AUTO LICENSES IN COUNTY SHOW DECREASE

Approximately 5,118 passenger cars and 100 trucks have been registered in Lubbock county this far this year.

Due to the scarcity of ready money in the county at this particular time it is believed that a number of car owners have placed "old Lincolns" on the shelf until a time when they are better able to pay the taxes.

Approximately 290 machines have been registered here since February first, affording the county and state several hundred dollars of additional tax money.

SIXTEEN PLAINS COURT ENTRIES OPEN FIRST TECH TOURNEY HERE TODAY FOR DISTRICT SUPREMACY

With sixteen teams on hand for conflict, representing the basketball champions of many Plains counties, the District Intercollegiate basketball championship tournament got underway at the Tech and High school courts here at two o'clock this afternoon. The Muleshoe and Lorenzo quintets, at the Mulefoot gym, and the Littlefield and Lamesa squads at the high school court, opened the hostilities as Tech's first district basketball playoff formally came into being.

In the drawings held just before noon today the pairings were adjusted as follows: Tech 8379, Muleshoe and Lorenzo from two to three; Tahoma and Dickers, three to four; Floyd and Southland, four to five; Seminoe and Roaring Springs, five to six; High school gym, Littlefield and Lamesa, two to three; Brownfield and Brownfield, three to four; Lubbock and Brownfield, four to five; Stanton and Brownfield, five to six.

The evening's play at the high school gym will see the winners of the Lamesa-Muleshoe tilt matched with the winners of the Tahoma-Dickers survivors between eight and nine and the winners of the Seminoe-Roaring Springs game pitted against the winners of the Floyd and Southland game between nine and ten.

At the Tech gym the winners of the Littlefield and Lamesa game will contest the Brownfield-Littlefield victory between eight and nine and the winners of the Stanton-Dunn winners will meet the Lubbock-Plainview survivors during the next hour.

Saturday afternoon, at the Tech gym the two semifinal games will be played and Saturday night the final will decide the district championship. It will be run off approximately 160 athletes and coaches from the sixteen counties are here for the playoff and L. J. Von Engel and George Bucy, the officials looking forward to some strenuous arbitration. Bucy is a guard on the Matador five and Von Engel is a forward from the University of Oklahoma. Director Ewing Y. Freedland is more than pleased at the turnout for Tech's first district athletic tournament.

DOPESTERS FIGURE ON CONFERENCE ALL-STARS

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 12. (AP)—With more than a score of Southwest Conference basket-tossers qualified for serious consideration, sport writers already have started "doping out" the strongest possible five-man combination. The all-star teams officially will not be selected until early in March.

With exception of Texas University, every school in the conference will have more than one player to enter in the all-star combinations. Captain Esquivel of the Texas Longhorns from present indications, will be the only man from Coach "Doc" Stewart's team who will receive much consideration, and the best he may hope for is a berth on the second honor squad.

Three players have practically clinched positions on the first five. They are: Woolridge of the Southern Methodist University Mustangs and Rose of the Arkansas Razorbacks, guards; Mikel, Arkansas, center; Woolridge and Rose possess every attribute of the outstanding basketball player. Each is large, powerful, fast, a splendid dribbler, adept at handling the ball, and with a keen eye for the hoop. Rose, who towers six feet five inches, is the tallest player of the conference history, and about him are strong Arkansas defenses has been built.

Because of the large number of capable centers, many of the dopsters will shift Mikel to center, and place either George, of Texas Christian University, Slade of Baylor or Kyle of Texas A. & M. at center.

Ralph Nevinger, the great Rice representative, Kenner Strickland of Baylor and Captain Rolla Adams of Arkansas appear to be the three outstanding forwards of the conference, though Walker of Baylor, Mann of S. M. U. and Ayres of Arkansas have won well merited recognition. Last year Adams was acclaimed the outstanding basketballer in the conference, but he has been handicapped this season by illness, and unless he shows better form in the remaining six games he may not win conference honors.

Exclusive Right Of American Film Houses Cancelled

CANNES, France, Feb. 12. (AP)—The agreement giving an American concern exclusive rights to take motion pictures of the expected tennis match between Helen Wills and Suzanne Lenglen at the Carlton Club, next week was cancelled today.

