Sitter Well In Wheeler County Flows At Rate Of 11,344 Barrels Sunday

BOARD URGES CHAIR FOR HAMILTON

State Officer Of Demo Clubs Comes Tonight

Here Tonight

Publisher John McCarty of Dalhart to Reorganize Young Democratic Club.

Pampa's Young Democratic club will be reorganized tonight at a rally in the county court room when John L. McCarty of Dalhart, state president, comes here for an address. The meeting will begin at 8 p. m. in the courthouse.

Mr McCarty, youthful Dalhart publisher, will describe the activities of the state organization and point out possibilities for the local club. He is well known as a forceful and practical speaker.

The Pampa club was organized two years ago but has been inactive for a year. With the state convention scheduled to meet in Amarillo June 7 and 8, Mr. McCarty is eager to have the Panhandle well represented.

Officers will be elected tonight and delegates to the convention named.

Mr. McCarty will answer such questions as: What is a Young Democrat? Who sponsors the Young Democratic clubs? What is the political significance of the organization? What can it do for the state and nation? What can the local club do for its members and for Pampa?

Locally, the age limit has been 18 to 35 years. Men and women whose ages are within this limit are urged to hear Mr. McCarty tonight. Gilmore N. Nunn, former county chairman of the Young Democrats, will preside.

John L. McCarty of Dalhart, above, state president of Young Democratic clubs, will come here tonight to address a gathering of young men and women in the county court room. The local club will be reorganized.

We are an agricultural community and our property is largely in the form of real estate. The dust storms were bad, but not one tenth as damaging as people have been led to believe. It will require years to convince a lot of people that this is not now a desert. Our wealth is in land and that which is produced from it. It is not in mountains and trees and tumbling brooks, gorgeous sunsets and romantic moons.

'SEND-A-DIME' CHAIN LETTER CRAZE GROWING

Denver Mail Rises 5 Times Normal Load

DENVER, Colo., April 29 (AP)—One hundred extra clerks and carriers went to work at the Denver postoffices today to handle the flood of mail resulting from the ""send-a-dime" chain letter craze.

The volume of week-end mail increased five times the normal Sunday load, 110,000 pieces of first class mail being sorted in the main office.

And are the postmen angry about the craze that is making their mail sacks heavy?

Not at all, they are surprisingly pleased with the whole thing, because, they say, they find more happy people awaiting their arrival.

Hugh W. Osborne, president of the Denver postal carriers' union, is authority for this.

"The carriers are getting a big kick out of this," he said. "You can notice a different atmosphere along the routes. People are happier and that is worth something."

Meanwhile, Postmaster J. O. Stevic and postal authorities wondered how to make the next attack on the frenzy. All their efforts so far have backfired—increasing the dime chain mail volume tremendously

The postmaster started by threatening arrests His pronouncement was first class advertising, apparently, because, a lot of people had not then heard about the fun they were missing.

Then he tried pleading. But fans of the dime game—bankers and bootblacks, relief workers and school children, and everyone else—were not to be balked by appeals to patriotism and the good of the postal service. Many of them had raised rabbits when they were young and knew something about progressive equations

AMARILLO, April 29. (AP)—The "send-a-dime" chain letter craze which caused the Denver postoffice to be swamped had extended to Amarillo today.

Fifty-one letters, each containing a dime, addressed to an Amarillo man, and 32 addressed to an Amarillo woman were received at the postoffice here today.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Robison were called to McKinney Friday, when Mr. Robisons' brother dide suddenly there. They remained for the funeral yesterday.

GUSHER TODAY PRODUCING 250 BARRELS HOUR

SMITH BROTHERS MAY HAVE SENSATION WELL OF YEAR

Flowing 1,418 barrels the first three hours, or at the rate of 11,344 barrels a day, the Smith Brothers No. 1 Sitter in Wheeler county started out to be the sensation well of the Panhandle field yesterday afternoon. The flow started diminishing during the night, however, and this morning the flow was 250 barrels an hour.

The new well is located in the northeast corner of the west half of the northwest quarter of section 33, block 24, in proven territory. Several large producers surround the gusher, but none of them came in for such a great initial production. The well was placed on railroad commission test immediately.

Pay in the Smith Brothers well was located below the 2,450-foot mark. Several million cubic feet of gas was encountered with the oil.

The Dyke Oil company is drilling a test two offsets east of the Smith Brothers well. The Dyke test is expected to top the pay sometime this week.

100 Pampans to Attend Guymon Pioneer Event

Should the wind be from the south Thursday morning, Guymon, Okla., will believe another duster is invading the city. But it will just be dust from a motorcade of Pampans who will attend the Guymon Pioneer Round-Up.

Pampa's delegation will leave from the chamber of commerce at 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning. At least 100 persons are desired to make the trip. A committee of local men will visit all firms, offices, and business houses before Thursday, urging that a large crowd make the trip, not only to advertise Pampa's Pre-Centennial and Pioneer Round-Up, but to help make the Guymon celebration a success.

Mayor W. A. Bratton this morning sent greetings to the mayor of Guymon, telling that Pampa would "move to Guymon" Thursday to do her part in helping make the celebration a success.

The parade is one of the outstanding events of the celebration. Last year the parade started several miles out in the country and was five miles long. It is the aim of the Pampa motorcade to arrive in time to witness the monster parade.

A motorcade composed of 18 Guymon citizens visited Pampa last week, advertising their celebration.

Thursday's trip to Guymon is not for men only. Women are urged to join the trippers. As many persons as possible are asked to wear old time costumes.

Allred Compiles 'Must' Bill List

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred said today he believed the legislature before final adjournment should pass "a number" of revenue-raising measures, a public utilities regulation bill and several other proposals which he listed.

The house had voted to end the session May 7. Indications were, however, that the senate would vote to prolong it, probably until around May 17.

The "must" list prepared by the governor was: Submission of prohibition repeal; creation of a state agency to attempt to finance public natural gas pipe lines from the Panhandle to St. Louis and Detroit; halting the gas wastage in the Panhandle; creation of a state commission to regulate public utilities; "a number" of taxation measures and a series of proposals in the interest of labor.

Unless the session should be extended for several weeks, it appeared that the lawmakers would grant the governor's wishes only in part. Neither house had approved any new tax bills, the gas pipe line proposal or the public utilities regulation measure.

CHORUS TO MEET

Philharmonic Chorus will meet promptly at 8 o'clock this evening for rehearsal at First Baptist church. All members are urged to be present, as this rehearsal of Music week program is an important one.

'Fear Is Vanishing,' Says President

BOYS WILL ENACT STORY OF HUCK AND TOM HERE TONIGHT

For at least once a play has been ideally cast.

It is Huck Finn by Mark Twain and will be presented by the Junior class of Pampa high school at 8 o'clock tonight and tomorrow night in the city auditorium.

Mickey Ledrick, Rex Rose, Don Foster, Jim Aarndt are to Pampa high school what Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer were to the lazy Mississippi river town that Mark Twain immortalized in books of those names. Now Huck and Tom were not the "meanest boys in town" but their passion to get into mischief never slept. In actual life, Mickey, Rex, and Don are not unlike Tom and Huck; therefore they are ideally cast; all they will have to do to portray their roles perfectly is to act naturally.

The Junior play this year promises to be one of the most entertaining ever staged here. It is suited to high school students. Mark Twain knew boys and he knew how to write about them in a manner that has never been equalled for humor and insight. His masterpieces were Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer, and they will be up to their pranks tonight and tomorrow night on the auditorium stage.

