THE 32nd annual Panhandle-South Plains fair will rush into the first of several climaxes today after a highly satisfactory opening Monday which attracted a paid attendance of 4,371.

This will be the traditional Lubbock day, with schools closing at noon and the stores at 1 p. m. so that everyone can attend the fair.

Several special features have been arranged for the very special occasion. Bargain prices for children will prevail on the Forsythe and Dowis carnival midway —5 cents for the "kiddie" rides, and 9 to 14 cents for most of the others.

TUESDAY

Lubbock day; Abernathy, Amarillo, Canyon, Floydada, Friona, Hale Center, Happy, Kress, Lehman, Littlefield, Lockney, Muleshoe, Silverton, Snyder, Tulia and Turkey day.

Entertainment Thrills

The Lucky Loft "Hell Drivers" will present the first of their two performances in front of the grandstand at 2 p. m., a two-hour show of many thrills.

Hugo Zacchini, known as the human cannonball, will perform twice, at 6 p. m. and 10:30 p. m., in one of the most spectacular acts ever presented at a Panhandle-South Plains fair. His is a free act on the midway.

The climax of Lubbock day will be the second performance of the musical revue, "A Trip to Wonderland," which more than measured in the opening presentation Monday night to its advance billing as topflight entertainment. Larry Griswould, in particular, proved a close approximation of a one-man riot in a comedy trampoline act.

Parmer County First

Among the many opening day highlights Monday was the completion of judging in the agriculture department and in the Hereford division of the livestock department.

In the agriculture department, Parmer county took the blue ribbon in the county exhibit division, repeating the victory scored in 1947. Floyd county, which won last year, placed second.

In the vocational agriculture division, Lamesa High school won top honors, with Roosevelt placing second and Tahoka third.

In the veterans vocational agriculture division, Idalou placed first, with Becton, Slaton, Shallo-

THIS IS ONLY "PRACTICE" — It's a rigorous training grind that "Lucky" Lott and his daredevils go through to keep in shape for their dangerous feats with high-powered automobiles. Lott and his troupe will go through their tricks Tuesday and Saturday afternoons at the 32nd Panhandle-South Plains fair. In the picture above, made Monday afternoon during a training session, Vic Caldwell, from Kannapolis, N. C., is apparently enjoying life as a full-sized stock car runs over him on a small ramp. Caldwell takes the full weight of the car under the board, believe it or not. At left, crouching, Lott himself watches and offers advice. The car was driven by Harley Cook of Houston. WESTERN ALLIES BACK BARUCH CONTROL PROGRAM

Red Atom Plan Rejected

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Britain's Foreign Secretary Bevin declared in the United Nations today that the Western Powers will stand on the vetoless assembly-approved Baruch plan for atom control.

This followed reliable information that the United States policy on atomic control plans remains unchanged and there will be no hasty decisions in the wake of disclosure that Russia has the atom bomb.

John Dewey Hickerson, assistant secretary of state in charge of atomic affairs, returned to the assembly from a weekend of discussions at Washington on this issue and indicated that Russia's possession of the atom bomb will not stampede the United States into hasty decisions on atomic control.

Charges Called 'Stupid'

The Washington talks laid down the policy that the closed-door discussions of the big six sponsoring powers—as far as the U. S. is concerned—are to continue until the Russians demonstrate whether they will permit a compromise.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky listened glumly as Bevin branded charges against western atomic policies "stupid." Bevin assailed Vishinsky for continually decrying the Baruch scheme.

The British statesman pinned the guilt for failure to achieve control squarely on the Soviet Union. He said:

"If they (the Russians) had been willing to come out of their shell, to raise their curtain and open the way to the system of control approved by the assembly—which we and others believe to be the only workable and effective system yet devised—there might well have been effective prohibition today."

Declaration Cited

Bevin cited the 1945 declaration of Britain, Canada and the United States calling for elimination of the atomic weapon, and the assembly's approval of that step.

He said the West stands on that and "we are ready to take all constructive steps to give effect to it."

Bevin devoted considerable time to the atom bomb, and deviated from his prepared text to state:

"It is obvious that anyone who really wants to satisfy mankind that an end is put to this most terrible weapon will agree to a convention with an adequate system of control and inspection.

"The convention on gas warfare was an ineffective convention because it left the enforcement to the individual signatory governments."

In another alteration of his text, the British foreign secretary declared:

"In spite of frustrations, it is the people's will that we should go forward and not lose sight of the great objectives we have set before us—and that all mankind has set before us:

"Universal peace, universal brotherhood and means to settle our dispute without resort to force."

The assembly, meanwhile, agreed unanimously to consider Vishinsky's three-point proposal

U.S. SECRETS CLAIMED STOLEN

GOP Senator Opens New Attack On Security Program Of AEC

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) charged today that "loose security policies" of the Atomic Energy commission enabled Russian spies to steal U. S. secrets which sped Soviet A-bomb production.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.), of the Congressional Atomic Energy committee, immediately came to the defense of the AEC. He declared that "Russia must have been far along the path toward an atomic bomb in early 1947, when the civilian AEC took over from the Manhattan engineer district."

AEC Is Defended

McMahon said that "if there were important security leaks, they occurred under Manhattan district and not under the present commission. McMahon declared:

"We . . . know from the Canadian spy trials that as early as 1943 and probably even sooner a Soviet espionage ring was actively seeking atomic secrets.

"We also know that before World War II even began, the fundamental work upon the nucleus of the atom that paved the way for the development of an atomic bomb had been accomplished in many countries and was thoroughly known to scientists throughout the world.

"However, Russia has the bomb today because its development was largely a matter of time and hard work."

Accord Believed Near

McMahon said that "we must concentrate all our energy and wisdom not upon seeking an innocent scapegoat but upon finding a solution for the problem that confronts us."

Hickenlooper blasted the AEC as the U. S., Britain and Canada were reported near agreement on the question of establishing an atomic weapon stockpile in England to counter Russian possession of the bomb.

President Truman was informed that "real progress" is being made in secret talks between American, British and Canadian atomic experts and was promised a complete blueprint for three-

Big Four Austrian Peace Parley Fails

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (INS)—Foreign minsters of the Big Four conferred for three and one-half hours today in an unsuccessful effort to end their deadlock on an Austrian peace treaty.

The ministers who met in a surprise session at the Waldorf Astoria hotel decided to renew their attempt at reaching agreement in a further meeting on Wednesday.

An American State department spokesman, in confirming that the Big Four remain deadlocked on the Austrian problem, said at the conclusion of the private meeting that the session ended with "little or no progress."

The talks were the first by the foreign policy chiefs on Austria since they last met in Paris in June.

TITO'S PROTEST IS REJECTED

Hungary Orders Ouster Of Ten Members Of Yugoslav Legation

By EUGENE SZATMARY
INS Staff Correspondent

BUDAPEST, Sept. 26—Hungary ordered the expulsion of 10 members of the Yugoslav legation in Budapest tonight as alleged spies and conspirators against the Communist regime.

The diplomats and their aides were given 24 hours in which to get out of the country.

The latest Hungarian blow against Marshal Tito's government in the Belgrade-Cominform fight came 48 hours after the conviction of six persons by a Budapest court as leaders of an alleged plot to overthrow the government with the aid of Tito and the United States.

Laszlo, Rajk, former Hungarian foreign minister, was one of three defendants sentenced to death at conclusion of the trial. The others were given prison terms ranging up to life.

Bitter Note Answered

The Hungarian expulsion order covered all members of the Yugoslav legation with the exception of Minister Javanovic himself.

Included were the first counsellor of the legation, Dusam Sakota.

Senate-House Group Okays Full Arms Aid

By GLENN M. GREEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Senate-House conferees swiftly agreed today on a full $1,314,010,000 anti-Communist arms bill and approved a Pacific security pact as an emphatic answer to Russia's atomic explosion.

Stimulated by news that the Soviets have achieved an atomic blast, House conferees agreed to the higher Senate version of the bill to militarily equip anti-Communist nations.

Simultaneously, Sen. Connally (D-Tex), chairman of the Senate conferees, announced that the joint committee also agreed to adopt a House provision for a Pacific pact to match the North Atlantic security treaty.

Early Approval Seen

However, the Pacific formation would differ in that the United States would not be a member nation. The House language would show that Congress favors such an international security setup.

The accord on the size of the arms aid program removed virtually all the stumbling blocks to early approval of a compromise bill.

Connally said he thought the conferees will complete their work Tuesday.

The House had allowed an overall total of only $819,500,000 and had slashed aid to European nations in half.

The agreement thus represented a victory for the Senate conferees and reflected the great concern with which Congress views the Russian atomic blast news.

Far East Aid Retained

The conferees also agreed to retain the $75 million voted by the Senate for use in the Far East at the President's discretion. The provision was included at the urging of senators favoring aid to China.

Also included in the agreement was a Senate amendment allowing arms-aid funds for re-tooling of European arms factories and purchasing of raw materials. The amendment bans spending the money for new war plants.

Ex-Levelland Girl Reveals Robbery

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26 (AP)—Three young men were booked on suspicion of robbery today after a former Levelland, Tex., waitress, friend of one of them, linked the other two to an El Paso, Tex., robbery and slugging.

The girl is Margaret Smith, 18, who gave her home as New Orleans. In custody are Ferguson Chapman, 23; Jack Price, 26, and John Barnett, 26.

Miss Smith told Detectives H. W. Killeby and Roy Saunders that after her parents died in New Orleans she went to El Paso, where she met Chapman, with whom she fell in love, and Price.

Says Friend Needed Help

The detectives quoted her as saying she saw the two men rob and brutally slug an elderly man in the Texas city. Det. Capt. Roy Vaughn said El Paso police verified details of the robbery and beating and reported that the victim is in critical condition in a hospital.

The girl said she informed police because Chapman "is too nice a guy to pull stickups. I had to tell somebody who would help him."

THREE INDUSTRIES THREATENED

Nation Faces Labor Crisis As Strike Peril Increases

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—The nation faced the year's worst labor crisis today with strikes threatening in the steel, auto and maritime industries. Walkouts already plagued the coal and rubber industries.

Federal labor experts pinned their hopes for a way out of the morass of labor troubles on two notions. First, that a settlement in one industry might chart a path for the others. Second, that news of Russia's new atomic power may spur domestic labor peace.

But the labor peace prospects look dim at the start of a possibly fateful week for the country's labor relations. There was no indication that any agreement was in sight in the important steel negotiations. Friday night at midnight is the new deadline for a steel strike already three times postponed.

Violence Feared

Neither side would say at the end of today's sessions whether any progress had been made. They will meet again tomorrow.

Officers Here Urge Extra Precautions To Prevent Thefts

Following three burglaries in Lubbock Sunday, police officials cautioned Lubbock residents and visitors to the Panhandle-South Plains fair to be especially careful to lock automobiles and homes when leaving them.

Police Chief Lewis Kittrell and Sheriff Grady Harrist gave special warning not to leave keys in automobiles as an encouragement to theft.

The warnings came on the heels of breakins and a rash of minor thefts over the week-end. Usually this time of year, such thefts from cars parked over the city, especially on weekends when such autos may have recently purchased merchandise in them, increase rapidly.

In past years, many automobiles have been stolen at the fair and during the fall season, usually to be driven until the fuel is used up, then the car quite often has been stripped of everything that can be pried loose.

Taken from autos have been such items as spare tires, clothing, outside mirrors, fender skirts, fog lights, radios and even batteries.

To avoid inviting such incidents, Chief Kittrell Monday said car owners should roll up all windows and lock

Cooler, Dry Weather Predicted For Area

The biggest blue ribbon of the Panhandle-South Plains fair may go to the Weatherman, who came up with near-perfect weather for opening day Monday and predicted cooler but rainless weather for today and Wednesday.

A new, but mild, cool front is slated to move onto the South Plains today, possibly as early as 10 a. m., but the forecaster said the front would lower temperatures only slightly.

Skies will be partly cloudy today and Wednesday, the Weatherman said, but rain chances are dim. However, he noted Monday showers in the Texas Panhandle and at Clovis, N. M., which could move onto parts of the South Plains.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE DEMANDED

Labor Government Stakes Life On Approval Of Economic Policy

(By International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 26.— The British Labor government confidentially staked its life today on a motion of confidence calling on Parliament to approve its devaluation policy.

The motion was approved at a cabinet meeting and will come to a vote at conclusion of a three-day debate on monetary and economic policy which begins in Parliament tomorrow.

On a second front in the government's struggle for support, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps met with leaders of the powerful Trades Union congress in an attempt to get eight million workers to forego general wage increases.

Accompanying Cripps to the vital meeting were Labor Minister George Isaacs, Health Minister Aneurin Bevan, Education Minister George Tomlinson and Economic Secretary to the Treasury Douglas Jay.

B-29 CRASHES AND BURNS IN OKLAHOMA MOUNTAINS

TALIHINA, Okla., Sept. 26 (AP)—Five bodies were reported seen tonight near the wreckage of an airplane described as an airforce B29 which crashed near this southeast Oklahoma town tonight.

He said five bodies were visible in the glow of the flames but he could not determine if others were buried in the debris.

Officers at Tinker Air Force base in Oklahoma City dispatched a rescue party and investigating team to the scene, approximately 150 miles southeast of Oklahoma City.

MOSCOW STATEMENT AGAIN EMPHASIZES CONTROL NEED

Western Diplomats Studying Soviet Claims Nation Has A-Bomb; Russian Civilians Claim No Surprise

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Sept. 26.—Western diplomats here weighed Moscow's latest bid for atom bomb control today as they studied Russia's claim she has had atomic weapons for at least two years.

The Russian statement—issued yesterday by Tass, official Soviet news agency—was the first official reaction to President Truman's anouncement that evidence had been discovered of a recent atomic blast in Russia.

Previous Claim Recalled

It did not confirm or deny such an explosion, but recalled the statement of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov on Nov. 6, 1947, that the secret of the atom bomb "has long ceased to exist." It said Russia has had atomic weapons since that time.

Observers' attention was focussed mainly on the last two paragraphs of the Tass statement. These paragraphs read:

"It should be pointed out that the Soviet government, despite the existence in its country of an atomic weapon, adopts and intends adopting in the future its atomic position in favor of the absolute prohibition of the use of the atomic weapon.

Control Called Essential

"Concerning control of the atomic weapon, it has to be said that control will be essential in order to check up on fulfillment of a decision on the prohibition of production of the atomic weapon."

(Russia long has urged outlawing the atom bomb and advocated controls to make the ban stick. However, she has turned down the U.S. plan for detailed controls and inspection.)

Referring to Molotov's statement that the atom bomb was no longer secret, Tass asserted:

"This declaration meant that the Soviet Union had already discovered the secret of the atom bomb and it has at its disposal this weapon."

Early Knowledge Claimed

Tass added that U.S. scientists had regarded Molotov's statement as "bluff" because they thought Russia was incapable of developing a bomb before 1952.

"They, however, were mistaken, since the Soviet Union possessed the secret of the atomic weapon already in 1947," the news agency declared.

The Soviet statement had the effect of seeking to plant the idea here and abroad that Russia is much farther advanced than Mr. Truman's announcement about a "recent" explosion would indicate.

Moscow's morning papers today made no reference to yesterday's Tass anouncement.

The Tass announcement appeared to create no great surprise among the Russian people. A number of Russian citizens, when interviewed about the statement, said they had felt all along Russia had atomic weapons.

"Of course we have," said a housewife. "I have never doubted it."

"I always felt," said a painter, "that we had atomic weapons if anyone had them. Now I am sure about it."

A male university student commented: "I think there's now a good chance we all may have an agreement on atomic control."

"Who has ever doubted the Soviet Union had the atomic secret?" asked a taxi driver. "But it is good to have it explained so completely."

"What Molotov said in 1947 was clear enough," said a subway worker. "All Russians understand that he meant our government possessed atomic weapons at that time. This anouncement came as no surprise."

Said a mechanic: "The announcement makes clear our scientists have kept up with or excelled the Americans."

(Editor's note: All news from Moscow must pass the Russian censor and seldom in recent years have interviews with ordinary Russian people been passed.)

Observers Affirm Claim

Some foreign observers—and these include men who have been here a long time—said they felt all along that the Russians knew the secret and probably had perfected some kind of atomic weapon.

One observer said he could find nothing in the Tass statement denying that an explosion had taken place here.

"I am convinced," he said, "that some kind of huge explosion did take place here within recent weeks."

He pointed out that the Russian statement did not say that such an explosion or explosions were caused by an atom bomb, but that it said construction projects are going forward which call for big explosions caused by the newest technical means or devices.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money. adv.

Meet Louis Karg— Another "Do-it-yourself" American

He's on his way up!

Louis A. Karg of Canton, Ohio, was a screw machine operator with ideas and ambitions, and the initiative to do something about them. He took courses in metallurgy on the side. He used his wits to invent a special gauging device for seamless tubing. Result? He won himself a job as machining service engineer at The Timken Roller Bearing Company. Today at 32, he's sales development engineer, a specialist in his field. He's on his way up... he did it on his own!

☆ It's the American Spirit!

YES, LOUIS KARG opened up a "new frontier" for himself . . . on his own Main Street! Like thousands of others, he has the traditional do-it-yourself spirit that finds opportunities in today's America—and makes the most of them.

In your own home town, you'll find another proof that most folks still believe in taking care of their own—on their own. It lies in the fact that 4 out of 5 American families are voluntary owners of life insurance. And through their life insurance they also help open up opportunities for other Americans. For every year many of their life insurance dollars are invested in industries, homes, farms. This means more jobs and better living for everyone. And more security at lower cost for America's 78 million policyowners.

Because more people look to life insurance service every year, life insurance has grown to meet their needs. Today more than 150,000 trained agents and 584 separate life insurance companies compete aggressively and constantly to help Americans help themselves!

It's a Fact...

It's a fact that the affairs of the life insurance business are an "open book," because:

- Every life insurance company has to file a report every year in every state in which it is licensed to do business.
- These reports to the state supervisory authorities completely cover each company's insurance and financial operations. They are open to the public at any time.
- The state authorities also have the right to inquire into any of the company's affairs at any time. And in most states examinations of the company must be made at regular intervals. These examination reports, too, are open to public inspection.

The insurance commissioner at your state capital will welcome inquiries. Or an inquiry to your company or your agent will be gladly answered. See your life insurance agent. Getting information for you is one of the many ways he helps demonstrate that life insurance is a service!

STORY BEHIND WEAPON IS TOLD

Qualms Of Conscience Suffered By A-Bomb Scientists Revealed

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—Wonder if any qualms of conscience gnawed at the makers of Joe Stalin's A-bombs? Our fellows had a real tough time struggling with their better selves while they were in the process of inventing that nefarious nugget which has changed the course of history.

