president of the United States
goes for a ride on a railroad
train.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Calvin Coolidge is among those who do not call Pullman porters
"George."

The porter who takes care of Mr.
and Mrs. Coolidge during their travels is Herbert G. Williams and the president calls him "Williams."
Few men are heroes to their valets,
but the man whose valet is simple
and whose disposition is agreeable
is the greatest man in the world
to his valet, and that's what
Mr. Coolidge is to Williams.

On the other hand, Williams is just about the world's greatest porter who he wouldn't have been appointed to serve the president on every trip since he was just a vice president. Between presidential trips Williams works on private cars
for millionaires.

Easy to Wait On.
"One of the easiest men to wait
on ever saw," says Williams of President Coolidge. "You can tell when he's pleased when he doesn't say anything. Never says
a word except he'll tell you when he wants anything."

"He don't want no airs. He don't want no unnecessary like a lot of people. If he wants anything he wants that, but he never puts on any airs."

Williams also recommends J. P.
Morgan, John D. Rockefeller and W. L. Mellon, whom he has also served. Not that the bigger they come the nicer they are, for Williams finds some of the wealthiest
to be the meanest.

"Only time I ever heard him
complain was when the car was too warm," Williams said, getting back to Coolidge. "He never calls
for anything at night except two years ago when he asked to open
a ventilator. Yes sir, when that man goes to bed he's gone!"

"Lots of men you got to keep a running and pumping and making all kinds of fuss over 'em. Most
Mr. Coolidge wants is a glass of water, or me to get his valet or for
a menu, because he always writes
his order before he goes to the dining car."

You mustn't get the impression that Williams is gossip. He told
all this in answer to questions after being assured that it was all right with his superiors. Williams
is a very intelligent colored man.

"Wonderful woman," he ex-
claimed when asked about Mrs.
Coolidge. "Just pleasant comments and ways. I never seen her
in my life without a smile on her face. Always a pleasant smile and that goes a long ways when you have to wait on 'em. You never get tired as long as you live doing things for that lady. Very little she asks for. Always says thank you for the least little things."

How did Williams get his super-portering job and what does he
think of as he sits through the days
and evenings waiting to be called
to his high duty?

"I'll tell you how come," says
Williams. "I never in my life done
nothing but give service and first-class work. They want men for a private car that knows how to do all kinds of service. You have to be refined and polite on the job
and know your place. A private car
porter has to do washing, ironing
and cooking and everything else

CONSOLATION

We are profound believers in the statement that if you cast your
bread upon the waters, so to speak,
it will return to you many days
hence. Some time ago we broadcast
a menu of corn pone, butter milk,
new cabbage, chicken pie and a few other things to a couple of exceedingly hungry wayfarers and we are invited out to take part in an elaborate luncheon today. Ain't this
a fine old world in which we live?

AN INTERESTING HUNT

The Smithsonian Institution is now engaged in trying to trace the origin of the American Indian. It has a hunch that this country was first settled by immigrants who came by the Bering Straits, and it wants to find out if this hunch is right.

It's an interesting problem. The unknown history of the red men on
this continent would make an absorbing tale if it could be brought
out. There are mysteries enough
in it, we suspect, to keep the institution's investigators busy for a long time. Here's hoping they can unravel a few of them.—Corpus Christi Caller.

BARBS

Those Chinese are going to be about the business of war for a long time, it seems. Then just think how much longer it'll take to find out who won it!

"Pick Saints to Win," said a
headline in a Kansas City newspaper. We started to read it, but it was about the St. Paul ball team
and not a story about Al Smith at all.

A man sent President Coolidge
two lion cubs. However, we haven't seen any pictures of Mr. Coolidge in a cage with them. Mussolini's example notwithstanding.

The veterans' bureau made a
watch repairer of a boiler maker,
a poultry farmer of a cowboy, an
insurance salesman of a carpenter.
Possibly the bureau could make a little sense out of the dispatches
from China.

Headlines you never see: RES-IDENT, 98, SAYS HE'S HEALTHY

Escapes Cameraman
Some time there's going to be a body Parisian whose pictures don't appear under the caption, "France's Most Beautiful Legs." Then you'll hear wings flapping outside your door and know that the do-do has

down to washing the baby's clothes.
"But the president wasn't any trouble even when he had a private
car—not the least in the world."

"I use my mind in spare time
thinking up things to do to be of service. For instance, I might be sitting down and I might figure out
some way to make his bed more soft and comfortable. Then I go
try it out and see how it works."

Don't Make 'Em Wait
"The main thing is to always be around when they want things done
as they don't have to wait. When I think it's about time for him
to want anything I get around
somewhere where he can see me.
Be punctual and on time for everything—that's the big secret. I always know just when to make his bed."

IN NEW YORK
SEE-SAWING
and
BROADWAY

NEW YORK, May 18.—There are
many straits of prominence in Manhattan.

Many a writer and artist, whose names reach temporary and permanent heights among the cognoscenti,
can go unrecognized along the New York highways. Few of the writing gentry reach a very high state of affluence. Many are merely comfortably circumstanced.

There are a few names that seem constantly to pop into the "among those present list." Thus Fannie Hurst is an inveterate "first nighter" at theater openings. Edna Ferber
is frequently to be found in these audiences. And the Norrises—
Charles and Kathleen, Hope Hampden and husband are generally to be found "everywhere." One very seldom sees Edith Wharton or Willa Cather, for instance. And, unless you stray often into Town Hall, it is an accident if you come upon Hamlin Garland at the "usual" places.

