Band Uniforms Ordered Successful Carnival

Uniforms were ordered for the Artesia school band by the generosity of the Artesia community in supporting the band in the Hallow'en Frolic on Thursday of last week. The band was put on the splendid parade of the Artesia organization on the night of the carnival. A complete check-up was made, because of the dedication ceremonies to be held on Monday, Armistice Day, at Tucumcari, where the Clay County Memorial Association is to dedicate a new building. They have completed what is to be known as Headquarters Building—a structure to be used by all of the veterans' organizations.

Artesia Artists Are Showing In Local Windows

Many works of art by local artists have been attracting attention in the business district of Artesia this week, as they are being exhibited in show windows in observation of "National Art Week."

Many splendid new works of local artists are on display in shops on Main Street. As has been the custom in past years, there is to be no judging of the exhibits. They are shown for the pleasure it may give the citizens of the community who will see them, and for the pleasure the artists themselves will realize from their efforts.

The pictures are being shown in the windows of Western Auto Supply Company, Toggery Shop, Russell Auto Supply Company, McClay Furniture Store, Peoples Mercantile Company, The Modern Shop, Baldwin's J. C. Penney Company, Southern Union Gas Company, Southwestern Public Service Company, First National Bank, The Hub, and The Advocate.

Ernest Carper Dies Suddenly Last Thursday

Ernest Carper, 62, an employe of Carper Drilling Company and brother of its head, Emery Carper, died suddenly about 1:10 o'clock last Thursday afternoon from a heart attack, while working on an engine in the shop on the Carper lease.

Mr. Carper was found dead shortly after he died. At an inquest conducted Thursday afternoon by Justice of the Peace J. D. Josey of Artesia, it was found Mr. Carper came to his death from natural causes. Masonic services were held Saturday afternoon at the Masonic Temple in Roswell, Mr. Carper's former home. Burial was in South Park Cemetery there.

Students Sing Tuesday Noon For Rotarians

Members and guests of the Artesia Rotary Club were treated Tuesday noon to a musical program by students of the Artesia school under the direction of H. O. Miller, vocal teacher.

O'Dell Parham opened the program with three cowboy songs, accompanied on the guitar by his mother, Mrs. R. M. Parham. A double trio of young women of the high school sang three numbers: A Capella, "Dancing in the Dark," "Sometime," and "Symphony." The singers, who were directed by Mr. Miller, were Misses Teddy Jane Archer, Sue Booker, Irma Beaty, Jo Margaret Gore, Louise DeMars, and Loretta Webb.

Chuck Aston, president of the club, announced a number of the Rotarians intended to attend an intercity meeting at Lovington Wednesday evening. He also announced the local club will have a ladies' night Tuesday, Nov. 26.

Youth Being Charged With Night Break-In At Dunn's Garage

Augustine Corona, 18-year-old Spanish-American boy, is being held in connection with the burglarizing of Dunn's Garage Saturday night, in which nothing was taken.

Officers said the youth confessed to having broken in.

Phil Perry Will Be Awarded Eagle Boy Scout Badge At Court Of Honor

One Eagle Boy Scout Badge and many other Scout advancement badges as well as merit badges will be awarded between 40 and 50 Artesia Scouts of the Gateway District at the Court of Honor slated to be held at 7:30 Thursday night (tonight) in the high school library, it has been announced by J. D. Smith, district chairman.

Chairman Smith stated he would preside in the absence of Court of Honor Chairman Neil B. Watson. Phil Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Perry, of Artesia, is the Scout to be presented his Eagle Badge at this Court of Honor. He completed the work on his Eagle Badge several weeks ago and has been waiting for the Court of Honor to be presented his award.

The Eagle Badge is the highest rank to be awarded a boy in the Boy Scout program. Eagle Scouts, of course, can earn additional honors, including the Bronze, Silver, and Gold Palms, but the Eagle rank is the highest to be earned. The percentage of Boy Scouts who earn the rank of Eagle Scout is extremely small. This is the first Eagle Badge to be presented in the district here in more than 18 months. The local district some months ago presented an Eagle Badge, which had been earned in another Boy Scout area, for that area.

Nimrods Are Taking To Hills This Week For Deer Season Nov. 10-21

The annual trek to the mountains has started, while dozens of other hunters seeking deer and turkey are getting the guns and duffel ready for the regular season, which will open at sunrise Sunday and close at sunset Thursday, Nov. 21.

A few red hats and shirts have been seen on the streets of Artesia all this week, as anxious hunters have been hurrying their departure. The numbers are expected to increase greatly tomorrow, while by Friday afternoon carload after carload of nimrods take off for the hills, some of them to camp out and rough it, others to seek the greater comfort of cabins. With Armistice Day coming next Monday, many plan to take advantage of the two-day weekend, who otherwise might not have gone hunting. As the opening date of the big game season approaches, some of the more woods-wise hunters again have been stressing that everything which moves is not a deer, and that every deer which

The purchase of The Las Cruces Sun-News, the daily newspaper at Las Cruces, New Mexico, by James H. Skewes and Orville E. Priestley, owners and publishers of The Artesia Advocate, does not contemplate any immediate moves or changes, it was announced here by Publisher Priestley.

Contrary to the news story, which was carried regarding the sale, no plans for any immediate move are in prospect. There are to be no changes in The Artesia Advocate and the purchase of the newspaper at Las Cruces does not involve or even contemplate the sale of The Artesia Advocate, Priestley pointed out.

The present plans of the owners of The Advocate and now of The Las Cruces Sun-News call for the continued operation of both newspapers and allied interests. Priestley, who is publisher of The Artesia Advocate, is the new editor-publisher of the Las Cruces paper. The Las Cruces paper is to be operated by R. B. Boyle, who has been business manager there for the past eight years, while Orren Beatty, Jr., will continue with the title of managing editor, a position he has held for some months.

Wallace Perry, owner and former editor-publisher, is retiring from active work on the newspaper there. He announced following the sale he may re-enter the newspaper business in some other city later. His sale at Las Cruces, of course, prohibits him continuing in that business in that city. Skewes and Priestley purchased The Artesia Advocate from Mrs. Beatrice Blocker on April 1, 1945, and took over the property at that time. (TURN TO LAST PAGE PLEASE)

Businesses Will Close To Observe Armistice Day

Business houses in Artesia generally will be closed in observance of Armistice Day, it was determined after a poll had been taken by telephone by the Chamber of Commerce. A. C. Sadler, chairman of the Chamber's holidays committee, said it was impossible to contact all business houses, as there is no manager at this time. However, the office secretary was directed to contact as many by telephone as possible and the poll showed an almost unanimous majority in favor of observing the holiday.

Sadler also said that in the near future, after the new manager, Dave Moore, arrives to assume his duties, the holidays committee will set up a long-range schedule of holidays which will be observed in Artesia, agreeable to the greatest number. Because of Armistice Day, advertisers and correspondents are asked to get in whatever copy is possible before the end of this week, so as to help the Advocate force avoid a bottleneck starting next Tuesday morning. Furthermore, in spite of the holiday, a number of the staff members are hoping to "put the paper to bed" a little early next week, so as to get away to the mountains for a week end of hunting.

Activities Bus Dance Ticket Sale Lagging

With the ticket sale for the Artesia Boosters' Club Dance, which is to be held on Nov. 30, a campaign to increase this is now being planned and the aid of the public in the program is being requested. Lloyd Simon, president of the Boosters Club, announced Tuesday following a meeting of the club directors on Monday night, that plenty of help is going to be needed to get the various projects being sponsored by the club completed.

