A session of 100th District Court has been set by Judge Charles Reynolds for the week beginning Monday, Sept. 15.

The grand jury, which was dissolved at the last court session, was called back into session as a grand jury on Monday, Sept. 15. Notice of this was received by Lorene Jenkins, county-district clerk, Saturday morning, and grand jurors are being notified to appear.

Non-jury cases will be heard before the court on Monday, Sept. 15. Eight cases are on the non-jury docket, although one or more of these have now been settled.

Two jury cases are set for trial, subject to the Docket Call beginning Tuesday, Sept. 16, at 10:00 a.m. with the jury panel to report at that time.

One of these is the State of Texas vs. Dollye Mae Cooley, charged with the murder of her husband.

The other is a civil case.

Manzie Crawford attended Wellington Schools and was graduated from Estelline High School. Later he attended Henderson Baptist College. He held several pastorates, all in East and Central Texas, before going to Hillsboro.

Bro. Crawford is married and has two school-age sons.

Bro. Roland Jenkins, pastor of Friendship Church, has extended an invitation to the public to attend the services, and especially are those who knew the evangelist invited, he added.

He was back in school Monday morning, but he will be out of football for the remainder of the season. He was to have been on the Seventh Grade squad.

Near Hollis

Murl Lacy Badly Hurt in One-Car Accident

Murl Lacy, prominent farmer living east of Wellington, is reported in satisfactory condition, but not out of danger, in an Amarillo hospital where he is being treated for injuries received in a one-car accident three miles east of Hollis at 7:05 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 4.

His injuries, according to members of the family, include a punctured lung, one or more broken ribs, and cuts and bruises about the head. A tracheotomy was performed Friday so he can breathe easier.

Oklahoma Highway Patrolman Max Cornwell of Hollis, who made the investigation, said Mr. Lacy was traveling west on Highway US 82 when the right front of his car struck the north banister of the bridge 3 miles east of Hollis. After impact it traveled 57 feet farther and came to rest, still on the bridge, headed in

A "Better Rounded" Team

Rockets Open Against Hollis Tigers Friday

Wellington's Skyrockets open their 1969 season away from home Friday, Sept. 12, when they meet the Hollis Tigers at Hollis. Game time is 8 p.m.

"We actually don't know what to expect," said Head Coach Thayne Amonett, as the team went into its final two days of drilling. "We were well pleased in the scrimmage against Paducah here Friday, and the defense showed up much improved."

But the Skyrockets did receive injuries in that scrimmage. Both Don Martin and Gary Farrar had knee injuries, and Martin was taken to an Amarillo hospital for further treatment and possible surgery Sunday.

Neither was on the first team.

"But Don was one of our bigger boys and he was going to play a lot of ball," said Coach Amonett. Martin was an offensive end and also played in the backfield.

This year's Rockets are a better balanced team than those last year, Coaches Amonett, Dick Hamilton and Jim Forrester agree.

Their passing game is one of the bright spots. Charles Mauldin and Bobby Saied are developing a highly accurate eye when it comes to throwing the ball, and no matter which way they send it, they will find Danny West, Nicky Watts, Larry or Lester Robinson, Dallas Holland or Ricky Nall — all slated on the receiving end.

Also weighing heavily in the Rockets' favor is their team spirit and enthusiasm, which all three coaches have discussed.

When the Rockets position themselves on the Tiger Field Friday night, their average weight will be about 153 pounds. Coach Amonett reminded that Wellington lost four of its largest men by graduation last spring—Jerry Woodbridge, Jimmy Bohannon, Chuck Wilbur and Andy Lowe.

Hollis, like Wellington, is opening its season. "However, most of last year's starters are back, and the Tigers are a Junior-Senior team, predominantly juniors. They, too, are

Austin Deger, Lutie Farmer, Dies Saturday

Orville Austin Deger, 58, prominent farmer living three miles east of Lutie, died unexpectedly at his home at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 6. His death was attributed to a heart attack.

He had lived his entire life in that community.

Mr. Deger was one of the men who helped develop irrigation in that part of the county. Vitrally interested in maintaining a strong agriculture in this area, he worked for improved farming methods all through his adult years.

He was interested also in the general community life, and in the Samnorwood School, which his son attended. He sensed the needs of those with whom he dealt, and his many neighborly deeds through the years had brought a constantly growing circle of friends.

Born Feb. 12, 1911, Austin Deger was the son of Mrs. J. W. Deger of Wellington and the late Mr. Deger.

On Nov. 23, 1934, he was married to Miss Ruth Hobbs, also of that community.

Mr. Deger was a member of the Church of Christ in Wellington.

Services were conducted at 10:00 a.m. Tuesday at the Church of Christ, with Gaylord Cook, minister, and Grandol Forehand of Dalhart, a former minister, officiating. Burial was in Westview Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Bill Janes, Dick Judd, Elmer Hiett, Buck Martindale, Billy Waters, Marvin Knoll, Ernest Rountree and John Holton.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ruth Deger, and his 13-year-old son, Rocky, of the Lutie community; his mother, Mrs. J. W. Deger of Wellington; two brothers and a sister, Walter Deger and Mrs. Joe Rountree of the Lutie area and Hardy B. Deger of Fort Worth.

Youth Undergoes Repair Surgery

Craig Holton, 11, returned from High Plains Hospital, Amarillo, Saturday, Sept. 6, where he had surgery for the repair of a tendon in his right hand. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ham Holton.

Craig fell and cut the tendon in the palm of his hand about three weeks ago. Some healing was necessary before the corrective surgery could be performed. He entered the hospital Thursday.

School Gains 27 Students

The Wellington Schools had gained 27 students by the end of the first week of classes, Supt. J. L. Harper announced. This brings the total to 696 for all grades.

There are now 300 enrolled in elementary school, 168 in junior high, and 228 in high school, he said.

Major Events Return to '69 Fair Calendar

The Collingsworth County Free Fair has worked out arrangements to again feature the Old Fiddlers Contest, one of the most popular of all events to be carried as part of the Fair, Oct. 17 and 18.

Two other popular events are returning, also, Chairman Billy Moseley said, when he reported to the Chamber of Commerce directors Monday night, Sept. 8.

A Collingsworth County Fair Queen will be chosen this year, with the contest tentatively set for Thursday night, Oct. 16. Wellington Jaycees are due to sponsor a terrapin race, to be held on the square, with the date to be announced.

Jim Lewis, who has staged the past two old fiddlers contests so successfully, will be in charge again.

The contest will be held Saturday afternoon, Oct. 18, under the big pecan tree at the northeast corner of the courthouse lawn.

Again the contest will attract some of the top southwestern fiddlers, including several title holders.

Tentative changes were announced in routing this year's big opening parade, Mr. Moseley said.

Donald Nunneley is the parade chairman. The parade will assemble on Eighth Street west of the square, and on the paved streets adjacent to it.

The parade itself will enter the square from the northwest corner. The loop around the community building block will be made, but this year the parade will leave the square from the southeast corner.

The organization was recessed for the summer months.

