COTTON COMES TO THE FAIR
This exhibit of the Farmers Co-op Gin and the First State Bank of Dodson pointed up the importance of cotton—the county's major crop. This outstanding educational exhibit, prepared by Mrs. Ed Crowder and Mrs. Floyd Teutsch, featured educational movies at intervals during the day. Miss Barbara Lennon, center, hostess at the booth, is shown explaining the fabric wheel, made up of a wide variety of cotton fabrics, to Mrs. L. D. Minatrea, a visitor. Quail Crop Best in 15 Years for County

"This year's quail crop is the best in the 15 years I've been game warden," Slim Davis told The Wellington Leader in Wellington Tuesday morning, Sept. 16.

"The damage the drouth did to our quail appears to be over, but let one dry year come along and you'll wonder what became of the quail," he warned.

He gave one warning to every hunter, however.

"You must have the permission of the landowner for any kind of hunting," he declared.

Davis was questioned several times in Wellington regarding the more than usual numbers of plover and curlews that have come in.

"Both plovers and curlews are protected at all times by the Federal government, and the penalty for killing one is a fine of $2,500 or 18 months in Leavenworth or both," Davis said.

The warden pointed out that approximately 80 per cent of the quail killed will be of this year's hatch, and since conditions have been favorable, the population is large.

The deer that are killed this year, on the other hand, were fawns two years ago, while the drouth was at its worst. However the deer population is increasing some, especially along the rivers.

There are also a few turkeys.

The dove crop has been exceptional and those who can hit them are getting their quotas, the warden said. "But the shell manufacturers are getting the most out of it," he continued. Hunters are missing more birds than usual because of the wind, he explained, since this makes for erratic flight.

The dove season continues through October 17.

Deer season—November 16 to November 25; one buck only and he must have pronged horns.

Turkey—November 16 to 25, two gobblers.

The quail season opens December 1.

Make Application for Salt Fork, Elm Rights

Application for water rights on Salt Fork River and Elm Creek have been made by directors of Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1, John Coleman chairman, said following a meeting Tuesday, September 9.

At a recent appearance before the State Board of Water Engineers, Coleman was told that the topographic survey of a proposed dam site on Salt Fork River northeast of Wellington will begin within two months, and the work will be done at the same time as the topographic survey of the site for the proposed Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority Dam upstream on Salt Fork.

Coleman said that the first of the preliminary bonds, approved by county voters, may be sold about November, and the issue probably would amount to $5,000. He expressed the hope that enough tax money will have been collected by that time so the water district may cash its own bonds and save interest.

A plan for issuing the $12,500 preliminary bonds was set up in a meeting of the Water Authority directors Monday, Sept. 15.

These will be issued to bear three per cent interest, but it is anticipated they will be sold locally and will carry a lower rate.

The issue, to be sold about November 1, will be in twenty-five $500 bonds, Coleman said.

Bonds totaling $7,500 will mature in six months and the remaining $5,000 in 18 months.

Thursday Night

Dodson School Plans Western Operetta

The fabulous "Belle of the West" will be presented by the drama and music departments of Dodson High School at 7:45 P.M., Thursday, September 18 at the High School auditorium.

The setting of the operetta is a mining town, Roarin's Creek. The town is overcome with excitment resulting from the arrival of a new barber, a lady. Speedy Summers, the owner of the local hotel and barber shop, ran an article in an Eastern city newspaper for a manager for his hotel, preferring someone who could run his barber shop as a side line. A few days later, he received an answer to his ad, signed simply I. M. Brown. Naturally, Speedy expected a man, and when a young and pretty woman arrived, excitment reigned supreme.

The lady barber is finally accepted and the results if amazing. She influences the men to be shaved, massaged, manicured, and trimmed. The ladies suddenly become "citified." Even Cussin' Cal, who has a bushy black beard and an unusual vocabulary of profanity, is reformed.