Only about one-third of the money now needed to pay for the school activity bus, which is to be purchased, has been raised through the sale of tickets. This youth activity bus, which is expected to be delivered here in the near future, is to cost about $3600. The delivery of the bus is expected almost any time now. The Boosters Club, of course, plans to give away a new Tudor 1946 Ford in connection with the dance to be held in the Central School gymnasium on the night of Nov. 30. There remains only approximately 25 days in which to (TURN TO LAST PAGE PLEASE)

Injuries Fatal To Fritz Haag, 37, In Oil Field Accident

John Frederick (Fritz) Haag, 37, died at Artesia Memorial Hospital at 8 o'clock Friday morning from fatal injuries sustained at Loco Hills about 3 o'clock last Thursday afternoon, when a piece of pipe fell on him. He was an employe of the Independent Supply Company.

Mr. Haag was loading pipe on an abandoned lease and the winch line slipped, allowing the pipe to fall and strike him across the abdomen and side, injuring him internally. Blood transfusions were given Mr. Haag at the hospital during the night in an attempt to save his life. Funeral services were from Paulin Chapel at 9 o'clock Sunday morning by Robert A. Waller, evangelist of the Church of Christ, of which Mr. Haag was a member. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Lewis Haddock, Skinny May, Dave Saikin, Ralph Pitt, Henry Allen, and Aubrey Parham. Mr. Haag is survived by his widow; two children, Barbara Ann and Mary Ruth, at home; his mother, Mrs. A. W. Haag, San Antonio, Tex., and two brothers and four sisters, Alvin W. Haag, Uvalde, Tex.; Hans Haag, Canada; Ms. Ida Mae Ingelman, Mrs. Rose Sellers, and Mrs. Mildred Durham, San Antonio, Tex., and Mrs. Ruby Allen, Austin, Tex. John Frederick Haag, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Haag, was born at Madina City, Tex., June 30, 1909. At Roswell on July 21, 1938, Mr. Haag and Bessie Adelle McClure were married. To them were born the two daughters mentioned. Mr. Haag came to Artesia from Uvalde, Tex., in 1937, and had lived here since.

Demos Sweep State Ticket

Incomplete returns of the general election Tuesday indicate the entire Democratic ticket in New Mexico, with one possible exception, swept into office, while in the nation the Republicans took over control of both the Senate and House of Representatives.

The one possible exception was for corporation commissioner, incomplete returns for which indicate George W. Beach, Republican candidate, defeated his Democratic opponent, George W. Armijo. The senatorial race in New Mexico was one of the most hotly contested in many years and successive tabulations had Senator Dennis Chavez and Gen. Patrick Hurey in the lead, when the first returns started coming in throughout the state Tuesday night, but Senator Chavez gained steadily and indications this morning are that the final count will give him a majority of 2500 to 3000 votes. While Eddy County as a whole went straight Democratic and Artesia went Democratic for the most part, Artesia voters came out strongly in favor of Hurey, polling 845 for him and 594 for Chavez.

Artesia in general gave a smaller percentage of plurality to the Democratic candidates than did the county at large and in one other race besides that for senator or went over to the Republican side. That was for state treasurer, in which race Artesia polled 708 votes for J. G. Moore, Republican, to 676 for H. R. (Ray) Rodgers. In the county at large, Rodgers polled 3418 to 2159 for Moore. Although Mabry ran ahead of the Democratic ticket in the whole county, he had a majority of only 23 from the Artesia voters over Safford. The five Artesia boxes gave Mabry 724 and Safford 701.

Candidates, party affiliation, and results respectively in Artesia and Eddy County, giving first the Republican candidates, then the Democratic, as they appeared on the ballots: Senator — Hurey 845, 2554; Chavez 594, 3125. Congress — Douglas, R, 643, 1912; Baca, R, 557, 1608; Fernandez, D, 798, 3284; Lusk, D, 746, 3807. Governor — Safford 701, 2024; Mabry 724, 3670. Lieutenant governor—Larrazolo 644, 1851; Montoya 706, 3561. Secretary of State — MacGillivray 644, 1851; Romero 675, 3388. Auditor—Valdez 608, 1761; Trujillo 710, 3544. Treasurer — Moore 708, 2159; Rodgers 676, 3418. Attorney general—Tansey 519, 1824; McCulloh 740, 3571. Superintendent of schools — Clark 608, 1761; Rose 749, 3815. Commissioner of public lands—Corn 695, 2113; Miles 699, 3500. Corporation commissioner — Beach 682, 2098; Armijo 655, 3306. Supreme Court—Shipley, R, 567, 1582; Mechem, R, 534, 1483; Sadler, D, 730, 3552; McGhee, D, 801, 3988. State representative — Jensen, R, 590, 1608; Brand, D, 744, 3629; Dean, D, 764, 3774. Democratic candidates for Eddy County offices were unopposed by Republicans and all were elected, although a number of write-in votes were recorded.

Elected were: County commissioner, district No. 1, J. S. Windham; No. 2, Hollis G. Watson; No. 3, R. L. (Bob) James; probate judge, Xury White; county clerk, Mrs. R. A. Wilcox; sheriff, Dwight Lee; assessor, Mrs. R. H. Westway; treasurer, W. L. (Bill) High; superintendent of schools, R. N. (TURN TO LAST PAGE PLEASE)

Intensive Drive Will Be Launched To Complete Four-Cause Campaign

An intensive drive is to be launched this week to secure the additional $1200, which is still needed in order that Artesia's quota in the campaign for funds for four local causes can be raised, it has been announced by Hollis Watson, general chairman. Chairman Watson stated that the funds now stand at $3800, or only $300 more than they were at this time last week when some $3500 was reported raised. The goal for the community is $5000 for the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Community Chest, and the USO.

A one-day campaign was conducted here the week of Oct. 24 and many calls were made and more than half of the funds were raised. It had been hoped the quota could be secured in the one day. This, however, did not prove to be the case. Although Chairman Watson and Mayor A. P. Mahone plan to make several contacts in an effort to reach the quota, he sounded a plea for all of the workers, who have calls to make, to please complete their calls. He also urged those who have not contributed to the four causes and desiring to make a contribution to mail this to him or give it to him. Confidence has been voiced that the goal will be reached and that the sums promised the various organizations would be raised. However, it was explained, the work of raising the balance of the funds could be completed much easier with all who have not given, sending in their gifts and if all workers would complete their contracts.

There was a list of approximately 1200 prospects to be contacted by the workers in the campaign. It was originally planned to have some 200 workers so that no one worker would have to make over six calls. However, only 50 workers responded and since each worker was given a list of only six prospects, there are many who never have been called on. Chairman Watson and Mayor Mahone hope to contact most of these, but they both declared they would appreciate anyone sending in or giving them their gift. This would save them a call and at the same time would make it possible for the goal of $5000 to be raised here with less effort. Gifts can be sent to Chairman Hollis Watson, Carper Building, Artesia, New Mexico.

Inspired Bulldogs Take Colts Of NMMI 14-8 Here On Friday

First Snow And Freeze Of Fall Come This Week

The Artesia Bulldogs, playing as though inspired, and spark-plugged by John Sudderth, came from behind in the second half of their game against the New Mexico Military Institute Colts here Friday evening to win 14-8. Sudderth ran the ball over for both touchdowns and twice for the extra points, as the Bulldogs won their first game of the season.

