Clinton wins second term with 31-state sweep

(AP) — President Clinton is savoring another political comeback, a second-term 31-state sweep that he says carries an appeal from Americans to "put aside the politics of division." But he confronts a Republican Congress strong enough to check his dreams and investigate his dealings.

In a vote for the status quo — and the legislative gridlock it sometimes produces — the country rebuffed Bob Dole and Ross Perot's attacks on Clinton's character and instead endorsed Clinton's handling of the economy.

The Democratic president's emphasis on education and family issues appealed especially to women.

Still, Americans opted again for divided government, marginally strengthening the GOP's hand in the Senate but weakening it in the House. Republicans will hold all the chairmanships, assuring Clinton of a new round of investigations of him, his wife and his administration on a range of ethics issues, the latest being foreign donations to the Democratic Party.

"Obviously there's going to have to be some questions asked," Republican Senate Leader Trent Lott told The Associated Press in a post-election interview.

Divided government over the past two years has led sometimes to stalemate, sometimes to compromise. It shut down the government but also produced ground breaking new laws on welfare, family leave and health insurance portability.

Everything about Tuesday's election spoke of a public uninspired by its choices.

"To be honest," said one Clinton voter, Mike Morris of Fishers, Ind., "he was the best of the three, but I'm not happy with any of them. It was a tough decision."

When the results became known, Clinton appealed for bipartisanship. Dole acknowledged the sting of defeat and Perot hinted he would not quietly fade away.

Said Clinton to cheering supporters: "The challenges we face, they're not Democratic or Republican challenges. They're American challenges."

Dole, in a voice that reflected his emotions, said, "It's a lot more fun winning. It hurts to lose an election."

Remarkably, the country that re-elected Clinton by landslide proportions — making him the first Democrat to achieve that status since Franklin Roosevelt — also said it did not trust him.

In polls taken after they'd left the voting booths, nearly six of 10 voters said they believed Clinton had not told the truth about Whitewater and other matters under investigation.

Nearly as many — 55 percent — said they did not consider the president "honest and trustworthy."

With the national count almost complete:

—Clinton won 31 states and the District of Columbia for 379 electoral votes, well above the required 270 and surpassing by nine his 1992 total. Dole won 19 states with 159 electoral votes.

Dole carries Scurry County

Dole garnered 58 percent of the vote in Scurry County, or 2,929 votes to 2,099 for Clinton.

Nationwide, the Democratic incumbent was returned to office for a second term by 49 percent of the vote. Dole received 41 percent and Texan Ross Perot, the Reform Party candidate, received 8 percent.

County races: landslides, squeakers and upsets

A landslide victory in the sheriff's race, a squeaker for county clerk and an upset for county commissioner in Precinct 3 highlighted Tuesday's general election in Scurry County.

Deputy Darren Jackson was elected sheriff with 64 percent of the votes while Joan Bunch was selected to fill an unexpired term as county clerk with a 142-vote victory. Republican challenger Howard Limmer unseated veteran county commissioner C.D. Gray Jr., 1,065 to 811.

Other winners in contested races Tuesday were Dana Cooley for district attorney and Mike Hartman for county attorney.

Elected without opposition were District Judge Ernie Armstrong, County Tax Collector Rona Sikes, Precinct 1 Commissioner Ralph Trevey, Precinct 1 Constable Rodney Josey and Precinct 2 Constable Billy Joe Gannaway.

U.S. Rep. Charlie Stenholm and State Rep. David Counts were both returned to office. Stenholm carried Scurry County by only 24 votes in his win over San Angelo Republican Rudy Izzard. Stenholm garnered almost 52 percent of the vote in District 17.

Counts' opponent, Scott McLaughlin, who campaigned outside the Scurry County Coliseum Tuesday afternoon in search of last-minute voters, carried Scurry County despite losing by 772 votes in district totals.

In Scurry County, voters joined the rest of Texas to favor the Republican ticket for president and for U.S. Senate. Bob Dole and Jack Kemp collected 49 percent of the votes, 2,929 to 2,099, over Bill Clinton and Al Gore.

U.S. Senator Phil Gramm defeated school teacher Victor Morales, a Democrat, 3,684 to 2,014.

Joan Bunch, a deputy in the district clerk's office, will replace Frances Billingsley as county clerk. Bunch garnered 2,980 votes while Denise Beck, a former county employee, was close behind with 2,838 votes.

While most candidates will not take office until January, Bunch will become the new county clerk as soon as votes are canvassed Friday.

Limmer, a clothing retailer, focused on C.D. Gray's 12 years in office, in campaigning for the Precinct 3 commissioner's post. Gray carried only the Ira box as Limmer collected a total of 1,065 votes and Gray received 811.

The election of Limmer will put a majority of Republicans on the commissioners court for the first time in history. The county judge and Precinct 2 Commissioner Roy Idom are also Republicans while

Well cap attempt expected

Well control experts are expected to attempt to cap an oil well that continues to expel oil and gas some nine miles northwest of Clairemont, said Mobil Productions spokeswoman Beth Ann Rust this morning.

International Well Control Services from Houston has equipment on the site, and if weather conditions remain favorable, the capping attempt was to be made this afternoon on the well that blew out around 11:30 a.m. Monday.

Stenholm holds seat in Congress

Stenholm got 51.67 percent of the vote, or 98,736 to 90,475 for his opponent from San Angelo.

Scurry County voters also favored Stenholm, but by an even closer margin, 2,885 votes to 2,861.

"He turned in his keys and badge and the rest of his stuff and quit," Sheriff Keith Collier said this morning. "I guess you would say he resigned, but it wasn't a formal resignation."

Fritz, the Republican nominee, was defeated by fellow sheriff's office deputy Darren Jackson. Fritz reportedly cleaned out his office and parked his patrol car in front of the Law Enforcement Center Tuesday night.

Jackson said this morning he had not asked Fritz to leave, and Collier confirmed that. "In fact, I told people when I was campaigning that everybody (in the department) could stay." Jackson added.

"He was not asked to leave by anybody," said Collier. "He chose to resign of his own free will."

Jackson could not have fired Fritz, had he wanted to, Collier said. "He had a job through the end of the year, at least. And I imagine Darren would have kept him on after then, if he (Fritz) wanted to stay."

Collier, who has served eight terms but chose not to seek re-election, said the sheriff's office will be in good hands.

"I congratulate both Darren and Kerry for running a good, clean

Counts wins by a whisker

District 70 State Rep. David Counts held off a strong challenge by Big Spring's Scott McLaughlin to earn, by a whisker, a fifth term in the Texas Legislature.

Counts, a Knox City Democrat, had 17,776 votes compared to 17,004 in voting totals for the 12-county district.

David Counts

"I'm just pleased by the support I had. There were a lot of people working and people made the difference," Counts commented this morning on a cellular phone while en route to a hearing on funding for community colleges.

Counts finished the vote count with 51.11 percent despite an impressive 65 percent showing by McLaughin in Howard County.