Davis Burned in Butane Fire

Junior Davis was painfully burned on the arms, chest and throat at 8:30 Sunday morning while he was filling his pickup with butane at the Davis Enco Station on Highway 83.

Davis was standing in the back end of the pickup when the fire broke out and leaped to safety. The back end of the truck was burned and the flames entered the small building south of the station and destroyed saddles, tires and charred the inside of the structure.

The exact cause of the start of the fire is not known. John Coffee was standing nearby and rushed Davis to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was treated. He is listed in fair condition.

County School Head in Hospital

T. E. Lennon, county superintendent of schools, is in St. Joseph's Hospital after becoming ill at his office Friday, Sept. 5.

He was taken to the hospital by Kelso Ambulance.

The nature of his illness has not been determined definitely, according to his son-in-law, Lonnie Roberson.

A series of tests are being made and an electrocardiogram was taken.

Damron Authors New Driver License Text

Wisconsin driver's license applicants find their written test easier through a new book co-authored by a former Wellington man, now a leader in driver safety in that state.

It is the new self-teaching programed course, "Auto-Test for Wisconsin Driver's License Applicants." It is by Dr. Frazier Damron, professor of Safety Education and Director of the Safety Research and Education Program of the University of Wisconsin, Madison. His collaborator is Philip Lambert, professor of educational psychology and director of the instructional Research Laboratory of the university.

A graduate of Wellington High School, Dr. Damron is the son of Mrs. C. D. Damron and the brother of Mrs. A. L. Elliott and Mrs. Lorene Rogers.

The programed text is used in driver education courses in Wisconsin Schools, Mrs. Elliott said.

Teaching is by a series of frames containing essential information, to which the student must give other information. Answers are alongside and are covered as the student tests himself, then uncovered as he checks his answers.

With the "Auto-Test" each student progresses at his own rate of learning, and it gives the teacher greater flexibility in teaching driver education material.

The "Auto-Test" is keyed to the Wisconsin Manual for Motorists. The sections covered include: Requirements for an Operator's License; The Examination, Rules of the Road, Conditions Affecting Driving, If You Have an Accident, Follow These Rules, and Vehicle Requirements.

There are new sections on Freeway Driving, Motor-driven Cycles, Seat Belts, and Snowmobiles.

The book has been praised and recommended by Wisconsin state officials:

"The use of this programed text will decrease the number of failures and scores recorded in the examinations will be of a higher numerical rating," said James L. Karns of the Wisconsin Department of Transportation.

"This programed text certainly helps along the cause of highway safety," said Stuart B. Wright, general manager of the Wisconsin Division, AAA.

"This well-conceived 'Auto-Test' coordinated as it is with the excellent Wisconsin 'Manual for Motorists' can be a distinct aid in achieving the goal that should be a goal of all citizens today: safer transportation," G. H. Blake, secretary, Department of Transportation, State of Wisconsin.

The book is published by Dembar Educational Research Services, Inc., in Madison, Wisconsin, and the cost is only $1.95.

It took Leonardo da Vinci nearly two years to paint the "Last Supper."

GI's Taking Flight Training

More than 25,700 veterans are currently taking flight training for a commercial pilot's license under the provisions of the GI Bill, Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco, disclosed today.

Since flight training was approved by Congress in October of 1967, a total of 38,583 veterans have taken advantage of the course.

Provisions under the GI Bill require that the veteran must first possess a private pilot's license, or its equivalent, and must meet the medical requirements for a commercial license, Coker said.

An eligible veteran entered into an approved flight course will be paid an educational assistance allowance computed at the rate of 90% of the established charges for tuition and fees which non-veterans enrolled in the same flight course are required to pay.

According to Coker, these allowances may be paid monthly by the VA upon receipt of a certification from the veteran and the school as to the flight training received and the cost to the veteran during such month.

The educational veteran will be charged one month's educational entitlement under the GI Bill for each $130 which is paid to him as an educational assistance allowance for a flight course.

Coker said that flight training as a part of an approved college degree program is also available to veterans.

JCs Represented at Called Meet

Billy Wilkerson, president of the Wellington Jaycees, and Dwayne Poteet, attended a meeting called by the state Jaycee president in Plainview Saturday, Sept. 6.

Plans for a statewide fund project were discussed.

The Jaycees also began work on a campaign to counteract the legal action filed by Mrs. Madeline Murray O'Hara of Austin, who is seeking to prevent further reading of scriptures or prayers by astronauts while on space missions.

The VA usually can reply promptly if a veteran includes his "C" or file number when he writes.

Revised Motor Vehicle Inspection Act in Force

Part 5 of 5 Parts

AUSTIN.—The most sweeping changes ever to be made in the state's Motor Vehicle Inspection Act became effective Sept. 1, according to Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Speir said the amended act, recently adopted by the Texas Legislature, will place Texas on a 12 month inspection period. The measure increases the inspection fee from $1.75 to $2.00 and moves the location of the inspection sticker from the right of the windshield to the left. It also adds exhaust emission systems on 1968 or later vehicles, and exhaust system on all vehicles, to the list of items to be inspected.

Speir said that all vehicles subject to inspection must be taken to an approved motor vehicle inspection station between Sept. 1, 1969 and April 15, 1970. Upon satisfactory completion of the inspection procedure, the mechanic-inspector will remove the old sticker and affix the new one.

"The new stickers will expire 12 months from the date of inspection, and will contain a large number tab showing the month of expiration," Speir noted. "For example, a sticker issued in September will contain a number 9, and will expire on the last day of September, 1970. A sticker issued in January will contain the number 1, and will expire at the end of January, 1971," he added.

The DPS director urged all motorists to have their cars inspected early to get ready for fall and winter driving, and to avoid long lines which may develop in April as the deadline draws near.

In addition to the new items to be inspected, inspection stations will check brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, and front seat belts in vehicles where seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment

Overcast Goes to Trinity as Assistant Coach

A former Collingsworth man who graduated at Samnorwood and coached basketball at Quail, has a new job in one of Texas' major universities.

Lawrence Overcast, head basketball coach at Clarendon College for the past three seasons has quit to take an assistantship at Trinity University in San Antonio.

"I will be working with Jim Littleton there. I believe this will open a lot of doors for me and I was ready to do something else. Trinity is an NCAA school now and next year we are going strictly major league with a major college schedule. We play West Texas this year at Canyon. And we play Oklahoma State and Pepperdine and such teams. And we should have a much better on the vehicle. The inspection also includes steering and the wheels and rims.

Supermarket Credit Cards

In a year or two, credit cards may be found in supermarkets if present try-outs are successful.

Two major chains are experimenting with them. Trials are to determine if shoppers prefer or like to use credit cards instead of cash in the supermarket, and if the consumer will pay his bill after the food has been taken home and consumed.

This plan may be convenient, but similar to most plans, an 18 percent interest charge is added to bills not paid within the month.

Fabric Care

With the purchase of back-to-school clothes, fiber content in some new garments probably will be unfamiliar. How will you care for it?

Information on hang-tags and labels tells the care story. A filing system for instructions is extremely helpful.

Development of fabrics, blends and finishes progresses so fast, even textile experts can't always identify fibers. Washing instructions on a purchase are worth their weight in gold.

