Slight Shift Could Result In Landslide

Dewey's Chance Of Upset Rests Upon 20 States

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 6.—(Full Copyright, 1944). — The American Institute of Public Opinion's (Gallup Poll) 48-state survey shows President Franklin Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee for a fourth consecutive term, finishing with 51.5 per cent, and Gov. Tom Dewey, of New York, Republican nominee, with 48.5 per cent, of the civilian vote.

GALLUP

This margin of difference between the candidates in popular votes does not rule out the possibility of a substantial victory in electoral votes for Roosevelt. In fact, a shift to Roosevelt of only one per cent of the popular votes in just two states—New York and Illinois—could result in another Democratic sweep in electoral votes.

Twelve Are Pivotal States

Early election returns will be scanned most carefully in the group of 12 pivotal states where neither candidate is shown leading in today's poll by more than one per cent. The hopes of both candidates rest in these sates with 180 electoral votes. They are: Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, Oregon, Idaho, West Virginia, Delaware, New York, New Mexico, Illinois and Missouri.

Dewey's hope for victory lies in the fact that only a small shift in his favor in the pivotal states would give him enough electoral votes to win.

If the electoral votes for Roosevelt in his 18 sure states with 165 electoral votes are added to those in pivotal states where he leads by a slight margin, his total is 292 electoral votes, as compared to 239 for Dewey.

Big States Split

It takes 266 electoral votes to win. The final balloting in the poll showed Roosevelt gaining a slight lead in Pennsylvania, and Dewey retaining a slight margin in New York state. The accompanying table gives the Dewey figure in New York as 50 plus. In terms of fractions of a per cent his lead in the balloting was actually 50.5 per cent.

The institute's job is to report the facts as it finds them regarding the relative strength of the two candidates in each of the 48 separate state elections. In drawing conclusions from the facts presented, readers and political analysts will have to make their own allowance for two important factors:

First, military regulations do not permit polling of some 8,000,000 servicemen of voting age, of whom an estimated 3,000,000 will cast ballots, or about 6 per cent of the expected total vote for the country. This survey takes no account of their vote, which could add to the Roosevelt margin up to one percentage point in each state. Obviously this can be the deciding factor in a number of pivotal states near the 50-50 line.

Second, both the national and state-by-state percentages reported heer are subject to a margin

Germany Faces Catastrophe, Victory Sure, Says Stalin

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 6—Germany is "on the verge of catastrophe," Marshal Stalin declared tonight in an address in which he said Russia, the United States and Great Britain have "made plans for a secure peace."

It is not enough to win the war but we must make any future war impossible," the premier declared before a Moscow throng commemorating the 27th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

He hailed the invasion of France as the operation which enabled the Red army to drive the Germans from Russian soil and declared that 120 German divisions had been destroyed during the year.

Victory Is Undoubted

In a forty-two minute review Stalin proclaimed:

"The United Nations face undoubted victory. But a firm peace is not yet secured. New wars must be made impossible.

"The only way is to create a special organization of the United Nations to preserve peace and security, give it armed forces and make it responsible to apply them immediately to avert or suppress aggression.

"This is not like the League of Nations, without resources or powers, but will be a new, armed organization to avert new wars. It will be effective if the great powers which bore the brunt of the war continue to work unanimously and in concord—and only so."

Alliance Vitally Important

"The alliance of Russia, the United States and Great Britain is vitally important for all," Stalin said.

"If it has stood so far the stronger will it be at this final stage of the war.

"The firm front of the Allied nations has made plans for a secure peace. Some people speak of discord. There are differences of opinion. The amazing thing is not that differences exist but how small they are and how well they are solved peacefully."

120 Nazi Divisions Destroyed

He declared that Russia had destroyed 120 German divisions during the year and that "only 204 German and non-German divisions stand against us."

(At present German strength in the east, this indicated the destruction of 1,200,000 men leaving about 2,040,000 opposing the Red army from the Arctic to the Balkans).

"Thirty German divisions are

FDR Is Ahead In Four Polls

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Four of five nationwide polls show President Roosevelt slightly ahead of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, his Republican opponent, on election eve.

The final Gallup poll, released today, gives Roosevelt 51.5 per cent and Dewey 48.5 per cent of the civilian popular vote.

The Fortune Survey of Public Opinion gives President Roosevelt 53.6 per cent of the popular vote as compared to Dewey's 46.4 per cent. These figures were compiled from answers to "attitude questions."

A secret ballot poll conducted by the survey gave the President 52.5 per cent and Dewey 47.5 per cent.

Pathfinder Favors Dewey

Emil Hurja, associate publisher of Pathfinder magazine and who has been identified with Republican political activity this year, said a poll which he supervised in 28 counties in 15 states indicated Dewey's election by an electoral vote of 364 to 167 with the New York governor getting 52 per cent of the popular vote.

Other polls were unchanged from previous announcements. The Crossley poll gave the President 52 per cent of the major party vote. A newsweek magazine survey listed 249 electoral votes for Roosevelt and 247 for Dewey—Pennsylvania, listed as undecided, was not included.

The Crossley poll is the only one which attempts to estimate which way the service vote will go. Actual sampling of political

Prominent Oilman Denies FDR Support

HOUSTON, Nov. 6 (U.P.) — Glenn H. McCarthy, prominent Houston oilman, issued a flat denial today of reports he had paid the necessary $1,000 for membership in the One Thousand club, a Roosevelt-Truman supporting organization.

McCarthy, who declared his support has gone to the Texas Regulars, said he had learned that Massie Hunt, a Dallas oil man, paid the $1,000 in his (McCarthy's) name for some reason "that has not been explained to me."

TO SUSPEND BUSINESS

McALLEN, Nov. 6. (AP)—McAllen business will be suspended for one minute at 11 a.m. each day this week while residents offer silent prayers for the success of Allied armies.

Fighting Rages Near Budapest

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Furious fighting raged in the suburbs of shell-torn Budapest today as heavy Russian infantry forces joined armored vanguards which had penetrated the defenses of the Hungarian capital from the north and south on the east side of the Danube river.

The Germans said they had recaptured the East Prussian rail town of Goldap, 19 miles inside the Reich, after surrounding the place. The Russians at midnight reported violent German counterattacks staved off there.

Counterattack Started

The enemy said also that a counterattack had started south of Budapest and that the Hungarian capital was not yet under a major Russian assault. The Red army was declared regrouping and reinforcing for the final attempt.

The German radio announced early today that Soviet tanks crashed into the southern metropolitan limits, only two miles from the heart of the city, while a Bucharest broadcast said other Red army units, racing around the eastern edge of the capital, stormed the northern suburbs through Ujpest.

At the same time Red army troops threatened to gain a bridgehead across the eastern fork of the Danube, just south of Budapest, and cross on to narrow Csepel island which divides the river into two arms for 30 miles southward.

The city's German and Hungarian defenders were being captured at the rate of 1,000 a day in the powerful Russian encirclement, Moscow announced. Hungarian reports quoted by Bucharest indicated the bulk of the Nazi forces already were fleeing

Raids On Reich Hit New Peak

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP) — More than 1,800 American bombers and fighters attacked industrial targets in western Germany again today as the Allies carried the mightiest bombing siege of the war into the third straight day.

The main force from an armada of over 1,100 Eighth Air force Liberators and Fortresses went for oil refineries in the Hamburg-Harburg region. Others attacked industrial and rail objectives in the Ruhr valley.

The bombers were escorted by 700 Mustangs and Thunderbolts.

British Mosquito bombers sailed deep into Southwestern Germany and attacked the rail city of Stuttgart twice last night to keep the around-the-clock offensive going.

RAF Raids Ruhr

A force of probably more than 750 British Lancasters and Halifaxes, with fighter cover, hit the Reich a second shattering blow today, with Gelsenkirchen in the Ruhr their main objective.

Heavy bombers of the Italian-based U. S. 15th Air force dropped a heavy concentration of explosives on an important power station at Bolzano on the Brenner pass railroad in northern Italy.

Other American heavy bombers from the Mediterranean attacked military targets in the Vienna area and in northern Yugoslavia.

The Reich was battered over the weekend from the west and south by approximately 9,000 American and British planes—virtually unopposed by the German air force—and there was every indication the all-out air offensive was

Trap Is Sprung On Encircled Leyte Japs

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Big America 155 mm artillery shells crashed into Ormoc today, springing the trap on encircled Japanese on Leyte island and echoing the roar of Superfortress bombs poured on the great Singapore naval base and a vital Sumatra oil refinery.

Desperate fighting, punctuated by suicidal banzai charges that cost the lives of 700 Japanese, broke out on the edges of Leyte valley as 24th division troops marched the first two miles unopposed down the tortuous north road toward Ormoc.

Japanese war lords rushed reinforcements to the Bonin islands, their only remaining defenses along the southern approaches to Tokyo, and the Nippon radio reported Superforts made their second reconnaissance raid over the eastern coast of Honshu, main island of Japan.

70 Japs Planes Destroyed

Yank airmen destroyed at least 70 more Japanese planes and attacked 13 ships. Chinese armies reported they had halted a new invader thrust toward Liuchow, last advanced U. S. air center in Southeast China.

The hard and unexpected fighting in Central Leyte broke out when 96th division troops, led by grenadiers and flamethrowers, broke into Japanese positions in the foothills two miles west of Dagami. Swordwaving Japanese officers led 600 fanatical Nipponese in nighttime counterattacks. Five hundred were mowed down. The banzai chargers included recently arrived reinforcements. Suvivors were encircled.

Artillery Rakes Passes

Sixth army heavy artillery roared almost continuously, raking the mountain passes on the north road from Ormoc, already strew with plane-wrecked Japanese armor and trucks. To the south, Long Toms poured 400 rounds of high explosives into Nipponese concentrated in Ormoc, their port of reinforcement and escape.

Troops of the 24th division moved on from conquered Pinamopoan to Limon, 20 miles north of Ormoc. The 7th infantry divi-

'Finders-Keepers' Rule Costs Man Prize Of $1,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP) — Rudolph J. Wickel of Verona, N. J. today was ruefully aware of the finality of the "finders-keepers" adage which prevented him from collecting $1,000 uncovered during a Holyoke, Mass., buried treasure hunt.

Wickel was sent to Holyoke early yesterday by the "Truth or Consequences" radio program with directions for finding 1,000 silver dollars buried there in a vacant lot by Ralph Edwards, program director.

But 1,000 radio listeners, some with divining rods, one with a bulldozer, were there ahead of him. Joseph E. Roy, 23, of Holyoke, an honorably discharged war veteran, and his brother-in-law, 13-year-old Henry Martelle, found the money.

Buried treasure belongs to the finder. But Wickel, says NBC studios, will get a "consolation prize."

Greatest Total Vote In Texas History Seen

State Is Called Gently Ticking 'Time Bomb'

BY JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas today was a gently ticking political time-bomb set to go off tomorrow.

Pre-election campaigning virtually is over, and Texans today are taking stock of what they've seen and heard.

TO VOTE 'ER STRAIGHT

DALLAS, Nov. 6 (AP) — Four former Texas governors have indicated they would vote the straight Democratic ticket, State Democratic Chairman Harry L. Seay said last night.

Seay told the Dallas News he sent telegrams to six, and had received replies pledging support of the Democratic party from James V. Allred, Ross S. Sterling, Pat M. Neff and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson. He said Dan Moody and W. P. Hobby had not yet replied.

Tomorrow an explosion of votes, freely predicted by politicians as probably the greatest total in Texas history, will reveal their decision. Polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p.m. in all counties of 150,000 or more population; open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. in all others.

Major remaining speech will be by Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Tex) for the Texas Regulars in Dallas tonight. It will be the last of 25 appearances he and his hill-billy band had scheduled in Texas.

More Texans Qualified

State Democratic Chairman Harry L. Seay expressed the hope that Roosevelt Democrats will not heckle the senator in Dallas.

A quarter of a million more Texans are qualified to vote this year than in 1940, the last presidential election year. The state comptroller's official estimate is 1,567,143, based on paid poll taxes plus eligible voters exempt from poll taxes.

The unofficial vote tabulation for 1940 was 1,259,878. Roosevelt received 905,156, Wendell Willkie 211,707. The official vote was Roosevelt 840,151, Willkie 199,152, but the vote of 33 counties is missing from the official tabulation.

Ballots Are Large

The ballots this year will be as large as newspaper pages. They will carry elector slates of Demo-

Local Leaders Closing Drives

Lubbock county chairmen of the three political parties who had made the most intensive local campaign for ballots in Tuesday's general election this afternoon were winding up drives with this request:

"All should go to the polls; all should help decide issues that belong to them."

Agreeing in that request, they took tangents in separate statements.

Said L. C. Ellis of the Democrats:

"Reports continue very, very encouraging. I still believe the county will go 75 per cent for Roosevelt. George Mahon, representative of the 19th Texas congressional district, estimates his district will go 80 per cent for Roosevelt, he tells me. We still need campaign financial assistance, however, and invite contributions."