The cast follows:

Aunt Polly, who is so nervous, Virginia Roberts; Ruth Watson, her sister, Lillian Rice; Mary Jane, almost as mean as Huck, Marjorie Skaggs; Fred Raymond, Don Foster who is in love with Ruth; Melba White, negro maid, Elizabeth McAfee; Clara Woppinger, persnickety deaconness; Amy Woppinger, irrepressible sister, Pauline Gregory; Huck Finn who loves to play pranks, Jim Arndt; John Finn, his tipsy father, Henry Berry; Tom Sawyer, Huck's pal and co-conspirator, Mickey Ledrick. Rex Rose is stage manager, Flora Dean Finley, prompter, and Ben Guill, director. Harry Kelley was director for several weeks during intense practice for the one-act play contest. Mr. Kelley is also the junior sponsor.

Proceeds will be used to finance the Junior-Senior banquet. Each junior must sell enough tickets to the play to buy places for himself and one senior. Ushers will direct attendants to their seats. Admission will be 15 cents for students, 25 cents for adults and general admission, and 35 cents for reserve seats which includes the general admission price.

The cast has been working on the play for two months, and the speeches have been memorized for weeks.

SURPRISE ENTERTAINMENT WILL BE ON SCOUT PROGRAM TONIGHT

Parents of Scouts are being advised that tonight's court of honor in the district courtroom at 8 o'clock will be the biggest in months, and that surprise entertainment will greatly interest those who attend.

Dozens of boys will apply for advanced rank in Scouting. Scores will receive merit badges for work just completed. News of the approaching Scout circus and National Jamboree will be announced.

Altogether, it will be an occasion in which all adult Scout leaders and parents should participate, Executive C. A. Clark said today. In the coming events, the advice and counsel of parents will be especially needed.

Adults who have not attended a court of honor and who would like to know what is done on such an occasion are urged to be present tonight. Troops are in a contest in which points will be given for having the most fathers and mothers present.

Interest in the National Jamboree at Washington, D. C. continues to grow. The small but active town of Follett has sent in $125 as the initial payment of $25 for each of five boy who will make the coveted journey. Other troops will similarly decide before May 1. About 24 boys from the Adobe Walls council will attend the Jamboree.

ALFRED I. DUPONT, ORGANIZER OF MUNITIONS-CHEMICAL PLANT, DIES

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 29. (AP)—Alfred I. Dupont, 72, organizer and former head of the Dupont De Nemours and company, explosive and chemical manufacturers, died unexpectedly early today at his estate, Epping Forest, just outside Jacksonville.

Dupont suffered a heart attack last Thursday but had rallied. His physician said he appeared to be recovering but he was stricken again last night and died a few hours later.

In 1902 Dupont purchased the Dupont company and organized it in its present form. He retired from that company a number of years ago.

In 1926 he came to Florida. At the time of his death he was one of the largest landowners in the state and was active as president of the Florida National bank of Jacksonville.

He was a native of Wilmington, Del.

Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Jessie D. Ball, a son, Alfred Victor of Wilmington, five daughters, Mrs. Herman Rouff of Germany, Mrs. Reginald S. Huidekoper of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Elbert Dent of Philadelphia, Mrs. Victory Llewellyn of England, and Miss Denise Dupont of Sweetbrier college, Va.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 29. (AP)—Captain of industry, philanthropist, politician — Alfred Irenee Dupont, who died today at his estate near Jacksonville, Fla., earned all these titles during his long and colorful career.

From the time he took over the entire management of the huge Dupont organization in 1902, until he severed relations in 1916 with the E. I. Dupont De Nemours company, which he organized along modern lines, and even for years afterward, his power in the wealthy Delaware family was felt.

The 70-year-old member of the family, born in 1865, took over the firm on the death of Eugene Dupont.

In the next ten years, after he reorganized the firm and consolidated its various interests as the Dupont De Nemours company, the organization's assets increased from $15,000,000 to $82,000,000, with Alfred dupont as vice president.

All machinery used in the company's manufacture of black powder was designed by him, and the development of prismatic powder, as used by the United States government in its large calibre guns, is entirely the result of his ingenuity.

His activities outside of this state and the Dupont De Nemours company were wide. He purchased the Grand Central Palace, New York exhibition building, in 1918. The

King George's Gilt Coach and Greys in Old-Time Runaway

LONDON, April 29 (AP)—England's gala jubilee season was unofficially opened today with a good, old-fashioned runaway.

King George's famous windsor greys, bolting down Park Lane, smacked the royal coach into a bus and then into a coster's barrow.

The ancient and honorable vehicle scored a clean victory in each instance, emerging with only one slight scratch on its gilt frame.

The royal equipage was sedately rehearsing its part in the May 6 procession when a double-decker bus clipped one of the windsor greys on the flank. Then things started to happen not as rehearsed.

With the top-hatted coachman clinging on for his life, the king's horses bolted. Before they could be brought under control by the outriders, the heavy coach took a parting swipe at the bus and slugged the coster's fruit-laden pushcart into complete submission.

Beyond the severe shaking-up the king's coachman received, there were no casualties and the coach was trundled back into the Buckingham palace stables under its own horsepower.

There was no king in the back seat, only ballast.

ASKS CITIZENS TO HELP MAKE DRIVE 'CLEAN'

ACTION ON DISPUTED LAWS IS ASKED IN 'CHAT'

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—After appealing to all Americans to help make the $4,880,000,000 work-relief drive "the most efficient and cleanest example of public enterprise the world has ever seen," President Roosevelt sought today to get the vast undertaking "in full swing by autumn."

Meantime congress faced the prospect of a prolonged session extending well into the hot summer. The president, in the "fireside chat" in which he outlined his work relief program, had called for action on such controversial issues as social security, extension of NRA, banking and utility holding company legislation.

His remarks on works and legislation were regarded today as two salient portions of the adress. Another was the note of optimism the president struck.

"Never since my inauguration in March, 1933," he said, "have I felt so unmistakably the atmosphere of recovery."

"Fear is vanishing," he added, "and confidence is growing on every side, renewed faith in the vast possibilities of human beings to improve their material and spirtual status through the instrumentality of democratic government. That faith is receiving its just reward.

"And for that we can be thankful to the God who watches over America."

Early in his address, Mr. Roosevelt answered critics who say the administration's program is confused. Comparing the program to a large ship being built, he said:

"When one of these ships is under construction and the steel frames have been set in the keel, it is difficult for a person who does not know ships to tell how it will finally look when it is sailing the high seas."

Absent from the list of legislation the president mentioned were such measures as the Wagner labor relations bill, the proposed amendments to strengthen the AAA's powers, the Copeland food and drug bill and others. But he said he could name only a few bills in the talk and asserted "I do not want my mention of specific measures to be interpreted as lack of interest in or disapproval of many other important proposals that are pending."

"We are losing no time," he said, "ing getting the government's vast work relief program under way..."

Would Destroy Idleness

"This," he said, "is a great national crusade to destroy enforced idleness which is an enemy of the human spirit generated by this depression. Our attack on these enemies must be without stint and without discrimination. No sectional, no political distinctions can be permitted.

"It must, however, be recognized that when an enterprise of this character is extended over more than 3,000 counties throughout the nation, there may be occasional instances of inefficiency, bad management or misuse of funds.

"When cases of this kind occur, there will be those, of course, who will try to tell you that the exceptional failure is characteristic of the entire endeavor. It should be remembered that in every big job there are some imperfections. There are chiselers in every walk of life, there are those in every industry who are guilty of unfair practices, every profession has its black sheep, but long experience in government has taught me that the exceptional instances of wrong-doing in government are probably less numerous than in almost every other line of endeavor.

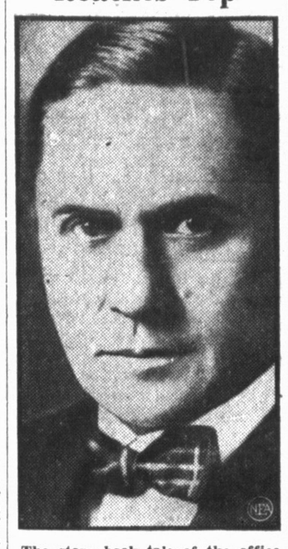

"The most effective means of preventing such evils in this work relief program will be the eternal vigilance of the American peopole themselves."