There are many musical numbers cleverly interwoven with the story and sung by Joe Lennon, Eddie Hunt, Carolyn Smith, Odell Lemons, Jeri Whitfield, and accompanied by the chorus. These songs range from light comedy to

Terms Fulfilled, Lower Court Rules

Gas Lease Case to Appellate Court

Notice of appeal to the 7th District Court of Civil Appeals has been given in a case tried in 100th district court here recently, in which Judge Luther Gribble ruled that the owner of a gas lease does not have to drill to the depth called for in the lease, provided he develops a well producing gas in paying quantities, and provided he pays the shut-in gas royalty.

W. J. Clay of Fort Worth, was the plaintiff, seeking to retain his lease on two and a half sections of land along Elm Creek in Elm Valley community, on which he has drilled three gas wells.

The defendants were Almarene Brown and her husband, John Brown, Aileene Williams, Ida E. Garinger and Roy J. Lindsey, all of California, and Mary Vance Guinn and her husband, Ernest Guinn of El Paso. They are heirs of the late J. and E. J. Atkinson, and in the suit held that the lease was not in force since certain terms were not carried out.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Guinn are lawyers and represented the other heirs in the case.

The litigation concerned sections 76 and 88 and the west half of section 77, all in block 12.

Value of the lease involved was estimated by a reliable source outside the court at in excess of $100,000 and the total value of this and other properties grouped with it as in excess of $300,000.

Terms of the lease called for Clay to drill to a depth of 3,000 or the granite shelf. It provided that if gas wells were develo- on the premises, at t- the lease period or ren- date, the lessee would pay $1 per acre as gas royalty as long as the gas was not sold off the premises.

Clay had drilled three wells to a depth of 1800 to 1950 feet and gas in paying quantities was found, it was brought out in the trial. He contended that since he got gas and had paid the shut-in royalty, the leases were still in force.

The defendants held that the leases were forfeited because the plaintiff did not drill to the 3000 foot depth or the granite shelf.

The court was not called on to define the "granite shelf" and there was speculation outside the court as to whether this expression referred to the granite wash, where oil is often found, or to the granite ridge, known to extend

Do You Own Stock in DuPont . . . or Any Corporation Manufacturing Synthetic Textile Fibers?

This question has been asked in a pamphlet put out by the Farmers Co-Op Gin and The First State Bank of Dodson at their booth at the Collingsworth County Free Fair last week end. The Leader believes that the factual matter urging cotton growers and cotton growing communities is worth the serious study of every person living in this area where cotton is still the principal cash crop. It follows:

If you do not own stock in DuPont or any other corporation manufacturing synthetic textile fibers, and you live in Collingsworth County or any County in Texas or Oklahoma, you DO have a BIG stock and interest in Cotton.

Do you know that Cotton creates more new wealth in Collingsworth County, in Texas, and in the United States than any other agricultural commodity grown?

Do you know that the cotton industry furnishes more people work than any other single industry in the United States?

Do you know that cotton is being made as wrinkle-resistant as any fiber, for men's slacks and suits, ladies' tailored suits, or any use where wrinkle-resistance is needed?

Do you know we have a polished cotton with a beautiful luster and soft sheen that can be laundered many times and still hold its beauty and usefulness?

Do you know there are wash-and-wear, drip-dry cotton fabrics that require no ironing and will hold its shape and color through many launderings?

Do you know there are embossed cottons, permanent pleated cottons, printed corduroys, mildew-resistant cottons, fire-resistant cottons, glazed cottons and lintless cottons?

Do you know that cotton is the only clothing fabric on the market that does not irritate the skin?

Do you know that cotton is highly absorbent, yet is the only textile fabric that becomes even stronger when wet?

Do you know that synthetic fibers have taken the equivalent of more than 6,000,000 bales of cotton in our markets today?

Do you know we now have legislation requiring manufacturers of textile fabrics to label their products so you may know of what they consist?

Do you think, due to price supports, that cotton products are too high? If you do, let us reason together a little: If the farmers gave the mills their cotton it would reduce the price of a man's shirt only 25c, or a ladies' dress no more than 25c to 30c, or piece goods only 5c to 10c a yard.