Klett Differs

E. L. Klett of the Texas Regulars said:

"I know it is hard to buck the New Deal political ring with 165,000 persons on the federal payroll in Texas alone, but I believe there is a large silent vote that will be cast against the C.I.O.-Communistic trend of the present administration, and that true Democrats and good Republicans and Independents will join in voting the Texas Regulars ticket. I haven't undertaken a survey, wouldn't know how to make one, and therefore have no basis for an estimate of the Lubbock county vote."

John L. Vaughan of the Republicans said:

"Reflecting the feeling of the

Close Finish Is Forecast; 'Silent Vote' Big Factor

Best Man To Speed Victory And Guide Peace Is Great Issue; Roosevelt And Dewey To Make Brief Speeches Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

The flood of argument—Republican and Democratic—that orators roar out to America every four years is about over for this time, and tomorrow the people will speak.

For 17 hours, over the various time zones of the country, an estimated 44,000,000 men and women (some guesses run up to 50,000,000) will decide finally whether they want Franklin D. Roosevelt to be president for a fourth term, or whether they want Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to take over the job.

The great issue — who is the better man to speed victory and guide the peace?

Appeal For Big Vote

Both the President who once was governor and the governor who would be president are expected to confine their remaining words largely to appeals for a big vote.

Mr. Roosevelt's last campaign appearance will be a brief address tonight on a program over the four major networks, from 9 to 10 p.m., CWT., under the sponsorship of the Democratic National committee.

His schedule today, as customary called for visits among communities neighboring his Hyde Park, N. Y., home, making talks here and there.

Dewey To Speak Tonight

Governor Dewey, after a 15-minute talk over the four networks tonight at 10 p.m., CWT., will go to New York City tomorrow where he and Mrs. Dewey will cast their votes.

Today, the emphasis and the worrying of the politicians centers on the "silent vote" — the people who keep their feelings to themselves as they enter the voting place.

The silent vote, always a factor to disturb those who run for office, is an unusually important matter in a race as close as national poll-takers figures this one to be. Most of the pollers calculated their percentages, and margins of error, and shied away from flat predictions.

Service Vote Is Factor

New factors to be weighed include the service vote — estimated at 3,462,000 and not to be counted in some instances for weeks. In Pennsylvania, for example, 35 electoral votes could

Tuesday's Weather To Be 'Not-So-Bad'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. (AP) —The weather bureau's forecasters tested all the winds that blow today for a final check-up on their guess that, generally, election day weather will be not-so-bad.

Preliminary estimates indicated this: East and Southeast —fair and dry, rather cold except in the South; from the Mississippi valley to the Rockies — some rain or snow, but not unusually cold; Pacific states — fair except for some rain in western Oregon and western Washington.

The weather bureau's forecasts for East and West Texas predicted a few scattered light showers in the southwest portion of East Texas and widely scattered showers throughout West Texas tomorrow.

It will be partly cloudy in East Texas, the weatherman said, while considerable cloudiness will prevail over West Texas.

Temperatures will be about the same as today in East Texas and "not quite so warm" in West Texas.

Fifteenth Nazi Army Halved

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 6. — Allied assaults threw the Nazis back across the Maas today along a 50-mile front to the sea. — marred only by two small enemy pockets. British field officers declared the German 15th army had been half destroyed in the fierce West Holland offensive that began two weeks ago.

As the British and Canadian armies drew up to the water barrier 16 miles south of Rotterdam on a potential new assault line, the British estimated that 65,000 Germans had been killed, captured and wounded while being driven northward from 25 to 15 miles.

Declaring Field Marshal Walther von Model's 15th army had suffered a "serious setback," British army spokesmen said British and Canadian troops had bagged 25,000 prisoners in the drive that opened north of Antwerp on Oct. 22. The campaign freed 1,200 square miles of Dutch territory and 570,000 Netherlanders. Already Allied dredges and minesweepers were celaring the west Schelde approach to Antwerp.

But on the Aachen front American infantry, running into effective enemy artillery fire, was pushed farther back at the edge of the Hurtgen forest, and temporarily lost possession of Vossenack, 13 miles southeast of Aachen and two miles northwest of Schmidt.

The Americans counterattacked, however, and pushed the fighting into the center of the town. Despite a spectacular air attack in which firebombs set acres of forest afire and showered enemy

Washington Sizzling; 300,000 Federal Clerks Worry About Jobs; Government Near Standstill

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—This is a nervous town today and I don't like it. Too dangerous.

Tomorrow night begins either the big exodus of New Dealers, or the back-slapping, I-told-you-so congratulations for President Roosevelt and Co. The election has cast its quadrennial spell over the capital, the wheels of government have slowed to a barely audible creak, and I nearly got socked in the nose on the bus this morning because a gent asked me if I heard an electioneering radio program.

I said I heard. He said did I like it? I said I did. You almost could hear his eyes pop. He got so sore his neck turned as purple as his language and I barely escaped with my life.

Clerks Worry About Jobs

That's the trouble. Three hundred thousand federal clerks have nothing much to do at the moment but worry about their jobs. The President is in Hyde Park getting ready to vote for you-know-who. Nearly all of Congress has gone back home to vote. So has many an administrative big shot and all over town you can hear the clerks talking:

Roosevelt can't possibly lose . . . Still Dewey seems to have a chance . . . Those polls . . . I wonder if I can get a job back at home . . . Don't worry . . . The election's in the bag . . . I doubt.

There's a peculiarly impotent tone to these conversations because the talkers, poor devils, can't vote. All they can do is argue until they can get high blood pressure, indigestion or hives.

Some Are Republicans

I presumed that everybody in Washington was a Democrat. It turns out that many a voteless clerk, particularly if he has a

Small Differences Important

For most opinion measurements ed here are subject to a margin of error is not a determining factor, but in a state election which is found hovering about the 50-50 line and where the winner takes all the electoral votes with a lead of only 50.1 per cent, then the smallest difference becomes crucial.

Below are the final survey figures of the civilian vote for each of the 48 states. President Roosevelt's gains in electoral votes in certain states result largely from the latest evidence of a large voting turnout.

(The Institute has made surveys in 115 national, local, and State elections in the last 9 years. Even with the normal 3 or 4% margin of error, these surveys have correctly indicated the winner 102 times for a batting average of .900. In 1940, the Institute's average state-by-state error was 2.6%).

Texas Regulars 12 Per Cent

The figures for Texas in today's table show the major party division of the vote, not including minor parties. The poll found the Texas Regulars receiving 12 per cent.

Roosevelt supporters will see in this poll encouragement in at least three respects: (1) Roosevelt is shown with a definite advantage in popular vote; (2) An increase of only 1 or 2 per cent in his national figure—to 52.5 or 53.5 per cent—could lift his electoral vote total as high as 432; (3) He starts with 165 sure electoral votes and therefore needs to add only 101 more to win. By carrying all the states in the pivotal column Roosevelt could win as many as 446 electoral votes.

Dewey followers will scan the state-by-state survey to confirm their hope for a political upset this year.

They will be heartened by the fact that there are more populous states near the 50-50 line than in any of the three previous elections in which Roosevelt was a presidential candidate. If the upward trend of Republican party strength, revealed in state and congressional elections of the last year, continues, all the close states will likely fall into the Dewey column. Moreover, the poll has found all during the present campaign that people planning to vote for Dewey show a much greater intensity of feeling about this election than Roosevelt voters, and say they are more certain to vote.

If the national popular vote figure given by the poll comes within 3 to 4 per cent of absolute accuracy in forecasting the popular vote of the winner, the Institute will consider that it has achieved a degree of accuracy highly satisfactory under present war-time polling conditions and restrictions.

Police made 22 Sunday arrests, mostly for drunkenness and disturbance and draft law investigations. Two youths, one 18, one 16, were transferred to county jail for investigation into pilfering of automobiles at a night spot. Officials said a Corpus Christi naval man and another witness "positively identified them."

Mrs. A. J. Paul of 218 Hub Homes complained to police $10 had been stolen from her by a 15-year-old youth she minutely described. Another juvenile was held by the sheriff's department for drunkenness.

Burglary of Economy mills early Sunday was reported to police by Floyd Bell. He said the place was entered by the front door after a lock had been smashed, and that $4.50 was taken from a candy machine, $5 from a desk.

N. G. McCalla, 53, of Gryder apartments on the Idalou highway, was taken to West Texas hospital for emergency examination after a headon collision of his automobile and a truck at 7:45 o'clock this morning in 1500-block Ave. H. C. T. Wisdom, 30, of 1936 Ave. E was driver of the truck, police said. None was injured at 5:30 o'clock when cars driven by Sam Hood, 28, of route 2 Lubbock and L. T. Walker of 1619 Twenty-second were in collision at Seventh and Ave. K. None was hurt in three collisions Sunday, investigators said. McCalla suffered a non-serious head injury, cuts and bruises, a physician said late this morning.

Miss Mae Murfee, poppy sale chairman of the American Legion auxiliary, today expressed her appreciation for the splendid work of her committee and to the public in general for the fine sale held Saturday. Nearly 9,000 poppies were sold, exceeding last year's sale by more than 2,000.

Not the Russians. They know that every Washingtonian will be listening to the election results and the party's been postponed until Nov. 8, when, presumably, Democrats and Republicans will be on speaking terms again.

crats, Republicans, Texas Regulars, Prohibition, Socialist and America First parties.

Democrats, Republicans, Regulars and the Prohibition party list full slates. Socialist and America First columns lead off with a partial list. Texas has 23 electors.

Republicans will have 10 candidates for state offices. They are offering no opponent for J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture, the Democratic nominee who has announced he is supporting the Regulars.

The Republicans have certified congressional candidates in 12 of the state's 21 districts. In the Fifth district, Charles D. Turner of Dallas, running as a Republican against Democratic nominee Hatton W. Sumners, is being termed a Jeffersonian Democrat.

Creager To Speak

In addition to O'Daniel's speech tonight R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman for Texas, scheduled a radio appeal over a Texas hookup to anti-Roosevelt voters to support Republican electors.

As Texans prepared to put in a 12-hour day voting tomorrow, the outlook was this:

If the Democrats win, 23 electoral votes will be cast for Roosevelt-Truman.

If the Republicans win, 23 electoral votes will be cast for Dewey-Bricker.

If the Regulars win, Merritt Gibson, campaign manager for the party, has said its 23 electors would wait for about a week to determine the complexion of the new national Congress, then bend all efforts toward the defeat of Roosevelt and Truman.

Almost forgotten in the hottest campaign since 1928, when Herbert Hoover defeated Al Smith to carry Texas into the Republican fold for the first time in history, are two amendments to the state constitution.

One would provide municipal pension systems, the second would alter the method of handling county fiscal matters.

Tomorrow's vote will climax five months of unprecedented political activity in Texas.

Started In May

It started in Austin, in May. The state convention was dominated by anti-Roosevelt Democrats who named delegates to the national convention. These delegates were instructed to demand the national party restore the two-thirds rule for nominations and condemn racial equality policies of the national administration.

Presidential electors were named and told they were free to vote for a Democrat other than the national nominee if the national convention failed to accede to their demands, or if the convention seated any other than those from the regular Texas state convention.

Pro-Roosevelt Democrats in Texas had bolted, held their own state convention and named delegates and electors. But an appeal to the Texas Supreme court upheld the anti-Roosevelt electors.

Both Delegations Seated

Both delegations went to Chicago where both were seated, each being given 50 per cent of the state's votes. Some of the anti-Roosevelt delegates did not remain in the convention. The two-thirds rule was not restored and nothing was done to satisfy the demands on racial policy. Major fireworks of the national convention were provided by the warring Texans.

Back in Texas, fifteen of the electors named by the May convention said they would not vote for Roosevelt-Truman, and mentioned Virginia's Democratic senator, Harry Byrd, as their choice. Pro-Roosevelt Democrats warned they would take control of the September convention in Dallas and replace any elector that would not support the national ticket.

The second state convention met Sept. 12 in Dallas. Two long roll calls were held, and the pro-Roosevelt Democrats won by a close margin.

Voting revealed that anti-Roosevelt strength was in the more populous cities and counties such as Dallas (Dallas), Fort Worth (Tarrant), Houston (Harris) and San Antonio (Bexar). Most smaller counties were pro-Roosevelt.

Texas Regulars Organized

The Texas Regulars party was organized by the anti-Roosevelt Democrats Sept. 25 after the Dallas convention controlled by pro-Roosevelt Democrats substituted Roosevelt-Truman elector candidates for the anti-Roosevelt electors.

This time the Supreme court of Texas upheld the pro-Roosevelt forces.

The Republicans early approached the Regulars in an effort to pool their strength to try to carry the state for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. The Regulars offered no candidate of their own, and as the campaign progressed mention of Byrd was less frequent.

Meetings were held between Republican leaders and some leaders of the Regulars. In at least one meeting proposals and counter proposals for a coalition were made and rejected by both sides.

Republicans Make Offer

Neither was willing to abandon its elector slate in favor of the other, although the Republicans did offer, according to the Texas Republican national committeeman, R. B. Creager, to replace 12 or 13 of the Republican elector-nominees with electors from the Regulars slate, leaving the label Republican.