In Scurry County, the Republican voting trend favored McLaughlin, who garnered 52 percent of the votes. Scurry voters favored McLaughlin 3,015 to 2,759.

McLaughlin hammered hard on term limits in the final days of the campaign. Numerous radio spots and two direct-mail advertisements blasted Counts, despite misspelling his name, for opposing term limits.

In Howard County, voters were hoping to elect a home-town state representative. McLaughlin polled 6,252 votes while Counts came away with 3,469.

Counts' sparsely populated home county of Knox gave Counts 63 percent of the votes, 957 to 551.

Each candidate carried six of the 12 counties. One of Counts' most impressive margins of victory came in Nolan County with 62 percent of the votes, 3,332 to 1,972.

Locals named to COG board

Snyder Mayor Pro-Tem Vernest Tippens and County Judge Ricky Fritz have been named to the executive committee of the West Central Texas Council of Governments.

This is the second year for Mrs. Tippens to serve on the executive committee and the first for Fritz. Both were on the board of directors last year.

Mrs. Tippens, along with Sweetwater commissioner Larry May and Brownwood council member W.P. Coursey, represents cities with a population of more than 10,000 but less than 100,000.

The elections were made Monday evening in the Abilene Civic Center.

GOP gains one seat in Texas

DALLAS (AP) — The elections are over. Let the elections begin.

As Republicans celebrated a gain of at least one seat in Texas' Congressional delegation, both sides hunkered down to face another month of campaigning.

Court-ordered redistricting meant that races in which no candidate got a majority would be forced into a Dec. 10 runoff.

Observers anticipate a flood of outside interest and money in campaigns for the Houston-area 25th District of Democratic freshman Ken Bentsen, the 9th District held by Republican Steve Stockman in East Texas, and the 8th District, where two Republicans — state Rep. Kevin Brady and physician Gene Fontenot — were the survivors from Tuesday.

Republicans, who hoped they could overtake the Democrats' 18-12 advantage in the delegation, captured two Democratic seats outright: The redrawn 5th District vacated by John Bryant and the unaffected 12th District left open by Pete Geren.

But the GOP failed to capitalize on opportunities in East Texas' 1st and 2nd Districts, left open by Jim Chapman and the showy Charlie Wilson.

In the hotly competitive race for Stockman's seat, a high-dollar campaign by labor leaders helped push Democrat Nick Lampson to an early lead.

The controversial freshman recovered from a 7,000-vote disadvantage to edge Lampson by almost 4,000 votes. Lampson finished with 83,733 votes, or 44 percent, to Stockman's 88,002, or 46 percent. Democrat Geraldine Sam also ran.

State Democratic Party chairman Bill White said redistricting hurt his party.

"If it weren't for the bizarre election procedure ordered by the court, we would have won the 9th, 25th and 5th outright," White said.

On paper, Republicans still could pull even with the Democrats. Fifteen Democrats and 12 Republicans won. But one of the three runoffs — the 25th District — appears likely to go Democratic. Another pits two Republicans against each other.

Rep. Mac Thornberry, a freshman Republican from the Panhandle's 13th District, said his victory over Democrat Samuel Brown Silverman showed voters' distaste for the Democrats' pitch.

Cheerleaders suspended after plot to sicken fellow member

BAINBRIDGE ISLAND, Wash. (AP) — Two high school cheerleaders who felt another squad member didn't measure up to their standards are accused of spiking the girl's drink to make her too sick to cheer.

The Bainbridge High School girls slipped vomit-inducing ipecac syrup into the cheerleader's drink at a poster-painting party prior to the football team's home opener Sept. 20, said Ann Noble, mother of the head cheerleader.

"When I arrived at the game, I felt drugged and dizzy," the girl said in a statement to police.

She went on to cheer through the game and attended a cheerleaders' car wash the next day.

The two cheerleaders accused of the act were suspended from the squad. None of the cheerleaders was identified by name.

"Not one of them has called us to say they're sorry," said Kathleen Sullivan, mother of the targeted cheerleader. "It was very brutal, in my opinion, and it was evil. We're very sad about it."

Police said the incident did not appear serious and may have been just a prank among school chums.

But Noble disagreed.

"They wanted to put her out of the game because they didn't think she was a good enough cheerleader," she told The Seattle Times.

'We'll be watching you'...

Perot's promise to other major parties:

DALLAS (AP) — Despite finishing a distant third in his latest presidential bid, Ross Perot promised that he and the Reform Party he founded will be back.

"Take a little break and then we'll climb back in the ring," he instructed a crowd of supporters who gathered late Tuesday to hear his concession speech.

Perot, who did not get a single electoral vote, promised to keep an eye on the Democrats and Republicans who will be going to Washington.

"We're going to have to stand at the gate and keep the pressure on, and we will," said Perot, who throughout his 11-week campaign tried to focus America's attention on the national debt, its trade deficits and the impact of special-interest dollars on the two-party system.

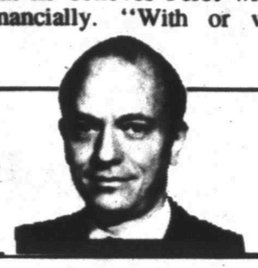

"As I've said a thousand times to both parties, when they say, 'What does it take to make all of you people go away?' — and that is, 'Do all of this, and then we don't have anything to talk about,'" Perot said.

Perot gathered about 8 percent of the vote, a significant drop from the 19 percent he received in 1992, when he ran as an independent candidate. This time the maverick Texas billionaire founded and financed a fledgling third party.

Perot's showing will allow the Reform Party to have continuing ballot access in about two dozen states, according to campaign coordinator Russ Verney.

In the remaining states, said Verney, the party will go back to work at petition-gathering to qualify for the ballot.

"It's now going to be up to each state," said Verney, adding that he believes Perot will help financially. "With or without him, it's going to be done."

Perot had hoped to garner 25 percent of the popular vote nationally to assure the Reform Party the same federal financing as the Democrats and Republicans in future elections.

Five plead guilty to fed drug charges

LUBBOCK (AP) — Five people pleaded guilty Tuesday to federal charges related to a Lubbock-based cocaine and money laundering ring operating from a nightclub here.

Joe Paul Galindo, 25, and Rojelio Galindo, 31, each pleaded guilty to possession of cocaine with intent to distribute, money laundering and participating in a continuing criminal enterprise.

One of the money laundering counts relates to the purchase of the Pure Tejano club by the Galindos using $38,000 in cash.

Joe Paul Galindo also pleaded guilty to possession of a firearm with an obliterated serial number. Three others — Angel Blanquez of El Paso, Armando Valderaz of Southland and Lisa Villegas of Lubbock — pleaded guilty to lesser charges.

A sentencing date wasn't announced. The Galindos could face up to life in prison and fines in excess of $19 million.

The ring lasted from around 1993 to last July, U.S. Attorney Paul E. Coggins said. The indictment charged a total of 17 individuals and resulted in forfeitures valued at about $470,000 in cash, firearms and vehicles.

