Cotton Crop In Wichita Territory Valued At $100,000,000

REPORTS SHOW FARM YIELD IN 40 COUNTIES

Brokers' Figures Reveal Average Price of 16.95 Cents per Pound

HALL COUNTY FIRST

Jackson Leads Oklahoma And Is Second in Entire Territory

Forty counties in the Wichita Falls trade territory in Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma produced a cotton crop of more than one million bales with a value of approximately $105,469,108 in 1928, according to seasonal averages for the territory released Monday by Robert Flournoy of the Neil P. Anderson company, cotton brokers of Wichita Falls.

Mr. Flournoy's completion of the average price for the entire season showed the crop in this section brought approximately 16.95 cents per pound, or a value of $104.75 per bale, including the average price paid for seed secured from the yield.

Hall County Leads

Hall county, with a record yield of 82,503 bales, led counties in both Texas and Oklahoma, the value of the crop being approximately $8,642,186. Jackson county, Oklahoma, was first for section in that state, and second for the section in both Texas and Oklahoma. The Jackson county crop was placed at 68,549 bales, valued at approximately $7,180,507.

Kiowa county, Oklahoma, with 60,176 bales, valued at $6,303,436, and the Tillman county crop of 65,371 bales, valued at $6,847,612, ranked high in both Texas and Oklahoma. Collingsworth county produced 48,528 bales with an aggregate value of $5,082,308, while Wichita county's crop of 19,086 bales was valued at $1,999,258.

LOST BATTALION FATE IN DOUBT

Federal Troop Wandering In Mountains

JUAREZ, Mexico, March 25. (AP)—General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, Mexican rebel commander-in-chief, tonight said he had received advices indicating that 7,000 men were being concentrated in the state of Guanajuato for a march on Mexico City.

MEXICO CITY, March 25. (AP)—Chapultepec castle was informed late tonight that 27 rebels were killed and 20 captured after a five hour battle yesterday at the town of Etzatlan, northwestern Jalisco. Six federal soldiers were killed and 12 were seriously wounded. Colonel J. H. Aceves led the assault on the rebel position, which was held by 130 insurgents.

MEXICO CITY, March 25. (AP)—The attention of the capital tonight was focused on the doubtful fate

NOGALES, Ariz., March 25. (AP)—An about face in their attitude toward G. K. "Buzz" Morrison, captured American aviator, was announced late today by Mexican rebel leaders at Nogales, Sonora. They stated that he would be held pending final disposition of his case by Commander in Chief General Gonzalo Escobar.

of a federal "lost battalion," wandering in the rebel state of Chihuahua without knowing who were enemies. Its capture by rebel Governor Caraveo was regarded as certain unless messengers sent out by federals reach it in time.

The fate of these 300 men overshadowed for the moment the prolonged and sanguinary struggle for the port of Mazatlan, key to the west coast campaign in the state of Sinaloa. Troop movements at other points on the long and irregular front went on without producing a crisis.

General Armenta was in the state of Sonora with 300 soldiers, half infantry and half cavalry, when he heard that General Francisco R. Manzo had revolted. Realizing that he was outnumbered, Armenta began a forced march over the wild mountain district into Chihuahua, which he believed still loyal.

He reached Matachic, north of Guerrera, Chihuahua, but his men were in rags and almost starving. Not knowing that Governor Caraveo had joined the rebel cause, he telegraphed him a request for ammunition and provisions. The government statetments said that the governor wired back congratulations and promises of aid and sent a train to bring to the rebel headquarters at Chihuahua City the federal battalion.

Still without knowledge of the trap laid for him, General Armenta was said to have entrained and to be now at San Antonio, half way between Minaca and Chihuahua City.

SPANISH PLANE REPORTED OVER NATAL, BRAZIL

Jesus del Gran Poder Sighted On Way to Rio de Janeiro, Report Says

WEATHER EXCELLENT

Young Fliers Cross Atlantic After Leaving Seville, Spain, Sunday

BUENOS AIRES, March 26. (AP) (1:55 a. m.) (Tuesday)—The National Telegraph company of Brazil informed the Bureau of La Necion at Rio Janeiro that an airplane, believed to be the Spanish plane Jesus del Gran Poder, was flying over Natal, Brazil.

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 26 (UP)—That French Aviation company Latocoere announced early today that the Spanish fliers, Capt. Ignacio Jiminez and Capt. Francisco Iglesias, had passed Natal, Brazil. The fliers left Seville, Spain, Sunday afternoon.

The fliers continued southward from Natal. Excellent weather conditions were reported.

The Latecoere company announced earlier tonight it had learned from the Moronha radio station tha the plane Jesus del Gran Poder passed over St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, at noon today.

The radio station picked up this message from an unknown source, the Latecoere company said.

Previously the National Telegraph company in Rio de Janeiro had reported the Jesus del Gran Poder at Cape Blanco at 4:20 p. m. The Cape Verde Islands are 550 miles southwest of Cape Blanco. It was considered possible that the Cape Blanco report should have read the craft passed over there at 4:20 a. m. This would be consistent with the report concerning the time the craft passed over the Cape Verde Islands.

Mr. Maricle received a message Monday from federal authorities at Washington instructing him to raise the flag to half mast.

OFFICER FIRES AT AUTOMOBILE

Both Parties Thought Other Was Hijacker

A case of mistaken identity on the part of a group of young people motoring on Morningside drive, in the west part of the city, and a special officer of the George Hodgins detective agency, late Monday night resulted in a police investigation of a shooting, in the course of which one bullet entered the rear upholstering of the car, only to be halted in its course an inch from the body of one of the occupants.

The occupants of the car, O. B. Holder, 18, of 1512 Bluff street, and O. L. Beach, owner of the automobile, and their girl companions, reported to police that they had been fired on by a man whom they took to be a hijacker, when they ignored his command to halt.

Mistaken for Burglars

Police Officer Ellis Summers went to the scene. Arthur Haigwood, special Hodgins officer detailed to patrol the Morningside drive district, returned with him to police headquarters and explained to Night Chief of Police Glenn that he had mistaken the occupants of the car for burglars. He explained that there had been many robbery attempts in the district. He said he had accosted the car and when it speeded up, he fired.

The officer was relieved of his pistol and allowed to return to his job. A conference will be held between the Hodgins officer, Chief of Police Frank Burns, and George Hodgins, head of the detective bureau here, Tuesday morning, it was said.

Holder, who was in the rear seat of the car, found a spent bullet in the cushion of the seat directly behind his left shoulder, according to Officer Summers.

Robberies Frustrated

Mr. Hodgins, commenting on the affair, told the Record News he regarded the incident wholly as a case of mistaken identity. He said, in regard to his officer being relieved of his gun, that he would have gone the same thing under the circumstances, and that he would be present for a full explanation when the conference opens Tuesday morning with city police officials.

Mr. Hodgins said his officer had frustrated two robbery attempts in the Morningside drive region within the last week, and that the area was badly in need of protection.

Mr. Hodgins added that in reporting the incident to him Mr. Haigwood had said the shots were fired into the air, and not at the automobile.

'HOTTEST' BILLS UNSIGNED WITH VETOES HINTED

Anti-Bolter, Sunday Movie And Court Measures Unacted Upon

MOODY APPROVES 96

Most Important Proposals Included in Last Six On Chief's Desk

AUSTIN, March 25. (AP)—Filing 96 bills which he had signed, some of them having been approved for a week—it was revealed—Governor Moody today reduced the number of measures on his desk unacted on to six.

There was no great general interest in any measures approved, many of them being of a local nature, including special hunting, fishing and road laws for certain counties.

Vetoes Indicated

He indicated tonight that there would be some vetoes in the batch withheld and intimated at the same time that he would sign the Port Arthur bill, providing for remission of taxes for building a seawall.

He had taken no action on the Wirts anti-bolter bill, the Sunday moving picture show measure, several proposed laws establishing experiment stations, or the proposed Corpus Christi district court and Greenville civil appeals court.

He approved four joint resolutions submitting proposed constitutional amendments. One of these would increase the governor's salary to $10,000 annually. Another would extend the legislative session to 120 days every two years and increase the per diem from $5 to $10. The others would permit the levying of taxes against Texas university lands in West Texas for county purposes and authorize investment of money in the permanent university fund in bonds of the United States, state, counties and municipalities.

List of Laws

Among the bills he signed were those making wife and child desertion a felony; increasing pay of Texas rangers, increasing salary of the assistant attorney general to $3,000 annually, establishing experiment stations in the winter garden district and the ninth senatorial district, composed of Cook, Grayson and Fanning counties; printing of free textbooks in German language, emergency appropriation for rural aid and maintenance of summer schools in Texas colleges, providing convicts work 10 hours daily and allowing double time for overtime, appropriating $25,000 to cooperate with the department of interior of United States in investigating reservoir sites and conditions on Pecos river, prohibiting agents from enticing laborers from one farm to another, authorizing Texas state teachers colleges to make contracts for erection of dormitories; requiring persons operating nurseries or places for custody of children under 15 years to obtain license from state board of health before soliciting funds, and requiring permit from secretary of state for operation of commercial colleges.

Mexico Plans to Halt Emigration to America

MEXICO CITY, March 25. (AP)—Excelsior today quoted Garcia Telles, acting undersecretary of the department of interior as saying Mexico intended doing all it could to prevent Mexican laborers crossing into the United States.

It was asserted the department would do its utmost to seek the cooperation of the United States to prevent workers leaving Mexico for the United States inasmuch as the government does not want to lose their services.

Girls' Home Head Declares Whisky Was 'Planted' in Car Across Border

But Hopkins Admits Under Questioning His Fine Was Paid With Home's Funds; Fort Worth Case

SAN ANTONIO, March 25. (AP)—Two bottles of whisky were "planted" in his automobile in Nuevo Laredo, causing his arrest at the international line, C. W. Hopkins testified today in the hearing of a petition seeking to remove 11 orphan girls from the custody of him and his wife.

District court is hearing the application of Lamar Seeligson, district attorney, to remove the orphans from custody of Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins, who conduct the Volunteers of America orphans home here.

Stopped by Officer

Hopkins said he had crossed the border with his wife and Myrtle Crump, a ward of the home, and after looking around a while they drove back. When they reached the international bridge the officer stopped them and said he would have to search the car.

"The officers reached down under the front seat and found two bottles of whisky," Hopkins said. "I did not know the liquor was in the car and there was no dash light to the car. If there had been I could have seen the whisky as the necks of the bottles were protruding from under the seat."

He previously had made a trip across the border and his car had not been searched, Hopkins said.

$10 Fine Paid

The officer told him that he had been "tipped off" in regard to the liquor in the car, Hopkins added.

Hopkins said he paid a fine of $10 after the liquor was found.

Seeligson hammered away with questions and Hopkins admitted the fine was paid from money collected by solicitors of the organization.

TARRANT COUNTY HOME IS AIRED

FORT WORTH, March 25. (AP)—Discharge of Supt. T. W. East of the Tarrant County Orphans home, East's charges of brutal beatings administered orphan children by employes over whom he "had no control" and the statement of Commissioner Harve Wright that he is ready to investigate East's charges, today climaxed the disagreement between County Judge S. D. Shannon and the four county commissioners over operation of the orphanage.

Judge Shannon fought to retain East. The four commissioners voted unanimously to discharge East, who has served for 18 months.

The court appointed John Williams, former superintendent.

I'm Alone Affair Raises New Questions in Sea Law and Rights

MELLON DEFENDS ACT

Treasury Head Lauds Work Of Patrol; Canada Dislikes Document

WASHINGTON, March 25. (UP)—A diplomatic clash between the United States and Canadian governments over the sinking of the schooner I'm Alone by a coast guard patrol boat in the Gulf of Mexico Friday appeared probable here tonight.

The situation was further intensified when Secretary of Treasury Mellon held that the coast guard vessel's action was fully justified under international law, a view that is known to conflict with the Canadian interpretation of the rum-running treaty between the two countries.

Canadian Ship

Since the I'm Alone was of Canadian, instead of British, registry, the Canadian legation here had taken over the handling of the incident, thus making the sinking of the rum runner a matter of difference between the two North American neighbors, specifically, though involving likewise the mother country, Great Britain.

Mellon, who has jurisdiction over the coast guard, entered the situation tonight when he made public a report on the incident from coast guard headquarters. He agrees with the report that by refusing to stop and permit the coast guard commanders to board her the I'm Alone violated international laws of the sea and made herself subject to seizure.

Demand Authorized

When sighted by the patrol boat Walcott, Mellon said the I'm Alone was 500 miles off her course and the coast guard vessel was fully authorized to demand that she stop. Mellon reviewed the history of the I'm Alone and repeated coast guard contentions that she was a notorious rum runner.

Interest here in the forthcoming diplomatic negotiations centers about the rum-runing treaty between the United States and Canada. A decided difference of view is held by the treasury and the Canadian government, it appeared today, as to the interpretation of the treaty. The treaty is identical with the one between the United States and Great Britain, though they were negotiated separately.

Pursuit Unmentioned

The treaty, in the view of the treasury department, confers the right not only to search and seize rum runners apprehended within one hour's steaming distance of the American coast, but to pursue them on the high seas as far as may be necessary to effect their capture. Although the first part of this contention is upheld, specifically, in the treaty, the right of pursuit is unmentioned in the document and is understood to be unacceptable to the Canadian government.

Between the right to pursue a suspected smuggler from within the three-mile limit—a right accepted in international law—and the contention of the United States government that a similar right is implied by the treaty in question, the Canadian government draws a clear distinction.

The coast guard report to Mellon recounted some new and interesting facts about the I'm Alone, including the origin of her name, and the fact she was built by an American.

Noted Smuggler

"The I'm Alone," it said, "was a notorious smuggler and had been engaged in smuggling liquor into

Famous Passengers See Continent's Beauty Spots

By WILLIAM HILLMAN
Record News Special Radio

FREDERICHSHAFEN, March 25. (US)—This afternoon the 28 famous passengers aboard the Graf Zeppelin were given the thrill of their first view from the air of the new vatican state in Rome.

Reports received here have the huge German airliner arriving over Rome at 3:30 o'clock today, accompanied by an escort of airplanes, and saluted by the tooting of hundreds of factory sirens.

The streets of the Eternal City were crowded with air-gazing throngs as the Graf passed over a corner of the new vatican city and in front of St. Peter's and the vatican palace.

In Sight of Three Rulers

Three rulers could have seen the passage of the great airliner as she breasted the ether over Rome. Il Duce, Mussolini, was in Chici Palazzo; King Victor Emmanuel may have caught a glimpse from the royal palace, and Pope Pius XI from the vatican palace.

As the ship passed over Rome, it experienced its first crash—but this only of porcelain. The Helmsman's abrupt turning caused a number of dishes to slide off tables, thumping and breaking on the dining salon floor.

Earlier dispatches recorded the opinion of the commander, Dr. Hugo Eckener, that the start of the voyage, over France at night by reason of a government edict,

Police Chalk Cars as Burglars Loot Homes, Council Told in Parking Row

Flaying the local method of police protection and exposing asserted flaws of the overtime parking law, Walter H. Caldwell, lawyer, urged the reapel of the ordinance before the city council in its meeting Monday night.

The council again, as it did three weeks ago, defeated the measure by a three to two vote and the city police department will continue to assess each motorist who leaves his car parked in the downtown section for more than two hours, a fine of $2.

In his address to the council Mr. Caldwell asserted: "In comparing the police force of Wichita Falls with that of other cities of this size I find that we have about 50 per cent of the men that we should have. A large part of that force is on chalk stick duty while they should be patrolling the residential section at night in an attempt to stop some of the burglaries that have been occurring here all year.

Boys and Girls Recite Details Of Raid on 'Home Town' Bank at Brady

BRADY, Texas, March 25. (AP)—How Harold Johanson, assistant cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank, was robbed by a former schoolmate Thursday was told at the examining trial of a youth and a girl, charged with robbery of the bank, here today.

Examining trial for another boy and two other girls, alleged participants in the job, will be held tomorrow.

Johanson testified that he and R. C. Turner had been schoolmates at the Fairview school, near Brady, and that they recently had attended a dance and picnic together. He declared that they had never been "confidential friends." The assistant cashier said he recognized Turner during the holdup and gave officers information which led to Turner's arrest.

