Methodist Hospital Sets Open House

The new East Building of Methodist Hospital in Lubbock is scheduled for a public Open House Sunday, Aug. 25, according to announcement by Joe R. Horkey, chairman of the Board of Trustees. "We extend a cordial invitation" he said "to all our friends in Lubbock and the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico area to take a look at our magnificent new addition on this occasion."

Doors will be opened to visitors immediately following brief ceremonies starting at 1:30 p.m. outside the 19th Street entrance. Dr. Alvie H. Carleton, Bishop of the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church, will conduct the consecration ceremony. Ribbon cutting will follow with Don G. Furr, chairman of the building fund campaign, wielding bandage scissors on a surgical gauze ribbon stretched across the doorway.

At 2:30 p.m., the new C. A. Bickley Memorial Chapel will be dedicated by Bishop Carleton with other church officials in attendance. Named for a former longtime clergyman of this area, the Chapel was built at an additional cost of $46,000 by H. C. Lewis Contractors.

Construction on the eight-story, 190 private patient rooms addition was started on Jan. 14, 1972 by Page & Wirtz Construction Company with a contract of $9,000,000. Furnishings and equipment costs total $2,000,000. Architects were Flatow, Moore, Bryan and Fairburn of Albuquerque; Atcheson, Atkinson, Cartwright and Rorex of Lubbock; and Stiles, Roberts, Messersmith & Johnson of Lubbock.

George M. Brewer, president of Methodist Hospital, stated: "It is with great pride that we show our new facility to all who are interested. It has taken ten years of planning by scores of volunteer trustees and doctors, hundreds of campaign workers, and many employees and craftsmen to achieve this goal." Plans for the open house include self-guided tours with the help of a printed guidebook.

Auxiliaries and Candy Strippers will also be on hand to assist in the opening activities. Department heads of the hospital, supervisors, nurses and other employees will be on duty at their stations in the new building to explain the purposes and methods of operations in each area visited.

Mrs. A. J. Strawn, President of the Auxiliary, announced that wheel chairs will be available for those who need them to have specially conducted tours of the new building. Auxiliary members have volunteered to accompany persons in wheelchairs into all areas of the hospital. Those desiring this service at no charge should make reservations for their wheelchairs by telephoning the Auxiliary Office at 792-1011, extension 3484.

Brewer announced that several departments of the hospital will move into the new East Building shortly following the opening activities. All moving, including the transfer of patients, will be completed by Sept. 10. Those departments changing locations at this time will be Surgery, Recovery, Surgical Intensive Care, Radiology, Laboratory, Pharmacy and Central Supply.

In the basement are the departments of Pharmacy and its Unit Dose Service, Nuclear Medicine with its new Linear Accelerator, Central Stores and Sterile Supply.

The first floor has an entrance on the north from 10th Street to a spacious lobby and information desk, and an entrance on the south from the large parking lot on 21st Street. Patient services here include clinical laboratories, diagnostic radiology, drive-in Emergency Center on the east end, and the C. A. Bickley Memorial Chapel west of the main lobby. On the south side of the ground level is a strolling area with grass, shrubs, trees and curved concrete benches.

An extensive new Surgical Center is located on the second floor with 21 operating rooms, cardiac diagnostic laboratory, recovery room for 19 patients, surgical intensive care unit with 19 beds, the Charles E. Maedgen, Jr. Memorial Surgery Waiting Room, the R. C. Johnson, Jr. Intensive Care

Unit Waiting Room, two family consultation rooms, doctors' and nurses' lounges, treatment rooms, and conference rooms.

The third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh floors each have private patient rooms with latest equipment and color-coordinated furnishings, including carpeting, draperies and color television throughout. On each of these patient floors are nursing stations, unit managers' offices, treatment rooms, doctors' dictation areas, conference rooms and nurses' lounges. Outside the third floor is a sundeck with trees and plants to provide a walking and sunning area for patients recuperating.

A large assembly room is located on the eighth floor dedicated to employ training, continuing education, professional conferences, medical and employed staff meetings, and Board of Trustees meetings.

During the open house events in the East Building, regular care for 365 patients will continue as usual in the Central and West Buildings, with physicians and nurses and the usual complement of supporting employees on around-the-clock duty.

Special parking arrangements have been made for the anticipated crowds of opening day visitors. Three doctors' offices parking lots on the south side of 21st Street will be available directly across from Methodist Hospital's parking lots.