True, if you and I were bidding, we would reach three no-trump, which will come home with an overtrick. But the 4-4 heart fit is difficult to avoid.

West can defeat four hearts in two ways. Yet in both cases he must stick to his original plan; he must not switch. He can lead clubs three times or play spades four times.

In both cases, if declarer plugs away at trumps, the last play, the third club or the fourth spade, promotes East's heart jack as the defense's fourth trick.

Note that, on a club lead, if declarer throws all his spades on dummy's diamonds, the defenders get four trump tricks: two diamond ruffs, one club ruff and the heart jack.

If you are following a promising defense, don't allow yourself to be blown off course. If you are right, you will see a sunny smile on partner's face at the end of the deal.

Keep on truckin'

By Phillip Alder

Which subject does everyone discuss? Right — the weather. Kin Hubbard said, "Don't knock the weather; nine-tenths of the people couldn't start a conversation if it didn't change once in a while." But I think the number is closer to ten-tenths.

When defending at the bridge table, you sometimes keep plugging away at one suit. Other times, you get a trick in one suit and then try your luck elsewhere. The hard part, of course, is judging which is the better approach on any given deal.

How should West plan the defense against four hearts on this deal?

North made a negative double, showing the values to bid and four hearts. (North might have five hearts, but only if too weak to bid two hearts.)

Thank You

for your votes and the confidence you have shown in me. I appreciate all the support I have been given and I will do my best as your County Clerk.

Data: Tamoxifen regime best hope to combat breast cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two studies on the drug tamoxifen, which should be used for no more than five years, provide important new insight into how to treat breast cancer at its earliest stages, experts say.

The studies, being published today in the Journal of the National Cancer Institute, found that the lifesaving benefit of tamoxifen lasts for at least a decade — if the five-year limit is followed. They showed that women who took the drug for five years after early breast cancer surgery had up to an 18 percent better chance of surviving without relapse than patients who did not take the drug.

One study showed that taking the drug for longer than five years conferred no survival advantage and could risk other disorders.

"These studies are extremely valuable," said Dr. Sandra M. Swain, a cancer specialist at the Comprehensive Breast Center in Washington. She said the findings now leave little question about the value of tamoxifen.

"In clinics all over the world, everyone will be using tamoxifen for five years now for sure," she said. "That is of major significance."

Tamoxifen, sold under the name Nolvadex, is prescribed as additional therapy after breast cancer surgery for women diagnosed with early stage disease.

A study by the National Surgical Adjuvant Breast and Bowel Project, a major contractor of the National Cancer Institute, gives statistical support for an NCI clinical alert issued last year that recommended tamoxifen not be used beyond five years.

That study began in 1982 and has involved more than 2,800 women.

In results published this week, the study found that women with early breast cancer, who were treated surgically and then took tamoxifen for five years, had a 12 percent better disease-free survival rate after 10 years than did women who did not take the drug after surgery.

The study found, however, that "no additional benefit was obtained from the administration of tamoxifen beyond five years."

It also found a slight increase in blood clots and endometrial cancer among women who continued the drug beyond five years when compared to women who stopped at five years.

It has been my privilege to serve as your county commissioner for the past 12 years. I am proud of the progress that this county has made, and I am grateful that you have allowed me to be a part of its history.

I particularly want to thank the citizens of Precinct 3 for their support over the years. I wish the Scurry County Commissioners Court and its citizens continued success.

Sincerely,
C.D. Gray Jr.

Lady Tigers lose hard fought Area playoff

By Brent Taylor
Sports Editor

ALPINE — It was everything one might expect in a volleyball playoff match,—excitement, two evenly matched teams and a three-game match with each game going to the wire.

That is what the fans from Snyder that made the 250-mile trip here to watch the Lady Tigers and El Paso Bowie Lady Bears saw in the Area playoff. The only disappointment was that when the excitement had subsided and reality set in, Snyder's volleyball season had come to an end with a 12-15, 15-10, 12-15 defeat to Bowie.

"We made more errors than they did and that was the difference in the match," said a tired SHS volleyball coach Patty Grimmett Wednesday morning, "There were three really tough games. We played hard and never gave up. Both teams had to fight for every point."

The Lady Tigers trailed most of the first game, but came back to take the lead at 10-9. Bowie came back to tie it at 12 and would score the final three points to take a 1-0 advantage in the best of three.

The second game saw Snyder jump out to a 4-0 lead en route to a 15-10 win to even the match, 1-1. The Lady Tigers never trailed in the game two.

The third and decisive game was a see-saw marathon that lasted 45 minutes. With the game tied at two, Snyder scored three consecutive points to take a 5-3 lead, but Bowie would come back to tie it up again at six.

The third game would also be tied at 10, before Bowie would get two points to take a 12-10 advantage. Snyder would make it a point advantage for Bowie 13-12, before the Lady Bears scored the final two points to take the match and Area trophy.

Lila King led Snyder in service points with 10. Joanie Wemken added nine while sister Raechele Wemken got eight. Amanda Huff was credited with seven, Shawn Purcell four and Tiffany Garza one. Joanie Wemken had two aces and Purcell one.

"These girls have come a long way this year," said Grimmett. "The seniors will be missed."

Playing in their last match were seniors Purcell, Mary Higby, Garza, Darla Blackwell, Joanie Wemken and Raechele Wemken.

"I would also like to thank all the fans who made the trip to Alpine. Our fan support was great."

The coach is already looking down the line for next year. "I'm optimistic about the future. We have a lot of juniors who played well for us this year. I'm looking forward to next year."

The Lady Tigers finished the season with a 25-8 record.

In other playoff action from Tuesday, Lamesa moves on with a 15-11, 15-6 win over Pecos. The Lady Tors will now play Dumas, which took a two-game match over San Angelo Lake View, 15-5, 15-1.

Springtown and Azle will meet in the regional semi-finals after Springtown downed Brownwood, 15-12, 15-3, and Azle took a 15-12, 15-3 decision away from Fort Worth Western Hills.

Hereford will face Bowie, after crushing Andrews, 15-6, 15-3. Sherman advanced with a 15-9, 15-7 win over Weatherford.

THE HIT — The season came to an end Tuesday for the Snyder High School Lady Tigers in the Area round of the state playoffs at the hands of the Lady Bears from El Paso Bowie, 15-12, 10-15, 15-12. The match was the only one in Class 4A, Region 1 that took three games to decide. Joanie Wemken gets the spike for Snyder while Tiffany Garza (12), Amanda Huff (9) and Lila King look on. Mavericks blow big 18-point lead, 100-96

TORONTO (AP) — For nearly three quarters, the Dallas Mavericks played with a certain swagger.

But after the Toronto Raptors erased an 18-point deficit to down the Mavericks 100-96 Tuesday night, Dallas head coach Jim Cleamons said he and his players walked "out of here with our tails between our legs."

"We started to celebrate during the game," Cleamons said, "and we didn't take care of business."

Walt Williams, one of several offseason acquisitions by the youthful Raptors, showed the offensive skill that prompted the club to sign him, scoring a 34 points.