The social security legislation now before congress, he said, "is a necessary part of the future unemployment policy of the government.

"While our present and projected expenditures for work relief are wholly within the reasonable limits of our national credit resources, it is obvious that we cannot continue to create governmental deficits for that purpose year after year. We must begin now to make provision for the future. That is why our social security program is an impor-

PAMPA ENVOYS ARE SATISFIED WITH MISSIONS

Progress Is Made at Austin By City Groups

Pampans who have been making contacts with state and federal officials concerning projects of interest to Gray county and the eastern Panhandle have returned with satisfactory reports concerning their receptions.

A city delegation composed of W. T. Fraser, C. L. Stine, and John Sturgeon returned Saturday night from Austin and Fort Worth. They laid plans for a PWA-financed underpass (Cuyler street) before Gibb Gilchrist, state engineer. Senator Clint C. Small accompanied them.

At Fort Worth, they consulted Julian Montgomery, state PWA engineer. Mr. Montgomery said that he was awaiting instructions from Washington concerning the Texas program. He is familiar with the Pampa situation, having compiled a city plan here several years ago.

H. Otto Studer, colonel on Governor Allred's staff, returned from Austin Sunday. He talked to the governor about the roads in the eastern Panhandle, and was assured that the State would listen attentively to suggestions when the money is available for paving.

Mr. Studer also was impressed by progress being made on the bill to permit a pipeline project from the Gray-Carson area to Detroit. He said that safeguards being written into the measure would make it safe for the state and of vast value to this section. He is obtaining data which will be available within a few days.

GOVERNOR TO WITHHOLD HIS FINAL VERDICT

PARDON BODY FAVORS NO COMMUTATION OF SENTENCE

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred disclosed today that the state pardon board had recommended that the death sentence of Raymond Hamilton and Joe Palmer be not commuted. The two desperadoes are scheduled to be electrocuted May 10.

The governor usually follows the pardon board's recommendation. He stated, however, that he would withhold a final decision until he completed a careful study of the board's report and the records of the cases.

Hamilton and Palmer were convicted of slaying Major Crowson, Eastham prison farm guard, in an escape early in 1934.

The report was written by T. C. Andrews, chairman of the pardon board, and concurred in by the other two members.

"Many citizens have written us in behalf of Raymond Hamilton because of his youth," Andrews said, "but a youth who can terrorize the citizens throughout Texas and nearby states, robs banks with firearms, and kidnap citizens certainly is old enough to be restrained and given the same punishment that should be administered to a well matured man. While we have a deep feeling of sorrow for the mother of Ray Hamilton and the other relatives of both parties, yet we also have a deep feeling of sorrow for the mother of Major Crowson, who, while in the morning of his life and obeying the laws of his country and offering his body as a bulwark to protect the law-abiding citizens against these hijackers, was murdered in cold blood by the guns that Raymond Hamilton had had smuggled into the penitentiary and then used by him and Joe Palmer in effecting their escape.

"In view of the fact that both Hamilton and Palmer are shown by the records to be the very worst class of criminal in the penitentiary, and the evidence shows beyond a reasonable doubt that both were guilty in the killing of Major Crowson, we do not believe it best for society that their sentences be commuted to life terms in the penitentiary because their criminal record shows that no sooner than a commutation would be granted they would at once begin to study some kind of a scheme and some kind of a conspiracy to set themselves free regardless of how many men they killed in doing so."

Gas Well Employe Severely Burned

Severe burns about the head, both arms, back, and both legs, were suffered by E. A. McKercher, employe of the Danciger Oil & Refineries, yesterday morning when a gas well on which he was working caught fire. Two other employes received slight burns. Mr. McKercher was taken to Pampa hospital where, today, he was resting nicely.

The men were removing a string of pipe from the company's gas well on the Lester lease in section 10, block 1, five miles southwest of LeFors, when in some unknown manner the gas caught fire.

The well, drilled in several years ago, was making about 12,000,000 cubic feet of gas. The derrick had been torn down some time ago and equipment moved in was being used to remove the tubing.

Cleaning away of debris and material was in progress today. A shot will be placed in an effort to extinguish the blaze.

WHAT OF YOUR NAME?

Once we heard a lady, in a public address, urge young men to safeguard their names, pointing out to them that it belong not to them alone but to all others, widely scattered, who bore it.

In everyday life we have frequent occasions to meet new faces, and unconsciously, we judge the stranger by the name he bears. Later, perhaps, we revise the initial valuation, but for a time, the worth of the name he bears justifies or condemns the unknown man.

The other day a lawyer in Castro county told us an interesting occurrence which illustrates the statements made above. Two strangers walked into the lawyer's office, discussing a matter, and before leaving turned it over to him for attention. As the lawyer required a retainer in advance, he suggested to them that they make inquiries as to his reputation.

The visitors said this was unnecessary. The lawyer then asked them who had sent them to his office. The answer was "No one." The curiosity of the lawyer having been aroused, he asked them the reason for their visit to him, when so many others were available. The answer surprised him.

One of the visitors said: "I was in the army and served under Capt. . . . . He was a fine man, straight as they make them. I saw you had the same name and I decid- to come to you.—Castro County News.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Among the reasons NRA will be continued is the combined code authority budget of $41,000,000.

Spread around in salaries, as most of it is, this provides incentive for an earnest, hard-working lobby. A code authority executive secretary on $20,000 a year can frequently work up some gorgeous superlatives in preparing petitions to Waschington for NRA's perpetuation. A dozen men are receiving $20,000 or more a year in code authority salaries approved by NRA and 397 receive $5000 or more. The highest code authority executive salaries approved are those of W. G. Critchton and W. A. Richards of the bituminous coal industry and W. H. Ferry of the hat manufacturers, each of whom draws $30,000.

Some of the highest code authority budgets include: Lumber, $4,055,000; general contractors, $2,750,000; retail lumber, $1,801,000; general retail trade, $1,565,000; plumbing contracting, $1,259,000; commercial relief printing, $1,071,000; and baking $900,000.

The figures given do not cover the code authorities supported on a voluntary basis, but only those where contributions are mandatory and NRA has carefully scrutinized the budgets in the hope of avoiding racketeering and criticism.

Both the budget and salary figures would be a lot higher if NRA hadn't slashed away at nearly all of them. Some proposed budgets have been cut 50 or 75 per cent and quite a few gents who were able to sell their industries on $50,000 or even $75,000 salaries found they couldn't make NRA see the necessity.

Thanks to the fact that there's a can monopoly, you pay more for the can than for the food inside it.

Anyway, we have the word of General Johnson for that. In a generally overlooked section of his NRA statement to the Senate, he took up the case of the two big can companies—American Can, which sells about 44 per cent of the cans packers use and Continental Can, which does 26 per cent of the business—to show that price-fixing exists in industries whose codes have no price-fixing provisions whatever. Johnson used NRA figures.

The tomato pack for 1934 was about $35,802,000, Johnson said, with raw stock estimated at $8,206,000; cans—including cases and freight for empty cans—at $14,200,000; direct labor, $4,949,000; and brokerage, overhead, etc., $5,805,000.

"In other words," the general reported, "the cans cost three times as much as labor receives in wages—and about 75 per cent more than the food inself."

Supporters of the Costigan-Wagner anti-lynching bill in the Senate, after a recent poll, were sure they had enough votes to pass it in the upper house.

Since the impassioned outbursts of Senators "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina and Walter George of Georgia, they're not so sure.

Votes they counted on may be swerved by the bitterness of the fight or by filibuster threats such as that of the celebrated Bilbo of Mississippi.

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

It was the old, old question being argued by the two men. No one honestly knew whether Houston or Austin would be the better place for the seat of government of Texas. If one person said that corn was thirty cents cheaper in Austin, someone else discovered that corn was seventy-five cents at both cities. Since the capitol was located at Austin, it might just as well remain there without constant quarreling.