So when you must buy textile material or fabrics of any kind, ask your merchant if he doesn't have it in cotton. If he has, you will help yourself by getting a better product, you will help the biggest industry in our county, and you will help your merchant by letting him know what you want.

Newspapers Still Reign as Top American Leisure Time Occupation

Reading newspapers is still the favorite leisure time occupation of Americans, according to a survey made by Sindlinger & Co., of Ridley Park, Pa. Newspaper reading topped every other item in the nine-category survey made by the research analysts during the week ending June 28.

The researchers found that during that week 100,219,000 persons read newspapers. The next closest category was television, which had 83,078,000 viewers. Radio was third with 75,571,000 listeners. Surprisingly, more persons went to the movies—41,500,000—than the combined number of persons who showed an interest in sports, 14,764,000 who participated and 8,757,000 who paid as spectators.

The survey again shows that the newspaper has advantages which no other medium of communication can match. The reader can choose his time to relax with his paper. He can get a complete account of what happened. He can get many interesting features which help to make the news more understandable. He can enjoy the special features like comics and columns by favorite writers.

The newspaper is a complete package for which readers have found no substitute.

Despite competition from other media, newspaper reading is increasing, rather than dropping.

Newspapers appreciate the loyalty of their readers and feel their responsibility to them to strive continually to put out the best possible newspapers for family reading.—The Houston Chronicle.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the U. S. Air Force imported $2.2 million worth of granite from Minnesota to touch up their new Academy in Colorado.

My traveled neighbor says the last time he saw Colorado Springs they had several nice piles of natural rock right out west of town, but of course everybody knows you can always get better stuff of all kinds away off someplace else.

Says though, this high-toned out-of-state rock will fancy up the place so much it may clash with the regular scenery, and then Congress will likely have to appropriate money to re-decorate the Rocky Mountains.

I see where England got real provoked here the other day and sent its Navy up to remonstrate with little Iceland for claiming to own 12 miles out into the ocean.

My ever-hopeful neighbor says this move by Britain ought to be encouraging to our Washington world-fixers who have been having trouble all over here lately.

On account of maybe as soon as they get Iceland contained the Britishers will send some warships to help Uncle Sam slap down Red China and Texas for trying to exceed the three-mile limit.

I see where the scientists have concocted a new drug out of rocket fuel, which they claim will give a man renewed energy, like turpentine does a cat.

Which seems logical. If a man's spring comes unwound, it looks like a dose of rocket fuel ought to liven him up again if anything would.

My blue-funked neighbor is looking forward to national distribution of this new spizzerinctum builder, as he figures it might be a real help to us taxpayers in our fight to keep Congress in spending money.

I see where the U. N. kind of went to sleep here the other day and woke up to find somebody had sneaked over an outlandish proposition to let the Middle East folks run their own squabbles.

My jug-bitten neighbor says a doctrine like this could get to spreading if it's not watched, and next thing we'd know everybody would be minding his own business and letting his neighbors' go to pot.

Might even get so epidemic that federal know-besters would abandon our schools, farmers, and whooping cranes to fumble out their own problems without the benefits of Washington wisdom.

I see where some congressmen are mighty bitter against the steel people for raising their prices just because they can make more money that way.

These upset statemen figure it's practically treason for steel stockholders to be making a profit right when the government is going deeper in the red every day.

My hemmed-in neighbor says it's too bad this great need for patriotic money temperance didn't set in until after the congressmen got their own wages in orbit.

NEW EQUIPMENT To Serve You Better

We have recently installed the latest model MOSS LINT CLEANER. This machine removes additional pin trash, blends spots, and along with our other 36 cylinders of cleaning equipment will give you a better sample, which is most important this year due to the big differential in loan value of white grades and lower grades of cotton.

As usual, an experienced gin crew will be here to serve you, with Jack Brewer as manager, Don Jones as bookkeeper and Andy Poteet as ginner. Careful ginning and courteous service await you at all times.