Loleate Smith, who was with the party of boys and girls before and after the robbery, quoted one of Turner's girl friends as saying Turner "had it all made up," when

Perilous Route

France dictated a route over perilous mountain tops, and because of a heavy land fog, Dr. Eckener's three captains, the wireless says, were called to duty on the bridge. They are Captains Lehmann, Fleming and Von Schiller. Dr. Eckener's son, Knut, was at one of the pilot wheels, and the entire crew was at their posts.

Cruising in the invisible night, the Graf was taken up to nearly 4,000 feet to feel its way slowly through the fog. Valence was first sighted "instrumentally," and then, during the night, the giant liner was taken to Lyons, where it hung for two hours until daylight. Dawn was awaited anxiously by Dr. Eckner, who feared ramming the ship into some mountain peak in the fog.

However, the Graf finally made her way out into the open sea over Marseilles as the glimmering Rhone river was left behind. Dr. Eckener ordered full speed as the liner passed over the French port at 7:45 a. m. today. Many towns on the Rhone valley had honored the airship with a blast of factory whistles and sirens. Keeping away from the war harbor at Toulouse, the Graf laid a direct steerage for Corsica and Rome.

Corsica Sighted

The northern end of Corsica, the island birthplace of France's great military genius, Napoleon, was sighted shortly after noon. The famous isle of exile, Elba, was sighted shortly afterward.

All Germany is thrilled over the latest flight of the giant airliner, which moved into the air here in Friedrichshafen shortly before midnight for its record-achieving four-day and four-night flight to the Orient and return.

The route outlined by the Graf commander will carry the huge form of the silver greyhound from the accomplished flight over Switzerland into France and along the Mediterranean to Rome, out to Sicily, Crete, Jaffa, Jerusalem and Haifa, in the Holy Land.

Returning, the airship will pass over the Aegean sea, the Dardanelles and Constantinople, thence over the Black sea to Rumania and Budapest, Vienna and Friedrichshafen. More than 4,000 miles are expected to be covered by the Graf, which carries a total of 70 passengers and crew.

ELECTRA, Texas, March 25.—Funeral rites will be said Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Gilger home near here for H. L. Gilger, 58, prominent oil man, who died at his residence on the Hamilton lease early Monday after an illness of several weeks.

The services will be in charge of the Rev. H. E. Anderson, pastor of the Methodist church, and the Rev. L. D. Grafton, Presbyterian minister. Interment will be in the local cemetery.

Mr. Gilger, at the time of his death production superintendent for the Hamilton lease for the Magnolia Petroleum company, had been prominent also in oil circles in West Virginia, where he formerly resided. He moved here 17 years ago.

Surviving are his widow, three sisters, two stepsons, one stepdaughter, and one adopted grandson, Laverne Gilger, student at Howard Payne college, Brownwood.

Boy Scouts Awarded 150 Badges in Tests

More than 150 merit badges and over a score of promotions in rank were awarded to local Boy Scouts at the scout board of review Monday afternoon at the Memorial auditorium, according to Frank B. Creighton, scout executive.

Troop four led the other troops in obtaining merit badges with 65 while troop two was second with 37. Each badge will obtain one point in the Jamboree contests which will be held by all of the scouts in this area at the Memorial auditorium Friday.

Truck Growers Urged to Attend Public Market Meet Wednesday

An urgent call is being sent to all truck growers in the Wichita Falls community to attend a meeting of the Truck Growers' association, which will be held Wednesday night, March 27, at the courthouse for the purpose of completing operating plans for the public market which it is proposed to open by May 1.

Discussion of the by-laws by several of the members who met last Friday night developed the need of several provisions not included in the document drawn up tentatively by the executive committee, headed by E. F. Moore. Since the matters in question will affect directly every truck grower in the community, it was said, an especial effort is being made to have the largest number possible present at the business session to be held Wednesday night.

The corner of Tenth and Ohio has been selected by the association as the site for the public market. Opening and closing hours for the market, and regulation of the activities of non-member trucksters, will be decided by the meeting Wednesday, it was stated.

'HUMAN FLY' CLIMBS TODAY

Thrills Promised by Stunts Atop Hotel

Wichita Falls' excitement seekers will be given a chance to secure an ample amount of heart throbs and thrills when Babe White, the "human fly," attempts to scale the wall of the Holt hotel building here Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and 7:30 o'clock.

In addition to climbing up the wall of the hotel with his bare hands, the famous human fly will entertain his audience with numerous aerial stunts from a high position up the side of the building.

Stunts included in Mr. White's little side show in the air are hanging by his teeth, toes, neck and one knee from a trapeze suspended six stories from the pavement.

In case weather conditions prevent Mr. White from performing Tuesday, both climbs will be made Wednesday at the same time. A large searchlight will be used at the night performance to follow the human fly through his course up the side of the wall.

Electra Society

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, March 25.—The South Field Circle 9 met last Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. N. Starks. The meeting opened with the song, "I Shall Not Be Moved," followed by prayer. Mrs. R. W. Tucker had charge of the Bible study which was taken from the books of Titus and Philemon. A round table discussion then followed, after which Mrs. B. L. Garlington presided over a short business session. Mrs. H. C. Shelly had charge of the regular third Monday missionary program, followed by the dismissing prayer by Mrs. O. N. Starks. Twenty-two ladies were present.

Lampas Club Meets

The Lampas club met last Monday afternoon in the church, with Mrs. J. P. Doherty as hostess. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. J. M. Knight after which a short business session was held. Mrs. R. N. Richardson, president of the club, made a talk thanking the members for their aid in serving the Lions banquet. Mrs. Fred Cummings led in the Bible study from the book, "The Gist of Christianity." The business meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction after which a social hour was spent. Refreshments of caramel nut pie, whipped cream and coffee were served to the following members: Mesdames J. M. Ashley, D. R. Rutchens, C. F. Suggs, D. L. Duval, J. L. Chowning, Troy Ray, M. E. Davenport, C. A. Franklin, C. T. Crite, R. N. Richardson, E. H. Williams, J. A. Myers, George Williams, J. M. Knight and W. L. Douglas.

Circle Eleven Meets

Baptist circle 11 of the W. M. U. met with Mrs. J. F. Morell on the Rio Bravo least last Monday afternoon. The meeting was opened by Mrs. C. E. Brasick leading prayer, after which Mrs. J. M. Kiwanis Club Hears Talks by Legion Heads

Floyd Friberg, adjutant; Rabbi S. J. Schwab, chaplain, and Roy J. Daniel spoke before the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Kemp hotel Monday noon on behalf of the membership campaign now being conducted by the Pat Carrigan post, American Legion.

The local post plans to increase its membership to 400 before April 13, the date on which National Commander Paul V. McNutt will visit this city and speak in the Memorial auditorium, according to Mr. Friberg. The aid rendered to disabled soldiers, and efforts made by chaplains to maintain the morale of the men, were discussed.

A singsong was led by William E. Young, Mike Ellis accompanying.

250 ENROLL IN JUNIOR C.-C.

State Leaders to Speak At Banquet Friday

Memberships in the junior chamber of commerce lacked less than 50 Monday evening of topping the goal of 300 set by the leaders in the movement to be reached by March 29, according to Jerry Vinson, chairman of the publicity committee.

A large percentage of those enrolled as members will be present at the first annual banquet of the organization at the Wichita club Friday night, according to ticket sales reported. Speakers for the occasion were announced Monday. They will include John L. Briggs, president of the Dallas junior chamber of commerce; H. V. DeArmand of San Antonio, president of the United States Junior chamber; Orville Bullington, president, and members of the board of directors of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce. Arrangements also are being made for a brief program of entertainment.

Fifteen directors for the new organization are to be elected Friday night from a list of 30 nominees selected by a committee headed by Paul Pearson.

SAYS SARGON MADE A NEW MAN OF HIM; —ALL ELSE FAILED

"I don't see how anyone could get the wonderful results I have from Sargon and keep silent about it," declared Ed Curry, well-known salesman residing at 1915 Webster street, Houston, while in the Court House Pharmacy, No. 1, a day or two ago.

"For the past two years I have been in a weak, nervous, anemic condition, was badly constipated and suffered from indigestion all the time. I had no appetite, no energy, and slept poorly. What I managed to eat would lay like a rock in my stomach, ferment and keep me miserable for hours. I would roll and toss about for half the night before I could get to sleep, and every morning I would get up feeling weak and nervous. At times I would have terrific headaches and dizzy spells. My color was bad, I had to keep dosing myself with laxatives, and I lost weight until I felt so shaky and fagged out I could hardly stay on the job.

"Sargon proved to be just what my system needed. Three bottles of the medicine put me in fine shape. My stomach feels like a new one, I have a fine appetite, and everything I eat digests perfectly without a sign of gas or any trouble. I have gained eight pounds and feel full of life and energy all the time. I sleep fine and have the color of health in my face for the first time in two years.

"The Sargon Soft Mass Pill is a wonder. It put my liver and bowels in such fine condition I never have to take a laxative any more.

"Since taking Sargon myself I don't wonder so many people are praising it. It made a new man out of me and I am confident it will do the same for anybody who needs building-up like I did."

Sargon may be obtained in Wichita Falls from the Renfro Drug Co., Eighth and Scott streets, No. 1 main store, and Seventh and Indiana, No. 2; and in Electra from Lough's Drug store.—Adv.

CANADA KICKS ON SHIP FIGHT

Diplomatic Clash Thought Quite Likely

the United States for nearly five years.

"She was built and especially designed for rum-running purposes by a certain American bootlegger who now is in prison at Boston.

"He named the ship I'm Alone because he broke away from a smuggling gang in Boston and decided to operate alone. The vessel was registered at Lunenberg, Nova Scotia, by the I'm Alone Shipping company."

The I'm Alone was picked up by the patrol boat Wolcott within 12 miles of the Louisiana coast, the coast guard report says, but all reports received here agree that the first encounter took place outside the three-mile limit which defines the actual territorial waters of the United States. The schooner's master is reported to claim he was outside the 12-mile limit.

The actual sinking of the I'm Alone, accomplished by the patrol boat Dexter, which joined the Wolcott in the chase, occurred on the high seas some 200 miles southeast of New Orleans.

The possibility that the French embassy might become involved in the incident was discussed here when it was reported that the seaman from the I'm Alone who was drowned was a Frenchman. Other reports said the drowned man was a naturalized British subject. An official of the French embassy said no information on the subject had come to the embassy and that no investigation was being made.

Representative Hamilton Fish Jr., a member of the house committee on foreign affairs, in a statement today, said he believed the incident would have no serious effect on our relations with Great Britain.

BRITAIN AWAITS OFFICIAL REPORT

LONDON, March 25. (AP)—The British foreign office will make no statement concerning the sinking of the British schooner I'm Alone by a United States coast guard vessel until it receives a full report from Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador at Washington.

However, the affair appears to British officials as a most serious rumrunning incident if unofficial reports thus far received should prove correct.

The foreign office has been advised of the sinking and informed that Sir Esme has asked the state department for full details which have been promised him.

City Builds Stockade For Elephant at Zoo

Miss Sugar, municipal elephant, will have a ward all her own in which to spend the summer months when a stockade which was begun by the city park department Monday is completed, according to C. C. Bunnenberg, park superintendent.

The stockade is to be 50 foot square and will be constructed out of 14-inch piling, Mr. Bunnenberg said. It will be over six feet in height, insuring ample protection for the largest member of Wichita Falls' zoo family.

The animals wil be moved into their summer quarters at Scotland park this week and will be on exhibit for the first time this Sunday. Donations to the zoo of either fowls or animals by the citizens of the city will be appreciated by the park department, Mr. Bunnenberg asserted.

CRIME LAID TO PROHI STATUTE

Graft, Corruption and Murder Result, Is Claim

WASHINGTON, March 25. (INS)—Wholesale graft, corruption, murder, and the growth of gang operations all are charged directly against prohibition in a pamphlet made public today by the research department of the association against the prohibition amendment. The pamphlet also cited the growth of illicit liquor traffic as shown in records of deaths, insanity and arrests for drunkenness.

Gangster-bootlegger activities and corruption in law enforcement agencies in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia, Buffalo and Pittsburgh, as representaltve cities, are dealt with at length in the pamphlet, entitled "the scandals of prohibiton enforcement." Tabulations of seizures of illicit liquor in each state, compiled by the bureau of internal revenue, are presented as an index to conditions throughout the country.

The anti-prohibition body also charges the congestion of court calendars and "bargain" practices of securing guilty pleas are evils incident on prohibition.

The pamphlet quoted a prediction made by Chief Justice William Howard Taft, made at the time the eighteenth amendment was adopted, in which Taft said the manufacture of liquor would "go out of the hands of the law-abiding members of the community and will be transferred to the quasi-criminal class" and that "elections will continually turn on the rigid or languid execution of the liquor law."

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and make a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

Always Safe

When your Children Cry for It

Here's relief and comfort for crying, fretful, feverish babies or children that you don't need to urge or command them to take. They love the delicious taste of Fletcher's Castoria. Your doctor will tell you it's absolutely safe, so you can give it as freely and as often as needed to keep your children happy and well. A few drops is all it takes to quiet fretful, feverish, colicky babies; relieve their biliousness, gas on stomach, constipation, etc.; soothe them to sleep in a jiffy. For like disorders in older children, you simply use a little larger dose of the same reliable Fletcher's Castoria. Don't use grown-folks' medicine; with babies or children, specialists say. Ninety per cent of them recommend Fletcher's Castoria; and 30 years of steadily increasing popularity proves they're right. To protect you from imitations, the Fletcher signature is on every bottle of genuine Fletcher's Castoria.

DULL, LANGUID IN EARLY MORN

Often the Sign of Constipation. Thedford's Black-Draught Drives Out Impurities.

DECTAUR, Ala.—Mrs. A. B. Roberts, of 1704 Fifth avenue, this city, says:

"My mother is a great believer in Black-Draught. She has used it for many years in her family. When we were growing up, she gave it to us whenever we complained of indigestion.

"Since I have been married and had a home of my own, I have continued to use Black-Draught as a household medicine, and have found it very good for constipation and biliousness.

"Whenever I wake up in the morning feeling dull and languid, I know that I need something to cleanse my system. Sometimes I feel dizzy and uncertain of myself. I begin to take a pinch of Black-Draught after each meal for several days. Then I begin to feel fine again. My system clears up and I have more energy.

"I am glad to recommend Black-Draught to others, as I have found it to be a great deal of help to me."

Thedford's Black-Draught, in yellow 25-cent packages, is a powdered herb medicine of highest quality.

TOO OLD

Primo de Rivera No Longer Young Enough To Serve

MADRID, March 26. (AP)—Primo de Rivera, chief of the Spanish directorate, feels he is no longer young enough to remain at the head of the present regime.

The dictator has issued a semi-official note foretelling a change in government and stating he was not young enough to continue for another five years at his post.

Had he been younger the man who has been virtually dictator of Spain since the autumn of 1923, said that he would have asked King Alfonso to continue his confidence in him for another period of five years.

CREAGER CALLS IOWAN'S HAND

Texan Sends Reply to Senator Brookhart

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, March 25. (AP)—R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman for Texas, taking cognizance of a Washington dispatch published Saturday, sent the following telegram today to Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, chairman of the senate subcommittee on patronage:

"You are quoted in press reports as stating that I, in advance of the event, testified before your committee that Congressman Wurzbach would be indicted for receiving political contributions from federal officeholders in violation of law, and further, that I caused the indictment to be brought in order to stifle your committee's investigation.

"If you made such statements you deliberately falsified. The stenographic report of my testimony proves the falsity of the first statement. As to the second, you well know that, far from trying to stop your farcical, so-called investigation, I demanded the fullest light on the Texas situation and, by public demand, forced you to reluctantly hear approximately 30 of the leading citizens of my state, Republicans and Democrats, all of whom testified to the high standing and integrity of the responsible leaders of the Republican organization in Texas, and denounced as absurd the slanderous hearsay, twice removed, to which, with apparent seriousness, you had been listening."