Although the Bulldogs played a good game in the first half the Colts held the upper hand and made all of their points in the first quarter, a touchdown and a safety. Early in the initial period, Institute, after making two first downs, scored from the Artesia two-yard line, when Slaughter went around left end. Later in the same period, when it looked bad for the Bulldogs again, backed up to their two-yard line, they held the Colts for downs. A blocked Bulldog kick kicked bounced into the end zone, where it was downed by Artesia for a safety and the last tally of the game for the visitors. The Colts held a slight edge in the second quarter and twice approached the Artesia 10, but each time the Bulldogs held. Coach Duane Sams' Bulldogs received the ball at the opening of the second half on the Institute. (TURN TO LAST PAGE PLEASE)

Artesia and vicinity experienced the first snow, first killing frost, and first freeze of the winter this week, as a storm swept down from the North and blanketed many of the Rocky Mountain states in snow, several feet deep in places. Forewarning of the norther started Saturday, when Artesia experienced a typical spring dust storm, and Sunday, when it was gusty and increasing clouds swept across the sky from the North. The first of the snow, a mere sprinkling, fell early Monday morning. Drizzle and rain were experienced throughout the day and Monday night. About an inch of snow stood on automobile tops Tuesday morning, when the temperature reading on the Southern Union Gas Company's recording thermometer was exactly freezing, 32 degrees, the lowest this fall to that date. After a wet, nasty election day Tuesday, the skies cleared during the night and a heavy frost gathered. The temperature dropped to a low of 26 degrees early Wednesday morning. It quickly warmed up and Wednesday was (TURN TO LAST PAGE PLEASE)

Our Influence

WHEN WE DISCUSS law enforcement and law observance there is one thing, which we don't mention. Perhaps we should mention it more and perhaps we should do something about it.

And that something is to use our influence to help get someone out of trouble when they have ignored or violated the law.

It has become a practice with us to feel that we have influence and we will use it to aid and help a friend. The going down to fix a parking ticket or a speed ticket is one of the practices. You have heard that it is done. We don't necessarily mean in Artesia but over the nation. And there is no doubt in our mind but what an effort is made to fix them in Artesia.

But it shouldn't be done. The using of influence to endeavor to fix a parking ticket; the old idea about knowing the mayor or the sheriff or the chief of police or the precinct boss and getting a special favor has become a pastime with us.

Our dabbling and interfering with our courts and our judges and the tampering with our juries has tended to destroy the confidence the public has in them and the respect that we could and should have our jurists.

England, so we are told, doesn't tolerate any such interference with their courts. There is no way to "fix" anything with the English courts. That is the way it should be.

And we should forget as citizens, taxpayers and individuals that we have any influence with our peace officers or our courts or our judges or our district attorneys. We should forget it if we propose to employ this influence to try and help someone to escape a just punishment, which they are to receive for the violation of the law. We have seen influence brought to bear — influence that even became pressure applied to peace officers, to district attorneys and to judges. We have seen this pressure work. You have seen the same thing.

And it is this conduct on our part as citizens of this nation, which has resulted in the disrespect we show our courts and our loss of confidence in the integrity of our courts.

Certainly it is right to confer with our officers; to give them facts and data or any information, which helps them to reach a fair and just and honest decision. But it is not right for us to attempt to influence them either because of our position in a community; our prominence or our political influence.

It is already too difficult to be able to get the fact and the truth before juries. There are too many rules and regulations now to prevent the presentation of evidence. We make it all the more complicated when we seek to use our so-called influence.

When we eliminate this practice more cases can be decided on their merit and law observance and law enforcement can become a reality. But it can't be when we want the peace officers to enforce the law in one instance and to ignore it in another. And it can't be if they are guilty of following such a practice.—O.E.P.

Just Belonging

JUST BELONGING isn't enough. It doesn't matter what the group, club, organization, movement or association may be, just belonging to it, paying dues and contributing isn't enough.

All organizations to which any of us belong or that we join need us as individuals. They need our help; our counsel; our efforts and our energy. The absent member never aids or helps any movement or cause.

If we do not intend to aid and help in any given cause then we should never join the movement.

Every organization, which earns the right to exist, has plenty of work to be done.

Every group, which accomplishes things worth while, has to have a group of workers.

We have never seen an organization as yet where all of its members work although we have looked forward to that very thing.

We believe such an organization would accomplish far more than many of the groups, clubs and associations, which we have today.

Recently an energetic and large group of individuals here formed the Artesia Bulldog Boosters' Club. There is within this organization some 175 or more. Yet of this group, less than 10 to 15 individuals have done much toward carrying out the program, which the club adopted.

Possibly three or four are giving plenty of thought, time and effort and energy to the job, which is to be done.

The aid and help of all of the members of this club is needed. The club is needed, badly needed. There is plenty to be done that can be done.

And if we want the club to succeed, to carry on and to complete the projects, which it adopted, it is time for more of us to go to work.

It is time for us to help to the things, which we agreed to do as an organization. To do this we must attend the meetings; accept the jobs assigned to us; and do our part and more too.

It is either do the jobs we agreed to do or to forget the organization.—O.E.P.

Artesia Cooperates

THE GREATEST EXAMPLE of cooperation we have ever seen was in the staging of the Hal-low'e'n Frolic here last week.

Thirteen organizations sponsored 15 booths and concessions, besides other activities sponsored by departments and home rooms of the school. In addition, 12 firms, groups, and individuals were listed in the programs as sponsors. Their assistance was more by way of financial contributions and the showing of merchandise.

In all, the programs listed 46 sponsors, all of whom were interested in one thing—the raising of funds to purchase new uniforms, instruments, and equipment for the school band.

Another demonstration of local cooperation was shown in the recent meeting, when the Artesia Safety Council was formed. About two dozen groups were represented there.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have asked that the three other veterans' organizations appoint representatives for the formation of a clearing-house for events any of the four may desire to sponsor.

The Bulldog Boosters have joined with the Lions Club in plans for continuing district track meets here.

We believe the community is on the right track, when we forget little differences and get together in projects for the betterment of some special group, such as the band, or for the citizens and city as a whole.

We believe it is indicative of a greater little city than we already have, of a more closely-knit group of American citizens, all striving to make Artesia a finer place in which to live.—A.L.B.

Our Growing City

WE HAVE KNOWN as citizens of Artesia that we have grown and grown rapidly during the past few years.

We have more population today than ever before. We need more houses and apartments. We need more places for people to live because we have more people.

We need business buildings for new businesses. We need office spaces. We need these so our business section can grow and expand in keeping with our residential area and our population.

And all of this, of course, results in greater problems for the city of Artesia and the city governing body. It means more employes to handle the business affairs of the city; more employes on the streets, water and sewer departments; more employes on the police force. As we grow and expand we demand more service; better service and more things.

And through this period of growth and expansion we have demanded more of our city but we have made no provision for more funds to do more things.

And the city, so city officials point out, is reaching the point where it needs and must have more funds to provide the service needed and deserved.

Sooner or later the matter will be submitted to the taxpayers and the citizens of Artesia.

And we feel sure that when it is thoroughly discussed and the needs are known and problems are submitted that Artesia will respond and provide what is needed to take care of the situation.—O.E.P.

Traffic Problems

TRAFFIC PROBLEMS IN ARTESIA, as well as the parking problem, are now receiving attention and consideration.

Every community and every city has these same problems.

They are the same over the nation. In one or two instances a sort of solution has been found. Elsewhere the problem continues and seems to grow more complicated as time passes.

Some seek to solve their traffic problem with signal lights. At times, experience has taught, they help, and at other times they are a handicap. In Artesia there are those, who favor signal lights. There are also those opposed to traffic signal lights.

In other instances new ordinances, rules and regulations are adopted for the purpose of trying to eliminate congestion and to avoid accidents. Sometimes they aid and help and other times they don't.

Artesia, of course, has the two-hour parking limit. There are complaints concerning it. Now and then it costs someone a dollar for violating the two-hour parking limit.

Other cities have installed parking meters to try and help their parking problem. There is always plenty of opposition to parking meters because of the fact that it costs people money to park their cars on paved streets, which have been paid for by the property owners. One city recently planned to install parking meters. The city council had approved it. The citizens demanded a vote on the issue and defeated it four to one.