We will be glad to help you get your cotton in the loan. We always pay top prices for cotton and cottonseed. We have housing for cotton pullers and will do all we can to help you secure pullers at all times.

For greater PROFIT, make your plans now to gin your cotton at the Tindall Gin No. 1. Gin No. 2 will not operate this year because of the short crop.

September 12, 1958

Illustration of "choice plan" for 1959 and 1960 on two farms, each having a 100-acre allotment in 1958 and a yield of 250 pounds per acre.

Assumption

Parity 39 cents per pound in 1959 and 39.50 cents per pound in 1960. 375 points difference between Middling ⅞" and Middling 1".
16,000,000 acre minimum national allotment would represent a decrease of 8 per cent in acreage for choice "A". The 40 per cent increase in acreage for choice "B" would caluculate from the 16,000,000 national allotment base and would amount to a 28 per cent net increase in acreage above the 1958 allotment.

Parity: 39 cents per pound.
Support of "A" at 80 per cent of parity: 34.95 cents per pound for Middling 1".
Support for "B" at 65 per cent of parity: 29.10 cents per pound for Middling 1".
Resale at 110 per cent of "B": 32.01 cents per pound for Middling 1".

CHOICE "A"	CHOICE "B"
92 acres	128 acres
$8,038.50 (gross income)	$10,243.20 (gross income)
	$2,204.64 on extra 36 acres

1960

Parity: 39.50 cents per pound.
Support for "A" at 75 per cent of parity: 33.37 cents per pound for Middling 1".
Support for "B" at 60 per cent of parity: 27.45 cents per pound for Middling 1".
Resale at 110 per cent of "B": 30.20 cents per pound for Middling 1".

CHOICE "A"	CHOICE "B"
92 acres	128 acres
$7,675.10 (gross income)	$9,664.00 (gross income)
	$1,989.09 on extra 36 acres

Choice "B" will be more attractive as yield per acre increases.
As of the above date this is a true picture of the cotton program for the 1959-1960 season. If we can be of any help to you concerning it, drop by to see us at any of our Gins. Thank you for all past services, we remain

Yours very truly,

Castro County Man Reports—

100 pounds of ammonia made 51-bushel wheat

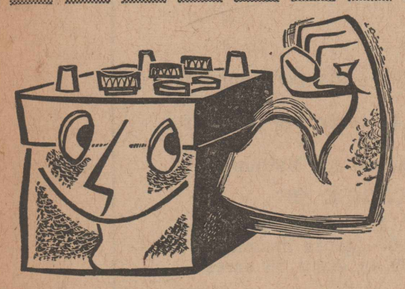

Dan J. Heard, a successful Dimmitt, Tex., farmer, says: "I put down 100 pounds per acre of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia pre-plant on my irrigated wheat and made 51 bushels per acre average on 108 acres. I'm sold on the dollars-and-cents value of applying Phillips 66 ammonia to my wheat land."

Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields . . . and more profitable grazing. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound.

Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in the fall on maize land. They know that the 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make the soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

SLEEK AND LOW

First Showing of 1959 Buick Here Friday

The 1959 Buick, which makes a complete styling break with Buick's past, had its formal introduction Monday but won't actually be seen by the pubic until Friday.

"Formal introduction" meant, in this case, the release of photographs and detailed information.

The car itsef will appear in showrooms over the nation Friday. Among the dealers displaying it will be Johnson Pontiac and Buick.

"They don't look like Buicks," is the comment heard most often from those who have seen the '59 models already.

The cars are so different, it's pointed out by Edward T. Ragsdale, general manager of Buick, that the division even had to change the names of its series. There are three series for 1959. LeSabre, the lowest priced, has six models; Invicta, in the middle range, has five models, and Electra, the luxury series, has three models, augmented by three companion models in the Electra 225 line which are 225 inches long.

All three series have four-door sedans, four-door hardtops and two-door hardtops. There are convertibles in LeSabre, Invicta and Electra 225 series, a two-door sedan in LeSabre, four-door estate wagons in both LeSabre and Invicta and a four-door sedan and a four-door hardtop in the Electra 225 series.