For instance, there was the famous scientist who saw the whole thing through until after the test of our first one at Alamagordo. Then he approached the proper authorities, his eyes still haunted by what he had seen, and made this sincere request:

Early Exit Permitted

"If one is ever dropped on a civilian population, I demand that I be strapped to it in the bomb-bay, and fall with it."

He was transferred into radar work, one of the few who were ever permitted to bow out before it was tried on Hiroshima or Nagasaki.

Another physicist, one of the few important enough to be assigned to the lookout bunker of Prof. J. Robert Oppenheimer (only five and a half miles from the "zero" tower at Alamagordo) cracked emotionally a minute before the world's first nuclear explosion. While the almost mystic Oppenheimer attended to his fantastic duties in this last night of pre-atomic time, the physicist, sitting on a bunk with his head in his hands, kept wailing:

Scientists Form Petition

"Please God . . . don't let it work . . . don't let it work."

After Alamagordo (where a third of the experts on hand feared it wouldn't work, another third thought it would be as terrific as it was, and the other third felt certain it would start a chain reaction in the nitrogen and oxygen atoms which comprise the atmosphere — and thus destroy the world) 60 of the scientists decided to get up a petition.

The petition, addressed to Chief of Staff George C. Marshall, asked that the Japanese be told we had the bomb and that they must immediately capitulate. Marshall was at Potsdam with the President. The petition was turned over to his deputy, Maj. Gen. Thomas T. Handy. General Handy crossly told the scientists that they should read the papers; that Japs were fighting to the last man in the caves of the Pacific islands; and certainly would not surrender under a mere threat of something supernaturally destructive.

Economic Rupture Wrought

The 60 scientists then asked that an A-bomb be demonstrated in some safe area of Tokyo bay, or a deserted section of Japan, and that Hirohito and his war cabinet and top brass be invited to watch it explode. This, too, Handy rejected. We know the rest.

Young scientists working at Oak Ridge, Los Alamos and Hanford could not be automatically deferred in the draft. That would have necessitated telling the civilian draft boards about their work on the embryo bomb. They were allowed to be drafted, had to go through their 13 weeks of basic training, then were transferred back to their old jobs in uniform. This presented unhappy economic ruptures. In some cases, scientists who had been paid as much as $7,500 a year were now asked to do the same work for $50 dollars a month.

Broadcaster Seized

Some rebelled. One such man rose in a crowded drug store in Oak Ridge one night and screamed to the workers that they, fools that they were, didn't know what they were making. He yelled "atomic bomb" a few times. He was firmly but patiently reassigned to a remote weather station in Northern Greenland.

Another scientists, one of the few ever fired while the bomb was being made, spilled the story to a friend who in turn told it to a nationally known broadcaster. The broadcaster devoted 15 minutes of air time to the topic a full year before Alamagordo. The broadcaster was seized as he stepped out of the midwestern studio from which he had spoken. He was flown through the night to Washington and given a bawling out that had him in tears.

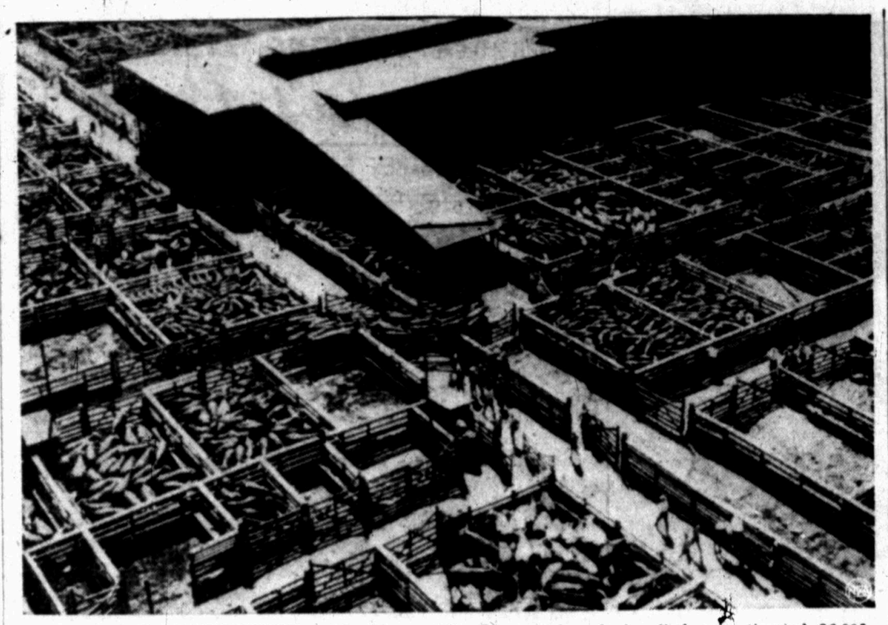

"Are you going to put me in jail?" he asked, wringing his hands.

"Not at all," a general replied. "You're going back on the air tomorrow night. Do you think we'd take you off the air let the public wonder why you stopped broadcasting immediately after talking about something called an atom bomb? You're going back, and you're never, never going to mention it again. See?"

There was trouble from the start with the timeless philosophy of all men of science: That their secrets must be shared, that to serve mankind properly they must recognize no borders. None of the men could ever become accustomed to the code names which were given to them by security officers. It was a chief source of their complaints and they may have had something there, one way you look at it. Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, the University of California cyclotron wizard, became simply "Oscar"—because Oscard Wilde wrote "The Importance of Being Earnest."

There were many delays in the production of our first A-bomb because of priority demands of our various services and our allies, including Russia. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who held the whole bizarre experiment together by the sheer weight of character and competence, once was forced to borrow millions of dollars worth of silver from the Treasury department to substitute for copper he could not obtain.

Somehow, I figure that one of the reasons the Russians got it faster than we thought they could is because they probably took no human feelings into consideration. We did.

RECORD RUN OF BEEFSTEAK — The Kansas City Mo., stockyards handled an estimated 26,000 head of beef cattle in one day—for its biggest day since last Oct. 25, when some 30,000 head were unloaded. The view above shows the yards during the peak cattle run, which might help bring lower prices for beefsteak.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

A 15-MONTHS-OLD boy who held his breath until unconscious when scolded was revived by firemen at East St. Louis, Ill., after 500 pounds of oxygen were used. In another two years, if we know this type of youngster, they will be administering oxygen to the parents.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR Miss Turner: In your column in this morning's paper you advise club reporters to use the names or initials of their husbands, unless they are widows or divorcees.

I have a leaflet from an Emily Post column that has been my guide through several years of widowhood. I did not know any other rule was used, or that it had been changed.

It is as follows: "In best society, a widow always continues to use her husband's name." Emily Post also states: "This rule should be written in capitals." And further: "He did not lend her his name; he gave it to her with her wedding ring and she keeps both all of her life—or until she marries again."

Respectfully yours,
Mrs. E.

DEAR Mrs. E.: Of course you are correct. We know several widows who use their Christian names since their sons, who bear their dead fathers' names, with junior added, are married. Much confusion arises over two women who use the same name with the exception of senior and junior, as to bill- gifts and addresses.

Our great difficulty is in influencing reporters to turn in a list of names of married women and use the husbands' names or initials. This is not entirely the reporters' fault because many women in signing a register use their Christian names, rather than their husbands'.

However, we are going to continue to plea for husbands' names in stories of married women and perhaps sometime we will have the cooperation of the hundreds of reporters who tell us about the social, civic, religious, business and educational pursuits of Lubbock women.

DEAR Miss Turner: I have a lovely bassinet on wheels which I would like to let a veteran's wife borrow for three months or so. The only pay I ask is that it be returned to me in good condition. I don't need it now and I know there must be a woman somewhere in Lubbock who would welcome it.

She may telephone 9960 and ask for my address.

Mrs. A. L. Adair.

DEAR Miss Turner: I am wondering if any readers have a piano they would like to have stored free. I would guarantee the best of care.

I have no children, but play the piano myself and right now am missing a piano very much.

If someone has a piano she would like to have me care for, I'd appreciate it if she telephone me at 2-8547.

'Prince Mike' Romanoff To Play Large Part In New Film; British Actress To Visit U. S.

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 26—Here is a laugh anent the title, "In a Lonely Place"; most of the action takes place in Beverly Hills, and in Romanoff's cafe! "Prince Mike," himself, will play a big role in the Columbia who-dun-it. Lonely, huh!

At one time, Humphrey Bogart wanted his wife, Baby Bacall, to co-star with him in the picture in the role of the ambitious hollywood actress—but Baby no can do.

Hollywood Visit Planned

Jean Simmons, the pride and joy of the J. Arthur Rank British studios, is coming to Hollywood. Not in time to see Stewart Granger, who will be far, far away in South Africa by that time.

Bill Marshall is bringing pretty Jean here to star in "The Confession," which he will film here and in Ville, France. Bill, who just married Micheline Prell, wrote the story and will direct it.

One reason Rank gave his consent is because this is a religious picture. Another reason is that Bill won both the Paris and Circle critics award with "Before You Sleep Tonight," which he made in France.

A vicious and distorted campaign is being waged to try to interfere with the shooting of "Two Corridors East" in Berlin. The Soviet controlled press there is threatening to harm character actors and their families if they continue to work in the film.

20th Century-Fox had the same trouble when they were making "Iron Curtain." Darryl Zanuck is unfrightened and the picture will be made regardless, just as "Iron Curtain" was.

Forrestal Rumor Discussed

Is Elizabeth Janeway's book "Question of Gregory," which Doubleday Doran will bring out, the story of Secretary James Forrestal's tragic death?

The main character is an important government official who suffers a mental collapse. Miss Janeway was a close friend of Forrestal's. Although no indication is given that she meant Forrestal, that's the whisper and the rumor.

This should interest the motion picture people who are discussing doing the life story of the former secretary of defense, who was well known in Hollywood.

Peck To Ride

Gregory Peck seriously fractured his ankle while he was riding a horse in "Yellow Sky" last year. Now he has to ride in "Gun Fighter" at 20th. Since his ankle has given him much trouble, he consulted his doctor, who insists that Greg have a series of treatments in order to avoid a stiff left ankle.

Next to Bob Cobb, the most hysterical gentleman in Hollywood over the weekend was Robert Taylor—Cobb being the pappy of the Hollywood stars baseball team, and Taylor owning a big chunk of the pennant champs.

I saw the winning game on television—never did so much whooping and yelling in my life—so I can understand how they felt.

Bob Taylor couldn't help crowing—so he sent the following telegram to two other baseball club owners — Bing Crosby, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Bob Hope, of the Cleveland Indians:

"You fellows should transfer some of your hits from the screen to the diamond. With deepest sympathy. Bob Taylor."

Another Chance Deserved

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at Randon:

Why don't Jean Wallace and Franchot Tone stop kidding themselves? They are in love with each other, and acted it at Ciro's the other eve. It isn't too late yet, and Jean definitely deserves another chance.

The younger set were all at Elizabeth Taylor's beach house Saturday night for a barbecue. She was having more fun than anyone. I hope she doesn't get engaged again. She is much too young.

If it is true that Arthur Loew jr. and Janet Leigh will announce their engagement when she returns from New York, neither he nor she is pining at home, he was with Vera Ellen at Ciro's listening to Mindy Carson. She is being escorted about New York by Dick Harvey, MGM executive.

Top Officials Applaud Presentation Of Texas Painting To Rayburn

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26. (Special)—Vice President Alben Barkley and a group of other top officials in the Senate and House joined in congratulating Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham today on his acquisition of the picture "Texas Bluebonnet Time." The picture is a three-dimensional scene near San Antonio painted by Porfirio Salinas, San Antonio artist.

The picture was given to Rayburn by Sid Richardson, Fort Worth and Athens oil man, at a luncheon in the speaker's dining room. The picture will hang there as long as Rayburn holds office. Later it will be in the Rayburn library in Bonham. The library is to be built with the $10,000 Colliers magazine award money presented to Rayburn this year for his outstanding work in the 1948 Congress.

The picture should draw crowds of tourists as should the library. Texas news correspondents agreed at an early prevue today that the painting is one of the most beautiful ever seen of a Texas landscape. It has none of the stark, gaunt cacti so often put into Texas pictures.

Speakers invited for the presentation today included Sen. Scott Lucas, Illinois Democratic floor leader; Sen. Francis Myers, (D-Pa); Rep. John W. McCormack, Massachusetts Democratic floor leader; and Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Prominent Texans attending the prevue included Lawrence Westbrook, formerly of Austin, now practicing law in Washington; Burris Jackson, Democratic leader from Hillsboro; George Stimson, author; and Arch Underwood, Lubbock industrialist.

27-Year Separation Ends With Reunion Of Brother, Sisters

BROWNWOOD, Sept. 26. A 27-year separation ended last midnight when H. W. Faulkner of Brownwood and his sister, Mrs. James A. Ellison of Dallas, were reunited with another sister, Mrs. Allie Scott of Fort Worth.

The reunion was affected as a result of a "personal" item in a Fort Worth newspaper inserted by Mrs. Scott and an assist by the Brownwood Bulletin.

The sisters met in Fort Worth last night and accompanied by Mrs. Scott's married daughter, Mrs. Wilma Clark of Fort Worth, came on to Brownwood to see their brother.

Faulkner, a grocer here, had told the Brownwood Bulletin he had been trying to locate his sister since 1922 when he last saw her in Hutchinson, Kans.

Although Mrs. Scott had lived in Fort Worth the last 17 years, she did not know that her sister was in Dallas and her brother in Brownwood.

Mrs. Scott had inserted "personals" in the classified columns of Fort Worth newspapers intermittently over a period of years. The last one, inserted 10 days ago, paid off when a friend of Faulkner's who had seen it asked if "Allie" Faulkner Scott was related to him.

Faulkner has wired his brothers, Dee, at San Angelo, and Arthur, at Ardmore, Okla., trying to arrange a family reunion.

water and Roosevelt capturing second to fifth prizes in that order.

In the Hereford division, R. T. Alexander & Son exhibited the grand champion, a 1,275-pounder registered as "Atomic Tone 70th." W. D. Collier, of Ralls, showed the reserve champion.

Others sharing in the prize money in the county agriculture divisions were, in the order listed, with the names of those who supervised the arrangement of the exhibit:

Castro, Raymond King; Hale, Manuel Ayers; Bailey, J. K. Adams; Garza, Lewis Herron; Crosby, W. R. Kimbrough; Terry, Truett Babb; Lamb, D. F. Eaton, and Roosevelt, N. M., J. F. Leo.

Ollie Liner was in charge of the Parmer county exhibit, which won the $100 first prize, and R. H. Gilmore of the Floyd county display, which will receive $85. Other prizes ranged down to $25.

Meadow Takes Fourth

Other prize winners in the high school vocational agriculture department were, in the order listed: Meadow, Brownfield, Idalou, Lubbock, Shallowater, Wellman, Hale Center, Lorenzo and Anton.

Earl Sears and Dave Atwood arranged the blue-ribbon winning Lamesa exhibit, G. K. Bullock the Roosevelt display and Virgil Carter the Tahoka booth. First, second and third prizes were $50 each and others ranged downward to $35.

In charge of the veteran's vocational agriculture prize winners were: Idalou, E. C. St. Clair; Becton, S. L. Garrison; Slaton, Ray Bowen; Shallowater, Frank Hayes, and Roosevelt, Charles Rivers. These awards ranged from a first of $40 to a fifth of $30.

Judges Praise Exhibits

Dean Emeritus A. H. Leidigh and T. L. Leach, of Texas Tech, judged the vocational agriculture divisions, and Knox Parr, of Amarillo, district superintendent there of the Texas Extension service, the county displays.

They and George "Scotty" Samson, of Post, general agriculture superintendent, agreed the agriculture exhibits as a whole are the finest they ever have seen in a Panhandle-South Plains fair. They will remain on display in the Agriculture building through the remainder of the week.

The crowd which saw the initial performance of the "Wonderland" revue was somewhat disappointing, filling only about a third of the 4,000-seat grandstand. But it was above average for open-night attendances at grandstand attractions in the past.

Show Is Pleasing

The spectators, however, appeared more than pleased with the quality of the entertainment presented by Gertrude and Randolph Avery.

The show was light, tuneful, colorful and well paced. Costumes were striking. The chorus of 16 girls is shapely and well drilled. The lighting was highly effective. The stage dressing is artistic. An excellent band provides the musical accompaniment.

Several of the production numbers were spectacular—notably the "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," "Snow White And The Seven Dwarfs," "Fantasy of the Flowers," and "Fiesta."

Improvements Made

A trio, the "Debutantes," sang tunefully; the "Mar-Vels" presented probably the most spectacular teeterboard act ever seen in this portion of the southwest; the Arwoods gave an amazing exhibition of balancing; the "Three Jerks" were amusing, and Griswold almost ran away with the show. The pantomime of a drunk on a diving board kept the crowd in an uproar.

Zacchini also more than lived up to advance billing his his cannon act, witnessed by several thousand spectators. His flight from the cannon to his safety net carried him high above two intervening ferris wheels.

Several improvements have been made in the Forsythe and Dowis carnival since it played the 1948 fair. These include a number of new rides. All were almost spotlessly clean. Prices were reasonable—the highest 25 cents for adults, including tax. Tent attractions are few but superior.

PARMER WINS COUNTY EXHIBIT — An exhibit that showed the rich variety of Parmer county crops took coveted first place at the county exhibit division of the 32nd Panhandle-South Plains fair Monday afternoon. Standing by the exhibit is Ollie Liner of Farwell, Parmer county agent. The second place position was taken by Floyd county, which last year had first place. (Staff Photo.)

the House conferees, said he "hoped" the news of a Russian atomic explosion will pave the way for quick House floor acceptance of the conference report.

With only technical differences remaining to be ironed out, the Senate bill thus became the general basis of the conference report.

Relations With Spain Urged

The report is scheduled to be called up in the House first and will probably reach the floor Wednesday.

The Senate measure allots one billion dollars to arm Atlantic pact countries, $75 million for expenditures in the Far East at presidential discretion and $239 million for Korea, Iran, the Philippines, Greece and Turkey.

The House allowed $580,500,000 in cash for the pact countries, while the Senate split its billion between cash and contract authority.

The bill passed the Senate last Thursday night by a 55 to 24 margin, just one day before President Truman dramatically announced the USSR has succeeded in setting off an atomic blast.

As the conference got underway Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) joined Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) and others in urging that the U. S. resume diplomatic relations with Spain.

APPOINTMENTS OKAYED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (INS)—The Senate today approved the appointments of Warren Austin and other U. S. representatives at the current session of the United Nations General assembly. Action was by voice vote after Sen. Langer (R-ND), withdrew the objection which blocked their confirmation last week.

Prevention Of Cotton Export Drop Sought

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—A way to keep cotton exports from dropping as a result of the cut in value of the British pound is being sought by a group of U. S. cotton men, including four Texans.

