Protest On Nazi Attacks

Bitter Articles In German Press Are Cited By U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The United States government gave notice today that it did not like recent attacks in the German press against American citizens and institutions.

Secretary Hull instructed William E. Dodd, American ambassador to Berlin, to express to the German foreign office this government's amazement and concern over the violence of the denunciations.

Second Within Week

It was the second diplomatic incident between the two countries within a week. Germany previously had protested against a speech in which Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York called Adolf Hitler a "brown-shirted fanatic," and Hull had apologized formally for La Guardia's remarks.

Coincident with the American government's action today, the house rules committee heard Representative Dickstein (D., N. Y.) charge that there are 100 spies in this country seeking to establish a Fascist government.

Leader Is Designated

He added he had proof that Fritz Kuhn, who he said was a chemist for the Ford Motor company, was the designated leader for the Hitler government in the United States.

He declared 200,000 Nazis were organized in 14 states, including New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and were training men in uniform.

Officials said that the German press attacks to which Secretary Hull took exception had continued after he apologized for Mayor LaGuardia's reference to Hitler.

Articles Are Bitter

Some Berlin journals printed such bitter articles about LaGuardia, Jewish women who composed his audience, and American municipal governments in general, that portions of them were described here as unprintable in this country.

"Der Angriff," said here to be the official organ of the German labor front, aroused particular resentment in official Washington quarters by its references to women who at-

Explosion Occurs Deeper Back In Mine Than Fatal Blast Of Last September When 10 Men Were Killed

(By The Associated Press)

LOGAN, W. Va., March 11.—Seventeen men were trapped more than two miles down in old MacBeth mine tonight by an explosion which killed at least two men.

Company officials announced the bodies of Joe Frye, motorman, and Troy McCoy, Frye's brakeman, were found by rescue crews.

An official at the mine, scene of a disastrous blast last September 2, after receiving a few scant reports from the busy crews said:

"Pretty Bad Explosion"

"All we know now is that it is a pretty bad explosion, and we won't know for an hour or two whether any of the 17 men still in the mine are dead or alive."

Officials of the Hutchinson Coal company, which operates MacBeth eight miles back over the hills from

NO HOPE FOR VICTIMS

LOGAN, W. Va., March 11. (AP) — E. L. Caryle, member of a rescue crew, said tonight "there is no hope for the other 17 men" still trapped in MacBeth mine.

Caryle said "there is no air back where they are."

Logan, said three men escaped. They said one of them, John Butler, came out badly burned.

Harold Hutchinson, son of the owner of the mine, reported:

"The explosion occurred in the second west main of MacBeth, about two and three quarters miles from the drift mouth. It was four entries farther back than the scene of the September 2 blast."

N. P. Rhinehart, chief of the department of mines, said at Charleston gas apparently caused the explosion, which was localized.

MacBeth, this time suffering the fourth explosion in its history, is in an isolated section of the county.

In the September blast it took 40 hours to reach the last of the entombed men, through a gigantic heap of broken slate and coal. Ten men died in the blast.

From where the watchers stood there was no indication that another gas blast had torn through old MacBeth. The force did not reach the slope.

Biddenkapp Freed In Robbery Charge

GALVESTON, March 11. (AP)—Bernhoff Biddenkapp, accused of the $500 robbery of the carpenters' union here Feb. 12, was freed in justice court here today when victims of the holdup were unable to identify him as the masked bandit who bound them and forced them at pistol point to turn over money in the safe to him.

James Piperi, Biddenkapp's attorney, claimed his client was mistreated by being brought to Galveston by police, and asked that the police pay his transportation back to Lubbock, where he had been working at Salvation Army headquarters.

Several members of the carpenters' union who were trussed up by the bandit, identified Biddenkapp's picture at police headquarters shortly after the robbery. Police here sent out descriptions of Biddenkapp, and he was arrested in Lubbock.

At the hearing, the same members stated Biddenkapp was not the bandit.

Street Marker Work Ordered

Erection Of 2,732 Name Plates On 101 Different Streets In City Authorized Thursday By Commissioners

Losing one's self in Lubbock City limits will be difficult when a project authorized by City commission yesterday is completed.

Erection of 2,732 name plates on 101 different streets and avenues was authorized.

The City will furnish materials and Works Progress administration will pay labor costs.

City Manager W. H. Rodgers estimated total cost to the municipality would approximate $3,000.

Many complaints have been made because of insufficient marking of thoroughfares.

Work Starts Immediately

The work will be started immediately. Forms already are under construction.

City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley was instructed to notify Farmers Refining company, Fourth street and Avenue O, that 177 residents of the north side of the City had complained the plant was creating a nuisance through refinery odors. If "such nuisance" is not ended, Bradley was instructed to file suit to enjoin the company from operating.

The petitioners set out that health of students in K. Carter school was endangered, as well as the health and comfort of residents of the section.

Two of three signal lights on Nineteenth street near Lubbock High and Dupre schools will be removed and three large, removable stop signs will be placed there. The stop signs will be taken from the streets after school hours and in the summer vacation period.

The action was taken after a traffic committee of the High

Thursday One Of Warmest Of Year; Fruit Trees Blooming

Scarcity of winds and steadily rising temperatures combined to make Thursday one of the warmest days on record in 1937. With vernal equinox nine days away, several varieties of fruit trees in the city are blooming.

From a reading of 40 at the state experiment sub-station at 7 a. m. the mercury rose to 79 degrees at 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Temperature at 10:30 last night had fallen to 55.

Yesterday's high was two degrees below the maximum for the season, but absence of wind and clouds made heat more apparent. Peach, cherry, apricot and other varieties of trees have been blooming this week, residents reported.

Congress Said To Blame For Court 'Abuses'

Robert Jackson, Assistant Attorney General, Presents New Argument In Controversy Over Court Proposal

Opposition Senators In Hearing Bear Down In Questioning; Success Dependent On Selections, He Says

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Robert Jackson, assistant attorney general, backed the Roosevelt court reorganization bill before the senate judiciary committee today with a courteous but pointed suggestion that the senators and their colleagues are responsible for "abuses" in the Supreme court.

Upon congress, he argued, lies full responsibility for the proper functioning of that tribunal; the court by a "constant extension" of its power has constituted itself a "super-government;" its activities have been encouraged in open defiance of the law; with congress lies

BAR AGAINST PROPOSAL

CHICAGO, March 11. (AP) — The American Bar association tonight announced a poll of its membership resulted in a vote of 16,132 to 2,563 against President Roosevelt's proposal to reorganize the Supreme court.

Correction, he said, could come by amendment of the constitution, but citing past events, he reached the conclusion that "when immediate and effective action has been necessary, the method which the president now proposes has been

Dallas Tries To Go Fort Worth One Better Again

DALLAS, March 11. (AP) — Greater Texas and Pan-American exposition officials said today that they had opened negotiations with Fanny Brice, whose husband is Billy Rose, for a two-week's appearance at the exposition this summer.

Theatrical circles here were agog over the prospect, since it had been reported here that Rose, last year's Frontier Centennial impressario, might return to Fort Worth this summer. From Fort Worth, Rose said: "I'm not Miss Brice's keeper, and if Dallas wants her, it's her business. Naturally I've got some influence and I won't promise to use it in Dallas' behalf."

Deadlocks In Industry Hold Firm Thursday

End Of General Motors Parley On Final Agreement With Automobile Workers Deferred By Differences

Factions Prepare

CIO And AFL Groups Plan For Future Activities In Battle To Gain Upper Hand In Labor Unionization Campaign

(By The Associated Press)

STRIKE deadlocks in the automobile industry held firm yesterday, while the John L. Lewis Steel group called a meeting to appraise its position.

The end of the General Motors conference on a final agreement with the United Automobile Workers was deferred another day by differences which both sides said were not serious.

No progress was apparent in solving the Chrysler and Hudson strikes, keeping some 70,000 wage earners idle, and a new automotive strike—in the Reo company's truck plant at Lansing, Mich.—began.

The steel workers organizing committee was summoned to Pittsburgh today by Philip Murray, director of the group, an affiliate of Lewis' Committee for Industrial Orr ganization. The parley was called for a review of recent activities and to plan the future.

C. I. O. Gains Reported

The call coincided with reports of gains for the C. I. O. in two traditional non-union strongholds in the Pittsburgh area—McKeesport, Pa., and the Kiski Valley.

C. I. O. officials disclosed a vigorous campaign was under way to enroll from 10,000 to 12,000 chemical, tile and gas workers in the Kanawha valley in West Virginia to form a new district of the United Mine Workers.

Strikers firmed their hold on Chrysler corporation plants in Detroit.

Negotiations between the corporation and the union continued,

Mighty Naval Program Goal Of Britishers

Plans Unfolded By Sir Samuel Hoare Thursday For Eighty New Ships In 1937; Trade Routes To Be Protected

By WITT HANCOCK

LONDON, March 11. (AP) — Great Britain unfolded today the outline of one of the mightiest naval buildings programs in history and dropped a warning hint of the power she will hold—particularly in the Mediterranean.

While Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy cruised to Libya at the head of his fleet, Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the British admiralty, told the house of commons secret plans already were laid to repeal any attack "in narrow seas."

To Protect Trade Routes

Announcing Great Britain's resolve to protect the world trade routes of the empire and maintain her power in both hemispheres.

Many observers believed Sir Samuel's remarks were pointed primarily at Italy, as an answer to British fears Italy might some day seek to cut the empire lifeline through the Mediterranean.

He told commons that, by the end of the year, Great Britain would have under construction "the remarkable number" of 148 new warships.

Call For 80 New Ships

Introducing the 1937 naval estimates, Sir Samuel said they call for 80 more new ships at a cost of $525,000,000.

He warned if Britain allowed more time to pass before launching fully into the naval phase of her five-year, $7,500,000,000 defense pro-

Schlagg is acting inspector, having taken over duties of D. A. Forbess, recently removed as inspector and fire marshal by the commission. Manager Rodgers suggested an assistant to Schlagg be named if the latter is named inspector.

Appointment of Casey, was recommended by the manager. Casey was not an applicant for the place.

All Counties Would Benefit Under Action

State Ad Valorem Taxes For General Revenue Purposes To Go Back To Counties If Act Passes In Senate

Faces Opposition

Measure Would Deprive State Of $8,500,000 Annually If Approved; Sales Tax Seen By Opposition Faction

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 11.—The house voted today, 84 to 36, for final passage of a bill to remit to all counties their state ad valorem tax collections for general revenue purposes. The proposal was certain to encounter stiff opposition in the senate.

The remission would be for five years, starting with tax payments at the end of this year. It would deprive the state treasury of approximately $8,500,000 annually.

Would Require More Revenue

Governor Allred said at the start of the current session that the legislature should provide approximately $13,000,000 a year in additional revenue. That figure would

RACE REPEAL UP AGAIN

AUSTIN, March 11. (AP)—The controversy over race horse wagering may be renewed in the Texas legislature tomorrow with introduction in the senate of a resolution seeking to expedite a hearing on a bill to repeal the law legalizing such betting.

Senator C. T. Nelson of Lubbock said he had obtained 16 signatures to the resolution which would instruct the senate committee on criminal jurisprudence to hold a hearing on a bill passed several weeks ago by the house of representatives. That number would constitute the majority necessary to adoption.

become $21,500,000 if the senate should approve the remission proposal. The house already had passed an oil tax bill which would raise an additional $15,000,000, with sulphur and corporation franchise tax increases on the calendar.

The counties would use the remitted money to reduce tax rates or finance soil conservation, flood control, lateral road building and other activities permitted by the constitution. The money would apply to county tax reduction unless the voters decided otherwise.

