New Treaty Signed By Ike, Diefenbaker

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker today signed a treaty for joint U.S.-Canadian development of the Columbia River resources. They hailed it as a milestone in international relations.

The pact is to run for at least 50 years and contemplates billions of dollars of construction.

Eisenhower and Diefenbaker signed the pact in a White House ceremony.

Beaming as he affixed his signature, the President said it is "indeed a great personal gratification" for him to be able to sign this treaty in the last few days of his White House tenure.

Diefenbaker told the President the relationship "between our two countries is a model for all mankind."

The ceremony was attended by a host of representatives of the two governments and several senators.

Democratic Senate Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he hoped the treaty would receive Senate action in a month or two. Before going into effect, it must be approved by that body.

Mansfield expressed confidence that the treaty would be ratified. The treaty is a culmination of some 10 years of work toward reaching an agreement that would apportion the benefits and costs of Columbia River basin development equitably and satisfactorily.

Under it, the United States has the option to build Libby Dam on the Kootenai River in northern Montana within five years after ratification. Libby was authorized

Rickover Gets Top Peacetime Award

By ELTON FAY
GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The Navy gave its top peacetime award to Vice Adm. H. G. Rickover today in an unstinting tribute to atomic ships and the man who helped give them birth.

Secretary of the Navy William B. Franke pinned the Distinguished Service Medal to Rickover on behalf of President Eisenhower.

It was Rickover, said Franke, who was "largely responsible for making the dream of nuclear power for ships come true."

The ceremony for the dynamic white-haired little admiral came six years to the day that the first atomic submarine, the Nautilus, moved on nuclear power.

And the place was the same: at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., where the Nautilus was built. The medal was presented aboard the Nautilus.

The world's first nuclear submarine was on hand to supply power for the ceremonial keel laying on the 34th atomic submarine of the United States, the Lafayette.

And in a sense the ceremonies also were a tribute to the Nautilus and her sister ships. The Lafayette will be the 10th of the missile-firing submarines and the lead ship of a "third generation" of the rocket boats.

These will be bigger than the present ones and able to fire rockets of 1,500-mile range instead of the current 1,200-mile series.

Franke ticked off what has happened in these past six years.

"We now have at sea 16 nuclear powered submarines; 27 others are under construction or have been authorized, for a grand total of 43," he said.

"We have had to replace nuclear cores in only two submarines in the entire six year period."

He apparently referred to the Nautilus and the second atomic submarine, the Seawolf, in which a new type of reactor was installed.

Demo Leaders Predict Big Revision Of Ike's Budget

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders predicted today that the incoming Kennedy administration would ask substantial revisions in President Eisenhower's budget.

In view of the lagging economy, some Democrats challenged Eisenhower's contention that his $20.9 billion financial blue print submitted to Congress Monday would provide enough income for a $1.5-billion surplus in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Republicans generally defended the Eisenhower estimates. But some of them were critical of the proposal to put another $4 billion into foreign aid.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Eisenhower had set aside only "minimum amounts" for housing, urban renewal and aid to education programs expected to be pushed by President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Mansfield said that Congress is likely to provide at least $100 million in depressed area assistance instead of the $10 million Eisenhower budgeted.

The Democratic leader said the balance in the budget "disappears on close inspection." He indicated he doesn't believe Congress will raise postal rates $843 million or increase gasoline taxes $900 million.

Eisenhower used these figures to bolster an estimated $82.5 billion in receipts.

Nothing that industrial output dropped 2 percent in December, Mansfield said every billion decline in gross national product costs the government between $180 and $200 million in revenue.

"The budget ignores the decreased income which results from current recession trends," he said.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader, said the budget is going to have to be revised to "face up to the economic recession that grips our country."

Executions Announced By Cuban Regime

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime maintained a curtain of silence today around military operations against rebels in central Cuba's mountains. But it announced execution of three more "terrorists" in Havana and openly purged opposition in labor unions.

The executions, which raised the unofficial total to 580 since Castro took power, were the first since the prime minister announced those responsible for recent bombings and sabotage would be dealt with most severely.

Shot early today in Havana's La Cabana fortress were Juan Mesa Lopez and Julio Llovera Suarez, accused of "counterrevolutionary and terrorist activities," and Balbino Emilio Diaz, charged with attempting to kill pro-Castro radio commentator Jose Pardo Llavra last fall. Llovera Suarez was accused of spying for the U.S. government.

They had been convicted less than 12 hours earlier. La Cabana was jammed with an undisclosed number of prisoners awaiting trial for anti-Castro activities.

On the heels of a warning to the Bus Drivers Union to close ranks behind Castro's revolution, the Labor Ministry dismissed 360 employees of the recently nationalized Cuban Electric Co. No official reason was given but the workers said they were fired for being unpatriotic and potentially dangerous to loyal workers.

The dismissed workers demonstrated briefly Monday before company headquarters. They are members of the Electrical Workers Union, hundreds of whose members marched to the presidential palace last December in protest against Communist attempts to take over the union. Union leaders were purged immediately. A wave of sabotage against electric lines followed.

Officials would give no reports on the progress of the offensive on the Escambray Mountains of Las Villas Province. Castro's office denied he was directing the military operation and termed absurd a report that as many as 30,000 government troops were trying to round up 4,000 rebels.

It is unofficially estimated that 10,000 to 15,000 militants are massed against 300 to 1,000 anti-Castro guerrillas operating in the mountains.

There was no government reaction to the U.S. ban on travel by most Americans to Cuba.

BY LAOTIAN TROOPS Rebel Base Seized

By ROY ESSOYAN
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Pro-Western government troops pushed their way into Vang Vieng Monday and captured the strategic rebel base on the road to the royal capital of Luang Prabang after only slight resistance.

A dispatch from Associated Press cameraman Fred Waters said the town fell at 11:25 a.m. Monday after only a 30-minute battle.

Another government column was inching south from Luang Prabang, with plans for a linkup and then a turn east toward the rebel-held Plain des Jarres. But the government's prospects were seriously dimmed by reverses on the southern front, where pro-Communist forces on Friday captured Ta Vieng, one of the government's staging bases for the planned offensive against the Plain des Jarres.

The situation around Ta Thom, another government staging base, was confused. French sources said Ta Thom fell Sunday to rebels advancing from Ta Vieng. Other sources said it was still in government hands.

Waters reported rebel Capt. Kong Le had left 500 defenders in Vang Vieng and that they fell steadily back before a determined government push launched at force was supported by rocket and machinegun fire from the Laotian army's four U.S.-supplied trainer-fighter planes.

The government force captured 15 prisoners including a woman, a 105mm howitzer and a Soviet-made 120mm mortar, several jeeps, trucks and bulldozers in operational condition and a large number of gasoline and oil drums which apparently had been airlifted in by Soviet planes.

Takes Oath Third Time

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel, fresh from the oath-taking for a third term, asserted today he believes Texans will welcome prompt action by the legislature in levying more taxes.

"I am convinced that the people of Texas realize that the phenomenal growth of our state requires additional taxes," Daniel said after taking the oath from Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert.

"I believe they will welcome prompt action, and that friction, dispute and delays will result in far more disappointment and criticism than whatever solution might be finally adopted."

It was the third oath-taking as governor for Daniel and the sixth for Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, who also made a brief talk after taking the oath.

Daniel noted that today was the 13th time he has taken an official oath—three times as a state legislator. Once as speaker of the House, once as an Army private, then as an officer; three times as state attorney general, once as a member of the U.S. Senate and three times as governor.

"Each time, as again today, my heart has been moved by a renewed pledge of allegiance to uphold and defend government by law rather than by men," he said.

Daniel promised a continued fight for those "neglected portions" of the state and federal Constitutions which say that "powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution...are reserved to the states...or to the people."

He added that "We must have as much talk and action on state responsibilities as we have on states rights. All too often some states rights are in the forefront against state taxes, even with state taxes being deductible from the federal income tax."

Lt. Gov. Ramsey, in his inaugural speech, urged immediate work by the legislature on a sound water conservation program and laws "of unquestioned force to oust loan sharks who prey upon the small money borrowers."

"For the people of Texas, have demanded a government of the first class—the best schools, the best roads, the best mental hospitals and best welfare and health programs. I believe in necessary services of the first class," he said.

"We, as legislators, are pledged in our oaths to equal and uniform taxation. Good citizenship demands that any and all sponsors of increased expenditures be willing to bear their fair share of the cost. They owe it to themselves, fellow taxpayers to come, not as critics with selfish purpose, but as taxpayers ready to pay the bill for services they seek," he said.

Ramsey said it is not enough to rest "upon the laurels of our forefathers. We must move forward. Our heritage demands a forthright policy of action today for an even greater Texas of tomorrow."

But he warned that "It is our duty to balance the budget. The deficit must be wiped out. Income must be equal to expenses. The cold facts of the balance sheet must be recognized."

Rail Terminal Is Picketed

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Central Railroad today halted all commuter and long-distance service in and out of Grand Central Terminal because of picketing by harbor craft crewmen employed by railroads.

The railroad earlier had suspended commuter and outboard long-distance services but had said it would try to bring in trains from distant points.

