Two Accidents Occur Monday

An accident Monday morning and another Monday afternoon brought the total for this year to six. Chief of Police Bob Hewes reported that an unidentified car forced an auto off the road on Broadway just across the street from Del Camino Motel and caused at least $500 damage.

On Monday afternoon an accident involving Roy Gillespie of Rockport and Ampiria Serrato of Port Lavaca, occurred at the intersection of Ann and Sabinal Streets. The Serrato auto was traveling south on Ann Street and the Gillespie auto was going east on Sabinal Street when they collided. Miss Serrato was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way. Hewes estimated approximately $1,400 damage to both vehicles.

Stilwell Trailer Destroyed By Fire

The mobile home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Stilwell at Holiday Beach, 12 miles north of Rockport, and all its contents were completely destroyed by fire Sunday night.

The Stilwells, their three children, Gerald, 6, Julie, 4, and Wesley, 2, and their dog escaped without injury.

The Stilwells, cold and shivering in their pajamas, walked to Highway 35 where they were picked up by Mrs. T. A. Kilgore, who was on her way to Aransas Pass, where she works in the city tax office.

She took them to the Sea-Gun Sports Inn where they were made comfortable. Then they were taken to the Holiday Lodge where Mrs. Oscar Kunkel, Mrs. Raymond Meyer and other women quickly gathered up some temporary clothes for the Stilwell family.

Stilwell said the fire broke out a few minutes after several fuses blew out in the trailer. "The first thing we knew," he said, "was that flames started shooting out from the ceiling.

"Mrs. Stilwell and I quickly carried our children out and in a very short time the entire trailer was a mass of flames."

He said the Lamar Volunteer Fire Department arrived on the scene in a matter of minutes after being summoned but that the trailer burned so fast that nothing could be saved.

Stilwell said he bought the mobile home four months ago and that he had insurance on it. He estimated the total damage at $8,000.

March of Dimes Campaign Continues To February 1

"I believe there is nothing more important than making sure every baby born in this county has the best chance to develop into a normal, healthy person," Ed Harper said today.

"That's why I'm working to see that we have a successful drive here this month," explained Harper, the Aransas County Chairman of the 1966 March of Dimes campaign to fight birth defects.

"The shocking fact that the nation's recent German measles epidemic will be responsible for between 15,000 and 20,000 birth defect babies this year should remind us all

Zoning Commission Appointed By Mayor

With the appointment of five community leaders to the new Zoning Commission by Mayor Hollis Collum, Rockport appears to be headed toward adoption of an ordinance to assure proper use of land.

Such an ordinance, according to city planning and zoning experts, determines to a large extent the kind and character of a city and has a significant effect upon the tax structure and livability of the city..

Seth Steele was named temporary chairman of the Zoning Commission, with the members consisting of Tom Rogers, Dick Picton, Earle Harle and Jack McDavid. The term "temporary" was used by the mayor only because the appointments are subject

December Shrimp Landings Totaled 2.6 Million Pounds

Domestic landings of headless shrimp into Texas ports amounted to 2.6 million pounds in December, according to Orman H. Farley of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, U. S. Department of Interior, Galveston.

The landings were about 500,000 pounds above December landings in 1964, and brought the total 1965 Texas landings to 48.4 million pounds—the highest annual landings since 1960.

The Brownsville-Port Isabel area accounted for 41 per cent of the December, 1965 landings, followed by Aransas Pass with 30 per cent. Landings of pink shrimp from Campeche totaled only 57,000 pounds. This was the smallest December landing since 1957, shortly after Texas vessels began working these distant waters.

The following statistics represents landings of headless shrimp for specified areas and periods:

Port Arthur-Sabine area: 151,800 pounds, December, 1965; 1,884,300, during 1965; 1,642,600 in 1964;

Galveston: 145,600, Dec. 1965; 5,160,700 in 1965; 5,764,700 in 1964;

Freeport: 314,000, Dec., 1965; 7,828,000 in 1965; 7,291,500 in 1964;

Matagorda-Palacios: 29,100, Dec., 1965; 1,579,200 in 1965; 1,226,000 in 1964;

Port Lavaca-Port O'Connor-Seadrift: 105,200 in Dec., 1965; 2,575,200 in 1965; 2,095,800 in 1964;

Aransas Pass - Rockport: 774,300 in Dec., 1965; 11,886,400 in 1965; 9,641,000 in 1964;

Brownsville-Port Isabel: 1,065,600, Dec., 1965; 17,477,600 in 1965; 13,912,500 in 1964.