Keep a small card-file box near the washer. Each time a member of the family gets a new garment, new bedspread or curtains, take off informative tags and put them in the file box—identifying each tag as "Mary's pink blouse" or "green nylon spreads".

You will then know which items can be loaded together, which take short washing and spin cycles, and need hot or warm suds. Records of ironing instructions and temperature setting, will eliminate guesswork.

Fabrics give much more wear and satisfaction when laundered properly than it does not pay to rely on memory as to fabric content. Write information down and file it properly, and refer to it as needed. It will protect belongings and budget.

Joe Si Simpson

Family of Joe Simpson Gathers to Observe His 80th Birthday Sunday

Joe Si Simpson, retired farmer living at 1104 East Avenue, observed his 80th birthday Friday, September 5, and on Sunday, children, grandchildren and other relatives came to celebrate the occasion with him.

The birthday dinner was served, with the cutting of the birthday cake a high point; there was visiting and reminiscing, and pictures were taken in the afternoon.

Born at Melbourne, Izzard County, Arkansas, Mr. Simpson first came to Collingsworth County in 1911, and farmed until 1918, when he moved his young family to Colorado. But three years later, they came back to Collingsworth County and he continued in farming until 1941, when he moved to Muleshoe.

Mr. Simpson developed extensive farming operations on the South Plains until 1960, when he and Mrs. Simpson returned to the state where he spent his childhood, Arkansas.

But Collingsworth County kept calling them back, and it was in 1964 that they came to Wellington.

Mr. Simpson was not ready to retire from farming even then, and he operated farming land in the Dodson area for several years.

Always a man who took pride in his farming, such farming successes as producing the first bale of cotton one season were a source of pleasure and satisfaction to him.

Mr. Simpson started to school in Melbourne, Ark., and later attended at Indian Creek, Okla., as his family moved westward.

He was married to Miss Bernice Obenhaus of the Shinyrer Community on July 20, 1913, and they have two daughters, Mrs. Clara Harrison of Muleshoe, and Mrs. Willie Wade of Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson belong to the Baptist Church.

Mrs. Mary Rountree Observes 95th Birthday with Children Sunday

Mrs. Mary Rountree, who was one of the early settlers in the Aberdeen area, observed her 95th birthday Sunday, September 7, with all of her sons and one daughter present.

Friends and other relatives called during the afternoon.

The party was a surprise to her.

Children included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rountree; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rountree; Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Rountree, their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rountree and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Rountree, all of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Rountree of Greenbelt Lake, Clarendon; and Mr. and Mrs. Sam White.

Daughters unable to attend were Mrs. William H. Lowry (Zannie) of Spokane, Washington; and Mrs. R. E. Dicum (Grace) of Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Rountree was born in South Carolina, and she remembers vividly the big white plantation house where she and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brock, lived until she was seven. Her father was a Confederate veteran.

Farming became difficult after the slaves had left, reluctantly for they said "Marse Joseph will keep us well and take care of us," Mrs. Rountree has related to her children.

When she was seven there came the thrilling train trip west into Texas, and the Mississippi River crossing is still vivid in her mind.

The family settled at Bowie, where Mrs. Rountree went to school.

At 17 she was married to the late A. G. Rountree. Her first home in Collingsworth County was on a hill near Aberdeen, and there her first son, Leon, was born and died a few months later. In the way of pioneers, and because there was no cemetery nearby, he was buried on the open range. His tiny grave is still there, to be found on the ranchland, thoughtfully kept fenced by the present ranch owners.

She raised her family at Aberdeen and Lutie, except for a short time when the family lived at Tulsa, and again when they moved to New Mexico for a brief period.

She and Mr. Rountree lived at Marysville, California for a few years before his death, then she returned to Wellington.

Services to Handicapped Consolidated September 1

AUSTIN.—Texas services to handicapped persons other than the blind were consolidated under a single Commission for Rehabilitation beginning Sept. 1, 1969.

This new commission, authorized under Senate Bill 210 passed by the 61st Legislature during its regular session in March, includes the vocational rehabilitation and disability determination divisions that were a part of the Texas Education Agency.

The Commission for Rehabilitation will be directed by a 6-member governing board to be appointed by Gov. Preston Smith. This board will appoint a commissioner.

Dr. David Wade, director of comprehensive health planning for Gov. Smith, will represent the governor's office during the new commission's organization period.

The division's 1969 budget totaled more than $22 million. Federal funds accounted for 75% of the total. The 1970 budget request is pegged at more than $35 million, 80% of which will be provided by federal sources. Doyle Wheeler is director.

The division of disability determination operates under a 1955 agreement with the federal Social Security Administration to gather information on Texans who have lost the ability to earn a living due to a mental or physical impairment. More than 57,000 disability checks were mailed to Texans each month during 1969. Total monthly payments are averaging more than $8 million.

At Hollis Game

That Skyrocket Band Makes Debut Friday

For the first time ever, That Skyrocket Band will appear under the baton of one of its former members, Miss Carol Blain, during its half-time performance at the Skyrocket-Tiger game in Hollis Friday night Sept. 12.

A former member also of the Texas Tech marching band, Miss Blain is delighted with the response she is getting from the high school band.

It is larger in numbers—72—than for several seasons, and it moves as a high-spirited unit, although the season has not started.

Emphasis so far has been on precision drills for the coming football season.

At Hollis, the band will open in a company front, moving into a block band, with a series of counter marches and block-busters. It will return to company front, then into a step two drill.

Rehearsals last for an hour every day, with additional sectional rehearsals. An evening drill was held Tuesday.

The band has had one guest director, Miss Barbara Sparburg, director of the Seymour High School Band, and Miss Blain praised the Rocket musicians' response.

At Tech, where Miss Blain received her degree, she studied trumpet under Richard Tolley, organ with Dr. Judson Maynard, and piano with Dr. Thomas Maestriani.

In addition to the high school band, she is working with the 50-piece Junior High Band and plans are being completed for the Elementary School Band.

Members of That Skyrocket Band are:

Flutes: Carey Lewis, Cathy Singley, Jenny Bouchelle, Jane Campbell, Kathryn Scott, Leigh Nall, Jan McGill, Juliana Baumgardner, Phyllis Sullivan, Ed Watkins;

Clarinet: Pam Guthrie, Car-

Debbie Jones, Earl Hartman, Landi White, Dickie Johnson, Dian Brooks;

EARLY SWEDISH BANKING

The first chartered public bank in Sweden was founded in 1656.

Exclusive rights for the bank were given to John Palmstruch. At the time he was head of the Merchants' Guild. He was also a prominent miner.

The only capital he had was the cash on hand and mines. The bank was divided into two departments: The deposit branch which could make no loans. The loan department was permitted to lend money.

Money could be lent on real estate and commodities. Ten percent interest was often charged.

Within two years the bank was issuing notes payable upon demand. Some were payable to order and some to bearer.

They were probably the first payable-on-demand bank bills ever issued.

Walter Watson Dies Aug. 30

A longtime ginner and seedman, Walter R. Watson, 64, of 1129 Rock Creek Drive, Garland, died there Saturday night Aug. 30.