The Central said its last train on the road was the "Peacemaker" from Chicago and that it's run was terminating in Albany. It had been due to arrive in New York City at 1:30 p.m.

Tens of thousands of commuters were forced to seek other means of transportation.

The cancellations were ordered after train crewmen who put the trains together and handle switching refused to cross picket lines of striking harbor craft crewmen.

The suspension of service affected 40,000 commuters on the Harlem and Hudson divisions of the railroad who travel between the suburbs and Manhattan.

The New Haven Railroad, which also uses Grand Central Terminal, reported normal service as its commuter lines from here into New York and Connecticut suburbs.

No Sign Of Life In Tower Debris

NEW YORK (AP)—Salvage workers reported today that there was "no further sign of life" from the sunken wreckage of a radar tower which collapsed in the sea Sunday night.

Salvage rescue operations were resumed at 6:30 a.m. at 8:20 a.m. the Coast Guard here was notified there was nothing more to indicate anyone might be alive in the underwater debris.

Tappings resembling the work of humans had been heard from below the surface Monday, giving rise to hope that some of the 29 men aboard the tower might have survived in an airtight compartment.

A sea search of the area was abandoned and rescuers concentrated on salvage and diving operations at the tower site, 70 miles southeast of New York City.

The so-called Texas Tower was wrecked by high winds and stormy seas. One body has since been recovered and another sighted but lost.

Rescue operations had been dramatically spurred Monday when enigmatic tappings and a sound which was likened to a human voice were heard coming from the tower.

Then the rappings faded, stopped—and were not heard again.

"A realistic view," said the Coast Guard, "must be that the men in the tower are no longer alive."

Davis To Begin Serving Sentence

Anderson Davis Jr. was picked up this morning by the Scurry County Sheriff Department to begin serving a 60-day jail sentence given him in July by county judge J. Ray Martin along with a fine totaling $1,500 plus costs.

An appeal by Davis was refused last fall by the Austin Court of Criminal Appeals. A re-hearing on the case was denied last week.

The cause involved are one of possession of intoxicating beverages and two of sentencing.

Bright Year Seen For Oil Industry

NEW YORK (AP)—All factors considered, the outlook for the petroleum industry this year is the brightest it has been in quite some time, the Chase National Bank said today.

John Winger of the bank's Petroleum Department Economics Division, said results "will hinge primarily on how successfully the temptations of overcapacity are resisted."

Jury Is Unable To Agree On Verdict In Vela Trial Here

A jury of 12 men, after nearly 48 hours of deliberation, was unable to reach a verdict Monday in the case of Manuel Vela of Slaton, charged with murder without malice with an automobile.

At 11:25 p.m. the jury reported to District Judge Sterling Williams that they were hopelessly hung a vote of 7 against conviction and 5 for conviction.

Vela was tried in the death April 1, 1960, of Ronnie Lee Guy, 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Guy of Kermit. The child died of a brain concussion when the 1953 Plymouth driven by his father was in collision with a 1950 Ford driven by Vela shortly after midnight on U. S. Highway 84 seven miles north of Snyder. Guy testified that he, his wife and two sons were en route to Ruidoso, N. M., where he was then working, from Snyder when he saw headlights coming over a hill and around a curve some distance away and he slowed his car, especially when the oncoming car seemed to be on his side of the double stripe. He tried to dodge, he said, and was struck in the right side by the other car.

Royce Ball of Lubbock, defense attorney, pounced on later testimony by Texas Highway Patrolman Will Cleveland to the effect that the hill mentioned by Guy was not visible from the straight stretch of road preceding the accident and from the scene of the accident. Pictures of the scene taken the following morning were introduced by District Attorney Wayland G. Holt, which showed all directions from the scene plus the two vehicles, the Guy car, struck in the right side and the Vela car in the right front side.

A Snyder physician testified as to cause of the baby's death, followed by testimony by Sheriff Earl Abernethy who stated that he supervised the taking of a blood sample, with Vela's consent, and had sealed the container, keeping it in his possession until it was mailed to the Texas Department of Public Safety in Midland for analysis.

"All persons are intoxicated at 10 per cent of alcohol in their blood," Don Hanes, chemist and toxicologist for the Department of Public Safety at Midland who made the test, said, basing his statement on tests conducted by the department. He added that the test made on Vela showed 23 per cent alcohol.

Cross-examining Hanes, Ball brought out that hypodermics stored or sterilized in alcohol or cotton dipped in alcohol to sterilize the arm area would raise the alcohol content.

Holt failed to locate the nurse taking the blood sample, as she lived in Rotan and could not be reached. Judge Williams sustained an objection by Ball not to show Bill Newman, administrator of Cogdell Memorial Hospital, to testify as to the method followed in taking blood samples at the hospital. Ball stated in his objection that Newman could not definitely say what was used on that particular blood sample.

"I thought he must have gone to sleep," Vela said about the other driver, after stating to the jury that he had had two beers earlier in the evening but could control his car. He said he cut to the left to avoid the other car but collided anyway. Then working in Snyder, he had bought two beers (tall boys) in Slaton and had gone home, drinking one about 6:30 p.m., before supper and the other about 9 p.m. after supper. He also stated he had gone back to Slaton following the accident and been hospitalized with head and chest injuries for four days.

Other witnesses included Mrs. Guy for the prosecution and Mrs. Vela for the defense. In addressing the jury, District Attorney Holt asked for a conviction carrying a sentence of from 2 to 5 years on the grounds that Vela was driving while intoxicated.

and not able to control his car. The jury was composed of Eldon Perry, Bill Sikes, Paul Turner, Odie Glascock, H. R. Hund, snurche, Earl Sneed, E. L. Kubala, L. C. Drum, Giles Bowers, J. C. Woolridge, Sam Martin and Idolph Crooks. A jury was being selected today for trial of a similar case against Joseph Leon Elam of Ira in the death of George Etheredge, 3 miles south of Ira on State Highway 350 in December.

Kennedy To Have Lively Inaugural

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — All signs indicated today that John F. Kennedy will have one of the largest, noisiest and most expensive inaugurations in history.

Three former presidents, Herbert Hoover, Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower (who automatically gives up his office noon Friday), and 45 governors will be among those watching, as Kennedy takes the oath about 12:30 p.m. est.

All the 38,000 seats for the big parade down Pennsylvania Avenue — the historic route of the presidents — have been sold.

Although the ball is theoretically by invitation only, so many have grabbed for tickets at from $25 to $40 apiece that even with three mammoth halls in use simultaneously there are worries that it won't be possible to squeeze everyone in.

All tickets to the inaugural ceremony, featuring the National Symphony of Washington, have been sold.

Anyone hankering to see the gale Thursday night, with its vast collection of New York and Hollywood stars, can still do so by making a $100 contribution to the Democratic party. A box for 10 persons: $10,000.

If you're the type that would like to have inaugural license plates on your car, well, some are left, at $10.50.

Profits from the gala will be applied to the Democratic election campaign debt. Receipts from all other activities will be used to cover inaugural expenses which are expected to total about $600,000. Any profits after expenses are paid will go into a fund for the 1965 inaugural committee — regardless of which party wins the 1964 election.

With reviewing stands, patriotic bunting and other decorations going up everywhere, this town is beginning to work itself into its favorite state: compound confusion.

The Founding Fathers used only a few words to explain how a president should be inaugurated. Now it takes thousands of words and bevy of harried schemers, merely to give a run-down on the parade.

A handy little 86-page printed document entitled, simply but impressively, "General Order No. 1, Inaugural Parade," gives a listing of every unit in the parade, how far each unit is to lag behind the unit ahead of it, and how fast a hand should march. The cadence and step for bands, drum and bugle corps and other musical organizations, the inaugural manual notes, "will be 120, 36-inch steps per minute."

The booklet includes something long needed around here, a definition of the parade.

Sen. E. W. Gravelle Jr., vice chairman of the joint legislative committee on segregation and a chief strategy maker, said the legislature may be called back sooner.

The stage for an early return may be set Wednesday when a federal court hearing is held in New Orleans on an order for East Baton Rouge and St. Helena Parishes to produce a desegregation plan for public schools.

Man Sentenced After Guilty Plea
Former Snyder resident J. M. Wornton was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary Monday in 122nd District Court after pleading guilty to theft of pipe valued at over $50.

A resident of several cities in this area, Wornton was living in Snyder when the theft occurred about a year ago.

Robert Patterson was court-appointed lawyer for Wornton in the guilty plea with District Attorney Wayland Holt prosecuting and District Judge Sterling Williams presiding.

DR. PERRY J. C. BYARS

Dr. Byars Is Elevated By Suez Temple

SAN ANGELO—Dr. Perry J. C. Byars of San Angelo was elevated to the office of Potentate of Suez Shrine Temple at the annual meeting Monday.

Dr. Byars succeeds M. L. Andrews of Snyder, who has served the past year.

Address was honored by being selected special representative to the Imperial Council in Miami and was presented a ring for serving as Potentate during the past year.

Dr. Byars is a member of San Angelo Lodge No. 570, the Dallas Scottish Rite bodies and was created a member of Suez Temple on Nov. 14, 1953. He was elected to the Divan of Suez Temple as Oriental Guide in January, 1959. He is a past president of the Concho Shrine Club, past president of the Concho Scottish Rite Association and has been a member of the Eighth Degree Team for the past five years. He has also served as High Priest and Prophet on the Ritualistic Degree Team.

