The other position is High School History, but Mr. Spears thinks he may have a teacher for this post.

Bill Sharpley, Corsicana, assistant coach and teacher in High School. He is a 1952 graduate of Texas Tech, where he lettered at end two years on the football team.

Gordon Hensley, Levelland, first and second years High School English and Spanish, 1952 graduate of Texas Tech. Hensley will journey to Mexico City with a group of Spanish students the second summer semester.

Carter, and Urban Brown, Spears, Mrs. Zuma McWhirter, and Grade School Principal Archie Sims are the others holding M. A. degrees.

Others who are doing work at Tech this summer toward their M. A. degrees are: Floyd Tubb, Mrs. Linnie Finch, Mrs. Frances Dunagan, and Mrs. Myrl Mathis.

Also attending Tech are: Mrs. Miriam Hutchison, Mrs. Mary Williams, and Mrs. Gwen Patterson.

Methodist Men Hear Ramsour

Rev. Lee Ramsour, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Methodist Men in Fellowship Hall of the church Monday night.

Rev. Ramsour spoke on "Individual Responsibility," and declared we can best combat the "isms" by adherence to our own religion. The men greatly enjoyed his talk.

The program was arranged by "Cotton" Carter and Roy Edwards. A dinner of cold meats and salads was prepared and served by Clyde Briley and Harold Green.

President Clint Walker announced that the program for next month's meeting would be arranged by V. F. Jones and Harley Henderson, while Jess Gurley and Mel Leslie will arrange the meal.

Talk By Congressman Mahon, Music By KSEL Band At Farm Bureau Meet

A talk by Congressman George Mahon, music by Hi-Pockets and his band from radio station KSEL, and watermelon for refreshments will feature the big meeting open to the public at Tahoka High School on Friday night, July 25, sponsored by Lynn County Farm Bureau.

Watermelon will be served on the campus at 8:00 p. m. to all comers by the Farm Bureau, Guy Smith announces.

The crowd will then move to the auditorium for a talk by Hon. George Mahon on the Farm Bureau and other subjects of special interest to farmers.

A two-hour show of music and comedy will be presented by Hi-Pockets and his band from Station KSEL, Lubbock.

Everyone is being invited to the event, Mr. Smith says, and a good meal and plenty of watermelon is promised. Mr. Mahon is an outstanding speaker, and the entertainers are popular wherever they go.

There will be no admission charged.

Miss Frieda Lichey, 49, died at her home about eight miles north of Tahoka at 2:25 a. m. Sunday following a long illness.

Funeral services were held at 3:00 p. m. Monday in the First Baptist Church in Tahoka, with Rev. C. C. Ehler, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church of Wilson, and Rev. Firemen Due Credit For Quick Action

Quick and efficient action by Tahoka Fire Department prevented serious damage by fire to the J. H. Kuykendall house, occupied by the H. M. Rose family, at 1928 North First Street at about 8:45 a. m. Friday.

An electrical short in a ceiling box had set fire to the sheetrock and rafters. The firemen extinguished the fire without use of water, and thereby kept down damage to the house. Damage was estimated at only $55.00.

Police Chief J. B. Florence thinks the firemen are due great credit for their quick action. He also points out that they always try to put out such fires with a minimum amount of damage to property. If water had been used in this case, there would have been considerably more damage.

Negress Victim Cutting Scrape

An O'Donnell Negro woman is in jail here charged with assault with a deadly weapon following a cutting scrape in that city at about 10:30 a. m. Wednesday.

She is alleged to have slashed another Negro woman, known as Marie, across the shoulder with a straight-edge razor. A gash possibly six or seven inches long and an inch deep was cut in Marie's shoulder. The latter was taken to Dr. Jo Lehman's clinic, where the wound was closed.

Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Bolin made the arrest. He said the Negro woman, believed to be drunk, was making threats to other Negroes. When he arrived on the scene, on the street, the woman was making slashes at both men and women who were present. Bolin grabbed her arm holding the razor, but not before she had slashed Marie. After considerable difficulty, Bolin managed to take the weapon away from the Negress.

Farmers Should Sign Up Now For Pickers In Fall

To the Farmers of Lynn County: The Lynn County Farm Labor Association, with offices in Tahoka wishes to make an appeal to farmers who will need Mexican National labor to harvest cotton to join the Association and make application for laborers immediately.

To get laborers for the cotton harvest requires about six weeks. Most of this time is consumed in paper work that must clear all labor offices from Lamesa to Washington, D. C. After paper work is complete, members will be able to get hands in four to ten days.

If you join this Association, then decide that you do not want the laborers, your only obligation is to notify the Association two weeks before your application goes into effect.

This association needs your support and your membership. If you desire membership, contact John Inman, Route 1, Tahoka. (Signed) Albert Curry, Sec'y.

Mr. Chapman is a Floydada attorney who has served as district judge and as district attorney.

Traffic Violations Increased By Influx Of Choppers

Due to the fact that the influx of cotton choppers this year is greater than usual, Chief of Police J. B. Florence asks that motorists in the city of Tahoka be a little more careful in their driving and parking habits.

As the streets are more crowded than they usually are at this time of year, the police are tightening down on traffic enforcement.

The city has placed a new stop sign in the business district at the intersection of South First and Main, at the First National Bank corner, and motorists are requested to take note of the same.

Florence says that during the past week, tickets have been given ten motorists for traffic violations, and police have arrested two for drunkenness, one for disturbance, one for investigation, and one on a warrant issued last March.

On the whole, he believes our local people are cooperating in a fine manner in the drive for better observance of traffic laws.

Wilson Church Plans Revival

The Wilson Methodist Church has announced that it will hold the annual summer revival services this year. The date has been set for August 3 through August 10, 1952.

Rev. Clarence Stevens, pastor of the Methodist Church, Morton, has accepted the call to preach the messages during the week. Rev. Stevens was pastor of the Methodist Church of Wilson several years ago for a period of six months which was terminated by his volunteering to the call for Chaplains by the U. S. Armed Services, during World War II.

Douglas W. Gossett is present pastor of the church. He came to this church from the Wheatland Methodist Church in Dallas county, where he served as student-pastor while studying for his Bachelor of Divinity degree at Perkins School of Theology, S. M. U. He received the Bachelor of Arts degree from McMurry College, Abilene, 1949. He surrendered to the call to preach the Gospel of Christ while serving as a soldier of World War II. He and his wife, Betty, are natives of Garza county. They have two children, Warren, who is five years, and Gayle, who is six months old.

Harold Horton underwent an emergency appendectomy at Tahoka Hospital Monday night. He is reported improving.

Negro Fined On Assault Charge

R. Q. Mayse, Lubbock Negro, paid off a fine of $50.00 and costs here this week on a charge of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

Mayse is alleged to have shot into a house occupied by some other Negroes "over on the hill" on the night of July 4.

A Mexican man, Raymon Padio, was fined $50.00 and costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated on the streets of Tahoka Sunday. His wife and a male companion were fined for drunkenness.

Still another man was fined for reckless driving.

Negro Dies After Argument Here

An autopsy performed here Wednesday on a Negro woman, Bessie Browden, who died Tuesday midnight under peculiar circumstances, failed to reveal any unnatural cause of death, or rather the examining physician was unable to determine the cause of death.

However, Otis Mitchell, 38, a local Negro man, has been charged with aggravated assault as an outgrowth of the death and threats the man made on the woman's daughter early Tuesday night, according to Sheriff "Slick" Clem.