Shrimp trawl vessels from Texas ports made short, broken trips throughout December as weather conditions remained unsettled about three weeks of the month.

City Awards Contract For 3 Water Wells

The City Council on Monday night awarded a contract to Texas Water Wells, Inc., Houston, for $35,394 to drill three wells to increase Rockport's water supply.

Texas Water Wells, Inc., was the low bidder among three firms which submitted bids. Vickers Water Wells, Corpus Christi, submitted a bid of $36,000, and Layne Texas Co., Houston, bid $38,946.

Jim O'Connor of Texas Water Wells said his firm will complete its work on the three wells within 90 days from the start of the project. With the signing of the contracts and other legal steps to be completed by about Feb. 1, this will mean that the new wells will be ready for use around the first of May.

Director of Public Works Tom Shults said that on the basis of the city's growth since 1960, the three new wells "should enable us to meet all our water needs through 1968."

He said the three wells will increase the city's water production by approximately 300,000 gallons per day "without operating at full capacity."

Alderman N. F. Jackson said, "based on information received by the City Council, it would have taken at least 18 months for the city to get water from the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District.

"Consequently, the City Council decided to drill the three wells to fill the city's water needs quickly."

Attending the meeting were Mayor Hollis Collum, Aldermen Ernest Harrist, Jackson, Charlie Garrett and Wallace Maley; Shults, Tax Assessor-Collector Herman Johnson

Get Your Poll Tax Receipts By Jan. 31

Attorney General Waggoner Carr today urged all Texans who will be eligible to vote in this year's elections to obtain their poll tax before the Jan. 31st deadline.

Democrates, Republicans, liberals and conservatives are emphasizing this in the wind-up of their voter registrations drives this week.

All sides apparently are concerned that some of their supporters may fail to qualify. This because of confusion over the federal suit to ban the poll tax.

Suit has not been decided.

Who Must File A Federal Income Tax Return

All citizens or residents of the United States, including minor children, who had gross incomes of $600 or more in 1965, must file a federal income tax return, R. L. Phinney district director of Internal Revenue Service in Austin announced today.

If the taxpayer is 65 or over before Jan. 1, 1966, he is not required to file unless his gross income for 1965 was at least $1,200.

Phinney added that even though a taxpayer is not required to file under these rules, he must file to obtain a refund, if any income tax was withheld from his pay.

He said there is one exception to the general rule. Selp-employed persons such as sole proprietors, partners, and independent contractors, must file an income tax return and pay a self-employment tax, if net earnings from self-employment were $400 or more.

Taxpayers living in the Austin District should file their returns with the District Director of Internal Revenue, 300 East 8th Street, Austin.

In Behalf of Community Responsibility

The unfortunate contradiction to be seen in the Federal Government's stressing the need for more housing facilities while, at the same time, peddling useful facilities to the highest bidder, draws attention to the need for more intelligent planning and fewer inappropriate and unnecessary performances by visiting auctioneers.

The idea of destroying and peddling, for ten cents on the dollar, the valuable, usable facilities on the Aransas County Airport land, which cost the taxpayers millions, while totally disregarding their practical value to this community, simply cannot be in the thinking of the many responsible men in this Administration.

It is time for sound planning in the utilization of such property.

Fortunately for this community our County Judge and the Commissioner's Court had the vision and the determination to step in. Because of their vision the entire community will reap large benefits, benefits comparable to those which would result if a sizable industry were to locate here.

The County government should see that not one item of value to the successful operation of these federally developed properties is removed or demolished. By such protection of the taxpayers' interests would the area not only enjoy early economic advantages, but substantial increasing returns in the years to come.

Texas 65 Insurance To Terminate June 30

H. Lewis Rietz, president of the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association, announced Monday that Medicare will eliminate the need for which Texas 65 was established, that is offering health insurance protection to Texans over the age of 65.

Rietz stated that when Medicare goes into effect on July 1, health insurance coverage will be readily available to everyone over the age of 65, and since Medicare will duplicate most of the coverages offered by Texas 65, the latter will terminate its program at midnight, June 30. He emphasized, however, that Texas 65 will continue to offer health insurance protection to its members until Medicare takes over, and that it will remain in operation after July 1 to handle claims incurred before its termination.