Counties Need It Worse

Representative Fred Mauritz of Ganado, the bill's author, said the counties needed the money worse than the state. He said it was unfair for the legislature to make tax remissions to a large number of counties and not include all of them.

Representatives J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene and Lindley G. Beckworth of Gilmer warned that the depletion of the state treasury would lead to a sales tax.

"It's true that we have voted to increase the oil levy from 2 3-4 to 6 per cent of value," Beckworth said, "but the senate hasn't done so and

Two Parent-Teacher Associations Have Programs Here Thursday Afternoon

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

MUCH is being said and written these days about the return to a more gracious way of living. Fashions have been acknowledging it for some time, the result being the very lady-like clothes of this spring. Lingerie touches, flounces, and ultra feminine touches are the rage.

For the first time since the depression one notes a marked distinction between daytime and afternoon fashions. The former are restricted to more tailored versions, the latter formalized by fabrics and feminized by detail. Our English cousins have had that secret in their dress for centuries. The English woman may appear rather drab in her tweed and dark clothes for the street, but no one is more feminine or appealing than she when the tea hour arrives and she costumes herself in flowing chiffons and the like.

COLORS FOR MEN

AFTER many years during which she gave him ample opportunity to create colors for his suits, woman has decided that man MUST change from "salt and-peppers" and "good navy cloths." Elizabeth Hawes, being a brave woman to raise her voice in the first protest, is going into action and will present her first collection of men's fashions shortly. So be prepared for gay yellows, colorful blues, bright reds and greens just any time now.

A BORESOME TASK

IF THERE'S one thing which we envy men with all our might and main it is that they do not have to "wash out things." After a day at the office, when we have closed our mind to the tasks of the desk and settled down with a cold-creamed face and a good book, no sooner do we get comfortable than there flashes across our consciousness the matter of washing out a few things. And until we have done this almost nightly task, we cannot put our mind on our book or relax.

A short time ago over the small wash we idly wondered how many more women were washing their hose and things. Counting the Tech co-eds there must have been at least 1,000 of them. We wondered how many of them join us in envying fathers, brothers, boy friends and the like in being able to settle down to a quiet evening at home, go to a movie or do whatever form of diversion they enjoy without a thought to jumping up and doing a nightly wash.

AND ANOTHER THING

THERE'S another little homelike matter that has given us concern for sometime. It is the matter of keeping certain male members of the household out of our soap, cream, powder, hand lotion, hair oil and the like. To rush in and find our new tube of tooth paste squeezed in the middle and topless rends us in a state of frenzy similar to a gardener seeing his vegetables after the neighbor's hens have paid him a visit. The same is true with other toilet articles.

Considering that the thing has been going on for years we remain remarkably calm about the vandalism. Our quiet suggestion of "Soda is said to be a splendid dentrifice," brings the brotherly suggestion, "Zat so, well why don't you use it yourself?" And we can't find a logical answer for the question, "Why should I get anything as long as you have it here?" We'd like to hear if we have any backers in either of these matters.

SILLY QUESTIONNAIRES

ONE form of modern waste to which the attention should be directed is the questionnaire. This is the age of the questionnaire. A great university asks the members of the incoming freshman class: "Do you love your father more than your mother or vice versa?" It appears that the department of psychology is assembling data on the subject. Even if the students' answers are given seriously—which they probably are not—what an absurd and useless procedure this is!

What crimes are committed yearly in the name of research!

Sannie Callan Talks To P-TA

Tech Instructor Is Speaker For Junior High Unit And Rev. W. R. Vivrett Speaks To Sanders Group

Meetings of two parent-teacher associations were of interest Thursday afternoon.

Members of the Junior High P.-T. A. met in the school auditorium for a lecture by Miss Sannie Callan, associate professor of foods and nutritions at Texas Technological college, on "Families That Play Together."

Several students gave declamations under the direction of Mrs. Frances Lee Tolbert. After a business session led by Mrs. Hubert Allen, president, there was a social hour in the school tearoom. The homemaking class girls served refreshments.

Twenty-Five Attend

Elton Plowman, Texas Technological college student, sang "Rose of My Heart" with piano accompaniment by Miss Gladys Hall. Fourth grade pupils of J. H. Freeland presented an original safety play.

Names Committee

The association named a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Bill Murry, chairman, P. McDougal and E. B. Speck. Officers will be elected at the next regular meeting, April 8.

A food sale was planned and a committee, of which Mrs. Orville McDaniel is chairman, was appointed to make final arrangements. Mrs. McDaniel will be assisted by Mrs. J. T. Trigg and Mrs. C. Austin.

Attendance prizes went to Miss Bonnie Gary's room on the first floor and Mrs. E. B. Speck's on the second floor.

Slide Demonstration Club Meets With Mrs. Copeland

SLIDE, March 11. (Special)—Mrs. O. R. Copeland was hostess for an all-day meeting of the Slide Home Demonstration club Wednesday. Following a recreation period, a business session was conducted.

A recent council meeting was reported and plans were made for some of the members to attend a dairy show in Plainview in April. An extension committee was appointed.

Merged with Rio Grande Oil company after a long depression receivership, Richfield will receive $15,500,000 from affiliation with Cities Service and Sinclair's Consolidated Oil company.

Mrs. Simpson's Retreat Is Ancient Castle In France

By MARY ELIZABETH PLUMMER

NEW YORK, Mrch 11. (AP)—Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, guest in a pre-renaissance castle on a 1,000-acre estate in Monts, France, had a circular tower-room boudoir today in which to apply her make-up.

She could ramble, if she chose, through a 13th century underground passage, play golf on a course where the last hole requires a 190-yard drive across 90 yards of water, or visit a tiny chapel in a forest of ancient oaks and pines.

Whether the Duke of Windsor, former king of England would join Mrs. Simpson, the woman for whom he gave up his throne, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers at her new retreat, the turreted Chateau De Cande, was unknown.

Charles E. Bedaux, New York industrial engineer who, with his wife, owns the estate on the river Indre and invited Mrs. Simpson to it, said one thing that prompted them to extend the invitation was the fact that "my wife and I are still in love with love."

In spring, wild flowers dot the grassy slopes of the estate. Anemones and violets bloom in late March and later, wild strawberries.

APPROPRIATION IS URGED

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—The senate audit committee recommended today that an Interstate Commerce subcommittee be given $150,000—one of the largest investigative appropriations on record—to continue its inquiry into railroad financing.

Oil Industry Has Hesitancy

Possibilities Of Difficulties With Labor And Higher Tax Situation Shades Optimism Of Petroleum Circles

By ALFRED WALL

TULSA, Okla., March 11. (AP)—A hesitant feeling inspired by the possibilities of labor difficulties and higher taxes shaded the optimism of the petroleum industry today.

Although executives were agreed that in the long view the prospect for a fine year's business had not changed, immediate problems had them a bit concerned.

The attention of labor and management alike was focused on the announced intention of John L. Lewis to organize a million petroleum employes in production and distribution under the committee for industrial organization.

Executives Refuse Comment

Oil company executives refused comment on the situation.

The fact was recalled however that less than two weeks ago Frank Phillips, president of the Phillips Petroleum company, forecast here the industry would have to cope with labor controversies during the year. He urged employes to consider the situation well before they allied themselves with any group.

A conference was in progress here today between a union negotiations committee and officials of the Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation concerning the union's demand for recognition. The negotiations committee has been empowered by three locals of the international association of oil field, gas well and refinery workers to call a sit down strike of 1,300 union employes if they are not recognized by the company. The recurrent problem of taxation was in the forefront of the picture, with Texas awaiting state senate action on the measure passed last week by the house of increase the oil production tax from 2 3-4 per cent to six per cent of value.

Oklahoma oil men breathed a bit easier when the house of representatitives killed a bill to increase the production tax from 5 to 10 per cent.

The price structure of both crude oil and refined products remained unchanged.

Crude oil production hit a new top about 3,300,000 barrels daily with no indication of a letup in the production in view of the fact that heavy producing states had set March allowables well in excess of the bureau of mines recommendation.

Wells completed in the nation totaled 515, six more than the week before and productivity was 78 per cent, a little better than average.

Eats Bird Seed

Another Singing Mouse Is Found

McKINNEY, March 11. (AP)—Chicago's singing mouse? Phooey! Princeton, little North Texas town near here, has one that not only sings but eats bird seed.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Gantt, Princeton couple, brought the mouse here to exhibit before an audience. In fun, someone suggested placing some bird seed in the tiny mouse's cage.

She stopped warbling, ate the entire lot of feed usually consumed by canaries and picked up the song again.

Mr. and Mrs. Gantt had heard faint sounds which appeared to be musical notes in their home. They were baffled until they discovered the mouse singing in the bathroom.

"Kate Smith"—that's the name it bears now—was trapped but stood the imprisonment in good stead.

A morsel of cheese and Kate is away in a swingy, throaty melody. She is not temperamental and performs readily before audiences, the larger the better.

Governor Allred Decides To Break Idleness Of Clemency

AUSTIN, March 11. (AP)—Governor Allred decided today to break the long enforced idleness of the state's clemency machinery although he admitted opinion differed as to his authority to do it.

The governor said he had determined "not to let the paroled convicts with jobs nor the volunteer parole boards down" and would grant extensions of furlough.

The voters last year adopted a constitutional amendment transferring much of the governor's clemency power to a board. The amendment become effective February 1 but the legislature has not passed enabling legislation. The main difference between the houses is whether the new board should be domiciled at Austin or Huntsville.

French Police Leave Wally To Protection Of Sharp-Eyed Lodgekeeper In Wooden Shoes

MONTE, France, March 11. (AP)—French police left Mrs. Wallis Simpson today to the protection of a sharp-eyed woman lodgekeeper in wooden shoes.

She hid the gate key of Chateau de Cande, Mrs. Sompson's new abode, under her apron and telephoned to the chateau for instructions every time anyone rapped on the portals.

Three policemen withdrew, leaving only Jules Baldy, of the surete generale, somewhale in the Touraine neighborhood.

Mrs. Simpson slept until noon. Herman L. Rogers, her Riviera host who accompanied her here yesterday, said she had made no plans to go to Paris to get her trousseau for her spring marriage to Edward, Duke of Windsor.

Rogers' announcement that she would remain at the Chateau de Cande "at least a month," indicating it might be Mrs. Simpson's last residence before she weas former King Edward VIII.

McFarlane Is On Committee

Graham Congressman Assigned To Appropriations Position Vacated By Buchanan Death; At Bottom Of List

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Texas had a new member on the house appropriations committee today, succeeding the late Representative James P. Buchanan.

The ways and means committee chose Representative W. D. McFarlane of Graham to fill the vacancy on the committee which originates all legislation pertaining to government expenses. Buchanan was chairman of this group but McFarlane's name is at the bottom of the Democratic list in keeping with the committee's policy on ranking of its new members.

McFarlane resigned his position on the naval affairs committee.

"I asked for the transfer to the appropriations committee because I think I can do more good for my district and state in that spot," McFarlane said. "I hope that I may be given a place on the agriculture department sub-committee."

College Professor Sets Out To Find Why Rattlesnake Is "Fraternity Man" Of Reptile World; Studies Questions

(By The Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, March 11.—A college professor set out today to discover why the rattlesnake is the "fraternity man" of the reptile world.

"We know the rattlesnake is the sociable type, but we don't know why—yet," explained Prof. Angus M. Woodbury of the University of Utah biology department.

Fraternize For Month

"In September rattlers gather at the den, live amicably together for a month or more, hibernate, come out in the spring and fraternize for another month—then scatter.

"Other snakes scatter immediately; rattlers seem to like each other's company. Mating seems to have nothing to do with this strange gregariousness, which apparently is not found in other snakes."