Miss Joella Lovvorn,
News Editor
The Lamb County Leader-News
Box 72
Littlefield, Texas 79339

Dear Miss Lovvorn:

We have already been receiving inquiries regarding the rodeo this year, and I felt you might like to have the enclosed news release, especially since you have been very nice about helping the boys with their rodeo in the past.

The boys began getting ready for the rodeo the first week in July by trying to qualify as contestants on the broncs, bulls and calves. It is a big job picking the best riders from among the nearly 100 who will be riding the livestock during the qualification period. Those who do not qualify will have some part in the rodeo, however, because it is a show for the boys.

I do hope that you and members of your staff will be able to attend one of the two afternoon performances over the Labor Day weekend. Thank you again for any help you might give our boys with their rodeo.

Sincerely,

My Hero, The Policeman

By DAVID TIDWELL
Baptist Trumpet

AS MOST YOUNGSTERS, I used to dream about being a policeman. It was an honorable profession (and still is). Policemen were heroes to the kids in the neighborhood, and to the general public as well.

Times have changed... Today, much of society sees the lawbreaker as the hero, and the policeman as the troublemaker. Liberal-but-short-sighted clergymen taught many of the adults of today that individuals have a right to decide certain laws are unjust and should be defied. Many of these misguided religious leaders led thousands of people in deliberate, public violations of the law during the days of civil disobedience, and this with the encouragement of elected government officials.

THE SPIRIT OF LAW violation, and leniency toward law violators has increased in recent years to the point where criminal laws can be ignored with only a slight danger of punishment. The rights of the criminal have been over-protected until the rights of the law-abiding citizen are being trampled. Policemen understandably become discouraged when they see lenient judges slap the wrists of convicted criminals and allow them to return to their crimes.

From a column by Robert L. Sumner, The Sword of the Lord, comes a true story that strikingly illustrates the problem: One night during the winter of 1973, 32-year old Kenneth Ray Barton of Gantt, Ala., after tanking up on booze, was driving his pick-up truck. He lost control of his vehicle, crashed and was bleeding to death from a severed artery.

ALABAMA Highway Patrolman Kenyon Lassiter arrived on the scene, stopped a speeder, radioed for an ambulance and had Barton rushed to a nearby hospital. The state trooper's action saved Barton's life.

Because of the circumstances Trooper Lassiter cited Barton on a drunk-driving charge. When the case came to trial, the judge reduced the charge to reckless driving, enabling the criminal to keep his driver's license and freeing him to return to the highways.

A FEW MONTHS AGO Trooper Lassiter, patrolling in the same area, stopped a speeder, lectured him and issued a "warning ticket." As he walked back to his patrol car, suddenly a speeding pick-up truck swerved across the middle line—all the way off the wrong side of the road—hit the officer and killed him. The operator of the truck didn't even slow up, to say nothing of stopping to render aid.

Police investigation eventually located the lethal truck and arrested its driver on a murder (man-slaughter) charge. The culprit was 33-year old Kenneth Ray Barton of Gantt, Ala. He had killed the very man who saved his life 14 months before! The judge turned him loose this time also on a mere "trifling" bond of $3,000.

TODAY'S POLICEMEN are usually underpaid and certainly need public support and understanding. How do you arrive at a fair salary to repay a man for laying his life on the line day after day?

Judges who do not protect the public from dangerous criminals should be removed from the bench.

Two Years To Get Ready

TWO YEARS from now in July, 1976, we will celebrate two hundred years of being Americans. This is a great opportunity, not only to observe this event, but to instill in our young people the pride and history of our country.

This is everyone's chance to re-establish within their minds and spirits; and to make visible and public display of their belief and faith in the United States of America.

WILL OUR COMMUNITY make an effort to commemorate this event and leave a permanent mark that we cared?

Many cities are organizing committees now to plan a celebration, a special recognition.

Surely millions of school children will write essays on the subject and thousands of flagpoles will be erected and more new flags sold than at any other time. Many tablets of copper and bronze will be set in concrete and many speeches will be made.

Most of the festivities will be conducted within the larger metropolitan areas.

Politicians will try to "out patriot" other politicians.

WHAT ARE RURAL communities

planning to do about it?

A decade later, what will you tell the young people of your community's pride and activities to honor and observe this historic anniversary?

Will you point to the two hundred trees planted in the spring of 1976, the new public library, a lasting civic improvement, a new community center, perhaps?

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVORN

BEFORE I ATTENDED the annual Texas Division Meeting of the American Cancer Society in Dallas last week, I was the guest in the home of two of my good friends, Billie Parker and Darlene Brewer, whom I came to know well while attending Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

Needless to say they feed well, and I asked them for some of their recipes for my column.