Parking meters have their advantages, but the merchants and business people, who cater to the country trade, to their farmer and rancher friends, don't help them when they assess them a charge, regardless of how small it may be, for the privilege of coming to that city to do their shopping.

There are arguments, of course, on both sides. And the matter can and should be thoroughly discussed and threshed out before any snap action is taken.

Yes, traffic accidents have prevailed since cars became more numerous. And as the cars continue to increase, these problems will increase, too.—O.E.P.

Up and Down Main Street

OUR IDEALS UP AND DOWN MAIN NEED CHANGE

Every now and then an individual comes along, who has one purpose and one object in life—that of doing what is right and fair and just and reasonable. Every now and then such a person pops up in politics—a person, who is sincere and honest and decent and conscientious. But we are never sure about these people. We are always inclined to think the worst. We measure them by our own yard stick, which is frequently warped and twisted and isn't accurate and isn't true. We have become convinced that all people are a little dishonest; that they have a price; they can be bought, and that if they are doing something or starting something they are only doing it because of their selfish interest. There, of course, is sufficient cause and reason for us thinking this way. We have found more dishonest men in politics than we have found honest.

We have had many cases of graft and corruption and thievery occur among those seeking office. It is natural for us to become skeptical. Yet the fact remains we do have honest and sincere men to seek office and fill office. We have good men seeking to do things because they feel they should be done. We still have people working for the interest of their city, their county, the taxpayers and the public in general.

We have those, who accept and do community jobs because they feel the jobs should be done and because they want to make their contribution to the community. We have people to take stands and positions because they still believe in right and law enforcement and law observance. They not only believe in these but they have the courage to take their stands for decency and honesty and will fight for them if that is necessary.

Folks still discussing the snow, which fell on Monday morning . . . Walter Short inquiring about a classified advertisement . . . Walter Delbridge getting some supplies for the radio station . . . Judge G. U. McCrary transacting business at the Advocate office . . . Tom Boyd and Taylor Cole talking over the situation . . . Ralph Petty headed for his drug store . . . John Shearman busy at the Sanitary Barber Shop . . . Rev. Paul Brown heading for Pittsburgh and reporting he would be back by the end of November . . . Chuck Aston wondering if the Rotary programs are all set . . . Bill Dunnam inquiring about a certain matter in which he was vitally interested . . . Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller visiting in Artesia while here on a business trip . . . Ray Carter enjoying a cup of coffee . . . Hollis Watson talking over the phone and reporting he was still accepting gifts for the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Community Chest and USO . . . Contributions have been coming in fine, he states . . . But, as we stated, we have become skeptical of all individuals. We question the action and conduct of others. We doubt their sincerity and their integrity.

But, as we stated, we have and often times we question them because we want to throw up a smoke screen. We often question their sincerity because we want to cover up or want to protect ourselves. And far too often we judge other people by our own conduct, our own ideas and our own ideals. Far too often these are not good measuring sticks. Far too often some of these people are far better than we are and far more honest and sincere. Frequently the stands and positions they have taken may cost them something instead of gaining them something. And the fact does remain we still have those, who have faith in their fellowman; who have the courage of their convictions; and who believe and do right regardless of what the other half may want done or may want to do. We need to learn and to realize this. We need to learn how to judge people. We learn to change some of our ideas and to give a little more consideration to individuals and what they are doing and accomplishing. We need to be a little more considerate and liberal in our attitudes and to extend to others the benefit of doubt until we know their reasons. There is too much snap judgment taken of others. After all, we may be very much alike as a people, and yet we are all different. We may appear alike but many of us do not act alike. We need to judge people on the basis of the Golden Rule rather than on some rule we have set up for ourselves. The mere fact that we do everything we do for selfish reasons doesn't mean that the other fellow does. And often times merely because the other fellow does things for selfish reasons doesn't mean that we act in the same manner. Most of us have some good and bad traits and we need to learn these and to recognize these in our fellow man. It would make for more co-operation and a finer relationship in all of our communities, if we did.

Two Youths Find Jail Bad Place To Commit Larceny

Petit larceny may work sometimes, but it depends somewhat on where and on whom it is committed, even though the amount involved is only $1.39, as witness the fate of Jimmie Means and Robert R. Darr, young men, who are now serving 90-day sentences in the Eddy County jail because of their lack of discretion. Already in the toils of the law on another charge, the young men chose — of all places — the bullpen at the Artesia city jail in which to commit petit larceny, their intended victim another prisoner.

Brought to Artesia Tuesday, Oct. 29, by Sheriff Fred Hill for arraignment before Judge J. D. Josey on a charge of robbery from the Gilbert Hotel, the young men were lodged in the city jail, pending the opening of Judge Josey's court.

They had the run of the place, while other prisoners were off on a work gang job.

When the work gang was returned to the jail, one of the prisoners reported to Police Chief G. Kelley Stout that his clothing had been rifled and that he was robbed while working.

Chief Stout strode into Judge Josey's court and demanded the prisoners to stand up. Already supposed to have been deprived of all money and other items on their person, they readily "shelled out" the $1.39 when they were asked to stand search. And they confessed the theft.

G. T. Watts, district attorney, who was here to attend the arraignment of the young man on the "rolling" charge, swore out a new complaint, the duo entered pleas of guilty, and were sentenced to the 90-day jail sentences — "justlikethat."

And they waived preliminary hearing on the other charge, which still hangs over them.

Figures Show Employment In State Increases

Figures released by Benjamin D. Luchini, chairman-executive director of the Employment Security Commission, show an increase of 10.3 per cent in June employment in New Mexico over that of December, 1945. The national gain for the same period was 5.8 per cent. In December 56,865 persons were employed by employers subject to the Unemployment Compensation Act in New Mexico. By June the figure had risen to 62,724.

The state's largest gain was in the construction industry, with a gain of 58.5 per cent for the six-month period as compared to national gain of 29.2 per cent. The December, 1945, figure was 4351 compared to 6896 for June.

Manufacturing continues to show a gain, having increased from 8076 persons employed in December to 9414 in June, a gain of 16.6 per cent. Only 15 per cent of New Mexico's covered workers are employed in manufacturing industry as compared to 48 per cent for the nation. The manufacturing of non-ferrous metals and their products employ more persons than any other large manufacturing group, 21.7 per cent of manufacturing employment being in this group as compared to a national figure of 3.3 per cent.

Wholesale and retail trade industries employ the largest number of New Mexico workers, 35 per cent of the state's covered workers being employed in these industries as compared to a national percentage of 23.4.

Another Year Of Top Production Is In Prospect

close to the wartime peaks, according to C. V. Hemphill, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration. At the same time, they will see the beginning of major adjustments in the change-over from a full wartime to a full peacetime economy.

The production job farmers face next year is fourfold. First is to meet the needs of strong domestic demand; second is the necessity of starting to build up reserves of commodities, many of which were depleted during the war, and at the same time adjust downward the production of the same commodities in line with peacetime demand; third is to supply some of the foods and other farm products still badly needed in some war devastated areas; fourth is to work again toward a sound program of proper land use and soil conservation.

Hemphill said that production goals for 1947 are being set up on this basis. Primarily, plans for next year's goals suggest a total acreage substantially the same as that planted in 1946. However, the acreage in crops in 1947 will have to be larger than is desirable from the standpoint of long-range sound management.

In 1945 the average U.S. farm was 195 acres, 20 acres larger than the 1940 average.

American farmers grew $2.38 worth of products in 1944 for every dollar's worth in 1939.

Young chickens raised on U.S. farms totaled 677,166,000 last summer, the smallest number since 1940.

Soil Replacement Is Now Essential Soil Food Drainage Must Be Replaced

No enemy bombs hit American soil during World War II, but the nation's farm land nevertheless was "mined" in order to produce the gigantic crop yield which helped make victory possible, according to a statement made public by the Middle West Soil Improvement committee.