Accordingly, Woodbury has erected a glass-roof "fraternity house" for his 26 pairs of pets at the university, and he proposes to keep them under constant observation.

Hopes To Provide Answers

The vivarium, the professor hopes, will provide the answer also to such questions as:

How does the snake guide himself? (Present belief is his tongue has a lot to do with it. Incidentally, snakes don't crawl—they actually walk along, on the ends of their ribs).

Is he monogamous? (Quite possibly).

Just how bad is his eyesight? (He can see and strike a moving mouse with lightning swiftness, but he has to feel around for a dead one).

Why, when breather upon quickly, does he stretch out spasmodically? (Is he sensitive to chemicals or to the warmth of the breath?)

How much cold can he stand? (Tests indicate a temperature of 35 degrees above zero is fatal).

New Man Is To Aid Revenue Collector

J. H. Hooper, Dallas, a deputy internal revenue collector, is scheduled to begin work here today assisting L. B. Barkley, another deputy, in handling 1936 income tax returns.

Mr. Barkley has been swamped with business all week. He is spending this week and Monday, in his office after having been out in his territory last week. It has been necessary several times to lock the office doors in order to prevent the office from being overcrowded.

Even The Aged

Civil War Vet Is Facing Trouble

LOS ANGELES, March 11. (AP)—A 97 year-old man, Hosea Q. Morton, appeared in superior court today to contest alimony proceedings brought by Mrs. Sarah P. Morton, 73.

Morton said he would be 98 next June, that he fought in the Civil war, and that he voted twice for Abraham Lincoln.

His wife cited him for failure to maintain alimony payments of $35 a month, stipulated when she was awarded separate maintenance last year. She said he was $145 in arrears, and asked that he be sent to jail for contempt of court.

Morton said his total income, derived largely from a pension, was $127 a month, and that the award granted his wife was unfair.

Monrovia, Africa, was named for U. S. President James Monroe.

Spending, Gifts Of Parties Reported

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—The Democratic national committee reported today it took in $174,005 in the first two months of the year and spent $349,025.

The Republican national committee cut down its deficit by around $47,000; receiving $100,415 and disbursing $42,979.

Heading the list of Republican contributors was Alf M. Landon of Topeka, the party's defeated presidential candidate, with a contribution of $1,000. The iggest contribution, $25,000, was from Howard M. Johnson of Pittsburgh.

The Democrats made $73,133 on the sale of their book of the party convention in Philadelphia and $4,000 out of the testimonial dinner recently given James A. Farley, the national chairman.

Contributions to the Democrats included John T. Jones of Houston, Texas, $1,500, and Dr. John R. Brinkley of Del Rio, Texas, $1,000.

No Clues, No Motive And No Suspect To Slaying Uncovered

JEFFERSON, March 11. (AP)—Sheriff G. H. Barrett of Camp county said today he had found no clues, no motive and no suspects in the shotgun slaying yesterday of Marion County Sheriff Alex Brown.

Capt. W. J. Elliott of the state highway patrol, however, said a gaming device operator, recently run out of Marion county during Sheriff Brown's vigorous drive against gambling and bootlegging, was being sought at Tyler and Kilgore.

Posses of East Texans with whom Brown had been a popular sheriff reported no success in their hunts over Marion and surrounding counties.

Brown died of a shot in the back, fired by a stealthy slayer who slipped up to the sheriff's window as the officer made ready for bed.

SENATE PASSES BILL

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—The senate passed and sent to the White House today a bill allowing the internal revenue bureau to extend the time for filing returns under the windfall tax act of 1936.

Mother Earth Is Disturbed

Rumblings And Shocks In U. S. Are Increasing, Captain Of Coast And Geodetic Survey Says; 1936 A Quiet Year

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 11. — Rumblings and shocks from the crust of Mother Earth, the government's principal earthquake expert said today, are increasing in number.

Captain N. H. Heck of the coast and geodetic survey declared a brief survey of earthquake records for the United States showed that 1936 was a quiet year. An awakening has been noted in recent weeks.

A minor California quake, two in the Midwest, and records of activity in the Appalachian mountains, New England and other areas point to a renewal of activity in the subsurface rock which is part of the earth's crust. None did serious damage.

This activity is no cause for anxiety, Captain Heck explained, and may be only a compensation for the period of quiet.

Ban On Aliens Being Studied

Senator J. Franklin Spears Of San Antonio Proposes To Plan Curb On Property Ownership In Texas

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 11.—A senate sub-committee today studied a proposal by Senator J. Franklin Spears of San Antonio limiting rights of alien Chinese and Japanese to own property in the state.

Spears said the bill, given a public hearing yesterday before the state affairs committee, applied only to aliens who could not become United States citizens and would not apply to Mexican aliens.

Purpose Not Clarified

Provisions of the measure not clarified to the committee's satisfaction included prohibiting sale of property owned by alien Chinese and Japanese to other than bona fide citizens and possible mandatory sale of such property within two years.

A. L. Becker of San Antonio declared the bill was intended to "Stop a heavy influx of aliens into Texas from west coast states which have enacted similar laws."

The house state affairs committee killed two bills to add state regulation to federal supervision of airplane operations.

Bills Reported Favorably

Two bills changing state laws to conform with federal banking regulations prohibiting interest payments on demand deposits were reported favorably by a house committee.

Another house committee recommended a bill imposing a jail sentence up to one year and a fine up to $1,000 on persons refusing to testify before a legislative committee.

A bill to broaden the anti-nepotism act by making it unlawful for a department head to employ relatives of another department head or member of the legislature received approval by the house criminal jurisprudence committee.

State Leaders To Be In Meet

Meeting Of West Texas County Judges And Commissioners In Lubbock, March 19-20 Is To Draw Officials

Announcements stating that six state officers will speak at the semi-annual convention of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association in Lubbock Friday and Saturday, March 19 and 20, were sent Thursday to county officials of approximately 120 counties of West Texas by Judge J. J. Dillard and Lubbock county commissioners.

Robert Lee Robbitt, chairman of the Texas Highway commission; Claude Teer, chairman of the state board of control; Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, Ike Ashburn, executive manager of the Texas Good Roads association; W. J. Lawson, executive secretary of the Texas Parks board; and William McCraw, attorney general, are scheduled to appear before the convention.

Plan For Session

Judge Dillard and Commissioners P. B. Penney, T. L. Holt, Ben Mansker and B. O. McWhorter are in charge of arrangements for the two-day meeting.

Judge Alvin R. Allison of Levelland is president of the organization.

Although the convention proper does not open until Friday, registration will begin Thursday afternoon and a dance will be given for the visiting officials Thursday night.

"ALL-BRAN SAVED ME FROM A LIFETIME OF SUFFERING"

"I had suffered from constipation for three years. My condition was becoming really serious, when I read of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

"I bought a package. Within two weeks, my bowels were regular, and I began to enjoy living again. It has saved me from a lifetime of suffering."—Mrs. Lloyd Baird, 384 S. Bannock St., Denver, Colo.

Try ALL-BRAN yourself. It corrects the common type of constipation. Within the body, it absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Three times daily in severe cases. As a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes.

Isn't it better to eat this wholesome food than to take pills and drugs that may be harmful and often lose their effect? ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"Progressive Education" Is Cause Of Controversy In Little New York Village

(By The Associated Press)

ROSLYN, N. Y., March 11.—The "Progressive education" system of having nut-bread baking classes to teach boys arithmetic—as opposed to the old-fashioned "Three R's" method—had parents of this Long Island community split in stormy controversy today.

A protest meeting of 400 persons before the board of education touched off the dispute, with grim-lipped fundamentalists airing their views about "new-fangled" and "highfaultin" innovations.

Nearly Five Hours Spent

Eugene McLean, champion of the anti-progressives, said nearly five hours had been spent one day to teach a group of boys in the Roslyn Heights school how to bake nut bread. And in a voice tinged with bitter irony, he asked to be informed what possible connection nut-break baking had with education. He stressed the word "nut" in a manner to suggest he felt it summed up the whole situation.

Superintendent of Schools Frederick Wegner explained nutbread baking was a good way to teach arithmetic because "it gives the pupils practice in adding and multiplying ingredients."

The explanation left some of the fundamentalists cold. "You multiply four eggs by three cups of flour, and what have you got—even adding nuts?" demanded one fundamentalist sourly, in an aside to a neighbor.

Meanwhile, the town's bakeries diplomatically removed nut-bread from their window displays. It was a sore topic.

Keeps them out in front...this FRIENDLY STIMULATION

WITH A SONG IN HER HEART! LUCILLE MANNERS, star of the Cities Service Radio Hour, says, "I can't enthuse too much about Maxwell House Coffee! Its friendly stimulation is so delightfully refreshing. And it's the one coffee that I am sure about! I know it is always roaster-fresh!"

JOANNA DE TUSCAN, American fencing champion, says, "After a long, tiring bout, a cup of Maxwell House Coffee is just the thing to put you back on your feet."

THE PRESSES ROLL! JOE WILLIAMS, dynamic sports editor of the New York World-Telegram, is one of the men who keeps them rolling! "That friendly stimulation is page 1 stuff with me, too!" says Joe. "And let me add that of all the coffees I've ever tasted—and I've tasted plenty—that rich, mellow Maxwell House flavor wins the blue ribbon hands down!"

GOOD TO THE LAST DROP

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER—ALWAYS!

REMEMBER this when you buy your next pound of coffee: If you can smell that tempting coffee aroma, it means that the container is not protecting the coffee properly. It is permitting flavor to escape. You never smell the fragrant aroma of Maxwell House until you open the can. For Maxwell House is packed in the super-vacuum Vita-Fresh can you open with a key. And this is the only way science knows to bring you coffee without loss of flavor—coffee always roaster-fresh.

Sato's Speech Faces Attacks

Foreign Minister's Explanation Of Japan's New Policy Of Friendship For China Is Drawing Fire

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, March 11.—Foreign Minister Naotake Sato's explanation of Japan's new policy of friendship for China tonight drew the fire of two major party leaders and warnings to the government that it faces grave dangers from all sides.

Dr. Hitoshi Ashida, publisher and Seiyukai leader, led the attack. Sato, making his second foreign policy speech in the parliament, was heckled frequently.

At Momentous Crossroads

"We are at the momentous crossroads between peace and war," said Doctor Ashida, president of the Japan Times.

Sato, in discussing a Sino-Japanese deadlock, said "if China rejects Japan's policy, we must wait patiently until China changes its attitude."

He appeared disconcerted by a barrage of questions hurled at him because of his doctrine that China henceforth should be treated as an equal nation and that friendship between the two countries should be fostered zealously.

Surprised at Reception

Doctor Ashida expressed surprise that Sato's speech of last week was received favorably in the United States and other countries, because, he said, the foreign minister's statements were too general and abstract to give any real idea of the actual factors behind Japan's new foreign policies.

Yusuke Tsurumi, of the Minseito, largest political party, joined in the attack on Sato.

Despite the government's claims of improved relations with Great Britain, he charged, there is little evidence of co-operation between the two countries. Trade relations especially, he said, were highly unsatisfactory.

Situation Called "Dangerous"

Referring to relations with the United States, Tsurumi declared the most urgent issue was that of naval disarmament and what he called the "dangerous" situation in the Pacific.

"Sato," Doctor Ashida said, "merely stated (in his last speech) that he wished to make friends with all nations. We've heard such expressions frequently in the diet before only later to have to face bitter realities."

"We are at the momentous crossroads between peace and war," he said. "The nation is uneasy. The government has no real capacity to lead the people. Some refer to war clouds hovering over the Amur river, others point to a tense situation in the Pacific.