When the first rumblings of the Revolution were beginning to be heard in Texas in 1835, San Felipe de Austin was the meeting place for the government officials. Governor Smith called for a discussion of the possibilities of Washington-on-the-Brazos, or other towns as a better meeting place. Matagorda and Velasco were suggested, but voted down at once.

"By some it is contended that the location should be at Washington-on-the-Brazos, this place is said to be a thickly populated country, and most central to the inhabited parts of Texas," one of the spokesmen said. "It is known that the town is of very recent origin, having few, if any, suitable buildings or rooms for public business, and no printing establishment."

"Brazoria," said another, "has a good press and a suitable council house. It is located on the navigable waters of the Brazos . . . but the badness of the roads this time of year," he continued slowly, "are said to be a great disadvantage."

A vote was taken. "Ayes" far surpassed the "noes." "Then, gentlemen," said a Mr. Barrett, "I resolve that an express be sent immediately to Washington to inform the citizens of the removal of the provisional government to that place; and also that the fact of its removal be communicated to the army and to all parts of Texas."

Governor Smith read the resolution and vetoed it. Washington had no printing press! There had been no legislative action defining the duties of agents abroad, and there were several other important reasons, Governor Smith said. An effort to pass the bill over his veto failed by a vote of four to eight. San Felipe de Austin would, therefore, remain the seat of government until 1836.

Centennial visitors from other states in 1936 will not know of the tribulations of the first government to locate the seat of government. They will see only our huge capitol, overlooking the Colorado and the hills to the west, as Lamar wanted it to be. The story of the location is fascinating, and an important link in the chain of events which have made our state what it is today.

PLAINVIEW TO HAVE CONVENTION FIRST TIME IN THIRTEEN YEARS

PLAINVIEW, April 29, Pampa will be represented in the Poster and Home Town contest to be held during the West Texas chamber of commerce convention, May 13, 14 and 15th. Twenty-six other cities have officially entered the contest, but have not yet named their speakers.

Thirty-six towns have entered the poster contest, a larger number of entries than had registered when the convention opened last year.

Four cities have entered the beautification contest, rules and regulations for which were sent out only a few days ago.

A new feature of the convention will be vocal quartettes. Two hundred dollars in prizes have been offered winners. Twelve towns have recorded entries, Lubbock having entered four quartettes.

The main entertainment of the session will be "La Fiesta," a revue arranged by Miss Wilma Friedsam, English department head at Wayland college. Nightly programs will be given, ten cities having already registered specialties for this gorgeous spectacle.

Program of Work

Three major topics will be considered at the annual convention. These will be discussed at group conferences and official action will be taken by the directors at their luncheons on Monday and Tuesday.

Conferences on public debt and property tax will be under direction of Senator Arthur P. Duggan, a former president of the organization.

West Texas planning will be discussed by a member of the new state planning board and by others. R. H. Nichols of Vernon, vice-president, will preside at this series of conferences.

Conferences on agricultural topics will be presided over by Clifford B. Jones of Spur, former president.

It has been thirteen years since Plainview entertained the regional body. Commercial and civic organizations of the city are uniting in planning entertainment features. Principal of these will be "La Fiesta" for which the musical background will be fernished by North Texas State Teachers college band, Denton.

Registrations are now being accepted for lodging by the local housing committee, which assures all visitors that they will be comfortably and conveniently located.

High spots of the convention will be the governors' party on Tuesday night. This will climax the visit of Governor James V. Allred of Texas, who will address the convention Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. To the governors' party have been invited Governor Allred, Governor Clyde Tingley of New Mexico and Governor E. W. Marland of Oklahoma.

A buffet dinner will be served at this party, to which all registrants at the convention are invited.

The convention theme, "Keep the wheel turning," was carried out in a wheel breakfast and chuck wagon luncheon yesterday, while the hostess club celebrated its sixth birthday with an Irish banquet and green hat dance Saturday.

Business and talks were mixed with the social sessions that started with the banquet Saturday evening. Mrs. Faye S. Gordon of Amarillo, state president, was a principal speaker. Jennie Fay Stinnett, director of district one, formally opened the conference and Mrs. Ruth McFann, president of the Shamrock club, introduced guests. Frankie Gober of Amarillo, state publicity chairman, responded to the greeting.

At the Sunday morning breakfast Mrs. Jimmie McKenzie of Childress, former district director, presided. Geraldine Milliron of Bristow, Okla., brought greetings from clubs of her state, and Miss Shewmaker spoke.

The chuck wagon luncheon at Cole Creek Country club followed a service at First Methodist church. It was featured by an interesting talk on Pioneer Days in the Panhandle, by Mrs. Jim Porter of Wheeler. Blanche McComb, first vice-president of state clubs, spoke of Pioneer Days of the Texas Federation. Cowboy songs and readings completed the program.

Maverick county, Texas, spinach goes a long way, A Syracuse, N. Y., woman returned to Pedro Martinez, a spinach harvester, the empty wallet he dropped when packing a spinach basket.

ONE REVIVAL CLOSES SUNDAY BUT THREE OTHERS HERE WILL CONTINUE THROUGH THE WEEK

A revival at McCullough Methodist church closed last evening, and several others continued with crowded evening services after the weather decreased morning attendance.

First Christian church, Central Baptist church, and the Church of the Brethren continued revivals that will be in progress all week. At McLean Church of Christ, a revival was closed by E. C. McKenzie, minister of Francis Avenue Church of Christ here.

Visitors from several towns over the Panhandle were present at Central Baptist church at the evening service. They came from Skellytown, where they had attended a singing convention, and their contributions of special music added to the revival hour.

The Rev. John O. Scott of Happy will continue his sermons there through this week, at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. daily.

Services at McCullough church have been in charge of the Rev. Lance Webb, pastor, the last two weeks. Several dozen new members have been added to this new church as a result, and members are now planning to assist Harrah Chapel in a series of meetings beginning next Sunday, where Rev. Webb will also preach.

First Christian Church.

There were 337 in Sunday school and about the same number in the morning church service at First Christian church yesterday. A near-capacity crowd saw the drama, "My Old Singin' Mother" and heard Evangelist Holmes Sunday night.

Speaking on "The New Testament Church, Ideal and Real," he said, "Christ wanted his church to be wthout spot or wrinkle or blemish and all that He did in connection with the church was perfect. The church as a divine institution is without any blemishes but viewed as an aggregation of human beings it is very imperfect. Human frailty has caused the church to split into sections and depart from the ancient faith. The sins of church members hold back the church in its triumphant march against evil.

"The church needs to get back to Christ and rectify as many of the mistakes as possible. This congregation should not hesitate to forsake anything that is contrary to the ideal of the New Testament church.

"We call ourselves Christians only but we do not consider ourselves to be the only Christians. We believe that there are Christians in all of the great divisions of Christiamity. There is a great body of belief about God, Christ, the Bible, salvation, the holy spirit, on which all of the churches agree. As a church that is all we accept."

Monday night Evangelist Holmes will speak on "The Will of God." Mr. Walker will sing another solo. Services will be held each night at 7:45 except Saturday.

Prayer meetings in homes were announced by Mrs. Owen Walker for Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the following places: Mrs. C. E. Hutchins, 1019 Fisher; Mrs. R. E. Abbott, 415 N. Yeager; Mrs. Dick Rhodes, 430 N. Crest; Mrs. A. A. Tiemann, 311 N. Wynne; Mrs. W. G. Kinzer, 503 N. Russell; Mrs. Ben Shenold, 645 E. Frederick; Mrs. M. E. Upton, corner Malone and Reid; Mrs. Roy Kilgore, 518 S. Somerville; Mrs. John Pendergraff; 402 W. Foster, room 23; Mrs. Jack McClements, 319 N. Ward; Mrs. H. J. Lippold, 313 N. Starkweather; Mrs. Alford, Davis lease; Mrs. Reeder, Cabot camp near Kingsmill.