Other officers elected by the temple were Ted O. Groehl, of Big Spring, Chief Rabbi; Felix H. Rosser of Abilene, Assistant Rabbi; Martin G. Browne of Midland, High Priest and Prophet; John Bright of San Angelo, Oriental Guide; Otis Grisham, treasurer and Ben E. Godfrey, recorder.

Imperial Council representatives, in addition to Andrews, are Dr. Byars, Groehl, Rosser and Browne.

Mrs. Garrett Asks Release

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Lawyers for Mrs. Joseph Garrett, 33, argued today for her release from a second charge of murder.

Earl Bernard said the state was placing her in double jeopardy by filing a charge against her after she had been acquitted of one first degree murder charge.

Judge Alan Davis directed a verdict of acquittal on the first charge Monday, saying the state had not established a motive for the crime.

Mrs. Garrett, member of a prominent Dallas family, had been accused of setting a fire that killed three of her four children and their governess in the Garrett home Oct. 6.

She was accused specifically of causing the death of her daughter, Gaye, 5 months. The second charge accused her in the death of another child, Angela, 3.

Mrs. Garrett, joyful at the acquittal, had only a few hours of freedom before she was back in custody.

Judge Charles Redding refused to release her, pending further court arguments today.

Mrs. Garrett collapsed at this news. So did her father, Alvin Owsley, a retired Dallas lawyer and former diplomat.

The state argued in the trial that Mrs. Garrett, upset by a quarrel with her husband, spread flammable liquid in the living room and started the fire.

The defense, which also entered a plea of insanity, argued the fire started accidentally from a candle left by Mrs. Garrett as a message to her husband.

Train Hits Gas Truck

MAGNOLIA, Miss. (AP)—The crack passenger train, City of New Orleans, rammed a gas truck at a downtown crossing in Magnolia early today, with first reports indicating five persons killed and six others injured.

Reports are very vague. The Illinois Central office in New Orleans said, "but we do know the truck exploded when the train and truck collided."

IC authorities said the train's engineer, S. E. (Jimmy) Livingston, and his fireman, W. P. Collins, both of McComb, Miss., were killed, along with the truck driver, who was not identified.

Reports said the other two killed were Negro workmen unloading freight from a train.

There was no immediate determination how many passengers were injured.

Magnolia is about 100 miles north of New Orleans.

The streamliner left New Orleans at 7:10 a.m. and was due in Chicago at 11:00 p.m. CST.

MAGNOLIA, Miss. (AP)—The crack passenger train, City of New Orleans, rammed a gas truck at a downtown crossing in Magnolia early today, with first reports indicating five persons killed and six others injured.

Reports are very vague. The Illinois Central office in New Orleans said, "but we do know the truck exploded when the train and truck collided."

IC authorities said the train's engineer, S. E. (Jimmy) Livingston, and his fireman, W. P. Collins, both of McComb, Miss., were killed, along with the truck driver, who was not identified.

Reports said the other two killed were Negro workmen unloading freight from a train.

There was no immediate determination how many passengers were injured.

Magnolia is about 100 miles north of New Orleans.

The streamliner left New Orleans at 7:10 a.m. and was due in Chicago at 11:00 p.m. CST.

Dr. K. A. Ryan Receives Acclaim As Top Worker

A benefactor of two Snyder Institutions has been acclaimed as San Antonio's top volunteer worker.

Dr. Katherine A. Ryan, one of the few women independent oil operators in this country, and the only one in San Antonio, is the subject of a feature article in the San Antonio Evening News.

Donation of funds for St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church here, and subsequently financing of the construction of facilities for the Katherine A. Ryan Parochial School were major factors leading to her selection for recognition.

"I had taken so much out of the county that I thought it was time to put some back," Mrs. Ryan was quoted in connection with the two projects in Snyder.

The reason for choosing Snyder for these projects was interest in area oil production.

In San Antonio, Dr. Ryan's latest endeavor is construction of the Katherine A. Ryan Center Clinic now being built at Incarnate Word College.

Dr. Ryan broke into the oil business in the thirties. She started as a secretary and stenographer, but soon became an oil broker, or "lease hound." She got her first well in 1934, but only after "sweating out" a duster where she finally hung black crepe on the derrick.

Her last Christmas present was a 6,311-foot dry hole in Duval County—"it was a deal that couldn't miss," she said.

Dr. Ryan, who belongs to several organizations, including the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, received the first annual Aristotle-Aquinas Award from Incarnate Word and Our Lady of the Lake Colleges in 1958. She also holds an award for her work with Boysville, Inc.

She is a member of the Board of Governors at St. Mary's University in San Antonio and the Board of Trustees at St. Mary's School of Law. For work with these schools she received the St. Thomas More Award from the university in 1957, and the Rho Beta Gamma Award in 1955 from law school fraternity members.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE

Richard A. Goodson

An interview with Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell's Vice President and General Manager for Texas

BY DON DAVIS, TELEPHONE NEWS WRITER

Plans announced for many new telephone service improvements in Texas in 1961

Technical advances, new services promise you greater convenience, more enjoyment

You may take the telephone company's good service and efficiency for granted. But not Richard A. Goodson, who heads up Southwestern Bell's Texas operations.

In fact, he sees these two things—better service and greater efficiency—as his company's main jobs in 1961. But achieving these goals is really tough. Because service already is topnotch. And because efficiency, improving at the rate of some 3 1/2% a year, already tops the U.S. business average.

• Direct Distance Dialing, whereby customers dial their own Long Distance calls, already is in service in these Southwestern Bell exchanges: Fort Worth, Denison, Hereford, Waxahachie, Harlingen and Beeville. Work toward converting Dallas to DDD will get under way this year with the conversion of two central offices. Other offices, in Dallas as well as throughout the state, will be changed over in the next few years.

• Construction will start on major new microwave routes (see photo) with completion scheduled for 1962. Microwave equipment will improve service on these routes: Dallas to El Paso by way of Sweetwater; Dallas to Chicago; and San Antonio to Dallas.

• A long-range program for making service more dependable—pumping dry air into phone cables to keep out moisture—completes in mid-1961.

EFFICIENCY FIGHTS INFLATION
"In 1961," Mr. Goodson said, "we'll not only give our customers better service, but we will do it more efficiently. This is important because improvement in our efficiency is the basic reason we've been able to keep our rates reasonable."

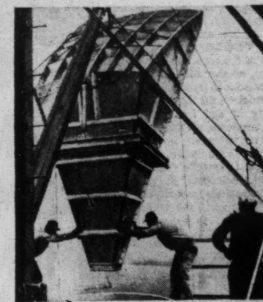

DALLAS ADMINISTRATION BUILDING will get a 23-story addition like that shown here. Construction starts this year, completes in 1963.

TWO TYPES OF IMPROVEMENTS

"Our job in 1961," Mr. Goodson said in an interview, "is to make telephone service even better." There are two ways, he observed, that the telephone company goes about improving service.

One is by offering things that make telephone service more convenient and enjoyable and give customers a wider range of choices. Examples are the Princess phone, color phones, special business phones such as the Call Director, and the new Home Interphone.

The second way of improving service is by expanding the communications network, improving its quality, making it more efficient and trouble-free. Examples are:

MICROWAVE TOWERS, with "cornucopia" antennas like the one being installed above, will be under construction this year. Antennas transmit Long Distance phone calls, TV programs, special communications signals required by business firms.

Ike Budget Nearly Doubles Truman's

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — This gives a picture of how government expenses have gone up, particularly military expenses.

James, Wilson Renew Feud At Breakfast

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Tom James of Dallas and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson feuded again today over James' charges of laxity in the attorney general's office.

The prayer breakfast for Gov. Price Daniel was the scene of their sharp public exchange, heard in part by a newsman.

The attorney general recently said that the vice chairman of the House investigating committee was politically motivated in making public a statement critical of Wilson in connection with halting of vice operations in the Beaumont-Port Arthur area.

"It wasn't politically motivated," James was heard to say just before the breakfast started.

"It was," Wilson shot back in the emphatically gesturing exchange at the breakfast.

"It wasn't," James snapped.

"Then why did you release it?" Wilson asked.

After the breakfast was over, Wilson said to James:

"Tom, in all fairness, do this for me: Before you issue another statement get all the facts. I'll give you the facts."

James recently told newsmen the attorney general had not done all he could to halt alleged vice operations in the Beaumont-Port Arthur area. He said then he had released his statement in advance of the House investigating committee's formal report so that he would not be suspected of working against Wilson's U.S. Senate bid.

Wilson announced for the post the same day.

James refused today to comment on an assertion in Beaumont Monday night by Asst. Atty. Gen. Ben Harrison that James' criticism of Wilson for not stepping into the Beaumont-Port Arthur vice investigation was unjustified.

James said the statement he issued making the charge was "the only statement I have to make."

The young Dallas lawmaker told reporters to carry their questions about the vice probe headforth to Rep. Merton Murray of Harlingen, chairman of the committee.

"When I speak now I am speaking only for myself," he said.