Should Show People

"It is high time for the government to unify and strengthen its national power and show the people wherein they should advance . . .

"How does the government intend to harmonize armaments and diplomacy? as Japan is isolated now. she must replenish land armaments against Russia and expand naval power against Great Britain and the United States."

Foreign Minister Sato denied Japan's conclusion of an anti-Communist pact with Germany meant Japan had joined the Fascist bloc of nations. He added the agreement ought not to impair Japanese relations with other countries.

Discussing Japanese-American relations, Sato said he believed he could establish "bright international relations in Japan's diplomacy with the United States."

Referring to Europe, he said he did not think a new world war would break out as easily as many believed.

Gentle Raspberry Handed California In "Sun Kissed," Play On Broadway

By DALE HARRISON

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—The City of Los Angeles ("on a clear day you can see Catalina") is given the gentle raspberry in a bit of boarding house foolery that the owner of the Denver Post, Mrs. Helen Bonfils Somnes, has brought to Broadway under the title of "Sun Kissed."

The blonde daughter of the late F. G. Bonfils, with her husband, George Somnes, as co-producer and director, opened "Sun Kissed" at the little (Call) theatre last night.

Boarding House Locale

The play, in three acts, is a comedy by Raymond Van Sickle. The action takes place in a Los Angeles boarding house operated by a kindly old duffer, who feels naively that he can have a mixed clientele of exuberant spirits without any boy-meets-girl complications.

A night comes when he is amazed to learn that the young folks are not all in their own bedrooms when the curfew rings. Even his daughter is found in the quarters of the star boarder.

Reflects On Climate

The sweet-souled boarding house keeper regards these goings on as a blow not only to his own pride but—more important—as somehow reflecting unfavorably upon the Los Angeles climate. It all straightens itself out pretty well with wedding rings.

Los Angeles will be happy to learn that the entire action of act two takes place during a steady rain, or—as one ardent California puts it—"a heavy dew."

Revenue Agents To Start Out Earlier On Checking Returns

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—Treasury officials said today revenue agents would get around earlier than usual this year to check up on income tax returns.

Field examinations will begin July 1 and will take 12 months formerly the examinations were not started until the next January 1, but an increase in personnel made possible the advance.

It will take three and a half months to audit the 6,000,000 returns expected by the deadline Monday. Those showing incomes above $5,000 will be sent to Washington, and those under that figure will be retained by collectors in the field.

U. S. May Get Exporter Role

Scramble For World's Rapidly Dwindling Wheat Supplies Is Seen As Golden Opportunity For Nation To Regain Title

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 11.—The scramble for the world's dwindling wheat supplies, which has lifted prices to eight-year peaks, gave the American farmer a golden opportunity today to resume the role of exporter this year.

Board of trade specialists predicted that if domestic wheat production in 1937 is as large as expected, vessels once again will be leaving United States wharves bound for Europe with large quantities of grain. The United States has not been a wheat exporter for many months because the cumulative effect of several seasons of short crops has reduced stock in this country to the lowest point since 1919.

In direct contrast to conditions a few years ago when the bins of virtually every big exporting nation in the world were bulging with grain for which there was no market, rearming European nations now find themselves scouring the southern hemisphere for wheat to feed populations and store reserves for possible war.

T. C. Root's Talk For "Tired Business Men" Is Delivered To Kiwanis Club Thursday

T. C. Root's address for "tired business men," on "Business Recovery," was given yesterday at the Kiwanis club, much to the amusement and entertainment of the 100 or so men present. Using charts and graphs to explain his theory, he kept the crowd amused with his comments on current political and foreign events.

President B. Sherrod introduced two new members, Joe M. Wilson and Palmer T. Glazner. Ray C. Mowery, former president and chairman of the education committee, gave them instruction in Kiwanis work. C. V. Bullen and William C. Pryor, both out of the club for some time on account of illness, were recognized by the president.

Durwood Bradley was chairman for the day. S. C. Wilson of the club's safety committee emphasized the need of safe driving.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxines. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

Temporary relief on his application had been granted Saturday by Judge C. D. Russell of Plainview.

Announcement was made Thursday night that M. C. Martin, assistant attorney general, would be in the courtroom to direct the defense of the control board. Martin and all witnesses were in Lubbock ready for the hearing, it was learned authoritatively.

"Trick Book" To Be Handed Out With Carton Cut-Outs

Quaker Oats is to start a comprehensive campaign in Lubbock in and The Avalanche.

Grocers appreciate the value of an established brand name—they know that their customers appreciate the privilege of calling for a national advertised brand of goods knowing that it means they will receive the qualit y they expect.

When a large concern decides to use local newspapers for advertising service, it means increased sales for the local merchant.

When the Quaker Oats advertisement appears in The Avalanche it will contain the names of all dealers in the Lubbock trade territory.

In addition to this, The Avalanche will distribute the handsome "Trick Book" to each person who brings the Quaker cut from a large package of oats, or two Quakers from the smaller packages. The Trick Book contains simple tricks which any boy or girl can perform for the entertainment of themselves and others.

The leaders will co-operate in the campaign by using special displays in their store and by adding to their advertisements a section calling attention to Quaker Oats sold by them.

Gly-Cas Gives Best Health In Years

Indigestion, Sleeplessness Eliminated; Every Ache And Pain Gone Since Mr. Monget Gave Gly-Cas The Opportunity To Help Him

"For nine years before I learned of Gly-Cas, my stomach, liver and kidneys had caused me distress and it seemed each day they were growing worse," said Mr. Frank Monget, 1138 North Boulevard, Baton Rouge, La. "I had always enjoyed excellent health until constipation allowed my system to become clogged with poisons and my liver did not seem to function at all. Later my kidneys began to cause me lots of trouble at night. My sleep and rest was broken continually and I was always tired and worn-out. After eating most any foods I was sure to suffer with indigestion. Bloated, heart burned and often spit up foods after eating. I could not find anything to help me until I was finally persuaded to give this new Gly-Cas a trial."

"Gly-Cas was the very medicine I should have had years before," he continued. "It actually surprised me how quickly this new remedy took hold of my stubborn case. My stomach and kidneys were regulated almost at once. All those complications of indigestion, gas, heart palpitation and sleeplessness have left me entirely. I wake up in the morning full of energy and ready for my full days hard work. I am now enjoying my first well days in years and cannot laud this new Gly-Cas half enough for what it has accomplished for me."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

"With kindest personal regards and best wishes . . ."

Self-Proposed Trotzky Trial Only Way Of Preventing New Assassinations, He Declares

MEXICO CITY, March 11. (AP)—Leon Trotzky, once called the "Napoleon of Bolshevism," asserted today his self-proposed "trial on accusations" that he conspired to wreck the Soviet Union is "the only way of preventing new judicial assassinations" by the Stalininst regime.

The 60-year-old one-time Bolshevist leader is amassing evidence he hopes will contradict testimony at a recent Moscow treason trial picturing him as the arch-plotter of a vast scheme to sabotage the U. S. S. R.

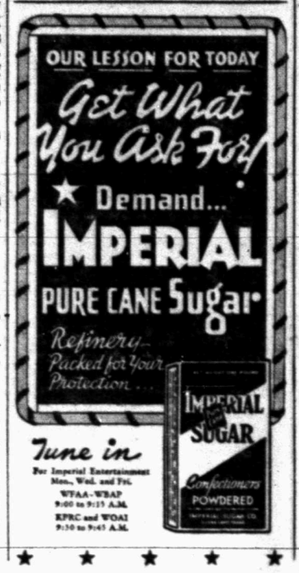

Again he urged an international inquiry to decide whether that trial and a previous one—from which 29 old-line Lenin revolutionists have walked to their death—were not, as Trotzky charged, put-up jobs.

An expedition to the Big Bend country for purpose of finding evidence of primitive man will leave at 7 o'clock this morning, headed by Dr. W. C. Holden, curator of the West Texas Museum association and acting head of the history department of Texas Technological college.

Dr. C. J. Wagner and W. L. Pearson and the following Tech students will leave this morning: Henry Clay Bailey, from Clarksville; Gordon Moore, Lubbock; Barney C. McCasland, jr., Tulia; James Huffman, Grapevine; Clifford Gibbs, Ropesville.

Others To Join Party

Mayor Ross Edwards, W. G. McMillan, and Winston Reeves, editor of the Tech yearbook, will leave Saturday to join the party. Reeves will make photographs. H. L. Allen, president of the West Texas Museum association, and others possibly will join the group.

Equipment for excavating an ash heap 11 feet thick in the mouth of a cave on the Pecos river in Val Verde county will be taken. Wheel barrows, material for sifting ashes, and other equipment will be taken.

Doctor Holden and McMillan visited the place about a year ago. The heap showed evidences of being built up over a long period of time.

Any evidences of primitive man found will be placed in the museum on the Tech campus.

AUSTIN, March 11. (AP)—The senate confirmed today Governor Allred's nomination of Dr. J. C. Blair of Kernes and D. F. Youngblood of San Antonio to the state board of education to succeed F. L. Henderson of Bryan and J. O. Guleke of Amarillo, respectively.

There was no announcement after the executive session, on nomination of Judge W. N. Stokes of Vernon to the Amarillo court of civil appeals.

Kaufman's Exile From Coast May End; To Drop Charge

LOS ANGELES, March 11. (AP)—The exile of George S. Kaufman, playwright, from Hollywood as a result of the sensational Mary Astor custody case appeared likely to be legally ended today.

Attorneys for Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, former husband of Miss Astor who battled in court for the custody of their daughter, said they would move for dismissal of contempt charges against Kaufman.

Kaufman fled California last summer before his scheduled appearance on the witness stand to testify concerning Miss Astor's famous diary in which he was prominently mentioned.

Oatmeal Nut Bread Is Delicious Treat

Is yours a husband who bemoans the passing of the things "Mother used to bake?" If so, you can put a stop to that refrain by surprising him some noon or evening with a loaf of Oatmeal Nut Bread. This delicious bread brightens up any luncheon or dinner, and makes a grand "between meals" snack.

2 cups Quaker Oats — 2 tsps. salt
2 cups boiling water
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup lukewarm water
1 tbsp. melted fat — 2 yeast cakes
4 cups flour — 2 cups chopped nuts

Pour the boiling water over the oats, cover and let stand until lukewarm. Dissolve yeast cakes in the warm water, add sugar and fat and stir into the oatmeal. Add 1¼ cups flour, beat well, cover and set aside to rise for one hour, or until light. Then add salt, nuts and the rest of the flour, or enough to make a dough. Turn out on a floured board and knead until smooth. Place in a greased bowl, cover and let stand again in a warm place until doubled in bulk, which will be about 1¼ hours. Shape into two small loaves, put into well greased pans, filling them a little more than half full. Let rise to the top of the pan and bake 45 minutes in a hot oven—400 degrees.

PROPER DIET FACTOR IN DIONNE QUINS' HEALTH

These robust World-Wonders, the Dionne Quins, are splendid examples of the value of scientific child-raising methods. Since birth, they have been under the constant care of the best medical experts that the government of Ontario, Canada, could provide, and these experts have shown remarkable familiarity with the most recent scientific findings, particularly in the matter of the youngsters' diets.

They have, for example, seen to it that the Quins have a bowl of oatmeal every day. Because in oatmeal is a rich supply of one of Nature's most precious food elements—Vitamin B, that helps brace-up nerves, digestion, appetite, when these are in poor condition due to lack of Vitamin B in the diet. In addition, oatmeal with milk is also a fine source of the minerals, protein, carbohydrates that help put weight and height on children.