They are members of the Cotton Export Advisory board. It helps the Secretary of Agriculture make policies dealing with production and marketing of cotton.

Burris Jackson of Hillsboro, Tex., a member, said the group will discuss the problem with State department and Economic Cooperation administration officials.

Jackson is chairman of the Texas state-wide cotton committee. It represents grower, marketing and shipping interests.

"I personally don't think that devaluation will have any effect this year on our exports," he said. "Our biggest worry will come when Britain and other European countries run out of Marshall plan funds.

Others on the advisory group expected to take part in the talks include:

W. L. Walker, chairman, and Lamar Fleming, both of Houston; W. B. Davis, Newnan, Ga.; W. W. Sansom, Memphis, Tenn.; Fred Sherrill, Los Angeles, and Jack Stoneham, Dallas.

their car completely. Anyone seeing a person acting suspiciously around a car or home should notify the police department immediately, he said.

Residents in the city were urged to lock their homes securely when they leave for any lengthy period of time.

Homes left unlocked have often been entered and ransacked at this time of year, although the loot taken may be very little or none, Kittrell added. Caution should be observed in the keeping of valuable papers, as papers for which the burglar has no use are sometimes taken only to be destroyed.

With policemen working extra duty to patrol the fairgrounds, every effort will be made to prevent thievery, but extra caution by visitors cannot be replaced, Kittrell said.

Both the police and the sheriff's departments urged that people observe the warnings concerning homes and cars and keep up a special vigilance throughout the fall months.

Labor Crisis Looms

the week-long coal mining strike. John L. Lewis, head of the 480,000 idle miners, apparently was waiting to see what CIO President Philip Murray gets in steel. Coal contract talks are to resume Wednesday.

Operators of 30 small non-union mines in Pennsylvania planned to reopen their pits tomorrow despite threats of violence from roving pickets. Fourteen operators in the Clearfield area are involved. Reinforced state police forces are patrolling the region.

A picket band of 75 to 100 automobiles gathered near Charleston, W. Va., during the day but no violence was reported.

Pensions Main Issue

Labor's demand for pensions, contending the government social security system is inadequate for retirement needs, is a widespread issue. In steel, Murray is demanding an employer-paid pension plan, but the industry wants workers to share the cost. Lewis seeks more money for his near bankrupt welfare fund.

Government conciliators said pension demands also are involved in an AFL maritime contract dispute. Contracts with the AFL's International Longshoremen's association, covering longshoremen at Atlantic and Gulf coast docks; and with the AFL's masters, mates and pilots, covering East coast ship officers, are due to expire Friday midnight. Federal labor men fear this may be followed by a walkout.

A strike by either the mates or the longshoremen, or both, could seriously disrupt East coast shipping. The AFL unions are seeking more wages, along with a pension plan, but their employers have proposed a wage cut.

Longshoremen at Hawaii, headed by CIO union leader Harry Bridges, already have been on strike four months over wage demands. This has been the longest, and one of the bitterest, big strikes of the year.

Demands for pensions and social insurance have brought on a CIO strike at Goodrich Rubber Co., but there were reports this one was near settlement.

In the auto industry, the Ford contract with the CIO Auto Workers union is due to expire at midnight Wednesday. The union has indicated it will call a strike unless a settlement is in sight. Pensions are the main argument.

Government officials look on the Ford situation as possibly the most hopeful of the lot—principally because of reports that Ford has offered a pension plan closely matching the plan recommended by President Truman's fact finding board for the steel industry.

Some reports say Walter Reuther, president of the CIO Auto Workers, is trying to get a better deal from Ford than the steel fact finders outlined for steel.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26 (INS)—A jury of six men and six women in the Tokyo Rose treason case late tonight had reported no verdict on the fate of the California-born Nisei defendant, Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino.

The jurors filed solemnly out of the San Francisco federal courtroom at 11:44 a. m. on the 58th day of the longest treason trial in American history.

They must consider more than a million words of testimony bolstering or denying the eight overt acts of betrayal with which the slight impassive 33-year-old woman is charged.

Plane Crashes

plane as a B29. Bishop said the numbers "333" and insignia denoting "15th Air Force" were visible on the tail.

Later, the plane was identified in a report from Air Force officials as one on a training flight from Smoky Hill Air Force Base at Salina. The International News Service reported five dead and eight crew members unaccounted for.)

Public relations headquarters at Lowry Air Force base in Denver said that the loading list for the giant plane contained thirteen names, and that it is possible that some of the crewmen parachuted to safety, the INS said.

Rescue Team Sent To Area

The plane was making a round robin trip from the Smoky Hill Air Force base to Tennessee, Alabama, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Denver and return to the Smoky Hill Base at Salina.

Flight B of the 2151st air rescue squadron from El Paso, Texas has sent a C-47 plane carrying two rescue teams to the scene of the crash. At 1 p.m. no Air Force personnel had as yet reached the scene.

The Air Force flight service in Fort Worth said flight plans indicated a B-29 answering such a description stopped at Carswell base, on a "round-robin" flight.

Bishop said witnesses near the scene said the plane had circled, indicating that it was headed north from Fort Worth.

Parts of the huge craft were scattered over a half-mile wide area.

Windows in Talihini, six miles distant, rattled when the Superfort struck and apparently exploded.

The nearest fire equipment to the scene was 50 miles away. It was expected that the wreckage would burn all night.

21 REPORTED ABOARD MISSING MEXICAN PLANE

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 26. (AP)—The commander of the airport here said tonight a Mexican commercial airliner "has suffered an accident" at the foot of Popocatepetl volcano.

He said nothing was known of the fate of the 21 persons aboard. The plane was returning on a local flight from Tapachula on the border with Guatemala.

Pedro Souza, airport commander, said the plane belonged to the Compania Mexicana de Aviacion. There were conflicting reports as to whether it was a regular or a charter flight. Souza said the accident was reported by soldiers patrolling the slopes of the volcano which lies south of Mexico City.

Senator Gabriel Ramos Millan, chairman of the National Corn commission, was reported a passenger aboard the plane. Another believed aboard was Francisco Mayo, one of Mexico's leading news photographers.

Reports from Amecameca, between the Popcatepetl and Ixaccihuatl volcanoes, said the accident was near the little town of Etcatzingo, eight miles from Amecameca. This is in moutainous country on the skirts of the 17,887 foot Popcatepetl.

Ambulances and a radio equipped jeep started for Etcatzingo. Souza sail it might be midnight before they reach the scene. 45 miles from Mexico City over mountain trails.

The accident happened about 2 p.m. (CST). The weather has been cloudy with frequent showers as a result of a hurricane in the Gulf of Mexico. It moved inland early today and caused bad weather over the valley of Mexico.

Two persons believed to have American names were on the list of passengers issued by the company, but no addresses were given. They were Eugenia Goldsmith and George Graham, both of whom boarded the plane at Oaxaca.

On the list was Blanca Estela Pavon, a Mexican movie star.

The last word from the plane said it was over Puebla, Mexico, at an altitude of 13,000 feet. When no further word was received, search parties were sent out.

afternoon. They are Francis M. Trier, 17, Milwaukee, Wisc.; Donald A. Misiewicz, 18, Muskegon, Mich., and Howard Eugene Cutright, 19, Charleston, Ill.

Lubbock police, who arrested the trio early Monday morning, said the case began with the report that a car owned by H. H. Trammel of 1206 Twenty-third street had been stolen in 2500-block Ave. N.

The three were arrested soon after the car stopped in 3000-block Ave. L and three persons were seen to run from it. Two of the suspects were picked up first, telling a different story than that related by the third man, police said.

Plainview Man Held

Complaints against the trio were sworn by Robert West, member of the Lubbock police department, before A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, and filed in the court of Robertson.

In another case, a 44-year-old Plainview man was held in county jail after his arrest by police for investigation into forgery of several traveler's checks. The sheriff's department said the man was being held for authorities at Borger.

According to police, the man cashed two checks, one of $20 and the other for $10.

No arrests had been announced Monday in connection with a police investigation into burglary early Sunday of three residences fronting on Nineteenth west of College Ave.

Detectives and several other investigators were studying the cases in efforts to upturn clues.

City detectives said intruders had entered houses belonging to Dr. J. T. Krueger at 2703 Nineteenth, Dr. O. W. English at 2809 Nineteenth and Mrs. W. D. Green at 2801 Nineteenth.

Lubbock Man Fined

In county court, Wayne Teague, 21, who listed his address as 1900-block Ave. F, pleaded guilty of willful burning of personal property belonging to another, and was fined $100 and court costs.

Varner Melburn Edge, 45, posted $500 bond after pleading not guilty to drunk driving charge.

Bond of $750 was set by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, for James Parks, 24, a negro charged with child desertion. Parks' case will be investigated by the next grand jury.

Six women were charged with vagrancy by prostitution, police records showed. Four were released after entering pleas of guilty and paying fines of $25. Two pleaded not guilty, one remaining in jail and the other being released to an attorney.

Hungary Orders

the military attache and the commercial and clerical staffs.

The order was made known in a Hungarian note delivered at the legation in reply to Marshal Tito's blast at Hungary Saturday.

Tito in a bitter note of protest against the Rajk trial accused Hungary of participating with Russia in a plot to overthrow his own regime and warned the trial was a "monstrous provocation" against the Yugoslavs that endangered Balkan peace.

"Hired Assassins" Charged

The Hungarian note rejected Tito's charges as "arrogant."

It reiterated its own charges made at the Rajk trial that Yugoslavia was involved in a plot to assassinate Hungarian Communist leaders and overthrow the government and added:

"It was proved that the Yugoslav legation was the center of espionage and conspiracy against the government and it was decided to end this untenable situation."

The note concluded that in the future Hungary will "take care that no spies or hired assassins enter Hungary in the guise of Yugoslav assassins."

The term "hired assassins" referred to Rajk's statement at the trial that two "experts in political assassination" were sent to Hungary in 1948 by members of the Yugoslav legation.

Rajk said their task was to arrange for the assassination of Matyas Rakosi, Hungarian deputy premier and Communist chief, and other party leaders.

AEC Policies Scored

power atomic action this week.

Charges Are Renewed

Hickenlooper asserted anew that AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal is guilty of "incredible mismanagement." The Iowan, who is the leading GOP critic of the administration's atomic energy policies, declared in a speech prepared for Senate delivery:

"It is certainly reasonable to believe that loose security policies of the AEC have permitted vital information to filter out of this country.

"I have no doubt that they have helped step up Russia's time table for the production of an atomic explosion by a very substantial period of time."

Laxness Rapped

The senator pointed to testimony at Senate hearings that 4,000 AEC employes were given access to secret atomic data before being cleared by the FBI. He declared:

"This provided perfect opportunity for infiltration either by espionage agents or for the employment of some people who are susceptible to the very clever influence of espionage agents."

Hickenlooper's charges followed an earlier assertion by Rep. Velde (R-Ill.) that administration "laxities" gave Russia access to American atomic secrets.

Velde blamed Mr. Truman and the late President Roosevelt for what he called a "disgraceful" American atomic security record.

May—Share Secrets

Meanwhile, British Foreign Secretary Bevin told the United Nations that the Western Powers will reject the Soviet proposal for international atomic control and stand on the vetoless, UN assembly-approved Baruch plan which would include the right of inspection.

In Washington, indications pointed to a solid "atomic front" by the U. S., Britain and Canada.

It is regarded as certain that Mr. Truman will ask Congress to amend the McMahon bill to permit the U. S. to share its atomic secrets with Britain and Canada. Under the present law this is forbidden.

Proposals for a stockpile of U. S.-made bombs in Britain plus full exchange of nuclear data between the original atomic partners have top priority in the three-power talks which began in Washington Sept. 20.

Atom Talks Underway

Undersecretary of State James Webb and State Department Counselor George F. Keenan made the progress report to Mr. Truman. Later, Keenan—an expert on Russian affairs—declared at the White House:

"The atomic explosion in Russia reinforces the need for national utilization of the resources of the three countries with respect to atomic energy."

Keenan emphasized that the American-Anglo-Canadian atomic talks now will be held on a virtually continuous basis until concluded. Webb said the conferees are engaging in the "fullest and frankest discussion."

Defense planners are known to favor coordinating creation of an atomic arsenal in England with the U. S. heavy bomber bases already in operation in the United Kingdom.

Full Arms Aid Urged

Other developments in the grim situation created by Mr. Truman's announcement last week that Russia had broken the U. S. atomic-bomb monopoly included:

1. Rep. Eaton (R-NJ), ranking GOP member of the House Foreign Affairs committee, said he now believes the House should waive economy considerations and agree to the $1,314,010,000 anti-Communist arms-aid bill approved by the Senate.

2. Chairman Cannon (D-Mo), of the House Appropriations committee, asserted that U. S. armed forces are "ready to repel attack" and meet the menace of Russian atomic weapons without increased military spending.

3. Dr. R. E. Lapp, former head of the Defense department's inter-departmental committee on atomic energy, said he believes Russia has an A-bomb she can "drop from a plane" and that the Soviets can build up a 100-bomb supply in two years.

Agents Claimed Active

4. Both Rep. Velde and Sen. O'Conor (D-Md) declared that Soviet agents still are active in the U. S. and urged tighter anti-spy laws.

5. Sen. McMahon (D-Conn) of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy accused Velde of "cheap, partisan political maneuvering" and defended the administration's atomic-security record.

6. McMahon denounced as a "phony" the Russian proposal that A-weapons be outlawed. The Russians presumably would refuse to grant inspection rights to the UN, as they have in the past, McMahon pointed out.

7. Rep. Rogers (R-Mass) declared in a House speech that the United States should start work at once on two super aircraft carriers to meet the threat of Russian atomic attack.

Judge Denies New Trial For Law Studying Bank Robber

DALLAS, Sept. 26. (AP)—A dapper convicted bank robber who studied law in federal prison at Leavenworth was denied a new trial today.

The denial came from Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson—the same judge who sentenced William Larry Martin last year.

Martin had won a court of criminal appeals motion for a new hearing on grounds he was not represented by counsel when the 15-year sentence was pronounced.

A motion for appeal was filed immediately after today's ruling.

"The petition for a new trial shall be overruled," said Judge Davidson.

After the jury was charged in the original trial, the judge pointed out, Attorney Mike McKool, appointed to defend Martin, rose and told the court he had a case pending in the state court, and his presence would be needed there.

Red Atom Plan

for a big five peace pact and the outlawing of the atomic bomb "and other weapons of mass destruction."

The proposal, which calls on the UN to denounce alleged Anglo-American war plans, was adopted without vote and sent to the political committee for consideration.

Bevin rapped Vishinsky for comparing the outlawing of the atom bomb to the prohibition of gas warfare. Bevin said he doubts that this convention prevented Hitler from using gas and said that the Allied proclamation—in which Premier Stalin joined—that "we would retaliate to our fullest extent" was the real reason Hitler did not use poison gas.

Bevin continued:

"This announcement was made and the production of gas was speeded up in order that we could effectively carry out our intention to retaliate should Germany resort to gas warfare. This situation arose because there was no provision in the convention for inspection.

"The absence of such a provision constitutes a grave risk when dealing with inhuman weapons. Our own approach has always been collective security, disarmament with inspection and enforceable control."

Need To Break Deadlock

Assembly President Carlos P. Romulo declared in a news conference that "something must be done" in the current session to break the atomic control deadlock between the big powers. He said India's proposal for referring the question to the International Law commission will get consideration but foreshadowed his own move if necessary.

Romulo added:

"I hope the deadlock can be broken. I am a chronic optimist. An atomic control agreement is all that remains for the world."

The steering committee voted 13 to 0, to place the Russian proposals on international atomic control, a big five peace pact, and U.S. and British warmongering, on the assembly agenda. Chile abstained.

Before voting for the inclusion of the Soviet proposals, U. S. Delegate Warren Austin made it plain that the United States does not agree with the Russians on any of the three points. Austin said the United States merely wants "a public debate of charges that have been made publicly."

Soviet Plan Flayed

Earlier Canada's Lester Pearson was quite definite. He branded Soviet atomic control plans "hypocritical and meaningless" unless Russia permits international inspection teams to back up atomic control.

Pearson assailed Vishinsky's proposal for "a pact to strengthen peace" and his demand for atomic controls under the Russian plan. Pearson added:

"The Soviet delegate also argued on Friday, and in more detail on other occasions, that the international control of weapons of mass destruction, must not involve an invasion of national sovereignty.

"Such an insistence makes effective control futile and meaningless. It will be small comfort if and when some atom bomb drops on us to know that while we have lost everything else, we have saved our sovereignty to the very end.

"If a state puts formal sovereignty ahead of peace and security, then its support for international control of atomic and other weapons of mass destruction is hypocritical and meaningless."

Pearson said Vishinsky's three-point resolution is largely propaganda. He said this is particularly true of the condemnation by the Soviet Union of the United States and Britain as warmongers.

Labor Government

wage negotiation rights to any government agency.

It was understood TUC leaders sought assurances that present government food subsidies would be raised slightly in the lower wage brackets to overcome any effects of the present trend toward higher prices.

Another meeting is expected to be held after the TUC general council studies the government's proposals.

Approval Is Asked

The government's motion of confidence was cleverly phrased to make opposition awkward and difficult, despite the fact it expects to win easily. Labor holds 393 of the 640 seats in Commons, against the 189 held by Winston Churchill's Conservative opposition.

The motion asks for approval of the devaluation of the pound and support of the measures adopted at the recent economic talks in Washington aimed at conserving Britain's dwindling dollar reserves.

An adverse vote on the government's motion would mean immediate dissolution of Parliament and the calling of a general election.

It was learned Churchill plans to ask Prime Minister Attlee tomorrow for further information on the recent Anglo-American announcement that an atomic explosion occurred in the Soviet Union but there was considerable doubt whether the government would be willing to amplify its sketchy statement.

NEW TV CHANNELS ARE URGED

FCC Asked To Put Off Decision On Color Television Standards

By JOHN BOOTH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26. (INS)—Radio manufacturers urged the government today to postpone a decision on standards for color television because it is still far from ready for commercial use.

Raymond C. Cosgrove of Cincinnati, president of the Radio Manufacturers association, told the Federal Communications commission:

"No system for broadcasting color has been proved by field tests to be ready for commercial use yet, and therefore, no standards should be adopted until that is done."

Sweeping Study Made

FCC is undertaking a sweeping study of the whole field of television, including the question of opening new channels to TV broadcasters. Scores of manufacturers, industrialists, broadcasters and other interested persons have been invited to testify.

Donald G. Fink, chairman of FCC's joint technical advisory board, said the government has underestimated the demand for television. Fink also edits "Electronics" magazine. He said:

"The number of television channels should be at least as great as the number of channels assigned to each of the broadcasters."

Cosgrove stated that his organization favors color television but only when it can be started in such a way that reception will be possible on currently-operating sets.

