Committee 'Dives' Deeper Into Pampa's Complex Water Problems

By DALLAS DeWEESE

How long can Pampa go before it needs to build a treatment plant to accept water from behind the Canadian River Dam?

Should the city go the surface water route as soon as possible or wait a few years and continue to take its underground supply from water wells?

What is the comparative cost per 1,000 gallons of water treated and delivered from wells and of water treated and delivered from the Canadian River reservoir?

These were some of the questions posed as the Citizens' Water Study Committee continued its deliberations on Pampa's water problems at a meeting last night in City Hall.

The committee has been asked to come up with some soluble recommendations to the City Commission.

The 11-member committee, headed by James B. Massa, heard Carl L. Shimek, vice president of Forrest & Cotton, Dallas consultant engineers, review the engineering firm's 1962 Pampa survey and report on water and sewer system needs.

Shimek used illustrated chart slides to update the report to fit into the current picture as the city faces the reality of beginning payments in 1968 on its approximately $6 million share of the cost of the $90 million Canadian River Dam project.

The first annual payment will be around $204,000, due Jan. 1, 1968. Payments then increase yearly for 50 years to a maximum of $264,000 in 2,016.

Payments on the dam cannot be made with tax money, so one of the decisions to be made will be how much shall water rates be increased?

Shimek pointed out to committee members that, as shown in the Forrest & Cotton report, Pampa's annual obligation for water and sewer payments will approximate $1 million. This, he said, is set up against annual gross revenue from water and sewer of approximately $550,000 a year.

"It is obvious that substantial adjustments will need to be made in the rate structure," Shimek said.

Last night's discussion brought out that while the Canadian River aqueduct to Pampa will have a maximum capacity of 8.06 million gallons daily, the city's maximum demand soon will reach and probably exceed that amount. This brings the necessity, it was pointed out, of

New, Serious Decisions Coming For U.S. in Viet

Four American Marines Die in Viet Nam Fighting

SAIGON (UPI) — Five U. S. Marines were killed and 17 wounded Monday in two battles with Communist guerrillas near the Da Nang air base, an American military spokesman reported today. The Leathernecks killed an estimated 48 guerrillas.

Four of the Marines were killed during a search patrol about three miles southwest of the vital air base 385 miles northeast of Saigon. Fourteen Leathernecks were wounded in that operation. The spokesman said 22 guerrillas were killed.

Shortly after nightfall, a company of Marines rushed to the aid of a regional force outpost under Communist attack 11 miles south of Da Nang.

The Marines engaged a company sized unit of guerrillas around the old French fort in what was described as an intense firefight. One Marine was killed and three wounded. The spokesman said 26 guerrillas were killed, but the figure could not be confirmed by body count.

The Marine counter-attack repulsed the Viet Cong and no casualties were reported among Vietnamese troops inside the the fort.

The spokesman said American planes flew a series of heavy raids Monday on Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam, killing an estimated 260 Communists.

At least 140 guerrillas were reported killed in a single raid by four U. S. Air Force prop-driven Skyraiders in the Mekong River Delta 40 miles southwest of Saigon. The planes hit what was described as "a large concentration" of Viet Cong troops 15 miles northwest of My Tho in Dinh Tuong Province.

Another raid by four F100 Supersabre jets in the delta sunk a 60-foot motorized Viet Cong junk in one of the many rivers crisscrossing the area. The flight commander, Capt. John Sercel of Cleveland, Ohio, said pilots made five cannon fire passes over the vessel, sinking it on the fifth run.

A pair of B57 Canberra jet bombers led by Capt. Gale H. Manning of Columbus, Ohio, destroyed 60 Viet Cong buildings in an attack 10 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa in Phu Yen Province 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

In air action today, eight U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief jets blasted the Son La army depot deep in North Viet Nam with 21 tons of bombs. Ninety per cent of the target was reported destroyed despite heavy anti-aircraft fire.

Son La is 125 miles west-northwest of Hanoi and 75 miles south of the Communist Chinese border. It has been the target of several previous missions.

Three other jets accompanied the attacking planes to handle any Communists interceptors, but there was no enemy air opposition.

In another raid today, four F105s bombed a ferry complex about 70 miles west of Hanoi and a wooden bridge 80 miles northwest of the Communist capital.

Four more F105s flew over the city of Ninh Binh, 55 miles south of Hanoi, and dropped 560,000 propaganda leaflets.

An official report issued by the Saigon government said 714 Communist guerrillas were killed in fighting last week.

The report said 284 Vietnamese soldiers were killed, giving the government a "kill ratio" of almost three-to-one.

In addition to the 714 Viet Cong dead, Vietnamese com-

Johnson Tells Nation We Will Not Back Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson said today that the United States may face "new and serious decisions" in the near future concerning the war against the Communists in Viet Nam.

Johnson told a news conference carried live on television and radio that increased aggression from North Viet Nam "may require increased American responses on the ground in South Viet Nam."

"We will do what is necessary," the President declared.

He also said Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Henry Cabot Lodge, newly named ambassador to Saigon, will leave Wednesday for an inspection trip. Johnson said they will return next week and their recommendations would be "carefully considered by the administration."

The President said last week that the United States might have to increase its troop strength in Viet Nam beyond the previous goal of 75,000. Military sources subsequently said U. S. forces there might amount to more than 100,000 by the end of the summer.

In this connection, Johnson said today it was necessary to insure that U.S. reserves of men and equipment be maintained at a level "adequate for any and all emergencies."

On the other major international problem confronting this country — the Dominican Republic — Johnson said he was encouraged by indications that leaders of both sides were willing to stand aside for a "new government acceptable to the Dominican people."

He said he was "both cautious and hopeful" about the Dominican situation now. And he paid tribute to diplomatic trouble-shooter Ellsworth Bunker and members of an Organization of American States (OAS) commission for their "skillful and determined efforts to find a peaceful solution."

He said the commission will "deserve the thanks of us all when this happens."

On other major points, the President:

—Announced that the Soviet Union has agreed to reconvene the 18-nation disarmament conference in Geneva.

Johnson said the Soviet agreement was "an encouraging development" and that the United States hoped to resume discussions no later than July 27.

—Said he has received an "encouraging report" from Eugene Black, former World Bank president assigned to check the possibilities for U. S. economic aid in Southeast Asia. Johnson said the United States wants to make plain that its military effort is only a way to make possible peaceful economic progress.

—Announced he is appointing federal appeals Judge Thurgood Marshall, a Negro and former leader in the civil rights cause, to be U.S. solici-

House Tams Due On Changes to Be Made in Coins

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Western lawmakers sought today to overcome a Senate defeat by asking the House to reject a Treasury Department request to stop using silver in the making of dimes and quarters.

Their chances were far from hopeful. The legislation before the House, amended in committee, went even farther by the administration proposal by providing that all silver be taken out of half dollars also.

The proposal suggested by the Treasury and approved by the Senate over the objections of western members would eliminate the silver from dimes and quarters and reduce it from 90 to 40 per cent in the 50-cent pieces.

The administration proposal called for dimes and quarters be made of a copper base sandwiched between two layers of a nickel - copper alloy.

President Johnson has urged the change to save the nation's dwindling supply of silver, which is coming into increasing demand by industry.

Other congressional news:

Coleman: Former Mississippi Gov. James P. Coleman was expected to go before a Senate Judiciary Committee to testify on his appointment by President Johnson as a U. S. Court of Appeals judge. The selection of Coleman, an avowed segregationist in the past, has come under criticsm from civil rights groups and liberals in Congress Senate approval of his appointment is necessary.

Snooping: Internal Revenue Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen was to appear before a Senate judiciary subcommittee which has been investigating government invasions of privacy. The inquiry has dealt with use of electronic snooping devices in government investigations.

Labor: Negro leader A. Philip Randolph called for establishment of a federal minimum wage for hired farm labor. He appeared in his position as co-chairman of the National Advisory Committee on Farm Labor before a Senate labor subcommittee on migratory labor.

Voting Rights: House and Senate negotiators were expected to be evenly split when they start sessions on a compromise bill to ensure Negroes the right to vote. The sessions could begin late this week.