Rietz urged those who are now protected by Texas 65, of other private health insurance plans, to keep their policies in force until Medicare benefits start on July 1, so that they will not be without coverage should illness or accident occur.

DEADLINE FOR W-2 FORMS, JANUARY 31

Employers, Internal Revenue Service has a reminder for you—employees should receive two copies of a Withholding Statement, Form W-2, on or before Monday, Jan. 31, 1966.

Asa L. Crow, administrative officer of the Internal Revenue Service at Corpus Christi, Texas, said. "This statement shows the total wages paid and income tax and social security tax withheld if any, during the calendar year 1965."

Total wages shown on an employee's W-2 must include amounts received as sick pay. Sick pay is not required to be shown separately.

If it becomes necessary to correct a W-2 after it has been given to an employee, a revised statement must be issued and marked "corrected by employer."

DECISION ON MEDICARE DUE NOW

Everyone 65 or older who gets social security or railroad retirement benefits has received an enrollment card for social security health insurance, popularly known as Medicare, according to H. M. Cleveland, social security district manager in Corpus Christi.

Many people have marked the card, signed their names and returned it. Others may have put the card aside, intending to make their decision later. Cleveland suggested that these people should get in touch with their social security office if they would like more information about health insurance.

If the enrollment card has been misplaced or lost, any social security office can provide another one. It is very important that you make a decision now, Cleveland added. If you were over age 65 on Jan. 1, 1966, you will have to sign up by March 31, to have the medical insurance when the program starts next July.

THEY'RE PLAYING THEIR RECORD AGAIN

The Postmaster General is again up to the tricks of that office. Congress is coming back into session soon and another trial balloon is being sent up for a rate increase on mails.

This is getting to be an annual ritual.

It was hoped that when Lawrence F. O'Brien took over the job recently he would play another record at this time of the year.

But it now begins to appear he is going to follow in the footsteps of his procedessors.

In a speech a few days ago at the National Press Club he indicated he might ask for an increase in rates.

One is under consideration, he said, because of costly improvements planned in mail service.

This is old stuff to the public. Each time a rate increase has been sought it has been on the promise of better service.

When the fee was jumped from two to three cents, there was a promise of faster, better service. Nothing was accomplished.

When the rate was increased from three to four cents, again there was a promise of improved service.

Nothing was accomplished.

Then, with great fanfare, the rate on a letter went to five cents. There would be automation, the public was told, and again little, if any progress was made.

Frankly, the record being played each year just as Congress gets ready to go back to work, is becoming a little scratchy.

When the postal service begins to show some good faith in improving the service, then the public will be more inclined to consider rate increases.

The department might start by reinstating full service at counters on Saturdays. This business of refusing to sell money orders on Saturday is for the birds. Revenue is going to private money order companies, alert enough to do business on Saturdays. Then, having done this, the postal officials might realize that the mail volume is heavier than ever and in order to keep it from piling up it must be moved to addressees. This calls for more frequent dispatches all down the line.

NO BREAKFAST

It's hard to believe that some school children are leaving home on school mornings on practically empty stomachs.

So many are showing up in classrooms in this condition that there is some talk that school lunchrooms may have to start serving breakfast.

A goodly portion of the children who do not get a half-decent breakfast, strange as it seems, are from families of higher-than-average incomes.

These children who do not get an adequate breakfast become hungry before lunch is served at school. They become inattentive, restless, and unwilling to learn, or at least uncooperative, says Louise Sublette, southeastern director of the American School Food Service Association.

Some of the blame goes to the shifting patterns of life, more working mothers and smaller dwellings, she said.

It might also be pointed out there has been a trend toward nibling at breakfast. A cup of coffee, some toast and jelly and this usually is eaten on the run.

This may be enough for some adults, although there is some question about that, it is not enough for the growing child.

Most doctors and dieticians agree that everyone, adult and child, should eat a good, solid breakfast. The reasoning is simple. Many hours have passed during the night when the body fuel supply has not been replenished. To wait until lunch time to do it is not adequate.

Actually, there's nothing like a good solid breakfast consisting of eggs, ham, bacon, or other meats, toast and coffee, and eaten in a leisurely manner. Even if it means giving up the late, late show and getting up a bit earlier.

