Five County Rally Of Small Forces To Be Held Here Friday Afternoon When Wellington Senator Speaks To Home Folks

On the Level

William Russell Clark

...ust, heat, mud, loose gravel. The car is cooler than it was an hour ago. It ought to be. It has been freshened up a bit with some water that came from the pool by the side of the road. Grinding, crunching, swaying. Is the thing lopsided? It's that darn tire on the left front wheel. It really resembles a balloon now—all bulged out. Yea, a balloon that's likely to pop any minute.

It's a beautiful night, isn't it? It is. Any fool would know that, and cooler than it's been. That dank, sweet smell must be clover or hay. Anyway, it is something cattle eat—and a good breeze. God surely knew what he was about when he made moonlight. Say, that was a sharp curve. Didn't you see it? You're getting sleepy. Better let me have hold of the wheel. All right; have it your own way.

...at time did you say it is? ...e o'clock. That ought to put ...n by daylight. What's the ...gram after we get there? The ...al thing, I suppose. We'll both t... a bath and then probably we can think better. Did you see that skirt this afternoon? Did I? Where do you think I've been all your life, asking a leading question like that? Sure I saw her. Well? I saw her, too.

I wonder if this road gets any better? It couldn't get any worse. Lots of difference between this and Hall County roads. I'll say there is. What's that noise? Oh, just another little blowout. You'd better stop, hadn't you? What's the use, but I might as well. Get out those tools. Where's ...flashlight? Somebody stole ...Who? How do I know who?

..., that's over. What's over? ...blowout. Yeah? Now I'll tell one. That looks like a town down yonder. What you going to do about it? Get out and eat, and drink a cup of coffee. Again? We might as well. Rotten coffee, isn't it? I've tasted better. Maybe the second cup will fix us up. It probably will. How far did you say it was to Tourville? Oughtn't to be over 75 or 80 miles from here. If it don't rain? If it don't rain. That's comforting anyhow.

How far do you suppose we've driven tonight? Counting flats? There's no telling. Yonder's a filling station. We'd better stop there and put that extra on behind. And get the tube vulcanized. And get some gas and oil. She'll stand a little water. She'll stand a whole

Prisoners Express Gratitude For Kind Treatment Of Sheriff

Prisoners in the Hall County jail who are awaiting transfer to prison have voluntarily written a letter of thanks to Sheriff Sid Christian and his family for the good treatment accorded them in the jail. B. S. Livingston is the author of the letter and it is concurred in by Wiley Robbins, Clarence Snuffer, and Curley Miller.

The letter reads as follows, without any corrections being made in grammar or punctuation: "I understand that we boys with a prison sentence will soon be transferred to prison to begin serving our time. Some of us has been here for several months, and feel it our duty to use some means of thanks for the courtesy shown us by Sheriff Christian and family.

"Most of the boys here are from other states, and have no love ones near to bestow their affections upon them, and in a time like this a word of kindness and cheer is appreciated more than one would think.

"We realize that we have broken the laws of our country, and are kept here for punishment, so naturally we don't expect the leasures of the free world, but thanks to all that are concerned for the priviledges that has been shown us. For the several months that I have been here, I have never seen a meal, that was not good wholesome food. Fortunatly I have not been sick while here, but for the ones that has, the doc, has been called as soon as they ask. Mr. Christian has had a loud speaker installed for us, so we can hear from the outside, if we can't see so far. At all times we have had plenty of magazines, and other good literature. Thanks to all those that have shown their interest by visiting, and sending magazines, etc.

"No doubt that all officials of the law should take some interest in convincing as well as apprehending the criminals. I am glad to say that I know that the Hall county officials has used such methods as kindness, never hesitateing to do their unforunate ones a favor, and we are glad to give our thanks to one and all."

ELECTION PARTY WILL BE HELD ON JULY 26

Democrat To Furnish Results In County And State Races

Due to the intense interest in the forthcoming primary elections of Saturday, July 26, The Democrat has arranged to give its readers an election party on that evening, when the results in the county and state races will be made public as soon as they are received. At considerable expense, arrangements have been perfected with the Texas Election Bureau in Dallas to furnish this paper with telegraphic reports concerning the progress of the various state races, and the county totals will also be given the public as they are tabulated.

To Receive Pony Service

The Democrat will receive a pony service, which consists of bulletins filed at 10 to 15 minute intervals from 7 until 11:30 p. m. The early bulletins will be confined to important races. In addition, there will be a summary of results. Summaries will be made at 12:30 and 1:30 a. m. Not only will The Democrat give the election returns in the July primaries, but has perfected plans to give the August run-off results as well.

In order to facilitate the receiving of reports concerning the progress of the election in the southwestern part of the county, The Democrat will furnish bulletins to The Turkey Enterprise, so that interested people in that section may learn how the election is going.

MEMPHIS WINS!

BY ADRIAN ODOM
METRO PARK, AMARILLO, July 17.—The Memphis Owls moved a notch nearer the championship of the Globe-News Tournament today when they defeated the Canadian Gas team 7-2.

Jack Knight, pitching for Memphis was "right." He tossed the entire 9 innings and alolwed only 7 hits by the gassers. The Owls as usual, were on a hitting spree. They swatted out 12 nice base hits, most of which occurred when they were most needed.

Mrs. M. McNeely is in receipt of an interesting letter from her son, Holmes, who is touring Europe this summer with the famous Simmons Cowboy Band. Holmes writes from Birmingham, England. He stated that the band has visited many places of interest. His letter in part reads as follows: "We've been to see Westminster Abbey and saw the Poets Corner and everything; over to Buckingham Palace where the King is in residence part of the time and saw the Guards change at 10:15 in the morning.

Boy Scouts of Southeast Panhandle Area Will Not Be Given Summer Encampment

Boy Scouts of the Southeast Panhandle Area are going forward in the work of the organization, despite the fact that no paid executive is in charge, according to Dr. J. Hardin Mallard, who is serving as Scout Executive without pay, for the time being. He announced that no summer camp will be held this year. Conditional arrangements had been made with former Executive Jolly to hold a camp in August at Lake Kemp, but a letter received from Mr. Jolly is to the effect that he is holding a camp for three months in Kansas, and he will not be released until September 15.

The acting Scout Commissioner is hopeful that the Scoutmasters over the area will each provide for some kind of an outing for their respective troops, so that interest will be maintained in the Scouting program. Troop Four of Memphis will have an encampment of its own at Camp Tehas, Browder's Canyon, from July 29 to August 1, inclusive. Scoutmasters throughout the district are being advised of this camp and are asked to hold local camps where possible. A court of honor will be held prior to August 1, at a date to be selected and announced within the near future.

Next Governor Here Friday

Senator Clint C. Small, of Wellington, will address an immense gathering of supporters on the east steps of the courthouse Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Senator Small will arrive in Memphis from his Fort Worth headquarters by airplane at one o'clock Friday afternoon and immediately following tthe rally here will leave by automobile to fill a speaking engagement at Pampa Friday night.

ROTARY CLUB HAS REGULAR MEET AT SALISBURY TUESDAY EVENING

An innovation in Rotary meetings was established by the committee on rural-urban acquaintance of the local club Tuesday night by having the regular meeting at Salisbury, rather than the noonday luncheon at the Masonic Temple. Some thirty or more Rotarians, with their Rotary Anns and invited guests motored to Salisbury Tuesday night to partake of a chicken dinner, with all the trimmings, served by the Salisbury Home Demonstration Club. Every needed article of food that goes to make up a good meal was had in abundance, and Rotarians were loud in their praise of the fine way in which the Salisbury women served the meal.

The meeting was called to order by President Rufus Greene. He introduced H. A. Shaw, who led the club in three song num-

Amarillo Attorney Is Small Speaker

Ray C. Johnson, prominent attorney of Amarillo, will speak in Memphis Saturday afternoon at four o'clock on the east steps of the courthouse in the interest of the candidacy of Senator Clint Small of Wellington for the Democratic nominaion of Governor of Texas. Mr. Johnson will follow the speaker here Friday night who will speak in favor of the candidacy of former Congressman James Young. Mr. Johnson is one of the best known lawyers of the Panhandle and will have an interesting discussion to deliver.

Members of the local Small for Governor Club are making arrangements for a large crowd at this meeting. Interest in Senator Small's campaign is gaining momentum daily, it was stated, and it is expected to be more intensified following the address of the candidate himself Saturday.

Farmers Given Invitation To House Warming

Hall County farmers are given a special invitation to attend the house warming at the local plant of the Gate City Creameries from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m. on Tuesday, July 22. Manager L. P. Lane is especially desirous of having the farmers visit his plant.

"The house warming that we have planned for July 22 is not intended to be a local affair in any sense of the word," Mr. Lane said. "We want people from all sections of Hall County and neighboring counties to visit us on July 22. We have a plant of which we are proud and we want our farmer friends to see just how complete it is. We promise those who come that their time will be well spent, and if they like ice cream, we will have plenty of the Gate City variety on hand to dispense."