It was announced that all camera men would be permitted to take pictures of the match. This decision was reached after a New York telegram to the Associated Press Corporation had been shown by the organizers of the tournament stating that four leading news reel companies in the United States would refuse the pictures of the exclusive concession, unless their own men were not permitted to film the match.

JOE BUSH WILL COMPLETE QUARTET OF EXPERIENCED PITCHERS FOR SENATORS

Joe Bush certainly believes in seeing America first via the baseball route.

Bush, recently traded by St. Louis to Washington, will be playing with his fifth American league club when he joins the champions.

Like a lot of other stars, Bush was discovered by Cornelius Mack. He cost Sir Connie all of 800 iron men. One of his scouts, wandering around Mississippi, Mont., saw Bush pitch and immediately bought him.

Bush, spent five years with Mack, who passed him to the Boston Red Sox. His next ticket read New York, where he tarried for three years, taking part in two world series. He pitched ball in 1923, the year the Yankees beat the Giants for the world title.

Deserting the East for the West, Bush spent last season in St. Louis. Now he comes back as a member of the Washington team, which completes his tour of the Eastern end of the circuit.

Bush, during the first six years of his major league career, won fame because of his great speed. He was known as "Bullet Joe" Bush.

JOINS FIFTH CLUB

After his transfer to the Boston club, Bush was of little use, due to an injury to his pitching arm.

Unable to baffle the batter with the old-time blinding speed, Bush resorted to cunning in an effort to prolong his career.

Not being called upon to do any pitching, Bush spent hours experimenting with a fork ball. He mastered what he called the fork ball. Incidentally the long rest (he was out an entire season) brought back much of his old-time speed.

Bush has a rather peculiar hand: Matadors threaten a rally, but this was short lived.

The Buffaloes will meet the New Mexico Military Institute Cadets here next Monday and Tuesday nights, and on Friday and Saturday of next week will meet Abilene Christian college here.

The Matadors returned home today, and will go to Abilene Monday where they open a five-game series, two each with Simmons and A. C. C. and one with McMurry.

his fingers are so widely separated that it was possible for him to grip the ball between the first two fingers and then deliver it in such a way that it breaks much after the manner of a spitball.

VETERAN PITCHERS

In securing Bush, Manager Harris of the Washington club is continuing his policy of depending on veteran pitchers.

Coveleskie and Reuther came through for him in great shape last season. They should win plenty of games this year.

Bush, who broke even last season with 14 wins and as many defeats, should help Harris in his effort to land another pennant. While he has not the burning speed of old, his fast ball still hops a bit and he's smart.

They say youth must be served in sport but that doesn't go for the Washington pitching staff. Of the 4 regulars, Johnson, Coveleskie, Bush and Reuther, the last named is the youngest, 2 years of age.

PLANS LAUNCHED FOR MUNICIPAL GOLF ASS'N

As the first touches of spring are being felt here, the sporting blood of local people, for which the American nation is famed, is beginning to evidence itself in many ways, but the most recent outburst of this enthusiasm has to do with the municipal golf course in the County Park in and near the canyon to the east of the city.

Plans have been instituted by two or three local golf enthusiasts for a rejuvenation of the interest in this phase of sport that held sway here last year, when many scores of local and visiting people took advantage of the opportunities offered by the municipal links and rumors have it that an organization meeting of the association will be held here tonight.

The property on which the course is located is under county supervision, being in the confines of the county park, but an agreement with county officials similar to the one under which the course was operated last year is in the course of preparation now, according to one local man who is interested in the project.

It is understood that the commissioner who is in charge of this precinct has agreed to re-condition the course, level up the greens and re-top them, bringing the course into first class condition, and in return the municipal association is to carry on the maintenance program, and take over management of the business end of the deal.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

DOWN in Kentucky, in a distant, secluded district of the rolling foothills, there stands a rude, primitive log cabin. It is a desolate little building, almost a hovel, and yet it is one of the greatest buildings in the world.