His 3-point shot with a minute left in the third quarter cut the Dallas lead to 79-68 and sparked a 24-5 run that culminated with Hubert Davis' basket that gave Toronto an 89-84 lead with 6:41 to play.

Williams fouled out with 1:51 left in the fourth quarter, sending Jim Jackson to the line. Jackson, who scored 20 points, hit two free throws for a 96-95 Mavericks lead before Damon Stoudamire's running jumper put the Raptors up 97-96 with 45 seconds left.

Chris Gatling, who led the Mavericks with 22 points and 11 rebounds, was called for traveling, and Stoudamire, who finished with 28 points, hit the second of two free throws for a 98-96 lead with 20 seconds remaining.

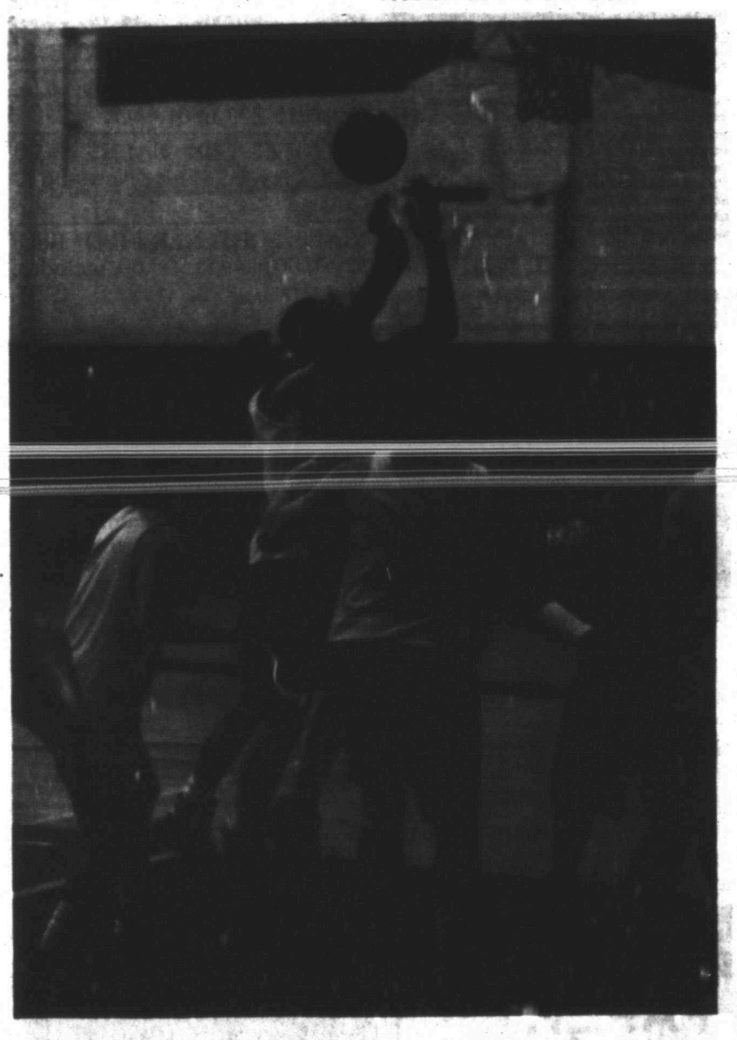

Playing for the last shot, Dallas inbounded to Jason Kidd, who passed to Jackson.

His 3-point attempt hit the rim before Kidd outmuscled several Raptors to grab the rebound. However, he couldn't put in an off-balance shot. Marcus Camby grabbed the rebound with six seconds left and went to the foul line for two free throws that gave the Raptors a 100-96 lead.

While Camby has yet to hit his stride offensively, he made an impact against the Mavericks with his shot-blocking skills.

"The coaches told me we needed a bit of a spark (in the third quarter) so I went out, got a block and it took off from there," Camby said.

Carlos Rogers, who led the Raptors with 12 rebounds, said a halftime tongue-lashing by rookie head coach Darrell Walker had something to do with Toronto's second-half turnaround.

FIGHT FOR REBOUND — The Snyder Tigers hit the hardwood Tuesday afternoon in a three-way scrimmage with Abilene High and Breckenridge. Jimmy Taylor goes up for the rebound while being surrounded by Abilene Eagles. Snyder will scrimmage Monterey at 1 p.m. Saturday in Lubbock. The first regular season game is Tuesday in the SHS gym as San Angelo Central comes to town for a 7:30 p.m. encounter. The JV will play at 6 p.m. (SDN Staff Photo By Brent Taylor)

Injured Spurs pulloff victory over Cavaliers

CLEVELAND (AP) — The injury-riddled San Antonio Spurs sure needed this victory.

Dominique Wilkins and Vernon Maxwell needed those points, too.

With David Robinson among the injured, Wilkins and Maxwell took over in the second half as the Spurs erased a 17-point deficit to beat the Cleveland Cavaliers 74-68 Tuesday night.

It was San Antonio's seventh straight victory over Cleveland, but the Spurs' first this season in three games. The Spurs played again without Robinson, Chuck Person and Will Perdue due to injuries.

"We really needed to grind out a win, and we did," Spurs coach Bob Hill said.

Cleveland had won its first two games on the road, but it was a different story at home.

"We were bad defensively, and we were worse offensively," Cavs coach Mike Fratello said. "That kind of sums up the whole thing."

Wilkins and Maxwell became the stars of San Antonio's unlikely contingency plan, combining for 16 second-half points and hitting key baskets in the Spurs' crucial 30-13 run.

"It felt good to contribute, because I've been struggling," said Wilkins, who scored all eight of his points during a three-minute stint in the second half.

Wilkins had not only been struggling, he'd been in Greece before signing with the Spurs on Oct. 4. He hit a jumper and two straight 3-pointers as San Antonio cut Cleveland's lead to 53-50 with 1:17 left in the third.

"He's never been afraid to shoot," observed Terrell Brandon, who had 21 points and led Cleveland for the third straight game. "He's a great, prolific scorer, one of the best of all time."

Maxwell, with his second team since being waived by the Houston Rockets in 1995, scored seven straight in the middle of the fourth quarter, including a long 3-pointer with the shot clock at 1 second left to tie it at 63.

The ball bounced free at half-court, and Maxwell sprinted over to grab it. He glanced at the clock at the other end, then spun and chucked from 40 feet for a swish.

"I'm shooting too close," Maxwell said. "So maybe I need to step back a little more."

The Cavaliers had the second-lowest point total in team history and shot 37 percent (29-of-78). Until the bitter end, it looked like neither team would reach 70 points.

Houston Rockets give Kings problems with ball control

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Once again, the Sacramento Kings didn't take care of the ball, and the Houston Rockets had a lot to do with it.

Hakeem Olajuwon scored 34 points and Charles Barkley had 16, and they also led a defensive effort that forced 29 turnovers in a 102-80 win over the Kings on Tuesday night.