CHURCH OF CHRIST AT LODGE TO HAVE MEETING

Information received from Lodge is to the effect than an evangelistic campaign will be started there Friday night of this week at the Church of Christ. Rev. E. B. Wallace of Montague County has been secured to do the preaching and he will be assisted by L. R. Lovelady of Lodge as song leader.

Services will be held twice daily for the period of at least ten days, and Memphis people are invited to come out and take part in the services.

Improvement Seen In War On Traffic Violators In City

The police force of Memphis has been on the job looking for traffic law violators, since the city officially declared war on them, and already an improvement is noted according to Chief of Police Bill Huddleston. While no offenders have been hailed into city court as yet to pay fines, this action will be started in the near future, probably next week, Mr. Huddleston stated. The police are merely warning violators at the present time, and if the warning is not heeded, they can "tell it to the judge" in city court.

The two state highway officers who were in Memphis last week started the "ball to rolling." The highway men fined some few for traffic violations, and in general, outlined the procedure to be followed to cope with the situation. July 9 was the first night the local police started a rigid enforcement of the city and state traffic laws. On this night, 48 cars were warned concerning defective lights. On the night of July 10, 17 were warned; July 11, the number was 19; July 12, the officers stopped eight; on July 13, the number was 12. The officers did not work the night of July 14, but on July 15, 12 were warned.

Chief Huddleston stated that the police were on the lookout for reckless drivers especially and that speeding had to stop in Memphis. He cited the fact that the speed limit within the city was about 30 miles per hour, and those who went above that speed, would be subject to fines.

Note Marked Difference

"We have already noted a marked difference in speeding and reckless driving," Mr. Huddleston said. "People have learned that the traffic laws are going to be enforced and they seem willing to help us in their enforcement. The biggest trouble we are experiencing at the present time is from tourists, who fail to observe the stop signals. Local people are observing the stop signals better than ever before."

Counsel For Tyler Have Filed Appeal With Higher Court

Counsel for Hess Tyler filed an appeal in his case with the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin this week. The record was completed Wednesday and was mailed to the higher court. The Court of Criminal Appeals has recessed until next October, and it will probably be six months or longer before any action is taken on the appeal.

Tyler was convicted at the February term of district court of the murder of Bryan Nall, youthful Eli storekeeper, and the jury assessed his punishment at death. His counsel, appointed by the court, Judge J. M. Elliott and Judge W. A. McIntosh, filed notice of an appeal from the verdict of the jury, and it is now in the hands of the higher court.

THOUSANDS ARE EXPECTED FOR HOMECOMING

Senator To Arrive In Memphis From Fort Worth By Plane

Due to the insistence of the local Small for Governor Club, Lee Satterwhite, campaign manager for Senator Clint Small, of Wellington, candidate for the Democratic nomination of Governor of Texas, told The Democrat in a long distance telephone conversation Tuesday afternoon that Senator Small would speak in Memphis Friday afternoon at two o'clock, in the interest of his candidacy. Senator Small speaks at San Antonio Thursday night and will take a night train out of that city and arrive at his Fort Worth headquarters at 7:30 Friday morning. He will leave Fort Worth at 9:30 by airplane for Memphis, arriving here around one o'clock. Immediately following the speaking here, he will leave for Pampa by automobile where he is scheduled to deliver an address Friday night.

A monster rally will be held in honor of the Wellington man, which will be taken part in by delegations from Hall, Childress, Collingsworth, Donley and Wheeler counties. The speaking will take place on the east steps of the courthouse, and despite the fact that four or five thousand people are expected to be present, ample accommodations will be provided for them. It is anticipated that several bands will be on hand to furnish music prior to the Senator's address.

It has long been the desire of local supporters of Senator Small to have the candidate speak in this city, but due to full itineraries, this has been impossible up to the present. Senator Small is generally conceded to be the leading candidate in the race for Governor and he will be given a fitting ovation by his home folks at the rally Friday afternoon. Large delegations have already been promised from practically every section of Hall County, and Wellington will move over to Memphis almost enmasse to hear a native son speak. Delegations will also be present from Childress, Hedley, Clarendon, Shamrock, McLean and intermediate points.

Astute political prognosticators have long ago placed Senator Small in the run-off primary. West Texas, as a whole, is standing loyally behind him, and he has recruited thousands of votes from other sections of the state. Wherever he has gone, his campaign battle cry of "Let's adjourn politics and develop Texas" has met with the approbation of the voters. In his Memphis address, he will discuss all the issues of the campaign. Senator Small feels that the people demand, and should have, relief from partisan strife and that in lieu thereof, they should be given a careful business administration, which he promises them if elected to the high office of Governor of Texas.

Local Post Of American Legion To Have Representatives At Austin Convention

Plans will be perfected within the near future whereby the Charles R. Simmons Post, No. 175, of the American Legion will be represented at the state convention of the American Legion, Department of Texas, which will be held at Austin from September 1 to 4, inclusive, according to an announcement made this week by H. L. Nelson, local post commander. Mr. Nelson stated that he was hopeful that the Memphis post would be well repersented.

Sponsors Special Train

The American Legion post at Childress is sponsoring a special train which will leave from that city on August 31. Posts at Wellington, Memphis, Clarendon, Paducah, Quanah and Chillicothe, are invited to have their representatives go on the special. If 100 men make the trip the railroad fare will be $11.35 round trip, and $2.50 per day for Pullman accommodations, or the entire fare will be $21.35, which will include Pullman to and from Austin and the right to use the Pullman for sleeping quarters while in Austin. The convention this year will probably be the largest state convention ever held in Texas, and Austin is leaving nothing undone to make the ex-service men enjoy themselves while they are visiting that city.

Nurse Tells How CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. W. A. Cox, a well-known professional nurse, of Burnside, Ky., writes: "I was in very bad health, and only weighed 110 pounds. I read in the papers about Cardui, and thought I would give it a try-out. After I had taken one bottle, I could see that I was improving. After I had taken it a month or two, I began to gain, and I weigh at present 168, and have weighed that for some time. I am now 55 years old, and can do as much work as the average middle-aged woman can.

"I would advise any woman, who is weakly and in a run-down condition, to try Cardui, but not to expect one bottle to make her well. I take two or three bottles a year, now, and I feel fine."

Konjola Put Kansas Man Back To Work

"Proved To Be A Wonderful Medicine In My Case," Says Former Sufferer.

Any medicine that can win more than a million friends in seven years must have a merit, and that is exactly what Konjola has done. You wonder why Konjola has become a household word? Well, read what Mr. H. C. Sherman, painting contractor, of Goddard, Kansas, says:

MR. H. C. SHERMAN

"Konjola proved to be a wonderful medicine in my case. Last July I was hurt in an automobile accident, and was in the hospital many weeks. When I got out, I was in a badly run down condition; had rheumatism in the shoulder, arm and hand, and my stomach was out of order. I suffered terrible pains, and medicines did me no good. The many endorsements of Konjola led me to try it, and six bottles of this wonderful medicine made me able to resume my work. I am feeling beeter in every way than for a long time."

Konjola's 32 ingredients work together, battling at their very source, the causes of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Memphis, Texas, at Leverett-Williams Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

ANOTHER VICTORY

FOR THIS REGULAR STOCK MOTOR OIL!

CLOSE ON THE HEELS OF ITS ACCOMPLISHMENT AT INDIANAPOLIS MAY 30, CONOCO WINS 3RD, 4TH, AND 5TH PLACES AT ALTOONA AT BETTER THAN ONE HUNDRED MILES PER HOUR

Frank Farmer, in a Miller Special, "placed" third with an average speed of 102.2 miles per hour. "Shorty" Cantlon, in a Miller-Schofield Special, was fourth with 101.5 miles per hour. "Speed" Gardner was fifth in a Miller Front Drive Special. All three used CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil in this convincing demonstration of the qualities of this regular "stock" motor oil. At Altoona, as at Indianapolis, this was the first time that a stock oil had placed so high in the finish of the race.

The story of the Altoona race cannot be told without reference to the accomplishment of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil at Indianapolis. For it was in that 500-mile classic that the stamina of this new oil was impressed on the racing fraternity. After observers had seen the oil at the close of the Indianapolis race; after they had observed its full body and good color as it came from Dave Evans' motor, the word went out that CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil had displayed the qualities necessary to solve the lubrication problems of racing motors. CONOCO had earned the respect of this most skeptical group—and earned it fairly.

CONTEST BOARD (AAA) CERTIFIED TEST

The Contest Board of the AAA took all the necessary precautions to make sure that the oil used was the regular CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil. CERTIFIED TEST No. 2355

In view of the Indianapolis results, it was only natural for a majority of the drivers at Altoona to choose CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil for America's fastest competitive race.

And as these cars whizzed around the boards at Altoona on June 14, CONOCO again proved its worth in a field previously dominated by castor blends—a field which other stock oils have repeatedly tried to enter without succes!

So chalk up another victory for CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil, close on the heels of Indianapolis . . . a victory won with the same stock Germ-Processed oil that you can buy at any Red Triangle station.

CONOCO

These CONOCO victories have a definite meaning to every one who drives a car. They substantiate every claim that was made for it when the oil was introduced last November.

