Aged Crosby County Pioneer Slain By Son-In-Law Six Jurors Selected In R. H. Hamilton Murder Trial

Farmers Named To Determine Fate Of Amarillo Attorney

Former Member Of Supreme Court Of Texas On Trial For Shooting His Young Son-In-Law On May 4th

Plea Self Defense

Defendant Takes Part In Selection Of Jurymen As Wife And Daughter Sit By Side In Courtroom

WEATHERFORD, Oct. 28.—Wind bitten West Texas farmers today watched the beginning of the murder trial of a former member of Texas supreme court commission of appeals, R. H. Hamilton, Amarillo lawyer, who killed his 21-year-old son-in-law, Tom Walton Jr., May 4.

The farmers, tanned or red-faced from strong sunlight and steady winds, did not get to see the mother of the slain man, Mrs. Grace Walton, who is to be a witness and consequently was not allowed in court room while 9 men were qualified as jurors.

Sits With Father.
Bende Hamilton for a while, however, was his pretty, 18-year-old daughter, who has come to her father's aid despite the fact that she killed her husband. As long as she could, Theresa sat beside the accused man. Then, as a prospective witness, she, too, was compelled to leave the court room.

Hamilton, large, almost ponderous, and with heavy lines running down his face, sat in the corner of his seat.

Russian Aviators Greeted By Ford

Four Intrepid Fliers Of "Land Of The Soviets" Arrive At Detroit From Chicago Monday

DETROIT, Oct. 28.—The four intrepid fliers of the Russian plane "Land of the Soviets," were greeted today by Henry Ford after their arrival from Chicago at the Ford airport at Dearborn. The automobile manufacturer congratulated them on their achievement in conquering the storms of the northern Pacific ocean.

Tonight it was announced that the aviators would continue their journey to New York Wednesday morning. Meanwhile they will be feted by various organizations of Detroit. They will be presented with ten farm tractors which will be shipped to Russia to be used in cultivating the soil of the soviet union.

More than 5,000 persons were at the airport when the "Land of the Soviets" arrived at 11:45 a. m. The crowd broke through police lines and greeted off Chief Fred Simon, A. Westlake, and his three companions of the flight on friendly shoulders.

Senator Burton Claimed By Death After Illness

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio died tonight after an illness of several months.

Fifteen minutes after the announcement of his death, his physician arrived.

Robert Norton, secretary to the senator, who had been in attendance constantly since the relapse last Thursday night had left the apartment for a few minutes thinking that he probably would live through the night.

Death came shortly before 10 o'clock. It followed a sinking spell which swept him into unconsciousness from which he did not recover.

A rising temperature and faltering pulse already had alarmed attendants at his bedside, and they hastily summoned his physician, Dr. Robert Baker. Before the doctor could reach the residence, however, those gathered in the sick room found that he had died.

Arrangements were made tonight for a public funeral service for Senator Burton in the Senate chamber on Wednesday.

This is an unusual plan but friends of the senator, who was unmarried, felt that the capital building in which he spent so many years should properly be the place for his funeral services. The Senate service will be preceded by a brief service at his residence.

On Thursday morning the Ohio senator will be buried in the Congressional cemetery.

Another Collapse Causes Bottom To Drop From Market

Wild Orgy Of Speculation Greater Than Disastrous Panicky Session Of Last Week In Wall Street

Bankers Hold Meet

Weakened Speculative Accounts Are Weeded Out As Issues Drop Ten To Sixty Dollars Share

By STANLEY W. FRENOSIL, Associated Press Financial Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A further collapse in stock prices, exceeding in intensity last Thursday's demoralizing session, took place today as Wall Street continued to weed out its weakened speculative accounts, and place its house in order after the wild orgy of speculation for the advance which has taken place in the last five years. Net declines in many of the active issues ran from $10 to $60 a share, with the market closing practically at the bottom.

Total sales were 9,212,800 shares, which have exceeded only by the record-breaking total of 12,394,800 shares last Thursday. Leading New York bankers met in the offices of J. P. Morgan and company, after the close of the market to canvass the situation but no formal statement was forthcoming as a result of the conference. Unofficially, it was intimated that the conference took a more hopeful view of the situation, that nothing had been brought to their attention to indicate that any stock exchange house was in trouble. Their co-operation in maintaining an orderly market was assured.

Prepare To Enter
One banker present at the conference privately expressed the view that important investment interests, which had been standing on the sidelines until the storm blew over, were prepared to enter the market immediately as large layers of high grade stocks.

Over Four Hundred Lubbock Citizens Ask Over Million Dollar Bond Issue Election In District 2

With over four hundred signatures, a petition asking for $1,025,000 road bond election to road-district No. 2, was presented by the Lubbock County Good Roads association Monday to the county commissioners' court, accepted by that body and November 12 was designated as date for hearing of the petition.

In the event that the hearing is favorable to the commission, the election will be ordered some time in December, according to County Judge Robert H. Bean.

Interest Shown
"Of the total number of persons solicited this morning there were only two who did not sign the petition," Chairman O'Neill, chairman of the good roads association, said yesterday. "Expressions heard this morning reveal universal interest in our campaign for paving. I am highly confident that voters of district No. 2, will approve our plans."

When asked by the commissioners why his petition did not have signatures of residents outside of Lubbock's immediate territory, Mr. O'Neill explained that condition of roads, following rains of the week last, was the "whole mess."

So strongly did he feel over that phase of the case that he declared the Hoover crime commission could not do otherwise in its national survey than diversify crime and politics. "And that includes removal of criminal cases from the jurisdiction of sheriffs and district attorneys as well as judges dependent on popular votes for a continuation of their job," he said.

T. J. Murray, attorney general of Decatur county said that no move to return county to Tennessee would be made, probably, until the outcome of his trials in Texas was known.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The Federal Farm board said in a statement late today that the shrinkage in stock values in the last few days had had an unwarranted effect upon wheat prices and proposed a series of loans to aid farmers to hold their crops.

The statement issued by Chairman Legge reviewed announcements made in Chicago last week, outlining schedule of loans that would be made.

It concluded with the assertion that "the board places no limit on the amount of government money to be so loaned," and added that nearly $100,000,000 was available for the purpose and if necessary, congress would be asked for more.

Clay Lester Indicted For Murder Of Wife

Defendant Will Face Trial Eleven Days After Shooting

Calms Market

Thomas Lamont, partner of J. P. Morgan & Co., after calling a conference of leading bankers during the height of the Wall Street stock crash declared the break "purely technical." His statement had the effect of calming the market somewhat.