Edgar Lee Masters, who wrote
the great "Spoon River Anthology,"
used to live modestly in a Chelsea boarding house. Theodore Dreiser for many years occupied a basement in St. Luke's place near the home spot
of Mayor Jimmie Walker and later
lived modestly in a Sixth avenue
flat building. Fostine, came with "The American Tragedy" and Dreiser
moved up-town, but he is seldom
to be found where the crowds go.
He was criticized, believe it or not,
at the premiere of a Russian film
has winter.

Christopher Morley lives a quiet,
scholarly life with his family in Garden City.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is to be found generally at political gatherings, but Kermit is seldom in the Broadway or ballroom throngs or at the political meetings.

John Erskine, who met great success with "Helen of Troy" and "Calahad," has not been wooed far from the Columbus campus, at which university he functions as professor.

Over in St. Mark's Place, on the East Side, I next came upon Max-
well Bodenheim, who has done several novels and many poems. "And
there, too, was Margaret Larkin,
who was awarded the prize last
year in the national Little Theater prize contest. And how many in Manhattan, or elsewhere, would know her name? Yet her play was conceded to be one of the best to be done by a young American. She came out of New Mexico about a year ago, a guitar under her arm.

Quite often I have encountered
Rachmaninoff, composer and pianist, eating in a little Village "in-de-a-way."

BUT, after all, Manhattan is a pretty big place and thousands of "names" that would attract wide attention if flashed upon the average
place get all but lost in the competitive shuffle.

That's one of the things you come
to like about New York—that is, if you're not an egotist.

MEDICAL MEN
ARE LAUDED
BY COOLIDGE

REASON AND NOT FORCE
MUST HOLD UNIVERSAL
SWAY, HE SAYS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Commenting on the medical profession
on its contribution to human well-
fare, President Coolidge declared
last night that the world looked largely to its members to bring about a physical, mental and spiritual regeneration, "when not force
but reason will hold universal
sway."

"Somewhere in human nature
there is still a structural weakness,"
said the president in an address
at the annual session of the American Medical Association. "We do not do as well as we know. We make many constitutions, we enact
many laws, laying out a course of action and providing a method of relationship one with another which
are theoretically above criticism,
but they do not come into full absolute effect."

Afflicted With Crime
"Society is still afflicted with
crime, and among the nations there
are still wars and rumors of wars.
In spite of all our progress and all
our success, no one doubts that much remains to be done."

Mr. Coolidge looked forward to an era of "right living and right
thinking, of good will and of peace,
in accordance with the teaching of the Great Physician" and asserted that "if humanity could be brought to a state of physical well-being,
many of our social problems would disappear."

"If we could effectively rid our
systems of poison," he added, "not only would our bodily vigor be strengthened but our vision would be clearer, our judgment more accurate, and our moral power increased."

Mr. Coolidge called attention to the spread of co-operation and tolerance in the profession and gave
assurance that the government—
national, state and municipal—regarded the preservation of health
and the conservation of life as in part public functions.

Race Now at Maturity
"The human race is by no means
young," he said. "It has reached
a state of maturity. It is the inheritor of a very wide experience. It has located a great many fixed stars
in the firmament of truth."

"No doubt a multitude of others
await the revelations of a more extended research. But because we realize that we have not yet located
them all is no reason for doubting
the existence of those already perceived or disregarding the record
which reveals their position. To engage in such course would lead
to nothing but disaster."

"One of the difficulties in the study of the human mind is that it is so much a part of the environment
that it is difficult to see it as it is."

SHUT DOWN IN FIELD IS LIGHT

Only Six Of 337 Wells In Greater Seminole Halted Under Agreement

(By The Associated Press)
TULSA, May 18.—Although the latest shut down agreement in the Greater Seminole oil producing area went into effect last Saturday drilling has stopped in only six of the 337 wells under way in the field, a survey of activities in the area yesterday disclosed. These six wells were stopped by three separate companies, although 15 companies signed the agreement to cease drilling in all unnecessary wells.

Two of the wells in which drilling was stopped were the property of the Guyer Oil company, two the Pure Oil company and two the Carter Oil company. Tardiness of the operators in closing wells now drilling was pointed to as fulfillment of the prediction of Umpire Ray Collins that curtailment of production would not be rapid as a result of the agreement.

While production in the area showed a daily average decline during the past week ending as of May 14, production yesterday was 353,251 barrels, a decline of 16,000 barrels, indicating that some heed about being paid to curtailment agreement by the operators in the area, according to oil men here.

'Third Term' Story Of Coolidge Rapped

DALLAS, May 18 (AP)—Democracy will be in a tight way if they think they can make a campaign issue of a third term story about President Coolidge. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis said today in an interview with newspapermen here. He declared that President "Coolidge" will not be a candidate for a third term, but would be a "candidate for re-election to a second term."

Mr. Davis said that more stringent immigration restrictions will result from labor problems. There is no shortage of unskilled or skilled labor, he said, although some employers were asking for more cheap labor. He asserted that the cheap labor proved expensive in the long run.

The Mexican immigration question is becoming a more serious all the time, the secretary said.