In Washington, fronting a wide, placid pool of water, rises a building which is everything the log cabin is not. It is spacious, stately, beautiful, built of marble to endure for centuries. And it is raised to honor the memory of the man who was born in the squalid cabin.

The log cabin was Abraham Lincoln's birthplace; the building at Washington is the Lincoln Memorial most beautiful of all the capital's monuments.

Considering first the one building and then the other, one wonders if people, centuries hence, will not almost think that Abraham Lincoln was a myth.

But the whole story of the man seems more like a tale that someone invented than the actual biography of a real man. It is perfect—almost unbelievable. A boy whose father was a primitive, backwoods settler—doomed, one would think, to a life of unthinking toil and an obscure grave; raised without education other than that which he dug out for himself by the light of a tallow candle; entirely without those advantages which the poorest citizens have today; yet he has this boy growing and expanding to the proportions of a Titan, rising in majesty and strength until he stands forth as one of the greatest figures the New World has produced! Is that not like a fairy tale?

And, as if that were not enough, we have this man retaining the common touch; a man, whose sympathies were as limitless as his vision; a man homely, commonplace, one of the vast crowd; a man with whom, we feel, we could sit down and joke as comfortably with as we could with the man next door.

And that, perhaps, is the greatest miracle of all. Lincoln is the one hero whom we, who never saw him, can truly love as well as admire. We feel that he is one of us; for all his greatness—that his awkward, tender smile flashed for John the bootblack and Tony the street cleaner as warmly as for little Tad Lincoln, who used to lounge on the great man's knee.

So we—Lincoln's people—have preserved the rude Kentucky hut from destruction simply because he lived there, and we have built a dazzlingly beautiful building in our capital—not to keep his memory alive, for it can never die, but to show to the world something of the north of our feeling for the boy who was born to the seat of the mighty.

And day after day the great figure of the great emancipator sits in the marble building and looks out over the blue horizon to where the white fumes of the Washington monument rise toward the sky. And as we look at the silent, majestic figure we feel that he is watching us, his countrymen, as we grow and develop and struggle on toward the distant shining goal that he saw so clearly; watching us with love and understanding, even with tolerance for the flannel-mouthed politicians who invoke his name so glibly, knowing that he was not mistaken in his people and that we will go on and on, forever, in the path he found for us.

BERLIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—The body of Marchioness Gabriella Serra, sister of the German actress Maria Graka, was found hanging in her room in the Bristol hotel last night. Police believe she committed suicide.

The Marchioness returned to the hotel early yesterday after having been elected from a fashionable West End club where she caused excitement by repeatedly shouting "Vive Mussolini" and urging others present, including a number of Italian film actors, to rise and join in a toast to the Italian premier.

The Marchioness de Brindemann, was 26 years old. She was born in Ekaterinoslav, Russia.

Texas G. O. P. Raps Party's Tactics In Southern Politics

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—President Coolidge was told today by representative Wurzback, Republican, Texas, that the Republican cannot make substantial gains in the South "until it abandons the vicious systems of swamping patronage for delegates to national conventions."

Mr. Wurzback, the only Republican in the Texas congressional delegation, said that aside from postoffice appointments he had no more voice in federal patronage in Texas than Democrats.

Republican national committeemen and state chairmen in various Southern states frequently seek to prevent the election of the Republican senator and representatives so they can retain exclusive patronage control.

DEATH RING CASE COMING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—The Department of Justice in a statement today said that "interesting developments" are expected in the Osgood murder case. The statement was made in connection with the formal announcement that Assistant Attorney General Lohring would make further inquiries into the deaths of Ann Roan and the Smith family.

Lohring left Tuesday for Oklahoma to assist Federal authorities here in pressing cases. New indictments will be asked of the federal grand jury which convenes tomorrow in the Roan case to meet objections to indictments returned by a grand jury at its first session some time ago.

WEDDING WILL BE ANNULLED, SAID

DALLAS, Feb. 12. (AP)—Annulment of an alleged unauthorized marriage in the county jail between 14-year-old Lucille Wilson and Albert Hedrick, a prisoner, was sought today in a suit filed here today by the District Attorney.