Styling features delta-wing rear fenders and dual headlights canted at a jaunty angle, plus compound windshields curving upward into the roof-and, in the two-door hardtops, vast rear windows sloping into the roofline. Four-door hardtops have wrap-around rear windows with a flat roofline.

Heights has been reduced to 54.6 inches in the four-door hardtops but headroom remains approximately the same, it's said. Glass area is up nearly 40 per cent on some models.

NFLA Holds Annual Meeting September 10

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Wheeler County and the Wellington National Farm Loan Association was held at the Texas Theatre in Shamrock Wednesday, September 10, when members elected directors and heard reports on operations for the past year. Rayburn L. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the two associations, was chairman.

All directors of both associations whose terms expired were re-elected and included for Wellington P. C. Cummings and Woodrow Wood, three year terms, and Emmert one year term; for Wheeler county, H. J. Finsterwald and T. C. Lott, three year terms, and Raymond Moore, one year.

We thank The First State Bank of Dodson and everyone who visited our booth at the Collingsworth County Fair, for helping us introduce many new processes to make Cotton more adaptable and desirable and to encourage people whose living depends on Cotton to Use More Cotton. As you know, we have not really sold our Cotton until some consumer is either using it or wearing it.

COTTON

is the foundation of our economy...
You can help make it stronger

With synthetics competing for our fiber market and foreign cotton production being increased, we are going to have to do a better job of growing, ginning and selling our Cotton cheaper.

We can best do this by using fertilizers, insecticides and better cultivation, and by ginning it on our own Co-Op gins, where we get it ginned for cost, and by selling through our co-operatives where the only interest is to get the farmer every dollar his Cotton is worth.

WE CAN HELP by handling the best fertilizers for this soil, at a price you can afford. We have the best and cheapest insecticide that can be found. We keep your gin improved with the best lint cleaning, drying and ginning methods known to the industry. We have proven in the past that we can sell your cotton as high or higher than anyone. We can put your Cotton in the government loan with the least trouble and expense to you than anyone, since whether you want to sell or put your cotton in the loan, we just issue you a check and we handle the papers here in our office.

VETCH THRIVES IN SALT FORK SCD

A healthy field of vetch is examined by Drury Lacy, owner, and George Hutchens of Soil Conservation Service. This crop is recommended for the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District as a winter cover crop, soil builder and for the humus it puts back in the land.

Time to Plant

Vetch Recommended for Winter Cover

With the arrival of the first fall rains, supervisors of Salt Fork Soil Conservation District are reminding co-operators it is not only time to think about soil building crops, it is time to do something.

A winter crop highly recommended by the district and Soil Conservation Service is vetch, excellent not only for soil improving, but also as a high residue crop and cover crop.

Interest in vetch is growing here, Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist of SCS, pointed out as he gave these reminders for planting.

Plant in moisture, inoculate the seed, and plant in September so plants can get growth before cold weather sets in.Like any other crop, vetch doesn't grow in the winter.

Plant with rye, oats or barley, or alone, at the rate of 10 pounds of vetch to 25 to 30 pounds of oats, barley or rye per acre.

Vetch is not as sure as such cover crops as rye, oats or barley, but it will add nitrogen to the soil. It is a slender plant that clings to other plants, and that is why it is usually planted with other crops.

Farmers of Salt Fork SCD now considering planting vetch this month are N. E. Childers, Otis Emmert, Frank Coleman, Lewis Morris and Fred Bourland, all of the Quail area, Lynn Carter of Kelley and Murl Lacy of Wellington.

Vetch may be planted in the cotten middles, using the Salt Fork SCD inter-row seeded, providing the cotton is not too tall.

Deadline Near on Tax Refund

County Agent Bob Lynch reminded this week that September 30 is the deadline for making application for the 3c per gallon federal gas tax refund for the period July 1, 1957 to June 30, 1958.