You can experience the safety and economy of this oil by stopping at the next Red Triangle Station and asking for:

Let's Chat Awhile

BY DOROTHY B. ROBBINS

One of the prettiest spots in Texas is situated in and around Austin. When one speaks of scenery, my mind flies to all those gorgeously wooded hills and valleys and the miles of beautiful driveway with the dome of the Capitol in the distance shrouded in purple mist.

A visit to this seat of government in Texas causes one to be filled with wonder. The building is on a large scale; the grounds cover over eighty acres and yet because of the size of the Capitol, the surroundings do not impress one as they would if the buildings stood less imposing.

The walls of the Capitol reach to such a height that the massive bronze figures of departed governors do not seem as large as they really are, nor do the large oil paintings impress by their size, though in an ordinary home, they would be noticeable.

The Stephen F. Austin hotel is one of the best places to stay when in the city and it was here that I had the pleasure of seeing an ex-Governor, an historian and a publisher. No doubt, the lobby of this hotel thinks nothing of celebrities passing back and forth for Austin has ever been the rendezvous for important people.

The Governor's Mansion, a short distance from the Capitol, is a dream in white and cool with green waving trees and grassy lawns. Little Dan was nowhere in evidence as we passed his home on a hot June day at twelve o'clock, but I could not help thinking of the good time he would be having around six o'clock disporting on that emerald velvet.

As we drove away, I ejaculated for the fourth time, "We have seen no prettier scenery anywhere along the coast than that surrounding Austin." When one has grown up in East Texas, the type of landscape to be found near Austin carries a strong appeal. The shade cast by big leafy trees makes one feel cooler even when time is precious and hurrying on is the most important thing in the world.

Sweetwater Truck Driver Suffered For Six Years

Tried all that time to find a Medicine that would end troubles—He praises Argotane.

"A man would have to travel a long ways to find a medicine that will equal Argotane," said Horace Hanks, a well known truck driver for the Gulf Refining Co., who lives at 614 Nueces street, Sweetwater, Texas, a few days ago.

"My trouble started about six years ago," continued Mr. Hanks, and I have been trying ever since to find a medicine or a reatment that would overcome it and Argotane is the only thing I have yet found that has been worth a cent. My stomach was in such bad condition that I would just simply suffer agonies. Every time I ate anything my food would sour on my stomach and I would be terribly bloated up with gas for two or three hours after meals. I was badly constipated all the time and had to take laxative of some kind every day nearly and this condition caused me to have sharp pains under my left side and my left arm would ache and almost become lifeless. I finally got to where I had to go several days at a time and eat only cereals and the lightest kinds, too, and it was a very rare thing for me to have a good night's sleep. Those troubles just kept pulling me down and many a day I have gone to work feeling so worn out and bad I should have been in bed.

"I commenced to feel better by the time I had finished my first bottle of Argotane and I'm now as well and hearty as any man would want to be. I have the best appetite I ever had in my life, and I eat three square meals every day of my life and I never have indigestion or sour stomach any more. Why I actually eat big meals of meats and cabbage and even onions some time, something I didn't dare touch for the past four years, and top it off with some kind of pastry now and I never suffer a particle afterwards. I go to sleep soon after I hit the bed every night and I am dead to the world for about nine hours, and the first thing I think when I wake up is that I am going to eat and enjoy a good hearty breakfast, and then be off to my work with as much life and energy as I ever had. I am gaining in weight every day and, in fact, Argotane has simply made a well, sound man out of me in every way and that is why I say that you will have to travel a mighty long way before you will find another Argotane."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Memphis at the Tarver Drug Co.—Adv.

"Hoot Owls" Make Debut In Memphis

"Hoot Owls of Texas" is the name given a local orchestra that has been organized by Ronnie Shepherd. Other members of the musical organization are Ronnie's brothers, B. F. and Donald, and Miss Evelyn Shepherd of Fort Worth. Two additional pieces are expected to be added soon, the organizer said.

Ronnie pointed out the fact that the first letters of the orchestra's name spell "hot," and that, he said, exactly describes his musicians. The Hoot Owls are open to engagements, both for dances and other entertainments.

Their first public appearances locally were at the Rotary and Lions clubs recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletch Swift and son, and Miss Elva Edwards left Monday for a visit with relatives in Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Thornton left Wednesday for Georgia where they will visit relatives for a month.

Mrs. J. L. Crosby of Amhurst, is here this week visiting old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Motley of Hollis, Oklahoma, are here this week visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cassel.

Well Known Dog Is Found Dead Early Thursday

Bounce is dead. The big shaggy-hair shepherd belonging to Col. C. T. Matkin was found dead early Thursday morning near the Denver station. An examination did not disclose how he had met death but it is presumed he was run over by an automobile.

Bounce was the inseparable companion of Col. Matkin. Wherever the Colonel went, Bounce was sure to be close by. The dog favored Tarver's Pharmacy as a place to stay and could be found there almost any afternoon or evening. Practically everyone in Memphis knew the dog and have stopped, at one time or another, to have a word for him. Good-natured, mild-eyed, friendly Bounce has gone to his reward. He will be missed in Memphis.

Mrs. Felix Cochran and baby returned to their home in Oklahoma City Wednesday after a visit with her mother, Mrs. W. M. Milam. Mrs. Milam and daughter, Miss Maud, accompanied her home for a visit.

Former Resident Of Lakeview Dies

Word was received in Memphis Thursday that Mrs. W. D. Durham, formerly of Lakeview, but more recently of Levelland, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. L. Lewis, in Amarillo, at four o'clock Thursday morning. Mrs. Durham was taken ill Wednesday of last week. At the time of her death she was 79 years of age.

She is survived by C. D. and Lawrence Durham of Levelland; Mrs. B. L. Lewis, of Amarillo; a step-daughter, Mrs. John Alexander, of Memphis, and a son by a former marriage, O. F. Alexander, who lives in Colorado.

The body was brought to Memphis Thursday night and burial will take place at Lakeview Friday.

Miss Velma Martin, niece of R. E. Martin, who formerly lived in Memphis is visiting with the Martin family, having arrived in Memphis Thursday morning from a vacation spent in Colorado. While living in Memphis, Miss Martin taught school, for a time, at Plaska. She later was graduated from the University of Texas and is now teaching Math in the Junior High School at Austin. She will probably remain in Memphis until school opens in September.

Children Urged To Attend Play Periods At Park

Attendance has fallen off considerably at the play periods arranged for the children of Memphis every Saturday morning at the Library Park by H. A. Shaw, minister of the First Christian Church. At first, the attendance was excellent, but the last several play periods were poorly attended.

Parents should avail themselves of the opportunity of sending their children to the park on Saturday morning to participate in organized play activities. Mr. Shaw is giving freely of his time, and it is discouraging when only a few children report.

Mr. and Mrs Otis Alexander and son Billy and daughter Glendon of Burkburnett visited Mr. and Mrs. Angus Huckaby here Wednesday.

Misses Wayne and Evelyn Sanders returned to their home at Plainview Saturday after a visit with their aunt, Mrs. Rube Sisk.

Election Party—

To Have Bulletin Board

It is hoped to have the space in front of The Democrat office roped off on election night to provide room for the hundreds who will likely be on hand to receive the reports. A large bulletin board will be put up outside this office and the returns posted as they are received. As stated previously, they will start coming into the office over the Western Union wires at about seven o'clock Saturday evening, July 26, and will be received until about midnight, the last report being filed even later, at 1:30 a. m.

General Public Invited

Readers of The Democrat and the public in general are invited to avail themselves of this service, which is given to the public absolutely free of charge. Arrange now to attend the election party. Come early and prepare to stay late. At midnight, it should be fairly well determined how the various state races are going, and those who attend the party will [illegible] Saturday night as much, or [illegible] concerning the races as will [illegible] the daily newspapers [illegible] day morning.

hung our hats on the hook reserved for the Prince of Wales and one for the Duke of York. The other day we took a trip up into the Shakespeare country. It was a 200 mile trip and really beautiful. On the road up we saw where Queen Anne used to change horses on her stage rides. We saw Oxford City where Oxford University is located. The University is not one, but composed of 22 universities all over town. We went on to Stratford-on-Avon; saw Shakespeare's birthplace, his workshop and Anne Hathway's cottage. That afternoon, we saw Warwick Castle and it is plenty pretty. The castle is old, historic and natural, and the gorunds are [illegible] prettiest I've ever seen any-

A quartette composed of Mrs. Mac Tarver, Mrs. Tess Potter, Miss Gladys Hammond and Miss Lillian Guill then sang several selections, accompanied on the piano by Miss Pauline Ross. [illegible] Read, as spokesman for [illegible]rogram committee, announced that he had secured the services of a "pinch hitter" in the person of Dr. Turner L. Lewis, who would make a short talk on Rotary and its activities. Dr. Lewis in a humorous way brought home truths concerning the service club, pointing out that it was organized 25 years ago and has spread into 30 countries, being international in scope. He cited the things for which Rotary stands, chief among them being the golden rule in business, acquaintance, fellowship and good will among men and nations.