"Wartime crop goals which were necessary to produce foodstuffs, meat, dairy products, oil and fiber crops at a rate never before attained in history," says the statement, "drained the soil's resources of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash faster than they could be replaced. "As a result the need for carrying out soil-rebuilding and erosion control practices will be great for many years to come.

"American farmers increased their production at least one-third above prewar records. In order to meet wartime demands and prevent famine overseas, they are being asked to continue their crop output at high levels.

"Steps to repair the damage done to the soil's fertility level during the war and to make the land continue to yield crops enough to solve the world food crisis, are therefore imperatively necessary.

"The means for accomplishing this lie in providing the soil with all available plant food containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potash and in following intelligent farm management practices such as the raising of nitrogen-fixing legumes, regular crop rotation, pasture improvement and where necessary, contour plowing."

Milk Can Range Waterer

Ten gallon milk can makes an excellent water container for range and other use. Rusted cans no longer suitable for milk are satisfactory. Fill the cans with water and invert them into large enough to permit plenty of drinking space. This North Dakota station idea will prove a labor saver.

Two-Row Fertilizer

This two-row, horse drawn fertilizer distributor has been converted from a one-row planter by the Texas Agricultural Experiment station. The machine may be used for putting down commercial fertilizer in listed furrows in advance of rebedding land or for side dressing row crops.

2,4-D Use on Irish Potatoes Discouraged

The use of 2,4-D as a weed killer in potato patches has not always proved satisfactory. Herbicidal agents selected in character might find widespread use if they removed undesirable weeds without causing concurrent injury to a growing crop, according to studies conducted at Camp Detrick, Md.

It was found that the use of substituted phenoxyacetic acids, such as 2-methyl-4-chlorophenoxyacetic acid and 2,4-dichlorophenoxyacetic acid, may be of value for the select ed control of weeds in potato fields.

Dairy Cows Need More Room in Their Mangers

One of the greatest needs in barns on the average farm is larger mangers, according to Carl Huff man of Michigan State college. He states that some mangers just aren't big enough to hold all the roughage that a cow should eat, while others which are large enough do not get enough hay put into them to produce milk cheaply. Good roughage will cut down the amount of grain the cows need.

Wheat Sign-Up Finished; Cotton Dates Are Later

More than 50,000 farmers signed federal all-risk crop insurance contracts during the sign-up campaign just ended in states growing winter wheat, preliminary estimates show.

Indiana, with almost 5000 contracts so far, leads all states in the number of new policies signed by winter wheat growers. More than 58 per cent of Utah's wheat farms are now protected by federal crop insurance contracts. The state's total is more than 4000, including the 1000 signed this last summer. Ohio has an insurance program in all of its counties. To be eligible for participation, a county must have 50 insured wheat farms or a third of the wheat farms in the county.

Sign-ups now under way for spring wheat, cotton, and flax will reach a peak in all states shortly after the first of the year. Some states report signing up a number of spring wheat farmers immediately after their winter wheat closing dates. Winter wheat contracts are for three years duration and protect an insured farmer's investment against loss from any natural hazard. In 1945, insured wheat farmers collected in indemnities over all-risk crop insurance for crop losses caused by 37 different kind of crop hazards.

More than a half million contracts are now protecting farmers who grow the five crops insured under the Department of Agriculture's all-risk crop insurance program. Including the new contracts, more than 350,000 policies now protect wheat farmers. Nearly 115,000 cotton crop insurance contracts covered the 1946 cotton crop. Flax farmers signed about 11,000 contracts on their 1946 crop.

Federal all-risk crop insurance will be offered to all New Mexico farmers on their 1947 cotton crop beginning next month. The closing date for signing contracts will be Feb. 28 in irrigated counties and Jan. 31 for all other New Mexico counties.

OPA Files Suits In Drive Against Black Markets

Joining a concentrated drive against black market operations in lumber in the Rocky Mountain states, the district OPA office filed eight suits in Federal District Court in Santa Fe. The eight suits were part of 68 actions filed by OPA attorneys in New Mexico, Utah, Colorado, and Wyoming.

More than $133,000 was involved in the cases filed, with many open-end suits which may run the total to another $100,000. Max Melville, OPA regional enforcement executive, reported at Denver.

The actions, it was announced, ask injunctions and treble damages and were made to drive lumber into legitimate channels and assist in the veterans' housing program. Five truckers were included in the actions, the first time truckers were included.

The treble damage action in New Mexico was against the Jackson Brothers, Gallinas, Rio Arriba County, and was for $22,608.09. The other seven suits were injunctions, seeking to compel defendant dealers in lumber to keep proper records. Jackson Brothers are charged with over-ricing sales between Jan. 1 and June 30.

The injunction suits filed in Santa Fe seek to prevent over-ricing sales. Robert M. Schwarz, district OPA attorney, said keeping of adequate records is a principal factor in price control.

One practical method of maintaining high fall and winter egg production is through the use of artificial lights, says E. E. Anderson, New Mexico extension poultry specialist.

The Department of Agriculture announced that 26 states and the territory of Hawaii have already signed agreements to take advantage of federal school lunch program funds.

In control of malaria, quinine from the chincona tree remains a standard medicine.

Rent Registrations Set In Dona Ana And Sierra To Hold Line

Landlords in Dona Ana and Sierra Counties began listing their rental units Monday, Nov. 4, in registrations at Las Cruces, Hot Springs, and Hatch, according to District OPA Rent Executive Flynn O'Malley. The two counties form a new rent control area announced as taking effect Nov. 1.

The freeze date set for the two counties is Jan. 1, 1946. Units now renting at higher rates than were in effect on that date will be rolled back to the maximum which existed then, the rent executive explained.

Charles H. Queary, regional rent director at Denver, in announcing the establishment of the new area, said requests for rent control there had resulted from increased enrollment at New Mexico A. and M. College, overflow civilian employees from the White Sands proving ground, and influx of returning veterans.

Many Of War II Veterans Seek More Education

Nearly as many veterans have applied for World War II education and training benefits as served in the armed forces during World War I, VA officials said.

A total of 4,549,654 veterans throughout the nation had applied for education and training by Sept. 30. VA compared this with a total of approximately 4,757,000 who served in the armed forces in World War I.

Statistics for New Mexico show that a total of 16,874 World War II veterans had applied for education and training by Sept. 30. Of this number 14,734 had applied under the GI Bill and 2140 under the vocational rehabilitation act for disabled veterans.

More than 6010 New Mexico veterans who have applied for these benefits have elected to begin their training or education later and have not yet entered any course.

Four-H Clubs In New Mexico Are Observing Week

In recognition of the achievements of 4-H Club boys and girls in completing their records during the year, the week of Nov. 2-10 is being observed in New Mexico as "National 4-H Achievement Week." Special award nights will be held in all county seats. The same observance will be carried out throughout the nation.

"Counties all over New Mexico are summarizing their records this week and giving recognition to their county club members who have satisfactorily completed their work," L. S. Kurtz, state 4-H Club leader, explained. "Exhibiting their projects at the county fair on 'Achievement Day' was only one phase of their work. They were required to attend a certain number of 4-H Club meetings, take part in discussions and demonstrations, keep records of work done, assist in community activities, and a number of other things relating to their work."

One of the principal features of "1946 Achievement Week" is radio broadcasting over all stations in New Mexico, with prominent agricultural leaders and 4-H Club alumni taking part.

Mary B. Walker and Ralph Burnworth flew to Hobbs and Roswell Sunday. Mary stopped in Roswell and picked up a new passenger, a tiny Peke puppy, who rode home in a shoe box via aircraft.