ALTUS SCHOOL NEEDS AIRED

C.-C. Banquets City Council and Civic Clubs

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., March 25.—If property owners were consistent in rendering a fair assessment on their property, the local school problem would be solved with a probable reduction in taxes, was the consensus of opinion of a group of civic leaders gathered at the chamber of commerce banquet here. This dinner was the first of its nature ever attended by the chamber of commerce and city council jointly. The dinner was given to the members of the council and heads of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

Good Will Banquet

The affair was planned primarily as a means of increasing the spirit of fellowship between the groups and to provide an opportunity for a joint discussion of civic problems. C. W. Snyder, president of the chamber of commerce, presided.

Talks were made during the dinner by E. E. Gore, city attorney; T. M. Robinson, Clarence Baker, John Duncan, L. L. Smith, city treasurer; Henry Kimball, Jasper Pendleton and B. M. Wooldridge.

The group as a whole agreed that the Altus school situation should be remedied at once and that the obtaining of an adequate income for the school could be best secured through promotion of higher valuation of taxable property.

New Schools Needed

The necessity to place the city and county on a financial basis with property funds for maintenance of proper school standards and construction of at least two ward schools to relieve the present crowded conditions was stressed by several of the men in talks.

More adequate fire protection for the city, means of supplying water service in case the power lines were destroyed, general tax matters for the city, and the need for a civic park were additional matters considered by the men.

Similar dinners will be given by the chamber of commerce every two or three months in the future.

Additions Made to Altus School Grounds

ALTUS, Okla., March 25.—Extensive additions have been made to the school ground equipment of the Washington school here. The equipment was brought through the efforts of the Parent-Teachers' association.

Digestive Troubles Speedily Ended

Eat What You Like and as Much as You Want

Practically every case of indigestion and kindred disorders, is due to fermentation (souring of food matter.) It therefore follows, that if you are to get permanent relief the cause of the trouble must be eliminated. This can only be done by an antiseptic.

Gordon's, an internal antiseptic, does that very thing, and promptly, too. It drives out the acids and poisons—makes the stomach like new.

For quick relief from indigestion, dyspepsia, excess acid, gas, bloating, heartburn, sour stomach that "tired feeling." You'll find this remarkable remedy surprisingly effective.

NEW FACES ON CAPITOL HILL

Fashionable Circle May Be Revived Near Dome

WASHINGTON, March 25. (INS)—Washington society was wondering today whether a new fashionable residential circle is to be created within the shadow of the capitol's dome.

The fact that Senator Hiram W. Johnson, Republican of California, forced out of his colonial mansion in Maryland by his feud with Senator T. H. Caraway, Democrat of Arkansas, had purchased an old home on Maryland avenue, within a stone's throw of the capitol, gave the society matrons something to talk about. Johnson followed the lead of Senator Porter H. Dale, Republican of Vermont, who bought a mansion recently on B street, Northeast, just a block from the capitol grounds. Senators George W. Norris, Republican of Nebraska, Joe T. Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, and Carl Hayden, Democrat of Arizona, have lived for some time in an apartment house on Maryland avenue, at the edge of the capitol park.

If society leaders follow these senators to capitol hill, the trend may be to revive the ancient custom of legislators to live within sight of the capitol. In early days, Washington's legislative society lived almost exclusively on capitol hill.

The Johnson-Caraway feud meanwhile has ended with Caraway in full possession of Johnson's old home, the famous Calvert mansion at Riverdale, Md. Johnson had occupied the old colonial homestead for many years under leases and awoke one morning to learn that Caraway had purchased it. The Arkansas senator promptly gave notice he expected Johnson to vacate the property and the two senators have been at war ever since. Johnson's last lease expired March 4.

Improvements At Fort Sill Started

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., March 25.—A program of permanent construction improvements at the summer training camp, Fort Sill, which will result in the expenditure of between $40,00 and $50,000 was started during the past few days. The work is being done by the quartermaster department without contract.

The construction includes a quartermaster administration building, a motor repair section building, 300 concrete tent floors, three officers' bath houses of hollow tile and stucco, installation of scullery sinks in all mess halls and a water pump near the camp.

The improvements will be of great convenience to the camp during the summer months to the various national defense units, the national guard, citizens' military training camp and various reserve units.

In addition to the summer camp construction the entire electrical distribution system of the post is being rebuilt and four steel hay sheds, costing $25,000, are now under construction.

WE WOMEN

by Betty Brainerd

THE "MISUNDERSTOOD" HUSBAND

OF ALL the various specimens in the Zoo of Man there is none more uproariously or pitifully amusing and transparent than the husband who, according to his own statements, is misunderstood by his wife. She doesn't appreciate his ways, virtues, problems and peculiarities.

Furthermore, it appears that his wife invariably fails to keep up with him. It is an old plaint.

A man is merely a success in business and on the basis of that success suddnly makes the singular discovery that the woman whom he once loved and married has grown altogether inadequate as a wife!

The tiny house in which they first lived and loved has been replaced by a large and pretentious home. All the earthly materials are there.

So says the husband.

But his wife doesn't understand or appreciate him.

Thus the tale he tells all women who listen.

The poor fish!

The woods of society are full of him and his kind. And the surprising disclosure is that the husband who is always being misunderstood or appreciated and whose wife has failed to keep up with him, almost invariably requires a female audience for his complaints.

I find it a little bit difficult to understand why this type of man suffers from the delusion he can get understanding from other women.

This type of creeping creature does not seem to realize that he will get exactly what he wants and even pleads for—which is understanding.

A married man who seeks sympathy and understanding from other women to whom he has confided that he is married or who know that he is married, unwittingly tells these women that he is mentally bankrupt and utterly lacking in social resourcefulness. And so, besides scorn, which of course he merits, he gets pity, pure and unadulterated.

The trouble with him is not that his wife does not understand him, but that she understands him too well.

His cure will lie in the surprising discovery that he has failed to understand his understanding wife.

He will make that discovery when he discovers that the women from whom he asks understandingly not only understand him, but also his wife.

Betty Brainerd will be glad to help her readers with their problems. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to her in care of this paper.

"Any day but that!"

It's exasperating when men don't understand—and embarrassing when they do. Women who have learned of Midol don't have painful periods.

Midol is not a narcotic. It acts only on the organs affected. Perfectly safe, but swift; it brings complete comfort in five to seven minutes! No matter how hard a time you've always had, Midol will dispel every particle of pain. It is only common sense to use it, for it does nothing to hinder the normal, natural process of menstruation; but makes it painless.

Get Midol in the trim little case of aluminum, for purse or pocket; 50 cents, at any drug store.—Adv.

WEIGH WHAT YOU DESIRE

If you over-weigh, the cause may not be in over-eating or under-exercise. It may lie in a fault in nutrition which modern research has discovered. And which science now corrects.

The method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And many of the people you envy—with slender figures, new vivacity and health—will urge you to adopt this way.

The use of Marmola does not require abnormal exercise or diet. In every box you will find the formula, also the reasons for results. You will know just why your weight comes down and why every effect is helpful. Learn the facts, and do it now. Do so by asking your druggist today for a $1 box of Marmola.

Nature Thought of Everything

Nature thought of everything when the human body was made. When the body is about to become ill, nature planned danger signals to warn us. Thus, if our children grind their teeth when they sleep, or lack appetite, or suffer from abdominal pains, or itch about the nose and fingers, we should know that they may have contracted worms. Then, if we are wise, we buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and safely and surely expel the worms. Thus we avoid the danger of very serious trouble. White's Cream Vermifuge costs only 25c a bottle, and can be bought from Miller Drug Store.

Millions of Families Depend on Dr. Caldwell's Prescription

W. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 69

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their systems. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles. A trial is sure to convince any household of the merits of this famous prescription.—Adv.

uses a cup of SUGAR in boiling ham

A famous cook gives his recipe

A MAN, famous among his friends for his fine cooking, was asked the secret of his delicious boiled ham. He gave this simple recipe: Put a cupful of sugar in the water that boils an average size ham. Also one-half cup of vinegar. Try this and see how much it improves the taste and flavor of the ham.

Every good cook knows that there is no substitute for sugar in improving the enjoyment of other foods. Whether in preparing fresh vegetables, fruits or meats, sugar is the secret of successful cookery.

Sweetness is nature's perfect flavor. It is also the cheapest nutriment that you can buy.

Health comes from eating good foods, flavored to please the taste. Beware of extreme reducing diets. They are dangerous. Eminent medical authorities warn us that permanent injury often results from starvation diets.

Be sure that you and your children are properly nourished. Eat enough of varied foods, sweetened for enjoyment. The Sugar Institute.

CHATTERBOXES ARE POPULAR

Even if Their Incessant Talk Causes Insanity

The One Thing Worse Than Being Talked to Death. Chasing the Bugaboo Concerning the Adopted Child. How to Get Rid of a Grafting Brother-in-Law.

Dear Miss Dix—My trouble is that I am being talked to death. My osteopath talks incessantly while giving me a treatment, my hair dresser likewise. My dentist wastes about half of the precious and expensive hour in gossip. I stand on my aching feet to be fitted while my dressmaker sits on the floor at my feet and talks and talks and talks. When I dance the boy friend talks right into my face. I have several intimate friends who ring me up and monologue over the telephone, and when I meet them they fix me, like the Ancient Mariner, with their glittering eye while they babble and babble and babble. How much more restful this world would be if people didn't talk so much. Don't you agree with me?
—MARGUERITE.

Answer: Undoubtedly it would be more restful, but a little dull, don't you think? Have you ever lived in the house with one of those silent, self-contained people who never start a conversation or make an observation or a comment or say a word that you don't have to drag out of them with a corkscrew?

They are just about as companionable as a stone image would be, and they get on your nerves because you never know what they are thinking or what they want to do or whether they are pleased or displeased, and you get to the point where you can hardly restrain yourself from sticking pins and needles in them to see if you can get any human reaction out of them.

Of course, you do get tired of the brook that babbles on and on forever without ever stopping, but better the one who talks too much than the one who doesn't talk at all. Personally, I like to hear people talk and I shouldn't in the least mind your loquacious doctor and dentist and dressmaker and boy friend, because each of them would have touched life at a dozen angles I have not experienced and they would have things to tell me that would be strange and interesting to me.

Perhaps it is because we are so used to talking that it makes those who don't talk seem glum. Especially women. Nobody likes a silent woman. A girl who has nothing to say is avoided by boys as if she had some physical deformity. The flapper who is a riot with the cake-eaters is the little chatterbox that nobody can shut up.

Women feel the same way. We all groan inwardly when we have to ask some dumb woman to our parties, for well we know she will wet-blanket the occasion, and especially do we know that the man we put her next to at dinner will hate us for the weary hour he will have in trying to entertain her. For American men are spoiled. They expect women to keep the conversation running, and when they don't they feel themselves grievously ill used and put upon and they flee from the tongue-tied lady as from a pest.

Of course, husbands make a standing joke of their wives talking too much. Apparently they agree with Rip Van Winkle, who, when the dwarf in the mountains conveyed to him the information that he had nine sisters and they were all dumb, exclaimed: "My, what wives they would make!" But in reality no man wants that kind of a wife.

The happy homes are not those presided over by silent women, but by those cheery little bodies who chirp like a canary in a cage, the sort of women who know everything that is happening in the neighborhood and who can't go down the street without seeing something funny and interesting out of which they can make a good story to tell at dinner.

Why, the main thing that is the matter with domestic life is that there isn't enough conversation in it. Whenever you can find a family in which the husband and wife can talk endlessly together you will find a happy one and one in which there is no danger of the husband getting tired of his Mary Jane and wanting to swap her off for a new human phonograph with fresh records.

Perhaps your friends do talk too much, Marguerite. I'll admit that there are times when we all crave bursts of eloquent silence, but even so, better too much talk than no talk at all.

Don't forget that solitary confinement is the most drastic punishment that can be inflicted on criminals. There are worse thing than a talk fest. There is silence.
—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I have a fine little wife and two children, but every winter her brother parks himself on us and never offers to pay a cent for his living. I only make $20 a week while he makes twice that and has nobody to look after but himself. What would you suggest?—SAM.

Answer: Send him a board bill. Refuse to let yourself be an easy mark for a deadbeat. Grafting relatives are the curse of the world. Nearly every family is afflicted with one of these human sponges, but it is their own fault. One good, big bill patterned after the Ritz model would rid them of the pest forever.—DOROTHY DIX.

School and College News

High school boys' and girls' debates were held throughout Monday to determine the winners who will represent the various groups in the semi-finals which are to be held Wednesday prior to the city elimination public speaking tournament scheduled for Friday night in which all ward schools, the two local junior high schools and the senior high will participate.

In the first group, Henry Helgerson of the affirmative side and Wendell Bash of the negative were selected as winners over Clay Underwood and Patrick Henry Jr., of the affirmative and negative sides respectively. L. D. Herbert and Hal Ray won the debate in the second section over Durwood Park and Herman Smith, affirmative speakers. In the third group, the two winners were selected from both side of the subject debated. Elmer Parish and Fred Barron were chosen as winners to participate in the semi-finals.

Dell Hatchitt and Marjorie Vincent, who supported the negative side, won the debate over Lois Earle Shaw and Lois Baber, affirmative speakers, and will combat Mary Lou Wright and Mary Lou Johnson, who drew a bye, in the semi-finals. Gertrude Klass and Dorothy Janeway were selected as the winning speakers over Bernice Barger and Margaret Bone, speakers on the affirmative side.

Speakers who were selected as winners during the debating Monday will next appear in the semi-finals, scheduled to be held Wednesday. Finals will be held Friday, according to Miss Juanita Kinsey, public speaking coach of the Junior college. Finals in the Junior college oratorical contest will be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the little auditorium.

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, March 25. (US)—A lady getting a divorce the other day told the court in Los Angeles that there was something the matter with marriage, it was all wrong.

Of course what's wrong is the people who play with it.

It's a pretty difficult thing to live with a woman who imagines every time her husband is out of the office that he is having tea with some blonde.

It's next to impossible to live with a woman who begins the moment her husband gets home at night to complain because the maid is no good and she can't find another.

Finding a maid is her job. Her husband doesn't ask her to get him a clerk or an office boy.

She tells him her milk man is leaving grade B milk when she ordered grade A. She can't understand why that is!

The groceryman sends what she orders, without any bill, and she can't tell what things cost and scratch them off if she doesn't get them. She has phoned every day trying to correct the butcher and baker and the laundry and milk men and she hasn't succeeded.

The fact is, she is a darn poor executive and she is confessing her incompetency when she woofs like a winklepoof.

So when her husband hears she is on the phone he is "out" because he can't waste time on trifles. Whenever he can he gets away from home evenings because he has problems of his own all day, and he sadly needs a change by night.

The wife who has no quarrel with marriage, is the one who runs her house so smoothly that the members of her household never hear about irritating details. They think it runs of itself, and have the feeling when they get home that there, at least all is peace and quiet.

The wife who can create for her family that atmosphere, knows her business. She doesn't have to go out hunting a job in the business world to keep busy. She has an all-day job, and an interesting one, because the happiness of her entire family depends upon how well she takes care of it.

There isn't any job on earth as important nor one that pays as well.

The women who have made the greatest success of marriage are those who have darned more and danced a little less.

They have been daintier than they were daring.

They developed their home rather than despised it.

They diverted their husbands rather than distressed them.

They depended upon their men but didn't defy them.

They delivered as well as demanded.

They disdained the delicatessen.

They learned early, that marital happiness is indirect. You've got to give it to get it. And that is why they never experienced the humiliation of saying "good morning, judge."

Experts prove—'Wringing makes the Clothes CLEANER'

For homes without electricity, the Maytag is available with in-built gasoline motor.

THE squeezing action of the Maytag Roller Water Remover forces out the last bit of dirt that would dim the clothes, the last particle of soap that, if allowed to dry in, would rot the fabric. The final drying should be on the line, preferably in the sunlight. Airing and sunning makes the clothes sweet, clean and sanitary.

The Maytag Roller Water Remover was developed at a cost of over a quarter of a million dollars. It is an outstanding improvement in soap and water removal methods. Combined with the fast, gentle but thorough washing action of the Maytag cast-aluminum tub and gyrafoam action, it gives you a cleaner washing with less time and with less effort.

ANOTHER JOB FOR HOOVER

Daily Editorial

THE WEALTH of the country is increasing at breakneck speed. But, paradoxically, unemployment figures keep rising, too.