H. A. Shaw and two of his daughters, Doris and Margot, sang three selections, entitled, "My Little Irish Rose," "Just Can't Be Shared With Me" and "Give A [illegible] Horse He Can Ride." See that filling station down yonder? You think I'm blind? We've got to stop again. What's wrong now? The lights are out of focus. It's nearly daylight. We'll need 'em tomorrow night. IN SPORTS

(Editor's note—This column was written before it was known who the Owls would play Thursday.)

"Have the Owls enough stuff to win the News-Globe Tournament?" This may be heard in all conversations in Amarillo when men talk about the tournament. The Owls have enough. Two straight wins against strong teams—and such wins—have proved this to strangers of the Owl club, and Owl fans have known it for quite a while.

—x-x—

Seventeen scores is enough to break up any ball game, and so far that is what the Owls have been doing. Six home runs that bring in eleven runs in one game must be a record, but it seems that the Owls are capable of making several records during this tournament. Burleson may have another record—a pitcher who got two home runs out of two times at bat, and in two consecutive innings.

—x-x—

The best record of the tourney so far goes to Wessels of the Owls, who hit 1.000 against Amarillo Sunday. "Swede" took two homers, a double and two singles out of five times at bat, and accounted for six runs. A hitter like Wessels should not waste his hitting strength by catching, but should always be in the out field to save himself.

—x-x—

Thus far this tournament has been a hitter's picnic but it has proved hard for pitchers. Scores have run high for all games and many pitchers have been knocked out of the box before they have gotten started. In two games the Owls have used five pitchers, and have hit five pitchers for 39 hits during those same two games. The greatest manager in the tournament—Bobby Clary.

—x-x—

Freckles was only a bat boy, but he knew his pitcher. Thursday when the Owls came into the park, he was waiting for Jack Knight for whom he had kept bats many times before this season. He was the happiest boy in the world when Jack allowed him to keep bats for the Owls, and when he learned that Jack was to pitch the game.

But things went bad—Jack was off and was relieved in the third inning. When Jack came out of the game, Freckles burst into tears, but Jack assured him that it was all right as all pitchers had their off days. Freckles smiled through his tears and said, "That's all right, Jack, we'll beat them next time; don't you worry."

Walter McMillan and his sister, Mrs. Cathey, returned from McCullough County the first of this week, where they have been visiting their parents.

J. M. Elliott and family returned from a ten days vacation in Mineral Wells Tuesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carpenter of Childress visited friends in Memphis Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Chas. T. Whaley and daughter, Wannell, of Dallas, arrived Tuesday for a visit with their son, Hersal.

Leonard Pierce of Paducah was a visitor in Memphis over last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ballew went to Dallas Wednesday where Mrs. Ballew will receive medical treatment.

Sam Forkner and Roy Forkner are visiting in Leon, Oklahoma, and Oklahoma City.

The Money You Earn Belongs To You. Yours To Spend Where And For Whatever You Choose To Buy. But remember Memphis Belongs To You, Too.

BUY IT IN MEMPHIS--YOUR TOWN

You may feel that the money you earn is your money, and that is in one sense true. You do, however, owe it to yourself and the friends in your town, to the men who pay you the money you earn, and to the merchants and business men of Memphis, to spend that money whenever possible in the town in which it was made. If you do spend that money in your home town, it is returned over and over again to you and to your employer.

Money spent miles away from your home town is lost to local circulation.

This is the sixth of a series of advertisements boosting local industries. Much has been repetition, but the truth of the matter still remains very evident. Many are still not giving local merchants and industries their support. As you watch Memphis grow remember that the dollar spent locally has been responsible for that growth. If you believe in Memphis give her all your support.

New Map Has Been Issued Recently By Highway Body

A new map has just been published and is being distributed at the present time by the Colorado to Gulf Highway Association. The map is complete in every respect. Each town on the route is listed and the distance between the various towns is given. The Colorado to Gulf Highway runs from Colorado Springs, Colorado, to Galveston, Texas.

Important Tourist Route

The Colorado to Gulf Highway, extending from the mountains of Colorado to the Gulf of Mexico, is one of the important trade and tourist routes of America, linking together the scenic sections of America's greatest summer play grounds and the year-round resorts of the Gulf. Northwest from Fort Worth, this highway passes through many growing, substantial towns and rich farming sections, and in the vicinity of Wichita Falls and Amarillo, some of the greatest oil and gas fields.

New Wells Completed

"There were 596 new wells completed in the State during June, and 320 of them were producers against 580 completions and 309 successful wells in June last year. During the first half, a total of 3,273 wells were drilled, of which 1,743 struck oil, whereas there were 1,860 producers among the 3,492 wells completed in the first six months of 1929. It is interesting to note that the percentage of successful wells is practically the same in both periods.

"Crude petroleum prices in Texas remained unchanged over the month, but in the past week or two there has been some talk of reductions. Whether declines are put into effect will depend on markets during the remainder of the summer. Gasoline prices were reduced one-fourth cent per gallon in North Texas during the first week of June. Since that time no further changes have been made, but demand is not holding up as was hoped for even at the lower prices."

Old Papers Given University Library

AUSTIN, July 17. (Special).—The Library at the University of Texas has just acquired a group of old papers, a gift from E. L. Shettles, according to Miss Winnie Allen, assistant archivist.

The papers include letter written by T. L. McKenney to B. S. Cox in 1828, a deed by Gilbert Longstreet to Augustus B. Longstreet in 1849, a letter by Horace Mann to Dr. Brewer in 1850 and one by Horace Mann to C. G. Ogdon in 1851, a deed by Sam Houston and Maragret M. Houston in 1858, a bond by T. L. Scott and M. E. Scott in 1860, a letter by Opie Read to Lizzie Dickinson in 1889, and a description of a home in Georgia, undated.

Most interesting of these papers are the letters of Horace Mann, a well-kown educator of the Nineteenth century, and the letter by Opie Read, a sort of Will Rogers of his day, who established the Arkansaw Traveler, a humorous paper.

UNDER THE STERLING PLAN TAXES WILL BE REDUCED IN HALL COUNTY

The taxpayers of Hall County, including the farmers, home owners and business men are now assessed an average tax of approximately 45c on the $100.00 valuation to pay for the construction of State Highways, a tax that should be borne by the State.

Under the Sterling Tax Reduction plan the State will assume this obligation and pay for it out of the gasoline tax.

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan will place the burden of paying for the state roads your county has built on the traffic, where it belongs.

The Sterling Plan will provide the state with adequate fund to build a connected state system of hard surfaced, all-weather highways and for paving the gaps over the state without county aid and without increasing the gasoline tax one penny.

Explanatory Note.—The estimated reduction in the tax rate has been calculated in accordance with the best available information. The exact figure will depend upon varying conditions in each county. But that a material reduction of the ad valorem taxes would be affected under the plan is certain.

DAVIDSON PICKS SMALL TO WIN IN CONTEST

Houston Man Thinks Small Stands As Primary Leader

FORT WORTH, July 17. (Special).—Senator Clint C. Small has the best chance over all other gubernatorial candidates to win in the first primary, according to Lynch Davidson, of Houston, former lieutenant governor of Texas, and retired candidate in the present contest for Governor.

Mr. Davidson has been freely expressing his opinion regarding the favorable and widespread support of Senator Small in a series of addresses he is making over the state against the state road bond issue. Several weeks ago he announced that he thought both Senator Small and James Young had the qualities that would fit them for successful service in the governor's chair and he urged his friends over the state to consider them seriously for the office. Since he has been campaigning on his own against the road bond issue, however, he announced that in his opinion Senator Small stood the best chance for election.

"I have been in very close touch with the political situation throughout the state for some time," Mr. Davidson said. "And I think I know something of the trend of affairs.

Is Foremost Candidate

"I am now frank enough to say that Senator Small stands as the foremost candidate in the minds of the people for election. I believe that out of the district West of Fort Worth and North of the T. & P. Railroad the Plains candidate will poll at least 100,000 votes. With 11 candidates in the race this will practically assure his being in the runoff."

Adds Weight To Argument

Mr. Davidson added weight to his argument when he said former Governor James Ferguson announced recently that he believed Small would get at least 40 per cent of the vote in the territory North of the T. & P. and West of Tarrant County.

"Forty per cent of that vote would be 80,000 votes, and if Jim Ferguson concedes that much you well know that a man of his political judgment cannot be far wrong."

Senator Small is gaining rapidly in East Texas as people realize that his chances of election are increasing daily, Mr. Davidson said.

The veteran Houston campaigner and political prophet said that he has been in position to keep in close touch with the political situation in Texas through his many contacts over the state. He has received as many as 500 telegrams in a single day and thousands of letters have reached him from all sections of Texas, he said.

Miss Loree Duke has been added to the Memphis News staff as society reporter in the vacancy made by the marriage of Miss Lois Clark to George Carter.

Mrs. Francis is survived by her husband, a son, Arthur, 16 years old and a daughter, Annie Ethel, 11 years of age. The family moved to Hall County about eleven years ago.