Lester fell to the ground dead, Clay Lester, her husband, will be called before a court of justice in connection with the death. Following his indictment for murder Monday afternoon, by grand jury for the October term of 9th district court, Lester's case was set by the court for Monday, November 4.

Lester is being held in the Lubbock county jail and, according to District Attorney Durwood Bradley, every effort will be made by state prosecutors to keep him there without bail.

Schenck & Triplett, local attorneys, were employed Monday morning by the prisoner as defense counsel. "We have not yet decided upon any defense plea, but will be in conference on the case all of this week," said Mr. Schenck.

Lester's case was taken up for investigation by the grand jury yesterday morning after being empaneled shortly before noon. Indictment was returned at 4:15 o'clock in the afternoon.

The grand jury was composed of the following: Jim McMahon, M. B. Hilburn, T. R. Kincaid, George H. Moore, J. F. Vance, L. B. Wooten, George B. Hood, C. A. Burrus, A. P. Gallatin, J. B. Hood, G. K. Watkins, and W. G. Sheely.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 28.—An eastbound Western Air Mail passenger liner with two passengers, two pilots and a steward aboard bound from its western terminus at Alhambra, Cal., to Kansas City, was lost somewhere in eastern Arizona or western New Mexico tonight.

An official announcement by Western Air Express officials said the plane was lost. The liner was due in Albuquerque at noon today.

Weather reports east were reported "quite bad" with general rain and low visibility indicated from the Arizona-New Mexico line to Kentucky.

After the signing of the contracts the Abilene and Eastern railway was formed to have $400,000 capital stock, or 4,000 shares of $100 per share. Kell was elected president, C. M. Caldwell vice-president, C. W. Dixon secretary, and W. G. Swenson treasurer.

South Plains Pioneer Shot In Attempt To Halt Dog Fight, Witnesses State; Bradley To Investigate

(Special To The Avalanche)
DALLAS, Oct. 28.—S. M. Walker, 78, is dead and Joe Hawkins, 35, his son-in-law, is being held in the Crosby county jail, charged with murder, following a shooting affair which occurred Monday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock on Walker's farm, 4 1-3 miles northeast of this city. The shooting is said to have followed an argument between the two men over a dog fight.

According to stories told by witnesses, Walker was returning from work in his garden and had a hoe on his shoulder. Hawkins, together with several others, was near the farm house watching two dogs fight. When the older man arrived at the scene he remonstrated and asked Hawkins to stop the fight. Hawkins refused and ordered Walker away.

Argument Follows
When Walker did not have a short argument was said to have followed, after which Hawkins went into the house, grabbed a shotgun and fired one shot. The full charge was said to have lodged in the dead man's left chest.

Hawkins was arrested a short time ago. See RALLS SHOOTING, Page 3

Aviatrix And Two Men Fliers Crash To Instant Death

Miss Edyth Rose, Portland, One Of Victims When Big Monoplane Falls, Burns In Oregon Monday

EGGENSE, Ore., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Miss Edyth Rose, Portland aviatrix, and two men fliers were killed late today when their large single-motored monoplane crashed near Cottage Grove and burned. The men killed were Captain F. O. Mercer and Lieutenant W. E. Clark of Portland. The bodies were burned beyond recognition and were identified from papers found in the wrecked plane.

On Aerial Survey
Miss Rose was co-pilot of the plane, which was on an aerial survey.

Clark and Mercer were members of the Shields-Clark flying service of Portland, an aerial photography firm.

A. P. Wolford, a farmer, said he heard the plane's motor stop. The pilot evidently maneuvered to come down in a small field surrounded by trees. The plane dived to the ground and caught fire.

Dormitory Burns For $10,000 Loss

WAKARUSA, Tex., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Beecon Hall, dormitory at Trinity University, was destroyed today by a fire believed to have originated in a trash chute. The loss was $40,000.

The building, occupied by 33 students, burned so quickly, the occupants had little time to save personal belongings. Several students had narrow escapes. Henry Moore, of Hubbard, jumped from the top floor of the three-story structure. He was not seriously hurt.

The fire broke out while the students were at breakfast. Beecon Hall was one of the oldest buildings on the university's campus, having been built in 1906. It was named for Dr. W. E. Beecon, university's first president.

Honey Bran Muffins

(Mixing time: 10 minutes)

Nature's oldest and purest sweet—honey—joins two other natural foods—fruit and whole wheat—in these quick muffins. And Crisco, the sweetest, freshest-flavored shortening you could possibly imagine, lends its freshness and pure flavor to the ensemble.

4 tablespoons melted Crisco	1/2 cup bran
1 egg, beaten	1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup honey	1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups thick sour milk	1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup whole wheat flour	1/2 cup raisins or chopped dates
1/2 cup bread flour

Light and set oven at 375° F. (medium oven). Melt sufficient Crisco for recipe and to brush into muffin tins. Beat the egg, stir in the honey and sour milk. Sift the two kinds of flour with soda, salt and baking powder, mix with the bran and stir into the first mixture. Add raisins and melted Crisco and beat well. Fill Criscoed muffin tins half-full with batter. Bake in medium oven (375° F.) from 20 to 25 minutes. This makes 24 large muffins. I have reheated these muffins when they were a week old and found that Crisco had kept them fresh and moist.

This recipe has been tested and approved by cooking authorities. You will get best results by using level measurements and the ingredients specified.

Taste Crisco's sweet, fresh flavor

TASTE a cooking fat? And why not? You taste milk. You test eggs. Now, taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Then you'll understand why Crisco's own sweet, fresh flavor so improves the taste of your cakes, pies, hot breads, cookies and fried foods.

Crisco is the registered trademark of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Co.

Westerners Down To Serious Preparation For Sandies

Lubbock Forces Work On Defense For Crucial Tilt

Local Coaches Set Out Monday To Perfect Defense For Vanted Aerial Attack Of Amarillo

Monday's practice at Merrill Park bode nothing but evil for the Amarillo Golden Sandies as the Westerner football forces of Lubbock High began an earnest preparation for their crucial battle with the Smith-May machine Saturday on the Amarillo gridiron.

Realization of the task at hand and the overwhelming odds stacked against them sent the Westerners out with a grim determination yesterday. With a huge padlock decorating the main entrance to the practice park and all other avenues closely guarded, the Lubbock mentors set out immediately to perfect a defense for the vanted Amarillo aerial attack and the deceptive spinners employed by the Panhandle eleven.