One reason is, that the stock exchange still absorbs too many billions. This diverts them from productive uses, and shortens the supply of loanable funds.

Therefore, interest rates begin to approach a point where it's unprofitable to execute many projected expansions—which naturally entails proportionate lay-offs.

The forward thrusts, always encouraged by cheap and abundant cash, cannot be anticipated under such circumstances.

Building programs are holding breath and brakes, waiting for more favorable loan terms.

Railroad managements will prove reckless stewards of their properties, if they compete in the borrowing markets against crazed speculation.

So, it's quite in the cards for them to tighten purse-strings, and postpone all but immediately necessary replacements and extensions.

The bigger banks and the federal reserve board unite in the opinion that our stream of riches must be conserved for commercial flotations instead of further watering securities, which are already bloated beyond all reasonable value.

Real and enduring prosperity is vested in wage envelopes and stabilized dividends.

Neither factories nor retailers can maintain peak output and sales if folk go jobless, fail to consume customary ratios of merchandise, and lapse in their automobile, radio and furniture installment payments.

But, after all, Wall street is only a minor and temporary factor in the problem, which basically concerns economics rather than finance.

WE ARE ENTERING into a new era—the robot has come upon us faster than balance sheets have realized.

Man-eliminating machinery is chiefly to blame for the reduction of industrial personnels. In every quarter, operations that recently required manual skill are falling into mechanical hands.

Automatons of incredible capacity and deftness are filling containers, pasting labels, testing and inspecting products — performing all sorts of duties at such savings in time and cost, that corportions will increasingly be compelled to dispense with entire classifications of help, meanwhile abandoning them to shift and drift into livelihoods for which they utterly lack experience.

Capital isn't to blame for the compulsions of progress. Local and international competition leave the manufacturer with no alternative. He must adopt prevalent efficiencies or pass from the picture.

And since the next decade will witness a steady intensification of this practice, among Mr. Hoover's inevitable responsibilities is an early survey to establish the probable range of occupational dislocation, together with such plans to meet it as lie within federal authority and advisory resource.

His knowledge of engineering, and the multiplicity of his contacts as secretary of commerce, uniquely qualify him for the task.

The man and the hour are happily coincident. But some of the burdens on his shoulders are heavier than any of the Seven Labors of Hercules.

NATURE'S WONDER

LONDON.—A black opal, christened "Light of the World," found in the Walgett fields of New South Wales, bears the distinct outline of a woman's figure in the middle of it. The stone is valued at between $15,000 and $25,000.

One Phase of the Hunt for Wisdom

WILLIAM BEEBE, naturalist, has sailed for a tiny island in the Bermudas group, where he will spend the next few months in a diving suit walking around on the floor of the ocean to look at the fishes.

Between dives, Mr. Beebe will drag the floor of such parts of the ocean as he cannot visit in person. He doesn't know just what he is going to find, but he is confident that when he is through he will know a great deal more about certain obscure forms of marine life than he knows now.

The bump of curiosity is a strange thing and it leads men into strange places. Mr. Beebe's discoveries will not have what we like to call practical value; nobody will get rich off of them, no new industries will grow out of them, no great change in our habits of thought will be caused by them. The world will wag on in much the same way whether or not his expedition is successful.

Why, then, should he go? And why should we stay-at-homes, feeling as we do about it all, nevertheless admire him for going?

The human race, like the elephant's child in Kipling's story, has an insatiable curiosity. It is forever collecting facts. Some of them are very useful and some of them are not, but the collection keeps growing, year by year, regardless. And the story of its growth is the story of the advance of mankind from darkness to light.

The world is still a very mysterious place. In the beginning it was infinitely more so. A few struggling human beings, savage and ignorant, huddled in caves and nourished a life that was little higher than that of the bear and the ape. All around was darkness. All of the poetry, beauty, knowledge, sacrifice and hope of future generations were hidden behind a veil. In all the world there was no ambition higher than the ambition to get a warmer cave, no dream brighter than the dream of an uninterrupted supply of meat.

But these brutish men had one redeeming feature. They were inquisitive. They had a great wonder, a great curiosity, and they had to satisfy it.

So they began inquiring into things. They sought the "why" and the "how" of everything. Little by little, in century-long struggles, they added to their knowledge. They came out of their caves and built houses. They learned how to till the ground, how to build boats, how to tame horses and get themselves carried from place to place; they learned, also, how to make crude musical instruments, how to paint pictures and carve images out of wood and stone, how to make things that were beautiful as well as useful.

Thus the slow advance was begun. In the years that have passed it has carried the race a long way. Out of it has been born a new vision of the world and man's place in it; a vision that sees it, not as a prison house, but as a region in which anything is possible—in which the human race can reach any height it desires.

That is where our insatiable curiosity has led us. Beebe's trip to the Bermudas is just another manifestation of it.

The Patronage Situation in Texas

MAYBE R. B. CREAGER, Republican boss in Texas, had nothing to do with the indictment of Congressman Harry Wurzbach of the San Antonio district in the federal court at Waco for accepting campaign contributions from federal employes, nevertheless the quashing of the indictment is likely to detract from Creager's prestige in Washington.

The indictment charged on several counts that Wurzbach accepted contributions from federal employes for the Republican primary campaign in Texas. Federal District Judge Duval West in sustaining the motion to quash said that if the federal corrupt practices act intended to extend to primary campaign contributions it was unconstitutional.

As said Creager, with whom Wurzbach is at outs although Wurzbach was the only Republican congressman in Texas, may have had nothing to do with the latter's indictment, but a month before the indictment was returned, while giving testimony before Senator Brookhart's committee, one of Creager's men declared that Wurzbach had accepted such contributions. The indictment was later returned 300 miles away from Congressman Wurzbach's home town.

Now congressmen are a lot like members of other special groups everywhere—they do not like an attack upon one of their own members. Even before the indictment against Wurzbach was quashed there were reports from Washington that the indictment of Wurzbach was resented among his former colleagues.

This resentment is likely to be felt by the Creager organization in Texas in the distribution of patronage. Of course the nominations are made by President Hoover, but he must be anxious to get along with the congress, and the Wurzbach incident together with Creager's whole attitude in his clash with Senator Brookhart may have the effect of bringing Creager into disfavor in the distribution of patronage. And without such favor it will be difficult for Creager to maintain his position in Texas.

Col. Horace Mann, director of the Hoover campaign in the South, and who was at first looked upon as a powerful factor in appointments in the South, also seems to have gotten himself into disfavor and Washington dispatches intimate that President Hoover may set up his own machinery for dispensing southern patronage.

Anyway, there is enough uncertainty about the situation to make it speculative and something to be talked about and watched with a great deal of interest. And it is something that is very close to the hearts of many patriots who helped save the country last November.

In Andrew Jackson's Day

NOW THAT the inauguration is over, it is interesting to turn back the clock for a hundred years and compare the America of today with the America that inaugurated Andrew Jackson a century ago, in 1829.

The country had 13,000,000 inhabitants then. Only seven per cent of them lived in cities. New York had a population of approximately 200,000. The nation's first steam locomotive had just made its appearance. West of the Alleghenies the country was just beginning to fill up. The great Mississippi river steamship fleet was just being started.

You could go on like that for half an hour. The contrast is instructive. By studying the change that has come over the country during the past century we can strengthen our patriotism and prepare for the changes that are to come in the next century.

Major Segrave's 231 miles an hour at Daytona Beach is a fine thing in itself, but an awful example to be setting for the Sunday drivers.

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, March 25.—Herbert Bayard Swope, formerly executive editor of the New York World and one of the well known newspaper men of the country, recently has been so successful in his investments that he has resigned and has been spending the winter at Palm Beach. He is a great fight enthusiast and always buys tickets for his friends for any important battle. He had already reserved a great many for the Sharkey-Stribling so-called fracas, when, a few days before the fight, Will Carey, pinch hitting for the late Tex Rickard, received a telegram dated Palm Beach from Mr. Swope reading as follows:

"Must have five more seats for fight between first and fifth rows. Please wire if available."

To which Mr. Carey replied:

"Your additional seats reserved. Please advise whether be more convenient if we move fight to lawn in front of your house at Palm Beach as we are anxious to please."

Mr. Swope, observing the sarcasm, replied, in kind,

"Appreciate your offer but expect spend day in Miami anyway, so keep fight where it is.

A recent visit to Havana, which is a delightful place to spend a winter vacation, reminds the writer of a scheme that George Ade once worked out to avoid mosquitoes. All the beds which I saw in Havana were equipped with nets to spread over the sleeping visitors and residents alike. Mr. Ade's idea was that the occupant of the bed should turn in with the net raised. Of course, his presence in the bed would attract the mosquitoes. When they have all swarmed around the couch, then to suddenly let the net down, crawl out under one corner, leaving the mosquitoes inside the net, and sleep on the floor. The effectiveness of this suggestion is realized by anyone who ever tried to sleep under a net with one mosquito, also in the cage with him.

John Golden, the theatrical producer, has laid out a six-hole golf course on his place, and, in the bottom of one of the cups, there is a spring arrangement, so that, when the ball drops in the hole, it releases the spring and jumps back at the putter. Mr. Golden who has made a great success of the show business and his other enterprises, now devotes a great deal of his time to finding players who are not familiar with this arrangement, and, when the putter carefully sites his line, and with great deliberation sinks the ball, he is shocked and surprised. It is amusing to all bystanders to see the pill bounce back at him.

Another hole is connected with a telephone behind a tree, and there is a transmitter in the cup. As the newcomer begins his preparations for concentration and putting, Mr. Golden steps unobserved behind the sturdy oak about 30 or 40 feet from the green and makes insulting remarks, which apparently come out of the cup. This would be disconcerting even to Bobby Jones, Hagen or George Duncan.

The writer hopes that this information does not ruin Mr. Golden's future fun, but it may give some other owners of small private golf courses ideas which are worth putting into operation when getting them ready for spring play.

Uncle Sam may be a kind old gentleman, but he has a lot of nephews dressed up in uniforms, with customs officers' insignia on their caps, who certainly irritated one citizen. For example, I was returning from Havana recently and landing in Miami, where I was as pure as the driven snow and as free from any taint of smuggled alcoholic liquor about my person as even Mr. Pussyfoot Johnson could be, I was subjected to a search as I left the deck. The presumption of these customs men seems to be that every American citizen is guilty, until he proves himself innocent. They run their hands over his pockets. If some American citizen, who was as free from a flask as I was, became so irritated that he punched one of these gentlemen in the nose, I wonder what the outcome would be. I wish I had the courage to do it.

This is a story about an old-time gangster in New York named Monk Eastman, who has long since gone to his reward. The report at the time of his activities, was that for $75 he would make a good job of knocking off any high class citizen whom someone else considered undesirable. Having been assigned to one or two of these jobs, he became careless in his technique and fell into the clutches of the police, by whom he was regarded as a bitter customer. After spending three or four days in jail, he made a heart rending plea to his keeper that he be released for an hour, under heavy guard to fulfill a mission that he considered of an emergency nature. Puzzled by his request, the prison authorities asked him what he wanted to do and his reply startled them. It was:

"I want to feed me pigeons."

WORK STARTED ON ALTUS PARK

Wichitan Gets Contract on $10,000 Project

Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., March 25.—Initial work of preparing a civic park for Altus on a 12-acre portion of the county fair grounds has been started.

Contracts for the shrubbery and trees to be set out will be awarded this week.

The cost of the park is estimated to be about $10,000, and contracts with C. J. Foster of Oklahoma City, and J. E. Dodson, landscape gardner, of Wichita Falls, Texas have been made.

The project is expected to be completed within a month or six weeks.

Plans call for a space 300 by 150 feet to be fenced as a location for playground equipment; a wading pool varying in depth from two to four feet; a large rose garden which is to be one of the special features; and a one-story community house.

Four hundred trees will be located in addition to the ones already there and several thousands blooming shrubs will be set out as well as a number of evergreens.

Gravel walks will be laid throughout the park and tennis courts a baseball diamond and football field will be arranged.

Old buildings on the location are being remodeled or moved.

This will give Altus one of the most attractive parks in this section of the state.

Plans have been drawn for a prospective high school building and athletic field to be constructed on a 15-acre plat of land adjoining the park.

Child Clinic To Open at Altus

Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., March 25.—All arrangements are complete for the third annual crippled children's clinic for Jackson county to be held in the county court house Tuesday under the supervision of County Judge Shelia N. Starnes.

All civic clubs, churches, and Boy Scouts of Altus have been asked to cooperate in arousing interest in the work of the clinic and spreading information concerning it. Members of these clubs have been asked to locate children in the county and furnish transportation for them.

A representative of the state department of civilian rehabilitation, Mrs. A. O. Dougherty of Oklahoma City, will attend the clinic to interview all persons over 16 years of age who are interested in some type of vocational training.

At least 40 children and adults are expected to be examined here this year.

Plainview Auto Show Planned

DAIRY SHOW HEADS MEET

Final Plans for Plainview Affair to Be Checked

PLAINVIEW, Texas, March 25.—A final check-up and discussion of plans and details of the Second Annual Texas Panhandle Plains Dairy show will be made Thursday, March 28, when the officers and directors of the dairy show association will meet in Plainview.

Everything is in good shape for the show which will be held in Plainview, April 2, 3, 4 and 5, and the interest manifested by exhibitors, dairy-farmers, county agents, and others indicates that the second annual show will go over big. New show quarters have been provided by the city of Plainview at an approximate cost of $20,000.

Fifty-four counties in the Texas Panhandle plains section are included in the area that will draw entries to the show, and this exposition is the show window of the remarkable dairy development that has been taking place in this area during the past four years.

Officials of the show association point to the value of the dairy industry to this section, and are trying to promote the development of dairying in the Panhandle plains section by encouraging the breeding of superior dairy animals and by holding annually a dairy show.

Officers and directors of this year's show are: D. F. Eaton, Lubbock, president; O. L. Stansell, Floydada, vice president; Maury Hopkins, Plainview, manager; R. M. Milhollan, Plainview, general superintendent; W. L. Stengel, Lubbock, R. C. Nicholl, Tulia, R. B. Davis, Brownfield, S. J. Underwood, Hale Center, and P. C. Bennett, Amarillo, directors.

FISHER BODY
STYLE AND VALUE STANDARD OF THE WORLD

BY DOLLAR MEASUREMENT

CARS WITH BODY BY FISHER ARE WORTH MUCH MORE

Fisher Body confers upon any car a value far beyond anything offered in comparison.

The actual dollars and cents measurement of this greater value varies, of course, with the cost of the car, but it is always impressively large in proportion to that cost.

In the case of Buick, it amounts to several hundred dollars in concrete, tangible return for the money invested. You can see this greater value in the richness and superior quality of the upholstering, the paneling, the finish, the fittings, the seating luxury and the coachwork in general.

As a matter of fact, the Buick, in point of body luxury and value, takes rank with the highest priced cars outside the General Motors Group. Comparison also places the other General Motors cars relatively as far ahead of their respective fields.

Only General Motors and Fisher combine the manufacturing elements necessary to such unprecedented value in a motor car body. Only in cars with Body by Fisher, therefore, can you expect to find, and only in these cars will you find, this superiority and this substantial extra value.

Fully to realize the superiority in every phase of Fisher Body, compare any Fisher Body car in any price field with any other car in that field. Only then will you be in a position to judge motor car values. Fisher Body value is so evident that it is at once apparent—but it becomes even more impressive upon point-by-point comparison. Make such comparisons at your first opportunity.

FIVE STRAIGHT GAMES TO GIVE JIM GOOD LINE ON ROOKIES

PITCHERS AND GARDENERS VIE

New York Giant 2nds Here Tomorrow for Two Days

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Exhibition games don't count in the standings of the clubs—but they have their important place in the scheme of things. In addition to enabling veterans to get into condition for championship play, they furnish the best possible means of determining worth of the youngsters.

Starting tomorrow, the Spudders are going to play five games in a row out at Athletic park, and when that siege of combats is ended Skipper Jeems will have a much better line on his young men.

The main contention in the Spudder camp is concerned with the pitchers and outfielders. With George Payne, Milt Steengrafe and Harold Wiltse, the veteran chuckers sure of retention, there are three or four other berths for the some six or seven rookies to fight over. Cy Wiltse, the big right-hander, and Fred Stiley, the stocky southpaw, both showed splendidly in their starts this spring and are foremost bidders to keep their names on the Spudder payroll.

