Talbott Out As Air Chief

By HERBERT FOSTER
WASHINGTON — UP — A leading Republican political strategist said Tuesday the Harold E. Talbott case will not harm the GOP in the 1956 election.
Talbott resigned as Air Force secretary Monday night in the wake of a Senate investigation of the $60,000-a-year private business partnership he retained while holding his Pentagon post.
Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz.), chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said Talbott's resignation could hardly be made into a political issue because of "the absence of criminal intent" in Talbott's actions on behalf of his firm.
Sen. Kari E. Mundt (R-S.D.) said Talbott made errors in judgment and added that his resignation shows that President Eisenhower has installed a "new standard of ethics and propriety" in government.

Resignation Not Sought
Administration sources said flatly that President Eisenhower, who accepted the resignation effective Aug. 13, did not ask Talbott for it.
The White House said there had been no decision on Talbott's successor.
Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate investigating Subcommittee, said the group's inquiry into Talbott's relations with his firm had been "satisfactorily resolved."
McClellan said the subcommittee soon would consider a report — which he said should be brief and unanimous — on the Talbott case. Mundt suggested that the subcommittee act this week if it writes a report at all.
Called Right Decision
Mr. Eisenhower accepted the resignation in a letter telling Talbott he made the right decision under the circumstances. But the President told the departing secretary that there was no intimation "that your official duties have not been effectively and loyally performed."
He asked the secretary to stay on until Aug. 13 to wind up "critical programming activities" where Talbott's personal knowledge is needed.
Talbott's letter of resignation said he was quitting because "I would not want in any circumstances to wish to be a source of embarrassment to the President or his administration."
Talbott told the United Press that he had encountered "a pretty tough deal... but anyway, I'm going back to business and make myself a little dough."

Screen Actors Plan Strike Against Video

HOLLYWOOD — UP — A scheduled nationwide strike by the Screen Actors Guild against producers of television entertainment films posed a threat Tuesday to big name shows produced purely for video.
It was believed the strike, scheduled to start Friday at 12:01 a.m., could affect up to 70 per cent of the shows produced only for television.
Most producers have film backlogs, some of them with shows filmed up to 12 weeks ahead. Also, producers affected could switch to "live" shows since the strike would be only against films especially made for TV.
The guild said other industry unions, including Actors Equity, the Screen Extras Guild and American Guild of Variety Artists, have pledged full support to the walkout called Monday.
The strike will not affect production of theatrical motion pictures, filmed TV commercials or non-TV industrial and educational pictures.
John L. Dales, national executive secretary of the guild, said the strike was called because producers refused a union demand for pay to actors for the second run of films on television. Under a three-year contract which expired July 27, actors collect residual payments on the third to sixth runs of the films but not the second one.
Dales said a nationwide mail referendum of SAG members showed 4,818 voted for the walkout while only 184 voted against the strike.
The strike also could affect new filmed TV series by major film studios just getting into the field. It would not affect the showing of old movies.
Among shows currently being filmed for TV are "Make Room for Daddy," "The Loretta Young Show," "Four Star Playhouse," "Medic," "Schlitz Playhouse of Stars," "General Electric Theater," "You Are There" and "The Life of Riley."

Big Reception Planned For Freed Airmen

By WENDELL MERICK
HONG KONG — UP — The 11 U.S. airmen to be released Thursday by the Communist Chinese will start home to their families within three hours after their arrival in Hong Kong, the U.S. consulate said Tuesday.
The consulate and the U.S. Air Force liaison officer here, Lt. Col. Dwight D. Simpson, already have completed plans for receiving the men who were imprisoned in Red China on "spy" charges and freed from jail Monday.
The Air Force announced in Tokyo it was flying two transport planes to Hong Kong with three doctors, steaks, ice cream, toilet kits and "anything that might be needed by men imprisoned for a long time."
Meet Fliers at Border
Simpson will meet the fliers at the Hong Kong-China border and take them to the plush Hong Kong Jockey Club a few minutes drive from the border for baths, a drink, clean clothes and a medical examination by Air Force doctors.
Simpson said he did not have any messages or letters for the airmen yet. He said the Hong Kong government had not received any word from the British charge d'affaires in Peiping as to when the airmen may reach the border but that Peiping usually is lax in giving exact times.
Simpson has four sets of summer uniforms for each of the 11. The uniforms were sent here by the Air Force but Simpson has had alterations made to fit the precise measurements the men had when they were captured. Their shoes have been buffed to a dazzling shine.
Clothing is Starched
The newness of the suntan pants and shirts had been rubbed off and the clothing washed, starched and ironed to a crispness suitable for a parade down Broadway.
Each airman will be handed a cardboard suitcase with a card attached giving the individual's name, and if the doctors pronounce the men fit to take off for Honolulu they will leave immediately. Any others will remain at least overnight for a good rest.

China Asks Delay In Negotiations

By KENNETH MILLER
GENEVA, Switzerland — UP — Representatives of the United States and Red China Tuesday exchanged lists of civilians whose return to their homelands is sought, and China requested a one-day break in the talks to refer the U.S. request for release of 40 Americans to Peiping.
American officials, keeping tight secrecy veil over the meetings, refused to say if the discussion of civilian repatriation was concluded at Tuesday's one-hour session.
But other conference sources said Red China asked that the next meeting be over until Thursday to give the Chinese representative, Ambassador to Poland Wang Ping-tan, time to refer the American request to Peiping and receive a reply from his government.
Well-informed but unofficial Chinese sources said the two sides exchanged lists of the civilians involved under the second agenda item of the talks.
The American list, this source said, gave detailed information on 40 Americans imprisoned or otherwise detained in Red China, including nine women and 13 priests.
The Chinese, this source said, are demanding the "release" of several thousand Chinese students sent to the United States for study by the Nationalist regime of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.
American sources have said only some 450 of that number have expressed a desire to return to the China mainland and that all restrictions on their return were removed last April. The Chinese Reds have refused to believe that the students who remain in the United States don't want to return to Communist China.
A Chinese Communist spokesman said only the American and Chinese ambassadors discussed point of their agenda — the repatriation of civilians of both sides — during the meeting from 10 to 11 p.m.
Diplomatic observers have predicted quick agreement between the two embassies since the United States regards the move to free the civilians an acid test of Communist good intentions to clear up Far Eastern conflicts.
Previous talks on the subject have been slow because each of the 40 Americans involved has been handled individually, making for hours of discussion.

RODEO FEVER BRINGING 'SIX GUNS' OUT IN PAMPA

With the Top o' Texas Rodeo underway, some folks are getting the wild west spirit, perhaps a bit too much.
Two were charged in County Court this morning with unlawfully carrying fire arms.
Elmer Johnson of Amarillo was fined $100 and costs for carrying a .38 calibre automatic pistol. He pleaded guilty.
Mrs. Credell Shannon was charged with unlawfully carrying a pistol. She pleaded not guilty and has posted $500 bond.

High School PA System Approved

Approval was made for a public address and intercommunication system for Pampa High School by the school board of directors at a called meeting yesterday at 5 p.m. in the business office of the City Hall.
Preliminary plans for a proposed 18-room elementary, 24-room junior high school, and an 8-room addition to Lamar Elementary school were discussed with B. R. Cantrell, architect, who will render an estimate of costs by Sept. 15.
Cantrell recommended the 16-acre site on 23rd St. and east of the Perryton highway as an elementary plot, but a decision was postponed by the board until later.
Title is expected to clear by Sept. 1 on a 15-acre site, to be purchased from Hughes Development Co., situated west of the Top o' Texas Drive-In Theatre and to be used either as an elementary or junior high school location.
Jack Edmondson, principal of Pampa High School, presented the bid of an RCA factory representative proposing the installation of 40 speakers in the high school class rooms, cafeteria and field house — which was unanimously approved. A two-channel console with a master control to be situated in the office will make it possible for the classes, and teachers to speak with the office.
Wires are pulled and technically the high school is equipped to take care of the address system. Class rooms will have eight-inch speakers installed, two 12-inch speakers will equip the cafeteria, and 12-inch wood baffle high fidelity speakers will be located in the auditorium.
A portable amplifier booster with plug-in microphone will be used in the auditorium and various rooms. The console will be equipped with a three speed phonograph, radio, switches for each room, and a master switch.
A survey of new school buildings in this area will be taken by board members next week to get ideas on design for the new junior high school.
The installation of two 10-gallon electric water-coolers for drinking fountains to be used in the temporary class room building on Brown St. was approved. Consideration was given to four bids, and the low bid of Paul Crossman was accepted.