More Soviet Military, Economic Aid to Cong

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union will increase its military and economic aid to communist North Viet Nam, according to an official communique released today.

The announcement did not specify the type or amount of assistance.

The communique was issued in connection with the visit to Moscow by a North Vietnamese delegation headed by Le Thanh Nghi. He met with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev.

(Communist China today signed an agreement providing economic and technical aid to North Viet Nam, the official New China News Agency reported in a dispatch monitored in Tokyo.

(The Peking report did not contain specifics. It said the agreement was signed by Nghi and Li Hsien-nien, the Communist Chinese vice premier.)

"The agreements concluded in Moscow envisage additional aid over and above that already being rendered to the democratic republic of Viet Nam by the Soviet Union," the official news agency Tass reported.

"The talks on Soviet assistance to the development of the national economy and the strength of Viet Nam's defense potentialities with due consideration for the needs that arose in connection with the Vietnamese peoples' struggle against the aggression of American imperialism passed in a fraternal friendship and complete mutual understanding."

The Hanoi regime today released a similar vague report on the agreement. It identified Le Thanh Nghi as vice premier and political bureau member of the Viet Nam workers party and central committee.

The Soviets have made repeated statements in recent weeks about helping North Viet Nam. All have avoided specifics.

American officials report that two Soviet missile sites in North Viet Nam are almost ready to receive weapons and that two others are nearing completion.

Council Approves Water Rights Bill of $19,200

City Council today approved payment of $19,200 for water rights in the Lefors Field southwest of Pampa.

The expenditure was authorized as the result of a rights purchase made by the last city commission.

It covers three-quarters of a section of land at $40 an acre with an option to buy water rights on the remaining one-quarter section at the same price per acre.

The action was taken at this morning's commission meeting, a session that lasted less than 20 minutes.

Other business transacted included approval of first payments totaling $75,982.67 to J. T. Brodie & Co., Inc., and A. W. Boren, general contractor, for work on Pampa's sewage line improvements and new sewage treatment plant.

The commission paid current city bills of $23,409.61 and Lovett Memorial Library bills of $141.33.

Approval was given to allocate $1,500 as a paving fund to be escrowed for C. P. Buckler in exchange for land deeded to the city at the dead-end of N. Somerville St.

J. O. Dumas, who retired last year as assistant police chief, asked the commission to consider the addition of more men to the city police department and higher pay for patrolmen.

"The department is understaffed and underpaid," Dumas said.

Clinton Evans was re-appointed to a three-year term as one of Pampa's two representatives on the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. Fred Thompson was re-appointed last year to a three-year term.

The council also passed on second reading an ordinance calling for a charter amendment election Aug. 24. The legislation will get third and final reading next week.

Gemini-4 Computer Mystery Still Puzzling Scientists

SPACE CENTER, Houston, (UPI) — The mystery of the malfunctioning Gemini - 4 computer might be one puzzle that never gets solved.

The computer designed to make re-entry easy for astronauts Jim McDivitt and Ed White during their four - day orbital flight last month was about the only thing that did not work. Since that flight, the computer has been tested and re-tested and scientists still do not know what went wrong.

"I don't have an extremely high degree of confidence we will find anything," said Gemini project head Charles W. Mathews Monday. He said, however, that a search for clues in the mystery would go on.

Mathews discussed at length Monday the computer failure and other aspects of last month's flight and the upcoming Gemini missions. He said, among other things, that an excess of dry lubricant was to blame for the difficulty White had closing the capsule hatch when he returned from his space walk, and that White and McDivitt kept a mighty clean house in the sky.

Mathews also said that the astronauts came closer than it was first thought to a "rendezvous" early in the mission. He said that McDivitt steered the capsule to within a half mile of the Titan-2 second - stage booster, but that the rocket slipped away while McDivitt was busy with another part of the flight.

Returning to the computer trouble, Mathews said that nothing has been found wrong with the inner workings of the device. It was to have plotted a course of re-entry for the space-pilots, but the astronauts were forced to endure a "ballistic" re-entry that produced more "G" forces on their bodies.

Special Force Looking for Mad Bomber

CHICAGO (UPI) — Police today deployed "a substantial force of men" in a special plan to head off what they feared might be a reign of terror by a mad bomber.

Telephoned threats, pinpointing prominent downtown Chicago buildings as bomb targets, continued to be received at police headquarters. No bombs were found.

But a gasoline filled bottle known as a Molotov Cocktail—was thrown at a bus company garage just west of the Loop Monday night. Three employes of the Continental Air Transport Bus Co. quickly extinghished the flames and there was no damage.

Police said the incident did not appear to be linked to the series of bombings which have rocked downtown buildings in the past six days.

The bus company, which operates limousines between downtown and O'Hare International Airport on the far western edge of the city, has been picketed in recent days by striking cab drivers. Authorities speculated the bus company incident was related to the strike against Chicago's two major cab companies.

Erwin Spivak, spokesman for the striking Democratic Union Organizing Committee, said the union had no connection with the incident. "There are no problems with Continental," he said.

Police Supt. Orlando W. Wilson announced Monday that a beefed - up force of men had been assigned as part of a plan designed to "increase the likelihood" of nabbing the persons responsible for the downtown terror bombings. Details of the plan were not revealed.

MAD BOMBER'S WORK? — Newspaper printer Jerry Wells, 27, right, fell victim to the bombings in the Chicago Loop area when an explosion ripped through his parked car. Police suggested a "mad bomber" may be at work.

Foreign Commentary

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI)—Communist China's anxiety to get the United States out of Viet Nam is being matched increasingly by Peking's determination to remove the last remnants of Soviet influence from Southeast Asia.

China's anti - American designs in Asia have been discernible for some time, but lately its propaganda machine has been geared to an all-out effort to undermine Moscow's prestige in Asia.

Russia is now being accused of secretly passing to the United States detailed lists of its arms supplies to Communist North Viet Nam, and of aligning its strategy with that of the United States behind the backs of its Communist friends and allies.

Damage Incalculable

The enormity of the charge is self-evident and its potential damage to Russia incalculable.

It is as if the United States accused Britain of co-operating secretly with the Communist Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

As in the past, Peking is using tiny Albania, its staunchest ally, as the mouthpiece for its attacks on the Soviet.

Albania in its official organ has gone on repeating the charges against the Kremlin's alleged ganging up with the American "imperialists."

The Russians seem helpless against this type of campaign. All they have been able to do is to reiterate their willingness to help the North Vietnamese.

An even tougher battle is being waged currently in the diplomatic sphere, in Hanoi itself.

Eliminate Soviets

Diplomatic reports from the North Vietnamese capital say Peking is pushing openly for the elimination of what remains of Soviet political influence over the regime of Ho Chi Minh.

Without really giving North Viet Nam a great deal of concrete aid, Peking has managed to intimidate the North Vietnamese government sufficiently to counteract politically the more sizeable Soviet assistance.

The Kremlin staged a comeback in Hanoi earlier this year when its leaders flew there for confidential talks. But the success was short - lived. Despite the fact that Soviet supplies have since been stepped up, Moscow's political influence in Hanoi is waning again.

The latest indications from Peking point to Red China's firm determination to eradicate Russian influence from South East Asia and, more immediately, to prevent the Soviets from establishing themselves in Viet Nam as either a political or military factor.

This is yet another reason why Red China is opposing a Viet Nam peace conference. Peking fears Russia would play a key role at the conference table, along with the United States and it does not want Russia to become once again one of the major guarantors of a political settlement of South East Asia, as it was at the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina.

Burglar Given 7-Year Sentence

Harold Breeden, 46, of Missouri was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary by District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in Wheeler yesterday.

Breeden was charged with the March 23, 1964 burglary of the Lester Leonard Service Station in Mobeetie.

Breeden entered a plea of not guilty and a jury was impaneled to hear the case. Following testimony from five state's witnesses, called by District Attorney Bill Waters, Breeden changed his plea to guilty and was sentenced by the court.

Breeden also entered pleas of guilty to the March 23, 1964 burglary of the Sante Fe Depot in Mobeetie and the May 19, 1964 theft of a car in Wheeler.