Harrison also asserted Monday night that the attorney general's office is not a police agency.

Quartet Held In Robbery At Comanche

COMANCHE, Tex. (AP)—Four men with money sticking out of their pockets and boots when arrested at Andrews were expected to be charged today with stealing $18,000 from two elderly sisters who kept their savings in a bucket.

The bucket was yanked from the hands of one of the sisters at her home here. The sisters were identified as Misses Hester and Donnie Anderson, between 75 and 80 years of age. Comanche residents said they kept their money in the bucket on the back porch of their home.

The men were arrested at Andrews, 200 miles west of here.

G. A. Ragsdale, chief deputy sheriff for Andrews County, said: "Money was sticking out of their boots, bills were in every pocket, all over the room—we even found two $100 bills outside under a truck," he said.

Officers were led to a motel after they arrested one man in a cafe for being drunk. When they searched him at headquarters they found about $2,700 in small and large bills in his pockets, Ragsdale said. The man led officers to the motel, where three others were arrested.

One of the men had about $6,000 on him, another $600, and one had an undisclosed amount.

Ragsdale said that the men—ranging in age from 34 to 37—were residents of Comanche and knew the women.

"These boys were born and raised in Comanche and the women were neighbors. It was common knowledge around the town about the money the women had."

"They had it in a covered bucket near the back door of their home."

"One of the women came out of the door with the bucket and the men, who had been hiding in some weeds, ran out and grabbed it," Ragsdale said.

Pleads Innocent

Henry Hoepfl of Lorenzo entered a plea of not guilty in county court Monday to a charge of DWI. His bond was set at $750.

Damage to the nation's forest insects and disease is nine times that of another enemy—forest called for a total of only $42.5 billion for all government expenses. Out of the total, he said, the military needed only $13.5 billion.

Came the war. Expenses soared. The war ended over six years ago. But increased government responsibilities have kept expenses high. And military expenses, because of the intense contest with communism, have mounted. In his budget message to Congress Monday President Eisenhower asked almost $81 billion—nearly double the $42.5 billion Truman requested to cover all government spending.

And—whereas Truman asked for only $13.5 for the military, out of his total budget of $42.5 billion, Eisenhower requests $42.9 billion for the armed forces, more than Truman asked for the whole government in 1950.

But for Eisenhower the fiscal year beginning July 1 and ending June 30, 1953—will be both a memory piece and a yardstick in figuring a budget every agency of government has to estimate how much it will need to run another year. All these figures are reviewed and reviewed in an effort to keep them down.

This all takes a lot of time and doing, so much that the Eisenhower administration began putting together last fall the budget Eisenhower turned over to Congress Monday.

Obviously President-elect John F. Kennedy won't have time all for this. He won't submit his own budget until this time next year. But this year his administration will have spending ideas different from Eisenhower's.

Since Kennedy's ideas on what needs to be done—expressed in the campaign—go beyond anything Eisenhower had in mind in his budget, Kennedy probably will want to spend more than Eisenhower allowed for.

He'll run into a lot of criticism and heckling on this. His critics will use Eisenhower's budget estimates as a yardstick for measuring Kennedy's programs.

Still, Eisenhower was dealing in optimism in telling Congress he thought that he had figured things so closely that the government should wind up in the black.

While he suggested spending about $81 billion, he thought government income, from taxes and other revenue, would be even larger and that the country would wind up with a surplus of about $1.5 billion.

But this was optimism based on the hope that there would be a surplus only if the country became more prosperous and Congress increased postal rates and the gasoline tax and set up a new tax on jet fuel. Maybe it would, but its inclinations run the other way.

Tigers On Road For 3-3A Contest Against Lake View

Snyder's Tigers, clinging to a chunk of the District 3-3A leadership along with Sweetwater following first round, Friday night, take a trek to San Angelo tonight with the objective of padding their early advantage at the expense of the Lake View Chiefs.

The conference clash will be reeled off in the new Lake View Gym, which has yet to see its home-town occupants post a victory there. The Chiefs are 4-17 for the year, with their four victories all being road affairs. Three of their wins were realized in the recent Big Lake Tournament, as the Lake Viewers snapped out of the doldrums long enough to clip Alpine, Garden City and Sonora for the meet's consolation title. Their only other triumph was over Balinger, a common opponent which clipped Snyder by 60-52 in the Winters Invitational.

Game time has been set at 8 o'clock, with a "B" game preceding the varsity clash at 6:30.

The Tigers of Coach P. Ward are presently "riding high," having won three of their last four contests, the most recent one being a 72-43 district opening win over Colorado City. That victory boosted them into a tie for the 3-3A lead, as Sweetwater powdered Lake View the same night by an awesome 84-43. Over the season, the Bengal boys sport a 9-7 mark.

Tonight's meeting will be the second of the year matching the two schools. The Tigers rolled to their most lopsided triumph of the year over the Chiefs in the Howard Payne Tournament, that powwow ending up with Snyder on the long end of a 73-29 score.

In other 3-3A action of tonight Lamesa begins its payoff slate by taking on Colorado City in Colorado City. The Lamesans are not only the reigning district kings, but also the Class 3A state champions.

Then Friday the Tigers travel to Sweetwater and Lake View journeys to Lamesa to complete the conference action for the week.

Coach Ward has indicated that he will probably start the same five which took the floor against Colorado City, with 6-3 Charlie Greenwell and 6-1 Jimmy Don Robinson at the double posts, 5-11 Bubba Fleming and 5-10 Weldon Ware at the guards, and 5-9 Pooch Hatter at forward.

Ware Top Tiger

Ware is the leading Tiger scorer over the season with 163 points over the span, which tallied out at a 10.2 per-game average. He is also second in district scoring with 19 points in the one game played, which is second only to Sweetwater's Ronnie Turnbow, who poured in 28 against Lake View.

The Chiefs Coach Don Abbott run from a tandem post. At the high post will be 6-0 Jack Meek, while the low post will be manned by 5-11 Gilbert Duran. The "outside men" will come from among the following quartet: 6-0 Gene Makowsky, 5-11 Larry Hudson, 5-10 Charles Schkade, and 5-11 Jim Havlik.

Strangely enough, neither of the two leading Chief scorers are listed among the above six probabilities. Bob Meek, brother of Jack, is the team topper with 152 points, while Roy Probst is next in line with 115. Jack Meek is the only other Chief to crack the 100-point barrier, with 108 to his credit.

Following Ware in Tiger point production are Robinson and Hatter, each of whom has tallied 117; Fleming, who has 104; and Gladson, with 98.

The Bengal "B" team will be meeting the Lake View quint for the first time this season, and will carry a 3-5 record into the contest. Those three wins have been acquired within the last five game span, however, and include victories over Colorado City, Abilene and Loraine.

Leading Coach V. V. Shearburn's "B" shotmaker is Tim Marcum, who is averaging 15.5 points per game with a total of 124 for the season.

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Tues., Jan. 17, 1961 5

STEWARTS PACE TRAVIS. WIN

Junior Highs In 'Shaky Showings'

Travis 9th snapped a two-game losing skid here last night in impressive fashion, bombing Colorado City for the second time this season by a score of 67-48. It was the highest point total as racked up by the Blue Devils five this year, equipping the previous high of 59 as accumulated in their last outing against the C-Citians.

Travis jumped out to a 12-5 first quarter lead, which was increased to 30-21 at halftime, then stormed to a 53-31 advantage during a productive third quarter to win going away.

A pair of Stewarts triggered the attack, as Billy and Jackie each meshed 21 points to lead all scorers. Ruben was close behind with 17, while Rex Akin and Glen Ward chipped in 6 and 2, respectively, to complete the Blue Devil point making.

C-City's Boren led his team's scoring effort with 20 points for the night.

In a game which saw free substitutions and reserves playing through much of the second half for Travis, the Blue Devils succeeded in sinking 27 of 79 shots from the field for a 34 per cent average, topping the losers' 18 of 67, or 27 per cent. The big difference in the game, however, was in the area of the boards, as Travis gathered in 69 rebounds to Colorado City's 39. Billy Stewart led in this phase of activity with 20 to his credit.

Texas 9th Falls

Lamar 9th took a jaunt to Lamesa last night, but failed to fare quite so well as their cross-town Travis rivals, getting themselves felled by a 49-37 count.

The Texans hung to an 11-9 first quarter lead, then edged out to a 23-20 halftime advantage before the Lamesans bounced back to go ahead by 35-32 at the end of the third stanza.

"We played a good first half," Texas mentor Ned Underwood stipulated here this morning. "Really shipped them on the boards the first two quarters, but just didn't hold out long enough."

Jim Marcum, with 9 points, was high for Lamar. The Texan scoring was evenly distributed from there, with Benny Minor, Edward Schulz, Jimmy Wilson and Harley Bynum each tallying 7.

High for the game was Colorado City's Merritt, who had 15.

Lamar 8th vs. Lamesa 8th took it on the chin, 41-23. The loss dropped the Texans to 5-5 for the year, with three of their defeats being administered by the selfsame Lamesa five, which is unbeaten over the course of the season.

A cold first quarter got the Lamesans off on the wrong foot, as they found themselves behind by 12 at that point. Lamesa went on to post leads of 18-10 and 29-20 at the end of the second and third cantos in taking the triumph.