Watson, who had been in bad health for about a year, died unexpectedly following a heart attack at the home of his brother, Hayward Watson, 1230 Swallow Lane.

Born Aug. 10, 1905 in Waxahachie, Watson moved to Garland as a young man and was associated with his father, the late Ferris Watson, in the seed and ginning business for a number of years. He had owned and operated the Watson Seed Company in Garland since his father's death in 1944.

During the early 1930's Mr. Watson had extensive cottonseed operations here. At that time he was married to Miss Lois Sherwood, member of a pioneer Collingsworth family.

He had recently moved his ginning operations to Trumbull, Tex., where he had built a new gin. He was among the first to grow glandless cotton and farmed an extensive cotton acreage in both the Garland and Trumbull areas.

Watson was recognized as the outstanding ginner of the year at the annual Ginners' Convention this year. He was cited and presented a plaque for his contribution to the cottonseed and ginning industry.

Services were held Monday, Sept. 1 at First Methodist Church in Garland. Rev. Thomas Weaver, pastor, officiated and burial was in Restland Memorial Park.

Survivors include two sons, Lynn and Bob Watson, both of Garland; two other brothers, Joel and Ralph Watson, both of California. He was preceded in death by his wife, Lois, in 1967.

One of the better players, Larry Wright, was lost to the team when he received a broken collar bone Friday.

On the whole, the youngsters are now learning the correct stance and how to run plays, Coach Hamilton said.

Their first game will be with Paducah, there, on Thursday, Sept. 25.

Last Rites for Chester Keller Held Sept. 8

He attended schools at Crossroads and Wellington and later West Texas State University. The family moved to New Mexico in 1917, where Chester farmed for a time before moving to California. For many years he was dispatcher for the Southern Pacific Railroad and after his retirement he moved back to New Mexico.

He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Kiwanis Club and the Assembly of God Church.

He was a cousin of Earl and Aubrey Keller of Wellington.

Other survivors are: brothers, Fred of Tucumcari, Charles of Monterey Park, Calif., Dallas of Mosquero, N.M., and sisters: Mrs. Mildred Card of Ashton, Idaho, Mrs. Betty Hammett of Boulder City, Nev., Mrs. Alma Sanders of Artesia, N. M., and Mrs. Helen Williams of Tucumcari.

Weevil Control Due Expansion

The Texas Insect Control Steering Committee is studying the feasibility of a coordinated, state-wide control program for the cotton boll weevil and possibly for other cotton pests that would be patterned after the diapause program now being carried out in Collingsworth County.

The steering committee was created by the 6-member Texas Association of Cotton Producer Organizations, in August.

Both the Rolling Plains area and independent sections such as that in Collingsworth and Childress counties have already instigated the coordinated weevil control based on the success of the diapause control program practiced on the eastern edge of the High Plains since 1964.

"If such a program covering the entire state were found to be practical, it would be more effective than the measures now being used. And it is the purpose of this committee to investigate that possibility," said Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

PEAK FOR PENSIONS

World War II pensions and death benefits probably will reach their peak about the year 2000. The total cost is expected to be $5.5 billion a year at that time.

Mum Diseases Now Appearing

COLLEGE STATION.—With summer on the wane and fall approaching, it is a good time to consider "mum" diseases and their prevention, says County Agent Don Reeves.

During September and October, mum diseases are most evident. Plans should be made now to prevent them before they occur.

Leaf spot diseases are undoubtedly the most noticeable of the mum diseases. Usually, leaf spots occur in mid September on leaves at the base of the plants. These infested leaves soon wither and fall off. Gradually throughout September and October, leaf spots spread causing progressive leaf loss. By full flowering time, all of the leaves may be destroyed—result, fewer blossoms and disappointment for the gardener, who has looked forward to the bright autumn color show that mums provide.

To prevent this loss, says Reeves, the mums should be sprayed or dusted with Zineb or Phaltan. Start sprays or dusts when the first signs of leaf spots appear on the bottom leaves and re-apply at 10-day intervals as long as mildew is a problem, suggests Reeves.

Avoid fusarium wilt, stem rot, and the virus disease known as yellows by using wilt resistant varieties, rotating the garden location of the mums beds, and by controlling insects such as aphids, thrips, and leaf hoppers.

The chrysanthemum, he notes, is one of the few fall blooming garden flowers. With its bright colors, it adds a vivid splash of color to the fall garden. Diseases can destroy this fall flower and must be prevented for maximum satisfaction and enjoyment, Reeves said.

School Board Sets Hearing

The annual budget hearing of the Wellington Independent School District will be Monday, Oct. 13. The date was set in a meeting of the school board Monday evening, Sept. 8.

Accidents Can Be Reduced On Farm-To-Market Roads

Rural accidents on Farm-to-Market roads, which have been far too numerous in this area in recent years, took a turn for the worse over the entire state during the month of August, according to the Texas Safety Association.

Rural fatalities, injuries and property damage from traffic accidents cost $23 million for this month alone. While this is considerably less than the total of $38 million in the city limits of urban Texas the increase in rural accidents is too great to be ignored.

The Safety Association suggests that the following rules be observed by those driving in rural areas:

- When traveling on an unpaved roadway, yield the right-of-way to vehicles traveling on a paved highway. Under a new Texas law, you may enter an intersecting paved roadway only when there is no chance of interference or collision with traffic on the highway.
- Be prepared for animals grazing near the roadway. They may suddenly cross in front of your vehicle.
- Look for narrow or rough shoulder areas and washed-out rough spots in the highway that can cause trouble in steering.
- Keep on your side of the roadway, even if it's narrow.
- Slow down for sharp curves and when approaching or crossing narrow bridges.

The Hungry Haters

The Russians admit that they're short of dishes and tableware, but they deny the Red Chinese taunt that they don't have vegetables to eat. It's the Chinese, says the Krimlin, who are starving — while building nuclear bombs with American dollars.

That's the level of personal insult that relations between the Red giants have fallen to. Both use the United States as the bad example that is wreaking ruin on the other. The Chinese say Russians revision to capitalism means empty bellies.

We love to hold both their coats, but it's a poor political play among Red nations to blame hunger on American methods. If there's one area we excel in it's in feeding our people. If there's one really conspicuous Red failure everywhere it's in agriculture.

The Russians, in fact, have sufficient food only because they allow collective farmers to run a side business of growing vegetables for the market. Nothing grows so well as a row of capitalistic beets.

As for the Russians taunt that the Chinese are starving while building A-bombs with our money, the insult is precisely half true. Instead of tea and rice (both luxuries), the average Chinese drinks hot water and eats sorghum—when he can get it.

Mao is indeed building bombs and Russia's charge that American dollars are responsible may be more than a calculated affront. The Chinese nuclear works are near the Russian border—the site of killings and tension between the two nations. Like President Kennedy, Brezhnev might be tempted by the idea of blowing it up.

If it helps for the kremlin to call the Chinese nuclear effort a capitalist plot—and perhaps even to blow it up on that basis—the consequent rattle of empty crockery on both sides of the Chinese-Russian border won't disturb the free world's digestion a bit.