"We came through with another very good defensive effort, holding a team on their home court to 80," Houston coach Rudy Tomjanovich said. "I like the way our effort is going defensively. The only way to a championship is you have got to live and believe in defense."

Houston, which forced 27 turnovers in beating the Kings last Friday, again pressured Sacramento into one mistake after another.

The Rockets wound up scoring 31 points off the Kings' 29 turnovers, one night after holding Utah to a franchise-low in scoring in Houston's 75-72 victory.

"We were helping each other out on defense, putting pressure on the ball, and that made a lot of difference," Olajuwon said. "Our aggressive defense is what took them out of the game."

Sacramento coach Garry St. Jean said he has seen it all before. He described the home-opening loss as a virtual replay of Sacramento's dismal season-opening effort at Houston.

"I'd like to use the same quotes I had from Friday night because this was about the same thing, except worse," he said. "We've got no one to blame but ourselves. There is no excuse in turning the ball over at that ratio."

Mahmoud Abdul-Rauf led the Kings with 16 points. Brian Grant and Corliss Williamson had 14 points apiece. Williamson also committed a team-high six turnovers.

"We just had too many turnovers," Abdul-Rauf said. "Over the past three games, we haven't been taking care of the ball the way we should. We need to get on the court and get things done the way we know we can, and that's the bottom line."

Mitch Richmond had 11 points, but missed 10 of 14 shots from the field. Sacramento also managed to make just one of four 3-point shots, while Houston converted seven of 18, with Matt Maloney and Clyde Drexler hitting two each.

Texas backs Dole in good night for GOP candidates

Republican candidates swept 10 of 10 statewide races on Tuesday's ballot.

Texans handed Republican Sen. Phil Gramm a third term and bucked the national trend by backing Bob Dole for president.

They gave Republicans four seats on the Texas Supreme Court, continuing a 7-2 majority; gave them three seats on the Court of Criminal Appeals for their first majority on that bench this century; and re-elected Republican Railroad Commissioner Carole Keeton Rylander.

"This is an important milestone for Republicans of this great state," said Bush, former managing general partner of the Texas Rangers. "We won every single statewide race."

Democrats will lose at least one of their 18 U.S. House seats after three runoff elections next month.

The Democrats did hold control of the Texas House, but by a narrower majority.

The battle for the Texas Senate continues. Early today, each party held 14 Senate seats with one race still undecided. Two more seats remain up for grabs — in a West Texas runoff and an East Texas special election that will be called to replace Sen. Jim Turner, D-Crockett, who is going to Congress.

Bush thanked Texans for backing Dole, despite President Clinton's re-election, and noted that Gramm received another huge victory margin.

"We're a solid Republican state. In the face of what appears to be a national tide the other way, Texas stood strong for conservative principles," Bush said.

Democratic officials said they remain optimistic.

State party Chairman Bill White said the GOP's much-discussed effort to take over the state House was repulsed. And, he vowed, "We shall maintain a majority of our congressional delegation, even though the national Republican Party poured vast sums of money into Texas in the last week in order to retain the speakership for Newt Gingrich."

In the top Texas race, the Cinderella hopes of school teacher Victor Morales were dashed as his famed pickup truck turned back into a pumpkin. Gramm got 55 percent of the vote.

Gramm put his faith in a tried-and-tested message: "Republicans believe that you can make better decisions than the government can."

As a presidential battleground, Texas traditionally has been crucial to Democrats. Bill Clinton in 1992 was the first Democrat this century elected president without carrying the state, a feat he repeated Tuesday.

Texas hasn't gone Democratic in a presidential election since Jimmy Carter won in 1976, and state GOP Chairman Tom Pauken saw that as affirmation that Texans remain conservative.

"What happened in Texas is that people voted against Bill Clinton. His politics and philosophy never took in Texas," Pauken said.

Reform Party candidate Ross Perot was on the Texas ballot, too, as an independent. But he got only about 7 percent of the vote.

In the state's 30 congressional races, Republicans were positioned for a net gain of at least one seat.

Incumbents did well. Twenty congressmen — nine Republicans and 11 Democrats — were re-elected. Four Democrats and three Republicans won open seats.

Two adandoned girls returned to foster care

DALLAS (AP) — Child Protective Services officials are trying to determine how two young girls were able to slip away from a foster home where they were placed after their mother left them in a warehouse frequented by homeless people.

The children, aged 4 and 5, apparently had been on the street for only a short time Saturday morning when a woman saw them at a bus stop in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas and took them with her to her job at Baylor University Medical Center.

The woman called police, who returned the girls to CPS officials.

The agency has placed the girls with a new foster care provider, CPS program director Christopher Riddick said Tuesday.

The original foster care provider noticed the girls were missing and called police about the time the motorist found them, said Riddick, who said he was concerned the children were able to leave on their own. said.

"They indicated they missed their mother and were attempting to find her," he said. "They had seen her on TV and were attempting to go and locate her.

"For this age, it's very uncommon for them (runaways) to have gotten so far. It happens more with our older kids. These children are very street-savvy. They've had to be to survive."

Four jailed Tuesday, three on felony charges

Four people were arrested Tuesday, including three on grand jury indictments.

Scott Allen Maynard, 38, of 2807 Ave. I, was arrested at 10:13 a.m. in the 2100 block of 26th Street following a grand jury indictment for an Aug. 23 offense of possession of a firearm by a felon. Bond was set at $5,000 and he remains in jail.

Diane Iglehart, 25, of P.O. Box 763, was arrested at 3:40 p.m. in the 1500 block of 20th Street on a grand jury indictment for writing a fraudulent check in the amount of $250 on Oct. 9. Bond was set at $5,000 and she has been released from jail after making bond.

Eddie Glenn Mills, 40, of 3011 Ave. N, was arrested at 5:37 p.m. in the 3000 block of Avenue N on a grand jury indictment for theft. He is charged with stealing a vehicle from a local business on Oct. 6, stripping it and then selling the parts. Bond was set at $5,000 and he remains in jail.

Officers arrested a 43-year-old male at 8:32 a.m. at the adult probation office on six warrants from Nolan County for the issuance of bad checks and a theft by check warrant from Stonewall County.

In other activity, Rick Kemp notified officers at 7:28 a.m. that his vehicle had been egged while it was parked in the 2800 block of 38th Street. An offense report for criminal mischief was submitted.

A woman notified officers at 3:40 p.m. that sometime in October she had lost an envelope containing $1,000 in a local business.

A woman notified deputies at 6:08 p.m. that someone had been putting shovels and other items in a storage shed at a residence on CR 4126.

Claudette Costillo requested an officer at 6:43 p.m. at 2104 41st St. in reference to a broken window on a house. An offense report for criminal trespass was submitted.

At 6:58 p.m., the fire department responded to 3400 College Ave. to a reported pickup being on fire. The 1983 Ford, owned by Ann Cody, received moderate damage to the engine compartment. No injuries were reported.

A gas drive-off of $10 was reported from the Plaza Truck Stop at 7:37 p.m.