Pampa News Staff Writer

Pampa Quits River Water Authority

Pampa's city commission, in a lengthy meeting this morning, passed and approved a resolution to withdraw Pampa from the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.
The group, after a considerable amount of discussion on the subject, decided that it would be best all the way around for Pampa to get out of the authority at this time.
This move followed a decision by the city of Amarillo recently, to withdraw. It is not known how the withdrawal of the two Pampa handle cities will affect the authority.
In other action the group heard the first, second and third readings and approved an amendment to Ordinance No. 277, Section 9, to permit the construction of buildings with 10-inch cavity walls in the downtown district.
They also renewed and approved a request by radio station KPDM for a lease renewal of the station transmitter.
In other action the group heard a report on the status of the paving being done on E. Browning and discussed a Highway 70 drainage report submitted by Wayland Merriman.

McCarthy Hits Ike For Geneva Stand

WASHINGTON — UP — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy ripped into President Eisenhower in a blistering Senate speech Monday and charged the President with advancing "the cause of tyranny and murder" at Geneva.
In his bitterest attack on the President in two and a half years of warfare with the White House, the Wisconsin Republican said he would "go to the people" to tell them how the President plans a "sell-out" of Nationalist China.
McCarthy criticized Mr. Eisenhower for offering Soviet leaders his friendship at the recent Big Four summit meeting at a time when almost every other senator was praising the President for apparently causing of East-West tensions.
McCarthy, who launched a similar attack on the Democrats and their foreign policy five years ago, said he plans to give the American people "the facts."
"It may be too late," he said, "but insofar as my abilities and endurance permit, I shall see to it that this country does not die without the people of the country being given a chance to see it."

Nationalists To Quit UN If Reds Join

TAIPEI, Formosa — UP — The official Central Daily News said Tuesday Nationalist China would withdraw from the United Nations if Red China "shoots" her way into the international organization.
The declaration by the newspaper, which reflects the Nationalist official viewpoint, came as the Nationalist press berated the United States for meeting representatives of Red China at Geneva.
"The day the Chinese Communists shoot their way into the United Nations we shall withdraw from the world body within the hour," the Central Daily News said in an editorial. "We shall never co-exist with them."
"If it did happen it would not only be a loss for the Republic of China but also a serious blow, both moral and spiritual, to the United States, the leader of the democratic world."
The bitter editorial came shortly after Foreign Minister George Yeh said in a prepared statement he hoped the release of American civilians still held by the Communists "would not be made a subject of political bargaining."

Dulles Says Reds Must OK Truce

WASHINGTON — UP — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said Tuesday that Red China must make a cease fire pledge and renounce use of force or there at most surely will be a war in the Far East.
Dulles told a news conference that use of force in the Formosa region would bring into play the mutual defense treaty between the United States and Nationalist China.
In urging Red China to avoid what he called the considerable danger of war, Dulles at the same time expressed pleasure that Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai has indicated willingness to go farther than before in renouncing the use of force.
Dulles said that Chou's statement last Saturday — if sincere — together with release of American civilian prisoners — if attained — and the happy news of the release of 11 U.S. fliers could mark the beginning of a new phase of Communist China's relations with the rest of the world.
But Dulles reminded that "one swallow doesn't make a spring."

JIM CRACKS

By JIM DEAN

Jimmy Foster writes a page one column in the weekly newspaper up in Higgins (The Higgins News) called Jimmy Jams.

THE POET'S NOOK

Last week's puzzle in poetry must have been a bit more difficult to read, and I am going to take the liberty of lifting a few of them for this column today.

They will be sprinkled through the column, and rather than give to credit each time, just remember that they came from Foster's column.

First though, I want to quote one longer item from the Higgins column, which appears to be a rather unique idea, and I will be curious to know how it works out.

"We are giving away that sweet stuff - sugar. In an effort to gain some new subscribers to The Higgins News we are giving away absolutely free to pounds of sugar with each NEW subscription. This offer is good only in Lipscomb and adjoining counties..."

WELL, I AM at last beginning to feel like a true Pampa... there are more places for me to be tonight than I can make, and that's one of the first things I noticed about Pampa.

Tonight I wanted very much to attend that organizational meeting of the Pampa Chess Club. You will find a story about it also, where in today's News. But at 7:30 when the chess club meeting is scheduled, I have to attend a meeting at the Elks Lodge.

Then, at 8 p.m. when I had hoped to be able to take in the "Kid Pony Show" I find I must go to Radio Station KPDN for the arrival of Hollywood singing star Jimmy Wakely and The Circle Arrow Boys, the music group from Amarillo which will provide the musical entertainment during the Top of Texas Rodeo.

This is by way of commenting that Pampa is proving more and more to be a city in which a heck of a lot of activity is going on all the time.

THIS BRINGS us back to the chess club which I certainly hope will become organized tonight. Chess is a fine game and a chess club of members with varying degrees of ability can prove to be quite entertaining and educational.

The chess club in Houston had a standing slogan or promise to all comers.

"In this club, you will find someone you can beat and someone who can beat you."

That, of course, is the ideal situation for a chess club, and Pampa's club should be no exception. If the club is organized in time, Pampa will stand a good chance of getting the Panhandle tournament this fall. The tournament was won last year by Dr. A. J. Walker, and it would be fitting if the champ could play his year in his own back yard.

Dr. Walker is 79 - his grandson, Joe, is also a chess player and he is only seven. Joe's father, Tony, is also a chess fan, so the Walkers will certainly help the club get started.

IT WAS JACK SCOTT, Hilbilly Disc Jockey at KPDN, who called me at home about 9 p.m. yesterday to tell me of Jimmy Wakely's scheduled appearance tomorrow night at the station. In addition to that bit of news, I am also indebted to Jack for a lot of information on how songs are marketed.

The conversation got around, in no time at all, to "In No Time At All," the song of mine which KPDN is trying its best to make a hit.

Coy Palmer told me that he would have to have about 50 requests for records before he could have a first class record made and pressed for volume sales.

I told him I didn't have that many relatives, but he hasn't given up.

But one of the things Jack Scott told me was that Smiley Burnett, who one year was the featured star entertainer for the Top of Texas Rodeo, had written several popular songs.

One of them, Jack said, was sold to Gene Autry for the magnificent sum of $5,000. Smiley was hungry, he explained.

The name of the song: "It's My Lazy Day."

At no time is freedom of speech more important than when a man hits his thumb with a hammer.

Six Missing In Gulf Of Mexico

GALVESTON, Tex. - UP - Six Galveston residents, four of them veterans of many surf-seining expeditions along Bolivar Peninsula, were reported missing in the Gulf of Mexico Monday.

Relatives who set out to search at dawn Monday said they found no trace of the missing fishermen or of their 16-foot skiff. The Coast Guard sent out a 40-foot rescue boat and a helicopter from Edington Air Force Base joined the search shortly before noon.

The Sealy brothers are sons of Mrs. Albert Sealy who operates a fish market in Galveston. The family sails for fish regularly in the surf, usually along Bolivar Peninsula.

The fishing party set out Sunday at 10 a.m. and was due back at midnight. Relatives combed the Bolivar beach nearly to Port Arthur Monday before notifying the Coast Guard.

Art Classes Close Work

Dord Fitz' three local art classes concluded their summer work in water colors and portrait painting last Monday.