Church of the Brethren.

Revival services at the Church of the Brethren are still in progress, with good interest reported. The pastor, J. R. Jackson, is preaching each evening at 7:45.

His subject Sunday morning was God's Call to Servi e, and yesterday evening, Bought With a Price. Tonight the subject will be, Following Jesus.

The public is invited to all these services.

Sunday school attendance at First Presbyterian church yesterday totaled 74 First Baptist church had 427 in Sunday school and 226 in the training school.

Rehabilitation Clients Repay Federal Loans

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—The Texas relief commission reports that rural rehabilitation clients already have repaid in cash more than $2,000 of the money advanced by the government to make them self-supporting.

The money has been re-paid notwithstanding that payments could have been made legally in work and in some instances were not due until next fall. It has been paid to Texas Rural Communities, Inc., holding corporation of the commission.

"The remarkable thing about these cash payments," said V. R. Smitham, head of the rural department, "is that they have been made from cash received from sales of garden, poultry and dairy produce."

Approximately 50 farmers to whom loans were extended for feed and seed have paid their notes, which were not due until September.

"This shows that these loans, made with the belief that they could be repaid, were accepted by people conscious of a moral obligation to repay," said Adam R. Johnson, director of relief. "The fact they are doing it shows these loans were not just another form of relief."

SANTONE STREETS FLOODED

SAN ANTONIO, April 29. (AP)—A heavy rain, accompanied by a 38 mile wind, flooded streets and drowned out automobile motors here today. At Alamo Downs Raymond Russell, president, reported a "small twister," partially unroofed eight stables. Precipitation recorded at the weather bureau was .40 but in the suburbs it was much heavier. A light hail also fell.

NAVY STARTS 6-WEEKS WAR OVER PACIFIC

153 SHIPS TO ENGAGE IN GAMES AS FAR AS HAWAII

ABOARD THE U. S. S. PENNSYLVANIA, At Sea In Maneuvers, April 29. (AP)—A sea pageant in battle gray was drawn up on the Pacific ocean today.

The United States fleet moved out for a gigantic sixweeks war game.

Into the mists before the dawn the gray dreadnaughts, submarines, aircraft carriers, heavy cruisers, light cruisers, destroyers and other fighting and maintenance craft slipped away.

Unlike previous maneuvers when the formations went out into the ocean, under blue skies, this year the fleet went out under cover of darkness.

Admiral Joseph Mason Reeves, notable for his achievements in strengthening the fleet, did not take his force to sea as a master showman.

This commander-in-chief took the fleet to sea for real work. When the maneuvers are completed, the order to end the exercises will have the meaning that many of the offocers have dubbed it—"stop hard work."

Decks cleared for action, battle orders in the hands of all units, radios silenced, the 153 ships of the fleet were ready for anything.

The main battle line under command of Admiral Harris Laning, commander of the battle force, moved from the San Pedro baes in a sortie.

Utmost vigilance was called for in the protection of the capital ships from the most feared adversary when it moves to sea, the submarine.

Admiral Reeves, aboard his flagship, the Pennsylvania, is chief umpire of the maneuvers, which will carry units of the fleet to all parts of the Pacific coast, and the waters near Hawaii, Midway Island and the Aleutians.

11 TEXANS DIE IN MISHAPS IN LAST WEEK-END

Man's Body Is Found Under Bridge at Corsicana

By The Associated Press.

Accidents took a toll of 11 lives and left many injured in Texas over the week-end and the body of a man who died under mysterious circumstances, was found.

Four persons lost their lives near Beaumont—three in automobile mishaps and one by drowning. Curtis Nixon of Kinder, La., and an unidentified negro were fatally injured in an auto-truck collision near Beaumont, and Clyde Reeves of Oberlin, La., suffered injuries.

A Miss Griffin of Pelly, Texas, died in a Liberty hospital from injuries received when the car in which she was riding with Earl Rowe of Goose Creek crashed into a culvert.

Charles "Buster" Griffith, 14, of Stilson, drowned yesterday while swimming in a canal on the Dayton-Mont Belvieu road.

Auto accidents took the lives of three persons in Dallas. Domingo Sanchez, golf club caretaker, was found injured fatally on the streets. An automobile-truck collision on the highway 10 miles north of Dallas caused the death of Scott Wisdom, 17, and Dwight Thomas Jr., 2. Six others were injured, two of them seriously, in the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Thomas and another son, Robert Freedman, four-months-old; Harold Waller; J. C. Roberts, 16, and Betty Hacker, 14, were injured.

D. L. Hobbs was injured fatally in a crash Saturday at Corpus Christi.

At Longview, Lex Ramsey, 14, died after his skull was fractured when he lassoed a truck driven by his brother and was dragged under the machine's wheels.

Bobbie Jean Horton, 15 months, was killed when she ran in front of a truck backing out of a driveway at her home in Temple.

Mary Louise Franklin, 14, was injured fatally when a car plunged into a ditch after the driver, Kenneth Arrington, the driver, fell out when the door flew open on a sharp turn. The accident occurred near Arlington.

The body of an unidentified man was found yesterday under a bridge near Corsicana. Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse said the man apparently had been dead two weeks. Three girls found the body.

3,500,000 TO RECEIVE JOBS IN NEW DOLE

WORKERS TO GET PAY CHECKS, NOT MONEY OR GOODS

(This is the first of three stories intended to give a simple explanation of the $4,880,000,000 work relief program.)

BY W. H. NYLANDER,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—The government is about to start a drive aimed at providing jobs for 3,500,000 persons now on its relief rolls.

To do this—and to carry on relief during the dole-to-jobs transition—congress has told President Roosevelt he can spend $4,880,000,000.

This huge sum, almost more than the mind can grasp, will be used to build roads and sewers, to provide water for, arid land, to attempt to curb dust storms, to build homes, to carry electric lines to farms and to do many other things.

Work will be provided for day laborers, mechanics, skilled craftsmen such as carpenters and bricklayers, and clerks, architects and other members of the "white collar" class.

The president has announced that as far as possible, the people who will receive wages for doing this work will be taken from present relief rolls.

They will have a job and they will receive a pay check instead of direct relief in the form of money or goods. They will pay their own rent, instead of the government paying it for them.

But jobs, the government hopes, also will be created for others besides those on relief. It argues that to build roads, cement and gravel must be produced and transported, and to extend electric lines, wire must be made. Therefore, it says, the works drive will provide jobs for a large number of people in private industry.

Men who fought the large works expenditure took a diferent slant at the problem. An unbalanced budget, they said, tended to paralyze business. They said government economy would create confidence which, in turn, would lead private industry to expand and put the unemployed to work.

Thus the works drive may be regarded, in a sense, as a vast test of one of two clashing theories.

With some exceptions, congress has given the president a pretty free hand in carrying the program out. He has enlisted aid of some 60 government agencies to prepare and supervise the work.

Many details of the plan remain to be worked out. Scores of conferences are being held daily in the capital to thresh out problems which continually crop up.

The president reiterated that the program will be expedited and he predicted that it would be in "full swing" by autumn.

(Tomorrow's story will explain types of work projects planned.)

ATHLETES ARE ON SPREE TO WIN OLYMPICS

AMAZING EXPLOITS OF NEGRO SOPHOMORE ARE NOTED

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—The Olympic games are still more than a year away, but Uncle Sam's agile youn gnephews have launched another athletic spree calculated to give their rivals something more to worry about, from Helsinki to Yokohama.

From coast to coast the echo of sensational track and field performers signalized the advent of the 1935 outdoor campaign on all major fronts.

Favored by balmy spring weather college athletes at the two great relay carnivals, Drake and Pennsylvania, produced a flock of record achievements Saturday. On the west coast a sturdy post-graduate, Bill Graber, pole vaulted to a new world record height of 14 feet, 5⅝ inches in the day's crowning individual feat.