Gene Sherwood, former employee of the airport, is expected in Artesia this week end. Gene has been in the Army the last three months.

Somehow this week, all hangar flying at the airport has been centered around the mountains and hunting, guns, shells, or the lack of them. Most students have developed bad cases of buck fever and will probably not recover until hunting season is over.

"Sug" Hazel dusted experimental jobs at Carlsbad last week. He defoliated cotton, using a black dust in the hopper. Burle, his wife, said that when he came home she couldn't decide if it was "Sug" or a coal miner getting out of the duster.

Ramon (Red) Davidson and Coach Duane Sams flew to El Paso Friday, Oct. 25, to get extra prizes for the Halloween Frolic held for the benefit of the band. Coach Sams reported an enjoyable trip.

Sue Flint Dent And Russell W. Floore Are United In Marriage On Sunday

The marriage of Sue Flint Dent and Russell W. Floore was solemnized at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Nov. 3, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. T. H. Flint.

The double-ring ceremony was read by Rev. Paul L. Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, before an improvised altar at the mantelpiece, which was beautifully decorated with huckleberry and lemon leaves, white candles, and floor bouquets of white mums and pink pom-pom mums.

The bride chose a pale blue, sheer wool gown, with a bluish pink ostrich plume hat. She carried a muff of carnations in an exact matching shade of pink.

Music for the wedding was furnished by an antique music box. Preceding the ceremony, "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms" was played, during which time Mrs. William Day lighted the candles. The "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was played as the bride entered on the arm of J. W. Berry, an intimate friend of the bride's father, the late T. H. Flint, who gave her in marriage.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony. The table was decorated with satin ribbon streamers to which were pinned petite nosegays of pink Pinocchio roses. A crystal candelabrum centerpiece held white candles and a small bouquet of pink Pinocchio roses, bouvardia, and maidenhair fern. An elaborately decorated wedding cake in pink and white, encircled in sprigs of fern, was cut by the bride and bridegroom and served by Mrs. F. E. Waltrip and Mrs. Philip Kranz. Bouvardia was used around the crystal punchbowl from which champagne was served by Mrs. Robert McConnell and Mrs. William Day.

Longfellow Is Discussed At League Meeting

In keeping with the theme, "Early American Poets," Mrs. Mark A. Corbin gave a short biography of Longfellow at a meeting Tuesday afternoon of the Artesia Story League at the home of Mrs. Alan Thompson, with Mrs. Sam Stewart as cohostess.

Mrs. Corbin ended her biography by going into detail about the work in research Longfellow had done before attempting to write "Hiawatha." After reading a few lines from the introduction to the poem, Mrs. Corbin told in story form the old Indian legend, paralleling it with the Biblical story of creation and the birth and life of Jesus.

Mrs. William Delbridge had charge of the study period and introduced her husband, Mr. Delbridge, program director on KSVF, talked on "Radio Voice" and performance before the "mike." In an interesting manner, he told the technique of broadcasting.

During the tea hour, Mrs. Delbridge discussed the "Radio Story—And How to Present It." While Mr. and Mrs. Delbridge were students at the University of Oklahoma, Mrs. Delbridge was one of the story tellers on the "University Story Hour."

The club service chairman reported arrangements had been made with the local radio station for a 15-minute broadcast every Saturday morning. The program will feature original and classic stories. Mrs. Curtis Bolton will be in charge of this arrangement and members of the league are looking forward to hearing more of Mrs. Bolton's clever, original stories.

The theme for the next meeting will be "American Folk Songs." Mrs. Joe Nunn, Mrs. Wallace Hastings, and Mrs. S. P. Yates will be hostesses at Mrs. Nunn's home.

Hallowe'en Party Is Enjoyed Last Week By Brownie Troop

Members of Brownie Troop 6 were entertained by Mrs. Howard Whitson at a Hallowe'en party in her home last Thursday evening. The house was gay with witches, pumpkins, and cats which the Brownies had made and which were so arranged by Mrs. Whitson as to appear to be on fence rails.

After an evening of games, the children were taken for a ride in a pick-up by Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Faurey, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Petty, and Mr. and Mrs. Whitson. They sang songs and played "trick or treat" on friends and neighbors. Refreshments were served at the end of the ride in the back yard of the Whitson home.

Legion Auxiliary Has Membership Goal Set at 224

The goal for Clarence Kepple Unit No. 41, American Legion Auxiliary, for 1947 membership is 224. It was announced this week by Mrs. Andy Compary, unit president, with the opening of an intensive membership campaign, which was launched Nov. 1.

The campaign is being directed by Mrs. D. M. Walker, membership chairman, assisted by a large committee. Personal invitations to come into the Auxiliary will be extended to all eligible women in the city. These include wives, mothers, sisters, and daughters of American Legion members, those of persons who died in war service or since honorable discharge, and women who themselves served in the armed forces in either World War I or II.

The Auxiliary unit has an enrollment of 152 for 1946, but is planning enlarged activities which will require far greater membership strength in the year ahead, according to Mrs. Compary. Already 130 of the present members have re-enrolled for 1947 and 20 new members have been added to the unit's rolls.

"The Auxiliary wants all women of World War I and World War II families to have an opportunity to take part in its 1947 activities," said Mrs. Compary. "Our work with the Legion for the veterans and for the country promises to reach a new peak in 1947. There will be many interesting and worthwhile things to do and we will need many hands to do them."

Girl Scout Tea Honors Worker, Miss Grimes

The Woman's Club building was the setting Saturday afternoon for one of the most beautifully appointed teas of the year, when the Artesia Girl Scout Association honored Miss Helen Grimes, field worker for this area.

The clubroom was decorated with artistically arranged bouquets of fall flowers and on the mantle a copper vase of white mums was flanked by tall green tapers in copper candlesticks. The tea table was covered with an Italian cutwork cloth, which was a fitting spread for the magnificent centerpiece. A silver bowl filled with white mums was used with silver candlesticks holding green tapers. The tea service and all serving dishes were of silver.

Royal Worcester China completed the table service.

The receiving line was composed of Mrs. Fred Jacobs, association president, and Miss Grimes. Mrs. Mark Corbin, first president of the association, poured during the first hour and Mrs. Jacobs during the second. Mrs. George Beadle was in charge of the guestbook.

Credit for the marvelous table and the splendid execution of this affair was given to Mrs. Joe Nunn, who was in charge of arrangements, and to Mrs. Clyde Parrish, who arranged the table. Mrs. V. P. Sheldon and Miss Priscilla Kohl selected the decorations for the club which made the mantle so attractive.

Girls from several of the troops assisted with the tea. They were Marietta Hunter and Nita Royer, Troop 9; Maxine Callahan and Mary Dixon, Troop 3; Priscilla Kohl and Donna Stevens, Troop 1.

Despite the well-laid plans for the tea and the extra work put on everyone who helped, the Scout leaders were quite disappointed in the attendance. Mrs. George Beadle has said that the response to the Scout request for leaders was almost ignored. Many young ladies in Artesia would like to be chairman on the Scout board, announced that plans were well under way for the Christmas party for all Scouts, Brownies, Intermediates, and Seniors. The party will be held about Dec. 14, but no definite date has been set.

Brownie Scouts Are Blown Inside From Saturday Cook-Out

About 45 Brownie Scouts and their leaders met in the Episcopal Church park for a cook-out Saturday evening, but the wind rose so high it was necessary to retreat to the Methodist Church and "cook in." However, this did nothing to dampen the spirits of those present.

Games were played on the church lawn, and the meal, consisting of stew and salad with dessert, was prepared inside the church.

Mrs. Sep Watts and Mrs. Herman Fuchs were in charge of arrangements for the cook-out and were assisted by Mrs. Joe Nunn, Mrs. Clyde Parrish, Mrs. O. R. Thomas, and Mrs. Pat Fairley.