Clem told The News that Mitchell and Mrs. Browden's daughter, Lillie Mae Williams, were having some kind of an argument that night in the Browden home. The girl ran to her mother's room for protection from the man, and the mother advised the girl to leave.

In the excitement, the older woman became violently ill. She was taken to Tahoka Hospital at about 10:00 p. m., where she died two hours later.

Funeral services for the woman, age 49, a resident of Tahoka for nine years, were held at the Holiness Church in the "colored" part of town Thursday afternoon, and burial followed in the local cemetery.

Congratulations:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Reid on the birth of twins, a boy and a girl, in West Texas Hospital at Lubbock Tuesday afternoon. The girl was born at 2:40 p. m., weighed 5 pounds 11 ounces, and has been named Denise. The boy was born at 2:59 p. m., weighed 6 pounds 11 1/2 ounces, and has been named Danny. All but Charles are doing fine, and Charles is expected to recover. The Reids have one other child, Mike, nearly five.

Mr. and Mrs. Sefarino Lopez on the birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds 2 ounces at Tahoka Hospital at 10:18 p. m. Monday.

Rotarians Told Scout Progress

Bill Postma, district Boy Scout executive, was the speaker at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

He told of the rapid growth of the Boy Scout movement in this section in recent years. There now are 1,900 scouts in this council, compared to 1,600 last year, and three times as many as there were ten years ago.

Postma told of the development of Camp Post, and the growing popularity of the summer camp which is being attended by more and more boys each year. This camp, established 20 years ago, is now just about complete with nearly every facility needed, including swimming pool, water system, sewer facilities, dining hall, custodian's home, etc.

He also told of the camp being developed near Silverton for advanced Scouts, and of plans now underway for a third camp in the mountains near Pecos, New Mexico.

Clay McCoy of Jackson, Miss., formerly of Tahoka, was present and spoke extemporaneously. Clay is closely identified with Scouting in that city, and he spoke interestingly of the program there.

Special guests were H. B. McCord, Jr., local scoutmaster, and E. B. Gaither, local commissioner. The program was arranged by Happy Smith.

Rains have continued to fall over Lynn county during the past week, and crop prospects are growing better all the time.

Since The News was published last Thursday, Tahoka has received a total of 2.40 inches. This includes .10 in a shower Friday, .22 of an inch Sunday afternoon, .205 Monday night and Tuesday morning, and .03 Tuesday.

In spots over the county, the rainfall has been heavier than in Tahoka. East of town, Monday night and Tuesday four or more inches of rain fell. L. S. Lightner, two miles east and one north, reported 4.25, and Lonnie Howell, four miles east, is reported to have registered 4.8 inches.

Most of the south and east part of the county received heavy rains, while the fall was lighter in the north and northwest.

All the county has sufficient moisture at this time. Farmers report that cotton is growing well. Some have brought in blooms, and some have stalks with small bolls. However, this is early cotton and most of the acreage is later, planted around June 1.

Weeds are also doing well, but whenever the fields are dry enough the farmers are busy getting rid of most of these with plows and hoe hands.

At the present time, prospects are bright that this year's crop may be the biggest in the history of the county, if not the best. The county has at least 320,000 acres in cotton, the largest acreage in cotton on record.

O'Donnell Rodeo Next Week End

O'Donnell's ninth annual rodeo will be held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights of next week, July 24, 25, and 26, in the rodeo arena there under sponsorship of O'Donnell Roping Club.

"Goat" Mayo of Petrolia is the producer again this year, and he is said to have some "salty" stock. Prizes totaling $1,550.00 are being offered cowboys.

A parade will be held each afternoon, and a rodeo queen is to be crowned.

The O'Donnell rodeo is one of the best in the country, and no doubt it will draw a large crowd of people from this area.

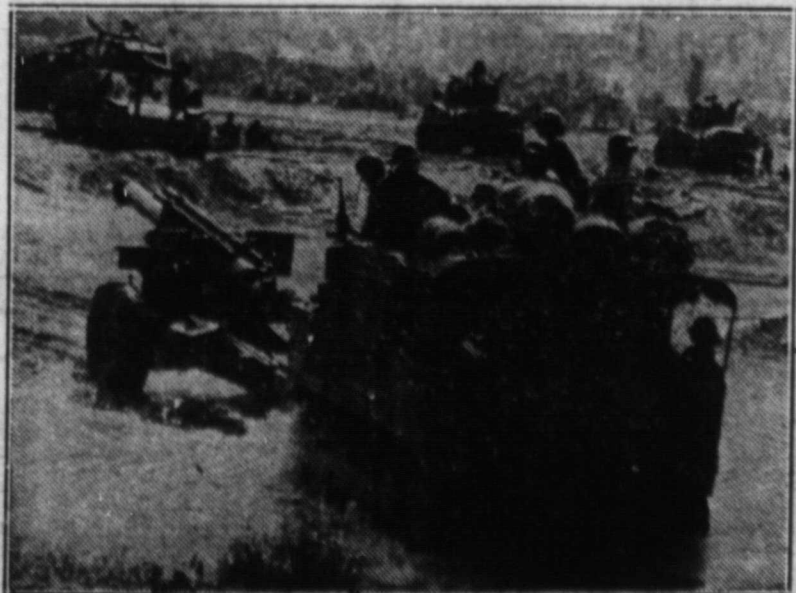

Youth Injured On Draw Farm

Junior Decker, 15, had a narrow escape from death last Friday while plowing in the field of his brother-in-law, David Williams, at Draw. He fell from the tractor he was driving, was run over by the machine, and received a compound break of the left arm and serious body injuries.

While he was plowing at about 5 p. m., a wire hung on the front on the 4-row cultivator. In an attempt to pull the wire loose without stopping the tractor, he fell under the machine, and the big wheel passed over his body. His left arm was broken just above the wrist, and the jagged bone punched through the flesh.

Junior got up and took after the tractor but could not catch it. David Williams, who was plowing about a quarter of a mile away, rushed to the scene. After stopping the tractor, he put Junior on it and carried him to the house. Mrs. Williams had gone to town in their car, and Mr. Williams went to a neighbor's house, borrowed a pickup, and carried the youth to Dr. Jo Lehman at O'Donnell. After receiving emergency treatment there, he was carried to Lamesa for further treatment. No other broken bones were found, and he was able to come home early this week.

The annual Seedsmen's Short Course will be at College Station on July 22-24.

Water Losses In Irrigation

LUBBOCK, July 16.—Can you imagine losing 30 to 50 per cent of every glass of water you try to drink?

Of course, the example is far-fetched, but the figures are right for water loss in open-ditch irrigation, according to Dr. Arthur Young, head of the departments of agriculture engineering and agronomy at Texas Tech.

Tech has eliminated water loss in a 200-acre, livestock pasture irrigation venture installed in April. Dr. Young said it's all done with underground concrete pipes and rises, spaced at desired intervals. Surface caps allow the water to be used or shut off as needed.

Dr. Young estimates the cost of installing such a system from $1 to $1.10 a foot, depending on the number of rises. Water savings from evaporation and seepage offset the cost of installation, he said. In addition, there are no longer the open ditch problems of how to get water uphill and keeping weeds from growing around the ditch.

Dr. Young pointed out that seepage loss in the open ditch will always be the same regardless of the amount of water used in any situation. From this, he explains, the farmer with a low-flowing well would be particularly benefitted by an underground system.

Proper joint fittings and the use of rubber seals, both to stop underground seepage, will increase water-use efficiency, he said.