But whatever the menu and the routine, let's at least see that the school kids get enough to eat to last them until lunch time.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

COOKING AMERICANS

We've never tried it personally, but the story about how to parboil a frog seems logical. You know how it goes: Wou toss a frog into a pot of hot water and he will jump out immediately. But let him swim around in cool water, and heat it so gradually he takes no alarm. He is lulled into complacency and before he knows it he is cooked.

That story seems very much in point in light of a recent report on Social Security taxes. Remember how Social Security started. The initial bite was 1 per cent of the first $300 of income a total of $30 a year by the employee and a similar amount by his employer.

That rate continued from 1937 to 1949. Then the gates were opened. Benefits started to rise, and so did the tax—to a rate of 3.6 per cent the first $4,800 this year. This year it will be 4.2 per cent on the first $6,600—$277.20 paid by the individual, the same by his employer.

Nor is this the end. Already scheduled are rate increases that will raise the total to 4.85 per cent by 1973 and to 5.6 per cent by 1987. That is to cover already approved benefit programs. But anyone who believes benefits will remain as they are doesn't know the history of Social Security—or of politics. Americans demand more and more, and as the demand more it is going to take more and more taxes to keep up.

Ten times since the Social Security law was passed the benefits have been liberalized. Perhaps the greatest break through of all was the Medicare program passed this year—putting Social Security into an entirely new phase of human relations. This breakthrough will no doubt invite others—with the constant tendency to liberalize benefits boosting them all.

Most Americans do not seriously object. Why should they? The water is warm and comfortable, and who cares if the temperature is gradually rising? By the time it reaches the level of outright socialism —if it does—it'll be too late to object. We'll be cooked.—Salt Lake City Desert News.

HUDDLING EXECUTIVES

One of the biggest comparative increases in the job work force has been in the so-called executive categories. This has been particularly true in the ballooning federal establishment. And why? The executives spend most of their time in conference with each other.

A newly announced sociological study estimates that executives spend 70 per cent of their work time in conferences or meetings.—Hayward (Calif.) Review.

THIS AND THAT

By

JOHN R. KINSEY

What would we do without television, especially the commercials?

Currently there is one commercial that goes something like this:

Little boy comes home from school for lunch. His mother greets him and sets out a plate of food. As she leans over she gives him a kiss. Little boy says:

"Gee, Mother, you smell good. Did you take a bath this morning?"

You'd think Mother would say, "It's none of your business, Theophilus, now shut up and eat your food."

But she doesn't. Instead, she says:

"Why thank you, Teddy boy. Yes, I took a bath this morning and you know what—I used 'Smells-so-good' soap."

In the next scene in this inspiring TV commercial, husband is shown arriving home from work. Wife kisses him and takes his hat.

"Gosh, Gwendolyn, you sure do smell good. Did you just take a shower?"

You might assume the wife would shout, "Lister, Buster, I bathe every day. What did you think—that I went for that old 'every Saturday night' business?"

But no, this sweet thing says:

"Well thank you, Horace. No I didn't just take a shower. I bathed this morning and you know what — I used 'Smells-so-good' soap."

Now the tragic thing is that some women may not see this commercial. They may be using some other kind of soap, maybe homemade soap made out of lye.

Picture, if you will, the sad consequences of not using "Smells-so-good" soap.

Junior comes for lunch. Mother puts food in front of him. Junior casts a strange look at Mother and says:

"Do you mind if I carry my plate into the den and eat BY MYSELF?" putting emphasis on the last two words.

Mother is crushed and can't understand what has happened to Junior, little knowing the TRUTH.

Husband comes home from work. Wife kisses him. Husband brushes her aside, gives her a strange look and rushes into the den to join Junior in watching TV.

Poor wife, hurt and puzzled, retreats to the kitchen to finish supper.

Too bad she isn't watching television, for at that very moment the "Smells-so-good" soap commercial is being viewed by Junior and Dad.

SHRIMP LANDINGS—

were considered good for the season with some units reporting 400 pounds per 12 hours from northeast of Port Isabel to the east of Freeport. Average catches of 300 pounds per 12 hours' effort were reported from all major ports.

Vessels working the white shrimp fishery in adjacent waters made fair to good catches of white shrimp from north of Aransas Pass to Cameron, La. Some craft reported sporadic catches of 800 pounds per 12 hours with short trip averages of about 400 pounds per 12 hours.