A New Way to Launch Boats

Launching of rescue boats was easy in this flooded district near Natchez, Miss. The boats were backed into the water and the boats floated from the flat cars. The boats were rushed to the flood area by the New Jersey coast guard.

U. S. And Mexico Bride And Groom Enroute To N. Y.

NOGALES, Ariz., May 18 (AP)—Senorita Ernestina Calles, 20 year old daughter of President Calles of Mexico today was enroute to New York as the bride of Thomas Arnold Robinson of that city.

They were married last night across the international line in Nogales, Sonora, in a civil ceremony that was without ostentation yet colorful. After a formal reception attended by seventy invited guests, at one of Nogales' night clubs which had been reserved for the occasion, the couple was taken in an official automobile of the Mexican government to Tucson, Ariz., where they remained at 11:45 o'clock for New York. They will make their home there.

The modest home of the bride's uncle, Santiago Martinez, the interior of which was decorated with garlands of white roses interwoven with sprays of lilies of the valley, furnished the setting for the tying of the wedding knot by Judge Jorge Cabrera.

An American creation of white satin, mantled with a fine "mantilla", was Senorita Calles' wedding gown. She wore a bridal veil circled with a coronet and carried a spray of orange blossoms. As is the Mexican custom in civil nuptials, there were no bridesmaids or attendants, but she was informally attended by her sister, Senora Hernandez de Torrealba, and one of her best friends, Senorita Julieta Maldonado of Nogales, Ariz.

Reign Of Fear And Tie-Up Of Business Follows Recent Uprising

(By The Associated Press)
MANILA, May 18.—A report received here yesterday by the Philippine constabulary said a reign of fear and a tie-up of business had resulted in the two provinces affected by the recent uprising of followers of Flor Inzenhara, insane native and self-proclaimed "Emperor of the Philippines."

The report declared that Inzenhara's followers had plotted to seize the entire Philippine archipelago, eventually, and while it indicated that the latter move was somewhat indefinite, a well defined plan was conceived to take over the government of Iloilo province.

Many Hacienda in Iloilo and

Occidental negro provinces were said to have been left without laborers as a result of the disturbance, and that a serious stoppage of business followed.

Sumner that certain of the ring-leaders who escaped arrest might attempt to prevent the removal of Inzenhara to Manila for confinement in an insane asylum were said by the constabulary report to have caused terror with the result that many natives remained indoors. The report also indicated an attempt would be made to free the 28 persons arrested in the outbreak.

73 STUDENTS TO GRADUATE FROM LUBBOCK HIGH THIS YEAR

LARGEST CLASS IN HISTORY OF CITY TO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS NEXT WEEK AND BID FAREWELL TO HAPPY SCHOOL DAYS

Closing their preparatory schooling and preliminary life's training which has occupied most of their time since they crawled from the cradle, 73 students of the Lubbock school will bid their public school days adieu next Wednesday as they set forth to receive their diplomas which will enable them to go further into the infinite source of knowledge. By far the largest group ever to complete the work of the city system, the loss is a credit to any city many times larger than Lubbock.

Some Started Here
Under the able guidance of the faculty of the school from year to year, a large number of the graduates have completed their entire school work in the schools of Lubbock. Going back to the days of the old White Ward building which was moved from the northern part of town to the present site of the Central Ward, we find that numbers of the present class used to toddle over the rocks of the grounds for their first eager search of knowledge.

Now we find them ready for another commencement which will carry them on into life. Whether they enter college or not, little does it matter. They have received their preliminary education which will serve as a foundation to whatever they go into later. Just so they apply the useful knowledge gained in their kindergarten, grammar school, and high school days.

Many Entertainments
The graduating class has been the recipient of many informal entertainments during the year, including picnics to various places in this vicinity, and this week, as the end of the way nears when they will say adieu never to meet again under similar circumstances, they begin the closing round of their public school career.

Friday of this week is to be celebrated, not only by the graduating class, but the entire school system as well, with exhibits showing in a measure the work accomplished by them, and Sunday morning, the members of the class will be honor attendants at the baccalaureate sermon in the auditorium of the First Methodist church, with Rev. Walter Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church, delivering the message.

Wednesday night of next week the class is to hold its graduating class exercises also in the Methodist church, and Thursday night, the commencement program, when Dr. C. W. Cawley, of the Tech College, will deliver the principal address.

Turn From Associations
School days and rule days will soon be over for the 73 now very happy boys and girls, and they turn from their happy associations during recent years to the more serious walks of life, some of them to continue their efforts for higher education in the various colleges and universities of the country, and some probably, to turn from their schooling to the commercial channels of the world, where they will seek to make the high mark of success that is or should be the goal of every young man or woman.

The occasion in a sense is one of solemnity, but yet it is a time of happy and carefree thoughts for participants in the exercises, and the exercises, and the graduates gladly release their position of honor, but will be taken up next fall by another, and no doubt larger group that in their turn will have similar honors conferred upon them.

SPONSORS LEAD IN MUCH ACTIVITY

MISS EULA HURST AND M. E. WITT LEAD CLASS ON MANY OCCASIONS

With the guiding hand of their sponsors, Miss Eula J. Hurst, head of the English department, and M. E. Witt, head of the science department, offering direction where it was needed, the energy and enthusiasm of the class of 1927, Lubbock high school seniors, has carried them through a group of class activities and student undertakings attempted by few groups.