Lifting Of Ban Urged

He urged the FCC to lift the ban it imposed about a year ago on applications for new TV stations.

Cosgrove said that use of ultra high frequency (UHF) wave lengths, as the commission is now considering, would relieve overcrowding of the very high frequency (VHF) wave band.

The joint advisory board recommended:

1. That FCC give ample notice of its intentions if it finds that color can be adapted to present receivers at low cost to the public.
2. That the commission undertake a field test of at least six months before determining standards for commercial color telecasting.

FCC has proposed the opening of 42 new TV channels on the UHF band. This would provide room for an estimated 2,000 stations in 1,400 communities. About 400 TV stations are operating currently on 12 channels in the VHF band.

The agency expects to announce comparative demonstrations of color systems devised by the Radio Corporation of America, Columbia Broadcasting system and Color Television, Inc.

Desertion Of GI's Reported By Reds

VIENNA, Sept. 26. (INS) — Soviet authorities claimed tonight that two unidentified GI's voluntarily entered the Russian zone of Austria and announced their refusal to return to the U. S. zone or "see or speak to any Americans."

American military authorities have been investigating the disappearance of the two soldiers Saturday night.

They said Austrian witnesses reported seeing the pair in an Austrian automobile, driven by a civilian, as it crossed the Linz-Urfahr bridge.

Three Persons Are Hurt In Oklahoma State Fair Mishaps

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 26 (U.P.)—A highway patrolman was shot, a member of a thrill show was burned, and a San Antonio man was critically hurt in separate accidents at the Oklahoma state fair here yesterday.

The victims were Trooper Jim Garibaldi, 43, a special guard for Gov. Roy J. Turner; Roy Patterson, 34, Milwaukee, burned when his timing went wrong in a slide-for-life stunt, and John Phipps, 65, San Antonio. Phipps was critically hurt while helping rig a platform for an aerialist on the south side of the grandstand infield.

Officer Accidentally Shot

Police said Garibaldi was accidentally wounded by a .22 calibre rifle fired by a 16-year-old boy shooting at tin cans near the fair-orderly conduct charge.

The governor was not near Garibaldi when the trooper was hit. Police scoutcar officers said if a barn hadn't slowed the pellet which hit Garibaldi it would have killed him.

Thrill Performer Burned

At it was, Garibaldi received emergency treatment at Mercy hospital for a wound in his right shoulder and was released.

Patterson was treated for hand and arm burns at Mercy and returned to the fair for another performance. A member of the Joie Chitwood thrill circus, he slides off a speeding automobile as it moves through a burning arch. His clothing became ignited when his timing went wrong and he stopped in the flames.

Phipps was hurt when a guy wire snapped, throwing him into a steel fence. Attendants at Bone and Joint hospital here today described his condition as critical.

More than 61,000 persons attended the fair yesterday, a record attendance for Sunday.

Mrs. March Culmore, Houston Little Theater Member, Dies

HOUSTON, Sept. 26 (U.P.)—Funeral plans were incomplete today for Mrs. March Culmore, civic leader and charter member of the Houston Little Theater, who died last night in a hospital.

Although confined to a wheel chair the past 25 years, her illness did not become critical until four months ago.

Survivors are her husband, members of a pioneer Houston family, and two sisters.

Military Forces Open Fair Grounds Booth

A military booth is being operated at the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds by the Navy, Marines, Air Force, Army, Navy Reserve and National Guard.

Red Sox Take Over Loop Lead With 7-6 Win Over Yanks

Crucial Tilt Won By Squeeze Play

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—The brawny men of Boston finally got even with Joe Page today as they stormed into the American league lead with a 7-6 triumph, over the New York Yankees, on a four-run blast against Fireman Joe in the eighth inning.

Breaking an exact first place tie with the Yanks, the Sox exploded two big innings for their tenth straight victory of a late September surge. It was the first time this season the Yanks had been out of the lead.

With five games to go, this is how it looks:

	Won	Lost	GB	To play
Boston	94	55		5
New York	93	56	1	5

And so the Yanks, who led Boston by 12 games the night of July 4 and had an imposing five game bulge on the losing side some 10 days ago, finally have been collared.

Rest At Home

From now on they play at home, three with Philadelphia and a final pair with Boston Saturday and Sunday. The Sox close it out on the road, three at Washington, starting tomorrow night, and the final two at the Yankee stadium.

The mighty Sox with the leading batsmen, home run hitter and runs-batted-in ace in their lineup, had to resort to the squeeze play to eke out this all-important win.

Bobby Doerr's squeeze bunt to first baseman Tommy Henrich moved Johnny Pesky home with the tie-breaking run against Page. Most of the big throng of 66,156 roared with catcher Ralph Houk in a strenuous beef at plate umpire Bill Grieve on the play at the plate. It was close but the ump ruled the sliding Pesky safe.

Yankees Recover

The Yanks recovered from a three-run Boston first inning to move out front with four in the fourth.

Adding to their advantage in the sixth and seventh, they crumbled in the big eighth as Page lost his fourth straight. It was Joe's third failure within a week.

Coming in to replace Fred Sanford in the fifth he sailed through the sixth and seventh without trouble. The end came suddenly.

A line drive single by Dom DiMaggio that Phil Ribbuto wasn't able to hold following a single by Birdie Tebbets and a walk to pinch-hitter Lou Stringer, was the telling blow. Little Phil leaped as far as he could go but simply couldn't hold Dom's smash which rolled into short left.

Only one run scored on DiMaggio's hit but it might have been a double or even a triple play.

Pesky rolled the ball toward George Stirnweiss but the second baseman's error let Stringer score. Now it was 6-5.

SWC Gets Set For Earnest Play

Mustangs To Face Tough Opposition

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

What promises to be a knockdown, dragout fight for the Southwest Conference football championship dominated by Southern Methodist for the past two seasons gets under way in earnest this week with dazed Texas Christian meeting Arkansas in the first title game.

Results of the first two weeks of play bear out that Coach Matty Bell's victory-complexed Mustangs will have their work cut out for them with each of the other six members potentially capable of knocking them from the top perch on any given Saturday.

While TCU and Arkansas put the chips on the line Saturday afternoon in Fayetteville's mountain country, SMU and the rest of the loop turn to intersectional play for another week before any of them start to play for keeps.

SMU Out For Revenge

SMU will be out for revenge against a high-scoring Missouri eleven in the feature intersectional fray of the weekend at Dallas. It was the Tiger eleven from Columbia which last year handed SMU its only defeat since mid-November, 1946, and Doak Walker and company will be set for this one.

In the other games against outside foes, Texas plays host to an Idaho team that should not offer much competition; Baylor goes to State College, Miss., against a mediocre Mississippi State; Texas A&M travels to Norman, Okla., for an apparent shellacking at the hands of Oklahoma, and Rice moves to Baton Rouge, La., against a weaker-than-usual Louisiana State.

Only one big surprise marked last week's play. That was TCU's 33-33 tie with Oklahoma A&M, a feat attained only after a wild, uphill battle by the highly-favored Christians.

SMU found itself behind Wake Forest early in its game at Dallas, but just as the Mustangs did most of last year, turned on enough scoring heat to win 13-7 and by game's end had the North Carolina team reeling.

Baylor Takes To Air

Texas scored early and often to swamp a weak Temple team in Philadelphia 54-0, while Rice did the same in outclassing Clemson's defending Southern Conference champions 33-7 in Houston.

Baylor turned to the air to beat back South Carolina 20-6, Arkansas got over a scare from little North Texas and went on to win 33-19 and Texas A&M's sophomores got their ground game in high gear to run over Texas Tech 26-7 for the Aggies' first grid victory since mid-1947.

Texas' Randall Clay shot into the individual scoring lead with 22 points—three touchdowns and two extra points—against Temple for a total of 25 points in two games. That gave a one-point lead over TCU's lithe Lindy Berry, who ran over two touchdowns for the second straight week.

Standings:

Fort Worth Defeats Tulsa's Oilers, 1-0.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 26. (AP)—In the best played and best pitched game of the Texas league final playoffs, the Fort Worth Cats downed the Tulsa Oilers, 1-0, here tonight and again squared the series at three each.

Eddie Chandler, Fort Worth's veteran right-hander, who had won the second game, 10-5, came back to outlast Tulsa's Dave Jolly in a spectacular mound duel that contained eight superb plays, about evenly divided between Fort Worth's shortstop Alfonso Carrasquel and right fielder Bob Bundy and Tulsa's center-fielder Ed Knoblauch and second-baseman Johnny Lane.

Walter Fiala, Fort Worth's steady little second-baseman, batted in the lone run of the game in the third when he slapped a ground single to left to score Jack Lindsey with two out.

Lindsey had walked, advanced on Chandler's sacrifice and Cal Abrams' infield out.

Chandler allowed six hits, two more than the Cats collected off Jolly, but he was air-tight in the home stretch. Carrasquel had pulled him out of a hole in the seventh when the star shortstop took a deflected ball and whipped an underhanded throw to first to retire the side. Two were on base.

Tomorrow night's final and deciding game will pit the Oilers' Walker Cress against Robert Milliken, both right-handers.

Tech Works On Passing, Blocking In Preparation For WTSC Tussle

Loss Of Williams Hurts Red Raiders

Monday was an off day for the Red Raiders of Texas Tech, although they suited up and went through a regular drill on the practice field.

Coach Dell Morgan, after the bruising game Saturday against Texas A & M, sent the players seeing the most action through only a light drill. They worked out at one end of the field while the freshmen and varsity members, who saw light action, went through a scrimmage session.

Varsity Polishes Blocking

The varsity worked on pass plays and polished blocking assignments in preparation for the game against West Texas State college here Saturday night. Passing was one of the weak spots Saturday, with the Raiders completing only one of 12 aerials thrown. Not all of it was due to the passers, but the showing was not good.

Tech coaches know that they have a job on their hands this week buoying the spirit of the Raiders and trying to get them in a mood to break loose against West Texas. The Buffaloes consider this their big game of the year and are always at their best, while the Raiders generally take the visitors lightly.

The Raiders aren't in good condition for their game Saturday night, with the hospital list still growing. Coach G. B. Morris remarked yesterday that "we must be snake bit" and it appears that way.

Loss of Don Williams, who is recovering from an operation on his knee performed Sunday in San Antonio, hurts the Raider team immensely. However, Milburn Haydon, a regular last year, is on hand to take his place.

But the injury jinx remains wtih the Raiders. End Jack Davis still is limping on his sprained ankle. End Luke Thompson came down with a sore ankle yesterday as a result of the Aggie game. Halfback Ike Stuver is limping from a hip bruise. Tackle John Andrews still is bothered with a bad shoulder. And several of the players carry cuts and bruises that bother them.

Coach Allie White, who scouted the Buffaloes twice, brought back a word of warning. White told the coaches that they could forget the 34-7 score McMurry rolled up Saturday night. He related how tough the Buffs were for at least two of the four quarters and warned that they had a fine ball club.

There is a strong suspicion among the Raider coaches that the Buffaloes were playing McMurry with their minds on Tech. It is a fact that each year the Canyon team is given little chance to win, but always comes through with a fine game and nearly beats the Raiders.

The "vacation" is due to end today, when the Raider varsity probably will be sent through a long scrimmage to correct mistakes made Saturday and to strengthen the offense.

KIMBROUGH TO BRING 43 MAN SQUAD TO LUBBOCK

CANYON, Sept. 26 (Special)—West Texas State's hustlin' Buffs are rapidly nearing the peak of training for their traditional battle with the Texas Tech Red Raiders in Lubbock Saturday night.

Coach Frank Kimbrough will take a squad of 43 players to the Hub City to try to crack the Red Raider dominance in football over West Texas State. Possessing speed, power and depth, the squad holds the hopes of thousands of Panhandle fans that this may be the year when the Buffaloes will bring back the Red Raiders' scalps to the Canyon campus.

Texas Tech has had two terrific struggles with Texas and Texas A&M which will mean that they will be saucier than ever when they collide with the Thundering Herd. Lubbock is expecting a crowd of 14,000 to be on hand to see the rivalry next Saturday night.

West Texas State students snapped up their allotment of 950 tickets in the first two days of sales. It is expected that a large contingent of Panhandle people will go to Lubbock for the game. Kick-off will be at 8 o'clock.

DON WILLIAMS
Lost For Season

Tech Yearlings Prep For Opener

West Texas State college freshmen will provide the first test of the season for the Texas Tech yearling squad here Friday night and the junior Raiders went through a rough session yesterday in preparing for the game.

Coach Allie White, calling on offensive and defensive elevens, sent them against Raider varsity players who saw little action Saturday night. The result was both encouraging and discouraging. Early plays worked well, but after Coaches Dell Morgan and G. B. Morris got through lambasting the reserves, their defensive work stiffened.

Hudson Routh of Olney, a freshman back, was injured during the practice and may be lost for this week's game. Routh came out of a scrimmage saying that he felt all right, but that he felt a little funny.

He was taken to the dressing room, where he collapsed partially, then began thrashing madly. He was calmed and later was taken by Trainer Mason Borby to West Texas hospital, where he spent the night. He was to be x-rayed this morning for a possible concussion.

Coach White's freshman team, with Waldo Young of Monahans, who is recovering from a sprained ankle seeing little action, manhandled the varsity reserves for much of the afternoon. They were charging hard, opening good holes and scotting backs through for good gains.

On defense, the freshmen looked good for a while, but when Coach Morgan and Coach Morris began needling the reserves, they tightened and the freshmen didn't do so well. The reserves were composed of Bill Sharpley and Lewis Crossley, ends, Bill Glidewell and Jack Cockburn, tackles, Don Anthony and Walt Edrington, guards, Bob Hix, center, and Milton Rathbone, Eural Ramsey, Walter Maloney and Bill O'Grady, backs.

Coach White opened with James Thames and Jerry Thompson, ends, Marland Ribble and Charles Goff, tackles, Buddy Barron and Don Gray, guards, Sam Jones, center, and Carl Madison, Chuck Reynolds, Denton Lambert and Ronnie Miller, backs. His defensive backfield consisted of Don Decker, Jim Turner, Carroll Drye and Jerry Killian. Later, W. H. Barker and Young saw action in the backfield and Joe Harris and Ed Briggs saw service at tackles.

Madison, the little slip of a back from Atmore, Alabama, was doing a good job of running the freshman. He passed well and ran the eleven smoothly. Good gains were turned in by all three offensive backs and even Madison, on a quarterback sneak, gained some good yardage.

Most pleasing thing about the scrimmage was the form showed by Fullback J. W. Thompson of the varsity. Thompson, giving the foot from which a bone was removed 10 days ago its first test, turned in an impressive performance.

Oct 6—Sandia Air Base—Night—Canyon.

Joe DiMaggio's Condition Is Said To Be Improved

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, the New York Yankees' high-priced outfielder, may recover from a virus infection in time for the last two games of the season with the Boston Red Sox here Saturday and Sunday, Dr. Jacques Fischl announced today.

"DiMaggio's temperature is down to normal," the Yankee physician said in the most encouraging report since Joe became ill Sept. 18.

Coaches Offer No Game Alibis

Perhaps for the first time in the history of the Quarterback club, not one of the three coaches that appeared before the gathering in the main ballroom of the Hilton hotel offered an alibi, althoguh only one of them was the helm of a loser last week.

Coach Dell Morgan of Texas Tech merely stated that his team was thrashed soundly. Coach C. R. Pattison of Lubbock High school and Coach Damon Hill of Dunbar High school both praised their squads for the victories that came their way.

Texas Tech dropped a 26-7 game to Texas A & M in San Antonio. The Westerners drubbed North Side, Fort Worth, 38-0 And the Panthers tripped Amarillo's Black Sandies 20-7.

Hill Is Surprised

Coach Hill said that he was a little surprised by his team's victory over Amarillo, but was pleased with the play of the boys. The Panther's drubbed the Black Sandies in high style, but Hill said that when the Amarillo club started rolling, he was frightened. Coach Hill announced that the Panthers will play Midland here Thursday night and a big crowd is expected.

About Midland, Coach Hill said that "they don't graduate any of their players! Why, when I got out of the Navy, some of the boys still playing on the Midland team met me. They're going to be rough. We tied 'em last year and I'm scared."

Pattison Lauds Players

Coach Pattison paid tribute to the fine thinking shown by his players and also their fine passing attack, along with great blocking. He said that the boys showed alertness at all times and that it paid off. He especially praised the hustle shown by the Westerners.

Discussing the two games played so far, Coach Pattison remarked that the opposition was weak and he hoped that it would grow tougher. He also said that Lamesa was lying in wait with a good team and would cause trouble. Coach Pattison explained that teams usually were overconfident, or didn't have enough, but that this year's team had, at the present time, hit a happy medium. In fact he said that they had had a good workout Monday and were in good shape.

Coach Morgan said that Tech was going to keep playing teams on the schedule, but when they found one they could lick, they were going to cancel the remainder of the schedule and just play that one team. He offered no alibis for the Aggie victory, saying that the Farmers had gone into the game determined to win and had.

The Red Raider mentor remarked that punting had been one of the biggest weak spots so far in the Raider offense and defense. It put them in a hole against Texas and again Saturday aginst the Aggies. And the ironicl thing about it was, according to Coach Morgan, tht he and the team had talked it over just before the game and they had agreed that it wouldn't happen again.

Quarterback club members voted unanimously to send a telegram of condolence to Don Williams, big Tech guard, who was operated on Sunday for a knee injured in Saturday's game.

Presentation of "Players Of The Week" awards, issued jointly by KFYO and The Avalanche-Journal, were made. Garnet Reeves and Wayne Stroud received them for their work in the Childress game and Ike Stuver, halfback, received one for the Abilene Christian game and Don Williams received one for his work in the Texas game.

Williams Tops Against Steers

Westerners Drilling For Plainview Tilt

Things went more smoothly at yesterday's Westerner football practice than was the case a week ago, with the team pointing this week for the Bulldogs of Plainview.

The usual offensive and defensive drills were held, and plays that will be used in the future came in for attention. A game-conditioning scrimmage will probably be held today, and the latter part of the week more emphasis on offense and defense against Plainview will be brought out.

Last week the Westerners romped to a sound 38-0 victory over the Steers from North Side of Fort Worth, displaying a fine aerial game as well as sparkling play on the ground.

In winning over North Side, the Westerners overcame stiff competition in the first half, going scoreless, but then rushed back to score 13 points in the second quarter, 19 in the third and seven in the final stanza.

A new team of scorer's was uncovered, and fewer penalties were assessed against the Westerners. But the extra-point kicking was off, only two being made all evening in six attempts.

Ends Rough On Defense

Defensively the ends were the most rugged obstacle to the Steers. Garnet Reeves and Billy Wright broke through repeatedly to down the attempted passer, and Halfback Charlie Williams helped stop them once they got through the line. Williams recovered one fumble, and Reeves recovered another. Reeves' most outstanding play of the night was a recovery of a Lubbock kickoff which gave the Westerners the ball deep in North Side's end of the field and resulted in a score.