He was sentenced to serve seven years in the state penitentiary on each charge. However, the sentences were to run concurrently.

The Breeden case was the only criminal activity set for trial during this term of court, according to Waters.

Waters said that two civic cases are on the docket in Wheeler for this week.

Two Enter Pleas In County Court

Jerry Spradley of Pampa entered a plea of not guilty yesterday in Gray County Court of charges of malicious destruction and was placed under a $500 bond.

In another case in county court yesterday, Jackey Lee Winters, 919 E. Albert, was fined $5 and costs and sentenced to one day in jail.

manders claimed the capture of 172 guerrillas. A total of 162 Vietnamese were listed as missing and presumably captured by the Communists.

The review of military operations for the seven - day period ending Saturday showed a decrease in Viet Cong activity. There were 201 clashes, 23 less than for the previous week.

But the Communists scored another rich haul in captured government weapons. The report said Vietnamese forces lost 322 weapons and captured only 195.

In fighting Monday, two companies of the 2nd Battalion of the 9th Marines pushed an estimated 200 guerrillas from a village two miles west of the Da Nang air base. One guerrilla was killed before the Communists mingled with villagers and escaped to the south. Guerrilla sniper fire wounded one Marine.

In air action, military spokesmen estimated that a series of American attacks on guerrilla positions killed at least 260 Communists.

Other U. S. planes ranged over North Viet Nam, carrying out raids on ammunition dumps, highway and railroad bridges, radar bases and river barges.

A flight of Air Force F105 Thunderchief fighter - bombers showered thousands of leaflets on the cities of Lyan Han, Tri Dong and Phat Diem. All are located in the Hanoi area.

All states now have stringent laws against dueling.

maintaining an underground water supply through water wells in the years ahead. The city's maximum daily water demand currently has run between 6 and 7 million gallons. The maximum daily demands varies with rainfall and heat waves. Pampa's greatest peak demand so far has been 8 million gallons in one day. Average daily demand in 1964 was 3 million gallons.

Shimek said projected figures indicate the city's average daily demand by 1982 will be 7 million gallons with a city population of 40,000.

Pampa's existing water wells now have maximum production capacity of 11½ million gallons a day from 18 water wells.

The city also owns water rights in the Lefors field southwest of town, but has no producing wells there at present.

Shimek also pointed out that if Pampa runs into unusual drought conditions such as happened in 1956 the city could, by 1966 or 1967, run into a maximum daily demand that would equal present maximum daily production.

This, he stressed, points up the necessity of maintaining adequate underground water production as a safeguard against peak demands.

"You would then need additional water either from the Canadian Reservoir or from additional producing wells," Shimek said.

City Manager Jim White said he thought the big question faced was the need to decide "whether we are going to go the surface water route or the well water route."

The city manager told committeemen water samples recently taken from the Canadian River at the dam and upstream show the water to be of comparable quality and possibly a bit better than Pampa's water well supply.

Committee members agreed they needed to have figures on a comparative cost projection per 1,000 gallons of water delivered by the CRMWA aqueduct and the cost per 1,000 gallons from city water wells. This cost projection would cover a 20-year period.

After lengthy discussion, the committee voted to meet again next Monday night and invite as its speakers Felix Ryals of White Deer, manager of the Panhandle Water Conservation District, and H. H. Heiskell of Pampa, long-time expert on underground water supplies in the Texas Panhandle.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At President Johnson's suggestion, U.S. ambassadors recently began serving mostly American wines rather than foreign vintages at dinners and receptions overseas.

Let us now hear from Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N. Y., whose home district includes both vineyards and dairy farms.

In his weekly newsletter, Stratton commended to the attention of the State Department the product of the little old winemakers in his constituency. "Drink Finger Lakes," he urged.

Then, in deference to the cowmen, he added, "I can't help wondering if perhaps the quality of our international diplomacy might not have been enhanced if more milk had been consumed."

Stratton may have a point there, but I rather doubt that milk will become a beverage of diplomacy until something is done about its image.

Indulge In Niceties

Diplomats, you know, set great store by protocol and other social niceties. And wine-drinking is steeped in ritual, tradition and formality.

Milk - drinking, on the other hand, has almost no etiquette of its own. You just slop some of the stuff into a big jelly glass and gulp it down.

The first thing to do is to stop delivering milk in thick glass jugs and unesthetic paper cartons. It should be poured from crystal decanters by candlelight.

A different milk should be served with each course — skim milk with the salad, homogenized with the entree and buttermilk with dessert. With each in a different type of goblet.

The skims and wholes are preferable chilled, but the buttermilks — both cultured and churned — should be served at room temperature.

Develope Connoisseurs

The next thing to do is develop milk connoisseurs — experts who can discuss in esoteric lingo the bouquet, texture and flavor of individual milks and identify their backgrounds.

The conversations should go something like this:

"I believe you will find this next buttermilk interesting. It can hardly be called 'noble,' of course, but you have to admire its spirit."

"Ah, yes, it has a spunky quality that is almost presumptuous. Judging from the tang, which is a bit on the mellow side, I'd say that it came from a 3-year-old Guernsey who grazes on clover on the shady side of a hill 45 miles northwest of Madison, Wis."

Once these criteria have been met, and a little alcohol is added, milk will be well on its way toward winning diplomatic recognition.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI — Two guys are sitting at a bar. One of them says, "Do you think that Rex Harrison is his real name?" The other one replies, "do I think that Rex Harrison is whose real name?"

I don't know why exactly, but this story always reminds me of the television rating system —it seems to make the same kind of sense. And Monday night's one-hour "CBS Reports" program about video ratings only bolstered this view of a splendiferous fantasy of a system—one that embraces to death sachems, poets and peasants alike at the three networks that comprise the most massive communications force in the history of the human race.

Dutifully and inclusively, "CBS Reports" paraded the views of the great and the glorious in television, government, advertising, the statistical game——and the watcher at home found himself immersed in the flood of tumbling figures (statistical) and the technics, and then suddenly something would happen that revealed the massive black comedy:

Somebody, once in a while, between the statements about the necessity of ratings for advertisers to measure their markets and other like views, would offhandedly talk about getting better programs, and suddenly you would think, "oh, yes, yes, I almost forgot about those—that's what it's all about, isn't it?" No.

Well, I won't bore you here today by repeating all the well-known arguments about ratings that were brought together Monday night by "CBS Reports" because they were not new, and I am certain you know them all, because the basic newspaper audience is more intelligent than the basic television audience, and I don't need any Mr. Nielsen to tell me that, and I wouldn't care what he said anyway.

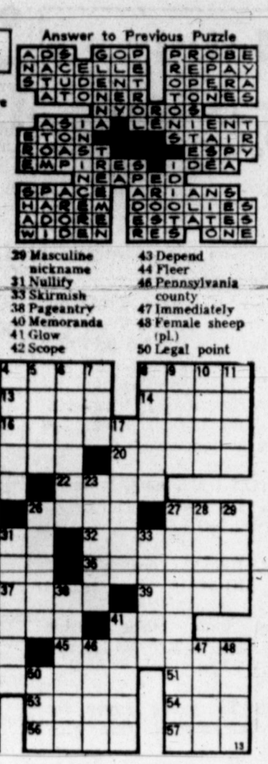

As for the program itself, in all fairness it should be said that it was a rare undertaking for even a public affairs series—even the best—and although it tended to suggest a slight whitewash, and it was broadcast in July (when the rating is certain to be lower, it did present a reasonably clear picture of what the system is all about.

Business Highlights

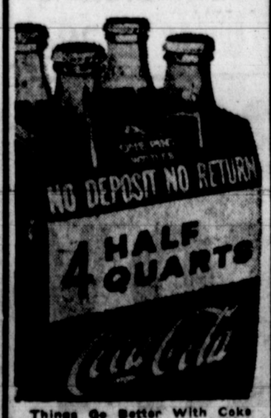

By United Press International

WASHINGTON—The United States has proposed the first world monetary conference since the one held at Bretton Woods, N.H., 21 years ago. The aim is to effect substantial improvements in international monetary arrangements.