The Role of Advertising

An official of the National Newspaper Association remarked, "Advertising with a Capital 'A' has taken an unmerciful beating at the hands of consumerists in recent years." The consumerists, he points out say advertising provides the consumer with no useful information. The truth is that advertising contains a staggering amount of useful product information, beginning with such elemental facts as where an item is for sale, during what hours and at what price. Newspaper advertisements are usually filled with detailed information that enables purchaser and seller to come to a meeting of minds, and thus keep our entire free market economic system rolling along in high gear.

The Association official touched on a phase of advertising with which the public has little familiarity—the policy guides which determine acceptance or rejection of advertising by newspapers. In practice, the self-regulation of advertising content by the newspapers is a more effective safeguard against fraud or deception than a mountain of laws. Yet, it is carried on without impairing the basic function of advertising or the fluidity of the market-place. Newspaper self-regulation of advertising, as the official observes, is pragmatic and direct, and based upon the "... knowledge and experience of the publisher and his staff."

It should never be forgotten that advertising is the underpinning of a free press.

Guest Rule Delayed

Tough new rules of the Liquor Control Board to curb temporary guest card abuses at private bottle clubs cannot be enforced pending appeal of a court test case here in Austin.

District Judge James Meyers concluded that LCB rules are valid, but they should not be put into full effect until final disposition of the case on appeal.

In the lawsuit, Dallas clubs claimed the rule would close 75% of Texas private clubs, many of which aren't so private. Rule would require guests to be personally introduced or physically accompanied by a club member. Bills would have to be paid by members on monthly statements, not in cash by guests.

LCB said applications for late hours (2 a.m.) drinking permits for clubs and taverns are being screened carefully. Only 18 were approved in the week before the new curfew-stretching law went into effect Sept. 1.

Sadler Investigation Requested

An investigation of allegations made against Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler under careful procedural safeguards has been proposed to the House by Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater, one of the men who fought an attempt by Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi to censure Sadler.

Dickson's resolution would require any investigating committee to give any person under investigation a bill of particulars on what is to be investigated, including all allegations made by members of the Legislature. It would require the committee to allow the subject of an investigation to be present at its meetings either in person or by counsel and be entitled to cross-examine all witnesses. Bill also would require that all testimony be under oath and that it be transcribed by a court reporter. And it would give the committee subpoena power, both inside and outside Texas.

Resolution directs Speaker Mutscher to refer the matter to an appropriate committee. Mutscher already has said that he will refer it to the House General Investigating Committee, and that Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria will be chairman of that committee.

CROSSROADS REPORT

My educated neighbor says what's got the country in such an inflationary bind is the New Math. He studied some of this with his kids and says if his confusion is matched by the average federal official, it's no wonder we've got problems.

Like you write down 2 plus 2 is 4, in Base 2 or binary figuration, and it comes out 10 plus 10 is 100. Which would confuse nearly anybody and especially Congressmen who are obviously a little weak on figures anyway.

It must be that the Base 2 numerating system has taken over Washington. Congress gets $10 here and $10 there and thinks it has got $100, so it spends $200.

Students Receiving Social Security Must Make Report

Students between the ages of 18 and 22 who are receiving social security benefits because of the death, disability or retirement of a parent may need to make a report immediately, according to Travis C. Briggs, manager of the Amarillo social security office.

Briggs said that students receiving benefits last May or June, until the school year ended, were sent a card asking them whether or not they intended to continue their schooling in the fall semester. They were also asked whether they would be attending the same or a different school. If the student returned the card, showing he would resume school in the fall, his benefits were continued throughout the summer months.

Some students failed to return their card, and, as a result, their payments will be suspended until current school attendance information is furnished. Also, some students have changed their minds during the summer months and may have decided to attend a different school than the one shown on the card they completed in May or June. Some may have decided not to return to school as originally planned. If so, they need to report these changes to the social security office to prevent possible overpayments or suspension of their benefits. Reports should be made in person or by mail to the Amarillo social security office, 1006 Adams.

Pfc. Adam Garcia

Pfc. Adam Garcia, who reached Vietnam recently, is stationed with the 101st ABN

Division at Hue.

He has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Saldana, that he especially likes his job.

In a letter of Sept. 2, he said that was the first day of the Monsoon Season and it had been raining all day. A typhoon was due to hit Vietnam sometime that night.

"We are not in a position where we will be affected with anything except for rain," he wrote. "We had some reports today that North Vietnam was getting flooded away, so we are glad, because it makes it hard on the NVA to move down into South Vietnam."

Pfc. Garcia's wife, Paula, and their baby daughter, born since he left, are living in Childress while he is overseas. When he wrote he had received his first picture of her.

Yea Rockets! We're With You All The Way

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The saving rains came last month after an unusually dry summer; but the soakers this week were timely for the top of the soil was getting dry again. These September rains will benefit the wheat and rye and provide earlier grazing in these fields and enhance the yield of cotton and maize. Native grass will be greener this fall than most years. Even if you are not too interested in cattle and other stock, the green pastures are something to behold from here to Amarillo or to Perryton or Oklahoma City. That is one of the important blessings of the rains this autumn. The ground is wet for 300 miles in every direction.

George Henry, the Greenbelt manager, sent me a toadstool that measured 7 inches in diameter, 21 inches in circumference and weighed 7½ ounces. George is an ex-country boy who knows considerable about nature as well as amps, volts and computers. He likes toadstools and thinks the white stools on the green grass are interesting and beautiful. This year the Greenbelt and the post office lawns were not the only two that sprouted toadstools by the dozens. There are a whole series of lawns decorated with these white umbrellas from the Greenbelt lawn past the Methodist parsonage and then branching out south and west.

The toadstool is a fungus and is a first cousin of the edible mushroom and truffle and strange as it may seem they are related to mildew and molds. Toadstools grow on compost pits and other places where there is decaying vegetation and in the case here they were growing on the grass cuttings that had sifted down through the highcut grass. You won't have toadstools if you mow your lawn too close or catch the grass every time you mow.

Heard Buck Breeding ask C. T. Hubbard about the increase in hog production in the Wellington area in the last two years. Hubbard replied that it had doubled and possibly tripled in that period. Buck said: "Well, they may not know it now, but in the next five years the farmers in this area will be raising ten times as many hogs as they are now."

The Jimmy Dean packing plant in Plainview has had a marked effect on the price of hogs at the Wellington Livestock Auction Company. It is nothing to hear of desirable animals of the right weight and build bringing 26¢ a pound or higher. This in turn has affected the price of weaning pigs, dry sows and good quality boars.

For years A&M has been pointing out the natural advantages of this region both for feedlots for cattle and the production of pork. The climate is here and so is the feed and Texas still does not produce one third of the pork it consumes.

Cotton can fight its way back from the market losses of recent years says Charles W. Stenholm of the National Cotton Council. There will be a meeting in Childress Thursday, Sept. 18 at 7:00 p.m., in the City Auditorium. The meeting will cover the over-all cotton situation and will be brief. Growers, ginners and others interested in the future of cotton are invited to the meeting. So if you are tired of hearing discouraging news about the cotton industry, plan to be in Childress on the evening of Sept. 18. You might learn something important.