Leading the scoring Friday was Charlie Williams with 12 points. He took a 10-yard pass from Bob Brown for the first counter, and then in the fourth period broke loose for an 86-yard touchdown jaunt.

Scoring single tallies were Reeves on a pass from Turner covering 15-yards, Fullback Malcolm Young on a three-yard plunge through the middle, Turner on an end sweep for two yards, and Halfback Billy Tooke on a pass from Turner for the final tally which came from 10-yards out. Turner and left halfback Wayne Stroud kicked one extra-point each.

Brown And Turner Passers

Passing honors were divided between Brown and Turner. Brown completed four of nine tosses for 57 yards and one score before retiring late in the second quarter with an injury. Turner, in relief, connected with three passes in six attempts, two for touchdowns, all covering 46 yards. One pass was intercepted. Tooke and Brown each intercepted one North Side pass.

On the receiving end Reeves gathered in three passes for 42 yards, Tooke snagged two for 31 yards, and Williams caught two for 25 yards.

In nine tries from scrimmage, Williams made 137 net yards for an average of 15.2 per carry, helped measurably by his long run. Young picked up 36 yards in eight tries, an average of 4½ yards per carry. Brown carried once for 24 yards on a nice run when he could not spot a receiver. Stroud carried five times for 20 yards, four yards per try. Turner picked up 19 yards on four carries. Donnie Rowls picked up 14 yards in three attempts, Mack Taylor nine in one, and Jack Weldon gained four yards.

President's Cup Pairings Made

Pairings for the President's Cup golf tournament at Lubbock Country club were made Monday, and one match will be played each week beginning this week.

Qualifying rounds for the handicap tourney were played Saturday and Sunday. In cases where two golfers were awarded first round byes, they may play their second-round match this week.

A total of 42 golfers have entered the tourney, and an upper and lower bracket were drawn up for the elimination process toward the championship.

Port Arthur Tops Schoolboy Teams

DALLAS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Port Arthur returned to the top of the Texas schoolboy football hit parade today.

The Yellow Jackets, who last week crushed Milby of Houston 60-6, were named best in the weekly Dallas News poll. Austin, last week's leader, went down to third.

Amarillo's Sandies forged from third to second and Wichita Falls, fifth last week, tied Lubbock for fourth.

Abilene, Breckenridge and Jeff Davis (Houston) fell out of the top ten.

Twenty-four writers voted in the poll with Port Arthur getting 15 first places, Amarillo four, Austin three and Lubbock two.

Port Arthur got 228 out of a possible 240 points. Here are the top ten with their points.

1. Port Arthur (228).
2. Amarillo (193).
3. Austin (183).
4. Lubbock and Wichita Falls, tied (146).
6. Marshall (68).
7. Texarkana (57).
8. Baytown (37).
9. Sunset (Dallas) (31).
10. Corsicana (30).

Mapes May Draw Fine, Suspension

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (INS)—The disputed run which gave the Boston Red Sox a 7 to 6 win over the Yankees today and placed the Sox atop the American league, may prove costly to New York outfielder Cliff Mapes even though he didn't get into the game.

Cliff faces a possible fine and suspension as an aftermatch to the stormy protest raised by the Yankees when Umpire Billy Grieve ruled that Johnny Pesky was "safe" in trying to score from third on a squeeze play in the eighth inning. This proved to be the winning run.

Catcher Ralph Houk was so incensed with Grieve's decision that he had to be restrained by some of his teammates. But the "culprit" in Grieve's report to league president Will Harriage will be Mapes.

According to the umpire, Mapes accosted him in the runway beneath the stands after the game was over and among other things cracked, "How much did you bet on the game?"

The veteran arbiter said he was reporting Mapes to Harriage and added:

"There have been ballplayers found guilty of betting on games, but never an umpire. Remember that."

As to his decision in the climatic eighth, Grieve declared:

"The runner slid right under Houk, and that's all there is to it . . . in my heart I know I made the right call."

The lateness of the incident and the tenseness of the race may be the only thing that will save Mapes from a suspension.

Williams Favors Sox To Win

By TED WILLIAMS
(Written Expressly For INS)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (INS)—That was the big one that we won this afternoon by 7 to 6 over the Yankees to take the American league lead for the first time this season.

That one put us on top by a full game in a comeback from 12 games behind the Yanks on July 4, and now, for the first time, the pressure is off of us and on the Yanks.

This doesn't mean that we've got the pennant won yet.

We've got three games with Washington starting tomorrow night and two more with the Yankees next weekend, all of them away from home, and we will play them as they come up. We haven't won yet, but we are the team to beat now and it is a wonderful feeling to be chased instead of doing the chasing.

We could clinch the pennant in that Washington series in which we will play night games tomorrow and Wednesday and an afternoon game on Thursday.

To do this, however, we would need some help from the Philadelphia Athletics in their three games with the Yankees on those same three days.

I figure the A's will be tough for the Yankees, but we won't have any soft touch with Washington.

It actually was Rae Scarborough who beat us near the end of the season and cost us that pennant last year. We know we will face him again in one of those three Washington games, and when he is right he can be tough.

However, the Red Sox are hustling, as I think everybody must know. You don't beat the Yankees three in a row as we have just done to come from two games back to a game in front without giving everything every minute.

In this connection I can't say too much about Johnny Pesky, who has been one of our real key men all season. He has played tremendous baseball as have all the Red Sox. We've got the spirit and winning team-work.

Once again, I don't say we are in, but this much is certain: For the first time since last April, the Yankees must pass us now, with only five games to go.

Clyde Littlefield Named New Head Of South Texas AAU

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 26. (AP)—Clyde Littlefield, veteran track coach at the University of Texas, is the new president of the South Texas chapter of the Amateur Athletic Union. He succeeds Joe Prowse, Austin.

Also elected at a meeting here last night were vice presidents Joe Garrett, Harlingen; Eddie Neumann, San Antonio; Cotton Clover, Odessa; Lt. C. I. Sheehan, San Antonio, and Ben Singleton, San Antonio.

On the afternoon of December 3, in Dallas' Cotton bowl stadium, the Southern Methodist Mustangs are to play Notre Dame's Fighting Irish.

Now, the big boys tell me that this one will be the game of the year, if not the contest of the century. Tickets already are selling for something like $50 per copy, if you can find someone with tickets to sell.

Personally, I would not pay $50 to sit in on this engagement even if they had a half-time show featuring Matty Bell vs. Frank Leahy in a boxing exhibition, and Doak Walker riding Purina (the Mustang mascot) in a bronc-busting display. I like my football, I'm an ex-student of SMU (but a graduate of Texas Tech), and Walker is a great guy, But fifty bucks is fifty bucks.

Besides, having spent a December in Dallas, I recall that those Saturday afternoons sometimes grow quite chilly. It is altogether possible that these football fanatics who are plunking down their $50 are doing so for the unenviable privilege of freezing to death in company with 73,000 other suffering souls.

As a matter of fact, I frankly doubt that this SMU-Notre Dame affair will be half the ball game it's pumped up to be.

Coming from a native Texan, this may sound like heresy, but I fear that Southern Methodist is going to get the surprise of its life when Frank Leahy lights the fuse on that Notre Dame time-bomb. The Ponies have never run up on anything quite like this Irish team, which plays a rock 'em, sock 'em brand of power ball seldom seen in the Southwest.

While I prefer to watch the more colorful Southwestern type of "wide-open" football, I sincerely doubt that Matty Bell's Mustangs will be able to cope with Notre Dame's brute force. To make matters worse than they now stand, SMU has an extremely rugged conference schedule ahead, and by Dec. 3 the Ponies quite possibly will be pretty well battered. Notre Dame, on the other hand, has reserve power to spare, and isn't likely to be deeply hurt by injuries.

In short, I think that $50 a ducat is about $45 too steep in this particular instance.

A surprising — and pleasing — feature of Lubbock High's first two games has been the sparkling work of Ends Billy Wright and Garnet Reeves. The Westerners lost two fine ends from the 1948 team (Ted Vaught and Bob Rooker), but the play of Wright and Reeves to date has left little to be desired on the flanks . . . Circle "October 7" on your calendar. That's the date of the Lubbock Country club exhibition match between Cary Middlecoff, the golfing ex-dentist, and Frank Stranahan, the nation's outstanding amateur linksman. The match is being sponsored by the local American Business club, with prices to be announced later . . . Another golfing event coming up is the $2,000 West Texas Open, at Amarillo's Ross Rogers municipal course Sept. 30 through Oct 2. There will be special divisions for amateurs . . . Sam Houchin, Ralls pitcher, turned in a steady mound performance recently in pitching his club to a 13-inning, 4-3 victory over Wolfforth's Wolves in the opener of an exhibition doubleheader. Houchin fanned seven, walked only one, and scattered 11 hits. Wolfforth came back to win the nightcap, which was shortened by darkness, which left the "Cotton Belt" (two words) champs all square with the "Cottonbelt" (one word) kings in their special playoff . . . Incidentally, the name of the "Cottonbelt" league will be changed next year, to avoid further confusion regarding the two baseball circuits . . . A doff of the derby to Coach Gordon Wood's Seminole Indians for their stunning 21-13 upset of highly-favored Pecos last weekend.

S. F. Austin Leads Lone Star Conference

(By The Associated Press)

Lone Star Conference football teams showed their teeth over the weekend.

The three clubs which saw action came through with colors flying.

Stephen F. Austin, pre-season favorite to win the conference title, won its second straight game, trouncing Mexico City college 55 to 0.

Southwest Texas State defeated Trinity university of the New Gulf Coast conference 20 to 6.

Sam Houston won its first game since 1947 by nudging Southwestern university of the Texas Conference, 6 to 0.

East Texas was not scheduled.

Oliver McKay, hard-driving Stephen F. Austin fullback, has chalked up three touchdowns to take the lead in the individual scoring race. His tally is 18 points.

Saturday, Southwest Texas plays Texas A&I at San Marcos, Sam Houston meets East Texas Baptist at Huntsville and East Texas plays Howard Payne at Brownwood. Stephen F. Austin is idle.

Use Of Proper Headgear Urged

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26 (AP)—A spokesman for the American Football Coaches Association today sounded a grave plea for all grid players—sandlot, high school, college and professional — to "check your headgear before each game."

The word of caution came from Dr. Floyd E. Eastwood of Los Angeles, chairman of the coaches' committee on injuries and fatalities.

A toll of 325 players has been fatally injured as a direct result of footbal injuries, according to records compiled over the past 17 years by the committee.

Of this total, Dr. Eastwood said, approximately 69 per cent of all direct fatalities were caused by blows to the head, resulting in head or spinal cord injury.

Extensive research is being made into all football equipment, he went on, and far reaching recommendations eventually will be presented to the Coaches' Association.

Lamar, Tyler Lead Junior College Play

(By The Associated Press)

Lamar and Tyler are away to a lead in the battle for the Southwestern Junior College Conference football title but only because just half the teams have played games counting in the standings.

Lamar licked Schreiner 21-0 and Tyler trounced Tarleton State 41-0 last week in opening Conference games.

These two teams are undefeated for the season but so is Kilgore which has played two non-conference foes. Last week Kilgore downed the Cameron Aggies of Oklahoma 20-0.

Two conference games are scheduled this week, bringing two more teams into title play.

Friday night Schreiner plays Paris and Lamar battles San Angelo.

Tyler plays an important intersectional game, entertaining Los Angeles City college at Tyler Saturday night.

Other games scheduled for the week send Arlington State to Athens to play Henderson County while Tarleton State meets Ranger at Stephenville, both Thursday night.

BAYLOR RESUMES DRILL

WACO, Sept. 26. (AP)—Baylor university's football team settled to routine practice today in almost perfect physical condition. "A few charlie horses and that's about all," said Coach Bob Woodruff. Baylor takes on Mississippi State this week.

Indianapolis Invades Milwaukee Today In AA Playoff Finals

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 26. (AP)—Indianapolis invades Milwaukee tomorrow night needing but one victory from the Brewers to win the American Association playoff championship and qualify for the Little World Series against the International league winner.

The Tribe banged three Milwaukee hurlers for 14 hits in taking their third game 9-3 at Indianapolis yesterday.

Eleven Colleges Are Undefeated

Eleven of Texas' 29 colleges playing football are undefeated as the campaign rounds out its first month. Two of those teams have been tied.

Hardin sets the pace with three victories in which it has scored 118 points to nothing for the opposition. Texas is second with a 2-0 record and 97 points to none.

Barring a tie, at least one of the unbeaten teams will fall because Southwest Texas State and Texas A. and I. play each other.

Texas Christian will run into trouble with Arkansas, Baylor with Mississippi State and Southern Methodist with Missouri.

Standings of the undefeated teams:

Team	W	L	T	Pts	Op	Pct.
Hardin	3	0	0	118	0	1.000
Texas	2	0	0	97	0	1.000
Tex. West'rn	2	0	0	80	13	1.000

Tex. Christ'n	1	0	1	61	33	.750
S.W.T. State	1	0	1	20	6	.750

This week's schedule:

Saturday — Texas Western vs. Hawaii at El Paso, Texas Christian vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville, Baylor vs. Mississippi State at Starkville, Miss., Rice vs. Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, La., Southern Methodist vs. Missouri at Dallas, Texas vs. Idaho at Austin, Hardin vs. Austin college at Childress,, Texas A. and I. vs. Southwest Texas State at San Marcos, Sul Ross vs. Eastern New Mexico at Portales, N. M.

Stephen F. Austin has no game this week.

Washington First In East Texas Batting

LONGVIEW, Sept. 26. (AP)—Vernon (George) Washington of Gladewater won the batting championship of the East Texas league, final averages released today by statistician Cecil E. Burdick showed.

The veteran Washington clubbed out 198 hits in 512 times at bat for .387. It was 16 points better than Johnny Stone of Henderson, who was runner-up.

Washington also was second in runs batted in with 133. The leader was Glenn Burns of Longview with 136.

Three players tied for first in home runs—Stone, L. D. Meyer of Gladewater and Jack Jones of Longview. Each got 21.

The heaviest winner among pitchers was George Yanen of Paris, who notched 22 wins.

Longview led in club batting with .291 and Gladewater in club fielding with .963.

Ty Recalls Nap Lajoie's Hitting

Cobb Favors Cards To Capture Pennant

By PAT ROBINSON
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 — Ty Cobb has a little less hair and a little more poundage than he had in the days when he was the terror of all pitchers.

But the immortal Georgia peach —in our book the greatest ball player who ever lived—still retains the unflagging enthusiasm and restless energy that helped make him the king of the diamond.

He's in New York on his honeymoon and will take in the World Series before proceeding to Royston, Ga., his old home town, where he is erecting a hospital as a memorial to his parents.

"Yes," he told us today, "I'm here combining pleasure and pleasure. Honeymooning and baseball.

Pulling For Yanks

"I'm pulling for the Yanks to win but I fear the worst. I want to see them win because they've got the largest park and more fans can get to see the series.

"But, win, or lose, I think Casey Stengel has done the greatest job of managing I've ever seen. I've never seen any team so hard hit by injuries.

"Just think of it. That's enough to wreck any club. Those boys must be game and old Casey has had them on top all the way.

"Imagine losing key men like Joe DiMaggio, Tommy Henrich, and Yogi Bera for long stretches of time and still sticking on top. That's simply marvelous."

Thinks Cards Will Win

Ty thinks the Cardinals should win in the National league but, he added smilingly, "No matter which National league team wins, I think the American leaguers will take them.

"You know we've always dominated the World Series," said the old American league champion.

We asked Ty how he rated Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams with the old timers and he replied "They're both great ball players but both could be better than they are. Ted doesn't cross up the opposition as he should by hitting to left field and Joe never keeps himself in proper condition with hunting and long runs in the winter to strengthen his legs."

Ty admitted the game is different today. "In my day there was more skill. Today it's a slam bang affair due to the lively ball.

"But, say, I'd like to have seen Nap Lajoie hitting the present ball against some of these pitchers I see today. That would be a slaughter. I'll bet Nap would have made the highest batting average ever known. I'm sure he'd hit 'way over .400 every year. You know, Nap rarely fanned and he always hit line drives."

SAME OLD STORY

New Postal Grab

THE SENATE Postoffice committee gave its approval the other day of substantial increases in numerous postal rates to provide more money to pay for the ever-rising cost of government.

Under the bill, people would pay more for parcel post, special deliveries, registries, postal cards, reading materials and several other types of services. Official estimates are that they would provide about $100,000,000 more in revenue. Observers generally agree that the total increase would be much larger and has been under-estimated as a deliberate deception designed to quiet opposition to the scheme.

However, there is one glaring omission from the list of devices which might be used to help the Postoffice department make ends meet. No one in Congress has proposed any restrictions upon the "franking" privilege which many abuse flagrantly.

This privilege allows congressmen and others connected with the federal government to send through the mails without cost anything that pertains to "official" business. Probably no one would criticise this, if it were not abused. But it is a notorious fact that the abuses are extreme. Propaganda of all kinds in enormous volume pours out of Washington in a continuing stream under the "franks" which give it a free ride through the mails. Individual congressmen have been known to send the most personal kind of greetings for themselves, their families and sometimes their friends in "franked" envelopes. No one knows how much these abuses cost the taxpayers. Beyond any doubt, it is large.

This is one example where the financial problems of a government agency might be eased through economies rather than an increase in levies upon Americans. If Congress would cut down on the "franking" abuses, some of the other increases probably would not be needed. But Congress, as usual, is not disposed to economize. It reaches for more money.

Fortunately, the postal increase proposal still has a long way to go before being enacted into law. If enough Americans would protest the scheme with sufficient vigor, the chances are pretty good that the postal increase would be blocked, and that the answer to postoffice financial problems would be found in economies rather than higher rates.

Constitutional Revision

REVISIONS of the Texas Constitution have been proposed many times, starting even before its ratification by people of the State on Feb. 15, 1876. None of the proposals has gotten far.

But discussion of the subject are recurrent, the most recent contribution to them being a 79-page bulletin published by the Bureau of Municipal Research of the University of Texas under the title, "Methods of Constitution Revision," John P. Keith is the author.

While the document is informative and, perhaps, a constructive contribution to the subject, it isn't likely to hasten revisions. The basic reasons for its probable futility are simple.

First of all, most people of Texas are pretty well satisfied with the Constitution as it is. It has its faults, as they readily will acknowledge. But it has worked to general satisfaction.

Secondly, nearly all the revisions suggested have contained a basic fault. Practically without exception, they have proposed to take powers out of the hands of the people and transfer them to the politcians at Austin.