Ed Taber, the bespectacled left-hander from the Eastern league, a class A circuit, has not yet had opportunity to bear down following a recent illness. Chick Galeria, left-hander; Bill Schroeder, the slender right-hander, and Roland Roberts and Les White, a pair of big starboard chuckers, are other leading mound candidates.

Three Outfielders Vie

Dick Sullivan and Cameron Best have alternated in right field and Garland Orr is a third aspirant for the fourth Spudder garden berth, with Bennett, Fitzgerald and Eldred comprising the regular trio. Best failed to hit impressively in the two games he played, which were against St. Paul, but he is not yet out of the running. Two games don't determine a ball player's worth. Neither has Sullivan's excellent showing in his two contests given him a cinch.

Orr still is to be reckoned with. This chunky youngster clouted at a terrific clip for Abilene last year and has the earmarks of a natural hitter. Although he has not figured in games this spring with hostile clubs, Garland has not batted hard in sham battles. And the reason for that seems to be that he is not loose at the plate, as the ball players say.

In other words, to use the vernacular of golf, Orr is pressing at bat. This over-anxiousness of his apparently is preventing the young men from doing his best work and until he adopts Coueism and says day by day he is growing better, Garland is going to be his worst foe.

Debs Garms is temporarily out of the three-cornered race for the shortstop job. The sprained ankle sustained sliding in Sunday's contest will keep him inactive for a week or more. George Spiers, the first shortstopper on the ground, continues to hold the inside track. He has played fine ball in all departments. Rabbit Benton, regular custodian of the post last season, reported late and has not played in any of the spring tilts. He will get into action in one of the many clashes coming up.

Lots of Work for Bob

Bob Snyder will bear the brunt of the catching work until Jack Crouch, another casualty, gets back in harness. Jack twisted his ankle in Saturday's game, but the injury is not serious and won't keep him idle long. Pete Lapan still is in California, where he was summoned by the illness of his wife.

The athletes were idle yesterday, but the enforced lay-off was not unwelcome. It was only the second day since they started work March 1 that they have not had a drill and as they are far along in their conditioning a day of rest will not retard them in their work. To the contrary, it was a good thing for the tossers, at least the veterans, as there may have been a tendency toward staleness.

Still, there are numerous rookies on the Spudder and Abilene roster, particularly the latter, whom Skipper Jeems wants to work as much as possible. It is likely that further reductions of the squad will be in order as soon as all have had unlimited opportunity to show their worth, and it is better for those who lack class to be so apprised when that fact is apparent.

Many a good butcher and baker and candlestick maker has been spoiled by a kind-hearted baseball manager who wouldn't tell a rookie the painful truth—or by a soft-boiled editor (there are a few) who wouldn't advise his sports editor to make a living at a more suitable task.

I am truthful, even though it hurts.

The New York Giants seconds open the five-day string of contests with games tomorrow and Thursday at Athletic park.

Athens Tries Again In Chicago Tourney

CHICAGO, March 25.—Eight teams of the 23 already entered in the University of Chicago's 11th annual national basket ball interscholastic tournament on April 2 to 6 have competed in the tournaments of other years. Five of the eight competed last year as their state champions and are repeating this season.

Athens, this year's Texas champions, competed in 1927. Wheeler, Mississippi titleholders, played in 1925 and 1926, taking fourth place in 1925. Wheeling, which last year won the consolation division of the Chicago tournament, also played in 1925. Yankton competed in 1922, 1923, 1924 and 1925 as well as last year, placing second in 1922.

SEVERAL SEEK COACHING JOB

Kitts Rumored as Applicant For Position Here

Numerous applications for the post as athletic director of Wichita Falls High school to succeed A. Y. (Bud) McCallum, resigned, were discussed yesterday by the committee appointed by the school board to fill the vacancy. Members of the committee are Dr. James W. Cantwell, chairman, and Wiley L. Robertson and Carter McGregor.

Although several of the applicants are highly recommended and have successful records as athletic mentors, the committee did not take definite action yesterday relative to the position, according to Dr. Cantwell, who said that it would be a week or more before the new coach is appointed.

Jimmy Kitts, coach at Athens High school, state basket ball champions, has been mentioned for the post. Kitts was here a few days ago, but declined to state whether he was a candidate for the job, and as Dr. Cantwell said, the committee still is of an open mind in regard to the place.

Fields Winner Over Thompson

Jackie Recognized by N. B. A. as Welter Champ

CHICAGO, March 25. (UP)—Jackie Fields, a Jew from Chicago's west side, tonight stepped into recognition as the welterweight champion of the world when he outpointed Young Jack Thompson, a Negro from California, in 10 rounds.

Fields now is recognized as the title holder by the National Boxing commission, who ruled that Joe Dundee had failed to defend his crown under the rules of the organization.

RIOT IS AVERTED

CHICAGO, March 25. (UP)—A riot broke loose at the Coliseum here tonight during the Fields-Thompson fight as a rumbling noise which started in the south end of the building rolled toward the ring.

The spectators, undecided as to the cause of the trouble, endeavored to climb over each other to get out.

Several people attempted to placate the crowd, which reluctantly returned to their seats. An investigation was begun immediately to determine the cause of the trouble.

Beating the Gun

I can't wait till April comes to sing
of April days,
April winds or April rains, April's
foggy haze,
Where the road winds on again
to the green outdoors,
Hills and valleys, streams and plains, gray and misty moors.
Green and gold and skyline blue,
or black and shadowed glens,
Just so long as there are trees in place of shut-in dens.

I can't wait till April comes to sing
of April's call,
Gray and soggy marsh and plain where dead vines crown the wall,
For I know the road at last has passed through winter's snow
Somewhere into open drifts where softer winds will blow,
Marching armies, mass on mass,
millions on the wing,
Headed for the outdoor roads that lead again to spring.

Green and gold and skyline blue,
rains and sudden squalls,
Just so long as there are lanes in place of doors and walls.

Undergraduate Control

"I don't agree with the arguments advanced that the student bodies can't control their own undergraduate sports," writes F. H. B. "I believe they can, and I also believe they can improve the present situation. I believe the college captains should be above the coaches, that college managers should arrange their own schedules, and that all alumni authority should be done away with. The students know more about their own wishes and desires than those who have been away from college 10 or 20 years. College sport is a great thing, but it is badly overorganized and is directed from the wrong sources of power. Give sport back to the students and let them handle their own affairs."

No reforms are brought about by a direct jump from mediocrity to perfection.

It is my belief that the present athletic program in the larger universities is more than any group of students can handle alone.

This program means something more than winning football teams, which happen to get all the publicity. It means the development and equipment to meet the needs of from 4,000 to 7,000 students who never reach the headlines.

I have always thought the students should have more to say about athletic control and direction than they have today—that they should be represented to a greater extent on all committees and in all conferences. The undergraduate point of view should have greater representation.

Conference Committees

There is no eastern university conference and no eastern university unity. The Middle West happens to have this. There is a great chance for student conferences from the Big Ten to meet and express the undergraduate point of view. There is at least no other way to find out just what the undergraduate point of view is in regard to competitive sport. If the students think it is being overplayed they can in this way at least express their opinions, and these opinions are bound to carry a lot of weight.

If there are any changes to be made they will have to be made gradually. There can be no sudden wrenching apart of the present system, which may be good, bad or indifferent. There is no student organization that can carry any force or present its point of view. College sport has become one of the big features of many games, and as long as the students are furnishing all the raw materials they should have something to say about its handling. Or at least should have more to say than the students of most universities have today. It would be an experiment worth trying and might lead to both interesting and instructive results.

Certain Complications

It might be that the students of Cornell might want one system, while the student bodies of Dartmouth and Harvard wanted another.

It might be that some university might want to abolish all intercollege athletics. If they felt that way about it, there is no reason why they should be forced into programs they don't care for.

The present system at least has built up mass athletics for the entire group far beyond anything the past had to offer. This must be taken into consideration.

The big idea is to get the undergraduate point of view and to give the undergraduate a chance to express his side of the situation. The undergraduate is the basis and bulwark and main product of competitive sport. He deserves a louder voice than he has been given up to date in something that affects him so directly for three or four years of his life.

SENATORS MAY FINISH HIGHER

Third Place Forecast for Washington Club

(This is the sixth of a series of articles on the American league pennant race)

By BILL SLOCUM

TAMPA, Fla., March 25. (US)—One of the two clubs in the American league which figures to better its 1928 finish is Washington. The Senators finished fourth last fall, seven full games behind the sensational Browns. For the coming season the capital city aggregation should finish third, trailing only the Yankees and the Athletics. They hardly figure to catch either of these clubs, but with an even break in the fortunes of the game the Senators should excel last season's record.

Walter Johnson replaced Bucky Harris at the helm during the winter and the former king of fast-ball pitchers is likely to get all the work possible out of his men while retaining at the same time their good will and respect. This is not to imply that Harris failed in these particulars but to emphasize that the Big Train is likely to do as much as any other manager would with the material at hand.

The failure of the Senators to finish better than fourth last season could hardly be charged against Harris, although some of Washington's grand stand managers assumed as much. Two Harrises, two Johnsons, a Huggins and a McGraw would hardly have put Washington any higher in the race. The reason? Because there were two clubs in the league much superior to the Senators and one that would not be denied.

Senators Well Equipped

Washington has smart pitching, enough hitting for the first division, a tight defense and far more speed than most of its rivals. The Senators last spring appeared to have more pitching strength than they actually had, but this year that may not be true. The graduation of Braxton and Marberry from the ranks of relief pitchers to regulars was accomplished last season and now they have had a season of experience in starting their own games. These two, with the crafty Sam Jones and Hadley, form the nucleus of a strong staff.

The Senators suffered somewhat in the loss of Cantrell, recently declared a free agent, as they were about to close the deal for his services when the blow came. He would have added even more strength to the pitching department. But Johnson will have a brilliant pitcher from the minors in Ad Liska, from Minneapolis, who is touted as a sure-fire star in the big league firmament.

Lloyd Brown and Bob Burke are holdovers from last season who seem about ready to step in and do their share of the boxwork, and Jim Weaver, the lanky right-hander from the Southern league, is another prospect. One or two youngsters fresh from the minors will also be carried but those named seem to provide enough pitching when backed by the tight defense afforded elsewhere in the club.

Mask Staff Strengthened

The catching staff has just been strengthened by the addition of Roy Spencer, the Indianapolis backstop, who became a free agent because of an irregular deal involving the Pirates and the Indianapolis club. Muddy Ruel and Benny Tate of last year's team remain and Ruel will retain his place as first string receiver. He figured in more than 100 games last season.

The infield will be made up of Judge at first base, Hayes at second, Bluege at short, and Buddy Myer at third. This shapes up stronger than the 1928 quartet which had Harris or Hayes at second, several shortstops and Bluege at third. Hayes hit less than .200 in his 60 games last season but he is likely to do better when playing as a regular instead of a substitute.

He is fast, and a flashy fielder who should improve on the Harris of 1928 as far as mechanical play is concerned. Bluege gives the impression of being an ideal shortstop who is likely to be steadier than any Washington shortstop since Peckinpaugh, and Myer developed last year into quite a ball player. What Buddy may lack as a finished fielder he makes up in other departments of play and he can field up to big league standards. Stewart and Cronin, utility infielders, are good hitters and capable on defense.

Capable Outfielders

The same outfield will hold forth with Goslin in left, Barnes in center and Rice in right. Here are speed, hitting power and plenty of all around skill. As this is written there is some doubt as to Goslin's arm, but the player believes it will be O. K. after the early tests. Barnes is one of the best young players to flash his skill in the league in years. Sam West and Spencer Harris are capable understudies, good hitters and fast.

On defense last year only two clubs excelled the Senators. These were the Mackmen and Yankees. Only these two clubs and the Indians had a stronger attack, proof that Washington is a well-balanced aggregation. With their speed, smart pitching and tight defense the Senators should be able to beat out the Browns and finish in third place.

RAY CAHILL, scout for the St. Louis Browns, is highly pleased over the way his Spudder "finds" have taken hold down in their Palm Beach training camp. Cahill has cause for gratification, particularly over the showing of Herb Cobb and Tom Jenkins. Cobb had favorably impressed Skipper Dan Howley of the Brownies but it remained for Herbie to achieve a feat last Sunday that probably has earned retention by the big league club.

Working the last four innings against the class AA Buffalo International league club, the gentleman from Pine Tops, N. C., sub, hurled PERFECT ball. Not a man reached first base off Herbie, a glittering feat for any chucker and particularly a rookie.

Verily, it seems that Herbie has arrived.

JENKINS, according to word received by Cahill, and he is in close touch with Howley, Bill Friel, and L. H. McEvoy, bosses of the Browns, has been hitting the ball at a merry clip. This is no surprise, of course. Thomas the Dynamiter will clout any pitching, any righthand pitching, at least, whether it is big league or minor. It would not be surprising if Tom is used frequently by the Browns this summer when right-hand throwers are toiling for the opposing club.

Ray also brings the good word that Buck Stanton is mending nicely following a successful operation to remove a chipped bone from his knee, and that the kid will be in shape to play within a month or so.

Eddie Roetz, the raw rookie, another Spudder in the camp of the Browns, has showed some flashes of native ability, but needs more experience before he is to be a serious bidder for a major league berth. Last season was the kid's first fling in baseball as good as class A and he wasn't even a regular with the Spudders. However, he is a natural hitter and has possibilities.

CAHILL is here to look over the Spuders in the several exhibition games they have this week. As scout of the Brownies, he also of course is concerned with the Tulsa club, which is to be here this week-end. In fact, Ray came over here from the Oilers' camp at Abilene.

Ray is one of the younger big league scouts and ranks with the best of the ivory hunters as a discoverer of diamond talent. Indeed, Cahill in recent seasons probably has found as many or more diamonds in the rough for the diamond than any of his contemporaries.

Incidentally, another of his Texas league pickups of last season seems destined to stick with the Browns. He is Oscar Estrada, the pitcher from the Shreveport Sports.

Another chucker, this an ex-Spudder, who has made a fine impression on Howley is John Buvid, the rugged right-hander. Buvid had a couple of spring trials here but was not ready for class A ball. He compiled a sensational record last season with the Spartanburg club of the Sally league and his efforts this season indicate Johnny has an excellent chance of sticking with the big league nine. Howley, however, may deem that Johnny needs another season in a fast minor loop before he is ready to pitch in the big time.

856 ENTRIES IN TEXAS RELAYS

71 Institutions to Be Represented Friday

AUSTIN, March 25. (AP)—Seventy-one institutions, including some of the biggest in the country, had entered 856 men in the University of Texas fifth annual relays to be held Friday and applications still were coming into today.

The University of Nebraska is bringing a 33-man team and Indiana state is entering 21 of its finished athletes. It probably will be one of the most comely aggregation of sports stars ever seen in the country. One of the attractions will be the appearance of Paavo Nurmi.

Tommy, Mickey Are Confident

Loughran and Walker Near Fighting Pitch

CHICAGO, March 25. (US)—Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion, and Mickey Walker, who aspires to Loughran's crown, are undergoing intensive training, in preparation for their battle at the Chicago stadium next Thursday night.

"Walker's just a newspaper champion," declared Loughran today. "I'll catch his rushes and cut him to pieces. I'm not a knockerout but Walker won't even go the distance with me."

Learning of Loughran's statement, Walker thought up one right quick, saying:

"Is that so, well, I've battled my way, I should say punched my way, into two championships, and I'll punch my way into another on March 28. Tommy has speed, is a great boxer, but what is that against a man who can punch. Tommy can't hurt me and the man who can't stop my rushes must take my wallops—and they spell kayo."

CARDS FINALLY BEAT YANKS

AVON PARK, Fla., March 25. (AP)—The Cardinals scored more runs against the Yankees in two innings here today than in the entire world series of 1928, defeating the champions by 14 to 8 in the opening game of the spring exhibition series. The Yankees' five pitchers all were more or less wild. Score:

New York (A)	000 210 023	8	13 2
St. Louis (N)	000 106 16x	14	13 0

Rhodes, Shealy, Moore, F. Thomas, Craig and Dickey; Haines, Hallahan and Wilson.