Miss Hurst is a graduate of Southwestern University of Texas and Mr. Witt is a graduate of Simmons University, with post graduate work at Baylor. The class is proud of them.

High lights in their work for this year include numerous picnics and programs, one of the best class plays on record, directed by Miss Hurst, publication of the class annual which was paid for entirely from funds raised by student undertakings. Senior day held at Buffalo Springs, and the class banquet given by ladies of the Baptist church at the close of Senior Day, April 29.

WORK OF LEADING STUDENTS IS GOOD

MISS FAYE BUMPASS IS CLASS VALEDICTORIAN; FERRIN JAMES IS SALUTORIAN

Miss Fay Bumpass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Bumpass, is valedictorian of the high school graduation class and Ferrin James, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. James, is salutorian, the grades of the two having differed only .26. Miss Bumpass' grade average for the year was 82.5.

The valedictorian, who is described by her teachers as being consistently excellent in scholarship, has completed her high school course here in three and one-half years and all of this work has been done in the local school, although some previous work was done elsewhere.

Mr. James has, in addition to his actual class work, participated in many other events. A singer of some ability, he carried a leading role in the class operetta last year and he has responded to many calls to sing this year. He was a district winner in the school extemporaneous speaking contest this spring and entered the state tournament at Austin. He was also valedictorian of the class this year.

CLASS PRESIDENT IS VERY ACTIVE

Homer Hardberger Leads His Classmates Well in Varied Program of Activity

Although he entered the Lubbock school at mid-term during his junior year, Homer Hardberger was prominent enough in school activities to be elected class president for this year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hardberger, 1921 13th street.

He has served faithfully, taking part in senior programs that have been prepared at intervals and having general supervision of all class activities, such as the publishing of a paper and yearbook, staging a senior play and program and officially representing his class upon many occasions.

During this year he has lettered in three athletics, baseball, basketball and football, and during his junior year he lettered in basketball and football. In addition to that, he was last year a winner in the "My Home Town" contest representing Lubbock at Littlefield. His other high school work was done at Bryan high school, Dallas, and at Knox City.

TWO SELECTED AS CLASS FAVORITES

LAWRENCE GREEN AND MANCILL HALL TIE IN CONTEST IN SENIOR CLASS

A constant friendship and teamwork in all class activities won for Lawrence Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Green, 2121 16th street, and Mancill Hall, son of Mrs. Christine Hall, 3914 Avenue K, the distinction of tie vote among the class members in a favorite contest and the year book has recorded each of them as the most popular boy.

Their friendship has lasted through several years and their work together has been so noticeable that they have been placed together for much of it.

Lawrence was this year editor of the year book with Mancill as business manager. They both had parts in the class play. Lawrence was class president during his junior year and Mancill was vice-president. Mancill has served as president of the H. Y. this year and was also a member of the class double male quartet.

Seven sons of William Goldridge of Swansea, Wales, are members of the police force.

An Ideal Achieved

Four years of your life have been consumed in preparing for Graduation Day. Four years of concentrated effort and study—four years in preparation to take your place in the social and industrial organizations of the community, in which you reside. It is four years well spent if through reason of the training you have received, you apply yourself to the problems which will confront you in the same manner as you have solved the problems of the class-room. Lubbock is proud of you—and as a Lubbock institution we share in that pride.

EIGHT DILIGENT ATHLETES LOST TO LUBBOCK HI THROUGH GRADUATION LEAVING HOLES IN SEVERAL TEAMS

Eight of the mighty Westerners will be taken from the high school rolls and their names will be recorded in the athletic annals of the Lubbock high school as competent, diligent and scholastic athletes in their various fields of sports. These young and intelligent athletes will be useful to the schools, colleges and universities that will be their desire to attend in the continuance for a higher and broader education as they are both diligent in their work in the class room and on the athletic field. The following Westerners have reached the climax of studies in the high school and will finish with commendation, excelsior next week: John Garland, Cyrus Leland, Maurice Powell, Orville Brothers, Hubert Freeland, Rupert Hays and Emory Ing.

Two Ex-Captains Included
Two former captains are included in the eight graduates, Orville Brothers, captain of the 1926 football club; and Rupert Hays, captain of the Western basketball team of this season.

Orville Brothers, well known on the grid and about the campus as "Buddy," served two seasons with the gridiron machines of the local school and for three seasons a member of the Western basketball nine. At one time Van Tungen always found competency in "Buddy" and in numerous games the lad was called back to kick. At center field in baseball the lad was a shining star in that he fielded and threw with only one arm. Brothers has chosen Texas university as his field for higher and better education and should the campus meet popular senior continue his stride in basketball he will be doubt be counted with "Coke" Lipp, "Lick's" Texas Longhorn Southwestern Conference champions.

Hays Was Bulwark
Rupert Hays, captain of the 1927 basketball quintet, will be a big loss to next season's eager outfit as he was always the pillar of the Western five and had considerable control and management of the crew as they worked on the floor. For three years Hays was a member of the Western basketball team, and for the three seasons was chosen as one of the all-around basket ball players of the district. Hays is able to run a club, will absolutely coolness, dribbles above the average high school performer, and his sure shooter on the hoops. Rupert states that he will likely join the Matador forces of Texas Tech next fall and try his hand with the Hugginbotham crew.