These and other problems have been worked out, and Tech's livestock pasture irrigation system stands as an example of efficient underground watering.

Think safely and act safely every day. Make every week farm safety week on your farm. Don't be, this year or ever, one of those who'll take the last ride to "I Took A Chance Cemetery."

Lawns, for best growth and appearance, need every 30-40 days an application of nitrogen. Grasses are heavy nitrogen feeders. Water should be applied to the lawn after the application and whenever the plants wilt from dry weather.

AUSTIN JUDGE IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

If for any reason you do not have too much admiration for our present governor, Allan Shivers, you might be able to find a satisfactory candidate for governor in the person of Judge Ralph Yarborough formerly a District Judge in and for Travis county. He is basing his fight against Shivers on the grounds that he, Shivers, "is conspiring to deprive Texas counties of a total of more than $77,000,000 annually." Shivers, he says, favors the taking of all road-user taxes away from the counties and channeling them into the hands of the state highway commission in Austin, to be expended as that body might determine. He claims that this would involve a total loss of $151,247.00 by Lynn county. It would also lose the one-cent portion of gasoline taxes now going to the county fund.

Of course the state highway commission might use a portion of these monies in the construction of highways and farm-to-market roads in Lynn county, but the highway commission would have authority to use these funds for road construction as it might see fit, and Lynn county might not be able to get back its rightful share of these funds. It might be well for Lynn county voters to consult the county judge and county commissioners on this matter, and then vote as their judgment, in light of all the facts, might dictate.

Judge Yarborough is reputed to be a man of the strictest integrity and an able judge of the court over which he presided. Also he has long been active in church work.

Hints On Control Of Coackroaches

AUSTIN. —A dime store paint brush and a few ounces of chlordane are the only tools you need to run off those pesky coackroaches, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox advises.

But he says keeping them off is a bigger job.

Roaches are disease carriers from way back, the health officer pointed out. They've been found naturally infected with polio virus. And that alone is reason enough to declare war against the filth ridden pests. Here's the way to do it:

First: Get a 2 per cent chlordane spray and a two-bit paint brush from the drug store. Then take all the pots, pans, and dishes from the kitchen cabinet and wash them in soapy water.

Now paint the chlordane into all the cracks where shelves join walls, and around the drain and water pipes. That's all—don't paint the whole cabinet. While the spray is drying in the cabinets, paint in the corners of baseboards, behind the stove and the hot water heater where water and gas poples enter the house.

Take off the motor panel of the refrigerator, and treat the floor and corners of the motor compartment. Paint the walls behind the refrigerator, because roaches will hide any place they can find protection. Be sure to paint around bathroom pipes, too.

In older houses it's possible that roaches will be hiding in cracks between the wall boards and window frames. So don't pass up a crack because it looks too small to harbor roaches. The young insects are mighty small.

After the spray in the cabinets has dried thoroughly, cover the shelves where dishes and food are stored with paper.

You can get a can of caulking compound for just a few cents, which makes filling cracks permanently an inexpensive process. But run some of the spray into cracks before sealing them up. This will kill ants, too.

All this will help you get rid of roaches, Dr. Cox emphasizes. But if you leave food exposed, they'll soon be back at the same old stand.

Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Thomas have just returned from a vacation of two weeks spent on the Pacific coast running from Los Angeles to San Francisco. They also went out to the mountains and saw the great Red Cedars that have become one of the arboreal wonders of the world.

Mrs. W. G. Lyons of Galveston and Miss Susan Thomas, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Thomas of Tahoka, have returned from a seven-weeks vacation spent on and along the Gulf coast.

Wilson Team Is First In League

Wilson clinched a first place finish in the Lynn County Junior Baseball League last Sunday with an 8 to 5 victory over New Home. Leonard Breiger won his sixth game of the year as he and Thomas Mason hurled good steady ball for Wilson.

James Foster lost his second game without a victory as he was backed by a crippled New Home line-up.

The game was played at Wilson.

Bill Strange Motors of Tahoka, behind the four hit pitching of big "Punk" White, set Southland down with a 5-1 defeat at Southland park last Sunday.

White gave one run to Southland in the first frame, and blanked his opponents the rest of the way. Jerry Crossland was the losing pitcher.

On Sunday, July 6, Wilson defeated Tahoka 13 to 7, and Southland nosed out New Home 6 to 5.

Next Sunday, Bill Strange Motors will play New Home at New Home. "Punk" White (2-3) or Lynn Halameick (3-0) will pitch for Tahoka, and James Foster (0-2) or Bill Smith (1-3) will go for New Home.

Also, Wilson will meet Southland at Southland, with Leonard Breiger (6-1) pitching for Wilson, and Curley Lewis (2-1) or Jerry Crossland (1-1) going for Southland. Games start at 2:15.

Next Sunday will be the final scheduled games in the league. Should Tahoka defeat New Home and Wilson lose to Southland, there would be a first place tie, and an extra game would have to be played between Wilson and the Tahoka team to see who finishes 1-2. But, if Wilson and New Home win, the play-offs will take place as scheduled between the top three teams. New Home doesn't have a chance for the play-offs, but can hurt Tahoka's standing considerably.

"Scotchlite" Tape Put On Bicycles

"Scotchlite" reflector tape was put on 48 local bicycles last Saturday morning by Tahoka Boy Scouts, according to Scoutmaster H. B. McCord, Jr.

However, the tape did not stick well, possibly due to damp weather, and McCord says another batch of the tape has been ordered for replacing that put on bicycles last Saturday.

The tape is being donated by Reid Parker, and Jack Waldrup was host at a free picture show at the Rose Theatre while the tape was being applied. The Scouts and Mr. McCord have asked The News to express their thanks publicly for their efforts in this safety program.

Bicycle owners are asked to watch this paper for an announcement of a date for applying the new tape to bicycles.

At Monday night's Boy Scout meeting, slide pictures were shown of local scenes, of New Mexico, and of the recent Albany Fan dangle.

W. H. HINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

The departure from the Department of Justice of H. Graham Morrison, assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division was not unexpected.

The cynical Washington observation is that the quickest way for anyone in this job to return to private life is to do the job for which he is paid.

In the past ten or twelve years, five men have filled this office. By and large, they have been capable, energetic men. Before Morrison there was Bergson, before that Berge, and so on and on.

The departure of Morrison from office was predicted on May 28, when he released to Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, the most comprehensive report ever issued on the problems of combatting the growth of monopoly in the United States. Two weeks later, Morrison returned to private life.

This repeated procedure causes Washington to comment that certain power-mad factions will never be satisfied until their choice of an assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division is selected.

It is understood this faction wants to fill this most important office in the Justice Department with an Egyptian mummy.

It is further understood that through their connections with foreign monopolies, extensive dossiers have been built up on known Egyptian mummies, and every known mummy meets their qualifications.

Shivers Agin Auto Inspection Law; "Shall Change It or Repeal It," He Says

By Ben Kaplan, Press Staff Writer

Governor Allan Shivers today said that the new auto inspection law should either be modified or repealed.

The Governor told the Press before he left Austin for Houston to make a campaign appearance that he had some ideas for changing the controversial law.

His idea is to take the red tape and confusion out of the law. "The law was intended to bring about real safety and not inconvenience," said Governor Shivers.

"We need to stop killing on the highways. Texas has become the number one State in the United States for murder on the highways."

"The Legislature passed this inspection law by a vote of 117 to 12 in the House of Representatives and 19 to 9 in the State Senate, with the thought that it would save more than 200 Texas lives each year. If the law fails to do this and instead causes confusion and inconvenience, it ought to be changed or repealed."