People of Texas, therefore, are wise to regard proposed revisions with skepticism. The present Constitution has been tried and proved since its ratification nearly 74 years ago. A revised Constitution might be an improvement — but, on the other hand, it might not be. It is questionable whether most Texans would be disposed to take that chance.

Indications are that man will soon learn how to control the weather. And if and when he accomplishes this, he will have learned how to control almost everything in this neck of the universe except man.

GAYNEL had to call in Doctor Carile again for her mother. Her nerves were in such a state, after the scene Fritz had made that they rose to the point of hysteria and she suffered what the doctor described, perhaps for want of a better term, a slight heart attack.

Emile was pleased. She now had a heart to consider, as well as nerves.

She would scarcely allow Gaynel out of her sight, so that she was obliged to get a few days leave of absence from the office. She followed her with big mournful eyes, faint reproachful sighs, and her most patient and sweetest smile when Gaynel was in the room. She did not attempt to extract any promise from her daughter in regard to her leaving her at such a time, but it was understood, in the very atmosphere of the big house that any such procedure would without doubt be the end of Emily.

Gaynel was allowed one brief, tense interview with Fritz. On the third evening of the five days. It took place in the little writing room.

"I've reserved a drawing room on the Santa Fe," Fritz said. "Day after tomorrow. Will you have that bag packed?" His tone was light, but his blue eyes had never been more serious.

Gaynel said, "You know I can't."

"I don't know anything of the sort. You could if you wanted. We've still time enough."

"Two days."

"Two minutes should be enough to make up your mind. If, as I said before, you wanted to make it up. See here, my sweet," Fritz adopted his masterful air, "you can't really mean you're going to let this stop you?"

"You said some things that were almost unforgivable, Fritz."

"The truth always stings."

"But it wasn't the whole truth. I'll admit it in parts. Besides, they are my family. I love them."

THEY both were standing as though there was not time to sit down.

"But someone had to say those things. You can't really mean you'd let me go without you, that you're not going with me? Think of the Christmas we planned — sunshine and roses."

She said, "There'll be other Christmases." And wondered why he could not see how it twisted her heart to say it. "You know I can't go—this time, Fritz."

"Because your mother is ill, I suppose," Fritz said, impatiently. "But you can't honestly tell me it's anything serious, Gaynel."

"The doctor said she must have rent and quiet. If she was upset again, it might prove serious."

"She's just stalling. She thinks if she still can persuade you to marry your gilded boy friend, and his 20 millions."

Gaynel said, "I can't let you talk that way, Fritz."

Out of that pride and hurt he said, "Maybe you're stalling for time, too. Maybe it's hard for you to give up the idea of those 20 millions."

Her face went white. "You have no right to talk that way to me. To say such things."

"I seem to have no rights at all."

"You're being terribly unfair."

"'All's fair in love . . . You've surely heard that one."

"You're being unreasonable."

"As I said before," Fritz took up his place in front of her once more; but he folded his arms in back of him, as though determined to keep them there, "this isn't getting us anywhere. And as you have reminded me, several times, there isn't much time; I'm keeping you. Are you going with me, Gaynel? Shall I take that drawing room?"

SHE did not answer. She could not. But he could see that her answer was the same as it had been.

"There's still time," Fritz said. His eyes compelled hers to look at him, in the way that only his eyes could do. So that her heart thudded madly against her ribs, and her knees were shaking. "We can round up a minister; we can have that Christmas with roses and sunshine—together."

Still she did not answer.

He said, "It's now—or never, Gay." For the moment his disarming grin fished forth, his tone was teasing, tender. Then he was the Fritz who could be difficult, domineering, high-handed. "I mean it, Gaynel. I never meant anything more in all my life. I've no intention of being kept dangling, like your gilded boy friend. I don't mean to play second, even to your family. It's take me, or leave me. Now or never. The choice—and decision—is up to you — alone."

Gaynel looked at him for a long moment. Then she wrenched her eyes away. Strength flowed back into her veins; her heart beat normally again. "If you really mean that," she said, "there's no choice for me to make. You're the one who has decided. I can't go with you now, Fritz."

A tiny white line sprang around his lips; his blue eyes narrowed; his hands, behind him still, clenched. Then he bowed from his waist, in the old Armand manner; he even clicked his heels together, forced a grin. "Very well, Madome. I bid you farewell. Good night and goodby. Good luck—and God bless you."

And with those words, he was gone.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

"WHAT do you want to be when you grow up?"

Almost every little boy is asked that question when an aunt or an uncle or a friend or stranger comes to call and doesn't know what to talk about to a little boy.

BRANDEIS

When I was a little boy I was avidly reading Fenimore Cooper's "Leatherstocking Tales."

There were not yet any comic books nor was there jet propulsion.

So, for a while, I wanted to be a cowboy with the special job of killing bad Indians.

Then the automobile became popular and with it came hair-raising automobile races.

So I wanted to be an automobile racer like Ralph De Palma, then one of the country's most popular racing drivers and my idol.

Today boys all want to be aviators, parachute jumpers, television stars or leaders of bebop bands.

Parents, of course, have different ideas.

They want their kids to be bank presidents, board chairmen of great corporations, famous lawyers or great physicians.

I even know of one father who wants his son to be a columnist!

The son is not yet born and may even turn out to be a daughter when he does arrive. So the father still has plenty of time to change his mind.

However, in planning a career for the offspring, nobody ever seems to think of the start. It's always the culmination.

Which brings me to the announcement I received that the first week in October is Newspaperboy Week and the last day of that week will be National Newspaperboy Day.

My good friend, H. W. Stodghill, of Philadelphia, a great newspaperman himself, asked me to write something about it.

In his announcement he tells me that among former newsboys are such successful men as Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York; Governor Earl Warren of California; Senator Arthur Vandenberg; Fred M. Vinson, Chief Justice of the United States; Joseph P. Kennedy, former Ambassador to England and reputedly a multimillionaire; Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel; Dr. R. G. Sproul, president of the University of California, Mike Jacobs, Bob Hope; many newspaper publishers, cartoonists, writers and professional men.

NONE of these men started on top. Every one started as a newsboy.

If I had a son, he'd start as a newsboy, too.

A newsboy has to be self-reliant. He has to be tough and be out in all kinds of weather. He has to count pennies. He is an independent business man and learns the idea of free enterprise at an early age.

And, he ought to be a good shot, as many of you who have picked wet newspapers out of the grass will confirm.

For any job in later life the job of newsboy is good preparation.

Never mind the finish—let your boy get started right—and one of the best starts is as a newsboy!

Trade Plans Blocked

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The Eighty-First Congress may not be the worst in recent history, but the 1949-1950 legislators have hung up an all-time record for hypocritical breast-beating for seemingly noble causes at the same time that they gumshoe about the Capital in an effort to sabotage the principles they espouse and vote for on the floor. Indeed, they admit it in their cloakroom and cocktail conversations, possessing at least the virtue of private frankness.

The Congress, for instance, recently extended the Reciprocal Trade Agreements for two years. It has been hailed as a magnificent victory for the Truman Administration and as a gesture of international assistance and friendship. It is supposed to level barriers erected under wicked and short-sighted Republican regimes against imports from needy countries.

TUCKER

Among the shining figures who carried the banner in this battle were Majority Senate Leader Scott W. Lucas of Illinois and Majority House Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts.

WARNING: But even before the smoke had lifted from the scene of the struggle on Capitol Hill, the two champions of freer trade were warning the State and Treasury Departments that they must not lower duties on products also made in their respective commonwealths. They will continue to badger Secretaries Acheson and Snyder—secretly, of course—during technical discussions of new duties, quotas and valuation schedules.

Mr. Lucas has served notice that Swiss watches must not be permitted to harm the business of the Elgin time piece, which is manufactured in his state. Mr. McCormack favors wide-open channels of commerce, but only if they do not cut down the sales of textiles, shoes and watches whose manufacture gives employment and profits—or used to, anyway—to his lowly and lordly constituents.

Western and Southern members helped to round up the votes for extension. But they want no tariff reductions that will narrow or destroy the market for Texas-Oklahoma-California-Wyoming oil, for Montana copper and other minerals, or for the wheat and wool on their farms and ranches. They will haggle privately to protect these interests, in spite of their floor votes to the contrary.

HOWLS: The trade agreement process was supposed to eliminate this sort of log-rolling, and to supplant it with a system of economic and scientific treatment of tariffs. To a certain extent, it may have that effect. But not if the politicos can prevent it through their influence in downtown departments, where the actual decisions will be made.

The individual M. C. may not understand the intricacies of the vast and complex question of the tariff, but he does know from hometown howls when its operation tnreatens to cost him votes.

TAXES: The honorable gentlemen, so the record shows, have done an even more effective job of two-timing with respect to cutting government costs in an attempt to reduce taxes and prices for millions of taxpayers and consumers. Sometimes, in view of their squirming on this subject, press gallery observers wonder how they can sleep comfortably with themselves.

It is doubtful if so many individual members of House and Senate denounced the budget, the taxation system and federal wastefulness so frequently and violently as the Eighty-First men did in the 1948 campaign and at the present session. This was to be the No. 1 problem at Washington.

PADDING: But the final batch of appropriations will show no saving. The very men who talked the loudest for economy for the other fellow demanded millions for their state or district.

They ducked or voted against the resolution requiring President Truman to make an overall 5 or 10 percent cut in appropriations, which would have meant a saving of from $2.6 to $4.2 billion.

They praised Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia for his persistent demand for a reduction in the number of Uncle Sam's employees. But influential Democrats, especially with an election ahead, insist on payroll padding if it will help them.

HYPOCRISY: Messrs. Lucas and McCormack also happen to be prize exhibits of political inconsistency and double-talking on the question of farm subsidies and retail prices. As leaders, they stand out in this house of hypocrisy, but they are by no means unique. On most of these issues, they command a majority in their respective chambers.

The Illinoisan and the Bay Stater have wept in public for the excessive price of food to urban consumers, each having a fair number of urban dwellers in their bailiwicks. Indeed, they have warned that the subsidy system will break down of its own weight, as many farmers realize unless it can be brought more into line with economic realities.

But it is probable that, if the White House puts the slug on them, they will vote for the current or even higher support levels.

Diogenes should be living and walking Capitol corridors at this hour!

A homemaker who asked what should be done with left-over spinach was advised to leave it over again.

Overheard, hostess speaking: "I don't want you to feel at home—I want you to enjoy yourselves."

"There's no fun like work," declares a successful business man. Yes, we know. That's why we like fun much better than we do work.

Contract will be let this week for the construction of a large auditorium for the First Baptist church on Main street, according to an announcement last night by J. C. Carroll, educational director.

The structure will cost approximately $10,000 and will be of only a temporary nature to last for several years while plans are going forward for the construction of a new church building.

All property has been purchased by the church between Ave. M and Ave. N on Main street, and the building will be erected here. It is to be of stucco and will seat about 2,500 people. Construction will be started probably next week.

Believe It Or Not -

DELAYS BY LEADERS ASSAILED

UN Has Chance To Assume Lead

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — To one layman, whose reactions must be the same as those of millions of others in this country and the world, it seemed that our Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, missed a splendid opportunity in his speech to the new session of the United Nations general assembly this week in New York to rise above the mechanical routine diplomacy.

STOKES

As expected, his speech was what the dramatic critics call "adequate." It was polished, logical, with the usual sharp brilliance and cold sort of eloquence; in short, in the best diplomatic tradition. Conciliatory and hopeful in tone, it yet properly fixed responsibility on Russia's obstinacy for much of the trouble in the world today.

Talk Was Too Cautious

But how much more he might have said, how great an influence he might have wielded among people all over the world at this favorable moment, he indicated in his few brief and suggestive, if cautious, departures from the role of lawyer representing one of the clients there, the United States.

He warily edged up to it toward the end of his address. He had catalouged carefully, with notations as to our policy, the still-unsolved special problems among nations all over the world. He had recalled again the basic unsettled issues of international security that have so harassed the United Ntions, international control of atomic bombs and general disarmament, in which Russia has been the chief obstacle.

Then he said:

"IN the final analysis, the security problem is a universal problem. It cannot be solved except on a universal basis, through the United Nations."

There he put the U. N. in its proper function and perspective.

And again, in his concluston: "The public interest of the world community demands that we get on with our business."

Is it extremely naive and too much to ask if he could not have seized this very propitious hour when peace again seems to be fluttering its wings, when a more friendly spirit appears to be abroad in the U. N. Assembly, and go on boldly from these premises? Go on to put up squarely to our world parliament, and in words that would arouse and stir people everywhere, the need for the next step. That would be to strengthen the U. N. into a really effective universal organization implemented to cope with the problems of the "world community."

He stepped right up to it—then backed away. And this is the hour, and ours is the voice that counts so much in the world. We have tremendous power, material and spiritual, and great moral influence. Yet we seem very timid about using them.

Delays Are Scored

It does not seem enough to excuse this failure by pointing out that our State Department presented some months ago to the U. N. Assembly proposals for strengthening the U. N. embodied in a Senate-approved resolution sponsored by Senator Vandenburg (R-Mich). It does not seem sufficient that this went through what the State department calls "channels." So much gets lost in "channels," diplomatic "channels."

This is another day and a new and fresh occasion. What we need is a voice, somebody to tell it all again to our people and the people of the world, somebody to call bluntly for action. The people are told too little about these things. Sometimes it seems that our leaders get so involved in details, sit so close to the picture, that they lose sight of the big need of which plain human beings are conscious. How conscious they are is shown by the numerous resolutions in Congress advocating that we push forward to the next step of a real world federation.

TO the Secretary of State's credit, he did point out a means —a technique — by which the U. N. assembly, itself, could be used more effectively in solution of recurring troublesome problems. Explaining that the four major nations interested in the Italian colonies had agreed in advance to accept the assembly's recommendations on this problem, he said that this method of a prior agreement to abide by similar decisions, not only by the Assembly but also by the security council and the international court of justice, "might well assist the settlement of various other political problems." He recalled that it was the Assembly, itself, on its own initiative, that worked out this method, which suggests that other devices of this sort might be utilized.

That, at least, is a beginning. But isn't this the time to go further and ask for more?

Krug To Speak At Water Meet

ABILENE, Sept. 26. (AP)—West Texas' domestic water problems will be reviewed at a meeting in Fort Worth Nov. 22 to be addressed by Secretary of Interior Julius Krug.

The date and site for the meeting, to be a general board meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, were announced today by the chamber's directors.

Towns To Be Invited

All West Texas towns will be invited to attend, Manager D. A. Bandeen of the chamber said. He said Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) and West Texas congressmen also are expected to be on hand. The meeting is expected to draw about 1,200 people.

The directors today took first steps toward organization of a West Texas Domestic Water association. The group would coordinate the fight of municipalities in West Texas for water supplies. The directors voted to recommend to the general board at Fort Worth that the association be incorporated. Bandeen was instructed to have incorporation papers ready.

Bureau Survey Launched

Today's executive directors meeting also officially launched the Bureau of Reclamation survey of the upper portions of the Brazos and Colorado rivers. The bureau will select sites for several dams to back up reservoirs for water supplies for several West Texas cities.

Harry P. Burleigh of Austin, the bureau's state planning engineer, said the survey already is underway. He said he hopes to be able to call a meeting of all towns concerned by February or March and present concrete proposals.

The directors went on record as opposing confirmation of Leland Olds as a member of the Federal Power commission. Lawrence Hagy of Amarillo and Rupert N. Richardson of Abilene, now in Washington, were instructed to oppose Olds in the chamber's behalf. The chamber's opposition also was communicated to Sen. Johnson.

RECORD TAX ROLL OKAYED

DALLAS, Sept. 26. (AP)—Dallas county commissioners approved today a record county tax roll of $539,560,680. The increase is 14 per cent over the 1948 roll. Tax officer Ben Gentle said he will have the roll sent to Austin immediately for approval of the state comptroller.

Air Defense Set Up In Seattle Section

SEATTLE, Sept. 26 (AP)—An elaborate aerial defense system improved from World War II, was disclosed today to be operating 24 hours a day in the Pacific Northwest.

Every plane that takes off from a Pacific Northwest field or enters the area is detected by radar and identified at a control center.

If identification is not established immediately armed interceptor planes are sent up. It is partly practice, partly precautionary.

Operation of the defense setup was reported today by the Seattle Times, the Everett, Wash., Herald and Rep. Henry Jackson (D-Wash.). Reporters for the two papers toured defense installations with Jackson and military authorities cleared their stories—with specific locations, radar ranges and number of aircraft ommitted for security reasons.

Jurors Examine One-Ball Marble Table

Raiding Constable Is Heard By Harris County Grand Jury

HOUSTON, Sept. 26. (AP)—Raidin' Dale Richardson isn't mad at the Harris county grand jury any more.

The jurors today examined one of the one-ball marble tables the La Porte constable has seized since Sept. 1 and then questioned and listened to the big cowboy attired officer for half an hour.

Two weeks ago the grand jurors would not listen as Dale appeared to tell them his thoughts about gambling in Houston. They advised him to file charges against the marble machine distributors and operators with a justice of the peace.

Jury Given Evidence

He said he gave the jury all of his evidence and information on the 83 pinball machines.

Two weeks ago he had said he would return and if the jury did not listen he would throw his evidence on the marble tables out a window.

Today he brought one of the tables with him. He said four of his undercover agents just happened to run into it in a grocery store while they were enroute to the criminal courts building here from La Porte, Richardson's home precinct 25 miles southeast of Houston.

He and Asst. Dist. Atty. Paul Maynard supervised as the table was carried into the jury room.

Owner Is Questioned

The table was removed from the room after four or five minutes but the constable remained a half hour.

Then the jury held a long conference with the owner of the grocery store.

There was no immediate comment from the jurors as to what action, if any, they plan to take.

Earlier Richardson had told reporters he would ask the jury to return felony indictments against a distributor of the tables.

No Charges Filed

He also carried his strategy into the 113th district court as he filed a petition for the court's permission to destroy eight of the tables.

These eight were singled out, he said, because they had not been changed from one-ball to five-ball machines at the time they were seized.

The first 82 machines have been stored by Richardson in a Houston warehouse. No charges have been filed.

Meanwhile owners of the one-ball machines were reported to be collecting all the tables Richardson has not seized and placing them in a warehouse.

Richardson proudly claimed the action is a result of his raids.

New Weed Found In Lamb County Feared To Be Crop Threat

Remember Xanthium spinosum, that wicked looking weed that popped up in Floyd Pearson's pasture near Lorenzo recently?

It was the first time agriculture experts had noticed the spiny cockleburr-infested plant in the South Plains, and it was observed with much interest as a possible serious threat to agriculture in the area.

Specimen Brought In

Monday Vernon Qualls of Fieldton, 14 miles northeast of Littlefield, brought a specimen of the weed into Lubbock and reported that the weed has been common in his pastures and uncultivated areas since he bought his place in 1939.