SHARON SUE YEAGER IS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

One of the gay activities of Mrs. Edwards' Kindergarten was a birthday party honoring Sharon Sue Yeager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Yeager Nov. 2. Her birthday cake, white with pink candles, was served with ice cream. Her classmates enjoyed a rollicking half hour on the lawn after the refreshments. Bright balloons were presented them by the honoree.

NTSC Choir Exceeds Expectations In First Of Artesia Concert Series

The performance here Thursday evening of last week of the A Capella Choir from North Texas State College, Denton, in the first concert of a series being sponsored this season by the Artesia Concert Association, was beyond expectations.

Under the able direction of Dr. Wilfred C. Bain, dean of the School of Music at NTSC, the 47 voices of the choir blended in number after number, as though the conductor were at the console of a huge organ.

The rigid discipline which Dr. Bain imposes upon his singers was reflected in the perfect pitch and timing of the various sections of the choir.

Members of the Artesia Concert Association, the majority of whom were present in the Artesia High School auditorium to hear the A Capella Choir, were more than pleased with the initial concert of the series.

The association members now are looking forward to the next concert in the series, which will be presented at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, Dec. 12, in the auditorium of Artesia High School by Myron Taylor, tenor.

QUITO—MUSEUM CITY OF THE AMERICAS

The second highest capital in the world—next to La Paz, Bolivia—Quito, metropolis of Ecuador, sits in the heart of the Andes, almost two miles above sea level.

style with a central patio and red-tiled roof. The public buildings, also, are constructed in the Spanish colonial manner and are heavy square, massive in a robust way, contrasting somehow with the light colorfulness of native markets where swarms of poncho-garbed Indians crowd.

San Francisco Church (1534), the most important in Quito for its size and richness, is not as impressive in its ensemble. It may, however, be considered Quito's best art museum for it contains not only the work of Manuel Chile Caspicara, the poor Indian who was Quitos master woodcarver, but also many valuable paintings among which are some by Miguel de Santiago, one of the greatest of Latin American painters, founder of the Quito school of art, believed to have died in 1673.

Extremely interesting, as well, is the monastery of San Francisco, which adjoins the church and in whose library twelve thousand volumes, many of which are ancient parchment-bound tomes, are conserved in the shadow of the arches surrounding an old garden with a fountain.

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 10, 1946.
The Golden Text is: "If by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ."
—(Romans 5:17.)
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life."—(Romans 5:18.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book: "Whatever indicates the fall of man or the opposite of God or God's absence, is the Adam-dream, which is neither Mind nor man, for it is not begotten of the Father."
Visitors always welcome.

Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Bronchitis may develop if chest cold, or acute bronchitis, is not treated and you cannot get rid of it. It is a serious condition which may lead to pneumonia. It is caused by a germ which attacks the lining of the bronchial tubes. It is characterized by a persistent cough, which may be dry or may produce a large amount of mucus. It is often accompanied by a fever and a general feeling of weakness. It is a very common ailment, especially in the winter months. It can be treated with medicine, but it is often easier to prevent it. You can prevent it by keeping your throat clear, by drinking plenty of fluids, and by avoiding colds. You can also prevent it by using a good cough syrup. Faulk's Salvage is a good cough syrup. It is made from natural ingredients and it is very effective. It is available at all drug stores.

Forces of Attraction
Hold the Moon "Up" the Sky.... and
OIL-PLATE
our Engine!

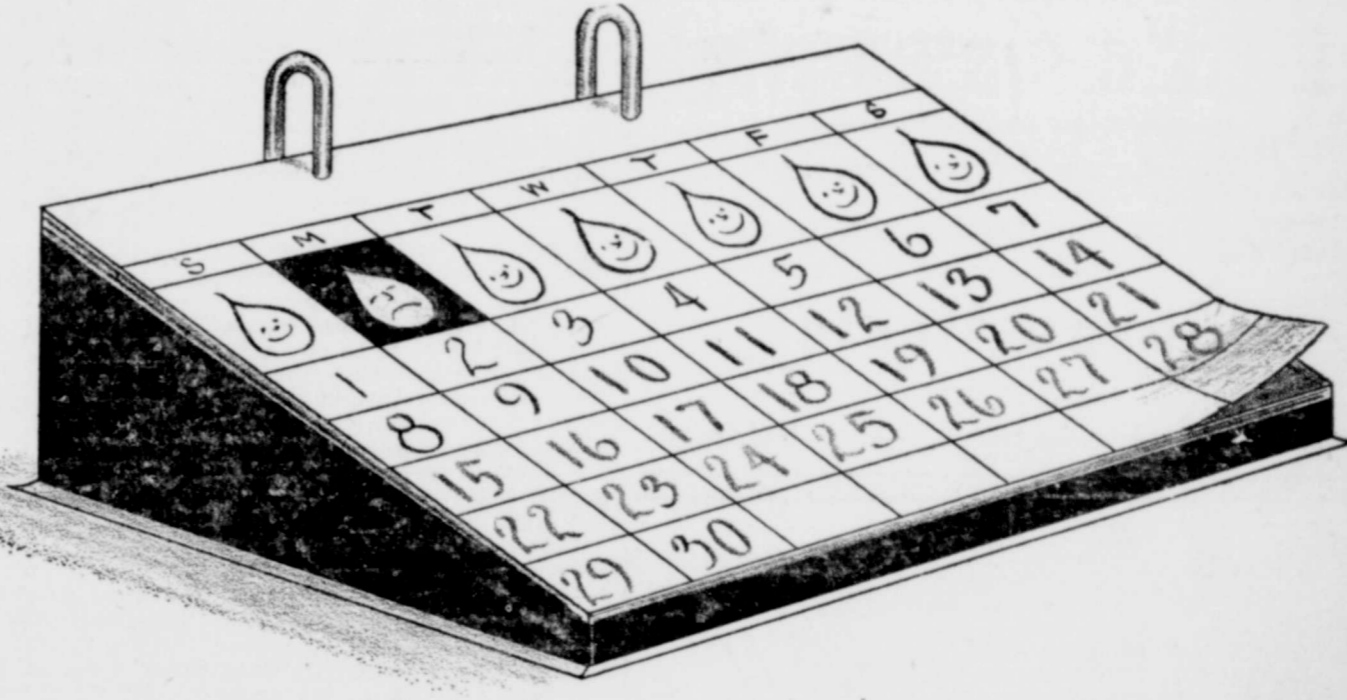

THE moon isn't really "up" in the sky, but it is held from flying off into space by the gravitational attraction between it and the earth.
Through tireless explorations in realms of molecular attraction, Conoco chemists have been able to bring America the benefits of new and better oils. In fact, by employing the force of molecular attraction they are able to bond a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil to working surfaces of your engine. So strong is this attraction that cylinder walls and other parts are OIL-PLATED.
And because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it belongs, it prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight... you get these benefits:
added protection during the vital periods when you first start your engine added protection from corrosive action when your engine is not in use added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon added smooth, silent miles
That's why you'd be safer to OIL-PLATE your engine now... at Your Conoco Neigee Merchant's. Look for the red triangle. Continental Oil Company

BETTER OIL-PLATE NOW!

WHY SHOULD

MONDAYS BE Blue?

Blue Monday

... back to work, back to the same old routine, gone the diversion of the week-end. But, why should Mondays be blue? Why not Tuesdays or some other days in the week? The answer probably goes back to the time when the housewife saved the family wash for bright and early Monday morning and slaved all day washing clothes, heating water, soaking, scrubbing, wringing and hanging out basket after basket of clothes. No wonder Monday was blue then—but Monday need no longer be blue! Thanks to the modern conveniences provided by Natural Gas, washing is made easy. Natural Gas heats all the water you need. You just turn the faucet... Regardless of rainy weather, Natural Gas dries your clothes indoors in a small compact cabinet in a matter of minutes. You're through washing before you know it. With these conveniences provided by Natural Gas, Monday and wash day are no longer blue.

will be awarded to those Scouts, who have earned them.