A report of three male juvenile shoplifters was made at 10:43 p.m. from Allsup's.

At 7:21 this morning, the fire department responded to a reported fire at 2404 Beaumont. A person was burning debris in violation of city ordinance 501, and the department extinguished the fire.

SWCD Report

"As a result of the 1996 Farm Bill the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) with headquarters in Snyder, along with 3,000 other SWCDs in the nation, has been given the charge to lead the way in developing programs and initiatives to improve soil and water resources at the local level," said Jimmy McMillan chairman of the SWCD.

"After years of applying top-down program management approaches in federal conservation progams, the new 1996 Farm Bill establishes a locally driven process, coordinated by conservation districts, to guide the state and nation's agricultual conservation efforts. It provides opportunities for local people to become involved in assessing local resource needs, setting priorities, developing conservation policy, providing technical support, accepting program applications and approving conservation plans upon which cost-sharing will be based," McMillan added.

According to McMillan, the process deals with developing a list of priority areas and concerns for the long-range Farm Bill program for fiscal year 1998 and beyond.

To enact the Farm Bill on the local level, the Upper Colorado SWCD, in partnership with the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service, will conduct a work group meeting with its conservation partners and interested persons or organizations on Thursday, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. in the Union Community Center. The Center is located 8 miles west of Snyder on U.S. Hwy. 180.

The purpose of the meeting is to conduct a local conservation needs assessment, establish local priorities and make program recommendations on what problems the SWCD should address in future years. Local recommendations will then flow to the state level where the distict's various technical issues, resources priority areas and progam policies will be reviewed and integrated into a state, regional and national program.

"We are really excited about the opportunities the new Farm Bill offers because Congress is seeking our leadership to assist our community in carrying out a cooperative, locally driven, incentive based conservation program that wisely invests public resources to protect local natural resources," said McMillan.

I would like to thank everyone for the tremendous outpouring of support shown to me during my campaign for County Attorney. My family and I sincerely appreciate your encouragement. I would especially like to thank my wife, Donna, and my son, Travis, for their patience, support and understanding during the past few months.

Summit set at Kerrville Nov. 14-15

KERRVILLE — It's billed as a working summit. Some 300 envrionmentalists, agriculturists and others will meet Nov. 14-15 at the YO Holiday Inn here to sort out differences and common interests concerning natural resources policy for the 21st century.

The first-of-its kind summit will host the Audubon Society and Nature Conservancy along with the Texas Farm Bureau and numerous farmers and ranchers. The hope is to come up with some action plans that could lead to efforts to conserve land, water and wildlife resources while respecting private property owners, according to organizers of Summit III: Environmental and Natural Resource Policy for the 21st Century.

Dr. Bob Brown, Texas A&M University wildlife and fisheries sciences head and Dr. Bob Wilson, Texas A&M University rangeland ecology and management department head, are co-chairman of the summit.

To register, request the Summit III brochure by calling 409-847-9066, Texas A&M University's Agriculture Program Office of External Affairs. Hotel reservations may be made by calling the YO Holiday at 800-531-2800 inside Texas or 210-257-4440.

CFSA Report

By Joe Hefner, CFSA Executive Director

The 1996 election for representatives to the Scurry County Farm Service Agency (FSA) will be held on Dec. 2. Ballots will be mailed to eligible voters by Nov. 18 and must be returned to the county FSA office or postmarked by Dec. 2.

County FSA committees are elected by eligible producers within a Local Administrative Area (LAA). Scurry County is divided into 3 LAAs: LAA 1 is comprised of all farms located north of U.S. Hwy. 180; LAA 2 is south of U.S. Hwy. 180 and west of State Hwy. 208; LAA 3 is south of U.S. Hwy. 180 and east of State Hwy 208. Producers in LAA 2 will be voting for a representative during the 1996 election.

Committee members are elected to a 3-year term and are eligible to serve 3 consecutive terms. The current FSA committee is made of of Johnny Eicke, LAA 1; Harold Hester, LAA 2; Doug Foster, LAA 3. Harold Hester is eligible for re-election.

The election of responsible agricultural producers is important to all farmers and ranchers. Farm programs administered by county FSA committes include commodity price support loans and payments; establishment of allotments, yields and marketing quotas; farmer loans; conservation programs; incentive, indemnity and disaster payments for some commodities, other farm disaster assistance. In addition, county FSA committes hire County Executive Directors.

Farm owners, operators, tenants and sharecroppers, of legal voting age, can vote if they are eligible to take part in any FSA program. Check with the local FSA office for voting requirements.

Before ballots are mailed out, a slate of nominees must be completed. The ballot will contain the names of all eligible producers from LAA 2 which were nominated by other farmers or ranchers in LAA 2. A petition form signed by the nominee is needed to nominate a farmer candidate. This form includes a statement that the candidate agrees to serve if elected. Nomination forms must be received by the county office by Oct. 28. Blank nomination petitions are available at the local FSA office. Almost anyone eligible to take part in a county FSA program may be a candidate for the committee.

For more information on the 1996 FSA County Committee election process, contact the Scurry County FSA Office by calling 915-573-0171. The office is located at 5309 Big Spring Hwy.

This program is conducted on a nondiscriminatory basis without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex, marital status or disability.

White Tail Deer hunting regulation changes

By James E. Lionberger
Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department would like to advise landowners, land managers and hunters of white-tailed deer hunting regulation changes beginning with the 1996-97 hunting season.