Afternoon and night classes will resume during the second week of September in wood sculpture and beginning and advanced painting. At the same time an exhibit of paintings by Charly Bunnell of Colorado Springs is slated at Lovett Memorial Library to open Sept. 12. Fitz plans an exhibit of local student works this fall and a graphic arts show by outstanding American artists.

Commenting on the progress of local students, Fitz said, "They've made a great deal of progress that's very satisfying. We've had a lot of nice things done in portrait and water color, too.

After finishing preliminary drawings of facial planes, most of the painters did self portraits treated in a realistic style. The water color class sketched old houses and buildings, paying particular attention to perspective and horizontal and vertical planes, completing the landscapes from drawings.

Agree On Housing Bill

WASHINGTON — UP — Senate House conferees Monday agreed on a compromise housing bill providing for construction of 45,000 new public housing units in the coming year.

The compromise housing bill — one of the last major bills still to be acted upon by Congress — now returns to the Senate and House for final approval.

Although the Senate originally approved a much larger public housing program, it seemed certain to adopt the compromise bill.

But a fight may develop in the House, which originally passed a bill with no public housing provision.

The Senate House conferees had the public housing section of the legislation which would also carry on authority for other government housing programs such as mortgage insurance.

Law Won Anyway

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — UP — The city lost a $1 bet because a rookie policeman picked the wrong horse. Police, using the rookie as a decoy, raided a handbook and arrested a bartender who took the bet. The raid netted $105, scratch sheets and racing forms. But the rookie cop's horse ran out of the money.

Easy Work

Old Home Week

WILLIMANTIC, Conn. — UP — When Marcel St. Denis of Fall River, Mass., stopped to ask directions of Policeman Edmund Haddad they realized they were Army buddies who hadn't seen each other since 1943.

"LANDLUBBER" WITH "SEA LEGS"

It looks like an ordinary plane flying in the air, top photo, but what a surprise when it comes in for a landing, bottom photo! For the plane is the first to be equipped with retractable water skis which are equipped with wheels for land operation also. Designed by All American Engineering Co., the retractable "hydro-lift" gear weighs less than 100 pounds and slows the plane down by only two knots, the manufacturer claims. Dean Martin-Jerry Lewis May Call It Quits Soon

by ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD —UP—Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis are negotiating with NBC-TV and Paramount Tuesday to split up the famous team, and friends believe that within 10 days they'll decide whether to break up or make up.

Whether the curly-haired singer and rubber-faced comedian will "divorce" nearly has pushed the eternal question of Debbie and Eddie out of Hollywood conversation. Dean and Jerry's long-smouldering differences erupted three months ago when Jerry went to New Jersey for a premiere of their latest picture and Dean stayed home. At the time Martin insisted "we will work together next fall because we have contracts." But after Jerry returned to Hollywood the two separately approached Paramount and NBC, through lawyers and agents, to try to get out of the contracts. The employers are trying to reconcile the team, friends say, "and it's a matter of delicate negotiations with everybody making different offers and counter-offers. Right now Dean and Jerry both want to break up."

The boys are not due to work together until their first TV show in September. But their associates feel "this quarrel will be settled one way or another within the next 10 days."

They'll Do It Every Time

"I think they're still torching for each other and may fall back into each other's arms any minute," one associate of the team said. "It's like a marriage. A couple tried a trial separation, and winds up back together."

Hollywood experts at first chorused Martin and Lewis were great as a team but divided would fall. However, since their separation both have been pressed with offers for single performances.

Save Teacher From Drowning

DALLAS—UP—A Houston school teacher was saved from drowning Monday by an oil firm salesman from Plainview, who pulled her from nearly 10 feet of water and revived her by artificial respiration.

The woman, Mrs. W. S. Degarmore, is a single.

Their Paramount contract was one of the most lucrative in show business—$5 million for the next five years at one picture a year. They also hold deals with producer Hal Wallis and with NBC-TV.

more, was pulled from the pool at the Alamo Plaza motel by J. L. Shea, 45, a salesman from Plainview for Phillips Petroleum Co.

Shea, who is staying at the hotel with his wife and two children, said he took his boys, 5 and 7, to the pool, but didn't go in himself. Mrs. Degarmore was in the pool, and suddenly went under.

Shea dived in and pulled her from nine and one-half feet of water and revived her by artificial respiration in about 10 minutes.

Mrs. Degarmore, whose husband is a representative for a Houston stove firm, had accompanied him to Dallas on a business trip, she said.

Board Approves 20-Year Term For Cpl. Batchelor

WASHINGTON—UP—An Army judge advocate's review board Monday approved a 20-year prison sentence for former Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor, the Kermit, Tex., GI who chose to remain with the Communists and then changed his mind.

Batchelor, 22, was convicted last September on charges of disloyalty to the United States and collaborating with the Communists while a prisoner of war in Korea.

Batchelor was sentenced to life imprisonment after his court martial trial at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. But on Oct. 28, 1954, Gen. L. D. White, then commanding general of the Fourth Army, approved the findings, reduced the sentence from life to 20 years' imprisonment.

Retired Automatically

The case then was referred automatically to the office of the Army judge advocate general where a board of review consisting of three colonels held a hearing on July 9. The board found the guilty verdict and the sentence, as approved by White, to be correct and affirmed them.

Batchelor has one more chance of appeal.

Within 20 days after he or his attorney receives the decision of the review board, he may appeal to the military court of appeals whose decision would be final.

The court of appeals could either grant a request for hearings and review the case or it could deny the right to appeal.

Lt. Erwin To Be Tried Tomorrow

FORT LEWIS, Wash.—UP—First Lt. Jefferson D. Erwin of Blanchard, Okla., accused of making disloyal statements and aiding the enemy while a prisoner of war in North Korea, will go on trial here Tuesday.

The military court is expected to hear testimony from nearly 80 witnesses summoned from several sections of the United States. The trial of the 37-year-old soldier, who received a battlefield commission in Korea in 1950, is expected to take at least two weeks.

Erwin enlisted in the Army in 1938. He was captured in North Korea during late 1950 and was released Sept. 4, 1953 in operation "Big Switch."

Erwin is married and has four children. He said he is prepared to prove his innocence.

First Lt. Ray M. Dunlap, University of Washington graduate and assistant staff judge advocate for the Second Infantry Division, will defend Erwin.

disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

He was the third American to be convicted of collaborating with the Communists while a prisoner of war in Korea. Cpl. Edward Dickenson of Cracker Neck, Va., died a 10-year sentence. Lt. Col. Harry Fleming, tried at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., was ousted from the service and forfeited all pay and allowances.

Batchelor, a prisoner for 38 months, was accused by the Army of plotting with the Communists to set up an organization in the United States to promote communism, giving the Communist information about fellow American prisoners and unlawfully participating in a "trial" of an American POW and recommending that the other American be shot.

Chess Club Organization Meeting Set

An organizational meeting of the Pampa Chess Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the basement of the City Hall to set plans and a meeting time.

The club is being organized to provide a meeting place for players and to teach newcomers. Men and women of all ages, who are interested in chess, are invited to attend the first meeting.

Players will range in age from seven-year-old, Joe Welker, to Dr. A. J. Welker, 79. No dues will be charged for membership in the non-profit organization. Dr. Welker is the defending chess champion of last year's Panhandle tourney.

Pampa has a good possibility of becoming the site for the Panhandle Championship Tourney in 1956 provided the club is organized this week.

Bomb US Cars In Saigon

SAIGON—UP—Terrorists blew up two American cars parked in front of the United States Information Service building in central Saigon Sunday night, authorities announced Monday.

The two cars were empty when the powerful charge planted under them exploded.

The bombing came 48 hours after an unsuccessful terrorist attempt to blow up three American cars last Friday night parked outside the city's Chinese suburb of Cholon.

Will Support U.S. Satellite

MOSCOW—UP—Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev said Monday Russia will support America's project to shoot an artificial earth satellite into space if it is "in the interest of humanity."

Khrushchev was asked for his views on the American space satellite plan by a newspaper correspondent at a Swiss embassy reception.

"If it is in the interest of humanity we will never refuse either our aid or our cooperation," the party secretary replied.