The Governor said that he would recommend to the next session of the Legislature that it re-study and examine this law in view of the experience and either modify or repeal it.

(Several months ago, when it became apparent that the new law was causing inconvenience and confusion, Governor Shivers ordered it suspended until it can be reviewed by the Legislature.)

(Pol. Adv. — Paid for by Jack Dillard)

All are silent, inactive, know nothing about free American enterprise, or anti-trust laws. In addition, all of them, when alive, believed in and practiced monopoly. After all, the building of the pyramids with slave labor was a perfect example of monopoly at work.

But on the serious side, great congressional consideration is being given by both parties on a method whereby the enforcement of anti-trust laws can be removed from the pressures and cross-currents that drown any able man doing a job in the office.

In Morrison's case, his complete report threw the spotlight on many grave illegal conditions prevailing. He was also pushing important cases that would lower living costs for all Americans; create more opportunity for independent business.

Yet despite all attempts to head off anti-trust law enforcement at high level it is significant that in the past few years there has been more action in this direction than in all of the previous 25 years. The demands of the people have become a heavy ground swell which cannot be stopped.

It is also interesting to note that Morrison, and his predecessors in the past ten years could have stayed on if content to do nothing. Therefore, it is a tribute to the honesty and integrity of men who have headed the anti-trust division that they have been forced out.

It sums up the big problem before Congress now.

That problem is to devise ways and means so that a capable honest man in this job cannot be pushed out at will, just as any drive to run J. Edgar Hoover out of office dies aborning.

The Hard Way—Denver waitress Evelyn Marshall yielded to a "sudden impulse" dived out her fifth-floor window, damaged a tin ventilator shaft on the second floor, bounced off the top of a car onto a parking lot, finished up in the hospital suffering only a broken tooth and a stomachache, and told physicians, "This has taught me a lesson. I'll never jump through the window again."

Home grown feeds, especially pastures and other forages, are the cheapest and best feeds for dairy cattle. Using a silo for storage is one of the best practices dairymen can follow—"canned pasture," that's a descriptive term for silage, should be included on every dairy cow's menu at certain times during the year.

National Farm Safety Week will be observed from July 20-26. It's a mighty good time to take an inventory of the accident hazards around the farm. Find them and remove them. Last year some 14,500 rural residents died from accidents. Don't let an accident rob you and your family of this year's crop.

Taking chances either when working or playing can lead to disaster. Never swim when exhausted and never dive into water unless you know what is immediately below the surface. Practice safety on every job or when participating in recreational activities or driving.

The Law Can Be In Simple Language

Any document signed by a Lynn county citizen may someday have to be interpreted by the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo. In over 41 years the court has existed, it has decided over six thousand civil cases. It is the interest of the people of Lynn county that qualified men of the people sit on that high court. Judge Joe S. Moss of Garza county believes that legal papers and proceedings should be in language of the people, rather than in legal fine print. Judge Moss will help simplify and speed up the machinery of the law. Ask the people who know him. Vote for Moss. A Civil Judge for a Civil Court.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

As this column enters its third year in the weekly newspapers of America, recent Congressional actions reveal the influence wielded by weekly newspapers and their readers.

Events also prove if Americans are given facts, they will act to correct existing evils. So far the independent weekly newspapers of America have stood alone in bringing forth undiluted facts, letting chips fall where they may.

Significantly Congress did far more than stop government power to control consumer credit, and to cut down the powers of the OPS or Office Plenty Screw. Unnoticed, Congress took an even more important step.

Congress at the same time passed a measure to aid and encourage American newspaper production. An attempt will now be made to combat the foreign monopoly squeezing the life-blood out of independent newspapers.

Action was taken despite previous protests by State Secretary Dean Acheson that nothing should be done to antagonize Canadian newspaper producers despite constant price increases totalling more than 150%.

In Washington leaders of independent business have long urged Congressmen to protect the free American press from monopoly exploitation. This need has been pointed out time and time as the first bulwark in the defense of American liberty. The Senate Small Business Committee, headed by Sen. John Sparkman, Ala., launched still another probe of the situation.

© National Federation of Independent Business

But in recent months, facts not covered by the big dailies have been brought to small cities and towns of America.

These facts, without adornment, caused readers of weekly newspapers across the nation to protest to their Congressmen. After all, in the big cities, there are people who can be persuaded that whatever sounds silly is really not silly.

But high flown theories do not ring true in the smaller cities and towns of the nation.

In these regions, where the vote is controlled, nonsense is still looked upon as nonsense.

Sincere Congressmen of both parties voice pleasure over receiving so many expressions of opinions from the solid people who read weekly newspapers.

Typical comment: "We had a feeling that many things, if they were known, would not set too well with these people, but until we had something concrete to go on, it's hard to disprove the theory boys."

Many Congressmen give the weekly newspapers full credit for recent acts curtailing the power of the government to meddle in private business and lives.

Many Congressmen feel this situation is healthy, are prepared to act to aid weekly newspapers buy newsprint on a competitive market.

Naturally, bureaucrats who have lost power, or position because of this reaction, will oppose such action.

So organized independent business is preparing to battle on this issue. The results of the past two weeks show that such a battle can be won.

Think Safety An Act Safety

COLLEGE STATION.—Will you be one of the 15,000 farm residents to die from an accident during the next 12 months? It's not a pleasant thing to think about but estimates released by the National Safety Council forecast that if the averages of past years hold, 15,000 farm residents will die accidentally during the next year.

Here are a few more facts to think about as plans are made for the observance of National Farm Safety Week, July 20-26. Accidents will kill 41 farm residents each day. Every 24 seconds a disabling injury will strike a farm somewhere in America. One out of every 19 farm residents will suffer a disabling injury.

Motor vehicle accidents will take the lives of about 6,000 farm residents and more than 200,000 others will be injured. Nearly 4,000 other deaths will result from work accidents. One out of every six farms in the nation will be the scene of an accidental injury.

E. C. Martin, state agricultural leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and secretary of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee, believes that much of this wasteful loss of lives and manpower can be prevented. He says it isn't enough to think and act safely only for one or a few weeks of each year. Safety must be practiced every day. It is just as important to the health and well-being of every rural family as is eating the correct diet and practicing sanitation in every day living, he adds.

Right attitudes toward safety can save lives the year round and Martin believes the work now being done in every section of the state under the leadership of the State Committee and supervised by local representatives of agencies, farm organizations and other interested groups will greatly improve the situation in Texas. Right attitudes, he says, just mean that farm residents will take time to think safety and act safely in the home, in the field and on the highway.

To cut the toll taken by accidents, Martin emphasizes that every rural citizen must become a safety inspector to see that the systems are carried out. Their success is well known. Farms and ranches, generally, have not safety system and no inspectors but adds Martin, farming the right way is farming the safe way.

If your neighborhood hasn't yet tackled the problem on a community basis, Martin suggests that you observe National Farm Safety Week by getting a program on safety, fire prevention or any one of a dozen other programs started that will make your community a better place to live. A community clean-up or hazard removal program could well become the first activity for the group. Don't forget, he warns, a killer is loose in Texas. It's known as polio and each day's report shows the seriousness of the situation. Your community may be the next to feel its effect. A good safety program in every community will help correct the situation.

Monopoly—When Robert Smith sued for divorce in Saint Joseph, Mich., he charged that his wife made him stand in the lobby of the theater during movie scenes which showed "bathing suits or abbreviated costumes."