The Regulars contended that if they, with Republican aid, could secure Texas' 23 electoral votes they would use them for some Democrat other than Roosevelt and throw the election of a president into the House of Representatives if the national vote was close enough.

Sen. O'Daniel was one of many speaking in Texas during the campaign. Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex) made several speeches opposing the administration. Republican Vice-Presidential Nominee Gov. John Bricker of Ohio, visited Texas.

The Democrats saw Vice-Presidential Nominee Harry Truman, and heard Speaker Sam Rayburn, Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex), and Oklahoma's Governor Robert Kerr.

Big Snowstorm Hits New England States

BERLIN, N. H., Nov. 6. (U.P.)—A heavy snowstorm swept northern New England today — with eight inches of snow already on the ground at some points—and town officials believed it would hamper the rural voting. Sleet and snow across Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, was apparently heaviest here where eight inches of snow covered roads and fields at 8:30 a.m. (CWT) and it still was snowing.

At Rumford, Me. the streets were covered with three inches of slush and motorists reported great difficulty in driving into town from isolated farm areas.

At Newport, Vt., there was five inches of snow on the ground and it still was snowing.

It snowed throughout the night at Concord, N. H., but the snow melted almost as fast as it fell.

Dewey Leads New York

The New York Daily News announced its poll of the home state of both candidates resulted in a virtual tie. Final weighted figures of the poll, the newspaper said, showed that Dewey "will carry the civilian vote by 50.9 per cent to Franklin D. Roosevelt's 49.1 per cent."

"This forecast definitely does not include the soldier vote," the Daily News said. "The unsampled war ballots can be the decisive factor in this photo-finish battle. If the poll and recheck are 100 per cent accurate, Roosevelt will need 63 per cent of an estimated 400,000 or more war ballots to overcome Dewey's civilian plurality."

District Grand Jury Is Recalled By Blair

Judge Dan Blair this morning recalled his 72nd district grand jury for investigation of 16 felony charges.

It had reported several bills in August. Charles R. Bacon is foreman.

Judge Blair called before the group for their recommendations three members of a recent petit jury who had told court officials the petit jury room under the eaves of the courthouse was deficient in conveniences normally needed by such a jury. Their recommendations it would be expected, could result in improvements to the room.

District Attorney Burton S. Burks was assisting the grand jury, before whom a new felony charge was placed, accusing B. F. York with passing a forged instrument. The charge was filed in the court of Walter Davies, justice of peace, for the grand jury.

Judge Blair had set for this afternoon the compensation action of J. B. Hughes against Commercial Standard Insurance company, and a jury was to report at 1:30 o'clock.

Service Votes Due To Be Big Factor

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. — For the first time since the Civil war, great numbers of fighting men will take part Tuesday in the election of a president of the United States.

There is every indication that their part will be a major one.

Somewhere between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 service men — and women of the auxiliary services —will vote by absentee ballot, according to estimates by state election officials. Forecasts of the total vote range from 39,500,000 to 50,000,000.

By comparison, members of the Union forces cast 150,635 of the 4,024,792 votes in the Civil war election of 1864. Abraham Lincoln received 116,887 of the soldier votes to Gen. George B. McClellan's 33,748.

Several States Affected

The soldier vote in that election did not affect the result in any of the northern states participating. In this election, however, officials of at least 11 states — with 206 of the 531 electoral votes — have expressed the opinion that it could be decisive.

Each of 10 other states, with 112 electoral votes among them, expects a soldier vote larger than the plurality it gave to President Roosevelt or to Wendell L. Willkie, his Republican opponent, in 1940.

Thus the soldier vote appears likely to be an important if not a decisive factor in determining whether the 318 electoral votes of 21 states will go to Roosevelt of to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. Either candidate needs 266 votes to win.

Deadline Varies

Although a few states will count soldier ballots received as late as Dec. 5, the deadline for receiving them in most states is election day, and the great majority already have been returned.

How the service men and women will vote is, of course, one of the great questions of the campaign. Four nationwide polls have predicted that civilian voters will be almost evenly divided between Dewey and Roosevelt, but sampling of servicemen's political opinion is prohibited by law.

Not Tabulated Separately

In most states the service vote will not be tabulated separately from the civilian vote, and thus the total number of servicemen and women voting for Roosevelt or Dewey never will be known.

Eleven states will count some or all of their military ballots after election day, giving rise to the possibility that, in the event of a very close election, the outcome might be in doubt for several days or even weeks.

If, for example, either candidate needed Pennsylvania's 35 electoral votes to win, the outcome might not be known until Nov. 22, when Pennsylvania begins to count its estimated 250,000 soldier votes.

Jury Helps Hotel Expel Champion Letter Writer

DETROIT, Nov. 6 (U.P.) — Sidney Metzenbaum, who thinks he may be the world champion letter-writer — in some subjects, anyway — found little appreciation of his talents at Detroit's Park Avenue Hotel.

Not that the hotel didn't believe that he was a champion. But it also thought he was a nusiance The hotel said that Metzenbaum established his record on hotel stationery, thus making for a stationery shortage among the guests and resultant discontent.

And, added the aggrieved hotel, no less than 600 of the letters, written on hotel stationery which no other guest got a chance to use, were to the Park Avenue management, complaining of the service.

However, the evils of the Park Avenue Hotel were just a side effort to Metzenbaum, who devoted his chief attention to protesting against capital punishment. He says he wrote 40,000 letters concerning this. He also has written thousands of missives condemning women working in beer gardens.

He writes to anybody—the president, congressmen, editors, and people who do things he doesn't approve of. For the first two years of his stay at the hotel he wrote in longhand. But the little 57-year-old Metzenbaum, who made a lot of money in real estate in Cleveland and retired to a life of letter-writing, needed more speed for more letters he wanted to write. So he learned to type.

Of course, he got lots of answers. He was pretty close to being a world champion in this, too. The hotel said this was even more of a nuisance, since their clerks were always knee-deep in mail to Metzenbaum.

The hotel told all of this to a jury and said it thought Metzenbaum should be evicted. The jury agreed after two minutes deliberation — which may be another world record.

Fifth Army Repulses Nazi Counterattacks

ROME, Nov. 6 (U.P.) — American troops of the Fifth army have repulsed another small scale German counterattack at Monte Belmonte, eight miles south of Bologna, and patrols have increased activity along the entire Italian front with improving weather, it was announced today.

Ground forces on both the Eighth and Fifth army fronts have been bogged down for nearly a week by heavy rains, but the clearing weather enabled both sides to reorganize for heavy action.

In the Adriatic sector, Eighth army troops were still fighting at the eastern side of Forli airfield, where the Germans are holding out in a few buildings.

The airfield was the last remaining obstacle blocking a drive from the south against Forli, a key point on the Bologna-Rimini highway 37 miles east of Bologna.

Sentiment For Peace Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. (U.P.)— On the first anniversary of the passage of the now-historic Connally peace resolution, Sen. Tom Connally, (D., Tex.), called today for "big public sentiment" to spur Congress toward realization of the peace goal.

"The Senate can make a resolution expressing its sentiment, as it has, but when it comes time to translate this into an effective structure for security, we must have an aroused public opinion behind us," he said in an interview. "That is the greatest task ahead."

Sentiment Reaffirmed

The chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, which must approve in advance any treaty sent to the Senate floor, reaffirmed the non-partisan sentiment of the peace resolution and said that, come what may after the elections, he will keep on working for the security goal.

"Anybody who believes in it will let nothing queer him," Connally said.

He hailed the "strides" made since Nov. 5, 1943, when the Senate went on record, 85 to 5 with a resolution to wage the war until complete victory, to cooperate in securing a just peace, and to join in an international organization with authority to prevent aggression.

Moscow Trip Reviewed

He reviewed Secretary of State Cordell Hull's mission to Moscow last October and the resultant Moscow declaration of Oct. 30, a paragraph of which the Senate incorporated in the Connally resolution; the Dumbarton Oaks preliminary agreement of the big powers on a draft organization; and the increasing awareness in this country of the need for it.

Connally expects two stumbling blocks—the question of allowing one of the Big Five to vote in case of its own aggression and the authority delegated by Congress to the American representative—soon to be cleared out of the picture.

South To Be Big Losers If GOPs Get Chance To Organize House

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — If Republicans elect enough members to organize the House of Representatives next January, the south will be the biggest loser in congressional prestige. The east will be the big winner.

Although numbering only about one-fourth of the House membership, southern and border-state Democrats now hold almost two-thirds of the House committee chairmanships. They would lose them all if the Republicans organize the House for the first time since President Roosevelt took office.

Not only would they have to give up their chairmanships, obtained under the seniority rule during the past 12 years, but they would lose two choice elective jobs—chief clerk and speaker.

Sam Rayburn of Texas, now speaker, would step down in favor of a Republican, Joe Martin of Massachusetts, assuming Martin is reelected. Rayburn would become minority leader, the post now held by Martin.

The present chief clerk, South Trimble of Kentucky, undoubtedly would give way to a Republican.

Six of the nine major House committees now are headed by southern or border-state Democrats. Of the 38 minor committees, 22 chairmen are from southern or border states.

Major Committee Changes

Here's what the major committee line-up would be if the Republicans win and the currently ranking Republican members are relected:

AGRICULTURE: John W. Flannagan of Virginia would be succeeded as chairman by Clifford R. Hope of Kansas.

APPROPRIATIONS: Clarence Cannon of Missouri would give way to John Taber of New York.

BANKING AND CURRENCY: Brent Spence of Kentucky would be replaced by Jesse P. Wolcott of Michigan.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS: Sol Bloom of New York would turn over the gavel to Charles A. Eaton of New Jersey.

INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE: Clarence F. Lee of California would step down for Charles A. Wolverton of New Jersey.

Kentuckian Would Yield

MILITARY AFFAIRS: Andrew J. May of Kentucky would yield to Walter G. Andrews of New York.

NAVAL AFFAIR: Carl Vinson of Georgia would turn over the helm to Melvin J. Maas of Minnesota.

RULES: Adolph J. Sabath of Illinois would be succeeded by Hamilton Fish of New York.

WAYS AND MEANS: Robert L. Doughton of North Carolina would be replaced by Harold T. Knutson of Minnesota.

Six of the seven special House committees now are headed by Democrats. Only one, Martin Dies of Texas, is not seeking reelection. Should the Dies committee be continued by the next Congress, and Republicans organize the House, J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey would be its chairman.

Others To Be Replaced

Leonard W. Hall of New York would replace Wright Patman of Texas as head of the Committee on Small Business; Richard B. Wigglesworth of Massachusetts would succeed Clarence F. Lea of California on the committee investigating the Federal Communications Commission; Fred A. Hartley of New Jersey would take over from Howard Smith of Virginia on the Postwar Military ing executive agencies; Hamilton Fish of New York would succeed William M. Colmer of Mississippi on the Postwar Economic Policy Committee; James M. Wadsworth of New York would take over from Clifton A. Woodrum of Virginai on the Postwar Military Policy Committee, and August J. Andresen of Minnesota would succeed Otis Bland of Virginia as head of the Committee on Conservation of Wildlife Resources.

Republicans lost control during the 72nd Congress, when vacancies helped the Democrats to organize. In the 75th Congress, Republicans reached an all-time low for House seats under the 435-seat arrangement in effect 30 years. The present line-up is 218 Democrats, 212 Republicans, four minor party members and four vacancies.

Italy Gets Tons Of Supplies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP) — The Allied military commission in Italy reported today that by the end of this year 2,300,000 tons of food and other supplies will have been furnished to war stricken civilians.

Describing details of a United Nations program, the report estimated an expenditure of more than $200,000,000 was represented

Supply Costs Mount

In a memorandum made public by the War department, Brig. Gen. William O. Dwyer, vice president in charge of the economic section of the Allied commission, placed at $103,205,000 the value of supplies shipped by the United Nations to Italy up to July 1 of this year — in the first year of Allied occupation. Including shipping, this represented a cost of $155,000,000.

General Dwyer said that, in addition, the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration (UNRRA) had budgeted $50,000,000 for its separate operations in Italy, principally for welfare work among children and mothers and medical supplies.

Food has made up the bulk of the relief shipments, accounting for $86,073,000 up to July 1. Other items included clothing, $8,095,000; medical and sanitary, $2,535,000; agricultural, $2,953,000, and coal $2,500,000.

Lufkin Out To Cinch 'First' In Bond Sale

LUFKIN, Nov. 6 (AP) — The super-war-bond-conscious citizens of Lufkin and Angelina county aren't taking any chances on being scooped as the first city and county in Texas to raise their Sixth War Bond quota.

From the first drive to the fifth, they have subscribed more than $10,000,000 in one-day drives over the Lufkin radio station. All programs have been cancelled for the day and local "bond salesmen" have taken over the mike in a contest to see who can sell the most bonds.

Heretofore, bond sales have been held on the day the national drive opens, and the quota has been reached before midnight.