"But," he went on, "it is difficult for me to discuss this question although I have heard about it."

I have not yet read the text of the American announcement, and I am not an expert in this field," Khrushchev talked readily to correspondents at the reception marking Switzerland's national day.

He expressed optimism about the prospects of the Communist Chinese - United States ambassadorial talks which opened Monday in Geneva.

"I am not prepared to reply to this question, but I think I can say that China wants positive results," he told a newsmen who asked him about the meeting.

"If the United States also desires this the outcome cannot be negative. The problems are clear and they can be settled," he continued.

To Start Filling Big Pipeline

TULSA—UP—Okan Pipeline Co. Thursday will begin filling the first natural gas products pipeline from southwestern Kansas to Tulsa. President Ernest A. Slade said Monday.

Okan, a subsidiary of Warren Petroleum Corp., built the 353-mile line to serve as a common carrier for natural gasoline products from gas produced in the Hugoton field of Kansas.

Slade said construction of the line will be completed by Thursday. Gas purging has begun. The line will be filled with natural gas products by about Aug. 25, he said.

The line will lead to Tulsa refining areas. Designed for an initial capacity of 10,000 barrels a day, the line ultimately will carry 20,000 barrels per day when additional stations are built.

Girl Dies In Leap From Car

REDDING, Calif.—UP—Jan Daniela, 19, Stringtown, Okla., died of a fractured skull and broken back and neck Sunday when she tried to leap from a car running out of control near Burney, Calif.

The car, driven by James K. Stark, 54, Modesto, Calif., uncle of the victim, went out of control on a curve on U.S. 299E and rolled 100 feet down an embankment. Stark and his son, John, 12, stayed with the car and were not seriously hurt.

The girl's body will be taken to Atoka, Okla., for burial. She is survived by her son, Delmar Joe Woods, 3, and her mother, Mrs. Ruby Daniels of Stringtown.

Hunt Uranium In Old Mine

LANE PERRY, Tex.—UP—Miners began digging Monday in an old gold mine shaft where two uranium prospectors found radioactive ore.

Lane Perry, an old crossroads, is about five miles northeast of Cleburne. A 30-foot shaft was sunk there 70 years ago in search of gold, but abandoned as unproductive.

The mine is in a 31-acre pasture which belongs to Mrs. W. J. Mudge, a Cleburne widow. She and a niece who lives in Dallas tested the shaft with a Geiger counter and got a reaction.

She wrote to John G. McGarr, a uranium prospector who lives in San Antonio, and he tested the rocks, getting a higher radioactive indication than Mrs. Mudge.

McGarr and Wallace Cook, an associate, hired a Cleburne contracting firm to dig into the shaft.

McGarr wouldn't say specifically what the ore tested, but he said it was "far higher" than the earth on the farm of Jesse Reese, near Comanche, where thousands of sick persons have come, believing the radioactivity will help them.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read Job 36:2-33

Light comes from above. The story is told of a scientist who was showing some guests about his laboratory one afternoon, when someone commented on the fact that there were no windows in the room. With that the scientist stepped to one side, pulled a lever, and opened a series of skylights. "In this laboratory," he said, "we get our light from above."

The parable is plain. The illumination that comes to the human mind in the hours of great intellectual activity cannot be explained on either a mental or physical basis. Great poets, artists, and musicians, to say nothing of great orators, all confess that many of their greatest inspirations come from sources unknown to them.

The first psychologist who stumbled upon the evidences of the subconscious mind upset all our previous theories of "mental science" and opened the doors so that now we deal with a whole new array of facts. The greater things yet to come are nothing less than amazing.

Not only the achievements of giant minds, but even the labors of the minds of ordinary men, call for explanations. Consider, for example, what a mighty experience it is to comprehend a group of related facts, interpret their collective meaning, and watch them settle into their proper order. What a thrill is introduced into life when, after puzzling for long hours over the unknown, we suddenly exclaim: "I see, I see!" There are few of us who cannot testify to the experience of having light break in upon us from some unknown source, and relieve our anxiety and restore order in the midst of confusion.

O God, thou art trying to make something worth while out of me, and I must help thee. As quickly as I am sure that anything is true or right I will do it, regardless of the pain or the sacrifice that may be entailed, for in the long run thy way is sure to prevail, Amen.

Go back over the last few days and try to recall your most exalted moment. Of what did it consist? Why did you feel so calm and strong? Was it not because you had made something right, or had taken a firm position against something wrong?

Gestapo Mind

A little item in the paper last week about the request of the Federal Bureau of Prisons for $10,000,000 to build a new establishment of confinement called to mind through logical association the fact that the public should start becoming concerned over what seems to be manifestations of the Gestapo mind in Government.

This is particularly true in the use of police power to retaliate against persons who have dared to oppose the Government. A shocking case in point is that of the flying Finn twins — today languishing in a federal prison for mental cases and degenerates. The Finns' crime was attempting the civil arrest of a federal district attorney who was involved in Government efforts to recover a surplus plane which the young veterans had purchased.

The Finns' punishment certainly doesn't fit the "crime." They were sentenced to a year in prison where they could be "taught a trade and receive psychiatric treatment." Consider: Both men have degrees in psychology. George had three and one-half years of medicine, Charles two years. George served eight years as an Air Force flight instructor. Charles flew 68 combat missions as a bomber pilot, was highly decorated. Both flew in the dramatic Berlin air lift. These are the men a federal judge thinks should be taught a trade.

It might be more appropriate for some in Government to be taught their trade better. If justice has indeed been done in the case of the twins, then officials should lift the iron curtain of secrecy surrounding the Finns' imprisonment and treatment. If, as it would seem, justice has instead been tortured in retaliation against citizens who dared to defend their rights, then the public has a right to demand an accounting.

Two-Cent Tempest

The advocates of government control of industry sometimes act like a bunch of little Merlins, conjuring up black clouds of doom and gloom, then offering the public a sure-fire smog dispellant called Federal Regulation.

Their latest performance is in the highly competitive natural gas field. Congress is considering a law that would remove the producers of natural gas from price regulation by the Federal Power Commission. This FPC regulatory power was established only in 1954 by a Supreme Court decision, after years — including even World War II — during which the FPC itself refused to touch natural gas well-head prices. Yet opponents of the pending legislation warn that if controls are removed, the consumer will be gouged.

Samuel B. Pettengill, a former Congressman and now an attorney for the Pure-Oil company, effectively scotched that claim recently when he told the Chicago Bar association that the natural gas producer gets only 10 per cent of the retail price of gas — or about 2 cents a day from each consumer. Obviously, the current hullabaloo is just a political tempest in a teapot — a 2-cent tempest at that.

THE NATION'S PRESS

THE LEGION AND UNESCO

(The Los Angeles Examiner) Use of one-world propaganda by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization as texts in American schools, has been resoundingly condemned by the California American Legion.

A resolution to that effect was adopted at the 37th annual State Legion convention at San Diego. This action clarifies a point that one-world zealots persistently obscure in controversies over UNESCO — but which bears repeating again and again.

It is proper that our children should be taught the facts about the United Nations.

They should know about it as an important phase of present-day relations between nations.

But it is quite another thing to subject them to sly and plausible propaganda calculated to destroy faith, pride and confidence in American ideals and institutions.

That is exactly what UNESCO propaganda attempts to do. Professional one-worlders want UNESCO materials to be approved as educational texts because they ridicule, belittle and condemn loyalty and love for one's country.

True Americans will have no part of this. But they want their children to know that the United Nations exists, how it operates and what are its aims.

The question is no more "shall UNESCO be taught?" than it is "shall any kind of political propaganda be taught?"

Propagandizing is not the function of education.

The vital function of education is instead to instill in our children an unquenchable patriotism expressed through loyal and creative citizenship.

And never to imperil their allegiance to the nation by exposing them to propaganda attacking patriotism.

The California Legion's resolution has again made the issue clear.

The veterans deserve strong commendation for reaffirming their uncompromising opposition to UNESCO's designs against American education.