Work On Defense.
Though the Amarillo stars were lined up on their own field in Amarillo, the names of Bufkin, Hudgins, Gibson and Lockhart rang out from Merrill Park here yesterday as a squad of reserves, led by Coach Del Morgan, ran Amarillo plays against the regulars. Blair and Clayton likewise came in for their share of the spotlight as the sandy overhead game came into use. It was a fighting horde of Westerners that batted down supposed Amarillo passes and crashed through to stop "Lockhart," "Butkin" and other Sandy leather toters.

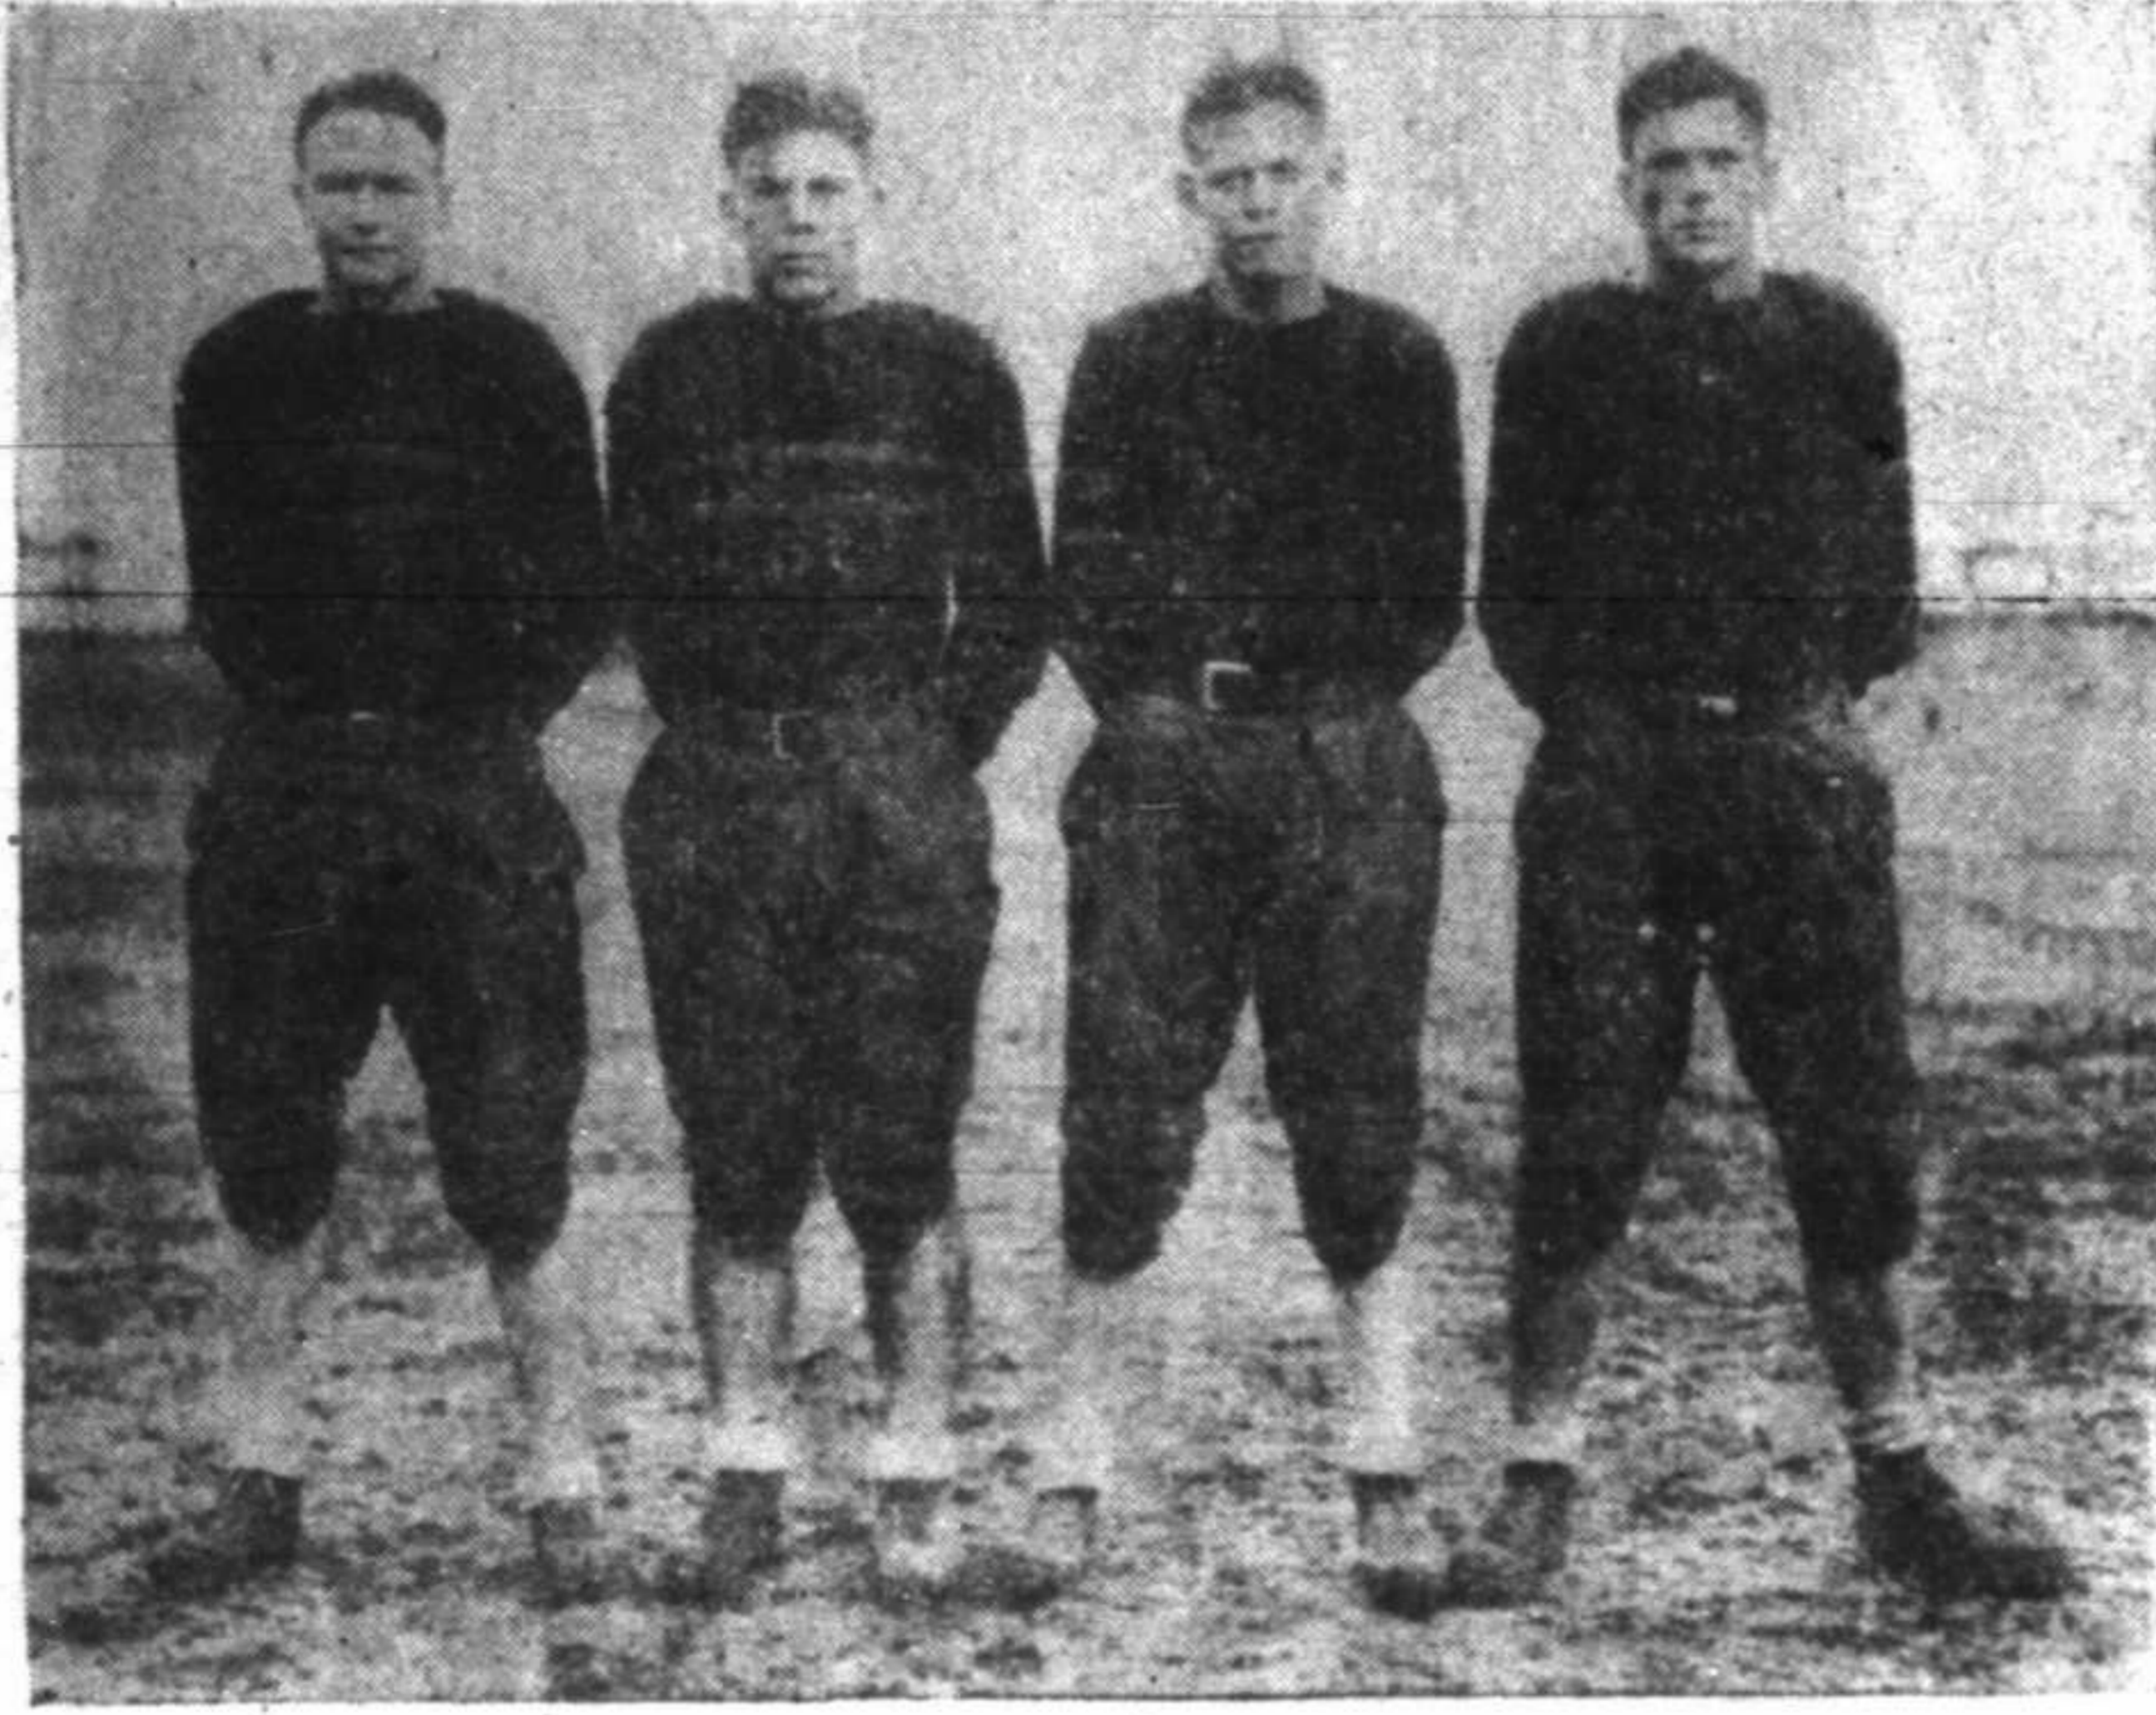

If the Westerners can stop the Sandies' aerial threat, the main Amarillo attack will be halted and Lubbock will stand an even chance to repulse the title-bound Sandstorm eleven—this is the opinion of Lubbock coaches and players and this will take up many hours of hard work this week.