Leland Three-Letter Man
Cyrus Leland, a three letter man of the Westerners, is a member of the 1927 class and his work in football, basketball and track will be missed by the Westerners teams. Leland was one of the fastest half-backs in the Panhandle in 1926 and gained considerable yardage for the high school grid machine. In basketball Leland was used as a utility man filling both the center and guard positions. For two seasons Cyrus was a member of "Pinky" Lowrey's track team and during his time as a member of the Western track aggregation he took part in the Texas Intercollegiate League meet at Austin two years ago and in the Oklahoma university relay, at Norman, this season. Leland was a dash man and entered in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. He was a consistent 10.1 second man in the 100 and paced the 220 in 22.4 consistently.

Maurice Powell
Maurice Powell entered this year in football as regular quarter-back.

EUGENE ADAIR IS GRADUATE AT 14

CARRIES STUDIES IN ADDITION TO OTHER ACTIVITIES AND PROMINENT BAND PART

A graduate at fourteen—this is the record of Eugene Adair, Lubbock high school youth, who stands as a marked example of the efficiency of modern educational methods in giving youth the maximum amount of advantages in securing an education.

Carried Six Credits
Taking an active role in student affairs and playing a part in the band, Adair has found time to carry six credits this year and has done so with such good results that his average for all his high school career stands at ninety and one-eighth in all studies. He has completed high school in three years time, this year taking biology, American history, plane geometry, higher arithmetic and two English courses.

The graduate age of the average student has been steadily reduced in the past few years, according to the records of H. W. Matthews, principal of the high school.

Figures On Graduation
Figures compiled by Mr. Matthews show that out of the one hundred and seventy-one students in school, one will graduate at the age of 14, one at the age of 15, six at the age of 16, twenty-two at the age of 17, twenty-two at the age of 18, four at the age of 19, six at the age of 20 and one at the age of 21.

Of the girls, one will graduate at 16, seventeen at the age of 17, forty-five at the age of 18, thirty-four at the age of 19, eight at the age of 20, two at the age of 21 and one in the classification of 21 or over.

While the aim of the school is not to mill the students out in the most hurried manner, it does strive to furnish the student with every opportunity to advance himself and complete the maximum amount of work in a given time, and the graduation of young students is usually the result of a great deal of earnest effort, Mr. Matthews explained.

SCHOOL BOARD IS MEETING PROBLEMS

FOUNDATION OF SYSTEM IS CREDITED TO M. M. DUPRE WHO DIED IN OFFICE

Thirteen years ago the board of trustees of the Lubbock Public Schools chose M. M. Dupre to superintend all grades of the school system, then housed in an eight room frame building and one brick school building, now known as the Central Ward school.

During the superintendency of Mr. Dupre, eight brick buildings were erected for housing Lubbock school children. To Mr. Dupre goes the honor of laying the foundation of the present efficient school system, and in honor of his long years of service the board of trustees named one of Lubbock's schools to evidence the esteem in which he was held by the personnel of the board.

Hutchinson Serves 13 Years

Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, serving 12 years as president of the board of trustees, has rendered the longest service of any member of the board. His profound knowledge of educational needs, his untiring service, his splendid co-operation and interest have linked his name synonymously with Lubbock schools.

W. R. Atkins, manager of the Hugginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company, has given 10 years' service to the board. Mr. Atkins recalls the dismissal beginning of the public system, from the time the graduating class would never exceed 15 or 20 down to the present with a class of over 100. He relates the time when it became necessary for the board to have a private subscription campaign in order to raise funds sufficient to complete the school term.

Wilson Lauds Patrons

"The citizens of Lubbock have always given creditable support to our needs," says S. C. Wilson, manager of the Western Windmill company, who has served eight years. "There have been campaigns

Powell, Cyrus Leland, Orville Brothers, and Homer Hardberger will all attend Texas university next fall under their present plans.

in which the citizenship was sacrificed to add the requirements of the public school system. The present system, with its numerous buildings and large scholastic enrollment, is not evidence that the people of today sense their civic responsibility more than pioneers of education of 10 or 15 years ago. As business and population increased, the public schools grew accordingly."

Growth Is Rapid

Dr. Hutchinson can remember the years during his service when the entire scholastic enrollment of the city did not exceed two or three hundred. Today the scholastic population of Lubbock is 4,200, with 129 teachers.

The following citizens, giving their professions, are members of the board of trustees for 1927: Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president; W. R. Atkins, manager of Hugginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company; C. E. Maedgen, president Lubbock National bank; S. C. Wilson, manager Western Windmill company; E. L. Robertson, proprietor of City Drug company; Neil Wright, general agent of Southern Life Insurance company and R. F. Bayless, freight and passenger agent of the Santa Fe Railway company.

Youth Is Little Changed

The youth of today is no different than 15 years ago is the belief of many members of the board, who have guided the educational destiny of thousands by prudent selection of instructors. One of the trustees says that the mechanical age and colorful styles have made the actions of the younger generation more conspicuous. The naive maiden with dress to the ankle was as vivacious and fickle as the painted and petite flapper of today, but dressed as grandmother, she appeared more modest and unassuming.

Duncan Experienced Educator

M. H. Duncan, who succeeded Mr. Dupre as superintendent, is an educator of long years of experience. For many years Mr. Duncan was head of the Amarillo public schools, going from there to Wyoming. He accepted the superintendency of the Lubbock public schools at the opening of the 1925 session.