BOSTON—Storer Broadcasting Co. of Miami has announced it will acquire a controlling interest in troubled Northeast Airlines from Howard Hughes and Hughes Tool Co. The purchase price will be about $6.5 million. However, Storer is not absorbing Northeast's $40 million debt. It is reported that arrangements have been made to pay off a $15 million debt to General Dynamics Corp. at 20 cents on the dollar and that Hughes Tool Co. was cancelling about $9.5 million owned it by Northeast. Storer now is expected to step up the struggle to get Northeast a permanent license to fly between Boston and Florida.

Dear Abby....

Abby Doesn't Want Mixed Up in Cat and Dog Fight

DEAR ABBY: I love cats and have a large Persian cat which is almost human. A friend recently said she thought cats were a feeble excuse for pets—that dogs were superior in all ways. (She has a dog.) She said that he who chooses a cat for a pet does so because his personality and character are similar to a cat's (secretive, arrogant and cruel!). Furthermore, she claims that cats are the only creatures who kill for the sheer fun of killing. They'll kill birds for sport, not because they are hungry. Is this true? I think cats are more sincere than dogs, are cleaner and are a better judge of character. A dog will make friends with anyone who pets or feeds him. Not a cat. If a cat senses that a person can't be trusted, it will walk around him with its hair standing on end. Whose opinions are correct? Mine or hers?

CAT FANCIER

DEAR CAT FANCIER: Animal psychologists who have "psycho-animalized" both dogs and cats have revealed that each has its individual personality, mentality and behavior pattern. Some cats are cleaner, more intelligent, intuitive, and discriminating than some dogs. And vice versa. But every pet lover stubbornly clings to the belief that his pet is superior to all others. And I'll be doggoned if I'm going to get mixed up in a cat and dog fight. People are my specialty, and your "friend" bears all the markings of the cattiest feline.

DEAR ABBY: I have read in your column often that when two people are "in love," age doesn't matter. How wrong that is. When I married my wife, 16 years ago, I thought as you did. I was 24, and the girl I fell in love with was in her early 40's, but she looked and acted 25. The gap was minor then. But now it has put us in different worlds. We still "love" each other (in a way), but it's not the kind of love that husband and wife should have. And we both realize it, but I wouldn't be unfaithful to her for the world. Everything went well the first few years. Then, one day I looked at her and realized that the beautiful and exciting "girl" I had married had become an old woman, while I was still in my late 30's. My advice to people who say that "age doesn't matter" is — wait. It does.

"EXISTING" IN ABILENE

DEAR "EXISTING": Maybe so. But all the "advice" in the world is useless against love, and a toothache.

DEAR ABBY: I feel like a ninny writing in a question like this, but I have searched every etiquette book in the library and I haven't been able to find the answer, so you are it! When a person is an overnight guest in the home of a friend, should he make his own bed in the morning or not? Please answer this in the paper as there is a lot riding on your reply.

WAITING TO HEAR

DEAR WAITING: If your hostess has "help" in the house, it's not necessary to make up your own bed. If she has no "help" — make it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SWINGING GOLFER AT THUNDERBIRD": Golfers who like to swing will frequently remove their wedding rings. They claim it improves their swing.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR WEDNESDAY, JULY 14

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to avoid strutting or trying in any way to put yourself in a position to gain plaudits and praise from others. Most persons are now quite suspicious of others and want to lash out at what they regard as an attempt by anyone to show egotistical tendencies. Be charming, smile.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — The form of entertainment you have in mind could be very costly and you could ill afford it — so stay within your pocket level. Get skills perfected. Don't make important decisions until later.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — You have questions you want answered, so be sure you go to the right sources. A new friend could very well shed light you want. Be courteous and don't permit emotions to rule you — your head is more reliable.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — You have a habit of making radical changes for the excitement of it, but sticking to present set-up brings finest benefits now. Increase security. Be very thoughtful to loved one.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Having talks with associates so that you clarify respective positions is wise — improve understanding. Reach perfect harmony before you leave meeting. Forget recreation for awhile.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Make your surroundings more pleasant and show coworkers that you value their alliance. Be of good spirit. Show your talents more and others will now appreciate your efforts.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Bringing finest talents to the fore can certainly gain you many advantages at this time. Have a good time, too. Assist the younger element who need your advice, etc.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Adding what is needed at home can surely get you the support of family easily now. Show that you have good sense. Make your property more valuable and operative.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — If you contact powerful relatives, they assist you in your plans, can give financial aid you need. Make appointments with others, too. Start new uptrend quickly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Being enthusiastic about handling property affairs sees them properly done. Show true intelligence. Get budget worked out better. Have more for yourself in the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Getting certain plans completed you started some time ago will reap fine benefits for you and allies. Improves appearance. Be your most attractive self, feel happy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Now that you know how to solve present problems, don't waste time in so doing. Clear the decks for greater things ahead. Make fine plans for the coming days, weeks, months.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You want to congregate with others today and should do so, since much good can come from such. Ask questions, get right answers. Know what you want — get wheels rolling steely.

Randall Johnson To BYU

RANDY JOHNSTON

PROVO, UTAH — Randy Johnston, former Pampa High School and Pampa Track Club middler, has received a full athletic scholarship to Brigham Young University.

Johnston, a member of the Mormon faith, was contacted by Mormon college following outstanding performance in collegiate intermediate hurdles in a USTFF meet in Norman, Okla. early this summer, the school notified Johnston working this summer in Arkansas, last weekend that the scholarship had been approved.

Johnston set a district 3-AAAA record in the high hurdles last year with a 14.4 time, the fourth best mark in the state of Texas.

Johnston becomes the eighth member of the Pampa Track Club to have been offered an athletic scholarship in the past three years, following Randy Wilson, Mark Westbrook and Bob Palmer of Pampa; Jimmy Bowers of Miami; Curtis Campbell of Skellytown; Lightning Coleman of Lefors and Carolyn Young of White Deer.

Shea Williams Okays Meet

AUSTIN — Permission for the Pampa Track Club youngsters to compete in this Saturday's AAU track meet at Perryton was given yesterday by Dr. Shea Williams of the University Interscholastic League, governing body of Texas high school athletics.

The sanction for the meet was sought by the PTC from the United States Track and Field Federation, but state officials of the organization were unable to be reached. Pampa High athletic director Weldon Trice added that inasmuch as the meet was limited strictly to grade and high school-age youngsters, approval from the UIL was all that was necessary.

Williams said yesterday that the UIL does not "sanction" meets. However, if it is a regular amateur meet, run under rules which do not violate the rules of the UIL, . . youngsters pay their own expenses and no awards of any intrinsic value, only medals or ribbons, are given . . .then it is permissible for high school athletes to compete in the meet."

Williams said he would send a letter to this effect to the Pampa Track Club for verification.

MOVES UP LADDER

LONDON (UPI) — Johnny Pritchett moved a step closer to a British middleweight championship fight Monday night when he knocked out Willie Fisher, 161, of Glasgow with a thunderous left hook in the first round of a scheduled 10-round bout. The 154 - pound Pritchett is the former British amateur champion.

Texans Steal Show In Canadian Open

TORONTO (UPI) — A couple of unheralded Texans stole the show from such highly-touted pros as U.S. Open champion Gary Player and Sam Snead Monday when preliminaries for this week's $100,000 Canadian Open were held on two fronts

Hugh (Rocky) Thompson of Wichita Falls led the 154 man field in the qualifying round for the Open at the Markland Wood Golf and Country Club with a four under par 67.

And Charles Coody of Fort Worth was the big winner in the pro-amateur tournament held at the nearby Mississaugua Golf and Country Club — the scene of the Open.

Thompson toured the Markland Wood course with a 34-33—67. He and 45 others qualified for the Open.

Eddie Johnson, Moon Mullins and Kermit Zarley had 68's. Hobart Manley, an amateur, Ron Drimak and Joel Goldstrand had 69's.

Coody, who celebrates his 28th birthday today, won $806.25 by tying with four other professionals for the individual low of 68 and recording the best team score of 55.

Jerry Barber, Howie Johnson and Dudley Wysong Jr., also posted 68's.