A quartet of Texans accounted for all of the team scoring, with Jerry Vestal leading the way with 8 points. Tom Kincaid and Drew Bullard followed with 6 each, while Al Williams capped things off with his 3.

Lamesa's Heinz was tops for the game with 15.

Lamesa 7th also found the going lumpy against Lamesa 7th, which applied a 36-20 spanking, thus gaining the victory.

The victory gave the Longhorns a 4-1 loop record and broke a three way tie in the conference race. Idle Texas Tech is now second with a 3-1 mark while the Aggies dropped to third spot with their 3-2 record.

Albert Almanza and Jimmy Gilbert sparked the Longhorns in their second half spurt against the Aggies at Austin Monday night. Texas trailed by a single point, 38-37, at halftime but moved ahead for good in the first minute of the second half.

ing consolation for an earlier 18-12 licking as dealt them by the Texans earlier in the campaign.

Lamar was behind all the way, and trailed by quarters scores of 2-12, 5-21, and 10-24.

Ray Kiser, with 5, led Texan point making, followed by Freddy Wiman (4), Kenneth Deike (3), and Eddie Greenfield, David Bentley, Roy Rogers, and David Holt, each of whom had 2 to his credit.

Lamesa's Robertson was high for the game with his 17.

Brown Marks Up 11

Travis 8th slipped back into the win column here against Colorado City with a 28-24 conquest, as Leslie Brown sparked the winning attack with 11 points.

Travis bolted out to a 10-5 first stanza lead and a halftime bulge of 14-9 before the ajistling came roaring back to knot the count at 17-all as the third quarter buzzer sounded. The score was tied once again with only two minutes to go in the game, but a late Blue Devil surge put the contest on ice.

Colorado City's Preston led all scorers with 12 points. Following Brown in Travis tallying were Gary Bergeron (6), Jimmy Featherston and Bobby Kay (4 each), and Ronnie Martin (3).

Trojans Home Tonight; To Tackle Angelo

The Lincoln High Trojans of Snyder, currently sporting a 5-4 record for the year following a 32-49 victory over Floydada Saturday night, return to the friendly confines of Trojan Gym tonight, when they play host to San Angelo in an 8 o'clock contest.

A blow to the local team fortunes was struck the latter part of the week when starter Ronald Green stepped on a nail, with the resulting injury sure to keep him out of action for at least a week.

Preceding the varsity clash will be a "B" game between the two schools, with starting time in that one being 6:30. The Lincoln girls are idle tonight, and will not see action until January 25 in Lubbock.

Saturday's game against Floydada, a district foe, does not count toward the district championship. The district 2-B representative will be decided in a one-day tournament in Anton on January 28.

Joe Phillips, who meshed 22 points for the evening, and he the biggest noise in the Trojan barrage against the Floydadans. It was an uphill battle, as the Lincoln five found itself behind by 5-1 at the end of the first quarter of play, but bounced back to take a 25-20 lead at halftime and was "going away" in the latter stages.

Other Lincoln scoring was turned in by Linwood Durst (10), Kenneth McLean and Buford Thompson (4 each), and Raymond Johnson, Samuel Stephen and Tommy Davis (2 each).

The Trojanettes had an easy time of it in their clash against the Floydada girls winning their third victory in seven outings by a 40-26 score.

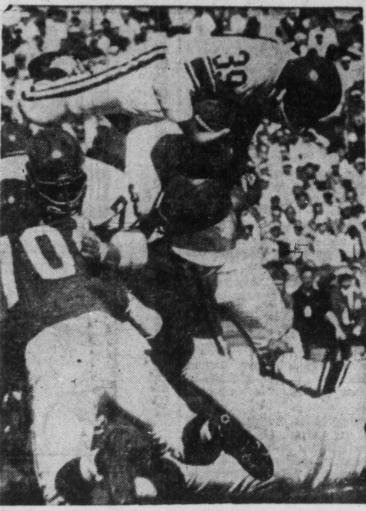

Louise Archie led the way with 18 points, followed by Louline Brooks (9), Mary Goosby (5), Yvonne Sanders and Emma Garrett (3 each), and Mary Johnson (2). Marie Coleman was tops for Floydada with 13.

Boxing Card On Tap Here This Saturday

The Snyder Boxing Team will entertain Abilene here Saturday night in the Towle Park County Barn. Snyder boxing coach Lacy Boles reported here this morning.

The card, slated for 8 o'clock that night, was previously scheduled for Friday. A conflict developed, however, in that the Abilene team will be in Cisco Friday for a series of matches, so the bouts here were moved back to Saturday.

Snyder boxers fared well in Abilene the past weekend, winning 10 of 15 bouts.

TAYLOR TRIES OVER THE TOP—Back Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers goes to the top of the heap in an attempt to pick up some yardage in the Pro Bowl game at Los Angeles. But Taylor wasn't stopped very often in the game which the West squad, of which Taylor was a member, won by a 35-31 score. Number 70 of the East squad is tackle Bob Toneff. (AP Wirephoto)

Honors Gained By Snyder Draggers

A group of drag racers from Snyder took part in the monthly "drags" as held in Abilene Sunday and succeeded in winning two savings bonds and four trophies.

John Billy Koonsman, at the wheel of his 1960 Pontiac, powered his way to the winning of the Super Stock Class Trophy and prize of $25.00.

Bill Dennis, in his 1964 Chevrolet Coupe, won the B Gas Class Trophy and $25 Street Eliminator Bond.

The A Sportsman Class Trophy went to Arnold Wallace, who drove a 1959 Chevrolet.

Beverly Smith also copped a trophy, as she was an entrant in the traditional foot race as held each month prior to the "drags."

Other local racers who entered their cars were Jerry Smith, Windell Smith, and Mickey Priddy.

The top speed of the meet was turned in by Jacks Auto Parts' AA dragster from Fort Worth at 169 in 9.6 seconds.

The Snyder entourage attending the races included Mr. and Mrs. John Billy Koonsman, Bill Dennis, Ronnie Weber, Arnold Wallace, Jesse Allen, Randy Hays, Wayne Key, Gene Griffin, John Ward, Delbert Hatway, E. L. Franklin, Jimmy Glaw, and Glen Smoots. Also in attendance were several members of the Snyder Blasters Club, and included Mr. and Mrs. Windell Smith, Morris Surratt, Mickey Priddy, Finis Calvert, Bobby Brown, Pooch Hatter, Tony Bearden, Jimmy Sellers, Jerry Rainwater, Lase McKinney, Hillman Bearden, Ronnie Anderson, Jerry Smith, and Joe King.

Completing the Snyder group were Mrs. Jerry Smith, Nancy Lewis, Suzanne Black and Marilyn Jeanne Smith.

The next drags are scheduled for February 19.

Pitcher Pedro Ramos of the 1960 Washington Senators handled 60 chances without making an error.

Miceli Drops Decision

DALLAS (AP) — Joe Miceli, aging New York boxer fighting his first bout in 10 months, lost a lopsided decision to Curtis (Bevo) Cokes of Dallas in their 10-round match here Monday night.

Miceli weighed in at 149 and the Dallas Negro tipped the scales at 147.

Manuel Gonzales of Odessa, rated as the state's No. 1 welterweight, won a unanimous decision in his 10-rounder with Henry Watson of Dallas. Gonzales weighed 142, Watson 139.

Mays Signs Texan Pact

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Texans of the American Football League Monday announced the signing of Jerry Mays, Southern Methodist University's stellar tackle.

The 6-4, 235-pound Mays is the sixth of the Texans first eight draft choices to be signed. Mays was also a draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League.

Co-captain and an All-Southwest Conference tackle for the 1960 Mustangs, Mays also played in the East-West Shrine Game and in the Hula Bowl. A straight A student, he was the Southwest recipient of the Earl Blaik Scholarship award.

Mays is married and has three children.

Special Inauguration Songs Enough To Flip An Abdomen

BY INEZ ROBB

Until 48 hours ago I felt that the arrangements for the coming inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy were great. Just great. For once, the arts have called to assist at this solemn national celebration. That alone is cause for jubilation.

The fact that Robert Frost will recite his magnificent "The Gift Outright" at the inauguration at least offsets in some degree the Hollywood Rat Pack. It mitigates, if it does not fully condone, the presence of Frankie Boy and his Shubert Alley, Student Prince wardrobe.

The music selected by the President-elect for the inaugural concert in Constitution Hall is music for which no one need blush. It is not pop but stuff. The National Symphony Orchestra and not a dance band will do the honors.

Furthermore, invitations to scholars and Nobel Prize winners is further indication that creative artistic genius and brains are, at long last, becoming a respectable commodity.

But now—well, hand me the anti-motil sickness pill, Josephine. My abdomen has flipped.

The Advisory Committee for the Inaugural Ball has just released the words for two songs, specially written for the Jan. 20 soiree. That release, on the part of the committee, constitutes an act of bravery above and beyond the call of duty. It required sheer intestinal fortitude to make public the words to (1) a song dedicated to the incoming First Lady and yclept, "Jacqueline"; and (2) another hymn called, "Lady Bird," to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

And it requires an equal amount of strong stomach even for a Democrat to read the lyrics. Goodness knows, the First Lady-to-be has enough to bear (and, no doubt, so does the wife of the Vice-President-elect) without this added cross.