GIANTS HAVE ROMP

SAN ANTONIO, March 25. (AP)—After a seven-inning romp, during which the New York Giants scored 11 runs on 16 hits, Umpire Brennan called the game today when the Kelly Field Fliers were retired for their last turn at the bat with two runs across the plate. Score:

New York (N)	260 020 1	11	16 0
Kelly Field	000 000 2	2	4 3

Mays, Scott and Hogan, Allen; Goodwin, Robins and Smith, Vielock.

CHISOX DEFEAT TEXAS U.

AUSTIN, March 25. (AP)—Texas university outhit the Chicago White Sox here today but lost 5 to 1 through timely clubbing by the major leaguers.

Peebles and Railton, collegiate twirlers, limited the Pale Hose to five blows while the Texas nine garnered eight off Walsh and Dugan, but walks and base blows which followed were responsible for the Sox victory. Score:

Chicago	100 002 020	5	5 0
Texas	000 010 000	1	8 5

Walsh, Dugan, Berg and Autrey; Railton, Peebles and Rees.

THE DAZZLER WORKS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 25. (AP)—The Braves defeated Brooklyn 8 to 6 here today in the first game of their series. Dazzy Vance started for the Robbins and held the Braves in check, but McWeeny and Dudley were ineffective.

Hoover to Toss First Ball at Senator Opener

WASHINGTON, March 25. (US)—President Hoover today accepted an invitation to attend the opening game of the Washington American league baseball season and threw the first ball. The invitation was extended by Edward Eynon, secretary. Later Clarke Griffith will present the president a gold pass admitting him to all games.

Are Fears Instinctive?

Just what part heredity plays in giving one certain tendencies or desires is a debatable question. Most people believe that they are born with such inherited traits as fear, love, anger, rage, jealousy, etc.

Self preservation is commonly called the first law of nature. Many psychologists have said that the sex instinct and the desire to succeed are also instincts with which we are born. Some startling discoveries are being made by modern psychologists who contend that practically all of our instincts and desires are acquired through habits which are developed from our environments. For example, how many of you have thought that children are born with a fear of snakes and yet this in undoubtedly a "condition" fear and is not a natural instinctive fear.

The fact of this was shockingly learned by the writer one day when he found his two-year-old daughter having a good time playing with a king snake. She had never been told that snakes were harmful and indeed this one was not, as it is not one of the poisonous snakes. Had I shouted or frightened her at the time she would have always retained the fear of any kind of snake. But you say, "Wouldn't it be a good thing to frighten a child about snakes, because there are some poisonous ones?" No, I don't think so. Children carefully reared are quite well protected on coming in contact with poisonous snakes, and when they are old enough to understand, the difference can be explained. It would be just as sensible to make a child afraid of the cat because the larger members of the kitten family, such as the tiger, are dangerous.

Proper caution and good judgment should be taught children, but the more that fear is kept out of the picture, the better. The mother who, dozens of times a day, warns her child and makes her child fearful is doing an incalculable harm which it may never be possible to entirely correct in later years. The mother who gets such quick results with the "bogey man" warning is laying up grief later on, not only for the child, but for herself. When her boy is grown to manhood, he may not be a real man at all, but only a bundle of fears with not enough courage left to be successful either in business, in love, or in maintaining health, and the daughter developed from such training will have a hidden streak of fear about most things and spend most of her time going from one nerve specialist to another.

The adult who is sick from failure in business or in health needs careful training under a competent psychologist who can assist him in "re-conditioning" himself. It is a difficult task for the adult to try to do it alone, for he is often his worst enemy.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Lumps Under Eyes

Question: D. H. writes: "About a year ago I was troubled with a hard lump under each of my eyes which gradually grew bigger. The doctor told me they were cysts. I had them lanced and they disappeared. But just lately I have noticed that they are coming back again. Will you tell me how to get rid of them permanently?"

Answer: It will probably be necessary for you to have the cysts lanced again. If you will follow out a good body cleansing regime such as outlined in the article I am mailing to you called "A Cleansing Diet," I believe you will be able to prevent further trouble of this kind. You must be sure to keep on a well balanced diet at all times and take plenty of exercise.

Wild Greens

Question: Mrs. O. L. G. asks: "What is your opinion of some of the wild "weeds," such as dandelion? Can they be used as food?"

Answer: There are many edible field plants, such as dandelion, lamb's quarter, mustard, Indian lettuce, etc., which are quite wholesome and may be used as greens. Most of these green leaves contain approximately the same food value.

Lethargy

Question: Miss N. O. P. writes: "I would like to know how to overcome my present state of lethargy. I am not myself. I cannot interest myself in anything. I wish the day would never come. I live alone—no one troubles me, and I have no reason for being so perfectly useless and unhappy. I should be glad for you to tell me what I need."

Answer: It would be a good plan for you to interest yourself in a hobby or in friends, possibly joining a few clubs, where you could take part in the activities. I do not believe that it is well for one to live alone without some form of companionship.

Two Black Crows

MORAN AND MACK

MORAN: What's slowin' yo' up?

MACK: No man can walk faster than his feet.

MORAN: We is gettin' close t' Mexico.

MACK: My feet seems t' know it.

MORAN: Is yo' a coward?

MACK: Only from th' ankles down.

MORAN: Big Boy, we is goin' t' be heroes.

MACK: When th' school children sing about me I wants to HEAR it.

MORAN: Dont yo' want to fight fo' freedom?

MACK: I fought fo' that when I wus in jail.

MORAN: We is in Arkansaw now.

MACK: Is that close t' Mexico?

MORAN: This is Arkansaw, then comes Texas, then comes Mexico.

MACK: Yo' is got it wrong. This is Arkansaw, then comes Missouri then comes Canada.

Egghead has his military tactics all wrong. If there is trouble in Mexico, that makes Big Boy an Eskimo.

HOLLIDAY AREA LEADS DISTRICT

Recent Strikes Attract New Drilling

By JAMES MAXWELL

The territory adjacent to the town of Holliday in north Archer county is rapidly becoming one of the most active areas in the district. This section of the county, which a few years ago received considerable attention from the operators, was until a week or so ago looked upon, as far as its productive resources were concerned, as practically drilled up. Chances for the completion of wells of any caliber was considered out of the question. This has been changed in the past month and a demand for acreage is the order of the day.

The factor in the revival of drilling was the completion of several good wells located to the northeast and on the west side of the townsite.

Texas Company Well

The best of these recent completions is found in the Texas company and associates' No. 1 Kemp-Kempner, which is producing 200 barrels per day. This well, which is located west of Holliday, and about one and a quarter miles west of the Shappel Oil company's production on the J. L. Jackson land, topped the sand at 1814 feet. The completion of this well, in addition to its importance in being responsible for the staking out of a number of new locations, is the means of extending the Shappell pay horizon on to the west.

Northeast of Holliday, in a section where many dry holes abound, the bringing in of the Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1 W. H. Chilson well in block 2, Denton county school lands, making 40 barrels initial production from a sand at 1778 feet was the signal for a redrilling of the tracts in that quarter, and in a few days offsets were going up on all sides of the well. Southeast of the Magnolia Petroleum No. 1 Chilson, the Pandem Oil company No. 1 Mrs. Wallace in block 11, D. C. S. L., was brought in and is producing 150 barrels per day from the pay at 1778 eet. This company is also spudding in on its No. 2 Mrs. Wallace 300 feet east of its producer.

Three hundred feet north of the Pandem Oil company No. 1 Wallace, Harry Hines has made location in the southwest corner of section 2, D. C. S. L., and has erected a derrick.

Offsets Drilling

Northwest of the Chilson producer in block 1, league 3, Denton county school lands, Kerbow and others' No. 3, on the J. W. Campbell farm, is drilling at 1000 feet.

C. P. Shelton is drilling at 900 feet on his No. 1 W. H. Chilson test which is an offset to the east of the Magnolia's No. 1 Chilson producer in the same survey.

Johnson and Fraser have made location for their No. 1 Mrs. A. Wallace in the northwest corner of block 11, D. C. S. L., and will offset the Pandem Oil company producer.

West of Holliday, and south of the Texas company No. 1 Kemp-Kempner well, the same interests made location for No. 1 C. Knight to be drilled 1492 feet west and 150 feet south of the northeast corner of block 69, Wichita Valley farm land subdivision.

During the week several leases changed hands and a number of deals were made with drilling clauses attached, and it will be but a short period of time until this area will compare in the amount of development under way with other sections of the county.

Seminole Declines During Day of Idleness

TULSA, Okla., March 25. (AP)—Wells of 12 major companies operating in the greater Seminole area were shut in over Sunday, and production in the 24 hours ended at 7 a. m. today dropped to 205,242 barrels from 1,470 wells, a loss of 58,990 barrels under Sunday morning's gauges. The decline for the 48-hour period was 63,808 barrels.

GALEY NAMED JUSTICE PEACE

County Commissioners Fill Iowa Park Office

J. P. Galey of Iowa Park was appointed justice of the peace for precinct No. 3 to fill the unexpired term of E. M. Bledsoe at the regular meeting of the county commissioners court Monday afternoon. Mr. Bledsoe died last week, after serving less than three months of his second term in office. The new magistrate will serve through Dec. 31, 1930. The appointment was made after the court had gone through the formality of declaring the office vacant.

The court Monday afternoon approved a petition for the building of a dirt road leading one mile west from the southwest corner of the Burness addition to Burkburnett. The petition, signed by 14 residents of precinct 2, was presented by F. R. Knauth.

The court accepted the February report of Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk, showing receipts totaling $2,404.90, and disbursements aggregating $1,800.

Fox Specializes On Sound Exclusively

NEW YORK, March 25. (AP)—The announcement of the Fox Film corporation that commencing today it would produce dialogue and musical pictures exclusively is expected to have a repercussion in the entire field of public entertainment.

Will Rogers, William Collier, George Jessell and other stars, stage directors, dramatists, musical comedy producers, scenarists and dancers are among the 200 prominent personages along Broadway who have been placed under contract.

The new policy will make it possible for patrons of every cross roads movie house equipped with sound machinery to see and hear the high-priced Broadway headliners mounted by foremost directors.

The Fox announcement did not disturb prominent theatrical men here. They expressed confidence that the talking and singing pictures would not hurt the spoken drama of musical plays.

Boy, 6, Reads Shakespeare, Spells Huge Words and Dreams of Boxing

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 25. (US)—He's 6 years old.

He reads Shakespeare—and likes it.

He does long division with numbers, and shows his teacher where she's wrong.

He can spell "encyclopaedia" and things like that.

He's in the sixth grade, and would be in high school if permitted.

He has been examined by noted psychologists and pronounced "okay" with an I. Q.—intelligence quotient—of 155.

And his ambition is to be heavyweight boxing champion of the world!

There in brief, is the story of little Myron Cohen, who gets so mad when anybody calls him an infant prodigy that he—well—well—"if anybody calls me that again, I'm gonna sock him one right square on the beezer!" he tells you.

Myron is the son of Harris S. Cohen, a Santa Monica multigrapher. Mr. and Mrs. Cohen, when little Myron began to be so precocious, became worried. They thought maybe he fell on his head and did something to his brain that would make him a financier or something when he got older.

But Dr. Ellen B. Sullivan, University of California in Los Angeles, psychologist, examined him and found him mentally excellent—not subnormal or abnormal, but extraordinarily intelligent. More, physicians and surgeons declare him normal except for his ability to absorb knowledge and education.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 25. (AP)—More favorable weather in the south and relatively easy Liverpool cables were believed to have been chiefly responsible for moderate declines in cotton today. July contracts, after selling off to 20.14 under liquidation, rallied to 20.29 on covering but eased again and closed at 20.16. The general market closed steady at net declines of 11 to 14 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 9 to 12 points in response to lower cables and reports of good weather in the south over the week-end. Offerings were comparatively heavy and active months sold about 12 to 17 points net lower in the early trading. May declined to 20.63 and December to 20.01. The market then steadied on trade buying and covering. There were rallies during the middle of the day as offerings dwindled.

May sold up to 20.79 and December to 20.14, or back to nearly Saturday's closing quotations. But demand was by no means active or aggressive and prices weakened again in the late trading. This was attributed to renewed scattering liquidation, coupled with some southern and Wall street selling. The latter may have been influenced by the stock market and the advance in call money.

The close was within 2 or 3 points of the lowest.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 25. (AP)—An early decline of 13 to 15 points attracted trade buying and covering in the cotton market today and prices rallied to levels 2 to 4 points above the previous close, but the market weakend again in afternoon trading and closed 3 points above the lowest. July, after rallying from 19.94 to 20.11 eased off and closed at 19.96, 11 points net down. The general market closed steady at a net decline of 11 to 12 points.

Liverpool cables were lower than due and as the weather in the belt had been favorable over the week end, the market opened easy, first trades showing losses of 12 to 14 points. Prices continued to ease off after the start on the execution of some overnight selling orders. May traded off to 19.89, July 19.94 and October 19.76, or 13 to 15 points below Saturday's close.

Later the market rallied under a fair trade demand and some covering by shorts stimulated by map indications of unfavorable weather in the belt in the near future and predictions of large March consumption based on activity in the textile markets. On the bulge May recovered to 20.06, July 20.11 and October 19.93, or 17 points above the lows and 2 to 4 points above the previous close.

The market weakened, again, however, in afternoon trading.

Dome Mines Limited is the second largest gold producer in Canada. The property of the company covers about 430 acres in the Sudbury district of Ontario. It also owns 240 acres on which little or no development work has been done. The company has a 80-stamp mill with cynanide plant and 4-tube mills. The company has made larger earnings but official statements indicate that unless additional ore bodies are discovered the concern is not very far from the end of its productive period.

In 1926, the life of the property was estimated at two years but later reports indicated a material extension of this period. Reserves of broken ore on Jan. 1, 1928, amounted to about 500,000 tons as compared with 575,000 tons a year previous. However, the life of the company seems to depend on action in acquiring new mines or development of new ore bodies in lands already held.

The high level of net income was in 1922-1923. Since then earnings have been lower. Net in 1927, was $1,516,338. This compared with $1,342,036 in 1926.

There is no funded debt. Capital stock outstanding consists of 1,000,000 shares of no par value. From 1924, to the first quarter of 1927, the company paid dividends at the annual rate of $2 a share. After that time payments were at the rate of $1 a share annually. For the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1928, net was $1,334,000. The company apparently foresaw the possible exhaustion of its ore supplies and started a dividend assurance fund in 1923, which, at the end of 1927, stood at $2,350,000 and which will act as a liquidating dividend eventually.

As of Jan. 1, 1928, total current assets were $3,384,424, current liabilities, $526,751 and net working capital $1,857,683. Book value applicable to the capital stock amounted to $9.30 a share.

Highest Call Money Rate in Nine Years Brings Stocks Down Sharply

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 25. (US)—Highest call money rate in nine years caused further sharp break in stock prices today. All groups dropped as the demand loan charge was boosted to 14 per cent from renewal of 9.

Recently favored industrials dropped from 3 to more than 12 points while rails and oils were down from fractional amounts to more than 3 points for many carriers and over 2 points in the case of some of the oils.

Average price of industrials dropped more than 9 points for the session, with steel closing 3⅝ lower, General Motors losing about the same amount, Kennecott dropping 5¾, Packard 7¼, Greene Cananea 12, Carbide 12, Wright 12½, Chile 10⅜ and Johns Manville 8⅝.

Another mysterious meeting of the reserve board in Washington from which nothing but conjecture was forthcoming tended to enhance nervousness so that the speculative community halted activity in the most nervous mood experienced in three years. Turnover reached 5,800,000 shares.

Advance in the call rate to 14 per cent was quite a shock to those traders who had believed advice that 12 per cent would be the peak figures. Now there are many who think that no higher than 15 per cent will be experienced. The fact is the banks can put the rate to any figure they wish and if the current market correction is not carried through successfully even higher than 15 per cent call money would not be unlikely.

There were withdrawals of funds from mid-western banks but the report of similar action from Canadian banks was exaggerated. The Canadian institutions have had full use for their funds at home and in some instances have been taking funds from this center. There is no big outside demand for funds at this time and the only reason for the high call rate is the pressure of the reserve.