Reaves Retires From State Patrol

Jack Reaves of Lubbock, formerly of Tahoka, retired Tuesday afternoon after 22 years of service with the Department of Public Safety.

Reaves formerly operated a cafe in Tahoka.

When the Texas Highway Patrol was set up in 1930, Jack was the first patrolman employed for the Lubbock district, and he has been in some branch of the service ever since. In fact, he was among the first 50 men assigned when the organization was formed.

At that time the State Highway Patrol was under the State Highway Department, but became a part of the Department of Public Safety when the latter department was established in 1935.

Reaves later became the first driver's license examiner in the Lubbock district. In about 1940, he became inspector for the district in the weights and license division.

Jack operated a little cafe here in the 1920's and one fall (1924, we think) he paid for a quarter section farm making hamburgers in a little building which occupied the lot now occupied by the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Reaves live at 4104 36th St. in Lubbock. They plan to make a vacation-trip to California for some fishing and to visit their son, Jack, Jr., in San Francisco. Their daughter, Ponice, is a physician in New York.

must operate on sound practices if it is to carry out the purpose for which it is intended. I believe my rural background, education, and practical business experience qualify me to serve as your State Representative in the 53rd Legislature.

As your representative I will realize my responsibility to each citizen of this District and will endeavor to conscientiously represent the 99th District in all issues which come before the Legislature.

During the past three months I have talked with a large number of the citizens of the 99th District. And I think that I know the needs of this District.

Representing you, I will endeavor to be deserving of the trust you place in me by giving all my time and energy to the job.

I am for cutting taxes, in a tax ridden West Texas.

I am for the continued re-bate to the farmers on tractor gasoline.

I am for the auto inspection law, but not a strenuous one. I know that we all believe in safety.

I am for the continuation of farm-to-market roads, as well as the continued improvement of our State highways.

I am for a workable rural telephone system.

I am for a preferential primary for Texas to determine our candidate for President.

I am for keeping prices of farm commodities at a high level.

I am for an old age pension that will give a comfortable living to our folks. These funds to be distributed by the County Judge.

I am for a substantial raise in school teachers salary. I know that we all want our children to get the best education possible.

I am against the Texas Highway Department taking funds intended for the public schools of Texas.

I am against any wasteful spending of the tax payer's money.

I represent no party, organization, or clique. I am running this race at my own expense, and on my own merits. If you will elect me your State Representative from the 99th District I will serve you honestly and faithfully, and I will put moral and spiritual value first. Today more than ever we need a closer relationship between God and our State government.

I am a member of the First Baptist Church. A member of the Lamesa Junior Chamber of Commerce. A graduate of McMurry college where I worked my way through playing football. I have given five years to the service of my country and I am now an active member of Company F, 112th Cavalry of the Texas National Guard.

575,000 4-H's Get Training to Cut Farm Accident Toll

Farm safety surveys made by 4-H's show that matches within reach of small children and stairways littered with toys, jars and other articles were much in evidence as fire and accident hazards in rural homes.

Chicago—(Special)—More than 575,000 4-H Club boys and girls throughout the nation are receiving training in farm accident and fire prevention this year. The outstanding feature of this training in the National 4-H Farm and Home Safety program is to check and remove from farms and homes any conditions likely to cause fire, accidents or injuries. These 4-H surveys are acclaimed a valuable contribution to the nation-wide campaign to reduce the annual toll of 15,000 farm people dying and 1,800,000 being injured as a result of rural accidents each year.

Here is a report, made by a 4-H girl on behalf of her local club, after making a safety survey of every home in the community:

"In all homes having stairways that we visited, the stairs were full of toys, jars, tools and other articles," she stated. "In many homes people used kerosene to build fires. They also had oily cloths and papers stored close to the stove and flue. Matches and unlabeled bottles of poisonous liquids were within reach of small children.

"On several farms visited, boards with rusty nails pointing upward were much in evidence. In our local schoolhouse, the ceiling plaster in the classroom was loose. If it fell it would cause severe injuries to the pupils.

"After we had made our survey, we called a community meeting. Attention was called to the hazards we had found. Immediately following the meeting everyone present began work necessary to make our community a safe one. Every hazard we had found was corrected."

Medals of honor are presented to five county winners having the best 4-H records in safety work, and a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago is awarded to the State champion. Eight of the latter will be selected as national winners, who will each receive a $300 college scholarship. Awards are provided by General Motors for the eighth consecutive year. The program is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Bug Catcher

"It Puts Them in the Bag"

The Nisbet Bug Catcher is an air blast machine, mounted on the front of the tractor and used with the cultivator. A blast of air from a high pressure fan, driven by the tractor belt pulley, is directed through the cotton, taking the bugs with it up a chute into the bag. The blast is sufficient to dislodge any and all kinds of bugs from the cotton, so it makes no difference what kind of bugs, worms, millers, moths, aphids, or what have you, they all go with the wind into the bag. The infested squares with the boll weevil egg or grub are also taken and put in the bag with the other pests. The principle of the bug catcher makes it indiscriminate in taking the bugs. The farmer need have no concern even after the catch as to what kind he had in the field; he may simply destroy them and produce cotton.

Nisbet Bug Catchers are available in one, two, and four-row sizes, and fitted for all makes and models of row-crop tractors, to operate with the cultivator.

Joe S. Moss Wins Bar Association Poll For Associate Justice Office

(Post Dispatch)

Joe S. Moss, Post candidate for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals Seventh District, is the best qualified man in the race in the opinion of those who know his work, the attorneys of the Seventh District.

Moss, the only native Texan in the race, received the top spot among the candidates in a poll conducted by the State Bar Association. The Garza county attorney received 176 first place votes in the poll of Panhandle-South Plains lawyers. His three opponents together received a total of 161 votes.

Results of this poll give strong proof to the association in a previous Dispatch editorial that Moss's record made him a favorite among the attorneys of the district.

These are men of his own breed. They know his qualifications better than anyone else. They also know his shortcomings better than anyone else. Yet they believe in this Post citizen who has practiced law in our small town for almost 20 years to the extent they will classify him the best qualified in the race.

Not only is Moss backed strongly by the attorneys, but he has the support of many of the papers in the 46-county district. This support can be attributed to the fact that Moss has always attempted to state the law in the simple, clear language of the people. He says the law is for the people and by the people and should be written so they can understand.

The results of the Bar poll, however, do not mean that Moss has won the race. He still needs the aid and influence of his friends in Garza County in staging his one-man race for this high tribunal bench. Such help may be given by writing friends in other counties and giving them the qualifications of Moss.

Should Moss be elected to the office, it will be the first time a town the size of Post has placed a man in this high court. Moss would also be the youngest man to attain the office. The privilege and honor would certainly rest on the town and county in being able to produce a caliber of man befitting the office of Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals.

WALTER KAHL'S TAKE TRIP TO MINNESOTA

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kahl and his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gayer, of San Antonio returned home last Friday from a two weeks vacation trip to Minnesota.

They did some fishing, as well as sight-seeing, and Walter reports they had fair luck fishing for Northern pike, walleye pike, and black bass in Detroit Lakes, near Pelican Rapids, Minn.

At Greensburg, Kansas, they saw the largest hand dug well in the world—32 feet in diameter and 109 feet deep—dug in 1887-88, lined with stone. The well is furnishing a plentiful supply of water for the town today just as it did 65 years ago.

Seek Relief On Damage To Wells

LUBBOCK.—Prospects are good for a solution to one of the irrigation farmer's most pressing problems—that of seismograph holes being drilled too close to irrigation and domestic water wells.