During his experience in Lubbock, Mr. Duncan has attracted national attention through his adoption of the problem-project method of study. A leaflet, outlining the new method of teaching, was published by Mr. Duncan and broadcast by the Houghton-Mifflin company of Boston. The publishing company, in commenting on Mr. Duncan's proposed plan, wrote: "It is graphically written and handles the situation in a way that is bound to attract the attention of patrons of the public schools, for whom it is significant, and also of the teachers throughout the systems who do not happen to be as keenly aware of the needs of the modern pedagogy."

Mrs. Florence High has been re-elected mayor of Coleman, Mich., where she has served in the capacity of chief executive for that city for four years.

A bag containing $5,000, dropped from a train by Mrs. A. Howells, was found near the train and returned to her at Vancouver, B. C.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

YOUR EDUCATION IS ONE ACCOMPLISHMENT
YOU WILL NEVER REGRET

In a couple of weeks you will have finished four years of high school work. Surely it is an accomplishment and achievement that every one of you should be congratulated upon. And it is one thing (abstract as it is) that you always hold—and never regret. The number of times you get satisfaction from the four years' hard work you have made to gain this education are inestimable. Some day—way in the future—after you have reaped the benefits from your education you'll often recall the happy days you spent in obtaining it.

FACULTY FOR NEXT YEAR GIVEN OUT BY SUPT. DUNCAN; SPECIAL STUDY BY PRINCIPALS IS URGED

The faculty of the city school system of Lubbock, composed of 123 instructors and supervisors, was announced Saturday from the office of M. H. Duncan, superintendent, and the announcement carried with it the statement that all positions are filled.

Enrollment during the past year reached 4,125, of which 128 are to finish the senior course, exercise for which are to be held next week-end and the following week. Enrollment next year is anticipated to be much more, and with sufficient buildings available for the first time in several years, plans are being made already for a heavier enrollment and a much broader course of study.

Problem-Project Method
The problem-project method of teaching is being given great emphasis, and special study of this method by principals and instructors during the summer months is being urged by Mr. Duncan. In a bulletin issued from his office to all principals, Mr. Duncan has this to say:

1. Please read carefully Cubberly's "The Principal and His School" and make notes of the suggestions he makes that you think would raise the efficiency of your school.
2. Make a special study of the problem-project method so as to be able to give some sane and helpful advice to your teachers and to aid them in applying this method in your school. The efficiency of a school seldom rises above the vision of the principal, and his ability to aid his teachers.

Health Is Stressed
3. Make a special study of the health problems of your school, especially the problem of prevention of contagious diseases, and endeavor to gain the knowledge that will aid you in preventing spread of such diseases. Our losses during the past school year in efficiency have been enormous, and one of the greatest savings we can make to the school is in the matter of health supervision. I have some material along this line that I shall be glad to turn over to you with a view to better equipping you for this work, and I shall be glad to render any other assistance I can to the same end.
4. Next year we want to do more than we have done heretofore in measuring the results of our work by the use of the standard educational tests, and to this end I should like for each one of you to make a special study during the summer of these tests as to be able to apply them in your school.

16 SENIORS MAKE AVERAGE OVER 90

MISS FAYE BUMPASS LEADS
CLASS IN TWO YEAR
HONOR ROLL RECORD

Sixteen members of the high school senior class have made an average grade of more than 90 for the past two years and have been placed on the roll of honor of the class.

The highest of these is Miss Faye Bumpass, the class valedictorian, whose grade average for this year has been 93.63 and the lowest is Eugene Adair, the youngest member of the class, whose general average this year has been 90.

Two other students, Miss Lois Love and Miss Elizabeth Crews, have made an average grade of more than 90 for this year and will be given honorable mention on the roll. Since this is the first year they have been in Lubbock high school, they could not compete for honors according to the rulings of the institution.

The sixteen honor students in the order of their ranking follow: Faye Bumpass, Farren James, Lucile Barr, Mona Fields, Annie Snyder, Mamie Fields, Sallie Dean, French army engineers have a new invention which is said to explode mines by radio waves.

Mrs. W. R. Lowery of New York swore in court that she could not remember the date of her wedding.

Rix's Now Serving the Second Generation

MANY of the graduates of 1927 come from homes where Rix furniture has played no small part in creating the proper environment. It is a great source of satisfaction to the members of this organization to know that today we are serving those who are just beginning a home of their own, whose parents have felt that Rix furniture offered greater value distinction and satisfaction, when they created the home in which their children were reared. It is ample proof that we have served well, and in extending to you our most sincere congratulations, it is with a sincere desire to be of service in any manner possible, for in a few short years, you too, will be creating a home, and taking the step that will mark your entry into a life still more useful to the community in which you reside.

Teran Instructor Believes In Youth ys Change Brings Better Character

champion of modern youth, his sterling frankness and sophistication, is G. N. Atkinson, Lubbock high school instructor who has watched them come for over a decade and is in the educational system of the city.

After viewing the transition from rural western type to the modern city school, and the alteration in the manners and habits of youth, Mr. Atkinson expresses satisfaction over the change. The girls of today are more home, respectful, earnest and of better habits than were the students of yesterday, he believes.

1909 and 1910 when the first school was begun here, there were a total of ten teachers, and pupils were 125 teachers, and about 10 school children.