Here's one they served.

BAKED HASH BROWNS

1 lbs. frozen hash brown potatoes—thawed
1/2 cup melted oleo
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/2 cup chopped onions
1 pint sour cream
1 can cream of chicken soup—undiluted
2 cups grated cheddar cheese (8 ozs.)
2 cups crushed corn flakes
Mix 1/4 cup oleo, salt, pepper, onion, soup, sour cream and cheese. Blend well. Pour over thawed hash browns in a 9x13 dish which has been oiled. Mix cornflakes and 1/4 cup oleo and sprinkle on top of the potato mix. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or longer. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

HERE'S ANOTHER of their recipes, which they call Impossible Pie. Let me tell you, it's entirely possible, although you may not think so at first. They gave this recipe to my mother too, and she baked it for Sunday's dinner after she got home to Miles.

IMPOSSIBLE PIE

Cream together:
1 cup sugar
1/2 stick margarine
Beat in:
2 eggs
1/2 cup flour
1/4 tsp. baking powder
pinch salt
1 cup milk
1 cup coconut
1/2 tsp. vanilla
Pour into a 9-inch Pyrex or glass pie pan and bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes.

It makes its own crust—believe it or not!

THIS IS ANOTHER recipe they were raving about. I haven't tried it yet, but it certainly sounds good to me.

FRENCH ONION SOUP

1 medium onion
1 Tbsp. butter
2 cups beef broth
2 Tbsp. grated Swiss cheese

1 Tbsp. flour
2 slices fine textured bread
Peel onions and slice thinly. Melt the butter in skillet and saute onions until soft and lightly browned. Stir in flour. Add onions to a sauce pan containing simmering beef broth. Cook uncovered over low heat for 20 minutes. Check the seasoning.

Put a round from each slice of the bread and toast it. Divide the soup between the oven proof bowls, and top each bowl with a round of toasted bread. Sprinkle with grated cheeses and brown under the broiler for 2 minutes. Serves 2.

THIS IS ANOTHER dessert recipe they gave me.

DERBYPIE

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.
1/2 cup chocolate chips
1 stick butter
1/2 cup flour
1 cup pecans
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
Line bottom of pie shell with chocolate chips. Melt butter, and beat the eggs lightly. Place all ingredients together and mix with a fork. Pour into pie shell and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes to an hour, or until brown on top.

HERE ARE SOME MORE helpful hints given to me by my friend and neighbor, Mrs. Jean Hasty.

TIPS AND TIDBITS:

RUB paraffin wax on the heels and toes of your children's socks before they are worn and after each washing, and they will wear much longer.

WHEN SERVING refreshments to adult guests, always serve fruit juice, tomato juice or soft drinks to the children. They should be made to feel a part of the social world at an early age. Don't expect them to be as courteous as adults unless they are treated as courteously as adults.

WHEN MAKING cake icing or candy consisting of milk or cream and sugar, add one teaspoon of ordinary table syrup for each cup of sugar used. Boil in the usual way. Your finished product will be much smoother and not so apt to become sugary.

IF BUTTER is rubbed around the top of the pan when making fudge, it will not boil over.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Resist Gloom

GLOOM IS ALWAYS trying to move in to make our lives unhappy, discouraged and ineffective. It just seems to hover near ready to take over, if we open the door to our mind.

It comes in the newscast, the newspaper headlines, from general conversations and is found lurking in our disappointments, setbacks and failures. Gloom is a reality, with which we must deal some way.

WE MUST REALIZE that gloom is a persistent adversary. It just never gives up and we must not neglect our defenses for even a moment. Gloom is easier to resist successfully than it is to get rid of after it has been permitted to move in.

Even though gloom is persistent, it is not invincible. Therefore, if it does invade our thoughts and feelings, it is helpful to know that we can rid ourselves of it.

WE CAN KEEP OUR THOUGHTS on the things that will help us to be strong against gloom. Since we do have the right to choose the objects of our thoughts, we have a very effective defense. When we think about "the things that are true, honorable, just, pure, lovely, of good report, virtuous, and worthy of praise"; we will more than hold our own against gloom.

With the positive, constructive thinking, we must be active in doing positive and constructive things. Such thinking and action are sure protection against gloom.

GLOOM IS "partial or total darkness;

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLETT

I SUPPOSE ONE of the plagues of "middle-age" is the inability to sleep late in the mornings. Somehow we find that when the day begins to dawn, the old automatic, mental alarm goes off, and we find that the bed just isn't comfortable anymore.