The couple is alleged to have been secretly married when the girl entered the jail with the minister under the pretense of being a visitor, clasped the prisoner's hand through the bars and was pronounced man and wife. The minister, M. M. Dunn, appears on the duly executed marriage license as having performed the ceremony.

Hedrick is held on a statutory charge in which the girl was to have been used as a witness. She cannot testify as his wife. The petition for annulment states fraud and coercion were used and that the girl was induced to wed the prisoner solely to defeat justice.

OLD TEXAS PAPER SOLD TODAY

MARSHALL, Tex., Feb. 11. (AP)—Purchase of the Jefferson Weekly Jimblecote, third oldest Texas newspaper by the News Messenger Publishing Company was announced today by the Marshall Messenger and Marshall Morning News. The Jimblecote will be merged into the Jefferson Journal, which will be published semi-weekly in Jefferson.

The Jimblecote's history is closely interwoven with developments of East Texas. In the days when Jefferson was the terminus for Red River water traffic, it was published as a daily, becoming a weekly later. Ward Taylor, widely known Texas editor, was its founder 61 years ago, and his daughter Miss M. I. Taylor succeeded him in the editorship. The Taylor family has conducted the newspaper continuously for 61 years.

Plant improvement is under way to enable the Journal to follow the style of modern semi-weekly publications.

1925 OIL OUTPUT IS NEW RECORD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—The petroleum output of the United States during 1925 is believed by the bureau of mines to have exceeded all previous records. The bureau today announced a "preliminary estimate" of 758,827,000 barrels, but at the same time it added in a statement that the final figures probably would reach 764,000,000 barrels, which would be an increase of 7 percent over the 1924 return, and an increase of 4.36 percent over the breaking total of 1923.

World production of crude oil in 1925 the bureau placed at 1,026,000,000 barrels, a 5.5 percent increase over 1924. This increase was largely due to increased production in the United States, which more than offset a reduction in Mexican production.

MOVIE SEX PLAYS ARE RAPPED

CHICAGO, Feb. 12. (AP)—Whether the unrestricted love-making of the South Sea Islands will become the vogue of American youth unless they are kept from sex stimulating motion pictures was discussed today by Prof. E. A. Ross of the University of Wisconsin, before the national picture conference.

"If we do not wish to continue in the direction we are moving," he asserted, "it will be necessary for parents to do some hard thinking to arouse public opinion and find means of separating the movie plays children are to be admitted to from those of adults."

"Victory will not be won, he held, unless parents become aroused to the insidious effect of passionate dramas upon the souls of their boys and girls."

COURT MAKES ITS TEXAS RULING

WACO, Feb. 12. (AP)—The tenth court of civil appeals here today ruled that the county commissioners' court may not transfer or use the jury fund, road or bridge fund and other special funds to defray the general expenses of the county. It was held by the court here in reversing and rendering the case of George F. Wallace, et al vs. the commissioners' court of Madison county, involving a contract for making abstracts of all property on which delinquent taxes were due, that the county had no power to use any except the general funds of the county to pay for the work demanded on said contract.

Certain citizens of Madison county instituted proceedings to have the county judge and county commissioners by that county removed from office for having executed the contract. When the case was tried in Grimes county it was held that the officials had not

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 12. (AP)—The San Antonio Light says today that financiers from the automobile production centers are negotiating with San Antonio interests for the purchase of a large tract of land in the winter garden section.

"In the deal is seen the first move toward making Texas one of the largest rubber producing areas in the world, thus divorcing this country from dependency upon foreign supply," the story says.

Following up the move, members of the San Antonio manufacturers association today active steps to exploit Texas, the native home of the guayule plant, as the hope of this country to become independent of the foreign control of rubber.

Members of the association will begin at once, according to C. C. Lee, secretary, to gather information about rubber plants growing wild in Texas and possibilities of their cultivation.