"On another farm nearby the weed is worse than on mine," he commented. "The only thing to do is keep it under control by cultivation."

Qualls said he had a patch of the weed so thick that he could toss his hat over into it and the weeds would hold it up.

Pearson found the weed growing in his pasture on the Lubbock- Crosby county line only a few weeks ago. The plant had already made a good stand in a small area about the size of an automobile.

Dr. A. W. Young and Dr. W. W. Yocum of the plant industry department at Texas Tech identified the specimen as Xanthium spinosum. Neither they nor anyone else at the college had ever seen the plant before in this area although it is said to be common in some other sections of the United States.

Telephone Official Gives Demonstration At Jaycee Meeting

"A Journey With Your Voice," was the topic of George Brown of Dallas, information specialist for the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, at a Jaycee luncheon meeting in the Hilton hotel Monday.

Demonstrating different types of transmission cables, he took members along with him on an imaginary telephone conversation from Austin to Boston with brief stops at Dallas and New York City.

He was introduced by Cecil Cale, manager of the Lubbock office of the telephone company. Jack Blankenship was program chairman.

Norman Igo, chairman of the membership committee, said a six-week membership drive which ended last week resulted in 115 new members to the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He named Ralph Krebbs as winner of a suit of clothes for bringing 11 new members, more than anyone else.

Bernard C. Vincenti, chairman of the public affairs committee, announced that 54 of the 70 Jaycees who canvassed Lubbock for new Matador club members have reported 314 new members to the club which sponsors the athletic program at Tech. He hoped the number will be higher when the other 16 Jaycees turn in their kits.

Agents Probe Medical Society For Anti-Trust Law Violations

HOUSTON, Sept. 26. (AP)—An FBI agent said today a nationwide investigation is under way to see if there are any anti-trust law violations within the medical profession.

Galen N. Willis, agent in charge of the Houston FBI office, said agents are checking Harris county Medical society records.

"This is part of a nationwide investigation into possible restraint of trade on group health and prepaid medical care plans," he said. "It's just an inquiry; there is nothing alarming about it."

Dr. Denton Kerr, president of the Harris county society, said an FBI agent visited the society's office Friday and asked to look at records.

Kerr said he was told FBI agents began the investigation in Oklahoma City last week.

Hereford Increases Grain Storage Plants

HEREFORD, Sept. 26. (AP)—This Panhandle wheat town may become the world's largest nonterminal grain storage point.

Storage space is here for 2,440,000 bushels, a whopping figure.

Now five companies are expected to build storage for 2,275,000 more bushels. This would make Hereford's total 4,715,000.

Two new elevators already are being built. Fraser Grain company has started pouring concrete on its 900,000 bushel concrete storage bins. Pitman Grain company is busy in the first stages of its 400,000 additional bushels of capacity.

Three other firms plan smaller facilities for 875,000 or more bushels.

Fraser expects its project to be finished by Oct. 15. Pitman counts on completion of its new storage by about Nov. 10.

Work on the fireproof Fraser elevator is being carried on 24 hours a day so that the facility will be ready to handle the present row crop harvest. Fraser thus will have 1,800,000 bushels of storage space.

The new Pitman elevator will give that firm 1,700,000 bushels of storage space.

Five Scholarships Awarded To Techsans By Ex-Students Group

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

The first sons and daughters of ex-students of Texas Technological college to win scholarships given by the Ex-Students association received their fall semester awards of $100 each Monday.

The Ex-Students association provided $1,000 for five $100 scholarships to be given during the fall semester and the same number to be given during the spring semester.

Slation Student Qualifies

Those qualifying for scholarships this fall were:

Richard Lee Vardy from Slaton, winner from the arts and sciences division, whose father, Philip Lee Vardy, superintendent of schools at Slaton, received a bachelor of arts degree in mathematics in 1929 and a master of arts degree at close of the 1937 summer session, both at Texas Tech.

John Pinson, Lubbock, engineering division, whose mother, Mrs. Bert Pinson of 2217 Seventeenth, was graduated from Texas Tech, with a major in history, in 1929.

Miss Silva Mae Loyd, Dimmitt, home economics division, whose mother, Mrs. Grace Loyd, received a degree, with education major, at close of the summer session in 1945 and who now teaches the fifth grade at Dimmitt.

Jim Bryan, Lubbock, business administration division, whose father, H. B. Bryant of 2405 Thirty-first, attended Texas Tech from 1926 to 1929, majoring in history, and who now is Lubbock county tax assessor and collector.

Scholarship rules require that the winner of a scholarship be a son or daughter of a Tech exstudent who attended at least one semester in a long term and received 15 semester hours' credit; that the student must have at least 30 semester hours, exclusive of semester hours credit received in summer school, must have at least a "B' average in college work, and must maintain a "B" average during the fall semester when the scholarship goes into effect to receive the $100 award during the second semester. The scholarship is awarded on application only. If more than one student applies for each award, the qualified applicant with the highest grade point average receives the award. There were 10 applications this fall.

Winners are determined by the Ex-Students association executive board.

Cabinet Salary Increases Urged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—The Senate today passed a bill to give most members of the armed forces an Oct. 1 pay boost totalling more than $300,000,000 a year.

Action was by voice vote. The bill now goes to a conference with the House, which earlier approved a bill carrying identical raises for all except a few top grades.

Officers Get Major Hikes

The Senate version would boost scales in widely varying amounts ranging from $5 a month for recruits with five months' service to $300 or more a month for generals with over 30 years' service.

The increases are generally higher for officers than for enlisted men. Congressmen have explained there has been no general pay raise in the top ranks for 40 years, while enlisted men have had increases.

Senate approval of the measure came a few hours after President Truman urged that it also approve salary hikes for cabinet officials and other top government administrators.

Other Raises Urged

An informal committee of senators met, menwhile, to revise this bill to limit the top increases to 50 per cent. This would hold cabinet salaries to $22,500 a year, rather than the $25,000 now called for in the bill. Their salaries are now $15,000.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) advocated also a $2,500 increase in congressional expense accounts. House and Senate members now receive $12,000 a year salary and tax-free expenses of $2,500.

The time for voting on the military pay bill had been fixed Friday. But when it developed that no one wanted to speak on it in midafternoon, the Senate recessed for an hour and a quarter. No opposition was voiced.

Boosts Effective Oct. 1

Some has developed toward other pay raise bills scheduled for consideration next.

The pay boosts would become effective on Oct. 1.

The bill is one of a series of pay measures pending on Congress. President Truman nudged the Senate today to speed action one which would give bigger salaries to his cabinet officers and top-ranking government officials.

That brought some talk among the legislators of an increase also in the expense allowance of senators and House members. Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) said he understood Senator Bridges (R-NH) intended to promise a $5,000 expense allowance. Senators and House members now get $12,500 a year salary and $2,500 tax free expense allowance.

Report To Be Prepared For Legislature

Board Plans Survey Of State Hospitals

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—A sweeping survey of state hospitals will be made during the next three months to give the legislature a picture of the situation when it meets in January.

Buildings, clinical facilities, and personnel needs of hospitals for the mentally ill and of special schools such as those for orphans, the deaf and the blind will be included in the survey, Claud Gilmer said today.

No Further Firings Planned

Gilmer, chairman of the state board for hospitals and special schools, told managers of these institutions to have "no anxiety" about the situation meanwhile.

A layoff of some 20 workers in the council's central office is not a signal for "wholesale firing" of employes, Gilmer reassured.

He said the money that would have been paid those workers was needed to help finance the overall survey.

Assistance of various private and public agencies which can furnish skilled, technically trained workers will be sought Gilmer explained. Such organizations might include the state medical association, the Hogg foundation, the State Health department, and other similar groups, he said.

Patience Asked

Moyne Kelly, the board's executive director, asked the superintendents to be patient and to continue their hard work while the board makes the survey.

He said the one hospital was that at Big Spring.

To help effect economies for the present, Kelly said he was willing to do his new job for two months for a salary of $417 a month, the same as he received as former head of the Corsicana orphans home.

His new post carries a salary of $833 a month.

AUSTIN MAN CLAIMED

AUSTIN, Sept. 26. (AP) — C. Badger Reed, 42, business man and founder of The Texas Spectator, died here today. His principal business was in oil investments, but Reed's chief interest was in newspapering. He had worked on several Texas dailies and on the New York Morning Telegraph in the early 1930's. In 1946, Reed became the financial backer for The Spectator, a liberal political weekly. It went out of business in 1948.

Medical Personnel Wanted For LAFB

Authority has been given the Lubbock Air Force base to hire civilian doctors and dentists in view of the shortage of medical and dental officers now existing throughout the Air Force.

Civilian personnel is needed at the base on either a full or part time basis. Doctors and dentists will be accepted for duty two, four, six or eight hours a day at the rate of from $5,200 to $6,300 a year for full time.

LAFB also needs two women hospital attendants, grade three, at a rate of 76 cents an hour; an optometrist, P-4, at $5232 per year on a half day basis, working from 12:30 to 4:30 p. m. or from one to five; two general nurses at a salary of $2,974.80 a year and a laboratory technician, SP-5, at $2,724 a year.

Disabled veterans and other veterans will be given priority on all positions. The civilian personnel office is now located in the headquarters building, T-1, at the base.

Tech To Issue Bulletin Listing Available Oil Industry Courses

A bulletin describing the petroleum industry and setting forth instruction available in that field at Texas Tech will be released this week, W. L. Ducker, head of the department of petroleum engineering, announced Monday.

The pamphlet tells of the duties of a petroleum engineer and outlines the courses offered in that field at Tech, Ducker said.

Utah once was known as the state of Deseret. Taken from the Book of Mormon, the name meant "land of the honey bee."

New Exploration Starts In Scurry

Good possibilities of petroleum production have been indicated for the undeveloped area in Scurry county between the North Snyder and the Kelly fields.

Standard-Fryer Drilling Company No. 1 Wilkinson, about three miles southwest of the southwest side of the North Snyder field, and six miles north of the initial producer in the Kelly field, found the Canyon reef lime, the pay section in both the North Snyder and in the Kelly, at 6,602 feet, on an elevation of 2,375 feet.

The project is drilling ahead into that formation. Samples in the top of the reef showed porosity and oil stains.

According to some geologist the Standard-Fryer wildcat encountered the top of the reef 323 feet above the top of the Canyon water in the Kelly field.

All showings so far developed at this prospector point to it making an oil well.

The project is at the center of the southwest quarter of lot 24, section 17, block 1, J. P. Smith survey, and two miles northwest of the town of Snyder.

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 1 Séntell, North-Central Scurry County wildcat, two miles east of the closest completed oil wells on the south side of the North Snyder field, had progressed below 6,957 feet in shale, and was drilling deeper.

The venture had not found the Canyon lime reef. It is nearing the Canyon water level.

Location is 467 feet from north and west lines of tract 2, Dallas Trust & Saving Bak sub-division of the Grimes ranch in block 1, J. P. Smith survey. It is seven miles northeast of the town of Snyder.

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan American Oil Company have completed their No. 5 T. J. Good as a new producer from the Pennsylvanian lime in the Good field of Central-South Borden County.

Flowing natural through a 16/64-th inch tubing choke it completed for a daily production of 444.12 barrels of 44.6-gravity oil, with a gas-oil ratio of 780-1. There was no formation water.

The production was from open hole section between the five and one-half inch oil string cemented at 8,107 feet and the total plug back depth at 8,265 feet.

This new well is 660 feet from west and 1,981.4 feet from north

Russians Expected To Renew Long-Simmering Peace Drive

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Russian "peace offensive," which began before the end of the Berlin blockade and had settled down to a fairly steady propaganda flow, can be expected to reach a new crescendo now.

Andrei Vishinsky set the tone for it when he called on the United Nations first to censure the West for planning war, and then to issue a call for a five-power peace treaty.

Tass Opens Offensive

Tass, the Soviet information agency, made it even more clear in its reference to Soviet possession of atomic power. First it sought to leave the impression that Russia's prime interest and use for atomic energy is in industrial construction. It casually referred to the existence of Russian atomic weapons, and then put the cracker on:

"It should be pointed out that the Soviet government, despite the existence in its country of an atomic weapon, adopts and intends adopting in the future its former position in favor of the absolute prohibition of the use of the atomic weapon.

"Concerning control of the atomic weapon, it has to be said that control will be essential in order to check up on the fulfillment of a decision on the prohibition of the use of the atomic weapon.

Terms Made Unacceptable

This language is closely akin to former statements on the subject by Molotov, Gromyko and Vishinsky.

But each has been followed by acts or by introduction of detailed demands which have been unacceptable outside the Russian sphere.

Western reaction to news of Russia's possession of the atom bomb has followed expectable lines. The defense program gets a shot in the arm. At the same time there is renewed effort to find some peaceful means of settlement with Russia to stop these expenses and to prevent the arms race from following its historical pattern into full-fledged war.

The trick for Russia propaganda is to keep these two forces in some sort of balance.

It is to her advantage, under the long-range belief that capitalism will destroy itself, to keep the West so stirred up that the enervating expenditures for preparedness will continue. But not to the point where they constitute a practical military threat to Russia herself or might be used in desperation to get it over with.

$2,300 Judgment Is Entered In Civil Suit

Judgment of $2,300 in favor of the plaintiff L. G. Walters and against W. A. Edwards was entered Monday afternoon in the civil action of L. G. Walters against J. B. McPherson and others, for damages and return of abstract, 99th district court officials said.

Judge G. V. Pardue denied any recovery against McPherson.

When court was reconvened Monday afternoon, the case was withdrawn from a jury selected that morning, by agreement of counsel. Judge Pardue heard evidence, then announced his decision. The law firm of Allred and Boedeker represented Walters. McPherson was represented by the law firm of Nelson and McClesky. The defendant Edwards was not represented by counsel.

The $2,300 represents a forfeit referred to in a sales contract precedent to Walters' sale of a piece of property to Edwards, through McPherson, officials said.

The remainder of the jury panel will return into court at 9 a.m. Wednesday, when another case may be tried.

Red Atom Bomb Report Blamed In California Murder, Suicide

ARCADIA, Calif., Sept. 26. (AP) — Reportedly despondent over Russia's atom bomb, a college instructor killed himself and a student, police said.

The victims are Walter H. Griffith, 35, language professor at John Muir college in nearby Pasadena, and Donald Otto Magneson, 23, a University of Southern California student.

Their bodies were found in their home yesterday. Magneson's was in a bathtub and Griffith's on the floor nearby. Near his hand lay a .38 caliber revolver.

The professor's father, Walter H. C. Griffith, told Brown:

"Walter's mother and I dined with him the night President Truman announced Russia had developed an atom bomb, and he seemed very disturbed about it. I can't think of any other possible reason for his doing a thing like this.

Potatoes are Basic!

A NOTE FROM THE FOOD EDITORS OF McCALL'S MAGAZINE ESPECIALLY FOR OUR CUSTOMERS

Pamper the potato. The potato is a wonderful vegetable. It bursts with minerals and other necessary foods, when you cook it properly. Do vary the ways you serve potatoes and you will discover a new love.

With a few chosen herbs, the potato has an ageless affinity. If you like nutmeg or mace, try grating a little on mashed or boiled potatoes. Or a bay leaf, pinch of thyme, or slice of onion thrown in the water flavors "plain boiled" pleasantly.

DEFENDANT CLAIMS TECHNICALITY

Texas Bank Officials Charged With Embezzlement By Agents

PARIS, Tex., Sept. 26. (AP)—A Paris banker and three bank employes were named in federal embezzlement charges filed today.

Charged were Morris Fleming, 64, vice-president and trust officer of the First National bank of Paris, and Alfred Kidd, William H. Snow and Ann Marshall, all employes in the trust department. Snow is Fleming's son-in-law.

Fleming, in a telephone interview with The Associated Press said: "This charge is nothing but a technicality."

Defendants Released On Bond

The complaint was filed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation with Mrs. Clara Faust, U. S. commissioner here. The defendants were taken into custody by U. S. Marshal Adolph Fischer and arraigned before the U. S. commissioner. They were released on bond—$5,000 each for the three men and $1,000 for Mrs. Marshall.

The bond is returnable at the next term of federal court here, set for Jan. 2, 1950, with federal Judge Randolph Bryant of Sherman presiding.

Fleming, a bespectacled man of medium build, has been prominent in civic and church affairs here for many years. He had been head of the trust department since it was organized about 1930.

Personal Fee Claimed

"The charges," he said in the interview, "grew out of the payment of additional salaries to employes in the trust department which gave them a living wage.

"One $20,625 fee—paid me for personally handling an estate—more than covered the amount paid out in additional salaries. This was a personal fee — my money—and I gave it to the trust department. Neither the bank, the trust department, nor any bank customer has been out any money.

"It is a tragedy that such a thing should come up over a technicality."

The federal charges accused the four of embezzling $20,000 "on or about Aug. 6, 1949."

Fleming, however, said: "The alleged offense took place in 1944 and 1945. Nine bank examiners have had all the details before and all had passed it over. Nothing has ever been covered up. There was no shortage in any account.

"The government attempts to regulate banks but doesn't attempt to see that bank employes are paid a living wage. This is the crime of the age.

"I have been in the banking business since 1906. I built the trust department up from nothing—and I gave it all I had. The department now has assets of $5,166,000."

Warren Moore, U. S. district attorney at Tyler, said the "first tip" came from Robert H. Bradley, a National bank examiner.

"He reported to me in August after his examining and I immediately asked a full investigation by the FBI," Moore said.

"I am hopeful I can present this case to the grand jury meeting in Tyler on Oct. 3. The investigation will be complete. I believe we've got all the participants."

Air Force Football Players Forced To Jump From Plane

TOKYO, Sept. 26. (INS)—Twenty-one Air Force football players hit the silk over southern Japan today when one of the engines in the transport plane they were aboard caught fire.

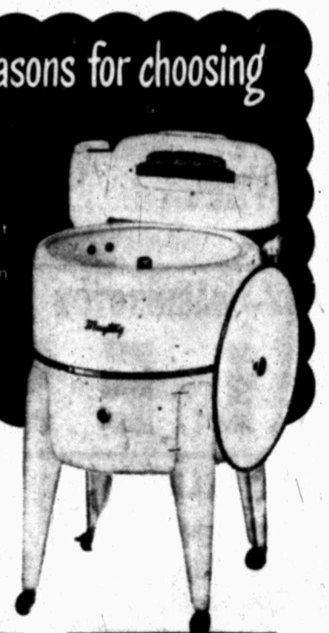

Eleven other players and the crew of the big plane remained aboard and landed the craft safely at the Kokura airbase on Kyushu island.

Air Force headquarters in Tokyo said the fire was extinguished before the landing and that the men who parachuted were uninjured. The team was returning to its home base after a game in Tokyo.

Auto Plants To Face Levelling Production

DETROIT, Sept. 26 (AP)—The nation's auto factories still are producing in fairly high volume but appear to be facing a leveling off.