Bay waters closed to commercial trawls on Dec. 15. With the closing of bay waters, offshore waters out to seven fathoms were also closed for all species except seabobs. The offshore waters will reopen to commercial trawls on Feb. 2, 1966.

During December the Texas oyster fishery produced a record 56,000 barrels of shell oysters yielding about 1.1 million pounds of excellent quality meats. Dredge units working Galveston Bay accounted for over 90 per cent of the total landings with limited catches reported from Matagorda and San Antonio Bays.

According to preliminary landings data, over four million pounds of oyster meats were harvested from Texas bays in 1965, establishing a new volume record for the state.

Landings of blue crabs for processing amounted to about 200,000 pounds in December. This was below the previous month's lands but well above landings in December 1964.

Finfish landings amounted to about 400,000 pounds in December 1964 as a result of fishing time lost by red snapper units.

The first major labor dispute involving Texas fisheries was terminated in December at the striking Brownsville plant. Before the labor problem was solved, the Department of Labor has stopped the use of non-union employees from Mexico.

Construction of large modern trawl vessels continued at a rapid pace during December. According to information received by the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Texas shipbuilders had orders for about 50 new vessels for enlargement or replacement within their own fleets.

GET YOUR POLL TAX—

mittee Chairman Will D. Davis issued reminders that federal judges who will rule on it have advised Texans to pay their poll taxes, since they will reach no decision before Jan. 31

Carr noted these requirements for voter eligibility in 1966:

—Those who want to vote in all primary, general or special elections for nomination of candidates (including state and local), or on bond issues, constitutional amendments and other propositions —and who hold no exemptions —must pay the $1.75 poll tax no later than the end of the month.

—Persons over 60 must obtain exemption certificates by Jan. 31. This pertains to those persons living in counties of 10,000 or more population.

—Those turning 21 years of age can secure exemption certificates up to 30 days prior to an election, as can new residents just completing their residential eligibility by election date.

—Free poll tax receipts are available through Jan. 31 to qualify voters to cast ballots for federal officers (U. S. senator and congressmen only this year).

Apparently, 1966 will see lots of political action—and the voter without a poll tax will be on the outside looking in.

COUNTY BUYS—

500. Floor price set by government is $2,287. It's now up to the government to accept or reject the county bid.

—Gas mains, $150.

Other bidders and the items they acquired were:

—C. J. Holmes, Corpus Christi three bed-room house, $2,050.

—Central Power & Light Co., electrical distribution system, $10,562.

—Carl C. Krueger, Jr., playground equipment, Key Allegro Island Estates, $290.

—Don Palmer, Jourdanton, three 3-bedroom houses, $5,950.

Jessie Davis, Rockport, four-bedroom house, $3,500.

—Chester Johnson, Rockport, two air police control buildings, radome tower building, flag pole, two bus stop shelters, two 25,000-gallon diesel store tanks, four small frame buildings and a pipe rack, for a total of $5,495.

—Mickey Casterline, Rockport, 2,000-gallon storage tank, $50.

Judge Wendell said the county is considering a number of uses for the buildings and equipment acquired and that announcements will be made when facilities are leased or sold by the county.

"This was a sound investment for Aransas County Airport which owns the land on which the facilities are located," he said.

Bidders, other than the county have to remove from the property the equipment they acquired.

MARCH OF DIMES—

of the seriousness of the birth defect problem," he commented.

Harper said German measles, despite this heavy toll, is responsible for only a few of the many birth defects known to medical science—defects which occur in an estimated 250,000 American babies each year.

He pointed out that scientists aided by March of Dimes funds have been at work on the German measles problem for some time and that $318,852 in March of Dimes funds are now going into accelerated research to perfect a vaccine.

While supporting this and other scientific investigations pertaining to birth defects, the March of Dimes also is expanding what is already the largest single national source of private support for the diagnosis and treatment of birth defects.

Now in operation at medical schools and community hospitals are more than 50 centers where medical experts are developing better methods of treating children with birth defects.

"It's not enough just to be against defects," Harper said. "We must be FOR babies who serve normally, and FOR the best possible care for babies who are born defective.

"I feel this is what the March of Dimes is all about."