Student Attitude Changed

1909, the attitude of the average pupils was to get by with the least amount of knowledge which seemed to be drilled into him during his attendance. He was often tardy and quarrelsome, and the teachers in the first high school were men teachers for the reason the trustees deemed that it was necessary in order to control them. Improvement was rapid ever.

Today, in a general subject given students as a thesis for a year they gave almost a complete explanation of why they wish to graduate. The four reasons advanced by practically all were: first, it is expected of them, the old expects them to be successful; and, it is an honor; third, it is necessary equipment to compete in business world; fourth, it is

SENIOR CLASS GIVES ITS CLOSING PROGRAM FOR UNDERGRADUATES

Members of the high school graduating class gave their farewell chapel program Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This program was prepared under the direction of Miss Ella Hurst.

Mary Jo Robinson gave a clever talk on "Reflections of An Orphan" and Lois Love made an excellent talk on "A New Student in L. H. S." Miss Robinson had come to Lubbock from an unaffiliated school last fall and was therefore placed in a group that is known as the "orphan" class. Miss Love has spent only one year in Lubbock.

Pauline Hufstetter gave a reading, and the double male quartet, composed of Cyrus Leland, Robert Kennedy, Watson Wilson, Audrey Brown, Mancel Hall, Hubert Freeman and Ray Johnson, sang, "A Solo, 'Perfect Day'." was sung by Frances Stahl, accompanied by Margaret Hufstetter, violinist, and Mary Eleanor Quick, pianist. Miss Quick also accompanied the quartet, which is directed by George Eaton, M. H. Duncan, superintendent of the school, led the devotional.

A beautiful lake in the mountains of an island in Alaska has been named Lake Grace, in honor of Mrs. Coolidge. It was recently discovered by airplane map makers.

Edith Wynne Matthison has been awarded the gold medal for good diction on the stage, presented each year by the American Academy of Arts and Letters. In private life she is Mrs. Charles R. Kennedy.

Lubbock High Graduates Congratulations

We congratulate the class of 1927 upon finishing the first lap of their scholastic training... and a mighty fine start you have made too, because there is no doubt but what Lubbock High School is one of the leaders in education in the state, and a good foundation is necessary for permanent building.

The Value of Good Appearance

IT means more than you think, and you graduates who are about to enter the business world should closely avoid giving any impression of carelessness through personal appearance.

To a stranger, someone with whom you are doing business for the first time, the impression he gains from his first glance will determine in no small measure the success you will have in selling your idea.

This does not necessarily mean that to be well-dressed is to be expensively dressed. The most expensive fabric woven, unless it was properly fitted, would look little better than a burlap sack.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes for men and young men give the maximum appearance for minimum initial outlay. They are made to fit and wear well because of the excellent workmanship that is a part of each suit bearing that label, together with the smartest of styles and newest of fabrics and colors.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes will increase 50% your ambition, your determination and will to get ahead, because you will have the satisfaction of knowing that your clothes are faultless.

GIRLS STAND OUT IN CLASS ACTIVITY

LOIS LOVE, MARGARET COOPER AND OTHERS HAVE HELD LEADING ROLES

Several girls in the senior class have been outstanding in school and class activities this year.

Miss Lois Love, who was elected the most popular girl in a class vote and whose picture will therefore appear among the class favorites in the year book, has been active in the Girl Reserve work, was a member of the winning debating team with Miss Helen Jones, and has lettered in tennis. She received honorable mention in scholarship, being named for honors as this was her first year here. Miss Love is also a violinist and has played upon many occasions.

Miss Margaret Cooper, another member of the class, is president of the Girl Reserve, participated in the senior play, ranked high enough in scholarship to be placed on the honor roll.

In addition to her class activities, Miss Margaret has been one of the most popular violinists of the city and has participated in programs in towns near here as well as playing upon numerous occasions here, both as a soloist and as an accompanist.

Among the other girls who were particularly prominent were Miss Mary Howles, elected the class most popular girl, who is a member of the orchestra, partici-

GIRL DEBATORS SHOW MUCH SKILL

CO FAR INTO STATE CONTEST DEFEATING SOME OF BEST TEAMS IN WEST TEXAS

Using as their weapons a ready wit and facile use of words, Misses Helen Jones and Lois Love, Lubbock debaters, hammered their way well into the state contests, after having vanquished all district contestants and beaten many opponents in independent matches.

Under the tutelage of Dan Powers, high school instructor, the team worked hard on their subject which was that there should be a department of education in the National government with a secretary of education in the cabinet.

First taking on Plainview, Matador, Muleshoe and Beagraw, the girls came out victorious.

In the County contests they came out with a well-earned victory over Matador and entering the District meet, beat Plainview, Matador, Muleshoe and Beagraw.

In the state meet they defeated Big Spring and lost to Highland Park of Dallas.

CHANGES IN GRADUATION EXERCISES ARE PRINCIPALLY IN NUMBER AND NOT IN CEREMONY, MRS. DUPRE REMINISCES

Changes in school graduates come principally in the number in the class and in the dress of the girls, and not in the ceremony of the occasion, Mrs. M. M. Dupre, who has been teaching here since 1915, believes.