Graber celebrated his return to form by breaking his own record of 14 feet, 4⅝ inches, made in the 1932 olympic tryouts, while the collegian considered his foremost rival, Keith Brown of Yale, was narrowly missing another world record try, 2,000 miles away, at Pennsylvania's Franklin field.

American supremacy is already clear-cut at pole vaulting, so that it is more encouraging, from the standpoint of international competition, to note the amazing exploits of Jesse Owens, Ohio State's negro sophomore.

At the Drake relays Owens created a new American record of 26 feet, 1¾ inches on the broad jump, besides tying the carnival mark of 9.5 seconds for the 100-yard dash.

The first U. S. athlete to clear 26 feet in competition, Owens came within three-eighths of an inch of the world record, held by Japan's Mhuhei Nambu, and justified the prediction of coaches that he is destined to become the world's champion.

It required sucn super-work to overshadow an otherwise notable "double" in the same events by another great negro athlete, Eulace Peacock of Temple. Peacock cleared a fraction over 25 feet to win the broad jump at the Penn relays and then trounced Herman Neugass, youthful Tulane sensation, in the new carnival record time of 10.6 seconds for 100 meters.

While such seasoned campaigners as "Slats" Hardin and "Babe" Torrance of Louisiana State turned in victorious performances, the Penn relays uncovered another sophomore sensation in Anton Kishon of Bates college.

This former Worcester (Mass.) youth, who turned down a bid to enter Southern California, hurled the discus beyond 151 feet and tossed the 16-pound hammer over 167 feet to win both events.

Chevalier Quits Movies in Huff

NICE, France, April 29 (AP) — Maurice Chevalier today signed a contract to return to the French music halls which he quit five years ago for Hollywood.

The star, who left Hollywood in a huff over his roles, will resume his stage performances May 3 at Nice in the singing-dancing act in which he started his career and which attracted the notice of Mistinguette, she of the "million-dollar legs."

She and Chevalier are being seen together often again.

"I am happy to return to the music hall, my first love," said Chevalier. "I belong there, and not in Hollywood. I am glad I am finished with pictures. They do not suit my temperament."

He is living at his villa in Cannes on Avenue Maurice Chevalier, so named after the actor became a movie star.

Regulation Tilt To Be on Wednesday Afternoon

A regulation football game will be played at Harvester field at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the Harvesters of 1935 meet a team of Harvesters of former days. An admission charge of 10 cents will be made, proceeds to go to a letter fund to honor Interscholastic league entrants.

Coaches Odus Mitchell and Harry Phillips have worked long and hard with their charges this spring. They have encountered difficulty in getting the boys to come out for practice, however. Two days of polishing off were announced this morning by the coaches.

The exes have been quietly gathering strength for several weeks. A workcut was scheduled for this afternoon, behind closed gates. Another practice was also called for tomorrow afternoon. The exes steadfastly refused to name a starting lineup, even after a workout Friday. Argus Fox will have charge of the former students.

The Harvester starters will depend on how the boys look this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon. Coach Mitchell said this morning that his starters would probably be: Stokes Green and George Nix, ends; "Moose" Hartman and Brice Green, tackles; Densel Sparling and Philip Nolan, guards; Leon Noblitt or Travis Lively, center; "Red" Fanning, quarterback; Bob Drake and W. J. Brown, half backs; "Chubby" Stewart or Roy Showers, fullback.

Others who will be used during the game will include Garvin Elkins, Leo Fletcher, LeRoy Jones and Glen Maxey, ends; Ivan Noblitt, guard; Holt Hamlett, tackle; "Woody" Woolridge and Kelley Kitchens, halfbacks. Several other youngsters who have "stuck it out" during the long spring training period will be used during the game.

Coach Argus Fox of the exes promised the Harvesters a real surprise when his eleven takes the field. Uniforms were issued to the first group Friday. The rest of the exes were to be issued uniforms this afternoon.

Many of the ex-Harvesters will be boys who played last year, it was readily admitted by Coach Fox, who refused to deny that he would have a couple of dark horses in reserve.

J. R. Green, big tackle, will be missing from the Harvester lineup. The big fellow is working out for track and field and will go to Austin Friday and Saturday to compete in a state meet. Coach Mitchell refused to allow him to play football for fear of injuries.

The exes will also be minus a few stars from last year. Bill Dunaway. Bill Haner and Raymond Elkins are also members of the track and field team that will go to Austin.

The public is invited to see the final football practice of the spring training period. A slant on the strength of the 1935 Harvesters will be the reward for attendance.

COMMONWEALTH IS CHOICE OF TRAINERS TO CAPTURE DERBY

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Although a dozen of the turf's foremost trainers have guessed Commonwealth by a 3 to 2 margin over Omaha, Roman Soldier and Nellie Flag as the probable Kentucky derby winner, a jury of 12 ranking jockeys prefers C. V. Whitney's Today, Winner of the Wood memorial at Jamaica on Saturday.

The jockeys cast the majority of their votes for two horses—Today and J. E. Widener's Chance Cun, the early future book choice, neither of which figured strongly in the trainers' concensus.

The 12 trainers gave Commonwealth three votes, Omaha, Roman Soldier and Nellie Flag, two each, and Today, Plat Eye, and Psychic Bid, one each.

Today, a son of the famous Whichone, received the votes of the stable's contract riders, Raymond (Sonny) Workman and Alfred (Slim) Robertson, as well as those of Johnny Gilbert and Earl Porter.

"Although he never has raced over any distance as long as the mile and a quarter of the derby, Today has shown me in his works that he can," said Workman, who has ridden both the Whitney colt and Walter M. Jeffords' Commonwealth. "He will be the horse to beat."

Chance Sun, which the trainers passed by, was given three votes by the jockeys. He was the selection not only of Widener's first-string jockey, Wayne Wright, but of Cal Rainey, the little Kentuckian who rides for C. H. Knebelkamb, and Tommy Malley.

Mack Gardner, who booted Cavalcade home last year, considers the derby an open race but finally decided on E. D. Shaffer's St. Barnard.

The other four first place ballots were scattered among as many horses—William Woodward's Omaha, Elwood Sachsenmaier's Roman Soldier, Mrs. Payne Whitney's Plat Eye, and Dewitt Page's Mantagna.

GOLF TOURNEY TO BE MAY 12 IN AMARILLO

4 BASEBALL GAMES IN PAMPA AREA ARE 'RAINED' OUT

Yesterday's dust storm caused postponement of all athletic contests scheduled in this section. Four baseball games and a golf tournament were "rained out." Definite dates of the postponed events will be set later.

The good will golf tournament between Pampa and Amarillo, over the River Drive course in Amarillo, will probably be played on May 12. Del Love, professional at the Pampa Country club, talked with Walter Sikes, Amarillo pro, this morning and set the tentative date. River Drive golfers have a return engagement with Wolflin course players next Sunday.

The opening game of baseball between the Pampa Road Runners and Coltexo of LeFors, scheduled for yesterday afternoon at Shaw park, LeFors, had to be called off. Date of the game is hanging fire. Road Runner officials desire to play Wednesday night at Road Runner park, with the return game at LeFors next Sunday afternoon. The two managers were expected to get together some time this morning.

Three other baseball games had to be called off because of the dust. Dates for the engagements will be announced at a later date, managers reported this morning.

Games postponed included Pampa Indians at Laketon; Hoover juniors and seniors at Kingsmill; Hopkins vs. Pampa Advertisers, at Pampa.

High Marks Are Made in Abilene Regional Meet

ABILENE, April 29 (AP)—Abilene high school ran away with the region 2 track and field championship Saturday afternoon, scoring 31 points, against 17 for Breckenridge in second place.

Santa Anna in third place had an aggregate of 12, 11 of which were credited to big Jack Price, who got first places in the shot put and discus throw and a fourth in the javelinen event.