BETTER JOBS

American Farmers Bad Example To Soviet Farmers

News columns are reporting how a dozen Russian farm officials are touring Iowa corn fields with the idea of better understanding how to develop agricultural methods. There are also a dozen "farmers," from the U. S. probably on the taxpayers' payroll, touring Russia to learn what they can from Russian agricultural methods.

It is too bad that this didn't happen 50 or 75 years ago before the American farmers became so collectivistic.

The Wall Street Journal has an article pointing out how the farmers in the United States have become more and more like the Russian farmers as far as government control over their farms is concerned. Winston C. Fournier in a signed article in the Journal puts it this way:

"Drive out to some of the farms here in Story County, chat with the farmers, and the degree of government participation in agriculture soon becomes apparent. The government is the buyer of much of the crops. It tells most farmers how many acres of corn they can plant, and inspectors come around to measure each corn field to make sure the farmer doesn't plant an acre more.

The government is also in the business of insuring farmers' crops, of planning and partly financing soil conservation programs, of lending money to farmers so they can buy chickens or cows or combines, and of planning the farm management and even the household budgets of those who take out the loans.

"Three miles west of here on U. S. highway 30 a well-kept gravel road branches off to the south and leads to the neat 300-acre farm of Stephen A. Brooks, a successful corn-hog-cattle farmer. The government has told him he has a corn-growing quota of 120 acres this year. In addition, he has 14 acres of soybeans, 60 acres in oats and the rest in hay and pasture. He has a herd of 30 purebred Angus cows and he fattens for market each year 75 to 150 head of beef cattle and 200 hogs.

"In return for a price guarantee from the government, backed up by an offer to buy up his corn crop, Mr. Brooks and about 65 per cent of the other farmers in Story County agree to let the government tell them how many acres of the grain they can plant.

"Oddly enough, Mr. Brooks, a genial gray-haired grandfather, would normally have relatively little direct interest in the price of corn. Like many Iowa farmers, he would normally feed all the corn he raises to his hogs. The corn belt economy, which the Russians have come to study, is based on farmers using their corn as a raw material and selling the finished product it helps to create, the fattened hog.

"But a new twist is appearing in the corn belt economy now on the scene. Farmer Brooks and some other Iowans are finding there's sometimes a neat profit to be turned in selling their corn to the government."

Then the article goes ahead and relates if the farmer takes a government loan of $1.50 a bushel and the price goes up, he can recover the loan. If it goes down 12 or 15 cents a bushel, he lets the government keep the corn and he buys what corn he needs to feed his cattle and hogs and makes a profit of about $3,500.

In order to be sure to make this extra profit that everyone else pays for, Mr. Brooks is quoted as saying:

"In fact, we're planning to build more storage space for our corn this summer so we can do just that if we want to."

Then Mr. Fournier writes: "And if Mr. Brooks chose the government would even help him build this storage capacity by lending him up to 80 per cent of the cost of it on a four-year 4 per cent loan."

Then the article explains that if any farmer should plant more than his allotment, the farmer has to plow up the excess or stay out of the price support program.

Remember the Republicans used to complain about Wallace advocating plowing under every third row of corn. Now they are having farmers plow up acreage by bribing them in a different way.

The article kind of softens up by saying "Russian meddling produces scarcities. The American produces gluts." It produces gluts in certain things but scarcities in other things. Both Russian and American meddling keeps down the standard of living. It doesn't make any difference whether it is called communism or parity prices.

Urges Agriculture To Up Farmer-Consumer Relations

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The Russian farmer's merry adventures in their current visit to the corn-wheat belt have quipped Capitol Hill interest in Representative Harold D. Cooley's proposal for fostering better relations between urban consumers and producers of food. He thinks that millions of nonfarm Americans are as ignorant of agriculture's problems and achievements as the Communist tourists.

As Chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, the North Carolina member proposes that farmers set up a nationwide public relations bureau, operating through the press, magazines, radio, television, schools, business and industry. In his opinion, individual farmers, farm organizations and industries selling to farmers should — and he thinks they would — finance the organization.

Dealing only in factual material and eschewing political action, he suggests that the press agents sell the nation on the importance of agriculture's contribution to the national economy as producer and purchaser. It was American farmers' heavy ownership of equipment and machinery, with the consequent release of human hands, which most amazed the Russians.

Taking a cue from the Red experts' trip, Cooley urges that editors of urban newspapers be taken on periodical visits through the farm states — cotton and tobacco areas of the South, the corn-wheat belt, the fruit and vegetable areas of Florida, Texas and the Far West.

Another Cooley idea is to enroll city school children in farm summer schools on a scholarship basis. More courses on agriculture's problems, he thinks, should be given in grade and high schools and universities. He also believes that agriculture and related industries should spend more money on institutional advertising, as business and industry do.

In emphasizing the need for a new and more articulate Voice of Agriculture, Cooley notes a curious incident which he declares to be typical of general misunderstanding and neglect of the farmer, to wit:

At the same time that Secretary Ezra Taft Benson was testifying on behalf of lower farm support prices, Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell was urging an increase in the minimum hourly wage level. Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks was seeking action and legislation to benefit business and industry. But nobody, Cooley says,

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Although the danger of being bitten by a poisonous snake is slight in many parts of the world, the taking of "snake bite medicine" is common enough.

There are many strange things about snakes. Some time ago the question was raised as to whether a snake bite increased the intelligence. The point was raised, I think, by someone in a circus who purposely allowed himself to be bitten several times.

This would seem to offer pretty good evidence that the intelligence was not greatly improved by snake bite.

All joking aside, there are some rather important things to know about snakes.

OUR KNOWLEDGE of this field so far as snake bite is concerned has been greatly increased by the publication in 1954 of a monumental study under the auspices of the World Health Organization.

Among other things this report pointed out that some 2500 varieties of snakes are recognized but that fewer than 200 are dangerous to human beings. Few poisonous snakes appear in Canada. Pit vipers including the true rattlesnake, the pigmy rattler, the copperhead, the cottonmouth and the venomous coral snake appear in the United States.

The cottonmouth, (or water moccasin), the prairie rattler and diamondback rattler are responsible for nearly all of the deaths from snake bite in the United States. On the average, 56 deaths occur each year in the United States from venomous animals, but this includes insects and other poisonous wildlife.

THE HIGHEST mortality rate from snake bite appears to be in Burma where there are over 2000 deaths per year from this cause.

Pegler Says Hand-Shaking Might Help US-Red Meets

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

GENEVA — The negotiations between our side and the Red Chinese over the release of 52 more Americans, some in jails, others in their own homes, go upstage when our Ambassador to Czechoslovakia meets their Ambassador to Poland in a rented room at the Geneva Palace of the United Nations.

The Chinese Reds are not members of the club, but the Americans are. Therefore, our man, U. Alexis Johnson, will rent the room. The little realities of these parleys between professionals are quite homely by contrast with the ruffles and flourishes, the protocol and incense of the grand rites of the heads of state. The pros are about as passionate over their work as a railway ticket clerk.

Hert in Geneva, Franklin Crosbie Gowan, our Consul-General, has held many trading sessions with the Red Chinese Consul. By now they know one another quite well and Mr. Gowan has been able to pry loose 20 civilians and four airmen by his own efforts.

The decision of the State Department to kick the business upstairs to the level of the Ambassadors who in our case personally represent the President and in others the King or Dictator, indicates that we are wearying of our commitment to maintain Chiang Kai-Shek and ignore Chou En-Lai, the Bolshevik Chinese Premier.

The British and the French have deserted us. For that matter, the Roosevelt-Tuman regime deserted and doublecrossed Chiang so thoroughly so long ago that there is nothing left of our pretense that the Communists on the mainland are just a lot of night-riding barn burners with no standing in the situation.

It is unpleasant so to admit, but we have taken a licking all the way from the German Demarcation to the Straits of Formosa. We have no allies in the effort to repudiate the policy of Henry Wallace, George Marshall and our many American Communists toward Chiang and Chou.