A large number of friends attended the funeral and a profuse array of flowers covered the bier, attesting the high esteem in which Mrs. Francis was held by her many friends.

Gate City Creameries Will Have House Warming

250 CUSTOMERS ARE SERVED BY LOCAL PLANT

Creamery Has Enjoyed Rapid Growth Since December

The Memphis plant of the Gate City Creameries furnishes 200 wholesale and retail customers in Memphis and surrounding communities with ice cream, sweet cream, milk and butter, according to a statement by L. P. Lane, manager. This is in addition to customers at Silverton, Quitaque, Turkey, Lakeview, Plaska, Eli, Brice, Wellington, Hedley, Lelia Lake, and Clarendon, or about 250 customers in all.

Milk Route Maintained

One milk route is maintained in Memphis, the milk being delivered in the early morning and late afternoon. The truck begins its rounds at 6:15 in the morning and at 6:00 in the afternoon. Some 150 customers are served on this route with sweet milk, Bulgarian buttermilk and sweet cream. No retail business is solicited for butter and ice cream. All milk used in the plant comes from T. B. tested cows. The plant handles both raw and pasteurized milk, but 90 percent of the milk is pasteurized.

Plant Grows Rapidly

Starting out with a few customers, the rapid growth of the local plant is attested to by the large section of territory it serves. Since coming to this city, the Gate City Creameries have proved equal to every order placed with them. On special holiday occasions, arrangements have to be perfected weeks in advance in order to care for the trade. This was the case in the recent celebration of the fourth of July.

Packed In Containers

In sending ice cream short distances, it is put up in containers that do not require any ice packed with them. In sending cream longer distances, ice is resorted to and packed it hard. Gate City products are to be had in such a wide variety that they are easily proving to be the leading products in this section. New flavors and confections are originated frequently by the manager, and without exception, these prove to be popular sellers. Nothing, however, sells as well as Vanilla ice cream, according to Mr. Lane. That is due to the reason that this cream

Creamery Products Good Summer Food

Wholesome ice cream, pasteurized milk and butter such as are turned out in the local plant of the Gate City Creameries are among the most healthful foods during the hot months of the summer, according to the local manager, L. P. Lane. Mr. Lane pointed out the fact that heavy foods on the summer menu are rapidly going into the discard. In their place, people are looking for foods suited to the needs of the body, or to be more exact, summer foods.

Ice Cream Heads List

Heading the list, of course, is ice cream. Rich in food value, this product is probably more in demand at this season of the year than any other. It is sold in every place of business in Memphis where fountain service is maintained. Special orders for parties are given careful attention, and a variety of molds adds to the ease and composure of the hostess. As with ice cream, the pasteurized milk and butter find a hearty welcome in hundreds of home. Children especially enjoy Gate City milk. No food during the summer season is more healthful, more nourishing, more satisfying to youngsters and the grown folk as well. And for light lunches, for sandwich spreads, for the meal that requires little effort, there is nothing like Gate City butter.

General Manager

John F. Cates, of Childress, is general manager of the Gate City Creameries, which position he has held since the creameries were started in 1925. He, with John R. Scott and T. E. Walling, started the business five years ago on a small scale. At the present time, the company operates three plants, at Childress, Memphis and Quanah, the local plant being the last to be put in operation. It has been largely due to Mr. Cates' management that Gate City Creameries enjoy their present affluence throughout this section of the state. It is expected that he will be present at the house warming as will Mr. Scott and Mr. Walling.

Gate City Plants Had Meager Start Some 5 Years Ago

The Gate City Creameries was organized in 1925 in Childress by J. F. Cates, John R. Scott and T. E. Walling. Mr. Cates is general manager of the organization. The Creameries were started in a very meager way. For two years, the stockholders used the profits in buying more modern equipment. In 1927, the Quanah plant was put in operation, which is similar to the one here.

C. of C. Starts Agitation

Agitation for a local creamery was started by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, and the Childress stockholders made plans for a plant to be erected here. The building was completed last November and opened for business on December 1, 1929, with L. P. Lane, as manager. Mr. Lane had previously been associated with his brother, C. J. Lane, in the creamery business in Amarillo. The investment in this city amounts to practically $20,000. Mr. Lane is assisted by Miss Lois Harrell, bookkeeper, J. Fred Capps and C. N. Mullins.

Quite A Spirit Of Rivalry Manifested Between Creameries

Quite a spirit of good natured rivalry exists between the three plants of the Gate City Creameries, located at Childress, Memphis and Quanah. The plants vie with each other in creating new confections and in the amount of business done. Despite the fact that the Memphis plant has been in operation a shorter period of time than either of the others, the local plant has carried off all honors to date. At least, that is what the manager says and he should know if anyone is competent to make such a statement.

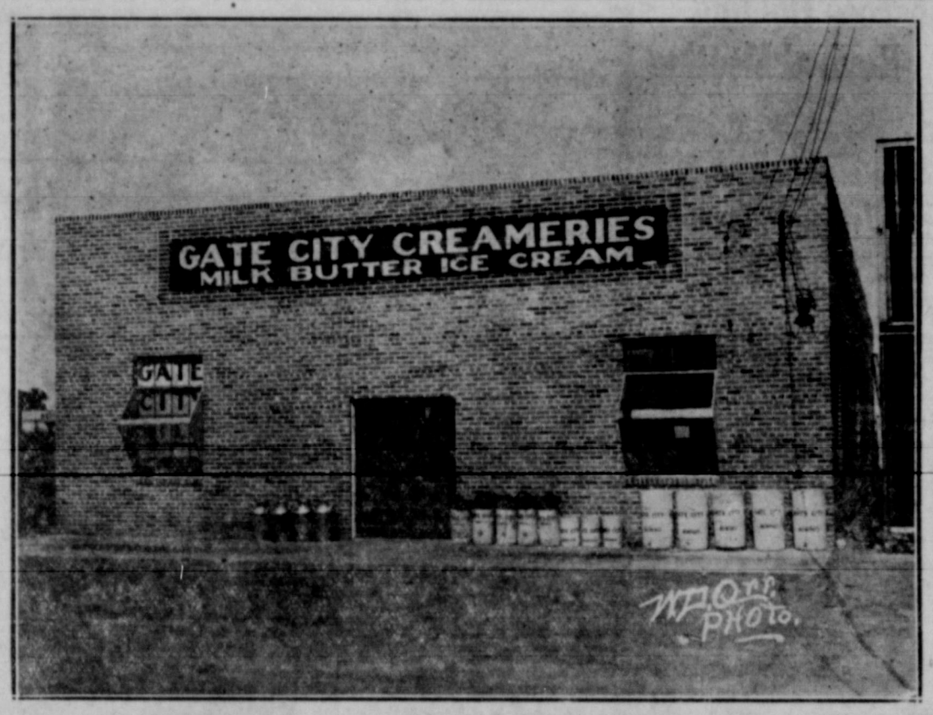

It is quite often the case that the Memphis plant is called upon to fill orders for the other plants. In that way, the Gate City Creameries here add to their sales. Many new ice cream flavors and ices have been originated in the local plant which always meet with approval from the trade.

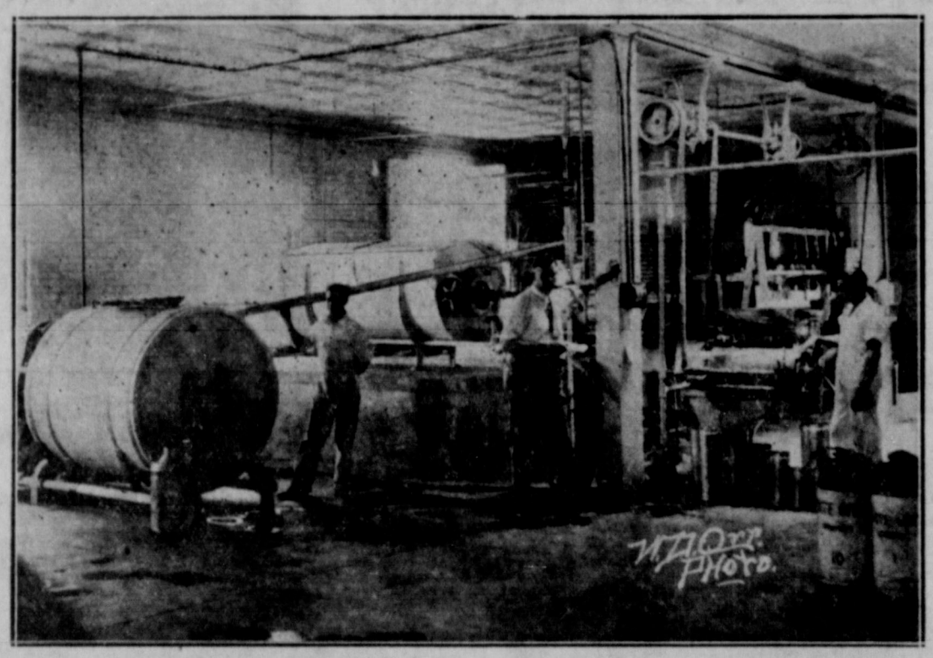

Pasteurization Of Milk At Local Gate City Creameries Proves To Be An Interesting Process