Indirectly, then, the Dionne Quins' specialists have set an example for mothers everywhere by choosing Quaker Oats for the famous Canadian babies.

Slaton Oilers Defeat Stephen F. Austin Cagers In A.A.U. Preview, 35 To 25

Ex-Tech Stars Help Put Over 'Title' Victory

Hardin-Simmons Aces Of Older Days And Ex-Red Raiders In Unison Here; Teams Depart Today For Denver AAU

Four crackk basketball artists who used to get in each other's hair when two of them played for Texas Tech and the other two for Hardin-Simmons university, having called off, or at least suspended, their part of the old college feud, combined their resources last night to help win a major cage triumph for their adopted alma mater—The Slaton Cotton Oil Mill and the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

The Oilers, as they are best known, defeated one of the outstanding college teams of the state, the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers college Lumberjacks of Nacogdoches, champion of the Lone Star conference, 35 to 25, before a surprisingly small gallery at the Texas Tech gymnasium.

For "State Title"

The game, for all practical purposes, settled the senior basketball championship of Texas. The Oilers put away another leading college team, the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, then defeated a team composed mainly of star members of the S. M. U. Southwest conference championship team, to win the Southwestern A. A. U. championship in a tournament at Dallas last week. The Lumberjacks, rated every bit as good as any other conference team, has lost only 3 games out of 23 until last night.

Since both teams have qualified for the National A. A. U. tournament which starts at Denver Sunday, last night's game served as a preview of the country's blue ribbon basketball series. The clubs leave today for Denver.

The disappointing crowd of less than 500 persons was certainly not disappointed in the ball game, which rates as one of the best played here this season and altogether the most humorous, from a tricky, fancy playing style standpoint.

Like Old Times

Wilson Gilmore, a former Tech cage captain and grid player, arrived late from his coaching job at Vernon, but entered the game in the first half. Alvin Crews, also a former captain and team mate of Gilmore back in Tech's championship days; little brother Leroy, Tech captain elect last year and regular this past season; Hugh Snodgrass, captain of the 1937 team and all-Border conference player (see story in column 7); Jim Neely, former Hardin-Simmons star, now coach at Slaton, and Jack Miller, former North Texas Teachers ace, now coach at Wilson, were holding things down pretty well before Gilmore entered the game.

The fun started, however with the advent of Gilmore. His tricky pass-

National A.A.U. Tournament Is Their Next Goal

Senators Also Need Chunkers

The Big Wail Is Echoed From Nats' Camp, Where Hitters Are Nearly All Southpaws In Revised Lineup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

ORLANDO, Fla., March 11. (AP)—Pitching, pitching, pitching! That's the plaint of managers all along the Florida baseball front.

It was no different here in the camp of the Washington Senators today. Manager Bucky Harris leaned against the wailing wall at Tinker field and moaned:

"I've got an 'if' club. The pitching is uncertain and we may be lop-sided with left-hand hitters. But, mostly it's the pitching.

"I believe the rest of the club is geared to do a little better than last season if the pitching comes through and five left-hand regulars do not handicap us too much."

Four Pitchers Back

Last year the Griffmen, tagged the American league surprise package, pulled up into the first division, finishing fourth after a red hot battle with the rampaging third place Chicago White Sox.

Of his 1936 flingers, Harris lists only four as starters. They are Pete Appleton, Buck Newsom, Joe Cascarella and young Jimmy DeShong, the former Yankee.

Ed Linke and Monte Weaver are big question marks, as are Jack Salveston and Dick Lanahan, the most promising of the newcomers.

"I'm not worried about the catching," said Harris in announcing the ponderous Frank (Shanty) Hogan, now down to a mere 230 pounds, would start in the No. 1 role with Cliff Bolton as assistant.

The remainder of the team will shape up about the same as the 1936 crew.

Joe Kuhel at first, Buddy Myer at second, the youthful John Buddy Lewis at third, and Cecil Travis at short give Harris one of the best rounded infields in the circuit. The only rub is, all are left hand batters.

For replacement duty the Nats will have the veteran Ossie Bluege and a kid first sacker named James Wasdell.

The regular outfield will be Jonothan Stone, Fred Sington, the former Alabama football star, and Ben Chapman, with Taft Wright, a youngster from Chattanooga, and Jesse Hill in reserve.

Yanks And Cards By Mashie Shot, Predicts Babe

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP) — Babe Ruth viewed the coming major league baseball races from a bunker along the St. Albans golf course today and predicted the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals would win by at least a mashie shot.

"You can't beat that Yankees power," said the Babe. "They've got it from top to bottom. They may not win by as many games as they did last year, but they should win."

The Cleveland Indians is "the team the Yankees have to beat," he said. "How they keep from winning, I don't know. They've got power and they should have pitching."

Ruth doesn't give Detroit much of a chance.

Washington, Boston and Chicago follow in order in his American League list.

In the National League, after the Cards, he picks the Pittsburgh Pirates, New York Giants and Chicago Cubs in that order.

New A.A.U. Committeeman In Favor Of Less Strict Rules

LOS ANGELES, March 11. (AP)—Lorrin Andrews, new chairman of the A. A. U. rules committee, outlined today the code reforms he hopes will "give the A. A. U. back to the athletes."

"My idea is to let the boys and girls compete in amateur athletics as long as they take no money and do nothing that is vicious," the white-haired Los Angeles attorney said.

"First and most important is the rule having to do with the public announcement of intention to become a professional. It led to the suspension of Jesse Owens, it is unfair and quite absurd. We want to change it so that any man who competes as a pro or accepts money becomes a pro, but not until then."

Opening Track Meet Is Billed At Tech Today

Lubbock Westerners Compete With Teams From Amherst, Lamesa, Abernathy, Anton At 3:30 O'Clock

The 1937 track and field season gets under way at the Texas Tech grounds this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when the Lubbock High Westerners play host to four visiting clubs.

The five-cornered meet will feature the leading candidates for team places from Amherst, Anton, Abernathy and Lamesa, plus Coach Goober Keyes' Lubbock High athletes.

Grant, all-round athlete from Anton, and "Speedy" Houpt, Abernathy star, are expected to be among the outstanding individuals. Lamesa, usually a leading team in district meets, is expected to be well represented.

Lubbock will submit a veteran team in nearly all events, with Harold Ingley, Walter Webster and Bill Sessums leading in the dashes. Other dash candidates are Robert Castle, Melvin Cooksey, Coulson Paxton, Harold Parsons and Wayne Johnston. Jarvis Wright and R. M. Jennings in the half-mile. Ernest Winter in the mile promise a fair set of distance men. Leading hurdlers are Arvil Lee Oden, Henry Ford and Cooksey. Ford also will compete in the pole vault and high jump, with Dutchy Cawthon, Joe Bob Foster, Othello Upton and Johnston also entering the pit events. Broad jumpers are Ingley, Cooksey and Ford. Virgil Simmons, Rafe Nabors and Webster will handle the weight events.

The meet will be open to the public.

RED "KELLYS" WIN

TAMPA, Fla., March 11. (AP)—The "Kelly's" beat the "Sheehans" 1 to 0 today in the first practice game of the Cincinnati Reds' spring training camp.

Coach George Kelly's team got their run in the second inning on a ringing double by Rookie First Baseman Frank McCormick, a passed ball and a putout at first.

STEWART TO McALLEN

McALLEN, March 11. (AP)—Maco Stewart, former Southern Methodist football star, was selected today to be head coach at McAllen high school.

Stewart was an outstanding end for championship Mustang football teams. He is now assistant coach at Mexia.

Big Leagues Still Short 21 Holdouts

Junior Loop Is 13 Contracts Short Of Full House

BY SCOTTY RESTON

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—The American League, traditionally the timid tory of the baseball world, has 13 rebel hodouts to the National's eight, an Associated Press survey revealed today.

Every club in the majors except the New York Giants, Detroit Tigers and Washington Senators has at least one belligerent, and the wealthy Boston Red Sox have more than anybody else with four.

The two most serious holdouts are, of course, Jerome Herman Dean of the Cards, and Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees. Dean, the only Cardinal not signed, is financially farther away from signing than anybody else. He has demanded $50,000 and has been offered $22,500 plus a bonus.

Ruffing Lowers Demand

One new revelation was made in the Yankee situation today. Owner Jacob Ruppert said Pitcher Red Ruffing had lowered his demands from $30,000 to $18,000. He was offered $15,000. The other squealing Yankee is Joe DiMaggio, who is said to have been offered $15,000, which is $6,500 more than he got last year. He wants $17,500. Gehrig is asking $50,000; has been offered $36,000.

The four Red Sox holdouts are Eric McNair, who was given a slight increase over last year's salary; Roger Cramer, who was asked to take a slight cut, and Johnny Kroner and Jack Russell, both slashed badly.

The Cleveland Indians are the only other American League team with more than one holdout. They have three: Earl Averill, Pitcher Johnny Allen and Catcher Billy Sullivan.

The St. Louis Browns, Philadelphia Athletics, and Chicago White Sox each have a single headache—Beau Bell of the Browns, Merrit (Sugar) Cain of the White Sox and Wally Moses of the Athletics.

In the National, practically all the holdouts are stars. The Dodgers, with first baseman Buddy Hassett out, seem to be having more trouble with less reason than anybody else.

Another strange situation exists in Cincinnati where the only holdouts are Floyd (Babe) Herman and Pitcher Don Brennan.

Paul Waner, Pittsburgh's batting champion, is the only holdout on his club.

The Chicago Cubs' star outfielder, Frank Demaree, is also out.

Dolph Camilli, Phillies' first baseman, is a holdout. Buck Jordan, Boston Bee's has been told he can trade himself—if he can.

Snodgrass Makes All-Border Conference Cage Team; Both Apodaca Brothers Are Named

Phelps Of Tempe, Milton Berg Of Flagstaff Given Places; Garrett, Morris, Wilkinson Get Honorable Mention

TUCSON, Ariz., March 11. (AP)—The New Mexico Aggie basketball squad, 1937 Border conference champions dominated the all-conference team selections announced here today by Dr. E. L. Larson, conference commissioner.

Both Hookey Apodaca, forward who led the conference scoring throughout the season, and Lauro Apodaca, Aggie guard, found places on the all-conference first team compiled from a vote of circuit coaches.

Paired with H. Apodaca in the forward selections was Hugh Snodgress, Texas Tech. Worth Phelps, center on the Arizona State team from Tempe, was named to that post on the all-conference five. Milton Berg, of the Arizona State college at Flagstaff, shared the guard honors with Lauro Apodaca.

Morris On Second Team

Second team selections were Kiko Martinez, New Mexico Aggies, and Lorry Di Grazzia, Arizona, forwards; Louis Thomas, New Mexico University, center; Marion Coltrin, Arizona, and Paul Morris, Texas Tech, guards.

Honorable mention was given Kenneth Heywood, Tempe, Arthur Garrett, Texas Tech, and Manuel Saenz, New Mexico, all forwards, and Russell Wilkinson, Texas Tech, center.

Helen Dettweiler, Dorothy Traung In Bellair's Final

BELLAIR, Fla., March 11. (AP) — Helen Dettweiler, young Washington, D. C., golf star, gets her second chance to win a Florida winter tournament here tomorrow when she meets Dorothy Traung, San Francisco, in the Bellair women's meet, in the 18-hole final match.

Miss Dettweiler was defeated in the finals of the Palm Beach tournament by Patty Berg of Minneapolis.

To reach the finals, Miss Traung defeated Jean Bauer of Providence, 3 and 1. Miss Dettweiler eliminated Goldie Bateson, Milwaukee, Wis., 4 and 2.