Buy on reaction is the old advice revived by many brokerage firms although it has cost traders considerable in the past. Apparently good absorption of such stocks as the Oils, General Motors, Can and others are pointed to. Individual stock conditions have little or no influence, however, when the entire market is going through a corrective period resulting from a weakened credit situation. If the reserve were to carry through its current operation the market should experience a rather lengthy period of quietness in which prices will remain in a narrow trading zone.

There are more sold-out bulls now than at any time in history and their buying is going to be the most important influence to the next advance. However, after being out of the market for months they are not going to rush in and mark prices up while getting their stocks back.

As a group, the Oils appear to hold the most promise and therefore suffer least from the long-delayed credit correction. They have never taken as prominent part in the advancing of the last four years as other groups and are in much stronger position than most. All advices from the trade indicate that the leaders of the industry are working in closer harmony than ever before to effect stabilization of production.

Not alone are plans being worked out for control of output in this country but meetings to be held here this week are expected to result in activity that will prove that the oil kings of other countries are working with leaders here to maintain a stabilized oil market throughout the world.

There is growing opinion that the rediscount rate will be raised this week. On itself an advance in the rate is of little importance. There is no more reason for advancing it now than there was two, four or eight weeks ago. In fact the position of the reserve system today is stronger than it has been for several weeks. However, a higher rediscount rate would have a psychological effect on stock speculators that would hasten consummation of market correction.

For reserve officials to hesitate about raising the rate for fear of hurting general business seems foolish. Business conditons now are hurt by the misunderstandings and nervousness resulting from the further tightening in money brought about by under-cover operations of the reserve.

Livestock

TEXAS REVIEW

FORT WORTH, March 25. (AP)—All classes of cattle sold to an active demand at strong prices here today with some classes showing an advance. A seasonable supply of livestock on hand.

One load slaughter steers $12.25, top; others at $10.50, $11.25@11.35, values fully steady.

Bulls fully steady; one carload of good heavy bulls $8.75; common light bulls sold around $6.75.

Cows 15c to a quarter higher. Carlots sold at $8.85@8.65; with packages at $9@9.50. Canners and cutters bulk of trading at $5.25@6.50.

Slaughter yearlings fully steady, with carlots up to $13.50, other cars down to $12.50. Packages sold at $13@13.50.

The calf supply was very light, sales about steady, bulk of culls at $8@9.00, with a few packages of the better calves at $11.50 and a few head at $12.

The demand for stocker cattle continues at strong values. Two loads of thin stocker yearlings sold at $13.50, some stocker cows at $8.25.

Sheep steady, with some shorn fat lambs at $14@14.50 and shorn fat wethers at $9.25. Fall shorn feeder lambs at $13.50.

Trade in hogs very slow, mostly 15c lower, best offer at $10.85; truck top $10.30; bulk 175 to 250-pound butchers at $10.10@10.85.

MID-WESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, March 25. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—More liberal cattle receipts around the 11-market circuit resulted in a less active trade in slaughter classes, but demand remained broad for replacement stock. Prices on killing classes were unevenly steady to 25c lower, lighter weights of steers with the aid of feeder buyers competition holding at mostly steady figures.

Vealers were tendered further price declines, losses at some points as much as $1.00. Aggregate receipts were around 68,200, an increase of 7,300 over a week ago and the corresponding day last year.

Hogs found a slow outlet at steady to 25c lower values, most markets on a 10 to 25c lower basis. The day's extreme top of $11.75 was paid both at St. Louis and Chicago. Total offerings were around 141,400 as compared with 128,972 last Monday and 163,448 a year ago.

The sheep supply approximated 50,200, an increase of 14,000 over a week ago but 27,500 short of a year ago. Fat lambs ruled steady to 15c higher, trade confined chiefly to fed offerings. Other killing classes were little changed.

CHICAGO, March 25. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 65,000; market 15@25c lower; top $11.65 for 200 pounds; packing sows $10.25@10.75; pigs, medium to choice 90-130 pounds $9.50@11.25.

Cattle—Receipts 19,000; calves, 3,000; steers slow; market steady to 25c lower. Slaughter steers, good and choice 1300-1500 pounds $12.50@14.25; 1100-1300 pounds $12.75@14.50; 950-1100 pounds $12.75@14.75; fed yearlings, good and choice $9.25@11.50; vealers (milk fed) good and choice $12.50@16.50; stocker and feeder steers, good and choice (all weights) $12.00@13.00.

Sheep—Receipts 17,000; lambs, good and choice, 92 pounds down $16.50@17.75; ewes, medium to choice, 150 pounds down, $8.50@11.00; feeder lambs, good and choice $15.00@16.75.

KANSAS CITY, March 25. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 14,000; market 10@15c lower; top $11.35 on 190-230 pounds; packing sows $9.40@10.25.

Cattle—Receipts 12,000; calves, 1,500; fed steers steady to weak; other classes steady to strong; slaughter steers, good and choice 1300-1500 pounds $12.00@13.75; 1100-1300 pounds $12.25@14.25; 950-1100 pounds $12.25@14.50; fed yearlings, good-choice 750-950 pounds $12.50@14.75; cows, good and choice $9.00@11.00; vealers (milk fed) medium to choice $9.15@15.00; stocker and feeder steers, good and choice (all weights) $11.75@13.85.

Sheep—Receipts 7,000; clipped lambs and sheep steady; lambs, good and choice, 92 pounds down $15.25@16.40; ewes, medium to choice, 150 pounds down $8.00@10.25.

FORT WORTH, March 25. (UP)—Hogs—Receipts 2400; market very slow, few sales and most bids on rail hogs 15c lower; truck hogs 10 to 15c lower; $10.85 bid on good to choice medium weight rail hogs.

Cattle—Receipts 2900; practically all classes cattle active, strong, tending higher; butcher and beef grades and she stock around 25c higher; other classes strong at full recent advances; car lot sales slaughter steers, $10.50, $11.35 and $12.25. Two cars desirable feeding steers, $11.25; several sales better grades fat yearlings, $12.50@13.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 25. (AP)—In the face of acute weakness of the stock market, grain values today scored upturns. Much wheat buying was based on the fact that prices had declined by 10c a bushel in the last week. Predictions of rallies were current.

Announcement of 8.2 per cent intended larger planting of spring wheat other than duram and of 9.5 per cent decrease of duram was made after trading had ended. This was true also of government figures, indicating that winter killing of domestic wheat this season has been somewhat less than the usual average.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, ⅝c to 1@1⅛c net higher. Corn finished ⅛c to ⅝c up, oats varying from ⅛c decline to ⅜c advance and provisions at 25c setback to a rise of 2c.

Friends of higher prices for corn derived encouragement from a rather bullish estimate of the Argentine corn crop, 213,000,000 bushels, an amount smaller than the surplus of either of the two seasons preceding. Shipping sales of corn here today totaled 130,000 bushels. On the other hand, outside markets sold 50,000 bushels to come to Chicago. Oats average higher with other grain, and affected somewhat by a forecast of unfavorable weather for seeding.

Provisions were easier, responsive to downturns in the value of hogs.

Attack on Aged Woman By Negro Is Fatal

ATCHISON, Kan., March 25. (AP)—Mrs. C. V. Jacobs, 53, died here today in a hospital as a result of injuries received when she was attacked and severely burned in the basement of her home in Atchison last February.

Louis Glover, negro, employed at the Jacobs home, and alleged to have confessed to the crime, is held in the Wyandotte county jail, Kansas City, Kan., for safe keeping.

EGG RECEIPTS HEAVY HERE

Four Carloads to Move To East This Week

A constantly increasing production of eggs has crowded the exchange of poultry into a relatively minor position on the local market, according to reports given by dealers here Monday.

Not only from the territory immediately surrounding Wichita Falls, but from many communities within a radius of 200 miles, increasing numbers of selected eggs are being brought to produce houses here. Several carloads were shipped from this city last week, consigned principally to New York and Chicago. Four hundred cases, representing 144,000 eggs, comprise a carlot shipment. It was stated that at least four carloads would be assembled here this week for shipment to eastern points.

According to Matt Noble, manager of the Wichita Poultry and Egg company, Texas eggs are still compelled to sell against a slight handicap or disfavor because of alleged carelessness in the past in allowing less than strictly first-class eggs to be included with shipments of first-grade eggs. Persistent attention on the part of leading dealers in Texas to the careful inspection of every egg before shipment has accomplished much already, Mr. Noble stated, toward raising the comparative values of Texas egg shipments, and added that such a policy practically assures the local dealer a constant market for his produce.

Cotton continued its uneven habits, slipping off 30 points Monday to offer 18.65 cents per pound, middling basis, with local buyers.

Altus Kiwanians To Visit Lawton

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., March 25.—Dr. A. H. Stewart of Lawton invited the members of the local Kiwanis club at the regular meeting of the club this week to attend the annual ladies' night of the Lawton club April 4.

He announced that the Rev. W. Marshall Craig of Dallas, reputed to be an outstanding speaker, will be the principal speaker for the Lawton banquet.

Plans are being made to organize Kiwanis clubs at Snyder, Frederick and Wellington, Texas, within a short while. The Altus Kiwanians will assist with perfecting these organizations.

Rule Methodists Plan Two Weeks Revival

Special to The Record News

RULE, Texas, March 25.—A two-weeks revival meeting will begin at the Methodist church Easter Sunday. Rev. C. B. Thompson, pastor of the Rule Methodist church, will conduct the services and his son, Reverend Thompson of Elbert will conduct the song services.

Forest Rangers Hunt Vicious Stray Dogs

LAWTON, Okla., March 25.—Forest rangers on the Wichita national game preserve are out to "get" a number of vicious stray dogs that killed three deer on the preserve last week. The dogs had previously killed several yearling cattle near the preserve. No attempt is being made to take the dogs alive.

HOUSTON HEIRS' SUIT DELAYED

Claim Against Magazine Postponed

FORT WORTH, Texas, March 25. (INS)—The $600,000 libel suit brought by heirs of Gen. Sam Houston against the Liberty magazine was delayed today in federal district court. Attorneys for Liberty have filed demurrers to the charges which are to be argued.

Plaintiffs will seek a continuance on the grounds of absent witnesses, due to illness, in event the court overrules the demurrers, it was stated.

The article complained of was written by Don C. Seitz, formerly business manager of the New York World. Plaintiffs allege that Seitz slandered the Houston name by declaring General Houston "drank more than was good for him and took an Indian wife by the simple processes of aboriginal matrimony. The result was a wild one—Temple Houston, who became a dangerous citizen of Oklahoma."

Plaintiffs set forth in their petition that Temple Houston was born in Austin when General Houston was residing in Texas and that he was the son of the general and the former Miss Margaret M. Lea of Alabama.

Fire Chiefs Meet At Shreveport, La.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 25. (AP)—With more than 200 fire chiefs in attendance, the second annual convention of the Southwestern Association of Fire Chiefs opened here today.

The meeting was presided over by Chief J. E. Taplin of Blackwell, Okla., president of the association. Oklahoma City and Beaumont are making a fight for the next convention.

A committee on resolutions was appointed composed of Chief Burns of Tyler, Texas, chairman; Chief John Barker, San Angelo, Texas; Chief Springer, Texarkana; Chief O. A. Eastburn, Jennings, La.; Chief S. C. Boaz, Henrietta, Okla., and Chief R. B. Miller, Clovis, N. M.

D. W. Brosnan, chief of Baton Rouge, La., spoke on "The Duties of the Fire Department in Fire Prevention." It was followed by discussions, led by Chief W. J. Springer of Texarkana, vice president of the Southwestern association.

Special to The Record News

CANYON, Texas, March 25.—When 14 towns of the first district of the Texas Interscholastic league meet in Canyon for the annual one-act play contest, four of the directors of competing teams will be graduates of the West Texas State Teachers college, who as students frequently appeared together in dramatic productions. These are Miss Dona Hardin of Groom, Miss Opal Dutton, Darris Cheyne of Happy and Miss Dilphia Carmack of Tulia.

When the contests are over they will meet and criticise each others' play production.

Community Club Is Organized at Lincoln

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., March 25.—A Four-Square Community club was organized at Lincoln recently by H. L. Gant of Dallas, Texas. Officers elected at the meeting which marked the formation of the second such club in Jackson county were Oscar Brewer, president; W. C. Walls, vice president, and Mrs. Lois Jarvis, secretary.

A group of 50 residents were present for the organization meeting.

Fort Worth Pastor Holds Rule Revival

RULE, Texas, March 25.—Unusual interest is being centered in the revival which is in progress at the Rule Baptist church. Rev. L. L. Cooper of Fort Worth is doing the preaching and Joe Miller also of Fort Worth is conducting the song service. Reverend Cooper is an expert on church work and the different phases of Sunday school activities. These services are in the form of a stewardship, enlistment and enlargement campaign, reaching his ultimate and chief objective in evangelism.

PROGRAM COMPLETED FOR ANNUAL SUNRISE EASTER SERVICE

PAGEANT OF RESURRECTION

Ministerial Alliance Sponsors City-Wide Service

The outdoor celebration of the Resurrection of Christ which has been held at sunrise on Easter Sunday for the last several years on the bluffs west of the city will be staged again at 6 o'clock next Sunday morning, weather permitting, according to Dr. Floyd Allan Bash, pastor of the First Christian church, who was appointed several weeks ago by the Wichita Falls Ministerial alliance to supervise preparations for the event.

As in former years, the events of the first Easter morning, which transpired near Jerusalem, will be dramatized under the direction of Mrs. O. Abernathy. The pageant will depict the breaking of the tomb, the flight of the Roman soldiers, and the discovery by Mary Magdalene, and Peter and John, the apostles, that the tomb is empty.

Choir of Drums

The service will open with the call to worship sounded by a choir of drums, under the direction of Leo M. Underwood. A chorus of several hundred school children, who have been trained by Misses Erma Nala Voss and Minnie T. Baker and Mrs Hermione Vaughan, will sing "The Morning Light Is Breaking." The Easter prayer will be offered by Dr. S. Stephen McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Following another number of theme music, Rev. Patrick Henry, pastor of the Highland Heights Christian church, will deliver the Easter Sunday message. Special numbers by an adult chorus, including "Up From the Grave He Arose," will precede the benediction to be spoken by Dr. Nat Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The site on which the annual outdoor Easter program is given is located north of the Seymour road opposite the Mestmoreland Park district. It is admirably suited for such an event, the naturally formed bowl in which the pageant is given affording space from which thousands of spectators may view clearly the scene which is enacted. The steep walls of the bluffs also aid greatly in rendering the musical numbers easily audible at all points surrounding the site.

Popular Event

Increasing numbers have gathered for the sunrise Easter services in past years. Last year unfavorable weather necessitated the transfer of the program to the Memorial auditorium, where it was presented before a crowd which almost filled the immense hall. In the preceding year, an attendance estimated at more than 7,000 persons joined in the service on the hills west of the city.

Numerous telephone calls from residents of other cities in this section during the last few days, it was said, asking for information relative to the Easter sunrise service, indicate that many persons from out-of-town are planning to be present next Sunday morning.

Fort Worth Doctor Here

Dr. N. F. Williams of Fort Worth is in the city visiting Drs. A. H. Douglass and L. I. Lucey. He arrived Monday.

WISHES HE'D HEARD OF IT A YEAR AGO, HE SAID

"I Thought I Would Die But Since Taking Orgatone Feel Like New," Says Wichita Falls Man

"If I had heard of this Orgatone about a year ago, I would have been a happier and healthier man instead of suffering like I did," said O. L. Habern, living east on the Petrolia road, Wichita Falls, Texas. Mr. Habern was formerly with the McFall Motor Co., he was with them for 10 years.

"I have been a constant sufferer for the last year, with my stomach," he continued, "and the misery I went through was terrible. After eating I would suffer for hours at a time, until I would take something to belch up the gas that formed on my stomach. I was operated on for appendicitis about 10 years ago and I have been bothered ever since. I had severe pains at the margin of my ribs and in my right side, and when the gas would form, it was difficult for me to get my breath and I thought I had heart trouble. At times, the pains in my back would hurt me so, I could not straighten up. For ten long days I laid in bed, with intense gas pains, so bad, I thought I would die, and so did everybody else that saw me. I lost my appetite and hardly ate enough to keep me alive. I didn't sleep at all well, and would get restless and roll from side to side till I was worn out, and would get up in the mornings feeling like I hadn't gone to bed at all, I would be so tired.