Darkness Hits Practice.
Darkness found the Westerners going strong Monday, with promise of at least three more days of intensive training. The squad will leave Friday and will be followed Saturday morning by a train load of Westerner fans as Coach Friska seeks here estimate the delegation which will make the Amarillo trip at a mark between 1,000 and 1,300. Fifteen coaches will be available for the fans.

The fight for guard, tackle and center positions is waging with added fury this week as Coach Friska seeks to find his strongest defensive combination. Monday's starting combination of Prizzell and Bralley at tackle, Welch and Jones at guards and Leventon at center was no more impressive than another made up of Prizzell and Williams at tackle, Griggs and Abbott at guards and Crawford at center. McGeehee also worked at one of the guard posts and Watson at tackle.

Westerner Backs Gunning For Amarillo Clash

Beat the Sandies.
Members of the Lubbock squad are living, breathing and sweating this week with the Amarillo battle in mind. Individual pictures of each member of the Sandy eleven can be seen in the Westerners' dressing rooms, along with weights, and numbers of the entire Amarillo squad. Daily skull practice has furnished the Westerners with all available information on the Sandy squad and when Friska and Morgan lead their warriors out on the gridiron at Butler Field Saturday there will be no strangers in camp for the local gridsters.

Night Game In 1904.
This ultra-modern game of night football first was played back in 1904 by teams representing the Southwest Missouri Trainers and the Cherokee Indians on a field illuminated by gas lights.

Ponies' Showing Saturday Adds To Menace

The Steers haven't beaten the Mustangs since 1922 and it is no secret that they are gunning for Morrison's men this season.

No Swearing.
Members of the football squad at Kansas Aggies are permitted no profanity by their coach, Bo McMillan, former star of the Centre College Praying Coonies, who still abides by the strict moral rules observed at that institution.

Let Field Express His Conviction.
That the Ponies were powerful brooders Saturday's game and their showing Saturday against Missouri, justified his worst suspicions.

Of the Steers who stayed on the sidelines in the Rice fray Saturday.
Vining and Emerson, regular end and tackle respectively, and Meadows, back, are ready to go now and Elkins, halfback, Calhoun, reserve lineman and Eastering, end, are expected to be able to play Saturday.

Post Antelopes To Meet Indians

Contenders For Regional Class B Championship Tackle McMurry College Papooses Friday

(Special To The Avalanche)
POST, Oct. 28. — Coach Harry Taylor's Post Antelopes are facing a tough assignment here Friday afternoon when the McMurry college Papooses of Abilene come here for a practice skirmish with the 1929 regional Class B champions. The McMurry reserves recently defeated the Weatherford "Junior" college eleven, 6 to 0.

Up to the present time this season the Antelopes have piled up a total of 283 points while none of their opponents have been able to cross the Post goal line. The game with the McMurry seconds will give the locals a tuning-up for their next important District Two battle with the Sour Bulldogs here on Nov. 11. On Nov. 22, the Antelopes will clash with the powerful Slaton Tigers at Post, and on Thanksgiving day will meet the Golden Tornadoes from Lamesa on the local gridiron. These last two games are figured to settle the district title.

Leland Honored Frog Star Gets Gift Saturday

A ceremony witnessed by only a handful occurred on Tech Field Saturday afternoon as 6,500 football fans waited for the opening whistle of the Tech-T. C. U. game.

The return of Cyrus Leland, former Lubbock High school athlete, to Lubbock as a star halfback on the Horned Frog eleven was the occasion for the presentation of a band hat to the T. C. U. team by the Lubbock High School Athletic Association.

Track Coach Ed Lowry was slated to appear here on his meteoric career on the cinder path, presented the gift with a word of appreciation from high school authorities and Lubbock fans for his phenomenal performance on the gridiron and track since entering the Fort Worth institution.

Leland responded with hearty thanks for the gift and assured Lowry that he still considered Lubbock his home despite the fact that he had moved to Fort Worth.

Tech Rifle Team Defeats El Paso School Of Mines

First Shoulder To Shoulder Rifle Match For Local Marksmen Won By Score Of 641 To 628

Holding its initial shoulder-to-shoulder rifle match, the Tech rifle team, shot its way to a 641-to-628 victory over the School of Mines at El Paso last Friday. The match was held under the most unfavorable conditions, snow, sleet and a cold driving wind hampering competition.

This was the first attempt at obtaining the present competition of rifle shooting in school activities. Postal matches have been frequent before, however.

To Have Matches Here.
"Efforts are now being made," said Lt. H. E. Killin, who financed the trip to El Paso, and who coaches the Tech team, "to secure sufficient support of local fans to have matches held here during the present school year."

Harvard, defeated by Tech last year, is being invited to visit here this year. Others given invitations are Texas A. and M. college, and New Mexico Military Institute.

The Tech squad will have a sub-caliber match the first week in December with Cornell.

Cain and Galloway, of the Tech team, tied for high total score at El Paso. Cain gained first place and Galloway second. Fisher placed third; Adams fourth and Hester fifth. Alternates Brennan and Chapman were not called in for actual firing.

Now Toledo Is Hunting Shires

By NEA Service.
Toledo, O., Oct. 23. — Lena Blackburne isn't the only man nursing a grudge against home-bred Arthur Shires. Several hundred Toledoans are seething for revenge.

It seems that Mr. Shires and his band of his major league cronies were slated to appear here on a recent Sunday to meet a local ball team. The event was widely advertised by the Toledo Baseball Federation and several hundred fans assembled at the baseball park to witness the antics of the "rookie" White Sox player and his cohorts.

The great Shires and his team failed to show up, leaving the T. B. F. and the fans stranded and crying for help.

"He might have Blackburne's number but he can't pull that stuff on me," declared Hank Ripley, secretary of the Federation, who immediately swung into vengeful action against the White Sox lad boy. As last reports he was demanding that Judge Landis punish Shires.

No "Instruments of the Devil" Now! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

With the introduction of machinery, man-power feared it was to be supplanted. By the force of AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE this ancient prejudice disappeared. Our modern "machine age" brings happiness and prosperity.

"toasting did it"—
Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."
"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Saturday night, over a coast-to-coast network of the N. B. C.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it. It is as sport to a fool to do mischief: but a man of understanding hath wisdom.—Proverbs, 10, 22, 23.

SURPRISE AND AMAZEMENT IS VOICED

SUNDAY there were half a hundred strangers to Lubbock and the South Plains visiting here for their first time. The 50 men are world travelers, Captain William J. Stannard, director, and members of the U. S. Army Band, with C. C. Campbell, of Washington, Dr. C., manager of the band's concert tour.