This word comes from Tom McFarland, president and manager of Hi-Plains Underground Water Conservation District.

McFarland recently received the assurance of Ernest O. Thompson, commissioner of the Texas Railroad Commission, that the matter may soon be regulated by law.

Thompson wrote: "A statute is being proposed regulating the drilling of seismograph holes, and we shall include in it the question of making them not too close to irrigation or domestic water wells."

Improperly placed seismograph holes frequently cause serious interference with pumping of irrigation and domestic wells.

"This question gives us a lot of trouble, and we felt that if the people knew some steps were being taken it would ease their minds to a great extent," McFarland said in making the announcement.

ELECT PRESTON SMITH YOUR STATE SENATOR FOR THE NEW 28TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

From 1945 through 1950, Preston Smith was a member of the Texas House of Representatives. During that time, he was a leading advocate of construction of farm-to-market roads.

The figures below — from the files of the Texas Highway Department — show farm-to-market road mileage constructed during the six years preceding Preston Smith's tenure in office, compared with construction during the six years he was a member of the Texas Legislature.

Here are mileage figures for the nine counties within the legislative district represented by Preston Smith:

COUNTY	1939-44	1945-50
Cochran	0.00	62.48
Crosby	.36	60.52
Dawson	0.00	44.39
Gaines	0.00	35.07
Hockley	1.59	47.93
Lubbock	0.00	57.39
Lynn	0.00	74.63
Terry	0.00	61.78
Yoakum	0.00	20.03
Totals	1.95	466.22
State Totals	1,425.95	9,560.55

During Preston Smith's three terms in office, more than 200 times as many miles of farm-to-market road were constructed in these nine counties than were built during the preceding six years. This record speaks for itself.

AS STATE REPRESENTATIVE, PRESTON SMITH SPONSORED:

- Construction of Farm-to-Market Roads
- Rural Telephone Bill
- Legislative Re-districting
- Bonds for Construction of Hospitals
- Expansion of Texas Tech

AS STATE SENATOR, PRESTON SMITH ADVOCATES:

- Continuation of Farm-to-Market Road Program
- More Vigorous Soil Conservation Program
- Continued Growth and Expansion of Texas Tech
- Local Ownership of Underground Water
- Adequate provisions for Our Aged Citizens
- Preservation of Local and State Rights

2,546 People Killed, 70,000 Injured In Car Accidents In Texas Last Year

There are some 37,000 people killed on our streets and highways in the United States every year. Nearly 2,000,000 people are injured on our streets and highways in the United States every year.

Let's compare these casualties with our United States Army. An infantry Division in our United States Army is composed of approximately 18,000 men. With 37,000 people killed every year, this would mean that two entire Infantry Divisions would be annihilated every year. With 2,000,000 people injured every year, this would mean that the entire personnel of three Infantry Divisions would be injured every year. In war, it is extremely doubtful if our Army could withstand such casualties as these every year. If our casualties ran this high in Korea, the manpower would soon be exhausted. If our casualties ran this high in Korea, the people of the United States would be screaming to the High Heavens for someone to do something. Yet we continue every year to kill more people on our streets and highways than we have in all the wars the United States have participated in—and what do we do about it? Practically nothing.

In Texas alone last year we killed 2,546 people, injured 70,000 more and suffered an economic loss of 96,000 dollars.

This is a deplorable situation and is the reason that the 52nd Legislature passed HB 223 which requires every vehicle registered in the State of Texas, excepting small trailers, to be safety inspected at least once a year.

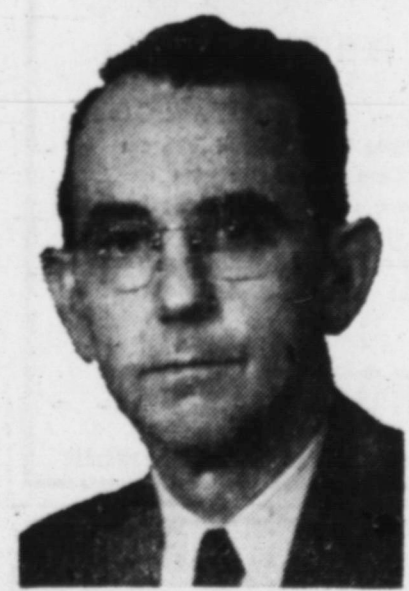

It is not contended that the law is a cure-all to our traffic problem, but we do contend the inspection program will reduce accidents to a certain extent.

Accident records reflect that 13 percent of fatal and personal injury accidents are caused by motor vehicle defects. If the state of Texas can do as well with an inspection program as some of the other States, this 13 percent can be reduced to 2 percent—a saving of over 10 percent. Ten percent of 2,546 is a saving of 254 lives.

Here is a good indication that we should have an inspection program. In States requiring vehicle inspections, the death rate per hundred million vehicle miles traveled is 6.4 deaths. In states not requiring vehicle inspections, the death rate per hundred million vehicle miles traveled is 7.8 deaths. This is 1.4 deaths higher than in States requiring vehicle inspections.

Basically, there are three causes of auto accidents. Faults of driver, faults of the roadway and faults of the motor vehicle.

Surely every one will agree that motor vehicle inspections have an overall place in traffic control, along with Education, Enforcement, Engineering and Driver's Licensing.

The biggest objection to an inspection program is that it gives the Garage owner too much of an opportunity to gouge the public. Actually there is no opportunity at all. Each inspection station has been thoroughly instructed to make no repairs or adjustments unless authorized by the owner. The owner of an automobile is under no obligation to the inspection station other than the paying one dollar for the inspection. If any defects are disclosed, he may take anywhere he chooses for repair or he may do the work himself.

There is nothing hard about the inspection. Here are the details:

1. Motor Number—Obtained of the block or frame merely to identify the vehicle as having been inspected.

2. Brakes (foot brakes only)—Check for two things only—stopping distance and equalization.

3. Headlights—Both high and low beams must burn and must be aimed properly. Minimum candlepower of 3500.

4. Tail Lights—One is sufficient—May be on either side.

NEW HOME H. D. CLUB PLANS FAMILY NIGHT

The New Home Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Frank Lisenby, Jr., on Thursday, July 10.

A business meeting was held, and plans were made for a family picnic to be held on August 1, on the lawn of Mrs. G. B. Mayfield. It will be an ice cream supper, and recreation will be offered for all ages.

Members discussed having book reviews during the year for the benefit of those members who do not have access to current books or the necessary time for reading. It would be a fine way to keep abreast of the times. An accredited list of books was presented, and it was found that already many had read a good number of them.

Mrs. K. K. Moore was appointed secretary to succeed Mrs. Fred

Edwards, who has resigned due to illness.

Mrs. Mayfield demonstrated easier ways to prepare clothing for ironing and steps in ironing which help save the home-maker time and energy.

Mrs. Lisenby and her co-hostess, Mrs. B. G. Smith, served lemon cake and iced tea to the following members: Mesdames: Graham George, L. F. Taylor, Wilmer Smith, J. R. Strain, Loyd McCormick, K. K. Moore, W. C. Thompson, J. B. Edwards, Alton Armon, t-out, and G. B. Mayfield.

The next meeting will be held July 24 in the home of Mrs. W.

C. Thompson. —Reporter.

Miss Lola Belle Johnson of Abilene was here Sunday visiting her sister, Mrs. S. N. Woods. She was a long-time resident of Tahoka herself, having been a teacher in the public schools in this county for a number of years.