Australia's Kel Nagle, last year's Open champion, had a 73. Snead, a three-time Open champion, was at 74 while Player, still suffering from a sore neck, was two over par at 72.

The $100,000 Open, sweetened 100 per cent this year, has attracted the most impressive field in its long history. Only the Buick Open drew a bigger cast.

Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer were due in today and scheduled to play a practice round together.

Schoolboys Top Publinx Golfers

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A Pennsylvania scholastic star and an Iowa collegian led a field of 149 amateur golfers today in the second half of the 36-hole final qualifier for the National Public Links golf championship.

After today's 18 holes of stroke play over the long, straight, seared fairways and hard greens of drought-scorched North Park, the field will be cut to 64 for the four days of match play beginning Wednesday.

Lean, dark-haired, 16-year-old Jim Masserio of suburban Baldwin, Pa., regarded as the Pittsburgh district's best golfing prospect since Arnold Palmer, shared the first-day lead with 19-year-old Allen Bailey of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Iowa State College student.

They were the only players to shoot par 71 Monday.

Right on their heels, tied at 72, was a foursome which including defending champion Billy McDonald of Topeka, Kan., the smallest player in the field at 5-foot-6 and 130 pounds.

The others at 72 were Francis Clifford of Boston, 38, bricklayer and father of six children; Wendell Kop of Honolulu, 30, engineer for the Hawaiian Telephone Co., and Hubert Farmer of Toledo, Ohio, 40, a tool and dye worker.

Tied at 73 were Arne Dokka of Studio City, Calif., a Cal Tech student who was a semi-finalist in the 1964 tournament, Les Wimp of Tempe, Ariz., Dave Wernicke of River Hills, Wis., Stan Poploski of Pittsburgh, Dante Vicini of Ottawa, Ill., Frank Burka of Pittsburgh, and Arthur Ellis of Wilmette, Ill.

HS Football Opens Sept. 3

AUSTIN (UPI) —New rules governing pre - season football workouts for Texas high school football teams will be going into effect in less than a month.

Under the regulations, teams in Classes AAA, AA and A may issue football shoes and socks to players on Aug. 11, the Wednesday preceding the opening day of football practice Aug. 16. Teams in Class AAAA may issue shoes and socks Aug. 18 and start practice Aug. 23.

The first four days of practice must be limited to calisthenics and conditioning before contact drills are permitted.

First games will be played this year on Sept. 3 in Classes AAA, AA and A and Sept. 10 in AAAA, B, 6-man and 8-man schools.

Starting in 1966, the first games may not be played until the second Friday in September.

Sugar Ray Loses Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)— Sugar Ray Robinson's hopes for another shot at the world middleweight championship died Monday night in a hotel showroom, where the once great fighter lost a split decision to a man little more than half his age.

The 44-year-old Robinson, former welterweight king and five-time middleweight champ, was beaten on a split decision by bullish, 24-year-old Ferd Hernandez, the Nevada middleweight champion.

It was the third loss, all close, in the last four fights for Robinson, but would not prompt him to quit.

"I will continue to fight," he said, "I have never complained about a decision and won't tonight, but I do feel the referee (Harry Krause) didn't work a good fight. I felt Hernandez was able to use his head."

Hernandez was warned for butting during the bout.

Robinson has another fight scheduled later this month in Richmond, Va., and one in Honolulu August 10. Las Vegas promoter Bill Miller was also seeking a rematch of Monday night's opponents.

Robinson, 160¼, was a 5-2 favorite over Hernandez, 159¼, who was fighting only his 29th professional bout.

The scoring by judges Fred Glass and Dave Pearl in the Hacienda Hotel bout gave it to Hernandez, 47-44, and 47-46. Judge Mike Petrovich voted for Robinson, 48-44.

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)— Fifteen times two equals 30 and although Sandy Koufax can multiply as well as anyone else, he'd rather not, if you don't mind.

Koufax, with 15 victories to his credit at the All-Star break, doesn't even permit himself to think about the prospect of winning 30 even if everyone else does.

"Not only don't I think about it," laughed the dark-haired, 29-year-old Dodger southpaw ace, "but I don't even want to talk about it. I never said I'd win 20 when the season started. How could I? I didn't know how often I'd pitch or if I could even pitch at all."

Regardless of his reluctance to dwell on the subject, which is understandable enough considering all the circulatory trouble he had in his left hand and elbow during various portions of the last two years, Koufax now finds himself in a prime position to become the majors' first 30-game winner since Dizzy Dean reached that figure with the Cardinals in 1934.

Sandy confesses the idea of winning 30 games is intriguing, but no sooner does the notion enter his mind than he tries to drive it out.

"How can I possibly think about winning 30 games when I never know for sure, after pitching one game, whether I'll be able to pitch the next?" Koufax wondered out loud. "Right now, everything looks okay. I mean the arthritis in my arm. But the first 10 or 12 games I started, I kept expecting something to happen.

Lucky This Year

"What makes me happy is that I haven't missed a turn so far," he went on. "I feel I've been lucky. That's right. I don't think I've pitched as well this year as I have in some other years. On some days when I gave up two runs this year, the club would get me three back; when I'd give up four, I'd get five. That's the way it's been going for me."

Not completely. The way Koufax talks he makes it sound as if he has staggered along to his 15-3 record but the figures tell an entirely different story.

First, there's his 2.13 earned run average, right up there with the best in the National League. Then there's his 195 strikeouts, which is tops in both leagues. And finally, the 14 complete games he has pitched in his 21 starts indicate he isn't exactly doing it with mirrors.

Koufax realizes how tough it is for any pitcher to win 30 games in this day and age, even with an inflated 162-game schedule.

"If you start every fourth day, like I've been doing, you wind up with 40 to 42 starts over the season," he calculated. "In some of those starts, you don't even figure in the final decision. So where does that leave you?

"I'll tell you where it leaves you," he said, laughing and answering his own question. "For anyone to win 30 games, he must pick up some in the bullpen."

Relief Not In Sight

He has never relieved this year and did so only once all last season, which was cut short for him in August when arm trouble flared up after he had won 19 games and prematurely ended the season for him.

This marks Sandy's fifth All-Star appearance and he says he still gets a kick out of the contest.

"What makes it so enjoyable is that all year long you root against these guys and try to get them out and now you sit back and root for them," he said.

As soon as the game is over, Koufax will stuff his traveling gray uniform in his blue Dodger duffel bag, catch a cab outside the stadium, head for the airport and then to Los Angeles where the Dodgers resume against the Cubs Thursday night.

"All the players have a lot of fun in this one, he said, meaning the All - Star game. "But in a couple of days, it's back to work."

Dolphins 5th At Amarillo

AMARILLO — The Pampa Dolphin Swim Club finished fifth in the Amarillo Regional Swim Meet last week-end. The club compiled 135 points, three points behind fourth place Wichita Falls. Had it not been for disqualifications and scratches they could have beaten Wichita Falls and possibly the third place team, Perryton.

An outstanding effort was made by Brad Cooper, who won the boys 9-10 age group 50 meter freestyle, 100 meter freestyle placed 2nd in the 50 meter backstroke, 4th in the 50 meter breaststroke, 6th in the 50 meter Individual Medley, and won the 50 meter butterfly, but was disqualified. The disqualification cost Brad the high point trophy in the 9-10 age group.

Scott Rader, swimming in boys open competition, won the 400 meter Individual Medley, placed second in the 100 meter freestyle, 100 meter breaststroke, and third in the 100 meter butterfly, and 200 freestyle, compiling enough points in these events to win the boys open division (15 and over) individual high point trophy.

One other spectacular performance was put on by Rick Low, anchor swimmer on Pampa's 11-12 age group 200 meter freestyle relay team. Low caught Perryton s swimmer in the last 10 yards and outtagged him by .2 for a second place. The Dolphins next meet is at Big Spring July 17.

Pampa AL Wins, Nats Lose 11-10

DUMAS — Slugging David Schaub and fire-balling Johnny Marsh led Pampa's American League Babe Ruth all-stars to a 10-3 win over Fritch North (Stinnett) yesterday while Pampa National lost a free-swinging 11-10 decision to Plainview National in the opening round of the regional Babe Ruth Tournament.