But they've got a good reason for jumping the gun this time. They say that last year, Texarkana citizens worked for nearly a month to raise their quota so they could be the first in the state and nation.

So this time, the Angelina county campaign for $1,115,000 will be held on Nov. 15, a week before the nationwide drive begins.

Father Prepares Lot For Sergeant-Son's Post-War House

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 6 (U.P.) — Sergeant Harry Sackriter, Jr., somewhere in the Southwest Pacific at present, has a landscaped lot waiting for him when he returns from the wars. All he has to do is supply the house.

The sergeant plans to do this, and his father, Harry, Sr., who knows how long it takes to develop the grounds after a house is built, took the landscaping chore upon himself.

He planted more than 30 trees and 80 shrubs on the site of the planned new home, then added an outdoor fireplace and a picnic table.

Then Sackriter, Sr., had the lot photographed, mounted a miniature model of a postwar home on the picture, and sent it to his son. The son and his buddies have spent many hours poring over the photograph and planning future good times in "El Rancho Sacko."

Also awaiting the sergeant is a large scrapbook in which his father has pasted mementoes of places his son has visited. It includes a large map of the Pacific, recording the places in which he has served in the field artillery, signatures of boy friends and pictures of going-away parties given in his honor before he was inducted at Chicago on March 19, 1941.

'Magic Insecticide' Sprayed Over All Of Pacific Island

BY CAPTS. EARL J. WILSON AND JAMES A. KELLY, USMC
Distributed By Associated Press

ON A PACIFIC ISAND—For the first time in medical history, an entire island is being sprayed with DDT, the magic insecticide.

A Marine Corps torpedo bomber, especially rigged, is systematically ridding the island of disease-carrying insects which, in the past, have claimed more casualties than bullets in the Pacific war.

Twenty-two hours after the first planes landed on this battered airfield, a nearly invisible mist of a DDT solution was settling over the rubble-strewn island and its mosquito-breeding mangrove swamps.

Results already have proved so successful that medical men here think that in future landings similarly equipped planes may rid beachheads of insect-borne disease even before D-day.

The spray, a mixture of DDT in oil, is said to kill every insect on contact.

DDT also has been used here in great quantities on more than 7,000 corpses. It is being used, too, in hand sprays around mess halls and latrines.

Canning Plant Is Destroyed By Fire

TYLER, Nov. 6 (AP) — Thirty thousand cases of canned peas, blackberries and sweet potatoes went up in flames at Lindale, Tex., yesterday.

The Lee Dingee, Inc., canning plant was destroyed by the second serious fire in recent weeks at Lindale. Several business buildings were destroyed in a fire two months ago.

Lee Mallory, plant superintendent, was unable to estimate the loss last night, he said.

Servicemen Building Up Neat Savings Through Allotments

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — Servicemen are salting away a lot of their hard-earned money in war bonds.

They're doing it by allotments—having so much deducted from each month's pay — or buying with cash.

The monthly investments now: Soldiers, about $46,000,000; Navy men, about $13,000,000.

So far the most popular allotment has been $6.25. Taken monthly from a man's pay, in three months full payment of $18.75 has been made for a $25 bond.

$10 "GI" Bonds Sold

Now there is a $10 "G.I." bond for servicemen, issued Aug. 1. They can buy it for $7.50. It has to be in one payment.

The bond purchases do double duty:

They help servicemen save money for after the war; and they help siphon off an overseas serviceman's loose cash.

With less loose cash, servicemen have less chance to bid up prices in freed or occupied territory. This helps prevent inflation there.

Bond purchases are only part of the money coming out of a serviceman's pay. Allotments also are made for dependents at home, for life insurance, and for a special soldiers' deposit fund.

Fund Is Savings Account

That deposit fund is a savings account in which servicemen put their money either through allotments or by direct cash payments.

In the latter case they take their money to their finance officer who keeps the accounts and credits them with their deposits.

This is the way the Army—used as an example here — sells bonds:

Effort is made to get the men interested in buying bonds before they leave the country.

Sign Allotment Card

If they want the bonds bought out of their monthly pay, they sign an allotment card, then the regular deductions are made.

If the serviceman still is in this country when payment on a bond is completed, it is sent to him or to anyone he designates.

Bonds are not sent out of the country. So if he is overseas when payment is finished, the bond is sent either to some person he designates in this country or is held for him in a Federal Reserve bank.

Thousands Of U. S. Soldiers Aided By Medical Science

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 — Sixty thousand American soldiers are alive who would have died since Pearl Harbor if they had been wounded in World war One.

An additional 9,000, who would not have died, but who would have been armless, legless or otherwise maimed wrecks, are whole men, walking, talking and leading their normal lives.

These reports of the advances of war medicine were given today by Major General Norman T. Kirk, surgeon general of the Army, in a report to the association of military surgeons of the United States.

Nerve Surgery Important

The men whose bodies are whole were made so by surgical techniques that are new or improved over the World war One days. The repairs are to arms, legs, and most bones, including face, head and jaws. Nerve surgery especially has saved men from a life or shriveled and twisted muscles.

Twelve thousand wounded men a week, equivalent to 52 divisions a year, are being returned to fighting condition from Army hospitals in the United States alone.

This report was made by Col. Augustus Thorndike, director, reconditioning consultants division, office of the surgeon general.

Old Maid Asks OPA To Help Find Mate

DALLAS, Nov. 6 (U.P.) — If you don't believe it's so that people are funny, you should spend a day with Charles A. Bowman, official in charge of the Dallas information bureau of the Office of Price Administration.

Bowman says he has heard and seen everything on his job.

There was a man who called up to get a priority to build a house on his back lot. He explained his wife wouldn't let him live with her.

And there was the woman who asked the bureau to send her a list of men.

"I've been thinking it over," she said. "I've been an old maid schoolteacher for the last forty years and I want to get married. I've saved plenty of money and have a home and I want you to give me the names of a lot of men."

NO CHAMPAGNE SHORTAGE

NEW YORK — Enough champagne to christen a whole fleet has been sold at $5 a bottle by the U. S. customs here. There was only one restriction—for consumption, not resale. The champagne came from Grace Line ships now in navy service.

DOUBLE

PUEBLO, Colo. — James Pitcock aimed at a buck. The bullet passed cleanly through the buck's ribs, and then broke the neck of a doe standing on the other side. Both animals died instantly.

That wasn't all of Pitcock's luck, either. Besides having a regular game permit, he was carrying a special license allowing him to hunt doe.

MILADY'S CHOICE

CHICAGO.—Nylon hosiery was the winner in a "What I Want Most" poll conducted by the Chicago Herald-American over a period of six weeks.

Of more than 300,000 ballots cast for favorite items which are hard to get in wartime, nylons were first choice of 24,200 voters.

SLOW BILLING

WAUKEGAN, Ill. — A statement which Dr. J. Ewatter mailed to a patient in Waukegan on April 30, 1941, bearing the required 2-cent stamp, came back yesterday—undelivered because of insufficient postage.

Dr. Walter said he didn't need to re-mail the statement—the bill long ago was paid—but he was puzzled by the return of the mail since the intracity first class postal rate increase to 3 cents did not go into effect until last March—almost three years after he sent out the statement.

DE-HOUSED

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — When L. L. Mauldin returned from a West coast war job, he found his house had been stolen.

Not at all, said the district attorney. The house couldn't be stolen because New Mexico has no such statute regarding houses. Hence common law would prevail. Hence, the house would be considered real estate, and since real estate is not considered movable, the house-lugging-away can't be considered theft.

Hence—

AND WELL WORTH IT

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — Rep. Clarence Cannon has turned in his itemized statement to Missouri's secretary of state showing the money he spent to gain Democratic renomination to Congress from the Ninth district.

He said he spent six cents—for postage.

Russia occupies one-sixth of the dry surface of the earth, being eclipsed in this respect only by the British Empire.

VOTE FOR THE

There's only one way to do it!... Republicans!... Independents!... Remember, we vote BY STATES. We MUST WIN in Texas—or every single vote we cast in Texas is LOST! Regular Democrats—a half million strong—are going to vote against Roosevelt and the New Deal. To kick out Communism—the Hillmans and Browders and Madame Perkinses and Harold Ickeses and the big city political bosses from the Democratic Party. Republicans and Independents—join with us! Your votes alone aren't enough to win—but together we smash the New Deal in Texas—and Texas' electoral vote will probably decide the whole election! If you're really for Dewey, vote for the Texas Regulars November 7. If you're against Communism—if you love America just as it is—vote for the Texas Regulars! And spread the word!

Army, Notre Dame To Clash Saturday

Many Top Games On Week's Slate

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. (AP)—Saturday is the twenty-sixth anniversary of Armistice day but there will be no cessation of football hostilities.

That is the day Army is booked with Notre Dame in Yankee stadium, Auburn opposes Mississippi State, Duke takes on Wake Forest, Tulane tangles with Georgia Tech, Illinois invades Michigan, Oklahoma decides the Big Six title with Missouri, UCLA and California collide in a repeat contest, Randolph field works out against Southwest Louisiana and Arkansas meets Rice.

Notre Dame, shackled by Navy's heavy line Saturday in a 32 to 13 defeat, probably will enter the Army game, for which all seats were sold in August, as the underdog.

Cadets After Revenge

The Cadets, who flattened Villanova in their final tuneup by an 83 to 0 score while their head coach and both first string fullbacks were absent, haven't scored against Notre Dame since 1938 and haven't triumphed in the series with the South Bend Ramblers since 1931.

This year, however, the Cadets are after revenge. They have rolled over six rivals at exactly a point a minute clip and have permitted only three touchdowns to be registered against them. A week ago they were rated the No. 1 team in the land.

Mississippi State, leader in the Southeast circuit since its 26 to 0 verdict over Kentucky, and twice-beaten Auburn, winner by a 57 to 0 score over Presbyterian in its latest outing, are booked at Birmingham while Georgia Tech, pushed from the clean slate list by Duke, 19 to 13, bangs into Tulane, loser only to Notre Dame.

Lake Forest Invades Durham

Wake Forest, unbeaten leader of the Southern loop, invades Durham where Duke found the winning combination Saturday against Tech.

Illinois, idle Saturday, moves against Michigan in an important Big Ten fray just a week after the Wolverines deflated Pennsylvania, 41 to 19.

Ohio State, undisputed leader in the Big Ten and a 21 to 7 winner of Indiana, takes on oft-beaten Pittsburgh and rejuvenated Purdue, 35 to 0 winner from Wisconsin, takes on Northwestern, held to a 14 to 14 tie by Minnesota.

Oklahoma, which continued its domination of Iowa State with a 12 to 7 victory, has a chance to settle the Big Six title problems by downing Missouri. The Tigers dropped Michigan State off the unbeaten list, 13 to 7, with a last period touchdown.

Randolph Has Breather

Randolph field, with what is probably the greatest team in college circles today, follows its 63 to 0 conquest of North Texas Aggies by taking on Maxwell field at San Antonio Saturday.

Tulsa, whipped by Iowa Pre-Flight in a 47 to 27 scoring spree, has Southwestern of Texas as its guests while the Seahawks wait until Sunday to play the unbeaten Bunker Hill Naval station.

Navy tosses its stonewall defense against Cornell, a 25 to 7 victor over Columbia. The Lions meet Penn in an Ivy league game. Unbeaten Yale, extended to whip Darthmouth by a 6 to 0 edge, takes on Brown, a 20 to 0 victim of Coast Guard academy.

In the Far West California visits UCLA and Washington is host to the powerful Fourth Air force outfit. The California-UCLA fray is the second of the year, the Bears winning the first 6 to 0 on Sept. 30.

Chicago Bears Upset Green Bay, 21-0; Sid Luckman Stars

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (U.P.)—Not in the memory of the oldest living National league football fan has there been a time when a victory by the Chicago Bears over anybody could be classed as the season's top upset, but that was exactly the situation today after their triumph over the Green Bay Packers, 21 to 0.

When the season began, the world champion Bears had suffered loss of many of their top stars and with Green Bay getting off to a fast start, it appeared that the Packers were destined to inherit the mantle of professional greatness and until yesterday that was the way it developed.

When they met at Chicago yesterday, the Packers were heavy favorites but that didn't make any difference to Ensign Sid Luckman, the Bears' master passer and strategist. On shore leave from his ship in the Maritime service, Luckman himself was the measure of difference. He scored the first touchdown in the first period on a center sneak after setting up the score with a pair of passes good for 36 yards. Within three minutes in the third period he tossed touchdown passes of 31 yards to Ray McLean and 25 yards to George Wilson.

Don Hutson Held Scoreless

It was the first time in 66 games that Green Bay had failed to score in league competition. Moreover, Don Hutson, Green Bay's brilliant end and pass receiver, was held scoreless for the first time in 41 games.

The co-leaders in the eastern division, Washington and Philadelphia maintained their pace with victories, but neither got by as easily as expected. The Redskins had to hold off a desperate fourth period pass barrage by the Cleveland Rams to win 14 to 10, while the Philadelphia Eagles found the Brooklyn Tigers, under new coaching, a hard driving eleven, and were hard pressed to win 21 to 7.