Still stands thy ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart.
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget, lest we forget!

—Rudyard Kipling.

We remembered those lines last Friday night after we had sat at the radio most of the day and listened to the tumult and the shouting that arose from the convention hall in Chicago where Republicans had met to nominate a candidate for the Presidency and the Vice-Presidency. In fact, we almost felt lonely—as if a great silence had suddenly enveloped the whole world.

Although a Democrat—most of the time—I personally felt also a deep sense of satisfaction, for I was sure that it would take a very strong and good man to beat Eisenhower, and that if either he or a stronger and better man should be elected next fall, our country would remain safe against the trickery, the perfidy, and the godlessness of the Communist and other Totalitarian Powers.

I am glad, too, that he was nominated over Senator Taft, for it had been clear for weeks that Taft could not be nominated except with the aid of votes that had been stolen. His nomination would have been a triumph of trickery.

I am glad also that it was the determined stand of the Texas Eisenhower delegation that exposed the trickery of the Texas Taft forces and resulted in the final undoing of Taft himself. I am glad that the Eisenhower delegation and Eisenhower himself refused to compromise, but stood firm to the last and said "No; it is a question of right and wrong, and we will stand for the right to the end." The Taft forces yielded and gave up by admitting that they were wrong, and they knew it from the start. Taft finally saw, if he had not seen it before, that the Texas fight was hurting his cause and then he yielded. But his long-drawn-out condonation of the Texas tricksters did his reputation no good.

I claim no special political acumen, but I had been consistently predicting for several weeks that Eisenhower would be the Republican nominee, and now it is my prediction that he will receive far more Texas votes in November than any other Republican candidate for the Presidency has received since the election of Herbert Hoover in 1928.

Yes, the captains and the kings have gone, but another set of them will be back next week. The Democrats will hold their quadrennial national convention next week, and again there will be tumult in the windy city. Who will be the Democratic nominee? Well, that is a harder question to answer than that posed last week. There could be two of them, in fact. There could be a bolt of some of the Dixie states, but I hardly think there will be. I am going to stick my neck out and predict that Stevenson of Illinois is the man who will wear the donkey harness. His runningmate could be Kefauver of Tennessee or Russell of Georgia, or some far-western man. But why speculate? I think Stevenson will secretly if not openly have the Truman blessing. And Truman yet has a larger following than you might think. Now, I may choose to change this prediction as the convention draws nearer. We shall see.

Well, folks, it's quite a long leap from politics to mere sight-seeing but right here I am going to make the leap any way.

I spent the glorious Fourth quietly at home, for I was sure that there would be many cars on the highways and a few drinking drivers. It is a strange thing to me that so many people do not think that they can celebrate any event without putting a few drinks under their belts. It is also a strange thing that before starting out on the highways for a day's outing they think that they need a drink or two to start off with. They thus endanger their own lives and also the lives of perfectly innocent people on the highways. We are a bright set in this country.

But on Saturday morning my daughter, Myrtle Rochelle, and my two granddaughters, Anita Jo and Sara Sue, and their young friend, Benny Dunn, all of Lubbock, set out for a visit with relatives at Canyon and to see the sights in and near that fine little city. Of course the greatest natural sight near Canyon is the Palo Duro Canyon; and we saw that from top to bottom and from wall to wall. There is a paved road from the city out to the Canyon and for eight miles on down the canyon. We not only went down that road to the end of the paving but also took a side road, unpaved, and went out two or three miles to see again, at close range, some of the most picturesque scenery in the canyon. One of these natural wonders is The Light House so named from its striking resemblance to the real thing at occasional points along Old Ocean's shore-line, only this Lighthouse is surrounded by sand instead of water. Near by is the Devil's Tombstone and also perpendicular walls that might easily be mistaken for castle walls or the walls of some great fortress. Do not visit the canyon without taking this side-road, the first one beyond the first water crossing, and thus see the most scenic part of the canyon. The coloring in this canyon is remarkable for its great variety of hues and for its beauty. In fact, it is advertised as "The world's most colorful canyon."

A few miles down the main highway in the canyon, where huge boulders protrude at varying angles beneath high perpendicular cliffs, the last battle between the whites and the fierce Comanche Indians was fought, in 1874. A detachment of the U. S. Army under General R. S. MacKenzie surprised and trapped several hundred Comanche and Kiowa Indians at this point, killed many, and won a decisive victory. The captives were placed on the Indian reservations in the Indian Territory.

I had always thought that this battle was fought several miles further down in the canyon, but markers indicated that this was the site. It may have extended several miles down the canyon as for that matter.

Fourteen miles west of Canyon is Buffalo Lake, created by the construction of a dam several years ago across Tierra Blanca Canyon. The Tierra Blanca and the Palo Duro converge a mile or two below the city of Canyon, thus forming the Prairie Dog Fork of the Red River. This is the stream which flows down through Palo Duro Canyon.

On account of the prolonged drouth which had prevailed in the Panhandle for the past few years, the water in the lake is now some six feet below the run-over level, but it is quite a large body of water at that—for the Plains. The girls in our company went in swimming, while Brother Joe and I undertook to go to and around the upper end of the lake some seven miles above the dam as the crow flies. We reached that point all right but were unable to go around it on account of a fence built across the stream at that point. The lake is said to be about 40 feet deep at the deepest point. But six feet of additional water in the lake would spread out over much land now slightly above the shore-line. The lower portion of the lake, however, lies between high banks. There are quite a few boats on the lake and it is quite a popular boating, fishing, and swimming resort.

Another attraction at Canyon, in addition to the West Texas College there, is the Museum, the largest and the best anywhere in the Southwest. We spent an hour there and could have spent many more hours there very profitably. If you go to Canyon on any vacation trip be sure to visit the Museum, all of the floors and compartments in it.

Then, after the rest of the party had come on home, my brother and his wife and I went to Borger, where their daughter and her family live, and Joe—perhaps you know him better as Dr. J.

A. Hill—and I put in three more days visiting various places of interest in the north Panhandle. Let's see, we visited Stinnett, Spearman, Gruver, Fritch, Phillips just outside of Borger, Miami, Canadian, Pampa, Skellytown, Mobeetie, Wheeler, Shamrock, and Panhandle. Also we got close to the site of the proposed big dam to be constructed—we hope—across the Canadian River at Sanford, though we were unable to find the exact spot where it is to be built. ed quite a bit of information, which I may use in this column at a later date. We also visited both Old Mobeetie and New Mobeetie. Old Mobeetie was perhaps the first or near the first town built in all the Panhandle of Texas, and for years it was the leading town in the Panhandle. But we do not have room here to tell of the old Adobe Walls, but the walls have all crumbled and faded away. We saw two big Monuments, however, from which we gather make further mention of it this week. Here are just a few places, however, that deserve special mention. We give them to you in the following paragraphs.

Borger is the chief oil, gas, and carbon black city in the entire Panhandle of Texas. The number and variety of its industrial plants growing out of the mining and processing of these natural resources are really astounding. Borger is not a beautiful city as a whole, although there are beautiful business and residential sections. For the most part, it is built on rough terrain, and the smoke that rises from the many industrial plants, especially from the Carbon Black factories, gives it the aspect of a great old industrial city. Fully as striking as Borger itself, is its chief suburb, the little city of Phillips. The half dozen great industrial plants or more to be found in Phillips together with the homes of the workers and three or four church buildings occupy all the available space. If any more buildings are constructed, they will have to be built down on the steep slopes of the gorges or in the bottom of the gorges that merge or criss-cross in the city. Nearly all of the residences, however, are built on fairly level land, and there are many neat and some magnificent homes. But Phillips plants and industries are not confined to the town of Phillips by any means. There are several other mammoth Phillips plants of various kinds in other suburbs of Borger. I am not being paid anything for this boost, but the properties of the Phillips organizations are nothing less than astounding.