Even tho it might be a day when we are excused from the daily grind, the process is the same. The mattress has developed lumps and our eyes are wide awake. Restlessness, as well as habit, prompt us to get out of bed and start fidgeting about the house. After all (we excuse ourselves) the day is made for living, and it's a shame to waste it sleeping. Anyway, we're not sure how many more we may have.

IT'S AN EXCELLENT opportunity, these warm summer months, to step out of the house and listen to the quiet of our environment. Our excuse, of course, is to see if the paper has been delivered.

All that's there is God's creation, with our little city setting right in its midst. The quiet is deafening. No vehicles on the streets, no shouting of children and seldom, even the roar of trucks rounding the loop.

IT'S QUITE natural, at this time, that our attention may be drawn toward the heavens. The twinkling stars seem to be calling for our attention. Sometimes the moon may be rushing across the sky (as though it may have been caught out late at night) trying to outdistance the light of day, as it reddens the eastern horizon.

Any nagging doubts I may have entertained of the existence of God and His glory are soon dispelled. I am reminded of the nineteenth Psalm of David: "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth his handiwork". Let the atheist sleep on. And, again, "What is man, that thou art mindful of him?"

And the son of man, that thou lowness of spirits; dejection; a atmosphere of despondency." It probably have some of this feeling, and then, but, when we have prepared ourselves; we will be throw it off, without serious being done.

It is helpful to keep reminding we can do this. One of the mistakes we can make is to have an attitude that there is nothing we can do. We do have great determining and there is no good reason for gloom.

"THE SPIRIT OF MELANCHOLY" would often take its place, if only we would take up the praise "Power."

THE FEELING OF GLOOM harbored, can become a very mental and emotional condition, intensify to the extent that it is extreme depression, and this fortunate and sometimes tragic must not permit this to happen.

If necessary, we should get assistance in our efforts to "dism" This overdose of gloom avoided by most persons, although way is not let gloom linger long, invade our thoughts.

WE KNOW THE THINGS what gloom, and most of them can be This is just exactly what we

THE ANTIPATHY of gloom "cheerfulness", and we can reasonably well in maintaining disposition.

We can be cheerful

visitest him? For thou has made little lower than the angels, crowned him with glory and Thou hast made him to have over the works of thy hands.

THIS, THEN, IS God's creation. He has made to bless mankind. He, also, has made. He has given our use and disposal. Around me, darkened houses of my neighbors. He has, also given to more could be asked?

A sleepy chirp of an sparrow may be heard, as he himself and his brood to begin flitting activities. This reminds I too am witnessing the birth of a day. A day that hasn't been before. A day, as yet uncontaminated, the misuse of mankind.

I look, possessively, at MY MY country, and even MY city, to me and my fellow travelers long as we live on the face of this think of God's grace, extended. Either to be used, or misused, himself sees fit.

SURELY, TODAY, I'll not my neighbors and friends. Surely, I'll work to preserve this nation and country. Surely, reverence the Creator, His church he's provided for the sake the soul—Surely.

I pick up the paper and return living room, and am jarred into by the ugly headlines, relating man's immorality, inhumanity to his brothers. So, can beat this.

AGAIN THE QUESTION: man that thou art mindful of? You and I are the key factors about a better morality and toward our Creator. We need, and depend on others to what THEY'RE doing!

COMMENTS

Does it make sense for American taxpayers to underwrite low-interest loans to a Communist dictatorship, while the American people are forced to pay higher and higher interest rates, in addition to paying higher and higher taxes?

Some members of Congress think not; but that didn't prevent the U.S. Export-Import Bank from skipping through a controversial $176 million to Communist Yugoslavia, to build a nuclear power plant on the Sava River in Eastern Slovenia.

According to radio commentator Philip C. Clarke on the "Washington Report of the Air," there are a number of unusual provisions in the Yugoslav deal. It is, he pointed out, the first time that the Export-Import Bank has given aid for nuclear power in a Communist country. It is also the largest such credit ever granted Yugoslavia by the Bank.

Further, it provides 90 percent of the financing for the sales of U.S. equipment for the project, compared to a normal 45 percent financing of other Export-Import loans. In addition, the low-interest (seven percent) loan guarantees repayment of an additional $29 million loan to finance local costs such as payment for Yugoslav labor and equipment. Normally, Clarke says, local costs are not a part of the Export-Import Bank's financing.