The routine of relations between Mr. Gowan and the Chinese Consul, his opposite number in Geneva, is simple even unto quaintness. The State Department telephones Mr. Gowan and he phones the Chinese and says, "My government instructs me to discuss such and so with you."

The Chinese looks at his date book and says, "Okay, how about 2 p.m. next Tuesday, same place."

Mr. Gowan tells the Consul that he's got a date, so at 2 o'clock Tuesday they come together in a room at the Hotel Beau Rivage on the Lake Front which costs 20 francs, or five dollars, for the afternoon.

When they meet, they shake hands. When it is over, they shake hands again, go downstairs and split the bill, 10 francs each in currency, at cashier's desk. This is a strict rule. Thus neither side is under any obligations.

Mr. Gowan was born in Italy of American parents, educated in Europe and trained in his profession by practical experience. Beginning in 1920, when he was only 25, he has spent most of his time in European posts and knows how to count his change in any language. He is stockily built, pinkly florid and silvered over on top. He wears a blue serge outfit, which the boys on the stoop of St. Malachy's would call a David Harum Confirmation Suit.

He has been very successful, especially for a Consul General in a traffic which resembles the David Harum haggling of baseball traders at their winter meetings.

Therefore, as I say, the decision to refer this business to Ambassadors indicates an approach to similar truck eventually between the and Chou. After all, if he could shake the hand of V. M. Molotov it is hard to see what compunction could set against any member of the human race.

Mussolini, Ciano, Starache, Hitler, Ribbentrop and Goebbels were so noisy that they put the old professionals off balance. They gained the psychological advantage both in the meetings and in the publicity. The Muscovites also took the play away from us and the British in the long and bitter wrangles starting with Potemkin.

So it is natural to inquire whether these parleys with the Chinese are done in good manners or catch-as-catch-can.

It turns out that Mr. Gowan and the Chinese Consul are both unemotional operators. So they mind their manners, talk business, get it over and shake hands in parting. Probably Mr. Johnson, another old pro with much experience in the Orient, and Chou's man from Poland will do about the same.

However, this time we pay the room rent because they are meeting in the Palace of the United Nations and Chou hasn't yet made the grade socially. We're not only a charter member and a founding father but the patsy who picks up most of the tabs.

The room rent probably won't come to more than 10 bucks a day or so. Even if the parley runs into extra innings, our house account will add nothing perceptible to our income tax.

By HENRY McLEMORE

Mary McLemore is on her way to Utah. When she gets there she is not going to make an attempt for the world land speed record on Bonneville Flats nor is she going to try to float underwater across the Great Salt Lake.

The moment my wife steps off the train in Logan, Utah, she is going to make a beeline for the home of Mrs. Maxine Loyd and ask Mrs. Loyd to give her cooking lessons. Mrs. Loyd is . . . well, let me quote you a United Press Dispatch of a few days ago. It will explain all.

"Logan, Utah — Pretty 23-year-old Mrs. Maxine Loyd said today it is easy, although you have to plan carefully, to cook meals costing an average of only 20 cents each. Mrs. Loyd then went on to say that she and her husband ate well during a three-week study for the Utah Extension Service."

The moment I read this I started packing for Mary. Off to Logan for her. Fortunately, the laundry had come back the day before so she went with a nice wardrobe. Two formal evening aprons, a sequin pot holder or two, a print dress suitable for waxing floors or polishing silver, and a morning cotton suitable for running across the street to buy a pound of bacon.

When I handed Mary her ticket for Utah she fussed a little, but when I explained the purpose of her mission and told her how the trip would mean money in the bank for us, she was eager to go. Every day, when she comes back from Utah, we will be able to bank ninety cents. A hundred years from now, with compound interest, we'll be as rich as thieves. Not only that, but I'll look like Mr. Lloyd who just has to be the thinnest man in Logan, Utah. My mind's picture of him is a hattrack with a hat on. A skeleton wearing garters.

Soon after Mary left I went to the market across the street and bought sixty cents worth of groceries. Three meals by Mrs. Loyd's standards. For my sixty cents I got a can of tomatoes, one onion and four single-and-serves rolls.

I had the onion for breakfast. Nothing teases the morning appetite like a cold sliced onion. The aroma fills the whole house. It is far and away better than coffee, eggs, ham, pancakes and bacon.

You can't beat a can of tomatoes for lunch. That goes double when you garnish them with a bit of fringe torn off a living room lamp.

Then comes dinner. Four rolls all-for yourself! You smack your lips as you read the instructions. Preheat oven at 400 degrees. Reduce heat to 325 degrees. Remove when steamed. Eat while hot. Say grace and tear in.

You just can't beat malnutrition as a way of saving money!

The combination of Federal, State and local taxes now takes more than 27 percent of the total national income — more than $1 out of every $4 earned, according to the report made recently by the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

In other words, all of us work, on the average, more than three months out of every year for the government — not ourselves.

Or, to put it another way, if we work an 8-hour day, we work more than two hours every day for the government.

And even that doesn't meet all the government's demands on us. Government debt is still being piled higher and higher.

WHEN THE SUMMER is half over, a woman's fancy turns to thoughts of a fall wardrobe. Such a strange thing this fashion is, because often when we are thinking of fall clothes, our summer wardrobes need some fill-ins.

THE NEW TRANSITION—The color story starts with the leather shoes and accessories—being featured in leading stores—are tailored to meet that dilemma. They look fine with the current dark summer cottons and silks—and they will look just as well with the new Fall clothes.

Accessories are playing a larger part than ever before in Summer wardrobes, and this will continue through Autumn. Simple elegance is the order of the day in apparel—and accessories accent the ensemble.

One important tip to keep in mind is that you can be dark and light at the same time. The colors are dark, the weights are light. In choosing your "transition" shoes, one of the most important leathers is suede. Pitch black suede silhouettes span every event from July's dark city cottons to October's first tweeds.

You'll find suede leather is seamless throstline sheaths, closed and cut low all around the foot and set upon high heels on flexible lightweight leather soles, with mid heels and tucked vamp halters, with closed heels and bare toes, in pleated fluid-line slings with mid or high heels.

The new matte calf in closed pumps has a dull luster that is equally entrancing for Summer or Fall. It's light, cool, almost frosty—perfect in black, navy, or dark brown, the ideal leather to wear with the new shadowy silks and cottons of Summer or the jerseys and tweeds of Winter.

Textured leathers in calf and kid, sling-back pumps and sandals in reptiles and suedes, are a high point in Summer fashions that will continue into Fall and Winter. Woven leathers in the new darkened shades are equally popular in closed-up shoes.

Abilene Pony 9 Nips Pampa, 4-3

ABILENE, Aug. 2 — (Special) — Both teams waited until the eighth inning to do their heavy scoring as the Abilene Rebels trimmed Pampa's All-Stars, 4-3, in the first game of a Bi-District Pony League series here last night.

A three-run homer by Abilene right fielder Joe Schulle did the damage; scoring Charles Harrison and George Lewis ahead of him. The big blow gave Abilene a 4-1 lead and broke up a tied game. But Pampa nearly caught up by scoring a pair of runs itself in the bottom of that frame.

Ronnie Eckroat, Pampa catcher, poked a two-run homer over the center field fence with Mike Conway on board. But relief pitcher Roger Mac Evans put out the fire and Abilene won it.

Starter George Lewis and reliever Evans allowed Pampa but five hits while Gary Heiskell went the route for the Panhandle team and dished out six hits to the Rebels.

Pampa got a run in the sixth when Conway singled to right, was sacrificed to second by Eckroat, look third on a fielder's choice and scored on Raymond Duke's single.

In the seventh the Rebels tied the game as Johnny Choate singled to center, went to second and then to third on a fielder's choice and a passed ball, then scored on Johnny Garner's one-bagger.

Lewis struck out 13 for Abilene and Heiskell fanned 12 for Pampa.