The population of Borger in 1950 was given as 17,949, but the city together with its suburbs had more than 30,000 population.

Pampa is the second largest city in the Panhandle north of Amarillo. It had a population in 1950 of 16,522, nearly as large as Borger proper, but it has no large suburbs. It is in the midst of an oil field, however, and is surrounded by hundreds of oil derricks. It is a far more beautiful town than Borger. It stands on a nearly level plain and is surrounded by a fine agricultural area as well as by oil derricks. Pampa, it seemed to me, would be a most desirable city in which to live—a city of beautiful homes and churches and substantial and attractive business houses. Shamrock depends almost altogether on agriculture and stock-raising for its maintenance and growth. It is a well-built and attractive town with a population of about 500 more than Tahoka. At Shamrock we dropped into the newspaper office and met our long-time friend, Albert Cooper, who now has two other men and a lady associated with him in the publication of one of the best weekly newspapers in the Panhandle.

Other editors whom we saw on our rounds were Bill Miller at Spearman, Bob Haynes at Miami, David Warren of the Panhandle Herald.

Bud Haynes, many of our readers know, is the man from whom we bought the Lynn County News in 1923. His son, Ed Haynes, who was a little child when the family left Tahoka, is now county Judge of Roberts county. By the way, they have recently brought in an oil well, a big producer about nine miles west from Miami, too far away, Bob says, to do his town much good, but contract has been let for the drilling of another well within two miles of Miami. It might be news to some of our readers to know that Miami was the old home town of our own late fellow citizen, Joe Heare.

At Spearman, we met people who were acquainted with Coach "Jake" Jacobs of Tahoka, and his parents who recently moved from Spearman to Missouri.

From Spearman we ran up to Gruver, a nice town which Brother Joe himself had never visited. He found friends and an ex-student or two there, but I saw nobody that I had ever known. Joe found ex-students and friends everywhere we went. Gruver is a town of a little less than a thousand people, but I believe that it has better church and school buildings than any other town its size I ever saw.

At Canadian we drove down the river fourteen miles to take a look at Marvin Lake, named in honor of Marvin Jones, but never did quite reach it—the sand became so deep and the road so difficult to travel that we stopped and turned back within two miles of our goal.

Now this other word. I believe that while there few mesquite or other trees of natural growth in the Panhandle aside from the cottonwood and willows and wild cherry trees along the streams, there is not a single town in all that area that I can remember that wasn't greatly beautified by a wealth of ornamental trees which had been planted out and abundantly cared for. Practically every town visited, big or little, was a town of fine trees. Furthermore the scores of industrial plants that have been built in rural areas throughout several of the counties of the Panhandle have all been surrounded and beautified by the growth of planted trees.

The outstanding tree to be found along all of the major streams of the Panhandle is the vigorous and noble cottonwood.

One of the most beautiful drives I have seen anywhere is the drive down the Red Deer Valley just this side and the other side of Miami. The stream flows into the Canadian just above the little city of that name. And then from Canadian down the Canadian River for fourteen miles the river valley is a "thing of beauty and a joy forever" by reason of the groves of fine cottonwoods and other trees that flank the sandy roads and the river bed as far as we could see. In some places there is a veritable tangle of smaller trees and shrubs beneath the cottonwoods, such as box elders, willows, wild plums, honey locusts, and others.

Other smaller streams, such as Sweetwater Creek and the North fork of the Red River, are likewise made glorious by the pres-

MOVE TO SNYDER

The Wyatts have built a home in Snyder, and expect to make that their permanent home in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fulkerson returned home Wednesday of last week from the wedding of their son, W. H., Jr., in Evansville, Indiana. They returned by way of Kentucky, then visited New Orleans and Galveston. From there they went to Pecos, before coming home. On Friday, they left for La Feria to spend a few weeks with their daughter, Dorothy, and husband, James Bolin, and granddaughter.

How's Business? GREAT—with prices like ours

THIS is—to coin a phrase—a "shopper's market."

Folks are taking a keen look at what they get for what they pay—and they're taking a double look at price tags.

That's the kind of market where Buick really shines.

Do you know why?

Buick prices are down within easy reach of the folks who buy what's known as "the low-priced three."

Fact is—a big chunk of Buick sales comes from the folks who trade in one of this low-priced trio.

For very few extra dollars, they're getting a lot more automobile.

They're getting more power—and the thrill that goes with it.

They're getting "big-car" comfort. They're getting a ride that cost a million dollars and more to develop.

They like the room, the fabrics, the extra appointments they find in the smart-stepping beauty pictured here. And they like Dynaflo Drive.*

They like the way it handles. They like the way it's engineered. They like the belt they get out of touching off the power of its Fireball 8 Engine—and they like the miles they get from a gallon of fuel.

So Buick sales are booming. Not just the SPECIAL—but also the SUPER and ROADMASTER. Folks find that each one is the buy in its field.

When we tell you that business is great, we can back up that statement with figures. More people are buying Buicks than any other car at their price or above.

Why don't you come in and see for yourself what's behind this popularity?

If you can afford a new car, you can be the proud owner of a Buick.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

B. Jones, and Mrs. Leonard Isaacs. Many nice and useful gifts were received. Refreshments served were punch, nuts, and mints.

Miss Jeanne Turgeon of 30 Ashley Street, New Bedford, Mass., is spending part of her month's vacation in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kuwaski of 1809 Lockwood, Tahoka. Miss Turgeon is employed by the Gray Eagles Mill. She is leaving by train Sunday for Kansas City, Kan., where she will spend several days before returning to her work. This is her first trip to Texas and she finds it quite different from New England.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Estes of Fort Worth were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi M. Nordyke last Sunday. They are special friends of Rev. and Mrs. Charles (Fay) Kennedy, son-in-law and daughter of the Nordykes and were returning to Fort Worth after a visit out in New Mexico.

Mrs. Hubert Davis of Marlin came up last Friday and accompanied her mother, Mrs. Nettie Davis, on a visit to Goree and Munday. They were to attend a reunion of the Moore family at Goree Sunday.

W. H. Fulkerson, Jr., Married Recently

Miss Patricia Marie Kaiser became the bride of W. H. Fulkerson, Jr., of Dallas, formerly of Tahoka, in St. Benedict's Catholic Church in Evansville, Indiana, on Saturday, June 28.

Father Gabriel Verkemp, pastor, officiated at the single ring ceremony and nuptial high mass at 11 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Kaiser, 748 S. Englewood Ave., Evansville, and the bridegroom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fulkerson of Tahoka.

The bride was given in marriage by her father at the beautiful candle-light ceremony. Mrs. James P. Bowlin, Jr., La Feria, Texas, sister of the bridegroom, was one of the bridesmaids. Charles Fulkerson, one of his brothers, was an usher.

A reception and breakfast followed the ceremony in the McCurdy Rose Room.

The couple left immediately for New Orleans and an air cruise to Kingston and Tower Isle, Jamaica, and Havan, Cuba. After July 15, they will be at home at 4734 Homer in Dallas.

Mrs. Fulkerson attended Southern Methodist University in Dallas, and was graduated from Evansville College, where she was a Chi Omega member.