Expressions heard from these 50 strangers were similar to the following: "Say! How big is this town?" "What's going on here? Is there a convention on, or something? We never expected to discover a hotel of this high class in the first place, much less to find it crowded and a lobby filled."

"How these cities are growing, out here in this western country! What is making it? What is behind all the development which we can see upon every turn?"

These men had not heard of Lubbock, nor Texas Technological college, nor the South Plains. Appointed to members of the section on their concert tour. Naturally, they were amazed at what confronted them.

All of which tells us, not only do we have cities, schools, colleges, a rapidly-growing empire upon these South Plains, but that millions of people away from this section do not know a thing about it.

And, yes, there's ample distance remaining for all sound ways we can manufacture to travel, far and wide.

MR. BURGESS MADE NO REPLY

The country has been told how treasury department employes, after being trained in the intricacies of the income tax laws, have refused to use their knowledge to secure rebates for corporations and wealthy individuals, at many times their former pay.

We are now treated to a glance at William Burgess, afforded us by the senate sub-committee entrusted with the investigation of alleged lobbyists. Appointed a member of the tariff commission in 1921 by President Harding, Mr. Burgess resigned four years later, but before resigning he agreed to resume his former job of "tariff adviser" of the American Pottery Association, with an increase of $2,500 over his former salary from that organization.

Mr. Burgess testified that he also represented, in customs matters, the National Association of Wood Manufacturers and the National Electrical Manufacturers' Association, and was also retained by the Association of Toy Manufacturers, the Greeting Card Association, the Associated Tile Manufacturers, and three manufacturers of velvetine. But he denied that he was a lobbyist. He merely "swapped views" with senators two or three days a week while the tariff bill was under discussion.

"What would you have done if you had been a lobbyist?" Senator Caraway asked Mr. Burgess. Mr. Burgess made no reply.

Add one more name to the list of those who, having learned the inside of government business, uses his knowledge for the benefit of clients seeking to get something from the government.

A WORD FOR RECONCILIATION

President Hoover has made a real contribution to European reconciliation and world unity in his condemnation of the war-hate inscription which it is sought to have the authorities, against their will, accept for the American Memorial Library at the University of Louvain. Mr. Hoover has the best of titles to speak on the matter, not only because of his intimate connection with the peace movement, but because of his position as head of the committee which raised the greater part of the funds for the library.

The controversy may seem unimportant. An inscription seems a small thing in comparison with more tangible factors, either for harmony or for discord overseas. Locarno, the continuing work of Briand, the legacy of Stresemann's efforts, all are solid achievements for peace. And for the perpetuation of old rivalries and enmities there are unfortunately enough mischief-breeding elements working tangible results of ill-will to make a mere form of words on a library front seem negligible.

But the imponderables count in human affairs. The world has learned to its cost, the effects of national hatreds and suspicions in perpetuating armaments and breeding wars. The world is now rejoicing in the new hope that the purely moral sanction involved in a voluntary covenant will be a greater safeguard against war than the most thoroughgoing system of coercion to enforce peace. It is realizing that public opinion is the greatest force in the international field. Whoever and whatever fosters international hatreds and suspicions brings over the future the threat of new war. It is most fortunate that the chief executive of the American people should find appropriate occasion in the midst of his efforts for an international accord in furtherance of the purposes of the Kellogg Pact to speak of telling word in the cause of European reconciliation.

WE MAKE MONEY DEAR

It might have proved unfortunate that while Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald was on his way to the United States, the Bank of England raised its discount rate from 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 per cent, and all Great Britain blamed America for the necessity of doing so.

Wall Street speculation has made money dear, not in the United States only, but all over the world. Within a year, high American interest rates have drawn $300,000,000 in gold from Great Britain alone, and the output of the South African gold mines, which normally goes to England, has come largely to this country. Something had to be done to check this outpouring of gold, which not only was worrying Europe, but was increasing the specter of a new war. So the bank rate was advanced, and on the same day the rate was raised in Norway, Sweden, Denmark and the Irish Free State.

Fortunately, the intricacies of banking are not generally understood by the public, and there was no general European outcry against our get-rich-quick market rizers.

ALABAMA CONGRESSMAN DOUBTS THAT MANKIND PREFERS PEACE

By CHARLES F. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—As between peace and war—which does mankind prefer? Peace, a thousand times!—so we all say.

"But I doubt it," observes Congressman George Huddleston of Birmingham, Ala. "If we had strife, as we tell ourselves we do, why do we fight so often when it is entirely unnecessary?"

"This world," deplored the congressman, "is so completely sold on the idea of force—as its sole reliance in any and every emergency."

"Force of arms. "Legal force! "The force of public opinion! "I don't believe in force; I believe in law, your supposedly peaceable acquaintance assures you. He wouldn't think of restoring to violence against an individual who, he considers, has wronged him. Oh, no; he swears out a warrant and sends a policeman, with a pistol and a club, to arrest him."

"True," admitted the Birmingham representative, "the formalities which precede a legal fight do have the advantage of forcing delay upon the belligerents."

"Sometimes there is so much of it that they cool off altogether, and any hostilities whatever are averted."

"Besides, a third party (at least theoretically disinterested) is provided, to act as umpire, which introduces an element of fairness into the encounter—provided the proceedings are not so gummed up with technicalities as to lose all relationship to justice."

"For that matter," added the Alabamian, "there is no reason to look for any relationship between them."

"Law and justice never were meant to be related. "Laws are simply rules prescribed by certain classes (and enforced by them if possible) to protect their group interests against rival folk whose interests conflict with theirs."

"A litigant in a courtroom does not get the benefit," conceded the congressman, "of hearing himself described (under circumstances which compel him to listen), not as the kind of character he thought he was, but as the very different type of person, maybe, that others think him."

"If I tend to give him a sense of the strength of that third force—the force of public opinion. "Occasionally it has quite a chastening effect on him."

Then a legal fight—despite the fact that it, too, is a resort to force—is somewhat preferable to a physical fight? "For individuals," qualified the Alabama legislator.

"In an international dispute the question arises: 'How shall a world court's decisions be backed up, in case the litigants refuse to abide by them?' "By war—jointly waged by the court's other members, against the balky litigant. If so, it becomes a heavy responsibility for a government like ours to join such a court, virtually committing us to a share in any struggle which unavoidably does begin in it—though it is true that we do have a tremendous, rough interest in the preservation of world peace."