SOCIAL SELLING TIME

MUCH thought—even worry—has been given to the possible inroads social and entertainment-seeking activities might make upon the value of your Evening Newspaper Sales Message. When reduced to cold figures it stacks up something like this:

American Cities Grouped by Population	Percentage of Families Socially Engaged One Evening Weekly
10,000 to 15,000	68.0%
15,000 to 30,000	97.7%
30,000 to 60,000	63.1%
60,000 to 100,000	85.8%
Over 100,000	74.4%

This most illuminating table reduces this imaginary hazard to a negligible quantity, especially so when it is discoverable that this one lonely Evening a week, that, at best, attracts no more than 75% of the families, is, in nearly 84% of the instances, SATURDAY.

—as a matter of fact, Evening Diversions actually ADD to Evening Newspaper Value!

For instance, at the Evening Bridge Party: "Mary, did you notice that Marco's are advertising a sale of party frocks for tomorrow?" "No! are they? Well I need one badly; but I did notice a sale of aluminum ware at the Emporium, my dear, that will help you find that breakfast percolator you want." "Oh, good!—let's go down tomorrow." "All right."

Doesn't that sound familiar?

Just so it happens—at any Evening function—on the way to a movie, between the acts at the theater, when the "dummies" compare notes between deals at bridge; anywhere, everywhere that women or men gather of an Evening you hear the "open forum discussion" of the next day's possible purchases, all based on gleanings from the before-hand perusal of the sales messages found in the Evening Paper.

It is good to appreciate the multiplying value, for your sales message, of "Social Selling Time."

The POWER of

Evening is Planning Time
—heaviest Evening advertising volume always precedes broken sales records.

Women want Evening Papers
—they spend ninety cents of every good American Dollar and heaviest Retail Advertising Volume, planned to interest that Dollar, runs in Evening Papers.

Home Readers
—Evening Papers are homeward bound when purchased.

Twice the Action
—swift, modern transportation permits full coverage of both city and suburban fields today for tomorrow's sales, with an Evening Paper.

The Proof of the Pudding
—department stores, chain stores and markets distribute the BULK of the Nation's merchandise; their heaviest advertising campaigns are launched in Evening Newspapers.

ADDED IMPETUS IS GIVEN CONTEST BY BANQUET

The banquet held Wednesday night by the Lubbock merchants co-operating in the California Tours campaign to express their appreciation for the work being done by the forty ladies contesting for the two trips offered, has given added impetus to the project.

At the end of the campaign a group of business men will be named by the merchants to audit the votes and decide by their number the winners of the two trips. No one knows how many votes have been cast to the credit of any candidate and the ballot box is kept locked, the only key being in the possession of John Denman, cashier of the First National bank.

VILLA'S HEAD TO BE EXAMINED BY BRAIN EXPERTS

Head Stolen From Grave In Mexico Now Enroute To Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 12. (AP)—Chicago scientists have admitted that the head of Francisco Villa, described as "the greatest criminal of the age," is on its way to Chicago for examination by experts.

The disappearance of Villa's head from the bandit chieftain's grave near Parral, Mexico, one night in February was followed by a story in El Grafico of Mexico City that an "eccentric Chicago millionaire interested in criminology" had financed the theft.

The Chicago millionaire has not been identified, but Dr. Orlando P. Scott, prominent brain specialist, has announced that he expected the head would arrive here within a few days.

Experts To Examine Head. "The head will be examined from a pathological standpoint by experts, from universities and colleges, he said, but he said he was not at liberty to divulge any other information and refused to discuss whether any Chicagoan had been involved in the affair.

Another Chicagoan, Dr. James Witney Hall, noted alienist and criminologist, also expressed interest, adding that getting Villa's skull and brain for study.

"We want to see what the bumps show," he said. "I suppose Villa was the greatest criminal of this age, and of course that fact gives his head scientific value."

Asked to whom he referred when he said "we," Dr. Hall was quoted as saying "Oh, I can't reveal the names of my associates," flatly refusing to discuss the subject further.

A band of five obtained Villa's head, reports from Parral said. They opened the grave late at night, broke open one end of the concrete coffin and decapitated the body. Near the grave they left a note that the missing head would be carried to Columbus, N. M., the town Villa and his band raided ten years ago. Two men, one described as an American soldier of fortune, and a Mexican companion were held by the Parral authorities on February 7. They claimed they had been in Durango hunting big game.