While most of the smaller companies are figuring in the production record much of the load has been carried by the industry's "big three." General Motors, Ford and Chrysler together have built more than 3,276,000 of the 3,830,000 passenger cars included in the year's total to date.

By Wednesday night the 1949 passenger car output will top the 3,909,270 total for all of last year.

If the predictions of some of the industry's optimists were to materialize this year's total production would go well above 6,000,000 cars and trucks. However, sales are easing off for many makes of vehicles.

Many factories that scheduled considerable overtime during recent weeks are returning to normal five-day operaion. Moreover there are many new model change-overs due before the year's end. So the earlier estimate of a total of 5,800,000 units as this year's total still looks fairly reasonable.

March Changes Pronunciation Of First Name To Suit Public

DALLAS, Sept. 26. (AP) — Caso March, candidate for governor, said he is changing pronunciation of his name today—to suit the public.

"My name is pronounced 'C-a-s-o,'" he said, "but everyone is pronouncing it 'K-a-y-s-o.' From now on, I'm going to call myself 'K-a-y-s-o.' I don't want to get in any arguments with the public."

Police in Bulawayo, Southern Rhodesia, had to chase a stolen fire engine for 40 miles at speeds up to 60 miles an hour, before catching two thieves who had pushed the engine out of the firehouse, adjoining the police station.

Union Claims Called Attack On Industry

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26 (INS)—Guy A. Thompson, trustee in bankruptcy for the strike-bound Missouri Pacific railroad, charged today that union claims "constitute a serious and major attack on the railroad industry."

Thompson made his charge in a voluntary report to federal district Judge George Moose, but added that he was "not asking for action and does not expect any" by the court.

The report charged that the 282 claims by the four striking brotherhoods "represent the practice of featherbedding already so prevalent in the railroad industry."

Eleven states and 27,000 employes, including 5,000 strikers, are involved in the 18-day-old strike.

Meanwhile, tne chief negotiator for the unions was enroute to Cleveland to resume conferences with the heads of the various brotherhoods.

He is Roy E. Davidson, assistant grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers.

Aerial Maneuvers Show Britain Open To Atomic Attack

LONDON, Sept. 26. (U.P.)—Raiding bombers which could have been carrying atom bombs fought through to London and several other British cities in weekend air maneuvers by 500 planes, unofficial reports said today.

In theory, the capital and several other cities could have been reduced to a radioactive shambles with casualties running into the hundreds of thousands.

Some American B-50's, capable of carrying atom bombs, fought through to London despite squadrons of jet interceptor planes and radar screens.

The maneuvers were staged by a combined air force of 500 British, American, Dutch, French and Belgian bombers and fighters.

Three Killed In Two Auto Wrecks In Gainesville Area

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 26 (U.P.)—Traffic fatalities in the Gainesville area stood at three today, following two separate weekend highway crashes.

Carl Ellis Crow, 22, a tool pusher in the Nocona oil fields, was killed instantly when a motorcycle he was riding collided head-on with a car driven by Herman Stoffels, 28, of Muenster.

The accident occurred last night on U. S. highway 82 west of Gainesville. Miss Loretta Dawson, 16, of St. Jo, riding on the motorcycle, was seriously injured. Stoffels, his wife, and a passenger in the car, sustained minor injuries.

Virgil Floyd Souther, 24, and Jimmy Ray Knight were killed early Sunday when their car left the highway east of here on Highway 82. State patrolmen said the car sheared off a guide post as it ran off the left side of the road and turned on its right side. Both men lived north of Whitesboro.

Eight Confederate Veterans Expected To Attend Reunion

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 26—Eight of the heartiest survivors of a fast-vanishing army are expected to attend the annual reunion of Confederate veterans here this week.

They represent about one-fourth of the living members of Gen. Robert E. Lee's gray-clad legion in the historic 1861-65 campaign. The average age of the Confederate veterans is 102½ years.

The reunion, which probably will be the semi-final meeting of Confederate veterans, opens tomorrow and runs through Thursday.

The veterans are expected to vote to hold a final reunion next year at the scene of the first Civil War action—Charleston, S. C.

Veterans who have signified intentions of attending this year include Thomas E. Riddle, 101, Wichita Falls, and three from North Carolina.

Dr. Wiggins To Speak At H-SU

ABILENE, Sept. 26. (Special)—Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Tech, will speak at the cornerstone laying of Sandefer Memorial hall here Saturday, Oct. 8, according to an announcement by Rupert N. Richardson, president of Hardin-Simmons university.

Dr. John L. Hill, editor of the Broadman press, will give the dedicatory address at the formal meeting preceding the cornerstone laying.

Dr. Wiggins was chairman of the department of education at Hardin-Simmons while J. D. Sandefer, for whom the building is dedicated, was president. He left H-SU in 1935 to become president of Texas Western, then Texas Mines.

Short Service Slated

Dedication of the building will be part of the annual Homecoming activities. The building will be dedicated at 10:30 with the message by Dr. Hill. There will then be a short service at the building itself. Music will be played by the Cowboy band.

A barbecue is to be held at noon at the campus park, immediately behind Mary Frances hall. A pep rally and parade, sponsored by the student council, will be held in the afternoon. An Ex-cow girl get-together will be held at 3 p.m. at Marston gymnasium. Alice Mayfield is president of this organization. A football game with Arizona will be played Saturday night.

The Sandefer memorial is now being used to almost capacity. The administration offices on the main floor have been used since May, while the library was opened at the beginning of the fall semester, Sept. 17. The building is a four-story structure of red face brick.

Church Publication Devotes Issue To College Centennial

SHERMAN, Sept. 26 (AP)—The 100th anniversary of Austin college here is being brought to the attention of Presbyterians throughout the nation.

The entire issue of the Presbyterian Outlook, published by the church at Richmond, Va., is devoted to the school.

Treble its usual size, the 50-page weekly carries messages from prominent church leaders over the country. Included are Dr. W. F. Price, moderator of the Presbyterian U. S. General Assembly; Dr. Edward R. Grant, executive secretary of the Assembly Religious Executive committee, and Dr. R. E. Sherrill, college alumnus and professor at Union seminary in New York.

Illustrations show progress of the college from the times it was founded in Huntsville, moved to Sherman in 1876, until today, at which time it is in an era of expansion.

The church publication also carries the program of the Texas and Oklahoma synods meeting here Oct. 4-6, opening the centennial celebration.

Australia recently greeted a record 3,646 British immigrants, arriving on four liners.

MARKET RALLY HALTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 26. (AP)— A three-day rally in the stock market was halted today with prices falling back slightly.

The pattern was highly mixed with losses of fractions to more than a point and gains running to nearly 2 points among the leaders.

But the losses outnumbered the gains by a slight margin, and the market on average dropped back a notch.

In the final three trading days of last week was a sharp recovery from one of the heaviest breaks of the year on Monday and Tuesday.

Traders viewed today's market action as a display of underlying strength. A set-back such as the one encountered today is not unusual after a brisk run up.

Furthermore there was no particular selling pressure any place in the list.

Steels declined slightly.

Automobiles entered the labor picture more sharply with a strike vote at Chrysler over the weekend. Chrysler started out the day weak but recovered somewhat to close with only a slight loss. Packard was the day's second most active issue closing unchanged at 3⅝. Hudson motor had a brief spell of buying popularity that put it in fifth place on the most active list, up ¾ at 13⅛.

Aircrafts stood out above the rest of the market with substantial gains.

Mail order and retail issues and department stores were generally lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .1 of a point to 65.4 with the industrial and rail components of the average losing .2 of a point and utilities off .1 of a point.

Trading volume was 1,020,000 shares against 1,290,000 Friday.

Closing prices and gains of some leaders include Santa Fe up 1⅛ at 96⅞, Admiral Corp. ⅝ at 22¼, Lion Oil 1¾ at 26, Consolidated Vultee ½ at 10¾, Great Western Sugar 1 at 18⅝, General Motors ¼ at 62¼, International Nickel ⅝ at 29¾, and Union Oil of California ⅝ at 32¼ (after the market closed a quarterly dividend of 50 cents was declared as against 62½ cents previously paid).

Lower were Budd Co. off ¼ at 10¾, U. S. Steel ¼ at 23⅛, Youngstown Sheet and Tube ½ at 65¼, Studebaker ½ at 22⅛, Goodrich ⅝ at 62⅝, Woolworth 1¼ at 44⅞, Magnovox ½ at 8½, United Gas Corp. ¼ at 17¾, American Smelting ⅝ at 47, Homestake Mines ⅜ at 43½, Eastman Kodak 1⅛ at 42⅛, American Woolen ⅛ at 23¾, American Tobacco ⅝ at 74¼, Union Pacific 1 at 80, Gulf Oil ½ at 68¼, Twentieth Century-Fox ⅝ at 21⅝, and U. S. Gypsum 1¼ at 97.

Trading in the curb market was mixed. Higher were Northrop Aircraft, Solar Aircraft, Rome Cable, Arkansas Natural Gas "A", and Ashland Oil. Lower were Kaiser-Frazer (which announced a shut down for inventory adjustments), Louisiana Land, Pancoastal Oil, United Light & Railways, Cities Service, Electric Bond & Share, and Claude Neon.

The bond market was quiet.

Bumper Wheat Crop Expected In Western European Nations

PARIS, Sept. 26. (AP)—Europe looks forward to a bumper 1949 wheat crop, approaching the yield of prewar years.

An Associated Press survey of 14 countries disclosed that experts estimate the current harvest will top even last year's crop, despite long summer droughts.

Only two eastern European countries were included in the survey, because most iron curtain countries have made it a crime to disclose crop stimates.

Europe's wheat production in 1948 was 36,800,000 tons. This was 86.5 per cent of the 1934-38 average total. Both totals exclude Russia which refuses to furnish figures.

New Exploration In Undeveloped Scurry Area Indicates Good Oil Possibilities

lines of section 37, block 33, TP survey.

Locations have been staked and drilling is to start in the near future on two new operations in the Kelly field of Central Scurry county, and one new exploration in the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county. Two of the ventures will drill to 7,000 feet to test the Canyon lime reef and the third will try for that zone at 6,875 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum is to drill two of the explorations.

Magnolia No. 2 P. J. Collins will be 660 feet from north and east lines of tract 16, section 16, block 1, Dallas Trust & Savings Bank Sub-Division, will be in the North Snyder field. Rotary tools will be used.

In the Kelly field Magnolia No. 2 Ray Haney will be a 6,875-foot project and the drillsite will be 660 feet from east and 467 feet from north lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it two miles west of Snyder.

Sherman, Jr., & Stewart Hunt of Dallas No. 1 Union Baptist Church is to be 85 feet from east and south lines of the southeast quarter of section 248, block 97 H&TC survey and four miles west of Snyder.

Using rotary tools it will drill to 7,000 feet.

Lion Oil Company has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill its No. 22 McLaughlin in the Diamond M field of Southwest Scurry county.

Contracted depth of the venture is 6,800 feet to explore the Canyon lime with rotary tools.

The drillsite will be 665 feet from north and 1,948.30 feet from east lines of section 196, block 97, H&TC survey.

That makes it ten miles southwest of Snyder. Operations are to start in the near future.

Tide Water Associated Oil Company and others, No. 1 J. P. Nystel, slated 12,000-foot wildcat 14 miles south of Brownfield and four miles east of the Adair field of extreme Central-South Terry county, took a drillstem test in lower Permian lime at 7,144-7,295 feet.

The tool was open 45 minutes. The recovery was 200 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water. The section tested showed slight oil stains in samples but it was hard and tight.

Operator is continuing to deepen.

This prospector is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block C-38, psl survey.

To Start Drilling

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has staked location and is to start drilling soon on another project to explore the Devonian at around 12,200 feet in the Landon-Deep field of Central-South Cochran county.

The venture, Stanolind No. 3 Birtie T. Brown will be a stepout from the southwest side of the field, and will be drilled with rotary tools.

The drillsite will be 1,320 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 14, block L, psl survey.

That makes it about 15 miles south and slightly west of Lehman.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company continues its efforts to develop flowing production from the Devonian at its No. 2 Holt, one-quarter of a mile north outpost to the discovery for production in that horizon in the Landon-Deep field of Central-South Cochran county.

Up to now the best yield reported from the development was the recovery of 231 barrels of fluid in 17 hours of swabbing on the section at 11,747,794 feet.

That zone had been treated with 500 gallons of mud acid and 2,000 gallons of regular acid prior to that 17-hour test.

The 231 barrels of fluid was cut with from 12 to 20 per cent drilling mud. The remainder was new oil. There was no formation water.

In a subsequent 11-hour period of swabbing on the same section, the recovery was 14 barrels of oil, with a small cut of drilling mud.

It appears that the pay section is pretty well filled up with drilling mud. That condition likely will cause the well to continue to show mud along with the oil it produces, for a considerable time in the future.

Operator has now re-treated the 11,747-794 foot horizon with 5,000 gallons of acid and is swabbing to clean out acid load, then make a production test.

The project will be completed as some sort of commercial oil well in the near future. However there is a possibility that it will have to be finished as a pumper—an oil well that has to get oil from below 11,700 feet by pumping is rather expensive to operate.

This development is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block L, psl survey. That makes it one-quarter of a mile north of the same company No. 2 Edwards, the initial producer from the Devonian in the Landon-Deep field.

Stanolind No. 1 Grollman, another stepout from the Devonian production in the Landon area, and 660 feet from west and 407 feet from south lines of section 4, block L, psl survey, had penetrated to 11,016 feet and was boring ahead. Up to now it has not found any signs of production in any of the horizons it has penetrated below 5,100 feet.

Housing Is Needed For LAFB Personnel

Off-base housing for military personnel at Lubbock Air Force base is still a big problem, despite scores of placements made last week.

Officials at the base estimated that an additional 400 houses of various sizes are needed to alleviate the situation. The largest demand is for small two and three room apartments and houses for couples with children. Larger units for families with from one to six children are also desired.

First Lieut. Reed T. Peter, housing officer, urges all owners or agents for rental property of all kinds to contact him at Lubbock Air Force base, 3-1951, extension 144. After hours telephone operators at the base will forward calls to him for listing of rental properties.

Second Murder Trial Of Former Grand Saline Watchman Delayed

CANTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Richard Murdock's second trial on a murder charge was postponed today for the third time.

Murdock, former Grand Saline night watchman, is charged in the fatal shooting of David Mullican, 19, of Canton at Grand Saline the night of Dec. 14, 1947.

On motion of Assistant District Attorney C. L. Stanford of Canton, the trial was re-set for Nov. 21. He said a chief state witness, Joe Bartley, couldn't appear because of automobile accident injuries. Bartley drove the ambulance that took Mullican to a hospital.

Murdock's first trial, held in 1948, ended with a hung jury. The second trial was postponed from May until July and again postponed today.

OIL SCANDAL NEARS CLOSE

'Child Of Gods' Pleads Guilty To Charges Of Income Tax Evasion

DENVER, Sept. 26. (INS)—Henry M. Blackmer, the "child of the gods" of three decades ago, prepared to pay his debt to society in Denver today.

The aged oil millionaire, a fugitive for 25 years, pleaded guilty in U.S. district court to a criminal charge of evading income tax payments. At the same time, the federal prosecutor asked for dismissal of perjury charges against him.

Scandal Nears Close

Thus, the final chapter of the notorious Teapot Dome oil deal, the scandal which rocked a presidential administration and resulted in jail for a cabinet member and a business tycoon, drew to an undramatic close.

The 80-year-old Blackmer faces a maximum sentence of four years in jail, and a fine of $40,000 on the tax evasion charge. A prison term was considered unlikely because of his age and poor health.

Circuit Judge Orie L. Phillips, presiding in district court, said he would pass sentence within a month. He also took under advisement the dismissal motion, and set bond at $5,000.

Full Records Asked

The Tenth circuit court justice explained that he took the case unexpectedly because of the illness of U.S. District Judge J. Foster Symes, and had no opportunity to study the circumstances.

He asked U.S. Attorney Max Bulkeley to furnish him all records and information relating to the perjury indictment, and asserted:

"I will make a personal investigation before agreeing to dismiss the perjury charge. I must satisfy my own judgment and conscience."

Bulkeley told the court that in his opinion there was not sufficient evidence to secure a conviction for perjury. He pointed out that as long ago as 1927 the key witness, in a sworn statement, said "she couldn't remember" the facts.

Charges Kept Alive

The federal attorney said the lack of evidence was the reason the government agreed to dismiss the charge, if Blackmer would return and plead guilty to the four counts of tax evasion.

The charges against Blackmer have been kept alive for more than 20 years. He would not return for trial when he faced a possible jail sentence, and federal courts would not agree to drop the accusation because of his status as a fugitive.

Harold D. Roberts, counsel for the defendant who made an unsuccessful attempt to enter a plea of nolo contendere, said Blackmer would leave Denver immediately to enter a medical clinic in Boston.

He told the court that Blackmer's health was a primary consideration in his decision to return to this country.

Blackmer earned the title, "child of the gods," because of his success in million dollar financial deals.

Baylor University Sets New All-Time Enrollment Record

WACO, Sept. 26 (Special)—Baylor university set an all-time enrollment record as 5,143 students matriculated for classes at the 105-year-old Baptist school.

The record registration came in the face of national predictions that college attendance the country over would nose-dive this year as the large post-war crowd of war veterans in student bodies trailed back to normalcy.

Registrar Truett K. Grant said that the 5,143 figure compares with the 1948 fall term figure of 5,102. He said that a few more students are expected to register to raise the 1949 total even higher.

The enrollment reported by Grant includes only the Baylor schools in Waco. Medical, dental and nursing branches of the university at Houston and Dallas are not included in the new record totals.

Court Seeks Legal Okay On Monument

Lubbock county commissioners court Monday voted to appropriate money for construction of a war memorial base, contingent upon assurance by the attorney general's office that it may legally do so.

The base would be built at an estimated expense of $15,000 to $20,000 on the courthouse lawn. Those who fell in both World Wars would be honored by the memorial.

Commissioners earlier had said they were uncertain as to whether, under the law, an appropriation of county funds could be made for that purpose.

Otherwise, the court transacted only routine business, Louie F. Moore, ex-officio clerk of the court, said.

Commissioners are R. O. Short, George G. Green, Ottis Isom, and Pat Corley. County Judge Walter Davies presided.

Senate Okays Fund For 'Nice' Bridge Without Approaches

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26. (U.P.)—Sen. Dennis Chaves (D-NM), today asked the Senate to complete a bridge built by the government "two or three years ago."

Chavez said that the bridge, at Pueblo, Zui, N. M., is built. He saw it last week. And it looks nice standing there.

But, he said it has no approaches.

"The poor Indian can't cross it."

So the Senate quickly voted $55,800 for the approaches.