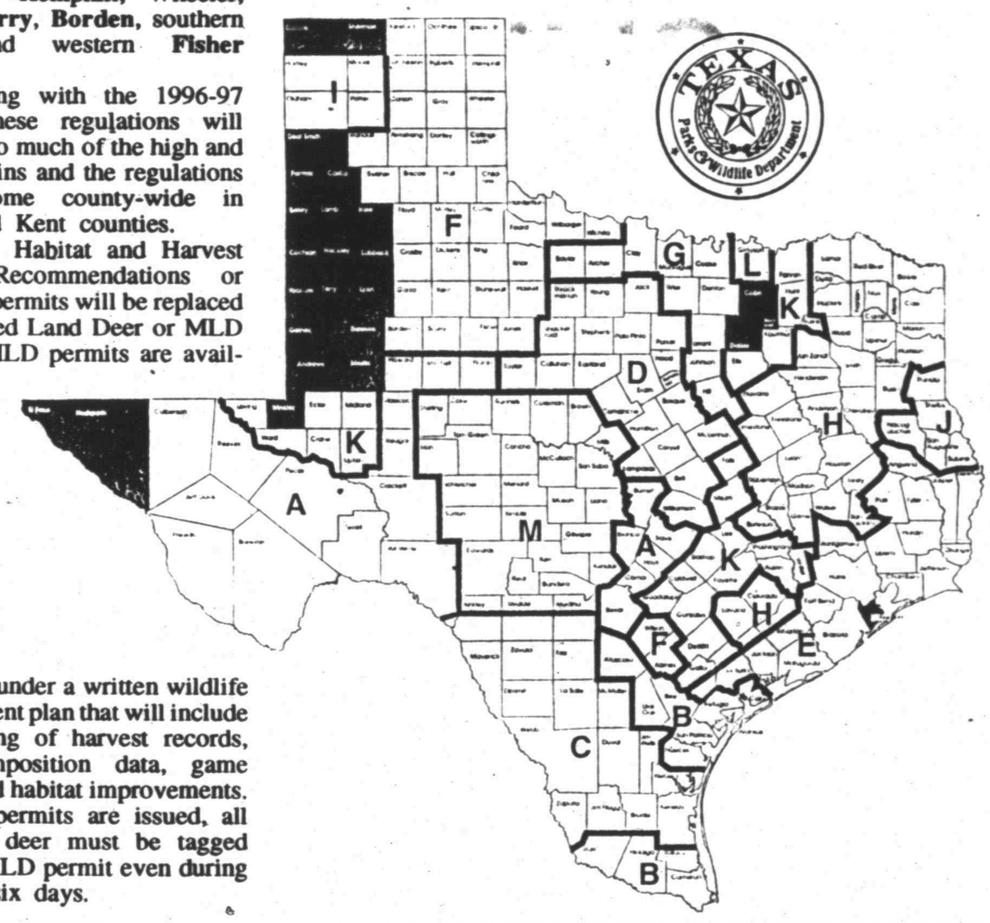

The regulation changes pertain primarily to the harvest of antlerless white-tailed deer. During the 1995-96 hunting season, a bag limit of one buck and two antlerless deer, with antlerless deer harvest allowed only during the first six days of the season or by WHHAR permit was in effect for Lipscomb, Hemphill, Wheeler, Gray, Scurry, Borden, southern Kent and western Fisher counties.

Beginning with the 1996-97 season, these regulations will expand into much of the high and rolling plains and the regulations will become county-wide in Fisher and Kent counties.

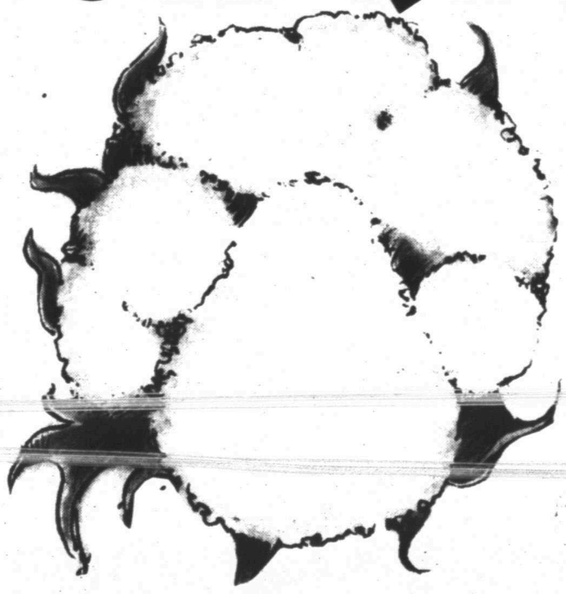

Wildlife Habitat and Harvest Annual Recommendations or WHHAR permits will be replaced by Managed Land Deer or MLD permits. MLD permits are available only under a written wildlife management plan that will include the keeping of harvest records, herd composition data, game census and habitat improvements. If MLD permits are issued, all antlerless deer must be tagged with an MLD permit even during the first six days.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist are available for technical assistance in the Snyder area contact Jim Lionberger wildlife biologist at (915) 573-9864 or contact Danny Swepston district wildlife biologist at (806) 655-3782 for the wildlife biologist closest to you.

Refer to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department 1996-97 Outdoor Annual for information regarding county specific regulations.

Voters say no to affirmative action

By The Associated Press

Two years ago, California shook up the nation with a vote targeting illegal immigrants. This election, it tackled another volatile issue, striking down preferences to minorities and women in public jobs and education. Once again, the tremors have begun.

Tuesday's ballots were packed with hundreds of issues, including 90 initiatives created by citizen petition drives. Those included efforts to give parents protected rights over their children, tax sugar to clean up the Everglades and give animals a fighting chance in hunting. Old standards — on term limits, gambling and campaign financing — also jammed the ballots.

But the single item that captured the national imagination was California's plan to dismantle most of its affirmative action programs.

Voters in the nation's most populous state overwhelmingly approved Proposition 209, which bans racial and sex preferences in public hiring, contracting and college enrollments. With 92 percent of precincts reporting, the measure was endorsed 55 percent to 45 percent.

But that vote, rather than quashing debate, seems only to set the stage for the next act in this multimillion-dollar drama: legal challenges, expected as early as today.

Christopher to resign as Secretary of State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Warren Christopher has informed President Clinton he will resign his post in the Cabinet, an administration official told The Associated Press today. An announcement was expected Thursday.

Christopher's resignation would be the first in a series of departures from the Cabinet as Clinton prepares for a second term.

Christopher, 71, informed the president of his decision Tuesday night in Little Rock, Ark., as they savored Clinton's re-election victory, said the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Speculation on a successor has centered on Anthony Lake, the president's national security assistant; former Senate Democratic leader George Mitchell, and Madeleine Albright, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Richard Holbrooke, who helped negotiate a settlement of the war in Bosnia and is a former U.S. ambassador to Germany and assistant secretary of state for Europe and East Asia, is considered a long-shot possibility.

In four travel-wearying years on the job, Christopher oversaw a foreign policy that succeeded in freezing North Korea's nuclear weapons program, ended a bloody war in Bosnia and encouraged Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organization to reach interim agreements.

He has been a low-profile secretary of state, using quiet persuasion instead of table-thumping to get his point across.

Defense secretary gives Clinton notice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary William Perry has told President Clinton he intends to resign but will stay in office until a new Pentagon chief has been chosen, military sources said today.

The defense secretary told Clinton that he will stay "a few more months," said the source, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

It was unclear exactly when the conversation took place. The source said he believed the two spoke this morning.

The defense secretary was the second senior Clinton cabinet minister after Secretary of State Warren Christopher to tell Clinton he was resigning as a second Clinton term begins. An administration source said an announcement on Christopher would be made Thursday.

Perry was en route to Omaha, Neb., for a visit to the Strategic Command headquarters, which is in charge of the nation's nuclear forces during wartime.

Perry informed his staff of the decision this morning, said the source, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Well cap to be attempted

The Houston firm will attempt to cut the casing off at the well head and then cap it.

Two houses near the site in the Salt Creek field have been evacuated as have two deer camps in that area. The closest home was two miles away and the other one was five miles away from the blow out. Some 14 people in all have been moved from the site, said Kent County Sheriff Charles Alderman.

Alderman, who was re-elected sheriff Tuesday by a margin of 354 to 114, said this morning that Mobil officials had told him that the well was still blowing vapor and oil to the top of the well service unit which currently remains on the site.

"I may not even go out there today," said the sheriff. "It was a tough campaign and I might just take the day off."