My own house is so protected by trees that the sound of the wind in their branches varies from a gentle whisper to a brisk rustle and a tremendous roar in a storm. As a result a lonesome sound familiar to boyhood is no longer heard. That was the wailing and keening of the wind around the eaves of the house. There was another haunting sound that came only in the night and that was the singing of the telephone wires on a still cold night. The third lonesome sound with its hint of the far away was the enticing whistle of the steam driven train. There was beauty in each of these distinctive sounds; but it is still easy to remember how the beauty of the sound became pain as they whispered and sang of far away places.

Office on US 83 South

John Nash New Wholesaler for Texaco Products in Area

The appointment of John Nash of Wellington as wholesaler for Texaco Products in this area was announced Tuesday, Sept. 9, by the company.

Mr. Nash acquired the dealership from B. F. Chance, Jr., who has had it for a number of years.

The offices of Texaco Wholesale will be at the station on US 83 South, which is operated by Earl Parker.

Bill Brewster will continue with the company, working both with Mr. Nash in the wholesale division and Mr. Parker in the station.

"It is indeed a pleasure to be the wholesaler for these fine products and to be able to serve a progressive farming community such as ours," declared the new dealer.

Mr. Nash has a broad background in agriculture and related fields which fits well into his present business.

After farming in Donley County for many years, he and his family came to Collingsworth County 15 years ago.

For the next eight years he was ranch foreman for James Doneghy. He was then associated with Oran Starkey in the manufacture of calf cradles, ranch gates and other equipment for a two year period, and for five years he has been with Barjenbruch Implement Co.

All of these have given him an insight into the needs and problems of anyone who serves Wellington and its agricultural economy.

To the former customers of Texaco, Mr. Nash announced that free delivery of all products will be made in the Collingsworth County trade area.

Mr. Nash emphasized that the petroleum farm and ranch needs of the customers, both large and small, will be serviced promptly, efficiently, and with courtesy and know-how.

He also extended a cordial invitation to all friends to come by and visit him in his new location.

Industrial Team Planned

C of C Will Oppose Rail Abandonment

Directors of the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce in their monthly meeting, Sept. 8 voted to oppose abandonment of the Fort Worth & Denver Railway from a point half a mile north of Wellington to Pampa. Mrs. Margaret Vines, secretary, was instructed to notify the Interstate Commerce Commission of the intention of the local body to protest the closing of the road and to request that they be notified of the date of the hearing.

Copies of the letter were to be forwarded to Senators John Tower and Ralph Yarborough and to Congressman Bob Price along with another letter asking their help in keeping the road.

In the Monday meeting the directors also voted to invite Kenneth Pace of the Lone Star Gas Company to hold an Industrial Team Training Program in Wellington. President Ralph Owens suggested the tentative date of Oct. 2-16, 29 and 30. The skip of Oct. 9 was intentional on account of this is Fair week. However, if this does not fit with Mr. Pace's schedule in this area, President Owens was given authority to set the dates for Oct. 9-16-23 and 30, all of which are on Thursday.

The Industrial Team Training Program sponsored by the Lone Star Gas Company in towns it serves is a series of lecture discussions designed to give the community the opportunity to compete effectively for industry.

It was pointed out that the team approach indicates:

1. A genuine desire to obtain industry;
2. Unified leadership dedicated to economic improvement;
3. A climate favorable to business and the professions.

Lone Star's Industrial Team Training is based upon nine subject categories: Education and Training, Financing, Labor, Public Relations, Resources and Services, Sites, Taxes, Transportation and Utilities.

After each team member is schooled in fundamentals and has basic information, he may then begin building his own specialized file in his assigned field. The team is instructed in methods proven effective in receiving and handling industrial prospects. When the school is held in Wellington an effort will be made to get at least two and possibly three or four qualified individuals to serve on each team. These men in time would become specialists in their field.

Upon motion of W. R. Breeding, who is a new member of the Board of Directors, it was voted to contact the three major gypsum products manufacturing companies with the idea of getting them to establish a plant in Collingsworth.

'Crackers First 1969 Team to Make Home Stand

Billy Moseley made a report on the progress of the Collingsworth County Free Fair and the directors expressed their thanks on the excellent work that has been done to date.

Sagebrush Arts to Meet Thurs.

The Sagebrush Arts and Crafts Association will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, Sept. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the City State Bank, according to Miss Bonnie Willis, vice president.

Anyone who is interested in promoting arts and crafts in this area is invited, she said.

"Several things have to be worked out, but this is the way we hope to route the parade," Mr. Moseley said. The change was made because in other years, floats have been damaged as they came across the dip in the street on 9th Street and the railroad tracks a short distance west of it, he explained.

"We do have a carnival again this year that will be on the square with rides, games and booths for the week of the fair, and this is going to be one of the big attractions," Mr. Moseley said.

Wellington Rotary Club will be in charge of the big barbecue at noon Friday, and that day also the Old Settlers will gather for their annual reunion. Riley Dunson will be in charge.

Other traditional events will be there, some larger than ever, including the fair exhibits, horse show, and the youth project show.

Quail School Enrolls 115, Adds a Teacher

Quail School has the largest enrollment in several years, 115 students, Supt. E. P. Haynie reported this week, as all students in the district were in school.

He also announced that vocational home economics has been returned to the school curriculum, with Quail and Hedley sharing the services of Mrs. H. H. Shields, who has been the instructor at Hedley six years.

Due to a loss of students, the Hedley School had to drop to a half-time vocational home-making department.

The two schools are in the second year of sharing the vocational agriculture teacher,

Doyle Messer.

Quail has continued to teach homemaking, but on an independent basis.

Mrs. Shields lives at Lelia Lake.

Of the total enrollment, Mr. Haynie said approximately 70 students were in the first six grades and the remaining 45 in junior high and high school.

There are only two students in the senior class, the smallest in the history of the consolidated school. This has been a small class all the way through school, and early in high school had no students at all.

The junior class, however, jumps to an enrollment of 10.

New Roof Approved

Norwood School Gets $20,000 Tax Prepayment

Pre-payment of $20,000 in Samnorwood District School taxes by El Paso Natural Gas Company was acknowledged by the Norwood School Board in a meeting Monday night, Sept. 8.

This will enable the district to operate on a cash basis until school tax payments begin after Oct. 1, and it keeps the district from having to pay interest on money that it would have had to borrow had the tax pre-payment not been made said Supt. Robert Dwight.

The board voted approval of putting a new roof on the elementary school building. The present roof is between 27 and 30 years old, having been put on in 1940 or a little later.

A new 36-passenger school bus was received by the board and will be put on the Abilene Enterprise route as soon as it is checked out.

Two bids for supplies were accepted. The bid for gasoline went to John Holton and that for milk to Plains Creamery, through its Wellington dealer, J. D. Young.

considered a better balanced team, and the Tigers and Rockets are about alike in their speed.