"The fact is," said the congressman, "that so long as we continue to consider force necessary in certain emergencies, we shall continue to employ it whenever we consider that such an emergency has arisen. "Courts cannot stop us. Disarmament can only delay us a little. "The mill for peace is the sole guarantee of any value. "And that is why peace gestures are worth while—mere gestures. "Joining the world court would have affected us psychologically, not otherwise. The Kellogg treaty accomplishes nothing tangible, but it makes for a peace psychology. Premier MacDonald's visit was of the highest importance—but only psychologically. Naval reduction will make no difference of a material sort—but it will make a psychological one. "One thing, and one alone, can insure world peace; 'the will for it."

But to foreswear force absolutely!—military, legal, every form of it! Is it practical? "It sounds anarchistic. "Exactly," nodded the Alabamian. "Like Christ's philosophy."

DOCTORS' PRESCRIPTIONS NOT AS MYSTERIOUS AS THEY SEEM

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Many a patient has puzzled inordinately over the prescription handed to him by the physician. Prescriptions were in the past written almost altogether in Latin. The reason was that Latin was a classical language used by all learned men and medicine in the middle ages was studied altogether in Latin. It had the added advantage of the respect and inspiration that comes with secrecy and mystification. Furthermore, it was argued that Latin added to the prescription an unvarying accuracy which was not possible with English.

Today it is realized that mystery and secrecy are not the chief factors of importance in medicine. Instead, the public is being educated in matters medical and the writing of prescriptions in English tends to oppose charlatanism and quackery.

Many people wonder as to the meaning of the "R" with a cross that appears on top of the prescription. It has been urged that this sign represents an invocation to Jupiter, chief of the gods; but more recent studies indicate that the cross at the end of the "R" is not a symbol, but merely a period to indicate that this is an abbreviation.

The letter "R" is the first letter of the Latin word "recipe" which means "take." It is the instruction to the druggist to take the amount specified of each of the ingredients in the prescription and to mix them according to the directions which are usually given in Latin below.

The most common direction is represented by the letter "M" which follows the prescription and which stands for "misce" meaning "mix."

In an earlier day, prescriptions were noted for the large number of ingredients which they contained. Not infrequently the doctor would inquire as to the various symptoms and put something in the prescription to control each of the symptoms.

The modern physician is likely to have only a few ingredients in each prescription, since he is concerned largely with controlling the cause of the disease and with relieving the most serious of the symptoms. He uses potent remedies which have definite effects.

Anniversary Notes

THE GREAT WAR ON RUSSIA. On Oct. 29, 1918, Turkish torpedo boats raided Odessa, sank a Russian gunboat and damaged other Russian and French ships.

The raid followed a series of hostile acts against the allies, including the detention of British merchant ships in Turkish waters, and violent attacks on English and Turkish newspapers, then subsidized by German gold.

The result of the unwarranted raid was the withdrawal of the Russian ambassador from Constantinople and the instruction by the British government to their Turkish ambassador to leave Constantinople within 12 hours unless Turkey divested itself of responsibility for the recent acts of hostility.

Turkey failed to give a satisfactory explanation of its actions and on November 4 a state of war commenced with Turkey an ally of Germany and Austria.

SERIOUSLY INJURED. LAREDO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Wesley Hall, 30, employee of the state highway commission in Austin, was in a hospital here today in a serious condition from a bullet wound in the left lung inflicted last night. Mario Campos, 17, Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, chauffeur, was in jail charged with assault with intent to murder. Officers said the men were alleged to have quarreled over Campos damaging Hall's car while driving around Nuevo Laredo.

Reported as being anthrax, a strange disease which broke out recently at Trinidad, P. I., causing the death of three persons, finally has been diagnosed as carbuncles.

Nevada is the least densely populated state. It has only 7 inhabitants per square mile. Alaska Territory has only 1.

Today's Poem

Master of human destinies am I, Fame, love, and fortune on my footsteps wait. Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate Deserts and seas remote, and passing by Hotel and mart and palace—of my kind I looke unbidden once at every gate! If sleeping, wake—if feasting, rise before I turn away. It is the hour of fate, And they who follow me reach every Mortals' desire, and conquer every foe. Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate, Condemned to failure, penury and woe. Seek me in vain and uselessly implore. I answer not, and I return no more. —John James Ingalls.

CONSTRUCTING BRIDGE

New Span Is Going Across San Marcos River

SAN MARCOS, Oct. 28. (AP)—Work of constructing a new 110 by 40 foot steel and concrete bridge over the San Marcos river here on the Austin post road has been halted so that the state engineering department can make further study of its proposed foundation. The new structure will cost the state, Hays county and San Marcos about $20,000.

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 28. (AP)—Mrs. A. J. Yost of Port Arthur, was notified today that she is among a group of heirs to the $63,000,000 estate of the late Lord George Suttton, English statesman and land owner.

Bingham Strikes Back At Accusers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Striking back at his accusers, Senator Bingham, republican, Connecticut, contended in the senate today the lobby investigating committee was "unfair" and had used "police court methods" in examining him regarding his employment of an officer of the Connecticut Manufacturers' association to assist him in tariff matters.

The Connecticut senator asserted the committee was "framed against a friend of the administration." He said one member of the committee had used a member of the capitol police force as a chauffeur to drive him home while the policeman was still drawing government pay.

Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, member of the committee, leaped to his feet and insisted that Bingham name the senator.

"It was the senator from Wisconsin," Bingham replied. "In reply in my turn," Blaine shouted as Bingham continued his speech.

PASS ON VALIDITY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The supreme court today consented to pass on the constitutionality of the act of the Texas legislature under which the Nueces county fresh water supply district No. 1 was created. It announced T. H. Isaacson and other property owners in that district who had challenged the validity of the act had presented the case within its jurisdiction.

LOOMS PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The Federal Farm Board said in a statement late today that the shrinkage in stock values in the last few days had had an unwarranted effect upon wheat prices and proposed a series of loans to all farmers to hold their crops.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

The Innocent Cheat

By Ruth Dewey Groves AUTHOR OF 'RICH GIRL—POOR GIRL,' ETC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED Helen Page thinks she is in love with her guardian, Leonard Brent who changes his plans for her future after meeting a dying man named Nellin. Brent presents the girl to a millionaire, Cyril Cunningham, and Helen sees that he looked startled at his own words. He glanced nervously over his shoulder and it was several seconds before he completely regained his composure and ended his remark with a semblance of calm. "This ghostly house," he said, "or are you afraid of ghosts?"