All roads leading to the site remained closed this morning.

The Kent County Sheriff's Office closed Highway 208 some eight miles north of Clairemont and the intersection of FM 2320 and FM 1081.

"We've got nine miles of (FM) 2320 closed," said the sheriff.

Well #E-313 was being serviced by a work-over unit when oil and gas began to flow up the drill pipe.

"There were no injuries or a fire," said Rust, adding that all regulatory agencies were promptly notified of the incident.

Mississippi governor is critically injured

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Gov. Kirk Fordice was critically injured when his sport utility vehicle veered off an interstate, flipped over several times as it rolled down an embankment and caught fire.

Fordice, 62, was in critical condition today with bruises to his heart, lung and liver. He also suffered fractured ribs, a collapsed left lung, a nearly severed left ear and cuts on his left shoulder in the crash late Tuesday afternoon.

"It's critical and we're not saying that to blow this out of proportion," said Dr. Keith Thomas, the governor's attending physician. "It's going to be a long course in the hospital for him."

Trevey and Precinct 4 Commissioner Jerry Gannaway are Democrats.

In what some believed would be a tight race, Cooley picked up 3,406 votes in Scurry County and 227 in Borden County for a total of 3,633 in the 132nd Judical District. Former DA Pete Greene polled 2,445 votes in Scurry and 98 in Borden County for a total of 2,543. Cooley was appointed DA last summer by Gov. George W. Bush.

Michael W. Hartman, a law partner with Cooley, won the county attorney's post, 3,635 to 2,073, over Democrat Marvin Sentell.

Some 5,934 votes were cast in Scurry County, more than half of them in the extended early voting period. The turnout represented 55.6 percent of the 10,6712 eligible voters.

There were 493 straight Republican tickets voted while straight Democratic ballots cast totaled 763.

Interim County Clerk Jenna Vee Miller said voting went smoothly Tuesday. There was difficulty with the vote tabulation machine in the early voting box, but that problem was resolved before the polls closed.

Gramm defeats Cinderella candidate

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — In the U.S. Senate race that became a Cinderella story for Democrat Victor Morales, it was Republican incumbent Phil Gramm who walked away with the glass slipper.

Gramm coasted to a third term Tuesday night, taking 3,027,628 votes, or 55 percent, with 99 percent of the precincts counted. Morales had 2,428,985, or 44 percent. Two other candidates split the remainder.

Morales, the political newcomer who tried to ride to victory in a pickup truck and on a shoestring budget, remained unconventional to the end, refusing to concede defeat.

"It's not over," he promised an enthusiastic crowd at a downtown Austin hotel hours after Gramm was declared the winner.

He also urged his supporters to stay involved in the political process.

"Please don't go back to cynicism, don't go back to apathy," Morales said. "This race was about our right to take it on. No matter what the results, hold your head up high."

Branded Goliath in a battle between the power of incumbency and the lure of the little guy, Gramm declared the little guy had in fact won this contest.

"I'm David, the Goliath is big government," he said. "David won, because the issue is government and the role of government in a free society. My opponent wanted more government. I wanted more freedom, and I think that's the choice.

"The people of Texas entrusted us with the future of our country, with the future of our children. So help me God, I will not let you down."

It was a race that fairy tales are made of.

Morales became the Cinderella of the campaign season after defeating two veteran congressmen to win the Democratic Senate nomination.

The 46-year-old grandson of Mexican immigrants, Morales was the state's first Hispanic U.S. Senate candidate and energized Hispanic voters to register in record numbers.

Morales ran as the common man and portrayed Gramm as a Washington insider who catered to special interest groups.

He refused contributions from political action committees and vowed to make campaign finance reform a priority, comparing Gramm's almost $5 million election war chest to his comparatively paltry budget of $900,000.

Morales insisted the money gap didn't matter.

It did.

He was too strapped to buy television commercials until the last week of the campaign, while Gramm's seemingly endless money allowed him to wage a heavy advertising attack.

Turning the tables on the "insider" label, Gramm exploited Morales' political inexperience and accused him of being unspecific on issues.

His ads criticized Morales for his opposition to a balanced budget amendment, lack of opposition to same-sex marriages and belief that affirmative action still is necessary.

Morales' political naivete sometimes showed. He made what most observers considered a tactical error by turning down a chance to debate Gramm.

He also raised eyebrows when he called Hispanic Republican U.S. Rep. Henry Bonilla of San Antonio a "coconut" and a "wanna-be white." Morales later apologized for the remarks.

Despite Morales' loss, Democrats called his remarkable run historic.

"His candidacy shows the strengthened bond between our party and hard-working, everyday Texans," state Democratic Party Chairman Bill White said. "It is another milestone in the emergence of Hispanic Democrats as a growing power in shaping the future of our state."

Two charged in fake bomb at GOP office

TYLER (AP) — A suspicious package found outside the Smith County Republican Party headquarters on Tuesday contained nothing but election propaganda inside.

The 19-year-old woman and a 20-year-old man who claimed responsibility told police they never meant for it to get this far.

They surrendered and were charged with making a terroristic threat for sending the white, 2½-foot-long box that said, "Happy Election Day," and had a picture of Oklahoma City's bombed-out Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building.

An April 19, 1995, explosion killed 168 people and injured more than 500 at the federal building.

The bomb scare led Tyler law officers to block off traffic to the area and to evacuate the south side shopping center where the GOP office is located.

A bomb squad robot from Fort Hood opened the package, which contained Democratic campaign literature for President Clinton and Vice President Al Gore.

The package also had a line on it saying: "Friends Don't Let Friends Vote Republican."

Your Birthday

Thursday, Nov. 7, 1996

In the year ahead, the projects you manage independently will have a marvelous chance of success. Conversely, you may not have good luck with partners.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your industriousness will count for little today if you're not methodical at work. Plan each procedure well in advance. Do not do things out of sequence. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Have fun and enjoy yourself today, but don't overindulge or stay too late at the party. You will have a better time if you moderate your behavior.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Try to avoid a competitive situation today if the odds favor your opponent. Do not burden yourself by starting off in second place.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Usually, you are optimistic; but today you might become so concerned with the negative aspects of a situation that you will fail to see the benefits.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In order to get proper mileage from the funds you will have at your disposal today, count every penny you spend.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Do not assume the responsibility of making a major decision without consulting your mate and getting his or her approval.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Get your more difficult assignments out of the way as early as possible today. Your persistence has a limit and your resolve could fade quickly.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You will be in a gregarious mood today, but if you have to go somewhere with someone you dislike, you might withdraw into a protective corner.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Relatives or in-laws must not be permitted to interfere in your family affairs today. Their input could create additional problems.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Do not discuss an exciting project with an associate who has limited comprehension. His negative thoughts could cause you to doubt your ability to succeed.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This is not the right time to assume new long-range financial obligations, especially if old ones have not been repaid. Clear up past debts first.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Even though it might be difficult, make an effort to understand your mate's point of view today, especially in regard to an emotional subject.