The saccharine had taste, the idiot sentimentality that has gone into the lyrics of these two songs is monumental. The words to "Jacqueline," just to give you an idea, are, in part: "Jacqueline, Jacqueline, Jacqueline. She is charming, she is sweet; Jacqueline, Jacqueline, Jacqueline. She's lovely as a rose; Jacqueline, Jacqueline, Jacqueline. She's the First Lady the whole knows."

The lyrics to "Lady Bird" are even more hyperbolic, although that seems impossible. But get a load:

"I keep my eyes on the skies. With my dreams about Lady Bird; Her radiant glow is there I know; It always gleams about Lady Bird. 'Tis oh, so hard to describe her. Maybe 'Angel' is the word; For heaven conferred all its wonders, On Lady Bird."

"Excuse me for a mo', my charming abdomen is at it again. These two charming, gentle ladies have to sit through the above drivel on the night of Jan. 20, and may the good Lord sustain them in this queasy ordeal."

These effusions are no just Democratic. Bipartisanship takes over in this questionable realm. I yield to no one in my admiration for Mamie Eisenhower. But I have seen her forced to sit through the "redemption" of similar songs.

One, fully as ridiculous as "Lady Bird" epic was sung to her at a luncheon in her honor during the Republican national convention. She squirmed all right, but she did grin and bear it. I guess that's the only out for Mesdames Kennedy and Johnson.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Selection of four alternate jurors for the third federal murder trial begins today following agreement Monday on a regular panel of nine men and three women.

Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his pretty paramour, Carole Tregoff, are charged in the fatal shooting of the physician's wife, Barbara Jean, on July 18, 1959. Two trials ended with deadlocked juries.

Our Land Pays Well For Laughs

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the land that pays for laughs.

In 1961 Shelley Berman will gross about three quarters of a million dollars—several times President John F. Kennedy's take-home pay—for being funny.

A very few years ago Shelley and his wife, Sarah, a former actress, hitchhiked across the continent looking for work.

Today Berman, a Navy veteran, is one of the darlings of the sophisticates. He has been paid $15,400 for a one-night stand. He has been paid $12,500 for a seven-minute appearance on television.

It all wound up with Berman being one of the highest-paid comedy performers of his generation.

Before he hit the big time with his wry portraits of civilized man adjusting to the problems of civilization, Shelley worked as a drug clerk, a ballroom dancing instructor, and a free-lance writer.

What has success meant to him after a dozen years of failure? He still remembers as "the jinx time."

"There are a lot of superficial differences," he said. "You eat better and you wear better clothes, but the big difference is that I now have a wholesome self-respect."

"I floundered for a long time and envied people around me who had found what they wanted to do and were content."

"And now I am. Well, anyway I am more content with my discontent. I am doing something."

Shelley's humor is based on the ordinary man's plight in this extraordinary time. He jokes about taking an airplane flight, beatniks, the problems of parenthood. His only props in his "concert" appearances are a high stool, a pack of cigarettes and a lighter.

In one show he lights about five cigarettes, really smokes only two—but feels completely dependent on them.

"Without those cigarettes, I might as well not come out," he said. "The cigarette is my escape from the audience. It gives me a chance to think, to listen, to present a kind of action while I am deciding what to do next."

He writes his own material. Sometimes, he sounds like Mark Twain at his bravest moment of social criticism, and the next moment like William McKinley at the peak of conservatism.

"I believe it is important to say what you think," he said. "I don't believe in taking the soft, sweet, safe route."

"I despise comedians who mock tragedy and who insult religion and human infirmity."

Mr. Tom Back On Job With Sand Box

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Mister Tom, the company cat who caused a labor-management crisis when he was fired last week, is back on the job today—with a sand box.

Officials of Pacific Mercury Electronics Corp. had blamed Tom's dismissal on a lack of hygienic habits. They agreed to discuss the matter with employees when a union threatened to seek state intervention.

At a two-hour meeting Monday, Tom's housekeeping problems were ironed out. A carpenter's union official said he would provide a house and sandbox, and Tom went back to his post at the main gate.

Soil Conservation Work Is Praised

Programs carried on by Texas Soil Conservation Districts are the most creative in the state. Herma Hunsnicher, Hermleigh farmer, noted as he attended the 26th annual state convention in Dallas.

Hunsnicher was among 750 farmers and ranchers at the convention. He represented the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District at the meeting.

At this annual meeting, plans are made and the problems of conservation are attacked with all the energy we possess, Hunsnicher said.

Among some of the noted speakers at the convention were Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco. This was the highlight of the entire program.

'Hero' Is Nothing To Cheer About

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic
NEW YORK (AP)—"The Conquering Hero" gives Broadway nothing to cheer about.

Starring television's Tom Poston, the musical unrivels a raucous blast of color and sound Monday night at the ANTA Theater.

Based on "Hail, the Conquering Hero," a notable Preston Sturges movie satire some years back, the stage production falters, stumbles and echoes hollowly with a sort of frantic desperation.

En route to the White Way the show was beset with an abnormal assortment of creative headaches. Shifts were made in director and choreographer—and those vital tasks are attributed to no individual on the final program.

The book, written by Larry Gelbart, awkwardly tries to combine fantasy, burlesque and trenchant commentary in a yarn that relates how a would-be Marine (discharged from service because of hay fever) reluctantly gets entrapped in a triumphant homecoming.

Poston goes about his task with a kind of uneasy determination, and the rest of the cast moves with similar unswerving. Lionel Stander of the gravelly voice is a top sergeant, and two pretty girls, Kay Brown and Jane Mason, try hard as romantic enticements.

The score by Moose Charlap is more emphatic than melodic, and the Norman Gimbel lyrics rhyme most of the time. The dancing phase of "The Conquering Hero" is unexceptional, save for a dream sequence in which a battle on Guadalcanal is developed with tasteless vagaries.

The settings, by Jean Rosenthal and William Pitkin, like the costumes by Patton Campbell, are unexceptional but serviceable.

The topsy-turvy charade is produced by Robert Whitehead and Roger L. Stevens. They admit their responsibility in a small line at the bottom of the program.

Georgia U. Campus Quiet

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—The University of Georgia passed a day and night of integration without serious violence and school officials hoped firm action by local authorities against rowdiness would prove effective.

The second entry of Charlayne Hunter, 18, and Hamilton Holmes, 19, Atlanta Negroes, effected by repeated orders of a federal court caused no disorder among the 7,500 white students.

Rumors spread over the city Monday that a new demonstration was planned for Monday night. The campus was quiet, however, and officials hoped that disciplinary measures against those identified with last week's disorder would restore normal conditions.

A few coeds carrying small satchels or overnight bags were seen leaving Myers dormitory Monday night. Miss Hunter is housed in that building. Dormitory sources said the girls are planning to stay with friends in sorority houses or homes in the city until excitement over the presence of Miss Hunter ends.

Ike To Present His Final Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower makes a final report to the people tonight on his two terms as president.

The speech from his White House office at 8:30 p. m. EST will be carried by all major television and radio networks.

Junior Editors Quiz on CLOTH

QUESTION: How long have people woven cloth?

ANSWER: Cloth is made of tiny fibers. The fibers come from plants or from the hair of animals. They are woven into threads, and the threads are woven into cloth. The art of weaving is thousands of years old. The weaving of cloth is believed to have begun in the Stone Age. The first woven cloth was linen, made from a plant called flax. Egyptians were growing flax along the Nile River 4,000 years ago, and making fine linen from it. Wool was probably the second cloth and silk was the third.

FOR YOU TO DO: At the library look for the interesting story of how Lin Shih invented silk.

Budget Opens Up A Guessing Game

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The budget that President Eisenhower submitted to Congress Monday opens up a guessing game rather than setting a final guide for taxpayers and business.

The guesses are implied in both the spending and income sides of the ledger.

In spending there's always the question of what Congress will finally do with any presidential budget. Added this time is the uncertainty of the task force reports to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

If all their suggestions were adopted, spending would rise well above the $80.9 billion the outgoing President calls necessary, and which itself is $2 billion more than in the current fiscal year. In receipts, his estimate of $82.3 billion will be obtained only if the current business slide is reversed so that tax collections will swell, and only if Congress votes higher gas taxes and increased postal rates.

So the budget leaves business and the taxpayer about where they were—that is, guessing how much the Kennedy administration will want to spend, how much Congress will approve, and how far the business slackness is likely to go and when a recovery can be expected.

The taxpayer, and that includes both individuals and business, is concerned in what happens to the budget because ultimately the bills have to be met. And if the Treasury doesn't achieve the $1.5-billion surplus that President Eisenhower hopes for, but runs up a deficit instead, both individuals and business could be under revived inflationary pressures.

Business is further concerned because just how much the government spends and for what it puts out its money vitally affect many companies and whole industries. Eventually this widens out to take in most of the economy.

Studying the proposed budget, business notes that only two items call for less spending in fiscal 1962 than in the current fiscal year. These are interest on the public debt, down because interest rates are down, not because of any drop in the total debt; and for commerce, housing and space technology.