At 7:30 tonight the two teams clash again. Should Abilene win, the Rebels will advance to the Regional meet at Corpus Christi automatically. But should Pampa win the first game, a second will be necessary, with its victor making the Corpus trip.

Abilene 000 000 13-4 6 2
Pampa 000 001 02-3 5 1
Lewis, Evans (8) and Wilson; Heiskell and Eckroat.

Oilers Acquire A Lefthander

Tommy Harrison, a NDS left hander, is being optioned to the Oilers by the Shreveport Sports of the Texas League.

Harrison is due to join the Oilers tonight.

This is Harrison's second year in pro ball. He compiled a 26-5 record for Kilgus in the East Texas League prior to going into service where he has been the past four years.

Harrison has played on several leading service teams during his Army career.

Harrison stands 5-11 and weighs 170 pounds.

The new Oiler lefty is a former battery mate of Oiler catcher Jim Martin.

Martin, upon learning the Oilers had acquired Harrison, said "Tommy should help us a lot."

Oilers Out To Even Series With Hubbers Tonight; Dial To Hurl

Press Box Views

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

THERE WASN'T MUCH accomplished in the meeting of the Minor League executives at Abilene last week. Realignment was discussed but nothing was passed on officially.

If the proposed realignment comes about, it will involve the West Texas-New Mexico League, Longhorn League and Big State League.

The presidents of each of these leagues met with the commissioner of Minor League, George Trautman, in Abilene last week.

Unless a member of the WT-NM League obtains the Beaumont franchise of the Texas League, the league lineup as it now stands may remain intact next season.

Veteran Red Dial will attempt to put a halt to the six-game losing streak of the Oilers tonight when he goes against the Lubbock Hubbers in the final of a two-game series at Oiler Park.

Dial will be bidding for his 16th win of the campaign and his second over Lubbock against two defeats. Lubbock is the only club that Red doesn't hold an edge over for the season.

Lubbock grabbed the series opener last night on Pat Lorenzo's eighth inning two-run homer that snapped a 5-5 tie, giving the Hubs a 7-5 victory before 1,132 paid fans at Oiler Park.

Last night's turnout was the 15th consecutive home game that the Oilers have drawn in excess of 1,000 paid admissions.

After tonight's series final with the Hubs, the Oilers will journey to Plainview for a two-game series and then return Friday to open a crucial four-game series with the Amarillo Gold Sox at Oiler Park.

The Oiler management announced last night that single games with Amarillo Friday and Saturday will commence at 5:05 p.m. Reason for the early starting time is to avoid conflict with the Top of Texas Rodeo; those two nights, Rodeo time for the two nights is 8 p.m.

The Oilers and Gold Sox will wind up their series Sunday with a double header starting at 2 p.m.

In last night's game, the Oilers jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning on Paul Haller's 21st homer of the season with two mates aboard.

But the Hubs, after being blacked out on hit by Buddy Woods the first three innings, pounded out five hits for five runs in the fourth to take the lead. Three of the runs, however, were unearned as the Oiler defense fell apart in fourth, the locals committing all three of the errors they made in the game in this inning.

The big blow of the Hub fourth was a two-run triple by Everett Moore.

The Oilers battled back to tie the game up at 5-5 in the sixth with two unearned markers. Curtis Hardaway got life on shortstop Nap Napalittar's error to lead off and took third on Joe Fortin's double to deep right center.

Hardaway tallied on Jim Martin's sacrifice fly and Fortin scored when first baseman Bobby Fernandez dropped Sonny Tim's pop fly, tying the score at 5-5.

That's the way it stood until Lorenzo rifled one of Woods' offerings over the left field wall, Red McQuillen, who got a pop fly double down the right field line to open the inning, scored ahead of Lorenzo's wallop.

The Oilers threatened in the eighth when the first two up got on. Fortin led with a walk and Halter scored. But Fred Uhlman, who went the route for the Hubs, put a halt to the threat without further damage and then retired the Oilers in order in the ninth.

Uhlman's soft "stuff" kept the Oilers popping up most of the night.

Western LL Loses In 10-9 Thriller

LUBBOCK, Aug. 1 — (Special) — Despite four home runs by heavy-hitting Pampa Western, a leaky defense that served eight times handed Midland Central a 10-9, eight-inning victory over Pampa in the first round of the District Little League baseball tournament here Monday.

Snyder slammed the door on Northwest Lubbock in the second game, 7-2, to advance to the finals against Midland at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Home runs by Dickie Willis, George Duke and a pair by Larry Wilson failed to produce enough runs to whip Midland's advantage crew.

Jack Sowers, Midland rightfielder, slammed two home runs, one the game-winning blow in the eighth inning, for his team's power display.

But the secret of the Midland win was Pampa's mistakes. Second baseman Keith Dodd, usually an excellent fielder, committed five costly errors, three coming in first inning adding greatly to Midland's two tallies.

Midland scored seven unearned runs while Pampa was picking up seven earned markers. John Knott, rightfielder and first baseman, erred twice and George Duke made one miscue for Pampa.

Pampa scored once in the first, once in the second, four times in the third, once in the fourth and two in the sixth. Midland scored twice each in the first, second, fourth and fifth frames and one run in the third and eighth.

In the sixth inning, after Midland had tallied twice in the fifth, Pampa's shortstop, Wilson, hampered his second homer of the day with losing hurrier Duke on first.

Vega Wins 24th In Big State

By UNITED PRESS
Rene Vega won his 24th game of the season Monday night to push the Corpus Christi Clippers into the Big State League lead. Vega hurled an eight-hitter as the Clips downed the ex-leaders, Texas City, 4 to 2.
Bill Bagwell won his 17th game as Port Arthur trimmed Harlingen 10 to 6 and southpaw LeRoy Jones shutout Waco 6 to 0 on four hits for Austin.
The Clippers broke a 1 to 1 tie in the eighth inning for their victory over the Texans when Connie Ryan and Ed Charles drew walks and scored on Dean Stafford's triple. Stafford also had a double and drove in three runs as Corpus banged Ed Konick for the loss.
Jones, who won his 11th game before a merchant's night crowd of 1,754, was backed up by his Austin mates with 14 hits, including three singles by brother Kenney Jones.
Bagwell, who received 19 hit support in the Sea Hawk win, held Harlingen to three hits in the first five innings. The Clippers got rolling in the sixth when Ford Garrison belted a grand slam homer. Pete Ethier added a homer in the seventh for the Caps.

Baseball Officials Find Four Faults For Attendance Decline

By ED SAINSBURY
CHICAGO — UP — Major league baseball officials pinned the blame for falling attendance on four major factors Tuesday and tried to figure out what to do about them.
A survey expert told the baseball executives that attendance is being hurt because of difficulty in getting to parks, television, costs and slow games.
The preliminary report on major league problem was based on 10,000 replies to 45,000 questionnaires mailed to 13 states, Fitzgerald said.
He said 49 per cent of the replies reported increased interest in the game in the past 10 years, and that 39 per cent had seen between one and five games last year.
In a separate poll of 736 sports editors, 80 per cent suggested that games should be shorter and faster paced, 74 per cent believed ball parks need better parking, and 67 per cent believed pay-as-you-see telecasts of ball games would receive support.
The difficulties of getting to parks, and the cost of attending games were mentioned by many who responded in the overall questionnaire.

CGM To Give Away TV Set

A 21-inch RCA Television set will be given away at Otter Park, Sept. 3, by C & M Television.
This is the "Grand Award" for the season and all tickets that are being used on "Merchant Nights" will be good for the drawing.
Deck Wolf, Otter business manager, wishes to point out once again that the tickets that have already been used on the Merchant Nights and the ones that will be used on future Merchant Nights will be good for the TV drawing.
The Otters will play Lubbock the night of Sept. 3.