The New York Giants gained an easy 31 to 0 victory over the Boston Yanks.

The Detroit Lions handed the futile Pittsburgh Steeler-Chicago Cardinal amalgamation its sixth straight defeat, 27 to 6.

Female dogs have a finer sense of responsibility than do males, hence they are used as leaders of dog teams in the Far North.

Loss To Tech Disturbs Rice

Raiders To Meet T.C.U. Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

Next Saturday will be Armistice day in name only for four Southwest conference teams which will be battling for both ends of the conference standings.

Rice whipped last week by a fast stepping Texas Tech squad that outplayed and outscored the Owls 13-7, will meet Arkansas at Fayetteville.

The Razorbacks are back in the running with a 7-6 victory over Texas A. & M. and will be a definite threat to the Owls now holding top spot on the conference title race standings.

Ponies, Aggies To Clash

The other conference battle Saturday will be Southern Methodist against the Texas Aggies at Dallas. The SMU Mustangs were soundly trounced 34-7 at Austin last week-end by the rejuvenated Texas university Longhorns.

The Aggies, beaten by Arkansas last week, hold cellar honors jointly with SMU, each having last two conference games this season. Neither has won a conference game. The game Saturday will give one team the unwanted but unchallenged title of low man on the totem pole.

The other members play non-conference teams. In the only intersectional clash of the week Texas will meet the potent Oklahoma A. and M. team at Austin. Texas Christian, second in conference standings with one victory, one tie and no defeats, will meet the team which toppled the conference leader, TCU plays Texas Tech at Fort Worth and is none too happy about it.

Frogs Show Razzle-Dazzle

Last weekend the TCU Horned Frogs did the conference proud in an intersectional game at Savannah, Ga., downing Chatham field 19-7 in a game that featured old-time razzle-dazzle. Georgia fans gasped at 44-yard passes and tricky runs.

Top game to watch will be the Rice-Arkansas tilt at Fayetteville. Not only will the game have an important bearing on the conference race, but it will match two top teams which apparently use different rule books on how to play football.

Arkansas doesn't go in for gridiron hi-jinks, but is content to play according to Hoyle and let the opposition bat its brains out with razzle-dazzle that sometimes backfires. Rice plays a faster, trickier game and depends on shaking young Walmsley loose on sensational runs to score.

Schlinkman Praised

After last week, when Rice was upset by Walter Schlinkman and ten friends from Texas Tech, they're uneasy down Houston way.

Schlinkman, hailed by many as the best fullback in Texas, lived up to pre-game publicity by scoring all of Tech's points, gaining 88 yards running with the ball, and turning in a grand defensive job.

Texas showed a startling reversal in form by smashing the Mustangs. Despite injuries and naval trainee losses, the Longhorns toyed with their opponents. Bobby Layne, the boy wonder of Texas U., was injured but despite that turned in one touchdown, passed for another, and set up a third with his passes and runs. He also kicked two extra points.

Used Student Manager

TCU also was slightly under par, riddled by naval transfers and losses to scholastic ineligibility, but used everyone, including the student manager, to score three times in the second period. Coach Dutch Meyer took only 22 players to Savannah, and the student manager came in handy.

Hero of the Arkansas victory over the Aggies was big Mike Schumchyk who had never played football before he came to college. He scored the first touchdown the Razorbacks have scored against the Aggies in six years.

If Arkansas downs Rice, it will put the TCU Frogs in top spot. And unless SMU and the Aggies tie, one will be undoubted cellar holder-downer after Saturday's game.

Attack Will Use Best Features Of Both

Single Wing, T Formation Due To Produce New Type Offense

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. (U.P.)—Commenting upon the victory of Navy's single wing over Notre Dame's "T", Coach Lou Little of Columbia predicted today that wartime football will produce a new, explosive offense, combining the best features of both formations.

"What they'll call this offense, I don't know; but it's coming," said Little, who is chairman of the coaches rules committee and one of the most respected "brain guys" in the sport.

He continued, "football has progressed rapidly during the past 20 years, and particularly during the past 10, both on the offense and defense; but it's the type of sport that still has limitless possibilities for development.

Experimenting Under Way

"The progress already made has resulted from constant experimenting; but never has the game witnessed such concentrated, nationwide experimenting as that which was virtually forced upon coaches by current wartime conditions — depleted squads, some green candidates who did not even play in high school, shortened practice sessions, and transfers during the season. For example, I changed from the single wing to the T at Columbia this season because my backs averaged about 150 pounds, and a few of the boys never had played before. I didn't have time to ground them in single-wing spinners, etc., and I note that Michigan and some other schools are using both the single wing and the T formations."

Little, a bespectacled chap who is coaching his 15th season at Columbia, emphasized that no formation can be successful without the players to execute it. However, he said, it is generally conceded now that the single wing and the T are the better. Both apparently provide more outside strength than other formations, like the double wing and semi-punt.

Coaches Racking Brains

He continued, "right now coaches everywhere are racking their brains, trying to evolve an attack that will combine the deceptive power of the single wing with the lightning strike and quick-opening bucks of the 'T'. They are experimenting—experimenting—experimenting. I am doing the same. Some one will come up with the answer. I am sure, within the next year or two. It will be an important stride in the game's offense."

Little smiled wryly and said he could have used the new "X" formation this season—had it been discovered. His Columbia Lions won their first two games, against Union and Syracuse; but then lost the next three to Yale, Colgate and Cornell.

He concluded, "If you figure out the new combination this week, be sure to let me know. We play my old alma mater, Pennsylvania, Saturday; and I would like——."

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 6 (AP) — An Orange bowl bid may go to the winner of the Duke-Wake Forest football game Saturday, scheduled chairman C. F. (Jack) Baldwin indicated today.

Duke bounced back into the running by defeating Georgia Tech Saturday. Other teams under consideration for the New Year's day classic include Mississippi State, Auburn, Alabama and Tennessee in the south; Holy Cross in the East, and Texas, T. C. U., Tulsa, Rice and Oklahoma A. & M. in the Southwest.

Schroeder And Stuart Win

Trout, Marshall Lose Golf Match

The deft putter of Pro Herb Schroeder came to life on the final four holes Sunday afternoon to give him and S/Sgt. Robert L. Stuart a one-up victory over Chick Trout and Raymond Marshall at Lubbock country club.

The professional, who recently came here from Dallas, had his putts on the lip of the cup all afternoon, many of them coming disappointingly close. He put together 37 strokes for the front nine and 33 on the way home for a one-under 70.

Marshall, Trout Lead Early

The story was different on the first 14 holes, Marshall and Trout, winner of the recent Country club tournament, were out front from the time Trout took the first hole with a par 4 and Marshall made it two-up with a birdie three at No. 4, sinking a 30-foot putt from the edge of the green.

Stuart, who lives in Henderson and is station at Lubbock Army Air field, and Schroeder each picked up a birdie 3 on No. 6, but saw the Marshall-Trout combine push their margin to two strokes with two pars on the eighth.

Schroeder parred No. 12 for a win, but Trout poked down a birdie putt to win the fourteenth. Then the club professional took matters into hand.

He had threes on each of the last four holes, winning all except one with birdies. The 17th was halved with four threes.

Ryder Cup Golf Star Given Army Position

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (U.P.) — Lt. Horton Smith, former Ryder cup golf star from Joplin, Mo., now with the Army Air forces, has been assigned to duty with the athletic branch of the Army special services division, the War department revealed today.

Smith will assist in organization of special athletic projects for entertainment of service men overseas.

Amarillo-Plainview Game Is Featured

Sunset Due For District Title

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The first district champion in Texas schoolboy football is due to be crowned this week. There also are highly important battles in at least three other aceas.

Sunset, boasting a three-game lead over second place Crozier Tech, has only to tie or win from North Dallas Friday night to become the champion of the Dallas district. The undefeated, untied and unscored on Bisons should turn this trick with a minimum of trouble.

There's a major battle on the schedule in the Panhandle Saturday when Amarillo's Golden Sandies and Plainview decide first place. Each is undefeated in conference play but Amarillo is a prohibitive favorite.

Brownwood, Breckenridge Tied

Brownwood and Breckenridge, tied for the lead in district 9, will scrap it out Saturday, with Breckenridge an overwhelming choice.

Longview and Tyler clash Friday in district 11 and the winner will be tied with Marshall for the lead, provided Marshall beats Texarkana, which is considered a foregone conclusion since Texarkana hasn't won a game all season and has scored only six points while Marshall is among the state's top dozen teams.

There are 49 conference games on the week's schedule as all districts except No. 4, where Austin (El Paso) is the unbeaten leader, see title play.

Eight Perfect Records

The undefeated, untied list in the state rests at eight, Sweetwater having been removed last week by Abilene 32-20. Of the remaining outfits with unsullied records, Kerrville appears in for the toughest week-end in trying to keep its high position. The Antlers play Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio. This game also will cut the district leaders down to one team — Austin — should Kerrville lose. Austin and Kerrville are both among the undefeated and untied. Others are North Side (Fort Worth), Paschal (Fort Worth), Sunset, Waco, Tyler and Goose Creek.

Tyler may also find the going a shade rough with the Longview Lobos although the Lions will be favored to come through. Waco meets a dangerous Bryan outfit and North Side plays an Amon Carter-Riverside team able to hold strong Paschal to a two-point victory.

The individual scoring race found only one point separating the two state leaders today. Perry Samuels, the Thomas Jefferson speedster, got a touchdown against Austin to run his total to 103 points. H. J. Shands, Lufkin halfback, made two touchdowns against Huntsville to bring his total to 102.

DOBBS COMPLETES SIX

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 6 (AP) — Glenn Dobbs, star halfback on the Second Air force team, completed six of 11 passes against the Amarillo Army Air field Sunday to bring his season total to 51 completions in 86 attempts.

The trolley car, incandescent lamp, automobile and cash register were among inventions patented in 1880.

Vote on November 7th for

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT (HJR18)

Texas counties today must operate under tax provisions set up when the State Constitution was adopted. It was amended last in 1906 . . . Conditions and demands have changed vastly since that time.

REMEDY IS AVAILABLE

The 1943 Texas Legislature, without one dissenting vote, approved a tax reallocation amendment to our State Constitution . . . It would permit county officials, after a vote of its citizens, to readjust tax levies to meet today's new demands.

HERE IS LOCAL SELF GOVERNMENT

The amendment is not binding on any county. It can not become effective until after any given county's tax payers have so authorized by special election . . . The present limit of 80c per $100 is retained.

INCREASED VALUATION PREVENTED

Many Texas counties face the necessity of increased revenue for imperative county government functions . . . unless readjustment of tax levies is obtained through this amendment, the only alternative is an increase in rendition value of taxable property.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—

The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 500 words will be considered for publication, and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them).

SOUND ADVICE

Dear Plainsman: What I have to say is fairly obvious no doubt, when one reflects a little; but I believe that it is highly important and that it desperately needs saying at this time. It will not be satisfactory to my Republican friends, nor my Democratic friends, nor my Texas Regular friends. (Gosh, how many does that leave me? Oh well, I'm not running for office).

There is, for instance, this fact about the arguments of the Republicans, the Democrats, and the Texas Regulars — a fact which is fairly obvious, on reflection, but somewhat pitiful and ironic: At least 90 percent of these arguments, if not more, are valid, sound and unanswerable in detail. The difficulty is simply that they do not tell the whole story. The conscientious independent, like myself, must strike a balance between the good and the bad, of which there is plenty on all sides.

Now, how I personally decide to vote is thoroughly unimportant. But one point of which I am morally certain is that the worker for either side is not being at all fair if he allows the heat of the moment to blind him to the fact that the other side has arguments which are both strong and numerous. The very 50-50 position of the American people bears out this conclusion, though of course it does not prove it. Lawyers of all people should realize this fact most of all; and I suspect that they do, though some of them may have forgotten it momentarily.

So what? Does this mean that the zealots should quit campaigning? Of course not. But it does emphatically mean that when the returns are in and tempers have returned to normal, the losers should realize that the nation may pull through, after all, to the next election. And it might be a good idea to agree in advance that all those who try to prove by blocking tactics that the election should really have gone otherwise are simply not being good Americans.

Very truly yours,
R. S. Underwood,
Lubbock.

Foul Play Suspected After Body Is Found

TEMPLE, Nov. 6 (U.P.) — Texas rangers were investigating today the possibility of foul play after the body of Charles White of Bartlett, Tex., a civilian worker at North Camp Hood, was found near the policed gate of the camp late yesterday just outside the city limits of Killeen.

Search began earlier in the day after his family revealed to Temple police his failure to return Saturday night for his usual weekend at home. White's car was found late yesterday abandoned between North and South Camp Hood on the military reservation.

It would be interesting to know how many Texans will vote "against" presidential electors tomorrow, instead of "for" 'em.

WELL, the nation's first wartime presidential election since 1864 has come to a close and, as far as we can see, "it didn't hurt nuthin," as the boys say.