Pampa National and Fritch North meet in the consolation bracket at 2 p. m. today, while winners Pampa American and Plainview tangle tomorrow at 2 p. m.

Marsh hurled a two-hitter for the win, but was wild as a March hare, getting in frequent trouble as he walked eight batters. The lanky righty pulled himself out of trouble with 10 strikeouts, backed by his mates' potent bats.

Pampa scored twice in the third inning, broke it open with six in the fifth, and then iced it down with two more tallies in the sixth stanza. Schaub was the big gun with a double and two singles, backed by Lonzo Gomez with a double and single and Tommy McDonald with two singles.

Plainview came from three runs behind with a six-run sixth inning to hold off the Pampa Nats. Plainview scored the first run off starter Jim Lang. Pampa took a 2-1 lead in their half. Both teams scored heavily in the fourth inning, with Lang's two-run homer giving Pampa an 8-5 lead until the fatal sixth, when Plainview knocked Lang out of the box and then wrapped it up off loser Mike Pursley.

Pampa scored two in the top of the seventh, but Plainview finally got them out. Alvin Joe Achord and Jim Cornutt led Pampa's hitting.

Dodgers Rack Sonics, Lead

By United Press International

The Albuquerque Dodgers jumped to a season - high lead Monday night, lacing the Amarillo Sonics 10-6.

The win put the Dodgers eight games in front of the Texas League's Western Division.

The Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs took a narrow half game lead in the East, whipping El Paso 9-7. Tulsa and Austin split a pair of games, Austin winning the first 3-2 and Tulsa taking the nightcap 2-0.

Albuquerque showed off its powerful batting array last night, unwinding for eight runs in the eighth inning to swamp Amarillo.

Ralston Leads Clay Courts

CHICAGO (UPI) — Eleven seeded players, headed by top U. S. amateur Dennis Ralston, today moved into the second round of play in the National Clay Courts tennis championships at the suburban River Forest, Ill., Tennis Club.

Only Carol Aucamp, St. Louis, third seeded among the women, failed to get by the first round Monday. She did not appear for her match and the win was awarded by default to Ssuan Sterrett of River Forest.

Nats Favorite In Today's Tilt

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (UPI)—Juan Marichal pitching, Willie Mays leading off, power-hitting Hank Aaron batting second and fleet Maury Wills batting eighth.

That was part of the over-all artillery which the National League threw at the American League today in major league baseball's 36th All-Star game.

The American League counterparts were Milt Pappas on the mound, Dick McAuliffe leading off and Earl Battey batting eighth.

It looked like a mis-match and the betting odds reflected it.

They made the National League a 7 to 5 favorite to go ahead for the first time in this series dating back to 1933.

NL Has Edge

On paper, the National League, led by Gene Mauch, the manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, appeared to have more of an edge than those odds reflected.

It looked like the NL had more power, more speed and more pitching in this contest which brought All-Star competition to the north country for the first time.

But it's on the diamond of Metropolitan Stadium, located midway between Minneapolis and St. Paul, where the game is going to be decided so Manager Al Lopez of the American League was not concerned about that paper advantage.

"We also have power, speed and pitching," he insisted. "You can throw everything that has happened before this season out of the books.

"This is one game and we have all the tools we need to win it."

Playing At Home

Lopez pointed out that his club had one advantage that the records don't show.

"We're playing in a ball park our players know," he said. "That should help."

It better or otherwise for the first time since this All-Star competition started in 1933 the National League will go out in front. Up to now it has been 17 victories for each league with one game ending in a tie.

And Lopez hasn't been of any help to the American League in the past. He had managed the All-Stars five times previously and always wound up on the losing side.

Mauch never has managed an All-Star team before and the unorthodox pilot of the Phillies made no bones about the fact that he was going all out to win.

He not only came up with a batting order which went against the book but also chose Marichal to start, although the right-handed pitching star of the San Francisco Giants has had only two days rest.

Had Easy Game

"But he had an easy game beating us on Saturday," Mauch explained, "and he likes to work."

He could have chosen Jim Maloney of the Reds, who has not pitched since Friday—giving him the usual three days rest between starts.

"It's a good bet," Mauch added, "that Maloney will be my second pitcher."

Under All-Star rules, a pitcher can not go more than three innings unless the game goes into extra innings.

Despite a weather forecast which indicated there may be showers late in the day, a sell-out crowd of 47,000 was assured for this first All-Star game here since the Twins came to the north country from Washington after the 1961 season.

The thunderstorms which fell during the night were expected to stop well before game time.

Should rain interfere this afternoon, the game will be postponed until night. If further postponement is necessary, the game will be re-scheduled for 11 a.m. CDT Wednesday.

The scheduled starting time for today's game was 1, p.m. CDT.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS

TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Had Enough of Freedom?

"Why did men, women and children eke out their meager existence for 6,000 years, toiling desperately from dawn to dark -barefoot, half-naked, unwashed, unshaved, uncombed, with lousy hair, mangy skins, and rotting teeth—

"Then suddenly - in one place on Earth there is an abundance of such things as rayon underwear, nylon hose, shower baths, safety razors, ice cream cones, lipsticks, and permanent waves?"

This is the question, posed and answered by the late Henry Grady Weaver in his history of freedom and how NOT to lose it, "The Mainspring of Human Progress." Published originally in 1947, rights to the book passed, on the author's death, to the Foundation for Economic Education which is republishing it now in a critical moment of our own history when this nation teeters between freedom and socialism. The new, paper-backed edition, now in bookstores, sells at the lowest price ever (95 cents), and President Leonard E. Read of FEE is urging patriots to keep a supply on hand for friends, associates, employes who may be tranquilized by the something-for-nothing siren songs of the "Great Society." Rather, he thinks, we should listen to this late friend, Weaver, who goes on to say:

"It is incredible, if we pause to reflect! Swiftly, in less than a hundred years, Americans have conquered the darkness of night, the weather, pain and disease-even space and time!

". . . What has been responsible for this unprecedented burst of progress, which has so quickly transformed a hostile wilderness into the most prosperous and advanced country the world has ever known?

". . . There is just one answer. There can be no other. We in the United States of America have made more effective use of human energy than any other people on the face of the globe-anywhere or at any time."

And a reading of "Mainspring" will impress on Americans, as nothing else we have seen, that the human energy on which to continue and press forward must be our own - not the energy of the dreamers of the White House staff, the appropriators in Congress, the administrative bureaucrats - all of whom create not a thing!

Here's You if You Smoke—or Don't

Are you "restless, nervous extroverted, energetic, thrill-seeking, independent and academically oriented toward the social sciences and engineering"?

If so, you probably smoke too much as well.

Or perchance you are "puritanical, conservative, stable, agreeable, dependable, religious and oriented toward the physical sciences and engineering"?

Then you probably don't smoke at all.

These at any rate are some of the characteristics turned up by John Pflaum, a behavioral scientist at the University of Wisconsin, who investigated the personalities of smokers and nonsmokers.

Despite their other admirable traits and cigarette advertisements to the contrary, men who smoke are, as a group, he says, more feminine than those who don't and are less inclined to participate in sports. Those who smoke may be symbolically searching for masculinity.

Other Pflaum contentions you may want to put in your pipe and — er, think about:

—Nonsmokers are better marriage prospects than smokers.

—Heavy smokers are more creative than nonsmokers.

—Nonsmokers are chosen more frequently by the U. S. Navy; heavy smokers get drafted into the Army.

—Among high school and college students, "smoking reflects a lack of involvement in the scholastic program and an attempt to obtain satisfactions outside the school environment."

—For some youngsters, smoking may be a compromise solution to the inability to enjoy other pleasures which society frowns upon.

In times of famine, tobacco is often chosen by starving poeple in preference to food.

Time to Holler

"Contrary to what one might conclude from news reports," advises General Bonner Fellers, national chairman of the Citizens Foreign Aid Committee (which is against it), most of the President's foreign aid requests have NOT yet been passed by Congress. Consequently, there is yet time to register protests against the Congress making available to AID bureaucrats this monstrous $18 billion handout.