Mrs. Dupre has watched the Lubbock schools expand from a graduation class of five girls and two boys 15 years ago to a class of 17 boys and girls this year. She came here in the fall of 1914 when her husband, the late M. M. Dupre, assumed the superintendency of the city schools, and has been teaching here since then. Before coming to Lubbock, Mrs. Dupre had taught school for many years and watched the successive graduations with interest.

Ceremonies Are Constant

The traditional ceremonies remain almost constant, Mrs. Dupre believes, although organization and people not directly connected with the schools seem more interested in graduation classes than previously. The social activities were formerly confined almost entirely to picnics, parties and other functions given by the class members for that group and now the graduates are given teas, banquets and extended various other courtesies by many of the clubs and associations of the city.

Young folk do not attach to high school graduation the importance they did in years past, she avers, and more of them consider that this is only a stepping stone to higher education rather than believing that they have reached the pinnacle of progress and are ready to enter business.

Girls Finished to Marry

Young women, especially, in previous years thought they were ready to marry when they completed their high school work. And, even when they did not cherish marital plans, seldom considered a college education unless they were preparing to teach school, in which event they attended a normal for a period sufficient to receive a teaching certificate.

With the entrance of women into the business world, a need for higher education was felt, and these graduates, with the young men in classes, planned to enter college.

The opportunities for education were not as many several years ago as they are today, Mrs. Dupre explained, and there were not so many colleges to attend.

But even now, high school graduation remains one of the dearest events in the life of a boy or girl and is an occasion which they anticipate with delight for several years and remember with gratification for many more months, Mrs. Dupre believes.

Feel Their Importance

"They feel their importance so much more upon this occasion than they do in after years when they have come to the close of their

GROWTH OF SCHOOL SYSTEM HERE REFLECTED IN STRUGGLE OF THE BOARD TO MEET BUILDING DEMAND

The growth of the Lubbock independent school district, both in material resources and scholastic enrollment, is phenomenal in many ways, especially as regards increased enrollment from year to year, and this is reflected very concisely in the struggle that officials of the system have made in recent years to supply the demands for room and equipment.

Of a total of $608,600 that has been voted in bond issues by patrons and friends of the system since 1909, all except $81,000 has been required and voted since 1922. Until this time there was only one building in the system, the one now being used as Central Ward, located south of 12th Street, just east of Avenue Q. This building was erected in 1909, according to records of Business Manager and Tax Collector A. C. Jackson under a bond issue of $25,000 and was added to in 1911 by an expenditure of $10,000, also bonded in the form of bonds. In the past two or three years, following conversion of the building into a ward building, more additions have been added to the extent of approximately $10,000.

The system now operates in ten buildings, six of which are in the city limits, and four in wards to serve outlying districts. Those in the city include one Mexican and one negro school, both of which are now crowded to capacity, and the negro school, situated in an additional room, is now holding classes in a church building in that part of the city. More room will be added in the near future by the Board if possible, it was said.

Bonds in the sum of $40,000 were issued in 1917 for construction and equipment of the Geo. M. Hueston school in the south part of the city just east of Avenue M, and in 1918, $8,000 more bonds were sold to finance construction of the northeast ward building, about three or four miles out of the city.

In May 1925 bonds in the sum of $150,000 were voted for construction and equipment of the K. K. Carter school in the north-west part of the city just west of Avenue Q, and about this time the Mexican school building was erected in the Mexican quarter of the city.

In 1924, $125,000 in bonds was voted to build and equip an addition to the high school building, making the building practically twice its size, and this is now being used as a junior high school building. The negro school building and Helen Jones expect to enter college but have not decided which ones they will enter.

Jessie Walker is planning to enter the Technological college for two years, to go to the State university after that and then to enter the teaching profession.

Many to Enter Tech

The class sponsor, Miss Eula Hurst, yesterday afternoon expressed a belief that three-fourths of the class will enter the Technological college next year. Those who gave their names yesterday as expecting to enter were the following:

M. Holliday, Naomi Hlanock, Charles Angleton, Arnold Schofield, J. A. Lindsey, Jr., Estella Carruth, Vivian

Sydney, Violet Ball, Lucille Andrews, Edna Scott, Florence Lawson, Geneva Harper, Ethelene Ballew, Eleanor Nelson, Hill Garrison, John Leslie, Margaret Cooper, Beulah Norris, Lucille Barr, Toby Shuman, Brady Isaacs, Eunice Holcomb, Carolyn Powell, Alice Cloninger, John Roberts, Vera Holt and Dolores Lynn.

Mildred Buckingham expects to enter Southern Methodist university, Dallas.

The school exhibits that will be held at the several school buildings over the city are designed to show to parents in a measure the progress made by pupils during the year, and every citizen interested in the school system is urged to attend at one or more of the buildings at some time during the day. The entire day next week, according to M. H. Dupre, superintendent, promise to be better than last year.

Tuesday evening, May 24 at the class day exercises of the graduating class will be held, and programs arranged promises to differ from programs usually rendered on such occasion.

Graduating Exercises Wednesday

Wednesday evening, May 25, 8:30, the graduating exercises of the senior class will be held at First Methodist church, with Dr. C. Granberry, of the Tech College, delivering the address.

Thursday morning, May 2, at 8 o'clock, the graduating exercises of the grade schools will be held at the First Methodist church, and principal address will be made by Mrs. W. B. Price, president of Seventh district Texas Federation of Women's clubs.