SLAPSIE BEATS BEAUPRE

DALLAS, March 11. (AP)—Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom, clowning one-time king of the lightheavies, piled up an easy 10-round victory over Tom Beaupre, Dallas' heavyweight butcher boy, before 5,000 fans here tonight.

Forty-Five Teams Now Ready To Play In 'Blue Ribbon' Event Of Basketball, The National A.A.U.

By LOUDON KELLY

DENVER, March 11. (AP)—At least 45 teams will start in the race for national basketball honors in the 30th A. A. U. tournament, opening in the Denver Municipal auditorium Sunday.

The latest to enter were Panhandle A. & M. college of Goodwell, Okla., Chase Brass of Cleveland and the Heston, Kas., Motors.

Twenty-one states are represented in the 1937 list of starters. Last year 54 teams were entered from 23 states and Washington, D. C.

J. Lyman Bingham, A. A. U. official who arrived here from Chicago today, called the entry list "the greatest in history."

The four top favorites—Bartlesville Oilers, Hollywood Stars, Denver Safeways and Kansas City Trails—are certain to be placed in the seeded circle. At least one of the 13 college teams entered probably will be seeded.

Refiners Scattered

The McPherson Refiners, 1936 champions, did not enter this year's tourney. Virtually all of the McPherson regulars, including five who won berths on the United States Olympic team, will appear in new uniforms at this year's blue ribbon event.

The complete tournament bracket and pairings for Sunday's first round games are expected to be completed Saturday.

The officials are: Parke Carroll, Kansas City; Alvin Bell, Little Rock, Ark.; Lloyd Leith, San Francisco, and Louis Vidal, John Kraft, Bill Miller and Walter Hakanson, all of Denver.

Ralls Tourney To Start Wednesday

RALLS, March 11. (Special.)—Drawing for first round opponents in the second annual Ralls "sweater and medal" invitation basketball tournament will be conducted Tuesday night, March 16, it was announced today. The tourney starts the following day and continues each night through Saturday, March 20.

Officials have announced that no team will be required to play every night. The schedule will be arranged to give each club at least one off night.

Sweaters and medals will be the awards.

All games will be played at night, starting at 7 o'clock, in the Ralls gymnasium. Eight men will be allowed on each club.

All independent cage teams of the section are invited to compete. Those interested are asked to communicate with McElroy or Red Cannon at Ralls.

Slaton Oilers

ing and dribbling, improved over college days, combined with that of Snodgrass, gave the folks something to see—if they could see fast enough—and something to cheer and laugh about.

The towering collegians from East Texas were somewhat nonplussed by the fancy passing and shooting, and by the continuous stream of talk that featured the Oilers' play.

First half of the game was a defensive battle, each side making splendid stand-offs, each using the man-to-man system. Time after time legal—and sometimes illegal—blocks and knockdowns prevented the ball from hitting the hoop. Neely, the Crews boys and Snodgrass worked under the Lumberjack basket to kill numerous scoring threats.

The Oilers got away to a 3-0 lead, stayed ahead and led at the half, 14-8.

Gene McCollum Stars

Gene McCollum, of the famous Hardin-Simmons McCollums who have been seen in athletic action against Tech many times, teamed up with the Oilers in the second half, and the new combination got going. Not, however, until after the Lumberjacks had tied the score at 16-all early in the period. The 'Jacks never got ahead, but the shooting of the lanky Massey, center, and the consistent firing at the basket of Crenshaw and Clayton were constant threats.

Passes from Neely to McCollum resulted in two nice field goals by the latter. Gilmore and Crews cooperated with the ex-Cowboy stars to make ife rather miserabe for the East Texxans. Neely, with 8 points, and McCollum with 7, led the Oilers, Alvin Crews and Gilmore had 6 apiece.

The box score:

Ten Red Raiders Voted Basketball Awards For 1937

Nine members and a student manager of the 1936-37 Texas Tech varsity basketball squad have been cited for double-T letters by Coach Berl Huffman, and the Tech athletic louncil has granted the awards, it was learned yesterday.

Five of the letter men have concluded their collegiate athletic careers in basketball. They are Captain Hugh Snodgrass, Curly Wilkinson, Wayne Wilkins, Leroy Crews, Arthur Howard Garrett, and Bob Case. Other letter men are Paul Morris, Elmer Tarbox, Maurice Wiginton and Student Manager Milt Coffey.

Letter sweaters will be awarded provided the players pass the required amount of scholastic work, Huffman said.

At least two of the veterans, Snodgrass and Crews, are to compete in the National A. A. U. basketball tournament starting Sunday at Denver. They are regulars on the Slaton Oilers club, which played the Stephen F. Austin college Lumberjacks here last night.

Legislators To Make Junket To Valley Saturday, Sunday

AUSTIN, March 11. (AP)—Senator Jim Neal of Mirando City said today members of the senate finance and house appropriations committees would make a junket through the Rio Grande valley Saturday and Sunday.

Neal said tentative plans included arrival by train Saturday morning at Kingsville, a visit to the King ranch and a dance at the College of Arts and Industries that night. An automobile tour of valley cites, including Mission, McAllen, Edinburg, Harlingen and Brownsville, will be made Sunday.

RAIN MEASURER

SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (AP)—For 40 years Tony B. Thomas, druggist, has kept a rain gauge atop his shop or his house and has scrupulously entered the precipitation, if any, in a notebook. He uses his records mainly to settle arguments. Farmers sometimes come for miles to determine what the rainfall was in a given year.

Governments And Sense

IF the average government could only find some way of letting its right hand know what its left hand doeth, the world might have a far better chance of living in peace these days.

The other day, for example, Japanese and American officials gathered about the grave of Commodore Matthew Perry, in New York, and exchanged new vows as to the eternal qualities of the friendship and harmony existing between America and Japan.

Japanese Ambassador Saito sent a telegram mentioning "the indestructibility of the traditional friendship." An official of the American State department remarked that Japan and America have never been enemies and that the American people and government "hope that the record thus established will never be impaired." And President Roosevelt, from afar, shed his blessing on the memorial services to the American seaman who brought Japan into the modern world.

NOW all this sounds extremely fine, and might lead one to believe that prospects for continued peace between the two nations were never better—if it were not that each of the governments involved supports a fighting force as well as a handshaking department, and that the fighters don't seem to know just what the handshakers are up to.

The Japanese have been spending millions on their navy lately. They have prepared a whole chain of Pacific islands for war uses. They have refused to be bound any longer by the limitations of the Washington naval treaty. And, somehow, it is impossible to escape the conclusion that, in doing these things, they are thinking principally of friendly old Uncle Sam across the water.

Similarly, America has been and still is spending vast sums on its fleet. The Hawaiian base is being made into a regular Gibraltar. There are rumors of air bases and the like in the Aleutian islands. And, once again, it is very hard to doubt that all this is being done with one eye on the friendly Japanese over beyond the Pacific.

In other words, these two governments seem to be playing the old game of talking peace and preparing to fight.

Either the peace talk is a lot of hokum which isn't meant to be taken seriously, or both nations are spending a lot of money that they might just as well be using for something else.

BEFORE we go any farther, we would do well to find out which is the case. The ordinary American has no quarrel with the Japanese. And if this talk about indestructible peace is to be taken seriously, he could save a good deal of money on his naval bill.

Can't the two governments find some way of making their right and left hands acquainted?

THOSE "HICK COPS

A bleak future awaits Merle Vandenbush, whom the Department of Justice terms "Public Rat No. 1." Captured after a lurid, bank-robbing career, he faces a long row of years behind bars.

That, in itself, is bad enough, but it may be something else he is contemplating more glumly. Since a criminal's pride is notoriously sensitive, Vandenbush may be squirming in the humiliating knowledge that he, a bold, bad man, was caught, not by grim G-men or stalwart city bluecoats, but by what he would probably describe derisively as "hick cops"—four men, the entire force of Armonk, N. Y.

For their splendid work, the four policemen have been congratulated by G-man Chief Hoover, the town council has voted them new overcoats and vacations with pay, and they may split a $1,000 reward.

Yet this is far from being all they deserve, if they have taught desperadoes that the open road is no safe refuge from justice.

WITH OUR CONTEMPORARIES

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.

And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.

And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! St. Mark, X: 21-23.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT, charming young New York advertising executive, rents her deceased father's Connecticut estate to LARRY SMITH, attractive young bachelor architect, and promptly likes him tremendously. Daphne has one sister, JENNIFER, six years younger, just out of college and at her first job.

Jennifer resents Daphne's attempts to guide her and proceeds to date TUCKER AINSLEY, wealthy playboy. Next she meets Larry and, finding he is not married, makes a play for his attentions. This develops a struggle between the sisters for the same man.

One night Larry dates Daphne. At the same time she refuses Daphne's permission to date the Ainsley set. Daphne spends a thrilling evening with Larry, only to come home and find Jennifer gone.

At dawn Jennifer returns, tousled, slightly inebriated. Daphne is shocked, pained. Later Jennifer demands a showdown to lead her own life. The sisters conciliate, but Jennifer is scheming. One day she suggests Tuck would make a good husband. Jennifer wants a rich husband—if not Larry, then Tuck.

NOW GO WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XII

"Tuck, please." Jennifer tugged gently at Tuck Ainsley's sleeve. She snuggled to him in the low-slung roadster. "Please by my lamb and stop here. Do you want to start something at this stage of the game?"

He reached for the gear and pulled it back. "Young lady, are you trying to kid me? This is schoolgirl stuff, stopping the car a block from your apartment. I won't have it. You're a strange mixture of a sophisticated woman and a child. I can't dope you out."

"Just make up your mind that I'm a femme fatale, or was," she said, lowering her voice and brushing his cheek with hers, "until I met you. Now, kiss me, because I've got to get in. It's after one and Daphne will be getting home soon, if she isn't already there."

She opened the car door.

Tuck pulled her back. "You know I don't like doing this to Daphne. She's a good friend of mine and this isn't quite cricket."

Jennifer regarded him coldly. "Make up your mind, Tuck. Do I count or does 'an old friend' rate?"

"When you look so beautifully haughty, my love, you do. But in the cold light of reason, I don't forget Daphne. After all, she is your sister."

"My sister? My keeper! Oh, Tuck, if I weren't so crazy about you I wouldn't take any risks. After all, they are my risks. Daphne can be dreadful when she wants to be. She has a good time. She loves her job and she has Larry—and hasn't she Larry! I trip over him all the time but I'm supposed to act like a nun."

He laughed. "Not that you do, you minx. You'd better run along if you won't let me come with you."

Jennifer took off her hat and laid her head back against the cushion, staring up at the stars. She took a deep breath. "This is a night for adventure, darling. Aren't you glad I made you put the top down on the car? An April night and an April moon! There'll be so many others and we won't be together. It makes me sad I've never known anyone like you, Tuck, and I feel lonesome just to think that some day I'll lose you. You'll share this same moon with someone else."

He drew her close to him. Her lithe figure fitted smoothly into his arms, her soft lips brushed his cheek, the perfume of her mingled with the soft scent of the night air.

"I may," he said, "but why shouldn't we see it again and again together?"

For an instant her eyes opened and looked over his shoulder into the future. She smiled to herself in the darkness.

He had said it, she said to herself and slipped gently out of his embrace.

"Tomorrow at four at Grace's", she said aloud, and kissed the tips of his fingers gently. Then she ran out of his sight. She was breathless when she ran up the steps and let herself into the hall of the apartment house. Then, she stopped, freshened her lips, smoothed her hair. She glanced anxiously at her wrist-watch. It was 1:30 and she'd have some tall explaining to do if Daphne was at home.

Daphne was at home. Daphne, still in her cherry-colored taffeta evening frock, was lying on the lounge with her arms raised and her hands under her head, contemplating the ceiling as though some lovely line were written there.