"EIGHTEEN Billion," that's what the man said! And he refers to the latest advice from the redoubtable Otto E. Passman of Louisiana, and Chairman — for ten years — of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Foreign Operations.

In a letter being circulated by the General's CFAC, Rep. Passman notes that 15 requests for foreign aid funds so far this year actually total $7,512,467,000., and that unspent money previously appropriated for these 15 items adds up to $10,605,738,000. Thus, if Congress were to grant all 15 requests, the Federal spenders would have the "staggering total" of $18,118,205,000 to spend — more than the value of all the gold left in Fort Knox, and at a time when we owe $40 billion more than the debts of all other nations put together!

Most deceitful, perhaps, is the fact that only the first of the 15 foreign aid items listed by Rep. Passman is (in his own words) "ever mentioned publicly as being foreign aid." The taxpayers are obviously supposed to think that "Foreign Assistance Requests, (Mutual Security)," adding up to $3,459,470,000, represent the sum total of foreign aid demands. At least, that's all we hear about.

But here's the rest of the Passman foreign aid list; Receipts and recoveries from previous credits, $209.77 million; Military Assistance Advisory vious credits, $209.77 million; Military Assistance Advisory Group, $76 million; Export-Import Bank (long-term credits), $900 million; P.L. 480 (Agricultural Commodities), $1.658 billion (b); Inter-American Development Bank (Latin America) $705.88 million; International Development Assn., $104 million; Peace Corps, $115 million; Contributions to International Orgs., $96.953 million; Perm. Const. Overseas (Military, $85.986 million; Educational (Foreign and other students), $69.2 million; Ryuku Islands, $14.733 million; Migrants & Refugees, $7.575 million; Atomic Energy Comm. (Overseas), $5.9 million; Inter-American Highway (Latin America), $4.0 million.

Over the years, Rep. Passman has cut some $10 billion in foreign aid requests. Now, he'd like your help — if you're shocked enough to demand to know why only the first of these 15 items is ever presented to the public as foreign aid!

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING

Americans form Hawaii to Maine should be deeply concerned over what is happening in the Southern section of the United States. For the forms of political blackmail now being applied in these states could be used against states and individual communities anywhere in the Republic.

Doctors and educators in the South have an extraordinary story to tell concerning events of recent weeks. And for the political health and safety of the American people in years to come, one can only hope that people outside the South will be attentive to the recitation of facts.

What has happened is that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the U. S. Office of Education have set up guidelines for medical institutions and school districts. These guidelines, which are detailed to an astonishing degree, have only a weak foundation in the law. But the bureaucrats, acting on orders of the White House, are not worrying about the shaky constitutionality of their actions. They are using the federal money power — the threat to cut off grants and aid — to force hospitals and schools into line. Gone is all semblance of constitutional order by means of action through the courts. Gone is the judicial policy of "all deliberate speed" in dealing with complex social and human problems. Instead, there is supposed to be immediate compliance with plans for medical centers and schools—plans which in many cases are utterly unreasonable and which will work hardships on the communities and people affected.

Americans should wake up to what is going on. Indeed one wonders whether people in Oregon or Nebraska, for instance, have any idea that hospital administrators in Southern States have been effectively deprived of the administration of their institutions. In one hospital in the South, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare instigated appointment of a special advisory committee made up of NAACP officials, who conduct regular checks of a hospital to see that each ward has a numerically satisfactory salt and pepper arrangement of patients.

The Atlanta Times recently cited a federal memorandum which states: "Staff investigating hospitals in connection with Civil Rights compliance must determine the racial distribution of patients among rooms and wards and must evaluate the the bed placement of the hospital as it actually is applied in terms of the laws of probability."

What is involved here is a guessing game by zealots, not the application of any statute through the normal administrative and-or judicial channels. The country also has a situation in in which agitation groups in effect have been turned into vigilantes serving the bureaucrats. The result is an incredible harassment of doctors and administrators, which in time can only lead to poor medical service and the flight of competent physicians who refuse to work in a situation in which political decisions come before medical competence.

In another situation, one Southern state is threatened with the loss of $1 million in federal aid to the mentally retarded because one institution has declined to admit Negro patients — the reason being that the institution already is filled to capacity and has a long waiting list. Truly, the instances of federal injustice are being multiplied week by week.

This is not the American way. In the South today, states, cities, counties and school districts are being indirectly taken over by government decree. Elected officials and trustees are having their lawful authority usurped by bureaucrats and their helpers among the agitators.

Today, in the South, no bayonets are being used against American citizens. But the application of unconstitutional power is just as ruthless and destructive of liberties. The method now in use is a threat to cut off funds, which the states and communities involved help provide through tax payments. There is only one word for the cruel, sophisticated theft of freedom now taking place—the word is tyranny.

Hope of a Negotiated Settlement in Viet Nam Currently Rests on Secret Negotiations by U Thant

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — UN Secretary General U Thant is the man to watch in the backstage maneuvering over Viet Nam.

By mutual U.S. and Russian consent, the UN official has become the prime negotiator for a political settlement of the growing but still-tightly-controlled Viet Nam war.

Although there was no official announcement, President Johnson agreed to U Thant's role during their private, hour-long meeting at the San Francisco anniversary ceremonies of the UN's founding.

Soviet officials, who signaled their approval through regular diplomatic channels before U Thant arrived in San Francisco, already have used the mediator to float one trial balloon, as did President Johnson.

These and other still-secret diplomatic developments on Viet Nam were revealed in a confidential memorandum of the Johnson-U Thant meeting circulating among top administration policy-makers.

This guideline paper also clearly indicates that both U.S. and Russian officials believe the Viet Nam confrontation will expand unless political discussions acceptable to both sides can be agreed upon.

According to U Thant, the Communists would consent to peace talks if the U.S. stopped bombing North Viet Nam and agreed to negotiate directly with the Viet Cong as well as the North Vietnamese.

He stated the Russians made it clear the North Vietnamese would not be drawn to the conference table by another five-day "pause" in the bombing, as tried out by the U.S. in May, unless the other terms are met in advance.

This Soviet proposal was presented to President Johnson as the minimum Communist precondition for entering into talks with the U.S. and South Viet Nam. Until the terms are accepted, the Russians indicated they plan to arm the North Vietnamese with all the weapons they can use — including an assortment of missiles.

THE U.S. PROPOSAL—President Johnson, while indicating that their conditions were unacceptable, again dangled massive economic aid before the Communists in a counter-proposal.

He offered major roles to Communist China and North Viet Nam, as well as Russia, in a multi-billion dollar development plan for Southeast Asia — provided all aggression against South Viet Nam were halted.

The President stressed his sincerity by pointing out he was pledging $300 million to launch the project and already had assigned Eugene Black, former head of the World Bank, to organize the necessary agencies to handle this massive undertaking.

Although the U.S. would supply most of the financing, the President said the development program, which would first center around the Mekong River, should be headed by an Asian.

In time, the President said, the program could be expanded to include projects throughout all of Asia, including Communist China, and extend to Iran and Pakistan.

U Thant displayed keen interest and advance knowledge of the President's proposal, and agreed to have the UN Economic Commission for Asia arrange a meeting in New York on July 22-23 to discuss how the project can be launched and ways of interesting Communist nations to participate. The proposal, he said, would be transmitted to Moscow, Peiping and Hanoi.

The President said he would send Black as his representative at the New York conference, and indicated he would personally go to the United Nations in September to push the project in the General Assembly.

OTEPKA CASE — The lid is finally going to be lifted on the suppressed testimoy before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee in the Otto Otepka case.

After probing more than two years efforts by high State Department officials to oust the veteran security officer, the subcommittee plans to publish the whole peculiar affair around July 19.

The first part of the 1,500,000 words of secret testimony, revealing a series of conflicting statements by department officials, will deal with Otepka's findings on William Wieland, controversial State Department expert on Cuba.

It shows that Otepka's problems with his superiors dated from his first appearance before the subcommittee in 1961 when he testified that irregular procedures had been used by other officials to clear Wieland.

Wieland, who still holds an important position in the department, was instrumental in shaping U.S. policy toward Cuba both before and after Castro seized power.