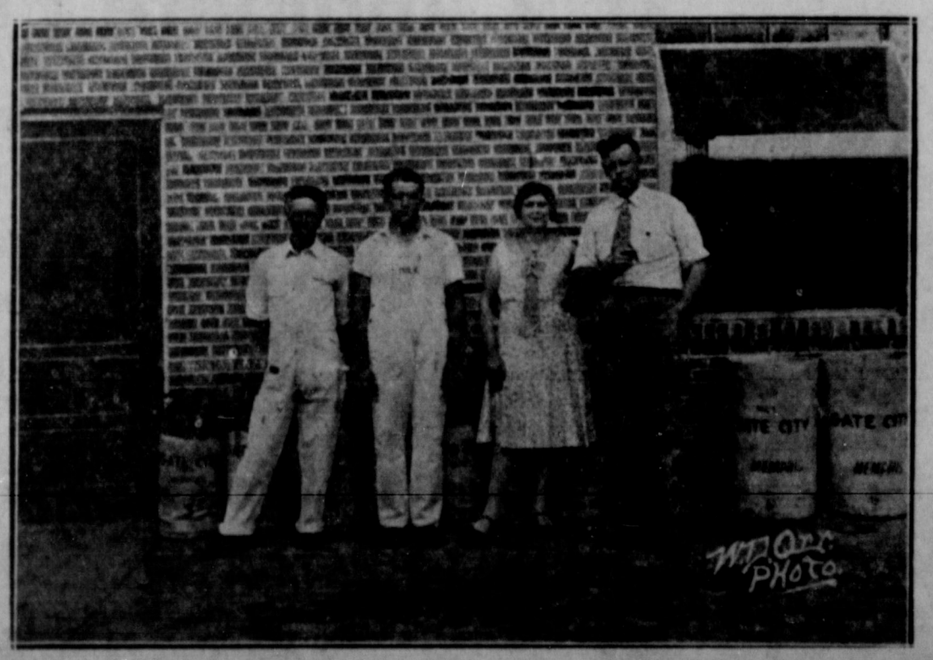

When the milk is brought into the plant of the Gate City Creameries in Memphis, it is weighed and tested. Then it is put into the pasteurizing vat, where it is heated to a temperature of between 142 and 145 degrees Fahrenheit. The milk is held at this temperature for thirty minutes, when in less than thirty seconds the temperature is reduced to approximately 33 degrees Fahrenheit.

After the sudden chilling, the milk is immediately bottled in an automatic bottling machine and is automatically capped, after which it is put in the refrigerated storage room until time for delivery.

Views Of Gate City Plant, Manager and Employees

Local Manager

L. P. Lane has managed the destinies of the Gate City Creameries in Memphis since this business was opened in December, 1929. He has made many friends since coming to this city. Mr. Lane was formerly associated with his brother, C. J. Lane, in the creamery business in Amarillo. He is thoroughly equipped for the position he holds and has made a success of his work. He has originated many new flavors and confections which are appreciated by the many customers of the local plant. Mr. Lane will be in charge of the house warming activities on Tuesday, July 22, and will be assisted by a reception committee.

Generosity Shown By Creameries In Distributing Milk

All unknown to the management of the local Gate City Creameries, it is deemed nothing but courtesy to make mention of the fact that no organization or business in the city is more ready to aid those in distress than is this creamery. It would be impossible to enumerate the many instances in which milk has been furnished to poor families, that otherwise, would have been deprived of it. It is not the habit of the management to distribute milk promiscuously, but after cases have been investigated and they are deemed worthy, the Gate City Creameries furnish milk free of charge.

Milk Furnished Free

Especially is this situation the case in times of sickness. It has come to the attention of The Democrat more than one time of how milk was furnished free of charge to families where children were ill. This is not done for advertising purposes. In fact, few people know anything concerning it, but it is a good work and this paper believes in recognizing merit.

Creameries' Slogan Of Quality Supreme Proves Well Chosen

When the Gate City Creameries came into existence in 1925 in the neighboring city of Childress, a slogan was decided upon by the men who formed the company and this slogan has "stuck" to the organization since. It is "Quality Supreme." To the many regular customers of the Gate City Creameries, this slogan lives up to its name in every sense of the word. Past experience has demonstrated that quality is the foremost aim of the creameries and that they have been successful in this regard is attested to by the rapid growth the various plants have enjoyed since their inception.

The words "Gate City" have grown to be synonymous with the words "Quality Supreme." When either is mentioned, the other is thought of immediately. That is one reason why Gate City is on the "up and up" in this section.

INSPECTION OF NEW PLANT TO BE JULY 22

Reception Committee To Escort Guests Through Plant

Get ready folks to inspect Memphis' newest industry for on Tuesday, July 22, from seven o'clock in the morning until seven o'clock that evening an official house warming will take place at the plant of the Gate City Creameries here. The house warming will take the place of a formal opening, as the plant has been in operation now since December, 1929. The house warming was postponed intentionally until hot weather set in in earnest so that local people would appreciate what a first class creamery really means to the city.

Manager In Charge

L. P. Lane, local manager of the plant, will be in charge of all arrangements in connection with the house warming. He will head a reception committee which will meet the visitors and escort them over the building, explaining in detail everything in connection with the maintenance and operation of the plant. Memphis and Hall County people, in general, are extended a cordial invitation to be present at the Gate City Creameries some time during the day, July 22.

Pasteurizing Equipment

After introductions at the door, Mr. Lane and his reception committee will escort their guests first to the office where the real "brain work" is done. Next, they will be shown the equipment for pasteurizing the milk and cream. From this, which is probably the most interesting feature of the plant, the guests will be conducted to the refrigerated vault, which is kept at a temperature of approximately 10 degrees below zero. In this vault, only ice cream is kept. Those who desire to do so, may spend some time in the vault and get temporary relief from the hot weather outside. They will see frosted pipes in plenty and the place will be rather reminiscent of a polar expedition.

Will Explain System

The guests will be taken next to the modern milk and butter storage room and then they will be shown the operation of freezing the ice cream. The compressed ammonia refrigerating system will then be explained in detail.

Purpose To Render Community Service

"It is our purpose to render a constructive service as well as to make money," L. P. Lane, manager of the Gate City Creameries in Memphis, told a representative of The Democrat. "Whenever any forward looking movement is undertaken for the good of the city as a whole, we would feel slighted if we could not have a part in it. No business can keep aloof from civic progress without hurting itself and the people it desires to serve.

Constructive Service

"It is the policy of the Gate City Creameries to render first of all a constructive service by turning out the very best products that ample facilities will permit. Our products speak for themselves, but we are never satisfied. They are being constantly improved. You will note the many innovations that we have been responsible for. New flavors and new confections have been originated in our plant. In coming into a community, however, it is not enough that we do our utmost for our large and constantly growing clientele, but in civic affairs we desire to have a part. We want to grow with Memphis. Our success depends on the success of the city as a whole and anything we can do to further the march of progress we are willing to try."

MEMPHIS OWLS START HITTING SPREE THAT NETS FIRST 2 GAMES

Pampa Magnolias Taste Defeat In Contest Thursday

The Memphis Owls took the first game of the Amarillo News-Globe Tournament Thursday by defeating the Pampa Magnolia nine 17-5. Knight started in the pitcher's position for the Owls and was relieved by Leissiner in the 4th inning, while Blankenship and Melton took the mound for Pampa.

The seventh inning was the time of the Owl rampage. It was started by a single by Tunnell, Maddox got on by an error and Carlton was hit by pitcher to fill the bases. After Pampa made three more errors and two men walked, Wilson singled, Maddox doubled and Thompson singled, and the Owls obtained nine runs on only four hits.

Tactless Texans Succumb In Face Of Owl Hitters

The Owls stepped in the lead in the News-Globe Tournament when they carried a hit-and-run game over the Amarillo Tactless Texans Sunday to a 17-10 finish. The Owls took the lead in the first inning with one run and were not seriously threatened by the Tacts during the rest of the game. Each nine used three pitchers, with Burleson starting for the Owls and Middleton for the opposition.

A strong wind blew across the diamond toward right field, and assisted the Owls in driving five homers over the fence in that area. Two of these belong to Burleson, who got them in his first two trips to the plate, and brought in four runs, two to Wessels, who got two homers, a double, and two singles out of five times at the bat, and brought in six runs, and the other belongs to Thompson, who brought in three counters.

The Tacts brought in the majority of their runs in the sixth stanza, when Hayden drove a homer over right fence with the bases loaded. During that inning four men walked and the Owls made two errors, allowing the Tacts to score seven runs on only two hits.

Rotarians Defeat Lions In 18-Hole Golf Match Monday

Even with a liberal handicap, members of the local Lions Club found it impossible to wrest golf honors from Memphis Rotarians in an 18-hole match played Monday afternoon at the Memphis Country Club.