The Tigers, too, have been pin-pointing their weaknesses. They started scrimmages with a "weak as water" pass defense, however the defensive line was tough and spirited, spearheaded by Vic Bobo, a former Wellington student, and David Moore, tackles, and the running of senior fullback Milton Cooper.

Coach Chuck O'Donnell said he was pleased to see the offensive backfield men beginning to pick their spots to run a little better. He also is putting extra emphasis on the Tigers' blocking game.

The Skyrocket starting lineup will not be announced until the boys go in for skull practice Friday evening, Coach Ammonett said.

HERMAN CHILDRESS MATTRESS CO., PERSONNEL

These men and women staff the Herman Childress Mattress Co. which is observing its golden anniversary in Wellington. Jimmy Childress is at the machine on which so much of the skilled work of this company is done. Herman Childress

Mattress Company Celebrates Golden Anniversary Here

The Herman Childress Mattress Company will celebrate its Golden Anniversary as a manufacturing firm in Wellington this week with an open house Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The public is invited to visit the firm and inspect its showroom and the additional machinery that has been installed this summer.

It was in September of 1919 that J. R. Childress, the father of Herman Childress, established a small mattress factory in the Wellington area. For two years he operated the factory in a building in the middle of the block where Wellington Trailers have their plant. Then he moved to a building just east of the Chevrolet building and made mattresses there for 32 years.

J. R. Childress manufactured brooms as well as mattresses and took numerous prizes at the county fair for the excellence of his work. It was under his tutelage that Herman Childress learned the trade.

"He taught me to make good mattresses," Herman said, "and that has been our policy through the years. We have never tried to enter the poor quality field just to have a mattress that could be sold at a lower price. Since a third of the average person's life is spent on a mattress it has been our purpose to manufacture a mattress that would be known for its comfort, looks and durability."

Herman Childress took charge of the business following his father's death in 1950 and he has been at the present location—1203 15th since 1952. Recognizing a need for such a business he added furniture upholstery to his business about this time and one part of the plant is devoted to this work. During the past year he has enlarged the building and installed several thousand dollars worth of additional mattress making equipment.

Assisting him in the work in the firm are Mrs. Herman Childress, Claude Childress, Jimmy Childress, Ray Denton, Mrs. Ray Denton, and Raymond Aguirre. Herman Childress was born near Wellington Feb. 15, 1913 and attended school at Crossroads and Wellington. He was married to Georgia Corene Emmert Sept. 12, 1942 and they have two children: Mrs. Karen Childress Langford of Garland, Texas, and Clyde Childress.

Mr. Childress was employed by Dodgen's Men's Store in Wellington from 1933 until 1942 when he entered the Army. He served three years with the 142nd F.A. Bn. and received the Bronze Star for the invasion of France. He was discharged in 1945 and returned to Wellington and his work with Dodgen's Men's Store until

Students—Keep Those W-2's

September is here and back to school time has finally arrived for Mama—or much too soon for Junior. Going back to school does create one small income tax problem for those students who worked during the summer. Nowadays this includes most of the senior high school students, as well as college students on summer vacation.

Ordinarily the students worked in jobs that required their employer to withhold income tax and social security tax from their pay check. The law requires their employer to issue them a W-2 within 30 days after they leave the job. The students will need to carefully put away this W-2 until Jan. 1, 1970. Ordinarily if they do not work elsewhere, they will get all of their income tax withheld refunded, provided they file a Form 1040 with the Internal Revenue Service.

Of course they are not required to file unless they make $600, but IRS can't send their money back until they do file. The students that lose the W-2s usually find that the employer will give them a duplicate—but only after at least one and usually a series of tongue lashings.

You are invited to visit our Mattress Factory this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11, 12 and 13 and help us celebrate our GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY as a Mattress Manufacturing Firm in Wellington.

It was fifty years ago, September 1919, when J. R. Childress first started making mattresses in the Wellington area. The excellence of his work was so good and the quality and durability of his mattress so outstanding that it was not long before he was making mattresses for customers over a wide area. He took many prizes for the excellence of his work at the county fairs.

These standards of high quality in materials and workmanship have been continued through the years. No attempt has been made to manufacture mattresses of the lower grades. Since approximately one-third of the average person's life is spent on a mattress it has been our intention and practice to provide our customers only with the best.

We have been at our present location since 1952 and since that time we have started an upholstery department. Recently we have added several thousand dollars worth of new equipment to our manufacturing plant and this machinery is one of the things we want you to see when you come to visit us upon the occasion of our Golden Anniversary.

We also want you to examine the many new and beautiful mattresses we have in our showroom as well as the materials we have from which you can make your selection when you decide to make your old furniture look better than new.

We have appreciated your business and will be pleased to have you come to see us this week end.

Highway Week Brings Review of Texas Tourist Industry

AUSTIN.—By bringing a record number of visitors to Texas last year, highways brought better living for Texans in general.

According to the Texas Good Roads Association, Highway Week, Sept. 21-27, is an ideal time for Texans to review their state's vitally important tourist industry.

"Because highways play the leading role in our booming tourist industry, Highway Week is the perfect time to take a look at this industry," a TRGA spokesman said.

Highway Week, sponsored by TRGA, this year has as its theme "Highways Bring Better Living".

In 1968, expenditures by a record-breaking number of automobile visitors to Texas topped the $1 billion mark.

The Texas Highway Department's annual visitor industry report showed a record-breaking 16.6 million visitors toured the state's highways by automobile.

Highway Department figures showed an increase of 9.1% in the number of auto visitors over the previous year, and a gain of 25.8% in the amount of money spent while in Texas.

This increase is even more significant because the 18.2 thousand visitor parties surveyed by the Highway Department reported more money was spent for entertainment and retail sales than ever before.

This money, of course, was spent at motels, hotels, restaurants and other tourist-oriented businesses along Texas' 69 thousand-mile highway network.

In keeping pace with last year's upsurge of tourism, the Texas Highway Department set new records in its services to travelers.

More than seven million pieces of descriptive travel literature were distributed by mail and through Department visitor centers.

More than a million visitors were served at 12 visitor centers by trained Highway Department travel counselors.

As the officially designated agency charged with conducting the collateral phase of the state travel development program, the Highway Department processed 402,000 mail inquiries for travel literature and information about Texas.

The Highway Department has long realized the importance of tourism to Texas and will continue its extensive travel promotion and traveler service program.

More than that, the Department understands the importance of highways to tourism and will continue to plan new and better highways — highways to bring better living.

Ohioan Visits Friends Here

A former Wellington man, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cross and family of Adamsville, Ohio, visited two days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Peters.

Mrs. Cross's father, the late T. B. Cross, was in charge of the United Gas Pipe Line through this county between 25 and 30 years ago, and were neighbors to the family of the late A. J. Peters.

Shortly after leaving here, the family moved to Adamsville where they had property, and Mrs. Cross still makes her home there.

Jack Cross is engaged in farming and livestock raising. When he lived here, both he and his host, Marshall Peters, attended the Bean Hill School.