According to committee members the testimony on Wieland will be followed by the release of 30 other volumes during the summer and fall.

Senator James Eastland, D-Miss., chairman, is privately telling other senators the mountain of testimony will disclose a determined and well-planned effort to oust Otepka because of his untiring work to root out security risks.

In their report to be issued with the testimony, the senators will recommend that all charges against Otepka be dropped and that he be immediately reinstated as the department's chief security evaluator.

With Secretary of State Rusk privately saying he will never consent to Otepka's getting back his old job, the Senate findings are expected to touch off a new bitter debate in Congress over the State Department's entire security program.

WASHINGTON:

Reds Seeking New Trend In Military

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — An analysis of the missiles paraded in Moscow indicates several new trends in Soviet military planning.

—Apparently there is a major shift away from the mammoth nuclear warheads the Russians have boastfully predicted they would turn to.

The 110-foot rocket the Russians paraded in Moscow will be able to carry loads larger than the U.S. Titan II, but not a great deal larger. Certainly it will not carry the 30, 50 or 100-megaton weapons the Soviet Union has said it would be prepared to drop on American targets in time of war.

Soviet planning appears to be geared to a vast increase in range rather than on a hefty increase in punch.

—New Soviet emphasis seems to be put on a Moscow version of the Minuteman concept. (One high U.S. officer calls it the Minutemansky.) That is, they apparently are aiming for a smaller, cheap, quick-reacting intercontinental ballistic missile intended to deliver small loads precisely on target.

The 65-foot missile paraded in Moscow presumably would get the Russians into the "lower yield" accurate ICBM field. The Reds then would not be limited in ICBM capacity wholly to city destruction.

These missiles also would seem to indicate an increased preciseness in Soviet electronic guidance as applied to relatively small packages, an area in which they had been thought to lag well behind the United States.

—The squat "iron maiden" nuclear rocket paraded in Moscow on its own tracked, self-propelled vehicle points to a growing Moscow emphasis on mobile medium-range nuclear weapons integrated into Soviet ground armies.

Indications are that this weapon carries a punch as heavy or heavier than the U.S. Army can tote into the field in the Pershing or Sergeant. Its estimated range of 1,100 miles is several times as great as any U.S. mobile army weapon.

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara ordered research on a mobile intermediate range ballistic missile for the United States and North Atlantic Treaty Organization armies. But the project was almost wholly canceled out some time back. Only some peripheral work, usable in other systems, it is understood, is being continued.

McNamara's argument now is that in an overseas war — as in Europe — the Army's heavy nuclear punch can be delivered by the Navy's Polaris submarines.

—The Soviet Union apparently is developing a capability for sending its rockets into the United States from any direction, not just by the direct route over the North Pole.

The 110-foot rocket shown in the Moscow V-E Day parade reportedly has an orbital capability. This means the warhead could be put into orbit and then brought down when and where Moscow decides. It also means that the nuclear warhead could be fired around the world in any direction at an American target, thus making defense more difficult.

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT

JUDGES AND CRIME

The rampaging crime wave now engulfing virtually every major city in the United States is creating intolerable conditions for law-abiding citizens. It is obvious that this crime wave has long since passed the point where it can be halted by any attempt at "rehabilitating" the criminals.

Public - spirited Americans, whether called Left or Right in their political beliefs, are now concentrating on more effective law enforcement as a means of coping with crime. Spending on police forces and hiring of policemen is rapidly increasing.

More public support for the police is urged. Certainly this is badly needed. But in America today it is not enough simply to improve the police force in order to enforce the law. It is also necessary to improve the judges in our criminal courts.

If objective law still ruled in American courts, one would hesitate long before criticizing judges whose decisions adhered consistently to a known, pre-existing and logical structure of law. But the popular, accepted doctrine today is that the law is whatever a judge may say that it is.

If judges are to be allowed to exercise this kind of unlimited discretionary authority, we at least have the right to insist that they be held responsible for their use of it. In the face of the present crime wave, any policy of giving known criminals legal advantages over their prosecutors is utterly irresponsible.

Any prospective judge should be thoroughly tested on his view of crime and criminals before being seated on the bench.

Wit and Whimsy

English — The universal language, spoken almost everywhere now except in England and Boston.

Wise taxation — Plucking the goose so it won't squawk.

He (after long silence, looking at clock) — Is that an eight day clock?

She (very bored) — Well, why not stay a little longer and find out!

The man who has ceased to fear has ceased to care.

Dora — Why are kisses like the creation?

Dolly — They are made of nothing and are very good.

Champ Clark loved to tell of how in the heat of a debate Congressman Johnson of Indiana called an Illinois representative a jackass. The expression was unparliamentary, and in retraction Johnson said:

Johnson — While I withdraw the unfortunate word, Mr. Speaker, I must inist that the gentleman from Illinois is out of order.

Man from Illinois — How am I out of order?

Johnson — Probably a veterinary surgeon could gell you. (and that was parliamentary enough to stay on the record.)

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank Markey

We learned recently it's possible to buy the list of automobile owners in any one of the 50 states, and some enterprising businessman recently paid $75,000 for the list from New York state. Too, according to our informant, the Diner's Club list with 680,000 members can be purchased by any legitimate business firm for about $17,000. Such things are invaluable in any kind of a state-wide or national promotional campaign.

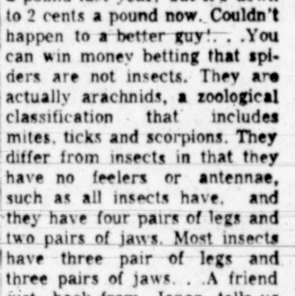

Today's smile: The manager of a department store noticed a salesgirl showing a variety of merchandise to a male customer. The customer lingered for several minutes then left. The manager asked: "Why didn't that man buy anything? What did he want to see?" The salegirl said, "Me, after work tonight."

Buffalo, N. Y., was named after the American bison, which once roamed that region. Back in colonial times the Indians named a stream in that vicinity Buffalo Creek because it was a watering place for bison who drank at a salt spring that welled up about three miles from its mouth. . . Because 50 per cent of all shoplifters are teen-agers a New York department store hires teen-agers to spot them. . . Perhaps you knew it all along, but we were surprised to learn that printing is the nation's seventh largest industry. . . . In all 10 Canadian provinces the "welcome" sign is out for Americans this summer. That's because 12 million Americans spent their vacations there last year and our northern neighbors love that U.S. moola.

Thoughts while shaving: Within the next year your filling station man will be selling you a quart of motor oil in a pouch instead of a can. Some one recently invented a plastic pouch that is more easily stored and is disposable afterward. The oil companies are said to like them. . . Incidentally, the nation's gasoline filling stations sell about 1.5 billion quarts of motor oil every year. . .We chuckled recently when we read about Castro boasting about Cuba's big sugar crop. Fidel failed to note that the sweet stuff sold for 12 cents a pound last year, but it's down to 2 cents a pound now. Couldn't happen to a better guy! . . .You can win money betting that spiders are not insects. They are actually arachnids, a zoological classification that includes mites, ticks and scorpions. They differ from insects in that they have no feelers or antennae, such as all insects have, and they have four pairs of legs and two pairs of jaws. Most insects have three pair of legs and three pairs of jaws. . .A friend just back from Japan tells us jinrickshas, the two-wheeled taxis of Nippos drawn by "rickshа boys" are disappearing. Although they were typical of Japan they were actually invented by an English missionary, Rev. M. B. Bailey, back in the 1870's. . .Some of the new supersively golf balls have been declared illegal by the U.S. Golf Association because they give unfair advantage. That shouldn't bother you duffers unless you're playing in a tourney. . .The Indianapolis (Ind.) NEWS headlined a story: "Doctor Kicks At Pointed Shoes." That's better than being kicked by 'em.

Country Editor speaking: "The hardest thing to tell about politicians when they're running is where they stand."

Fact

The derivation of words, particularly strange-sounding ones, fascinates many people. For example, from where does the word "caddie" come? The term, which describes a messenger boy or one who carries golf clubs, is derived from "cadet," meaning younger son, through the Scots' form "caddee." The same is true of the origin of the word "cad," an ill-bred person.