Everything else is up. Defense spending is up $1.5 billion, but this was expected. So was the increase in outlay for veterans services and benefits. President Eisenhower wants more for foreign aid than Congress voted for this fiscal year.

Purely civilian projects that are asking more money for the next fiscal year are labor and welfare, agriculture and agricultural resources, natural resources, and general government costs. Some projects don't come under the regular budget at all. These are the sums collected and spent for such endeavors as Social Security, jobless payments superhighways.

Adding these, the total cash to be spent in fiscal 1962 becomes $101.5 billion, or $9.9 billion more than this year. And the total money expected to be collected from the public becomes $103.1 billion, or $4.1 billion more than this year. These are figures that business studies, since they furnish a better idea of how much government will withdraw from the public's pockets and just how much could be available sooner or later to business either in government orders, or in cash in the pockets of those who get salaries, or payment from the government.

Model Citizen Gets Parole

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A parolee has returned Harry E. Evans to the society which knew him as a model citizen during the 27 years he was AWOL from prison.

When he walked out of prison Monday he was met by the wife he married while a fugitive. His job as a truckline stock foreman still awaited him.

To demonstrate their faith in him, the owners of the Jack Cole Trucking Co. in Birmingham said Evans was kept on the payroll during his 11 months behind bars. Evans was a fugitive from 1933—when he failed to return from a temporary parole—until last February when a fingerprint check resulting from a minor automobile accident disclosed his true identity.

He was serving 30 years for bank robbery when he went AWOL.

Optimists View Hunting Film

Highlighting the regular weekly meeting of the Snyder Optimist Club last night in Sallie's Restaurant was the showing of a technical film entitled "North To Adventure." It centered around the hunting of game by means of bow and arrow, with the setting being the Rocky Mountain area of Canada's British Columbia, and was presented by club president Tommy Ivison.

Bill Smith was welcomed into the club as a new member prior to the presentation of the film.

Young Airman Almost Makes Anniversary

HOUSTON (AP)—Larry Woolford, 24, one of the 28 men who went down with the Texas Tower in the North Atlantic, missed by two days getting to spend his third wedding anniversary at home.

Woolford, an airman, did get to spend Christmas and New Year's with his wife, Connie, and their two young children because his rotation of duty happened to fall at the right time.

Mrs. Joe Valdez of Houston, mother of the 21-year-old wife of the airman, said Woolford spent 45 days on the tower and then got to go to his Falmouth, Mass., home for 10 days before he went on another 45-day tour.

His last 10 days ashore ended Jan. 3.

Stock Sale Is Fought

DALLAS (AP)—The president of Chance Vought Corp. has served notice that an attempt by Ling-Temco Electronics to take over his firm will be fought.

Both firms have their headquarters here.

Ling-Temco said Monday it had been buying Chance Vought stock and had obtained "a strong position of ownership" in the firm.

F. O. Detweiler, president of Chance Vought, in a letter to stockholders said that the firm had made no effort to merge with Ling-Temco and of the purchase of stock said, "It cannot be assumed that the purpose is to benefit Chance Vought stockholders."

Chance Vought "makes planes and space equipment. Sales in 1959 were $254.6 million with earnings of $4.9 million. Ling-Temco is an electronics company specializing in space equipment. Recently it has branched out into consumer goods. Its 1959 sales were estimated at $18 million with earnings of 3 million.

Dog Is Handed 'Section Eight'

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Prince Herman, a 2-year-old German shepherd, has been given a "section eight" discharge from the police department.

"On paper he is stopped biting and reverted back to his old good-natured self," Chief William Hersher explained Monday. "We had to get rid of him, and now he's completely happy."

Police Lt. John Lutz Jr., took the dog home to his five children. They love Prince Herman.

Wilson Looms As Top GOP Target

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Republicans plan to concentrate much of their fire on Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and interim Sen. William A. Blakley in the special U.S. Senate election April 4.

This became apparent Monday as the state organization voted its support of John G. Tower, the only Republican thus far in the race, and heard him say he thought he could win.

In an apparent reference to Blakley, Tower said he is just an ordinary citizen without large corporate connections. He said the Republican Party "is the only effective vehicle for conservatism in the United States."

"I am the conservative candidate in this race," Tower said.

Paul Ledrick, GOP campaign manager in the November election, hit sharply at Wilson, who like Blakley is a candidate in the special election to fill most of Lyndon B. Johnson's term.

Ledrick reported to the state Republican Executive Committee Monday that Wilson, Gov. Price Daniel and former Secretary of State Zollicoffer used what he referred to as "obstruction" tactics when Republicans were trying to get an official study of vote-counting in the presidential election.

"Wilson said he was not required to do anything—and he didn't," Ledrick said. "He is the attorney general of all the people and even if he was not required to do anything, he had an obligation to."

Ledrick said the Republicans were thwarted by every agency and every court where they tried to present their case claiming widespread irregularities and discrepancies in throwing out ballots in the presidential race.

The committee passed a resolution urging the legislature to revise the Election Code to avoid future misinterpretation of the law and to provide a positive method of indicating the voters' choices rather than the present scratch-out system.

The committee named aggressive young Tad Smith of El Paso as its new chairman to succeed Thad Hutcheson of Houston, whose resignation was accepted with regret.

The committee filled several vacancies, including some created by members who stepped out temporarily to run for office. New members, or members reinstated, were:

Gilbert Harrison, Brownwood; Max Mossholder, Abilene; Fred S. Neuman, Beaumont; W. E. Richard, Navasota; Mrs. Gladys Strauss, Seguin; Mrs. W. A. Walling Jr., Huntsville; Mrs. Will F. Whitehead, Del Rio; Mrs. Warren Fatheree, Pampa; Richard W. George, Austin.

Believe Kennedy Won By A Head

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP)—John F. Kennedy beat Richard M. Nixon by a head—his head of uniquely styled hair.

That's the opinion of William

Troyack, master of the London branch of the Incorporated Guild of Hairdressers, Wigmakers and Perfumers.

"Mr. Kennedy has a special way of having his hair cut," said Troyack in an interview today. "and I'm convinced that accounted for the difference in votes that put him in the White House."

Master barber Troyack has a theory that hair styling is vital to all politicians.

"A politician seeking to make a name for himself should create a characteristic hair style and stick to it for the rest of his life," he explained.

"It becomes his trade mark. People remember him by it. He lends himself to the art of the political cartoonist. Dig back through British history and you'll see what I mean."

He clipped off the names of Lloyd George, Disraeli, Charles Parnell and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

"Disraeli wore ringlets," said Troyack.

"Lloyd George had bad locks. Mr. Macmillan waves his and there are peaks at the sides."

"Parnell had a full and fatherly head of hair which he wore to match his beard."

Troyack shook his head and sighed.

"Why are present day politicians so unadventurous about their hair?"

Reminded that Sir Winston Churchill has done very well politically without a characteristic hair style, the barber replied: "Sir Winston unfortunately has very little hair with which to work."

Daily Crude Flow Drops

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Daily average production of domestic crude oil and condensate dropped 17,855 barrels to 7,136.20 barrels during the week ended Jan. 1, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey disclosed today.

Most of the net loss was due to a 13,450-barrel decline in Oklahoma to 503,950 barrels.

Increases included Louisiana 100 to 1,119,900; Arkansas 100 to 75,000.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,609,850 barrels, and New Mexico, 293,200.

Anglican Church Head To Retire

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, archbishop of Canterbury and spiritual head of the Church of England, announced today he is retiring on May 31.

Dr. Fisher, who will be 74 on May 5, told a convocation of churchmen he feels it is time to hand over his duties to a younger man.

A statement from Lambeth Palace, residence of the archbishops of Canterbury, said Dr. Fisher's successor has not yet been named. He will be named by Queen Elizabeth on the recommendation of Prime Minister Macmillan.

Among those mentioned in church circles as possible successors are Dr. Michael Ramsey, 56, the archbishop of York, and Dr. Robert Wright Stopford, 59, the bishop of Peterborough.

Dr. Fisher had been archbishop of Canterbury since 1945.

The announcement of his retirement came just six weeks after one of the most historic moments of his career, his meeting on Dec. 2 with Pope John XXIII. He was the first archbishop of Canterbury to meet the head of the Roman Catholic Church since the Reformation.

Rebel Tribesmen Fought By Swedes

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo. (AP)—Swedish U.N. troops fought off hundreds of rebel Baluba tribesmen who made three attacks on a train the Swedes were escorting in central Katanga Province.

A U.N. spokesman said the Swedes inflicted "heavy casualties."

Woman Says Her Husband Is Kidnaper

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Sheriff's officers said the wife of a former Texas convict admitted today that her husband kidnapped a 4-year-old girl last Thursday. She then related gruesome details of the child's probable fate.

Chief criminal deputy Loren Fote said Elaine Lindsey, 23, made the admission after hours of questioning in the Kern County jail.

Mrs. Lindsey gave this account, Fote said:

Her husband, Richard Arlen Lindsey, 30, an acknowledged one-time mental patient, abducted young Rose Marie Riddle from a farm labor camp near Shafter, Calif., Thursday afternoon.