Strongs Visit in New Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strong returned home Saturday, Aug. 30, from spending ten days in New Mexico. They went first to Red River where they were met by three of their children, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cunningham of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Strong of Artesia, N.M., and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strong Jr., and family of Dalhart.

Tri-State Fair Opens Sept. 15 in Amarillo

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, the perennially popular and greatest husband and wife team in show business history, headline a large troupe of nationally famous entertainers for nine performances at the 1969 Tri-State Fair, Sept. 15-20 in Amarillo.

Included in the star-studded aggregation, designed to please all age groups, are the sensational Steiner Brothers acrobatic team; The Sons of the Pioneers; Pat Brady of motion picture and TV fame; Chase & Park, acrobats; Ben Smathers and the Stoney Mountain Cloggers, a peerless square dancing sextet, formerly featured at New York's Carnegie Hall.

Among free acts on an open-air stage is Gentle Ben, the 640-pound trained bear and star of the "Gentle Ben" TV series, who will perform the final three days of the six-day exposition.

Livestock and horse exhibitors, along with competitors in farm and home, art, culinary, textile, china painting, photography and other events, will vie for a record $46,000 in cash awards at this year's sparkling Fair, the largest annual event on the Golden Spread.

Horses this year will show and perform in the new $330,000 horse barn, sporting a 225 by 80 foot indoor arena, 297 stalls, elaborate offices and display rooms. Additional stalls are available in the old horse barn.

Professional and non-professional cutting contests, approved by the American Quarter Horse Association and the National Cutting Horse Association, are expected to attract a record number of entries and spectators.

An all-youth horse show will draw hundreds of young competitors on Saturday, Sept. 20, which is also Rural Youth Day.

Thirty-three bands from high schools in Amarillo and across the region will provide music for the Fair's opening day parade at 10 o'clock Monday

Excellence in Exporting Brings "E" Award to Texas

AUSTIN.—A Presidential flag signifying excellence in exporting—owned by only two other states in the nation—now can be flown proudly by the state of Texas.

The state and its Texas Industrial Commission were honored with the Presidential "E" Award and signifying flag recently by Undersecretary of Commerce Robert McClellan in a day of activities that truly marked a time of honor for Texas and industry.

McClellan, chosen by President Nixon to make the presentation, carried out the assignment at the state Capitol, presenting the flag to Gov. Preston Smith before the House of Representatives and Senate in a joint meeting of the 61st Legislature.

He presented Chester Wine of Corpus Christi, chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission, with the certificate signifying outstanding work in export development, and gave personal "E" pins to both Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and House Speaker Gus Mutscher.

Behind McClellan on the platform were representatives of the 22 corporations in Texas previously honored with the coveted award, a group whose individual efforts combined helped the state of Texas become the third state among the 50 to receive it.

The honor came due to the work of the Office of Export Development in the Texas Industrial Commission. McClellan said the office in three years of operation brought about an increase in export sales of 40%.

"Texas stands number one among the 50 states in exports of chemical, allied and petroleum products and number two in exports of agricultural products," the Undersecretary said. "This export expansion in Texas is not limited to large companies. I have been advised that more than half of the Texas companies now exporting employ fewer than 100 persons."

"This is an excellent demonstration of the fact that export opportunities extend to all sizes of business activities."

B Team Boasts Largest Number in Five Years

Wellington Skyrocket B Team—that training ground for the varsity, has the largest number of any in recent years, and even though the first game is more than a week away, the boys are in top spirits.

"We have more boys out than we have had in five years," said B Team Coach James Stavenhagen.

"This group of boys has good size on them, better than we have had. We are especially proud of our freshman group. There is a large number of them out for football and we have several with real good size.

"It looks like we will not have too much speed, but we are hoping that our defense will be better because of the size."

The boys have been working "real hard" their coach said. The opening game will be played against the Clarendon Broncho B team at Clarendon on Thursday, Sept. 18. Game time is 7 p.m.

The B team plays a schedule of matched games, meeting each team twice during the season on a home and home basis. The Rocket B will also meet teams from Childress, Shamrock and Memphis during the eight-game season.

C. B. Carter Still Critical

The condition of C. B. Carter, critically injured when he was struck by a car Aug. 26, is unchanged, according to his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Carter.

Mr. Carter has been unconscious for five days after regaining consciousness for a time.

Monday, a pin was placed in his leg, which was broken in three places.

Mr. Carter, prominent farmer living west of Hollis, was injured while he was assisting at the scene of an earlier accident, caused by water across the highway. The car which struck him also went out of control upon hitting the patch of water.

Charles Carter, along with his mother and other members of the family, have been with Mr. Carter since he was injured.

Scout Fun-o-Ree Called Success

"Our Fun-O-Ree this week end was a tremendous success in that we accomplished what we wanted—fun for Scouts and adults alike," declared Dave Agnew, Comanche District Scout Executive, at the end of that event.

Troop 32, of Wellington, was one of the five troops that participated, along with Wellington, Shamrock, Samnorwood and Hedley, he said.

Two other coming Scouting events were announced.

The district committee meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 16 at 7:30 p.m. at Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc.

Then on Thursday evening, Sept. 25, the Adobe Walls Council quarterly and executive board meeting will be held at the Scout Service Center in Pampa.

This meeting gives the districts the opportunity to have the chairmen of the operating committees meet with those of other districts and to assist in planning, discussion and solution of some of the problems, Mr. Agnew said.

Collingsworth County FARM NEWS

By Don Reeves
County Agricultural Agent

Farmers and farm industry leaders from Texas and four other Southwestern states — Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma, will have an opportunity to tell Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin what's on their minds.

The occasion will be the fifth in a series of "listening conferences". It will be held on Sept. 18 in G. Rollie White Coliseum on the Texas A&M University campus.

Such subjects as farm programs, how to maintain and increase farm income, rural-urban balance, proper nutrition and diets, development of natural resources and conservation are due to get major attention during the day.

While plans for the conference are not yet complete, it is known that every person who attends will have an opportunity, either through oral presentation or written brief, to present his ideas.

As plans finalize, details of the conference will be released. Several of the secretary's senior staff members are expected to attend and also members of the Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives, headed by Congressman W. R. Poage from Waco will attend at least a part of the conference. Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of the College of Agriculture at A&M will serve as presiding officer.

Land-grant universities in the five states are cooperating in staging the event.

High Protein Ration Results
Feedlot dairy calves will do a better weight-gaining job on high level protein rations than those receiving less protein, recent studies at Texas A&M University show.

The research also revealed that dairy calves can compare favorably with beef type calves in overall feedlot performance. Rate of gain was comparable, feed efficiency was greater, and there was no major difference in physical and chemical properties of the meat.

The research is significant because there is now a surplus of dairy or dairy-type calves from the dairy industry. More of these animals are going into commercial feedlots.

Overall objective of the experiment was to determine if protein level and quality affects rate of gain and efficiency of gain, and to learn how dairy beef measures up to that taken from beef animals.

Sixteen Holstein bulls and 16 Holstein steers were fed two rations of different protein levels (18% and 15% digestible protein) and slaughtered at 600 pounds.

Calves getting the high level protein gained significantly more than those on the low protein level. But the protein level had no big effect on