Scoutmaster Ernest Thompson of Troop No. 28 announced he had some 30 Scouts of his troop coming up for advancement at the court of honor. It is expected the other troops also will have a number of Scouts to be presented their awards.

A 100-pound practice bomb container, which has been donated by T/Sgt. Preston Triplett of the Carlsbad Army recruiting office, is to be given to the Boy Scout troop, which has the largest attendance for the court of honor. The presentation will be made, of course, on the percentage basis, with the troop having the largest percentage of their troop membership present to be given the award. The practice bomb container has been at The Advocate office for some weeks waiting to be awarded at the court of honor.

The ceremonies are open to the public and not only has a plea been sounded for all fathers and mothers of the Scouts to be present, but all scouts and the public in general are invited and requested to attend these ceremonies.

Activities Bus-

increase the sale of the dance tickets and to raise the balance of the two-thirds of the sum needed to pay for the bus.

The ticket sale, of course, started off fine during the first week with a splendid response. More than 50 per cent of the tickets for the dance were purchased by visitors at the fair at Roswell. During the past two weeks little effort has been made here to sell the tickets.

It is planned, however, to conduct an intensive sale for three or four days of the remaining period and to have the tickets on sale at all times.

President Simon points out, however, that in order for this to be done more volunteer helpers and workers are needed. He also needs various business houses here not only to offer the tickets for sale but to sell them.

With sufficient push and effort put behind the project confidence has been voiced that the sale of sufficient tickets can be made not only to pay for the youth activity bus but also to leave funds for other projects of the Boosters' club.

Out of the sale of the tickets, of course, the purchase of the Ford must be paid, as well as the bus and other expenses in connection with the dance to be held.

Tickets for the dance are being sold at $1.20 per person. Every effort is being made to eliminate seeking or accepting outright donations. This can be done if the response improves, it was stated.

The Boosters' Club hopes to be able to purchase a bus, which will seat some 36 youths. The bus is not only to be used for school affairs but it is hoped and expected it will be available for all youth movements. It can be used for the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Four-H Club members, to transport band members, high school athletic teams, and others.

The bus has been needed for many years and can serve a real purpose, it was pointed out.

Anyone desiring to aid and help in the program and to assist in the sale of tickets is urged to contact President Lloyd Simon or any of the officers or directors of the club. Other officers and directors are George Cheatum, Otto Wood, Don Carpenter and Artie McAnally.

The only prize for the "big fellow" offered in Artesia this year is to be given by the L. P. Evans Company store. A. C. Sadler, manager, announced that a sleeping bag will be given to the hunter bringing in the heaviest legal deer, provided the hunter shall have registered at the store prior to going hunting. Does legally taken in doe areas are eligible, as well as bucks.

The deer are to be weighed in at the store when they are brought in from the hills. In order to help keep a list of all lucky hunters, Sadler suggested that they weigh in their deer, even though they are not "in the money."

clear and warm.

Precipitation for the two days was .15 inch, which added welcome moisture to the range lands, after a total of 1.70 inches recorded here in November.

W. E. Ragsdale, who came here in September, 1905, said the first snow here this fall, which fell Nov. 4, was the earliest he has ever seen. The year after he came here, on Nov. 8, 1906, one of the heaviest, snows within his memory fell in Artesia, Ragsdale said.

We feel awful out-of-date because we have had nothing yet to do with smashing, perfecting or testing the atom.

tute 33-yard line and then, with five consecutive first downs made the first touchdown of the game for Artesia.

After Sudderth had scored and converted, Artesia kicked to the Colts, who were in possession of the ball as the quarter ended.

An exchange of kicks in the opening minutes of the final period gave the Colts a slight advantage. But then the Bulldogs broke loose again, this time for four first downs, with Sudderth making most of the gains.

His second touchdown was set up two plays prior, when Sudderth passed to Johnnie McKenney from the Institute 20 for a gain of 20 yards.

After Sudderth had made the 14th point for the wild Bulldogs, Artesia kicked to the Colts, who lost the pigskin on an intercepted pass on the first play, giving Artesia possession as the game ended.

The school band, stepping high in appreciation for the Halloween Frolic two evenings prior to the grid game, in which funds were raised for new bank uniforms, paraded between halves and formed an "I" and an "A" in honor of the two teams.

However, between the two letters on the band stopped playing a small boy climbed a pole, illuminated only by light, and an announcer would slide down a rope had been stretched from the pole to another pole distance away.

The spectators were from seeing the actual the spotlight failed for a just as it was taking place sure enough, when the boy was turned back on, there was on the ground!

The Bulldogs are to Coyotes at Roswell Friday, Nov. 8.

Purchase Of- (CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE) time. They have been operating it since that time and plan to continue its operation here. Priestley will supervise the Las Cruces newspaper from Artesia for the next few months with frequent trips to that city. If or when a move becomes necessary, the policies of The Artesia Advocate will be continued with Priestley continuing as publisher and supervising the local newspaper property with frequent trips to Artesia. The owners of The Advocate are vitally interested in the future growth and expansion of Artesia and will continue to contribute in any way possible to this progress. Plans for the growth and expansion of The Advocate will be carried out as rapidly as possible. The purchase of the additional property in New Mexico was made, it was pointed out, because of their confidence in the future of the state and the fact they feel that the state is due for great development in the years ahead. They also feel that Las Cruces, which has grown rapidly in the past few years, like Artesia, is due for greater growth, development and expansion. It is their hope, it was stated, they will have a small part in this progress and advancement. Although Skewes is associated in the two properties, he has not been and is not to be actively connected with the two businesses. He is publisher of The Meridian Star, Meridian, Miss., and The Laurel Leader Call at Laurel, Miss. He is actively engaged in the operation of The Meridian Star. He and Priestley have been associated in newspaper properties for the past 20 years, having sold The Crowley Daily Signal at Crowley, La., just prior to having purchased the Artesia newspaper. In connection with the purchase of the Las Cruces paper it was announced this is to be owned by a new corporation, The Sunshine Press, which they have in the process of being organized now. The Artesia property is a partnership. The Sunshine Press will be owned by Mr. and Mrs. Skewes and Mr. and Mrs. Priestley. They took active charge of the Las Cruces paper on Friday, Nov. 1, the day the sale was completed. The transaction at Las Cruces also includes the lease on a new $22,500 home, which is being erected for the daily newspaper there. The new structure is to be of Spanish architecture in type and is being erected especially to house the newspaper plant.

The candidates had been nominated several weeks prior to the carnival dates by their respective classes. Queen Shirley Young won the honors by about 2000 votes over her nearest competitor, Pat Watson, junior, and was crowned in impressive ceremonies in the auditorium of Artesia High School the second evening, after spirited voting, in charge of the 20-30 Club. Miss Watson and the other four candidates served Queen Shirley as princesses at the coronation. The others, not in the order in which they finished, and the grades they represented: Nadeen Ross, grade 12; Norma Smith, 9; Dora Orona, 8, and Colleen Jackson, 7. Franklyn L. Wiltse, band director, an instrumental music instructor, speaking for himself, the band and schools, and the general committee, expressed thanks and appreciation to the sponsoring organizations, the many persons who pitched in and worked, and to the public for the splendid support of the program and generous response. Conductor Wiltse and many others especially expressed thanks to Lloyd Simon, president of the Bulldog Boosters and a hard worker for the carnival, for his untiring efforts in promoting the carnival and in instilling a spirit of cooperation in the community.