Some of our longhaired folks said last spring it sure would be bad to have an election while fighting a global war, but we didn't agree with them then any more than we do now.

We're kinda funny when it comes to elections. We think they're important. We think they ought to be held when the law and the Constitution call for them, in spite of war—or, for that matter, in spite of hell or high water.

A look at the record shows that the war's in better shape now than it was before the political campaign got under way and our production record here on the home front has gone right along, too.

Maybe the political campaign can take some of the credit for both of these facts; maybe it can't. Nobody can say for sure.

But it should be fairly plain to everybody that we've wound up a slam-bang campaign without detracting from the business of whipping Germany and Japan—and, with the exception of the disgraceful exhibition of Hillman hoodlumism in Houston, with no important unseemly activities.

Let the historians take due note of this fact so, if sometime in the future, the U. S. again has a collision between a war and an election year there won't be any talk about postponing the latter for the benefit of the former.

Democrats, Republicans, Regulars, PAC-ers, whatever we are in this country, we've got the capacity for doing whatever we have to do when we have to do it.

Now that the bell has ended the last round in the title bout between Champ Roosevelt and Challenger Dewey, and all we're waiting for is the decision, it must be admitted by one and all that less bitterness than expected has been engendered by and between opposing forces.

It looked for awhile like the nation would set a new high in the matter of getting good and mad over politics, but old John Q. Citizen, from the Detroit to El Paso and from the r.r. coast of Maine to the s.s. of the Pacific, has proven himself to be of evener temper than either of the candidates, or of several of the candidates' personal aides on both sides of the fence.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Dewey, Mr. Ickes and Missus Luce each got a little nastier than the situation called for upon an occasion or two. Perhaps there were a few other disgusting and un-American outbreaks, similar to that in Houston last Thursday night when Texas decency was outraged by a handful of hooligans. But all in all, John Q. Public, plain, unherded and unregimented citizen, took the campaign in stride, his blood pressure remaining normal.

For our part, we had a good time. We're glad the 1928 campaign made this one look like a meeting of the Old Ladies Sewing Circle, although we could have stood a few more workings over via the "letters - to - the - editor" route because nothing tickles readers so much as publication of letters taking the hide off Ye Ed!

AND now, with apologies to George F. Root, who wrote the old hymn, "Just Before the Battle, Mother," this verse, dedicated to Franklin Roosevelt and Thomas Dewey, just before the curtain is raised on election day:

CAMPAIGN L'ENVOI

Just before the voting, brother,
I am thinking most of you.
Now the ballots are prepared for
Citizens of every hue!
Comrades, brave, have done their crying,
Finished every blast and prod:
Told you of my countless virtues,
How I sprang straight from the sod!
Farewell, brother, it's too late for
Me to longer boast or gloat.
Only say you won't forget me—
When you go to cast your vote!

ONE of our sprightly young gal reporters (all newsrooms look like harems now!) needs a little help in preparing what should be an interesting story. That help can come from nowhere except the public.

Here's the situation:

On November 22, 1940, the first contingent of Lubbock young men left for Army service. In the contingent were 14 white boys, one negro.

Our young reporter hunted up the home addresses (as listed with the draft board in 1940) of all 15, and wrote letters to persons listed as their next of kin to find out where the boys are now, and how they're making out.

Seven of the 15 letters came back marked "address unknown." But since our gal reporter wants to write a story for publication on the fourth anniversary of the departure of these boys, she asks the public to send The Plainsman any word it may have of the boys or their people.

The seven boys whose people have moved to unknown addresses are:

John Pat Bowen, Clarence Terry, Earl Hughes, Ewell C. Brown, Pat C. Porter, Earle E. William, all white; and Alva D. Jackson, colored.

If you know the address of any of the parents or relatives of any of these boys, or anything about the boys, themselves, will you please send the information to The Plainsman, right away?

Thanks in advance.

Feminine Viewpoint

MILLETT

WASHINGTON is so concerned over the problem of how to safeguard the thousands of young girls who have poured into the city from small towns and rural communities to take government jobs that one social service expert has gone so far as to recommend that all government service girls under 20 be sent home.

He claims that "Most girls under 20 are too immature to be running loose in Washington."

Sending them home would solve the problem so far as Washington is concerned—but it won't solve the problem of the girls' safety. For if the girls can't take care of themselves in Washington there is no reason to suppose they won't get in trouble somewhere else, even, perhaps, in their own home towns.

Girls aren't safe anywhere these days if they are trusting enough to let themselves be picked up by service men, if they run around alone at night, or if they let themselves be talked into going to parties in hotel rooms, or drive out to some roadside joint with a crowd they know nothing about.

PRACTICAL SOLUTION

IT seems the most practical thing that Washington could do at this point to safeguard the young girls in government service is to see that a personnel worker has a private talk with each young girl employee, telling her in no uncertain terms what kind of behavior is dangerous.

It wouldn't do any good to talk to the girls in a group—for they would most likely respond with the superior attitude freshman college girls take when the dean of women gives them a lecture on morals.

But the average girl would pay more attention if the interview was a private matter, and if she were confronted with specific facts instead of vague generalities, and if the matter were handled as a matter of her personal safety, rather than as a question of morals.

The personnel workers doing such interviewing shouldn't be chosen because they are motherly looking—but if they are to impress young girls they should be young, good-looking women themselves. Young girls who are having their first experience of living in a big city are much more ready to believe what a smartly-dressed sophisticated yonug woman tells them.

Today's Journal Editorial

DON'T DODGE YOUR RESPONSIBILITY!

The other day, the Editor of The Evening Journal was talking with one of the most influential and highly respected citizens of Lubbock. The conversation eventually switched to national politics.

"I have just about decided," this citizen said, "to stay away from the polls next Tuesday. I cannot support the Fourth Term; I do not care especially for Governor Dewey and I see no point in voting with the Texas Regulars. So on election day, I think I'll go about my work as usual, with no thought of casting a ballot."

What the gentleman did not say, but what he might just as well have said, is this:

"I'm going to shift a responsibility which is mine, to someone else. I'm going to shirk my task as a citizen. I confess that I have not taken the time to study the national political picture to the extent that I can make the best of the choice offered on the ballot. In short, I haven't been sufficiently interested in my country and its welfare to take part in the operation of its government."

Sadly, we must admit that the nation has millions of citizens thinking along this very same line. Sadly, we must admit that many are men like our friend—men of influence and character who are high in the councils of the communities in which they live; men whose attitudes in public matters bear weight with the thinking of their neighbors.

The Editor of The Journal is not happy over the choice offered on tomorrow's ballot. He realizes that many old line Americans, and old line Democrats, wish they had "somewhere to go" tomorrow, more in keeping with their ideas and ideals.

But we submit that there is a best choice, however unsatisfactory the basis of the choice may appear to the individual making it. And we submit that it is the individual citizen's responsibility to make and exercise that choice.

The American citizen who can vote, but who does not vote, tomorrow will have no moral right to voice whatever future personal dissatisfaction may arise in his heart as the result of the action of those who do vote.

By declining to register a choice, he is permitting others to choose for him—and after granting such permission he should remain silent if the choice turns out badly from his point of view.

Good men have died that those who live after may cast votes in this country. Good men are dying, right now, in far-away places in the cause of democracy and certainly the foundation stone of democracy is the right of ballot.

The individual who can vote tomorrow, but who doesn't vote, is testifying that blood sacrifices for democracy—in the past and the present—have been and are in vain.

Don't let your actions testify that way.

Vote tomorrow, happily or not, in what you believe is in the best interest of your country for the next four years!

More "Kickbacks" Discovered In Washington

Washington Merry-Go-Round

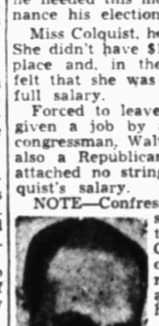

BY DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — Congressional secretaries on Capitol Hill are boiling mad over another case of an attempted salary kick-back. This one involves Republican Congressman John Butler of Buffalo, whose former secretary, Miss Marie Colquist, admidts that he asked her to return $1400 of the salary paid her during the past two years. She state that the congressman said he needed this money to help finance his election campaign.

Miss Colquist, however, refused. She didn't have $1400 in the first place and, in the second place, felt that she was entitled to her full salary.

Forced to leave, she was then given a job by another Buffalo congressman, Walter G. Andrews, also a Republican. Andrews has attached no strings to Miss Colquist's salary.

NOTE—Confressman Butler also has his daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Butler, on the government payroll as a secretary in his office.

PEARSON

More information has just come to light regarding another congressman who goes in for salary kick-backs, Rep. Ed Rowe of Ohio, who required his secretary, Mrs. Margaret Nelson, to turn back around $110 per month out of her salary for the upkeep of his private office in Akron.

It further appears that Congressman Rowe, on receiving requests from some of his constituents to do special jobs for them in Washington, referred them to his campaign manager, a lawyer who charged the constituents a fee, thus getting reimbursed for his campaign services.

One of Congressman Rowe's constituents, Burt Vendevier of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, states that, when his boy died in the Navy, the Veterans' administration was slow in paying insurance, so he went to see his congressman, Rowe referred him to an attorney, James Hinton, who had been Rowe's campaign manager.

After some correspondence with the Veterans' administration by Rowe, and the preparation of an affidavit by Hinton, the dead boy's insurance was paid. Whereupon Hinton sent the father a bill for $50. When Vandevier complained about this, the fee was adjusted to $25.

Mrs. Nelson, former secretary to Rowe, says that the congressman gave her instructions to refer many constituents to Hinton so that he might be reimbursed for his campaign expenses.

OUTSHINES BOYER

HOLLYWOOD Star Charles Boyer has been one of FDR's ardent campaigners. But he when he makes a speech, he is careful about police protection—especially when there is a large proportion of females in the audience.

At Hunter college, New York's leading college for women, the famed Boyer requested in advance of his speech that he be given extra police to keep away autograph hunters, and a special place to park his car so he could get away in a hurry.

Came the speech. Boyer did a swell job. But there was no stampede of autograph-seekers. Instead, Joe Ball, statuesque senator from Minnesota, stole the show. Ball talked about international cooperation, and why he was supporting Roosevelt for futuer peace.

Afterward, the women flocked around Lincolnesque Ball. The usually lionized Boyer had no trouble making a getaway, almost unnoticed.

ASIDE from the future of its Commander - in - Chief, the Navy Department also has a peculiar interest in this election, especially in Arkansas, which is voting on a state constitutional amendment which would ban closed-shop unions.

The Navy is not particularly noted as a champion of labor. Moreover, it so happens that it is contemplating construction of a huge plant for making rockets on the Ouchita river, near Camden, Arkansas. Rockets are counted on to play a big part in the Pacific war, and the plant is needed in a hurry. However, if the Navy has to worry about violating the technicalities of a state law under which certain construction unions cannot or will not work, officials say they will probably put their rocket plant in some other state.

The Arkansas amendment, incidentally, is similar to one being voted on in Florida and California, and is being quietly backed by Senator "Pappy" O'Daniel of Texas and Vance Muse, with a lot of Texas oil men and big Eastern industrialist money behind them.

Muse is the man who, in 1936, persuaded the du Ponts to shell out several thousand dollars to finance his Southern Committee to uphold the Constitution and its "grass roots" convention at Macon, Ga. Only trouble with the grass roots meeting was that the big-money boys put up all the dough and the real people of the South had little to do with it.

UTAH CAMPAIGN

PRESIDENT Roosevelt has told advisers that, if there wasn't a war on, one state in which he would have liked to campaign this year is Utah—not because he considers it doubtful, but to support his old friend, Sen. Elbert Thomas.

Thomas, now chairman of the important Senate Education and Labor committee, has helped pioneer some of Roosevelt's important progressive legislation, in addition to being a key member of the Senate Foreign Relations and Military Affairs committee.

He is being opposed this year by Adam Bennion, leading Mormon utility lawyer with the backing of the reactionary hierarchy of the Mormon church. Real head of the church today is Reuben Clark, a strong Hoover man whom Hoover appointed U. S. ambassador to Mexico. Clark is doing everything possible to elect Bennion.

The White House has received word that Thomas is in for a close race but, according to latest reports, he will be re-elected.

NOTE—Senator Thomas, a former Mormon missionary in Japan, is one of the few people in the capital who speak Japanese. Each week during the war, he has broadcast to Japan, urging surrender.

VIRGINIA FIGHT

WASHINGTONIANS, who can't vote, are getting a second-hand kick out of the vigorous fight being waged against Democrat Congressman Howard Smith just across the Potomac in Virginia. Nettled by the unexpected fight, Smith has gone out of his way to try to frighten his opposition.

First he had his opponent, Elizabeth Chilton Murray, hauled before the House Campaign Expenditures committee. Now he has intimated to Mrs. Virginia Durr, wife of FCC Commissioner Cliff Durr that he contemplates a libel suit against her. Durr is the brother-in-law of Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black, and Mrs. Durr last week accused Smith of certain transactions in connection with the National Airport.