Her husband drove a few miles north of that community, then ordered his wife from the car. Lindsey drove off with the child across a field.

When he returned some time later, the little girl was missing and "the whole front seat was covered with blood."

Mrs. Lindsey said the couple then proceeded to San Francisco, checked into a cheap hotel and engaged in a drinking bout that lasted several days.

Authorities attempted an immediate search of the area described by Mrs. Lindsey for some trace of the kidnaper but was hampered by a heavy fog.

Fote said Lindsey was again questioned about the case but stuck to his story that he blacked out for the whole period involved and had no recollection of being with the child.

Familiar Scenes Await Democrats

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dear Democrats:

Well, a lot of you have been away eight years but when you get back here Jan. 20 you won't find this old town changed much.

Same old pigeons in the park. Same old stearns in the trees. Same old traffic circles creating the same old confusion. We are building a new underpass at Washington Circle and have moved that statue of George on a horse until it's all over.

We've talked about some new places—Gettysburg, Augusta and Palm Springs. We'll probably get used to Middleburg, Cape Cod and Palm Beach in time.

And, speaking of words, we formalize, formalize and concretize things now, you realize.

You're coming back just in time to get into the fuss stirring up about what kind of memorial to erect to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

That seems appropriate for Democrats. We still haven't decided on the proper memorial for Teddy Roosevelt, but that's being left up to his children. We did erect one to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, a Republican. It's up on Capitol Hill.

There are a lot of new buildings around town and a lot of those old temporary "tempers" gone. Still a lot left, too. The government has been building great massive structures of stone and concrete with lots of windows in the modern manner. The new State Department addition down in Foggy Bottom is like that.

The new airport 23 miles out in Virginia is a modernistic lulu, but it won't be ready for a while. It's named for the late secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, a Republican.

The old buildings haven't changed much. Since you left, we moved the east front of the Capitol out about 32 feet and cleaned it up. Makes the other buildings look dingy. There's a second Senate Office Building and the steel skeleton of a third office building for the House members.

A quiet, contemplative man with a twinkle in his eye, the archbishop enjoys family life most.

He once said "A family only truly begins with three children. One child is no family, but something of a misfortune. Two children are no family, but a failure half way." He himself has six sons.

Upon his retirement, Dr. Fisher will continue in the House of Lords as a life peer. He will also get a retirement pension of 2,000 pounds—$5,600—a year.

"The Swedes repulsed the rebels," he continued, "but the train then reached part of the track which the tribesmen had torn up. As the train backed up to return to Luena, about 400 more Balubas appeared and made another attack."

"The Swedes opened fire and the Balubas retreated. There were about 60 Swedish troops on board the train."

"The train was about 500 yards from Luena station when the Balubas launched a third attack which the Swedes drove off, inflicting many casualties. The troops are presently dug in around Luena station and a helicopter is due to leave from Kamina base about 100 miles from Luena with fresh ammunition and other supplies."

Twenty-nine Americans — missionaries and their families — have arrived safely in Ruanda-Urundi after being detained by pro-Lumumba forces in Kivu Province, a U.N. spokesman in Leopoldville said. Details of their release were not given, but earlier reports indicated their detention was a mistake on the part of over-eager troops at the border.

Auction Speeds Up At Denver Show

DENVER (AP) — Auction of livestock at the National Western Stock Show speeded up today after the top prize—grand champion steer—went to Dennis Gebert, 17, of Granville, Iowa.

His winning Angus, weighing 975 pounds and named Black Dynamite, is a product of artificial insemination.

Second-place honors went to the Honey Creek Ranch of Grove, Okla., which entered a Hereford summer yearling named Gost.

Oh yes, we added a putting green to the White House lawn. But there's still plenty of room for touch football out back.

Most of the streetscars are gone, replaced by buses. But the tracks still run down Pennsylvania Avenue (we still call it "The Avenue," the Capitol area is "The Hill," you remember).

Snowflakes still throw us in a tizzy. Rain is almost as bad. And it's true about the man who said, "Just let somebody spit on the street in Washington, and traffic gets snarled."

Now, you remember the old town, don't you?

Refund Ruled On Gas Rate

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge ruled Monday that customers of 11 Eastern Seaboard gas companies will share nearly $1 million in an illegal rate increase.

Federal District Judge Joe Ingraham's ruling awards $87,793.34 to 11 gas companies who tried to collect increased rates paid to the Transcontinental Pipe Line Corp. during 1955 and 1956.

During those years, the suit claimed, Transco charged higher rates for natural gas after Socony Mobil Oil Co. Inc. and the Ohio Oil Co., two gas suppliers to Transco, increased their price on natural gas.

Ingraham ruled that the increased rates charged by Mobil and Ohio were illegal and ordered these two companies to return the increase.

Mobil and Ohio must pay the money back to Transco and Transco must return the money to their customers, Ingraham ruled.

Mobil owes $538,907.82 plus six per cent interest annually, he said, and the Ohio company owes $445,166.91 plus interest.

Fifty cities and corporations who did not sue will share an additional $56,120, Ingraham ruled.

Life Jacket For Space Tested

By MARSHALL COMERER

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—When the alarm bells clang abandon ship the space traveler of the future may wrap himself in a foam and plastic cocoon for an emergency return to earth.

This do-it-yourself space life jacket was described today to the American Astronautical Society by John H. Quillman and Harold L. Bloom of the General Electric Company's Space Sciences Laboratory.

The jacket is called Moose — man out of space easiest. Models with a doll figure have been tested in a small vacuum chamber.

When the astronaut bails out of his space ship he wears a space suit encased in a plastic envelope. Built into the envelope are oxygen supply, location and recovery aids and survival gear. Attached to the outside are foaming urethane plastic and mixer tanks and a retro-rocket package.

As he floats in space the astronaut orients himself with the earth and measures the altitude and direction of his flight by an optical sight mounted on the rocket. He then aims and fires the rocket to get himself out of orbit and on the correct trajectory angle for re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

Quillman said an error of as much as 10 per cent in alignment would not have any serious effects.

Once out of orbit the astronaut activates the foaming plastic which is controlled to form a thin layer of very dense plastic into a curved re-entry heat shield. A layer of less dense plastic encases the man and forms the rest of the jacket. Straps hold the astronaut in proper position.

Just before re-entry the astronaut fires a high intensity flare and starts his radio beacon. When the worst of the re-entry heat is over, he ejects radar chaff and fires another flare to help ground stations locate him.

A switch automatically releases a parachute at an altitude of 30,000 feet. The opening parachute pulls cutting wires through the inner plastic foam and frees the astronaut's arms and hands. After landing the astronaut pulls other cutting wires to release himself from his cocoon.

The life jacket is buoyant and in landings in the ocean can be used as a raft.

The principles used in the Moose, Quillman said, can be used in building prefabricated space life rafts and life boats which would be fastened to space ships and entered through sealed hatches.

Director Of Roads Sought

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A search was on today for a new Oklahoma highway director, after pressure from the state Senate pushed Lee Washbourne out of the $17,500 job.

Washbourne is leaving Friday to become project manager for construction of a $62 million water pipeline from Oklahoma City to its new lake in Atoka County.

In his resignation, Washbourne said Monday in effect that neither he, Gov. Howard Edmondson nor the Highway Commission was in a position to back the Senate. Edmondson agreed.

The Senate passed a resolution last week aimed squarely at the retired Air Force general who took over the Highway Department 18 months ago. The resolution urged the Highway Commission to employ a director "with ability, vision and imagination."

Legislators contend Washbourne is too independent and will not work with them.

McNamara's Choices Raise Hackles Of Labor Leaders

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert S. McNamara is choosing his own Defense Department team—but in doing so the secretary-designate has gotten himself and the incoming administration in a jam with leaders of organized labor.

McNamara, 44, former Ford Motor Co. president, turned down a union chief reportedly recommended for a key defense post by President-elect John F. Kennedy himself.

It is understood, moreover, that McNamara, a Republican, rejected several other persons outside of labor ranks whose names were sent to him for appointment to important posts in his department.

Joseph D. Keenan, secretary of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and an AFL-CIO vice president, is the labor man McNamara turned down.

Keenan, who had built up a World War II reputation as a successful labor trouble shooter, was tagged to become the assistant defense secretary for manpower.

A week ago in New York, Kennedy had to call in Keenan, who had accompanied him on his campaign, to convey the bad news, "I was told McNamara is picking his own team and I don't fit," Keenan said.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, was hopping mad. Keenan is highly regarded by his colleagues.

Meany said Keenan's name was suggested because Kennedy wanted a union official placed in a high defense post.

Last Friday morning, McNamara, having gotten wind of the ruckus he had caused, visited Meany's office and came away thinking things had been smoothed over.

They hadn't been because Meany, when asked about the situation Monday, said "McNamara's visit was a gratuitous insult."

McNamara declined comment on the Keenan rejection. But he did say he wanted it known that "I am not anti-labor."

Kennedy after telling Keenan he couldn't name him to the Defense Department offered an appointment, instead, as ambassador to New Zealand. Keenan turned down that offer.

The labor official said he never wanted a political job anyway, and as for the fuss, "It's all in the game, I guess."

James Monroe, fifth president of the United States, died in New York City on Independence Day in 1831.