Jennifer paused uncertainly in the door-way and stalled for an opening line.

"I thought you were never coming home." Daphne said quite unexpectedly. "Your bridge lasted late at Helen's. Oh, Jennifer, what do you think?"

Jennifer sighed with relief and said she didn't think. She knew from the stars in Daphne's eyes, from the flush that laid pink petals on her cheeks, that her role was to listen—a role for which she was grateful.

One silver-sandled foot swung beside the sofa. The other twisted back and forth and held Daphne's gaze. "I may be wrong but I think Larry is in love with me."

"Dope!" Jennifer retorted. "I could have told you that a long time ago. What happened?"

"Happened? Nothing, except that he spent most of the evening starting to say something, clearing his throat and hanging onto my hand. Then he dashed off to get his train and said he was going to call me when he got home. Oh, Jennifer, you don't suppose he was trying to tell me bad news, do you?"

"Do you mean he's going to call you tonight?"

"That's what he said. I'm waiting for his call now. Oh, dear, I'm frightened."

Jennifer stifled a yawn. "Well, if you don't mind standing the watch alone, I think I'll run along to bed. Standing all day long on my poor feet is no easy job and Mandlebaum bawled me out for being late this morning. Being a model is no soft job like yours."

Daphne would have sighed wearily had she been listening to Jennifer. She would have recognized the old signs. Jennifer was getting bored with her job modeling. After only one month.

A month ago Daphne had broken down when she was convinced that Jennifer made no effort to learn at the secretarial school and had given her permission for Jennifer to accept the job modeling.

She had been glad because Jennifer earned a better salary and Daphne was able to buy herself some new clothes. It was astonishing how interested she had become in clothes. She wanted smart, pretty thing to wear for Larry. And Larry had always so many delightful new things for them to do.

Her thoughts swung back to Larry and the new apprehension that had suddenly sprung to her mind.

The telephone rang imperiously. Daphne tripped over her skirts in her eagerness to reach it, gathered them up and fell across her bed to clutch the telephone and remove it from its cradle.

"Hello," she said anxiously and felt her heart beating against her ribs.

"Daphne,"—it was Larry—"did you know what I was trying to tell you tonight?"

Daphne said that she didn't. "But don't be frightened, darling. No matter what it is, I want to hear it."

"Is it any surprise to you to know that I love you?"

Daphne made one of those little inarticulate sounds in her throat.

"I haven't told you that I did."

Daphne waited while time stood still.

"I do, Daphne, and I want you to marry me. That was what I was trying to say. I'm going to ask you tomorrow night."

"Oh, Larry! . . . good night, darling . . . until tomorrow."

When Jennifer, half an hour later, came back from the bath she found Daphne still motionless with her hands over her eyes.

"Was it bad news?" she asked, turning down he rbed.

"No." Daphne answered as though in a trance. "It was the most wonderful news I've ever heard."

But she didn't tell Jennifer what it was. Or how bitter sweet, because she knew she couldn't tell Larry she would marry him. It wouldn't be fair to him to ask him to wait the long, long time that stretched before her before she would be free.

She fell asleep with her happiness knowing that the morrow was to dim it.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is deeply dissatisfied with his scouts' reports on the status of the Supreme court battle on Capitol Hill. His confidential nose-countings explain the fire and fight in his two addresses on the issue.

The President has been informed that he would win by extremely narrow margins if a vote were taken today—perhaps by 50 in the House and eight in the Senate. F.D.R., however, will not be content with such a technical victory; he wants a knockout, not a decision on points. He recognizes that his reform might not "take" with succeeding administrations unless it is inaugurated with overwhelming support in Congress and among the people.

Democratic leaders with sharp ears hear that the lines are beginning to shake under presidential pounding. Some Senators like Burke of Nebraska, Clark of Missouri and Wheeler of Montana cannot—and would not—stultify themselves by shifting into White House gear. But there is a sizable non-committal bloc that will "do an Ashurst." Like the frank Arizonian, they consider consistency a hard, political gallstone of no value, if F.D.R. carries the issue to the country "in person." He will, if necessary, despite official reports to the contrary.

UNEASY: The mere suggestion that former King Edward and his bride-to-be—Wally Simpson—may settle down permanently on a Maryland estate sends shivers down the spine of our State departmenters. They can't plead guilty publicly to such a spirit of inhospitality, but they hope the couple locates elsewhere.

Though the Duke would undoubtedly protest, the American government would feel obliged to provide him with an official guard—Secret service men. For if anything happened to him here, the British outcry against lawlessness in the United States would exceed the storm raised when Lindbergh fled to England for refuge. Another trial to the State department would be the enterprise of American reporters. The British government wants to forget the ex-King—to wipe him off the front page—but over here David would become monarch of the tabloids.

Diplomatic difficulties would ensue if some day there developed an Edwardian party in England that demanded his return to the throne. That seems improbable now, but nobody here can tell what Europe will do next. For one or all of these reasons any move by the erstwhile ruler in this direction will be met by quiet suggestions that he really wouldn't enjoy Maryland food—scenery—atmosphere.

PRACTICAL: Democratic hostility towards President Roosevelt's major proposals at this session have backed Republicans off the political stage—a result not altogether displeasing to the G.O.P.-ers.

The most vicious axe men behind the doors of appropriations committees have been southern Democrats; the Republicans have simply voted "aye" on reductions deeper than the Budget bureau's. The only speech which Senator Vandenberg delivered against the White House in the court controversy was inspired by senator Wheeler of Montana. Progressives headed the onslaught on the neutrality program.

Traditional party lines form an stiffen again when another major compaign rolls around. But the boys on Capitol Hill are giving a practical preview of the national political realignment so often forecast but never realized among the leaders themselves. Current cloakroom talk about a prospective breakup in 1940 is more prevalent and specific than ever before. The repudiated Stanley ("All-time") High may have been correct in his prediction.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

SENATOR WHEELER'S inquiry into railroad financing brought to light—though it did not feature—certain banking practices which are likely to get a lot of attention from Washington in future.

It has become a common custom among large banks with a trust business to create a number of synthetic "nominee corporations"—in each case consisting of a clerk or two in the bank's employ—to take over official ownership of stock certificates which actually belong to trust or custody accounts. The idea is that by turning these certificates over to a nominee, the real owner is spared any number of routine details. Dividend checks, for instance, are received by the nominee and the proceeds automatically transferred to the customer's bank account.

An important point, not stressed by the banks is that the dummy nominee companies, being stockholders of record, are legally entitled to vote the shares actually owned by someone else in corporation elections.

POWER: Since the nominees are bank employes, it is easy to see how a big bank with many large trust accounts could thus indirectly exert enormous influence in a corporation's affairs without investing a dime of its own and regardless of the wishes of the real stockholders.

There have not been as yet any cases where influence derived in this manner has been decisive in determining the policy of a corporation—but it could happen at any time.

This new and subtle form of tremendous economic power concentrated in the hands of banks is due to be aired as soon as the administration finds a favorable opportunity.

COMPELLED: Chairman Myron Taylor of U. S. Steel is being called harsh names in the private offices of top executives in rival steel companies. It isn't so much that he worked out an understanding with the man so long regarded as the arch-fiend in person by the steel moguls, although that gave them something of a shock.

What really burns them up is that he didn't tell them he was going to do it. They knew that he was talking to John Lewis but had absolutely no idea that an agreement was imminent until they read about the fait accompli in the newspapers.

They rate it downright unclubby of Mr. Taylor to leave them in the dark this way, especially as they are left on the spot as to their own labor relations. No matter how fervently they may wish to continue their policy of not recognizing the C.I.O. union, they can hardly afford to take a bitter-end attitude now. If they do, it will simply mean having their plants closed and their business wrecked by a strike while U. S. Steel gobbles up the orders they cannot fill. So they are virtually compelled to follow Mr. Taylor's lead in recognition of the union amid much private gnashing of teeth.

LAWYERS: Keep an eye on the National Lawyers' Guild—an organization created for the express purpose of making life as miserable as possible for the staid and conservative American Bar Association.

At the moment the Guild is concentrating its barrage on groups of attorneys who have adopted resolutions of horror at the President's impious attempt to lay profane hands on the Supreme Court. The new organization favors judicial reform. Being lawyers themselves, the Guild people know where to look for weak spots in the enemy's armor and are having fun characterizing the Bar Association as a bunch of mentally superannuated stuffed shirts.

Conservative New York lawyers are indignant at members of their profession who join the Guild and "stooge for the New Deal." But the Guild—with strong backstage support from the administration—is impervious to criticism of this sort and will raise plenty of Cain in the next few years. Frank P. Walsh of the New York Power Authority—old friend and backer of President Roosevelt—is the outstanding Guild leader in this state.

"We are 10,000 years nearer to permanent peace," says Carrie Chapman Catt, "than were the cavemen 10,000 years ago." This is not a translation from the Spanish.

While a debate waxes over the identity of the original sitdown striker, we have looked it up on the quiet and find it was Nero, during the fire.

Other young brides have come to light, but the record is still safe with Tennessee, where they cut their second teeth on the wedding ring.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 47

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"Don't worry, Miss Ula," George comforted; "I'm squeezing my rabbit's foot. I been in many a tight spot, with Major Martling, and all I had to do was squeeze the rabbit's foot, and everything was O.K. If you want any proof, just look at me. I'm still alive, ain't I?"

Ula Dale, however, was not optimistic. She judged these Indians to be one of the few remaining wild tribes of the western world—descendants of ancient Mayan fighting men reverted now to primitive savagery. Revenge to them was a dominant passion, not to be denied.

The Indians led their captives silently through a gloomy forest until they came to a small open space, which was occupied entirely by several giant plant. To her utter horror and dismay, Ula recognized them as species of the carnivorous plant Napentiches.

Then they were true, those incredible legends of man-eating plants! Here they were, their giant fronds stirring gently in the light breeze, as if groping for a victim. The Indians made obeisance before them, then the chief said: "Woman go first!"

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—Stock market leaders ran out of climbing fuel today and the majority backed up fractions to 3 or more points.

The reversal was orderly, however, and a few rubbers, alcohols, leathers and oils managed to edge forward.

Brokers saw nothing important in the news to disturb the advancing trend unduly, but it was pointed out traders were in the mood to cash in at least part of their profits which have been accumulating over the past several sessions.

Rubber futures jumped to new highs since 1929 but subsequently were thrown for sizeable declines. Other staples generally gave ground.

Industrial and rail loans developed renewed weakness in the bond division, many sinking to new lows for the year.

Motor and steel stocks found little support, as did aircrafts, utilities and the majority of petroleums and carriers.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 11. (AP)—Cotton prices experienced a small set-back today and losses of 1 to 7 points were marked up at the end of trading.

Wide price swings prevailed in the day's dealings, with the market up better than 75 cents a bale at one time, only to lose this advantage and substitute small declines.

Better foreign prices and active buying from abroad lifted the New Orleans market at the start of trading and March reached 14.18, May 13.92 and Oct. 13.36. But in the early afternoon buying dried up and scattered selling orders proved sufficient to unsettle prices and force the market lower.

May finished at 13.74, July at 13.59, and Oct. at 13.13. Middling spot cotton at New Orleans was unchanged at 14.15 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—Cotton sold off from early rallies today under realizing. May sold off from 13.98@13.77 but rallied partially on covering to close at 13.85. Final prices were 3 points net higher to 10 lower.

Responding to a sharp upturn at Liverpool, the market opened 8 to 13 points higher and rallied to net gains of 10 to 17 points in the first few minutes of trading on active foreign and trade buying.