A few days later, she received a curt note from the congressman enclosing a newspaper clipping of her speech. "I consider these remarks defamatory," Smith said, asking her to examine the clipping and inform him if she had been misquoted. Mrs. Durr does not consider that she was misquoted.

"GI Correspondent" Rejoins Old Friends On Italian Front

Reunion Puts Ernie Pyle Back In Artillery

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ernie Pyle is resting following his service with frontline troops in Europe and next plans to go to the fighting zones of the Pacific. While he is on leave The Journal will publish here some of Ernie's earlier articles, not previously printed in Lubbock, upon which first was built the mutual esteem between Pyle and "GI Joe.")

By ERNIE PYLE

AT THE FRONT LINE In Italy, December, 1943—It had been my intention to work back into the war gradually by doing maybe a couple of weeks' columns about how things were in Naples, what Italian women looked like, and whether the Island of Capri was as pretty as they say.

But I don't know what happened. Something happened. I hadn't been in Naples two hours before I felt I couldn't stand it, and by the next evening there I was—up in the mud again, sleeping on some straw and awakening throughout the night with the old familiar crash and thunder of the big guns in my reluctant ears.

ERNIE PYLE

It was the artillery for me this time. I went with an outfit I had known in England a year ago last fall, made up largely of men from the Carolinas and eastern Tennessee.

This regiment shoots 155-millimeter howitzers. They are terrifically big guns and, Lordy, do they make a noise! The gun weighs six tons, and the shell itself is so big it's all an ammunition carrier can do to lug one up to the gun pit.

The regiment has all new guns now. I can't tell you how far they shoot, but as the Carolina boys said, "It's awful fur."

Commander Is Democratic

This regiment's commander is a good-natured former textile-plant executive who fought all through the last war and has already spent nearly a year in the front lines in this one.

He is humorous, as Southern as magnolia, and he loves being alive. He calls every soldier around him by his first name.

He lives in a two-man tent with his executive officer. Right now it's pitched on a hillside, and they have put big rocks under the lower legs of their cot to make it level. They wash from gasoline tins, and slog a quarter of a mile through deep mud for their meals.

Both are men of refinement and accustomed to fine living back home. The colonel is 50, and living proof that middle-aged men of the right frame of mind can take it at the front.

WHEN I came puffing up the muddy hillside late one afternoon between showers, the colonel was sitting in a canvas chair in the door of his tent, reading a magazine. When I got within about 50 yards he looked up, let out a yell, and called out, "Well, I'll be damned if it ain't my old friend Ernie Pyle! Goshamighty, am I glad to see you! Ansel, this calls for a drink."

He reached under his cot and brought out a square bottle of some white Italian fluid all full of what looked like sugar Christmas trees. It was a very thick, sweetish substance, which shows what a Southerner can come to who's been without mint juleps for a year.

This colonel's tentmate is Lt. Col. Ansel Godfrey, who used to be principal of the high school at Abbeville, S. C., and now calls Clinton his home. He and I and the colonel sat for two hours while they pumped me about America and told me about Italy.

The colonel said, "Boy, are you a welcome sight! You don't know how wonderful it is to have somebody new to talk to. Ansel and I have been boring each other to death for months. Today we tell each other what we are going to do tomorrow, and then tomorrow we tell each other we're doing it. The next day we tell each other we did it. That's what we've been driven to for conversation."

Ernie Joins Gun Crew

After supper and a couple of hours with these friends I told them I wanted to go live with one of their gun crews. They said all right, but since it was raining again there might not be much shooting. They said if they did get any orders during the night, they'd have whatever battery I was with do the firing.

So I went down and introduced myself to a gun crew and warned them I probably was going to cause them to overwork, for which I apologized. Then I settled gradually in mud up to my knees.

It wound up that I stayed three days and three nights with these boys and I got so I felt like a cannoneer myself.

ONLY once did I hear anybody singing the famous artillery song about the caissons rolling along. One cannoneer hummed it one day during a lull. You could recreate the words in your mind as he was humming. "Over hill, over dale, as we hit the dutsy trail. . . ."

What sardonic line that is in Italy, with our guns hub-deep in black, sloshy, gooey, all-encompassing mud and not a grain of that longed-for dust within a thousand miles.

Landlords Resourceful In Evicting Tenants

HOUSTON, Nov. 6 (U.P.) — Many and devious are the ruses landlords use to get rid of tenants so they can make minor changes in their properties and get higher rents under OPA rules.

One landlady used three butcher knives and a pistol in evicting a tenant.

A landlord was more subtle. He lived in a duplex. The tenant on the other side was a woman. The landlord removed the wall between the apartments. The woman moved.

Stalin's Speech

now cut off from East Prussia in the Baltic states and are being hammered to smithereens," Stalin said.

Second Front Vital

"There is no doubt that without the second front which pins down 75 German divisions, we could not drive the Germans out of the Soviet Union," the premier added.

"But without our pinning down 200 divisions our Allies would not be able to drive the enemy from Italy, France and Belgium.

"The task is to continue holding Germany between two fronts. That is the key to victory."

Of the 204 divisions facing the Red army, Stalin said 180 were German and 24 Hungarian.

Anniversary Marked

The premier-marshal spoke at a Moscow celebration marking the 27th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

Turning to international affairs and the postwar world, Stalin said:

"When you read reports of divergencies of views among the three great powers about postwar organization, remember that such differences always exist even in the same party and obviously will exist between different nations.

"If differences have occurred, as for example at Dumbarton Oaks, we must not complain but we must be glad they were so few. Dozens of points were solved in complete agreement.

"Therefore I think that Dumbarton Oaks is an indication that peaceful solution is possible.

Differences Solved

"There were differences among the Allies about the second front but, as everybody knows, they finally were solved in a spirit of complete agreement.

"Fighting now is on German territory," he declared after recounting Allied successes in driving the Nazis from Russia, France, Belgium and southern Italy.

"After all the German super mobilizations only 204 German and non-German divisions stand against us," Stalin said.

Allied Aid Cited

"The main fact of the past year is that the Red army fought not single handed as in previous years, but with Allied troops," Stalin said. "The Tehran conference was not in vain. Blows from east, west and south became a fact."

He said the way to Hungary, Germany's last ally, was opened by the Romanian declaration of war which gave the Soviet forces a route and a way in which to help Yugoslavia.

"In the fourth year in the patriotic war, decisive victories of the Soviet and Allied armies forced the Germans to fight on two fronts and threw them back to the frontiers of Germany," he said.

"The Allied invasion of France was a powerful operation, compelling the Germans to fight on two fronts," he continued. "The Allies made landing operations unprecedented in history. Germany was pressed in pincers between two fronts."

War Against Japs

sion advanced to 12 miles south of Ormoc.

A strong force of B-29s smashed at Singapore yesterday, scoring direct hits on a ship and drydocks where the Japanese might try to repair some of the damaged warships that escaped from the second battle of the Philippines. It was the longest daylight strike ever flown by military planes.

Oil Refinery Raided

Another Superfortress flight raided the Pangkalan-Brandon oil refinery on northern Sumatra, the largest enemy source of aviation gasoline not previously badly damaged by American bombs.

The 20th Air force said no planes were lost in either raid. Tokyo radio claimed one B-29 was shot down and another damaged over Sumatra.

In a tree-top attack on Sebu and Negroes island airbases from which the Japanese have been sending planes on night-long harassing raids against Leyte, bomb-carrying American fighters destroyed at least 67 Japanese aircraft, possibly 77. Tokyo reported 300 and 100 plane raids on Manila on successive days.

Leaflets Dropped On Luzon

Luzon island was blanketed with leaflets announcing MacArthur's return and picturing him wading ashore with President Sergio Osmena. A board of high-ranking Filipinos today began investigating charges against persons accused of collaborating with the Japanese.

Chungking reported all contact had been lost with Yungfu, 33 miles south of encircled Kweilin. A Japanese column that by-passed Yungfu was reported halted 45 miles north of Lichow. A continuous battle was reported under way at Mosun, 45 miles south of Liuchow.

Details Of Train Wreck Are Awaited

HOUSTON, Nov. 6. (AP)—Southern Pacific officials in Houston today were still awaiting reports on a minor rear-end collision between a freight train and a passenger train, made up partly of coaches that left Houston at 10 p. m. yesterday, which occurred at 7:05 a. m. today about 30 miles north of Edinburg.

The passenger locomotive overturned after running into the rear of the freight train, according to J. J. Moore, assistant general superintendent. No coaches overturned and no passengers were injured, he said.

"According to the information we have be able to get," he said, "the only injury was to the fireman of the passenger locomotive who sprained his ankle in jumping from the cab. The engineer escaped without injury. No coaches overturned and it is very unlikely that any passengers were injured since both trains were moving slowly at the time."

No details of the cause of the collision had been received by the Houston office of the Southern Pacific up to noon today.

Houston Chronicle Is Favoring Roosevelt

HOUSTON, Nov. 6. (UP) — The Houston Chronicle was on the editorial record this election eve as a supporter of the Roosevelt-Truman ticket.

The paper said in an editorial Sunday that it is "convinced the record of the past, the needs of the present and the best interests of the nation and world in the period ahead alike call for the re-election of President Roosevelt and the election of Sen. Harry Truman."

CUSTOMERS IN SAFETY ZONE

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP) — Stock market customers generally inclined to hug the pre-election safety zone today and, while modest bids were forthcoming for assorted leaders, many issues met light selling or slumbered in the unchanged column.

Trends stiffened here and there after a hesitant opening and, while activity was slack the greater part of the proceedings, sizable blocks of low-quoted stocks, most of which got nowhere in particular, helped put volume at around 700,000 shares. The direction was moderately foggy near the close although fractional advances were plentiful.

Ahead most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, International Harvester, Westinghouse, Texas Co., Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak, Grumman Aircraft, General Electric, United Corp. and Western Union "A". Occasional losers were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, United Aircraft, Kennecott, American Can, J. C. Penney and Woolworth.

Bonds were relatively steady.

The girls were injured when two cars collided. Police reported that they were passengers in a car driven by their governess, Betty Lee Case, 22, which was in a collision with one driven by Actor Freddie Batholomew, 20. Batholomew's grandfather, Frederick Batholomew, 85, was slightly injured.

And still another is the estimate that as many as 60 per cent of the total vote will be cast by women, a record percentage if borne out.

Women leaders of both parties say that this election, the first one in wartime in 80 years, will find many of them voting primarily according to their feeling about ending the war with a lasting peace.

For that matter, this is the double-barreled issue which has dominated the whole campaign.

FDR's Experience Cited

President Roosevelt and the Democrats contend that his experience in 12 years as president and his associations with leaders in other nations are guarantees of ending the war without unnecessary delay. Further they say the record of Republicans in the Senate and House indicate an inability to recognize international threats as well as international obligations to keep the peace.

Governor Dewey and the Republicans say that the military men in the places of command would be left undisturbed by a Republican victory, that the Roosevelt administration is too tired and quarrelsome for effective work and that maintenance of peace is a job for all, not for a few men.

PAC Has Prominent Role

Treated hardly less frequently has been the question of the part the CIO Political Action committee has played.

Backing the Roosevelt fourth term drive, this group headed by Sidney Hillman has worked hard to get out a big vote. Dewey has said that President Roosevelt put the Democratic party on the auction block and that the highest bidders were the PAC and "Earl Browder's Communists."

Such arguments brought flat Democratic denials, also the contention that the Republicans are trying to work both sides of the street, with charges also that the Roosevelt hold on the presidency leans toward monarchy.

Labor Mostly For FDR

A majority of labor union leaders has gotten behind the Roosevelt candidacy for the fourth time, but some, notably John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, are in the Dewey camp. Labor unions generally have been more active than ever before, in canvassing, in print and on the platform.

Other campaign arguments have revolved around the return of the soldiers and sailors as soon as possible, free enterprise, treatment of minorities, social security expansion and — one point given great stress — postwar jobs.

In all of these, the named objectives of both sides have been the same; the argument has been over which set of office holders can be depended on to get results.

Democratic appraisals of Gov. Dewey as too young (42) have been met by Republican discussions of President Roosevelt as too old (62).

The Republican argument is that Dewey has been a good governor of the nation's biggest state. The Democratic stand, as expressed by Mr. Roosveelt in a mention of his health is that a man doesn't need to be an acrobat to be president.

Local Politics

Republicans and the workers of the Dewey-Bricker club of Lubbock county, I can say that if our ticket is successful in Tuesday's election, the people will not be disappointed in the leadership of Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker. The issues of this campaign are history-making and the outcome will affect every one of us. My last appeal is for every qualified voter to go to the polls and vote."

Local phase of the campaign will wind up this afternoon and tonight with radio talks scheduled over KFYO by the Texas Regulars and the Democratic parties. At 12:30 p. m. today, Klett, spoke for his party's cause and he will be heard again this afternoon at 5:45 o'clock. At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, Miss Joyce Halsey was scheduled for a 15-minute broadcast for the Texas Regulars.

Tonight from 6:30 until 7 o'clock, Judge Alton B. Chapman of Floydada will speak in behalf of the Democratic party's cause in a 30-minute broadcast sponsored by the Lubbock Business Men for Roosevelt committee.