"I got my first bottle of Orgatone after continual treatment under doctors and all kinds of medicines failed to do me any good, and have taken three bottles and I am now feeling fine. Soon after beginning Orgatone I found my appetite improved and I can eat anything I want, and have gotten rid of all that swelling and bloated feeling and gas has quit forming and the pressure in my side has been relieved. I'm not constipated any more, and have gained five pounds in weight. Those severe pains in my back and sides are gone, and I am not nervous and restless as I was, and go to bed and sleep fine every night. I know that Orgatone will do all that is claimed for it, as it has been such a benefit to me. I have told a lot of people about it and they say it is giving good results. I think it is a wonder and I am glad to recommend it to the public."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new, scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls, exclusively by the Allison's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Also at Burkburnett, at the City Drug Store.—Adv.

Oil Field Worker Hurt In Accident

Suffering from a dislocation of the backbone, and three fractured ribs, Clyde Hamilton, 21, injured in an oil field accident near Electra Saturday, was reported slightly improved at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital late Monday night.

Reports from Electra said Hamilton, working at an oil field rig, was struck by a gin pole which fell from the top of the derrick. He lives in the Beaver Creek community near here.

His mother, Mrs. Ferris Hamilton, arrived here Sunday from Sudan, Texas, and is at her son's bedside.

Young Bandits Tell of Robbery

asked how he got the money so easily. No charges have been filed against Miss Smith, who said she merely accompanied the group and had no previous knowledge of the holdup.

Those charged, besides Turner, are Coy Nigh, Lucille Awalt, Billie Ballard and Irene Curtis.

Miss Smith said she and the three girls had driven to town about 12:15 p. m., parking in front of a drug store two doors from the bank. Turner's car, with Nigh also in it, was in front of the bank, she declared.

While she went to the postoffice, Turner and Nigh drove off, followed by the three girls, who returned in a little while and ordered drinks from the drug store, Miss Smith testified. While waiting for the drinks, Miss Smith continued, Turner rushed up and threw his gun and the money into the girls' car, and Miss Awalt at the wheel, sped away.

After a short drive, Miss Awalt stopped and buried the money in a pile of tin cans, after which they returned to town, the account continued. They went to Bill Awalt's home, where they found Coy Nigh, Miss Smith asserted, but Nigh left in a short time, and was later arrested in company of Turner.

The court room was jammed and several hundred were turned away.

Bond of $12,500 for Turner and $8,000 for Miss Awalt was granted by Justice of the Peace W. B. Douglas. Defense counsel did not agree to the amounts and argument for lowed bonds will be continued tomorrow.

Council Refuses Parking Change

be such a sensation that even the Cowboy Evangelist has taken it as the subject of one of his sermons. I think that things have reached a crisis in Wichita Falls and we are whistling away our time with that which gives the least protection. The matter is as serious as any which could face this body.

"It isn't fair that 97 per cent of the people do not get the use of the streets because it is reserved for the benefits of a few merchants. If we can afford to put on additional police force to patrol the city and relieve the robbery situation then I am for a 30-minute parking law. If not then it is only a method of raising revenue from the people."

Dr. J. H. Fletcher, who started the first move to repeal the law, presented a petition to the council signed by more than a hundred persons asking repeal of the law.

C. C. Randle told the council, in behalf of the Automobile association, that the law should stand as it is because office workers would take advantage of an open parking time.

Alderman Roy E. Carter, in presenting a motion to the council for its repeal, declared that a part of the police force was being employed where it is least needed. Other aldermen, however, did not agree with Mr. Carter and the motion was defeated.

An ordinance presented by Alderman J. W. Hunt prohibiting the erection of any other than wood awnings passed its first reading.

The Southern Home Builders, represented by Harry Bunnenberg, asked the permission of the council to open the "Plainview addition" on the Charlie road on the northern edge of the city. The question was referred to George D. Fairtrace for consideration.

Ralph Pond was given a permit to install a gas tank for storage purposes at 1414 Sibley avenue.

MASONS PLAN MEETING HERE

Many Expected to Attend Educational Program

What promises to be one of the most interesting as well as instructive Masonic meetings held in Wichita Falls for many months will be the program to be presented in the lodge room of Wichita Falls lodge No. 635 Wednesday night. The program will be in charge of Wilbur Keith of Dallas, representing the committee on education and service of the Masonic grand lodge of Texas. The history of Masonry, its symbolism and achievements of the craft at large will be discussed by the speaker and stereopticon slides will add to the interesting historical features of the meeting, it was said.

Every Masonic lodge in the Wichita Falls district, together with several lodges outside the territory, will be represented. At a recent meeting presided over by Walter Caldwell, district deputy grand master of Wichita Falls, Mr. Caldwell was given the assurance of the full and complete cooperation of all the lodges and many members will be present including the officers of the several lodges, said Mr. Caldwell.

The visit to this city of the committee's representatives is the third of a series of meetings to be held in Northwest Texas. The first was at Alvord Monday night and Tuesday night a meeting was held at Henrietta. Other meetings scheduled in this part of the state include Quanah, Thursday night; Childress, Friday night; Shamrock, Saturday night; Estelline, Monday night; Spur, Tuesday night; Moran, Wednesday night and Mineral Wells Thursday night of next week.

"We are expecting a large attendance of members of Masonic lodges in Wichita Falls for the Wednesday night meeting," said Mr. Caldwell, "and I cannot urge Masons too strongly to attend, because from my knowledge of the program of the grand lodge through its committee on education and service, nothing has ever been started that deserves more consideration than this feature of Masonic work in the Texas jurisdiction."

The committee on education and service of the grand lodge is composed of W. M. Fly, past grand master, Gonzales, chairman; E. R. Bryan, past grand master, Mineral Wells, vice chairman; J. D. Avis, Wichita Falls; Mike H. Thomas, past grand master, Dallas; W. W. Evans, El Paso; Judge Hiram F. Lively, Dallas, deputy grand master, secretary-treasurer. The program, according to District Deputy Caldwell, has the endorsement of Grand Master Frank Hartgraves of Menard. Mr. Caldwell said also that through this committee more than 800 George Washington Masonic meetings were held during the week of Feb. 22, at which educational talks were made.

Accompanying Mr. Keith on his Northwest Texas tour will be Joe R. Gunn, worshipful master of Trinity Valley lodge of Dallas.

Deaths

N. P. GILES

Funeral services for N. P. Giles, 59, 1405 Seventh street, who died Sunday night, will be conducted from the East Side Presbyterian church by Rev. Ernest McGaughey at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Burial will be in Rosement cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, four sons, A. H., Oscar, A. J., and H. P. Giles, and three daughters, Mrs. C. Campbell of Electra, Mrs. L. P. Smith and Miss Dolly Giles, both of Wichita Falls.

W. E. ELLIS JR.

Funeral services for W. E. Ellis Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ellis, 1221 North Sixth street, who died Sunday in a local hospital, were held from the Hines mortuary chapel Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

MRS. J. N. PRYOR

Funeral services for Mrs. J. N. Pryor, 36, 1204 Tenth street, who died Sunday night in a local hospital, will be conducted from the Merkle Undertaking company's chapel Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate at the services. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Pryor is survived by her husband and one son, Billy, 6.

26 SENTENCED IN U. S. COURT

Majority Get Fines on Dry Law Violations

Fines aggregating $3,325.25 and two jail sentences were imposed by Judge W. H. Atwell on 26 pleas of guilty to violation of the national prohibition laws received within two hours after the opening of the afternoon session of the United States district court here Monday.

The report of the grand jury for the spring term, and the disposal of the remaining whisky cases, is expected to occupy Tuesday morning. Civil, law and equity cases are set for later in the week.

Fines Heavier

Fines assessed Monday afternoon ranged from 25 cents to $400, but struck an average of around $100 for the usual case of the possession of whisky, a notably heavier penalty than those hitherto imposed under the same circumstances. Except for the 25-cent fine, assessed against a prisoner who had already spent 42 days in jail, the only fine under $100 went to a young negro girl who claimed she had no money and had just happened to be caught on a "party" on Lake street. Her punishment was set at a $50 fine.

The $400 fine was assessed against W. R. Wileman, one of three brothers appearing in succession before the judge Monday afternoon. Wileman was accused of possession of a still and of 90 gallons of mash. Judge Atwell said he was "knocking off" $100 of the fine which would have been imposed but for the plea of guilty. The other brothers, Claude and Charlie Wileman, drew $125 and $150 fines each. In his plea to the court Charlie, the last of the three brothers to appear, offered a letter from his employers in which he was described as "conscientious, sober and reliable." Judge Atwell congratulated the defendant upon the possession of such a letter.

"It may be that you are a good man, Wileman," he said. "Worlds of good men have taken a drink in the past, have made whiskey, bought it and sold it. But that was in the past. It can't be done now. I fine you $150."

W. A. Freeman, against whom three cases were consolidated, drew a 30-day sentence, dated back 10 days. Barney Ray and W. Bartley, jointly accused of the possession of large quantities of whiskey, were given a $300 fine each.

Jury Begins Work

The only other jail sentences imposed during the Monday afternoon session was against Mrs. Dollie Minyard, whose term was suspended.

With a plea to both the grand and petit jurors to aid law enforcement, Judge Atwell Monday morning impaneled and charged both bodies, formally opening the spring term of the United States district court here.

The criminal docket was called at the opening of the afternoon session. Twenty additional charges of whiskey violations had been filed by Mrs. Sarah E. Menezes Monday morning, bringing the total number docketed to 47, all of which are expected to be disposed of before the report of the grand jury.

The possible effect of the newly enacted Jones enforcement law upon the sentences imposed during the present term of the federal court was in no way revealed during the opening day, the law having been in effect only since March 2, J. A. Lantz, United States commissioner, said Monday that less than half a dozen cases touched by the new law would come before the court this term, and that none of them would develop until after the report of the grand jury.

Mother Given Suspended Term to Save Babe From Jail

Atwell Changes Sentence When Girl Carries Infant to Cell

Her eyes still wet with tears shed over her baby, locked up with her in the woman's ward of the Wichita county jail, Mrs. Dollie Minyard, 19, was recalled before Judge W. H. Atwell in the United States district court Monday afternoon and told to go free under a 30-day probation sentence.

A few minutes before, the pretty young mother, carrying her 6-month-old baby in her arms, was arraigned before the court on charges of the possession and sale of whisky. She stood, the infant against her breast, to plead guilty to the charges.

"Do you want to sit down?" Judge Atwell said at once, and the rest of the hearing was conducted with the defendant seated. It was interrupted once by a fit of coughing from the child. Although Mrs. Minyard herself offered no defense, an attorney who had been watching the proceedings told the court that her husband was almost an invalid and unable to work.

"I don't want to send you to jail, little mother," the judge began. "I would be glad to tell you to walk out of here free. But there is a general law and I cannot do that. Do you love your baby?"

"Yes," answered the defendant, almost inaudibly.

"Then how could you do it? How could you sell whisky if you love your baby?"

Mrs. Minyard did not reply.

"Are you sure you are not taking the punishment for your husband?" the court pursued. "You did it yourself?"

The defendant nodded in answer.

"Then I give you 30 days in the jail upstairs where there is a good matron. You will serve 10 days and the rest will be suspended. I haven't any right to set you free because you have a baby. I have a hard job, don't you think?"

Upstairs in the apartment of Mrs. Winifred Graham, matron, the mother and afflicted father wept together over the baby. Mrs. Minyard explained that she had no one to leave the baby with and that, besides, he had to be kept with her for feeding. Mrs. Graham asked D. A. Campbell, marshal, if it would be permissible for the young prisoner to have the freedom of her own apartment during the sentence. The question was referred to Judge Atwell on the bench. After a moment, the judge sent for the prisoner and her baby.

"I've had you on my mind since I sent you upstairs," he told her. "I am not willing to send you and your baby to jail. I put you under 30 days probation. You may go."

"Thank you, judge," murmured the young woman. Radiant, the trio, father, mother, and baby, left the court room.

'Outward Bound' Brings Little Theater to Heights of Traditions

By MARJORIE MATHIS
The Record News Staff

In a brilliant performance of Sutton Vane's magnificent "Outward Bound," at the forum Monday night, the Wichita Falls Little Theater more than realized all its promise and offered an enthusiastic audience a distinguished presentation of one of the finest plays on the American stage today.

With much of the season and of its own development still before it, the young organization, just past its initial production, essayed in "Outward Bound" to touch the heights of Little Theater tradition—and the result was triumph.

Sincerity Is Shown

Quickened by the authentic artistry and sincerity of the players, the subtleties, the all-revealing ironies and the cumulative power of the dramatist who dared embark with his cargo of the dead, found poignant expression and swept the audience, at first uncertain, into the full significance of the mighty third act.

"Outward Bound" takes its cargo of quite ordinary people away from the land of the living, into the sea of death, and leaves them to find, when dodging no longer avails, that within themselves they have brought their own heaven and their own hell. There are moments of solemnity, delicately and sincerely done by the Little Theater cast, but fiery passages of a penetrating humor crowd each act, keeping the boat well anchored to humanity and very real.

Daly Takes Lead

James Daly, the director, himself takes the leading role, playing "Mr. Prior," the "drunk," who first discovers that he and his passengers on the ship are all dead. His work is sensitive and full of vitality, and the current of the play moves swiftly under his guidance. Mrs. Mona Mier Nelson as "Mrs. Cliveden-Banks," the witty and worldly woman who expects her name alone to slip her past the Examiner at the end of the voyage, is delicately sure and offered ones of the most convincing and finished interpretations of the play.

In the difficult characterization of "Mrs. Midget," aged char-woman, whose paradise is waiting for her at the landing, Helen Grace Gould gave a finely drawn characterization, enhanced with effective make-up and the careful handling of a cockney brogue. Honors were almost equally divided among a cast that included H. O. Rupnow as "Scrubby" the cheerful, matter-of-fact steward who had made the trip 5,000 times; Miss Juanita Joyce as the fragile "Ann," recalled from suicide in a final breathless scene, and James Campbell as "Henry," her sweetheart; Edward Smith as the "Rev. William Duke," whose heaven lay in his work; W. D. Bent as the irracible Mr. Lingly of Lingly Ltd., the only one of the travelers who was cast into outer darkness, and Ewell Bagwell, as the Examiner himself, who waited for the boat and its passengers at the end of their voyage.

Delightful incidental music before the curtain and between the acts was furnished by Miss Mary Elizabeth Donnell, at the piano, and Miss Mathilda Donnell, violinist.

The Wichita Falls Little Theater will not be able to complete its season under the direction of James P. Daly unless the Tuesday evening performance of "Outward Bound," to be given at 8:15 at the Woman's Forum, receives wholehearted support, Mrs. James P. Bowen, business manager, announced Monday evening.

"We can not pay expenses unless this auditorium is crowded Tuesday night," she declared. "The plans for the rest of the season will have to be abandoned unless our friends rally to our support. Tuesday night will tell the story."

Baldwin Montgomery, president of the organization, explained that Harrison street busses come to the door of the forum and that a bus will be waiting at the entrance at the time the audience is dismissed. Monroe street busses also stop within a few hundred feet of the building.

PASSION WEEK RITES ON AIR

KGKO Announces Program Next Five Days

As a part of a nation-wide program being sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, with headquarters in New York, a series of special passion week services are being given over radio from station KGKO this week by a number of local churches.

The first of the special programs was given Monday at 12:15 p. m. by the Grace Methodist church, Rev. Alvin S. White, pastor, delivering a brief address, and musical numbers being given by members of the choir of that church.

The services for the remainder of this week will be given at the same hour each day, from 12:15 to 12:30 p. m. Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will speak on Tuesday; Dr. S. Stephen McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, on Wednesday; Dr. Gaines B. Hall, First Southern Presbyterian pastor, on Thursday; Rev. Ben Bell of the Sibley-Taylor Methodist church, Friday, and Dr. Floyd Allan Bash on Saturday. Special musical numbers are being prepared for each of the periods.