Reactionary sentiment was more pronounced, however, following rallies of about $8.00@9.00 a bale from the lows of last month. Prices eased 16 to 29 points from the early highs and to net losses of 6 to 16 points.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 11. (AP) — The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 14.13 cents a pound; average past thirty days 13.23 cents a pound.

U. S. Protest

tended the meeting at which La Guardia spoke.

Complaint Received

Hull acted after he had received a complaint from Mrs. Stephen S. Wise, chairman of the women's section of the American Jewish congress, calling attention to an article published by "Der Angriff" on March 5.

She asked the secretary to insist upon a disavowal of the article, which she described as an insult to the 1,200 American women at the luncheon.

Officials said the "emphatic comment" which Hull instructed Ambassador Dodd to make to the German government would not constitute a diplomatic "protest." They declined to express any opinion as to whether it would call for a reply.

Dodd Gathers Excerpts For A Strong Protest

BERLIN, March 11. (AP)—United States Ambassador William E. Dodd gathered tonight the most striking excerpts from recent anti-American attacks in the German press in the expectation of delivering a strong protest to the Reich's foreign office tomorrow.

Acting on instructions from Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Dodd attempted to make representations to Foreign Minister Baron Konstantin von Neurath today, but did not contact him.

Dodd, it was understood, has gathered assertions in the German press that the state department handled the case in "shilly shally" fashion as well as attacks on social conditions in New York and the United States generally and the home manners of Americans.

Jackson Gives New Argument

Assistant Attorney General Says Congress Is To Blame For 'Abuses' In Present Court Situation

used throughout our constitutional history."

New In Controversy

His premise of congressional responsibility was an argument new to a controversy which has produced innumerable lines of reasoning.

Opposition senators bore down upon him with a bombardment of questions which generally came back to one principal point: that unless, under the president's bill, additional Supreme court justices prove to be in general philosophic agreement with the chief executive, the plan will fail.

"Doesn't the whole working of this plan depend on the judicial complexion of the men appointed?" asked Senator Connally (D-Tex).

"I would say that is very largely true."

"Well, isn't it absolutely true?"

"Yes, I think I may say, sir, that it is absolutely true."

Second Official To Be Heard

Jackson was the second administration witness to urge the bill—providing for the appointment of a maximum of six additional Supreme court members unless incumbents over 70 retire—upon the committee.

Jackson lifted a prepared statement and began reading. The statement proved to be an indictment of Supreme court practices and his assertion of congressional responsibility.

That responsibility, he said, was placed upon congress by the Constitution itself; the size of the court has been altered six times "to correct the court?" and the same objective has been attempted by constitutional amendment but three times.

Motive Is Cited

"The power of congress to avert congressional stagnation is as great as its power to prevent congested dockets," he said. "And whatever other motives have influenced the changes that have been made in the composition of the court, the dominant one has aways been to keep the divergence between the court and the elective branches from becoming so wide as to threaten the stability of the government."

The court has constantly expanded its power to invalidate acts of congress, he said, with the result that lawyers have been advising clients that some laws are unconstitutional and therefore need not be obeyed in advance of judicial determination.

Has Been Counted On

"The frank hostility of these justices has been openly counted on by interested groups to defeat important legislation," he said.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), uncommitted on the court issue and urging a constitutional amendment requiring that two-thirds of the court concur in invalidating an act of congress, took up the interrogation.

He asked whether the bill would correct a situation which Jackson had described in these words: "A state of law which depends upon the continuance of a single life or upon the assumption that no justice will change his mind is not a satisfactory basis on which the government may enter into new fields for the exercise of its power."

Independence Not Affected

"The bill gives no assurance that there will not be a division of the court," Jackson said. "Every Justice will be just as independent as he is today. It will not interfere in any way with the independence of the justices, but will bring into the court justices who will have a viewpoint closer to current events."

"Does the act provide in any way for taking away the court's power to over-rule acts of congress."

"If you desire to take away the power of the court to overcome acts of congress you must use some other method."

Confidence Not Lost

Senator McCarren (D-Nev), asserted that in the last analysis the power of the court to enforce its decrees rested upon the people's confidence in it. He asked whether Jackson did not fear that "by reason of the atmosphere that has been created, the confidence of the people in the six new justices will have been so lost that the mandate of the court will have no force or effect?"

"No, I have no such fear," Jackson replied. "Of course, if the president makes unwise appointments or the senate confirms unwise appointments, or these men entrusted with this obligation do not, by their intelligence and their high sense of duty, justify public confidence, it would be lost."

McCarren persisted:

"If the six new judges went on the bench now, the people would say that they were six new judges selected by the New Deal and that—to use a harsh word—they would be stultified before they went on the bench, even though they might hold against the New Deal to assert their independence."

If Not, Situation Bad

"I don't feel that way," Jackson said. "I woud hate to see the standing and prestige of the court injured in the way you suggest. I believe that in this great country six men can be found in whom the public would have confidence. If not, the situation is pretty bad and we're pretty near over the dam anyway."

"Either the six would go with the New Deal," said McCarran "or, realizing they were under critical observation, so to speak, would take the reverse English and do just the opposite. Do you think there is any danger of that?"

"I don't. There would be frequent disagreement of views, yes. I am confident that any man worthy to go on the court would not hesitate to say so, if he felt that certain acts go over the bounds. . . . The present situation is far more dangerous than any situation that could be brought about by bringing the court into line with the people."

With a seating capacity of 350 persons, directors are expecting every seat to be taken.

Final rehearsal was held at the hotel last night with models, featured performers and the orchestra participating.

Miss Marie Tyson, professional model, has assisted in five rehearsals for mannequins in which they were given instruction.

Costumes for entertainers were completed last night.

Wholesale merchants and their representatives yesterday predicted today to be one of the biggest days of the four-day market, pointing out that Friday and Sunday usually are the best.

RALLS, March 11. (Special)—Organization of Crosby county Pomona National Grange chapter was perfected tonight with election of Vardeman Miller of Ralls, master; G. S. Dowell of Lorenzo, lecturer, and Wallace G. Heath of Crosbyton secretary.

Next session of the county chapter will be conducted April 8 in the auditorium of Crosbyton Junior High school. Invitation to the Lubbock county Pomona Grange to confer the fifth degree was extended. All Grange chapters of the county were represented.

Officers of the Ralls Grange chapter were installed by Harold W. Gaulrapp, National Grange representative, assisted by a team from Roosevelt: Miss Katherine Harmon as marshal, Miss Ruby Fay Snodgrass as regalia bearer, and Miss Marie Wilson as emblem bearer. Mrs. M. H. Vardeman directed music.

Ralph W. Moore, state Grange master, spoke on the national organization and on rural electrification. Crosby county will conduct a study to determine whether it should work with Lubbock or independently on the project. He spoke that afternoon at Muleshoe, where a temporary county organization for rural electrification was set up.

Moore and Gaulrapp will leave today for Fort Worth, where they will speak tonight at a FFA Gold Key banquet.

Prints Minority Report

The house shattered session precedent by ordering printed on minority reports bills adversely reported from committees, to limit graduate instruction to the University of Texas, A. and M. college and Texas Tech and to repeal the law requiring graduates of accredited legal schools to take the bar examination.

Without taking final action, the senate considered a bill, previously passed by the house, which would give all cities power to regulate utilities, including telephone companies, not covered by the existing regulatory statute.

It confirmed appointments of W. N. Stokes of Vernon to the Amarillo court of civil appeals and C. Y. Welch of Hardeman county to succeed Stokes as judge of the Forty-sixth judicial district.

Governor Allred in a message recommended an emergency appropriation of an unspecified amount to carry on work of the Texas Employment service and its transfer to the unemployment compensation administration.

school student body had suggested closing of Avenue U from Eighteenth to Nineteenth street and re-arrangement of the traffic lights. Closing of the avenue was not considered wise by the commission.

Co-operation of school officials in controling pedestrian traffic will be invited.

A plan of disability insurance, for City employes, outlined by L. E. Hunt, will be considered later when all commissioners are present, it was decided. Commissioner W. G. McMillan did not attend the meeting.

With a view of controling smoke from the disposal ground southeast of the City, the commission instructed Manager Rodgers and City Engineer Marlin R. Smith, jr., to prepare a plat of land near the present grounds. Possibility of erecting an incinerator, with a tall smokestack, was discussed. The commissioners will consider the question further at the next meeting.

Opinion On Water Given

Opinion of City Attorney Bradley on water rights in Yellowhouse canyon was presented.

Commissioner A. J. Richardson, at Austin this week, had protested granting of an application of Buffalo Springs owners, among them City Manager Rodgers, to erect a dam impounding 640 acre feet of water.

City Attorney Bradley explained the City had prior water rights in the canyon and that the proposed Buffalo Springs improvement would in no wise jeopardise the rights of the City to any water.

Contractors bonds of Claude Martin, E. R. Little, R. E. McCurdy, J. J. Rozzell, W. L. Cone, and M. G. Bowles were approved.

Appropriation of $1,000 to City-County Welfare association, to be used with $2,000 already appropriated by County commissioners court, was authorized.

Local People To Be Moved

Employes Of Texas-New Mexico Utilities Company Transferred To Plainview Where Offices To Be Concentrated

Half a dozen Lubbock residents, employes of the Texas-New Mexico Utilities company, will move to Plainview about April 1 to make that city their future homes, in a concentration of departments at the Texas headquarters of the company, Hubert L. Allen, general manager of the company, announced yesterday.

Those to be moved, include: L. C. McClurkin, general sales manager; H. B. Earthman, merchandise sales manager; W. L. (Pete) Pearson, power sales engineer; Alden Coffee, advertising manager; S. M. Cole, sales supervisor, and Miss Anna Bell Hickman, field economist and demonstration specialist.

Building Being Remodeled

What is known as the "road building department," of the company, handling the business in New Mexico, Central Texas and the South Plains, is to be concentrated in Plainview. A building there is being remodeled and will be ready by the last of the month.

Plainview is headquatrers for the company in the state. R. G. Tabor is chief operating officer and vice president, with offices at Plainview; A. A. Chamberlain is assistant secretary and treasurer. A. J. Whiting, Clovis, N. M., is a vice president looking after the New Mexico properties and Mr. Allen heads the Lubbock office.

Several months ago the New Mexico and the Texas companies were consolidated under one group, with general headquarters at Plainview for the operating department.

In addition to the department heads, several clerks and other employes will be moved. Last fall Glen Chase was transferred there.

Lightning Strikes Upward As Well As Down—It Bounces, New Mexico Physicist Says

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 11. (AP)—Lightning, said Dr. E. J. Workman today, strikes upward as well as down—in effect, bounces.

And, the University of New Mexico physicist told the Society of American Foresters here, the upward stroke in this sort of lightning, is usually the more severe.

Blazes A Trail

"Bouncing" lightning, Dr. Workman explained, originates in a single, relatively weak down stroke, or "path maker," which literally blazes a trail through the air.

The return stroke, generally of far greater intensity and speed, almost instantaneously flashes from ground to cloud, following in reverse precisely the same crooked path of ionized air which the first down stroke pursued.

Like Bouncing Ball

The effect is much like that of a bouncing ball, except that the lightning bounces back harder than it comes down.

The return stroke, in fact, may be a succession of flashes—Dr. Workman said as many as 40 have been counted—all occuring so swiftly that to the human eye they appear as a single, shivering bolt.

More Business Improvements Are Being Made In Whiteface

WHITEFACE, March 11. (Special)—Exacavation for the foundation of a theater and opening of a new merchandise store marks the changing tempo of business at Whiteface.

The new store was opened by C. S. Williams and has been stocked with dry goods, groceries and hardware. Williams came here from Ralls.