"Afraid?" Helen repeated, annoyed by the challenge in his words. "Yes," he replied; "afraid she will interest Ennis again. Not very constant, Ennis is he?" "We won't discuss him," Helen said.

"Oh don't be staid," Brent retorted. "You will have to excuse me," Helen returned coldly and moved toward the wide doors that led into the hall. She did not give him a backward glance as she passed through them and disappeared in the direction of the breakfast room.

Brent scowled, hesitated a moment in indecision, and followed her. They met in the hall. In a glance Helen had seen that Shallimar was not at breakfast. She was going upstairs to seek her.

Brent stood in her way and stopped her before she reached the stairs. "A week, remember," he said tensely; "and don't make any mistake about it! It's life or death for you!"

Helen passed on without a word in reply. She felt cold as though a breath from an icy chamber had been breathed upon her. She put a hand on the balustrade for support; it was so numb she scarcely sensed the wood.

She went directly to Shallimar's room, where she found her guest engaged in packing a small traveling bag. Shallimar looked up casually as Helen entered the room, but instantly she cried: "Have you seen a ghost?"

"I . . . I feel ill," Helen faltered and collapsed into a conveniently placed boudoir chair. She was as white as the handkerchief she lifted to her trembling lips.

Shallimar rushed to her with a bottle of cologne which she hastily dug out of her bag, and held it to Helen's nose.

Helen did not faint, but she did wish that she had gone to her own room instead of coming in here. Overestimating her endurance was plain. "He was a good-looking fellow, but it had seemed better to speed Shallimar on her way as decently as she could and then face her problem."

But the problem had not waited. It had filled her mind with panic. She should have known she must succumb to it. Her sense of guilt

"What is it?" Helen pleaded. "Nothing alarming," he said, with an unexpected soothing quality in his voice. "Just a thought that I dare say hasn't occurred to you, at least not since our interview began."

"What is it? Or please, let us have this over with." "I merely want to remind you that Cyril Cunningham wished you to inherit his money," Brent explained. "He was a good-looking fellow, but it had seemed better to speed Shallimar on her way as decently as she could and then face her problem."

But the problem had not waited. It had filled her mind with panic. She should have known she must succumb to it. Her sense of guilt over disturbing her guest brought a halting apology to her lips.

Shallimar brushed it aside with a command to tell her what was really the trouble.
Helen maintained that she was physically ill, nothing more.
"Very well," Shallimar agreed, "but if it did concern him I could help, possibly. You see, it's because he and I have played to the end of our string that I'm going."

in love with you, Helen, and I'm clearing out before the poor bean gets any childish ideas about me turning cartwheels in his head. He doesn't owe me a thing in the nature of an offer, but he's so darned strict he might think he's been wasting my time.
She laughed and held the cologne bottle to her nostrils, sniffing it daintily. Then she glanced at her wrist watch. "Ashie gave me a time-table," she remarked. "There's a train in 20 minutes. You don't look fit to drive me to the station, Helen. I'll say no rever to you here, dear," she moved over to touch a maid's bell—"if you think you won't need me."

Oscar Brothers, of Lubbock, deputy United States marshal, returned Sunday from Borger, where he represented the federal government in the general clean-up program in the oil city.

During his stay there Mr. Brothers made 25 arrests in connection with the martial law.

The Shortest South Plains Is Drenched By Rain

Following drenching rains throughout the Panhandle and South Plains over the week end, roads in every direction have been slow for travel but today are being put back in condition with dry winds and sun Monday.

Lubbock received a precipitation of .48 of an inch, accompanied by cool weather. The thermometer, reaching below 50 degrees early yesterday morning, rose steadily during the day. The slow rain began here Saturday night and continued periodically through Sunday.

Rains varying from .40 of an inch to one inch fell from Amarillo to Sweetwater and from Roswell to Spur. More extensive reports indicate the rains were general throughout the Southwest.

County Agent D. F. Eaton reports that the portion of cotton which is still on the ground has been seriously damaged.

"I'm afraid," she said, "that something has happened to Miss Nellie." (To Be Continued)

COMMUNISTS CLASH WITH LONDON COPS OVER STRIKE CASE

Fighting Lasts Half Hour When Several Hundred Of Paraders Are Halted By Police Officers

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Communists and London police last night fought for more than a half hour outside the American embassy when several hundred paraders attempted to present a resolution of protest at the Gastonia, N. C., textile workers' trials.

The parade of communists, numbering several hundred, formed at Trafalgar Square, and moved toward the American embassy when its way was barred by police who informed its leaders they could not be received at the embassy.

Fighting follows

Free-for-all fighting ensued, in the course of which some of the communists smashed windows of passing vehicles and involved innocent passers-by. The clash lasted for more than a half hour before severe clubbings by mounted policemen and a number of arrests quelled the red spirit.

The communists carried such banners as "MacDonald gorges in Washington" and "Textile workers starved and murdered in Gastonia." They flailed them at the windows of passing omnibuses until police took them away from them.

Lions To Discuss Good Roads Plan

Good roads will be featured at today's meeting of the Lubbock Lions club, according to C. F. Drexel, president, and anticipation points to a lively interest as this is the first civic club to meet since the filling of the petition yesterday with the county commissioners' court asking that an election be held in road district number two.

Speakers on the program will include Charles F. O'Neill, chairman of the Lubbock County Good Roads association; J. H. Hankins and W. C. Rylander.

Other features are to be musical offerings.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Park Plan Perpetual Care

On The Lubbock-Slaton Highway 3 Miles Southeast of the City

DRIVE OUT TO-DAY

Another milestone in the growth and development of Lubbock is about to be passed. From New York to Los Angeles and from Minneapolis to Houston every large city has its modern park plan burial park. The founders of Memorial Park think Lubbock is entitled to the best. These men of great experience in this special work have determined that this institution shall represent the outstanding project of its kind in the South. Thousands of dollars are being spent at this time in carrying out this idea. Every feature of this development is being planned by the best engineering and architectural talents in the country. Old time obsolete cemetery methods have been cast aside and only the modern park and landscape features are a part of this installation.

An imposing entrance is being constructed which with the winding drives, green lawns, beautiful shrubs and restricted monument or memorial regulations will always permit Memorial Park to carry on as a wonderful civic park project.

Then, too, Memorial Park will be properly protected through the establishment of an ample perpetual care fund, the income from which will forever keep this project as safe as human knowledge and experience will permit.