Braves' Pennant Hopes About Gone

By UNITED PRESS
The Brooklyn Dodgers began smelling that pennant melon and the disappointed Braves all but resigned themselves to a second-place slice.
Any lingering hope the Braves had of over-taking the Dodgers was virtually snuffed out when they dropped a 4-3 decision to Brooklyn in 10 innings Monday night and saw the league leaders stretch their margin to 14 1/2 games—the most it has been all season.
Brooklyn's "magic number" now is 37, meaning any number of Dodger victories or Brave defeats which add up to 37 will make Walt Alston's forces the 1955 champions of the National League.
The high-riding Dodgers, with five straight victories under their belts and six out of seven on their current western trip, are now even in a position to clinch the flag on the earliest date in league history. They're shooting at the modern record they set themselves in 1953.
Trailing Milwaukee 3-0 Monday night, Brooklyn tied the score with three runs in the seventh and pushed across the winning run in the 10th off loser Ernie Johnson when Don Hoak hit into a forceout at third with the bases full, allowing Junior Gilliam to score.
Left-hander Don Newcombe hit a homer, a double and a single that drove in three runs.
Cincinnati climbed into sixth place over sinking St. Louis by edging Philadelphia 4-3.
In the American League, the White Sox retained their one-game lead over the Yankees and Indians since no games were scheduled for Monday.

G-Sox Bow To EP; Dukes Nip Ponies

By UNITED PRESS
Veteran minor leaguer Jodie Beeler, now managing Plainview, dropped a fly ball in the 11th inning Monday night to allow Albuquerque to score the winning run from first base in a 3-2 Duke victory.
The victory moved Albuquerque into second place in the West Texas-New Mexico League behind the Amarillo Gold Sox who lost to El Paso 5-1. Pampa dropped to third by losing to Lubbock 7-5.
Abilene gained a tie for fourth in the continuously changing standings with a 13-10 win over Clovis Tuesday night. Amarillo is at El Paso. Plainview at Albuquerque. Lubbock at Pampa and Abilene at Clovis.

Mercury beauty, power and resale value boost sales to record high...

And record sales mean record deals. Cut your cash outlay by acting now—get a far bigger allowance for your present car.

It's worth a trip to our showroom just to hear the figures! For it's never been easier than right now to own a Mercury.

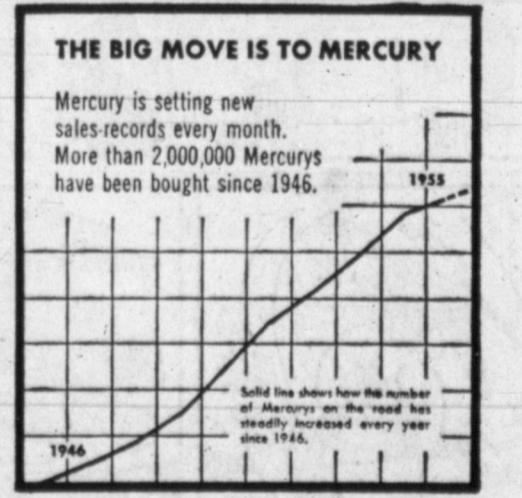

HIGH-VOLUME DEAL—Mercury's record-breaking popularity now permits us to operate on a much higher-volume basis. We can offer the best deals in our history. And, remember, a Mercury deal means far more than just a low price. Look at what you get:

EXCLUSIVE STYLING—No "look-alike" styling for Mercury. You get fresh, distinctive beauty—styling shared by no other car.

SUPER-TORQUE POWER—You get more than just high horsepower (188 and 198 hp)—you get far more usable power. More power is put to work in pickup and passing speed ranges—where you can use it for everyday driving, not just for high speeds.

EXTRA-VALUE FEATURES—Only Mercury in its field offers you so many important extras at no extra cost. For example, a 4-barrel carburetor on all models. Special 18mm anti-fouling spark plugs. Ball-joint front suspension. And dual exhausts on all Montclairs and Montereys, and Custom Station Wagons.

CONSISTENTLY HIGHEST RESALE VALUE—Mercury protects your investment better than any other car in its field. Independent reports show that Mercury consistently returns more of the original purchase price at grade-in-time. In short, no other car offers you bigger reasons for buying it. And you couldn't pick a better time to get a deal on a new Mercury. So why wait? See us today.

IT PAYS TO OWN A MERCURY —FOR FUTURE STYLING, SUPER POWER

The crow is the wildest of all the birds. In the olden times the crow was termed a bird of evil omen because of its black plumage.

Says Race Law Would Upset School Finances

FORT WORTH—UP—The mother of Peter Smith hospital administrator Lowell Hudson came to Fort Worth from her Oklahoma home and spent 30 days as a patient in the tax-supported hospital without paying the $402 bill she ran up there. It was revealed Monday.

Hospital records showed that Mrs. Pearl Hudson of Roff, Okla., entered Peter Smith (formerly city-county) June 1 and left June 29. Her bill was placed among those which the hospital did not plan an effort to collect.

Hudson told a reporter he got approval from Dr. E. P. Hall, chairman of the hospital board, before Mrs. Hudson became a patient. Hudson said also that relatives of other long-time hospital employees had not been charged for their treatment at Peter Smith.

"We have a policy of not charging dependents of our veteran employees," the administrator said. "We admit them when rooms are available. The executive committee of the medical staff set the policy and the hospital board approved it."

But County Auditor J. M. Williams and Commissioner Bryan Henderson, both members of the board, said they "couldn't recall" approving such a policy.

"I'm sure we didn't," Henderson commented. "I don't think such a policy would be a good thing. I feel certain the hospital board will look into the matter of Mrs. Hudson receiving treatment."

Peter Smith hospital has been faced with a financial crisis recently. Both the city and county have advanced it money during the past month to keep it operating.

AUSTIN—UP—Gov. Allan Shivers said Monday a federal court ruling declaring segregation unconstitutional in Texas schools may "throw a cloud over school finances at the state level."

The governor spoke at an organizational meeting of a statewide advisory committee on segregation in the public schools.

Shivers said if a recent ruling at El Paso by Federal Judge Ewing Thomson "is correct, I am fearful that the entire basis of the Gilmer-Aikin (education) laws will be undermined and may have to be rewritten. Most certainly, an opinion by the attorney general of Texas will be helpful."

However, the governor expressed firm belief the advisory committee "has the ability, the initiative and the determination to find the means" of solving the problem "in the full light of the regrettable decision which makes this meeting and the meetings which are to follow necessary."

Within Present Framework "I believe this can be accomplished within the framework of our present public school system. I hope it can be done without the need of a special session (of the legislature)."

Five items were tagged by the governor for committee consideration, including: Whether legislation will be needed in the field of school laws dealing "with such matters as compulsory school attendance and compulsory segregation laws."

Whether white and colored children can be compelled to attend a given school against their will. "Obviously, the same principles apply to forced integration as against forced segregation," he said.

In Best Interests Whether students could be assigned application to particular schools "in their best interest and in the best interests of the local districts."

Ways and means of achieving in a maximum decentralization of school authority.

What can be done on the state level to give more authority to local school districts in handling their own affairs.

The advisory committee includes 33 law members named by the governor; three senators appointed by Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, and five House members named by Speaker Jim Lindsey.

"I hope politics will play no part in the actions and deliberations of this group," the governor said.

The decision by the U. S. Supreme Court banning segregation in public schools was denounced as an "unwarranted, unjustified invasion of states rights," by Shivers.

Acers Is New TEC Member

AUSTIN—UP—Maurice Acers, for four years executive secretary to Gov. Allan Shivers, was sworn in Monday as a member of the three-man Texas Employment Commission.

He succeeds Col. Dwight Horton, Blanco.

Acers, who will receive $18,800 annually under his six-year appointment by the governor, received his oath in the executive reception room from Judge Roy C. Archer, long-time friend and chief justice of the Third Court of Civil Appeals, Austin.

About 100 friends and state officials, including the governor, witnessed the brief ceremony.

Prior to joining the governor's staff in September, 1951, Acers was president of the Texas Citrus Fruit Growers Exchange in Mission, a position he assumed after two years as vice president and general manager of the Shary Products Co. of Mission.

For 13 years prior to that, Acers was associated with the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Michigan has 3,121 miles of shoreline, longest of any state in the union.