In permitting the disgraceful defeat of 37 strokes—96 strokes less the handicap of 59—the Lions obligated themselves to supply the program at the next regular meeting of the Rotary Club, as the spoils of the match. Just now the Rotarians are rather cocky over having won the match, but if this writer knows anything at all, which, of course is doubtful, they won't be nearly so jubilant after they listen to a program provided by Lions.

Here's the way it all happened:

LIONS—Dr. L. M. Hicks 100, Dr. J. A. Odom 95; Rev. H. A. Shaw 94, Lyman E. Robbins 104, Jess Rosenwasser 104, Dr. D. C. Hyder 96, D. J. Morgensen 120. Total 713.

She Surprised Her Mother

"I got the biggest surprise when I finally got my little daughter, Mary Roselle, to feeling good again after I tried nearly everything I ever heard of," says Mrs. J. C. Swain, well-known Shreveport lady, who lives at 1016 Leon street.

"It looked like I couldn't get her straightened out. She would complain of feeling badly. Her bowels would first be too loose, then constipated. I thought she might have round or pin worms, so I started giving her White's Cream Vermifuge, and you'd be surprised, too, if you could see how she has improved. I am giving it to my little son also."

For 30 years White's Cream Vermifuge has been helping children who have round or pin worms.

Truth Is Stranger Than Fiction

BY DOROTHY B. ROBBINS

Dogs are important parts in the expedition in the picture of Byrd in the Antarctic. We feel a catch of breath over the fate of poor Spy, a gallant fellow and we chuckle over the puppies and the tiny sled while we approve of Amy, the mother, when she shows her dislike to having her youngsters out in the cold. The long vistas, stretching endlessly away with the drivers and dog teams hurrying, hurrying, the jumping of crevices, and the occasional holding back of the leader when he came to some declivity that was unusually hazardous filled everybody with admiration. But they kept on in spite of difficulties and all arrived safely at their journey's end.

Now, Admiral Byrd has accepted a medal from the American Humane Association for "marked humane treatment accorded to the dogs in his polar expeditions." This is nothing more than we expected for kindness and gentleness make a combination hard to find exceeded in any other prominent personage before the public today. Ruth and I were struck by the expressions in the eyes of members of the expedition, as if they were seeing far horizons, eyes full of that mysterious something that is almost unearthly. Spirituality is what it is. I have seen it often in the eyes of our ministers and as an especially good young student at Baylor U. in the 90's had this quality to the extent that one would expect him to go to a foreign field and die there happily. Did he do the work one would have thought after seeing the vision he had? I do not know. I have often wondered. As is usual in such cases, he went one way and I the other, but the Baptist Standard failed to include him among the noble, the daring or the great. Perhaps, he broke his heart over some trifle or died young as the good are reputed to do. A hush always fell upon our prayer meetings when his slender frame arose with his face bathed in spirituality and his eyes seeing nothing earthly as he became the target for several dozens of eyes.

No; my life was not blighted by an early love for this young man; nobody's was, for everybody spoke of him as Little ——— and had great reverence for him.

Columbus must have had eyes like Richard Byrd's—were they grey? Have you noticed how many explorers have grey or blue eyes? Are the brown-eyed men the greatest home lovers? I do not know. I married a blue eyed one and found he loved his easy chair, dressing gown and slippers more than wandering, but I didn't get him until he had wandered to his heart's content. Wonder what Dorothy Dix would tell us? Perhaps, something like this:

Dear Doubtful: If you have not fallen in love, by all means use great judgment in selecting your future husband. Brown-eyed men are easily domesticated, hazel-eyed ones come under the same head. Blue-eyed men, after a certain age, become even more domestic than others as do grey-eyed ones. You must remember, dear girl, that as long as there is anything left to discover, these men of the far seeing eyes will be busy. If they take unto themselves family ties, there are many dark moments for those left behind and hearts must be brave and big to give their nearest and dearest to science.

Then what does Doubtful do after so much good advice? Marries one of the would-be explorers just as she intended! If she hadn't been leaning quite heavily in his direction, she would never had consulted anybody. She just wanted to see what somebody else thought —besides she feels perfectly capable of making the kind of home that a man will be content to stay in. Maybe that she'll try so hard that success will smile upon her efforts.

Weren't those old heads of long ago wise ones? Here's a quotation from Sophocles: "It is the part of a good general to talk of success, not of failure." Their sayings fit well into any generation's activities. If more people felt themselves generals of their particular lines of work, then complaining would almost cease. Generals cannot afford to complain for such an attitude causes subordinates to become unruly. Suppose Columbus had felt defeat before the shores of the land he sought were sighted! Byrd's generalship saved his men; his dogs, and discovered a new continent. The business man, the teacher, the newspaper man, the doctor, the minister, the mother with her brood of little ones—all are generals! Talk success! Your failures will not hurt so much if you have tried to succeed.

There is an expression called Sophoclean irony, because it is an uttreance carrying an unintended and unwelcome meaning. Sophocles is called the Athenian tragic poet; he was the most popular of the three great tragedians of ancient Athens and the artistic excellence of his plays are undisputed. Seven tragedies have survived and if they are as full of meat as the expression quoted, I would I had them in my library. Sophocles, I believe you are responsible for a long word that means exactly what the quotation does: Sophrosyne. All together, Sofrossyknee. Just looks scary. Meaning temperance, practical wisdom; soundness of mind; good sense. Also, the virtue which is the outcome of intellectual discipline and habitual self-command. Yes; I consulted my Webster's big International to find out about that word.

Being a good general means everything that definition says. Learning to command the most difficult army of all, your own desires, whims, tempers, and so forth, requires great generalship. How do I know? Because I am a general, too. I wish I could write great before that word, but many of the great and good have passed to their reward. Who knows what the future holds for the successful-minded?

Mrs. F. N. Foxhall spent Saturday and Sunday in Amarillo at the bedside of her father, A. L. Lyle, who is seriously ill in an Amarillo hospital.

Mrs. W. M. Owens, and daughter, Miss Hazel and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gibson visited Mrs. Owens' sister, Mrs. Perry White, at Vernon last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Neeley, and daughter, Miss Vera, and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Webster returned Sunday from a trip to New Mexico. They went through Carlbad Cavern Tuesday of last week and went from there to Santa Fe and other places of interest. The report a wonderful trip.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

What could be better for an appetizer on a hot day than cantaloupe halves filled with crushed ice? The person who complains of being unfriendly toward the fragrant melon will find a companionableness with it if it is taken at the noonday meal. Have you ever tried cantaloupe a-la-mode? Will there ever come a time when watermelon is served in like manner?

Years ago, I read of a watermelon that had a bottle of claret dilutingly interspersed about its interior. Seemed a waste in two directions to me. One of our family has always called icing an angel food cake, "gilding the lily." Likewise and identically would "spiking" a melon be called after the same manner. Good melons of the water and cantaloupe variety need no trimmings. When dressed out of all proportion to be eaten, it would seem that an abnormal appetite was receiving undue catering.

Condition Of Dr. Hennen Improved

It will be good news to the many friends of Dr. J. C. Hennen to know that his condition is much improved. Mrs. Hennen returned to Memphis from Dallas Monday morning where she had been visiting Dr. Hennen for more than a week and she states that he has improved considerably.

It is not known how long Dr. Hennen will remain in the Dallas hospital, but if he continues to improve, he will probably be able to return to Memphis within the next six weeks, it was stated.

Ethe Jones returned from Lubbock Saturday night after attending the first term of summer school at Texas Technological College.

Former Newspaper Woman On Local Paper Dies Sunday

Frances McKinsey, 36 years of age, a former resident of Memphis, died at an Amarillo hospital Sunday morning, July 13, at four o'clock, from paralysis. Miss McKinsey was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKinsey of Stone, New Mexico. She had formerly resided in Memphis for a number of years and was linotype operator for the Hall County Herald, moving to Clarendon where she was operator for the Clarendon News.

At the time of her death, Miss McKinsey was linotype operator for the Pampa News. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the First Methodist church in Clarendon, with the Rev. S. E. Allison conducting the services. A large concourse of friends and relatives were present. The floral offerings were profuse, attesting to the love and esteem in which she was held.

The Rebekah Lodge of Pampa, of which she was a member, attended the services in a body and had charge of the services at the grave. Burial took place in the Clarendon cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard and children, and Mrs. W. V. Coursey and children returned Sunday night from a vacaton trip to Gunnison, Colorado.

Miss Ione Webster returned home Tuesday from Dallas where she attended Southern Methodist University the past term.

Ernestine Walker returned to Memphis from Panhandle Monday where she had been visiting several days with her sister, Mrs. R. E. Vaughn.

Mr. and Mrs. Landrum Stanford, Miss Grace Leverett and Frosty Rymer returned Sunday night from a vacation spent at Gunnison, Colorado.

THE DEMOCRAT'S PROGRAM FOR 1930
(Check Mark Indicates Project Has Been Realized)

1. Less selfishness and more selflessness in the business, professional and social life of Memphis and Hall County.
2. The placing of agriculture on a higher plane, with emphasis being put on diversification, live at home movement, and the cow, sow and hen route to contentment and general well being.
3. A better understanding between Memphis and the towns and communities in Hall County.
4. More respect for city ordinances in connection with parking of cars in the downtown district, observance of fire rules and regulations, and keeping the streets of the city in a clean condition.
5. More general cooperation in all movements seeking the betterment of Memphis and Hall County.
6. A municipal auditorium.
7. More paved streets.

TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT AT LAST

AFTER a long period of waiting and after much travail, it would appear that the traffic laws of Memphis, which have been so flagrantly violated and disregarded over a long period of time, are in the process of being enforced. We hope the good work will continue, for should such be the case, it will not be long until pedestrian and car driver alike will feel safe to make their appearance in public without the possibilityy of accident or disaster.

Memphis is still too small a town to have traffic lights, but the town is large enough for its citizens to have respect for traffic rules. A few fines will work more good than all the traffic lights this city could possess. For one reason or another, probably because we have been unthinking, little attention has been given to the fact that there are such things in the world as traffic rules and regulations. The City Fathers have gotten their heads together, and as a result, the police force has "tightened down."

We hope the people of Memphis will take this matter seriously and not as a passing gesture. Traffic violators are to be prosecuted and there can be no mistake about that. We believe that the enforcement of the traffic laws is here to stay and if these laws are not respected some one will necessarily suffer sooner or later. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and this applies paricularly to those who dislike having to pay fines.

—ooOoo—

ONE CASE OF HORN TOOTING

WE have known any number of people who seem to derive unique pleasure from tooting their own horn. None of these folk live in Memphis or Hall County, we are happy to say, but they do exist. Without any pay, or promise of pay, and very likely without his knowledge, for we know he never reads anything that finds its way into these columns, we desire to recognize merit where it exists and to compliment the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department in their good judgment in naming M. G. Ray as fire chief for another year.

The fact that M. G. is foreman of the mechanical department of The Democrat does not enter into the matter at all. If he had proved inefficient, we would feel no hesitation in saying as much. On the other hand, he has made good in this job of large responsibility and the city of Memphis should appretiate a public servant of his calibre. Ray has studied and is studying the job of fire chief. He wants his department to outrank any in the Panhandle, and if the boys keep him in harness a little longer, his desires will be realized. Much criticism generally goes with it and little consideration or commendation. The administration of M. G. Ray speaks for itself. He has handled a difficult job well. He has the confidence and respect of his co-workers and the honor that has been accorded him is a deserving one. Our hope is that he will be as easy to get along with after this appears in print as he was before.

THE TOURIST SEASON

THE season for tourists is in full swing. Hundreds of them are passing through Memphis every day. Some of them partake of our hotel facilities; others prefer the numerous camp houses which abound within the city and vicinity. Contacts are made at filling stations and garages. Often, tourists stop long enough to make purchases. To them, Memphis can mean just another town on their route, or it can mean Memphis, Hall County, Texas, a good place in which to live.

We often think that we do not take the time with tourists that we should. If they desire information, we should furnish it gladly. If they want maps, they should be procured for them. If they are desirous of knowing where an old friend lives, they should be informed. It pays to treat tourists well. These people are away from their homes. Many of them are in a strange part of the country. If we put ourselves to just a little trouble and make them feel at home, large dividends are sure to come our way—if not in money, then in good will.

There are towns throughout the country that tourists try to avoid and they have reason for so doing. They have found that these towns are lacking in courtesy; that they care little for the stranger in their midst; that they are too narrow to be concerned with the other fellow. The results of such an attitude are often disastrous. Memphis has a chance to capitalize on its good name this summer by being friendly and cordial to all tourists coming our way. Without inconvenience to ourselves, we can lend a helping hand that aids us individually and collectively.

A PUBLISHER HE WOULD BE

THE daily papers carried a story several days ago to the effect that Paul W. Mellon, son of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon is to become a book publisher rather than a financier. The younger Mellon has announced his intention of foregoing the chance to succeed his father as director of the Mellon millions, and plans to enter a New York publishing concern.

If Paul Mellon were a poor chap and was entering the publishing business merely to make a living and a little more, our advice would be, "stay out." The son of Andrew Mellon, however, will make a success as a publisher as heir to a fortune estimated to be one-half billion dollars. With all this money at his command, he will probably play around at his business, spending most of each year abroad, or golfing, or swimming, or yachting or doing something else that will take up a little time.

Actually, we feel sorry for Paul Mellon. Imagine entering the publishing business with only a fortune of one-half billion dollars. At any event, we hope the authors he publishes will have an even break and will get a little trickle of the gold from the Mellon millions. Probably young Paul will prove a benefactor to them, but more than likely, probably not.

...AST CONGRUITY OF INTERESTS IS FOUND IN EXPANDING WEST

(Editor's Note: The following ...rticle, written by a local business ...an, gives a cross-section of con...itions as they exist in this par...icular part of the state at the ...resent time. It will bear reading ...nd re-reading.)

The first six months in the bla...nt west has been of restrained ...usiness hesitation. I say hesita...on for the reason that it is dif...icult for your true westerner not ... go apace at whatever he does.

It is largely the effect of cli...ate, new soil, new people. The ...ean age of residence of the av...rage inhabitant of the west is ...carce more than twenty years. ...e is largely transplanted and ...omes from central and east Tex...s and the fringe of states to the ...ast of Texas. But the magic of ...limate gets into his blood, and ...om then on, he will bear with ...e occasional rigors of sand-...orms and the incident disadvan...ge of the climate.

...t the open sesame in the west ...e of a higher altitude, ...ds and these twain up-... life. Zestful is life in the ...h her wide open spaces ...retch into the purple dis...nce revealing her dark, virgin ...il.

The vicissitudes of her people ...e not far different from those ...esewhere; yet, it is her gusto of ...fe, her brilliant successes and ...agnificent failures that keep her ...ople on the quivive.

The cost of living in the west higher than in the settled and ...ore placid portions of the state. ... relatively speaking, she is in ...e main not much better off. But ...e ease with which her soil may ...tilled and its sure productivity, ...spite its sometime scant re-wards, make for cheerful continu-ity of effort upon the part fo her people.

Only recently, a town entertain-ing in the course of a week a small convention there were sev-en banquets in as many days; ev-idence of the optimism of youth and the urge to do things.

Organization is rife in the west. Multiple organizations in the church; fraternal orders flourish more or less; and more recently. civic organizations have attained rotund growth, and rotate about the chief satellite—the chamber of commerce.

The purr of the motor car has replaced the staccato hoof of the horse and clank of spurs; and the change and ease of life have re-placed the lank cowpuncher with the more suave and sophisticated youth.

The church in the west has al-ways been a vigorous institution and where there is ability and con-secration in the pulpit, there is no lack of attendance and support upon the part of the people. Cyn-icism does not enter much into the scheme of things in the west, where man a recent pioneer, and mostly all along one who has had to cope with the stark realities that come with the economic de-velopment of a new country. Too, a treeless country and vast imbue man with the sobriety of life and this is reflected in his worship and support of the church. No moss grown paths lead to the church in the west. May this not have something to do with a kind beneficence that makes her to flourish as the rose?

The west is a vast congruity of interests. Beginning with the Pan-handle, a subtle farming section, she sprawls either way over a vast territory of tableland covered with mesquites and upon whose hills and vales feed yet many cattle.

Much soil awaits the plow and her potential values have been but lightly touched. Some sections of the west enjoy a humid climate and abundant rainfall and are in-dustrially sound and growing; and these areas are the leaven that will ultimately bring in the less favored sections. —F. V. C.

forms the basis of nearly all the drinks served at a fountain which call for ice cream. Next in importance is banana nut ice cream; strawberry cream is listed third and peach cream and lemon custard come next. The preference for the other creams and ices is fairly well distributed, Mr. Lane stated.

Gate City—

16 Different Flavors

About 650 gallons of milk are bought daily by the three plants of the Gate City Creameries. Five hundred gallons of ice cream are kept in stock here all the time. Sometimes, this amount is increased, as was the case in preparing for the fourth of July. Sixteen different kinds of ice creams and sherbets are stocked including vanilla ice cream, banana nut, strawberry, lemon custard, peach cream, caramel custard, orange-pineapple, chocolate, fruit salad, frozen ambrosia, maple nut, caramel nut, Scotch nut, almond toffee, marshmellow salad, orange sherbet, pineapple sherbet, lime sherbet and strawberry sherbet. Vanilla ice cream is by far the most popuar.

Generosity Shown—

Generous To Visitors

The manager of the Gate City Creameries here is equally generous to those who visit his plant. It is often the case that he treats his visitors to generous helpings of ice cream. Newspaper men, in particular, seem to come in for their share. Whenever a new flavor is perfected, large containers of the ice cream are sent to The Democrat office for sampling purposes, and take it from this writer, the sampling is a very pleasant process.

A number of people have remarked at the marked healthy appearance of certain members of The Democrat's staff. Gate City cream did the work.

Inspection Of—

and after that, the operation of making butter. One of the most pleasant incidents connected with the house warming has been reserved until last. After a complete inspection of the plant has been made the guests will be served delicious Gate City Ice Cream, which alone is worth a visit to the plant.