Ellis revealed that Cong. Mahon had been scheduled to make tonight's talk but instead was called to Colorado City over the weekend where he will make two talks.

Ellis said he received the following telegram from Mahon:

"In response to your invitation regret previous arrangements mak it impossibl for me to be present for your Democratic radio program in Lubbock tonight. I feel that Texas will go overwhelmingly Democratic and, in the interest of the war effort and the future peace of the world, I trust the nation will re-elect our commander-in-chief President Roosevelt and a Democratic Congress."

Congress And State Races In Spotlight

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. (AP)—Gas-rationed campaigns that have failed to stem the flow of words come to a grinding stop today for 1,114 candidates seeking election to the Senate, House, or governor's chair.

These races rank next to the presidency itself in tomorrow's historic war-time election because of the important roles Congress and the states will play in the eventful peace-making and economic adjustment years ahead.

The Democrats now firmly control the Senate, hold a slim though nominal plurality over the Republicans in the House, and bow to the Republicans in governorships with 22 against 26.

To be elected: 35 senators, 432 representatives, 31 governors.

GOP Stands Good Chance

The Republicans stand their best chance to regain control of the House in more than a dozen years, although Democratic leaders say this will not happen because this is a presidential election year. While winning a net of 80 seats in 1938 and 44 in 1942, the GOP lost a net of seven in the presidential year of 1940.

A clear majority of the House is 218. The Democrats now have 214, the Republicans 212, and minor parties four with five vacancies.

All the Republicans have to do is hold their own and pick up six additional seats to gain a majority and organize the House taking office in January. Their leaders say they see prospects of turning up with a net gain of as many as 60 seats.

Demos Predict Gains

Administration chieftains, however, counter with the prediction that the Democrats will hold their existing strength and unseat from 20 to 40 Republicans.

There are 919 candidates running for 432 House memberships. Three of the total roll of 435 were elected in Maine Sept. 11. — all Republican incumbents.

Fifty-one Democratic, six Republican, and one American Labor candidates for the House are unopposed in tomorrow's voting.

The present Senate lines up this way: Democrats 58, Republicans 37, Progressive 1. A majority is 49, or 48 if joined by Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, the lone Progressive whose seat is not at stake this year.

35 Senate Seats At Stake

The 35 Senate seats to be filled—including three short terms—in the new congress are now held by 22 Democrats and 13 Republicans. There are 36 Democratic and 24 Republican holdovers.

Thus, the Democrats need only to win 13 of the 35 contests to retain control in that branch, or only six outside the Solid South where seven Democratic incumbents are up for reelection. The GOP will have to capture 25 of the races to gain a clear majority.

A total of 106 candidates are out for the 35 senatorships, including 35 Democrats and 33 Republicans. Only one senator, George (D-Ga), is unopposed.

GOP Needs Gain Of 12

Republicans need a net gain of 12 for a clear majority. They say they are rather confident of picking up seats now held by Democrats in Iowa, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Oklahoma, New York, New Jersey, Missouri, Utah and Washington.

Democrats report they expect to reelect all incumbents of their party, although they concede that a "tough fight," as Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) puts it, is faced by Senator Gillette (D-Iowa). They assert they have a "good chance" of picking up a seat or two from the opposition in Wisconsin and Oregon.

Texas U. Students Return To Classes

AUSTIN, Nov. 6 (AP) — University of Texas students who have demonstrated since last Wednesday against discharge of Dr. Homer P. Rainey as president of the school returned to classes today under protest.

Their plea for reinstatement of Dr. Rainey was joined last night by Dr. Edmund Heinsohn, pastor of University Methodist church, who in a statewide radio broadcast urged parents, students and others to petition Gov. Coke R. Stevenson to reinstate Dr. Rainey.

The governor had under consideration the resignations of Regents John H. Bickett, jr. of Dallas, H. H. Weinert of Seguin, and Dan J. Harrison of Houston, given last week after the board discharged Dr. Rainey, climaxing a long-standing row over division of authority between the administrative officer and the board.

The executive council of the ex-students association has called for the resignation of all members of the board of regents involved in the controversy with Dr. Rainey.

Governor Stevenson last week made a public defense of the four members he appointed to the board, D. F. Strickland of Mission, W. Scott Schreiner of Kerrville, Bickett and Weinert. At a press conference he said he thought the board "as a whole" was the strongest "in many, many years."

Nazis Hurled Back

tanks with flames, the Germans still held Schmidt.

Allies Hold South Bank

The Allies hold all the south bank of the Maas from north of 'S-Hertogenbosch to the sea except for two small pockets, each four miles long and two miles deep at the Moerdijk bridge and Willemstad ferry 16 miles south of Rotterdam.

West of these pockets, the German rout became more complete as Allied troops swarmed over Tholen island and the St. Philipsland peninsula to the north which forms the southern bank of the mouth of the Maas.

Allied troops seized all of Walcheren island except the small port of Veere on the north coast and the town of Middelburg in the center.

Yanks Maintain Pressure

To the east, the American First army kept up its hard pressure from Hurtgen to Schmidt. Although gains in the past 36 hours were measured in mere yards, the potential menace tied down hastily mustered German reserves and dipped deeply into the dwindled German supply of tanks.

In probing attacks, Allied infantry and tanks kept pushing the enemy all along the front, scoring gains against stiff resistance around Meijel in eastern Holland, southeast of Aachen, above Metz, and in the Vosges mountains.

In the Hurtgen forest area southeast of Aachen, where Yank infantry has made the deepest penetration inside Germany, American troops who were thrown out of Schmidt by an enemy counter-attack mopped up German units in the woods a mile west of that town, and scored minor gains elsewhere.

Minefields Hinder Attack

The American attack near Schmidt was hindered by extensive minefields south of Hurtgen and ran into strong tank, infantry and artillery fire near Konnerscheidt.

There was no Allied confirmation of the German radio announcement, broadcast yesterday and reported today, that the Allies have landed airborne units again in the Arnhem area.

On the Third army front, a renewal of offensive action carried American infantry into Berg, a small town on the Moselle river eight miles northeast of Thionville, and near the point where the borders of France, Germany and Luxembourg meet.

Farther south, the Seventh army's continuing drive in the Baccarat sector scored new gains, the Allied communique reported, including the capture of the village of St. Barba.

Raids On Germany

continuing unchecked today.

The double-barrelled attack on Stuttgart brought to 21 the number of German cities that felt the crash of hundreds of tons of Allied bombs between noon Saturday and last midnight.

Solingen Also Bombed

One other place, Solingen, the "Sheffield of Germany" on the southern fringes of the Ruhr, also was bombed twice by RAF heavies.

Setting the pace for the two-day offensive aimed at knocking out Germany's synthetic oil plants and communications centers were 4,000 American heavy bombers and 1,500 fighters from British and Italian bases.

In two coordinated blows on successive days the eighth and 15th Air forces struck Hitler's war machine in 13 vital spots ranging from Vienna and Regensburg in the south to Hamburg and Hannover in the north.

Steel, Coal Center Hit

British heavies, continuing a new series of 1000-bomber raids, hammered the steel and coal center of Bochum in the Ruhr with over 3,360 tons of high explosive and fire bombs Saturday night while hundreds of American and British fighter and medium bombers roamed the western front night and day.

U. S. Thunderbolts, Marauders and Havocs smashed a hydro electric dam near Fritzlar and attacked half a dozen railway yards in Germany Sunday. RAF Mosquitos shot up 15 trains in Holland last night.

Large numbers of Nazi night fighters came up in defense of Bochum but nowhere else did the giant armadas encounter much opposition.

Several planes previously listed as missing are known to have landed safely in France and total losses for all operations are not expected to exceed 120 aircraft. The Eighth Air force lost 14 bombers and fighters out of a force of 1,900 Saturday and the Fifteenth lost 15 out of 1,200 attacking Bavaria and Austria.

Fortresses and Liberators ran through intense flak over Frankfurt and Ludwigshaven yesterday and 30 bombers failed to return.

Budapest Offensive Is Major Crisis

BY, DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Red army's furious assault on the Hungarian capital of Budapest represents the crisis in one of the war's major operations. The city's inevitable fall will speed Hitler's end.

This vastly important communications and industrial center, which straddles the broad Danube like a colossus, is the guardian of the Danubian basin route into southeast Germany via Austria. It's capture will at once open the gate for advance up the valley and provide the Soviet forces with a magnificent base for operations against the Reich itself.

But Budapest to my mind means far more than that. It's only about 100 miles, as the airplane flies, from the Austrian border and 140 from Vienna itself — and many Austrians are only waiting for a chance to rise and throw off the Nazi yoke.

Austrian Revolt Possible

Thus it strikes me as quite possible that the arrival of the Red army at the Austrian frontier might precipitate a revolt against Hitler within that enslaved country. Once a rebellion started in Austria there would be no telling how far it might spread through unhappy Germany itself.

The impending loss of Hungary will deprive Hitler of a satellite which, next to Italy, is the most important European ally he has had for it has been the key to his control of the Balkans. But while this will represent a great military victory for the United Nations, it undoubtedly will be a mixed blessing since it will saddle them with another bad political problem.

There are a great many Hungarian Nazis. Thus, just as the Allies will have the great educational task of eradicating Nazism from Germany and Fascism from Italy, so will they have to eliminate the Hitlerian creed from Hungary.

Mink Cross-Breeding Produces Shaded Fur

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 (U.P.)—Cross-breeding of mink indicates that postwar mink coats will be available in almost every shade — pink, lilac, golden yellow, lige blue, as well as darker shades, said R. D. Harmon, a director of the National Board of Fur Farm Organization.

It will be possible to buy a mink coat to match your hair, yes, or complexion, if you have the necessary $2,000 to $21,000, he said.

The production of fur coats available for purchase this fall will be 10 per cent less than last year, or approximately 50 per cent below the pre-Pearl Harbor output, Harmon said.

Soap Plentiful Despite Big Service Demands

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (U.P.)—Despite the fact that GI Joe uses tons of soap to keep his person and clothes clean, civilians have had sufficient to maintain the American standard of cleanliness, Roscoe C. Edlund, manager of the American Soap and Glycerine Producers, says.

In the last 18 months, the Army has purchased more than 500,000,000 pounds of soap, including 375,518,304 pounds for laundry purposes, 45,500,000 pounds for toilet use, and 16,778,000 pounds of all-purpose soap. The Army also purchased 65,000,000 pounds for various other uses.

The Navy, lend-lease and the American Red Cross also got huge quantities. In the first six months of 1944, 17,164,534 pounds went for lend-lease and 5,180,696 pounds were allotted to the Caribbean Emergency Program.

The Red Cross has shipped 75,000,000 cakes of toilet soap to American war prisoners since Pearl Harbor.

Industry also uses large quantities, the manufacture of synthetic rubber calling for 1,000,000,000 pounds a year to produce cold drawn steel bars and drawn wire.

Millions of pounds also are required to produce shell and cartridge cases, textiles, leather and lubricants.

Urschel Kidnap Figure Paroled

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—R. G. (Boss) Shannon, convicted as a principal in the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping of 1933, was paroled from Leavenworth penitentiary today.

George (Machinegun) Kelly and five others, including Shannon—Kelly's father-in-law—were given life terms on Oct. 7, 1933 for the kidnaping. The U. S. parole board in announcing a parole for Shannon today noted that his sentence had later been reduced to 20 years. He became eligible for parole in September, 1940.

Held For $100,000 Ransom

Urschel, a wealthy Oklahoma City oil man, was abducted from his home July 22, 1933, and held for $100,000 ransom for nine days. Shannon, a resident of Paradise, Texas, was charged with providing a hideout for the abductors.

The kidnaping case was broken because Urschel, while held at a ranch, heard planes go over the house twice each day, except one day. A check by a Fort Worth man whose name was never disclosed showed that a plane on an American Airways flight to Amarillo had missed on that day. A check of the time narrowed the possible area to 10 miles.

The farm was raided by Federal Bureau of Investigation men and Fort Worth detectives.

Guilty Parents Are Given Lectures For Neglecting Children

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 (U.P.) — San Francisco parents found guilty of child neglect are sentenced to attend a series of eight lectures on how to rear children, it was revealed here by the American Public Welfare Association.

The compulsory school for delinquent fathers and mothers, begun 18 months ago, now has more than 250 "alumni."

Parents are referred to the school from three groups:

1. Those appearing in juvenile court because of their children's delinquency and those charged with neglect or other illegal acts deemed detrimental to child welfare.

2. Those appearing in the lower courts for misdemeanors and whose children might be influenced by drunkenness and family fights.

3. Parents whose attendance is "suggested" by truant officers or social agencies.

The parents are told to attend a course of lectures or face the alternative heavier penalty. They then must appear in court after completing the course for final disposition of their cases. Graduates are usually rewarded with a suspended sentence.

Many parents remain after the lectures to seek individual advice. The school costs the city nothing. The hall and the time of the speakers is donated. Average classes include about 20 parents and the highest enrollment was 50.