Harper urged people in Aransas County to give generously. He suggested that checks be made out to "1966 March of Dimes" and mailed to him—Ed Harper, Kel Allegro Island Estates, Rockport, or to the First National Bank, Rockport, care of March of Dimes. Harper's phone number is SO 4-2772 in case anyone wishes to ask any questions.

Harper said the Paws and Taws Square Dance Club will hold a benefit party to raise funds for the campaign.

Too many people today think fidelity is only the name of an insurance company.

Average American does have plenty of faith. He votes, doesn't he?

County Finances In Good Shape

The financial condition of Aransas County is sound, and well in the black, judging from the County's report on actual expenditures for 1965 compared with the budget for the year.

The 1965 budget (amended) for all budgeted funds totaled $378,445.16, whereas the actual expenditures were only $333,483.39. Thus the county wound up the year $44,961.77 under its budget.

An analysis disclosed the following results of individual funds:

General: $203,356.02 budget; $171,161.46 spent; $32,194.56 under budget;

Road and bridge: $147,189.40 budget; $138,241.30 spent; $8948.10 under budget;

Jury: $5310.80 budget; $2,675.24 spent; $2634.56 under budget;

Mosquito control: $15,395.44 budget; $14,562.12 spent; $833.32 under budget.

Library: $7193.50 budget; $6842.27 spent; $351.23 under budget.

The balance of these funds at the end of 1965 was $153,931.24, compared with $148,733.42, an increase of $5197.82.

The Dec. 31, 1965 balance of other funds (Courthouse and jail bonds interest and sinking; airport special No. 1; law library; social security; and escrow) was $311,811.35 compared to $288,302.86 at the end of 1964. This is an increase of $23,508.49.

The balance total for all funds at the end of 1965 was $465,742.59 compared to $437,036.28 at the close of 1964—an increase of $28,706.31.

ZONING COMMISSION—

to approval by the City Council at it's Jan. 24 meeting.

The appointments were made at a special meeting of the City Council attended by the mayor, Herman Johnson, tax assessor-collector; Tom Shults, director of public works; Richard Hatch, city attorney; and Aldermen Charles Garrett, Norvell Jackson, Ernest Harrist and Wallace Maley.

Prior to the naming of Zoning Commission members by the mayor, the importance of adopting a Land Use and Zoning ordinance was explained by William W. Anderson, a professional city planner and Director of Planning for the City of Corpus Christi.

Almost two years ago the City Council employed McClendon and Associates, consulting engineers, Corpus Christi, to make a study of zoning needs in Rockport. William McClendon hired Anderson to assist in the study.

In an outstanding presentation which included the use of specially-prepared maps, Anderson reviewed the history and then launched into a discussion of existing land uses.

He said the city is laid out in a grid or "waffle" street pattern. "In spite of the fact that many sections of the older part of the city that are compact and well-occupied, there are many large sections of the city that are completely vacant or occupied by scattered development," he reported.

"A great deal of development is taking place outside the city limits of Rockport," he said. "This is largely due to the fact that nearly all of the townsite was laid out many years ago and the ownership of much of the property is widely scattered and is in relatively small tracts. Most modern subdivisions are developed on large tracts in a much more efficient manner than the present grid pattern."

Describing Rockport as "street poor," Anderson said that within the city there are 467.47 acres used for street right-of-way. "This," he pointed out, "is the largest single use for any purpose in the city. It is 40 per cent of the total city area and 54 per cent of the developed area. This is higher than for Taft, Mathis and Premont, nearby cities having many similar characteristics to Rockport."

Anderson pointed out many other things about Rockport which demonstrate that better city planning would have been of great advantage to the city.

"Zoning, he commented "does not change present situations, but it does assure orderly growth and development for 20 years or more in the future."

In addition to the men named to the Zoning Commission, other businessmen who advocate zoning and who attended the meeting were Port Little, Maj. Don Meek and Col. Wm. M. Brown, Jr. When asked if they would be willing to be appointed to the Adjustment Board when the members are named later, they all agreed.

How many of these servants do you have in your home?

Today, most homes have about 25 electrical servants at their beck and call. In 1916, when CPL began serving the people of South Texas, few homes had more than one. And considering how the cost of nearly everything else has gone up, it's even more amazing that the price of CPL electricity is only a small fraction of what it was 50 years ago.

Just for fun — check the ways you're using dependable CPL electricity in 1966. Your score may suggest how far electric service has progressed during our first half century.