Second to Price in the contest for individual laurels was J. D. Tidwell, tiny Abilene speedster, who scored 10 points on victories in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Six new regional records were established and one old mark equalled. The new records were by Price, 49 feet 1 inch in the shot put; Paul Green, Abilene, 55.3 seconds in the 440; Theron Huggins of Zephyr, 2:03.5 in the 880; Alonzo Billings, Coleman, 167 feet 5½ inches in the javelin throw; B. F. Cornett, Knox City, 15.5 second in the high hurdles; and Chance, Ward, Jones, and Green, Abilene mile relayers, who were clocked in 3:33:57. The record equalled was in the 100-yard dash, which Tidwell negotiated in 9.9 seconds.

Those Guys Who Laughed at Babe May Look Silly!

DALLAS, April 29. (AP)—Mildred (Babe) Didrikson is proud that she is champion of the Texas Women's Golf association, a title won Saturday at Houston in a 36-hole thriller over Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, but she is "not even with critics yet."

The girl athlete has her driver pointed at something bigger, and she "simply has got to get even with the guys who laughed when I said I would win golf championships."

Today Babe planned to start practice with the women's national title in mind.

"I'm not saying I'll win this year's national," she said as she prepared to return to her work in an insurance office in Dallas. "That would be downright silly."

Then she squinted a little and a wry smile flitted across the face that beamed when she chipped an eagle three on the 34th Saturday to go one up on her opponent.

"But I do hope to make a real showing," she continued. "Well, say the quarter or semi-finals. Of course my biggest dream is to win it. You see I haven't forgotten that some of my friends and critics laughed when I said I would become a good golfer and win championships."

SPARRING SPARROW

RICH HILL, Mo.—Rich Hill's battling sparrow has been fighting since March 30, but he won't win for his opponent is his own reflection in the window of a building. He begins his daily fight soon after daylight and keeps it up until dark, leaving for only short periods to eat and drink. An iron bar across the window places him in a position to strike against the glass.

SPRING RACES AT AMARILLO BEGIN MAY 25

EXPECT 300 HORSES; TRI-STATE DERBY TO BE JUNE 1

AMARILLO, April 29.—The first batch of official entries for the Tri-State Fair's spring race meeting contained the names of 110 thoroughbreds. With the starting date, May 25, nearly a month away, this early registration for stall space indicates the Tri-State has lost none of its appeal to horse owners thorughout the Southwest.

Many of the owners represented in this early list of entries have raced their horses here in the past. Several are newcomers. Mason King, Tri-State Fair director of racing, predicts within the next week reservations for at least 100 more stalls will be received. King expects the 300-stall capacity at the fair grounds to be filled 10 days before the races start.

The Tri-State spring meeting will be climaxed on the afternoon of June 1 with the running of the Tri-State derby, an event that last year proved to be the outstanding attraction of the programs.

Tulsa Splits Double-Header With Galveston

By The Associated Press.

The Tulsa Oilers and the Galveston Bucs, who split a twin bill yesterday, were leading the Texas League pennant race today. Rain prevented San Antonio and Fort Worth from playing, and Dallas, with two more losses added yesterday, remained in the cellar position.

Tulsa took the first game, 3 to 1, from Galveston, the Oilers backing up the fine pitching of Art Jones. The Bucs won the second, 4 to 3. It was a thriller with Tulsa scoring twice in the seventh to knot the count and Galveston winning when Tony Governor singled to bring Maynard heme from second.

Oklahoma City won the first game from Houston and the teams tied in the second contest, the game being called at the end of the eighth because of darkness with the score 1-all. The Indians made an impressive showing in the first game, whipping the Buffaloes, 4 to 0, as Brillhart bested Mike Cvengros in a mound duel.

The Dallas Steers could not win from Beaumont, but they were consistent. They dropped two games by the same count—2 to 1. The defeat boosted the Dallas losses to 17 in 19 starts.

It was, to a degree, a case of hard luck for the Steers. They had a good chance to take the curtain-raiser, but the fielding was not tight enough. Francis Nelson did some fine mound work for Dallas.

The second game was a sad affair for the Steers. Sal Gliatto, Steer hurler, was leading, 1 to 0, and had retired the first two men up in the sixth. Then Ross and Vincent socked successive homers and another Dallas hope faced.

Vandenberg and Cutting Favored By Senator Nye

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — Senator Nye (R., Ind.) said today he would prefer to vote for President Roosevelt in 1936 if the republican's nominate "a Hoover, a Mills, a Fletcher or anyone of that type."

The man who is directing the senate munitions committee's investigation gave his thoughts today in an interview.

"Which of the available republicans would you support?" he was asked.

"Well, if they keep on persecuting Bronson Cutting about his senatorial election down in New Mexico they'll force him into a front position. I am an admirer of his," Nye answered.

"And I like Vanderberg (the junior senator from Michigan). In fact I think I'd vote for him over Roosevelt."

Mrs. Emory Noblitt and Mrs. John Foster were called to Durham, Okla., this morning by a message telling of the serious illness of their father, W. R. Potter. A brother from Borger joined them to make the trip.

Hits Holding Companies

Of the hotly disputed utility bill, which he described as "legislation to provide for the elimination of unnecessary holding companies"—the president said:

"I consider this legislation a positive recovery measure."

"The absentee management of unnecessary holding company control has lost touch with and has lost the sympathy of the communities it pretends to serve," he said. "Even more significantly it has given the country as a whole an uneasy apprehension of overconcentrated economic power."

Of banking legislation, also surrounded by contorversy, he said "certain proposals to amend the federal reserve act deserve prompt and favorable action." He also called for transportation legislation, including regulation of interstate bus and truck business.

He described the works relief setup and said "six fundamental principles" will be followed. He said the projects should be useful; should translate a "considerable proportion" of the fund into wages; projects "which promise ultimate return to the federal treasury of a considerable proportion of the costs will be sought"; funds should be promptly spent; employment created must be for those on relief; projects will be allocated to areas in relation to the numbers on relief in those areas.

GREAT RICHES

by Mateel Howe Farnham

SYNOPSIS: James and Jane Stimson have returned from their honeymoon, still happy. They have arranged their 326 wedding presents in the house Jane's father bought them, and James is earnestly trying to live up to the excess style thus imposed upon him. But he does want a pup, and so far Jane, abetted by her mother, has kept him from having one.

Chapter 29
THE PUP

However, in spite of Jane's firm stand, James brought home an engaging gangley-legged long-eared puppy bird dog about two months old, named Peter. James was fondly certain that once Jane had made his acquaintance she would succumb instantly to his manifold charms.

Pete was supposed to be house broken; and wasn't. Jane insisted that he sleep in an outhouse, where he howled all night. James got up early, comforted Peter, fed him, romped with him and left him in the kitchen in charge of the cook.

When he came home from the office the twins and Peter met him on the corner. It was a weak and wobbly Peter who crawled on his belly and whined abjectly instead of wiggling with expectancy and delight.

"Jane tied Peter to the back fence and left him there all day in the hot sun. He was almost dead when we found him," Nate burst out indignantly. James picked Peter up, hugging him close. He was all but speechless with rage and pity. "Did you . . . have you given him a drink ?" he got out.

"Of course we have. And put water on his head and fanned him. We've worked over him for two hours," Norris answered.

A street car was approaching. With a gruff, "Thank you, I won't forget this," to the twins, James signaled it. As he climbed aboard one of the twins called after him, "I hope you beat her." "I'd like to," James all but said.

James gave Peter to Aunt Sarah and Aunt Lou, loved him at sight. Peter would be happy with them. James had his dinner at the Mansion and reached home at ten o'clock. He was in a towering rage and prepared to have it out with Jane. Jane, inwardly more than a little fearful, greeted him mildly, asked no questions, said she was going to bed.

"I'm going to bed myself. I want to read awhile. I think I'll sleep in the front guest room," James said haughtily, and started toward the stairs.

"Aren't you going to kiss me goodnight?"