Most farmers received application forms through the mail, but those who have lost their blanks or did not receive one may get them from Lynch's office in the court house.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons Jr. of Parsons Drug were in Dallas for the early part of last week attending the gift show. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ansel McDowell of Hereford, formerly of Wellington.

Court Deplores State Action

The Commissioners court in a recent meeting passed a resolution condemning action of the state legislature which would require the Texas State Highway Department to pay utility companies for relocating lines and pipelines which must be moved under the expanded highway program.

The resolution, which the court requested that the Wellington Leader publicize, stated that the Texas Highway department has for many years allowed utility companies to use without cost or easement certain parts of the state's rights-of-way for relocating lines and pipelines.

The 55th Legislature passed HB 179, containing section 4 A requiring the state to pay the utility companies for re-locating utilities lines and pipelines.

The resolution called this the "largest give-away of taxpayers money in the history of Texas, costing an approximately $34,000,000.

The commissioners called this action "like giving a friend a horse, which he takes home to use and then later presents the giver with a feed bill."

The resolution, passed unanimously by the commissioners court, praised the Texas Highway Commission for urging a constitutional test of the legislation in the courts, and for carrying the case to the people of the state.

He carried the ball five yards; in the next three plays, Estes carried the ball for a total yardage of 23 yards. On a third down with four yards to go, Hollis was penalized 5 yards for delay of the game. On the fourth play and 6 yards to go, Hollis kicked and Carroll Nunnelley, halfback, ran the punt back for 27 yards.

The Rockets tried hard to gain yardage but four plays after gaining the ball were penalized for backfield in motion, making it first down and fifteen yards to go. Crosby fumbled on the next play and Hollis recovered.

However, the Rockets lost no time as Carroll Nunnelley intercepted a jump pass by Tiger, Bill Castleman, quarterback. The Rockets completed a pass for a first down.

On the next play the Rockets gained no yardage and on the 2 play and ten yards to go, Crosby fumbled and Hollis recovered.

Hollis' Jerry Darnel, end, and Carroll Sheid, halfback, doggedly started a scoring drive for Hollis. Bill Castleman carried the ball over for a touchdown and also carried the ball over for a 2 point conversion as Wellington attempted to defend the goal with an eight man defense.

Quarterback, Bill Castleman, of Hollis kicked for the Tigers and Carroll Nunnelley received but a mixup on the field caused the ball to be kicked two more times before the officials were satisfied. Bruce Crosby, quarterback, received on the last kick and carried the ball fifteen yards.

Wellington made 2 first downs but lost the ball on a fourth play to Hollis.Hollis made 3 first downs as Abercombie attempted several passes, completing one to Muse, end, for 19 yards. On a fourth play the Tigers lost the ball on downs.

Rocket Kent Peeples did the kicking for Wellington and Hollis' Larry Muse received at the beginning of the second half.

The Hollis Tigers started a drive from their own 36 yard line and with 5 downs behind them, end, Jerry Darnel, was over for a touchdown. Castleman handed off to Carroll Sheid who carried the pigskin over for an extra two points, making the score 16-0.

Six plays after the beginning of the quarter, Darnel of Hollis ran the ball over for a touchdown making the score 22-0. The try for extra points was no good.

Branch, tackle, again kicked off and Kent Peeples, 135 pound halfback, received, gaining good yardage but fumbled and Hollis recovered. After four first downs, Carrol Sheid was over for the fourth touchdown of the evening. Castleman attempted to make 2 more points for the Tigers but was foiled by the losing Rockets.

Hollis kicked but the pigskin went out of bounds and on the second try, pint-sized Kent Peeples of Wellington, received and amidst the roar of Rocket fans, ran the ball from the 25 yard line, 75 yards for a touchdown. The extra 2-point try was no good.

Hollis, who had sent in their second string a few minutes before, hurriedy jerked them out and sent the big boys back in.

Hollis made two first downs but Castleman fumbled and the hopeful Rockets recovered. Carroll Nunnelley took the ball and made a very good run but on the next pay Clinton Gibbs, fullback, fumbled and Hollis recovered.