RANCHMEN SEEK TO HALT MEXICAN HEGIRA

BRAWLEY, Calif., Feb. 12. (AP)—With about 150,000 Mexicans in Southern California facing deportation because of failure to pay $16 head tax each on entering the United States, business men and ranchmen of the Imperial Valley today took advantage of an agreement with federal immigration officials whereby they will pay the tax and accept repayment from their Mexican employes by installments.

This, it was said, will prevent a sudden shortage of labor. Immigration officers estimated that 75 per cent of the Mexican population of California faces deportation, having entered the country without having paid the tax.

Six thousand dollars had been raised last night by subscription toward paying head tax. All Mexicans in the Valley who entered the country without a passport are being rechecked. The immigration service is expected to report today if the plan succeeds it will.

CUMMINS STILL GOING STRONG IN TEST DRIVE

CHEVROLET IS STANDING STRAIN IN ADMIRABLE MANNER ON 72ND HR.

With seventy-eight hours of constant driving behind him and a total of forty-two hours more to go to make good his boast, Jimmie Cummins, Lubbock man, driving a Chevrolet stock model roadster, was still going strong on his 120 hour endurance test as the Daily Journal went to press today.

The Chevrolet roadster was still purring along in tip-top shape, unhurt by its gruelling test thus far and the physical condition of its driver was keeping pace with the machine. Geo. P. Kuykendall, manager of the Kuykendall Chevrolet company, said. If Cummins is successful in his 120 hour test he will beat the record of "Dare-Devil" Lockwood, internationally famous stunt driver and flyer, who last year drove for 160 consecutive hours.

Up until this afternoon Cummins had driven all over Lubbock and Lubbock county several times and had visited Littlefield, Slaton, Plainview, Levelland, Idalou, Lorenzo, Ralls, Hale Center and Abernathy in his driver. He is the owner of the Cummins Battery company and is making the test mostly for his own satisfaction. Oil and gas on the jaunt is being furnished him by Howell Brothers, owners of the 555 Service station.

There are many skeptics who do not believe Cummins is making the test in all fairness. Mr. Kuykendall told the Journal, "But I know that he is. He has had a man with him practically all of the time and I believe that both he and the Chevrolet are capable of standing up under the heavy grind."

The test was started at ten o'clock Tuesday morning and will close at that hour on Sunday morning.

Credit Board Of Local Retailers Hold Weekly Meet

Members of the credit committee of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association held their regular weekly credit meeting at the offices of the organization in the City Hall this afternoon. The meeting got under way at one-thirty and held over for more than one hour.

These credit meetings, G. O. Reeves, manager of the association, says, are helping a great deal to make the retailers organization more efficient. There is more interest shown in the organization by retailers here at this time than ever before in the history of the city, he states.

Windsor Organizing Retail Merchants Ass'n. At Lamesa

Tinnon Windsor, formerly head of the Retail Merchants association here, has taken a similar position in Lamesa and is organizing an association for the business men of the Dawson county seat, G. O. Reeves, secretary of the retailers here, said today.

According to Mr. Reeves, who was in Lamesa on business Thursday night, Mr. Windsor has already secured about thirty members and expects to have every retail merchant in Lamesa in his organization soon. Prior to going to Lamesa, Mr. Windsor was secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Littlefield.

Local Men Aid Reorganization Drive At Lamesa

The Chamber of Commerce at Lamesa is staging a reorganization drive and the Dawson county capital will soon have one of the best organizations of its kind on the Plains. A. B. Davis, manager, and Garnett O. Reeves, assistant manager, of the Chamber of Commerce here, reported Friday afternoon returning from a meeting of the executive committee in Lamesa on Thursday.

Thirty-seven business men, making up the executive committee, met with Messrs. Davis and Reeves and laid plans for a membership campaign. C. T. Watson, secretary of the organization presided at the meeting and after a discussion it was decided to adopt the Lubbock plan of campaign. K. L. Forrest was selected as Colonel of teams and M. C.