After a momen't hesitation James gave a Jane a hasty kiss on the cheek. He was so angry at the sight of Jane's serene equanimity that he was on the verge of blubbering. God knows what an exhibition he would make of himself if he had it out with her now.

They never had it out.

James weakened first. He could not, literally could not bear, not so much Jane's disfavor as his own bitter disapproval of his beloved. After the first outraged anger had worn itself threadbare, James found himself making excuses for Jane.

One evening at the head of the stairs as Jane offered James her cheek for a goodnight peck, James put his arms around her and said humbly, "I'm sorry, I've been a brute."

Jane had been fearfully upset and enormously frightened that James might not give in and own her in the right. Several times she had been on the point of going after Peter and having him at the door to greet James when he came home from the office, but her mother insisted that she must not, arguing that if she weakened now James would have the upper hand the rest of their lives.

In her relief, Jane was both gentle and gracious. Making up their first quarrel was the sweetest hour either had ever known. For a week or two they remained drenched in the sweetness and the glory of that recoming together. But by the third week Jane again found reason for complaint.

"James will not set an hour for Sunday breakfast," Jane told her mother. "He wants it at any hour he happens to wake up . . . one week at nnie and another at eleven. It's maddening."

"I wouldn't put up with it for a minute. Training a husband is just like training a baby. It's simply a matter of breaking them in right at the beginning. Once they're thoroughly spoiled there's no doing anything with them."

"James was spoiled long before I ever got him. It's all I could do to make him stop smoking in bed. He still considerers it a grievance because I won't let him read till all hours when I am sleepy."

"Why not give him a room to himself? In my opinion separate rooms are better all round in numerous ways . . . for both of you."

Jane blushed. She evaded by saying that James was so sensitive, that she could not bear to hurt him.

The young Stimsons had their second quarrel about three months aftre their marriage. It was a terrible devastating affair and James did not recover altogether from it for weeks. It began on a Sunday, too, a hot Sunday morning and continued so bitterly that it kept them home from church. It started innocently enough as dreadful things so often do.

"Well," said James, yawning and stretching his arms inelegantly but luxuriously, as he pushed back his chair from the breakfast table. "I suppose Aunt Lou is starting freezing the ice cream about now."

Jane glanced up quickly, "Why, we're not invited there for dinner," she said.

"Yes we are, honey . . . surely this is Aunt Sarah's Sunday. We went to your mother's last week, didn't we?"

"But Mother is expecting us again today and I said we could come. You said nothing to me about going to your aunt's."

James lighted his pipe carefully before he spoke.

"I just took it for granted that we were going home. I thought it was a sort of unwritten agreement, your folks one Sunday, mine the next."

"But I don't like establishing precedents," said Jane determinedly. "I hate to have every Sunday planned and given away without my consent. It's so binding—so final. Do you see what I mean?"

James got up and came around the table and kissed his wife just below a delectable pink ear. "I agree with you, dear," he said pleasantly. "I think we ought to have one Sunday occasionally just to ourselves. It's my only free day. Suppose we say one Sunday at your mother's, one at Auntie's and the third to do as we please."

But this wasn't Jane's idea either. It seemed she felt they ought to spend practically every Sunday afternoon at her old home, arguing that it was also her father's only free day. Moreover, in her heart of hearts Jane cherished a grudge against Miss Sarah for losing James' money and this grudge unfortunately increased rather than diminished as time went on and the expenses and needs of the Stimson household multiplied.

James remembered suddenly that Jane admired a masterful man and so, sitting on the arm of her chair and drawing her unyielding form close against him, he announced his ultimatum, "I will not go every Sunday afternoon to your father's and mother's, so we'd better come to a compromise."

Jane got up from her chair and refused all further caresses. She was not to be treated like a child, she said, and walked determinedly upstairs. James followed her to their bedroom and there they argued, they battled; they found themselves suddenly enemies and almost hating each other.

In the end, Jane cried and James capitulated after a fashion. Every Sunday thereafter they ate their one o'clock dinners across the street with the oNrthrups. James, however, usually left soon afterwards and spent the afternoons at his old home. This latter remained always a grievance. Why, James could never quite figure out, for he knew by bitter experience that he bored his wife's family as completely as they bored him.

Mr. Northrup had just two interests—his family and the making of money. James was interested in ideas, in people, in Jane, in himself, his clients, in points of law and in many foolish and unprofitable things, but he was never interested in money and its accumulation.

Talk of stocks and bonds, of interest and investments was to him but a dreary waste of valuable time. He was happier lounging about at his Aunt Sarah's, talking or reading or playing with his dogs. He was sorry Jane would not come with him, but if she wouldn't she wouldn't.

James, perhaps fortunately, did not realize until long after how much those peaceful restful Sunday afternoons in his old home meant to him or that he had been happier there, more his old self, without his wife.

BODY OF CHILD MISSING WEEKS FOUND IN RIVER

Was Reported Seen In Company of 'Thin Man'

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP)—The body of Richard Max Perrot, 4 year old child, missing since April 4, was taken from the Chicago river near his home today.

The boy disappeared 25 days ago from in front of the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Perrot, and was later reported seen in the company of a mysterious "thin man."

Grimly, Max Perrot had urged the search for his boy, a little red-head who had been speechless all his life. Perrott has one other son.

Countless "clue" letters had deluged the Perrot home, three of which contained threats and demands for $150 ransom money.

Ironically, the search for Richard began near the spot where the body was found. The coast guard dredged the river bottom, and municipal employes. Legionnaires and Boy Scouts joined police in a search of dark basements and houseboat shanties in the vicinity.

The search had extended into Michigan when it was reported the boy had been placed aboard a bus for Traverse City, then was shunted back to Chicago when Joheph Bothe, suspected as the "thin man" who was reported to have lured the boy from a neighbor store with candy, was arrested.

MARKET BRIEFS

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 29. (AP)—Stimulated by a 3-cent bulge of wheat prices at Minneapolis, wheat in Chicago rose above $1.00 at times today.

On the upturns of Chicago wheat values, however, there was selling here against buying at Minneapolis. A feature was evidence that Minneapolis mills would require delivery of wheat there to fill May contracts.

Wheat closed irregular, ⅜ lower to 1¼ higher compared with Saturday's finish, May 99½-⅝, corn unchanged to 1⅛ higher, May 89⅛-¼, oats ⅛-1¼ off, and provisions unchanged to 12 cents down.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 29 (AP)—Additional selling by the ring crowd found few takers and prices held at net losses of 5 to 10 points during most of the morning. The May contract showed the most steadiness largely because this position has been pretty thoroughly liquidated.

July sold at 11.75, October at 11.28, and December at 11.36 as the morning wore on. A little short covering and trade buying brought prices up from the lows, however, and July got back to within 4 points of the previous close at 11.80, while October was off 3 at 11.35.

DUPONT

building was used in the advancement of international commerce, in line with Dupont's theory that American buyers would be interested in foreign goods if displayed within their reach.

Among his other business interests were four radium mines at Central City, Col. He spent large sums in perfecting a radium testing and producing mill, and much of the radium produced was used in experiments for the treatment of cancer.

In political life, Dupont was long a factor in Delaware, but his political moves were said to have created friction with other members of the family.

He became prominent in state politics shortly after becoming connected with the Dupont powder interests. He allowed his control of the republican party in the state to slip away, however, and for several years took little interest in political circles, until by a bold move in 1916 he regained control.

In 1920, he retired from political life, and since then has not been active.

Alfred Dupont was the son of Eleuthhere Irene Dupont, grandson and namesake of the founder of the Dupont powder mills. His mother was Charlotte Henderson Dupont, daughter of General Archibald Henderson, of Virginia.

Educated in Andover, Mass., academy and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he turned his attention, immediately upon graduation from the latter institution, to the Dupont Powder company, taking personal charge of the manufacture of explosives and the work of perfecting the machinery used in the making of gunpowder.