The U.S. taxpayer-underwriter will not only help Yugoslavia build a nuclear power plant, but will also "this Communist monopoly to the time, talents, and technical know-how of our most highly skilled scientists, engineers and technicians in the field of atomic energy."

There are at least two major involved in the matter of this deal. Does the Export-Import Bank have the right to hand out American dollars on terms far more liberal than private American business particularly to a regime unalterably opposed to our enterprise system, and to a regime will help to strengthen the economic military potential of that regime?

Secondly, is it morally proper business interests in the United States enter into such an agreement, they will be paid with American dollars to assist a nation which exploits labor; and which suppresses vestige of human liberty? Is morality enter into the deal business today?

Whitharral Coach Looking For 'Definite Improvement'

Experience should be the strong point of the Whitharral Panthers this season as they seek to better their 2-8 season record of a year ago. The Panthers have eight seniors and five juniors on their 21 man squad, and Coach Jerry Miller is predicting a "definite improvement" for his eight-man football team.

The Panthers will get a better chance to work out their kinks this season since they only play three district games compared to nine last year. "Our district was zoned for this year," explained Miller, "and we only have to play Smyer, Southland and Grady in district, which will be our last three games. Smyer just lost two boys off of an excellent team last year, so they'll probably be the team we'll have to beat."

"Our strong point this year

'Little Miss' Pageant Set For Festivities

A "Babes In Toyland" Pageant will be held Friday, Aug. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium, and will be a portion of the Festivities Days schedule.

The pageant is being sponsored by "We, The Women," a branch of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

Contestants will be judged in three age groups—2 and 3 year olds, 4 and 5 year olds, and 6 through 8 year olds.

A $1 entry fee will be charged and anyone wishing to enter a "Little Miss" may call Rita Richardson at 385-3801 or Susan Head at 385-6077.

will be our line, both offensively and defensively.

Danny Dukatnik (189, Sr.) at center should be an outstanding player, and we'll have good size in our guards, too, with Dale Crank (196, Soph.) and Mero Elizondo (171, Sr.). At end we have Eddie Chavez (180, Jr.) and Mike Grant (125, Sr.). All of them except Elizondo played for us last year.

"Gary Hayes (141, Sr.) is our only returning player in the backfield."

Defensively, Miller looks for the line to again be the strength and is counting on Linebacker Leslie Dockery (149, Jr.) to back them up.

"We'll run a T-formation offensively and use a multiple defense, probably switching with four or five different sets," said Miller. "We've got fair quickness and just average speed and size, but I think we definitely should improve over last year."

The Panthers open their season Sept. 6 against Klonk.

WHITHARRAL COACH JERRY MILLER goes over some of the finer points of the game with three of the returning players on his Panther football squad. Listening to Miller's advice are Seniors Danny Dukatnik and Mike Grant and Junior Leslie Dockery. Dukatnik, a center, and Grant, an end, will be co-captains this fall. Dockery will play linebacker. FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

High Plains cotton production estimates at this time of year are always subject to error because of the unpredictability of weather, says Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., "but conditions this year make predicting the crop even more hazardous."

Referring to the 1,468,600 bale projection released August 8 by the joint PCG-Lubbock Cotton Exchange Estimates Committee, Johnson pointed out that the figure assumes normal weather for the remainder of the growing season, an average frost date of November 5, and reasonably favorable harvesting weather.

"Only about 1.5 to 1.6 million of the estimated 1,924,600 standing cotton acres in our 25 counties are irrigated," the PCG executive notes, "and the condition of the remaining dryland acreage dictates that by far the bulk of 1974 production will have to come from irrigated land."

Virtually all dryland cotton on the Plains is severely drought-stricken and will require above average rainfall in August if it is to even produce enough cotton to justify harvesting.

Most irrigated cotton is looking good, Johnson continues, "but much of it is late planted cotton in counties to the north of Lubbock, which means it's ultimate yield will be determined by the frost date, temperatures and sunlight during the next three months."

With more rain on dryland cotton that has not yet deteriorated beyond recovery, and with the right kind of weather, the Plains can reach or exceed the latest estimate," he concludes, "but wet cool weather and an early frost such as that seen in 1971 could turn the crop into an even bigger disappointment than is now expected."

The current estimate of just under 1.5 million bales compares with the record-setting 1973 harvest of almost 2.9 million produced at the rate of 492.2 pounds per acre. The 1974 estimate reflects an expected per-acre yield of only 362.2 pounds.

County-by-county production and standing acreage as estimated by the PCG-LCE Committee, with actual figures from 1973 for comparison, follow:
